Monday's Accident.

We associate ourselves unreservedly with all that the Evening Advocate said yesterday on this subject: it could have added greatly to its strictures without stating the whole case. We are glad to see another paper take this stand and refuse to let public attention to so vitally important a matter pass into the usual forgetfulness. The casual unconcern, the "laissez faire," the jog-along-anyhow spirit of this country in affairs of the gravest import almost passes belief. Here is an accident surpassing in magnitude and details of horror anything of its kind hitherto known here; yet is hard to find any evidence of the public feeling that it should have aroused. But it is not the first accident, and if its predecessors have been less costly and less terrible the fact is to be ascribed only to luck or providence, whichever we may choose to call it. Only a few days before a head-on collision occurred, the results of which were almost ludicrously slight. It was obviously due to carelessness, but we have heard of no official investigation to ascertain whose it was. In the case of the recent street car accident, public concern was so far aroused that the most distinct and specific recommendations were made for the avoidance of a repetition. So far more of them, or only the very least, has been adopted, nor is likely to be until a repetition does occur and serious loss of life compels a reform that should have been made long ago.

What protection does the travelling public enjoy under these circumstances? In this case the fullest possible inquiry should have been held on the spot and at the earliest possible moment. Instead, the official whose duty it is to hold it is despatched to the scene in the most perfunctory manner, as if in the performance of a necessary but disagreeable duty, to arrive a full two days after the occurrence. If it is impossible to discover the primary cause of the accident because all the evidence had then been removed, we shall have only the Government to blame; and the train hands may rest under suspicion that it was due to someone's neglect, though nobody believes this to be the case. But whatever the cause of the derailment of the car, the cause of the awful holocaust which followed cannot be disputed. The report which will be made will of course deal with this. The report must be published in full before it is stowed away in the usual Government pigeon holes. If it does not treat as it should the great dangers to which travellers are daily exposed, and of which very familiarity with them has bred contempt, we shall know how to supplement it. We often complain querulously ourselves that this country is backward. If we wish to know the reason, we have only to compare the proceedings that follow events like this in any other country with those adopted in this case here. The comparison will be found more eloquent than columns of explanation.

You'll enjoy the fun at the Valentine Sociable in Presbyterian Hall, Tuesday, Feb. 13th. A good Concert, Tea and other attractions. Tickets include Tea and Concert, 25c.—Feb 9, 21, f.m.

Curlers' Charity Day Programme.

Charity Day at the Curling Rink next Wednesday, the 14th inst., promises to beat all previous records and the Curlers are determined to do all they can, with the assistance of the Lady Curlers, to make it the very best. The cause is a good one—to help the deserving poor of the City—and we would ask the citizens to keep the day open and to witness the matches.

Tea will be served in the morning and afternoon for the small charge of 20c. and the very best home-made candy will be offered for sale. The programme is a unique one. See the Curling Bishop on the tee surrounded by his children, in the costume match, from 4 to 6. This match is in charge of Messrs. E. W. and John Taylor.

Another of the famous matches is the East vs. West. This will prove a very interesting Bospiel and excellent play is being looked for.

The grand auction at night, commencing at 9.30, presided over by the genial P. C. O'Driscoll, the people's auctioneer, who will make every effort to make this part of the proceedings surpass all other years, and he can do it. The articles he will offer are numerous, a grand assortment of everything and for every cent spent equal value will be received, so that purchasers will go home feeling happy, having spent their money, getting value and doing good unto others; there will be no disappointment. Now what shall we say about the donors of these prizes? The Secretary says they are men of the stamp that Newfoundland feels proud of, and that they are only playing the game and their reward is sure. Thank you gentlemen.

Another famous match will be the 2 to 4 match, Johns vs. Williams. The Williams' claim "never having been defeated," it is now up to the Johns to change the record.

The three Brigade Bands will be in attendance, morning, afternoon and night, a voluntary contribution, and for which the Charity Day Committee will ever be grateful.

The losers pay $1.00 and winners 50c. or more in each match. All is wanted is good ice and good patronage by the citizens.

The following is the programme as arranged, viz.—

Ayrshire Bacon and Scotch Beef Ham at ELLIS'.

Ran Away to Enlist.

A young man belonging to Bay Roberts under the age of twenty-one ran away from his home at Bay Roberts yesterday afternoon to enlist in the Newfoundland Regiment. Having no funds to pay his passage to St. John's he hid himself on the local train from Carbonear and when discovered by the conductor, told how he decided to run away against the wishes of his parents. The train official wired the Head Office of the Reid Co. who in turn communicated the facts to the police and on arrival here the young man was taken in charge by Constable P. Kelly and brought to the police station. The story he told the police was satisfactory and this morning he signed the roll at the Regimental Headquarters. In the meantime the Chief of Police wired the Constable at Bay Roberts and found that the character of the young volunteer up to yesterday was good. We have been asked to state that Corporal Hackett was at the station last night to meet the train and that the report of a morning contemporary to the contrary was not correct.

