DETROIT BOND OFFICE ROBBED OF $10,000 BY BANDITS

RADICAL BODY WHOSE AIM IS SOVIET RULE IN CANADA, DISCOVERED IN HAMILTON

Official Who Resigns From Organization Declares That Objects of Association Include Distribution of Foodstuffs for Unemployed, Share in Profits Made by Employers, and a Demand That Work Be Provided for All.

Hamilton, Jan. 21.—The disquieting information that a radical body, known as the International Soldiers' and Workers' Association, which aimed to establish a form of soviet rule in Canada, had been organized and operating here for more than two weeks, leaked out this morning. An official who resigned from the body's executive on Saturday, declared that in two weeks the association had obtained a membership of nearly 300. Its aims include a distribution of foodstuffs for the unemployed, a just share for the workers of all profits made by employers, a demand that employers be compelled to provide work for all, and in case they refused, that the factories be taken and operated by the workers.

Meetings of the association have been held during the past two weeks in a basement in the northeastern section of the city, and have been attended by men of both foreign and British extraction. On securing sufficient funds it is intended to send delegates to every city in the country to organize branches of the association.

OFFICIAL OPENING OF BIG MOTOR SHOW TAKES PLACE TONIGHT

Mayor Little, Ald. Bridge and W. Hodgins to Officiate.

MANAGER T. C. KIRBY

And Other Officials Have Left Nothing Undone to Make Show Success.

Official opening of the biggest exhibit of motor-driven vehicles that has ever been gathered together in London will take place tonight at the Armories about 8:15 o'clock, the officiating gentlemen being Wilfred Hodgins, president of the show; Mayor E. S. Little and Ald. John Bridge, president of the London Chamber of Commerce.

The doors will be opened to the public at 7 p.m. T. C. Kirby, manager of the show, has announced in order that those who desire to participate in, or witness, the official opening seremony may be able to secure positions.

Every effort possible to make the show one that will mark the advancement of automobile growth not alone in London but in Western Ontario in a manner that will not be easily forgotten, and that shall usher in a new period of activity and growth is being made. Visitors will, it is stated, be present from Ottawa and Montreal, as well as from many distant western points. The efforts of the Automobile Association to promote the success of the show are attracting much attention in all parts of the province.

The show will be open for the whole week and special entertainments have been arranged for each day and the committee in charge of the show have left nothing undone to assure the comfort of visitors to the exhibition. The building has been well heated and seats have been placed in the galleries, so that visitors may rest, and at the same time listen to the musical program which has been arranged.

Large crowds are anticipated according to reports by members of the executive committee, who all declare that greater interest has been shown by manufacturers and the general public in the arrangements for this show than on any previous occasion. For this reason the officials recommend that visitors who desire to see the exhibits in comfort attend as early in the daytime as possible.

Mrs. J. H. Glover and 3 Children Victims of Early Morning Fire

MRS. J. H. GLOVER.

EDITH GLOVER.

GRACE GLOVER.

MARGARET GLOVER.

BATHURST ST. WOMAN AND THREE CHILDREN DIE AS RESULT OF SUFFOCATION IN EARLY MORNING FIRE

Mrs. James H. Glover and Small Family Discovered Dead in Bed by Firemen at 6:20 a. m.—Father Notified While at Work—Inquest Ordered for 8 O'clock Tonight.

Mrs. James H. Glover, 519 Bathurst street, and her three children, Edith, Grace and Margaret, aged 8 years, 5 years and 18 months respectively, were suffocated in bed when fire broke out in their home at 6:20 o'clock this morning. Two other children, Louis, aged 12, and Agnes, aged 10, are wards of the Children's Aid Society, and are on a farm near London. An inquest has been ordered for 8 o'clock this evening in Logan's undertaking rooms. Dr. J. C. Wilson will conduct it.

About 6 o'clock, Glover stated, he made breakfast for himself and the boarder. Then he went to work. At 6:20 o'clock the alarm was turned in at the central fire hall. Twenty minutes later the pulmotor was brought to the house, but it was of no avail, for the four lives were already extinct. At 7:22 o'clock the firemen returned to their halls.

The firemen say that Glover was very much concerned about some money that he stated was in the house and which his wife intended to send to her mother today. He produced an empty purse and said that the money had been in it when he last saw it. He could not say the amount that was in the purse, the firemen say. As soon as Glover registered his complaint, Assistant Chief John Mitchell summoned Inspector of Detectives Thomas Nickle. Search failed to reveal the money that was claimed to have been lost.

No Insurance.

Mrs. Glover was an English war widow. The four oldest children were Glover's step-children, but the youngest was his own daughter. Although he owned his own home and furniture, he did not have it insured. He had his family insured for $200. Prior to serving in the war, Glover served several years in the imperial army.

When the firemen arrived on the scene they found the door between the kitchen and the dining-room closed. The fire was for the most part confined to the kitchen, but the heat and smoke which had escaped under the door was intense in other parts of the house.

Had the door been open the family would probably have received sufficient warning to escape, it was said. As the heat was confined to the kitchen at first, it and the smoke would go up stairs in a wave as soon as it escaped from the room. This would overcome the occupants before they had a chance to call for aid.

The funeral will be held at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning from Logan's undertaking parlors. Services will be conducted at 10:30 o'clock. Interment will be made at Mount Pleasant Cemetery. An effort to make it possible for the children who are in foster-homes to attend the funeral will be made.

The Last Words.

"'Good morning, dad,' were the last words Marie said to me," said Mr. Glover to an Advertiser reporter this morning. "I arose from bed at about 5 o'clock, and went downstairs and lit the kitchen stove. I put the teapot on the stove, and then set the breakfast table. When the tea was made I took a cup to Marie and the baby, Margaret Ann. After she had finished the tea, I kissed her and baby, and then closed the bedroom door all but about two inches. She said she would sleep for another hour. I then went to the room of Grace and Edith and kissed them, and then woke Harry Thompson, the boarder. I went downstairs, and he followed immediately. We had breakfast together, and then we both left for work.

"Before leaving the house I took careful notice that the drafts on the stove were not open. Harry left me at the corner of Maitland and York streets at 6 o'clock. I went to the station, and got all my tools out ready for work. At 6:45 o'clock Mr. Crooks, the night agent at the station, came to me and told me that my house was on fire. I dropped everything I had and ran to my home. When I arrived there it was burning, and I experienced some difficulty in getting near the house, as the fireman held me back. I met one of my neighbors, and he told me the family was in his house. I got there, and met Dr. Banghart and he told me that they were all dead. In all my life I never had such a shock. Even at this, I did not believe the doctor, and not until I had seen my poor wife and the three kiddies lying there, could I believe they were gone."

LARGE CROWDS PAY LAST RESPECTS TO LATE REV. W. J. KNOX

Public Funeral One of Largest Witnessed in City in Years.

SERVICE IN CHURCH

Boys of Sunday School Attend Funeral in a Body.

One of the largest public funerals held in London for some years marked the burial of Rev. W. J. Knox, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Mount Pleasant Cemetery this afternoon. At 2 o'clock a private service was held at the home of Mr. Knox, 244 Hyman street and the casket was afterwards removed to the First Presbyterian Church where a largely attended public service was held.

Rev. J. W. M. Crawford of Westminster, moderator of the Presbytery presided at the public service and Rev. D. C. MacGregor read the funeral service.

Rev. W. R. McIntosh in a brief address drew attention to the great strength of character of Rev. Mr. Knox and outlined his activities along the lines of religious education for every boy and girl in the community.

Rev. J. M. Duncan, representing the Board of Presbyterian Publications, Rev. Dr. C. Robertson, general secretary of the assembly and Professor T. Black of Boston University were also present.

When the cortege left the church a large number of the boys of the First Presbyterian Sunday School walked in a body from the church to Dundas Street Bridge. The pallbearers acting at the house and to the church were: Kenneth Graham, John Stuart, John Anderson, C. G. Jarvis, Mr. Murray of Strathroy and T. Bapty. Those acting from the church to the cemetery were: C. G. Watson, Mr. Morris of Pembroke, C. G. Scott of Strathroy, G. H. Gillespie, William Turnbull and E. E. Reid.

A profusion of flowers from the various church organizations, clubs, relatives and businessmen of the city adorned the casket.

RELIEF WILL BE GIVEN TO THOSE ACTUALLY IN NEED; DEPUTATION IS INFORMED

Mayor E. S. Little States City Will Not Invoke Provincial or Federal Aid Until Absolutely Necessary—Does Not Favor Any Lax System.

Positive assurance that relief will be given by the city to every person who is actually in need of it, was given by Mayor Little today, following a conference on unemployment with representatives of the labor organizations. The city will do this without invoking the aid of either the Provincial or the Dominion governments unless the burden exceeds the ability of the city to bear it.

The delegation, which was composed of President Arthur Mould of the Trades and Labor Council, A. Vinen, J. McGuire, F. D. Burke and Ald. John Ashton, said that its chief object was to learn whether adequate measures were being taken to provide relief. They suggested that the same plan be adopted here as in Toronto and Hamilton, where relief is given out by the city, two-thirds of the cost being borne by the Provincial and Dominion government.

Mayor Little pointed out that this would not be any improvement on the methods now being followed here, except that it would lessen the expense to the city. So far there had been no question of the ability and willingness of the city to grant relief funds, he said, and as long as possible the council wished to avoid asking Government assistance. Some members of the deputation argued that the Government funds would enable the city to widen the scope of its relief work.

The mayor replied that he did not favor putting in force too lax a system as this might do much harm to the persons it was intended to benefit. He believed that it was better to spend the money on public improvements than on direct relief work. In one way it is going to cost the city more to do all this work in the winter than it would have to give relief directly, but I believe it is the better plan. Most men would sooner do some kind of work for the money they get, and we will provide all we can," he added.

"At the same time no one who needs relief will go without it if we know of it. Under normal conditions there is sometimes a stigma attached to the action of obtaining relief from the city. But these are abnormal times and anyone who is really up against it should not hesitate to make his case known. There are many men who would starve before they would ask for help of any kind. We don't want to see anything like that happen, and if some of their friends or an organization will bring the case to our attention it will be cared for."

The mayor explained the city system of hiring men through the employment bureau at the East London Hall. In some instances where it was impossible to provide work and the men had been out of work for long periods, they were given a note to Relief Inspector McCallum. All these cases but one had been given help, the mayor said.

He promised the delegation that the same consideration would be shown cases of a similar nature which were recommended by the Ontario Labor Bureau or by private individuals. Labor organizations could help by reporting such cases as well, he said.

The delegation said there were 800 men in the city who had been out of work more than three months.

GREECE PLANS TO FIGHT MOVE TO REVISE PACT

Premier Rhallis Declares His Country Will Resist Attempt to Change Treaty.

LOOKS TO AMERICA

King Constantine Expected to Sign Credentials of Greek Delegates.

Athens, Jan. 31.—Greece will resist any attempt to revise the Allied-Turkish treaty at the conference to begin in London on February 21, Premier Rhallis indicated yesterday. He asserted Greece was occupying Smyrna by virtue of a mandate from the Allies, and expressed conviction that the United States would say the final word as to the alterations in the terms of the treaty. While discussing the conference to be held in London, it was said by M. Rhallis that King Constantine would probably sign the credentials of the Greek delegates.

QUEBEC GOVERNMENT NOT LIKELY TO PUT UP $20,000,000 FUND

Proposal to Relieve Housing Problem Not Received With Much Enthusiasm.

Quebec, Jan. 31.—A campaign started by certain circles in Montreal towards having the Provincial Government float a loan of twenty million dollars for a housing scheme has been noted here in legislative circles with a very mild degree of interest. There is no prospect of the Government giving its countenance to any such proposition. The total debt of the province is $38,000,000, and there would not be any support here towards a proposal to almost double it in a scheme that is speculative, out of the line of sound provincial enterprise, and at best described only as a remedy on a very small scale for a temporary condition. Twenty million dollars would build only five thousand houses at four thousand dollars each, and this would be but a drop in the bucket, and at the same time would not encourage private building enterprises. Government circles here hope that the abnormal housing situation of today will be relieved in a normal manner and within a relatively short space of time because of the lower cost of materials and wages due in the spring.

MRS. GORDON WRIGHT NOT APPOINTED TO IMMIGRATION STAFF

Official Denial to Report Received From Ottawa

"Absolutely no truth at all about it," was Mrs. Gordon Wright's declaration today in reference to the report carried in this morning's edition of The Advertiser to the effect that Mrs. Wright had been appointed Dominion Woman Immigration Officer in the London district.

The story was given to The Advertiser by Secretary J. W. Cunliffe of the G. W. V. A., who stated that he had been informed by a former officer of the association of the appointment on Saturday morning, was used in good faith. On the strength of the information Mr. Cunliffe declared that the local Great War Veterans are intending to lodge a strong protest with the Dominion Government on the grounds that it had violated its promise to the returned soldiers and nurses that such positions should be filled by veterans of war.

Two years ago an immigration council was formed at Ottawa, the members of the council being the national presidents of the various patriotic and women's organizations, and as a national president of one of these organizations Mrs. Wright became a member of the immigration council.

J. W. Cunliffe, secretary of the local G. W. V. A., received the following telegram from C. G. MacNeil, Dominion secretary, at 12:45 today:

"Reference to press reports about appointment of Mrs. Gordon Wright to position of Dominion immigration officer, I state facts as revealed, that you may take action to remove apparent misapprehension. Mrs. Wright has not been appointed to the position and was never a candidate at any time. She was merely a member of the examining board as representative of the local council of Women. In fairness I must state that the commission in process of selections for these appointments have given all the consideration possible under existing legislation to applicants with overseas service, even to the extent of permitting representation on advisory boards rating applicants.

"(Signed), C. G. MACNEIL."

The thirteenth victim, Miss Blanche Kahler, 38, of Jersey City, died today in a hospital here. Two men, badly burned, are in the institution, where it was said their condition is serious. Two investigations were under way today as a result of the fire. Fire department officials started an inquiry to determine the cause of the fire, while the police department investigated the manner in which the hotel was conducted. Charges of Fire Chief Gilday of Hoboken that whiskey bottles were found in some of the rooms caused the second investigation.

The bodies of five of the victims, three women and two men, remained unidentified this morning.

PADEREWSKI WILL RETIRE TO ESTATE IN SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

Warsaw, Jan. 31.—Notwithstanding the announcement of the resignation of Ignace Jan Paderewski as Poland's delegate to the League of Nations, his friends here contend that the report publishd in Warsaw newspapers was given out intentionally by his political enemies.

Paderewski, they say, will continue to hold his post.

Paderewski has been resting on his estate in Switzerland since the Geneva conference, and plans to depart early in February for the United States. He will go to his estate in Southern California, there to remain indefinitely.

ROWELL LIKELY TO LEAVE PUBLIC LIFE AT AN EARLY DATE

Expected to Resign His Seat in Durham Riding.

MAY RE-ENTER FIELD

Believed He Might Aspire to Provincial Legislature Seat.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, Jan. 31.—"I have no news to give out," said Hon. N. W. Rowell, M. P. for Durham, and former president of the Privy Council, just before he went in to see Premier Meighen this morning.

Mr. Rowell attended the funeral of the late Rt. Hon. A. L. Sifton last week, but this is his first official visit since his resignation from the Government, many months ago.

It has been rumored that Mr. Rowell contemplates complete retirement by resigning his seat in Durham, and Mr. Rowell has declined either to confirm or deny that rumor. In Ottawa, however, considerable credence is given to it. Mr. Rowell retired with Sir Robert Borden from the Government and declined to be resworn into the Meighen cabinet.

Reasons for Retirement.

His reasons for retirement were not made public in extenso, but it has generally been believed he considered his connection with the Government ceased when the new National Liberal and Conservative party took the place of the Union Government. Since his retirement he has been more or less of a free lance, though he was chosen as one of Canada's delegates to Geneva. He is now handling the Ontario Government's case against the Shevlin, Clark and other lumber companies.

Mr. Rowell, it is believed, would not feel any more at home on the Government side of the House under the changed circumstances than would Hon. A. K. MacLean, who has decided to rejoin the Liberals. Already, however, the Liberals have nominated W. T. R. Preston against Mr. Rowell in Durham, a fact which would indicate that he is not welcome to the left of the speaker.

There is a general impression that Mr. Rowell will retire for a time to private practice, and there are rumors that he may again enter the provincial field.

DOES POCKETBOOK CONTAIN STORY OF AN UNTOLD ROMANCE

Prisoner's Notebook Appears to Contain Evidences of Such.

Were Norman Garfield and Kitty Garfield, upon whose cases so much interest has been bestowed lately, the principals in a little romance? The contents of a notebook which the former had in his possession when arrested, seem to indicate that they were. In the book was written "Norman Garfield—L" and "Kitty Inch—C." Anyone into whose life at any time has come a love affair will remember the age-old practice of sweethearts writing their names side by side and then striking out the letters in each name. Then the remaining letters are counted and the words, "friendship, love, courtship, marriage," substituted. The result was that for Norman it spelled love and for Kitty courtship. However, that is probably as far as the affair progressed, for Kitty claims to be the wife of Denton Garfield, Norman's brother.

The only other entries in the book were "C 2 12777" and "C 1 86766" on the page dated Thursday, April 16.

Krassin Receives Frigid Welcome In Red's Capital

Copenhagen, Jan. 31.—Leonid Krassin, the Soviet representative who carried on the negotiations in London for the Anglo-Russian commercial agreement, received only a lukewarm welcome in Moscow when he returned recently with a draft of the proposed treaty, the national Tidende says it has learned. Both Premier Lenine and Maxim Litvinoff, of the Soviet commissariat, consider the terms of the treaty unacceptable, the newspaper declares.

SEVENTY-FOUR CITIZENS DIE THIS MONTH

Thirty-Four Less Than Record for January, 1920.

116 BOUNCING BABIES

Born to Fond and Doting Parents—Marriage Bells Ring for 55 Couples.

Like many old adages, the one which declared that a green winter meant a fat churchyard must now go in the discard, if London's vital statistics for the first month of the year are anything by which to judge. Few winters could be greener than the present one, yet the grim reaper claimed only 74 citizens during the 31 days of January. Forty-five of these were males. This is exactly 38 less than in January last year, when there were 112 deaths. Last winter was one of the coldest in the history of the city, and many inches of snow hid all indications of green grass and herbs from sight. The influenza epidemic at that time added greatly to the toll, but the epidemic may have been greatly increased by the cold weather. Sixty-eight males died that month and 44 females.

Not only is the outlook for the year a promising one from this standpoint, but the birth rate also is higher. There were 116 births during the month, 64 bouncing baby boys and 52 girls. This compared favorably with January, 1920, when there were 109 births, 56 boys and 53 girls.

January was not as popular as a marriage month as it was in 1920. There were only 55 marriages this year, compared to 60 in 1920.

WOULD COMMUTE DEBS' SENTENCE

Washington, D. C., Jan. 31. — President Wilson refused today to commute the ten-year sentence imposed upon Eugene Debs for violation of the espionage act.

WILL CREATE COMMISSION TO DISTRIBUTE GRANTS IN QUEBEC

Quebec, Jan. 31.—The Provincial Government will shortly bring in a bill providing for the creation of a commission to supervise the distribution of provincial grants to charitable and other institutions. The commission will take over the amusement taxes all over the province, and give each municipality one-half of the amount collected in its boundaries, with the proviso that this half shall go to the institutions. The other half of the commission will distribute as it sees fit in all parts of the province. For an institution to be entitled to assistance from the fund of the commission it will be necessary that the municipalities in which such institutions are located shall contribute to their support, with the exception, however, that this shall not apply to municipalities where there is no revenue from amusements. In such cases the commission will aid the institutions whether the municipalities do so or not. This really means that the test of whether a municipality can aid a hospital or other institution is determined by whether it can get anything from amusements.

A New May Christie Story

The Advertiser announces the publication of another compelling, heart-gripping love story by May Christie, author of "The Marriage of Anne." May Christie is one of the most popular and highly-paid writers of newspaper serials in the world. Her stories overflow with vivacity and charm. "For Love of Betty" is a genuine love story, with as strong an heart appeal as the "Rosary." There is action, mystery, duplicity and treachery through which the hero and heroine win to peace and love. It is the sweetest and most humanly appealing of the May Christie serials. The first chapter will be in Tuesday's edition, and will run through all editions of The Advertiser daily.

