SCORES CITY AUTHORITIES FOR NOT LIMITING HOURS IN PARKS

Rev. W. L. Armitage Warns Mothers To Watch Daughters—Declares Lot of Evil Carried On Because of Lax Regulations.

Addressing his congregation in the St. James' Anglican Church Sunday morning, Rev. W. Leslie Armitage warned mothers to strictly observe their daughters, declaring that many of the latter become popular in the eyes of some people by questionable acts. "It may be by dancing with promiscuous persons, or smoking a cigarette."

The minister was preaching a sermon on "John the Baptist," when the above warning was issued. He contrasted the loss of this disciple's life by King Herod's order, following the request of a girl, urged by her mother, seeking the applause of others, to the modern girl, who, seeking approbation of certain ones, does not hesitate to overstep the bounds of propriety. He mentioned that Herod, promising anything, even to one-half of his kingdom, gave the head of John the Baptist, which did not belong to the kingdom.

"It is not what we do," said Mr. Armitage, "but the principle upon which we do it." Continuing, he said that picture shows, although carrying on a legitimate business, the influence exerted by them is often not of a good nature. He scored the authorities of this city for not limiting the hours in local parks, declaring that there is no doubt that a lot of evil is carried on in these places because of such lax regulations.

During the course of the sermon a man rose from his seat and left the church, and at this point the minister declared that he knew whereof he spoke, and defied anyone to discredit

PROHIBITION IS LIVE ISSUE AT CONVENTION

Democrats Are Looking For a Fight Over Their Platform.

WAR ON PROFITEERING

Bryan's Platform Will Advocate a Plan For State Commissions.

San Francisco. Cal., June 28.—Service men among convention delegates today perfected plans for obtaining the indorsement of the Democratic party for bonus legislation. It was decided to adopt the American Legion "four-way" plan of rewarding veterans of the late war by extending paid-up insurance, rural or urban home aid, vocational education or flat cash compensation.

The livest subject in minds of the delegates manifestly was the impending prohibition fight, but talk of candidates was gaining more and more attention as the rival managers got down to cases with the big body of uninstructed and unpledged delegates.

To Fight Profiteering.

State commissions, similar to the United States commission, to prevent profiteering, are a feature of a plank on profiteering proposed by William J. Bryan. It is as follows:

"The Democratic party pledges the nation to get rid of the profiteer and to close the door against his return. It will endeavor to eliminate all unnecessary middlemen by the encouragement of organizations among producers that will bring those who sell and those who use nearer together. It will enact and enforce laws that will effectively prevent excessive charges by such middlemen as are necessary.

Severe Penalties.

"To this end it will demand legislation subjecting to penalties of the criminal law all corporation officers and employees who give or carry out instructions that result in extortion; it will make it unlawful for any engaged in interstate commerce to make the sale of one article dependent upon the purchase of another article, and it will require such corporations to disclose to customers the difference between cost price and selling price, or limit the profit that can be legally charged as the rate of interest is now limited.

Gives Wide Powers.

"It will also endeavor to create in the several states trade commissions, with powers as ample as those of the federal trade commission, and to enact laws authorizing each local community as needed commissions for the elimination of profiteering."

Another plank dealing with the treaty of Versailles and the league of nations is to be made public tomorrow by Mr. Bryan.

Expect a Fight.

Delegates and leaders were prepared for a fight over both platform and candidates as the Democratic national convention assembled today for its opening session.

The actual convention work itself was only preliminary and perfunctory, but the arrival of convention day served to bring further into the open the questions which had been dividing delegates and perplexing the elder politicians in their pre-convention conferences.

The keynote speech of Homer S. Cummings, as temporary chairman, was the principal feature of the day's program. Later in the day the newly-selected committees were to see the first developments as they began their task of writing the platform, hearing appeals from contests over delegate seats and making up the convention rules and a slate of permanent convention officers.

DE VALERA IS THERE.

New York, June 28.—(By the Canadian Press).—A special dispatch to the New York World from San Francisco dated Sunday, says:

"The Union Jack and the Sinn Fein flag floated on Market street today, but not side by side or at the same time. The British flag was carried by the Toronto temple of Shriners en route for home. The Irish emblem was carried by committees welcoming Eamonn De Valera and his staff of Sinn Fein members of Parliament.

"De Valera will remain here until the end of the convention, which he hopes will adopt a plank calling for the recognition of the Irish republic. The plank which he will present in person or by proxy now seems likely to be milder than that presented at Chicago, this being a concession to the demands of the Conservatives in the Friends of Irish Freedom, as well as to the known intention of a majority of the resolutions committee to make any reference to Irish affairs conservative in tone.

The World dispatch reports that the Irish question was taken up in the National Democratic Women's headquarters yesterday. Miss Elizabeth Marbury, their spokesman, said:

"We would like to know what the Irish in Ireland want. We are all amenable to reason. But we want the feeling of the Irish interpreted by Irish who live in their own country."

FRENCH CRUISER DOCKED AT MONTREAL

The French cruiser, Ville D'ys, docked at Montreal, bringing the officers and members of the crew to take part in the unveiling of the Dollard monument.

MEN'S CLOTHING NOT TAXABLE AT A LOWER PRICE THAN $60

Tax Is Retroactive to June 17 On Clothing Delivered Since That Date, and Not Paid For, Says New Ruling of Minister of Inland Revenue.

Ottawa, June 28.—By Canadian Press.—Men's clothing made to measure is not taxable at a lower price than $60 for suit or overcoat, under a new ruling of the minister of inland revenue today.

This tax is retroactive to June 17 on clothing delivered since that date and not paid for. Clothes that have been paid for are not subject to a refund of any taxation paid.

Consideration was given the fact that tailors cannot make up men's clothing at the same prices charged for ready-to-wear factory goods.

The absence of a distinction between the two on taxable price, therefore, worked a hardship on tailors, and the Government accordingly made a new basis of taxation for tailored clothes.

The tax on ready-to-wear women's clothing is 15 per cent of the purchase price in excess of $45; on made-to-measure suits or overcoats the tax will be 15 per cent on the purchase price in excess of $60.

2,000 PRISONERS DROWNED WHEN STEAMER SINKS

British, Austrians and Germans Reported Lost in the Neva River Accident.

London, June 28.—Two thousand British, Austrian, German and Finnish prisoners of war were drowned when a Bolshevik steamer was sunk recently in the Neva River, according to a Helsingfors dispatch to the Central News. A Reuter report from Stockholm would seem to confirm this, the dispatch saying that a steamship was sunk on June 2 with 2,000 repatriated prisoners on board. It, however, does not mention any loss of life.

NO RIVER WATER FOR DRINKING PURPOSES UNLESS SANCTIONED BY LONDON BOARD OF HEALTH

Public Utilities Is Experimenting With Water From North Branch of Thames — Well Driller Expected.

Experiments with river water to determine whether it can be used safely for drinking purposes are being conducted by the public utilities commission. A site on the north branch of the Thames has been selected. Near this a trench has been dug and the water has filtered through. This is being tested.

Commissioner Philip Pocock today said that none of the water would be used until it was approved by the board of health, and that even in that event it would be used only if another serious water shortage developed. The cost of using water from this source would not be great, he said. An eight-inch main runs close to the vicinity, and by installing pumping apparatus it would be possible to turn from 200,000 to 300,000 gallons of water into the mains daily.

The experiments were started during the serious shortage of water earlier in the month, but nothing concerning them was said until today.

According to Mr. Pocock, the river at this point is from 75 to 80 per cent pure spring water, and little filtration is needed to make it absolutely pure. A large firm in the city which markets a popular beverage uses river water entirely in its manufacture, testing the water periodically to make certain that it is pure, Mr. Pocock said.

There is no immediate prospect of this plan being adopted by the city. The Springbank reservoir is full to the brim, and only a few of the pumps are working. This is giving the springs an opportunity to return to their normal condition, and the city may pass through the summer without the necessity of augmenting the present supply in any way.

General-Manager E. V. Buchanan is making every effort to get a well-driller in the city to see if more water cannot be obtained by this means.

One driller has wired that he is on his way here, but it is not known when he will arrive.

Extensive efforts to locate new supplies may be made immediately. According to tests made by chemists employed by a local firm, there is a supply of spring water at the coves. The first cove, according to this analysis, is supplied from the river, but the second cove has its source in a number of springs. As these are located on Government property, it is possible that a search for springs may be made there immediately.

OLD HOME WEEK AT HARRISTON OPENED TODAY

Warm Welcome Is Given To a Large Crowd of Old Boys.

MEMORIAL UNVEILED

Placed in High School To Honor Boys Who Fell Overseas.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Harriston, June 28.—Harriston's "Old Home Week" got under way in great shape here today with a fine program of sports and other events arranged to entertain and welcome the hundreds of visitors to the town. The streets are profusely decorated with flags and "Welcome" signs everywhere in evidence.

Today's program includes concerts by the Palmerston Band, registration of all visitors in the council chamber under the supervision of the Daughters of the Empire, the opening of the baseball tournament, lacrosse match between Durham and Harriston, and a band concert and concert in the town hall tonight.

The sports committee has arranged for a boxing bout on July 1 between Scotty Lister of Toronto, and Harry Bingham of Hamilton, for the 126-pound bout, and Smith and Harry Stone for the 118-pound bout.

The homecoming celebration was inaugurated yesterday by special services in all the churches and special music, together with solo singing by former members of the chorus who have returned for the reunion. The afternoon program included the decoration of the graves at the cemetery by the I. O. O. F., assisted by representatives from Arthur, Drayton, Chesley, Listowel, Clifford, Wroxeter, Mount Forest, Palmerston, Elora, Toronto, London and Detroit lodges. The parade, headed by the Harriston Band, numbered over 200 people with Past Grand George Hyland acting as marshal. Capt. Holton performed the chaplain's services, and Noble Grand MacFarlane presided. Upon the completion of the decoration the parade returned to the high school, where a bronze tablet was unveiled to the memory of the students and ex-students who made the supreme sacrifice. The chair was occupied by James McMurchie, and the program included singing by a choir of twenty voices, a duet by Messrs. James Yule and Professor Blackwood; addresses by Rev. T. D. McCullough and Capt. Pauline. Little Miss Dorothy Powes unfurled the Union Jack enshrouding the tablet, after which the "Last Post" was sounded by Bugler Harry Richards. The evening program took the form of special church services, after which a band concert was rendered in the park.

CANADIAN EXPORTS TO BRITAIN INCREASE

Are Three Times What They Amounted To in 1913.

Washington, D. C., June 28.—(By Canadian Press).—Imports to Great Britain from Canada during the first three months of the year, while less than in 1919, were three times those of 1913, according to reports to the United States Department of Commerce from the United States consul in London.

Australian and Indian imports both proportionately advanced by a little less than Canada. All these large advances are due principally to the much higher cost of goods, the report says.

KEEN INTEREST IN THE HENLEY REGATTA

Henley-on-Thames, England, June 28.—The rowing crews training here for the regatta, which opens Wednesday, spent a busy week-end. Keen interest was displayed in the performances of the Magdalene College and Leander crews. The former, which is regarded as one of the most promising of the English crews, covered the full course today in 7 minutes 14 seconds, while Leander made the distance in 7 minutes 20 seconds. The United States crew made a half-course row in 3:33.

TO END CAR STRIKE.

Dayton, Ohio, June 28.—Two meetings are being held today in an effort to end Dayton's street car strike. City commissioners are meeting with carmen and also with car company officials. The carmen and companies are deadlocked over the wage question.

WILL NEVER CONSIDER IRISH REPUBLIC OR COERCION OF ULSTER

Viscount French Makes Clear the Policy of British Government.

Belfast, June 28.—Viscount French, lord lieutenant of Ireland, who is here for the unveiling of war and Titanic memorials, speaking at a luncheon on Saturday, said:

"It cannot be too clearly shown that the government will never under any circumstances listen to any proposal either for the establishment of an Irish republic or the coercion of Ulster. We desire, above all things, to give the country the utmost measure of political freedom, and hope sometimes against hope that a peaceable reconciliation will eventually be effected; but, having said so much, I would be wanting in my duty if I did not repeat what I have said before—that we are determined the Irish people shall enjoy the same protection as the people of other parts of the kingdom, and the government will not hesitate to employ all the forces at its disposal to attain this."

GERMANY IS BEHIND ON COAL DELIVERIES

Three Million Tons Short of the Amount Promised.

Paris, June 28.—Germany is 3,000,000 tons in arrears of her engagements concerning the delivery of coal, in execution of the treaty of Versailles, according to an interview with Louis Loucheur, printed today in the Petit Parisien. He says it is necessary to grant a large amount of coal monthly to industrial reconstruction.

FRUIT GROWERS ARE NEEDING MORE HELP

Few Farmerettes Available This Season in Niagara District.

St. Catharines, Ont., June 28.—Fruit-growers in the Niagara Peninsula, require more help than they can procure, although the demand for pickers will not reach its highest point for about two weeks yet, when the harvesting of raspberries, currants and cherries will be in full swing. Just at present help is needed to gather in strawberries and early cherries. The Ontario labor bureau could have placed 100 more pickers on Saturday than offered their help.

Some farmerettes are again engaged in picking strawberries in the western section of the peninsula, but the number of available farmerettes this season is much smaller than in the past three or four summers. A number of Polish people were obtained in Buffalo by the Vineland strawberry growers last week, and these helped out the situation.

HANSARD AMANUENSES ASKING FOR $6.50 A DAY

Ottawa, June 27.—As the House of Commons was wading through supply late yesterday afternoon, five of the Hansard amanuenses suddenly struck work. They were paid five dollars a day during session. They have been asking for an additional $1.50 per day, and as the supplementary estimates contain no record that the request has been granted, they tendered their resignations to take effect immediately. Hansard reporters, their note books filled with shorthand hieroglyphics, returned from the floor of the House to find their assistants resolutely determined to type-write no more—till their remuneration is increased. The ladies take the view that their work demands a severe physical strain and exceptional skill. They are on duty from the time the House meets until it adjourns. On one occasion this session, at the close of the budget debate, they were on duty from 3 o'clock one afternoon until 6:30 the next morning.

JUDGE ROBSON IS GOING TO OTTAWA

Winnipeg, June 28.—H. A. Robson, K.C., former chairman of the Canadian Board of Commerce, will have nothing further to say in regard to the Murdock letter at this time.

"The proper scene for the Board of Commerce discussion is Ottawa," said Judge Robson in an interview with the Canadian Press. "I will leave for Ottawa on Thursday morning—cannot leave sooner. I am going there of my own volition, and have no communication for anyone. Until then I will preserve silence."

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE CONGRESS.

Toronto, June 27.—The opening date of the ninth congress of Chambers of Commerce of the British Empire, to be held in Toronto, will be Saturday, September 18. The congress will continue until September 22. These dates have been arranged to suit the delegates from the Old Land.

COUNT APPONYI IS HEAD OF NEW COALITION GOVT.

Hungarian Ministry Has Resigned and Former Premier Is in Power.

Vienna, June 26.—The Hungarian ministry has resigned, according to a telephone dispatch from Budapest, and it is reported Count Albert Apponyi, former premier, is head of a new coalition government.

CLASH WITH GERMANS.

Prague, Czecho-Slovakia, June 27.—A serious clash has occurred between German civilians and Czecho-Slovak troops, in which at least six were killed and many wounded. The fighting occurred at Jihlava Moravia, last Wednesday, and was the outgrowth of intense political feeling between the Germans and native citizens.

NEW MINISTER OF LABOR.

Berlin, June 28.—Rev. Dr. von Braun of the Centre party has been appointed minister of labor in the cabinet of Chancellor Fehrenbach, it was announced today.

PAVING PROSPECTS LOOKING BRIGHTER

Two Cars of Asphalt Arrive in City Today.

With new sand drums in operation at the paving plant and the arrival of two more cars of asphalt in the city today prospects of completing this year's extensive paving program were considerably brighter today. Plenty of asphalt has been available since the beginning of the year, but supplies of sand and limestone to mix with it have been inadequate. The purchase of new sand drums was authorized at the beginning of the year. These arrived recently and were in operation today for the first time.

Some asphalt likely will be available for use on the streets by Tuesday, and there will be a steady supply from that time. There is still one obstacle in the way of the work. That is the scarcity of coal. The present supply will last for some time, but it will not be sufficient for the whole paving season. City Engineer Brazier hopes to obtain further supplies before the present ones are exhausted.

Cement is proving difficult to obtain, but there is enough on hand to keep both paving gangs working. Concrete has already been laid on a large number of streets and these are now ready for the asphalt coating.

Road oil has been obtained in sufficient quantities to keep all the city oil wagons working and the whole outlook for street work is decidedly better than two weeks ago.

VALUABLE JERSEY COW STOLEN FROM MAYOR

Cattle Thieves At Work On the Farm of E. S. Little. Delaware.

Through what is believed to be the work of cattle thieves, a valuable imported jersey cow has disappeared from the farm of Mayor Little in Delaware Township.

It is not thought probable that it could have strayed, as the field was inclosed. It had a chain padlocked around the horns.

JAIL-BREAKER IS CAPTURED BY POLICE

Detroit, June 28.—James Cushway, who has, according to the police, escaped from prisons in ten states, was captured by detectives here yesterday. Cushway barricaded himself in an attic when officers visited his roominghouse, but finally gave up two revolvers and surrendered.

A woman, whom the police recorded as "Babe" Cushway, was also arrested, alleged to have acted as an accomplice with Cushway in pillaging numerous Detroit houses.

TWO KILLED IN EXPLOSION.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 28.—W. C. Walsh, president of the Vulc Weld Tire and Rubber Company, and J. A. Maney, his assistant, were killed early today by the explosion of a drying machine in the company's factory at Pottstown, Penn. Several employees were injured and much damage was done to the factory.

PARLIAMENT IS LIKELY TO CLOSE ON WEDNESDAY

Board of Commerce Matter May Be Aired This Afternoon.

Ottawa, June 28.—While a definite date has not been fixed it is expected that Parliament will prorogue on Wednesday or Thursday.

Working until midnight on Saturday, the Commons finished what is expected to be the last full week of the present session. Both Sir Robert Borden and Sir James Lougheed expressed the hope that the session will end on Tuesday. That date was mentioned, however, before the resignation of Commissioner James Murdock, and his subsequent publication of the correspondence relating to the resignation of Judge H. A. Robson brought the whole board of commerce matter very much into the limelight.

It has since been arranged that on a motion to go into committee on supply, either Monday or Tuesday, the whole matter of the board of commerce and its somewhat untimely ending will be aired in debate. It is not likely that this debate could be finished in less than a full day's talking, as members of each of the three parties are known to have their views on the subject and to be desirous of airing them.

HOD CARRIERS FIRM IN DEMAND FOR MORE CASH, SHORTER TIME

Three Hundred Men Affected by Strike Commenced Saturday.

More than 300 hodcarriers and construction laborers who struck Saturday at noon are standing firm in their demand for increased wages per hour and a continuance of the eight-hour day, although up to this afternoon no advances whatever had been made by the contractors for a settlement.

The hodcarriers and construction laborers are about 75 per cent organized in London, and about 100 non-union workers are still at work. A considerable number of non-union men, however, struck in sympathy with the union, and a few members were enrolled by the union at strike headquarters in the London Loan Building this morning.

Scarcity of building materials is claimed by the members of the Builders' Exchange as the reason why the strike may last a few days without affecting them, but with a great number of contracts waiting for completion the contractors admit that it is not to their interest that the strike should continue more than a few days.

That there was no resumption of negotiations between the contractors and the men today is not regarded as significant to either side, the contractors having intimated their intention to ignore the strike unless a pretty thorough tie-up was effected.

The strikers on their part claim that the scarcity of materials is only a bluff on the part of the contractors, and declare that from the union standpoint

POLICE CONSTABLE SUICIDES.

Eganville, Ont., June 28.—Constable H. G. Wilson of Eganville was found dead on Saturday afternoon with a bullet hole in his head, lying half in the river which runs through the town. The body was found by some boys on their way to swim. An inquiry was opened by Dr. Gallagher, who decided death was self-inflicted, and that an inquest would be unnecessary.

FOOD RIOTS IN HAMBURG.

London, June 28.—Two persons are dead and 80 wounded as a result of food riots in Hamburg, according to a Central News dispatch from Berlin Many shops were plundered and a state of siege was declared last night. The dispatch states that four persons have been arrested and that order has been restored.

BARRACKS ATTACKED BY RIOTERS AT PISA

Many Casualties Among the Police and Soldiers During Fighting.

Pisa, Italy, June 28.—Barracks were attacked here Saturday, but the assailants were repulsed. The rioters built barricades in the streets and pillaged liquor and clothing stores until order was restored by reinforcements to the garrison. Two of the rioters were killed and many have been arrested. There were a number of casualties among the police and soldiers.

DEMAND WITHDRAWAL.

Rome, June 28.—During a debate on the Albania situation in the Chamber of Deputies, Socialist members demanded a withdrawal of Italian troops.

Premiere Giolitti, in replying, said the Government was not sending troops to Albania, and reminded the Chamber that when he was last premier he had urged that Albania ought to be completely independent and had done his best to secure the formation of a stable government.

ANARCHISTS CONCENTRATING.

Rome, June 28.—Quiet was restored today in the centre of Ancona, according to dispatches from that city, the anarchists who have been creating serious disorders there retiring to the suburbs. The central party of the city was cleared when a detachment of carabineers, protected by artillery, marched through the quarter, where the anarchist forces had been in possession.

Anarchists are concentrating around the labor bureau in Ancona, and dispatches indicate they have a machine gun. Three have been killed in encounters with policemen. An attack was made upon carabineers' barracks, and a number of hand-grenades were thrown, but the anarchists were unable to enter. Reinforcements rushed to the scene were met with shots from neighboring houses, and it is said women participated in the fighting.

SIR ADOLPHE RUTHIER IS DEAD AT QUEBEC

Quebec, June 28.—Sir Adolphe Ruthier, judge of the admiralty court, a noted jurist and author of "O Canada," died last night at his summer home at Ste. Irreene-les Bins. Sir Adolphe was 81 years old, having been born at St. Placide, Que., May 8, 1839. He studied law at Laval University, was called to the Quebec bar in 1861, and became a K. C. in 1873. He was appointed chief Justice of the supreme court in 1904, resigning in 1906, but remaining a judge of the admiralty court. He was a noted writer on biblical matters. Sir Adolphe twice declined the lieutenant-governorship of the Northwest Territories in 1897. He was president of the Royal Society of Canada in 1915. He received knighthood from King George at the coronation in 1911, and was created by the Pope a Knight Grand Cross of the Order of St. Gregory the Great. He married, in 1862, Miss Marie Mondiet, daughter of J. O. Mondiet of Montreal. The late judge is survived by two daughters and one son.

COHALAN DENOUNCED AT DE VALERA MEETINGS

New York, June 28.—(By Canadian Press).—It was reported today that no less than 599 pro-De Valera meetings were held in different parts of New York and New Jersey last night. At all of these meetings the Cohalan-Devoy group was denounced without mentioning names, and resolutions upholding the "president of the Irish republic" were adopted.

At one of the principal meetings a protest was raised against the recent riots in the north of Ireland, which, it was claimed, were instigated by the Government.

Dr. McCartland, "envoy" to the United States, said this activity could be traced to "the moneyed interests in America as well as Great Britain."

TWO TEACHERS APPOINTED.

Listowel, June 26.—The board of education at its regular meeting tonight decided to accept the applications of two teachers, Miss Lily Reid of Waterdown, salary $1,800, to take charge of the commercial department, and Miss Cawsey, B. A., of Stratford, to teach art, salary $1,500. The position of science teacher is still vacant, and the board will advertise again.

STEAMER ARRIVALS.

New York, June 28.—Arrived: Steamship La Savoie, Havre; Lafayette, Havre.

BLIND DOGS

Humane Inspector Takes Possession of Five.

Since Saturday Humane Inspector G. Tustin has taken possession of five dogs which were blind or were growing blind rapidly. Inspector Tustin is of the opinion that there are some persons who are kicking dogs in the face, thereby causing them to lose their sight.

"On Saturday I took a dog which was blind in one eye from a man who was attempting to sell it on the local market. Five hours after I had put the dog in the pound it was blind in the other eye, stated Inspector Tustin.

This morning the inspector found a dog on Dufferin avenue, which was blind in one eye. The inspector said that in all probability the dog would be totally blind by the afternoon.

"The optics of the blind dogs are badly swollen and inflamed, showing that the dogs have either been kicked or struck with a stick," said the inspector.

NOTHING TO WARRANT DISMISSAL OF MEN, SAYS GENERAL ROSS

Characterizes Statement of Prison Superintendent At Kingston As False.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Kingston, June 28.—In an interview here today, Brig.-Gen. A. E. Ross, characterized as false, the statement of Prison Superintendent W. S. Hughes, made in a letter to Premier Borden, in which he stated that all the complaints registered about the Portsmouth Penitentiary were "one hundred per cent exaggerated." He further stated that no sensible person would tolerate the treatment handed out to officials who had spent many years in the service, upon ridiculous charges based upon pure assumption and the flimsiest evidence. There was nothing to warrant the dismissal of men whose standing in the community is beyond reproach. Gen. Ross states that the matter of an investigation is up to Premier Borden.

