

BRITISH MINISTERS SNEEZING AND SNUFFLING SUFFRAGETTES ATTACKING WITH RED PEPPER

The Suffrage Champions
Cause Several Scenes in House of Commons.

[Canadian Press.]
New York, Feb. 7.—The London correspondent of the New York Tribune cables this morning as follows:

Exciting scenes arising out of the suffrage agitation occurred last night in the House of Commons while the division on the Lords' amendments to the Scotch temperance bill was in progress. A gentleman in evening dress in the Strangers' Gallery suddenly arose and, standing in the centre of the gangway, shouted: "I protest against your dishonorable treatment of women. You are simply driving them to violence. Women have been brutally assaulted in prison."

Hustled Out.
Most of the other occupants of the gallery shouted a deprecatory "Oh, Oh!" but some others called out "Bravo!" Several attendants immediately rushed to where the man was standing, and he was hustled out of the gallery wildly protesting, amid a scene of great excitement.

Several occupants of the public gallery went to assist the officials in the ejection. The man had a paper, from which he had been reading his harangue, but had not got beyond the first three short sentences before being seized. He was led quickly down the back stairs of the House, avoiding the lobbies, and the public halls, and shown into Palace Yard. The interrupter proved to be H. D. Harben, a prominent Socialist.

Another Scene.
As soon as the result of the voting had been announced there was another scene. A man sitting at the back of the gallery made some remarks, but the attendants immediately pounced on him. He was ejected before creating any further disturbance.

Suffragettes are peppering the noses of the cabinet. Almost every minister has received an unstamped envelope (on which an additional indignity two pence had to be paid), marked "private," and addressed in a feminine handwriting. Perhaps scenting romance ministers hurriedly tore open the envelopes only to scent red pepper and snuff. By an ingenious arrangement these powders were inclosed in paper that sticks in the envelope so that when ministers gave the extra tag to get this out they whisked the pepper into their faces.

Many Threats.
The paper, when their smarting eyes permitted them to read it, demanded, with many threats, the vote. Charles E. H. Hobhouse, chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster, was the latest victim yesterday, having to go home for a fresh supply of handkerchiefs. Francis Dyke Acland, under secretary of state for foreign affairs, was blindfolded for two hours, and virtually all the ministers have been affected. The order has gone forth that all unstamped envelopes are in the future to be opened by the secretaries of the ministers.

SNOW AT WINGHAM

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Wingham, Feb. 7.—There was a heavy fall of snow all through this district early today, and all locomotives were equipped with butterfly plows, while the big snowplows were kept in readiness to go out. Fortunately there was not a high wind, and but little trouble with drifts was experienced.

COMEDY IN THE COMMOMS

[Canadian Press.]

New York, Feb. 7.—A cable to the Tribune from London says: There was a delightful little comedy in the House of Commons yesterday. The Prime Minister was absent, and as the notice paper contained several questions set Mr. Asquith about the land reform program, it fell to Mr. Lloyd George to answer them. At one point where a persistent questioner desired to know if the Prime Minister approved of a statement by the Chancellor of the Exchequer, the genial Lloyd George replied: "From what I know of the Chancellor of the Exchequer, I think he would be perfectly incapable of making any statement of which the Prime Minister disapproved."

There was a general titter in all parts of the House, and the Chancellor of the Exchequer himself joined in the merriment. The diversion, of course, rendered any serious attempt to follow up that line of cross-examination perfectly futile. However, it was still thought that a chance shot at the promised land reform of the chancellor might get home, but Mr. Lloyd George was quite ready. Advancing to the table, and speaking quite gravely, he said: "Speaking on behalf of my right honorable friend, I don't think the Chancellor of the Exchequer promised any land scheme."

ALL-NIGHT SITTINGS GOVERNMENT PLAN TO STIFLE LIBERALS

Conservative Caucus Decides to Have Adjournment at Two in the Morning.

GOVERNMENT CIRCLES
ARE GETTING NERVOUS

Premier Borden and Colleagues
Beginning to Realize They Face Serious Situation.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Ottawa, Feb. 7.—A Conservative caucus was held this morning, and it was formally decided to try and kill further Liberal criticism of the Borden naval bill. It was agreed that the sittings should be late, and a rule made that there shall never be an adjournment earlier than 2 o'clock in the morning. Nervousness is beginning to develop in Government circles over the prospect of being forced to the country. It is generally agreed that the Government would find an election at the present time rather inconvenient.

Liberals Challenge.
Many Liberal speakers during this debate have challenged the Government to go to the country.

The Ministry has been inclined to regard these as bluffs, and to laugh at them. However, with nothing but Opposition speeches going to the country day after day, an echo has started to come back to the members on both sides for their constituents. Naturally, under the circumstances, the messages from home, to the Conservative members have been rather less agreeable than those received by the Liberals. Realizing that the end of the fiscal year, and the end of voted money, are approaching, something in the nature of a panic has developed. Yesterday there was a gathering of Conservative members in Premier Borden's room, where it was pointed out that the Liberals had it in their power to force an election, blocking supply. It was quickly repulsed by the view of the situation, and the fact that none of his estimates have been voted on, Hon. George E. Foster has put off his departure for Australia, which was fixed for Feb. 10.

The Government appears to have come to the conclusion that it is possibly facing a last parliamentary situation. The Liberal leaders have not yet said that the party has decided to adopt extreme measures, but unite in declaring that they want an election.

Whether there will be an election or not rests largely with the Government, but it is beginning to be reasonably apparent that there is a lively fight brewing, in which the Conservatives will oppose silence and long hours to Liberal speeches. The Opposition will persist in the policy inaugurated yesterday by E. N. MacDonald, M. P., refusing to allow interruptions from the Government side. The rule of the House is that a man speaking can be interrupted only with his consent. The practice has been to allow interruptions. However, Mr. MacDonald declared to Hon. Mr. Doherty that if he and his party did not want to make formal speeches they would not want to keep quiet entirely, as informal interruptions would not be tolerated.

Ill-feeling appears to be rising, and this afternoon the Conservatives say they may keep the House sitting from 3 this afternoon until midnight. Saturday, when the arrival of the Sabbath will shut the door of Parliament for the week.

The country may expect to see some interesting developments during the next few days.

South London Liberals.
The semi-weekly euchre party will be held in the South London Liberal Club tonight. All are invited. Good prizes will be offered.

BULGARIANS DENY LOSSES TO TURKS

Reports of Bombardment by Turkish Fleet Declared
Unfounded.

BIG GUNS AT STRAITS

No Easy Task For Balkan Allies To Get Control of Dardanelles.

[Canadian Press.]
London, Feb. 7.—The reports of even the few incidents in the Balkan war received here are viewed with considerable skepticism since it is well understood that they merely reflect the views of the respective army headquarters desire to spread. Yesterday's report from Constantinople of losses inflicted by the Turkish fleet on the Bulgarian army advancing through the neck of the Peninsula of Gallipoli, is today declared unfounded by the Bulgarian war office at Sofia.

Bulgars Claim Point.
The Bulgarian staff asserts also that an Ottoman force, which attempted yesterday to advance from the Tchaudja lines in the direction of Izzedine was quickly repulsed by the Bulgarian army, and compelled to retreat behind the lines after suffering heavy losses. The bombardment of Adrianople continues without any appreciable advantage being scored by either combatant.

Military experts here doubt whether the allies, even if they secured a firm foothold on the shores of the Sea of Marmora, possess sufficient strength in siege guns to overcome the powerful defences along the Dardanelles Straits, even on the European side, to say nothing of the still stronger forts on the Asiatic side of the channel, which would be able to bar the passage of the Greek fleet from the Aegean Sea to the Sea of Marmora. In Germany it is asserted that in the event of the operations of the allies actually threatening the forts dominating the Dardanelles Straits, and which serve as the first bulwark of Constantinople, the great European powers possibly would abandon their position as mere spectators.

London Man Had a Close Call From Death Under Express Train

Emmerson Brooks Fell Into Narrow Space Between Station Platform and Rails as Flyer Was Pulling Out at Alymer.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Aylmer, Feb. 7.—Emmerson Brooks, a young man whose home is in London, had a miraculous escape from being cut to pieces under the evening express at the local station last night. He and another youth, both, it is alleged, being under the influence of liquor, got into an altercation over the ownership of a watch.

Brooks claimed the timepiece was his, and a fight was imminent when the 10:15 train pulled in. Brooks' companion boarded the express as it was pulling out, and Brooks, in trying to follow him, was hurled from the steps, and landed in the narrow space between the station platform and the rails. He was dazed by the fall, and lay still until after the train passed, when a number of people who had witnessed the affair and expected that he would be killed when he fell, helped him up. Beyond a badly-cut face and severe cuts about his hands, Brooks was unhurt.

The couple stepped off the train at Ingersoll and took a short-cut through the yards to get to the rink. They were crossing at a street, when the special was backing down, and their view was obscured for a moment. When the woman went ahead of her companion, and stepped on the track, the special was almost upon her, and she stood still and screamed.

The presence of mind of one of the London excursionists to Ingersoll Thursday evening alone saved himself and his lady companion from being ground to death under a train in the Ingersoll yards. The man suffered some bruises, but was fortunate to escape without more serious hurt.

Her companion jumped forward and pitched her headlong off the track, and she fell beside the rails, but fortunately out of harm's way. The man was struck by the train, but he was hurled off the tracks, falling just outside the rails. Both lay quiet, and when the train had passed they got up.

A number of excursionists saw them and rushed to their aid. However, it was found that outside of a few bruises neither was badly injured. The man's hat was ground to pieces under the wheels, but he purchased another and spent the evening at the game.

The lady was hysterical for some time, but soon recovered.

C. P. R. ENGINE WAS DERAILED CREW WERE BADLY SHAKEN UP

Accident to Locomotive No. 902
Tied Up the Main Line
For Three Hours.

C. P. R. engine, No. 902, was derailed and turned over on its side this morning at the Quebec street station, and as a result the main line was blocked for a period of three hours. No one was injured, but Engineer Liddard and his fireman were badly shaken up by the upset.

Instead it opened onto a short spur line, and before the brakes could be applied, the engine ran off the end of the spur and fell over sideways. None of the freight cars were derailed, but it was a matter of over three hours before engine was replaced on the track, and the line opened again.

Mr. John Forristal Gave Notice of a Motion to This End at Meeting Last Night.

At the inaugural meeting of the Public Library board, held last evening, Mr. M. P. McDonagh was unanimously elected president for the present year. The full roster of officers is as follows:

Chairman of the Board—Mr. M. P. McDonagh.
Secretary—Mr. W. O. Carson, librarian.
Finance Committee—W. H. Winnett, chairman; Thomas Gillen, Mayor Graham, John Forristal.

Library Committee—Rev. Dr. Ross, chairman; Joseph L. Goodburne, Rev. Dr. Sage, Dr. A. Jeffrey.

A Carnegie Library.
Mr. John Forristal gave notice that at the next meeting of the board he would move a resolution to solicit a contribution from Andrew Carnegie for funds to provide for the erection of an entirely new library building. No sum of money was suggested, but some of the members present were of the opinion that at least $100,000 could be obtained for the purpose, possibly more. The new building, if the grant is secured, will be erected in close proximity to the proposed Federal Square.

CIGAR SWINDLER SECURED
$1,000 WORTH OF GOODS HERE

Local Men Will Likely Prosecute
Aziz, of Windsor, When He Is Released.

M. A. Aziz, the Watford man who was sentenced by Police Magistrate Leggett, of Windsor, yesterday, to a term of six months in the Central Prison for securing cigars valued at $193 from a cigar manufacturer of Windsor under false pretences operated along the same lines in this city about two months ago.

Aziz visited a number of the local cigar factories in December, and during the time that he was in this city secured goods valued over $1,000 without any payments. When arrested in Windsor the police of that city made inquiries about his operations in London, and representatives from the local firms gave evidence at the trial.

One of the firms which suffered from the actions of Aziz stated to The Advertiser that in all probability the local men will commence another action against him when he is liberated from the Central Prison in six months.