LIBERAL LEADER SCORED "BROADENING OUT" POLICY

Following is the report in full of Hartley Dewart's criticism of Premier Drury's "broadening-out" policy:

Since the last session we have heard on more than one occasion of impending changes which the leader of the Farmer and Labor groups in this House desires to bring about. Particularly at Chatham and at Welland did we learn from his public utterances of some kind of a "broadening out" process which he believes he is undergoing, and he suggests that there should be a "broadening out" of the groups that he represents.

A little retrospect may not be amiss. These are not the only occasions upon which he has spoken. It is interesting to note some of his varying utterances from the time that he first entered the provincial arena, down to his latest utterance at Milton, before his own constituents.

The leader of the Farmers' group is a real political chameleon. He has such a wonderful facility for changing his political hue to suit the company that he keeps.

Speaking at Fenelon Falls, under the influence of the reverend member for South Victoria, in the summer of 1919, he declared "that between the U. F. O. and the dead, defunct and discredited Liberal organization, there can be neither amalgamation, unification nor indorsation."

Shortly after practically the same view was expressed by the then President Halbert of the U. F. O., at a meeting near Woodstock.

But the leader of the Farmers' group has "broadened out" since then. It is true it is a far call from these declarations in June and July of 1919 to the premier's utterance at Chatham in December last and at Milton in the present month. But the S. O. S. has been sent out, and the watchword now is, "Whosoever will may come."

There had been indications of the coming change when he was speaking at an Independent Labor gathering at Wabasso Park, near Hamilton, on his picnic tour last August, and referring to the alliance of Labor and Farmer "to build up the country against those who would exploit it," he said. "As he had assumed the leadership of both the Farmers and Labor in the Government, he counted himself as belonging as much to one as to the other."

But the real "broadening out" process seems to have begun in Chatham, in the constituency of my honorable friend from West Kent. The morning papers had misquoted him. I do not know any man in publqic life, who has had the misfortune of being so often misquoted or misunderstood.

It was not unnatural that the U. F. O. party which had been the stepping stone to the premier's political advancement should object to obliterate itself. "The People's Progressive Party" was certainly a large gulp, but while denying that the U. F. O. and Labor parties were liable to split, it was quite evident that he thought that a new party name was needed—if his appeal was to be successful in West Kent.

But it was at Milton, on the eve of the session, to be exact, on January 14, 1921, that the premier made it finally clear as to what were his personal views.

As might have been anticipated, this unexpected declaration which appeared to portend some important political revolution in the Farmer-Labor Government did not pass unnoticed by those who represent the sentiment of the farmers of the province, and were responsible for whatever success the farmers had achieved in the election of October, 1919.

Mr. J. J. Morrison, secretary of the U. F. O. tells us that the U. F. O organization is in politics to stay.

Mr. Bunnaby the new president of the U. F. O., is not less outspoken, on this matter.

But the considered judgment of the organ of the U. F. O. of Ontario appears in the Farmers' Sun of January 19 of this year. The editor of the paper knew the premier's mind—he understood what he meant. He realized that what was intended was a recruiting campaign from the ranks of the other parties in the Legislature, and he did not hesitate to say so. The editor realized that the "broadening out" process was simply a bait to attract others—just a policy of sniping—and his fair-minded view was that the farmers had already shown their willingness to co-operate with others, holding views that harmonized with theirs. They would continue to show that willingness to co-operate.

Secretary Morrison has asserted clearly what his position was when they found the duty of forming a Government imposed upon them by the lieutenant-governor. He thought that a Government should be formed in which all parties in the Legislature should be represented, with representation in the cabinet of Liberal, Conservative and Labor parties in the Legislature, as well as a majority to the Farmer group, but he tells us he was overruled and his policy of co-operation under the difficult conditions that then existed, when no party had a majority in the House, was not accepted.

Under the new "broadening out" process all classes of the community are to be represented, even the despised lawyer—the merchant, the manufacturer may come in.

I was interested in noticing in the issue of the Farmers' Sun of January 19 "The Provincial Platform of the U. F. O." It was there stated that: "At a recent meeting of representatives of the U. F. O. held at the office of the organization in Toronto the following political platform was formally adopted," and as I read the platform I was struck with the remarkable similarity to the platform as enunciated in August of 1919, when a number of new planks were inserted to keep pace with the policy laid down by the Ontario Liberal convention the previous June. Turning back to the Farmers' Sun of the 10th of September, 1919, I found it there stated that "at a meeting of all the candidates then appointed the following platform was adopted for the U. F. O. and is the basis on which the candidates are taking their stand.' And as I compared the two platforms I found that there was not a solitary change than had been made from September 10, 1919 to January 19, 1921, in the political platform of the Farmers' group, which my honorable friend has the honor to lead. Surely no comment is necessary.

What party stood for the broader idea in the election of 1919?

What party appealed to every section and class in the community?

What was the attitude of the Farmer group with reference to the recall?

When Capt. Mowbray, the gallant officer from East Kent and member of the U. F. O was prepared to accept the nomination without the recall, what was the action of the convention?

Was this pledge demanded of the present minister of agriculture when a seat was prepared for him in East Kent?

Clark, registrar—Was this the price that had to be paid?

Was this pledge demanded of the attorney-general when an adjustment was made so that he might accept the seat in East Wellington?

Was this pledge demanded of the premier when he coveted the vineyards of Halton?

When this triumvirate, without having been elected by the suffrages of the people at a general election, were selected to govern the province, they were returned without the pledges that were demanded of those who had appealed upon the Farmers' platform at the general election.

DOHERTY'S NOMINATION.

If this broader idea is the idea that is to prevail, why was the minister of agriculture nominated in the general election to run a poor third as a U. F. O. candidate? Two thousand votes behind both Liberal and Conservative to compass the defeat of W. J. Lowe, who had stood for honesty and put the profiteering horse dealer out of business?

Why was the broader idea not adopted in North Huron, where Mr. Fraser, a member of the U. F. O., had, during his short period in the House, advocated the interests, particularly of the farmer, and of all classes in the community?

Why was he opposed, so that a Conservative might be elected?

Why was a candidate for the U. F. O. nominated in Lennox in a three-cornered fight against Carlton Woods, the Liberal candidate, who was standing for the same principles as the U. F. O. candidate, who compassed his defeat and secured the election of a Conservative in Lennox?

In the campaign of 1919 the Liberal party showed the broadness of its policy and of its valued views by refraining from nominating candidates in 39 constituencies and enabling the United Farmers to return as the party with the largest numerical strength in the House. We tilled the ground, we sowed the seed, but we have to admit that some of the harvest-hands came in and took a larger share of the crop than those who had sown the grain. Analyze the vote:

Conservatives	391,278
Liberals	333,550
*U. F. O.	258,090
*Labor	131,394
Independent	56,256
Total	1,170,568

*389,484 jointly; less than one-third of total vote.

Which party was the people's party?

Which party made the defeat of the Hearst Government sure?

What I said of the Liberal party last session I may repeat now:

For years the Liberal party in the Legislature was fighting the battle of all the people against an autocratic Government that proposed to maintain itself in power by the manipulation of the powers of government.

THE LIBERAL RECORD.

"It was the Liberal battle for moral reform that resulted in advanced temperance legislation.

"It was the Liberal battle for the franchise for women which resulted in concessions for which the party who had always them immediately claimed credit.

"It was the Liberal party which fought with such effect for the appointment of a responsible minister of labor, that the principle was conceded and a bill passed in the dying hours of the session of 1919.

"These, I said, are a few of the measures that I might refer to. The Liberal party was fighting the battle of the people against an autocratic Government.

"Where we fought others may possess the temporary fruits of our victory, but the success is a common success in which we share. We were maligned, misinterpreted or misunderstood; we have proved true to our faith. We have demonstrated the principles for which we have stood, and we propose that no detraction shall allow the Liberal party to be misunderstood or misrepresented."

And today, I say, there is room for the farmers of the Province of Ontario and for the fair-minded Labor men in the Province of Ontario, in alliance with or as a part of a party which was good enough for the premier's father and for my father—for my honorable friend and for myself as late as 1917. It is a party which has enunciated a platform and policy which is democratic and progressive. It is a party which is giving fair-minded support to fair legislation—whether it comes from farmer or artisan—for the advancement of urban or rural interests—for the professional man or for the merchant or businessman, for the interest of honest and decent sport or to protect religious and moral welfare. It is a party that stands against fraud—for the protection of the public domain and for the recovery of the moneys to which the people of this province are justly entitled.

THE TIMBER FRAUDS.

The policy of investigating the timber frauds in this province was a part of the policy upon which we went to the people and which must be carried on so that the province shall regain every dollar to which it is entitled.

In view of all these facts, may I say to my honorable friend: It is not "broadening out" to represent in the Farmers' Sun of January 19 inst., three days after the premier's Milton speech, "that at a recent meeting of representatives of the U. F. O." a political platform was adopted which is the platform adopted by all the candidates that had been appointed up to the beginning of September, 1919, and identical with the platform published in the Farmers' Sun of September 10, 1919.

It is not "broadening out" to talk of throwing the Liberal party, as one of the two old political parties, into the scrap heap as if the Farmer group was ushering in a new political era.

It is not "broadening out" to play the part of the Pharisee and thank God you are not as other men are, and claim the whole credit for what is due to the hearty and whole-hearted co-operation of others.

It is not "broadening out" to allow your groups to be used to exploit the legal cards and crotchets of a theorist, whom the exigencies of your position has clothed with a little brief authority.

It is not "broadening out" to adopt a policy of sniping or looking around for the damaged and bruised windfalls that are shaken or dropped from the party trees.

Let no one be deceived. Nay, I say to my honorable friend—do not deceive yourself as leader of the parliamentary Farmer-Labor groups in the House.

The manifest intention of the "broadening out" is not co-operation between those who may have similar views and progressive ideas, but the autocratic exercise of the power of Government by absorption and by the elimination of opposition.

But we shall continue to give every fair measure the support to which it is entitled—to endeavor by constructive criticism to make the legislation that is introduced effective and workable—to introduce as a party ourselves such measures as we believe to be in the best interests of all sections of the people and to hold the Government of the day to a strict account of its stewardship. And when the time comes to appeal to the people of this province, we shall be able to confidently appeal to the people, having stood upon a platform that needs no "broadening out," because men of every creed and class and every section of the community will know that, whoever may have fallen by the wayside, we have not proved unfaithful to the great and democratic trust that we have undertaken to represent and serve all the people in the interest of all the people as the elected representatives of all classes of the people.

CIVIL SERVICE OFFICIALS OF S. A. ARE DISSATISFIED

London, Jan. 31.—(Canadian Press.)—A cable from Johannesburg to the Canadian Associated Press says that the civil service of the Union of South Africa is seething with discontent owing to the delay in rectification of the scales of pay. Many of the younger officials are reported to be strongly in favor of direct action, especially in view of the success of the recent strike of bank clerks. The older men with families and responsibilities have hitherto been able to hold the extremists in check, but the position is becoming more menacing.

PLAN TO SAFEGUARD SUPPLY OF MILK

NINE U. S. SOLDIERS WILL BE TRIED AS RESULT OF LYNCHING

Alleged to Have Taken Prisoner From Southern Jail and Shot Him to Death.

Hamilton, Ala., Jan. 31.—The trial of Sergt. Robert L. Lancaster, one of nine members of Company M, Alabama National Guard, who with a civilian, were indicted in connection with the lynching of William Baird, a miner, on the morning of January 13, was set to begin here late today. Each of the ten men will be given separate trials.

On December 22, during the time Company M was stationed at Townley, centre of the coal mine strike zone, James Morris, one of the guardsmen, shot and killed John Northcutt, a miner, after the miner was said to have attempted to kill the soldier. Morris sent another soldier to notify his commanding officer while he remained with the body. When the party sent from camp reached the scene, Morris was dead with a bullet-hole in his body. It was claimed he had been shot in the back. Baird, son-in-law of Northcutt, was sought, and on Christmas night surrendered to the sheriff of Winston County. Two days later Baird was taken to the Walker County Jail at Jaspar. It was from this jail that on the morning of January 13 he was [illegible] band of disguised men, carried some distance out of town in an automobile, and shot to death by the roadside. The arrests and indictment of the soldiers followed as a result of information supplied by a taxi driver, who admitted having driven the lynching party.

MRS. IDA HAMBURGH of Brattleboro, Vt., who says she never dreamed there was anything on earth that would do what Tanlac has done for her. Gains twenty-seven pounds.

"I think it is perfectly marvelous the way Tanlac has built me up. Before I began taking it I was in wretched health, and only weighed 117 pounds. I now weigh 144 pounds, and my health is splendid.

"I never dreamed that there was a medicine on earth that would cause me to regain my former weight and health so short a time, but Tanlac did it, and I simply cannot tell you how grateful I am to this wonderful medicine.

"I suffered for two years from indigestion and dyspepsia, and was in a very badly run-down condition. I had attired, worn-out feeling nearly all of the time, and rarely had any appetite. At times I would have indigestion so badly that I could hardly breathe. I also suffered from palpitation of the heart, severe headaches and pains in my back, but thanks to Tanlac, all of these terrible symptoms have left me, and I now feel as well as I ever felt in my life.

"Another thing, I sleep just splendidly each night now, and never suffer from nervousness like I used to. Tanlac is certainly a wonderful medicine, and I am only too delighted to recommend it to my friends." The above statement was made recently by Mrs. Ida Hamburgh of 316 S. Main street, Brattleboro, Vermont.

Tanlac is sold in London by Standard Drug, Limited, and by an established agency in every town. b

KINGSTON - CHIPPAWA POWER PLANT SHOULD OPERATE BY DECEMBER

E. V. Buchanan Returns From Electrical Convention.

INTERVIEWS THE PREMIER

E. C. Drury Has Made Close Study of Hydro From Every Angle.

That the Kingston-Chippawa hydro power plant will be n operation before the stress of winter is again felt was the firmly expressed opinion of General Manager E. V. Buchanan of the London P. U. C., today as the result of the reports he heard presented at Toronto during the conference of the Municipal Electrical Engineers' Association last week. He believes that the plant will be supplying power in September next or at the latest by December.

In regard to the Drury Government's proposal to place a provincial tax on the municipal hydro commissions to cover the cost of providing electrical power to the farmers of the province, the conference went on record as unanimously opposing such a plan. Some question was raised as to the right of the electrical engineers as employees expressing any opinion on matters of departmental or government policy. After discussion, it was decided to send a verbatim report of the discussion to each member of the M. E. E. A.

During his visit to Toronto Mr. Buchanan had an interview with Premier Drury relative to the government's desire to provide the farmers with equal electrical facilities to that provided the municipalities as part of an effort to make life on the farm more endurable and thereby check the desertion of the farms for town and city life.

Mr. Buchanan expressed the opinion that the premier had made a close study of the problem and that he was also quite open to learning more about it with the intent of arriving at a proper solution.

Replying to a question by Mr. Drury as to what would be done with the 500,000 horsepower of electrical energy which will be produced from the Chippawa scheme is completed, if the farmers are not supplied. Mr. Buchanan pointed out that all the farmers in the Niagara district, which includes the area within a 200-mile radius of the Niagara power station, would not use more than 10,000 horsepower, a comparatively small proportion of the whole.

Personally Mr. Buchanana is convinced that the claim of the hydro commission that the cost of supplying power to the farmers should be met on a similar basis to that by which the Government is encouraging the building of good roads, namely, that the Government should undertake to pay 40 per cent of the cost of installation and that the rural municipalities assume the maintenance in the same manner as has been done by the urban municipalities. Under this plan Mr. Buchanan believes it would be possible for the farmers as well as the urban dwellers to have hydro-electric power within a comparatively short time at practically cost price and without the need of penalizing the cities, towns and villages in order to meet their needs.

ARRIVES HOME AFTER VACATION IN ENGLAND

Sir Adam Beck Refuses to Make Comment on Hydro Development.

Sir Adam Beck, chairman of the hydro-electric commission, arrived in London today from England, prepared to actively resume his duties as head of the hydro system. He declined to make any comment on the recent recommendations of the commission investigating the hydro system that taxes be levied on this public utility in the same manner as on private enterprises of that nature.

"We were expecting something of that kind before I left for England, but we were not sure just what it would be," he said. "I have not been home long enough to get any idea of what has just been done. I suppose the proposal has been made in a report to the Government. I would like to have time to look into it before making any comment."

Sir Adam stated that his trip to the old country had been largely for vacation purposes. He was not closely in touch with the business events.

He was greatly shocked when told by The Advertiser of Dr. H. A. McCallum's death. "The doctor was a public-spirited citizen of the highest type," he said. "I am deeply sorry to hear of his sudden death, as I believed he had many more years of useful service before him. He took a deep interest in all things for the welfare of the city, both in public health and business enterprises. He will be greatly missed, and it will be very difficult to fill his place."

After two new candidates had been initiated into the mysteries of Forestry, the following officers were installed: C. R., Bro. Jas. C. Young; P. C. R., Bro. T. Cavanaugh; chaplain, Bro. E. Allen; financial secretary, Bro. W. W. Smith; recording secretary, Bro. E. A. Reed; treasurer, Bro. H. O. Hunt; S. W., Bro. W. Liddle; J. W., Bro. Liddleton; S. B., Bro. A. Thomas; J. B., Bro. B. TURK NATIONALIST LEADER AWAITING ALLIED INVITATION

Mustapha Kemal Pasha Declares Angora Govt. Only Real One in Turkey.

Constantinople, Jan. 31.—Mustapha Kemal Pasha, the Turkish Nationalist leader, has notified the Turkish grand vizier that, as the Angora Government is the only real one in Turkey, it awaits a direct invitation from the allies to attend the London conference in February with representatives of the allies to discuss the Turkish peace treaty. The Angora arbitration, Mustapha Kemal says, will make its acceptance of the invitation subject to the conditions that foreign troops immediately evacuate all Turkish territory and that no indemnity payments be required.

Newspapers here friendly to the allies describe the London conference as Turkey's new chance. Local Greeks received the news that the conference would be held sorrowfully, saying they considered that it would place the Greeks on a level with the Turks whom formerly they were in a position to dictate to them when former Premier Venizelos participated in the councils of the allies.

In Turkish circles joy was expressed, the Turks regarding the conference as a sign of their growing importance. The Nationalists probably will send Izzet Pasha, head of the Turkish peace mission which went to Angora, and others to the London conference if the allies pay the expenses of the mission.

WARDSVILLE TO HAVE SHORT COURSE IN AGRICULTURE

Assurance that a sort course in agriculture would be held in Wardsville from February 7 to 18, was given today by R. A. Finn, representative of the local department of agriculture. The course will be held under the direction of the departments of agriculture of Middlesex and Elgin, co-operating with the farmers' clubs.

The following subjects will be taught: Fruit growing, vegetable growing, poultry, live stock judging, feeds and feeding, fertilizing, public speaking, farm crops and farm accounts. It is hoped by Mr. Finn that special speakers will be secured on the subject of heavy horses and beef cattle, fruit, poultry and special crops.

It was hoped that a short course for the women would be held, but so far no demonstrators in domestic science have been found available. A course in home nursing has been suggested as a substitute, however, although no action has yet been taken.

PLOTTING CROOKS AND ADVENTURERS SWARM IN VIENNA

Political Intrigues Are Thick Among Refugees From Many Places.

MUCH SPURIOUS MONEY

Curb Dealers in Exchange Manipulate Rates and Fleece Unwary.

Vienna, Jan. 27.—Vienna continues to exercise an irresistible charm on all those accustomed to the narrow and often dangerous conditions in Eastern and Southeastern Europe. For the residents of many Russian, Polish and Hungarian communities, Vienna is an El Dorado, with luxurious comfort and a safety of existence which they have missed since the beginning of the war. Thus it has been an asylum for all sorts of refugees and adventurers from the time of the first Russian invasion into Galicia to the present day.

The chief contingent has been contributed by Eastern Jews of all nationalities, but besides these there is also a constant influx of other people of various categories, especially since Austria became a democratic republic. Hungarian Bolsheviks and Russian counter-revolutionaries, Ukrainians, anti-Czech Slovaks, anti-Serbian Croats, former Austrian state officials of German nationality who were dismissed by the governments of the new national states, all have come to Vienna and are trying to spin intrigues against the countries of their origin or to find a living.

And for not a few ethics is not what counts. Instead of the expected depopulation of the Austrian capital, it is overpopulated, and this has added greatly to the difficulty of provisioning the city.

As the line between honest and illegal trade has become hard to determine in the present abnormal conditions, with the innumerable and often impossible restrictive rules and regulations, many thousands are supporting themselves by the more or less dark transactions which go under the collective name of "Schieberei."

"Currency Curb" Full of Action.