GREEKS LAND AT DANDERMA

Troops Will Operate South Against Turkish Nationalist Forces.

London, June 28.—The Greeks have landed a force at Banderma, on the south coast of the Sea of Marmora, according to a dispatch to the Evening News today from Constantinople. This force is intended to operate southward against the Nationalist forces of Mustapha Kemal Pasha, northeast of Smyrna.

LETTERS INDICATE THAT FERGUSON KNEW ABOUT TIMBER DEALS

Lumbermen Staked Out Mining Locations and Then Cut Trees.

Toronto, June 28.—That Hon. G. H. Ferguson had knowledge in 1916 that lumbermen were in the habit of staking out mining locations in Northern Ontario, and then proceeding to cut off timbers instead of mining, appeared from letters before the Ridd-Latchford timber commission this morning. H. Hartley Dewart, K. C., was a witness before the commission, and introduced letters written by S. A. Marks to Mr. Ferguson, asking for an investigation into dealing of this sort during four or five years previous 1916, but that nothing had been done.

Mr. Dewart admitted that although this correspondence had been in the hands of the Liberal Opposition since 1916, nothing had been done nor questions asked in the Legislature. Several letters of Marks were read. One dated April 19 said:

"Thousands of acres of the best timber locations on the north shore of Lake Superior had been taken up as mining locations by timber men, and urged a rigid investigation." The letter said 50,000 cords of spruce had been cut on these and shipped to the States.

In reply, Mr. Ferguson said that local mining recorders could not refuse applications for mining locations when they were presented to them, but that violations of mining act would be dealt with. Letters from J. P. Bertrand, a timber contractor, to Messrs. Dewart, Grieg and Hon. T. W. McGarry, complained of the same thing and were also read. The commission adjourned sine die, pending arrival of witnesses from Port Arthur, and it is understood when evidence already arranged for is taken the commission will adjourn for the holidays, after which regular sessions will be resumed.

LOSS IS $100,000 IN MONTREAL BLAZE

Montreal, June 28.—Fire which broke out in a freight car in the C. P. R. yards at Joliette Saturday, spread to several other cars and to the freight sheds before the firemen could get the flames under control. The damage is estimated by one of the company's agents at $100,000, including the loss of the goods contained in the cars. Seven cars were destroyed and the sheds were burned to the ground.

RAILWAY BOARD TO DEAL WITH COAL SHORTAGE

Premier Borden Gives Notice of Resolution He Will Move.

MAY LIFT EXPORT BAN

Resolution Regarding Control of Foodstuffs May Be Withdrawn.

Ottawa, June 28.—By Canadian Press.—Sir Robert Borden has given notice that he will move a resolution in the Commons, the purpose of which is to give the board of railway commissioners power to deal with any threatened coal or fuel shortage. The text of the resolution reads:

"That it is expedient to bring in a measure amending the railway act, 1919, by adding thereto provisions conferring upon the board of railway commissioners of Canada power to do and authorize all such acts and things to make from time to time all such order and regulations as the board may deem necessary or advisable by reason of real or apprehended scarcity of coal or other fuel supplies in Canada."

MAY BE WITHDRAWN.

Ottawa, June 28.—By Canadian Press.—It is understood that an agreement is likely to be reached which may have the effect of bringing about the withdrawal of the Government resolution giving the governor-in-council power to control exports of foodstuffs or necessaries from Canada. The measure was referred to a special committee of the House, and an announcement to the above effect is expected to be made before the session ends.

TWO KILLED IN AUTO CRASHES

Winnipeg, June 28.—A youth and a child are dead and a girl probably fatally injured as the result of three automobile accidents on Saturday afternoon and evening. The drivers of the motors who are alleged to have struck the two who are dead have been arrested by the police and released on bail of $1,000. David Koffman, 17 years old, was the first victim. He was riding his bicycle when he was thrown under a truck and instantly killed.

Margaret McIntosh, aged 4 years, died in the hospital after being hit by an automobile while returning from a picnic.

COL. BIGGAR TO BE ELECTORAL OFFICER

Ottawa, June 28.—In introducing an amendment to the franchise bill, which secures to the chief electoral officer the same tenure of office as a puisne judge of the Supreme Court of Canada at the same salary and superannuation allowance, Mr. Guthrie stated in the House Saturday that it had been proposed to appoint Col. Oliver Mowat Biggar chief electoral officer instead of F. H. Gisborne, K.C., At present Col. Biggar is special counsel for the Government at a salary of $10,000 a year, with the right to accept private retainers. The revised salary list for judges would give Col. Biggar $12,000 per annum.

Hon. Wm. L. Mackenzie King stated that Opposition members would support the appointment. Mr. Biggar had been a Union Government supporter.

WOODMEN GATHER TO UNVEIL STONES TO DEAD BRETHREN

Members of Six Camps Participate in Ceremonies At Woodland.

LAST POST SOUNDED

Sovereign Jared Vining Urges That Those Attending Live Worthy Lives.

With deeply impressive ceremonies, monuments to fourteen Woodmen of the World who died during the past two years were unveiled at Woodland Cemetery Sunday afternoon. Members of the five local camps of the order, Forest City, Pine Grove, Laurel, London, Victory and Temple and representatives of the Royal Oak Camp, St. Thomas, participated.

The monuments were located in various parts of the cemetery and were draped with Canadian flags. The memorial service was conducted at the grave of Sovereign William Shapland. At the point in the ritual at which the monument was uncovered the last post was sounded by Sovereign Sergt. Page, and all the other monuments were unveiled simultaneously by sovereigns who had been appointed to that duty.

Guard of Honor.

More than 30 of those present were in uniform, forming a guard of honor at the grave.

Special cars conveyed them from their headquarters on Richmond street to the cemetery. A large number also went by automobile.

All members joined in paying the tribute of the camp to departed members.

The services were conducted by John Francis, consul-commander, John Manning adviser lieutenant. The poem appointed for occasions of this kind was recited by Sovereign Thomas Leah. The oration was given by Sovereign Jared Vining.

Other officers who participated were A. J. Chapman, clerk; R. C. Hooper, banker, Clair Jarvis, master of ceremonies, Capt. Francis and Capt. Stillman of the drill corps and staff officers, General Leah, Major Bailey and Capt. Brownlee. In addition to Woodmen hundreds of other citizens witnessed the unveiling.

Graves Decorated.

Saturday the graves of 73 members of the order were decorated.

The names of those to whom manuments were unveiled Sunday were: John Sadlier, George Geoghan, Percy C. Last, William Shapland; Eli Griffith, Walter Parsons, Albert Lynch, David Penwarden, John P. Brimacombe, P. J. Edmunds, Alonzo Hall, Charles J. Clark, Gordon Spence and Mary A. Capon.

Jared Vining in delivering the oration pointed out that the value of the ceremony which had just been concluded was that it contained a lesson for those who witnessed it, as well as commemorating the members who had passed on.

"The beautiful ceremony we have just witnessed reminds us forcibly of the fact that death is the common end of us all," he said. "It is well on an occasion of this sort to reflect to some extent upon the serious side of life. Why is it that we gather here to erect a monument to our departed friends? Is it not because the lives they lived rendered them worthy of this tribute? We who remain should follow their example, and so live that those who survive us will be warranted in paying a like tribute to us.

To the Living.

"There is an old saying that we should speak nothing but good of the dead. That is good, but it might well be applied with greater benefit to us who are living. Why should be wait until men have passed away before we speak a good word of them? Why should we place bouquets on the coffin and offer none to the living? If we know no good of a man let us say nothing. If we know of any good let us tell it. It seems to me that if that were done there would be less trouble in the world and a greater spirit of harmony amongst all people.

"Unless from this ceremony in which we have participated we gather something like that, our time has been wasted. It is a good thing for us at times to remember that there is an end to life and that we must face the great architect of the universe and account to him for deeds done. It does not do for us to go through life with the thought of death ever upon us, but we should remmber that we hold that life only as stewards. We each have a mission and we each have special talents, and as those talents are used, so will we be received. We should bear ever in mind that we are not our own, that we have been bought with a price."

During the service several selections were sung by members of the Sunset quartet. Fred Callard, Fred Ball, W. Green and W. Robinson. A number of familiar hymns were sung, in which all those present were asked to join.

HUNDREDS ATTEND JEFFREY FUNERAL

Sunday School March Behind Hearse Bearing Remains of Superintendent.

A striking demonstration of the esteem held for the late William Jeffrey by Londoners of all ages was demonstrated Sunday afternoon, when about 250 pupils of Wellington Street Methodist Sunday School, marshalled by their teachers, marched in a body for a few blocks behind the hearse bearing the remains of their beloved suprintendent. The children assembled at the Sunday school and then walked to the Jeffrey home, 419 Simcoe street, and here formed ranks on either side of the road, which were one block in length. As the cortege passed between the lines they joined the funeral and marched along Simcoe and up Waterloo street to the Grand Trunk tracks, where they paused with bowed heads as the mourners passed by, mute evidence of the loss felt by them.

The funeral services were in charge of Rev. W. J. Ashton, pastor of the Wellington Street Methodist Church, assisted by Rev. G. N. Hazen of Listowel, a former pastor. J. T. Wallace, assistant superintendent of the Sunday school, also spoke at the house service where Percy King sang "Peace, Perfect Peace," assisted by Mrs. P. King.

The pall-bearers were F. N. Fleming, John T. Wallace, J. W. T. Park, W. J. Wray, John Watson and E. A. Payne. Many local citizens, who came in contact with Mr. Jeffrey during his many years as a building contractor here were present at the funeral services, and practically every resident of the district turned out as a tribute to their deceased popular neighbor. Following the custom inaugurated during his fatal illness by Mr. Jeffrey, all sprays and cut flowers were Sunday afternoon sent by the bereaved family to Victoria Hospital to cheer the sick. The other profuse floral offerings required two open carriages to convey them to the cemetery.

BAKERS' PICNIC.

Plans for a big picnic at Springbank Saturday afternoon constituted the chief business of the meeting of the Bakers' and Confectionery Workers' Union on Saturday night. Questions of increased wages and the desire of the men for the abolition of night work will be debated at the next meeting to be held early in July.

MANY TRIBUTES TO LATE WM. JEFFREY

Memorial Service To Prominent Churchman and Citizen Held Sunday.

Eulogistic tributes to the sterling character of the late William Jeffrey, pioneer local contractor, who died here Friday morning, marked the memorial service held in the Wellington Street Methodist Church Sunday evening. Rev. W. J. Ashton, the pastor, officiated at the service, assisted by Rev. G. N. Hazen of Listowel, a former pastor. Rev. H. A. Graham, who also held a charge at Wellington Street Methodist Church at one time, was unable to be present for the service.

No sermon was preached at the memorial service, but brief tributes to the work of Mr. Jeffrey during his 30 years as a citizen, a member of the church, and superintendent of the Sunday school, were given by several members of the congregation and outsiders in addition to the above two pastors. John Watson in his tribute spoke on behalf of the church, and mentioned the loss suffered by the congregation which would not be felt in its entirety until burdens to shoulder loomed on the horizon, and the genial Mr. Jeffrey would not be present to relieve another of the load.

His Class.

William Gibson, associated with the deceased superintendent for 30 years, spoke regarding his relation to the Sunday school, which grew from a small class to the present large membership under the care and guidance of Mr. Jeffrey, who was known to every child in the neighborhood for his kindly nature and to hundreds of Londoners who attended this Sunday school in their younger days.

J. M. Thomson, a local merchant, not a member of the congregation, described a portion of the Christian work accomplished by Mr. Jeffrey outside of the church, which was not advertised by the doer and only known to those with whom he labored. Capt. Norman Zinn of Galt acquainted the congregation with the great influence for good which Mr. Jeffrey had over the soldiers training in local camps during the years of war. During the address the congregation was acquainted with several new features to them of the life of their staunch fellow-member in this city, always striving to better others and to practice the golden rule.

Special Service.

During the service the members of the Sunday school occupied the church gallery. Special music, suitable to the occasion, was sung by the choir and church quartet, composed of Messrs. Mapletoft, Parker, Merritt and Parsons, sang "Safe in the Arms of Jesus." A beautiful solo, "Shadows," was rendered also by Miss Myrtle Hicks. At the conclusion of the service there were few people in the church with no tears in their eyes, all feeling that in the death of William Jeffrey they had lost a friend, counsellor and benefactor, in addition to an able church-worker.

That the memory of the late William Jeffery, who died on Friday, will live in the youth and grownups of London for many years, and that his passing away is a distinct loss, were the terms in which Assistant Superintendent I. W. Kingswood, of Dundas Centre Sunday school, yesterday addressed the scholars. A moment's silent prayer was offered for the widow and family.

URGES PLANS FOR FEDERAL SQUARE

Ald. C. G. Moorehead Thinks Time For Action Arrived.

Immediate preparation of plans and estimates for erecting civic buildings on the southeast corner of Wellington and Dundas streets was urged by Ald. C. G. Moorhead in an interview with The Advertiser today.

"I made a motion to this effect at the first meeting of the city council this year, so that the citizens would have some knowledge as to the cost of new buildings of this description," he said. "I think it is about time now that this information was presented. Half the year is gone and no action has been taken. My own idea is that in the event of a new city hall being erected on this square that the present city hall, the Carling street property, and the registry office should be sold. The money derived from these sales could be used for proper buildings, as something will have to be done shortly with these old buildings.

"However, in building a new city hall, the expense will not fall entirely upon the present taxpayers, but in a large measure will rest with the coming generation, whom I feel sure will take a pride in doing their share in supporting the advancement of this splendid city by having proper buildings for the transaction of civic business."

The painting is now at the store of A. A. Langford, Richmond street, and if the holder of the ticket calls there it will be delivered to him.

BUILDING PERMITS.—Building has been making slow progress during the last few weeks and unless there is considerable improvement before the end of the month, the total will fall considerably below that of May. A permit was issued to E. Marley today to erect a two-story garage on York street at a cost of $6,000. This made a total of 130 permits for June, involving an expenditure of $167,020, bringing the total for the year to $817,785. The total in June last year was $163,615, and the total for the year to the end of that month was $548,035. The total for May this year was $266,685.

LONDONERS INTERESTED. — A building permit has been issued and work will commence this week on a large up-to-date theatre in Kitchener, for the Independent Theatre Company, Limited. A number of Londoners are interested in the company. The new theatre will be located in the centre of the business section of the city, will be one floor, with seating capacity of 1,400. Modern heating and ventilating will be installed, and the decorations and lighting effects are by the best artists. The building of this theatre is another of the successful ventures of Frank E. Osborn, who handled the Loew's Theatre interests here in London so successfully. It is expected that the Kitchener theatre will be open for business some time in November.

In the past the company has issued free tickets to a number of other citizens. These will be accepted no longer.

LOST AND FOUND

Rondeau Citizen Finally Locates Car Where He Left It.

W. J. Muckle of Rondeau visited London today in his new McLaughlin touring car, which he parked on Richmond street at noon while he went to a local restaurant for dinner. Upon returning to where he thought his car should be, it was missing, and the police were notified. After a search the auto was located at the spot, where he left it. Mr. Muckle explained to the police that he is a stranger to London, and hence became confused in directions when endeavoring to locate his car. He left for home rejoicing that his auto was not stolen.

FUN MAKERS AT LARGE PICNIC

Here they are, all in a row, and they provided a big time for all those who attended the Sherlock-Manning picnic at Port Stanley Saturday.

TORONTO MAN WINS A. AND N. FORD COUPE

A. Crandall Holds the Winning Ticket, 958, Drawn by Mayor Little.

A. Crandall, 122 Russett avenue, Toronto, with ticket number 958, was the winner of the Ford coupe which was raffled by the Army and Navy Veterans of London during the past week. Mr. Crandall said when he received the telegram stating that he was the lucky one: "I was taken by surprise; I never expected to be the owner of a car."

The following is a copy of the letter received by the local branch of the Army and Navy Veterans from Mr. Crandall.

"To the Army and Navy Veterans, London:

"In receiving your telegram of June 26, stating that I was the winner of the Ford coupe raffled by your organization, I may say that I could hardly realize it. I never expected to be the owner of a car, as I am a laboring man, and appreciate it very much. Wishing the boys every success. Yours truly,

"A. CRANDALL,
122 Russett Avenue, Toronto.

The following is a statement of the officers of the Army and Navy Veterans of the city:

"This is to certify that we have this day handed over the Ford coupe drawn by His Worship Mayor Little at Queen's Park, on June 26, to A. Crandall of 122 Russett avenue, Toronto, who held the winning ticket, number 958, and we further wish to thank the citizens of London for their support on behalf of the Army and Navy Veterans' Association. (Signed):

"J. RAWLING, President.
"F. B. LAVENDER, Vice-President.
"A. H. Davis, Treasurer.
"J. A. GLENNIE, Secretary."

Mr. Crandall, who is a carpenter in Toronto, bought his ticket at the I. O. O. F. convention here two weeks ago.

KNOX CHURCH RECEIVES MANY NEW MEMBERS

South London Presbyterian Congregation Growing Rapidly.

Knox Presbyterian Church, of which Rev. A. F. Symington is pastor, received into its membership about 55 new members at the evening service Sunday. A few of these were admitted by profession of faith and represent gains made in enrolling people of the community not hitherto church members.

The great majority were, however, newcomers to the city, from the country and surrounding towns who presented their certificates of membership in out-of-town churches.

EMPLOYMENT IN ONTARIO

In the women's department, applications and re-applications numbered 329, vacancies notified by employers 1,112, and applicants placed 178. For casual work (i. e., jobs lasting less than one week), there were 239 applicants and 326 placements. Largest numbers placed were in domestic and personal service 75, commercial work 47, and arriculture 27.

AUTO STOLEN.

A Ford car bearing license No. 50075, the property of John Silas, 487 Talbot street, was stolen from Queen's Park on Saturday night.

The missing flivver is a five-passenger touring model, and was not recovered by the police up until 2 o'clock this afternoon.

SPRINGBANK PASSENGERS RECEIVE "BOAT" TRIP

Roller Coaster Voyage Handed Out Today by Skipper John Ashton.

Sunday traffic on the Springbank line of the street railway was so heavy that several of the big open cars were put out of commission and ready for the repair shop by the time the sun had sunk in the west.

This morning the passengers were treated to a regular roller coaster trip on old 66, which was in the sere and yellow age when horse cars were colts. The breakfasts of all and sundry passengers were bobbing up and down like a little cork in a heavy sea by the time Woodland Cemetery was reached.

One passengers asked Conductor Ashton to stop the boat so he could die in peace and quietness, but this the genial alderman refused to do, although he was feeling quite faint himself. The Springbank "regulars" were quite indignant over the fact that they not only had to pay increased fares on the line, but should be subjected to all the trials and tribulations of an ocean voyage as well.

GROCER DISMISSED

Magistrate Finds He Is Not Guilty of Selling Adulterated Baking Powder.

A local grocer appeared in police court charged by W. E. Wilson, a Government inspector, with offering for sale adulterated baking powder contrary to the act, and was dismissed. The offence was alleged to have been committed on November 3, 1919, and Wilson stated to the court that the delay in prosecution was due to the fact that the Dominion analyst's report on the goods was held up.

Wilson testified that on the day in question he entered the store and asked for a certain brand of baking powder displayed on a shelf. He purchased three cans. The defendant stated that when Wilson asked for a certain brand he informed him that it was old stock and recommended a newer grade of goods. However, he claimed that Wilson insisted, as a Government agent, that the powder demanded be sold to him, and, fearing arrest, he complied. His father and brother corroborated the evidence.

Accused proved by his books that the three cans of powder were purchased in 1914 and were never offered for sale. It was this point which forestalled a conviction, the magistrate holding that had the grocer desired he could have sold the stock long ago.

"I thought I had to sell it to him as a Government inspector," said the defendant, "but no sane man would buy it on my recommendation."

"It is not the intention of the act," said counsel, "to get the inspector going around making grocers commit crimes."

The magistrate warned the man not to keep such goods on display in his store in future.

"One drunk, $10," was the verdict of the court in the case of a local citizen.

HOD CARRIERS FIRM

the strike so far has been entirely satisfactory.

Some dissatisfaction is alleged on the part of the bricklayers, who are anxious to have the strike of the hod-carriers settled as speedily as possible, but other union men declare that this alleged lack of unanimity on the part of the building trades unions goes really no further than the absence of cooperation between two or more American Federation of Labor organizers. Harry Wray, the organizer, who handled the negotiations for the hod-carriers up to the time of the strike on Saturday, was out of town over the week-end, and Fred Young, who said he had been approached by the bricklayers, disclaimed any connection with the strike.

Later this afternoon the hodcarriers' strike committee claimed that one contractor had already signed the agreement to pay 70 cents an hour, and that two more contractors had intimated their readiness to sign. The strikt committee also reported that altogether fifteen new members had been admitted to the union today, and that there was a prospect of the bricklayers calling a strike in sympathy. A number of bricklayers have already left London in anticipation of trouble, and are working in other towns.

The hodcarriers and laborers will hold a general meeting in the Army and Navy Veterans' clubrooms Wednesday evening.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS

FUNERAL OF MRS. JARVIS.

The death occurred at Upland, Cal., on June 16 of Julia S. Jarvis, aged 69, wife of the late Robert De Witt Jarvis of this city. Mrs. Jarvis was a resident of this city until nine years ago, when she went to California to recover her health. The remains were brought back to his city on Friday, and the funeral took place today from her residence, 63 Elmwood avenue, burial being made in Brick Street Cemetery. Mrs. Jarvis is survived by three sons, Covert E. of Washington, D. C., Dr. Roland D. of this city, Clifford C. of Minneapolic, Minn., one daughter Bertha B., who was with her at the time of her death, also two sisters, Mrs. Kate Branston of Lambeth, and Miss Fanny A. Deadman of this city.

MRS. SARAH McLAREN.

The death took place on Sunday afternoon in Victoria Hospital of Mrs. Sarah McLaren, wife of Jeremiah McLaren, 28 Orchard street, in her 70th year. Mrs. McLaren had been in poor health for some time, but was taken suddenly ill on Saturday afternoon and died Sunday. She is survived by her husband and by three sisters and one brother: Mrs. H. H. Landon, Mrs. Mary Ogden, Miss Ellen Smith and Jacob Smith, all of this city. Mrs. McLaren was connected with Askin Street Methodist Church, and highly respected by a wide circle of friends. The funeral will be held Tuesday afternoon.

FORMER SCHOOL TEACHER.

The death occurred Monday morning of Miss Francis Hannah Buckle, of 387 Dufferin avenue, aged 73 years. Miss Buckle was formerly a public school teacher in this city. She is survived by two sisters, Miss Amy Buckle and Miss Hattie Buckle, and one nephew, Dr. W. B. Dimond of Minneapolis, Minn. The funeral will be held on Wednesday. Interment will be made in Woodland Cemetery. Rev. R. G. Peever will conduct the services.

DERAILMENT AT CROSSING.

As a result of the rail turning on the crossover switch on the Grand Trunk near Clarence street at 9 o'clock on Saturday night, engine No. 490 and a freight car were partially derailed, while another car was totally derailed. The pony truck on the engine was off the track. By 1:30 o'clock Sunday morning the lines were cleared.

SEMINARY APPOINTMENTS

Announced Sunday in the Roman Catholic Churches.

On Sunday a number of changes in the staff at St. Peter's Seminary and in the Catholic churches of Western Ontario were announced. Father Mahoney of Woodstock and Father Pocock of Sarnia have been appointed to the staff of St. Peter's Seminary. Father McNab will take charge at Woodstock and Father Sullivan will take charge at Sarnia. Father Gaffney has been appointed to Stratford. Father Roy goes to Canard River, near Sandwich, and Father Webber will take charge at Hesson. These five appointed have been recently elevated to the priesthood and these are there first charges.

CITY COUNCIL GRINDS LARGE GRIST FOR THE MONTH OF MAY

Twenty-Six Meetings Faithfully Attended.

MUCH CORRESPONDENCE

City Clerk Receives 729 Letters and Sends Out 797 Replies.

While citizens who attend council meetings may gather the impression that life at the city hall is a round of quiet, broken only fortnightly by the assemblage of the aldermen, this illusion is dispelled when the monthly reports of City Clerk Baker are examined. The report for the month of May has just been printed.

It shows that there were no less than 26 meetings during the month. In the four previous months of the year there were 101 meetings, an average of 25 a month, making a total to the end of May of 127.

Opening the mail received at the city offices is no slight task. Seven hundred and twenty-nine letters were received and 797 were sent out in reply to these. In addition to these 375 notices of meetings were mailed. The correspondence concerned such widely separated subjects as housing debentures, brewery taxes, railroad crossings, information about city bylaws, the city of London bill, the G. T. R. reclamation yard and soldiers' tax exemption.

General business during the month in addition to the street railway and London and Port Stanley strike included the appointment of J. G. Richter to assist in the revision of assessment; granting tax exemption to soldiers; presentation of the London bill to the Legislature; purchase of a new gravel pit and application from the City Gas Company for an increase in rates.

