CANADIAN ATHLETES TRAINING AS AVIATORS ON TEXAS FLYING GROUNDS

Determined to do their bit for the empire and refusing to wait on the northern climate to hinder their training four youthful Canadian athletes are rounding off their aviation courses at the Stinson Aviation School, on the aviation field at Fort Sam, Houston. The same pluck that carried them through to success in the sporting world is making itself felt in the winning of the four youthful Canadian athletes' aviator certificates, and by the end of the month four happy young men will be ready.

Aviation has a particular fascination for athletes, and the sporting chance that one takes in driving the air machines is more than repaid by the joy of an aerial ride and the wonderful sensation of being carried through the atmosphere at a mile a minute clip. It was this same witchery of flying that attracted the Canucks to Southern Texas and in another week the following additions will be made to Canada's flying squadron:

Herb MacKenzie is one of the best amateur hockey players in Victoria, B.C. and a Rugby player of the first class.

Jack Harman is a Toronto amateur lacrosse player, who starred for the Young Toronto last year and is also a clever hockey player, formerly with the Wexley, Sask. septette.

J. E. Walker, of Montreal and Ottawa, is an amateur hockey star, also played with Goddard Rodgers on the London ice team, and is a ball player of the highest standard.

Joe Gorman, a well known newspaperman, played professional lacrosse with Ottawa Capitals, Toronto Tecumsehs and Con. Jones' Vancouver twelve.

RANGE MAY BE REMODELED TO SUIT ONE'S FLAT

A gas range having interchangeable parts was put on the market a short time ago, says the Popular Mechanics Magazine in an illustrated article. With the expenditure of only a few moments' time a plumber or gas fitter can convert this range into any one of a variety of shapes. For instance, if the owner of the range should happen to live in a house whose kitchen is best fitted for a stove with an oven on the right side, the various parts may be assembled with the oven so placed; if, on moving to another apartment, the oven or other part would be better if differently mounted, the parts can be reassembled to suit. If there is a surplus of parts, sometimes enough can be had to make a handy zinc-topped kitchen table.

LOOKING FOR WORK.

Everywhere men complain about work; even boys and girls in school of business find work tedious and tiresome, but it isn't the work itself so much as their own lack of physical strength that makes it hard.

Various Forms Of Headache.

"It is necessary in order to treat headaches properly to understand the cause which produces the effect," says Dr. J. W. Ray of Blockson, Ala. Continuing he says: "Physicians cannot even begin the treatment of a disease without knowing what causes give rise to it, and we must remember that headache is to be treated according to the same rule."

Must Be Strict Neutrality.

"It is absolutely necessary, apart from any other consideration, for the Holy See to observe the strictest and most impartial neutrality, as otherwise the Pope's influence in favor of peace would be lost. NOVEL RAILROAD BRIDGE FOR RIVER IN JAVA

A bridge that is to be built for the Holland government railroad over the Serajoie River in Java has been made complete in the shops in Holland, and so carefully has this been done that no field work will be required in erecting the steel structure other than that of connecting the members.

The bridge site is far from any kind of shop facilities, and to make sure that the structure would go together properly it was first erected as carefully as if on its permanent location, in the yards of the manufacturing company in Holland.

Following this it was taken down and is to be shipped by steamer to Java.

The bridge is of unusual design, consisting of three arched spans of steel connecting with short straight trusses over the piers. It has a total length of 698 ft. 10 in., and weighs 850 tons. It is designed to carry a single track railroad having a gauge of 5 1/2 feet.—From the December Popular Mechanics Magazine.

WOMEN OF FRANCE GIVEN HIGH PRAISE

But For Them Army Would Not Have Been So Well Supplied—25,000 on Railways

New York, Nov. 24.—Not fewer than 25,000 women are working on the railroads of France, according to the Railway Age Gazette. In an article under the title "The Efficiency of French Women as Railway Workers," the women of France are praised for their adaptability to all sorts of employment. The assertion is made that but for the women it would have been impossible to keep the French munitions factories going at the present high speed.

"It is said in passing," says the article in that publication, "that Europe has for a long time seen women working as a manual laborer in the fields, as a fruit vendor, as a grocer or as a railway crossing tender. It does not enter into any sense of duty, or of shame if you will, in seeing her at a man's job. It is the laboring man once over-estimated her work with jealousy, seeing that her success meant lower wages and fewer places for him. Her work in the fields was such this year, however, that in France certainly it called forth the admiration and gratitude of the whole nation, for with less lead to cultivate owing to the German invasion she actually obtained a more abundant harvest than man had secured in past years."

NO STOMACH PAIN, GAS, INDIGESTION IN FIVE MINUTES

"Pape's Diapepsin" is the Only Real Stomach Regulator Known.

"Really does" put bad stomachs in order—really does" overcome indigestion, dyspepsia, gas, heartburn and sourness in five minutes—but—just that—makes Pape's Diapepsin the largest-selling stomach regulator in the world. If what you eat ferments into stubborn lumps, you belch gas and eructate sour undigested food and acid; head is dizzy and aches; breath foul; tongue coated; your insides filled with bile and indigestible waste; remember, the moment "Pape's Diapepsin" comes in contact with the stomach all such distress vanishes. It's truly astonishing—almost marvelous, and the joy is its harmlessness.

A large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin will give you a hundred dollars' worth of satisfaction, or your druggist hands you your money back.

It's worth its weight in gold to men and women who can't get their stomachs regulated. It belongs in your home—always be kept handy in case of a sick, sour, upset stomach during the day or at night. It's the quickest, surest and most harmless stomach regulator in the world.

RECORD OF CHILD CRIME STARTLING

Some Juveniles Already Have Long List of Offences—Big Increase This Year

(Ottawa Journal.)

Has the juvenile court in Ottawa proved itself a failure? The question was raised in police circles today. Child crime in the city has shown an astonishing increase over last year, and a remarkable feature of the case is the fact that the majority of the culprits come back again, time after time. In fact, some of the juveniles have police records which would put many a grown-up malefactor to shame.

Last year three hundred and twelve cases were dealt with in the children's court, and already this year's cases show an increase of seventeen over the total for 1914. Last year there were only ninety-four theft cases; this year there have been 66 charges of house and shop-breaking, against sixty-one for 1914.

"Nearly all our cases are old-timers," said one official. "In yesterday afternoon's court there was one boy who has already been before us five times this year. These youngsters," he added, "literally chase our ordinary regulars up a back alley" for daring and deliv'ry.

