A tale told in our small town, of a young man from "Wind," who before he became a cleric Had best his manners mend.

He freely talks of "visitors" They but callers be. While we may say quite truthfully, He stays on sight here.

Late, when he is returning, And "spruce grove" draws near. He removed his belt so tight, That the old folks did not hear.

FRONT OF YONGE.

MONDAY, JAN. 29. - We have been asked by our much esteemed friend and correspondent of the Athens Reporter for Westford what we thought of the new lights designated by three initials - P. P. A. One thing is certain in the case of this foreign element, and it's this: that it will, we do not have a tendency to make our Roman Catholic friends stick more closely together in all public affairs. Most people are not aware of the numerical strength of the Roman Catholics in Canada and the United States. There must be nearly 3,000,000 Roman Catholics in Canada, and in the United States there are upwards of 7,000,000. Now, sir, this large array of population must contribute largely to the support and maintenance of the country. These very men, many of them, have children attending the public schools kept up and supported partly by Roman Catholics. We denounce the idea of any body of men banding together in order to deprive their fellow men of any privileges which are in the hands of the people to bestow.

Irland, one of the most beautiful spots on the globe, was ruined by internal factions, and Canada will soon be on the horns of a dilemma very nearly as bad. We are afraid that the late importation has been intended for the sole purpose of a certain party to gain power. The opinion asked for by the Westford correspondent would require a lengthy article to demonstrate and logically show that such a banded and political party will, in the future, be a great drawback to the progress and prosperity of Canada. We would like to hear from said correspondent on this subject, if his hands be not tied by popular opinion.

Wedding Chimes. Tuesday morning Jan. 23, St. James' church on Westford avenue the scene of a pleasant and solemn event, it being the marriage of Mr. D. J. Judge, of Woodbin, to Miss M. J. O'Shea, of Sheatown. The day was all that one could desire; and the sun shone out in his brilliant splendor on the two that before the altar became one. The church and altar were tastefully decorated for the occasion, thus giving evident proof that the young couple fully enjoyed the respect and esteem of their pastor. Miss Maggie Leeder, sister of the groom, playing some of her choice marches, the bridal party entered and departed from the church. Miss M. J. Kelly honored the festivity by singing two selections, to the great delight of the assembly. The Rev. Father Kelly officiated at the marriage ceremony and was attended by his brother Mr. E. Kelly, of Montreal, who is visiting at the rectory, and Mr. J. Flood, of Westford. The groom was waited on by Messrs. D. Kennedy, of Woodbin, and the bride by Misses K. Graham and M. O'Shea. After the nuptial ceremony the bridal party drove to the home of the bride's father, where all partook of breakfast.

A grand banquet was given at 5 p.m., to which over 100 invited guests came down. The bride and groom were the recipients of very numerous and valuable presents, thus giving proof of their many friends and admirers. We heartily congratulate the bride and family on the respectable and well conducted wedding he gave his daughter. The young couple will visit friends for some weeks and then leave for their home in Michigan.

We extend our best wishes to the happy couple. - SECTATOR.

The Counties Council.

The first session of the counties council for 1894 opened on Wednesday on Tuesday last. The first business was the election of a warden, and the honor was conferred upon Mr. R. L. Joyn of North Augusta. The various committees were then appointed and the council adjourned till Wednesday.

The session of Wednesday was occupied chiefly by routine business and an address by Rev. Dr. Saunders on the house of industry question.

On motion it was resolved that the county clerk be authorized to issue writs of habeas corpus in every respect according to the provisions of the act in that behalf.

Mr. W. G. Richards, general merchant, Franklinville, is now conducting a great clearing sale with a view to going out of business. He has made a sweeping reduction in the price of his goods, and this week issues bills giving quotations that should induce a rapid sale.

A lady living at Moosejaw, sarcastically told the following to a friend at Violet Hill: "Our house is haunted by devils and spirits of the good and evil kind. We have sixteen stoves going and 120 tons of hard coal in the shed. There is water enough in the cellar to do us till spring. We have overcoats on all the cattle, and I am busy knitting socks and mitts for the goose and turkey. It is only 60° below zero now, but when the cold snap sets in we anticipate a need of more clothing."

A Prosperous Fraternity.

Among the many Societies that are competing for public favor there is probably not one that enjoys the confidence of the public to a greater degree than the Independent Order of Foresters. From information that we have received from Mr. G. W. Bear, of the Court Deputy for the local Court, we learn that the membership of the whole Order is 54,000, the net increase for the year that closed on the 31st December, was 10,500, of this large membership 22,000 are in Ontario. The friends of the Order claim that it leads all other Orders in our great Province. The number of Subordinate Courts, in Ontario, is 550. 61 of these were instituted during the year just closed. During the 19 years of its operations it has paid to widows and orphans and to distressed brethren about two million one hundred thousand dollars, and has, at present, a cash surplus of $458,829.89. A gain in the surplus for one year of $278,000. The death rate has only reached the remarkably low average of 5.29 in the 1000.

I have encountered a good deal of adverse criticism, its rates have been pointed out as being too low, but its friend as demonstrated again and again their ability to pay all claims and at the same time to accumulate a large quantity of reserve. They claim that the teaching of experience proves that their rates are ample, and certainly the record the Order has made would seem to bear out this contention.

In the press, and on the platform, the advantages of the Order have been set forth with marked ability and moderation by the Supreme Chief Ranger, Dr. Ormohavakia, the High Chief Ranger of Ontario, the Rev. A. Magillivray, and by many other prominent officers and members of the Order. The Fraternal features of the Order are carefully cultivated, and many acknowledge gratefully the kindness received at the hands of the members.

The Court of Foresters in Athens is in a very prosperous condition at present, there being over 40 members enrolled on the books. At the meeting of Athens Court held on Friday evening the 29th inst., there was one initiation and seven proposals for membership.

We have pleasure in giving these facts, knowing that they will be read with interest not only by our readers, who are members of the Order, but by others who will be pleased to learn of the continual prosperity and growth of this Fraternal Society.
