MRS. TUBBS OF SHANTYTOWN

The citizens of Lakeside and adjacent districts were given a rare treat on Wednesday evening, Oct. 23, when the comedy-drama, entitled "Mrs. Tubbs of Shantytown," was played in the public hall at that place by the Williamsport Amateur Dramatic Club.

The play was of no mean order, but presented everything true to life. Love-matches and matches without love-money—or the love of it—as "the root of all evil" and money as a warm friend in distress. Love, hatred, jealousy, wealth and extreme poverty were worthily depicted, and a mother's love leaping all financial barriers and conquering all obstacles in her way was rendered in such a manner as to bring tears to the heart of Pharaoh.

HANGMAN NOT DRUNK, SAY WITNESSES

Cut Down While Still Alive and While Doctors Were Testing—No Orders Given to Have the Rope Severed

Dramatic details of the circumstances surrounding the execution of Benjie Swin on October 6, the bungling of which has aroused such feeling throughout the country were related by witnesses at the opening session of a special enquiry ordered by Hon. J. P. Byrne, Attorney-General, with J. Bacon Dickson of Fredericton presiding. Sheriff A. R. Foster, represented by Hon. W. P. Jones, K. C., told of his efforts to arrange the details of the execution. He swore there was no disorder in the jail on the night of the execution and said that as to the conduct of Doyle, the hangman, he was not under the influence of liquor but that he exceptionally loud talking accounted for the prevailing impression that he was drunk.

Dr. Thomas Griffin, official jail physician, bore out Sheriff Foster's explanation in this regard. Deputy Sheriff H. V. Moore was on the stand when adjournment was made for lunch.

T. C. L. Ketchum is appearing for the Prisoners' Welfare League. Only a handful of spectators were present. Previous to the calling of the first witness Mr. Jones called the attention of the commissioner to Stewart's volume of Blackstone in which it was stated that if a man revived after a hanging he was to be taken back and hanged again.

Dr. Thomas W. Griffin, the first witness, said he had been a practicing physician in and around Woodstock for twenty-five years. Asked to relate what happened he said he went to the jail in response to a telephone call from the Sheriff about 4.30 o'clock.

Swin was in the cell and there he saw the hangman, Gill and Doyle. The condemned man was taken from the cell to the gallows by Deputy Sheriff Moore and the hangman. He saw nothing of the execution till afterwards he saw Swin hanging in the enclosure below the platform. Dr. Grant, Dr. Macintosh and a Montreal doctor, the two hangmen, the deputy sheriff and the death watch, he noticed gathered around the body.

The witness said he examined Swin's heart, it was still beating. As he passed the stethoscope to Dr. Grant and was feeling the pulse the man was cut down and Mr. Moore helped to lower him to the ground. The rope was cut about a foot and a half above his head. It could not be reached by a person standing on the ground. He saw Gill standing on a ladder in the enclosure, Gill was in the position where he could have cut the rope.

Doyle said, "he is as dead as a door nail." This was a few minutes before he was cut down. None of the doctors pronounced Swin dead at that time. He observed that Swin was breathing slightly when laid on the couch. He did not notice how the rope was tied. It did not break his neck. Had the neck been broken he could not have lived but a few minutes. About an hour later Swin was taken out and hanged again. During that time the witness had discovered that it was only a dislocation of the neck.

He advised the Sheriff that it was necessary to hang the man over again. The other doctors agreed among themselves that he would live. He would not say that Doyle was under the influence of liquor. He talked loudly, using smooth language. He struck him as being a tough rather than being drunk. His conduct toward Swin was peculiar. Swin asked him if he was going to execute him and Doyle replied, "For the guy." Doyle added that Swin should brace up as it would all be over soon.

On the second examination he found Swin after hanging for about fifteen minutes had had his neck completely broken. He heard no other doctor order Swin to be cut down. There was no drunkenness noticed by him around the jail that night. In reply to Mr. Ketchum he agreed that it was his duty to see that the man was dead before being cut down.

Dr. Grant, Dr. Macintosh and himself had examined Swin with the stethoscope. Dr. Grant was listening when the man was cut down. He agreed there was a chance of complete recovery. He thought Doyle's conduct was natural. It was a pure exaggeration that Doyle's remarks were revolting. Doyle's remarks were addressed to the minister mostly. The second hanging was performed by Gill. To the commissioner, the witness, he said emphatically that Doyle was not intoxicated. There was no disorder or confusion among the officials.

Sheriff Foster, the next witness detailed the preliminary arrangements. He did not notice any liquor about Doyle. Doyle and Gill went to the scaffold with the condemned man. When half way up the scaffold, he heard Bennie pray. He did not hear Doyle say anything. Gill, he thought, said "You will meet him soon." The witness then said he retired to his office until called by the deputy sheriff. He took Doyle back to his office, where the hangman assured him that everything was all right. "That's a good job," said Doyle in a loud toned voice.

When they brought Swin in he conferred with the doctors. Dr. Griffin informed him that his pulse was getting stronger. He consented to a second hanging. Swin was carried up to the scaffold in an unconscious condition.

To his attorney, he said he was never down in the enclosure. He knew nothing of what happened there. The coroner's jury held a short session and the body was delivered to the relatives. He had done everything possible. There was nothing to all the loose talk around the country regarding the hanging.

To Mr. Ketchum, the sheriff said the Montreal officials had informed him that he could not secure saints to do the job. Doyle said he had been down south hanging colored people. Sheriff Foster said he was inclined to doubt this. He saw no staggering on Doyle's part.

To Mr. Dickson the sheriff said that he had received orders from the minister of justice to carry out the sentence but no official instructions as to how it should be done.

