PREMIER BALFOUR MAKES CHANGES IN THE CABINET

Alfred Lyttleton Appointed to the Colonial Office.

Duke of Devonshire Resigns As President of the Council.

Warm Exchange Between Devonshire and the Premier—Early General Election Predicted.

London, Oct. 5. — The following British Cabinet changes are announced:

Mr. Brodrick, formerly secretary for war, succeeds Lord George Hamilton as secretary for India.

Austen Chamberlain, postmaster-general, succeeds Mr. Ritchie, as chancellor of the exchequer.

Alfred Lyttleton, recorder of Oxford, succeeds Joseph Chamberlain as secretary for the colonies.

H. O. Arnold-Foster, secretary for the admiralty, succeeds Mr. Brodrick as secretary for war.

Graham Murray, lord advocate of Scotland, succeeds Lord Balfour of Burleigh as secretary for Scotland.

Lord Stanley, financial secretary of the war office, succeeds Austen Chamberlain as postmaster-general.

WHY DEVONSHIRE RESIGNED

The Duke of Devonshire, who was leader of the Conservative party in the House of Lords, has resigned the office of lord president of the council, and the King has accepted his resignation.

The Duke of Devonshire wrote to Mr. Balfour giving his reasons for his resignation, which he attributed among other things to the Premier's speech at Sheffield, and his pamphlet on insular free trade. The Duke of Devonshire has not yet made his letter public, but a letter of acknowledgment from Mr. Balfour, dated Oct. 3 and published tonight, says:

"It was on Sept. 3 that you informed me of your resolve to remain in the Government. This decision was preceded by much confidential correspondence, much intimate conversation. There was no phase of policy which I was not prepared to discuss, and which I did not, in fact, discuss with perfect frankness. The decision arrived at, I had a right to consider final. Accordingly I consulted you on the best mode of filling the vacancies in the Government of which you are the most distinguished member. You were good enough to express some weighty judgments on the delicate matters submitted to you. You even initiated proposals of your own, which I gladly accepted. Our last communication on these subjects was in the letter I dictated during my journey to Sheffield on Thursday afternoon. Less than 48 hours thereafter I received in Edinburgh the telegrams which first announced your intention to resign, and your desire to see the process of resignation consummated without delay and without discussion. The principal occasion for this singular transformation was, you tell me, my Sheffield speech. This is strange, indeed. In intention, at least, there was no doctrine contained in that speech which was not contained in my note on insular free trade and in my public letter to Mr. Chamberlain. With both, you were intimately acquainted during the whole fortnight in which you lent your countenance to the Government after the recent resignations. I must suppose, therefore, that it is some unintentional discrepancy between the written and spoken words which now drives you to desert the administration you so long adorned. But till one o'clock this afternoon, I had, I confess, counted you not as an opponent, but as a colleague. To such a one it would have seemed natural, so I should have thought, to take in case of apparent discrepancy the written rather than the spoken words, or, if this is asking too much, at least to make an inquiry before arriving at a final hostile conclusion. But what and where is this discrepancy? I do not believe that it exists. Am I not right in complaining of your procedure in reference of my Sheffield speech? You fear that it will aggravate the party division. If there is anything certain, it is that the declaration of policy then made produced and is destined to produce greater harmony in the party than has prevailed since the fiscal question first came to the front, six months ago. Had you resigned on the 15th, or had you not resigned at all, this healing effect would have suffered no interruption. To resign now and to resign on the speech is to take the course most calculated to make harder the hard task of the peacemaker. Again, do you not feel some special regret at having at this particular juncture, to sever your connection with a unionist administration? At the moment of its most buoyant prosperity your absence from its councils would have been sensibly felt, but you have in fact left it when in the opinion of your opponents its fortunes are at the lowest and its perplexities at the greatest. I see no difficulty in carrying out the policy which for a fortnight you were willing to accept by the aid of an administration which for a fortnight you helped to construct."

THE DUKE'S LETTER.

Late this evening the Duke of Devonshire's letter to Mr. Balfour, to which the foregoing was the response, was communicated to the press. It says in part: "I have since we last met felt increasing doubt whether I had been well advised in consenting to separate myself from those of our colleagues whose resignations were tendered and accepted last month."

Referring to the Sheffield speech, the duke says: "I was prepared by our discussions for your statement that you desired to obtain the sanction of the constituencies for a reversal of the doctrine that taxation should never be imposed except for purposes of revenue, and this is no doubt the principal and most definite statement in your speech. I admit that you have succeeded in making this declaration the basis of a great political announcement, but in my opinion that announcement has been extended very far beyond the necessities of the case. It was unnecessary, in my opinion, to assert that you desired to reverse the Londonderry Also?

London, Oct. 6. — It was rumored today that the Marquis of Londonderry, president of the board of education, may follow the Duke of Devonshire into retirement. The new Colonial Secretary, has defended Mr. Chamberlain's action in launching the discussion, but contended that the poor man's budget must not be weighted. He anticipated a readjustment, rather than additional taxation, and thought the Government should have a weapon for use in the negotiation of commercial treaties.

NEW CHEESE INDUSTRY

It May Be Established at Windsor by Montrealers.

Windsor, Ont., Oct. 6.—E. Harris, of Montreal, is in the city looking for a suitable location for a wholesale cheese establishment for carrying on a cheese business on a large scale.

It is his object to make Windsor the headquarters for supplying Ontario with potted cheese manufactured in England.

MAY INVADE GERMANY

U. S. Steel Trust May Sell to the Iron Masters.

Hamburg, Oct. 6.—The United States Steel Corporation, through its Hamburg agents, Steffens & Co., offered yesterday for the first time to sell to German iron masters sheet iron and iron plates for home consumption or export. Commercial papers profess to doubt that the offer is sincere or that it is likely to lead to business, especially as plates are now among the lowest priced articles in the German market. They also believe that the company will lose heavily if it invades Germany.

NEW SERVIAN CABINET

Maintenance of Peace the Leading Policy.

London, Oct. 6.—At the Servian legation here it was said that the new cabinet, though Radical, is composed of two shades of political opinion, four fusion Radicals and four Independents, who are an offshoot of the Moderate Radicals.

The present Government is expected to be engaged in elaborating several new statutes in connection with the new constitution. Its policy will probably be directed towards the maintenance of peace. The Servian press generally welcomes the new cabinet, especially the new Premier.

THEY WANT MORE TIME

An Effort Made to Postpone the Soo Sale.

Philadelphia, Oct. 6. — The Bulletin says: John R. Doe Passos, associated with P. Fred Rothermel and Samuel M. Clement, counsel for the shareholders of the Consolidated Lake Superior Company, will appear in the United States circuit court in New York today and ask that an injunction be granted restraining Speyer & Co., bankers, from offering for sale the securities they hold to insure the payment of the $5,050,000 loan made to the Consolidated. If the injunction is granted, Speyer & Co. will be forced to give the share owners of the bankrupt corporation more time in which to perfect their re-organization plans.

TWO MEN MAKE SUICIDE COMPACT

They Purchase Revolvers Together and Kill Themselves at the Appointed Hour.

Indianapolis, Oct. 6. — After purchasing revolvers of the same pattern at the same time and place and seeing that they were loaded properly by the dealer, Marvin J. Welch and George Williamson, two employes in the office of the Bell Telephone Company, ended their lives Saturday night in exactly the same manner within three hours of each other. The double suicide is a mystery, as neither young man is known to have had any cause for the act.

The men came here from Chicago about a month ago, where Welch was in love with a young woman, whose parents opposed their union. So far as his associates knew he was not depressed, and at his boarding-house he was a favorite on account of his jovial disposition.

A week ago the young men began to avoid the society of their new-made friends and stayed together almost constantly after working hours. On Friday night they were in consultation till midnight and yesterday they visited a hardware store and each purchased a revolver. They made many inquiries about the weapons and selected two of the best on the recommendation of the dealer.

After talking pleasantly with friends at his boarding house Williamson went to his room and a minute later placed the pistol to his left temple and fired, the ball entering his brain and causing instant death. At midnight Welch was in his room reading, and an hour later he rose from his chair, placed the pistol to his left temple, and as it exploded he fell to the floor dead.

A CHURCH PRESS AGENT

A Cleveland Congregation Will Boom Its Interests.

Cleveland, Oct. 6.—The Hough Avenue Congregational Church, Rev. Chas. Carroll, pastor, has surprised the other religious organizations of the city by engaging a press agent at a good salary. This is probably the first church in the country to introduce such an innovation.

The young man employed is Horace Barnes, press agent of the Garden Theater, and his duties involve keeping the church before the public eye by writing articles of interest concerning the pastor and the various men's and women's bodies of the congregation. It is also his duty to see that the pastor's sermon on Sundays and his talks during the week obtain publicity in the local press.

Mr. Barnes began his duties Sunday and said last night that he had been quite successful in getting the city editors to give considerable space to his church.

THE POLITICAL MUDDLE IN B. C.

19 Tories, 17 Liberals and 2 Socialists Were Elected,

WITH 3 DISTRICTS IN DOUBT

Premier McBride Said To Be Negotiating For Support With Mr. Wells.

Vancouver, B. C., Oct. 6. — With Comox, Similkameen and Fernie still in doubt, the Conservatives have nineteen, Liberals seventeen, Socialists two and Labor-Liberals one in a House of forty-two. Mr. McBride's supporters claim the doubtful districts will go Conservative, but at the same time the Premier announces that he hopes to control the House by securing Mr. Wells' (former chief commissioner) support, who secured his election by acclamation as an uncompromising Liberal, and Mr. Davidson (Slocan), elected as a Labor-Liberal, and who has left a signed and undated resignation in the hands of his committee for use if he forsakes his ante-election pledges. It is understood proposals for support were made to the Socialists unsuccessfully, and that the Speakership now has been offered Mr. Wells to induce him to forsake his party. Mr. Davidson, whom the Government hotly opposed with Mr. Hunter (Conservative), it is stated this evening, has no intention of acquiescing.

The Liberal press pillories Mr. McBride for somersaulting on the party lines question, he having gone to the country on a definite promise of adhering to party lines, and now for the safety of his Government is seeking the support of weak-kneed Liberals to assure his majority. It is pointed out that he himself resigned from the Dunsmuir Government in consequence of Mr. Dunsmuir having recruited his Cabinet with J. C. Brown from the Opposition side, and a parallel is traced in Mr. McBride's present endeavor to secure support from Messrs. Wells and Davidson. The Liberals claim that Mr. McBride has failed to obtain a working majority and should resign, the Lieutenant-Governor constitutionally now calling upon the Opposition leader and affording him an opportunity to go to the country. A meeting of the Liberals-elect will be convened forthwith to elect a leader, who, it is expected, will be Mr. McInnes (Nanaimo), Mr. Martin having announced that he accepts the verdict of the people against himself and the Martinite candidates, and will no more concern himself with politics.

CASTRO STARTS REIGN OF TERROR

At Ciudad Bolivar by Compelling Foreigners to Pay Taxes Twice.

Port-of-Spain, Island of Trinidad, Oct. 6.—Emissaries of President Castro of Venezuela have arrived at Ciudad Bolivar, Venezuela, with orders to collect forcibly not only the taxes, but the customs house duties already paid by importers from May, 1902, to August, 1903, the period during which the revolutionists occupied that city as a government de facto. The amount demanded is about $1,000,000. The foreigners, especially the firms of Blohm & Co., German; Palazzi & Co., French; Boccardo & Co., Italian ,and Dalton & Co., American, have refused to pay, claiming that the duties had already been legally paid.

Menaces and vexatious tactics are employed against the foreigners. Herr Sprick, a German, refused to pay back duties, and a cargo of rum, belonging to him, which was being landed from a steamer, was seized by the Government and sold at public auction for almost nothing. The German merchant in this manner lost $25,000. Venezuelan merchants who refuse to pay, having no protection, are imprisoned.

A reign of terror exists everywhere at Ciudad Bolivar, and, consequently, trade is paralyzed.

President Castro's representative at Ciudad Bolivar was quoted as saying: "Germany and the other foreign powers obliged the Venezuelan Government to pay millions. Now it is Venezuela who forces the Germans and other foreigners to reimburse her."

WHAT ENGLAND THINKS OF THEM

Lyttleton's Appointment May Arouse Adverse Criticism.

INDIA OBJECTS TO BRODRICK

The New Cabinet Is Generally Considered As a Stop-Gap Ministry.

London, Oct. 6.—While the late Colonial Secretary, Mr. Chamberlain, prides himself on having never taken any exercise, his successor, Mr. Lyttleton, is one of the greatest all-round athletes in England. The Hon. Alfred Lyttleton is related to Mr. Balfour by marriage. He has been twice married. His first wife was a daughter of Sir Charles Tennant, and his second is a daughter of Archibald Balfour. He is a cousin of Herbert Gladstone, and his brother, Sir Neville Lyttleton, is commander of the forces in South Africa. Mr. Lyttleton presided over the commission sent to South Africa to deal with the Boer claims, and he also took a prominent part in the Reid-Newfoundland arbitration.

Although his appointment is likely to be keenly criticised, the new colonial secretary is almost sure of a hearty reception in the ministerial ranks. He is credited with being in full sympathy with Mr. Chamberlain's colonial policy and Lord Milner's South African ideas, and he is personally popular.

Austen Chamberlain's appointment to the chancellorship of the exchequer has been fully discussed.

Mr. Broderick's transfer to the Indian office will probably evoke a stern resentment in India, where the feeling will be that he has been sent to the India office because he was a failure at the war office. Arnold-Forster has always been a student of the question of defenses, and a strong critic of war office methods. If allowed a free hand he should introduce drastic reforms. In Austen Chamberlain's case, doubts are expressed as to the appropriateness of sending him to such an important office, although his ability is not called in question. In view of the general belief, however, that the present combination constitutes merely a stop-gap ministry, there will probably be less inclination to seriously criticise the appointments.

EDITORIAL OPINION.

London, Oct. 6. — Only one opinion is expressed in the editorials this morning on Mr. Balfour's letter, namely, that it is a manifestation of this dismay and disappointment at the loss of his most important colleague, and his sense of the damaging effect that the Duke of Devonshire's withdrawal will have on his administration.

The Conservative organs admit that there was nothing in the duke's conduct to justify such an outburst, and they express regret that the Premier should have been hastily betrayed into a departure from his customary urbanity. The Liberal papers believe that after the revelations of Mr. Balfour's conduct towards Mr. Ritchie and Lord George Hamilton regarding the concealment of Mr. Chamberlain's resignation there is something still hidden of the history of the Duke of Devonshire's action, and they point out that having sacrificed Mr. Chamberlain with the special object of securing the duke, the Premier now finds himself deserted. The Conservative Standard voices the party regrets that within six months a great party and a strong Government have gone to pieces, leaving only chaos, and it expresses surprise that Mr. Balfour has the idea of facing Parliament with his cabinet so grievously weakened.

