ROMANCE IN REAL LIFE.
The Manchester Mirror publishes the following story:
In the fall of 1847, a young man came to this city from a northern county in quest of employment in the mill. After weeks of unsuccessful effort, he became reduced to the pitiable necessity of disposing of his best clothes, in order to obtain means to liquidate his bills and seek employment elsewhere. After consulting about disposing of his clothing at auction, he returned to his boarding house to pick up the same, when the lady of the house handed him a letter directed to him in a female hand, which she informed him had been left there by a boy; which, on being opened, was found to contain $20 in bank bills, with a note of hand for the same amount, accompanied with the following explanation:
"Mr. —, Knowing your pressing wants, and having the means at my disposal, I send you $20—with which you will please immediately settle your board bill, and call at the card room in — Mill, on — Corporation when by applying to the overseer, whom I have seen, you will be able, by giving your name, to obtain a situation as card stripper. The work may not be desirable, but persevere, and in time it will lead to something better. In return for the money, you will please sign the accompanying note, which you will enclose in an envelope, without dictation, and with a penny for postage, request the Postmaster to place it in box No. —."
A STRANGER.
The note was made payable to bearer. Though greatly surprised at such a timely favor from the hand of an entire stranger, he gladly availed himself of it, and impelled by an irresistible power, he obeyed all the directions of the very letter. On application to the designated room he found that the situation had been secured for him, through the earnest solicitation of a young lady, who was equally a stranger to the overseer, yet whose pleadings he could not withstand.
The whole transaction was so unusual that after our hero, by assiduous devotion to his business, had secured the confidence of his overseer, he related to him the whole affair, and solicited his aid in endeavoring to obtain the name and whereabouts of his benefactress. He entered willingly into the plans; yet two years had passed, and the mystery remained unsolved. In the meantime, the card stripper had been promoted to grinder, and had laid by his earnings the $20, with the interest, in the Savings Bank, so as to be prepared to settle so just a claim at any moment.
In his first endeavors to unravel the mystery, he applied to the Post Office, but found on inquiry, that the letter box in which the money had been placed was not used by anybody, permanently, at the time of the occurrence. Every succeeding attempt in other directions proved equally abortive, until at last he ceased all effort, and resolved to wait for coming events to unfold, or coming time reveal the mystery.
Our hero, after a residence of over four years in this city, had formed some very valuable acquaintances, and it is not strange, that notwithstanding his pecuniary obligations to one, he had formed a very intimate acquaintance with another of the fair sex. True, his moral sense rebelled at first, against yielding up his affections to one while being so strongly under gratitude to another; but gratitude to the unknown was compelled to surrender, at last, to the captivating image of the known. He made explanation, however, for his ingratitude, by frankly confessing to his beloved, what another of her sex had done for him, without solicitation, in the hour of his deepest necessity.
She laughed outright at such an unmaidenly act; declared it proceeded from impulse not regard, of which it was evident the actor felt ashamed, and hence her studied silence. And she took occasion to console him with the suggestion, that by the deposit he had made of the amount received, he had fully absolved himself from all further obligation. His lady love being both law and gospel, he acknowledged the truthfulness of her suggestion, and resigned his affections, without reserve, into her keeping.
As one of the most natural things under the sun, they concluded at last to get married. The day was set—but a day preceding which, he received a note through the Post Office in a letter, which contained the following:
"Mr. —, Sir—By calling this evening at No. — street, and paying the note, with interest, which I hold against you, you will save expense."
A STRANGER.
He called as directed, being extremely anxious to settle a demand which from the very mystery which surrounded it, made him at times feel unhappy. He was received at the door by a domestic, who conducted him to the parlor, where, to his surprise, he discovered in waiting note in hand, his own dearly beloved—the one he was the next day to call by the endearing name of wife.

