Prisoners of War in Germany.

The following regulations, governing the regulating and despatch of parcels and money to Prisoners of War in Germany are published for the information of the public. The Newfoundland War Contingent Association is appointed by the Central Prisoners of War Committee to handle all matters appertaining to the forwarding of parcels and money to Newfoundland P. of W. in Germany.
The N. W. C. A. forward a regular supply from London to Germany as follows:—

(a) Food. Three parcels per man per fortnight containing such things as tinned meat, biscuits, milk, sugar, margarine, dripping, baked beans, carbolic soap, chocolate, cigarettes, tobacco, and a few toilet necessaries.

(b) Clothing. The following outfit is sent periodically to N. C. O's and men in Germany by the Pay and Record Office: 1 great coat, 1 jacket, 1 pair trousers, 1 cap (the foregoing is a special uniform for P. of W.), 1 pair of drawers (woollen), 1 under vest (woollen), 2 towels, 3 handkerchiefs, 1 pr.
boots.

(c) Money. It is unadvisable to send money, unless P. of W. ask for it. The amount which may be sent is Two Shillings per week for any one man. The Army Council have instructed the Central P. of W. Committee to the effect that they may not accept gifts of foodstuffs or clothing from members of the public, whether for despatch to a particular P. of W. or as a contribution to the general stock of the Association. This instruction has arisen through an arrangement with the German Authorities that all parcels forwarded should be packed and forwarded by the association.

Relatives may rest assured that everything possible is being done in London for the comfort and welfare of Prisoners of War in Germany.

Minister of Militia.

The Sound of Wedding Bells

Won After Great Perseverance!

CHAPTER XVII.

But Dulcie stands cold and reluctant. A vague, nameless fear possesses her. If it were possible she would back out of it now; but it is not possible. Sir Archie, all ardor and eagerness, has given the signal, the curtain goes up, and the third act commences.

She waits, silent and absorbed, struggling against her presentiment of evil which possesses her, until it is her time to go, then she steps upon the stage. There is a buzz of interrogation and excitement; but some one of the servants perhaps, explains how the change has come about, and the audience clap and applaud.

"Something wrong, eh?" says the duke. "Miss Dorrinmore takes the part of Julia in this act! By Jove, my dear madame, she looks more beautiful than ever!" and his opinion expressed almost aloud, finds an echo in every breast.

The scene begins, and at first Dulcie, possessed by the nameless foreboding, plays coldly and without heart, but gradually and insensibly she melts. Sir Archie is playing with her, a part he has played before—real life—and often; the ardent, passionate lover pressing his suit, and he plays it with such earnestness that Dulcie is overcome, and waxes out of herself. She forgets the audience, forgets her good resolutions, forgets everything but the scene, and, to the delight of the audience, she plays—well, as admirably as Sir Archie himself. With the usual extravagance of comedy, he makes love with fiery impetuosity; Julia is supposed to be difficult to woo, and he has to go down on his knees before he can melt her.

With something that is more than acting he plays his part, and in ardent, passionate, pleading language he presses his suit.

"I love you!" he declares, in the words of the play, which Dulcie has denounced absurd and strained; "I have loved you in quiet earnest, while another has loved you in cold half-heartedness. Julia, you cannot turn from me! I am yours utterly and entirely. Not with a half-hearted affection, but with an intense adoration, I implore you to be mine!" And he kneels at her feet and grasps her hand. It is at this moment—the moment the moment of the play—that Julia is supposed to yield, and, stooping raises him with one timid hand.

As Dulcie, following the direction, bends and extends her hand, she is conscious of a slight stir amongst the audience. Some one has entered. She cannot see beyond the glare of the footlights; but at that moment the dim foreboding seizes her, and as Sir Archie springs to his feet and embraces her, she shivers, turns cold, and actually forgets the words.

"I am yours," he whispers, promptly. "I am yours," she repeats; as he bends over her and gives her the stage kiss, she looks up and sees there amongst the audience, the face of Hugh—stern, cold, pitiless.

It is he who has entered, and he has come just in time to witness the most ardent, passionate piece of tomfoolery in this most absurd and ridiculous of plays.

She does not recall Maud's embarrassment when Edie asked her point-blank last night whether she had heard from Hugh. She is as unsuspecting as a child, and simply sits overwhelmed and fearful.

"I must explain to him how it all happened," she says. "It was all quite an accident; I could not help Miss Fairfax falling ill; I could not refuse when they asked me. Oh, if I had but said, 'No,' and stuck to it, and let them bring the whole stupid thing to an end!"

There she sits and recalls the scene, and the blush of shame arises to her cheeks. It did not seem so awful, so shameful, so—so outrageous in rehearsal; but now, as she puts herself in Hugh's place, and thinks of how it must have appeared to him; to him who had begged her not to flirt with Sir Archie, she shudders.

Every word of the absurd, high-flown scene, every caress, comes back to her and tortures her. And he had been looking on the whole while—had stood there listening to Sir Archie's passionate protestations and ardent pleadings—watching silently with that stern, grim face, while another man held her in his arms and kissed her! Another man! It would not have mattered so much if it had been any other man than this one; if it had been the foolish young lord or the beating curate, Hugh might have smiled and overlooked it, but Sir Archie, whom he distrusted; Sir Archie, whom she knew before the hot words had left his lips loved her; after his fashion, even before Hugh came.

She sits, while these thoughts and reveries run through her brain and heart, for half an hour. Time speeds by unheeded. Below they are asking for her impatiently, anxiously. She has been the heroine of the night. It is the last scene which has made the play a decided success, and it is she who made the last scene.

The duke is going about with a pleasant smile, rubbing his hands together with hearty approbation, and demanding where Miss Dorrinmore has been spirited to.

WONDERFUL TALE OF AN ACTRESS

Struggled with Sickness and Discouragement; How Relieved.

Dayville, Killisly, Conn.—"I shall be glad to have every woman know what I know now, after using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Although I am only 24 years old, I have suffered for the past eight years. I hated the doctors, for a doctor told me to give up the stage where I was playing with my husband.

I had bearing down pains, my health failed me, and I could not work on the stage, and wasn't able to tend my baby or even get around myself. I was always downhearted and discontented with the world, and only lived for the sake of my little girl. The doctor said to move to some quiet little town away from the noisy city, and I might be able to live and feel well, so I went to Dayville in November. At that time I was so sick I could not walk around, and my husband kept house and I stayed in bed. One day in January I read your advertisement in a newspaper, and I sent for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and started taking it. Within two weeks time I was a different woman, could get around, and felt so good that it was a pleasure to do my house work. I felt contented and happy, and now am the picture of health, and am tempted to return to the stage. We appreciate my health as the most precious thing on earth."—Mrs. E. L. SHERWIN, Box 88, Killisly, Conn.

She starts, and endeavors to draw back; but the play is over, the curtain drops, and the thunders of applause break out.

But she sees—hears nothing; before her, through the thick curtains she seems to see that white, stern face, with its dark, upbraiding eyes.

"Let me go!" she pants, for Sir Archie still holds her in his embrace. "Let me go! I—I—am stifling!"

But Archie's passion has reached its height when prudence is cast to the winds. She has been acting, but he has been making love in real earnest, to the delight of the audience.

"Dulcie," he murmurs, fast and furious, like the lover in the play. "I—I love you!"

"Let me go!" she pants. "Oh, what have I done. What have I done?"

CHAPTER XVII.

With that half wild cry of apprehension Dulcie breaks from Sir Archie and, leaving him motionless and dumb with dismay, hurries from the stage, and making her way—almost pushing it, in fact—through the crowd of performers, reaches her own room.

There, panting and trembling, she tears off the finery, the very sight of which is hateful to her, and flings herself into a chair.

That sad, stern face, those dark, upbraiding, almost scornful eyes, follow her even there, and she cannot shut them out, though she covers her face with her hands.

"What have I done?" she groans, with a little shudder. "Why did he look at me like that? Why has he stolen back like a thief in the night?"

It never occurred to her that he has not stolen back, that some one in the house was fully aware of his expected return, and that she has been the victim of a plot, a miserable little feminine plot that most girls would have seen through at a glance. But Dulcie, clever and bright as she is, is so incapable of such deceit and treachery as have been played upon her, that she cannot even conceive it.

She cannot picture Lucy Fairfax lying back comfortably in her easy chair, in perfect health, waiting for the working out and success of her little scheme. Dulcie would not believe any one who told her that the illness, the deathly pallor and prostration, were but pieces of acting which eclipsed all other acting of the evening.

She does not recall Maud's embarrassment when Edie asked her point-blank last night whether she had heard from Hugh. She is as unsuspecting as a child, and simply sits overwhelmed and fearful.

"I must explain to him how it all happened," she says. "It was all quite an accident; I could not help Miss Fairfax falling ill; I could not refuse when they asked me. Oh, if I had but said, 'No,' and stuck to it, and let them bring the whole stupid thing to an end!"

There she sits and recalls the scene, and the blush of shame arises to her cheeks. It did not seem so awful, so shameful, so—so outrageous in rehearsal; but now, as she puts herself in Hugh's place, and thinks of how it must have appeared to him; to him who had begged her not to flirt with Sir Archie, she shudders.