There is practically but one opinion of the reconstructed British Cabinet, and that is that Premier Balfour missed his opportunity to rehabilitate the character of his Government, and that so far as the Unionist policy at large is concerned the ministry has lost most of its prestige and authority. The duke's action seems to have aroused the same fighting spirit in Mr. Balfour which enabled him to triumph over difficulties in the eighties, and there are those who foretell that he will again come out on top and prevent the collapse of his Government. All the political parties are preparing for an early dissolution of Parliament.

Withdraw From Agreement.

London, Oct. 6.—It is reported from Liverpool that the continental Atlantic steamship lines, including the North German Lloyd, the Hamburg-American and the French trans-Atlantic companies have given notice that they will withdraw from the conference agreement, regulating first and second class fares.

GIGANTIC MINERS' UNION

It Will Have a Total Membership of 80,000.

Pittsburg, Oct. 6.—For the first time since the disastrous strike of thirteen years ago, when the coke miners' organization was completely wiped out, efforts will be made this week to organize the 10,000 coke miners in Connellsville region.

Thousands of dollars of the national office funds have been placed at the disposal of the local officers of the United Mine Workers. There are 37,000 organized miners in the Pittsburg district now. Another 25,000 are being organized in the Irwin field of the district. With these and the coke miners the district would have a membership of nearly 80,000, making it the largest regularly divided district of miners in the world. The H. C. Frick Company is the principal operator in the region, but there are also large independent interests.

FOOD TAX WOULD NOT HURT THEM

Say Majority of Chamber of Commerce Delegates.

DEVELOPMENT OF COLONIES

Lord Brassey Says Food Taxation Would Hinder It—Canadian Loyalty.

London, Oct. 6. — The Glasgow Chamber of Commerce, regarding the fiscal inquiry, issued schedules to 1,036 members. Of these, 9 per cent replied. The majority of these stated that an import duty on corn and foodstuffs would not seriously affect their trade, and also that Canada's present preference is insufficient.

Albert Swindlehurst, in the Empire Review, says that 30,000 American farmers are banded together not to sell wheat under one dollar a bushel, and that Canadian farmers have been asked to join the combine. With tariff advantages there would be no inducement to Canadian farmers to join the proposed agreement. Without their co-operation any attempt to raise the price of wheat must fail.

Sir C. H. Tupper has a clever article in the Empire Review, avowing hearty sympathy with Mr. Chamberlain's proposals. He says: "The policy hastens the ability to supply men and ships, so that the empire may hold together, come what may. Mr. Chamberlain asks England to seriously consider that proposal; we in Canada anxiously await the reply."

Mr. C. A. Vince, secretary to Mr. Chamberlain's tariff movement, in his pamphlet, says that a duty of ten shillings a quarter is equivalent to an ad valorem duty of 7 or 8 per cent, and a trader who obtains the advantage of such a percentage over his competitors is in a satisfactory position. It seems reasonable to expect that a wheat duty of ten shillings will be sufficient to stimulate Canadian and other colonial farming."

An English "quarter" is the fourth part of a ton or eight bushels.

Lord Brassey, addressing a Liberal mass meeting at Hastings, said that the silence of the wheat-growers of Manitoba and Ontario was noteworthy. English statesmen should ask whether there is no means of developing the colonies less hindersome than food taxation.

Cumming Macdona, writing to the Times about Canada, says the whole country is keenly alive to the necessity of maintaining the closest relationship, socially and commercially, with the mother country. "I have never seen," he says, "such exuberance of loyalty as I have witnessed in Canada. If our constituents could have only seen with what cordiality the representatives in the parliamentary tour were received by premiers, cabinet ministers, and the mayors of Quebec, Montreal, Ottawa and Toronto, they would have felt how complete their members were in touch with the 'hands across the sea.'"

He calls Canada "a young giant of fiscal reform, whose phenomenal prosperity roused the enmity of Germany, and the taciturn criticism of America."

FREIGHT TRAIN WAS BLOWN UP

Another Serious Dynamiting Outrage On the Northern Pacific Railroad.

Helena, Mont., Oct. 6. — The Northern Pacific suffered again last night from the work of dynamiters. When an extra west-bound freight was three miles west of Birdseye, a station eight miles west of Helena, an explosion occurred. A portion of the tracks was destroyed and the pilot and headlight of the engine were blown off. The engineer stopped the train in time to prevent its being ditched. No one was hurt, but the roadbed was damaged and freight trains were tied up until repairs could be made. News of the outrage was received here by the railroad detectives early today, and a special train left for the scene at once. Chief of Detectives McFetridge was in charge of a party composed of several detectives and sheriffs. Six bloodhounds were taken.

France and Russia.

London, Oct. 6.—Russian correspondents of the Times say that Prince Mestchersky declares in the Grazhdanin that the barometer of Franco-Russian sympathies has fallen during the year. The reason is very simple: The phesent French Government is as much opposed to everything essentially Russian as it was to the France which has passed away. The Franco-Russian alliance, he says, is like a wounded bird fluttering on one wing, and he believes it will soon end. "At all events, I hear everywhere the same phrase, 'l'Alliance est malade.'"

BULGARIANS MUST BE GOOD OR TAKE CONSEQUENCES

Powers Will Turn Her Over To Sultan's Tender Mercies.

If Sincere Attempt at Pacification Is Not Made.

In Interview the Sultan Says He Is Desirous of Peace, and Will Punish Cruelty of Soldiers.

Sofia, Oct. 6.—An identical copy of the Austro-Russian note to Turkey has been presented to Premier Petroff, and the Austrian and Russian representatives received instructions at the same time to make serious representations to the Bulgarian Government, to the effect that the powers expect Bulgaria to take such action as will prove that she is making a loyal endeavor to assist the work of pacification. Failing this, Bulgaria was warned that she will be exposed to the most cruel disaster.

This letter of warning is held to mean a Turkish invasion of Bulgaria, and a repetition of the Macedonian atrocities in Bulgaria itself.

Vienna, Oct. 6. — It is understood that the Austro-Russian note to the Porte on the subject of the application of the Macedonian reforms implies an increase of consular representation in Macedonia to insure their execution.

Paris, Oct. 6. — The Constantinople correspondent of the Figaro sends an account of an audience, which the Sultan gave M. Lockroy, formerly French Minister of Marine, last Friday. Speaking of Macedonia, the Sultan said he did not desire anything but peace. He would not make war unless he was forced into it, and he hoped he would not be forced. He added that he deplored certain excesses committed by his soldiers, and had ordered the appointment of courts-martial to inflict severe punishment for unnecessary violence.

A Giant Moose.

Belleville, Oct. 6. — On Saturday morning last a moose standing six feet high at its withers, and measuring fifteen feet from nose to tip of tail, was shot near the fair grounds at Frankford, a village fourteen miles from this city. The animal had been seen by farmers lately and hunters were on the lookout for it. It was reputed to have attacked a butcher named Griffiths and a woman named Sims, on the Trenton road. John Harrigan shot the moose, which is said to have weighed close on to a thousand pounds.

CARRIE AND TEDDY

Mrs. Nation Scores Mr. Roosevelt at Detroit.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 6.—Mrs. Carrie Nation, of hatchet fame, arrived in town last evening, and addressed a large audience at the Salvation Army barracks, under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. Her remaks about President Roosevelt were bitter, and evidently did not please the majority of her hearers. She sold a few toy hatchets, and leaves for the east today.

A CATHOLIC CONCLAVE

Church Dignitaries to Meet at the Capital.

Ottawa, Ont. Oct. 6.—Archbishops Bruchessi, of Montreal, and Begin, of Quebec, arrived today to attend a conclave of Catholic archbishops tomorrow. Archbishop O'Brien, of Halifax, is ill and cannot come, and Archbishop Langevin is detained at Winnipeg. The conference consequently will be made up of archbishops of Ottawa, Montreal, Toronto, Quebec and Kingston.

A SUDDEN DEATH

Former Londoner Passes Away at Vancouver, B. C.

The death took place at Vancouver, B. C., recently, of Mr. Isaiah Kershaw, a former resident of this city. Mr. Kershaw, who was a bricklayer, suffered from a rupture of a blood-vessel on Sept. 16, and the following evening he passed away. He is survived by a wife and two small children.

Mr. Kershaw was 43 years of age, and prior to his removal to the far west he resided in East London. He was a son of the late Thomas Kershaw, who for many years was connected with the Grand Trunk car works here, and was well and favorably known. Since leaving London he had lived in Los Angeles, Cal., Tacoma, Wash., Victoria and Vancouver, B.C., When taken ill his wife was at Victoria, and on the morning of his death she received a letter from him. Later in the day word was received of his serious illness, and before Mrs. Kershaw could reach Vancouver he had expired. Mrs. William J. Buskard, of Providence, R. I., and Mrs. Frank Taylor, of British Columbia, both former residents of East London, are sisters of the deceased.

A Monster Cunarder.

Montreal, Oct. 6.—William Denton, senior partner of the ship-building firm of Swan & Hunter, of Newcastle-on-Tyne, who is in the city, yesterday received cable advices that his firm had closed a contract with the Cunard Line for the construction of what will be the largest vessel in the world. The vessel will be 27,500 tons, and 785 feet long—100 feet longer than the Deutschland. She will be of the turbine class.

"GOOD OLD JOEY," SAYS BIRMINGHAM

Great Demonstration at Mr Chamberlain's Departure For Glasgow.

Birmingham, Eng., Oct. 6.—Joseph Chamberlain set out from here this morning on his fiscal campaign, amid every demonstration of good will from his fellow townsmen. Hundreds gathered at the railroad station and alternately sang "For he's a jolly good fellow," and shouted "Good old Joey," and "the country's with you." Vain appeals were made for a speech, but the only expressed opinion that could be extracted from the former secretary for the colonies was in reply to congratulations on the appointment of his son, Austen, as chancellor of the exchequer, when Mr. Chamberlain admitted that there were a "lot of difficulties before the party;" but he thought they would "get through with them all right."

Mrs. Chamberlain accompanied her husband on his speech-making tour, which begins at Glasgow today.

The Chicago Grafters.

Chicago, Oct. 6.—After hearing an explanation from Mayor Harrison concerning the municipal "graft" charges, the Chicago City Council last night voted to establish a system of espionage over the city employes. It also appointed a committee of nine aldermen to conduct an investigation of the city departments.

HERBERT'S SUCCESSOR

Government Will Not Consider Matter Just Yet.

London, Oct. 6.—The Government is endeavoring to maintain their resolve not to consider the question of a successor to Sir Michael Herbert at the Washington embassy at present.

Sir Henry Howard, the British minister at The Hague, is reported to be the King's choice for the post. Lady Howard was formerly Cecelia Riggs, of Washington. Sir Arthur Nicolson, British minister to Morocco, is also mentioned.

THE VENEZUELAN UMPIRE

General Duffield On His Way to Washington.

New York, Oct. 6. — Brevet Major-General Henry M. Duffield, the umpire at the tribunal to adjust the German claims against Venezuela for damages to persons and property that arose during the revolution in Venezuela, arrived on the steamer Maracaibo today. He said the decision would not be given out for publication until after it had been presented to the various governments. General Duffield will proceed immediately to Washington to hand in his report.

WILL RUSSIA EVER QUIT?

She Is Not Likely to Evacuate by the 8th of October.

Paris, Oct. 6.—Official advices show that the Japanese fleet is in the harbor of Ma San Pho (south of Corea). No troops have yet been landed. It is accepted as practically settled that Russia will not evacuate parts of Manchuria Oct. 8, the date fixed for the evacuation. The Russian ambassador to Japan, Baron De Rosen, having plenary powers, is now negotiating with the foreign minister at Tokio, and there is reason to believe that the possible basis of a solution of the difficulty, having some prospect of adoption, is Russia conceding Japan a foothold in Corea.

A FURNACE EXPLODES

One Man Killed and Several Others Badly Hurt.

Halifax, N. S., Oct. 6.—A terrible accident occurred at Springhill yesterday, about 3 o'clock, by which Sam McDowell was instantly killed and two other men and a boy were seriously injured. The heating apparatus of the new postoffice was not working properly to make repairs. Mr. McDowell, the janitor, accompanied by Mr. Eaton and his assistants, entered the basement, where the furnace is located, and a few minutes later a terrible explosion occurred with fatal results. The office, the fixtures, the windows and the outside wall were demolished.

Windsor's New Library.

Windsor, Ont., Oct. 6.—The Windsor public library board has completed arrangements for the opening of the new Carnegie library. Hon. Richard Harcourt, Minister of Education for Ontario, having intimated that he will be in Windsor on October 16 to open the building.

The old library will be closed on Oct. 10, to allow the transfer of the books.

Flags and Sentiment.

London, Oct. 5.—The Winnipeg correspondent of the Times says, regarding the American excursion into Western Canada, that more British flags, more English newspapers and magazines, more English news through English channels into Canadian journals, will do much to crystallize the undoubted sentiment of imperial unity, and will stave off the Americanization of the country.

SWEPT OVER THE FALLS

Workmen at Niagara Meets a Terrible Death.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Oct. 6. — The first man to lose his life in the rapids above the falls, where the contractors are preparing to sink the deep wheel-pits for the mammoth turbines of the Niagara Electrical Development Company, was drowned yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock. Edward Dell, of this town, was out at the extreme end of the cribwork and in getting out of the way of the crane of a derrick that was being swung, stepped backwards, losing his balance, fell headlong into the seething water and was swept over the falls. Dell was about 25 years of age and leaves a wife and one child.

THE SOO BYE-ELECTION

That and Muskoka To Be Held On Oct. 27.

Toronto, Ont., Oct. 6.—The provincial bye-elections in Sault Ste. Marie and Muskoka will be held on the 27th of October.

The vacancy in Sault Ste. Marie was caused by the court's unseating Andrew Miscampbell (Conservative), He is again a candidate, and is opposed by C. N. Smith, his former opponent.

The Muskoka vacancy was caused by the death of Dr. Bridgland (Liberal), who defeated P. A. Mahaffy by 80. Mr. Mahaffy is again the Conservative candidate and is opposed by Dr. Hart, of Bracebridge.

THE SOO RIOTERS

They Plead Guilty to Charge of Common Assault.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Oct. 5. — The trial of eleven men arrested in connection with the disturbances of Monday last began at 11 o'clock today before Magistrate Quibbell. Each man of the eleven has two distinct charges made against him — of being riotously and tumultuously assembled together to the disturbance of the public peace, doing damage to the property of the Lake Superior Power Company and aggravated assault on peace officers. Andrew Deans is also charged with shooting at Fireman Pringle with intent.

Jos. Nault and A. Grenier, the two men wounded by being shot by the police on Monday, were this morning removed from the hospital to the jail, but are yet unable to stand their trial, which will have to be postponed.

Leonard Lavigne, Baptiste Rojon, Albert Robinson, Frank Lalonde, Ed Glasson and Fred Winer were first called, and charged with aggravated assault. They were willing to plead guilty to a charge of common assault, to which the crown attorney assented, saying he thought the ends of justice would be thus met. Magistrate Quibbell accepted the plea, but deferred sentence.