What a Gas Range Means for You, Mrs. Housekeeper.

The gas range is a muscle saver and a step saver. Think of the many tons of coal you used in that coal range, and how you have had to handle it all twice; first, carrying it up out of the cellar; then, from the kitchen to the ash barrel. No more need to wipe away; no more ashes to cart away; no more wood to fetch; no more coal dust; no more smoke and no more reason why the kitchen cannot be kept as clean and as orderly as the parlor. The gas range means just this.

Saves 50 Per Cent. of Kitchen Care.

Half of the labor in the house is caused by dust from the coal range. Every time it smokes, no matter how good the draught may be, clouds of ashes rise and settle on the furniture.

It Eliminates Hard Work.

Use a gas range and you will live better, you will play better, and you will work better because the use of the gas range eliminates the drudgery of carrying coal, ashes and the chopping of kindling, as well as the drudgery of cleaning up a lot of dirt, and, best of all, for the cook it makes it unnecessary for her to stand over a hot stove from two to three hours a day.

Enforcement of the Ashes Law

CITY ORPHANAGES NOT TO BE CHARGED.

The regular weekly meeting of the Municipal Board was held last night. A letter from Inspector General Sullivan stated that wooden beams had been used in the construction of the Imperial Oil Company's wharf shed, South Side, though he saw no strong reason why approval should be refused. He will be sent the City Engineer's report.

WHERE IS THE MOTHER

With a child who is run-down, has pale cheeks or thin blood, who will hesitate to give that child the very thing it needs to start it growing and keep it going? For over forty years the concentrated liquid food in Scott's Emulsion has been changing thinness to plumpness—changing poor blood to rich blood. There is nothing better for growing children—whether they are weak or well—than Scott's Emulsion, but see that you get the genuine Scott's.

Removing ashes, asked if all other orphanages and religious institutions would be similarly charged. On motion of Councillor Brownrigg, Vinnicombe and Mulhally it was ordered that no such fees be collected and that the one paid be refunded.

Regarding the ashes regulations, the Secretary reported that about 25 persons had paid up. People who had country residences asked that they be not charged for the full year. Request granted. The rate is 75 cents a month and when private residences are unoccupied for longer than a month, the owner will not be charged anything.

When a Lie Helps.

By RUTH CAMERON.

RUTH CAMERON

Overstatement is the greatest foe of any cause. Just as the Church member who is an over-statement on weekdays as he is pious on Sundays, does the Church member who is an over-statement within the ranks of moral training does the cause more harm than many statements on the other side.

The particular overstatement against which I am getting my guns trained is this: "A lie or a piece of sharp dealing never helped a man get on in business."

A man who gives talks on conduct made that statement to a group of young people.

To my mind that as it stands, it is an overstatement.

What Every Business Man Knows. No business man or woman can blink the fact that there are times when a lie or a piece of unfair dealing would help him get on.

Take a clerk for instance. A customer is looking at a garment. She is the kind of customer who always wants a bargain. "Is this marked down?" she asks.

The clerk knows that if she says "yes" the customer will pass on. She soothes her conscience by the thought that women who are always expecting bargains deserve to get taken in and says "Oh yes." She makes the sale and that helped her to do it.

Things like that happen every day in business.

Then They Will Distract All His Statements. Those young people are going to find it out. And then they are going to distrust other perfectly good teaching because of that overstatement.

The truth is that a lie does often help temporarily. And sometimes a good long temporary, too.

But sooner or later you are bound to get found out. And then what?

Why even when you do speak the truth you won't get credit for it. One found out he punctures your reputation for truth telling with the person who finds it out.

How The Foundation Is Built. On the other hand every time you make a hard sacrifice of temporary advantage to be square you are putting a stone into the best kind of foundation for the best kind of success.

Incidentally you are also giving yourself a right to respect yourself. I haven't said anything about that because I wanted to fight the devil with fire—the desire for success. But when you get old enough to begin to realize that the material things aren't the realities of life you'll get a glimpse of how tremendously much that right may mean.

And here's hoping you have it.

A Paris Chemist Has Discovered How to Grow Hair.

In Paris the ladies have entirely abandoned wearing hats, which is entirely to the good. It has been proven that Henna leaves contain the ingredients that will positively grow hair. That they contain this long-sought-for article is proven every day.

The French are now placing on the market a preparation containing the extract from Henna leaves, which is having a phenomenal sale.

This preparation is called SALVIA and is being sold with a guarantee to cure dandruff and to grow hair in abundance. Being daintily perfumed, SALVIA makes a most pleasant dressing, and is sold by your druggist. A large, generous bottle can be purchased for 50 cents.

Everyday Etiquette.