THE ENGAGEMENT. The engagement is a verbal one between two people of the opposite sex who are not sure that they can put with each other until the wedding day. It is the preliminary to a matrimonial race, and some of the results in withdrawing one of the parties in a coy and subdued manner. There are two kinds of engagements—long and short. The long engagement is a variety of which is favored by parents who would wait until the groom-elect shows disposition to forsake the parental haunts of industry. Under circumstances, if the engagement strung out long enough the prospective bridegroom is liable to be chipped diamond engagements, with which to buy cigars and become willing to forsake her father for alienation of the sections and $2,000 worth of some anguish.

The short engagement is a variety of which is favored by young people who are perfectly satisfied with each other, and are liable to result in a happy, untroubled marriage as the case which starts at the age of eighteen and terminates in the double ring ceremony thirty-five. The most successful of short engagements is that which takes place at a seashore resort, where the young man gets under headway on August 1st and dies a natural death on August 15th.

THE ENGAGEMENT.

The engagement is a verbal contract between two people of the opposite sex who are not sure that they can put up with each other until the wedding day. It is the preliminary heat in the matrimonial race, and sometimes results in withdrawing one of the entries in a coy and subdued manner.

There are two kinds of engagements—long and short. The long engagement is a wretched match favored by parents who would rather wait until the groom-elect shows a disposition to forsake the pool hall for the haunts of industry. Under such circumstances, if the engagement is strung out long enough the prospective bridegroom is liable to need the chipped diamond engagement ring with which to buy cigarette papers, and become willing to release his fiancée without asking damages from her father for alienation of the affections and $2,000 worth of mental anguish.

The short engagement is used by young people who are perfectly satisfied with each other, and is just as liable to result in a happy, rain-bow-tinted marriage as the one which starts at the age of eighteen and culminates in the double ring service at thirty-five. The most successful form of short engagement is that which takes place at a seashore resort, which gets under way on August 15th, and dies a natural death as soon as the screens are taken off the summer hotel. This arrangement is usually entirely satisfactory to both parties, as each generally has another pre-nuptial contract in cold storage at home.

Parents would rather wait until the groom-elect shows a disposition to cut out the pool hall for the haunts of industry.

The engagement was devised in the first place in order to test the durability of the affections. Sometimes the party of the first part discovers that she can do better, and returns the ring in a letter containing considerable hauteur and a few mis-spelled words. This causes the party of the second part to marry somebody who is not particular in great haste and have the wedding written up in the society column at heavy expense to the bride's father.

Remember, in planning the next birthday that it is the child's own. So, if the child wants a party more than a trip somewhere, give him a party. While you are planning what sort of a celebration will make the child most happy, do not forget that the greatest source of birthday joy is in the element of complete surprise and that the greatest secrecy should be maintained with regard to the preparations, so that nothing shall detract from the real birthday happiness.

In planning a birthday surprise do not make the mistake of giving the child too much at once, but rather spread the surprises over the day, from the little toy hidden in the child's shoes in the morning to a last token tucked under the tiny pillow at night. There are many clever schemes of spreading the joy of surprises over the whole day to give a child the sense of happiness.

"I'm a Bayman,"

"What are you said an officer to a soldier as he passed through a trench, a bomber or a grenadier." "Neither," replied the soldier, "I'm a bayman." Extract from Father Nangle's lecture.

The guns belch forth their thunder Across the sodden ground. An officer going through a trench A stalwart soldier found: "Are you a bomber or a grenadier, "Come tell me now, my boy?" "I'm neither," said the soldier, "A bayman, sir, am I."

Yes, he was but a bayman, But he had shown his grit When his King and Country called him He went forth to do his bit And well they fought and won. Some of the highest honours In this fight against the Hun.

Terra Nova owes her baymen For all the wealth she owns, Each year her large prosperity She takes it "from their bones"; She trusts unto the baymen In the sunshine and the rain, Those brave and hardy toilers Who go face the treacherous main.

And now on France's reddened soil To-day their pluck they show, At Monchy and at Guedescourt They faced and thrashed the foe, At Beaumont Hamel, Steenbeke And one hundred places more, We all have seen that baymen Came right up to the fore.

Now when life's toll is ended And we're on the other side I hope to hear St. Peter Express himself with pride To each brave hardy toiler In those words with good cheer: "Walk in, you honest baymen, There's a good place for you here." JAMES MURPHY.

ple the engagement time, for it sometimes happens that it is the only period of leisure they run up against until they get ready to celebrate the golden wedding. Many a weary housewife has looked back upon her engagement and tried to imagine what it would be like to get up in the morning without the fear of three meals a day in her heart, so let the young folks make the most of it.

If You Want Evidence

That Hemorrhoids, or Piles, Can be Completely Cured Read These Letters—Both Are Sworn Statements.

Toronto, Ont., October 22nd. Next to personal experience the sworn statement of reliable people is the strongest evidence obtainable. If you have any doubts that Dr. Chase's Ointment will positively and completely cure piles, these letters should convince you.

Mr. Samuel Parker, fruit grower, Grimsby, Ont., has made the following declaration before Mr. W. W. Kidd, Notary Public of the same place: "I do solemnly declare that I was troubled with bleeding piles and was advised to go to the hospital to have an operation performed. My wife said, 'No, get a box of Dr. Chase's Ointment.' I did so and have used it according to directions while living in Manitoba and obtained a complete cure, for I have never been troubled with piles since. I am now seventy years of age and want to recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment to all sufferers from piles. My wife has used it for itching skin and obtained complete cure."

Mr. Donald M. Campbell, Campbell's Mountain, N.S., writes: "I have used Dr. Chase's Ointment with great success for hemorrhoids or piles of fifteen years' standing. After trying all kinds of so-called pile cures, three boxes of Dr. Chase's Ointment gave me a complete cure. I have also used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and there are no others so good. You may use this letter, if you wish, for the benefit of others who may suffer as I did."

Sworn before me, Murdoch Gordon Campbell, J.P., in the County and for Inverness County.

If you would like to try Dr. Chase's Ointment at our expense, send a two-cent stamp to pay postage, and we shall mail to you a sample box free. Full size box 60 cents, at all dealers, or Edmanston, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

BY LOCAL FISHER FOLK.

Fishermen in and around St. John's are experiencing a remarkably good fall fishery, in fact one of the best ever known, according to our veteran and renowned fish-killers. In addition it is said to be the primest run of cod that supplied the local market last week. Two-handliners for four days work netted $100 between them. We know of two more pairs whose catches with the jigger yielded $45 a man for the same period. However, when the adverse conditions on the fishing grounds just now are taken into account, it will be readily admitted that the fishermen are not even well enough paid for their toil. Some mercantile firms are paying as high as $2.60 for a 'green' quintal, but many of the fishermen prefer to sell their catches at the more remunerative prices in the coves along the waterfront.

Organ Recital at the Kirk.

There was a large attendance of music lovers at the organ recital given by Mr. F. J. King after service at the Kirk last night. The programme, which consisted of the following numbers, was the best given in the city for some time:

- Organ—Fantasia in F minor, Mozart.
  - Anthem—"Unto Thee, O Lord," Mozart.
  - Organ—Pavau in A. Bernard Johnson.
  - Tenor Solo—"In Native Worth," Mr. F. Cornick Haydn.
  - Organ—Concert Rondo. Hollins.
  - Organ—Peer Gyn Suite. Grieg.
  - Anthem—"O Gladsome Light," Sullivan.
  - Organ—Overture to "William Tell," Rossini.
  - God Save the King.
- Mr. Fred Cornick added greatly to his already high reputation as a soloist. Included in the number of musical critics was a gentleman from abroad who stated he had never heard better music in much larger churches famous for their choirs and organs.

Duvelyn is combined with fur in muffs and neckpieces. Black satin and smoke gray cloth are a lovely combination. Very few are the gowns that are not made of two materials.

Some of the most cleverly cut dresses show no fastenings. Sleeves, short or long, must be simple and straight in line. Long loose-fitting waists are marked by shoestring belts. Floating panels on day gowns are lined with contrasting satin.

High fur collars appear on the straight slim autumn frocks. Evening gowns appear which are wholly of spangles and beads. A great deal of black dark plush is used to trim suits and coats. Veils are many and varied in design and manner of being worn.

Retribution.

Hats off to the French! They have written an obituary, which ought to be final, of a gentleman called Zeppelin, who died a short time ago in Germany and in doing so provided another proof of a remark made in one of his plays by Shakespeare, whom the Germans love, about the evil that men do. There may now be a feeling in the land that has the honour of owning the late lamented Count that the evil that he did has lived perhaps just a little too long after him. Apparently, however, when he left the scene of this mortal life in the blaze of triumph and popularity that followed the destruction of some half dozen of his mechanical pets, with their human freight and all, he must have left a number of them still in commission. There they had been ever since. If they weren't of much use over England and other places where people were unkind enough to shoot at them, they were certainly of none in Germany—so why not send them out again anyhow? The argument was quite sound to everyone, with the exception of those who would have to be sent with them and whose opinion didn't matter, and they made their annual expedition on Saturday night. It seems to have been quite an imposing expedition, this one. No less than a dozen of the monsters proudly rode the night and wrought terrible havoc over panic-stricken Albion. They reduced the number of Germany's foes to the extent of a widow and her children (vide to-day's messages) and, doubtless, one or two other formidable personages, and promptly sailed away again. Blatant, doubtless (for there seems to be no other explanation), by their success and the absence of a debit account, they thought to repeat the performance over France, instead of getting back to bed again in Belgium. If, on the other hand, they were moved by a fondness for French soil, it was abundantly gratified, for four, and possibly five, of their number were obligingly assisted to it by the French themselves. It is probable that their stay on French soil, now that they are there, will be indefinitely prolonged. The only remaining interest that attaches to the episode centres around the treatment that will be accorded to the crews of the airships brought down. If they were in England we know that they would be put with the other prisoners and well housed and fed, while those that happened to have been killed would be buried with full military honours. It is not certain that the French, who know them better than the English, will have quite the same sense of the recognition that should be made of their courage and chivalry. We would suggest (without any expectation that the suggestion will be acted upon) that the punishment should more nearly fit the crime, that the blackguards in question be placed in a suitable building, and that airmen should drop a certain number of bombs upon it, preferably taken, if any are left, from the cargo of the Zeppelins themselves. When a sufficient number, say twenty or so, had hit the mark, it would be interesting to obtain the impressions of such of its occupants as were able to give them of the reverse side of a Zeppelin raid. These could then be sent to the German high command with the Allies' compliments and a suggestion for their publication in Germany. The German high command, having no sense of humour, would not publish them, but that would not matter, a great deal. Nothing does, that is published or not published in Germany. But an effect might be produced on the high command themselves which would not be without a certain value.