Two witnesses were heard at the short morning session. S. L. Lynott, editor of the Carleton Sentinel, and Owen Kelly, chief of police, here swore there was no disturbance around the jail on the night of the execution. Mr. Lynott said he had talked with Doyle about twenty-five minutes late Thursday evening and found him perfectly sober.

T. C. L. Ketchum, representing the Canadian Prisoners' Welfare League, declared in his opening remarks at the afternoon session that the evidence adduced clearly showed that no reflection could be cast on Sheriff Foster, who was unexcelled in the province.

"A man of tender heart, the hanging of Bennie Swin had greatly bothered him and caused him considerable worry," said Mr. Ketchum.

Concerning the C. P. W. L., Mr. Ketchum explained that at its head was Robert Richardson, former M. P. of Montreal, a man who had consistently advocated the abolition of capital punishment in the dominion. The backers of the league, he declared, held Mr. Richardson's view and in addition to its immediate objective, the league also tended to the welfare of all prisoners insofar as it was able to do so.

Sheriff Foster, he said, had obtained the services of Doyle, on the recommendation of responsible Montreal officials and it was hardly the sheriff's fault that such negligence had been shown by Doyle, who, the evidence showed, was under the influence of liquor.

"If Doyle were not intoxicated," declared counsel, "he certainly did not perform his duty in an efficient manner. It was his duty as to adjust the noose and spring the trap that the neck would not be broken at the first fall. The evidence proves that this was not done." The body, he went on, was cut down fully ten minutes before the allotted time.

The hanging, he declared, was a shock to the public mind and he earnestly hoped that in some manner, the commissioner's report would recommend as to the future course to be pursued in cases of capital punishment that forever would put an end to such occurrences as on Oct. 6 last. It seemed a strange matter to him that while the state ordered that the sentence of death be carried out, the state provided no means as to how and by whom the hanging should be performed.

In this twentieth century, a hangman must hide his face from the sight of his fellowman, so powerful was public feeling in this regard yet many persons declared that it was the sheriff's duty to carry out the death sentence. He, however, differed with these persons. If such was one of a sheriff's duties, then it would be to men the stamp of Gill and Doyle that the people must turn to find their sheriffs, as no self-respecting or respected man would be found to undertake such an obligation.

"The state, he said, should see that in case of capital punishment, the job should be done by thoroughly competent officials. This case had attracted nationwide attention, said Mr. Ketchum, in conclusion, and he trusted that the commissioner would view the matter from a broad, national standpoint.

"A classic and an eloquent one at that," were the terms used by Hon. W. P. Jones, K. C., on rising in referring to Mr. Ketchum's address. He had listened to it with the keenest pleasure and he agreed most cordially with what had been said by counsel. Hanging a man was indeed a barbarous custom declared Hon. Mr. Jones. It was a relic of former centuries, when men were strung up at street corners and allowed to hang there for days to act as a deterrent to crime. But he felt the people of Canada were a trifle ashamed of this custom. Their attitude was shown when any bungling was permitted in cases of capital punishment, he said. While the people realized that hanging was the law's decree, they greatly resented any excess of suffering on the part of the condemned man.

"Are we not to blame for this state of affairs?" asked Hon. Mr. Jones. "We have not proceeded as yet to force any change in this custom." The idea that a man of Abbot Foster's stamp should be forced to hang a man was preposterous. It was no job for any sheriff—an official who was looked up to and trusted in every community. Hangmen were looked down on by the people and this was true of the executioners all down through the ages. The dominion, at least, should provide a trained man for cases of this nature.

The inquiry, he thought, was a necessity in view of the absurdly distorted stories about in the town and the countryside. The inquiry had brought to light the true facts of the case and thus had served its purpose. It would go a little beyond its declared purpose, he felt, in that it might be the starting point towards some beneficial changes in the law regarding capital punishment. Counsel then went on and detailed the efforts of Sheriff Foster to carry through the execution without a hitch. Adjournment was made at the conclusion of Hon. Mr. Jones' address.

APPLE GROWING AND CO-OPERATIVE SELLING

United Farmers' Guide Thinks Business in New Brunswick Could be Successfully Developed

In a letter received from a valued reader in Carleton County, N. B., says the United Farmers' Guide, there is a statement that "there is hardly a farmer around here who does not raise from ten to thirty barrels of apples, the most of them of the finest quality of winter apples. They eat what they can and the rest go to the pigs."

What this farmer has written about his own district will apply to a great many other districts of the Maritime Provinces, outside of the Annapolis and Cornwallis valleys and a few other favored sections. If a single farmer undertakes to market his own crop, he will find that the cost of marketing runs away with all the returns from the crop, if not more. Consequently, he feeds his surplus to his pigs and neglects his orchard. If all of the farmers of the district were to get together and care for their trees and spray their fruit thoroughly during the spraying season, they would be able to market their fruit to advantage. The growing of good apples in New Brunswick has passed the experimental stage. Marketing is, however, the other half of agriculture. It is useless to grow good clean fruit, unless it can be sold at a price which will pay the producer for his time and attention.

In New Brunswick, the marketing of apples has not yet been carried on in a scientific way, although A. G. Turney, the Provincial Horticulturist, has been making splendid efforts to this end.