One war creation that has become a permanent feature of the city is the "currency curb" of the Galician refugees, most of them Jews, who walk up and down in gesticulating groups on the Schottenring before the Stock Exchange every morning and afternoon during the business hours, apparently interested in nothing but their conversation. From time to time one will leave his own group and join another or rush off through the crowd to some mysterious destination. Others cluster together in the cafes or fill the narrow waiting-rooms of the little banking-houses which have been opened by the dozens in the surrounding districts.

It is a decidedly eastern sight, and one gets the impression of an Oriental bazaar. If one listens to what these strange persons say, one will hear nothing but transactions in Austrian crowns, Italian lire, American dollars and so on. Despite occasional police raids and confiscations of their foreign money stocks they all seem to get on fairly well, as their costly fur coats and diamond rings testify.

Some are said to belong to the wealthiest inhabitants of Vienna. From the fiscal point of view they are dangerous, not only because they always try to drive the exchange rates up and down as quickly as possible, but also because they are the most cunning of international money smugglers and employ not only false but even bona fide diplomatic couriers in their business.

Another favorite and sometimes profitable line of business is to settle down in Vienna as a political agent and conspirator. Never before have there been so many political causes for which such large sums are squandered. Political conspiracies in cafes and other public places or in private apartments have become part of the city life.

Refugees Stirring Strife.

Hungarians, Russians, Croats and Slovaks who had to flee from their countries for political reasons are not content with awaiting calmly their chance for an unmolested return, but want to influence events and to have a hand in the game of international politics. They form revolutionary committees, engage unemployed Austrian journalists as "chefs" of their press propaganda and improvise secret emergency courts of justice, which pass death sentences only.

Sometimes these sentences are even executed if the condemned person is careless enough to leave the safe grounds of Austrian territory. Of course, "business" of all sorts is mixed up with this underground political activity, and many are the bundles of worthless rubles which have been foolishly bought from "statesmen" for real money.

Austria has four revolutionary national movements of importance in its immediate neighborhood—the Slovak movement against the Czecho-Slovakian state, which is supported by the Magyars; the Croatian movement against the Jugo-Slav union, the Bolshevik Hungarian movement and one Ukrainian movement directed against Petlura. Besides many Russian counter-revolutionary committees choose Vienna for a meeting place from time to time.

If one turns to the guild of professional swindlers and adventurers who act on their own account and choose their political or commercial mask according to their tastes or the requirements of the moment, one finds that the disguise of Russian princes is still much in favor. Although experience teaches that 99 of 100 Russian princes are not genuine, the 99 false ones can still count upon finding profitable credulity. It seems to have become the rule that the real Russian princes hide under plain names without titles and only the false ones wear the titles publicly.

A young Russian committed suicide in a Viennese hotel last summer because his means were exhausted. When the police searched his room it turned out that he had been a real prince of a well-known family, whose huge estates in Russia had been socialized.

CHAMBERLAIN'S

Croup Can Be Prevented

At the first sign of hoarseness the child subject to croup should be given Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Even after the familiar rough cough appears the attack may be warded off. Mothers of young children should be sure that a bottle of this reliable remedy is always in the house. The feeling of safety that it gives is worth many times the cost.

COUGH REMEDY

LACK OF TEXT BOOKS SHOULD BE REMEDIED

Deputation Points Out Need for Immediate Relief.

Toronto, Jan. 31.—F. B. Edmonds, Toronto; Walder Parke, Hamilton; J. N. McKendrick, Galt; C. T. McBride, St. Catharines; T. Sydney Kirby, Ottawa; Mrs. W. A. Tanner, London, and A. B. Peddle of Windsor, of the Urban School Trustees' Association, waited upon Hon. R. H. Grant, minister of education, today. They asked that provision be made for appeals to the local inspector against decisions by the attendance office under the adolescence school attendance act.

They also asked for training schools for teachers, particularly of vocational subjects. The minister said he hoped a Dominion school would be established. To the request for junior high schools, including the fourth book and part of the high school curriculum, the minister said that such a necessity would arise under the adolescent school attendance act.

The association asked for immediate action to alleviate the text book shortage, regardless of expense. The minister said there must be due regard to expense. All provinces had suffered because of the scarcity of paper.

Hon. Mr. Grant agreed that generosity should be shown in the allowance of money for athletic purposes in public schools.

KICKS, BITES AND TEARS HAIR FROM HEAD OF HIS WIFE

Mike Warabike Pleads Guilty in Court and Remanded for Week.

Mike Warabike pleaded guilty in the police court this morning to a charge of assaulting his wife, Julia Warabike, and was remanded a week for sentence. He admitted having kicked her in the back, and that he tore a large quantity of hair from her head and bit her arm George Maghys, a St. Thomas Russian, who came to the house to spend a pleasant week-end, also came in for some of Mike's abuse. He was battered about the face when he sprang to the defence of the lady of the house. As his actions were chivalrous, he was dismissed on a charge of being disorderly.

Mike has been in court several times previously both here and in Preston, and had finally decided that his wife did not care for him any longer, and that it did not maiter whether he went to jail. She corroborated the statement, that she did not care for him.

Some provision will likely be arranged for her and her five children if the pair decide to separate.

It was claimed that someone brought some whisker into the home during the day, and that this started the argument.

TORONTO STOCK EXCHANGE.

Toronto, Jan. 31.—With one or two exceptions, weaker prices prevailed during trading on the Toronto Stock Exchange this morning. Speculative issues suffered most, Canada Steamships losing two full points, while the preferred issue was fractionally lower. Brazilian and Spanish River both dropped 1¼ points at 32⅞ and 81¼ respectively. The traction stock was the market leader in point of activity, over 440 shares changing hands. C. P. R. and Toronto Railway were the firm features of the list, the former moving up ¾ to 133, and the latter ½ to 68½.

ADVISES SOWING OF DENT CORN TO COMBAT CORN-BORER INVASION

Seven Counties Affected by Pest—Elgin Suffered Most.

While provincial and Dominion entomologists are working persistently to discover some simple and practical means to overcome the invasion of European corn-borers in Southwestern Ontario, Professor L. Caesar, provincial entomologist and professor of that department in the O. A. C., made a plea today for assistance from farmers in the infected areas. By a comparatively small amount of work, he said, farmers could do much to combat the spread of the threatened plague.

Although the borers are present in seven different counties, where they could be numbered by the millions, Professor Caesar claims that the total loss from this source has not been great up to the present time. It is estimated that the loss in the affected areas will reach in the neighborhood of 15 per cent in some of the worst fields. The great danger, however, is from the rapid spread of the pest. He claimed that if some means of combating the borer is not found in the near future it may get beyond control.

It was believed the professor said that there were at least 1,000,000 borers in the district lying between St. Thomas and Port Stanley. This district, however, is affected worse than any other part of Western Ontario. They were present in large numbers in Middlesex and to some degree in Oxford, Huron and Kent. Welland and Haldimand have also been affected.

The rapidity by which they multiply is astounding. One single moth it is estimated is capable of producing 350 offspring which come to maturity in a single season. Many of the borers, however, probably are winter-killed.

In some fields the borers have been found to attack 93 per cent of the plants. As high as 20 borers have been found in a single stock. There is a danger of the stock being broken at the weakened spots, its vitality is sapped to a certain degree, and there is great danger of disease entering the hole made by the borer. It will attack any part of the plant from the stock to the grain. Often it has been found in the centre of the cob.

The borer, the professor said, is the offspring of a moth, which measures one inch across the wings, and is brown in color. It lays its eggs on the leaves of the plant in June and July. The caterpillar was described as one inch in length, and moderately stout. It ranges in color from nearly white to brown, with often a pinkish tint. It has a whitish brown head. With a magnifying glass, brownish spots will be seen on the back.

The caterpillar winters in old cobs, cornstalks and in corn stubble. It hibernates in a burrow which is slightly lined with silk.

The borer has a great aversion for Dent corn, preferring sweet and flint varieties. For this reason the professor advocated that farmers should grow the Dent variety as much as possible. To further combat the spread of the pest, he advises clean cultivation, the cutting of weeds, close cutting of corn, and the general use of silos. The silo, he said, destroys more borers than any other means.

In the areas which have become affected he strongly advised the farmers to clean up last year's corn fields. No old straw, stocks, cobs or stubble should be left lying in the field during the spring. Everything should be burned before the end of May to prevent the coming out of the moth. Any work along these lines he said would more than pay for itself.

SCHEER CALLS NAVAL HOLIDAY BRITISH TRICK

German Skagerrak Commander Says London Is Sparring for Time.

WEIMAR, Germany, Jan. 30. — Admiral Scheer, whom at least half the world regards as one of the greatest leaders in naval war history, today for the first time since the signing of peace granted a newspaper interview.

For the benefit of American readers I sought and obtained the opinion of the Skagerrak-Jutland commander on these great questions of the day.

"America today is in a position to strengthen her navy. Great Britain is in a bad position for two reasons; she hasn't the money and she doesn't know what kind of ships to build.

Sees Selfish Motive.

"The naval holiday plan benefits England only, not America. In three years who can tell what economic changes shall have transpired? England then would begin building again and by that time the building question regarding supremacy of the capital ships or submarines and other minor weapons will have been cleared up. England now in possession of a superior naval force, then, would concentrate upon her choice and would become still stronger.

"Universal disarmament would work out, but a naval holiday merely would tide Great Britain over a bad spot in her naval plans, her politics and her economic hardships. As far as I can judge, the press reports which clamor for a naval holiday come almost exclusively from Great Britain. America has money for building ships, while England, with her enormous fleet, has not.

England Dissatisfied.

"More important, however, I believe, is Great Britain's indecision. I see therein a great lesson in naval warfare.

"England is naturally dissatisfied with the role her high seas fleet played off Skagerrak and and throughout the war. England's capital ships decided to do nothing and remained in port. A party arises of politicians and naval men who are claiming that ships of the line are dead and who desire nothing built but submarines, small cruisers and aircraft.

"The old-timers waver. Their indecision prompts the cry for a naval holiday, during which experiments will show the best course to be adopted. This is the best proof that England recognizes that she lost the Skagerrak battle and that her navy has not gained any new laurels.

America Has Advantage.

"Japan is an island empire like England and, to some extent, has to meet the same problems. America is a continent and does not face the most important of all naval warfare problems, the possibility of an economic and food blockade. America, therefore, more easily than her rivals can afford to carry out her naval program.

"Certainly if I were an American I would not listen to the naval holiday talk, but would cast my vote for universal disarmament and restoration of world peace, which still is far away."

HELD AS DEALER IN GIRL SLAVES

PRESTON, Cal., Jan. 30. — United States Immigration Commissioner George W. Moore continued today his investigation of the "slave" trade in Armenian girls alleged to have been conducted in the local Armenian colony by Harootian Selvian, Lone Star rancher. Selvian is under arrest pending a hearing before a United States commissioner.

Seven women, six of whom are alleged to have been sold as "wives" to local Armenians for prices ranging from $400 to $2,000, are also technically under arrest, but have been permitted to go home pending disposition of the case.

The women, gathered in refugee camps in Turkey, were brought to this country by Selvian as members of his own family. Disclosure of his girl "slave" market came through a wealthy Armenian rancher who was disappointed, Selvian disposing to a higher bidder the girl he desired as a wife.

Farmers' Clubs May Affiliate With Kent Produce Company

Vote Taken At Meeting At Blenheim Was Unanimously in Favor of the Proposition—Co-operation Has Become a Necessity For Farmers, Declares Speaker.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

BLENHEIM, Jan. 29.—The Farmers' Clubs of the U. F. O. took one step nearer affiliation this afternoon in Harwich Town Hall after hearing two Toronto speakers proclaim the benefits of such a move if made in the right direction. The proposal is to affiliate the Kent Farmers' Produce Company of this district with the U. F. O. Clubs for buying and selling produce. The tone of the meeting was decidedly in favor of doing so.

Mr. Powers, president of the U. F. O. Co-operative Company, Toronto, and Mr. Hart from the department of the minister of agriculture gave interesting addresses. Mr. Powers explained how the Co-operative Company in Toronto handles the farmers' produce, and sells to them through the Farmers' Clubs, doing last year a business of about $5,500,000. He gave some valuable information to the large gathering of farmers how to go about making their proposed affiliation a success.

Becoming a Necessity.

"It may be today that it is a matter of choice whether or not farmers co-operate," he said, "but I believe the day is not far distant when co-operation will be a case of necessity."

He strongly urged the clubs to go ahead with their proposed affiliation provided they were unanimous in the matter. If there was any strong opposition it might not be wise to proceed. He gave instances of where farmers co-operative companies had made exceedingly good in their ventures.

A Business Principle.

Mr. Hart dwelt strongly on the point that co-operation was a strong business principle. He showed how by organization middlemen might be done away with, but the middleman's functions had to be performed, and by co-operation this could be done to great advantage. He gave an instance showing how eggs had been delivered from the farmer in Ontario to the laborer's table in England, fresher than eggs had been delivered a few miles out of Toronto to his own table in Toronto, and this was done through co-operation entirely.

Farmers must get away from the idea of looking to the interests of their own pockets in every little detail. In co-operative organizations they must be prepared to meet some little losses, but as sure as the principle is right the loss will come back in dividends in the future if they hold together in their proposed affiliation.

"One of the great necessities in a co-operative company is to get a manager upon whom you can absolutely trust and then watch him," he said.

Make Binding Contracts.

He urged that strong binding contracts be entered into by all members, not that they will make any difference to those who are loyal, but will hold those who are inclined not to be. The advances which have been made by co-operation in selling farm produce have been marvellous, and are not to be compared with the smaller advantage had by buying. He claimed that farmers were receiving before grading farm products came into operation, the price usually paid for products of the lowest grade Grading had been a great benefit not only in producing better prices, but also in increased production.

Have the Authority.

James McCormick, secretary of the Kent Farmers' Produce Company, stated that the directors of his company had authority from the shareholders to enter into an affiliation with the Farmers' Clubs. He thought the Kent Farmers' Company could do business for the clubs on a percentage the same as now given to the club secretaries, which he understood was from 1½ to 3 per cent. He was sure that the directors would see that all the business would be done through the Co-operative Company of the U. F. O. in Toronto.

No definite action was taken at the meeting, except that a vote was taken which was unanimous for entering into the affiliation. It was left to representatives of the clubs to meet the directors at a future date to see if sufficient would affiliate.

A vote of thanks was tendered the speakers.

Alex. McDougall was chairman.

Shoots Mother, Who Objected To Lover

15-Year-Old Girl Buried Body On Isolated Ranch in Colorado.

STEAMBOAT SPRINGS, Colorado, Jan. 29.—The story that the 15-year-old daughter of Frank Mudra killed her mother because the latter objected to her accepting the attentions of a ranch hand, buried the body in a refuse pile on an isolated ranch, and kept her act secret for three weeks, was conveyed to the coroner's office here today. Officials will leave tomorrow to take charge of the body.

The information was brought by a neighbor of Mudra named Reid.

Mudra, a miner, had been working in Oak Creek this winter, leaving his wife and children on the ranch.

Yesterday the girl walked into Oak Creek from the ranch, after hours of toiling through the almost impassable mountain roads, saying her mother was sick. Her father accompanied her to the farm. Inquiry developed that Mrs. Mudra had not been seen for several weeks, and one of the smaller children finally told Mudra, Reid said, that the body was buried back of a stable.

The body was found with a bullet wound in the back. The girl, according to Reid, then confessed that she shot her mother because of the latter's interference in her affair with the ranch hand.

WINDSOR COUNCIL TO REFUSE GRANTS

WINDSOR, Jan. 30.—That the "no grant" policy be continued during 1921 will be recommended in the report of the finance committee to the council Monday night.

The committee at its meeting set a precedent for the handling of applications for civic grants this year, when it decided to take no action upon the request of a deputation composed of Col. E. S. Wigle, A. D. Bowlby and G. A. Kuechenmeister, that a grant of $3,000 be made to the Safety Council of the Border Cities to assist in carrying on its educational campaign. The speakers pointed out that if even one life was saved the $6,000 to be expended would be justified.

POLICE FORCE COSTS $19,845

This Will Provide For Three Additional Constables Recently Appointed.

ST. THOMAS, Jan. 29.—The police commission at a meeting this afternoon placed the estimates for the year at $19,845. The bulk of this will be for the maintenance of the staff. The appointment of three additional constables and provision made for the fourth compelled the commission to increase the figures of last year.

An additional allowance was given the members of the force. Each of the sergeants and constables was apportioned $10 a month and the chief $15. The constables had been receiving $130 monthly and will now get $140; the sergeants $145, now $155, and the chief $175, now $190. The wages of the three specials, $100, will remain as it is.

The board passed a vote of confidence and commendation on the excellent work of Chief Armstrong and his staff during the year, and complimented the force on the good order that has prevailed in all ends of the city.

Had Ten Bottles In Baby's Buggy

Sarnia Man Is Caught by Federal Officers At Ferry Dock.

SARNIA, Jan. 30.—The Port Huron federal authorities tonight notified the local police that John Hammond of Sarnia was locked up at headquarters and a baby buggy loaded with booze seized by Deputy Collector McKenzie at the ferry dock. Hammond, with his wife and two children, came off one of the boats from Sarnia and were wheeling the buggy past McKenzie, when they were stopped and searched. Ten bottles were found, the majority of them containing what appeared to be Canadian Club whiskey.

The scheme devised to keep the bottles, stowed away under the baby, from knocking together was to make pockets in a thick quilt, each pocket having a bottle. Hammond stated that he had lived in Sarnia four years and works for the G. T. R. He also stated that he is paying for a house, and hoped to sell the liquor and make his payments bigger. He claimed it was his first offence. The case will be handled by the state, it was reported. Hammond is in the county jail.

DEATH TOLL 11 IN HOTEL BLAZE

Four Others Badly Burned When Hoboken House Is Destroyed.

HOBOKEN, N.J., Jan. 30. — Eleven persons were burned to death early today in a fire which destroyed the Hotel Colonial here. Four others were badly burned and taken to a hospital, where it was reported tonight that they probably would not recover.

According to a statement by George Groll, the night clerk, the fire started in a guest's room, but the man was out at the time. It is believed the guest had left a lighted cigarette or cigar stub where it later set fire to the drapery.

Fire Chief Gilbay tonight declared that he believed the failure of Groll to turn in an alarm promptly, as well as the physical condition of the victims at the time of the fire, was largely responsible for the loss of life. He declared whiskey bottles were found in some of the rooms, and said had the occupants been able to comprehend the warnings that were sent he believed there would have been little if any loss of life.

The chief declared the building was provided with ample fire escapes to which open corridors afforded easy access.

ANOTHER PROBE OF ITALIAN DISASTER

HOME, Jan. 30.—A new investigation is to be undertaken to place the blame for the disaster to the Italian army at Caporetto, when it was driven back from the Isonzo to the Piave in the great war. A parliamentary commission already has probed into the affair and reported that Gen. Cavaciocchi, then commander of the Fourth Army Corps, was among those chiefly responsible. The general has petitioned parliament for a new hearing, and a commission of senators has been appointed to reopen the case, says Deputy Crano, writing in the Giornale d'Italia.

Gen. Cavaciocchi, in his petition, asserts that the Austrians broke through the Twenty-seventh Army Corps commanded by Gen. Badoglio, now head of the general staff, and succeeded in advancing along both banks of the Isonzo and reaching the rear of the Fourth Army Corps, commanded by Cavaciocchi, which was unable to resist because of Badoglio's failure.

Other generals, especially Bongiovanni, have backed Cavaciocchi's petition.

Signor Crano is of the opinion that Badoglio should not remain at the head of the general staff while the inquiry is proceeding, as it would be impossible to insure impartiality and obtain witnesses to give evidence against their own chief.

BE NEIGHBORLY, APPEAL TO U. S.

Foster Urges Republic's Residents To Increase Trade Here.

NEW YORK, JJan. 30.—(By Canadian Press).—An appeal for practical "neighborliness" between the United States and Canada was made by Sir George E. Foster, Canadian minister of trade and commerce, and one of Canada's delegates to the assembly of the League of Nations, speaking last night at a banquet of the superintendents of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company at the Hotel Astor.

"We are pretty good neighbors to you," said Sir George. "We came over from Canada in 1920 and bought $921,000,000 worth of stuff from you in the United States. This means that every man, woman and child in Canada spent on an average $115 in purchasing from the United States last year. The United States, by the same statistics came into Canada and bought $560,000,000 worth only, exactly five dollars for every man, woman and child in the United States. Let us be neighbors. Buy as much from us as we do from you. And when we come down here with our good-will security Canadian dollars, be above offering us 88 cents."

