A REQUEST TO MOTORISTS— "SAFETY FIRST"

While a forty foot roadway (sufficient for two cars to pass) has been left on Bannerman Road, owing to the large number of children who are likely to patronize the Circus it is respectfully asked that motorists (and other vehicular traffic) avoid using Bannerman Road (between Military and Circular Roads)
as much as possible during the time the Circus is in the city.
This is merely a request to motorists and not an order.
This request does not apply to Regatta morning and afternoon, during which time it is understood the Circus will not operate in order not to interfere with the city's special Sporting Day.

Coal Settlement Effected by Means of Government Subsidies

Employment Insurance Bill Passed by House of Commons—Ruhr Evacuations Will be Completed To-Day—Field-Marshal Earl and Lady Haig Homeward Bound.

INCREASING RUBBER EXPORT.

LONDON, July 31. The British Colonial Office announced to-day it has decided to permit, from August 1st, the export of 75 per cent. of rubber production in Ceylon and the Straits Settlements, at the minimum duty; this being ten per cent. increase over the export allowed during the previous three months.

A DOUBLE MURDER.
BRADFORD, Pa., July 31. Two unidentified men were shot to death shortly before noon to-day, by unknown assassins. The bodies were found in an automobile bearing a New York State license issued to Vincent Tikhini Olean. Loaded pistols were found on both bodies.

FORD'S BID ACCEPTED.
WASHINGTON, July 31. The Shipping Board was advised to-day by Attorney General Sargent that it had authority to sell two hundred vessels for scrapping to Henry Ford, as recommended by President Palmer of the Fleet Corporation.

EARTHQUAKE IN ITALY.
FOGGIA, Italy, Aug. 31. Earthquake shocks were felt here to-day, a hundred houses and a municipal building being damaged. Some of the houses were untenanted. No one was injured.

PROVISIONAL AGREEMENT.
LONDON, July 31. Prime Minister Baldwin informed to-day that a provisional agreement had been reached in the coal industry, and that the mine owners have withdrawn notices for two weeks thus avoiding the country wide strike which was called for midnight to-day. It is assumed that the mine owners will continue to work under the existing agreement for at least nine months. The Trades' Union Congress has lifted the threat of a strike on all coal movements in Great Britain, and has announced that all mines involved will continue to work. A supplementary estimate in connection with the coal settlement will be presented in Parliament on Wednesday and discussed on Thursday.

EMPLOYMENT INSURANCE BILL PASSED.

LONDON, July 31. The Employment Insurance Bill passed by the House of Commons to-day after a Labor motion to reject it was defeated by 263 to 98. The measure was one of the most important projects announced in the recent budget presented to Parliament by Chancellor Winston Churchill.

HAIG LEAVES FOR HOME.
MONTREAL, July 31. Field-Marshal Earl Haig and Countess Haig sailed for home from Montreal this morning on the steamer Le-Lafayette. A large crowd assembled to bid them farewell.

RUHR EVACUATIONS COMPLETING.
ESSEN, July 31. The last of the French troops who have been here since early 1923, began to leave at 7 a.m. The second phase of evacuation of the Ruhr started with the departure of the troops gathered at Essen several days ago and it is expected the Ruhr will be completely cleared of French and Belgian troops by to-morrow.

BROADCASTING FROM THE ARCTIC.

CHICAGO, July 31. The flagship Peary of the MacMillan Arctic expedition will attempt short wave broadcasting of the human voice.

Industrial Home Association

AND THE BENEFIT OF CO-OPERATION.

Despite the downpour of rain on July 28th, our Flower Day was a marked success, and we thank heartily all the ladies, younger and older, who helped to make it so.

It is certainly a cause for great rejoicing that the work of caring for the homeless and straying being done quietly in our midst is receiving greater recognition; still we are not content with present conditions. Great lack of co-operation is evident—over and over again is heard the comment "you are always appealing for help"—that remark or a similar one, is made in connection with every charitable or philanthropic effort by somebody or other. Now then where is the remedy? Why go on objecting if we can find a cure? If there is no cure, let us continue in our usual way and bear the grumbling, taking our chance with all others. A tag day is held in aid of the Daughters of Empire activities, we have Poppy Day, Forget-me-not Day for the G.W.V.A., garden parties occur every week in aid of various objects all highly deserving of support, the S.P.C.A. holds a tag day in order to raise the funds of their worthy work, the Grace Maternity Hospital endeavours to get their chance but must wait whilst others go on soliciting help, the Girls Industrial Home Association have for several years held a Flower Day. Why are the little ladies who so cheerfully go forth bearing the dainty and beautiful blossoms greeted by many with disdain or still worse the stinging remark "what have you on next week?"

My fellow citizens, are you satisfied to allow so many girls to get no chance to redeem the past? Must all who fail or are tempted to err because they have either no home or a hotel that cannot be called "home" be sentenced to the penitentiary instead of an Industrial Home, where they can be taught to help themselves and become women useful to the community instead of a burden? One of the solutions of this constant overlapping and to my mind the chief one is, the meeting together of the Presidents and Secretaries of all these charitable organizations in order to amicably discuss and kindly agree to have certain days on which to solicit or to have one big day in the year, pooling the receipts and allotting to each a proportionate sum to help the work being done by each—this may be a vision or a dream, let us hope it may come true.

To show what can be done by co-operation, let me tell you a story of what took place within two months of the writing was privileged to attend a social gathering held in Canon Wood Hall by the W.H.M.S. of St. Thomas' Church. At the close of the program, Lady Allardice, in her graceful speech of appreciation to the performers, related the story of a child in our midst whose foster mother desired to find somebody else to care for it. The child was about three years old, unable to walk, said to be mentally deficient, a truly needy case from all standpoints; nobody could be found to care for it, there was no institution to which it could be sent—surely there was Home Missionary Work at hand.

Speaking with Lady Allardice at the end of the evening we asked had an appeal been made to the Industrial Home Association. "No" was the reply, "I did not think of it, could you see what could be done?" The Community Nurse, Miss Anderson, was seen, Sister Capt. Sainsbury and the President of the Association visited the home of that child in our midst. Seated in a low chair sat a child of some nine years old holding a frail-looking baby of about one year old, playing about the dirty room were two other small children, across the room, in an armchair sat the child in the midst, yes, in the midst of misery, bright-eyed but uncomfortable to say the least, thin, little spindles for legs, showing every sign of malnutrition—mother had gone to visit some friends—"When will your mother return?" "She said she would be back about five o'clock," answered the miniature nurse.

STRENGTH & BEAUTY

What you want is new life. You cannot fight this life's battles unless you are "fit." You are not a "real" man unless you have proper manly strength. The strong man is the admiration of all—the weakling goes to the wall.

You have lost your strength through past faults or excesses, but now you can regain it. Electricity, applied by the renowned "AJAX," will correct your weakness and make you a live man. To be strong and healthy means a happy home and success in life. Now is your opportunity.

ELECTRICITY IS LIFE

Find out to-day what a rational application of life-giving Electricity can do for you.

The AJAX Dry Cell Body Battery will work wonders for you as it has done for thousands of others. It rejuvenates you, and even when approaching old age you can regain new life and strength. Every organ is controlled by the nerves, and you want new life in the nervous system; the "AJAX" will give it to you, and our 92-page illustrated book tells you in plain language how it is done, so write for this book to-day. It costs you nothing, but it will prove to you that you can regain your vigour.

NEITHER EXPENSE NOR OBLIGATION

of any kind is entailed in asking for this book, and at once you will learn that there is not a case of Nervous Debility, Neurasthenia, or Weakness with which the "AJAX" cannot cope.

It drives out your pains and aches. Rheumatism, Lumbago, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Stomach, Liver, and Bladder troubles are banished. This book should be in every household. Write to-day for the book. It is sent in closely-sealed envelope perfectly free—you need not even enclose stamp for reply. Special booklets for Ladies and Gentlemen; please specify which is required when writing.

In order to save time correspondents should, when writing for the Free Booklet, state their age, sex and full details of their case, for then precise advice can be sent by return mail. All letters are treated in the strictest confidence.

At 5.30 p.m., another visit was made, still the little uncare for children held the fort, the child patiently seated in the same position in that old armchair! A few more questions threw more light on the matter and conditions were reported to the Health Officer. Days passed, bringing experiences pathetic and amusing in connection with that child, but we held on. It is now in the Grace Maternity Hospital receiving care and under treatment is almost able to walk. The Child Welfare Association is paying for its expenses for a month, then we take it to our Home and give it a chance for restoration to normal conditions, return it to its foster mother and watch its growth and mental development, giving advice when necessary—that to me, is practical missionary work, and shows how one Missionary Society, the Child Welfare and the Industrial Home Association can work together. Let us wake up fellow workers, let us help each other to help those who cannot help themselves because they do not know how to do it.

A Sportsman's Paradise

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir—As I am about to leave this busy little city of yours—the Capital of our Dominion of Newfoundland—and the Dominion of Canada (as so many of our American cousins in writing us address our letters "the Dominion of Canada") I cannot leave without expressing my sincere thanks to you, sir, for the many kindnesses received from you in helping to place on the map that great Bay of bays, Notre Dame, and especially the western portion of that Bay of bays, namely Hall's Bay, which is a most beautiful valley of scenic beauty, where not only the salmon and trout love to swim and deposit their spawn in the Birchy Lakes, Sandy Lake and the Grand Lake, but where the Caribou and Moose have made their home both in Summer and Winter. There also are the Fox and the Beaver, the latter I think the most interesting of all our wild animals. To watch them felling the birch trees to get the small branches for food, or to observe them building their cone shape houses and the dams across the rivers is wonderful to behold.

The country through which the Indian River flows is practically level land, consequently there can be no dangerous rapids or "quick" water. Our mail couriers as far back as 20 years ago brought our mails out this river from the train at Sandy Lake to Springdale, Hall's Bay, and forty and fifty years ago our men brought their caribou down this river. They would take the inside out of the caribou, tie the carcasses to their boat and looked upon it as profitable sport to "run" the river with their winter's meat.

I would suggest to my sportsmen friends to lose no time next summer because once the railroad or motor road comes through that valley it will no longer be the vacant sportsman's paradise that it is now. If our Highways Commission would only build eight miles of main road from South Brook, Hall's Bay, to Springdale to connect us with the motor road that is already put through from the railway at Badger Brook to the Hall's water at South Brook, that eight miles of road would assure quick return to the Government not only to accommodate sportsmen but about four thousand fishermen and miners, the bone and sinew of this Nfld. of ours.

Apologizing, Mr. Editor, for taking up so much of your valuable space and thanking you for past favours through the columns of your paper, and my old and new friends for many kindnesses received from them during my stay here.