Explanations followed, which may be left to the imagination of our readers. Suffice it to say, they were married at the time set, and today the gentleman stands conspicuous as one of the most industrious and respectable of our intelligent manufacturing population; and his amiable wife has occasion to rejoice constantly, that in the fall of 1847, she had twenty dollars to spare.
MRS. PRY AND HER NEIGHBORS.
Look through the blind Betty, then they can't see you, said Mrs. Pry to her servant girl, as they stood in the parlor together taking notes of their opposite neighbors' doings. There is three of them, an old lady, and a young one, and a gentleman, said Betty, presently, in a low but distinct tone, as she stood first on up-stair, then half bent over, to secure the best view.
Three did you say, then they must have company, for I have never seen but just two, the old lady and young man, go in or out of that house, said Mrs. Pry in a positive manner.
Well, the other one looks kind o' lady like, as though she had been away to a boarding school, said Betty in reply.
Push! Betty, I guess girls can look lady like if they don't go to a boarding school. There is my Euphrasia Ann, now, she never went to one in her life, and everlastingly says she is remarkably lady like.
Yes, ma'am I know she is, replied the girl smiling and making faces by turns to her mistress who stood just behind her.
They've gone now, and somebody has pulled down the shades to the window, so I can't see any more, said Betty presently, and then Mr. Pry came herself and looked out of the window, and then they both went out of the parlor into the sitting room together, and from there Betty went into the kitchen.
I wonder how it would do for me to call there again, said Mrs. Pry, in a sulky tone, as she sat down to her sewing a little while afterwards. They're getting sort of folks I am sure, and just such people as I should like Euphrasia Ann to associate with. The young gentleman especially, his mother said he was literally engaged—I suppose she meant he was studying law, but I didn't like to ask her, and the girl—come to think of it, now, must be his sister—yes, the old lady did say she had a daughter off at school somewhere. I told her then I should like to have my Euphrasia Ann make her acquaintance, and she smiled and said Lucy—I believe she called her Lucy—wasn't at home much of the time. Let me see, it is just three weeks ago since I called there, now, and she hasn't returned it. Well I suppose she doesn't go out much, and still I don't like to call again so quick. Euphrasia Ann shall call; yes that is just the thing—she shall go this very evening, if they come back, and she will have a fine chance to get acquainted with the son and daughter both. When she is married, or engaged even, as she ought to be now, for she is sixteen, we can think of bringing out Edith Cornelia, but their father won't hear a word about it until then.
Betty, said Mrs. Pry presently, in a little louder voice.
Ma'am, answered Betty, as she stuck her head in from the dining room door.
You may go over to Mrs. Hooper's and see her girl a little while if you wish.
Yes ma'am, replied the servant showing her teeth.
And Betty—
Ma'am!
Don't forget to find out if the gentleman is coming home to night, and if that young lady is his sister.
Yes ma'am, to be sure, says Betty shutting the door.
Well Betty gave you had a pleasant time? inquired Mrs. Pry, as her servant returned just before time to get tea.
O yes ma'am; every thing is very ill-gone over there.
And the gentleman he is brother to the young lady I suppose, said Mrs. Pry interposing, gaily.
Bless yer, no the lady is his wife, so Mary says, said Betty, upraising her eyebrows, at the same time as though to sympathize with her mistress' astonishment.
Not the old lady, you don't mean Betty?
No the young one, to be sure I mane, said Betty.
Why the ient hall as good looking as Euphrasia Ann. O dear, I wish she poor dear could get an offer. And Mrs. Pry forgot all about making her new neighbor's acquaintance, in the prospect of her daughter being an old maid, from the fact that she was sixteen and had not had one offer yet.—[American Patriot.]

THE STANDARD.
The following Addresses were presented to His Excellency the Hon. Governor by the Inhabitants of St. Andrews, on Wednesday last, to which he was pleased to make replies:—
ADDRESS OF THE MAGISTRATES, CLERGYMEN, &c.
To His Excellency the Honorable JOHN HENRY THOMAS MANNERS SUTTON, Lieutenant Governor and Commander in Chief of the Province of New Brunswick, &c. &c. May it please your Excellency:—
We, the MAGISTRATES, CLERGYMEN, and other Inhabitants of Saint Andrews have much satisfaction in welcoming your Excellency, and in expressing the pleasure we feel at your taking so early an opportunity of visiting this portion of your Government, and the gratification we derive from Her Majesty having appointed a gentleman of your distinction to succeed so eminent a man as your esteemed predecessor, the Governor General of Canada.
Your Excellency will be interested to know that this town was originally settled by American Loyalists in the year 1783, by men who preferred sacrificing their possessions in the United States to compromising their patriotism and attachment to their Sovereign.
We assure your Excellency that we their descendants and followers are not less imbued with the same spirit, as those devoted men, we entertain loyal feelings to our Queen, love for our Mother Country, its Government and institutions, and deeply sympathize with her in the severe (though just) war in which she is now engaged.
We regret that since vessels have entered and cleared at the Port, the trade and commerce of this Town has seriously declined, and that our harbour no longer presents the busy scene it used to do in former years, but we beg your Excellency not to consider us selfish as to envy the greater advantages given to the Port, we only deplore, that obstacles should be opposed to our exertions to revive our former trade, by the construction of the Railroad to Woodstock, as that great work will (we feel satisfied) when completed, add consequence and renewed prosperity to the Town, as well as encourage Emigration to, and increase the trade of the Province in general.
Permit us to express the hope that your Excellency will be pleased with this section of the Province, and that your stay in New Brunswick may be among the brightest days of your life, and that health and happiness may be the portion of your Excellency, the Honorable Mrs. Manners Sutton, and family during your sojourn among us.

[REPLY.]
GENTLEMEN,—I have gladly availed myself of an early opportunity to visit this portion of the Province; and I thank you for the cordial welcome which you have given me on this my first visit to St. Andrews.
I am well aware that you inherit that spirit of Patriotism and of attachment to the Crown which so eminently distinguished the first settlers of St. Andrews; the expression of your sympathy in the war in which Her Majesty is now engaged, affords an additional proof of the unity of feeling which pervades every portion of the British Empire, and animates Her Majesty's subjects in every part of the world.
I sincerely regret that the Commerce of this Town in particular, should have experienced a temporary check;—but, gentlemen, there is no reason to doubt that the energy and industry, which have raised New Brunswick to the commercial position which she now holds, will, with the blessing of God, restore prosperity to her trade; and I trust that St. Andrews will partake largely of the benefits which the recent opening of new markets for our produce holds out to the commerce of the Province and especially to that of this locality.
You have in your Address adverted to the railway works which are in course of construction here, I fully recognize the importance of these works and I trust that means may be found to remove the impediments that have retarded their progress.
I can assure you, both for myself and for Mrs. Manners Sutton that the salubrity of the climate, the beauty of the scenery, the good feeling that pervades the inhabitants of the Province, have combined to tender our residence in New Brunswick, most agreeable.
I thank you heartily for the good wishes which you have expressed towards us and our family.