"Take yesterday's court," he instanced, "there were three and twenty cases, and all were indictable offences except one, where a boy with the 'travel bug' was charged with shop-breaking at Montreal and back on the C. P. R."

"SLOW WORK," SAY MEN AT FRONT, "BUT WE'RE WINNING"

(Montreal Mail.)

"The universal opinion of men returning from the battle front is that 'it is slow work, but we are winning right along,'" was the statement made by Major H. G. Nybllett, C. A. M. G., who was the medical officer in charge of the 600 or so wounded or ill Canadians brought home on the Metagama recently.

"The men who have been in the trenches are decidedly more optimistic about the outcome of the struggle than those who have never left England," said Major Nybllett, whose home was at McLeod, Alberta, and who went to England with the First Canadian Division.

"The spirit of the men who come back wounded, many of them maimed for life, is marvellous," said Major Nybllett. "There is never a complaint. On the way over it was the same. Not one of the men ever uttered a complaint. They accepted the situation in a most heroic manner.

The men of the Metagama are all permanently out of commission, or at least none of them are likely to recover sufficiently to get back into the present war. There were men ill, others with an arm or a leg missing, others blind or suffering from gas, but there was no kick coming.

"With reference to the brutality of the Germans, there was one case on board that will give some idea of some of the things they do," said Major Nybllett.

There was a young fellow named McPhail, from Brandon, who was shot through the eye at Ypres and was afterwards taken prisoner. A week later the Germans put him on an operating table, and while two men held his arms and another lay over his body while the surgeon cut his eye without giving him any anesthetic whatever.

"An Englishman doesn't want an anesthetic," said the doctor who performed the operation. The shock was so intense when they cut through the optic nerve that McPhail became unconscious and did not recover for twenty-four hours."

Scotia. Already some recruits had been received from there and it was likely that a recruiting detachment would be sent to get a platoon or two of Nova Scotia Scots to fill out the Grenadiers.

An eight-year-old youngster with his mother on a street car in Manchester attracted considerable attention recently. The car was crowded and when an elderly woman was unable to find a seat, the mother whispered in the little fellow's ear, but he shook his head. Once more she whispered and the boy arose, doffing his hat politely. Suddenly the lad shouted to his mother, "Say," he yelled "if you don't give me the five cents now I'll ask her to give the seat back."

German Propaganda In Quebec and District How Travelers Operated in Lake St. John District - Recent Case of Woman in Montreal

(Quebec Telegraph) Recently the Quebec women got together to take action with a view to preventing the local sale of German goods. This is a proper move and we are very glad to say that it is supported by a very large number of women. They should, however, go further and object to all the goods sold in this or any other locality by Germans. Canada has a large number of German commercial travelers, who up to some months ago, were as rapid pro-Germans as could be found in any part of the United States, or even in Germany. This class of Germans has done more to injure the French-Canadian of this province, and the entire Dominion than any other class of pro-German missionaries has done here. They have spread among the English provinces the impression that the French-Canadians are disloyal to the Empire, and in the Province of Quebec they have encouraged them to be disloyal. They have done exactly what similar missionaries in the guise of travelers, merchants, professors, nurses, lecturers, etc., have accomplished or tried to accomplish in Egypt, India and Ireland.

Only a few weeks ago an English writer, who spent over two months in the back parlour of the Lake St. John, obtained notes for the compilation of a book entitled "The Human Side of Pulp." brought back most extraordinary stories of the lying statements which had been told by German travelers, or tentatively to sell goods, but more particularly to spread disinformation. The habitants were told the most fabulous tales, and we would be pleased to give the name of the lady to the government for further investigation should it be required.

At the beginning of the war, certain German travelers of pro-German views publicly expressed, were selling goods in this province. They are still doing so, and selling them to the same merchants they sold them to at the beginning of the war. This is the trade which should be killed by the women who want to prevent German goods being sold here. It is quite possible that these German travelers may not be selling German goods, but when this war is over, these foreign travelers will find ways and means in Canada to introduce German goods under the pretext of their being manufactured in the United States. They will be known to our merchants and no doubt they will find little difficulty in smuggling the German goods into this country. This is a danger against which we warn our people.

It is generally rumored in Montreal that a lady lecturer collecting funds for one of the countries of the Allies, and who, it is said, was received in the best financial assistance, has been discovered to be a pro-German and is now under arrest. How much truth there is in this story is not known, but the fact of its being in circulation, leaves some reason for belief that there must be something in it, and if it is not true, it should be denied. In any case, the German work of espionage has been as we all know, even worse than this. It has forced itself into the English parliament, the English Church, government offices, the admiralty, etc.

Some months ago a German traveler, or manufacturer, was showing disgraceful cartoons on the English, to merchants of this city, while selling their goods. He made no secret that his sympathies were naturally with the Germans, as an excuse for his action, and his pro-German feelings. This man is still selling goods in Canada, though he is probably more reticent now since he has heard of a number of prominent Germans being interned. Still his sympathies are entirely with the Germans. They have not changed, nor will they change after the termination of the war.

Like a great many other pro-German travelers and merchants who labor under the impression that because they are naturalized citizens, they are at liberty to give vent to their feelings, even though they are pro-German, we have yet to hear one of them condemn the German government for the manner in which they have vacated all the clauses of international warfare. They will be our most dangerous enemies when this war is over as they will undo every patriotic move made by our women or any association at the present time, to kill Germany's trade in Canada.

WE ARE TIED DOWN

(Ottawa Journal) The San Francisco Argonaut, commenting on a remark in another United States paper that if Britain is not careful, Uncle Sam might invade Canada, says: "It is more likely that Canada would invade the United States. She has an army in the field of 150,000, which is bigger than ours, and has just decided to call out 100,000 more."

Well, our fellows are pretty busy at present, and we are unable to express a general sentiment here when we say that Canada would rather not conquer the United States until we are through with our present job. But even if we did feel rambunctious we would be obliged to hold ourselves in, or else find ourselves classed with Germans in regard to "a scrap of paper." That man Bryan who he was secretary of state at Washington, managed to push arbitration agreements through between the United States and a number of other nations. One of these was with Britain. It reads:

The parties hereto agree that all questions of whatever character and nature in dispute between them shall, when diplomatic efforts fail, be submitted for investigation and report to an international commission; and the contracting parties agree not to declare war or begin hostilities until such investigation is made and report submitted.

So, on account of Bryan and some busy-body British diplomats Canada is legally declared from starting in to lick the United States except at what is equivalent to a year's notice. We've got to give the beggars a chance. N.B.—Also the United States has to give Britain a similar chance.