Disclaiming any desire to "meddle with public affairs in the United States," Sir George referred to the Fordney emergency tariff bill, now before the Senate in Washington, as a measure that would "prevent us sending down our cattle and sheep and agricultural products in order that we may pay you."

"Well, there are but two things for us to do," continued the minister. "One is not to buy the extra $400,000,000 worth from the people of the United States. That is my appeal to the commercial portion of the United States. It may be a good thing to think of doing things before we legislate too fat."

LYON OPPOSES HYDRO IMPOST

Mayor Little of This City Also Against the Proposed Taxation.

TORONTO, Jan. 30.—J. W. Lyon, president of the Hydro-Electric Radial Railway Association, in an interview on Saturday, characterized the proposal of the committee of the Legislature on hydro-electric extension that an impost of $2 per horsepower per annum be placed upon the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission's system as class legislation, as "practically confiscation of the various municipalities' hydro-electric properties."

Mr. Lyon said he thought the association of which he is the head would protest against the suggested tax. He said he thought the rural districts should not be favored in the matter of hydro power at the expense of the pioneer municipalities, which took all the risk in the hydro movement at the beginning and which should have the benefits of the success of the movement.

Serious Menace.

George Wright of the Toronto Hyrdo-Electric Commission said the proposal to impose a $2 tax was a serious menace to the future prosperity of the province. He declared to an interviewer that he was absolutely opposed to it. The imposition of a tax of $2 per horsepower, Mr. Wright said, might mean the difference between success or failure of a manufacturer who was using 5,000 horsepower, which would mean a tax of $10,000, or it might mean a question of whether he would manufacture here or in Quebec.

Quote London Mayor.

Mayor Little of London is quoted in an interview by long-distance telephone, in the Toronto Star Weekly as saying that he has always contended that public utilities operated at cost should pay taxes in a similar manner to private corporations, but he is not in favor of collecting the tax on power as proposed, as he is of the opinion that the municipalities which went into the scheme should be given a great deal of consideration.

"All had an opportunity to go into the scheme, and the municipalities which went into it and took the risk should certainly have every consideration." The mayor said he had not gone thoroughly into the matter as yet.

Auto Factory To Employ 3,000 Men

Works Will Be Located on Hale Street—Start Building Soon—Will Assemble Cars at Temporary Plant.

Plans for a large automobile factory that will employ nearly 3,000 men when at its maximum production, and which will be erected on Hale street, near the G. T. R., are practically completed. Work will be commenced as soon as possible. President W. R. Stansell, of London Motors, Limited, which company is developing the new plant, stated that the construction will be rushed as quickly as possible, as there is a great demand for the type of auto which will be turned out by the local factory.

In the meantime the company is preparing to assemble cars in the down-town showrooms at the corner of King and Ridout streets. The service and sales departments will be permanently utilized for the present as an assembly plant.

It is confidently expected that from six to ten cars a day will be turned out from the first. The output will be doubled within a year, and it is anticipated it will increase quickly thereafter. The machinery and equipment necessary for the assembling plant are now on the way to London. As soon as this arrives it will be installed, and actual operations will commence. Then as soon as the east end factory can be completed

His Achievement—

the down-town plant will be turned over to the sales and service departments. The investment on the central property will be nearly $75,000.

In deciding to locate in London Mr. Stansell concluded that this city offered greater advantages than could be found in any other centre of Ontario.

Canada is just at the beginning of one of the greatest industrial expansions that the American continent has seen, and the development of the London district will be the greatest of all, according to Mr. Stansell. The number of large industries now established in London will be greatly increased in the next few years.

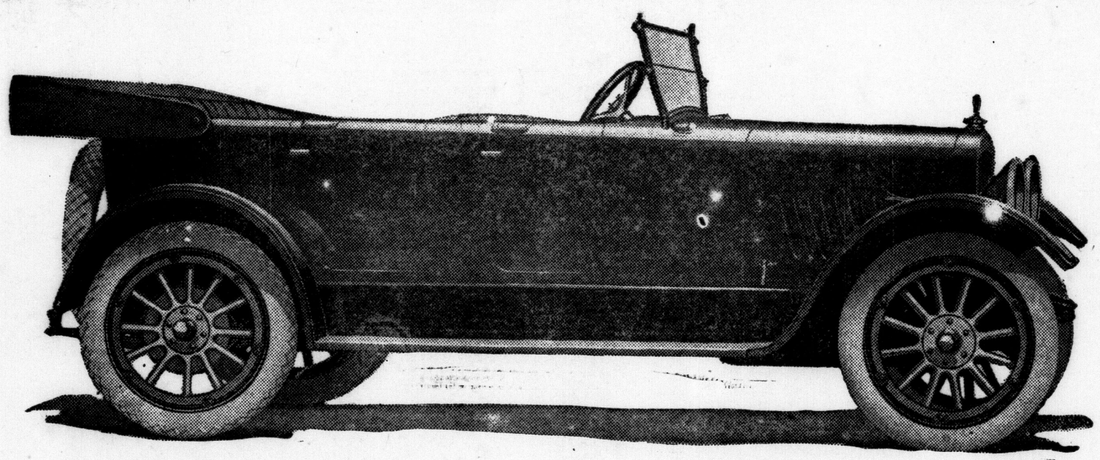

"London will be one of the foremost manufacturing centres of Canada in the near future," said he.

One of the features of London particularly noted by Mr. Stansell is the comparatively small number of men out of employment. In Toronto, Windsor, Detroit and the other large industrial centres the unemployment situation is "appalling," while London merchants and businessmen generally are finding business well up to the average; and in many instances much above that of previous years. This is pretty strong evidence of the healthy business conditions in London.

COMMENCE SHORTLY.

Work in the down-town factory will commence within a few weeks at the latest. Some alterations are being made to the building to prepare for the machinery that is expected to arrive shortly. Mr. Stansell states that the market is open for the car now, and he does not anticipate any difficulty in selling all that can be turned out. In fact, his only fear is that it may be impossible for the plant to expand quickly enough that the demand for the output may be satisfied.

FUTURE TRADE WITH RUSSIA.

The likelihood of an early resumption of trade between Russia and the British Empire gives special interest to an article in the Manchester Guardian dealing with the Russian exports that will be forthcoming in payment for the many things that Russia herself needs. The Guardian's correspondent proceeds in the first place to discount the prevailing impression that in Russia there are vast quantities of foodstuffs only awaiting resumption of trade relations to be available for the world's needs. The great decrease in the area under cultivation and the reduced productivity of the land have both tended to reduce the exportable quantity of grain and it is pointed out, too, that Russia's export of grain before the war was really made at the expense of the under-nourishment of her people. Nevertheless, there is likely to be considerable grain ready to come out because of the fact that no export trade went on during the war, and because the actual consumption within Russia has decreased since the war.

Speaking generally, Russia's exports will largely be raw materials. Timber is one of the country's resources that has remained largely untouched, and while this trade will be handicapped by the lack of transportation facilities, it is expected to grow rapidly. Cotton, flax and hemp are other commodities of which there are large stocks that can be exported. The factories of Russia have been working so slowly since the revolution that they have not begun to absorb the stocks of these raw materials that were produced. It is stated that the Russian cotton factories (excluding those of Poland and the Baltic provinces) are today producing only six per cent of what they were producing before the war. In the warehouses of Turkestan there are eight million poods of cotton today with a yearly surplus of two millions in Turkestan, and an annual consumption by the Russian mills of but three million poods. An export of five million poods would still leave a three years' supply.

The Russian linen industry is stated to be in a healthier condition than the cotton industry, although only running at 40 per cent capacity. The fact that the raw material is produced close to the mills accounts for the greater activity in this industry. Before the war the Russian linen factories consumed three million poods of flax per annum, while now they are using just over a million poods yearly. There is thus a surplus available for export, even should there be a revival of the linen industry.

The Guardian's correspondent is of the opinion that great as may be the trade developed in grain and raw materials for textiles, much more importance should be attached to the possibilities that lie in the development of Russia's mineral wealth. Iron, salt, copper, manganese and other minerals in great quantities are all waiting for capital and enterprise, and these, it appears, Great Britain is prepared to supply if a satisfactory agreement can be reached with the Bolshevik Government.

JOHN BULL COMING BACK.

Figures issued by the British Chancellor of the Exchequer indicate that Great Britain, since the armistice, has retired over £50,000,000 of her 5 per cent war loan maturing in 1929-47, at a saving of approximately £5,000,000. The cancellation was by Government purchases of the loan securities at various intervals, during which they were quoted below the issue price in the market.

Detailed returns received by the Bankers' Trust Company of New York from its English information service, indicate that the amount of the loan retired in 1920, up to October, was greater than for the entire year 1919.

Purchases were made from an assigned depreciation fund administered by the National Debt Commissioners. The largest repurchase of the loan was in March, 1920, when the amount thus applied was £5,015,740, and the amount cancelled was £5,700,000. The ultimate saving to the Government in this month equaled about 13 per cent of the amount devoted to repurchase. The total amount of the 5 per cent loan was £1,976,795,000.

THE LEAGUE AND CREDITS.

The provisional economic and financial committee of the Council of the League of Nations has recommended to the league a new draft of the international credits scheme suggested at the recent Brussels conference.

The revised plan is given in detail in a copy of the committee's official report obtained by the foreign information department of the Bankers' Trust Company of New York.

The final text proposes the formation of an international organization through which impoverished nations may, under adequate guarantees to the lenders, secure funds for financing approved essential imports. The essential character of these imports would be determined by their value in leading to restoration of export trade of the needy countries.

Assigned assets of these countries appraised at their gold value by an international commission of bankers and businessmen appointed by the league would constitute the security upon which imports would be financed.

Bonds would be issued against the gold value of these assets to an amount of credits approved by the commission. These bonds would be obligations of the governments issuing them, and their service would be secured by the revenue of the assigned assets. Administration of the assets for purposes of revenue production would be safeguarded against the possibility of default and loss to bondholders.

It is proposed to have a competent businessman appointed, without delay, to work out details of the revised scheme, determine how far it can be applied in conjunction with existing services, and discover the extent to which borrowing countries are likely to avail themselves of the plan. Under certain conditions he would be empowered to put some details of the scheme into immediate operation.

The economic and financial committee has decided that there is no special necessity for calling an international conference during 1921 to deal solely with the financial organization to be established by the league, but has not yet decided whether a conference on economic affairs is necessary. It has approved a budget of £50,000 for its own expenses during 1921.

OTHERS' VIEWS

WONDERFUL GROWTH OF U. F. O.

[Toronto Star.]

In a few weeks we will reach the seventh anniversary of the founding of the organization known as the United Farmers of Ontario, which has become one of the most important economic and political bodies in this province.

The U. F. O. now has 1,500 branches, with a membership of 60,000. Its co-operative company has 20,000 subscribers and a yearly turnover of $20,000,000. It bought the Farmers' Sun for $20,000 cash, and increased the circulation of that paper from 11,000 to 35,000.

The prime object of the U. F. O. is to make farming more attractive. This it is trying to do by making farming more renumerative and by improving the social conditions of country districts. Better marketing arrangements and more legislative assistance also are being provided in the hope of building up our most essential industry.

The rapid growth of the U. F. O. movement indicates the remarkable hold it has taken on the imagination of the rural people. If that movement repopulates our depleted agricultural districts and country towns, it will have rendered a signal service to the whole community.

THE CANADIAN MARKET.

[Dearborn Independent.]

Promises by members of Congress to stop the importations of Canadian wheat by a tariff of 50 cents a bushel have resulted in an informal warning being delivered by our neighbor to the effect that if such a step is taken she will retaliate by placing a prohibitory tariff on American manufactured goods.

"What is sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander," and American congressmen migh have saved themselves the humiliation of this checkmate by considering Canada's position as a United States market before they talked so loosely of restricting her grain shipments to this country.

The Dominion of Canada is the best customer on our books. More than that, she will continue to be our best customer for many years to come. She came out of the World War with an indebtedness as small as her glory was great. Out of her enormous resources she will soon pay off this obligation and be able to devote her entire strength to internal development.

To lose this market would be to deal American business a knockdown blow and the loss would be so much greater than any gain accruing from the protection of our wheat that the policy which promoted such a move could fairly be dubbled "financial suicide."

Is it impossible to consider reciprocity with Canada instead of planning a tariff battle? And if so, why?

THE SMALLPOX RISK.

[Ottawa Journal.]

There have been eight hundred cases of smallpox in Ottawa since the outbreak of the disease. That is one case for about every 125 people in Ottawa. The danger of contracting the disease is apparent. No one who is not vaccinated can consider himself free from the risk of being in contact with the germs. There is the added danger in the fact that many mild cases are not recognized as smallpox and so are not quarantined. A person with mild smallpox can give a worse type to others.

Representative members of the medical profession urged with the greatest earnestness the importance of vaccination at the meeting with the board of control Monday evening. They were unanimous in the assertion that there was no reason why anyone should fear vaccination. Most of the doctors have their own families vaccinated.

All reliable evidence is in favor of vaccination. Those who ignore it are exposing themselves and those about them to the danger of smallpox. It is not a time for negligence or for listening to opposition to vaccination that is the result of prejudice or ignorance. The campaign of a few against vaccination has done, and will continue to do, more harm to Ottawa than the publicity given to the epidemic of smallpox. The more people who get vaccinated now the sooner and the surer will the epidemic subside.

STUNG.

[From the Columbus Dispatch.]

"Bargains in Chin Rests," the placard read,
And the man who saw it halted there,
The hot sun beating down upon his head,
And his eyes half blind in the pavement's glare.
He thought of the house where he paid his board,
He thought of the porch where the ladies sat,
He thought how often their chatter scored
The passer-by from the shoes to hat.
He thought he knew where a gross or two
Would fit like a brace for broken shins,
But he found, when he entered to buy a few,
They were meant for the players of violins!

SUNDAY CRUSADER FEARS U. S. NEARS GOMORRAH'S FATE

Noah Cooper Sees Nation in Ruins in Fifty Years Without Blue Laws.

FLAYS NEWSPAPERS

Talks to Tennessee Legislators in Support of Bill Now Pending.

Nashville, Jan. 30. — "If our nation does not enact strict Sunday observance laws our country will be in ruins in less than fifty years," is the dictum of Noah W. Cooper of Nashville, champion of the national Sunday blue laws and author of the blue law bill now pending before the Tennessee Legislature.

"Brother" Cooper, known as "the reincarnated Hebrew prophet" by Tennessee newspapers, calls down the fate of Sodom and Gomorrah upon America unless the blue laws are passed.

"God says he will pour out His spirit on Sabbath breaking nations," he declared to the assembled legislators. "We are getting into that class fast. If we don't better quickly we will get God's fury as Europe got it. The war that ruined Europe and burnt us was God's penalty for wickedness, of which general Sabbath breaking was plain proof.

Would Halt All Trains.

"With God's help I hope to live to see our national Sabbath law passed to stop all Sunday trains, mails, traffic, newspapers and all interstate commerce. Ten times as much ink and paper is being used for Sunday news of murders, adulteries, crimes, sports and bargains as is being used for teaching our children in our Sunday schools God's eternal truth. There are three readers of Sunday newspapers to every Sunday school scholar in America."

"Would you stop Sunday trains?" he was asked.

"Yes, all of them, freight, passenger, excursion and circuses—they should all stop. It is God's command not to work on the Sabbath. God grants engineers and trainmen to have a Sabbath just as well as railroad presidents, directors, attorneys, and bondholders. All who run or ride on Sunday trains are helping Satan to ruin millions of railroad men and their families, and to bring God's curses upon our nation. They say our passenger trains have to run so we can go and see our mothers if they are dying. My mother would want me to go on a Sunday train to see her die.

"It is sweet to be with your loved ones in the hour of death, but salvation is just as certain whether we are there or not.

"I was raised on a farm. I worked hard six days in the week, often plowing an hour before breakfast and stacking fodder in the moonlight. Sunday was like heaven to me. Everybody rested, cleaned up, put on good clothes, went to Sunday school and meeting. Then we ate a good dinner and boys and girls often walked down the rose-covered paths and dreamed dreams. I had all the fun a boy could stand.

Like Jonah in Nineveh.

"If any sinner wants to hang me for my miscalled blue laws, he will have to hang my old mother with me and also my wife, if she were here, but she is in heaven, safe. She left me under injunction to keep up this very work, and that I shall do as a godly patriotic duty.

"I am somewhat like Jonah in Nineveh crying out and warning the people that our country will soon be destroyed if we don't turn back to God and keep His commandments. Jonah had the satisfaction of seeing Nineveh repent in sackcloth and ashes. But frankly, I fear our country will not turn back within forty years from now, as Nineveh did.

"Who is paying me to do this? God alone. I am looking to Him for recompense, and I know I will get good pay. With the exception of $50 from a brother, $25 from a cousin and $5 from Fred Hay, a printer, all voluntarily given, I have out of my own funds paid all the expenses of the crusade so far.

"I get all manner of abusive letters from Sabbath breakers. The other day a New York man by letter abused me for preaching 'Sunday law' for money. He thought I was a Methodist preacher, preaching sensationalism just to get money. The fact is I have been a lawyer for nearly thirty years and depend on my law practice to make a living. I am giving a good part of my income to this work instead of getting anything out of it. But I am getting something better than money out of it, the sweet satisfaction of being a partner with God.

Support of the People.

"The people are for this Sunday law crusade. If voted for it would carry by a very large majority. At least it would here in the south.

"Up north and east and west conditions are a little worse except in Philadelphia, which is the most Sabbath keeping of northern cities. It is also the most prosperous.

"I have no such notion as punishing a man for not praying or not going to church, or for kissing his wife on Sunday. No so-called blue law ever hurt any man or woman, however much fun may be poked at it.

"In less than twenty years I expect to be in heaven, and it would be a grievous thing to me to see America following Israel and Europe to the pit of destruction. May God help us all to awake to our full duty and save ourselves and our country from slavery, like Israel in the chains of Babylon."

BOILS SO BAD HAD TO GIVE UP WORK

From the days of Job, up to the present time, boils have been one of the afflictions of the human race.

All the poulticing and lancing you may do will not prevent them from breaking out again.

Boils are simply caused by the bad blood bursting out; and the bad blood must be made pure before the boils will disappear.

Burdock Blood Bitters, which has been on the market for over forty years, is well known as the greatest blood medicine procurable.

It purifies the blood by removing every particle of foul matter from the system, and when this is done the boils vanish, and you should never be troubled again.

Mr. James Fahey, Newport Island, Que., writes: "I was troubled with boils on my back and neck, so bad that I was obliged to give up work. I tried several remedies, but got no relief. Finally I went to a doctor, and he treated me for several weeks, and all without benefit. At last a friend told me of Burdock Blood Bitters, so I decided to give it a trial. I got three bottles, but before I had taken two the boils were all gone. It is eight months now, and I have had no return of the old trouble, and have never felt so well."

GRANT $5,000 FOR HOSPITAL

County Council Aids Proposed New Building At Aylmer.

ST. THOMAS, Jan. 30.—The county council, before closing the session Saturday afternoon, made a grant of $5,000 to the town of Aylmer in aid of the East Elgin Memorial Hospital, but postponed acting on the appeal of the promoters of the Central Memorial Hospital, St. Thomas, until it is determined by the city ratepayers how much they are willing to vote in behalf of the undertaking.

If the plebiscite is taken before the June session and is favorable, the county council will then consider the request made by the promoters of submitting a bylaw to the rural taxpayers to raise $100,000 to assist in putting up the structure.

Believes in Probe.

The council went on record as favoring the action of the Provincial Government in its investigation of the hydro-electric situation and its unanimous accord with the course taken by Government to reach a satisfactory conclusion.

The following resolution was adopted: Moved by Reeve Stalker of Aldborough and Reeve McTaggart of Malahide: "Believing hydro-electric power development to be of vital and outstanding interest to the whole of the province of Ontario, being easily the greatest of all public utilities, affecting as it does the commercial industrial and social life of the province and the agricultural as well, this council ventures to express its cordial approval of the prudent and statesmanlike course adopted by the Government of the province in having the whole situation investigated by a competent commission so as to be in a position to determine a future policy in the province that will best serve all classes and localities. Whatever policy with respect to hydro power may be promulgated and adopted, it is hoped that the large and ever-increasing agricultural interests in the province will receive fair and equitable consideration.

"And it is recommended that the clerk be instructed to forward copies of this resolution to the honorable Premier of Ontario and also to the representatives for East and West Elgin."

