POSTAGE STAMPS.

Letters to be registered must be posted at least half an hour previous to the closing of the mail by which they are to be sent; the postage as well as the registration fee must be prepaid. The registration of a letter to any place in this Island, British North America, United States, or the United Kingdom, is six-pence currency.

Attention to the following remarks by those who are in the habit of sending money by mail is strongly recommended:

Registration is applicable to all description of letters and parcels, whether they contain articles of value or not. Registration is not an absolute guarantee against the miscarriage or loss of a letter; but a registered letter can be traced, when one unregistered cannot, and the posting and delivery or non-delivery can be proved. A registered letter is thus secured against many of the casualties which, from incorrect address, forgetfulness of the receiver, or other error, may affect an unregistered letter against actual dishonesty on the part of the Post Office employees; a registered letter is incomparably more secure than an unregistered one—an unregistered letter leaves no trace behind it, whilst passing in the great stream of ordinary correspondence, though its presence as a money letter, and the nature of its contents are to any person accustomed to handle letters, as manifest as though the letter had been singled out, and marked by the registered stamp. If the consequences were limited to the mere risk of the loss of the money so as at the senders of money in unregistered letters might reasonably urge, that if they choose to encounter the risk, they are free to do so; but higher considerations are involved, and the chance of loss to the careless remitter is really but the smallest part of the evil associated with the practice. The department has gone to a great deal of trouble and expense to ensure as far as possible the sure and safe transmission of money by mail—the safest mode of remitting is by money orders,—where there are no money order offices, the registration system is available.

The revenue has frequently been exceeded by the expenditure, but this has generally been occasioned by the purchase by government of proprietary estates. In the speech at the opening of the Legislature, March 3rd, 1869, the Governor states that "Three estates, comprising in the aggregate 17,352 acres, have been acquired by the Government, under the Land Purchase Act, since you last met, at a cost of £6,400." For several years back the purchase of estates has been going on.

IMPORTS AND EXPORTS.

Before giving the statements of Imports and Exports for the past year, we give the totals for several years to show the increase. The amounts are stated in Canadian currency.

It will be noticed that during the eleven years the Reciprocity Treaty with the United States was in force, the trade of the Island was prosperous to an extent unparalleled in any previous time. The Island Government, we understand, would willingly continue to throw open the fisheries to American citizens in exchange for a continuance of free trade with the United States. But there are difficulties of Reciprocal Free Trade, owing to the Imperial and Canadian interests involved in the question.

VOLUNTEER MILITIA.

The returns of Volunteer Militia give the following details:—

Queen's County Regiment, 26 companies, including two companies of mounted Rifles and two companies of Artillery, total strength, 1,588.

Prince County Regiment, six companies, strength, 377. King's County Regiment, 2 companies, strength, 94. St Dunstan's College, strength, 41.

The following remarks respecting the state of the Militia are from the Report of the Adjutant General of Militia, 31st Jan, 1869:—

"In the Regular Militia, the proportion of absentees is very large. Those who turned out to comply with the requirements of the law, did so with a loyal and ready spirit, although in numerous instances such attendance was coupled with a considerable loss to themselves, seeing they are called upon to render gratuitous services. It is a question how far, under existing circumstances, the present arrangement may be modified, so that, with the exception of such numbers as may have arms issued to them, the whole of the Active Militia be formed into a Reserve, available only for an annual muster.

"The number of Enfield Rifles fit for service now in possession, is a little over two thousand, and although the present very limited staff of instructors are scarcely adequate for the same number of men, yet by concentrating the whole of their attention in this direction, a small service force might be properly organized, and kept at hand for any emergency.

"In the event of such modification being adopted, it will be of importance to maintain a careful enrollment of the rank and file throughout the districts, and to encourage their officers to prepare themselves for the duties which they will have to perform, should, in time of war, the Militia be called out and be armed and organized.

"In the year 1867, of the Sedentary force 1658 men were enrolled, and in 1868, 253 were added on the organization of the 5th Queen's County and 1st Prince County Regiments, nor has there been any muster of these since their first enrollment. Assuming the population to be 90,000, and according to the usual estimate, one-fifth capable of bearing arms, 1921 appear a small number out of 18,000 men.

"With reference to the Volunteer Militia. This branch of the Active service now comprises two troops Mounted Rifles, two half batteries Artillery, and thirty companies Riflemen, numbering about eighteen hundred men, to whom one thousand five hundred and eighty-five stand of arms have been issued; of these, twenty-four companies are armed and uniformed; three are supplied with arms but have not any uniforms, while seven have neither arms nor uniforms but are merely enrolled.

"The general appearance of many of the companies is smart and soldierlike; their arms and accoutrements are in good order; they have obtained a fair knowledge in elementary drill, the manual and platoon and some few company and battalion movements; and there is every promise of their further progress in acquiring that insight into the movements of light troops and minor field operations so absolutely necessary for a body of men constituted to perform the peculiar duties expected from a militia.

"There have been several meetings of associations for the purpose of target practice; much good must inevitably result from these competitions, securing an efficiency and skill in the use of his weapon which is of the first importance to a rifleman.

The School for Military instruction was opened on the 11th instant, under the able management of staff adjutant captain Freelead; it has been well attended and the very best results may be expected from the facilities thus provided for officers to perfect themselves in that knowledge of their profession without the attainment of which, on their part, any number of men become utterly powerless for military purposes.

On the 15th March, 1869, the following resolutions were agreed to by the Legislature:—

1. Resolved, That the whole of the Regular and Sederary Militia, until arms shall be furnished to them, shall be formed into a Reserve, to be called out for an annual muster only, in such manner and at such time as the commander-in-chief may direct.

2. Each captain of an independent company of Volunteer Militia, referred to in the first resolution, shall receive an allowance of five pounds per annum, in lieu of all charges for muster rolls, clerking and contingent expenses.

3. The Volunteer Militia entitled to Government allowance shall consist of nine companies, each company not to exceed fifty non-commissioned officers and privates, with a due proportion of commissioned officers in addition thereto, but this shall not prevent the formation of other Volunteer companies, not receiving such allowance.

4. The Volunteer Militia shall be provided with the allowance for clothing, granted in section 34, of Act 29th Vic., chap. 2, and a sufficiency of ammunition, and the exemption from serving as jurors or constables; they shall be further exempted from the performance of statute labor.

LUNATIC ASYLUM.

The Lunatic Asylum is situated near Charlottetown.

According to the latest report there were 33 males and 23 females; 49 were married and 16 were single. During the year ending 31st January, 1869, 18 were discharged; 17 were reported recovered. The number of admissions were 25. The medical superintendent says in his last report:

"The patients are allowed all the liberty of which their condition will admit; and, if at any time they are restrained, they are made to understand, as far as possible, that it is for their own safety and those around them, and always for their good. Very few patients have been subjected to personal restraint, though sometimes it becomes necessary to prevent their destroying their own clothing and the furniture of the building.

"The patients are always allowed a full but plain and nutritious diet. The best articles of breadstuffs and provisions are procured, and every patient is furnished with abundance."

PUBLIC WORKS.

In the session of 1863, a bill was passed to provide for the appointment of a Board for the general supervision of the Public Works and Highways of the Island.

A loan was authorized of £10,000, for the erection of additional public buildings in Charlottetown, and for permanent improvements on roads, bridges and public works.

The Lieutenant Governor's speech at the opening of the last session invited the attention of the Legislature to the question of a judicious encouragement of steam navigation, the Colony being interested in many parts by navigable waters. There are no Railways in the Island.

EDUCATION.

The first public step towards the promotion of national education was the opening of the National school in Char-

Charlotte town about 1821. A board of education consisting of five members, was appointed in 1830. The central academy at Charlottetown was opened in January 1836. In 1837, Mr. John McNeill was appointed visitor of schools for the whole island. The number of schools at this period was 37; pupils 1,649. In 1847, the schools numbered 120, and the pupils 5,969. In 1851, schools 135, pupils 5,360. In 1856, schools 269, pupils 11,090. Towards the close of 1856, a normal school for the training of teachers was opened. In 1859, a law was passed, after considerable agitation, that the Bible should be read in all the public schools. The census of 1861 gives 302 public school houses, and 280 public teachers.

PRINCE COUNTY.

"The schools in Prince County are eighty-eight in number. The state of Education in this county is encouraging. In general, the trustees evince a lively interest in the education of the youth of their respective districts, and are ever ready to co-operate with the teacher in anything which tends to the advancement of education.

"Nearly all the old and ill-adapted school buildings have given place to comfortable and commodious ones."

NORMAL SCHOOL.

The following are the Statistics of the Normal School as furnished by the teacher, Mr. Henry Lawson.

Ten attended the Normal School during the term ending July 16th, 1868, 55 pupil teachers—28 females and 27 males.

The attendance for the present term is 35 pupil teachers—18 females and 17 males, and also a class of six pupils.

The pupil teachers have daily practice in the management of classes, under the eye of the master.

GRAMMAR AND SECOND-CLASS SCHOOLS.

Grammar schools are fast increasing in popularity. This is, no doubt, owing to the superior quality of the teaching, though the tendency in large schools of the higher order is to neglect the younger and more rudimentary classes.

KING'S COUNTY.

Considerable progress has been made, especially in reading, and improvement in the method of instruction.

There are two Grammar schools in the county, taught by skillful and efficient teachers. The establishment of Grammar schools is calculated to give an impetus to education by affording a higher course of instruction than can be obtained in the Common school.

AGRICULTURE.

The soil of Prince Edward Island is noted for fertility, and agriculture has been prosecuted with great success. The peat bogs afford excellent material for manure, and the arms of the sea, creeks, and inlets, which almost everywhere indent the land, have deposited vast stores of sea manure. Even the swamps, when drained and lined, make good hay land. Wheat, oats, barley and rye, of excellent quality are raised. Potatoes, beans, peas, and other vegetables, grow to great perfection. The following statistics show the progress made in the department of agriculture. In 1825, there were raised on the Island 766 bushels of wheat, 10,717 bushels of oats, and 47,220 bushels of potatoes. In 1841, 160,928 bushels wheat, 611,824 bushels oats, 2,250,114 bushels potatoes, and 83,299 bushels barley. Number of horses, 9,861; neat cattle, 41,915; sheep, 73,650; hogs, 35,521.

LAND TENURES.

It may be noticed by the HISTORICAL SKETCH OF PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND, that the original partition of the island into lots and the distribution of these lots among absentee proprietors, greatly interfered with the development of the resources of the colony. The following is the latest correspondence on the subject:—

Despatch of Sir Robert Hodgson, Administrator of the Government, to the Secretary of State for the Colonies, transmitting a minute of the Executive Council, seeking the sanction of the Imperial Government to the introduction of measures into the local Legislature necessary to enforce a compulsory sale by the proprietors of lands in Prince Edward Island to the local Government; and Earl Granville's reply thereto:—

15th February, 1869.

My LORD,—I have the honor to enclose a minute of the Executive Council in the form of an address to your Lordship with two documents referred to in it, which I have been requested to forward.

2. The object desired, is to obtain the sanction of the Imperial Government to the introduction of such measures in the local Legislature as may be necessary to enforce a compulsory sale by the proprietors of lands in this Colony to the local Government.

3. A similar application was made no later than last year, and negatived by the Imperial Government; it was transmitted by lieutenant governor Dundas by despatch No. 6, of the 11th of January, 1868.

4. The present application appears to vary from that of last year in being supplemented by a request that a loan may be guaranteed, by the Imperial Government, of from one hundred to one hundred and fifty thousand pounds sterling, to further the attainment of the lands under the compulsory process which it contemplates.

5. The subject has been so frequently brought under the notice of the Imperial Government that I deem it unnecessary to trouble your Lordship with any observations thereon.

6. The Legislature of the Colony being summoned to meet for the despatch of business on the 3rd day of March next, it is very desirable to have as early a reply to this address as may be consistent with your Lordship's convenience.

I have the honor to be Your Lordship's
Most obedient humble servant

(Signed), R. HODGSON, Administrator.

The Right Honorable Earl Granville,
Secretary of State for the Colonies.

At a meeting of the Executive Council of Prince Edward Island, held on the sixth day of February, 1869:

PRESENT:

Honorables Joseph Hensley, R. P. Haythorne, H. J. Calbeck, W. W. Lord, Geo. W. Howland, Andrew A. Macdonald.

The following minute or address to the Right Hon. Earl Granville, Her Majesty's principal secretary of state for the Colonies, on the subject of the land tenures of Prince Edward Island, was adopted, and ordered to be handed to His Honor the Administrator of the Government of Prince Edward Island, for transmission to the proper quarter, that is to say:

To the Right Honorable Earl Granville, Her Majesty's principal secretary of state for the Colonies, &c., &c., &c.

Your Lordship's accession to office as Secretary of State for the Colonies, induces the Executive Council to renew their efforts with a view to accomplish a commutation of the remaining leasehold tenures, and the purchase by this Government on reasonable terms of such wilderness lands in Prince Edward Island as are still owned by proprietors, and are, therefore, likely to prove an obstacle to public improvement.

The existing leasehold system, owing to the want of security it affords to persons who have embarked in the arduous and life-long labor of clearing the forest, has proved the direct cause of poverty, discontent and litigation; it has retarded the general progress of the Colony by the abstraction of its circulating medium, as well as by the constant agitation of the public mind; while to the proprietors it has yielded a precarious income drawn from property which they have no interest in improving, and with which many of them have little if any personal acquaintance—from property occupying the anomalous and odious position, that it has rights, but no duties, and thus placing its owners in antagonism with the rest of the community. If these premises be correct, it must follow that an equitable settlement of this long protracted question would prove mutually beneficial to all parties concerned; and the Council respectfully claims your Lordship's favorable consideration for their settlement, because they seek more especially on behalf of a large and respectable body of tenants, and generally of this whole community, not confiscation or escheat, nor a direct appropriation of private property, but permission to purchase and pay for lands which were improvidently granted a century ago when the art of colonization was imperfectly understood, when the future uses to which Wilderness lands might be applied in promoting immigration and defraying the cost of Public works, were not recognized; and when the evil consequences which have ensued from their misappropriation were not anticipated; they, therefore, venture to express their hope that in arriving at a decision on this momentous question, your Lordship will be guided by a full consideration of the facts of the case, rather than the foregone conclusions of your predecessors.

The history of this question is easily accessible, and may be read in the report of the Royal Commissioners presented in 1861; that report, based on oral and documentary testimony compiled by three gentlemen selected for their ability, experience and industry, commended by the Duke of Newcastle for its ability and impartiality, has been generally accepted as a truthful statement of the facts of the case up to the date it bears; subsequently, in 1863, a deputation from the Executive Council of this Colony attended at the Colonial Office, with a view to support the award of the commissioners, but having failed in that object, a measure was introduced in 1864, and became law, to settle differences between landlord and tenant. By its provisions the tenants on certain townships therein mentioned, acquired the right of purchasing the fee-simple of their farms, on payment of all arrears due since 1858, and 15 years rent in advance. This measure has proved almost inoperative—during four years only thirty-four leaseholds have been purchased under its provisions. But considerable progress has been made during that period in extinguishing proprietary rights, by voluntary agreements between the owners and the local Government. Encouraged by this progress, and by the readiness generally expressed by the tenants to purchase their holdings at their justly assessed value, this Government made overtures to most of the proprietors with a view to the purchase of their lands, both leased and wilderness, but to those overtures the proprietors did not respond favorably. Under these circumstances the Council addressed a minute to Lieutenant governor Dundas, for the information of His Grace the late secretary of state, setting forth their reasons for seeking His Grace's sanction to a law compelling proprietors to convey their estates to the local Government on receipt of their previously ascertained value. The idea of a compulsory law, however, did not meet His Grace's approval, owing, perhaps, to his brief tenure of office. He seemingly failed to appreciate the changes which had been effected by the purchase of nearly half a million acres of leasehold and wilderness land without compulsion, and that even if contiguous lands were acquired at the same rates, no great injustice would be done; but the Council asked no more than this: that the value of proprietors lands being ascertained by impartial arbitration and their price tendered, their transfer to the local Government should then be compulsory. The Council, therefore, respectfully yet earnestly request your Lordship's patient attention to these three documents: 1st. The report of the Royal Commissioners on the Land Tenures, and the evidence taken by them. 2nd. The Correspondence between Messrs. Palmer and Pope, and the Colonial Office in 1863; and 3rd. the Minute of Council of January 11, 1865. They contain the true history of the Land Question in this Island, and the Council feel surrounded that a dispassionate perusal of their contents must lead to the conclusion that justice to the people of Prince Edward Island, and regard for the maintenance of the Imperial prestige alike demand that some such remedy as that sought for should be applied. The experience of the last few months further tends to convince the Council that a partial settlement effected by the occasional purchase of such estates as may be voluntarily offered, will only tend to produce embarrassing and contradictory results. Some small estates having several years rent in arrear, have recently been offered to this Government at high rates; to accept such offers would, of course, raise the pretensions of other persons holding that description of property; but if rejected, the Government and people must submit to the mortification of seeing legal measures adopted for the recovery of rent in arrear. Moreover the purchased estates being paid for in cash from the Public Treasury, or in interest bearing debentures, for payment of which the public credit is pledged. The inhabitants of other districts, in some instances very poorly circumstanced, contribute towards establishing their more fortunate neighbors as freeholders, not having themselves a hope of acquiring a similar privilege except it be through the instrumentality of a compulsory law, such as that for which the Royal Assent is sought. Even on estates to which the Act of 1864 applies, leaseholders are disadvantageously situated in contrast with parties who occupy lands which have been sold to the local Government; the former before they can convert their leaseholds, must pay up all arrears dating from 1858, and tender their landlords fifteen years rent in advance; the latter can purchase their holdings at from five shillings to ten shillings sterling per acre, according to situation and quality of soil, all arrears are remitted, twenty per cent of the purchase money is paid on concluding the agreement, and the balance in nine annual instalments, with interest on the amount remaining unpaid, at five per cent per annum; and thus it frequently happens that lands separated by a line fence, or a township boundary, differ fifty per cent or more in price.

The Council believes that numerous precedents may be quoted, in which private property has been dealt with by law, when its possession by individuals proved inimical to the public interests; one case, indeed, there is, so peculiarly apposite from its locality and circumstances, that the Council desires to direct your Lordship's attention thereto. They refer to the case of Lower Canada, and though some peculiar proprietary rights formerly existed in that Colony which are unknown here, yet in other respects the leasehold system of Prince Edward Island has proved more injurious. In the latter Colony, for example, mutation fines and mill privileges are unknown, but rents are believed to be materially higher, and many of the large proprietors have been and still are absentees, therefore, the remittance of rents or purchase moneys in coin has a very embarrassing effect, as the banking capital of the Colony does not probably exceed the sum of twelve shillings sterling per head, a sum scarcely sufficient to carry on the ordinary business of the Colony. If the commutation of their leasehold tenures was conceded to the people of Lower Canada as a matter of justice or policy, can a like privilege be refused to loyal British people of Prince Edward Island? The Council deems it an important part of their duty to warn your Lordship of the existence of any cause which may possibly alienate the affections of the people from British connection. It should be remembered that a large proportion of the population is native born, and knows the Mother Country by report only; also that British Supremacy, visibly associated on the mainland with fleets and garrisons, with massive fortifications and public works undertaken with the aid of funds raised on the Imperial guarantee, is here represented by the visit of an occasional cruiser, and the presence of the Queen's troops only when required to support an institution abolished elsewhere. There is danger, the Council believes, that the youth of this Colony, intelligent, enterprising, educated, will learn to connect British power with the support of the interests of proprietors, for whose especial benefit the first fruits of their industry is reserved, and thus the earnest loyalty of a peaceful, industrious race may be changed into cold indifference. In conclusion, the Council desires to urge on your Lordship's consideration these facts, that, whereas formerly proprietors' rights were of ten disputed, and payment of rents evaded, tenants are now anxious to become freeholders by purchase. The difficulty of estimating the value of estates is also much diminished by the precedent which public and private sales afford; it would, therefore, be a matter of extreme regret if the present favourable combination of circumstances should be allowed to pass unimproved.

And it is the opinion of the Council that the affairs of this Colony cannot successfully be dealt with in detail, but can best be settled by an extensive measure. Three Secretaries of State have intimated their desire that the Colony should assume the payment of the Lieutenant Governor's salary; but as the payment of that salary was originally undertaken as an indemnity for the injury the Colony had sustained by reason of the alienation of its wilderness lands, it would seem to be neither just nor generous to insist on that demand unless a remedy is first found and applied for the evils complained of, which the Council believe cannot be found unless the Imperial Government can be induced to sanction a Bill compelling proprietors to convey their lands to the Government, on tender of their value previously ascertained, and also to assist the local Government to obtain the necessary funds for the purpose, by giving the Imperial guarantee to a loan of money of sufficient amount to be raised in the London market. In order to settle the fair value to be paid to proprietors, a tribunal of gentlemen of experience and integrity would have to be selected, the composition of which could be hereafter defined, assuming that £100,000 to £150,000 sterling would be required to buy up the proprietary rights; and that this sum were raised by sale of Colonial debentures with Imperial guarantee, at par, with four per cent. interest; it is certain that, at least, a saving of two per cent. per annum would accrue to the Colony which, if the debentures were made payable in, say, thirty years from their date, would amount to such a sum as would enable the Government to press upon the local Legislature with a better prospect of its being favorably entertained, the question of the payment of the Governor's salary, and to procure a final solution of the Land Question, without cost to the Imperial Treasury, without injustice to the proprietors, or loss to the Colony.

DOWNING STREET, 13th March, 1860.

SIR,—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your despatch, No. 13, of the 15th February last, enclosing, with other documents, the copy of an address from the Executive Council of Prince Edward Island, praying that the consent of Her Majesty's Government may be obtained to the introduction of such measure in the local Legislature as may be necessary to enforce a compulsory sale by the proprietors of lands in the Colony, to the local Government.

Having regard to the evident uncertainty whether the Colony of Prince Edward Island will or will not soon unite itself to the Dominion of Canada, I am not prepared to enter on the consideration of a question with which, if such union were to ensue, the Imperial Government would probably cease to concern itself, the Land Question, therefore, should, in my opinion, be left as far as possible for the decision of those who, under the altered circumstances of the Colony, would have to carry into execution any measures connected with it.

I cannot hold out any hope that the Imperial Government will, under any circumstances, agree to guarantee a loan for the purpose of acquiring the wild lands from their present proprietors.

I have already conveyed to you the decision of Her Majesty's Government on the subject of the Governor's salary.

I have the honor to be, Sir,

Your most obedient humble servant,

GRANVILLE.

The Officer administering the Government of Prince Edward Island.

CRIMINAL LAW.

It is an interesting fact, and honorable to the population of the Island, that capital punishment seems almost unknown. The Duke of Buckingham, colonial secretary, having transmitted to Governor Dundas, 15th June, 1808, a draft bill introduced by the secretary of state for the Home department, to provide for the carrying into effect of capital punishment within prisons, with a request for the Governor's opinion as to the expediency of introducing the measure in the Colony, the reply was that there had been no instance of capital punishment in the Colony since he assumed the administration of its government in 1859. An Act was, however, subsequently passed by the Legislature, by which the principle of the Imperial Act was adopted.

LOVELL'S SERIES OF DIRECTORIES.

Dominion, Provincial, County, City and Town Directories.

THE want of accurate, reliable and intelligible Local Directories has been commonly felt and is generally expressed by all classes in Canada, and only in a less degree by the inhabitants of the neighboring Provinces. Indeed the complaint has become so common, and the requests to remove it so urgent, that the Publisher of the DOMINION DIRECTORY has determined to make the experiment, and discover for himself what encouragement may be expected for such books as the commercial public have very generally concurred in asking for. Should the experiment turn out satisfactorily, it is the Publisher's intention to follow it systematically, and at stated periods, with new and enlarged editions of the same works. He begs further to say that whether such Directories be general in their character, like the Dominion Directory; or local, like the Provincial Directories; or Municipal, like the County, City, or Town Directories, they will in either and in all cases be prepared with the greatest care, constructed on the simplest plan, printed in a uniform manner and bound according to a uniform pattern. Moreover, they will be issued at a price that will place them within the convenient reach of every person who has occasion to avail himself of such information as a Directory is intended to supply.

As the Publisher of the DOMINION DIRECTORY is thoroughly acquainted with the modes in which information for such uses should be obtained, and as he has accumulated an immense stock of the requisite materials, and gathered about him a reliable body of men who, by constant employment as agents or artisans, have made themselves practically acquainted with every branch of this department of industry, he is able to offer guarantees of his ability to satisfy the commonly expressed want by printing and publishing accurate, reliable and intelligible Directories.

The Publisher has no hesitation in guaranteeing as thorough correctness as it is possible to attain, and he respectfully points to the accompanying Directory as an example of the character of the work and of the workmanship he will study to maintain in the projected series. Intimation from merchants and gentlemen in localities where the want of a Directory is recognized would be accepted as a special favor, and acted upon wherever sufficient encouragement is guaranteed to justify the experiment.

DOMINION DIRECTORY OFFICE,
 Montreal, January, 1871.

GEOLOGY OF CANADA.*

The great basin of the St. Lawrence, in which Ontario and Quebec are situated, has an area of about 530,000 square miles. Of this, including the Gulf of St. Lawrence, the sea, and the great lakes, to Lake Superior inclusive, about 30,000 square miles are covered with water, leaving for dry land of this basin an area of 400,000 square miles, of which about 70,000 belong to the United States. The remaining 330,000 square miles constitute the provinces of Ontario and Quebec. With the exception of about 50,000 square miles in the latter province, extending from the line of New York to Gaspé, the whole of this territory lies on the north side of the St. Lawrence and the great lakes.

On either side of the valley of the Lower St. Lawrence is a range of mountainous country. These ranges keep close to the shores for a considerable distance up the river; but about 100 miles below Quebec where the river is fifteen miles wide, the southern range begins to leave the margin, and opposite Quebec is thirty miles distant. From this point it runs in a more south-western direction than the river valley, and opposite Montreal is met with about fifty miles to the south-east where it enters Vermont, and is there known as the Green Mountain range, which forms the eastern limit of the valley of Lake Champlain. In Canada, this range, stretching from the parallel of 45° north latitude to the Gulf, is known as the Notre-Dame Mountains.

The flank of the northern hills, known as the Laurentides, forms the north shore of the river and gulf, until within twenty miles of Quebec. It then recedes, and at the latter city is already about twenty miles distant from the St. Lawrence. At Montreal the base of the hills is thirty miles to the rear, and to the westward of this it stretches along the north side of the Ottawa River for about 100 miles, and then runs southward across both the Ottawa and the St. Lawrence, crossing the latter river a little below Kingston, at the Thousand Islands, and entering New York. Here the Laurentides spread out into an area of about 10,000 square miles of high lands, known as the Adirondack country, and lying between Lake Champlain and Ontario. The narrow belt of hill country which connects the Adirondack with the Laurentides north of the Ottawa, divides the valley of the St. Lawrence proper from that of the great lakes, which is still bounded to the north by a continuation of the Laurentides. The base of these from near Kingston runs in a western direction, at some distance in the rear of Lake Ontario, until it reaches the south-west extremity of Georgian Bay on Lake Huron; after which it skirts this lake, and Lake Superior, and runs north-westward into the Hudson Bay Territory. This great northern hill-region consists of the oldest known rock-formation of the globe, to which the name of the Laurentian system has been given, and occupies with some small exceptions, the whole of the province northward of the limits just assigned. We shall designate it as the Laurentian Region. Over a small portion of this area, along Lakes Huron and Superior, and farther eastward on Lake Temiscaming is another series of rocks to which the name of the Huronian system is given. But as the country occupied by these rocks is geographically similar to Laurentian, it is for convenience here included with it.

To the south of this region the whole of Canada west of Montreal, with the exception of the narrow belt of Laurentian country described as running southward across the Ottawa and St. Lawrence rivers, is very level. The same is true to the east of Montreal until we reach the Notre-Dame range of hills, already described as passing southward into Vermont, and in its north-eastern extension as bounding the lower St. Lawrence valley to the south. This valley

* This sketch of geology and physical geography is condensed from a valuable paper compiled by Dr. T. S. Hunt, F. G. S., from the reports of Sir W. E. Logan who was the director of the geological survey of Canada up to the 1st of December, 1869. The statements contained in the sketch may therefore be received with entire confidence; but it must be remembered that it relates almost exclusively to the provinces of Ontario and Quebec, or the former province of Canada.

† The following are the names of the principal geological formations of Canada, in ascending order:—

VIII. Carboniferous	III. Huronian
VII. Devonian	II. Upper Laurentian or Labradorian
VI. Upper Silurian	I. Lower Laurentian
V. Middle Silurian
V. Lower Silurian

may be regarded geographically as an extension of the great planes of western Canada and central New York, with which it is connected through the valley of Lake Champlain. This level country to the south of the Laurentides in the two parts of the province is occupied by similar rock formations, and constitutes the Champaign Region of Canada, the surface of which is scarcely broken, except by a few isolated hills in the vicinity of Montreal, and by occasional escarpments, ravines, and gravel ridges farther westward.

The next area to be distinguished consists of the Notre-Dame range on the south side of the St. Lawrence which forms the belt whose course has just been described, with an average breadth of from thirty to forty miles. To the south and east of this, is a district of undulating land, which extends to the boundaries of the province in that direction. These two districts may for convenience in farther description be classed together, and they embrace the region which is generally known as the Eastern Townships. By this term they are distinguished from the Seigniories, which bound them to the north and west. To the north-east, however, along the Chaudière River, some few seigniories are found within the geographical limits of this third region.

THE LAURENTIAN REGION.—The great tract of country occupied by the Laurentian rocks has for its southern boundary the limits already assigned, and stretches northward to the height of land dividing the waters of the St. Lawrence basin from those of Hudson Bay. Its area is about 200,000 square miles, or six-tenths of the whole land of the province. This region is composed exclusively of crystalline rocks, for the most part silicious, or granite-like in character, consisting of quartzite, syenite, gneiss and other related rocks. These are broken up into ridges and mountain peaks, generally rounded in outline and covered with vegetation. The summits in the neighbourhood of Quebec are some of them from 2,000 to 2,500 feet in height, and in other parts attain 4,000 feet or more; but the general level of this region may be taken at about 1,500 feet above the sea, although it is much less in the narrow belt which crosses the province east of Kingston. Through the hard rocks of this region run, numerous bands of crystalline limestone or marble, which from their softness give rise to valleys, often with a fertile soil. The hill-sides are generally covered with little else than vegetable mould, which sustains a growth of small trees, giving them an aspect of luxuriant vegetation. But when fire has passed over these hills, the soil is in great part destroyed, and the rock is soon laid bare. In the valleys and lower parts of this region, however, there are considerable areas of good land, having a deep soil, and bearing heavy timber. These are the great lumbering districts of the country, from which vast quantities of timber, chiefly pine, are annually exported, and constitute a great source of wealth to the province. These valleys are in most cases along the line of the bands of limestone, whose ruins contribute much to the fertility of the soil. Lines of settled country running many miles into the wilderness are found to follow these belts of soft calcareous rock.

The settlement in this region are along its southern border, and at no great altitude above the sea. In the higher parts, the rigor of the climate scarcely permits the cultivation of cereals. It is probable that no great portion of this immense region will ever be colonized, but that it will remain for ages to come covered with forests. These, if husbanded with due care, will remain a perpetual source of timber for the use of the country and for exportation; besides affording, with proper facilities for transportation, an abundant supply of fuel to the more thickly settled districts, where the forests have nearly disappeared, and where from the severity of the long winters, an abundant supply of fuel is of the first necessity. There are other reasons why this great forest-region should be protected. The vegetation, and the soil which now cover the hill-sides, play a most important part in retaining the waters which here fall in the shape of rain or snow. But for this covering of soil, the rivers and mill-streams which here take their rise, would like the streams of southern France, and of the north of Italy, be destructive torrents at certain seasons and almost dried-up channels at others. The effect of this great wooded area in tempering the northern winds, and moderating the extremes of climate is not to be overlooked in estimating the value of the Laurentian region; which moreover as will be shown farther on, contains inexhaustible mines of rich iron ores, besides copper, lead, marbles, and other mineral substances of economic importance.