Yours truly,
THOS. E. WELLS.

REGATTA MEETING.
Boats' Crews Entered And Stakes Drawn.

At last night's meeting of the Regatta Committee, with President J. A. Hiscok in the chair, considerable business was dealt with, and everything is now practically finalized to ensure the success of our annual Derby. Following the reading of minutes of last meeting, P. F. Moore, M.H.A., handed over to Treasurer, Jeanne, substantial cheques which he had received from Messrs. J. P. McCormick and W. B. Somerville, who are at present in the city from Boston. Mr. J. T. Foran, reported that he had made arrangements to collect from the employees of the W. I. Bishop Co., and that a substantial cheque can be looked forward to. Mr. Robert Simms, on behalf of the employees of Bowring Bros., presented a cheque for $192.75, with a letter enclosed conveying best wishes for a successful Regatta. A contribution was also received from the 'Longshoremen's Union, amounting to $90.00. Treasurer Jeanne reported that the collections to date amounted to $2,155.48, or $138.40 over this date last year. At the suggestion of Secretary Ellis it was unanimously decided that Mrs. Hiscok, wife of the President, be again invited to assist Lady Allard in the distribution of prizes. A. H. Thomas was appointed as an additional timekeeper. The matter of the usual Committee luncheon, was discussed and on motion of Mr.

J. M. Sparsna, seconded by Councillor Dowd, it was decided, in view of the need for economy this year, that it be dispensed with. A vote of thanks was unanimously accorded Secretary Ellis, on motion of J. M. Sparsna, seconded by E. A. Smith, both of whom spoke in glowing terms of the services in connection with the Regatta. The final entry of crews then took place, drawing stakes, etc., which will be found as follows:

CHRYSLER SIX

WHY CHRYSLER SIX OWNERS Find Greater Enjoyment in Motoring

On every hand you will hear Chrysler owners, many of whom have owned or now own cars far higher in price, declare there is no possible substitute for the driving brilliancy of the Chrysler Six.

Women of taste—both those who seek restful riding and those who enjoy zestful driving—find that Chrysler ease of handling, roadability and smoothness give a new pleasure to motoring.

The reason, of course, is that the Chrysler Six in its steadiness, safety and security, strips away every element of nervous strain. Instead of sluggishness, it charms with an eager swiftness. It offers compact roominess in place of cumbersome heaviness. Balloon tires, Chrysler-designed spring suspension and Watson stabilizers which eliminate all the shock of road inequalities, replace the usual wearing tension with the luxury of perfect comfort.

Seven bearing crankshaft and camshaft combine with perfect balance to give the Chrysler Six a soothing smoothness of operation. Such engineering advances as a Purolator, which filters the crankcase oil as the motor runs; the air-cleaner, which keeps all dust and road dirt out of carburetor and motor; Chrysler-Lockheed hydraulic four-wheel brakes, which add the final factor of safety, give to Chrysler motoring a new and unequalled delight.

Low to the ground, lithe and graceful, every line and contour is restful to the eye. Here is a new style and beauty—distinctively Chrysler—which fittingly expresses the inherent fineness, high quality and superior craftsmanship which make Chrysler value unapproachable.

Your nearest Chrysler dealer is eager to have you experience the revelations and thrills of the Chrysler Six type of motoring.

A REVIVAL OF BASEBALL

The Fieldian Athletic Grounds Association have arranged a game of baseball to take place next Saturday, August 8th, between a team from the Hamilton-Rodgers Amusement Company (the Circus people) and a City team under the management of Mr. C. Hall. As many of the staff of the Hamilton Rodgers Company are college students working with the Company during the vacation, and as there is much good material in the City, an interesting game is being looked forward to. Full particulars will appear later in our advertising columns.

JUNIOR LEAGUE FOOTBALL

Holy Cross 3; Gaelic 0.

Only a small attendance of spectators turned up at St. George's Field last night to witness the Junior League game between Holy Cross and Gaelic teams. Despite the westerly breeze the game on the whole was very good with Holy Cross having by far the best of play, and won out by 3 goals to nil.

In the first half, Holy Cross, playing from the western end, confined the ball to their opponent's territory. Attack after attack followed, but the Gaelic backs defended well. Play continued in this manner for upwards of fifteen minutes, until Tobin sent in a drop shot from centre field, which passed underneath the crossbar, registering the first goal for Holy Cross. A few minutes later C. Byrne sent over a beauty from the right wing, which easily found the net. The Gaelic forwards made desperate efforts to get the ball west during this half, but Murphy & Company stilled them on every occasion. When the whistle blew for a brief breathing spell, the score stood, Holy Cross 2; Gaelic 0.

Second Half

When the teams crossed over, Holy Cross played an open game against the wind, and confined the ball for some minutes on Gaelic goal. The Gaelic boys were not taking anything, however, and saw the Gaelic team playing hard on the Holy Cross goal, but several good chances were lost through faulty shooting. Play for the next ten minutes was of a give and take nature, with several corner kicks being nicely placed, which brought no results. However, after about 15 minutes play, Holy Cross made another speedy run west and, on a pretty pass from the right, Murphy captured the leather and beat Hamlyn for the third and last goal. When full

DELANEY WINS IN NINTH

NEW YORK, July 24.—Jack Delaney (184) to-night scored a technical knockout over Jack Burke (175), of Pittsburgh, in the ninth round. Delaney scored his opponent three times before the referee finally stepped between the two men to save the Pittsburgh man from further punishment. The latter objected strenuously and made a swing at the referee. The Bridgeport fighter scored Burke twice in the first round and again in the fifth. Each time Burke was saved by the bell, but in spite of Delaney's efforts later to end the match by a knockout, his Pittsburgh foe refused to go down for the ten count.

Larry Estridge fought ten rounds to a draw with Italian Joe Gans.

The King of Wild Horses

A Sensational, Amazing, Unique Drama of an Unconquered Horse and Brave Hearts

If you think you have seen—

Daring that thrills—
Deeds that inspire—
Action that's tense—
Love that throbs—

See the screen's most startling story of a wild horse—

Of a breed that knew not bit nor bridle.
With fiery spirit untamed
Magnificent power unrivalled
Proud heart unconquered.

The Most Dangerous Horse in Captivity, supported by Edna Murphy, Leon Bary, Charles Parrott, Pat Hartigan, Sidney De Grey.

"Tip, tap, tippety tap!"
Who's knocking on the door?
Thought the bunny boy as he quickly hopped
Across the kitchen floor.

"Why, it's Daddy Longlegs!" he shouted the next minute. Sure enough, right there on the little back porch stood that eight legged gentleman in sect, a round red cap on his head, and goodness gracious me! four pairs of shoes on his feet.

"I left my pushmobile at the gate," explained Daddy Longlegs, clattering into the next little kitchen to sit down in the rocking chair. Goodness gra-acious me! again. His eight long legs almost reached across the room and the little rabbit had to give a hop-tidy over all of them to reach a chair.

"Where's mother?" asked the old gentleman insect, wiping his face with a pink pocket handkerchief, for the day was warm and Mr. Merry Sun was shining down from the Blue Sky Country with a smile and a winkery blink.

"Visiting Cousin Cottontail for the afternoon," answered the bunny boy.

"But she'll be back in time for tea.
She won't forget her Little Me."

"I should say not," laughed Daddy Longlegs, with a grin. "She's the best mother in all Rabbitland. And the prettiest, too, only don't tell her I said
so. I don't believe in compliments," and the wise old insect crossed one of his eight legs over another.

"One of your shoes has a hole in the sole," suddenly exclaimed the little rabbit.

"That's the foot I push with the most," explained Daddy Longlegs.
"Maybe I'd better go to the shoemaker this afternoon. Want to come along?"

Of course the little bunny did. He was always ready for an adventure, and, moreover, he hadn't seen Daddy Longlegs for a month of Sundays.
"Will you let me have the pushmobile part of the way?" he asked. "Oh so wist-ful-ly."

"As sure as I'm sitting here in your kitchen," answered the obliging old insect. "Come, put on your cap and we'll start so as to be back in plenty of time for supper."

Carefully locking the kitchen door
and placing the key in his knapsack,
the little rabbit followed the old gentleman insect down the winding path through the bushes to the little white gate in the old picket fence. "You may take the pushmobile as far as the top of the hill," said Daddy Longlegs, starting off at a rapid rate up the Old Cow Path.

"Ha, ha!" laughed the bunny boy, standing on his left hind leg and using his right for a pusher. "If I reach the top first may I coast down the other side?"

Goodness gracious me, four pairs of
shoes on his feet.

"Wait till you get there," shouted the funny old gentleman insect, who was now half way up the hill. My, how fast he could make his eight long legs travel! With only one for a pusher the bunny boy found it no easy matter to catch him.

"Go it, little rabbit!" shouted Bobbie Redvest from the apple tree.
"Catch him!" sang Happy Bluebird from a fence rail. "Hurry up!" called Chippy Chipmunk from the Old Stone Fence. But the little rabbit wasted no words in replying, but pushed away with all his might right into the next story.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR SORE FEET.

Our Dumb AnimalsREPORT OF CHIEF AGENT S. P. A.
WEEK ENDING JULY 31.

Was asked by the Police Department to put to death three dogs which had bitten children, one on Signal Hill, one on Sebastian Street and one at the North Battery. Two dogs were killed by motor cars, one on Harvey Road and another opposite the General Post Office. Received a report of some cows being left at large inside the Ropewalk, Pennywell Road, and got tangled in a wire fence. A gentleman who happened to be passing by at the time got them clear. Very thankful to him for his interest in so doing.
Have a report of a cabman beating a horse about the head on Water Street west. Am investigating the matter.

Visited the Dock where the horses are hauling stone under Mr. Power. All are in fairly good condition. The loads average from 1800 to 2000 lbs., which to my mind is only a uniform load on the level. Also Lester's heavy teams in perfect and splendid condition.
Visited two sales of cattle. Had one cow removed off the wharf. The animal was suffering from a bruised quarter and was not sold. I understand it has since been looked after by Dr. Bishop. I would like to thank Messrs. Moore and McLeod for the humane way they have their sheep removed (all on their feet in a box on a sleeve). I attended to the landing of seventy head of cattle and two horses from S.S. Hitherwood; also 130 head cattle, 4 horses, lot of pigs and sheep from S.S. Canadian Sapper. Both Mr.
Bartlett and his men of Harvey & Co.
and Mr. Kennedy and those under him at the Furness Withy Co. do everything in their power for the comfort of the animals in having them watered and fed on landing. There are four horses in for a rest. Some thirty-seven reports have been attended to during the week. I would like to say a few words to all horse owners about the coming Regatta Day not to do any over driving. The police and myself will be looking after this. I would like to thank all who took an active part in the Tag Day which, as far as I understand, was quite a success.