"Supposing my name was Sarah James but my friends all call me Sadie, should my name be engraved on my visiting cards as Sarah James or Sadie?" asked Sadie.

"A certain degree of formality should be observed in the engraving on a visiting card. Your correct name is preferable to that used by your intimate friends," answered her aunt.

Newfoundlanders Wonderful Chaps.

A DESTROYER CAPTAIN'S TESTIMONY.

The London "Daily Mail" of January 8th, has an article: "Out in the Dover Patrol" by its special correspondent, in which, incidentally, the Captain of the Destroyer in which he was permitted to observe the heroic work of the "mosquito fleet," bore eloquent testimony to the kind of men our naval reservists are and the kind of work so many of them are engaged in. Dr. Grenfell, we believe, is authority for the statement that fifteen hundred Newfoundlanders, who would ordinarily have been engaged in fishing for cod in their home waters, are now fishing for mines in the North Sea. And here is what a naval officer of that wonderful and ceaseless patrol says of our boys and their courage and seamanship:

"With lights out and everything battened down we were cutting through the darkness over a heavy sea with the Cherub alone (and himself invisible) to watch over us, and a hundred hidden dangers encircling us. Before night had shut her black wings over us we had met many ships riding drunkenly in the swell, with such a sickening roll to them that you could see every inch of their sloopy decks with furred spectres of men hanging on at impossible angles, everything awash in superlative discomfort and drench."

"They're the Newfoundlanders," said the captain, as the Mary Mother tossed by like a ridiculous cork and the arms of her semaphore waved and wagged comically. "God-fishermen from the Banks—wonderful chaps—picked to stand anything! They've got their net out and their gropers down now. All of a sudden the net strains and tautens, and the Lord only knows they don't—what they've hooked. Maybe it's a submarine (you never know)—maybe one of Fritz's Christmas plum-puddings, full of high-explosive plums—maybe one of our own ditto—or maybe nothing more than a big fish. The floor of this bit of sea is strewn with all sorts of funny things. Sets you thinking hard when you scoop some of 'em up—a bit of one of Julius Caesar's fast battle-cruisers, perhaps, or something chucked overboard by Francis Drake, or a petrified relic of the Armada, or anything!"

Keep Writing to the Boys!

B. E. F., 151117.

Dear Editor,—I am enclosing a clipping from "Blighty" in answer to Dan Delmar's reminder to Tommy. If the folk at home are glad to hear from their boys at the front, they should realize the pleasure it gives a lonely soldier to get a budget of mail, and the disappointment if nothing comes for him.

Yours, etc., T. N. Wives and sweethearts do not fail. Keep writing something all the time! Let Thomas have his mail. SAPPER RACKHAM.

What does Tommy prize the most On desert, hill, or vale; His thoughts by day, his dreams by night? "When's the bloomin' mail?"

The hospital patient brightens up And does not look so pale; The whistler's travelled through the ward, "Here's Sister wid the mail."

The youngsters rush in from their sports, Old soldiers leave their ale. What miracle has there been worked? Some one's shouted "Mail!"

Fathers, mothers, sisters, pals, Wives and sweethearts do not fail. Keep writing something all the time; Let Thomas have his mail. SAPPER RACKHAM.

Your Boys and Girls.

For a week only nurse gives the new born baby his sponge bath while lying on the lap. After that he is well and strong, and may be bathed in a tub. This tub must be very carefully cleaned before being used for this purpose. The skin of the new born babe is very tender and infection is always at hand. If the family tub is used it must be scrubbed very thoroughly before each bath.

Doctors say that bad cases of boils can be traced to an infected tub. There are women who love their babies, yet are so thoughtless as to leave diapers soaking in the bath tub, where, after superficial rinsing off with warm water, baby is bathed. Diapers and all of baby's clothing should be soaked and washed in separate utensils, never in the bath tub.

ROUGH WEATHER.

The wind is yell-ing around my dwelling, its voice is loud and shrill; it slams the casement, from roof to basement it shakes each joist and sill. The hearth is blazing, where I sit hating my good old trusty lyre, most verses making, while ditty baring my shins before the fire. Roll on, rough weather, and bust your tether, the time for you is ripe! With books around me, can cold confound me? Oh, not on your tin type! When winds are speding I like my reading more than at other times; when storms are roaring you see me poring o'er stately prose and rhymes. Before the heater I rock and teeter, and study Bertha lay, serene, contented—oh, who invented the wild, wild winter day? Perhaps some duffer out doors may suffer, and cause the blindest blanked storm, while I'm perusing my tomes amusing, so snug, secure and warm. Such thoughts are silly; if he is chilly, he can't charge that to me; he hadn't order—I gave a quarter last week to charity!

Another Supporter Calls for Sir R. Bond.