Address of the Merchants, Tradesmen and Mechanics.
To His Excellency the Honorable John Henry Thomas Manners Sutton, Lieutenant Governor and Commander in Chief of the Province of New Brunswick, &c. &c. May it please your Excellency:
We the Merchants, Tradesmen and Mechanics, of the Town of St. Andrews, beg leave to approach your Excellency with feelings of profound respect, deeply sensible of the honor conferred upon us by the opportunity of expressing to your Excellency, the hearty welcome with which we greet your first arrival in the Frontier County Town of this Province, and of assuring your Excellency of our devoted attachment to Her Majesty's person and Government, and the satisfaction we experience in the choice by our Gracious Queen, of your Excellency, as Her Representative in the administration of this important Colony.
We are earnestly anxious to call your Excellency's attention to the natural facilities afforded by the geographical position of this Town, (in consequence of its close proximity to the Atlantic, its safe and commodious Harbour, open at all seasons of the year, and its situation on an estuary commanding the lumbering operations of a very large portion of the Province;) for the extension of the commerce and staple trade of the Colony.
These circumstances having been considered as encouraging, as to cause the investment of British capital to a large amount, in the commencement of a Railway towards Quebec, (he works on which we are happy to think your Excellency will have an opportunity of inspecting) and by the completion of which the greatest benefit must accrue not only to this County but also to the Province at large, induces us respectfully to point out to your Excellency the great injury and suffering which is entailed upon us, by the stoppage of the works on the Line, and which in the general prevailing depression has caused the trade and commerce of the town to languish and decrease to such a degree that many of our body (with deep regret) are contemplating the alternative which will be forced upon them of seeking other fields for their labor and enterprise, unless a stimulus be given to Trade by the resumption of the works on the Railroad, and which we are led to believe can only be effected by the facilities conferred by the Legislature on the Company, being granted to them without delay.
Notwithstanding, however, the depression under which we are labouring, we feel confident that the inhabitants of this town will vie with each other in striving to render the stay of your Excellency and the Honble. Mrs. Manners Sutton among us as pleasurable and gratifying as possible; and while we sincerely believe that your Excellency is actuated by the most earnest desire to promote the welfare and happiness of the people so worthily confided to your care, we trust that the beauty of our neighbourhood, and its well known salubrity may often afford us the opportunity of again and again welcoming your Excellency and family to St. Andrews.

[REPLY.]
To the Merchants, Tradesmen, and Mechanics, of the Town of St. Andrews.
GENTLEMEN,—The People of New Brunswick have always been conspicuous for their attachment to their Sovereign; and I regard the hearty welcome which you have given on this my first visit here as the Representative of Her Majesty, as a gratifying proof of your loyal devotion to our Queen and of your reliance in Her Majesty's gracious wish to promote the welfare of Her subjects in this Province.
I am fully sensible of the importance of the geographical position of this Town; I trust that the commercial depression which now exists may be of short duration, and that your industrial pursuits may be again attended with that success, which formerly marked the history of St. Andrews.
No proper exertion will be wanting on my part to show that I share the interest which you take in the railway works to which you have called my attention.
I request you, on behalf of Mrs. Manners Sutton and the rest of my family as well as for myself to accept for the kindly feelings which you entertain towards us; and I assure you that we appreciate the cordiality of your welcome.

The French and English Ministers could not give a reply, but it is understood that they assent to a meeting Count Buol will thereat again attempt to arrange with the Point.
Berlin papers report that the Austrian mediatory proposal is that Russia and Turkey settle between themselves the number of ships they will keep in the Black Sea, England and France to keep each 2 ships there, and Turkey undertaking not to enter into any Treaty with Russia unless submitted to France and England.
According to Vienna papers the Conference will be re-opened and a meeting would be held Saturday 26th, without the Russian plenipotentiaries, and another on Monday 28th, at which they would probably be present, but Palmerston's explanation in Parliament would indicate that these meetings are preliminary only.
Austrian envoy, M. Roonke, leaves immediately for Frankfurt to urge the immediate mobilization of the German federal force.
It is further reported that Austria has sent secret circulars to all German Courts insisting that each State shall specify distinctly the line of conduct it means to follow.
NEW PLAN OF OPERATIONS.—Pellissier's appointment is universally popular with the army. Operations of great war are confidently hoped for—is surmised he will in the bold attempt to cut off Liprandi's army—it is said Omar Pacha has offered to take and hold Simpheropol with the Turks if the French will support his advance.

All the troops from the camp of Mesaki have now been shipped to the Crimea. The siege correspondent from English camp May 8th, says army is well supplied with luxuries as well as necessities, but some fever and cholera still prevail. Many improvements have been made at Balaklava harbour. Hard labour is abundant.
May 10th.—Severe night combat—long night attack; musket and bayonet fight continued one hour and a half, then Russians retired under cover of batteries. City and Allied batteries kept up hot fire 2 hours longer—loss considerable, but number not regarded.
May 11th.—Another Russian attack; night was very dark; fight lasted one half hour.
May 12th.—Another sortie against fort attack. During a severe rain storm a darkness, the Russians charged up to British trenches, and some leaped over the parapet and were bayoneted. Russians fought desperately. Rain had damaged their ammunition, and they attacked with rocks—their loss was severe. British lost a Captain and over 100 killed and disabled.
May 10th.—Gortschakoff telegraphs, enemies' fire is weak, our losses moderate.
Both sides are repairing and erecting batteries.
Severe battle before the walls. General Feltier telegraphs, May 24th.—A very hotly fought, directed against our important position has lasted all night; we obtained a complete success. The enemy's loss was enormous, and our's considerable.

BRITAIN.

