

CITY COUNCIL SETS NEW RECORD FOR SHORT SESSION

Small Amount of Business Rushed Through in 50 Minutes, Followed by Abrupt Adjournment

Last evening's session of the city council was probably the shortest ever placed on record, being cut short after 50 minutes' routine business, on the motion of Ald. Dowling.

The principal business of the evening was the passing of the by-law to raise funds for the Brantford General Hospital, and the introduction of a by-law to appoint a police court clerk. Two clerks had been appointed in the past by the police commissioners, whereas the power lies with the council. Mr. M. W. McEwen advocated the re-appointment of John Buskard, Jr., to the position, and the matter was laid over till the next session.

His Worship the Mayor congratulated the assembly upon their universally prompt attendance.

Communications

The usual time lists and other regular reports were submitted, read by the clerk, and continued.

The Schultz Bros. Co. requested a check for payment of work done upon the new stalls, erected on the market square.

Mr. Angus McCauley, market inspector, requested an increase in salary.

The annual report of the Assessment Department showing increases in population and assessment, was submitted.

The Dominion Steel Products Co. requested that lights be placed upon Morrell and Leonard streets, near their plant, also that the present condition of Reid street be improved as soon as possible, until convenient for traffic, and then the paving of Morrell street be proceeded with.

The British Red Cross Fund submitted a statement of donations received from this city, totalling some $10,000 odd.

Residents of Durham street asked for an improvement in the present condition of that thoroughfare.

A number of residents of Erie Avenue submitted, through Messrs. Brewster and Heyd a request for payment of damages for injuries done their property through the lowering of Erie Avenue.

Three orders for delivery of children to the Children's Aid Shelter, signed by His Honor Judge Hardy, were submitted.

Lt. George Walsh requested a grant from the council for the 216th Battalion. The sum of $50 was granted, on the motion of Ald. Dowling and Harp.

Steel Company of Canada

The company petitioned a further fixed assessment for a period of 10 years, their request being referred to the Manufacturers' Committee.

Hospital By-law

After requesting leave for the purpose, Ald. Dowling introduced a by-law to provide for the issue of treatment certificates, for the purpose of raising the sum of $42,000 for a grant to the Brantford General Hospital. Receiving its necessary three readings, the by-law carried.

Police Court Clerk

Ald. Dowling also introduced a by-law to appoint a police court clerk.

Mr. M. W. McEwen spoke upon behalf of John Buskard, Jr., who had been appointed by the police commissioners first as a member of the police force and later as clerk. After enrollment in the 32nd battery and later with the 125th battalion, he had been discharged before going overseas. Having been promised that on his return he would receive his former position of police court clerk again, he now desired to obtain this. Admitting that there had been trouble with the accounts of the court at the end of the year, Mr. McEwen refused absolutely any responsibility for this resting with Mr. Buskard, who was present in order to answer any questions submitted to him by the council. The decision was reached that the matter be laid over until the next meeting of the council, a special committee to investigate the matter in the meantime.

The only absentees of the evening were Ald. A. O. Secord, who has leave of absence, and Geo. Jennings, who is in attendance at the Town Planning Convention.

The council will meet again on Friday evening next.

FIRE IN CORDAGE WORKS

About 12 o'clock last night a fire was discovered in the western section of the main factory of the Cordage works in West Brantford. The sprinkler system, as in the previous fire, held the fire in check until the arrival of the firemen. One line of hose was used in the western section of the main factory of the Cordage works in West Brantford. The fire was finally extinguished. There was no damage to the building. The only loss sustained will be the result of damage done to hemp. The origin of the fire is as yet a complete mystery.

News From Simcoe

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Simcoe, Oct. 2.—The funerals of Joseph Henderson, Mrs. Harriett Pettit and Charles Butler, were all conducted here this afternoon. Rev. A. B. Farney, who arrived at 11 o'clock from Ingersoll, where he had preached thanksgiving sermons, conducted two of these and assisted at the third. Mr. Henderson died on Saturday of gangrene, the other two early Friday morning. Mr. Butler was a resident of Simcoe for thirty years. He was the father of a family of four sons and two daughters, most of whom live in Simcoe.

At a long session of the town council held last night, a by-law authorizing a special levy to raise $4,000 for street watering and oiling was passed. Instructions were given for the building of sidewalks, and crossings, principally about the shoe factory vicinity and leading to the L. E. and N. depot.

The sewer extension work is held up because the plans are not ready. The council declined to vote an additional $20,000 for school buildings till they shall have conferred with the board of education.

