PARKER ENDORSES CHAMBERLAIN.

Sir Gilbert Says That He Will Give Colonial Secretary His Entire Support.

GERMANY ANXIOUS.

Her Merchants Want Commercial Arrangements With Canada Settled Before British Treaty Lapses But Repentance May Be Too Late.

Montreal, June 29.—(Special)—A special London cable says: "Sir Gilbert Parker, M. P., has been summoned to address a meeting of his supporters at Gravesend tonight on the subject of Fiscal Union between the empire and colonies."

"In a conversation this morning Sir Gilbert said he had decided to entirely endorse Mr. Chamberlain's proposals. Firstly, because if they were carried out, it would cement the colonies and motherland to the mutual advantage of each. Secondly, preferential treatment and protection for the home market were absolutely essential to prevent the inroads of foreign manufacturers, and to save the home land from further industrial decline. "There will be a warm contest for the Palma trophy. Teams are entered representing Great Britain, United States, Canada, France, Norway, Australia and Natal. It is probable that Switzerland and Rhodesia will also be represented. The Canadian team is confident of making a good showing. "Great preparations are being made here for Dominion Day; among the speakers at the Dominion Day dinner, will be the Duke of Argyll, the Bishop of Ripon, Earl Jersey, Admiral Fremantle, Field Marshal Norman, Sir Charles Rivers-Wilson, Lord Strathcona, and a reception of the Royal Institute of Painters. "The financial times, commenting on the Dominion Day and Steel Company's affairs, indicates that the capital required for the completion of the plant, will be found locally. It represents the great difficulty of fighting American competition. It also notes that the Carnegie Steel Trust is re-considering for a good position for a factory in Canada. "The fact that the end of the current year terminates the politico-commercial agreement under which Britain and Germany accord each other the most favored nation treatment, gives a certain urgency to Mr. Chamberlain's proposal. The German mercantile community, which is the most progressive and enlightened section of the nation, desires Germany's commercial relations with Canada to be put on a mutual satisfactory footing before the British treaty lapses, lest a worse evil befall them."

"The financial news says: The symptoms of Germany's repentance come too late. The British consular general at Hamburg reports that during the past year Germany's trade with Canada, through Hamburg, has diminished thirty per cent. Germany's exports to Canada increased twenty per cent. We will remember this important fact when our Teuton friends begin pourparlers for a renewal of the existing commercial treaty."

CHILDREN GO TO SCHOOL IN BOATS IN NEW YORK.

Five Feet of Water in Some of the Streets from Monday's Storm—Great Damage Done.

New York, June 29.—New York and vicinity as well as this part of the country was flooded by a downpour of rain, during which in the course of a few hours, about half as much water fell as in the prolonged period of wet weather this month. The storm was accompanied by thunder and lightning, and several conspicuous spots were struck by bolts. Streets in various sections of Greater New York were inundated and it is expected the damage by water will be very great. The flood was most serious along the shore front on South and West streets in the borough of Manhattan and in the Williamsburg section of Brooklyn, where much damage was done by floods twelve years ago. For a good portion of the day here, the water in some of the streets was four and five feet deep, and many families were held prisoners in their homes. A novel sight was that of children going to school in row boats. In Jersey City the rain washed away pavements, flooded cellars, clogged sewers and flooded streets. In Newark several streets east of the Penna R. R. became impassable. At Frankfurt street the water was two feet deep. Insecte Farmer Fatally Stabs Wife.

He then attacked his son, Justin, with an axe, but the son overpowered him. The son left the home to summon assistance and upon returning found the man had hanged himself.

BIG PURSE FOR FATHER MEAHAN.

$1275 and Addresses Presented Moncton's Popular Priest Last Night.

MONSTER PROCESSION.

Five Hundred Members of Different Societies in Torchlight Parade—Two Thousand People Listen to the Speeches.