Great debate ensued in Parliament on evening of 24th, when Disraeli brought forward motion of confidence, expressing that Parliament cannot adjourn for recess without expressing its satisfaction with the ambiguous language and uncertain conduct of Government in reference to the question of Peace or War, and that under these circumstances the House feels it right to declare that it will continue to give every support to Queen in prosecution of the war until in conjunction with her allies she shall obtain a safe and honourable peace. Sir Francis Baring on behalf of the Government moved amendment that the House having seen with regret the failure of Vienna Conferences will continue to give every support to continue the war, until a safe and honourable peace be obtained.

Sir W. Heathcote moved to alter amendment, by inserting the words "And still cherishing a desire that the communications in progress may arrive at a successful issue."

Mr. Gladstone approved of Heathcote's amendment. Disraeli and his supporters insisted the Govt. and especially Palmerston and Russell.

Lord J. Russell replied, defending his conduct at Vienna, and debate was adjourned. Resumed Friday evening, when House divided 219 for Disraeli and 319 against. Majority for Govt. 100—consequently the ministry stands.

Earl Grey made a similar motion in Lords but withdrew it.

Bill abolishing newspaper stamp was read 2d time in Lords.

Bishop of Oxford has moved for papers concerning Canadian Bishops and Churches, both Houses adjourned to 4th June.

On 24th Lord Palmerston held a private meeting of Members of Parliament at his house, over 200 present. Palmerston asserted the unanimity of his government, and declared intention of prosecuting the war. Other members spoke, but on the whole proceedings were harmonious.

It is expected that by June 20th, every available man in Britain belonging to Infantry Regiments, will be embodied for war.

Some changes have been made in War Department by place under arms officer in hands of Minister of War. Deputation recently saw Palmerston, and expected to obtain unconditional pardon for Smith O'Brien.

RUSSIA. Russia has just annexed 4 districts of country belonging to Mogul tribes on frontier of China.

Liverpool Cotton.—Weeks business is largest on record. Brown, Shipley & Co., say since departure of last steamer, has been much excitement in cotton business of week, reaching the unprecedented quantity of 152,000, including 76,000 speculation and 7,000 export, at an advance of fully a farthing on low and middling.

LIVERPOOL BREADSTUFFS.—Same Circular report cuts market again very quiet, at last week's prices, and from the extremely small stocks of foreign wheat and flour, quotations are nominal, the demand being almost entirely supplied by inland millers and farmers; old Western Canal Flour 41s, 6d, 42s; new 40s to 41s.

RUSSIAN TROOPS.

I have been able to ascertain from official sources the present number of the Russian troops in active service. The number is less than I had supposed, being only 785,000 men. There are 110,000 in Caucasus and in Georgia, independently of the Cossacks, which guard the lines; 250,000 in the Crimea and on the Danube; the same number in Poland; 145,000 to defend the borders of the Baltic, where there are also 40,000 marines. Besides these enormous masses, there are 250,000 men whose designation is not yet fixed, and who will be sent when and where their services are needed.

The army of the Danube during the winter has met with losses, the statement of which will appear fabulous. It is said that the marsh fevers, aided by the cholera, have put out of service more than 71,000 men. The mortality has not been less frightful among the recruits travelling along the swamps and roads, washed by the rains or covered with snow, without rations or tents, slightly clothed and poorly fed. Most of them perished miserably with hunger and cold, before reaching their destination. To use the expression of an officer of registration, "the roads were staked out with dead bodies of soldiers." From 45 to 50 per cent. of these troops, it is estimated, have thus perished during the winter.

The work of demolition is going on in that splendid quarter of St. Petersburg about the cathedral, from the road which leads to the island, and extending even beyond the ancient house of Peter the Great, which is covered by a shed, and which alone is respected. All the fine houses surrounding the cathedral, three and four stories high, with the beautiful shrubbery which adorned them, have been razed, and the camp levelled for camp material stores. The cathedral is thus disencumbered of surrounding objects; and reinforcements and new gables have been added to those already existing, and which time had defaced and nearly destroyed. It is well understood that the owners of the property thus destroyed will not be indemnified, and not one is believed will hazard a complaint.

The treasures of the cathedral have been transported to Moscow. The foundry and laboratory for refining gold and silver, now contain nothing but cinders and objects of no value. The cathedral so to speak is deserted. All the administrative personnel, which formerly dwelt there, have quitted it. The Russian flag which floated upon the right hand, facing the winter palace, has been displaced by the Muscovite colours with the double-headed black eagle. The imperial shipyard is occupied by gun boats in process of construction. These, indeed, are building everywhere upon the banks of the river; and they are carried through the canals which cross the city in twenty quarters, in order to increase if possible the enthusiasm of the population.

The road from Petersburg to Helsingfors is incessantly covered with wagons, transporting cannons, munitions, arms, &c. Although there is no reason to doubt the faithfulness of the Finlanders, it has not been neglected to fortify certain passages, among them the road from Kexholm to Niborg and the narrow passes of Porvoo, where the Swedish hero Gripenberg, with only 600 men, fought 7,000 Russians, for nineteen hours, and finally forced them to retire, leaving the field covered by their dead. It is estimated that 200,000 men will be detached for the defence of Finland; and the force will be raised to triple that number if necessary. It will be defended from one extremity to the other. The Emperor Nicholas declared that he had rather abandon Poland than lose an inch of land in Finland.—Cor. of Paris papers.