Exeter, Feb. 7.—Clive McAllister, son of Rev. W. G. H. McAllister, of the local Methodist Church, formerly of London, is ill in Toronto as a result of swallowing a quantity of nitric acid, with which he was experimenting at Toronto Medical School.

He was blowing with a glass tube into some nitric acid in the laboratory, when a quantity of it got in his mouth. It was very strong, and McAllister, realizing the seriousness of the situation, swallowed a quantity of chemicals to counteract its effects. A stomach pump was applied by a doctor, and McAllister, while still ill, is out of danger.

EXCISION OF THE TONSILS

Dr. J. W. MacKenzie, professor of diseases of the throat in Johns Hopkins, has written a protest, which is attracting attention, against the craze for the removal of the tonsils. He quotes, with approval, the remark of a surgeon-general that of all the surgical insanities within his recollection the tonsillectomy is the worst, not even excepting operations on the appendix. He characterizes the prevailing lust for tonsil-cutting as worse than a mere surgical thirst to which operators, as a rule, are liable, but as a mania or obsession that has seized the laity as well as the profession.

This high authority declares that nearly all children some time or other have enlarged tonsils which are generally either harmless or physiological, and whose removal is not only unnecessary, but injurious to the proper development of the child. And this notwithstanding the fact that science is not yet able to explain fully in what way the tonsils function further than that they are producers of white blood-corpuscles, and that they secrete or excrete a substance into the pharynx, that they are not truly lymphatic glands and hence that other lymphatic glands in the body cannot assume their function in case of their removal. He has no doubt that their physiological integrity is of the utmost importance in infant and child life.

He does not go so far as to say that a tonsil should never be removed, but he denies that more enlargement is sufficient cause, unless it be so great as to interfere with respiratory functions or its tissue be actually diseased. A large tonsil is not necessarily a diseased one, and unless it is interrupting function it will be best to leave it alone.

SLAY OFFICIAL AND HIS WOMAN NURSE

Paris. Feb. 6.—Paris was thrown in an uproar late today by the assassination of Edouard Peltier, an official of the French department of justice, and a woman nurse, who was attending him.

The double murder is believed to have been committed by uncaptured accomplices of the gang of automobile bandits whose trial is now going on here.

It is supposed that the crime was intended as an act of vengeance and warning. Peltier was formerly chief of the bureau of pardons at the ministry of justice, but had been in ill-health for some time. He was a man of considerable wealth.

He was found strangled in a chair in his library. The nurse's body lay in another room where she had from all appearances been hacked to death with an axe.

An investigation by the police of the young woman's past has given rise to the theory that she and the murderer were acquainted with the "demon chauffeur," Bonnot, and his gang.

It is thought she admitted the murder to the house, and he, after strangling Peltier, made an end of the sole witness. About $1,000 in cash was stolen.

GET THIS PRESENT FOR YOUR MOTHER

The story is told of a family that had a consultation some time before the holidays with a view to getting the dear old mother of the household a holiday gift. Of course, the mother was not taken into the conference, as the offering was to be made a surprise to her.

After some discussion of the question, one of the able-bodied, overgrown sons of the family proposed that, inasmuch as the winter was coming on and considerable wood was required to keep all the fires going, it would be most appropriate to present "mother" with a new axe, as she had almost worn out the old one chopping wood.

WHITES BROUGHT PLAGUE

Tuberculosis Will Kill Off Alaskan Natives in Fifty Years.

[Canadian Press.] Washington, Feb. 6.—Extermination of the native population of Alaska within fifty or sixty years through the ravages of tuberculosis and other diseases introduced by the white man, is predicted by Dr. Emil Krulish of the public health service. Dr. Krulish today reported to the federal bureau of education on the investigation he has just completed. He paints a picture of the future for the native Alaskans unless steps are taken immediately to ameliorate their condition. Where work along scientific lines has been undertaken, says Dr. Krulish, the betterment of the Indians is everywhere apparent. He complains, however, that the rescue work is not widespread enough and advocates a much larger force of physicians and field nurses, who would teach the natives the laws of hygiene.

It is pointed out in the report that there are no funds available for the erection of hospitals or segregation buildings, and these are held to be necessary if comprehensive work is to be done. Physicians, it is said, now are compelled to work in rented buildings unsuitable to caring for the sick, and many of which have no conveniences whatsoever.

Important News for Saturday Shoppers

SATURDAY will be a day of many and varied economies, some of which, perhaps, would suit you better if they were obtainable a month or two later; for instance, the sale of furniture and the sale of lingerie, lawn and gingham dresses. But please remember that the most important reasons for such savings in February is the creating of an incentive to buy at a time which might otherwise be inactive. To defer these sales until the normal spring rush comes would overtax delivery facilities and add to the cost of doing business.

PRACTICAL WORK FOR RAVNESWOOD PUPILS

Elementary Agriculture Being Taught in the Public School.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Ravenswood, Feb. 7.—Miss Capes, teacher of the Ravenswood School, is teaching a class in elementary agriculture, as provided for by the agricultural department. Recently the class visited Win. Zedball's, to inspect his horses. On Monday a public meeting was held in the school, when Mr. Conn, S. T. spoke on the value of the course to the pupils, and Mr. Porter, district representative, gave some valuable hints on the selection of seeds.

An adjournment was then made to Mr. Clark's stables, where Mr. Porter gave a lesson to the class in judging cattle. Mr. David Hamilton is visiting friends here after some years spent in the West. Mr. and Mrs. Stephenson, of Saskatchewan, are visiting their daughter, Mrs. Jesse Clemens.

Bert Clark is taking a course in packing apples at the O. A. C. Schell Bros. lost a valuable horse recently.

Don't Say You Can't Eat

You'll Never Have Stomach Trouble After You Read This, and Act on It. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Are the Open Secret.

Thousands of people who hadn't really enjoyed a meal for years have given their stomach a new lease of life through the wonder-workers, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. They promptly put an end to flatulency, heartburn, dizziness, sick headache, dyspepsia, burning sensation, brass, fermentation and the other ills attendant upon a disordered stomach.

The Stomach Sends a Message to the Brain the Instant There Is Trouble. In this day and age of known facts, there is absolutely no excuse for anyone to suffer with stomach trouble, indigestion, sour ridings, catarrh of the stomach, gas formations, etc.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are composed of known and approved digestants that help out the gastric juices of the stomach. They are Nature's digestives, the same kind the stomach uses when it is in good health. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets do not merely aid digestion—they actually digest the food themselves. All the hard work is thus taken off the stomach and it gets a chance to rest and recuperate. The undigested food which formerly produced nauseating gases in the stomach becomes thoroughly digested and as a result provides new brain and brawn and nerve cells to replace natural waste always going on. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets act quickly, safely and naturally, just like Nature herself. They are a familiar and standard part of the stock of every properly-equipped drug store and are sold at 50c a box.

Those who once try Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are never at a loss to know how to overcome any form of indigestion or stomach trouble.

There are twenty-two grandchildren, seventeen of whom were present, and three great-grandchildren, of whom one was present. Guests were also present from Detroit, Port Huron, Sarnia, Petrolia, Camlachie and other points. At 4 o'clock a splendid supper was served, after which Thomas, the eldest son, read an address, following which a purse well filled with gold was presented by little Miss Grace Barrett, of Detroit.

The evening was spent in games and in a social manner.

FIRE AT PARKHILL

Roof Was Burned Off the Home of Ronald McKinnon.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Parkhill, Feb. 6.—Fire caused from an overheated chimney broke out here at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the home of Mr. Ronald McKinnon, of Mill street. The fire was first noticed after it had gained considerable headway, but the prompt work of the firemen probably saved the building from utter loss. The fire was extinguished after an hour's hard fighting, as the blaze was in the roof. In the meantime most of the furniture, etc., had been removed. The loss of Mr. McKinnon will be about $500, the roof having been destroyed and the walls saturated by smoke and water.

GOTHAM GAMBLING RAIDS

[Canadian Press.] New York, Feb. 6.—The higher-up circles of the gambling fraternity were upset today by the raids which were made simultaneously last night on eight big alleged gambling establishments in the Fifth avenue and theatrical districts.

Several features of the raids were spectacular and novel. For the first time in the history of the police, firemen were used to assist in the raids. As the police in eight taxicabs parties, under command of Inspector John P. Dwyer, swooped down upon the suspected places, firemen gained entrance by either pretending to be inspecting the buildings or by shouting "Fire." If successful in getting in, the police followed. If not, axes and crowbars forced entrance.

But in all of the eight places there was no one arrested. In some mysterious manner the alleged proprietors had all been "tipped off." The collection of gambling instruments and furnishings, however, was one of the finest the police ever laid hands on. The seven taxicabs carted to station houses were valued at $25,000, some of which was from the place formerly occupied by Richard A. Canfield. Relics of his de luxe parlors, including rare paintings and tapestries and other art treasures, were found still to adorn the walls.

LONDON, FRIDAY, FEB. 7.

A FORMER LONDONER HONORED.

Our former fellow-townsmen, Rev. D. S. Hamilton, now of Winnipeg, has been winning laurels in the west. To be publicly assailed by Premier Roblin is something an honest man must be proud of. It has become a badge of good citizenship in Manitoba. Mr. Hamilton is not so well known as the Roblin Government, but unlike it he has a good name where he is best known, as in London.

Mr. Hamilton's offence was a protest against the Cossack methods of treating British subjects in the recent MacDonald by-election campaign. Perhaps Mr. Hamilton had not been long enough in Manitoba to become accustomed to the prostitution of the machinery of the law for partisan purposes. He was angry because innocent men were clapped into jail on trumped-up charges, and he said so. This act of lese majeste brought down on his head the choicest brand of Roblin invective. A famous fellow-sinner, Rev. Charles Gordon ("Ralph Connor") received a share of these compliments. Friends and acquaintances of Mr. Hamilton in London will laugh at the Premier's picture of him as a worker of iniquity. They know that a man of his modest nature must have been righteously indignant before he entered the public arena and challenged the Manitoba Goliath to single combat. In an open letter in reply to Roblin's vituperation Mr. Hamilton says:

"Do not imagine that you can throw dust or sand in the eyes of the people, or blind them to the facts of the case—facts which prove that respectable citizens were intimidated and innocent workers were arrested, jailed, ill-treated and denied fair trial. The real issue is the liberty of the subject, and the right to demand fair trial if arrested. I believe that I voice the sentiments of the independent manhood of Manitoba when I say to you, Sir Rodmond, we will not cringe before your presumptuous claims; we refuse to be cowed by your impudent threats; we repudiate your base insinuations against me of impure motives; we despise every cowardly attempt made to besmirch the character of honorable citizens, who stand head and shoulders above their traducers."

The Roblin Government has remained in office for thirteen years because it has succeeded in lowering the tone of public morality, but the public conscience is awakening at last, thanks to the courage of men like Mr. Gordon and Mr. Hamilton. The next election, from all accounts, will put an end to the scandal of the Government's existence.

AN EDUCATIONAL REVOLUTION IN BRITAIN.

Full reports of Lord Haldane's speech on national education bear out the importance attached to it by the cabinet. He stated explicitly enough, as Mr. Lloyd George has since done, that the land reform was being deferred not through any differences in the cabinet, but through the magnitude of the inquiry. The press hostile, under the guise of friendship, to social reform, including Punch, which cartooned the Chancellor of the Exchequer as a poacher on the squire's preserves, calling off his ferret, need not have been in a hurry with such an inference. They might at least have thought it too good to be true. Education, however, said Lord Haldane, is now ready, after years of discussion, for a great forward move.

"It is to be a complete reform of the English educational system. This thing is to be done imaginatively and spiritually. I have been for four years chairman of a royal commission on university education, which has been a great education to me, because I have learned how utterly chaotic and backward is the state of education, elementary, secondary and higher, in this country. No wonder education has been a dull subject. We mean to try to make it an interesting subject."

How is education to be made interesting by the Asquith Government. Just in the same way as insurance was made interesting, by making education truly national in character, scope and maintenance.