Bylaws were passed for local improvements; soldiers tax exemption and to borrow $100,000 for the housing commission. The printing department turned out 778 pages of printed matter.

No. 1 committee passed 162 accounts for an aggregate of $52,651 and No. 2 committee authorized the payment of 171 accounts for $73,479. The housing commission passed 72 accounts for $13,339.

BEAUTIFUL FLOWER GARDEN, LONDON N.

William McNaughton Grows 300 Varieties of Roses.

An innate love for things beautiful and a keen ambition to produce, or help Nature produce, something really worth while has transformed an ordinary back lot in the north end of the city into a charming and attractive beauty spot, a mecca for flower lovers.

William McNaughton of Grosvenor street is a flower-loving enthusiast, some 300 varieties of the world's best roses in his garden prove that. At present they are a riot of color, beauty and fragrance. All gradations of shade and color in roses are there, from purest white to gloriously crimsoned petals almost black. A large bed of polyanthas at the front of the house attracts pleased attention from every passerby. Climbers in great variety, hybrid teas, perpetuals and all are bravely flaunting their beauty.

And pansies—there's heartsease, great beds of it, in self colors, splashed, blotched, spotted and margined in all gorgeous colors, a daily joy to the owner and a delight to the casual visitor.

London's civic flower, the peony, has a goodly representation in the old standards and many of the newer varieties. Old-fashioned perennials—Turk's cap lilies, heliotrope, columbines and clove pinks—peep here and there and scatter the fragrance of sweet old memories.

And there's utility also in this garden, great English gooseberries, currants black and red lettuce, rhubarb, cucumbers and raspberries, till one wonders how much of beauty and use a bit of energy and enthusiasm can produce in the space of an ordinary city lot.

The Horticultural Society flower shows hold great interest for Mr. McNaughton and this week's show in Hyman Hall will have many of his choicest favorites staged for inspection. Roses are exceptionally good this year, and the flower show on Tuesday and Wednesday will undoubtedly be very attractive.

SEPARATE SCHOOL PICNIC TOMORROW

Special Cars To Convey the Youngsters to Springbank.

The children of the separate schools will picnic at Springbank Park Tuesday. Chairman P. H. Ranahan of the school board, assisted by the other members of the board, have made all arrangements for the picnic, and will be in charge of the children at Springbank.

The special cars will leave the following points at 9:30 o'clock sharp:

St. Mary's school, at car barns, Lyle street.

St. Peter's, at Richmond and Kent streets.

St. Michael's, at Maitland and Cheapside streets.

St. Martin's, at Edward street and Duchess avenue.

Sacred Heart and St. Angelas College, at Colborne and Dundas streets.

St. John's, at Ottaway avenue and Colborne streets.

SUSPENDED SENTENCE

George Morris Given Another Chance by Magistrate.

George Morris of this city, who one week ago pleaded guilty in police court to a charge of having drugs in his possession other than for medicinal use, was allowed his freedom on suspended sentence today.

"I will go to work at noon if given a chance," he pleaded. "I have been away from drugs all week."

The prisoner stated that he had worked at his present place of employment for twelve years, and when asked how he became addicted to drugs, said: "I just fell like the rest of them: same as they do for drink."

The court pointed out to Morris the seriousness of his crime, which involves a punishment of one year in prison or a $1,000 fine, or both.

"I will suspend sentence on you and see if you will keep your word," said Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon. "I do not want to discourage you, but remember, this is not a trivial offence."

his statements. Reason for the man's action could not be ascertained.

Every Effort Made.

Every possible effort to prevent improper conduct at city parks is made, General-Manager Buchanan said today in reply to statements made by Rev. Leslie Armitage at St. James' Anglican Church Sunday.

"It is impossible to limit the hours for the use of the parks, as he suggests," said Mr. Buchanan. "Queen's Park is the only one that has fences and gates so that it can be locked up. The police make every effort to keep people out of the parks who should not be there, but the whole police force cannot be used for this work. At Springbank Park, which is outside the jurisdiction of the city police, the parks commission has its own police in uniform.

"I think that a great deal more improper conduct is to be seen in other places than the parks."

Mr. Buchanan also takes the view that the basic cause of trouble of this nature rests with the clergy and not the parks commission. "If the clergy were to educate people to the extent where they would not think of committing improper actions, that would settle the trouble. But until that condition prevails generally, no matter how many restrictive measures are tried, they will not be altogether successful," he said.

ITALY ANXIOUS FOR TRADE WITH CANADA

Importance of Silk and Wool Industry Not Realized Abroad.

The Credito Italiano, Milan, Italy has sent the Canadian boards of commerce the following:

Of Great Importance.

We were rather surprised to note that whilst Canada is buying important quantities of silk and silk goods from France and Switzerland, the Italian market has been almost neglected by your country until now.

Our silk industry is of the greatest importance, our country holding the first place among the silk-producing countries of Europe, the yearly production of raw silk amounting to from five to six million kilograms. Our exports show the following figures for 1919: Raw silk, 861,774,000 litres; piece goods, 256,700,000.

In our opinion it would, therefore, be convenient for Canada to buy directly on our markets, instead of through the intermediary of other countries, and we shall be pleased if you will give this question your due consideration, whilst we from our part remain at any time at your disposal to give you any further information on the matter.

Wool Industry.

Also the wool industry has made considerable progress in our country and increasing its production, there are now in operation more than half a million spindles for spinning wool.

The importance of this industry is, however, not always realized abroad, whilst on the other hand its production has reached a high degree of perfection. This industry might still considerably increase its production if the difficulties of a financial character connected with the supply of raw material could be removed. This might induce to examine whether it would not be convenient for Canadian shippers to send their wool to first-class spinners and weavers of our country who could return same to Canada in the form of yarn and piece goods.

A DANGER SIGNAL—TENDER AND BLEEDING GUMS

Healthy teeth cannot live in diseased tissue. Gums tainted with Pyorrhea are dangerously diseased. For not only the teeth are affected, but Pyorrhea germs seep into the body, lower its vitality and cause many ills.

Pyorrhea begins with tender and bleeding gums. Then the gums recede, the teeth decay, loosen and fall out, or must be extracted to rid the system of the poisonous germs that breed in pockets about them.

Four out of five people over forty have this disease. But you need not have it. Visit your dentist often for tooth and gum inspection. And keep Pyorrhea away by using Forhan's For the Gums.

Forhan's For The Gums will prevent Pyorrhea—or check its progress—if used in time and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's keeps the gums hard and healthy, the teeth white and clean. If you have tender or bleeding gums, start using it today. If gum-shrinkage has already set in, use Forhan's according to directions, and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

DRESSMAKER SAVED FROM OPERATION

By Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in Time.

Ithaca, N.Y.—"Three years ago I suffered from pains in my right side, so severe that I could not raise my feet from the floor. Pains would shoot down my limbs and through my back, and the doctor said I had an abscess. I was in bed two weeks with an icebag on my side and expected any day that I might have to go to a hospital for an operation. A friend came to see me and told me of your wonderful medicine—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I began taking it, and after taking six bottles I feel well and strong, do my own work and do dressmaking for others. I cannot speak too highly of your medicine and recommend it to others who suffer with female trouble. It is a Godsend to ailing women, and you may use my name at any time."—Mrs. PERMILLA HULSIZER, 218 E. Fall St., Ithaca, N.Y.

Women who suffer from any such ailments should not fail to try this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

FISHING CONTEST

Some Would-Be Anglers Wait Sixteen Hours For Bite.

The most successful picnic ever held by the Sherlock-Manning Piano Company employees of this city was that staged at Port Stanley on Saturday. With ideal weather conditions, and a good program of sport in their favor, the merrymakers left London by the 9:20 a.m. train, armed with horns and other noisemakers. Upon arrival at the lakeside a baseball game was played between the old men and the youths, the former demonstrating their superiority by the score of 11 runs to 9. This game was featured by the antics of "Bob" Ellwood, who, despite the fact that he was allowed four strikes and five balls by Umpires Harvey Doherty and Edward Muir each time he came to bat, failed to reach first base.

Following the ball game the employees adjourned to Fraser Heights, where they sat down to dinner beneath the trees. When the youngest kiddie was satisfied, the races and other events on the program were run off. The firm provided all the prizes, ice cream and gum in abundance for the children, a box of chocolates for each lady present, and cigars for the men.

Fishing Contest.

A salient feature of the sports bill was the fishing contest, some of the employees taking up positions on the pier at 5 a.m., and remaining on the job until 9 p.m. without having a bite. The prize for the oldest couple on the grounds was awarded to Mr. and Mrs. E. Kemp, 1054 Florence street, who are aged 76 and 80 years, respectively. The huge success of the picnic was mainly due to the efforts of the executive committee.

During the day numerous clowns in costume, namely, W. N. Manning, Bert Kemp, John W. Jewett, Lloyd Sumner and George Nye, aided and abetted by A. Bull and C. Comber, gulsed as police constables, provided fun for everyone present, their ludicrous actions driving away all signs of the blues. The Sherlock-Manning Band also provided entertainment, rendering an excellent musical program. The attendants at the outing totaled 250. The employees also sat down together for supper.

The Sports.

Following are the winners in the sports:

Boys' sack race—Harold Chowen, W. Bezzo, Clifford Kelly.

Small boys' sack race—Harold Cudmore, John Sherlock, John Ellwood.

Boys' race under 6 years—G. Cudmore, M. Lake, D. Hopkins.

Men's race, 60 years and over—George Bull, R. Barrett.

Coat and shoe race, open—R. Ellwood and Elsie Wonch, W. Hirschleber and Mrs. McFarland, J. Stephenson and Claire Allen.

Toy balloon race, girls—Mrs. Ellwood, Fern Nash, Verna Belbeck.

Blind race, ladies and gentlemen—A. Sasche and Elsie Wonch, W. Hirschleber and Verna Belbeck, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Ellwood.

Relay race, ladies and gentlemen—Mrs. McFarland and Harold Chowen, Elsie Wonch and P. Sasche, Fern Nash and W. Anderson.

Committees' race, three-legged—Love Lake and W. McFarland, Mrs. Sasche and J. Lee, Bell Robson and B. Kemp.

Following is the executive committee, which was responsible for much of the success of the affair: Robert Chowen (chairman), A. E. Sherlock, C. Comber, G. Peacock, W. McFarland, J. Manning, Miss L. Lake, Miss E. Allen, W. Anderson, H. Doherty, P. Heathfield, J. Stephenson, C. Ball, Miss F. Nash, Miss R. Sasche, Miss B. Robson Miss C. Allen, Miss E. Hunter, R. Ellwood, W. Hirschleber, J. Lee, A. P. Light and A. Kemp.

CHRIST CHURCH Y. P. A. PICNICS AT PT. STANLEY

Members of the Christ Church Anglican Young People's Association held their annual picnic at Port Stanley Saturday afternoon, all enjoying a real good time. There were about 60 young people present, including Rev. C. R. Gunne. A good sports program was run off on the hill. After the races the party sat down together to lunch, and then indulged in a friendly baseball game between picked teams, captained by Frank Tucker and Ormie Smith. The former won by the score of 20 to 17, mainly through the excellent pitching of Blanche Roberts. John Wilson favored both sides in umpiring, assuming a "safety-first" attitude.

Following are the winners in the other events:

Ladies' dash—N. Page.

Throwing baseball—N. Page.

Chum race—Erie Parkinson and G. Harris.

Time race—Blanche Roberts, F. Tucker.

Men's dash—W. Lang.

Three-legged race—Blanche Roberts and C. Milligan.

SATURDAY AFTERNOON RECITAL AT INSTITUTE

Although more recitals are to come, the last of the regular Saturday afternoon recitals at the London Institute of Musical Art was held on June 26.

The program was as follows: "Merry Bells," Jean McMullen; "Robin's Lullaby," Jack McMullen; "La Fountain," Genevieve Carmichael; "Prelude and Fugue," Gladys Lowes; "Le Toubillon," Dorothy Watson; "Petite Waltz," Nerissa Downham; "Study," Lucy Harding; "The Publican," Miss Lottie Martin; "Twilight," Kathleen Yeates; "In the Park," Will Baldwin;; "L'Avalanche," Will Baldwin.

The following teachers were represented: Miss Irvine, Mrs. Jordan, Miss Raymond and Miss Burnip.

A warm day with prospect of a picnic ahead, and summer holidays after that, took nothing away from the rendering of the selections, which had been in course of careful preparation for some time.

A recital will be given on Wednesday evening, June 30, by the pupils of Miss Edith Irvine.

STEEL PLANT CLOSES DOORS AT HAMILTON

HAMILTON, June 26.—The Steel Company of Canada will close their entire Hamilton plant on Monday, the president of the company announced today. Shortage of coal and oil for fuel is the explanation. Two thousand people will be affected.

ST. PAUL'S CLASSES PICNIC BIG SUCCESS

Boys' and Girls' Ball Games Features of Affair At Springbank.

The Sunday school classes of St. Paul's Cathedral picnicked at Springbank Park on Saturday afternoon. An excellent sport program was arranged, and with the good weather as an aid everything was run off without a hitch. Rev. Clarence W. Foreman, P. Mitchell, superintendent of the Sunday school, Fred Kingsmill and Charles Sears, the committee in charge of the outing, deserve credit for arranging such an enjoyable affair. The results in the sport events were:

Girls, 6 to 8 years—Madeline Wright.

Relay race, girls, 10 to 17—Winning team, Dorothy Scott, Lucille Scott, May Nottage and Mary Britton.

Sack race, boys—Beverly Mortimer.

Boys, 8 to 12—Alexander Cook.

Running broad jump, boys, 12 to 15—Eddie Hammond.

Girls, 12 to 14—Dorothy Scott.

Three-legged race, boys, 6 to 12—George Scott and Eddie Hammond.

Three-legged race, girls—Lucille Scott and Dorothy Scott.

Girls, 8 to 12—Mildred Warner.

Consolation race, girls — Violet Wright.

Mounted tussle, boys—Ernest Cook and Arthur Rowcliffe.

Tug-of-war, girls—Winning team, Lucille Scott (captain), Dorothy Scott, Marguerite Forbes, Lucy Ford and Kathlyn Eddy.

Tug-of-war, boys—Winning team, Ed Hammond (captain), Billie Rooks, Jack Whitton, Charles Baines and Fred Britton.

Consolation race, boys and girls—Wilfred Shelaw.

Special race, girls—Josephine Loney.

Two baseball games were played, one by the girls, and the other by the boys. Both were picked teams. The scores were too big to mention. At times the games became so exciting that the official umpire, Rev. C. W. Foreman, forgot to jot down the runs.

YOUNGER MEMBERS OF W. C. T. U. PICNIC

A. R. C. and Golden Glove Clubs Unite in Annual Outing.

The A. R. C. and the Golden Glove Clubs, composed of the younger members of the W. C. T. U., united in their annual picnic at Springbank Park on Saturday afternoon. A big sports program was arranged, which was run off after the girls had done full justice to the luncheon provided.

The winners in the sports events were:

Girls under 12—Vera Wood, Ethel Speller.

Girls under 15—Ivy Cotterill, Ivy Martin.

Girls under 20—Elsie Vantassell, Gladys Hill.

Three-legged race—Ivy Cotterill and Irene Speller.

Time race—Hilda Lupson.

Needle and thread race—Irene Speller and Ivy Cotterill.

On Friday the Mothers' Club of the W. C. T. U. picnicked at Springbank Park. About 65 mothers and their children were present. They were not to be beaten by the younger members' clubs, because they, too, had an excellent sports program. The results were:

Three-legged race, boys — Douglas Coleman and Bert Crawford.

Three-legged race, girls—Ivy Martin and Mabel Martin.

Wheelborrow race—John Martin and Mabel Martin, Douglas Coleman and Gertrude Smith.

Open race, boys—Douglas Coleman, Bert Crawford.

Open race, girls—Marjorie Warren, Edith Dudley.

Throwing ball, open—Douglas Coleman, Violet Lupson.

Consolation race—Ivy Martin, Mildred Warren.

The results in the events for the adults were:

Needle and thread race — Mrs. Strangleman, Mrs. Coleman.

Time race—Mrs. Miles, Mrs. Kerton.

Fat ladies' race—Mrs. Everingham, Mrs. Coleman.

Thin ladies' race—Mrs. Strangleman, Mrs. Miles.

Hopping race—Mrs. Strangleman, Mrs. Miles.

Consolation race—Mrs. Everingham, Mrs. Martin.

PRESBYTERIANS HOLD PATRIOTIC SERVICES

The majority of the Presbyterian Churches in the city held a patriotic and flower service on Sunday. The former were held owing to yesterday being the first Sunday before Dominion Day. At the First Presbyterian Church a combined service of the church and school was held. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion. At the morning service the subject of Rev. W. J. Knox's sermon was "A New Canada." Mr. Knox also spoke on the main features of the report of the board of home missions, as given at the last assembly meeting.

The Sunday school classes sang hymns and repeated the Scripture alternately at the morning service.

LONDON BOLT WORKS HOLDS THIRD OUTING

Married Men Win in Baseball —Forging Department Victorious in Tug-of-War.

The employees of the London Bolt Works held their third annual picnic at Springbank Park on Saturday afternoon. About 150 were present. In the baseball game, which proved to be very exciting, the married men defeated the single men by a score of 12 to 7.

The results of the sport events were:

Girls under 6 years—L. Burnette, O. Barkley.

Boys under 6 years—A. Webb, C. Burnette, W. Overton.

Girls 7 to 9 years—J. Roberts, F. Moore, E. Guymar.

Boys 7 to 9—W. Brooks, C. Forsight, J. Overton.

Girls 10 to 12—D. Prodgers, E. Brothers, E. Slatter.

Boys 10 to 12—F. Moore, H. Overton, J. Roberts.

Girls 13 to 15—D. Austin, M. Vary, A. Root.

Boys 13 to 15—D. Horrocks, M. Adair, J. A. Brooks.

Girls 16 to 20—Miss Horrocks, Miss Arbuckle, Mrs. Cambridge.

Boys 16 to 20—E. Lattimore, F. Sollieux, Mr. Robins.

Men 21 to 25—G. Clinton, J. Summers, Mr. Blake.

Ladies 21 to 25—Mrs. E. Cambridge, Mrs. M. Clinton, Miss M. Horrocks.

Men 25 and over—B. Guymer, W. Day, H. Waud.

Ladies 25 and over—Mrs. L. Austin, Miss F. Miles, Miss J. Root.

Men over 50 years—Mr. Brown, A. Guest, H. Roberts.

Single men's race—E. Lattimore, A. Blake.

Single ladies' race—Miss L. Lee, Miss J. Horrocks.

Married men's race—G. Clinton, G. Summers.

Married ladies' race—Mrs. L. Kavanagh, G. Clinton.

Boot and coat race—G. Summers, F. Moore, A. Jones.

Blind pig race—Mr. Clinton, Mr. Clark, Mr. Thompson.

Nail driving competition, ladies—Miss E. Root, Miss Chute, Miss J. Root.

In the tug-of-war competition between the forging and the threading departments, the wielders of the hammer were the victors.

The committee responsible for the success of the picnic was composed of: G. Guymer, chairman; G. Overton, J. Prescott, C. Burnette, B. Guymar, J. Morgan, J. Berry, F. Moore, Mrs. M. Maxwell, Mrs. E. Horrocks, Mrs. G. Gerlock, Mrs. L. Austin, Mrs. C. Chute.

SOMERVILLE PICNIC IS SUCCESSFUL ONE

Office Teams Trim Factory Aggregations in Exciting Baseball Games.

Probably the best organized outing of the season at Springbank Park was the Somerville Paper Box and O-Pee-Chee Gum Company picnic held on Saturday. About 200 attended. The company chartered two Springbank cars for its employees, leaving the corner of Adelaide and Dundas streets at 9 o'clock. They encamped at the west end of the park.

All prizes for sport events were cash. There were 20 different events, including everything from a blind pig race to a biscuit-eating contest. For some reason the office employees seemed to be the best handlers of baseball and bat, for the office girls defeated the factory girls and the office men defeated the factory men. Both games were exciting, but an adding machine would have been necessary to keep account of the errors.

The committees appointed to make arrangements for the picnic deserve great credit for its success. The refreshment committee was composed of the Misses Friend, M. Partridge, Dulsy Horner, Edith Palmer, Cora Clarke, Florence Dixon, Ethel Simpson, Isabel Wyatt, Viola Patterson, Eva Hoyt, Eva Crocker, Dorothy Hutchinson, M. Johnston, Irene Gramlick, Irene Dowdell, Lillian Finlayson, Lillian Hilton, Lillian Grant, Ella Ogglesby, Edna Patterson, Rachel Joyes, Lillia Allen, and Ida Wilmot.

The arrangement committee was composed of J. K. McDermid, president; D. H. McDermid, vice-president; J. G. Tambling, chairman; S. Hudgell, secretary-treasurer; J. S. Gadd, printing; T. Morgan, clerk; J. G. Tambling, announcer; W. E. Knight, starter; W. E. Knight, A. Orr, F. Clift, W. E. Mahon, P. Westman, E. Krebs, and D. Creery, sports; A. Orr, A. Aerson, W. Mathers, Mr. Wright, A. Brown, A. Bryan, A. Post and J. K. McDermid, judges.

FLOUR TAKES DROP OF 50 CENTS BARREL

MINNEAPOLIS, June 26. — Flour dropped 30 cents to 50 cents a barrel at the mills here today. The decline was due to a sharp break in the wheat market yesterday.

Quotations at one representative mill for family patents were lowered to $13.50 from $14 a barrel, and the same grade of flour brought $14.25 at another mill, which price is a decrease of 30 cents a berrel.

FARMERS AFTER SUGAR TRUST, IS TORONTO REPORT

Toronto Newspaper Says the Whole Situation Is To Be Shown Up.

TORONTO, June 26.—United Farmers of Ontario have issued a writ against Medland Bros., wholesale grocers, for damages for failure to deliver to the United Farmers' Co-Operative Company thirteen carloads of sugar at $16.50 per cwt., contract price. The writ has been served.

In connection with this action, the Toronto Telegram today says:

Show Up Situation.

"The farmers are after the sugar trust in Canada.

"The whole sugar situation from coast to coast, according to reliable authorities, is to be shown up, and the inside dealings of wholesalers, refiners and especially the doings of the 'speculators on an immense scale' are to be dragged before the courts of Ontario.

Tons in Store.

"When the case comes to court, it is understood allegations will be aired that the Dominion Sugar Company at Wallaceburg has tons of sugar in store in various buildings in Chatham and Wallaceburg, and that the refinery has been forced to close owing to the fact that there is no place to store the raw material, which is now blocking the yards at that point.

"Furthermore, it is now openly stated that there is an enormous speculation in sugar on this continent by international speculators, who are carrying ample stores of sugar for the public use with the help of London and New York bankers."

EIGHTEEN NURSES AT GUELPH ON STRIKE

Protest Against Doing Work in Kitchen Was Ignored.

GUELPH, June 27.—Conditions at Speedwell Hospital yesterday were in a very unsettled state, owing to the fact that eighteen nursing sisters refued to go on duty because the medical authorities would not make a satisfactory settlement of certain grievances which have been brewing at the institution for some time past.

More than a month ago the nurses registered a complaint to Dr. Alexander, of London, chief medical officer of M. D. No. 1, regarding certain duties which they had to carry out in the diet kitchens, the nurses claiming that the dietitians should attend to the work in the kitchens. They were promised by Dr. Alexander that the matter would be investigated, but as nothing had been done they gave notice of their leaving.

Nurse Dismissed.

In the meantime Miss Mary Poller of Palmerston, one of the nurses, was given her dismissal for refusing to take her turn in the kitchen. Dr. Alexander was immediately notified and was in the city Friday and Saturday. A meeting was held and a settlement arrived at regarding the working in the diet kitchens, but when the nurses asked that Miss Poller be reinstated, the request was flatly refused, so they declined to go on duty Saturday morning. They were later given their dismissal, and the entire staff with the exception of the matron and one assistant packed up and left the institution.

Outside Nurses.

With the assistance of the orderlies, the two remaining nurses attended to the whole hospital on Saturday, and last evening twelve new nurses arrived from London, Toronto and Kingston.

Dr. G. N. Urle, superintendent of the hospital, stated today that more nurses were expected tonight, and he believes that everything will be running smoothly again in a few days. It was anticipated that there would be trouble with the patients, who appeared to be in sympathy with the nurses, but so far little harm has been done.

FLOWER SOCIETY WILL HOLD ROSE EXHIBITION

The London Horticultural Society will hold a rose show in Hyman Hall on Tuesday and Wednesday. The recent peony show was such a success that the directors decided to hold a rose show also, as the roses are at their best now, and there are quite a number of rose enthusiasts in the city.

Mr. John A. Nash has donated a silver cup to be competed for, and to be won three times before becoming the property of the exhibitor. The cup donated by the late Thomas Gillean, now held by Mr. William McNaughton, will be competed for again. In all, there are 28 classes, including roses, peonies, pansies, delphiniums, poppies and other flowers. Citizens having flowers are asked to send them to Hyman Hall on Tuesday morning. All flowers will be sent to the hospitals after the show.