Apples are tender. They show a bruise very quickly. In order, therefore, that they may be marketed to receive the top price, they must be picked and packed carefully. The experience of other apple growing sections has shown that the growers will get most out of their apples, when they are marketed co-operatively. In all districts where apples can be grown economically, there should be formed a co-operative fruit company to dispose of the surplus just as soon as there are commercial quantities to be sold. In the neighboring province of Nova Scotia, the fruit growers have shown in no uncertain way that the speculator is not required to market the apple crop. Not so many years ago, the farmers in the Nova Scotia fruit belt produced the apples and the speculator took the returns from the crop. It is not so now. Co-operation has solved their marketing problem. The same solution will apply in the other districts of the Maritimes where apples can be grown.

OBSERVANCE OF ARMISTICE DAY

Next Saturday, Nov. 11, is Armistice Day and following the custom throughout the Allied Nations there will be two minutes cessation of all business activities at 11 a.m. in grateful remembrance of the signing of the armistice. The Observer is requested to publish the following letter from Ottawa, addressed to Lieut. Governor Pugsley:

"The Prime Minister has directed me to inform you that His Majesty and the Canadian Government desire that the two minutes silence at eleven o'clock on Armistice Day shall be observed with due solemnity and full appreciation of the important event which it commemorates. It is desired that all municipalities of this Dominion should co-operate to make the observance a reality, and I am directed to request you to take such steps as may be necessary to bring the matter to the attention of the Municipalities in your province in the most effective way.

The forty-fourth session of the Carleton-Victoria teachers' institute which met at Woodstock last week was one of the largest and most interesting ever held. One hundred and forty-six enrolled. Every session was well attended and great interest taken. The presence of E. W. Robinson, M. P. of Wolfville, and a former teacher and inspector, also of Dr. W. S. Carter, chief superintendent of education, and of L. A. Dowdell, director of rural schools for Nova Scotia, added much to the pleasure and profit of the meetings. D. W. Wallace, president, presided at the meetings.

The first session opened on Thursday morning. The secretary-treasurer, Miss Bessie Fraser, reported a balance on hand of $27.77. The enrollment fee was fixed at seventy-five cents.

The following committees were appointed: Nomination, J. W. D. Hiehl, G. W. Slipp, Miss Martha Ridd; resolutions, A. D. Jonah, Miss Edith Jones, Miss Rose McSherry, audit, J. K. Treacart, Miss Mary M. Harold, Miss Anita McCrea, Mr. Wallace, Dr. Carter, Mr. Robinson and Inspector Moore gave short addresses, principally on institutes. All expressed pleasure at the large attendance and a hope that the sessions might be helpful.

The first period of the afternoon session was taken up with an interesting address on moral education by Mr. Robinson.

Institute then divided into advanced, intermediate and primary sections. In the advanced section, Miss Mary M. Harold, principal of Plaster Rock superior school, gave an excellent lesson in algebra to a class in grade ten.

In the intermediate section, Miss Julia Neale, of the Woodstock grammar school, gave a carefully prepared lesson in Latin to a class in grade seven.

In the primary section the teachers were much interested in a lesson in reading given to a class in grade two by Miss Anita McCrea, of Arundel Junction. After the session, two Red Cross films were shown for the teachers at the moving picture theatre.

Thursday evening a public meeting was held, when excellent addresses were given by Dr. Carter, Mr. Robinson son and Mrs. Lawrence, of the Junior Red Cross, Mrs. W. S. Carter, of Fredericton, and Mrs. McKelvey, of Woodstock, sang solos. Messrs. Moore and Sprague, of Woodstock, sang a duet. Refreshments were served by the Woodstock teachers.

The third session on Friday opened at 3 o'clock, when Miss Jessie Lawson, of the Junior Red Cross, gave an interesting address on the work. This was followed by short papers on general topics. Inspector Moore spoke on Arbor Day, Miss Bessie Fraser, of teachers' institutions, and Miss Edith Jones, on examinations. Interesting discussions followed the reading of the papers.

At the afternoon session three more short papers were given: Punishment of pupils, by Miss Deborah Slipp; absence and tardiness, by A. D. Jonah, and Friday afternoon, by Miss Mary Murray.

An exhibition of physical drill was given by a class under the direction of Mr. Tillerly. L. A. Dowdell gave a much enjoyed talk on nature in the schools and its relation to other subjects.

The resolutions committee passed resolutions of thanks to Mr. Robinson, Mr. Dowdell and Dr. Carter, to those who read papers and gave lessons to the executive committee for their work in preparing the programme, to the trustees of Woodstock and the teachers, to Mrs. Lawrence and Miss Lawrence. The committee also expressed loyalty to and support of the New Brunswick Teachers' Association.

A resolution was adopted by the institute that the secretary forward to the board of education a request to have the examiners of the Nature papers in the high school entrance examinations give at least four optional questions.

The following officers were elected: President, D. W. Wallace; vice-president, Miss Julia Neale; secretary-treasurer, Miss Bessie Fraser; assistant secretary, Miss Clara Carson; additional members of the executive, H. S. Woods, Miss Doris Hanson. Institute adjourned to meet next year in Woodstock, time and place to be left to the executive.

HARTLAND CADET CORPS WINS OVER FIVE PROVINCES

Fine Rifle Awarded Hartland Senior Cadet Corps—One of Two Offered in All Canada

During the months of May and June the Canadian Rifle League offered a series of Outdoor Miniature Rifle Competitions. The prizes offered by the Canadian Rifle League were two B. S. A. Model Martini Rifles. One of these was to go to the team making best score in Manitoba or the west and the other was to go to Ontario and the provinces of the east. Hartland Cadet Corps won the latter in competition with all Canada east of Manitoba.

Two teams were entered from the Hartland corps, a junior and senior, and the senior team are the winners of the B. S. A. Rifle awarded to the eastern provinces. This rifle was made by the Birmingham Small Arms Co., Ltd., London, England, and is fitted with a No. 3A aperture and No. 15 combination foresight.