The payment of men at the general office continues, and will likely not be finished before Thursday.

DR. BRETHOUR DEAD

A Pioneer Methodist Minister Has Passed Away.

Toronto, Oct. 6. — Rev. D. L. Brethour, Ph.D., one of the pioneers of Methodism in Ontario, died suddenly at Niagara Falls South, on Saturday. He entered the Wesleyan Conference in 1869, and was ordained in 1864. He had during a life of hard and earnest work been stationed at Napanee, Belleville, Windsor, Brantford, Hamilton, Niagara Falls and a number of other prominent charges. He was president of the Hamilton Conference in 1887, and was six times a representative to the General Conference. Mr. Brethour was honored with the degree of Ph.D., in 1891, was prominent in temperance work, and moral reforms.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

"THE MOCKING BIRD."

A delightful treat is in store for the patrons of the Grand next Friday night when Madeline Besley makes her initial bow to a London audience as a star in Sydney Rosenfeld's and A. Baldwin Stone's exquisite comic opera,

Madeline Besley,
In "The Mocking Bird," at the Grand, on Friday.

"The Mocking Bird," which enjoyed such a long and successful run at the Bijou Theater, New York, last season, and which Mr. Brady Greer will present here on the same rich and elaborate scale that made it so popular in the metropolis.

LULU GLASER TONIGHT.

Making people laugh is the forte of Miss Lulu Glazer, the dainty comedienne, who is to present the comic opera "Dolly Varden" at the Grand tonight. Not many women of the stage are able to do this, but Miss Glaser is said to be fully equal to this not altogether feminine task. In a comic opera company the comedian is generally the most important member and the prima donna role is usually a serious one. In "Dolly Varden" Miss Glaser is both of these combined, and is not only the heroine of the story, but furnishes most of the fun-making besides. There are many other characters of importance that are quite as well played and attract almost as much attention.

"THE CARDINAL."

One of the most thrilling plays that has been seen here in years, "The Cardinal," will be presented tomorrow night at the Grand, by Mr. Edwin Holt, who will play the title role, that of Giovanni de Medici, the most famous of all the world famous De Medicis, who was made a cardinal when he was 14 and pope at 37, taking the title of Leo X.

"TOO PROUD TO BEG."

Lincoln J. Carter's latest production, "Too Proud to Beg," will be seen for the first time here at the Grand next Thursday night. This piece was given its first presentation at Mr. Carter's popular north side theater in Chicago, the Criterion. The plot has many things to be recommended, and the story relies on the dramatic action and interesting dialogue for its interesting phases entirely.

The trouble with some men is that when drinking interferes with their business they quit their business.

fiscal tradition, to alter fundamentally the fiscal tradition that has prevailed during the last two generations. I had hoped to have found in your speech a definite statement of adherence to the principles of free trade as the ordinary basis of our fiscal and commercial system, and an equally definite repudiation of the principle of protection in the interest of our national industries. But in their absence, I cannot help thinking that such declarations as those which I have quoted cannot fail to have the effect of materially encouraging the advocates of direct protection and of discouraging those, who, like me, and I hoped yourself, believe that our present system of free imports and especially of food imports, is on the whole most advantageous to the country, although we do not contend that the principles on which it rests possess any such authority or sanctity as to forbid any departure from it. You have in your second speech said that this subject could no longer be left an open question among the members of the Government, and I think I have said enough to prove to you that there is no such agreement between us on the general question as to make it possible for me to be a satisfactory exponent of your views or of those of the Government in the debates which must inevitably take place in the next session of Parliament. I cannot adequately express the deep regret which I feel in separating myself from a government with which I believe myself to be in sympathy on all other matters of public policy, or the anxiety with which I anticipate the wide division which I fear must result from the unexpected scope and strength of your declarations in the ranks of the Unionist party."

A GENERAL ELECTION.

The three weeks' cabinet crisis has ended in a manner more remarkable and dramatic than that of its inception. The most sanguine supporters of the Government tonight express the smallest hopes of such an administration living many months, and the prevalent idea is that there will be a general election before Parliament reassembles. The withdrawal of the Duke of Devonshire is a heavy blow. Mr. Balfour's extraordinary letter reproaching the Duke of Devonshire with breach of faith is the theme of universal surprise and comment in all quarters. One consequence of the Duke of Devonshire's retirement is extremely unfortunate for the Government. It will bring the leadership of the House of Lords to the unpopular Lord Lansdowne. No successor has yet been appointed to the Duke of Devonshire, and several minor Government offices still remain vacant. Of the new appointments announced toight the most surprising is that of the Hon. Alfred Lyttleton as Secretary of the Colonies. Mr. Lyttleton is a man of acknowledged ability and a good speaker, but he has had no ministerial experience whatever. He is better known to the colonies as a cricketer than as a politician.

DEVONSHIRE'S CAREER.

The Duke of Devonshire, Spencer Compton Cavendish, K.G., P.C., F.R.S., D.C.L., LL.D., has been president of the council since 1895, and a leader of the Liberal Unionists; chancellor of the University of Cambridge, 1892; Lord-Lieut. of Derbyshire since 1892, and his majesty's lieutenant of county of Waterford since 1895; provincial grand master of the Derbys since 1858. He was born in July, 1833, and was a son of the seventh Duke of Devonshire. His education was received at Trinity College, Cambridge. He was lord of the admiralty in 1863, secretary of state for war in 1866, postmaster-general 1868-71, chief secretary for Ireland 1871-74, secretary of state for India 1880-82, secretary of state for war 1882-85, M. P. North Lancashire 1880-85, Rossendale division of Lancashire 1885-91, and lord rector of Glasgow University 1877. He owns about 186,000 acres of mineral lands in Lancashire and Derbyshire. His picture galleries at Chatsworth, Hardwicke and Devonshire have a world-wide fame. The duke's recreations are shooting and racing, in the latter of which he has been very successful. He is a prominent member of the Athenaeum, Oxford and Cambridge, Devonshire and Brooks Clubs, and when in London lives at 73 Piccadilly. His country residences are Chatsworth House and Hardwicke Hall, Derbyshire; Holker Hall, Milnethorpe, Westmorland, Bolton Abbey, Yorkshire; Compton Place, Eastbourne; Lismore Castle, Waterford.

AUSTEN CHAMBERLAIN, ESQ.

J. Austen Chamberlain, civil lord of the admiralty, M. P. for East Worcestershire, was born in 1863, and is the eldest son of the Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain. He was educated at Rugby, Trinity College, and Cambridge. He is a member of Brooks' and Devonshire Clubs, and his address is 40 Prince's Gardens, S. W., Highbury, Moor Green, Birmingham.

THE NEW COLONIAL SECRETARY.

Hon. Alfred Lyttleton, B. A., Hon. M. A. (Oxford), M. P. (L. U.) for Leamington, Warwick, since 1895, barrister, recorder of Oxford since 1895, was born in 1857, and is the eighth son of the fourth Lord Lyttleton. He was educated at Eton and Trinity College, Cambridge. He was legal private secretary to Sir H. James, attorney-general from 1882 to 1886, and recorder of Hereford in 1894. During his school life he was captain of the Eton and Cambridge cricket teams, and at different times he represented Cambridge in cricket, football, tennis, racquets, and athletic sports. He was amateur tennis champion from 1892 to 1895. His address is 16 Great College street, Westminster, and he is a member of Brooks' Club.

WILLIAM ST. JOHN BRODRICK.

Right Hon. William St. John Brodrick, J. P., D. L., secretary of state for war since 1900, M. P. (C.), Guildford division, Surrey, since 1885, was born in December, 1856, and is the eldest son of the eighth Viscount Middleton. He received his education at Eton and Balliol College, Oxford. He has held the following offices: President of the union; M. P. for W. Surrey, 1880-85; financial secretary to the war office, 1886-92; under secretary of state for war, 1895-98; under secretary of state for foreign affairs, 1898-1900. He is a member of the Carleton and Athenaeum Clubs, and resides at Peper-Harrow, Godalming.

THE WAR SECRETARY.

H. O. Arnold-Forster has been Liberal-Union M. P. for West Belfast since 1900, and parliamentary secretary to the admiralty since 1900. He is the author of a number of publications, including "How to Solve the Irish Land Problem," "In a Conning Tower," "Our Home Army," "A History of England," "Army Letters."

RYAN-O'MEARA

Pretty Wedding of Londoners in St. Peter's Cathedral This Morning.

'Twas a very pretty wedding that took place in St. Peter's Cathedral at 7 o'clock this morning, when Miss Mary O'Meara, daughter of Mr. Martin O'Meara, of the Grigg House, was united in matrimony to Mr. Edward Ryan, a well-known local merchant. The ceremony was performed by the rector, Rev. Father Aylward. The bride, who was attired in a handsome costume of white taffeta silk, under muslin de soie, and carried white roses, was assisted by her cousin, Miss Helen O'Meara, who wore white silk and carried pink roses. Mr. John Forristal acted as best man, and the bride was given away by her brother, Michael O'Meara. Quite a number of relatives and friends of the couple attended at the church, and afterward adjourned to the Grigg House, where a tasty wedding breakfast was partaken of. Afterward Mr. and Mrs. Ryan left on a trip east, at the conclusion of which they will be at home to their friends at 423 Dufferin avenue.

RECTOR WAS RECEIVED

The school room of Christ Church was well-filled last night with members and friends who turned out to welcome the new rector, Rev. R. S. W. Howard. Rev. R. Sage, G. M. Cox, and T. B. Clarke.

Rev. Mr. Howard was introduced by the bishop and the reply was appropriate to the occasion. An address of welcome was given by Mr. Rowland, the people's warden, and an address was made by Rev. Dr. Bethune. A musical programme followed and refreshments were served. The wardens introduced the rector and Mrs. Howard to the members of the congregation individually.

FINISHED HIS REPORT

More Prisoners In Jail Last Quarter Than the One Before.

Governor Boston, of the county jail, finished his report for the quarter ending Sept. 30. It shows that during that space of time forty persons were committed for indictable offenses and that they spent on an aggregate 402 days in jail.

Those put in for non-indictable offenses numbered 142, and spent 1,645 days in jail. This on the whole is a considerable increase over last quarter.

The governor will have the annual report of the jail ready soon.

THE BEAUTY SECRET.

"The magic of a face."—Carew

From the simplest rural maiden to the queen on her throne, all women covet beauty. It sways the world.

The supreme fact is that the appearance is the visible standard of the character of the mind.

The woman with a clear, soft, velvety skin has mastered the greatest secret of beauty, yet there is no magic about it. It depends primarily upon the simplest and most obvious laws of hygiene.

A woman's skin is an extremely delicate, sensitive organism, easily injured by the slightest impurity; yet intelligent care can make it exquisite.

There is one way to secure and maintain a good complexion. Use Hazeline, the dainty toilet lotion; it will prove a revelation to you, a daily delight. Only 25 cents a bottle.

DRUNKS DEALT WITH

An Unruly Tongue Nearly Lands One Man in Lockup.

In the police court this morning John Baxter said he had not been intoxicated, so he was tried. Most men when it is their first offense are wise enough to say they were the worse of liquor and get dismissed. But John Baxter did not take this course, and for the trouble he gave he had to pay $2. So troublesome was he in court that the magistrate had to threaten him with being committed for contempt of court.

There were other first-offense men, but they said so and were let go. Two knights of the road were allowed to return to the tramps' rest, commonly known as St. Thomas. They were John Connelly and William Kennedy.

A young man implicated in the malicious damage to some property paid the costs, amounting to $4.75 and the charge was withdrawn.

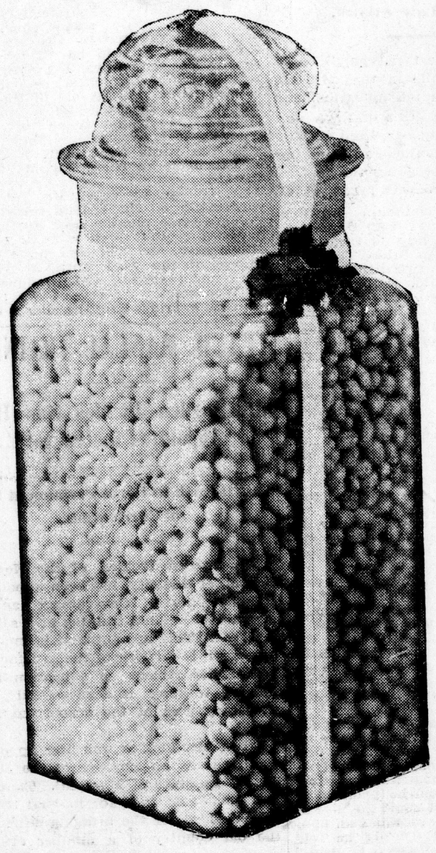

A 13-year-old boy, with the literary name of Emerson Brooks, testified to having purchased some cigarettes from a Richmond street tobacconist. A policeman had seen the boy come out with the goods, and got hold of him, but the defendant said that there was a young man with the boy, and he thought it was the older fellow who was doing the purchasing. Judgment was reserved.

LONDON, TUESDAY, OCT. 6.

Devonshire's Withdrawal.

British politics have taken another dramatic turn. The Duke of Devonshire has resigned, and his resignation probably means the early downfall of the Government, and an appeal to the people.

Seldom has a great issue been projected with such force and suddenness into the political arena.

Seven months ago, when the war taxes on imported corn were taken off, the prospects of a preference for colonial products in the British market seemed to vanish and the British Government seemed to have set its face resolutely against any departure from free trade.

Six months ago the Unionist party was apparently united and impregnable and the Liberal party hopelessly weak from internal dissensions.

Five months ago a single speech from Mr. Chamberlain turned everything topsy-turvy. The Unionist party is now split in twain and for the first time in ten years, Liberals of all factions find a common standing ground. A British Government has declared for the reversal of the fiscal tradition of the country which most Britishers have accepted for fifty years as a natural law, and the fiscal unity of the empire, regarded as a dream not long since, has become the dominant issue before the British people. All this is a tremendous tribute to the power of a single individual.

Mr. Balfour could have spared any colleague, excepting Mr. Chamberlain, better than the Duke of Devonshire. With his countrymen, the Duke is almost an institution. He is not a brilliant man but he has the reputation of being a safe and sure-footed one, of the Salisbury type; and he has in addition the prestige of a great name. His influence in the country is unique; he is universally trusted, and idolized by the squirearchy, as in his personal qualities he is thoroughly representative of the landed classes. Before he parted from Gladstone on the home rule question he was heir to the leadership of the Liberal party. His secession from the present Government deprives it of its main prop, a fact candidly admitted by Mr. Balfour, who describes him as the most distinguished member of the Cabinet.