EXPECT NORRIS GOVT. TO RETURN QUITE EASILY

Complex Situation Includes Proportional Representation.

FOUR WOMEN ON BALLOT

In Winnipeg Forty-One Candidates Fighting For Only Ten Seats.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

WINNIPEG, June 27.—Will the Norris Government, which came into power when the corrupt Roblin Government went down to a terrible defeat in 1915, following the exposure of graft and corrupt practices in building Manitoba's new Parliament Buildings, which have cost already eight millions and are now about completed, come back into power following the elections in this province, which are to be held on Tuesday of this week?

It is one of the most uncertain and complex elections ever held in Canada. Keenest experts in political prophecies are puzzled. There seems to be the agreement that the Norris Government will be returned, but by a greatly reduced majority. There were only five in the Opposition in the last Legislature. This year there are 53 seats in the Legislature, and 51 elections will be held, polling in the two northern seats being deferred. Winnipeg will elect ten members under the proportionate system of voting, and there are 41 candidates running for ten seats, representing the Government, the Conservatives, Labor and Independents, with three soldier candidates in the latter list. There are four women among the candidates, the first time the sex has been represented, and the Labor candidates consist of one of the leaders who is in penitentiary, Russell, and five others who are on the prison farm, all for seditious conspiracy arising out of the strike of a year ago.

Tried First Time.

This is the first time proportional voting has been tried in the British Empire, outside of Australia and New Zealand. The splendid record of the Norris Government along the lines of support to schools, good roads, mothers' pensions, establishing hospitals and nursing staffs in outlying foreign settlements, rural credits to farmers (over $1,500,000 having been loaned this year already), industrial conciliation board, and advanced methods of raising loans, have all helped to make friends for the Government.

But in spite of this record, the farmers' movement in certain localities is very strong. It is in this farmers' movement, abetted by the remnants of the Conservative party, which latter consists mainly of farmer adherents of the old regime, that the chief danger to the Government lies. There are really seven parties in the field: Norris Liberals, Laurier Liberals, Conservatives, Great War Veterans, Labor, United Farmers and Ruthenians, the latter a sectional faction of former residents of Austria who want separate schools.

Three Divisions.

The province might be divided into three general sections. Along the southern border is a solid bank of constituencies whch wil return Norris supporters, with the exception of Manitou, where Hon. Robert Rogers sat for years.

The centre party will probably go 60—40 in favor of the Government, Hon. Dr. Armstrong in Gladstone, provincial secretary, being the one in danger. Or perhaps it will go 33—33—33 among Norris men, Independents and Farmers. The northern counties will probably go for Farmers, many candidates being supporters of the Government, although runnings as Independents against the regular nominee of the Government or the sitting member in the last House.

Seats will be lost to Farmers, but the Government will have a good majority, is the confident prediction of its friends. In Winnipeg the Government looks for six seats, Labor for three and Independents one, or one may go to the Conservatives, but the outlook for the last named is not very strong, judging by the attendance at meetings held in the interest of the Conservatives.

One of the latter is W. J. Tupper, son of the late Sir Charles Tupper, Bart, and former premier of Canada. John T. Haig, another candidate for the Conservatives, is very ill following an operation for appendicitis last Friday. Both these men are lawyers. The polls are open from 9 in the morning to 5 in the afternoon, and definite results from all Winnipeg will not be known until the next day.

Clarence Morden dentist is running in Winnipeg as a wet candidate.

DUFF WOULD NOT ACCEPT ENGLAND'S WARCRAFT GIFT

Declares Canada Cannot Afford an Ambitious Naval Policy.

OTTAWA, June 27.—The introduction by the minister of marine of supplementary estimates of $1,700,000 for naval expenditure during the coming year, precipitated a spirited debate which lasted for hours in the oHuse of Commons last night without a vote being reached.

William Duff (Lunenberg) was the principal opponent. He suggested that England's gift of war craft be declined on the ground that Canada cannot afford an ambitious naval policy. He proposed that naval dockyards and establishments at Halifax and Esquimault be turned over to Great Britain. Hon. Rudolphe Lemieux, J. J. Denis and Ernest La Pointe opposed the appropriation, their objections coinciding with those of the leader of the Opposition, who moved that the entire vote be rejected and the House only adopt original naval estimates of $300,000 which was being asked for along with this one.

Progressives Support.

Hon. T. A. Crerar spoke briefly in support of Mr. Mackenzie King's amendment.

Hon. C. C. Ballantyne said he hoped that Canada would adopt a naval policy more consistent with her dignity after the imperial conference of 1921. Meanwhile Canada was committed by the Laurier naval bill of 1910, to the defence of her own shores, and the interim policy of the Government, based on the acceptance of a gift of war craft from Great Britain, required the appropriation of the sum now submitted to the House.

J. E. Armstrong (Lambton) supported the Government.

The debate continued vigorously until midnight, when Fernand Rinfret was about to speak in support of the Opposition amendment, when Hon. W. S. Fielding remarked that it was Sunday morning, and the debate was adjourned.

Tabled Correspondence.

During the afternoon the prime minister tabled the correspondence relative to the resignation of Hon. H. A. Robson last March from the Board of Commerce. The House finally concurred in the Senate amendment to the civil service bill, abolishing a number of holidays hitherto observed in the service because they are holidays of the Catholic Church. An amendment to the franchise act was concurred in by granting the same salary and superannuation allowance as that of a supreme court judge to the chief electoral officer, charged with the administration of the franchise act.

Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King gave notice of an amendment to the act, providing election advertisements in any form appearing in a newspaper shall disclose the name of the person or organization paying for it, and this amendment will be considered on third reading of the bill, which was reported from committee. Estimates for mail and steamship subventions to the amount of $1,294,300.66 were adopted by the House in committee.

An act to validate excess borrowing under the demobilization act, was given third reading.

"IT'S THE GREATEST EVER DISCOVERED"

Mrs. Napoleon Long Declares Tanlac Has No Equal—Is Now Enjoying Splendid Health.

"After my experience with Tanlac, I am ready to believe that it is the greatest medicine ever discovered," said Mrs. Napoleon Long of 1305 DeMontigny street, Montreal, recently.

"I was a terrible sufferer from indigestion," continued Mrs. Long. "After every meal my food would feel like a heavy stone in the pit of my stomach, and for about an hour I would have a persistent nervous cough. I was bilious, too, and my mouth was sore and my tongue was white. I had scarcely any appetite and for more than a month lived chiefly on milk and water. I used to get very constipated, and had most frightful headaches that felt just as though someone was striking me on the temple with a hammer. I lost weight and got so weak that I had to spend entire days on a sofa.

"But I am so different now after taking four bottles of Tanlac. My appetite is remarkable and my digestion excellent. I no longer have that heavy feeling after meals, and the nervous coughing has ceased. I am not troubled with constipation any more and the headaches are a thing of the past. I enjoy restful sleep and get up in the morning feeling fine and dandy. I have recommended Tanlac to many of my neighbors and they, too, have taken it with splendid results."

Tanlac is sold in London by Standard Drug, Limited, and by an established agency in every town.

Murdock Insisted on Action by Borden to Let Board Continue

Long-Awaited Correspondence of Murdock, Borden and Robson At Last Tabled in House, Shows Evasion of Union Government.

OTTAWA, June 26.—(Canadian Press)—Merchants must continue to obey the orders of the Board of Commerce of Canada. Sir Robert Borden informed the House of Commons of this today, when Dr. Michael Steele inquired if retail grocers still came under the requirements of the board in view of the fact that all its commissioners have resigned. Sir Robert pointed out that the resignation of Vice-Chairman O'Connor did not take effect until June 30, and the recommendations of the Government would be passed upon by the governor-general in due course. Until then the orders of the board would stand.

OTTAWA, June 26.—Sir Robert Borden in the House this afternoon tabled his correspondence with James Murdock, leading to the latter's resignation as the last remaining member of the board of commerce, and also the text of the Robson correspondence.

Sir Robert Borden tabled the correspondence relating to the resignation of Judge Robson "in accordance with an order placed before the House by the member for Maisonneuve (Hon. R. Lemieux), and for Pontiac (Frank Cahill). Hon W. L. Mackenzie King inquired if all the correspondence was there. Sir Robert replied that it was.

Sir Robert's letter, in reply to the now famous one in which Mr. Murdock tendered his resignation, reads as follows:

Ottawa, Ont., June 25.

"My Dear Sir:

"I beg to acknowledge your letter of the 24th instant, which reached me this morning after it had made its appearance in the press.

"The necessary recommendation will be made to his excellency, the governor-general, to give effect to your resignation.

"Any further reply to the statements set forth in your letter will be made in the public discussion which will shortly take place in the House of Commons.

"Yours faithfully,

(Signed) "R. L. Borden."

To Fill Vacancies.

The correspondence between Sir Robert and Mr. Murdock opened on June 17, 1920. In a letter to Sir Robert on that date, Mr. Murdock asks whether it is the intention of the Government to fill the vacancies on the board.

He adds that "I would be unwilling to draw salary from the treasury of the Dominion unless it were made possible for the Board of Commerce to carry on effectively and as by law intended."

On the next day, Mr. Murdock wrote to Sir Robert again, in which he refers to a conference with the prime minister on the previous evening, at which, according to Mr. Murdock's letter, Sir Robert suggested that "it would be inadvisable to complete the Board of Commerce by appointment until such time as the privy council had determined the status of the board." Mr. Murdock adds that he could only continue "as a commissioner of the Board of Commerce of Canada on the understanding that the personnel of the Board of Commerce be completed by appointment at once in order that the board may proceed with the many important duties to the Canadian people awaiting its action, and that the board be freed by statute from the control of the Civil Service Commission in the appointments of its required expert assistants or advisers necessary and properly incident to the carrying on of the functions of the board. This would also, of course, include the submission of the necessary estimates to Parliament, such estimates having been placed in the hands of the Government for some time.

"Under any other arrangement than above I would feel that I was not giving to the people of Canada service for compensation received, and, therefore, could not continue to accept salary."

Wrote to Murdock.

On the same day (June 18) Sir Robert wrote to A. R. Murdock the following letter:

"Dear Mr. Murdock.—I have your letter of the 17th instant, and since then I have made a statement in Parliament and further, I have had the advantage of an interview with you at which the whole question was frankly and fully, but not finally discussed. It is my hope that during the coming week I may be enabled to take up the matter further with you.

"Your observations as to the seriousness of the public duty which you have undertaken command both my concurrence and my deep appreciation. I am grateful to you for the service that you have rendered. The task has been burdensome and difficult, but I know that you have given thereto the full measure of your undoubted ability and great earnestness.

"Yours faithfully,

(Signed) "R. L. Borden."

Three Days Later.

Three days later, Mr. Murdock wrote to Sir Robert, forwarding a memorandum in which are outlined the sections of the Board of Commerce act, "which were changed in effect by the revision of the civil service act, which was made effective November 10, 1919." In his letter, Mr. Murdock calls attention to changes proposed in the annual report of the Board of Commerce, "to insure prompt and satisfactory employment of various expert assistants that the board may need for a short time occasionally without the notoriety or delay of going to the civil service commission."

Then comes Mr. Murdock's letter of June 24, in which he resigns his appointment, and Sir Robert's reply cited above.

Robson and Borden

Correspondence over the resignation of Judge Robson as chairman of the Board of Commerce opens with a letter from Judge Robson to Sir George Foster of February 23, 1920, and closes with a letter from J. B. Hugg to Sir George on March 7, 1920. The first letter has already been published. In it Judge Robson tenders his resignation and expresses the view that he is "out of sympathy with the act (the combines and fair prices act), and it is my duty to inform you thereof."

"We restrain and discourage the citizen who supplies food and clothing," Judge Robson adds, "but leave free to profiteer as he pleases the man who deals in non-essentials or luxuries." A letter from Sir George Foster follows, in which Judge Robson is informed that his resignation has been accepted and promising that suggestions made will have Government consideration.

Then comes a long letter from Judge Robson to Sir George Foster, in which Judge Robson replies to the accusations made against him in respect to the Crescent Creamery Company. The letter was written from Winnipeg on March 1, 1920, and is as follows:

Mentioned Many Matters.

"My Dear Sir George.—I thank you for your letters of 25th and 26th ult.

"During the conversation with the other commissioners immediately preceding my retirement, mention was made of several matters. These are an indication to me of the statements made, or likely to be made to you in my absence.

"There are certain circumstances relating to the Crescent Creamery Company case here which are pressed into service against me. I did not sit in the case, because as then stated, my family live here and I was substantially interested in the cause. This is a matter I felt to be of a serious nature. When I was in the public utilities commission I had an amendment passed declaring that I should not be disqualified because of the fact that I was a consumer. This merely shows that the point really weighed with me. In my judicial positions here in the past, where the element of interest was not present, I had administered the law fearlessly and regardless of friend or foe. The law reports show that.

Found By Commissioner.

"Much was made of the fact that there was found by Commissioner Murdock on the desk in my private office a letter sent to me by the solicitor of the Crescent Creamery Company, inclosing a copy of his draft factum in that stated case pending before the supreme court. The sending of the letter was mere thoughtless impertinence. The receipt was as much a surprise to me as to anyone else. I had never suggested such a thing, and, in fact, had previously expressly forbidden the factum be shown to me. I deny emphatically the imputation that I advised in the case.

"At this point let me say that my experience has been that until tribunals of this nature have been supported in their jurisdiction by judgments of our supreme courts, they are not apt to receive the desired respect from the classes affected. It was particularly so in the case of radical enactments, such as that administered by the board of commerce. As a lawyer who had had to study these jurisdictional questions I had doubts as to the validity of certain material provisions, and I felt that until these were cleared away our board was at a disadvantage. I was not the first to raise the question. It had been mooted, I find, long before it occurred to me. I was proceeding judicially and I acknowledge that I hesitated at making orders limiting prices by restricting profits (practically to a certain extent expropriating property), until it was certain that we were on all points justified in so doing. It was this consideration and this alone that led to the suggestion of getting the legal question disposed of.

"To proceed to another matter, I wish to add unqualifiedly, that in no instance was there at any time any imposition of my will upon the other members of the board.

Proposed Tariff Inquiry.

"The proposed tariff inquiry was suggested by me and met with approval. In fact, there was no suggestion of any question, except, perhaps, the fact that the Government had indicated its purpose of appointing a tariff commission. My view was that that fact did not absolve us from the duty of going into the matter under our own procedure. I had no political purpose to serve. My view was that an effective way of reducing the cost of clothing of all kinds would likely be found to be by means of tariff reduction. That may be deferred till exchange is rectified, but subject to that, I believe my theory correct. It was in this connection that the textile inquiries were issued, and that the difficulty in obtaining expert help herein referred to became acute.

"Another point, there was never hesitation on the part of any one at proceedings to hold public inquiries. The board was newly started. The public were looking for public hearings and cost exposures. Had we sat still and proceeded by the silent questionnaire method there would have been an outcry at once. The publicity that was allowed by our investigations was undoubtedly beneficial, and from what I heard on all hands, gave great satisfaction to the consuming public. Any suggestion that I was responsible for inquiring into costs and profits of milkmen, bakers and small retailers, contrary to the wishes of the majority of the board, is absolutely unfounded.

Appointment of Officer.

"I had the view that the appointment of a local officer in every municipality of any size (at the expense of the municipality), (after the pattern of the English system), would be advantageous. Protest against this was made in the board, and the proposal was modified, and, in fact, never went into effect. I acquiesce in the proposal of an inquiry system by means of an expert staff at the office of the board. That would have been instituted more fully but for difficulty in getting staff through the civil service commission. That is a matter easily rectified. I wrote you on the subject. You will, however, remember your warning to us to keep expense of administration down to the lowest possible point.

"I resent as base and false insinuations the statements that I opposed the operation of the law and hampered the board deliberately to kill the act, as likewise, and even more emphatically the charge that I was guilty of duplicity for the purpose of assisting the Government in the defeat of its own measure.

Disclaims Responsibility.

"I disclaim responsibility for the fact that the board was not equipped with staff to enable it to enter into the details of every person and concern in Canada engaged in the production, manufacture or distribution of the necessaries of life. It was impossible for us to undertake that work without men of our own choosing. That was a matter unsolved when I left. The correspondence speaks for itself. There was no other circumstance hampering the work of the board. My absence from time to time did not affect it, as there was an acting chairman, who was quite as familiar with the work of the board as I was. I explained to you in a leter some time ago that the way did not seem clear to me to move to Ottawa, and I virtually put myself in the hands of the Government.

"I take the position that every member of the board should consider the effect of the acts upon every element of the community. The board represents no class. I represented no class.

Capable of Good.

"The acts, while capable of good, are capable also of injury to certain vital interests of Canada. It was the duty of the board to see that harm was avoided, if possible. I never went further than that. I have expressed the view that profit restriction, applied to agriculture and livestock and dairy industries, is liable to retard production at a time when the country urgently needs it. I have also latterly strongly felt the discrimination applied by the act, against certain classes of dealers. To this extent I frankly acknowledge being disinclined to apply the act rigidly. I have thought the system should, in this connection at least, be withdrawn or modified.

"These are, hurriedly, some expressions which I feel should be in your hands.

"I have no intention of entering into personal controversy.

"I did not take the position because I wanted it, but because of the strong demand of some who thought I should do some public service. I was not connected with any interest, and there was certainly no understandings.

"Unless more personalities are to be indulged in, I will be glad to assist by contributing my views, purely in the public interest.

"It is in your discretion to make this letter an official one, if you see fit.

"I am sincerely yours,

(Signed) "H. A. Robson."

Murdock To Foster

On March 3 Mr. Murdock wrote to Sir George Foster submitting the Hugg letter in regard to the factum of the Crescent Creamery Company and an unsigned document addressed to the "Canadian Daily Newspaper Association," in which the statement is made "I am directed by the board of commerce to inform you that the board does not consider that its functions extend to the duty of seeing that specific compliance with its orders is made by the various newsprint companies affected."

Also accompanying Mr. Murdock's letter is a long memorandum headed "Judge Robson's resignation as chairman of the board of commirce," in which Mr. Murdock sets forth his case.

The correspondence closes with a message from Judge Robson to Sir George Foster sent from Edmonton on March 6, and one from Mr. Hugg to Sir George, sent from Winnipeg the day following. Judge Robson protests against the divulgence in any manner of personal letters "sent to me and of any confidential conversations with cabinet ministers or others." Mr. Hugg's communication reads: "I most respectfully but most firmly protest against the publication to you or by you of my private letters addressed to Judge Robson personally, which letters miscarried into unauthorized hands and were illegally copied. These letters and all copies thereof are my personal property and I have the right to restrain and forbid publication thereof. These letters were not invited and were not expected by Judge Robson and publication will place him in a false light and be misleading to all who read them.

HUGG ISSUES STATEMENT IN LETTER

WINNIPEG, June 26.—Declaring that the letter he sent to Judge Robson was neither invited nor expected, J. B. Hugg, K.C., today issued a statement regarding the factum of the Crescent Creamery. Mr. Hugg states that he sent the letter to Judge Robson entirely on his own initiative and without Judge Robson's knowledge or consent.

Judge Robson reiterated his denial of Mr. Murdock's charges in a public statement today, and declared that he had absolutely no connection with any big business. He refutes the declaration that he was one-sided in his judgments and defends his handling of the business brought before the Board of Commerce. His object, he says, was not to set prices that would ruin business, but to control prices that would be fair to the consumer and trader alike. Judge Robson claims that Mr. Murdock's charges were inspired by personal malice.

Gross Perversion.

Judge Robson's statement follows:

"Were it not that there is such gross perversion of facts in Mr. Murdock's letter to the premier, I would utterly ignore his statement.

"The first three of his grounds do not concern me, but they are at variance with any knowledge I have of the facts.

"In the fourth ground he says that I was 'in full sympathy with high prices and against low prices,' and that I so stated in my letter of 23rd of February to Sir George Foster. Look at this instance of Mr. Murdock's treatment of the facts. What I really said was this:

Economic Policy.

"The economic policy of the country should be towards high prices and against low prices. Numerous governmental agencies, at the expense of the people of Canada, are doing their best to get the highest world prices for Canadian produce. In view of this any machinery to reduce the prices of this produce is simply abortive."

"Obviously I was dealing with Canadian producers, farmers and growers of all kinds, raisers of live stock. I was not dealing with manufacturers. The suggestion I was linked up in some way with the manufacturing business is new to me. I have never been able to see any evidence of it."

MURDOCK WILL TAKE BORDEN'S WORD

TORONTO, June 26.—Whether Sir Robert Borden believed that James Murdock was under a misapprehension in regard to the attitude of the cabinet in filling vacancies in the board of commerce does not bother the ex-commissioner in the least.

"Whatever Sir Robert said, I'll take his word for it," he said this morning, "It is only fair to say, however, that he did not take any definite stand in any of the conferences I had with him.

"My letter was very specific, but if he says he did not intend to suggest that the Government would wait for the decision of the privy council before filling in the board, as I said before, I am willing to accept his word for it."

"Did you know that Sir Robert had conferred with his colleagues in reference to the gentleman suggested by you for an appointment?"

"He did intimate that he would like a conference on the matter."

Mr. Murdock said that he had word to go to Cleveland.

"When are you going?"

"Tomorrow evening. But don't worry. Cleveland is only two hundred and eighty-four miles from Toronto. And in case anybody wants me, it won't take me long to get back."

VOTE FAVORS A STRIKE.

Philadelphia, June 28.—Counting of the "cessation of work" ballots signed by Pennsylvania Railroad shopmen was completed today and, according to strike leaders, it showed an overwhelming majority in favor of a walkout.

STOMACH AND LIVER TROUBLE

Once the liver fails to filter the poisonous bile from the blood, there is a clogging up and poisoning of the whole system which causes many troubles to arise. Therefore, upon the liver, more than any other organ of the body, depends the general health.

Carelessness and neglect, and oftentimes wilful disregard of nature's laws will put the system out of sorts. The bowels become constipated, the liver inactive and the stomach upset. To bring the system back to its normal state, you should take Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills. They liven up the liver, condition and tone up the stomach.

Mrs. G. L. Cackett, Enchant, Alta., writes: "I have used Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills and have found them good for both stomach and liver troubles. I have told others about your valuable medicine and they have used them with good results.

"They are also good for headache."

WILL WILSON RUN?

American political circles are in a frenzy over the possibility that President Wilson will permit himself to be offered as a candidate for another term at the White House. Reports from the inside at Washington indicate that Mr. Wilson is more than willing to be approached on the matter. While in New York a few days ago he gave an interview to the press in which he declared that ratification of the Peace Treaty as it stands must be in the Democratic platform when the convention gathers at San Francisco this week. Outside of the president there is no other in sight capable of carrying through Wilson's peace treaty and League of Nations policy. Until his retirement from the field William McAdoo was the only strong candidate in view. With the president's son-in-law out of it there are eleven others who have a chance, as follows:

Attorney-General Palmer, Pennsylvania.
Governor James M. Cox, Ohio.
Governor Edward I. Edwards, New Jersey.
Senator Gilbert M. Hitchcock, Nebraska.
William Jennings Bryan, Nebraska.
Secretary of Agriculture Meredith, Iowa.
Senator Robert L. Owen, Oklahoma.
James W. Gerard, New York.
Senator F. M. Simmons, North Carolina.
Ambassador John W. Davis, West Virginia.
Senator Carter Glass, Virginia.

Until recently the president was not thought of seriously as a candidate for a third session at the White House. McAdoo, it is said, held 395 ballots. It is taken for granted that these delegates, one-third of the convention—would support Wilson. This would give the president a big start towards securing the 728 votes necessary to land the nomination.

The big fight, of course, will be between Bryan and Wilson, or whoever the latter puts up. There is little chance of Bryan getting the nomination, but he still carries a tremendous influence in the party, and may compel the acceptance of a compromise candidate. The convention holds promise of staging one of the most bitter and spectacular political combats of recent years, that is, if Wilson stands or takes an active part in the campaign, as seems probable.

WHAT THE RIOTS SHOW.

After the terrible Londonderry affair no one will seriously hold that Ireland is in a fit state to determine how she shall be governed. The bloody disorders that have occurred in Ulster have surely made it clear that if the British Government withdraws its troops Ireland will at once be given over to sanguinary factional strife. Nothing is plainer than that Unionist, Nationalist and Sinn Feiner cannot get together and peaceably settle their differences. They are irreconcilable. The British Government can do but one thing at the present time, endeavor to establish order in all parts and work out some system of self-government that will eventually secure the support of the various factions.

GERMANY NOT GOING BOLSHEVIST.

The menace to Europe, and thus to the world of Germany going over to Bolshevism appears to be vanishing. Between Russian Boishevists and German Independent Socialists the gulf widens. The German Labor party and the Russian Soviet Government have become estranged by decrees issued from Petrograd limiting workers' rights in Russia. The German Labor party has still on its program "compulsory labor for all able-bodied persons"; but the Russian decrees changing the 8-hour day to a 10-hour day, requiring Sunday work in cases of need, abolishing (according to report) the workmen's court set up to deal with strikes and establishing military courts in their stead—all these things have tended to lessen the enthusiasm of German workers for the present Russian Government.