It appears that a definite arrangement for the purchase of the Birkenhead docks, by the Liverpool Corporation, has at length been effected. They will cost Liverpool something like 17s. 6d. in each 20s. already expended on the almost deserted property.

REGISTERING SHIPS.—British shipowners having been not a little perplexed by the apparently double and rival jurisdictions of the Customs and of the Board of Trade, over the registry of British Shipping, for the solution of all doubts the Commissioners of Customs have issued the following General Order:—

"Customhouse, London, May 15, 1855. Gentlemen,—In consequence of the numerous letters which have been received from the shipowners, requesting information relating to the registry of vessels under the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854, I am directed by the Board to acquaint you, for the information of yourselves and all parties concerned that the old law having been repealed, no operation under its provisions is intended for the future; that it is not now requisite, as formerly, that ships should be registered anew on change of property unless the owners desire it; that ships registered prior to the 1st of May, may retain their old registries; that that ships, may, with the sanction of the Board, on payment of the expenses, be re-measured under the new law if the owners desire it, and retain their old registries, the same being marked with any alteration of tonnage such re-measurement may result in, but that ships required to be registered anew must necessarily be so measured under the new law; and ships registered prior to the 1st May, 1855, transferred from one port to another, must in like manner be re-measured. That in cases where ships are registered under the old law, and the certificate of registry may have been lost or obliterated, the certificate given in lieu should be on the old form, as being thus alone applicable to the particulars found in the registry; and whenever ships have been once measured under the new law, that it is not requisite they should be again measured on registry anew, except under the circumstances enumerated in the 25th section of the Merchant Shipping Act.—I am, gentlemen, your obedient servant, C. CLARIDGE, Pro. Assistant Secretary."

DISGRACEFUL.—The Collection of the port of New York is about to sell at public auction, the stray cases of goods unclaimed by their owners, many valuable articles, the property of foreign contributors to the Crystal Palace Exhibition. Singular Case.

Two or three years ago a daughter of Mr. James Damon, of Chesterfield, then aged about 11 years, while at the house of a relative, in this town, fell down a flight of stairs, and immediately afterwards was taken sick. She returned home, and her sickness increased so she was not expected to live. She remained in this critical condition for several months, and became greatly emaciated, and gradually lost her sight and hearing. During the past year, however, her health has been improved somewhat.

At times she has existed for weeks upon candy and mince, and since last fall, until recently, ate nothing but apples. A few weeks ago she commenced eating maple buds, and her condition has wonderfully improved; her sight and hearing have returned in full vigor, and in other respects she is gaining rapidly. What agency the buds had in restoring her faculties is not known. Her case is one in which many physicians have become interested in.—[Northampton Courier.]

His Excellency's Visit.

As announced in our last week's impression on His Excellency, the Lieut. Governor, accompanied by the hon. Mrs. Sutton, and Col. Hayne, &c. arrived here on Tuesday evening, and took up quarters at the Ashburton House, Mr. Stenford's. On Wednesday noon, the Governor proceeded to the Court House, and was received with demonstrations of loyalty by the inhabitants who had assembled there for the purpose of presenting Addresses. (Copies of which, with His Excellency's replies, we have given on our first page.) A Levee was held, when the Magistrates and a number of other inhabitants were introduced to His Excellency. The Lieut. Governor visited the Jail, Scotch Church and the female branch of the Roman Catholic School in this place. On Thursday morning, His Excellency and Lady, accompanied by Col. Hayne, the High Sheriff and other gentlemen proceeded to St. Stephens, and was met at Oak Bay, by a large deputation from the former place, and escorted to that Town; where a Levee was held and Addresses presented to His Excellency. In the afternoon His Excellency visited Milltown, Calais, &c. On Friday morning the distinguished party left in the Steamer Nequaquet for Campbellton, and after paying a visit to Capt. Robinson, R. N., returned here the same evening.

On Saturday morning at 7 o'clock His Excellency and Lady, accompanied by the President of the Railroad, a number of the Directors and families, the High Sheriff, Rev. Dr. Alley, Rev. Mr. Barron and other gentlemen, left the Railroad Station at Indian Point, and after a pleasant ride of an hour and a half reached the Fredericton Road Station, 25 miles from St. Andrews, where a substantial breakfast had been prepared. After breakfast His Excellency walked some distance over the line, the works on which have been stopped, and we understand, expressed himself much pleased with that portion of the Railroad over which he had travelled. At ten o'clock His Excellency and Lady, proceeded on in their carriage, it being their intention to reach Fredericton the same evening. Owing to the usual courtesy to the Press not having been extended in this instance, we are unable to give as full a report of the proceedings as we would wish; nevertheless we pass it over, and trust we will have satisfaction of stating before long, that the works on the Line have been resumed.

The Governor, we learn expressed himself much pleased with his visit to this county; the beauty of its scenery the salubrity of the air, and the entertainment he received at the Ashburton House. Great credit is due Mr. Stenford in establishing that House as a summer residence, as it was much required, and to those who are seeking health and recreation, we heartily recommend it.

MASONIC FESTIVAL.—We are happy to state, that our St. John Brethren have made arrangements with the owners of the steamer "Creole" to make an excursion trip to St. Andrews on the 26th, and that one hundred Masons and upwards of two hundred visitors will arrive in the steamer. We are also informed that a large number of the Brethren and their friends from the State of Maine, St. Stephens, Milltown, and St. George, will also be present on the occasion. Should the weather prove fine, it is probable that upwards of four hundred persons will visit this town on the 26th,—we trust the proprietors of the Hotels and Boarding Houses, will be prepared to accommodate them.

