Power Company Affairs
Company's Argument is That They Need
The Money—Counsel For City Says It

Capitalization—Conference on Procedure
This Afternoon—No Action on Request for Immediate Increase

The first session of the commission appointed to inquire into the affairs of the New Brunswick Power Company, Limited, and to decide the merits of the company's request for permission to increase the rates for their various utilities was held this morning in the provincial government rooms, Prince William street. The hearing took the form of a preliminary statement on behalf of the company and a reply on behalf of the city.

For the company, Homer Loring related the events in the history of the company, which have led up to the present situation, and dealt with increased cost of operating and the various matters which, he said, had made it necessary for them to ask for increased rates. He declared that the June dividends had exhausted the company's surplus, and unless the increased rates were granted immediately, the company would be unable to meet its interest and dividend charges in September. He asked that temporary increases be authorized immediately, under the power conferred on the commission by the act of legislature.

In his reply, J. A. Sullivan, counsel for the city, said that the estimated deficit of $100,000 for the year 1918, as presented by Mr. Loring, was practically equal to the amount which the city's water works auditor had found was added to the interest and dividend charges of the company at the time it was taken over by the present owners. He said that nothing had been produced to show that the extra charge represented by additional value, and argued that the granting of a temporary increase would be equivalent to authorization of the bond and stock issues, on the part of the commission, and approval of the principle that the citizens must pay charges on any securities the company wished to issue.

F. R. Taylor and Dr. Baxter also spoke briefly, and there was some general discussion in which the commissioners participated.

When the commission arose at one o'clock, no action had been taken toward granting the request of the company for an immediate increase in rates.

The commissioners and counsel were to meet this afternoon to discuss matters of procedure, and it is not likely that the commission will act again until after the report of an auditor, who is to be appointed to go over the company's books, has been submitted.

Guy W. Currier of Boston, chairman of the commission, presided, with Henry Holgate of Holgate & Ross, engineers, Montreal, and Albert S. Hickey of the Worcester Polytechnic Institute, as the other members of the commission. F. R. Taylor, K.C., of this city, and Homer Loring of Boston, president of the Massachusetts Association of owners of Street Railway securities, appeared for the N. B. Power Company, with J. A. Sullivan of Boston, Dr. J. B. M. Baxter, K.C., city solicitor, and Dr. W. B. Wallace were present in the interests of the city and the citizens. G. P. Leonard acted as official stenographer.

The hearing included Mayor Hayes, Commissioners Fisher and Hickey, F. E. Trade, A. P. Barnhill, K.C., Percy Thomson and H. F. Robinson, directors, and J. M. Hopper, general manager of the company, Joseph Bodell of Providence, R.I., representing owners of securities, and J. M. Robinson.

The chairman, in opening the hearing, announced the purpose for which the commissioners had been appointed, and read the Royal Commission, under authority of which they acted.

The case for the company was opened by Mr. Loring. He gave an outline of the history of the street railway in St. John under various owners until the present. Speaking of the transfer to the present owners, he said that a common law accepted belief, that the transfer was for the purpose of stock-jobbing, was necessary as the St. John Railway Company had reacted the end of its resources and its possibilities of financing. He told of increased costs of operation and of supplies, and put these forward in support of the claims for higher rates. The company had reached the situation where a total of $100,000, as compared with $205,000 last year. The street railway earnings had decreased, and this decrease will continue. The wage question is imminent and the coal companies cannot guarantee against an increase in cost.

"The company is confronted with a desperate situation," he said, "and it is to be applied to interest and dividends in sight for September 1st less than $10,000. If these charges can-

RESIGNATION OF KUEHLMANN
IS REPORTED

Paris, June 28.—(Havas Agency)—Dr. Von Kuehlmann offered his resignation as German foreign secretary on Wednesday, says a Zurich despatch to the Journal. The despatch adds that it is believed the emperor will accept the resignation.

Wants Luedendorff.

Amsterdam, June 28.—The campaign for the removal of Von Kuehlmann is growing in strength. Emperor William is willing to dismiss him and Chancellor Von Hertling is not disposed to retain him, according to despatches received here.

In the Reichstag and the press anger at his confession of helplessness in victory for the Central Powers and his display of vacillation by his secret speech in trying to forestall the consequences of his first speech, is rising.

In a violent attack on Von Kuehlmann in the Reichstag on Tuesday, Deputy Hasse, independent Socialist, says Vorwarts, suggested that the resignation of certain telegram Chancellor Von Hertling hurried to the house openly to hand Von Kuehlmann the "silken" resignation.

