NELSON PARLIAMENT, M. P. P., GIVEN ENTHUSIASTIC RECEPTION

By the Canadian Clubs of New York and Boston—Reports of Address from Leading Metropolitan Newspapers—Words of Appreciation from Former Prince Edward Man.

The brief, telegraphed reports of the addresses delivered to the members of the New York and Boston Canadian Clubs failed to give an adequate conception of the undoubted success achieved by Mr. Nelson Parliament, M.P.P., the popular member for Prince Edward and speaker-designate of the Ontario Legislature.

Copies of the great daily newspapers of New York and Boston and of a letter from Mr. Douglas Sprague present a more personal and intimate account of Mr. Parliament's reception in the two great cities.

This was Mr. Parliament's first visit, either to New York or to Boston and, naturally, he approached his task with much diffidence and many misgivings.

The men who compose the membership of the Clubs in both cities are among the foremost citizens, whether in commerce or in the professions, for where Canadians have gone they have always risen above the crowd.

The Canadian Club of New York has for its headquarters the whole of the second floor of Hotel Belmont, one of the principal hostels in the city.

Every Saturday, at noon lunch, for a period of four months during the colder season, it is the custom of the Club to invite some prominent public man to address them.

They also, as Mr. Sprague states in his letter, hold evening banquets at monthly intervals with other important guests on other evenings.

Mr. Parliament spoke to the New York Club on Saturday, Jan. 10, for 50 minutes. His members were keenly interested in the new movement that made scrap of one of the most powerful governments that has ever ruled Ontario. The address was followed with the deepest attention and was frequently punctuated with applause. At the end there was a great demonstration of approval.

And then Mr. Parliament had to submit to a perfect bombardment of questions. There were several impromptu speeches and, contrary to the usual custom of dispersing immediately after the delivery of the main address, the greater part of the audience remained until six o'clock discussing the pros and cons of this Farmers' movement that was to them so mysterious and so wonderful in its results.

Mr. Knowlson, president of the New York Sun Publishing Company, presided as chairman. Among the guests were Prof. C. V. Campbell, Ph.D., Henry Timmins of Timmins & Co., 56 Wall street, Chas. E. Gould, Lt.-Col. J. A. Cooper, and hundreds of others of the prominent Canadians of New York City.

The Boston Address

The address at Boston was but a repetition of the success won at New York. He spoke there at the evening banquet on Tues., Jan. 13. More than 300 members were in attendance.

Mr. Parliament was met at the depot by Mr. Freeman I. Davidson, president of the Boston Canadian Club, also a banker and one of the financial magnates of the eastern United States. Mr. Davidson is a Nova Scotian, a cousin of Sir Robert Borden. He has remained true to the land of his nativity and has never taken out naturalization papers in the U.S. Mr. Parliament was entertained at Mr. Davidson's home during his stay in the Massachusetts capital.

Mr. H. Denton White presided at the banquet and among those present were Mr. J. T. Richardson, president of the State Grange, Mr. Evan H. Richardson of the State Board of Agriculture.

Mr. Parliament was also honored by an invitation from the speaker to be presented to the State Legislature which was then in session.

At this he was compelled to decline. The interest in Mr. Parliament's address as well as the Farmers' movement in Canada was emphasized by the liberal space given to reports of the speech in the most important newspapers of both New York and Boston.

We give below a few extracts

ed us.

I do not say that he influenced all of us into agreement with the platform of this new organization. There are many hard-shell Grits and Tories who are just as true to their first love in politics as they are to the land of their nativity.

These "new-fangled" notions. Don't you remember Mauss' Headline, one of Scott's characters, when he is made to say: "A new-fangled machine for digging the corn tree the chaff, that impudently thwarting the will of Divine Providence by raising a wind for your jedsyph's use by human art instead of soliciting it by prayer," etc., is in accord. This is in accord with many of us.

I do not mean to imply that this man advocated the principles of the Farmers' Party, the principles of the Liberals or of the Conservatives. He told us in his way of the principles of the Farmers' Party, and he won us as he talked.

A Man of the People

He reminded me of the representative of Prince Edward in my day, the man whom I helped to elect to your Dominion House—Dr. Platt, of the same school, advanced, with a greater vision for his people and his country, because he is of the people.

In writing this letter I am but fulfilling a promise made some time ago to myself to write you of our Club, and extend to those who come to our City occasionally to join with us in promoting its main object for existence, viz., to promote friendly and social intercourse among Canadians, the entertainment of prominent Canadians, to encourage amicable relations between the peoples of the United States and Canada, etc. This I have intended to do, but the visit of your M.P.P. has brought this good intention to a climax, therefore, in closing, permit me to congratulate the Old Home County, Prince Edward, my old Home Town, Ameliasburg, in having such a man as Nelson Parliament, M.P.P., as representative in the Ontario Legislature.

Yours sincerely,
Douglas Sprague.
(New York Tribune)

The tariff will be the main issue of the next Canadian general elections, and T. A. Cramer, who was Minister of Agriculture in Sir Robert Borden's Unionist administration, will lead a United Farmers' party, which will have direct taxation as its main plank. This was the word given yesterday to the New York Canadian Club by Nelson Parliament, of Ameliasburg, Speaker of the Ontario Legislature. At the recent elections in Ontario the United Farmers were returned to power for the first time. The new party will establish its administration next month, when the first session opens.

The new Speaker indicated that the issue of reciprocity between this country and the Dominion might be raised again, if the Dominion Farmers' party was able to duplicate the success of its Ontario predecessor. The Canadian farmers, who until recently had only local organizations, have consolidated their enterprises, he said, and are now organized from coast to coast.

Other Planks Planned

Outside the tariff, he thought the party's main planks would be direct taxation of land values, extension of agricultural schools and encouragement of the "back-to-the-land" movement.

In his address to the Canadian Club Mr. Parliament outlined the growth of the United Farmers' movement, which, he said, had been gradual but greatly accelerated by Canada's war experiences. War politics, and particularly war expenditures which were injudicious, if not actually wasteful, had opened the eyes of every Canadian voter, he declared, and though the experience of Unionist government, introduced following a coalition of the two principal parties in 1917, had promised well, it had failed to fulfil its pledge.

In the West, he continued, the farmers had for years been organized into a grain growers' association, which included in its membership practically every farmer in the community. In Ontario the United Farmers of Ontario had perfected an organization which was able at the last provincial elections to elect forty-five members and by establishing a working agreement with the Labor members, now controlled the situation.

Education is Stressed

In order to combat the modern tendency on the part of the sons and daughters of farmers to withdraw from agricultural pursuits and seek the cities the new Ontario government plans to establish a system of vocational schools, following the lines of the Danish schools, and those established in the Middle West of the United States.

"They will be country high schools," he said, "and their aim will be not only the routine education which is now available, but to instill into the minds and hearts of country boys and girls a love of agriculture, and of nature and of the country. The public schools and universities will continue to operate as they are, who so desire for the various professions; the new schools will fit them for agriculture and occupations other than professional life. Trade and commerce speak for the glory of the country, but the real backbone, the stamina of the population is still found in a contented rural population."

The good will which has always existed between the United States and Canada formed the keynote sounded at the banquet of the Canadian Club of Boston last evening in the Boston City Club, where Hon. Nelson Parliament, Speaker of the Ontario Legislature, delivered the principal address.

This international good will, characterized as a matter for the greatest pride on the part of both Nations, was emphasized both by Mr. Parliament and Rev. A. A. Rideout of the Blaney Memorial Baptist Church in Dorchester, a native-born Canadian.

"The record of both the United States and Canada," declared Mr. Parliament, "in proving as they have done for the past 100 years that they can live peacefully side by side without a single fortification along their boundary is a notable one. What we have done for the past century we can do for the next, and a greater mingling between the peoples of the two countries is highly desirable."

Mr. Parliament recounted the origin and history of the Farmers' party in Ontario, founded some five or six years ago for the reason that the farmers felt themselves insufficiently represented in Parliament under the conditions then existing. This party has increased, he said, until in the election last Fall it had more than 50,000 members and, with 45 farmers elected to the House, it became the controlling element in the Government of the Province.

The Farmers' party, according to Mr. Parliament, is anxious, first of all, to see to it that every man gets a square deal and that the burden of the payment of Canada's gigantic war debt is distributed among the whole people as equitably as possible. "The farmers feel," he stated, "that under the present tariff this is not the case, and they will try, first of all, to remedy that."

"The Farmers' party is here to stay. The two old parties have each served a useful purpose, but the popular point of view has now changed and the present spirit of unrest demanded the change which has come. The people expect a great deal of this new party, and they are going to get it."

Rev. Mr. Rideout emphasized the crying need for two particular things in this new age which follows the conclusion of the war: international good will and a new sense of eternal right.

Brief addresses were also made by Evan F. Richardson of the Massachusetts State Board of Agriculture, and by Col. John A. Cooper, commercial representative of the Dominion of Canada in New York. Freeman I. Davidson, president of the Club presided, introducing H. Denton White, chairman of the dinner committee, as toastmaster. The attendance numbered about 300.

Obituary

MRS. J. E. IVES

It was with the deepest regret that friends learned last night of the death of Bertha E. Ives, younger daughter of the late ex-Ald. and Mrs. Wm. Lott and beloved wife of Mr. J. E. Ives. The sad event took place last evening at the family home, 45 Mill street, after an illness of several months' duration.

Deceased was born in Belleville forty-six years ago. In addition to her aged mother and her sorrowing husband she is survived by a family of two sons and one daughter, Lionel M. J. Bertram and Helen M., all of whom reside at home. She is also survived by three brothers and one sister, W. A. of Los Angeles, E. H. of Belleville, Aubrey D. of Gananogue and Mrs. W. C. Mayo, of Los Angeles, Cal.

The deceased was a faithful member of Christ Church and was held in the highest respect by an unusually wide circle of friends.

The work done by Mrs. Ives in connection with the Red Cross and other war activities will never be forgotten. Although not in good health, she rendered notable service and canvassed the ward time and time again for supplies, funds of completed work. She was indeed a true and unassuming patriot.

It is well enough for charity to begin at home, but it has no excuse for sitting down there and going in to a trance.

Popular Young Couple Wedded

St. Thomas' Church Rectory Was Scene of Happy Event Last Night

A happy event took place last evening at St. Thomas' Church Rectory, when Miss Elsie Vallance, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Vallance, Commercial street, was united in marriage to Mr. Norman J. Burns, of Kingston, Venerable Archdeacon Beamish officiating. Miss Edna Vallance, sister of the bride acted as bridesmaid and Mr. Ernest Taylor, did the honors of best man. The bride was attired in a dress of pale blue satin de chine with hat to match and the bridesmaid's dress was of pale Copenhagen with hat to match. After the interesting ceremony was performed the happy party repaired to the home of the bride's parents, where a sumptuous repast was prepared for them and together with about fifty guests, all did ample justice. The balance of the evening was spent in offering congratulations and the newly wedded couple and games and dancing were indulged in. The popularity of the bride was evidenced by the large number of useful and ornamental presents she received. The groom's gift to the bridesmaid was a bracelet and to the groomsmen a tie pin. The young couple will reside in Belleville.

GAVEY — JEFFREY.

A pretty wedding was solemnized Tuesday evening, Dec. 30 at the home of the bride's parents Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Atwood, 330 Second avenue N. E., Calgary, when their only daughter, Mary Mabel, was united in marriage to John Morley Gavey, of Vancouver, only son of D. P. Gavey, of St. John's, N. B.

The Central Methodist church performed the ceremony in the presence of the immediate relatives and friends. The bridal party entered the drawing room to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March played by Mr. Fred Clark, cousin of the bride. The bride, who was given away by her brother, P. R. Jeffrey wore a gown of white crepe de chine and georgette orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of sweetheart roses and carnations. Following the ceremony a wedding supper was served, after which the happy couple left on the Vancouver express for California and Mexico where they will spend some time, the bride travelling in a black hat and black fox furs, the gift of the groom.

Mrs. O. A. Atwood who was formerly Mrs. E. Jeffrey was a resident of Belleville for several years before removing to Calgary.

Mrs. J. Gavey's daughter was an art graduate of Albert College and taught school in Hastings County. Mr. Gavey is a graduate of the O. B. C. Belleville.

THE SOVIETS

It is not very easy to get reliable information on the real nature of the Russian soviets and their administration. In Great Britain cheap editions of pamphlets and books by Lenin and others are circulated in English translations, but such things are scarce in Canada. An article in the London Times reviewing some of these pamphlets gives an idea of the true character and effect of the soviets.

To begin with, the word soviet has the meaning of council, sometimes of committee. When the Russian revolution took place in 1917, we hear of "councils of workmen's and soldiers' deputies," councils being a translation of the Russian word soviets. Local town and village soviets are councils of delegates from the different occupations of men and women, and these soviets choose each an executive council or committee also called a soviet. The town and village soviets delegate members to a district soviet, the district soviets to a regional soviet, the regional soviets to the All-Russia Soviet Congress, each of these lesser or greater soviets having its elected executive soviet as a business committee. The All-Russia Central Executive Committee appointed by the Central Soviet Congress, is limited to 200 members, and this grand committee or soviet choose in turn the Soviet of People's Commissaries, i.e., the Ministry. Any member of any soviet, great or small, in this pyramid, is liable (theoretically) to be recalled at any moment by the body which elected him.

It is readily seen that of this politico-economic structure, the basis is primarily industrial, only incidentally territorial. In the soviets the Russian population is represented according to economic interests, as workers for daily bread, not as citizens or inhabitants of a region. The idea is that the economic interests of all sorts of workers meet, clash and perforce are harmonized in bodies, which directly represent all labor. Not property nor brains or education is primarily sovereign, but immediate vital interests of the masses make themselves directly and openly effective.

Practically, however, not all labor is represented in the soviets. It does not seem to be true that professional workers are excluded from soviet suffrage, but certainly all employers and middlemen are debarré. As the Times quotes, on this point:

"Those who employ others for profit; those who live on income not arising from their own work; private businessmen, agents, middlemen, etc., monks and priests of all demonstrations; lunatics and convicted criminals may not vote." The intention evidently is to destroy private business and develop co-operative or national business.

The tendency of soviet rule must be to depress the individual and render him a mere cog in a machine, though that machine is, of course a very different sort of thing from the Junker-ridden Germany that made war on civilization. Two good features appear in sovietism, viz., enforced activity of the individual both in work and in political life, and general publicity. We shall all keep a close watch on the development of things under Lenin and his brother Commissaries. It is encouraging, perhaps, to note that terrorism is on the wane, we may pick some suggestions for ourselves. Give the devil his due and learn a thing or two from him if possible.