THE EASTERN TOWNSHIPS.—Under this head is included the belt of hill-country south of the St. Lawrence, with the region on its south east side extending to the frontier, and forming a succession of valleys, which may be traced from the head-waters of the Connecticut north eastward to the Bay of Chaleurs. The hills of the range which traverses this area are composed, like those of the Laurentian region, of crystalline rocks; but these are softer than the greater part of the rocks of the north shore, and yield by their wearing-down a more abundant soil. Some of the hills in this range attain an elevation of 4,000 feet above the sea, and the principal lakes in the valley on the southeastern side, Memphragnog, Aylmer, and St. Francis, are from 750 to about 900 feet above the sea-level. This region is well wooded, and when cleared is found in most parts to have an abundant soil, generally sandy and loamy in character, and well fitted for grazing and for the cultivation of Indian corn and other grains.

THE CHAMPAIGN REGION.—The plains, which may be called the Champaign region, are divided into two parts by a wide and narrow isthmus of Laurentian country, which runs from the Ottawa to the Adirondacks of New-York. To the eastward of this division, the present region includes the country between that river and the St. Lawrence, and all between the Laurentines on the north and the Notre-Dame hills on the south-east; while to the westward it embraces the whole of the province south of the Laurentian region, including the great area lying between the Lakes Ontario, Erie and Huron, generally known as the south-western peninsula of Canada. The whole of this region from east to west is essentially a vast plain, with a sufficient slope to allow of easy drainage. The distance from Quebec to the west end of Lake Superior is about 1,200 miles, yet this lake is only 690 feet above the sea-level, while Lake Erie is 505 feet, and Lake Ontario 232 feet above the sea. The land on the banks of the St. Lawrence and its lakes, either near the margin, or not very far removed, generally rises to a height of from fifty to one hundred and fifty feet, and from this level very gradually ascends to the base of the hills which bound the region.

Unlike the two regions already described, these great plains are underlain by beds of unaltered Silurian and Devonian rocks, consisting of sandstones, limestones, and shales. These are but little disturbed, and are generally nearly horizontal; but over by far the greater part of the region they are overlaid by beds of clay, occasionally interstratified with or overlaid by sand and gravel. These superficial strata, which are in some parts several hundred feet in thickness, are throughout the eastern division, in great part of marine origin, and date from a time when this Champaign region was covered by the waters of the ocean; while throughout the western division the clays are more probably of fresh-water origin. It results from the distribution of these superficial post-tertiary strata, that the soil over the greater part of the region consists of strong and heavy clays, which in the newly cleared portions are overlaid by a considerable thickness of vegetable mould. In the eastern division, a line drawn from Quebec to Ottawa, and two others from these points, converging at the outlet of Lake Champlain, will enclose a triangular area of about 90,000 square miles, which is very nearly that occupied by the marine clays. These are overlaid, chiefly around the borders of this space, by more sandy deposits, which are well seen near Three Rivers, and about Sarcel. They form a warm but light soil, which yields good crops when well manured, but is not of lasting fertility. The greater part of this area, however, is covered by a tenacious blue clay, often more or less calcareous, and of great depth, which constitutes a strong and rich soil, adapted for abundance crops of all kinds, but particularly well adapted for wheat, and was in former times noted for its great fertility. These clay lands of Lower Canada have been for a long time under cultivation, and by repeated cropping with wheat, without fallow, rotation, deep plowing, or manure, are now in a great many cases unproductive, and are looked upon as worn out or exhausted. Besides grain and green crops, these soils are well fitted for the culture of tobacco, which is grown to some extent in the vicinity of Montreal.

The mineral resources of this Champaign region of Eastern Canada are chiefly confined to stones for building, paving, lime and cement, stone for glass-making, and peat. Large peat bogs are very numerous in various parts of this region, and may be made to furnish an abundant supply of fuel. This part of the country is also remarkable for the great number and variety of its mineral springs.

To the north-east of Quebec, besides the plains which border the river, there is a considerable area of low-lying clay land, cut off from the great St. Lawrence basin by Laurentian hills, and occupying the valley of Lake St. Johns and of a portion of the Saguenay. Here is a small basaltic basin of Lower Silurian rocks, like those about Montreal, and overlaid in like manner by strong and deep clays, which extend over the adjacent and little elevated portion of the Laurentian rocks, and form a soil as well fitted for cultivation as any part of the lower St. Lawrence valley. The valley of this lake is probably not more than 300 feet above the sea; and from the sheltered position the climate is not more rigorous than that of Quebec.

The western part of the Champaign region, commencing near King's and including all the southern portion of the western province is the most fertile and productive part of Canada. Like the plains farther eastward, its soils consist chiefly of strong clays, overlaid here and there by loam, sand and gravel. The soil of these plains is a light sandy loam, very uniform in character, and generally underlain by coarse gravel.

The valley of the Thames, together with the rich alluvial flats which extend from it northward to the North Branch of Bear Creek, and southward nearly to the shore of Lake Erie, is remarkable for its great fertility, and luxuriant forest growth. The soil is generally clay, with covering of rich vegetable mould, and is covered in the natural state with oak, elm, black-walnut and white-walnut trees of large size, together with fine groves of sugar-maple. Towards the mouth of the Thames, and on the borders of Lake St. Clair is an area of natural prairie of about 39,000 acres. It lies but little above the level of the lake, and is in large part overflowed in the time of the spring floods. The soil of this prairie is a deep unctuous mould, covered chiefly with grass, with here and there copes of maple, walnut and elm, and with willows dotting the surface of the plain.

ARTIFICIAL MANURES.—Of lime and gypsum, Canada contains an abundant supply. Deposits of white calcareous marl abound in a great many lakes and marshy grounds throughout Canada, and being pure carbonate of lime, constitute a valuable manure for soils lacking this element.

Gypsum.—Is found in great abundance for a distance of about thirty-five along the Grand River in Western Canada, and large beds of it are opened at Cayuga, York, Seneca, Brantford, and Paris. About 14,000 tons of gypsum are annually raised from these quarries, and are for the most part consumed in that portion of the province, as a dressing for the soil. The gypsum consumed in Quebec is chiefly brought from the Magdalen Islands in the Gulf of St. Lawrence. These contain this mineral, which is brought by water to Quebec and Montreal.

PHOSPHATE OF LIME.—Within a few years, the use of a soluble phosphate, or superphosphate of lime as an application to the soil, has been so much extended, that its manufacture has become a very important industry in Great Britain, France, Germany and the United States, and has within the last few years been successfully attempted at Montreal. The phosphates employed for this purpose are bones, certain kinds of guano, and acid carbonates, the latter a fossil form of phosphate of lime abundant in some parts of England and France. But the supplies of these materials being limited, and the sources in many cases remote, attention has been turned to the deposits of crystalline mineral phosphate of lime (called by mineralogists apatite). The investigations of the Geological Survey have shown that it exists in abundance among the Laurentian rocks of Canada, forming veins, which have been met with in several places along the Ottawa, and more abundantly near Perth, upon the line of the Rideau Canal.

FISH MANURE.—A most important and hitherto neglected source of valuable manure is to be found in the great fisheries of the Gulf of St. Lawrence. The total yearly produce of the cod fisheries on the North American coast is not less than 1,200,000 tons of fresh fish. Of this, the head and entrails, equal to one half the entire weight, are left to decay, or are thrown into the sea; but if dried would yield more than 150,000 tons of a most valuable manure.

PEAT.—The Eastern division of the champaign region of Canada abounds in peat bogs, which are generally distributed, and cover an area approximately estimated at from 1299 to 1590 square miles. In addition to this the island of Anticosti contains a still greater area. In many of these bogs on the main-land the peat attains a depth of ten to twenty feet, and even more, and, especially in their deeper parts, is often so compact as to sink in water when dried; while it is at the same time very pure, yielding from four to six per cent of ash. Peat has been compressed and used for various purposes with success, instead of coal.

BUILDING MATERIALS.—Of these, besides the wood of the forests, may be mentioned clay for bricks, lime for mortar and cements, granites, sandstones, limestones, marbles, and roofing slates.

BRICK CLAY.—Is met with abundantly in almost every part of the great champaign region of Canada, where there are few towns of any size in the vicinity of which bricks are not manufactured. Through the western division of the champaign country, and in the western-most parts of the eastern division, as near Brockville, there is found a clay which yields white, yellowish or cream-colored bricks, which are much esteemed for building, and are carried to Montreal and Quebec. This clay is in many parts overlaid by another, which gives red bricks. From eight to ten million are yearly made at Toronto, of which perhaps one half are white bricks. At Montreal there are several brick makers, of which the two principal ones manufacture together about 12,000,000 of red bricks.

Many of these clays are fit for coarse pottery and for tiles for agricultural draining, both of which are manufactured at numerous places throughout the province; while at Quebec glazed earthenware pipes are extensively made for street and house drains.

LIME.—Limestone fitted for burning is found in great abundance in most parts of the champaign region. About 270,000 bushels of lime are annually burned at Montreal. Limestone is less abundantly distributed in the mountainous districts of Canada, where, however, geological research has shown its presence in very many localities, especially in the Laurentian country. Limestones are also found in many parts of the Eastern Townships. The property of forming a mortar which will harden under water, which belongs to hydraulic cements and water limes, is possessed by the lime yielded by many limestones in the country, as at Quebec, at Hull, on the Ottawa, at Thorold near Niagara and at various other places in the western peninsula. Materials from these sources have been used in the construction of the extensive hydraulic works of the province.

BUILDING STONES.—The abundance of good building stones in Canada is so great that it is easier to say where they are not found than to indicate their various localities. Quebec, Montreal, Ottawa, and Kingston, are built of a grey limestone, which is quarried in their immediate vicinity, and abounds in a great many intermediate localities, from which materials have been obtained for the canals and other public works. The stone required for the Victoria Bridge at Montreal was in a large part procured from Pointe Claire, a few miles above the city. Limestones and dolomites of superior qualities for building purposes are met with in a great many places in the region to the west of Lake Ontario; which also yields in numerous localities a superior sandstone, of which University College, Toronto, and many other of the public buildings of that city and of Hamilton are constructed. Good sandstones for building purposes are also met with among other places at several points on the Ottawa, at Sillery near Quebec, and in the more eastern parts of the province.

In the Eastern Townships, to the east of the Notre Dame range, there are great quantities of granite of a superior quality for building purposes, and in many parts of the Laurentian region, granite, syenite, and syenitic-gneiss rocks abound, both red and gray in color. Some of these materials are equal to the granites of Cornwall and Aberdeen.

MARBLES.—The rocks of Canada afford a great variety of marbles. Some of the limestones of the Laurentian region afford a good white marble for building purposes and for tombstones, as at the Calumet, Portage du Fort, and Fitzroy Harbor; from which last place marble has been obtained for the new Parliament buildings at Ottawa. Similar white marbles are also found in Beverley, Elzevir, and Marmora. A bluish grey veined marble is quarried near Arnprior on the Ottawa, and another at Grenville of mingled green and white, containing serpentine.

The hills of the Eastern Townships afford many marbles of considerable beauty, as at St. Joseph and at Dudswell, the former red veined with white. At the latter place are beds of a cream color and of grey, veined and mottled with yellow, and sometimes with black. The serpentines of the Eastern Townships are also many of them of considerable beauty, being generally dark green, often veined with lighter green and white, and resembling in some cases the famous verd antique, or some of the serpentines of Corsica and Cornwall.

Many of the secondary limestones of the champaign country of Eastern Canada are susceptible of a good polish, and present pleasing varieties of color. Good marbles, red, black, and various shades of brown and grey, often agreeably variegated, may be obtained from them in a great many places in the vicinity of Montreal, but are as yet scarcely known, although well suited for internal decoration.

ROOFING-SLATES.—Slates for the roofing of houses have until recently been very little used in Canada, but extensive quarries in no way inferior to the best Welsh slates have within the last few years been opened in the Eastern Townships, on the line of the Grand Trunk railway. Plates of great size and of excellent quality are here readily obtained. Similar slates are found in several other parts of the same region, and good roofing-slates have also been obtained on the north shore of Lake Superior.

IRON ORES.—The ores of iron are found in very large quantities in the Laurentian rocks of Rideau Canal, and in the vicinity of Marmora. These deposits are of the magnetic species, and less frequently, of red hematite, both of which are very rich ores, containing about 70 per cent. of metal. They are similar to those which yield the fine iron of Sweden, and to those which are mined on the shores of Lake Champlain in New York.

Extensive beds of good iron ore occur in the Eastern Townships. They are iron slates, consisting in a large part of red hematite, and although less rich than the ores already mentioned, might under favorable conditions be smelted with advantage.

At various localities in the champaign region of Canada considerable quantities of bog-iron ore are found. Near Three Rivers this ore was smelted for more than a century.

COPPER.—Veins of copper ore occur in various places in the Laurentian region. On the north-eastern shore of Lake Huron, in the Huronian rocks, extensive veins of rich copper ores have been mined for several years, and in some instances with great profit. The ores of copper are widely disseminated in the Eastern Townships, for the most part in the form of irregular beds and interstratified masses. The most extensive mining operations yet undertaken in the Eastern Townships, are at Harvey's Hill in Leeds. Several localities in the vicinity of Sherbrooke now give promise of profitable mining.

LEAD ORE.—Occurs in many places in the Laurentian region in the form of veins, which also appear in the eastern division of the champaign region, south of the Ottawa. Lead ore has been met with in several localities on the shore of Gaspé, where mining operations have lately been undertaken. Small quantities of the ore have also been found in the Eastern Townships, and on Lake Superior; in both of these regions the lead is often rich in silver.

GOLD.—Has been shown to exist over a large extent of the Eastern Townships, from near the line of Vermont, in which state gold has been met with in a great many places as far north-eastward as Quebec, and it may not improbably be found farther eastward to Gaspé, along the mountainous belt which stretches to the extremity of the provinces. It is from the breaking down of the rocks of this Notre Dame range that have been derived the sands, clays, and gravel which make the soil of this belt of hills, and of the region to the east and south of them. Gold has been found in several instances in these rocks, but the attempts hitherto made to work it have been by washing the superficial sand and gravel. These trials have in some parts been successful, and the region is now attracting skilled labor and capital.

IRON PYRITES.—Is found abundantly both in the Laurentian region and in the Eastern Townships, and is a material of value for the manufacture of coppers, and as a source of sulphur for the fabrication of sulphuric acid, or oil of vitriol.

CHROMIUM—In the form of chromic iron ore is another substance which is found in considerable quantities in several parts of the Eastern Townships, and is valuable as the only source of chromate of potash, which has now an extensive use in the arts for the manufacture of several pigments, and in various processes of dyeing and calico-printing.

TITANIUM—Which has within a few years attracted the attention of iron manufacturers for its supposed beneficial influence upon iron, and has moreover been proposed for several other uses in the arts, is found in Canada in great and apparently inexhaustible quantities, as ilmenite or titanite iron ore, both in the Laurentian region and in the Eastern Townships. Among other materials may be mentioned ores of nickel and cobalt, molybdenum, and carbonate of magnesia, all of which find their applications in a country where chemical manufactures are pursued.

COBALT—For paints, of great purity and of various shades of colour are abundant in several parts of Canada, and are extensively wrought for the New York market. In like manner sulphate of barytes, which is largely used in the preparation of pigments, is found in considerable quantities in several parts of the province.

QUARTZ—Of the purity required for glass-making is abundant in the form of white sandstone in several parts of Canada.

The various refractory materials required for the construction of furnaces, and for smelting metals are not wanting in Canada. In many parts of the Laurentian region plumbago or black lead is found of a superior quality for the manufacture of crucibles.

SOAPSTONE—Which is used not only as a lining for furnaces, but in the United States for the construction of stoves for domestic purposes, abounds in the Eastern Townships; while sandstone for the hearths of furnaces, fire-clay, moolbering-sand are found in many parts of the province.

MICA—Which now finds so many applications in the arts, exists in the Laurentian region of Canada in abundance, and of an excellent quality. Thin sheets of the mineral of very large sizes are obtained, and it is already an article of export.

As materials for millstones, varieties of granite, and of hard quartzite rocks are made use of in various parts of the province; and in Grenville on the Ottawa a variety of siliceous precisely resembling the French bullestone is found. Grindstones are made in many parts of Western Canada from a sandstone well fitted for the purpose, while whetstones and hones, some of them of superior quality, are found in a great many parts of the country.

Superior stones for the purpose of lithography have been found in several localities in Western Canada; but although trials have shown them to be of an excellent quality they have not yet been brought into use.

Among materials for ornamental purposes may be mentioned nephrite, jaspers, Labrador feldspar, and porphyries. In Grenville and in Chatham are found in great abundance porphyries of fine texture, susceptible of a high polish, and of various colors, rivalling in beauty the porphyries of the old world.

PETROLEUM—Springs of petroleum or mineral oil occur in several localities in the south-western part of Canada and from numerous wells sunk in Enniskillen, near Lake St. Clair, several millions of gallons were obtained in 1861-2. Since that time, however, the supply of oil from the wells has greatly diminished. In other localities in this region, as at Bothwell, the existence of natural springs yielding a little petroleum has led to the sinking of wells, which are yielding moderate supplies of oil. The part of the country here underlain by the oil bearing rock is very large, and it is not improbable that from some portions of it considerable quantities of petroleum may yet be obtained. At the other extremity of the province, in Gaspé, natural springs yielding small amounts of petroleum are found over a considerable area, and wells are being sunk in the hopes of obtaining it in available quantities. The oil in this region occurs in Upper Silurian rocks, while in south-western Canada it belongs to the Lower Devonian limestones.

Appended is a catalogue of minerals, building materials, &c., with the principal localities in which they are found.

PROVINCE OF MANITOBA.

SEAT OF GOVERNMENT—FORT GARRY.

Lieutenant Governor—His honor hon. Adams G. Archibald.Private Secretary—George P. Hill.Executive Council—Hon. Alfred Boyd, provincial secretary; hon. Marc Amable Girard, treasurer; hon. Thomas Howard, commissioner of public works and agriculture; hon. James McKay, commissioner of Indian affairs; hon. Henry J. Hynes Clarke, Q.C., attorney general; D. Bouthillier, clerk.Recorder—Hon. F. G. Johnson.Commissioners to administer oaths—Hon. Adams G. Archibald, hon. F. G. Johnson, hon. Alexander Boyd, and hon. Marc Amable Girard.Commanding Militia—Lieut. colonel Samuel P. Jarvis, C.M.G., D.A.G.; lieut. colonel Louis Adolphe Casault, C.M.G., D.A.G.Collector of Customs—George B. Spencer.

The whole of the vast territory hitherto held by the Hudson Bay Company, under Royal Charter issued in the 22nd year of the reign of Charles II. and transferred to the Imperial Government on the 1st day of December, 1869 (the Company receiving an indemnity from the Canadian Government of £200,000 sterling), was by order of H. M. the Queen in Council, dated 23rd day of June, 1870, admitted into the Union or Dominion of Canada.

The portion of the Territory hitherto known as the Selkirk or Red River Settlement has been erected into a Province, to be called the Province of Manitoba. It contains an area of 14,340 square miles—9,177,000 acres, and is bounded as follows:—“commencing at the point where the meridian of ninety-six degrees west longitude from Greenwich intersects the parallel of forty-nine degrees north latitude—thence due west along the said parallel of forty-nine degrees north latitude (which forms a portion of the boundary line between the United States of America and the said North Western Territory) to the meridian of ninety-nine degrees west longitude—thence due north along the said meridian of ninety-nine degrees west longitude, to the intersection of the same with the parallel of fifty degrees and thirty minutes north latitude—thence due east along the said parallel of fifty degrees and thirty minutes north latitude to its intersection with the before mentioned meridian of ninety-six degrees west longitude—thence due south along the said meridian of ninety-six degrees west longitude to the place of beginning”—being 3 degrees of longitude and 1½ latitude. The Province will be represented at present in the Senate of the Dominion, by two members, and in the House of Commons, by four elective members. The electoral districts were declared by proclamation of the Governor General of the 5th January, 1871, to be as follows:

Electoral District number One to comprise, of the Electoral Divisions recently established by the Proclamation of the Lieutenant Governor of Manitoba, for the Legislative Assembly of Manitoba, those known as

- Headingley, or No. 8
- Saint Charles, or No. 9.
- Saint James, or No. 10.
- Saint Boniface, West and East, or Nos 11 and 12.
- Winnipeg and St. John, or No. 18.
- Kildonan, or No. 19.

Such Electoral District number One, to be called and known as the Electoral District of Selkirk.

Electoral District number Two to comprise all the settlements on the Red River, and in the neighborhood, lying between the south line of Electoral District number One, and the frontier of the United States, including the settlements on the Seine, at Oak Point or St. Arne, such Electoral District number Two, to be called and known as the Electoral District of Provencher.

Electoral District number Three, to comprise all the settlements on the Red River, and in the neighborhood between the north line of Electoral District number One, and the northern frontier of the Province, including those at Broken Head River, such Electoral District number Three to be called and known as the Electoral District of Lisgar.

Electoral District number four, to comprise all the settlements on the Assiniboine and Lake Manitoba, and all other settlements to the westward of the western line of the Electoral District number One, such Electoral District number Four to be called and known as the Electoral District of Marquette.

The Government, will consist of a Lieutenant Governor and an Executive Council of five members; the Legislature, of a Legislative Council of seven members, appointed for life, and a Legislative Assembly of twenty-four elective members, the Province to be divided into twenty-four electoral divisions for that purpose.

It is provided that either the English or French language may be used in the Legislature, and the public records and documents are to be printed in both languages.

The Province not being in debt, will receive from the Dominion Government interest at the rate of 5 per cent. per annum, on the sum of $172,000; a yearly subsidy of $30,000 for the support of its government and Legislature, and an annual grant, in aid of the Province, of 80 cents per head of the population, estimated at 17,000 souls, such grant to be augmented in proportion to the increase of population until it amounts to 400,000 souls, at which amount the grant will remain thereafter.

To extinguish the Indian title to the lands in the Province 1,400,000 acres of ungranted lands are to be appropriated for the benefit of the half-breed residents.

The following are the present routes to the new Province:

- 1st Via Detroit, Chicago, St. Paul and St. Cloud—fare from Toronto to the latter place $28.50, $5 gold, remainder in American currency.

- 2nd Via Grand Haven and Milwaukee to St. Paul and St. Cloud, same fare as the first route.

- 3rd Via Collingwood, Sault Ste. Marie and Duluth, thence by rail to St. Paul and St. Cloud, fare about $5 less than the before-mentioned routes.

The route followed by the troops of the Red River expedition is not one which could, in its present state, be used by emigrants going to the new province.

The cost of the trip from St. Cloud to Fort Garry depends on circumstances—the number of people travelling together and the manner in which they live and travel. The average cost of the trip from Toronto to the settlement is about $60 to $70 for each adult in a party.

Population of Province—From the census return of this Province, just completed, the total population is ascertained to be as follows:

French half-breeds.....	5,757
English “.....	4,083
Whites.....	1,565
Indians.....	558

The Canadian Illustrated News is undoubtedly one of the best artistic papers published in the Colonies which we have received up to this date, and the tout ensemble does great credit both to editor and artist, on whom the task of success of so attractive a weekly depends.—European Mail, London, Eng.

This excellent weekly periodical now comes to us greatly improved in its style of illustrations. The credit of establishing a weekly newspaper, profusely and regularly illustrated by photographic plates, belongs to Canada. There is no other paper like it in the world that we know of.—Scientific American, New York.

THE PUBLISHER OF THE DOMINION DIRECTORY avails himself of this opportunity to announce that he has in preparation a GAZETTEER OF THE ST. LAWRENCE AND ATLANTIC PROVINCES OF BRITISH NORTH AMERICA. This important work is intended to supply the amplest information respecting the Cities, Towns and Villages therein. It will be to the people of Canada, Newfoundland and Prince Edward Island, a Manual replete with accurate information touching the great country in which they live, and to the people of other lands it will expose the advantages, commercial, manufacturing and agricultural, and the undeveloped wealth of this portion of the Empire. The GAZETTEER will be carefully compiled, and the most accurate and authentic information inserted. Special prominence will be given to the Cities, Towns, and places of historical interest and commercial importance, while villages and hamlets will be briefly and lucidly described. The Lakes, Rivers, Bays, Capes, Inlets, &c., will receive as full and accurate descriptions as can possibly be obtained. The Provinces will be treated as follows: Ontario, Quebec, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Newfoundland and Prince Edward Island. The Provinces of British Columbia and Manitoba will also receive due attention.

THE WANT OF ACCURATE, USEFUL AND INTERESTING LOCAL DIRECTORIES has been commonly felt in Canada, and only in a few degrees by the inhabitants of the neighboring Provinces. Indeed the complaint has become so common, that the Publisher of the DOMINION DIRECTORY has determined to take the experiment, and discover for himself what encouragement may be expected for such books by the commercial public; he very generally commences in asking for them. Should the experiment turn out satisfactorily, it is the Publisher's intention to follow it up systematically, and periodically with new and enlarged editions of his own works. He goes further to say that whether such Journals be General in their character, like the Dominion Directory, or Local, like the Provincial Directories, or Municipal, like the City, County or Town Directories, they will in either or in all cases be prepared with the greatest care, constructed on the simplest and printed on bound according to a uniform pattern. Moreover they will be issued at a price that will place them within the convenient reach of every person who has occasion to avail himself of such information as a Directory is intended to supply. As the Publisher of the DOMINION DIRECTORY is thoroughly acquainted with the modes in which information for such uses should be obtained, and as he has accumulated a immense stock of the requisite materials, and possesses about him a reliable body of men, who by constant employment as agents or travellers, have made themselves practically acquainted with every branch of this department of industry, he is able to offer guarantees of his ability to satisfy a commonly expressed want by printing and publishing accurate, useful and interesting Directories.

The Publisher feels confident that this GAZETTEER will be found worthy of an intelligent and liberal patronage, as he trusts will be indispensable to Public, Professional and Business men, and instrumental in inducing a large migration to these shores. The Work will contain an Appendix giving the immigrant useful information respecting the Country, the Districts where he may settle, &c. The GAZETTEER will be printed on fine paper, small 8vo. size, it will be bound in cloth with fine type, and bound in cloth. It will be kept within the smallest compass consistent with its object, which is to supply all the information necessary, at a price placing it within the reach of every one. Information suitable for the pages of the above work will be thankfully acknowledged.

The Publisher, in guaranteeing as the work's correctness as it is possible to attain, and respectfully soliciting the accompanying Directory as an example of the style in which his work will be ready to maintain in the projected series. Intimation from merchants and gentlemen in localities where the want of a Directory is recognized, would be accepted as a special favor, and would appear, wherever a sufficient encouragement is guaranteed to satisfy the experiment.

THE PUBLISHER OF THE DOMINION DIRECTORY feels it a pleasure of this opportunity to announce that he has in preparation A GAZETTEER OF THE ST. LAWRENCE AND ATLANTIC PROVINCES OF BRITISH NORTH AMERICA. ## LOVELL'S DIRECTORIES:

PROVINCIAL, COUNTY, TOWN,

CITY DIRECTORIES,

TO BE PUBLISHED THROUGHOUT THE Dominion of Canada, Newfoundland and Prince Edward Island.

THE WANT OF ACCURATE, USEFUL, AND INTELLIGIBLE LOCAL DIRECTIONS has been commonly felt in Canada, and only in a less degree by the inhabitants of the neighboring Provinces. Indeed the complaint has become so common, that the Publisher of the DOMINION DIRECTORY has determined to meet the requirement, and to cover for himself what experience might possibly encounter in order for. Should the complaint thus cut satisfactorily, it is the Publisher's intention to follow it systematically, and periodically, with new and enlarged editions of the same series. He has further to say that whatever such Directories be deemed in their character, like the Dominion Directory of Great North Provincial Directory or Montreal, like the County, City or Town Directories, they will in either and in all cases be prepared with the greatest care, concentrated on the minutest detail, printed and bound according to a uniform pattern. Moreover, they will be found as a price that will give to them within the compass of each of every person who has occasion to avail himself of such information as a Directory is intended to supply.

As the Publisher of the DOMINION DIRECTORY is known, his confidence with the reader in which information for such work should be obtained, and as he has accumulated an immense store of the possible materials, and gathered about him a reliable body of men, whom by constant employment as agents or clerks, have made themselves perfectly acquainted with every branch of the department of industry, he is able to offer guarantees of his ability to supply a thoroughly improved work, by printing and publishing accurate, useful and intelligible Directories.

The Publisher has no hesitation in guaranteeing as thorough correctness as it is possible to obtain, and respectfully points to the accompanying Directory as an example of the style of workmanship which will always be maintained in the projected series.

Information from merchants and gentlemen in localities where the want of a Directory is recognized, would be accepted as a special favor, and acted upon wherever sufficient encouragement is guaranteed to justify the experiment.

CARRATRACA!

THE well-known WATERS from the CARRATRACA SPRINGS of Plantagenet, Ontario, stand unrivalled in a sanitary point of view, producing effects which are peculiarly their own, and which are not approached by any of the various known waters, either in Canada or the United States. Being the most pleasing beverage possible to be had at all seasons; as a valuable remedial agent in cases of Rheumatism, Gout, Strumous and Glandular Complaints, Epilepsy, Leprae, and various diseases of the Skin, &c., &c., their merits are acknowledged wherever used. Being the most richly mineralized of all the Canadian or American Mineral Waters, their use is attended with certain success in every case of Acidity, Dyspepsia, Gravel, Diabetes, Diseases of the Liver, &c., and in nearly every description of Disease of the Kidneys they are invaluable. In fact, there is hardly any condition of the body that positive benefit will not result from their use; and there is nothing more certain than that, under no circumstances, can any harm result from their use even by the most delicate.

These waters have been locally known for OVER HALF A CENTURY, and now being on sale throughout the Dominion, and in many of the principal cities of the United States, the attention of all persons is respectfully called to them, and a trial solicited.

The Works of this Company are completely and fully equipped with Machinery and Tools, for building Railway Locomotives and Cars on the most approved principles, and with facility and despatch.

We have two designs for BROAD GAUGE ENGINES, both of which we confidently recommend to Railway Companies, as the best adapted machines for the peculiarities of road and climate of the Railways of the Dominion. They are both substantially the same Engine, but one has outside and the other inside connexions, to suit the various tastes of Mechanical Engineers on this point.

We have also lately designed and prepared Working Drawings and Specifications for a NARROW GAUGE ENGINE (3 ft. 6 in. gauge), which has been prepared with a view to cheapness, without sacrificing efficiency.

We also build Locomotives and Cars to any Drawings and Specifications that may be furnished us.

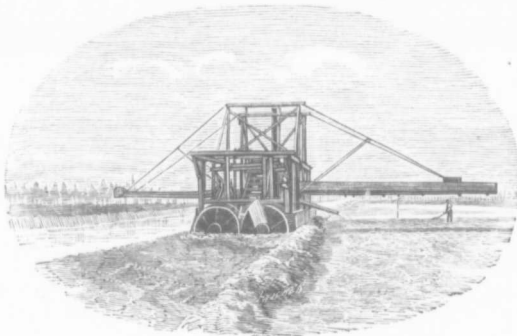

We have already built Locomotives for all the principal Railways in the Dominion, as will be seen from the following list, viz.:

LOVELL'S SERIES OF DIRECTORIES.