Deputy Hasse described Von Hertling, Von Kuehlmann and Von Payer, the vice-chancellor, as "the leeches" who are sucking the life of the German government, and asked why the resignation of Germany, General Ludendorff.

Copenhagen, June 28.—Count Von Hertling, the German foreign minister, will pay a visit today to German army headquarters to attend an important conference, according to the Berlingske Tidende.

Increase Faith in Victory.

Washington, June 28.—M. L. Micholovich, Serbian minister, in a statement to the press declared that the address by Dr. Von Kuehlmann, German minister of foreign affairs, betrayed for the first time the fact that Germany no longer believed in victory by force of arms and consequently tried to obtain it by other means.

The fact that Germany no longer believed in victory by force of arms and consequently tried to obtain it by other means, he said, the nations fighting the Central Powers should have greater faith than ever in their final victory by force.

Twentieth Year Under Present Conditions—St. Vincent's Exercises in Y. M. C. I.—Fine King Edward Record—Some City Teachers Leave With This Term

This was a happy morning for the school children, the time of the exercises marking the beginning of the summer vacation.

The scene at the High School, Union street, was brilliant—an arresting array of white and flowers, backed with gay decorative work and national colors. The large auditorium was filled with visitors, including numerous school officials and representatives from various organizations interested in public welfare.

The graduating class was addressed by Rev. H. C. Fraser of Knox Presbyterian Church, who announced the class—now on the threshold of serious life—along the lines of decision and principle. Dr. Fraser's address was a most inspiring one, and the present closing was referred to the present closing as the twelfth anniversary of the present amalgamated High School and of its creating success. Principal W. J. S. Myers spoke of the record enrollment this year and also mentioned the fact that four St. John High School pupils of 1918-17 passed first, second, fifth and sixth McGill this year.

The programme of presentations, music and literary numbers was gone through with most satisfactorily as was held in yesterday's Times-Star.

Clad in simple white middie and not in the usual silk and satin of graduating frocks, the graduates of St. Vincent's High School, Cliff street, put their wartime beliefs into practice today and none of the usual pageantry was to be seen. The class members were as follows: Katherine Ryan, Mary Elizabeth Gault, Helen Irene, Helen Clark, Helen McGuire, Margaret Mary, Evelyn Elizabeth, Margaret Mary, Constance, Gladys, and Helen. The exercises were held in the large auditorium of the Y. M. C. I. building, which was crowded with visitors and pupils. His Lordship Bishop LeBlanc, Rev. Fathers Duke, Walker, Moore and other clergymen were present as well as Dr. H. M. Loring, chairman of the board of school trustees; Mrs. Dever, trustee; Mrs. W. J. S. Myers, principal; and several other members of the board.

At St. Joseph's school for girls, Sydney street, the scene was a pretty one. All the little ones were dressed in white or summer tints and their classrooms were gaily decorated with flowers, bunting and ornamental drawings. Programmes of a special character were carried out in the rooms simultaneously and numbers were presented. There were 450 little girls in the building.

Principal H. V. Hayes of the Victoria grades started their closing exercises in the assembly hall atop the Victoria building proper. These children included those of the annex. A little before noon the larger boys and girls commenced their programme in the same auditorium. The exercises were of a high order and the pupils showed much taste in their decorations and merit in their public speaking and singing.

King Edward.

In addition to the excellent programme provided at King Edward school, Wentworth street, South End, much interesting data was given out. Trustees Dr. Manning, G. H. Green and H. Colby Smith were present and made brief remarks. King Edward is a splendid building and the exercises were of a high order. Principal Rex Cormier makes a fine report for his pupils the last year. Over 90 per cent of the scholars have been promoted, the health of the children has been excellent—due perhaps to the enforced one session for so long a period—the school has conserved greatly on fuel according to the janitor. The children have good records for conduct and deportment. Out of 422 pupils fifteen have a record of perfect attendance. Two teachers, Misses Ada Allen and Lillian Curry, retire from the staff this term. Miss Curry re-enters Mount Allison University. Both have been efficient and successful teachers for many years. One of the branches of school life which the King Edward teachers feel proud is their cadet corps, which has inspected and highly complimented last week by Capt. Black.

RUSSIAN FOREIGN MINISTER SAYS EX-
CZAR ASSASSINATED

Paris, June 28.—A despatch from Berne to The Matin says that the court marshal at Darmstadt, Germany, has received a telegram signed "Zhitchevich" announcing that Nicholas Romanoff, the former Russian emperor, has been assassinated. The assassination took place between Ekaterinburg and Perm.