GOT EVIDENCE FROM DEAD SHARK

German Sank Leather Bag Deep in Atlantic - Monster Swallowed It

New York, Nov. 24.—Evidence recovered from the stomach of a shark will be used against the indicted officials of the Hamburg-American Line when they are placed on trial, charged with violation of American neutrality, according to Assistant United States District Attorney Roger B. Wood, who will conduct the prosecution. Officials of the line are charged with sending out sixteen Hamburg-American steamers about the time war was declared to furnish supplies to German warships. Among the ports from which these ships sailed were New York, Philadelphia, Pensacola, San Francisco, Newport News, Va., and New Orleans. Among these supply ships was the Marina Curacao, which sailed from Philadelphia for Valparaiso, Chile, about Aug. 1, 1914, or three days before war was declared between Germany and England. The German steamship put in at Pernambuco, Brazil. When the Brazilian port authorities demanded the ship's papers for examination the captain threw overboard a leather bag with the papers. In the meantime, the Brazilians, getting suspicious, had the German vessel watched by a washup, which stood by night and day. The Brazilian sailors, to pass the time away, went shark fishing and caught a monster. When it was opened a leather sack was found inside. Upon opening the sack the missing papers of the German ship were brought to light. The shark had swallowed the bag from the Marina Curacao.

COURTS HEAR EVIDENCE OF GERMAN CONSPIRACY IN THE UNITED STATES

In New York yesterday the case of Karl Buens, managing director and other employees of the Hamburg-American S. S. Co., charged with violation of the customs laws in sending supplies to German warships was opened. The attorney for the prosecution, Mr. Wood, in opening the case, said that the Kaiser's naval attaché, Capt. Boy-Ed had spent $750,000 in sending supplies to German warships in the Atlantic and Pacific, the money having been received from Berlin through Speyer and Co. Sixteen or more ships were used in the traffic, he said, which had violated the U. S. customs laws through having sent supplies, but denied conspiracy to violate customs laws.

Shall mother be outdone by them? Not on your life, you bet. The Pain room is the place that I'm commissioned now to get. It is her turn to entertain, and she'll be just as well. As all the others if I have to leave the whole hotel.

In consultation mother and the manager have been. Regarding the arrangements and discussing the cuisine. They've called the chef and steward in, the corps of waiters, too. That club will know twas entertained when mother's turn is through. But I am wishing for the days of old I loved so well. When women's card clubs didn't meet down-town at some hotel.

War Situation From Last Night's Cables

London, Nov. 23.—Instead of declaring a general blockade of the Greek ports, the Allies have, according to a statement issued by the British foreign office today, withdrawn, or threatened to withdraw, the special privileges which Greek commerce has enjoyed since the outbreak of the war.

What these special privileges are is not specifically stated, but as an example, Greece has been allowed to draw her supplies of coal from Welsh collieries. To do this Greek merchants required special permits, as the export of coal from the British Isles is allowed only under a special license.

There are many other commodities, the export of which is permitted only to certain countries. Invariably, when orders have been issued against the export of such commodities, Greece has been among the countries excepted. Now, unless she concedes the demands made by the Allies for assurances for the safety of her troops in the Balkans, Greece will be struck off the list of countries which have these privileges.

While this less vigorous attitude on the part of the Allied governments has caused some dissatisfaction in quarters where strong measures are advocated, it has eased the situation and the belief is now prevalent that Greece, having been impressed by Lord Kitchener's visit and the threat of her commerce, will concede the demands.

Of the fighting in the Balkans the reports are more confusing than ever. The German accounts still claim progress for the Austro-German and Bulgarian troops, and report the capture of thousands of prisoners and many guns from the Serbians. But from the towns mentioned their advance appears very slow. It may be, as reported from Italian resources, that the campaign is waiting on a change in the disposition of the armies, so that the Germans may be the first to enter Monastir. This would avoid the trouble likely to arise through Greek objection to Bulgarian occupation of the city which is so near their border.

Despatches from Athens, however, state that the delay is due to the fact that the Serbians have defeated the Bulgarians who were advancing on the town, and that they have reconquered their front in the Velez-Prilep line. Perhaps the real reason for the slowness of the invaders' progress arises from difficulties of transport.

Nothing of importance has occurred on the other fronts. The Austro-Germans, according to Russian reports, attempted an offensive in Galicia and actually moved some advance guards across the Stripa, but since then no news has been received, the Germans apparently not considering the operation worthy of mentioning in their official report.

In the west the artillery is still active and the arrival of clear, cold weather may make possible an offensive movement by one side or the other. The Germans are reported to have brought large reinforcements to Flanders, but whether for offensive or defensive purposes time alone will tell.

From a person who is in a position to be fully informed on the situation the Associated Press learns that King Constantine assured Earl Kitchener, British secretary of war, that he had never considered deserting or interfering with the movements of the Allies. Kitchener, however, thought a number of Austrians, including several officers, were now in Greece.

At the statements of the Entente Allies that her only purpose of maintaining the Greek neutrality is the legitimate necessity of self-preservation, especially in the event the Allies decide to abandon their Balkan campaign, the Greek government at the mercy of the victorious Bulgarians with their army already in the field.

As the statements of the French and British respecting a serious continuation of the Balkan campaign leave Greece in doubt on this point, it is said, there is no present possibility either of the demobilization of the Greek troops from Saloniki. But the moment the Allied forces operating in this field assume proportions sufficient to guarantee a serious prosecution of the war in Greece.

This information is contained in an Athens despatch to the Havas Agency, which adds that Lord Kitchener admitted that the declaration of war found the Entente Powers insufficiently prepared for a campaign, but said that the Allies had known how to utilize the time that has since elapsed to complete their military preparations.

When the blood becomes impure the first symptoms manifesting themselves are a breaking out on some part of the body of various sorts of bad blood troubles, such as boils, pimples, abscesses, ulcers, etc.

How many times have you met a man with a headache? Did you notice his neck, and have asked him, "What is the matter with you?" "Oh, I have a boil on the back of my neck; I guess I will have to take something for my blood."

The best blood cleansing remedy on the market to-day is Burdock Blood Bitters, and the specialist and most thorough method of expelling all the useless and corrupt matter from the blood is to use this old and well tried remedy that has been on the market for the past forty years.