For the most part, this cooling of affection is without event, but it was marked by Lenine a few weeks ago. The German Labor party voted to join the Third International Socialists, whose headquarters are in Moscow and whose chief is Lenine. The proposed union fell through. The German Independent Socialists have not joined the Third International. Lenine, it is said, refused to admit them. The aversion of the German Labor party to violent revolutionary action is now deepened by the example of Hungary. There, compulsory labor has become the tool of the reactionaries not Socialists. Industrial conscription for coal miners in that country carries the penalty of imprisonment for strikers.

Thus, there seems little danger that the German Labor party will imitate the example of the Russian Soviet revolution unless some unfortunate coup should deliver the supreme power in the German state into the hands of the Nationalist and reactionary groups.

JUNE ROSES.

"Roses and moonsheen and winds from the sea—
A path empearled with dew—"

There is something almost human about roses. They seem to understand our every mood and minister to our varying needs, because they know the language of the heart. They go on so many missions of love, understanding and sympathy, their beauty has taken on a meaning too elusive for description, but so spirituelle and arresting that it cannot be passed unnoticed or leave the beholder with heart unquickened.

"When a man can look upon the simple, wild rose and feel no pleasure," said Henry Ward Beecher, "his taste has been corrupted." Even if one's eyes should be dreaming, the haunting fragrance of a hedge of wild roses awakens the senses like half-forgotten memories and brings to the heart a wistfulness almost pain, that lurks in the realization of all beauty. One inhales the perfume of the rose as if its inexhaustible well of sweetness, the most wonderful of all odors, sweet with an unforgettable tang that leaves one forever unsatisfied, were necessary to life itself. And one looks into the glowing heart of a rose as though with a last look, such is the yearning its beauty and fragrance awaken.

Summer comes laden with roses, and they fall with lavish beauty from her fingertips with wonderful shades in their curled petals, of flush pink, pure white, deep wine, warm crimson, with occasional glimpses of golden stamens set deep in their hearts. The first roses of summer are those of delicate gold set in foliage of briar fragrance, sweet as those of the wildwood; then following closely come the marvels of all budded beauty-awakening roses, with wonderful tints in their heart-shaped petals. Slowly, dreamily, they unfold like so many hidden wishes, in the dawn sunshine, to greet the early wanderer in the garden.

One could almost imagine a loneliness among the roses secluded in gardens, so much do the "roses for everybody" in our parks attract the quiet worship of passers-by. Drenched in June sunshine, they cluster in lowly beauty, safely guarded by straying rambler roses, in great beds at the north entrance of Victoria Parks, and are just coming to profuse perfection at Springbank.

"Under the Rose—sub rosa," a saying still in use, originated from the use of cut roses in the banquet halls of ancient Rome, meaning that all under the rose at the festive board pledged secrecy as to what was seen and heard. It would seem fitting and beautiful still as a pledge of confidence between friends to leave the promise with the rose, so lovely, so mysterious, so undefinably sweet it is. Take up an old book, turn its leaves idly, and find, perchance, scattered rose-petals, or briar-leaves, placed there because someone loved and someone remembered, and with the faint but still lovely fragrance comes a feeling of intrusion upon something sacred and set apart. Memory's potpourri has been awakened by straying fingers. "There is living friendship given by roses—outwardly they die, but in the heart they live forever."

NEW NOVEL BY MISS WILSON.

"The Forging of the Pikes," is a new novel from the pen of Anison North, who is none other than Miss May Wilson of the editorial staff of the Farmers' Advocate, and president of the London Women's Press Club. These facts alone should give this book special prestige among the lovers of good books in London, and the fact that the romance is woven about the thrilling scenes of the "Rebellion of 1837" will insure the eager interest of all Canadians. The viewpoints of "Rebels" and "Tories" have been honestly shown, as the author states has been her purpose, and the political struggles of so many years ago hold all the interest and contention of politics of today and reveal the truth spoken by the hero that "the public man who is likely to be of greatest use to the world must be the one who has gone through the greatest number of experiences." The love interest is strong and beautifully appealing, with its wildwood trysting places, described with the touch of a poet, its faithfulness in the face of great mystery and its unfailing constancy on the part of the hero when he faces the facts of the separation from his sweetheart of the "Golden-Winged Woods," his "Wild Rose Woman, withdrawn, proud and mysterious." There is not a dull moment in the story nor one word of unnecessary detail, and the reading of it strengthens the loyalty one feels to the author's quiet charm of narrative, so popular in her previous novel "Carmichael."

GERMANY AND BRITAIN.

[London Daily Mail.]

When Germany has filled out her enfeebled body again, young Frenchmen will do well to set their affairs in order, for another war will be in sight. In that war the Germans hope that we shall not take part. They bitterly regret now that they ever forced a quarrel on us. They hope that we shall soon be friends with them. This sounds extraordinary to us, but it is easy for Germans to entertain this hope, because they have no feeling of shame for anything that has happened, and they simply do not grasp the British attitude of mind on this subject. "It's all over now," they say genially. Their feelings toward England have entirely altered since the armistice. There is no hatred of Great Britain now; in its place there is a strong sentiment of grudging, envious admiration. But it is a base kind of admiration, founded moreover on false conceptions. Germans admire us because they believe we have "wangled" everything our own way. They credit us with all their own self-seeking, their reckless disregard of international honesty. The inevitable and often burdensome additions of territory that have come to England as a result of the war appear to them the fruits of deep-laid, Machiavelian British scheming. It is really amusing to hear a German's acid praise of this fictitious England that he has evolved from his own jaundiced imagination.

BENEFICIAL INFLUENCE OF WOMEN.

[La Patrie.]

One reason why women ought to be given the right to exercise the municipal franchise in Montreal is that in the past a restriction of the suffrage to men has not, in practice, given the good results we had a right to expect. For upwards of two years Montreal has been governed by a commission named by the provincial government, because the city electors cannot elect administrators who are qualified men of probity. Whatever system of government the charter commission may decide to give us next year, there will always be a danger of falling back into the old rut, unless some radical change is made in the manner of election. On this point the suggestion has been made to partially restrict the right of voting to property owners, but that would be contrary to the recognized democratic ideas of universal suffrage. Would it not be better to extend the vote to women, who would bring into the election of city administrators a new element which would counteract the tendency to error that has done so much harm in the past?

PITY THE AUTHORS.

[Kingston Whig.]

No people on earth, not even the folk who built the Tower of Babel, ever spoke so diversely, or expressed themselves in such a multiplicity of forms, or read so much and so confusedly, as the people of both Canada and the United States. No people ever lived so fast, in literature as in life. Our reactions flash and pulsate from one end of the continent to the other in a continuous, blurring chain. There can be no permanence about impressions so fleeting. Of those who choose to write for their own day alone, few will last longer. On the other hand, those who choose to write for posterity won't be read at all.

From Here and There

A GOOD OMEN.

[Kingston Whig.]

Improvements in train service are already following the taking over of the Grand Trunk by the government. The public are likely to receive other benefits in due course.

MUST HAVE THE GOODS.

[Indianapolis News.]

What the advertiser must have if his success is to be lasting is the confidence of the public he serves. It is easy to find an expert handler of words who can prepare an advertisement. He may utter his appeal so attractively that money will be persuaded to go from the pockets of readers into those of the advertiser. But unless the matter in the advertisement is found to be the truth, the advertiser is damaged by his temporary success. When confidence is lost, all the space available and all the lure that expert copy writers may dangle forth will not get business.

A HUMILIATING SPECTACLE.

[Brantford Expositor.]

The Borden Government has scuttled its naval policy so completely that nothing is left of it, and is reverting to the Laurier naval scheme, which was agreed to by both parties unanimously in 1909. It is rather a humiliating spectacle, but it is never too late to mend, and it is better to mend than to persist in a bad course.

ONE GUESS.

[Kitchener Telegraph.]

The rains of the past week have been termed "Million dollar rains." Does that mean millions of dollars more for the producers or the consumers?

UNIVERSAL REGRET.

[Philadelphia Record.]

The rumor that a Belgian, gaining admission to the Doorn house by a false pass, hit the Hohenzollern on the jaw cannot be confirmed. This will occasion universal regret.

CANADA'S CENTURY.

[Stratford Beacon.]

"Canada will be the Mecca of the world before many years," says Mr. John McE. Bowman, head of a great New York hotel syndicate. "Much as I admire the United States and everything American," he states, "my opinion of Canada is better. Its vast resources are unscratched, and it has an exceedingly fine class of people. It is marked by clean British sportsmanship and go-aheadness, and it won't be denied that it is the coming country of the world." These are pleasing words from an outsider, and his judgment is the sounder because he is reported to be a widely traveled man, capable of drawing well-founded comparisons between countries. It would be well if he could communicate some of his enthusiasm to certain Canadians who are inclined to take a pessimistic view of things in general. "The twentieth century belongs to Canada," Sir Wilfrid Laurier said years ago. We are but at its beginning, and, although there may be temporary depressions, all signs point to the approach of an era of progress and development of great magnitude, and with the assistance of advanced science and modern methods, the country's progress may set a new record in achievement.

A FAMINE IN MINISTERS.

[Toronto Telegram.]

Nearly every denomination reports a shortage of young men offering for ministerial work.

When it is almost impossible to hire bricklayers and carpenters, who command the highest wages and work the shortest hours, it is not remarkable that there should threaten a famine in ministers.

Judged from a worldly standpoint, few callings have less to offer than the ministerial profession. That it is possible to fill vacancies and "carry on" is evidence that there are people who still believe in laying up trasures in the place which is proof against thieves.

BACHELORS.

[J. D. McMaster in Judge.]

Bachelors are the rubber tires on the wheels of civilization; they are as necessary to socity as scandal. Imagine a house party without a bachelor—or a christening; bachelors are godfathers and godsends. Bachelors are not merely unmarried men; they are men who are at once unmarried and eligible; old enough to be interesting, but young enough to be considered by fond mothers; rich enough to support a wife, but who prefer to help support a club; in fine, they are men who only remain unmarried by grace and their own superdeveloped powers of self-preservation. They love women and freedom—any they have strength of will enough to choose the latter. A perfect bachelor is good-looking enough to make a jealous husband uneasy, and yet not so handsome that other men despise him.

The hazards of the game of love are all against the bachelor, hence only the fittest survive. Therein lies the zest. If a bachelor accepts one invitation too many, if he holds a hand one instant too long, if he dares the moon once too often, he is gone. He will be married in spite of himself, for women think only of marriage. So the true bachelor will carefully nurse his flame through the degrees of infatuation—the polite period, the attentive period, the pre-climax. He will send notes, then candy, then flowers, finally a puppy. Then he will stop. Suddenly he will fade away, for after a puppy the only logical gift is a ring, and the only safety is in flight.

SOME INCREASE.

[Brantford Expositor.]

Two cents more a pound is to be added to the price of sugar just at the beginning of the canning season. There appears to be no end to speculation and monopolistic combine in the price of sugar, which has already increased about 400 per cent since the war began.

POLITICAL GOVERNMENT.

[Kingston Whig.]

In his address at the annual meeting of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, President T. P. Howard contrasted group government with the party system strongly favoring the latter. The reasons he gives for this decision will appeal to many readers as fundamentally sound. The separation of elected representatives of the people into groups, which has been in existence in Europe for some years, shows signs, he points out, of being introduced on this continent, where up to the present time the two-party system of government has operated. If a parliament is made up of a group of farmers, another group representing labor, another group representing retail and wholesale trade, another group representing transportation, etc., it may be difficult to carry on government without considerable intrigue and friction. Under the old system of government, with all its faults, the members of a party were held together by a common belief in one principle or policy. Under the group system of government each group, according to experience, pursues very persistently those objects which are of peculiar interest to the group. There is also a constant shifting of alliances among the groups. Under such a system stable government would seem to be next to impossible; and stable government is needed in this country now more than ever.

NOTHING TO PREVENT.

[Montreal Gazette.]

J. Harry Flynn, organizer of the Grand Army of United Veterans, declares that returned soldiers should be in parliament, and that a returned soldier should be elected premier. In reply to which it may be said there are some returned soldiers in parliament, and there is now law preventing other returned men from being candidates in any and every constituency. Whoever secures the majority of the votes in a district duly becomes the representative. It is a simple and eminently fair system. All a man has to do is to come out and convince the public of his worth and good intentions.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTES.

[Hamilton Spectator.]

The late Sir George W. Ross builded better than he knew when he organized the Women's Institutes throughout the province. At that time there was no outlet for the activities of the farmers' wives except the church, and somehow or other this did not give them the opportunity needed to broaden their vision or engage in work outside their homes and fireside. The institutes gave this opportunity, and it was not long before the women saw the advantage that was placed within their reach, and in course of time these institutions became the vehicle through which they could get together and work together for the good of themselves and their families and for the general uplift of the community. There is scarcely a municipality that has not a institute, and they have been of untold benefit to the rural women.

Poetry and Jest

COMMEMORATION ODE.

[Written for the dedication of the memorial arch erected to the memory of our fallen heroes, the opening of the public park, and the centennial celebration of Lobo Township.]

Brave hearts that toiled a century past,
And felled the forest trees,
We keep for you this rare June day!
Our council so decrees.

We mention with your noble deeds,
And all that you begun,
Those brave young lads who died in France,
Defending what you won.

We've reared these pillars, strong and firm,
To hold their deeds in trust;
Yet know their lives will live in lives,
When they are turned to dust.

More lasting than the granite rock,
Enduring more than brass,
Heroic souls triumphantly
From tortured bodies pass.

You made a name for Canada,
The records all attest;
Our soldier boys were found among
The bravest and the best.

A brave deed never dims or dies,
Or done in war or peace,
And so we pray that from this day
All wars and hates may cease.

It is for this our brave boys died,
Or else they died in vain:
No honest soul would wish to see
Such holocaust again.

Let love grow from the blood-drenched soil,
And spread o'er all the earth;
And let the sweet Christ-Child of Peace
In every heart have birth.

The great good God who owns the earth
Has waited, waited long,
To hear all nations sing as one
Love's holy, holy song.

Take up the heavenly strain once more,
So sweet where Jesus trod,
"Of peace on earth, good-will to men,
And glory unto God."

—Edgar M. Zavitz.

MUST BE A LAWYER.

"Yes," said the man who was proud of his library, "whenever I find one of my books with a torn leaf, I put it through a legal process."

"What legal process?" his visitor asked.

"I have it bound over to keep the piece."

THE GREEN LINNET.

[Wordsworth.]

Beneath these fruit trees boughs that shed
Their snow-white blossoms on my head,
With brightest sunshine 'round me spread
Of spring's unclouded weather,
In this sequestered nook how sweet
To sit upon my orchard-seat!
And birds and flowers once more to greet,
My last year's friends together.

One have I marked, the happiest guest,
In all this covert of the blest:
Hail to thee, far above the rest
In joy of voice and pinion!
Thou, Linnet! in thy green array . . .
Dost leave the revels of the May;
And this is thy dominion. . . .

Amid yon tuft of hazel trees,
That twinkle to the gusty breeze,
Behold him perched in ecstasies,
Yet seeming still to hover;
There! where the flutter of his wings
Upon his back and body flings
Shadows and sunny glimmerings
That cover him all over.

My dazzled sight he oft deceives,
A brother of the dancing leaves;
Then flits, and from the cottage-eaves
Pours forth his song in gushes;
As if by that exulting strain
He mocked and treated with disdain
The voiceless form he chose to feign,
While fluttering in the bushes.

IN THE MIDST OF ALARMS.

"All right back there?" called the conductor from the front of the car.

"Hold on," came a feminine voice. "Wait till I get my clothes on."

The entire carfull turned and craned their necks expectantly. A girl got on with a basket of laundry!

I HAVE A RENDEZVOUS WITH DEATH.

[Alan Seeger.]

I have a rendezvous with Death
At some disputed barricade,
When spring comes back with rustling shade
And apple blossoms fill the air—
I have a rendezvous with Death
When spring brings back blue days and fair.

It may be he shall take my hand
And lead me into his dark land,
And close my eyes and quench my breath—
It may be I shall pass him still.
I have a rendezvous with Death
On some scarred slope of battered hill
When spring comes round again this year
And the first meadow-flowers appear.

God knows 'twere better to be deep
Pillowed in silk and scented down,
Where Love throbs out in blissful sleep,
Pulse nigh to pulse, and breath to breath,
Where hushed awakenings are dear.
But I've a rendezvous with Death
At midnight in some flaming town,
When spring trips north again this year,
And I to my pledged word am true,
I shall not fail that rendezvous.

AND HE KNEW IT!

"You're a dear," said wifey as the loving husband handed over the weekly pay envelope.

"Slight mistake in zoology, my dear," he returned. "You mean a goat."

A PRODIGAL.

[E. Pauline Johnson.]

My heart forgot its God for love of you,
And you forgot me, other loves to learn;
Now through a wilderness of thorn and rue
Back to my God I turn.

And just because my God forgets the past,
And in forgetting does not ask to know
Why I once left His arms for yours, at last,
Back to my God I go.

SUITING HIM.

New Knight—Coat! Put me down for the 'ole suit—I can afford it!

UNSUNG.

[From "Night Moods," by "L. E. D."]

The light lay on the lilac tree
And touched the lake with filtered gold;
The lark soared gaily, fancy-free,
High o'er the billowy, gorse-strewn wold.
The shepherd watched its singing flight,
And in his heart a tune unsung
Found silent voice. From dawn till night
It kept him gay, it kept him young.
Through changing years, through winter's chill,
In death it shall be with him still.

SETTLING THE TRAM FARE.

[Manchester Guardian.]

Going home on the tram on Sunday last, writes a correspondent, I tendered to the conductor 6d. for a 3½d. fare. He handed me the ticket, then proceeded to count the change. "One, two" (rumbling in his bag for a half-penny), "Sorry, miss, but I haven't got a ha-penny. Have you?" Unfortunately I hadn't, so both of us were at a loss. "Oh, well," said the guard, "I'll toss you for it." "Head," I said, and I won. It should be explained that I am not a bit "sporty" looking, and was returning from church.

FIRST INDORSEMENT.

"Louis got a notice today from the war department that he had been killed in France."

"What did he do about it?"

"Wrote back at once telling them to do nothing farther until they heard definitely from him."

TELL THEM BOTH ONE.

As Mrs. Lushington tossed to and fro one night the clock struck three, and the voice of a little child came plaintively from a crib:

"Mamma!" it said.

"Yes, love."

"Mamma, I can't sleep. Won't you please tell me a fairy story, mamma, dear?"

"Wait, my love," said Mrs. Lushington. "Your father will soon be home now and he will tell us both one."

QUITE WELL, THANK YOU.

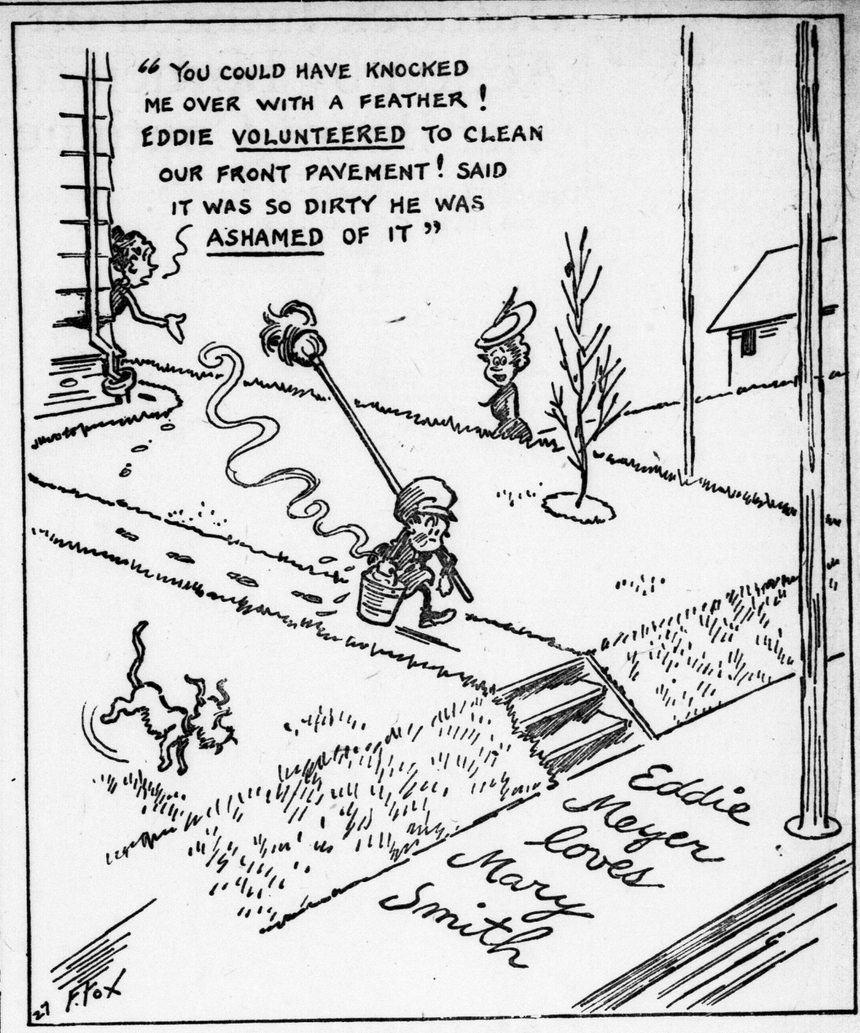

A young Scottish recruit was put on guard outside the general's tent.

In the morning when the general looked out, he said to the young Scot in a stern voice:

"Who are you?"

The young soldier, turning smartly, replied:

"Fine, sir, thanks. Hoo's yersel'?"

NURSES PICNIC AT SPRINGBANK PARK

Auction Sale Nets Money For Sick Children's Hospital.

About 65 sat down to supper in the pavilion at Springbank on Saturday, when the Victoria Hospital Nurses' Alumnae held their annual picnic there. The tables had been gaily decorated with flowers for the occasion and among the honored guests were Miss Stanley, head of the hospital; Miss McIntosh from Woodstock, Miss Summers of St. Thomas, Miss Whiting of Cornwall and Mrs. Leslie Jones of Thamesford. The convener of this most sucessful picnic was Miss D. Hutchison, who was assisted by Miss Mortimer and a strong committee.

A fine program of sports was included in the day's happenings, the results being as follows: Married women's race, Mrs. Eyre; single women's race, Miss Hanson; three-legged race, Miss McMillan and Miss McLausland; back-to-back race, Mrs. Eyre and Miss Wood; thread-the-needle race, Miss Lipsit. Perhaps the most interesting feature of this part of the program was the auction sale, at which a pretty vase was sold at $2.72 to Miss Whiting of Cornwall, and two pounds of sugar went to Mrs. Ross Thomas for $1.05. The proceeds of the auction sale go to the fund of the Sick Children's Hospital.

WEST LAMBTON W. I.

The West Lambton District Women's Institute, comprised of fifteen branches, have elected the following slate of officers for the 1920 term of office:

First vice-president, Miss Grant, Cortunna; second vice-president, Mrs. Daisety, Sombra; third vice-president, Mrs. Cummings, Dawn; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Nell Grant, Becher. Forty-eight members attended the morning session and sixty-five the afternoon.

WROXETER W. I.

A well-attended garden party was held in Wroxeter Park recently under the auspices of the Women's Institute. The Wingham band was in attendance and an interesting football match took place between the Salem and Fordwich teams, the score being 1—1. The net proceeds of the evening, which will go towards the building of a rink, amounted to $150.

FOREST W. I.

The Women's Institute of Forest received a visit from the Sumner delegate and Government representative, Mrs. Lowe of Toronto, at their June meeting. Mrs. Lowe, who is a fine lecturer and has been superintendent of two different hospitals, was able to give many new ideas to this branch. The Institute and Its Possibilities" was her subject.

A delegation of Forest women leave on Thursday next for Watford to attend the district meeting of the Women's Institute there.

LONDON TOWNSHIP GARDEN PARTY.

The Zion Ladies' Aid held a very successful garden party on the lawn of John W. Guest of London township. A very attractive program was given, the proceeds from the booth and tables amounting to $226.75.

SILOAM GARDEN PARTY.

The Siloam Church garden party will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harris Dickey on June 30.

WHAT'S IN A NAME

CLEMENTINA.

Clementina had its origin in ancient Rome. Clemens was a cognomen and was borne by Vespasian's nephew, Titus Flavius Clemens, who was put to death by Domitian on a charge of Theism, like others who went over to Christianity. A very early church at Rome is dedicated to him, and he is thought by some to be the same Clemens which St. Paul mentions.