Mr. Balfour, in his reply to the Duke's letter of resignation, shows an asperity quite unusual with him, virtually accusing his grace of a breach of good faith. The Premier assured the Conservative conference at Sheffield last week that the remaining members of the Government were in accord and boasted that unity had been restored to the Unionist party. The duke's withdrawal, therefore, comes as a thunderclap. His grace claims that Mr. Balfour's Sheffield speech went further in the direction of protection than he (the duke) had been given to understand was Mr. Balfour's intention. No matter who was at fault in this matter, the duke, although in his 71st year, is now to be reckoned with as one of the strongest forces against the Conservative party, to which he brought a great strength as the foremost of the Liberal-Unionists.

Mr. Balfour has now only one minister—Mr. Wyndham—who impresses the country as a man of first-class ability. Mr. Chamberlain is young, and his elevation to the great post of the Treasury is an experiment regarded with some misgivings. His record in minor offices has been excellent, but he has had no opportunity to show his fitness for great tasks.

The majority of Canadians have never heard of the new Secretary for the Colonies, Alfred Lyttleton. The office has been invested with a new dignity and importance by Mr. Chamberlain, and is worthy of a tried statesman; but Cabinet material in the Unionist party has become very limited owing to recent defections.

The India Office is a soft cushion for Mr. Brodrick to fall on. He was a glaring failure as War Secretary, and in any other country he would have been sacrificed by his party. The other changes in the ministry are of little public interest. The Cabinet is immeasurably weaker than it was, and it is regarded as a makeshift to fill in the time until a general election.

A Tribute to John Bull.

In late years John Bull's self-complacency has been undergoing many attacks. He has been told that his industries were languishing, and that he was being driven out of the world's markets because his manufacturers were asleep, and his workingmen lazy. He was advised to get out of the rut or the hustling Yankees and Germans would leave him nowhere. A royal commission informs him that his war office is a terrible mess, after Kipling had rubbed it in about the flanneled fools and the muddied oafs. He discovers also that his physique is deteriorating and another royal commission has been appointed to find the reason why. On top of all this along comes Sir Norman Lockyer and tells him he needs more brain power.

While his critics abroad and at home have reduced him to a state of helplessness, bordering on imbecility, he must be grateful for an occasional kind word. The New York Post, a distinguished authority, is not so sure that Sir Norman Lockyer established his case. It advances the proposition that, "for three hundred years not a single conception has taken sovereign pre-eminence in science that has not been largely—in most cases, even without contest—of British parentage." It is a bold claim, but the Post proceeds to give particulars as follows: "The inductive philosophy; the corpuscular philosophy with the atomic theory and its progeny; universal calculus (certainly discovered by Newton, not certainly also by Leibnitz after enjoying Newton's conversation); the theories of elasticity (Boyle and Young), of heat as vis viva of molecules (Bacon and others), of electricity (Gilbert, Faraday, etc.), of light as transverse vibrations of an electro-magnetical kind (Maxwell); natural selection (Darwin and Wallce); universal evolution (Spencer). The new science of radiations, if it has importance enough to be mentioned in this connection, has grown directly and uninterruptedly out of Crookes's experiments."

British soil, the Post contends, is fertile in men of the highest types of genius. In seeking to explain this fact the Post says that it is not yet possible to disentangle the causes of national character, but it quotes Montesquieu's saying: "A truly great work must owe its birth not only to a man of genius as its father, but also to a society of intellectual freedom as its mother." Probably in no other country, adds the Post, is thought of almost all kinds so completely, untrammeled as in England.

Hereafter Vancouver's narrative will be classed in American libraries as a work of fiction.

When a British cabinet minister is a failure they don't keep him in office—they give him another.

Kipling's latest verse doesn't please the critics, but after all Kipling is the only man who could have done it.

The Socialist party in the British Columbia Legislature is not very large—it numbers two—but it appears to hold the balance of power.

This is the day Mr. Chamberlain makes his great speech at Glasgow. All Birmingham went to the station to see him off.

The day after to-morrow is the date set for Russia's evacuation of Manchuria, but there is a general feeling that Russia will pay the part of "Old Tomorrow."

Mark Guy Pearse, who visits this city next week, is one of the great voices of English Methodism. Many Canadians know him through his writings.

The bye-elections in Sault Ste. Marie and Muskoka take place on Oct. 20. The standing of the parties in the Legislature is:

Liberals	50
Conservatives	45
Vacant	3

AUTOS MUST NOT SCORCH

First Offender Pays $5 Into Police Court Fund.

Claims He Was Not Going Faster Than the Law Allows.

Automobilists must not go 30 or 40 miles an hour while in the city. If they go more than ten miles an hour they will get fined. One of them was fined $5 this morning. Mr. Fred G. Mitchell was that gentleman, but he claimed he was not going too fast.

Then the evidence was taken. P. C. Noonan saw the chaffeurs hustling down Richmond street from Dundas to York street, where he said they could go no farther than the Tecumseh House. There were two machines, and the first car, he said, waited for Mr. Mitchell's to get even with it, and then they raced past King street without pulling up at the crossing. He judged they were going 20 or 30 miles an hour.

Mr. Mitchell said they were not racing. To the chief he said that the auto was not afraid of the street car, the excuse that is given invariably by a man summoned for immoderate driving of a horse. Mr. Mitchell said he had come down Richmond street, and passed the other man and had kept ahead until they reached York street, when they turned. At King street he could have brought the machine to a standstill in two lengths.

Mr. Wm. Hyman gave testimony. He had been riding in the other machine—both machines were Geneva steam machines—and it was in charge of Mr. Keller, an expert chauffeur. There were four in the car and they were not going at more than ten miles an hour.

The chief stated incidentally that he had been in a machine the other day that must have been going 30 miles an hour. This was in answer to the argument that it was impossible to get up such a speed in two blocks as was claimed.

Nor did the statement satisfy the magistrate that Mr. Mitchell made regarding the speed as he told it to people. The defendant explained that almost every time the machine was stopped on the street somebody came up and asked how fast it could go, also as many other questions as miles an hour that it could go. Naturally he told them many things for which he would not expect to be held responsible.

Mr. Mitchell was told that people with automobiles must learn to slacken up at crossings and not to go faster than the law allows, or there would be some accidents.

The defendant paid over a nice new $5 bill, the first to go into the treasury from this source.

JUSTICE ARMOUR'S DEATH

Referred To at the Reopening of the Supreme Court.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, Oct. 6.—The death of Mr. Justice Armour was the subject of a feeling expression of regret and condolence on the reassembling of the supreme court this morning. Mr. Justice Killian, former chief justice of Manitoba, took his place on the bench, having previously been sworn in by Sir Edgar Taschereau.

A circular has been issued by Paris physicians taking the radical ground that alcohol is never and never can be of any use whatever to the organism.

Reminiscences.

[Andrew Pattullo, in Woodstock Sentinel-Review.]

When the writer began journalism, many of the greatest newspapers of the United States were not in existence. And in Canada the changes in the field of journalism have been scarcely less striking. The name of George Brown still represented the strongest influence in the newspaper world of Canada, a fact which illustrates the altered ideals and methods of the press of today. In the world of politics, and in the material progress of the country, the changes have not been less great. Sir Wilfrid Laurier was then almost an unknown man; and the great provincial career of Sir Oliver Mowat was all before him. The provinces of Confederation had been loosely tied together; but the work of consolidation was for the future. These have been eventful years, even to those who have lived outside the big centers of human or national activity. Judged by past standards, they represent centuries of change and progress throughout the world—and especially in this young and progressive country, now emerging into the status of nationhood ... an ally rather than a colony of the motherland.

DEFENDANT FOUND GUILTY OF PROFANING LORD'S DAY

Magistrate Love's Decision in Case of McKone, Employe of T. H. Robinson.

Judgment was handed out by Police Magistrate Love this morning in the case against Mr. McKone, the employe of Mr. Robinson, manufacturer of health foods, who was charged with profanation of the Lord's Day. It will be remembered that a few weeks ago the case came up in the police court and the defense was that as a Seventh Day Adventist, the defendant did not recognize the first day of the week as the Sabbath. Mr. Cowan intimated that the case would probably be appealed as a test case. The magistrate's judgment was as follows:

"I find that the defendant, McKone, being a workman in the employment of Mr. T. H. Robinson and being a man whose work of his ordinary calling was in the course of such employment to pack in boxes a certain process or product called and known as 'health food,' on Sunday, the 6th day of September, A. D. 1903, exercised and did work of his ordinary calling in the premises of his employer, Mr. Robinson, at the city of London, by packing in boxes the said process material or product known as 'health food,' the said work not being the conveying of travelers or his majesty's mail by land or by water, nor selling drugs and medicines, nor other works of necessity not works of charity; and that the doing and peformance of such work constituted a breach on the part of the defendant of chapter 104, section 1 of the consolidated statutes of Upper Canada, intituled an act to prevent the profanation of the Lord's Day in Upper Canada.'

"I find that the work did not come, within the exception of the statute, as the contention that it was necessary work was negatived by the fact that the defendant did always regard and keep as the Sabbath Day, Saturday, the seventh day of the week, and performed no work on that day, thus preferring to hold as the Sabbath Day, conscientiously, no doubt, a day other than the day fixed by law.

"I do not think that the authorities quoted by the learned counsel for the defense apply in this particular case. Regina vs. Budway and Regina vs. Summers apply to cab-drivers or livery proprietors, who were properly held not to be subject to the statute. Hespeler vs. Shaw was decided on technical grounds, the information being insufficient and improperly drawn, and the conviction not supplying facts to overcome the defect. Regina vs. Reid refers to a railway employe, and it was expressly held that railways operating under a Dominion charter could not be legislated against in this regard by a local legislature. But the late Chief Justice Armour, in a portion of his judgment uses these words. 'The servants of persons or corporations not aimed at or included in the statute are not more liable to the penalties or punishments than their employers would be.'

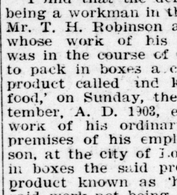

"It is true that in this case, the defendant, Mr. McKone, is a servant or employe of Mr. Robinson. Mr. Robinson's business is that of preparing from grain cereals and other materials, a process or product known as 'health food,' and vending and disposing thereof. Would Mr. Robinson himself not be liable in case he had been discovered in the act of performing this particular work provided he had been accustomed to do or assist in such work ordinarily? I think he would, and therefore hold the defendant liable as well.

"While I sympathize with the due exercise of conscience by everyone, yet I can only hold that the defendant, living here as a citizen of Ontario and enjoying the protection of its laws, must observe these laws. He is not compelled to violate his conscience by working on Saturday, but, as I hold, he must refrain from working on the Sabbath Day fixed by law, namely, the first day of the week.

"For the reasons above stated, I, therefore, find the defendant guilty, as above set forth, and impose a fine of $1 and $2 85 costs, including ... witness fees, to be paid forthwith, or in default of payment five days in the common jail."

SEVERAL CHANGES REPORTED IN THE LOCAL G. T. R. CIRCLES

Mr. J. Navin To Be Yardmaster—Crews To Be Kept Together Where Possible.

NUMBER of changes in local Grand Trunk circles have taken place during the last two weeks. Mr. Joseph Navin, who has held the position of night yardmaster for some time, has been made yardmaster, vice Mr. John Gillean, and he will have as his assistant Mr. McCreedy. The position of yardmaster at London is not one that is easily filled, the lay-out of the yard being such that with the immense amount of traffic which is being handled, it is exceedingly difficult to keep the yards clear. Mr. Navin is looked upon as being capable to fill the bill.

Mr. Gillean succeeded Mr. Tobin as yardmaster on the latter's transfer to Toronto some months ago. He has at his own request been relieved of the duties here, and will henceforth be in charge of the yard work at Woodstock and Ingersoll, with headquarters at Woodstock. At these two points the Grand Trunk daily handles a large number of cars, and it will be the placing of these and like duties that Mr. Gillean will superintend.

Assistant Superintendent Cunningham, the new head of affairs for this district, has issued a circular which will meet with the approval of every trainman on the road. It instructs those in charge of the train crews at divisional points to avoid wherever possible the separating of crews belonging to the same place. This will, it is expected, facilitate the work of the men and prove more satisfactory all round. In the past it has been a common occurrence to have an engineer and conductor from different points on the same train, and while under the new order this will not be entirely abolished it will be greatly lessened.

The number of large engines of the 900 class is being gradually increased in the freight service, between Sarnia and the Bridge, having been found to give the greatest satisfaction. Two are now operated over the main line, and as many over the air line, via Kingscourt Junction and Glencoe, but all return to the tunnel via the air line, the object of this being to avoid the many trains which daily pass over the road between the tunnel and the Falls.

The Sarnia way freight will henceforth make the round trip in two days, instead of one. It was found impossible to make the round trip daily, without having the crews working extra long hours, and it was decided to make the change.

TEACH MANUAL TRAINING

Mr. Sugden Pickles Has Been Appointed Instructor.

This Branch to Form Permanent Part of Curriculum.

Mr. Sugden Pickles, of the Normal School, of this city, has been appointed by the Ontario Government as instructor in manual training at a salary of $1,000. This appointment is important, for it is evidence of the satisfaction of the department of education that manual training is a successful and necessary part of the school curriculum.

When Mr. Pickles was first appointed it was as an employe of the Macdonald Institute of Montreal. That is, the Macdonald fund for manual training provided for the bringing out from the old country of a number of experts to teach the subject here. The department of education, for instance, in this city, were not ready to commit themselves to the training as a permanent part of the curriculum, but were ready to go so far with the experiment as to provide the material. It will be remembered that last year the room at the Normal School was fitted up at the expense of the Government, the cost being a considerable amount. The teacher was then loaned by the Macdonald Institute who offered the services of Mr. Pickles.

It was still, however, an experiment with the department, who could have discontinued the training had they considered it had not been of as much benefit as its advocates claimed. The first year, however, proven conclusively the value of the training and this year the instruction is being continued by the excellent tutor, Mr. Pickles, as a regular staff man in the Normal School.

"DOLLY VARDEN" ARRIVES

Norman Keene, of South London, With the Company.

Speaks of the Present Trip—Will Pass Through Here Again in the Spring.

The "Dolly Varden" Company, forty strong, arrived in the city this morning from Woodstock, where they played last night. Miss Lulu Glaser and one or two others came on the express, but the majority of the company arrived on the accommodation, due here at 11:35, but which today was an hour late.

Mr. Norman Keene, of South London, was one of the latter, and he was met by a few friends, who greeted him cordially. He went at once to his home in South London, where he is staying while here, and took with him as his guest Mr. J. Stewart McEwen, another member of the company.

To The Advertiser Mr. Keene said he thought the show business was all right as far as he knew it. He has been but two months with "Dolly Varden," and is in the chorus, though he is an understudy for one of the leading tenors, and has already been called upon on several occasions to fill in when the star was ill.

Mr. Keene says the receptions the "Dolly Varden" Company is meeting with are phenomenal, especially in Canada, where Miss Glaser has been playing to standing room only night after night.