It is on the street this morning that Capt. Heath, Capt. McDowell and Major McIntosh have resigned, and it is claimed by some that there will shortly be no 133rd, that the battalion will be broken up to make drafts for other units.

THROUGH THE WINDOW LENS

It was bad enough for Jan to know that an elf lived in his mother's opera glasses. It was worse to know that with the lens broken the elf could come out of the broken tunnel whenever he chose. It kept Jan pretty nervous. He had to go to the bureau again and again to see if the elf was running around loose in the bureau drawer and when he failed to catch him at it, more often than not, he was disappointed. Then one day, when his mother wasn't home, Jan opened the drawer and there on the rim of the opera glasses sat the elf with his glassy clothes and his eyes like lens that made you feel so queer and pucky.

"Hello!" he said coolly.

"Hello," said Jan.

"What about going through the opera glass tunnel with me to-day?" demanded the elf. "You haven't seen the magic forest at the end of the opera glass yet."

"The last time I walked into the golden tunnel," said Jan a little afraid, "my grandmother screwed the lens on, and I almost didn't get out. I had to break the glass."

"Poo!" said the elf, "that can't happen again. With the lens broken the golden tunnel has to stay broken.

PEOPLE ask me why my tea tastes so good. First, I use freshly drawn water. When boiling briskly I pour it over the leaves, allowing the tea to steep, not boil, five minutes. Next, I pour the tea off the leaves into another pot. In that way you get the flavor of Red Rose Tea in all its fullness and richness. Try it. In sealed packages only.

Canada, and the Parliament of Canada should determine whether the Dominion should take part in the wars of the English.

As a matter of fact any call to arms on behalf of the Empire is just as much a call to Canada as to Great Britain herself.

At the same gathering Hon. Mr. Lemieux also struck the "party" note. Here is a sample: "We are on the eve of a crisis. We know by experience what the party of privilege will do; we know that it will increase their privileges. They claim to restore things in the future with a vague talk of reciprocity between the Empire and the Allied nations."

His course furnishes still one more illustration of the fact that certain Grit politicians will not stop at anything in their violent greed for office.

Sparkling and vivacious—merry bright, alert—a good, clear skin and a natural, rosy, healthy complexion are assured only by pure blood.

An inside bath is had by drinking each morning before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste.

Those subject to sick headache, biliousness, nasty breath, rheumatism, colds, and particularly those who have a pallid, sallow complexion and who are constipated very often, are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store which will cost but a trifle, but is sufficient to demonstrate the quick health and appearance, awaiting those who practice internal sanitation.

EPWORTH LEAGUE

The Epworth League of Wellington St. Methodist church held its usual weekly meeting last evening. The Christian Endeavor committee was in charge of the program, and Mr. Caleb Rose made an efficient chairman. An interesting feature was a splendid address given by Mr. Shorey on "Cornelius, a seeker of the best," and was greatly appreciated by the large number present. Miss Alice Bloxham sang "My Task" very sweetly. Much enthusiasm is being shown by the young people in the work, and the league is in a flourishing condition.

SILVER WEDDING

A very enjoyable time was spent on Saturday afternoon at 63 Eagle avenue when the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. C. Schertzberg joined in celebrating the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage. In all, about 60 guests were present, and many were the old acquaintances renewed. The music rendered by Mrs. S. Cook and Mrs. Donaldson was of a very appropriate character, reminding one of the good old days of long ago. After a dainty luncheon had been served, the Rev. Mr. Martin of Wesley Methodist church voiced the feeling of all present, and at an early hour after viewing the many and costly presents, the gathering broke up, while everyone joined in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Schertzberg many happy years to come.

CORPORAL PATTE

Got So Far Ahead in the Famous Canadian Charge

That the Report Was Given Currency that He Was Missing.

Corporal Patte, son of Mr. John Patte, sends a letter, giving an idea of the great Canadian charge on the Somme front. He says in part:-- Somewhere in France.

Sept. 20th, 1916. Dear Dad:--Just a few lines, have not much time to get it away, so will make it short and to the point. We went into action last Friday morning. You have no doubt read about it in the papers and so know the full details of it. We carried everything before us and gained our objective. Of course we had casualties--you will hear of them later, as I am not allowed to say anything about them, and all mail is strictly censored.