Dominion, Provincial, County, City, and Town Directories.

THE want of accurate, reliable and intelligible Local Directories has been commonly felt and generally expressed by all classes in Canada, and only in a less degree by the inhabitants of the neighboring Provinces. Indeed the complaint has become so common, and the requests to remove it so urgent, that the Publisher of the DOMINION DIRECTORY has determined to make the experiment, and discover for himself what encouragement may be expected for such books as the commercial public have very generally concurred in asking for. Should the first experiment turn out satisfactorily, it is the Publisher's intention to follow it systematically, and at stated periods, with new and enlarged editions of the same works. He begs further to say that whether such Directories be general in their character, like the Dominion Directory, or local, like the Provincial Directories, or Municipal, like the County, City or Town Directories, they will in either and all cases be prepared with the greatest care, constructed on the simplest plan, printed in a uniform manner and bound according to a uniform pattern,

As the Publisher of the DOMINION DIRECTORY is thoroughly acquainted with the modes in which information for such uses should be obtained, and as he has accumulated an immense stock of the requisite materials, and gathered about him a reliable body of men, who by constant employment as agents or artisans, have made themselves practically acquainted with every branch of this department of industry, he is able to offer guarantees of his ability to satisfy the commonly expressed want by printing and publishing accurate, reliable and intelligible Directories.

The Publisher has no hesitation in guaranteeing as thorough correctness as it is possible to attain, and respectfully points to the accompanying Directory as an example of the character of the work and of the workmanship he will study to maintain in the projected series. Intimation from merchants and gentlemen in localities where the want of a Directory is recognized, would be accepted as a special favor, and acted upon wherever practicable.

R. S. NEWALL & CO.,
UNTWISTED WIRE ROPE,
FOR SHIPS' STANDING RIGGING.

NEWALL & CO'S. WIRE RIGGING

Is one-half the weight, one-sixth the bulk, and one-half the price of Hemp Rigging, ship for ship. It is Lighter and stronger than any other Wire Rope in the market, and is entirely machine made. Their

PATENT COPPER WIRE CORD

Is also extensively used for Window-sash Lines, Hot-houses, Lightning Conductors, Picture Cord, Clock Cord, Tent Ropes, Clothes Lines, and many other purposes for which Hemp Rope had previously been used.

The exquisite Flower Baskets in the Crystal Palace are hung with Newall and Co.'s Patent Cord.

NEWALL & CO'S. PATENT WIRE STRAND

Will be found far superior to single wire for Fencing, Railway, Signal Cord, etc., etc., and may be obtained, Galvanized or Varnished, OF ANY LENGTH IN ONE PIECE. This is admirably suited for Espaliers, Training Roses, General Garden and Ornamental Work. It requires no paint, and will never corrode.

ESTIMATES GIVEN FOR FENCING FIXED COMPLETELY WITH WIRE STRANDS.

HUBBUCK'S PATENT WHITE ZINC PAINT.

By a process, which is patented, the pure White Zinc Paint is cheaper than White Lead. It is the most durable and beautiful paint known, and does not stain or discolor with the London atmosphere.

Those direful maladies, Paralysis and Painters' Colic, which destroy health and entail suffering and misery on posterity, will be entirely avoided. Apartments may now be immediately occupied without danger. It is entirely free from any poisonous or pernicious property.

ADULTERATIONS.—Several Paint Grinders have been selling Zinc Paint adulterated with Sulphate of Barytes, some even to the extent of thirty per cent. No workman can produce good work with such material. Those who have once used Hubbuck's patent Zinc Paint will never willingly use any other Paint for their best work.

To prevent the prejudice which the inferior article must produce, each cask of pure White Zinc Paint is stamped—

"HUBBUCK, LONDON, PATENT."

Inferior Zinc Paint so marked, having been sold in Foreign Markets, the Patentees offer a reward of FIFTY POUNDS for information which shall lead to the conviction in an English or Colonial Court of those who have pirated their mark. It is to be observed that both exporters and dealers are liable for its sale.

THOMAS HUBBUCK & SON,
WHITE LEAD, OIL, AND VARNISH WORK, 24 LIME STREET, LONDON, ENGLAND.

"For public schools, and all rooms occupied by children, there will now be no excuse for using poisonous paints. Parents have remarked that their children, on returning from the country to newly painted houses, have suffered in health. The reason is evident; the breath extracts the poison from White Lead even after the paint is dry, and the lungs draw in the deadly vapour.

"Among other tests to which it has been subjected, has been that of painting the hold of a sugar vessel, which, after a voyage to St. Kitt's and back, was found, after washing, to be as white as the first day the paint was applied."—John Bull, September 14, 1850.

HUBBUCK'S ANTI-CORROSIVE PAINTS,

The most valuable protection to Iron Roofs, Bridges, Piers, Ships and Buildings, exposed to stormy weather and scorching sun; they soon become extremely hard, do not blister, and are very durable. They are made of Stone, Slate, Copper, White, Blue, Green, or any other Color that is desired.

HUBBUCK'S PALE BOILED OIL

PAINTS AND OILS PROPERLY PACKED FOR EXPORTATION.

HORSE SHOES.

EDWARD GRAY, PATENTEE AND SOLE MANUFACTURER

Grooved Steel and Steel Faced Bars,
To be made into Horse Shoes.

This is a most important invention, and one that has long been wanted, as it will enable Horses to obtain a FIRM FOOTHOLD, and prevent them slipping or falling, which is of daily occurrence in London and other large cities and towns. Shoes made from this material will not require sharpening in winter, and will be found of universal advantage on the Road or in the Field: they are two-thirds lighter, will last longer, and look much better than any other shoes.

Another great advantage is, they do not shake and heat the Horses' legs and feet like other shoes, the teeth, acting as a spring, prevent concussion. Horses shod with these Shoes will last years longer than if shod with any other. They can be altered, fitted, and put on by any ordinary farrier.

The Patentee is now ready to supply the Material, or Shoes made of any size or thickness to suit all kinds of horses. All orders sent as below, shall have prompt attention.

Merchants, Ironmongers, and the trade supplied.

"For very many years inventors have endeavoured to remedy the defects of calkins in various ways. In this century many plans have been adopted, the iron or steel employed being, in a number of instances, rolled by machinery, and generally channelled into grooves or concavities. The most successful of these attempts to fabricate shoes to prevent slipping appears to be that adopted by Mr. EDWARD GRAY, of Sheffield."

ister points are withdrawn; the cylinder then revolves, and, as it gears directly into the bed, perfect register is obtained. The fingers never require shifting, whatever the size of the form, and no tapes are used. When so ordered, the bed is arranged to be run either once or twice, thus passing the form under the inking rollers either two or four times to each impression as may be required.

(PATENTED MAY 17, 1870.)

This is an invention intended to so move the Log towards the Saw as to secure a uniform thickness of Lumber, and this it does with greater accuracy than any other known arrangement.

It is very simple, and so constructed that it cannot wear nor break, and is the the only perfect Set Motion ever invented.

SWARTWOUT'S OSCILLATING GANG.

We would respectfully call the attention of all engaged in the manufacture of Lumber to this valuable improvement in Vertical Saw Hangings. By its peculiar construction the Saw, on its downward motion, strikes at the bottom of the log first and continues an even pressing cut until the pitman reaches the forward centre, when the lower end recedes and the top is carried forward by inclined Slides, thus producing an even Rotary Cut. This Gang will carry a heavier feed with less power than any Mill working upon straight lines, and will increase the capacity at least 25 per cent.

In consequence the Leffel wheel was ordered out and one of our Samson Turbines substituted.

The "Canada" Brick Machine.

Patented 1868.

Special Prize and Diploma at Ontario Provincial Exhibition,

HELD AT TORONTO, ONT., OCTOBER, 1870.

Special Prize and Silver Medal at Quebec Provincial Exhibition, HELD AT MONTREAL, P. Q., SEPTEMBER, 1868.

The great practical experience of the Manufacturers of the "Canada" Brick Machine justifies them in asserting that it is the most perfect and suitable machine yet introduced into use.

This machine will mould 15,000 bricks per day, with the attendance of one man to put in the clay, one man or smart boy to attend to the moulds, three strong boys to wheel off the bricks and hack them up, and a small boy to sand the pallets.

To make SLOP BRICKS, less attendance than the above will be required.

By an alteration in the relative speed of the plunger and crown wheel, it will mould 30,000 BRICKS PER DAY.

The bricks can be moulded stiff enough to hack up four rows high the same day.

This machine is inexpensive and simple, and is adapted for either steam or horse-power.

If a stone or other obstruction prevents the moulds from moving forward, the machine will not get out of order, but regulates itself.

Provision is made for giving the pressure required for soft or for stiff clay.

The corners are always well filled, and the bricks turned out will all be fit for front work.

The CANADA AUTOMATIC BRICK-MAKING MACHINE is manufactured and for sale by the Patentees.

The Patent Right for Towns, Counties, or Districts, will be sold on application to

Head Office for Canada, Montreal, 99 St. James Street.

INVESTED FUNDS,

UPWARDS OF ONE MILLION TWO HUNDRED THOUSAND POUNDS, STERLING.

Assurers have the choice of two separate Classes of Assurance.

IN CLASS A. THE BONUSES are paid in Money to the Policy-holder himself, commencing AT AN EARLY STAGE OF THE POLICY.

An allocation of Profit in Cash is made every year in this class to all Policies of not less than five years' standing at the preceding Annual Balance, and each Policy-holder's share is applied in payment of his next Annual Premium. The Outlay required for the Policies has thus, for many years, been only from 62½ cts. to 75 cts. per $1 of the Premiums according to standing, and commencing with these due at the end of the sixth year.

CASH PROFITS of more than £375,000 sterling have been distributed in this manner to the Policy-holders during their own lives.

Valuable Provision for his own after life-time by a Cash Payment or Annuity.

For Example, a Policy-holder for £1000, at the age of 25, on his attaining the average period of persons of that age, will, at the rate of Bonus, have had an addition to his Assurance of £1,500, making the Sum Assured £2,500 instead of £1,000.

Or he may then exchange this large Bonus Addition for ONE CASH PAYMENT of about £1,000 to himself.

IN CLASS B. THE BONUSES are unusually LARGE ADDITIONS TO THE SUM ASSURED, and may be exchanged for a MOST IMPORTANT PROVISION IN OLD AGE TO THE Policy-holder himself.

AT THE DIVISION FOR 5th December, 1865, the LARGE BONUS ADDITION of £4 per cent, on the sum Assured, was declared for every premium paid on each participating policy, and payable along with the Sum Assured, provided the Life attain the average expectation of persons at his age of entry. It is evident that at this rate of Bonus the SUM ASSURED will be more than DOUBLED in a comparatively short period.

But the Policy-holder has the option of exchanging these large Bonus Additions, when he reaches an average period of life, for an equivalent in a

Or he may exchange the Bonus Addition for an ANNUITY of about £102 payable during his life.

Such exchange will in no respect affect the Sum assured, which, as well as the right to future Bonuses, will remain intact for the Heirs or other purposes of the Policy-holder.

Under no other system can anything like the same amount of benefits be obtained, whether as regards increase of Sum Assured, or an equivalent in Cash Payment, or Life Annuity.

An ASSURER during the current year in Class-B. will receive, at next division, ONE-FIFTH MORE BONUS than later Entrants—The difference being—probably so much as £40 on a £1,000 Policy.

LOVELL'S SERIES OF DIRECTORIES.Dominion, Provincial, County, City, and Town Directories.*

THE want of accurate, reliable and intelligible Local Directories has been commonly felt and generally expressed by all classes in Canada, and only in a less degree by the inhabitants of the neighboring Provinces. Indeed the complaint has become so common, and the requests to remove it so urgent, that the Publisher of the DOMINION DIRECTORY has determined to make the experiment, and discover for himself what encouragement may be expected for such books as the commercial public have very generally concurred in asking for. Should the first experiment turn out satisfactorily, it is the Publisher's intention to follow it systematically, and at stated periods, with new and enlarged editions of the same works. He begs further to say that whether such Directories be general in their character, like the Dominion Directory; or local, like the Provincial Directories; or Municipal, like the County, City or Town Directories, they will in either and all cases be prepared with the greatest care, constructed on the simplest plan, printed in a uniform manner and bound according to a uniform pattern.

As the Publisher of the DOMINION DIRECTORY is thoroughly acquainted with the modes in which information for such uses should be obtained, and as he has accumulated an immense stock of the requisite materials, and gathered about him a reliable body of men, who by constant employment as agents or artisans, have made themselves practically acquainted with every branch of this department of industry, he is able to offer guarantees of his ability to satisfy the commonly expressed want by printing and publishing accurate, reliable and intelligible Directories.

The Publisher has no hesitation in guaranteeing as thorough correctness as it is possible to attain, and respectfully points to the accompanying Directory as an example of the character of the work and of the workmanship he will study to maintain in the projected series. Intimation from merchants and gentlemen in localities where the want of a Directory is recognized, would be accepted as a special favor, and acted upon wherever practicable.

PREFACE.

THE Publisher takes pleasure in presenting to the people of Prince Edward Island the first edition of his DIRECTORY of their Province. In doing so, he would acknowledge the very kind and valuable assistance he has received, in the collection of information and the revision of proofs of the principal places, from gentlemen in various parts of the Island. It will be observed that the accompanying work is much more comprehensive than the title indicates, for in addition to the usual matter given in Directories—the names of the principal inhabitants—it contains a description of every place obtained and a variety of useful and interesting information relating to the Province as well as to the Dominion of Canada.

The Publisher would take this opportunity of announcing his intention to issue from time to time, as occasion may require, a PROVINCE OF PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND DIRECTORY, and that from the knowledge he has now acquired of the country, it will be got up, if possible, in a manner more perfect than the one now produced.

THE PUBLISHER.

Montreal, January, 1871.

ROUTES IN THE PROVINCE OF PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND.

The general mode of travelling in this Province is by stage or private vehicle. During season of navigation steamers run between the capital (Charlottetown), Georgetown, Summerside, Victoria, Orwell Cove, Port Selkirk, Fort Augustus and Mount Stewart. The three first named places and Alberton, Port Hill and Souris, are the only ones of importance on the Island; all the others are but small villages and settlements. Mail coaches leave daily for Summerside, calling at Milton, Greenville, Hazel Grove, Greta Green, Springfield, Summerfield, Kensington, New Annan, Traveller's Rest and St. Eleanor's; and semi-weekly for Georgetown, calling at Southport, Pownal, Mill View, Vernon River and Wellington; also for Souris, calling at French Fort, Scotch Fort, Ghouroy, Morrell, St. Peter's, Five Houses and Rollo Bay; and for Centreville, calling at Cornwall, Strathgartney, Bonshaw, DeSable, Hampton, Crapaud, Tryon and Searltown. Stages also run twice a week between Summerside and Alberton, passing through St. Eleanor's, Miscouche, Port Hill and Pilgrim's Rest. This comprises the principal stage routes on the Island; bye roads branch off these to other settlements, but with them there is no communication except by private conveyance and such accommodation as can be afforded by the Mail carriers.

Steamers run regularly between Charlottetown, Summerside, Shediac, N.B., (connecting with European and North American Railway to and from St. John), Pictou, N.S., (connecting with Nova Scotia Railway to and from Halifax), Port Mulgrave, N.S., and Port Hood, C.B. Weekly communication is had with Quebec and Montreal by the Gulf Ports Steamers, and with Pictou, Port Hawkesbury, Halifax and Boston by the Oriental Steamers.

A steam ferry runs between Charlottetown and Southport; and sail boat ferries over the Cardigan, Foxley and Grand Rivers. Small boats sail between Annandale and Morris Point, and Georgetown and St. Andrew's Point, and there is a fortnightly packet between Alberton and Charlottetown, touching at Shediac. In winter, communication is had between the Island and New Brunswick by way of Cape Traverse and Cape Tormentine, a distance of eleven miles across the straits of Northumberland. A submarine cable crosses here and gives the most important places on the Island telegraphic connection with all parts of the Dominion of Canada, the United States, Newfoundland and Europe.

Though there are no Railways in the Province,—which is only 130 miles in length and 34 miles its greatest breadth—the traveller will find it possessed of good roads and excellent stages.

Places in italic in the following Table can be reached by Steamer; the majority of the others by stage from Charlottetown, Summerside or Georgetown.

VARIOUS PROVINCES

DOMINION OF CANADA,

PROVINCES OF NEWFOUNDLAND AND PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND.

SKETCH OF THE HISTORY OF CANADA.

ONTARIO AND QUEBEC.

As the division of Canada into two provinces did not take place till 1791, and as the two sections were united again in 1840, and became separate members of the Confederation only in 1867, much unnecessary repetition will be avoided by including in one sketch the principal events in the history of the whole province as it existed previously to Confederation.

I. CANADA UNDER FRENCH RULE.

The history of Canada is naturally divided into two great epochs: the period of French rule and that of British rule. Of the former period, the most prominent events are the incessant wars of the colonists with the native inhabitants, and with the neighbouring colonies of Britain. The second period is remarkable as a century of wonderful expansion and prosperity, especially in Western Canada. The most prominent events are: the introduction of a representative system of Government, the division of the provinces, the war with the United States, the political struggles arising out of hostility of race, the rebellion, followed by the reunion of the provinces, the institution of "Responsible Government," and the concession to the Legislative Assembly of entire control over revenue and expenditure; and, lastly, confederation with the other provinces.

EARLY VOYAGES AND DISCOVERIES.

It was on the 3rd of August, 1492, that Columbus, with his little fleet of three vessels, sailed on his memorable voyage of discovery from Palos, a port on the coast of Spain. On the 9th of the following month he passed Ferro, the last of the Canary Isles, and launched out into unknown seas. After the lapse of more than another month, during which the spirit of the commander was sorely tried by the murmurs and menaces of his mutinous and superstitious crews, Columbus left his ship on the 11th of October, and planted the flag of Spain on an island to which he gave the name of San Salvador. Several months were spent in exploration, and then the great adventurer set sail on the 4th of January, 1493, and arrived safely at Palos.

The materials for the historical sketches of the provinces have been derived from Carneau's History of Canada (Bell's translation); Hodgkin's School History of Canada and the British Provinces; Conroy's History of New Brunswick; Page's History of Newfoundland; Sutherland's History of Prince Edward Island; and other sources.

The discoveries of Columbus excited a spirit of enterprise and adventure throughout Europe, and subsequent explorers had not any longer to encounter the great difficulties that so long baffled his efforts to procure means to prosecute his voyage. Newfoundland and Prince Edward Island were discovered by the Cabots. Other discoveries followed in quick succession; but it was not till 1534 that the discovery of Canada (Ontario and Quebec) was made by Jacques Cartier, a navigator in the service of Francis I, King of France. The kings of Spain and Portugal protested against the proposed expedition under Cartier as an encroachment on their territorial rights. "What!" Francis is reported to have exclaimed, "do they expect to share all America between them. I should like to see the clause in our father Adam's will that makes them sole heirs to so vast a heritage."

Cartier, with two small vessels, sailed from the port of St. Malo, on the coast of Brittany, on the 20th of April, 1534. Arriving off the coast of Newfoundland after a favorable voyage, he passed through the Straits of Belle Isle into the Gulf of the St. Lawrence, and sailed southward to the Baie des Chaleurs. It was early in July when he reached the Bay, and the heat of the weather caused him to give it that name. Finally, on the 24th of July, he landed on the peninsula of Gaspé, and took possession of the country in the name of the French king. A few days later he set sail for France, taking with him two of the natives. The report of his discoveries excited so much interest at home that the following year he was sent out with three vessels, well manned and equipped. This season he sailed up the gulf. Having anchored in a little bay at the mouth of the river St. John on St. Lawrence day, he named the bay after that saint, and the name was afterward extended to the gulf and river. Ascending the St. Lawrence, he arrived at the Island of Orleans, where he was received in a friendly manner by Donnacona, the Algonquin chief. He then proceeded to a native settlement, called Stadacona, near the mouth of the St. Charles. Here he moored his vessels, boldly resolving to winter in the country. Having heard accounts from the natives respecting a large settlement further up, he was induced, in the month of September, to ascend the St. Lawrence as far as Hochelaga (Montreal) where he was welcomed with the most friendly manifestations by the Huron Indians.* The beautiful mountain lying to the west was named by him Mount Royal. The winter was now approaching, and Cartier returned to Stadacona, (close by Quebec,) where he entrenched himself near his ships.

The expedition suffered greatly during the long winter that ensued. The cold was intense. Most of the sailors were attacked by scurvy, and before the snow disappeared one fourth part of the crews had perished by disease. In spring, Cartier made haste to return to France. On his departure he was guilty of a base act of treachery to the friendly natives, in seizing their chief, Donnacona, and four Indians, and carrying them off to France where they all soon died.

The origin of the name Canada, it may be mentioned here, is somewhat obscure. Some would derive it from the Spanish or Portuguese, by putting together the words Ca, here, and nada, nothing, supposed to have been uttered by the first explorers when they found no precious metals. Others, with better reason, conjecture that Jacques Cartier, having heard the natives apply the Indian word Kannatha (or village) to their settlements, mistook it for the name of the whole country.

Harassed by wars with Spain, and distracted by religious dissensions at home, the French were unable to give that attention to the newly discovered territories which their importance deserved. Five years elapsed after Cartier's return before another expedition was organized. This was placed under the command of a distinguished soldier, the Sieur de Roberval, who received a commission as viceroy of the colony to be founded. Cartier sailed in advance of Roberval, in command of a flotilla of five vessels. After a stormy passage he arrived in the gulf, and again ascended the St. Lawrence to Stadacona or Quebec. Here the French colonists who had been brought out, landed, and began to prepare ground for cultivation. Cartier continued his voyage to Hochelaga, and endeavoured to pass the Lachine rapids, but without success. The summer passed away without any intelligence being received respecting the movements of Roberval, who was to have followed him out: so Cartier resolved to spend the winter in the country. The Indians, mindful of his treachery to their chief, were far from friendly, and he deemed it prudent to erect two small forts at Cape Rouge for the protection of his winter quarters. In the spring, the natives showing signs of increasing hostility, Cartier sailed for France, where he died a few years later. He had, however, before his death, been ennobled by the king for his distinguished services, and his heirs received a license to trade in Canada. We read of his nephews being engaged subsequently in the peltry traffic.

Roberval, whose departure had been delayed for a year, met Cartier near Newfoundland (or, as some say, near Quebec), and vainly endeavoured to prevent his return. Roberval then continued his voyage to Cape Rouge, where he remained for some time. Little is known respecting his movements during the year that he spent in Canada. He is said to have explored the river Saguenay, and other parts. During the winter fifty of his colonists perished. In 1543, he returned to France at the request of the king, who required his services in the war with Spain which was about to recommence. This was the last expedition for six years.

In 1549, Roberval, having been permitted to organize another expedition, set out for Canada, but he was lost in the passage across the Atlantic, with all his followers. This disaster led to the abandonment of French settlements in Canada. For many years there was no opportunity to renew them, France being engaged in wars with Spain and Austria, and harassed by civil and religious dissensions. During this period England made no attempt to acquire territory in Canada, contenting herself with a nominal claim on Newfoundland for fishing purposes.

Passing over Ribault's ill-fated Huguenot expedition to Florida, with which we are not concerned in the present sketch, we come to the next attempt to found a colony in Canada. In 1598, the Marquis de la Roche was appointed lieutenant general, or viceroy, of New France, with very extensive powers. De la Roche landed most of his colonists, who were chiefly convicts, on Isle de Sable. His ship being afterward driven off the coast by a storm, he was forced to return to France. There he was arrested and kept prisoner in Brittany by an enemy of the King, and no aid was sent to the unhappy convicts on Sable Island till five years had elapsed, when only twelve were found living.

PERMANENT SETTLEMENTS IN NEW FRANCE.

We come now to the voyages of Champlain, a distinguished naval officer, whose name is honourably connected with Canadian exploration and settlement. His first voyage was made in 1603, under the auspices of a company of French merchants trading in furs. The little fleet consisted of three small vessels of 12 to 15 tons each. Champlain ascended the St. Lawrence to Hochelaga, but was prevented by the Lachine rapids from passing upward. He, however, diligently collected all the information that he could obtain from the natives respecting the country above the rapids, and sketched a map for the king. Henry IV. was well pleased with the account of the expedition, and appointed de Monts, a Huguenot, lieutenant general of Acadie, with extensive trading privileges. In the ensuing years, settlements were formed at Port Royal (Annapolis) and other places in Acadie.

In 1608 Champlain sailed a third time from France on a voyage to the St. Lawrence. On the 3rd of July he reached the point of land, now the Lower Town of Quebec, where he erected a fort, and cabins for the accommodation of his men. Thus were laid the foundations of the famous city of Quebec. The name is Indian, Kébec, a strait. This was the first permanent settlement in Canada.

For some years Champlain continued the congenial work of exploration. His enemies, indeed, made it a matter of reproach that he was more fond of exploring the country than of improving the facilities for trade and increasing the profits of the fur company. About this time the wars between the Iroquois and other Indian tribes appear to have been waged with great ferocity. The weaker tribes, the Hurons and Algonquians, sought the powerful aid of their neighbors, the French, and Champlain unfortunately granted the request. Thus commenced the terrible wars with Indians which fill so dark a page in the early annals of the colony. The first blood was shed in 1609, when Champlain took part with the Hurons in an attack on some Iroquois cantons. The terror inspired by the loud report of European fire arms, and the havoc caused by each discharge, routed the Iroquois on this and other occasions. But few years elapsed before they fought on more equal terms, and manifested a courage unsurpassed by that of any other race.

In 1611, Champlain established a trading post at Montreal, and named the adjacent island Ste. Hélène, after his wife. The death of Henry IV. deprived de Monts of his influence at court, and great rivalry in the fur trade ensued. In 1613, Champlain, who had endeavoured to reconcile the conflicting pretensions of the trading companies, having at length secured the patronage of the Prince de Condé, as successor to the privileges enjoyed by de Monts, again sailed for Canada. He spent some time this year in exploring the Ottawa. Two years later he took out four Recollet fathers (a branch of the Franciscans), and a first effort was made to introduce Christianity among the Indians. Monastic establishments began to appear in the land. They were the most prominent buildings at the various settlements. At this time (1615), Champlain renewed his explorations of the upper Ottawa. Passing up the Mattawin river to Lake Nipissing, thence down the French river, he came to the Georgian Bay and Lake Huron. He spent some time in exploring those western parts, and visited several of the lodges of the Hurons. At length he reached Cahigue, (now Orillia) one of the chief lodges of the Hurons, near Lake Simcoe. Champlain's relations with this tribe were very friendly, and he was induced to join them in a great expedition against their bitter enemies, the warlike Iroquois. The assault on the enemy was made suddenly and unexpectedly, but the Iroquois speedily rallied, and repulsed their assailants with great courage and determination. Champlain himself was wounded, and with his Indian allies was forced to retreat. Thus Champlain, who was the first, or among the first, to assist Indian against Indian, already began to experience the disastrous consequences of his policy. The thirty years during which he was engaged in exploration are marked by incessant Indian conflicts. Treaties of peace were not long regarded. In 1622, for instance, a solemn treaty of peace was entered into between the Hurons and the Iroquois, but a few years later we read of fresh hostilities.

About 1620, the Prince de Condé ceded the vice-royalty of Canada to Admiral Montmorency, who confirmed the appointment and powers of Champlain as deputy head and resident governor of the colony. About this time Champlain laid the foundations of a government house, known as the castle of St. Louis, at Quebec. He also promulgated several ordinances for the maintenance of order in the colony. Very little was done in the way of tilling the soil, the attention of the colonists being engrossed by the more lucrative occupation of trading in furs. The number of permanent residents at Quebec, including the monks, did not exceed fifty. However, the colony was re-inforced in 1625 by a band of Jesuit missionaries, who labored with the Recollet fathers, for the conversion of the Indians.

THE HUNDRED PARTNERS.

Disputes respecting trading privileges were constantly occurring. The trading associations were bitter rivals. Finally, in 1627, a new company, called the Company of One Hundred Partners, or Associates, with extensive trading privileges, was organized under the patronage of Cardinal Richelieu. The powers of this new association were very extensive. The Hundred Partners were in fact the rulers of the colony, with power to make laws within their limits, with attributes of signiory and justiceship, &c. In return for their privileges the Company undertook to send 4,000 persons to Canada during the fifteen years their charter was to be in force, and to aid these colonists in settling on lands to be appropriated to their use.

Shortly after this, war was declared between France and England. Tadouac, a trading station, was captured (1628) by Sir David Kertk, a French Huguenot refugee, who had entered the English service, and messengers were sent to Champlain to demand the surrender of Quebec. The request was peremptorily refused. To disguise the starving condition of the colonists, Champlain is said to have sumptuously entertained the messengers of Kertk. The English commander withdrew his fleet without making any attack on the place, but while cruising in the gulf, the ships and stores sent out from France by the new company fell into his hands. The following year (1629) he resumed hostilities. The inhabitants of Quebec had been half starved during the winter from want of the supplies which had been intercepted; no help came from France, and when in July, 1629, Kertk appeared in sight, the garrison capitulated. This was the first capture of Quebec. At the date of its surrender peace had been concluded between England and France at home. Champlain was carried to England, where he was set at liberty and permitted to return to France.

Three years afterward, (1632) Canada, together with Nova Scotia and Cape Breton, was ceded to France by the Treaty of St Germain en Laye. The following year Champlain was re-appointed governor, and carried out with him abundance of stores. He sought to strengthen and build up the shattered colony, but his labors were soon stayed by death. He expired on Christmas day, 1635, after thirty years' service in connection with Canadian exploration and settlement.

The new governor sent out from France was Montmagny, who pursued the policy adopted by Champlain. The Hurons and Iroquois were at this time again engaged in a sanguinary war. Some consternation was caused (1638) by shocks of earthquake which were felt throughout the country. Similar shocks were experienced in 1663, and have frequently occurred in our own time.

In 1640, the Island of Montreal was ceded by M. de Lauzon (who had acquired it from the Hundred Partners,) to an association of 35 persons, by whom de Maisonneuve was instructed to found a settlement. The new town or colony was established near the Indian village of Hochelaga, and named Ville Marie, on the 18th of May, 1642. The few buildings erected were surrounded by wooden palisades for the protection of the place against Indian incursions. Such was the small beginning of Montreal city.

INDIAN WARS.

The war between the French and Hurons on one side and the Iroquois on the other, was now waged with great ferocity. The Iroquois formed a design to wipe their enemies from the face of the land. The French posts were to be simultaneously attacked. The plot failed, but for some years the Indian braves waged a war of extermination. The French were able to afford very slight assistance to their Huron allies. Their own existence was, in fact, in almost daily peril, for it must be remembered that the whole European population of Canada at this time did not exceed three hundred souls. Soldiers had to be sent from France to protect the enfeebled settlement. Ville Marie was put in a condition for defence by d'Allebout; Fort Richelieu was erected at the mouth of the Richelieu, and other measures were adopted to check the incursions of the enemy.

In 1645, a truce was entered into with some of the Iroquois bands. The Company of the Hundred Partners had suffered enormous losses during these Indian wars, and were glad to renounce their rights for an annual rent payable in beaver skins. The inhabitants of Montreal, Quebec, and Three Rivers, accordingly obtained from the company, on the above condition, the privilege of trading on their own account. The sanguinary conflict with the Indians soon broke out afresh. The unhappy Hurons were hunted to death without mercy throughout the length and breadth of the land. The French were wholly unable to afford their allies any protection. Several of the Jesuit missionaries, who were laboring amongst the Indians, died under cruel tortures inflicted by the Iroquois. The Huron tribes were almost annihilated. A few survivors sought refuge within the palisades of Quebec and other French forts, and were finally transferred to Lorette, where some of their descendants may still be found.

