Fortune Telling Charge Against One in North End And One in Carleton

A case of unusual interest was taken up in the police court this afternoon. Two women are reported for practicing witchcraft. One of the women, it is said, has been telling fortunes in the North End, and the other engaged in Carleton. The women reported were Mrs. S. Dykeman, of West St. John, and Miss Stratton in Mill street. It is said that the report was made owing to complaints from citizens. It is said one read from a cup and the other had one. Dykeman was ill and was unable to be in court today, but the case against the other woman was being taken up at time of going to press.

NEW PROGRAMME AT OPERA HOUSE PLEASES GREATLY

Despite the inclement weather crowds turned out last evening to witness the entertainment in the Opera House, and judging from the hearty laughter and prolonged applause, they did not regret having done so. The programme this week is one of the most diversified, yet highly entertaining, that has been seen since the introduction of the new policy. The acts are entirely new and the performers are of a high class. The programme includes good singing, a short dramatic sketch, a character comedy and two of the best acrobats ever seen on a local stage, in addition to the second episode of the new serial 'Gloria's Romance' which will be continued this evening.

The first on the programme after the motion picture is Mable Parsons, a comedienne who made quite a hit with comic songs and jokes. Sylvia Scott and Company followed and their dramatic sketch demonstrating the evils of liquor was interesting and called forth well merited applause.

The clever Leo Trio were good. They are good singers and comedians and their act was greatly enjoyed. Their demonstration of a village band evoked hearty laughter and they were forced to respond to several encores.

George Hall brought down the house as he stepped on the stage. With some he was an old favorite, while with others his reputation was sufficient to warrant him an ovation. That he deserved this reception was soon evident, for soon the house resounded with merriment. His recitation of one of Robert Service's pieces was a treat and was greatly enjoyed.

Harry Laval and sister gave one of the best demonstrations of acrobatic work ever seen on a local stage. Their feats were thrilling and entirely new and did not take long to realize. It was not that they were seeing something out of the ordinary. As a result they were generous with their applause. On the whole the programme was most entertaining and as the large audience witnessed its way from the theatre the comments were deeply appreciated.

Western Thoughts on the War and the Outlook for Allies

(Manitoba Free Press) After three years of war, with its vicissitudes, its rising hopes and its bitter disillusionments, our attitude has changed. The Marathon runner, it is said, may never test his powers over the full course, because so heart-breaking is that effort that he cannot face it again. The first ten miles he runs light-footed and bright-eyed; after that, perhaps, the business becomes more automatic and through; but the last few miles are so negotiated on nerve alone—so far as he can think at all, he is desperately afraid that he cannot face it again. to programme. The failure of Russia and the relative success of the submarine campaign has made this a year not of victory but of disappointment. We put to the proof, indeed, our armies on the west front, proved their perfect temper and satisfied ourselves that the wonderful weapon we had forged was not to be denied. If the war could be won on the west front alone, it were won already. But the defection or the impotence of Russia imposed on us the task on the narrow west front of beating the massed strength of the enemy. That may be done by measured strokes, but the idea of rushing him there while he is so engaged on the east front as to be unable to throw in reinforcements came to nothing on the day that the Russian army lost cohesion for offense. Russia may come again; it would be miraculous, but these things have happened. Nevertheless it is a contingency on which our commanders dare not rely. with the ship. We nail to the mast our uncompromising flag of no peace without victory, and we send forth our sons to uphold it. We pledge their lives to our flag. If it was, then, a simple question of war or peace, few of us there are but would vote for peace and for the freedom of our youth. But it is not so simple. We are persuaded of our righteous cause, and the very course of the war has shown us again and again and again how dire is the evil arrayed against us. We fight, and our young men and boys fight, not alone for us or for themselves, but for generations unborn, for the freedom of the world as we know it. They fight also for all the great generations that have passed; their courage is as firm and uncompromising as that of the Roundheads, the Switzers on their Alpine peaks, or the Hollanders amid their dykes, the stout New England settlers, the free born men of every age and every clime who have put the cause of freedom before their lives, who have fought against great odds and won great victories sustained by the faith that was in them.

A HALF MEASURE.

The terms of the conscription bill are now before the people of Canada. It was so unsatisfactory to one Conservative member of parliament, Capt. J. H. Burnham, who has seen service at the front that after hearing Sir Robert Borden's speech he wrote out his resignation as Conservative candidate in his constituency at the next elections.

Not only does the bill fail to provide for more than conscription of men, but it is only to be put in force at the will and pleasure of the government. Sir Sam Hughes says he fears the bill is too cumbersome and will not provide quick action.

1.—The bill is not to come into force when passed but only after proclamation by governor-in-council.

2.—Three pages of the bill are taken up with creating legal tribunals to enable a man with money enough to escape being enlisted.

3.—Anyone who can show to any one of these tribunals if he has the money for appealing that it is "in the national interest" he should be exempted, can get off.

4.—Under the legal machinery provided, the county court judge will be kept doing nothing else for over a year but hearing exemption cases.

5.—A man who does not want to go to the front can fight in the courts for a year and a half before he can be taken.

6.—No definition is given as to what "expedient in the national interest" means; any local board can give whatever meaning it pleases.

7.—There is no provision of any kind for registration of available men, and it is an unworkable measure in this respect.

8.—It would take over 70,000 under the bill. The whole measure is bristling with defects and bears the evidence of its insincerity and lack of good faith on its face.

The noisy demonstration of a section of the Conservative party during Sir Robert's speech gives color to the belief that those members at least were thinking more about a political campaign than about mobilizing an united Canada for war purposes.

All that Sir Robert said about the need of sending more men to the front is granted. All that he says or could say in honor of the men who have gone to the front falls far short of what is in the minds of the people. But has he provided the best solution of the problem?

Is this that he has proposed an adequate response to the cry from the trenches? Or is it a half-measure, designed as much for political purposes as for the purpose of throwing Canada's weight more fully into the war? Is it simple, comprehensive and workable? When is it to be put in force?

It is the plain duty of parliament to get the answers to these questions, and to forget partisanship for the time in a great effort to secure not merely conscription of men but equality of service.

Canada cannot throw herself unconditionally and wholeheartedly into the mighty struggle. What the country would like to see, at least the major portion of it, would be such a measure of conscription, wisely introduced and enforced, as would marshal all Canada to service in the name of democracy, in utter disregard of party lines or partisan appeals.

have heard of horrible treatment given British prisoners, and of the brutal savagery with which the French girls of Noyon were outraged by German soldiers. All Germany willed this war—and not the Kaiser alone. The punishment must fit the crime. We do not parley with the tiger, and this human race of tigers must be rendered incapable of further menace to humanity at large.

Attorney-General Byrne yesterday replied with force to his predecessor's criticism of the budget speech. He was quite right in saying that both Liberals and Conservatives were shocked when they learned how great was the provincial debt and in how had a state were the finances of the province. He did well to remind the province that the gentlemen who are now applauding and attempting to glorify the late government were the same who whitewashed Fleming, and the value of their expressed judgment may fairly be gauged by that act. It was also worth while for the attorney-general to recall the history of the Southampton Railway as but one illustration of the wisdom and good faith of the old government; and to recall the pledges made in 1908 and since, which were continually and in the most brazen manner violated from year to year. Neither the debt nor the interest charge can be talked out of existence.

Let us not burn next winter's coal before the frost comes. A citizen called up the Times this morning to say that he could get a carload of coal delivered here from Montreal at $10.90 per ton, and he therefore does not propose to pay $14.75. Whether he is right or whether he is wrong, there should be enough coal to go around, without paying the fabulous prices some alarmists predict. Price boosting is too often the result of the mental state of the consumers rather than of market conditions. Moreover, we are to have a fuel controller in Canada. May he have a burning zeal to keep prices within bounds.