Although the Hartland Corps realized there are several excellent marksmen among the younger boys, they are surprised to be announced the winners of the competitions throughout the five provinces. The Hartland boys are very proud of their prize and during the coming season will be much more interested in Cadet work. There are always opportunities for winning prizes through the Cadets if an earnest try is made, so we hope to hear of them again.

Whether this rifle is subject to further competition for ownership will be announced later.

THE simple fact is this: there is nothing quite so good for pains and aches as Templeton's Rheumatic Capsules. The medicinal power they contain is absorbed by the blood and so carried to the seat of the pain. T.R.C.'s contain no habit-forming drugs. Their action is to remove the cause of the pain.

USING T.R.C.'s is not an experiment, many thousands of Canadians have proved the effectiveness of T.R.C.'s. The best test you can make is to get a dollar box from your druggist, or for free sample write J. G. Templeton & Co., Toronto. A postal card will bring it.

FALL IN!

Turn to the Right on and after Dec. 1

"Fall in" were familiar words to a great many a few years ago, and only a few weeks ago we were looking for the call to fall in again, and only by kind providence did events take a right turn and the call was avoided for the present at least. Now it does not matter much whether we turn to the right on Dec. 1st or after Dec. 1, as long as we get past without a collision, and so I have been considering for the last three years making what I believe to be a turn to the right for all concerned, but have delayed too I should embarrass any one more than I wished. Finally, having been compelled to do so, I have decided to fall in line with my friends, many other merchants, and sell for CASH OR ITS EQUIVALENT ONLY, on and after Dec. 1. And hope for a continuation of the liberal patronage that I have received from all in the past.

The Kidneys

The office man and the outdoor worker suffer alike from derangements of the kidneys.

Backaches and headaches are among the symptoms. In some cases Bright's disease soon develops, others suffer from high blood pressure until hardening of the arteries sets in.

In order to forestall painful and fatal diseases prompt action should be taken at the first sign of trouble.

Mr. A. D. MacKinnon, Kirkwood, Inverness county, N.S., writes:

"I can highly recommend Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills to all suffering from weak kidneys. I suffered from kidney disease for a long time. I may also say that for three years I was nearly always troubled with headache, and no treatment seemed to do more than afford temporary relief. I was finally told of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and after using a few boxes was completely relieved. I have also used Dr. Chase's Ointment with the best results, and never fail to recommend them to my friends."

After suffering from lumbago for years, and being confined to the house at times, Mr. Jones began to take Gin Pills. His letter to us reads, in part: "and much to my surprise, I at once felt a change for the better. I have been taking them at intervals, and up to date, have had no recurrence of my old trouble; in fact, I have not felt better for years."

friends of the couple treated them to

THANKSGIVING
(Edmundston Observer)

Thanksgiving Day, and Armistice Day are to be celebrated on the same day, as was the case last year.

This is in keeping with the thanksgiving spirit. As a nation Canada has much to be thankful for. It is true that there is still considerable unemployment, but compared to other countries we are singularly fortunate in this respect. It is true that wages are lower than they have been in some periods of our history and prosperity, but wages are not so low as in some lands, and there is a tendency to better things. It is true that food and clothing in some sections are higher than they should be—but compare the prices today with a year or two ago, and you will find that the tendency is downward. It is true that there has been a depression in the industrial and manufacturing world, and that that depression has not yet wholly passed, but it is surely passing, and prosperity and good times are just around the corner. And when we begin to compare Canada with other countries we see in what a fortunate position we are in. Our currency is worth a hundred cents on the dollar and the currency of some countries is not worth the paper it is printed on. Even the rich United States, which discounted our money a year ago, at ten per cent, has now to pay a premium on our dollar.

But it is not the material prosperity that we have to be thankful for the most; it is not the golden crop of wheat which has been safely garnered, nor the timber in the forest which has been turned into building material or pulp; or the silver and gold which have been mined, or the factories which have been busy. It is the fact that we have kept our soul as a Nation. Thanksgiving Day will always have an importance and a sacredness because it is associated with Armistice Day. What a tremendous significance that day has for us. What an import for millions of our small population. On that day the hosts of darkness were put to flight, on that day the dangers and liberties of the world were saved. And what a glorious part our country played. From the very first we threw ourselves in to the fight for righteousness.

There was no time in that four years of fierce fighting that the people of Canada were "too proud to fight", there was no period in our history when we had a chance to grow rich through the ravages of the great war. We did not enter the fight at the eleventh hour, but with our strong young manhood, our natural wealth, our factories, our every resource we did our part to win from a relentless for the victory which spelled Liberty and Righteousness and Truth.

Armistice day: Thanksgiving Day! And in every home where a member of the family sleeps in far off Flanders Field or France or Mesopotamia, that Canadian home has a solace, and a peace of thanksgiving can go up that the sacrifice was not made in vain and that Canada in a day grew from comparatively unknown country to have its name enrolled upon the history of the world as one of the great Nations who gave its life that it might save its soul.

And our greatest cause of thanksgiving on Thanksgiving day this year, and every succeeding year, is that, just that! We played our part; we did our task; we accomplished our ends; one with the Empire and with the Allies we held the hordes and drove them back. Praise be to God who gave us the victory, and gave us the task to do for Him.

FARMERS HARD UP

(Fredericton Mail)

At a meeting of Carleton and Victoria farmers last week a resolution was passed calling upon the federal government to loan them money at a low rate of interest to enable them to meet payments coming due and to tide over the present period of depression in the agricultural industry. The farmers of New Brunswick are not the only tillers of the soil who are hard up at the present time. In fact the depression in this great basic industry appears to be world wide. Only a few days ago representative agriculturists of Great Britain appointed a delegation to wait upon the prime minister—with a view of seeing what could be done to give relief to those engaged in the industry.