In a Good Cause.

We direct our readers' sympathetic attention to the appeal in our issue to-day on behalf of the families whom the recent fire at Smith's Sound rendered destitute. We feel sure it will not be made in vain. A people that can respond so generously to the numberless appeals for aid from outside will be no slower in extending a helping hand to their suffering fellow-countrymen. The loss sustained in the fire is estimated at $15,000, a very high one if borne by the little settlement alone, but capable of being made very light if distributed over a wide field. The few odd cents which all have to spare could easily make the sum up, and many who have not money have old clothes, all kinds of which are certain to be useful. We solicit their pity and generosity on behalf of these poor sufferers, at present homeless under the shadow of the approaching winter.

Some thousands of citizens assembled at the railway station yesterday morning to bid farewell to Rev. T. Nangle, C.F., who left by the express en route to join his regiment somewhere in France. The C. C. Band was also present and rendered a number of patriotic airs. Capt. Nangle in a brief speech spoke a few words of comfort to the relatives and friends of the boys at the front many of whom were at the station. As the train moved out cheers were given for Father Nangle and the band played "Auld Lang Syne."

Schooner Dismantled.

PICKED UP BY FIONA AND TOWED TO ST. JOHN'S.
While on her way to St. John's from a northern outpost with a cargo of codfish, the schooner Messenger met it rough. She encountered a heavy storm crossing Trinity Bay and as a result had her mainmast and foremast carried away, suffering other damage about deck as well. The vessel was then practically helpless, but luckily the Customs revenue cruiser Fiona happened to pass along that way and was signalled for assistance. The Messenger was taken in tow and accompanied as far as the Heads. The Fiona then proceeded on her way to the West Coast, giving the dismantled schooner to the D. P. Ingraham, which towed her to port. The Messenger will need extensive repairs before returning home.

Nomination of Officers

The following officers were nominated yesterday at a meeting of the Star of the Sea to be elected next Sunday:—
President—J. T. Martin.
Vice-Pres.—J. Holden.
First Asst. Vice-President—E. P. Thompson, T. R. Hickey.
Second Asst. Vice-President—John Murphy.
Treas.—S. J. Congdon.

Secretary—W. F. Graham.
First Ins. Trustee—Jno. Byrne.
Second Ins. Trustee—J. Gladney.
Marshal—M. Leonard.
Deputy Marshal—M. Miller.
Chairman R. R. and B. Committee—J. Jackson.
The election will take place at next Sunday's meeting.

Boy Fell Overboard.

Daily children can be seen playing around the King's Wharf, such as jumping in and out of boats, evidently not realizing the danger. On Saturday afternoon several small boys were romping about the dock there when one of them took a header and probably would have been drowned, but for the presence and timely assistance of two workmen. Parents should caution their children against frequenting the wharf mentioned for jiggling and boating purposes, before a drowning accident happens. The Customs officials are tired of warning youngsters to no purpose.

Portia Back.

The S. S. Portia, Capt. J. Kean, returned yesterday from western ports, bringing a full freight and the following saloon passengers:—
J. Burke, H. Harris, G. Way, F. Forsey, C. Hillier, S. G. Ayre, M. Poole, F. Collins, C. Collins, T. Cheeseman, J. Bennett, G. Collins, T. J. Kennedy, Capt. J. L. Toole, Ed. Moore; Mesdames Seacans, Slaney, Brockerville, Cheeseman, Anderson, Woods; Misses Hillier, Bonnell, Anderson, and 42 second class.

Bank Fishery Over.

The bank fishery on the S. W. Coast is over and practically all the vessels have returned to their home ports from the Labrador coast, where they got their "finish up" trip. The aggregate catch for the entire season, though not yet made up, will, no doubt, be the largest ever known, with the price of fish abnormally high in addition. The biggest voyage made by any one schooner was 6,000 qts. and the smallest 2,500.

Personal.

Mr. Etwellyn Jones and bride were passengers by the outgoing express yesterday en route to British East Africa.
Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Hawvermale left yesterday for New York where Mrs. Hawvermale will undergo special medical treatment.
His Lordship Bishop Power was a passenger by the express yesterday for St. George's.

THE COMPLEXION IN COLD WEATHER.
There is nothing better for the complexion than fresh fruit eaten in season, but in winter one can hardly expect anything but oranges, grapefruit, and apples, and of these you may eat all you like. Apples are the complexion food all the year, round and like clear water, they can be partaken of freely. Apple sauce, diluted with water while hot, then allowed to cool and then chilled with ice, makes a drink matchless for the skin.
In the fall the complexion of the average woman past first youth requires some special treatment. The skin needs to be toned and freshened up, and perhaps needs a slight bleaching to repair the damage of a summer of late hours, sunburn and rich food. Do not rush forth into the chilling winds too hastily. Drink gallons of cool water. Three quarts a day is the very least quantity one should drink. This means a glass upon arising, and a glass at bedtime, and a glass about every two hours during the day.

In grandmothers' time a dose of sulphur and molasses was given to the young folks every other morning, in the spring, and fall, for the benefit of their complexions, but this nauseous medicine has no place in the modern regime, excellent as its results were. Sals taken every other morning for a week, then a skip of three days, and taken three mornings more, should be tried by the woman whose skin looks muddy and mottled when the fall sun shines upon it.

But the hygiene of the complexion demands actual physical care as well as a sunny spirit, and first and foremost comes the care that means watchfulness of the digestion. Clean, wholesome food, not highly seasoned, very little tea and coffee, but plenty of clear, cool water—these are the reliable helpers towards a blooming and healthful complexion.

Fashions and Fads.
Soft pompons are a novel means of fastening a dress at the side.
For an informal house gown there is nothing better than soft satin. Long jet fringe has a very graceful effect on gowns of draped net.
Long straight tunics are worn with rather narrow straight skirts.
So many new frocks are Chinese in character that we might say fashion is being inspired by things Chinese.

The Newfoundlanders on October 9th.

(Extract From Dispatch by Phillip Gibbs.)

KEEPING THEIR RIFLES DRY. Even in the water beyond their belts the men tried to clean their rifles and their bolts from the mud which fouled them knowing that later on their lives might depend on this. It is a wonderful thing that some counter-attacks were actually repulsed by rifle fire and by machine guns, which jam if any speck of dirt gets in the mechanism. That was on the left when the Guards and some old country regiments of England and a little body of Newfoundlanders fought forward a long way with rapid success. The losses of the Guards in going over were not heavy. The Irish Guards had hardly a casualty on their way to the first objective. They preceded the attack by a tremendous trench mortar bombardment, which so frightened the enemy and caused such loss among them that before the infantry advanced many of them came running over to the lines to surrender.

On the second objective there was heavy fighting at a strong place called Stronde House, which was surrounded with uncut wire and defended by heavy machine gun fire. The Guards after being checked rushed it from all sides and captured it with all its garrison.

There was more fighting of the same kind further south, at rains close to Houthulst Forest, on the edge of the swamps, which seem to be "No Man's Land" because the ground is too wet for the Germans to live there. Very quickly after the attack the Germans countered heavily on the Guards' left, but the Guards held firm and beat them off.

Further south the English troops and the Newfoundlanders went straight through to their objective, as far as Cinq Chemins Farm, and they had to resist a series of counter-attacks, starting before 8.30 a.m. The first of these was shattered by rifle fire and the second by machine gun fire, but afterward, owing to fog, to heavy shelling, the British had withdrawn a little in front of the Poelcapelle Road.

An Appeal.

On Behalf of the Fire Sufferers in the Recent Fire at Random Island, Smith's Sound.

We, the undersigned, beg to appeal to a sympathizing public for aid on behalf of 10 helpless families at Peley and Aspen Coves, Smith's Sound, whose homes and property were totally destroyed in a forest fire about three weeks ago.