Mr. W. E. Cockerill, Golden, B.C. writes: "I was troubled with boils all over my body, and my blood was very bad. I tried all kinds of medicines and salves, but got no relief. I had to quit work, as I could not stoop to do anything. My loss told me to use Burdock Blood Bitters, after I had told him I had tried nearly everything else. I got one bottle of B.B.B., and before I had finished it the boils were all gone. It is the best blood cleanser I have ever taken. I have told several others who were suffering with boils, and they all say it is great medicine. I am forty-seven years of age, but I feel like sixteen since I got rid of the boils."

B.B.B. is manufactured only by The T. Millburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Washington, Nov. 22.—Henry Ford called on President Wilson today in support of the movement for a neutral conference to attempt to end the European war and establish a permanent peace. He told the president he considered Christmas the best time for such a movement, but declined to say how the president has received his suggestions.

"I am willing to give all the money I've got and go anywhere if my doing so will aid this movement," said Mr. Ford, as he came from the White House. "President Wilson has kept the United States out of the war and I have learned that his course is being approved by people generally throughout the country."

Mrs. Philip Snowden, wife of a member of the British parliament, and Mrs. Rosika Schwimmer, of Hungary, will see the president Friday to urge the same movement. Mr. Ford will be here with Mrs. Snowden and Mrs. Schwimmer.

"I want to do everything I can to end the reign of militarism," said Mr. Ford. "It is the curse of the world today."

Two wounded heroes returned from action overseas were in the city last night, Corp. E. Fenney and Pte. J. Watson on their way to their homes in Fredericton and Fredericton Junction respectively. They were met at the station by a large gathering of friends.

Leut. W. T. MacFarlane, who left here with the 96th has been made chief drill instructor of the 13th Battalion at Shorncliffe, Eng., and is in excellent health to go to France.

NO SETTLEMENT OF LUSTANIA MATTER IS YET IN SIGHT

The German government is said to take the position that to agree to pay an indemnity would be an admission of wrongdoing, and that while in a humanitarian sense it deeply regrets the loss of the Lusitania, it is unable to make any settlement in respect for the establishment of the British blockade on the grounds that the United States itself holds to be illegal.

A SUFFERER FROM KIDNEY TROUBLE FOR TWO YEARS.

When the kidneys get ill the back gives out. But the back is not to blame. The ache comes from the kidneys, which lie under the small of the back.

Therefore, dull pain in the back, or sharp, quick twinges, are warnings of sick kidneys—warnings of kidney trouble. Plasters and liniments will not cure the back, for they cannot reach the kidneys which cause it.

Doan's Kidney Pills reach the kidneys themselves. They are a special kidney and bladder medicine. They heal the diseased surface of the kidneys and bladder, and help them to act freely and naturally.

Miss Mary A. Northrop, Cole's Island, N.B., writes: "I have been a sufferer from kidney trouble for two years. I tried quite a number of remedies, but they did me no good. My mother got me a box of Doan's Kidney Pills, and they did me so much good that I got the second one, and when I had taken that I was completely cured."

Doan's Kidney Pills are the original kidney pills. See that our trade mark, "The Maple Leaf," is on every box. Price, 50c. per box, 3 boxes for $1.25; at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of the price by The T. Millburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

PIPE CLEANING IS SUCCESSFUL

Commissioner Wigmore Reports Great Improvement in Water Pressure—New Contract Authorized—Land Disputes Settled

At the meeting of the common council yesterday Commissioner Wigmore reported the successful completion of the water main cleaning contract and other work that was authorized.

The commissioners of harbors, ferries and public lands recommended that D. C. Clark be refunded $250, the amount he paid for a lot in Guys ward and $100 for interest and taxes, as owing to a mistake in boundaries the city was unable to deliver the lot and that a new lease be issued to the C. P. R. for a lot affected by similar conditions. The recommendations were adopted.

Commissioner Wigmore submitted a brief report on the completion of the cleaning of the two large water mains. As a result, he said, the pressure in all parts of the city has been increased from fifteen to twenty pounds. He described the method of cleaning and the good results. He stated that the work with the success achieved and thought the money had been wisely spent. Asked by the mayor regarding the condition of the water mains, he stated that whereas previously the pressure at the common gate was about twenty-seven at Douglas avenue it increased from twenty to forty pounds at the water office, Leinster street, which usually had a pressure of twenty pounds at the common gate.

The following resolution was proposed and adopted: "That the offer of the National Water Main Cleaning Company to clean the 12-inch water main, approximately 2,000 feet in length, at the rate of 1.5 cents per lineal foot, be accepted, and that contract be entered into with the said company to be completed out of water reserve fund."

The mayor and Commissioner Pettit asked why such successful improvements in the main should be stopped at the Marsh bridge; why not continue the scheme throughout the city? Commissioner Wigmore believed in time he would be able to do this, but at present the scope of work was all that could be handled.

It was decided on motion by Commissioner Wigmore to ask the lieutenant-governor-in-council for authority to prepare the town-planning scheme recently outlined in white and adjacent to the city.

Adjustment was made to meet in committee. A resolution was passed, and later accepted by the council, that the profit submitted by the road engineer showing grades for the road from the foot of King street across Market Square to Dock street be approved and placed filed in the office of the road engineer.

In connection with this it was stated that the St. John Railway Company had agreed to conform, hereafter, with the grades furnished by the city.

It was decided that the grade established by the road engineer in Orange street be approved.

DETAILS OF THE GERMAN 42-CENTIMETER GUN

Although the 42-cm. gun used by the Germans in battering down the fortifications at Liege and Namur attracted world-wide attention during the early stages of the war, the secret of its dimensions and other features has been so jealously guarded that practically nothing has been made public in regard to this monster mortar, beyond the terrible destruction wrought by it. At a recent meeting of artillery engineers at Dusseldorf, Germany, an engineer of the Krupp works delivered a lecture on the making of heavy artillery, and particularly on the making of the 42-cm. gun, or the "Big Bertha," as the Germans call them, and an apparently reliable report of this lecture has been transmitted to the United States. According to this report, which appears in the December issue of "Popular Mechanics Magazine," the big gun weighs about 97 1/2 tons, while the base on which it stands when in firing position weighs 41 1/4 tons. The barrel is 16 ft. long, and the shell fired from it is about 50 inches long and weighs 800 lbs. The gun is far too big to be transported on any kind of gun carriage. It is made up of considerably more than 100 pieces, and must be taken apart and loaded on motor trucks, of which twelve are said to be required, when it is to be moved.

No one not connected with the German artillery is ever permitted near the 42-cm. gun when it is in firing position. It is said that no photographs have ever been made of it, the pictures purporting to represent this gun, widely published at the beginning of the war, being in fact photographs of the 80.5-cm. Krupp and Skoda mortars.

