LIKE AN ELECTRIC BUTTON ON TOES. Tells Why a Corn is so Painful and Says Cutting Makes Them Grow.

Press an electric button and you form a contact with a live wire which rings the bell. When your shoes press against your corn it pushes its sharp roots down upon a sensitive nerve and you get a shock of pain.

Instead of trimming your corns which merely makes them grow, step into any drug store and ask for a quarter of an ounce of frezone. This will cost very little but is sufficient to remove every hard or sore corn or callus from one's feet. A few drops applied directly upon a tender itching corn stops the soreness instantly and soon the corn shrivels to so it fits right out, root and all, without pain. This drug frezone, is harmless and never inflames or even irritates the surrounding skin.

Two Popular Young People Married. Miss Inez Benson and Joseph Brown Will Make Home in the West. [From the Amesbury, Mass., Daily News.]

An event of unusual interest took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Avard Benson, No. 11 High street, at 2:30 Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 29th, when their eldest daughter, Inez Marion, was united in marriage to Joseph Merrill Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Brown, the ceremony being performed by Rev. S. James Cann, pastor of the Market street Baptist church.

The bridesmaid was Miss Zelma Benson, sister of the bride, and the best man, Leonard Brown, Jr., brother of the groom. Only the members of the immediate families and the "L. O.'s" were present. The happy couple were the recipients of a large number of most beautiful wedding gifts.

They left on the 5:18 train for an extended wedding tour which will end the last of next week at their new home in Bay City, Michigan. The bride and groom are both well known and popular, being natives of this town and were educated in our schools, graduating in the famous 1902 class of the High School.

The bride has been a leader among our young people, an active worker in the Market St. Baptist church and for a number of years bookkeeper and stenographer for the Atlantic Boat Co. The groom, after leaving school, was in the employ of his father in the plumbing business and a few years ago went to Detroit, where he entered the employ of the Wilson Body Co., of which Ocea Currier, of this town, was the Supt., and last September when the company opened a branch factory in Bay City, Michigan, Mr. Brown was made its Supt.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown have a very large circle of friends, who wish them much happiness and prosperity in their wedded life, in which the Daily News joins. [The bride is a granddaughter of Mr. Manly Benson, of Bridgetown, and has many friends here, who will extend best wishes for a long, happy and prosperous wedded career.]

A BIG FIRE IN MONTREAL

FEARED LOSS OF LIFE MAY GO TO 100; MANY BODIES ARE FOUND

At Least Thirty-Eight Little Children Burned to Death When Top Story of Nursery is Gutted—Firemen Driven out by Smoke and Flames. MONTREAL, February 14—The lives of at least thirty-eight little children were blotted out shortly after eight o'clock tonight by fire in the fifth or top story of the west wing of the Grey Nursery in Guy and Dorchester streets, and it is feared that the loss of life may run well up to a hundred. Thirty-eight charred bodies were found by the firemen at 10:30, when the fire was under control. It is known that while firemen and soldiers were engaged in rescuing infants they were forced to leave many to die as the flames and smoke drove the rescuers from the building. The property loss is not excessive, as the blaze was practically kept to the one floor. The fire started near the tower, supposedly from the electric wiring. The top floor was used as a dormitory for the infants being cared for by the nuns and the lower part of the west wing was occupied by returned sick or wounded soldiers.

OLD AND YOUNG IN BUILDING

The ages of the inmates of the nursery ranged from two or three days to almost a hundred years. Many of the babies, whose lives were destroyed in the fire and smoke, were but a few days' or a few weeks' old. The elderly inmates were housed in another section of the nursery, and were not immediately affected by the fire. Heroic work on the part of the soldiers whose homes were temporarily in the west wing of the Nursery doubtless prevented the loss of life being much larger. So rapidly did the flames envelope the upper floor of the west wing, where the children were in their cots for the night, that the firemen and soldiers were quickly driven out and had time merely to crawl as many of the little tots as they could and make a dash for the outside. It was impossible for them to return, but the soldiers were kept out only on the express orders of the fire chief.

FOUND CHARRED BODIES

The loss of life amongst the children in the infants' home department of the nursery could not be definitely ascertained tonight, but firemen at 10:30, when the building was still smouldering, found the charred bodies of twenty children. It is feared that many more perished, and the loss of life may total well up to fifty. All the other inmates of the big building are believed to have escaped. These included the nuns, nursing sisters, returned wounded or sick soldiers, aged sick or crippled men and women, to the number of almost a thousand. They scattered in various directions, so that it may be some time before there can be a roll call. A number of the soldiers were removed to hospitals, practically all the ambulances having been called into service in connection with the fire. None of the soldiers suffered injury through the fire or the consequent confusion and within half an hour of the outbreak all of them had been removed to places of safety and comfort. There were about 200 of them. Sixty of them were taken to the Khaki Club and the others were distributed amongst the military hospital on Drummond street, the Royal Victoria, Western and Montreal General Hospitals.

DEATH OF J. ALBERT SOULIS

A Former Smith's Cove Man Dies in the United States.

At the Homeopathic Hospital, Boston, Mass., on Thursday, January 21st, there occurred the death of Mr. James Albert Soulis, of Charlestown, Mass. The deceased, who was born in Smith's Cove, N. S., and spent the early years of his life there, was seventy-eight years of age. He was a son of the late Caleb and Eliza (Potter) Soulis. Besides his wife and daughter, Miss Annie M. Soulis, of Somerville, Mass., he leaves a sister, Mrs. Amanda Walsh, of N. Roxbury, Mass., and a brother, Mr. John L. Soulis, of Smith's Cove, N. S.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Herbert Handel, Assistant Pastor of Tremont Temple Baptist church, of which the deceased was for many years a member, and interment was in Glenwood Cemetery, Everett, Mass.

Death of Mrs. Deborah Blackford.