However, it was a grand sight and one of the finest victories that has been gained so far. Our job was to go over our front line to the German first line, about a hundred yards away, clean up all the enemy that was left, then consolidate the line. Our objective was about 1300 yards away, that is what our brigade had to take. And this where I went wrong. I should have stopped at the first line with our battalion, but to tell you the truth, I never remember going over the German first line, but went straight up to the main objective, 1300 yards away. I came back as soon as I got that far, everything was all O.K., although I had been reported missing. The only thing that seemed to matter to me, was to get back at the snickers for what they have made us suffer sitting in the trenches, having the life shelled out of us and unable to hit back. It was a treat to see them coming in with their hands up, hollering 'Kamerad', and believe me, there were hundreds of them. The fight was all knocked out of them. If it wasn't for their artillery, we could have them backed off the map in no time. Our boys are better scrappers in every respect. GEORGE.

Scotch Lambs Wool Blankets

And a Little Talk Thereon:--

"Can any good come out of Nazareth?" was a question propounded long ago and it is used here every day, only the word "Brantford" is substituted.

Many people think nothing is good, unless they go far afield for it.

The other day a lady happened to be in our Housefurnishing flat, and chanced to see some high-class Scotch Blankets that had just been opened up. "But," she said, "they can't be at all the quality that we got the other day in Toronto." Examination proved, however, that they were the same identical goods, down to the manufacturers' woven silk label attached to every pair, the only difference, however, being that the lady had paid JUST ONE DOLLAR PER PAIR MORE, than we were selling them for. We hold these goods in stock to-day.

HIGH-CLASS GOODS, $10.50 and $12.50 per pair, and worth it. They won't shame your guest chamber, or any other, for the matter of that.

OPENING BANQUET OF ANNUAL Y.M.C.A. MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN

Enthusiasm Manifested by all Present Presages Thorough Success of the Campaign in Every Way

Splendid and Inspiring Addresses by Mr. A. W. Hopkins of Toronto and Others

Under the most auspicious of circumstances was the launching of the "Big 5" membership campaign by a sumptuous banquet and a series of brilliant addresses in the auditorium of the Y.M.C.A. building last evening. The banquet hall was filled to capacity, and the hearty enthusiasm thus displayed at the outset of the contest, augured exceedingly well for the most successful results, both in a greatly increased membership and in a more substantial financial backing, to assist the Y. M. C. A. in carrying on the work of aiding the boys and young men of the city of Brantford to a better conception of Christian life and to a fuller understanding of the spirit to "help the other fellow."

The Banquet

Shortly after seven o'clock the gathering assembled, and the first step in the campaign was taken by singing the National Anthem. A bountiful repast was then served by the Ladies Auxiliary.

When the festivities had been disposed of Mr. T. E. Ryerson, the popular vice-president of the association, who acted as chairman for the evening called upon Mr. T. L. Wood and Mr. C. M. Thompson to move and second a vote of thanks to the Ladies Auxiliary for the splendid assistance they had given both in the past and at present to insure the successful accomplishment of their every undertaking.

In moving this vote of appreciation on behalf of the board and the elder men of the Association, Mr. Wood thought that there had been many good banquets in the past, but that in the present in the present instance the ladies had excelled their previous high standard, for which he proposed three cheers for Mrs. Young, the new president of the Ladies Auxiliary, which were heartily given. As such a meeting would be impossible without the support thus given, it gave Mr. Wood great pleasure in moving a hearty vote of thanks to the ladies.

Mr. C. M. Thompson, representing the boys and younger members of the Y. M. C. A., expressed the appreciation with which the ladies were regarded for their valuable services rendered and seconded the motion proposed by Mr. Wood, which was carried unanimously with loud approbation.

Mr. T. E. Ryerson stated that he believed that after the campaign the membership would be heavier than ever before in the history of the institution.

Mr. Earl Danby, the chairman of the membership committee, was glad that the campaign had gained such a good start, and proceeded to outline the organization of it and the duty of each member taking part. The city had been divided into five districts, and a captain and team appointed over each district.

To each team the entente assigned a flag of one of the entente allies, and to indicate who is leading each day, the flag representing that team will be raised on the building. The teams will be in charge of John S. Dowling, Dr. Jarvis, J. M. Young, W. C. Foster and Rev. David Alexander, who will be represented by the flags of Russia, France, Japan, Italy and Belgium respectively. In concluding his remarks, Mr. Danby said that now that the "Big 5" was off, it was to be hoped that every man in the city would in some way be brought into touch with the Y.M.C.A.

Mr. Schultz, introduced by the chairman for the first time in his official capacity, as general secretary greeted the boys and men. He recalled the pleasant days spent in the old building, with Mr. Hopkins, and said that the influence of the old ties and the old friendships was felt to-night. He placed great stress on the co-operation of all members, laying special emphasis on the need of the younger members to take hold of the campaign if a successful issue were to be ultimately attained. In closing, Mr. Schultz urged that all present engage enthusiastically and energetically in the accomplishment of the desired aim.