Canadians Not Yet Doing All They Might in the Great War

Addressing the Jewish convention to Montreal, to which reference was made in Tuesday's Times, Hon. Arthur Meighen, solicitor-general, said he was present to greet them in the name of the government of Canada (cheers) and to express the appreciation of that government of Jewish citizenship in Canada. He was there to speak a word of encouragement and of admiration for that spirit of brotherhood and charity which had united the Jewish people with the Christian people in the great struggle, and that which he thought the most memorable prophecy given to the sons of man since the days of the beginning of the war.

"Try this," said good old Doctor Abner Johnson down in Maine. "I made that liniment special to stop the pain of muscular rheumatism." And it stopped the pain, too! And that man spoke the liniment and passed the word along to others, and so on until there were so many wanted it the doctor had to keep it on hand.

Then the neighboring stores began selling it and it was called Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. Of course you've heard of it, but maybe you didn't know it was a physician's own favorite liniment, a recipe worked out by Doctor Abner Johnson, who put it out for sale and whose name it bears—Johnson's Anodyne Liniment.

TREATY OBLIGATIONS OF GREECE TO SERBIA

M. Venizelos' Disclosures, in the Chamber of Deputies, Threw New Light On the Balkan Situation

(From the Manchester Guardian.) The scanty reports which have hitherto reached this country of the proceedings at the historical sitting of the Greek Chamber on October 4 have not done justice to the speech of M. Venizelos, which contained information of the highest importance concerning the treaty obligations of Greece towards Serbia. M. Venizelos made a number of disclosures from recent diplomatic history which are of extreme importance and have not been published so far in this country. We therefore take from the Greek papers now to hand the following passage from M. Venizelos' statement before the chamber:—

"At the time when the present great war, involving the entire world, broke out I was at Munich. I went thence to Brussels, where I had to meet the Turkish Grand Vizier with a view to conferring with him on the subject of the Aegean Islands, and arriving at an understanding with him. At Brussels I found a telegram from M. Pashlich (Serbian Prime Minister) informing me of the outbreak of the war and asking me about the attitude which Greece was going to assume towards Serbia in virtue of the alliance between them. I replied to M. Pashlich that I could not give him a definite reply before returning to Athens and calling together the cabinet and consulting the King; but I deemed it my duty not to leave my colleague of the Allied nation in doubt as to my own opinions during my five or six days that were necessary for my return to Athens. The duty to Serbia.

"I replied then to him telegraphically that without being able to give him a definite reply, I would inform him of the opinion which I would submit to the council of ministers and to the approval of the King. I told him then that Greece would not be able usually to come to the assistance of Serbia in the European war which was about to commence. She could render Serbia only one service on the basis of the treaty, but that would be a valuable one. Greece would stand at attention with her arms ready and declare that if Bulgaria were to attack Serbia, Greece would attack Bulgaria. Such was the assistance which a loyal interpretation of the treaty imposed upon Greece as regards Serbia, since the despatch of a Greek army to the centre of Europe would be but a small enterprise at a moment when the principal enemy would be lying in wait on the right flank ready to rush and to destroy the Greek and Serbian armies by cutting their communications with Saloniki.

"Approved by the King." "On my return to Athens this opinion was approved by the council of ministers and the King. It was communicated as an official reply to the Allied State. And the Allied State recognized that an assistance of this kind corresponded entirely to the engagements assumed by us and interpreted loyally."

"At this moment a deputy interrupted, recalling the crisis in the spring of 1914, when Greece was in a serious diplomatic conflict with Turkey, and asking what had been Serbia's reply to an inquiry of the Greek government as to her attitude in case of a war with Turkey. M. Venizelos replied:—

"The Serbian government replied by pointing out the exhausted state of the country after two wars and her inadequate state of preparation for a new war. It therefore advised us to use all our efforts to avoid an armed conflict. But it declared at the same time that it would address a note to Turkey drawing her attention to the fact that a war between her and Greece would not leave Serbia indifferent. Serbia thus behaved at that juncture as a sincere friend and perfectly in accord with the obligations of the treaty."

"But, as I said, that opinion was not only the opinion of the cabinet over which I presided at the beginning of the war. This view of our treaty obligations was also shared by the cabinet which succeeded me in February, 1915, and in assuming power made the following declarations through the mouth of M. Gounaris:—'But a supreme duty is imposed upon the country to discharge the obligations which she assumed under the treaty of alliance.'"

"When after the elections I came back to power I naturally continued to have the same opinion about the validity of the clause relating to the cases of a war with Turkey, and to the respect which we owed it. When M. Pashlich, on being pressed to agree to certain concessions to Bulgaria in order that the latter might not assume a hostile attitude towards Serbia, addressed himself to the Greek government asking for its consent to these concessions, the Greek government agreed to give it under certain reservations. It is clear that this act constituted a new affirmation of the continuance and the validity of the treaty of alliance."

"A Treaty of Defence." "For the treaty with Serbia is the only one of its kind. There are not two treaties, one concluded before and the other after the war with Bulgaria, as a deputy has pretended here. The treaty is the one which was concluded about one month before the outbreak of the war with Bulgaria—precisely in anticipation of it—for ten years in order to serve the common interests of the two contracting States. I think at the moment I no longer have the right to conceal from the national assembly or from the nation at large the fact that our alliance with Serbia is a general one, a treaty of defence, in virtue of which each state pledges itself to assist the other if that other, without provocation, is attacked by a third."

"A Deputy:—'By any third state?' M. Venizelos:—'There is no 'any.' It is merely 'a third.'"

"It was on the basis of this treaty that we, when in May, 1914, our relations with Turkey assumed an acute character, addressed ourselves to Serbia, explaining to her the motives which had led us to contemplate a new war with Turkey—a war which we considered a defensive one even if we should commence the attack before the provocations from the other side had become intolerable. It was then on this basis that we addressed ourselves to Serbia, asking for her assistance in case we should be attacked by another state."

"M. Venizelos then made the following important declaration:—'Certainly do not ask you to declare war upon Germany and Austria-Hungary, but if in applying our programme of national policy, if while fulfilling our duty of honor and protecting our vital national interests, we should find ourselves face to face with those powers, I am sure that we, though expressing our regrets, would do our duty.'"

Of Oak Hall's Entire Stock of Men's and Boy's Clothing and Furnishings

Here is an event in merchandising which is without parallel—the transfer of a great twenty-seven year old business to a new soil, a soil better fitted to its newer, finer and greater growth. We are desirous of transferring as little as possible of our present stocks to our new store which will be ready for us to occupy January first, next, and to accomplish this we have made enormous price reductions on our entire stock.