There is also depression in the United States and last week at Chicago we are told fifty business men, including representatives of the railroads, great meat packing and manufacturing industries passed a resolution pledging themselves to co-operate and enlist co-operation to aid the farmers, whom they described as facing "deplorable conditions."

President Howard of the American Farm Bureau Federation was responsible for the meeting. He announced that it was called to gain the assistance of big business in remedying the farm situation, which he said threatened to reduce American farmers to a condition of serfdom comparable only to that existing in Russia.

"Agriculture is the biggest business in this country," declared Mr. Legge, "eight or ten times larger than its nearest rival. Unless the present conditions are remedied farmers will be reduced to serfdom. This may mean the farmers' funeral, but big business although it may not think so, will sit on the mourners' bench."

President Howard declared that the farmers' average individual profit in 1920 was only $186, out of which he had to educate his children, pay doctor bills, buy clothes, care for deterioration, upkeep and insurance. "This is the third consecutive year prices received have fallen below cost of production," he added.

There is no doubt that excessive transportation costs have seriously hampered the farming industry in this country. If the Federal government is to give relief it should come in the form of a substantial reduction in freight rates. The crops last season were fairly good but the farmers appear to have difficulty in turning their produce into cash.

POPPY DAY

Nov. 11 is poppy day and the G. W. V. A. will have poppies to sell at the regular meeting of the G. W. V. A. on Friday, Nov. 3. Let us all remember the words of Lord Byron of Vimy, our Governor General, "Remember the dead by helping the living."

Do not forget Lt. Governor Fugate's letter published in the columns of The Observer.

Big Change

"The Tin pulled me down to where I was almost a skeleton and left me in such a miserable state of health that life seemed hardly worth living. My circulation was so weak that my limbs, hands and feet were actually blue. I could not keep a bite of solid food on my stomach and for a whole month the only nourishment I could take was a small quantity of milk."

"Words can't describe how I suffered from indigestion. At times my heart would almost stand still and I simply had to fight for breath, and I had such bad dizzy spells that I could not see."

"Something seemed to keep telling me that if I would take Tania I would get better and that is just what happened. For I had not taken more than three doses until I began to feel stronger. After finishing my sixth bottle I was eating just anything I wanted and found I had gained more than thirty pounds in weight. I can now do all my housework and look after the children and still feel as fresh at the end of the day as when I start in the morning."

The above statement was recently made by Mrs. George Shearing, 268 Chebucto Road, Halifax, N. S. Tania is sold by all good druggists.

RAILWAY RATES AND IMMIGRATION DISCUSSED AT C.P.R. ANNUAL

President E. W. Beatty Deals With Important Matters Affecting All Canada In Address To Company's Shareholders

E. W. BEATTY
President C.P.R.

In my opinion, Canada cannot afford to be without a definite and forward immigration policy much longer. While it is urged that the depression both in agriculture and in general industry with consequent unemployment during the past winter is a reason why active immigration measures should not be taken, it must not be forgotten that there are types of immigrants that can be readily obtained and brought to Canada without the possibility of adding to the burden of the country. The immigration of young people of British stock can be accomplished without affecting in any material degree the existing situation respecting unemployment. The immigration of domestic servants in substantial numbers may reasonably be encouraged and the immigration of agriculturalists from Northern Europe, Great Britain and the United States who can only be secured in limited numbers should be actively prosecuted. In addition, the Government would, I think, be well warranted in framing a policy designed to permit more general immigration of carefully selected types from countries, the people of which have heretofore come to this country and succeeded under Canadian conditions. It must not be forgotten that Canada's opportunities deserve widespread recognition and even if adequate machinery is now being set up, it will not be until 1923 that the results of the Government's activities will be felt. Unless we feel that the conditions in this country will not be improved for some considerable time to come it would appear that the preliminary steps to obtain immigrants in substantial numbers should be taken without further delay. The Canadian Pacific for many years has been the most active colonization agency in Canada. Settlers to the number of 54,000 have been placed upon its lands alone and the cost of its incorporation has been extremely large, amounting in the aggregate to approximately $68,000,000, an amount in excess of the total expenditure of the Dominion Government for immigration during that period.