WANTS SIR ROBERT TO LEAD THE PARTY.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,—In previous issues I notice some letters from Liberals who are anxious to see Sir Robert Bond take a lead in politics. I agree with previous writers. All to-day who are anxious to see the control of Government put in the hands of a trustworthy man should endeavour to get Sir Robert Bond to lead a party. In Newfoundland, to-day we are up against the high prices of foodstuffs; who are responsible to a great extent in rising prices? It is certainly clear to every one that the business men are playing a big part; how they are doing so and prove such is the case I will in a future letter. Let us consider who the present Government are made up of and the parties who they are surrounded with, and then let us ask ourselves will the present Government make laws to clash with business interests? No, Mr. Editor and people; Capital and Consumer will never be on equal terms, it must clash. So the Government who has a leader who is influenced by his colleagues at will can be a proper Government. Sir Robert Bond has been criticised by a strong supporter of the present Government as one who would not give way to his colleagues. This is the man we want, who has high ideals and who is not afraid to stand up for them. No greater praise to any man could that person have given Sir Robert Bond.

Last Night's Carnival a Great Success.

Last night's carnival at the Prince's Rink attracted many spectators and about 250 skaters, and the scene presented by the vari-coloured costumes, the bright lights and display of hunting was the prettiest seen in the rink for many years. The music for the evening was kindly furnished by the C. C. C. band, which added much to the enjoyment of the evening. The costumes varied greatly in originality and design. The gentlemen's prize was won by Private Errol Munn, whose costume was a huge shell on which was inscribed "Iron Rations for Germany" and "Made in England." The ladies' prize was awarded to Miss Gwendolyn Munn as the "Victory Loan," representing a money bag of exceptionally large size. A feature of the evening was the ladies' skating race, which was run off in two heats. The winner of the first heat was Miss Coultas, with Miss French second; and in the second heat Miss Elsie Crowley and Miss Long. Misses Coultas and Crowley were awarded a watch and bottle of perfume respectively and the others a box of chocolates. Refreshments were served by the ladies and the total receipts were about $350, which will be devoted to the Presentation Convent Building Fund.

Next of kin, Father, John, Heart's Content, T.B. Clement Yetman. Next of kin, Mother, Selma, Heart's Content, C.B. Both men were proceeding to Newfoundland on leave.

Presentation.

Last evening four representatives of the Sanitary Dept. called on Mr. Thos. Clancy at his residence, on Hayward Ave., and presented him with an address and also with a handsome Morris Chair with a silver shield bearing the following inscription:—From the employees of the Sanitary Department, Feb. 8th, 1917. Mr. Clancy has been pensioned since the beginning of the year and the men who had worked under him for over thirty years did not forget him and his many acts of kindness to them. He was glad to see them once again and thanked them one and all for the handsome present and kind thoughts and wishes of the men. The chair was specially designed and built at Pope's Furniture Factory. Below is a copy of the Address and the names of those who donated towards the gift:

ADDRESS To Mr. Thomas Clancy, February 8th, 1917.

Dear Sir,—It is with pleasure mingled with regret that we avail of this opportunity to express the esteem and respect in which you were held by every man working under you. As Yard Boss your advice always proved to be for our best interest.

We, therefore, ask you to accept this humble expression of our feelings together with the accompanying present as something to remind you in years to come of old friends and friendship.

Signed on behalf of self and fellow-workers,

Night School Opens.

The free night school for men and boys opened at the T. A. Armoury last night, under the direction of Rev. Dr. Greene, who was present, cordially welcomed the pupils, explained the ambition and object of the school and thanked President Ellis, of the T. A. & H. Society, for the use of the Armoury. Rev. Bro. Ryan and Dr. Burke made encouraging speeches to the pupils.

Mother! Don't Take Chances If Child's Tongue Is Coated

If cross, feverish, sick, bilious, clean little liver and bowels.

A laxative to-day saves a sick child to-morrow. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, which become clogged up with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour. Look at the tongue, Mother! If coated, or your child is listless, cross, feverish, breath bad, restless, doesn't eat, heartily, full of cold or has sore throat or any other children's ailment, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," then don't worry, because it is perfectly harmless, and in a few hours all this constipation, sour bile and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. A thorough "inside cleansing" is oftentimes all that is necessary. It should be the first treatment given in any sickness.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

Buttons From Beer

Yeast Used for Manufacture of Articles.

The spent yeast which has been used for brewing purposes contains a large amount of albumen, a valuable foodstuff. Some of this yeast is used for baking and for the manufacture of soap tablets and fodder, but a large quantity has always been wasted.

Owing to its plastic nature yeast may be moulded into all sorts of shapes, but until recently its dirty grey-brown color prevented its being put to any artistic use.

After many experiments it was found possible to dye it and grain it, and now a variety of articles—which include buttons, door-bell plates, knife handles, and vases—are made from this homely substance. And one of the good qualities of yeast is its cheapness.—P.W.