A Tiverton correspondent writes: Death again entered our village on Wednesday morning, Feb. 6th, taking as its victim, Mrs. Deborah Blackford, at the age of 91 years. She had been in good health until a few weeks ago. Mrs. Blackford came here a stranger to live with us many years ago, and we can only speak well of her. She has lived through many years of joy and sorrow and has now gone to her reward. She was a member of the Christian church here and until she was taken ill, was able to attend at the usual services. Those left to mourn are two sons, Mr. William Blackford, Mass., and Mr. Andrew Blackford; three daughters, Mrs. Vincent, U. S. A.; Mrs. Adams, Brighton, N. S.; Mrs. William Howard, Tiverton; a number of grandchildren and great grand children; also many friends. We extend sympathy to those who mourn.

Standard Size Apple Barrel.

It is interesting to note that as a result of the information collected by the Nova Scotia Fruit Growers' Association, there is a strong probability of a standard size apple barrel being adopted by government regulation. The size proposed will contain 39 quarts, which will decrease the Ontario size barrel by eleven quarts and increase the Nova Scotia barrel by three quarts. It is not possible to regulate the weight of barrels of apples owing to the difference in fruit. It is also proposed to establish grade sizes for potatoes in ones, two and culls, which has never hitherto been done, but would be a great advantage for the consumer.

A Chance to Win a Scholarship.

Prof. Cutten, President of Acadia University, visited the Bridgetown schools last Thursday. While there he offered a prize of fifty dollars to the pupil in Grade XI, making the highest average, and also attending Acadia University next year.

GOOD PROSPECTS FOR BIG FREIGHTS

A BRILLIANT FUTURE FOR THE NOVA SCOTIA FARMER

Production Last Season All Through the Annapolis Valley was Greatly Increased and a Still Greater Increase is Promised for This Season. [From the Yarmouth Telegram] Mr. Frank G. J. Comeau, general passenger agent of the D. A. R., arrived in Yarmouth from Halifax on Wednesday and spent Thursday in town on business in the interests of the railway. In conversation with Mr. Comeau last evening, we learn that prospects for a tremendous freight business along the line of the D. A. R., and connecting at Yarmouth with the steamer for Boston were never brighter. He said that production last season all through the Annapolis Valley was greatly increased over any previous year and even a greater increase is promised for the coming season, as about every farmer through that section of the Province is already preparing to begin operations on a larger scale than ever at the earliest possible date. The railway will give every encouragement to the farmer to plant and produce to the very limit, and will offer every possible facility for the quick shipment of his crops to the Boston and other United States markets.

SHORT AGRICULTURAL COURSE

At the Demonstration Building, Lawrenceville, Feb. 26th and 27th. The Short Course will begin at the Demonstration Building, Lawrenceville, on the above dates. The Faculty of the Agricultural College will be in attendance. 1918 will be a noted year in farm production in Nova Scotia, and a noted year in the price of farm products. Men and munitions and shipping and food are needed now as never before. Every farmer should prepare to raise more grain, more stock, more hogs, more poultry, more garden produce in 1918 than ever before. Attend the Short Course at Lawrenceville and get all the new ideas from the teachers in the Farmers' College and from the leading farmers.

This should be a banner year for attendance. Be present and talk over the new conditions and increased production. Good board at reasonable terms at the hotel and at private houses.

The following is a copy of the programme: TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 26th. 2:00-3:30—The Dairy Cow in 1918, J. M. Trueman. 3:30-4:30—Gardening in 1918, W. S. Blair. 7:30-8:30—Soil Cultivation in 1918, J. M. Trueman. 8:30-9:30—Spraying Potatoes to Save Food in 1918, W. H. Brittain.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 27th. 10:00-12:00—Feeding Hogs in 1918, J. M. Trueman. 2:00-3:00—Selection of Seed for 1918, S. J. Moore. 3:00-4:30—The Care of Horses, Dr. J. A. Sinclair. 7:00-8:00—Selection of Seed for 1918, S. J. Moore. 8:00-9:00—Increased Production in 1918, M. Cumming. Production of Butter and Cheese, W. A. McKay, Dom. Dairy Expert. Relation of Agricultural Societies to the County and Provincial organizations, W. S. Blair.

SHORT COURSE FOR LADIES A Short Course for ladies will be held in the Demonstration Building on Thursday and Friday, Feb. 28th and March 1st. Instructors at this Course will be Miss Jennie A. Frazer, Supt. of Women's Institute, and Miss Helen J. MacDougall, teacher of Domestic Science, with the assistance of some others whose names will be announced later.

The classes will be held on the afternoons of each day, and one evening session, Thursday or Friday evening, as selected.

SOLDIERS RETURN

Bridgetown Trimmed With Bunting Friday Morning in Honor of Our Boys

When it was learned that Regimental Sergeant Major George Gill, Privates T. J. Marshall, W. Mitchell and Edwin W. Walker had landed in Halifax and would arrive in Bridgetown via Friday's express, the heavy down-pour of rain, accompanied by thunder and lightning did not prevent the hoisting of flags and the gathering of public officials and citizens at the railway station to extend to them a hearty greeting. In the absence of the Mayor, who was in St. John, they were officially welcomed by Deputy Mayor Maxwell, Town Clerk Rusgale, and representatives of the Board of Trade and local press. Mr. Maxwell and Mr. Fred E. Bath, with their automobiles, kindly conveyed the returned men to their respective homes, preceded by the Bridgetown Brass Band, which rendered good music, considering the hurried manner in which the members were called together without previous practice for many weeks. Private Walker stopped off at Middleton, arriving here the following day. Among the others who arrived at Halifax via the same steamer were: Private A. C. Chute, Clementsvale. Private J. McLaughlin, Annapolis. P. C. M. S. A. T. Spurr, Round Hill. Private A. M. Stevens, Centreville, Digby County. Private J. Woodworth, Paradise. Just before train time word was received that Private Percy A. Norman, of Bridgetown, had been landed at Halifax, from a military ship, and would arrive in Bridgetown via Monday's express. He was met at the station and officially welcomed by Mayor McKenzie, Deputy Mayor Maxwell, representatives of the Board of Trade, the local press and a host of citizens. Crossing on the same steamer with Private Norman were 722 soldiers, among whom was Private W. Faulkner, of Kentville.