Moncton, June 29.—(Special)—The celebration of Father Meahan's sacerdotal silver jubilee and fiftieth birthday ended tonight in a monster torch light procession and demonstration in Victoria Park, which was crowded with nearly 2,000 people. Most of the business houses and residences along the route of procession were illuminated and the procession was of imposing dimensions, there being about 500 members of different societies in line with two bands and several floats. At the rink addresses from parishioners were read in English by Senator McSweeney and in French by H. H. Melanson, and Father Meahan was presented with a purse of $1,275. Mayor Givan then read an address on behalf of the city council and Father Chapman an address on behalf of the clergy of the diocese of Moncton. The latter was also accompanied by a purse. Father Meahan replied in fitting terms in both languages. After the presentation of addresses little Miss Madeline Walker presented to Father Meahan a beautiful bouquet of white flowers. The parishioners' purse was presented in a neat speech by Hugh F. Hamilton, the cheque being handed Father Meahan on a silver salver by Master Edgar Lefebvre. As the close of the demonstration Father Meahan received many personal congratulations. The address was as follows: To the Reverend Henry Alexis Meahan, M. A., Parish Priest of St. Bernard's, Rev. and Dear Father—It is with feelings of satisfaction and pleasure that we assemble this evening to congratulate you on the completion of twenty-five years of service in the ministry of God. To all Catholics imbued with love for their religion and respect and reverence for their clergy such a celebration as this possesses a peculiar interest. The close and intimate relation which Christ has permitted to exist between himself and the dispensers of His sacred mysteries cannot but create in man a deep regard for the high dignity conferred upon the chosen instruments of God's holy purpose. To ourselves, however, the event is one of personal and local concern; for practically the whole history of our parish is interwoven with the story of your priestly career, and the success and prosperity which we at present enjoy are but the result of indefatigable zeal. A cursory glance at the twenty years of your pastorate in Moncton will serve to give a very inadequate idea of the work which has been accomplished or the difficulties which have been overcome. It is natural for those who have advanced from a position of remote possibility to the stage of actual achievement to grow forgetful of (Continued on page 3, sixth column.)

Minister of Militia Speaks of the Rumored Stories on Railway Matters—The Lord High Commissionership—Lord Dundonald Likely at Camp Sussex This Year.

Sir Frederick W. Borden, minister of militia, who was in the city for a few minutes Monday, told a Telegraph reporter that the stories published that the government's decision in the matter of a transcontinental railway was to extend the I. C. R. to Winnipeg, and that there were to be resignations from the dominion cabinet were merely rumors. The railway policy of the government had yet to be announced. As to the Grand Trunk Pacific project, Sir Frederick had nothing to say except that he understood from the despatches that announcement of the government's intention was expected shortly. He had been at his home in Canning (N. S.) for a week and therefore could not speak of the matter as if he had been on the scene in Ottawa. Sir Frederick was reminded that opposition papers had revived Hon. Clifford Sifton from the cabinet and were assigning him to the post of high commissioner in England, now filled by Lord Strathcona. He replied that his opinion was that Lord Strathcona could retain that post so long as he wished and that he filled it ably. The minister of militia said he thought parliament would not meet August. There were no special matters of interest in the militia department, at present, he said, except that the annual camps were being held. They were pretty well over in the west and the camp for New Brunswick would be open on September 15 at Sussex and Lord Dundonald would likely attend. The Nova Scotia camp will be about the same time. Sir Frederick left on the C. P. R. for Ottawa.

NEW COAL DEPOSITS IN CAPE BRETON.

Two Seams of Great Abundance Discovered in Northern Part.