Clemens, taken as a Latin adjective, signifies "merciful"; from it the substantive Clementia came to be formed. The Romans worshiped Clementia, the personified virtue, as a goddess, bearing a cup in one hand and a lance in the other, and the title "Your Clemency" became the mode of addressing emperors. In England and France, Clementina is probably the direct outgrowth of the legend of St. Clements, who was martyred by being beheaded and thrown into the sea where a shrine of coral was formed round his head. He is the patron saint of sailors. Italy modernized the early Roman goddess by calling her Clemenza, and Germany is responsible for Clementine. The charming Clementina is the English version. It gained great vogue and achieved widespread usage in honor of the Italian lady in "Sir C. Grandison."

The turquoise is Clementina's talismanic stone. It will protect her from all dangers, particularly from accidents while riding and walking, according to an old legend. If she sees the new moon reflected in its surface, she will have extreme good luck. Monday is her lucky day and 3 her lucky number.

SOCIAL and PERSONAL

TELL IT TO THE SOCIETY EDITOR.

Mr. and Mrs. George MacGregor of King street have returned to the city after a brief trip.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Dobinson have just returned to their home in Houston, Texas, after a very pleasant visit with their daughter in this city.

Master Clifford Dempster, son of Dr. and Mrs. Dempster of Detroit, is visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. S. Taylor of Dundas street east.

Mrs. Angus Morrison will receive informally at her new home, 81 Ridout street south, on Wednesday afternoon, June 30. Her sister, Mrs. (Dr.) Dempster of Detroit will receive with her. Dr. Dempster was at one time connected with the editorial staff of The Advertiser.

Through an error, the Y. W. C. A. garden party, to be held in the beautiful grounds of Lieut.-Col. A. M. Smith, 75 Wortley road, was announced for Tuesday afternoon, instead of Tuesday evening, June 29, from 7 until 10 o'clock. The McClary Band will be in attendance and an excellent program, provided by Mrs. Alice Henderson, her juvenile entertainers and members of the "Y" clubs.

PAINE—WALTON.

Miss Edna Walton, youngest daughter of Mr. Henry Walton of Harrow, was quietly married to Mr. Charles Paine of Strathroy recently, the Rev. C. R. Durrant officiating at the ceremony. Previous to the wedding a shower of linen was tendered the bride by her young friends.

NICHOLS—GILBERT.

A very quiet wedding was solemnized at St. Paul's Cathedral on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, when Ruth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Gilbert, Maple street, was united in marriage to Mr. Archibald Nichols of Toronto, the Rev. Dean Tucker officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Nichols left immediately after the wedding for Toronto, where they will reside.

YOUNG—BURGE.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Burge, Dereham, was the scene of a very pretty wedding at 1 o'clock on Wednesday when their daughter, Ethel Emeline, became the bride of Harry Young, also of Dereham, formerly of Ingersoll. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. T. M. Murray of Verschoyle, in the presence of about 75 guests. The bride, who was prettily attired in white satin with pearl trimmings, wore a veil caught with orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of bridal roses. The bride and groom were unattended with the exception of little Miss Ethel Best of Dereham as flower girl and Master Herman Charlton of London as page. The groom's gift to the bride was a rope of pearls, to the flower girl a pearl ring and to the page a signet ring. Following the ceremony a sumptuous repast was partaken of and congratulations offered. Mr. and Mrs. Young will reside on the second concession of Dereham.

YORKE—KAY.

An unusually pretty marguerite wedding took place on Thursday, June 24, at 2 p.m., at the home of W. S. Yorke, 288 Pacific avenue, Toronto, when Miss Marguerite Kay was united in marriage to Grant Yorke.

The bride wore a white French silk crepe gown, embroidered in gold, and the groom's gift, an emerald and pearl necklace, carrying a shower bouquet of Russel roses, she entered the drawing-room on the arm of her father, Rev. W. Malcolm Kay, who officiated, assisted by Rev. D. T. McKerroll.

The bride's sister, Miss Ruth I. Kay, acted as maid of honor. She was simply gowned in yellow silk crepe, beaded in jet, with large black picture hat, and wore the groom's gift, black jet beads. She also carried a bouquet of sweet peas. After the ceremony a dainty buffet luncheon was served, and the happy couple left amid showers of confetti for Detroit and other points.

DRIVER—SINCLAIR.

The home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Sara Sinclair, Duart, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Wednesday, June 23, when her youngest daughter, Effie L., became the bride of Mr. James L. Driver of Palmyra. The marriage ceremony was performed under an arch of evergreens, orange blossoms and ferns, by Elder J. B. Stanson of St. Thomas.

The bride was attired in a pretty frock of cream charmeuse and georgette crepe, trimmed with beads, wore the conventional veil and orange blossoms, and carried a beautiful bouquet of Ophelia roses. She was attended by her little niece, Miss Mary C. Kerr, who acted as flower girl and ringbearer, the ring being hidden in a basket of sweet peas and ferns.

After the ceremony the guests, who numbered about thirty, repaired to the dining-room to partake of a wedding breakfast, the dining-room being decorated in pink and white.

The groom's gift to the bride was a beautiful sunburst of pearls and to the flower girl a pretty topaz ring.

The young couple left for Toronto and Niagara Falls. The bride traveled in a suit of blue tricotine, with georgette crepe blouse and hat to match. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Driver will reside on the groom's farm at Palmyra, and will be at home to their friends after August 1.

Among the out-of-town guests present at the wedding were Mrs. Margaret Graham of London, Mrs. Peter A. Campbell of St. Thomas and Miss Effie Campbell of Lobo.

FURTNEY—CHUTE.

A very pretty house wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Chute, Ingersoll, Wednesday, June 23, at high noon, when their second eldest daughter, Olive, was united in marriage to Mr. Charles Furtney of Crampton, in the presence of nearly 100 relatives and friends. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. Wesley Bean of Dereham Centre. To the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March played by Miss Myrtle Kelso of La Salette, the bride, charmingly dressed in white satin trimmed with duchess lace, pearls and crystals, and carrying a shower bouquet of bridal roses and white carnations, entered the parlor on the arm of her father, through an aisle formed with white ribbons held by four ribbon-bearers, girl friends of the bride, all in white, and took her place beside the groom beneath an arch of evergreens and orange blossoms, banked with ferns and white peonies.

Miss Florence Furtney, sister of the groom, dressed in white and carrying a bouquet of pink carnations, made a very charming bridesmaid, while little Miss Lela Chute, sister of the bride, looked very pretty dressed in pink silk, and carried a basket of flowers. The groom was assisted by Mr. Clarence Chute, brother of the bride.

After the ceremony a buffet luncheon was served in the beautifully decorated dining-room, four intimate girl friends of the bride, all in white, assisting.

Artistic decorations of white, pink and green were in evidence throughout the entire house. Guests were present from Clinton, Strathroy, Aylmer, London, Detroit, La Salette, Iona and other points.

Mr. and Mrs. Furtney left for points east, the bride dressed in a traveling suit of navy blue serge, her shoulders graced with a white marabou fur, and wearing a picture hat of white lace and blue satin. They left amid showers of confetti and good wishes for Galt and other points. On their return they will make their home on the groom's farm near Crampton.

TALKS ON HEALTH

A Little More Oxygen.

The same blood, the same nervous system, and the same diseases concerned with the lungs and liver are concerned with the brain and the feet.

A tailor is as well qualified to diagnose and prescribe for lung or liver trouble as a milliner is to prescribe for a disease of the brain, and a shoe dealer compares favorably with either of these other specialists in his ability to diagnose and treat the ailments of the feet. Thus far, however, the milliners and the tailors are a trifle slow in grasping the golden opportunity to serve the gullible public as head specialists and trunk specialists. They should ask the shoe store "foot specialist" for a few pointers in this profitable game. There is no reason why some authoritative manufacturer of near-woolen cloth should not issue a six-lessons-by-mail course, in say, torsopractic, and, when the clothing salesman has conned the lessons well, grant the young man a beautiful diploma to hang in the store for the delectation of the simp trade. Likewise, there are many bright young women working seven or eight long hours at the millinery trade who should be assigned to take some hatter's course in beanopractic and earn a gold-seal diploma wherewith to decorate the shop and prove to credulous customers her ability to prescribe for their head troubles. It is a great life, but some of us are not getting all we might out of it. I offer this hint to the clothiers, hatters and haberdashers freely and without any strings. I should be pleased to undertake the preparation of convincing and extremely plausible advertising copy for any such merchant who may desire to grab a little of the money which is temporarily intrusted to lavish hands.

No one can keep fit or do his best in work or play, religion or crime, without absorbing at least two miles of oxygen per diem on the hoof. Too many people imagine they can get along without the oxygen, but they find sooner or later that it is impossible. This pandemic of foot and mouth disease which is putting such large numbers of otherwise useful individuals into the inefficient class must be broken or the race will surely make a sad and early finish. We are stuffing entirely too much energy into our mouths and letting out entirely too little through our feet. The mixture is too rich. More oxygen absolutely essential to save the machine from premature senility.

The only way we can advantageously absorb more oxygen is through that hateful, obsolte and utterly vulgarite called exercise. Exercise, exercise without stint; exercise without restricting clothing; exercise without restraining notion of dignity or style, and particularly exercise to the point of real perspiration, honest human sweat. That is the way to absorb a little more oxygen and burn up your troubles. It puts a sudden crimp in autointoxication.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Lost: One Collar Button.

My boy, aged 5 years, swallowed a brass collar button. My wife wishes to call a M. D., castor oil, magnesia citrate. No button has come through. My wife is all worked up about it; no rest day or night. I say don't bother, Nature will take care of the matter—am I right or wrong? (J. R. M.)

ANSWER—If it was a gold button your wife might have some excuse, but a mere brass one is scarcely worth fretting about. If it was more than 48 hours ago that the boy swallowed the button, it probably has come through unnoticed. In such cases give no physic; merely feed the child, if old enough, generously for a day or so with potatoes, bananas and such foods to give bulk to the intestinal contents to cover and carry along the foreign body. It is likely to leave the bowel in from 48 to 96 hours. He is your boy and you should have first say. Let your wife wait till her boy swallows a button if she wants to try her treatment.

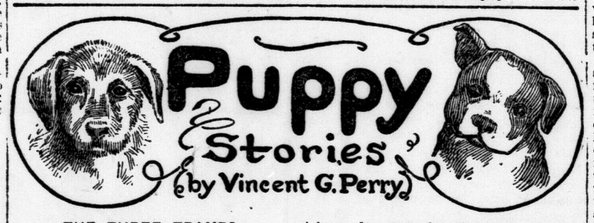

Here's a Query Clean From Tierra del Fuego.

I saw something about lupus in your article. Please tell me what to do for a spot as large as the palm of the hand on the cheek that the doctors said is lupus. I am afraid to let them treat for fear they will make it worse. (Mrs. O. D.)

ANSWER—Back in dear old Fuego your fear of the medicine man may have been justified, but here in North America you should not feel that way. Lupus is tuberculosis of skin, and the sooner you begin treatment the better the outlook for eventual cure.

Puppy Stories

THE THREE TRAMPS.
Part III.

For two whole days the wandering dogs had not eaten. Herbie the hound had been firm in his resolution to live without food, and he'd insisted upon Freddie the fox terrier and Sammy the spaniel going hungry too.

Poor wee Freddie, the smallest of the three, was wasted almost to a shadow, but his courage remained.

"I think it's ridiculous," he said, "going without eating. It might be all right for hounds, but it certainly doesn't agree with fox terriers."

"If you eat now you know what happens," said Herbie solemnly.

"Yes," whimpered Sammy the spaniel. "Remember the toad!" So poor Freddie was frightened into silence.

The dogs had been walking all day, and as night drew near, found a place to sleep under some trees.

Herbie the hound closed his eyes, and to all appearance was fast asleep. Freddie and Sammy closed their eyes too, but, alas! the pain in their stomachs was getting so hard to bear they could not sleep.

Freddie was the first to speak, and he whispered so that Herbie couldn't hear: "Sammy, let's steal away and find something to eat."

"I wouldn't dare," sobbed poor wee Sammy, robbed of all his courage by his weakness from hunger. "Just think what happened to the toad—the first bit of food and he was dead."

"But he'd been fasting for seventeen years!" Freddie exclaimed impatiently. "He deserved to die, anyhow."

"Perhaps we do, too," Sammy wailed, and with that he turned his back to Freddie and made out he'd gone to sleep.

It all came of forming that partnership, thought Freddie to himself. If he'd gone on his wanderings alone he might have been sleeping that night, fat and sleek, instead of hungry and sick as he was, for the pain became so severe he was sure he was sick.

Freddie lay there worrying about his troubles until at last his head became heavy and he fell asleep.

It was still dark when Freddie opened his eyes. He priced up his ears, for he thought sure he heard someone stirring. It was Sammy. "I'm sure I'm going to die," Sammy was crying.

"I'm sure you are, too. I'm sure we re all going to die if we don't soon eat," Freddie said. "We might as well die like the toad as die with hunger. Anyway, I don't believe that story about the toad, and I'm going off and get something to eat. I don't care wrat you're going to do."

"But Herbie the hound!" gasped Sammy in fear. "What will he say?"

"Hush, don't wake him," Freddie cautioned; but when they looked in the direction where the old hound had been sleeping, he was not there—he was not in sight!

The two little dogs lost no time in hurrying away. Freddie had wandered in that locality before, and knew just where a certain back yard was, where there were well-filled garbage pails and lots of scraps thrown out. They were weak with hunger, but the thought of a meal waiting for them put strength into their legs.

Half an hour later the two dogs stopped eating. They had found enough scraps to make up for the meals they had missed, and had eaten until they were satisfied.

Suddenly Freddie heard a stir in the next yard. He peeped through a hole in the fence, and who do you suppose he saw? Herbie the houn!

"Ho, ho!" thought Freddie. "Sly old Mr. Hound has been playing this trick on us every night. He'll pay for this!" and motioning to Sammy they crept back toward their resting-place.

Requests.

I saw in the paper a recipe for cleaning an oil painting that has become discolored by age. Would you kindly send me same?

Find inclosed stamped envelope and 10 cents for hospital. Certainly you give some excellent recipes.

MRS. S. C.

A.—I am sorry to be unable to locate recipe you ask for. Will someone who has saved it please mail it in for Mrs. S. C.? Thank you for dime for fund.

Has anyone any music books or sheet pieces that would be first, second and third grade pieces that they could kindly let me have? If they send any to the Mail-Box I will send my name and address.

CARNATION.

Wants Country Home.

Dear Miss Grey,—I am begging space enough to ask the country readers if there are any among them that would like a boy of 13 to help on the farm I have a boy boarding with me that has no dear mother of his own, and he would like to get a good home in the country, near Chatham preferred. I will leave an addressed envelope with Miss Grey for reply.

A WOULD-BE MOTHER.

HELPFUL HINTS.

When baking apples individually, core them and fill spaces with chopped raisins or dates.

When the feet burn, bathe them daily with water in which there is a little bicarbonate of soda.

Hard-boiled eggs are good served sliced with boiled codfish. A little dry mustard may be sprinkled on the fish.

To remove grease spots from silk, spread garment out, cover thoroughly with talcum powder and allow to remain at least an hour. Brush off, and if all grease signs have not disappeared, repeat the above.

When running dates, figs or raisins through the chopper, add a few drops of lemon-juice to prevent the fruit from clogging the chopper.

When you pot the ferns and other house plants, put an iron nail in with the soil. It will keep the leaves a brilliant green color.

Use cranberry juice that has been cooked and sweetened to color cake, jelly and frosting.

NEW JAZZY MUSIC.

The latest records of "His Master's Voice" contain many new selections suited to the summer dance. To particularize there is that new Fox Trot, "Make That Trombone Laugh," and again "The Venetian Moon," and "Rose of Washington." VICTORIA M. C. PICNIC.

The annual picnic held by the Victoria School Mothers' Club at Springbank on Friday last was unusually successful, almost 100 being present and taking part in the races and sports. Excellent arrangements had been made for the banquet, which went off without a hitch. Every teacher of the school was present on the invitation of the mothers.

The results of the races are as follows:

Free-for-all race, Miss Dunston, Mrs. Wescott; slow walk, Mrs. Dicknoether, Mrs. Copp; ball throwing, Mrs. Fitzimmons, Mrs. McKinley; lean ladies' race, Mrs. Wescott, Mrs. Robins; plump ladies' race, Mrs. Robinson, Mrs. Young; chum race, Mrs. McKone, Mrs. Webb; most popular ladies' race, Mrs. Arbuckle, Mrs. Lyons.

LONDON PRESBYTERIAL MEETS.

A very profitable meeting of the W. M. S. executive of the London Presbyterial was held in the parlor of the First Presbyterian Church recently, when, in addition to the regular business, Mrs. McCrae, in the absence of Mrs. Carr, gave a most interesting account of the W. M. S. held recently in Calgary.

The treasurer's report showed a substantial increase in quarterly givings of $200 over last year, the total amount raised during the quarter being $1,182. The objective of the Presbyterial for this year is $20,000, against $13,000 for last year.

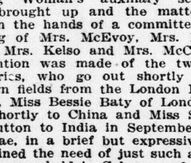

The advisability of appointing a Young Woman's auxillary secretary was brought up and the matter was left in the hands of a committee, consisting of Mrs. McEvoy, Mrs. Bannatyne, Mrs. Kelso and Mrs. McCrae.

Mention was made of the two missionaries, who go out shortly to the foreign fields from the London Presbyterial, Miss Bessie Baty of London going shortly to China and Miss Stewart of Dutton to India in September. Mrs. McCrae, in a brief but expressive way, explained the need of just such a meeting as was held in Calgary and cleared up many features of the work in the various departments, stressing strongly the necesstiy of popularizing the society and standing behind the church as a powerful ally.

Miss Bertha Hodge, who has been in the foreign field for the past seven years, will return this summer on furlough. The Presbyterial is arranging to have one of its seven missionaries return each summer, Miss Hodge being the first.

Old-Fashioned Sheep Washing

[By Elspeth Wilson.]

On the farm today there are improved methods for handling the wool crop which have supplanted time-honored customs, and farm kiddies are missing many thrills by the passing of these old methods.

Sheep shears are superseded by a mechanical device for removing sheeps' fleeces, while the annual sheep washing has become obsolete. The fact that an unwashed wool is marketable, an increase in the number of sheep, together with scarcity of farm help have had much to do with changed conditions, but dear to the heart of the farm child were the old-fashioned sheep-shearing and washing days.

The time following a spring freshet when the creek water ran high, was generally conceded the fit and proper time for sheepwashing. An electric thrill encircled the supper table when the flat went forth "We'll wash the sheep tomorrow."

Every man and child was astir early donning the most disreputable looking garments which had hung in the attic awaiting some such dirty task. The farm flock was quietly gathered into pasture and corralled within a small inclosure previously prepared near the creek. A neighbor or two having added his quota, the flock now made a creditable showing, which promised the juniors a prolonged good time.

The kiddies and the homestead dog, indulgently permitted to take part in the operations, were a trial to the busy men. A constant check must be kept on these energetic helpers, all too eager to scamper about, thereby rousing the bewildered sheep to greater anxiety and restlessness. Not for worlds would we miss this important event, and only the fear of being sent home as a nuisance could keep still our restless feet and tongues. Along the grassy bank we lined up, gripping Collie tightly about the neck lest in his exuberance of spirits he bark or frisk about at an inopportune time.

As each man, clutching a rebellious sheep, plunged into the running stream at our feet, our hearts seemed to cease beating for a time, as terror held us in its grasp, lest father, brother or sheep miss their moorings. Hostility during the opening act gave us rather a bad time of it, but as the sheep later staggered up the creek's bank their fleece weighted with water and clean, our attention was divided between the reunion of mother and lambs and the excitement of a fresh immersion, until a thinning of prisoners and swelling ranks on the meadow side brought to a close the happening that ranked only second to a circus in the eyes of rural boys and girls.

The fleeces, dried by days of sunshine and breeze, soon became soft and white, and then the shearing was begun. This was not so satisfactory to the spectators, perched uncomfortably along the rail fence, since the one manipulating the shears obstructed the view. Still we rocked ourselves in glee as we witnessed the consternation of the lambs, when their mothers, shamefully undressed, stepped forth to claim their families. Recognizing the mother-bleat, the lambs kept longer in abeyance than they desired, dashed joyfully forward to be confronted by the weird shrunken creatures wholly different in appearance. Voice and call, however, were the same and in time order was restored. Each farmer, identifying his own sheep by certain ear marks, marched them home, bleating and ba-a-ing.

Pockets and Women

1. Because pockets are not a natural right.
2. Because the great majority of women do not want pockets. It they did they would have them.
3. Because whenever women have had pockets they have not used them.
4. Because women are expected to carry enough things as it is, without the additional burden of pockets.
5. Because it would make dissension between husband and wife as to whose jockets were to be filled.
6. Because it would destroy man's chivalry toward woman if he did not have to carry all her things in his pockets.
7. Because men are men and women are women. We must not fly in the face of nature.
8. Because pockets have been used by men to carry tobacco, pipes, whiskey flasks, chewing gum and compromising letters. We see no reason to suppose that women would use them more wisely.—Alice Duer Miller in New York Tribune.

Orients and Manhattans Win Inter-Club Games

Alerts-Manhattan Game Was of a Weird Nature, Eighteen Errors Being Made in It.

In the first game of the Inter-Club fixtures played Saturday at Springbank the Orients took the Army and Navy Vets in camp by the one-sided tune of 12 to 0. Down, who did the hugling for the orange and black men, had the Vets at his mercy all through the game, only allowing three hits.

Armstrong, who played last year with the Orients, was back in uniform behind the bat, giving his old battery mate the same air-tight support that he ministered last year.

The score:	R.	H.	E.
A. and N. ..... 000 000 0—	0	3	3
Orients ..... 406 200 x—12	11	2

MANHATTANS DO IT.

The second game of the afternoon was one of the most weird ever seen on the Springbank diamond, the Manhattans defeating the Alerts 16 to 11. According to Hoyle and all other baseball ethics the Alerts should have won a game, but a round dozen of errors behind Johnson caused their downfall, as they had three hits more than the Manhattans.

The Manhattans were not all sure in the field either, as they had six full-blown errors, most of which happened in the fourth inning, and which allowed the Alerts to score ten runs before they were retired.

R. DAY IS CHIEF OF THE TRIBAL TRAPSHOOTERS

J. Vance, With Montreal Man, Wins Double Trophies.

NIAGARA-ON-THE-LAKE, June 27.—Saturday was the last day of the Canadian Indians' trapshooting tournament, and the scoring continued high, although the American cracks had left for home. At the business meeting it was decided to hold next year's meeting here, commencing June 30, and continuing three days.

W. P. Thomson, Hamilton, was elected high chief, and R. Day, London, a member of the council of chiefs.

W. Barnes, Hamilton, and S. Vance, Ingersoll, tied with 296 out of 300 in the grand aggregate of regular events, and in the shoot-off Barnes nosed out Vance with 99 to 98.

The Queen's Royal Cup match for five-man teams was won by the Bob White Club of Niagara-on-the-Lake, with 122 out of 125. This match was shot in the morning, and the team of the Hamilton Gun Club was leading with 119, but though the locals turned up after the schedule time(and moreover were not all bona fide residents, as the conditions specified, the Hamilton men consented to their competing.

Past High Chief Watson of Hamilton, who owns to 65 years, carried off the Indian championship with a possible at 50 targets after a tie with Cocey of Toronto, and Beattie of Hamilton.

The Indian tribies' match, for five-man teams, was won by the Algonquins, led by W. Hamilton, High River, Alta., with 119 out of 125.

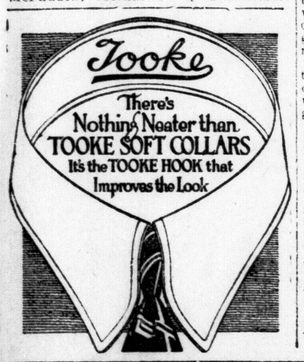

F. H. Morris, Montreal, and J. Vance, Tillsonburg, won the Canadian Indian two-man trophy, each scoring a possible 25. There were six other possibles in this match, including S. Vance, Tillsonburg, but no two of them were paired.

W. Hamilton, High River, won the Butt trophy, a handicap match at 50 targets. His score was 49, and his handicap 21 yards. S. Vance, with 22 yards, scored 48, and J. Vance, 17 yards, 46.

KENT COUNTY BALL

BLENHEIM, June 26.—The local baseball team, which played a postponed Kent County League fixture at Merlin today, suffered a 6-2 defeat. The trouble all happened in the first inning, when Merlin pushed across five counters.

Batteries—Blenheim: McCoig and McFadden; Merlin: Danty and Hesse.

Round the Kitty

The friendly games which have been twice postponed owing to the holding of the Mintee and Scotch doubles tourney will be held on Wednesday afternoon next at the London Rowing Club greens, the draw taking place at 2:15 sharp. These games have been a big attraction to the city clubs and this year competition will be stronger than ever. The Thistles, L. R. C., and Elmwoods are each represented by three rinks, the Ontario Hospital by two and the St. Matthews', All Saints' and St. Mark's by one each.

