Sweeping Offensive Nets Great Successes For Cadorna

Food Situation in Britain Improved as Campaign Against U-Boat Waxes Gradually Successful

London, May 25.—"The success against submarines has resulted in a distinct improvement in our food situation," said Premier Lloyd George today in the House of Commons. The premier said more effective blows had been dealt the submarine during the last three weeks than in any corresponding period of the war. Losses, however, the premier said, probably would show a reduction from the April figures. In speaking of the success of the anti-submarine methods, he said: "America's aid. We owe a very considerable debt of gratitude to the great American people for the effective assistance they have rendered and the craft they have placed at our disposal. Now that the American nation is in the war, it is easier to make arrangements for the protection of our mercantile marine than it was before." Economy Essential. Mr. Lloyd George asserted there was no danger to the country if the economy of food stuffs was still essential. Great Miscalculation. "The submarine menace need cause no fear that the war is going to be lost for that reason," he declared, "if it is true that the Germans are depending mainly upon submarine warfare for success. I am able to say they are doomed to disappointment." Mr. Lloyd George continued, "The German submarine warfare is destined to be the greatest miscalculation in the whole series of miscalculations of that hated empire."

SWEDISH STEAMER CAPTURED

Three Merchantmen Captured by Sub. and Taken to Hun Port

TRAFFIC SUSPENDED

Between Sweden and Finland Owing to Submarines

Petrograd, May 25, via London.—Four Swedish steamers with cargoes of varied character, bound for Russia, have been captured by a German submarine in the Gulf of Bothnia, the official news agency announces. Owing to the presence of submarines traffic between Finnish and Swedish ports has been suspended. A Copenhagen despatch on May 22 carried a report from Stockholm that three Swedish steamers had been captured by the Germans off Oeriker lighthouse and taken to a German port.

Weather Bulletin

Toronto, May 25.—Pressure is high over the western provinces and the great lakes and low over the maritime provinces and the southwest States. The weather has been cool from Ontario eastward with showers in many places, and it has turned cooler in the western provinces, with showers in Alberta. Forecasts: Moderate to fresh west to north-west winds, fine and a little warmer to-day and on Saturday.

SUB PIRACY IS FAILING

Three French Merchantmen Only Destroyed in Period of a Week

Paris, May 25.—One French merchantman of more than 1,600 tons and two under that tonnage were sunk by mines or submarines during the week ending May 20. Three ships were unsuccessfully attacked while 991 entered French ports and 1,016 sailed in the same period.

RUSSIANS TRUST IN CABINET

People of Moscow Appear to Have High Hope in Coalition Government

THE PRESS DIVIDED

Socialist Journals Through Country Protest Against the War

OTHERS ARE UNITED

Government Has Support of All Better Elements of People

London, May 25.—The Petrograd correspondent of the Times, who has been visiting Moscow, reports that the people of Moscow appear to have high hope in the coalition government, which is supported wholeheartedly by even the bourgeoisie and the capitalists. He says that newspapers of all shades both in Moscow and Petrograd, favor the continuance of the war with the exception of the Pravda, the Petrograd Socialist organ and the Socialist papers in Moscow. These papers declare that the army has tired of the war and is on the verge of starvation and they protest against continuing the war, "in the interest of capitalism."

The correspondent says that it is difficult to gauge the influence of the anti-war papers, but that if judged by the numbers seen reading them in street cars and on the streets, their importance is undoubted. He continues: "The provisional government has the support of all the better elements of the people and there is still hope that it will be able to place the army on some sort of footing enabling it to advance. At the same time, it is useless to close one's eyes to the possibility of its being unable to do so. Russia is ever a country of surprises and in this, more than anything else, lies the hope of a sudden sobering."

The writer says that there is much unrest among the peasantry and that everything goes to show that they will not wait for the constituent assembly to settle the land question. The ownership of the land is being taken over everywhere by the communal authorities, mostly without compensation. Where the rent is fixed it is less than nominal. There has been some incendiarism and a few owners have been mobbed and severely handled but in most cases confiscations were carried out without resistance on the one side or brutality on the other.

Italy Celebrates Anniversary of Her Entry into War Two Years Ago; While Upon Carso Plateau Cadorna Deals Crushing Blow to the Austrians

Rome, via Paris, May 25.—Manifestations were held throughout the kingdom today in celebration of Italy's entrance into the third year of the war. Towns all over the country were decorated with the colors. In Rome processions bearing the flags of Italy and her allies, paraded through the streets toward the capitol hill, where patriotic addresses were made.

The newspapers review the results obtained by two years of military operations and in speaking of the present operations, say that the offensive now in progress is intended to assist the Russians by preventing the Austrians and Germans from exerting more pressure on them, thus enabling the Russian revolutionary government to hasten reorganization of the army. The newspapers draw a parallel to the situation of two years ago when, with the Russians in retreat, the Italian army, although still unprepared, instituted operations which compelled the Austrians to divert large forces from the Russian front. It is recalled also that the Russians paid this debt by making an attack in Galicia at the time the Austrians were invading the Italian Trentino, relieving the pressure on the Italian troops.

Austrian Statement.

London, May 25.—An official statement issued by the Austrian war office on Thursday admits Italian successes on the Carso Plateau, but claims that the Austrians inflicted severe repulses upon their assailants elsewhere.

The text of the statement follows: "Since noon yesterday the battle of the Isonzo has been again raging with extraordinary stubbornness. Masses of the enemy directed a furious onset against our whole front for forty kilometres from Plava to the sea. At many points the battle was uninterrupted during the night. In the region of Monte Cucco, near Vodice and Monte Santo, a storming attack was made in the afternoon. All the detachments which advanced east of Monte Cucco became victims of our destructive fire. "Near Vodice the enemy's attacks were broken by the bravery of our infantry. Near the convent on Monte Santo the enemy succeeded in crossing our trenches, which were ruined by his drum fire. He was, however, met by prompt reinforcements and driven back on his reserves and with them down Urven ridge by our artillery. At the same time two mighty assaults east of Gorizia failed, partly under our artillery fire and partly after hand-to-hand fighting. "There was fierce and obstinate fighting for the much contested battlefield on the Carso plateau. Our positions here and the terrain behind them were under the enemy's drum fire of guns of all calibers at dawn. Toward noon the Italian attack against the entire front on the Carso plateau began in the afternoon. Between Pajiti and the sea the enemy sent succeeding waves against our line. Whenever the wave collapsed, another followed. Thus the struggle continued undiminished in violence. The enemy has only gained ground protecting Jamiano where we had withdrawn our troops one kilometre. Otherwise we maintained our positions victoriously to the full extent everywhere."

AUSTRIAN PARLIAMENT MEETS, AND MAY BREAK WITH GERMANY

Emperor of Dual Monarchy Summons Count Andrássy, Reputed to be an Admirer of England—Austria Seriously Affected by Italian Drive

Amsterdam, via London, May 25.—A Budapest despatch says that the Emperor has summoned Counts Apponyi and Andrássy to an audience. The Hungarian newspapers declare that the resignation of the Tisza cabinet means a victory for modern democratic ideas, ideas which Count Tisza did not take sufficiently into account.

The foregoing despatch gives the first news that the Austrian parliament has convened. The convening of parliament, which has not been in session since the outbreak of the war, has been one of the most acute political questions in Austria. Dr. Friedrich Adler, the assassin of Premier Stürgkh, gave as the principal reason for his act, the premier's determined refusal to convene the legislature. On April 26 the government yielded to the growing popular demand and announced that parliament would meet on May 30. Premier Count Martinic's address was presumably delivered at a preliminary gathering of the deputies.

Austrian official statements, supporting the announcement from Rome, indicate that the Italian offensive in the Julian Alps and on the Carso plateau is steadily growing in importance and in extent. General Cadorna is apparently making a supreme effort for a decision and the brilliant successes he has already won have aroused high hopes. The Italian commander is apparently following the Anglo-French tactics of striking mighty alternate blows at his enemy's flanks. The roar of his guns can already be heard in Trieste, and the wildness of volcanic rocks and caves which lies between him and his goal makes a rapid advance, under the most favorable circumstances, a practical impossibility. The most advanced Italian posts are scarcely more than ten miles from the great Austrian naval base, but this distance is not to be contemplated with an equal extent in an open country. The Italian blow is struck at a time when political conditions in Austria-Hungary have reached an acute phase. The resignation of Count Tisza's "iron man" of the dual monarchy and staunch pillar of the pan-Germanism and junkerdom, comes on the eve of the assembling of the Austrian parliament, a step bitterly fought by the bureaucrats since the outbreak of the war and as bitterly contended for by the democratic leaders. The two events give decided color to the numerous re-

NO PEACE ON RIBOT'S TERMS

Germany Will Rather Endure Further Horrors, Says Socialist Organ

Copenhagen, via London, May 25.—The Berlin Vorwaerts declares that no German, after the horrors of three years of war could think of purchasing peace on the terms indicated by Premier Ribot. The Socialist organ asserts that rather than this the war must last for another three years.

SOLDIERS SANG WHILE SHIP SANK

Tales of Heroism Aboard Torpedeod British Transport Transylvania

WAS SUNK BY U-BOAT Off Mediterranean Coast; Over Four Hundred Lives Lost

SURVIVORS LANDED

Great Bulk of Casualties is Due to Explosion of Torpedoes

London, May 24.—Survivors of the torpedeod transport Transylvania, who are now in England, say that the vessel was struck by the first torpedo at ten o'clock in the morning. The ship was greatly damaged, but the engines were uninjured and the captain tried to reach shore, several miles distant in the hope of beaching the vessel. A quarter of an hour later a second torpedo hit the engine room and the ship was brought to a standstill and began to settle.

The first torpedo is believed to have killed a large number of men, while the second caused the death of most of those in the engine room and stokehold, wrecked the machinery, put out the electric lights and tore away a large part of the side of the vessel. It also struck a loaded boat blowing it to pieces. All the boats were rapidly lowered, the nurses aboard embarking first. The soldiers, who were lined up on the deck, shouted jocular farewells and sang "Tipperary" and other soldier songs. Destroyers raced to the rescue and worked energetically until crowded to capacity with survivors, several of whom were injured.

Accounts of the rescue work differ. Some say all who survived the explosion were saved and another account claims that owing to the lumpy sea and the dangerous position of the steamer, a party of about one hundred and fifty soldiers could not be rescued. All accounts indicate that the great bulk of the casualties was due to the explosion of the torpedoes and that none of the nurses were lost. The ship sank fifty minutes after the second torpedo struck her and the survivors were landed at a port where they were given a great reception. Captain Bruell who jumped into the sea when the decks of the ship were awash, was picked up in an exhausted condition and died in hospital ashore.

