

WOULD HAVE WINTER FAIR BIG AND CORN SHOW FOR LONDON

Industrial Commissioner Working on Plans to Secure Combined Exhibition For This City — Middlesex and London Natural Centres.

If plans formulated by Industrial Commissioner Gordon Philip come to a successful issue, London will be the home of an annual spring fat stock show and the annual convention of the Ontario Corn Growers' Association. The commissioner's idea is to hold the two functions, in conjunction at the western fair grounds.

The annual exhibition of Ontario corn growers is being held this week in Chatham, and Commissioner Philip, acting on authorization from the city council, has written the secretary, W. E. J. Edwards, of Essex, seeking his views on the proposal and asking that it be laid before the association.

Members of the Western Fair Association, at their annual meeting Wednesday afternoon, favored the winter fair or fat stock show idea and Commissioner Philip believes that with the permanent convention of the corn growers, it would prove a great success.

London Has Great Claims. "Chatham is trying to secure the corn growers' convention permanently," said Commissioner Philip to The Advertiser, "but I believe that London has great claims. London is in the corn belt and I believe that we could bring greater crowds here than anywhere else. The holding of a fat stock show at the same time would add greatly to the popularity of the corn show. Chatham has been considering the advisability of holding a winter fair in order that the corn show might be held there annually."

Spring Stock Show. "Guelph," continues the commissioner, "is the only city in the province with a permanent winter fair grounds."

fair, at the present time, but I would favor calling the proposed exhibition in London a spring fat stock show, as we do not desire to enter into a competition with Guelph. In the Spring, the farmers are practically doing nothing and the stock is fat and in splendid condition. I anticipate that the farmers of Middlesex and Western Ontario, generally, would cooperate in the idea, as London is the largest city in the district, and the natural centre of such activity."

Middlesex Strong on Hogs. Commissioner Philip produced figures to show that Middlesex is strong in its beef and dairy cattle, sheep and hog industry. Last year, 22,832 hogs were killed in Middlesex, a greater number than in any other county in the province. At the St. Louis Exposition, Canadian breeders carried off more prizes than all the United States raisers, and Middlesex winners were more numerous than those of any state or any Ontario county. At the Chicago show, the Middlesex breeders have swept the board in the past six years, their winnings including first prize for the largest sheep in the world. Twenty thousand sheep were killed and sold in Middlesex last year and the wool clipped from the animals, amounted to 147,773 pounds.

Waiting for Answer. The commissioner has been looking into the prospects for the carrying out of the joint-show proposal, and is now awaiting an answer from the secretary of the corn growers, preparatory to going further into the matter with the controllers, aldermen, board of trade and Western Fair shareholders.

LONDONER MAKES "STRIKE" AT LAST IN A COPPER MINE

Wires Local Investors That Black Rock Mine in Arizona Has $250 Per Ton Ore.

Joyful news has been received by Londoners who have invested many thousands of dollars in the Black Rock mine in Arizona, in a telegram from Frank McLean, who is at the mine, to the effect that a rich vein of copper had been struck and that the prospects were getting better every minute.

The Black Rock mine has been one of London's pets. It was promoted by Mr. McLean, and he had undoubtedly laid its ultimate success. Machinery has been purchased and specialists hired to the extent of hundreds of thousands of dollars. Many of London's prominent citizens are interested, but for the last year or two they have not had much hope of realizing anything from their investment. The mine was some time ago pronounced to be too expensive for further working and all those who had invested had about given up hope.

The telegram from Mr. McLean, making known the discovery of copper, renewed their hopes. Until a short time ago all the work had been done through the side of the mountain in which the mine is located but recently a shaft was sunk from the top and a strike of copper was made. A rich vein, that would produce upwards of $250 to the ton was discovered, and according to advice, it has been getting better and better, all the time.

P. J. Watt, one of the many Londoners interested, leaves for Arizona shortly, to inspect the new discovery, on behalf of the other shareholders.

FARMERS WOULD SUPPORT WINTER FAIR IN LONDON

Willing to Co-operate With Businessmen to Make the Project Successful One, Says Capt. Robson.

"I certainly think that London could support a winter fat stock show as well as Guelph," said Captain T. E. Robson, county clerk, and one of the best-known Short-horn breeders and judges in Canada, this morning referring to the discussion which took place at the annual meeting of the Western Fair Association Wednesday afternoon.

"I know that many farmers in the counties surrounding London would be glad to support such a show, and if the businessmen of the city would co-operate with them, I see no reason why a successful winter fair should not be established here."

The question of suitable buildings was one that would have to be settled, he added, but he did not think that this would present any very great difficulties. In time, when the show reached sufficient proportions, a large arena could be erected to accommodate the show. Regina is at present erecting such a structure. It is a brick edifice about 200 feet in length, and an ideal place for holding a winter fair. What Regina could do, London could do, Captain Robson thought.

"A winter fair would be a great thing for London, and I would certainly like to see the businessmen get behind the present project, and try to have a show established here," he said.

POSSIBLE SITE FOR LONDON'S NEW Y.M.C.A.

SACRED HEART CONVENT.

Y.M.C.A. Experts to Go Over Sacred Heart Property

Financial and Architectural "Surveyors" Will Investigate Feasibility of Transferring Convent Into New "Y" Building—Dormitory Needs Could Be Met.

H. H. Hussey, of Hussey and Chittick, worldwide builders of Y.M.C.A. buildings, will arrive in the city Monday morning to go over the Sacred Heart convent property and give an opinion to the board of directors of the London Y. M. C. A. as to the advisability of entering upon a campaign to raise funds for the construction of a new building or the reconstruction with additions, of the present convent buildings.

The board of directors has secured an option through T. J. Murray, to purchase the sum of $150,000, the entire property, which has a frontage on Dundas street and Queen's avenue, of almost the whole block, between Colborne and Maitland streets.

Suggestion Made a Month Ago. The suggestion to investigate the feasibility of the scheme was made by President J. K. McDermid at a meeting of the board more than a month ago. Since that time the matter has been under consideration, and while there is some doubt, the proposal can be accomplished, the Chicago expert and William G. Murray will investigate from the standpoint of the architect.

Need Long Been Present. The need of a new Y.M.C.A. in London has long been present. The building on Wellington street, constructed more than twenty years ago, has become antiquated and too cramped to do justice to the expansion that has attended the efforts of the directors and officials in the last few years. More than two years ago, an effort was made to ascertain what could be done with the present quarters and experts declared that the building could not be remodelled sufficiently to meet the needs of a city the size of London.

Recently Brantford, Galt, Toronto and St. Thomas have raised large sums, and the Y.M.C.A. in London can feel that the Y.M.C.A. in London can furnish a handsome amount sufficient to furnish the most magnificent collection of Y. M. C. A. buildings in the dominion.

Several Problems to Face. There are several problems to be faced. It may be ascertained that the expenditure necessary to construct new or remodel the present buildings would be prohibitive. But if the present buildings will serve for dormitory purposes, it is altogether probable that, with the addition of an administration building, a splendid arrangement can be made. At the present time, the board would like to be able to supply rooms for from 200 to 300 young men, who are not in the city. Secretary C. B. Wilson is constantly turning down requests for classes and the membership would be greatly increased by the erection of a new building.

Directors Are Optimistic. The directors are optimistic that the reports of experts will be of such a nature as to justify them in proceeding with a whirlwind campaign to raise funds. It is felt that with the co-operation of all the influences for good in London, any reasonable sum could be secured within a remarkably short time and that the building would be under construction by summer.

$200,000 Would Be Enough. One of those connected with the movement stated that it was quite possible that between $175,000 to $200,000 would carry the work through. A large portion of the Dundas street frontage would be sold for business purposes and a considerable amount would be realized from the building.

Board Decided to Erect the New School. The board decided to erect the new school, which is one of the most modern in Ontario. It contains thirteen classrooms, a commodious kindergarten assembly room, and in addition there are manual training and household science laboratories. The lighting, heating and lavatory arrangements are modern and sanitary. Claude Brown is the principal.

Chesley Avenue School, Too. The reopening of Chesley avenue school will also take place on Friday, the exercises being held at 2:30 in the afternoon. Rev. Dr. McCrae will offer prayer, and there will be addresses by Trustees E. R. Dennis and L. H. Martyn, Dr. Pakenham, Major Thomas Beattie, M.P., Mayor C. M. R. Graham and Inspector C. B. Edwards. A number of musical selections will also feature the program, and in the opening of the Aberdeen school the public is invited.

Originality the Chesley Avenue School. Originally the Chesley Avenue school was called the Park street school, and consisted of three rooms, with W. D. Bickert as principal. This was in 1872. His several successors were Messrs. B. S. Gibson, M. W. Althouse (1890), S. P. Baker, now city clerk (1890), S. P. May (1894), the late Thomas Woodburne (1895), E. E. Gibbs (1897).

