we have recently published a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical and permanent eure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediaments to Marriage, etc., resulting from excesses. The celebrated author, in this admirable Bssay, clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practise, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicines or the use of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his sondition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

made part of the exclusive coasting trade of the United States; special advantages to her salesmen, a prospective treaty of advantage with our British West India Islands. Truly loyal and British in our feelings, may we not ask what next for us?"

Mr. Harding then read a number of extracts, showing in what respect the United States would be benefitted by this treaty; as against other nations, Canada particularly.

A metrifundor may perhap to more decouple, but if he does it is not because they do not merit hotter treatment.

Even if dishonesty were not a crime under the statute, or a sin against God, so no would think that experience would teach people to put more faith in the dauge, "honesty is the best policy."

The credit of our whole body of agriculaturists in the county is endangered by the few, and we blame the former and their societies that they did not agitate to he

The next speaker, Mr. Turnbull, said a law passed that will prevent disho that the United States was overshadow ing the Dominion everywhere, and that the most practical thing to do was to get up a respectful petition asking the Imperial Government to allow them to annex to the United States.

Mr. Robertson followed this speaker, and he submitted some statistics in regard to New Brunswick's and Nova Scotia's trade with the British and Spanish West Indies, as follows:—

West Indies, as follows :-

"The imports of New Brunswick from the British West Indies in 1883 were $395,162 from Spanish West Indies, $156, 546. The Nova Scotia imports for the same period from British West Indies were $689,695; Spanish West Indies, $620,642. The New Brunswick exports to the West Indies were only $120,000, while those of Nova Scotia amounted to $2,471,015." the British West Indies in 1883 w $2,471,015."

Mr. Robertson said that if our Government did not look to the province's interest in regard to this treaty, the sooner we annexed to the United States we present our readers this issue with the better, as he said the treaty would destroy our shipping trade.

Other speakers then followed, and the following resolution was finally Fishery Treaty about expiring the question of reciprocity with the United States be re-opened."

A resolution was also passed, to communicate with Sir. S. L. Tilley, asking him if anything had been done in regard to the Spanish Treaty.

The matter of the West Indies trade is certainly one of vital importance to these Provinces, and we trust the energetic action of the St. John Board of Trade will be productive of substantial results. The people of this Province and of Prince Edward Island should lose no time in forcing the matter, so earnestly and forcibly upon our Government, as to command the attention and action it deserves.

The Government papers say that action has already been taken in the matter, and that Sir. Charles Tupper, our High Commissioner in London, has been authorized to proceed to Madrid, with a view to place us on an equal footing with the United States. We hope this is correct.

footing with the United States. We hope this is correct.

For the information of those who may wish to know what the treaty between the United States and Spain amounts to, we give the following extract from an editorial on the subject in the New York Sun:

"The reciprocity treaty negotiated with the Castillo Cabinet by Mr. Foster, our representative at Madrid, seems to have been definitely ratified, so far as Spain is concerned, full powers to that end having been delegated to the Ministry by the Cortes. On the part of the United States the Senate will no doubt be asked to sanction the compact as promptly as possible after the re-assembling of Congress. Whenever a limb crosses another it is important that it should be removed, whatever may be the location or variety, and the suckers should also be removed; large limbs should not be cut off unless they show signs of decay, of the smoker are exposed, and the characteristic of that smoke as regards. or are so low as to be in the way.
Whenever a limb large or small, begins to die it should be at once removed, cutting back far enough to reach the fresh healthy wood. When it is possible to do so it is best to keep the limbs out of the centre of the tree enough to enable the gatherers to get through the trees with ease; this will very much leasen the cost of gathering the fruit.

There are a few varieties of apple trees that run up very tall and slim; such physical development are very much least the seriously impaired by the practice of almost incessantly smoking cigarettes. It is well that the facts should be known, as the impression evidently prevails that any number of trees should be topped when half these little 'whiffs' must needs be per grown, and thus made to spread their feetly innocucus, where they often do infinite harm. spreads quite as much as is desirable, Lord Dufferin. - The following therefore instead of requiring to be topped, the rule is that the lower branches require to be cut back.

In 1859 he went to Iceland in a yacht and alluvial land that is rich in organic mat spare, and turn under grass or clover sod. They will plant on well-drained alluvial land that is rich in organic matter. In such circumstances many of our readers will be thankful for any information as to how they can profit ably increase the yield of the crop. Many have obtained good results in the use of plaster, hen manure, and ashes, and we have found plaster alone sometimes remarkably beneficial.

A large crop of potatoes cannot be produced unless the soil has a full supply of nitrogen, phosphates, and potash, in an available condition. Available nitrogen, however, is a costly article, and it is good policy to use up all that the soil annually affords. This we can do by seeing that the growth of the plants is never checked for want of a supply of phosphates and potash. We are now getting in this country superphosphates at ressonable prices and farmers can use them with profit on such crops as usually command good prices. Coat all steel and iron tools, wherever bright with this when they are to lie idle, if only for a few days. It will not take half a minute or half a teaspoonful of the mixture to coat a plow when one has finished using it, and it will prevent all rust and save half a day's time in cleansing it when it is again needed besides saving the team many thousand of pounds extra pulling. Coat the iron work of the mowers and reapers with it when they are put away for the winter. A little rust is only a little thing, but it makes much difference in the aggregate.

It is very easy for a lady of good taste to be in fashion this fall, for the styles are unlimited in number, and one is at liberty to choose from an almost endies wariety of fabrics, such colors and shapes as suit her own individual fancy, always remembering that simplicity is the rule for home and street costumes. Many skirts are made without puffs or drapery. Cf course these are very slightly gored, if at all, and this on the front breadth only. The fullness is all thrown to the back, where it is supported by a full tournure underneath. The back breadths should be cut longer than the others. Some dresses have a basques front, apron-draped over-skirt, with a long, plain, princess back. Others have the back breadths in two double box plaits, reaching to the bottom of the skirt. These are set on just below the waist. New and Raye Plants, such as articles that cannot be washed, such as feather and cloth.

The grease spots s bould be rubbed with a clean flannel which has been wet with the prime.

Commence from the outer edge of the soiled spot, and rub inwards. Be careful not to extend the surface of the spot in your efforts to take it out.

The application of heat is another method of removing small spots of grease from sik and wool.

Some people hold a red-hot poker over the spot, by which means the grease becomes volatilized, and immediately disappears.

Lovely pockets for holding ferns, autumn leaves, long, feathery grasses, and the lovely brown cat-tails, can be arranged from the wings of one or two pigeons. The points of the wings will make two deep scollops, with one tiny one where they lie close together across the front, twile the round part of a third wing fits very readily into the corresponding part of the bottom.