COLLEGE RE-ESTABLISHMENT

Most of the Canadian colleges established and maintained by the churches were financed before the war on the expectation that a certain part of the necessary expenditure would be met by students' fees. After the 4th of August, 1914, the students began to go into khaki, and for four years the theological colleges, in particular, were practically empty. It was necessary to maintain the classes to pay the staffs, and in many cases to increase salaries to match the high cost of living. At the same time, the outlays for maintenance grew rapidly. The item for coal alone was important.

Readily, it can be understood that the result was a series of deficits. In some cases, these were covered by special donations from friends of the colleges, but it is clear to all associated with these important institutions that a general enlargement of endowment funds is urgently required. The colleges of Canada have done excellent work since their establishment through the toil and sacrifice of pioneer Canadians. There is no prouder page in the annals of the churches of Canada than that which records their constant interest in higher education. The colleges have educated in the clergy who have positions of leadership in the Dominion, and the missionaries who are giving their lives in ardent toil the world over. They must be maintained as centers of inspiration for coming generations.

One of the aims of the Forward Movement, now engaging the attention of five Christian communions in Canada is to put the colleges on a solid financial foundation. It is an object that must commend itself to every patriotic citizen whether he be an active churchman or not. Education is the mainstay of democracy.

WHY COALITIONS FAIL

It was Disraeli who observed that "England does not love coalitions," and he gave as a principal reason the fact that to carry on a coalition the leaders had to make secret agreements, which usually had for their purpose the avoidance of public discussions of principles and therefore entailed the degradation of parliament. Coalitions have not been particularly successful in England even in times of national crisis when party principles sank into insignificance; though they have served their turn, just as it may be admitted Union Government has served its turn. Once the national crisis is passed and attention is focussed upon domestic problems, coalition comes to difficulties; its responsible leaders do not hold any well-defined and fruitful principles in common and their policy and action cannot be controlled by a common purpose of any importance. Union Government at the last two sessions apparently did not know its own mind from week to week or from day to day; much time was frittered away, and then ill-considered bills dealing with important matters were jammed through without giving parliament adequate time to consider them. Coalition in England was equally wobbly last session; on some questions Lloyd George described a circle, and some of the more important bills were laid over for another session.

Coalition in England and Union in Canada now present the same characteristics. Pretending to foster national unity they merely affront national intelligence and strictly national feelings. They are both seeking to organize a new kind of political party, a party without definite principles held together by the need of self-preservation. Coalition and Union both act as parties, fighting—if hopelessly—the other parties. They have an unholy fear of men of ability, honesty and distinction, getting into parliament; they want members who will consent to support the inner circle; men who are interested in principles are not wanted for the combine has no principles except compromise. Hence the combination governments repudiate the very assumption of national unity upon which they base their claims to power, because if there were real national unity the election of men of ability and honest purpose would be welcomed.

THE NEW RED MENACE

The recent successes of the Russian Bolshevik forces in Southern and Southwestern Russia and in some of the states bordering on India, may be said to have culminated in the capture of Odessa, Russia's great Black Sea port. From the borders of Rumania and the Ukraine to the Urals, the armies of Lenin appear to have made a clean sweep of all resistance. Their triumphant march, which for some weeks has held a threat against India, now becomes a distinct menace, as Odessa would furnish a strong point for the launching of military operations through Persia and Armenia towards Britain's eastern possessions. The Bolshevik could not, of course, make much use of the Black Sea as a pathway for men and supplies. British or Allied fleets would quickly form an unbreakable blockade just as they have in the Baltic. But through Trans-Caucasia there could be sent great armies long before the Allies could reach the scene in adequate numbers.

It is a question, however, if the Red chiefs just now will launch a drive on India. They have neither the organization or supplies necessary to cope with the British forces in India and the Near East which if they lack in numbers, as compared with the Red hordes, must be well-trained and perfectly equipped. Climate too, would be a powerful factor in defending India from the Bolshevik warriors.

It is much more likely that Lenin, if he does not make some sort of a peace with Europe, will start a great campaign against Western Europe. The capture of India would be a heavy blow to Great Britain, but if Red armies could once sweep across Central Europe, the Bolshevik chiefs would come pretty close to dictating terms. Already the Allies appear to have realized this, as Polish and Lithuanian forces, equipped largely by Great Britain and France, are fighting desperately, and at present with a good deal of success, to stem the tide of Red invasion. One of the first acts of the League of Nations may be to take active measures to keep the soviet armies inside the borders of Russia, and it is certain that otherwise there can be no peace for the rest of the world. Such action by a peace league would seem paradoxical, but there can be little world harmony if organized anarchy and discord is permitted to run amuck where it will. The next move of the Russian Red Government, whether political or military, will be awaited with some anxiety. It may mean another stupendous struggle.

The ratification of the peace treaty was an historic event, yet it did not carry the import that goes with the first official step to put into play the covenant of the league. The peace signing ended the great war, but in Paris was launched a world-wide movement to do away with war. The council of the league is composed of representatives of Great Britain, France, Italy, Japan, Belgium and Brazil. Twelve neutral states, Argentina, Colombia, Spain, Sweden, Chile, Denmark, Norway, Paraguay, Holland, Salvador, Switzerland and Venezuela, will take part in the discussion of the assembly section, which might be described as the lower house of the league. The test of the league will, of course, come now when the opportunity will be presented to act on the program worked out during the last twelve months. The world will know very soon just how useful the league is to be in bringing about and maintaining universal peace. The placing and acceptance of mandatories, the reduction of armaments, courts to see that equity and justice shall be handed out to everybody, schemes for the improvement of conditions of labor, all these are vitally necessary to the league becoming an instrument to achieve world harmony. The league may fail, in which case the world will go back to the old dangerous methods of diplomacy, more or less secret, that contributed a lot to bring on the explosion of August, 1914. It will mean more alliances for offense and defense, a resumption of militarism with its stupendous and crippling expenditures. The masses the world over, however, are passionately determined that they will not again be subjected to the agonies of the last four years and as their representatives around the council board of the League of Nations are acutely aware of this, it may be taken for granted they will abandon any attitude that would tend to wreck the league. Providing they are sincere and have accurately gauged what the nations desire, the chances are bright for a successful inauguration of the movement towards a happier world.

Mr. Drury's plans for road improvement throughout Ontario, as announced by his minister of public works, is one of the most ambitious ever proposed in this country, and is one that should on the whole receive the support of the general public. According to Mr. Biggs it is intended that all county highways shall be looked after by the province, and that the province shall share in the expense of of eeping township roads in good shape. In county road work the province will utilize Ontario's share of the Federal Government's grants. Under this plan it is estimated that the Federal Government will contribute 40 per cent., the province 42 per cent. and the municipalities 18 per cent. This should make for better roads, as, under the present system of repairing—that by statute labor—the work is far from being as dependable as the traffic calls for. An interesting item of Mr. Biggs' announcement states that it is expected that before next winter a provincial highway connecting Ottawa with Windsor will be finished. This confounds critics of the U. F. O. who have declared that the farmers considered such a highway a race-track for city joy-riders, and would never sanction its construction.

Because of the refusal of the Fort Francis Paper Mill Company to supply paper a number of western journals have been obliged to suspend publication temporarily. The amazing part of the matter is that apparently the paper mill people have acted in defiance of Controller Pringle's order that western Canadian papers must continue to receive supplies in the past. To back up his order, Mr. Pringle threatened to commandeer shipments. If his ruling was ignored, and it appears as if in order to head off such affliction the company shipped all its paper into the United States.

This paper is produced from Canadian forests, and the Canadian Government has made the ruling that fifteen per cent of the production must be sold to Canadians. The trouble seems to be that in order to supply the heavy demands of the American publishers for newsprint, buyers from across the line offer rich inducements in order to get everything in sight and, unfortunately some of the manufacturers, keen for the business, have acted unfairly towards Canadian publishers, as well as flouted the law. The Government should act promptly in this matter, Canada owns the forests and Canadians must be the first served from what they produce.

Have you noticed the mad rush amongst U. F. O. members to be the "goat" for Mr. Raney? This is no time for slackers in production. The slacker in peace time is as false to the community as the slacker in war.

I walked through the woodland meadows, Where sweet the thrushes sing, And found on a bed of mosses, A bird with a broken wing; I took it home and each morning It sang its old sweet strain, But the bird with the broken pinion Never soared so high again.

I found a young life broken By sin's seductive art, And touched with a Christ-like pity, I took it to my heart; He lived with a noble purpose, And struggled not in vain, But the life that sin had stricken, Never soared so high again.

Two chaps came down on the "Street" to trade, And woo Dame Fortune, that fickle jade, Who showers her favors with strange caprice, On those who would fail their wealth increase.

Now both were green at the Wall Street game As they moth-like hovered around the flame, Impatient at once their luck to try, To make a winning or else know why.

Now Adam Phool thought he knew it all, Considered advice as so much gall,— He'd take his chance with the bulls and bears And knew just how to avoid their snares.

The other, D. Smart, had some common sense, Albeit his brain was somewhat dense; Yet to con the rules, he knew enough, Ere he tried to throw an expert's bluff.

Mr. Phool bought stocks with a lavish hand And blew in his money to beat the band; 'Twas a lead-pipe cinch, he thought to win, As his ten-point margin he handed in.

But sometimes stocks go the other way, And so in sudden slump one day His margin shrunk, and they called for more, Which he remitted, though feeling sore.

Found his account of protection bare; Another drop, and a panicky scare They sold him out with a balance due Of just four dollars and sixty-two.

Whether Hydro radial is the solution of our railway difficulties or not, there is certainly ground for dissatisfaction with the present service. A recent letter in the Toronto Globe by Mr. Norman Lambert, formerly the Globe's Western representative, draws attention to the unsatisfactory service given on the Prince Edward County road. Mr. Lambert had occasion to meet an early train at one of the stations on a cold morning, recently, and found the station closed and no one in attendance. This is a state of affairs that has existed for some time. It is bad enough in the morning when the time of train departure is fairly regular and a long wait is seldom necessary, but it is unfortunately worse at night. The train is often late and travellers are subjected to very much inconvenience, exposure and suffering through cold, owing to the stations being closed.

Only recently, a "Picton gentleman" had to meet the late train at Bloomfield. The night was bitterly cold and the only method to keep from freezing was running up and down the platform. Surely the public is entitled to more consideration than this treatment evidences. The stations should be kept open and heated for those who have to meet trains. Representations were made to the C.N.R. before the road was taken over by the Government, but with very little result. The matter should at once be taken up by the Boards of Trade or Municipal Councils and improvements in the service demanded.

The above conditions are simply an instance of the service that is being given the people of Prince Edward County. It is a well known fact that this county furnishes a large proportion of the passenger traffic on the C.N.R. between Trenton and Toronto. This is especially true of the morning trains going west and the evening train east. Recently, of ninety passengers on the 4.45 p.m. train Toronto east, only one was for east of Trenton, while many were for Picton and intermediate points on the line from Trenton. This train runs through to Yarker with almost no passengers, while a great proportion of the passengers endure indifferent service into Picton. Why should not this well equipped main line train run into Picton instead of going on down the main line.—Picton Gazette.

Widely spread use of them has attested their great value, and has need no further advertisement than this. Having firmly established themselves in public esteem, they now rank without a peer in the list of standard vegetable preparations.

Gerald M. Ponton to Important Position

Becomes Technical Adviser of Trade Commission and will tour the West

Ottawa, Jan. 19.—In an effort to obtain first-hand information concerning trade conditions, both domestic and export, in the West, Mr. G. M. Ponton, M.E., assistant secretary and technical adviser of the Canadian Trade Commission, will leave Ottawa, January 19th on a tour of the western provinces. He will, insofar as possible, conduct a survey of established industries which are now operating and make suggestions as to increasing their production. He will also look into industries which were commenced but which are not now operating, and try to judge the advisability of reactivating such. Finally, Mr. Ponton will consider the possibility of establishing new industries in the West, the advisability of which will depend on natural resources, conditions affecting manufacture and general conditions of trade.

On his way west, Mr. Ponton will stop for a few days at all the principal points, outlining to the various boards of trade, manufacturers' associations and other persons interested, the objects of the investigation. Returning eastward, he will make more prolonged stops, taking in many of the smaller outlying towns. It is expected that this reconnaissance survey of Mr. Ponton will lead up to further surveys to be made later in the year, and that these preliminary investigations will tend toward a sympathetic consideration of trade and industrial problems in Canada.

Gerald M. Ponton is the son of Lt.-Col. W. N. Ponton. He has had wide experience which will fit him admirably for his very important post. At the beginning of the war he was serving as a mining engineer with one of the large corporations in Mexico. He resigned and offered his services to the Canadian Government. For three years he was employed as expert adviser in the Munitions Department, his work being to examine, analyse and report upon the explosives furnished to the government. His work in the connection was so satisfactory that he has now been assigned to this new and responsible position.

B. H. Clarke on His Trial Today

Accused of False Pretences in Procuring Money from Union Bank

The trial of B. Hayden Clarke on a charge of securing about $1,900 in currency from the Union Bank in November with intent to defraud by procuring this to be delivered to his agents, began this morning before Judge Deroche.

Crown Attorney Carnew prosecuted, Mr. E. J. Butler being private prosecutor. Col. E. D. O'Flynn appeared for Clarke who pleaded not guilty.

E. A. Lovell, Oshawa, testified that Clarke was in his employ at Oshawa for a time last year. Clarke was employed to manage the phonograph department. Clarke carried no supply of goods himself. Witness declared he had himself signed a contract with Mason & Risch by which Clarke was to sell pianos on Lovell's time and Clarke and his employers were to divide the profits half and half. Clarke did not carry any stock of goods while with Lovell.

J. G. Moffatt, manager of the Union Bank, Belleville, testified that Clarke opened an account in June. From that to the end of September the account ran about $250 per month. On Sept. 30th Clarke applied for a loan and declared that he had about $5,000 or $6,000 coming out of his business at Oshawa, that he had about $3,000 in stock locally and that his debts were practically nil. On the strength of this, witness gave Clark for two months, the loan of $280.00 Clarke told witness that Mrs. Clarke was winding up the business at Oshawa. In October Clarke wanted cheques cashed on Oshawa, saying he required money to pay the travellers who were here. At different dates he cashed cheques on Oshawa. The cheques were cashed on their individual merits. On Nov. 14th witness found about $1,900 cheques of Clarke's going through to Oshawa, which had been cashed. Saturday, Nov. 15th more were presented and refused payment. Clarke asked why they were not cashed and said he had money to pay for these at Oshawa and to cover all the others. The last cheques were thereupon cashed.

A telephone message from the Bank of Commerce was received by Mr. Moffatt after cashing the cheque

Witness told Clarke later that the Bank of Commerce at Oshawa said the account of Clarke was only $384 and that there were about $3,000 cheques outstanding. Clarke said he could not understand this. Later Clarke or his agents presented further cheques which were refused.