French Wrest Portion of Chevreux Wood From Germans; Foe Shelters Found Full of Dead

Paris, May 25.—Noon.—Part of Chevreux wood on the Aisne front, was captured last night by the French, the war office announced. The German shelters were found to have been demolished by the French artillery and to be filled with the dead.

The statement follows: "On the Chemin-des-Dames the night was marked by pronounced activity of the artillery in the region northwest of Braye-en-Laonnois, especially near Le Phantoon. A German attack on our trenches north of the Vauclerc windmill, was repulsed. Further east, in the region of Chevreux, we carried out an operation late yesterday in the part of the Chevreux wood situated southeast of that town, where the enemy resisted energetically. The attack was completely successful. We found numerous dead in the shelters destroyed by our artillery. Thirty prisoners, including an officer, remained in our hands. "In the region of Courcy we drove back a German detachment which had succeeded in penetrating one of our posts on the east bank of the canal. Patrol encounters occurred southeast of Rheims and near Bezonvaux."

London, May 25.—12.45 p.m.—"During the night a local hostile attack against one of our posts in the Hindenburg line southwest of Pentalieux Cross-roads was driven off," says today's war office report. "A German raiding party northeast of Arleux also was repulsed with heavy loss. We had no casualties."

London, May 25.—An Exchange Telegraph despatch from Copenhagen reports that Christiania workmen laid down their tools yesterday and marched to the parliamentary buildings, where they presented a resolution demanding prohibition of the exportation of provisions and the seizure of all ships necessary to furnish food and raw materials for the country. They also demand that no German ships be permitted to enter Norwegian ports, on the ground that they carry food from the country.

COURIER'S NEW STORY.

Just about everybody likes a good detective story. Well, The Courier has secured the rights to one which is not only that but in addition is from the pen of a man thoroughly well posted with regards to what he writes. The author is Mr. Frank Frost, late superintendent of the criminal investigation department, Scotland Yard, London, England. It is thoroughly interesting from the very first line to the last, and the first instalment will appear in Saturday's issue.

NEWS OF NORFOLK

Two More Sons of Norfolk Make Supreme Sacrifice at Front
WAR VETERAN WEDS
War Production Committee Takes Action on Farm Labor

(From our own Correspondent) Simcoe, May 25.—Capt. Robert Simpson, of the Imperial Army Service Corps, after two years service in France, has been transferred to Salonki, where he has charge of a motor transport section. It is hoped that the captain will presently fall in with Lt. Dr. A. C. Burt, who is now on his second year in service in the veterinary service at the Levant, and has not seen the face of a Canadian since he sailed for the middle East.

Must Bide Their Time
Bugler James Dorey, of the Bantam battalion, writes an interesting account of his trip with the unit. Leaving Halifax, April 13th, they landed at Liverpool on the 31st ult. and proceeded to London, and then to Aitton camp where he saw among others, Lt. Geo. Curtis, Lieut. Forse and Driver Arthur Farney. Farney, like young Dorey, is held in England on account of being a few months under age, for France. The Bantams go to France soon as a unit.

Pte. Ernest Youmans of Renton
The family at Renton received official notice at noon yesterday that Pte. Ernest Youmans, B Co., of the former 123rd, has given his life for his country. He was killed in action in France on May 4th. Ernest was 24 years of age, and a son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Youmans of Renton. Illness in England prevented his crossing to France till about Easter.

Pte. Roy B. Thompson of Simcoe
A belated cable received yesterday morning advised Section Foreman Chas. Thompson that his youngest son, Pte. Roy B. Thompson was killed in action on May 4th. Roy signed up with the former 133rd, only 17 years old. He was 18 years old on Sept. 7th last. He went into the trenches on April 8th.

Previous to signing up, Roy lived at home as a mere boy. His elder brother, Gordon, went over with the first contingent and spent one year 9 months in the trenches. Since Feb. 4th, he has been ill in England. Mrs. Durward has received advice that her husband, Lt. Walter Durward has recently crossed to France. Walter is therefore the second officer of the 133rd to be given a commission for France.

Returned Soldier Weds
—Alexander G. M. Pendergast, a returned soldier, and a former member of the First Battalion, C. E. F., who names his unit with pardonable pride, took unto himself yesterday a wife in the person of Miss Ada Carter of Woodhouse. The silken knot was tied at the Rectory by Rev. A. B. Farney.

Pendergast lost the sight of one eye, and was gassed in one lung, but to outward appearances, is not much the worse of the war.

Press Photographs
Mrs. W. J. Clarke, of Hamilton, is the guest of her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Van Patter.

Lt. C. H. McKinnon visited his uncle J. H. Madden, a few days ago. John Beccart, aged 87, is setting a fine example in production effort. He has ploughed over a score of town gardens and is gardening a four acre plot for Mrs. Griffin on Townline street, and doing the work thoroughly.

Miss Heatherington and Miss Simpson, of Hespeler, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Davison, Lynnwood Avenue.

Miss Hagerman, of Scotland, is visiting relatives in town.

Mrs. Gunton, Sr., and Miss Gunton, are in Hespeler visiting Mrs. E. A. Buchner.

Odd Ends of News
The Waterford Fruit and Vegetable Growers' Association, has contracted for fifty acres of cucumbers, 75 acres of tomatoes and a large area of onions and cauliflowers. The salting tanks used here for the reception of this line of produce, have been moved from the G.T.R. yard in the west ward, over to the L.E. and N. siding.

About 6 o'clock on Tuesday the farm house of Bert Gibbs, a short distance east of the L. E. and N. Townline crossing, was struck with lightning. The chimney extension above the roof was smashed off, but no other serious damage was done.

The Board of Education will put a fire-door at the head of the exterior exit from the second storey of the Central School.

It is thought that the fire discovered on Saturday was the work of some youngsters who wanted holidays. In fact, the boys who gave the alarm got considerable abuse next day from some of their school mates for taking steps to have the brigade called out.

Tampering youngsters have already succeeded in putting the bubbling fountain, out of order, as was repeatedly accomplished last year.

The work of roofing the can plant at Dominion Cannery, will be practically completed to-day. Flooring is being laid as the work proceeds. It has been estimated that it would require eighty drays, each carrying two tons, to move the pack of one day's work in the process rooms at Dominion Cannery. Help for the work is still scarce, and school boys are found working after hours and on Saturdays. Many will doubtless be employed during the summer.

Connecting Up
For the purpose of putting residents of the town, who wish to devote part or all of their time or vacation towards assisting in farm work, with farmers, gardeners or fruit growers, who require help, the Simcoe War Production Committee, has been supplied with blank forms of two kinds. One to be filled in by volunteer workers, asking name, age (adult or in teens), will no doubt suffice for ladies' previous experience, and a yes or no, to can you milk? Harness and drive a team? Plow? Take care of stock? etc. The other form calls for information as to the time, nature, and amount of help required.

BOMBARDIER CHARLES EDMONDS, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Edmonds, Norfolk street, south, who has received a severe wound in right arm.

Those working during vacation only are expected to labour for the wage of privates in the army, $1.10 a day.

Gloomy Outlook for Apple Crop
Reports from all quarters agree, with regard to the prospects for the apple crop. It is perhaps too early to speak definitely with regard to the "spyt" but the general impression is that it will be a very lean year as to apples.

Many strawberry patches were winter killed and many suffered for want of proper cultivation and care last year. There appears, however, to be a good showing of opening blossoms but a night's frost would do great damage. As yet there is, of course, no certainty of a big crop anywhere.

Industry to Revive
Geo. Doolittle, of Union, has purchased the plant of the Norfolk Evaporating and Preserving Company, south of Ryerse Bros. Greenhouse plant on Sydenham street and it is thought that probably a vegetable drying industry may be developed.

Farmers in the north of the county are contracting to grow turnips for the drying plant at Scotland. The contract price we were told to-day is 70 cents per hundred pounds.

Funeral at Port Dover
Port Dover, May 25.—The funeral of Annie McIntosh, widow of the late Adam Lawson, for many years a citizen of the port, will be held here to the town cemetery.

Mrs. Lawson died at the residence of her son, John Lawson, in Chicago, on Tuesday, after but one week's illness and at the ripe age of 93 years.

Postmaster I. D. Lawson, of Simcoe and James A. Lawson, of Delhi are nephews.

CONSCRIPTION TO COME BEFORE HOUSE TUESDAY

Ottawa, May 25.—An all-day sitting of the Cabinet yesterday devoted to the selective conscription bill and the situation which will arise out of it. The measure is being locked into shape and will probably be presented to the House on Tuesday. Its exact provisions in detail are not yet complete, but underlying principles are substantially as have been indicated.

Fundamentally, conscription is to be by selection, and it is the appointment of authorities to do the selecting and the powers to be conferred on them necessitates very careful consideration.

The minimum age is to be 20 years. The maximum may be 40 or 45. In any event, men between the latter ages should be the ultimate class only, and not those to be called up first. There will be great care not to make the measure too sweeping and not to include in the net of compulsory service those whose activities at home individual-ly, and not as a class, are vital to the state.

Problem Plan
The Government would wish to divorce itself from the administration with the appointment of boards or bodies in each center, vested with the powers of selecting those who must go after all and sundry shall have been enrolled as a matter of principle. There has been some suggestion that municipalities might appoint boards, but there is no guarantee that they would undertake such a job. Some doubtless would be willing, others opposed entirely. The plan of having judges appoint men to do this work and providing for appeal to another judge from any contested decision seems likely of adoption. As the bill will not be down before Tuesday at the earliest, there is still opportunity for further

AUSTRIAN LINES SHATTERED ON THE CARSO SWEEPING VICTORY FOR FORCES OF CADORNA

Important Heights and Villages Taken by Italian Troops to Commemorate Second Anniversary of Entry Into War; Total of Over Nine Thousand Prisoners Taken

New York, May 24.—The Associated Press issued the following: On a front of nearly ten miles on the Carso plateau the Italian troops have smashed the Austrian line hard, and taken various positions from the town of Castagnavizza to the head of the Gulf of Trieste. In their renewal of their offensive the Italians received valuable aid from some of the nine British batteries which have hauled their big guns down to the Isonzo front to help in the efforts aimed at the conquest of Trieste, Austria's big seaport on the Adriatic.