Sydney, N. S., June 29.—(Special)—Two seams of coal that give indications of good quality and abundance of deposit, have been discovered at Enon, in the northern part of Cape Breton county. Patrick Neville, deputy inspector of mines, left for Enon today to inspect the seams and report. The area have all been taken up. John Pinaud, of Charlottetown, who attempted to cross to Sydney from Charlottetown in a small gasoline launch, who was given up for lost, arrived here today. He left on the 18th inst. His experience has taught him not to attempt again the foolhardy experiment. A. J. Mosiam, late president and general manager of the Dominion Iron & Steel Company, has arrived in town and will spend the summer here. He is firm in his belief in the complete success of the Sydney iron and steel industry. The indications are that the present season will result disastrously to the farmers of Cape Breton. Reports from all parts are to the effect that the long, dry season has stunted vegetation and that crops of all kinds will be a complete failure. Angus R. McMillan, a miner in Dominion No. 2, was seriously injured by a fall of coal today. Sailors of the steamer Catalone got into a row at Whitney Pier today and one of their number was injured so badly that he had to be removed to the hospital.

Government and Transcontinental Railroad Promoters Come to a General Agreement; Details to Be Worked Out Later On—Construction Now Assured.

Ottawa, June 29.—(Special)—C. M. Hays and Wm. Wainwright, of the Grand Trunk Pacific railway, had an interview tonight with Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Sir Wm. Mulock and Hon. Clifford Sifton and Hon. A. G. Blair, in regard to the question of aid to be granted to the proposed transcontinental line. It was stated after the meeting was over that a final arrangement had been reached between the representatives of the government and the company to enable the line to be proceeded with. In other words, the aid which the government had offered has been accepted by the company as satisfactory, to permit the undertaking to be proceeded with. There are some details of the agreement to be worked out and it will be two or three days probably before the official announcement is made, but the main question has been disposed of and that is the assistance to be given by the government and that it is considered by the company sufficient. The government aid will take the line of a guarantee of the bonds of the company with a clause in the agreement giving the government the power to purchase at the end of thirty years. As already said, all the details are not completed but the government assistance will take this shape, which the company regards as satisfactory to float the project.

His Family, Who Were Picnicking, Found Him Dead in His Chair on Their Return Home.

Truro, N. S., June 29.—(Special)—Mrs. Charles Cramb, four sons and two daughters, of Shubenacadie, received a severe shock Saturday night on coming home from a picnic to find the husband and father sitting in a chair stark in death. Deceased was well and hearty as usual when the family left home in the morning. The evidence of the neighbors shows that he drove a load of milk to the train in the morning and worked all the forenoon and after dinner he sat down in a chair to rest and died. He was 61 years of age. George Bell, a highly respected and influential farmer of Shubenacadie, died last night, aged seventy-five. Deceased was a bachelor and leaves three brothers. Criminal Offence to Interfere With Citizen Soldiers' Occupation—Bill to Guarantee Bonds of Canadian Northern Up for Discussion.

Ottawa, June 29.—(Special)—The bill to incorporate the Alliance Bank of Canada came up in the house today, when Dr. Russell moved its second reading. Mr. Henderson (Halton) declared his belief that parliament is going too far in incorporating banks. He says the Canadian banks are making too many investments outside the country, especially in the United States, and are encouraging speculation by lending money to those who are engaged in stock gambling. Without the banks, Mr. Henderson says, stock speculation cannot be carried on, and if the evil is to be struck at, it will be necessary to go back to its source, the lending of funds by banks. He gave the promoters of the bill notice that at a later stage of the bill he will move an amendment to the charter with the object of limiting the investing power of the bank so that it will not be able to assist brokers, loan companies or others engaged in such business to obtain the money requisite to carry on their enterprise. The bill respecting the aid to be given the Canadian Northern Railway for the extension of its line across the prairies was read a second time and taken up in committee. The minister of railways laid a large map of the existing and proposed lines of the company on the table and explained it to the leader of the opposition. He also explained that the existing system of the Canadian Northern upon which and the rolling stock, the government get a second mortgage to secure the guarantee on the bonds for the extension, extends west from Port Arthur for 824 miles. THE LOG DRIVES.

The Dowlette Causes Quite a Sensation—Upwards of 150 Entries for Dominion Day Bicycle Sports—Typhoid Fever Patients.