At present, said Lord Haldane, clerks of the second division in the civil service, who come in at 18 years of age, complain bitterly that all the best places go to clerks of the first division who come in with a university training at 22. What the Government proposes to do is to open the chance of university education, and thus the best posts of the civil service, for example, to the highest talent among rich and poor alike. This will be an interesting matter to the strata now debarrd from higher education.

Another thing, "Our views of education hitherto have been rather wooden. Education is not confined to reading, writing and arithmetic. All sorts of other things have been added; that is all to the good, but we want still more to widen our notions of education so that you may fit the boy or girl for the positions they take most interest in." All talents shall be given the chance for all lines of work.

Most interesting of all is the final upshot of this process. Such a measure as is proposed "will do what can be done to break down the barrier which separates class from class. Only a few can succeed, after all, to the accomplishment of the best things in life; but there is no reason why few should have their chances exclusively among the ranks of the well-to-do. The boys and girls of the working classes care very much for these things and should have their chance."

Of course, as Lord Haldane said, the scheme will be expensive. But the whole people will at last be interested in a national system. Modern competition demands a lavish expenditure on education quite as much as upon advertising. And then, on the other hand, there will be fewer people in a properly educated country to draw on the old age pension fund. There will be less money spent on charities. The national revenue will be larger from greater production and from greater incomes. Education is bound to pay for itself.

Lord Haldane made an appreciative reference to the new city universities of England. They are doing great work, and they continue to multiply and expand. Lord Haldane suggested that the country could do with twice as many yet. How about Ontario, by the way? Does Western Ontario, with its million people, need no university at all?

For the old, said the orator, the pensions have been provided; for those in the prime of life national insurance is now in force; for the children the fullest educational opportunity is to be guaranteed. Then the Asquith Government will have provided for the three generations of Great Britain, and when that is all done, the land, to crown all, shall be fairly apportioned. Lord Haldane and his colleagues are like Ulysses and his companions who could never rest or rust in case, but set their faces to the western deep, old, battered, weather-furrowed as they were, to win more honors. "We are not as young as we were. Some of us are getting white, and others are getting rheumatic, but we have still enough energy to go on for a bit." The education and land policies are considerable "going on."

THE LATEST PHASE OF THE WAR

The Bulgarians have given a new turn to the war by penetrating to the city of Gallipoli, the key of Constantinople and the Black Sea. Apparently the object is to try to clear the Straits of Dardanelles (which are commanded by Gallipoli) for the entrance of the Greek fleet into the Sea of Marmora. Constantinople stands at the eastern end of the Sea of Marmora, at the entrance of the Bosphorus. By forcing the Dardanelles the Greek fleet would be brought within striking distance of the Turkish capital, and could co-operate with the land forces of the allies in the final assault. But it is by no means certain that the Bulgarians have captured the Turkish defences of the Dardanelles, which are reputed to be powerful on both shores.

There are now three distinct Bulgarian armies in the field. One is besieging Adrianople; the other is trying to force the Turkish defences at Tebat. alda, the outpost of Constantinople; and the third is at or near the Dardanelles. The Bulgarians have made good use of the two months' armistice. Gallipoli is a hundred miles south of Adrianople, a proof of the rapidity of the Bulgarian march, and the aggressive nature of their plan of campaign. If the allies could get a fleet into the Sea of Marmora, they would have the Turks bottled up by sea and land. All these movements are converging on Constantinople, which is to be the last scene of the last act of the bloody drama, unless the Turks forestall it by surrender. The Turks could have saved their capital and a large area around it if they had yielded Adrianople to the allies, and left the fate of the Aegean Islands with the great powers. Now they may save no remnant of their European empire. Even the great powers may be prevented from co-operating in Turkey's behalf by mutual jealousies, if the allies actually occupy Constantinople.

One day an inspector of a New York tenement house found four families living in one room, chalk lines being drawn across in such a manner as to mark out a quarter for each family. "How do you get along here?" inquired the inspector. "Very well," was the reply, "only the man in the farthest corner keeps boarders."

BRITONS, PREFERENCE OR NOT!

[Montreal Herald.]
But let Mr. Law take heart. If he is seriously concerned about the future of the empire he had better look to Canada to find that we are staying within the empire because we are held by ties of affection and sentiment, not by "hire, gain, or hope of reward."

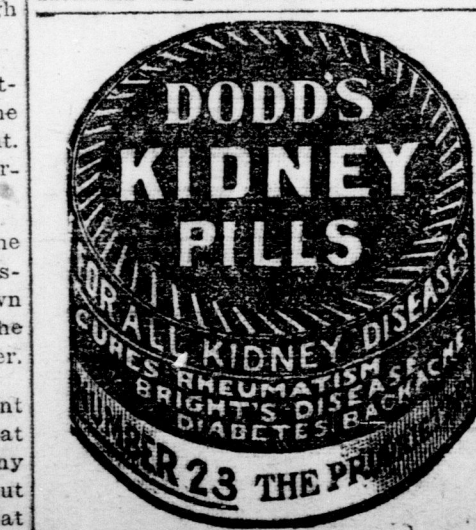

We will thankfully accept any preference the British Government may see fit to give us, but we propose to remain a part of the empire whether that preference comes or not. We have little patience with empty talk and high-sounding professions that mean nothing.

TENNYSON'S FONDNESS FOR FICTION.

[Manchester Guardian.]
Tennyson's fondness for fiction was proof against the dullest novel. All he asked of a book was that it should be long. Francis T. Palgrave tells of the time when he and Tennyson were spending the night together at an inn on Dartmoor. "One bedroom with two huge four-posters was 'allotted us,'" writes Palgrave, "and Tennyson lay in his with a candle, reading hard the book which on this trip he had taken for his novel-companion, and at every disengaged moment opened whilst rambling over the moor. This chance to be one of Miss Yonge's deservedly popular tales, wherein the leading element is the deferred church confirmation of a grown-up person. On Tennyson read, till I heard him cry with satisfaction: 'I see land! Mr. — is just going to be confirmed!' after which darkness and slumber."

It is announced that Herr Glaubitz will leave the employ of the city "within the year."

He has put matters in such splendid shape in London, that he feels he must seek "a larger field of usefulness."

Things have been rather warm for the G. M. of late. His undiminished ardor in the service of the Twelve-Inch Gun has led his footsteps into tangled places. He even admitted on the witness stand that he had never cast eyes on the contract between the city and the hydro-electric commission. But why should one worry about contracts, when that little old last year's car has to be tinkered up and exercised?

But should it be the sober truth (blub, blub), that Mr. G. has determined to tear himself away from his "boot hook", we should all in a contrite spirit and with due humility (some more sob), gather on the steps of the city hall and let that grand old refrain swell up from our throats:

Is Fatal Catarrh in Your Family?

It Runs Hand in Hand With Bronchitis, Weak Throat, Pneumonia, Consumption.

Doctors state that 95 per cent of the Canadian people suffer from Catarrh. You can easily recognize it from the bad taste in the mouth and from lack of appetite in the morning. In bad cases the mucous drops from the throat and causes nausea. The throat fills with phlegm, the patient sneezes and coughs continually, not infrequently there is lassitude and chilliness and aching in the limbs.

Doctors recommend Catarrhazone. It is nature's own cure. It drives out the germs, heals sore spots, cleans away every vestige of Catarrhal taint.

You send the soothing vapors of the pine woods, the richest balsams and healing essences, right to the cause of your cold by inhaling Catarrhazone. Little drops of wonderful curative power are distributed through the whole breathing apparatus by the air you breathe. Like a miracle, that's how Catarrhazone cures bronchitis, catarrh, colds and irritable throat. You simply breathe its healing fumes, and every trace of disease flees as before fire.

So safe, infants can use it, so sure to relieve, doctors prescribe it, so beneficial in preventing winter ills that no person can afford to do without Catarrhazone. Used in thousands of cases without failure. Complete outfit, $1.00, lasts three months, and is guaranteed to cure; smaller size 50c, all dealers or the Catarrhazone Company, Buffalo, N. Undoubtedly, someone has sent us a very good joke about Aldermen Moore, Stein, Rose, White and Glass. With no desire to offend, would the sender please send the answer tomorrow? We can't get it.

Do you belong to the progressive party? So do we. What kind of a progressive party? Why, "progressive" eucure party, of course. (Yes, there are quite a few suffragettes in it, too.)

That touch about blanketing your horse goes for you, too, Mr. Butcher Boy.

A gentleman called up to ask the name of the man who had driven home an ill-clad old lady. But he is the variety of citizen whose name we never see. He does good by stealth, and we keep his secret.

And here's a little epigram that Elbert Hubbard may have for $11: "A little touch of kindness may kindle a kindred desire."

But, we're getting sentimental, when we had intended to slam a few aldermen.

But, on second thought, we'll vent our spleen simply by remarking—

"Does my automobile scare your horse?" asked the motorist in a mud road. "No," replied Farmer Cornsossel. "He's the tamest, most intelligent animal you ever saw. What makes him act that way is that he's trying to back around to be hitched up to your vehicle; 'cause he knows you're a-goin' to need him."

Miss Billie Burke Says
Anyone Can Understand
What It Means to Love.

WHAT EVERY WOMAN WANTS TO KNOW

Pictures at Art Exhibit.
Home and Fashion Hints.
Cynthia Grey's Answers.

YOU NEED NOT BE OLD NOR MARRIED TO KNOW LOVE—SAYS BILLIE BURKE.

I tell you I am sure at least of one good time each day. Every morning when my secretary opens my mail she lays aside the letters which are more humorous or interesting than others, and we go over them very carefully.

Yesterday a man wrote me, "What do you know about love, my dear Billie? You are very young. At least you look so to me. You have never been married and I have never heard a rumor of an engagement. Aren't you taking a good deal upon yourself to advise lovers when, from experience, you know nothing about the tender passion?"

One does not need to be old nor married to know about love. Every man, woman and child in the universe must know about it as soon as they know anything. Some, alas, only know it because they miss it, for love is the only thing that makes life worth living, the only civilizing instinct that we human beings know.

LOVE IS EVERYWHERE; we see it in the budding flowers and the stars of heaven; and death in life has come to us if we cannot feel it.

LOVE CLASPS the mother's breast with baby fingers.

LOVE BRUSHES the cheek of youth with sweet caress.

LOVE ILLUMINED the rugged face of Lincoln as he affixed his name to the paper that liberated the souls of four million people from the bonds of slavery.

LOVE CAME to Joan of Arc and straightway she followed with steps that did not falter, whether they led to the victor's crown at Orleans or the burning stake at Rheims.

LOVE TOUCHED the pen of Shakespeare and set the whole world of poetic fancy aflame with rose and gold.

LOVE SANG in the ear of Mozart and music trembled down time's pathway.

LOVE RESTED for a moment beside the canvas of Raphael and left behind the semblance of motherhood divine.

LOVE SILENCED the cruel, raucous tongues of the beasts in Rome's arena, for, in the ears of the dying martyr, still echoed the words of the Greatest Lover of all, when His burning cup of sorrow overflowed, still loved so much that He could lift His face to heaven and whisper:

"Father, forgive them; they know not what they do."

KATHERINE LESLIE'S HOME CHAT

THE WEIGHT OF A WOMAN.

It would be interesting to know just what to do for one's clothes from one's weight, when one makes periodical pilgrimages to the weighing scales. If there is one thing more than another that a woman dislikes it is having gratuitously added to her size or her weight an extra year or an extra pound. One woman I know invariably deducts six pounds from when declaring weight. This, she asserts, is a fair average of the weight of clothes worn by women. Of course, the doctor and the gymnasium instructor in women's colleges and such places, proceed scientifically in weighing the body. But the ordinary run of us who go to the doctor or the instructor are dependent upon the scales—and incidentally upon the good nature—of the butcher or the grocer for this purpose, and these are hardly authorities on the weight of one's clothes. Then there are the scales at stations which will point out, upon the reception of a penny into their interiors, exact weight. But neither of these deduct for one's clothes. I remember not long ago weighing myself while awaiting the arrival of a train, and what was my consternation and horror to discover that I had gained a pound in three days! I was transfixed before those terrible figures. I was always a dunce at mental arithmetic, but I realized with horrid swiftness that if I accumulated flesh at the rate of five pounds in three days, I should be a colossus, a monster at the end of three hundred and sixty-five days! I was appalled. I turned pale, and I must say for my friend when I told her the tale of my station that she was as alarmed as I was. After considering me a moment to see if I was really expanding at so alarming a rate, she laughed, pointed to my umbrella, two heavy magazines,

MISS BILLIE BURKE.

