

CORNER-STONE OF HOSPITAL IS UNVEILED

Lieut.-Governor Cockshutt
Presides at London Ceremonies Friday Afternoon.

THRONGS WELCOME HIM

War Memorial Children's Hospital Scene of Impressive Event.

His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario and Mrs. Cockshutt attended by Col. Alexander Fraser, A.D.C., arrived in the city from Toronto at noon Friday to pay their first official visit to London in connection with the unveiling of the cornerstone of the War Memorial Children's Hospital. The weather hadn't the least power to dampen the enthusiasm or chill the warmth of the welcome which greeted the lieutenant-governor and his charming wife when they stepped from their special car at the G. W. V. A. Band struck up the National Anthem. Tall, soldierly, and at the same time very business-like looking, Lieut.-Col. Cockshutt's expression was one of frank and very genuine interest as he advanced to the station platform, looking into the faces of the members of the reception committee and other citizens who had gathered to pay their respects. Mrs. Cockshutt immediately captivated all by the winsomeness of her smile, a smile echoed in her expressive dark eyes. The child of the day made necessary the sealskin coat she was wearing, with easy squirrel collar rolled up around her chin. Immensely becoming was her black picture hat with nodding green feathers.

Officials Are Presented.

Lieut.-Col. Cockshutt, chairman of the Victoria Hospital board, and chairman also of the building committee of the Children's Hospital, had the honor of being first presented, and immediately after him Gen. H. M. Panet, C. O. C., Mayor E. S. Little, Major Hume Cronyn, M.P., Mrs. E. B. Smith, regent of the Municipal Chapter, I. O. D. E.; Mrs. Arthur H. Smith, convener of the War Memorial Hospital committee; Mrs. C. J. Campbell, treasurer; Mrs. F. J. Greenway, honorary secretary; Mrs. G. W. Routledge, Lam-beth; Mrs. W. C. Colles, regent of the W. C. F. U. Chapter, I. O. D. E.; Mrs. A. C. Joseph, Lieut.-Col. F. B. War, Major Lawless, Mr. E. B. Smith, Mr. A. H. Smith; members of the city council and other city officials, and representatives of the Chamber of Commerce and the prominent business organizations of the city.

Following the luncheon tendered his honor by the Men's Canadian Club in the Tecumseh Hotel, and the luncheon given by the Municipal Chapter, I. O. D. E., for Mrs. Cockshutt at the Hunt Club, the unveiling ceremonies took place at 2:30 o'clock sharp at the new Children's Hospital building, Ottawa avenue. The G. W. V. A. Band was in attendance at the hospital inclosure from 2 o'clock, and at 2:25 the Royal Canadian Regiment arrived, via Waterloo street. At 2:30 a general salute was given, after which His Honor Lieut.-Col. Cockshutt and Gen. H. M. Panet inspected the regiment.

Representatives of the Municipal Chapter, I. O. D. E., and the Children's Hospital committee were on the platform when Col. Cockshutt approached, escorted by Gen. Panet and Lieut.-Col. E. B. Smith.

Lieutenant-Governor Welcomed.

To Mrs. Arthur H. Smith, convener of the hospital committee, fittingly fell the honor of introducing the lieutenant-governor.

The Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario, your honor," she said, "the committee of the War Memorial Hospital for Children asks you to accept their warmest thanks for coming here today to unveil the foundation stone of the hospital. We deeply appreciate your presence and most heartily welcome you. We have long looked forward to this hour through months of effort. Our task is not yet done but we are sure that with your renewed energy to complete this hospital which is being erected to the memory of those heroic, patient, brave men who fought for our freedom. We hope that many children will here regain health and strength and that this living centrepiece, as it has been described, will prove of inestimable value to the people of Western Ontario.

As the corner of the flag dropped from the foundation stone, the silence was broken by the roll of the R. C. R. Turn to Page 4, Column 4.

KING TO SPEAK IN CITY TONIGHT

Canada Pays Last Tribute at Lady Laurier's Bier

NOBLE WOMAN LAID AT REST IN OTTAWA

Thousands of People Attend
Funeral Services in Capital.

GOVT. IS REPRESENTED

Canadian Statesmen, Including Liberal Leader, Act as Honorary Pallbearers.

Ottawa, Nov. 4.—Side by side with her late eminent husband, in a sheltered knoll in Notre Dame Cemetery, Lady Laurier was laid at rest today. The funeral took place from her residence on the avenue which perpetuates the family name. It was an impressive manifestation of the public regard for a charming personality, passing on after 48 years of useful life.

Several thousand people, including many of the most distinguished men in the country, were either in the procession or lined the streets. Hats were raised as the cortege passed in reverent regard for a noble woman who, throughout the life of her distinguished husband, played the part of a helpful consort.

The governor-general was represented by Major Willis O'Connor, A.D.C.; the Dominion Government by Sir James Lousheed, acting premier; the Government of Quebec by Premier Taschereau, Hon. J. L. Perrault and Hon. Alphonse Davis.

Walking beside her were as honorary pallbearers were Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Sir William Mulock, Hon. W. S. Fielding, Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, Senator Belue and P. C. Larkin.

The chief mourners were Robert Laurier, nephew, A. N. Brodeur, of Montreal and Carolina Laurier, brother-in-law; Raoul Laurier and St. George Harvey, nephews, M. Dorion, M. L. Marcil and M. Durocher of Montreal.

Will Mold Destiny of World at Washington Arms Parley

CHARLES EVANS HUGHES.

United States secretary of state, is famous as an expert in commercial law and jurisprudence. He was born 53 years ago at Glens Falls, N. Y., and was educated at Colgate, Brown and Columbia Universities.

His name first became known nationally in 1905, when he proved the consolidated gas companies of New York a monopoly.

In 1906 he was elected governor of New Jersey, and was re-elected in 1908. President Taft appointed him justice of the supreme court before his term expired.

Mr. Hughes resigned in 1916 to accept the Republican nomination for president, but was defeated by Woodrow Wilson.

ARISTIDE BRIAND, premier of France.

is leader of France's delegation, with the full support and confidence of his people. Like Lloyd George, he is of Celtic origin, a native of Brittany.

He is of medium stature, with bushy, iron-gray hair, modest and shy of publicity. Briand is 59 years of age. At 20 he was apparently a failure at law, but in the last quarter-century he has four times filled ministerial duties and has headed the cabinet six times.

As minister of public instruction in 1906 he handled the law by which the church and state were finally separated. He first became premier in 1909.

In January of this year he formed his sixth ministry, with the promise of obtaining full reparation from Germany, according to the terms of the peace treaty.

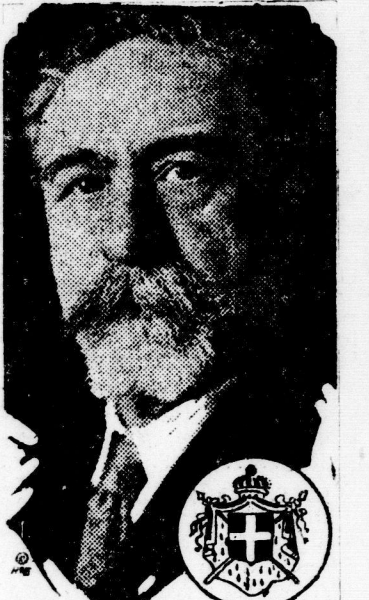

PRINCE IYESATO TOKUGAWA.

heads the Japanese delegation at the disarmament conference. Due to the importance of the Pacific question at this time, international experts see in him the man on whom will depend the success of the meeting in Washington.

He was born in 1863 at Tokyo, and at the age of 5 was adopted as heir by the last of the Tokugawa Shoguns, a year after the Shogunate had surrendered its regency to the imperial court.

Before he became prince he gained an education in England, which gave him a broad insight into international affairs. This view was broadened still more when the prince toured the United States and Europe in 1910. At that time he had reached his seventh year as president of the Japanese House of Peers. He still holds that office.

VITTORIO ROLANDI RICCI.

Italian ambassador to the United States, and leading Italian representative at the disarmament conference, is one of the best-known lawyers in his country.

He is an expert in commercial, maritime and mercantile law. Although he has a right to the title of marquis, he has never used it.

His fortune is estimated at 10,000,000 lire ($2,000,000), which he accumulated from a modest beginning. Ricci did not participate in politics until 1912, when Premier Giolitti nominated him senator. As such he drafted bills on mercantile marine and on state ownership of water power. He represented Italy at the famous international conferences on commercial affairs. Now, at the age of 61, he has abandoned his profession entirely for politics.

DAVID LLOYD GEORGE, premier of Great Britain.

who cabled The London Advertiser Thursday, indicating his intention of attending the Washington conference, and who will undoubtedly be the dominant personality there. Born 55 years ago of Welsh stock, he gained early recognition by championing the rights of the common people. From the time he was elected to Parliament in 1890 he carried on his fight for reforms. He was chancellor of the exchequer from 1905 to 1915, then minister of munitions until 1916, when he was named secretary of state for war in the coalition cabinet. That year he became prime minister. Since then he has been battling unceasingly to secure permanent peace in Ireland.

FIRE DESTROYS RAILWAY PIERS

Weehawken, N. J., Waterfront Is Scene of Million Dollar Blaze.

Weehawken, N. J., Nov. 4.—The Erie Railroad's Weehawken piers and water-front yards were laid waste early today by one of the most spectacular fires the metropolitan area has witnessed in years.

Five piers, all heavily laden with freight, a large floor warehouse, 30 loaded barges, a train of 30 loaded freight cars and another of five oil tanks were destroyed. Early estimates of the loss range from $1,000,000 up, but the figures were frankly guesses, and will remain speculative until a check can be made of the variegated shipments that were in transit.

The fire was discovered shortly before midnight on Pier "C." Within an hour it had swept over nearly a half mile of waterfront, illuminating the sky for miles around, and drawing great throngs of spectators to the Jersey and Manhattan sides of the Hudson.

One of the doomed piers was leased to the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey and contained several thousand barrels of crude oil. A series of minor explosions occurred when the flames ate their way into this pier.

Fireboats from New York and every available place of fire apparatus from Hoboken, Jersey City and other New Jersey towns were called out to aid the Weehawken force in its unequal struggle, but confined their efforts to preventing further spread of the fire. Three firemen were seriously injured when the roof of one of the piers collapsed.

The fire was the third to occur on Erie Railroad property, within six weeks. Six weeks ago a fire was discovered in the machine shops at Jersey City, and two weeks ago on a Jersey City pier. Both were extinguished before much damage had been done. No theory as to the origin of today's fire was obtainable.

BREAD IN HAMILTON 9 CENTS.

Hamilton, Nov. 4.—The retail price of bread was generally cut to 9 cents a small loaf today. One dealer is selling at 8 cents, but does not deliver it.

Soviet Ready To Spurn Decision of Arms Parley

MOSCOW, Nov. 4.—Foreign Minister Tchitcherine sent a note to the entente nations and the United States today, saying that Russia will not feel herself bound by the decisions of the Washington conference, and holds herself free to take any steps necessary to prevent their enforcement.

13 VESSELS LOST IN ATLANTIC GALE

Newfoundland Fishermen
Lose Season's Catch.

St. John's, Nfld., Nov. 4.—Three men were lost at sea and 13 vessels wrecked in the Atlantic hurricane which swept Newfoundland from Friday last until Monday, according to news which filtered through repaired telephone and telegraph wires today. The victims are: Capt. George Gusque and Michael Connors of the schooner Clarence B. bound from the Labrador coast to Brigus, who were washed overboard in the height of the storm, and William White of the schooner James and Stanley, for Lunenburg from Boston, who were swept from the vessel's deck off St. Pierre.

The Arctoon, a three-masted coal carrier, is ashore at Twillingate, and cast up with her are the vessels, M. P. Cashin and Violet Currie.

Five schooners are on the rocks at Plate Cove in Bonaville Bay.

King's Cove, Norman's Cove, Keel's Island and Deer Island report one wreck each.

A total loss of fishing gear and of all the proceeds of last summer's fishing voyage to the Labrador coast have been suffered in many cases.

Harbor Breton, on the west coast, reported that three churches were destroyed by the storm.

PREMIER HARA ASSASSINATED

Japanese Statesman's Tragic End Creates Stir in Washington.

Washington, Nov. 4.—Official advices from Tokyo announcing that Premier Hara of Japan had been stabbed fatally were received at the United States state department today soon after press dispatches from Tokyo brought the news of the assassination to the United States.

Japanese embassy officials and members of the Japanese delegation to the disarmament and Far Eastern conference received the first news from the Associated Press and were greatly depressed.

The assassination of Premier Hara comes at a dramatic moment, when the Japanese delegation is assembling for the Washington conference, and when Japan is intensely interested in the international issues, in which Premier Hara has until now taken such an important part.

He had been urged to head the delegation to Washington, and for a time had the matter under consideration, but finally decided that his services would be better employed at home during the discussions at Washington.

Premier Hara frequently addressed the Japanese Diet concerning the serious work ahead for Japan at Washington, and on Oct. 6 he expressed the view that Japan's chief aim would be to put an end to race barriers.

Premier Hara declared in recent statements that Japan was ready to accept a limitation on her naval establishment, along with the rest of the world, and always keeping in mind the necessities of her national defence.

Takashi Hara has been premier of Japan since 1918. The position of the premier and his party was confirmed by the general election in May, 1920, that party securing a great majority.

The premier has had a long and distinguished political career. He was born in 1854.

PUPILS HALL AT COMMANDMENTS

Hamilton, Nov. 4.—Rev. R. H. Ferguson set a paper of eight questions to test the religious education of 160 pupils in the Pictou street public school, who are about 10 years of age. The first was: "How many commandments are there?" Only 96 out of the 160 knew. The other questions were similar, but much fewer pupils gave the correct answers.

MURPHY PREDICTS LIBERAL VICTORY

Ex-Minister of Justice To Speak On C. N. R.
Issue Tonight.

What promises to be an address of particular merit and interest will be given by Hon. Charles Murphy, former minister of justice for Canada, who speaks with his leader, the Hon. Mr. King, at the Winter Gardens Friday evening.

Mr. Murphy will deal almost entirely with the "present serious difficulties confronting the country with reference to the Canadian National Railroads."

As a member of the special committee of the House of Commons which investigated the general outlook for the future of the Opposition party, Mr. Murphy was intensely optimistic, and looks eagerly forward to December 6, when the present administration will be predicted, he swept from power.

Another recommendation to purchase for playgrounds purposes was laid over. It is a parcel of about three acres, owned by J. McGillivray. It is located in West London, abutting Mount Pleasant avenue, and runs from Edith street west to the top of the hill. The recommendation was that $2,500 be tendered. There are about two acres on the flat. Part of this is very low-lying, and Mr. Buchanan estimated that the cost of filling would be about $2,000.

The commission will visit the property, and at the same time look over the Geary Flats purchase.

What is termed by the commissioners an act of humanity on the part of one of the playgrounds supervisors has resulted in the commission receiving a bill for $63. It is a doctor's bill for attending on a young girl, Pearl Ombly. She hurt herself at the playgrounds and the supervisor took her to the doctor. The commission does not assume responsibility.

During the past year a total of 293 windows were broken in various buildings at the fair grounds. The Western Fair board has billed the commission for half the cost of replacing these, $32. It places the blame for the breaking of windows on the fair grounds.

BUY FLATS FOR PARK PURPOSES

Utilities Commission Decides to Extend Playgrounds System.

The utilities commission decided on Thursday afternoon to purchase the Geary Flats for playground and park purposes. The parcel consists of eight acres, and the purchase price is $5,000.

This parcel, added to the holdings which the utilities commission already has on the flats, a little over four acres, will give a total of 13 acres. For some years the waterworks department has been paying the taxes, $50 annually, on the Geary property, as the department has two water wells on it.

"It will be a beautiful amphitheatre," said Commissioner Pocock in presenting the recommendation from the playgrounds committee. The hill which surrounds a good portion of the flats will make a natural grand stand, he said.

Commissioner Thomas McFarland said that a park where baseball and football games could be staged was badly needed, and he thought that the flats were an ideal spot. There would be lots of room left for playgrounds purposes.

It was suggested that the waterworks department could, in view of the fact that it is now paying $50 yearly for the property, put up about $800 towards the purchase, and the parks and playgrounds departments arrange the balance.

Will Visit Property.

Travels To London To Hear Hon. Charles Hyman Speak

IN order that he might once again hear an address by the former member of parliament for London, the Hon. Charles Hyman who was until his retirement from public life in 1905, a member of the Laurier cabinet, Charles Needham is in the city from Montreal.

The latter, although for many years a resident of London, has been living in the Quebec city for some time.

Officials of the Bell Telephone Company held a banquet in the Indian Room at the Tecumseh House on Thursday evening, as one of the sessions of the two-day conference being held in the city.

LAYS 7 MILES OF CITY PAVEMENTS

Engineer's Program of Works
For Year Nears Completion.

The city engineer is rapidly rounding out his works program for the year, and only for the wet weather of Thursday afternoon and Friday would have completed the year's paving program this week. But one more job on the curb and gutter end of the work remains to be done and the balance of the season will be devoted to sewers and sidewalk.

Paving remaining to be completed in West London, abutting Mount Pleasant avenue, and runs from Edith street west to the top of the hill. The recommendation was that $2,500 be tendered. There are about two acres on the flat. Part of this is very low-lying, and Mr. Buchanan estimated that the cost of filling would be about $2,000.

VOTERS OF ALL 'FAITHS' AWAIT LIBERAL CHIEF

Leader Is Rushing to London
After Tribute at Bier of Lady Laurier.

WILL ARRIVE AT 9 P.M.

Monster Crowd From Whole
District Expected at Winter Gardens.

Not only London, but the whole district, eagerly awaits the arrival of Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King, who will tell the people at a monster gathering in the Winter Gardens Friday night his stand on vital questions of the day.

Mr. King will arrive without fail in the city at 9 o'clock via G. T. R., despite all rumors to the effect that he will not be here at all, or will not arrive until close to the midnight hour.

The interest shown in the meeting has been so manifest that a number of meetings scheduled for tonight have been cancelled, among them being a meeting of civic officials to hear Horace Britton of the Citizens' Research Institute speak on civic finance.

Mr. King, who spoke to a large audience in St. Thomas Thursday night, left immediately after the meeting for Ottawa, where he attended the funeral of Lady Laurier this morning, and he is now speeding towards London.

Large delegations of Liberals from Ingersoll and the surrounding district will be at the big Liberal gathering tonight. The meeting, which starts at 8 o'clock, will be addressed by the Hon. Charles Murphy, M. P. for Russell, Hon. Charles S. Hyman, ex-M.P. for London, and ex-Mayor C. R. Somerville, who will contest the city in the next election.

Already booked to speak in Woodstock Friday, James Morrow, who formerly was a brakeman out of London, and who resigned from the Canadian board of directors, will be unable to speak here tonight.

It was explained at Liberal headquarters Friday morning, however, that he will speak in the city before election day.

AWARDS MEDAL FOR SAVING LIFE

M. J. Clark, London Telephone
Employee, Praised for Heroic Act.

Officials of the Bell Telephone Company held a banquet in the Indian Room at the Tecumseh House on Thursday evening, as one of the sessions of the two-day conference being held in the city.

A unique feature of the evening was the presentation of a Canadian Royal Humane Society medal to M. J. Clark, plant chief at the Bell telephone office, in recognition of his heroic act in saving the life of George T. Burton, a fellow-employee, from drowning in the Detroit River during the laying of a submarine cable in July, 1921.

Presents Medal.

W. H. Winters of Montreal, general plant superintendent, presented Mr. Clark with the medal, and highly complimented him on his brave act. "As head of the plant department, I feel proud that we have such a man in our department, and the employees of the other departments should also feel proud that we have such a man as a fellow-employee," were Mr. Winters' concluding remarks.

Mr. Burton was unable to attend, but sent the following telegram from Windsor: "W. J. Costello, 'Plant Superintendent, London. 'Please extend to Mr. Clark my heartfelt congratulations upon his heroic act, and assure him of my undying gratitude for his heroic deed on July 12 at the laying of the international cable. I regret that it is impossible for me to be present in person to assist you in paying him this tribute.'"

"GEORGE T. BURTON."

Mr. Winters was called upon to relate some of the happenings at the Canadian Telephone Conference, held a short time ago in Vancouver. He told of his inspections of western telephone plants, and was highly elated over the success of the automatic telephone, which is rapidly coming into use in many western cities. He believes that in time it will replace the present system in this eastern part of Canada.

Planning Better Service.

Mr. Winters represented L. B. McFarlane, president of the Bell Telephone Company, who owing to business pressure, was unable to be present.

P. A. McFarlane of Montreal, general commercial superintendent, delivered a short address relating to the conference which was held in Vancouver, and how the telephone companies are making arrangements to work in unison to give the public a better service.

SEARCH FOR WITNESS IN ARBUCKLE TRIAL

San Francisco, Nov. 4.—The California police, through District Attorney Melville Brady of San Francisco, today were requested to find Alice Blake, one of the main witnesses for the state in the manslaughter charge against Roscoe C. (Fatty) Arbuckle, due to be brought to trial here on Nov. 14.

Miss Blake disappeared from a place near Calista, where she was playing with Mrs. John Duffy, mother of Geo. Duffy, a deputy district attorney.

TWO MEMBERS PRESENT WHEN MEETING OPENS

Housing Commission Discussion Does Not Take Place.

The housing commission meeting called for Thursday night to deal with the Pine Lawn trouble, did not materialize. Only Chairman Cunliffe and City Clerk Baker showed up.

"I am informed that the contractors on a dachshund have taken no steps to re-roof the 41 houses," said Mr. Cunliffe after the meeting, "and I wanted the commission to take action immediately."

Provincial Architect Ellis recommended that the faulty roofs be rebuilt, and the commission ordered that the architect and contractors proceed to do this. Nothing has been heard from them.