In connection with the resolution, a second motion, by Reeve Dromgole of Dunwich and Deputy Reeve McGregor of Aldborough, was passed unanimously: "That the Elgin County Board of Trade be asked to intercede with the Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission to have hydro power distributed to the rural districts."

Stalter Gully.

The council, following a visit to the historic locality of the Stalter gully, refused to place that part of Nova Scotia street on the system of good roads, and suggested that a Dominion Government engineer pass upon the proposition of placing a bridge that will remain there before the council takes further action.

Port Stanley Bridge.

County Clerk McKay and County Solicitor Leitch were requested in a resolution to communicate with the Federal Government authorities and explain that the county is willing to carry out its part of the agreement made last year in connection with the erection of the swing-bridge at Port Stanley, and that the $20,000 appropriation is still available, provided that the department of public works takes immediate action to have the new structure started.

County Clerk McKay was instructed to communicate with the Government and ask for the rescinding of the proposed amendment to the highway improvement act, requiring that all county good roads superintendents be civil engineers.

Annual Grant Made.

The application of the Navy League of Canada for a grant of $3,000 was refused. The salary of the auditors was increased from $200 to $300. A grant of $30 was given to the Elgin Shorthorn and Holstein Breeders' Association.

FAVORS CONTINUING TO CONSTRUCT SHIPS

LONDON, Jan. 29.—The imperial defence committee, investigating the problem of naval construction, will not, according to the Times, recommend that Britain should cease building capital ships. It will declare against any vital change in naval policy until the dominions have been consulted.

COUNCILLORS TRIED TO RELEASE GIRL

Story of a Quick Acquaintance That Ended in Police Court.

ST. THOMAS, Jan. 30.—Albert Cox, plumber, of the city, was allowed out on suspended sentence and furnishing a bond of $200 for future good behavior, Saturday, on a charge of breaking into the residence of Thomas Hall, New street, Thursday evening. Cox was accompanied by a young lady named Norah Dodd, a Barnardo girl, who is employed at a local establishment, and she, too, was locked up. The Dodd girl alleged that Cox was introduced to her as Alex. Allan, and their acquaintance was brief before visiting the Hall residence.

Neighbors seeing the pair enter the empty house sent for the police, and Cox got away, but the girl was arrested.

Councillors Interfere.

After the girl was removed to the county jail, some of the county councillors who were in building late Friday night, hearing of the arrest, and given the details, demanded that she be liberated. This order for the girl's discharge was supported by a couple of clergymen. But the magistrate would not consent until a fuller investigation was had. The councillors then sought other means to secure the girl's release but failed. Appealing once more to the magistrate and on an assurance being given that the girl would be looked after in the meanwhile, she was allowed out. The local authorities have protested against the interference of the county councillors in a situation that was outside their jurisdiction.

Wouldn't Be Called Dope.

Charles Ball, who got away from Mimico Industrial School a week ago and was returned to the institution, after a life of gayety in the city and a box car in M. C. R. yards, escaped again from the school a day ago and was captured this morning in his old hunting grounds, the railway yards, and was locked up. Charlie would not be called "dope" by the other lads, and told them so, and he beat it back to St. Thomas.

Remanded to Jail.

Harold Tracey, a ward of the Children's Shelter, and Frank Ion were found guilty Saturday of stealing a couple of bicycles, and were remanded for sentence.

Norman Ashbury, formerly of the Home Bank here, has accepted a position with the Commonwealth Federal Bank, Detroit.

Only Mrs. Byrne Remains of Family of Five.

KINGSTON, Ont., Jan. 30.—Arthur Byrne, the 8-year-old son of Patrick Byrne, who, with two children, Emmett, aged 5, and Stanley, aged 3, met death on Friday night, when the Byrne home was destroyed by fire, died Saturday night from his injuries. Arthur had been thrown out of a window by his father in a desperate effort to save the boy's life. Of the family of five only Mrs. Patrick Byrne remains.

At an inquest here Saturday night in connection with the death of Mr. Byrne the origin of the fire was not clearly established.

IRWIN—BEGG.

ST. THOMAS, Jan. 29.—The marriage of Miss Bessie Begg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Begg, Talbot road west, Southwold, and Mr. Wesley H. Irwin, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Irwin, 59 Curtis street, took place this afternoon at Knox Church, the pastor, Rev. J. M. MacGillivray, officiating. There were no attendants. The bride, who was given away by her father, looked very pretty in a navy blue traveling dress, with blue silk hat, and carried a bouquet of sweet peas. Mr. and Mrs. Irwin, at the conclusion of the ceremony, motored to London, and from there left for points east. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Irwin will take up their residence on Margaret street.

DEATH OF MRS. DAKE.

ST. THOMAS, Jan. 29.—The death of Mrs. Luman Dake, an old and esteemed resident, took place this afternoon at her residence, Talbot street, after an illness of some months. She is survived by her husband, Luman Dake, formerly proprietor of the Dake House.

YOUNG FARMER FOILS BANDITS

Three Shots Were Fired Through Rear of His Automobile.

GUELPH, Jan. 30.—An unsuccessful hold-up occurred on a country road six miles from Guelph about 8 o'clock last night, when Roy Young, a young farmer of Rockwood, was halted in his motor car by two bandits who demanded his money. Young, who was alone, was proceeding to Guelph, when he noticed a fence rail across the road. As he stopped his machine two men ran out from behind a fence, and, flashing a light in his face, demanded that he get out of the car. Young immediately applied the gas, and driving his car over the rail, put on all speed. The bandits fired three shots through the rear of the car, but Young escaped uninjured. The affair was reported to the local police, who hurried to the scene. A thorough search was carried out, but no trace of the bandits could be found.

GRANT HOSPITAL $10,000.

CHATHAM, Jan. 30.—The Wallaceburg Memorial Hospital grant of $10,000 was ratified by the county council at its final session yesterday afternoon, also the increase in salary to County Constable George Peters, passed in committee a few days ago. Angus Gillanders was appointed a member of the Ridgetown Collegiate School Board, and William Colwell of the Wallaceburg High School Board. The council adjourned to meet June 14, or at the call of Warden Fletcher.

URGES FREE CLINIC.

SARNIA, Jan. 30.—A free clinic for the treatment of venereal disease in this city is urgently needed, and is recommended by M. O. H. Dr. William Logie in his annual report. Local medical men are not, despite the fact that there is a heavy fine for failing to do so, according to health officials, reporting all cases of venereal disease coming under their care.

Several attempts have been made to have Dr. McCullough, provincial M. O. H., come to Sarnia to explain the law.

SUBSCRIBED $10,000.

BRANTFORD, Jan. 30.—Thirty-three members of the Brant County Farmers' Co-operative Association at the semi-annual meeting subscribed an additional $10,000 towards financing the Woodmill property recently purchased for warehouse and other purposes. The financial statement showed sales of $52,043 for the past six months, an increase of $18,636. There was a small balance on hand. Charles McIntyre and A. W. Vansickle were re-elected directors, and W. T. Clark, auditor.

INQUEST IS ORDERED INTO THE DEATH OF HAMILTON SALESMAN

HAMILTON, Jan. 30.—Robert McMurtrie, 37 years old, salesman for the Steel Company of Canada, this city, died twenty minutes after he was admitted to the Mount Hamilton Hospital last Thursday night, and it is said his death was due to poisoning. Information to this effect has been laid before Chief Coroner George S. Rennie of this city, who has called an inquest for next Friday night. McMurtrie is well known in Hamilton. He resided with his mother, who is an invalid. His funeral was to have taken place on Saturday, but was delayed on an order from the chief coroner.

It is said that the decision of Chief Coroner Rennie to hold an inquest was strengthened by an autopsy made this morning, and it further said that the viscera of the deceased will be sent to the provincial analyst, who will determine if death was caused by the administration of some deadly drug.

Mr. McMurtrie was ill a week before being sent to the hospital. Dr. A. S. Bueglass, one of the physicians who attended him, said Mr. McMurtrie was in a critical condition from pneumonia before being sent to the hospital. Dr. Bueglass expressed surprise today when he learned that Coroner Rennie had been informed that poison had been administered to McMurtrie. Dr. Bueglass said Mr. McMurtrie had been removed to the hospital because adequate nursing could not be provided for him at home.

Mrs. T. H. Purdom entertained at a small bridge on Saturday afternoon in honor of Miss Grace Greer, bride-elect.

Miss Charlotte Whitton has returned to Toronto after a delightful visit with Rev. Clarence Foreman and Mrs. Foreman.

Mr. John Weld of Ridout street was the host of a most enjoyable stag dinner party on Friday last.

Among the many dinner hostesses previous to the Princess Patricia Chapter dance on Friday evening were Mrs. Gordon Hunt, Mrs. Eric Reid, Miss Jessie Gillespie and Mrs. Fred Watts.

Mrs. James D. Good, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Reynolds, Oxford street, left last week for Toronto, where she will spend a few days before leaving for her home in Winnipeg.

Nearly eighty guests were present at the delightful tea held on Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Joseph Smith, Princess avenue, under the auspices of the Alma Daughters. Several ladies came up from St. Thomas for the affair, among them Mrs. Still and Mrs. Brown.

At the recent Lord Roberts Chapter bridge Mrs. Nolan was the winner of the first prize, a pretty pair of candlesticks; Mrs. Dawson won the second prize, a beautifully-embroidered card table cover, and Mrs. A. V. Becher, the third, a silk bag containing two packs of cards.

The Forest City Chapter, Order Eastern Star, held a most successful at home in the Masonic Temple on Friday evening last. The "Good Cheer" Club is entertaining at an informal dance to be held next Tuesday evening in the Ontario Hospital Assembly Hall through the kindness of Dr. W. J. Robinson. This club has been most energetic in its efforts on behalf of the Children's Hospital, and a good attendance is expected, as this dance will also add to the fund.

GOW—DURHAM.

A quiet wedding took place on Wednesday, January 26, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Gray, Chatham, when Miss Winnifred Durham, niece of Mrs. Gray, became the bride of Captain Duff B. Gow of Winnipeg, son of Mr. John R. Gow of Dutton, Ont. The ceremony was performed by Rev. D. H. Marshall of First Presbyterian Church, in the presence of only immediate relatives and friends. Capt. and Mrs. Gow left on the 5:18 G. T. R. train for Winnipeg, where they will make their home.

TRIPP—McTAVISH.

A quiet but very pretty wedding was solemnized on January 26, at 9 p.m. at the Trinity Methodist parsonage, Stratford, of Mabel May, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James McTavish, to Ray Manley Tripp, son of Mrs. Tripp of Trenton, Ont. The bride wore a travelling suit of navy blue serge and was attended by Miss Ann Brickman, while Mr. Bert Griffin attended the groom. The happy couple left on the 1:45 train for Toronto and Trenton, where they will reside for the present.

WATERHOUSE—DAY.

A wedding of considerable interest took place in St. Thomas Tuesday last when Miss Dorothy Elizabeth Day, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Day, became the bride of Mr. John Frederick Waterhouse of Chatham. The bride wore a smart blue taffeta gown, with a corsage bouquet of Sweetheart roses and orchids. Just the immediate relatives were present for the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. J. W. J. Andrew, in Trinity Church. Mr. and Mrs. Waterhouse left for a honeymoon trip to points east, the bride's travelling costume being a handsome seal coat, a wedding gift, and a small hat. Mr. and Mrs. Waterhouse will reside in Chatham.

Personal Health Service

(By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D., Noted Physician and Author.)

The Popular Exercise Fad.

Exercise is a two-edged weapon, like most good medicines. It is capable of doing serious harm when unintelligently prescribed, and it is unintelligently prescribed by any number of physical culture charlatans and mail order schemers, for those who like that sort of thing.

If I have seemed to place greater emphasis on exercise as a remedial agent than I have placed on drugs, that is certainly not because I imagine exercise is a better or more essential remedy than drugs. I have urged the value of exercise for sedentary people who hope to keep reasonably well; I have not prescribed exercise or exercises for any individual case, and I have informed a great many correspondents that I am unable to prescribe such a remedy for an individual case without having personally examined the patient to determine whether exercise is advisable, and if so, what exercise and how much. I regret t ofind so many readers imagine exercise is a cure-all which can be blindly employed without regard to individual circumstances or requirements.

A good many victims of such serious disease as tuberculosis are daily weakening their chances of arrest by indulging in unadvised or ill-advised exercise, even such moderate exercise as walking about. It is nothing less than foolhardy for any victim of that disease to take so much as a stroll around the house without the explicit direction of the physician who knows his individual requirement—and no physician can know that who has not recently examined and observed the patient. The indiscriminate prescription of exercise for those who happen to have tuberculosis, as is done altogether too frequently by the physical culture charlatan and the mail order faker, is responsible for much unhappiness on the part of TB victims and their friends.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.
How Many Oranges?

Are oranges good for one? How many oranges may one eat without injury every day? Is it harmful to take the juice of half a lemon in a glassful or a pint of hot water every morning? Is drinking hot water at frequent intervals through the day beneficial for one, or is it liable to cause cancer, as I have recently heard?—J. D.

Answer.—Oranges are wholesome, usually beneficial, in any quantity daily. It is not harmful to take lemon juice in a pint of water every morning—might even be beneficial, but don't let anyone make you believe that this can possibly reduce flesh. I do not advise the drinking of hot water or any other hot beverage as a habit. Some physicians do think that drinking or eating things that are very hot may favor cancer of the stomach, in any case, it is certainly not a healthful practice.

Chapped Lips.

My lips are always chapped in cold weather. They seem to be dry and I have a constant desire to moisten them with my tongue, especially when in a warm room with many people. Is that mere nervousness?—I. I. B.

Answer—Probably a habit caused by the condition of the lips, but it tends to aggravate the chapping. Better use this lotion two or three times a day on the lips:

Glycerin
Tincture of benzoin
Alcohol.

Equal parts of each.

THE MARRIAGE OF ANNE

BY MAY CHRISTIE

(Copyright, 1920, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

CXX.—Success Crowns Julie.

"Let's have a real, honest-to-goodness honeymoon, Anne," my bridegroom suggested, after we had spent a week of more or less artificial enjoyment at the Ocean View Hotel. "I'm just a trifle fed-up on crowds. I'd like awfully much to get away by ourselves for a bit, if you don't mind."

I didn't mind. As a matter of fact, I was longing for the time when he would make such a statement. I rejoiced when it had been made.

"The only thing is—Julie." I made feeble protest. "I feel as though I were her official chaperone. It seems mean to leave her in the lurch."

"Leave that extremely sophisticated widow in the lurch?" Neil laughed aloud. "Anne, my dear, your Julie is perfectly competent to take care of herself, without your assistance. She must be nearly ten years older than you anyhow. So don't talk bosh about 'chaperoning' her."

"I—I want her to be happy," I spoke in all earnestness. "There was a period when I didn't care for Julie. That was before I married you, Neil. Then, later, I grew to appreciate her good points. I grew to understand her loyalty. She's a brick, Neil—a splendid friend."

He smiled a little grimly. I don't think he has ever really admired Julie to the extent I have. But he has never interfered with our friendship, which still persists.

So Neil and I left the gay seaside hotel, and buried ourselves for a second honeymoon in the quiet countryside.

Until that second honeymoon—oh, blissful time!—I am certain that I never adequately realized what happiness could mean!

A country cottage was our dwelling. We rose early, and yet the days never seemed long enough for us.

Neil taught me all manner of country lore. The names and ways of birds and beasts and flowers and fishes. The histories of herbs and plants and ferns, the habits of the wild creatures and insects that haunted woods and fields and marshes.

Walking he loved. I became an enthusiast.

Mountain-climbing was one of his hobbies. He initiated me into the joys of it.

Golf, also. After two weeks of Neil's tuition, I'm sure that I could have shown Margery a thing or two!

"Anne, you're the most perfect little pal that a man ever had." He whispered this information in my ear one evening, after a rather strenuous though happy and satisfying day.

"Neil, I'm so glad. I hated you to think I was a poor sport. At the beginning of our honeymoon I felt that I was a most unsatisfactory bride."

"You darling!" He kissed me fondly. "How often must I tell you that never at any time did I see flaws in you!"

One morning in late summer, after our honeymoon had spread itself out into the sixth blissful week, a handsome motor car drew up at our cottage door, and out stepped Julie, smart and up-to-the-moment, as usual.

John Courtney followed at her heels. He wore a coy air.

"Darling little Anne! Looking so happy, too! I'm delighted!" The Frenchwoman kissed me affectionately. "Well, this is certainly a happy meeting!"

They entered our cottage, and we chatted together.

Presently Julie could contain herself no longer, and said, in a voice quite shaky with excitement:

"Congratulate us, Anne—and Neil! For John and I were married yesterday!"

There is very little more to tell.

Neil and I do not move much in the public eye. Unobtrusively, he works all sorts of good for his friends. (The word "friends" is employed in the widest sense. The humblest folk are in that category.)

We own a very pretty country cottage, and spend a good deal of our time there, particularly in the summer. Aunt is a very frequent visitor. She is much attached to Neil.

Julie, too, and her rich husband, are among our friends. Prosperity has softened Julie wonderfully. It has brought her good points out and toned down her harsher side. There is no doubt at all that John Courtney adores her.

It is winter now, and I am writing this in the flickering fire-light of our drawing-room in town. We have a town-house, Neil and I, which we occupy for four months in the winter.

Sitting in the firelight I am not alone. Someone is beside me—a tiny, crooning, laughing someone who crawls along the heartrug and makes dear, delightful, unintelligible noises—a "someone" who is still very tiny, but entirely lovable!

"Does he resemble you, Anne? Or does he take after his daddy?" Neil inquires, a light of intense pride in his blue, blue eyes.

"He's like us both, bless his little heart!" I answer quickly.

The baby coos ecstatically. He knows that we are speaking of him.

"Almost two years since we were married, Anne," Neil observes. "How time does fly!"

I smile at him. Almost two years! It seems no longer than two days!

Then:

"Have you any news of Margery and her husband?" I put the question rather timidly, but feminine curiosity urges me.

"The last I heard about them was that they'd gone into musical comedy," my husband answers. "They seem to be getting along all right. Delaunay, of course, is living on his wits. The process seems a fairly lucrative one at times, though it has its hazards."

"Do you think that Margery is happy?"

"Ask me something easier." My husband shrugged his shoulders.

"It's rather hard to say, isn't it?" I answered. "But—Neil—I'd like to think that she is happy."

"You darling little girl!" He flung an arm about me. "Margery was none too pleasant to you, so it's doubly good of you to talk like that. The more I get to know you, Anne, the more I appreciate and love you."

I glowed.

On the hearthrug, Neil Junior, a lovely baby, cooed and laughed.

His father caught him up and kissed him.

And then the door bell rang.

Pretty soon a maid appeared with a paper parcel. Neil opened it. For a moment he looked puzzled.

Then his face cleared.

"It's a present from Julie to her godson. Why, of course, today is baby's birthday. We've ... otten, Anne. How dreadful!" From the packet he drew forth a big silver mug.

"And Julie informs us that she and her husband are coming here tonight to celebrate the anniversary of the arrival of Neil Junior? Who else is coming?"

"Aunt," I answered. Then, rather shyly:

"You're happy, Neil? You're positive you are?"

He gathered Neil Junior and myself into his arms with one big, comprehensive sweep.

"I'm the happiest fellow in the world, my dear," he whispered. "And you, Anne? What of you?"

"Oh, Neil!" I held him and the baby close. "Life seems just crammed with happiness!"

The End.

A Mock Trial.

Dear Miss Grey,—We are having a mock trial, and will you please answer the following questions:

1. At a trial, who swears the jurors and witnesses in? (a) Which is sworn first?

2. Does the judge ask any questions he desires while the lawyers are questioning the witnesses?

3. Who asks the defendant if he is guilty?

Thank you.

ROBIN REDBREAST'S BROTHER.

Ans.—1. The clerk: (a) the jury.

2. Yes, if he desires to do so.

3. The clerk. If you will kindly send a stamped, addressed envelope I will answer the other questions.

Mrs. W. E. M.—Many thanks for hospital mite and recipe, but the latter was a little too late. All the sachets have been sent out.

Lonely Star's Queries.

Dear Cynthia,—Am returning mat patterns for which I thank you many times.

1—Can any reader please tell me the authors of the following books: "Joseph the Runaway," "Jim the Tinker," "Mackerel Will"?

2—Could still call my sister's husband a brother-in-law after my sister dies and her husband marries again?

Wishing you all the compliments of the season, I remain

LONELY STAR.