"THE DUTCH DETECTIVE"

Friday Evening's Entertainment Will Be a Good One.

Again the people of Bridgetown will have the opportunity of attending a good amateur entertainment. We refer to "The Dutch Detective," a farce in three acts, which will be presented by the West Paradise Dramatic Society in the Primrose theatre, Friday evening, Feb. 22nd. CHARACTERS. Otto Schmitz, a correspondence school detective, Mr. F. Poole. Plunk Jarleck, escaped from the asylum, Mr. A. M. Kennedy. Jabo Grabb, the police force from Splinterville, Mr. C. S. Bothamley. Major Hannibal Howler, on the war path, Mr. Newman Daniels. Augustus Coo, a newly-wed, Mr. Jesse Saunders. Gladys Howler-Coo, his bride, the Major's daughter, Miss VanBuskirk. Ambrosia McCarty, the Queen of the lunch room, Miss Hazel Daniels. Miss Araminta Soundrops, who loses her Jabo, Mrs. E. Shaw. Hortensey Smatters, escaped from the asylum, Miss Bridge. Katrina Kraut, from Hamilton Cidy by der Schatze of Ohio, Miss Leila Poole. Time—Thirty days. Place—Splinterville.

SYNOPSIS

Act I—The railroad station at Splinterville. Lovers and lunatics. Act II—The railroad station at Splinterville. Votes for women. Act III—The railroad station at Splinterville. The midnight choco-choo. This play has already been given to the public of Paradise and was received with hearty applause. The proceeds are in aid of the Red Cross. THE LATE GOVERNOR MEUSE

Some Incidents in the Life of the Well Known Indian.

[Written for the Monitor]

"Governor" Jim Meuse was a unique figure in the history of the Micmac tribe of Indians, who live on the Indian Reserve about 1 1/2 miles south of the town of Bear River.

The writer cannot state authoritatively how long "Jim" held the governorship of the tribe, but suffice it to say that he was yet a young man when appointed by the crown, and that his father was "governor" (or chief) before him.

Jim was twice married and had 21 children. He was an Indian of superior intelligence, had some education, and could, when he saw fit, speak excellent English. At other times he would elapse into the broken English so common among Indians.

Lake all Indians he was very fond of hunting and served in the capacity of guide for many a party of moose hunters. Not very long before Jim died, Digby's veteran sportsman, Mr. H. A. P. Smith, Sheriff of Digby county, engaged him to go out to a certain lake in the south woods and construct a camp so that it would be in readiness for a hunting party which Mr. Smith was getting up. Jim took his orders and a twenty dollar bill from the sheriff and straightaway went to the spot indicated, stood up two crocheted sticks near a large rock, stretched other sticks across and covered it over with a few fir boughs. He then returned to his home chucking over the twenty dollars so easily earned. A few days later Mr. Smith sent for "Governor Jim" to act as guide on the proposed hunting trip. Jim readily consented and led the way towards the camp. When a mile or two from the camp, Jim gradually began to turn the conversation to the subject of bears and the damage they are apt to do to whatever they come across. When at last the party came in sight of the camp, its shilly-shally construction was plainly apparent. Jim threw up his hands as if in dismay, and said, "Well! well! those bears do seem to take delight in destroying the works of man."

Another amusing episode was in connection with a hunting party organized some years ago by Rev. J. L. M. Young, at that time pastor of Bear River Baptist church. During this trip the party were dividing up the luggage for a "carry" between two lakes, and by a mistake in "counting noses," the reverend gentleman was left without any load. Says "Jim" to Mr. Young, "What you goin' to carry?" "Oh, said he, "I'll carry my religion." Jim quickly replied, "Damn light load, parson."

For several years before his death, Jim and his family used to camp during the summer tourist season on the shore of the beautiful Annapolis Basin at Deen Brook, and used to interest and delight many an audience of American visitors, with his quaint sayings, and wonderful tales of adventure.

During the first years of his governorship and when he was still in the prime of life, Jim went to London to see the Queen, and was shown into the presence of Queen Victoria, who presented him with the large gold medal which may be seen hanging from his neck in the portrait displayed in the window of Purdy's Novelty and Art Store on Queen St.

Wedding Bells in Melrose.

MacGREGOR-MacNAVR

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Brown, Melrose, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Saturday evening, January 12th, when their cousin, Lelia Izetta, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lambert MacNayr, Springfield, N. S., became the wife of George Copp MacGregor, of Lynnfield, Mass.

Promptly at 8 o'clock, at the strain of the wedding march, rendered by Mrs. Lindsay Lantz, friend of the bride. The groom, attended by his brother Emery, took his place under an arch of greenery. The bride was given away by her father, and looked most charmingly gowned in blue georgette crepe, with beaded trimmings, carrying a large bouquet of bridal roses. She was attended by her sister, Ora, becomingly attired in crepe de chine and carrying a bouquet of sweet peas.

The little Misses Dorothy Brown and Dorothy Barrett performed the duties of flower girls. Rev. D. M. Lockrow, of Tremont Temple, performed the ceremony, the double ring service being used. After congratulations, a light luncheon was served. At the close of an enjoyable evening, Mr. and Mrs. MacGregor left for Boston, amidst showers of confetti and good wishes of all present.

The bride was the recipient of many beautiful gifts, including china, cut-glass, silver, linen and money. Guests were present from Lynnfield, Dorchester, Springfield, Mass., Ashmont, Melrose, Somerville, Boston and Lynn.

GRANVILLE CENTRE BIBLE CLASS

Officers and Members Pleasantly Entertained by the Karsdale Class.

