MONEY FROM CARNEGIE TO BUILD 4 LIBRARIES

Steel King Offers Toronto $350,000, the Greater Portion for Central Building.

THE CITY TO SPEND $35,000 YEARLY

Who Made the Suggestion Not Apparent—Board Almost Unit for Acceptance.

Andrew Carnegie has offered to give Toronto $350,000 for libraries. The sum would be divided into $275,000 for a central library and $75,000 for three branch libraries. The conditions are that the city shall provide a site for each library and furnish annually 10 per cent. of the amount of the gift for the purpose of maintenance. This would mean that the city would have to provide at least $35,000 a year to maintain the libraries. This, however, would not be a hardship as the maintenance of the central library and five branches only cost $33,312 last year.

Mystery About It
The offer of Mr. Carnegie has come in some mysterious way, and there is an almost suspicious attitude on the part of the Public Library Board to hold back facts as to the manner in which it was received. Mr. Carnegie was either approached by the city or someone interested in the city, or else he made the offer voluntarily. His letter stating his willingness to make the city such a handsome present was received by Librarian Bain, but Mr. Bain declines to make public any of the correspondence which led up to the letter in question. He admits, however, that something should be done to put the library into better shape.

In Touch With Carnegie
It seems from what can be learned that someone interested in Toronto has got in touch with Mr. Carnegie with the knowledge of the Library Board, and that the offer is a result. The Library Board met last night, and while not accepting the offer, because they could not, until it went to the City Council, they expressed their approval of it.

When the Suggestion?
Chairman Banton of the Library Board did not disguise his aversion to being interviewed. "I don't want to say anything," he remarked. "Did the Library Board beg the money?" he was asked. "I am not in a position to give an answer to such a question," was the reply.

"Did the Library Board suggest that Mr. Carnegie should be made conversant with the fact that a little more money for libraries would not be considered unpopular in Toronto?" he was asked. "I can only say that the movement was started indirectly by Toronto citizens on the other side."

"Well, did you bid the board come to touch it at all?"
"The state of affairs was intimated privately to the members of the board, and a communication was sent to Mr. Carnegie," replied Mr. Banton. "What was the purport of that communication?"
"I am not at liberty to say; ask the other members of the board," said Mr. Banton, who then declined to say further. He did, however, say that the matter had been under consideration for some time. Mr. Carnegie had made gifts to cities of his choice, a proposition came along and he could only be construed that the money needed for a good library in Toronto could be had for the asking. "Well, did you ask for the money?" was asked.

"The matter is like this, Mr. Carnegie has made the offer and who carried off the city will provide the sites the money will doubtless be at our disposal," said Mr. Banton, who was hurriedly to get away.

Secretary C. E. Ryerson of the Public Library Board said he had no part in the correspondence, but he said he did not, and he declined to say who did.

Mr. Denton, who is one of the trustees most enthusiastic over the acceptance of the proposed gift, was in a laughing mood, but he declined to divulge the secret of Mr. Carnegie's providing the money for library purposes in Toronto. "Some good citizen acquainted Mr. Carnegie with our needs," he said, "and Mr. Carnegie has responded."

"You had better speak to Mr. Bain," he advised, "he knows all about it."

Librarian Bain was very mum. He would say nothing of the circumstances which led up to his receiving the offer from Mr. Carnegie, neither would he express an opinion as to the origin of the present offer. He said he could not remember all the details which led up to the present state of affairs, but he was apparently joking.

H. T. Kelly said that a prominent citizen and some Torontoans in New York had been responsible for the offering before the Public Library Board, but he declined to mention names.

There was an uncomfortable air of mystery in the Public Library Board room last night for a quarter of an hour before the board met for the last session of the Public Library Board of 1902. The Carnegie offer was being discussed in low tones, and there was little or no opposition to the terms on which the gift was offered. When the matter had been discussed all the members expressed themselves as in sympathy with accepting it, although Chairman T. W. Banton would not commit himself. Mr. Banton is practically the representative of the laboring bodies on the board, and he knew they would be somewhat divided on the matter. Until he could gauge their opinions, he was rather diffident in expressing his own.