Tonight at the Thistle greens, the finals for the Langford Trophy of the Thistles Scotch doubles will be played. Through the illness of Mr. Oliver Gidley's mother, the game was postponed during the tourney, but the southern rinks are now ready to take on the L. R. C. pair, Hefferman and Ashplant, for the new silverware.

If Elmwoods win it will make two trophies for them out of the Scotch doubles—a splendid achievement.

The draw for the annual Dominion Day Tourney of the Elmwood Club will be made this evening. A big bunch of entries are in already and more are expected before the draw is made. The class of the rinks entered insure hard and close games.

At the London Rowing Club tournament held Saturday the following rink won the prizes: R. Kidner, J. Jepson, Dr. Karn and H. Nichols, skip.

BAY CITY DEFEATS ACES IN A MIXED-UP GAME

Michigan Cities Still Show Their Love For Taking Pokes at Opposing Managers.

BAY CITY, June 27.—Bay City made it two out of three from the Aces, when they won today's hectic affair 6 to 3 in the eighth inning. After obtaining a three-run lead in the early innings the Wolves allowed Saginaw to tie the count in the fourth on some bad baseball, only to step out in the eighth when Saginaw uncorked a lot of antics not found in the rule book. It was in this inning that Pike, Ace third sacker, was ejected from the park for becoming unruly with Umpire Huhn, and when the Aces kicked on a bad decision over which trouble arose Fisse, Ace second baseman, took a poke at Manager Wenger of the Wolves and was taken from the park by a policeman. When McKee three his glove at the ball in an attempt to stop Weinburg's bad peg White was allowed to score from third causing all the ructions.

Carmen's 9th Win Gives Tecs Series

Tribe Get Four Runs in First, But Winslow's Homer Tied It Up in Second—Calbert Gets Homer in Third That Gave Wining Margin.

Carmen hung up his ninth straight win and London swept the series with the Brantford Club on Saturday over at the west end resort, heavy hitting and good, fast fielding featuring the best game of the three, and ending in a 6 to 4 tally.

Carmen's help won his ninth straight for him in the first inning, when they went out and gathered four runs, but there were strings on it, for the Brants came back in their half of the second, when Winslow, the last good pitching bet of the Sox, ironed out a straight one for a homer and cleaned two bags, one having already been chased across on a single.

After that, the game had to be started over again, and the Tecs ambled along on a narrow one-run margin gained in the third chorus until the eighth, when they drove in the last and sixth counter of the game.

Calbert Gets Another.

Calbert's homer, in the third, which grazed the left field signboards and was lost in the bushes in the ravine, with nobody on, really won the game. Calbert also chased across with the luxury counter in the eighth, when Witry's single drove him in.

Carmen just got nicked for a double to start off the performance, but the outs were all going to the outer garden. When the tribe walked out and got four, it didn't look as if he would get a perspiration up. However, he did. Moorefield was walked, stole second and was advanced to third when Warren got on, on a wild pitch. Keating singled, scoring the first sacker, and then came Winslow with his mighty wallop to left field, and under the signs, and the old game was even up again.

That ended the Sox scoring, though they crabbed and fought it right out to the painful end, and clouted out for five hits in the next seven frames.

Tecs Easy.

The Londoners piped theirs off rather easily in the opening fest. Kennedy walked and with two gone, Kuhn possessed himself of a two-bagger. Witry singled, scoring the big fellow, and Crichlow heaped it on by bagging a two-sacker, scoring Witry. Crichlow ambled to third on a wild pitch and scored on Pittenger's single to centre. Pittenger getting nabbed at second when he attempted to go down a moment after. Calbert's homer was the only score in the third, though Babe Dye made a nice running catch of Kuhn's three-ticket drive to the right signs, while Crichlow hit into a double to centre.

The locals chalked up a hit each frame the next three, the Brants standing up like a stone wall. In the eighth, Calbert was on when Brady threw too high for Al Murphy to get it, and Witry came through with his third single of the day and scored the big fellow. Crichlow followed with a single, but Pitt hit into the second double play of the day, Orme making a good throw to the plate to get Witry, as he did in the first double murder.

FLINT IS COMING HERE TO TAKE TWO GAMES

Vehics Are Greatly Strengthened and Have Decided To Trim the Ontario Clubs.

FLINT, June 27.—The Flint Vehics left for London tonight at midnight all worked up with their victories with Battle Creek. They won again today by 8 to 3 and Anderson says he is ready to cop two of the three from Wetzel at London. In all probability Farrell will pitch for Flint tomorrow and the word is passed for Buzz Wetzel to have at least a dozen of his clan to be ready to be struck out by the chap who makes a business of it.

The new shortstop, Honick, is a real two-bag hitter and a fielder with a record.

President Maines attended a cottage prayer meeting of Bay City fans last night when the Shuster-Donnelly case was discussed, and the proxy is somewhat inclined to believe today that probably the hasty umpire did "knight" the Bay City outfielde previous to being assaulted at Saginaw, when a fine set of teeth were completely demolished. On Thursday Donnelly must face the civil court in Saginaw to answer to assault and battery. Shuster has resigned from the staff. He refused to attend the Bay City "squirrel session" last evening. He is going back to the Western League in Canada. This city is all excited over the recent Vehic victories and they look for the locals to win five of the seven games in Ontario this week.

ROYAL CITY DEFEATS PRESTON SOCCER TEAM

GUELPH, June 27.—In a W. F. A. scheduled game here on Saturday afternoon the Royal City team of this city defeated the Preston team by a score of 4 to 0. The local team was much superior in all departments of the game, but were a little weak on shooting in the first half, the score being 1 to 0 at half-time. Several changes have been made in the Royal City team and they will take a lot of beating from now on. The teams were as follows:

Preston—Goal, Devin; backs, Bowman, Dicks; half-backs, Garside, J. Renton, C. Renton; forwards, Tiller, Sullivan, House, Whittaker, Arnold.

Guelph—Goal, Bennett; backs, R. Fell, Machin; half-backs, Smith, MacGowan, Walker; forwards, Schofield, Sinclair, A. Fell, Lee, Foxhall.

INTER-COUNTY WIN.

The Inter-County baseball team of this city played a team of all stars from the City League Saturday afternoon, defeating them by 12 to 7. The all-stars made as many errors as they did hits and this accounted for their defeat. There was a good crowd.

HAMILTON HANDS OUT ANOTHER TROUNCING TO LOWLY BEAVERS

Sharpe Had To Be Relieved in First Inning, Owing To the Tigers' Onslaught.

HAMILTON, June 26.—Hamilton took today's game from Kitchener with hardly any effort, and cleaned up the three-game series. Morrisette, on the mound for Hamilton, was practically unhittable. He was given a four-run lead to work on in the first inning, and the visitors never came close to causing trouble until the sixth inning, not a hit being made off the Hamilton pitcher. Then, with one out, he became careless and walked two. Norris followed with the first hit of the game for the Ebers and scored their first run.

Sharpe started the game in the box for the Beatty clan, but had to be taken out in the first inning with two out, the bases loaded, and two runs in. Bornhoeft, who relieved him, was also hit hard. The races at the Hamilton track greatly affected the attendance.

SOCCER KICK-OFFS

LONDON SOCCER LEAGUE.
Standing.

Teams.	P.	W.	L.	D.	F.	A.	Pts.

2nd M. Gun	8	3	5	0	10	24	6
Army and Navy	11	3	8	0	8	30	6

Monday's game between the Army and Navy and Grand Trunk is postponed, the Vets cheerfully calling off this game to allow the Wasps a "rest up" after their W. F. A. fixture with Woolworth Rovers at St. Thomas on Wednesday evening.

On Tuesday, June 29, on Carling Heights, Princess Pats will have their second league battle with the Emma Gees, when Capt. Nuttall's brigade will endeavor to enflade their opponents and try to reach their objective, the gaining of two fronts being their main objective. The kick-off will be at 6:30 p.m. Referee, Barney Devlin.

On Wednesday, June 30, on Carling Heights, the Grand Army Vets engage the Great War Vets, when Billy Friend, the popular captain and manager of the Grand Army Vets, hopes to have a strong eleven take the field for his side that evening. Kick-off 6:30 p.m. Referee,

On Dominion Day the big game of the season will take place when the Toronto Scottish eleven will journey to London to do battle with a picked team from the local league.

The game, it is hoped, will be an instructive one to many of the followers of the game as the Toronto men have played together for some time and have mastered all the fine points of the game.

A large crowd is expected to witness this match, as there will be a large expense account to pay to the visitors, who are the champions of the Queen City.

On Friday, July 2, the Pats will meet the Public Utilities in a postponed match. It is expected that this will be one of the best league games of the year. The kick-off will be at 6:30 at Carling Heights and will have Referee McGuire handling the whistle.

On Saturday, July 3, the Army and Navy Vets will engage the Grand Army Vets, in their return league game, when the Grand Army Vets, with Captain Billy Friend in command, intends giving the Army and Navy a hard run for their money. Kick-off 3 p.m. Referee, Sergt. Sam Hacking, D. C. M.

On the same afternoon at Springbank Park, Richards-Wilcox meet Grand Trunk, and as the "Hardwarelans" are the only team that has taken away a point so far from the "Wasps," a battle royal should ensue. Kick-off, 3 p.m. Referee, Sergt. McCready.

The following team will line-up against the Scottish eleven on Dominion Day: Goal, Nudds (Richards-Wilcox); r. b., Green (G. T. R.); l. b., Herring (G. A. U. V.); r. h., Whitworth (Public Utilities); c. h., Smith (Public Utilities); l. h., Askew (G. T. R.); o. r., Lownie (G. T. R.); i. r., Parkins (G. W. V. A.); c. f., Bell (A. and N.); i. l., Green (G. W. V. A.); o. l., Leight (Public Utilities).

ST. LOUIS MAKES IT THREE STRAIGHT FROM CINCINNATI

Reds Take Action Against Umpire Klem For Abusive Language.

CINCINNATI, June 27.—St. Louis took the third straight game today, 3 to 2. The Reds tonight filed charges against Umpire Klem for alleged abusive language used to Pitcher Luque in yesterday's game, which resulted in that official being attacked on the field by Luque.

PIGEON FLUTTERS

The races of the Forest City Pigeon Club, which include distances up to 400 miles, are drawing to a close. The following are the results of the first races:

From Chatham—65 miles, first, T. Westman, second, Rawson Bros.; third, I. Rawson; fourth, Skinner & Son. No report has been received from W. Henry.

From Stony Point—85 miles, first, T. Westman; second, I. Rawson, third, Rawson Bros.; fourth, Skinner & Son. No report has been received from W. Henry.

From Windsor—112 miles, first, I. Rawson; second, T. Westman; third, Rawson Bros. No reports have been received from Skinner & Son and W. Henry.

From Brighton, Mich.—156 miles, first, T. Westman; second, I. Rawson; third, Rawson Bros.

From Montpelier, O.—212 miles, first, Rawson Bros.; second, I. Rawson; third, T. Westman.

Next week the birds will be released at Peru, Indiana, which will give them a chance to show what they are made of, as the distance is 200 miles. It is expected that this race will be hotly contested, as all the owners are priming their birds for the flight.

Rawson Bros. are making a supreme effort to retain their hold on the trophy, as it will be their own property if they can win it this year, as it will be the third time they will have captured it.

FOOTBALL OFF.

The football game between the Army and Navy Vets and the Grand Trunk, which was to have been held tonight, has been postponed.

MINT PATTER

In the words of Knotty: "Well, dat's t'ree to us. See!"

The Sox are hot-foot after pitchers. Winslow seemed to have enough, but what's the use against that bunch of wild tribesmen?

If the Tecs keep on whaling that ball, they'll forget the inside baseball they do know.

Knotty has instructions to buy players outright, body and soul and shoelaces.

Slumper Clark, the fast outfielder of the Sox, who was hurt the first game, should have his first name changed.

Instead of fighting, the Hamilton and Brantford scribes are in the throes of a mutual sympathy seance.

Harris Walsh says sympathy from Brantford is appreciated, but Brantford fans would rather be in a position where it wasn't needed.

Just think how deep the Hamilton sympathy flow must run. Five straight games—a whole well of it.

The Sox sure were running in dismal luck, but no matter how black it looks, they can look up the 1919 M.-O. files.

Several times Wetzell took compassion on the crippled state of the Brants. The way Murphy crabbed, on admittedly close decisions several times, made it look as if he wanted to get up town.

Kennedy, Shay and Carmen went along hitless Saturday. The doctor, however, grabbed a sacrifice.

The more the crowd sees of Calbert the better they like him. That don't go for the hurlers on the circuit.

The big out-gardener is making the same kind of place Oskee Neale made for himself in the hearts of the fans, and on the same stamping ground.

Burke, a new first-sacker and general utility timber, arrived Friday night, and was in the stands at Saturday's game. He might get into the game today.

The Flint publicity agent "says that it isn't any secret that Flint will, etc, etc." And before the series is over, there'll be a lot more about the Flint Vehics that won't be a secret, either.

Ted Anderson will pilot the patched-up Flinters today. "Hump" Pierce is scouting for the club now. He just takes a tooth brush and a package of chewin' along when he goes traveling.

Babe Dye will likely stick to the Brants. He didn't swat heavy while here, but neither did he whiff all the time. His catch was a perfect one Saturday, and he covers a lot of garden.

Half a Pineapple For One Dessert

In Jiffy-Jell desserts the fruit flavors are abundant. For instance, half a pineapple is crushed to make the flavor for one pint dessert. This is done in Hawaii from fruit too ripe to ship.

All Jiffy-Jell fruit flavors are made from condensed fruit juice. They come in liquid form—in vials—a bottle in each package. That is true of no other quick gelatine dessert.

A few cents will serve a real-fruit dessert for six people. No artificial flavor, no saccharine. It is the most delicious fruit dessert available, and it comes in ten choice flavors.

TORONTO STRIKE ENDS; MEN TAKE 5 CENTS MORE

After Four Days, Street Car Men Return Sunday Morning.

TORONTO, June 27.—Toronto, four-day street railway strike came to an end at 6 o'clock this morning, when the cars were again put in commission, manned by the employees of the Toronto Railway Company, who had been "out" since 4:30 last Wednesday morning. The offer of the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board, made to the men last Friday afternoon of a maximum wage of 60 cents an hour, an increase of 5 cents, was accepted at a mass meeting of the men on Saturday night, after about an hour's consideration.

The position of the Toronto Railway Company in the matter of the increase in pay is not yet definitely known, but it is understood that the company will accept the situation and make the best of what it may regard as a bad bargain. Manager R. J. Fleming of the Toronto Railway Company, is out of the city. Some of the officials of the company, it is said, have intimated that the company will pay the additional 5 cents an hour imposed by the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board, and say no more about the matter.

Practically An Order.

When the railway board, on Friday, "suggested" that the company increase the men's wages by 5 cents an hour, it was understood that this was practically an order, and that if the men accepted the increase they should resume the operation of the cars whether the company agreed to pay the additional wage or not. If the company agreed, all right; if not, the railway board would step in and operate the cars and pay the men 60 cents an hour. However, there seemed to be a tacit understanding that the company would act on the board's suggestion.

No Meeting Yet.

There has been no meeting of the directors of the Toronto Railway Company since Friday, so far as the public knows. It is probable that a meeting will be held early this week, when the situation will be discussed, and the company's decision made known.

The street railwaymen at first demanded 85 cents an hour, an increase of 30 cents an hour. A board of conciliation refused to give them any increase in pay, nad recommended that they continue at 55 cents an hour until the company's franchise expires, August 31, 1921. The men's representative on the board, John T. Vick, at first signed this award, but subsequently made a minority report, in which he favored paying the men 66 cents an hour. It was on the company's refusal to pay 66 cents that the men went on strike.

It is estimated that the Toronto Railway Company's employees lost $40,000 in wages during the strike and the company about $90,000 in fares.

The increase of 5 cents an hour in the men's pay will cost the company, it is stated, about $375,000 up to the time its franchise expires, the end of August, 1921.

OBEY THE LAW, EVEN IF YOU DON'T AGREE, SAYS BISHOP FALLON

Points Out the Danger To All in Flouting Authority.

WINDSOR, June 26.—At the annual retreat of the clergy of the Diocese of London, which concluded this morning at Assumption College, Sandwich, Bishop Fallon denounced in vigorous terms the lawless traffic in liquor, which to a greater or less extent disgraces all parts of Ontario, but which has given this border district a bad eminence difficult fittingly to describe.

"Most of you know," said his lordship, in conference with his priesthood, "how I regard the Ontario temperance act. I have never made any secret of my conviction that such legislation is unwise, ineffective, and opposed to the best British traditions of personal liberty, as well as to the best Catholic traditions of personal responsibility.

Involves No Right.

"But, no matter what you or I think of it, the Ontario temperance act is now the law in this province. It was enacted by competent civil authority, it has undoubtedly behind it the approval of the great majority of the people of the province, it invades no essential right that demands or justifies resistance or disobedience; and while you are at liberty, under the form of responsible government which, thank God, obtains in this free country, to agitate for the mending or ending of the act, to educate public opinion along these lines, there your liberty ceases.

O. T. A. Demands Respect.

"So long as the Ontario temperance act is the law of the land, it demands your respect and your most loyal effort to have its provisions observed. The authority behind it is lawful and competent civil authority, and the Catholic Church teaches that all authority is from God. This Catholic doctrine which ennobles obedience also inexorably exacts that obedience to all laws not manifestly unjust, even though the wisdom of their enactment is open to question."

Cannot Be Flouted.

Having thus laid down the clear duty of Catholics as good citizens, the bishop depicted n scathing terms the debauching of the public conscience, and of the official conscience by the state of things publicly known, or at least generally alleged to exist in this district.

"For, mark well," continued his lordship impressively, "this particular law cannot be brazenly violated; authority in this particular instance cannot be openly flouted without going far, dangerously far, toward bringing all law and all authority into contempt."

A Pastoral Duty.

Our informant, who had Bishop Fallon's permission to make public at his discretion this important announcement, assured the Canadian Press that it was one of characteristic directness, forcefulness and vigor.

In this part of the province, where, perhaps, the temptation to break this law was greater than elsewhere, Bishop Fallon reminded his priests of their pastoral duty, and reinforced this with all his episcopal authority by solemnly enjoining them to make known and to drive home to their people the enormity of this lawless liquor traffic and the gravity of its consequences which disgraced the community, imperilled the reign of law and order and was subversive of morality, public and private.

'PEG CRICKETER BOWLS AN UNUSUAL GAME

Winnipeg, June 28.—A remarkable bowling performance was recorded in Saturday's cricket league fixture here, when Tom Smith of the White Rose Club captured all ten of the wanderers' wickets for the small sum of 20 runs. Wanderers are holders of the J. Ross Robertson trophy, emblematic of the Canadian cricket championship, and will meet the White Rose team again shortly in a challenge match, with the trophy at stake. White Rose were easy winners on Saturday, due to Smith's brillian form with the ball.

BREAKS 100-METRE RECORD.

Alameda, June 28.—Duke Kahanamoku of Honolulu, yesterday, in the Neptune Beach plunge here, swam 100 metres, free style, in 1:00 1-5, breaking the world's record for the distance of 1 minute 1 second established by Norman Rose. Kahanamoku was participating in the Olympic games western tryout.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

STRAWBERRY SEASON DRAWING TO A CLOSE

Although Large Sales Expected This Week—Hay in Demand.

The local market this morning was the smallest this year. The officials claim the farmers are busy.

Lettuce was offered from 45c to 80c a dozen bunches. Peas remained the same. Asparagus season is over, but a few bunches were sold on Saturday for 75c per dozen. New potatoes have not yet made their appearance in large quantities. Old spuds remain from $6 to $6.50 a bag.

Strawberries did not change in price. The season for strawberries is nearly over, although large sales are expected this week.

Hay is scarce, but in good demand at $30 to $32 a ton. Straw was a little more plentiful today. The price took a slight jump, from $11.50 and $12 to $12.50 and $13.50 a ton.

Hogs and fat sows went up in price slightly. The maximum price for fat sows is $14.75 a cwt. Last week they remained $14.50. Hogs, dressed, went from $18.50 to $19 a cwt.

Hides are very scarce. Prices for hides are expected to soar before the end of the week.

A few ducks were on the square on Saturday, but the demand was not active. Chickens were steady and in good demand.

Butter and eggs did not change in price.

GRAIN.

Chicago, June 28.—Opening: Corn—July, $1 76⅞; September, $1 70⅝.

Oats—July, $1 04⅝; September, 87½c.

Winnipeg, June 28.—Oats opened ⅛c higher for October, and ⅝c higher for December, at $1 01 and 95⅛c respectively.

Barley opened 1¼c higher for July at $1 67¼.

Flax opened unchanged for July at $4 12, and 4½c higher for October at $4 12½.

Chicago, June 28.—Hot, dry weather, giving reason for anxiety about the safety of the oats crop, resulted today in a sympathetic advance of the corn market. Opening quotations, which ranged from ⅛c to 1⅝c higher, were followed by moderate further gains and a decided reaction.

Broad activity developed in oats. After opening ¼c to 1c higher, the market rose still more before beginning to react.

TORONTO STOCK EXCHANGE.

Toronto, June 28.—Trading was at a low ebb on the Toronto exchange this morning, and with one or two exceptions stock prices moved in narrow limits. Profit-taking in Quebec Railway brought about a substantial decline. Opening at 29⅞, the stock sold down to 29¼c, with the close at that price. Steamships preferred was active between 78¼ and 78, while Mackay was firmer at 71. National Trust rights were down a large fraction at 7½. In the unlisted stocks Abitibi was weak, selling down from 75¾ to 75.

Montreal, June 28.—The stock market this morning for the first hour was exceptionally quiet. The few sales that did take place were steady around the week-end close. Wayagamack was fairly strong around 130, while Asbestos was quoted at 85. Steel, preferred, was a little erratic on the few sales made, moving from one to two points up and down. Spanish River, preferred, was steady at 145½, while it would appear that Quebec Street Railway had started its downward movement again. Abitibi at 75¼ was unchanged.

WALL STREET.

New York, June 28.—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—Developments over the week-end, especially the poor showing of the Federal Reserve banks and the railroad labor situation, invited renewed selling of leading issues at the opening of today's stock market. Several of the prominent industrials, rails and specialties, reacted 1 to 1½ points. Distinct pressure was shown by Crucible and Sloss-Sheffield Steels, Baldwin Locomotive, Illinois Central and Barrett Company. Further ease was manifested by preliminary quotations for foreign exchange.

Early dealings, both in stocks and bonds were extremely light and professional.

Noon.—Trading during the morning established a new record for dullness. The first hour's business of about 65,000 shares was attended by further reactions in steels, equipments, oils and specialties comprising the chemical group, which fell 1 to 2 points under Saturday's closing prices. The losses were extended before noon, when the motors and rails participated in the further reaction. There was little buying power even at the more substantial recessions. Call money opened at 9 per cent, repeating last week's final quotation.

TOUR DE FRANCE STARTS.

Paris, June 28.—The "Tour de France," a race on tricycles around France, was started yesterday morning from the Place de la Concorde. There were 110 competitors. The race will cover 3,450 miles, and will end in Paris on July 27. Stops will be made by the riders at Havre, Cherbourg, Brest, Sables, Bayonne, Perpignan, Aix, Nice, Strasbourg, Metz, Dunkerque and other places.

VICTORIA WINS.

Victoria, B. C., June 28.—The local lacrosse team Saturday beat the Vancouver boys, 6 to 1. Lester Patrick's proteges had the better of the play, but Johnson's spectacular work in the local net prevented the mainlanders from scoring many times.

GALT SPORTS

GALT, June 27.—In the first lacrosse game played here in ten years, the local intermediate O. A. L. A. team Saturday afternoon defeated the Stratford ten at Dickson in an exhibition match. The locals had decidedly the better of the play, the score by periods being 5 to 10, 10 to 2, 12 to 3 and 14 to 4. A good-sized crowd witnessed the game, which was two hours late in starting on account of the visitors.

It appears as if lacrosse is due for a revival here, and the city had a good team, but is badly in need of training. The teams:

Stratford — Goal, Turcott; point, Young; cover, Brown; first defence, Scott; second defence, Ross; centre, Windfield; second home, Turcott; first home, Sproal; outside home, Watts; inside home, Glass.

Galt—Goal, Anderson; point, Clarke; cover, Johnston; first defence, Anderson; second defence, Melrose; centre, Hilker; second home, Hogan; first home, Homuth; outside home, Sims; inside home, Mahler.

Referee—J. Gravelle, Galt.

KITCHENER WINS.

In a Junior Inter-County League ball game the local nine, without the services of two of their regulars, including their pitcher, First Baseman Joe Evans, doing the twirling, was beaten by Kitchener Saturday afternoon here in a good exhibition game, 8 to 4. The home runs by the visitors proved deciding factors in the victory. Evans, for Galt, also had a home run.

SOCCER.

The local senior W. F. A. soccer team swamped Kitchener on their own field, 10 to 0, while Galt senior intercounty ball team was beaten at Kitchener, 8 to 2.

HAL ABBE EVENS UP WITH ROYAL DUNDEE IN HARD-DRIVEN RACE

Isle Bond and All Ablaze Take Other Events in Straight Heats.