AT THE CRESCENT.

The daring Helen Gibson features in "The Broken Brake," a thrilling episode of the "Hazards of Helen" at the Crescent Picture Palace to-day. Plump and Runt in "The Hungry Hearts," a Vim comedy. Claire McDowell and Harry Carey in "As It Happened," a western drama. "The Losing Fight," a strong Sellig production and a lively Kalem Comedy, "A Romance a La Carte." Professor McCarthy plays a splendid program of music for this great week-end variety show. Send the children to the great big Saturday matinee; always a good show at the Crescent.

INFECTIOUS DISEASE. Four cases of diphtheria were reported in the city during last week. There are now undergoing treatment at the Fever Hospital 19 cases of diphtheria and 9 of scarlet fever. Several deaths have occurred at Lamaline as a result of the acute outbreak of measles there.

TO-DAY'S Messages.

10.30 A.M.

A JUST DEMAND.

LONDON, To-day. At a meeting of the Nationalist party held in the Commons to-day, it was agreed that John Redmond, Nationalist Leader, should ask the Government Leader of the House to grant an early day for the discussion of the following motion: "That with a view to strengthening the hands of the Allies and achieving recognition of the equal rights of small nations and of the principle of Nationalities against the opposite German principle of Military Domination and Government without the consent of the governed, it is essential, without further delay to confer on Ireland the free institutions long promised her."

PANAMA SUPPORTS U.S.A.

PANAMA, To-day. The Panama Foreign Office has replied to President Wilson's note suggesting that all neutrals sever diplomatic relations with Germany, and has endorsed the stand taken by the President and offers co-operation.

URUGUAY FLOUTS GERMAN.

MONTE VIDEO, To-day. The Uruguayan Government has rejected the German note on submarine warfare according to an official statement, declares that such a measure denotes the rejection of the rights of neutrals which Chile cannot accept, because contrary to the principles which have been for so long held sacred, for the benefit of belligerent foreign countries. The acceptance by Chile of the measure taken would divert her from the line of strict neutrality followed during the war. As a consequence Chile has reserved for herself liberty of action to protect her rights in the event of any hostile act against her interests.

SAFETY FIRST.

STOCKHOLM, To-day. The Swedish Government rejects President Wilson's suggestion that other neutral countries join with the United States in severing diplomatic relations with Germany and declares its intention to follow strictest neutrality so long as it is possible.

CHILE REJECTS THE NOTE.

SANTIAGO, Chile, To-day. The reply of the Chilean Government to the German note on submarine warfare according to an official statement, declares that such a measure denotes the rejection of the rights of neutrals which Chile cannot accept, because contrary to the principles which have been for so long held sacred, for the benefit of belligerent foreign countries. The acceptance by Chile of the measure taken would divert her from the line of strict neutrality followed during the war. As a consequence Chile has reserved for herself liberty of action to protect her rights in the event of any hostile act against her interests.

NOTHING KNOWN RE JAS. GERARD.

LONDON, To-day. Nothing thus far has been received here direct from Berlin with reference to the alleged detention of Jas. W. Gerard, the retiring American Ambassador to Germany and other Americans. It seems probable that American paper correspondents are not being allowed to telegraph anything more definite than that contained in the Associated Press dispatch on Wednesday, saying that Gerard had received his passport and did not know definitely when he would depart, although he had decided, on the route by way of Switzerland. No replies have been received here to the inquiries which have been made concerning Gerard.

CONDESNING!

MADRID, To-day. A Madrid despatch to the Petit Journal says that the German Government has announced that it grants a further delay of forty-eight hours for neutral ships at sea to regain neutral ports.

FURTHER VOTES OF CREDIT.

LONDON, To-day. The Parliamentary papers to-day announce that the Government will ask a supplemental vote of credit of £200,000,000 for war expenses to March 31, and also a vote of credit of £250,000,000 as a first instalment of amount required for the year ending March, 1918. The Government will introduce a bill in the House of Commons on Monday for the suspension of Grand Juries during the remainder of the war.

2.00 P.M.

GERARD TO LEAVE SATURDAY.

BERLIN, To-day. Gerard and party probably will leave Berlin on Saturday evening, although the date has not been settled definitely. It is expected they will travel by way of Switzerland.

IT IS TO TREMBLE!

THE BUTTON SHOE.

The button shoe is a popular article of dress which is harder to get on and off than a lace evening gown with forty-two hooks and eyes. The inventor of the button shoe has never been discovered, but if he is ever found he will have one of the most abrupt and successful demises on record. Until the button shoe was brought out a man could dress in the morning while his wife was getting the kitchen fire started, and by the time she had lugged in two or three pails of coal and had shoveled the snow off the front walk he would be ready to sit down to breakfast and cause a lofty pile of wheat cakes to succumb in a heap. This was because men wore the good old Congress shoe, which could be put on without calling in a plumber.