The present tour takes in a trip that embraces all important cities as far south as New Orleans, and west to San Francisco, 23,000 miles in all. The "Dolly Varden" Company will pass through London again on the trip homeward in the spring.

Only One Objection.

[Philadelphia Ledger.]

"Didn't you have a pleasant voyag?" he asked.

"Oh, yes," replied Miss Greatblood, "except for the vulgar trade winds we encountered."

WAS MILITARY MARRIAGE

Capt. Kaye, of Wolseley Barracks, Wedded at Toronto.

The Bride Was Miss Buchan, Daughter of Col. Buchan.

One of the most brilliant social events of the season was the military marriage at Toronto this afternoon of Miss Buchan, only daughter of Col. Lawrence Buchan, C.M.G., acting D. O. C., to Capt. Kaye, C.S.I., of Wolseley Barracks, London. The event took place in St. John's Anglican Church, which for many years has been the church of the regulars stationed at Toronto. Rev. Alex. Williams officiated, assisted by the Bishop of Huron. The bride, who looked charming, was attended by Miss May Beddome, of London, and Miss Athol Bolton, of Toronto. After the ceremony a large reception was held at the barracks, where the brilliant uniforms of the officers, mingling with the smart toilets of the ladies, made a most striking picture.

SITE FOR THE NEW HOTEL

Western Hotel and Adjoining Property Bonded.

Promoters Wait On Mayor and Tell of Encouragement of Scheme.

The Western Hotel and adjoining property has been bonded by the promoters of the new hotel, and there is no doubt but that this will be the site of the proposed building. A deputation waited upon the mayor this afternoon to lay before him their plans, as far as they have been made, and get his opinion as to the prospects.

Those who saw the mayor were Mr. George Merrit, Mr. A. E. Pavey, Mr. E. B. Stone and Architect Matthews. They stated that they had so far received the greatest encouragement in their efforts to get stock subscribed, and offers had come from Toronto capitalists, including those interested in the King Edward Hotel and those interested in the new hotel that will be put up in the place of the old Clifton House at Niagara Falls. This was in addition to the many subscribers in this city.

The mayor expressed his approval of the proposals, and felt that success was assured. The preliminary plans will be drawn by Architect Matthews shortly, and the scheme will be pushed forward without any delay.

JAPAN'S STRAIGHT TALK TO RUSSIA

Will Fight to the Death For Corea—The Manchurian Evacuation.

London, Oct. 6. — No apprehension exists in official circles that the far eastern situation will bring forth any immediate serious developments. This feeling of temporary security on the eve of the date that Russia would, but admittedly will not, evacuate Manchuria, is due to assurances on the part of the Japanese that so long as negotiations now proceedings between herself and Russia present a reasonable prospect that a settlement will be reached, Japan will take no action hostile to Russia in the matter of Manchuria. It is further learned that these negotiations looking to a final settlement of the Russo-Japanese spheres of influence in the far east, and especially dealing with the situation in Corea are progressing satisfactorily at Tokio. The negotiations will probably not be concluded by Oct. 8, the date on which Russia was to evacuate Manchuria, but this will not precipitate a diplomatic crisis.

Such developments of immediate danger as the far eastern situation presents, appears to be confined solely to the popular agitation in Japan against Russia, after Oct. 8. This, however, is being taken into consideration by the Japanese Government, whose diplomats have warned Russia that while the Japanese Government will not allow its hand to be forced to the extent of entering into hostilities over the Manchurian evacuation question, it cannot indefinitely protong the present negotiations at Tokio in face of the expected popular clamor.

From the Japanese embassy in London a statement of the prevailing conditions has been obtained, which says: "From Japan's point of view the crux of the whole situation is Corea. Russia knows that we will fight to the death rather than let any foreign power occupy Corea. Russia's timber concessions and the other recent encroachment in Corea render the present negotiations extremely difficult, but the horizon shows no cloud so dark as to threaten war. Great Britain, as our ally, is naturally cognizant of the trend of our present negotiations, all of which look toward peace. We have no reason to believe that Russia's activity in securing dockyards for her far eastern fleet is actuated by any intention to prepare for hositilities, any more than are our own necessary provisions for the best equipment in convenience of our navy and army."

NO RHEUMATIMS SINCE

That Is What W. J. Dixon Reports After a Treatment of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Barwick, Rainy River, Oct. 5. — Rheumatism, one of the terrors of this new country, cannot stand before Dodd's Kidney Pills. This is the pleasant experience of many settlers. W. J. Dixon is one of them. He speaks as follows:

"During the summer of 1901 I had an attack of Typhoid Fever, and Rheumatism set in as one of the after-effects. I had pains in my back and right hip so bad I had to use a stick to walk. I could scarcely dress myself for nearly two months, and for three or four weeks I could not lace my right shoe."

"On my brother's advice I started to use Dodd's Kidney Pills. After taking three boxes I began to walk and do my work. I was cured and I have had no pain since."

Dodd's Kidney Pills take the uric acid out of the blood and the Rheumatism goes with it.

THE BRANTFORD MURDER INQUEST

Witnesses Testify to Seeing Kennedy in Willows On Afternoon of Killing.

Brantford, Ont., Oct. 6.—The coroner's inquest on the murder of Irene Cole, adjourned on Friday last, was resumed, last night in the police court. Several witnesses were examined, four of whom identified the prisoner Kennedy, they having seen him in the vicinity of the willows the day of the murder. Mrs. Potter, mother of the children who gave evidence Friday night last, also identified the prisoner; saw him on the dyke that afternoon.

R. Wanch identified the prisoner; saw him sitting in the willows about 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

William Sewart identified the prisoner; saw him coming along Market street in the afternoon. His pantaloons appeared to be wet in front, as if being washed.

Another witness saw prisoner further up Market street with his hands covering the wet pants. The portion of the prisoner's clothing that was sent to Toronto to be analyzed has not yet been returned.

The inquest was then adjourned till Wednesday night. The inquest was announced to be opened at 8 o'clock, but an hour before the time announced the sidewalks and street around the court rooms was packed with people, and so great was the crowd that it was with difficulty that the jurors reached the doors. Long after the inquest adjourned a large crowd remained around the doors of the court room. The police would not remove the prisoner to jail until the crowd had dispersed, fearing trouble.

MAY TAX ALL MEATS

Chamberlain Apparently Contemplates That Action.

London, Oct. 6.—It would appear that Mr. Chamberlain contemplates the inclusion in the preferential scheme of duties on foreign meat of all kinds, of live or dead, fresh, salted and canned beef, mutton, pork, hams, bacon and rabbits, the total British imports of which amount to $185,000,000 yearly. Mr. Vince's calculations, from which Mr. Chamberlain makes no dissent, are based upon a two-shilling duty per quarter on wheat and a 5 per cent duty on meats. The latest figures show that two-fifths of the meat consumed in Britain is foreign, chiefly from the United States and Argentina. Half the wheat consumed is foreign, chiefly American, a quarter being colonial and the other quarter British grown.

Vanneck Resident's Compliments—"Your Vote and Influence," Etc.

Vanneck, Oct. 5.—Mr. A. C. Attwood says that he is not at all surprised that your correspondent from Komoka reports himself ahead on raspberries, having their second crop ripe now. As Komoka is proverbially a progressive town, A. C. says he would not have been much surprised had they reported having them ready canned hanging on the bushes, with the proper proportion of sugar in them. Komoka is always ahead. About the only time he ever knew of them being behind has been in the vote they have returned for A. C. when he runs for the council, but he hopes to count them ahead for him the next time he runs.

THE BOARD FIXED GRAIN STANDARDS

Will Be Somewhat Higher in Ontario This Year.

THE PEA BUG STILL A PEST

Many Good Samples of Grain Shown —Some Inferior Qualities Rejected.

Toronto, Oct. 6. — Standards for grain grown east of Port Arthur were yesterday fixed by the board appointed by the Dominion Government, consisting of W. D. Matthews, chairman; Thos. Flynn, H. N. Baird, J. L. Spink, John Carrick, C. B. Watts, of Toronto; John I. A. Hunt, of London; James Dunlop, of Hamilton; William Brodie, of Quebec; E. F. Craig, chief Dominion grain inspector, Montreal; E. Adamson, chief grain inspector at Toronto, and J. Hurley, grain inspector at Peterboro.

Generally speaking, the standards for most grains grade higher this year than last, although there was not a little inferior grain submitted that had to be rejected altogether. Mr. W. D. Matthews, chairman, however, expressed his pleasure at the unusually high quality of the grain. For some lines standards were not made, owing to the lack of samples, these including No. 1 spring wheat, No. 1 goose wheat, extra white winter wheat, No. 3 and No. 4 barley, and No. 1 and No. 3 peas. In other varieties of wheat the standards were higher than the act calls for, and standards were made for No. 2 spring, No. 2 goose, No. 1 white winter, No. 2 white, No. 1 and No. 2 red winter.

In respect to peas it is pointed out by the board that the quality is not yet what it should be. Last year the examiners directed attention to the spread over the province of the pea-bug, and said that unless something was done to check this pest the industry would be seriously injured. This year some little improvement was shown, due, it was believed, to some extent to the action of the Government in placing proper information before the farmers.

The examiners considered that for oats the weights should be the same for white, black and mixed, and the department of trade and commerce will be recommended to instruct the inspectors to issue certificates in accordance with this decision.

The standards for corn were left as in the past to the Montreal board, and the standards for buckwheat were left for the Toronto examiners to deal with. Both will be fixed later.

The weights per bushel in the other standards were arranged as follows: Oats, No. 1 white 34 pounds; No. 2 white, 32 pounds; No. 3 white, not less than 30 pounds; rye, No. 1, 57 pounds; No. 2, 56 pounds; barley, No. 1, 49 pounds; No. 2, 48 pounds; No. 3 extra, 47 pounds.

Muncey, Caradoc	Oct. 21-22

An Interesting Pastime.

When I started a home of my own it was with the determination to have some pigeons on the place, even if we did have close neighbors. Friends and relations all with singular accord told me that the birds would stray off to larger flocks, or get shot, or cats would catch them, or neighbors would complain of their lighting on their roofs.

There were a few dozen more objections which I have forgotten, but my birds and I have lived them all down.

We started with two pairs of birds in a little house 4x10, the roof of which was made of old boards covered with tarred paper, and the south and east sides merely covered with wire, the whole costing very little. In this we kept the four and their young for a year. After keeping them two months we let them out for an hour or two towards evening, two or three days a week. We threw at them if they lit on houses and soon taught them to keep off from them These pioneers have trained the succeeding generations until we have little trouble with them

By keeping the pigeon house closed nearly all the time and always having a dog on the place we have prevented trouble from rats and cats.

When our flocks got too large for the outdoor house we built a place inside one of the chicken houses, with a flying place wired in out doors. The floor of this coop is over the roosts, four feet from the floor. Wire runs from one end of the hen house to the other, making the pigeon house about 14x4 and 5 feet high at one end, 2 at the other. This same arrangement can be made in a barn or the high end of a shed, then if kept clean no one can grumble about your pets.

The financial side of the question need bother no one for a healthy flock will pay for its keeping and leave nice profit. In selling squabs take the larger ones from two nests in preference to taking both from one. This leaves the female in each nest. As the females are more tender than the males, you should always try to have more females than males to make up for the females which will die.

If you are too fond of your pets to sell the young ones to be killed, you can sell many for pets, but this is not so satisfactory, for it is so hard to tell the sexes, and in the course of time you will find your flock to consist of so many males without mates that there will be nothing but fighting going on in the loft.—The Mid-West Fancier.

Nobody can be as sorry for another as the proud mother of one boy for the proud mother of another.

For Women Only.

["A Mother of Five" writes to a daily paper: "The best exercise any woman can take is to sweep a room every day, and not be sparing of running up and down stairs. I have done this from 16 to 62, and there is nothing I enjoy more."]

Let bold athletic maids declare
The pleasures of the road,
The sweet delights of country air,
Which cycles made the mode;
Let gymnasts sing whate'er they choose
Of outdoor exercise,
The simple broom that sweeps a room
All my demands supplies.

The burning highway's dusty length
Can charm me not at all,
While I recuperate my strength
In dining-room and hall.
I seek no insect-haunted shade
'Neath pest-protecting trees,
My peace is found where wails surround,
And only cobwebs tease.

Who will may climb the haughty peak
To breathe exalted air,
Such pleasures women need not seek
Who practice on the stair.
Yes, all I ask, and all I need
To make me strong and "spry,"
Is just a dwelling house—that's—well,
Say, twenty stories high.

A Case of Eczema No Pen Describes

After Three Years of Terrible Suffering Little Mary Millar Was Permanently Cured by Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Many of the cures brought about by Dr. Chase's Ointment are so much like miracles that people can scarcely believe them. When Baby Millar became a victim of eczema her parents did everything that could be done to get her cured. Three doctors tried all the means in their power, but without success, and then all sorts of remedies were used, with the vain hope that something would bring relief from the disease that seemed to be burning up the living flesh.

It was not until Dr. Chase's Ointment was used that relief and cure came. This case is certified to by a prominent Sunday school superintendent of St. Catharines.

Mrs. Wm. Millar, St. Catharines, Ont., writes: "My daughter, Mary, when six months old, contracted eczema, and for three years this disease baffled all treatment. Her case was one of the worst that ever came to my notice, and she suffered what no pen can ever describe. I had her treated by three different doctors, but all to no purpose whatever, and all sorts of balms, soaps and lotions were tried with no beneficial results.

"Finally I decided to use Dr. Chase's Ointment, and to my surprise she began to improve immediately, and after regular treatment for a time the disease of so long standing completely disappeared. As that was four years ago, and not a symptom of this distressing ailment has ever shown itself since, the cure must certainly be a permanent one. At the time of this cure we were living in Cornwall, Ont., and the doctors there feared that if she was not cured of eczema she would go into a decline."

Mr. S. Richardson, jun., Superintendent of Christ's Church Sunday School, St. Catharines, Ont., writes: "I am acquainted with Mr. and Mrs. William Millar and believe they would not make any statement knowing it to be in any way misleading or untrue."