Problems of the Fair Sex Solved by Cynthia Grey

[Correspondents are requested to make their inquiries as brief as possible, and to write on one side of the paper only. It is impossible to give replies within a stated time, as all letters have to be answered in turn as they are received. No letters can be answered privately.]

They Smile at Each Other.

Dear Miss Grey,—Like all the rest, I eventually turn to you for advice. Now, my trouble is this. I am bookkeeper in a very "classy" office, and am very particular about the kind of company I keep. Just across the hall is another office, and all day long I sit facing a very handsome young man in the other office. We have seen each other every day for about a year now, and I sometimes venture to smile at each other. He does not live in London, and does not know anybody that I know, so an introduction seems impossible. Recently he has found out my name, and so phones me occasionally. I still stick firmly to my resolve and decline all invitations to the rink, etc. Now he claims to be offended at me. Am I doing right, or don't you think I would do better enough to venture to break this formality just this once? There are lots of boys that I know less about, but have had an introduction to, and I skate with them.

Now, Miss Grey, please do not be too hard on me. Thanking you, I am, X. Y. Z.

P. S.—I am 26 years old (almost old enough to have a little more sense). I admire you for being somewhat more prudent in the matter of forming indiscriminate acquaintances than is the case with some girls. You appear to be a sensible young woman, and it does seem only reasonable that after a year's time you might melt the reserve a little. Your conversations on the telephone must have revealed his character to you, to some extent, and I wonder you from what you know of the young man would you be quite willing to introduce him to your mother as a friend? If you can answer that question satisfactorily, I do not think you need fear to be a little more friendly. I would not, however, advocate the too free accepting of invitations until you are better acquainted. There, I haven't been "too hard" on you, have I? I know I'm a terrible crank at times—but then I have to be.

Kissing Out-of-Date.

Dear Miss Grey, I am very much interested in your daily columns, and would be very pleased if you would help me with some perplexing questions:

1. On leaving a building is it proper for me to help a gentleman friend with his overcoat?
2. There is no hall in my home. Would it not be proper to take a gentleman friend's coat and hat when he entered, instead of allowing him to take it himself into another room?
3. Do you think, Miss Grey, that kissing is out of date in the twentieth century?

4. What is a good treatment to make a fern grow and do well?

5. Hoping that I have not taken too much of your time and thanking you in advance, I am,

BROWN-EYED SUSAN.

A.—1. Not at all necessary unless he is disabled in some way.

2. Yes.

3. Judging from the frequent questions which I receive from my girl correspondents regarding kissing, the practice does not appear in the least danger of becoming extinct.

4. The little article regarding "Care of Ferns" on this page today will help you, I think.

5. See Heat-Producing Foods.

Dear Miss Grey,—I am very helpful column very much. Will you kindly help me out of my perplexities?

1. Please tell me of some simple ways to cook sweet potatoes?

2. Will you advise me of some nourishing dishes for growing school children?

I shall deem myself highly favored by seeing your reply in our daily paper.

COUNTRY HOUSEWIFE.

A.—1. Sweet potatoes (boiled). Select those of an even size, wash perfectly clean and boil until tender; then peel, cut them in two lengthwise and place on a buttered tin in the oven to broil.

2. It takes longer to cook sweet potatoes than common ones. The time is from three-quarters to one hour. (Fried) Peel the raw potato, cut it very thin into lengthwise strips and fry in hot smoking fat, deep enough to immerse them in, as they rise to the top and brown on one side, turn them and let them brown on the other.

3. Potatoes and Pork—Select white-looking, fresh, pinkish pieces; cut them thin and free from fat and bone; fry them carefully and cook thoroughly until nicely browned, then place on a warm platter; cut boiled sweet potatoes in slices lengthwise, and fry until brown in the fat in the spider; use care not to burn them; salt them as they cook, then arrange on the platter around the meat; serve very hot with apple sauce.

2. Good recipes are printed frequently on this page, and I wonder if you have tried one housekeeper's plan of cutting out those that particularly appeal to her as being suited to the needs of her family and pasting them in a notebook, having one section devoted to soups, another to meats, a third to vegetables, and so on. In this way many novel and up-to-date recipes are secured that the average cook-book does not give, and enables the housewife to vary the family menu from day to day.

As you probably know, in the winter months we are better able to digest the fats and starches, and should arrange meals so as to include heat-producing combinations to enable both children and grown-ups to withstand the necessary fuel to create the warmth of their blood. Vegetable soups and purees and the cream soups should find a frequent place on the dinner table during this season, and the little dish of pork and beans is not to be despised, for its food value is great. Cooked cereals, especially those accompanied by fruit rich in sugar, as dates or figs, and dried cornmeal mush, are also helps in supplying the necessary fuel power which the body demands. In a day or so I shall publish a number of appetizing dishes on this page, and hope they will meet with your approval.

PULLED BREAD.

Take a loaf of light white bread, trim off all crusts, then with two forks divide loaf down centre, again divide the halves and each quarter into two strips; this gives you eight ragged, long strips of bread. Place them on a flat tin and toast in oven until a golden brown.

SATURDAY

The Last Day of Winter

Section of Removal Sale

AS WE advertised, we are running our Removal Sale Special in two sections—a winter section and a summer one. This is necessitated because not moving until almost midsummer, we would have no opportunity of clearing out any lines of winter goods we do not wish to carry into the new store unless we did so now. (We can't sell midwinter goods at midsummer). This first section, "Clearance of all winter goods," ends tomorrow (Saturday), and it will end with a blaze of big bargains for you. See the items below and come with the crowd on Saturday.

BILLY STEVENS—His Story

VII.—What Was the Matter With the Milk?

Copyright.

Take me back to the days of the Arabian Nights and give me the Magic Carpet for I must see the cows of Mrs. Katchpane's milk man. I cannot do it without that.

Come and see the cows. The Magic Carpet lifts—swoops—stops—and the procession of cows comes up out of the mists. Holsteins and Jerseys—and their herdsman and milkers, clean, for then the fault was not in the milk, but in the after-care of the milk.

But often they are not clean. The milkers milk with unwashed hands—the flanks of the cows are caked with a dark unpleasantly-suggestive material—the udders are unwashed—the coats of the cows are neglected and numerous are the flying hairs and other trifles that are seen even on the surface of the milk. It is enough—it is much more than enough—the stable is like the cows—unclean. Grown men and women might escape poisoning by such food as this, but the nursing, with its well known liability to infection—the nursing is poisoned—as Billy Stevens was—and the nursing succumbs. You remember everybody said on the 19th of August, 1912, that Billy would die and Billy himself did not appear to have three breaths left in his body. Every body said that the six months' lease of life that Billy had was up and Billy would die. But Billy lived instead.

Londoners' Work.

Misses Farmcomb and Bradshaw, and Messrs. J. P. Hunt and E. R. Glen share the honors in London's section of the display. Miss Bradshaw's painting of a young girl reclining in a chair, elicited many favorable comments. The artist's touch is revealed in every line, the exquisite coloring in the cheek, the delicate hands and the curves of the neck, in "Lamp-light" Miss Bradshaw has another happy study. The rosy glow from a lamp falls softly around the figure of a woman lounging on a deshabille in an easy chair, and both pictures possess a naturalness that is very charming.

Mr. Hunt's paintings are mainly familiar scenes, most of them being sketched from the outdoor world, and showing his pleasing facility of portraying vivid tones and soft atmosphere of autumn. His "Broughdale," "Chelsea Green" and "Snow Scene" were especially good. Among Mr. Glen's pictures were "Sunset," "Sunlight," and "Night Dune," while Miss Farmcomb exhibited several delightful studies of quaint architecture.

Mr. G. M. Manley, of Toronto, won much praise for his excellent seascapes and a group of oil-paintings by J. E. H. MacDonald, of Toronto, are also worthy of special mention. Other exhibitors are Mr. G. A. Reid, and Mrs. Reid, of Toronto; Harriet Ford, H. S. Palmer, Maude M. Wilkes, Toronto; Mary Burnett, Robert Gagan, Toronto; Mrs. Knowles and Mr. E. M. Bell-Smith.

Yesterday, Mrs. Arthur White had charge of the tea table, which was prettily decorated with yellow daisies. Today Mrs. Allen is looking after the refreshments.

LONDON JUNIORS PUT OUT OF RUNNING BY INGERSOLL

Woodstock Wins the District as a Result of Local Juniors Losing to Ingersoll by Score of 7 to 5—Early Lead of Packing Town Seven Was Too Much to Overcome.

[BY JINX.]

Ingersoll, Feb. 6.—A sad, sad affair occurred here this evening. To break the news gently, London has only one team left in the O. H. A. now. The London Juniors were defeated by the Ingersoll team, by a score of 7 to 5, with the half time count 5 to 2, in favor of Ingersoll. For the first time in the history of this town Ingersoll handed Woodstock something that greatly pleased the residents of the Baby City. They handed them the championship of Group No. 7.

A Mighty Fine Game.

It was a mighty fine game, nevertheless, and the local crowd would have been just as well pleased had the boys with the Indians on the chests of their sweaters walked away with the game. A big crowd came down from London on a special train, and when the game was over they left the rink in just as happy a frame of mind as when they went in. They were sorry, but nevertheless good losers.

The London Juniors started the game at a handicap. The local rink is one of the best in Western Ontario, and the big ice space seemed to give the London team a lonesome feeling. The game was started by Referee Fraser, as soon as the London team came on the ice, and the visitors had no opportunity to warm up. They went into the game cold, and that was one of the reasons they lost.

Ingersoll scored three goals in as many minutes right after the face-off, and it was enough to discourage even the best of teams. With this handicap London warmed up, and for the rest of the game they played just a little better than the home team. They had dozens of shots on the Ingersoll net, some of them with only the empty nets to confront, but time after time the puck either bounced off the goal post or the Ingersoll net, and the London players seemed to be able to put the rubber in the right spot.

Johnny Ross Missed.

The absence of Johnny Ross, the star cover-point of the London team, was also felt. Ross is attending school in Toronto, and as he only left London on Wednesday, it was impossible for him to go to Ingersoll for the game. McPhillips filled his place and played a great game, but "Mac's" place was on the forward line, and with him at centre and Ross on the defence, it is safe to say that London would still have two teams in the O. H. A.

The First Half.

When the Ingersoll secured the puck and rushed on the London net, Acheson went off for tripping, and while he was off, Moulton rushed the London defence and scored the first one. A half minute later Cline penetrated through the London team and made it two for Ingersoll. The London team could not get going, and the puck was constantly in London territory at this stage. Moulton, the big Ingersoll cover-point, again rushed, and passing everybody, notched the third for Ingersoll. With the score 3 to 0 against them, the London Juniors braced up. They had become warmed up, and it was not long before Morenz found the Ingersoll net for the first score. A couple of minutes later Morenz and Betteridge worked a nice piece of combination, and Betteridge scored the second goal on the pass from the wing. The London team had Ingersoll on the run at this stage, and only the great defence work of the Ingersoll team, which outweighed the visiting youngsters by many pounds, saved another goal.

A Pretty Game.

The play had been very fast and the crowd was witnessing a beautiful game. The London crowd was rooting hard, and the visiting team missed many easy scores by over-anxiety. Finally the play was rushed to the London end and held there for some time, Henderson notching the fourth for Ingersoll. Since before half-time Ingersoll scored the fifth, McDougall getting credit for it. The game in the first half was comparatively clean. Referee Fraser was very strict, and he called numerous offences, and ruled a number of minor offences.

The Second Half.