Not alone were the Italians successful in capturing numerous points of vantage, but more than nine thousand Austrian prisoners, including officers in excess of three hundred. The Austrians are declared to have been taken completely by surprise by the sudden onslaught of the Italians, who, to divert attention from the southern end of the Isonzo line, had struck a hard blow to the north. When, however, the Austrians recovered from their surprise they launched heavy counter-attacks, but the Italians tenaciously held the ground they had won. The new advance of the Italians brings them appreciably nearer Trieste, which, from the lower part of the line, is less than ten miles away. The ground traversed and yet to be passed over is difficult for military operations, and, even with other successful advances such as the last one, the objective of the Italians will not be attained except by fighting of a most ferocious nature.

Text of Official Report
Rome, May 24.—Italian forces yesterday broke through the Austro-Hungarian lines from Castagnavizza to the sea, taking more than 9,000 prisoners, says the official statement issued to-day by the Italian War Office.

The Italian War Office announced that Italian forces had occupied part of the area south of the Castagnavizza-Boscomalo road, had passed Boscomalo and had captured the town of Jamiano and strong heights east of Pietrassina and Bagni. The Italian official report said the Austro-Hungarians at first were surprised and nonplussed. Towards evening they launched counter-attacks, but were repulsed.

Italian airplanes numbering 139 dropped ten tons of bombs on the Austro-Hungarians. Ten British batteries co-operated with the Italians.

Break Austrian Line
The announcement follows: "On the Carso yesterday, after ten hours of violent bombardment the gallant troops of the Third Army assaulted and broke through the well-organized lines of the enemy from Castagnavizza to the sea. While we were heavily engaging the enemy on the left our troops, after carrying enemy trenches in the center and on the right, occupied part of the area south of the Castagnavizza-Boscomalo road, passed Boscomalo and captured Jamiano, the important and strongly fortified heights on Hill 92, one kilometre east of Pietra Rossa, Hill 77, Hill 58, Bagni and Hill 21.

"The enemy were at first surprised and nonplussed by the sudden onslaught, but towards evening they counter-attacked in force, supported by an exceptionally heavy bombardment. He was repulsed with severe loss. During the day we captured more than 9,000 prisoners, including more than 300 officers. "Aerial squadrons, consisting of 130 machines, including a group of navy seaplanes, dropped ten tons of bombs on the enemy's lines and brought their machine guns to bear on masses of the enemy. Our airmen all returned safely.

Ten British Batteries Busy
"Ten British batteries, which are on our front as evidence of the brotherly co-operation of our ally, made a large contribution to the artillery preparation. Our naval guns also proved very effective. "In the Gorizia area our troops repulsed heavy enemy attacks, captured a strong point on the north-west slopes of San Marco, and, after severe fighting, made considerable progress in the Monte and Vojice areas."

Allied Drive Assists Italians
London, May 24.—The Italian offensive has entered into its second stage, with new and important gains between Gorizia and the sea, said Major-General F. B. Maurice to The Associated Press to-day.

General Maurice said all the objectives of the Italian drive had been gained, and that details of the operations would be given in the official communication to be issued at Rome later in the day.

The entire front of the past ten days was praised by Gen. Maurice, who is Chief Director of Military Operations, at the British War Office.

"Yet the Italian offensive," he continued, "was made possible only by the thorough offensive work of the Anglo-French forces during the past few weeks. If we had not been keeping the German busy, the Italians would not only have found an offensive impossible, but would actually have been faced by a great Austro-German attack."

TRANSPORT SUNK; 400 LIVES LOST

Steamer Transylvania Torpedoed by U-Boat in the Mediterranean

SOLDIERS WENT DOWN
Survivors Taken to Italy and Cared for by People

London, May 25.—The British transport Transylvania was torpedoed on May 4, with the loss of 413 persons. The Transylvania was torpedoed in the Mediterranean. The following official statement was given out yesterday: "The British transport Transylvania, with troops aboard, was torpedoed in the Mediterranean on May 4, resulting in the following losses: 29 officers and 372 of other ranks; also the ship's captain, Lieut. S. Bruell and one officer and nine men of the crew."

Veteran Captain Lost
New York, May 25.—The Anchor Line steamship Transylvania was sunk in the Mediterranean off the French-Italian coast, it was learned here yesterday. The survivors—how many it is not known here—were taken into Savona, Italy, by rescuers cared for by the populace and administered to by Red Cross authorities. When they left Savona on another vessel for an unnamed destination a throng of thousands of persons assembled at the shore and cheered the departing ship.

Captain Bruell, who lived in Scotland, commanded the Transylvania when she went down. He was one of the oldest captains in the Anchor Line service. The Transylvania, an Anchor Line steamship of 14,315 tons gross, had been in the service of the British Government since May, 1915, when her sailings were cancelled. There have been no recent reports of her movements. When she was first taken over by the British Government she was engaged in transporting troops to Gallipoli.

The Transylvania was built in 1914. She was constructed especially for passenger traffic between New York and Mediterranean ports. She was 548 feet long, and had accommodation for 2,450 passengers. In addition to the loss of the Transylvania, dispatches published elsewhere tell of the sinking of the British steamer Tela, of 7,000 tons, off the English coast, and of the French steamer Sontay, with the loss of forty-four lives.

French Liner Sunk
Paris, May 25.—It is officially announced that the French liner Sontay, bound for Marseilles from Saloniki with 344 passengers, was torpedoed on April 15 with the loss of 44 lives. The steamer sank rapidly in a heavy sea, but the prompt and methodical manner in which the small boats were launched saved the majority of those on board. Capt. Masses went down with the ship. The Sontay was a vessel of 7,254 tons, and was built in 1898. She was owned in Marseilles.

the adoration of the congregation.

HEADED CLASS
Signaller Frank Keen, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. George Keen, who enlisted at 17 years of age in the first year of the war with Brantford's quota of the 13th Battery, and was much its youngest member, recently passed an examination at a signal school in France in competition with men drawn from all sections of the Canadian corps, and with soldiers from the British regular army who had been doing nothing before the war. Signaller Keen was highly complimented on his achievement in passing the examination at the head of the list, and the fact was recorded in the Battery Orders.

OF WELL KNOWN FAMILY
L. Reginald Gaynor, who has enlisted for active service, is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Gaynor, 1622 Sixth avenue, and nephew of Chief Justice Gaynor, 21 years of age, and a senior of the University of Pennsylvania. He was number 160 to enlist in the city of Philadelphia for Fort Niagara; later decided to transfer to the Iowa camp at Fort Snelling. He is a grandson of Col.
Ballachey of Sioux City, who, until he took up his residence in the United States, was colonel of the Durferin Rifles of Brantford, Canada.
Young Gaynor's uncle, Maj. Panoyti Ballachey of Brantford, Canada, was recently killed in action somewhere in France.—Des Moines Register.

Obituary
JENNIE SMITH
A sad death took place yesterday morning at Echo Place, when Jennie Ruthella, eighteen year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Smith, passed away after a lingering illness.
The deceased was a member of the Elm Avenue Methodist Church, and leaves to mourn her loss, besides her parents, three sisters and two brothers, Edna, Bessie, Grace, Frank and Kenneth. The funeral will take place Saturday afternoon at Mount Hope cemetery.

GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY
Mr. and Mrs. M. Weaver
Pass Fiftieth Milestone of Wedlock

The 50th Milestone of Wedlock
Mr. and Mrs. M. Weaver, 83 Port St., yesterday celebrated the 50th year of their married life together.
They were wed in the village of Scotland, Ontario, May 24, 1867.
Mrs. Weaver was a Mary Ann Cox, and although the snows of winter have changed her raven locks to whiteness, she is still hale and hearty; while her genial partner in life, who is a well-known personality at the T. H. & B. crossing, is still able to do his bit, and nobly prefers to work rather than sit still in the evening of his days. Their three children are Mrs. Smith of Princeton, Mr. Joseph Weaver, merchant, 193
Erie Ave., and Mrs. Mulligan, 83
Port St. On account of the war conditions, the old couple preferred a quiet celebration, within their immediate circle. So along with their children, some of their grandchildren and intimate friends, they journeyed to Princeton yesterday and observed the occasion in the home of their eldest daughter, Mrs. Smith.
A happy day was spent around the festive board, and the venerable couple, who have resided in the city for some 30 years, and who have seen many changes, were the recipients of gifts in gold, but better still, the receivers of the warm love and good wishes of their children and friends, as they climb along together the hill tops of life. Their many friends in Eagle Place congratulate them on this notable occasion.

GUNNER PITCHER

Meets a Hero's Death at the Front
Responded to the Empire's Call From a Sense of Duty

Ex-Ald. Pitcher received the sad word yesterday that his son, Earl Pettit Pitcher, had passed away in the base hospital in France from wounds. No particulars were given.
The telegram sent from the Mil-lita Department at Ottawa, reads as follows:
"No. 322952, Gunner E. P. Pitcher."
"Deeply regret to inform you that
No. 322,952, Gunner Earl Pettit Pitcher, Artillery, officially reported died of wounds, 4th Field Ambulance Depot, May 7th."
At an early period of the war, the young hero decided to enlist, because, as he said, he felt such a course to be his duty. Animated by this spirit, he joined the 54th Battery (Major Henderson), and left overseas with that unit some months ago. For some time past he had been on the firing line, and his father and mother received a letter from him only last week.

Nuptial Notes
PAPPLE—HAVILAND
The First Baptist Church was the scene of a very pretty wedding yesterday when Bruce Papple and Laura Haviland were united in the bonds of holy matrimony by the pastor, Rev.
Llewellyn Brown. About 60 guests were present. Mr. J. T. Schofield, organist, played the wedding march.
The bride was accompanied to the altar by her father who gave her away. After the ceremony the Conservatory of Music where a dainty wedding breakfast was served. Earl Papple and Leone Bremner supported the bridegroom and the bride.

EARL PETTIT PITCHER
He was in his 23rd year, a very fine young man in every way, clean living and a favorite with a very large circle of friends.
After leaving school, he was in Mr. Joseph Broadbent's establishment for a number of years, and then entered the real estate business with his father's brother. He showed great adaptability and business instinct, and if he had returned, would have been taken into partnership with his father.
In addition to the grief-stricken parents, he leaves one brother Arthur S. Pitcher, proprietor of the Brant Motor Company, and one sister, Winnie, at home.
To the sorely bereaved parents and brother and sister, the very deep condolences of a large circle of friends in this city will be extended.