The members of the board present were T. W. Banton, Hugh T. Kelly, Frank Somers, R. H. Graham, J. Herbert Denton and Secretary C. E. Ryerson. Of course, Librarian James Bain was there. The absent members were W. T. J. Lee, A. H. S. Burns, who has retired from the board because he is now a member of the City Council, and Judge McDougall, who is ill.

The result of the meeting was the passing of a resolution instructing the Librarian to write a letter of thanks to Mr. Carnegie and another to officially

Doesn't Like Litigation Rather Fight an Election

Hon. E. J. Davis Gives His Promised Explanation of Protest Proceedings to Executive of North York Liberals at Newmarket.

Asked By His Constituents to Resign at Once and Get By-Election Over—Says He Paid T. Herbert Lennox $800 Excess Costs.

Hon. E. J. Davis faced his constituents and told them he abhorred election contests, they produced rancor and much bitterness. Therefore, he agreed to resign if the petition was dropped. He paid his opponent, E. J. Lennox, $800 excess costs. The amount of costs "sawed off" was not stated. He denied the charges of corruption. If there had been corruption the Conservatives would have gone ahead with the protest.

North York Liberal Executive endorsed his action and decided to call a convention next Tuesday at Newmarket, when the Minister will be renominated. Resignation of the Minister will be put in without delay, and the by-election held as soon as the legal formalities can be arranged.

He faced his constituents. Hon. E. J. Davis was given a good reception. He briefly thanked his supporters for the cordiality of the greeting extended to him. Some of his friends, he said, hardly expected to see him at large. They had no doubt, he said, looking up the records of the penitentiaries to see if his name was among them. He was glad to be able to meet his constituents face to face and to be able to say that from being excessively worried he had a lighter figure than ever before. The speaker explained that the meeting was of a private nature, but the press had been admitted, the only restraint placed upon the reporters being that they should refrain from making any report of the proceedings to the evening papers of that day.

Record of Fifteen Years.
He was confident that he could appeal to his record of fifteen years as the representative of North York with some degree of satisfaction. He had always treated his opponents with courtesy, but after what had taken place during the last two or three years, if he had been unfair to his opponents, he did not think he could have been treated worse. He had had many opponents in these fifteen years, and he would not be unfair to any of them as he would just as lief have him as anyone else as a candidate in his nomination speech gave this address: "I have never seen a man like you and he would see that he got

Fifty-Two Burn to Death Lives Lost in Asylum Fire

600 Women Patients In Burning Annex of Colney Hatch Institution in London So Panic-Stricken That an Appalling Disaster Results.

London, Jan. 27.—Fifty-two women insane patients were burned to death by a fire at the Colney Hatch Asylum this morning. The outbreak occurred in the Jewish wing of the institution. The flames spread with great rapidity and before the building could be reached by firemen, it was already a mass of smoking ruins. The fire broke out in a dormitory, and the patients were unable to help themselves, but they tried to save them. There were nearly 600 women in the burning annex and most of them were safe transferred to the main building, which was uninjured. Some, however, escaped and are still at large, rendering it difficult to ascertain the exact number of those burned to death.

The work of searching the ruins continues. The officials admit that fifty-two bodies have been recovered, but it is feared that the full extent of the disaster is not yet known. All the victims were lunatics. Their charred remains presented a horrifying spectacle. The asylum was besieged by anxious relatives or friends of the patients, who arrived from all quarters. Pitiable scenes were witnessed as weeping men and women left the premises after ascertaining that relatives or friends had perished in the flames. The coroner's inquest is being held almost immediately to become a furious furnace. Nothing was left standing. The coroner's inquest is being held almost immediately to become a furious furnace. ## INQUEST AT PORT HOPE BEGUN AND ADJOURNED

Two Right Hands Grotesome Indications That the Dead Traveler Were Burned.

Port Hope, Jan. 27.—(Special.)—At the inquest held here tonight on the remains of Freeman Matthews and Brakeman Everist, who were killed in the G.T.R. wreck on Wednesday last, the jury was composed of the following: C. A. Bowers, J. W. Swift, H. Schulz, Joseph Britton, George Gerbut, Samuel Ray, Sidney Be, James Curtis, J. M. Johnson, Thomas Carson, A. D. White, F. Michaels, T. A. Wilkes. H. A. Ward appeared for Mr. McDougall.