Miss K. Lazier, teller of the Union Bank, testified that Clarke started cashing cheques on the Bank of Commerce, Oshawa, in September. On Nov. 13th a cheque was cashed and on Nov. 14th seven cheques of Mr. Clarke's were cashed. On Nov. 15th further cheques were cashed on Clarke after the manager had given his assent.

Miss Mabel Bailey, who was saleslady in Clarke's store had cashed cheques in her favor. She endorsed the cheques, she was instructed to get the money at the bank and give the money to Clarke. She always gave the money to Clarke after cashing the cheques.

In July, August and September the business was not large. No money came in from Oshawa.

James A. McKee declared that on Saturday Clarke said he was going to Oshawa and would be back on Monday. Witness did not see him again free. On Monday he got a letter from Clarke, ordering him to ship a Curtis photograph to Oshawa. This Mr. McKee did.

About the middle of September Clarke told him to get a cheque cashed. This he did. Witness paid Clarke the money. Mr. Clarke in October told him to cash some cheques at the bank and wire via C.P.R. the money to his wife at Oshawa, he understood to pay drafts at Oshawa. These cheques were on the Bank of Commerce, Oshawa. Two or three times witness wired money to Mrs. Clarke under instructions from Clarke.

Miss Gladys Thompson, manager of the local office of the G.N.W. Telegraph Co. testified that on various occasions from Sept. 20th to Nov. 14th there was telegraphed from the G.N.W. office a total of $3,923 to Mrs. B. H. Clarke, Oshawa by Mr. Clarke, except on one occasion when Mr. McKee wired the money. On Nov. 12th, $500 was telegraphed, on Nov. 13th, $500 and on Nov. 14th two amounts of $500 each to Mrs. Clarke by Clarke.

Court adjourned until 2 p.m.

On Friday evening those interested in the great Forward Movement met in Canterbury Hall, at the invitation of the rector, Canon Armstrong. After the singing of the first hymn, "Onward Christian Soldier" Canon Armstrong led in the litany used by the Anglican Church in connection with the Forward Movement. Then followed another hymn, after which Mr. McKay, of the Presbyterian clergy, gave a splendid address on the Forward Movement. He made a strong plea for intercessors and more knowledge of God's word. After the singing of another hymn Dr. Burns, Toronto, of the Methodist clergy, addressed the meeting. Dr. Burns, who has been at the front, gave us some splendid facts in connection with those great and decisive battles, when our numbers were so few, and yet we won, because God's hand led us onward to victory. Today we face reconstruction and Dr. Burns struck the keynote when he said that the "church must be up and doing" if she would meet the needs of the people today. He spoke at length concerning the way that the people have fallen back so quickly into the paths of extravagance and sinful pleasure when so short a time ago our boys were bleeding on the battlefield. Dr. Burns made a strong appeal to the church. Another hymn was sung and Canon Armstrong addressed the meeting. He told of how nobly Trenton had given of her money to the war, and to save an earthly kingdom, how much more freely should she give to forward God's kingdom. "God Save the King" and the benediction brought the meeting to a close. Other clergy who were present were Rev. Wilkins, Rev. Cranston, Captain Clarke and Major Frost.

On Thursday evening over two hundred and fifty gathered in King St. Church to listen to Judge Deroche, Belleville, in the interests of the Christian Men's League. Bachelors Had Better Beware

Leap Year Gives Maidens Fair Right To Propose—If Maiden's Offer is Refused a Silk Gown Must be Bought.

Leap Year is upon us, and if the Belleville girls will only take advantage of the privileges offered them in Leap Year and play the game according to the rules, the bachelors who spend the greatest part of their time on the Boarding-House Hunt will be transformed into happy family men.

Many girls anxious to marry (and what girl isn't!) do not seem to take seriously the privileges which are offered them in Leap Year, but if they would stop to consider that ever since the days when Julius Caesar was fluttering to Cupid's realm, Leap Year was the privileged year of the female sex. And the fair sex who can still write their names with a "Miss" prefixed, have not had such a chance to annex a "Mrs." since 1812. In 1914 many of the available men were overseas, and Leap Year then passed away with scarcely a notice. There are now, however, in the city, many young men, who, according to the close students of psychology, would welcome a little tactful help from the maidens' fair. Pioneers in the propaganda of feminine courtship state that it is high time that women take a hand in determining their own matrimonial future and cease merely "taking what is offered," so to speak.

When one considers that the female of the species has taken such an initiative in politics and other matters, which formerly were supposed to be sacred possessions of the men alone, the fact that any young lady takes advantage of Leap Year will not seem so appalling a breach of conventionalities. And if the afore-said young ladies take to the privileges which are being offered them this year, and commence popping the question, it is likely that bachelors, wedded to their state of single-mindedness will, at once take steps to dodge the importunate suitor who may decide to inaugurate the new custom, by forming associations where they may discuss the most effective way of withstanding the attacks of the Leap Year brigade. Probably the bachelors will tell the ladies fair that their places are in the homes or appear at social functions arrayed in a sweater and other paraphernalia of the athletic field, or develop a full-grown grouch. These and other defensive tactics may come to the rescue of the unprotected male sex.

Maidens should not consider it a breach of propriety to snare a husband at any time during the twelve months of this year, for such actions in Leap Year are the proper procedure and have the sanction of ancient usage and law. The Roman maiden, who in the days of Julius Caesar was attracted by a young man whom she desired to have, was allowed such privilege, and the custom has remained a permitted section of social law.

But should this be deemed by all aspiring maidens, be mindful of the fact that the backward young man who refuses the proposal of a young lady this year, will have to make good his refusal. For it is written in the ancient law books on the matter, that the man who dares to refuse the offer of a maiden fair in Leap Year, must forthwith buy that young lady a silk frock. So even if you don't happen to land a man in this 1920, in the year of our Lord, you (young lady) are at least sure of having an increased wardrobe of silken gowns.

Still Doing Great Work For Women

WHAT MISS SIMPSON SAYS OF DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

Before Taking Them She Could Not Walk—Now She Can Walk and Work, and She Gives All the Credit to Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Villa Marie, Que., Jan. 19. (Special)—One more tribute to the great work Dodd's Kidney Pills are doing for the women of Canada comes from Miss Angela Simpson, well known and highly respected here.

"When I commenced to take Dodd's Kidney Pills," Miss Simpson states, "my heart bothered me so I could not walk."

"Now I can walk and work."

Miss Simpson is not entirely cured yet but so great are the benefits she has received from Dodd's Kidney Pills that she is firmly convinced they will effect a complete cure. She has been a sufferer for eighteen years and underwent four months' treatment in a hospital before trying Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are a Kidney remedy. They relieve the work of the heart by putting the kidneys in shape so that all the impurities out of the blood. Pure blood carried to all parts of the body means new health all over the body.

Latest News From Town of Trenton

Nurses to Form a Club—Union Meeting at Canterbury Hall to Promote Forward Movement—Personal News and Notes From The Ontario's Special Correspondent at Trenton.

Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Stafford and Mrs. Giles were in Trenton on Wednesday.

The graduate nurses (numbering ten) of our town met at Killarney Inn parlors on Friday evening at 7.30 o'clock. The nurses wish to form a club. Let us hope that the club doesn't send the prices any higher into the air, beyond our reach.

Mr. Wm. Long has been confined to his home for a few days owing to a severe cold.

Mrs. Jas. Coleman had the misfortune to fall on the pavement in front of St. Peter's church and break her hip. Much sympathy is felt for the aged lady.

On Friday evening those interested in the great Forward Movement met in Canterbury Hall, at the invitation of the rector, Canon Armstrong. After the singing of the first hymn, "Onward Christian Soldier" Canon Armstrong led in the litany used by the Anglican Church in connection with the Forward Movement. Then followed another hymn, after which Mr. McKay, of the Presbyterian clergy, gave a splendid address on the Forward Movement. He made a strong plea for intercessors and more knowledge of God's word. After the singing of another hymn Dr. Burns, Toronto, of the Methodist clergy, addressed the meeting. Dr. Burns, who has been at the front, gave us some splendid facts in connection with those great and decisive battles, when our numbers were so few, and yet we won, because God's hand led us onward to victory. Today we face reconstruction and Dr. Burns struck the keynote when he said that the "church must be up and doing" if she would meet the needs of the people today. He spoke at length concerning the way that the people have fallen back so quickly into the paths of extravagance and sinful pleasure when so short a time ago our boys were bleeding on the battlefield. Dr. Burns made a strong appeal to the church. Another hymn was sung and Canon Armstrong addressed the meeting. He told of how nobly Trenton had given of her money to the war, and to save an earthly kingdom, how much more freely should she give to forward God's kingdom. "God Save the King" and the benediction brought the meeting to a close. Other clergy who were present were Rev. Wilkins, Rev. Cranston, Captain Clarke and Major Frost.

A Tonic For the Nerves

The Only Real Nerve Tonic is a Good Supply of Rich, Red Blood

"If people would only attend to their blood, instead of worrying themselves ill," said an eminent nerve specialist, "we doctors would not see our consulting rooms crowded with these nervous wrecks. More people suffer from worry than anything else."

The worst of things which the specialist speaks of is the nervous run-down condition caused by overwork and the many anxieties of today. Sufferers find themselves tired, moose, low-spirited and unable to keep their minds on anything. Any sudden noise hurts like a blow. They are full of groundless fears, and do not sleep well at night. Headaches, neuritis and other nerve pains are part of the misery, and it all comes from starved nerves.

Doctors, the nerves with poisonous sedatives is a terrible mistake. The only real nerve tonic is a good supply of rich, red blood. Therefore to cure nervousness and run-down health Dr. Williams' Pink Pills should be taken. These pills actually make new, rich blood, which strengthens the nerves, improves the appetite, gives new strength and spirits, and makes hitherto despondent people bright and cheerful. If you are at all out of sorts, you should begin curing yourself today by taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

On Friday evening of last week the members of the choir of the Bethel Methodist Church, together with a large number of Sunday School workers and members of the Epworth League and many of her other young friends, repaired to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Delyea to spend a happy evening with their daughter, Miss Clara Delyea, who left on Monday for Niagara Falls, N.Y., where she has entered upon a course of training in professional nursing.

Clara was a member of the choir for the past two years and in parting with her efficient services, so cheerfully rendered at all times, her associates and friends wished to give a little tangible evidence of their appreciation and good wishes.

A very large gathering was present, young and old, and the evening's memories will long linger with all those who participated.

The crowd then repaired to the double parlours and the gathering was called to order by Mr. Freddie Prindle. Miss Mabel Robson, of Belleville High School, was called upon and the following address was read:

Dear Clara:— We, your companions and friends of the Sunday School and League, have met tonight to extend to you our best wishes on the eve of your departure. It is with sorrow we see you go, for we shall miss you each week as we meet, and we trust the memory of our gathering will ever be pleasant ones. We hope as you labor in your new profession, that God will abundantly bless your effort.

In bidding you goodspeed we trust you will accept this small remembrance as a token of the esteem in which you are held, and that in your new calling you may often be reminded of the pleasant times spent together.

We hope and trust you may be eminently successful in your chosen profession and that you may enjoy a long career of usefulness in ministering to the sick and relief of the suffering and that when your work on earth is done, you may enjoy the reward of a well-spent life and hear the Master's "Well done, good and faithful servant; enter into the joy of the Lord."

We join hands in wishing you all possible success and assure you a hearty welcome at all times in Bethel.

Nigned on behalf of the young people of Bethel—

After the reading of the address, and presentation, Mr. Delyea made a very suitable reply on behalf of Clara, thanking the people for their kindness and loving remembrances.

Mr. Prindle then called upon Mr. Harrison Phillips, Mrs. J. Chisholm and Mr. Roscoe Robson to say a few words, which were followed by several instrumental duets and vocal selections.

Refreshments were then served to the large company of guests, who enjoyed with the happiest of good cheer the very dainty and excellent luncheon provided.

A very enjoyable evening was spent in contests, music and games, and all parted wishing Clara every success and happiness in her new profession.

Events From Busy Trenton

Death of E. M. Blakely, Veteran Trenton Jeweller—Hon. Gideon Robertson Addresses Canadian Club.

(From The Ontario's Special Correspondent at Trenton)

Trenton, Jan. 21, '20. Mr. and Mrs. Morley Sparling and family, of Cobourg, were week end guests at Mrs. Sparling's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Barry, corner of Henry street and Dufferin avenue.

Mr. Leslie Brown, of Cobourg, is in town doing some work for Messrs. Aker and McNab on the Dufferin Street School.

On Saturday afternoon there passed away one of Trenton's oldest jewellers, Mr. E. M. Blakely. Mr. Blakely had been in poor health for the last two years, and before the end was only conscious for a short time. He was born in Prince Edward county, where many years of his life were spent. He was a resident of the Southern States for a few years also. He was twice a resident of Trenton, in the capacity of jeweller. He resided in Wellington also. About seven years ago he sold his stock to Mr. Everett Anderson.

The stock was then bought by Mr. Ralph Bontor, who is now in the old E. M. Blakely shop. He leaves to mourn his loss, his wife and one son, William, of the T. Eaton Co., Toronto.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Victor Little, York Road, on Sunday, Jan. 18, a daughter.

The town band played at the rink tonight. Of course a full attendance! We have a splendid rink now and this frosty weather has made fine ice.

The meeting of the Canadian Club, in the Masonic Hall, on Monday evening, was well attended. Hon. Gideon Robertson, Minister of Labor, was the speaker for the evening. He discussed fully the labor conditions in relation to the foreign element. It is a topic with which the Honorable gentleman is very conversant, and he left no part untouched. He brought out points that changed the viewpoint of his listeners. Mr. Percy Skitch sang twice and was well received.

Mr. Ben. Smith, of Toronto, is in town on business.

Miss Edna Johnson is in Toronto.

Presentation and Address

One of the most conspicuous events in the life of the town of Sidney took place on Tuesday evening, Jan. 18th, when a large gathering in the form of a surprise party assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Ketcheson to do them honor.

Mr. Ketcheson has just finished a term of well-nigh thirty years of faithful service for the Master as superintendent of the Stone Church Sunday School. The duties of chairman were ably performed by

Mr. Frank Knight. The gathering having been called to order, Rev. T. Wallace, pastor, on behalf of the congregation read the following address:

Dear Mr. Ketcheson:— We, your friends and neighbors, have embraced this opportunity of gathering in your home uninvited tonight to spend a social evening with you and to express to you our deepest appreciation for all the faithful effort you have put forth for the upbuilding of the moral life of this community.

For well-nigh thirty-four years you have gratefully occupied the honored position of Sunday School Superintendent of the Stone Church and we can at least say you have honestly attempted to do your best. We are not ignorant of the many difficulties you have had to face. Evident at times has been more evident than charity, and murmuring more practiced than prayers and although it is only fair to say that we have not always seen eye to eye with you in many things, yet we can assure you that our words are not empty or even for show, when we say that you have nobly, faithfully, done what you could, and our commendation is large and good.