So great was the terror inspired by the bitter hostility of the Iroquois, that when the New England colonies (1648-1651) put forward a project of colonial union with Canada, the French governor refused to negotiate, unless the New Englanders consented to aid the French in humbling the power of their Indian foes. Now the Iroquois, while harassing the French to death, had been fast friends of the English, and such a stipulation would have been highly ungrateful on the part of the latter. So the negotiations were broken off. The incident only served to increase the fury of the Iroquois. For some years trade was paralyzed, and the French were in serious danger of being driven from the country. "The war with the Iroquois," says a chronicle of 1653, "has dried up all sources of prosperity. The beavers are allowed to build their dams in peace, none being able or willing to molest them." It must be borne in mind that by this time the Iroquois had obtained fire-arms, and learned to use them with fatal effect. At length, in 1653, reinforcements being received from France, the governor was enabled to act vigorously on the offensive. European discipline prevailed. The Iroquois lost heart when they saw the number of their foes suddenly doubled by arrivals from the unknown land beyond the seas. They were brought to sue for peace, and a treaty was concluded the following year (1654).

During this time several changes had taken place in the government. It had been decided to change the governors of French dependencies every three years. Montmagny was succeeded in 1647, by d'Aillebout, and he, in turn, was superseded by de Lauzon in 1651.

In 1656, another alarm was caused by incursions of the Iroquois, and war again prevailed, with brief intervals of respite, for several years. D'Argenson came out (1658) as governor in the place of de Lauzon, and in 1661, d'Avagour, a very able governor, succeeded.

Up to this period, progress had been very slow, especially when contrasted with the rapid strides of modern times. The inhabitants of the settlement at Quebec did not number a thousand, and the whole population of Canada fell short of 2,500. The mode of colonization had been semi-religious. Jesuit and Recollet missionaries penetrated the country in all directions, and endeavoured to win the natives to the Christian faith. There was not a printing press in the colony till long afterward. A very small portion of the soil was brought under cultivation. The residents, occupied for the most part in trade, did not raise sufficient for their subsistence, and depended largely on supplies from the mother country. The principal buildings seem to have been the monastic establishments. Ecclesiastics exercised magisterial authority in the parishes. An incident related by Garneau, which led to dissension between the governor and ecclesiastical authorities, throws some light upon the state of affairs at this time. Selling liquor to Indians was prohibited under the severest penalties. The governor, d'Avagour, had caused three men to be shot at one time for this crime. A widow being subsequently taken to prison for the same offence, one Père Lallemant, not only interceded for her but justified her act. The governor angrily exclaimed that if the law was to be enforced in this irregular and partial manner, he would cease to enforce it at all. On their side, the priests refused absolution to those who engaged in the liquor traffic with Indians, and the bishop publicly excommunicated the offenders. These dissensions continued till, unfortunately for the colony, the governor was recalled. On quitting the reins of government, d'Avagour drew up a document strongly recommending that France should, without loss of time, strengthen her footing in Canada. He advised that three thousand picked soldiers, accustomed to agricultural pursuits, should be located in the country, and assisted from Imperial sources till they had firmly established themselves.

SOVEREIGN AUTHORITY RESUMED.

In 1663, the Company of One Hundred Partners, which had not fulfilled the obligations imposed on it, was formally dissolved by Louis XIV., and a sovereign council, composed of the principal officers of civil government residing in the colony, M. Laval, the first bishop, who had come out in 1659, and other distinguished persons, was established at Quebec. This council acted also as a court of appeal from the district courts. In each of the three districts, Quebec, Three Rivers and Montreal, there was a judge appointed by the king, who had full power to decide all matters, both civil and criminal, that arose within the district. Besides the regular courts, judicial authority was vested in the intendant. This power was exercised generally in matters of small amount. The owners of seigniories were also authorized under certain restrictions to administer justice within their seigniories.

The new governor, appointed by the influence of Bishop Laval and the Jesuits, after d'Avagour's recall, was de Mézy. He was the first royal governor under the new constitution. He landed at Quebec in the summer of 1663, but a year had barely elapsed before fresh disputes arose between him and Bishop Laval, in consequence of the interference of the latter in temporal affairs. The recall of the governor was therefore at once resolved on by his adversaries, and it was not long before they brought it about. The governor died before the command to return reached him, but he declared with his latest breath that in all he did he had ever in view the prosperity of the colony. Whilst these events were taking place in the colony, the trading interests of Canada were conceded to the West India Company by a royal edict in May, 1664. In legal matters, the "Custom of Paris" was at this time introduced to the exclusion of all other French coutumes. The Marquis de Tracy was chosen to fill the office of lieutenant-general. Talon, another man of ability, was sent out as intendant, and de Courcelles, an administrator of great tact and prudence, was appointed to succeed de Mézy as governor. The new rulers were cautioned by Colbert, the French minister, to avoid disputes with the Jesuits, and advised to seek to build up the colony.

These were days of sunshine to the struggling inhabitants. For a space only too brief, things were an air of prosperity. The men in authority displayed great zeal and energy in advancing the interests of the colonists. Settlers were brought out from France; cattle and agricultural implements were imported. The audacity of the Indians was checked by a decisive expedition commanded by de Tracy. The Iroquois sued for peace, and in 1667 a treaty was concluded with them which lasted eighteen years.

The reports sent home by Talon advised that the colony should be taken out of the hands of the West India Company. This recommendation was acted upon, and freedom of trade with the natives and the mother country was conceded to the inhabitants. Talon strove to encourage agriculture. Horses were first introduced into the colony in 1665. The Carignan regiment, which had come out with de Tracy, was permitted to remain, and the soldiers were encouraged to settle in the country. Talon, being in ill health, was forced to solicit his recall in 1668, but the following year he was persuaded to resume office, and sailed from France with 700 emigrants.

In 1672, Count de Frontenac, who was destined to occupy a distinguished place in the history of Canada, came out as governor in the place of de Courcelles. Talon now retired from his office of intendant. At this date the population had increased to nearly six thousand souls.

Frontenac was a high spirited soldier of very fair abilities. Shrewd and discerning in his views, he was also quick and impetuous in action. The position of Quebec excited his admiration on landing. "It could not have been better placed," he said "if it had been expressly selected as the capital of a great empire." The new governor was also favorably impressed by the dignity and eloquence of the Indian chiefs. In 1673, having been present at a conference with Iroquois chiefs at Cataragui, he remarked, in a letter to the Minister of State: "You would assuredly have been surprised, my lord, had you listened to the eloquent oratory, and remarked the subtle spirit with which all the deputies harangued and reasoned. Did I not fear to incur your ridicule, I should venture to intimate that the noble presence of these deputies, in conference with me, recalled to my mind somewhat, a meeting of the senate of Venice."

In his efforts to improve the condition of the colony, Frontenac was unfortunate enough to encounter the opposition and enmity of the Jesuits. Grave dissensions soon commenced between the governor and other dignitaries. Frontenac having imprisoned Perrot, the governor of Montreal, for treasonable conduct, the side of the accused was openly espoused by Fenelon, the parish priest of Montreal. The ecclesiastics denied that any jurisdiction could be exercised over them by the sovereign council, and contended that they could be summoned to appear only before their bishop. The intendant, Duchesneau, sided with the ecclesiastics. Fresh trouble was also created by the liquor traffic. We cannot follow here the course of these unfortunate disputes. The king severely censured his servants, and attempted in vain to check their quarrels; but they proceeded to such a height that both Frontenac and Duchesneau were recalled in 1682.

INDIAN WARS RESUMED.

The new governor, de la Barre, came out at a critical time. Another Indian war was imminent. The New England colonists offered the Indians better prices for their skins, and exchanged goods on far easier terms than the French traders, fettered by trade restrictions, could afford. Much ill feeling prevailed on this account among the natives. The conjuncture required a prudent and conciliatory course. De la Barre lacked ability and experience, and proved unequal to the occasion. After some months of indecision, an expedition set out and advanced as far as Lake Ontario. Here envoys from the Iroquois met the governor, and de la Barre concluded a disgraceful treaty, by which he abandoned some of his Indian allies to the mercy of the Iroquois. The treaty was disallowed by the king, who immediately recalled the governor, and sent out the Marquis de Denonville to replace him. The new governor was brave and determined, but entered with slight experience on duties of great difficulty. His instructions were to repel the encroachments of the Iroquois and compel them to keep the peace with their neighbours. The hatred of these powerful tribes to the French had grown with the lapse of years, and was embittered by a long course of hostility. At this time, moreover, the Iroquois were incensed by a disgraceful act of treachery on the part of the governor. Having decoyed some Indian braves to Cataragui, under pretence of a conference, he caused them to be seized, and sent home to work in the galleys.

Having obtained reinforcements from France, the governor led an expedition against the Iroquois, which was successful in the field; but as soon as the steps of the marquis were turned homeward, the foe re-appeared with unabated spirit. The fort at Niagara was suddenly attacked by them and completely destroyed. An ineffectual attempt was made to negotiate a treaty through the intervention of Col. Dongan, the governor of New York. The critical state of affairs was vividly depicted as follows by the governor in a despatch to Paris, Aug. 10th, 1683: "The savages are just so many animals of prey, scattered through a vast forest, whence they are ever ready to issue, to plunder and kill in the adjoining country. To go in pursuit of them after their ravages is a constant but almost bootless task. They have no settled habitation to which they can be traced with any certainty. They must be watched for everywhere and long waited for, with fire-arms ready primed; many of their lurking places could be reached only by blood-hounds, or by other savages as trackers. But those in our service are few, and the native allies we have are seldom trustworthy. They fear the enemy more than they love us; and they dread, on their own account, to drive the Iroquois to extremity. It has been resolved, in the present strait, to erect a fortress in every seigniory, as a place of shelter for helpless people and live stock, at times when the open country is overrun with savages. As matters now stand, the arable grounds lie far apart, and are so surrounded by bush, that every thicket serves as a covert for the foe; so that an army would be needed to protect the tillers of our cleared lands."

The following year (1689) war was declared by France against England for the purpose of aiding James II. A bold project, suggested by Chevalier de Callières, of attacking the English posts at New York and Albany, was under consideration by the French authorities, when a terrible disaster fell upon the colony. The Iroquois, who for some months had been unusually tranquil, without the slightest warning, in the month of August, appeared in force near Montreal, and in one night massacred the entire population of Lachine. Two hundred persons were slaughtered or burned alive on the spot, and others, more unfortunate, were carried off to be tortured to death. The invaders also assailed and captured the fort at Montreal, and kept possession of the island till the month of October. The French, stupefied with terror, made no effort to drive off their enemies, and everywhere throughout the land the Indians held the upper hand till the approach of winter, when they retired suddenly to their settlements.

In the meantime, Frontenac, who had been re-appointed governor, was on his way out to assume the direction of affairs. His coming was hailed with joy by the terrified inhabitants, who had endured so much misery through the incapacity of the last two governors. Fresh spirit was infused into the colonists. The incursions of the Iroquois were everywhere repelled with energy. The Canadian villages were enclosed by palisades, and protected by cannon. The project of attacking the New England settlements, which had received the sanction of Louis, was now prosecuted with some success. Unhappily these successes were sullied by terrible atrocities. Helpless inhabitants of the places that fell into the hands of the invaders were butchered without mercy.

The New Englanders, who seem to have been taken by surprise by the sudden attack of Frontenac, speedily concerted measures of defence and reprisal. In 1690, a squadron of 35 sail, with 2,000 militia men on board, left Boston under command of Sir William Phipps, afterward governor of Massachusetts. The fleet captured Port Royal, (Annapolis) and other places in Nova Scotia, and on the morning of the 16th October, Quebec was summoned to surrender at discretion. Frontenac returned a haughty refusal, and the batteries opened fire upon the English ships. The strength of the defences baffled all the efforts of the besieging force, and the fleet was compelled to retire. A land expedition under Winthrop, which was to have co-operated with Phipps in the attack on Canada, returned without accomplishing anything.

During the succeeding years hostilities were continued between the French and English colonists. Each side sought to enlist as many of the savage tribes as it could, and to render the aid of these allies effective, the Indians were instructed in the use of fire-arms. The Iroquois that fell into the hands of their enemies were often cruelly burned or tortured to death, in revenge for similar atrocities practised by their own tribes. Under Frontenac's energetic direction, the Canadians were enabled to get possession of the English posts in the Hudson Bay territory.

At length, in 1697, the treaty of Ryswick put an end, for a time, to the exhausting conflict between the colonies. By this treaty France agreed to restore all places in America that had been taken during the war. The restoration of peace was welcome intelligence at Quebec. The colonists, who had ceased to till their lands and had taken refuge within the palisades of the towns from the ferocity of the savages, now ventured back to their farms.

The following year, (1698) Count de Frontenac died, at the age of 77, deeply regretted by his countrymen in New France, whom he had rescued from almost total extermination. De Callières, who had long been governor of Montreal, succeeded him.

In 1700, the French concluded a long hoped for treaty of peace with the Iroquois confederation. The treaty was solemnly confirmed at Montreal on the 4th of August, 1701. Thirteen hundred natives, the representatives of many tribes, took part in the ceremonies.

In 1703, France and England being again at war, there was as usual a renewal of hostilities between their colonies. On this occasion the French were fortunate in having the formidable Iroquois neutral by virtue of the solemn treaty of 1701. In the spring of 1711, another expedition against Canada was organized by the New England colonies, aided by British troops. The object was to capture Quebec. But the fleet was dispersed in the gulf by a storm, and many of the vessels were lost. Peace was restored by the treaty of Utrecht in 1713.

FROM THE TREATY OF UTRECHT TO THE CONQUEST—1713-1760.

Vaudreuil, who had succeeded de Callières as governor in 1703, introduced some improvements in the municipal system, and caused a census to be taken. Montreal was walled in, and the fortifications of Quebec were enlarged and strengthened. The governor earnestly called the attention of the home authorities to the weak state of the colony as contrasted with the flourishing condition of the New England provinces. In 1714, he wrote home that Canada contained but 4,484 inhabitants capable of bearing arms for its defence, in addition to 620 colonial troops. The British colonies were represented as having 69,000 males fit for war; and it was not doubted that as soon as war commenced an attempt would be made by them to achieve the conquest of Canada. Vaudreuil was succeeded in 1726 by the Marquis de Beauharnois, whose long administration of twenty-one years was for the most part peaceful. The population increased from 22,000 in 1719 to nearly 50,000 in 1744. The value of the exports in 1749 exceeded £100,000 stg. There were some petty conflicts with Indians, and there were some disputes between the governor and the intendant, Dupuis; but up to 1745 the colony enjoyed security from external assaults. In 1745 peace was again disturbed. The contest, however, was not so much on Canadian soil as in the maritime colonies. The strong fortress of Louisbourg was taken by the New Englanders, and an expedition projected against Canada. A French fleet, under the Duke d'Anville, sent to retake Louisbourg, was dispersed by terrible storms. The peace of Aix-la-Chapelle, in 1748, put an end to the conflict, and France and England mutually restored the territory acquired by either during the war.

But a warm dispute immediately commenced as to the boundaries of their respective possessions in the New World. The territory in dispute was very extensive, comprising the whole of the seaboard on the north side of the Bay of Fundy, and also the Valley of the Ohio, connecting the French possessions in Louisiana with Canada. A joint commission, French and British, was appointed to settle the dispute. A conference took place at Paris, but the commission lasted over five years without any definite result. Meanwhile the dispute in America was daily growing in violence. Each party sought to make good its pretensions by encroachments on the territory in dispute. In 1750, three English traders were arrested under the authority of the French governor in the disputed territory of the Ohio valley. Redress being withheld, reprisals were made. After some years consumed in futile negotiation, the war, generally known as the Seven Years' War, commenced. The colonial forces on both sides were reinforced from Europe. Gen. Braddock came out from England to command the militia and regulars. A strong British force, under his command, marched against Fort Duquesne, at the junction of the Ohio and Monongahela rivers; but, pressing on too eagerly, in July, 1755, the men fell into an ambuscade near the fort, and were cut to pieces. Gen. Braddock and most of the mounted officers were killed. The celebrated Gen. Washington, who was serving under Braddock at this time, wrote as follows of the disaster: "We have been beaten, shamefully beaten, by a handful of French, who only expected to obstruct our advance. Shortly before the action we thought our forces were equal to all the enemy in Canada; we have been most unexpectedly defeated, and now all is lost." On the other hand, it was not long before the French met with reverses. Baron Dieskau brought from France a large force in 1755. After some slight successes his army was defeated, and he himself wounded and taken prisoner in an attack on Col. Johnson's camp near Fort William, at the head of Lake George.

The struggle for supremacy in the New World now assumed serious proportions. War was formally declared by England and France (1756). At the urgent representation of the Canadian authorities large reinforcements were sent out. Gen. Montcalm and Gen. de Lévis came out to Canada early in the year 1755, with a considerable force, together with supplies of provisions and munitions of war. Sixteen hundred men had been sent out the previous year, and the colony furnished a thousand more. Nor was the British Government lacking in energy. Money was freely voted to arm and equip the provincial militia. Gen. Abercrombie came out from England with large reinforcements; and Lord Loudon was appointed commander-in-chief. After some minor incidents the campaign terminated unfavourably for the English. The important place called Fort Oswego, erected by the English on the south-eastern shore of Lake Ontario, surrendered to Montcalm, and fourteen hundred prisoners and a large quantity of stores fell into the hands of the French. This expedition had been planned by the Governor, Vaudreuil Cavagnal, Gen. Montcalm undertaking it apparently against his own judgment in obedience to 'the governor's orders.

The following summer passed without any important engagement. The inhabitants of Canada suffered during this period great privation from the scarcity of food. In France dissatisfaction began to be expressed at the great cost of maintaining and defending the colony. In 1758 Lord Loudon, the English commander-in-chief, who had failed to evince any military capacity, was superseded by General Abercrombie. Great efforts were made, and with complete success, to enable the English colonies to send into the field a large force of militia. The strong post of Louisbourg, in Cape Breton, fell into the hands of the British forces. In other quarters the campaign was a failure. Gen. Abercrombie led an expedition against Fort Ticonderoga (Carillon) where Montcalm was strongly entrenched. The attack on the fort, persevered in during several hours with great gallantry, was repulsed with heavy loss to the English. This misfortune was in some measure retrieved by a successful expedition against Fort Frontenac under Colonel Bradstreet. The fort was taken, together with a great quantity of stores, shipping, and several pieces of cannon. This achievement destroyed the power of the French on the great lakes.

The English were also successful in their operations in the Ohio valley. A force of regulars and militia marched against Fort Duquesne, and the commandant, despairing of being able to make a successful defence, destroyed the fort and retreated.

The following summer (1759) decided the contest. Gen. Amherst came out to replace Gen. Abercrombie. The French being now compelled to act on the defensive, endeavoured to strengthen their fortified posts. The number of males able to bear arms was estimated at 15,200, and of regular soldiers there were 5,300. Provisions were at famine prices. The farmers, having for the most part been engaged in campaigning, had been unable to cultivate their fields, whilst the scarcity of food was increased by the fraud and cupidity of certain officials intrusted with the purchase of stores, who enriched themselves at the public expense. Montcalm, who was at variance with the governor, earnestly solicited his own recall as the only reward he desired for his services. The king, reluctant to comply with this request in the critical position of Canadian affairs, recommended the general and governor to reconcile their differences, and accorded them promotion and honors.

The campaign of 1759 did not open till June, when the British forces took the field in three divisions. One under Gen. Prideaux was to attack Fort Niagara; the second, under Gen. Amherst, was to make another attempt to take Fort Ticonderoga at the outlet of Lake George; the third, under the celebrated General Wolfe, was to assault Quebec, where the other divisions of the army were to assemble after carrying out their parts of the general plan. The expedition against Fort Niagara was successful, but General Prideaux fell during the siege. The French retreated from Fort Ticonderoga and entrenched themselves at Isle aux Noix, where the British allowed them to remain unmolested during the winter.

The expedition against Quebec is that which is most memorable in the annals of Canada. The French had made every preparation in their power for the defence of the city. The buoys had been removed from the channel of the river. Fire ships were in readiness to be launched into the midst of the enemy's fleet, and booms were constructed across the river St. Charles. All the difficulties of the navigation having been overcome, the English fleet, carrying generals Wolfe, Monckton, Townshend and Murray, and a considerable army, arrived at the Island of Orleans on the 25th of June. The freshets sent against the fleet proved ineffectual. Gen. Monckton took up his position at Point Lévis, and commenced to bombard the city. Wolfe's encampment was on the left bank of the Montmorenci river. The French were entrenched in rear of Beauport. The month of July was spent by the besiegers in preparation. They carefully examined the defences, and endeavoured to find some vulnerable point. On the last day of the month Wolfe attacked Montcalm's camp, but was repulsed. It was now resolved to make the assault from above the city. Montcalm seems to have looked upon his position on this side as perfectly secure. "We need not suppose," he wrote to the governor, "that our enemies have wings to enable them in one night to cross the river, disembark, and ascend steep and rugged paths." Wolfe, however, quietly prepared for the desperate undertaking, disguising his intention from the enemy as far as possible. The landing was successfully effected during the night of the 12th of September, at the point now called Wolfe's cove. The sentinels were overpowered, and before daybreak six thousand men had silently scaled the steep bank and were drawn up on the Plains of Abraham. Montcalm hastily gathered his forces and advanced to give battle. The English awaited the onset, and when the advancing line was close at hand, fired a deadly volley which threw the French ranks into confusion. Wolfe followed up the temporary success by a charge, himself leading on the grenadiers. Soon, however, he received a mortal wound, and was carried to the rear. The French were giving way in confusion. Montcalm, while endeavouring to rally his flying troops, also fell mortally wounded. As Wolfe's last moment was fast approaching, the cry "They run! they run!" fell upon his ear. "Who run?" eagerly inquired the dying hero. "The French," was the reply. "Then I die in peace," he murmured, and immediately expired. The gallant Montcalm also died the following day.

The Citadel held out a few days, but on the 18th of September, the garrison surrendered to Gen. Townshend. The loss of the English is stated at 700, and of the French at 1500.

The announcement that Quebec had fallen was received with great joy in England and in her American colonies. Both sides prepared earnestly for the coming campaign, the result of which was hardly doubtful. The French concentrated their diminished forces with the design of retaking Quebec, which had been garrisoned for the winter with an army of seven or eight thousand men. Gen. de Lévis, who had taken command on the death of Montcalm, pitched his camp, in April, 1760, in the rear of the city, with an army of eight or nine thousand men. Gen. Murray marched out to meet him, but after a sharp encounter was forced to retire within the fortifications. A few days later, having received the reinforcements which he had been anxiously expecting from England, he forthwith compelled de Lévis to raise the siege and retreat.

The French cause in Canada was now in a desperate extremity, and the mother country was unable to send adequate assistance. The Canadian militia commenced to give in their submission to General Murray, and the regulars deserted in great numbers. Isle aux Noix, where the French had entrenched themselves the previous summer, and Forts Oswegatchie and Lévis, were the next points of attack. These forts successively passed into the hands of the English, and then the victorious armies, from Quebec, Lake Champlain and Oswego, converged on Montreal. The united strength of the beleaguering army under Gen. Amherst was 17,000 men. Resistance was hopeless, and Vaudreuil proposed a capitulation, which was agreed to and signed on the 8th of September, 1760. Thus was brought to a close the era of French dominion in Canada.

II. CANADA UNDER ENGLISH RULE.

FROM THE CONQUEST TO THE QUEBEC ACT, 1760-1774.

The Canadian people were secured by the terms of the capitulation in the free exercise of their religion. Vaudreuil and De Lévis, with the troops and the principal civil and military officers, and many of the colonists, embarked for France, where some of the officials who had been guilty of peculation and abuse of trust, were brought to trial, condemned and punished.

Peace was concluded by the Treaty of Paris signed 10th February, 1763. By this Treaty, France ceded to England the whole of her possessions in North America with some insignificant exceptions.

The Indian allies of the French did not acquiesce without a struggle in the new order of things. A vast conspiracy was hatched in 1763 by Pontiac, a noted chief of the Ottawa tribe, who was not friendly to British power. The object of the plot was nothing less than the simultaneous capture of the chain of forts extending from Lake Michigan to the Niagara. The conspiracy failed of entire success, but nine British posts were assailed, and the garrisons massacred. The Indians sustained a defeat at Dushy Run near Fort Pitt, and the garrison was relieved. Pontiac was soon forced to abandon the siege of Detroit; the Indian forces began to melt away, and the hostile tribes were glad to obtain terms, and accept the proffered friendship and protection of the new lords of the soil.

At the time of the Conquest the population numbered only 75,000 souls, including 8,000 Indians. The pages of this Directory disclose how great has been the advance during the century. It is worthy of note that now, for the first time, was a printing press used in Canada. The first number of the first newspaper—the Quebec Gazette—appeared June 21st, 1764.

The country, which now received the name of the Province of Quebec, remained for some years under military rule. Gen. Murray, after the peace, was appointed the first Governor General; Gen. Gage was in command of the Montreal District, and Col. Burton of the Three Rivers District. The Executive Council was composed of the lieutenant governors of Montreal and Three Rivers, the chief justice, the inspector general of customs, and eight of the leading inhabitants of the colony.

In 1766, Gen. Carleton, afterwards Lord Dorchester, was appointed Governor General. Gen. Carleton, who had taken a prominent part in the capture of Quebec, continued to be connected with Canada for six and thirty years.

The French Canadians, who constituted the immense majority of the inhabitants, soon began to express dissatisfaction at the continuance of military rule. The administration of the civil law was defective. The barristers and judges not understanding French, the people were under the necessity of carrying on their lawsuits in the English language. Memorials were addressed to the Crown by the discontented majority. In 1770, the Governor went to England to give testimony respecting the affairs of the province. The result of the inquiry was the passing of the "Quebec Act" by the English Parliament in 1774, for reconstructing the government of the Province of Quebec. This measure provided for the free exercise of the Roman Catholic religion by the French Canadians, subject to the king's supremacy, and that the clergy of the church of Rome might "hold, receive and enjoy their accustomed dues and rights, with respect to such persons only as shall profess the said religion." It further provided that "in all matters of controversy relative to property and civil rights, resort shall be had to the laws of Canada, as the rule for the decision of the same." The Act confirmed the criminal law of England as the law to be administered in the province. It further provided for the establishment of a Legislative Council, to consist of residents appointed by the king, not exceeding 23, nor less than 17, in number. Thus, by express provisions of the Legislature of the mother country, the inhabitants of the conquered territory were secured in the enjoyment of their civil rights the free exercise of their religion, and the protection of their own civil laws and customs. This liberality to the French Canadians was displeasing to the British residents, and was denounced by the Congress of the other American colonies which met in Philadelphia in September; but it was highly acceptable to the Canadian clergy, as well as to the principal inhabitants of the colony.

FROM THE QUEBEC ACT TO THE DIVISION OF THE PROVINCE. 1774-1791.

The colonies which had so recently exerted themselves for the extension of British rule in North America were now on the point of offering armed resistance to the mother country. The same year in which the Quebec Act became law, Canada received an invitation to send representatives to Philadelphia to concert measures of union and defence. But if the French Canadians disliked the British, who had recently come amongst them, they hated and distrusted their fellow colonists in New England much more; and the Congress had indiscreetly increased this distrust by its denunciation of the Quebec Act. "Nor can we suppress our astonishment," it had been declared in a document addressed to the people of Great Britain, "that a British Parliament should ever consent to establish in that colony (Canada) a religion that often drenched your island in blood, and has disseminated impiety, bigotry, persecution, murder and rebellion, through every part of the world." Canada, therefore, with this document before it, shewed no disposition to take part in the Congress. The following year coercive measures were resorted to by the latter. Gen. Arnold led an army against Quebec, and Generals Montgomery and Schuyler against Montreal. There were few British troops in the province, and the invaders advanced without much difficulty over large tracts of the country. The forts of Ticonderoga and Crown Point, on Lake Champlain; and Isle aux Noix, St. Johns, Chambly and Sorel, fell into the hands of Montgomery. The Americans still hoped that the Canadians would make common cause with them. A conciliatory address to the people was issued and widely circulated. The sympathizers with the revolutionary cause were, in truth, not few, and the ranks of the invading army were daily swelled by deserters. The French Canadians refused to take up arms with the revo-tionists, but they likewise refused, for the most part, to bear arms against them. The British population was very small. Montreal could make no effectual resistance, and presently Quebec was the only place that held the enemy in check. The strength of its defences saved the city, and probably the colony. Carleton, with only sixteen hundred men, of whom six hundred were militia, was able to repel all attacks. General Montgomery fell in an unsuccessful assault upon Quebec made on the 31st of December.

In the spring of 1776, the English received reinforcements. The American army, weakened by disease, fell back to Three Rivers. Governor Carleton pursued and captured the enemy's stores and artillery. The retreat was continued to Sorel, which was also retaken by the English troops; and the expulsion of the invading forces was speedily completed. The colonies in revolt now made fresh efforts to detach the Canadians from their allegiance. Franklin and others were sent as special commissioners. The offers were now more liberal: the Roman Catholic religion was to be respected, and the people allowed to govern themselves. But, on the other hand, the French Canadians had already got entire freedom of worship, and the protection of their ancient laws. They had almost all they desired, and refused to put in jeopardy the privileges already secured to them. The American colonies, though successful in shaking off their connection with the mother country, were unable to bring Canada into the Union, and on the recognition of American Independence on the 3rd of September, 1783, Canada remained a colony of Great Britain.

A large number of persons throughout the new confederation, who had remained faithful to the royal cause, being now treated with great severity by the American government, emigrated, and settled in Canada and the other British colonies, but chiefly in the western parts of Canada, now the Province of Ontario. The number of the United Empire Loyalists, as they were termed, that settled in Canada, is estimated at ten thousand. Their property had been confiscated, but by the liberality of the British government large sums were applied to their relief, and each of them received as a free gift from 200 to 5,500 acres of land in Canada or some other colony. Many of them endured great hardships in thus leaving their homes to begin life anew, but by their energy and enterprise they gave much valuable aid in developing the resources of the country.

There was now a growing agitation in the Province of Quebec for a representative system of government. The French Canadians, it is true, had been admitted from the first into the Legislative Council, but they were not in a majority there, whereas in an elective chamber they must almost necessarily have a very large majority. One of the most prominent agitators for a representative form of government was Du Calvet, a French Protestant, who was accused of aiding the insurgents during the revolutionary war. He strenuously advocated an elective assembly, and also the representation of Canada by six members in the British Parliament.

In 1785, Lord Dorchester returned to Canada as Governor General, Sir Frederik Haldimand who had held the office since 1778, having solicited his own recall. Notwithstanding the popularity of Lord Dorchester, discontent generally prevailed. At length, after petitions and counter-petitions had been canvassed for years, and transmitted to Britain, in 1793, the draft of a new constitution was sent to Lord Dorchester by Lord Granville, the colonial minister. By this it was proposed to divide the Province of Quebec into two—the Province of Upper Canada and the Province of Lower Canada. Each section was to have a Legislative Council and Assembly. "This separation I hope," said Mr. Pitt, then Chancellor of the Exchequer, will put an end to the competition between the old French inhabitants and the new settlers from Britain and the British colonies." The Upper Province was to give a great majority to the one nationality, and the Lower Province to the other. All taxes were to be imposed and the money disbursed under the control of the Legislature of each section.