In the second half, it looked for a time as if London would overcome the lead and win out. In the first five minutes, Moore scored on a pretty shot from the wing, and a half-minute later Moore again located the Ingersoll net after a nice combination rush with Morenz. Ingersoll then rushed the play to London's end, but the London defence rushed it back again, and repeated attacks were made on the Ingersoll net. Jackson, the local point man, was seized and repeatedly in this half for tripping and slashing. Referee Fraser watching him like a hawk. The London defence seemed to be as he was making a trip to the fence area, and he made a pass at a London rover with his stick, and the London defence tripped each other in front of the Ingersoll goal, and both were sent off. While they were off, Moulton got in another of his famous rushes and notched the sixth for the home team. Shortly after McDougall added another, and although London made a big effort to even matters up, the full-time bell rang with the score still 7 to 5 in favor of Ingersoll.

For Ingersoll, Moulton was easily the star. He was the heaviest man on the ice, and he used his weight with telling effect. He was responsible for several scores, and his great work on the defence

MANUFACTURERS' LEAGUE GAMES

Thursday night's game in the Manufacturers' League resulted in easy victories for the Perrins and Empire Brass teams over their respective opponents, the Greene-Swifts and the Lawson & Jones teams.

In the first contest the biscuit-makers defeated the tailors by a score of 7 to 1, and in the second spasm the Brass boys whitewashed the printers by a score of 8 to 0.

For the Perrins, Aitken and Seltzer played a star game, and were instrumental in notching several goals. Bryce, at coverpoint, played a nice game, and kept the forward line well fed. The Greene-Swifts men played a very good game, but they lacked the stick-handling qualities of their opponents. The lineup:

Empire Brass Won. The big "goose-egg" handed the Lawson & Jones aggregation by the Empire Brass seven simply demonstrated that the printers are not to be reckoned as the champions of the Manufacturers' League for 1913. The first half was easily the prettiest from a spectator's standpoint. Both teams played for their lives and the period ended with a 2 to 0 score in favor of the Empire Brass. The second period was famous for the slaughter of goals, for the east end factory team landed six more. Arthur played a brilliant game for the Brass team. The lineup:

Empire Brass. Lawson & Jones. Wattle.....Goal.....Whitlock. Crowley.....Point.....McDonald. Morrison.....Cover.....Orr. McPhee.....Rover.....Land. Ballantyne.....Centre.....Ralsen. Thorne.....Left.....Stevenson. Arthur.....Right.....Myers. "Bill" Borland refereed both games and gave general satisfaction. Both contests were kept fast and clean.

District Judge Issued Order To Allow It, But Governor Issued Order Forbidding It.

[Canadian Press.] Oklahoma City, Okla., Feb. 7.—After District Judge Clark had issued an order restraining officials of Oklahoma County from interfering with a boxing exhibition scheduled to take place here last night between Tommy Dixon, of Kansas City, and Lee Morrissey, of Oklahoma City, the attorney general appeared at the ringside with a detachment of state militia just before the bout was to begin and enforced an order issued by Governor Lee Cruce forbidding the fight.

Some of the members of the State Legislature had urged that the bout be permitted, that they might determine whether a proposed law, forbidding boxing in any form, should be enacted.

BOB EMSLIE WON TECUMSEH

Famous St. Thomas Umpire Defeated Menhennick, of Thistles, in Final Game—Milton Took the Bank of Toronto Cup From Ailsa Craig by Default.

St. Thomas carried off the Tecumseh trophy in the finals of that competition played at the Thistle Rink yesterday afternoon in the concluding games of the London city bonspiel. Skip "Bob" Emslie, the famous "umps," was the man who took the trophy. He defeated J. Menhennick, of the Thistles, by six shots, the score being 17 to 11. The game was a god one and proved exciting. The win was a popular one, as Emslie is one of the best-known curlers in this part of the country.

In the Bank of Toronto competition Peacock, of Milton, carried off the honors, winning from Ailsa Craig by default. McIntyre, the Ailsa Craig skip, carried off the second prize. The reason of the default was because the Ailsa Craig curlers wanted to catch the afternoon train home and thus prevent having to stop over in the city for another day.

The final results of the bonspiel were as follows: Tecumseh Trophy—Finals. St. Thomas. Emslie, 17 skip. Menhennick, 11 skip. Bank of Toronto Cup—Finals. Skip Peacock, of Milton, won by default from McIntyre, Ailsa Craig. Third and fourth prizes: Lon. Thistles. C. M. R. Graham, skip. S. D. Swift, 17 skip. Morris, 17 skip.

While Skip Rumball was second, with a score of plus 15. The ice was in great shape, and the games were played in fast time.

DON'T OPEN GOLF BALLS TO SEE WHAT'S INSIDE

Liquid Contents Have Blinded Many Persons Who Did So.

[Canadian Press.] New York, Feb. 7.—Don't open golf balls to see what's inside. So many disgruntled players have given vent to their wrath over a poor stroke, or satisfied their curiosity by smashing golf balls open, with disastrous results, that the United States Golf Association is preparing an official warning to club members throughout the country against such a practice. Several instances have been recorded in the last year where cutting open a ball or squeezing it in a vise has caused it to burst open, and the liquid contents have blinded several persons. Acids and

BIG PACERS DID NOT MEET AT OTTAWA

Owners Refused to Let Grand Opera and Royal Grattan Come Together.

PRINCE C. WON FIVE-MILE

The Liar Failed to Repeat in Long-Distance Event—Weather Was Bitterly Cold.

Ottawa, Feb. 6.—The Hull Driving Club's ice races closed today with one of the best cards of the meet, but the association failed in its efforts to bring Grand Opera and Royal Grattan together. The owners postponed their clash from day to day and finally consented to race if the club would put up a purse of $750. This they consented to do, but today the owners decided not to bring the big fellows together. They will not meet until the dirt tracks are in operation.

The Liar was a 1-10-6 favorite against the field in the five-mile race, but the winner of that event at Delorimier Park failed to repeat. The Liar led until they got into the third mile, where he faltered and allowed Prince C. second choice, and Nomis to pass him. Prince C. won by six or seven lengths. Nomis was away back on the trail until the fourth mile, when he went up and assessed the Liar, against whom the bookies had refused to take a chance. Prince C. trotted the race in 1:24, which was a bad time. The undertaker was a bad fourth.

The weather was bitterly cold. The majority of the owners will ship their strings to the piston track, Sunday. Classified trot and pace, purse $200—

COLLINGWOOD JUNIORS WIN AT OWEN SOUND

First Game in Play-Off of the Group Winners.

Owen Sound, Feb. 6.—The Collingwood Juniors stopped Owen Sound in the O. H. A. semi-final fixture here tonight. The score was 6 to 2, the half-time score being 3 to 2 in favor of Collingwood. The two-man combination work of Draper and Noble was the undoing of the locals, and only the great work of these men saved the visitors from defeat.

In all other departments of the game the Owen Sounders had much the better of a close contest, that was marked by frequent, but Riddell, of Barrie, had the game well in hand at all stages. The line-up:

Referee—Riddell, of Barrie.

The Canadian Pacific Railway announces that, effective at once, the prepaid fare from Antwerp has been reduced to the exceedingly low rate of $29.50, including three days' board and lodging at Antwerp, prior to the sailing of the steamer. This should prove a great inducement to intending purchasers of prepaid tickets, as the same unequalled service will be in order on the company's steamers as prevails when the higher rate was in effect. It is important to note, however, that the above low rate is, in all probability, temporary only. All information pertaining to the above may be had at the Canadian Pacific Railway office, corner Dundas and Richmond streets, from Mr. W. Fulton, the London representative. 34-c

GEORGE ARTHURS, star wing player of the Empire Brass team in the Manufacturers' League, and also of the Hyman team in the City League. Arthurs is one of the fastest youngsters in the city, and the local O. H. A. club made an effort to get him to go to Ingersoll last evening. However, the Empire Brass management would not consent to his going. Had he been on the junior team, the result might have been a great deal different.

LONDON O. B. A. TEAM LOST OUT TO PARIS

Were Leading at Half-Time By Score of 8 to 5, But Could Not Retain It in Second Period.

The London Y. M. C. A. O. B. A. intermediates, were beaten at Paris last evening by the score of 22 to 18. This practically puts London out of the running, as Paris won in this city a week ago. Last night's game was a fast one, and at half-time London was leading by the score of 8 to 5. In the second half, however, the Paris team rallied and outplayed the Londoners.

Jones, of the London team, was laid out shortly after the second half started, and Bill Gough was put on in his place. The accident seemed to unnerve the London team, for the players did not play as good a game afterwards.

The stars were Shaw, Steel and Adams, for the London team, and Ink-sater, for Paris.
H. Roper, of Brantford, handled the game satisfactorily.
The teams were:
London—Forwards, Jones, Steele and Gough; centre, Ernie Shaw; guards, Adams and Hamilton.
Paris—Forwards, A. Fraser and L. Fraser; centre, Ink-sater; guards, Ellis and Roberts.

CHATHAM BEAT SARNIA AND WON GROUP TITLE

Tunnel Town Seven Lead at Half-Time By 2 to 0, But Could Not Hold Lead in Last Half.

Chatham, Feb. 6.—Chatham defeated Sarnia tonight in the final game of O. H. A. intermediate District 12, by 5 to 3. Sarnia led at half-time, the score then being 2 to 0, but shortly after play resumed Chatham tied it up and put three more in in quick succession. Chatham will play St. Thomas in the semi-finals. The winners lined up as follows:

ORVAL OVERALL ASKS FOR REINSTATEMENT

Former Star Pitcher, of Cubs, Wants To Get Back in Organized Ball.

[Canadian Press.]
Chicago, Feb. 7.—The application of Orval Overall, former pitcher for the Chicago Nationals, for reinstatement, it was learned here last night, has been received at the headquarters of the National Commission in Cincinnati. Overall refused to report to the club in the spring of 1911, saying he had finished with baseball. President Ban Johnson, of the American League, and member of the National Commission, would not pre-empt last night what would be the outcome of Overall's appeal or when it would be acted upon.

WOODSTOCK JUNIORS DEFEATED IN EXHIBITION

Parkdale Canoe Club, of Toronto, Showed Surprising Speed.

Woodstock, Feb. 6.—With dazzling, machine-like combination that was a revelation to local fans, Parkdale Canoe Club, of Toronto, beat the local juniors champions of their group, by a score of 11 to 5 tonight in an exhibition game. At half-time it was 5 to 3. Woodstock had speed to burn, but lacked effective combination. Wedd, Adair and Applegarth started for the visitors, while Jones, Sandercock and Timms were the best for the home team. Adair, Parkdale's goaltender, stopped a hail of shots in the second half. The lineup:
Referee—James Gunn, Woodstock.

WOLGAST ACCEPTS OFFER TO MEET MURPHY

Has Also Received an Offer To Meet Britton or Joe Mandot.

Portland, Ore., Feb. 6.—Ad Wolgast, the former lightweight champion, who has been spending some time in Portland, stated today that he had accepted Coffroth's offer to meet Tommy Murphy in a 20-round fight in San Francisco, Feb. 22, in place of Joe Mandot, provided the promoter would guarantee him $10,000 and expenses. Wolgast also said he had received an offer from New Orleans to box Jack Britton or Joe Mandot in that city some time in March.

CHICAGO MAYOR PUT LID ON WRESTLING GAME

Zybsco-Lurich Affair Cannot Be Held in Windy City.

Chicago, Feb. 6.—Mayor Harrison censured Chicago sports today in an order referring to the Gotch-Hackenschmidt wrestling match as the "Labor Day swindle at White Sox Park in 1911." The mayor's activity was occasioned by information of a proposed match to be held there the latter part of the month between Zybsco and Lurich, heavyweight wrestlers. Mayor Harrison declared that this match cannot be held in Chicago.

BAN PUT ON BOXING IN RHODE ISLAND

Governor Pothier Puts a Stop to All Exhibitions.

Providence, R. I., Feb. 6.—Prize fighting in this state received a blow from Governor Pothier today. In a message to Edgar B. Hurd, president of the town council of North Providence, where a recent bout culminated in a fight between the referee and one of the seconds, the governor says that he has instructed his deputies to put a stop to boxing exhibitions that are "a disgrace to civilization." He adds that these affairs have "attracted thugs, pickpockets, and gamblers from all sections of New England."