Railroads in Nova Scotia.

Our neighbors in the adjoining Province are zealously prosecuting their Railway operations. They have passed through the turmoil and heat of the election, and have returned a decisive majority favorable to the principles of Railway policy and progressive enterprise. With such a triumph they will be enabled to carry on vigorously the industrial works that are pending before the country.

Liquor Riot at Portland Maine.

On Saturday last a serious riot, resulting in the loss of life, took place in the City of Portland. The recently elected Mayor, Mr. Dow, with Alderman Brooks and Carleton, having been named as a committee on the 31st of May to make all the necessary arrangements for the sale of liquors in Portland under the law of the state, had liquors purchased in New York to the value of $1600, and before the transfer of these had been made to the agency, complaint was lodged at the Police Court and sworn to, that Mayor Dow had liquors in his possession, intended for sale in violation of the law. The liquors were taken possession of in the cellar of the City Hall, where they had been deposited.

The proceedings going forward being generally known, a crowd assembled around the building, with intention it was thought of getting possession of the liquor, but no act of violence took place until the evening, when some of the police armed with pistols, entered the room where the liquors were stored. Stones were then thrown against the door, breaking the glass, and repeated at intervals for some time, until the police at length fired upon the crowd, killing a man named Robbins, mate of an Eastport vessel, and wounding several others. Prior to the firing some militia companies were called out, who were pelted with stones by the mob.

There was certainly no justification for the riot, and the conduct of the Mayor is likewise reprehensible under the circumstances. The charge against the Mayor of keeping spirituous liquors with intent to sell the same, was subsequently investigated at the Police Court, but he was acquitted.

The military were still under orders.

Llewellyn, who was wounded at the battle of Waterloo where he was an officer under Wellington, was buried at Ellsworth, Maine, last week, where he had resided for several years in humble circumstances.—The Ellsworth paper says he was once brother to Lady Raglan, wife of the British commander in the Crimea.—[Boston Journal.]

Madame St. Julien and the Corporation.

The City Clerk, on behalf of the Corporation of Montreal, expressing their regret at the annoyance occasioned to him by the course taken by Madame St. Julien, in taking her action against His Excellency, and informing him that they have directed their Attorney to intervene in the suit, which they would not have allowed to be brought had they not deemed the demand excessive.—His Excellency has replied through Lord Bury, saying that though always ready to defray expenses incurred on his account, on such an occasion, he feels it his duty in a case which appears most exorbitant in its character, to leave the matter for the present, at any rate to take its own course; and he observes the handsome and direct manner in which the Corporation profess their intention to assume the whole liability. His Excellency feels that he would not recognize the justice of Madame St. Julien's demand without establishing a principle which must necessarily impede the movements of any Governor General, and limit materially his opportunities of becoming acquainted with different portions of the Province.—[Quebec Chronicle.]

Holloway's Ointment and Pills, the most celebrated Remedies for the Cure of Sore Arms.

Arms.—Samuel Wentworth, of Cape Breton, was for five years afflicted with sore arms, there were four different ulcers on them, and the trying nature of his business, (a boatmaker) made him so much worse, that despite of his wishes, he was compelled to relinquish it; he tried various remedies and they failed to benefit him, however about thirteen weeks ago, at the recommendation of friends, he had recourse to Holloway's Ointments and Pills, which very soon made him better, and in eight weeks his arms were quite well, and with scarcely the scars perceptible.

The barque "Hali'ax" arrived on Saturday evening from Boston. She brings some scores of folks for the Foreign Legion, and it was said she had a Band for the first Regiment.—Halifax paper.

New York June 6.—The steamer Northern Light arrived here about 11 o'clock this morning in seven days and two hours from San Juan. She brings the details of the California news to the 16th of May.

In California business generally was dull, although there had been some large sales of flour and grain for shipment to New York, Liverpool and Australia.

The ship Charming sailed for New York on the 16th, with 704 tons of wheat, and 204 tons of barley, and 172 tons of flour. The Flying Arrow would follow with 2000 tons of wheat and flour.

There had been a good deal of rain, but the crops looked well.

The mines were yielding abundantly, but money was scarce.

From Sandwich Islands. Late advices from the Sandwich Islands report that the British frigates President and Alceste, sloop of war Dido and steamer Brisk had all left that place for the north—their supposed destination being Petropaulovski.