The Karsdale Union Bible Class entertained the Granville Centre Bible Class at the home of Howard Croscup on Thursday evening, the 7th inst., and the occasion was certainly a most enjoyable one. About 35 from the Centre drove into the yard about 6 p. m. and were most cordially received by the reception committee. Rapidly the friends in this locality came in and soon a company of about 50 were enjoying themselves in a social way. The tables were soon in readiness and surely presented a most inviting appearance. Clams, in all forms of cooking, baked beans, brown bread, cake, pies, etc. Supper over, Rev. Mr. Brindley called off in order the literary and musical programme, which consisted of—

Piano Duet by Mrs. and Miss Eaton. Song, by Miss Powell. Recitation by Mrs. Harry Read. Song, by Mrs. Arnold Eaton. Duet, by Laura Covert and Mildred McNeil. Song by Mrs. Hare. Selection Harp, by Mr. Stan. Mills. Address by Rev. Mr. Leggo. Song by Mrs. E. Bent. Recitation by Mrs. Eva Palmer. Song by Mrs. Charles Dunn. Duet, piano, Mrs. and Miss Eaton. Song by Miss Smith. Recitation by Miss Mabel Bohaker. Song, by Mrs. Hare. Recitation by Miss Tanch. Duet, Mrs. Hare and Miss Manning. E. H. Porter then moved a vote of thanks to all who had in any way contributed to the success of the affair and to Mr. and Mrs. Croscup for so kindly opening their house for the occasion and to Miss Manning for kindly loaning her piano. This was seconded by Miss Betts and passed unanimously. Mrs. Goodwin responded in behalf of the Granville Centre guests. After some further singing, by Mr. Brindley and some appropriate remarks by Mr. Leggo the company dispersed.

DAYLIGHT SAVING

A Few of the Advantages Nova Scotia and the Continent Would Enjoy.

- 1—It will save 1,000,000 tons of coal every year.
2—The saving in gas and electricity bill each year will be 40 cents per capita, or $40,000,000.
3—It will stimulate an increased production of foodstuffs by giving suburban gardeners an extra hour of light for their work.
4—It will permit the exchanges of Montreal, New York and London to be open simultaneously each day for one hour during the warm months. Under present conditions London closes just as Montreal and New York opens.
5—It will reduce the annual casualties from street and highway traffic accidents.
6—It will conserve and improve public health and morals by giving more daylight hours for both work and recreation.
7—It will speed up the general movement of freight by giving an extra daylight hour for overtime work at the docks and freight terminals.
8—It will stimulate a healthy interest in all forms of outdoor sport, especially baseball, and will enable baseball games to be held at a later hour.
9—It will be of special benefit to women in industry, as it will enable them to stop work at the time of day when their nervous strain is the greatest.
10—It will place America in line with a practice which since the beginning of the war, has been adopted by all the European countries.

Is Drive At Austrian Naval Base Planned?

WASHINGTON, February 14—The presence of Vice Admiral Sims at Rome is regarded here as not having to do with any proposed assaults on the Austrian naval base at Pola on the Adriatic, as has been stated in some published reports, but to be more likely connected with plans for cleaning up the submarines in the Mediterranean.

Naturally navy officers here are not discussing such plans as they may know of, but the suggestion that a naval drive on Pola is in contemplation meets with a cold reception. The Austrian base is well located and flanked by land defences of the strongest character. It is very doubtful that a proposal to storm these defences from the sea without land support would be favored by any power.

There seems no doubt, however, that Admiral Sims' visit to Rome was connected directly with plans mapped out by the naval section of the Supreme War Council.

EVERY HEADACHE HAS A MEANING

If there is one practice more dangerous than neglecting a headache altogether, it is taking drugs simply to numb the pain. Headaches are nature's warnings and serve a useful purpose. They tell of a function overtaxed or deranged and the wise man or woman takes steps accordingly.

When the Kidneys are not performing their natural function the blood stream becomes clogged with impurities—a fruitful cause of headaches, constant headaches, and more serious complaints if nature's warning is not heeded.

The sufferer feels sluggish, unwilling to work, the back aches and there is a dizzy sensation on stooping. If the cause of the trouble is unchecked, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Swollen Joints and Ankles follow, until Gin Pills are resorted to and the Kidney action restored to normal.

The beauty of the Gin Pill treatment is that first it will in all probability remove both headaches and cause; second, if there is no cure, the simple remedy can do absolutely no harm, and third, have only to write the manufacturers and your money will be refunded.

Gin Pills are sold at 50c. a box or 6 boxes for $2.50 on the money-back guarantee. If you have any difficulty in securing Gin Pills write for a free sample to the National Drug & Chemical Co. of Canada, Limited, Toronto, or to the U. S. address, Na-Dru-Co Inc., 702 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y.

ONCE MORE

Once more we appeal to those of our subscribers who are in arrears to send along the amounts due. The fisherman, the farmer, the lumberman and the trader have been blessed with prosperity, but how much prosperity can the publisher enjoy with hundreds of dollars due on subscription account? Paper and ink, as well as other stock and materials which are necessary for the publishing business have more than doubled in price, and yet hundreds of our delinquent subscribers pay no heed to our appeal for funds. No trader in the country would keep standing on his books for years accounts long overdue; in fact no trader could afford to do so. We leave the matter to the intelligent judgment of our subscribers and ask them if they do not feel they should pay up at once. Every commodity that goes to appease the hunger coxae much more than formerly and there are incessant demands for payment of paper, ink and other materials. If our delinquent subscribers will remit the amounts due it will be an act greatly appreciated. We ask you not to be forgetful about this matter. Our creditors always remind us when a bill becomes due and we must respond to their request. Will you respond to ours?