JONAS BARTER,
Chief Agent.

A Temporary Adjustment

The coal strike which threatened to paralyze the industrial life of Great Britain has been averted for the time being, and the former agreement between the mine owners and mine workers will continue in operation for the next nine months by means of Government assistance.

To-day's message states that the Miners' Unions are elated over the victory, and it may be that the mine owners are also gratified to be relieved to a considerable extent of their obligations, but the feelings of the ordinary taxpayers, who have to shoulder the additional burden laid upon them by the bounties and subsidies granted, will it is certain be anything but pleasant.

Prime Minister Baldwin has been faced with a serious problem, and the country with a crisis, and whether the policy adopted has strengthened the position of the Government on the one hand, or tends to relieve the general situation on the other, remains to be seen. Government aid has so frequently been resorted to of recent years to postpone consideration of the pressing evil or to avoid laying bare its real causes, that the tendency is to turn to this source for help in all difficulties.

In the present instance, the issue is national rather than sectional in its importance, and until it is dealt with as such, there is little hope that the country will obtain from its main industry the results to which it is justly entitled.

Important Result of Medical Research

From the reports of the latest English papers it would appear that the utmost importance is attached to the results of the medical research made by Dr. W. E. Gye and Mr. J. E. Barnard, F.R.S., whose papers dealing with their work were published in a recent issue of the Lancet.

The Lancet declares that these articles may prove to be the beginning of a revolution in medical research not only with regard to cancer, but also measles, smallpox, sleepy sickness, foot and mouth disease, and even distemper in dogs.

Dr. Gye has been engaged for some time, with the assistance of Mr. Barnard, in the search for filterable viruses. They have, as already reported, succeeded in establishing the existence of a living cancer virus.

Mr. Barnard has rendered the virus visible and has even photographed it. A second specific factor obtained from the tumour extracts ruptures the cell defences and enables the virus to infect.

In its leading article the Lancet says:

All this work has cleared the way for a rapid advance in the investigation of cancer along entirely new, but clearly defined lines. A host of new questions has arisen, and we have no doubt that by answering them the attack on the cancer problem, which has hitherto baffled medical science, will be brought to a successful conclusion.

than this. The new technical methods now made available will be applicable to research along a whole enormous front. Diseases like measles, smallpox and encephalitis, foot-and-mouth disease and dogs' distemper may yield their secrets to workers armed with these new weapons.

Dr. Gye's work, the paper points out, in cultivating a virus, and the success of Mr. Barnard in rendering the virus visible under the microscope have rendered untenable the view that chicken tumours are not due to a virus.

Dr. Gye's work has solved a dilemma in a manner which is as unexpected as it is convincing. He shows that there is both an extrinsic and an intrinsic factor concerned in the aetiology of cancer. The extrinsic factor is a virus common to all neoplasms. By itself it is incapable of producing a neoplasm. To do that it requires the intrinsic factor—a substance produced by the cells which enables the virus to attack the cells. The virus can be cultivated. The intrinsic factor which so far has been demonstrated only in different tumours is presumably produced by the cells in the course of chronic irritation. The intrinsic factor varies from tissue to tissue and from tumour to tumour.

Experimental cancer research has brought to light a number of other facts, the explanation of which has hitherto presented great difficulties. For all these difficulties Dr. Gye's work offers a satisfying solution—a good test of the value of the conception which he has formulated of the aetiology of cancer.

The hopes of many sufferers from this dread disease, which has for so long baffled scientific knowledge, have again and again been revived by reports that a cure for cancer has been discovered, only to have them dashed to the ground by the announcement that the cure has proved useless. Dr. Gye and Mr. Barnard have made no statement to that effect, but their discovery under the microscope and the new field that has been opened for further investigation give promise of leading to success in the near future.

Nfld. Visitors Tendered a Luncheon

At noon yesterday several members of the Holy Trinity Golf Club tendered a luncheon to Messrs. John P. McCormack and Wm. Somerville, Newfoundlanders from Boston, in honor of their visit. Among those present were His Worship Mayor Cook, President J. A. Hickey, of the Regatta Committee, besides a large number of other prominent citizens. The health of the visitors was proposed by Sir Michael Cusack. An excellent menu had been provided and was done full justice to by all. Mr. McCormack has been out of the country 50 years, and Mr. Somerville the past thirty years. During the balance of the afternoon the visitors played a round of golf with several of the members, and heartily enjoyed the game.

The annual party in aid of Topp's Parish will take place on Sunday next, August 2nd, at Powerscourt, Manuels. This year's event will eclipse all others. Preparations have been made to cater to a large number of visitors from town. Train will leave the station at 2.30 p.m. July 28, 29.

Circus in Full Swing To-Day

The large crowd of citizens that assembled around the Circus on Bannerman Road last night was the best indication of the interest aroused by the coming to town of an unusual attraction of this kind. Unfortunately the unavoidable delay in moving up the apparatus and erecting it, and connecting up the electric light made it impossible to open up the show, but everything will be in full swing to-day. Messrs. Rogers and Hamilton who are in charge are most enthusiastic over the success of the show while in Halifax, and feel certain that the patronage of the public in St. John's will well repay them for undertaking the long and expensive trip.

In view of the fact that the attractions are so many and varied and that the Children's Playground and Recreation Movement will greatly benefit by the entertainment, we bespeak for the show a very successful stay in the city.

CHILD WELFARE

HEALTHY BABIES.

"An Ounce of Prevention is Worth a Pound of Cure."
ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS OF JULY 18, 1925:

It was quite encouraging that quite a number thought it worth while to answer the questions on Feeding. We even had an answer from Trinity Bay.

We are very pleased to announce that Mrs. Bastow, of 153 Hamilton Avenue is the prize-winner. If she would call in to the Central Welfare Centre, at Duckworth Street, on Monday on Tuesday we would be glad to see her.

All answers sent in have been replied to individually. So much interest having been taken we will run another series in a week or two, so look out for more questions!

EXERCISE:

Remember baby needs exercise although he cannot walk. He wants movement for his arms and legs, and he wants to use his back to make the muscles strong. This is one reason why we do not like Blenders on Babies.

Roll away, baby, rock to and fro! Pull away, baby, kick as you grow! Shout away, baby, walls are not woe! Lungs are like bellows learning to blow. Work away, baby, if you would grow. C. W. A.

Passing of Well Known Cabman

Many will regret to learn of the death of Mr. Chesley Rowe, cabman, which occurred at his residence Mullock Street at three o'clock this morning, after only a few hours illness. Yesterday Mr. Rowe was apparently in excellent health and at 6 p.m. took a freight to the Railway station. On getting aboard his wagon to return to the stand he was stricken with paralysis. Friends rushed to his assistance and he was conveyed home in a semi-conscious condition by Mr. Raymond Earle. Dr. Knight was called and although everything possible was done to revive the patient he passed away at 3 a.m. The deceased who was regarded as one of the most courteous men on the stand is but 21 years of age. Left to mourn are a widowed mother, three sisters and one brother to whom general sympathy will be extended in their bereavement.

TO-DAY'S MESSAGES.

CAPTAIN OF MARLOCH AND PILOT EXONERATED.

MONTRÉAL, July 31. Captain Hamilton of the Canadian Pacific liner Marloch and the pilot in charge of the liner on its way up the St. Lawrence on the night of June 28 were both exonerated of blame in connection with the sinking of the tug Ocean King which was cut in two by the Marloch and which sank with the loss of nine of the crew. The decision was rendered by the Dominion Wreck Commissioner L. A. Demers.

WELSH MINERS DISPERSED BY POLICE.

AMMANFORD, Wales, July 31. Further disturbances occurred in the anthracite district when the striking miners visited the collieries intimidating officials and ordering the safety men from the pits. The strikers, starting the Rioters, demanded a reduction in the number of safety men, but they were dispersed by the police.

THE UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE BILL.

LONDON, July 31. The Unemployment Insurance Bill was passed by the Commons yesterday after a Labor motion to reject it was defeated by a vote of 283 to 98. The Bill amends the present unemployment insurance Act, and is intended to prevent unemployment benefits being obtained improperly. The Government hopes to save four hundred thousand pounds annually. The insurance scheme announced by Chancellor of the Exchequer Churchill in his Budget in April was a comprehensive contributory plan effecting the whole of the working classes. The Chancellor said it represented capital liability on the State computed at seven hundred and fifty million pounds.

LABOUR ELATED OVER THEIR VICTORY.

LONDON, July 31. The general strike of the British coal miners scheduled to start at 12 o'clock Friday night has been called off. What bid fair to be one of the worst industrial stoppages in modern times was avoided when Premier Baldwin promised a "subvention" to the mines, thus enabling the owners to continue their existing wage agreement for another nine months. Although the Government previously maintained the workers, it was not prepared to subsidize the mining industry, but Mr. Baldwin finally yielded in the face of a crisis. The miners are elated at what they considered a great victory, and their elation is echoed by the entire labor world, which has the great solidarity displayed by the Trade Union movement in Great Britain.

W. J. BRYAN BURIED.

WASHINGTON, July 31. William Jennings Bryan was buried in Arlington Cemetery yesterday.

REPORT OF RUPTURE OF NEGOTIATIONS NOT ACCEPTED.

PARIS, July 31. French officials connected with the settlement of France's war debt refused to accept the interpretations current in London that the suspension of the conference there of the French and British financial experts constitutes a rupture of the negotiations for France's adjustment of her debts to Great Britain.

PRESENT AGREEMENT TERMINATES.

ESSEX, Aug. 1. The Miners' Union have given notice that they will terminate the present wage agreement with the mine owners on August 31st. This action will be taken to secure higher pay.

DETROIT'S HEAVY RAINFALL.

DETROIT, Aug. 1. The heaviest rainfall here in years yesterday caused damages estimated between $500,000 and $1,000,000. Industrial plants, sewers and residential districts suffered severely from the floods and a number of pavements were washed out.

KATO TO FORM A NEW CABINET.

TOKIO, Aug. 1. Baron Kato who resigned with the Cabinet after a split over the new taxation proposals was reappointed Premier to-day and ordered to organize a new cabinet.

MACMILLAN PARTY HELD UP.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1. The Macmillan Arctic expedition is worried over the time being lost while it is blocked in by the ice pack off Melville Bay. Aside from dangers of such a situation, the time element is important. Macmillan described the serious ice conditions in a message to-day to the National Geographical Society.

ASSISTANCE WILL COST £2,000,000.