Fredericton, June 29.—(Special)—District Passenger Agent Foster, of the C. P. R., and party reached here this evening after a most enjoyable canoe trip on the St. John river. They left Grand Falls on Friday morning and made the 130 mile journey to Fredericton in canoe, camping along the route wherever night overtook them. Mr. Foster is delighted with the scenery of the St. John river and thinks with a little advertising the route has just been over can be made a very popular one with tourists. The main corporation drive is now at Newburg, and is making rather slow progress on account of the low water of the river. It is estimated that there are from four to six millions in this drive, and both shores of the river and the bars between Newburg to Moncton are covered with logs. Contractors in Fredericton have a crew of men working at Grand Falls, where about a million feet of logs are stranded in the "Coffee Mill." There are no logs coming over Grand Falls, and only a few are hung up between the falls and Newburg. Mrs. John Donovan, the Dowlette, who has been critically ill for several days, apparently suffering from pneumonia, was in a very critical condition yesterday and today there is little if any improvement. Her mother, Mrs. Donovan, who has a good deal of nursing and has seen a good many cases of pneumonia, thinks this is what her daughter-in-law is suffering from. Mrs. Donovan, who is not a Dowlette, said she was anxious to have a doctor called in. But her son, who is as strong a Dowlette as his wife, will not consent to having a doctor called in, with Mrs. Reid and the rest of the Dowcys. (Continued on page 7, fifth column.)

THE SEMI-WEEKLY TELEGRAPH, ST. JOHN, N. B., JULY 1, 1903.

WITH W. E. EARLE, OF ST. JOHN, FOR SHORT SPACE IN SOUTH AFRICA.

A Blockhouse--Remembrance of the Days of War. They're a privilege people down at Cape Town, as far as sea bathing is concerned. You can slumber in Antarctic waters, or splurge luxuriously in the tepid blue of the Indian ocean, for these extremes are only twelve miles apart.

The "Rickshaw Man" in Harness.

Mr. Earle was about a month in Cape Town and visited many of the suburbs and surrounding districts. It was during the Christmas season, and while this fact was very generally realized by the African and other, yet to Canadian travelers there seemed hats with perhaps a costly ostrich plume flaunting from the brim. Others glorify themselves with a pair of ox horns fitted to a headband. The general effect, some low or others, is not beneficial to weak nerves or an exhausted constitution. A reaction frequently causes deplorable results.

The rickshaw man, when he obtains a fare, or two, or three (his cart is not supposed to hold more than two) steps between the shafts and seating himself, takes a few preliminary swift steps before settling down to a working gait. Then he lends to the toll and the patter of his naked feet as mingling with the hoof chorus of the horse. He never collides—he dodges, shaves double and turns and once having assumed his normal speed he rarely changes it—that is, while on the level. It's tiresome work on the up grade, though. It has been hinted that an anteing fare would chuck or chirrup and even be so indelicate as to pose a cane or imitate the strenuous jerking of reins. But the rickshaw man, though very possibly a pagan, has a Christian spirit. He skims over the paving and on a descent reveals his blood and pedigree. His scowl is blacker than his complexion, but it is not from anger. He's just marshalling all his physical resources for an awesome burst of speed, and once fairly on the hill, especially if he is trickling and glistening, so when at last you bowl around to the starting point and ask the triumphant, dripping and breathless Ethiopian what it all costs, you can think that he is receiving too much.

STRANGER THAN FICTION.

No yellow-cover romance could provide a weirder setting or a more horrible crime than that of the Most Farm, the full story of which is told in a special cable despatch from London to this morning's Herald.

For four years after the murder of the wealthy woman with whom he had lived in the remote and secluded island farm-house, Dougal, unsuspected, led a quiet country life, cultivating the friendship of the local clergyman, improving the land and tending the trees that he planted over the spot in which the body of his victim was buried.