The severity of the fire was such and its course so rapid, fanned and driven as it was by well nigh a half a gale of wind, that humanly speaking it was impossible to attempt to save anything or to battle with the devouring element in its course; nevertheless in many instances a heroic fight was maintained by the men until they were driven from their homes by the flames; while in others the men being away a mother and some helpless children had barely time to make good their escape. In less than an hour after the fire reached the village, it had destroyed the Church of England Church, 14 dwellings, ten of them occupied, about the same number of barns with all the season's stock of hay, several stores, outhouses and stages with a loss in two of them of 30 quintals of fish, four mills with quantities of lumber and logs, and 10 families rendered homeless with well nigh everything they possessed a few heaps of ashes. A conservative estimate has placed the loss at about $15,000.00. Practically nothing was saved. In one or two instances a bed and bedding and in others a trunk of clothes was saved, while in others what had been taken out of houses was afterwards destroyed.

We therefore venture to take the liberty of appealing through the public press on behalf of these poor people who have so completely and suddenly been dispossessed of the savings and earnings and labors of a lifetime. In normal times the situation for these people would be a hard one indeed; it becomes intensely hard in a time like the present.

We feel sure therefore that this appeal needs but to be made to meet with a sympathetic response from a generous and liberal public.

The undersigned have constituted themselves a local committee to deal with the situation, to any one of whom gifts of clothing or money may be sent or to whom gifts can be forwarded through the medium of the press.

On Behalf of the Fire Sufferers: Hugh W. Facey, Mission Priest, Church of England, White Rock, Smith's Sound; Thomas Pitcher, Methodist Clergyman, Britannia; John T. Currie, Britannia; James T. Walters, Peley; Ed. T. Gardner, School Teacher, Peley.

HOW THE ZEPS WERE BROUGHT DOWN.

PARIS, To-Day. An official note issued by the War Office gives the following summary of the Zeppelin raid: The first Zeppelin was brought down by artillery at St. Clement; the second was forced down by an aviator near Bourbonne les Bains; the third was forced down at Laragne, near Sisteron—the crew of four officers and 15 men were taken prisoners after they had been burned; the fourth was brought down in the same region at about 2 p.m. The fifth and sixth airships were reported passing above gaps (?) and were out of control. The seventh landed at Montigny le Roi, debarked his wounded officers, threw out ballast and then departed. It was chased by an aviator in a hot fight and later was sighted together with the eighth and escaped. In its comment the Matin says the German airship fleet experienced the most complete disaster it ever met. Dawn was chosen for the attempt as the mist from the valleys would hide them.

DEVILS INCARNATE.

NEW YORK, To-Day. President Lyman Powell, of Peabody College, who has just returned from a tour of England and France, where he was sent to investigate conditions among the students of the United States, in an address here yesterday declared that the French villages and towns recently evacuated by the German troops have been sacked beyond description. Dr. Powell described the fate which befell the town of Chauny in the Aisne Department of France. The little city, he said, was of ten thousand inhabitants and almost from the time of its founding in 1664 had been the centre of glass manufacture. It came into the hands of the Teutons in the course of their invasion, but last June or July they evacuated it. The Germans were not content with the misery they already had caused, he said. First they dismantled the glass factories, then they herded all the young women and young men into a parking place and selected the young men for service of one sort or another behind the lines. Then they lined up the young women according to their rank in beauty. The highest official chose the fairest as his servant, the next highest officers made their selection and finally the common soldiers took their pick. At the time I arrived in Chauny only three hundred of the original ten thousand inhabitants were left, and these were old men and women.

SIX BROUGHT DOWN.

LONDON, To-Day. Six German airships were brought down yesterday by British naval airmen, says a statement from the Admiralty to-day.

NO FURTHER NAVAL FIGHT.

PETROGRAD, To-Day. Attempts made by the Germans yesterday to fraternize with the Russians on the northwestern front near TARK Naroc and on the Roumanian front were repulsed by the Russians, the War Office announced. No naval operations were undertaken yesterday by the Germans in the Gulf of Riga, the statement adds, and the Teuton vessels were not sighted by the Russian scouts boats.

HEAVY LOSS OF LIFE.

LONDON, To-Day. One hundred and fifty lives were lost on Wednesday when the nine vessels were sunk by two German raiders in the North Sea.

QUITE A TOUR, IN FACT.

AMSTERDAM, To-Day. The loss of four Zeppelins in admitted in an official statement received here from Berlin. An airship squadron, the statement says, attacked London, Manchester, Birmingham, Nottingham, Derby, Lowestoft, Hull, Grimsby and Norwich, England, with "special success."

GOOD DAYS' WORK IN THE AIR.

LONDON, To-Day. In spite of the very misty weather a further attack into Germany was carried out by our airplanes this afternoon. A foundry and railway junction ten miles north of Saarbrücken were bombed with over a ton of bombs. Very good results were observed and bursts were seen on the foundry and station, where a big explosion occurred. Many hostile scouts attacked the bombing squadron over the objectives and four were driven down out of control. All our machines returned safely except one. On Saturday the weather was very fine but a thick haze prevented observation for artillery. During the day we carried out bombing operations vigorously. A total of 238 bombs were dropped on enemy airdromes at Gontroude and Roulers, on Corretmarec station and on hostile billets and kutments. One airdrome at Roulers was bombed from a low height. One bomb was seen to hit and blow to pieces a German machine on the ground while another fell through the centre of a hangar. The enemy's personnel and machines on the ground then were attacked with machine gun fire from our airplanes. During this bombing attack our scouts operated in the neighbourhood bringing down seven German machines which crashed in full view of their airdrome. At night the enemy's airdromes were again attacked. A ton of bombs were dropped on the Ingelmuister airdrome and railway station and on the airdrome at Courtrai. At one of these a direct hit was obtained upon a hostile machine endeavouring to leave the ground.

DEATH OF CLERIC.

LONDON, To-Day. Rev. Thomas Spurgeon, former pastor of the Metropolitan Tabernacle, died here on Saturday.

HOW THE MURDERERS WERE BROUGHT DOWN.

PARIS, To-Day. There were eight Zeppelins in the raid over France on Friday night and Saturday morning, according to the latest accounts. Opinions differ as to whether all of the dirigibles belonged to the same group or whether part of the number were returning from the raid on England and the others had crossed the Atlantic frontier from Germany and were making for Lyons and other points in Central France. The Zeppelin brought down at Bourbonne was compelled to land by five battle planes of an escadrille. All the battle planes came down at the same time and missed the crew of the Zeppelin. When last seen the Zeppelin appeared to be helpless and is supposed to have been lost at sea. The Zeppelin which landed near Laragne, leaving fifteen members of its crew and one of its cars and taking the air again with four members of the crew, has not been heard from since and is supposed to have been lost somewhere in the Alps. Two more airships were seen flying over Gap late in the afternoon and another in the evening in the region of Lons le Saunier.

HARROWING TALE OF THE RAID.

LONDON, To-Day. While a vain search was made for any military advantage gained by Friday night's raid, several tragic stories came to light. Perhaps the most pitiful was the killing of a widow and her children in addition to a lodger in the house. It appears that the mother went to the front door and inquired of a neighbor whether the "all clear" signal had been given, and turned to go back when the bomb dropped. A few minutes later the neighbor found the mother unconscious and her children buried in the debris. The woman regained consciousness long enough to ask for her children. Another remarkable case was that of a young woman who was dug out of wreckage in the basement of a fish market, where she worked. BRUTES, NOT MEN.

CHRISTIANIA, To-Day. A despatch from Bergen says that several survivors of the German raiders' attack in the North Sea arrived there on Friday night and related harrowing stories of their two days' sufferings and privations in small boats before landing. The captain of one of the Norwegian steamers, the sole survivor of that vessel, said that he ordered his crew into the boats, but the Germans began firing immediately after the boats were lowered. A shell hit one and killed nine men. The crew in despair returned to the steamer and signalled to the Germans to cease firing, but their appeal was not heeded. The bridge was then hit and knocked overboard with the captain and the rest of the crew. The captain managed to save himself by swimming to a raft, and he was picked up two

Religious Ceremony AT TREPASSEY AND PORTUGAL COVE.

His Grace the Archbishop, accompanied by the Rev. Fr. Gough, P.P., Portugal Cove, C.B., and the Rev. Dr. Carter, arrived here on Friday morning last. The purpose of His Grace's visit was two-fold, to solemnly profess in holy religion Sr. Mary Theresa of the Presentation Order, and to bless and dedicate to the service of God the beautiful, little church recently erected at Portugal Cove. On Saturday morning in the Convent Oratory the Archbishop held the ceremony of the profession and with the clergy was afterwards entertained by the Sisters. Solemn high mass was celebrated on Sunday by Rev. Dr. Carter with Fr. O'Flaherty as Deacon and Fr. Gough as Sub-Deacon. His Grace occupied the throne. At the conclusion of the mass, the Archbishop suitably addressed the large congregation present. In the afternoon His Grace, the clergy and many people from Trepassey left by train for the Cove. Arriving there the Archbishop met with an enthusiastic welcome from the people of Portugal Cove. The distinguished visitor and clergy were then driven to the new church. Vestments in cope and mitre and carrying the Crozier, His Grace proceeded around the church attended by the clergy, carrying out the ceremony of the blessing, dedicating it to God's service under the title of the Holy Rosary. After addressing the congregation, His Grace gave Benediction of the most Holy Sacrament, thus terminating an occasion that will long be remembered by all present.

Clever Cricketer Gets a Souvenir.

Prior to his departure en route to British East Africa with his bride, Mr. Dwellwyn Jones was waited on Saturday night by a deputation of the Shamrock Club and, as a slight souvenir of his visit to St. John's, presented with a photograph of the cricket match played on St. George's Field for patriotic purposes the past summer, between the City and Shamrock, in which Mr. Jones was a prominent figure. He played with the former team and demonstrated his ability as a cricketer, particularly as a batsman. The recipient greatly appreciated the moment and the good wishes that accompanied it, also intimating that he would look forward to another such delightful visit to St. John's in the not distant future, when he would hope to meet our "wielders of the willow" again.