AYER'S PILLS.
FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF FAMILY PHYSIC.
There has long existed a public demand for an effective purgative pill which could be relied on as safe and perfectly safe in its operation. This has been prepared, and it is now put on the market, and it is easy to make a physical pill, but not easy to make the best of all pills—one which should have none of the objections, but all the advantages, of every other. This has been attempted here, and with what success we would respectfully submit to the public decision. It has been ascertained that the patient harbours that almost every purgative medicine is acrimonious and irritating to the bowels. This is not. Many of them produce so much griping pain and convulsion in the system as to more than counterbalance the good to be derived from them. These pills produce no irritation or pain, unless it arise from a previously existing obstruction or derangement in the bowels. Being purely vegetable, no harm can arise from their use in any quantity; but it is better that any medicine should be taken judiciously. Minute directions for their use in the several diseases to which they are applicable are given on the box. Among the complaints which have been speedily cured by them, we may mention Liver Complaint, in its various forms of Jaundice, Indigestion, Languor and Loss of Appetite, Listeria, Irritability, Bilious Headache, Giddiness, Fever, Fever and Ague, Pain in the Side and Loins; for, in truth, all these are but the consequence of diseased action in the liver. As an aperient, they afford prompt and sure relief in Constipation, Piles, Colic, Dysentery, Hemorrhoids, Scirrhus, Erysipelas, Prolapsus of the Rectum, Pains in the Back, Stomach, and Side. They should be freely taken in the spring of the year, to purify the blood and prepare the system for the change of seasons. An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, and restores the appetite and vigor. They purify the blood, and by their stimulant action on the circulatory system, renovate the strength of the body, and restore the wasted or dissipated energies of the whole organism. Hence an occasional dose is advantageous, even though no serious derangement exists; but unnecessary dosing should never be carried too far, as every purgative medicine reduces the strength, when taken to excess. The thousand cases in which a phlegm is required cannot be enumerated here, but they suggest themselves to the reason of every body; and it is confidently believed that this pill will answer a better purpose than any thing which has hitherto been available to mankind. When their virtues are once known, the public will no longer doubt what remedy to employ when in need of a cathartic medicine.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL.
For the rapid Cure of COUGHS, COLDS, HOARSENESS, BRONCHITIS, WHOOPING-COUGH, CROUP, ASTHMA, AND CONSUMPTION.
We invite the attention of the public to the Certificates appended below, and bespeak for them that candid consideration which their honest frankness deserves.
Jackson C. H., Jackson City, O. 29th Nov. '53.
Dr. J. C. Ayer—Sir: The Cherry Pectoral is much inquired after. Several of our best Physicians have used it, three of them in their own case, and always with the happiest effects. The numerous patent medicines "ways before" them, lead to credulity in regard to every new remedy, and it is only after undoubted evidence of value in any article, that any thing like a general confidence can be excited.
The unrivalled excellence of this combination of agents (in the Cherry Pectoral), proved by your card by repeated trial and their own observation, has compelled medical men to proclaim its usefulness. Its beyond all doubt the best general remedy we have for Pulmonary Affections of this climate, at the same time sedative and expectorant—a rare combination of properties.
In the hope that it will prove its own reward, I subscribe myself,
JAS. H. C. MILLER, M. D.
Allegan Mich. 19th Jan. 1853.
Dear Sir,—No one, no, not one—man, woman or child—can be found to deny that the Cherry Pectoral is all that it claims to be. There is much used in this vicinity, although not known until recently. The community should know its virtues.

THE INFALLIBLE REMEDY !!!

Holloway's Ointment.

ERYSIPELAS of eight years cured!
Copy of a Letter from Gen. Sinclair, Esq.
of Paris, Canada, dated the 18th July 1854.

To Professor Holloway.

Sir,—I feel a pleasure and a pride in bearing witness to the wonderful benefit I have derived by the use of your inestimable Ointment and Pills. For eight years I suffered unceasingly from attacks of erysipeas; large purple blotches came all over my body; in addition to the unpleasant feeling of itching and burning, which affected me both night and day, rendering life a misery to me, as well as to all around —so severe was the attack. I used several reputed remedies without deriving the least cessation to my misery. At last I determined to try your Ointment and Pills;
after taking them for a few weeks, a visible improvement took place, and I feel considerably better.—In three months, by continuing with your medicines, I was completely cured, and now enjoy the best of health. The truth of this statement is well known here, hence there is no necessity for me to request secrecy.

I am, Sir, yours respectfully,
(Signed) GEO. SINCLAIR.

ULCERS in the Leg.—Remarkable Cure!
Copy of a Letter from Mr. Edward Tomkin-son, of Cape Breton, Nova Scotia, dated the 4th May, 1854.

To Professor Holloway.

Sir,—My sister, Miss Jane Tomkinson, suffered for a great number of years from a bad leg, in which there were several deeply seated and old wounds, disfiguring the leg, and of the most eminent of the medical faculty, a variety of remedies were also used unsuccessfully; and it seemed to me that there was not any thing capable of mitigating the agonies she endured. At length, she had recourse to your Ointment and Pills, and after using them for about five weeks, she was completely cured, and all other means had failed to afford her the slightest relief. I have no objection to these facts being published, if you feel disposed to make them known.

I remain, Sir, your most obdt. Servt.
(Signed) EDWARD TOMKINSON.

A BAD BREAST CURED WHEN AT DEATH'S DOOR!!
Copy of a Letter from Mr. Henry Malden, of Three Rivers, Canada West, dated July 9th, 1854.

To Professor Holloway.

Sir,—My wife suffered most severely after the birth of our last child with a bad breast.
There were several holes in it, one as large as a hand; all the devices and strappings I tried would not heal them, but assumed an aspect more frightful than before, and horrible to behold. As a last resource I tried your ointment and pills, which she persevered with for seven weeks, the expansion of that time her breast was almost well; by continuing with your remedies for two more weeks, she was entirely cured, and we offer you our united thanks for the "cure" effected.

I am, Sir, yours truly,
(Signed) HENRY MALDEN.

AYER'S PILLS.