It is an almost incredible narrative of illicit love, murder, forgery and mystery. The final revelation of the crime for which Dougal is now to mount the scaffold goes far to confirm the old adage that "Murder will out."

(Special Cable to the N. Y. Herald.) London, June 27.—Within three weeks from tomorrow, the English custom requiring three Sundays to elapse between capital sentence and its execution, Samuel Dougal will mount the scaffold in Chelmsford jail yard to pay the penalty of a crime which is surrounded by as many circumstances of mystery and sensation as the brain of a novelist ever invented.

A cross between a Don Juan and a Praxinos, Dougal was long lodged in the condemned cell on the strength of evidence as to the purely circumstantial facts which prompted Daniel Webster's famous peroration, "Murder will out. There's no refuge from confession but suicide, and suicide is confession."

Dougal has not yet confessed. Four years have elapsed between crime and conviction. A lonely house in the quiet Emere Woods, a most which seemed a relic of feudal days, with gulf fires contemplating the note of desolation; a woman, well past fifty, whose earlier life had been embittered by disappointment in love through the death of the young naval officer to whom she was engaged; a woman, too, of romantic disposition, with a taste for poetry, music and art, and a man whose amorous adventures bespoke personal charm amounting to fascination with the fair sex, but possessed of dominant animalism that appears to have overpowered every vestige of moral sentiment—these are the scene and the dramatic persons of a tragedy with which all England has been regally for months past.

Miss Holland was seen alive for the last time on May 19, 1899. On that day, dressed for a drive, she was met by the one servant in her employ going out in a pony cart with Dougal. She told the maid she wouldn't be long away, and the girl assumed she was going to the nearest town to do some shopping. Not only was she not seen again alive, but no trace of her was discovered till four years after-

OUR COUNTRY CORRESPONDENCE.

FREDERICTON.

Fredericton, June 28.—Mrs. Donovan, one of the Fredericton Doves, who has been critically ill for some days past, during which she and her husband, who is also a Dove, refused to have medical treatment, has taken a turn for the better and her condition is much improved. It was evidently a severe attack of pneumonia which Mrs. Donovan had and the prospects now are that she will recover. She was not attended by a physician and no drugs were administered. No poisons were applied. Nature was allowed to take its course, the patient being kept on a light liquid diet. The Doves believe in no other kind of healing than divine healing and they have prayed incessantly during Mrs. Donovan's illness.

It is hoped the change will be a benefit to Capt. Robinson's health which has been poor for several months. Miss Christina Rutherford, of Mountville, is visiting friends in Kings county. RHEUMATIC PAINS.

CAUSED BY AN IMPURE CONDITION OF THE BLOOD.

The lingering tortures of rheumatism are too well known to need description, but it is not so well known that medical science now recognizes that the primary cause of rheumatism is impure or impoverished blood. The result is that hundreds of sufferers apply external remedies which cannot possibly cure the trouble. The only thing that will really cure rheumatism is an internal medicine that will enrich the blood and free it from rheumatic taint. The quickest and most effective way to do this is to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which are proved to have cured thousands of cases of rheumatism in its most acute and distressing form. The pills are made of the purest and most effective ingredients, and are guaranteed to cure the blood and free it from rheumatic taint. TRURO.

Truro, June 27.—(Special)—The Truro Telephone Company will likely be defeated in an attempt to raise the rates on its subscribers. The company proposed to replace the present system with metallic lines and to increase the rates from $25 to $35 a year for stores, offices and public buildings and from $15 to $25 for private houses. There are 230 subscribers and the plebiscite indicated the practical demolition of telephonic communication in Truro if the company is permitted by the government to force an advance of rates. Only five subscribers voted in favor of the new system and advanced rates and 125 voted for continuance of the present system. One hundred and seventy-five of

An Eloquent Sermon Preached in Centenary Church by Rev. G. M. Campbell Sunday Evening on the Life and Work of the Great Reformer—Strong Sermons from Other Methodist Pulpits.