The despatch from Berne gives weight to the increasing number of reports of the assassination of the former Czar, Darmstadt is the capital of the Grand Duchy of Hesse. The former Empress Alexandra is a sister of the reigning grand duke. It is not unlikely that the Russian government, through Foreign Minister Tchitcherin, would inform the Hessian court of the death of Nicholas Romanoff before making it public through regular channels.

Bolsheviki
Overthrown?

Turmoil of Rumors from Russia—One Says Grand Duke Proclaimed Emperor—Lenine and Trotsky in Flight—Kerensky Named as Man of Future

London, June 28.—According to unconfirmed reports today the Bolshevik government has been overthrown, says a despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from Copenhagen.

Moscow, the report adds, has been captured by General Korniloff, supported by German troops.

Advices from the same sources assert that Grand Duke Nicholas has been proclaimed emperor.

Nikolai Lenine, the premier, and Leon Trotsky, the minister of war, are said to have fled to the Murman coast. General Kaledin is said to have cooperated with General Korniloff in the capture of Moscow.

Copenhagen newspapers give prominence to a Berlin despatch quoting the Tages Zeitung of that city as follows:

"It is believed here that the Bolshevik government will soon be overthrown and that Kerensky is the man of the future in Russia."

WERE FROM STEAMER DIVINCK
Sunk Without Warning 700 Miles
Off New York—Two Other
Boat Loads From Vessel Still Missing

Shelburne, N. S., June 28.—Twenty-four of the crew of the former Russian steamer Divinck, which was torpedoed 700 miles southeast of New York on June 18, were saved at Sandy Point, N. S., here late last night by Gloucester fishing schooner James M. Marshall. They had been drifting in an open lifeboat for eight days before being rescued on June 26. They subsisted all that time on a small quantity of ship's biscuits and water.

"When rescued they had only one day's water and two days' rations of biscuits left."

Phillip Larabaster of Liverpool, England, boatman's mate, who was in charge of the lifeboat, told the Canadian Press that the Divinck was torpedoed without warning in the forenoon of June 18. The torpedo struck the steamer's port quarter and sank rapidly. The captain ordered the crew, numbering 140, to take to the boats, of which there were seven.

"We all got away safely," said Larabaster, "but some of our boats had a narrow escape, as the submarine shelled the steamer as we were rowing away. The submarine was submerged when she launched the torpedo, and the first wave of her was when she opened fire."

The seven lifeboats kept together that afternoon, but during the night they separated, and next morning his was alone. He had a compass but no chart and although he knew his position roughly his navigation was mostly guess work. He estimates that his boat sailed or drifted 600 miles north and northwest.

"During that time," he said, "we sighted one small steamer and two small schooners, but they kept at a safe distance. The Divinck was mostly guess work. He estimates that his boat sailed or drifted 600 miles north and northwest."

"The Gloucester fishing schooner James M. Marshall, Captain Rodrigues, bound for the fishing banks, rescued us at 7:30 last Wednesday morning when we were about sixty miles south of Seal Island, N. S."

The rescued boat's crew, all Britishers, will probably come to Halifax for transportation to England.

The landing at Shelburne definitely accounts for all but two boat loads of the crew. In these boats were thirty-three people. The Divinck was a troopship returning to the United States. She had no soldiers aboard.

A WORD FOR THE SAILORS.

St. John, N. B., June 27. To the Editor of The Times: Sir—I would like to say a word in regard to the attitude of the people toward the sailors who visit our city from time to time. In conversation with one of our sailor boys a few days ago, he spoke of the feeling which he thought the people had toward the "boys in blue" and which, as he expressed it, was not a very friendly feeling. For instance he said that while visiting one of the prominent city churches he had renewed acquaintance with several young ladies who were very congenial while in the church, but upon meeting these same so-called ladies on the street, and after saluting them as gentlemen should, he stopped and invited them to accompany him to one of the theatres. He was quickly met with a refusal and was both scorned and hurled upon being asked if he would "windy" cease to recognize them on the public thoroughfare, saying that if he were in khaki or else they would be glad to go with them. As a mother with a boy on the fringe line for over two years, I have an honor for the "boys in khaki" yet I realize that if it had not been for the "boys in blue" many of our soldiers would not have reached the shores of England and France. Why then should the sailor boys not have the same place in our hearts and homes that our soldier boys have? I feel sure that this feeling toward the sailors is one caused more by less by thoughtlessness than any desire to slight the sailors, but this nevertheless does not lose the thing, and it seems to me, Editor, a matter upon which we might very well practice a little war time etiquette.