LONDON, Aug. 1. Notwithstanding the financial assistance which the Government is to give to the mine owners and which will add according to unofficial figures something like 10,000,000 pounds to the country's budget, there is a great sense of relief that the miners strike affecting over a million men has been prevented. Strike notices had been issued several days ago to take effect at midnight last night and the carrying out of the threat was averted only by a last minute offer of the Government to give financial aid to the mine owners to enable them to maintain the present wage scale. The agreement carrying the present scale of wages was to have expired at midnight.

NOTE OF THANKS—Mrs. M. St. John, Conception R., wishes to thank Drs. Keegan, Gagnon and Fox, also the sisters and nurses of the General Hospital and all kind friends who visited my son, Edward, while at that institution.

MORE TROUBLE IN CHINESE TOWN.

PEKIN, Aug. 1. Unofficial advices from Nanking says a riot in which one British subject was killed took place at a factory of the International Export Company after a wage dispute last night. British employees of the factory are reported to have fired on the rioters killing four and wounding several others. British marines are now guarding the factory. Most of the British employees have been taken aboard warships, but one of them is reported a prisoner at Nanking University.

Dr. F. A. Jones, Dentist, will be out of town from July 31st to August 15th.—July 28, 29.

Prospectus of New Hotel

From the prospectus of the Newfoundland Hotel Facilities, Ltd., which has just been issued, we find that the name of the new building will be The Royal Nfld. Hotel.

The directors of the enterprise are: Hon. S. D. Blandford, High Sheriff of the Supreme Court, President; B. E. Stafford, Vice-President, and Antonio Langlais, K.C., of Quebec.

The prospectus covers the issue of $400,000 7 p.c. Cumulative Preference Stock. The estimated annual earnings of the hotel, which in addition to accommodation consisting of 150 rooms, will contain a grill room, Banquet hall, Ballroom, and seven shops on the ground floor, are $168,000. The annual estimated expenditure including interest and reimbursement of bonds and dividend on preference shares is $138,500, making the surplus earnings $29,500. Shares are selling at $100.00 each.

Washout at Humbermouth

As the result of a heavy rain storm on the western end of the railway line, on Wednesday night, a washout occurred about half mile west of Humbermouth, and tore away about four rail lengths of the roadbed. The point where the washout occurred is close to the sea at Humbermouth. The east and west bound trains were held up for several hours, and it was not until late yesterday afternoon that repairs had been completed and permitted them to proceed. Thursday's west bound train was reported at St. George's 9.30 last night, while the incoming express was due to arrive at 2 p.m. Much damage was also caused to telegraph poles and wires as a result of the heavy lightning and up to the present it is impossible for the railway to get in direct communication with Port aux Basques.

MORNING SESSION.

KENT, J.—Before you leave that Mr. Emerson, I would just like to know—the letter No. 40 states that the Trust should be agents in Europe for the sale of various properties, but it does not refer to remuneration at all.

MR. EMERSON—I see that. The only way I can account for that—Of course, the thing is loose. Like everything else done at that time. Evidently Mr. Thomson does not give any attention to these matters in the same detail as Mr. MacDonald. I think your Lordship will have to read the letter in this way: "Our proposal is that you and your brother, Mr. R. G. Reid, should join with us in the participation of the profits of the Trust Company in the selling or disposition of the Newfoundland properties, and would suggest to you the following:" Now it seems to me that item No. 1 is not necessary, or if it is necessary, it is necessary only in one way as it was, as a reminder, the Trust being your agents in Europe, that you remit Major MacDonald the £1,000 and take this option and the Trust takes this money. In other words, the letter is written not for the purpose of settling the question of agency, not for the purpose of settling remuneration, both of which were already settled, but for the purpose of settling the basis of the participation of the Reid Brothers in the Trust operations, both as to what they are to pay and what they are to receive and what the Trust is supposed to do and that only. No. 1 is an intimation that the Trust, being your agents in Europe, now you come in, pay a certain amount towards management expenses, join with us in our option on the shares, and the Trust will provide 210,000 Preference Shares, I see your Lordship's point quite clearly, and that is the only way in which it can be looked at, that the matter was treated in a very loose manner and the only object of writing here was to deal with matters which were not settled and matters which are not the kind that one would like to leave out of writing, especially in connection with the option of these shares, because this matter was left unsettled and was to be dealt with later, or even if it had been settled it ought to be still in writing as something the terms of which might subsequently be in dispute. But I submit that the letter itself is an indication that the matter of agency had been settled, and certainly no agent is going to work for nothing. Now Mr. Reid had already offered the Humber to Mr. Thomson.

On the basis of twenty-five per cent., and it is reasonable to suppose that if the matter of a ten per cent. commission came up, Mr. Reid would assent to it gladly, in view of the generous manner in which he was to treat Mr. Thomson only a few short months before. But, my Lord, that is not the only evidence that we have that a commission was in contemplation then. We have, as I say, No. 49, which is "J. A. McD. 5", where Reid says, "Will protect Trust for commission," which is quite objectless in view of what he says was his mental attitude at this time. It is quite absurd for him to say that if these people are going to deal on an option basis with my property that I am going to pay them £1,000 and then protect them for a commission if I sell to somebody else. And, besides, how could he sell to anybody else if we had an option? If he recognized that we had an option on the Gander, for instance, what right had he to negotiate in Montreal? He had no right whatever.

KENT, J.—The word "option" is evidently used in a very loose way. MR. EMERSON—Yes, by the Reids, but it is only confirmatory of what they thought as being the position, and all I ask your Lordship to do is to define the legal position from their own terms. They say an option means handing a property over to somebody to sell. I am quite content to accept the position that they were under option to that extent; with Reid's consent and our agreement, that the properties were handed over to us to sell.

MR. HUNT—My learned friend will, I am sure, agree that only two or three days before he had promised an option subject to prior sale, under No. 45.

MR. EMERSON—Yes, I am going to deal with it. As to what that means in view of the definition of option it is rather difficult to say. But, my Lord, if there is one document in the whole case which would set all this at rest, it is the cable from R. G. Reid to H. D. Reid in Montreal to which No. 54 is the reply, "Agree your terms Trust." There are only two documents of similar importance which are missing from this case, and they are the message from Conroy to the Reid Board here after the November letter and the reply. Now Mr. R. G. Reid sent this message. He has not got his copy. Now, are we going to suffer on that account? Then, in connection with the November messages—I shall refer to them again, but while on the point I want to make clear the position—Mr. Conroy sent the message from London to the Board here. He has got his copy and the Board has not got theirs. The Board sent a reply which Mr. Conroy received in London, and neither the office copy here nor Mr. Conroy's copy has been produced. And those are the most important documents in the whole case.

Now, Mr. Greenwood, who had been the recipient of the letter of November 18, 1919, No. 32, who had referred to it in his cable to MacDonald from Montreal and had received reference to it in the cable from MacDonald to him in Montreal, says in his letter, No. 57, which is "W. H. G. 19", that in regard to the discussion in London the only point for discussion was the payment towards management expenses. "The option you hold on the shares is as arranged in Montreal." Now here was Greenwood giving the final touch to all points which had come up for discussion in connection with the relationships between the Trust and Reid, and he says that there was only one point for discussion, and that was the question of the payment towards management expenses.

MR. HOWLEY—He says more. He says that the other point was arranged in Montreal.

MR. EMERSON—The option on the shares.

MR. HOWLEY—He says there is only one point left, because the other was arranged.

MR. EMERSON—You will find it in the letter of December 23rd. He means "The option you have on the shares of the Trust is as contained in the two letters No. 40 and 42." Reid is offered an option and accepts it. Now, why was it that that was the only point for discussion. All these matters must of necessity have been discussed by MacDonald, Greenwood and R. G. Reid when they arrived in London. Does the correspondence show that Major MacDonald is the kind of man who would be satisfied to go on this completely nebulous option letter after consulting Mr. Parker and writing that letter of November 10th and cabling Greenland in Montreal about it, and after showing his anxiety on every occasion to express his views in the clearest terms? Is he the type of man who would be satisfied not to know what had taken place in Montreal, and if that matter had not been settled in Montreal, do you imagine for a moment, my Lord, that MacDonald would have been satisfied to leave it unsettled with R. G. Reid when he arrived over. After all, Mr. R. G. Reid could discuss these matters, presumably; he would have authority to deal with them; and if Greenwood and Thomson had been negligent or incapable in Montreal in bringing about this agency agreement, then MacDonald was neither negligent nor incapable of insisting upon its being discussed at least with Mr. R. G. Reid when he arrived in London, and even if Mr. R. G. Reid refused to agree in London to it, it would be a point for discussion; but apparently that did not occur and Mr. Greenwood's only point for discussion was the question of a payment towards management expenses; and the only reason why it was the only point for discussion was because everything else had been settled; and it was after that, and after that matter had been settled that R. G. Reid sent his famous message. Now then, let us look at No. 61, 61 is "W. H. G. 15", written on the 12th March, 1920, by Mr. Greenwood to Mr. R. G. Reid, in which he says, "I have 'to-day, at the request of Major MacDonald, put through a draft on you 'through the Bank of Montreal, for £250 carrying out the arrangements 'made by your brother and Major 'MacDonald and myself with you for 'the monthly contribution to the 'Managing Expenses of the Trust. We 'will handle this matter, if it is satisfactory to you, in the same way every 'month and I will have on the back 'of the draft the fact that it refers to 'MacDonald and Greenwood.' Now, then, what does that letter mean? It means that the managing expenses of the Trust referred to MacDonald and Greenwood, that they intended to draw each month £250 referring to themselves, and they did that, at least he says, "I have to-day," and on that day they draw their first draft. Now, I think your Lordship will agree that, although I pressed him very hard, I could not get Mr. H. D. Reid to say definitely that he did not know that this money was going to MacDonald and Greenwood personally; he would not answer the questions directly; he would always end his answer by "for managing expenses." "I knew it was going to them for managing expenses." Now if this money was going to the Trust what should Mr. Reid know that it was going to MacDonald and Greenwood for managing expenses. Surely Mr. Reid must have said to himself, "If this money is going to the Trust for managing expenses it is absurd to say that it is going to MacDonald and Greenwood." It would have been bad enough if one name had been mentioned and that it was supposed to go to MacDonald, the Chairman of the Company, for management expenses. It might be intelligible that the Chairman of the Company should be the recipient of this money and pay it into the Trust, but that there would be two recipients of the money for managing expenses of the Trust, of it to be intended as a payment to the Trust, must have happened to Mr. Reid, if he thought of it, as being an extraordinary arrangement; and, I might say, my Lord, this extraordinary arrangement was never examined into by Mr. H. D. Reid when some months later he became a Director of the Trust, and furthermore, it is not referred to by Mr. Conroy in his letter to Conness and Hudson when setting forth the misconduct of which these people were guilty.