On May 24, 1738, there was one Methodist, John Wesley. At the close of the year 1801 there were 8,000,000 Methodists church members, 40,000,000 adherents, 48,000 pastors, 99,000 local preachers, 7,250,000 children in the Sunday schools, 850,000 teachers, and 84,000 church edifices.

Rev. Mr. Campbell, in beginning his eloquent discourse, said that on June 28, 1703, in the obscure rectory of Epworth, there was born to one of the noblest mothers who ever blessed the world, a son. In commemorating the birth of John Wesley the people were not asked to laud the man, but to thank God for one of the most fruitful forces for righteousness that the centuries have known. No one church could claim John Wesley. He was the product and the property of Christendom.

Rev. Mr. Campbell referred to the work of Methodism and its aims as a church, and prayed that the people might be baptized with the same spirit as Wesley. They were not to admire him alone, but to emulate and imitate him. Follow the great leaders even as they followed Christ, and carry out the work committed to the church, till all the churches are one in Christ Jesus, as He is one with the Father. Then will the mission of Methodism see its accomplishment.

Rev. T. J. Deinstadt delivered a powerful sermon on the life and work of Wesley in Epworth street church Sunday evening. He reviewed Wesley's early days, his rescue from the burning rectory, his taking up of missionary work and the conditions he had to face in England. Rev. Mr. Deinstadt closed by saying that Wesley, the founder of the Methodist church but Jesus Christ was the founder, through the redemptive agency of Wesley who clung to the cross which was long as he could.

Laurier and Blair Flay a Slanderer.

Mr. McLean of East York Accuses Minister of Railways of Being Interested in Bell Telephone Legislation, and Gets a Severe Winding Ledges Bill.

Ottawa, June 26 (Special).—On the rail way commission bill being taken up today W. F. McLean argued at length in favor of his amendment to the act giving the commission power to order any railway company to open up telephone lines to any telephone company which may apply for admission. Before the vote was put, Mr. McLean read a report from the Freedom League of the annual meeting of the New Brunswick Telephone Company regarding the election of Hon. Mr. Blair. Mr. McLean, president of the Bell Company, Senator Thompson and Mr. Randolph both Mr. McLean says, are connections of Hon. Mr. Blair. At a meeting of the shareholders afterwards Mr. Blair was elected president and Mr. McLean vice-president of the company.

To Mr. McLean it seemed that Mr. Blair, the president of the New Brunswick Telephone Company, and Mr. Blair, president of the Bell Company, were about the same person. He read a special dispatch from St. John N. B., to the Toronto World stating Mr. Blair owned a sixth of the stock of the New Brunswick Telephone Company, and derived most of his large income from that source. The New Brunswick Telephone Company, the dispatch stated, had at its incorporation been given an exclusive telephone franchise in the province of New Brunswick. This was done by Hon. Mr. Blair, who was premier of that province. By reason of this exclusive franchise the Bell Company, which is now the only telephone company in the province, had to obtain an entrance to acquire the New Brunswick Telephone Company. The dispatch stated the New Brunswick Telephone Company was now owned practically by the Bell Company.

Mr. McLean said that he had not intended to bring this matter before the house, but he had given an opportunity for the government to accept his motion and it was only after he had seen that it was not going to be done that he brought this matter up.

There was another peculiar thing about this government and the opposition. The members of the Bell company were shown by the first senatorial appointment of the government, that of Robert Mackay, who was a shareholder in the company, and a connection of the Hon. Mr. Blair.