If one trustee officer cannot do the work in St. John, let us have two. The agent of the Children's Aid found last week a girl of ten who had never been in school. She had lived in St. John ever since she was of school age. This is not an isolated instance. However high the percentage of attendance may be of those registered there are far too many who are not registered at all. There is the root of the trouble.

Frederick Mall: The New York Evening Post says that "in 1911 Borden used Quebec Nationalism, which distorted Laurier's Imperialistic naval policy, to drive Sir Wilfrid from office." This, as the Toronto Globe remarks, is an accurate diagnosis. Bourassa succeeded in his two aims. He defeated Laurier and he shelved the only plan which would have given effective Canadian naval aid in the present war.

Bangor Commercial:—That the hopelessness of the German cause is becoming well understood by the German soldiers is demonstrated by the remarks of some of the officers who were captured last week in the British offensive. The prisoners knew that they were all hope of victory for the Central Empires has departed and that the sooner it is all over the better. Incidentally the Germans were very glad to be taken prisoners, ending their participation in the war.

Dr. Campbell, M.P.P., wants women to remain in "the splendid sphere in which God placed them." Does he mean the sweet shops of the cities? Was it God or man who thrust woman into the torment and danger of the industrial world without the weapon of the ballot with which to defend herself? Let our friend Dr. Campbell think it over.

President Wilson's communication to Russia is another of the notable state documents of the war. He stands with Britain and France for such an outcome of the war "as will tend to secure the future peace of the world and the future welfare and happiness of its people."

The British note to Russia again with that of President Wilson. If the new European republic is to stand for the principles of democracy it cannot ignore the representations of Britain, France and the United States.

"It is easy to sow the wind of clamor," says Sir Robert Borden. Was he thinking of his friends Bourassa and Lavergne—or the St. John Standard and Halifax Herald?

There is no doubt about where Toronto stands in regard to conscription. It wants much more than conscription of men.

With what horror the New Brunswick Tories must read of the suggestion that Mr. F. B. Carvell might be asked to enter the Borden cabinet.

The war is costing the British government $40,000,000 per day, or nearly twice as much as a year ago. How long must this enormous burden be borne?

DRAMATIC MEETINGS IN THE WAR

Soldier Brothers, Fathers and Sons, Even Husbands And Wives

World Conflict Has Brought Many Gripping Reunions Which Outdo the Works of Fiction Writers — A Recital of Some Interesting Incidents

That "truth is stranger than fiction" has been illustrated in countless forms since the outbreak of war, but it is very questionable if it has been exemplified in stranger fashion than by the dramatic meetings and remarkable re-unions of relatives and friends, sometimes amid the inferno of battle, or it may be in the quietude of the hospital ward. Truly the war has been responsible for many extraordinary happenings!

The story of how Driver William McKenna, of the R. F. A., met the son whom he hadn't seen for years is one of the most dramatic of these. For a number of years young McKenna—a ganner in the artillery—had been in South Africa with his regiment, and was sent to France shortly after the beginning of hostilities. Unknown to him his father—an old soldier—had at the first smell of powder re-enlisted, and was also sent to the front. One day Driver McKenna was driving his gun-team over the rough ground, when suddenly a sturdy young Tommy took a flying leap and landed beside him on the gun carriage. "How are you getting on?" shouted the newcomer, with difficulty making his voice heard above the rattle of wheels and the thud of hoofs. Driver McKenna looked at the man, and when the team reached smooth ground asked "Do you know me?" "I should think just do," was the answer. "I come from Jarrow," said young McKenna. "Do you come from there?" "I do." "Well, I'm afraid you still have the letter of me," quoth the veteran. "I don't know you." "What!" said the other, "you don't know your own son?" "I nearly collapsed with surprise," said Driver McKenna, in writing of the matter to his wife. "But directly he took off his cap I knew him."

"My Father, Too!" The second battle of Ypres was the scene of a meeting scarcely less remarkable. A platoon of Canadians was on its way to the trenches when it came across a wounded colonel lying on the ground unable to move, and two of the men were detached to carry the officer back to the field hospital. The colonel, recognizing someone familiar in one of the bearers, asked him his name. A more eager question followed; and the truth flashed simultaneously on both. The father had at last met on the battlefield the son who had been missing years before to Canada, and of whom he had lost all trace.

Probably stranger still is the story told of a youthful private of his previous life. A platoon of Canadians was on its way to the trenches, when it came across a Canadian sergeant some twenty years his senior. During conversation one day he discovered that his new friend was a Yorkshireman. "So am I," he said. "Where do you come from?" "From Bradford," "That's odd, I come from Bradford, too. Do you happen to know John B.?" "Of Manningham, he's my friend," "I know him," I should think," was the startling answer, "he's my father, too!"

Thus by the whirling of war two brothers who had never before set eyes on each other, were brought together; for the Canadian had left his Yorkshire home just before the birth of his protuberant, whom, until that day, he had never even seen! Imagination can scarcely conceive the unbounded amazement and absolute joy of some of these totally unexpected meetings. They occur, too, in such a casual, yet thrillingly dramatic fashion at times that it really seems a marvel at the strangeness of it all.

The First Man in the Trenches. Take that remarkable family re-union, for example, on the battlefield at Ypres, when Bandsman Ettridge, a Selby reservist, met his two brothers in the trenches. A few days after his arrival in France, Ettridge and his battalion were ordered up to the firing line. The first man he saw in the trenches was his brother Alfred, whom he had not even seen nor heard from for years. They were both overjoyed to the meeting; but to cap all a younger brother, who belongs to the Red Cross Corps, came on the scene, and the family re-union was complete.

Sometimes—like "ships that pass in the night, and speak each other in passing"—it is just a grip of the hand, a word or two, and off again. This, too, after maybe not having seen each other for years! An incident of this kind is related by a corporal in the R. F. A., when writing to his wife. He says:—Today we passed two batteries from India. They were spick and span, in grand condition, and their horses were a revelation. Each battery is accompanied by a number of natives, some driving and others acting as grooms and artificers. These wear their native costumes, which give a picturesque effect to these units. Many of our men recognized old chums with whom they had served in India. Years and years had passed since then; but a "Hallo Bandy!" or "Hooky" or "Jock" and a hurried shake of the hand, and we passed on. One case stuck in my mind. I had dismounted and walked to the head of our column, when a young fellow in the Indian battery asked me if we had a Bombardier— with us. I replied that we had a corporal of that name in the rear of the column. "I'm his brother," he said, "and we haven't met for five years." And they were both youngsters! I passed a word down the line, but the boy from India did not wait. He made a bee-line for the rear. I did not see the meeting, but it could not have lasted more than five minutes, and then they passed on. Such is the manner of soldiers—five years' separation, a shake of the hand, and off again.

correspondent on the Western Front. The owner of a fine side-car outfit enlisted, and in due course was sent to a training camp. Before leaving home he taught his wife to drive the outfit, and left her with strict injunctions: "Do not get the petrol burning till he came home, and have as good a time as possible. She complied, and being very keen on side-car riding, used the machine for some time. But dark days came. Her husband was sent to Flanders, and one dreary morning she received a letter telling her that he had died on the field of honor. Irritation, headache, sleeplessness, nervous dyspepsia, all these discomforts make life miserable, and are endured rather than run a doctor's bill without definite hope of an improved condition. Every sufferer should know the danger of such a condition to the nervous system. Nervous debility and even paralysis may result if the tone of the nerves is not restored.

The one big fact that brings hope and relief is that the nerves can be restored by building up the blood. It cannot be too often repeated that only through the blood can nourishment or medicine reach the nerves. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make the blood rich and red and quickly restore vitality and energy to a weak, nervous system. A nervous person who gives these pills a trial is almost certain to see good results, and what is more, the benefit will be lasting because the trouble is attacked at its root. This blood makes weak nerves; building up the blood restores the nerve force. That is why people who occasionally take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills always feel bright, active and strong.