Recess was then taken until 2.30.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

MR. EMERSON—My Lord, I was still, when we took recess, dealing with the oral agreement, and as to whether our clients were to be charged with having deliberately made this agreement out of the whole, or whether, in view of the evidence of the Messrs. Reid, we were to take it that they had forgotten the existence of the letter No. 32, and by their conduct showing that they had forgotten it; and I had got to No. 61, because of the formation of the commission agreement—the oral agreement is intimately wrapped up in the agreements that were made for the payment to these two directors for their personal account.

Now, while on that point, of the payment of the £250 a month to the directors of the Trust, I think probably the most conclusive fact that shows that it was recognized at that time by Reid that this money was to be paid to the directors in their personal capacity and for their own use, is to be found in the fact that the whole sum of money paid under that arrangement is charged to Greenwood in the accounts of the Reid Company. These sums of money, of £250 each, were drawn for nineteen months, and every one of them, every one of the payments has been charged up in the Reid books to Greenwood. Not only is that so, but when the arrangement was altered by the personal commission note, and the £400 a month was substituted for the £250, that is charged up to Major MacDonald. In other words, Mr. H. D. Reid has recognized from the start that a certain amount of money had to be paid each month to MacDonald and Greenwood. He recognized that Greenwood was drawing for the £250 a month, and he charged it up to Greenwood, and then when Greenwood was coming out to Newfoundland and Thomson was going to remain in London—when the personal commission note made it £400 a month, the natural person to draw in London was Major MacDonald, and Reid left MacDonald and Greenwood to deal as between themselves in regard to the distribution of this monthly remittance.

Not only was this £250 a month charged to Greenwood, but if your Lordship will look at the evidence of Hector MacNeil, the comptroller and auditor of the Reid Newfoundland Company, you will find that it was charged up to Greenwood by H. D. Reid's instructions. Now, when it came down to the payment of the £175 a quarter, which was to be paid by the Reid Company towards the office rent and salaries of the Trust, that is charged up to the Trust by Reid; not to MacDonald or Greenwood, nor the Humber, but directly to the Trust; and it is charged up to the Trust in the Reid books again on the instructions of Mr. H. D. Reid. And insofar as the principle is concerned, the drafts for £250 a month, which Reid says were to go to management expenses of the Trust, were drawn, not by the Trust, but by Greenwood—every one of them, and every one of the £400 drafts were drawn by MacDonald, and every one of the £175 drafts, which were to go to the Trust were drawn by the Trust. That shows that Reid knew, and must be taken to have known that that £250 a month was to go to MacDonald and Greenwood personally, and that it had nothing whatever to do with the Trust, except insofar that they were going to give all their services to the Trust in the flotation and development of the Reid properties. Now, if Mr. Reid's evidence on this point is in conflict with ours, it is not to be wondered at. If he is wrong on any one point, if his memory fails him on any one point, it is just as liable to have failed him upon another point; and this is not the only point on which his memory was faulty. It is more than faulty, it is disgracefully faulty throughout the whole of the suit, showing conclusively that he was not paying proper attention to the business that he was employed to do. All through his evidence we find him telling us that he had Conroy in this thing, I had Powell to do other things; and he does not know whether the policy of Mr. Conroy, or the policy of Mr. Powell, or the policy of the Trust were changed from time to time. Take his evidence in connection with the very substantial variation in the policy in regard to the Blakstad. We know what happened to Blakstad deal. Original February, 1921 was to the Blakstad. That the Blakstad was been formed; but it is not a case of retailing Paper Co.; it was the Power and Paper selling its assets, and of the Mines and Forests of the Blakstad. Blakstad was to pay much bonds, and a cent of the share, and right sale which was Blakstad Company.

Now Mr. Conroy's solicitors, and Reid's is important, my Lord. Messrs. Parkers & Reid personally that opinion it would be out that scheme, so contract between the pay and the General Blakstad Company with cessations which were and so Mr. Conroy suggested that instead of a new company, Blakstad should proportion of the Blakstad Corporation. It should get a certain that he given extra Products Company.

Mr. Reid did not enclose a letter enclosing a letter to Messrs. Parkers and Reid, that under the instead of Blakstad, on the lands of the of the Humber Valley, and, paying $5,830,000 was to be the amended scheme $10,000,000 in shares.

Now if this was the D. Reid was attending of his company, that these facts, is it true did not know about this agreement in December whole truth of the D. Reid was not sufficiently seriously. Trust. He was young by his tremendous reaction with the Reid a general way in fact over there that then and he would be very them work for him under commission scheme, but the mind was to get the Blakstad deal. Originally the offer of February, 1921 was an outright sale to the Blakstad Company. It is true that the Blakstad company had not been formed; but at this time it was not a case of retaining the Power and Paper Co. It was a case of killing the Power and Paper Company by selling its assets, and some of the assets of the Blakstad Company to the Blakstad Company, for which Blakstad was to pay the various interests involved, so much cash, so much bonds, and about thirty per cent. of the share capital of the Company to be formed. It was an outright sale which would kill the Products Company.

Now Mr. Conroy informed the court, and Reid personally—this is important—my Lord—he informed Messrs. Parkers and Hammond and Mr. Reid personally that in his considered opinion it would be dangerous to carry out that scheme, because under the contract between the Products Company and the Government, the Products Company was given certain concessions which were not assignable; and so Mr. Conroy consequently suggested that instead of selling the assets to a new company to be formed, that Blakstad should get a certain proportion of the stock of the Products Corporation, and that Reid should get a certain proportion, and that he be given certain bonds of the Products Company.

Mr. Reid did not even know of that, although Mr. Conroy wrote him a letter enclosing a letter to Messrs. Parkers and Hammond. He did not know that under the amended scheme instead of Blakstad taking an option on the lands of the Reid Co., outside of the Humber Valley at $1.50 an acre, and paying Reid in cash, bonds and shares $5,830,000.00, of which $1,200,000.00 was to be shares, that under the amended scheme he was to get $2,600,000.00 in shares.

Now if this was the way that Mr. H. D. Reid was attending to the interests of his company, that he did not know these facts, is it any wonder that he did not know about the making of this agreement in December, 1919. The whole truth of the matter is that H. D. Reid was not, in December, 1919, sufficiently seriously interested in the Trust. He was completely overcome by his tremendous difficulties in connection with the Railway. He was in a general way interested in this Trust over there that Thomson had formed, and he would be very pleased to have them work for him under options, or under commission, or under any scheme, but the main point in his mind was to get Thomson down here to help him with the Railway; and we can see throughout the whole correspondence at that time that that was the one paramount desire in his mind, and that the Trust was looked upon as a plaything; and, after all, he did not mind paying them ten per cent. if he got thirty per cent. of the value that he placed on his properties. He would have been satisfied; and I am quite prepared to believe to-day that he has forgotten about this agency agreement, and that R. G. Reid has forgotten about it too.

In the first place, they do not seem to know what an agency is. They certainly do not know what options are. So, I suggest to your Lordship that if it comes down to a choice between saying that Thomson and MacDonald have fabricated the whole of this story, or that the Reids have forgotten it, I submit that the Reids themselves have made it impossible for your Lordship to find that their memory is reliable even on important matters, and this at that time was not an important matter for them.

Now, how did the Trust treat the matter?

After all, we cannot imagine that the Trust at this stage was going to create the agency which had been refused them. What happened when the Reid proposition came up? Did they say to the Reids, "We must have an option"? They were carrying on the Reid negotiations for a month before the question of their remuneration arose at all and then it arose at the investigation of the Reids. They had been carrying on the Reid negotiations for a month—I shall deal with the absurdity of my learned friend's contention about an option on the Humber in a moment—they had been carrying on for a month—that is the Blakstad negotiations; although they had the Humber matter in their hands since March—before there was any question about an option. Now, my learned friends themselves almost in so many words have characterized the personnel of the Trust as being of a comorant disposition. Can one imagine that these men were going to allow these negotiations to be carried on by them under no agreement. It is obvious that we never considered in connection with the Reid that we would have an option. We never asked for one; we never suggested one; and if we had been entitled to one, this comorant like corporation could have made two dollars on an acre on the sale of the Reid Co. outside of the Humber Valley at $1.50 an acre, and paying Reid in cash, bonds and shares $5,830,000.00, of which $1,200,000.00 was to be shares, that under the amended scheme he was to get $2,600,000.00 in shares.

What happened about the Humber? My learned friend suggests that we were working under an agreement for an option. Of course, the thing is absurd. If your Lordship will look at No. 78 in this volume, J. A. McD. 244, you will see a telegram dated the 24th June, 1920, from Comerfort to Harry Reid, St. John's. We had then been operating the Humber with Blakstad since March. We had been endeavoring to negotiate with Blakstad since the 20th March, and this is the 24th June.

"Bay Islands. Believe option will be accepted on payment one thousand pounds signing and ten thousand pounds 29th November"

Is that the message of a body that thought it was entitled to an option itself for the purpose of selling at a profit. That is obviously the message of an organization that were acting as agents for the Reids with other parties.

Then look at 77, which is J. A. McD. 247, dated the 30th June: "Humber group consider price excessive stop Water powers of no great value until they have been developed and land and pulp higher than can be purchased Scandinavia stop Mineral townsite and agricultural land problematical value . . ."

Is that the message of an organization that had an option or was seeking an option. The argument is perfectly futile.

That is the evidence of the messages that passed between our principals and ourselves, but here is the message that we sent to Blakstad, No. 90, W.H. G. 19, on the 17th July, 1920:

"Principals Newfoundland anxious discuss Humber with you."
"Principals"—not even Vendors. We indicate that we are acting as agents, and we show throughout the whole correspondence, and it stands out as clearly as possible that we never considered ourselves to be anything but agents for the Reid Company.

Now, as I say, here we had the two most important assets of the Reid Company in our hands, and had them in our hands for months, and there never was a question either from the Reids or from ourselves as to whether we were going to get on option on them—it was never suggested by either party, and the only conclusion we can come to is that at this time neither party—neither the Trust nor Reids—thought we were entitled to an option; and if we were not entitled to an option, then certainly we must have been operating under an agency agreement.

Then there is the famous letter from the Trust, No. 67. That is a letter W.H.G. 16 dated the 25th May, from the Trust to H. D. Reid, dealing with the Humber, in which Greenwood says:

"Over and above the usual percentage for the Trust, we would like you to state what amount"

"Over and above the usual percentage for the Trust" showing that so far as my clients minds were concerned, they were operating under a commission agreement. There is then a very significant matter, which your Lordship will bear in mind. Your Lordship will remember the circumstances under which the action of the directors of the Trust was brought to the attention of the meeting of the Trust—the meeting that we have termed and you will remember that so far as this case was concerned, no reference was made to this matter until the cross-examination of Major MacDonald, by my learned friend, Mr. Howley, and at that time he endeavored to have produced and put in evidence some documents which had not been disclosed and as a result of the non-disclosure I objected to the documents going in; but then the matter was pressed so far that I felt compelled to put in the whole correspondence in connection with this.