The rapid growth of the school district is evinced by the successive additions that have from time to time been made to the present building, which compelled the board of education to add in 1912 six more rooms, which were constructed under the supervision of Architect A. B. Nutter.

The school now has sixteen rooms, including a kindergarten assembly, manual training and household science rooms, while the lighting, heating, ventilation and toilet arrangements are complete and hygienic.

E. E. Gibbs is the present principal.

ANNEXED DISTRICT VOTERS ANTAGONISTIC TO PROPOSED FEDERAL REDISTRIBUTION

TO DECIDE DATE OF WESTERN ONTARIO'S RADIAL FIELD DAY

Board of Trade Will Complete Plans Immediately For Big Electric Railway Convention.

EXPECT 300 DELEGATES

Representatives For Entire District Will Be Here For "Get Together" Session.

Western Ontario's radial field day will be held in London either during the last week of February or the first week of March. The date has not been definitely set, but a meeting of the executive of the board of trade will be held within the next few days to attend to this matter, and make a recommendation to the board.

Delegates from all municipalities as far east and including Brantford, and west to Windsor, will be invited to attend the session, which is being promoted for the purpose of discussing the radial railway scheme. It is felt that only by concerted action by the many municipalities interested, that the desired result will be obtained.

The wholesalers and retailers of the city will give their assistance, financial and otherwise, to the field day idea. In the neighborhood of three hundred delegates are expected to be present, and the Masonic Hall on Queen's avenue will be the headquarters. A banquet will be served at 6 o'clock in the evening, to be followed by a meeting in the auditorium of the hall, when addresses will be delivered by Hon. Adam Beck, minister of power; Chairman Philip Pocock, of the London water commissioners, and other men prominent in the movement for a system of Western Ontario radials.

The board of control has been authorized by the city council to co-operate with the board of trade in this matter, and everything points to a splendid success. The delegates from other municipalities will be the guests of the London Board of Trade at the banquet, and the gathering will be distinctly "Western Ontario" in flavor. From many towns in the district comes the word that the radial field day idea is being received with great enthusiasm. Western Ontario needs radials, it is pointed out, and London is the logical centre of the system.

LANCOT OFFERS AN APOLOGY AND MAGNAB ACCEPTS

Editor of Mail Had Said He Would Carry Matter No Farther.

Chairman Congratulates MacNab on His Loyal Acceptance and Friendly Words.

[Canadian Press.] Quebec, Feb. 5.—The one-round bout which took place between Hon. Charles Lancelot, assistant attorney-general, and Brenton A. MacNab, editor of the Montreal Daily Mail, last evening, after the session of the Legislative Council, inquiring into the graft charges of the newspaper, occupied all the limelight here today. While legislators have come to blows here before, nearly everybody regrets the incidents because of the eminence of Mr. Lancelot's position, and because of the fact that Mr. MacNab is a witness in the graft inquiry.

Mr. MacNab appeared around the Parliament Buildings today, showing by the scratches on his face that Mr. Lancelot's attack had left its mark upon him.

"I shan't go any further with the incident," he said, "I do not regard it any more than a mosquito bite." J. M. Teller, leader of the Opposition in the Quebec Lower House, stated that the affair would be probably dealt with in Parliament in some way or another.

As the morning wore on the best friends of both parties got busy, and Mr. Lancelot decided to make a public apology to Mr. MacNab.

Appearing before the Legislative committee of inquiry he read the following statement: "An incident happened last night which I regret very much. After the mention of my name was made by Mr. Keys, in answer to a question which appeared to me to be unjust, so far as I was concerned, I acted towards Mr. MacNab in a manner that I regret. I ask that I may be allowed to offer my excuse."

After the statement, which had been read in French, had been translated, Mr. MacNab said: "I accept Mr. Lancelot's statement in the spirit in which it was made, and hope that this unpleasant incident, which was the result of misunderstanding, will be a lesson to us all."

NO AIR BRAKES UNTIL COMMISSION ORDERS

Street Railway Will Not Install Them, Claiming They Are Unnecessary Here.

The question of providing air-brakes for the cars on the London street railway system was briefly considered at the annual meeting of the company directors yesterday afternoon, but no action was taken, the feeling being that it was not up to the company to take such an expensive step without any order from the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board.

The company has not, up to date, received instructions from the board to install airbrakes on its cars, and until such an order is forthcoming, it is extremely unlikely that the move will be made.

Manager C. B. King stated to The Advertiser last night that the improvement would be a very expensive one, and he did not consider that airbrakes were necessary to safety on such sized cars as are used on the local system.

Object to Being Still Represented by Rural Member While Now Part of City.

THE OPPOSITION GENERAL

Residents Want M. P. Who Will Have Interests of City at Heart.

The proposal that for Dominion election purposes the newly-annexed districts of the eastern part of the city shall continue to remain a part of the East Middlesex has aroused a great deal of antagonistic sentiment in London Junction, Ealing, Knollwood Park and Chelsea Green. The suburbanites think that they have a right to be included as part and parcel of the city in Dominion and provincial as well as municipal elections. They point out that having become the integral part of the city the interests of the city are their interests and that they have a right to be represented by the same member or members as other parts of the city. They want a representative who will represent them as citizens of London.

"We think we have a right to vote with the city," said W. J. Lashbrook of the opposition in that district, "and we are not adverse to continuing to vote with the people of East Middlesex if it is the wish of the Government."

"We have always belonged to East Middlesex," said Mr. Palmer, "and we are not adverse to continuing to vote with the people of East Middlesex if it is the wish of the Government."

Mr. Lashbrook's expression of opinion, however, agreed rather with Mr. Palmer's, and the two districts, it was pointed out, were not able to see how the same representative could equally well represent the interest of his rural and urban constituents.

Detachable reports credited to Mr. Labelle with telling Mr. MacNab in a manner that I regret, I ask that I may be allowed to offer my excuse."

After the statement, which had been read in French, had been translated, Mr. MacNab said: "I accept Mr. Lancelot's statement in the spirit in which it was made, and hope that this unpleasant incident, which was the result of misunderstanding, will be a lesson to us all."

CHURCH AND HOSPITAL BENEFICIARIES UNDER WILL

Institutions Receive Proceeds From Sale of Two Houses By Bequests Made By Mrs. Sarah Jefferies.

Victoria Hospital and the First Methodist Church are beneficiaries in the will of Mrs. Sarah Jefferies, who died in Victoria Hospital on January 30.

Mrs. Jefferies suffered two severe bereavements in the two years preceding her death. Her son, Dr. Jefferies, gold medalist at the Western University, and a rising young physician, died shortly after his graduation, and his death was followed some months ago by the death of her husband, Mr. James Jefferies.

The double affliction was regarded by her relatives and close friends as the indirect cause of Mrs. Jefferies' death. When she realized that the end was near, she willed her home on Hyman street to Victoria Hospital, the proceeds of the sale of which, to be directed toward the establishment of an additional operating room in which a tablet is to be erected to the memory of her son, his gold medal, won at the graduation, to be placed in the centre of the tablet. Mrs. Jefferies wished her son's life to be an inspiration to those who care for the sick and wounded.

A residence on Piccadilly street is bequeathed to the First Methodist Church, and a memorial tablet to her husband is to be erected in the church. The remainder of the estate is left to relatives.

BRITISH SOCIAL UNION MEMBERSHIP
JUMPS FROM 25 TO 1,000 IN A YEAR

Wonderful Growth of Old Countrymen's Organization in Few Short Months—Interesting Work Done by Many Different Departments.

AFTER PERMANENT QUARTERS AND NIGHTLY MEETINGS

Organized less than a year ago at an opening meeting attended by only 25, the British Social Union of this city has now a membership of between 900 and 1,000. The opening meeting was held in Hyman Hall in March, 1913. The meeting was called by Lieut.-Col. Thomas Hobbs, who with William Heaman was chiefly instrumental in the organization of the association. At the second meeting when the organization was completed, the attendance was 15. The 25 members who attended the first meeting were made the executive of the union, and from them the officers for the first year were chosen. In December of last year the union had attained a membership of 900.

Labor Bureau's Good Work. One of the most helpful and popular departments undertaken by the union last year was the labor bureau. Through it 100 members secured positions during 1913. Last October the British Social Union was reorganized. A nominal membership fee is being contributed by the members this year, and as soon as the finances of the organization will permit, permanent club quarters are to be secured.

Last year the union met two nights a week, Tuesdays and Thursdays, in Hyman Hall. This year on the same nights this union will meet but many of the members and officers are strongly in favor of securing club rooms that will be available every night in the week.

Ambulance Corps Affiliation. St. John's Ambulance Brigade under the direction of W. E. Clarke, has been affiliated with the union and is interesting a large number of the members. Every other Thursday a whist drive is held, and on the alternate Thursdays a concert for which the members supply the talent, is enjoyed. Carpenters are also a growing attraction of the club. For the coming summer committees on cricket and football have already been organized, and the union will take an active part in other sports. Last August a picnic at Lakeside was the big outing of the year.