HOW TO PREPARE PIGEONS FOR SHOWING

A. W. Barton, of Toronto, Gives Pointers to Bird Fanciers.

Pigeons as well as chickens need a fair share of attention before going to a show if we wish to be in the money when the judge goes around, above all have your birds tame and to do this the best way is to have a few extra coops and start about a week before the show and coop up your birds. Spend as much time as possible in talking to them and feeding them little tit-bits such as hemp or canary seed. The fancier who has a small loft so that he can reach a bird at any place in the loft can tame his birds without the coops by simply going among them when they are at roost and handling them occasionally, but in handling them do so very firmly so they cannot flutter and probably break some of their feathers. In this case I would certainly advise two or three days' cooping any way, so as to get them familiar with the coops, as a bird will always try hard to get out the first day or two it is cooped up, and if made familiar with the coop before being put in the show room they will settle down at once and not be at all excitement when the judge goes to handle them. Now a great many fanciers seem to think it necessary to keep birds intended to show away from the sun. I might say I allow mine free range and find that the sun does them more harm in the spring and early summer than it does in the early fall when they are moulting, and by the time they are through the moult the sun does not do them any harm as they stay inside a great deal and what outside air they do get seems to tend to harden the feather and keep the color there. Of course in case of fall fairs or shows held in the early part of September, like the Toronto Industrial, some of the fanciers resort to means that seem cruel such as pulling all tail feathers out of Fantails about seven or eight weeks before the show so as to ensure a new tail, otherwise the birds would likely be minus a few tail feathers, through moult, as most pigeons are moulting about this season of the year. It is also customary to pull the bootings of booted birds, but I consider this is one of the worst kinds of cruelty, as the boot feathers, as a rule, are very firmly set, and invariably the bird loses considerable blood as in most cases the foot will bleed when a feather is drawn out of it. Many fanciers do not think of the torture to the birds but to the honor of winning a ticket or ribbon as a fantail weak in tail properties and a booted bird shy in boots would stand little chnce of winning, hence the practice. Readers of this article who know the variety I breed might say it is one on me, but sooner than torture my pets I would do without the honor of winning the ribbon. Show birds should always be clean and in some lofts in cities it is almost an impossibility to keep them clean. Give your birds a bath about three times a week and if this does not suffice the next best thing to do is wash them. To do this take a little castile soap and boil it in water so that it is about like soft soap or a trifle thinner and take your bird and lather it well but be careful to rub with the webb of the feather, then wash the soap out well with lukewarm water, but be sure to use plenty of water to rince the soap out, otherwise the bird will look worse than ever, as the soap will prevent the webb of the feather going in its right place after it is dry. If it is necessary to wash a bird do it at least a week before show time and if one wash does not make it clean do not be afraid to wash it again. If the weather is cold or damp dry the bird in a box near a warm stove. In conclusion, I might say a bird that is tame, no matter what variety of the pigeon tribe, will often win over a far superior specimen that is wild and excited, as a bird that is tame will stand up and show off all its best qualities where the other will crouch in the corner of the coop and hide its best qualities and show any poor ones it may have.

THE MARKETS

STOCK MARKETS.

NEW YORK.

H. C. Becher, broker, Bank of Commerce building, received the following by private wire from Bartlett, Frazier & Carrington today:

New York, Oct. 6—Noon.—There was nothing in the market today worthy of serious comment, and it is mainly of a perfunctory nature. It is to be assumed that the uncertainty concerning the dividend on the common stock of the Steel Corporation has something to do with the lethargy. Three distinct theories are offered. One is that the dividend will be passed; the second is that it will be half of 1 per cent; and the third is that it will be the full 1 per cent. The official inspiration is lacking, but it would seem that if the full dividend on the common stock will be declared, the earnings of the company will make a good showing, and it is promised that the figures showing the unfilled orders on hand will be a surprise to the prophets, pending industrial depression. The whole market during the day has been apathetic. The tendency to ease off has been manifest at times, but the dullness was sufficient to counteract bearish influences. The undertone of the market is firm, reflecting the good tone of the Steel issues. The grangers are somewhat lower than the best prices, but exhibit substantial resistance. The coalers are steady, and the attractions are not active enough to warrant a detailed description of their movements. The decision on the Steel dividend will not be made public until 3:30. The prospect for the rest of the day is a continuance of present conditions in trading. Sales to noon, 165,000 shares.

LOCAL MARKET.

London, Tuesday, Oct. 6.

There was a fairly large attendance at the market here today. Sales were as a rule rather slow, and prices were about steady. Speaking of the way in which the majority of the farmers dress their poultry, a representative of an English firm who is here at present, endeavoring to make arrangements for the shipping of poultry to the old country markets, says that the system followed here is entirely unsuitable, and he advises the following way in which to prepare the fowls for market. The small vein underneath the tongue should be cut, and the blood allowed to flow from the mouth. Birds dressed this way bring about 3c per pound more in the English markets. The system in vogue here is breaking the necks. The part broken becomes discolored, and when unpacked is in a mussy condition. They intend to purchase very extensively here this fall if the farmers will bring them in the way in which they require them.

Grain—Over 20 loads of oats were offered, selling mostly at 85c per cental; some inferior loads went at 80c. Wheat sold at $1 30 per cental.

Hay—There were 25 loads of hay on the stand, and sales were quite brisk; all but three of the loads were sold at 1:30.

Butter and Eggs—A small supply was offered in this line; there was a good demand for butter at 18c to 19c for crocks, and 20c for pound rolls in basket lots. Eggs were scarce, at 18c wholesale.

Fruits—Apples were very scarce today; prices were, however, unchanged from those quoted; grapes were more plentiful, at 20c to 30c per basket; peaches were dull, at 30c to 60c per 12-quart basket; pears scarce, at $1 10 to $1 25 per bushel; a few lots of chestnuts were held at $3 50 to $4 per bushel.

Poultry was scarce and unchanged in price.

Vegetables and Roots—Potatoes were scarce today; those offered were sold readily at 90c per bag; tomatoes were plentiful, at 15c to 25c per basket; other vegetables were plentiful, at prices quoted.

Dressed Hogs—There were more offered to day than for some time back; sales were sold mostly at $8 per 100 pounds; a few sold at $7 75 and $7 85.

Butchers' Meats—The supply was quite large and sales were only fairly brisk, at $5 to $6 per 100 pounds for beef; lamb is easier, at $6 50 to $8; veal is in good demand at $7 to $8.

AMERICAN MARKETS.

CHICAGO.

H. C. Becher, broker, Bank of Commerce building, received the following by private wire from Bartlett, Frazier & Carington, yesterday:

Chicago, Oct. 5.—Wheat—There was little in the wheat news to encourage the bulls, while buying was chiefly in the May options by shorts, while the selling, particularly of the May, was rather aggressive. Cables were off, reflecting the heavy Russian shipments. The St. Louis weakness in the December was the dominating influence of the morning's trade. The increase of 2,250,000 bushels in the visible, which is much larger than anticipated, gave further encouragment to the bears. Receipts were in excess of a year, and a message from Duluth points to heavy arrivals there tomorrow. The Ohio state report shows a wheat crop of 29,000,000 bushels, which is 10,000,000 bushels less than a year ago. Liverpool was ¼c lower, and Paris was ¼c to 1c lower. Local receipts were 55 cars, with 100 tomorrow.

Corn had few friends after the firmness near the opening, when the public took a place on the buying side in a moderate way. The trade was mostly professional, and as this element was money ahead on the short side they can afford to pound prices further. Under present conditions the bulls are disheartened, and inclined to keep out of the market. The weather continues favorable for the maturing of the crop; in fact, it is nearer ideal than at any time in the history of the crop. The demand for shipments was the only encouraging feature of the news, and totaled 300,000 bushels, and 20 loads were reported taken at the seaboard for export. Estimated receipts tomorrow, 560 cars.

Oats were easier with the other grains, and the sample market was against the futures. Low grades were 1c to 1¼c lower, and better quality about ¾c off. The selling was largely local, and there was a noticeable improvement in the buying when May worked down to 36¼c, and this buying closed this option unchanged. The Ohio state report indicates a total crop of 36,000,000 bushels, compared with 47,000,000 bushels last season. Estimated receipts tomorrow, 300 cars.

Provisions—The cash demand for both lard and meats has been disappointing, causing the near-by futures to sell off. The deferred futures held steady at a slight decline. There was covering of shorts in January lard by one packer, and the sales in that line come from the foreign trade.

MRS. THORNLEY RESIGNS

Well Known Temperance Worker Retires Because of Ill-Health.

Had Been Hard-Working President of the W. C. T. U. Ten Years.

Mrs. May R. Thornley, who, for ten years has been president of the local W. C. T. U., resigned her position at the last meeting of that body. Ill-health was the cause of Mrs. Thornley's action, and the members deeply regret her retirement. She has figured actively among temperance workers in this field for many years and her work has been very effective.

A successor to Mrs. Thornley will be appointed at the annual meeting of the association, which is to be held on the 13th of this month. Mrs. (Rev.) T. S. Johnson is attending to the duties of the post temporarily.

The county convention of the Middlesex W. C. T. U. is to be held at Strathroy on Oct. 22 and 23. Mr. J. C. Licke, who is the London missionary in the lumber woods, will speak. He will also address the members of the local body at the annnal meeting.

You don't get tired, because you have used Ferrozone. Neglect not a day longer. Ferrozone will cure you. Sold by all druggists.

SUMMERHOUSE IN PARK IS OUT-OF-DATE AND USELESS

Park Ranger Wants It Removed —Work On Nurses' Home Will Proceed Now.

Park Ranger Pearce is beginning his duties by making a suggestion regarding the summerhouse in the park, with which most people will agree. Mr. Pearce, in a communication to the council Monday night, stated that the summerhouse was but a resort for the riff-raff that frequented the park, and he advised that it be at once removed. Mr. Pearce might also have stated that it was an eyesore, and anything but added to the beauty of London's choice breathing spot. The matter was referred to the board of works, and it is altogether likely the park ranger's suggestion will be acted upon and the old summerhouse removed.

DISEASE IN THE CITY.

A case of scarlet fever was reported to Medical Health Officer Hutchinson today. In speaking of the matter, the doctor said that this was the first case of the disease reported in a long time, and that he was of the opinion that there would be but very little of it this fall. No further cases of diphtheria have been reported and Dr. Hutchinson laughts at the idea of an epidemic.

Janitor Merritt, of the cty hall, resumed his duties today after a vacation.

The tenders for the Nurses' Home having been let Monday night, work on the building will be begun right away. Today the engineer is making all arrangements necessary with the different contractors.

PORKERS IN THE CITY.

Inspector McCallum received a complaint from a resident of the east end the other day, who claimed that a tenant of his (the resident's) was keeping pigs in the city, and was a nuisance. It appears, according to the tenant's story, that there had been a disagreement with the landlord, and the tenant alleges that the charge was made through spite. The inspector, however, had no alternative in the matter, and at once served notice that the representative of the family that made Sir Thomas Lipton rich, must be at once removed outside the city limits. The tenant appeared this morning and laid her side of the case before a couple of members of the board of health. She claims that though in the city, she is right on the outskirts, and that if her pig must be removed, others of the splendid race should also be served with a notice to get into the township. Inspector McCallum's advice is to "kill the pig."

"A LITTLE OUTCAST."

George E. Gill's melodrama, "A Little Outcast," pleased a small audience at the Grand last night. The piece includes the usual group of improbable incidents, and Paul Weston, the hero, "who suffered for others," got out of his troubles in the most approved, if somewhat hackneyed, manner. Dolly Dupree, as Bob, the newsboy, was fairly clever, though she would persist, owing to her chance of birth, in looking like a newsgirl more than a newsboy. There were many good features in the piece, and there was also the usual amount of melodramatic excitement and fun.

APPEALING HIS CASE.

Mr. Scatcherd, solicitor for Mr. Mahon, the hotelkeeper, has entered an appeal against the judgment of Police Magistrate Love, by which the defendant was ordered to pay $20 and cost for selling liquor to a man, after being notified by the man's wife not to do so.

THE W. M. CONVENTION.

Wednesday's programme for the Woman's Missionary convention opens with a 9 o'clock prayer meeting led by Mrs. Harrison. In the afternoon, consecration service led by Mrs. Gundy, and workers' conference. Mission Circle and band rally in the evening, also character sketches by London South Circle, and an address by Miss Sifton of Japan.

COURT OF REVISION MET.

The court of revision at a session held yesterday, confirmed the statements of several frontage assessments for pavements and cement walks. The meeting at which the revision of assessments will be made is to be held early in November.

A REAR END COLLISION.

A rear end collision which resulted in a comparatively small loss, occurred on the Grand Trunk at Paris on Saturday afternoon. Two freight trains figured in it. They were running over the Buffalo and Goderich branch and were following each other closely into Paris, when the first train stalled on a grade. The second freight was not stopped in time, and the engine struck the van, damaging it and a number of cars. The locomotive was also damaged.

MR. BLACK RESIGNS.

Mr. James Black, boiler inspector of the Grand Trunk for many years, and who is well-known on every part of the system, has tendered his resignation, owing to advanced years. Besides performing the duties of boiler inspector Mr. Black inspected the fire companies and conducted the annual contests. The latter brought him to London each fall, and made him many friends among the officials at both the car works and the round house. He is succeeded by Mr. McIntosh, of Montreal.

THE LATE JAMES STEWART.

The late Mr. James Stewart, whose tragic death was recorded in last evening's Advertiser, was born in Milton, Ont., and after working in the county of Trafalgar, came here to live with his sister, Mrs. William Kenny, Thames street. He only stayed about two months when he shouldered his gun and went to the northern woods. For three years the relatives heard not a word of him, and when his sister saw the paper last night it was the first intimation that he was dead. She immediately telegraphed to the manager of the Swan River Lumber Company, with whom he had been working, for particulars and to take charge of the belongings of the deceased.

GRIP CONVALESCENCE

There's nothing better than Scott's Emulsion after the grip. When the fever is gone the body is left weak and exhausted; the nervous system is completely run down and vitality is low.

Two things to do: give strength to the whole body and new force to the nerves. Scott's Emulsion will do it; contains just what the worn-out system needs.

Rich blood, healthy flesh, resistive force, more and better nourishment are what Scott's Emulsion supplies to the convalescent.

AN INTERESTING RUMOR

In Regard to the Interswitching Arrangement for London.

Prospects Are Said To Be Good for a Union Station.

The latest rumor in connection with the interswitching of the two steam railway systems, the Grand Trunk and the Canadian Pacific, at London, is that in a very short time an arrangement will be completed by which all freight for the two roads will be run over the C. P. R. tracks as at present located and the passenger traffic will go over the Grand Trunk.

It is said, too, that the prospects of a union station are better than they ever were as a result of this arrangement. While the matter cannot be stated as definitely decided upon, it is certain that it is at least under consideration. On good authority it is learned that the question has been engaging the attention of the officials of the two roads ever since the interswitching agreement was reached.

The proposal is to first carry the passengers over the Grand Trunk tracks without any further changes immediately, the union station to follow in due course of time. In this case the present Grand Trunk station would have to be used as a union station until more ample accommodation is provided. To do this it will be necessary for the roadway to connect both east and west of the city. The proposal is not only for the roads to connect near Hyde Park, where they now run close together, but to double-track the Grand Trunk system as far at least as the present Grand Trunk station from Hyde Park. This will leave the C. P. R. system north of the city free from passenger traffic altogether, and ample enough for the carrying of all the freight of the two companies.

The necessary outcome of it all will be that a union station will be put up, and the oft-mentioned site, that of the present Grand Trunk freight sheds, may be chosen. As to the double-tracking of the Grand Trunk for the few miles west of the city, this is given on good authority as a matter that will very probably be accomplished before very long, as also the carrying arrangements. The station is a matter, necessarily, of the future.