WOULD BRING A ROOM

If the people of Bridgetown could get a Foundry and Shipbuilding Co. formed and business commenced, it would only be a few weeks before the following, reprinted from the Progress-Enterprise, would apply to Bridgetown as well as to Bridgewater: Houses are in great demand in Bridgewater just now. It is quite a problem how the new families coming in for the Bridgewater shipyard and the new box-factory and the flour mill are to be housed. Besides these we have a number of young married people anxiously looking for homes. With materials and labor so high, building is almost out of the question.

The Series of Lectures.

Under the auspices of the young ladies of the Young People's Societies of the various churches, the first of a series of lectures was given in the Baptist vestry last Wednesday evening, by President G. B. Curran, L. L. D. of Acadia University. His subject was "The Human Stomach." In a fascinating manner he spoke of the psychology of the crowd, and took up many outstanding historical evidences of stampeding of whole bodies of people. The Monastic movement, the Crusades, the dancing mania, the great panics and the causes which led to them, the psychology of fashions, and of modern local or general mass movements were discussed. The second lecture of the course will be delivered in the Presbyterian church tonight by Henry Ford De Wolfe, D. D., on the "Growth of the English Bible."

The next lecture will be given in the Methodist vestry next Wednesday evening, Feb. 27th, by Alfred Burson Falconer, B. Sc., M. A., on "Finance in the West."

Autos Entitled to Right-of-Way. A horse-drawn vehicle must turn to the right of the beaten path or roadway and permit a motor car coming from behind to pass. Failure to do this makes the driver of the former vehicle guilty of negligence, is the opinion of a jury composed largely of farmers at Woodstock, Ont. The verdict was reached after a trial lasting three days.

Four Generations in One House

A house at Carleton's Corner at present contains the representatives of four generations, something quite unusual. We refer to the Bosson homestead, in which Mr. and Mrs. Manley Bosson, Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Rice, of Bridgetown, and Mrs. Ernest Ewing and her little son, Fred, of Rochester, N. Y.

Red Cross Notes

The Bridgetown Red Cross room Thursday afternoon was visited by a number of young ladies, who left behind them the generous gift of $100.00, the proceeds of Monday evening's entertainment. A hearty vote of thanks was extended to these young ladies, to Mrs. Lockett and to all who assisted, both for the pleasing entertainment and the helpful donation.

Another donation received this same afternoon, through the kindness of Mr. Brinton, ($20.00) was from the people of St. Croix Cove, who have helped so many times, with their offerings. The Red Cross wishes again to thank these people of St. Croix Cove, who are doing so much for our Red Cross work.

The Lawrence town South Side Red Cross Society sent to Halifax Feb. 14th, a shipment of Red Cross goods as follows: 48 pairs of socks, 15 hospital shirts, one quilt. Valued at $49.50.

MRS. F. H. LONGLEY, Secy.

Valentine Party at Clementsport. A highly appreciative and successful "Valentine Party" was given in the Baptist hall, Clementsport, on the evening of February 14th, by the ladies of the Red Cross. The Master of the Ceremonies, Mr. H. Hicks, in his opening remarks, commented on the work the Red Cross had accomplished and informed his hearers that the entertainment would consist of readings, solo, etc., with a lunch served at the close; but vastly of more importance was the drive collection to be had during each successive announcement of the programme, he made feeling reference to the collection.

The district was largely represented as were the villages of Deep Brook and Clements vale. At the completion of the programme, valentines were sold from the Post Office (arranged for the occasion) and lunch with tea served, the sum of $41.00 being realized. All present pronounced it as an evening well spent.

The Poultry Show.

The second annual exhibition of the Annapolis County Poultry Club opened in the Demonstration Building, Lawrence town, last night and is now in full swing. The opening speech by Hon. E. H. Armstrong was one of the best ever heard in the building and was greatly appreciated by all who were there. Today will be especially for the Lawrence town, Clarence and Williams schools. Tomorrow (Thursday) for the school children of Bridgetown, Middleton and the nearby schools. Admission only 5 cents.

The speakers for tonight are Mrs. Jas. Stoddart and Prof. W. S. Blair for tomorrow night Profs. Landry and Kerr. The whole show is proving a great success.

DEATH OF REV. S. LANGILLE

A Retired Baptist Clergyman Passes Away in His Home at North Range.

A special telephone message to the MONITOR early Thursday morning announced the sad news that Rev. Stephen Langille had expired suddenly the previous evening in his home at North Range, Digby county.

The deceased, who was a retired Baptist clergyman, had been in poor health for some time, but the end was quite unexpected. He was born in Halifax County seventy-three years ago, and had held pastorates in many parts of the Province, including Digby and Annapolis counties. He is survived by a widow and two daughters, Mrs. Aiden Chute, of Clements vale, and Mrs. Hartley Marshall, of Faulkland Ridge, Annapolis County. The funeral was held from his late home in North Range, the service being conducted by Rev. C. W. Robbins, pastor of the Digby Baptist church. The remains passed through Bridgetown via Monday's express, accompanied by his widow and other members of the family.

The late Mr. Langille being a member of Crescent Lodge, of Otidellows, Bridgetown, Mrs. Langille was met at the train by a committee of three link brethren, who informed her that a committee from Lakeside Lodge, I. O. O. F., Springfield, would meet her in that town and attend to the funeral services at Faulkland Ridge, where interment took place yesterday.

DEATH OF CAPT. JAMES ANTHONY

A Well Known Resident of Port Lorne Dies in Wolfville.

A telephone message to the MONITOR announces the death of Capt. James Anthony, aged about 78 years, which took place at the home of his only daughter, wife of Capt. Samuel Beardsley, Wolfville, at an early hour yesterday morning.

Capt. Anthony, who was highly respected by a large circle of friends, was one of the best citizens of Port Lorne, where for several years he and Mrs. Anthony conducted a summer hotel very pleasantly located near the Bay of Fundy shore, and were very popular among those who visited their house. He was an old time master mariner and could relate many interesting incidents of his life on the sea. Besides his wife and daughter he is survived by a sister, Mrs. Emma Hamm, of Lynn.