"Ye dinna feel the cold without, wi' Tillson's Oats within."

THE GUARDIAN

BY FREDERICK ORIN BARTLETT

"That was true enough, for it was a matter of honor among the men, not to tell where they secured their liquor."

"No," answered Nat slowly, "I don't suppose I can. But I reckon it ain't necessary."

"You'd better keep yer hands off'n me," warned Foley. "I'll have the law on ye. Ye can't prove nothin'."

"I'm not tryin' to prove anything," answered Nat. "Have ye any more?"

"Ye can't prove nothin'," repeated Foley.

Nat reached down and tapped the man's pocket, and found two pint bottles.

"I want those," said Nat. "He took them and tossed the man a dollar. But the latter was too crafty to pick up the money, and it lay half buried in the snow where it fell. It was at this point that 'Gene' staggered out, his head splitting, his tongue parched.

"You're just the man I want to see. Come on over to the barn."

"What for?" demanded 'Gene'.

"I've got some more over there," answered Nat.

"You've got a drink?" exclaimed 'Gene' in amazement.

"Lots of it. Come on!"

Dragging Foley along, Nat led the way to the barn and in. He handed one bottle to 'Gene'.

"Here," he said, "help yourself. Keep your eye on Foley while I fasten up."

There were two side doors leading out of the barn, and Nat fastened both of those from the outside. When he came back, 'Gene' had the man by the collar. He restored his confidence.

"Say," he exclaimed to Nat, "I'm goin' back and knock the head off that Frenchman. I weren't ready."

Nat placed his hand on his brother's shoulder.

"Later," he said quietly, "I want you to lick him when you're sober. Tonight I want you to drink deep and hearty—drink all ye want. Maybe ye won't get another chance."

He turned to Foley.

"Foley," he said, "ye stay here and keep him company. Every door in the barn is locked. There's two windows back of the door, but I want ye to stay out there, and if ye open them I'll knock ye in again. This is your party, and now ye'll stick it through."

"What ye mean?" demanded Foley.

"Wait an' see," answered Nat. He handed the second bottle to 'Gene'.

"Here's some more. Drink it all if ye want—every last drop of it. I shouldn't wonder but what's the last ye get in this camp."

"I dunno what ye're driving at," answered 'Gene' good-naturedly; "but here's some more."

He raised the bottle to his lips. Nat went out and turned the key in the padlock on the outside of the big main door. Then he took his position beneath the two windows and waited.

For the matter of the minutes he heard nothing from 'Gene' except broken snatches of song and from Foley nothing at all. This time he was in for a story, and then 'Gene's' thoughts apparently reverted again to the fight.

"I tell ye I weren't ready," he explained to Foley, "but I can lick him again. Have a drink."

Foley answered that he didn't want a drink.

"Have a drink," insisted 'Gene'.

It was evident that 'Gene' had staggered to his feet and moved towards Foley.

"Hurry," 'Gene' Foley tried to placate him. "I'll have a drink, but keep yer shirt on."

Apparently Foley took a drink, for after a moment's silence 'Gene' burst out:

"That's a good feller. Ye're a good feller, Al. Where be ye? It's so darned dark here I can't see ye."

"That's all right," answered Foley. "I'm here."

"Then come over where I can see ye. I want to show ye what I'm goin' to do to that Frenchman. I want to show ye."

"I know ye can lick the tar out of him," Foley hastened to assure the man.

"But I want to show ye."

There was a sound of scuffling, and then Foley's voice came from a distance.

"Why don't ye curl up in the hay and have a sleep, 'Gene'?"

But 'Gene' let out a wild whoop. The liquor was fast making him crazy drunk.

"Look out," he yelled, "for I'm a-comin'!"

Nat heard him stumble across the barn and heard Foley scrambling out of reach like a frightened rat. From this point on 'Gene' grew wilder, both in talk and movement. He became surly at being belted, surly and vengeful.

"Let me get my hands on ye," he yelled. "I'll show ye I'm gonner have another drink, and then I'll show ye."

Obviously he had another drink, and then started once more after his man. With a grim smile Nat heard another wild scramble across the barn, and the chase further excited 'Gene' and with one devilish yell after another he bounded the frightened man through the stalls and around to the door again.

"Quit!" screamed Foley.

"If I catch yer, I'll quit. I'm gonner choke ye. Foley's gonner kill ye dead, Foley," screamed 'Gene'.

Another wild scramble followed, and then the window was broken in talk and movement. He became surly at being belted, surly and vengeful.

"Get back," warned Nat. "He's crazy mad."

"Back," answered Nat. "If he's mad ye made him mad. Foley's gonner kill ye dead, Foley," screamed 'Gene'.

"If ye come up here," he screamed. "I'll kick ye back."

"I'm a-comin'," answered 'Gene'.

In terror Foley crossed a beam to the other side and scrambled to the floor. Once again he appeared at the window.

"For God's sake, let me out," he whined, his voice dry and strained. "Hell nut!"

"He will if he catches ye," answered Nat. "But ye brought the stuff that's responsible."

"Whoop—he!" shouted 'Gene', once again on the barn floor.

Foley's face disappeared from the window, and he bolted in past the horses.

So for another ten minutes the demoniac chase in the dark continued. Foley was evidently getting winded, for Nat heard him stumble and fall several times.

But 'Gene' appeared fearless. He was now in a real delirium, and shouted strange things, although he still clung to the obsession that involved the catching and killing of this man, who now assumed to him the form of a devil.

When next Foley appeared at the window he himself was mad—mad and blind, and frenzied with terror. He forced his head and shoulders through his eyes bulging, his voice gone. Nat reached up and thrust him back, but with a whimpering, inarticulate cry the man again tried to force his body through. 'Gene' could be heard coming nearer and nearer.

When Nat pushed Foley back the second time, the latter fell into the hands of 'Gene'. He caught Foley by the throat with a howl that was more like that of a wild animal than a man.

Without hurrying, Nat went to the barn door, unlocked it, and made his way to where the two men lay. 'Gene' was still strangling, with real murder now in his heart. Even when Nat seized him by the shoulder, 'Gene' still held on.

"Let go!" Nat commanded.

'Gene' sprang to his feet and threw himself at Nat. The latter met him with a blow under the chin which knocked him senseless. Then he went out and found Bartineau. With the latter's help he dragged 'Gene' to his bunk, where he strapped him in. He brought Foley back with him to his own bunk, and there waited until the man recovered consciousness. The latter then came to himself with a shriek for help, and Nat strode to his side. The fellow crowded back into a corner, feeling his lame throat.

"Have a drink?" questioned Nat.

"Take him away! Don't let him have any more. Take him away," choked Foley.

"Ye reckon ye'll ever come into this camp again?" asked Nat.

"S' help me, I won't," whined Foley. "Take him away and I won't come nigh here again."

"I swear I'll agree on the Holy Bible," Nat dragged the man from his bunk.

"Then get out," he ordered.

Foley made his feet.

Nat tossed him an overcoat.

"Ye can sleep in the barn, but I don't want to find ye there in the morning."

He opened the door and Foley dragged his weary limbs out into the dark and cold.

To Be Continued.

DRAYMEN WANT ANOTHER CHANCE

Are Anxious To Be Allowed to Stand Wagons on York Street Again.

CHELSEA GREEN BRIDGE

Structure Is Said To Be Weak, But City Will Not Touch It Just Yet—Board of Works Meets.

The draystand was the cause of rather a lengthy session of the board of works last night.

A deputation of the carters were presented, and explained their position.

John Deer, and others, addressed the aldermen, and asked that something be done to help them. They pointed out that their present position across the tracks on Clarence street made it dangerous for them to get in touch with their customers, and practically put all the business in the hands of one firm. This was not fair, they maintained. They asked to be allowed to stand on York street.

They would keep the pavement clean, and would stand their rigs beside the curb, not across the street, as formerly.

The members of the board were not sufficiently conversant with the conditions, and will visit the location before deciding what shall be done.

Chelsea Green Bridge.

The board agreed that it would be unwise to repair the Chelsea Green bridge, and decided not to do so under existing conditions.

The structure was erected by the Chelsea Green Land Company, and was private property altogether. The Township of Westminster had refused to accept it, and the county had done likewise.

When annexation took place, the bridge was not handed over to the city, and at the present time was not city property. The committee were of the opinion that if they did any repair work as the present time they would be responsible for its maintenance, and if any accident took place they would be liable.

City Engineer Brazier reported that the structure did not meet with the requirements of the Government. It was a six-ton bridge, when the law required an eight-ton. In his opinion, it would be impossible to strengthen it sufficiently to make it an eight-ton structure.

A communication was received from the United Mothers' Clubs of the city, thanking the committee for their interest in the garbage disposal system, and making some suggestions regarding the proper collection of garbage. They asked for a uniform can for collecting the refuse, and also suggested that the collection be frequent.

The request of certain ratepayers to have Lorne avenue opened up through the Chelsea annexed territory, was laid before the committee.

Go now, make the best investment you ever made by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder.

A Good Tonic for Winter Weather

Our damp, cold and foggy weather is most trying even to the strongest constitution. It is particularly hard on those who suffer from nervousness, sleeplessness, anaemia, or stomach and liver troubles in any form. To overcome the depressing effects of the weather, strengthen the weakened nerves, stomach and liver, and start rich, red blood coursing through the entire system, carrying renewed life, energy and vigor to every part, a good tonic is necessary.

The feeling of increased strength, vigor and vitality after the first day or two will be most astonishing. Inquiries among leading druggists reveal that all the ingredients of this prescription are simple, standard pharmaceutical products, kept in stock by most druggists.

DRAYMEN WANT ANOTHER CHANCE

Are Anxious To Be Allowed to Stand Wagons on York Street Again.

CHELSEA GREEN BRIDGE

Structure Is Said To Be Weak, But City Will Not Touch It Just Yet—Board of Works Meets.

The draystand was the cause of rather a lengthy session of the board of works last night.

A deputation of the carters were presented, and explained their position.

John Deer, and others, addressed the aldermen, and asked that something be done to help them. They pointed out that their present position across the tracks on Clarence street made it dangerous for them to get in touch with their customers, and practically put all the business in the hands of one firm. This was not fair, they maintained. They asked to be allowed to stand on York street.

They would keep the pavement clean, and would stand their rigs beside the curb, not across the street, as formerly.

The members of the board were not sufficiently conversant with the conditions, and will visit the location before deciding what shall be done.

Chelsea Green Bridge.

The board agreed that it would be unwise to repair the Chelsea Green bridge, and decided not to do so under existing conditions.

The structure was erected by the Chelsea Green Land Company, and was private property altogether. The Township of Westminster had refused to accept it, and the county had done likewise.

When annexation took place, the bridge was not handed over to the city, and at the present time was not city property. The committee were of the opinion that if they did any repair work as the present time they would be responsible for its maintenance, and if any accident took place they would be liable.

City Engineer Brazier reported that the structure did not meet with the requirements of the Government. It was a six-ton bridge, when the law required an eight-ton. In his opinion, it would be impossible to strengthen it sufficiently to make it an eight-ton structure.

A communication was received from the United Mothers' Clubs of the city, thanking the committee for their interest in the garbage disposal system, and making some suggestions regarding the proper collection of garbage. They asked for a uniform can for collecting the refuse, and also suggested that the collection be frequent.