Thomas Bell, G.T.R. agent here, was the first witness called, and stated that on the day of the wreck the train, extra west, in charge of Conductor Prescott, received orders about 6:05 p.m. to proceed west. Two minutes after he heard the dispatcher at Belleville order Mr. McDougall if he had that order No. 82, and he replied that he had. He asked if the board was on, and he replied that he had pulled it in for block. He heard nothing about the wreck until Conductor Prescott called him and told him. He explained Mr. McDougall's duties, and said that until he was relieved by the Newtonville agent he had an assistant.

Mrs. Higgins, the day operator here, was the next witness called, and corroborated Mr. Bell's statement, and also produced the order Conductor Prescott received, which reads as follows: "Train extra west, engine 805, will make third 84, engine 924, and meet 24; engine 923, will make third West Darlington. Third No. 84 sets this order at Newtonville." Signed by Conductor Prescott and initialed by the dispatcher at Belleville.

Dr. Powers, G.T.R. surgeon here, was the next witness called. He said that the remains of the two men, Alfred George and two others, were contained in two parcels. The first one contained portions of a skull, a small portion of a thigh bone, and a small portion of a rib, and the second parcel contained a right hand and a portion of an arm bone. As the two men discovered some distance apart, and as there were two right hands there is no doubt of their being the remains of two men.

Engine Plows Into Local Twelve to Thirty Killed

Rear-End Collision Near Westfield, N. J., in Which a Train Going Sixty-Five Miles an Hour Crashes Into Another Just on the Move.

Cars Filled With Passengers Cracked Open, People Killed and Crushed by Engine and Scalded by Escaping Steam—Wreckage Takes Fire.

New York, Jan. 27.—One of the most appalling railroad wrecks that have occurred in the vicinity of New York for many years, the estimated loss of life ranging from 12 to 30 persons, took place tonight at Greenland, on the Central Railroad of New Jersey, near Westfield, N. J., when the Royal Blue Line Express plowed at top speed into the rear of a local train.

Score of Deaths. The French train which was summoned by telephone, but arrived too late to save many lives, derailed near Westfield, N. J., and was crushed by the engine of the Royal Blue Line train which was on the move.

The Dead. The dead taken to the morgue at Plainfield are: Edgar Williams, New York, lawyer; C. G. Sayer of Plainfield, N. J.; Harry Hand of New York City; Harry Pater of Dunellen, George E. Root of Scotch Plains, Thomas Cunningham of Plainfield, Rowland R. Chandler of Plainfield, Edward Flynn of Plainfield.

Injured. The list of the injured at the hospital in Plainfield is as follows: Edward Clark, William Sampson, Miss Lizzie Clark, Wm. Luan, George Force, Howard K. George, Miss Margaret, Miss Anna, Miss E. M. Brokaw, Miss Cora Brokaw, Frederick Kamen, all of Plainfield; Roy Appar and William Frederick of Bound Brook.

Car Filled With Dead. When the engine plowed into the rear car, the same time lifted it up and over itself. In this manner those in that car, besides being crushed, were scalded and hurged by the engine. This car was the first to be crushed in the wreck, and it was the worst of the wreck. Men could be seen in the wreckage, pinned fast amid the tangle of the cars and struggling to free themselves. Some were hurged to death by the engine, and others were crushed by the cars. Some were scalded by the escaping steam, and others were killed by the falling cars.

TOOK THEIR MONEY OUT AND PUT IT BACK AGAIN

Queer Run on Bank of Hamilton That Caused the Officials Considerable Annoyance.

HOW IDLE GOSSIP GREW AS IT WENT

Citizens Speak to Anxious Depositors and Alay Their Fears—General Manager Speaks.

Hamilton, Jan. 27.—Considerable excitement was prevalent in this city during the past 48 hours, due to a run on the savings department of the Bank of Hamilton. Banking circles have not been disturbed to any appreciable degree, but an amazing spirit of restlessness has been manifested among the smaller depositors of this particular concern. The crowds around the headquarters of the institution disappeared this afternoon, and the worst is believed to be over. At the same time large cardboards and a big red ink letter on the outside of the different buildings occupied by the branches announce that the headquarters and all the branches will remain open night and day for the accommodation of those who desire to withdraw their deposits. General Manager Turnbull declares the extra force of clerks will remain on duty until midnight regularly as long as a single depositor desires to secure his money.