Takes Two Brothers Into Partnership

Manager Whittaker of the Grand Opera House announces that he has taken his two brothers into partnership with him—Fred and Harry.
Under the new firm the house will be re-opened on June 5th with high class moving pictures which will be given throughout the summer months afternoon and evening.
Some of the very best feature screen pictures will be presented. One coming in the near future is "The Crisis" playing all next week at the Grand Opera House, Toronto. "The Whip" will also play a return engagement.
The theatre will be redecorated in order to secure the necessary summer effect.

Convention of Optometrists
The Optometrical Association of Ontario met yesterday in Toronto in the third annual convention of the institution. President W. G. Maybee presided. Ex-President E. C. Cul-verhouse in his address of welcome, spoke of the growth of the association, which has been a steady increase in the past. Papers were read by Professor Minchin of Rochester, Mr. W. G. Maybee, and Mr.
C. A. Jarvis, of this city, secretary of the association, all of interesting character, but very interesting to the delegates, of whom about 75 were present.
The most important matter to come up was a legislation, the adoption of which will require optometrists to be regularly qualified before they can practise. President Maybee reviewed the various legislative activities in the past, and declared that optometry was not medicine.
He pointed out that active cooperation would be needed from all the members, and all present declared themselves willing to do their bit to help the cause along. In the evening a banquet was held at the Ritz, at which officers of the association delivered addresses. Today the members of the association inspected the plants and wares of the wholesale optical houses.

Teamster Had Narrow Escape
The local fire department have received many calls for assistance in extinguishing blazes but it is doubtful if ever their services were required to extricate a man from the unique and dangerous predicament in which Mr. James Riddle, 12 Main St., found himself this morning. He is a teamster employed by Mr. George Tate, and was driving with a team and a heavy load, and the team of residence of Mr. J. T. Burrows. In some manner the cart, containing a heavy load, and the team of horses went over an embankment, and Mr.
Riddle was hurled from the driver's seat, falling under the horses, one of which was directly on him. The ground was soft and allowed his body to sink in otherwise a fatality would probably have occurred. A crowd soon gathered but could devise no means of freeing the man, until Mr. J. T. Burrows was reached at his office by telephone, and he soon had succeeded in freeing Mr. Riddle, who had been under the horse for over half an hour. The fire department was notified shortly after Mr.
Burrows, and Capt. Kingswell accompanied by two men hastened to the scene and Mr. Burrows' efforts had solved the difficulty.
A doctor was summoned and Mr.
Riddle was conveyed to the hospital, where he was examined and was found that no serious consequences had resulted. He is badly shaken up and considerably bruised on the arm and knee, but will be able to leave by tomorrow.
Capt. J. R. Cornelius, just returned from the battlefield of France will give vivid and graphic sketches of the trench life of the Canadian Tommy.

CLEAN-UP SALE OF WOMEN'S SUITS
At Greatly Reduced Prices

"Plain Tailored Lines" is fashion's latest decree for the Coat and Skirt Costume, and it is a notable feature that in this great collection of Suits the majority are plain tailored, and in the colors most suitable for such styles—navy or black.

The selections are so large that it is impossible to give more than bare details. This immense event is arranged in accordance with our policy of clearing all Suits in the season for which purchased, and this, in spite of the fact that we could not duplicate any of these at the prices at which they are offered. The various lines provide for almost every type of figure, and every requirement or occasion. Here, in brief, is the way they are grouped for easy selection:

At $7.50 Odd lines of Suits in navy, black, copen, brown, full satin lined, twelve only in the group.

At $9.50 Smart styles in poplins, serges, black and white checks, Norfolk, belted or semi-ripple coat style, with pipings and over silk collar, skirt giving plenty of fullness and ripple.

At $10.50 Latest designs, in serges and poplins, colors rose, plum, apple green, Russian green, and navy. Chic pleated flare with gathered or pleated style coat from yoke. Skirts full back.

At $18.50 Rich models in gabardines, poplin and jersey cloth, variety of chic styles to choose from, including the barrel style coat with loose tie sash, large fancy collars, skirt with pockets to match coat.

At $20.00 Imported models in plain or fancy fabric shown in all the best colors, featuring wide box pleated styles, deep belt in baby bodice design, caught at side with large fancy buckle, pearl button trimming with military braid.

At $28.50 Exclusive Suits in the finest fabrics, such as Poiret Twill, Poplins, Gabardines and Serges, many New York styles featured in the lot. Coats with deep silk over collars, with touches of oriental embroidery, large pearl or bone button trimmings. Extra full skirts.

HONOR ROLL AT VICTORIA SCHOOL UNVEILED ON EMPIRE DAY

Over Hundred and Fifty Ex-Pupils Have Answered the Call of King and Country, Several Made Supreme Sacrifice; Self-Denial Money Presented

Notable and appropriate commemoration of Empire Day was made in Victoria school on Wednesday evening last, the occasion of the unveiling of an honor roll containing the names of more than 150 former pupils of the school who have responded to the call of king and country. The sum of $130.00, raised by the pupils through their "self-denial" efforts, was presented to Mrs. W. C. Livingston, to be forwarded to St. Dunstan's School for the Blind, while Miss Colter, principal of the school and Miss Fallis were honored by being made the recipients of handsome baskets of roses by the pupils.

In the absence of Lt.-Col. Harry Cockshutt, in Montreal, Public School Inspector Kilmer occupied the chair. Prayer by the Rev. Dr. Mackenzie was followed by the unveiling of the honor roll by Miss Hilda Livingston, following which a program was rendered, comprising a solo by Miss Hilda Hurley, a recitation by Miss Annabel Ryerson, a violin solo by Miss Mildred Sanderson, and a brief address by Mr. W. S. Brewster, who spoke of the qualities essential to good students, diligence, perseverance, self-denial and fortitude, pointing out the bearing of these virtues in the lives of those whose names appeared upon the honor roll. He emphasized the need for economy and simple living, the sacrificing of all pleasures to the end of ultimate victory, and expressed hope for support from all parties in the government's conscription measure. Following a vocal solo by Miss Marjorie Sweet and a violin selection by Miss Marjorie Jones, the presentation of the children's self-denial money was made by Miss Isabel Palmer. Master Irving Wood delivered a brief address upon the use to be made of the money. A vocal solo was rendered by Miss Aileen Hart, following which the presentation of roses was made to Miss Colter and Miss Fallis.

In proposing a vote of thanks to those concerned in the formation of the honor roll, Mrs. Marquis gave a brief resume of the work accomplished by the school under Miss Colter's regime, dwelling upon the preparation of the honor roll and the achievements of the Art League. Her vote of thanks was seconded by Mrs. Buck. The presentation of prizes offered by the Horticultural Society for bulbs grown at home then followed, being awarded to Miss Janet Irwin, Miss Ena Minshall and Miss Mary McDonald.

The resigning of the honor roll was in charge of Miss Fallis, while the lettering was the work of Inspector Kilmer and the shield, comprising the flags of the allies, the contribution of Mr. Styles, teacher of manual training. In view of the great difficulty in obtaining a full list of names of all former pupils of Victoria School now serving overseas, there is a possibility that some names have been omitted, but the school officials are desirous of stating that any such will be added to the list if sent in. The roll is as follows:

Albert Bennett, Melvin Burns, Edward Bernhardt, J. H. Brown, Charles Butler, Walter Beech, Elmer Brigham, William Berry, Wilfred Berry, Ewart Berry, Stanley Bishop, Arthur Bishop, Leonard Bunnell, Lamont Brandon, Norman Caudwell, Charlie Crompton, M. THE BRANT

A powerful holiday and week-end bill is that offered at the Brant Theatre the last of this week, headed by Kathryn Williams and Theodore Roberts, co-starring in a gripping Paramount production "The Cost of Hatred." A picture of intense dramatic possibilities, "The Cost of Hatred" proves an admirable vehicle for two such noted screen stars, Miss Williams' dramatic abilities giving her a place among the foremost of her profession while Theodore Roberts is probably unequalled upon the screen today as a portrayal of vivid and powerful "character" roles.

HOW JIMMY CHIPMUNK GOT HIS BLACK STRIPES

Jimmy Chipmunk lived with Mamma Chipmunk in a gray stone wall near an old farmhouse.

One Sunday morning Mamma Chipmunk dressed Jimmy in his pretty new red and started him out to Sunday school that was held in the hollow of the oak tree near the roadside.

"Don't stop to play," said Mamma Chipmunk as she watched him run over the stones to the road.

"Chip, chee!" Jimmy heard above his head, and looking up he saw his little friend, Johnny Chipmunk, among the branches of a tree loaded with cherries.

"Hello, Jimmy!" called Johnny, as he sat munching a red ripe cherry "Better come on up."

Then Jimmy forgot all about his new coat, climbed the tree, and was soon eating cherries at Johnny's side. They were so busy that they opened his door and came softly along the branches.

"I'll teach you not to take my cherries!" cried Daddy Gray Squirrel as he chased Jimmy and Johnny down from limb to limb down the tree.

Jimmy and Johnny ran into the grass and out to the road.

"Listen!" exclaimed Johnny as he sat up and pricked up his ears. Just then Big Black Dog bounded around the corner of the stone wall.

Jimmy didn't see the thorny bush that lay across his path, and as he squeezed under the pretty red coat he caught on the thorns and held him fast. Johnny hid in the stone wall. Jimmy with a terrible pull tore his coat loose and scampered across the fields toward his home as fast as he could.

Mamma Chipmunk, hearing the noise, came running around the stones saw Jimmy with his pretty new coat all torn and began to scold him.

"How in the world did you tear your coat like that?" asked Mamma Chipmunk.

Jimmy starting to cry, told her how it all happened.

"If it hadn't been for Big Black Dog it wouldn't have happened!" cried Jimmy.

But Mamma Chipmunk said it served him right for not obeying, and she took a needle and mended the three ugly rips in Jimmy's red coat.

"Now don't you look pretty!" said Mamma Chipmunk when she saw the black lines running from Jimmy's tail almost to his front legs.

"Well, you can't have another coat," scolded Mamma Chipmunk, and to this day you can see Jimmy Chipmunk playing over the stones, and down his back run the black patches Mamma Chipmunk sewed there.

FRAT NOT DEAD
Positive information to the effect that the players' organization, which called a strike for high salaries last winter, still exists has been obtained. While it is true that a majority of the major league players became disgusted when the strike fizzled out, certain ringleaders have not lately with the idea of reviving a concerted movement to embarrass the club owners.