The division of the Province was contrary to the advice of Lord Dorchester, but the measure finally became law in 1791. The Act provided that the Legislative Council of Lower Canada should be composed of not fewer than fifteen, and that of Upper Canada of not fewer than seven persons. Members were to hold their seats for life. The number of members to be elected to the Legislative Assembly of Upper Canada was not to be less than sixteen, and of Lower Canada not less than fifty. The Council and Assembly were to be called together at least once in every year: the Assembly to be elected for four years.

During the 30 years that the colony had been under British rule, the population had doubled in number. In 1761, it was about 70,000 souls, now it was over 135,000, of whom 120,000 were French Canadians. The inhabitants of the new Province of Upper Canada numbered only 10,000, and were nearly all of British origin. Within 80 years, however, the preponderance of population has been reversed, the inhabitants of the Upper Province now outnumbering by hundreds of thousands those of the other section.

FROM THE DIVISION OF THE PROVINCE TO THE UNION.

The first elections in Lower Canada under the new form of government took place in June, 1792. Fifty members were returned. Fifteen persons had been nominated legislative councillors. The Legislature was opened on the 17th of December by Gen. Clarke, (in the absence of Lord Dorchester) and sat till May, 1793. A contest took place at the opening of the Legislature as to the election of a speaker, and as to the language in which business should be conducted. Mr. Panet, the French candidate, was elected by 23 to 18, and it was resolved that the minutes, &c., be recorded in both languages. The revenue of the Lower Province was this year only $25,000.

The Parliament of Upper Canada met at Newark (Niagara) on the 17th of September, 1792, and was opened by Lieut. Gov. Simcoe. The Council numbered 7, and the Assembly 16. The Legislature in its first session passed an act introducing the English law "as the rule of decision in all matters of controversy relative to property and civil rights." The second act introduced trial by jury. The eighth and last act gave the names of "Eastern, Midland, Home and Western" to the four districts into which the province had been divided by Lord Dorchester in 1788. These divisions were afterward abolished in 1849. The following session (1793) the Legislature of Upper Canada abolished slavery. The owners of slaves then in the Province were to keep their rights, but the children born of female slaves were to become free at 25 years of age. In 1803, it was decided by Chief Justice Osgoode that slavery was incompatible with the laws of Lower Canada. In 1796, the seat of government of Upper Canada was removed from Niagara to York (Toronto) by Gov. Simcoe.

Lord Dorchester, who had been a faithful friend of Canada for more than thirty years, was succeeded in 1796 by Gen. Prescott. The country was now enjoying repose and steadily advancing in wealth and importance.

The bitterness which had previously existed between the French Canadians and British inhabitants of Lower Canada was now considerably moderated. This will be evident from the remarks of M. Pléssis, parish priest of Quebec, in his funeral oration over Bishop Briand. "Our conquerors," he said, "regarded at first with a jealous eye and lowering brow, inspired in us feelings only of detestation and aversion. We could not be persuaded that a race of men strangers to our soil, to our language, and to our worship, could ever be willing to render to Canada an equivalent for what it lost by changing its masters. Generous nation, that has made us aware, by so many proofs, how ill founded were our prepossessions. Pardon us then, for that our first (and now past) distrustfulness of a foreign race, whose virtues, not being then experienced by us, we had not the happiness to know." &c.

Sir R. S. Milnes succeeded Prescott as lieutenant governor of Lower Canada in 1799, and remained in office till 1805. On his retirement, the Hon. Thomas Dunn acted as administrator until 1807. Le Canadien newspaper, entirely in French, was first issued in November, 1806.

The relations between England and the United States at this time were beginning to cause no little disquietude and uneasiness. Mr. Dunn called out the militia of Lower Canada, and the response was prompt and satisfactory, and gave an emphatic contradiction to the reports which had been diligently spread, that the Canadians were only waiting for the approach of the invading army to flock to its standard. At this critical time Sir James Craig, a military officer, came out as Governor General, and remained till 1811. Sir James did not become popular with the French Canadians. It was a time of great irritation and disquietude. The Governor issued a general order exhorting the people to be on their guard against treasonable designs, and directing all militia men to watch attentively the actions of aliens amongst them. Col. Panet and other officers were dismissed from the militia on the charge of exciting discord and animosity between the two classes of British subjects. The Assembly, in 1808, adopted a bill by twenty-two to two excluding judges from seats in Parliament. The Legislative Council rejected the measure, and the Governor approved their course. The following session the Assembly engaged in discussions on constitutional questions, and was dissolved by the Governor after a session of five weeks, on the ground that the House was neglecting the matters submitted for its consideration, and wasting the time in fruitless debates. The new Parliament met in 1810, and forthwith proceeded to declare that it was an infringement of parliamentary privileges for the governor to censure the acts of the Assembly. The House also sought to bring the government officials under its control by offering to assume the payment of their salaries. The Assembly further demanded that a budget should be presented to it showing in detail all the estimated expenditure for the succeeding year. The Council and Assembly were at variance on the question of excluding Judge de Bonne. The Assembly passed a resolution that a judge of the Court of King's Bench could not sit or vote in the House. The Governor declared that he felt bound to oppose this assumption, and prorogued the Legislature. Proceedings were instituted against the proprietors and editors of Le Canadien for disseminating treasonable publications, and several of the opposition leaders were arrested. The Governor's health began to fail. The distrust and opposition he encountered at every step from a portion of the French Canadians awakened his indignation. "Base and daring fabricators of falsehood!" he exclaimed in an address to the Canadians, March 21st, "What do you know of me or my intentions? Canadians, ask the heads of your Church, who have opportunities of knowing me. These are men of honor and knowledge, from whom you ought to seek information and advice. The leaders of faction, the demagogues of a party, associate not with me; they cannot know me. For what purpose should I oppress you? Is it to serve the king? Is it for myself, then, that I should oppress you? Is it from ambition? What can you give me? Is it for power? Alas! my good friends, with a life now ebbing slowly to its period under the pressure of disease contracted in the service of my country, I look only to pass what it may please God to suffer to remain of it, in the comfort of retirement among my friends. I remain among you only in obedience to the commands of my Sovereign."

In his letters to Lord Liverpool he drew a dark picture of the discord and enmity between French and British colonists, and suggested that it would be better, rather than leave matters as they were, to unite the two Provinces. In the session of 1810-11, the bill for excluding judges of the King's Bench from seats in the Assembly was again carried, and this time it received the Royal sanction. Shortly afterward Sir James Craig returned to England in consequence of ill health, and died the same year. Mr. Dunn assumed the administration of the government for a short time. Then Sir George Prevost, who had been lieutenant governor of Nova Scotia, was transferred to Canada. Under his conciliatory policy, much of the irritation and animosity between the two nationalities was removed.

The war which had long been apprehended between Great Britain and the United States commenced the following year. M. Pléssis, the Roman Catholic Bishop, profited by this occasion to claim the restoration of the rights and status of the Church as they existed in Canada before the conquest. The Legislature of Lower Canada passed an act empowering the Governor General, in case of invasion, to embody the whole militia of the country, and also voted £15,000 per annum for five years toward defraying the expenses of defending the Province. The Legislature of Upper Canada also passed measures for the defence of the Province and for raising and training the militia. The population of Upper Canada had increased at this date to 89,000, and that of the Lower Province to 200,000.

Success attended the first steps taken against the enemy by the British forces in Canada. Fort Michilimackinac, situated on the island of the same name, in the strait between Lakes Huron and Michigan, was captured, and an American force, under Gen. Hull, which had crossed over from Detroit, was forced to retire. Gen. Brock, commander of the forces in Upper Canada, on the 11th of August advanced on Detroit. Hull, the American general, capitulated, and 2,500 prisoners, and thirty-three pieces of cannon, fell into the hands of the English general.

Another attempt was made to invade the Province in October. A crossing was effected above Queenston on the night of the 12th. The following morning Gen. Brock was engaged in opposing the crossing of the Americans near the village, when the body that had already crossed above took possession of Queenston Heights. The British general immediately led a force to regain possession of the Heights, but while gallantly advancing to the attack he was struck down by a ball. Gen. Sheaffe took command, and the attack was continued with so much determination that the enemy was dislodged with great loss. The English were every where completely victorious. A subsequent attack made in November, was also repelled. In Lower Canada the invading force, under Gen. Dearborn, retired without accomplishing anything. The campaign proved favorable to England, and the Canadian militia gained some renown.

Hostilities were resumed early the following year. The Indians, under the command of their gallant chief, Tecumseh, gave valuable aid to the British forces. One of the most notable events of the campaign was the battle of Chateaugay. An American army of 3500, under Gen. Hampton, was on the way from Lake Champlain to Montreal. A thousand Canadian militia under Colonel de Salaberry opposed their progress at the junction of the Outarde and Chateaugay rivers. A battle ensued in which the Americans were defeated and forced to retreat. Meanwhile the enemy, who had gained some successes in Upper Canada, was concentrating his forces to co-operate with Gen. Hampton in the attack on Montreal. While on the way down the St Lawrence, Gen. Wilkinson, the American commander, landed part of his troops under Gen. Covington to give battle to a small Canadian force under Col. Morrison, that had been sent to intercept the invaders. A battle was fought at Chrysler's Farm, county of Dundas, where the Americans, though three times as numerous as the force opposed to them, were completely routed, and their general killed. The defeat of Hampton at Chateaugay, and of Wilkinson at Chrysler's Farm, led the Americans to abandon their design on Montreal.

In March of the following year (1814), the Americans were defeated at Lacolle, and their depot at Oswego was destroyed. The English failed in an attack on Sackett's harbour, and were forced to retreat at Chippewa. A hard fought battle took place at Lundy's Lane near Niagara Falls, after which the enemy retreated during the night to Chippewa. The war was subsequently terminated by the Treaty of Ghent, 24th December, 1814.

About the time peace was restored the Legislature of Lower Canada met at Quebec. The political discussions which had ceased during the war now commenced afresh. M. L. J. Papineau was chosen Speaker in the place of M. Panet, who was nominated a member of the Legislative Council. The elder Papineau had long been one of the most prominent champions of French Canadian nationality, and his son, the new Speaker, was destined to become the greatest agitator of his time.

Sir George Prévoſt, who had been regarded by the French Canadians as their firm friend, went home at the close of the war to defend himself against some charges that had been made against his conduct of military affairs during the last campaign. He died shortly after his arrival in London. Sir Gordon Drummond administered the government for a short time, when he was succeeded in 1816 by Sir John C. Sherbrooke, ex-governor of Nova Scotia, who, like Sir George Prévoſt, endeavoured to gain the good will, or at least remove the animosity, of the French Canadian majority. M. Pleſſis, the Bishop, was invited to take a seat at the Council board, with the reservation that the right should not extend to his successors. A similar honor was conferred on M. Papineau. The principal topic of discussion now was the Estimates. The Legislative Assembly claimed the right of controlling the entire expenditure. In Upper Canada a similar discussion was proceeding.

Another subject that engrossed much attention was the Clergy Reserves. A large amount of territory had been reserved by the Imperial Act of 1701 for the support of the Protestant clergy. The lands had been appropriated exclusively to the support of the Church of England in Canada. At first, they had yielded no revenue, the rents being insufficient to cover the expenses of management. They remained in the hands of government, and the only money paid to the Church of England up to 1821 was a sum of £427 in 1816. Other bodies of Protestants began to lay claim to a share of the fund, and addresses were passed by the Houses of Assembly recommending the distribution of the money among all denominations. The subject was not finally disposed of till 1855, when, after certain provision had been made for the widows and orphans of deceased clergymen, and for securing the incomes then enjoyed, the rest of the fund was applied to municipal purposes. The colony, notwithstanding these political discussions, was in a highly prosperous condition, and the great majority of the people, busy and contented, took little interest in the debates on constitutional questions.

In 1818, Sir J. C. Sherbrooke was permitted to retire from office, and the Duke of Richmond came out as Governor. His administration was brief; being bitten by a fox, he died of hydrophobia, August, 1819. The Earl of Dalhousie succeeded him. The struggle of the Assembly on the question of voting the supplies continued. Between the Legislative Council, of which the majority of members were British, and the Legislative Assembly, composed almost exclusively of French Canadians, there was continual strife and animosity. The Assembly objected, in particular, to vote the salaries of certain obnoxious officials.

A Bill for the union of the two Provinces was introduced into the Imperial Parliament in 1822, but thrown out on the second reading. When the French Canadians learned that this Bill had been introduced by the government, they loudly denounced the project. The people of Upper Canada were not in favour of it, and when the Lower Canadian Assembly met in January, 1823, it forthwith passed resolutions condemning the Bill, and Messrs. Papineau and Nelson were dispatched to London to protest against it. The project was therefore abandoned for a time.

Meanwhile, the dispute on the question of voting the supplies continued more fiercely than ever. In 1827 the Lower Canada Assembly again stopped the supplies, as they had done for several years previously. Lord Dalhousie prorogued the Chambers the next day. A new parliament was summoned, which elected M. Papineau to be Speaker. The Governor disapproved of the selection, and requested the House to propose some one else. The House, refusing to comply, was immediately prorogued. The House of Commons appointed a committee that reported at length on the state of Canadian affairs, but no definite action was taken. Sir James Kempt, from Nova Scotia, replaced Lord Dalhousie in Lower Canada, and Sir John Colborne came out to Upper Canada.

Matters were becoming more serious. In Upper Canada there was a strong republican element that looked with admiration at the rapid growth of the neighboring states. The fact that the leading positions in the government were held by a small number of officials and their family connexions was another cause of much dissatisfaction. In Lower Canada there was the ancient hostility of race. Concessions which, if made in time, would have allayed the discontent, were withheld. In the Lower Canadian House of Assembly 92 resolutions condemning the government for their management of affairs, for the exclusion of the French Canadians from office, and setting forth other matters of complaint, were introduced and passed in the spring of 1834. The Imperial government in 1835 sent out a commission to inquire into the grievances complained of. The report of the commission was submitted to Parliament in 1837, but the majority of the House of Commons was opposed to most of the demands of the Lower Canadian opposition. The Imperial Act of 1791 had authorized the establishment of Church of England rectories in the parishes of Canada. Under the authority of this act, fifty-seven rectories were established in Upper Canada by Sir John Colborne in 1836. This act caused increased excitement. Steps were taken by the leaders of the malcontents to enrol the disaffected. In this their success was not great, for few of the common people were disposed to take up arms to enforce the demands made by their leaders. The clergy, and all the most prudent and moderate chiefs of the opposition, strongly opposed any resort to violence. Some of the more violent agitators, however, could not be restrained. The first outbreak occurred in Montreal on the 7th of November, 1837, when the "Sons of Liberty," an organization of young men of Montreal, assailed a body of volunteers in the street. In the course of the month, several encounters took place between the insurgents and the military at St. Denis, St. Charles, St. Eustache, and other points. At St. Denis, the British troops, being few in number, were repulsed; but at St. Charles, the rebels were routed with great slaughter by a detachment under Col. Wetherall. At St. Eustache also, the loss of the insurgents was very heavy. In Upper Canada, the insurgents, under the command of W. L. Mackenzie, were defeated near Toronto by a force of volunteers commanded by Sir F. B. Head. The Earl of Durham, the new Governor General, came out with special powers to inquire into the state of Canadian affairs. The constitution of Lower Canada had been suspended and a special council appointed. The Governor reported strongly in favour of the union of the provinces, but some acts of his administration being censured in the House of Lords, he was recalled. Before the rebellion was finally suppressed, several attempts were made to invade Canada from the American frontier by sympathizers on the other side, but these attempts were all speedily defeated. The subsequent risings were punished with greater severity than the first, a number of the leading rebels being executed under sentence of court martial, and many more transported. Some of the chief instigators of revolt, however, escaped. Mackenzie, Papineau, and others were, some years later, permitted to return to Canada, and obtained seats in the Legislative Assembly.

The insurrection being at an end, the project of uniting the two Canadas was urged on by the British ministry. The Right Hon. C. P. Thompson, an eminent merchant, (afterwards Lord Sydenham) came out as Governor General (1839). The assent of the Special Council of Lower Canada, and of the Legislature of Upper Canada, was obtained to the measure. A bill was drafted and sent to England by Lord Sydenham, and passed in 1840. The Union took effect by royal proclamation on the 10th of February, 1841.

FROM THE UNION TO CONFEDERATION—1841-1867.

Canada was now fully under "Responsible Government," the ministry having seats in the Legislature, and holding office so long only as they enjoyed the confidence of a majority of the members of the Lower House. The Local Legislatures were abolished. Upper and Lower Canada were represented by an equal number of members in the Legislative Assembly of Canada. To the House was conceded also entire control over the expenditure. The Legislative Councillors were to be appointed by the Crown for life.

The first United Parliament was opened at Kingston in June, 1841. In September of that year, Lord Sydenham, who had been a very able and popular Governor, died from the effects of a fall from his horse. Sir Charles Bagot then came out as Governor General, and held office till 1843. In 1844, the seat of government was removed from Kingston to Montreal. Lord Metcalfe administered the government from 1843 to 1845. Being then obliged to retire in consequence of ill health, he was succeeded by Lord Cathcart, who held office till 1847, when the Earl of Elgin was appointed Governor. The administration of this able statesman was prosperous and satisfactory. Some agitation occurred during his term of office respecting the "Rebellion Losses Bill," for indemnifying persons who had sustained loss during the insurrection of 1837-8. Violent opposition was made to this measure, which was considered by many to be too liberal as well as too indiscriminate. Lord Elgin, after assenting to the Bill, was hooted and pelted in the streets of Montreal, and the Parliament buildings were set on fire by the mob, and a large amount of property, including the library and valuable records, was destroyed. The seat of government was afterwards removed to Toronto.

The succeeding years were years of steady progress and prosperity. A few events only will be noted here, but historical details respecting various subjects will be found under other headings. In 1850, a free banking law was passed. In 1851, five cent postage was introduced. In 1853, the Legislative Assembly was increased from eighty-four to one hundred and thirty members, six-fifths from each section of the Province. In 1858, the decimal system of currency was adopted. Sir Edmund Head succeeded Lord Elgin in 1854 and continued in office till 1860. In 1855, the Clergy Reserves question was settled by the Legislature, and Seigniorial Tenure in Lower Canada was abolished. In 1856, the elective principle was applied to the Legislative Council, and it became an elective chamber. It was to be composed of the members appointed by the Crown before the 14th of July, 1856, and of forty-eight members elected for forty-eight electoral divisions, into which the Province was divided. In 1858, Ottawa was selected by the Queen as the permanent seat of government, and Parliament buildings were erected there. In 1859-60, the Statutes of the Province were consolidated into three volumes, one volume containing the Acts relating to all Canada, and the other two volumes embracing the Statutes relating to Upper and Lower Canada respectively. In 1860, the British Provinces were visited by the Prince of Wales. Whilst in Canada the Prince inaugurated the Victoria Bridge and laid the cornerstone of the Parliamentary buildings at Ottawa. The seizure of Mason and Slidell on board the British steamer Trent towards the close of 1861, and the prospect of a war between England and the United States, caused intense excitement throughout Canada and prompted the organization and enrolment of numerous bodies of volunteer militia. These corps in later years have twice done good service (1866, 1870) in repelling incursions of Fenian marauders. In 1865-6, the Civil Code of Lower Canada, the compilation of which had been entrusted to three commissioners several years before was completed and promulgated. In 1864, great difficulty was experienced in carrying on the government. The majority of Lower Canadian members and the majority of Upper Canadian members were arrayed on opposite sides of the House, and the two parties were very evenly balanced. The number of members in the Legislative Assembly was the same for each section of the Province, and although the population of Upper Canada now greatly exceeded that of Lower Canada, the Lower Canadian members opposed the concession of any increase of representation to Upper Canada, because at the time of the Union, the representation had been thus settled notwithstanding the fact that at that time the population of Lower Canada was by far the largest. The demand for "Representation according to Population" was now every year becoming more urgent on the part of Upper Canada. A project for uniting the British North American Provinces under one Confederation had been before the country from time to time for eighty years, and more especially from the date of Lord Durham's administration. The desire to carry out this scheme induced some of the leaders of the Upper Canada opposition to form a coalition with the Lower Canadian majority. A government was thus formed, pledged to introduce the federal system. After conference with the other Provinces, Confederation was carried, to take effect 1st of July, 1867. The Act of Union will be found in this volume. The construction of an Intercolonial Railway was one of the stipulations of the Confederation Act, and this is now in course of construction.

DOMINION OF CANADA.

DESCRIPTION OF ONTARIO AND QUEBEC.

The Provinces of Ontario and Quebec extend in an easterly direction from near the Red River settlement to the Gulf of St. Lawrence, and from Michigan to New Brunswick. They extend northward from the Canadian lakes and the St. Lawrence to the high ridge of land which separates the rivers of Canada from those of the territory hitherto known as the Hudson Bay territory, but now forming a part of the Dominion of Canada.

The provinces are bounded north by the Hudson Bay territory; east by the Gulf of St. Lawrence; south by the States of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, and New York, and Lakes Erie and Ontario; and west by Lakes St. Clair, Huron and Superior, and the north west Indian territories.

The area cannot be accurately stated, as the northern and western boundaries have not yet been surveyed. The nearest approximation is 331,250 square miles, of which 121,200 are included in the Province of Ontario, and 210,020 in the Province of Quebec.

The principal rivers are the St. Lawrence, which drains an area of 565,000 square miles; the Ottawa, 450 miles long, which forms a central boundary between the two sections of the province; the St. Maurice, nearly 400 miles in length; the Saguenay noted for its fine scenery; the Richelieu, the Niagara, and others. The Province of Ontario has for its southern and western boundaries five great lakes—Superior, Huron and Georgian Bay, St. Clair, Erie, and Ontario, of which the total length is 1,095 miles, and area 80,000 square miles. In some parts of the Province of Quebec, especially in the Eastern Townships, the scenery is extremely picturesque. In the Province of Ontario the surface is undulating rather than mountainous. A main water shed separates the waters of the St. Lawrence from those of the Ottawa.

The system of inland navigation is the most extensive and perfect in the world. The statistics given under separate heads will convey some idea of the extent of railway communication; of the agricultural and mineral wealth; the volume of trade, and the vast resources and general prosperity of the provinces.

SKETCH OF THE HISTORY OF NOVA SCOTIA.

I. From its discovery to 1784.

Nova Scotia, up to the year 1784, included the Province now called New Brunswick, and it also formerly included part of the present state of Maine, the whole being known under the name of Acadie. This was the term used in the original commission of the king of France, and is found in public documents as far back as 1604. The country was discovered by Sebastian Cabot in 1493, but may have been noticed by John Cabot in his voyage the previous year. A few years after the discovery by Cabot, French fishermen from Basque and Bretagne arrived at a promontory of an island to the southwest, and named it Cape Breton. This name was afterward applied to the whole island, which now forms part of Nova Scotia.

In 1518, Baron de Léry, an adventurous Frenchman, anxious that France should have a share in the newly discovered territories, proposed to found a settlement in Acadie. He accordingly set sail with a company of settlers, but owing to tempestuous weather and other adverse circumstances, the enterprise miscarried, and the expedition was abandoned. In 1530 Cape Breton was resorted to by persons from England. In 1598, the Marquis de la Roche made an attempt to colonize the country by convicts. Fearing to set his settlers free on the mainland, he first landed forty of them on Sable Island, a spot ill suited to support life. But when the Marquis attempted to return to the island from the mainland, his ship was driven by a storm to France. There he was immediately taken prisoner, in a civil war then raging, and it was not till five years had elapsed that the wretched survivors, twelve in number, were rescued from their miserable position.

No further attempt was made till about 1603 when Sieur Dupont Gravé, a merchant of St. Malo, lured by the prospect of gain, sought to obtain a monopoly of the fur traffic in Canada and Acadie. With the assistance of de Chaste, governor of Dieppe, a company of Rouen merchants was organized, and an expedition fitted out and placed under the command of Champlain. In 1603, Champlain sailed up the St. Lawrence as far as the Lacine rapids; and Henry IV of France was so well pleased with the result of the expedition, that he granted to M. de Monts, a Huguenot, who succeeded to de Chaste on the death of the latter, a monopoly of the fur traffic in all parts of North America lying between Cape Race, in Newfoundland, and the 50th degree of north latitude. The second expedition under de Monts sailed in March, 1604. Part of the expedition went on to Canada, but de Monts remained at Acadie. This was considered the finest country of La Nouvelle France. It possessed fine ports, a fertile soil, and a temperate and salubrious climate. The Micmac Indians, a branch of the Algonquin family, who then inhabited the country, received the French with kindness. De Monts landed first at Port Rossignol, now called Liverpool, and afterward coasted the peninsula as far as the Bay of Fundy. The expedition also stopped at Port Royal, now called Annapolis, where Baron de Poutrincourt, a companion of de Monts, formed a settlement. De Monts sailed on round the bay, and discovered the River St. John. He finally wintered on a rocky islet at the mouth of the St. Croix. Thirty-six of the party died of scurvy during the winter. In spring de Monts went farther south. During his absence, Dupont Gravé arrived from France with supplies and forty additional colonists, and on the return of de Monts, the entire body set out for Port Royal, where they began to establish a settlement. In this work, the celebrated Lescarbot, a friend of Poutrincourt, is said to have afforded much valuable assistance. Under his guidance the colonists constructed a variety of apparatus and machines which were very useful to them in their new settlement. But unexpected misfortunes led to the abandonment of the colony. A marauding party of Dutchmen from the New Netherlands seized a whole year's stores of peltries; and, some months later, the merchants of St. Malo, jealous of the monopoly of the fur traffic enjoyed by the Rouen company, succeeded in getting de Monts' charter revoked. In 1607, Poutrincourt, Lescarbot and the other colonists abandoned the settlement at Port Royal, and returned to France.

Three years later, Poutrincourt, the governor, who had obtained a grant of Port Royal from de Monts, which had been confirmed by the king, returned with a number of skilled artisans and resumed his labors. But the Jesuits, after the assassination of Henry IV., having succeeded in effecting an entrance into the country, and having founded a settlement of their own at St. Sauveur, dissensions sprang up which eventually led to the abandonment of the colony a second time; and many of the Huguenot settlers withdrew from the country in disgust. The colonists of Virginia also interfered, claiming Acadie for Britain by right of discovery. Captain Argall, from Virginia, following up this pretension, appeared suddenly before St. Sauveur, the Jesuit settlement, founded by La Saussage, and carried the place by storm. The government of Virginia subsequently resolved to expel the French from every point south of the 45th parallel of north latitude, including the central region of Acadie; and Sir Samuel Argall, with three armed vessels, was commissioned to carry out the resolution. Port Royal was captured and destroyed in 1613, the colonists were dispersed, and Poutrincourt returned to France. This is stated to have been the first conflict between English and French in the new world.

The Virginians, however, soon left Acadie. In 1621, Sir William Alexander obtained from James I. of England a grant of the territory lying to the east of a line drawn from the St. Croix to the St. Lawrence. The land was called Nova Scotia in the patent. In 1623, Sir William sent a body of colonists to begin a settlement. Arriving late in the season, they were obliged to winter in Newfoundland. In 1623, they reached Cape Sable, but finding the French in possession of the places they intended to occupy, they returned to Britain.

In 1624, Charles I. granted a large extent of land in Nova scouts to a number of persons who were created "baronets of Nova Scotia." The object was to promote the colonization of the country, each baronet receiving 10,000 acres of land, and being bound to send out six settlers. In 1623, Port Royal was taken by Sir David Kertk, a Huguenot officer in the English service. The following year, Sir William Alexander ceded part of his territory to Claude de la Tour, a French prisoner who had married an English lady. At this time the French still held possession of Cape Sable and other places in the south. De la Tour was sent to take possession of Acadie, but his son, who held one of the forts, refused to give it up. A few years later, by the Treaty of St. Germain en Laye, in 1632, Charles I. renounced the pretensions that had been put forward to Acadie by his subjects, and possession of the colony was confirmed to France. It was now divided into three provinces, of which the governors were de Razillai, young de la Tour, and Denys. Razillai was succeeded in 1635, by Charnizay. Disputes now commenced between de la Tour and Charnizay as to the bounds of their respective territories. Louis XIII. interfered, and in 1638, defined the boundaries anew; but de la Tour would not submit, and for several years a fierce struggle was carried on. Finally, in 1645, Charnizay, in the absence of de la Tour, assaulted the fort of his enemy. Madame de la Tour made a gallant defence, and obtained favorable terms of capitulation. But Charnizay, mortified at finding the band of defenders so small, treacherously hanged all but one. Madame de la Tour died soon afterward. Charnizay was then named chief governor of Acadie. On the death of Charnizay in 1650, de la Tour returned. In 1651, he married Charnizay's widow, and claimed Nova Scotia, as his right; but he was soon assailed by a creditor of Charnizay, named La Borgue, who destroyed the settlement of La Hève. Before the contest was decided an enemy from without interfered. Cromwell, who was now Protector of England, sent out an expedition in 1654, under Colonel Sedgwick who defeated both de la Tour and la Borgue, and made himself master of all the strong posts in the colony. De la Tour appealed to Cromwell for redress. His claim was allowed, and Cromwell granted to him and two English gentlemen the greater part of Acadie. The rights of de la Tour were afterwards purchased by the other proprietors; but in 1667, by the Treaty of Breda, Acadie was again transferred to France.

During these vicissitudes, little had been done by either English or French towards the development and improvement of the country. In 1685, the population was reported to be about nine hundred. The French establishments were so ill protected that a band of pirates, numbering only one hundred and ten, captured Pentagoet, the headquarters Gov. Chambly.

In 1690, when the Canadians and New Englanders were engaged in hostilities, Port Royal surrendered to Admiral Phipps from Massachusetts, and other Acadian posts were captured by Col. Church. The British remained masters of the greater part of Acadie till 1696, when it was once more restored to France by the Treaty of Ryswick. M. de Villebon, who was governor at this time, having died July, 1700, Brouillon succeeded.

War being declared against France at the beginning of Queen Anne's reign, the possession of Acadie was again disputed. The New Englanders organized another expedition for its conquest in 1707. On the sixth of June of that year, a squadron of two ships of war, and twenty-three transports carrying 2000 men, appeared before Port Royal. The fortifications being well manned and defended, the attack was repulsed; but in 1710, Port Royal was forced to surrender to another colonial expedition under Gen. Nicholson, and the loss of Acadie was involved in the surrender. The power of France being weakened by protracted war, she was compelled by the Treaty of Utrecht, in 1713, to cede to Britain not only Acadie, but also all her pretensions to Newfoundland and the Hudson Bay Territory. The Island of Cape Breton, however, was retained by the French, and after the loss of Nova Scotia they began to construct fortifications at Louisbourg, at a cost of more than one million sterling, as a protection to their Canadian possessions. The Island became an important fishing station, and Louisbourg continued to be the capital for many years.

France having declared war against England in 1744, Gov. Shirley, of Massachusetts, formed the design of taking Louisbourg, though the fortress was supposed to be almost impregnable. New Hampshire, Connecticut, New York, and other colonies furnished troops, provisions and munitions of war. The expedition, which was placed under the command of General Pepperell, sailed from Boston, and arrived at Canseau on the 5th of April, 1745. Here it was joined by some English ships under Admiral Warren. A landing was effected in rear of the town early in May, and the siege commenced. Preparations had been made for an assault, when the French governor, Duchambean, capitulated on the 16th of June. The garrison marched out with the honors of war. An immense booty, valued at a million sterling, fell into the hands of the victors. The Canadians, in great alarm at the conquest of this stronghold, sent to France for help, and a formidable expedition was sent out the following year under the command of the Duke D'Anville, to retake Louisbourg and Acadie. But the hostile fleet met with terrible disasters. The ships being dispersed and wrecked by violent storms, and the soldiers and crews thinned by disease, nothing could be accomplished. The duke died of vexation, and the vice-admiral, d'Estournelle, killed himself in despair. Only a remnant of the expedition returned to France. By the Treaty of Aix-la-Chapelle in 1748, Britain agreed to restore Cape Breton to France, but the cost of the New England expedition was refunded to the colonies by the mother country.