I have already submitted to your Lordship that we found a very unworthy conspiracy on the part of the Reid Company to stifle this action. We found further a letter sent to Conroy, which has been marked CONC. 59, which is the document that my learned friend produced to Major MacDonald; a letter intimating in a formal manner to the Directors of the Trust that at this meeting to be held in May, they intended to oppose the adoption of the accounts and the election of the retiring directors, and other points upon certain grounds, and one of these points is that the Company was formed virtually to negotiate for the Reid Company the sale of their concessions in Newfoundland at a commission of ten per cent. This is not the only really important thing that I shall have to refer to in this correspondence. The matter was first brought to my attention here, and it had nothing to do with the suit, but the manner in which it was brought up made it essential that I should demand a production of this correspondence; and by this correspondence we find that as early as June, 1922, Mr. Conroy is told by his friends, the preference shareholders in the Newfoundland Banking and Trust Corporation, that they believed that the object of the formation of the Trust was to handle the Reid Co. property at a commission of ten per cent.; and there is no protest from Mr. Conroy when he reads this letter. Where did these men, Cusens and Hudson and Jackson, get the idea that the basis of the formation of the Plaintiff company was a ten per cent. commission on the Reid properties. They had no communication with us, but we know that they were in communication with Conroy, and we know that they were meeting him.

Now, my Lord, you will remember that my learned friend, Mr. Hunt, stated in his opening remarks that he was going to have Mr. Conroy give evidence that he never heard, and the Reid Board of Directors and I must admit that he was successful in producing that evidence. Mr. Conroy stated that he never heard of this agreement being made. Now, what is the value of that fact that Mr. Conroy never heard of this agreement being made? The value of the fact that will depend upon how much Mr. Conroy heard on other matters related to the formation of this agreement, and we have that in his cross-examination, because I was particularly to ask Mr. Conroy about the various documents which have been disclosed in this case and are included in the volumes, during this period, in order to ascertain to what extent Reid had seen fit to break his usual silence, and inform his board as to what he had done when he was in Montreal.

Now, on page 8 of the morning session of July 3rd, Mr. Conroy is asked about various documents I asked him, first of all, whether he had seen H.B.T. 10, which is No. 7 in the volume dated April 2nd, 1919. That is a letter from Reid outlining to Thomson that the Reids should receive $250,000 in cash and a percentage of the stock and bonds, on the sale of the Humber. The first time he saw that was when it was produced in the volumes. Then I asked him to look at No. 2 in the volume, which is H.B.T. 5; that also dealt with the question of whether the Reids would receive about 40 per cent. of the common stock of a company to be formed, or more of the debentures and less of the stock. He had never seen that. He had never seen it before it was mentioned in the affidavit of documents. He does not remember No. 6, which sends the reports on the Products Corporation to Thomson. In regard to No. 45, which is also sending reports, he thinks he saw that when it was sent—not the original letter but a copy of it. That was to do with an option of the Humber to the Trust subject to prior sale. I asked him if he had seen any of the reports sent to Thomson, and he said no, they would be made up in the Natural Resources department; and I asked him did he know that the reports sent to Thomson had prices fixed on the properties for the purposes of sale, and he said—no. I asked him to look at No. 40—the famous No. 40. The first time, he says, that he saw that was in making up the affidavit of documents. I suggested to him that that was not so, because it was not even writing to MacDonald. As to No. 54, he never saw that until this suit started. That is the famous message in reply to the message which has not been produced. "Agree your terms Trust." As to No. 57, which is the one in which Greenwood says "The only point for discussion was the payment towards management expenses"—I think he said "I saw that at the time it was received," but when I pointed out to him that Reid was in Montreal at this time, and Mr. Conroy was in St. John's, he rather changed his point of view. He said, "I was not in Montreal." It was not disclosed in the affidavit of documents. He has never seen No. 51 until this action started; and that is the one where the $250 a month is mentioned by Greenwood as referring to MacDonald and Greenwood. As to No. 67, which I have just referred to as the one which speaks of "the usual percentage to the Trust," he says, "I think I saw that when it was received"; but he was not sure, and then I pointed out to him that that could not be so, because even that document was never disclosed in the affidavit of documents. He never saw 22; he never saw 48, 52 is the important letter of the 18th November, and 48 is the £1000 a year. I think I have mentioned that one before.

Now then in the second volume, he never saw 501 under which H. D. Reid undertakes to pay Thomson a further $15,000.00 a year to come down here and help him with the Railway. That is H.B.T. 48. Then he did not see No. 0186 or 197 (a) which deals with the personal commission note. There is rather a weird explanation as to why he did not, which is not quite clear to me. Then I asked him when he saw No. 132 which is the letter from Hughes to the Reid company, fixing the $175 a quarter towards rent and services of staff. He says: "I do not know. I think I probably saw it when it arrived here," but he does not remember. Then I have taken him through every payment that was made by the Reid people to the members of the Trust, and to the Trust itself, and none of them had been disclosed to him by H. D. Reid.

The mere fact, therefore, that he never heard of the 10 per cent. commission agreement is of no value whatever, because apparently Reid was too indifferent to what was going on in London, and too much occupied with the Railway to be worrying about the matter, and he forgot it as soon as it was settled.

MR. HOWLEY—If your Lordship will pardon me for a moment, I recall that in the course of my remarks I referred to the letter of November 5th, 1919, and the report of the directors of the Trust to the statutory meeting, as not being disclosed by the Plaintiffs. My learned friend contended that it had been disclosed by the Plaintiffs, and I would like to have permission to draw attention to the fact that it is not referred to in any way whatsoever, neither the report nor the letter of November 5th—not referred to in any.

MR. EMERSON—Is it not disclosed in the further list of documents that I sent to you in London?

MR. HOWLEY—No.

MR. EMERSON—Well, my instructions are that it has been disclosed by you. My copy of the affidavit of documents contains a specific reference to it. (Reads). It is on the bottom of the page.

MR. HOWLEY—Yes, that is so. My learned friend is right, but it is stowed away in a corner where I had not noticed it.

MR. EMERSON—The only other point to which I need refer in connection with the oral agreement is the question of the messages of April, 1920, in regard to the Gander; and my learned friend has argued that these show that at this time the Trust did not have any agreement in relation to the Humber. That is a purely fallacious argument. A great deal of energy has been expended on that message H.B.T. 69, and it becomes a matter for your Lordship to decide whether H.B.T. 69 has disclosed that mental attitude on the part of the Plaintiffs that my learned friend has suggested.

Now, on the assumption that there was an agreement, we must take that first. On the assumption that there was an agreement, and that the agreement between the Trust and the Reids to pay a commission, is there anything in these messages which shows that this agreement was not in their minds when these messages were sent. What I mean by that is: we have to assume, if we are going to construe these messages, that the Trust either had in mind that there was an agreement or that there was not. Now, assuming that the Trust had in mind that there was an agreement to pay ten per cent. and then looking at 69, which is J.A.McD. 24, sent on the 24th

April, 1920 in reply to 636 J.A.McD. 23, which was sent by Reid to the Trust on the 22nd April, 1920, suggesting a payment of a five per cent. commission on the Gander deal; we find the reply:

"Rothermere deal Trust has always been led to believe usual ten per cent. commission payable unless increased or decreased for some specific reason stop Cable sent Thomson as matter."

Now, as I say, assuming that there was an agreement, can your Lordship find that that agreement is negatived by the sending of that message, or that it was not, and I submit that your Lordship must find that it was not. And that message, my Lord, must be read in conjunction with Thomson's message of the 25th, because, of course, in that message J.A.McD. 24, they say "Cable sent Thomson as matter." That is to say they are sending Thomson a cable on the subject, and what is the cable to Thomson:

"Cannot under; and cables re commissions. Trust composed important business men who know ten per cent. can be asked by anyone on such transaction. Cabling Reid this message. Trust protection Trust in view of future business reducing commission to Trust without giving substantial reason will prove bad policy. So far as Greenwood you and myself are concerned, we of course, share in three (Continued on page 12)

THAT ELASTIC BAND—REACTION.

Not a Pose, A Reaction.

Have friend who makes it a point to speak very disparagingly of her children. Many people think this is a pose, and criticize her. "I think it is," she says, "but I don't think it's anything but a reaction. Nell had a sister about ten years older who was perfectly silly about her children. For years Nell heard her telling people how wonderful these perfectly good, ordinary children were, and she made up her mind that when she married and had children of her own she wouldn't give people a chance to say 'Isn't Mrs. ——— ridiculous about those children?' She has gone too far, of course, but that is a quality about reaction—it snaps from one extreme to another, like an elastic band.

Because She Hates That Fake Front.

Another pose I have heard criticized is that of a woman in our circle of friends who is always talking poverty. "We're sending Billy to public school this year," she says frankly, "to cut down expenses. I'm not going to have a maid next winter, partly because I want Milly to get out in the kitchen, but mostly because maids are so frightfully high nowadays. I wish we could go with you but really I think that hotel is too expensive. I'm looking for a cheaper place this summer. Do you like it? I'm so glad. It really didn't cost half as much as you'd think. I got it at a sale. There was the least little spot on it and I got it at half price."

With her, too, I feel sure this is nothing but reaction for she has a family of in-laws who disgust her by their way of putting on a front, and a false front, too. I have heard her say how she hates it and how determined it makes her not to be that sort.

One Of Those Terrible Sentimentalists. Sometimes you can feel this kind of a reaction going on in yourself. The other day after I had been in the company of one of those frightfully sentimental people who love to go to the cemetery and put flowers on the graves of people whom they criticized and quarreled with in life, I found myself talking with a good deal of diffidence about death and cemeteries. I was surprised and a bit shocked at my own lack of taste and realized that it was probably a rebound against that sentimentality.

Reaction is one of the forces that must be reckoned with in dealing with children. Small children imitate. Older children imitate but they also react against an excess of any quality. Don't rub anything in, even goodness, for it is very hard to stop a reaction.

He's always building fences or tearing down; he's surely lost his senses. I mulled with a frown; why doesn't he get busy, and buy a costly Lizzie, and joyride through the town? He's always making ditches or digging useless wells, and he has heaps of riches in safe deposit cells; I wonder, with my neighbors, just why he sweats and labors—he should be wearing bells. He sees me sit forever beneath my banian tree; I shy at all endeavor, dodge every job I see; the sunshine round me streaming, I sit there idly dreaming and drinking ginger tea. And he has asked me often, "Why don't you quarry stone? This laziness will soften the little brains you own; man's given them and muscle, and if he's wise he'll hustle to gain another bone. How can you sit and smoulder in this enchanted air, with fungus on your shoulder and mildew in your hair? To sit here in the shadow and dream of El Dorado won't get you anywhere." He thinks I am as silly as he appears to me; he's trotting like a filly while I am drinking tea; we both are happy mortals, we fill the air with chortles, though different we be.