The remains leave Wolfville via this morning's express and will be met at the Paradise station by Mr. W. E. Reed, one of Bridgetown's undertakers, and conveyed to Port Lorne, where interment will take place. The funeral service will be conducted by Rev. R. B. Kinley, pastor of the Baptist church, of which the deceased was a faithful member.

Presentation

The "Knitters' Club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. Dunham, Granville street, Monday night. During the evening the members presented Mrs. C. S. Innes with a beautiful cut glass dish in honor of her recent marriage. Miss Feodora Lloyd read an address and the presentation was made by Miss Hortense Griffin. Mrs. Innes expressed her appreciation in an appropriate reply.

Making the Most of Suet.

In substituting something for something else, we must understand two facts: First, that the product may be quite satisfactory, but it probably will not be exactly the same as the "old recipe" or the "old way."

Suet has proved to stand next to butter in possessing the necessary qualities for growth and good health. Aside from this fact, it is also the most economical substitute.

Purchase kidney suet. Remove the tissue-like membrane, chop the meat fine or grind in a meat grinder. Cover with cold water and beat gently until the boiling point is reached.

On to the Acre.

[By Robert Gray, President Gray-Dort Motors Ltd.]

The automobile is parent to the most wholesome and fruitful movement in the history of American domestic life—the movement toward the acre.

Thousands of families have been freed from the pollution and congestion of cities, to live healthier lives in the fresh, pure air of the open country.

In accomplishing this one great reform, the motor car has proved the claim that it is an essential unit in the transportation system of the world.

The family car takes the workers to and from their daily tasks, carries the children to school, simplifies marketing and shopping, in fact enters into every daily duty, as well as recreation.

And while we are here "on the acre," it is pertinent to look beyond—and yonder to the professional farmer with his hundreds of acres.

The successful farmer is an intensely practical man. He looks first to the utility of the things he buys. He enjoys the little luxuries of life only after the family nest has been properly feathered.

Knowledge of these few functions, of the many useful ones that the automobile is filling, contribute potently to the conclusion that it is essential to the expeditions and satisfactory progress of twentieth century standard.

Horse Breeding and Environment

At the present time there is an enormous demand for heavy work horses which cannot be adequately met with, and, as a consequence, prices are higher than they have ever been before. This condition, though chiefly caused by the use of a large number of horses for war purposes, is likely to continue for many years after the termination of the war. Nowhere is the demand keener than in Western Canada where considerable areas of arable land are available for putting into crop. The market there is an immense one. Farmers are breaking more land every year, and although large numbers of tractors are being used, many farmers prefer to use horses. New settlers continue to arrive in increasing numbers. It has always been possible to sell locally bred horses at prices altogether out of proportion to the cost of production. The country is particularly adapted to the industry, and large as are the returns from other branches of farming in Western Canada, in none are they larger than those which the farmer who engages in the raising of horses may expect.

In an article written by Mr. E. A. Davenport, of Acme, Alberta, which appeared in a recent issue of the "Farmer's Advocate" (Winnipeg) some of the advantages possessed by Western Canada as a horse raising country are pointed out. Mr. Davenport has been a successful breeder of Percheron horses in Alberta for a number of years, and writes from experience.

"We are fortunate in Western Canada that our climatic conditions are favorable for the production of healthy horses, that our soil conditions are such that the feed grown is wholesome and nourishing for the construction of a strong, perfect and enduring frame. The atmosphere is bright, bracing and pure, with the oxygen required for lung development and blood building, while abundant sunshine benefits animals and plants alike. For the development of dense, flinty bone of sufficient calibre, mineral matters must abound in the food and drink of horses. Without these requisites of nourishment, perfect animals will be produced. Western Canada as a horse raising country is eminently adapted for the breeding and rearing of horses of the highest type and quality. Her soils are rich in mineral matters; her drinking waters are strongly impregnated with minerals; her feeds are both rich in proteins and earthy materials, and especially fitted for perfect frame building. We can at all times supply our horses with nutritious feed from never-failing sources.

"Of the commercial foods bran is proving to be of particular value in the feeding of horses, as it furnishes materials for the development of strong bone, dense tendons, tough hoofs and powerful muscle, the essentials for which the Western horses are already famed.

"It may, therefore, be stated with confidence that Western Canada favors these desirable qualities which are less perfectly developed where the climate is hotter and consequently less bracing, and where the character of the soil is better adapted for the production of corn and other food materials more or less deficient in frame building ingredients. We can almost better than any other section of the country produce draft horses of ideal quality and development as regards frame, vigor, stamina, constitution, action, docility and durability. There are no more important or necessary requirements than these in a horse that works hard in the city or upon the farm."

The Government's Wolverine

JOE SMITH has been the population at Castle Mountain, Alberta, ever since the early eighties of the last century. He makes his living by hunting, trapping and prospecting. Three winters ago, bothered by the depredations of a wolverine he set traps with a cunning which was partly natural and partly acquired, the result being that he caught a lusty young but somewhat incautious wolverine.

Joe, who has found that live animals of the wild often brought more money from the government officials at the zoological gardens in Banff, twenty miles away, than the dead ones did from the fur dealers, decided to take his prize to the government park. So, after painful adventures he boxed the muscular young wolverine and delivered it before the superintendent of the park. He was greeted with warm words of commendation for the park had now a live wolverine in its cages. The fact that the animal had broken a front leg did not mitigate at all against the price Joe asked.

Joe put his catch in the strongly wired cage, took his money and went home.

The wolverine sulked and licked his paw. He snarled and growled and glowered at the keeper, who strove hard to win his liking with broken bones of the foreleg knit—but crookedly, the limb flaring outward. The wolverine was so far advanced in captivity that he deliriously ate the food given him, but he always waited until after dark to do so. During the day he crouched gloomed. With good food, and the loss of pain from his leg he regained his strength and put on flesh. His cage, strong, galvanized iron wire on a one-inch mesh, was floored with concrete, and had proven sufficient to hold grey wolves, half-grown bears, and full-grown badgers. He was considered located for life. But one morning there was excitement. The keeper found the cage empty, and in the wire, three feet up from the ground, a neat hole, the stiff wires thrust outward as though an eight-inch shell had passed through. On the ground was the broken half of a tusk, showing that the animal had bitten and torn at the wires until he had it broken enough to force himself through.