Mr. McLean said that Hon. Mr. Blair, who was evidently financially interested in the Bell Telephone Company, was about himself as the principal player in the interest of this company and that he used his cabinet position for that purpose. He should have been asked to resign. He had no right to be in the cabinet. He should not be tolerated for a minute. He challenged the minister of railways and the premier to go up to the company and to state to the shareholders that they were interested in its success.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier. Sir Wilfrid Laurier was greeted with cheers on going to the speaker. He said: My honorable friend must pardon me, Mr. Chairman, if I cannot take him seriously upon this subject. My honorable friend says that he is despoiling an idea which is deserving of consideration and for my part I may tell him that I would have been glad to witness the consideration of this idea which is entitled upon its merits.

up slanderous and defamatory statements as they appear in the newspaper press, because I have felt that I would have very little else to do if a certain class of newspaper men thought they would be likely to receive attention that I am publishing statements that would have a scandalous and defamatory effect. Therefore, I have taken no notice of these things, but it is only fair that I should characterize the statement, as I can characterize it, a tissue of wholly unfounded statements.

Not a Bell Company Stockholder. I have not one dollar of stock in the Bell Telephone Company, I have never had and never expect to have. So far as the financial interests are concerned or so far as the interest in any way are concerned, I am quite as indifferent to them as the honorable gentleman opposite, quite as indifferent.

CROP OUTLOOK AND LABOR TROUBLES DISCOURAGING.

Business is Dull at Present, But Volume of Six Months' Trade Better Than Corresponding Period of Last Year—Iron and Steel Situation Greatly Improved—Canadian Trade Remains Generally Good.

New York, June 26.—Broadstreet tomorrow will see: Crop and labor conditions still present some irregularities, but six months' trade returns point to actual business having been better than a year ago and the situation as a whole shows favorable features. 25 CENTS AN HOUR FOR CARPENTERS.

THIS IN HALIFAX. The Question Was Referred to Arbitrators, With Rev. Dr. Forrest as Chairman, and They Have So Decided.

Halifax, June 26.—The following is the text of the decision of the board of arbitrators appointed to adjust the differences between the Master Builders' Association and the Carpenters' Union (No. 83), having asked that the minimum rate of wages for carpenters should be increased from the present rate of twenty-two cents per hour to twenty-five cents, and the Master Builders' Association having declined to grant such demand, the question of the justice of granting such request was submitted to the undersigned arbitrators, who after hearing considerable evidence, have come to the following decision:—

1.—The arbitrators are of the opinion that the increase of 25 cents per hour would be justifiable in regard to all members of the Carpenters' Union who are skilled and experienced mechanics.

2.—The arbitrators find from the evidence that there are a large number of carpenters in the said union who by reason of their skill and experience are entitled to be paid at the rate of at least 25 cents per hour.

3.—It has been alleged that there are some carpenters belonging to the union who are not so skilled and experienced as to entitle them to this higher rate of 25 cents per hour, and the arbitrators are of opinion that in such cases the question of the rate of wages should be determined by the arbitrators.

4.—The arbitrators are of the opinion that the Master Builders' Association should be free from interference by either of the parties to this arbitration.

5.—The arbitrators are of the opinion that the Master Builders' Association should be free from interference by either of the parties to this arbitration.

GENEROUS GIFTS TO SEAMEN'S MISSION.

Regret Expressed at H. C. Tilley's Inability to Serve Longer as President of the Board of Directors.

The following has been received from the Seaman's Mission Society:—The board of directors and the manager of the Seaman's Mission Society regret the necessity for the resignation of their esteemed president, H. C. Tilley. We deeply deplore the loss we have sustained. We realize that Mr. Tilley found it necessary to resign on account of increasing business, and because at present his health is not so robust as usual. He does not feel able to perform the extra duties which this office has called for. No one, we feel, regrets this necessity more than Mr. Tilley himself.

In view of these circumstances, Mr. Tilley requested that he be relieved from active work in the management of the mission for at least a year. He assures us that his interest in the mission is as deep as ever, and that he will do all in his power to promote its welfare.

Since Mr. Tilley's connection with the mission he has given lavishly of his time and strength to the work, while most of the responsibility rested upon him. The mission owes him a debt of gratitude of which we are deeply conscious.