So we ask you to kindly accept from our hands this arm chair, as a small token of our esteem and regard and may it give to such a busy man as yourself comfort, ease and rest. Our worst wish is that you may live long to enjoy it, and may it be a constant reminder that your efforts have not all been in vain.

Signed on behalf of Stone Church congregation, Robert McPherson, Frank Harris, Wm. Holmes, Henry Jeffery.

Mr. Ketcheson was so astonished by the whole proceedings that he could hardly find words to express his gratification and thanks to his many friends for their good wishes and their handsome present.

Mr. Knight was then called to the chair, after which short addresses were given by various gentlemen present. Games, music and recitations were given by the young folks. Refreshments were then served by the ladies and about midnight the party proceeded to their homes all having enjoyed a very pleasant evening.

WHY HE WAS NOT PROMOTED

He crumbled.

He watched the clock.

He was stung by a bad look.

He was always behindhand.

He had no iron in his blood.

He was willing, but unftted.

He didn't believe in himself.

He asked too many questions.

His stock excuse was, "I forgot."

He wasn't ready for the next step.

He did not put his heart in his work.

He learned nothing from his mistakes.

He felt that he was above his position.

He was content to be a second-rate man.

Mrs. L. A. Hamilton Addressed Women's Canadian Club

Splendid Lecture Given on "Citizenship" by Member of Toronto City Council for 1920.

Mrs. L. A. Hamilton, a member of Toronto city council for 1920, gave a very interesting lecture last night to the Women's Canadian Club of Belleville in the High School assembly room.

We must define citizenship and democracy in the fullest sense of the word. No democracy will endure unless it has spiritual bases and ideals.

The question is asked: "How are we going to relate our new freedom to the community around us?"

People must think before going to the polls to vote. Everything in the home is controlled by the City Hall, the morals of the city, the milk and water supply.

The woman citizen with a voluntary effort should help other women citizens to serve her community better. Even if it is only to telephone her and tell her about the franchise and make her feel the responsibility of a citizen.

Somebody said democracy was a circle with the individual in the centre. The individual feels as if the whole world were his. Our individual life is restrained by obligations to the state.

The social evil is a great menace to a city. We must combat prostitution and fight for motherhood. Eighty per cent of blindness is caused by this great evil.

The constructive ways are the best to combat that evil with. Good, clean recreation and plenty of it is the best. Lonely men and women must be safeguarded. In Toronto they have the Blue Triangle room where any girl may go to sew, eat her lunch or do as she pleases.

Mrs. Hamilton believed that there should be a lady judge at court. She would see the League of Nations as a shield, kept strong and an actual factor in our everyday life.

In time, Mrs. Hamilton feels the first consideration of the Government will be humanity and the building of roads, etc. will come in second consideration.

The woman citizen with a voluntary effort should help other women citizens to serve her community better. Even if it is only to telephone her and tell her about the franchise and make her feel the responsibility of a citizen.

Mrs. Hamilton's address was enjoyed very much by all those present. It being a rather cold and stormy night, there might have been more there, but a good number was present.

Married Men Live Longest

If you are a woman you will live longer than the average man.

It is an old saying but it is very true to-day in spite of the stress of the modern woman's life and the physical conditions to which she is subjected.

Statistics prove the truth of the saying. Nine hundred and fifty spinsters out of every 1,000 at twenty-five years of age reach forty; 652 out of every 1,000 reach sixty; 119 reach eighty-five and eight attain the age of ninety-five.

On the other hand only 79 males out of 1,000 at twenty-five years of age reach forty-five; 659 sixty-five; sixty-four eighty-five; and three ninety-five.

That married men live longer than bachelors was mentioned as a curious fact by an official of the Prudential Assurance Company to the writer; while, although in the long run women live longer than men, a man of twenty-five has more chances of living to be fifty than a woman of the same age.

On the other hand, if a man and woman have both reached the age of fifty the chances are that the woman will outlive the man, a fact accounted for by the difference in temperament.

Clergymen and farmers are popularly supposed to be the longest living people. Compared with engine drivers they would seem to lead a very placid existence, and yet the latter have a good longevity average.

Proper living, of course counts for everything. Hard work never killed anybody but to quote a popular saying "the average man digs his grave with his teeth." Abundance of food and ease shortens life; while people who take drinks shorten their lives by at least six years.

In regard to mortality among children Providence and the law of averages seem to strike a fairly even balance. While twenty per cent more male children die of consumption than females twenty-five per cent more of girls than boys die of cancer. Nearly forty per cent more of the girls die of whooping cough than boys.

Again, while rheumatism and arthritis causes the death of fifty per cent more girls than boys pneumonia and asthma results in the death of fifty per cent more of the boys than girls.

Returned Soldier Lacking Memory is Subject of Search

Escaped from Hospital. Escort Sent From Kingston. To Locate Man Found He Had Disappeared.

Meanwhile an escort from military headquarters in Kingston summoned to attend to the veteran is searching for him at the time of writing without success.

The man whose name is unknown, was a passenger on Grand Trunk train No. 18 yesterday morning. After the train left here, Conductor J. H. H. Horsey Chosen as Standard-Bearer Enthusiastic Gathering Prince Edward Liberals Nominates Popular Citizen as Candidate of Next Dominion Election.

A good crowd attended the Liberal meeting in the Regent Theatre on Saturday afternoon for the annual election of officers and to select a candidate for the next Federal election.

The chairman said he never had greater pride in the Liberal party than to-day and read an extract from the speech of the Liberal Leader, McKenzie King, at Newmarket, giving an outline of the broad Liberal platform.

Election of officers then took place and the former officers were all re-elected:

President — W. S. Benson. 1st Vice-President — Hubert McDonald.

2nd Vice-President — Adolphus Roblin. Secretary — W. V. Pettit.

Treasurer — H. H. Bristol.

Mr. D. J. McGregor a practical farmer of Halton was then called on. He said that there should be as many ladies as men at these political gatherings and could not understand why the women did not take more interest.

He said he was proud to stand on the Liberal platform which was broad and comprehensive enough for everyone in the community. Mr. McGregor claimed that the farmer and labor interests were identical. What benefited one was a benefit to the other.

Mr. D. J. McGregor a practical farmer of Halton was then called on. He said that there should be as many ladies as men at these political gatherings and could not understand why the women did not take more interest.

Mr. Masten said there had been good cause for the revolutions in Europe owing to autocratic governments, and he thought there was cause for all the unrest in Canada because for a number of years we have been living under the most autocratic of governments. Mr. Masten claimed that party government by the two old parties the only way. The old parties are held together like a family by sentiment, while the new parties, farmers, labor and soldiers, are for material gains in dollars and cents.

Nominations for a candidate were then declared open and Dr. Currie and H. H. Horsey were the nominated candidates.

Dr. Currie said he was glad to draw off in favor of such a man as Mr. Horsey and the choice was made unanimous.

Mr. Horsey said he accepted not that the outlook for victory was so bright but rather because he did not believe in lowering the old Liberal standard in the Prince Edward. The Liberal creed was to work for the welfare of all the people. Freedom — freedom of speech, of the press, of trade, Democracy — every man and child to have an equal chance.

The men who believed in that creed have given us responsible government, representation by population. Mr. Horsey gave his attitude as regards the United Farmers. The organization, he thought, was inevitable, as the manufacturers, the clubs would be very advantageous, especially in the more isolated parts. The co-operative plan he thought good, as entirely too many middlemen take toll from farm produce. The political objects of the U. F. O., and the Liberals were practically identical.

The first step of any Government he thought, should be to build up agriculture and remove the customs duties from farm implements.

Mrs. W. H. Ferguson a representative Liberal from Huron county spoke briefly. She told of her pleasure of being present to such an important meeting. She referred to former political meetings held under the dark war cloud. It was only through the efforts of the brave men who went overseas that we have those broad acres she declared. She told of an incident of her girlhood when led to a Liberal meeting by the hand and the house being full she was placed on the edge of the platform and told to keep quiet and not fall off.

The meeting was then closed with most hearty cheers for the King, the popular candidate, Leader Mackenzie King and the chairman. — Picton Times.

Ouija Board Helps Dominion Government

Said To Have Located Lost Document in Finance Department.

Ottawa, Jan. 15.—Delivers into the occult may be interested to know that the Ouija board has been of real assistance to the Canadian government.

Some time back it appears a document in the Finance Department got lost. Rumors as they did among the masses of papers in the offices no one could discover the missing deed. One afternoon a young lady clerk in another branch of the department was out at an afternoon tea and saw a group of girl friends playing with Ouija. She asked them to consult it concerning the missing document and noted on a slip of paper the numbers and letters given. Next day with this assistance, so the story goes the missing papers were promptly unearthed. This is the second instance it is said, on which the Ouija has discovered lost documents for the Finance Department.

Andrew Drummond Has Passed Away

Was for Several Years Superintendent of the Marchmont Home and Greatly Respected Here and Elsewhere.

Mr. Andrew Drummond for four years superintendent of the Marchmont Home in this city passed away suddenly last night after a brief illness from pneumonia at Liverpool, Eng. Mr. W. H. Merry, the present superintendent received a cable this morning informing him of the sad occurrence.

Mr. Drummond came to Belleville at the beginning of the Great War and remained here until last March when he was recalled to England to assist Miss Birt at the Liverpool Sheltering Homes.

He was a native of Scotland and unmarried. He was about 65 years of age.

Mr. Drummond devoted his life in an effort to improve the welfare of needy children. "He was one of the best teachers I ever knew" said Mr. Merry in speaking of his late colleague this morning. He was a man with sympathetic temperament to whom children naturally resort as to a father. Every child under his care learned to regard him with a love and respect that were almost reverential. His death is indeed a great loss to the philanthropic work to which he gave over forty faithful years of service.

In Belleville he made himself useful in a variety of ways outside of his regular routine of duties. He served for some time as treasurer of the Canadian Club and took a deep interest in religious and other community effort. His death will occasion much sorrow among our citizens who had learned to know and respect Mr. Drummond for his genuine worth. But it is among that innumerable band of helpless or orphan children to whose sad lives he brought relief and brightness that the passing of this good angel will be mourned as a deep and personal bereavement.

Wedding Bells

BATEMAN — SLUSH.

A very pleasant event took place at high noon Jan. 6th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. Slush when their elder daughter Gladys M. of Campbellford was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. Irvin J. Bateman of Thomasburg, the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. James Bateman. The bride who was unattended looked charming in a gown of white silk crepe de chine trimmed with duchess satin and Valenciennes and bridal veil with orange blossoms were in Juliet style and carrying a shower bouquet of white carnations narcissus and maiden hair fern entered the drawing room on the arm of her father to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march played by Miss Lillie Bateman sister of the groom. The bridal party took their places under an arch of evergreens decorated with white ribbon and flowers where the ceremony was performed by Rev. Capt. H. B. Kenny.

After the ceremony and congratulations the guests to the number of twenty-five repaired to the dining-room where a sumptuous and dainty repast was served. The groom's gift to the bride was a gold wrist watch and to the pianist a brooch set with pearls. The many useful and valuable presents to the bride indicated the esteem in which she is held by the community. Mr. and Mrs. Bateman left on a motoring trip and showers of confetti, to southern points. The bride's travelling suit was of navy tulle with a picture hat of black velvet. On their return they will reside at the home of the groom, in Thomasburg. The kind wishes of a wide circle of friends will follow them. — Tweed News.

CLEAK — MacBETH

On Saturday, January 3rd, 1920, the home of Mr. and Mrs. John MacKenzie was the scene of a very pretty wedding when their niece, Miss Mollie MacBeth, of Madoc, and Mr. J. Elwood Cleak, of Windsor, Ontario, in the presence of a few immediate friends and relatives, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony by Rev. Dr. MacTavish, pastor of St. Peter's Church, Madoc. The bride, who was unattended, entered the drawing room on the arm of her uncle, looking very charming in a dress of tory crepe de chine with pearls and a corsage bouquet of white orchids and fern, with veil and orange blossoms. The groom's gift to the bride was a diamond and sapphire ring. After the ceremony and signing of the register the bridal party and guests repaired to the dining room where a dainty luncheon was provided. The bride couple left by train for Toronto, thence to Windsor, Ontario, where they intend making their home. The bride travelled in a blue tulle suit with a large black hat and other furs. — Madoc Review.

Mrs. Miller was a member of the Methodist Church. For her death had no fears and she looked forward with joy "the rest that remaineth for God's people."

During her husband's life Mrs. Miller resided in Bloomfield but since his death nineteen years ago, she has resided in Picton. She leaves to mourn, four sons, William of Melville and Clarence and Frank of East Saskatchewan. A daughter, Mrs. Ed. Channel of Bloomfield died over a year ago. Twelve grandchildren and several great-grandchildren also survive.

The funeral was conducted on Monday January 13th, from her late residence Rev. D. Mounter officiating. MRS. WILLIAM STORMS

Margaret Storms, wife of William Storms, died at her home, Cressy, on Tuesday, Dec. 30, 1919. The deceased was born in 1835 and was a daughter of Charles Cahoon and Sara Ann Cannon of South Bay. Her father dying when she was three years old, she was taken by her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Cannon of Point Traverse, to live with them and be a comfort in their declining years. Her grandfather was one of the early Methodist local preachers whose talents were engaged in building the foundations of that greatest of religious organizations, and who sought no other reward for the most arduous labors than the approval of his conscience.

As a young woman she consecrated her life to God and remained firm to the triumphant close. In 1854 she married Wm. Storms, a man of sterling worth. During their long married life of sixty-six years she was always busy and faithful in her labors in her home, and also willing to lend a helping hand to others who needed help. Having been attacked with cancer, she lingered about three months, becoming stronger in her confiding trust, saying she was ready and willing to go whenever the Lord called. She was truly a good and noble woman, devoted and sincere, one whose influence must leave an impress for the right, whose "echoes roll from soul to soul and grow forever and forever." She leaves to mourn her loss her devoted and aged husband, who has just passed his 94th year, and six children: Byron and Ira, of Greenbush; Mrs. D. H. Winter, Picton; Mrs. Jno. E. Shepard, Wapoose; Charles and Janie, at home; Nelson predeceased her five years ago and Chester one month. There is also one brother, Nelson Cahoon, of Bloomfield. The funeral was conducted at her late residence by the Rev. Mr. Ireland, after which the remains were interred in Glenwood cemetery, her six grandsons acting as pall bearers. — Picton Times.

IN MEMORY OF ROBERT BURNS

(Born 1759—Died 1796.)

Editor Ontario.