Debate on Feb. 12. A debating club has recently been organized, and on Feb. 12, the union will debate on the question whether woman or literature is of the greater help to the worker.

The cause of "lovely woman" will be nobly championed by W. Garratt and A. D. Dean, and the value of literature will be set forth by Messrs. Nicholls and Stewart.

One main feature of the many attractions of the union is the reading table, which is well supplied with leading old country papers at all meetings.

1914 Officers. The officers for 1914 are: Honorary president—Lieut.-Col. T. Hobbs.

President—W. Heaman. First vice-president—John Nutkins. Second vice-president—John Bottom. General secretary—William Garratt. Financial secretary—R. C. Ball. Associate secretary—J. P. Miller. Treasurer—Mark Quimby.

T. J. Holmes is chairman of the labor bureau committee, which is meeting with marked success, while the entertainment committee is efficiently presided over by R. Robertson. Other departments and committees of the union are in the hands of equally capable conveners.

GEORGE ROSS, THIRD,
ARRIVED AT TORONTO

Senator Made Happy by Announced Birth of Grandson.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Toronto, Feb. 4.—The sick-room, where Sir George Ross is lying in the General Hospital, was the scene of a celebration today—as hearty a celebration as a man seriously ill can be allowed to indulge in. A grandson, to perpetuate the name of George Ross arrived in the world early this morning, and one of the dearest wishes of Sir George's heart was at last fulfilled. Dr. George W. Ross is the proud parent.

Sir George showed keen pleasure when the news was given him. He had partaken, rather half-heartedly, of a light breakfast, and was preparing for another day of apathetic quiet, when his son came in with the news. "It's a grandson!" the sick man's face lighted up as if by magic. He was lively and cheerful all morning. The improvement was helped by the arrival in the afternoon of Miss Margaret Ross, his favorite sister, from Nairn.

In spite of the improvement in the patient's spirits apparent today, the progress of his recovery continues slow. "There is no cause for immediate apprehension," Dr. Ross said. "My father is better than he was in Ottawa, but improvement is not rapid."

Dr. Goldie, the consulting physician, said that Sir George was in for a long illness, and might possibly have to remain in the General Hospital for some weeks.

THE HOLLOW OF HER HAND

By GEORGE BARR McCUTCHEON
Author of "Graustark," "Truxton King," Etc.

"Sara," she said, meeting her friend's eyes with a steady light in her own, "why did Mr. Wendall ask for me instead of you? It is you he is coming to visit, not me. It is your house. Why should—" "My dear," said Sara glibly, "I am merely his sister-in-law. It wouldn't be necessary to ask me if he should come. He knows he is welcome."

"Then, why should he feel called upon to—" "Some men like to telephone, I suppose," said the other coolly.

"I wonder if you will ever understand how I feel about—about certain things, Sara."

"What for instance?"

"Well, his very evident interest in me," cried the girl hotly. "He sends me flowers—this is the second box this week—and he is so kind, so very friendly, Sara, that I can't bear it—I really can't."

Mrs. Wendall stared at her. "You can't very well send him about his business," she said, "unless he becomes more than friendly. Now, can you?"

"But," it seems so—so horrible, beastly," groaned the girl. "See here, Sara," she said levelly. "We have made our bed, you and I. We must lie in it—whether we like it or not. If Leslie Wendall chooses to fall in love with you, that is his affair, not ours. We must face every condition. In plain words, we must play the game."

"What could be more appalling than to have him fall in love with me?"

"The other way round would be more dramatic, I should say."

"Good God, Sara," cried the girl in horror. "How can you even speak of such a thing?"

"After all, why shouldn't—" began Sara, but stopped in the middle of her suggestion, with the result that it had its full effect without being uttered in so many cold-blooded words. The girl shuddered.

"I wish, Sara, you would let me unburden myself completely to you," she pleaded, seizing her friend's hands. "You have forbidden me."

Sara jerked her hands away. Her eyes flushed. "I do not want to hear it," she cried fiercely. "Never, never! Do you understand? It is your secret. I will not share it with you. I should hate you if I knew everything. As it is, I love you because you are a woman who suffered at the hand of one who made me suffer. There is nothing more to say. Don't bring up the subject again. I want to be your friend forever, not your confidante. There is a distinction. You may be able to see how very marked it is in our case, Hetty. What one does not know, seldom hurts."

"But I want to justify myself—" "It isn't necessary," cut in the other so promptly that the girl's eyes spread into a look of anger. Whereupon Sara Wendall threw her arm about her and drew her down beside her on the chaise longue. "We must not speak of the past, that's all. The future is not likely to hurt us, dear. Let us avoid the past."

"The future!" sighed the girl, staring blankly before her.

"To appreciate what it is to be," said the other, "you have but to think of what it might have been."

"I know," said Hetty, in a low voice. "And yet I sometimes wonder if—" "Sara interrupted. "You are paying me, dear, instead of the law," she said gently. "I am not a harsh creditor, am I?"

"My life belongs to you. I give it cheerfully, even gladly."

"So you have said before. Well, if it belongs to me you might at least permit me to develop it as I would any other possession. It takes it as an investment. It will probably fluctuate."

"Now you are jesting!"

"Perhaps," said Sara laconically.

The next morning Hetty set forth for her accustomed tramp over the roads that wound through the estate. Sara, the American dowdy at home, resenting the chill spring drizzle that did not, in the least, discourage the Englishwoman. The mistress of the house and of the girl's destiny stood in the broad French window, watching her as she strode sprightly, healthily down the maple-lined avenue in the direction of the gates. The gardeners doffed their caps to her as she passed, and also looked after her with surreptitious glances.

There was a queer smile on Sara's lips that remained long after the girl was lost to view beyond the lodge. It was still on her lips but gone from her eyes as she paused beside the old English table to bury her nose in one of the gorgeous roses that Leslie had sent out to Hetty the day before. They were all about the room, dozens of them. The girl had insisted on having them downstairs instead of in her own little sitting-room, for which they plainly were intended.

A nasty sea turn had brought lowering gray skies and a dreary, enveloping mist that never quite assumed the dignity of a drizzle and yet blew wet and cold to the very marrow of the bones. Hetty was used to such weather. Her English blood warmed to it. As she strode briskly across the meadow-land road in the direction of the woods that lay ahead, a soft ruddy glow crept up to her cheeks, and a sparkle of joy into her eyes. She walked strongly, rapidly. Her straight, lithe young figure was a joyous thing to behold. High boots, short skirt, a loose jacket and a broad felt hat made up her costume. She was graceful, adorable; a young, healthy, beautiful creature in whom the blood surged quickly, strongly; the type of woman men are wont to classify as "ineffably feminine," though why we should differentiate is no small mystery unless there really is such a thing as one woman possessing an adorably feminine quality denied to her sisters. Be that as it may, there is a distinction and men pride themselves on knowing it. Hetty was adorably feminine. Leaving out the matter of morals, whatever they are, and coming right up to her as an example of her sex, pure and simple if you please, we are bound to say that she was perfect. The best thing we can say of Chaille Wendall is that he took the same view of her that we should, and fell in love with her. He would have married her if he could, there isn't much doubt as to that, no matter what she had been before he knew her or what she was at the time of his discovery. No more is it to be considered unique that his brother should have experienced a similar interest in her, knowing even less.

Number of New Games for St. Valentine Party

Mysterious Grouping Puzzle—Heart Race —and Ideas for Lunch.

For a valentine frolic of any description, no prettier decoration could be desired than festoons of red paper hearts, which the notion stores are offering, or if preferred, the valentine colors, pink and green, may be used instead. Streamers of bunting, or crepe paper, flags, and a few of these heart festoons, would render a ball very attractive indeed.

A splendid game with which to begin the evening, is to give each player a heart-shaped card as he or she enters the room. The cards bear a mysterious message like this:

Group 4

It should be explained to the guests that each must hunt up the remaining members of his or her group, all of whom have the same number on their cards, but different initial letters. Thus, when the five players of group 4 find each other, their cards placed together will spell C-I-T-Y. Other groups could be St. Valentine; Love, February 14, and so on. The guests are bound to become acquainted in comparing letters and finding to which group they belong.

A Heart-Race.

A "heart race" in which either girls or boys take part, will cause much amusement. Have 16 good-sized cardboard hearts hanging in four rows (4 in a row), suspended from the ceiling by a strong twine. Four players are provided with a pair of scissors each and at the word "go" have to clip down the hearts in their row, returning to the starter with each one as they clip it. This game will stand repeating several times. Pretty valentines could be given to the successful ones as a reward.

Saint Valentine.

Probably the guests will be glad to rest a little after this exercise and a good idea for the next game is to seat all around in a circle and instruct them to write St. Valentine love letter. The word "saint" will probably be better spelled in full, starting with the first player, he gives a word starting with "s", the next player one beginning with "a" and so on, spelling the word "Saint Valentine." If a sentence is finished when the word is half done, keep right on, regardless of punctuation. Thus: "Sweet Annie, I now talk voraciously about love. Every night I write ever ending songs about Ina," and so on.