At the last meeting of the managing committee Lady Tilley was present, and graciously presented the mission with the sum of $500. This sum, she explained, was left by the late Sir S. L. Tilley to be eventually used in the work of the mission. Because of the debt which is burdening the mission at present, Lady Tilley has most generously given the money to the mission at once.

The aid which Lady Tilley has given in the past, in money, time and influence is inestimable value to the work, and the mission is shown in the present by consenting to serve, still, as president of the "Ladies' Auxiliary," which society has done much to aid the work.

At the same meeting, Mr. Tilley generously placed at the disposal of the mission the sum of $500, for an indefinite period, without interest, to be used towards carrying on the debt; thus showing in a most practical way his good-will towards the mission which he has served so long and well.

amount of $400 or $500. If this can be raised at once we may prosecute our work untrammelled.

In the future the work will be so systematized that the exact sum needed for running expenses will be definitely known. With our present facilities for doing the work, the cost may not exceed $2,000 per year. A considerable portion of this cost will be contributed by the ships and seamen, but that should be looked for only in the beginning.

If the society could receive a few more generous gifts by way of endowment, it would place it on a footing that would give the missionary an opportunity of tending to the men, rather than exhausting both in trying to secure funds with which to prosecute the work.

By order of the board of managers. E. H. ROOPER, Manager. J. N. ROGERS, Secretary.

A Nocturnal Messenger.

By Emily Lennox.

Surmounting a barricade of dry-goods boxes, and after climbing a flight of carpetless stairs, it was like stepping over the threshold of Paradise to enter that cozy little sitting room. A rose-shaded lamp was softly burning on the table, and a fair-faced girl ran her fingers over the piano-keys, evoking a low sweet melody.

'We must make one room habitable,' she had said. So the pictures and books were unpacked without delay, and a cozy refuge was contrived in the midst of the general chaos. But presently there was a hurried hobbling step, and old Hannah thrust her head in the door without ceremony.

'Oh, lo!', Miss Betty' she cried, in the most abrupt terror. 'Jane's smashed the lookin' glass, and cut herself awful. She's a-bleedin' to death.'

'Stand still!' Miss Betty commanded, whipping out her handkerchief, and twisting it tightly about the girl's arm above the wound. 'You have cut an artery; but don't be frightened. I'll fix it in a minute.'

'You can't go alone,' she cried. 'Not at this time of night, and in this dreadful weather.'

'I must, and I will,' Betty answered. 'It's a mile and a half to Doctor Ducie's, her aunt remonstrated. 'Can't we manage till morning, Betty? Something awful will happen to you on the way.'

'Let it happen, if it will,' she said, fearlessly. 'But it won't! I'm going, Aunt Adele. Be sure and don't loosen the handkerchief.'

With this she started upstairs, and seized her gossamer out of an open box in the hall.

The box was filled with her brother Frank's winter clothes, and, at the sight of them, a wild idea flashed into her brain. She had spoken resolutely, but she had no more faith for this nocturnal mission than any other girl of nineteen.

What if she were to put on Frank's clothes? She could then go with impunity. The idea grew upon her, and before many moments passed, the rose-shaded lamp revealed a boyish figure, clad in dark-green pantaloons and an English jacket, and a face smiling at the reflection in the mirror.

CASTORIA For Infants and Children. The Kind You Have Always Bought Bears the Signature of J. C. FLETCHER. HORRIBLE THOUGHT. With horseless steeds and wireless wires we prove this age an armageddon; But terrible 'twould be to have The summer-gifts summer.

'Go in and tell Miss La Bree that I would like to see her; then attend to the servant.' Betty's aunt came out on the piazza, and at the sight of her niece in boy's clothes, she uttered a little shriek of astonishment. 'Hush!' cried Betty. 'Not a word, Aunt Adele. I would not for worlds have Doctor Gwynn know. I put on this suit because I thought it would be a protection. Can't you manage to tell Hannah not to betray me?'