A new and singularly successful remedy for the cure of all Bilious Diseases—Constipation, Indigestion, Jaundice, Dropsy, Rheumatism, Fevers, Gout, Humors, Nervousness, Irritability, Indolence, Stomachic, Piles in the Breast, Side, Back, and Limbs, Female complaints, &c. &c. Indeed, very few are the diseases which a Purgative Medicine is not more or less required, and much sickness and suffering might be prevented, if a harmless but effectual Cathartic were more freely used.
No person can feel well while a positive habit of body prevails; besides it soon generates serious and often fatal diseases, which might have been avoided
by the timely and judicious use of a good purgative.
This is alike true of Colds, Fevers, symptoms, and Bilious derangements. They all tend to become or produce the deep colored and jaundiced complexion which lead the humor all over the body. Hence a reliable family physic is of the first importance to the public health, and this Pill has been perfected with consummate skill to meet that demand. An extensive trial of its virtues by Physicians, Professors, and Patients, has shown results surpassing anything hitherto known of any medicine. Cures have been effected beyond belief, were they not substantiated by persons of an exalted position and character as to forbid the suspicion of fraud.

Among the eminent gentlemen to whom we are allowed to refer for their facts, are

Prof. VALENTINE MOTT, the distinguished Surgeon of New York City.
Prof. A. A. HAYES, Practical Chemist of the Port of Boston, and Geologist for the State of Massachusetts.

Dr. MOORE, M.D., an eminent Surgeon and Physician, of the City of Lowell, who has long used them in his extensive practice.

Dr. C. C. SORRELL, one of the first medi-cians in New York City.

Dr. C. A. DAVIS, M.D., Surgeon of the United States Marine Hospital, at Chelsea, Mass.
Did space permit, we could give many hundred such names, from all parts where the Pills have been used, but evidence even more convincing than the certificates of these eminent public men is shown in their effects upon trial.

These Pills, the result of long investigation and study, are offered to the public as the best and most complete which the present state of medical science can afford. They are composed of not of the drugs themselves, but of the medicinal virtues only of Vegetable remedies, extracted by chemical processes, in a state of purity and combined together in such a manner as to insure the best results. This system of composition for medicines has been found in the Cherry Pectoral and Pills, both of which are more efficient remedies than had hitherto been obtained by any process. The reason is partly obvious. While by the old mode of composition, every medicine is burdened with more or less of acrid, stimulant and injurious qualities; by this, each individual virtue only that is desired for the curative effect is present. All the inert and obnoxious qualities of each substance employed are left behind, and the curative virtue only being retained. Hence it is self-evident the effect should prove as they have proved more purely remedial, and the Pills a surer, more powerful medicine to cure than any other medicine known to the world.

As it is frequently expedient that my medicines should be taken under the counsel of an attending Physician, and as he could not properly judge of a remedy without knowing its composition, I have caused the chemical formulae to be printed, and Pectoral and Pills are made to the whole body of Practitioners in the United States and British America. If, however, they feel that they are not one who has not received them, they will be promptly forwarded by mail to his address.

Of all the Patent Medicines that are offered, how few would be taken if their composition was known!
Their life consists in their mystery. I have no objection.

The composition of my preparations is laid open to all men, and all who are competent to judge of the subject, are freely informed of the nature and of their intrinsic merits. The Cherry Pectoral and Pills are pronounced by scientific men to be a wonderful remedy for the cure of the most distressing coughs, and even more confidently, and are willing to certify that their anticipations were more than realized by their effects upon trial.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal vessels to remove the obstructions of the into healthy action. They remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the torment, restoring their regular action to health, and by removing whatever they exist such derangements as are the first origin of disease.
Being sugar wrapped they are pleasant to take,
and being purely vegetable, no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

For minute directions, see the wrapper on the Box.

alytical Chemist, Lowell, Mass.

FRIEND OF THE CANADIAN!

Extraordinary Cure of Asthma in an old Lady, seventy-five years of age.

Copy of a Letter from Mr. Thomas Weston, (Book Store,) Toronto, dated the 9th October, 1854.

To Professor Holloway.

Sir,—Gratitude compels me to make known to you the extraordinary benefit an aged parent has derived from the use of your Pills. My mother was afflicted for years with asthma and twenty years with asthma and spitting of blood, it was quite agonizing to see her suffer and hear her cough; I have often declared that I would give all I possessed to have cured her, but although I paid a large sum for medicine and advice, it was all to no purpose. About three months ago, I thought perhaps your Pills might benefit her, at all events I resolved to give them a trial, which I did,
the result was marvellous; by slow degrees my mother became better, and after persevering with your remedies for nine weeks, she was perfectly cured, and now enjoys the best of health, although seventy-five years old.

I remain, Sir, your obliged,
(Signed) THOMAS WESTON.

Remarkable Cure of Dropsy after being tapped three times.

Copy of a Letter from Anthony Smith, Esq.
Halifax, Nova Scotia, dated the 25th
August, 1854.

To Professor Holloway.

Sir,—I desire to add my testimony to the value of your Pills, in cases of dropsy.
For nine months I suffered the greatest torment from this distressing complaint;
I was tapped three times, and finally given up by the doctors; having become in appearance as a skeleton, and with no more strength in me than a child, just born. It was then that I thought of trying your Pills, and immediately sent for a quantity, and commenced using them. The result I can scarcely credit even now, although true it is. After using them for four weeks, I felt much better, and by persevering with them, at the expiration of two months, I was completely cured. I have since enjoyed the best of health.

I am, Sir, yours sincerely,

Sir,—I am happy to say that your Pills

for nine years from the most intense general debility and languor, my liver and bowels were also much deranged for the whole of that time. I tried many medicines, but they were of no good to me, until I had recourse to your Pills, by taking which, and following the printed directions for seven weeks I was cured, after every other means failed, to the astonishment of my neighbours, acquaintance, and friends. I shall ever feel grateful to you for this astonishing restoration to health, and will recommend your Pills to all sufferers, feeling it my duty to do so.