WOODSTOCK, June 27.—The feature of the second day of the horse races here was the victory of Hal Abbe over Royal Dundee in the 2:22 pace. At the two previous meets on the Ontario Circuit these two horses had merry battles, with Royal Dundee having the best of the argument. In the pools here Dundee ruled favorite over the Abbe horse, and he justified the confidence displayed in him by winning the first two heats. Then Hal Abbe, after taking an easy mile in the second heat, went out and won the third heat in a thrilling stretch drive by a head. The Abbe won the fourth heat, and repeated in the fifth heat. In the last heat Walsh drove the Dundee nearly the entire mile under the whip, but he never got up close to the fast travelling of Hal Abbe.

Isla Bond, owned by F. Beck of Dunnville, won the 2:35 pace in a six-horse race. Elm Tree, owned by Charlie Stevens of Toronto, was second in the first heat, and looked like a real contender in the next two heats. However, the Queen City mare was subject to considerable interference and gave up place money to Alvin Merrill, a grey gelding, owned by George Walsh, who showed a wonderful burst of speed, but was handicapped by several hobbles. The 2:15 trot was won in straight heats by All Ablaze, owned and driven by George Walsh of Simcoe. The contending horse in this event was Gossett Bird, owned and driven by John Fleming of Toronto. This big chestnut is a newcomer to the races. He trotted square and honest and looked as if he could have bettered his position in one or two of the heats. In this race the Hamilton horse, Bennie Bingen, had the speed, but acted badly and fell back to fourth money. The races will be continued on Dominion Day.

CLASSIC CITY BEATS ST. THOMAS IN W. F. A.

STRATFORD, June 27.—The Stratford senior W. F. A. team got a win over the St. Thomas city team here Saturday evening by a 2—1 score after a hard battle. A win for the locals Tuesday night against Woodstock will put them on top of the league. Saturday's game was full of thrills and it was only in the dying moments of the game that the locals managed to get the winning goal from a scrimmae. The home players were late in getting on the field and Ernie Clark, a local man, who refereed, refused to hold the game and as a result Stratford faced the visitors three men shy.

St. Thomas made good use of these advantages and beat Dempsey in about three minutes of play. However, Stratford evened up before half time.

The second period went along for some time before there was a score, and it looked like a tie game. However, a lucky pass from a scrimmage turned the trick and the locals won out.

"The Germans Called it Aspirin"

FROM this quotation hangs a story full of meaning for Canadians.

Before the war, Germany controlled the manufacture of acetylsalicylic acid, an important drug, consumed in immense quantities the world over.

The German manufacturers gave to it the trade-marked name "Aspirin."

The first man this side of Germany to manufacture successfully salicylic acid —the chief ingredient of "Aspirin"—was a Canadian, Mr. A. H. C. Heitman, Manager of Chemical Products Limited.

Chemical Products, Limited, will manufacture about 1,250,000 pounds of "Aspirin" and 500,000 pounds of salicylic acid in excess of its needs for the manufacture of aspirin, during the present year.

This marks a most important epoch in the chemical industry of Canada. A foreign monopoly has been broken. A Canadian company has taken the lead. Canadian enterprise and resourcefulness have scored again.

In addition to "aspirin" and salicylic acid, a large number of the chief products used by the chemical trade are being produced by Chemical Products Limited. A national distribution and a world-wide export connection have been established.

The tremendous volume of orders already booked indicates a splendid future for the largest concern of its kind in Canada.

MARTYN—In loving memory of our dear boy, who was drowned two years ago today, June 28, 1918:

Two years have passed since that sad day,
God called the one we loved away;
Forget him, no, we never will,
As years roll by we love him still.
—His Loving Parents, Brothers and Sisters. b

WALTERS—In loving memory of my beloved husband, the late J. D. Walters, who departed this life two years ago today.

And when the stream
Which overflowed the soul
Was passed away,
A consciousness remained that it had left
Deposited upon the silent shore
Of memory, images and precious thoughts
That shall not die and cannot be destroyed.
b —Anna K. Walters.

CARD OF THANKS.

HELENE'S MARRIED LIFE

BY MAY CHRISTIE

Copyright, 1920, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate

CIX.—"MY OLD SWEETHEART."

What Alice said about her husband was perfectly true. I couldn't contradict the last part of her observations. So I said nothing.

"Tonight you'll stay with me at my apartment, Alice," I announced, firmly. "You can't be here alone."

She clung to me.

"You go ahead, and make arrangements, dear." She was very much subdued. "We ought to telephone to my dressmaker's, for the—the——" Here she broke down again.

The mourning? Why, of course! I made all arrangements for the coming of the dressmaker, myself.

The fittings took place rather late that afternoon. For once, Alice didn't appear to be interested in clothes. Every now and then she would burst into tears, and cling to me. It was a very trying time.

I got her to my apartment that night, having sent my personal maid in advance to prepare the place. It looked very cosy with its shaded lights, although it wasn't large.

We had a big fire in the drawing-room, and Alice crouched before it in a childish attitude, and talked endlessly of her poor dead husband. Her grief was genuine. I could see, too, she was regretting her neglect of him in days gone by.

"If only I had the time over again!" she whispered once.

But it was a relief when I had safely tucked her up in bed, and saw that she was asleep.

Then I went back to my little drawing-room, and sat down before the embers of the fire.

Jim's photo—smashed frame and all—was hidden behind a vase upon the mantelpiece. I drew it out, and regarded it intently. It was a splendid likeness of him.

For long I sat there, brooding.

The soft tinkle of the front-door bell aroused me. I got up, startled, went out to the tiny hall, and whispered:

"Who is it? Who's there?"

"It's I, dear—Jim, I just came to get a sight of you——"

I opened the door with trembling fingers, and found myself wrapped in my husband's arms.

Then he followed me into the drawing-room. My heart was beating rapidly. Oh, would he remember the last occasion he had been there?

His eye lighted on the photograph immediately.

"My picture? Helene, how curious! Where did you get it?" He stared at the smashed frame with puzzled eyes. From it, his glance roved round the little apartment, as though wondering, guessing.

I thrust him into a big armchair, and flung myself on the hearthrug at his feet, with my head against his knees.

"Oh, Jim, don't you remember?" I cried, imploringly.

He put a hand up to his forehead, got up to his feet, and started to pace the floor, his eyes taking in every smallest detail of the place. I could see the blessed light of memory returning. Oh, would such memory injure all our new-found happiness!

And then he turned to me—and he was trembling. I could see he knew!

"Helene!" he whispered, "my old sweetheart—and my darling wife!"

Little by little, Jim pieced together the tangled threads of returning memory.

The sight of his own photo in my little flat had been the turning-point.

For long, he did not speak, but silently paced the floor.

I was afraid to interrupt his thoughts.

I sat crouched beside the fire, watching every movement and every varying expression of his handsome face.

He wasn't going to be angry with me for my long silence! Oh, what a blessed thought that was! What worlds of relief and joy it held!

After a time he sat down in the big armchair, and put an arm about my shoulders.

"The check," he whispered. "The forging of the check. What's happened about that, Helene?"

I decided to abandon subterfuge. I would be open and above board now—in everything.

"I'm practically certain that it was Tony Lascelles who was responsible for that affair. Alice tells me so, although she has no idea that Tony actually forged a check for the purchasing of the bracelet. Afterwards, he sold it to Alice for five hundred dollars more than he paid for it. Very cute, wasn't it?"

"Tony Lascelles," repeated Jim, a light breaking over his face. "Do I remember Tony? Why, of course, I do!"

I smiled up at him.

"Weren't you and he brought up together for a time, almost like brothers?" I had heard of Tony's ingratitude.

Jim nodded his assent. He suddenly leaned forward, and helped himself from a box of cigarettes which lay on a small table near the fireplace.

Then, after he'd lighted up, he said:

"Once upon a time, I was rather fond of Tony. But he developed into an impossible sort of chap, and in the last few years we've seen mighty little of each other."

We sat beside the fire, and talked for hours and hours. I told my husband everything that had happened since the accident, and confirmed events before that period. Now that the barriers were down, full memory had returned to him.

"I was a hateful little beast, Jim," I reiterated, more than once. "I don't know how on earth you can forgive me!"

He patted me on the shoulder.

"You know me better now, Helene. Our 'first' marriage"—here he gave a tiny laugh—"our 'first' marriage was a very hurried affair. And—in the matter of the forging of the check—things did look awfully black against me. I can't blame you for being deceived."

Tears—remorseful tears—sprang to my eyes.

"I ought to have trusted in you, Jim. I acted wickedly. I'm heartily ashamed of myself." Here I recounted to him the tale of my visit to the jeweler. "But I suffered horribly——"

Jim stopped my words with a kiss.

"Dear heart, don't speak about it," said Jim, when I upbraided myself for having doubted him. He was magnanimity itself. He shamed me.

"But I will speak about it. I thought you were madly in love with Alice Anstruther. I thought you were having an 'affair' of some sort with her. I was dreadfully jealous, Jim——"

"No wonder, sweetheart. But if you'd only trusted me more——"

I raised my head. Tears lay on my cheeks. Jim took out a ridiculously large silk handkerchief, and carefully wiped them away before he spoke.

"There's only one girl in the world for me, and that's yourself, Helene. Haven't I fallen in love with you twice? And isn't that ample proof?" He smiled into my foolish eyes. "As for Alice Anstruther, why, never to my knowledge have I set eyes on her until one day after my accident she bounced into my room, and fussed around till I was nearly crazy, and the nurse ordered her out of the place!" He gave a boyish laugh. "To be honest, I don't admire the lady one tiny bit."

I felt heartily ashamed of my jealous suspicions, and told my husband so repeatedly.

"But as for poor Alice, I can only pity her," I added. "She's lost her husband, while I—I have you—sweetheart—the finest husband in the world."

So everything was cleared up between us.

"What are you going to do about Tony Lascelles?" I finally asked. "You must put things right with your father, Jim. I do believe he still considers you in the wrong——"

Jim's face hardened momentarily.

"Oh, let him think what he chooses. He can find out for himself."

There is an obstinate streak in Jim. And so I didn't argue out the point.

It was 4 a.m. when finally we ceased talking. I made a bed for him on the big Chesterfield couch in front of the fire, and wrapped two traveling rugs about him.

Then, kissing him good-night, with a much-lightened heart, I went into the bedroom of the flat, undressed, crawled into the big four-poster beside the sleeping form of Alice, and was soon wrapped in dreams.

* * *

Alice stayed with me for a day or two.

Her grief over the tragic end of her husband was quite genuine, I think.

No doubt her conscience was rebuking her for the callous way she many times had treated him. Even the Alices of this world have consciences, occasionally aroused.

I think she was worrying, too, over her future. From the financial point of view, that is. Mr. Anstruther was well off, but his money was doubtless considerably tied up in various enterprises.

The reading of the will would not occur for at least another week, until the news of his death was definitely confirmed.

Alice didn't mention the name of Tony in these days. Yet, subconsciously, I guessed she thought of him a good deal.

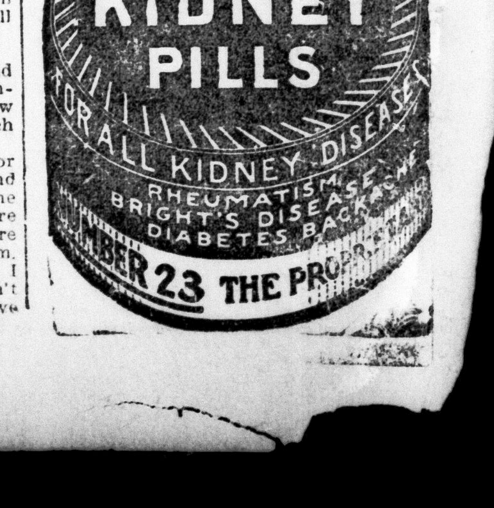

While she was staying in my apartment, he made no effort at all at seeing her. The fact that Jim was in and out of the place was enough to frighten Tony off.

But Tony sent Alice flowers. When a great bunch of white lilies arrived with Tony's card attached, Alice burst into petulant, nervous tears.

"Take them away," she sobbed. "They're an ill omen. They make me think of death. Oh, why did Tony send them?"

I comforted her as best I could. But these were trying days.

Tomorrow—Changeable Alice.

At The Theaters

"MALE AND FEMALE" AT THE GRAND ALL HIS WEEK.

"Male and Female," Cecil B. De Mille's production founded on J. M. Barrie's play, "The Admirable Crichton," will be the photoplay offering at the Grand all this week, commencing with today's matinee. Imagine; A group of men and women suddenly flung on a desert isle. Master and man, mistress and maid—now only males and females. Birth, wealth, trappings vanished. A new life calling to test the worth where those who are strong lead, and those who are weak follow. Such is this great story. Ranging from the splendid home of an English earl to savage scenes in a tropical jungle, from nice convention of the cultured elite to uncontrolled passions of ancient Babylon.

Despite the lavish scale upon which the picture was screened, the inimitable Barrie humor and his whimsical touches are apparent throughout. Thomas Meighan has the leading role and other prominent players in the cast are Gloria Swanson, Lila Lee, Theodore Roberts, Bebe Daniels, Raymond Hatton and Guy Oliver.

The added features of the bill will be a Rolin comedy entitled "You're Pinched," the Pathe British-Canadian News, the Pathe Review and Topics of the Day.

The appearance of Miss Alice Graves at the Grand this week stands out as one of the principal events of the summer season. Miss Graves is a musical comedy star of great popularity with New York audiences, and also a supreme favorite with local audiences. During her engagement at the Grand this week Miss Graves will be heard in a delightful singing revue, in which she will be assisted at the piano by W. A. Bluethner.

"DON'T EVER MARRY," MIRTHQUAKE OF HONEYMOON TROUBLES BY MARSHAL NEILAN AT ALLEN.

When three women claim one man for a husband it is bound to create trouble. Three hours after Benson had been advised "Don't Ever Marry" he secretely married the girl of his choice. His explanations in regard to the two unknown wives are bound to be funny in the extereme to anyone not involved, also when it develops that the other two wouldn't have him for a husband on a bet anyway, but were just using his nice disposition to further their own sweet romances.

Of such complicated humor is Marshal Neilan's great comedy "Don't Ever Marry," which is starring Marjorie Daw, Mat Moore and the most amusing of all juvenile comedians, Wessly Barry, whose "bellhopisms" provide more laughs than Wessly has freckles on his face. "Don't Ever Marry" is presented at the Allen today, tomorrow, Wednesday and Thursday, four days.

Presented on the same program will be special comedies, news pictures, Bruce Scenics and another of those much-appreciated organ recitals by Mr. Ireland, Allen's head organist.

WILLIAM RUSSELL IN HAROLD TITUS STORY.

A man's god-like love for a woman is the theme of the great photodrama "Shod With Fire," a William Fox production starring William Russell, which will be shown for the first time at the Patricia Theatre today, Tuesday and Wednesday.

This is the charmingly romantic love song of the plains—one that is said to grip the heart and stir the soul. The play has been made from the intensely dramatic story "Bruce of Circle A," by Harold Titus. The scenario was written by J. Anthony Roach, and the play was directed by Emmett J. Flynn.

The cast includes Helen Ferguson, Betty Schade, Robert Cain, George Stewart, Nelson McDowell and Jack Connolly.

A Universal western drama "Two From Texas" and a Rainbow comedy "He Loved Like He Lied" will complete the program.

AT LOEW'S.

Wallace Reid, that speed boy of filmdom, comes back to Loew's and will grace the screen Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week in one of the fastest pictures of his entire career, entitled "Excuse My Dust," as in his former picture, "Double Speed," there is love, romance and heaps of that speed stuff, such as no other stars instil into their pictures. There is some real auto racing—and Wally just eats the road when it comes to speed. You enjoyed "Double Speed," and we'll wager, you'll more than enjoy "Excuse My Dust."

The vaudeville comprises a delightful dance revue, "Peacock Revue." Three winsome girlies with a dapper young man will delight with a variety of the season's latest dances. Some splendid scenic effects and artistic costuming are features of the offering. Earl Hampton and Marjorie Blake will offer a tidy little singing skit entitled "A Satire." Their comedy efforts are said to be something out of the ordinary, and Loew fans are promised a real treat at the hands of these capable artists. The Crouch-Richards Trio will offer a classy musical revue of classical and popular selections, that should more than fill the bill. The added features include the ever popular Screen Pictorial and a rattling good comedy feature.

THAT DELICATE FRAGRANCE

which rises from a steaming cup of good coffee is a promise of the pleasure and satisfaction sure to come from its drinking. For good coffee try Rowat's. 70c pound.

"DON'T LIE TO YOUR WIFE" WITH BEAUTY, MUSIC, FUN AT MAJESTIC.

The N. C. Haines Musical Stock Company are presenting one of the best of musical farce hits at the Majestic today, tomorrow and Wednesday "Don't Lie To Your Wife," one of those rollicking, humorous and mirth-provoking productions with a laugh in every line is the attraction. The program is marked by an entire change of costume, and the charming beauty chorus will introduce a number of the newest and latest song and dance numbers of the season.

Miss Irene Glenmoure, the famous little Canadian dancer, will be a feature attraction, as will also be the five vaudeville novelties presented with this production.

The Paramount-Artcraft special "Oh, You Women," starring Ernest Truex and Louis Huff will be the feature film attraction and a special comedy with scenics will complete one of the best programs of entertainment in the city. A real jazz orchestra provides the music.

The Metropole Cafe, a well-known local restaurant carried on at No. 378 Richmond street, London, by Abdul Hameed and Louis Stein, has now been sold to Messrs. Zaffirion Bros., and the new owners will assume possession on July 1, 1920. Messrs. Zaffirion Bros. have had a large experience in this line of business and their reputation and wish has always been to give their customers the best possible service, food and accommodation at reasonable prices, and they are most desirous of obtaining the good-will of all their patrons. Cleanliness has been their motto in the past and will be continued in the future.—Advt. b

A VERITABLE HORSE FAIR IS THE SPARKS CIRCUS.

Despite the fact that the automobile business is increasing month by month, there yet remains the keenest interest in the horse—perhaps not as a beast of burden, but as an animal of symmetry, intelligence and beauty. And that is one of the reasons why the Sparks Big Three-Ring Circus, which is to appear in this city Wednesday, June 30, carries with it a horse fair equalled by no other circus in the world.

In the large tent adjoining the menagerie, the horse fair forms a daily adjunct to the trip into the big show. And so, when the circus arrives and you have paid your admission, do not forget that feature of the circus, for it is worth seeing.

In the fair this year will be found specimens of the purest bred Percherons possible to obtain, as well as representatives of the thoroughbred, standard-bred Suffolk punch, coach horses, hackneys, hunters and horses for general purposes.

The clowns? They always form an important part of any circus—and that is the case with this vast amusement enterprise. Forty of them are present in the performances nearly every minute and their appearance can result in only one thing—laughter and lots of it.

By the way, there is to be the two-mile long parade at 10.30 o'clock the morning of the circus arrival in this city, with all cages open, tableaux wagons and floats of wondrous splendor, herds of elephants and camels—most of them driven in harness, 250 lady riders and cavaliers, all mounted on beautifully caparisoned, spirited horses in splendid fettle. It will be worth coming many miles to see, so don't's miss it. b

ANOTHER LINE OF BUSINESS.

"For years and years I wrote poetry," remarked the affluent-looking stranger. "I wrote it until I was forced by cold and hunger to take up a commercial line."

"What was that?"

"Writing verses."

ATTEMPT TO REGAIN CHILDREN IS OPPOSED

C. A. S. of Opinion Home Unfit For Them—Court Case Enlarged.

An attempt on the part of George and Alice Tanner of the village of Lyons in Elgin County to regain the custody of their children in the weekly high court sessions before Justice Lennox Saturday was strongly opposed by the Children's Aid Society of Woodstock, whose wards the children are at present. The application of the parents who are being denied their children was opposed by the Children's Aid Society on the grounds that the children while in the parents' care were not properly looked after and that conditions are not yet such that the welfare of the children will be guaranteed. The case was enlarged until the first court after the summer vacation.

In the case of the Hook estate, E. W. M. Flock obtained an order for the payment out of court to the executors all moneys standing to the credit of the estate.

In the case of Mathews and Mathews an application was made under the vendors' and purchasers' act to show a valid title could be given. Judgment was reserved. W. C. Brown of Tillsonburg appeared for the vendor and F. H. Greenlees for the purchaser.

In the case of Abraham against the city of Chatham, an application was made for a mandatory order to compel the city to properly dispose of sewerage. The case was adjourned without any day fixed. T. Scullard, Chatham, appeared for the plaintiff, and Lewis and Richards for the city of Chatham.

Regarding the Sarah E. Burns estate, an order was made confirming the report of the local master at London for the sale of real estate on the Wortley road. J. M. Gunn appeared for the motion.

Regarding the Sarah A. Hook estate, an order was made confirming the report of the local master at London on passing accounts of the committee. A. Purdom appeared for the motion, and E. W. M. Flock for the executors.

In the case of Nichols vs. Nichols, an application by E. L. Nichols for a judgment for administration of the estate of the late Lawrence Nichols of Westminster Tiownship, the executors contended that they had been diligent in endeavoring to wind up the estate, but that it was impossible to do so, owing to the moratorium act preventing the sale of mortgages. W. R. Meredith appeared for the motion, and J. B. McKillop for the executors.

Regarding the case of Abdul Hameed, vendor, and Zaffirion Brothers, purchasers, an order was made declaring that the vendors, who tre lessees of the Metropole restaurant, have power to make a valid assignment of their lease to the purchasers. G. H. Tennent appeared for the vendors; W. R. Meredith for the purchasers, and J. A. E. Braden for the landlords, who are the Gibbons estate.

Regarding James Carmichael and Albert G. Hodgins, a motion under the vendors' and purchasers' act on behalf of the purchaser on a question of title, the purchaser's solicitor by letter having stated that he had no instruction, the application was adjourned and may be taken up either here or in Toronto. G. H. Tennent appeared for the motion.

In the case of Lewis against Lewis, an application for alimony, the defendant having been served by advertisement, but failing to appear or file a defence, a motion for judgment was reserved. P. H. Bartlett appeared for the motion.

Re McCann, an application for an increase of allowance to be paid for nursing and board of an aged invalid lady, was granted.

Re Bayliss, an order was made giving leave to serve the widow, residing somewhere in the United States, with a notice of motion, returnable at the first weekly court after vacation, for the purpose of returning an order to fix her dower, and also for payment out of court of certain legacies. P. H. Bartlett appeared for the motion.

CLOSING BANQUET.

The closing meeting of the Etimar Club of St. Paul's Cathedral was held on Friday night in Wong's Cafe. It took the form of a banquet. President Fred Beattie congratulated the club on its successful year. Rev. C. W. Foreman, mentor, gave a resume of the year's work. The boys of this club won the intermediate basketball championship this year. A committee was appointed to attend the boys' national camp at Algonquin Park in August. It is composed of Rev. C. W. Foreman, Fred Beattie and Dave Finlayson.

LITHOGRAPHERS HOLD BANQUET SATURDAY

On the occasion of the installation of the officers of Local 47 of the Amalgamated Lithographers of America, the members held a much-enjoyed and well-attended banquet at the Royal Cafe on Saturday night. A. D. Morrison, W. H. Aitken, president of Local 12, Toronto, and H. Askin, president of Local 12, Hamilton, were the speakers.

Invitations were sent to the owners of the lithographing firms. Letters regretting their inability to attend were received from J. B. Wright and Ray Lawson.

The musical program included a pianoforte selection by J. Russell and songs by F. Henshaw, P. King and J. Finney. Robert Brown presided.

BOYS BURNED.

When a bicycle lamp with which they were playing exploded, Ross Adams, son of Charles Adams, 475 York street, and a little playmate by the name of Jones, were both burned about the hands and face at 8 o'clock on Sunday evening. The former was taken to Victoria Hospital. It is expected that they will be about again within a few days.

GRADUATION EXERCISES.

The graduation exercises of the London Conservatory of Music will be held tomorrow night at the Masonic Temple. An interesting program will be given, and all friends are cordially invited. The diplomas, scholarships, medals and prizes will be presented by the Rev. Leslie Armitage.

ORGANIZATION MEETING.

To form a union of the bolt and iron workers of this city, Organizer Curtis of Hamilton will arrive today. A mass meeting of the trade will be held in the rooms of the Army and Navy Veterans at 8 o'clock this evening.

WOODWARD-HOLBROOKE FAMILY HOLDS REUNION

The annual picnic of the Woodward-Holbrooke family was held at Port Stanley Saturday, when about 150 members were present for an old-fashioned outing. The affair took the form of a family reunion, many coming from a distance to attend. Among the places represented by the merry-makers were London, Detroit, Burgessville, Eden, Bad Axe, St. Thomas, Woodstock and Port Rowan. The success of the picnic was mainly due to the efforts of Mrs. John Griswold of Burgessville, the president of the reunion, and Ernest Woodward of St. Thomas, the secretary.

It was decided on Saturday that the next reunion picnic will be held at Port Stanley.