The commission is holding back considerable money and may decide to do this with this money if the order of the commission is further ignored.

CLEAN-UP CAMPAIGN TO CONTINUE TILL MONDAY

City Boys Decide to Extend Period of Activities.

The clean-up campaign instituted by the organized boys' groups of the city will continue until Monday night. The campaign was to have wound up on Saturday, but as many are able to work on the holiday, where they have been unable to do so during the week it was decided to extend the time.

Favorable reports have been received from all sections of the city by the leaders and by Tuesday it is expected that a complete report of the campaign will be ready.

LABOR WILL DECIDE ON MUNICIPAL CANDIDATES

Plans To Be Made at Meeting Monday Next.

At a regular meeting of the Canadian Labor Party on Monday next the advisability of placing candidates in the field at the municipal elections will be discussed.

Further plans for organization were outlined at a meeting Thursday evening at the Labor Temple, and the following officers elected: Chairman of organizing committee, E. A. Pocock; secretary, J. F. Thomson.

HEALTH BOARD MAY SEIZE N. Y. MILK INDUSTRY

Issues Warning To Distributing Firms Who Refuse To Arbitrate.

FEW STRIKE DISORDERS Women Veterans of Motor Corps To Volunteer As Drivers.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Unless New York's milk distribution is restored to 50 per cent normal by Saturday the entire industry will be taken over by the department of health. This warning was given by Health Commissioner Copeland today after he had failed again to induce the heads of a score of milk-distributing companies to arbitrate the differences involved in the milk drivers' strike, which for the last three days has brought inconvenience to the metropolitan population.

Continuance of present conditions, under which less than one-third of the normal supplies was reaching the consumer would constitute a public menace, the commissioner declared. The city normally consumes two million quarts of milk daily, he said, while only 400,000 quarts were delivered this morning.

The distributors, Mr. Copeland said, were obstructive in their refusal to submit their employee's grievances to arbitration and had expressed determination to insist on open shop conditions.

Various women's organizations took steps today to organize a truck-driving corps should the crisis become acute. Col. Helen Bastedo, who organized the Motor Corps of America, early in the war, said she felt sure that the women who had served under her would gladly help to relieve the suffering among children in the tenement house districts. She added that at least two score drivers could be mobilized in a few hours, ready to deliver milk anywhere at any time.

The police reported several minor disorders during the day, all of which were quelled quickly. Four men charged with having attacked the driver of a milk wagon were sentenced to twenty days' imprisonment each. The magistrate warned that strike sympathizers who resorted to violence would be dealt with sternly.

I. O. D. E. HONORS MRS. COCKSHUTT

Wife of Lieutenant-Governor Is Guest at Hunt Club.

Following the reception to Lieutenant-Governor Cockshutt upon his arrival here today, to unveil the cornerstone of the War Memorial Children's Hospital, Mrs. Cockshutt, who accompanied him, was taken to the Hunt Club, where a luncheon in her honor was given by the Municipal Chapter, I. O. D. E., attended by members of the executive of the chapter, the War Memorial Children's Hospital committee, and heads of primary chapters of the I. O. D. E. and leading women's organizations and activities in the city.

Blazing open fires made the rooms at the club cosy and inviting, while radiant yellow chrysanthemums and gold and crimson autumn leaves were a happy choice on the November day for the beautifying of the U-shaped table.

Mrs. Cockshutt, whose gracious manner and winsome smile charmed the many who had the honor of meeting her, was seated to the right of Mrs. E. B. Smith, regent of the Municipal Chapter. Mrs. W. M. Gartschore, wife of the chairman of the building committee, and chairman of Victoria Hospital board, had a place of honor on Mrs. Smith's left. Mrs. Arthur Smith, convener of the War Memorial Hospital committee, was placed next to Mrs. Cockshutt, and Mrs. C. L. Campbell, treasurer, beside Mrs. Gartschore.

Others present were: Mrs. P. J. Greenaway, honorary secretary of the committee; Mrs. Emerson Nicholls, Mrs. Gordon Hunt, Mrs. Janet, Mrs. E. S. Little, Mrs. E. H. Johnson, an assistant secretary, Children's Hospital committee; Mrs. Hill; Miss A. ASK LOWER RATES ON HOUSING LOANS

Commission Believes Provincial Government Will Change Law.

Chairman J. A. Cunliffe of the local housing commission believes that at the coming session of the Legislature the 1920 housing act must be repealed, and the 1919 measure put back on the statute books. If this is done, the chairman is of the opinion that a great impetus will be given to home-building. Representations to this end, Mr. Cunliffe says, have been made to the provincial housing body by several of the municipal housing bodies. The main difference between the two acts is that the interest charge under the 1920 act is 8 per cent, while the 1919 measure calls for 5 per cent on loans.

That the importance of this may be realized, the chairman pointed out that on a $1,000 house, the payments of which are spread over 240 months, the difference in the total interest charges would be over $800.

During the recent conference at Toronto Mr. Cunliffe states that a special plea was made, to be presented to the Legislature, asking that special provision be made for war veterans who desire to use their own homes. It was pointed out that assistance is being given in helping them to acquire farm lands, and so it was claimed that there was no reason why assistance should be given with city homes.

The suggestion made was that the province would assume the initial payment of 18 per cent required under the act, and thus relieve the cities of the responsibility. This veterans all over the province would be placed on the same basis.

Mr. Cunliffe said that it was only right that veterans and widows of men who fell overseas should be assisted in having a comfortable home.

ASKS INSURANCE AT HYDRO PLANT

City General Manager Wants Protection at Horton Street.

"Where are we going to stop?" asks General Manager E. V. Buchanan of the utilities commission, in discussing the question of insuring the commission against possible accidents and loss in the erection of the new building of Horton street.

Fifteen-ton transformers are being set up at considerable height. "If they were to fall and snuff out a couple of lives it might cost the commission around $30,000," said Jared Vining, the chairman. Mr. Buchanan then said that he was approached also to insure the transformers. Mr. Vining asked if he thought it would be a paying proposition, and then Mr. Buchanan asked where were they going to stop.

The electrical department has a $12,000 fund which has been created to take care of claims arising from accidents, etc.

Commissioner T. McFarlane expressed the opinion that there should be such a fund protecting the waterworks department also.

Mr. Buchanan stated that the city solicitor has held that profits from the water department could not be so diverted, ruling that all profits from the operation of the waterworks department must be turned over to the city council to reduce the tax rate.

The commission may, however, place a short term accident policy to cover the balance of the time necessary to complete the erection of the new Horton street plant.

NUMBER OF CONTAGIOUS DISEASES FALLING OFF

Dr. Downham Reports City in Healthy Condition.

Dr. W. S. Downham, medical officer of health, states that the health of the city is particularly good for this time of year. Compared with the same period of other years, there is really a dearth of serious diseases.

At present two or three cases of chickenpox are being reported daily. The average of other years has been four. The same condition, the physician says, applies to diphtheria and scarlet fever. Diphtheria cases have fallen off until they are quite scarce. There are a few cases of scarlet fever being reported daily, but nothing like the number that might be expected. "Of course, these diseases break out suddenly, and come in waves, and one never knows when one of those waves is coming," said the M. O. H.

Obituaries

FUNERAL OF MRS. BURNS. The funeral of Miss Mary Burns, who died in St. Joseph's Hospital Thursday, will be held Saturday from the residence of her brother-in-law, Harry McKenna, 24 Dundas street. Services will be held in St. Mary's Church. Interment will be made at St. Peter's Cemetery.

MRS. M. E. WESTLAKE DIES. The death took place Friday morning of Martha E. Westlake, 64 years old, wife of W. R. Westlake of St. Johns-Township. The funeral will be held Monday. Interment will be made at St. John's Cemetery.

LIBRARY BOARD TO OPEN NEW BRANCH

Lack of Space Makes Third Building Necessary.

The new southeast branch of the public library will be opened in the Bourne Block, Hamilton road and Rectory street, towards the end of the month. The public library board last night gave their approval to plans for opening space in the reference department, and the matter will be taken up at once with the building inspector. The present reference room has become so crowded that its work is being seriously interfered with. One plan that finds favor is to add a gallery at one end of the reference room, and also to utilize a part of the general reading room above, connecting the two by a stairway.

The librarian's report showed a circulation of books during October of 25,386, an increase of nearly 5,000 over the circulation in October, 1920. There are over 21,000 people holding library cards in London at the present time.

The board discussed plans for increasing space in the reference department, and the matter will be taken up at once with the building inspector. The present reference room has become so crowded that its work is being seriously interfered with. One plan that finds favor is to add a gallery at one end of the reference room, and also to utilize a part of the general reading room above, connecting the two by a stairway.

ROBERT WALLACE DIES SUDDENLY AT HIS HOME

Was One Time Manager of Local East End Plant.

The death took place on Thursday of Robert Wallace, 78 years old, at this residence, 646 Waterloo street. Mr. Wallace had been failing in health for the past year, but his death came as a shock to relatives and friends.

He was at one time manager of the Battle Creek Toasted Corn Flakes Company of this city. Retiring because of ill-health, he moved to Pasadena, California, and a short time ago returned to London.

Mr. Wallace was born in this city. He was a member of St. Paul's Cathedral.

He is survived by his widow and five sisters, Mr. H. G. Lindsay and Miss Margaret Wallace of Strathroy, Mrs. Edward Hillman of Salmon Arm, B.C., Mrs. Thomas T. Mortimore and Mrs. E. H. McDonald of this city.

ESTIMATES SHOW WHEAT CROP INCREASED

Washington, Nov. 4.—Total wheat production this year of the 29 leading wheat-growing countries of the world, excluding Russia, reached 2,852,825,000 bushels, or approximately 190,000,000 bushels more than in 1920, according to latest available estimates reported today by the department of agriculture. For next year's crop, the department reported generally favorable conditions throughout the northern hemisphere for winter wheat sowing. Seeding was said to be nearly completed in Canada, and all but the far west section of the United States, where it has been seriously delayed by drought.

Favorable growing conditions and increased acreage were said to promise a large crop for Australia. In Argentina spring planting was said to have been seriously delayed by insufficient moisture.

NEW CAPITALIZATION. Toronto, Nov. 4.—Authorized capital reported to the Monetary Times during panics whose incorporations were re-authorized have taken no steps to week ended Oct. 29, compared with $12,376,600 the previous week. The Dominion incorporations were $4,450,000. Of the provincial charts Ontario furnished a capitalization of $13,437,400. Quebec was next with $488,000.

DOUBTS SHERIFF WILL APPOINT NEW JAILER

Waterworth Instructed to Act "Pending an Appointment."

Judging from the tone of a letter from A. N. Middleton, solicitor to the attorney-general of Ontario, and received by Deputy Sheriff B. F. Waterworth, the latter is of the opinion that the Toronto authorities intend to appoint the governor of the London jail or make a recommendation regarding the appointment.

The custom is for the sheriff of the county to appoint the governor, and have it ratified by the lieutenant-governor-in-council.

However, there is no sheriff in Middlesex County at present. Deputy Sheriff Waterworth only acting in that capacity.

He is also in charge of the jail, "pending an appointment," he has been instructed.

This phrase, "pending an appointment," is the part of a letter he has received, that has led him to believe that the appointment of jailer may be made at Toronto.

CLAIMS ALL UNION MINERS ARE IDLE

Union Leader Declares Strike Order Unnecessary in Indiana.

Terre Haute, Ind., Nov. 4.—Every union miner in Indiana was idle today according to John Hessler, district president of the United Mine Workers of America. For this reason, he said, no formal strike order would be issued.

PLANS TO MAKE APPEAL. Indianapolis, Nov. 4.—An appeal to a higher court is planned as the next move of the United Mine Workers of America to save the "check-off" system. Counsel for the miners plan to appear before the circuit court of appeals at Chicago today to ask suspension of the temporary injunction granted by Judge A. B. Anderson in United States district court here, forbidding operators to check off miners' dues, and also ordering the union to cease its efforts to organize the West Virginia fields.

Indiana coal operators, who opposed the injunction, will take no part in the proceedings, having voted at a meeting at Terre Haute last night, not to join the miners' union in the appeal of the injunction. The operators also voted to obey the injunction issued by Judge Anderson.

While the union's attorneys prepared for court action there continued throughout the bituminous coal field sporadic strikes, apparently in protest against the injunction. Mines of the Indiana field were idle with a few exceptions. Operators said that out of approximately 30,000 union miners employed in the Indiana district, over 25,000 were on strike.

No general walkout of miners in other fields is looked for, however until the order discontinuing the use of the "check-off" system is put into effect by operators.

Reports from the Ohio field were that miners taking part in the protest strike in that district had been ordered back to work by district union officials, pending decision by the employers on whether to apply the order prohibiting the "check-off."

IN ORDER TO ACCOMMODATE Thanksgiving rush the G. T. R. will run an extra train ahead of the International Limited from Toronto Saturday night. The extra will arrive here at 8:48 and go through to Detroit.

DENIES CANADIANS SHIP U. S. BACON

Department of Agriculture Proves Claim of Dominion Porkers.

Ottawa, Nov. 4.—The joint two-day conference of representative Canadian hog producers and packers, called by the live stock branch of the department of agriculture to discuss measures which would tend to place the Canadian bacon industry on a sound basis, has come to a close.

The resolution embodying a proposal that a 10 per cent spread be given to the packers as a premium on select bacon, and that when any change was to take place in the spread of prices as between producers and packers, six months notice should be given.

There was considerable discussion regarding the grading of pork for export purposes. Several delegates of pork packing firms who have returned recently from the old country gave the lie to the idea prevalent in certain quarters that Canadian packers were securing bacon from the United States and exporting it to England as Canadian bacon.

The statement of the packers was supported by officials of the department of agriculture. It was pointed out that bacon purchased in the United States was stamped as being an American product, and that such an imposture could not be tried successfully on the discriminating English importers of bacon.

A resolution was submitted asking the government to provide for the inspection of bacon before it left Canadian shores. The action of the resolution was not pressed, it being pointed out that packers already had staffs of experts at the packing establishments to carry out the work of inspection.

Before the close of the conference the chairman, Dr. J. H. Grisdale, deputy minister of agriculture, announced that effect would be given on the 1st of May next to the resolution calling on the government to establish a standard of grading for hogs.

SETTLERS FROM BRITAIN FOR BRITISH COLUMBIA

200,000 Acres To Be Placed at Their Disposal.

Victoria, B. C., Nov. 4.—One thousand families will come to British Columbia from the British Isles to settle in the Stuart Lake country, in the northern part of the province as a result of action just taken by a committee of the British House of Commons on a proposal by Hon. J. D. Pattinson, secretary of lands, while he was in London, it was announced today.

The area to be settled consists of 200,000 acres under reserve north of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway. Mr. Pattinson placed before Alfred Bigland, head of the committee, a plan for the formation of a non-profit-making organization, offering sale of the lands to the area at a classified price, and promised that every dollar obtained for the land would be spent on schools and roads.

drums, the playing of the Last Post by the R. C. R. Bugle Band. The address of Col. Cockshutt, followed, after which the dedicating prayer was offered by Col. (Rev.) William Beattie, D.D., C.M.G., and the hymn was sung, "O, God, Our Help in Ages Past."

Presents Silver Trowel. Mrs. F. J. Greenaway presented a silver trowel to his honor on behalf of the executive of the War Memorial committee, and with this he sealed the stone. In the inclosure were placed copies of the London newspapers of the day, the records in connection with the building of the hospital, coins of the year, pennies of the Royal Arch Masons. A number of N. O. A. men and nursing sisters of the C. E. F. were present in uniform by special permission of General Panet.

Special invitations to attend had been extended to the Army and Navy Veterans, G. W. V. A., 142nd Battalion Club, 33rd Comrades' Club and the Grand Army of United Veterans.

Following the ceremonies, his honor witnessed the march past of the R. C. R. from a saluting base on the north side of Ottawa avenue.

Previous to leaving for Toronto, the Lieutenant-governor, Mrs. Cockshutt and staff were the guests for afternoon tea of Lieut.-Col. Gartschore and Mrs. Gartschore in the nurses' residence.

Lieut.-Governor Cockshutt Addresses Clubs at Noon

Members of the Rotary, Kiwanis and Lions' Clubs combined with the Canadian Club at a noon-day luncheon Friday to greet Lieut.-Gov. Harry Cockshutt, lieutenant-governor of Ontario, and Dr. L. Barker of the Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore.

Bishop Williams, in introducing the lieutenant-governor, spoke of him as a captain of industry, a true patriot, a good citizen, and a good man. "I did not come to make a speech," said Col. Cockshutt, in addressing the assembly, which completely filled the dining-room of the Tecumseh Hotel, "but I want to thank you for your kindly welcome."

"We are living in times of stress," continued the lieutenant-governor. "There is an election near at hand, and everyone seems to be laying the blame at the other fellow's door for the turmoil. But when you get down to the seat of all the trouble you will find, I think, that it is the Kaiser of Germany, and not the mayor and councillors who are to blame."

Col. Cockshutt stated that it was up to every person to exercise his or her ballot, and that they should not wait for politicians to send a carriage to carry them to the polls.

"We are democratic in this country and do things for ourselves," he said. He made a strong plea for the development of Ontario's natural resources. "Let us take up our burdens. Let us stop complaining and continually harping on hardships. It is up to us to act."

"I have been appointed lieutenant-governor, although not a citizen of Toronto. The position belongs to Ontario and not to Toronto, and God helping me I will make the lieutenant-governorship one for Ontario, and not of one city. I don't know whether I can perform the duties satisfactorily, but if I can do so of office with as little friction as I have experienced so far, I will be thankful."

Dr. Barker, who was introduced by Dr. F. W. Hughes, president of the W. O. A. Academy of Medicine, stated that he was born a Canadian and was glad that there were lots of Canadians in the United States and former Americans in Canada, as the interchange did much to promote good feelings between the two countries.

Lloyd George Needed. In speaking of the need of nations in Washington, Dr. Barker said that there was little chance of a formal alliance between Great Britain, France and the United States.

"We all hope that Lloyd George is coming," said Mr. Barker, amid applause. "The world needs him in Washington. We believe that in Lloyd George you have one of the greatest statesmen the world has ever produced and we hope that his advice will be obtainable."

"If the peoples of the nations get to know each other better as a result of the conference, much will have been gained to us. We can feel sure that the Anglo-Saxons will do their duty to the rest of the world."

A resolution of condolence was passed to the family of the late School Inspector C. B. Edwards, by the Canadian Club. B. C. McCann, in proposing the resolution, spoke of the wonderful work and enthusiasm which Mr. Edwards had brought to the Canadian Club. He had been elected president of the club in 1909-10.

"The members have lost a warm, personal friend," said Mr. McCann, "and the city of London an educator of great ability. He was a man among men." The resolution was seconded by Rev. J. G. Stuebe.

Major Hume Cronyn, M. P., president of the Canadian Club, presided at the luncheon.

DECLINES NOMINATION, SAYS MANITOBA PAPER

Winnipeg, Nov. 4.—Dr. J. Rocan, nominated early this week by the Manitoba Liberals, under J. A. Knott, in the federal constituency of Macdonald, has declined the nomination, according to the Free Press.

A. L. Hall, president of the Brandon Liberal Association, last night wired the Free Press requesting the nomination of F. C. Cox as a Liberal candidate in Brandon. Mr. Cox was also a Knott nominee.

JUGO-SLAVIA'S KING TO TAKE OATH OF OFFICE

Belgrade, Nov. 4.—King Alexander will take the oath of office as a ruler of Jugo-Slavia tomorrow. Since his final here he has assumed active direction of affairs. Reports that there is a probability of a change in the occupant of the Jugo-Slav throne was regarded in this city as absolutely unfounded. "The king will stay in Paris of King Alexander, following the death of his father, the late King Peter, was the subject of much comment."

LAWYER LOSES FEE CASE IN COURT

hue, when Donohue asked him what was said when Graham's order was presented.

Detective Down stated that on Oct. 6, Graham had admitted to him that the money in his possession had been obtained fraudulently from the bank. Part of the money consisted of three millions $5 bank bills. The teller had given Graham ten $5 bills on the day previous to the one of his arrest.

"I made an order of restitution on application of the crown," testified Deputy Magistrate Bartlett, who added that it was a verbal one.

"Was I there?" asked Donohue. "I don't know whether you were or not," was the reply.

Crown Attorney J. B. McKillop, K.C., stated that he had asked for an order of restitution after sentence had been meted out.

Was Three in One. Then Donohue, who was both plaintiff, counsel and witness, re-entered the box and stated: "I wasn't present when any order was made."

"A prisoner has a right to assign money to you if it is his own, but not if it belongs to other people," ruled Judge Judd. "I think it has been proved that it was Graham's money. The money found on the prisoner was the property of Molsens Bank."

"I have no right to review any order made by the deputy magistrate, any more than I have to review one made by my brother judge, the senior county and court judge. I doubt if you had any right to sue the chief. The action is dismissed with costs."

"Let me then give out a written statement, including his judgment and his reasons for giving it."

And so ended the fight of Mr. Donohue to get his fees.

The legal and police officials departed and the division court pursued the even tenor of its way.

The courthouse is still standing, the police department is still running, and not even a ripple of sensation that was expected to develop was in evidence.

half the windows on children visiting the park while it was under the supervision of the playgrounds department. As far as the commission can figure, only 34 windows might have been broken in this way, and a close check is going to be made before the bill is paid.

Suggests Collecting Quarterly. The provincial hydro body has suggested that London should fall in line with other centers and send out its electric bills quarterly instead of monthly.

Secretary Ellwood says that the receipts from private consumers total over $12,000 monthly. If collected quarterly the commission would lose the use of $25,000 for two months. He also pointed out that if the quarterly billing period was such a success, why did the Bell Telephone Company and the City Gas Company pass it up. The commission will stand by the present system.

E. Post, a Manor Park resident, in cutting down a tree, let it fall on the commission's power line. It wrecked three poles and tore the lines down for a block on the east side. The cost of repairing the damage was $34.70.