Rev. L. Brown

Representing the Ministerial Alliance of the city, Rev. Llewellyn Brown said that the Y.M.C.A. was the most potential organization existing, with the possible exception of the Church itself, hastening the coming of the Kingdom of Christ. He gave to the committee the assurance that the Church was behind them in their effort, and felt sure that the time of any pastor in the city would be freely at their disposal during the ensuing five days.

Mr. A. W. Hopkins

Mr. A. W. Hopkins, the secretary of the Toronto Central Y.M.C.A., gave a very interesting address of inspiration, factually interspersed with anecdotes, touching upon humor as well as pathos. The speech throughout emphasized the lessons to be learned from the heroic example set us by the brave men in khaki taking our places and fighting our battles at the front.

The time intervening since he had been an active worker in the old building many years ago, seemed to him but a short while, when he saw so many of his old associates gathered about, and still engaged in the work. The speaker referred to the recent enactment and enforcement of prohibition in the province and to the general tendency manifesting itself in all lands for the crushing of the drink evil.

At the present time, said Mr. Hopkins, "Christian civilization is in the melting pot, and what the outcome will be to-morrow, will depend upon what part you and I take in the places of those who have gone to fight our battles. If we are to accomplish the furtherance of the common cause, we must sacrifice, and the loyalty to our organization could only be gauged by the willingness on our part to sacrifice for it."

He then referred to the new standards of character which were being established by the intensity of events. The introduction to men's natures of benevolence, was being made these days as the result of learning that the more we put into life, the more we may expect to obtain in return.

The challenge of the past—of seventy years of struggle and conflict—of the victory achieved—the spread of the work to foreign lands that were the work on this continent to be blotted out entirely, it would be repropagated from the East—was given to our bit, to fulfill the destiny so nobly indicated by these early achievements. The past not only, but also the future, challenged the present generation to prepare for the emergencies which we would be called upon to face after the war. He entered upon a new era, the greatest in its history. Not only the past nor the future, but the present, challenged all to do their utmost to advance the interests of the institution. In

THE PROBS

By Courier Leased Wire.
Oct. 2.—The high area has remained almost stationary since yesterday, over the St. Lawrence valley and middle states, but a very pronounced low area now appears to be developing over the western states and near the South Atlantic coast. The weather continues fine from Ontario, eastward, and overcast in the west with local snow flurries.

Moderate and south winds; fine and moderately warm to-day and on Wednesday.

every city the movement is identified with the brainiest and most capable men of the community. The speaker told of the valuable assistance being rendered to our soldiers by the W. M. C. A. Each building was not only entirely at the disposal of the troops, but was their headquarters. The Y. M. C. A. was on of the great organizations of the war, carrying the gospel to the men, through their home teaching, through the camps and giving them all the assistance in its power, right in the front line trenches. It was we were learning the spirit of benevolence from the war, but also the idea of service. Service is the key-note of success, and we must learn this from the men who were fighting our battles at the front. If we are to be successful not only in this campaign but in the battle of life. In conclusion Mr. Hopkins made a forceful and eloquent appeal for every one to do their duty, to effectively meet the challenge of the present, and to thus be equipped to take advantage of the opportunities presented to do our "bit" in helping the other fellow.

After the thunderous applause attendant upon this eloquent appeal had subsided, Mr. T. E. Ryerson voiced the general appreciation of the gathering for the splendid address just given. He felt that all would go out stronger and better to combat with the difficulties that would be met with and to finally achieve the desired success. Looking around those present he seemed to find quite a few who had been identified with the movement in the old building and felt sure that the good influences of the past would prevail to early them on to victory. Finally, Mr. Ryerson urged that all go out to do their utmost, to work not for themselves, but for the betterment of the boys of Brantford.

IMPROVEMENTS ON TOWNSHIP ROADS

Hamilton, Burford, Mount Pleasant and St. George Roads Suggested.

Other Business of Routine Nature Transacted in a Lengthy Session.

The regular monthly meeting of the Township Council was held yesterday in their chambers at the Court House. Several matters of importance were discussed, as well as a great deal of routine business transacted. Possibly the most important item was the question of country road improvements. In this connection the letter of A. E. Watts, county clerk, was read, a copy of which was published in the Courier last week. The council unanimously concurred with the county council in their stand for better roads, and gave their approval of the system as outlined in the letter. The roads suggested for improvements were the Hamilton, Burford, Mt. Pleasant and St. George roads, which through-fares were considered to be mostly in need of repair of those carrying the heavier traffic.