There must be mighty selling. Three factors will accomplish this, we believe.

- 1.—The well-established character of the Oak Hall Clothing; its high standard of style and wear.
2.—The reasonableness of the present stock—every garment for this season's selling.
3.—Most important—the prices. It must be remembered that the original prices were lower by far than those of retail stores for clothing of equal quality.

From These Rock Bottom Prices We Now Make Immense And Appealing Reductions, Bringing Clothing of Quality Down to the Lowest Price-Level in Years

The reasons for removing from our present premises are plainly set forth in our regular advertising space on page 12.

PLANNING TO WELCOME INVALIDED SOLDIERS

Many to Arrive Through This Port and Local Committee Will Aid in Their Care

More detailed arrangements were drawn up at the meeting of the Invalided Soldiers' Committee, which met yesterday afternoon at the Board of Trade rooms. Committees were appointed to look after departments of the work, and several others were added to the general committee. C. B. Lockhart presided. Those added to the general committee were: Mrs. G. A. Kurig, Miss Helen R. Jack, Mrs. C. B. Lockhart, Miss Travis, Mrs. A. W. Adams, E. A. Smith, A. S. Bowman, R. S. Sime and Rev. Dr. Morrison. The latter volunteered his services, whenever needed at the Parks' institution.

As stated, plans for transporting the returned soldiers have been altered so that the great influx during the winter months will be through this port. In view of this, the committee purposes fitting up quarters in a section of the immigration building, West St. John, in which the soldiers may be given shelter and made comfortable pending definite allocation. A committee, including the following, was selected to furnish a rest room in the building: Herbert S. Mayes, S. A. Jones, A. O. Skinner, R. E. Armstrong, H. C. Rankine, Mrs. E. A. Smith, Mrs. W. E. Scully, Mrs. C. B. Lockhart and Mrs. W. W. White.

The following were chosen a vigilance committee to find when boats and trains carrying returned soldiers arrive in the city: Judge Armstrong, W. S. Clawson and C. B. Lockhart. A large committee, including the following, will provide refreshments for the soldiers at the concentration depot: Mrs. H. A. Powell, Mrs. J. F. Owens, Miss Helen R. Jack, Mrs. Herbert Schofield, Mrs. J. H. Frink, Miss Alice Walker, Mrs. W. I. Fenton, Mrs. Herbert S. Mayes and Mrs. G. A. Kurig.

The depot will be equipped to accommodate comfortably, about 200, and 50 beds are to be installed for those who may be compelled to remain overnight.

ANCIENT PORCELAIN FACTORY REOPENED IN CHINA

The famous King Teh Cheng porcelain factory which, from the year 1896, furnished all the fine porcelain for the royal palaces of China, is to be reopened immediately, says the Popular Mechanics Magazine, and a grant of $20,000 has already been made by the president of the republic for this purpose. This factory was partly destroyed during the revolution in which the republic was established, and the various samples and patterns kept here were divided among the leading revolutionists. While the making of porcelain has been one of the principal Chinese industries for generations, this factory is said to be the only place in which the ancient ways of making porcelain, with the beautiful ancient colors and designs, has been preserved. The factory will not only be employed in producing porcelain for the market, but will have a special department in which porcelain of the highest quality will be made for presentation to the rulers of other countries.

INSTRUMENT FOR FINDING A SHIP'S POSITION
Finding the true bearing of objects at sea as well as the position of a ship with reference to a coast line, without resort to computation or plotting, is made possible by a new attachment designed to be mounted on the lunatic hood and operated in connection with the ship's compass.

The instrument, which is described and illustrated in the December Popular Mechanics Magazine, consists of a sight tube carried on a revolving standard, to the lower end of which is fixed a curved arm terminating in a pointer. The standard must be mounted accurately over the centre of the compass. The pointer hangs close to the compass card, and since it swings with the sight tube it shows instantly the bearing of any object on which a sight is taken. The instrument is also provided with two graduated scales by which the distance to any fixed object, such as a lighthouse, may be quickly and accurately found. This is accomplished by taking two bearings and noting the exact time that elapses between the two sights. The distance traveled by the ship during the interval is then estimated from its known speed.

CAPT. GILBERT PEAT OF ST. JOHN AT THE FRONT

Letter to His Brother, Cuthbert, of Missoula—Uncle of Guy Turner

In a letter to his brother, Cuthbert Peat of Missoula, Montana, published in The Daily Missoulian, Captain Gilbert Peat of St. John gives some of his experiences and impressions at the front. In his letter he mentions the promotion of his nephew, Guy Turner, a school teacher from St. John who has been given a commission and is now a lieutenant in an engineering corps. Extracts from his letter are as follows:—
"For all that there's been so much fighting, the relative conditions are much as they were, except that we're slightly worse off and, if the Balkans aren't held, we will be far worse off. Since I wrote we've had the great German advance in Russia; the definite realization that we are up against it in the Dardanelles and the proof that this western front can't be forced by anyone, with the doubtful proviso that we might do so. Just now it has boiled down to a furious fight for the Balkans, with the odds evidently very much against us. It's useless to talk of 'victories' and the like. We haven't any to show, except the control of the sea."
"The only good we do is to kill off a large number of Germans and let them to attacks and counter-attacks, where they lose far more. Let's say they have lost horribly—trenches filled with dead. Yet, there is no weakening of the line and I think it will take all winter for wastage and killing to tell on their courage, to break their attack, leave alone their defenses."
"You see, it is simply a matter of killing off Germans. As soon as they see they are losing they will retreat quickly and badly, I feel positive, but that will not be for some time."
"No one is afraid of them, they have proved themselves wondrous. Their trenches are marvellous. At Loos they were about thirty feet deep, with doors and floors, also furniture, and, in some cases, pianos. They don't seem to mind death, being either driven to it or infernally courageous."
"For days after we had Loos, their snipers stayed in, shooting down our men and officers."

on shore, floored into position on pontoons, and then raised by powerful jacks and connected with the cantilevers. For the erection of the heavy bridge members two traveling cranes, one working on each side of the river are used. Each traveler weighs about 1,000 tons and is equipped with two hoisting machines each capable of lifting 100 tons.

The principal feature of the travelers is a tower that stands 200 ft. above the floor of the bridge. Supported on top of the tower are cranes through which the lifting lines are worked. All the machinery on the travelers is electrically operated. To avoid bringing uneven stresses on the partly completed structure, similar members on the two sides of the bridge are lifted by the cranes and erected simultaneously. The total length of the bridge between abutments is 3,250 ft. As now planned, it should be possible for trains to cross the bridge by the end of the year 1918.