Manager Buchanan said that residents cutting trees or trimming them are continuously causing heavy damage to the lines of the commission. Let us put the system of the city out for half an hour one day recently.

Commissioner McFarland said people should understand that they cannot cut trees, but that the city will do it for them if they send in word.

The contract form for supplying water service is to be changed to make it a stronger lien on the property where the service is supplied, and on the suggestion of Chairman Vining all such contracts will be registered in future. The chairman said that the contract as it exists today, without registration, was practically useless.

DENIES LEPERS PERIL WORLD

Dr. Hill Details Results of Lengthy Research on Disease.

That leprosy of ancient times, referred to often in the Bible, is not the disease now known to the medical world by that name, was the declaration of Dr. H. W. Hill, director of public health, in an address to the Hippocratic Society of Western University Medical School Thursday night.

Dr. Hill explained to his audience of medical students that he has discovered this fact by personal research of Biblical literature and modern medical works, assisted by Dr. C. C. Waller, principal of Huron College, an authority on Hebrew, and also with the aid of a Jewish rabbi.

Dr. Hill informed his audience that the leprosy of Biblical periods is, in his opinion, a tropical disease known as Pinta. He quoted symptoms of leprosy as recorded in the Bible and compared them with the symptoms of Pinta, as described in modern medical texts in confirmation of his statements.

In leading up to this interesting announcement Dr. Hill said in part: "According to scriptural records, the priests were physicians of those days. Suspected lepers were set aside by them for one week, when they were examined again. If the disease had not spread in the interval, they were allowed to go on their duties. The symptoms described were a white skin, subcutaneous lesions and the fact that the disease spread rapidly."

"The clothing of a leper was characterized by red and green streaks which spread, and they were ordered destroyed. The walls of the leper's home were similarly streaked, and if they spread the building was burned down. Of course, we know absolutely no modern disease fits that description. We know that modern leprosy does not grow in the clothes or on walls."

"The biblical name for this disease was not leprosy, but Tsaraath, and the modern term leprosy was originated by Hippocrates and means scaly. People translated Tsaraath from the Bible to mean leprosy. As we have only differentiated measles and smallpox since about 1000 A.D., and typhoid from typhus fever about 100 years ago, we cannot blame the translators for making a guess."

"What does modern leprosy look like? Modern leprosy spots are a brownish yellow or perhaps bluish and not white. Everybody knows that leprosy is exceedingly slow in developing. Instead of being subcutaneous the spots are raised. It would not spread in two weeks as described by the priests, who could never spot it spreading in fourteen days. The leper was declared unclean then, but there is not one word in the Bible from cover to cover to indicate that leprosy could be caught from the other fellow."

"Explains Change in Name. 'I hope you are convinced that this disease of ancient times was not modern leprosy. What was it? The Bible was drawn up with the greatest care, and the most of the things upset in it are really misunderstood. I discovered by a study of medical literature that the disease then called leprosy is described as Pinta in the tropics. It is a greenish, saphrophitic mould which to a reddish growth. It would be possible to have these moulds grow on a damp cloth."

"As for the walls, you have all seen moulds on stonework. It turns the human hair and skin white, and is a modern disease that fits in very well with the Biblical description of leprosy. The description in the Bible is the exact reverse of the points of modern leprosy. It is a misconception that could have been cleared up by anyone if they had only asked what the Bible said, instead of what commentators said. This is the essence of research."

"In Minnesota we used to let the lepers go home, the only restriction being that they keep out of public gatherings. We let them live outdoors in the sunlight with their own people. What was the result? There were twenty cases of leprosy in that state when I had charge. Later there were 60, and now there is not any to be found in Minnesota."

"Raps Tuberculosis. 'So long as we allow tuberculosis people who are ten times more infectious to go about we should say nothing to our poor lepers who in this part of the world are incapable of even infecting their own family. There are three million lepers in the world of a total population of sixteen millions. I hope none of you will ever oppress these poor people when you do not need it."

In conclusion Dr. Hill stated that leprosy is peculiar to Iceland, China, the near Orient, South Seas Isles, Hawaii and Norway. An attempt to correlate it with eating fish has proved futile. He declared the germ of leprosy, specimens of which are retained at the Institute of Public Health here, to be "the forty-second cousin of tuberculosis," similar to a tuberculosis affecting the skin. It is found chiefly RHEUMATISM?

If you are a sufferer, heed this advice.
Collinwood, Ont.—"It is with pleasure that I write this note of commendation. I suffered with muscular rheumatism for three years and have been completely cured of same by taking a few packages of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Every after doctors' medicines failed to do any good. I am now free from all signs of rheumatism for which I most heartily thank Dr. Pierce and his wonderful medicines." Mrs. Kerwood Cook, Box 464.

Send 10c to Dr. Pierce's Laboratory in Bridgeburg, Ont., for trial pkg. of any of Dr. Pierce's remedies and write for free confidential medical advice.

HAVE YOU A COUGH?
This is of Vital Importance. You Woodstock, Ont.—"My husband always speaks a good word for Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and we both feel that he owes his present good health to this splendid medicine. Bronchitis, pneumonia, as a child, left him with chronic bronchial trouble and it just kept getting worse every year even though he doctored and tried every remedy recommended to him. Some nights he would cough so hard I used to be afraid he might die before morning. Last fall his mother advised him to try the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and from the first few doses he improved. It is just a year now and he seems to be entirely cured of all bronchial ailments." Mrs. S. M. Greer, 27 Sydenham St.

Get the Discovery to-day at any medicine dealers, tablets or liquid.

In the nose of the leper, and the disease is chronic, running a course of from three to thirty years.

Thinks Disease Curable. Wonderful success has been achieved in treatment of the disease with Chalmers Oil recently, and Dr. Hill ventured the opinion that leprosy is not incurable.

"Undoubtedly leprosy existed in Biblical days," he concluded. "All I claim is that leprosy described in the Bible is not modern leprosy."

Thursday's meeting of the Hippocratic Society of Western University, which is composed of the student body of the medical school, is the first of several to be held throughout the academic year.

Dr. Paul S. McKibbin, dean of the faculty of medicine at Western, was elected honorary president of the society at this meeting. T. O. Smith, president of the medical student body, acted as chairman, and during the session the school quartet, composed of Messrs. A. Wheatley, L. Girard, E. Hunter and H. G. Fletcher, rendered several popular selections.

MANY WILL TAKE UP FARM COURSE

Three Months of Lectures Will Be Given At Strathroy.

The short course in agriculture to be held in Strathroy for three months commencing Nov. 28 promises to exceed the fondest anticipations of the local branch of the department, in charge of the course.

Applications are already coming in, in large numbers from the young men and women of the district. Although it has not been definitely settled, it is more than likely that the course will be held in the town hall. Hon. Manning Doherty, Ontario minister of agriculture, will be in Strathroy on the evening of Nov. 14, and will address a meeting of farmers on the aims and benefits to be derived from the lectures which will be handled by experts in their various lines.

Although the program has been outlined, it is pointed out that the lecturers cannot spend more than a week at one course before traveling on to the next one, and that while they are present, the majority of the time will be spent on the subjects they handle.

Following is an outline of the courses for both boys and girls:

Boys' Course.
Nov. 28 to Dec. 23, animal and field husbandry, daily.
Veterinary science, Dec. 1 and 2, and 7, 8 and 9; bacteriology, Dec. 5 to 9.
Farm mechanics and birds in relation to agriculture, Dec. 13 and 14.
English and mathematics, daily.
Jan. 4 to 31, animal and field husbandry, daily.
Horticulture, Jan. 4 to 17; agriculture, Jan. 4 to 17; farm forestry, Jan. 20 and 31; English and mathematics, daily.
Feb. 1 to 28, animal and field husbandry, daily; poultry, Jan. 30 to Feb. 3; dairy husbandry, Feb. 6 to 10.
Farm management, Feb. 15 to 28; civics and rural organization, Jan. 30 to Feb. 3; English and mathematics, daily.

Following is the staff of lecturers: Veterinary science, G. H. Reed, Georgetown; bacteriology, L. B. Jackson, Toronto; horticulture and vegetable growing, Andrew Fulton, vegetable specialist, Toronto; agriculture, William Agass, Brooklin; poultry, J. P. Francis, Guelph; dairy, Miss B. Gilholm, Bright; soils and fertilizers, H. G. Bell, Toronto; farm forestry, A. H. Richardson, Toronto; animal husbandry, R. A. Finn; field husbandry, S. D. Irvine, English and mathematics, J. K. Campbell, Strathroy.

Feb. 1 to 28, home nursing and first aid, English and mathematics; instructor, Miss E. Harcourt.

POULTRY ASSOCIATION HOLDS LARGE EXHIBIT
Over 1,300 Prize Fowls in Queen's Park Exhibit.

Over 1,300 roosters and hens are respectively crowing and clucking at the poultry show being held in Queen's Park, under the auspices of the London Poultry and Pet Stock Association. The exhibit, which began on Thursday, will conclude on the evening of Thanksgiving day.

"We have over 200 more entries than we had last year," stated Frank E. Wray, show manager. "And it is the best exhibition we ever had."

A lot of the birds will be shown at the Guelph Winter Fair next month. The largest showing is made in the White Wyandottes.

An added attraction will be a two-headed pig owned by H. G. Whiting of Crumlin, which will be on show Friday.

The following men will commence judging this morning: Wm. McNeil, R. Oke, Wm. Carter of Londonborough; James McCormick, W. Z. Watts and S. Robertson of Ottawa.

W. Z. Watts is president of the association and H. Laynge, secretary.

C. of C. Members Elect New Directors Thursday.

SEVEN new directors were voted into office by the members of the chamber of commerce Thursday night. Between 60 and 70 per cent of the members cast their ballots and kept the election counting them.

The names of the new directors in alphabetical order are as follows: George H. Belton, E. V. Buchanan, Hume Cronyn, M. P. J. J. Foot, James Grey, E. E. Harley and A. E. Silverwood.

Those who had charge of the election were Wm. C. Benson, chairman; J. M. Watt, Arthur C. Carty, Leonard Tait, T. H. Midwood, C. A. Bowie, Robert J. Webster, R. I. Watson, F. St. Lawrence and W. B. Wortman.

CLAIMS U. S. SOLDIERS HANGED WITHOUT TRIAL

OTTAWA, Nov. 3.—Talking with the Canadian Press over long-distance telephone today from Morrisburg, Ont., J. J. Fry of that place admitted authorship of a telegram to Senator Watson of Georgia, stating he could furnish a volume of additional evidence to the senator's charges that United States soldiers were hanged and shot in France without trial. He refused, however, to make further statements, other than to say that he was in communication with Senator Watson.

Mr. Fry stated he had had no direct connection with the army, and had not been overseas.

"I do not care to say anything more at present," he concluded.

RULE ON BREWING OF BEER IN CITY

Officials Give Information to Would-Be "Cheer" Manufacturers.

It has been brought to the attention of the London customs department and the inland revenue department are consolidated, it has become the duty of the customs officer to see that the beer brewers become acquainted with the Government's edict pertaining to this matter.

While it is permissible to brew for private use, one condition must be complied with, the ingredients and the utensils used in concocting home-beer must be reported to the nearest collector and he must be notified of the intentions of the brewer.

Many who have been taking the greatest care to hide their operations under the deepest cloak of secrecy possible, and who were brewing only for home use, if they had been acquainted with the law might have saved themselves considerable bother, the customs authorities say.

The ones who have reported the recipe which contains the substances that they place in their brewing cauldrons have been negligible in number, the revenue officials affirm.

OFFICIALLY OPENED HIGHWAY.
KITCHENER, Nov. 3.—(Canadian Press).—Hon. F. C. Biggs, minister of public works, officially opened the new highway completed recently between St. Jacobs and Elmira this afternoon. The minister was the guest of the county council and the Woolwich Township council at a luncheon in Elmira afterwards.

LIONS' CLUB HEARS APPEAL FOR BOYS

Lloyd Houlding Asks Members To Adopt Fifty Boys.

Lloyd Houlding of the Y. M. C. A. was the special speaker at the Lions' Club luncheon in the Tecumseh Hotel at Thursday noon. Mr. Houlding discussed boys in a general way, and appealed to the club to become interested in 15 or 25 under-privileged boys.

Mr. Houlding stated that the popular impression that the Kiwanis Club only was interested in taking care of under-privileged boys was not correct. The Rotary Club was out to do what it could, and he hoped that the Lions' Club would fall in line.

"The boy is the most impressionable vehicle for good citizenship," continued Mr. Houlding, "and we are deeply concerned in his welfare. In a city the size of London the poor boy plays with the rich one, and there can either be a down-pulling or an uplifting in his character. It all depends on the gang he is with; and he is with the gang more than he is under home influence."

"As a boy plays, so will he act in business, so you see we must guide the boy in all of his activities. It is our duty to get the boy tied up to something that will be of benefit in his spare hours."

"There are fifty boys that this club could take tomorrow, fatherless boys who need brothering."

"I understand that the Lions are intending to do something for under-privileged girls. There is need for girls' work, but there are plenty of women's organizations that can look after them. Our field of activity is the boy problem. I hope that you will work with us to make all-round men. That should be our ideal."

"I feel that the Rotary, Kiwanis and Lions' Clubs could well afford to get together on this subject of under-privileged boys, and there would be no overlapping."

U. S. STRIKE WILL NOT AFFECT ALBERTA MINES

CALGARY, Nov. 3.—Coal mining in Alberta will proceed unchecked even if all the miners in the United States go on strike. The dispute which at present confronts operators and miners in the United States does not apply in any way to district number eighteen of the United Mine Workers of America and will have no bearing on the local agreement. This assurance was given yesterday by Robert Livett, international board member district number eighteen. The Alberta agreement does not expire until March 31, 1922, and unless something unforeseen crops up production will proceed smoothly until then.

BOYS TO HAVE EXTRA WEEK AT FAVORITE CAMP GROUND

Committee Provides Two Camps on 1922 Program.

At a recent meeting of the Fisher's Glen camp committee, Bradford, a motion made by Lloyd M. Houlding and Frank Watson that there be two camps at Fisher's Glen in the summer of 1922, was passed unanimously by the committee.

It was decided that the first camp be the Y. M. C. A. senior boys. The second two weeks will be used for the junior boys from 12 to 14 years of age. It was moved by Mr. McKellar and S. W. Poole, that the date of the two camps be set as follows: Senior boys, July 3 to 15; junior boys from July 17 to 28.

The managers of the camps appointed by the committee were: Senior camp, W. H. Pierce of Woodstock, general manager, and Lloyd M. Houlding, program director.

For the junior camp, Frank Watson of Hamilton will be general manager and H. Fowler of Galt, program director. Paul Sampson, of Kitchener, was appointed athletic director. The other offices will be filled at the general boys' work secretaries' conference, which will be held in January at Toronto.

Another High Rate.

The need for scientific management of the affairs of municipalities is being brought home to not a few centres this year. The case of Streetsville has been brought to notice by the amount of taxation levied against that place for the next two years, which will be at the rate of 62 mills on the dollar.

According to reports, this rate is the outcome of the defeat of the bylaw authorizing an issue of debentures to pay for a new cement roadway which was built first, and then submitted to the people. The result is that the money will have to be raised in two years, instead of in 20. The money to repay the bank will be raised one year and the money to pay the contractor the next. In 1922 the tax rate will be raised eight mills over the 1921 rate and seven mills extra imposed in 1923.

This may be a case where the taxpayer is hit a little harder than in other centres. There are plenty of cases in all our cities where property, with local improvements counted in, is paying around 50 and 60 mills in taxes. Of course it is too much. It puts too great a levy on a man's purse for the sake of living in a given locality. It is in a period of high rents, which is an undesirable thing for any community.

It is hard for a city council to go ahead and run city affairs as any member of council would his own private business. It is all right in theory, but not in practice.

Take the matter of roads, pavements, sewers, etc., and their construction. When work is slack, there is a demand that the city go ahead with construction work in order to ease off the unemployment situation. We are not finding fault with this practice, as it is imperative that as much work as possible be found.

But from the point of strict business administration, what do we find?

Council cannot sit down and figure closely on costs, material, suitability of weather conditions, actual needs of the situation, etc. A private business concern, keeping in mind its earnings and expenditures, its profits and loss accounts, and the fact that it must face competition on this basis, could meet the situation in an entirely different light.

On the part of a municipal council there is a different sort of pressure entirely. There is the pressure of agency for work regardless of the absolute necessity of the work being done. There is the pressure supplied by the fact that many men, residents of the municipality, are in need of work, and must be taken on, often regardless of their fitness for the position.

What happens?
The tax rate in every municipality in the country answers this question so thoroughly that little can be said. The municipality pays a top price for its public works in many cases. The aldermen (or councillors as the case may be) are blamed generously for the amount of money spent for a given project, the critics finding it convenient to forget that the supplying of necessary work was one of the considerations in going on with the undertaking at all.

And so the thing goes, and so the tax rates grow.
The handling of civic finances is work for a professional. It certainly is too delicate an operation to be entrusted to the care of any new set of men who may head the polls at the annual municipal turnover.
The high rates we are paying now are in many cases traceable to past neglect and the following of the lines of least resistance.
As stated before in these columns, the heavy tax rate will probably work out its own salvation, because it will FORCE ratepayers to think seriously, and to participate in problems of civic administration.

The Heckler Appears.

The old-fashioned heckler is making his appearance at some of the political meetings of the present campaign, and seems to be doing fairly effective work.

The real heckler can "get" many a young speaker, making his first appearance on the public platform. He studies the situation quite carefully and knows almost to a minute when the speaker is at a point where, if his line of argument is broken, it will be very difficult for him to take it up again.
Nor is the heckler, if he is one of the old school, a noisy individual. He generally puts in his little shafts in a way that will simply annoy the speaker or spoil the effect of some portion of the address that he is delivering with more or less telling effect.

Some years ago when elections were keen in Wellington, a Conservative candidate, who had difficulty in speaking the English in true campaign style, was given a set speech by some of his friends. In just exactly the same amount of labor.

He attended a farm sale recently, where a Berkshire sow with pigs sold at $25. In the next pen two purebred Yorkshire sows with pigs brought $60 each. Figures talk and there you have them. Furthermore, the farmer who is in purebred stock of whatever description has a much better chance for bank accommodation and more of it than the man in grades or scrubs. The only way to better cattle prices lies down "Purebred Avenue."

Expression.

Study the furnishing of a home and you "have the number" of the housewife. People express themselves in the furniture they buy and the homes they build, just as much as in the clothes they wear.

Psychologists call it "the creative impulse" or "the unconscious expression of the inner self." Take a deep breath and delve into psychology with Dr. C. T. Curran, director of the Royal Ontario Museum of Archaeology.

The oldest pictures in the world are in caves of the Pyrenees Mountains, between France and Spain. Carved on the walls, they represent that which the cave man wanted most—the animals he hunted.

Such pictures, says Curran, gave prehistoric man a feeling of possession and mastery, in advance of the actual killing.

It was one of the oldest human beliefs that the picture of a thing gives one power over the thing itself.

Salesmen can profit by this bit of psychology. Study the pictures in a man's office and you know what to talk to him about.

This may never have occurred to you. But tonight in your home ponder the pictures on the walls. They reveal whether your "suppressed functions" are along lines of hunting, nature or adventure.

25 YEARS AGO TODAY

Here We Have Items of Local and District Interest,
As Recorded in The Advertiser of 1896.

LONDON, NOV. 4, 1896.

Vertical writing was the board of education's chief topic of discussion last night, and the debate was becoming real warm, when a timely compromise had a cooling effect. The subject was introduced in the following clause by No. 1 committee's report, submitted by Trustee Johnston: "That it be optional with the teachers of the public schools to introduce vertical writing in their classes. Trustee Buchner contended that the act required a teacher to first apply for and receive the sanction of the board before he or she taught the system. Mr. Keenleyside charged that some teachers were teaching the vertical system without the board's permission. Mr. Campbell, chairman, upheld the view that teachers had to apply for permission to teach the vertical system. Mr. Greenless spoke strongly in favor of vertical writing. Trustee Logan said Mr. Campbell, chairman, and Althouse had told him they opposed vertical writing. The board's solicitor, Trustee Murphy, was asked for his interpretation of the law, and after reading it carefully, he said, that a request from the teacher was implied though there was nothing in the section absolutely calling for it.

Dr. Wilson poured oil on the troubled waters by moving that the opinion of Mr. Murphy be obtained.

Principal Merchant reported that the number on the Collegiate Institute roll was 727, and the average attendance 695. The increase over October, 1895, was 35. Miss Keley, the new teacher, had assumed her duties.

Trustee Burdick moved that tenders be called for a piano for Lorne avenue kindergarten. Carried.

The village fathers—Reeve Saunby, Deputy Reeve Moore, Councillors Collins, Duff and Hamilton—wrestled with municipal affairs of London West at the regular meeting of the council last night. Deputy Reeve Moore felt a little disconcerted when the letter from the village solicitors was read, vetoing the scheme of exempting all new buildings for two years. The letter says: "As to the legality of the proposed bylaw for exempting new buildings, we would say the council has no power."

Tenders for laying new plank sidewalks were received from W. Cotton, at 23½ cents per foot; John Moir, 23½ cents, and F. R. Ellis, 16½ cents, and were referred to the chairman of the board of works.

The matter of placing lights at Oxford street bridge and Oak street was discussed, and Mr. Alex. Ferguson appeared before the council to urge the necessity for the light at both places. He said women were afraid to pass under the C. P. R. bridge after dark. No action.

Mr. Maxwell Armstrong resigned the position of auditor, owing to his removal to British Columbia.

Auditor Fraser of the G. T. R. is in the city, making his usual examination of the company's books.

The new room at the Collegiate Institute, rendered necessary by the overcrowding of the lower forms, was opened yesterday.

During October there were registered with the St. Thomas city clerk 14 births, 8 marriages and 13 deaths.