On January 29th, throughout the world, there will be noted and marked by many gatherings, that 161 years ago, the immortal Burns was born in a small house, the "auld clay biggin," that stands by the side of the road two miles south of Ayr—"auld Ayr, whom n'er a town surpasses for honest men and bonnie lasses." As he wrote: "A blast of Januar' win' blew hanel in on Robin." It may well be stated that "the whole of Scotland is the land of Burns." That Burns was endowed with such gifts as the world ascribes to prophets of the Scriptures, is well and firmly established and endorsed, as Rev. Mr. Webster of Edinburgh recently has, in an able work, given us many convincing illustrations that "daurna be disputed." The writer of this, for seventy and more years has regarded Burns' works as ideals, as his "vade mecum"—his daily references and study. Yes, ever since I "amaisit could learn to spell" three editions of the bard have been in my library, often quoted, and I am familiar with every line he wrote. I think of him as he states his position: "For me I'm on Par-nassus' brink, rivin' the words to make them clink; whiles daist' wi' love, whiles daist' wi' drink, wi' Judes or masons; and whiles, but saye owre late, I think braw sober lessons." —(The Holy Fair, Holy Willie's Prayer, etc., etc.)

My object in presenting this copy is to ask the many admirers of the poet to contribute to The Ontario Review 29th January, some brief admiration or clipping, poetry or prose, in reference to Burns, his works and his inspiring words. To the list I will join and give some two or three sketches and a few most deserving encomiums as analects. At his birth "the gossip-keekit in his loof (that is, read his future by the lines on his hand) and, aye, says she, who lives shall see the proof, we'll a' be proud o' Robin." That this prophecy has been fulfilled is in evidence when the official records show more pilgrims or admirers visit yearly the scenes immortalized by the "Bard of Ayr."

I hope that your copy, or copies, and mine may be sufficient for a full page of The Ontario of the 29th or 30th issue. Initials or name in full may be sent in with manuscripts. The only incentive, beyond adoration, in asking for the favor here named, that aroused me, is the memory of an old and very dear friend, many years deceased; and of a time "when the winds of early autumn blew across the midnight. Overhead a wild moon up the heavens fled, and cut the sable vault in two; we heard the river lap and flow, we turned our poet fancies free — my heart did all its cares forego, the night you quoted Burns to me." "Comrade, the clouds are over all, and you—'you've vanished from my sight." Etc., etc. —William Douglas MacRae is in perpetual memory — as a name, usque ad usum. Re-ques in pace, amice clarissimo! —S.P.Q.R.

Inspector's Report

Inspector and Superintendent T. D. Ruston presented an extensive report of his work and a history of the attitude of man throughout the ages towards child welfare. His remarks follow:

I beg most respectfully to submit to you my report of the work for the past year. How swiftly we are carried on the wings of time; how often we fail to realize the feetness of the days as they pass. They come to us one by one, bringing with them new duties to be performed, new difficulties to meet, and new experiences to enter into. To the casual observer, the reports would appear to be, from year to year, much the same in their make-up; but, after all, it gives us an opportunity of words comparing the work of each year as can be seen from the Society's records, the work of child-saving is being entered into more vigorously.

In 1909, 4 children were made wards, all from the county; in 1910, 16 children, 8 from the county, 2 from Belleville and 6 from Trenton; in 1911, 28 from the county and 2 from Belleville; in 1912, 7 from the county and 1 from Belleville; in 1913, 8 from the county and 1 from Belleville; in 1914, 11 from the county and 5 from Belleville; in 1915, 10 from the county, 3 from Belleville, 5 from Trenton; in 1916, 23 from the county, 3 from Trenton; in 1917, 41 from the county, 6 from Belleville, 3 from Trenton; in 1918, 24 from Belleville, 32 from the county; in 1919, 41 from the county, 19 from Belleville, 2 from Trenton.

Childhood's Debt to Gospel

Childhood owes as much to the Gospel as womanhood itself. Even a cursory study of the facts of the case is sufficient to convince anyone of the truth of this statement. A lurid light is cast on the attitude of the world in respect to childhood at the time of Christ, and the callousness of the Jewish rulers by the slaughter of the children at the birth of Christ. (Matt. 1:15-20). Later, when the mothers brought their little ones to Jesus, the disciples rebuked them, representing thus no doubt the average sentiment of the day, which thought little of helpless childhood. Outside Jewry the conditions were much worse. There can be no doubt as to the position which children occupied in Rome or Greece. In Rome, children had no rights; the father was the proprietor of his family, and his offspring belonged to him. In his father's house the adult son of a Roman citizen, says Gibbon, was a mere thing compared in the eye of the law with a slave or a dog. In the eyes of the law, a child was a chattel, a thing to be bought and sold, or to be used as a slave or a dog. In the eyes of the law, a child was a chattel, a thing to be bought and sold, or to be used as a slave or a dog.

What the leaves are to the forest, with light and air for food, ere their sweet and tender juices have been hardened into wood, that to the world are children; through them it feels the glow of a brighter and sunnier climate. Than reaches the trunk below. Respectfully submitted, Thos. D. Ruston, Insp. and Supt.

Mr. Nelson Parliament, M.P.P., selected as the Speaker of the Legislature, was to have been present to deliver the address, but was snowed out at Welland, according to a message received yesterday. Hereditarily, Environment, Will The Rev. A. H. Foster of Holyway Street Methodist Church, the speaker of the afternoon, declared that he had always been interested in the work of the Association to the unfortunate children. He has been in Whitley for four years a member of the Children's Aid Board of Ontario County.

The greatest business of life is not to "make money, not to secure world power, but it is to build character that will stand the test from day to day. Christian character is the stamp of the Divine, as it leaves the mark on the thought and action. Character is more important than genius. It is greater than love. There are rival schools of thought. One lays stress on heredity. We realize the power of the influences of the past. We are the chariot in which all our ancestors have driven. Another school tells us that the greatest factor in life is environment—that a boy from a kindly home, if reared in the slums, will take on the slum habits; that you can take a boy from the slum and put him in a Christian home, and that he will be a new boy. Fish, birds, the lion, the tiger, find protection in adaptation.

Then comes the speaker believed, a greater power than the others—the power of will, a gift that comes from God and breaks habits and bursts surroundings. That power of will may have its expression in three different ways. First, the heroic struggle of the individual against odds; second, floating with the stream; and, third, pulling the oar down the stream. Man must hold back with his strong will the dike that holds the flood. While man may have wonderful power, he may be weak in some lines. Samson could break bonds, but could not conquer his passion for Delilah; Mark Antony, a soldier, was helpless before Cleopatra.

There are weak points in our nature. Under the impetus of a great will Columbus ploughed through the uncharted seas. "I will," said Livingston, thrust into Africa for God. "I will," said John B. Gough, and falsified himself from the gutter. "I will," said Jesus Christ, and He came from on high and brought the pyrites we enjoy today. He hands out to us the opportunity for building, not in decaying marble, but on the great impressionable mind of childhood.

When we think of the object of this Society, meeting childhood at the door of life, we realize it is the Master's work. We place them in

He school children right through the city and county contributed. Also received more and larger gifts this year than ever before, and in this we are very grateful to Mrs. W. H. Nugent who personally went out and addressed the different Women's Institutes on behalf of the Shelter and wrote a great number of letters also. I sincerely thank our worthy president, H. W. Ackerman, Esq., and every member of the Board for kindnesses shown. Your superintendent has endeavored to carry out his duties fairly, without fear on the one hand or favor on the other, doing that which he felt was his duty, and he has no doubt offended some and pleased others, and he is exceedingly grateful for favors shown and assistance given; also for kicks received, for they both tend to make him a better servant if taken right.

In closing I would like, on behalf of the Board and myself, to thank the Press for notices given our work. It has taken up lots of space in the paper, yet never a complaint or refusal; (and I wish I could pay my grocer the same way—"thank you.") The Santa Claus Fund, through their generous spirit and love for the work, was indeed a success—total $2,001.00. To Drs. Robertson, Faulkner, Crook, Blackless, Connor and Dr. Chant for attention to the eyes, ear, nose and throat troubles of the children in the Shelter. Crown Attorney W. Carnew, Esq., we are greatly indebted to for his kind assistance and advice, ever ready to assist your inspector on any case—just the same old "thank you." And we thank Chief Newton and the police staff to a man, who have seconded our efforts, and everybody who have in any way helped to help the little children.

Samson could break bonds, but could not conquer his passion for Delilah; Mark Antony, a soldier, was helpless before Cleopatra.

There are weak points in our nature. Under the impetus of a great will Columbus ploughed through the uncharted seas. "I will," said Livingston, thrust into Africa for God. "I will," said John B. Gough, and falsified himself from the gutter. "I will," said Jesus Christ, and He came from on high and brought the pyrites we enjoy today. He hands out to us the opportunity for building, not in decaying marble, but on the great impressionable mind of childhood.

Nugent who personally went out and addressed the different Women's Institutes on behalf of the Shelter and wrote a great number of letters also. I sincerely thank our worthy president, H. W. Ackerman, Esq., and every member of the Board for kindnesses shown. Your superintendent has endeavored to carry out his duties fairly, without fear on the one hand or favor on the other, doing that which he felt was his duty, and he has no doubt offended some and pleased others, and he is exceedingly grateful for favors shown and assistance given; also for kicks received, for they both tend to make him a better servant if taken right.

In closing I would like, on behalf of the Board and myself, to thank the Press for notices given our work. It has taken up lots of space in the paper, yet never a complaint or refusal; (and I wish I could pay my grocer the same way—"thank you.") The Santa Claus Fund, through their generous spirit and love for the work, was indeed a success—total $2,001.00. To Drs. Carnew, Esq., we are greatly indebted to for his kind assistance and advice, ever ready to assist your inspector on any case—just the same old "thank you." And we thank Chief Newton and the police staff to a man, who have seconded our efforts, and everybody who have in any way helped to help the little children.

Mr. Nelson Parliament, M.P.P., selected as the Speaker of the Legislature, was to have been present to deliver the address, but was snowed out at Welland, according to a message received yesterday. Hereditarily, Environment, Will The Rev. A. H. Foster of Holyway Street Methodist Church, the speaker of the afternoon, declared that he had always been interested in the work of the Association to the unfortunate children. He has been in Whitley for four years a member of the Children's Aid Board of Ontario County.

The greatest business of life is not to "make money, not to secure world power, but it is to build character that will stand the test from day to day. Christian character is the stamp of the Divine, as it leaves the mark on the thought and action. Character is more important than genius. It is greater than love. There are rival schools of thought. One lays stress on heredity. We realize the power of the influences of the past. We are the chariot in which all our ancestors have driven. Another school tells us that the greatest factor in life is environment—that a boy from a kindly home, if reared in the slums, will take on the slum habits; that you can take a boy from the slum and put him in a Christian home, and that he will be a new boy. Fish, birds, the lion, the tiger, find protection in adaptation.

Then comes the speaker believed, a greater power than the others—the power of will, a gift that comes from God and breaks habits and bursts surroundings. That power of will may have its expression in three different ways. First, the heroic struggle of the individual against odds; second, floating with the stream; and, third, pulling the oar down the stream. Man must hold back with his strong will the dike that holds the flood. While man may have wonderful power, he may be weak in some lines. Samson could break bonds, but could not conquer his passion for Delilah; Mark Antony, a soldier, was helpless before Cleopatra.

BECOMING GLASSES

ONE TAKES off his glasses instead of his hat when friends are met in China. The Chinese consider it impolite to talk with glasses on.

Possibly Chinese spectacles may need an apology but Blackburn's glasses confer distinction on looks.

They are fitted with extreme care to improve appearance as well as sight—glasses conforming to good taste and refinement and admired by your friends.

Belleville High School Again Wins Carter Scholarships

In 1914 the first Carter scholarships were granted and from that date to the year 1919, eighteen scholarships have been awarded with a value of $1200 cash.

The Belleville High School course is thoroughly organized in order to advance pupils as rapidly as they are able to master the work for any departmental or university matriculation examination.

Special attention is given to physical culture classes. These classes are taught by instructors who are specialists in this work and this means a great deal in the education of both young men and women.

Every room in the present High School building is crowded to capacity, even one class having to take work in the assembly room.

With a new building the attendance at the day classes would easily reach between 500 and 600 and the evening classes would probably reach the same number.

A little brief experience on the stage stimulates lofty ideas as to salary.

One Death Reported and Another Suspected Due to Same Cause.

Ottawa, Jan. 13.—With one known death in this city from sleeping sickness, and another suspected, the health authorities of Ottawa and the Dominion are carefully watching the whole situation and the provincial health authorities have forwarded a circular to all doctors in Ontario asking them to immediately report all suspected cases.

Hugs 49 Spinsters

Clarion, Pa., Jan. 15.—The law requires candidate for office to file a report of all expenditure. A patriot of Clarion County ran for office and turned in the following absolute truth of what it cost him not to get elected:

"Lost 1,349 hours' sleep thinking about the election. "Lost two front teeth and a lot of hair in a personal encounter with an opponent. "Donated one beef, four shoats, and five sheep to county barbecues. Gave away two pairs of suspenders, four calico dresses, and 45 in cash. "Kissed 128 babies; put up four stoves; kindled fourteen fires; walked 4,076 miles; shook hands with 3,508 people; told 10,101 lies, and talked enough to make in print 1,900 columns. Attended sixteen revivals; and contributed $50 to foreign missions; made love to nine widows—five grass; four sod; hugged 48 old maid; got dog bit 89 times—and was not elected by 253 votes."

BELLEVILLE TO HAVE PUBLIC FORUM—BAY BRIDGE TO BE DISCUSSED AT FIRST CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

At the first meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Members' Forum Committee, held yesterday afternoon, it was decided to have the bay bridge the subject of discussion at the first members' forum meeting and plans were made to have the Minister of Public Works from Toronto and other prominent men at the meeting to present the various points of view on this important subject. There were present at the meeting Messrs. A. R. Symons, Chairman, Wm. Cooke, F. D. Diamond, N. D. MacFadyen, R. D. Ponton, P. C. MacLaurin. The members absent were, Messrs. C. J. Bowell, J. O. Herity, J. H. Higgs. The committee will meet again this afternoon to complete plans. This meeting of the forum, like all other meetings, will be open to the public.

Driving Power of C. C. To the organization, the forum is the driving power like gasoline to an engine. For the city, it creates and directs intelligent public opinion on public needs. To the members, it is a medium for expressing their opinion and influencing the policy of the Chamber. Through it the Board of Directors can learn the ideas of the members and obtain their backing. It acts as an equalizing influence, checking the Board of Directors if too radical, and impelling them if too conservative. For the secretary, it is an ever-ready, handy tool for finding and meeting the Chamber's needs.

Systematic Conduct. The forum will be conducted in a very simple manner; a few rules, however, will be observed, which have been found advisable from experience gained in other cities. It can recommend but not enforce action. It should deal with principles not personalities. It should promote large statesmanship, not play small politics. It should have a systematic procedure. It should pay as it goes, and go with a vim.