GIRL STARVED TWELVE YEARS

Kept Imprisoned in One Room by Father and Step-mother—Now Unable to Speak a Word—Doctor Hopes for Recovery

Easton, Md., Nov. 24.—Reduced to a skeleton for lack of nourishment during her twelve years' imprisonment in a small room, and unable to speak as a result of her long isolation, Grace Marshall is now being tenderly cared for, and officials are seeking a way to prosecute her father and stepmother.
"Miss Marshall understands everything that is said to her," declared Dr. Charles F. Davidson, who rescued her, but she is unable to talk. She tried to speak but her tongue was so stiff that it was necessary to re-build her to put flesh on her poor, atrophied tongue, to strengthen the mind that years of the most exquisite suffering, had nearly shattered.
"The girl is now at the home of Mrs. James, an aunt. Most of the time she sleeps. She weighs 37 1/4 pounds. Her height is about five feet. She is so thin that my thumb and forefinger when I placed them about the calf of her leg almost meet. She is not an idiot. I have hope not only of restoring her to health, but of refreshing her mind. I believe also when she regains somewhat her normal condition that the shortened leg may be saved, and made its proper length."
"Miss Marshall was a normal child. At 18 she suffered from neurasthenia. I do not know what was responsible for this. It may have been love. However, the state of melancholia into which she was plunged was not helped by the treatment she received."
"That she was starved is apparent. The great difficulty now is to feed her without overfeeding her. When food is brought near her she becomes excited and a glass of milk, a soft-boiled egg and a piece of toast.
"Yesterday morning I gave her two glasses of milk, two eggs and two pieces of toast. That was also the meal given her in the middle of the day and at night. This morning the meal was the same. At dinner today I let her have a small piece of rabbit."
"At every visit to the girl I try to help her to learn to talk. It appears she has forgotten how to do so. She tries and I hope will succeed under the treatment. It is possible she may not recover her mind, but because she was once a normal person, I have hopes that she will."

NEW SUBMARINES FOR UNITED STATES NAVY

Will be of 1,500 Tons Displacement With Speed of 20 to 25 Knots—Will Carry Two Guns Each

Washington, Nov. 24.—The Navy Department plans to issue within a week or ten days advertisements for bids for the construction of two fleet submarines authorized by the last congress, plans for which have been about completed.
The two vessels will be of 1,500 tons displacement, or 500 tons larger than the first fleet submarine authorized for the navy, which has been named the Schley. The new submarines will use steam turbines and oil burning boilers for running on the surface and electric propulsion for submerged runs. The Schley will have a speed of twenty knots, but it is hoped to bring the two new vessels up to twenty-five knot surface speed.
An elaborate system of using the two turbines for surface operations and at the same time generating electricity to be used in supplying the power for submerged runs has been worked out at the Navy Department.
The submarines have been designed to carry two guns each, probably of the new 6-inch type recently developed by the Bureau of Ordnance.
Sixty-five of the seventy men in the West 18th street, New York, police station took a pledge not to taste liquor again for the rest of their lives. They made the vow at the earnest solicitation of Captain Dominick Henry. It is said to be the first time in the history of the department that a police officer has taken this course with his men.

Peeling the Skin is Better Than Bleaching
Ever since the discovery that macrolized was would absorb and remove a discolored complexion, its use by ladies as a substitute for bleaching cream has grown rapidly. A perfect complexion can be maintained indefinitely if this remarkable substance is used. Its beneficial cleansing, exfoliating and preservative action is quickly apparent, and ladies who have been paying high prices for "special bleaches" from beauty specialists, soon recognize that macrolized is superior to them all. It has become so popular that it can be obtained at all drug stores. Have it in its original one-ounce package. The favorite way of applying it is to apply it after cream, before retiring, washing it off in the morning.
The macrolized lotion for wrinkles and the facial contour has also become extremely popular. One ounce powdered macrolized is enough for one-half pint water. Wash the face in this has a splendid effect in erasing wrinkles and improving contour.

Boy of Thirteen Goes To Death In Lily Lake

Earle Merritt Breaks Through Ice While Skating—Father Doubly Bereaved as Mother Has Just Died in New York

Earle Merritt, thirteen year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Merritt of Seely street, was drowned in Lily Lake this morning. Accompanied by Gerald McGrath, he left his home a little after eight o'clock to have a skate on the lake. They enjoyed the sport near the shore for some time and then young Merritt started towards the centre. According to his companion, he had gone only a short distance when he disappeared from view.
 The first news of the tragedy was heard by Mr. and Mrs. H. H. McLellan, who were horrified to hear young McGrath approaching their home screaming "Earle has gone down in the lake." Mr. McLellan, accompanied by the father of young Merritt, hurried to the lake and quickly launched a boat and rowed to the spot. The body was visible in about seven feet of water, and the father with the aid of a rake soon brought it to the surface. The boy was apparently dead, and Dr. G. A. B. Addy, who arrived soon after the body was taken out of the water, found that life was extinct and that resuscitation efforts were of no avail. The body was then conveyed to the home of Mr. Merritt.
 Mrs. Merritt was nearly distracted with grief when she heard that her son was drowned. She said she had repeatedly warned her children not to go near the lake, and not later than last night had warned Earle to keep away from the edge. She measured about one inch and a half and less than an inch where the boy went through. The accident happened about 100 feet below the old shoot-the-chutes, and about twenty feet from shore. Besides his parents, there are three brothers and two sisters.
 A sad feature of the accident is that Mr. Merritt was reading a telegram from New York announcing the death of his mother when he heard the cry that his son had gone down in the lake. He was so affected by the shock that he is now confined to his bed.
 When news of the accident reached the city this morning, Commissioner Russell sent men to the scene with grappling irons which are kept at Petting Place wharf. Coroner Roberts viewed the body of the boy and gave permission for burial.

The Man In The Street

Looks as if Greece is going to be good after all. Wouldn't it be interesting to know what Kitchener said to King Constantine at that private interview.

A visit to the King of Rumania might well be K. of R.'s next social obligation.

"Or Fight" or "And Fight"

Since Lord Derby's last announcement British papers have remarked jocularly that the single men must either get married or fight. The cynical bachelor wants to know when the first alternative relieved a man of the second.

Poor St. Christopher

The autolites have adopted St. Christopher as their patron saint. That seems like taking an unfair advantage of a man too long dead to be able to defend his reputation.