Chatham's customs collections for October were $1,595.99, an increase of $1,241.76 over the same month for 1895.

J. H. Tennant, V. S. of this city, has been appointed inspector of cattle, sheep and hogs exported from this district.

COMMON SENSE WAYS TO KEEP WELL.

DIRTY NAILS

BY DR. R. H. BISHOP.

OUR finger nails are there for a purpose. The duty of the finger nail is to act as protectors to the tips of the fingers and thus save them from pressure and injury. The sensation of touch is thus made more accurate.

But not only to look well, but to prevent any possibility of spreading germs the nails must be kept clean. Doctors, nurses, maids, housewives and especially cooks have the greatest opportunities to do harm because of dirty finger nails. It is a known fact that cooks have spread typhoid fever by the nails acting as "carriers" of the disease.

After the hands have been thoroughly washed an orange stick or nail file should be used to remove the particles of dirt under the nails. Never use the point of a scissors or the blade of a knife for this purpose, because either of these cause the under surface to become rough and hold particles of dirt more securely.

After the use of the nail file or orangewood stick, the nail brush should be employed and then again the stick or file.

Some emotional and absent-minded persons have the habit of biting their nails or picking at them. The origin of such a practice may be "hangnails" and rough edges which are first sucked upon or bitten once or twice. Then follows the bad habit.

The finger nails themselves are not dangerous. Neither is a scratch from them if they are clean. If the margins of the nails were sterilized, disinfected and as hygienically clean as the surgeon's knife you could pick and scratch without infecting skin without hurting anything.

It is because the nails harbor germs and the skin is also filled with microbes, that scratches and nail marks and skin bitten off around the nails are dangerous. "Hangnails" (bitten "hangnails") are infections in the flesh from germs harbored by the nails.

Red, swollen and inflamed "ingrowing nails" are due to similar bacteria. A good treatment for such infections is hot boracic acid water applications.

RUM-RUNNERS' PORT WIDE OPEN AS U. S. RECALLS SPEEDY CUTTER

SLOW TUB NOW GUARDS COAST INEFFECTIVELY

In Every Southern Resort Liquor Flows Freely and Cheaply.

GUARANTEE DELIVERY

Hotels Expect Winter Tourists' Trade Will Be Wet and Thriving.

(Copyright, 1921.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Liquor smuggling is the biggest industry along the southern Atlantic coast. The rum deluge goes on, sweeping from Florida and Georgia ports to distant parts of the United States, in spite of prohibition laws and enforcement efforts.

Rum smugglers and bootleggers along the Florida coast make no secret of their lack of fear of punishment. Fear of the law was reduced to a minimum when a fast revenue cutter was withdrawn from the service at Miami. The craft had excellent lines and speed and was suitable for the job of catching rum smugglers.

R. S. Miller, present commanding officer of the decrepit revenue cutter, stationed at Miami, was given charge of the boat. He immediately had her engine overhauled.

Boat Taken Away.

The day the job was completed, Miller started out with the best rum in southern waters. And then the fast boat was removed from his command and taken to Key West. In place of the fast boat, Miller was given the Vidette, an old tub with a cannon that will not shoot and has a speed of six knots an hour.

One man, a former government official, asserts he can do what the present government agencies have not done—stem the deluge.

Charles H. Nesle says that in a single year he can make himself rich for life if the government will pay him a bounty of one-tenth the foreign value of all liquor he seizes from smugglers.

Nesle formerly was a department of justice agent. He says he knows the inside of the rum-running situation. The government offered him a job as prohibition agent—at $145 a month salary. Nesle rejected this offer.

The average foreign value of whiskey imported into the United States last year was $5.36 a gallon, or $16.08 a case of twelve quarts. A bounty of ten per cent on all liquor seized would net the raider $1.60 a case. Capture of only three cases a day would pay a prohibition agent's salary.

Nesle's novel offer to the government to stop smuggling on a commission basis was made known during the investigation of the national breakdown of prohibition enforcement.

Would Pay Salary.

Aside from Miami and Savannah, the chief rum smuggling ports along the southern coast are Jacksonville, Fernandina, West Palm Beach and Fort Pierce, in Florida, and Charleston, S. C.

There isn't a single resort where liquor cannot be purchased, at low prices and in large quantities.

Expect Rich Harvest.

Palm Beach, Miami and St. Augustine are expecting a rich harvest from the tourist trade this winter. One big hotel owner candidly said:

"I hope the government doesn't do anything to stop the liquor coming in this winter, because we are depending on liquor to keep the hotel filled with contented guests. And I hope liquor stays cheap like it is now."

They feel the same way about it at West Palm Beach, a station a mile from the famous resort, and one of the wettest spots in the south. Liquor can be had for 25 cents a drink. St. Augustine is equally wet.

At Fort Pierce, a junction point midway between Miami and Jacksonville, the Bahamas Islands, 70 miles away, Scotch whiskey can be had for $4 a quart.

Jacksonville has a cigar store where whiskey is $3 a quart and gin $4, but the dealer will sell only in case lots.

Guarantees Arrival.

A taxi driver in Savannah is selling Scotch at $25 a case, and offers to ship it to any destination, with safe arrival guaranteed. His method is to pack the liquor in a steel box, hermetically sealed, and labelled "Canned Goods."

Fernandina is one of the biggest ports in the south for smuggled liquor from the Bahamas. The desolate nature of the coast and the numerous coves and inlets make smuggling easy.

An efficient government enforcement agency exists in Jacksonville, headed by Howard P. Wright, division superintendent of the department of justice. But "Order No. 65," described in an earlier article, does not permit him to go after violators of the liquor law.

There are at present two prohibition enforcement agents stationed at Jacksonville. Wright says if the government "should ever ask him" to enforce the Volstead act he would have to have 22 men in addition to his present force of six to enforce the law in Jacksonville and vicinity.

It is claimed so far the government has not asked the department of justice agents to enforce prohibition.

Eleven Teams Expected Line Up For The Pas Event.

THE PAS, Man., Nov. 3.—Cold weather once again revives the Pas 200-mile dog derby as a topic of conversation in this northern country and prospectors look for a record list of entries.

While still many months away, February 28, 1922, being the date on which it will be run, inquiries have been received from many would-be entrants, and the line-up of eleven crack teams is practically assured, but many more contestants may yet be heard from.

Many of this year's drivers, including Coyne, Dupas, Billy Winterbottom, Morgan, Bancroft, Larry McKay, Sam Pranteau and Jack Hayes, have entered a new entrant will be Billy Russek of Lake Abitibi, Quebec, but very little is known of his ability or of his team.

Some kennel club by the derby committee to send teams and the Fairbanks racing drivers have also announced their intention of sending a representative.

ASTRONOMERS WILL TRY TO FIX EASTER

Conference To Take Place in Rome Next April.

ROME, Nov. 3.—The Vatican has announced that a conference of astronomers will take place in Rome next April, under the presidency of Cardinal Mercier, with the object of reforming the calendar and fixing Easter.

The occurrence this year of Easter Sunday on March 27, within five days of its earliest possible date, revived the proposal for a fixed Easter. No fewer than sixteen Easters will happen in March between now and the close of this century—an average of one every five years—unless something is done to prevent the erratic wandering of the festival between March 22 and April 25.

Under the existing ecclesiastical rule Easter Sunday can fall on any of the 35 dates. The present rule is that Easter must be a Sunday, and that the ecclesiastical full moon (which is not the same as the real moon) upon which it depends must occur on one of the seven days immediately preceding it.

Thus, to have Easter Sunday on its earliest date, March 22, the ecclesiastical moon must be full on March 21, which date must also be a Saturday, but so rarely does this occur that it is considered a century since Easter fell on March 22, and it will not again fall so early until the year 2285.

Of late years the inconvenience of a movable Easter has induced calendar reformers to propose reforms which will either make Easter a fixed festival or greatly restrict its wanderings. One suggestion is that Easter Sunday should be assigned to the third Sunday after the spring equinox, which would give it a range of eight days, between April 5 and April 15, according to the date and day of the week on which the equinox falls.

Other proposals aim at an Easter absolutely fixed to one date. That, of course, would necessitate a radical reform of the whole calendar, under which the same week-day should always fall on the same date.

Any such reform will probably have to be universal throughout Christendom, for the moon-controlled Easter is common to all civilized countries; though, owing to the fact that the Greek Church still uses the Julian calendar, there are always nearly a week's difference every year, one the Gregorian, observed by Roman Catholics and Protestants, and the other the Julian, kept by those countries which are in communion with the Greek Church.

ARMED WITH TWO ROCKS, KILLS WOUNDED COUGAR

Vancouver Man Rescues Setter From Infuriated Animal.

CAMPBELL RIVER, B. C., Nov. 3.—Armed only with rocks, Dave Vanstone, well-known Vancouver lumberman, recently killed a large cougar, infuriated as a result of a rifle wound at Valdez Island.

Mr. Vanstone was in his rookery skirting a timber claim, when he heard calls from a hunter in the woods. Landing, he found that a settler had fired his last cartridge and that the cougar, wounded, was showing fight and acting in a most ferocious manner.

Mr. Vanstone armed himself with two rocks and was fortunate enough to land hard with one of these on the animal's nose. The cougar was momentarily stunned, and Vanstone quickly crushed its skull with a larger rock. The hunter who fired the first shot, however, will collect the bounty. The cougar was eight feet six inches long and nearly the largest ever killed in the district.

DR. SUN YAT SEN LOSES PRESTIGE

Evokes Hostility of Provincial Autonomists by Military Projects.

PEKING, China, Nov. 3.—Dr. Sun Yat Sen, the "extraordinary" president of the Canton Government, is in dire straits. His direct control, confined to the city of Canton, which his son has been appointed mayor. His son is a young man of splendid parts, cautious, firm and capable in administration. As might be expected his plans for the development of the city are progressive, and seek to carry on the good work which has been done by his predecessors.

To casual visitors the work which is actually done by his son, outside of Canton City Dr. Sun is obliged to exercise control indirectly through the agency of the erstwhile military governor, now minister of war, General Chen Chung-ming.

Chen is by no means enthusiastic over the ambitious projects of Dr. Sun. His own preference has been and is to confine his efforts to the betterment of the one Province of Canton.

He would like to unify the government of this province, to extirpate piracy and highway robbery, to develop commerce and industry and above all to restore law and order among his fellow provincials who are distrustful of the have wrought among them during the last ten years. General Chen feels confident in his own mind that this work even though confined to the limits of one province is all that any one man could hope to carry to completion.

Friction With Governor.

It is well known that General Chen was not favorable to Dr. Sun's scheme of reducing the neighboring province of Kwangsi by military force and reluctantly gave consent to the use of the troops under his command for this purpose. By means of his over-abundant enthusiasm Dr. Sun persuaded General Chen to allow the use of his troops. It has been this campaign against Kwangsi which had more influence than any other fact in lessening the prestige of Dr. Sun and in producing a fruitful source of friction between him and General Chen.

General Chen has been in constant communication with General Wu, the pacificator of the provinces of Szechwan and Hunan. These two generals are hearty supporters of the theory of provincial autonomy. They have been in frequent communication during the last two or three years, and each has recognized the aims of the other as similar to his own. As long as Dr. Sun confined his efforts to his own native province, Canton, there was nothing in terms to separate him from these co-operation with the two generals.

In fact, the more Dr. Sun did in the development of Canton, the more pleasing it was to these two military men, as each saw in Sun's plans the basis of a military expedition against Kwangsi.

Generals Work Together.

The two generals would co-operate in circumstances forcing them to take military action against provinces other than their own native ones, for a military man must be ready to serve his country whenever needed, but that a civilian like Dr. Sun should desert the order to gratify his own ambition has seemed unjustifiable to the two generals as it undoubtedly appears in this same light to outside observers.

General Chen and General Wu continue to work together for the purpose of encouraging the provinces to draft constitutions for their own government and also to bring about the calling of a national constitutional convention which will settle the long delayed problem of a constitution for the republic.

Dress Shirts At Russian Opera Mark Dawn of Brighter Era

MOSCOW, Nov. 3.—Boiled shirts made their reappearance here at the opening performance of grand opera. There were seven of them, and not one was the sort that one sees by with a sponge. This extremely bourgeois attire was an announcement that starch has arrived in the Moscow market with the changed economic policy.

The entire audience in the great opera house heralded the advent of a new era in Russia. Seats were sold in the old-time way. It cost $4,000,000 to have an excellent seat in the pit or first balcony, and the seats were all full, as well as in the galleries. The mammoth auditorium is just as brilliant in its dull gold and red interior as it was in the days of the czar.

The initial opera was Glinka's "Russian and Ludmilla." It was brilliantly staged.

MARSHAL FOCH REALLY MODEST HERO; HIS HIGHEST YOUTHFUL AMBITIONS ASPIRED TO ART

Man Crowned With World's Most Stellar Military Achievements Once Longed To Win Laurels As a Cartoonist.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—"My center gives way; my right recedes; the situation is excellent. I shall attack."

The great general who penned this message and translated his bold manoeuvre at the first battle of the Marne into a French victory that demolished the wedge the Prussians had driven in and sent them scurrying back to the Aisne, is with us.

He is here to renew friendships with his gallant soldiers who fought with him, the men whom he so eloquently described as possessing "the irreducible will to win."

Crowned with achievements surpassing in magnitude those of the most distinguished leaders in military history, this general who planned the four distinct and separate campaigns that brought success to the banners of the allied forces in the closing year of the world's greatest war, is a man of simple tastes, whose ambition in his youth pointed not to the glory of the battlefield but to art.

"I would have liked to have been a cartoonist—a caricaturist," he said one day in talking of his aspirations.

Strategy would be Foch's middle name, if he had one, but after a soldier climbs to those dizzy heights, where he grasps a marshal's baton even a first name is not needed, so we seldom hear even his baptismal name, Ferdinand, used in speaking of him.

Looks for the Weak Spot.

"Find the weak place and deliver your blow there." This was the style of tactics that Foch drilled into his students for years when he was a professor at the French war college. Once a young officer ventured to ask:

"But what if there is no weak spot?" "Then make one!" flashed the answer.

At the first Marne and at Ypres Foch's generalship was tested. When he overwhelmed Prussian forces far superior to his numerically, Marshal Joffre exclaimed of him:

"The greatest strategist in Europe, and the humblest!"

And this is the man who in the early days of the war was such a stranger to the masses of the French people that the Paris Temps had to correct the apprehension that he was of German origin because of his Teutonic-sounding name. He was born at Tignes, in the foothills of the Pyrenees, and reared at Metz.

Cares Nothing For Society.

Foch knows what it is to live on black bread, for he was poor when he was a student at the Polytechnic. The glitter of society has never attracted him. His social career is summed up when it is said that he made formal calls on the reception days of the garrison hostesses. In his early youth he acquired abstemious habits and he has maintained them ever since.

His face is grave, lined and thin, that of a man who has undergone privation, and who has lived very much alone, but today, at 70, he is a hard, taut bundle of sinew and nerves. His head is large for his small body—5 feet 6 inches—and grows thick around the ears. The largeness of the nose and mouth are softened by a white mustache that covers the corners of the mouth and then points upward. Courage and determination are the lines that light the searching grey eyes, set wide apart. But they are as often illuminated with the warmth of kindness.

How He Looks in Battle. Here is a pen picture of the general in action:

"During a battle Foch is to be found in his big room at headquarters. He stands before one of those large-scale maps with a pencil in his hand and a telephone receiver to his ear. He stands in a semi-circle behind him. There is a perfect silence. The only movement is of the general's pencil on the map as he follows the battle and ponders the details of the district where the fighting is in progress.

"He has two gestures. One is persistent and constant. It is the hand rising to the end of the big mustache—not to fondle it, but to tug at it slowly and strongly. The other is seen when the door opens softly and an officer enters on tiptoe.

"Where have you been?" the general asks abruptly. When he is answered one hand raises the pencil to the point on the map and the other makes a quick, backward, underhand sweep close to his body and high up, as though he were impatiently brushing a speck from his tunic under his arm."

Measured Germans in 1870.

Foch served in the Franco-Prussian war in 1870, and the knowledge he gained of the Germans at that time was of benefit to him in the greater conflict, when he was the supreme commander of 10,000,000 men. Knowing the mentality of the Prussians, he counted upon their repeating the manoeuvres that had succeeded in 1870.

And he also expected them to make some of the old mistakes. In his teaching at the war school he held always to the idea of an inevitable crossing by Germany, springing with lightning-like rapidity, after long premeditation and most minute preparation.

"Think! and yet again think," Foch cried unceasingly to his pupils. "You will be asked later to be the mind of an army. I tell you today, learn to think."

An insight into his philosophy may be gained from a saying of Napoleon with which he prefaced the first of his remarkable series of works on strategy. It runs:

"It is not genius that suddenly reveals to me what I must say or do in a circumstance which to others would be unexpected; it is reflection and meditation."

Facile Tongue Proved Costly Possession To Its Owner.

KITCHENER, Nov. 3.—Because he talked too much in court today Steven Boucher paid out $200 extra. He incidentally remarked to Magistrate Weir, who found guilty and fined $500 for conducting an illicit still, that the Government authorities had "framed" him in order to get some money out of him through the court for their own pockets. The magistrate immediately added $200 to Boucher's fine for contempt of court.

JUDGE COLTER OPENS CAMPAIGN

Will Address East Elgin Women At Aylmer Saturday.

ST. THOMAS, Nov. 3.—The Liberal candidate for East Elgin, Judge Colter, will start a personal canvass in the riding this week, and as a preliminary to a strenuous campaign, which the judge will open at Aylmer on Monday, he will confer with the women of the East Elgin at Aylmer on Saturday.

Judge Colter is looking forward to a not unpleasant itinerary of the riding and has received the assurance of a large number of electors that he will be given an undivided support as well as the approval of a number of the former National Progressive party.

Senator T. W. Crothers and Mrs. Crothers will arrive in the city tomorrow evening and will remain for some days. Senator Crothers will probably take part in the vigorous campaign now being launched in east and west ridings of Elgin. The three-cornered contests will suggest the coming of prominent representatives of all parties. Old politicians are at a loss to prophesy on the outcome of any particular party in either of the ridings. Senator Crothers will possibly make his first call on the rural election of West Elgin.

TORONTO MAN HELD FOR ROBBERY IN MONTREAL

TORONTO, Nov. 3.—Norman Ryan, who is in custody in Montreal charged with bank robbery, is a Toronto man. Police credit him with four thefts, an attempted theft, five burglaries, two robberies with violence, and shooting with intent to kill, since 1907. In three instances he was remanded for sentence. He has been sentenced five times, the lowest sentence being three years in Kingston, the highest twelve years. Sentences in the aggregate amount to 26½ years. Parole was granted Ryan so that he might enlist for service during the war. Chief of Police Dickson of Toronto regards Ryan as a vicious, dangerous and resourceful thief.

U. S. ALARMED OVER ALLEGED ILLEGAL ENTRY

Sarnia Said To Be Gateway For Foreigners Into America.

PROBE IS COMMENCED

SARNIA, Nov. 3.—Claiming that illegal attempts are being made to have many Europeans illegally enter the United States, American immigration officers late this afternoon threw up the barriers on the St. Clair River, with the result that all Sarnians crossing into the United States were subjected to a strict probe by Uncle Sam's officials.

According to word from the Washington Federal Department, Major E. S. Pettit of the immigration staff states that his department heads announce they intend to stop alleged attempts to have immigrants from Europe arriving at Sarnia and other points along the St. Clair River illegally smuggled over the border. The department chiefs say that they have already discovered that Europeans have been smuggled into the United States by this route, and a probe of the matter is already under way.

ADMITS HE STOLE $8 AND A CHECK

Youth Arrested On Charge of Stealing $75 Remanded.

ST. THOMAS, Nov. 3.—Elmer Cunningham, Waterloo, a youth of sixteen years, pleaded guilty before Magistrate Maxwell today to having stolen $8 in cash and a check for $14.50, the property of W. J. Block, from a boarding car of the M. C. R. on Sept. 7. He was arrested by Special Agent Kast of the M. C. R. and charged with taking $75. This Cunningham denied, but acknowledged the theft of $8. He confessed too, that he had stolen clothing and other stuff from a boarding car at Georgetown, but the suitcase in which were placed the goods had been "pinched" by some person after he reached Toronto. Officer Kast found that Cunningham's parents are respectable people.

SHAKESPEARE STORE RAIDED BY BURGLARS

STRATFORD, Nov. 3.—A daring robbery took place in the village of Shakespeare last night when burglars entered the store of Horold Brothers, and carried off goods to the value of nearly $500. They entered by a side window in the warehouse and must have had a motor truck to carry away the quantity of goods, including 100 pounds of tobacco, four automobile inner tubes, $20 worth of canned salmon, 300 pounds of sugar and a large number of sweaters. This is the second store to be entered inside of a week.

Good, at Local Druggists, as Long as the Free Supply Lasts, for One 50-Cent Package of the External "Vapor" Treatment That Relieves Cold Over Night—Croup in 15 Minutes.

Each Local Druggist Will Give Away 50 Free Packages, 6 of Which Are Full Size 50-Cent Jars.

Twenty-five years ago, in a little North Carolina town, a druggist discovered a process of combining the old-fashioned remedies—Camphor, Turpentine and Menthol—with certain volatile oils such as Eucalyptus, Thyme, and Juniper, so that, when applied externally, the body heat would vaporize these ingredients. These vapors, inhaled all night long, carry the medication, with each breath, direct to the air passages and lungs.

Today this vapor treatment, Vicks Vapo Rub, is almost universally used throughout the South in preference to internal "dosing." It is quick in its action, and what is more important, particularly to mothers with small children, it is applied externally and hence does not disturb the most delicate stomach. Colds are easiest treated at the beginning and Vicks makes the ideal preventive for the entire family.