An appeal for the continuance of support to the British Red Cross was read, accompanied by a statement of the previous commendable contribution of the township made, amounting to $1,539.99, made up as follows: Municipal grant, $500; voluntary schools, $3.50; women's organizations, $95; general $916.49; received after January 1st, 1916, $25.00.

This is certainly a splendid effort on behalf of the township especially when the many other demands contemplated by the war are taken into consideration. The letter was ordered to be placed on file.

In accordance with the motion proposed by R. Greenway and seconded by J. R. Sumner, a by-law was drawn up to effect the closing of the road in the vicinity of Cainsville, extending in a southeasterly direction from the Hamilton road, which step was deemed expedient and necessary by the council. The matter will be considered at the next meeting of the council, on November 6th, after proper legal notice has been given by the clerk.

The sum of one hundred and fifty dollars was granted to the trustees of S. S. No. 15 for the purpose of clearing up and maintaining the public cemetery at Mt. Pleasant.

An account was submitted by the Brant Sanitarium, of $293.79 for which the township is liable, with the request that the same be met by cheque as soon as possible, since the account had been running since the first of the year.

The Workmen's Compensation Board advised the council by letter, of a further award of $53.61 to Mrs. Mary A. Jacques and requested cheque covering this amount.

These transactions comprised the main business before the council, but many other routine matters, including an agreement with the City of Brantford, regarding the upkeep of certain boundary streets, and solicitation of the Hydro Electric Association of Ontario for the township to consider membership in that body, and other minor details filled out the session.

NEWS FROM SIMCOE

Blaspheming Smith Makes a Re-appearance There.

Officials Visited the Sewage Disposal Plant at Kitchener.

Simcoe, Oct. 2.—(From our own correspondence.)—There is considerable demand for a push button at the post office general delivery wicket.

In answer to a telephone call, giving notice that a suspicious stranger was loitering about down in the neighborhood of Wiggin's school house, Woodhouse township, two county constables went out and brought in the local officials, who always comes with a new surname. He is a little ahead of time this year and is going by the name of Blaspheming Smith. The Christian name is always appropriate for he can consider language without oaths as much out of place as a grinning girl in a church choir. Five minutes in the old man's presence ought to be a root cure for even an auto-repair machinist.

Mr. D. Robb Tisdale, moved up last week from his summer residence at Dover.

The I.O.D.E. paper collection was carried out yesterday forenoon. Volunteer teams, some of them from the country, assisted by boy scouts and others, made the rounds. The work at the car was supervised by a committee from the Order. Only two men answered the appeal for assistance in placing the material in the car. There were very few magazines in the lot, doubtless because of the number sent to the boys at camp. The order will not realize as much as they did from the previous collection.

The Fair directors are asking for a subscription of $1350 to defray expenses of improvements to the grounds and the building of a speeding ring.

Phillies Only Broke Even

Philadelphia, Oct. 3.—After climbing to the high altitude of first place by winning the first game of a double header from Boston by 2 to 0, the Phillies dropped back to second place, a full game behind the Robins while the Braves carried off the second game by 4 to 1.

The early contest found Grover Alexander on the mound for the Phillies for the third time in five days. The big right-hander was at top form, holding the Braves to three hits and registering his sixteenth shut-out of the season. Philadelphia scored both runs off Ragon, who pitched for seven innings. Whitted doubled in the second, was sacrificed to third by Cravath, and scored when Luders doubled. In the fifth Killifer doubled, went to third on Alexander's punt, and scored on a squeeze play with Byrne.

Stock's unfamiliarity with the injured star, Dave Bancroft, helped Boston to win the second game, in which Reulbach outpitched Demaree. The latter worked seven innings, being succeeded by Bender. All of Boston's runs were scored during his stay in the box. Snodgrass singled in the first inning, and Stock fumbled Maraville's grounder. Without hit into a double play, but Konechky singled, sending Maraville to third whence he scored while Konechky was being run down between first and second. Philadelphia got this run back in the second, when Whitted walked, advanced on Cravath's single and scored on two outs.

Iron Man Beat the Giants

And Brooklyn Gained on Phillies Who Dropped One Game.

Brooklyn, Oct. 3.—Old Jack Coombes, who was doing iron man acts for Connie Mack when a large percentage of the present baseball generation was playing an old cat on vacant lots, kept Brooklyn at the top of the National League yesterday by pitching shut-out ball against the Giants. The Robins won by 2 to 0, poor fielding by the Giants stalling them in the victory. As Philadelphia only broke even, with Boston, the victory puts the Robins a full game ahead in the race for the flag.