The Refreshments.

Provide partners for lunch by having valentines pasted on hearts, cut in two pieces. Have girls and boys draw from two prettily trimmed baskets and find partners by matching pieces.

The stores are showing many little novelties and favors for St. Valentine's day and there should be no difficulty in carrying out the idea at the luncheon tables. Anyway, have red crepe paper streamers, bouquets of red carnations, and little red place-cards made from Bristol board. For refreshment at an evening party, or social, heart-shaped sandwiches and small cakes, pink ice cream, or red jelly, and bon-bons would be suitable.

Must Dye It.

Dear Miss Grey:—I have a tan skirt about the inclosed shade, which became spotted green from dissolved canthox. In trying to have the color return by using ammonia solution, I only increased the size of the green spot.

Could you please suggest something that would cause the proper color to return?

Also, what would you judge of me by my writing? Yours very truly,

DOTTY.

Ans.—I am afraid "Dotty" that the case is hopeless. The only way I can see for you to do is to have the entire skirt dyed a new color.

I do not attempt to read character by handwriting.

Fur Would Suit.

Dear Miss Grey:—I am a constant reader of your interesting columns and I wonder if you could help me with a few questions:

1. I am 5 feet tall, 15 years and 9 months old. How long should my dresses be?

2. Would white fur around the bottom of a dress be too old for me? Thanking you in advance,

UNKNOWN EYES.

Ans. 1.—Almost to your shoetops.

2. For a party dress, it would not look too old for you, but would be so very easily soiled that I fear you would get little satisfaction out of it.

She Just Adores Him.

Dear Miss Grey:—I can tell me anything that is good for a thick neck, and also to keep me from biting my finger nails?

3. Do you think a girl is too old to start to take music lessons at the age of twenty-one?

4. I have a pretty shade of red hair and a nice fair complexion, and dark brown eyes. What colors will become me?

5. I go with a young man. I think a lot of him, and I think he cares for me. He is very handsome, and I just adore fine-looking men, but the trouble is I have a cousin of mine boarding at our house, and she is always trying to take him away from me, and I do not think it is proper for her to do that. Now, if you were in my place what would you do—tell her to mind her own business and not to poke her nose where it isn't wanted, or just let things run their course? He seems to like her too, but I think that is as far as it will get, because she is so beautiful.

THE ANGEL.

A.—For thick neck, you should consult a physician without delay. As to the habit you speak of, if you are 21 you should possess sufficient will-power to break yourself of it.

2. No.

3. Without doubt you will look well in dark green, navy and brown.

4. Perhaps your cousin sees that you are a bit jealous, and acts thus to tease you. Of course it's not nice of her, but I think you will be better pleased with yourself to curb your tongue and not say unkind things. Do not depend too much upon her lack of beauty, however, as this is not always what we care most for. Best, I think for you to let matters take their course without your interfering any.

Have a Travel Club.

Dear Miss Grey:—Three of us girls, between 11 and 14 years of age, are organizing a little club. Could you please tell us what would be nice to do on Friday evening, from 7 to 9 o'clock? (Not games.)

2. What are the meanings of: Madeline, Myrtle, Marion and Marvin and Phoebe?

3.—Do you think it would be nice for each one to have a diary? If so, what would be nice to put in it? Hoping we have not troubled you too much. We remain, yours very truly,

BLANCHETTES.

Ans.—As it is probably a "study class" of some sort, which you wish to form, how about having a Travel Club for the members? Three girls might provide the program for each occasion—the president appointing different ones each week. Your "trip" one week might be through Canada; let one girl tell of the people, another of the cities along the route (pointing them out on the map) and the third, describe the country—the mountains, the rivers, and prairies, etc. Canada is so big and vast that you might spend all your Friday evenings studying about the Dominion alone.

And without doubt, you will want to spend evenings discussing "Luncheon or Paris, or other of the old-world cities and places. Interesting books may be found in the library describing these places of note. Most of them are illustrated, and the pictures could be passed about from one to the other, during the meeting. It can be made a fine and profitable club that every member is to come provided with some information, or bit of interest about the place under discussion for that evening.

2. Madeline, benefited or blessed; Myrtle, love; Marion, star of the sea; Marvin, of open countenance; Phoebe, radiant.

3. A diary is supposed to contain the record of your daily life, your impressions and thoughts. If you are really honest in writing everything in your book, it is just as well not to leave it around where other people might read it. But, dear Bluebirds, if you want to keep a diary, scratch away, you have my permission.

A Valentine Social.

Dear Miss Grey:—I am a constant reader of your columns, and find them very interesting. Will you please answer a few questions for me?

1. We are having a valentine social in the hall here. Can you suggest some contests or games that would be suitable for young people from the age of ten up to play during the evening? I would like to have you answer this, if possible, before the 6th of February, as we are to make the arrangements that night.

2. How far should a girl 16 years of age be advanced in school?

3. Do you think washing the hair in gasoline bleaches it any?

4. Will you please have the words of "The London Disaster" printed in "The Advertiser"? The words are something like this:

"When, hark! did you hear that sad warning?
How dismal around it does seem,
The steamer Victoria is sinking,
Alas, sinking deep in the stream."

PEARL.

5. Suggest a nice paper for a dining and sitting room. The woodwork is painted a pinkish cream and the ceiling a green. Thanking you in advance,

PEARL.

A.—1. A number of ideas appear on this page today—you may find some helpful ones among them.

2. She should, at least, be in her second term at high school, I think.

3. Gasoline would be a very dangerous thing to wash the hair in. I should certainly advise you not to do it.

4. The request is submitted to our kind readers.

5. A pretty buff or light fawn-color—

WOES OF MRS. NEWLYWED

"I have scorched my best tablecloth," cried Mrs. Newlywed. "That's all right, simply wet the linen with soapuds, and lay it in the sun, if the scorch is a mild one. If this does not take it out, boil in a gallon of milk into which a pound of white soap has been dissolved."

green and pink would be pretty. The wall paper could be either plain or striped.

Ask the Druggist.

Dear Miss Grey:—They say to apply pure tennaline to the eyebrows and eyelashes with the finger tip. Can a splendid thing to induce growth. Can you tell me how it is sold and how expensive? Yours very sincerely,

REGINA.

Ans.—Never heard of the preparation, Regina, so can not enlighten you any. Why not inquire at the local drug stores?

Apple Sauce Cake.

Dear Miss Grey:—I have been able to help you out before, and saw where the words of the two songs were asked for which I am sending. Will you answer me a few questions, please?

1. What days did 21st of July, 1898, and 25th of July, 1863, fall on?

2. Recipe for apple sauce cake?

3. What are the colors for spring?

4. Recipe for rice?

5. Have you the words of the song "I'm Afraid to Come Home in the Dark"?

Thanking you in advance, BOB.

A.—Thank you, "Bob," for sending the songs. This is not the only occasion on which you have helped us, if I remember correctly.

1. Tuesday; Thursday.

2. Apple sauce cake—One egg, one cup sugar, 1 tablespoonful of shortening, one and a half cups of sweetened apple sauce, two and a half cups flour, heaping teaspoonful pastry spice, one cup Sultana raisins, half cup sour milk, teaspoonful baking powder. Bake in a square tin. If the batter seems a little thin, add more flour.

3. Browns and blues, and mixed checks will likely lead.

4. To two cups of granulated sugar, add two-thirds cup of milk, and a lump of butter; place over the fire in a granite pan, and boil the mixture very fast for ten minutes, or until a little dropped into cold water will harden at once; remove the candy, add a little vanilla extract, and half a cup of chopped walnut meats; beat until smooth and creamy, and pour at once into buttered pans.

5. Our idea of the "Old Song" column was that it be devoted entirely to old songs. The one you ask for would hardly come under that heading, but as you have been so good to us in the past I shall publish it if anyone sends us the lines.

OPTIMISTIC NOTE
IN THIS VERSE

Writer of These Lines Reminds Us
That the "Sun is Still Shining."

Be Still Sad Heart.
The day is cold and dark and dreary.
It rains and the wind is never weary.
The vine still clings to the moldering wall,
But at every gust the dead leaves fall,
And the day is dark and dreary.

My life is cold and dark and dreary.
It rains and the wind is never weary.
My thoughts still cling to the moldering past,
But the hopes of youth fall thick in the blast,
And my life is dark and dreary.

Be still sad heart and cease repining.
Behind the clouds is the sun still shining.
Thy fate is the common fate of all,
Into each life some rain must fall,
Some days must be dark and dreary.

The above verses asked for by "Tilda Jane" some days ago have been supplied by M. McNeven, and "Rosebud." A copy of "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms" is sent by Stella Saunders, who asks for the words of a song: "I will send you back the letter and the ring I held so dear. We will meet and part like strangers I can never say farewell."