This preparation comes in salve form and its action is twofold. Externally, it is absorbed through and stimulates the skin, taking out that tightness and soreness in the chest. Internally, the vapors inhaled loosen the phlegm and open the air passages. For croup or colds, just rub a little over the throat and chest and cover with a warm flannel cloth. One application at bedtime often prevents a night attack of croup. For very severe chest colds, tonsillitis, bronchitis, or incipient pneumonia, but wet towels should first be applied over the parts, to open the pores of the skin, and then use Vicks. For head colds, asthmatic or catarrhal troubles, a little Vicks can be rubbed up the nostrils or melted in a spoon and the vapors inhaled.

The manufacturers know that an actual trial is the best way to prove how valuable Vicks is in the home and they have accordingly furnished each druggist in London with 50 free packages, to be given away on presentation of the coupon below.

Shaving Sets & Traveler Outfits $5 to $75

ONCE over with the New Improved Gillette and your face will be smoother, cooler, fresher than after any shave you've ever had before.

The free shaving edge, safely guarded from the face, slips smoothly over chin and cheek without pull or effort. Cut hairs and lather go into the channel. They cannot jam in between blade and guard and cap. They cannot clog the shaving action.

Men who believe in enjoying the inventions of this age are not hesitating to discard their razors of yesterday for the 75% greater efficiency of the New Improved Gillette.

NOTE.—One of the first things to strike the user of the New Improved Gillette is its simplicity.

Most men prefer to screw the handle up right to get the most satisfactory shave.

The Gillette Blade and Gillette Razor are developed to work together. No Gillette Blade can deliver its full shaving quality unless used in a genuine Gillette Razor—built by Gillette, in the Gillette way and up to Gillette standards.

Going To Cast a Vote, Madame? Register Today, Make Sure

"The only way to make sure you will have a vote on election day is to see that your name is on the voters' list this week. If you do not register by Saturday night, there is a danger that you may lose your chance to exercise the franchise."

The foregoing is an oft-told tale this week over at Hyman Hall information bureau, where women electors are making inquiries all day long, either in person or by telephone, with regard to the need of registration, the where and the how.

Occasionally, a woman visitor in the city drops in, attracted by the sign, "Women's Committee Rooms," over the Queen's avenue entrance door, and the news that has reached her of a women's information bureau opened there. On Thursday, a half a dozen people, including the switchboard operator, were kept busy all day long answering questions of which there was a confused bombardment.

"But, why must I register? I voted in the last Ontario election. If my name was on the voters' list then, won't it be there for the federal election?" is a point that is frequently raised.

The answer is that in the approaching Dominion election, municipal voters' lists are to be used, and on these, the names of comparatively few women appear, owing to property qualifications etc. that are required.

What women are entitled to vote in a parliamentary election, either provincial or federal? All women who are 21 years of age, British subjects, residents in Canada one year, and in their constituency two months previous to

Oct. 8, 1921. The fact of residence or home in the constituency, though business or other duties have called elsewhere also constitute eligibility, provided the other conditions are met.

In addition to part one of the municipal voters' lists, which includes the names of owners and tenants, part three will figure in the approaching election, covering all persons that are neither owners or tenants. A difficulty arises from the incompleteness of this list, owing to inadequate information given the assessor. The family may have been away from home when he called and a neighbor assured that the only resident of the house was John Smith. John Smith may have had four daughters eligible to vote in a parliamentary election, but none put down on the list. Such an actual case was cited at the information bureau as a warning against delay in registering.

Public-spirited women, alive to the truth that it is better to be sure than sorry when it comes to getting one's name on the voters' list, have been busy this past week in London and other ridings, endeavoring to reach all women and remind them of the opportunity that awaits them to vote for a favorite candidate election day, provided they are registered.

Only one more whole day remains in which to register. After that if a name is not on the voters' list, there is no possible way of getting it placed there in city, town or incorporated village of 2,500 inhabitants or more, and a perfectly good opportunity will be lost to help put in power, Progressive, Liberal or National Liberal and Conservative party.

Silvered Gown Suggests Middle Ages

BY MARION HALE.
NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—The Moyen Age, which of course is the smart way of referring to the middle ages when you are discussing expensive gowns, is the keynote of a thoroughly individual Mary Walls gown.

You can tell by looking at it that Jeanne Lanvin wrought this modern raiment from the middle age designs. The gown is especially adapted for youth.

It is of handsome lace material shot with silver and made over silver cloth. Silver material bands the neck and the sleeves and forms the long drooping girdle as it also accentuates the lines reaching from neck to bottom of skirt.

The sleeves are thoroughly Moyen Age in shape. One almost expects to see the wearer don one of those high-peaked headresses with flowing veils.

Lady Golfers Elect Officers

Make Mrs. Ronald Harris President By Acclamation; Present Prizes.

Election of officers for the ensuing year, followed by the presentation of prizes to members who have captured honors on the links, constituted the program of the annual meeting of the London Hunt Ladies' Golf Club held on Thursday afternoon at the Kennels. The officers elected were as follows: Honorary president, Mrs. E. B. Smith; honorary vice-presidents, Mrs. Harley Brown, Mrs. Donald McLean and Mrs. C. B. Hunt; president, Mrs. Ronald Harris; Mrs. Harris and Mrs. Smith being elected by acclamation; first vice-president, Mrs. Harvey Skeg; second vice-president, Mrs. Frank McCormick; secretary, Mrs. George Gunn; golf committee, Mrs. Sprague, Mrs. Geo. Little, Mrs. Marshall Graydon, Mrs. Charles Hunt, Mrs. Hadley Williams, Mrs. W.

G. Webster, Miss Jean Jarvis, Mrs. E. H. Nellis, Mrs. Allan McLean. The championship prize, a silver cigarette box, presented by Mrs. E. B. Smith, was won by Mrs. Frank Spry; also the silver hot water jug presented by Col. Smith, and the silver cup given by Mrs. Whitwam went to Mrs. J. A. Wright, and Mr. Smart's handicap cup was won by Mrs. Warner. The bronze medal for the monthly handicap was won by Mrs. Donald McLean. At the beginning of the meeting all the members stood to give a silent vote of sympathy to Sir Adam and Miss Marion Beck.

WITH THE BRIDES

MEREDITH-YARKER.

Two prominent London families were united in the quiet wedding which took place on Thursday afternoon at 5:30 in St. James' Anglican Church, when Doris Yarker, daughter of the late Mrs. Emma Yarker, and granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Beattie, "Elmhurst," was married to Thomas Redmond Meredith, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Meredith, the Right Rev. David Williams, Bishop of Huron, officiating, assisted by Rev. W. L. Armitage. The bride, who was given away by Mr. J. I. A. Hunt, wore a smart tailored suit, a dark grey duvetyne hat and a corsage of orchids and lily-of-the-valley. Mr. Stanley Meredith was best man. The church was artistically decorated with autumn flowers, with large standards of white chrysanthemums on the choir steps. Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Meredith left on a honeymoon to

New York, and on their return will reside in London.

HODGSON-HOCKNEY.

The wedding took place on Wednesday at the Church of St. John the Evangelist, of Grace Murray Hockney, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hockney, 34 Tecumseh avenue, to Mr. Ray Hodgson, third son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hodgson, 174 Mill street, the Rev. A. L. G. Clarke, rector, officiating. Mr. Ewart George played the wedding music. The bride was attended by Miss Ellen Moore as bridesmaid, and Mr. Lester Hodgson acted as best man. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wearing a smart suit of navy blue broadcloth, trimmed with seal, a reception at the bride's home followed the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Hodgson left on a trip to Toronto and Stratford, and on their return will reside in the city.

McLAUGHLIN-WILSON.

A pretty wedding took place on Wednesday, Nov. 2, at the home of Mr. James Wilson, Winton, when Ethel Wilson was married to Mr. Frank D. McLaughlin of London, Rev. H. T. Smith officiating. The spacious rooms were artistically decorated with yellow mums. The bride, who was given away by her brother Mr. Frank Wilson, wore a smart suit of blue duvetyne with mole trimmings, and a hat to match, and her corsage was of orchids and Ophelia roses. Mrs. A. A. Macchared was matron of honor, and the wedding march was played by Miss L. G. Phillips of London. Immediately after the ceremony a dainty buffet luncheon was served. Mr. and Mrs. McLaughlin left by motor to Hamilton, en route for New York and other American cities, upon their return they will reside on Becher street, London.

CATARRH OF THE STOMACH FOR EIGHT YEARS The cause of this trouble is the fermentation of food in the stomach which generates a gas that is very frequently belched up. There is also a rumbling of the bowels and a discharge of gas therefrom. There is constant retching, and the meals are frequently vomited. There is a burning pain in the stomach, the appetite is feeble, the tongue coated, the breath bad, constipation is generally present and the sufferer becomes weak, nervous, depressed and exceedingly miserable.

PERSONALS The blame lies with a sluggish liver, as it holds back the bile which is so necessary to promote the movement of the bowels, and when the bile gets into the blood a badly disordered condition of the stomach, liver and bowels will surely follow.
--	--

PERSONALS Keep your liver active and you will always enjoy good health.

PERSONALS Mrs. Agnes Gallant, Reserve Mines, N.S., writes: "I had been a great sufferer for eight years, from catarrh of the stomach. I tried several, so-called, catarrh remedies without relief until a friend advised me to try Milburn's Laxative Pills, which I did, and four days completely relieved me. That was six years ago, and I have had no return of my old ailment."

Confessions of a Movie Star

CHAPTER 12.—ROSE TAKES ME TO HER FLAT.

"YES, little girl!" Mother dear told me when I related Rose's gossip. "I've heard that McMaisters has given one young woman a yacht, and has set another up in her own studio—as a bonus for his success."

Certainly McMaisters was a wonderful, wonderful man to work for! "How very fortunate we are, Mother dear!" I exclaimed.

"Yes—most fortunate because we do not need any presents from him, little girl! You're so well paid—your salary is remarkable for a child of your age! But even if we were worth it, and McMaisters offered us a house as a bonus, we'd refuse, dear."

"Why refuse—why can't I take a bonus if the others get them?" "Impossible!" Mother dear shook her head emphatically and that settled it. I was sorry she would not talk about McMaisters. Rose mentioned that about him a good deal, and I wanted to let Mother dear know that Rose kept inviting me to little suppers to which McMaisters also was asked. Sometimes Rose mentioned the marvelous money she intended to serve and I really couldn't see how she could be so extravagant.

Neither could I accept any of her bids. I had to work terribly hard in "Love in Leash." If lucky, I reached home about seven in the evening. I soon got too thin for the films if I lost my sleep. I had to explain this to Rose over and over, she seemed to think that I ought to seize the chance to dine with our producer.

I suppose I never shall know just what happened to my car when it was parked in the lot. My chauffeur discovered some engine trouble after I was seated and ready to go home.

Rose was ready, too. Her car was next mine. Seeing my predicament, she offered me a seat by her side. My auto would have to be towed to a garage for repairs. We would have dinner at her house, later a ride in the park, and go home.

The plan sounded good to me. The routine of the movie game often was monotonous. I loved the studio, but occasionally, in spite of its excitement, I had bad moments of depression. I had slumped into one of them the day Rose carried me off to her house to dine.

The fact is that I never had the kind of "good times" most young girls of my age consider themselves entitled to. No parties for me, only severe training in dancing under a Russian professional; no bacon bats for me in summer, no fudge revels in winter.

A dinner in Rose's flat looked like wild adventure to me. I phoned Mother dear how matters stood. Very reluctantly she consented to Rose's plan. But Henry wasn't at home when we reached the Larkin apartment.

"We must have company," Rose insisted. Without consulting me as to whom she should invite, she stepped to the phone and called up McMaisters. I didn't want to see the producer. I was too weary to talk to him. I didn't want to exert myself. I didn't want to smile and lean toward me when he talked.

But Rose was headless of my sudden exasperations. She kept right on talking to McMaisters, then hung up the receiver with a peculiar smile. McMaisters was delighted to come. (To Be Continued.)

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS. NANCY'S ADVICE

(By Olive Roberts Barton.)

"Do Tell Us Which is the Most Wonderful."

THE Twins thought that it was time they were doing something to break up the meeting, so they made their way through the poppy-tangle to the place where all the fish-ladies were quarreling about their clothes, and who was the finest "in" all.

They certainly did wear fine clothes, Nancy thought, especially Mrs. Wrasse and Mrs. Goby. Indeed, all of them would have made the most wonderful Christmas tree ornaments for their shimmered and shone and glittered and glistened with all the colors of the rainbow.

Suddenly Mrs. Goby-Fish spied the little boy and girl looking at them. "Look!" she cried, pointing with her quiver-looking, long, piggy snout that was just like her husband's. Mrs. Goby-Fish was really proud of the "family nose" as she called it, for, as she said, "a good long nose is certainly a sign of character."

"Look!" she repeated. "Here comes someone who will decide the question."

They look important to me, as they are to those ladies like Cap'n Penny-winkle's, so no doubt we may trust them. Suppose we ask them who is the most beautiful of us all."

"Yes, yes, yes," cried the others, swimming around the Twins. "Do tell us which is the most beautiful so that we may elect her president."

Nancy fell to thinking, then she said, "Mrs. Butter-Fish, for she stays home and helps her husband."

"But she has no tail!" accused Mrs. Blenny, indignantly.

"And no nose," answered bright Mrs. Roar-Fish, turning redder than ever.

"Or spots, or stripes," declared Mrs. Rock-Fish.

"Handsome is as handsome does," quoted Nancy wisely.

The fish-ladies looked thoughtful. "She's right," they said, "we'll elect Mrs. Butter-Fish, and now we'd better go home to our families." Which they did.

TIT FOR TAT.
Those pearls make a lovely birthday gift. Thank you so much. But I have a confession to make. This isn't really my 24th birthday. I've always lived about my age.

Her Husband—That's all right. Those aren't genuine pearls.

CATARRH OF THE STOMACH FOR EIGHT YEARS

The cause of this trouble is the fermentation of food in the stomach which generates a gas that is very frequently belched up. There is also a rumbling of the bowels and a discharge of gas therefrom. There is constant retching, and the meals are frequently vomited. There is a burning pain in the stomach, the appetite is feeble, the tongue coated, the breath bad, constipation is generally present and the sufferer becomes weak, nervous, depressed and exceedingly miserable.

The blame lies with a sluggish liver, as it holds back the bile which is so necessary to promote the movement of the bowels, and when the bile gets into the blood a badly disordered condition of the stomach, liver and bowels will surely follow.

Keep your liver active and you will always enjoy good health.

Mrs. Agnes Gallant, Reserve Mines, N.S., writes: "I had been a great sufferer for eight years, from catarrh of the stomach. I tried several, so-called, catarrh remedies without relief until a friend advised me to try Milburn's Laxative Pills, which I did, and four days completely relieved me. That was six years ago, and I have had no return of my old ailment."

Hair Often Ruined By Careless Washing
Soap should be used very carefully. If you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is Mulsified coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls of Mulsified will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified coconut oil shampoo at any pharmacy. It's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months. Be sure your druggist gives you Mulsified.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

HELD ANNUAL MEETING.

Miss Velma Wylie was elected president of the Social Service Club at their annual meeting held on Wednesday evening at the home of Miss Gertrude Anderson, Princess avenue, also the following officers: Vice-president, Miss Bessie Hardie; secretary, Miss Viola McDonald; treasurer, Mrs. Ross Johnston; press secretary, Miss Helen Miller. Reports were given by the secretary and treasurer, which showed the excellent work done by the club last year.

CHEERIO CLUB HOLDS PARTY.

The clubrooms of the Lambeth Cheerio Community Club was the scene of a happy Halloween party this week. The rooms were effectively decorated with the colors of the club, blue and ivory, and gay Halloween decorations. A large number of the members were dressed in masquerade costumes, which added greatly to the gaiety of the scene. The prizes for the best costumes were won by Miss Alice Carey and Miss McGugan. The evening was spent in music and games, after which a dainty supper was served, the tables being gay with Halloween favors, streamers and pumpkin heads. Numerous toasts were given by the following: Mr. Harold Fox, Mr. Hardy, Dr. Casselman, Miss McGugan, Mr. Floyd Brooks, Mr. Morris Hooper, Mr. Reynolds, Mrs. G. A. Routledge, Miss Blanch Silcox, Dr. G. A. Routledge and Mr. Clarence Sharp.

NEW WAY TO TAKE YEAST

In Convenient Tablet Form Combined With Iron and Other Health Builders.

Quickly Builds New Flesh, Strength and Health.

No need to eat yeast cakes any more! Take yeast the new easy way—in pleasant tablet form, as embodied in Ironized Yeast.

Everyone has heard of the amazing miracles performed by yeast, especially in cases of loss of weight, weakness, poor appetite, mal-nutrition and general "rundown" conditions.

The reason for these amazing results is that yeast contains a certain mysterious element called vitamins which we do not get in our present-day diet, but which are absolutely necessary for good health and proper physical development.

Ironized Yeast contains highly concentrated brewer's yeast which is far richer in vitamins than ordinary brewer's yeast. In addition, it contains iron and other well-known health builders, so that you really get two splendid tonics in one.

If you want to put on good solid flesh, if you want to increase your strength so that you can tackle hard work and enjoy it, if you want to put good healthy color in your cheeks, and feel "fit" all the time—then try Ironized Yeast. Fine for clearing up sallow and blotchy skin.

In most cases Ironized Yeast will bring a decided improvement by the third day. The slowest complexions will usually be cleared up in less than two weeks. Fine old how it is to be in perfect health all the time! Get Ironized Yeast today. Packed in convenient San-Lap packages, each containing more per dose than common yeast. Each package contains 10 days' treatment and costs only $1.00—or just 10c a day. Special directions for children in each package. Made by the Ironized Yeast Company, Atlanta, Ga. Sold at all druggists.

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

WANT SONGS.

Dear Miss Grey—I saw where Lonesome Bess had sent in the songs I asked for, so am sending a stamped, addressed envelope for them. I am sending songs for Clara Abel, and also some for Lonesome Bess. Hoping I have not stayed too long.

WILL I DO, SCOTTY?

Dear Miss Grey and Bobites—

DON'T NEGLECT BRONCHITIS

The principal symptom of bronchitis is a cough which is dry, harsh and hacking, accompanied with rapid wheezing, and a feeling of tightness through the chest.

There is a raising of phlegm, especially in the morning after rising from bed. This phlegm is at first of a light color, but as the trouble progresses it becomes of a yellowish or greenish color and is sometimes streaked with blood.

DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP.

you will find a remedy that will stimulate the weakened bronchial organs, subdue the inflammation, soothe the irritated parts, loosen the phlegm and mucous, and help nature to easily dislodge the morbid accumulation.

Mr. John H. Root, 43 Maple avenue, Hamilton, Ont., writes: "I was troubled with bronchitis and had a very bad cough. I had it so long I was beginning to get afraid of other developments. I tried all kinds of cough remedies without relief. I was advised by a friend to try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, so I got a bottle, and it convinced me to believe that I had at last gotten the right medicine. I used several bottles and am practically well. I have recommended it to others since, and good results followed."

Be sure and get "Dr. Wood's" when you ask for it; price, 35c and 60c a bottle, put up only by The T. Milburn Company, Limited, Toronto, Ont.—Advt.

Christmas is coming—aren't you all glad? I read that June Bug wanted the recitation called "Curfew Shall Not Ring Tonight," and I'm sending it in. Do you like reciting, June Bug? I do. I would like to have some comic pieces if I may, about a boy, of course.

I like to dance, and I like all kinds of sports, etc. Will I do, Original Scotty? I'd just love to correspond with you. I like your name.

Thank you, Roy, for filling June Bug's request. I am sorry, but there aren't any suitable recitations in the Mail-Box, and even if there were I couldn't forward them, as you did not give your name and address.

ATTENTION, LOVER OF MUSIC.

Dear Miss Grey—I received the seeds from the Mail-Box last week, for which I thank you very much. Now I have some seeds of different flowers, from Texas and England, and I would exchange them, for dahlia roots, so anyone caring to do this, may have my address from Miss Grey. I feel sorry for Lover of Music No. 2, who is so lonesome. If she cares to, I would love her to come to my home until she meets more friends of her own age, as I am a married woman.

It is very good of you to open the doors of your home for this lonesome little stranger, and I am quite sure if she sees your letter, she will take advantage of the offer, and come to see you.

BIDS THIRTY-FIVE DOLLARS.
Dear Miss Grey—Haven't stepped into your corner for such a long time. I thought I would have a little chat. Miss Grey, I am not sure what the highest bid is for the quilt, but heard it was $35; if so, I will put a bid up of $35.

Now for a few questions: 1. Do you think red tams will be worn this winter? 2. Will saddle strap shoes be in style? Please tell me what you think of my writing? DEARIE.

1. Yes, tams seem to be quite popular this year, in all colors. 2. The shoe with both one and two straps are shown for winter wear, and look very well with spats. It is splendid the way the bids are increasing, and I am sure we will make far more from the quilt than we first anticipated.

Stop that cough!

Don't let it master you. For a continuous cough is "dangerous." Attack it with a remedy that will quickly stop irritation of the respiratory organs and at the same time build up the body for permanent resistance. Ask your druggist or dealer for—

ELGIN VOTERS WELCOME KING AT ST. THOMAS

Applaud Charge That Meighen Is "Consistent Only As Autocrat."

TARIFF NOT SOLE ISSUE

Liberal Leader Declares Other Vital Questions Call For Discussion.

BY WILLIAM SHARMAN.

ST. THOMAS, Nov. 3.—Before an audience that taxed the capacity of the Star Theatre here Thursday night, the Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King, leader of the Opposition in the House of Commons, in one of the most eloquent and telling addresses that he has ever made, challenged the Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen to prove that the real issue of the day is not "whether the people of Canada will endorse autocracy or responsible government."

Although scheduled for 8 o'clock the time of commencement was set an hour ahead in order that the Liberal chieftain might deliver his address and leave immediately by special train for Ottawa to attend the funeral on Friday of Lady Laurier.

