The reference to the Welsh poet, Kohldwehl, whose poems have been exhumed from oblivion, and are about to be published by a gentleman in Harbor Grace, has also a substratum of truth. A review of the poems of a certain mystical William Coldwell is being published in the Harbor Grace Standard; but the reasons for belief that such a person ever in the Harbor Grace Standard; but the reasons for belief that such a person ever existed are not quite so strong as might be adduced in favor of the existence of Mrs. Gamp's friend and admirer, Mrs. Harris. The whole affair seems to be an invention—a heax practised on the too confiding editor of this provincial journal. As an instance of the verdancy of the publisher, I may mention that the blographer of Coldwell narrates a "hairbreadth escape" of his hero when only ten years old. It appears that the youth ful genius, accompanied by his dog, was playing upon the brink of a blazing furnace, when he toppled over and fell headlong into the flames. Even at this trying moment his genius gave birth to the following verse:

Sport, my dog, adiev.

The author of these Coldwell papers has an elaborate disquisition upon the "vision and the faculty divine" which could sing so sweetly from the midst of the lambent flames. But this youthful prodigy of precocity was not destined so to die; for his noble dog rushed into the flames, rescued him and leaped back; but also his beautiful tail was leaped back; but alas his beautiful tail was gone. Nor was his catastrophe without its beneficial results to science; for Darwin, happening to see this curtailed spectmen of curiosity, it was suggestive of that theory of natural selection and the variation of species, which has made for him so illustrious a reputation. When editors can be hoaxed by such transparent inventions you may conceive the standard of journalism here. Just now there seems to be upon the part of some clever wags in our community, a regular raid

TOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD, nothing has ever been offered which can compare with this Extract of Sarsararilla. It is found a great promoter of health, when taken in the spring, to expel the humors that rankle in the system at this season of the year. Many complaints have their origin in the spring, and in the causes above mentioned, for which no better remedy has ever been devised. By its use multitudes can spare themselves from the endurance of foul cruptions and ulcerous sores, through which the system strives to rid itself of corruptions, if not assisted to do this through the natural channels of the body by an alterative medicine. Cleanse out the vitiated blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in pimples, cruptions, or sores; cleanse it when you find its inpurities bursting through the skin in pimples, cruptions, or sores; cleanse it when you find its left, people enjoy better health, and live longer, tor cleansing the blood. Keep the blood healthy, and all is well; but with this pabulum of life disordered, there can be no lasting health, Prepared by DR, J. C. AYER & CO.

CAMBRIC WINDOW SHADES FIRE BOARD DECORATIONS of Puebla. The Protestant citizens petitioned for protection from the police, and this was denied, and they were left in the hands of a furious band of fanatics, frantic in their harbarity, to add another crime to their actions. Many suppose that this crime has been permitted by the Government of Puebla and the traitors to the country who form its support, because justice has been denied to the citizens who were assaulted, while the bandits and red-handed assassins have been left free.