THE HOROSCOPE

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 5, 1914

Three planets with strong away Rule evilly this day.

Although Uranus rules with benefic power, early today, the hours of business activity are not propitious for successful enterprise, since Mars, Saturn and Neptune are all in adverse aspect.

Under this government affairs connected with high steel, hardware and machinery of all sorts are supposed to be attended with difficulties.

It is not an auspicious day for dealing with engineers, contractors and iron-workers. Accidents are said to be more numerous under this away than at other times.

Surgery is subject to unfavorable influences today, it is said. Persons born between October 28 and November 21 should be especially cautious about submitting to operations when Mars is evilly disposed.

Hasty speech, sweeping criticism and general capriciousness are common while this configuration prevails. Wise men and women should set a guard upon their acts, since the astral forces tend toward egotistical, domineering and venturesome moods.

Old persons should be careful while Saturn is adverse. They are believed to be liable to falls and other accidents.

There is an ill omen for long journeys begun today. Whether travel be by sea or land it may be attended by unusual dangers.

While this government of the stars prevails colds are said to be more common than at other times.

It is predicted that the number of suicides will increase alarmingly this month and next.

Robberies of extraordinary daring are foreshadowed. Immense losses will be sustained by banks and express companies. The purcs must not be looted by organized thieves.

Women should benefit this evening. Venus is in a place held to be exceedingly fortunate for all social affairs. Weddings, musicals, and dinners should be attended by good luck.

The stars indicate that women will receive distinguished recognition in public life this year. Several will attain national fame in appointive offices.

A London astrologer declares that fluctuations in stocks will cause a flurry in Wall street today and also on the 12th and 18th of this month.

Persons whose birthday it is have the augury of a year of change. Those who were born in the morning will be more fortunate than those born later in the day. The young will marry.

Children born this day will be lucky if they see first the morning sun, but the planets that rule later are less promising. They are subjects of Aquarius, and Uranus as their principal ruling star.

SCOTCH SASHES BRIGHTEN LITTLE SCHOOL FROCKS.

Plaids are ideal for children's wear, and particularly pretty are the new, broad sashes of Scotch plaid silk which are tied around the figure twice with a bow at one hip. This kindergarten frock of navy blue moirai is most very gay and smart by a sash of red and black Scotch plaid which goes first around the waist, and then round the hips. A collar of machine embroidery completes the dainty frock.

PALATABLE DISHES FOR WINTER DAYS

Beans Form Tasty Dish When Dressed With Good Sauce.

Bean and Tomato Pie—Mash two cupfuls of boiled potatoes, season with salt and pepper and add one tablespoonful of butter; if cold potatoes are used three tablespoonfuls of hot milk also may be added. Put a layer of baked or boiled dried beans in a greased, fireproof dish; add a layer of canned tomatoes, a layer of fried chopped onion and a sprinkling of salt, pepper and dried herbs. Repeat the layers until all the materials are used. Cover the dish with the mashed potatoes, brush over the top with beaten egg, dot with small pieces of butter and bake in a hot oven until the vegetables are hot and the potatoes nicely browned.

Curried Beans—Wash one quart of dried beans and look them over carefully to remove all dirt. Soak them overnight in plenty of cold water. Drain them and put them in a steapan with cold water enough to cover them generously. Let them come to boiling point in this water, then return them to the steapan, cover with boiling water, cook slowly until tender. Fry one chopped onion, one chopped apple and one grated carrot in two tablespoonfuls of melted butter or dripping; add one cupful of water or stock, one teaspoonful of curry powder, one teaspoonful of curry paste, half a teaspoonful of salt and half a cupful of tomato sauce. Allow to simmer for ten minutes, then add the drained beans and make very hot. Serve in a border of hot boiled rice.

Oatmeal and Apple Cake—Sprinkle one cupful of fine oatmeal into one quart of a half of boiling water and stir and continue to boil until it is thick. Peel and core ten large apples and cut them into small pieces; then mix them with the oatmeal and add half a cupful of sugar and half a cupful of flour. Cool and form into neat cakes. Fry in hot fat. Serve hot sprinkled with sugar. These are nice for a family luncheon.

About the Milk Pail.

An ordinary open granite pail was used for the milking by a woman who was anxious for the most exact cleanliness. She chose one that had a rim around the top, to hold a cheesecloth cover. She made the covers by cutting the cheesecloth with circular pieces about an inch larger all round than the top of the pail. A hem was stitched round by the edge and a tape run through it. When placed over the pail and tied firmly beneath the rim no foreign substances could enter the pail during the milking, and the milk readily filtered through the cheesecloth into the pail. She was careful to have the pails brought into the house immediately after the milking, instead of being set down in the stable while odd jobs were being attended to. When the milk was brought in, it was strained through a double piece of cheesecloth into shallow pans, the cheesecloth for straining and the cover for the pail being cleaned immediately by rinsing first in cold water, then in scalding water.

It never spoils. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

The effectiveness of this simple remedy is surprising. It seems to take hold instantly, and will usually stop the most obstinate cough in 24 hours. It is so easy enough to be helpful in a cough, and has a pleasing taste. Also excellent for bronchial trouble, throat tickle, sore lungs and asthma, and an unequalled remedy for whooping cough and croup.

This recipe for making cough remedy with Pinex and Sugar Syrup (or strained honey) is a prime favorite in thousands of homes in the United States and Canada. The plan has been imitated, though never successfully. ## FARMERS SHOULD GIVE SONS MORE INTEREST IN FARM

Hon. James Duff Says They Are to Blame For Boys

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Chatham, Feb. 4.—The official opening of the Ontario Corn Growers' Association show was held in the I. O. O. F. auditorium tonight. Mayor John McCorvie extended to the officers and members of the association, and the friends who attended the show, a most hearty welcome.

Hon. James Duff, in an interesting address, emphasized the advantages that come from the holding of such shows as the one now in operation. He also emphasized the fact that Essex and Kent counties were so situated that they should become the seed granaries for other parts of the country. He spoke of the rush of young men from the farm to the city, and believed that the farmers should give their sons more responsibility in connection with the farm.

Lambton Agricultural College, Guelph, gave a most interesting and stirring address, in which he urged a community of interest, and the forming of clubs among the young people of the rural sections, so that they might get together and talk over the things in which they should be most interested in agricultural matters. He took occasion to say that if women were clothes a little more roomy, and would put on large, roomy aprons, and roll up their sleeves and bake bread and do other work, he felt the cost of living would be reduced. He also suggested that it was possible that a short course in agriculture for preachers might be instituted in the Guelph College.

LAMBTON COUNTY MAY VOTE ON SCOTT ACT

Clergyman Says Temperance
Measure Would Surely Carry.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Sarnia, Feb. 5.—It is probable that the residents of the county of Lambton will be given a chance in the near future to vote on the question of whether the county will remain wet or whether it will join the ranks of the "drys."

The success of the "drys" in several other counties and the result of the voting have been watched closely by the temperance workers of Sarnia and other places in the county.

A local minister and leading temperance worker, stated to The Advertiser today that the matter had been under discussion for some time and that the temperance people are gathering data on the question.

Asked what he thought would be the outcome of a vote being taken on the Canada temperance act, he was very emphatic in declaring that it would carry.

While the town of Sarnia last year lost in the fight for local option, still many of the smaller places in the county have local option, and it is the opinion of the men closely acquainted with the facts that the county will vote to a vote in the county it would without a doubt carry.

TO CROSS ATLANTIC IN FIFTEEN HOURS

Rodman Wanamaker Orders
Flying Boat, to Show the Futility of Dreadnoughts.

[Canadian Press.]
New York, Feb. 4.—To cross the Atlantic in from 12 to 15 hours without alighting is the task set "Flying Boat" for which Rodman Wanamaker has let the contract, according to Alan R. Howley, president of the Aero Club of America. In a letter to Mr. Howley, Mr. Wanamaker says that the purpose of the undertaking is to make "a purely scientific test" of aeroplanes, and to provide an argument for world peace, insofar as the success of the craft would show that dreadnoughts might be futile in the future.

SIX NEW CARS FOR STREET RAILWAY

Company Will Put Them in Service Before Long—Making Arrangements Now.

The London Street Railway Company probably will put six new cars in operation within the next few months. At the annual meeting of the directors held yesterday afternoon the question of purchase was considered, and a committee was appointed to deal with the matter.

City Engineer W. N. Ashplant contends that the company needs at least ten additional cars to carry out the speed and service schedule drawn up by him some months ago, and the move of the company to provide six extra cars seems to be in line with his idea.

It is anticipated that the cars will be of the most modern pay-as-you-enter type, six of which are now in operation here. The company now has 54 cars in the service, in addition to four single-track trailers.

There will probably be some delay in securing the new cars from the manufacturers, but there is every reason to believe that they will be in operation next summer.