Mr. King was ably supported by the Hon. Chas. Murphy, M.P. for Russell; James Murdoch, Liberal nominee for South Toronto, former member of the Canadian Board of Commerce, and now vice-president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen; and Wm. Tolmie, the Liberal choice in this riding.

Undaunted by Rain.
Rain, which fell an hour before the meeting failed to dampen the enthusiasm of the local electors, while scores of followers of the Liberal standard representing every section of two ridings East and West Elgin, awaited all afternoon with keen anticipation the arrival of Mr. King and his party. The fact that many of these will be compelled to remain in St. Thomas overnight is ample evidence that there has been a great awakening of interest in public affairs in Elgin County.

"Premier Meighen has said there is only one question, the fiscal issue," declared the Liberal leader. "I say to him, why should we limit the discussion on public platforms to one question only, when you well know for ten years we have had no opportunity to submit any opinion upon many other issues than tariff?"

"Why should not the workmen or the returned soldiers or the women be given every opportunity to give an opinion of what they think of their treatment in the past or what they expect for the future?"

Consistent as Autocrat.
"I say that Premier Meighen is consistent in only one thing—his record as an autocrat. He forgets, however, that on election day he will not be talking to a following in Parliament sitting close waiting for judgeships and senatorships.

"I ask him is there any one of you who gave to him or his cabinet the right to carry on government during the last sixteen months? Not an answer from you. And I have asked that question all the way from the coast, and stand prepared to ask it clear to the Pacific.
"Do you want to know the issue? The people of this country will endorse autocracy or endorse self-government. He knows that if he can get them to talk protection, he can cloud the issue, but if you stop a minute you can realize how your rights have been usurped. During the past sixteen months he has spent millions and taken over railroads, all without consulting the people, and more than that, he has appointed judges and senators who will be the future law-makers.

Legislation Takes Time.
"I say to the workers and the farmers: You may have your platform, but how are you to get them on the statutes? I venture it means years of struggle to get any legislation of a progressive nature placed on the books. Is it not the height of folly to allow Arthur Meighen and his followers to divide your forces and slip into power? Look how they have managed your affairs. Consider the Grand Trunk Pacific; it was taken over without your opinion, but you will have to foot the bills."

The Liberal leader then proceeded to explain the "fight" that he and his colleagues had conducted in the House to have the agreement between the G. T. P. and the Government placed before the consideration of the members. He told how after a determined investigation he discovered that members of the board of directors controlling the road were also members of the companies receiving contracts from the Canadian National roads.

He charged the Meighen party with secret sessions, and condemned the members for applying the closure when ever the question was opened by the Liberals for discussion.

"Fair Wage" Clause.
Mr. King related how when the G. T. P. was finally taken over he attempted to have the "fair wage" clause for the G. T. P. employees included, as awarded them in 1910, but had not succeeded. He pointed out that his move was thwarted by Premier Meighen himself.

"Mr. Meighen talks about protection," declared Mr. King, "but the best protection you can give anyone is a square deal. I say that any party with such loose ideas on finance is not entitled to the confidence of the people."

It was the duty of Meighen to see that every dollar expended by the railroads was accounted for on the floor of Parliament, he said.

"The people's business today is carried on by two little groups, the political autocrats and the industrial plutocrats, and the interlocking of directorates involving the Canadian National roads is ample testimony to this."

Not the Only Issue.
"The tariff is an important, but not the only, issue. The cost of living is affected by the cost of government. But this reason we preached economy when the present Government went wild with expenditures for militarism and the like. They seemed unable to get back on a peace-time basis."

The Liberals do not stand for free trade. With $560,000,000 to be raised in one year, free trade would be impossible, but we do stand for a revision of the tariff, in a way to help destroy the combines and monopolies, but not to destroy industries doing a legitimate business and getting a legitimate profit.

It shall be framed in the interests of all classes." (Applause.)
Compelled to break off his rapid-fire address in order to leave immediately for the capital, Mr. King, in conclusion made a stirring appeal to the farmers not to aid in the destruction of the progressive forces. He questioned whether there was any material difference in the platform outlined by the women, the returned veterans and the laboring masses, and warned them to stand united with Liberalism as against the National Liberal-Conservative party, a common foe.

Received Great Ovation.
The leader's reception, both on entering and departing from the theatre, was spontaneous and prolonged. He was sent on his way with loud and hearty cheers.

"We have had in the past few years a government for special favored minorities," declared James Murdoch. "There are representatives of the present government who have said there is only one question—tariff. They have been particularly active in an effort to impress the laboring classes with this."

"As a representative of labor I have never heard of a greater assembly of 'bunk' than their present argument—the tariff is the only solution."

Ottawa Will Give Cue.
"As railroad men you are interested in prospects of another reduction. I do not know whether there is to be another reduction or not, but if there is to be, I charge that the railroad executives will get their cue from Ottawa."

"On Tuesday last I received a volume from the Department of Labor, containing quotations from labor legislation. In it I discovered a 'fair wage' resolution passed in 1900 and reaffirmed in 1911, both being passed under Liberal administration. Under this resolution in the past I have secured for certain lines standard wages on that basis, but what about the present government? On September, 1921, they issued a schedule of working rules and regulations, for the new Welland canal project."

"We find in this scale what your government considers a fair wage scale." The speaker quoted the figures in question, declaring them to be considerably less than paid elsewhere in the immediate vicinity. As a former member of the Canadian board of commerce, Mr. Murdoch at length undertook to explain what he knew about the "strange working" of the body.

Was "Inveigled" Into Board.
He related how he had been "inveigled" into assuming a membership of the Canadian Board of Commerce. On subsequent investigations, he said, he found certain business conditions appalling. He told of shoe and sugar probes and spoke in particular of how one returned soldier who had fought "for you and me and Sir George B. Foster" had been compelled to pay "appalling" prices for necessities of life.

"That's the kind of protection Meighen wants you to have," he declared amid applause. "Through the war there were men and firms in Canada who made fortunes overnight. Men of this people, directly after the armistice was signed, realizing time was short for excessive profits, proceeded with even greater effort."

"We found absolutely unjustifiable profiteering in overalls, building materials, cement, canned goods and other commodities. We wanted to stop all this, but we were prevented. Take the case of textiles, we met with big opposition. We were refused information by the manufacturers. We put a time limit on them, but they protested to two members of the cabinet."

"I am getting tired of what the Mail and Empire has been insinuating, and if they want to know who they are I'll tell them. However, when Mr. Meighen says protection is the only issue he means, no doubt, for the profiteers."

Tells of Resignation.
The speaker then related how, after deciding he could no longer accept money under false pretences, he resigned from the board, not before, however, he had made special charges against members of the Dominion cabinet, which, he said, had not yet been successfully rebutted by the premier, although the latter had the shifty ability and cunning of a police court lawyer.

In conclusion, Mr. Murdoch urged as a representative of the railroad-men and a brakeman for eleven years, the laboring people of St. Thomas to support Liberalism, "a party for the masses."

That the Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, as well as Sir Robert Borden, were well aware that the election of 1917 was a "steal" by means of the soldiers' vote, was a declaration of the speaker, the Hon. Chas. Murphy, last speaker, the Hon. Chas. Murphy, minister of justice in the late Laurier administration.

Launches Bitter Attack.
Launching a frank and bitter attack upon the late Union Government for its manipulation of more than 100,000 soldier votes at that time, he related many instances, where, he claimed, bags of ballots in France were diverted into ridings where the Union candidates were not considered strong. He stated that 100 votes, all for Laurier men, were placed to the credit of Kings County, Nova Scotia. Sir Robert Borden's riding, and he insisted that the latter knew that such was being done.

He read a message to France from Winnipeg signed, he said, by the "Union Committee and Arthur Meighen," asking for 1,000 votes to be allotted in that district. In spite of all this, he said, Borden, who was like Brutus, an "honorable man," had got up in the House and had declared it had been a just and fair election.

The speaker gave the name of one, Hector MacGinnis, who, having been promised a C. B. and rank of major-general, had undertaken the task of diverting thousands of soldier ballots into constituencies where they were most needed.

"The Big Issue."
Denying that the tariff was the chief issue, Mr. Murphy declared that "Mr. Meighen and his administration is the big issue," and promised that the record of both would be placed before the country before the election.

He recalled that the premier had tried, but failed, to "ker the same cry in West Peterborough last February," and would fail again.

He explained that ten years ago and since Premier Meighen had accused the Liberals of being high protectionists, and now he was condemning them as free traders.

"This is but one illustration," he said, "how he can blow hot and cold on an issue. How can you trust him in the face of these inconsistencies?"

"How were these records hidden, I ask? Well, since the press sold out in 1917, we have been 'headlined' into foghorn. Some papers supporting Cramer are trying to make it appear that his party is taking the place of Progressive Liberalism. He just made a 'wonderful' address in Prince Edward Island, where he advocated legislation, word for word, that we moved in the House nine years ago and which a Tory Government voted down."

"We have been saying these things until I am tired, but no one pays any attention to us, but a paper here and there."

Like Cult of Omar.
Explaining the origin of the name

National Liberal and Conservative, Mr. Murphy likened it to the cult of the Church of Omar up in The Pas country, which was exposed, he said, as a religious disguise to get whisky and enjoy it.

The N. L. C. he declared, was a political disguise to attract the Nationalists of Quebec and a few weak-kneed Tories in order to keep the Tories in.

In the course of his remarks he paid a warm tribute to the two Liberal nominees in Elgin, Judge Colter and William Tolmie, both "old war-horses," he said.

Introduced as coming member for West Elgin, William Tolmie, the first speaker, was warmly applauded.

"I am a common, everyday farmer-Liberal," he declared. "We are entering a peculiar fight. I want to say to you that I am a businessman as well as a farmer."

"We are up against a Labor candidate endorsed by the U. F. O. He's a very fine man, at that. But the farmers want men who stick at something consistently. At the present time, however, we have a man who has been both Conservative and Socialist, and I don't know how he can say anything against Liberalism, as in 1917 he said himself that application of Liberalism is our only solution."

Stands for Square Deal.
"There is one thing sure, if you are going to bring prosperity to the country you must leave your policy in the hands of a man who knows how to handle it."

If Mackenzie King doesn't do more for the soldiers than the present administration, there will be a row in the camp if I am down there. I say this, that the veterans need a square deal."

Ex-Mayor E. A. Horton presided and spoke briefly.

DENY EXPERTS ARE RETAINED

Reports of Efficiency Committee
Declare Griffenhagens
Have Been Discharged.

OTTAWA, Nov. 3.—(By Canadian Press).—Denial of reports to the effect that Griffenhagens and Associates were still being employed by the Dominion Government in reorganization of the civil service was made in a lengthy statement handed to the press tonight by Hon. G. D. Robertson, minister of labor, who, since the retirement of Sir George Foster from the Government, has been chairman of the sub-committee of the cabinet on reorganization and efficiency.

The statement says that Messrs. Griffenhagens and Associates are a Canadian firm with headquarters in Toronto, who were engaged by the Dominion Government on May 31, 1920 to reorganize the postoffice, customs and inland revenue departments "and to install therein modern systems of business efficiency."

Notice of Termination.
On Feb. 2, 1921, the sub-committee gave Griffenhagens and Associates sixty days' notice of termination of their contract, "the work having been quite well advanced."

"It was important, however," says the statement, "that the system and establishment outlined by Griffenhagens and Associates should, so far as possible, be made effective, and while the services of the firm as such and the cost consequent thereto were discontinued, the sub-committee engaged the services of some six expert individuals for the limited period to supervise the installation of the necessary physical changes. The services of a number of these experts were dispensed with on Sept. 1, 1921, and of the balance on Oct. 23, 1921."

Firm's Offices Closed.
"On Oct. 23, the offices of the firm here were closed and all of the employees engaged on this work who had not been borrowed from various departments have been retired as of Oct. 31."

"The postoffice and customs and inland revenue departments are undertaking to carry out, as circumstances permit, the reorganization outlined, most of which has already been given effect to," the statement says. "Further reductions in staff will not take place, but the new establishments recommended and agreed upon between Griffenhagens and Associates, and the departmental officials will be made effective gradually. Vacancies occurring in these departments will be filled from the surplus staff until the staff is reduced to the basis outlined in the new organization establishment."

"When the reorganization plans have been fully carried out in the postoffice department the annual saving to the Government will be $2,250,000. Of this $1,125,000 has already been accomplished, the balance to be gradually made effective as above outlined."

"The total saving in the operation of the customs and inland revenue department per annum will be $1,100,000, of which $572,000 has already been accomplished, and the remaining reduction in cost of operation will be made gradually on the basis outlined."

Upholstered Furniture Sale

Entire Exhibit of One of Canada's Leading Upholstering Firms On Sale

We have purchased, at a great big discount, the entire factory exhibit of a splendid manufacturer and now announce that the entire display will be disposed of at prices that for lowness are fairly amazing. You're going to find here suites that you have never dreamed would ever be within the reach of your expenditure, but which are now priced as low as inferior ones were.

Some idea of these prices may be gained when we tell you that even our salesmen were amazed when they read the price tickets attached to them. And these men have seen many price reductions on furniture that were considered sensational, but which failed to move them.

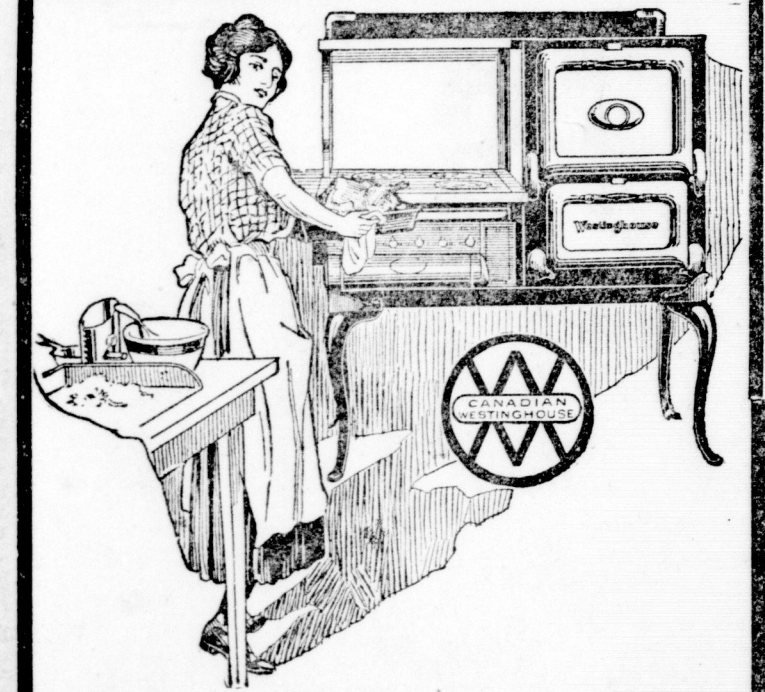

We know an unusual demand will follow this announcement of these values. We know that our patrons and friends realize that our printed statements are never exaggerated, and that our merchandise always backs up every assertion we make. Column after column of newspaper space could be devoted to the description of these suites, but in justice to the merchandise, we ask that you come in and actually see for yourself what truly wonderful suites and chairs these are. And the earlier you come the better will be your choice.

URGES BRITISH TO CULTIVATE CANADIAN LAND

British Labor Leader Says England Is Too Dependent On Other Countries.

PRaises EMIGRATION

Hopes For Large Grant From Government To Give Loans To Immigrants.

LONDON, Nov. 3.—(Canadian Press cable).—An earnest and interesting discussion on emigration occurred today in the House of Commons on the colonial office vote in aid of overseas settlement.

The feature of the debate was the speech of the leader of the Labor party, Right Hon. J. R. Clynes, who said that Great Britain was far too dependent upon countries outside the Empire for food.

"It would be all to the good," he said, "if we could use even more fully the lands of Australia and Canada and other great territories within the Empire."

Mr. Clynes favored supervision of and state assistance for emigration and immigration so that labor could move about as circumstances required and conditions for mutual welfare were established which would remove the suspicion and opposition of those against emigration. He asked what was the use of having great territories world-wide if they were not used. Otherwise they aroused political differences with those who wanted to use what was being lost.

Hopes for Larger Sum.
Hon. Edward F. Wood, permanent under-secretary of state for the colonies, replied that close attention was being paid to encouraging emigration of a due proportion of women and men. He pointed out that the present estimate of £230,000, which some complained was too small, was supplementary to the original estimate of £650,000. He hoped the Government would be able to propose a much larger sum after considering how best they could implement the proposals and decisions of the last imperial conference.

The conference, he said, had suggested that Great Britain should contribute after 1922, a maximum of £2,000,000 annually, equally devoted to assisting the transportation of emigrants and inland settlement, the latter to be in the form of advance loans.

Mr. Wood expressed the opinion that the importance of the imperial conference lay in the fact that it emphasized the problem of Empire settlement, which could not properly be treated by sporadic measures, but was one demanding the continuous attention of the British and overseas governments.

"Co-Operation Necessary."
Mr. Wood added that the problem was only soluble by permanent co-operation between Britain and the colonies and dominions. He advanced the opinion that the time was not far distant when it would be possible to consider moving on to Australia and New Zealand with somewhat the same ease as a man now seeks employment in the English counties.

Mr. Wood agreed that there had been lack of efficient organization in the past. He mentioned the bonus system of payments to third parties for recruiting emigrants which was carried on with the co-operation of the dominions. This system, he said, was fast disappearing and was being substituted by co-operation with the home government.

Mr. Wood laid stress on the fact that empire settlement was not compulsory among overseas communities, saying "it is an optional policy and optional it always will remain."

In support of the assertion that there was no question of dumping unemployed people on any of the dominions unwilling to receive them, Mr. Wood mentioned that the overseas settlement committee accepted only about one-third of the applicants for passage as a result of a plan of judicious selection.

If the policy was to bear full fruit the cordial co-operation of organized labor was necessary, and he indicated that the official labor element on the settlement committee would be strengthened. The vote was agreed.

In the course of the debate on emigration, Sir Frederick Young said the great hopes of the dominions lay in the development of their broad acres, and therefore he favored emigration with proper assistance and guidance.

Forty Townships To Benefit by Special Hydro Legislation

TORONTO, Nov. 3.—Forty townships which went ahead before the special Government legislation of last session and acquired rural hydro power are to have the provisions of last session's act made retroactive to apply in their cases.

In most instances, however, the money for the construction of primary lines was supplied by the Provincial Hydro Commission which will mean that the fifty per cent bonus which the Government would return according to the terms of the recommendation, will go back to hydro owners and ultimately help to reduce rates in the municipalities affected.

The recommendation is based upon the wording of the act of last session providing rural extension lines which stipulates that "where power is supplied to a rural district, the fifty per cent bonus may be enacted upon the recommendation of the commission."

The townships which will benefit if the Government accepts the recommendation are: Ancaster, Arden, Biddulph, Blandford, Brock, Chingquacousy, Coburn, Derby, Dereham, Downie and Ellice, South Dorchester, Elizabethtown and Augusta, Eldon, West Flamboro and Nelson, Grantham, Harwich, London, Louth, Norwich, North, West and East Oxford, Thorntown, Tottenham, Vaughan, Waterloo, Whitby, East York, Thornhill, Winchester, Yarmouth, Zorra, Esquimaux, Mara, Sandwich East and West, Scarboro, Stamford, Thorold, Toronto and York.

In all about 350 lines of rural hydro are affected.

U. S. Will Never Form Definite British Alliance, Says Harvey

LIVERPOOL, Nov. 3.—George Harvey, the United States ambassador to Great Britain, told an audience at the Liverpool Chamber of Commerce to-day that it was futile to hope that the United States, as Lord Derby recently had been suggesting, may some day be merged in a definite alliance with Great Britain and France. This statement was made as a digression from an address on economics and the industrial situation in which the United States ambassador attacked communism and socialism, and defended the principle of individualism.

In his digression Mr. Harvey recalled Lord Derby's statement in a recent address in Birmingham, in which the latter voiced the conviction that the success of the Washington limitation of armaments conference would mean peace and that its failure would mean war in the immediate future. The speaker also recalled Lord Derby's suggestion to former President Poincaré of France, at a dinner last Tuesday evening that an Anglo-French alliance would be desirable in the interests of peace, intimating the "strong hope" that the United States might eventually join this combination.

"Now it seems to have fallen to my unhappy lot since I have been in England," continued Ambassador Harvey, "to dispel illusions respecting the attitude of the United States. I can conceive of no more effective service on the part of any envoy, desirous as I am of eliminating all causes for misunderstanding, than to set forth frankly any certainty which may bear upon the immediate future, however disappointing it may be to his hearers. Dresden

DRESDEN, Nov. 3.—The marriage of Miss Lily McDonald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sandy McDonald, and Charles Frederick Pearson, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pearson, took place in Chatham on Wednesday, Oct. 26, at the Presbyterian manse, the ceremony being performed by Rev. A. S. Orton. Miss Ida Hart and Charles Burns were the only attendants. Mr. and Mrs. Pearson will reside in Dresden.

The death occurred on Monday last at Chatham hospital of James Leroy Wilbur, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Wilbur of concession 10, Sombra. The funeral service was conducted Wednesday afternoon from his home, Mr. Brigham of the Free Methodist Church officiating. Roy, who was only 18 years of age, was the eldest of a family of ten children, and was only ill a few days with appendicitis, his death following an operation for that disease.

Two miles of cement road on the provincial highway was finished Wednesday. This completes the work here for this season. The road extends from Elly Robinson's residence, concession 2, to the town limits, concession 4. The machinery is being taken to Windsor. The work has furnished employment to a number of men, and the work of hauling gravel has proved a boon to many farmers, as the early fall allowed them to complete their farm work in plenty of time to allow for the extra teaming.

Mähler Bros' Evaporator is a busy place just now. The apples are coming in in large quantities, and there are 65 names on their pay roll at present.