Standard Declares Lloyd George Is The Premier Referred to.

LONDON, July 26—(C.P.)—London last night was all agog over a statement printed in the Evening Standard Friday that it understood that was former Prime Minister David Lloyd George of whom Marquis Curzon of Kedleston dealt with "pungent illuminating comment" in the so-called "literary testament" of his will, which was probated Thursday.

The newspaper said Marquis Curzon's sharp shafts were directed at Mr. Lloyd George for having adopted the functions of British Foreign Secretary during the arrangement of the peace treaty at Versailles. Curzon, during the framing of the treaty, was Lloyd George's Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs.

Nothing has been made public concerning the contents of the document, which was suppressed in the probate court because of the "startling revelations" it contained concerning the unnamed Premier and other unnamed former colleagues of Curzon in political life. It is possible that neither the contents of the document nor the names mentioned in it have been revealed to any one, except the judge of the probate court, the executors of the estate, and the "high personage in the political world" to whom the executors submitted it in order to obtain advice as to what should be done toward preventing the comment of the Marquis from becoming public property.

The Brigade lads at Topsall Camp continue to enjoy a glorious holiday.

Monday the usual routine was carried out and a big sing song was held in the Mess Hut during the morning.

Keeping everybody happy whilst the rain was keeping all ranks under cover. The Grand Falls orchestra, with Sergt. Cook assisted with the effects and delighted the audience. Corp Wiseman of the Bugle Band was conductor. Capt. A. S. Lewis acted as Chairman and acted as the Humourist on the programme. A feature of the day was the singing of "Mutt and Jeff" whose contributions were really class. Lieut. Constable contributed a fine solo—"A Parody on 'It won't rain no more'." The Chief Medical Officer Captain Burden was on the programme but unfortunately had forgotten to bring his music. The lads hope to hear him later. Ptes. Scurry and Mosdell's elocution was excellent. At night the Warrant and N.C.O.s held their annual dance in the S.U.F. Hall. Lieut. Constable of Grand Falls was the floor manager and the Grand Falls trio provided the music in splendid style. Tuesday the lads carried out the usual routine and half the lads in camp slept in the cook house owing to the rain. Corporal Fitzgerald of Trinity East-Port Rexton Company was in charge of the guard. On Wednesday the annual Camp Sports were held. Among the visitors were the Bishop of Newfoundland, who spent the day at the Camp by his attendance. The Women's Guild of Topsall served teas to the public visiting camp and received over a hundred dollars towards the funds for a new school building, which is badly needed. Camp Commandant Harold Hayward placed all the camp resources at the disposal of the ladies to help out their noble efforts. The prizes were won as follows:—

TROUBLED WITH ECZEMA IN RASH

All Over Scalp, Itched and Burned, Cuticura Healed.

"I was troubled with eczema. It broke out in a red rash all over my scalp and after a time turned to pimples. It itched and burned all the time and caused my hair to fall out."

"I read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a free sample and after using it found great relief. I purchased more, and after using two cakes of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment I was completely healed." (Signed) Miss Sarah G. Davidson, Summer St., New Glasgow, Nova Scotia.

"equal parts all monies received from Newfoundland business either through the Trust or other channels."

Now here is a Trust composed of important business men, men who knew, as appears by the letter to Conroy from Jackson, Hudson and Cusens, men who knew and have been informed apparently that ten per cent. commission is payable to the Trust on the Reid business; and they were to say that these business men know that and they know further that ten per cent. can be asked by anyone on such a transaction, and if you reduce that commission it is going to be bad policy for future business. Now it is not a statement from the Trust that if you offer us less than is given to people in London on similar transactions; but "if you reduce" now you can only reduce a standing charge—an agreed amount. It is a suggestion that we have an agreement and if you reduce that will do incalculable harm to your own interests here. So I submit that these two messages taken together, especially when we see the suggestion that the commission should only be reduced for good reason, and that any other reduction would be bad policy, it suggests as I say, that they Had a Fixed Rate of Commission on the business that had been agreed to, but they were willing that it should be reduced, if there was good and substantial reason for reducing it. And this position is made stronger by the fact that, when the very good reason did arise in the case of the St. John's Electric Power Company Bonds, and they were merely raising bonds, and not selling any property, they realized that it was only fair that they should be satisfied with something less, and in fact they were willing to accept a broker's commission of two per cent., or whatever the usual brokers' commission is; anyhow, something considerably smaller than they were supposed to get if a sale took place. I submit that on every hand the evidence shows that Reid knew and the Trust knew, that there was an agreement for their acting as agents, and that Reid knew and the Trust knew that the agency commission was to be ten per cent. on sales or other dispositions of the properties. Now, my Lord, I intend to pass on from the oral agreement; and in connection

With the Sale of the Gander, I would like to say that I take issue with my learned friend when he says that our claim on the Gander, at least our claim under the oral agreement, is a claim which is put forward for the purposes of the Railway and nothing else. It is a moot question as to what value is to be given to the August minute or to the November letter—the August minute in regard to the Gander, and the August minute and the November letter in regard to the Humber. I shall deal with that matter of law at a later stage. But the point that I want to make is that the oral agreement stands paramount in the whole case; that the August minute and the November letter are to be considered to a large extent as confirming the oral agreement on specific points, and that even where there is a confirmation on specific points, it is only a confirmation and not an amendment or a variation. Of course I shall argue on all points—the oral agreement, the August Minute and the November letter; but the first alternative is that the oral agreement covers our whole relations from the very beginning, and these other agreements are merely subsidiary to it.

Now, the claim on the Gander arises under the second option. The first option, of course, as I stated in my opening, is of importance, especially if we are thrown back on a quantum meruit, because our work on the first option to a large extent assisted us in the results which we obtained under the second option.

Objects to Daily Mail People.

Now, the first option so far as the history of the negotiations goes begins with No. 624, in which Mr. H. D. Reid, writing to MacDonald, refers to the fact that Major MacDonald had had lunch with Mr. Pomeroy Burton, the managing director of the Daily Mail, and had discussed with him the Gander amongst other things. That letter is written on the 5th March, 1920. That is really the starting point in the history of the negotiations that led up to the first option; but I think that I am entitled to point out to your Lordship that the Trust's connection with it, insofar as the Trust's work is concerned, is a little older than that, because Reid had in one of his previous letters to Thomson, handed over the Gander to Thomson to deal with, and had fixed the price at $150 an acre. That will be found in No. 600, H.R.T. 54, which is dated 17th March, 1919, and is a letter from H. D. Reid to Thomson, saying:

"I have mailed you to-day under separate covers plans and reports on the timber and water powers in the Gander River Area, Newfoundland. This area contains the best timber and is considered the best situation for a large pulp operation of any other place in Newfoundland. My idea of the price would be $150 net 'cash' per acre for the whole property."

Now, on the 5th November, Thomson had purported to give an option on this property to the Trust at that price, but as I have pointed out this morning, that option was not carried out, in fact, it was never acted upon by the Trust or by Reid. If it had been so acted upon, the Trust would have been in the fortunate position where it was negotiating the sale to Lord Rothermere, negotiating a sale where the Trust was going to get $2.00 an acre, and the Reids $1.50. Now, the Trust was aware that the price had been fixed by Reids at $150 an acre, and Major MacDonald apparently called upon Mr. Pomeroy Burton, who is connected with the Daily Mail, or the Daily Mirror, or to use a general term, the Harmsworth Publications; and Reid objects strenuously in his letter of the 5th March, 1920, to having any association with these people. He says:

"In my opinion we should keep as far away as possible from the Daily Mail people."

Now, while Rothermere's letter to Reid was on the 16th February, 1920, numbered 622 in the volume, I think your Lordship will have to accept the position that Lord Rothermere's letter had not arrived when Reid wrote No. 624 of the 5th March. It is quite common throughout these volumes that cables are put under the date of their being sent, when perhaps a letter precedes them in being received. That is what happens here.

I think your Lordship will agree with that position, because if you will look at 625, your Lordship will find that it is an acknowledgment of Rothermere's letter of the 16th February. Now, if you take Reid's letter of the 5th March, 1920, written before he received Rothermere's letter, you will find that MacDonald had lunch with Mr. Pomeroy Burton sometime before Rothermere wrote to Reid, and my reason for saying that is this: Reid refers in his letter to March 5th to a letter which he received a few days ago from Mr. Thomson from Victoria, British Columbia, in which he enclosed a copy of a letter that he had received from Major MacDonald, in which MacDonald said that he had had lunch with Mr. Pomeroy Burton. Therefore Major MacDonald had had lunch with Mr. Burton, and had written Thomson telling him what had happened with Burton, he had written to Thomson in British Columbia telling him of this, and Thomson, in British Columbia, had written to Reid in St. John's, telling him of the letter he had received from MacDonald; and all this had happened before the 5th of March—a few days before. I submit that it is more or less exact that this lunch with Mr. Pomeroy Burton must have taken place somewhere towards the end of January; and it is a fair inference that as a result of that chat with Pomeroy Burton, Rothermere heard that the Gander Area was for sale and wrote to Reid about it.

Then what does Reid do? Does he send a cable to the Trust saying: "Rothermere is enquiring about these areas, now would there be a good chance for you to sell it to him under your option. What price is Rothermere prepared to pay you?" He does nothing like that. He writes to Rothermere saying "Advise you immediately send your representative see my London organization."

Now who was "my London organization?" Was it purchasers of my property? Men who had options to purchase my property. I submit that "my London organization" can mean only one thing—my agents, or my London office, as he calls it in one of his former letters. And now on the 19th March, he says "Advise you immediately send your representative see my London organization."

And then in No. 625, J.A. McD. 11, on the same day he writes to the Trust, saying:

"Have letter from Lord Rothermere enquiring about timber, and Gander and Humber areas for paper mill proposition stop Have cabled him see you at once stop We are negotiating here for Gander but nothing definite done yet."

Now, how can Reid, on the 19th March, 1920, be negotiating for the sale of the Gander in Montreal or St. John's, if it was under option to us, unless, again referring to R. G. Reid's evidence, unless Mr. Reid's view of it also is that an option is when you hand your property over to somebody to sell.

It is perfectly clear, therefore that at the time that the Gander was first approached by Lord Rothermere, neither Reid nor the Trust considered the Trust to be working under any arrangement, except one under which they were to be paid a commission as agents.