GET BACK ON THE LAND SAYS FORMER LONDONER

Unlimited Room in Canada For Expansion, Says Rev.
R. S. W. Howard.

In his address to the Watford Progress Club, in that town last night, Rev. R. S. W. Howard, former rector of Christ Church, London, preached a terse "Back to the Land" sermon. "Canada, however, has a big problem," he said, "in the 200,000 new citizens we are receiving each year, from all over the world."

"It is up to us, as Canadians, to make it possible that our Canadian manhood is up to such a standard that we will not only afford proper examples for our new citizens, but that we will be in a position to educate and so assimilate our foreign element that they in the future will become the bone and sinew of our country. All types of immigration possess their own peculiarities of temperament, which, if properly developed and applied, can be used to powerful advantage in the building up of our nation. Immigration should be to the soil and not the city. Our imports are too high and our exports too low. We have too many unemployed in our cities. ## FOREIGNERS CHARGE PEONAGE IN CAMPS

Claim They Are Held Under Misleading Contracts —
Large Firms Accused.

[Canadian Press.]

Montreal, Feb. 4.—Grass injustices, if not actual frauds upon foreign laborers engaged in railway construction work are alleged by George Alexander, of 31 St. James street, Montreal, against two big contracting firms, one of them of international reputation.

The first case cited by Mr. Alexander is that of a party of some 90 Austrians, who were engaged in Montreal last summer for work on a railway contract in Northern Ontario. The men understood that they were being hired for day work at a wage of $2.25 per day, less 65 cents per day for board. After working for about three months they were asked to sign a contract, purporting to be for the ensuing three months, at the conclusion of which period they were to receive their pay for the whole six months.

In Debt to Contractors.

A few days after this contract was signed an explosion occurred in which three of their number were killed. The laborers stopped work, and demanded that the contractors pay them. They were informed that the contract they had signed bound them to carry out a certain section by piece work, and that instead of having some $3,000 coming to them in wages, this was being taken off by general supplies and other items charged against them so that they were still indebted to the contractors in the sum of $3,698.94, which they were expected to liquidate by working three months and completing the section which they had contracted to construct.

The laborers at once left, some twelve making their way back to Montreal, and the others scattering to various points. Their foreman, Frank Koenig, was one of the three men killed by the explosion, so the laborers have no proof of their contentions.

Another case is that of a party of eighteen men and one woman hired in Toronto for a railway camp near Cochrane at $2.25 per day. After working five weeks they tried to draw some money, only to learn that against each man had been charged $25 for fare from Toronto, which is about three times the regular fare; $2.50 each for meals on the road; and a few sandwiches, which they never received. In addition they had been charged $7 per pair for overalls, $7.50 for a $5-pair bag of flour, and 25 cents per package for tobacco which retails for 5 cents everywhere. As a result of these charges the contractor said that the members of the gang owed him some $40, and they could keep on working it out.

GRAY HAIRS A HANDICAP

Tendency of Modern Business Is To Favor
the Young Man.

This is the young man's age. Everywhere you find the big jobs in the hands of young men. The appearance of age discredits your ability. Youth and efficiency are first cousins in the eyes of businessmen.

Don't let a few gray hairs spoil your chances when it is so easy to prevent or cure them.

Hay's Hair Health restores the natural color to gray hair and no one will know you use it.

It is not a dye. It is a hair tonic that re-invigorates the hair roots and the scalp, supplies new nourishment, a new lease of life for your hair, thus bringing back its natural color and luxuriance. It removes dandruff.

We guarantee it to do this. Your money will be refunded if it fails after a fair trial.

IMMIGRATION LAWS SHOWN TO BE FAULTY

Canadian Students' Humiliation Brought Up in the House.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Ottawa, Feb. 4.—An innocent, who was kept in jail five years, a young returning Canadian, who was detained thirty-six hours by immigration authorities, the corps of Canadian officers, who with wives and daughters invaded Europe last summer, and the growing army of Fenian Raid veterans, today finished Parliament with four topics for talk.

Gerolamo Fazzari, a young Italian, five years ago was sentenced to fifteen years for attempting murder. The confession of another Italian recently proved the innocence of Fazzari and secured his freedom by pardon. Hon. Mr. Lemieux told the Government that the man had come to freedom penniless, and among strangers, his wife and children gone, and that there should be some financial compensation. The Minister of Justice replied that the King had done this wrong, through the justice authorities of Quebec, and that any compensation would have to come from that province. The Federal Government had no power to give it.

Canadian Suffered Indignities. Gustavus A. Colpitts, when a student of Mount Allison University, Sackville, New Brunswick, had applied to Europe to further his education by travel. He went as cheaply as possible, owing to circumstances, which compelled the student to practice economy and for the same reason, returned third-class. Immigration authorities, acting on regulations, declined to allow him to land at Rimouski, where he could catch an intercolonial train and reach home in the most expeditious and economical manner. First and second cabin passengers, whether Canadian or not, were allowed to land, but all steerage travellers were held for immigration inspection at Quebec. Colpitts occupies a Canadian pulpit now. Like his distinguished namesake, Gustavus Adolfus, he is a tenacious man, and cannot forget the inconvenience and humiliation which he was subjected to on September 28, 1911, when returning for the first time to the land of his birth.

Sir Wilfrid interested. His case was stated to Parliament by Hon. H. R. Emmerson. It was heard with sympathy, and the regulation may be changed. "Canada cannot permit any such discrimination," said Sir Wilfrid Laurier. A young citizen of New Brunswick who, apparently because he was not the son of a millionaire or a millionaire himself, and had been travelling for his education as cheaply as possible, is discriminated against because he is a third-class passenger. Fortunately there is no political consideration, for when the incident occurred the previous Government was still in office. But responsibility rests upon all to see that no such discrimination is permitted against any Canadian citizen.

Premier Borden doubted not that the officers of the Government had done a good job. It would be difficult to identify returning Canadians among steerage passengers. A passport from the department of external affairs, if obtained before such travellers as Mr. Colpitts left Canada, would serve as identification on their return and avert such unfortunate happenings. The Premier pledged himself and his ministers to look into this case.

Mr. Hazen thought that Colpitts had suffered no serious damage, and that as far as his department was concerned there was nothing in the fact that Mr. Colpitts was a third-class and not a first-class passenger. Hon. Dr. Reid said that difference in class made a good deal of difference for first and second-class passengers were permitted to land at Rimouski, while third-class passengers were not. He did not extend to steerage passengers who had gone on to Quebec and were stopped at Rimouski. It would be an easy matter to have a number of quarantine officers board there, and let off as many passengers of all classes as wished to take the train at that point.

Sir Wilfrid closed the incident with a declaration that Canadian citizens should be exempt from the law which was applied to immigrants.

Fenian Raid on the Treasury. The Fenian raid on the treasury is growing, and the Government proposes to help it by extending the law which applications for the $100 may be made. The Minister of Militia made the announcement that veterans of the Fenian raid who were alive on April 1, 1912, when the act was passed, are entitled to $100 each.

When the bounty act was passed Parliament was assured that there were only ten thousand men called for service and that not more than six thousand of them were still alive. Yesterday, Col. Hughes stated that there had been 16,502 men called for service. There were some four thousand more applications undetected with. The movement apparently is just in its infancy, for the whole adult male population of Nova Scotia was called to arms in the two raids, and it is now ruled that every man is entitled to the bounty. Mr. Hughes, of Prince Edward Island, was told that the department has no record of any island corps having been called out.

The Raid Out of Canada. So much for the ancient raid into Canada; now for the modern raid out of Canada. To questions, the Minister of Militia stated that last summer he took to England 21 militia officers, two orderlies, a secretary and her assistant, and that the wives and daughters went at the expense of their husbands and fathers. The expenses of the party paid by the country totalled $24,282. The officers received pay according to their rank, and it amounted to $3,984. For expenses, they were allowed $10 per diem. The officers saw the French, Swiss and British manoeuvres, while Col. Hughes had a special view of the German manoeuvres and at the Dutch and Belgian defences.

Sir Ian Hamilton's Picture. Mr. Froude, asked if the Minister of Militia had accompanied Gen. Sir Ian Hamilton to the political picnic of Ward Four Conservative Association of Toronto at Queenston Heights, in July last, wearing a badge inscribed "Borden and Our Empire," and was so photographed. Col. Hughes said that he was there with Sir Ian as his guest on the day in question, inspecting Queenston Heights from a military point of view; that there were a great many picnics going on; that he wore a badge inscribed "Hamilton and Our Empire," and that the minister and Sir Ian were photographed some score of times that day "with a lot of fine people" and "doubtless many of them, apparently intelligent, belonged to the Conservative Association."

COMPANY HOLDS CITY SOLICITOR FOR THE DELAY

Attorney Ivey Declares T. G. Meredith Is Responsible for Lack of Sunday Cars.

DID NOT HAVE AGREEMENT

City Official Failed to Provide Company With Required Document.