"You," Not "They" It is the members' instrument for service and places the responsibility for the Chamber's success upon the members themselves, so that any compliments or criticism of the Chamber will mean "you" and not "they."

To Foster Acquaintance The members' forum will also foster acquaintance and fellowship among the members. A great many men in Belleville would be better friends if they knew each other better. It offers an opportunity of meeting and knowing one's neighbor and acquaintance brings good returns both in business and friendship.

Hangman Ellis Keeps Scrapbook

Peterboro, Jan. 19.—When Hangman Arthur Ellis left the city Wednesday morning he carried with him the piece of fiction that appeared in Saturday's Review about Ellis turning up in a barber shop and taking part in a discussion about himself. "I have a scrap book full of that kind of stuff," said Ellis. "I gather a piece or two wherever I go," he added. In addition to this, Ellis keeps a huge scrap book in which he has a complete record of the four hundred and sixty-four executions he has officiated at. This book contains a photograph of each criminal executed and also the evidence given at the trial, and the newspaper report of the execution.

Won't Bring Back All Ex-Soldiers

Will Consider Every Case for Reparation on its Merits

Ottawa, Jan. 19.—Questioned as to a report that provision was being made for bringing back to Canada some 3,000 Canadians who had taken their discharge in England, and were now in straitened circumstances, Hon. J. A. Calder, Minister of Immigration and Colonization, and who is also Acting Minister of Militia, stated that no such wholesale action was being taken. Members of the C.E.F. who were discharged in England, he said, had entered into an undertaking that there was to be no further provision for their reparation, but it was now found that many of them were in serious circumstances. Each individual case is being considered on its own merits, but where it is thought that a man would be better reparationed, he is being brought to Canada. The Minister could make no estimate as to the number who would be brought across in this manner.

The Y. M. C. A. and Reconstruction

The entire Dominion is facing many problems as a result of the war, and much depends upon their adjustment.
In this connection undoubtedly the most vitally important undertaking is that of replenishing the manpower lost in the Great War.
No institution is better equipped for, or better adapted to meet these unusual conditions than the Y.M.C.A.

A Strong After-the-War Program has been prepared by the National Council Y.M.C.A. and is designed to reach every boy and man, both in the city and country.

Special emphasis will be placed on Boys' Work. Never before has Canada's future depended upon her Boy Power as at present.
How thankful the citizens of Belleville should be, especially our business men, that the city possesses an up-to-date Y.M.C.A. Building, thoroughly equipped, well managed and debt-free—in brief, a manufacturing plant for the development of strong and efficient manhood. Indeed, it is one of the most valuable moral and civic assets of our fair city.

The Campaign Proposition

An analysis of the foregoing clearly sets forth the business-like methods of the management of the Y.M.C.A.
The mortgage debt has been removed and with a larger membership and dormitory receipts, the financial needs of the Association will be made easier in the future.
While the expenses of the Association have been materially increased by reason of additional secretarial help made necessary by the growth of the work, since the close of the war, a most encouraging feature has been an increase in receipts to more than counter-balance this same.

A Final Word

The Y.M.C.A. has caught the new progressive spirit in Belleville and intends to keep pace.
Let it never be said of Belleville that when it came to a test of her devotion to her young men she was found wanting.

The program for the future is one that must appeal to every citizen. The opportunity is the greatest ever offered of serving the community through the development of true Christian manhood—which is the basis of all real prosperity. The campaign starts in on Tuesday morning, January 26, and continues three days.
Let all our citizens show their gratitude for the close of the war, and the return at least of some of our boys, by generously contributing as they are warranted upon by the faithful canvassers.

PASSING OF BELOVED METHODIST PASTOR

REV. K. L. EDWARDS WAS WELL KNOWN IN THE DISTRICT ABOUT BELLEVILLE

A regret that was general throughout the Bay of Quinte Conference was felt by citizens here when it was known on Thursday last that Rev. Robert L. Edwards had entered into rest. Mr. Edwards had been in failing health for some years past, but continued in the active work of the ministry as long as his strength would possibly allow, before seeking a superannuated relation in June, 1918. He then purchased his late home on Division street and to the joy of many friends and the membership of the Methodist church, settled with his family in Cobourg. He was confined to his bed for some five or six weeks before his death, suffering from heart failure, and a general breaking up of the system. Mr. Edwards was a man who was generally well beloved. His big heart and ready sympathy awakened a responsive chord in the hearts of those with whom he came in contact, while those who knew him intimately, recognized him as one of God's nobility, possessing a restful confidence and intimacy with his Lord, which transformed and irradiated his life.

During his year and a half's residence in Cobourg his zeal in the advancement of the Kingdom of His Lord was shown by his highest and help in every way as far as his strength permitted. His voice in intercession at the prayer services will not soon be forgotten, for he approached with confidence and power the Throne of the Infinite and claimed with unwavering faith the promises.
Mr. Edwards' funeral took place on Monday last and was attended by a number of his brethren in the ministry of the Bay of Quinte Conference and also by many members of the circuits where he had officiated as pastor and where he was greatly beloved. Among those present from out of town were, Rev. W. F. Rogers, President of the Bay of Quinte Conference; Rev. E. B. Kenny, Rev. H. B. Kenny, Campbellford; Rev. Geo. R. Clark, Little Britain; Rev. C. S. Applegate, Port Hope; Rev. J. P. Meares, Rev. Mr. Bunner, Wellesboro; Rev. E. Harston, Camborne; Rev. C. C. Washington, Baltimore; Rev. J. E. Glover, Centreton, and others.

A private service was held at the residence conducted by Rev. J. S. I. Wilson, after which a public memorial service was held in the Methodist church, presided over by the President of the Conference, Rev. J. P. Meares led in the opening prayer, and Rev. J. S. I. Wilson read the scripture lessons, the 1st Psalm and the 14th chapter of St. John's Gospel. Mr. Rogers then stated that on account of their close association with Mr. Edwards he had asked Rev. Geo. Clark, Rev. E. B. Howard and Rev. H. B. Kenny to speak.
Mr. Rogers in closing endorsed the words that had been spoken and on behalf of the Bay of Quinte Conference expressed sympathy with the bereaved family, and called upon Rev. Mr. Bunner to close with prayer.

The interment was in Cobourg union cemetery. The pall bearers were Rev. S. C. S. Applegate, Port Hope; W. A. Brommer, town; J. P. Meares, Wellesboro; C. C. Washington, Baltimore; E. Harston, Camborne, and J. E. Glover, Centreton.

Mr. Edwards was twice married, and leaves a widow and young son, and one daughter, Mrs. B. Stewart, Haldimand township.—Cobourg World.

The departed clergyman was well known in the district around Belleville, having served as pastor on the Seymour, West Huntingdon, Reddsville and other circuits in this section. His last charge was at Reddsville whence he withdrew from the active ministry in June, 1918.

Mrs. Edwards, who survives, was formerly Miss P. E. Ketcheson, of Moira.

LAI'D TO REST

Interment was at St. James' cemetery (vault). The bearers were Messrs. H. Day, A. Jordan, J. Reid, F. G. Knight, J. McMullen and J. McGurn.

Chatham City Council went on record as favoring an eight-hour day for board of works employees and a minimum salary of fifty cents an hour.

oph Ramsay, losing his life. Mr. Grant was getting logs out of his bush and was being assisted by Mr. Ramsay and Henry Kinnsar, neighboring farmers. Some Indians were cutting dead-wood in the bush, and as they worked on an elm tree, they warned the three men to get out of the way. Mr. Grant and Mr. Kinnsar did so, but Mr. Ramsay failed to leave his position soon enough and the tree fell on him, fracturing his skull. He was hurried to the Hotel Dieu Hospital, Cornwall, but his injuries were such that he passed away next morning.

The silver content in Canadian silver coins is greatly reduced by an order published in the Canada Gazette, which states that "on and after Jan. 1, 1920, the standard for silver coins of the currency of Canada shall be that of 1,000 parts of weight 800 shall be of fine silver and 200 of alloy." The former standard was 925 parts of fine silver to 75 of alloy and at that rate Canadian and British silver coins had the highest silver content of those of any country. The United States silver coinage contains 900 parts silver.

The dwelling of Ned Dunn, situated about two miles from Kempsville on the banks of the Rideau, was totally destroyed by fire a few nights ago together with most of its contents. Dunn and his son, Moses, had been in Kempsville and on returning home lighted a fire before returning. Between eleven and twelve o'clock they were awakened by the ceiling falling in and found the house in flames. They had barely time to escape, the elder Dunn being burned about the head by falling timbers that were afire. A few articles of furniture were rescued, but guns, traps, furniture and about $130 in cash were burned. No insurance was held.

An accident attended with fatal results occurred on the farm of Donald A. Grant, Grant's Corners, near Kingston, Tuesday afternoon, a well known resident of that section, Joseph Ramsay, losing his life. Mr. Grant was getting logs out of his bush and was being assisted by Mr. Ramsay and Henry Kinnsar, neighboring farmers. Some Indians were cutting dead-wood in the bush, and as they worked on an elm tree, they warned the three men to get out of the way. Mr. Grant and Mr. Kinnsar did so, but Mr. Ramsay failed to leave his position soon enough and the tree fell on him, fracturing his skull. HEFFERNAN — GODWIN

St. Gregory's Roman Catholic Church, Picton, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Wednesday, Jan. 7th, when Catharine Goodwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Goodwin, of Cherry Valley, was united in marriage with Captain Thomas Edgar Heffernan, son of Captain and Mrs. Michael Heffernan, of Picton. The ceremony was conducted by Father Carson, and Miss Cecilia Pollard played the wedding music. The bride, who was given away by her father, was becomingly attired in a suit of brown broadcloth, brown picture hat with golden ostrich trimming, black fox fur, with corsage bouquet of beautiful white flowers. She was attended by her cousin, Miss Helen Shannon, who wore a suit of navy blue serge, with colored plush hat, with a wreath, cinnamon for fur, and corsage of pink flowers. The groom was attended by his brother, Mr. Fred Heffernan. A nuptial mass followed the ceremony. The groom's gift to the bride was a cabinet of silver; the bridesmaid a pearl and parrot pin, and to the groomsmen a gold locket. The wedding breakfast was served at the Royal Hotel, those present being immediate relatives with the exception of Father Carson and Miss Elsie Dawson, of Rochester, an intimate friend. The beautifully arranged table was centred with the handsome cake and decorated with flowers in cut glass vases. Captain and Mrs. Heffernan motored to Belleville, continuing their trip by train to Ottawa. They will reside in Picton.—Gazette.

Track Was Flooded When Water Crane Burst in Terminal

Brockville, Jan. 19.—With the thermometer in the neighborhood of 20 below, Friday, the sectionmen employed in the Brockville yard and the water service men of the Grand Trunk railway were summoned at one o'clock in the morning to repair a break which had taken place in the water main entering the crane just to the east of the Union station. For the second time in as many weeks the severe weather played hob with the main, the break occurring at the base of the crane and causing the water to issue forth in volumes over the surrounding tracks in the yard. On account of the rapidly with which the water froze, the men were hard put to keep the main line free from ice and a yard engine was kept running up and down the tracks to clear them. After the water had run down the tracks to Parth street, whence it was diverted to the street catch-basins and had also covered not only the Grand Trunk main line tracks, but also other tracks as well as the Canadian Pacific line, the flow was stopped by a valve being located at the base of the big tank in the yards. On one siding track near the Coleman Baking Powder Co.'s plant, there is a coating of ice several inches thick. The men worked almost until daylight at their task.

Motive Power in Fine Shape
In spite of the excessively cold weather, there are fewer reports of engine failures on the Grand Trunk railway than for several seasons past, when less bitter weather prevailed. The motive power of the line is this year possibly in better shape than in other recent winters and the majority of the passenger trains are running on time.

Although there is a marked improvement in the soft coal situation as it affects the railroads, wood is still being used in firing the stationary boilers at the local shops of the Grand Trunk. Adequate supplies of coal, however, are coming forward for use on the locomotives of the system. The Grand Trunk railway's traffic department has recently secured a new line of business from the system of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railway which will have a marked impetus on westbound freights. The traffic is coming westbound through the Central Vermont railway and originates on the western section of the N.Y., N.H. & H. at New London, Williamantic, Springfield and Northampton.

Great Shipment on Way to Winnipeg Objective of Robber Band

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 19.—Railroad detectives surprised robbers attempting to break into a freight car containing 1,800 cases of whiskey, estimated to be worth $215,000, en route to Winnipeg from St. Louis, and Jack Burks, a local prizefighter, was shot and killed by a policeman. Harry Rabinovitch, of Winnipeg, said by Federal authorities to have purchased the liquor in St. Louis and plotted to have the car robbed here while on its way to Canada, so the whiskey could be sold for higher prices than are being paid in Canada. He was assigned before a Federal commissioner. He pleaded not guilty

Clark, going to Western Canada about three years ago. The late Miss Barton will be remembered by many in this district for her numerous acts of kindness and self-sacrificing ministry in cases of illness. She was a member of the Methodist church. Too Much the Rule of Gold

Instead of Golden Rule in the World Today, Says Rev. S. C. Moore.

Special anniversary services were held in the Tabernacle Methodist Church yesterday, the Rev. S. C. Moore, of Bowmanville, a former pastor officiating. In spite of adverse weather conditions, there were large congregations at the services. Last evening the choir sang special music, the solo part in the anthem being taken by Mrs. Grant, Mr. Sam Anglin and Mr. Mouch. Mr. Anglin sang the solo, "O Jesu, Thou Art Standing," and the quartette, Mrs. Grant, Mrs. Nicholson, Mr. Mouch and Mr. Moorhead rendered a number.

The Rev. S. C. Moore in his sermon last evening spoke on the signs of the times, basing his argument on Matthew 16-3 "Can you not discern the signs of the times?" He made a profound indictment of many of the conditions pertaining today, so contrary to the expectation of a year ago.

A year ago, the preacher said, we believed the old order had passed away and that the new better world was being born. After all, some of us now feel not so sure of these things. The flood time of lofty purpose and self sacrifice that seemed so sure to carry men and nations upward to God has, to say the least, ebbed. Some wonder today if it will ever rise again. But we feel sure it will as soon as the church finds herself for her great task.