Grand Prairie, Alta., June 28—Four bodies of foreigners, everyone murdered, have been found on a homestead about seven or eight days. Signs of Eye Strain

Eye strain is muscular strain. A network of tiny muscles enables the eye to contract or expand letting in much or little light as is necessary and to focus that light. A defect in the shape of the eye may cause these muscles to be overworked and under constant strain. This will cause tired, weary, aching eyes, headache nervousness and exhaustion. Properly ground glasses, such as you secure at Sharpe's, end eye strain and the trouble it causes.

DIVIDENDS ON WATERED STOCK IS MAIN ISSUE

(Continued from page 1.) any increase in gas rates, had strengthened the determination to protect against further increases without the production of sufficient evidence. A remark by Mr. Holgate, that the amount of proceeds of the latest issues of securities could be ascertained, was taken up by Mr. Bagter. He said that this would be no measure of the revenue justified, unless the proceeds had gone into the company. He agreed with Mr. Sullivan that the real value of the property was the real test of the amount of revenue required. If the company has to pay increased wages to avoid a strike, that was a matter which could be dealt with by the commission when it arose. If a further audit is required, he suggested that the company and the city agree to a man, so as to avoid disputes.

Mr. Taylor's figure. Mr. Taylor said that the appraised value of the property, as reported by Mr. Waterman, was $2,600,000. This did not include the Eastern Electric Company's assets, worth $124,000, or the water power rights, valued at $80 per horsepower, at $370,000, a total of $3,294,000. Dr. Baxter—"Do you think that the citizens should be asked to pay dividends on a valuation of $80 per horsepower on undeveloped water powers?"

Mr. Taylor, continuing, said that the going value or franchise value also must be taken into consideration. He quoted a Massachusetts case in support of this contention.

Mr. Sullivan—"That was allowed only because of a statute expressly authorizing it. If it had not been for that statute the court would not have considered the franchise value for a minute. There is no such statute here."

Mr. Holgate at this point explained that his remark about the returns from sale of securities merely was to reconcile the figures.

The chairman said that in Massachusetts the actual net proceeds of securities, turned into the treasury of a company and prudently invested, was regarded as a basis of measurement.

Mr. Sullivan, in support of his request for a new appraisal, said that neither the Waterman nor the Sloan reports had any allowance been allowed for depreciation and the original cost could not be taken as a reasonable basis on which to pay dividends. The company's first duty is not to the shareholders but to the public. They have received a franchise from the public and their first duty is to give good service to the public. The duty to pay dividends is a secondary consideration.

As to the franchise value, unless it is protected by statute, it never is regarded. If a company was making a great deal of money it might have a going value or good will value. According to the statements furnished by the company its anticipated deficit would hardly add anything to its selling value.

The company's credit must be maintained if it is to continue in business, Mr. Loring said. If the dividends are passed it can borrow no more money.

Mr. Sullivan again pointed out that if these arguments were based on the capitalization of the St. John Railway Company the situation would be different. But, if the St. John Railway Company had been continued it could have met the increased costs of operation without any increase in rates. The estimated deficit of $70,000 is balanced by the $69,000 which is the additional amount required for interest and dividends under the reorganization.

The commission arose at 1 o'clock. The members of the commission and counsel will confer this afternoon on matters of procedure and the date for the next hearing may depend on the interim action decided upon, such as a audit of the books or an appraisal of the property.

KERENSKY'S MESSAGE.

M. Kerensky has stripped the mask from Bolshevism and revealed the Hun. Addressing the labor congress in London yesterday he declared that Bolshevism was merely the vanguard of German imperialism. He expressed his amazement that any European statesman could regard it as democratic, since it had abolished freedom of speech, made human life the easy prey of every Red Guardsman, and made an end of all institutions of self-government. Bolshevism is ruthless repression, and is allied with Germany against the Democratic and Socialist parties. M. Kerensky appeals to Britain and the United States not to remain calm spectators of the tragedy of Russia. He declares that the Bolshevik leaders, taking advantage of the worn-out state of the masses of Russian soldiers, poisoned their minds and brought about such a disorganization as enabled Germany to paralyze the arm of the nation. Surely, he says, "the fate of the country which has been the combined front of all the other Allies cannot be a matter of indifference to them." He points out that for three years Russia's soldiers had to fight an enemy "perfectly equipped and cruelly merciless, under conditions which no one outside of Russia can imagine." And he significantly adds: "It is a thousand pities that the warning voices coming from Russia were not heeded by the western Allies." "The irresistible invitations to peace by Germany were not unmasked, and the mass of the German soldiers, incited by fanatics and German agents, were deceived; but now they know what is a German peace." We are told that M. Kerensky, although at the outset there was some objection to hearing him, carried the British labor congress with him and roused the greatest enthusiasm. He doubly his reappearance on the scene will give new force to the demand for Allied intervention in some form in Russia. Rising as it were from the grave, he had been reported dead, this brilliant man brings to the other side of the Atlantic the appeal of a stricken Russia, and tells them plainly that Bolshevism is the foe of democracy and the ally of Germany. His assertion is borne out by today's report of the agreement between the Bolshevik government and Germany to crush Poland.