A big crowd turned out to see the first of the series of decisive battles which will be staged on Ebbets Field. Ferdie Schupp, the sensational young southpaw, held the Robins to four scattered hits, while Coombes allowed six, but poor fielding around second put him in the hole.

Fetcher fumbled Daubert's roller in the fourth inning after one was out, and Daubert stole second. Herzog dropping the throw. Wheat singled to left, Daubert scoring.

The second run was scored off Anderson, who took up the pitching burden in the eighth. With one out Miller singled and took second on

Red Sox Close Home Season

Boston, Oct. 3.—The Red Sox, perennial repeaters in the American League, celebrated their final day of the season at Fenway Park yesterday by winning easily from the Athletics, 4 to 2.

Boston put sixteen men into the game, Janvrin and Cady being the only players left in the line-up. Even Heinie Wagner got a chance for a little practice, playing at short for two innings and getting a hit and a put-out and an assist. Shore held the Mackmen without a hit for five innings, and then Jones went in, the visitors scoring their two runs in the seventh on a single, a double and a fielder's choice.

A perfect throw to the plate by Lewis in the first inning, doubling Whitt, who tried to score on Stunk's fly to left, was a feature of the game.

Boston will close the regular season to-morrow with a double-header with the Athletics at Braves' Field, where the world's series will be played. Thursday the Red Sox and Athletics will play an exhibition game at Worcester for the benefit of the John Gaffney fund. Gaffney was an old-time umpire. Jack Barry threw the ball about for a few minutes in practice yesterday, this being the first time he has attempted to use it since his injury. There is a slight possibility that he may be able to get into some of the world's series games.

Geo. Sisler is Valuable Man

Who is the most valuable player in the American League this season—Eddie Collins, Ray Schalk, George Sisler, Ty Cobb or Tris Speaker? By valuable, we mean the greatest asset to his club.

Many consider George Sisler, of the Browns, the most valuable, and they have arguments to clinch their point. They refer to the fact he has pitched two games this season and in one of them beat the mighty Walter Johnson.

They show how, when the need was great, George went to third base and stayed there. He did this although the youthful wonder is a left-handed thrower and, as such, isn't supposed to compete at that far station.

Then Sisler has played wonderful ball at first, filled in at right field and has been a .300 batter all season, although at present he is a pinch or so shy of that mark.

Veteran managers and club owners are free to state that Sisler is the prize package who has broken into the majors the past two years. He came up as a pitcher but was too valuable to pitch. They wanted him in every game—so there you are.

Sisler's career, though short, has been rather a stormy one. He was kidnaped and taken to Akron, Ohio, where he was then turned over to Columbus and later to Pittsburg, without playing a single game.

He went to the University of Michigan and, to make him an amateur because he had signed a contract, although never having played in an actual pro game, the case went to the National Commission. This august body declared George a free agent. So he pitched for Michigan and was the wonder of the college world.

Branch Rickey coached the Michigan varsity and, naturally, wanted Sisler at St. Louis when he took up the management of the Browns. The manager decided to enter big league ball, but the famous case before the commission turned him over to the Browns, where he wanted to go.

In a moment almost he made his name and his reputation. He shone and awakened the envy of every other major league club.

Music and Drama

THE COLONIAL

A good show was the universal verdict of the large crowd that attended the performance of the Andrews Musical Comedy Company at the Colonial last night. Never has a tabloid been so well received and appreciated as this company in offering the "White Light Cafe" a sketch that cannot help but win the admiration of its audience, staged and played as it is under the direction of its manager.

There will be an entire change of program to-morrow, when "The Battle of Nations" with new scenery, costumes, etc., will be presented, and there is no doubt it will prove to be as clean, bright and entertaining as the "White Light Cafe" produced by the same company.

THE BRANT

One of the finest motion pictures in every way shown in this city is that in which Owen Moore and Hazel Dawn appear as co-stars at the Brant Theatre for the first half of the week. The picture is "Under Cover," which created so great a hit when produced last season on the stage, and it is safe to say that it has lost nothing of its merits in the film production. In plot, method of development and stage setting alike it is of the highest possible grade, while the appearance of two such notable stars as Owen Moore and Hazel Dawn together is alone sufficient to distinguish it as beyond the ordinary.

In keeping with the high standard set by this feature production is the episode now showing of the great new series "Who's Guilty," wherein another of the historic Moore family, Tom of that ilk, stars with Anna Nilsson. The interest aroused by previous episodes of this series is well and ably upheld by the latest installment.

The vaudeville bill comprises the Four Virginian Girls in a harmony singing melange, and the Twirling Talbots, who present an exceedingly clever gymnastic performance replete with thrills.