This was in the fall. That winter a trapper was camped on the headwaters of the Kootenay, near the point where the Banff-Windermere motor trail crosses the Kootenay River. He had a snug, mud-roofed cabin of massive logs, and he had plenty of food. Along about Christmas time he decided he would trail out to Golden for the Christmas holidays, so he looked his place and started with his dog and such furs as he had caught. He was a careful trapper, and he left a small ventilation door, eight by ten inches, open. This door was cut through the second leg of his cabin. He knew that no pack rats would come in because a weasel had taken up its abode in a stump nearby and did most of his hunting in and around the building.

A week later he returned, pleased with his trip and pleased to get back. He opened his door and stood agast. The bacon was down from its nail on the wall and little was left but the string, his flour sacks were ripped open and the contents scattered everywhere, his sugar and tea and coffee were mixed in an awful mess on the floor. His dog growled with brightening mane, and then dashed under the bed. There came the sound of snarls and worryings, and then there rolled from beneath the place of rest a furry bundle which snapped. It was the dog and a wolverine, a fat wolverine who fought with vigor. The trapper, at an opportune moment crunched its skull with the back of an axe, and the badly torn canine limped away to treat his jagged wounds.

Investigation by the man showed that the appetite of the wolverine had caused its downfall. Lean and hungry it must have come prowling around the house and found the ventilation hole through which it crawled. Then it found food. Now a wolverine has another name, and it is as commonly known by that as by its real title. This name is "glutton," and whenever possible it lives up to it. That is what this animal did. It ate so much that it could not get back through the hole and had curled up to sleep of its satiety and size, beneath the bed. Before this happened the white man came back. Like many another creature in higher walks of life its carnal appetite had been the cause of its death.

The trapper turned it over. Its blood-stained jaws snarled in death, one long fang showing broken and ragged. Its right forepaw flared outward where it had been ill-treated after a fracture.

WOMEN TORTURED!

Suffer Terribly With Corns Because of High Heels, But Why Care Now.

Women wear high heels which buckle up their toes and they suffer terribly from corns. Women then proceed to trim these pests, seeking relief, but they hardly realize the terrible danger from infection, says a Cincinnati authority. Corns can easily be lifted out with the fingers if you will get from any drug store a quarter of an ounce of a drug called freezone. This is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet. You simply apply a few drops directly upon the tender, aching corn or callus. The soreness is relieved at once and soon the entire corn or callus, root and all, lifts out without one particle of pain. This freezone is a sticky substance which dries in a moment. It just shrivels up the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin. Tell your wife about this.

Ode to July

Backward, turn backward, O time in thy flight, give me July again just for tonight, soften the ground where Frost King has lain, O let me hear one mosquito again. I am so weary of snowdrifts and ice, weary of paying the coal trust its price; weary, so weary of frost-bitten pie—give us a slice of the Fourth of July. Backward, swing backward, O season of snow—mercury 15 or 20 below; turn on the heat of the tropical zone, roast me until I am cooked to the bone. I am so tired of freezing my nose, weary of chibbains and corns on my toes; weary of trying to sleep with cold feet—turn on the heat Mister, turn on the heat.

MELVERN SQUARE

Mrs. Ralph Lantz is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Doney, of Port George. Miss Shipley Spurr still remains quite ill, with Mrs. William Gates acting as nurse.

Quite a number in this vicinity are ill with colds, making the congregations at the churches rather small. Miss Jennie Reid lately returned from New York, recently visited her friends, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Phinney, of this place.

Mr. and Mrs. William Andrews, of Prince Albert, spent Wednesday, 13th, with Mrs. Andrews' mother, Mrs. Sophronia Pierce.

Mrs. Armstrong, of Sydney, C. B., has returned to her home, after spending a few weeks with her parents, Colonel Mrs. J. Spurr.

A number from Melvern Square attended the valentine social held at Kingston, on the evening of Feb. 14th, where they spent a very enjoyable evening. Moonlight and good sleighing added to the pleasure of the evening.

One of our elderly ladies, Mrs. Sophronia Pierce, celebrated her 87th birthday on Wednesday, 13th inst., and assured her callers that she would probably greet them again on the same date next year. We sincerely hope she may.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry McNeil are at present visiting friends in Halifax, and expect to return to Melvern the first of next week. While in the city they will be the guests of Capt. and Mrs. S. L. McNeil, and Mr. and Mrs. Williams.

Mid winter and the usual scarcity of news in a country village, but we are having a change in the weather at least the "good old fashioned winter" breaking up into a genuine thaw, accompanied by quite a severe thunder storm, certainly good weather for February.

DIGBY

Mr. Fred McKay spent the week-end in Digby. Mr. Charles Vye returned to Middleton Friday.

Miss Edrie Titus has been visiting Mrs. James Dunn, Yarmouth. Miss Pearl Grant, of Yarmouth, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Dakin.

Schir Dorothy M. Smart, Capt. Ansel Snow, sailed Thursday for the fishing grounds. Schir Dorothy P. Sarty, Capt. Arthur Longmuir, sailed Saturday for the fishing grounds.

Mr. Oscar Morgan, of Smith's Cove, returned Saturday from a trip through the Annapolis Valley. Mayor F. W. Nichols was a passenger to Lawrencetown Wednesday, returning the following day.

Miss Elizabeth Steadman, of Halifax, is visiting her mother, Mrs. F. M. Steadman, Montague street. Miss Annie Vye returned home on Wednesday, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. A. J. Lutz, Moncton.