If you are weak, nervous, or feeling "out of sorts," give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial, and you will be surprised to see how quickly the nervousness will pass away and your former energy return. You can get these pills through your medicine dealer; or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

WOOL GRADING DONE AT SUSSEX

Dominion Official There - Co-operative Wool Marketing in Manitoba (Fredericton, Man.)

Wool collection and grading was carried on the week at Sussex. Mr. A. McLeod, of the provincial agricultural societies, superintended the collection, wool from Kings and Westmorland counties being secured in considerable quantities and also from other sections of the province. The grading was done by Mr. Jennings of the live stock branch of the Dominion Agriculture Department. The wool collected is to be sold co-operatively according to grade.

Up to date there has not been the amount of wool collected for grading and marketing which would be expected from a province the size of New Brunswick. However, next spring a regular campaign for the co-operative marketing of graded wool will be inaugurated by the provincial department of agriculture.

Grading and marketing of wool on the basis named always has acted as a great stimulus to the industry of sheep raising and it is expected that it will prove no exception in New Brunswick.

In 1915 over 69,000 pounds of wool were disposed of in this way; whereas in 1916 over 100,000 pounds reached the department, selling at an average price of 32.25 cents per lb., according to the estimates of the live stock branch of the Dominion department of agriculture, whose expert graded all the wool handled through the department.

While it is difficult to accurately estimate at the time of writing the quantity that will reach the warehouse, it is anticipated that fully 200,000 pounds will be marketed this season in this way.

Manitoba has over one thousand flocks of sheep in the province, aggregating nearly 100,000 head, with an average weight of seven pounds per fleece. This should produce 700,000 pounds of wool.

Already a few shipments have reached the warehouse and an advance payment with authority to control distribution and price throughout Canada. The wool situation and the outlook for next winter is so critical that the government has decided to take immediate action in the matter of wool.

Mr. Magrath will enter upon his duties immediately and will work in conjunction with the railway commission in equalizing distribution.

To Take Charge of Fuel Supply

Ottawa, June 11-The government has appointed C. A. Magrath, chairman of the Canadian section of the international joint commissions, to take charge of the fuel supplies of the dominion. Mr. Magrath is clothed by order-in-council with authority to control coal distribution and price throughout Canada.

Mr. Magrath will enter upon his duties immediately and will work in conjunction with the railway commission in equalizing distribution.

LITERACY TEST REMOVED FROM FARM LABORERS

Maine's Governor Wires From Washington That Department of Labor Will Wave Examination Under New Immigration Law

Augusta, Me., June 12-Maine farmers will be allowed all the help from Canada that they can secure, despite the literacy test for immigrants in the immigration law passed by Congress last winter. Further than that, it is certain that enough Canadian workmen may come into the country to aid in cutting the quantity of timber that will be necessary for the mammoth ship-building programme.

Official assurance of these facts was given in a telegram sent by Governor Carl E. Milliken to Private Secretary Hart, Governor Milliken was summoned to Washington for a conference with Secretary of Labor Wilson.

The telegram Governor Milliken announces that the department of labor has made the ruling in which complete exemption from the literacy test is given in the case of farm laborers.

It has been impossible to secure complete exemption of Canadian workmen; on the other hand a careful examination of the law shows that Canadians who have worked in Maine and who may return after an absence of not more than six months will not be required to take the literacy test nor pay the "head tax".

The department of labor is confident that this will meet the needs of the situation and that sufficient labor will be secured for both timber and agricultural operators.

Maine timber operators and the big farmers feared that if the literacy test were applied this year when labor in these two industries is needed so greatly by Canadian help would be shut out and Maine would suffer. It now seems as if all difficulties have been ironed out and that all arrangements for shipping and farming will be carried through.

THE NURSES IN THE WAR.

(London Daily Telegraph.) The story of the nurses' part in the war constitutes a fresh page in the annals of a race which is not without its glorious memories. It was once declared that "Woman is like a reed, which bends to every breeze, but breaks not in the tempest." This war has submitted British womanhood to the test of a storm of fury unparalleled in the history of the world.

How magnificently the nurses have stood up against this blizzard of hatred, the fruit of increasing despair, the official records of the matron-in-chief of Queen Alexandra's Imperial Military Service could reveal. But the organization maintains a silence comparable with that which the navy has recently imposed upon itself. Only very occasionally, and partially, is the veil lifted to reveal a little group of nameless heroines, patient yet majestic figures, confronting, unmoved by personal fears, horrors calculated to make strong men blush.

Plan Good Time For Y.M.C.A. Boys

The entire energies of the Y. M. C. A. staff are at present being devoted to making the regular summer camp for the boys as complete a success as it has been in other years. The spot chosen is about four miles below Chipman and the boys will go into camp on June 30. H. O. Bonk and A. M. Gregg are in charge of the preparations and, it is expected, that from thirty-five to forty boys will go, as there have been very many applications already. The programme has been definitely mapped out for each of the boys and it will meet the entire approval of the boys. It consists of drill and a swim before breakfast; Bible study, talk on camp subjects, athletics, first aid and life-saving classes and an other swim every morning and tent inspection immediately after dinner. The afternoon, up to 4 o'clock, will be devoted to the day's special activity such as a hike or athletic meet and at 4 the best of the day's baseball games will be played; there will be another one after supper. The camp is divided into four teams and each team will play one game a day. Immediately before supper there will be the final swim and every night there will be a camp-fire, at which the usual campfire or story-telling fun will take place. To close the day, vesper service will be held every night, after which the boys will turn in.

This schedule is for the junior class, consisting of boys up to fourteen years of age, and takes place from June 30 to July 12; the senior camp, for boys fifteen and over, commences on July 12 and continues till July 28. It is under the auspices of the New Brunswick advisory committee, which includes, besides the Y. M. C. A., the four Protestant churches, Methodist, Baptist, Presbyterian and Church of England. This camp is of the nature of a training camp for the older boys and boy leaders and the programme is much more extensive than the junior camp. The mornings are given over entirely to the various lectures and the afternoons and evenings to recreation. Various phases of the Canadian standard efficiency test will be taken up. The big chief is Taylor Statten, of Toronto, the national secretary of the Y. M. C. A. in Canada. Others in charge

Coal Shortage Affects Schools

Suggestion That Some Buildings Might be Closed and Double Classes Held in Others—To Discuss Salary Increases

The possibility that it may be necessary to close some of the schools next winter and accommodate the pupils by separate morning and afternoon classes in the other schools was suggested at the regular meeting of the board of school trustees which was held last evening. This suggestion was made as the result of the report of the buildings committee on the difficulty experienced in securing contracts for adequate coal supplies. It was reported that the bill for increased assessment for school purposes had passed the house and arrangements were made for a special meeting of the board to be held so soon as official notice is received. The main purpose of the meeting is the consideration of increased salaries for the teachers. The male teachers of the city asked for an increase of twenty-five per cent. on account of the increased cost of living.

When the matter of truancy in the city was under discussion the statement was made that the percentage of attendance is higher in St. John than in any other city in Canada.

Arrangements were made for the use of the household science building during August for classes of girls who will be given the opportunity to can fruit, etc., under expert supervision.

The architect, F. N. Brodie, announced that the new King George school will be ready for occupancy by September 1. Orders were given for an improved type of chair for the assembly room of this building.

Applications were given for the purchase of a lot of land in Millidgeville, extending from the road to the shore, as the site for a new school when needed.

Elizabeth Snyder, Jean Kennedy, Mary J. Steves, Jessie Jamieson, E. Georgiana Seeds, Ada N. Williams, Esther J. Wellsford, Alma E. Sheldon, Gladys Martin and Messrs. J. Wilfred Tait, Percy A. Allan, Fred M. Wier and Rae A. Kilpatrick were nominated and referred to the teachers' committee.

Tenders for soft coal at $9 and $9.50 for the West Side schools from the Colwell Fuel Co. were accepted and for a small quantity of hard coal at market prices from R. P. & W. F. Starr, Ltd. No action was taken with regard to coal for the East Side schools as the only tender for soft coal was for delivery in July and August, and no delivery of hard coal could be assured.