When First Observed. Saturday morning the trouble was first observed among the smaller depositors of the Barton-Street branch of the bank. It spread rapidly to other branches, and then to the headquarters of the bank. Monday morning an excited crowd surrounded the different branches. To-day the crowd was considerably augmented and apparently more anxious. Many found it impossible to get to the cashiers until late in the afternoon. When they did arrive their excitement had abated. In some instances after hanging around for two days, depositors left, concluding not to withdraw their money. The bank waived the ten days' stipulation and permitted each depositor to take his funds out at once.

Mr. Turnbull's Statement. The officials of the bank are clearly annoyed, but not alarmed. General Manager Turnbull said in a formal statement covering the situation. To a World representative he declared that the bank officials were absolutely unable to account for the sudden fever that seemed to have seized many of the depositors. He said those drawing out their money were largely women. No regular running accounts, he was sure, had been withdrawn. The alarm seemed wholly confined to the savings department. He would not say what percentage of the depositors had called for their money, but he was positive that it was an equally small fraction of the total. He was equally sure the concern's resources had not been impaired, and there was a large cash surplus ready to meet any demand that might possibly arise.

Started by Rumors. While the crowd of depositors seemed moved by a common impulse, The World correspondent could not find a man or a woman who could explain clearly the cause of his or her alarm.

MONEY FROM CARNEGIE TO BUILD FOUR LIBRARIES

notify the City Council of Mr. Carnegie's offer.

The matter came up when the board was called upon to consider the report of the special committee appointed to consider the offer to give the needs of the library. The report said:

Your committee beg to report that it has considered the offer in the condition and necessities of the library, and ask leave to be allowed to give the matter further consideration.

Your committee also beg to report that an offer has been made by Mr. Carnegie to give $350,000 for a new central library building and three branch library buildings, the latter to cost not less than $35,000 per building, to give suitable sites for the buildings. All of which is respectfully submitted.

Nothing was said as to the manner in which Mr. Carnegie's offer had come about. In regard to the offer, Chairman Banton said it was simply a progress report which asked that the committee be allowed to give the matter further consideration, but he did not think it right to pass it by without a word or two, and to leave it to the management of the board that I have always opposed accepting aid for our library from that source, because the ways thought the city was rich enough, and I think it has proved itself rich enough to keep up the library. The opposition on my part in this regard has, I am well aware, been considered obstructionist, but I did what was in my opinion right.

"This board is not practically committed to anything in regard to the offer. It is up to the City Council to decide. I am really the representative of the labor party on this board, and I hesitate to take any action in regard to speaking for the labor party as to the wisdom or otherwise of accepting this proposition. Since we have the future to consider, and in the future we have the wants of the library. So far as the institution being supported by charity, I do not think I would be justified in giving from Mr. Carnegie or anyone else. It is only a matter of wealthy men returning to labor that they have received from labor.

"I would not like to commit myself positively, particularly with regard to a division of opinion among the labor people on this question, as there is upon every other question," concluded Mr. Banton.

Need Better Accommodation. Without much formality, the report of the committee was read by J. H. Herbert Denton. He expressed his views. He said: "At one time I was opposed to accepting money to establish libraries during the last year or eighteen months. I have undergone a strenuous conversion. The condition of our libraries today makes it very necessary for us to consider the need of better accommodation. The present building is out of the way now, and it is an old building, which was never meant for a library any more."

"Here is a millionaire with plenty of money to give away, where he thinks it can do the most good. It is an opportunity for him to fulfill his desire in Toronto, and it should be a plain proposition to accept it if the opportunity exists. Beyond the fact that the opportunity has been pointed out to us, and that we know that anything else has been done, we should accept the offer if we know what is good for us and for the city."

Then Mr. Denton presented the following motion, which was carried without dissent: "Resolved, That the City Council be authorized to accept the offer of Mr. Carnegie to give $350,000 for the erection of a central library and three branch libraries."

Mr. Denton moved that the City Council be authorized to accept the offer of Mr. Carnegie to give $350,000 for the erection of a central library and three branch libraries.

ANDREW CARNEGIE.