EBBETS DENIES STORIES OF DISSENSION
"The Brooklyn players are not dissatisfied with their salaries," declared Col. C. H. Ebbets recently. "There is no dissension in the team and I look for an improvement in play very soon. Our pitchers are in poor physical condition, which is the reason why the Brooklyn are in last place. The losing streak and the cold weather have kept the attendance figures down, but there is bound to be a change for the better."

"even," the result being that Darcy was practically hounded from one state to another. Had he not been a champion, or an unknown quantity, nothing would have been heard of him, but because he was the champion of Australia he was made the "goat." He was more sinced against than sinning, and while he may have had his faults yet to his credit he died in the colors of the allies. "That's more than will be said of those who enticed him away from Australia."

WAIVERS ASKED ON PITCHER REULBACH
Manager Stallings of the Boston Braves has asked for waivers on Pitcher Edward Reulbach, the secretary of the players' organization. So far none of the other major league clubs has claimed Reulbach and it is probable that he will go to the minors or retire from the game. Reulbach, while drawing salary from the Brooklyn club two years ago, was charged with aiding the Federal league in winning players away from organized baseball, also with taking an active part in promoting the fraternity. He was unconditionally released by the Brooklyn club in October, 1915, and it was common rumor that the other big league clubs had agreed to keep hands off. But suddenly to the astonishment of the magnates, Reulbach signed with Stallings. Reulbach pitched several good games for the Braves last year, but Stallings has so many other competent box-

Toronto, May 25.—Toronto by defeating Buffalo in the eleventh inning yesterday just managed to stay in Mr. Barrow's League. It was a weird game in spots and both teams were on the verge of bad reverse more than once. Paddy Lyons started for Toronto and was chased by the showery in the middle of the fifth frame. Zabel relieved him and though he got into hot water in the ninth pulled out of it luckily, not forgetting that he was given good support. Engel lasted the entire distance for the Herd. He was very wild at times and walked three Leafs in the seventh, but at the right moment steadied up and only one run resulted. Lalonge, who caught Lyons, was replaced by Bill Kelly, the only man who can hold Zabel's speedy ones. Catcher Blackburn got into the game late as a pinch hitter. He walked. Thompson, the speedy man of the team on the bags, ran forced Engel to run in to get the ball and not only did Whiteman score, but Blackburn got safe to first. Smith and Kelly were easy outs. In the eleventh Whiteman led off with a corking two-base hit to left, Lajoie sacrificed, and Graham was an infield out. Blackburn bunted, and they worked the squeeze play, Whiteman scoring. The Leafs showed by far the best exhibition of drill yesterday that they have attempted this season. They were smart in every particular, and when they presented arms as the Union Jack and the Stars and Stripes were being raised the Buffalo team were at attention in single file, with their hands at the salute. There was a good crowd considering the weather. At Providence. Richmond's errors were costly, and aided the Grays materially in making runs. The locals also hit Adams in the pinches. Schellenbach pitched a fine game, and was given fast support, Providence winning the opening game of the series, 6 to 1. Score: Richmond . . . 100 000 000—1 7 5 Providence . . . 042 202 000—6 8 1 Batteries—Adams and Reynolds; Schellenbach and Mayer. Two Games Today. The Bisons and Leafs will meet in a double-header at Toronto this afternoon, while tomorrow the Hustlers and Leafs will clash in a double-header at the Stadium.

Blackburn's Andrews, who took Smith's place the other day when he was chased for talking back, went to short in place of "Smitty," who was not allowed to hit in the ninth with Whiteman at third and Russell Blackburn on first. Lajoie and Graham had gone out sacrificing Whiteman along. Blackburn's walk filled the bags. Bill Kelly came up with a great chance to distinguish himself and got himself thrown out at first by Carlstrom. Kopp, the first man up, got on with a scratch hit. Channell filed to Smith and Carlstrom forced Kopp at second. Graham got McDonald unassisted. Jacobson walked and Altenburg, the new right fielder, sent out a sizzling single. Jacobson came home. Whiteman got on first when Hummel dropped the ball. Thus the situation when up stepped Larry. He hit a long fly to centre and Whiteman took it. Altenburg meanwhile had been caught trying to steal home. Graham beat out a bunt and Whiteman scored. "Lena" was an infield out. Buffalo's big inning was the fourth. McDonald started off with a clean three-bagger. Hummel was given a pass. Gill singled to right. Hummel was caught at second. Killilea fanned, but Casey came through with a hit scoring the centre fielder. Engel hit to Whiteman, who booted. Kopp walked and Channell was out pitcher to first. With Jacobson on in the fifth Lajoie doubled, and Jake came to port for his second counter of the game. Lyons was still on the mound in the fifth, but it was plain that he was about to blow. Carlstrom got a safe one and although McDonald was caught out by Lalonge (a foul pop), Hummel was walked. He had sent up two wide ones to Gill when he was, shooed off in favor of Zabel. Zabel's first two efforts were wide and Gill got his pass. But in the meantime Hummel had been nailed at first. Killilea got a safe one to right, but Casey was pegged out by Blackburn. Toronto got a run in the seventh when after Altenburg fled out Whiteman, Lajoie and Graham were bunted in succession. Lena Blackburne then pulled a good one. He bunted, the ball lying eight feet to the north-west of the plate. Whiteman was there to come in and Casey had to play the bag. This for-

POOR BLOOD AND WEAK NERVES

(By F. Raymond Ward, M. D.) Lack of strength is about the first symptom of a violation of the laws of health. There come nervousness, unsteady hands and limbs, faint eruptions, dizziness, sleeplessness, loss of appetite, and with the feeling that the life blood is being sapped comes complete prostration. In this condition the sufferer is indifferent to all things—and looks upon life with a gloomy, melancholic view. It is given as a statistical fact that seven out of every ten people in the United States are suffering from nerve exhaustion, and of this number less than half realize it. They know that they have gloomy thoughts, a depression of mind, an impaired memory, dizziness and headache, weak nights, a spell of extreme exhaustion, but they attribute it to any other cause but the right one. They feel languid, irritable and restless, the why and wherefore of which they cannot explain. They are suffering from nerve exhaustion, a condition which is undoubtedly the most common cause of many other troubles that beset the half so. Nerve exhaustion will not cure itself. The sufferer who thinks that nature alone will bring about a restoration of health is simply deluded by a false hope. He will realize that if the power of realizing is left him, what he becomes a hopeless victim to one of the many diseases which follow in its path. Those suffering from nerve exhaustion or loss of energy as a result of overwork, mental worry or violation of nature's laws are quickly restored to sound health by the use of special treatment. After Losing Five Straight, Chicago Took a Fall Out of Their Rivals

PHILLIES SWAMPED
Cincinnati Drove in Total of Nineteen Runs

New York, May 24.—After losing five straight games, Chicago defeated New York here today by a score of 4 to 2. The visitor scored the winning run in the ninth inning on a base on balls to Mann and Deal's double. Douglas held New York to four hits, but was poorly supported. Manager Mitchell, of Chicago, ordered off the field by Umpire Byron in the sixth inning, and Right Fielder Robertson, of New York, met the same fate two innings later. Score: Chicago 020 001 001—4 7 4
New York 001 020 000—3 4 0
Batteries—Douglas and Wilson; Benton, Middleton and McCarty.

At Boston—St. Louis scored four runs in the ninth inning today and defeated Boston, 9 to 7. Errors by Smith and Fitzpatrick and singles by J. Miller and Hornsby combined to make effective the winning rally. Magee, who was reinstated at fourth place in the Boston batting order today, cracked out two triples, a double and a single in five times at bat. Score: St. Louis 020 002 014—9 13 1
Boston 000 100 231—7 13 4
Batteries—Ames, Meadows and Gonzales; Barnes, Allen and Gowdy.

At Philadelphia—In the biggest-scoring game of the major league season, Cincinnati defeated Philadelphia today 19 to 9. Cincinnati drove Mayer and Oeschger off the rubber in the second inning, during which nine runs were made on seven hits including a home run by Thorpe, two errors and two stolen bases. The Reds also kept up their hitting after Pittery went in to pitch. Score: Cincinnati 192 140 020—19 19 1
Philadelphia 000 200 160—9 12 8
Batteries—Ring, Wingo and Clarke; Mayer, Oeschger, Pittery, Adams and Killifer.

At Brooklyn—Pfeffer pitched shut-out ball today, and Brooklyn defeated Pittsburgh 6 to 0. All the champions' runs were earned. Hickman making a home run with two men on bases in the third inning. Pittsburgh threatened Pfeffer only in the fifth, but a sensational one-handed stop by Cushman saved the score. Pittsburgh 000 000 000—0 5 1
Brooklyn 003 110 011—6 10 0
Batteries—Grimes, Mamaux and Fischer; Pfeffer and Miller.

LES DARCY DEAD FROM PNEUMONIA

Death Followed Shortly After His Enlistment in the Aviation Corps

A CHECKERED CAREER
Was That of the Young Australian Middleweight Champion

Memphis, Tenn., May 24.—Les Darcy, the Australian pugilist, died at a hospital here this afternoon from pneumonia. He had been ill more than a month. Darcy died about 1:45 o'clock. Manager Gilmore and Trainer Hawkins were at the bedside. Gilmore immediately sent a cablegram to the dead man's mother in Australia, and the body will be held here pending instructions from there.

Darcy had enlisted in the Aviation Reserve Corps here shortly before he was taken ill. At that time he was pronounced by Capt. Christie, officer in charge of the corps, as the most perfect specimen of manhood that had applied for enlistment in the corps.

Les Darcy arrived in this country on the tank steamer Cushing Dec. 23rd last year. He was met by Tex Hückard, the boxing promoter, who was then making arrangements for the Australian middleweight champion to meet Georges Carpentier, the French heavyweight champion, in a fight round bout at the Madison Square Garden.

This, as well as several other matches in which Darcy was to have been a principal, had to be abandoned. In the first place, the French champion declined to leave France while the war was in progress. Then there were rumors to the effect that Darcy had left Australia surreptitiously to avoid joining the army, and Governor Whitman issued an edict forbidding the Australian champion to appear in any sports contest in the State of New York. Meanwhile other bouts were being promoted between Darcy and prominent light-weights and middleweight American boxers, but none of these materialized.

In Ohio and Louisiana the Governor followed the lead taken by Governor Whitman and declared that Darcy should not be allowed to fight on account of the way in which he left Australia.

Darcy never appeared in a real ring contest in this country, and the only opportunity he had to show his ability and cleverness was when he went on a brief theatrical tour giving boxing exhibitions.