As foretold in the address at the last annual meeting, reductions took place during the year in both rates of wages and in freight and passenger rates; the former which became effective July 1st last was equivalent to a reduction of 9.03 per cent on then existing payrolls of the company. The demand for further freight rate reductions is still persistent throughout Canada and to the existing scale of rates is attributed much of the present slackness in business. It is, in my opinion, an entirely erroneous impression that the existing freight rates are the cause rather than the result of the present economic conditions, the most important of which from a transportation standpoint is the present scale of wages and working conditions which the railways were compelled by Government authority to accept during the war. It is the view of your directors and it has been their view for some time that the scaling downwards of freight rates should be begun with reductions on basic commodities, especially in those industries which have felt the general depression most severely. Notwithstanding the willingness of the companies to make sacrifices in their revenues in the hope that a lower scale of rates on basic commodities would give an impetus to business activity, they have been precluded from agreeing on a definite policy because of the approaching expiration on 7th July next of the provisions of the Railway Act allowing the Railway Commission to make rates irrespective of agreements, statutory or other. In 1897 an agreement was made between the company and the Government and confirmed by Parliament whereby in consideration of the receipt by the company of a subsidy of $3,300,000 in aid of the construction of a railway to the Crow's Nest and Southern British Columbia reductions in rates on certain named commodities shipped from Eastern Canada to points in the West and on grain to Fort William were exacted with the obvious intent of assisting the colony of the Prairie Provinces. The so-called Crow's Nest rates on the commodities specified are from 19 per cent to 49 per cent lower than the rates at present being charged. The intention of Parliament at that time undoubtedly was to create special rates which would be entitled to collect and which would be legal though not bearing a fair relation to other rates. At that time the Canadian Pacific operated about 7,300 miles of railway but in a desire to give equality of rates to territories contiguous to those mentioned in the statute though not supplied with railroads facilities, the company extended the application of rates to the lines subsequently constructed or acquired so that in 1918 the application of the miles of railway was extended to 13,772. During the period subsequent to 1897 many thousands of additional miles of railway were constructed by other companies now included in the National Railway System. The rates effective on this line in effect on the lines of these railways so that it is safe to say that the so-called Crow's Nest rates were in practice applied to five times the mileage in operation at the time the agreement was made. The Crow's Nest scale of rates if applied literally would bring about an inequality of treatment between different parts of Western Canada which must, of necessity, favor some districts over others which now enjoy relatively equal rates. The Government desire to have the facts considered by a special committee of Parliament with particular reference to the operating costs of the railway and to the result of the application of the Crow's Nest scale upon the revenues of the National Railways and of other railways. The situation has been twice reviewed by the late Government, into effect in 1918 when the rates were suspended by Order-in-Council under the War Measures Act because of the inability of the companies (in view of the heavy costs of operation) otherwise to carry on successfully and to perform the essential at that time; and again in 1919 when power to deal with the rates irrespective of the provisions of special agreements was conferred upon the Railway Commission. In both instances the view of the Government apparently was that Parliament, in establishing the Crow's Nest rates had not in contemplation the extraordinary increase in the operating costs of the railways which had been carried on in recent years or the inequalities and discriminations which might be created under the scale of rates then imposed. While considerable progress has been made in reducing expenses, there still exists a serious increase above pre-war costs and the wage scale of 1921 are higher by percentages ranging from 48 per cent to 565 per cent than those existing in 1898 and 1899, and the cost of principal commodities, including fuel and rails is also substantially higher; the increase in the case of rails being 92.32 per cent and fuel 177.4 per cent. The operating ratio of the company in 1897 was $7.16 per cent, while for the year 1921 it was $2.25 per cent. The situation in one respect is in the hands of Parliament which alone can deal with it because of statutory restrictions. I regard the stability of railway rates in Canada (even if readjustments downwards are bound to continue until normal operating conditions are reached) as being of the greatest possible importance to all Canadian railways. For the past four years the extraordinary conditions which prevailed have compelled drastic economies and the conserving of the resources of the companies wherever possible. It has prevented the increasing of facilities and improvements in maintenance and the construction of new lines because no company would be justified in spending freely for these purposes in the absence of adequate revenues. The large railway systems of Canada, are, of course, the chief purchasers of material and supplies and to the extent to which their purchases for any purpose, including new construction, are prevented by the uncertainty of financial return on the money invested a return to prosperity is retarded.

I had been hopeful that the present year would see a resumption of at least normal activity in maintenance and construction works, the necessity for which always prevails on a system the size of the Canadian Pacific. Apparently, however, we have not reached the period at which we can say that large expenditures are warranted, especially in view of the freight-rate situation. The steps preliminary to the readjustment of wage scales and working conditions are proceeding both in the United States and in Canada. The procedure being followed in that country, being followed by the labor unions and by the laws of the United States and Canada. An early decision is hoped for in respect of some of the matters in dispute but the proceedings are of necessary protraction, and decisions are not, therefore, reached speedily.

Gross earnings on all Canadian roads still show substantial decreases under those of the corresponding period of 1921. Crop conditions, however, so far as they can be judged at this date, are very favorable and there is a returning spirit of optimism and activity which should grow in volume if the agricultural prospects are realized. The company's taxation is not unnaturally increasing from year to year, approximately $10,000,000 having accrued in Federal taxes during the last five and a half years. As indicated in the Annual Report the finances of the company are in splendid condition and the credit of the company has been well maintained and is extremely high, and it is, I think, of national importance that it should be so maintained.

While there are some serious and difficult problems yet to be solved, the general sentiment of the country shows a distinct improvement over that prevailing at the end of last year and the beginning of 1921. I am very hopeful that the importance of the transportation agencies of Canada being permitted to undertake their full share in the country's advancement will receive due recognition and if it does I am convinced that the return to normal conditions will be greatly accelerated. Your company will, as always, endeavor to perform its part with the purpose of advancing the expansion of the country agriculturally and industrially. Few institutions are so linked up with the prosperity of Canada as is the Canadian Pacific and its ability to maintain a high credit has in a large measure contributed to the support received by other Canadian enterprises. Its progression should be step by step with that of the country itself.

Railway News

Hardisty, Alta.—Work has just been completed on the C.P.R. bridge, Hardisty, after a great deal of labor has been spent on it.

The trestle was begun in 1906, when the railway came to Hardisty, and trains ran over in 1908. The trestle is 2,714 ft. long, 70 ft. high, and has in it 1,800,000 ft. board measure of lumber, as well as 27,000 ft. of piling. It is estimated that it has taken 800,000 tons of material to make the fill.

The present bridge presents a safe and perfect means of transit.