Dr. Bridges reported that the schools would close this year on Friday, June 29. The co-operation of the police was urged in rounding up tramps and a sub-committee, consisting of the chairman and superintendent, was appointed to wait on the commissioner of public safety and ask his assistance in the matter.

Mr. Russell also promised that a census of the children of school age would be taken by the revisors in December. The secretary reported for the month of May, as follows: Teaching days, 21; pupils enrolled, 7,964; pupils belonging, 7,239; boys, 3,565; girls, 3,674; daily average attendance, 5,602; per cent. of enrollment, 82.1; per cent. of number belonging, 89.7; number of teachers' visits, 164.

A meeting of the hospital committee from the municipal committee was held yesterday at the General Public Hospital. Dr. Thomas Walker presiding, to open tenders for the work of installing boilers and other equipment in the new power house. Considerable attention was given the matter but no decision was reached. The meeting then adjourned until Wednesday afternoon.

V. A. D's FOR OVERSEAS

An interesting meeting of the V. A. D. was held at St. John's (Stone) church last evening, the commanding, Mrs. G. A. Kurling, in the chair. The minutes were first read by the secretary, Miss Kathleen Sturdes, and an account was rendered of the expenditures and receipts since the last meeting. The following were elected members: Miss D. Hunton, Miss Gilchrist and Miss Elsie Hallamore, and the following names submitted for membership: Misses Edith Hunton and Marie DesBarres, of Sackville; Miss O'Leary, of Richibucto; Miss Bessie Fraser, of Grand Falls, and the Misses Dorothy Byard, Olivia Maxwell, G. Smith and Miss Holder, all of this city.

There then followed a discussion on the arrangements which would be made for the summer, while Miss Payson, the assistant commanding, and the nursing officer for the military hospital, is away. Two ladies, Misses Cummings and Alice Morgan, were chosen to take her place. Mrs. J. Lee Day, the nursing officer for the Park's Convalescent Home, will also be away and her place will be taken by Miss Mary McLean, who will arrange the schedule for the summer months. She reported that there were four helpers per day going out to the home.

The commanding reported that ten members of the local detachment had volunteered to go overseas to work in English military and naval hospitals in response to a call which came to her from the headquarters of the society in Toronto, where the request had been made from England by the Duchess of Devonshire. There are 110 helpers asked for from Canada and these will be selected from the different detachments. The Ontario detachment will sail in June and all cast of Toronto are to make a second party and sail in July, while west of Toronto detachments will sail in August.

The selection from the St. John volunteers has not yet been made. Dr. C. J. Cott, who is the deputy commissioner for Canada of the St. John Ambulance Brigade, expects to be in St. John some time this month. It was decided to ask him to address a public meeting while he is here on the work of the order at home and overseas. The material was given out for the new uniform of grey, which will be worn by the order from now on.

RESIGNS RATHER THAN SUPPORT HALF-WAY MEASURE OF PREMIER

Ottawa, June 11.—After hearing the provisions of the bill in the commons this afternoon, Captain J. H. Burnham, Conservative member for West Peterboro, who recently returned from active service overseas, wrote out his resignation as Conservative candidate for his riding at the next election. Captain Burnham declares that he cannot support a government or a bill that merely seeks to levy on the man-power of the dominion for military service, while wealth escapes. He says he endorses the resolution passed by the Canadian Presbyterian General Assembly at Montreal on Saturday last advocating conscription of talent, wealth and energy of the Canadian people, as well as the enrollment of men for military service.

A committee has been appointed to gather all the information necessary for the establishment of a co-operative store. Local 46 of Toronto forwarded $100 towards the strike fund and promised further support if necessary. General Organizer Bruce gave a review of the work of the labor conference at Ottawa last week, at which it was decided to oppose conscription and also demand a re-organization of the imperial munition board. The local also decided to give all the support possible to the barbers in securing better conditions.

Prohibition Pays!

The Story of the Two Dakotas

BEWARE of the empty claim that Prohibition is just a "war baby," which can be effective only for "duration of the war." Now, twenty years is plenty of time for a thorough-going try-out of any law. Let us see how North Dakota has prospered under Prohibition during that long test. During the same period South Dakota under license provides an eloquent comparison—a striking example of the failure of license. Here are the facts:

Both states adopted Prohibition in 1890. After six years South Dakota returned to license. North Dakota has continued under Prohibition to this day. The area of the two states is about alike. South Dakota began the period with a population just about the same as New Brunswick has at present, North Dakota with about half as much. In twenty years (1890 to 1910) South Dakota's population increased 67 per cent., while North Dakota under Prohibition increased 202 per cent.

Between 1910 and 1915 South Dakota lost 4,350 people, while North Dakota gained 51,000! The increase of town and city population in South Dakota in twenty years was 168 per cent., while that of its "dry" neighbor jumped 494 per cent.

The increase of wealth in the Prohibition state, between 1890 and 1912, was a trifle less than double that of her rival. Values of the northern state's farm products were greater in proportion than those of any other state in the whole union. From 1898 to 1913 her bank deposits increased by more than 1,000 per cent. Prohibition pays!

How do the rivals compare in regard to employment and production: South Dakota, increase in ten years 87.5 per cent.; the Prohibition state, 205.7 per cent.!

In dry North Dakota, for the year 1909, 2,789 men produced $19,137,000 worth of manufactured goods. In the licensed state it required 3,602—811 more men—to produce only $17,870,000 worth of manufactured goods, $1,267,000 less! That is worth reading again.

In 1890 commitments to insane asylums in South Dakota were forty persons per 100,000 less than North Dakota. After twenty years of license they were forty more!

South Dakota has since joined the "dry" column. Twenty-five states now enjoy Prohibition, and nine others are preparing to vote.

Help to Enforce Prohibition

No law is automatic. New Brunswick's province-wide Prohibition has not twenty years to prove itself. Its determined enemy hopes to throttle it, perhaps within as many months from now. The law must be enforced! The whole burden of enforcement must not be left to zealous officers alone. All must help. Eternal vigilance is the watchword!

CONSCRIPTION BILL BEFORE THE HOUSE

Premier Asks For A New Army Of 100,000 Men

To Take Effect Only After Passage of Order-in-council — Liberal Leader Promises Sincere Treatment of Bill — Serious Criticisms of Cumbersome Machinery and Lack of Registration Provision

Ottawa, June 11.—Sir Robert Borden, the prime minister, today placed the conscription bill before Canada's parliament. He spoke in explanation and support of the measure for nearly two hours, carefully reading his pronouncement from type-written manuscript. The measure is not to come into effect except upon proclamation by the government. The premier asked its serious and thoughtful consideration by all members and promised that all reasonable suggestions would receive earnest attention.

On the Liberal side, the attitude was one of keen and critical attention, carefully weighing each of the prime minister's arguments. Tomorrow the Liberals will meet in caucus to discuss the bill in detail. Indications tonight are that a policy will be agreed upon with Sir Wilfrid Laurier upon which Liberalism will take a united stand.

Sir Robert Borden devoted half an hour of his speech endeavoring to demonstrate the need for the immediate adoption of conscription. He said a pledge had been given to send half a million men the need of reinforcements was increasing, while recruiting was growing less; enlistments in April and May had been 11,790 and casualties 17,000 during the next seven months 70,000 men would be needed to fill gaps in the four divisions at the front.

He reached the conclusion that conscription must be invoked to obtain these reinforcements, or else the divisions must dwindle. Sir Robert did not make it clear that these 70,000 men must be in addition to the reserves now in Canada or in England. The total number of these latter he declined to specify for military reasons, but said they would only last a few months.

What the opposition want to know is what is the actual requirement for reinforcements from now until the end of the year, as on this depends the urgency for immediate conscription and a departure from the voluntary system without a manifesto from the people, or before adequate action has been taken to ascertain, in proper perspective, all the needs of the situation and all the available resources.