With the coming of Kerensky to London a new phase of the Russian situation is developed, and far-reaching results may be anticipated.

CLASSES FOR DEFECTIVES.

In Halifax a vocational school is conducted for the benefit of defective children. The classes are held in a school building, with two specially qualified teachers in charge. An exhibition is being made this week of the work of the pupils, and the Echo says of it: "The collection of work done by defective pupils in Halifax schools, for whose benefit special classes were held under the direction of teachers qualified for training such children, is a credit to the teachers and to the children. The exhibit is well worth inspecting and shows that these pupils, when properly taught and given work to do that is within the scope of their capabilities, can be so trained as to be of use to themselves and to the community. The education of such children is a difficult task and requires tact, patience and the utmost care, and the fact that the two instructors employed by the school board have succeeded so well in gratifying the teachers and to the children. The exhibit taken steps to meet this crying need."

It will be noted that the school board provides the class rooms and the teachers. There are in every city defective children who cannot keep pace with other pupils, and whose mental incapacity makes it impossible for them to succeed with the ordinary studies. They are a great source of discouragement to the regular teachers, and retard the work of the class. They should be sent to special classes as is done in Halifax, and given the vocational training which is within the range of their mental capacity.

It is reported from several sources that Von Kuehlmann, German foreign secretary, has resigned. His speech in the Reichstag, regarded as "a confession of hopelessness in victory for the Central Powers," followed by his attempt to explain it away, is said to have roused great anger in the Reichstag and the press. We are able to contemplate with the utmost complacency any difference of opinion that may arise among the statesmen of Germany. May they grow in number and in bitterness.

The holiday season for the children of the schools begins tomorrow. The supervised playgrounds will help some to enjoy the next two months, but the larger boys and girls have no suitable recreation grounds. That is not creditable to St. John.

If the former Czar of Russia has been killed by the Bolshevik allies of Germany, another senseless crime has been added to the long list of murders, for which the penalty must be paid.

THE GERMAN THEORY.

German official utterances make it perfectly clear that until Germany has been soundly beaten in the field there will be no permanent peace. If the tone of German officialdom is less arrogant, there is still a note of confidence and an assertion of the right of Germany to take what Germany wants. In the valuable series of brief articles which Mr. W. Frank Hatheway is contributing to the Times-Star, his quotations from German generals, educators and rulers show that the German people have been fed on the hopes of world-dominating through the agency of war. The people are not yet disillusioned. They see that their armies have triumphed in the east and hold much Allied territory in the west, and their faith in the invincibility of those armies, if somewhat shaken of late, has not yet been destroyed. They still do what they are told to do, and accept the Kaiser's utterances as the very word of God. In Germany the people exist for the state, the state must bow to the Kaiser, and the Kaiser is the representative of God Himself. That is the German theory of government as it has been expounded by the leaders for a long period; and hence it is that our war is as much with the German people as with the Kaiser and his immediate advisors. There is no German democracy. The people are with their rulers, and have obeyed without question the commands issued. Only a crushing defeat and the enlightenment which will gradually follow will change their point of view. So far as the present generation is concerned, education in democracy will even then be slow. The whole outlook of the people must be changed through defeat and suffering.

AN EMPIRE PROBLEM.

Premier Hughes of Australia wants the Mother Country to formulate and declare her economic policy, to be pursued after the war. He asserts that much more should be done than has been done to organize for peace and its problems, and that British commerce and industry will suffer unless there is thorough organization and definite economic policy in relation to the Dominions and the nations at large. He reminds the British that Germany is preparing for peace just as she prepared for war. Before the war was getting Britain's treaty by peace she was getting Britain's treaty by war. She must be met by a definite economic policy and an organization to make it effective.