The request of certain ratepayers to have Lorne avenue opened up through the Chelsea annexed territory, was laid before the committee.

cable from London to the Tribune, the affairs of the Marquis of Hertford were considered at a meeting of creditors in the bankruptcy court yesterday. The marquis, who succeeded to the title in 1912, and who at the time the proceedings were instituted was tained a decree of nullity against him

Lord Hertford's liabilities were stated to amount to £20,000, more than £18,000 being due to profession-seven shillings and six pence on the pound on all provable debts, and this was agreed to without discussion.ST. MARYS BOARD

INVALIDS' PORT

A BIG BRACING TONIC"Health! Health! The blessing of the rich—the riches of the poor."
BEN JOHNSON.Living or Existing—Which?Is your life a daily half-sick, half-well existence, or is it one of the joyous, vivid, living kind?It's mostly a question of little aches—little pains—a little cough—a little cold that marks the difference between the sick and the well, the depressed and the happy.Wilson's Invalids' Port Wine is one of Nature's strongest allies in restoring health debilitated by over-work, over-play, over-worry and all the other "overs" men and women and little children, too, suffer from.This wine has long been familiar to the Medical Profession as a reliable, powerful nerve and brain tonic and blood and tissue builder, and is recommended and prescribed by them whenever debility, from whatever cause, is in evidence.Taken in the proportion of one full wineglass between meals, Wilson's Invalids' Port spreads its vitalizing force throughout the system, increases the appetite, induces sound, refreshing sleep, quickens sluggish functional activity and imparts lasting strength and vigour. Doctors know!Dr. FREDERICK SNELGROVE, B.A., M.D., M.O.C.P.S."I have given Wilson's Invalids' Port Wine a thorough trial in my practice, and so by experience am enabled to give a reliable report."I have used it in a case of chronic Mitral Rigurgitation and Aortic Stenosis, with great satisfaction, finding it excellent in building up the system and toning and regulating the failing heart.I have also used it in a case of convalescence after pneumonia with gratifying results, and at present I am prescribing this Wine for a convalescing patient after a serious major operation, and find it doing its work favorably. I have also prescribed it in numerous other cases with pleasing results.I am convinced in my own mind that Wilson's Invalids' Port Wine is an excellent and reliable preparation, and I shall continue to prescribe it in my practice with, I trust, just as happy results as formerly."

ASK YOUR DOCTOR
BIG BOTTLE ALL DRUGGISTSfavorable showing of the society during the past year. There had been 7,104 registrations made during the past year, which was more than in any other breeding society in Canada. The total transfers for the year were 6,705.There were now about 1,500 members of the society, of which 224 had been admitted during the year. It was a proof of the interest taken that there were over 200 attending the meeting.The restriction of prize money to $25 to one man had not discouraged testing, and 516 tests had been made during the year. The highest test for a week was shown by a 4-year-old senior, Pet Posch DeKol, owned by W. C. Stevens, of Phillipsville, Ont., which had given 33.53 pounds of butter.
The high test for the year was given by May Echo, owned by Allison Bros., of Chesherville, Ont., with a record of 1,945 pounds. The record of merit list now contained 99 bulls and 1,541 cows.Holsteins had made a very good showing in the dairy tests, especially at the fairs in Ottawa and Guelph, and the demand for pure-bred Holsteins throughout the west and also for foreign shipment was very great. Moreover, Canada was producing the best Holstein cattle that could be found anywhere. There were about 3,000,000 cows in Canada today, and of these there were only about 50,000 pure-bredfemale. Female Holsteins could demand good prices, and, further, people were realizing more and more the need of pure-bred sires for grading.Refuse To Accept.For years the Holstein-Friesian Association of Canada have been trying to get the American Holstein Association to recognize their herd book, but without success. However, last August the American Government passed a resolution recognizing the Canadian herd book and letting Canadian cattle into the United States free of duty. It was, however, impossible to record these animals in the herd book of the American Association without recording also the ancestors of the animals back to the progenitors registered in the American herd book, and this was a very expensive proceeding. At their last meeting the American breeders passed a resolution to recognize the Canadian cattle if the Canadian association would adopt all the rules and the scale of fees of the American association.To agree to such a proposition would mean the extinction of the Canadian association, and at the meeting held yesterday they refused to accept any such offer, and, moreover, passed a resolution to have the import duty on Holstein cattle coming from the United States made $25 on bulls and $10 on cows. Thus, if the American breeders do not want to deal fairly, this measure will help to keep them out of the market.A resolution was passed granting about $3,000 to the more important fairs and exhibitions. Of this amount $500 is to go to the Canadian National Exhibition at Toronto, and $450 to each of the winter fairs held in Guelph and Ottawa.LEMIEUX ACT GOOD
FOR GREAT BRITAINWould Be Valuable For Old Country Disputes, Says Sir
George Askwith.London, Feb. 6.—"Such a measure as the Lemieux act, while not assuring the complete absence of strikes and lockouts, would, in my opinion, be a valuable asset to the United Kingdom, and employers and employees alike," is the verdict of Sir George Askwith, who visited Canada in September last in behalf of the British Government to inquire into the workings of the Canadian act.The real value of the measure, Sir George says, lies in permitting the parties and the public to obtain full knowledge of the real cause of the dispute, and in causing an investiga-tion to be made as impartially as possible, on the basis of such knowledge for dealing with existing difficulties, whether a strike or lockout has commenced or not. This action on behalf of the public allows an element of calm judgment to be introduced into the dispute, which, at the time, the parties themselves, may be unable to exercise.No Unreasonable Pressure.Another satisfactory feature, in his opinion, is the fact that the act differs essentially from compulsory arbitration, in that it does not force unsuitable regulations upon the industry by compulsory and legal interference, but leaves an opportunity for modification by parties or indicates the basis on which a settlement can be made. Of 132 disputes arising since the act, 29 were settled before hearing, 107 were reported upon by boards of conciliation and investigation, and five were before boards still in session. General objections to the act appeared to Sir George to be such as would disappear as the act became better understood, or could be reminded by some amendment of the act, without altering its main principles."This dog of mine is some dog, let me tell you. He has a wonderful peo-gree," "I suppose you trace him away back to the dog Noah took into the ark." "Say, this dog's ancestors didn'tgo into the ark; he had a bark of his own."—Boston Transcript.PROGRESSIVE JAPSKatsura Says Party Will Maintain

Vice-President—Ex-Ald. Gerry.
Secretary—Dr. E. C. Axford.

Mr. W. West was elected chairman, and Dr. Axford secretary, for the first part of the meeting. Mr. West stated that a body in South London similar to the East and West London Progressive Associations would prove of much benefit to the community and city at large.

Object of the Association. Mr. Lawrence, who has been working towards the formation of an association in South London for some time, explained the objects of the proposed organization. Similar movements in the city, he said, had proved to be great successes, and both East and West London were getting their share of improvements from the city council. London South is in dire need of improvements, particularly to the roads. Mr. Lawrence severely criticized the present method of electing the aldermen, and stated that not until a return was made to the ward system of election would the outlying parts of the city get their just dues.

Favored an Association.

Mr. Lawrence produced a declaration signed by a number of prominent citizens of South London, in which they stated that they were in favor of the formation of a Progressive Association. Those whose names were attached to the document were Col. W. M. Gartshore, Nathaniel Mills, Jesse Gaste, W. B. Pope, George Rowntree, A. R. Calcott, William Smith, Walter Orman, Henry Taylor, Joseph Lawrence and G. F. Lockwood.

Mr. Ed. Pocock, of the West London Association addressed the meeting and stated that the association in that section of the city would render all the assistance required.

Ex-Ald. Gerry stated that he was not in favor of returning to the old ward system of election for aldermen, as the engineer's department would be subject to too much interference.

Social Life Needed.

Mr. Burt, of Toronto, president of the President's Union of that city, also spoke. He referred to the need of social life for young people, and stated that the best place for young men and women to meet each other is under the auspices of the church. The other side should not be neglected, however, Mr. Burt said, and especially during the Lenten period. He urged those before him to observe the services of the church.

The Roll Call.

The roll call was answered to by representatives from the following churches: St. Paul's, Memorial Church, St. John's, St. George's, Christ Church, All Saints', St. James', St. Mark's and St. Matthew's. Each representative was allowed three minutes in which to state the progress of his branch, and all the remarks were highly encouraging. A delegate from St. John's Church, St. Thomas, also told of the work done by the A. Y. P. A. there, and a member of the society from Dorchester stated that their branch had practically purchased an organ and otherwise helped with the finances of the church.

Mr. H. R. Franks, president of the A. Y. P. A. union, presided over the meeting and extended a courteous welcome to those assembled. It is probable that a Dominion convention will be held in Massey Hall, Toronto, during exhibition week, at which some 3,000 delegates from every part of Canada will be present.

EXONERATES DOCTORS.

Ogdensburg, N. Y., Feb. 7.—A scanning of the court's findings in the recent damage suit settled in favor of the plaintiff, the Rev. Father L. A. Klauder, shows that the physicians who were named as defendants in the action were exonerated by the jury and will not be called upon to pay the $15,000 damages awarded to the priest.

Father Klauder named as defendants in his suit Bishop Gabriels, of the Catholic diocese of Ogdensburg; Coadjutor Bishop Conroy, and Drs. W. B. Handbridge and W. G. Cooper, of the Ogdensburg State Asylum for the Insane. He charged all of them with conspiracy, which resulted in false imprisonment. In returning a verdict in his behalf, the jury exonerated the physicians of the conspiracy charge, and the damages awarded, if sustained by the higher court, must be paid by the clergy.

INSTIL INTO YOUTH THE MANLY VIRTUES

'This Is the Duty of the Hour,
Said President Bell of The A.Y.P.A.

BISHOP GAVE ADDRESS

All Should Work and Pray for the Success of the Association, Said
His Lordship.

"The duty of the hour is to instil into the hearts of our Canadian youth manly virtues, to hold up high ideals of life, with a due sense of responsibility to their fellow-men and their accountability to God. The church is one of the greatest influences for good in the world, and we must bring into it the young people. This is the aim and object of the A. Y. P. A.," said Mr. Clarence Bell, president of the Dominion Council, A. Y. P. A., in addressing a large rally of members from local and district branches of the association held in Bishop Cronyn Hall last evening.

"Today the church is calling for more young people to rally to her, in the Sunday school, in the mission field, and in other work, and the answer to that call is of momentous importance to the future of the church." The question was a personal one, Mr. Bell said. He urged his hearers to widen out and not to be local only, but to form a communion of fellowship from ocean to ocean of A. Y. P. A. members. The expansion of the church in the west brought a great problem, but he believed that, by God's help, it could be solved rightly. Mr. Bell's vision for the A. Y. P. A. was a continuous band of young men and young women in all parts of the Dominion, all burning with zeal and enthusiasm for Christ and the church, and the expansion of Christ's kingdom.

Inspiration. In the A. Y. P. A.," formed the basis of an address by Rev. J. D. Potts, of Brantford. Mr. Potts stated that the very fact of the association being composed of young people was an inspiration. It was a society built up of youthful ideals, youthful enthusiasm and youthful powers, glorified by the fact that all these attributes were devoted to one cause, Christ and his church. Mr. Potts urged the members to remain true to the primary principles of the association. Some societies of the church had come into existence, flourished for a time, and gradually died out mainly because the simple ideals which they had been organized had given way to their desire for expansion.

Bishop Williams Speaks. His Lordship Bishop Williams also gave a brief address, presenting in a most convincing manner what was required of A. Y. P. A. members. "We should work for and pray for the efficiency of the A. Y. P. A. not only in our own midst but throughout the Dominion, that by its means the youth of Canada, who will be the great public of Canada tomorrow, may be brought under the influence of the Church of England." His Lordship believed that just as the Church of England has been a vital force in England, so it would be in Canada. He asked his hearers to remember three things required of them by God—to live the life of Christ, to do the work of Christ, and to be the messengers of Christ. "It rests with you whether the kingdom of Christ is narrowed down or expanded," said his Lordship, in conclusion.

Social Life Needed. Mr. Burt, of Toronto, president of the President's Union of that city, also spoke. He referred to the need of social life for young people, and stated that the best place for young men and women to meet each other is under the auspices of the church. The other side should not be neglected, however, Mr. Burt said, and especially during the Lenten period. He urged those before him to observe the services of the church.

MANY BODIES TRYING TO IMPROVE THE CITY

A Few of the Different Societies Which Are Now at Work.

This city has at the present time, or in the process of formation, a number of leagues or societies for the betterment of the city from a civic, educational, and moral standpoint.

Of late they have been multiplying, and the end is not in sight. The work of London should be well looked after, if the organizations carry out the programs laid down.

Among the number are:

The East London Progressives.

The East London Progressives.

The South London Progressives.

The Real Estate Owners Association.

The Social Welfare Club.

The Interdenominational Young People's Society.