Ans.—(1) I am not sure, but I think the books you refer to are by Horatio Alger, as the titles are similar to most of his stories. (2) I answered this question for you quite a while ago, but apparently you overlooked it so I will answer it again. You may still claim him as a brother-in-law, if you care to.

A Hospital Gift.

Dear Miss Grey,—Please find inclosed the sum of $2 as my little bit towards the Sick Children's Hospital. Please acknowledge receipt of same on your page, and I will see it, as I am a close reader of the Mail-Box page. I may try and write a letter to your page soon. EX-PRIVATE FATTY.

Ans.—Many thanks for such a generous gift. We would be pleased to hear from you some time.

Around the Grate Fire.

Dear Miss Grey,—I have been a reader of the Mail-Box for some time, and have at last got nerve enough to write. I have come for some help this time, and I hope I shall be of some help in the near future. I should very much like to have a couple of dialogues or comic songs if you or any of the readers have any they have not use for. Do you think we are going to have any more skating this year? I hope we do, as I like it, because it is such fine sport and good exercise. Wishing the Mail-Box every success in the present and future. Inclosed you will find a small mite for the S. C. H., and would you please tell my character by my handwriting? Hoping I haven't taken up too much of your valuable space for a beginner. Thanking you in advance. LONG BOY.

Ans.—If any dialogues or songs are sent in, I shall be pleased to forward them. I do not pretend to be a weather prophet, but sincerely hope we will have more skating. I cannot tell characters from handwriting. Many thanks for hospital mite.

Dear Miss Grey,—We are a Sunday school class of nineteen, ages ranging from 15 to 18, and we are wishing you could suggest a plan to raise money. We have had a bazaar, a box social, and used our talent in this way, and raised nearly a hundred dollars. So would you be kind enough to suggest a new plan? Oblige, I'M MR. MOUSIE.

Ans.—You could have a sale of home-made cooking, a tea, or a self-serve supper, Mr. Mousie. Have you tried any of these?

Dear Miss Grey,—I read the letters in the Mail-Box every day and sure do enjoy them. I also get lots of help from it. Is a girl of 16 too young to attend weekly dances? If so, how old should one be before they attend? SWANEE.

Ans.—Thank you, Swanee, for inclosure. If you are referring to public dances a girl of 16 is much too young and should be at least out of her teens before she even thinks of attending them.

Puppy Stories

THE CURIOUS PUP.
Part Fourteen.

"Where are we going?" the little mayor asked from his perch in Nibbles' ear. "We are traveling far from my country, and my poor people will think we have been devoured by the mice."

"Have heart," Nibbles told him. "This is my friend March Wind, who is carrying us off, and he will see to it that no harm comes to us."

"He has such a loud and blustering voice, I can't understand a word he says," the tiny citizen piped up. "Isn't he very terrible?"

"Indeed he isn't," Nibbles shouted back, for it was necessary to shout to be heard above March Wind, who was gaily whistling a tune.

All of a sudden March Wind let his passengers drift down, down, until once more Nibbles found himself on a grassy plot—only this time it was not a comfortable grassy plot—no, indeed! The blades of grass were like great sticks of wood sticking out, and the dog had to walk quite carefully, or he would have hurt himself against them.

"What strange land is this?" asked the little mayor, as he hopped out of Nibbles' ear, and with the citizen at his side climbed down to the ground.

"I never saw such big blades of grass before," Nibbles told him. "Aren't they immense?"

"Why, those giant trees can't surely be grass," said the little mayor in wonder. "They are terrible big things. I would be terrified if I had to climb up one of them."

"Well, then, what are those big things over there?" cried Nibbles, as he pointed to some huge things that seemed to reach right up to the sky. "Those are trees! And such gigantic ones they are!" The little mayor and the tiny citizen could not believe their eyes. The trees were so big they couldn't see half of them. They thought sure they must be great mountains instead of trees.

All at once there was a rumbling sound. Swish! Nibbles stepped aside just in time as a boot twenty times as big as the largest one he had ever seen thundered down beside him. He looked up and jumped back in fright. There strutting about was a giant, the owner of the big boot. What a tiny little animal Nibbles seemed beside him! What would the giant do when he discovered Nibbles and his tiny companions? The poor little mayor and tiny citizen had fainted with fright.

CANADIENS GATHER IN SECOND VICTORY

St. Patricks Outguessed by Frenchmen—Many Players Penalized.

MONTREAL, Jan. 30.—(By Canadian Press.)—Scoring their second victory in the second half of the National Hockey League schedule which started last Wednesday, Canadiens defeated St. Patricks of Toronto Saturday night by 4 to 2. Canadiens held a noticeable edge all through the game. In the third session Canadiens eased up, and St. Patricks outscored the local team.

St. Patricks were outguessed and outgeneralled by the Frenchmen, while members of the former team were weak in shooting. Time after time they broke through Canadiens' defence and shot without result; whilst Canadiens shot at every opportunity and from all angles.

The game was marred by an almost steady procession of local players to the penalty bench for minor offences, almost every man of the Canadiens' team being penalized at one time or another, while only Cameron, Randall and Cleghorn were punished on the Toronto team.

In the first period Cleghorn and Lalonde went to the ice in a fist fight, and both were penalized for a major foul. In this affray Cleghorn injured the muscles of his back and was forced to retire shortly after serving his penalty.

With a better supply of substitutes Canadiens made more frequent changes than their opponents and thus gradually wore them down.

The line-up:

St. Patricks.		Canadiens.
Forbes	Goal	Vezina
Cleghorn	Defence	Corbeau
Cameron	Defence	Mummery
Noble	Centre	Lalonde
Dye	Wing	Pitre

"STRANGLER" LEWIS NOT TO USE THE HEADLOCK IN TONIGHT'S MATCH

Boston, Jan. 31.—Ed. "Strangler" Lewis, the wrestling champion whose use of the headlock has caused injury to opponents and criticism from spectators, will come to grips here tonight with Renato Gardini without the aid of this formidable hold. At the request of the promoters made after reports of the maiming of Joe Stecher and the temporary unconsciousness of others who opposed Lewis, the champion agreed to wrestle without the headlock.

GENERAL STRIKE IS PARTIALLY EFFECTIVE

CALCUTTA, British India, Jan. 30.—The boycott requested last week by the Bengal Provincial Congress against functions held in honor of the visit of the Duke of Connaught, who is in India to inaugurate reform legislation, has been largely a failure, although a general strike became partially effective today at noon on the arrival of the duke, who was received in state. Thousands of persons cheered the duke along the route from the station to Government House, where he was received by the ruling princes.

The attempt at boycotting the duke was led personaly by M. K. Gandhi, the revolutionary leader.

IRISH COMMANDER FORBIDS HUNTING

CORK, Jan. 30.—Major-General Sir Edward Strickland, in command of the troops, in a proclamation today forbids hunting, point to point races, and coursing meetings in certain areas of the Counties of Cork, Tipperary and Limerick. The commander gives as his reason that it is possible these local hunt meetings will be likely to lead to breaches of the peace and be prejudicial to the restoration of order.

SARNIA THREATENS NEW LINE-UP FOR BIG CLASH

SARNIA, Jan. 29.—Rumors regarding the Sarnia line-up for Tuesday's game are flying thick and fast, and some well-known players of a couple of years back are being mouthed as likely to be sporting the blue and white, when Sarnia and Glencoe clash at St. Andrews arena. Until something definite from the players concerned is heard the names are being kept under cover, but no stone is being left unturned to have a team out that will bring back memories of days when this city was reckoned a power in the hockey world. Practices are being held regularly, and the team work of the team perfected. Davenport and company are going to find an altogether different looking team facing them when they line up across the Christina street ice sheet than the one that went onto the ice in Alvinston after a long trip over the roads the county councillors have been condemning all week.

85-Year Sentence For Incendiarism

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Jan. 29.—Albert Smith, 19 years old, today pleaded guilty in criminal court here to 13 charges of arson and was sentenced to serve not less than 42 or more than 85 years in the Western Penitentiary at Pittsburg.

Smith was arrested several weeks ago after the entire countryside had been aroused by a series of incendiary fires which caused damage estimated at not less than three-quarters of a million dollars.

POLICE FIND DRUGS AND CHINESE LIQUOR

VANCOUVER, Jan. 29. — Secreted under the veranda of an unoccupied dwelling, local police last night discovered what they claim is $50,000 worth of narcotic drugs, consisting of opium, morphine and cocaine. Two hundred and fifty-eight cases of Chinese liquor were also found on the premises. The police believe the house was used for a depot of smuggled shipments of drugs, made from here to points in the United States, and the supplying of local traffickers.

COALITION PLANNING GENERAL ELECTION

LONDON, Jan. 29.—The Times today declares that Coalition organizers are actively preparing for a general election, and that it is the intention of the Government to go to the country in May or June on an unexpectedly favorable budget. The prime minister and chancellor of the exchequer, it says, have decided that it is possible to introduce a budget of £950,000,000, and have also satisfied themselves that this would allow a considerable remission of taxation. Meanwhile, the Government is vigorously wielding the economy axe in various departments, especially in the ministry of transportation, where two expensive branches have been lopped off.

SENATORS WINNERS OF SNAPPY BATTLE

Hamilton On Light End of 2 to 1 Score—Both Teams Work.

HAMILTON, Jan. 30.—Hamilton and Ottawa battled at top speed for 60 minutes last night in the fastest hockey game that was ever witnessed here, the Senators coming out victorious by a score of 2 to 1, after being on the defensive the greater part of the last period. There was not a dull moment throughout the game, and the Tigers made a much better showing than they have in any previous affair on their home ice.

To pick a weak spot on either team would have been a hard matter, although Joe Malone was not as effective for the Tigers as he has been in some previous encounters. He was closely watched by the visitors, but at that missed many chances through failing to take passes as accurately as he usually does. There was more combination play on the part of the Tigers than there usually is, but they could not get the "breaks."

The Tigers made a desperate effort to even matters up in the last five minutes of play and threw the entire team, defence and all, up on the forward line, and shot and scrimmaged around the Ottawa nets, but without success.

The line-up:

Ottawa.		Hamilton.

Boucher	Defence	Couture

BANDITS GET AWAY WITH $14,000

DETROIT, Jan. 29.—Three armed bandits this forenoon entered the north end branch of the American State Bank on Davison avenue, locked three employees in a rear room and escaped with $14,000. The bandits compelled the cashier to bring the money from a safe. The money was taken from the vault and the cashier's cage, while the robbers held the three employees at bay with drawn revolvers, according to the story given the police. The bandits escaped in an automobile.

Only three employees were in the bank at the time, Manager Elesin, Cashier Clyde Smith and Teller George Ivanovich. They had just opened the bank, they say, when three men entered, while a fourth took his stand outside the door.

FIRE AT BLENHEIM.

BLENHEIM, Jan. 30.—Fire of unknown origin, which was discovered by neighbors shortly after 4 o'clock this morning, completely destroyed the large planing-mill of Robert Nichols. When noticed the flames had made such progress that nothing could be done to check them, and only the fact that it had rained a short time before and the roofs were well soaked saved adjoining residences. In the building was stored a large quantity of finished lumber, two carloads of baled straw and four tons of tobacco. The loss is about $7,000, and there is no insurance. The heat was so intense that the house of Mrs. Carns took fire, but the blaze was put out before any serious damage was done.

AMBUSH VICTIM DIES OF WOUNDS

Commissioner Holmes Killed by Irish Rebels Near Dublin.

DUBLIN, Jan. 30.—Divisional Commissioner Holmes, who, with five constables, was wounded Friday in an ambush near Castle Island, County Kerry, died yesterday. He had only recently been appointed commissioner for the southern counties in succession to Colonel Smythe, who was murdered some time ago in a Cork club.

DAIRYMAN IS KILLED.

DUBLIN, Jan. 30. — A dairyman named Doody was shot dead Saturday night in Rathmines, a suburb of Dublin, when he alighted from his pony cart at the behest of the two men who stepped suddenly from a side path of Leinster road, in the residential quarter.

The authorities in Dublin Castle describe the shooting as a complete mystery.

DIES OF WOUNDS.

BELFAST, Jan. 30. — One of the members of the ambushing party which was surprised by military forces Friday at Coach Ford, County Cork, died in a hospital here today of wounds received in the engagement.

It is reported the party had trenched the road running from Cork to Macroom. The members of the party who escaped carried off and concealed their slightly wounded comrades, but were obliged to abandon the five seriously wounded.

Constable Clarke, who was wounded recently at Stranooden, County Monaghan, when his comrades were killed, also died in a hospital today.

Surprising an ambushing party at Coach Ford, County Cork, Friday, the military killed one civilian and captured ten members of the party, five of them wounded, according to a dispatch dated Dublin, Jan. 29. Ammunition and other equipment was abandoned. There were no casualties among the soldiers.

HOUSE IS WRECKED.

BELFAST, Jan. 30.—Cullen's wood house in Ranelagh, a Dublin suburb, was wrecked Saturday night by the military. The house was owned by the aged mother of Patrick H. Pearse, once "provisional president" of Ireland, who was executed after the 1916 rebellion. All the occupants except Mrs. Pearse had left the building in December owing to repeated raids.

The military wrecked the house with axes and crowbars. Local opinion today seemed to be that the wrecking of the house was done in reprisal for the ambuscade at Terenure. Residents of the building were engaged today in removing the furniture that remains in the rooms.

MADE NEW RECORD.

INGERSOLL, Jan. 30.—A Holstein cow belonging to Walburn Rivers of West Oxford has established a Canadian record for a two-year test. She is "Calamoty Snow Pontial," who during 1920 gave 28,442 pounds of milk with a butter production of 1,240 pounds. During 1919 she gave 25,336 pounds of milk, with a butter production of 1,060 pounds. This is an average of 26,890 pounds of milk yearly for two years in succession, with a butter production of 1,150 pounds per year.

TRANSFERRED TO LONDON.

GALT, Jan. 30.—Chas. F. MacKenzie leaves on Monday for London, having been appointed manager of the east end branch of the Merchants Bank. The staff of local bank presented him with a handsome gold watch and chain, while a number of friends gave him a club bag.

The Thistle Curling Club has taken up the matter of bestowing additional honors on Norman H. Keene's rink, winners of the Just Wright trophy, the first event at the St. Thomas bonspiel last week. A social evening has been arranged for next Friday night, when the committee will enedavor to show the appreciation of the members for the Thistle victory.

Keene's rink, composed of Messrs. M. Aikenhead, W. J. Anderson, A. Joe McGuffin, and W. H. Rhodes, substitute, also tied with Skip Greenizen of Petrolea and James Bristow of St. Thomas for the total number of games won during the 'spiel.

With the arrival of Lefty Carmen, three of London champion Mint League Club pitching staff are now in the city. Jack Harper and Ad Thomas, the former a visitor also, while Thomas is wintering here, met Manager Wetzel on Saturday. Wetzel has been in the city for the past three weeks, but is leaving again for his home in Columbus, after the league meeting in Detroit.

NEW BLOOD LIKELY IN ONTARIO TEAMS

Brantford, Jan. 29.—A meeting of the club owners of the four Ontario clubs of the Michigan-Ontario League met here over the week-end for the purpose of preparing for the coming season, and to discuss matters that will be dealt with at the league's annual meeting in Detroit on Wednesday next.

Representatives of the clubs were enthusiastic over the coming campaign, and while no announcements of appointing managers for Kitchener, Hamilton and Brantford clubs were directly made, it was understood that each team will be in capable hands and new blood is being introduced.

It seemed to be a foregone conclusion that Battle Creek's franchise will be moved to another city more easily reached into railroad connection.

The matter of Montreal and Ottawa being admitted to the circuit was discussed, but nothing definite was given out at the conference.

MILLION DOLLAR CO. TO MARKET ASPROLAX THROUGHOUT CANADA

Canadian Druggists Receive Positive Instructions to Refund Money in Every Instance If It Fails to Give Prompt Relief.

EXHAUSTIVE TESTS PROVE EFFICIENCY

Remarkable New Remedy Is Combination Treatment, and Acts As An Antipyretic, Expectorant, Laxative and Antiseptic.

People who have taken Asprolax, the new treatment for colds, which has been accomplishing such remarkable results, find it difficult to describe the wonderful feeling of relief they experience. According to reports of thousands who have tried it, the new remedy is almost magical in its effect. The very first dose invariably stops the tendency to sneezing and coughing, and the second or third dose usually breaks up the severest cold altogether. The head is unstopped, sneezing and sniffling cease at once, difficult respiration is relieved, and a gratifying feeling of relief takes the place of distress and discomfort.

Asprolax is a combination treatment and acts as an antipyretic which reduces the fever; an expectorant which loosens the phlegm, relieves congestion, and stops the cough; a laxative which opens the bowels, and an antiseptic which retards germ growth and prevents the spread of infection. Asprolax is delightful to take and produces no unpleasant after-effects whatsoever. Even young children take it readily, and it acts on all, both young and old, with the same gratifying results. Mothers will find it the best remedy for their children in all cases of bad colds, coughs, croup, bronchitis and kindred affections.

A million dollar corporation composed of highly-successful, level-headed businessmen, stands squarely back of every bottle sold.

If you are suffering from a cold go to your nearest druggist and get a bottle of Asprolax. Open it on the spot, —take one teaspoonful, repeat the dose in one hour, and again in two hours. If by the time you have taken the third dose you are not surprised and delighted with the result, take the bottle back to your druggists and your money will be refunded without question.—Advt. b

Opposed—Armstrong, Turner, Smith, Illman, Ringler, Scott, Balfour, Ehgoetz, Petrie and Krug—10.

The following grants were made: Agricultural Societies of the county, $500 each; Epileptic Hospital, Woodstock, $39; Children's Aid Society, $1,500; Stratford Hospital, $1,500; Listowel Hospital fund, $500; Listowel Hospital grant, $1,000; Travelers' Aid Society, $200.

It was decided to expend $40,000 for good roads and $50,000 for general expenditures.

CANCEL INSURANCE.

BLENHEIM, Jan. 30.—One of the local fire insurance agents received a telegram to cancel forthwith all insurance policies on tobacco. As this company is an important one and holds quite a number of policies, it looks as if it is now considered that tobacco is a very risky product to have insurance on.

SAVED FROM DROWNING.

SARNIA, Jan. 29.—Prompt action on the part of Capt. Delos Whitely saved the life of the 16-year-old son of John Washburn, when the youth broke through the ice on the river at St. Clair today. Accompanied by two chums, Washburn was skating, when the ice gave way, plunging him into the icy water. His companions deserted him when he fell in. The lad, being a good swimmer, kept afloat and managed to swim back to the edge of the solid ice, where he hung on until Capt. Whitley came to his rescue. While reaching out to draw the youth to safety the ice gave way beneath the rescuer, throwing him into the river. After being in the water for some time the two were finally able to crawl out on the ice and make for shore.

ALLIES AGREE ON DISARMAMENT OF GERMANY BY FIRST OF JULY

Council of "Big Five" Powers Reaches Full Agreement and Signs Protocol Before Adjournment—Germany to Pay 226,000,000,000 Marks in 42 Annual Installments Plus Annual Tax of 12 Per Cent On All Exports.

PARIS, Jan. 30.—Full agreement on reparations, German disarmament and all other important questions before it was reached by the supreme council of the Allies when it adjourned at 5:40 o'clock Saturday evening, to meet again in London on February 21.

The greatest result obtained was, as M. Briand, the French premier, expressed it after the closing session, "maintenance by the Allies of a front as united in making peace as it was in waging war."

Count Sforza, the Italian foreign foreign minister, and M. Briand said the conference had resulted to the satisfaction of everybody concerned.

A protocol was signed approving the reparations scheme as agreed by the special committee appointed by the council to consider the subject, and also the report on the disarmament of Germany as presented by the military committee. Under these arrangements Germany must disarm by July 1, disbanding all her civil guards not provided for in the Versailles treaty.

Forty-Two Annuities.

Germany will be called upon to pay in 42 annuities, on a sliding scale, a total of 226,000,000,000 gold marks. Her exports will, in addition, bear an export duty of 12 per cent, which will go to the Allies. On the basis of last year's exports, this would give the Allies 1,250,000,000 gold marks, or 12 per cent of whatever money in which the exports are paid for. Thus, it is estimated the first payment made by Germany will be 3,250,000,000 gold marks, the export tax being made entirely in cash.

It is pointed out that, besides being a sure method of collection of the reparations, it will act as a protective tariff in countries neighbors of Germany, which are likely to be flooded with German-made goods at a very low cost of production, because of the relatively low value of the mark.