There is a freshness and vigor in the utterances of the Australian statesman which make him always an interesting figure. He does not hesitate to speak his thought in any presence. In Australia they do things, and Mr. Hughes desires that the British Empire effect such an organization for the development of resources and extension of trade as will meet all competition successfully in the world's markets. It is a big problem, and not as easily solved as in the case of Germany. There can be little doubt, however, that the lesson learned, not only by Britain but by the United States, in relation to German methods of trade expansion, will be heeded; and that the British Empire will profit greatly by it in the years to come. One beneficial result will be a closer co-operation between the different portions of the Empire, although it may be necessary to guard against a centralizing policy which would interfere with the freedom of action of the overseas states and create friction where harmony should prevail. The best minds of the Mother Country and the Dominions must be engaged in the great task, to formulate a policy that will give us "the ability to produce wealth and develop our economic resources of labor and capital, so as to support numbers of virile and happy people."

Once more the call comes from Ottawa to use more substitutes for wheat, and to use less sugar. The people are asked to make voluntary sacrifices in order that there may be more wheat for the Allies and more sugar for the preserving season. The response should be universal.

The Harbin correspondent of the London Daily Mail describes Bolshevism in Siberia as "a living corpse," and asserts that it can easily be crushed. He adds that Allied intervention is vital, and that two or three Allied divisions could put down all opposition in Siberia.

PALPITATION OF THE HEART AND NERVE TROUBLES

WERE CURED BY Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills

When the heart begins to beat irregularly or intermittently, palpitate and throb, skip, beats, beat fast for a time, then so slow as to seem almost to stop, it causes great anxiety and alarm and the least excitement or exertion seems to affect it.

Many people are kept in a state of morbid fear of death, become weak, worn and miserable through this unnatural action of the heart.

To all sufferers from heart troubles we would advise the use of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, which by their action in strengthening the heart and regulating its beat remove all the distressing conditions, and impart vigor and vitality to the system.

Mrs. Thomas Davidson, Mount Brydges, Ont., writes: "I have been a great sufferer in the past with nerve troubles and palpitation of the heart. I tried several remedies, but without any good results. My son came in one day and advised me to take Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. After using one and a half boxes, I am fully recovered, and am in the best state of health, thanks to your valuable medicine."

Declares Russians Will Never Recognize Brest-Litovsk Treaty Now That Germans Are Unmasked—Can Britain Hold Back From Intervention?

London, June 28.—The Labor Congress yesterday capitulated to M. Kerensky when he appeared on the platform at the close of a long afternoon session during which considerable anti-Kerensky sentiment had been vociferously in evidence. With his appearance, the opposition to him vanished and before he had finished his speech he received a great ovation. Finally he had to leave the hall by a side door to escape the crowd of beseechers, who were clamoring for his autograph or a hand shake.

M. Kerensky in opening his speech, said:—"Yesterday one of the members of the conference asked what right had Kerensky to be present? I shall answer the question. I am not here as a matter of right, but as a matter of duty. It is my duty as a man who knows all that is truth, who for a long time did not reach the ears of western Europe and America."

"This terrible world war the interests of the allied nations are inextricably interwoven, and the fate of the country which bore the burden of a front greater in length than the combined front of all the other allies cannot be a matter of indifference to all the allies."

Not Recognize Treaty.

"I have not come here to beg or complain. The Russian people have in the past gone through trials like the present and have always emerged strengthened and renewed. Now bending under the merciless onset of Germany, bleeding at every pore she still opposes the enemy. I bear witness that the Russian people will never recognize the treaty of Brest-Litovsk, which is hurrying Russia into abyss of annihilation."

"For three years Russia's soldiers had to fight an enemy perfectly equipped and cruelly merciless under conditions which no one outside of Russia can imagine. It is full of us to wonder that having repeatedly suffered the blows of the enemy and having hit him hard, thereby saving the western front, the Russian soldiers were the first among the belligerents to faint in the struggle."

"The treacherous invitations to peace by Germany were not unmasked, and the mass of the Russian soldiers, incited by fanatics and German agents, were deceived. Now they know what is a German peace. The Ukrainian peasant understands how the Germans secure the independence of small nationalities when German bayonets and chemical vapors are employed to rob him and re-instate all the atrocities of the old regime."

"All classes of Russians strongly protest now against the tyranny that again reigns in Russia. To my astonishment some very serious European politicians consider Bolshevism as democratic, although it has abolished freedom of speech, made human life the easy prey of every red guardsman, and has made an end of all institutions of self-government."

"If this be democratic, then I ask what can be reaction. The Bolsheviks claim that the present state of Russia is a dictatorship of the proletariat, although ruthless repression is allied against the democratic and socialist parties and the toiling masses."