Capt. Wm. A. Bishop, Royal Flying Corps, an Owen Sound young man who attended the Royal Military College, has won the D.S.O.

PERMIT NEEDED TO LEAVE CANADA

Action Taken by Government to Prevent Evasion of Military Duty

PUNISHMENT IS HEAVY

Ottawa, May 25.—Under an order-in-Council, effective to-day from coast to coast, it is illegal under heavy penalty for any male person within the ages 18 and 45 years inclusive, ordinarily resident in Canada, to leave or attempt to leave the country for any purpose without the written permission of a Canadian immigration inspector or other person authorized to grant such permission, who must be fully satisfied by sworn declaration that the intended departure is not with the object of avoiding liability to be called upon to render military or other service "which might conduce towards the success of his Majesty and his allies in the present prevailing war."

Violation of the regulation is punishable by a fine not exceeding $2,500 or imprisonment not exceeding five years, or both fine and imprisonment.

The order applies to every male person within the ages specified, save members of military or naval forces on duty or members of crews of boats, trains, ferries, street cars, etc., playing between points within and without Canada, when actually in the performance of their duties as members of such crews.

To Obtain Permit. It is of the greatest importance for anyone desiring to temporarily absent himself from Canada for a legitimate purpose to familiarize himself with the regulations, which are explained in the official announcement. To obtain a permit it is necessary to make application on a printed form obtainable from any postmaster or railway ticket agent. The forms must be filled out in duplicate. Formal permission to leave the country, if granted by the immigration inspector, is inscribed on the duplicate, which is then retained by the applicant and must be kept on his person for production on the demand of any immigration official.

The information called for on the application schedule is: Name and address. Date of birth. Nationality and length of residence at present address. Names and addresses of four persons for reference as to identification. Destination and reasons for desiring to leave Canada. Expected length of absence. Height, weight, color of eyes and hair. Occupation. Each schedule must have attached thereto a photograph that is a good likeness of the applicant. The declarations must be signed by the applicant and sworn to by him before a notary public, justice of the peace or commissioner. Applications must be signed by a sponsor, who must be a bank manager, chief of police, clergyman or Dominion Government official, who must state how long he has known the applicant, that he recognizes the photograph as a good likeness, and that he believes the statements in the information are correct.

Some Special Provisions. There will be special provision made for people living on the border in such places as Windsor, who daily cross to work in places in the United States like Detroit. Commercial travellers may have their certificates endorsed so that they will not have to secure a fresh permit for each of their frequent trips. The order in Council is now operative, but for the first few days officials will be allowed to exercise some discretion. After a few days the provisions of the order will be rigidly enforced.

THE YANKS SHUT OUT
White Sox Defeated Senators in 12-Frame Encounter

Cleveland, May 25.—Cleveland opened its series with New York by shutting out the visitors by 2 to 0. Covalesski held New York to 4 hits, two of which were made with two out in the ninth. Maise, New York second baseman, made his first error in 20 games, making a wild throw on his one hundredth chance. The score: Cleveland 000000000—2 4 2
New York 000000000—0 4 2
Cleveland 00001001X—2 7 1
Batteries, Dumont and Henry; Covalesski and O'Neill.

Dumont's wild pitch in the 12th inning enabled Chicago to shut out Washington yesterday and win the second straight game by 1 to 0. Jackson opened the 12th inning with a single and went to second on Felsch's sacrifice. With Gandil at bat, Dumont cut loose with a wild one, and before Henry could recover the ball Jackson raced home from second with the winning run. The score: Washington 000000000—0 11 0
Chicago 000000000001—1 8 2

CANADIAN SOLDIER'S LETTER

Says Dr. Cassell's Tablets Have Kept Him Fit Through Two Years

Sapper A. Hartley, of the A Company, Canadian Engineers, whose home address is 906, Trillium-street, London, Ontario, is one of many who have written in praise of Dr. Cassell's Tablets. He says: "As a constant user of Dr. Cassell's Tablets, I would like to add my testimony to their value. I used them when I was in the South African War, and, finding the benefit of them there, have taken them since whenever I felt rundown. I always recommend them, for I know that they do all that is claimed for them. In my opinion they are the best tonic anyone can take for loss of appetite, poorness of the blood, or general weakness of the system."

A free sample of Dr. Cassell's Tablets will be sent to you on receipt of 5 cents for mailing and packing. Address: Harold F. Ritchie & Co., Ltd., 10 McLean St., Toronto.

Dr. Cassell's Tablets are the surest home remedy for Dyspepsia, Kidney Trouble, Sleeplessness, Anaemia, Nervous Anaemia, Nerve Paralysis, Palpitation, and Weakness in children. Specially valuable for nursing mothers and during the critical periods of life. Sold by druggists and storekeepers throughout Canada. Prices: One tube, 50 cents; six tubes for the price of five. Beware of imitations sold by druggists and storekeepers. The composition of Dr. Cassell's Tablets is known only to the proprietors, and no imitation can ever be the same.

Sole Proprietors: Dr. Cassell's Co., Ltd., Manchester, Eng.

Kitcheners farmers explain the increase in the price of eggs in a week from 35 to 45 cents a dozen by saying cold storage firms are offering as high as 47c.

Philadelphia defeated Detroit in a game marked by listless playing by 3 to 2 yesterday. Noyes, although giving nine bases on balls, pitched well with the bases occupied. Detroit had 14 men left on bases. The score: Philadelphia 201000000—3 7 0
Detroit 010100000—2 9 1
Batteries, Noyes and Schanz; Ehukke, Cunningham and Spencer.

At St. Louis
Ruth's trip followed by Davenport's wild pitch in the 7th enabled Boston to win from St. Louis yesterday by 4 to 3. Hooper's triple and Janvrin's sacrifice fly gave Boston a run in the first. In the fourth, three successive singles and one out gave the visitors two more. St. Louis got one in the second on Severoid's double and Lavan's single. In the fourth, a base on balls, a triple by Rumlner and a single by Jacobson tied the score. Score: Boston 100200100—4 7 1 St. Louis 010200000—3 8 1

BEAN BALL PENALIZED

Expulsion Follows Its Use, Decision of National Commission

Chicago, May 25.—Pitchers convicted of using "bean ball," a highly dangerous ball thrown directly at a batter's head, will be expelled from organized baseball as the result of a ruling by the National Commission here yesterday. The ruling was not alone directed to players in the major leagues, but to every member of clubs operating under the national agreement.

The commission's ruling, as announced by Chairman August Herrmann, follows:

"It has come to the notice of the National Commission that certain pitchers are being charged with using the 'bean ball' which charges, if true, would not only be a great detriment to the game, but would result in most severe injuries to players and would be unsportsmanlike in the highest degree.

"The commission, therefore, serves notice that if a charge of this kind is presented to it at any time against any player, and after an examination thereof the same is proven it will result in the expulsion of the player or players so charged from the game."

Chairman Herrmann characterized the "bean ball" as brutal, and added that he could not force himself to believe that a pitcher would deliberately hurl a ball at a batter's head with the intention of injuring him. He declared that such a practice might result fatally. President Johnson of the American League had previously declared that a pitcher found guilty of using the ball deserved a jail sentence.

Herrmann asserted that no specific cases had enforced the ruling, but that general reports that certain pitchers were using the delivery referred to in it.

Expulsion of a player for use of the illegal ball means that he cannot enter the employ of a club operating under the national agreement for at least five years, as a petition for reinstatement would not be considered in less time.

ARRANGE SUNDAY GAMES

The commission made tentative plans to play Sunday games in six eastern cities—New York, Brooklyn, Washington, Philadelphia, Boston and Pittsburgh—the receipts to be donated to the army and navy for war relief fund. The commission suggested that the money be given to a fund for soldiers' dependents. These games, if permission for them is given, will be regularly scheduled contests, on one of the week day games, to be played on the Sunday date. Chairman Herrmann estimated that $100,000 could be raised by six Sunday games.

The commission also arranged to stir up enthusiasm at all major league games on June 5th, the date for army registration. Bands will be engaged for the occasion.

CANADIAN SOLDIER'S LETTER

Says Dr. Cassell's Tablets Have Kept Him Fit Through Two Years

Sapper A. Hartley, of the A Company, Canadian Engineers, whose home address is 906, Trillium-street, London, Ontario, is one of many who have written in praise of Dr. Cassell's Tablets. He says: "As a constant user of Dr. Cassell's Tablets, I would like to add my testimony to their value. I used them when I was in the South African War, and, finding the benefit of them there, have taken them since whenever I felt rundown. I always recommend them, for I know that they do all that is claimed for them. In my opinion they are the best tonic anyone can take for loss of appetite, poorness of the blood, or general weakness of the system."

A free sample of Dr. Cassell's Tablets will be sent to you on receipt of 5 cents for mailing and packing. Address: Harold F. Ritchie & Co., Ltd., 10 McLean St., Toronto.

Dr. Cassell's Tablets are the surest home remedy for Dyspepsia, Kidney Trouble, Sleeplessness, Anaemia, Nervous Anaemia, Nerve Paralysis, Palpitation, and Weakness in children. Specially valuable for nursing mothers and during the critical periods of life. Sold by druggists and storekeepers throughout Canada. Prices: One tube, 50 cents; six tubes for the price of five. Beware of imitations sold by druggists and storekeepers. The composition of Dr. Cassell's Tablets is known only to the proprietors, and no imitation can ever be the same.

Sole Proprietors: Dr. Cassell's Co., Ltd., Manchester, Eng.

Kitcheners farmers explain the increase in the price of eggs in a week from 35 to 45 cents a dozen by saying cold storage firms are offering as high as 47c.

Impressions Gathered Aboard a Hospital Ship

Virtues of Cheerfulness and Patience Stand Forth; Vessels a Striking Contrast to Sombre Merchantmen and Cruel Looking War Craft

To-day when the world's seaways are traversed by all kinds of mercantile craft, and any distinctive marks they show are frequently designed to hide a sinister purpose, when the "harmless necessary tramp" may be busily depositing his wares, and the respectable merchantmen suddenly uncover a formidable battery—there is one class of ships which display their identity openly to the watchers of all seas—The Hospital Ship.

Painted pure white, relieved only by a broad band of green and great crimson crosses—that daring splash of color which shows up well on a dull horizon—they form a striking contrast to sombre merchantmen and cruel looking war craft.

At night, when a girde of emerald light shines around them and ruby crosses blaze above, they become familiarly like visions of the sea. Always unmistakable, the red cross, symbol sacred to every civilized nation, proclaims their mission and ensures their safety.