There is more needed in that facilities be afforded the school teachers for making themselves better acquainted with the books contained in the library, so that they could qualify themselves to act in the capacity of librarians to the children. They should be instructed in the use of the value of books. The Public Library is a public utility. It is not proper sphere of usefulness will be hampered by complicating its management with the management of Public Schools. The retirement of S. W. Burns to serve the city in another capacity is referred to. The Circulating and Reference Departments are doing good work. Chairman Banton concludes: "The fact that the aggregate circulation for the past two years has practically been stationary is perhaps a plain intimation that as the city grows in extent, and its wants increase, even its public library facilities, which were sufficient ten or fifteen years ago, are now insufficient for the needs of to-day. How best to reach the public will not be the least of the problems to be solved by the boards of public library trustees."

Finances of the Library. A statement of the assets and liabilities of the library gives the total assets as $257,278.37, against liabilities of $15,946.65. This leaves a substantial balance of $241,331.72. Assets include the library building at Adelaide and Church-streets, some lots on the west side of the city, and the five branch libraries, the books, periodicals, and English and French bibliographies are outstanding debentures, and the amount chargeable to the sinking fund.

The annual vote of thanks was tendered to the retiring chairman, T. W. Walker, who has devoted his life to the duties incumbent upon him as the president of the board.

OPINION IS DIVIDED. The proposition to accept $350,000 of Mr. Carnegie's money to establish libraries is not received with unqualified delight by prominent citizens of Toronto. There is a strong feeling in some quarters that it would be "infamous" and humiliating for a large city to accept money to be placed in the position of begging for a share of the steel king's millions, which are being scattered with lavish hands.

Other cities quite as large and prosperous as Toronto have done so. "Toronto has quite dignity enough to attend to her own education and to support her own libraries," said E. B. Osler, M.P. "I think it is an outrage that Mr. Carnegie should expect Toronto to be humiliated by building to perpetuate his name and dictate terms as to how much should be given to him. It would be an insult to leave the money to be expended in the building of a library, which is already sufficient. I think it is a piece of impertinence, and Toronto should not be humiliated by accepting it."

Thrilling Deeds on the Massachusetts After Explosion on U.S. Battleship.

EYE-WITNESSES DESCRIBE THE SCENE

Lieutenant Hughes and Gunner Kuhlman Work on Magazine With Fire Above.

San Juan, P.R., Jan. 27.—Probably the exact truth of how the explosion on the United States battleship Massachusetts occurred will never be known, but as nearly as can be ascertained from the officers and men on the vessel the facts are these: The accident happened on Jan. 15, at 2:30 minutes past 11 a.m., off Oahu, when the guns of the ship were being employed at target practice. Both 8-inch guns were at the starboard turret were ready for firing, and the magazine was open, and some one in the turret accidentally pulled the magazine wire, opening the magazine, and the explosion followed.

The turret was exploded and the flame and smoke were seen to rise from the turret. The powder charge was exploded.

There was 33 pounds of powder in this charge, and the explosion was confined to the magazine. The turret was not injured.

The officer of the turret, Ensign J. K. Woodman, was standing outside with his head near the turret porthole. The powder charge exploded, and he was blown into the air, and his body was seen to fall into the sea.

One poor fellow, with his clothing in shreds, jumped from the other turret port, and was seen to fall into the sea.

The stern anchor chain, which was 1200 feet long, was broken, and the anchor was carried away.