After the Treaty, disputes commenced as to the boundaries of the French and British possessions in America. A joint commission was appointed in 1749, but the disputes led to hostilities from time to time between the colonists of the respective countries. To prevent encroachments on the territory in dispute, the governor of Canada induced three thousand Acadian French to settle on the north shore of the Bay of Fundy, and on Isle St. Jean (Prince Edward Island).

The harassing alternation of proprietorship had hitherto prevented any attempts to develop the resources of Nova Scotia. At this time, however, an effort was made to colonize it by emigrants sent out at the expense of the British government. Free grants of land, together with tools, arms and provisions for a year, were offered to all soldiers who were willing to settle in the colony. About four thousand disbanded soldiers and their families, attracted by these liberal offers, arrived at Chebucto Harbor on the 21st of June, 1749, and the town of Halifax was founded on its shores. Cornwallis became the first governor of the colony and appointed a council of six members. In 1753, about 1500 Germans joined the colony, and settled in the county of Lunenburg.

Meantime the boundary disputes continued. The British claimed the whole territory north to the St. Lawrence including the Peninsula of Gaspé. The Seven Years' War (1756—1763) which resulted in the cession of Canada to Britain, and thus put an end to the boundary question, soon after commenced. In 1755, the French fort Beausjour, on the north shore of the Bay of Fundy, (part of the disputed territory,) was captured by an expedition from Boston under Col. Winslow, assisted by regular troops under Col. Monckton. An incident of much interest now occurred, for the explanation of which we must go back a few years. After the cession of Acadie to Britain by the Treaty of 1713, many of the Acadians remained in the country, but refused to take the oath of allegiance. They were allowed to follow their own mode of worship, and to have magistrates of their own selection. Being exempted from bearing arms against their countrymen, they received the name of neutral French. By intriguing with the Indians who had also resented the cession of the country to Britain and were hostile to the English settlers, these neutral French proved troublesome and dangerous neighbors. In the course of the boundary disputes they assisted and encouraged the hostile Indians, who were a source of great annoyance and uneasiness to the British. It was resolved, therefore, to remove the entire population and disperse them through the other colonies. This resolution was rigorously carried out; the greater part of the Acadians, about 7,000 in number, being hurried on board ship, their property destroyed or confiscated, and themselves scattered over the continent. Some of the exiles returned to Nova Scotia after the peace of 1763.

In 1758, a constitution was granted to Nova Scotia. From the year 1719, the administration of public affairs had been vested in a governor and council. On the 2nd of October, 1758, the first Parliament assembled at Halifax. The House of Assembly comprised 22 members elected by the people, and the combined Executive and Legislative Council, of twelve members, appointed by the Crown.

The capture of the important post of Louisbourg was one of the objects most ardently desired at the commencement of the war. An attempt to take it was made without success in 1756. In 1758, however, the stronghold was forced to surrender to a powerful expedition under Generals Wolfe and Amherst, and Admiral Boscawen. The fortifications were destroyed, and the inhabitants sent to France. Isle St. Jean also passed from French hands, and was annexed to the government of Nova Scotia.

The Treaty of 1763 restored peace, and the colony now made rapid progress. The island of Cape Breton was at this time annexed to Nova Scotia, and in 1765, was formed into a county. In 1770, St. John's Island, (Prince Edward Island) was separated from the government of Nova Scotia, and became a separate colony.

At the close of the American Revolutionary war, the population of Nova Scotia was greatly augmented by the influx of about twenty thousand loyalists from the revolted colonies, who settled in Nova Scotia and Cape Breton.

In 1784, all the part of Nova Scotia north of the Bay of Fundy was separated from the rest of the Province, and constituted a separate colony, called New Brunswick. The same year a separate government was given to Cape Breton, with Sydney as the chief town.

FROM THE SEPARATION FROM NEW BRUNSWICK TO CONFEDERATION.

The events of this period are of a pacific character, and relate to internal development and improvement. The great Pictou road was opened in 1792; the militia organized in 1800. The next important event was the re-union of Cape Breton with Nova Scotia in 1820, when it was allowed to send two members to the Legislature. In 1823, Roman Catholics were freed from all disabilities, and placed on the same footing as members of other denominations. In 1838, the combined Executive and Legislative Council was dissolved, and separate Councils substituted. In 1848, Responsible Government was fully introduced.

In 1861, the Legislature of Nova Scotia unanimously adopted a resolution favorable to Inter-colonial Union. The resolution reads as follows:

Whereas, The subject of a Union of the North American Provinces, or of the Maritime Provinces, from time to time has been mooted and discussed in all the colonies;

And Whereas, While many advantages may be secured by such an union, either of all these Provinces or a portion of them, many and serious obstacles are presented which can only be overcome by mutual consultation of the leading men of the colonies, and by free communication with the Imperial government.

Therefore Resolved, That His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor be respectfully requested to put himself in communication with His Grace the Colonial Secretary and His Excellency the Governor General of the N. A. colonies, in order to ascertain the policy of Her Majesty's government, and the opinions of the other colonies, with a view to the enlightened consideration of a question involving the highest interest, and upon which the public mind in all the Provinces ought to be set at rest.

This led to a conference at Charlottetown to consider the advantage of an union of the Maritime colonies. But Canada having proposed a more extensive scheme, the conference was adjourned to Quebec. Delegates from Nova Scotia took part. But after the Quebec conference, a strong opposition was made to the scheme proposed. In 1866, however, the House of Assembly, by a vote of 31 to 19 authorized the Lieutenant Governor to appoint delegates to arrange with the Imperial Government a scheme of union. Delegates were appointed, who, together with the delegates from Canada and New Brunswick, met in London in December, 1866. The Bill for the Confederation of the Provinces was introduced into the Imperial Legislature, and received the Royal assent on the 23rd of March following. The minority continued to oppose the scheme, but the anti-confederate party is diminishing, and it may be hoped that all discontent will have vanished in the course of a few years.

DESCRIPTION OF NOVA SCOTIA.

The Province, including Cape Breton, is about 350 miles in length, and 100 in breadth. The country is beautifully variegated by ranges of lofty hills and broad valleys, both of which run longitudinally through the Province. Its Atlantic frontier, for twenty miles inland, is composed of a poor soil, though rich in gold and other valuable minerals. The Cobequid range of mountains, as it is called, runs through the interior of the Province. The summits of a few of the conical mounts of this range ascend 1100 feet, and the land may be cultivated nearly to the top. On each side of these mountains is an extensive range of rich arable lands, where agricultural operations are carried on extensively, and with profit.

The Province is 900 miles in circumference; and, with the exception of fifteen miles, where it joins New Brunswick, it faces the Atlantic, Bay of Fundy, Straits of Northumberland, and Gulf of St. Lawrence. Deep and spacious harbors indent its seaboard; and the interior is pierced in all directions by navigable rivers, the country being thus admirably adapted for commercial enterprise.

SKETCH OF THE HISTORY OF NEW BRUNSWICK.

The leading events in the history of New Brunswick up to the year 1784 will be found under the head of Nova Scotia, and need not be repeated here.

The first colonists were the settlers brought out by de Monts in 1604. In 1639 French settlements were made on the Bay of Chaleurs. This bay was so named by Jacques Cartier from the intense heat of the weather on the 9th July, 1534, when he entered the Bay in the course of his memorable voyage to the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

In 1672, the French established settlements on the river Miramichi, and at other places on the eastern coast. After the cession of the country to Britain in 1713, part of what is now New Brunswick, was claimed by the French as belonging to Canada, and the disputes arising from these conflicting pretensions led to collisions between the settlers. The colonists also suffered much from the Indians, who remained unfriendly to the English for many years. Finally, in 1761, the Indians consented to a peace, and the hatchet was buried.

The northern counties remained uninhabited till the middle of the eighteenth century. In the summer of 1764, the first British settler, Mr. Wm. Davidson, a gentleman from the north of Scotland, arrived in the county of Northumberland. At this time not a single house was erected, nor a single European resident within the limits of the county. The Micmac Indians were still the virtual lords of the soil.

In 1784 the present limits of New Brunswick were divided from Nova Scotia and erected into a separate Province by a special constitutional charter, the administration of the government being confided to Col. Carleton. In the autumn of 1785 the first general election of representatives took place; and in January 1786 the first Legislative Assembly was held at St. John. Two years after the governor's appointment the city of Fredericton was selected by him as the seat of government, and has since remained the metropolis. The place at that time was composed of a few irregularly built huts; and St. John, now an opulent and flourishing city, was not of much greater extent.

At the time of the separation from Nova Scotia the entire population was only 11,457.

In 1790, Davidson, the pioneer, died. A brisk trade was carried on about this time by Fraser & Thom in the exportation of fish, furs, peltries, and sawed lumber. When the United States had gained their independence, a considerable number of the exiled loyalists, about five thousand persons, emigrated to New Brunswick, where they were supplied with land, provisions, tools and clothing, by the British government. These "United Empire" loyalists may be looked upon as the founders of New Brunswick, and their descendants now form a considerable part of the population. It was about this time (1783) that the first newspaper was published in the Province.

The colony has steadily increased in wealth and importance during the present century. The timber trade was greatly stimulated by an act of the British Parliament in 1809 admitting colonial timber into England free of duty, while timber coming from the Baltic was taxed. The trade became a profitable branch of industry, and ship building was commenced. A tide of emigration flowed in, and rapidly augmented the population. St. John, St. Andrews and Miramichi were annually resorted to by a large number of trading vessels.

In 1803, Gov. Carleton was removed to England, after having governed the Province for nearly twenty years, during which period it had grown from a wilderness to an important colony.

After the departure of Carleton, the government was administered up to the year 1817, by presidents. At the close of the war in 1815, a considerable number of disbanded soldiers settled in New Brunswick. In 1824, the population had increased to 74,176.

The state of the Province in 1825 is thus described by Cooney: "Our trade was looking up; and brightening were our prospects. The bosom of our river sustained a large fleet loaded with the productions of many climes; its sloping banks enamelled with the beauties of expanding vegetation, and the edge of each flowery belt was fringed by the luxuriant foliage of the surrounding forest. Our wharfs and warehouses groaned under the weight of the wealth they contained; the market was well stocked with its staple commodity; ships clustered on our seaboard; commerce flourished in our towns; and plenty filled our hamlets."

But this year a remarkable conflagration occurred, which caused the loss of many lives, and the destruction of much property. The summer had been unusually warm and dry, and extensive fires had raged in different parts of the country. Throughout the northern part of New Brunswick hardly any rain had fallen, and from the 1st to the 5th October, the heat was extraordinary. The fire, which had been creeping through the forests, approached some of the settlements, and the heat became more intense. About 9 o'clock in the night of the 7th October, the fire burst through the forest in the rear of Newcastle, and that town, together with Douglastown, and the northern side of the Miramichi, for a hundred miles, were enveloped in smoke and flame. The wooden houses, the stores containing spirits, powder, and other combustible articles, the stables and barns of the towns and settlements, speedily became a prey to the devouring fire, and presented a terrible scene of confusion and devastation. Newcastle, a flourishing town of 1000 inhabitants, was left a heap of smoking ruins, and hundreds of miles of country were laid waste. The area swept by the flames was about 6,000 square miles. In this conflagration 160 persons were burned, or drowned in the river, 595 buildings and 875 head of cattle were destroyed. The loss of property was estimated at £204,323, of which only £12,030 were covered by insurance. The Legislature of Lower Canada voted £2,500 for the relief of the sufferers, and contributions to the extent of £35,383 were received from Great Britain, the United States, and the neighboring colonies. The burnt towns and villages were soon rebuilt in a style of greater solidity and beauty. In 1837, another extensive fire occurred in the city of St John, when property to the value of one million dollars, (including 115 houses) was destroyed.

The provincial revenues were this year surrendered to the local government on condition of paying the salaries of certain officials amounting to $58,000 per annum.

The treaty between Great Britain and the United States, negotiated by Lord Ashburton in 1842, settled the disputed boundary between Maine and New Brunswick.

In 1845 commissioners were appointed by the British Government, to explore and survey a railway route from Halifax to Quebec, across the Province of New Brunswick. The commissioners in their report speak enthusiastically of the climate, soil and capabilities of the country.

In 1848 Responsible Government was introduced.

The colony has since continued to advance rapidly in wealth and importance. Trade was for a time greatly benefited by the Reciprocity Treaty between British America and the United States.

New Brunswick joined in the conference at Quebec on the subject of Confederation, but a ministry opposed to the scheme came into power shortly afterward. In 1866, however, the ministry resigned, and a new government, favorable to Confederation, was formed. A general election followed, and the friends of union were victorious at the polls. New Brunswick consequently became a member of the Federation.

DESCRIPTION OF NEW BRUNSWICK.

This Province is situated between 45° and 48° 7' N. lat.; and between 63° 59' and 69° W. long. Its length, from Nova Scotia, on the southeast, to the Province of Quebec on the northwest, is 190 miles; breadth, from the State of Maine, on the southwest, to the Straits of Northumberland on the northeast, 140 miles. It is situated nearly in the centre of the north temperate zone. The area of the Province is 27,710 square miles or 17,600,000 acres. The surface of the country is generally flat or undulating. There are some hills skirting the Bay of Fundy and the Rivers St. John and Restigouche, but they nowhere assume mountain summits. New Brunswick has an external water-line of 410 miles, exclusive of indentations. This coast line is indented by deep and spacious bays and harbors; and the face of the Province is traversed in all directions by navigable rivers. The Bay of Fundy, with its affluents, Chignecto and Cumberland bays, is 140 miles in length, by 45, its greatest breadth; and the Bay of Chaleurs, in the northwest, is 8 miles long by 20 broad. The principal rivers are the St. Croix, 60 miles in length; St. John, 450; Petitcadie, 100; Richibucto, 40; Miramichi, 200; Nipisignit, 90; and the Restigouche, 200 miles long. There are numerous lakes, varying in size from mere ponds to lakes containing 80 square miles. Of the area of the Province, about 14,000,000 acres are fit for profitable cultivation. These lands are accessible from all sides of the country. Of the granted lands, about 60,000 acres consist of rich alluvial lands, called marsh; some of which are said to have been producing large crops of excellent hay for upwards of one hundred years.

The tides of the Bay of Fundy rise from 20 feet at the city of St. John, to 60 feet at the head of Chignecto Bay, while the tides of the Gulf of St. Lawrence, separated but twelve miles from those of the Bay of Fundy, rise only from four to seven feet.

Roads and settlements are nearly continuous around the province, and cross it in numerous places. The River St. John in its downward course traverses the counties of Victoria, Carleton, York, Sunbury, Queen's, King's, and St. John. The counties of Westmoreland, Kent, Northumberland, Gloucester, and Restigouche, lie on the Straits of Northumberland, Gulf of St. Lawrence, and Bay of Chaleurs. Charlotte, St. John and Albert lie on the Bay of Fundy.

SKETCH OF THE HISTORY OF NEWFOUNDLAND.

The Island of Newfoundland, the oldest of the B. N. A. colonies, was discovered in 1497, by Sir John Cabot and his son Sebastian, in a voyage made that year under the patronage of Henry VII. of England. Sebastian Cabot also touched at Newfoundland the following year, when he explored the coast from Hudson Bay to Florida.

Cabot's discovery is well authenticated, and the island was thereafter claimed by Britain. But it is not improbable that long before this date, the coast of the island had been fallen in with by voyagers animated by the love of adventure, or carried out of their usual course by stress of weather. One account has come down to us of a voyage undertaken in the tenth century by Biarne, son of Heriulf Bardson, a follower of Eric the Red. Heriulf is said to have emigrated from Iceland to Greenland, and formed a settlement there. At this time his son Biarne was absent on a voyage to Norway. On his return home, Biarne resolved to join his father in Greenland. The account of his voyage is given in the London Geographical Journal for 1833. It would appear that Biarne, who was imperfectly acquainted with the course, while seeking for Greenland, toward the end of his voyage, fell in with various unknown lands, supposed to be Newfoundland, Nova Scotia, &c. Ten years afterward Biarne, while on a visit to Eric, Earl of Norway, mentioned the fact of his having seen these unknown lands. Curiosity was excited, and Leif, a son of Eric, having equipped a small vessel, sailed on a voyage of exploration in the year 1000. He also observed the lands described by Biarne, and pushed on southward as far, it is supposed, as the coast of Massachusetts, to which he gave the name of Vinland. In 1002 a brother of Leif, named Thorwald, undertook a voyage to the unknown west, arrived safely at Vinland, and remained in the country two whole years. But while coasting along with the intention of returning home, Thorwald lost his life in an encounter with some Esquimaux.

These early discoveries are apparently entitled to credit, but not being followed up by the establishment of settlements were soon forgotten, and are now of little interest except to the antiquary.

When Cabot visited the island, the natives called the codfish which abounds there, macallôos, which is also the name of the cod in the Basque or Breton idiom. Hence it has been conjectured that Breton fishermen may have resorted to the banks of Newfoundland previous to Cabot's discovery.

Three years after Cabot's voyage, the coast of Newfoundland was visited by a Portuguese explorer named Cortereal, whose report respecting the abundance of fish to be found there induced his countrymen to establish fisheries. The French, English, and Spaniards followed the example of the Portuguese, and in 1517 there were fifty vessels engaged in the fishery.

In 1524 Verazzani, a Florentine navigator in the service of the French king, touched at Newfoundland, and surveyed a large part of the coast of the United States. Verazzani and his entire expedition perished during a subsequent voyage undertaken soon afterward, and his sad fate for some years damped the ardor of the French for exploration in the new world.

In 1534 Jacques Cartier passed the coast of Newfoundland on his memorable voyage to the Gulf of the St. Lawrence. At this time the fisheries were growing in importance. In 1549, the ports of London, Barnstaple, Bideford and Bristol were prosecuting an extensive trade. In 1578 there were nearly 400 vessels engaged in the enterprise, of which 150 were French.

In the reign of Queen Elizabeth Sir Humphrey Gilbert is said to have equipped a small squadron with which he sailed from England in 1579, but the loss of one of his ships and other disasters obliged him to return home. With the assistance of his step-brother, Sir Walter Raleigh, he soon fitted out another expedition with which he sailed for Newfoundland in 1583. On arriving at the harbour of St John's in the month of August, Gilbert took formal possession of the country in the Queen's name, and issued some laws for regulating the fisheries. On the return voyage, Sir Humphrey's ship, a vessel of only ten tons, foundered in a storm near the Azores, and the gallant commander perished.

Among the subsequent attempts to colonize the island may be noticed that of a company of English gentlemen, including Lord Bacon and others, to whom James I, in 1610, by letters patent, gave all that part of the coast between Capes Bonavista and St. Mary. This association appointed as their agent a Bristol merchant, named Guy, who established a colony at Musqueto Cove in Conception Bay.

In 1615 Captain Whitbourne was sent out by the Admiralty to take steps for the removal of the great abuses which prevailed at the fisheries. Whitbourne introduced some of the English forms of administration of justice, and endeavoured to establish order in the settlements.

In 1622 James I, by letters patent, granted to Sir George Calvert, secretary of state, the peninsula formed by the Bays of Placentia and Trinity. Sir George (afterward Lord Baltimore) called this peninsula Avalon, and sent out as governor Capt. Wynn, who erected a large dwelling house and granary. Sir George himself subsequently visited the island, and resided there a short time.

In 1625 the fisheries had increased to such an extent that 150 vessels resorted to them from Devonshire alone. In 1633 another settlement was formed by Lord Falkland. About this time a code of regulations was promulgated by Charles I. with a view to preserve order and punish crime. The following year, the French, rather than relinquish the privilege of fishing on the coast, agreed to pay the British government a tribute of five per cent. on all fish caught by their fishermen.

Another settlement was established in 1654 by Sir David Kerk. "At this time," says Page, in his history of Newfoundland, "fifteen different settlements existed, containing about four hundred families." The jealousy of the merchants engaged in the fishery trade impeded the extension of permanent settlements. About 1670, an attempt was even made to break up the existing settlements.

In 1692 commenced a struggle between England and France for exclusive possession of the fisheries. Placentia, the principal French post on the island, was attacked and partially destroyed by a squadron of five ships under Admiral Williams. The French now resolved to become sole masters of the island. In 1695, a French fleet from Placentia, under Brouillon, aided by a military force under D'Iberville, attacked and destroyed the town of St. John's, and captured all the British settlements, with the exception of Bonavista and Carbonar, which were successfully defended. The Treaty of Ryswick in 1697, restored the rights of the respective powers as they existed at the commencement of the war.

In 1792 hostilities were again resumed. Sir John Leake, who was sent out with a squadron by Queen Anne, captured a number of French vessels; but the French obtaining reinforcements from Canada, succeeded in destroying most of the British establishments on the island. Carbonar was almost the only post that could be defended with success. The English retaliated by taking Port Royal, and making themselves masters of Acadie. For eight years the conflict was continued with fluctuating fortune. At length, by the Treaty of Utrecht, in 1713, it was provided that Newfoundland should be ceded to Britain, the French having the right reserved to them of catching and drying fish on that part of the coast lying to the north of Cape Bonavista, and stretching along the western shore as far as Point Riche, but having no right to erect fortifications, or to remain longer on the island than the process of curing the fish required.

In 1728 Newfoundland was erected into a distinct Province, and Capt. Henry Osborne appointed the first Governor. The office of Governor has since been filled almost invariably by British naval officers. The island was divided into districts; Surrogate courts were established, and various improvements in the administration of justice introduced. In 1737, a Court of Oyer and Terminer was established, consequent upon the increase of crime, and the expense of sending offenders to England for trial. In 1741, a Vice-admiralty Court was established. In 1751, the island again suffered from the attacks of the French. The following year, St. John's was surprised and captured by a French fleet. Aid was solicited from Lord Colville, then at Halifax. Admiral Colville promptly sailed for St. John's and having effected a landing at Torbay, speedily compelled the French to surrender the town. The French fleet escaped from the harbour under cover of a fog.

The Treaty of Paris, in 1763, restored peace, and confirmed the title of England to the island. The French simply retained the privilege granted them by the Treaty of Utrecht, of fishing along part of the seaboard.

About this time, Capt. James Cook, the celebrated navigator, was employed by the English government in making surveys of the coast. In 1783, the coast of Labrador was annexed to Newfoundland. The population of the Province at this time is stated to have been about thirteen thousand, of whom not more than half were permanent residents.

During the American Revolutionary war, Newfoundland suffered greatly from the non-intercourse Act passed by the first Congress, prohibiting the exportation of food to the island because the inhabitants remained faithful to the mother country. The people of Newfoundland had been dependent on New England for supplies to the extent of nearly £350,000 annually. These supplies were suddenly cut off, and French and American privateers at the same time preyed on the coast and harbours. When peace was restored in 1783, the Americans retained the right of fishing, but the processes of curing and drying the fish were to be carried on in the unsettled creeks and harbors of Nova Scotia, the Magdalen Islands, and Labrador.

The year 1775 is noted for a terrible storm. The sea suddenly rose twenty feet; hundreds of vessels were driven ashore and totally wrecked; and at least three hundred persons perished.

A Court of Common Pleas was established in 1789, and also the "Supreme Court of Newfoundland," Mr. Reeves, Chief Justice.

In 1796 England and France being at war, Newfoundland was once more harassed by attacks of French vessels. The town of Bay of Bulls was captured and destroyed; but the enemy declined to attack St. John's, which had been made ready for vigorous resistance by the governor, Sir James Wallace.

In 1803 schools were introduced in several localities, and benevolent societies organized for the relief of the poor. In 1807 was established the first newspaper, called The Royal

Gazette and Newfoundland Advertiser, John Ryan, proprietor. This journal has retained its original name and changed hands but once. In 1808, the first volunteer militia were enrolled at St. John's. The coast of Labrador was again included in the government of Newfoundland.

The island suffered during the war of 1812-1814 from high prices and scarcity of provisions. Flour sold at £6 to £7 per barrel; pork £8 to £10 per barrel, and other provisions at proportionate rates. The severity of these prices was, however, compensated by the increase in the value of articles exported. As soon, however, as peace was proclaimed, there commenced a season of great commercial depression. The value of fish fell suddenly from forty shillings to ten shillings per quintal, and the same with other exports.

Two years afterward, a destructive fire occurred at St. John's, causing a loss of $500,000. In the month of November, 1817, two other extensive fires occurred at St. John's, destroying two hundred houses, together with a large quantity of provisions imported for the winter supply. The destitution caused by these conflagrations was relieved by contributions from England and other quarters. One munificent donation came from the citizens of Boston, who despatched a ship laden with provisions for the relief of the sufferers.

At this time (1817) the population was 80,000. The produce of the country was estimated at £2,000,000 stg., and eight hundred vessels were employed in trade and the fisheries. More than three centuries had thus elapsed without any rapid progress, and without any attempt to open up the island for settlement. In fact, England discouraged colonization during the early period of its history. "That the inhabitants of Newfoundland colonized the country in defiance of the policy of the British Government is in some degree true," says Earl Granville, in a despatch dated 16th May, 1870. In 1824, however, an effort to improve the condition of the Province was made by the new Governor, Sir Thomas Cochrane, and with very marked success. Improvements were made in the judicial system; public roads were constructed; grants of land taken up, and cultivation extended. The population increased to 98,000 before 1845.

In 1832 a representative Assembly was granted to the colony, comprising fifteen members. The Legislative Council consisted of nine members.

The first geological survey of the island was undertaken in 1838 under the direction of J. B. Jukes. Since then copper, lead, and other ores have been found on different parts of the coast. The restrictions on grants of land which were imposed for the prevention of encroachment on French rights in the fisheries, have recently been so relaxed as to encourage, as far as practicable, the development of the mineral and other resources of the island.

In 1843, the House of Assembly was incorporated with the Council, and called the "Amalgamated Assembly of Newfoundland." It numbered twenty-five members.

The year 1846 was marked by two great disasters. In June the town of St. John's was almost wholly destroyed by fire. In September following, a furious hurricane swept over the island; many lives were lost, and a vast amount of property destroyed. Great distress prevailed for a time, and contributions, urgently needed, were again obtained from the mother country and the colonies.

In 1847 the amalgamated form of government was set aside, and the two Houses met separately. In 1854 the electoral districts were re-arranged, and the number of the Assembly increased; the Executive and Legislative Councils were separated, and Responsible Government fully established. The House of Assembly consisted of thirty members.

In 1852 and following years, steam and telegraphic communication between Conception Bay and St. John's was established, mechanics' institutes were founded, the town of St. John's was supplied with water, and other improvements were carried out.

In 1858 an ocean telegraph from Europe, having its terminus in Newfoundland, was laid and opened, but it ceased to operate after a few messages had been transmitted. Since that time, however, another cable has been successfully laid, and continues in operation.

When the scheme for confederating the Provinces was brought forward in 1864, Newfoundland sent two deputies, Hon. Messrs Carter and Shea, to the Conference which met at Quebec in October; but the Legislature subsequently deferred action in the matter. It is, expected, however, that the island will soon take steps to enter the Confederation.

THE INDIANS OF NEWFOUNDLAND.

The aboriginal inhabitants seem to have fared worse in Newfoundland than their countrymen elsewhere. When Europeans first visited the island, they found on the coast a considerable number of natives belonging to a tribe known as Red Indians, from the fact of their bodies being smeared with a species of red ochre. The intercourse with these Indians was friendly at first, but quarrels soon arose, and led to the almost utter extermination of the natives. "The settlers," writes Page, "generally men of fierce tempers and armed with powerful weapons, carried on the contest in a manner peculiarly ruthless, hunting and shooting the natives like deer. The latter have gradually disappeared from the island, and for many years not one has been seen." Several attempts were subsequently made to open up friendly intercourse with the Red Indians, but without success. In 1810, one of the first acts of governor Dackworth was to issue a proclamation for the protection of the Red Indians, and to offer a reward of £100 stg. to any person who should bring about a friendly understanding with them. In 1827, a search for them was prosecuted under the auspices of the Bœothic Society. Abundant traces of their settlements were found, but all the huts and wigwams were deserted. Another tribe, the Micmacs, have continued to occupy different parts of the interior, and have become partially civilized.

DESCRIPTION OF NEWFOUNDLAND.

The island of Newfoundland is situated on the north east side of the Gulf of St. Lawrence, between 46° 37' and 51° 49' N. latitude, and 52° 41', and 59° 31', W. long. It is bounded on the north by the strait of Belle Isle, which is from ten to twenty miles wide. On the east and south it is surrounded by the Atlantic. The island is exceedingly irregular in form, being indented with deep bays, the principal of which are Trinity and White Bays on the eastern, and Placentia and Fortune Bays on the southern coast. The peninsula of Avalon, on which the greater part of the population is resident, is almost severed from the rest of the island by Trinity and Placentia Bays, there being an isthmus only some four miles in width between the heads of these bays. The greatest length of the island from north to south is 350 miles, and the average breadth about 150 miles. Estimated area about 40,200 square miles, equal to 25,728,000 acres.

The coast is for the most part steep and rugged; the sea cliffs are bold and lofty, with deep water at the base. The harbors on the east coast are easy of access.

The geological survey shows the aqueous or stratified rocks to consist of the following formations, which are arranged in descending order: Upper and lower coal formation, magnesian limestone, upper and lower slate formation gneiss and mica slate. There are also chlorite, quartz rock, primary limestone, granite, syenite, porphyry, trap, basalt, serpentine, hypersthene, and greenstone. An extensive lead mine exists at La Manche, Placentia Bay, and has been worked for several years with profit; veins of copper of great value have also been discovered and are being successfully worked.

In the interior the surface of the island is uneven and hilly. Some of the peaks rise to a height of 1000 feet and upwards. The lakes are numerous. The trees consist of fir, spruce, birch, pine, juniper, wych-hazel, mountain ash, alder, and aspen.

SKETCH OF THE HISTORY OF PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND.

This small but flourishing colony received its present name in 1793, in honor of Prince Edward, Duke of Kent, father of Queen Victoria. Its ancient name was Isle St. Jean, or St.

John's Island. It was discovered by John and Sebastian Cabot in 1497. The Indians that resorted to the island at that date were of the Abenaki and Micmac tribes. For two centuries after its discovery the island was covered with dense forests to the water's edge, and remained unoccupied save by Indians, being considered of too little importance to justify the establishment of a permanent settlement. It was included with Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Cape Breton, under the general name Acadie. Fortunately it escaped many of the disasters and conflicts that harassed other parts of Acadie and Canada, and there are few stirring or momentous events in its history to chronicle.

In 1663 a French naval captain named Doublet, received from the government of Canada a grant of this island, together with the Magdalen Islands, for the purpose of establishing a fishery. At this time stages and huts were erected near the best fishing grounds, but no permanent settlement was formed. The persons employed by Doublet came in the spring and left in the fall, abandoning the island during the winter to its original inhabitants.

In the beginning of the eighteenth century a few solitary families, attracted by reports of the beautiful scenery and fertile soil of the island, began to settle on some of the most accessible parts of the southern coast. After Acadie had been ceded to Britain by the Treaty of Utrecht in 1713, many of the younger Acadians left their fathers' homes in Nova Scotia, and commenced to form the first permanent settlements in Isle St. Jean, which was still retained by France. The number of settlers slowly increased from year to year as the fertility of the island became better known. In 1728, about thirteen years after the settlements began, there were only sixty families on the island. In 1745, there were about 150 families, numbering 800 souls.