Liberals Want Scope Broad. Liberals believe conscription must come, but they want to be sure that its scope is broad enough, its operation feasible, and its time opportune.

On the question of mandate, Sir Robert based his argument on the ground that the bill, in principle, was merely invoking the provisions of the militia act which had been on the statute books since Confederation. Under that act all men of military age could be called to the colors and in an emergency sent outside Canada to defend their country.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier was warmly cheered when he rose and again when he resumed his seat. The premier was accorded a salvo of shouting from certain of his supporters when he concluded his peroration. But generally there was an absence of the wild and unrestrained party demonstrations which usually characterize momentous occasions in the house of commons.

Four features of the bill previously bandied out by the government were announced by the premier. He declared that the bill would not take effect except under order-in-council and proclamation by the government. He announced that any young man married after today would be deemed to be unmarried for the purposes of the bill.

He stated that any man failing to respond to the call for his class would be deemed guilty of desertion and liable to imprisonment for three years. He emphasized that it would be deemed to be a punishable offence to make a false statement or alter an exemption certificate, and added that any judge or reasonable person who, without any local board of selection, would be subject to a $500 fine.

Sir Sam Silent in House. Tonight opinion among the members of parliament as to the reasons given by Sir Robert Borden for the immediate adoption of conscription is crystalline.

HERE ARE THE CLASSES

Three Classes of Single Men, From 20 to 34 Years of Age, Then Married Men in Turn With No Distinction as to Children — Widowers Classed According to Dependents—45 the Limit.

- (Canadian Press.) Ottawa, June 11.—In the commons this afternoon Sir Robert Borden introduced and explained the military bill. There are to be ten classes, as follows: 1—Those who have attained the age of 20, and were born not earlier than 1894, are unmarried or widowers without children. 2—Those born 1889 to 1893, inclusive, unmarried or widowers without children. 3—Those born in 1883 to 1888, unmarried or widowers without children. 4—Those of 20 years, born not earlier than 1894, are married, or widowers with a child or children. 5—Those born in years 1889 to 1893, married, or widowers with a child or children. 6—Those born in 1883 to 1888, married, or widowers who have no children. 7—Those born in 1876 to 1882, unmarried, or widowers without children. 8—Those born 1876 to 1882, married, or widowers with children. 9—Those born in 1872 to 1875, unmarried, or widowers without children. 10—Those born in 1872 to 1875, married, or widowers with children.

The number to be secured is 100,000. The bill provides for local exemption boards, to whom application is to be made by those claiming exemption. One member of the board is to be chosen by the county judge the other by the minister of justice. Then there will be an appeal tribunal composed of a judge appointed by the provincial chief justice, and finally a central appeal judge to be chosen from the supreme court.

STRICKEN IN THE STREET

Completely Restored to Health By "Fruit-a-lives"

389 St. Valer St., Montreal. "In 1912, I was taken suddenly ill with Acute Stomach Trouble and dropped in the street. I was treated by several physicians for nearly two years, and my weight dropped from 226 pounds to 160 pounds. Then several of my friends advised me to try "Fruit-a-lives." I began to improve almost with the first dose, and by using them, I recovered from the distressing Stomach Trouble—and all pain and Constipation were cured. Now I weigh 208 pounds. I cannot praise "Fruit-a-lives" enough." H. WHITMAN.

Conroy was notified that he had been wounded some time ago, but did not receive the word that amputation had been necessary until yesterday.

Not Missing, But Wounded. Lieutenant Harold O. Evans, elsewhere reported missing, was on June 6, admitted to the General Hospital, St. Omer, France, with severe gunshot wounds, face and right buttock.

Colonel Ford Dangerously Wounded. Wolfville, June 10.—News has been received here that Colonel F. S. L. Ford, M.D., C.M.G., A.D.M.S., was dangerously wounded on June 4. The dispatch stated that he was at No. 6 casualty clearing station and that further particulars would be forwarded as soon as received.

Official List. Ottawa, June 11.—A list of forty-four casualties issued at noon, contains ten killed, six prisoners of war, two died of wounds and two presumed dead. The list follows: INFANTRY. Presumed Dead. R. J. Steves, Campbellton (N. B.). Prisoner of War. F. Grant, Elm Tree (N. B.). MOUNTED RIFLES. Wounded. P. H. McIlwraith, Campbellton (N. B.). Going Soon.

That the Forestry company, under the command of Major C. L. Hanington is to proceed to England soon, is the belief of the members of this unit, since they have been warned for overseas duty recently. The Forestry company has been recruiting in New Brunswick for some months and no other unit has ever had such a warm reception from the northern and middle provinces as it has received. The men have volunteered in great numbers, and when the company goes, there will be many sore hearts in the province.

Budget Debate in Legislature

Fredericton, June 11.—The budget debate was resumed tonight by Attorney-General Byrne. There were a number of members absent, including the leader of the opposition and Mr. Baxter.

Hon. Mr. Byrne spoke fluently and forcibly, and readily punctured the arguments of the ex-attorney-general with respect to honest surpluses. He had the facts and used them skillfully.

Many of the opposition members are taking a keen interest in the situation at Ottawa. They want action with respect to the appointment of the new governor, the vacant senatorship, to say nothing of the vacancy to be created by the retirement of the chief justice. A coalition government, and the rumor that Carvell might possibly be taken in by Sir Robert Borden, is most disquieting to many of them who do not see the risks plunging into Tory months under these circumstances. They cannot spell patriotism with a capital P. The wires have been kept hot protesting that Carvell can't be in a coalition government at Ottawa and at the same time keep prominent Tories toasting on the investigation gridiron in New Brunswick. The engine spirit and win-the-war movement will take no account of such protests, for very soon bootlers and slackers will be in the race for the contempt of all patriotic and honest men.

(Official Report.) Fredericton, June 11.—The house met at 8:45 o'clock. Hon. Mr. Veniot introduced a bill to amend the motor vehicle law.

Hon. Mr. Tuckwell laid upon the table of the house the annual report of the director of elementary agriculture education for 1916. After an illuminating statement of the provincial finances, Hon. Mr. Byrne was followed by Mr. Campbell and Mr. LeBlanc. In the course of his address, Mr. Campbell made passing reference to woman suffrage and said that he hoped that the women would remain in the sphere in which God had placed them and not become entangled in politics.

Discussing central railway report, Mr. LeBlanc said that he had been assured

GIBRALTAR SHOT AT U-BOAT Madrid, June 12.—Investigation of the supposedly accidental firing of shells into Algeciras from Gibraltar on last Saturday shows that it was not due to a mistake in target practice, as was reported at the time, but that the shots were fired at a submarine which fled into the Straits, pursued by three cruisers.

The submarine attempted to escape in the darkness by running close to the shore. Gibraltar was notified of the approximate position of the submarine and in attempting to reach it, it was bombed at 12:15 o'clock.

A LONG WAR

Lord Northcliffe, Famous Journalist Tells American People the Road to Victory is Long and Full of Surprises

(By Lord Northcliffe in the New York Tribune.)

This war is not one war, but a series of wars. Already it has produced a revolution in Russia which makes that of 1793 in France look very small. It may produce revolutions in two neutral countries, and it is completely altering the relations of capital and labor wherever it touches. The world revolt against Prussianism will, in my judgment, be long and full of surprises.

Since the defeat of her plans to capture Paris in six weeks and dictate terms from there, Prussia has been resorting to a long series of makeshifts, including the attempt to capture Calais and dominate England and the second attempt to get to Paris by way of Verdun. Both were foolish and ghastly. Prussianism Now Desperate.

"My brother William," said the Queen of Greece, the other day, referring to the Kaiser, "is fighting for his dynasty." He has the full backing of all the powerful land owners. He has the somewhat shattered backing of the army and navy. He has complete control of the newspapers, which every day tell their docile readers that if they only hold on a few months longer the war will end by the capture of Calais, the opening of the road to Paris through Verdun, or the starvation of England and France by the submarine.