With the advent of the button shoe, however, every man who owned a pair found it required more time to make his toilet than a June bride. It is a peculiar fact that a pair of new button shoes, which fitted perfectly down at the store, will begin to shrink as soon as they are exposed to the outdoor air. When the owner tries to squeeze into them the next morning he will be greeted by three or four sickening explosions, caused by the buttons flying off and rolling under the chiffonier. The buttons are then put back on by a machine which locates them in a new spot, where they can bite a hole in the owner's ankle at every step.

After the button shoe had been on the market long enough to expose its treacherous character some budding genius patented the lace shoe, which is about as easy to put together as a gasoline engine. A nimble woman can take a pair of high lace shoes immediately after the dinner hour and by working rapidly with the assistance of a capable maid can have them fully assembled in time for the theatre, unless she breaks a lace. Shoes lace never break, however, until there is nothing in the house that looks like one except the clothesline or the stores have been closed for the week end.

Every Wage Earner Should Answer Question For Himself.

WASHINGTON, To-day.

Preliminary reports before the State Department to-day on the sinking of merchant vessels without warning by German submarines contained evidence of a technical violation of American rights, yet the Government was holding its peace until some outrage presenting a more clear cut issue would compel it to act. Information on all ships torpedoed is being collected and it was stated officially that up to to-day the situation had not changed.

GOOD RIDDANCE.

BERNE, To-day. The German Government was officially informed to-day by the Spanish Ambassador that Von Bernstorff will sail for Halifax on Monday.

centuries," says Lord Bryce, "will be surprised that the Allied Powers have declared their purpose to put an end to the rule of the Turk in Europe, and still less will be dissent from the determination to deliver the Christian population of what is called the Turkish Empire, whether in Asia or in Europe, from the Government which during those five centuries has done nothing but oppress them.

"These changes are, indeed, long overdue. They ought to have come more than a century ago, because it had then already become manifest that the Turk was hopelessly unfit to govern, with an approach to justice, subject races of a different religion.

"Turkish rule ought to be ended in Europe because, even in that small part of it which the Sultan still holds, it is an alien power which has in that region been and is now committing a massacre, slaughtering or driving from their homes, the Christian populations of Greek or Bulgarian stock. It ought to be turned out of the western coast regions of Asia Minor for a like reason. The people there are largely, perhaps mostly, Greek-speaking Christians. So ought it to be turned out of Armenia and Cilicia and Syria, where with the last two years it has been destroying its Christian subjects, the most peaceful and industrious and intelligent part of the population.

"If the Turkish Sultan, is to be left to be at all it may, with the least injury to the world, be suffered to exist in Central and Northern Asia Minor. There the population is mainly Mussulman, and there are comparatively few Christians, and there only in the cities, to suffer from its misgovernment. Even there one would be sorry for its subjects, Mussulman as well as Christian, but the weak Turkish state, such as it would then be, could not venture on the crimes of which it had been guilty when it was comparatively strong.

"That the faults of the Turkish Government are incurable has been most clearly shown by the fact that the Young Turks gave up gained power when they had deposed Abdul Hamid have surpassed even that monster of cruelty in their slaughter of unoffending Armenians. The Committee of Union and Progress began by promising equal rights to all races and faiths. This was 'union.' It proceeded forthwith not only to expel the Greek-speaking inhabitants of Western Asia Minor, and to exterminate the Armenians, but to attempt to 'Turkify the Albanians, Moslems as well as Christians, and to prescribe their language."

"The Moslem peasant of Asia Minor is an honest, kindly fellow, when not roused by fanaticism, but the Turk as a governing power, is irreclaimable, and the Allied Powers would have been false to all the principles of right and humanity, for which they are fighting, if they had not proclaimed that no Turkish Government shall hereafter be permitted to tyrannize over the subjects of another faith."

Must Put an end to Turkish Rule in Europe

Lord Bryce Says the Allied Powers Would Have Been False to All Principles of Right and Humanity, for Which They Demanded the Expulsion of the Turks.

LONDON, January 26.—The demand for the expulsion of the Turk from Europe, included among the terms in the Allied note, in reply to President Wilson, is justified by Lord Bryce, in his views on that phase of the Entente reply, which were given to the Associated Press to-day.

Concerning Turkey Lord Bryce's views were formulated before the peace notes were exchanged and he appears in about a month for authorized publication in London and New York under Government auspices. Owing to their direct bearing upon the terms regarding Turkey laid down by the Allies, he has now made them available to the Associated Press.

PLEASING PLAY AT ROSSLEYS.