W. P. A.—The Tag Day Committee gratefully acknowledges the kind assistance rendered by Mr. Edmund Outerbridge in connection with the recent Tag Day. Mr. Outerbridge not only superintended the advertising for the occasion, but most generously defrayed its entire cost.

Applicants for R.F.C.

As a result of the recent visit of Lieut. R. G. Reid, Jr., of the Imperial Royal Flying Corps, a number of young men who interviewed him in relation to the air service have received application forms from Headquarters at Toronto, which explain fully the terms and conditions under which the applicant is to be enlisted. A person applying must be between the age of 18 and 25 years, and is liable for service in any part of the world. Candidates while in training will receive $1.10 per day with an extra 25 to 50 cents per day flying pay; also an allowance of 90 cents a day when not in quarters. An outfit allowance of $25.25 is also granted. After graduating as a flying officer the pay is $2.58 a day plus $1.90 flying pay in addition to the usual allowances. The course of instruction usually lasts four or five months; and on completion the pupil will, if recommended, be granted a commission, and falling to pass the examination will be retained as an air mechanic. We understand that among others, Mr. Chas. B. Coulson, York Street, City, has made application.

The Commonest Affliction.

By RUTH CAMERON.

RUTH CAMERON

Just one more word about that most common, least romantic and least tenderly treated of all afflictions. Of course you know the one I mean. A dear old lady of my acquaintance began to grow a little deaf. She lives with her daughter and she was telling me the other day something her daughter had told her about someone in the neighborhood. After she had said it she qualified it nervously, "At least that is what I think she said, I wasn't absolutely sure and she snaps me up so if I don't hear that I don't like to ask her to repeat it."

Yet she was impatient when she misunderstood.

Incidentally I happen to know (she didn't tell me) that the daughter is also very impatient with her when she doesn't get things straight.

Now isn't that unkind? Of course it is rather hard to have to keep repeating things. But not half so hard as it is to be deaf. Not half so hard as it is never to be able to brush away that cloud, that hangs between oneself and everyone about one. You only have to repeat to one person. Your afflicted housemate has to strain her ears in her contact with everyone.

Besides, if people would only train themselves to speak a little more forcibly and enunciate better in their intercourse with the deaf they wouldn't have to repeat so much. The young woman of whom I am writing speaks very poorly, down in her throat and under her breath.

But the deaf owe something to the hearing. Of course there is another side to all this. While some people are thoughtless enough to snap up the deaf housemate when they have to repeat a thing, there are also deaf people thoughtless enough not to realize that their affliction visits itself on others as well as on themselves and not to appreciate and be grateful for the efforts others make for them. Constant repeating is trying to one's nerves, constant loud speaking does require more energy, and a word of gratitude now and then, would be very pleasant.

Yet he took her head off.

I know one irritable old man whose daughter was most patient. She not only repeated for herself but for everyone else. And yet, when now and then she happened not to hear anything he was very irritable with her.

Another thing—that the deaf owe to the hearing. And that is the use of anything that will help them. It was my own experience to live for years with a deaf old woman who would not use an ear trumpet because she didn't like people to know she was deaf! And yet she was always gone deaf and we had to fairly tear our lungs out to make her hear.

Like everything else the only fair way is for both to come half way.

A Clever Swindle.

A very clever swindle was successfully carried out in the Rue de la Paix Paris. A carriage drove up to a large jeweller's shop, and an elderly man, with his arm in a sling, accompanied by a footman, who carried a rug, entered the shop. The gentleman selected and bought some three hundred pounds' worth of jewellery, and then said, "If you do not mind, I will send my man home for the money." The jeweller bowed, and the gentleman continued: "I should be pleased if you would write for me. I have hurt my arm. Just write, 'Please give Robert three hundred pounds', and sign it 'Henri'."

The jeweller wrote as he was directed, and in a quarter of an hour the footman came back with the money, and then he, with his master, left with the jewellery. When the jeweller went home to dinner his wife asked him the reason he had sent for three hundred pounds. Then the swindle was discovered. The rogue knew that the jeweller's name was Henri, and they had got him to write the note for the money, which was taken to his wife, and then they paid him for the jewels with his own money.—Tit-Bits.

Everyday Etiquette.

If place cards are used at a dinner it is necessary to tell the guests where they are to sit? asked Mrs. Newlywed. "Each guest is supposed to find his or her own place by walking around the table until they see their card," said her aunt.

TOO MODEST.

WALT WALSON

I am too sensitive, I fear, to win a salesman's laurels here. If some one batters me with chairs, or kicks me down a flight of stairs, I feel depressed, discouraged, tired; I think my absence is desired. Whereas the salesman who would win, should pick his bones up with a grin, dust off his clothes, replace his hat, reset his broken arm or slit, and climb that blooming stair again, to sell his junk to angry men. He doesn't care for a rebuff; the salesman's made of sterner stuff. I often marvel at his gall, when he shins over my garden wall, and nails me in my leafy haunt, to sell me truck I do not want. In forty things I've explained, until my lexicon is strained, that I won't blow a measly punk for any item of his junk. But nothing, nothing I can say will drive that earnest gent away, and not a dropick I can throw will serve to make that salesman go. If I should throttle him to death he'd sell me with his dying breath some stuff to put in gasoline and keep my motor running clean.

BRITISH DESTROYERS SINK

LONDON, Oct. 21.—Two German raiders attacked a convoy in the North Sea on Wednesday and sank two British destroyers. It was announced by the British War Office in a text of the admiralty statement reads: "Two very fast and well-armed German raiders attacked a convoy in the North Sea along the way between the Shetland Islands and the Norwegian Coast on Wednesday. Two British destroyers, the Mary Rose, Lt. Commander Chubb, and the Strong Bow, Lt. Commander Edward Brooke, fought till they were sunk after a short and unequal engagement. Their gallant actions enabled three merchant ships to effect their escape. Anxious to check good their escape before British forces could intercept, no effort was made to rescue the crews of the British destroyers; but British war craft which arrived shortly afterwards, rescued 300 Norwegian sailors, regarding whom details are not yet known. The German raiders by this act has further degraded itself by disregard of historic traditions of the sea. The German official of this subject states that the attack took place within territorial waters in the neighborhood of the Shetland Islands, and that all the escort vessels, including the destroyers, were sunk, with the exception of one or two fishing steamer. The statement also is the statement regarding the destruction of escort ships. It is regretted that 86 officers and men of the Mary Rose and 47 officers and men of the Strong Bow were lost. Ten of the crew of the British destroyer Mary Rose, probably the survivors, have reached Bergen according to a Retter despatch from Christiania. They will not be handed, as they were saved by a Norwegian lifeboat while clinging to the buoys.

THE GERMAN STORY.

BRITISH DESTROYERS SUNK.

LONDON, Oct. 21. Two German raiders attacked a convoy in the North Sea on Wednesday and sank two British escorting destroyers, it was announced officially by the British War Office. The text of the admiralty statement reads: Two very fast and heavily armed German raiders attacked a convoy in the North Sea about midway between the Shetland Islands and the Norwegian Coast on Wednesday. Two British destroyers, the Mary Rose, Lt-Commander Chas. Fox, and the Strong Bow, Lt-Commander Edward Brooke, fought till they were sunk after a short and unequal engagement. Their gallant action held the German raiders sufficiently long to enable three merchant ships to effect their escape. Amongst the good fortune to escape before British forces could intercept, no effort was made to rescue the crews of the sunken Britishers; but British patrol craft which arrived shortly afterwards, rescued 30 Norwegians and others, regarding whom details are not yet known. The German navy by this act has further degraded itself by disregard of historic chivalry of the sea. The German official on this subject states that the attack took place within territorial waters in the neighborhood of the Shetland Islands, and that all the escort vessels, including the destroyers, were sunk, with the exception of one escort fishing steamer. The statement as to the locality of attack is untrue, as also is the statement regarding the destruction of escort ships. It is regretted that 86 officers and men of the Mary Rose and 47 officers and men of the Strong Bow were lost.

Ten of the crew of the British destroyer Mary Rose, probably the only survivors, have reached Bergen, according to a Reuter despatch from Christiania. They will not be interned, as they were saved by a Norwegian lifeboat while clinging to two buoys.

THE GERMAN STORY.

BERLIN, Oct. 21. The Admiralty statement reads: On Wednesday light German forces in the northern part of the North Sea, within territorial waters in the neighborhood of the Shetland Islands, attacked a convoy from Norway to England, consisting of thirteen ships, including in the way of protection two modern destroyers G-29 and G-31. All ships of the convoy and protection vessels, including destroyers, were destroyed, with the exception of one escorting fishing steamer. Our fighting forces sustained no damage.

RUSSIA'S PEACE PROGRAMME.