People, in my opinion, dwell too much upon things which, after all, are only the passing events of the war. At the present time many people in the United States are dwelling upon the inertia of the Russian military forces—a serious factor, no doubt, but not an overwhelming one.

The Three Great Factors. The three greatest factors of the war were: First, the magnificent defence put up by the practically unprepared French republic.

Secondly, the entrance of the five British nations into the war on the side of England—Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, and the minor colonies and India, and, Thirdly, the slow arousing of the United States and their entrance into the war in defence of world liberty.

We allies are all agreed that the domination of the world by the Prussians, as Belgium was to be dominated, would make the world a place in which it would be wrong to create children. But Prussia knows how to have her hands in every nation's pockets, and she still has hopes to make some side-step ping peace which will enable her to prepare to start out again.

If you imagine that a nation which prepared for forty years with an all-dominant dynasty at its head is going to quit in less time than it took you to settle the Civil War it is, from my individual point of view, a little odd. That Germany was beaten the moment she turned her back on Paris in September, 1914, is agreed by most students of the war, but between a heating and a final decision in war there have been periods of fighting extending over years.

John Bull. With the single exception of food production during 1917 John Bull can look after himself. He has been financing most of his allies and now you have come to help him in this. In 1918 we shall have 4000,000 extra acres under wheat and potatoes, and should be self-supporting.

The help of all the allies should now be given to France. It is on her farms and in her cities and towns that the war is being fought. Her manhood has been drained to a degree not realized by the outside world. She needs help and we must give it generously and heartily.

Germany, by her enslavement of Belgians, French, Poles, and Serbs and her armies of Russian prisoners, is able to do much in munition work, trench digging and harvest gathering and leave her manhood free for fighting. She has to holl up her corpses to obtain fats to make glycerine for the manufacture of explosives. She needs oil of all kinds, but until the last twenty-five years she was unaccustomed to comfort on an American or English scale.

Give UP Luxuries. The very fact that our reserves are being so slowly exhausted by the German submarine blockade and the very fact that the United States are going into the war so slowly are indicative of what the final end will be—long distant though I believe it to be. In my opinion Britain ought to have its food rationed, just as France rationed her sugar. We ought to be reserving every kind of food now, if only as a factor for safety in the far future. The world's food supply is limited. The industrial population of the world will be affected by the food shortage and this will result in labor troubles, all making for a longer war.

A Long War. On the basis of my belief this strife will be drawn out to an extent not anticipated by many people. We are satisfied with the position of the allies, but wish we could do more for France in food, ships, coal and above all else, in men.

If Americans are infested by light-hearted optimism concerning the duration of the war they must not blame the censorship, which on this side of the water at the present moment is behaving, to the best of my belief, quite nicely, even if only temporarily.

THE BOY WHO HAS GONE AHEAD TO BLAZE TRAIL

(Winnipeg Free Press.) I have a word to say till every father in Canada that has had the honor to give his son as a payment on account up the Comin' Day.

Plinty is sed about Mother, an' she deserves iv'ry word uv it, an' more. Her heart is a holy place that I shant out-side uv, wid hard head, an' wid no word to say.

Some thinks that Father's heart is harder, an' that he bears the throuble aiser. Mebbe so. But there's many an' ould "Dad" in Canada that goes about wid his face set an' wudden, an' he'll talk wid suspicious readiness about iv'ry subject but wan; an' iv'ry mimmil he's thinkin' "My son Absalom, would God I had died for thee! Oh, Absalom, my son, my son!"

An' ye're wrong, friend Dad, ye're wrong. What's the bye gone ahead uv ye fur? To blaze the trail, uv course, what else? Ye wuzn't good enough fur that yerself, an' the Big Chief needs the best.

Who blazes the trail anyway? The young wans—an' the pick uv them? "Till the inds uv the airth they've gone, fur centuries back, the young, the strong, the clear-eyed, follin' the gleam, on till the Back uv Beyond, blazin' the trail. An' the crowds has follied.

That's what the bye ye loved—ye love—is doin' now. An' he's not far off ye, ayther, that's the quare bit uv it. Mebbe ye're walkin' home a' night, an' he walks wid ye, shtep fur shtep. Mebbe it wuz a Klitte regiment he was in, an' ye hear the shwish uv his kill-bit mid ye, the tarlan is dark, dark.

Mebbe ye're whistlin' till yerself, unbeknowast, "Lochaber No More," an' he lays his han' on yer arrum, so gintle, an' he sez, "Buck up, Dad, old man, buck up! I'm only a wee bit ahead uv ye, blazin' the trail. Ye'll move the ye, blazin' the trail."

WHEN YOU CAN'T SLEEP

YOU SHOULD USE MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

Sleeplessness is caused by the nervous system becoming deranged. Perhaps too much worry has gotten on your nerves, perhaps you have overworked yourself, or have been excessive in your use of tobacco, but whatever the cause, the nervous system must be built up again before restful sleep can be assured.

Those whose rest is broken into by frightful dreams, nightmares, sinking and smothering sensations, who wake up in the morning as tired as they went to bed can have their old, peaceful, undisturbed sleep back again by using Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

Mrs. John Sloan, Haley Station, Ont., writes: "Over a year ago I was very nervous. I could not sleep at night, and I would faint at the slightest fright. I tried several doctors, but they did me practically no good. I noticed your advertisement, and immediately tried Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and I am proud to say they cured me."

Every day brings letters in regard to Sergeant Rafferty's "The Boy Who Has Gone Ahead to Blaze the Trail"—letters expressing appreciation of that message of high courage from the sergeant whose son was killed in action on Vimy Ridge, after winning the Military Medal. Requests for the reprinting of that message have been coming in constantly. One of yesterday's letters was from a minister in a prairie town, who writes that at a memorial service in his church he had read "for ever" our boys who have gone ahead to blaze the trail," he closed the serm'n by reading that message of Rafferty's.

MR. BALFOUR (From the N. Y. Times.) Mr. Balfour has concluded his mission to this country. His farewell to the American people, delivered at the National Press Club, was worthy of that great audience and of its character. He spoke with the authority of a man who has seen the world, and with the feeling that fine thought charged with generous emotion, that clearness, grace, sobriety, and good taste are characteristic of him. He spoke with a noble sympathy and appreciation of the work done by the government, by the president, the American people, and the British people, and the war the world is fighting. He was just to the point, and he was just to the press. He described simply and powerfully the "impressions the most pleasurable, the most momentous" of his month among us.

The American impressions of him are the same. He was received with an enthusiasm that may have surprised him, a modest, shy man, unused to popular applause. In personal dignity, in urbanity, in the authority of a long, brilliant career, in his manly, thoughtful speech to the purpose and without glitter of rhetoric, by his evident response to the popular emotion, the feeling of this great democracy, in his demeanor and his work, he more than realized expectation. Here was a great British statesman, equal to his place and fame.

He will be long remembered in America. He has done a high service to Great Britain and all democracies.

NO OCCASION FOR OPTIMISM (From the N. Y. Tribune.) The present situation of the war does not warrant panic. But neither does it invite optimism. The hardest, bitterest, most dangerous portion of the struggle is yet to come, and unless the United States is prepared for sacrifices as great as the British and French people have already made, Germany may yet escape that defeat which is essential to the restoration of justice and democracy in the world and vindication of international law, now threatened with permanent repeal. And if Germany escapes today, the danger for us tomorrow will be beyond present estimation. We are in a war the issue of which is still doubtful, and the outcome of which will infallibly be defeat unless we are prepared to fight it as a war for our own existence, calling for our best effort and our ultimate strength.

HAMBURG HAS SUFFERED MOST AMONG GERMAN CITIES

Dependent Upon Shipping Trade for Its Prosperity, Its Losses Are Such They Cannot Be Restored

Although efforts are being made in every direction to show that Germany and Austria are fast better off in an economic sense than is generally believed abroad to be the case, yet convincing evidence of the true conditions which prevail there has just been furnished by the Hamburg national legislature, which is composed of the senate and the house of burgesses. For Hamburg, it must be remembered, is a sovereign state and figures as such in the confederation known as the German empire. In fact, Hamburg is a republic, and its president, who is elected each year from among the members of the senate, bears the title of Oberburgomaster, and is entitled to be addressed as "your Magnificence."