TIME LIMIT HAS EXPIRED

Ten-Day Period for Signing Agreement Has Expired and Council Must Meet Again.

C. H. Ivey, solicitor for the London Street Railway, blames City Solicitor T. G. Meredith for the delay in securing Sunday street cars for London. In a statement to The Advertiser last night, the attorney of the railway company placed the onus of responsibility on the shoulders of the city official for the non-operation of the cars, despite the fact that the agreement was passed by the city council two weeks ago Monday.

"The bylaw was passed more than two weeks ago," said Mr. Ivey, "but we did not receive a copy of the proposed agreement between the city and company until a few days ago. We should have received the agreement the day after the bylaw was passed, as it was a condition of the non-operation of the Sunday service rests with Mr. Meredith, and not with us."

The Advertiser asked City Solicitor Meredith for information as to what the solicitors of the company and the city would get together to try to arrive at some conclusion over the clauses of the agreement on which there is a divergence of opinion, but his reply was indefinite.

Has No Instructions. "I have received no instructions from the city," said Mr. Meredith, "but I have nothing to say," replied Mr. Meredith, and the telephone conversation ceased.

Delegation at Meeting. The annual meeting of the London Street Railway Company was held on Wednesday afternoon, and Mayor C. M. R. Graham and Mr. J. P. More were present to discuss the terms of the proposed agreement. Solicitor Ivey did most of the talking for the company, and reiterated his objections to certain clauses in the agreement drawn up by the city solicitor.

The company, in signing a Sunday car agreement, wishes to except the Sunday service on any extensions, such as Springbank, that may be made by the city. The car line now runs to Springbank, but as the park is not in the city limits the company would not wish to run the cars to that point on Sundays. It has been suggested that Springbank should be annexed, in which event the city contends that a Sunday street railway service at the regular fare should be provided.

The representatives of the city pointed out that the demand of the company that such extensions should be excepted was unnecessary, for the reason that they could be dealt with later, if it was decided to make annexations. The proposed agreement is for one year only.

No decision was arrived at as a result of the conference, but it was decided to leave the matter in the hands of the city solicitor for a possible settlement. If they cannot agree on the wording of the document, apparently it is the greatest bone of contention—it will be up to the controllers to meet the company again.

Wide Propagation Of. If no amicable arrangement can be arrived at, the whole Sunday car proposition will be left to the city, as no way of compelling the company to furnish a service on the first day of the week. The directors of the company, however, some time ago, signified their willingness to operate the system on Sunday if the people desired that such a service, which was again expressed at yesterday's meeting.

Must Extend Time. There is little likelihood of the service being commenced next Sunday. If the two solicitors cannot come to an agreement, it will be necessary. The Advertiser was told, to call a special meeting of the city council, to be held some time ago, signified their willingness to operate the system on Sunday if the people desired that such a service, which was again expressed at yesterday's meeting.

NOT KEEPERS TO GET TOGETHER ON LAW ENFORCEMENT

Declare Irresponsible Owners Are to Blame For Present Laxity.

WORK WITH INSPECTOR

Better Class "Hosts" Determined to Prevent "Juvenile Trade" If At All Possible.

London hotel owners will hold a meeting in the course of a few days to formulate plans for co-operating with Inspector Galpin in the more complete enforcement of the liquor license act as it applies to minor hotels.

It is the desire, The Advertiser is informed, of a large majority of the hotelmen of this city to entirely eliminate the juvenile business. In spite of the efforts put forth by a better class of hotelmen to keep youths out of their premises, it is alleged that there are some hotels in which firewater may be secured quite as easily by minors as by their older comrades.

The purpose of the meeting which is to be held, is to come to an understanding with regard to this matter.

Those hotelmen who desire to see the law enforced completely, feel that the men who are breaking the regulations in this way are doing harm to the city as a class, a great deal of harm. They point out that such violations of the law as are made in this way are in others of a like character, are entitled to not a little of the blame for the temperance agitation that is now sweeping the country.

Up to Hotelkeepers. One of the leading hotelmen of London, in conversation with The Advertiser yesterday, voiced this idea in no uncertain terms and declared that it was up to the hotelmen to make their own interests by a very strict observance of the law. He intimated that the slipshod methods of some hotelmen, amongst a certain number of hotelmen, were such as to bring down condemnation upon the hotel business in general.

"It is just such hotelmen as I have instanced," said The Advertiser's informant, "who will put our business out on the street. We must have the realization of present day conditions, to understand that if they are made whole, are highly opposed to them and will not countenance such violations of the act, trivial though they may be, there will be less criticism of the hotel business."

Orders Youth Away. "Speaking from personal experience," continued this hotelman, "I may say that every day in the hotel business I have to order all the way from five to a dozen youths out of my place of business. I do not know how many of them are from my bar, if they bear even the slightest appearance of being under the legal age. If they are not, I will not have them in my way in this matter, all hotel proprietors will be compelled to conduct their places quite as strictly as I do mine."

Bank of England. The weekly statement of the Bank of England shows the following changes:

The proportion of the bank's reserve to liability this week is 53.36 per cent. Last it was 55.38 per cent. Discount rate 3 per cent.

J. L. LABELLE

J. L. Labelle, the Montreal advocate, who was retained by the Burns detectives, in connection with the report that he had never done anything to violate the privilege of his profession, while he had charged the city with the same.

Mr. Marchal asked if Mr. Labelle had given money to members.

The witness said he had never given any legislator a cent for handling the bill.

Mr. Taschereau wanted to know if conversations reported through the detective versions in which he figured, were true.

Mr. Marchal said he would give the question to the witness if Mr. Labelle was instructed to answer. Mr. Labelle said the will was drawn up by the promoter, and not by him, and he thought it genuine. Deschamps, of Montreal, told him that Martin and company, who were behind the bill, was a good concern.

About That $200. Mr. Lavergne asked Mr. Labelle what he had to say about the $200 given by the detectives, that he had said $200 looked like a lot of money to some of the legislators who resided at the cheaper hotels in Quebec.

Mr. Labelle said he did not know the names of the men who lived at the cheaper hotels, and no members could say he had spoken to them about receiving money for the Montreal Fair Association Bill.

Mr. Taschereau queried the witness about the statement credited to him, that he had appeared before the cabinet, and had asked that the bill be passed.

Might Have Said It. Mr. Labelle said he might have said something of the sort, but could not recall for certain. He had never appeared before the cabinet.

To the question "Did you say Mr. Provost was a dangerous man?" asked by Mr. Taschereau, Mr. Labelle said: "I may have said that, but I had no thought of bribes at the time."

Alex. Appleby, Burns' detective and chauffeur, gave an account of how he drove Mr. Mousseau to Montreal, office of Martin & Co., and of hearing conversations over the telephone.

Sparkling Burgundy. He told Mr. Mousseau that from Mr. Hyland a case of sparkling burgundy at Christmas.

The Legislative Council today appointed the following members to attend the following meeting yesterday from its committee of inquiry: Hon. George Bryson, Inkerman, Nemes Garneau, Shawinigan and George Simard, Depentigny.

TOO MANY DRONES
CAUSING THE MISERY

Baden-Powell Says Boy Scouts Will Make Generation of Workers.

[Canadian Press.] Montreal, Feb. 5.—The London correspondent of the Gazette cables: A national appeal for an endowment fund of $250,000 for the Boy Scouts was launched yesterday by General Sir Robert Baden-Powell, in support of which he publishes a letter from the Duke of Connaught.

The Governor-General's letter says that the Boy Scout movement has stood the test of a five years' trial, and that all opinions seem to agree that in proper hands it will achieve a great national work.

General Baden-Powell, in the course of his appeal, declares: "From the top to the bottom of the social structure, we have too many drones, with resultant misery, discontent, selfishness, thriftlessness and idleness. Among the Boy Scouts we seek to eliminate the drone, and provide that the next generation shall be one of workers. With the money, we propose to place headquarters on a sound financial basis, give a regular training to scoutmasters, which will enable them to start the work with the scoutmaster, and provide a farm to be conducted on Scout principles."

ROBERT BRENNER DIED AT SANATORIUM

Radium Failed to Cure Congressman—Was Born in Scotland.

[Canadian Press.]

Baltimore, Md., Feb. 5.—Robert Gunn Brenner, member of Congress from the seventh New Jersey district, and editor of the Passaic Daily Herald, died of cancer at a Sanatorium, where he had been undergoing radium treatment since last December. He had been suffering from the disease for four years.

Mr. Brenner was 39 years old and married, but childless. He was born in Scotland, but went to Canada with his parents at an early age, settling at Orangeville, Ont., twelve years ago. He came to New Jersey a few years later. He was a personal friend of President Wilson.

Radium Last Resort. Mr. Brenner came to a sanatorium in this country and Europe, vainly tried to cure him. It was found that the disease had made such inroads on him that little could be done to help him, and that the fight against death would be made with all odds against him.