CHAPTER XLVI.

When Wil Hamilton, in all the strength of his young manhood, started out with Major Powell's expedition, he was full of enthusiasm over his anticipated adventures.

Not a thought of danger or a suspicion of the terrible ordeal which lay before him entered his mind or cast a shadow over the bright hopes which animated him.

He believed that the experiences which were to come would be of inestimable value to him in his future career, and to be permitted to make one of the great explorer's company was an honor which he could not forego.

His voyage from Glasgow to New York was delightful, for the weather was all to be desired, and he found many a pleasant compagnon de voyage.

He proceeded to Chicago, where the major and the remainder of his company were awaiting him, and they started out at once for the unexplored region of the Colorado.

All went well until that fatal evening, just as the sun was going down, the party passed along the brow of a precipice toward an open space a little beyond, which they had seen with their glasses, and which they had fixed upon as their halting-place for the night.

No one thought of any especial danger—they had been in many places even more perilous than that, and not a fear for their safety had disturbed them—and no one dreamed of the fearful calamity about to overtake one of their number.

Wil had dismounted from his pony and was leading it along the narrow path, having more care for the animal than for himself.

He never knew how it happened that he came to be so near the edge of the precipice, nor how he could have become so heedless; but he suddenly stepped upon a rolling stone, lost his hold upon the bridle of his horse, felt himself plunging down—down with frightful velocity through the deepening gloom—and knew no more until long afterward he awoke to find himself in a strange, wild place and surrounded by strange, wild faces.

He learned afterward that his fearful fall had been broken midway by a tree which grew almost at right angles out of the rocks, and whose dense foliage had probably been the means of saving his life.

For one terrible moment he had hung suspended among its branches, then his form had slipped from among them and dropped into the chasm below.

Two Indians were lurking there among the brakes and brambles which grew their rank and green.

They had been tracking the exploring party all day, whether from motives of plunder or curiosity was never ascertained, but they had known of a path which wound about the base of the precipice—an easier and less dangerous one—and thus it was that day they were hiding there at the moment he shot over the summit, yet they made no sound, no effort to save him. They saw him as he hung so helplessly among the branches of that tree, and were as motionless as statues until, in less time than it could possibly be told, he dropped limp and senseless among the brakes at their feet.

Then they bent forward, expecting to find him dead. But there were signs of life about the unfortunate man, though he was badly scratched and bruised, and, without doubt, very seriously, if not fatally injured.

A few swift gestures, a few brief sentences, spoken with Indian caution, and they stooped, gathered up their helpless captive and bore him swiftly and noiselessly from the spot.

His hat had fallen almost where he had lain; a little farther on his handkerchief, which was in the lower side-pocket of his coat, caught upon some bushes as they bore him away, and these two articles were all that remained to tell the story of his awful plunge, thus giving rise to the conjecture that some wild animal had dragged him to its lair and there devoured him.

The path at the base of the precipice was a winding one, and the Indians, with their burden, had long been out of sight when the horrified party above recovered themselves sufficiently to seek for their comrade.

They could see nothing from the brow of the precipice, for daylight was fast departing and everything in those mysterious depths was shrouded in gloom.

But once aroused to a sense of their duty, they made their way with all possible dispatch down the other side of the mountain and forced their way into the canon to search for Wil's body. They had no hope that they should find him living, but they hoped at least to find his remains and give them Christian burial.

They found the spot where he had fallen among the brakes and brambles, for they were broken and displaced, and there were marks of blood. His hat was found; and at some distance from it, as they searched with blanched and anxious faces, they picked up his handkerchief, but the body of their comrade had most mysteriously disappeared.

In that wilderness, where they supposed there was not a human being besides themselves, it was but natural that they should arrive at the conclusion which they did, and after a long and fruitless search for the lair of the supposed despoiler, they were obliged to leave the place, though it was with sorrowful faces and heavy hearts that they did so.

But less than five miles away there was an Indian camp, and thither poor Wil was borne as rapidly as the roughness of the ground and the state of his helplessness would permit.

Great astonishment and curiosity were manifested by the tribe when their scouts returned, not laden with deer and game, as they had expected, but bearing instead a human body, and that of a paleface.

The "medicine-man" was immediately called to attend to him; an examination was made into the white man's injuries, and an arm and leg were found to be broken, while his body was badly bruised, and it was feared that there might be internal injuries which would prove fatal.

He was taken to a wigwam, where his broken bones were not unskillfully set and bandaged, and his bruised body anointed with some compound known only to those rude people; and then he was laid upon a comfortable couch of skins, a watcher was placed beside him, and then nothing more could be done for him but to wait until consciousness should resume its sway, or death should extinguish the spark of life which still remained in him.

DR. SHOOP'S
Costs Nothing if It Fails.

Any honest person who suffers from Rheumatism is welcome to this offer. For years I searched everywhere to find a specific for Rheumatism. For nearly 20 years I worked to this end. At last, in Germany, my search was rewarded, I found a costly chemical that did not disappoint me as other Rheumatic prescriptions had disappointed physicians everywhere.

I do not mean that Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Cure can turn bony joints into flesh again. That is impossible. But it will drive from the blood the poison that causes pain and swelling, and then that is the end of Rheumatism. I know this so well that I will furnish for a month my Rheumatic Cure on trial. I cannot cure all cases within a month. It would be unreasonable to expect that. But most cases will yield within 30 days. This trial treatment will convince you that Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Cure is a power against Rheumatism—a potent force against disease that is irresistible.

My offer is made to convince you of my faith. My faith is but the outcome of experience—of actual knowledge. I know what it can do. And I know this so well that I will furnish my remedy on trial. Simply write me a postal for my book on Rheumatism and I will then arrange with a druggist in your vicinity so that you can secure six bottles of Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Cure to make the test. You may take it a full month on trial. If it succeeds the cost to you is $5.50. If it fails the loss is mine, and mine alone. It will be left entirely with you. I mean that exactly. If you say the trial is not satisfactory I don't expect a penny from you.

I have no samples. Any mere sample that can affect chronic Rheumatism must be drugged to the verge of danger. I use no such drugs, for it is dangerous to take them. You must get the disease out of the blood. My remedy does that even in the most difficult, obstinate cases. It has cured the oldest cases that I ever met, and in all of my experience, in all of my 2,000 tests, I never found another remedy that would cure one chronic case in ten.

Write me and I will send you the book. Try my remedy for a month, for it can't harm you anyway. If it fails the loss is mine.

A horse and cattle rancher will find matters greatly simplified by using this Oil.

BRIGHT OUTLOOK FOR THE SEASON

The Seventh Regiment will not this season be behind what it has been in the past in the way of athletics. The outlook at the present time, which, of course, is somewhat early to make predictions, is favorable. Those who answered the call last night for the semi-annual meeting of the Seventh Regiment Athletic Association were enthusiastic in their opinions as to what could be accomplished if they got down to work—and there is no doubt but that they will do so. Sergt.-Major Milligan presided at the meeting.

Immediate steps will be taken to see what chances there are of getting together an association football team. If it is possible to secure enough men who can spare the time in the days, the Seventh will back them. Today and tomorrow some hustling will be done by the interested ones, and tomorrow night the first meeting will be held of players. The practice will be called at the drill shed first, and arrangements will be made, probably, for the future practices. At any rate a definite idea will be had as to whether the association can go on with the game or not. The members last night seemed to think that it was quite possible.

Another matter that was decided upon was the entry of a whist team in the city league. Those interested in the game will take the matter up shortly and get the members together.

An important feature of the meeting was the discussion on hockey. It was agreed that a good team should be entered this winter and no efforts will be spared to make it a success. Col.-Sergt. Chapman, Sergt. Rider and Pte. Skelton were chosen as representatives to the city league. The team will be made up as soon as possble, and just as soon as the weather permits the practices will begin. The Seventh is going to lose no time, but will hustle to win out in the city league, if the intentions of those present last night count for anything.

The question of having an indoor baseball club was not considered, it being thought best to discuss the matter on the occasion of a more representative meeting, and it was concluded to hold an adjourned meeting after the first regimental drill, when officers will be elected and committees appointed.

Sidney J. Goodrich, Vancouver, B. C., is visiting with his parents at his old home here, spending a short holiday. During the time he has resided in Vancouver he has managed to secure a large timber limit, which is rapidly rising in value.

Mrs. Joseph Jackson, Nelson, B. C., is visiting among relatives here.

Mrs. Benjamin Noble, of South Dorchester, is the guest of relatives near Strathroy.

Miss May Frost has returned from a trip to Detroit.

Messrs. J. Upfold, F. Sinclair and W. Swartz visited with friends at Aylmer and Copenhagen recently.

Mr. Smith, of Crampton had a very unfortunate experience while out shooting black squirrels in the woods near that place just recently. The barrel of the gun which Mr. Smith was using exploded, tearing off the first finger of his left hand, while a piece of the barrel went past his head, barely missing it. Dr. Doan attended to the wounded hand, which is now doing nicely.

THAMESFORD.

Thamesford, Oct. 5.—The events of the past week in this vicinity are not very startling, and will, therefore, not be eagerly looked for by the readers of the people's popular paper, the Advertiser.

Dr. McGugan has opened up on Dundas street, in the building lately occupied by Mr. Thomas Newton.

Miss Maud Flood, of the Forest City, was in the village on Friday, Oct. 2, visiting her sister, Mrs. James Keyes.

Dr. Fred Cawthorpe, of Hensall, was in the village this week. The doctor is looking well, and Dame Rumor reports him as having a nice practice at Hensall.

Mr. William Thompson, of McMillan, who was so dangerously injured at Mr. A. Douglas' stone quarry at St. Marys, is improving very rapidly. The Oddfellows of St. Marys are looking after him, in addition to the doctors and the nurse.

Mrs. Broughton, of 762 Queen's avenue, London, is visiting with her daughter, Mrs. C. M. Judge.

Mr. John Bates, an old resident of this village, is very poorly, and the chances for his recovery are doubtful. He is in his 84th year, and has been a pretty healthy man, but the weight of years is upon him, and he will hardly survive this illness.

James Keyes has just purchased from Robert Kinner, Ingersoll, a swell rubber-tired buggy.

Mr. Robert Gordon, of Banner, purchased on Saturday last a lovely buggy from our popular carriage maker, Mr. Hugh Kennedy. It certainly is a dandy.

William Freel, of North Oxford, has sold his 50-acre farm to John Wallace, of this vicinity. The consideration is unknown, but would be over $4,000.

ROUTINE WORK IN THE HOUSE

Commons Spends the Day in Committee of Supply—Many Items Passed.

Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 5. — There was a very sparse attendance in the House of Commons this morning when the Speaker took the chair.

One petition against legislation on transportation until further information is supplied the House was presented to by Mr. Ingram.

In reply to Mr. Northrup, the Premier stated the coal mining rights on the Government reserve at Banff have been leased to W. R. Merritt, of Toronto, for a term of 20 years, in accordance with the regulations, at an annual rental of 30 cents per acre, payable half-yearly in advance, and a royalty of 10 cents per ton on all coal taken out of the mine. The license is dated July 1, 1903. No restriction is placed on the price at which the coal is to be sold.

Mr. Grant, North Ontario, was informed by Hon. Mr. Fielding that his question as to whether the Government were in favor of letting construction contracts on the new national transcontinental railway for short sections of fifty miles instead of long stretches, was premature in view of the present condition of legislation.

Mr. Lancaster was informed that there is a Government dredge working at the mouth of the Grand River at Dunnville at a cost of $12 per hour.

Mr. E. Clarke was informed by Hon. James Sutherland that the transportation commission had not yet organized, and that the commissioners were probably awaiting a vote from Parliament. The minister could not definitely answer as to whether the meetings at which evidence would be taken would be open to the public. His own opinion was that the commissioners would hear evidence from all parties who desired to appear before them, and that the meetings would be open.

IN SUPPLY.

The House then went into supply, taking up the votes for public buildings. The rapidity with which the votes went through showed that there was a decided desire on both sides of the House to expedite business. The votes for $57,900 for Nova Scotia, and $14,550 for Prince Edward Island, and $49,100 for New Brunswick—in all $121,500 — were passed before one o'clock, the vote for Quebec, public buildings being called first before rising for recess.

In answer to Mr. Clarke, Sir Frederick Borden stated in connection with the vote for the new storehouse at the Quebec military buildings that the estimates in it added votes for magazines at Toronto, Winnipeg, and London.

Col. Hughes insisted that there should be more arsenals and that they be inland.

The item was under discussion at 1 o'clock.

The House of Commons spent the afternoon discussing the supplementary estimates. The items put through related to public buildings in the Province of Quebec.

Items aggregating $1,661,397 for public buildings in the various provinces were passed by the House during the day. The amount is divided as follows: Nova Scotia, $57,900; Prince Edward Island, $14,500; New Brunswick, $49,100; Quebec, $186,300; Ontario, $478,137; Manitoba, $121,600; Northwest Territories, $75,000; British Columbia, $122,810; Yukon Territory, $5,000; public buildings generally, $40,500; rent, repairs, furniture, heating, $51,500. A large number of items are for new postoffices. Among other important items is one for $20,000, to make a beginning on a new barracks at Montreal to accommodate the 200 men who are to be added to the permanent military force of the Dominion.

I am glad to tell you of the good effects of Iron-ox Tablets. We first got them for our boy, two-and-a-half years old, who was very cross and had no appetite. "You Cannot Gather Figs from Thistles"

A MAN gets no more than he pays for!

The tailor who farms out his "making up" and "finishing" to sweat shops, and who keeps a cutter on starvation wages, can't expect to turn out a well-fitting suit of clothes.

He can't expect to fit his customer's expression, because neither he nor his workmen have the slightest conception of what "expression" means.

You cannot gather figs from thistles!

The size of our business affords payment of large salaries to a very few men who are expert-artistic tailors.

We are about the only house in Canada who pay salaries equal to the best American tailoring establishments.

Consequently we get something more than merely well-made clothes—we get expression—style—that individuality which marks "Semi-Ready" as equal to the best custom tailoring on the continent.

WORKERS AMONG LEPERS

Miss Hatch Tells of Work Among India's Stricken.

Miss Hatch, a missionary from the leper field at Ramachandrapuram, India, was welcomed at the regular monthly meeting of the mission to lepers held in the "Y" rooms yesterday afternoon, and she gave a most pleasing and interesting address. In her opening remarks she spoke briefly of the wonderful guidance of God in her work among the natives, and how the way for further work among the lepers was opened up to her. She dealt with her difficulties and of how these were overcome through the donations of kind friends in Ontario, viz.: One of $140 from a sympathizer in Brantford, and $2,600 from Mrs. Kellock, of Perth, by which sums the leper asylum at Ramachandrapuram was built. Reference was also made to the helpfulness of Dr. Woodburne, formerly of this city, in connection with her work, and of how the natives expressed their shame when they realized that European Christians were doing a work for their outcasts, which they themselves should do.