Now the president and both houses of the legislature held a meeting the other day in order to concert measures for the reconstruction of the trade, shipping and industry of Hamburg after the war. The proceedings, which have been published in a number of the leading German newspapers, including Prince Bismarck's old organ, the Hamburg Nachrichten, sheds an extraordinary light upon the complete decay of Hamburg through the war.

The president in opening the session declared that Hamburg had suffered more from the war than any other German state or city. He went on to say: "Even the hardy tried eastern provinces of Prussia are, as regards their losses, in an advantageous position as compared with Hamburg. Houses which have been destroyed or burned out can be rebuilt; losses of cattle can be made good and the fields can be sown again if the necessary money is there. But what has been destroyed in Hamburg cannot be restored with money. Hamburg's prosperity depends upon trade and shipping. Both have been completely destroyed. Restoration is impossible because the threads have been severed which united Hamburg with the whole world."

"The resumption of these communications will be infinitely difficult in view of the hostility of the whole union and in view of the pitiless competition of our enemies. In the future Germany will have to rely upon the inner European market. Hitherto Hamburg has had only a comparatively small share in this. The main feature of our new policy must be to restore Hamburg by making it an important industrial centre, so that it can make a living out of the home market, instead of out of the foreign market. For this we shall need new territory, above all new industrial territory, along the broad stream of our River Elbe. We shall need the surrender of certain Prussian territory, and also a number of concessions for railroads, for waterways and for other similar objects. How will the German empire and above all how will the kingdom of Prussia be disposed to ward our hopes, our aspirations and our demands?"

SAVING OF WASTE MATERIAL

Paper, Rags and Rubber Are Sources of Revenue When Saved by Householders

It is an old axiom that "some people grow rich on what others throw away." This is especially true in regard to waste paper, rags and old rubbers. In the last year much progress has been made in the saving of waste paper, but as yet a very small proportion of this material is available for reclamation.

Many reports of success in this work and of extensions of the waste paper collection movement have reached Congress, and no doubt it only requires initiative on the part of a few public-spirited citizens to promote a proper collecting scheme in many of our municipalities.

The old fashioned rag-bag is almost a thing of the past in Canada. True, the incentive to collecting rags, in the remuneration received for them, was not such as to induce activity in that direction, but under present conditions we find that a considerable economic loss has been sustained by its discontinuance. Rags, after thorough disinfection, are used for many purposes. The cotton rags are used mostly in the making of the better grades of paper; black stockings, after being macerated are used for coloring the grade of paper known as granite. Woolen rags are mainly used for the making of shoddy, a common ingredient in woolen goods. It is first disintegrated; the short fibre is then mixed with new wool of longer fibre and again spun into yarn. Much the greater portion of our woolen rags was imported prior to the war, but with the embargo on export the supply was cut off; prices of woolen goods have, therefore, greatly advanced. Another discarded is old rubber material. This is valuable, and, by means of collecting boxes, is easily saved. One institution recently placed at its door a box to receive old rubbers, and was surprised to find how soon it earned ten dollars by this means. If Canadians were more particular in saving the cents, and, by means of collecting boxes, is easily saved. Public Schools writers in 1914, has been wounded.

Philip J. Dwyer, one of the notable figures of the American turf, died at the Hotel Wolcott, New York, on last Saturday, just about the time that 20,000 persons were acclaiming the victory of Boots in the Suburban Handicap at Belmont Park. This was the only Suburban Handicap since the race was instituted in 1884. It was his devotion to the sport of kings that brought about the death of the faithful racing man. When the Belmont Park meeting opened on May 29, Mr. Dwyer braved the damp chilly weather in order to see the race for the Metropolitan Handicap. He caught cold on that day, and the cold developed into pneumonia. The end came when his nephew, Charles Dwyer, and his daughter, Mrs. Miriam Collins, were in attendance at his bedside. The news of the noted turfman's death was telephoned to the Belmont Park race track, casting a gloom over the latter.

The death of Philip J. Dwyer removes the last link of the Dwyer confederacy, composed of himself and his brother, Michael F. Dwyer, which was one of the most potent factors in racing half a century ago. It was through Michael's time that the best horse with the magnitude of his wagers in those days. Philip was content to race horses for the sport, and prospered so that he was able to purchase the best horse of the Queens County Jockey Club with large holdings in the Gravesend and Aqueduct race tracks. Philip J. Dwyer was in his seventy-third year, and during the greater part of his life had been an owner of race horses and a staunch supporter of the turf.
The greatest horse the Dwyer brothers ever owned was Hindoo, the mighty son of Virgil, sire of Hanover. At a dinner given to Mr. Dwyer at Saratoga on his sixty-first birthday the dining table contained a bronze of the star. Many of the turfmen present insisted that Hindoo was the best horse that ever looked through a bridle.
The Dwyer Brothers began life as butchers and had amassed a considerable fortune when they entered the racing field. That was away back in 1874. It was regular then for butchers to drive fast horses, and the brothers started out to make their mark in the trotter independence. The trotter failed, and the Dwyers switched their allegiance to the thoroughbred. Their success was with Rhadamantus, bred by the late August Belmont. Later they owned Charles Gorman, the best horse of his day. Bramble and Lake Black were other notable horses owned by the Dwyers in the days in which they had supremacy on the turf. Then in 1888 they commissioned the famous George Kinney, Miss Woodford, and Barnes. The horses of the stable at this time were trained by James Rowe, the man who now conditions the horses of Harry Poe Whitney.
While Mike Dwyer waged heavily on his horse Philip was more conservative, and the consequence was that his brother died in poor circumstance while Philip was prosperous to the last. The strain of racing became too great for Mr. Dwyer, and he was forced to retire. He never lost his interest in the sport. A year ago he gave his racing colors to Price McKinney and James Corrigan, and these are being worn today by the jockeys mounted on the horses of the Wickliffe Stable.

The Georgian, according to unofficial averages released Saturday, has jumped from seventh to third place in the list of American league batters, his average is .335. He has driven out 53 hits in 43 games. Chapman of Cleveland increased his lead as the premier sacrifice hitter and base stealer, having 20 sacrifice hits to his credit and 15 thefts. Both, also of Cleveland, is pressing him with 14 stolen bases.
Weaver of Chicago is keeping pace in runs scored, having 31, while Young of Detroit and Hooper of Boston are close up with 28 each. LEADING ACTRESSES IN "THE FOOLISH VIRGIN"
Clara Kimball Young in Picture-play With a Lesson at the Imperial
Fate is a fickle jade, however, and the love affair of this peculiar pair became very much entangled. It all resulted in the school teacher being sadly disillusioned concerning the quantity and quality of her romance in this sort of world of today. In watching this picture one cannot help but agree that the quotation from the author's book which preceded the picture on the curtain, stating that girls who rush into marriage in big cities without being absolutely sure of their ground, are veritably foolish virgins.
Clara Kimball Young acted her part splendidly, although she was seldom called upon to deliver any high dramatic utterance. Conway Tearle (Jim Anthony) also handled his role with his accustomed art and force. The cast was excellent throughout and Director Capellan spared no pains or expense in mounting the play lavishly and with detail. On the whole it was a pleasing performance and quite a novelty for today it will no doubt attract many more people who like current fiction as portrayed by the screen.
Pathe's British Gazette was an especially interesting number, this change containing some views of Portuguese soldiers in an open-air hospital in England, some scenes pertaining to the food crisis in Great Britain; King George inspecting New Zealand troops; the French battleship the Hindenburg; a May day fete in London; 10,000 Boys' Brigade lads in Glasgow and the Boer General Smuts at a presentation function. Tomorrow Robert Louis Stevenson's fairy tale, The Bottle Imp, will be the Paramount feature and it is a splendid offering indeed.
Girls who rush wildly into the marriage state were certainly made to sit up and take notice at Imperial Theatre yesterday when the picture version of Thomas Dixon's story, The Foolish Virgin received its initial showing. Whether or not the lesson taught by the story will have a salutary effect remains to be seen. Certainly Mary Adams, the role played by Clara Kimball Young, was a rather headstrong and headstrong young woman in making her choice of a husband and she had cause to rue the error of her way.
The Foolish Virgin, while not a drama of high tension quality, is a smooth-running narrative in the life of a self-made man and an overly romantic young school teacher. The school teacher was a sort of dreamer who dwelt upon valiant knights rescuing ladies fair from moated castles and so forth, when Jim Anthony knocked down an accosting hoodlum one fine day the amorous school teacher felt she had at last found her soul mate.