St. John, N.B.—Five members of the Baseball Writers' Association of the United States arrived in St. John from Montreal. They were Fred Lieb of the New York Evening Telegram, who is president of the Writers' Association; Sid Mercer of the New York Evening Journal; Irvin Vaughan of the Chicago Tribune; Denman Thompson of the Washington Star; and Ed Ballinger of the Pittsburgh Post. They left on the S.S. Aranmore for Digby, en route to the Kegonsakoo district where they will hunt big game. The party are the guests of the C.P.R. The trip was arranged by Joe Page, baseball writer and sport enthusiast, who is a special representative of the C.P.R. He met the majority of the writers in New York and accompanied them to Montreal, Quebec and as far as this city.

The visitors were met at the station by G. Bruce Burpee, district passenger agent of the C.P.R., and C. B. Allan, secretary of the New Brunswick Tourist and Resources Association, and driven to the Royal Hotel.

Montreal—A press dispatch from Calgary crediting to the secretary of the Federated Shop Trades there a statement to the effect that the C.P.R. and certain other railways had knowledge of the conciliation board's award some days before it was filed with the department of labor and in consequence thereof had paid the reduced rates of wages as set by the conciliation board, prior to the announcement of the award by the department of labor, was brought to the attention of George Hodge, assistant general manager of the C.P.R.—Eastern lines, who conducted the board for conciliation and investigation.

Mr. Hodge denied most emphatically the correctness of the statement. He said further that as far as the C.P.R. was concerned it had no knowledge of the award until it was received at the company's offices on September 4, and that instructions to restore rates of pay which had previously been put into effect as from July 16, were issued under date of September 5, making the reduced rates effective as from August 16.

Moore Jaw—"One hundred per cent more grain has been handled by the Canadian Pacific Railway up to the middle of October this year, than ever before for the same period. That will give you an idea of the way the grain is being taken out of the country," said Mr. Chas. Murphy, general manager of Western Lines of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

He expressed himself very well pleased with the movement of the crop throughout the whole West. When asked as to the possibility of a grain blockade, Mr. Murphy stated that the Canadian Pacific was accepting all grain that was being offered. He pointed out that on one day over four million bushels had been taken out of Fort William and Port Arthur. Mr. Murphy pointed out that there was difficulty in getting bottoms on the lakes to take the grain out, but the elevators were far from being full, and the Canadian Pacific still had the big Transcona elevator empty.

Already Mr. Murphy stated there was a large quantity of grain being shipped from the head of the lakes by the all rail route. He declared that he could see no grain blockade in sight.

Mr. Murphy pointed out that the Canadian Pacific had moved 14,000 cars off the Saskatchewan division of the railway. This was five thousand more cars of Saskatchewan wheat than had been moved in the same period in any year.

He also pointed out that even with the unprecedented grain movement the Canadian Pacific was moving from 250 to 275 carloads per day from the Western coal mines. "There was thirteen thousand tons moved yesterday," he declared. "I was here three weeks or a month ago and at that time I stated we were moving 250 to 275 cars of coal a day, and the movement has been kept at that ever since. We realize, he declared, that the wheat can be moved during the cold weather and people can live, but if the cold weather comes and there is no coal, there will be great suffering in the country, and possibly worse."

MOTOR AND BIG MOOSE IN COLLISION

Houlton, Me., Oct. 31—The State of Maine may have to stand for a large share of the expense of repairing Emery Conlogue's automobile damaged by one of the State animals, a bull moose, which came out of the woods obstructed the highway and was struck by the five passenger car and thrown to the hood where he rode with hoots as well as horns well off the ground until the machine was stopped.

As the moose tried to regain its feet it crowded against the windshield demolishing it. It bent and scatted the mudguards and crushed the hood. It thrashed wildly with its antlers head scarring the sides of the car and driving a hole through it.

The driver quite as frightened as was the forest monarch was likewise "taken off his feet" and let the car go on for some distance before he gathered his wits enough to stop it.

When the car halted the moose rolled from his perch to the road side, balanced himself for a moment, belated twice and crashed off into the bush.

ANOTHER GOLD FIND REPORTED IN PROVINCE

Chas. Smith of Centreville, Takes Out Searching License

Another gold find has been reported to the Provincial Department of Lands and Mines. The latest is by Charles Smith, a resident of Centreville, who claims that the gold was first discovered by himself a year ago in the vicinity of Centreville.

Mr. Smith, accompanied by two friends, appeared at the Crown Land Office and went through the necessary formalities to obtain a searching license covering four acres which he said it was his intention to work himself. The find was euphematically declared to be the "real stuff" by the prospector, who is a comparatively young man. Mr. Smith was not overly anxious to give more than general details of his treasure which he claims is distributed among small rock and not in nugget form.

This is the second gold find to be reported in the province within three weeks, the first being reported by J. H. Corbett of Petit Rocher, Gloucester County, who procured searching licenses for areas in the vicinity of Shippeagan Village, Gloucester County.

MRS. ANNIE SQUIRES

At Bath on the morning of Oct. 23 Mrs. Annie Squires, widow of the late Thomas Squires and on old and respected resident of Bath, passed away very suddenly at the home of her youngest son, Samuel, with whom she made her home, and where she came as a bride nearly 40 years ago. She leaves to mourn, six children—Scott of California, Hartford of Upper Kent, Mrs. Eldon A. Perley, McDonald's Point, Queens county, Mrs. Frank Tweedie, Upper Wicklow, Mrs. Wm. McCormick, Upper Woodstock and Samuel, with whom she lived. She also leaves sixteen grand children and five great grand children. Also two brothers, George Bell of Bridge-water, and Scott Bell of East Florenceville, Mrs. Benjamin Tompkins and Mrs. Thomas Waugh of East Florenceville. She was 81 years of age and was in her usual health up to the last.