PETROGRAD, Oct. 21. The Russian peace programme drawn up by the central executive of the committee of Workmen's and Soldiers' delegates in the form of instructions to M. Skoboleff, Minister of Labor, and its delegates to the Paris conference consists of twelve articles covering the whole ground from Panama to Persia. The programme of the executive committee follows: First, the evacuation by the Germans of Russia and the autonomy of Poland, Luthania and the Lettish Provinces; second, the autonomy of Turkish Armenia; third, the solution of the Alsace-Lorraine question by a plebiscite, voting being arranged by local civil authorities after the removal of troops of both belligerents; fourth, the restoration of Belgium of her ancient frontiers and compensation for her losses from an international fund; fifth, the restoration of Serbia and Montenegro, with similar compensation, Serbia to have access to the Adriatic; Bosnia and Herzegovina to be autonomous; sixth, disputed Balkan districts to receive provisional autonomy followed by a plebiscite; seventh, Rumania to be restored to her old frontiers on condition that she grant Dobruja autonomy and equal rights to the Jews; eighth, autonomy for the Italian Provinces of Austria, to be followed by a plebiscite; ninth, the restoration of all her colonies to Germany; tenth, the re-establishment of Greece and Persia; eleventh, the neutralization of all Straits trading to inner seas and also the Suez and Panama Canals, the freedom of navigation for merchant ships and the abolition of the right to torpedo; twelfth, all belligerents to renounce war contributions or indemnities in any form, but money spent on maintenance of pensions and all contributions levied at the beginning of the war be returned.

RUSSIAN FORCES LEFT MOON SOUND.

BERLIN, Oct. 21. Russian forces which were behind Moon Sound after an engagement last week with a German squadron in the Gulf of Riga, has left Moon Sound and are sailing in a northerly direction, it was officially announced by the German war office.

RAIDERS BROUGHT DOWN.

LONDON, Oct. 21. Reuter's correspondent at British headquarters in France telegraphs that the four Zeppelins brought down in France were the ones that had taken part in a raid on England last night. It is believed, says the correspondent, that a fifth was destroyed. The text of the despatch says: A fleet of Zeppelins returning from England was routed by French air defences last night. Four of them were brought down, all being forced to land in France. It is believed a fifth was destroyed. There were eleven Zeppelins in the original group that appeared over French territory. Later they scattered over various parts of the country, when attacked, after a general warning was sent out. They dropped no bombs in France.

GERMAN CASUALTIES.

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 21. The Cologne correspondent of the T.H.J. reports that German casualties lists, comprising killed, wounded, prisoners and missing, from August 1914 to September 1917, fill a thirty-folio volume of 22,000 pages. He calculates the total number of names as $,250,000.

WAR SUMMARY.

The Russian Riga fleet has started northward from Moon Sound, possibly with the intention of endeavoring to escape through the tortuous channels and maze of Islands lying between them and the Gulf of Finland, or it is possible that the armada, although far inferior in gun power and tonnage, sallied forth from the sheltered waters where it took refuge last week to give battle to the dreadnaughts and other craft comprising the German fleet. The announcement of the sailing of the fleet is contained in the latest German official, which says it left behind the wreck of the battleship Slava, which was sunk in last Wednesday's battle, and four additional vessels which have run aground since the naval activities in the Gulf of Riga began. If the Russians are endeavoring to make their escape instead of offering battle, doubtless their destination is Revel, the Russian fortress situated on the Gulf of Finland, in Northern Estonia. Meanwhile the Germans have captured in its entirety the Island of Dago, lying at the southwestern entrance to the Gulf of Finland, and the Island of Schiedau, situated between Moon Island and the Estonian coast in the Gulf of Finland. Several hundred prisoners were taken on Dago Island to be added to the large number captured during the past week on Oesel Island.

The preliminary parliament has opened at Petrograd. Premier Kerensky made the opening speech. There was loud applause when he announced that while Russia desired peace, she never would bow her head to force. We must fight only to save the country, the Premier added, amid renewed applause. Only the Bolsheviki faction of extreme radicals are withholding a full measure of encouragement.

The German Emperor having concluded his visit to Constantinople, is on the return journey to Berlin where on Monday he will take part in the celebration of the birthday of the Emperor. The Emperor is expected to visit German naval bases, at some of which dissection recently has been reported, and also to go to Heiligoland. He is expected to discuss with leading statesmen the political situation, which recently has been acute.

HAIG'S REPORT.

LONDON, Oct. 21. The report from Field Marshal Haig to-night indicate heavy fighting by artillery in Flanders. The text of the statement says: The Irish troops carried out a successful raid at noon northwest of Croisilles and captured twelve prisoners. There was great artillery activity to-day on both sides of the battlefield.

GERMAN ASSAULTS REPULSED.

PARIS, Oct. 21. German forces last night attacked French positions west of Mont Cornillot, in Rheims area, on both banks of the River Meuse, in Verdun region, and in the sector of La Chelle. The French War Office statement this afternoon says all assaults were repulsed, the French capturing a number of Germans.

OSTEND ATTACKED.

BERLIN, Oct. 21. The part of Ostend which is the submarine base of the Germans on the North Sea, has been bombarded from the sea, the German war office announced to-day.

EXPECTING FRENCH ATTACK.

BERLIN, Oct. 21. On a nine mile front between Vaux-sillon and Braye, on the Aisne, the French last night began an artillery bombardment of the greatest violence the German war office announced. Infantry attacks have not yet been launched.

THE MINISTERIAL SITUATION IN FRANCE.

PARIS, Oct. 21. The French ministerial situation to-day remains uneasy. The opposition to Alexander Ribot, Foreign Minister in the Painleve cabinet, persists.

AIR RAID.

LONDON, Oct. 21. After an interval of twelve months London last night experienced another Zeppellin raid. Nobody saw the raider which flew at a great height and dropped only one bomb on London and a few missiles in outlying districts. The people who had been given an early warning of approaching air craft had left their shelters and were going home when the bomb fell from an unseen and unheard airship breaking many plate glass windows. The sound of the bomb was unlike anything in previous raids, it was less shrill and heavier. The Evening News commenting on the raid says: Last night another of our fond delusions, due we suppose to the phlegmatic perversity of our national character, was shattered. Statements from authoritative quarters made at various times had led us to believe the airship menace had been mastered. How far this is from being the case is shown by the official report. It may be pointed out that the moon set at eight minutes past seven, it seems therefore that the moon is not a factor in German calculations which most people supposed. The silent raid is the name given to the Zeppelins' visit to London last night. Many Londoners awakened this morning with a feeling that there was a good deal to say for the official view against the warning of night air raids. Although the warning was given early in the evening the people after waiting hours for the sound of gun-firing went to bed believing the raiders had been interrupted. Suddenly two loud reports startled light sleepers, but as nothing followed the majority thought it merely the firing of anti-aircraft guns in distant districts.

IN MESOPOTAMIA.

LONDON, Oct. 21. British troops in Mesopotamia on Friday began an enveloping move- ment near the Persian frontier north west of Bagdad and drove the Turkish forces in the vicinity of Kizil Robat across the Diala River. An official statement issued to-day reports these operations says: We have carried out successful operations in the vicinity of Deltawa and Kizil Robat. Our columns began an enveloping movement on Friday and drove the enemy across the Diala. Kizil Robat and retreated to the southern hills of Jobel Hamrin ridge. We took some prisoners and captured wagon loads of ammunition.

IN GERMAN EAST AFRICA.

LONDON, Oct. 21. Heavy fighting is going on between British and Teuton forces in German East Africa, the British war office announces. The text of the statement follows: Our right column after advancing southward occupied Ruyundo on Oct. 11th, and established itself at Lakelet mission on Oct. 17th, the enemy withdrawing to the eastward. On Oct. 15th an attack on the enemy's position at Napama was commenced, the German force being driven on Nyangao on the 17th. An enveloping around the mission station resulted in severe fighting, but by nightfall Nyangao had been occupied. Next day more hard fighting was begun to the west of Nyangao and is still proceeding. The British casualties were considerable and the enemy's losses were severe. In Mahaga area, Belgian columns advanced southward and are in touch with the British advancing from the west. In Iuwega valley the British are engaged at Ringoli, 43 miles south of Mahaga with a strong enemy detachment which had been driven from the vicinity of Mypondas.

BOMBS DROPPED IN BRUGES.

LONDON, Oct. 21. British naval planes dropped a large number of bombs on Engel air-drome, and docks at Bruges, Belgium on Friday night causing fire in the German establishments. All our machines returned.

ARTILLERY OPERATIONS.

LONDON, Oct. 21. Reporting military operations on the British front in France and Belgium last night, the British war office announcement to-day says: There was the usual artillery activity on both sides of the battlefield. There was nothing interesting to report.

FOUND GUILTY.

CHICAGO, Oct. 21. Gustav H. Jacobsen and three co-defendants, were found guilty last night of conspiring to foment revolution in India.

AN APPEAL

To the People of Newfoundland

Since the outbreak of the present great War, this Colony, in common with all other parts of the British Empire, has sent forth her bravest and best sons to uphold the glorious traditions of our Flag and Empire.

Amongst the fighting Forces of Great Britain and her splendid Allies the men of the Newfoundland Regiment have established a name and record for themselves and their beloved Country, that will live for generations to come, and will redound to the lasting glory and honour of this most ancient and loyal Colony.

Up to a few months ago a steady number of recruits were available to fill up the gaps in the ranks that were continually occurring, owing to our Regiment being called upon to participate in all, or most, of the important battles in France and Flanders, as well as the earlier days in Gallipoli. But, unfortunately, for the past few months there has not been sufficient men offering to replace those who are no longer able to hold their places in the fighting line, who have to retire through wounds or sickness—in addition to those who have laid down their lives in the righteous cause for which we are fighting. Are we, the kinsmen, at home of these glorious soldiers of Newfoundland, to turn a deaf ear to the call for help that they are continually sending forth? Are we to let go for naught the great and valiant deeds that they have accomplished, by holding back and failing to keep the gaps filled up?