Penalties Agreed Upon.

The penalties agreed upon by the council for violations by Germany will apply to all the agreements alike—reparations, disarmament, and coal deliveries. A strong feature of the reparations plan, from the French point of view, is that it associates the Allies in the benefits of Germany prosperity.

Seizure of German customs was added as fourth on the list of penalties adopted by the council. The other three are:

Extension of the area of occupation;
Occupation of the Rhur district;
Refusal to admit Germany to the League of Nations.

The proposal to apply penalties to the reparations and other agreements was presented by Mr. Lloyd George.

According to the terms of the arrangement, the annuities and export taxes are payable semi-annually. Discount for advance payments will be 8 per cent for the first two years; 6 per per cent the third and fourth years, and 5 per cent thereafter. Germany is forbidden to establish foreign credits without the approval of the reparations committee

Sent to Germany.

The supreme council's decisions were communicated to Germany last night.

In the attempt to aid Austria it was agreed that the Allies should forego reparations, the cost of the army of occupation and certain other Austrian debts to the Allies in order to enable Austria the more easily to secure outside aid. It was also decided to convene in the neighborhood of Trieste a conference of Austria and adjoining countries for the purpose of endeavoring to improve economic, commercial, financial and political relations between the Central European states.

Approval was given to M Loucheur's proposal for a 200,000,000 franc corporation to assist Austrian industries, in which the different governments may participate. A commission will be appointed to inquire into the conduct of the Austrian administration, with a view to suggesting economies and improving the various services.

Lively Satisfaction.

Mr. Lloyd George expressed lively satisfaction over the fact that the Allies had maintained their solid front. In taking leave of his colleagues he said: "We shall be glad to try to give you in London as cordial a reception as we received here, and we hope that you will be able to confront the London fog all the more courageously since the fog of the conference has been dissipated."

The council adopted the following resolution:

"The Allies, convinced that close union is as necessary in the present peace as it was in the war, are resolved to allow nothing to impair it. They consider union as the surest guarantee of the peace of the world, the execution of the treaties and fidelity to international engagements and penalties agreed to."

Before the delegates dispersed, Premiers Briand and Lloyd George thanked them for their co-operation. "We have succeeded by good will and concessions," M. Briand said, in attributing a great part of the success to such spirit.

Compliments Briand.

Mr. Lloyd George said that the conference's work was the subject of congratulations and was due largely to M. Briand's admirable efforts.

"It has been my painful duty," continued Mr. Lloyd George, smilingly, "to criticize what M. Briand has said on several occasions. But I did it for his good and because of my affection for him, and with what good results we now see."

Great resistance is expected from Germany over reparations. The Allies will hear the Germans at a conference to be held in London, February 28, and will then decide whether their recommendations shall be taken into consideration.

The council adopted the reparations commission's proposal that Germany should deliver 2,200,000 tons of coal monthly, beginning in February, and any balance remaining under the Spa agreement terminating January 31. There will be no further premiums of five marks gold per ton, but two marks gold will be allowed for a special quality of coal.

Mr. Lloyd George received the French newspapermen last evening. They asked him about the inter-allied debts. Mr. Lloyd George assured them that Great Britain would show the utmost good will in the settlement as evidenced by the engagement made at the Hythe conference not to capitalize its share of the German indemnities for five years, in order not to compete with loans France might make, based on her share.

Special Agreement.

"But it is impossible to consider a special agreement between two countries with regard to the question," he continued. "There must be a general arrangement. We owe to the United States; France owes us; other nations owe France. No solution is possible while the United States remains outside the discussion.

"Meanwhile, let us act as if debts did not exist. If the creditor does not worry me, I do not worry the debtor."

When the interview began, Mr. Lloyd George, smilingly, expressed his belief that the Germans would not like the terms greatly, but he anticipated no difficulty in collecting the export tax. Control would be made by a German official, he said, but the reparations commission would have to accept the nominee, and would have power to demand his supercession. German exports could be checked by returns from the importing countries.

Such control, said the prime minister, must not be confounded with seizure of the customs, which might be resorted to as a penalty.

"The word 'seizure' has been avoided, as has generally anything which might wound the Germans' feeling," he added.

Mr. Lloyd George concluded: "The reparations commission will continue to function, because France wishes that Germany's total debt to the Allies shall be calculated in accordance with the treaty. Furthermore, the possibility of Germany's refusing our arrangement must be foreseen, in which case there is nothing for us to do but to apply the treaty literally."

BARBADOS, A JEWEL ISLE, BASKS IN SUN

Barbadoe, B. W. I., Jan. 30.—A land without Bolshevists, labor disputes, prohibition, woman suffrage, high taxes, higher priced opera singers, building grafters, timid politicians, d'Annunzios, fake oil companies, Sinn Feiners, William Jennings Bryans and several other controversial grievances which the United States and some of the European monarchies, empires and republics are trying to solve or suppress.

Such a land is Barbados, an island twenty-one miles by ten, dropped down on the eastern fringe of the West Indian Archipelago, sixteen degrees north of the equator.

A Hot Little Isle.

While New York is probably blanketed with snow and trying to get the janitor to send up more heat, the Barbadian temperature by day at this season of the year lurks around the 90 mark. In the summer time the mercury climbs up to around 110 or thereabouts.

The sun beats fiercely on this little British outpost during the day, but life is rendered endurable by the refreshing trade winds that maintain a steady and invigorating blow through the open seas between the African coast and that of the South American republics.

Barbados is a British island, and the only one that the rivals of that nation have never succeeded in even temporarily wrestling from her control in nearly 300 years. It is governed by a civilian appointed by the English king, but concession is made to democratic dogmas by the establishment of a parliamentary body, the minority of whose members are elected to represent the seven parishes into which the island is divided politically.

Population Mostly Black.

The population of Barbados is approximately 80 per cent colored—blacks they are called, and they are uniformly black, with few of the characteristics of the American negro. Their customs are basically those of Africans of primitive type.

In the main, these Barbadian blacks are untutored, though they are shrewd enough and speak the English language with a freedom from the argot of the American negro, and with a stilted precision and mellifluousness of modulation that British influence has established.

The total area of Barbados is approximately 166 square miles, and the population is around 180,000, so that the brown little island is probably more densely congested than any like area of ground in the world except, perhaps, some parts of China.

The negro population sleeps in shacks thrown together and very much crowded every few feet around Bridgetown and the other centres, of which there are a half dozen scattered over the island. But the black population and white as well, really lives in the open. About two-thirds of the open country is dotted with plantations devoted to the production of sugar.

A Land of Cheap Labor.

Until the war came to drive the price of sugar way up, much of the available agricultural terrain was devoted to the production of the better grade of sea-island cotton. Even at the present price of sugar, molasses and rum, the Barbadian planters realize a handsome profit because of the cheapness of labor And labor is probably cheaper in this island than anywhere else outside of India or China.

It probably will interest the farmers, who are compelled to pay $4 to $5 a day for hired men to know that the prevailing wage for Barbadian field hands is something like $12 a month, with five husky blacks standing in line waiting for the fortunate possessor of a job to either die or resign. Incidentally, the Barbadian black lives to a ripe old age. His wants are few, simple and easily gratified, and few have ever been known to quit a job.

Trades unions are unknown among either the agricultural or industrial populations of the Barbados. A couple of years ago a black evangelist attempted to launch a Bolshevist movement. When the colonial government was advised of the fact it sent a black policeman to escort the offender to the first available ship leaving for other parts of the world, with a severe admonition to buy a ticket only one way. That was the end of Bolshevism in the Barbados.

Encourage Blacks To Go.

The colonial government does not encourage either the advent or activities of crusaders intent on destroying the prevailing standards of its citizenship. As a matter of fact, the Barbadian Government is one of the few countries in the world that is trying to decrease rather than add to its population. Any black that desires to leave the island is not only encouraged to do so, but is assisted on his way with the expressed hope that he will find other parts of the world more agreeable as a permanent residence.

It is the ambition of perhaps 90 per cent of the Barbadian blacks to take up permanent residence in the United States. And it is the ambition of the Barbadian government to have them do so. A few thousands have managed to raise the price of a ticket to New York, Philadelphia, New Orleans or Boston, and a good many of those that are left are trying to save up enough to emulate their example. American Consul Watson and Mr. Hunt, the vice consul, told me during the 24 hours' stay of the battleship Florida at Bridgetown that hundreds of Barbadian blacks apply for permission to go to the United States as soon as they have raised the price. Newspapers and passengers from the States have brought word of the high wages paid to domestic and unskilled labor in North America.

No Servant Problems.

Reports that common labor, for which the Barbadian is splendidly equipped, is paid as much as $4 and $5 a day in the States have naturally had the effect of increasing the desire of the Barbadian black to make his way to the land of promise and profit.

Most of the common laborers of Barbados count themselves exceedingly lucky if they can earn $5 a week. Masons, carpenters, painters and other craftsmen engaged in building ventures receive from $1 to $1.40 a day.

Canadian housewives harassed by the scarcity, indolence and high wages demanded by domestic servants, probably will envy their white sisters in the Barbados, who can hire a good cook for $8 a month and the most competent maid at from $5 to $10. A chauffeur earns from $4 to $7 a week, takes care of the car he drives and makes most of the repairs. Farm hands receive what the employing planter wants to pay him, which is all the way from a minimum of $7 to $15 a month for extra competent help.

Cost of Living Low.

Instead of having to stand in line at an employment agency to obtain a carpenter, a cook, a valet or a maid, a painter, or a farm hand, all of whom are willing to work 10 and even 12 hours a day, a businessman or housewife can go into the picturesque mob of blacks that daily congregate in Trafalgar Square at Bridgetown, make known his needs—and probably have to call in the police to fight off the applicants for the job that he has to offer.

The Barbadian black takes life almost as easy as the Barbadian white. He manages to get along with the minimum of effort, but money is so scarce that he is willing to work any time he can get it and on the terms of the employer. Nature is both generous and tolerant to both blacks and whites. He does not mind the scorching sun that frizzles a visitor from further north. A gentle trade wind permits refreshing sleep. His clothes do not cost much.

Nature provides most of his food, and the sea gives him an ample supply of palatable fish in exchange for a little effort and patience. He can buy all the tobacco he wants for a few pennies—if he can get the pennies. He can get royally drunk on native rum at an expenditure of a little more money than the cost of his tobacco.

Mansions of Mud.

The Barbadian white lives in a spacious and picturesque mud house admirably adapted to the tropics. His house is never over two stories in hight. A wide and spacious netting, the pillars of which are trellised with bourgainvilla and other luxurious tropical plants and flowers, is the most important feature of it.

The Barbadian black lives in a little shack of mud or wood that is more like a warren than a house. His domicle is crowded in with others sometimes one above the other and anchored to the side of a hill or wherever there is room for it. Race suicide is unknown among the Barbadian blacks. A family of five children is rather under than above the average.

A Barbadian black couple married in accordance with the ritual of the Church of England manages to raise and keep a family of eight or ten children in as many years on less income than a family of two could exist on in the States.

In addition to the orthodox religion which the Barbadian black has accepted along with the other features of the beneficent British Government, there exists two or three mysterious cults which strongly suggest voodooism as it exists in some of the southern states. of our own country.

Many Secret Societies.

These societies, which naturally go in strong for badges and music, indulge in all sorts of mystic performances. The government has made several attempts to stamp out these organizations, but has not wholly succeeded. Secrecy is the chief requisite for membership in the leading cults.

It is a tribute to British understanding, reinforced with an intelligent application of reasonable discipline, to see the ease with which a black Barbadian policeman handles the traffic in Bridgetown and the morals of the populations in the rural communities.

The Bridgetown cop, by the way, is well worth a second glance. He provides a most fascinating study in color, physical prowess and professional efficiency. Every one of them is a good six feet tall, splendidly proportioned as a thoroughly trained athlete and as black as the well known ace of spades.

The black will lug a suitcase half a mile for sixpence and count himself fortunate for the chance to earn it. He will come out to a ship anchored a mile in the roadstead in a wooden punt propelled through a choppy sea, chortle a hilarious welcome and dive ten fathoms for a sixpence or a shilling.

An Aquatic Carnival.

When the Florida steamed into Bridgetown Harbor on December 10 half a hundred male and female blacks were on hand in their little toy boats to invite Mr. Colby, the American secretary of state, and the members of his entourage to "cast a shillin' or a saxpence, sar," into the sea and witness an exhibition of expert diving. The members of the secretary's party and a goodly percentage of the 1,100 gobs and marines attached to the Florida contributed many American quarters and dimes to the aquatic carnival.

Barbados has long been celebrated for its sharks—in literature. I made diligent inquiries at the Bridgetown club, and among the shipping men who came to the Marine Hotel the other night regarding the relations between sharks and humans. Not one of the oldtimers could cite a single instance where a shark had actually attacked a swimmer.

The other day, when the Florida steamed to her anchorage, three figures came bobbing on the white crest of the violet waves from the shore. Two were men. The other was Miss Nellie Sherry, a stunning English girl of eighteen, who is quite as much at home in the water as the Barbadians.

Perhaps her vivid and magnetic beauty and manifest athletic supremacy reduce the ferocious sharks to the same degree of docility as the young British army and navy officers that daily dance attendance on her. I asked Miss Sherry the other night if she were not afraid of sharks. Her eyes held mine with a frank and steady stare of amazement.

"Afraid of sharks!" she repeated. "Why should I be?"

The only answer that I could frame was that I supposed the sharks were afraid of her.

HALIFAX TO BERMUDA FREIGHT RATES RISE

HAMILTON, Bermuda, Jan. 27.—(By Canadian Press).—The Royal Mail Steam Packet Company, operating four ships from Halifax, N. S., to Bermuda and the West Indies, has advanced its freight rates by 25 per cent both outward and homeward. Prior to the outbreak of the war, the rates from Canada to Bermuda were on the basis of $0.50 per dry barrel and $0.12 per cubic foot measurement, plus 5 per cent primage. At the outbreak of the war a surcharge of 25 per cent was added; in May, 1918, another surcharge was imposed, making the rate on dry barrels $0.80 and the measurement rate $0.20 per cubic foot. In August, 1919, the rates were again advanced to $1 per dry barrel and $0.25 per cubic foot. The new increase, now in force, puts the rate at $1.25 per barrel and $0.32 per cubic foot.

NAVAL OFFICER KILLED BY SENTRY.

Norfolk, Va., Jan. 31.—Lieut. C. S. Taylor, a United States naval medical officer, was shot and instantly killed last night by a sentry at the naval operating base, when, it is alleged, he disregarded an order to halt.

CARLOAD OF "SCOTCH" HELD.

Port Arthur, Jan. 31.—A carload of imported Scotch whiskey is being held in the king's warehouse at Port Arthur. This shipment was billed to an export house in Saskatchewan, but on account of importation to that province being prohibited from February 1, the shipment was stopped at Port Arthur and ordered held by the consignee. The liquor may be returned to the consignor.

WHEAT DROPS TEN CENTS PER BUSHEL ON LOCAL MARKET

Oats Trifle Firmer—Potatoes Slow at $1.50 to $1.60 Per Bag.

Wheat dropped ten cents a bushel on the local market Monday. It is now selling at $1.90 a bushel or at $3.17 a cwt.

Because of the cold winds there was a small offering of hay. At a late hour only two loads had reached the square. Although it was scarce the price showed a tendency towards weakening. One load sold at $26 a ton although it was of fairly good quality.

Oats were scarce and a bit firmer today. Quotations hovered around $1.60 to $1.62 a cwt.

Quotations for straw were a little weaker. They ranged from $11 to $12 a ton.

Eggs were lower when offered in wholesale lots. Wholesale they sold at 68 cents a dozen while they retailed at 75 cents.

Potatoes were slow at $1.50 to $1.60 a bag.

Oats—May, 41½c; July, 41⅝c.

Chicago, Jan. 31.—Wheat prices developed considerable strength today after a hesitant start. Leading commission houses became active buyers on finding that initial offerings were light. Bullish estimates of the domestic supply, together with gossip that recent declines had discounted all bearish factors, did a good deal to help lift values. Opening quotations, which varied from the same as Saturday's finish to 1¼c lower, were followed by a moderate sag and then by a sharp upturn all around.

Corn paralleled the action of wheat. After opening unchanged to ⅛c lower, the market scored a decided general gain.

Oats were governed by the course of other cereals, tarsting ⅜c to ½c down, and later rising above Saturday's finish.

PROVISIONS.

Chicago, Jan. 31.—Downturns in the value of hogs weakened provisions.

MONTREAL STOCK EXCHANGE.

Other important issues were very quiet.

STREET CAR STRIKE CONTINUES.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 31.—The third day of the street car strike, which has tied up the electric railways in Albany and six neighboring towns, began today with no indications of an early settlement.

So far there has been no disorder or serious accident, and reports of the arrival of strike-breakers have proved unwarranted.

WOMAN, BELIEVED MURDERED.

Somerville, N. J., Jan. 31. — Police today sent inquiries to various cities in an effort to identify the body of a woman found frozen in the ice in the Delaware and Raritan canal near the five-mile lock yesterday. A wedding ring bearing the inscription, "W. C. to M. L., April 21, 1912," was the only clue they had to work on.

The woman's head was badly crushed and the authorities believe she was murdered.

DE VALERA DEPENDS ON LABOR PARTY OF GREAT BRITAIN

Springfield, Mass., Jan. 31.—An alleged interview at Rath Farnum, Ireland with Eamonn De Valera, in which he declared that the "republic of Ireland" would be saved by the British labor party is described by John Connolly of this city.

Connolly has just returned from abroad. He said he met De Valera, January 13. He told Connolly the Sinn Fein leader was in the best of spirits and expressed every hope for the success of the cause.

BE PRETTY! TURN GREY HAIR DARK

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or grey. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is mussy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost.

Don't stay grey! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the grey hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.

REDUCED PRICES ON PLOWS.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Jan. 31.—The Newell-Sanders Plow Company, one of the largest concerns of the kind in the South, has announced a 30 per cent reduction in the cost of plows, decreases in the cost of materials being given as the reason for the action.

TAXICAB DRIVERS' STRIKE ENDS.

Philadelphia, Jan. 31.—Taxicab drivers, who have been on strike here for about three months, voted last night to return to work, thus terminating one of the bitterest labor disputes Philadelphia has witnessed in recent years. During the strike many acts of violen attributed to the strikers or their sy pathizers, were reported. The strik will have to await their turn for instatement.

And only those who loved can tell
The pain of saying a last farewell;
His memory is as dear today
As in the hour he passed away.

TELEGRAPH BRIEFS

LORD CECIL TO LECTURE.

London, Jan. 31.—The Evening Standard understands that Lord Robert Cecil is likely to visit the United States in the near future on a short lecturing tour.

HYDRANTS FROZEN, HOUSE BURNS

Brockville, Jan. 29.—A house owned by a man named Phillips in Smith's Falls was destroyed by fire on Friday shortly after midnight, the occupants escaping in their night clothes. They gathered on a balcony, from which they were rescued with a ladder. Nothing was saved. After the fire brigade had responded it was found that the hydrant were frozen, and it was 25 minutes before water could be secured. The house is a total loss. It is not known how the fire started.

GRAIN GROWERS' PROBLEMS.

Regina, Sask., Jan. 31.—Almost at the opening of their convention, the Saskatchewan Grain Growers are going to plunge into two big controversial questions, either of which will make history. They are the operation of a voluntary wheat marketing pool and the entry of the farmers into the provincial political arena.

FEEDING 17,000 DAILY.

Washington, Jan. 31.—John Earl Baker, director of famine relief, American Red Cross, in Peking, reports that the Red Cross is now feeding about 17,000 people per day.

"We have about 3,500 men engaged in highway construction, of which about ten miles have been completed, twenty miles more are under construction, and some 37 more have been staked out," he said.

SELL AVIATION FIELD.

Detroit, Jan. 30.—It was learned here today, upon the authority of a prominent United States army officer, just back from a Southern training camp, that after many complications and delays, the sale of Taliaferro Aviation Field at Fort Worth, Texas, has just been authoriezd. This air field was established by the Royal Flying Corps of Great Britain in 1917 for the training of Canadian aviators, and was afterward taken over by the American Government.

SLEEPING SICKNESS.

Regina, Jan. 30.—The last heavy shipment of liquor into Saskatchewan before the bone dry law goes into effect on Tuesday, reached Regina on Friday, in the form of an express carload from Ontario.

HAYES REMAINS IN NAPLES.