"Every Russian who refuses to recog-

War Garden Bulletin
PRACTICAL DAILY GUIDE FOR VACANT LOT AND BACK-YARD GARDENERS EN-LISTED IN GREAT-ER PRODUCTION CAMPAIGN

Issued by the Canada Food Board in Collaboration With Experts on the Staff of the Dominion Experimental Farm

WATCH FOR BLISTER BEETLES.

Blister beetles occur almost every year and cause considerable anxiety to farmers and gardeners from their habit of appearing suddenly in large numbers and feeding on potatoes, beans, beets, carrots, corn, lupines and other vegetables. They are soft-bodied insect-spiders and cylindrical, and about half an inch in length. Spraying with Paris green or arsenate of lead, as is done for the potato beetle, will control blister beetles, but in some outbreaks it may be necessary to repeat the application because the beetles which are killed are soon replaced by others. In gardens many of the insects may be destroyed by beating them from the plants into a pan containing water with a little coal oil on the surface.

WHEAT SUBSTITUTES

Ottawa, June 27—Henry B. Thompson, chairman of the Canada Food Board, in an interview today said that supplies of substitutes for wheat flour are obtainable by dealers in all parts of Canada at reasonable prices. He stated that the public should not accept any excuses from retailers, because it is the duty of dealers to obtain and to carry sufficient supplies of such substitutes to meet all requirements.

In answer to questions as to the attitude of the food board in case of any attempt to advance prices, Mr. Thompson pointed out that the food board has not the power to control the price of the grains, but he said that unless there were an advance in the price of grains, no increase in the price of substitutes, either by millers or wholesale or retail dealers would be allowed.

"No advance in the price of substitutes is warranted at the present time," said Mr. Thompson. "Millers and wholesale and retail dealers are now operating under license from the Canada Food Board, and any dealer who attempts to take advantage of the order requiring the use of substitutes will be liable to have his license suspended or cancelled."

Among the milling companies who are prepared to supply the following are reported to the Canada Food Board that they can supply the products given below:

E. A. Savry, Masson (Que.), corn flour.

Fowler Milling Co., St. John (N. B.), corn flour and cornmeal.

Atlantic Milling Co., Pictou (N. S.), cornmeal.

Calder Fraser Co., Dartmouth (N. S.), cornmeal.

Deplore Use Of "Fags" By Ladies

At the sessions of the annual meeting of the Reformed Baptist Alliance at Brown's Place, yesterday reference was made to the use of other stimulants, in place of liquor, and the increasing use of tobacco.

Rev. H. C. Archer, in submitting the temperance committee's report said that the committee was pleased with the success of the prohibitory act, which was due to the efforts of Chief Inspector Rev. W. D. Wilson and his staff of subordinates. It was sorry to have to admit that many persons addicted to the drink habit find it possible to obtain flavoring extracts and other substitutes, which are equally injurious, and strongly recommended that all dealers in such commodities should be extremely careful not to sell them to any one likely to use them harmfully. The committee was also sorry to notice that the use of tobacco in the dominion was larger this year than ever before, especially as regards cigarettes. The use of cigarettes was not confined to the male portion of the population, and the committee greatly deplored that some of the young ladies of Canada were now cigarette smokers.

At the general mission meeting held in the afternoon the following officers of the Mission committee were elected:

SUPREME CRISIS AT HAND

London, June 27.—(Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency)—At a luncheon given by the London Chamber of Commerce in the Cannon Street Hotel, Premier Hughes, of Australia, said the Allies were facing the supreme crisis of the war.

The next few weeks were pregnant with tremendous possibilities. German militarism fully realized that they must either achieve a decisive victory now or continue a hopeless struggle against daily increasing odds. It would be foolish to underestimate the immediate danger, but it was clear that the enemy was becoming increasingly anxious. The speech of Von Kuchemann, the German foreign secretary, was a clear admission that the recent offensive had been but barren in its gains and that military success, if not impossible, was "farther off than ever, and unless victory was gained patently, Germany must prepare for a long war."

The change in the German tone, Premier Hughes opined, was due to a realization of America's great effort. The Germans also knew that the Anglo-French armies were confidently awaiting the next onslaught, while the magnificent Austrian offensive had spent itself and any day might see the Austrian armies in headlong rout and the civil population openly rebelling. Germany had completely lost command of the air, and the failure of the submarine campaign was obvious. The Great Britain's mastery of the seas was more complete than ever.

WORK OF INTERNATIONAL TYPOGRAPHICAL UNION.

Indianapolis, Indiana, June 18, 1918.

To the Editor of The Times, St. John, N. B.—I am enclosing herewith a copy of our modest little booklet "Somewhere in France," which may interest you.