In as much as the lads who have fought and suffered and died so heroically and nobly for us,—our Country and our homes, in the past,—are those who are left behind content to allow their deeds and sacrifices to go for naught, and have the world realize that the young men of Newfoundland who still remain at home, are not made of the same good stock as those who won distinctions in the British line. No, I feel that there are hundreds of young men who only want to be awakened to a realization of their responsibilities, when they will come forward and take the places of those who are gone, or incapacitated, and relieve for a time at least, those brave boys (especially those of the first five hundred) who have borne the heat and turmoil of the Battle, should be given an opportunity to return to their homes for that well earned rest which they naturally desire and long for.

We are about to start on an active recruiting campaign, and recruiting parties will be sent to all parts of the Island, so that every man who is eligible for service will be given an opportunity to enlist. Every provision will be made for the comfort and care of those dependents whom they leave behind. In the case of married men and others leaving dependents, separation allowances are provided under Regulations just published.

Pensions will be provided for those who are incapacitated through wounds or sickness, as well as the dependents of those who make the supreme sacrifice. Therefore, I confidently appeal to the young men of the Country, who are of Military age, to offer themselves as recruits for a Regiment that every man, be he Newfoundlander or otherwise, might well feel proud of. Do your duty now; play the man's part, and never let it be thrown in your faces or the faces of your children that you failed in your duty to your Country in her hour of greatest trial. I appeal to the mothers, to the fathers, and to the sisters, to help the boys to realize their duty, and spur them on, to quit themselves like men, so that they may participate in the great victory that is surely coming, and which cannot be delayed much longer.

If this appeal, and our present recruiting efforts are not fruitful of the necessary number of recruits before the end of the year, we will then have reached the parting of the ways; we must then take one of two courses—either withdraw our Regiment as a separate unit, which would be a most unfortunate and deplorable occurrence, or the Government of the Colony will be reluctantly compelled to consider other means of acquiring men to keep our fighting Forces up to the required strength. Prove, therefore, men of Newfoundland, that this ancient and loyal Colony is able, and is prepared, to keep at least one Battalion in the fighting line, composed entirely of volunteers, to maintain the magnificent record already gained right through to the close of hostilities.

Men who are not altogether fit for active service will find an opportunity to do "their bit" by applying for admission into the Forestry Companies, which are also badly in need of more men.

PUBLISHED BY AUTHORITY

On the recommendation of the Minister of Militia, and under the provisions of the Act 8 George V, Cap. XVII, His Excellency the Governor in Council has been pleased to approve the following Regulations governing the issue of Separation Allowances for the Newfoundland Expeditionary Force.

Regulations Governing the Issue of Separation Allowance for the Newfoundland Expeditionary Force.

Section I.—Explanations.

- Separation Allowance is a grant made by the Government of Newfoundland to dependents of members of the Newfoundland Expeditionary Force, while such members in respect of whom it is paid, remain on the strength of that Force.
- The object of the Allowance is to assist members of the Force while serving therein, providing and maintaining a home for their respective dependents.
- "Allowance" within the text of these Regulations means "Separation Allowance."
- "Dependents" within the meaning of these Regulations, includes:
  - Wife;
  - Motherless children;
  - Widowed mother, if the officer or soldier is her sole support, and is unmarried within the meaning of these Regulations;
  - Mother, whose husband is alive but totally incapacitated from earning a living, if the officer or soldier is her sole support and is unmarried within the meaning of these Regulations.
- "Officers" within the meaning of these Regulations includes all officers appointed to the Newfoundland Expeditionary Force, and paid as members of such.
- "Soldiers" within the meaning of these Regulations includes all ranks, except officers, properly attested and serving on the strength of the Newfoundland Expeditionary force, and paid as members of such.
- "Mother" within the meaning of these Regulations includes Foster-mother and Step-mother.
- "Widowed mother" within the meaning of these Regulations, includes widowed foster-mother and widowed step-mother.
- "Children" within the meaning of these Regulations includes step-children.
- "Unmarried officers and soldiers," will be held to include "widowers" without children, and will also include married officers and soldiers, provided no Separation Allowance is issuable to their wives or legitimate children.

Section II.—General Instructions.

- The following regulations for the issue of Separation Allowance will be effective from the first day of September, 1917, for the remaining period of the War, and will be regarded as authoritative directions in the matter of Separation Allowance, subject to amendments by Order in Council.
  - They will have no retroactive effect.
  - Rates of Allowance.—The rates of allowance shall be as follows:

| Rank and File  | Per month |
|--|-----------|
| Sergeants and higher rank below that of W.O. (1st class) | $20 00   |
| Warrant Officer (1st class)                              | 25 00     |
| Lieutenants  | 30 00     |
| Captains   | 40 00     |
| Majors   | 50 00     |
| Officers of Field rank higher than that of Major         | 60 00     |
  - No person shall receive more than one Allowance for his or her own benefit.
  - Only one Allowance may be issued on account of any officer or soldier, and that will be paid to and for his dependents. In exceptional cases, however, as for instance when there is a wife in one locality, and children by a former wife in another, the Allowance may be divided.
  - Soldiers on whose account Separation Allowance is issuable, should assign to the recipient not less than 15 days pay of rank (Working Pay and Field Allowance excluded). In cases where no such assignment has been made, but where it has been decided that the dependent is entitled to Separation Allowance, an assignment of 15 days pay of rank (Working Pay and Field Allowance excluded) may be put in force against the account of the officer or soldier. In cases where such an assignment is put in force against an officer or soldier, the officer or soldier will be notified forthwith of the action taken. Should he object and submit reasons for his objections, it will be decided whether the assignment shall be continued or not.
- Section III.—Casualties to the Officer or Soldier.
  - Subject to corresponding increase of Assigned Pay, Separation Allowance will increase automatically with promotion, provided that such promotion has been confirmed and published in Part II. Daily Orders, quoting competent authority, but promotion to acting rank will not be accepted as a reason for increase of Separation Allowance. Such increase will take effect from the first day of the month following that in which promotion was confirmed.

17. The rate of Separation Allowance will not be reduced when an officer or soldier voluntarily reverts to lower rank in order to proceed overseas from England to the Front, but upon a reduction or reversion for any other cause, the rate of Allowance will automatically decrease to the rate authorized for such lower rank. Such decrease will take effect from the first day of the month following that in which such reduction or reversion was confirmed.

18. In the case of officers and soldiers who die while serving, or who are reported "missing," and whose dependents are in receipt of Separation Allowance, Separation Allowance shall continue to be paid monthly thereafter at the rates laid down in Clause (a) below, and Assigned Pay shall continue or begin to be paid at the rates laid down in Clause (b) below, until such time as pension is ready for issue, in cases where a pension is to be awarded. In cases where no pension is to be awarded, Separation Allowance and Assigned Pay shall cease as soon as the S. A. and A. P. Division has been notified of the fact that no pension is to be awarded. If the proofs necessary to the granting of a pension are being unreasonably delayed, the Board of Pension Commissioners will advise the S. A. and A. P. Division, with a view to having payments cease. Provided that in no case shall Separation Allowance and Assigned Pay be issued for more than three months after the first day of the month following that in which the officer or soldier was officially reported dead.

(a) The rate at which Separation Allowance shall be paid in the above cases, will be that to which the officer or soldier was entitled at the time of his death or when he was reported "missing."

(b) Assigned Pay will be paid monthly at a rate equal to 15 days pay of rank, of the officer or soldier, (Working Pay and Field Allowance excluded).

Section 4.—Withdrawal, Cessation and Suspension.

19. The Allowance will be discontinued to a dependent who is owing to serious misconduct, unworthy to receive it.

20. Except as is provided in Paras. 21 and 22, the Allowance, if otherwise issuable, will not be withheld for periods for which the officer or soldier forfeits pay.

21. The Allowance may be suspended if the soldier on whose behalf it has been issued, is sentenced by any properly constituted authority to imprisonment for a period of six months or over. The Allowance will be resumed from the date on which the soldier again commences to draw pay after the completion of his sentence.

22. Payment of the Allowance will be suspended upon the officer or soldier being reported absent without leave and the account will be closed from the date on which it was suspended upon the officer or soldier being declared a deserter by a Court of Enquiry.

23. If the officer or soldier rejoins from desertion, payments suspended under the provisions of the foregoing paragraph may be resumed from the date on which he again comes on pay.

24. Dependents of officers and soldiers reported "Prisoners of War" will continue to draw the allowance as if the officer or soldier were still on active service.

25. When the officer or soldier is discharged without pension, Separation Allowance and Assigned Pay may be continued to the dependents to the end of the month, in which the officer or soldier is discharged.

Section V.—Wives and Legitimate Children.

26. The Allowance may be issued in favour of such motherless legitimate children as, in the case of boys, are under the age of 18 and, in the case of girls, under the age of 17.

27. When the Allowance is claimed by an officer or soldier for his motherless children, a Guardian of the children should be named in writing by the officer or soldier for the purpose of receiving the Allowance.

28. The Allowance will not be issued for dependents who are maintained in a Government or Benevolent Institution at the expense of the Government or public subscription.