Naples, Jan. 31.—Archbishop Patrick J. Hayes of New York, who arrived here on Wednesday on the steamer Pesaro, is spending several days here sightseeing. He expects to leave for Rome next Wednesday, when he will present to the pope a report on his diocese.

The archbishop, who is a knight commander of the Order of the Crown of Italy, is the object of most cordial courtesies.

GERMAN LINES TO EXTEND TRADE

Berlin, Jan. 31.—Beginning March 5, the Kosmos Line of Hamburg, and the Roland Line, Bremen, will inaugurate a monthly service to Chile and Peru by way of the Panama Canal. Regular service between the Baltic and South American ports from Copenhagen, Hamburg and Rotterdam to the River Plate, it is announced, will be opened next month.

MISHAP TO THE PRESIDENT GRANT

Berlin Jan. 31.—A special dispatch from Danzig reports that the American steamer President Grant, which was to have taken to the United States 1,400 Americans of the demobilized Polish army, went adrift in a heavy gale, and is now blocking up the harbor.

DELAYED DELIVERY.

Dedham, Mass., Jan. 31.—A letter that had been nineteen years on the way, part of the time traveling through the war capitals of Europe, was delivered today to Mrs. Fred I. Pratt of this town. It looked like a futuristic conception of the international postal stytem gone mad, with more than a score of foreign postmarks cutting curliques with domestic marks.

London, Petrograd, Berlin and other far places were registered cheek by jowl with the little station of City Mills from which the letter was sent on February 2, 1902. Some of the dates indicated that the letter at times was within a day or two of overtaking Mrs. Pratt, at others it was years behind, and oddly it found her today within a few miles of its starting-place.

GAS BOLL WEEVIL.

Washington, Jan. 28.—The chemical warfare service of the army, in co-operation with the department of agriculture, is preparing to lay down a barrage of poison gas in the cotton district of the South, calculated to exterminate the boll weevil. Brig.-Gen. Amos Fries, chief of the service, said today that experiments already conducted promised success.

Military gas has already been used against rats in seaport cities, he added, a fifteen-minute application along the wharves and under water front buildings, killing every rat in the area. The army is "gassing" locusts in the Philippines, he added.

DIES OF HICCOUGHS.

Philadelphia, Jan. 31.—John Peterson of Essington, who last week was apparently cured of a violent attack of hiccoughs lasting fifteen days had a relapse on Wednesday night, and died last night. He was 45 years old. He leaves a widow and four children.

"BLUE SKY LAWS" INVOKED.

Akron, Ohio, Jan. 31.—Four officers of the Interlocking Cord Tire Company of Akron and Mogadore were arrested on secret indictments returned late today by the Summit County grand jury, following investigation of charges of fraud made by more than 400 stockholders in a petition for receivership filed two weeks tgo.

Separate indictments, in two counts each, charge Walter Kline, president of the corporation; C. E. Foust, secretary; J. W. Rinear, treasurer, and L. W. Rinear, sales manager, with alleged violation of the Ohio "blue sky" laws. Kline also was indicted for the alleged obtaining of money under false pretenses.

When arraigned in the criminal court all defendants pleaded not guilty and were released on bond.

FAMOUS SPANISH CHATEAU BURNS

Cordoba, Spain, Jan. 31.—Fire almost completely destroyed the famous chateau of La Albaida, near here, early today. The fire brigade of this city was summoned to the scene, but could do little toward checking the flames. Countess Hornachuelos, her children and several guests had narrow escapes from the flames, and many historic treasures were lost.

109,274 JAPANESE IN HAWAII.

Washington, Jan. 31.—The Japanese population of Hawaii in 1920 was 109,274 out of the total population of 255,912 and represented an increase for that race of about 33 per cent since 1910, the census bureau announced today.

The only race which showed a greater rate of increase in Hawaii than the Japanese was the Filipino, with an increase from 2,361 in 1910 to 21,031 in 1920. The native Hawaiian peoples decreased in the last decade from 26,041 to 23,723.

SILESIAN PROPAGANDA.

Berne, Jan. 31.—The Swiss Government has agreed to allow the troops of countries belonging to the League of Nations to pass through its territory on the way to Upper Silesia to help supervise the plebiscite there on the question of remaining with Germany or joining Poland.

Swiss who have just returned from Upper Silesia declare that the more troops are sent there to keep order the less chance there will be of bloodshed during the plebiscite. Polish and German propaganda is alike taking extraordinary forms. Thus, the Poles have organized religious pilgrimages to Czenstochowa and Polish pulpit propaganda has reached such lengths that the pope has intervened, through the nunzio, Monsigner Ogno, telling the Upper Silesian priests not to engage in pulpit political controversies.

LEAPS TO HER DEATH.

New York, Jan. 31.—Mrs. Helen Marshall, 27, a bride of four months, jumped from the window of her bedroom on the fourth floor of 1124 College avenue, the Bronx, last night, while suffering from influenza, and was killed.

She told her husband George that she felt she was dying, and asked him to call a priest. While he was telephoning for the priest and the physician, he heard her push up the window, and ran in just too late to prevent her from jumping out.

Mrs. Marshall had only recently been appointed a guardian of her two orphaned nieces, Rita and Joseph Lewis, 8 and 6 years old. Their father, who was a member of the 27th Division, was killed in front of the Hindenburg line, and their mother, Mrs. Marshall's sister, died a few months ago.

OIL PROMOTERS INDICTED.

Chicago, Jan. 28.—Ten officials of the Black Diamond Oil Company were indicted today on five charges of conspiracy to use the mails in a scheme to defraud, by a federal grand jury. Bonds were fixed at $5,000 each.

Those indicted included C. C. Marshall, president of the company, Drumright, Okla.; John D. Cameron, general manager, New York, and D. Francis Foley, secretary, New York.

The indictments charged that statements in literature alleged to have been sent through the mails that the concern had extensive land holdings in Texas and other Southern States, that 550,000 barrels of oil were produced annually from 36 wells, and that annual earnings were $1,000,000, were false.

The charges state that the company owned only a few acres in Indiana, with several wells worth about $1,000.

Longer Service; Less Overhauling

The Chalmers motor "stays right" longer. It requires less overhauling and saves owners thousands yearly.

That spells lasting satisfaction. It is due to the Chalmers practice of heating the mixture—not merely the air—before it enters the cylinders.

What S. A. E. Men Say

A committee of the Society of Automotive Engineers has just released the report of its investigation into the preheating principle.

It says, in so many words, that the practice of pre-heating fuel results in the "maintenance of the engine in such a condition as to deliver higher power over longer periods between overhauling."

This is highly important to you.

It means higher efficiency and better performance. It means longer service and lower cost for repairs and replacements.

These, we think, are things every motorist desires. Chalmers' owners enjoy them.

Equally important, the Chalmers requires less fuel, by making better use of it.

It gets more power, by completely consuming the fuel in the cylinders.

It gets smoother running, and a really wonderful pick-up.

It warms up more quickly, and saves itself much wear and strain.

Things That Mean Satisfaction

All these advantages naturally make Chalmers owners think highly of their car. They make the car a real investment instead of an expense.

Motor car buyers would do well to consider them seriously. For their possession, or their lack, often marks the difference between satisfaction and dissatisfaction.

DRAYTON FOR EFFORT TO AVOID DEPRESSION

Speaks in Support of Conservative Candidate in Peterboro.

PETERBORO, Ont., Jan. 30.—"This is my first appearance on the political hustings," said Sir Henry Drayton at a meeting held here Saturday night in support of the candidature of R. Denne, the Government candidate in the federal by-election in West Peterboro.

Besides the minister of finance, addresses were given by Major H. M. Mowat, M.P., Toronto; H. H. Stevens, M.P., Vancouver, B.C., and Mr. Denne.

Referring to the tariff policy of Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Liberal leader in Canada, Sir Henry Drayton quoted from some of Mr. King's speeches in the House in which immediate tariff reductions were demanded. It was not a question of submitting it to a general election, said Sir Henry. Mr. King wanted the Government to revise the tariff then and there.

Out on Prairies.

"Now Mr. King comes into West Peterboro and tells the people that if the Liberals got into power tomorrow they would not make a single change in the tariff without first submitting it to the people," said the minister. "Out on the Prairies, Mr. King is one of the most marvelous free-traders and tariff-smashers you could find anywhere. Here in Peterboro he supports Mr. G. N. Gordon, the Liberal candidate, who puts a tariff on everything but foodstuffs. The tariff is a method of raising money and protecting industries.

"One of the best things we can do nationally is to raise everybody's standard of life. At a recent hearing before the tariff commission it was shown that the unit rate of labor on one article manufactured in Canada was 26c, and in Japan the unit rate of labor on the same article was 6c. That represents a big difference in the standard of living."

Honest Endeavor.

Sir Henry Drayton said there should be an honest endeavor to arrange business so as to eliminate seasonal depression. Answering the charge that the rich do not pay as high an income tax in proportion as the poor, he said that in the lower registers the Canadian income tax is less severe than in any country in the world, and in the higher registers it is higher than in any other country.

FIREMAN IS KILLED IN OTTAWA EXPLOSION

Two Others Injured in Blaze, Causing Damage of $70,000.

OTTAWA, Jan. 30.—(By Canadian Press.—One fireman was killed and two others injured in a fire which last night completely destroyed a four-story brick building on Queen street west, occupied by Such Bros., rag and junk dealers. The loss is estimated at $70,000, with $6,000 insurance. The dead man is Fireman Nelson Poirier, aged 37 years. He was a married man with eight children.

The casualty occurred when the rear wall of the building was blown out by a smoke explosion. Poirier, who was working with Fireman Edgar Landry, was completely burned under the pile of debris. Landry suffered painful injuries to the head and body, but his condition is not considered serious.

Was Knocked Down.

Albert Hudson, another fireman, was knocked down by the force of the blast and received minor injuries. Spontaneous combustion is supposed to have caused the fire. The building was loaded from basement to roof with bales of rags and paper.

Shortly after the explosion which demolished the rear fall, one of the side walls collapsed, crushing a telephone pole to the ground and bringing a number of live wires down. These, luckily, did not hit anyone, but severely hampered the fire fighters in their work and created confusion amongst the large crowd which had gathered. Finally the power was shut off and the wires were removed.

Narrow Escapes.

Several narrow escapes occurred during the fire. When the smoke explosion occurred, Lieut. J. Langdon and a crew from No. 1 fire station were on a stairway between the first and second floors. Falling brick and mortar entombed them, and it was only after a valiant fight that they were able to cut their way out with axes.

An inquest into the death of Poirier will be opened tomorrow morning.

DRURY TO CLEAR AIR ON POLICY

Premier Expected To Deal With Attacks On "Broadening Out" Plan.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

TORONTO, Jan. 30.—When Premier Drury on Tuesday next in the Legislature takes up the debate on the address in reply to the speech from the throne it is expected that he will make some official pronouncements on the "broadening out" policy of his Government. The attacks made upon that policy by Mr. Dewart and Hon. Mr. Ferguson last week would seem to place the premier under the necessity of clearly stating the Government's position.

During the progress of the speeches of the two Opposition leaders the premier took extensive notes. He shook his head in emphatic disapproval on occasions when speakers imputed ulterior motives to the Government. Notably, he expressed silent disapproval when Hon. Mr. Ferguson quoted and criticised the U. F. O. newspapers' pronouncement that henceforth the Government policies would not be discussed from public platforms.

With Premier Drury favorable to a sessional bonus, members of the Legislature express the opinion that at the end of the session the House will unanimously vote a bonus of several hundred dollars to each member.

To Prevent Old Age Coming too Soon!

"Toxins (poisons) in the blood are thrown out by the kidneys. The kidneys act as filters for such poisons. If you wish to prevent old age coming too soon and increase your chances for a long life, you should drink plenty of pure water and take a little 'An-uric,'" says the famous Dr. Pierce of Buffalo, N. Y.

When suffering from backache, frequent or scanty urine, rheumatic pains here or there, or that constant tired, worn-out feeling, the simple way to overcome these disorders is merely to obtain a little "Anuric" from your nearest druggist and you will quickly notice the grand results. You will find it more potent than lithia.

MORMON HELL MUCH COOLER THAN ORTHODOX

Nephi Jensen Says Eternal Punishment Is Only For Very Few.

"The Mormon Idea of Hell," was the theme of Nephi Jensen at the Star Theatre last night. Mr. Jensen, a former lawyer of Utah, now president of the Canadian mission of the Mormon Church, spoke in part as follows:

"The orthodox hell is the hottest place I have heard about. We are told that melted steel at white heat is used as ice cream by those who live in Satan's country. If a drop of water should be taken out of the ocean each year, by the time the ocean was dried up it would not be breakfast time in hell.

A Theological Scare.

"The orthodox hell in the creation of uninspired theologians; it has no existence in fact. There is no saving virtue in the doctrine of hell fire. People who become good because they are scared do not remain good very long. The chief use of the orthodox doctrine of hell is to scare people into the church.

"The torment of the wicked will consist of an intensified consciousness of guilt, which will make them shrink from the presence of God. All the wicked will not partake to the same extent of this punishment. On the day of judgment it will be more tolerable for some than others. And some sinners will be beaten with many stripes, and some with few stripes. This rule applies to people in the church and out of the church.

Eventual Liberation.

God's punishment is everlasting. But those who receive of it are only punished in proportion to their guilt. When they have paid for their sins they will be liberated. Jesus declared that when a person has paid the uttermost farthing for his sins he would come out of the prison house.

"Those who have committed the unpardonable sin are the only ones who will be punished forever. Most people will be saved in some degree of glory. This statement may seem strange, when it is remembered that Jesus said the road to eternal life is narrow, and that few find it. Only a few will enter into the highest degree of glory."

FREIGHT RATES TO BE FIXED TWICE MONTHLY

New Ruling Governing Rail Shipments Became Effective During Week.

In order that the exchange rate might be collected fairly on freight shipments between Canada and the United States and vice versa, the following rulings have been issued by the board of railway commissioners of Canada, becoming effective during the past week:

"A surcharge of 60 per cent of the rate of exchange, arrived at in accordance with the provisions of the tariff, will be added to the total through charges on all shipments, other than coal and coke, between Canada and the United States, including advanced charges payable to United States carriers, when such charges are payable and collected in the United States. When all charges are paid in United States currency this surcharge will not be added.

"On shipments from Canada the surcharge must be collected at the rate governing on the date of the bill of lading, and on shipments to Canada at the rate governing on the date of advice note of arrival at the Canadian destination. Such surcharges will accrue entirely on the Canadian carrier.

Rate Fixed Semi-Monthly.

"Telegraphic advice will be received by railway agents in Canada on the last day of such month, specifying the surcharge to be collected from the first to the fourteenth day of the following month, and on the fourteenth day of each month, specifying the surcharge to be collected from the fifteenth to the last day of each month."

In arriving at the surcharge the rate quoted for New York funds by the Bank of Montreal on the last day of each month will govern from the first to the fourteenth of the following month; similarly, such quotation at noon on thefourteenth day will govern the second period of the month.

These rulings were the outcome of protests made by Canadian shippers, who objected to paying an exchange rate on the full amount of shipping charges when the goods traveled a part of the distance in Canada.

Dr. W. H. Hill gave an interesting address on "What We Eat and How to Grow Big and Strong," to about two hundred young boys from all parts of the city in the Dundas Centre Methodist Church on Sunday afternoon. Following the address, the boys asked a number of questions, which were answered by Dr. Hill.

Prior to the meeting Lloyd Houlding of the Y. M. C. A. conducted a song service. Milton Walker, mayor of the boys' council of the city, presided.

EULOGIZES LATE REV. W. J. KNOX

Rev. Dr. D. L. McCrae Speaks in First Presbyterian Church.

"I knew him since the beginning of his ministry. From him I received great consideration and untold kindnesses. His death was a terrible shock to me," declared Dr. D. L. McCrae, in eulogizing the late Rev. W. J. Knox before the deceased's congregation at the First Presbyterian Church Sunday morning.

It was hard to realize that such a splendid man, who had stood as moderator of London and a member of the general assembly, had been taken.

"He was a great student, a pious father and a great worker." He was a profound and independent thinker, it was recalled, and he was greatly interested in all the problems of this new day. His deliverances always commanded respect. He was one of the ablest and most scholarly men in the church. His services were referred to as invaluable. Of his beautiful home life I dare not speak, except to say that it was extremely beautiful.

"I was always impressed by the great fellowship that existed between him and his congregation," said Dr. McCrae.

"There was never a beautiful life on earth that did not spring up from friendship of man, and so there was never a beautiful Christian life that did not spring up from the friendship of Christ."

During the service a special prayer for the late pastor's widow and family was said.

IS OUTSIDE ARCHITECT REALLY NECESSARY TO DRAFT COLLEGIATE PLANS?

Citizen Surprised at Action of No. 3 Committee, Board of Education.

Much surprise was expressed by a well-known citizen today at the newspaper reports that No. 3 committee of the board of education should recommend that outside architects be called upon to prepare plans for the proposed new high school buildings which they will recommend the board to proceed with.

"This will add several thousands of dollars to the costs of the building which I and others consider absolutely uncalled for," declared the speaker. "The board has on its staff a competent architect, at least if he is not, they should get one who is. If as some of the trustees claim, he has his hands full of public school work, surely it would be possible and much cheaper to provide him with a temporary competent assistant.

"Such an assistant could go ahead with the actual drafting work while he gives his attention to the planning of the new buildings. If this plan would not work out properly for some reason of which I may not know, why would it not be possible for the board to secure the assistance of the trained staff of the public utilities department just as the city council has done in connection with the proposed new city hall.

"Either of these plans would be much less expensive than going to outside firms. I quite understand that there is a sentimental feeling that the public bodies should to some extent work on the "Made in London" slogan, by giving work to local concerns, but if this policy is to rule why is the city called upon to provide the money for the salary of a permanently engaged architect," he concluded.

SUCCESSFUL SOUTH OF ENGLAND SOCIAL

Eight Hundred Attend Delightful Reunion in Y. M. C. A. Auditorium.

Eight hundred natives of England attended the South of England reunion under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., St. George's Society and the Sons of England, in the "Y" auditorium on Saturday evening. In order that the minds of the audience might be centred on their home-town or the district they came from, lantern slides were directed on a screen of nearly every hamlet and scenic part of the country. George Balch explained each picture thoroughly. An interval of five minutes between every ten pictures was spent in singing a song pertaining to the country. Following this, Chairman George Yull gave a short address.

W. J. Way was heartily applauded for a concertina solo, playing in company with A. Woods. An out-of-the-ordinary selection was the guitar solo by J. Roach.

Ten minutes were set aside for nonsense under the leadership of Franks Humphreys and Frank Emeny, who kept the audience in an uproar of laughter with witty sayings and clever singing and acting.

Views of "Sussex by the Sea" and Windsor were shown and explained by Mr. Balch. Harold Payne contributed some fine humoristic acting.

Two decided features of the evening were songs and dances given by little Miss Eleanor Tustin and Miss Margaret Taylor, 8 and 9 nears old respectively. Donald Payne made a hit with his baritone singing.

Robert Liddle, industrial secretary of the "Y," chiefly responsible for the success of these reunions, announced that the next reunion would be for natives of Scotland, and that in April an evening for every person from England would be held.

WILL NOT TOLERATE DISORDERLY HOUSES

WINDSOR, Jan. 30.—That an hotelkeeper must assume some obligations and use some judgment in determining who are legitimate guests and who are not, was the ruling by Magistrate W. E. Gundy in the case of L. P. Soon, proprietor of the "Old Timers' Rest," Walkerville, found guilty in police court of keeping a disorderly house. He had already closed one of these places, his worship stated, and as long as he was on the bench he was prepared to close them all. Soon was fined $200 and costs.

Evidence as to the character of the house conducted by Soon was given by four young men found in the place. They were each fined $15 and costs.

You Can Go Anywhere on "Gutta Percha" Tires

In 1920 "Gutta Percha" Tires hung up a record for service that has never been excelled. The extraordinary mileage obtained even where road conditions were worst, proclaimed them the outstanding tires of the year, and drew much favorable comment from the motoring public.

"GUTTA PERCHA" TIRES

Wherever you go in winter the roads are rough with frozen ruts and jagged ice. "Gutta Percha" Tires make a wonderful resistance to the wear and tear of this kind of driving. Tough treads and strong construction make "Gutta Percha" Tires able to withstand the worst winter roads.

A Canadian Express truck, Toronto, ran 30,000 miles on two "Gutta Percha" Fabric Tires, 37x5, on rear wheels, and the tires are still fit for use.