The creation of a great fleet of hospital ships is the necessary result of the far-flung battle line and our world scattered empire.

Sail in All Seas

They exceed in number the total of our transports in the South African war, and ships to be met in all the seas, carrying back to the Empire's remotest confines those who have suffered in the Empire's cause.

Dedicated solely to humanity's common cause, protected by the covenant of all nations, our hospital ships may carry none but sick and wounded and those who minister to them.

No other persons may travel in them on any pretext or urgency—patients, doctors, nurses, comprise all their company in addition to seamen.

Although by terms of the Geneva Convention, Hospital Ships have full liberty to carry personnel and equipment for medical units in the field, the War Office has ordained that no person, not actually on the staff, and no article not destined for use on board, may be conveyed.

This stringent regulation is sufficient commentary on the German canard, alleging that our Red Cross ships carry combatants and munitions.

Devoid of Mystery

No mystery surrounds these ships, neutrals from every land have inspected them at all times—journalists, philanthropists, men of action, men of letters, the interested, the curious even the inquisitive have been freely given entrance. All over the neutral world are witnesses who know what our ships are like, whom they carry, and how they are managed. Curiously enough these facts are more familiar to foreigners than to our own people, with the exception of dwellers at home ports, and it is well that they should know something of hospital ships, and the peculiar sanctity attaching to them by international treaty, and should realize our strict observance of the corresponding obligations imposed.

The fleet comprises ships of varying sizes from the greatest ocean liner with deck above deck of wards and yet more wards, bewildering in number and providing more accommodation than the largest London hospitals, to the tiny converted channel ferry resembling a tender rather than a sister ship.

All alike are adapted to the special work they have to perform and to the ports they have to enter.

The larger ships, destined for voyages to eastern or Colonial ports are fitted with all the special facilities for treatment and scientific work afforded by the best equipped institutions at home—are indeed great floating hospitals with a staff for all requirements and admirable discipline.

Smaller Ships

The smaller ships making only short passages and not requiring elaborate provisions for continued treatment, are yet supplied with every requisite which experience could suggest, and are planned and fitted with the same judgment.

In the internal arrangements of the ship's good use has been made of the space, and while preserving the main divisions of the vessel as they existed, the wards are not unmanageably large, their number allowing of the necessary segregation of cases.

The most easily accessible wards are devoted to surgical and other helpless patients, both in order to minimize discomfort, and to allow of rapid removal to deck in case of emergency. Specially devised lifts, even in the small ships, contribute to the same objects.

Swing cots are provided for the more serious cases, and all beds are of the most comfortable type. Excellent food, and careful attendance and nursing are ruling principles.

It is interesting to watch the loading of a hospital ship—the train arrives, stretcher bearers are in waiting and the work begins immediately.

Handling the Patients

With the skill that only long practice can bring, the patients are lifted on to stretchers, carefully covered and carried on board, each bearing a label with name, regimental number, disease or injury and briefly the treatment. Received at the head of the gangway by the Commanding officer, they are, by his direction, carried to the ward most suitable to the nature of the case.

On the skill, method and quickness of all concerned in this process of embarkation depends, not only the comfort of the patients, but the efficiency of the service.

In the wards the patients are received by the Medical Officers in charge and Sisters, and directions as to diet and treatment are at once recorded.

During the voyage lists are prepared of all cases for special treatment, in order, on arrival, to facilitate the despatch of cases to institutions reserved for, or affording the appropriate treatment.

Other lists classify the patients in home localities, so that they may be as far as possible, sent to hospitals accessible to their friends.

The medical staffs of hospital ships are composed almost exclusively of civilian practitioners, over age for service in the field, who have joined the R.A.M.C. Among them are some better known in another sphere than in their war guise.

Of the nursing sisters it is enough to say that the standard among them is equal to that of the London hospitals.

Lessons to be Learned

Of all the lessons to be learned on a hospital ship, the most insistent is one in human nature—the splendid cheerfulness and patience of the wounded. Whatever his other qualities, there can be no question of Tommies' shinning example as a patient—it is wonderful in the field and fight, he is never so wonderful as when under the weather and "bound for Blighty."

Just as it may be said that no part of our war machine has been more perfected than the Medical service, it is equally true that no part of medical administration is better devised than this for evacuation and repatriation of the wounded—with a simplicity, a directness and a regularity reflecting the personality and genius of a directing mind.

PORK CAKE

One pound fat pork chopped fine; pour over it 1 pint boiling coffee (or water) and let it cool; stir in 1 cup molasses, 1½ teaspoonfuls soda (dissolved), 1 grated nutmeg, 1 tablespoonful cinnamon, 1 tablespoonful cloves, 3 eggs beaten with 2 cups sugar, 1 pound raisins (seeded), 1 pound currants, 1-2 pound citron cut fine and 5 cups flour. This makes 2 large loaves and is improved with age. Bake about 1 hour in a slow oven.

SIDE TALKS

COURAGE COMRADE.

It matters not how strait the gate
How charged with punishment the scroff
I am the master of my fate,
I am the captain of my soul.

—Hemley.

Everyone loves courage. Especially physical courage. There is no quality in the world that more quickly starts the quivers of admiration.

"Greater love hath no man than that he lay down his life for a friend," and he who attests his fitness for the supreme sacrifice sets the chords of all our hearts a-tingling.

Moral courage, the courage that braves the danger of ridicule and scorn instead of physical danger also has its need of admiration—not so universal but none the less precious because rarer.

The Courage That Won't Be Discouraged

But the courage that to my mind deserves the greatest admiration of all (and I fear the least) is the courage that faces adverse circumstances and disappointments and anxieties and absolutely refuses to be daunted or downhearted.

The courage that sets its teeth after each new difficulty, and then smiles.

The courage that turns its face resolutely toward the sun of hope and optimism.

The courage that consumes its own smoke.

The courage that refuses to be made sour and bitter, no matter how grievous the disappointments.

The courage that cures its own depression by cheering up someone else.

The courage that doesn't eventually give out, but no matter what happens, "keeps on keeping on."

There are times in every man's life when the hand of fate seems to be against him. He faces down one disappointment only to find another waiting for him.

It is then that the weak man or woman begins to whine in his heart if not aloud. His mouth droops at the corners and his shoulders sag and he makes acid comments on his neighbor's prosperity.

Are You the Captain of Your Soul?

But it is then that the strong man shows forth in all his strength as the man who "can smile when everything goes dead wrong."

The man who whines gains absolutely nothing by whining. He doesn't escape any hardships or disappointments. He simply robs himself of one good thing his trouble should have brought him—the proof that he is indeed "the captain of his soul."

Courage, comrade, if things are going wrong, this is your chance to show your mettle. You are the one for whom this was written. Don't whine. Don't lose your grip. Just grit your teeth and keep on keeping on. And smile.

DEPLORES LACK OF DISCIPLINE

William Muldoon, Philosopher and Ex-Wrestler, Speaks Out

SAYS U. S. LAWS WRONG

Young Ought to be Physically Trained and Developed

(From the New York Times)

William Muldoon, once champion wrestler in the ring, but now a philosopher on a hilltop, where he shows men how to wrestle with their weaknesses and the tendency of the Westchester, about the country's need of compulsory universal military training. He talked about it during the word despatch, without referring to war or Germany directly or indirectly.

Of course thousands of men know Muldoon for just what he is to-day in the seventy-second year of his perfect physical life. But unfortunately, there are others who, not knowing him at all, think of him as a sort of retired bruiser, and such is the tendency of the wrestler's reputation to overlap the staid but fruitful after years of the man who still talks seriously that a notion about a sound body, who teaches that notion as the philosophy of life and the thing which is now absolutely essential to the national life of the United States.

So just a line to offset, the mistaken bruiser idea. William Muldoon, as already intimated, is 72 years old, but there is no horse that he cannot ride till the horse is exhausted. There is nothing he cannot do in his own gymnasium or his hill farm. He does ride, as a matter of fact, and rides hard every day. He looks as you imagine a United States Senator or Cabinet officer ought to look after you have been gazing at a collection of portraits of American statesmen about the middle of the last century. That is partly due to a tremendous amount of dignity, partly to the snow-white hair brushed forward on the sides. A reddish complexion, the making of which, he has had nothing to do also suggests the old portrait of 1850 or thereabouts, and a heavy black silk cord for the poet or a wrestler-philosopher could afford to wear in these days, no doubt belongs. So does the wonderfully fine voice and the quality of English.

"It isn't that we want to fight somebody," said Muldoon, "but something, and that something is the evil that has come to this country because of its prosperity. For the sake of having a beginning, I would take the day of Mark Hanna as the starting of the trouble in its present proportions. He showed the country the way to gain vast fortunes. We have gained little else and have lost much. We have lost discipline and control of ourselves and our children. Indulgence is the rule, and the body has become allowed to become a beast."

"Harry Thaw is not typical of the American youth of to-day, simply because he has gone further than the average does when he has killed a man and has been a national spectacular disgrace. But hundreds of thousands of the young men of the country are on the Thaw road because discipline of the youth of the nation has been put into the discard, and these hundreds of thousands are just as useless to themselves and their communities as a Thaw. I do not wish merely to the dissolve sons of foolish millionaires who waste their fortunes and themselves, but also to the undisciplined

To Natives, She is More Beauty, Wit and Contrive

(By Joseph I. C. Clarke, in the New York Sun) The geisha or sinking girl western mind fills out the ideal of modern Japan.

She pours the sake with gesture into the little saucer offered to her lips, rarely it. She empties it deftly, and rinses it in a silver bowl.

Then the geisha, like the slaves in the Lupinaria, all self a pretty person, and with a phrase of repartee.

The routine of the feast is set. Course follows course after for an hour or more, each being served with great care.

DOCTRINE OF HATE PREACHED IN ALL PARTS OF GERMANY

'God Punish England' Cries the Hun in Passion of Hatred FOE MIND REVEALED Article by German Army Officer Gives an Insight

The Little War Gazette, a newspaper published by the German Army in Lille, contained in its issue of April 1, 1915, many items of interest. Chief among them was an article by a Hun named Kaden, a lieutenant-colonel of a line regiment.

'God punish England!' 'May He punish her!' This is the greeting that now passes when Germans meet. The fire of this righteous hate is all around.

How long have we wooed her closest to the point of our own self-abasement? She would none of us, so leave to her the apostles of peace, the "No War" disciples. The time has passed when we could do homage to everything English--our cousins that were of a tenor in any grand opera role.