Most of our local car owners are supposed to be rich, but there are some who would have to look elsewhere than in Heaven for their guardian spirit.

If the motorists need a patron saint how many do the pedestrians need?

Quick Work

After a lapse of only six months since the new falls arrived the curves in the let Square are to be straightened out some time soon, perhaps. Who said St. John people are not hustlers?

Some Sniping

Lieutenant Smith, home from the front, tells a good story illustrating the coolness of the British soldier under even the most surprising circumstances.

A tremendous German shell burst in the trenches occupied by his regiment shattering the trench and burying five of the men. Rescue parties hurried to their aid and soon dug them out. Fortunately they were in time and the men were still alive although rather the worse for wear. One chap was lifted out half unconscious but still grinning and as they carried him away he murmured in a resigned tone: "Bother those German snipers."

Here's a Good Story

The semaphore system of signalling as a first aid measure for separated sweethearts is a new development but its value was well illustrated at the time of the departure of one of the troop ships from a Canadian port. The steamer which the troops had boarded was protected by armed guards from the invasion of friends anxious to say good-bye but a little thing like that did not worry an enterprising young lady. Taking up her position on the opposite dock she raised her arms and sent out the semaphore "general call" immediately there were responses from all parts of the ship every man who knew the code hastening to take the call. With a few sweeps of her pretty rounded arms she spelled out the name of the man she wanted and some of his comrades promptly hunted him up. Then ensued the unusual but touching farewell scene of good-byes signalled across the water from wharf to ship. The other signalers all insisted on joining in the farewell and the young lady was kept busy answering until the ship pulled out.

BURIED TODAY

The funeral of John W. Swaine took place this afternoon from the residence of his son, Thomas, 228 Charlotte street. Rev. Robert S. Crisp conducted burial services at the house and grave, and interment took place in the Methodist church burying ground.

"All Except the Fish"

Julius B. Schloss in Newspaperdom tells the story of the derby who "was getting all the pleasure of fishing except the fish."
 Some advertisers enjoy all the expense of advertising without the profit.
 They do not fish where the fish are.

The shrewd advertiser finds out where the best markets are located and uses newspaper advertising to land the game.
 He advertises for definite customers in the most efficient way and his bookkeepers do not have to use red ink for balances.

Manufacturers interested in increasing the efficiency of their advertising are invited to address the Bureau of Advertising, American Newspaper Publishers Association, World Building, New York.

MILROY HAD ACCUSED HIS WIFE OF TAKING HIS POCKET BOOK

He Had Carelessly Thrown it to Floor—Trial of Lucas, Who Killed Him, Goes Over Until December 1

Charles H. Lucas was arraigned in the Somerville, Mass., police court charged with the murder of his stepfather, Elias E. Milroy, of St. John, at their home, 51 Oak street. When Clerk Bradley asked him to plead he entered a plea of guilty. After a short consultation between the government officials and attorney Thomas Vahoy, the case was continued for trial until Dec. 1. Lucas was held without bail.

The young man showed no signs of nervousness and listened calmly as Clerk Bradley read the text of the complaint, setting forth the charge that Lucas beat Milroy with a baseball bat until he was dead.

The boy's mother, Mrs. Bessie L. Milroy was prepared to take the stand and testify that her son was in her room when she was being attacked by Milroy in the kitchen of her home, after he had accused her of stealing his pocketbook which he had carelessly thrown on the floor before lying down late on Saturday night.

She announced that she believed that her life was in danger from the attack and that she cried out for help knowing that her son was in his room awake.

Prosecutor Officer Jones may be called upon to produce a report which he has in his possession, which shows that Milroy was placed on probation on October 29 when he was found guilty of neglecting to support Mrs. Milroy.

He also has a pledge signed by Milroy on that date in which Milroy solemnly promised to abstain from the use of all liquor for one year from that date. Mr. Jones' record shows further that Milroy made the statement to him that he had drunk all his life to some extent.

EARLE NAPIER OF 26TH BATTALION ALL WITH PNEUMONIA

William Napier of 118 Duke street, West St. John, received advice by letter this morning that his son, Private Earle Napier of the 26th Battalion, is seriously ill with pneumonia in a hospital in France. Mr. Napier has called for further news of his son's condition. His many friends will hope that the young soldier is on the road to recovery by this time.

DEATH OF MISS MINNIE SANDALL

The death of Miss Minnie L. Sandall, daughter of the late William and Margaret A. Sandall, occurred early this morning. Since the death of her mother, about six months ago, Miss Sandall's health had not been good, and she left for a visit to the United States in hope that the change would prove of benefit. As she did not improve she was brought home again and had been back only four weeks when her death occurred. Miss Sandall is survived by one brother, James, and one sister, Miss Jessie, both of this city. The funeral will take place on Friday afternoon at three o'clock from 5 Paradise row.

ST. DAVID'S BROTHERHOOD.

Rev. R. P. McKim, rector of St. Luke's church, gave an inspiring address on the work of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew and the Church of England Men's Society before the Brotherhood on Monday evening. The executive reported on the entertainment of members of the 2nd since the last meeting and the preparation of a Christmas letter of greeting to the men of the church now in khaki. Between forty and fifty men from St. David's are now serving their king and country, most of them already overseas.

Doherty; vice-president, Mrs. Margaret Corkey; treasurer, Miss Annie F. O'Neill; secretary, Miss Margaret McCluskey; executive, Mrs. R. J. Walsh, Mrs. T. J. Phillips, Mrs. Elizabeth Walsh, Miss Margaret Tierney and Mrs. J. P. Quinn. Miss Sarah Lynch was chosen convener. Rev. GRAND REMOVAL SALE

Some three years ago the ownership of the building we now occupy changed hands.
 We approached the new owners for an extension of our lease but they refused to give us any, and the price at which they held the property for sale was in our judgment too high and so we were compelled to secure new quarters.
 We procured a 198 year lease from the late Major John S. Hall and others of the lot adjoining. We had the old building that was on the lot razed to the ground and have had in the course of erection this past summer a building in which is being incorporated every desirable feature that will aid in the display and sale of Oak Hall Clothing. It will be Saint John's finest store for the sale of Saint John's Best Clothing.
 The contract calls for completion January first, next, and we desire to have as little stock as possible to move, and as moving entails considerable expense, we are placing on sale our entire stock at enormous price reductions, giving the public such irresistible bargains that it will be to your profit to remove our stock for us. Sale will begin Friday, November 26th.