Was Optimistic. Mr. Brenner was optimistic, however, and was estimated at $100,000 worth of radium were applied to the growth. For a time the patient seemed to improve, and members of his family frequently expressed the belief that he would recover. They clung to the hope that he would get well, when the sick man was seized with a sinking spell. From that time on, Mr. Brenner grew steadily weaker, although he several times rallied in a surprising manner, aided by his strong vitality and powerful will.

Was Keen For Bill. In his last days of suffering Mr. Brenner still fought on and insisted that he would not make speech. He declared that he wanted to go back to Congress to fight for a bill to have a Government-owned radium institute, so that this matter could be at the disposal of the state and not of private hands.

President Anxious. President Wilson was kept constantly advised of Mr. Brenner's condition, and frequently sent him messages of sympathy and encouragement, accompanied with flowers.

Tribute to His Pluck. Mr. Brenner's election to Congress was accomplished while he lay in bed. He did not make a speech, but his election is said to have been a tribute to his pluck. On the night before election, President Wilson, then governor of New Jersey, visited Passaic, and made a speech for Brenner.

Shock to Friends. Representative Brenner's death, though not unexpected, was a shock to his friends in congressional circles, where his fight for life had been watched with much sympathy.

House To Adjourn. After conferences between Speaker Clark and Democratic Leader Underwood, it was determined to adjourn the House at once, because of the great pressure of business, but a resolution was agreed upon for adjournment as late as the business arranged for the day had been disposed of.

BANTAM NIGHT.

The London Poultry Association held its regular meeting last night in the Dominion Savings building. Wm. McNeil, in a short address, explained the advantage of scoring birds at association meetings, and showed all present that the work could be learned by scoring that by comparison.

It was "bantam night," and the following varieties were scored to the satisfaction of all by Messrs. McNeil, Bell and Thorpe: Partridge Cocker, Black and White, Game, Gamecock, Gamecock, Light Brahma, Pile Game and Brown Red Game. Plans were made for the annual banquet, which will take place this month.

The auditor's report showed a balance on hand, with the association in a flourishing condition.

The poultry column of The Advertiser was in for much favorable comment, and it was decided to co-operate with The Advertiser in making London a leading poultry centre.

THINK HYDRO CHARGES ARE ON UNFAIR BASIS

Floor Space Scheme Warmly Criticized by Workingmen.

CLAIM COST IS INCREASED

No Real Reduction in Rates, But Mere Juggling of Figures, Says Members of Trades and Labor Council.

"Charging for hydro-electric on the floor space basis, with the claim that in this way the rates to the consumer are reduced, does not meet with the approval of the labor men of the city, according to opinions expressed at the meeting of the trades and labor council Wednesday evening.

The matter was brought up by Delegate Alfred Ryall, who protested against the clause in the regulations which required the consumer to pay the cost of a meter in case the first metre should be destroyed by fire. The hydro department, he thought, should insure all their meters with an insurance company out of the surplus they claim to have.

Increases the Cost.
As for the difference in cost, the floor space basis of charges he found increased, rather than diminished the cost to the small consumer, and he urged those present, not to adopt that basis.

Secretary Ernest Ingle agreed with what Ryall had said and as to the reduction in rates, "There's no reduction in the rates," he said. "They're just taking a little bit of wool and drawing it over our eyes, and the workingman is a fool to submit to it. And while we are ranting and raving about public ownership let us remember that hydro-electric in London is not controlled by public ownership."

Not Any Reduction.
"It is owned by a private company, for whom the city has been good enough to build a Niagara Falls to London, and then pay solicitors to sell the power. Now they take off a little of the charge for four months, but they add again for the remaining eight months. That's no reduction."

Delegate Ryall wanted to know why it was that if the department could afford to give it to manufacturers so cheap it did not give it to the workmen cheaper, so that he could heat his home with it. He wanted a further reduction on the old system, as no reduction—but increase—was obtained by changing to the floor space basis.

Closed, heated carriages for every occasion. "Phone Hueston's Livery."

LONDON MAY HAVE BIG WINTER FAIR

Project Broached at Western Fair Meeting.

PROBABLY BE CONSIDERED

Directors Will Deal With Proposal—Big Increases Shown in Figures of Western in Comparison With Figures of Eight Years Ago.

A winter fair for London may result from the annual meeting of the Western Fair Association held Wednesday afternoon. The project was freely discussed by several members present, and on the motion of A. B. Greer, president of the association, the matter was referred to the board of directors for further consideration.

In moving the resolution that steps be taken looking toward the establishment of a winter fair here, Mr. Greer pointed out that while other towns, much smaller than London, have held winter fairs, London had never made a success of the venture. He believed that the present buildings, which were agreed to, and the show was held, but was attended by only two directors and about a dozen citizens. As a result, it was a complete failure.

Tried Here 15 Years Ago.
William Moore stated that 15 years ago the Guelph Fair Board approached the London Board with a proposal to hold the winter fair here. This was agreed to, and the show was held, but was attended by only two directors and about a dozen citizens. As a result, it was a complete failure.

"There's not a particle of use trying to get it here," he said. "The only buildings fit for occupancy during the winter season, are the dairy building and the art building."

William McNeill blamed the failure of the first show upon the apathy of the businessmen and citizens generally. He thought that similar conditions would be found to prevail if a winter show were attempted here again.

Dr. H. T. Reason took a more optimistic view of the situation, and strongly urged the motion be adopted. He seconded it. A. W. White also spoke in its favor, pointing out that if the city of Brandon could hold a successful winter fair, London should be able to do likewise.

Need Government Grant.
Secretary A. M. Hunt reminded the members that substantial grants from both the Federal and Provincial Governments would be necessary to make the show a financial possibility, but this was left in the hands of the directors. The motion was carried by a large majority.

Secretary Hunt read a comparative statement compiled by the auditor, F. O. Jewell, showing the figures in the annual financial statement of 1905 side by side with the figures for 1913. A startling increase was shown in every department. Entry fees increased during these eight years from $133.60 to $3,235, an increase of $2,101.40.

Rentals of booths showed a total of $5,629.32 as against $3,072.75 in 1905. Gates and tickets receipts increased from $21,755.55 to $28,821.30. The total receipts increased from $29,667.18 to $54,450.42.

On the other hand, the expenses increased from $13,830 to $18,871, while the total expense increased from $25,835.55 to $55,991.21.

Carrothers, and William McNeill.

G. T. R. INVESTIGATES RIDOUT ST. SUBWAY

NO DETAILS ANNOUNCED

Developments Anticipated However, and Are Being Awaited With Interest—Definite Proposition Expected from Company.

That the Grand Trunk Railway Company is investigating the construction of a subway under its tracks at Ridout street, is indicated by a conference here yesterday between Howard G. Kelly first vice-president of the road, and H. E. Whittenberger, general superintendent of the middle division.

The results of the conference have not been made public, but following it the general superintendent, accompanied by Charles Forester, superintendent at Stratford, went to the intersection of the tracks and Ridout street, apparently for the purpose of making a general survey of the situation.

The continued agitation on the part of citizens, for the abolition of the traffic blockades which occur many times each day, has been apparently taken up by the company in earnest, and will undoubtedly be given consideration at once.

The meeting was not of an impromptu nature, General Superintendent Whittenberger coming directly to London from Stratford on the 11th express.

Further developments are being awaited with interest. It is known that the company is showing an unusual interest in the traffic situation in London, and it is probable that it will have a proposition to submit to the city before long.

PASTOR WILL REMAIN.

It All Depends on the Liver

So important is the liver and so great is its influence on the other vital organs of the body that it may be said you have little to fear from the ordinary ills of life so long as the liver is in a healthy working order.

The digestive processes are so dependent on free action of the liver that any derangement of this organ soon brings trouble.

Sluggishness and constipation follow, with headache and depressed spirits. Additional work is thrown on the kidneys, and soon the whole eliminating system is deranged, and the blood carries poisons through the body.

Careful eating is a great help towards keeping the liver right, but when it does get wrong there is nothing like Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills to restore the liver to healthy action.

With the secretion of bile by the liver, constipation and biliousness are cured, and the digestive and excretory systems are set in order. It is wonderful the benefit obtained by a few doses of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills under these circumstances. A trial will convince you of their superior merit.

OLD BOYS' QUESTION WILL BE FIERY ONE

Attractions for Reunion Expected to Precipitate Lively Session at Control Meeting.

It is anticipated that there will be more or less, and probably more, fireworks at the meeting of the board of control on Friday morning, when the executive of the London Old Boys' Association will apply for the usual $1,000 guarantee and market privileges in connection with the reunion to be held in August.

Representatives of the local Ministerial Association and the Federation will probably be on hand to protest against the bringing of the carnival shows to the city again, and some warm comments may be exchanged before the matter is settled.

Officers of the Old Boys' Association argue that a reunion without the shows will be very, very flat, indeed.