You German people at home, feed this fire of hate. You mothers, engrave this in the heart of the babe at your breast! You thousands of teachers to whom millions of German children look up with eyes and hearts, teach hate, unquenchable hate!

Let it be incultured in your children, and it will grow like a landslide, irresistible, from generation to generation. You fathers proclaim it aloud over the billowing fields, that the tolling peasant below may hear you, that the birds of the forest may fly away with the message; into the land that echoes from German cliffs send it reverberating like the clanging of bells from tower to tower throughout the country-side.

What CARTHAGE was to ROME ENGLAND is to GERMANY. For ROME as for us it is a question of "to be or not to be." May our people find a faithful modeler like Cato.

GERMANY LEARNED RAILROAD SECRET FROM AMERICAN CIRCUS

With Celerity Teutons Shunt Troop Trains From Front to Front Over Roads Constructed Primarily For Strategic Purposes—Americans Lack Facilities For Transportation

(Utica Globe.) It may surprise you to know that one of the most effective weapons of defence that Germany developed before the war was based on American models. It may still further surprise you to learn that the Germans began to copy this design at least 30 years ago, and that we were mightily flattered when we learned about it at the time.

"The Greatest Show on Earth"—or one of the circuses that bears that lofty title—afforded food for thought when it broke into continental Europe. Over here we were so accustomed to seeing the long circus trains steal into town by the uncertain light of dawn, and to seeing the men set up the tented city, feed the care for 1,000 people and 1,000 horses, conduct a street parade, transport a menagerie, give two performances, seat thousands of people under the big tent, then strike in the tents, and creep out of town in the long, sinuous trains—all this, we say, was an old story to America, but in Europe it was a nine-days' wonder. The stupendousness of it all, and the precision and dispatch with which the work—especially the transportation—was done astounded everybody.

So it was no wonder, when the "Greatest Show on Earth" reached the German border. It was met by three elegant, precise, trim, courteous, well-trained officers of the German army, who announced to the travelling boss of the show they had come to learn how to do it. If you ever have seen a circus unload from the trains; if you ever have glimpsed with what deliberation everything is done, but with what little waste of motion and time, you know something of what met the eyes of the astonished officers.

The Efficiency of Circusdom. If you ever have been behind the red curtain of circusdom and witnessed the working of the circus and met up with the "big boss," and struck hands with the master of transportation, you know what direct, hard-hitting fellows they are, not much on frills, but standing in shirt-sleeved authority and directing operations with an eye alone to getting things done.

So when the three precise German officers clicked their heels together and made their manners to the master of transportation, they found that official to be none other than big, gruff Bill Hyatt, who could tell exactly how many inches a horse requires in a stock car and how many minutes it requires to unload the elephants. There was an intense Americanism in the directness with which the work was done that charmed these Germans.

They took copious notes, they made measurements; they timed operations; they followed the big show all over Germany, as completely lost in wonder and admiration as any boy who ever carried water for the elephant or crawled under the canvas. That is one of the secrets of German success—the scientific utilization of the railroads of the empire for military purposes. Just as the circus developed a field kitchen, which could be set up and put in operation in 20 minutes, so the German field staff adapted the idea of feeding thousands of troops on the march. Just as big Bill Hyatt had the spacing of horses and animal vans all figured out to an inch, and could transport his giraffes in such a manner as to escape the lowest tunnels on the route, so the German transportation experts began to study their problem.

The answer you know, you know how they have kept their troop trains weaving to and fro across the German empire these 30 months, like shuttles in a vast loom, dropping an army corps on the east front to-day to confound the Russians in the Masurian lake country, and whirling it back to the west front next week to reinforce the attack on Verdun. It has been the wonder of the military world, the fluidity of the German force.

But it is merely the development of the idea which they took from the American circus—the embodiment and glorification of things American.

Where Railways Are Primarily Military. With the quickness and precision of an American circus as a basis, the Germans developed a railway system for military ends which is unequalled in the world.

The American railroad is laid with the sole purpose of commerce. An American road has to have terminals. It has to have freight enough to make it pay before it is projected. The German railway needs but a strategic point to be defended to lay a line. Commerce may come or not; there may be freight to run over the line, or there may not; but the consideration is constantly in mind of affording all the military protection to the border possible. Freight is incidental.

And so 1914 found Germany intersected with lines of transportation in every direction with no regard to terminals, with no regard to commerce.

According to American notion the railroads in Germany are often with-out object. Along the borders of Flanders stretch for miles tracks which in days of peace seemed to have no reason for existence. When war came they were the highways over which artillery munitions and men were hurried to battle.

Lines for the Big Guns. The success of Germany's operations against Russia in Poland, has been largely due to the network of her railroads near the Polish boundary. For many miles the Russians were not in touch with their own borders while the armies of the central powers were being quickly moved over intersecting lines of traffic.

The Germans were able to advance so far into France because of their seizure not only of Belgian lines but of the very heart of the French North-western Railroad. But the Germans were not the only ones to utilize railways to military advantage. The wonderful defence made by the French at Verdun was largely an outcome of the efficiency of the Eastern Railroad which made it possible to convey ammunition and supplies.

In addition to the main lines there were back of the fortress scores of miles of the narrow gauge tracks built on American rails and using American engines, over which shells were moved to points where they were most needed. Here was a veritable plexus of steel, so closely interwoven that it was little hurt even when portions of it were disconnected in the fierce cannonading by the forces of the crown prince.

The successes of the British in the western theatre were in a large measure due to the rapid movement of siege guns and munitions by railroads. Some of the most formidable artillery in use by Gen. Haig is mounted on especially constructed platform cars, which are drawn over tracks ballasted to withstand the heavy impact of the firing. These ponderous cannon are often backed up by concrete works at various points when they are discharged.

Now for the lesson! Where does America stand? We are unable to move even our freight! What would we do in a pinch? The problem Germany faced is multiplied with us a thousand times. Where Germany had one mile of frontier or seaboard to defend, we have 100 miles of American railroads, but the mere transportation of 20,000 people to New Haven for a football game takes a month's preparation and causes almost nervous prostration.

Witness the trouble we had getting a few thousand troops to Mexico last summer. The Spanish-American war necessitated the carrying of troops at irregular intervals. When the soldiers began to come back from the south the railroads complained bitterly of the pressure. They asked the government to go slow, for the passage of more than 500 men a day through the big Pennsylvania terminal at Jersey City was regarded as making the "congestion of traffic imminent."

Invaders Could Beat Us to It. Under the present regime, if an army were started from the east to defend the Pacific coast against the force which was coming from Hawaii it would not be able to arrive at the sea in time to repel the invaders. A glance at the railroad map of the United States shows that there are long reaches on the Pacific and also along the Mexican border which would not be accessible for days, so far are the railroads from the boundaries and coastal lines.

Even in these times of peace our railroads are unequal to the situation. Embargoes exist against many classes of freight. The roads strain even under the burden of bringing food to our centres of population; they are hard put to deliver the fuel required to generate power for factory and workshop and to warm the dwelllings of the people. The congestion in the freight terminals of the great railroads of the United States cannot be measured in terms of statistics.

Suppose the roads had to hustle half a million troops and their equipment across the continent against time! It would paralyze them. Civilians in many cities would be near starvation.

When war breaks all civil traffic must be suspended and passenger traffic must be greatly abridged, if not discontinued. As American cities are constituted, there is none which does not feel distress if its shipments of food are interrupted, even for a day. Many of the supplies like milk are perishable and are sent every 24 hours.

According to the estimates of the New York police there are only four times' food in the metropolis. It is difficult to tell what reserves are really at hand in the storage warehouses and on the shelves of dealers, large and small.

Practical railroad men say that 48 hours' interruption of food supplies would be all that the great cities like New York, Philadelphia and Chicago could stand. Any scheme of mobilization would thus be greatly hampered by the requirements of the civil population.

In the event of war all the railroads might be taken over by the government. If not that their operations might be directed by a board of army officers and traffic executive.

There are in the country 252,000 miles of railroad track, all but 10 per cent. of which is single. The rapid transportation of food and supplies for both armies and the citizenry would require double and triple and even quadruple tracks. The railroads of the United States have in all 2,447,178 cars, an increase of half a million over what they had 10 years ago. Car shortages are due more to limited track facilities than to lack of rolling stock. The average distance each freight car is taken a day under existing conditions is 24 miles. In other words the freight cars of the country are in motion about two hours out of 24. They are shunted to sidings, held in yards, kept at the seaboard, where the owners of their contents gladly pay enormous sums

Ten Commandments For French People

The French League of Patriots is circulating the following "Ten Commandments" for war time:

- 1—Don't forget that we are at war. In your smallest expenditures never forget the interest of your country.
- 2—Economize the products necessary to the life of the country: Coal, bread, meat, vegetables, materials, leather, paper and petrol. Accept what is rationed. Ration yourself.
- 3—Hoard the products of French soil, so that your fathers, sons, husbands who shed their blood to defend you may not be deprived of them when needed.
- 4—Deprive yourself of products which France must pay abroad. Do not spend the gold reserves indispensable to victory.
- 5—Waste nothing. All waste is a crime which compromises national defense and prolongs the war.
- 6—Buy nothing but that which is needed. Do not hoard foodstuffs. This augments prices and deprives less fortunate people of things necessary for existence.
- 7—Do not travel without necessity. Understand that our trains are before all, destined for transport of troops, revictualment of populations and the needs of national production.
- 8—Do not remain inactive. According to your age and faculties work for your country. Never consume without producing. Idleness is desertion.
- 9—Accept without a murmur the privations imposed. Think of the sufferings of those who fight for you, the martyrs of French towns whose homes are devastated by the enemy.
- 10—Remember that victory belongs to those who will have to suffer a quarter of an hour longer. For France to live it is necessary that she must be victorious.

in demerage for their use as wheel-tracked throughout the country. The situation of the United States is critical. Last year there was smaller railroad construction than in any year, omitting the civil war, since 1848. In the last year there was less than 1000 miles of new railroad constructed in the United States.

As an example of the equipment required for troops the government figures show that the total number of the forces sent last summer to the Mexican border was 156,000.

For the transportation of 100,000 guardsmen the following equipment was needed for the 250 trains employed:

- 490 locomotives.
- 3,000 passenger cars.
- 2,000 stock cars.
- 1,300 box cars.
- 800 flat cars.
- 400 baggage cars.

If these cars had been combined in a single train it would have been 90 miles long. The troops were carried from 608 to 2,916 miles, for many of them were sent through New York and the New England States.