Mrs. Birch has purchased Mr. Thos. Ross' residence.

ONTARIO ASKED TO AID SEA-CUT

Canadian Deep Waterways and Power Association Seeks Three-Year Grant.

HAMILTON, Nov. 3.—The Ontario Government is to be asked to give $15,000 a year for three years to further the work of the Canadian Deep Waterways and Power Association, the association decided at the closing session of its third annual meeting here today.

A resolution covering the question, which was adopted unanimously, pointed out that Ontario is much more intimately concerned in the St. Lawrence waterway project than any of the western states which have contributed liberally to the support of the American counterpart of the Canadian association, the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Tidewater Association.

The Ontario Government so far has made no grant. F. MacLure Scanders, commissioner of the Border Chamber of Commerce, drew attention to the fact that the association had carried on its work last year on receipts of $9,763. It was like trying to shoot an elephant with a 22-calibre rifle, he said, to attempt to put over the St. Lawrence project under such conditions.

To Organize Provinces.

Another resolution adopted authorized the creation of a special fund to finance the holding of a series of organization meetings in the Prairie Provinces. Speakers pointed out that all possible support for the waterway must be obtained. If the plan is to be pushed to a successful issue.

The association re-elected all its officers and also continued the executive and finance committees. Welland, Ont., was chosen unanimously as the 1922 meeting place.

J. B. Milner, American consul at Niagara Falls, said it was because the United States and Canada had always thought in terms of railroads that they had overlooked the possibilities of water transportation. Several years' residence in England, he said, had made him think in terms of ships, as well as railroads.

George A. Graham of Fort William predicted that the Canadian West would increase rapidly in population with the fruition of the St. Lawrence waterway. Additional and cheaper transportation was necessary, he said, to handle the grain crops expeditiously.

Power Secondary Item.

E. P. Coleman, general manager of the Dominion Power Company, and vice-president of the Hamilton Chamber of Commerce, said he believed the development of power from the waterway should be a question of secondary importance. The chief use of the waterways, he thought, would be as a highway of commerce. He believed that international effort toward construction of the highway would bring the Canadian and American peoples closer together.

Officers and committeemen continued in office follow: Hon. president W. M. German, K.C., Welland; honorary vice-presidents, Sir Adam Beck, London, and Mayor T. L. Church, Toronto; honorary secretary-treasurer, F. MacLure Scanders, Windsor; president, O. E. Fleming, K.C., Windsor; first vice-president, E. L. Cousins, Toronto; second vice-president, George J. ALWAYS PROTECTIONIST. DECLARES M. M. MACBRIDE BRANTFORD, Nov. 3.—Returning from Goderich after aiding a government candidate in his campaign there, M. M. MacBride, Labor M. L. A., was asked today if he intended supporting the Meighen government in the election.

"I spoke at Goderich last night and intend speaking throughout the province as an independent protectionist, not necessarily as a supporter of any party. I have always been a protectionist, as I cannot see any future for Canada's workers under a free trade policy, particularly when we remember the concentration of capital and the great industrial organizations in the United States."

"It is a fact that 219 big financiers virtually own or control the whole industrial, banking and transportation system of the United States. With such an organization it is not hard to anticipate what would happen to Canadian workers, and as I read it the Crenar policy means free trade, nothing more, nothing less."

CITY ACCLAIMS GALLI-CURCI AS QUEEN OF SONG

Gives Singer Ovation Unequalled in Musical History of London.

THROWS PACK THEATRE

BY HELEN McILLAN.

A wondrous flood of notes so divinely beautiful, so rapidly released one after the other, and soaring to such starry heights that the listener is lost in amazement—that is Galli-Curci at her best, and that is what the world's foremost prima donna offered London at the Grand Theatre Thursday night.

Throughout the entire program the singer gave of her choicest art, and yet none realized that she was laboring under great difficulties to control her voice because of the theatre's limitations.

Only in the first group, "Deh Più a Me" (Bononcini), and "My Mother Bids Me Bid My Hair" (Haydn) was there least hesitancy observed. By the time she entered into the brilliant aria, "Ah, fors'è lui," from Verdi's Traviata, she was apparently quite at home and showered her audience with such a succession of sparkling notes that they could do nothing but wildly applaud and wonder if she really were true.

Galli-Curci, although a coloratura soprano, possesses a voice whose brilliancy has been softened and whose least hesitancy observed. By the time she entered into the brilliant aria, "Ah, fors'è lui," from Verdi's Traviata, she was apparently quite at home and showered her audience with such a succession of sparkling notes that they could do nothing but wildly applaud and wonder if she really were true.

Never has artist in London received such an ovation as did the artist of last night.

The theatre, packed to the last available nook, literally went mad over her art and called for encore after encore, to which she responded in the most gracious manner, kissing her hand and waving her handkerchief, when at last she must say good-by.

In her charming program which won her still further favor was the repetition of "Clavellitos" and "Pierrot," when she stood with her back to the house and sang for the four hundred people seated on the stage.

The singer appeared at her best in "Clavellitos" (Valverde), a brilliant little composition in which the notes are uttered in such rapid succession that the result is both amazing and beautiful.

Perhaps her most striking vocal effects were obtained in "Variation" (Proch), and in the "Mad Scene" from "Lucia" (Donizetti), both with flute obbligato. Here the wonder of her voice was demonstrated in the sustaining of single upper tones to extraordinary lengths. The "Polonaise" from "Mignon" was another exquisite number of this type.

In her program she included two of her husband's (Homer Samuels) compositions, "Pierrot," a sparkling little song whose last high and lovely note was one of the most beautiful of the evening, and "When China Sleeps," an equally lovely composition. "Twilight" was another exquisite number of this type.

"THE SHEIK," ALMOST PERISHED IN MANUSCRIPT

DORIS MAY featured in "The Foolish Age."

BY CABR.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—The film version of "The Sheik" will be released this month and it will probably prove to be as great a financial success as E. M. Hull's novel from which it was adapted.

And all that is more or less of a light by Massenet, also was an excellent vehicle to show off the singer's pure liquid tones when her voice is softened.

In spite of Galli-Curci's marvellous vocal power, in spite of her dazzling flights of bird notes, perhaps she touched her listeners most closely in the singing of some of the old-time songs, "Swanee River," "Love's Old Sweet Song," "The Last Rose of Summer," all followed each other as encores, and at last came "Home, Sweet Home," sung with a true heart appeal.

Some critics claim that Galli-Curci is not an emotional singer. A voice which can render so brilliantly the other numbers of her program is not usually one of emotional appeal. But surely no one who heard her last night would dare say that her "Love's Old Sweet Song," her "Swanee River" and her "Home, Sweet Home" did not have a heart appeal.

Galli-Curci was charmed with her London audience, she told me after her triumph, finding them most appreciative of her art.

The concert was in every way a big success, and congratulations should go to Joseph and Angelo Cortese for their enterprise in bringing an artist of such distinction to the city.

AUTO SMASHED AT COURTLAND DRIVER ESCAPES

Failure of Brakes At Wabash Crossing Cause of Accident.

SCENE OF FATALITIES

TILLSONBURG, Nov. 3.—The level Wabash Railway crossing at Courtland, the scene of a fatal auto accident three weeks ago when three persons were killed, came near being the scene of another fatal accident today, when an auto driven by John Simmons, a well-known farmer residing close to the village, crashed into Wabash express No. 3. The same train that figured in the previous accident.

It is said that Mr. Simmons tried to stop his car to allow the train to pass, but the brakes of the auto refused to respond, and the auto plunged head on into the drive wheels of the big engine. The car was almost a total wreck. Mr. Simmons escaped with a bad shaking up and severe bruises. The crossing has been the scene of several fatalities in the past few years, but is only protected by an electric bell.

Charles Ostrander, 16-year-old son of Joseph Ostrander of Glenmeyer, died in the Emergency Hospital today after making a brave fight for life.

A couple of other lads on Oct. 16 Charles was riding on R. G. Gorman's truck and playing about the platform, when he accidentally fell off, the rear wheels passing over his body. He was operated upon the following day. He suffered serious internal injuries and he was not expected to live over 48 hours at the time of the accident.

M. G. Dean, Liberal candidate, and M. L. Coad, U. F. O. candidate, have each received a personal letter from Donald Sutherland, Conservative candidate, asking that a joint public meeting be arranged at which all the candidates could speak.

The U. F. O. have already refused the invitation and the Liberals' executive are considering it at a special meeting.

The U. F. O. claim that Mr. Sutherland is taking this means to be assured of an audience, they claiming that he cannot otherwise expect an audience in the riding.

Crerar Concludes His Strenuous Maritime Province Campaign

AMHERST, N. S., Nov. 3.—(Canadian Press Staff Correspondent)—Hon. T. A. Crerar, leader of the National Progressive party, concluded his Maritime Provinces campaign with a large meeting at Amherst, N. S., today.

Later in the evening he left for Montreal, on his way to Ottawa, where he speaks on Saturday afternoon. The whole of next week and the early part of the succeeding week will be devoted to a renewal of his campaign in the crucial battlefields of Ontario, for organizers of three parties agree that it is mainly in the constituencies of Ontario that the election will be lost or won.

The heckling which marked Mr. Crerar's closing meeting in Prince Edward Island last night was not repeated at Amherst. There was but one questioner.

"How will you raise the $500,000,000 required for revenue?" the questioner asked.

"We raised $482,000,000 last year," Mr. Crerar replied, "and that only $160,000,000 was raised by customs duties. This year if you examine the customs statements you will find that the revenue is not likely to be much more than one-half of what it was last year."

"That is the result of protectionist features in the last budget. You cannot have a tariff for protection that will produce revenue. If you keep goods out of the country you cannot get revenue from them."

Mr. Crerar argued that the crying need of the hour was economy in every department of public expenditure. "We have about reached the limit of taxation," he said.

ALLEGED BRITISH ILL-TREATMENT

English House Hears Immigrants Suffer Hardships At Ellis Island.

LONDON, Nov. 3.—Alleged hardships suffered by British subjects at Ellis Island, New York, came up for brief consideration in the House of Commons today. Cecil Harmsworth, under-secretary of state for foreign affairs, was asked whether representations had been made to Washington on this score. He replied that, judging by the distressing accounts received of the treatment of British subjects at Ellis Island and the conditions under which they were compelled to live, the strongest complaints would be justified.

"Repeated representations made to the United States Government," declared the under-secretary, "have, I regret to say, had no tangible result, but further negotiations are proceeding at the present moment which I hope may lead to some permanent improvement."

Several complaints have been made to the British foreign office regarding the treatment of British subjects at Ellis Island. Specific cases have been mentioned of ill-treatment after detention at the immigration station on the ground that their respective quotas for admission were filled. In one case a British subject, born in Egypt was detained for a considerable time, but was finally admitted.

In another case a British subject, having from South Africa, with his wife and son, were held up. All three finally were excluded and returned to England. In other cases, bad treatment and "filthy surroundings" were alleged.

Offers Prize of $2 For Best Thanksgiving Menu Selected From Articles On This Page

Advertiser Contest Editor Welcomes Replies—Ideal Dinner Must Appeal To the Eye—Suggestions Offered For Course Include Corn, So-up, Fowl, Vegetables, Pumpkin Pie and Chestnut Cream—Turkey Likely To Be Replaced by Less Aristocratic Birds.

RIGHT upon the heels of Halloween this year comes Thanksgiving Day, and the housewife hostess has scarcely had time to clear away the evidences of the "witches' night" festivities, before turning her attention to the fitting celebration of Monday next, Nov. 7.

Home from school the boys and girls will come trooping for their first holiday of the autumn term, and along with them the trains will be bringing other members of the family making their way in the outside world. At many a table there will be welcome guests, and in all the land there will be hearts and homes the gladder for the presence of gallant men and heroic nurses and V. A. D.'s, who served their country well in the days of the great war, and who came back after Armistice Day, 1918.

How shall sufficient honor be done to the occasion, apart from the service of Thanksgiving and the offering of heart songs of gratitude?

Since the time of the Pilgrim Fathers entertaining has centered in the Thanksgiving dinner, with its dishes characteristically belonging to the American continent.

CONSIDERING MENUS.

Throughout the city and up and down the length and breadth of Western Ontario and all of the Dominion, housewives are giving serious consideration this week to their Thanksgiving dinner menus.

With the housekeeper and homemaker very much in mind as Thanksgiving Day approaches, the Contest Editor of The Advertiser planned this page of "Good Things to Eat For Thanksgiving" in order that a study of the advertisements appearing thereon might offer just the suggestions wanted for rounding out the Thanksgiving dinner. Each experienced housekeeper has her own pet recipes, her own favorite arrangement of dinner menus for special occasions. Since these are valuable to women who know less of kitchen lore, and are appetizing reading, to boot, the Contest Editor is offering a prize of two dollars for the very best Thanksgiving menu submitted, selected from items on this page, and sent in to the Contest Editor, London Advertiser, not later than 9 o'clock, Tuesday forenoon, Nov. 8.

The winner of the contest will be announced in the evening edition of that day, and the morning edition of Wednesday, Nov. 9.

MUST APPEAL TO EYE.

In this aesthetic age, everybody appreciates the importance of the appeal to the eye in promoting good digestion, so one of the early considerations in planning the Thanksgiving dinner is the decoration scheme for the table. The pumpkin which has figured so prominently for Halloween again is destined to occupy a place of honor at the approaching festival of Thanksgiving. What could be more appropriate for a central decoration than a hollowed pumpkin, filled to overflowing with colorful fruits, garnished with trailing vines, and placed on a mat of the gay autumn leaves gathered in the past few weeks?

What shall the first course be?

SEES REVIVAL OF EGYPTIAN TRADE

Cairo Business Interests Predict Early End to Depression.

CAIRO, Egypt, Nov. 3.—Signs of a commercial revival are seen by business and shipping communities in Egypt. After months of depression, they say, there has come a healthier tone of confidence and optimism which is most encouraging. The feeling prevails among the business interests that the late fall will see the country back to normal and healthy trade.

The Egyptian public is wearying of discussions of the country's future political status, and is showing far more interest in the price of cotton, which is the barometer of commercial activity.

Throughout the spring and summer, the large holdover from last year's cotton crop acted as a damper on the business community, which feared a further restriction of the Egyptian's purchasing capacity. Efforts have been made to relieve that situation. Prominent groups of Egyptian cotton growers have visited England and told the cotton spinners of Manchester that Egypt will not continue to grow cotton for unremunerative prices.

The Egyptian Government has officially restricted the area of cotton cultivation, and as a result, this season's crop is considerably less than the average. In addition, the crop has suffered this year more severely than usual from the boll weevil.

Owing in part to these reasons and in part to the rise in American cotton, the Egyptian crop nearly doubled in price. Consequently, optimism prevails among the growers and shippers.

KEMALISTS FACE GREAT ODDS, BUT FIGHT BRAVELY

Ragged Turkish Warriors Surprise Greeks With Tenacity of Their Resistance.

INFLICT 9,000 CASUALTIES

Attacking Forces Pay Heavily For Success of Drive Toward Angora.

Smyrna, Anatolia, Nov. 3.—Now that the headquarters staff of the Greek army has returned here after the conclusion of a summer campaign against the Turks in Anatolia, it is possible to make known some of the phases of the fighting not before available.

The efficiency and stubborn resistance of the comparatively ill-equipped force of Mustafa Kemal Pasha was a growing surprise to the Greeks as they penetrated toward Angora, Kemal's capital. The Turks contested every yard of the Greek advance, clinging to their trenches with fierce misanthropy, until the sheer weight of numbers of their aggressors overwhelmed them. The Greek soldiers themselves say they never faced a braver, more determined foe.

That Kemal's forces were able to fight so effectively is considered remarkable, since the Greeks believe the Turks were lacking in many essentials of equipment, while the Greeks were well organized and well equipped.

Turks Poorly Equipped.

The Greeks had several thousand motor trucks and automobiles, while the Turks had less than 100. The Greeks enjoyed superiority also in the more vital matter of rifles, artillery and machine guns. As regards manpower, the preponderance was in favor of the Greeks by the proportion of one and a half to one. The Turkish troops were garbed in ragged and worn misanthropy, while the Greeks were well clothed, shod and accoutred.

Kemal's aeroplane service consisted of two machines. His adversaries had more than a dozen. The one branch of equipment in which the Turks undoubtedly excelled was in their railroad service. They had 25 locomotives and more than 500 freight and passenger cars. Added to this, they had, of course, the continued use of the railroad for the transport of troops, the movement of large guns, and the provisioning of the army.

Another vital element of strength was their powerful natural defensive positions against the Greeks, consisting of range after range of fortified hills and carefully-prepared trenches.

Lastly, their intimate knowledge of the terrain over which they fought was a factor of great value. It enabled them for one thing to make fierce attacks in the night, while their opponents were groping hopelessly in the dark over ground and amid surroundings that were entirely unfamiliar to them.

Greek Casualties 9,000.

How well the Kemalists fought is shown by the fact that in the first ten days of the big Greek drive toward Angora 9,000 Greeks were killed or wounded, while the number of Turks who fell in action or were wounded was only slightly more than half that total. A great part of the Turkish efficiency is ascribed by the Greeks to the fact that for every dozen men in the Turkish army there is one officer, and refusal to fight is punished by death. It is also said that the Kemalists are manned largely by officers.

The Greeks assert that the Turkish determined stand was due largely to the fact that Kemal Pasha has put machine guns behind them, robbing them of whatever chance they had to escape, but this assertion has not been possible of confirmation.

BANK OF ENGLAND LOWERS ITS RATE

Discount Is Cut From 5 1-2 to 5 Per Cent.

LONDON, Nov. 3.—The Bank of England reduced its rate of discount to 5 per cent from 5 1/2 per cent this morning. The last reduction in the discount rate was made July 21 last, when it was cut from 6 to 5 1/2 per cent.

Fluctuations of the rate established by the Bank of England have been of great interest in financial circles of Canada, being indication of the financial situation in London. When the discount rate was cut on June 23 to 6 from 6 1/2 per cent rate would be maintained for as a reduction had not been rumored, and all indications were that the 6 1/2 percent rate would be maintained for some time.

When the war broke out in August, 1914, the rate was advanced to 10 per cent, the highest in the history of the Bank of England, that point having been touched upon only two occasions, during the panics of 1857 and 1866. After a few days, however, it was reduced to 6 per cent, and later to 5 per cent. It remained at that point until about the middle of 1919, when it was advanced to 6 per cent, but it was lowered to 5 per cent in April, 1921.

On Nov. 6, 1919, it went up to 6 per cent, where it remained until April 15, 1920, when it was advanced again to 7 per cent. On April 28 last there was a reduction to 6 1/2 per cent, this being followed by the cuts of June 23 and July 21.

Yesterday dispatches from Washington carried an announcement by the United States Federal Reserve Board that the discount rate of federal reserve banks in eight districts had been cut down.

OPERATE TRAIN SERVICE THROUGH FLOOD DISTRICT

WINNIPEG, Man., Nov. 3.—The first transcontinental train to operate through the flooded area in British Columbia without transfer of passengers left last night from Vancouver on scheduled time over the Canadian Pacific Railway, and is due to arrive in Winnipeg Saturday morning. The normal schedule of Canadian Pacific service is being maintained in the mountain divisions, it is announced today by officials of the company here.

SIR EDWARD KEMP MAY FILL SENATE VACANCY

OTTAWA, Oct. 3.—(By Canadian Press.)—It is understood here tonight that Sir Edward Kemp, former minister without portfolio, is likely to be appointed to one of the four vacancies in the Senate.

The appointment has been rumored for some time, and definite action is expected in the near future.

Men, High in Canadian Politics, Hailed From British Columbia

VANCOUVER, B. C., Nov.—In the 45 years dating from 1872 to the last general election in 1917, British Columbia has been represented at Ottawa by 65 Conservatives and sixteen Liberals. British Columbia has contributed its quota of men who in greater or less degree have made their mark in Parliament, although its representation has been small. In 1872 Sir Francis Hincks was elected in Victoria. The Hon. Edgar Dewdney, for many years a minister of the crown, represented Lale. Lieut.-Col. E. G. Prior, minister of militia in 1896, was the member for Victoria. William Templeman, a cabinet minister, was elected in Victoria in 1896 and at a by-election in 1909 he was returned for Comox-Alberni. Hon. S. F. Tolmie, Canada's present minister of agriculture also represented Victoria until the dissolution of Parliament a few weeks ago. Hon. Martin Burrell, Yale, also obtained cabinet rank.

British Columbia's relations with the Central Government at Ottawa have been happy enough, although there have been differences of opinion at various times over financial matters and the fisheries. While there has been considerable political turmoil in the province, this has been confined almost entirely to the provincial arena. In the early political history of the province there was considerable bitterness displayed over the delay in the building of the Canadian Pacific Railway, the chief condition on which the province entered confederation.

British Columbia representation in House of Commons dates back to 1872, the first general election following the confederation of the province. Confederation being held in that year. During the fourth session of the first parliament of Canada British Columbia was given six members, the province having entered confederation July 20, 1871.

The representation remained at six or seven parliaments. In the parliament elected in 1900 the representation was increased by one and continued at seven until 1914. In that year a redistribution bill was passed, increasing the province's representation to thirteen members, and at this number it stands today.

For the first six parliaments British Columbia's members were Conservatives, and not until the election in 1896 did the Liberals send a representative to Ottawa. In this year they elected four members to the Conservatives' two. The province continued to endorse Liberal candidates in the three succeeding parliaments, but the Liberals failed to elect a member in 1911 or in 1917.

The following table will indicate the political complexion of members of parliament since 1872:

GOOD PORTRAITS BRING LOW PRICES AT ZURICH

May Find Better Prices in Other Markets.

GENEVA, Nov. 3.—Paintings of the Hohenzollerns and the Hapsburgs have slumped in the market until what are considered by dealers good portraits of the former German Emperor and the late Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria brought only bids of 100 francs each at a recent art sale in Zurich.