One of the prettiest little stories of domestic life was enacted at Rossley's British Theatre last night when "Questions" was presented by Mr. Edmund Fox and Miss Carolyn Carr assisted by Little Miss Patricia Costello. Through the machinations of a dandy scoundrel a happy home is in danger of being broken up but the little girl, Cicely, by her incessant questioning, exposes the plot and all ends happily. Regular patrons of the British Theatre have learned to expect something artistic and unusual in the plays put on by Fox and Carr and they were not disappointed last night. Little Patricia Costello played her part like an "old stager" and for a child of her years really gave a remarkable performance. The picture programme was up to the usual standard of excellence and was greatly appreciated. To-night our returned soldiers and sailors will attend the performance as guests of the management.

Her landlady declared this morning that she had found Eva Boyle a quiet girl, tidy in her room and in her habits. She could say nothing against her. When she took a room in her house last September, she was asked if she had any friends who would come to see her. She replied she had one only, and when Haynes came to the house he spent the evening in her room and always left between ten and eleven o'clock.

Lovers' Quarrel. "Did they quarrel," the landlady was asked. "Well just as much as most lovers do. I did hear them having words now and again but it never amounted to much so far as I know."

The landlady then said that on Friday night last when she was putting her milk bottle out the couple were standing at the front door; he was just going home. They were quarrelling then, but she could not hear the trend of it.

From another source it was learned that she obtained the revolver several days ago and that the quarrel on Friday night was over the weapon. Haynes took it away from her but on Sunday night she had obtained possession of it again and it was found in her muff by the detectives after she was in the hospital.

Was a Waitress. Eva Boyle is believed to be an old country girl. Her landlady thinks she is Scotch. She is sturdy and well built. She was employed as a waitress in the St. Catherine Street east branch of the Imperial Hotel and for a time last fall was employed in munition work. Haynes worked in the Allis-Chalmers Billock factory at Rockfield.

On Sunday Haynes called on Eva Boyle early in the afternoon and they both left the house about supper time. They were both together in an uptown cafeteria early in the evening, but what they did between the time they left there until the shooting, took place no one knows. That they quarrelled again is thought certain by the police.

So far no ante mortem statement has been taken at the hospital. The detectives stated this morning that they had broached the subject at the court house, but owing to her confession to the police and the doctors, it had not been thought necessary. At two o'clock her condition was reported unchanged.

An inquest will be opened at the morgue to-morrow. Haynes' father identified the body there this morning but could tell nothing that would explain the shooting.

Despite the confession at the hospital the girl's story of having killed a man was not believed at first. A search for the body was instituted, however, but without success until daylight came, when it was found half buried in the snow.

South Africa's "Safe Man."

Westminster Gazette.—The disappointment that will be felt that affairs in South Africa will prevent General Botha from attending next month the Conference which is to discuss all that matters about the war and the peace to follow will be lessened by the knowledge that the Union is to be represented by General Smuts in his stead. The man who, a few brief years ago, was leading an army in the field against us has been called the "safe man of South Africa." Perhaps no finer tribute has ever been paid to Britain's policy in regard to her dependencies than that which Smuts paid in a letter to ex-General Beyers, in September, 1914, when Beyers resigned his post as Commandant-General, and, at the same time, his commission as an officer of the Union.

"You speak about duty and honor," he wrote. "My conviction is that the people of South Africa will in these dark days, when the Government as well as the people are put to the supreme test, have a clearer conception of duty and honor than is to be deducted from your letter and action. For the Dutch-speaking section in particular I cannot conceive anything more fatal and humiliating than a policy to lip loyalty in fair weather and a policy of neutrality and pro-German sentiment in the days of storm and stress." There can be no question now that his "conviction" was the right one.

MANY WITNESSES IN CIVIL ACTION.—The attention of the Central District Court was occupied the greater portion of this forenoon in the hearing of a civil action between Mr. C. "I Killed Him Because Could Not Have Him"

SAYS WOMAN NOW DYING.

Midnight Tragedy on Pine Avenue—Eva Boyle, 477 Aylmer Street, Murdered Burke Haynes, 61 River St. Verdun—Jealousy Thought to be the Motive—Think Woman Will Die.

(Montreal Star, Jan. 8.) "I loved him that's why I shot him. I knew I could not have him so I killed him. Oh, I hope I die because I know I'll go to jail."

With short gasps and labored breathing, this was the confession of Eva Boyle, on what the doctors and police believe will be her death bed at the Royal Victoria Hospital. She has a bullet wound in her left breast and the missile itself is imbedded in her lung. Her condition grows weaker hourly.

Between midnight and one o'clock this morning she shot and killed her lover, Burke Haynes, twenty-five years of age, who lived with his parents at 61 River Street, Verdun, who they were walking on Pine avenue. No one saw the murder, no one heard the report of the revolver, but from what has been learned by the detectives, the two had reached the centre of the road by the reservoir, when the girl pulled an automatic revolver from her muff, and shot Haynes through the heart. He dropped to the sidewalk and lay still. Then she turned the weapon upon herself and placing the muzzle at her breast pulled the trigger.