ALD. STARR WANTS TO KNOW WHY THE CITY DOES NOT COLLECT FROM SCHOOL BOARD. MORE MONEY FOR CATTLE MARKET. Dispute Over Widening of Preston-Ave.-Island Extension--City Hall Notes. After all the clashing there has been between the City Council and the Public School Board, it seems strange that the city has not yet accepted the $15,000 which the board agreed to give when the Council granted the $45,000 for a new site and building for Bathurst-street School in 1900. Ald. Starr is on the still hunt for some reason why the city has not availed itself of the opportunity to take over the old site, as offered, by the School Board. He was chairman of the School Board when the deal was made, and he, with Trustee Hodgson, which was held with the Board of Control. They agreed with the Controllers to relinquish the old site worth $15,000, and the money for the new Bathurst-street School was provided. "Nothing seems to have been done in regard to the city acquiring the property," said Ald. Starr to The World. "I don't know whose fault it is. Maybe the City Clerk or the City Treasurer should have looked after the matter. Anyway I am trying to find out." More money for Cattle Market. More work is to be done at the western cattle market, it is reported of the Cattle Market Committee, which was decided upon yesterday afternoon, is passed by Council. The City Commissioner reported that more space was necessary to accommodate the increased demands of the business of the market, and in view of his recommendation the committee decided that $500 should be spent on improvements as soon as possible. Of this amount, $300 would be for 40 sheep pens to be built over the cattle yards and $200 for six cattle yards on the ground now occupied by the old weigh scales and old office buildings. The intention is to remove the old office building to a frontage on Wellington-avenue and to expend $500 in fitting it up better by enlarging the three western offices and providing accommodation for a telegraph and telephone office in the northeast corner. The changes in this regard would, it is estimated, net an increased return of $152 on a $500 expenditure. Preston-Ave. Extension. The Court of Revision took up the proposed extension and widening of Preston-avenue yesterday afternoon. The proposed extension is a public way 100 feet north of Bloor-street to 300 feet south of Hallam-avenue, and the proposed widening is from the Bloor to Hallam, and widen it from 23 feet to 66 feet. The McAuley estate, which owns a large amount of the property affected, objected to the extension of a part of their land for street widening. Objections are also made by other property owners, but on the other hand, there are some who are desirous of having the improvement made. The matter stands until the next session of the court. City Hall Notes. City Engineer Rust has forwarded his estimates for the Island to the Island Committee. They call for $72,000, which includes sand pump, scavenging, waterworks, grading, paving, street lighting and cleaning streets, cleaning water-works and bicycle paths. The legal department has given the Consumers' Gas Company notice of trial of the city's suit against the Gas Company for February 19. Ten days' notice of the proposed extension of the department is gathering together its evidence upon the points in dispute. The proposal that the city try to acquire the Government House square for park purposes is favored by Ald. Harcourt, Controller Oliver and the Mayor. The proposal is to be discussed at the next meeting of Council. Assessment Commission. Planning thinks well of the idea of acquiring the property for the east end sewage system, to be constructed in the east end as a local improvement, at a cost of $45,000. The Court of Revision on February 3, and will be open to appeal until the last of the month. A strong objection to the proposed extension has developed, and there is just a chance that unless it is modified in some detail it will be beaten before the Court of Revision. The appearance to-night of the Princess Theatre of Mrs. Langtry, in her new play, "The Cross Ways," will be an interesting event. The play is founded on the life of the great actress, and it is a scandal of great proportions in England. The English actress was well acquainted with the principal persons in the play, and was known to see the dramatic possibilities of the various incidents. She outlined the idea to her leading man, J. Hartley Manners, and together they worked on "The Cross Ways," which was written in eight weeks. When the play was first presented in England, it bore the name of "The Cross Ways," and the English production has been brought to this country, and the play is now being given at the Imperial Theatre, in London, at the invitation of the Princess Theatre. The play is a masterpiece of the kind, and the Queen and the King. EDUCATIONAL. SCROFULA. Bad air, poor food, insufficient clothing, dark lamp or crowded apartments are frequent causes of scrofula. This explains why the ailment is so common in the poorer sections of large cities. Scrofula, however, does not recognize any limit, and may afflict under all conditions of location, soil and climate. Moreover, it is but a step to consumption, hence it lies the great danger. It is just as well to avoid the step. It is rather strange that Scott's Emulsion should contain just the very things that nature requires in curing scrofula. The pure Norwegian cod liver oil helps to build up the white body and enables one to acquire new, healthy, soft flesh. The hyposphosphites of lime and soda, which are on the blood and tissues, replacing the waste and giving strength and new structure where it is most needed. Because of its mild action, pleasing taste and nutritive properties, Scott's Emulsion is vastly superior to plain cod liver oil. There is nothing that does more good in the case of scrofula than Scott's Emulsion. TALE OF A COOF. George Popwort, no home, was arrested last night on complaint of Mark Fitzgerald, 15 Cottenham-street, charged with the theft of a coat. Popwort did so, and returned to the hotel with the coat. Fitzgerald was not there. Then he was arrested. Detectives Forest and McGrath recovered the coat. KING EDWARD SCHOOL ART LECTURE.