29. Where a wife is separated from her husband by written Separation Agreement or a Judicial Decree of "Separate from bed and board" or other similar Judicial Decree, parting her from her husband, and is entitled under such Agreement or by order of a competent Court to payment from her husband, such payment shall be made from the Separation Allowance issued to her, and if the Separation Allowance does not equal the amount so agreed upon or ordered to be paid by the Court a comsory assignment of pay, equivalent to the difference between the Separation Allowance and such payment, but not exceeding 15 days pay of rank (Working pay and field allowance excluded), of the officer or soldier, may be put into effect against the officer or soldier.

(a) Where the wife is separated from her husband as above and is living apart from the children and is not charged with their care, Separation Allowance or Assigned Pay or a portion thereof, subject to any valid claim of the wife by virtue of Separation Agreement or Judicial Decree, may be issued to the Guardian of the children.

(b) If the wife has been separated from her husband by Separation Agreement or Judicial Decree, and it does not appear that the husband is absolved from supporting her, and if the wife furnish a satisfactory explanation for not having obtained a judgment for alimony, Separation Allowance may be issued to the wife.

30. Where the wife is separated from her husband not by virtue of a written Separation Agreement or Judicial Decree, and the wife for a reasonable time prior to the enlistment of the officer or soldier, was separated from him and was not in receipt of any payment from him, no issue of Separation Allowance will be made.

31. A mother whose husband is, through physical or mental disability, entirely incapacitated from earning a living, will be treated as a widowed mother, and granted the allowance provided the officer or soldier prior to enlistment was or subsequent to enlistment has become her sole support, and the officer or soldier is unmarried within the meaning of Para. 10.

(a) Any material improvement in the financial condition of a mother receiving the Allowance as a widowed mother, must be at once communicated to the officer issuing Separation Allowance and Assigned Pay, and the withholding of such information whereby payments have been obtained, shall be deemed to constitute fraudulent action.

32. If otherwise eligible, a widowed mother dependent on two unmarried sons, one of whom has enlisted in the Force, will be entitled to the Allowance when the remaining son enlists; and a widow with three or more unmarried sons, on whom she is dependent, will be entitled to the Allowance when a third son has enlisted.

33. The Allowance of a widowed mother will cease on her re-marriage, or upon the marriage of her son, in respect of whom the Allowance has been granted.

34. The Allowance may be granted for such adopted children of an officer or soldier as are, in the case of boys, under the age of sixteen, and in the case of girls, under the age of seventeen, provided such children have been regularly supported by the officer or soldier.

Section 7.—Procedure for Making Claims — On Enlistment.

35. On appointment, every officer, and on enlistment, every soldier, claiming separation allowance for a dependent shall report to the Paymaster of his unit and fill out a Separation Allowance and Assigned Pay Card. All applications for the Allowance on the grounds of "sole support" and as "Guardian" must be accompanied by a Statutory declaration and such other documentary evidence as may be required to substantiate the claim.

36. A soldier who has a dependent but considers such dependent not eligible for Separation Allowance under these Regulations will be required to deliver to the Paymaster of his Unit, a statement under oath of the reason why he considers such dependent not eligible for the Allowance. Otherwise if such dependent will make a claim for Separation Allowance it will be taken for granted that the officer or soldier knows no valid reason why the allowance should not be granted and a compulsory assignment put into force against him.

37. Where the claim for Separation Allowance under Para. 35 is refused as inadmissible, the amount of pay assigned by the soldier will be paid to the person named, unless it appears that the soldier has a dependent eligible for Separation Allowance, in which case the Separation Allowance may be granted to such dependent and an assignment may be put into force against the soldier in favor of such dependent. In such cases the soldier will be informed of what action has been taken by the department and a similar notification will be sent to the dependents concerned.

Claims After Enlistment.

38. An officer or soldier intending to marry must inform his paymaster of his intention to marry a sufficient time in advance of the marriage, to allow steps to be taken to discontinue the issue of any Separation Allowance or Assigned Pay previously authorized for another dependent on his account. He will at the same time, state whether any such issue of Separation Allowance or Assigned Pay has been authorized; and if so, to whom.

In such cases, if Separation Allowance or Assigned Pay has previously been authorized for another dependent, the paymaster will at once take steps to have it discontinued. The issue to the wife shall not commence until the issue to the other dependent has ceased, which should be at the end of the month in which the marriage has taken place.

39. As soon as the marriage has taken place, upon the production to the paymaster of the marriage certificate, a notification showing the date and the place of the marriage, and the wife's full name and address, will appear in Part II. Orders, and a Separation Allowance and Assigned Pay Card will be completed by the officer or soldier and delivered to the paymaster. The latter will satisfy himself that the wife of the soldier is of a good character before any action in respect of payment is taken. If there is any doubt in the matter, the fullest enquiry is to be made by the paymaster, and a report sent to the officer issuing the Separation Allowance and Assigned Pay.

40. An officer or soldier who has not, on enlistment, claimed Separation Allowance for a dependent may afterwards submit a claim through his paymaster.

41. In cases of dependents other than wives and legitimate children, unless the application for Separation Allowance is made within thirty (30) days of appointment or enlistment, no arrears of the Allowance will be issued for the period prior to application.

A Scene of Activity.

The Shipbuilding Premises is a scene of activity. A breakwater is being built to the eastward of the shore line. A big warehouse, three stories, 50 by 150 feet, is being constructed on the north of the track. It is windowless, and covered with corrugated galvanized iron to safeguard against fire. The sites of the Office and other buildings are marked out, and their construction will soon be undertaken. About 30 to 40 carpenters, besides a hundred or so other workmen are employed. The loss 100 or more tons of iron work, etc., in the S.S. Norge will delay work somewhat, though it is pleasing to hear the bulk of the machinery required was not on board. The Company is adding to the quantity of lumber and other constructive material, and it is expected that within a month the first touch will be able to be put on the first ship the Company are preparing to turn out. They have a large staff of men on the West Coast getting such lumber as is suitable with what has to be imported to make "staunch and strong a fleet of good vessels," according to their declared program.—Hr. ## Assault Case.

Two fair young damsels occupied the attention of the court this morning, one having the other summoned for assault. It appears that while engaged in a stiff argument the plaintiff used an expression that aroused the ire of the defendant, who remonstrated aggressively and dealt her opponent a blow. After hearing the evidence on both sides, Judge Morris believed it to be six of one and a half dozen of another and ordered both girls to sign bonds of $50 to keep the peace towards each other.

We understand a number of milk vendors have notified their customers that they intend increasing the price of milk two cents a quart at the end of the present month. This means that milk will be retailed to the customer at 16 cents per quart, an increase on the annual milk bill of $7.30 per quart. A customer taking a quart of milk per day spends $58.40 per year, quite an item for the man whose salary is below $50 per month.

IF YOU BUY ENVELOPES YOU WILL SAVE MONEY BY BUYING THEM HERE.

OUR CHALLENGE ENVELOPE at $2.30, $2.50, $2.70, are, we believe, the best envelope value in town to-day. THE CHALLENGE comes in 3 sizes—small, medium and large; the small at $2.30, medium at $2.50 and the large at $2.70. THE CHALLENGE is a good, strong, oblong, commercial envelope, good enough for your own use, and a splendid one for retail. We have sold over a million of them in the last 12 months.

Our APEX Envelope at $2.50 and $2.70 is the same shape as the Challenge, but it is a better grade envelope, with a very smooth surface and well finished. It is an ideal envelope for retail purposes. We have over half a million of these two grades in stock.

Our No. 6602 BARONIAL is a good, smooth-finished, strong, square envelope. We have it in cream and in white at $3.50 per thousand, and at this price it is worth while seeing. If you use or sell square envelopes.

Some persons prefer a Colored Envelope. If you are one of these persons we can give them to you in red, yellow, green or pink; good large size well finished commercial envelopes, something distinctive for you at $2.00 per thousand, and extremely good value, and when printed look most attractive.

We are also selling a cheap Manila Envelope, if you are interested in getting them cheap for ordinary use. We have all sizes in Pay and Coin Envelopes; we have all sizes in White and Cream Pencil Envelopes; we have all sizes in Linen Lined Envelopes; we have all sizes in Square Envelopes; we have all sizes in thin Opaque Envelopes for foreign correspondence; in fact we have more envelopes than you have seen at any one time at any one store. The qualities are good and the prices are right. If you buy your Envelopes at Dicks & Co. Ltd., you get just what you need, and you get them at the right price.

Four Main Things to be Remembered:

SAFETY—Every share we market is backed by a Bond, itself backed by a $2,000,000 Company, that has Hundreds of Millions of Dollars behind it.

PERMANENCY—We do not offer investments that pay to-day and die to-morrow. That would be Business Insanity. Our Perfection offering, for instance, will be paying dividends just as long as rubber trees are used and longer.

GROWTH—From practically nothing to hundreds of acres of land and expensive plants fitted with costly machinery, employing hundreds of skilled workmen to build the one and only ASBESTOS FABRIC TIRE, to fill a waiting market—has been the visible growth of the Company. Its greatest growth is still ahead of it.

EARNING POWER—To-day ONE PER CENT. MONTHLY DIVIDENDS are being paid. That will increase to TWO per cent, and then FIVE, and later TEN, and right up to TWENTY PER CENT. MONTHLY as the years go by. All the other Tire Companies have done it under less favorable conditions, and what others have done, logically Perfection can do.