It has been supposed that Isle St. Jean fell into the hands of the New Englanders in 1754, after they had captured Louisbourg. Whether this was the case does not clearly appear; but if so, the island was restored to the French by the Treaty of Aix-La-Chapelle in 1749. "At this time," says Sutherland, (Civil History of Prince Edward Island) "the island was intrusted to the control of two leading officers, the one civil and the other military. The military officer was subordinate to the Governor of Louisbourg; his colleague was a sub-delegate of the intendant of Canada. They had a garrison of about sixty men, with some few pieces of cannon. A small battery was constructed by them at the mouth of the harbor of Charlottetown, on the west side, where they resided, and a small redoubt at a narrow part of the East River, still called the French fort, intended to guard the access by water towards St. Peter's and Tracadie."

In 1752, the population was estimated by a French officer who visited the settlement that year, at 1354, but this number was doubled in the course of a few years by the influx of expatriated Acadians.

In 1759, when Louisbourg was compelled to surrender to British forces, one of the articles of capitulation provided for the surrender of Isle St. Jean. Gen. Amherst immediately despatched Lieut. Col. Rollo to take possession, and thus the island passed out of the hands of the French. By the Treaty of 1763, Isle St. Jean, together with Canada and Cape Breton, was formally ceded to Great Britain. It was then placed under the government of Nova Scotia. At this time the inhabitants numbered 4,100, but many of the French inhabitants left the island when it came under English rule.

In 1764 and the following years, the island was sur-vayed by Captain Holland by order of the British Government. Having been divided into townships of about 20,000 acres each, these townships were, in August, 1767, distributed by lot amongst about one hundred army and navy officers and others who had claims on government, upon certain conditions of settlement, and the payment of certain quit rents. Lot 66, about 6,000 acres, was reserved as demesne lands for the king.

A town lot and royalty, says Sutherland, were reserved in each county. Each township was to furnish a glebe lot of 100 acres for a minister, and a lot of 30 acres for a school master. For the prosecution of a free fishery, 500 feet from the shore were reserved on all the townships which abut on the coast.

There were three rates of quit rents, six, four, and two shillings, annually, per hundred acres. No quit rents were to be demanded for the first five years after the grant; after that, for the next five years, half the amount of the quit rents would be demanded; after ten years, the whole amount.

The grantees were to settle on each lot one person for every 200 acres, within ten years from the date of the grant. If one-third of the land, in that proportion, was not settled in four years from the date of the grant, the land was to be forfeited to the king. The settlers were to be Protestants, from the parts of Europe not belonging to Great Britain, or such persons as had resided in the American colonies at least two years before the grant was given.

It was found difficult, however, to obtain foreign Protestant settlers, and very few of the grantees attempted to fulfil the conditions on which the lands had been allotted to them.

In 1768, the inhabitants of Prince Edward Island petitioned for a separate government, and offered to pay half their quit rents the next year to meet the expenses. The request was complied with, and in 1770 Walter Patterson, to whom part of lot 19 had fallen, came out as the first Governor. At this time only five proprietors, and not more than 150 families, were resident on the island. Many of the grantees, finding the quit rents too burdensome, sold their lands, and the original conditions of the grants were almost totally disregarded. Instead of having one person for every 200 acres within ten years from the date of the grant, no attempt had been made to settle 48 out of the 67 townships when the ten years had elapsed.

The first House of Assembly, consisting of eighteen members elected for seven years, met in July, 1773. The House took up the land question which has agitated the colony for nearly a century, and passed a measure for the effectual recovery of quit rents, but the act was not carried out. The next year a new Assembly was convened, which sat till 1779.

During the American revolutionary war, Charlottetown was plundered by two American vessels, but the prisoners and plunder were given up by order of Gen. Washington.

In 1780, Gov. Patterson, who had been in England for several years, returned to the island, and instituted proceedings in the Supreme Court for the recovery of arrears of quit rents. Nine whole and five half townships were brought to sale in 1781. The proprietors, who were all, or nearly all, non-residents, complained to the English Government, and a Bill was sent out, making these sales voidable. Gov. Patterson availed himself of some errors in the preamble as a pretext for not laying the Bill before the Legislature, and he exerted himself to prevent the validity of the sales from being disturbed. The House was dissolved in 1784, and the new Assembly, which met the same year, not supporting the views of the Governor, was also dissolved. Another House, called together in 1785, approved of the Governor's proceedings, and next year a bill was introduced to ratify the sales of 1781. This was disallowed by the Crown. Gov. Patterson was recalled by the Home authorities in 1787; but eventually, after a protracted contest, the sales of 1781 were allowed to stand.

In 1794, two provincial companies of militia, three companies of horse, and one of light infantry, were raised for the protection of the island.

An investigation made in 1797, by the House of Assembly, to ascertain the proportion of settled and unsettled lands in the colony, showed that twenty-three lots, embracing 458,580 acres, had had one settler; that twelve lots, containing 120,000 acres, had only forty-eight families; and that the whole population of the island was only 4,500. The inhabitants represented the state of affairs to the Home Government, and prayed that those proprietors who had failed to carry out the terms of the grants should be compelled to fulfil their obligations. No action was taken on the petition at the time, but the British Parliament made an annual grant to defray the expenses of the Local Government.

In the last years of the century, Prince Edward, the father of the Queen, being Commander-in-Chief of the Forces in B.N.A., caused fortifications to be erected for the protection of Charlottetown. In 1798, the House of Assembly, as a mark of respect to the Prince, gave the Province the name of Prince Edward Island, the change to take effect in 1800.

At the beginning of the 19th century, the House of Assembly again pressed upon the attention of the Home Government the matters contained in their petition of 1797. The arrears of quit rents now amounted to the enormous sum of nearly £200,000 stg. The amount due by many of the grantees was greater than the lands would realize if brought to sale. The matter was attentively considered, and in 1802 liberal terms of settlement were offered to proprietors in arrears. The lots were divided into five classes. The first class, or those which had the full number of settlers, were to pay only four years' quit rent for all arrears to 1801. The second class, or those which had only half the stipulated number, were to pay five years' arrears. Third, those which had less than one-half and more than one-fourth, were to pay nine years' arrears. Fourth, those which had less than one-fourth were to pay twelve years' arrears; and, lastly, the proprietors of townships wholly unoccupied were required to pay fifteen years' arrears. This settlement greatly facilitated the sale of land in the colony. Many of the proprietors were now able to dispose of their property, and in the course of a few years nearly one-third of the lots changed hands. Active steps were taken by the new land owners to encourage immigration. In 1803, the Earl of Selkirk brought out nearly eight hundred persons from the Highlands of Scotland.

In 1805, Gov. Fanning, who had been in office for nineteen years, was succeeded by Col. Desbarres, a military officer of fair abilities, who had been present at the taking of Quebec in 1759. Up to this time the progress of the colony had been very slow, and the war which a few years later broke out between Britain and the United States again retarded for a time the influx of settlers. In 1813, a brother of Sir Sidney Smith came out as Governor. Mr. Smith called the Assembly together on the 15th of November, but about two months afterward, thinking the session had lasted long enough for all they had to do, he arbitrarily dismissed the House, and for nearly four years did not summon another Assembly. The differences between the Governor and the new houses successively elected continued, till finally, in 1820, the Assembly framed an address expressing dissatisfaction with the Governor's conduct. This address was forwarded to England, through the Earl of Dalhousie, then Governor General. The agitation in the colony increased. In 1823, John Stewart, one of the most influential men in the island, was deputed to take home a petition. The Governor endeavoured to arrest him, but Stewart made good his escape, and reached England in December. The Governor was recalled the following spring (1824).

The new Governor, Colonel Ready, was fortunate enough to secure the confidence of the inhabitants. A new House of Assembly was summoned in 1825, and a large amount of general business transacted.

In 1827, a regular census was taken, and this showed that the population of the colony had increased to 23,266. The population of Charlottetown was 1649. Public improvements were pushed forward, roads widened, bridges constructed, and agriculture encouraged.

In 1830, an act was passed freeing Roman Catholics from all civil and political disabilities.

The quit rents now began to cause fresh agitation. By a proclamation issued in August, 1828, the governor announced that he had received orders to enforce the arrears of quit rents from 1st January, 1823. The arrears now amounted to £10,000 stg. The House of Assembly, and the inhabitants generally, petitioned the King to relinquish the arrears, and grant the accruing quit rents to be applied to internal improvements. The answer to these representations was that His Majesty would accept the annual sum of £1000 stg. in lieu of the accruing rents, and that this sum would be appropriated to meet the expenses of the civil establishment of the colony. The House did not accept this liberal proposal, and the matter rested there for the time.

A considerable number of emigrants now came out every year from various parts of England, Scotland and Ireland, and when the census was again taken, in 1833, the population numbered 32,292, an increase of nearly 40 per cent. in six years.

In 1834, an agitation commenced in favor of Responsible Government. The House of Assembly voted an address for an Executive Council distinct from the Legislative. An effort was also made to have an elective Legislative Council. The separation of the Executive and Legislative Councils was effected in 1839. The Executive Council was not to exceed nine in number. The Legislative Council was to be composed of twelve members. The revenue of this year exceeded that of the previous year by £5,000. The years that followed were marked by satisfactory progress. A geological exploration of the island was made by Dr. Abraham Gessner in 1846. Public opinion in favor of Responsible Government was now gaining strength. In 1847, the House passed an address to the Queen praying for the introduction of Responsible Government, and the Governor expressed himself strongly in favour of it.

In 1848, an act received the Royal assent, which provided for a further assessment of land, if the Queen relinquished the quit rents during its continuance. The census was again taken this year, and the population was found to have increased to 62,624. The following spring the House again petitioned the Queen in favor of admitting Responsible Government, to the extent of giving the country four seats in the Executive Council. The Home authorities did not consider the colony in a proper condition for Responsible Government; but offered to surrender the quit rents, the revenue from Crown lands and general revenue, on condition that the colony paid for the civil establishment. A general election took place in February, 1850; the Legislature met on the 5th of March, and a large majority was in favor of Responsible Government. Governor Campbell offered the majority three seats in the Executive Council. They declined to accept them; refused to co-operate with the Executive Council as then constituted, and refused also to grant the supplies. An address to the Queen was prepared and the House was prorogued on the 26th of March. In October following, the governor, Sir Donald Campbell, whose administration had been highly popular, died, and Sir Alexander Bannerman was sent out to assume the government.

The Legislature having been convened on the 25th of March, 1851, the governor informed the Assembly that he had been empowered to introduce Responsible Government on condition that some compensation be allowed to certain retiring officers. This condition was complied with, and the Executive resigned on the 23rd of April. On the 25th of April, the new administration, having the support and confidence of the majority of the House of Assembly, was gazetted. During this session was passed a measure establishing a uniform letter postage rate of two-pence, to any part of the island, and three-pence to any part of British North America. The following session an important act, known as the Free Education Act, became law; and next year (1853) was passed an act which conferred universal suffrage under certain restrictions.

By the census taken in 1855, the population was ascertained to be 71,496. There were 252 school-houses and 127 places of public worship.

An agitation commenced in 1857 with the object of introducing the Bible into schools as a book for daily use. The proposal met with much opposition; but finally in the year 1860, an act was passed by the Legislature declaring the introduction of the Bible into all public schools to be legally authorized. During the session of 1860, the extensive estates of the Earl of Selkirk, embracing 62,059 acres, were acquired by government for the sum of £6,586 stg. In the same year a land commission was appointed to enquire into the subjects of dispute relating to the tenure of lands, with the object of converting on equitable terms the leaseholds of the whole island into freeholds. Three commissioners were appointed, the Hon. J. H. Gray as the representative of the Crown, the Hon. Joseph Howe as the representative of the tenants, and Mr. Matthew Ritchie on behalf of the proprietors. The commission collected a great deal of evidence, and in August, 1861, made a report of which the principal points are as follows:—1. Lennox island, a valuable island in Richmond Bay, was to be ceded to the Indians, about a hundred of whom reside around the northern shores of the bay. 2nd. The claims of the Acadians, or French, were to be totally over-ruled. 3rd. The claims of descendants of U. E. loyalists to certain lands were recommended to the special consideration of the government. 4th. Escheat of the lands of proprietors was declared by the commissioners to be wholly impracticable. 5th. As to quit rents, no arrears to be recoverable, and no accruing quit rent to be claimed as long as the land tax was imposed. 6th. The fishery reservations were abolished, and the lands merged into the adjoining properties.

DESCRIPTION OF PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND.

In form, the island resembles a crescent, the concave side being towards the gulf. Length, 130 miles, breadth about 34 miles, area 2,131 square miles, or 1,365,400 acres. The surface is slightly undulating, the chain of hills that extends across the country nowhere rising to a considerable height. The indentations along the coast are numerous. The principal harbors are Charlottetown, Georgetown, Bedeque, Cascumpe, Malpeque, New London, and Murray harbors. There are also numerous ponds or lagoons. The climate is mild and healthful, and the soil remarkably fertile. The whole island was formerly covered with a magnificent growth of forest trees; birch, beech, maple, elm, ash, pine, spruce, hemlock, fir, juniper, cedar, willow and poplar were the chief varieties. Ship-building is still carried on to a considerable extent.

As to the mode of changing the leaseholds to freeholds, the commissioners recommended a loan of £100,000 stg., for the purpose of enabling the Government to purchase the estates, and then sell to the tenants. Or, if this loan could not be obtained, it was suggested that the proprietors should be compelled to sell direct to the tenants at rates either based on the rental or assessed by arbitrators.

The government are now acquiring many of the proprietary estates in the island. In 1839, a Bill was passed empowering the government to expend the further sum of £309,000 in the purchase of lands. The local Executive Council last year again suggested the introduction of a measure to compel proprietors of lands to sell to the Government; but Lord Granville deferred the consideration of the subject in view of the probability that the colony might soon unite itself to the Dominion.

In September, 1854, a conference was held at Charlottetown to consider the practicability of a legislative union of the Provinces. At first delegates were to be sent only from Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island; but the coalition government of Canada, pledged to the introduction of a federal system, having come into office, the Canadian government asked permission to send delegates, which was granted, and Canada joined in the conference. It was resolved that a further conference be held at Quebec, to consider the expediency of a federal union. Prince Edward Island sent delegates to the conference; but the Legislature subsequently repudiated the action of its delegates, and was opposed to the plan of Confederation agreed upon at the conference. The cause of Confederation has since made slight progress in the island, but it is expected that at no distant day satisfactory terms of union will be agreed upon.

Act for the Union of Canada, Nova Scotia, and New Brunswick, and for the Government thereof; and for Purposes connected therewith.

WHEREAS the Provinces of Canada, Nova Scotia, and New Brunswick, have expressed their Desire to be federally united into One Dominion under the Crown of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, with a Constitution similar in Principle to that of the United Kingdom:

And whereas such a Union would conduce to the Welfare of the Provinces and promote the Interests of the British Empire: And whereas on the Establishment of the Union by Authority of Parliament it is expedient, not only that the Constitution of the Legislative Authority in the Dominion be provided for, but also that the Nature of the Executive Government therein be declared:

And whereas it is expedient that Provision be made for the eventual Admission into the Union of other Parts of British North America:

Be it therefore enacted and declared by the Queen's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the Advice and Consent of the Lords, Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the Authority of the same, as follows:

I. PRELIMINARY.

1. This Act may be cited as the British North America Act, 1857.

2. The Provisions of this Act referring to Her Majesty the Queen extend also to the Heirs and Successors of Her Majesty, Kings and Queens of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

II. UNION.

3. It shall be lawful for the Queen, by and with the Advice of Her Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, to declare by Proclamation that, on and after a day there-

POSTAL REGULATIONS.

Mails are conveyed twice each way every day, except Sunday, over the principal lines of railway in Canada. Over the less important lines of railway they are carried only once each way every day, except Sunday.

Mails are also conveyed once each way every day, except Sunday, over the principal lines of common road; and once, twice, or three times per week over the less important lines of common road.

The postal communication between Ontario and Quebec and the Lower Provinces is six times per week each way via Quebec, Rivière du Loup and Edmundston, and once per week each way by Steamers from Quebec to Picton. Also three times per week each way in summer by steamers between Portland and St. John, N. B., and daily by way of Bangor, Maine and Calais to St. John, twice per week by Steamer between Portland and Halifax.

The most speedy and direct postal route from Canada to almost every portion of the globe (with the exception of the Continent of North America, the Isthmus of Panama, and the West India Islands,) is by way of England, whence mails for the several British Colonies and Foreign Countries are regularly dispatched.

The most speedy and direct postal route from Canada to all parts of the Continent of North America, the West Indies, Central and South America, is via New York.

Mails for England are despatched as follows: By Mail Steam Packets sailing from Quebec in summer and Portland in winter every Saturday; and from Halifax, Nova Scotia, every alternate Friday. By Steamer from New York every Thursday.

The following post offices in the Dominion of Canada make up mails direct for certain post offices in the United Kingdom, viz.:

Hamilton,	Fredericton,
Toronto,	Sackville,
Kingston,	St. John,
Ottawa,	St. Stephens,
Montreal,	Chatham,
Quebec,	Dalhousie,
Halifax,	Newcastle.

Mails are exchanged daily with the United States post offices at all the principal frontier points, and closed mails are exchanged daily between the principal cities of the Dominion and New York and Boston.

Montreal exchanges Mails direct with the following American Offices—Boston, Buffalo, Burlington, New York, Plattsburg, Portland, Rouse's Point, Rutland and Whitehall.

Mails for Bermuda and Newfoundland are made up at Halifax, Nova Scotia, whence steamers sail once a month to Bermuda and St. Thomas, and once a fortnight to Newfoundland.

Rates of Postage on Letters.—The rate of postage on pre-paid Letters between any one place in Canada and any other place in Canada, is regulated by weight, irrespective of distance, and is as follows:

On a letter not more than $\frac{1}{2}$ oz.,	3 cts.
" more than $\frac{1}{2}$ oz. but not ex. 1 oz.	6 cts.
" " 1 oz.	9 cts.
" " $1\frac{1}{2}$ oz.	12 cts.
" " 2 oz.	15 cts.

And so on, 5 cents being charged for every additional  $\frac{1}{2}$  oz., or fraction of half ounce.

If the weight be exceeded to the smallest extent, even though the balance be merely turned, the letter becomes liable to an additional rate.

Letters posted in and addressed to any place within the Dominion of Canada, if sent unpaid, are liable to a charge of 6 cents per  $\frac{1}{2}$  oz.

In applying the 5 cent unpaid rate to letters passing within the Province posted unpaid or not fully pre-paid—it should be observed that a letter passes either as pre-paid at 3 cents per  $\frac{1}{2}$  oz., on condition that the whole postage due be fully pre-paid—or at 5 cents per  $\frac{1}{2}$  oz. if posted unpaid, or only partly pre-paid—in the latter case the full rate at 5 cents per  $\frac{1}{2}$  oz. will be marked, and a deduction made therefrom of the amount which may have been paid—thus in an airmail letter pre-paid 3 cents only—the rate will be 19 cents and crediting the 3 cents paid—16 cents will remain to be charged, and collected on delivery.

The object of the 5 cent unpaid rate is to induce prepayment, and thereby relieve the Post Office from constant trouble of account and collection, but this object is equally defeated whether the letter be wholly unpaid, or but partially pre-paid—and therefore the 5 cent rate applies to the whole charge upon the letter in both cases.

The charge on local or drop letters, viz., letters posted at an office in Canada for delivery from that office is one cent for each letter, which must be pre-paid, or the letter will be sent to the dead letter office for return to the writer.

The charge on letters delivered by letter-carriers in Canada, is two cents for each letter in addition to the ordinary postage.

The rate of postage on letters to Prince Edward Island is 3 cents per  $\frac{1}{2}$  oz. if pre-paid, and 5 cents if not pre-paid.

The rate of postage on letters to Newfoundland is 12 $\frac{1}{2}$  cents per  $\frac{1}{2}$  oz., which must be pre-paid.

The rate of postage on letters to British Columbia and Vancouver Island is 10 cents per  $\frac{1}{2}$  oz., which must be prepaid. This rate covers the letter to San Francisco only; there will be an additional charge on delivery.

The rate of postage on letters to Red River, via the United States, is 6 cents per  $\frac{1}{2}$  oz., which must be pre-paid by postage stamp.

The rate of postage on letters between any place in Canada and any place in the United States, is 6 cents per  $\frac{1}{2}$  oz. if pre-paid, and 10 cents per  $\frac{1}{2}$  oz. if not pre-paid.

Upon a letter or packet, of any weight, addressed to the United States, the scale postage or non of all should be pre-paid. If anything less than the whole is pre-paid no account is taken of it, and it is entirely lost to the sender.

The scale of weight under which the above letters are charged is the same as the scale under which letters, passing between places in Canada, are rated.

The single rate of postage on letters between any place in Canada and any place in the United Kingdom, is as follows:

By Canadian Steamer, sailing every Saturday from Quebec in summer, and from Portland in Winter, and from Halifax fortnightly, 6 cents per  $\frac{1}{2}$  ounce.

By Steamer, sailing from New-York every Wednesday, 8 cents.

Letters addressed to the United Kingdom, and forwarded by either of the above routes, will be charged according to the following scale:

Letters not over  $\frac{1}{2}$  oz., 1 rate.

Letters more than  $\frac{1}{2}$  oz., and not ex. 1 oz. 2 rates

" " 1 oz., " 1 $\frac{1}{2}$  oz. 3 rates.

And so on, adding one rate for every additional half ounce or fraction of a half ounce.

The postage on all letters posted in Canada for the United Kingdom, and in the United Kingdom for Canada, should be pre-paid.

If sent unpaid 3d. sterling will be charged on each letter, on delivery, in addition to the ordinary postage rate.

Letters posted in the United Kingdom, for Canada, unless specially addressed "By Canadian Steamer," or "By Cunard Steamer," are despatched in the first mail that is made up—whether for Canadian or Cunard line—after the letter is posted, so that letters intended for the Canadian Packets must either be posted on the proper days for the Canadian Packet Mails, or bear the words "By Canadian Mail Steamer" on the address. In like manner letters posted in Canada for the United Kingdom should be addressed "By Canadian Packet" or "via New York." If for the latter route the additional postage 2 cents per half oz. should be added to the ordinary rate of 6 cents.

Three cents will be charged on the delivery of letters which have been forwarded as above by Cunard Steamer, but on which 3d. sterling or 6 cents only per  $\frac{1}{2}$  oz. have been pre-paid.

The charge on dead letters, returned to the writers, is five cents on each letter in addition to the postage.

Soldier's and Seaman's Letters.—non-commissioned officers embodied pensioners, seamen and soldiers, and army school-masters of all but first class, while they are employed in Her Majesty's Service, can send and receive letters at the rate of 2 cents each, under the following regulations:

1. The two cents must be paid by postage stamp at the time the letter is posted.

2. The name of the soldier or sailor, his class or description, and the name of his ship, corps, or detachment to which he belongs, must be specified in the direction of the letter; and in the case of letters sent by soldiers or seamen, the officer in command must sign his name and specify his rank, and the name of the ship or regiment, corps or detachment, which he commands. 3. The letter must not exceed half an ounce in weight. 4. The letter must refer solely to the private affairs of the soldier or seaman.

All the foregoing descriptions must be fully written in the address in the following form, the initials of the name of any ship or regiments being insufficient:

SEAMAN.	SOLDIERS.
From A. B.—Seaman of	From A. B.—Sergeant.
H. M. S. _____	_____ Regt. _____
(Insert direction of Letter.)	(Insert direction of Letter.)
C. D., Captain or other commanding officer.	C. D., Colonel, or other commanding officer.
H. M. S. _____	_____ Regt. _____
To A. B.—Seaman,	To A. B.—Private, Sergt. or Corp'l.
H. M. S. _____	_____ Regt. _____
(Direction to be finished.)	(Direction to be finished.)

Letters for soldiers or seamen may be forwarded at the above rate to or through any country requiring the payment of any foreign or transit rate, but subject to the payment of such foreign or transit rate as may be chargeable thereon.

Soldiers' and seamen's letters are not liable to any additional rate on re-direction.

All soldiers' and seamen's letters are conveyed between Canada and the United Kingdom by the Canadian line of steamers.

Letters sent by commissioned or warrant officers, midshipmen or master mates, engineers, gunners, boatswains or carpenters in the navy, captains, clerks, or first class school-masters, or commissioned or warrant officers in the army, are not included in the privilege attached to letters of soldiers and seamen, but are chargeable with the same rates as ordinary letters.

Soldiers' and seamen's letters posted in Canada without a compliance with the above regulations are liable to full post-

one. If posted in accordance with the above regulations, but without pre-payment of 2 cents, they are liable to a charge of 2d. sterling on delivery in the United Kingdom.

Soldiers' letters, and those of non-commissioned officers and privates of the Volunteer Militia of Canada when on active service, posted and addressed to places in Canada, pass under the above regulations at the reduced rate of 2 cents.

Rate of Postage on Newspapers.—The law declares that for post office purposes a newspaper shall be held to mean a periodical published not less frequently than once in each week, and containing notices of passing events, that is to say, general news.

Although provision is made for forwarding newspapers through the post, it is not compulsory on any one to employ this mode of transmission; everything except letters may be sent in any other way.

A newspaper to pass at the undermentioned rates is subject to the following restrictions:

1. It must have no cover, or a cover open at both ends.
2. It must not contain any enclosure.
3. It must have no writing or mark thereon but the name and address of the person to whom it is sent, nor anything on the cover except such name and address.

Newspapers which are not posted in accordance with these regulations are not forwarded but are sent to the Dead Letter office and destroyed.

An extra newspaper, or a supplement to a newspaper, is deemed a distinct newspaper, and charged accordingly.

Newspapers published in the Dominion may be sent by post from the office of publication to any place in Canada at the following rates, if paid quarterly in advance, either by the publisher at the post office where the papers are posted, or by the subscriber at the post office where the papers are delivered.

A paper published 6 times per week,	20 cts. per quarter
" " " 3 " " " 15 "	" " " " " 10 "
" " " 1 " " " 5 "	" " " " " " "

When the above rates are not paid in advance by either the publisher or subscriber, the papers are charged 1 cent each on delivery.

It is not necessary that the commuted rate on newspapers should be paid absolutely on the first day of each quarter. The regulation is intended to be carried out with all due consideration for the convenience of the public, and it will be sufficient if the person desiring to pay the commuted rate declares his intention and offers the payment when first calling at the office within a reasonable time after the commencement of the quarter; but after having made his option to pre-pay the commuted charge, or to pay for his papers as received at 1 cent each, as the case may be, postmasters are not expected to alter their newspaper accounts to follow a change until the commencement of the next quarter.

The commuted rate of payment cannot be accepted from new subscribers during a quarter for any unexpired period of the quarter.

Newspapers published in Canada, which are not posted from the office of publication, must be pre-paid 2 cents each by postage stamps, otherwise they will not be forwarded, but be sent to the Dead Letter office and destroyed. Papers of this class are termed "Transient Newspapers."

Publishers of newspapers in Canada are allowed to enclose in copies of their papers sent to subscribers, subscription accounts and receipts for the same without rendering them liable to any additional postage.

Packets of unbound newspapers published in Canada may be returned by a subscriber to the office of publication at the rate of 2 cents per 8 oz. or fraction of 8 oz., which must be pre-paid.

Transient newspapers addressed to the United States must be pre-paid 2 cents each newspaper by postage stamp, otherwise they will not be forwarded, but be sent to the Dead Letter office and destroyed.

Transient newspapers posted in the United States and addressed to Canada, are liable to 2 cents each on delivery. The stamp paid on these papers indicates that the United States postage only has been pre-paid, the Canadian rate of 2 cents remaining to be collected.

American newspapers posted or re-posted in Canada except by news agents to regular subscribers must be pre-paid 2 cents each, by stamp, otherwise they will not be forwarded.

The option of paying the commuted rate on newspapers does not apply to papers published in the United States; papers addressed to regular subscribers must be paid for at the full rate of 1 cent each.

Canadian news agents and booksellers may post American newspapers unpaid, when addressed to regular subscribers in the Province (but such newspapers are chargeable, on delivery, with 1 cent each).

Newspapers posted in Canada and addressed to the United Kingdom must be pre-paid by stamp, 2 cents each newspaper.

It is forbidden by the regulations of the British Post Office to send through the post, at newspaper rates, any newspaper bearing more than one address. Persons sending newspapers to the United Kingdom from Canada should be careful to cut off the ordinary printed address posted upon newspapers sent to subscribers in Canada from the office of publication, as any paper having thereon such printed address in addition to that of the party for whom it is intended will be sent to the English Dead Letter office.

When two or more newspapers are enclosed under one cover, postage must be pre-paid by stamp at the rate of 2 cents for each newspaper, or the postage will be detained and sent to the Dead Letter office.

Newspapers forwarded by Canadian Stamer are delivered in the United Kingdom without additional charge.

Newspapers forwarded by Steamer from New York are liable, on delivery, in the United Kingdom, to one penny each being the American transit rate.

Newspapers posted in the United Kingdom for Canada should, if forwarded by Canadian Steamer, be pre-paid one penny each, by stamp. They are subject, on delivery, to no additional charge.

If to be forwarded by Ocean Steamer they should be pre-paid two pence each, or they will be kept for the Canadian Post.

British newspapers re-posted in Canada must be pre-paid 2 cents each by stamp.

Leaflets or pamphlets distributed to regular subscribers by Canadian booksellers or agents, pass free in the same way as if received by the Canadian citizens.

Canadian newspapers addressed from the office of publication to subscribers in the United States, the United Kingdom, Lower Provinces, &c., may be forwarded on pre-payment of the commuted rate applicable to subscribers within the Province; but they cannot be forwarded if unpaid. Care should be taken to see that such newspapers are properly stamped at the Post Office where posted "Prepaid by Publisher," they are in the absence of such stamp liable to be mistaken for unpaid papers, and to be detained accordingly.

Exchange papers passing between publishers in Canada and between publishers in Canada and publishers in the United States, are carried free through the post.

No newspaper, properly so called (except exchanges), whether devoted to education, temperance, agriculture, or to any branch of science, is entitled to exemption from charge.

Newspapers addressed to Newfoundland must be pre-paid 2 cents each, by stamp.

No United States newspapers of any kind or description (with the exception of exchange papers) are on any ground entitled to pass through the Canadian mails free of postage.

In cities and towns where newspapers are published, the printers and publishers should send them to the post office put up in a manner to admit of their being readily counted, and, if necessary, withdrawn from their covers for examination. The newspapers for each office also should be made up in strong paper in a separate parcel, which should be plainly addressed.

When the numbers of a newspaper published in Canada, or in any of the other British North American Provinces, or in the United States, and issued daily, shall have remained in a post office in Canada uncalled for during two weeks; of a newspaper issued semi-weekly, or tri-weekly, during three weeks; of a newspaper issued weekly, during one month; and of a monthly periodical during two months, or when such newspapers and periodicals have been refused to be taken by the party to whom addressed, the postmaster is instructed to notify the respective publishers in the proper form, which is to pass free of postage. If the newspaper or periodical continue to arrive after the notice has been sent, the postmaster is instructed to notify the publisher in the same way a second time, specially calling his attention to the first notice.

To enclose a letter, or any writing, or to make any written marks to serve the purposes of a letter, or to enclose any other thing (except publishers' accounts and receipts, as before mentioned) in a newspaper posted to pass as a newspaper, is a misdemeanor. Postmasters are requested at once to transmit all newspapers containing such writing, marks and enclosures, to the Postmaster General.

Periodical Publications.—Periodical publications are publications issued at regular intervals, but less frequently than once per week. An Almanac or any work of a like character published at stated periods and containing matter of general interest is deemed to be a periodical.

Periodical publications can be transmitted by post to any part of Canada and the United States at the following rates:

Periodicals passing by Mail in Canada.—The rate on all periodicals, other than newspapers, passing by mail in Canada, save such as may be addressed to or received from the United Kingdom, is 1 cent per 4 oz. weight of package containing periodical matter, whether the package contain one or more numbers.