World's Tours resumed tomorrow, showing Old Villages in Russia, Pompeii, City of the Dead and Zurich, the chief city of Switzerland.
Robert Louis Stevenson's immortal fairy-tale, "The Bottle Imp," on Wednesday and Thursday, with Sessue Hayakawa and gorgeous Hawaiian scenery.
Earle Williams back on our curtain Friday in a double-dyed mystery yarn, "Apartment No. 29." Talk about excitement—wheew! It's one of those Vitagraph grippers.
If you want to see splendid, gorgeous scenes, happy reunions and the villain getting "his," see the final episode of "The Secret Kingdom" this week.
Perhaps you didn't know that the real genuine and only Detective, W. J. Burns, appears in the feature, "The Argyle Case," next Monday. Robert Warwick, English star, plays the lead.
Get ready to welcome the King of Cowboys, Bill Hart. He makes his bow next week in "The Square Deal Man"—a Triangle feature. Hart is the idol of American women and children. He's the best hero "bad man" in the profession. Keep your eye on Triangles.
Also be on the alert for an elaborate re-issue of "A Million Bids," that wonderful Vitaphone with Anita Stewart, Harry Mory, Charles Kent, Julia Swayne Gordon, Kate Price, Gladden James and other stars. That compelling story of the loveless marriage and the husband that bid a million dollars for his wife's affections.
You've heard of the side-splitting Keystone Comedies. Well, we have them coming very soon. Ford Sterling, Conklin, Charles Murray, the old Biograph fun-maker, and all that crew. More laughter than a barrel of monkeys. Clean, lively burlesque without any blush-inducers. We are banking on these two-reelers for hot-weather crowds—if we ever get any hot weather. The first one is entitled, "Innocent Sinners."
Mary Pickford reached the absolute zenith of her attractiveness in "The Poor Little Rich Girl." It has stamped the cities, big and little, up to date. We have it coming in about a fortnight. No matter if you are in the country, you'll have to come to town and see it and bring the kiddies. It is sweet, pretty, happy, colorful and contains a lot of heart-aching laughs.
Before June is gone, we will introduce a distinct novelty. It is "Country Life Stories" by Vitaphone. Started as a private set of family-life films for a millionaire home, with kiddies, puppies, kittens, domesticated cattle, flowers and all sort of charming household "plots." It was finally put on the market for the world to enjoy. No adult is too big or too old to drink in the innocent fun these real-life pictures will disclose, no child too young to clap its hands in glee.

ALL CAN SERVE

National Saving is Common Road to National Service
Thousands of letters have been received by the National Service Board of Canada from men and women asking what they can do to win the war. Every man and woman can "serve by saving." At no time in the history of the war has there been such necessity for thrift. National economy is essential to victory. Your dollars may turn the scale that will break the German line. Every cent you save means that much more money for the conduct of the war. Stop all but essential expenditures. Consider every purchase before you conclude it. Remember that luxury and thoughtlessness and extravagance are crimes against the state which needs every dollar you can spare. Remember that men are dying for you while you are only asked to save for them. Prove your patriotism by investing in the government war saving certificates. Your nearest money order post office or bank sells them.

Giant Discards Are Succeeding

Rube Schauer, Former Benchwarmer, Pitching in Sensational Form—Former Athletics Also Starving
The sensational pitching form which Rube Schauer, former Giant benchwarmer, has recently shown in Philadelphia would make it appear that Sinister Dick Kinsella's prediction about Rube may still come true. "When I sent this fellow to McGraw I thought I sent him a better pitcher than Alexander," said Kinsella.
Perhaps the brainy Mack can work the same miracle with Schauer that he did with Rube Waddell back in 1902. Every one knew Waddell was a great pitcher, but he was too much for the managers of the Chicago, Pittsburgh and Louisville National League teams who tried to manage him.
Schauer's case is somewhat different from that of Waddell's. While with the Giants he made no trouble but simply was dull and could not be made to understand big league ways. McGraw carried him close to four seasons before giving him up as hopeless. If Schauer can come through for Mack, a pitching staff can be constructed around him the same as the Phillies were erected around Alexander and the Washingtons of a few years ago were built around Johnson.
Last year it frequently was commented that former members of the Athletics kept most of the pennant con-

His Post At Headquarters But He Had Begged To Go With His Regiment Into Battle—Buried in Covert Garden At Leclre

London, June 12—According to official details supplied to his relatives, the late William Redmond, who was killed in action, had a post with a staff division which justified his remaining at headquarters. Mr. Redmond earnestly insisted that it was his wish to accompany his regiment in the advance and the general reluctantly consented.

Mr. Redmond was leading his men in an attack in the Wytshatche wood when he was wounded. He did not recover consciousness and died a few hours later in the Ulster field hospital. His body was taken to the little village of Leclre, where it was buried on Saturday, at the urgent request of the nuns, in the private garden of their convent at the foot of a grove and a statue erected in honor of Our Lady of Lourdes.

The funeral service was conducted by chaplains of the Ulster and Irish divisions. The grave was decorated with flowers by children of the village and a volley was fired over it by a mixed company from the Ulster and Irish divisions.

POTATOES DOWN TO $5

Expected Slump Has Arrived Says Frederickton

Spring Crop In Southern States Reaches Market—A Drop of $2 In Provincial Capital Since Yesterday

Fredericton, June 12—The expected slump in the local potato market as the result of the spring crop of the southern states being placed upon the United States market, has arrived. Seven dollars a barrel was the price paid here yesterday by shippers and today the price is $5.

It is said there is every prospect of the price going lower and that farmers who are holding for increased prices are doomed to disappointment. In certain sections of the south frosts set back the spring crop of potatoes, but the Carlinas are pouring an immense quantity into the market.

Rev. J. S. and Mrs. Sutherland are expected to return from Montreal tomorrow. Rev. Mr. Sutherland was operated upon in the Royal Victoria hospital for gallstones a few weeks ago, the operation proved successful. He will resume his duties as pastor of St. Paul's Presbyterian church.

PTE. C. H. BULL KILLED IN WAR

Had Been Missing Since Vimy Fight—Qualified Lieutenant But Went Into Ranks

Fredericton, N. B., June 12—Official word was received this morning by his wife, that Private Charles Henry Bull has been killed in action. The tidings, sad as they are, put an end to a long period of uncertainty, as the last report concerning the soldier was that he was missing. That report was received in the early stages of the fight for the Vimy Ridge. Mrs. Bull was formerly Miss Dorothy C. Wandless of this city, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wandless. One of her brothers, Private Loring S. Wandless, who has served in France for a long period in an infantry unit, visited the battalion in which his brother-in-law had been serving. His comrades, who had been in the same platoon stated their belief that he had been blown to pieces by a shell and that there was no doubt that he had been killed. The same shell killed several men. Private Bull belonged to Woodstock. He qualified as a lieutenant after the beginning of the war, but, not receiving an appointment as an officer, enlisted as a private. He was promoted to the rank of sergeant on being drafted to the front resigned his chevrons. Besides his wife a little daughter survives.