At the Grand

What promises to be a gala event of the local theatrical season is the appearance at the Grand of the celebrated comedian, Albert Brown, in a new play especially written for him by the Canadian dramatist, W. A. Tremayne and entitled "The Black Feather." It may be safely said that no American actor who has appeared in Canada for many seasons has achieved the wide popularity which Mr. Brown won in "The White Feather." It was a success legitimately earned for the present day stage boasts few men equally fitted in the matter of magnetism and skill. The manner in which he places himself immediately on report, with his audience recalls the triumphs of the older generation of comedians. In "The Black Feather," as in its predecessor, he plays the role of a secret agent of the British intelligence staff, who, by posing as a dandy and an idler, circumvents the enemies of Great Britain, but the story is entirely different. The play is rich in exciting incidents, clean legitimate humor and emotional appeal, and Mr. Brown promises a splendid supporting cast.

GIRL'S HEROIC SACRIFICE

By Courier Leased Wire. Paris, Oct. 3.—A young English girl has written to Dr. Rochon Duxigneaud, offering to give one of her eyes to a soldier who has lost his sight serving France. The girl, who lives in North Shields had read a recent statement by Dr. Duxigneaud, one of the most famous oculists in France that it was possible to save the sight of a man wounded in the eye by grafting a portion of the corner of another person. In her letter she said: "If you believe that there is one chance of success in a million I will give you one of my eyes for a soldier who has lost his sight serving France. I would prefer to give my eye to one to whom it would be especially useful, such as an inventor or an officer of great value. If my offer is accepted I shall consider myself under an obligation to you for permitting me to be of use to my country in the only way possible to me."

Germany Gets None of Belgian Relief

Conditions of Agreement with Neutral Relief Commission respected by Germany

When the Belgian Relief Commission was organized, Britain insisted that Germany guarantee not to touch a particle of the food imported by the Commission for the Belgians. This guarantee, given to the American business men who are the executive heads of the Commission, has been respected—probably because its violation would be reported at once and would rouse the whole neutral world.

So each contributor to the Belgian Relief Fund may feel perfectly sure that every pound of food which his money has helped to purchase, has gone directly to the Belgians.

No Dollars in the world are needed more—will be handled better—or will do more vital good—than the dollars which it is your privilege to give to the Belgian Relief Fund.

SISTERS THREE

This strange girl interested Gipsy, and the cave dwelling possessed distinct fascination for her. But on her visits there the old father—Ralph Gull, as he was called—had always been there, and, instead of talking to the daughter, Gipsy had found herself listening spell-bound to the stories of the old man. And although she had more than once used Morwenna as a companion when she went swimming in the bay, she had not yet achieved any intimacy with the strange, silent girl, albeit there was something about her very strangeness which drew Gipsy and made her curious to know more about her.

And now they met out here in the sunshine, with the soft aromatic air of the moorlands about them. Gipsy slipped from her saddle and unwound a long training rein, which she buckled into one ring of Viking's bit. Part of her educational process was to teach the young horse to remain within easy call and reach when she wished to dismount and occupy herself otherwise. Here was a good opportunity for a lesson, and, having fastened the other end of the long rein round a sturdy young sapling, she turned to Morwenna with her kindling smile and said—

"Isn't it a perfectly heavenly day? Do let's sit down on this delicious bank of thyme and heather and have a talk together! What are you doing here Morwenna? What have you got in that satchel you are carrying?"

"Herbs, roots, berries, leaves—all sorts of things which grow hereabouts. Some of them you can get any time of day, but some have to be gathered by moonlight—when it's full maybe or when it's young. And there's words you must speak over some of them, else they widden give you what you ask."

"How perfectly charming! So you are a herbalist as well as a fisher girl! What do you do with your concoctions when they are made?"

"Folks come and ask for 'em. We'm got plenty that asks for them drinks what mother taught me to make and her mother taught her. 'Tis only here and there as is one as can do it. It goes with the blood so they say."

"You mean that even from the same recipe different people can't get the same results? I've heard of that before. It's very interesting. So you are a sort of herb doctor, Morwenna, and can make concoctions to cure people and animals?"

"Ess fay!" answered the girl; and as she spoke Gipsy saw a curious light in her eyes. It was as though some slumbering fire within shot up interest. When Morwenna ceased to speak Gipsy came up to her quietly from behind in time to see the galloping horseman disappear over the next ridge.

"Why do you hate him so, Morwenna?" she asked. "What has he done?"

"He? Done? He is the son of the father who turned my mother out to die! He is the son of the man who sent my foster-brother to rot in jail."