Any fraction of 4 oz. to be charged as a full rate. Transient periodical matter posted in Canada must in all cases be pre-paid by postage stamps.

The above rate is payable on delivery on all periodical matter received from the United States, except that Canadian editors may receive exchange periodicals from the United States free of Canadian postage.

Canadian Periodicals posted for United Kingdom by Canadian Packets.—Periodicals, printed and published in Canada, may be posted, addressed to any place in the United Kingdom by Canadian Packet, on pre-payment by postage stamp of 2 cents each number.

This rate is applicable to all classes of Canadian periodicals posted as above for the United Kingdom.

No periodical of any kind or description can, upon any grounds claim exemption from Canadian postage, except such as are received in the mails from the United Kingdom.

Periodicals to pass at above rates must be put up in covers open at the ends or sides; and if these regulations are not complied with, or if such periodicals are found to contain any writing other than the address, they are liable to full letter rates of postage.

No packet of periodicals can be forwarded through the post if exceeding the weight of four pounds.

Bound volumes of any periodical published in Canada may be forwarded at the rate of 1 cent for every 4 oz. if pre-paid by postage stamps.

Bound volumes of any periodical or newspaper published in Canada, if bound in a form to come within mailable dimensions, that is to say, not exceeding two feet in length, breadth or thickness, nor exceeding 4 lbs. in weight, may be sent from the office of publication to any place in Canada at a charge of 1 cent per 4 oz. or fraction of 4 oz. if pre-paid.

Letters, whether sealed or unsealed, or any enclosure found in a book parcel, are liable to be rated as unpaid letters, and the packet in which it is enclosed to an additional rate of 12½ cents as a penalty for a breach of the regulations.

Book Post.—United Kingdom, France, &c.—Book packets are forwarded by post from Canada to the United Kingdom, and vice versa, at the following rates:—By Mail steamers sailing from Quebec or Portland and Halifax: For each packet weighing not more than 10z., 2 cents, exceeding 1 oz. and not exceeding 2 oz. 4 cents; exceeding 2 oz. and not exceeding 4 oz. 6 cents.

And so on, the scale progressing throughout by a single rate for every four ounces.

By Cunard and other steamers sailing: from New York, as above: 4 oz. 9 cts.; 8 oz. 17 cts.; 12 oz. 25 cts.; 1 lb. 33 cts.; 1 1/2 lb. 41 cts.

Book Packets addressed to the United Kingdom may in future be registered upon payment of a registration fee of 5 cents, in addition to the ordinary rate of postage.

Book packets, printed matter, or single newspapers can be forwarded from Canada to France, or vice versa by Canadian Steamers only, at the following rates:—

If not exceeding 2 oz. in weight	.....	4 cts.
If exceeding 2 oz. and not exceeding 4 oz.	.....	8 "
" 4 "	.....	16 "
" 8 "	.....	24 "
" 1 lb.	.....	32 "

And so on, adding 8 cents for each additional 4 oz. or fraction thereof.

The following conditions must be carefully observed:

1. Every book packet must be either without a cover or in a cover open at both ends or both sides.

2. It must not contain any letter open or sealed, or writing to serve the purpose of a letter, or any sealed enclosure whatever.

3. It must not exceed two feet in length, breadth, or width.

4. The postage must be pre-paid by stamp.

A book packet may contain any number of separate books, publications, works of literature or art, almanacs, maps or prints, photographs, daguerotypes, when not on glass or in frames containing glass, and any quantity of paper, vellum, or parchment (to the exclusion of letters); and the books, maps, paper, &c., may be either written, printed or plain, or any mixture of the three, and may be either British, Colonial, or Foreign.

All legitimate binding, mounting, or covering of the same, or a portion thereof, will be allowed as part of the packet, whether such be by stitching, &c., be loose or attached, as also rollers, in the case of prints and maps, and whatever may be necessary for the safe transmission of literary or artistic matter, or whatever generally appertains thereto, and the postage is rated upon the gross weight of the packet.

The name and address of the sender may also be written or printed on the envelope or cover of the packet, in addition to the name and address of the person to whom it may be forwarded.

Book and Newspaper Manuscripts and Printers' Proofs.—In Department Order No. 65, dated 24th Nov., 1863, permission was given for Book-Manuscript, and Printers' Proofs, whether corrected or not, to pass at the printed matter rate of one cent an ounce, and it now appears to be necessary to explain that by Book-Manuscript was meant the written sheets of any Book intended for publication, and the intention was to encourage literary productions, by affording facilities for Authors to send and receive such matter to and from their Publishers by Post. Printers' Proofs are the printed impressions taken by a printer, for correction or examination, of any matter passing through his Press. By Newspaper Manuscript is meant written articles (not including advertisements) intended for insertion in a newspaper or periodical, and addressed to the editor or publisher thereof for insertion. Under former regulations the written marks correcting such proofs rendered them liable to letter postage when sent by mail, and the intention of the Department Order referred to was to relax the rule in favor of such proofs, and allow them when corrected, to retain their character as printed matter, and pass at printed matter rates of charge.

PRINTED PAPERS, CIRCULARS, PRICES CURRENT, HAND BILLS, &c.—Printed circulars, prices current, hand bills, and other printed matter of a like character, posted in Canada, and addressed to any place in the Dominion, British North America, or the United States, are chargeable with a rate of 1 cent per oz. (one cent each when sent singly), which must be pre-paid by postage stamp.

The Local-yearly School Returns made by School Trustees to the Local Superintendents of Schools, may, though the printed form be partly filled up in writing with the names of the pupils and days of attendance, be transmitted by post in Canada at the rate of 1 cent per oz. to be pre-paid by stamp.

When not filled up the above forms are printed matter, and liable as such to 1 cent per oz. postage.

Military returns, states, and rolls, policies of insurance, containing written figures and signatures, may be forwarded as printed matter on pre-payment of 1 cent per oz.

Printed circulars are transmitted by post to the United Kingdom under the regulations and charges of the Book Post.

They must be forwarded, however, open at the ends or sides.

If sent in envelopes, sealed or unsealed, they are liable to letter rates of postage.

Prices current, posted in Canada and addressed to any place in the United Kingdom, are liable to a rate of 2 cents each, which must be pre-paid by stamp, when sent singly; when, however, sent in packages to one address, they pass at book rates.

Priees current enclosed in envelopes sealed or unsealed are by the regulations of the Imperial post office liable to letter postage.

Lithographed letters and circulars are allowed to pass through the Post at the same rate as printed circulars.

Printed votes and proceedings of the Imperial Parliament and Colonial Legislatures pass to and from the United Kingdom at the ordinary book post charge.

Parcel Post.—Parcels closed at the ends and sides, and not exceeding 3 lbs. in weight, may be posted at any post office in the Dominion, addressed to any other post office in Canada, at the following rates:

For each parcel weighing not more than 8 oz. 12½ cents.
 Exceeding 8 oz. and not exceeding 1 lb. .... 25 "
 Exceeding 1 lb. and not exceeding 1½ lb. .... 37½ " and so on up to the limit of 3 lbs.

The following conditions must be carefully observed:

1. No letter or letters shall be enclosed.
2. The parcel shall not contain any explosive substance, glass, liquids or other matter likely to injure the ordinary contents of the mail.
3. The weight of the parcel shall not exceed 3 lbs., nor the size exceed one foot in length or breadth, or six inches in thickness.
4. The postage must be pre-paid by stamps.

5. The parcel should have the words "By Parcel Post" plainly written on the address. It should be well and strongly put up, and be legibly addressed to the post office address of the intended receiver, the name of the County in which the said office is situated being added.

If the name and address of the sender be written on the parcel, it will, if delivery should fail from any cause, be returned from the Dead Letter office unopened to the sender on payment of an additional rate for the return conveyance.

If the number of stamps affixed to a parcel be insufficient to pre-pay the proper rate, the amount deficient will be rated unpaid, with a fine of 12½ cents in addition.

Parcels may be registered, on pre-payment, by stamps, of five cents in addition to the postage. When registered, the postmaster should give a receipt to the party posting the parcel.

Parcels sent by post may contain books, daguerreotypes, photographs, printers' proofs and copy, military returns, statements and rolls, containing written figures and signatures; returns, deeds, legal papers, and all transmissions of a like character not being strictly letters.

To enclose a letter or letters, or any writing intended to serve the purpose of a letter, in a parcel intended for the Parcel Post, is a misdemeanor.

Should it be ascertained that a packet posted for the Parcel Post contains a letter or letters, the stamps it may bear will be cancelled, and the parcel rated as a letter with full unpaid rates.

Parcels cannot be transmitted by post at the above rates to any place beyond the limits of the Dominion of Canada.

The following is an example of the address recommended:

By Parcel Post.

*Mr. Thomas Jones,
 Paisley,

Franking and Free Letters.—The following matter is exempt from Canadian Postage.

All letters and other mailable matter addressed to or sent by the Governor General of Canada.

All letters or other mailable matter addressed to or sent by any department of the Government at the seat of Government at Ottawa, under such regulations as may from time to time be made by the Governor General in Council.

All letters and other mailable matter addressed to or sent by the Speaker or Chief Clerk of the Senate or of the House of Commons, or to or by any member of either House at the seat of Government, during any Session of the Parliament; or addressed to any of the members or officers in this section mentioned, at the seat of Government as aforesaid, during the ten days next before the meeting of Parliament.

All public documents and printed papers sent by the Speaker or Chief Clerk of the Senate or of the House of Commons, to any member of either House, during the recess of Parliament.

All papers printed by order of either House, sent by members of either House, during the recess of Parliament.

Petitions and addresses to either of the Provincial Legislatures of Ontario, Quebec, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, or to any branch thereof, and votes, proceedings and other papers printed by any such Legislature, or any branch thereof, during any session thereof, provided such petitions and addresses, votes, proceedings and other papers, are sent without covers or in covers open at the ends or sides, and contain no letter or written communication to serve the purpose of a letter.

Letters and other mailable matter (except that provided for as above) addressed to or sent by the Provincial Governments or Legislatures of Ontario, Quebec, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia will be liable to the ordinary rates of postage.

Public documents and printed papers sent under the foregoing clauses, should bear, as part of the address, the bona fide superscription of the Speaker, Chief Clerk, or officer specially deputed for this purpose, to act for those functionaries, or of the member sending the same.

All letters and other mailable matter to and from the Postmaster General and the Deputy Postmaster General; and all official communications to and from the Post Office Department, and to and from the Post Office Inspectors, are to pass free of Canada postage.

Abating and Refunding Postage.—Postmasters in Canada are allowed to refund postage in the following cases, only:—

Letters originating and for delivery in Canada, charged as weighing more than the actual weight.

Postage incorrectly charged on editors' notices addressed to publishers and editors, and exchange papers, which should legally pass without charge.

All other claims for the return and abatement of postage must be specially referred to the Postmaster General for his decision, with the letter or packet on which the return is claimed.

Undelivered and Dead Letters.—All letters remaining undelivered in the post office on the first of each month, excepting drop letters and such letters as are daily called for, are advertised in a list posted at the office door for the information of the public.

If a newspaper is published in the neighborhood, the Postmaster is, at the discretion of the Postmaster General, directed to insert this list therein, provided the proprietor will give it insertion at the authorized rate.

Parties applying at an office for advertised letters should always ask for them as such.

Letters and papers after remaining undelivered in an office for two months are sent to the Dead Letter office, as also are all letters refused by the person to whom they are addressed, or letters addressed to persons deceased.

Letters are opened in the Dead Letter office in order that they may, when necessary, be returned to the writers; but no Postmaster is at liberty to return a letter to the writer direct. All undelivered correspondence must be sent to the Dead Letter office.

Registration.—By the pre-payment of the following fee, in addition to the ordinary postage, letters and parcels can be registered at the office at which posted:

On letters addressed to any place in Canada or the other British North American Provinces....	2 cents.
On letters addressed to any place in the United States.....	5 "
On letters addressed to any place in the United Kingdom.....	8 "
On books addressed to any place in the United Kingdom.....	8 "
On parcels to any part of the Dominion.....	5 "

The registration fees on letters to British colonies and foreign countries will be found in the tables.

Every letter or parcel containing value should be marked for registration and presented to the Postmaster or his clerk, and a receipt obtained therefor. On no account should it be dropped into a letter box.

When letters are registered, both the postage and the registration fee must in all cases be pre-paid.

Books, periodicals, newspapers, circulars, and other printed matter cannot be registered (except books addressed to the United Kingdom) unless pre-paid the full letter rates, in addition to the ordinary registration fee.

Registered letters and packets can only be delivered to the parties to whom they are addressed or to their order; and a receipt must be given on the delivery of each registered letter in a book kept by every Postmaster for that purpose.

It should be clearly understood that the post office is not responsible for the safe delivery of a registered letter or parcel. The registration simply makes its transmission more secure, by rendering it practicable to trace it, when passing from one place to another in Canada, from its receipt to its delivery; and when addressed from any place in Canada to any place in the United States, the United Kingdom, or parts abroad, if not to its delivery, at least to the frontier or port of despatch.

Postage Stamps.—Every Postmaster is required to have on hand a sufficient stock of postage stamps, and to sell them to the public at 1 cent, 1 cent, 3 cents, 6 cents, and 12½ cents, each.

The Department has discontinued the supply of stamped envelopes.

Under the authority of the Postmaster General, postage stamps are sold to certain dealers in the principal cities to retail again to the public, but no person other than a Postmaster, can sell postage stamps unless duly licensed to do so by the Postmaster General under a penalty of $40 for each offence.

Pre-payment of letters should, in all cases where practicable, be made by postage stamps.

A mutilated stamp, or a stamp cut in half, is not recognised in pre-payment of postage.

A medalion stamp cannot be accepted in pre-payment of postage separate from the envelope of which it may have formed a part.

No British stamps, or stamps of a foreign country, can be received in pre-payment of postage in Canada.

In affixing the stamp to the letter, wet slightly the corner of the envelope and the gummed side of the stamp, and gently press the stamp until it is firmly fixed. Stamps should be placed on the front or address side of the letter, and on the right hand upper corner.

Letters cannot be pre-paid partly in stamps and partly in money; the postage must be pre-paid either wholly in stamps or wholly in money.

If the stamps affixed to a letter addressed to any place in British North America be not adequate to the proper postage, the letter is rated with an amount equal to the deficiency; the whole postage being calculated at the unpaid rate, e. g., a single letter pre-paid 1 cent would be rated 4 cents additional; a double letter pre-paid 5 cents only would be rated 5 cents additional.

Letters addressed to the United States, on which stamps are affixed representing less than the amount of postage to which the letters are liable, are rated with full unpaid postage.

Postage stamps are received at all post offices in payment of postage on unpaid letters delivered therefrom.

Postage Rates on certain Miscellaneous Matter passing within the Province of Canada, or to and from the United States.

1. Packages of seeds, cuttings, bulbs, roots, and scions, or grafts, may be posted in Canada for delivery within the Province or to an address within the United States, on pre-payment by postage stamps of a rate of 1 cent per ounce; and when received from the United States to any place in Canada such packages may be delivered on payment by the person addressed, of a like rate.

2. The limit of weight for such packages will be one pound. No communication, whether written or printed, must be enclosed in them; and they must be so put up as to be easy of examination, for the purpose of verifying the alleged contents. If put up in bags bag must be simply tied at the neck, so as to admit of inspection; and in the case of such package, mailed in Canada, the nature of the contents, such as "seeds," "roots," &c., as the case may be, must be marked on the package by the sender, as a statement of the claim to pass at the reduced rate above mentioned.

3. Book manuscript, and printers' proof sheets (whether corrected or not) maps, prints, drawings, engravings, photographs, when not on glass, or in cases containing glass, and sheet music (whether printed or written), may pass in covers open at the end or sides, and provided that no letter or other communication intended to serve the purpose of a letter, be enclosed therein, on pre-payment, when posted in Canada, by postage stamp of the ordinary printed matter rate of 1 cent per ounce; or upon payment of that rate on delivery of such matter when received in the mails from the United States.

Transmission of Patterns of Merchandise and Samples between Canada and the United Kingdom, and certain other countries.

4. Patterns of merchandises and samples may be forwarded between Canada and the United Kingdom, and Denmark, France, Italy, Belgium, and the German States by the Canadian packet mails, at book-post rates, and subject to the following conditions:

A. The patterns or samples must not be of any intrinsic value; and this rule excludes all articles of a saleable nature, and whatever may have a value of its own, apart from its mere use as a pattern; nor must the quantity of any material or article sent as a pattern or sample be so great that it could have on this ground an intrinsic value.

On this point an explanation in a subsequent Department Order, appears as follows:

B. It has hitherto formed part of the Imperial post office regulations that "samples or patterns must not be of intrinsic value," but in consequence of the difficulty that has been experienced in determining what is, and what is not, a pattern or sample of merchandise of intrinsic value, this prohibition has been removed.

The modification is a verbal one, and will not alter nor enlarge in any way, the character of the transmission permitted to pass by pattern post.

The special prohibition as to intrinsic value has, it is understood, been withdrawn, not because the question of value will not still influence a decision as to whether an article offered for transmission by pattern post is a genuine commercial sample (or pattern) or not, but because as a general proviso it could not well be enforced; inasmuch as every article, whether properly a pattern or sample or not, has necessarily more or less of an intrinsic value, and might be held to be amenable to a strict construction of this prohibitory clause in the regulation.

C. The patterns, &c., must be sent in covers open at the ends, so as to be easy of examination. Samples, however, of seeds, drugs, and such like, which cannot be sent in open covers, may be enclosed in bags of linen or other material, simply tied at the neck; or, provided that bags be transparent, they may be entirely closed, if they are for delivery within the United Kingdom. Bags, however, entirely closed, even though they be transparent, must not be used for the transmission of seeds to foreign parts.

D. The rule which prohibited the transmission through the post, as patterns, of articles of cutlery, &c., has been rescinded; and scissors, knives, razors, forks, steel pens, nails, keys, watch machinery, metal tubing, pieces of metal or ore, and such like articles, are now allowed to be forwarded by the post as samples, provided they be packed and guarded in so secure a manner as to afford complete protection to the contents of the mail bags, and to the persons of the officers of the post office. Such articles, however, must be so packed that they may be easily examined; and it is made a rule that any packet containing such articles, which may be found to be insufficiently guarded, shall not be forwarded through the post.

The limits of weight are as follows:

If for Canada.....	24 oz.
" United Kingdom.....	24 "
" France.....	36 "
" Germany.....	36 "
" Kingdom of Italy.....	36 "
" Belgium.....	36 "
" Netherlands.....	16 "
" Portugal, Azores, and Madeira.....	16 "
" Denmark.....	48 "
" Switzerland.....	48 "

A packet of patterns or samples sent to France or Portugal must not exceed 18 inches in length, 12 inches in width or depth; a packet to any other place abroad must not exceed 24 inches in length or 12 inches in breadth or depth.

None of the articles named in the rule D. may be sent as patterns or samples to any place abroad, except Germany,

Belgium, and the British colonies, and not to these places when addressed "via France."

There must be no writing or printing other than the address of the person for whom the packet is intended, the manufacturers or trade mark and number, and the price of the article.

Any infringement of the above regulations will render the packet liable to be treated and charged as a letter.

MONEY ORDERS.

Post offices in Canada at which money orders are issued and paid, are distinguished in the list of Post Offices by being printed in italics.

Every money order office in Canada issues money orders on every other money order office in Canada as well as on every money order office in the United Kingdom. Every money order office in the United Kingdom also issues money orders on every money order office in Canada.

MONEY ORDERS IN ONTARIO AND QUEBEC.

All the money order Post Offices in Ontario, Quebec and New Brunswick are authorized to draw money orders on each other for any sum up to $100, and for as many orders of $100 each, as the applicant may require, upon the following terms, viz., in Ontario and Quebec:

On Orders up to $10.....	5 cents.
“ over $10 and up to $20.....	10 “
“ over $20 “ $40.....	20 “
“ over $40 “ $60.....	30 “
“ over $60 “ $80.....	40 “
“ over $80 “ $100.....	50 “

MONEY ORDERS ON THE UNITED KINGDOM.

The money order offices throughout the Dominion also draw upon all the money order offices in England, Ireland and Scotland, and the Channel Islands, for any sum up to £10 sterling, and grant as many orders for £10 sterling each, as may be needed to make up the amount to be remitted. The terms are as under:

On Orders up to £2.....	25 cents.
“ over £2 and up to £3.....	50 “
“ over £3 “ £4.....	75 “
“ over £4 “ £10.....	$1.00.

MONEY ORDERS ON THE LOWER PROVINCES.

The money order offices in Ontario, Quebec, and New Brunswick draw also upon all money order offices in Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island, and Newfoundland. The orders, like those of the United Kingdom, are made payable in sterling money, and for sums up to £10 sterling. The terms are:

For orders on Nova Scotia the same rates of commission as upon money orders drawn by Ontario or Quebec upon offices within those provinces.

For money orders on the other provinces the terms are:

For orders up to £5, 25 cents.

“ over £5 and up to £10, 50 cents.

No half cents can be introduced into orders.

No money order exceeding $100 in amount can be granted on any office in Canada; but Postmasters are at liberty to grant two or more orders for $100 or for any lesser sum.—They cannot, however, grant two or more orders for sums of or under $30 on the same day to the same applicant in favor of the same party.

Tables showing the amount of Provincial currency required for money orders issued in Canada upon the United Kingdom, in addition to the commission, and for money orders issued in the United Kingdom upon Canada will be found subjoined.

Applicants for money orders should always use the printed application forms, in which they should fill up the particulars of the order required. These forms are supplied gratuitously at all money order offices.

The Christian and surnames in full, and residences, both of the remitter and payee, should be furnished to the issuing postmaster. When a married woman is either the remitter or payee, her own Christian name should be given, and not that of her husband, thus—

If the remitter or payee be a Peer or a Bishop, his ordinary title is sufficient. If a firm, the usual designation of such firm will suffice, such as “Baring Bros.,” “Smith & Son,” “Jones & Co.,”

Parties procuring money orders should examine them carefully to see that they are properly filled up and stamped. This caution will appear the more necessary when it is understood that any important defect in these respects will throw difficulties in the way of payment.

Money orders, which, in consequence of misapprehension of the name of the remitter or place of payment, have been erroneously made out, can be returned to the postmaster and a correct order given in exchange; a new commission, however, will be charged on the corrected order.

Parties obtaining money orders on Canadian offices, can procure re-payment thereof on presentation of the order at the office at which it was issued, signing the receipt at the foot. No order, however, can be re-paid without the authority of the superintendent, unless presented for re-payment on the day on which it is issued. Neither can orders on the United Kingdom be re-paid without his special authority.

When a remitter desires an order on the United Kingdom to be paid through a bank, it is left to his option to give or withhold the name of the payee, or to substitute for the name of the payee any other designation or modification, such as “the Cashier of the bank of England,” “the chief Clerk of the Foreign Office.” Such orders must, however, be crossed by the issuing postmaster with the name of the bank through which the order is to be paid.

The issue of money orders on credit, or for cheques not marked “good” by the bank drawn upon, is strictly prohibited.

If a payee is unable to write, he must sign the receipt at the foot of the order, in the presence of the paying postmaster, by making his mark, to be witnessed in writing; as for example

Witness—John Kenny, Joseph H. Allen.
Queen Street, Toronto, Mark.

In cases of money orders issued in Canada, postmasters are at liberty to accept the written order of the payee on the order itself in favor of a second person, if through illness or insuperable difficulty the payee is prevented from presenting the order in person.

When a Canadian money order has been lost, either by the remitter or payee, the circumstances must be made known to the superintendent, who, under certain precautions, will issue a duplicate.

Duplicates of sterling orders can only be granted by the paying country. Thus the British post office issues duplicates of orders drawn in Canada on the United Kingdom, and the Canadian Head Money order office grants duplicates of orders drawn in the United Kingdom on Canada.

Money orders which are not presented until one full year after their date are considered as lapsed orders, and cannot be paid without the special permission of the superintendent. In all such cases satisfactory reasons should be given explanatory of the delay in the presentation of the order.

The Deputy Postmasters General of Malta and Gibraltar are authorized to issue money orders on the several money offices in Canada. Money order offices in Canada do not, however, grant money orders on Malta and Gibraltar.

Amount in Currency to be paid in Canada for Money Orders drawn in Canada on the United Kingdom, and for Money Orders drawn in the United Kingdom on Canada, from 1d. Sterling to 5s. Sterling.

POST OFFICE SAVINGS BANKS.

The Postmaster-General will receive at any of the Post Office Savings Banks, deposits paid to the postmasters by persons wishing to place their money in the Government Savings Banks.

2. The direct security of the Dominion is given by the Statute for all deposits made.

3. At each Post Office Savings Bank, the Savings Bank regulations may be read by the public, giving full information with respect to the mode of depositing and withdrawing money, and these regulations are printed on the cover of the pass-book supplied to each depositor.

4. Any person may have a deposit account, and deposits will be received daily, during the ordinary hours of post office business, of any number of dollars, from $1 up to $300, the total amount which can be received from a depositor in any one year, except in cases to be specially authorized by the Postmaster-General.

5. The postmasters of the offices named will act as agents for the receipt of the money deposited for transmission to the Postmaster-General, and for the payment by the Postmaster-General of money withdrawn by depositors.

6. Each depositor will be supplied with a pass-book, and the sums paid in, or withdrawn, will be entered therein by the postmaster receiving or paying the same. In addition, a direct receipt for each amount paid in will be sent to the depositor from the Postmaster-General, and the Postmaster-General will issue a cheque payable at any Post Office Savings Bank desired, for any sum withdrawn.

7. Every depositor's account will thus be kept with the Postmaster-General, and a depositor may pay into his or her account with the Post Office Savings Bank, at any of the Savings Bank Post Offices which at the time may best suit his convenience, and may exercise the same choice in drawing out money, subject only to the obligation of producing the pass-book, in proof of identity—whenever paying in or drawing out money.

8. Interest at the rate of 4 per cent. per annum will be allowed on deposits lying in the ordinary deposit accounts, but when a depositor has $100 deposited he or she may request the Postmaster-General to transfer this sum to a special account, and will then receive certificate of such special $100 deposit bearing interest at 5 per cent. per annum.

9. Postmasters are forbidden by law to disclose the name of any depositor, or the amount of any sum deposited or withdrawn.

10. No charge will be made to depositors on paying in or drawing out money, nor for postage on communication with the Postmaster-General in relation thereto.

11. The Postmaster-General will be always ready to receive and attend to all applications, complaints, or other communications addressed to him by depositors or others, relative to Post Office Savings Bank matters.

12. A List of the Post Office Savings Banks in Canada, may be seen by the public at any Post Office in Canada.

BILL STAMPS.

Bill stamps—Are distributed for sale very generally throughout the Post Offices in the Province; these stamps are of various values from 1 cent upwards. Bill Stamps cannot be used in pre-payment of postage.

Law Stamps—Are also for sale at the principal Post Offices in Lower Canada.

General regulations—Postmasters and certain other officers of the Department are exempt from serving on juries or inquests. This exemption applies to mail carriers, but not to assistants appointed and paid by postmasters.

Postmasters are not authorized to give credit for postage, if they do so it is entirely at their own risk.

A letter once posted becomes the property of the person to whom it is addressed, and must be forwarded according to its direction. On no application, however urgent, can it be delivered back to the writer, or to any other person.

A letter addressed to a firm may be delivered to any member of the firm. If addressed to several persons, it may be delivered to any one of them.

A letter delivered to the wrong person in consequence of his name being the same as that of the person for whom the letter is really intended, should be at once returned to the postmaster from whom received, the party writing on the cover "opened by me through mistake," and signing his name thereto.

Letters posted without any direction, or addressed so imperfectly that they cannot be forwarded to their intended destinations, and also unpaid or insufficiently paid letters addressed to countries to which letters cannot be sent without the postage is pre-paid, are returned to the writers through the Dead Letter office.

No information can be given respecting letters which pass through a post office except to the person to whom they are addressed.

Parties desiring their letters and papers to be re-directed should send an intimation to that effect, in writing, to the postmaster of the office from which letters and papers are to be re-directed.

Postmasters are allowed to re-direct letters to the known places of residence of the parties to whom they are addressed, after allowing a reasonable time to elapse without their being called for.

Letters and papers are not subject to any additional charge when re-directed from one post office in Canada to another post office in Canada.

Postmasters are instructed not to receive any letter or packet which there is good reason to believe contains glass or anything likely to injure the contents of the mail bag or the person of any officer of the post office.

The transmission of indecent photographs or prints, and immoral books, papers or publications through the Post is strictly prohibited, and all packets containing such articles should be stopped and sent to the Postmaster-General.

A postmaster is not legally bound to furnish change; but may require that the exact amount of postage on any letter or packet be tendered to him in current coin, or in Canada postage stamps.

Postmasters and their assistants, in the above matter, as well as in all their official intercourse with the public, are expected to afford every accommodation, and to treat every person having business at their offices with the utmost courtesy.

Letters cannot be delivered at any intermediate office en route, but must be conveyed to the office to which they are addressed.

MONTREAL TELEGRAPH COMPANY.

HEAD OFFICE, MONTREAL.

CAPITAL, - - - - $1,000,000.

HUGH ALLAN, PRESIDENT; SIR W. E. LCGAN, GEORGE W. CAMPBELL, M.D., PETER REDPATH AND ANDREW ALLAN, DIRECTORS; JAMES DAKERS, Secretary.

THIS COMPANY was organized in January 1847, with a capital of $50,000. The line extended from Toronto to Quebec, a distance of 540 miles; nine offices were opened and thirty-five persons employed. The number of messages transmitted during the first year was 53,900.

Since then the Company has, year by year, continued to extend its lines, not only in the Provinces of Ontario and Quebec, where nearly every village of any importance has been afforded ample telegraphic facilities, but also through the Province of New Brunswick, and in the States of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, New York and Michigan, in which 110 offices are owned by this Company.

The statistics up to 30th November, 1870, shew that the Company possesses 7,800 miles of poles, 12,147 miles of wire, 640 offices, and 996 employees. Number of commercial messages sent over the lines during the year 1870, was 1,060,000. Number of words transmitted over Atlantic cable 153,692. Number of words furnished to the press upwards of 8,000,000. To give an idea of the facilities that the Company has at its command it is only necessary to mention that during the last Parliamentary Session it was customary to transmit night after night, from its office at Ottawa 20,000 to 50,000 words to the press, and on the night of 17th February, as many as 67,251 words were transmitted.

The lines of the Company begin at Sackville, N. B., and extend to Sarnia, at the outflow of Lake Huron.

They also run from the United States border to the Georgian Bay and the most northern towns of Canada.

The Company has wires along all the Railways in the Provinces of Ontario and Quebec, and as soon as the Intercolonial Railway is built their wires will be extended over the whole of that road.

In transmitting cable despatches they are sent direct to Sackville, N.B., the present terminus of the Company's lines, over a circuit of 750 miles.

The Company has likewise branches from Montreal working direct through its connections to the following cities in the United States:

- PORTLAND, Maine, 300 miles. ORWEGO, N. Y., 300 miles. BOSTON, Mass., 350 " BUFALO, N. Y., 450 " NEW YORK, N. Y., 450 " DETROIT, Mich., 550 "

During the year 1870, the Company erected 821 miles of poles, strung up 1920 miles of wire, and opened 86 new stations. In 1871 they will string an additional wire of 450 miles from Montreal to Buffalo, and have agreed to build lines through the remote districts of Bonaventure and Gaspé, which will be of great service to the fishing interest in that neighbourhood, as well as to the shipping entering the St. Lawrence.

TARIFF—25 cents for 10 words and 1 cent for additional words.