Alarmed at what she had done she fled by the nearest way, which was past the nurses home, to the Royal Victoria Hospital, where she confessed to the doctors that she had shot a man on the street, following a quarrel, and then had shot herself. She was immediately brought to bed, and later when Detectives Weston and Dalgrossellers were summoned to the bedside she made a confession.

Another Woman. Despite this the police are puzzled. "I knew I could not have him," she said. "Why?" asked the police and no answer came.

"Both, so far as is known, were single, and yet the girl added that during the past two or three weeks, it had been firmly impressed upon her that she could never marry him. Jealousy is declared to have been the motive. There is thought to have been another woman.

"If I cannot have you, then, no one else will," she is reported to have said to Haynes when they parted at the front door of her boarding house at 477 Aylmer Street on Friday night. A neighbor was putting her milk bottle out at 11:45 and overheard this conversation.

Eva Boyle is a woman of about 30 years of age; Haynes is five years younger. They had been keeping company since last September when she took a room in the Aylmer Street house.

Her landlady declared this morning that she had found Eva Boyle a quiet girl, tidy in her room and in her habits. She could say nothing against her. Big Temperance Meeting

At Canon Wood Hall Last Night.
Rev. Dr. Jones, Rector of St. Thomas's Parish, presided at the public meeting held in Canon Wood Hall last evening under the auspices of the St. Thomas's Bible Class.

The object of the meeting was to urge the Central Prohibition Committee to get to work and create public interest in the enforcement of the Prohibition Act. The reverend Chairman pointed out that 25,000 voters would not permit any carelessness or indifference to exist in the carrying out of the same.

Mr. H. E. Cowan in a brief address showed where the victory over rum had increased the earning power of the people and that the court records for January, 1916, showed 42 arrests for drunkenness and disorderly conduct in the city, while in January, 1917, there were only 2.

Mr. A. Soper pointed out that it was the duty of all good citizens to help the authorities to enforce the law. Those who had lost their means of livelihood through the measure should be protected against others who would carry on shebeens, etc.

The Rev. Dr. Curtis, the veteran enemy of King Alcohol, in a vigorous speech moved the resolution at the end. He regretted that so many months had been allowed to pass without some public manifestation of thankfulness for the great victory that had been won. In speaking of the appointment of the Controller, he said that the appointment, as far as he could learn, was in no way a permanent one, and that every effort should be made that the person holding this important position should be a gentleman who was in sympathy with Prohibition. He believed that nearly the whole cause of the dissatisfaction of the past weeks had been in the reckless giving out of prescriptions for intoxicating liquors by some of our medical men and other doctors. He referred also to the shebeens and patent medicines.

Mr. I. C. Morris seconded the resolution, and speaking of the vacancy in the District Court, hoped that the Government would soon see that the position was filled, so that law-breakers could be disposed of in the correct and legal manner.

After reviewing the several speeches the Chairman put the Resolution to the meeting which was carried unanimously. Rev. H. Uphill, Rev. Dr. Bond and Rev. Mr. Thomas promised their support to the vigilance committee if appointed.

The meeting closed with ringing cheers for the victory won and the singing of "God Save The King."

THE RESOLUTION.

WHEREAS after strenuous toil on the part of Temperance Workers an Act prohibiting the Importation, Manufacture and Sale of Intoxicating Liquors has been placed upon the Statute Book of Newfoundland;

AND WHEREAS on account of its character the temptation to its violation will, in the case of many, be very powerful indeed; necessitating most careful and constant watchfulness;

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that in the opinion of this meeting a vigilance Committee will be both desirable and necessary particularly in the early months of its operations;

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that it be a recommendation to the Central Prohibition Committee to meet at an early date and give to this important matter its most careful consideration with a view to the appointment of such a Committee.

Returning Soldiers.

His Excellency the Governor has received a cablegram from Major Timewell, Record Office, to the effect that the following men are proceeding to Newfoundland:
1545-Corporal Alphonse Cahill, Colonial Street.
1991-Private Frank Rowe, Trinity.
583-Private Edward Tipple, St. George's

Contestant Fainted.

During one of the Ladies' races at last night's Carnival in the Prince's Ring, Miss K. Keegan, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Keegan, fainted. She was skating a close second and when near the winning post fell heavily on the ice, as a result of over exertion. She was carried to the dressing room by the Judges of the race and recovered after being attended by Dr. Smith.

ST. JOSEPH'S CHURCH.-Building operations in connection with the new St. Joseph's Church, Hoylesdown, are going ahead with marked progress and the finishing touches are expected to be made a couple of months hence. In aid of the building fund, a concert and rancake supper will be held at the school room on Shrove Tuesday night, for which event the Pastor Dr. Kitchin and his energetic committee are preparing assiduously.