Mr. Geo. H. Peters, representing the Great West Life Assurance Co. left for Ayerford via Monday's express. The members of the Field Comforts Club held a very successful tea and sale on Saturday afternoon and evening.

His many friends will be pleased to learn that Councillor Ross C. Smallie, who has been seriously ill, is convalescing.

Dr. C. B. Cullen, president of Acadia University, while in Digby, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Short, Queen street.

MIDDLETON

Pte. Eddie Walker returned from England on Friday. Pte. James Hilton returned home last week from overseas.

Miss Susie Smith left on Saturday for Caledonia to visit her sisters. Capt. E. S. Spurr is suffering from trench fever in a Red Cross hospital in Bologna.

Mr. Wm. Eaton returned last week from Halifax. Mrs. Eaton is expected next week. The friends of Mr. A. W. Allen will be sorry to hear of his illness and hope for a speedy recovery.

J. E. Slocumb, of Port George, was the guest of his sister, Mrs. N. F. Marshall, one day last week. Miss Evangeline Young, of Bentley's Ltd., is spending a week in Halifax, the guest of Miss Kitty Mohr.

On Feb. 13th, Mrs. G. N. Reagh held a reception at her home on Main St., it being the anniversary of her birthday and that of her friend, Miss Emma Slocumb.

The friends of Mrs. P. Forestall will learn with regret of her death, which took place on the 13th. The funeral took place on Friday at Dalhousie, Kings Co.

Rev. S. Langille passed away at his home, North Range, Digby Co., on the 13th inst. The remains were taken to Springdale for interment. He leaves a wife and two daughters to mourn their loss.

At a very pleasant afternoon tea, given by Mrs. Margeson (nee Mary Mulhall) in honor of Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Miller and Mrs. Hill, Mrs. Miller's sister, who were visiting in Vancouver, were Mrs. Kate Graves and Mrs. Daley and Mrs. Denton, formerly of Middleton; also Mrs. Dr. Margeson and Capt. daughter, Mrs. Davidson, formerly of Hantsport, with others from Nova Scotia. Mr. and Mrs. Miller are said to be looking well. They enjoy the Vancouver weather.

Last Friday evening the Lawrencetown League went on a trip to Bridgetown, where they were delightfully entertained by the Bridgetown League.

Conditions For Successful Bee-keeping

(Experimental Farms Notes) The first requisite for successful bee-keeping is that the owner of the bees should be interested in them. He will then study their ways and learn to manage them well.

Another important condition is abundance of honey-producing flora within a mile or two of the apiary. There is hardly a place in the whole parts of Canada where this condition is not fulfilled to some extent.

By far the most important are alfalfa and white clover found on almost every farm, and most plentiful of clovers where they are grown for hay, pasture or seed. In Southern Alberta the dry interior of British Columbia clover yields first place to alfalfa.

It is not often in this war no many places that one can see a man in a suit, a man in a uniform, a man in a soldier's uniform, a man in a pilot's uniform, a man in a sailor's uniform, a man in a farmer's uniform, a man in a worker's uniform, a man in a student's uniform, a man in a teacher's uniform, a man in a doctor's uniform, a man in a lawyer's uniform, a man in a judge's uniform, a man in a minister's uniform, a man in a priest's uniform, a man in a monk's uniform, a man in a nun's uniform, a man in a beggar's uniform, a man in a thief's uniform, a man in a criminal's uniform, a man in a convict's uniform, a man in a prisoner's uniform, a man in a soldier's uniform, a man in a sailor's uniform, a man in a pilot's uniform, a man in a farmer's uniform, a man in a worker's uniform, a man in a student's uniform, a man in a teacher's uniform, a man in a doctor's uniform, a man in a lawyer's uniform, a man in a judge's uniform, a man in a minister's uniform, a man in a priest's uniform, a man in a monk's uniform, a man in a nun's uniform, a man in a beggar's uniform, a man in a thief's uniform, a man in a criminal's uniform, a man in a convict's uniform, a man in a prisoner's uniform.

WAR CORRESPONDENTS' QUARTERS, February 26—All today is dull, the previous two had been wonderfully bright for time of year, with a blue sky, frosted fields, and the British made the most of the visibility getting out and about across German lines, noting the change, and watching for any movement on the rails and roads.

LIKE MEN OF ANOTHER PLAN First came a column of lorries, then a body of marching men and a party of cyclists. The track, white in the sun against the green of the grass, and these men, very slowly, like a creeping shadow, it gave me a queer emotion to them there in their own lines, of field gray men, who are hidden in holes and ditches after enemy bombardments. It was as if one of the inhabitants of another planet through some mysterious telescope and truly these German soldiers are distant from us, as strange to us ideas and purpose as if they dwelt beyond the stars. At least, while they divide us the link seems to be snapped between their human and ours. Yet they were less than two miles away, moving in the sunlight that cast a shadow across hummock of earth.

Behind them and much farther away were the guns which have no human nature, but which in this war are to the infantry like powers that be to the spirit of evil, blind in their construction, careless in their choice of victims, ruthless as the old devil of the world's first darkness.

Save Food. In a time needing food economy many people are not getting all the nourishment they might from their food. It is not how much you eat, but how much you assimilate, that does you good. The addition of a small teaspoonful of Bovril to the diet as a peptogenic before meals leads to more thorough digestion and assimilation and thus saves food, for you need less.

THE TERRIBLE EUROPEAN WAR

HAIG'S TROOPS ARE WATER EVERY MOVE OF THE WILY ENEMY. And it is Their Belief That If They Launch Their Offensive They Pay a Hellish Price For Any They Get.

[By Phillip Gibbs, for the Times]

WAR CORRESPONDENTS' QUARTERS, February 26—All today is dull, the previous two had been wonderfully bright for time of year, with a blue sky, frosted fields, and the British made the most of the visibility getting out and about across German lines, noting the change, and watching for any movement on the rails and roads.