On June 18, 1918, 4,281 journeymen members of this union and 656 apprentices were in the army and navy forces of the United States and Canada.

Seventy-five of our members have fallen in battle in France or have died in military camps in America.

To the widows, orphans, fathers, mothers or other relatives of these men this International Union has paid mortuary benefits amounting to $22,250.

During the past twelve months this International Union has paid $354,000 to 1,500 old age pensioners.

In the same period this union has paid mortuary benefits amounting to $312,840 and for improvements at the U.S.A. Printers' Home at Colorado Springs last year was $167,000.

This union has invested $80,000 in each of the three Liberty loans—$300,000 in all. Our subordinate organizations and individual members have invested more than $3,000,000 in these securities.

Our strike expenses for the past twelve months were but $1,237.

The gross earnings of our members amounted to more than $11,000,000 for the year for 62,000 members, and the insignificant amount expended for strike purposes reflects our determination to give full patriotic support to the government under which we live in the terrible responsibilities which now confront us all.

The officers of this International union are volunteers in the Army for the preservation of Industrial Peace for the duration of the war at least, and we will do our level best to give full effect to the earliest recommendations made by President Wilson in his proclamation creating the National War Labor Board. There should be no strikes or lockouts during the war.

This International Union neither solicits nor accepts contributions to its benefit funds. Every dollar expended for these purposes is paid by members.

BRITAIN MUST FIND MANY MORE MEN

London, June 27.—Intervening in the debate on the new military service act and speaking of the urgency of obtaining men for a serious emergency Premier Lloyd George said today it was true the Americans were coming and being brigaded with the allies but that when men were obtained they should replace the Americans and enable the Americans to form their own divisions. That was the honorable undertaking upon which President Wilson was prepared to end over a very large force to duty in the navy with the expectation of going overseas later on.

ORGANIZE NOW FOR PEACE SAYS PREMIER HUGHES

Australian Premier Speaks On Economic Situation

Adv. Great Britain to Spur Up So
As to Be Ready to Match Other Nations After the War

London, June 28.—(Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency)—Speaking at a luncheon given by the London Chamber of Commerce yesterday, Premier Hughes of Australia referred to the economic situation, recalling that, during his previous visit, he had urged the need of empire organization and emphasized the folly of Great Britain's reverting to the old economic methods on which she had hitherto relied so long. We longed for peace, but was Great Britain any better prepared for peace than it had been for war? But for the war Germany would have destroyed our trade by peaceful penetration, and reduced us and most of our Allies to a state of economic vassalage. The war had revealed that our industrial and commercial greatness was being overthrown by German influence and control.

Two things were necessary to enable us to hold our own. First, the ability to defend ourselves against our enemies; second, the ability to produce wealth and develop our economic resources of labor and capital, so as to support numbers of idle and happy people. (Applause.)

Any policy ignoring the intimate relationship between national safety and economic welfare, said Mr. Hughes, was doomed, sooner or later, to destroy the nation adopting it. Hitherto, however, Great Britain had treated these two essentials as separate entities. A country's economic safety and development rested upon the organization covering every part of the national economic sphere. Germany's progress under such a policy has been phenomenal. Germany was today preparing for peace as she did for war. Germany was the best organized nation. Great Britain's policy, except as regards the navy, was a policy of laissez faire. Nevertheless, we were superior to Germany in initiative and resource.

Had Great Britain organized for peace? That was the great question now, said Mr. Hughes, unless Britain was to sink into a third rate nation after the war. He was glad to know that since he had last been here something had been done to organize our industries and prepare for peace. He was not criticizing what had been done. He knew the difficulties. But not enough had been done.

Mr. Hughes emphasized the danger in which British commerce and industry would stand after the war unless we were at least as well organized as other nations. After urging an incessant and most vigorous war against pacifists, who unconsciously or unconsciously were agents of the enemy, Mr. Hughes concluded by saying that effective action by the dominions must await the formation of a clear and definite economic policy by Great Britain, which should be declared without delay.

ALASKA.
See Her Fox Farms and Flowers—
Her Glaciers and Ancient Totem Poles

The Japan current gives Alaska a summer climate like England's.

You can see the mighty peaks sparkling with ice diamonds in the glorious sunshine—the forest cathedrals fill you with a vibrant joy of living—fields of wild flowers tempt you to pluck armfuls of blossoms.

You go most comfortably on Canadian Pacific steamers threading 1000 miles of protected passage, past mystic fjords, peaks rising sheer from the water's edge and out past towns which celebrate each steamer's coming.