There are some abertal signs of the times. Provincial prohibition has come to pass during the last year, although we lament the province is being flooded with liquor from outside. We rejoice in the final form and ratification of the Peace Treaty of Versailles and the inauguration of the League of Nations. We regret that our sister nation to the south should for political reasons have withheld from the opportunity. Statesmen across the Atlantic shake their heads at the name of the United States and say "They came late and left early." While Europe is at peace outwardly, the real world of men is far from the real peace—the peace of God. Those who felt that the great struggle of the world would leave us permanently on a high moral plane, were sadly mistaken. They did not realize how the war upset everybody. They did not see how the spirit of self has been fostered. Selfishness and selfishness have set upon men everywhere. Self seeking is today an epidemic throughout the world. So with all our progress and privilege instead of united love, we find greedy grasping individualism. In stead of the golden rule, we have too much of the rule of gold. While we believe in a fair remuneration for labor, we see radical revolutionary strikers holding up the welfare of the people and governments, demanding sometimes excessive things of capital and labor. On other hand we see business men, manufacturers, often regardless of the poor and suffering of humanity, grasping after enormous profits while some shiver. The profiteer is a cruel villain grasping the throat of his victim. He is a sort of highway robber. He is said to be a bandit of old in a gentleman's suit holding up the people with a price list. But men will brand them as the most vicious men in spite of their wealth.

The cure of these conditions is only one—that of the Christ, the cure of the soul—a renewal of religion, the reconstruction of society, that will bring service instead of selfishness, co-operation instead of rivalry. Mr. Hoover and Arthur Popsomby say that nothing less than a profound revival of religion would save the world. Love and brotherhood would then abound.

We live in a great country, and a great age, but no one will deny that there are certain elements in our social life that are alarming. We are in serious danger through our neglect of God, our worship of mammon, our decay, moral and political that doomed and damned Tyro and Sidon, Rome, Austria and Germany. The need of the church is a turning to God. The individual must turn to God in service. Dr. Chown declares this is the most strategic hour in the history of the church. It is confronted with a choice between an unpeppably most horrible Armageddon and a Pentecost—a choice between a revival of bloodshed or of salvation.

The religious life of Canada is far from safe. An alarming percentage of our population has no moral obligation. Fifty per cent of the people never darken the doors of the church. He spoke not as a pessimist but as an optimist. No one can question the need of a new baptism of brotherhood. The church must plead with men in song, in sermon and especially by personal work, to spend and be spent.

This is no time for a timid church—it must go over the top or be driven back to its trenches. Luck and warmness never got anywhere. Pessimism never won. Scourged as we have been, we have learned a new fresh faith in God. That faith will either die or express itself in deeds. In the early days of the war, men sneered at the church, but not now. Lord Haig said that she has done noble work and that she must lead in reconstruction of the world. Retreat is out of the question. We must give our gold and silver to sustain the church. We shall have to give ourselves and our sons and daughters—then the pentecost of power will come. The world outside the church has a right to expect a passion for humanity and service in the people of the church.

The A. F. O. of Tredford held a sparrow match at which 8,000 sparrows were killed and losing side provided a supper.

Bread Up, and so Are Automobiles

Oshawa, Jan. 19.—In the forward advance of prices, two commodities, bread and automobiles, have taken a leap upward. Bread for a small loaf (1 1/2 pounds) is now selling at 13 cents, a raise of 2 cents per loaf. The large 3-pound loaf has been raised from 22 cents to 26 cents per loaf. This has been on the account of the advance in flour prices, bakers having to pay $1.15 per barrel over the former price, so they state.

Coming to automobiles, last Friday was the day for an advance in the selling price of McLaughlin cars and the baby grand Chevrolet. The model 45 McLaughlin now sells for $2,243.60, including war tax, with the runabout at the same figure. The light six McLaughlin make have advanced from $20 to $150. The baby grand Chevrolet has been raised in price about $100 and is selling at Carrying into effect the suggestion of Major-General W. St. Pierre Hughes Inspector of Penitentiaries the authorities of the department in collaboration with the Trades and Commerce and Inter departments put on an exhibition of pictures in both prisons with great success.

"That moving pictures of an educational character may now become a permanent thing in Canadian penitentiaries as a result of the recent experiment was the intimation of Major General Hughes to the Citizen."

Action on the matter was deferred pending the report of the Militia Re-organization Board but there is every likelihood that the 14th staff of officers as proposed will be approved. ### Inspectors Ride Trains.

Drs. E. Legrand and A. Ruffrage, inspectors for the Provincial Board of Health of Quebec are making daily trips between the Metropoles and this town in the interests of the spread of smallpox under the regulations adopted by the Quebec authorities. They are travelling on trains of the Grand Trunk Railway and insisting that all passengers either submit evidence of successful vaccination within the last seven years or permit themselves to be vaccinated before entering the province. So soon as the necessary police surveillance is secured the inspection will take place at Coteau Junction. Those who fail to satisfy the inspectors and who refuse to be vaccinated will be sent back to Ontario by the next train. J. J. Connolly superintendent of the Montreal division of the G.T.R. has issued instructions for conductors and train men to give the inspectors all possible assistance. — Belleville Recorder & Times.

The Historic Church of Hay Bay

Many a Methodist has been thrilled, as he gazed for the first time on the humble structure known as Old Hay Bay Church, built on Paul Hough's lot, Hay Bridge, in 1792. It is the Westminster Abbey of Ontario Methodism.

The "Centennial" of Canadian Methodism mentions William Losee as the first regular Methodist minister who came to Canada. Preaching his way from Lake Champlain circuit along the St. Lawrence shore he came to see some U.E.L. relatives and friends in Adolphustown. A flame of revival spread throughout the Bay of Quinte townships. The settlers asked for a missionary. The New York Conference of 1790 met in Oct., and appointed Losee.

The first class in Canada was formed on Hay Bay shore, Sunday, February 29th, 1791; the second on February 27th, in the village of Bath; and the third in Fredericksburg, the end of March, the epochal day of Wesley's death. Soon after the organization of these classes a revival of religion commenced.

The direct outcome of this spiritual movement was the building of Hay Bay Church, the first Methodist Church in Canada, the original deed of which is still extant.

A class had been formed in August as early as 1788 by Paul and Barbara Heck, some of the Embury's and others of the Irish Palatinates, and by Major Neal at Stamford in 1790. But in strict propriety (says the "Centennial") the real commencement of the Methodist Church in this province was the organization of these Quinte classes. In 1792 Losee reported 165 members to the N. Y. Conference, meeting at Albany.

Camp Meeting. Near the Hay Bay Church in 1805 the first Methodist camp meeting was held, the people coming in boats from as far west as the township of Sidney. The immediate result of the camp meeting was a great revival of religion.

City Clerk's Vote Breaks Peterboro Mayoralty Tie

Peterboro, Jan. 13.—The decision of City Clerk Armstrong broke the tie in the mayoralty recount announced by Judge Huxley in favor of A. A. McIntyre, whose candidature had been endorsed by the Trades and Labor council this morning. In the official count he had been defeated by W. H. Taylor by one vote. His decision will give Labor at least four votes in the council.

A Case of Sleeping Sickness Is Reported

Victim is a Boy Sixteen Years of Age.

Cobourg, Jan. 16.—The first victim in Cobourg of the sleeping sickness a disease which appeared to make its start in Western Canada, and has gradually worked its way eastward was reported on Saturday. The victim is a sixteen year old boy residing on Orange street, who first felt the symptoms on Friday. The first feeling is that of continued drowsiness, which later causes a continual sleeping.

So far no effectual means such as vaccination have been found to fight the disease, and so far it is a case of experimenting to find a means of combating it. The young man is roused at times but he soon falls asleep again. The disease generally attacks those between 15 and 25 years of age.

The man who wrecks a train is a criminal, but the man who wrecks a whole railroad is a great financier.

HICCOUGH EPIDEMIC IS THE LATEST

He says it will soon sweep Continent The Latest Medical Scare.

Winnipeg, Jan. 14.—An epidemic of Hiccoughs soon will sweep the continent Dr. Gordon Bell chairman of the Manitoba Board of Health, declared in an address before the Sanitary Inspector's Association. He said the disease which is believed to be a slight form of sleeping sickness already has appeared in Manitoba. Attacks usually last from two to six days. He expressed the belief that sleeping sickness was dying out in Manitoba.

IDEAL CITIZENSHIP

By Rev. W. Harris Wallace, of Victoria Avenue Baptist Church.

Can any good thing come out of Nazareth? John 1:46.

The best citizen that ever lived should have reigned as King over men, but he was misunderstood, despised and rejected: A man's value to society can never be measured by his bank account, nor earthly possessions, but by his character and fitness to serve his fellow men. History abundantly answers the question of that early disciple of Jesus, "Can any good thing come out of Nazareth?" He who was rich became poor that he, through His poverty might be rich. Those who follow in the footsteps of our Saviour will surely grow rich toward God and will prove to be the best citizens for this world and also for that which is to come. Every Christian maintains, for the development of character and service he renders, a four-fold relationship all through his earthly life. First of all, his relation to God will settle what he is in himself and his true and abiding value to all the other relationships that follow. Second, his relation and value to the Church of Christ on earth. Every Christian should be a member of Christ's church, and he will be, if he follows the teaching of the Bible. Third, the Christian's relation to the family, as husband, son or brother. No man can be ever true to himself and God, or his country, who is not true to family ties. Fourth, our relation to the state. We owe, as Jesus taught, allegiance to the land in which we live. This probably is the proper order: Man in relation to God—what he owes to God and himself. The world empires of old, Greeks and Romans—like the Germans put the state first.

Jesus discovered the value of the individual. "What shall it profit a man if he gain the whole world and lose his own soul, or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul?" Man is of more value than a whole world. The first and most important product in this city and country is character—the type of citizen we are developing. If that is true we must change the emphasis from the material to the spiritual, and recognize that man's chief end is to be like God. Jesus by His life and teaching changes the world's order of things and puts first things last and last things first. "Life is more than meat," again, "Seek ye first the kingdom of God." God must rule among men in order to make men good citizens for the life that now is the highest type of citizenship is a godly man. The fear of God exalteth a nation, but sin is a reproach to any people. If man is so important in God's sight the chief aim of any civic government should be to raise the type of citizen to a higher plain of life. Hence the prohibition of the liquor traffic and other kindred evils.

The duty of improving man's environment. Governments have just been waking up to this important duty and are now earnestly seeking to improve the conditions of labor and of the poor. Love for home and town and country, for bettering the surroundings of daily life, should be the chief motive of all our endeavors. The proof of our love is the desire to promote the welfare of all, by each one "doing his bit" and all working together for the common good. But the desire to do something will manifest itself more readily by being thoughtful and observant of what is needed most in any community. This spirit is revealed in the poet Burns and he speaks for many in his manner: "I mind it weel in early date, When I was headless, young and blate And first could thresh the barn. Ev'n then a wish (I mind its power) A wish that to my latest hour Shall strongly leave my breast, That I for poor auld Scotland's sake Some usefu' plan or beuk could make." Or sing a song at least.

Some countries by their beauty and history tend to awaken sentiments in royal hearts. This was true of Palestine as of Scotland. We are touched by the plaintive cry of the Jews when exiles in Babylon: "If I forget thee, O Jerusalem, let my right hand forget her cunning. If I do not remember thee, let my tongue cleave to the roof of my mouth, if I prefer not Jerusalem above my chief joy." Jesus also felt the love and longing for His people. What an appeal He makes to all tender and true hearts: "O Jerusalem, Jerusalem . . . how often would I have gathered thy children together, . . . and ye would not!" True patriots see chief need. The Jews were under a double bondage—Rome, and their own dead forms. They felt the one, but were not awake to the other and greater bondage. Jesus passed severe judgment on the religious leaders of His day by calling them "whited sepulchres," "generation of vipers," and "blind leaders of the blind." He warned them of their greater bondage and longed to set them free. He presents His claims as Messiah—"He that would be greatest among you, let him be servant of all." And again, "He that would save his life must lose it." He exemplified this by giving His own life to save us. We are saved to serve. Let us do our part in helping to make our city and country better in every good way. While business now and others, are seeking to contribute their part in building up this fair city to make it a bigger and a better Belleville, let us do our part and may it be our best. And we can only do our best as we walk in the spirit and power of the lowly Nazarene. It will then be seen and felt that the Christians are the salt of the earth and prove to be ideal citizens.

Prison Population Grows.

The penitentiary population of Canada is steadily on the increase. Two years ago it totalled 1,400; today it is up to 1,900. There is also a marked increase in the number of capital cases more being on hand in the past month or so than in any corresponding period.

Asked as to the reason for this condition General St. Pierre Hughes, superintendent of penitentiaries, attributed it ironically to "unrest." The situation has become much worse since the war.

Special orders were issued by the Grand Trunk officials with regard to careful handling of the train. The invalids are being transferred from the military hospital at Ste. H. K. DENYES M. P. P. REELECTED PRESIDENT OF BELLEVILLE FAIR

Says There Are Brightest Prospects For Exhibition—Discussion Over Three Days' Fair and Proposed New Grounds—Election of Officers and Directors.

"A year ago it looked as if we were almost weighed in a balance and found wanting. Belleville fair was looked upon by some as a dying institution, and I can assure you that I accepted the office of president very reluctantly," said Mr. Henry K. Denyes, M.P.P., president of the Belleville Agricultural Society at its annual meeting yesterday in the city council chamber. "We were advised by the superintendent of this province to drop the fair for a time when he saw our problems. "With a board of directors full of hope and optimism we were able to surmount many difficulties and redeem the fair's reputation to a large degree.

1919 a Record Year

"It is a great satisfaction for us today to look back to 1919 as a record year in many respects. No better speeding event has ever taken place in the Belleville track. There were a large number of entries and among them some of Canada's best. This was brought about by increasing the prizes by one half, also some special advertising by our very thoughtful and efficient secretary. Our live stock exhibit was of good quality and the various breeds were well represented. Our prize list on live stock was greatly increased last year and I think I am safe in saying that the Belleville fair had the best prize list on live stock than any other fair in this province with the exception of the big central fairs. Our exhibits in the ladies' department, poultry, fruit, vegetables and dairy exhibits were up to the average. Some of the special events on the programme were interesting and much enjoyed by the spectators.

Bright Outlook For Future of Fair

"I am looking forward to the time when the Belleville fair will be among the best. I believe it is not impossible, and we hope some day to be able to have our merchants and manufacturers exhibit their goods in some fine building erected for that purpose. I am convinced after attending the Provincial Fairs Association held in Toronto last year, also visiting several fairs last fall that there is a revival in fair interest.

Fair a Social Event.

The fair is becoming a great social event as well as an educator. Men bring their stock and goods in competition with each other and by so doing are inspired to try and do greater and better work.

"We, as a Board of Directors take this opportunity to thank the city council and the citizens of Belleville who so loyally assisted in many ways, and the Press which gave us help in time of need.

"We also thank the county council who gave us the grant that we asked for. I personally wish to thank the Board of Directors for their advice and hearty co-operation and the kindly spirit shown in all our deliberations.

"In my opinion, Belleville should be a suitable place for a great central exhibition. It would be a great mistake for the people of Belleville and the surrounding country to let this fair lapse."