Now, as a result of our meeting with Lord Rothermere's representative, Mr. Cowley, we wired to Mr. Reid on the 16th April, No. 632:

France's Parcel Post Service

Mr. Chaumet, Minister of Commerce, is considering plans to improve the parcel post service in France. The system which he has under consideration is based on that in operation in Alsace and Lorraine. The main improvement which Mr. Chaumet hopes to effect, according to advice received by the Bankers Trust Company, of New York, from its French Information Service, is in expediting the de-patch of parcels. The scheme provides that only parcels under five kilos shall be delivered at the domicile. Parcels above that weight are to be collected by the addressee on receipt of notice from the post office.
Parcels weighing up to 50 kilos would be accepted under this scheme if it goes through.

Medical Society Question Doctors

Gye and Barnard Run Gauntlet of Some Criticism.

London, July 23.—The correspondent of the Westminster Gazette, at Bath, says Dr. William E. Gye, member of the British Institute of Medical Research, and Dr. J. E. Barnard, of King's College, London, had to run the gauntlet of some criticism after they outlined their cancer discoveries to the British Medical Association yesterday. They had to admit they had not yet succeeded in producing carcinoma, or more serious forms of cancer which develop on the breast and stomach.

This was regarded as an important point governing the possibility of eventual success in devising preventive means.

A good deal of criticism, according to the correspondent, was also directed at the efficiency of the filters developed by Dr. Gye and Dr. Barnard, it being pointed out that these porcelain candle filters were not as efficient as the experimenters had assumed.

It was apparent, the paper says, that Dr. Gye was somewhat taken aback by this charge and regarded it as a vital one.

Dodge Brothers Set New Record

Deliveries and Production Exceeded Best Previous Week in History.

Dodge Brothers have been establishing new high records continuously for several months, as compared with similar periods for previous years, but the record of the week ending April 11 is the best in the company's history.
With retail deliveries aggregating more than 7,000, an average of more than 1,300 each production day, the best previous week was surpassed by several hundred cars. New retail orders exceeded the corresponding week of 1924 by 1,000, or approximately 32.7 per cent.

Although Dodge Brothers Motor Cars are now being built at the rate of 1,300 a day, both deliveries and new orders are some 200 a day in excess of production.

"Had dealers' stocks permitted, the number of deliveries for the record week would have been even greater,"
said John A. Nichol, Jr., Vice-President in Charge of Sales. "It is not a spur, but a steady, healthful climb."

PEPYS BEHIND THE SCENES

July 31st—Up bedtime and abroad,
the weather grown fine again, and do go with Pover in his motor coach to the city. Little news anywhere and, indeed, I have little time to gather any,
being the end of the month and I about my accounts, having much trouble in setting them in order, yet do finish them at last and find myself in little better condition than I was last month, yet do consider it a good thing that I am no worse off. My modesty gives me the greatest trouble to hold it in restraint these days, being that I people, and among them I Americans, that have been here on a visit, so tell me how my journal is the 1st thing they read in the Telegram sheet each night, and do praise it highly. Much writing in the papers of the notes that do flutter the towns, yet no mention at the worst of them which methinks is the rattle of iron shod cartwheels on the paving stones of Water Street, which do make it not only impossible to hear oneself talk, but even prevent a good hearing of the town. In discourse with Smith's talks of what I did write yesterday concerning Bell Island, and the Besco Corporation, and tells me a thing I did not know before, which is that the coal mines at Sydney are not the property of the Corporation, but are held under lease from the Government of Canada. This night by motor coach to the country where I do sit in the open till late at night, having much good discourse and a pleasant smoke. So to bed.

Council Severely Criticized

There are two matters to-day which are arousing considerable caustic comment regarding the Municipal authorities. One is the blinding dust on the streets, which is causing citizens to gasp for breath; the other matter is relative to the action of the Council in sanctioning the use of one of our main thoroughfares as the site for the circus.

Naturally no blame attached to the visitors, who could not be expected to know anything of the conditions, but it is incomprehensible why the Council should approve of this blockade, a body which is supposed jealously to guard against the slightest encroachment on the highways.

Forty-Six Years in the Service of Jackstone Tournament at Bannerman Park

The Playground Jackstone championship for another year was decided yesterday afternoon at the Bannerman Park Playground. One hundred and ninety-five children of all ages from seven to sixteen entered this competition which was run by the Playground Association. The boys and girls were first grouped according to age, and then sub-divided into groups of eight for playing. The winner of each of those groups then played each other, and so on to the finals.

There was keen competition for the coveted title of champion and the games were played earnestly and whole heartedly. Margaret Sinnott, 15 years old, was proclaimed champion for the girls and Gerald Rossiter, 13 years old, champion for the boys amid loud cheers from the other contestants and the spectators. A silver medal was awarded to each of the champions, then a match was played between the two and Gerald won thereby becoming the playground Jackstone champion for this year.

The two things most noticeable and most spoken of by the adult spectators, after the tournament, were the enthusiasm of the children and the splendid type of good sportsmanship which they showed. It was really a joy to see the children enter into the contest with such vim and earnestness. Adults cannot even imagine the thrill which a child gets from winning nor how much they put their whole heart and soul into a game. Mr. Barton, who was in charge remarked,—"It is one of the finest exhibitions of good sportsmanship among young children that I have seen. When the youngsters are so eager to win, and getting a prize means so much to them, and when a little cheating or quibbling or fussing might get them a point, it shows wonderful control and a thorough feeling of fair play and good sportsmanship for them to play the game as unselfishly as these children did to-day. Newfoundland children have a wonderful sense of fair play. This is easily the best event which we have had on the playgrounds this summer."

The referees were Misses Jessie Baird, Alison Rennie, Adelaide Fortune, Isabel Kennedy, Gertrude Milley and the playground instructors. The winners of the boys were: first group, boys eleven or under, Tom Malone with Mike Atkinson, Patrick Ring, Herbert Clark, Tom Smith, Willie Tobin, Joseph White and Edward Power as winners of the sub-divisions; second group, boys twelve and thirteen, Gerald Rossiter with Kevin Walsh and Jack Monihan as seconds; third group, boys fourteen, fifteen and sixteen, James Power. The winners of the girls were: first group, Mary Crotty with Margaret Yetman, Madeline Long, Margaret Hand and Madeline Lane as winners of sub-divisions; second group, Madeline Kennedy with Flora Stevenson, Rose Whelan and Kathleen Kearney as winners of sub-divisions; third group, Margaret Sinnott with Nellie Hand, second.

Untamed, Unrivalled, Unconquered

Featured With Edna Murphy and Leon Barry in Drama "King of Wild Horses."

He snorts defiance of man and beast. His heels deal death blows! He is untamed, unconquered, unrivalled—the magnificent, fiery spirited black stallion that plays the title role in "The King of Wild Horses," the Pathe picture produced by Hal Roach and showing Monday at the Nickel theatre.

Bands of wild horses having once, in great numbers, roamed the southwestern plains, Hal Roach sent his chief horse trainer, "Chick" Morrison, in search of a horse for the story he had written of a man-eating wild stallion that becomes the loyal friend of a man who saves his life. After wandering through several states, Morrison found Rex in the State Reformatory of Colorado, a captive beast, shackled and untamed. His owners were not purposely cruel, but the horse had killed several, maimed others and was an incorrigible outlaw. His incarceration was a matter of public safety. His wild, free life when he had roamed the wild country of Colorado with a band of horses had made him unmanageable.

A few weeks of patience and kindness and Morrison had Rex sufficiently manageable so that Fred Jackson could direct "The King of Wild Horses," which makes the claim of being the most sensational drama ever screened. Edna Murphy and Leon Barry are prominently cast.

Abundant Crops

Expected

Farmers in many sections have begun hay cutting and by next week harvesting will be in full swing. The hay crop generally is very heavy this season. Vegetables, which were somewhat backward early in the season, have during the past eight or ten days made phenomenal growth so that abundant crops are expected.

Traffic and the Memorial

Dear Mr. Editor.—Just a few facts that may not have come under your notice, and may be some assistance to you in your endeavour to improve the surroundings of the War Memorial on King's Beach. You may not be aware that the Street Car Track on Water St. is laid as far as W. & G. Rendell's Office; that the former Street Car Company's intention must have been to come up on Duckworth somewhere farther east, and as the Light & Power Co. are going to lay new rails they may be induced to connect with that rail on Water St. opp. Rendell's and come up Cochrane St. Hill of Chips, or across, that vacant land between Water and Duckworth streets entering opposite East End Fire Hall and land on Water St. opp. H. Stubbs Office. If the Light & Power Co. could be induced to take any of those routes to Duckworth St. Holloway could be used by the Truckmen. The paving Water St. after the first and the street car track on Holloway St. and the long haul to the railway station in the west end on the hard pavement made the truckmen face the cut across the Beach for the soft haul on Duckworth St. What a great assistance to the press it would be if someone had given the hint to H. E. the Governor early in the week a few remarks in the closing of his speech of our tardiness in not having the surroundings in keeping with such a magnificent pile, would not doubt be a great lever for the press. I might also inform you that there are granite blocks left after the erection to put a grand coping on that wall where that unsightly rail is standing. Hoping the above may assist you in your fight for the right, I remain,

Yours truly,

A FRIEND.

The Miracle Baby

Snowy vistas to cool heated brows, at least psychologically, and hair-trigger hazards to send a chill to your very marrow will afford both hot-blooded and poorly compassed photographers mutually satisfactory entertainment when they see "The Miracle Baby." Harry Carey's latest thriller, which is now at the Majestic Theatre.

Aside of these ingredients, however, there is tremendous love interest, and in even clearer tones is the human note struck in the touching scenes that show the awkwardly sincere efforts of two rough-shod men to take the place of a mother with a newly weaned and early orphaned infant, the "miracle baby."

Harry Carey outdistances himself in the most telling situations of the play and has an appealingly wistful leading woman in Margaret Landis. Charles J. LeMayne plays what is probably the most meaty characterization of his career, and Eddie Hearn, Hedda Nova and Edmund Cobb form a villainous trio that it would be difficult for anyone but Harry Carey to outwit and humble.

"The Miracle Baby" is a wholesomely thrilling melodrama that entertains consistently from first to last.

Look out for the big shows Regatta week.

Drive Out the Flies WITH SANIFLOR!

It is unnecessary to have flies in the home.

A Saniflor will drive
every fly from an ordinary room and keep them out.

No spraying. Just open the bottle, insert the flower wick and the Saniflor does the rest.

Operates night and day. Lasts two to three months.
Costs $1.00 at drug, hardware and general stores.

Manufactured by RENAUD & CO., PARIS.