"Your foster brother? General Kildare's son?"

"Yes, my foster-brother. We were born in the same hour, and when his poor mother was like to lose her life they brought the boy baby to my mother; and for months she lived upon the roof and was mother to the pair of us. And the Kildares never forgot. We love them and they love us. I and Jim Kildare played and swam and fished and sailed together. Though he was a splendid gentleman and I a poor fisher maid, he never forgot me; he was never too grand, too proud to call me sister and friend. And he lies in jail, and the Lebretons have done it. Oh, they shall perish, root and branch! The White Lady has answered for one, and the other shall follow—the other shall follow!"

She flung her arms above her head and then sank exhausted to the ground. Gipsy stole quietly away with her horse and dog; she felt she had had enough of Morwenna's company for one day.

Chapter XV.

Gipsy rode home that day in a mood which Audrey could have read her sister's thoughts, would have termed "chastened."

For the first time in her life Gipsy had been confronted with a display of elemental passion of anger and hatred, before which her own merry and mirthful moods of hostility seemed to shrivel up and vanish into nothingness.

For the first time in her young life she had been brought face to face with that deep-lying and terrible power of vindictive fury, which hitherto had been but a name to her. She had been quick and keen enough to realize what she saw, and the sight had shaken the core of her being. Gipsy had felt that Morwenna would willingly have compassed the death of Gaston Lebreton had such a thing been possible; and at the moment when she realized this thing she knew that if the wild girl had held in her hand a weapon, if she had had a gun to level at the retreating figure and had been about to pull the trigger, she, Gipsy, would instantly have sprung upon her, have struck up the gun that it might harmlessly explode—would have done anything rather than see—

And yet she had thought she hated Gaston Lebreton—she had delighted to call him their deadly foe and talk about a deathless feud!

It came to her almost with a sense of dismay what a small and feeble thing her own rancored hatred was. It was like a child's toy battle with

COMB SAGE TEA IN FADED OR GREY HAIR

If Mixed with Sulphur It Darkens so Naturally Nobody Can Tell.

If Mixed with Sulphur It Darkens so Naturally Nobody Can Tell. Grandmother kept her beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, for about fifty cents. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known down town druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell that it has been applied—it's so easy to use too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color, and looks glossy, soft and beautiful. This preparation is a delightful toilet treat. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

the aim and object of those about her in the days of her developing girlhood.

Here was this girl Morwenna, shut away with her strange old father in a cave-like dwelling, dividing her time betwixt the sea and the moor, holding little converse with her fellows, never appearing at church or coming under gentle influences—could she not do something for her? She had seen how fiercely she was obsessed by hatred which was right in itself and possibly terrible in its outcome. To be sure, her wild words might be no more than an impotent gust of fury, spoken without real knowledge as to what they implied. But who could be sure? Certainly not Gipsy. So why should she not see what influence she could gain over this wild nature, win the girl's confidence, learn whether she really meditated any terrible or violent act, and make her understand something of the wrongfulness of her present frame of mind?

As she walked towards the house after seeing Viking safely stabled, she found herself saying musingly to herself—

SOCIAL EVENING AT WESLEY CHURCH

Epworth League of Elm Avenue Visited There and Gave Programme.

Elm Avenue Epworth League of Echo Place visited Wesley League last night and put on an excellent program.

There were about 100 members of both leagues present. The Elm Avenue League was accompanied by the orchestra of the church, which greatly added to the delight of the number of events on the program. The orchestra has now no less than seven members at the front fighting for King and country, and at present consists of half its regular size.

Mr. Craddock, president of Elm Avenue League, opened the program by briefly stating that he was glad Elm Avenue had the opportunity of visiting Wesley League. He then called upon Miss Deagle, who presided during the evening.

The program consisted of: Selection by the orchestra; lesson by Mrs. Craddock; prayer, Miss Mae Wood; cello solo, Mr. H. Morris; reading, Miss L. Tear; solo, Mrs. P. Smith; selection by the orchestra; piano solo, Miss B. Davidson; reading, Miss M. Edmondson; address, Miss Ida Crandell; solo, Miss Alberta Williams; selection by orchestra.

At the conclusion of the program a dainty lunch was served by Wesley League which was very much enjoyed by all.

Rev. D. E. Martin spoke briefly on behalf of Wesley League, saying that he was glad to have Elm Avenue visit them, and that perhaps Wesley League would be able to return the visit at some future time. He also drew attention to the convention of Epworth Leagues being held in Paris Methodist church to-morrow afternoon and evening. Mr. Craddock, on