Portraits of the former German Crown Prince Frederick William in his Death's Head uniform brought offers of only 50 francs.

The dealers offering these and other similar pictures guaranteed them as coming from the various royal palaces. The pictures are to be taken to the United States and to England, where the dealers hope the markets will be better.

NUKOL FUEL COMPANY'S STATEMENT SHOWS LOSS

TORONTO, Nov. 3.—At a meeting of 500 shareholders of the Nukol Fuel Company, held this afternoon, the financial statement showed that up to January 1, 1921, the company had lost upwards of $125,000 and for the nine months ending September 30, losses were $72,069.81. Operating expenses were recorded as $132,000, and sales amounted to something like $86,000 which one shareholder said had been affected at a manufacturing cost of $145,000. President Slater thought the company could make a profit by May 2, next year.

CASGRAIN DECLINES TORY NOMINATION

Another Convention of Party in North Essex Probable.

WINDSOR, Nov. 3.—(By Canadian Press.)—Col. H. R. Casgrain, who was nominated to contest the riding of North Essex for the National Liberal-Conservative party at a convention on Saturday afternoon, today declined the nomination which he has had under consideration since the end of last week. In announcing his decision he states that he has decided to drop out of politics entirely and to devote his time to his profession.

Dr. R. D. Morand, chairman of the executive of the party, said this afternoon that another convention to nominate a candidate will probably be called next Monday or Tuesday.

W. C. Kennedy is the Liberal candidate for North Essex.

STREET CAR AND AUTOS IN MIXUP

ST. THOMAS, Nov. 3.—An auto, driven by William H. Small, milk dealer, was hit by a street car this morning and the momentum of the car shoved the auto along at a fairly rapid pace, about forty feet, when it struck the auto of George Ponsford and then went to pieces. Mr. Small was cut and bruised, but not seriously injured. The fender and steering gear of Mr. Ponsford's machine was damaged. Mr. Small was watching Mr. Ponsford's auto as it was approaching him and forgot the coming of the street car.

Mr. Small narrowly escaped a serious accident at the Southwick street crossing of the M. C. R. last summer, when a locomotive hit his horse and wagon, killing the animal and wrecking the vehicle.

Charges James Bay "Coasters" Are Too Lazy To Make Living

OTTAWA, Nov. 3.—(By Canadian Press.)—Inspector J. W. Phillips of the R. C. M. P. has returned to Ottawa from a four months' trip of inspection to points along the coast of James Bay. Accompanying him were Corporal E. M. Himmer, R. C. M. P., and Dr. R. W. Kinsman, Toronto, of the Indian department. The expedition was made in order to investigate the condition of the inhabitants, mostly Indians and Eskimos. It was feared that there was a certain amount of destitution, but Inspector Phillips reports things better than had been expected. Throughout the summer there has been an abundance of fish, white whales and seals along the coast, but it is very difficult to induce the Indians to exert themselves. What is wanted, says the inspector, is some means of getting them to take more interest in life generally. At some points they have gained for themselves the name of "coasters" as they will remain near the coast in spite of any inducement made to get them to inland, where fur-bearing animals are plentiful. They seem to prefer to remain near the trading stations, looking for furs.

No destitution was found among the Cree Indians at Moose Factory. Many of them, says Inspector Phillips, are well as Indians go. Whites and Indians alike had been making home-brew or active beer, but the practice is becoming a thing of the past. Both the Hudson Bay Company and the Revillon Freres fur trading company have given orders that if any of their employees are discovered making home-brew, they are to be immediately discharged. It was found that there was no sale of the concoction, and Inspector Phillips called a meeting of the tribe, at which everyone attended, and explained the law concerning this practice, making it clear that the penalties would be strictly enforced.

Natives Are "Coasters."

At Rupert House, on the east side of James Bay, both the trading companies have posts. The natives are "coasters." They never go inland, but stay about the coast, fishing and hunting foxes. When the foxes are plentiful the natives are self-supporting, but during most years, when not actually starving, they are hard up and dependent upon advances made by the trading companies. Together with rations issued by the Government. Where efforts have been made to induce the Indians to go into the interior where hunting is profitable, they have always been found to return to the post without fur, having merely idled away the time. At Rupert House, one Indian was charged before the inspector with being drunk. He was fined $20, and promptly dismissed by his employers, the H. B. Company.

At East Main, further north, there are 260 natives almost all "coasters." It was found that the H. B. Company at one time maintained a farm with 80 cattle, 100 sheep and a number of hogs, supplying all their posts in James Bay with meat and butter. The inspector reports the land as very fertile, and it would make an ideal spot, he says, for an experimental farm, incidentally providing work for the natives. Something, he says, will eventually have to be done for them. Not only must they be given work, but they must be taught to be industrious and to take more interest in life.

Port George was also visited. Here there are trading posts and a Church of England Mission, but there has been no permanent missionary for the past five years. The natives are healthy and there is no destitution except among the older ones.

At White River post, says the report, there is little or no vegetation. The natives are hard up because they are too lazy to fish, although white whales and seals have been especially abundant lately. The Eskimos here are healthy, good natured and hard-working and given a chance, they make good.

AD. BONAR LAW TAKES HAND IN IRISH TANGLE

Leader of British Unionists Joins in Endeavor To Win Peace.

MAY INFLUENCE PARTY

Lloyd George Still Confident He Can Attend Washington Parley.

LONDON, Nov. 4.—A. Bonar Law, one of the most prominent members of the Unionist party, and former Government leader in the House of Commons, conferred with Prime Minister Lloyd George last night, and is taking a hand in the effort to reach a settlement of the Irish question. The Daily Mail, in discussing Mr. Bonar Law's interview with Mr. Lloyd George, said today that he would, if necessary, bring independent influence to bear upon the extreme Unionist faction in the new to achieving a complete agreement.

The outlook for a successful continuance of the Irish negotiations was regarded somewhat improved here today because of recent suggestions regarding the possibility of a settlement of the Irish question, and the prospect that Sir James Craig, the Ulster premier, would take part in the discussions. The fact that Ulster members of the House of Commons have said nothing hostile in reference to the latest proposals was regarded as a good omen, but there was no definite indication as to the attitude that Sir James would take.

The Government is endeavoring to find a method to transfer to the Ulster Government powers which would enable it to function without delay, it was asserted by the Daily Mail this morning. This might be effected by an order-in-council, which would obviate the necessity of waiting for Parliament to pass a special bill.

Prime Minister Lloyd George is still confident it will be possible for him to go to Washington at an early date, and assume the leadership of the British delegation at the armaments conference. Mr. Chamberlain, the Government leader in the House of Commons, declared today.

Mr. Chamberlain made this declaration in speaking in the debate in the House on the forthcoming conference in the United States capital.

Members of the House convened today to listen to a discussion of the Washington conference on limitation of armaments, and for eastern problems.

The resolution was introduced by Mr. Robert Clynes, Stephen Walsh, J. H. Thomas, Arthur Henderson and J. Shaw. Laborite leaders. It read: "That the House approves of the meeting of the international conference at Washington, and trusts that a supreme effort will be made to arrive at such measures of agreement as will result in a substantial and progressive reduction of the crushing burden of armaments."

There were protests against the introduction of the resolution, but they were futile.

The conference, said Mr. Clynes, was in no sense in competition with or in opposition to the League.

Must Deal With Root.

Unless the conference dealt with the causes at the root of armaments, there was little hope of any reduction, declared the Labor leader, who at another point in his speech said:

"We cannot trust to alliances based on present or past friendships, resting on any material or economic interest. The alliance must be worthy. They have failed us in the past, and there is a growing conviction that great international interests must be considered in common, and that the future progress and good of mankind can be secured only by the great nations of the world uniting for the future peace of the world."

Sir Donald Maclean (Liberal), in the unavoidable absence of Mr. Asquith, the Liberal leader, seconded the motion for the resolution.

"We are proudly conscious and grateful that in summoning this conference, and in taking the initiative in it," he said, "our sister nation, the United States, was moved by no mean or selfish motive, but was actuated by a sincere desire to bring about a better state of things in connection with world armaments. He felt certain, he added, that the conference was in no sense in competition with the League of Nations."

ADMIRAL BEATTY SPEAKS AT CHICAGO GATHERING

Asserts Great Britain and U. S. Must Stand Together.

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—Expressing the conviction that Great Britain and the United States must stand together "for fellowships' sake," Admiral Beatty, first sea lord of the British admiralty, in an address before the Commercial Club here last night, asserted that if the two great English-speaking nations did keep together they had nothing to fear in the world.

Speaking of the coming conference on limitation of armaments, Admiral Beatty said: "I am full of hope and desire that great things shall come out of it. It is impossible to think that representatives of all the great countries which are going to assemble, and will sit there and discuss the various questions frankly and honestly, will be unable to find a solution. Surely for the sake of the world which will reduce the great burdens which now lie upon the people and enable our countries to re-establish the industries of peace and the contentment of mankind."

WORLD IN NO DANGER FROM GERMAN ARMY

Berlin, Nov. 4.—The Ministry of defence, in a statement to the Associated Press, yesterday, denied the widespread newspaper reports that Germany was fostering a secret army, utilizing her factories for war purposes, and evading the disarmament clauses of the Versailles treaty generally, in preparation for another war.

"Germany is not threatening the peace of the world; she is in no condition to be a danger," says the statement. "The German people are being watched in the minutest detail by the inter-allied commission, which is in a position to know whether we have a secret army of three-quarters of a million or have complied with the treaty by its reduction to 100,000."

Scotland Has Many Waterpower Possibilities, Says Prof. Gibson

EDINBURGH, Scotland, Nov. 3.—At one of the recent meetings of the British Association, Professor A. H. Gibson of Manchester spoke to the advantages Scotland possessed in water power for industrial purposes. Investigations showed, Professor Gibson said, that Scotland had possibilities for many large as well as small schemes in that direction. The development of small ones in the Highlands of Scotland would probably have a great effect on the social life of the community in the way of extending local industries.

The use of water power not only led to a saving in fuel resources, but it also conferred much power. If they took an extreme example, they found that each of the 40,000-horsepower units at Niagara Falls would require for operation two men per shift. To produce the same power from a series of small factories, more than 800 men would be required.

War Helped Expansion.

The war, the speaker continued, owing to the urgent demand for energy to supply abnormal requirements, was responsible for an unprecedented rate of development with available water power resources. In France some 550,000 water horsepower had been put into commission, and that country now had 1,600,000-horsepower under control as compared with 750,000 before the war.

In Italy schemes totaling 300,000-horsepower were under way, and it was estimated that the total output of electricity amounted to 2,000,000-horsepower, shortly after only recently began to investigate the matter, and since 1916 had developed nearly 1,000,000-horsepower, or almost 20 per cent of her available resources.

Power Already Developed.

In Canada and the United States of America many large schemes had recently been brought into service, and some extremely large installations were now in course of construction or were being projected. In Canada alone, the development of 2,000,000-horsepower was almost three times as great as in 1910, and in the United States of America the development had increased from something under 2,000,000-horsepower in 1905 to 10,000,000 in 1920.

With the notable exceptions of Canada and New Zealand, the professor said practically nothing had been done prior to 1915 by any part of the British Empire to develop, or even systematically to investigate, the possibilities of water power development, but it was different now, and at the present time investigations were being carried out in India, Ceylon, Australia, South and East Africa and British Guiana.

USBORNE AND HOWICK PLOWING COMPETITION

CLINTON, Nov. 3.—James McLean, Richmond Hill, who has just completed judging the plowing competition put on by the Junior Farmers' Association of Usborne and Howick reports as follows:

The Usborne competition called for five acres in stubble. The result was as follows: James Warrel, 92½ points; winner of silver cup; Elgin Rowellfield, 87 points; Milton Luther, 84½ points; Ernest Pym, 80 points.

The Howick competition called for five acres jointed, dry, on sand. The result was as follows: James Warrel, 92½ points; winner of silver cup; Hartwell Strong, 92 points; Roy Strong, 91½ points; Jack Montgomery, 87 points.

PERUVIANS ALARMED BY EARTHQUAKE SHOCKS

LIMA, Peru, Nov. 3.—Four sharp earthquake shocks were felt in this city yesterday morning. The first came at 2:49 o'clock and the last at 11:20. The first and third were violent, but all were distinctly felt throughout Lima. The centre of the disturbance was believed to be about 200 miles southeast of here, near Ica. Dispatches from that city received later in the day said the residents were greatly alarmed by the tremor and had taken refuge in the park.

HOLDING SPECIAL SERVICES.

MERLIN, Nov. 3.—On Sunday evening a meeting of unusual interest was held in the Methodist Church. A hearty song-service under the able leadership of Rev. Gordon V. Boyd, of the Kintore was entered into by all the congregation, which filled the church to the doors. Special features were: Echo singing, which consisted of leading soloists stationed in different parts of the building outside of the auditorium, singing in turn the verses of "Pass Me Not O Gentle Savior," and Mr. Butt rendered in a most effective way "Open the Gates of the Temple."

Rev. A. M. Stuart, B.A., pastor of the church, who is conducting two weeks' special services, delivered an inspiring sermon, "Modern Excuses."

During this week he is preaching a series of sermons which are attracting a great deal of attention, and much interest is being shown by the people of Merlin. On Friday night special music will be provided, when Ivan Rumble of Toronto is expected to take a leading part.

RECTOR AND WIFE HONORED.

GRANTON, Nov. 3.—A touching little scene was enacted at the rectory on Saturday evening, Oct. 23, when a delegation from St. Thomas Anglican Church, consisting of the warden and other officers, and a representative each from the Ladies' Guild, the A. Y. F. A. and the Sunday School, took possession of the rectory for a short time and presented Rev. and Mrs. Bythell, who leave shortly for Port Stanley, with a slight token of love and appreciation.

A. J. Claverley conveyed the people's message. Mr. and Mrs. Bythell were both completely taken by surprise, but feelingly replied and thanked the people for their kindness in this and every other instance.

A. BONAR LAW TAKES HAND IN IRISH TANGLE

Leader of British Unionists Joins in Endeavor To Win Peace.

MAY INFLUENCE PARTY

Lloyd George Still Confident He Can Attend Washington Parley.

LONDON, Nov. 4.—A. Bonar Law, one of the most prominent members of the Unionist party, and former Government leader in the House of Commons, conferred with Prime Minister Lloyd George last night, and is taking a hand in the effort to reach a settlement of the Irish question. The Daily Mail, in discussing Mr. Bonar Law's interview with Mr. Lloyd George, said today that he would, if necessary, bring independent influence to bear upon the extreme Unionist faction in the new to achieving a complete agreement.

The outlook for a successful continuance of the Irish negotiations was regarded somewhat improved here today because of recent suggestions regarding the possibility of a settlement of the Irish question, and the prospect that Sir James Craig, the Ulster premier, would take part in the discussions. The fact that Ulster members of the House of Commons have said nothing hostile in reference to the latest proposals was regarded as a good omen, but there was no definite indication as to the attitude that Sir James would take.

The Government is endeavoring to find a method to transfer to the Ulster Government powers which would enable it to function without delay, it was asserted by the Daily Mail this morning. This might be effected by an order-in-council, which would obviate the necessity of waiting for Parliament to pass a special bill.

Prime Minister Lloyd George is still confident it will be possible for him to go to Washington at an early date, and assume the leadership of the British delegation at the armaments conference. Mr. Chamberlain, the Government leader in the House of Commons, declared today.

Mr. Chamberlain made this declaration in speaking in the debate in the House on the forthcoming conference in the United States capital.

Members of the House convened today to listen to a discussion of the Washington conference on limitation of armaments, and for eastern problems.

The resolution was introduced by Mr. Robert Clynes, Stephen Walsh, J. H. Thomas, Arthur Henderson and J. Shaw. Laborite leaders. It read: "That the House approves of the meeting of the international conference at Washington, and trusts that a supreme effort will be made to arrive at such measures of agreement as will result in a substantial and progressive reduction of the crushing burden of armaments."

There were protests against the introduction of the resolution, but they were futile.

The conference, said Mr. Clynes, was in no sense in competition with or in opposition to the League.

Must Deal With Root.

Unless the conference dealt with the causes at the root of armaments, there was little hope of any reduction, declared the Labor leader, who at another point in his speech said:

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

EXPECTING BIG POULTRY SALES

An Extensive Offering of Chickens Predicted For Saturday.

It is expected that poultry will be the feature of Saturday's market on account of Monday being Thanksgiving Day. Turkey is selling from $4 to $10 each, according to quality, but chickens will have the largest sale.

The snowstorm followed by rain softened the roads considerably, but it is not thought that this will deter the farmers from the sale of the biggest markets of the year.

The price of live hogs remains steady. Two loads of hay sold on Friday's market for $17 a ton. The hay being wet, the farmers to reduce the price. One load of new oats was also offered for sale.

There were large quantities of potatoes offered on Thursday's market, and some sold as low as $1.75 a bag.

J. Connor, Government fruit inspector, states that the potato crop of Western Ontario this year amounts to only 40 per cent of the crop of 1920.

LEON TROTZKY IN FULL CONFESSION

Bolshevik War Minister Admits Russia Was Ruled by Red Terror.

LONDON, Nov. 3.—Leon Trotsky admits over his own signature that there has been a Red Terror in Russia.

The one-time New York soapbox orator and present head of the Bolshevik army has written a book just issued here by the Labor Publishing Company under the title "The Defence of Terrorism."

Obviously, it is merely a reply to a book by the German Socialist, Karl Kautsky, in which the latter attacks the soviet methods.

Actually, Trotsky's effusion is an arrogant defence of everything the soviets have done.

His common excuse is that the Bolsheviks only did what the aristocratic and bourgeois governments have done and that the soviets were compelled to take the steps they did out of the necessities of their case. Says Trotsky:

Rule With Rifles.

"A revolutionary class which has conquered power with arms in its hands is bound to and will suppress, rifle in hand, all attempts to tear the power out of its hands."

"Where it has against it a hostile army, it will oppose to it its own army. Where it is confronted with armed conspiracy, attempt at murder, uprising, it will hurl at the heads of its enemies an unsparring penalty."

"The question of the form of repression, or of its degree, of course, is not one of principle. It is a question of expediency."

He continues: "War, like revolution, is founded upon intimidation. A victorious war, generally speaking, destroys only an insignificant part of the conquered army, intimidating the remainder and breaking their will."

"The revolution works in the same way. It kills individuals and intimidates thousands. In this sense the Red Terror is not distinguishable from the armed insurrection, the direct continuation of what it represents."

The Distinction.
"The terror of czarism throttled the workers who were fighting for the Socialist order. Our extraordinary commissions shoot landlords, capitalists and generals who are striving to restore the capitalist order. Do you group this distinction? For us Communists it is quite sufficient."

He admits that the soviets have been harsh to the intelligent and professional classes of the community.

In the course of his extraordinarily frank book he admits:

"That the soviet government is a rule of the majority by the minority of determined organized Communists."

"That in another sense it is a dictatorship of the revolutionary city over the country."

That practically all of the opposition newspapers are suppressed.

That the soviets had trouble with the peasants and finally had to array the poorest class of peasants against the more prosperous peasant proprietors.

WOODSTOCK EX-ALDERMAN DIES.
WOODSTOCK, Nov. 3.—John McIlwraith, a well-known local citizen, and an ex-alderman, was found dead in bed this morning. He had been ailing for some time. He was born in Jarvis, Ont., about 60 years ago.

Answers to Correspondents:

MARTHA—Housework and washing is only an excuse for red and ugly hands. I know a great many women who do all their own housework, and yet have beautiful white hands. They use what I use, CAMPANA'S ITALIAN BALM. It is the most wonderful thing in the world for preventing chapping and redness of the hands. I wouldn't be without it. Keep a bottle of CAMPANA'S ITALIAN BALM on your bathroom shelf and rub a little on your hands every time you have had them in water to do cleaning. It will soften and whiten them and will protect them from the wear and tear of housework. You can buy CAMPANA'S ITALIAN BALM at any Druggist, 40c a large bottle. Advt.

INDIANS OF NORTH LOVE SODA DRINKS

Sit Stolidly in Rows to Watch Colors Flow.

EDMONTON, Alta., Nov. 3.—Young Canadians have nothing on the Indians of the north country when it comes to getting away with red, green, pink and yellow soda water, declares J. A. Morie, a local confectioner, who established the "furthest north" soda fountain at Fort Smith during the past summer. Mr. Morie took in a complete plant for the manufacture of various soft drinks, and the production of these was an unending source of wonder to the aborigines.

The cylinder in which the drinks were made was buried under the ground, the various liquids being piped to the store, and this enthralling process resulted in the entire Indian population being on hand just so long as the performance lasted. Hour after hour the squaws, children and men would sit in the store and gaze stolidly at the new-fangled apparatus, and every few minutes a round of drinks would be ordered according to color.

In addition to soft drinks, the Indians are "strong" on candies, and for the nonce the natives' diet of straight fish and meat was tempered with the confections of civilization, and they are just as good at eating candies as at drinking "pop," states Mr. Morie.

Like the camel of other cities, the Indians of the north appear to have eight sets of stomachs specially constructed for the containing of liquids, and when Mr. Morie left the north they were still "going strong," with apparently no idea of going out on their trap lines until such times as the total supply of lemonade, ginger pop and candies had disappeared.

MOSCOWANS PAY 2,000 RUBLES A MILE CARFARE

Moscow, Nov. 3.—Only 142 electrical street railway trains of two cars each are in condition to operate in Moscow. Consequently only 22 per cent of the population can be accommodated.

Until a few weeks ago, only Government employees and workers were allowed to use the street railways and had special cards. With the change in the Government's trade policy, the street railways were thrown open to the bourgeoisie from 10 a.m. till 4 p.m., and the fare fixed at 1,000 rubles a "stretch," which is about half a mile.

The fares collected average about 1,500,000,000 rubles a month, and the monthly deficit on the street railways is 2,000,000,000 rubles.