CRAWFORD-SIMONDS

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elsie J. Crawford, Royalton, on Nov. 1, when their only daughter, Birde Evelyn, was united in marriage to Edward Allison Simonds also of Royalton, by Rev. I. P. Reistad in the presence of about forty guests. Mrs. Donald Simonds played the wedding march as the bridal party entered the parlor. The bridesmaid was Miss Mary Owens, while the groom was supported by Clare Crawford, a brother of the bride.

The bride wore a handsome gown of white crepe de chine trimmed with lace silver with veil, and carried a bouquet of American beauty roses. The bridesmaid wore a pretty dress of pink silk and carried a bouquet of white and pink carnations. They were married beneath an arch of evergreens. The groom's gift to the bride was a set of furs; to the bridesmaid a beautiful necklace of gold with pendant set with aqua-marine, and to the best man a gold pencil. After a sumptuous supper was served the happy couple left for a trip to New York and Boston, followed by all good wishes of the community where they are held in high esteem. The travelling dress was brown velvet.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL ITEMS

On the evening of Monday, Oct. 23, young friends to the number of 65 gathered at the home of Miss Iva Mildred Kennedy and tendered her with a shower. Many pretty and useful gifts were brought along and a pleasant evening was spent by all present, interspersed with a lot of dainty eats. Rev. and Mrs. Canham and family wish to thank their many friends for the kindness and sympathy extended to them during their stay in Centreville. It was impossible and too hard to say good bye.

On Wednesday evening Tom Moore starred in a well written comedy-drama, "Mr. Barnes of New York." The story opened in a duel scene in Italy where the Yankee got tangled up in a vendetta. After numerous entanglements the piece ended happily in the United States. Charlie Chaplin in the funniest of all "Sunshine," a new three ruler, kept the audience in hysterical applause. On Saturday night Tom Mix and his horse Tony were at their best in "A Hiding Romeo," wherein all the sub titles were screamingly funny in themselves and the action the most fast and furious possible. Matt and Jeff in "A Messy Christmas" rounded out the bill. Don't forget to give this week's program on the bottom of this page the once over.

On Nov. 22 Rev. H. R. Bell will preach at 10:30 a.m. at Centreville 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. Carvell at 3 p.m. Special music at the evening service.

Brook Allan of Fredericton, N. B. conductor, who was injured in an auto accident last summer was here on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Joe Estabrook have moved into their home here for the winter. Rev. and Mrs. C. R. Canham have sent their household furniture to their new home and will shortly follow. Mr. Canham is spending the week-end in his new parish.

Rev. Mr. Stead and family arrived from Newfoundland on Monday and have taken residence in the rectory. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bliv of Woodstock have leased the Hoyt residence for the winter. Bert Hawkins left for Waterville, Me. on Monday morning.

Our wish hat to match. They received many beautiful and useful gifts.

OWENS-KENNEDY

A wedding of much interest to a wide circle of friends was solemnized on Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 25, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis W. Kennedy, Tracey Mills, when their elder daughter, Miss Iva Mildred, was united in marriage to Harry Lee Owens, of Royalton. To the strains of the bridal, chimes, skillfully played by Miss Nada Kennedy, sister of the bride, the bride descended the stairway and entered the parlor, accompanied by her father. Under a beautiful arch of pink and blue crepe paper the ceremony was performed by Rev. R. A. Burrows, pastor of the United Baptist church, Tracey Mills. The bride wore a gown of lawn Canton crepe. After the ceremony and congratulations, the guests repaired to the dining room, where a substantial repast was provided. The gifts presented to the bride were numerous, beautiful and useful. Afterwards Mr. and Mrs. Owens left for their new home in Royalton, with the best wishes of a host of friends.

A pall of sadness hovered over our community on Tuesday, when neighbors and friends heard that little Charles Roberts, the two year old son of Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Cliff, had died in Boston at 2 p.m. Just one week had elapsed since the little fellow had been seized by a baffling illness, that, despite best medical attention, seemed to get him closer to its fell grip. On Monday, by advice of the family physician, he was taken into the Children's Hospital, Boston, for observation and treatment, but loving ministrations availed little and the little boy relinquished his short tenure of life here the following day. The stricken parents returned on Thursday with the little mortal dress that an angel occupied so briefly, and the funeral was held at the home on Thursday afternoon. No eyes were dry as the service was conducted by Rev. H. R. Bell, assisted by Rev. Hugh Miller, and interment was made in the family lot in the United Baptist cemetery, in a bed of roses and carnations. A perfect specimen of virtue, young childhood, bright and precocious, little Robert had endeared himself to all who knew him and will be much missed by everyone.

Miss Mary Harold spent the week-end at the Institute, Woodstock, and at her home here.

Miss Portia Reid of Vancouver spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. John Reid.

Miss Mary Gallagher of Fredericton spent Thanksgiving with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Gallagher.

All stores in town were closed for the holiday on Monday.

Mr. R. Stiles returned last week from St. John.

Mr. Fairweather of Hampton was the guest of Dr. and Mrs. F. M. Brown on Wednesday.

Much local interest is being manifested in the recent gold strike near here, and whether or not Centreville will be another Dawson City in the near future, remains to be seen. The pick and shovel brigade will get a greatly increased array of devotees.

Miss Winnie Golden of Greenfield visited her aunt, Mrs. C. A. Long, over the week-end.

Card of Thanks

To each and all of our friends, who by kindly deeds and words of sincere sympathy, helped to make the illness and death of our little boy, Charles Robert, a little less grievous to us, we desire this publicly to express our heartfelt appreciation and gratitude.

Mr. and Mrs. Burr E. Orr.