At the close of the address Miss Leys sang "The Golden Threshhold."

An unusually large number of members and friends were in attendance. After the singing of the opening hymn, Mrs. Johnstone read the 27th Psalm, and Mrs. Robertson led in prayer. The secretary read a letter from Miss Fraser, in which was enclosed a donation of $5, from Mrs. Smith, of Revelstoke, B. C.

SERGEANT GLENNIE FETED

By His Comrades in the U. S. Military Service.

Delaware Man Who Has Served Uncle Sam for Thirty Years.

A Delaware correspondent sends the following extract from the Chattanooga Times:

"Last night 'H' Troop celebrated the retirement of its old and popular first sergeant. Sergt. Glennie was feted and toasted probably as he had never been before in his long career with Uncle Sam. The dining hall was ornamented with flags and guidons and glittering sabers, that reminded one of a pirates' grotto. The tables groaned under layers of good things, and festoons of flowers and plants gave the scene a tropical air that recalled Christmas dinners in the 'Pearl of the Antilles.'

"A banner stretched across the room was inscribed with the legend 'From 1876 to 1903,' which referred to the long service Sergt. Glennie had put in with the colors, from the frozen zone to the fires of the torrid zone. Capt. Brewer presented his old first sergeant with a loving cup, a gold-headed cane and a silk umbrella, as tokens of esteem from 'H' Troop. Capt. Brewer made an appropriate little speech, to which Sergt. Glennie replied modestly in a few words that shook with emotion, after which speeches were made by such Seventh Cavalry notables as Regimental Sergt.-Major Hesse, Color-Sergt. Andy White and several others of the post non-commissioned staff.

"The band struck up 'Dixie,' and uproarious cheers almost lifted the roof from the wooden walls.

"All the non-commissioned staff, commissionary and first sergeants and old soldiers were summoned to wish the old veteran good-bye, who, with snow-white hair, has devoted thirty years of his manhood in defense of the Union and its flag. The speeches rendered were all of the same tenor, hoping that he would long survive to enjoy the blessings of retirement. It was late before the strains of 'Auld Lang Syne' broke up the reception that will long be remembered by all present."

THEY SMOKE CIGARS NOW

Men of All Classes Giving Up the Pipe.

Increased Demand For Ten Cent Goods—Work For More Cigarmakers in London.

"The percentage of people who smoke cigars in Canada is fully a third greater than five years ago," said a local cigar man to The Advertiser today. "Young men—in fact, the large majority of all classes of men—are giving the pipe the go-by and are smoking cigars.

"Right here in London, where more cigars are turned out in a year than in any other city in Canada, save Montreal, many more cigarmakers could be employed if they could be secured. And an important feature of the increased demand is that the increase is mostly for ten-cent goods."

"How do you account for this?" was asked.

"The good times," was the reply of the cigar man. "The country is full of money, everybody is employed, wages are high, and there is much spending going on. One time it was a sort of aristocratic distinction to be able to smoke ten-cent cigars, but now the ordinary workingman buys ten-cent goods and lives high. I'll tell you these are great times for Canada."

Thomas Jackson Asks the City For Ten Thousand Dollars Damages

Talbot St. Archway Alleged To Be to Blame.

Three of the Aldermen Indulge in a Lively Tilt.

Pavement Matters Dealt With—Vitrified Brick For the Street Railway Company's Sections.

Last night's meeting of the city council demonstrated that several of the aldermen had their talking habits on. Business of various degrees of importance came up, and as it hove in sight it was greeted by talkative city fathers under full sail. Early in the evening a man read a claim for $10,000 damages for alleged injuries received through Talbot street archway at the C. P. R., and this somewhat sobered the city fathers for a while, but later they forgot about it and gave way to the enjoyments of the evening and talked the more.

But it was not until the King street (from Maitland to Wellington) pavement bylaw was reached that the lively incident of the evening occurred.

After the clerk had read the bylaw, and before it was given its first reading, a letter was read from Mr. J. W. McIntosh, chairman of the residents of King street who are petitioning for the pavement. The letter went over the matters laid down by Ex-Ald. McMechan before the board of works, some time ago, and asked that when the engineer prepared specifications for the work, he be instructed to not make the specifications unnecessarily hard. For instance, it was pointed out that in other contracts the Barbers had been asked to put up a 50 per cent guarantee, and to furnish a crushed limestone concrete foundation, and it was thought both of these specifications were unnecessarily harsh. The people wanted a good pavement, the petition said, but they did not want a guarantee of 50 per cent exacted on this pavement, and only a 5 per cent guarantee for other similar jobs.

Ald. Cooper didn't see why the pavement should go on at all—it was too late, and if laid when the frost came it would be no good. Anyway the letter should go to the board of works.

Mayor Beck did not favor delay, but neither did he favor the prayer of the petition. He criticised it severely and said that no matter what the specifications called for, the King street residents had a price quoted them, and they could hold the Barbers to it.

Ald. Matthews moved that the letter be referred to the mayor and city engineer, but the mayor refused.

"I don't know why you should refer it to me," he said. "If dealt with at all it should go to the board of works."

"Because you will treat it courteously—we all know that," was Ald. Matthews' reply.

Ald. Cooper, who is a member of the board of works, jumped to his feet, and white with passion, cried to Ald. Wyatt:

"He means, Mr. Chairman, that you and I are not courteous. It's a dirty slur and one that I will not stand for from Ald. Matthews."

Ald. Wyatt fumed also, and declared Ald. Matthews was 'no gentleman."

Mayor Beck tried to pour oil on the troubled waters, but Ald. Cooper cried, "You can't plaster it over like that."

Ald. Matthews arose to explain, but Ald. Wyatt broke in with:

"You're always insulting, anyway, Matthews. Everyone knows that."

Ald. Matthews kept his temper, and in a quiet way explained that he was misunderstood, and that if he had offended anyone he was sorry, and doubly sorry because he had unconsciously offended a man who had known him all his life, Ald. Wyatt."

This appeared to rub Ald. Wyatt the right way, and though he still maintained he would not accept an apology, he appeared greatly mollified.

Ald. Cooper, however, didn't take any stock in what Ald. Matthews had said by way of apology. He kept up the warfare, until finally he became entangled with the mayor, who somewhat hotly told Ald. Cooper that he intended to squelch him, and at once. Finally, the council got down to business again.

Then the bylaw was put through, some of the aldermen objecting to the haste, but the mayor ruled urgency, and the communication of Mr. McIntosh was referred to No. 2 committee to deal with.

BRICKS AND ASPHALT

The residents of Dundas street, between Colborne and Waterloo, 20 in all, and headed by Dr. W. J. Stevenson, presented a petition, protesting against the street railway company being permitted to put down vitrified brick on the block above mentioned, and asking that the company be compelled to lay Trinidad asphalt on their section of the roadway, the same as the rest of the pavement.

Mayor Beck, in reply to Ald. Stevenson who moved that the prayer of the petition be granted, said that in Toronto the city was compelling the street railway company to put down vitrified brick next the rails, because the asphalt would not wear.

Ald. Stevenson suggested that the city buy a quick repair plant, such as are now in use in New York and which can be bought for $400, and keep the roadway in repair right along, and the street railway company could be taxed for their share of the cost.

Ald. Judd pointed out that the residents could not say what class of pavement should go down on the street railway's section of the street, as the residents were not paying for it.

Ald. Greenlees said that if the engineer said brick was the best class of pavement to lay next the rails he for one would vote for brick, no matter what the residents wanted.

It was then ascertained that the engineer favored brick, and by a vote of 9 to 2, it was decided to adopt the clause from No. 2 committee's report, which recommended that the street railway company be permitted to lay vitrified brick on the blocks on Dundas which are to be paved with asphalt.

WANTS $10,000 DAMAGES

Mr. Thomas Jackson, of Fanshaw, in a communication to the city clerk, stated that through an accident on Talbot street, which he alleges was due to the Talbot street archway, and the particulars of which have already appeared in The Advertiser, he was incapacitated from work, and claimed damages. He did not wish to go to law if he could help it, and asked the city to settle at once. In his letter Mr. Jackson did not state the amount of his claim, but he did so later on. He was in the hall and addressed the council, going over his case thoroughly, and finally stating that he placed his injuries sustained at $10,000 loss to him.

The aldermen did not appear to regard the matter as seriously as Mr. Jackson did, and he at once exclaimed:

"It may not seem a serious matter to you, gentlemen; but I will tell you this much, I would not take the wealth of the city of London and go through that awful experience again. Any man who knows what horses in a runaway are will appreciate what I say."

The claim was referred to No. 2 committee to investigate and see if the archway on Talbot street was to blame, and also to secure the solicitor's opinion as to Mr. Jackson's claim.

The claim of Evas Cochran, of the Hamilton road, who asked damages for injuries alleged to have been received through a defective walk, was again referred back to No. 2 committe to try and effect a settlement. The committee had recommended that the claim be filed.

LIMELIGHT VIEWS.

When the city solicitor's letter came up regarding the showing of limelight views on the streets, Ald. Matthews thought the council should at once pass a bylaw to protect the merchants, who were inconvenienced by the crowds attracted by the pictures.

Ald. Judd moved that the matter be referred to the police commissioners, as the city solicitor clearly stated it was a matter for the police to deal with.

Ald. Campbell thought the bylaw was sufficient at present, that there was no need of passing another bylaw, and that the police should attend to such matters.

Ald. Cooper said there had been a case in court, when the Oxford Park people were hauled up, and that the police magistrate decided he had no power, but Ald. Judd pointed out that this proved nothing, as perhaps no person in particular had been prosecuting in the case and the matter had not been pushed.

Ald. Judd's motion to refer the matter to the police commissioners was then carried.

THE NURSES' HOME.

Ald. Judd read the report of the special hospital committee, which recommended the acceptance of the following tenders for the Nurses' Home:

Stone and brick work, Simpson & Murray, $7,873.

Carpenter work, Jones Bros., $9,483.

Plastering, Stratfold & Bawden, $1,835.

Painting and glazing, Westland Bros., $1,178.

Galvanized ironwork, Sutherland Bros., $237.

Slate roofing, John Whittaker, $956.

Electric wiring, Electrical Construction Company, $100 25.

The tenders were all accepted. The tenders for plumbing and heating will be held over for consideration.

RICHMOND STREET FENCES.

After a long and tedious discussion regarding the Richmond street north fence squabble, it was decided to have all the fences and buildings on the street between Hyman street and the C. P. R. moved back to the frontage line, at the expense of the owners. One exception was made, and that was in the case of a lady who owns premises, the fence of which extends onto the street, but which, it is said, the engineed permitted her to have built.

An important letter from Mr. W. C. Fitzgerald, barrister, on behalf of the lady in question, was read. It said in part: "This is certainly a very extraordinary proceeding on the part of a city engineer, who should know where the city streets are. If this fence in question is on the street, there are other fences, buildings and obstructions in the vicinity of this fence which are also on the street, particularly the Frost & Wood building, and I am instructed to ask you to take steps for their removal, as it is a very great hardship to ask one owner to move an obstruction when others are allowed to remain."

The results of the motion adopted last night may have a far-reaching effect, as it was made to read so that it may apply to all parties in the city whose fences or buildings run over the frontage line.

The council also accepted the clause from No. 2 committee's report, which recommended that the petition of Chas. D. Johnston, et al., for the narrowing of the roadway of Dundas street, between Waterloo and Colborne streets, and extending the rates over a period of fifteen years, be filed, and that the street railway company be requested to move their tracks in said block to the south, so as to be in the center of the street between the curbs.

The proposed reconstruction of the sewer in Dundas street, between Wellington and Adelaide streets, will be advertised under local improvement sections of the consolidated municipal act, 1903, on the initiative, the rentals on the present sewer, after the new work is undertaken, to cease under the old bylaw.

John Cambridge, a local barber, was given permission to paint a telephone pole in front of his shop for a barber's sign.

NO. 3 COMMITTEE.

The report of No. 3 committee, which was read by the chairman, Ald. Greenlees, went through with a rush.

The matter of municipal insurance goes to No. 1 committee to consider and report upon; the city solicitor will prepare a bylaw to prohibit the storing of rags and bones within the city limits; and the firemen will be paid twice a month henceforth instead of but once as formerly. It was also decided to name the two new fire engines the Forest City and the Phoenix. Mayor Beck wanted to call one of the engines the Greenlees, after the chairman, but Ald. Greenlees protested, and the mayor's suggestion dropped.

HOSPITAL TRUSTEE.

The matter of appointing a successor on the hospital trust to succeed the late Isaac Waterman, came up rather unawares. Ald. Stevenson moved, seconded by Ald. Judd, that Mr. John Labatt be named for the office and the motion carried unanimously.

Ald. Cooper's notice of motion from the last meeting for a reconsideration of the King street pavement from Maitland to Wellington, dropped out of sight, Ald. Cooper failing to secure a seconder. Ald. Cooper's idea is that it is too late in the year to commence the work.

The bylaw appointing Mr. John S. Pearce park ranger was put through, though Ald. Cooper fought it tooth and nail.

The following bylaws were put through:

For a cement curb and gutter on east Richmond street, between Sydenham and St. James.

For a cement sidewalk on east Richmond street between Sydenham and St. James.

For a cement sidewalk on South street, between William and Adelaide.

For a cement sidewalk on Hill street, between Clarence and Wellington.

For a cement sidewalk on Oxford street between Talbot and St. George streets.

COMMUNICATIONS AND PETITIONS.

The following communications and petitions were received and dealt with:

From Jane Floyd for remission of taxes. Referred to No. 1 committee.

From W. D. Buckle, et al., for a cement walk on west side Adelaide, between Pall Mall and Piccadilly. No. 2.

From Elizabeth Holden, et al., for a cement walk on east Waterloo, from Simcoe to Horton streets. No. 2.

There were present: Mayor Beck, Ald. Judd, Campbell, Greenlees, Becher, Matthews, Saunders, Gerry, Cooper, Abram, Stevenson and Wyatt.

Many Reptiles Are Being Seen in That Vicinity.

Residents of the north part of the city state that their summer kitchens and front lawns are being invaded by snakes these days. They say that the serpents are to be found in unusual numbers and that the numbers are increasing every day.

Yesterday a citizen, who lives on St James street, said that he saw up there no less than six green "garter" snakes, which had been killed by boys. He also says that he saw several crawling swiftly through the grass of his lawn.

Impressed by this man's story the Advertiser saw several other gentlemen of the vicinity.

"Have I seen any snakes? ejaculated one, "well, I should smirk. My wife went down to get breakfast yesterday morning and found a good-sized green fellow nestling as snug as possible in the tea caddie, which it happened, had been left on the summer kitchen window ledge.

"Did my wife scream? Like a calliope. I laughed at her for a moment but had a look myself and was convinced. Ugh! Just think of the result if my wife had been absent-minded. Snakes in your tea and in your boots, too. I'm going to lock my kitchen utensils in a safe after this."