Mayor Riggs moved that a committee be appointed to meet a committee of the Chamber of Commerce and Albert College re grounds. The resolution carried. Messrs. Denyes, Ketcheson and Hunter were appointed.

Ex-Ald. Hunter, Mr. Chas. Weese and F. Reid spoke in favor of having a three days' fair.

Mayor Riggs spoke in favor of a fair ground and athletic ground being as one and Coleman Flats was to his mind the ideal place. If the fair association had good buildings merchants would, no doubt make exhibits.

Ald. Woodley spoke in favor of doing all he could for the advancement of the Belleville fair.

Mr. Terwilliger stated that for 3 years more the present grounds could be utilized as a fair ground.

Messrs. A. Jones and R. J. Garbutt spoke strongly of retaining the service of Mr. H. K. Denyes, M.P.P., as president of the association for at least another year. The former spoke in favor of a three days' fair.

Col. Ponton referred to the fact that all members of the association had done much to improve the Belleville fair. He advocated the securing of one or two of the members of the Provincial Government in attendance at the fair this year. He suggested a good roads convention for this district whilst the fair was in progress. The speaker could not conceive that Coleman Flats would be an ideal place for an agricultural park. In conclusion he stated that the members of the G.W.V.A. were prepared to assist in helping the Belleville fair.

Ald. Hanns said he was prepared to do his share to assist in making the Belleville fair a success.

How the New Year is Welcomed in California

The tolling bells at midnight tell us of the New Year's birth, And as they ring, they seem to bring Sweet hope and joy to earth; They seem to say, cheer up, be gay, I know you've suffered long, But hope is bright that truth and right Are overcoming wrong.

The sweet New Year in accents clear Sends out a ringing call Says "look ahead, the past is dead! Take courage one and all; Suppose you fell last year, O well, Remember that is past Here is my hand, arise and stand And you'll win out at last.

Here is a new, clean page for you, Write on it what you will, Curse not your fate, tis not too late Success awaits you still; So friend take heart, make a new start Make beautiful this page! In the sunlit cheer of a sweet New Year

Come claim your heritage. The New Year was welcomed by a pandemonium of sounds. The streets crammed with gay people, who were making the night hideous with all kinds of instruments, including gigantic horns. At the stroke of midnight every engine, auto, bell seemed to join in. The streets next morning were simply covered with confetti, white powders, papers, and streamers, etc. 300,000 people were packed in the millionaire city of Pasadena, to witness the rose tournament. This year surpassed last year. Of course it is impossible for me without consuming too much space to give any description of the floats. There must have been as many as ten bands, soldiers, Highlanders in Scotch costumes, blowing pipes and beating drums. About fifty young girls in white, played brass instruments, societies with their regalia and bands, troops of riders on splendid horses, dressed in scarlet coats, white pantaloons, black velvet caps, represented huntsmen. A large boat representing fish playing in water and being angled for by fishermen with rods and reels, represented Catalina Islands. In a large float sat a bear and the rear was filled with immense bank of snow and a lot of young people had a snow ball fight. Troops of ladies on horseback, dressed in hunting costume, The Chamber of Commerce with machinery covered with green bushes and flowers of all hues. Floats covered with scarlet Polioette flowers. Others composed of yellow roses, others of carnations, others lilies, the roses of all varieties in thousands. Floats were so numerous I think they took about one hour and a half in passing a point. The streets were filled in every direction with flags. The most wonderful sight was the crowd. No matter where you looked there were thousands. Buildings, doors, windows and roofs were crowded. No such tournament could be held in any country in January, because of the flowers. This city claims 630,000 population. San Francisco doubts but claims 600,000. Census with 85,000 enumerators begins to be taken of the entire country today. I cannot close without telling you of one float in the procession. It represented mountains, forming the background of a pretty home scene in the valley. Mountains formed by masses of violets, purple sweet peas, other purple flowers, real running water, running down the mountain slopes. In the valley a little house, surrounded with flowers, and an orange tree bearing fine real oranges in the front yard. The snow-capped mountains were represented by white carnations against the purple background of the mountains. People who did not live harmoniously came by coming here procure divorces. 2358 divorce suits this year were tried and 1258 released from their marriage bonds.

The American government proposes to loan the tribing sum of thirteen thousand millions. Great Britain borrowing $4,277,000,000; France $3,047,974,772. Americans wonder how England can pay such an enormous annual interest. Some papers oppose the loan. Sir George Paish denies the statement of the loan. Over 2,000 millionaires in New York were made so wealthy by the war contracts. This is a dry city. Crises abound. I have not seen one intoxicated person. The weather is delightful, not too hot nor too cold. About 30,000 witnessed the football match between Oregon and Harvard University. The latter won by one point. The excitement was intense. Asoot Park is to have horse and machine races on the fourth of Jan. Mr. and Mrs. O'Flynn arrived in good health on New Year's Day.

Ottawa-Preccott Road To Be Built During Summer

Ottawa, Jan. 14. — The Ottawa-Preccott road will be constructed before the snow has chance to fly next fall. When Hon. F. J. Biggs, minister of highways announced this last night before several hundred representative citizens in the city council chamber the audience broke into cheers and applause. A later announcement by the minister as to the general road policy of Ontario made it apparent that the road in question would be a macadam one part possibly gravel in part, and of a "more permanent structure where conditions permit such." This however was not announced directly as regards the Ottawa-Preccott road but as part of the policy of the Ontario government for all trunk lines in the province.

Newly Invented Rocket May be Fired to Moon

Montreal, Jan. 14. — A Washington dispatch to the Montreal Gazette says Professor Robert H. Goddard of Clark College, according to an announcement authorized last night by the Smithsonian Institute has invented and tested a rocket of entirely new design for exploring the unknown regions of the upper air. The claim is made for the rocket that it will not only be possible to send this apparatus to the higher layers of the air, including those beyond the earth's atmosphere but possibly even as far as the moon itself. The highest level so far reached with recording instruments is nineteen miles out, accompanied with a tree balloon. Professor Goddard believes that his new rocket can be sent through the band of atmosphere around the earth, which he says extends some 200 miles out, and that his new rocket will be of great value to the science of meteorology.

For a Good Dance Pick a Homely Girl

Boss of a Chicago Dancing Floor Says Pretty Girls are Lazy and Indolent. Chicago, Jan. 14. — Hope for the homely girls and a tip for dancing young men was offered yesterday by Louis Guyon proprietor of the largest dance palace in Chicago when he declared that the homely girls danced much better than their pretty sisters. As boss of a dancing floor, on which thousands of both ugly and pretty girls do the hop, skip jump, cranes, crawl and squirm of the new dances he has observed closely he says and declares that he knows whereof he speaks. Says Guyon: "Ugly girls make the best dancers. They are more graceful than pretty girls because they are more serious and work harder to make up their lack of facial beauty. Pretty girls are lazy and indifferent as a rule. They are apt to be conceited."

Dead Town Very Seldom Recovers

Continued from page 9. today is the one that can attract new residents and new capital. It is one that can offer attractive inducements for the location of new industries. The dead town offers no attraction to outside capital. A man looking for a place to launch a new business or a new location for an old industry, is not going to pick out a dead town. He is going to select a town in which money is plentiful, a town whose business men are progressive and whose residents, as a whole, are prosperous and contented. There are too many live and thriving towns in the world for a man to risk his future in one that is dead. This is the reason that a town, once dead, almost always remains dead.

Town Like Corporation There is just one thing, ordinarily, that kills a town in the first place, and that is a lack of money. A town is just like a corporation and the money possessed by its inhabitants is its capital. If this capital is depleted the town will fall just as the corporation, whose capital is depleted through poor management or other causes, falls. And just as the corporation which has once failed can seldom retrieve its lost fortunes, the town which has failed cannot often "come back."

The capital of a community is depleted when its money is spent away from home in a way that brings no return benefit to the community. It takes no great amount of thought to be able to realize that the towns, like the individual, cannot last long if it is paying out more money than it takes in. That does not mean that a prosperous town is one in which the people do not spend any money. On the contrary, a prosperous town is one in which the people do spend money, but it is one in which they spend the money at home. As long as the money is spent at home, the town gains by having it kept in circulation, but when it is spent away from home, either by being sent to the mail order houses or by shopping trips to other cities, the town's capital is impaired to that extent and if enough money is spent away from home in that way, the town collapses and virtually goes into bankruptcy just as does the corporation which dissipates its capital.

The people of a community are apt to overlook the fact that they are stockholders in their town and that their fortunes are bound up in those of the town. They do not realize that if their town falls they will fall with it. They do not realize that if their town falls they will fall with it. They do not realize that if their town falls they will fall with it.

Merchants Not Only Ones Hurt Many customers of mail order houses say that they are under no obligation to trade with their home merchants, and this may be true. They overlook the fact that the business men of a town do much for their community and are entitled, in return for what they do, to the support of the people in the community, but leaving this out of the consideration, they overlook the fact that they are bringing about their own downfall when they drain their town of its money - its capital.

The home merchant will not be the only one that will be hurt when the town "goes broke." The merchant can reduce his stock and cut down his expenses and get along some way or he can sell out and move to some other town which has not been so blind to its own welfare. It is the great body of the people of the community including all those who have sent their money away to other cities instead of spending it at home, that suffers most when the hard times come.

The time for all the people to pull together for a live town is while the town is still alive, and not after it is dead; for when a town dies it is a long time dead - if not forever.

Miller's Worm Powders were devised to promptly relieve children who suffer from the ravages of worms. It is a simple preparation warranted to destroy stomachic and intestinal worms without shock or injury to the most sensitive system. They set thoroughly and painlessly, and though in some cases they may cause vomiting, that is an indication of their powerful action, and not of any irritating property.

Licenses Inspector Ross, St. Thomas made a seizure of 1,000 gallons of liquor owing to its being addressed to a man whom was found did not live at that address.

SIMPLE LIFE GOVERNMENT WHICH PROPHET TELLS US IS TO COME IN 50 YEARS

Changes to be Wrought in Time When All Railroads and Steam Machinery Will be Abolished.

By S. E. Wharton. Since Prof. Porta, peering into the highest heavens with telescopic eye, ventured to predict the end of the world with particularity that set down day and date, and missed by an undetermined margin, it is very presumptuous in one whose eyes are bent upon the ground to essay prophecy even on what is to come to pass half a century hence. Comparatively few, however, gave serious thought to the end-of-the-world prophecy, and the public has learned not to take seriously the ratiocinations of those that ponder the prophecies or mysteries of sacred and other writings and read in the signs of the times the identifying signals of fulfilment. There is another sort of prophet who diverts and entertains us, for he advertises in his writings or spoken word that he invites us to agree with his conclusions and lays before us the data or observations upon which he bases the forecasts set down. One such is the English writer, Gilbert K. Chesterton, a polysyllabic literary personage who poses variously as prophet, satirist, socialist and what not, and then amuses himself by turning general iconoclasm and demolishing his own platitudes along with those cherished by others.

Fifty Years Hence In the Christmas issue of a London pictorial magazine Mr. Chesterton prophetically pictures for us the British and American portions of the world as he figures they will have become half a century later through the acceleration of forces which now are at work amongst us. He changes, instancing the abolition of factories, railroads and industrial mechanisms as some of the results of the "simple life government" which is to be evolved about forty years hence. People in that time, he tells us, will view our great factories and railroad stations as imposing ruins, around which a certain sentiment will cling. They will be only ruins, as the simple life government will have abolished all scientific machinery. The futurist government will in fifty years will destroy all documents and most of the newspaper files, on the ground that such records encourage "reaction and a sentimental return to the past." A few of the newspapers will be preserved that contain no facts of real importance and can be classed as "irresponsible fiction." From these the historical who tells about our era in writings fifty years hence will draw his assumptions. Mr. Chesterton tells us the future historian will refer to our time as the "age of plutocracy" to give it a name in the straits which humanity has piled on the earth in the passing of countless generations; and a thousand years later the antiquarian will peck into it with the geologist's pick and tell his contemporaries what funny creatures lived and moved and had their being in the twentieth century.

Entertaining Speculation The fanciful and agile mind can have much quiet fun in speculating upon what will evolve out of the elements and factors which obtrude themselves in the great human comedy which is played around him. And literally now "all the world's a stage," and the good actor and bad actor on any part of it affects to some degree the evolutions of the plot. Yet despite this, and despite the widest reverence of some of the actors in the mob scenes, we who read history may predict and believe that human nature is not so greatly to change that those of this generation who survive into the half century beyond era, will feel lost and derelict. With the record of three thousand years written down to show us that human nature has not in all that time changed appreciably, we may assert that fifty years or fifty times fifty years hence, it will Illusion and Disillusion It is our good fate to have illustrations and enthusiasms, to be disillusioned and disgusted, and then to come to realization that an ideal world, or even a world without those ills, which we are most eager to be rid of, would yield us less of happiness and content than may be our lot now if we rightly appraise what never can be taken from us. An oriental Heaven visualizes for us too much gold and glitter and monotonous glory and glorification. Even a harp of a thousand strings - with strings furnished free of cost - would not enable us to rag-in variations enough to content us in the eight-hour period of the daily musical program. We'd be "boring from within" to get out if the celestial city should spread within the pearly gates as pictured for us in Sunday School lessons.

There will be, in the next thirty years, diverting changes in the democracy which we constitute. It is, in fact, about the least permanent thing we have to deal with. The fiction that is a permanent thing; that ideals and principles and deceptions written down in our constitution are to stand as our law and gospel forever has been fostered in oratory that welled out of breasts full of patriotic emotion. Would any prophet have been believed, or even given patient hearing, if forty years ago he had predicted the half of the industrial legislation which has in that time been written into law? We are admonished that this sort of breaking away from old ideas menaces the national life by engendering disregard for the constitution, but the case is like that of the negro in jail. He found no solace in his lawyer's assurance that he couldn't be felled on the charges made against him - he was in, and the feet stood. Just as the fact of "reckless and revolutionary" legislation stands on our statutes.

Human Nature Unchanged Democracy has in a hundred years undergone many changes, but human nature jolts along, skidding a little at the turns, joy-riding a little at times, but keeping out of the ditches and holding to the roadway most of the time. Nobody is going to be hurt much if he doesn't wriggle and kick about the changes which an evolving democracy prescribes, and democracy is that portion of the people who vote and otherwise participate in the making of changes in administrative agencies and in laws. In our own city, for illustration, democracy is the 4,000 or 5,000 voters who are sufficiently interested to turn out at a school election; democracy is the 75,000 voters that turn out at county or state or national elections; democracy is a compound of units like ourselves - units of indifference or erratic and impulsive action and reaction, which constitute only a foundation of sand as an anchorage for our constitution. Human nature comprehends these and all the rest of the elements that make the body of population - that constitute a bulk so vast and slow to follow or to move that some of democracy's experiments never reach or affect all before another plan, reform or expedient is precipitated. Human nature is the rock of the world's salvation.