The Union Mothers' Clubs.

The Woman's Canadian Club.

The Board of Trade.

In addition there are scores of other organizations, having in view the improvement not only of their members, but also of the city in general.

A Citizens' League, similar in aims to a large number of the societies at work in Canadian and American cities, is talked of. If it is organized, it will have an active part in selecting the type of men to govern the city through the various municipal bodies.

LOCAL BOY SCOUTS HAVE FORMED ASSOCIATION

Ex-Mayor J. H. A. Beattie Was Elected President on Thursday Night.

In an effort to assist the local Boy Scout movement, a meeting was held in Cronyn Hall last evening for the purpose of forming a Boy Scout Association. The meeting discussed the local situation in regard to the Boy Scouts, and it was thought that an association such as the one formed would do much to further the movement in this city. The officers of the association were elected as follows:

President—Ex-Mayor J. H. A. Beattie.

Vice-president—Canon Tucker.

Honorary treasurer, Mr. A. Greenlees; honorary secretary, Mr. Paul.

Other officers will be elected at a later meeting, when the question of organization will be more fully discussed.

Among those present were Scout Commissioner G. N. Weeks, ex-Mayor Beattie, Rev. Canon Tucker, A. S. Cree, S. C. Butler, A. Greenlees, W. B. Brady, F. H. Paul, E. H. Raymond, P. Milne, P. Phillips, P. Henderson, G. F. Metcalfe, Mr. Jorgenson, F. B. Ware.

TOPOGRAPHICAL MAP IS READY

Engineer Macgregor, of Toronto, Has Completed His Work.

The topographical map, including the recently annexed area, has been completed by Engineer Macgregor, of Toronto, and he has returned to that city. All the information necessary to be obtained has been prepared by him, and forwarded to Mr. Willis Chipman, of Toronto, who has been engaged as consulting engineer on the work.

It is expected that within a short time Mr. Chipman will come to this city, and present his figures on the cost of properly draining the whole city.

The first estimates are about $900,000, possibly more, including the new territory. Mr. Chipman, it is stated on excellent authority considers this price much too high, and will reduce it to about $600,000. Some of the arguments are of the opinion that much water can be carried by pavements, rather than by drains, and consider that less money need be expended.

It is possible that a bylaw for a system of the work may be submitted to the ratepayers some time this coming summer.

The scheme will cover only the portions absolutely necessary to be done this year and next.

A MUSICAL EXTRAVAGANZE!

Fair-Sized Audience Well Pleased at the Auditorium.

A fair-sized audience witnessed the musical extravaganza given by local talent in the Auditorium Thursday evening under the auspices of King Street Presbyterian Church. It was the third time the performance had been given in the Auditorium this winter, and it was as well received as on the other two occasions. The program consists of a collection of instrumental and vocal music, and it is supposed to be presented for the entertainment of a duke and duchess who have just arrived in Canada. The royal party is seated on the stage during the whole performance, and the different performers are introduced to them.

The parts taken by Miss Gladys Shaw, Mr. C. Hannah, and Miss Georgia Newbury were particularly well handled. The other members of the cast were also good. The entertainment was pleasing, and the audience appreciated it, despite the fact that the heating of the Auditorium was a trifle inadequate.

WINGHAM BAPTISTS SECURE QUARTERS

Old Building Will Be Put Into Shape as Quickly as Possible.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Wingham, Feb. 7.—The members of the Baptist Church, which was destroyed by fire yesterday, have secured the Foresters' Hall, and will hold services there until they can build a new church. It is likely that the building will be completely renovated as the walls are found to be in good shape. A large number of the books have been taken out of the water in the basement, and are being dried in Pringle's factory and at Abner Cosens's.

The members of the fire department do not take kindly to the recently passed regulation that all must attend is put away or have their pay reduced. A member of the council was on hand at the Baptist Church fire, and kept track of everything to see that the new regulation is lived up to. It is rumored that there may be vacancies in the department soon.

A FEW OUTSTANDING FACTS

FROM THE

SIXTY-SIXTH ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

CANADA LIFE

ASSURANCE COMPANY

A Splendid Year.

In important respects the Company in 1912 excelled its record for any previous year in its history.

Greatest Surplus Earnings.

1. THE SURPLUS EARNED in 1912 was $1,530,667, exceeding by over $237,000 the earnings of 1911, and by a much larger amount the earnings of any previous year.

Interest Rate Increasing.

2. THE INCOME of $7,396,760 was greater than that of the previous year by $853,559, and the greatest in the Company's history. The rate of interest earned, which had been steadily advancing since 1899, was further improved in 1912. This is an important factor in producing surplus.

Assets Show Record Growth.

3. THE ASSETS were increased by $4,044,182, and now stand at $48,301,523. This growth surpasses that of any previous year.

Another New Record.

4. THE NEW PAID-FOR POLICIES amounted to $15,512,339, exceeding the amount of the best previous year, 1911, by over $3,000,000. THE TOTAL ASSURANCES now in force are for $144,877,970.

Payments to Policyholders.

5. THE PAYMENTS TO POLICYHOLDERS in 1912 totalled $2,462,965, an increase of $167,891 over those of 1911. In addition to this, LOANS TO POLICYHOLDERS on security of their policy contracts were made for $1,355,704.

Strong Reserves.

6. THE CANADA LIFE now values $76,500,000 of its business on a 3% basis, and $68,400,000 at 3 1/2%, which means that its Reserves are much stronger than are required by any Government Insurance Department on this continent.

A copy of the Financial Statement and Report of Directors, together with proceedings at the Annual Meeting, held 6th February, 1913, will be mailed on request.

BLOW TO TAX REFORM FROM THE PREMIER

Member for West Middlesex Shows That the Government Has Not Acted on the Will of the People in the Matter of Tax Assessment.

Toronto, Feb. 7.—After sharply attacking the Government, particularly Sir James Whitney, because of the opposition to tax reform, J. C. Elliott, the Liberal member for West Middlesex, in the Legislature last night moved an amendment to the motion for the adoption of the speech from the throne, to the effect that the House regretted that the Government had not acted upon the will of the people in the matter of tax assessment. Mr. Elliott, who is the member for West Middlesex, spoke in the presence of N. W. Rowell, the leader, who has been indisposed during the past week. He replied to the two Government members—A. H. Musgrove, of North Huron, and Capt. Machin, of Kenora, who took up the amendment in applauding the progressive policy of the Whitney Administration. Mr. Elliott rose to speak when the House convened at 8 o'clock and turned to his seat at the opposition benches for one hour and a half, during which he exposed the Conservative rule. He was followed by Thomas W. McGarry, of South Renfrew, who delivered a vigorous speech. When the first day of the endurance contest—both to speakers and listeners—was over, the debate was adjourned until Tuesday.

Accused Premier. The member for West Middlesex went briefly into the question of tax reform. He showed that the Premier had whipped the Conservative members of the tax committee into line to defeat the motion presented last year by Mr. Rowell, and to favor the one submitted by the Premier, who had branded the assessment act as O. K. if properly carried out by assessors. "The report of the committee was settled by a gentleman who did not attend the meetings of the committee except in the evening hours," said Mr. Elliott. "This remark brought cries of 'No! no!' from the Government benches. He said that the Premier's attitude on tax reform was formed in March, 1912, when he declared in the House that he never would consent to a pie-bald, checker-board system. The investigation by the tax committee, he said, because of the Premier's action, had no result, but was merely a matter of form."

Mr. Musgrove. Mr. A. H. Musgrove (North Huron) was the first speaker for the Government, and he was followed by Capt. H. A. C. Machin (Kenora). The original intention was to adjourn the debate at 6 o'clock, but when Capt. Machin sat down only half hour of time was left to Mr. Elliott, and he was forced to the alternative of a night sitting. Mr. T. W. McGarry (South Renfrew) was the last speaker in the evening, and the debate was adjourned by Mr. C. M. Bowman (North Bruce), to be resumed next Tuesday.

Mr. A. H. Musgrove (North Huron). In moving that a "humane address be presented to his honor," ramified over every department of the Government's activities. Turning his attention to the subject enumerated in the speech from the throne, he adulated the progress of the province. He found that within the last four years the value of agricultural land in the province had increased 14 per cent, and of buildings 29 per cent, and live stock by 31 per cent. In the Province of Ontario $14,000,000 in chattel mortgages were registered last year, and out of this amount only $2,000,000 were registered in the Province of Ontario. He said that the success of the hydro power movement, Mr. Musgrove trusted that Hon. Adam Beck's disinterested and sacrificing labors would receive a recognition that would be everlasting.

Workmen's Compensation. The speaker referred to a statement in The London Advertiser that the Government would do nothing regarding workmen's compensation until they were forced by Mr. Proudfoot, of Centre Huron. He observed from the records of the House that the Government had taken up the matter prior to the presentation of the bill by the members from Centre Huron. It had been advanced that the Government was many years behind the older countries of Europe. Those European countries, declared the speaker, began manufacturing centuries ago by remarking that at least the previous speaker had read well the newspaper reports of that election. Then he turned to the hydro-electric topic, and asked pertinently what the Liberals had done towards advancing this policy to its present state of success. The member for South Renfrew then sought to justify the Government's delay for not having brought in workmen's compensation legislation, by recalling the fact that the Liberals had sat in government for 22 years prior to the advent of the present administration without availing itself of such an opportunity. He took the same refuge with reference to the question of tax reform. It was necessary to go slow, he said, in making laws of such import.

"When the members of the Government have repeatedly received such convincing evidence of the people's belief in the soundness of the Prime Minister's judgment, can they be blamed for standing behind him when he says the time is not yet ripe for tax reform?" he concluded.

Skin Diseases ARE PAINFUL AND UNSIGHTLY.

Among the most prevalent are Salt Rheum, Eczema, Tetter, Rash, Boils, Pimples and Itching Skin Eruptions. These troubles always arise from the blood being in a bad condition and it is absolutely impossible to eradicate them from the system unless you put your blood into good shape. This you can do without the slightest trouble by using Burdock Blood Bitters. It drives out all the humor from the blood, and makes it pure and rich. Thousands of people have used it during the last thirty-five years and have been cured. Mr. Robert Gamble, Jones Falls, Ont., says: "I write with the greatest pleasure to recommend your great blood purifier, Burdock Blood Bitters. My wife and I had itching sores on our face and ears, and tried everything to help them, but found no relief. We saw your B.B.B. advertised and got a bottle, and before it was half gone we both were getting better, and when it was all gone we were cured."

BUILD INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL SOUTH OF ALEXANDRA SCHOOL

No. 2 Committee of the Board of Education in Favor of It.

At the meeting of No. 2 committee of the board of education, held yesterday afternoon, a portion of the grounds surrounding the Alexandra school was chosen as a suitable site for the industrial school proposed to be erected in the city.

At the recent meeting of the board, the opinion was expressed that the Alexandra school was not suitable for industrial purposes, and a new structure would have to be erected for the work. The members of the committee thought the south-east portion of the Alexandra school grounds quite suitable. The proposed removal of the Leonard foundry to the east end would make it an excellent location. The proposal will be recommended to the board, and in the interim plans for the structure will be prepared. Mr. Geo. T. Wilson, of Toronto, applied for the position of supervisor over the work of constructing the proposed Aberdeen school. His application will be considered later.

Plans and specifications will be prepared for installing appliances for manual training and domestic science at the Chesley avenue school. They will be ready shortly.

The report of the inspector of boilers demonstrated that the boilers in the public schools were in first-class condition. Trustee A. M. Hunt presided at the meeting.

TURNOUT WOULD IMPROVE SERVICE

East End Progressives Have a Scheme to Help Tie-Up at Rectory St. Crossing.

CAR SERVICE CRITICIZED

Many Complaints Registered at Meeting Held Last Night—East End Market Wanted.

Believing that if a turnout was erected at the Rectory street crossing of the Grand Trunk it would materially aid the Ottawa street car service, a resolution was passed by the East London Progressives at their Thursday night meeting to the effect that Secretary Watkinson should write to the street railway company, stating that if a turnout was placed opposite the roundhouse on Rectory street it would prevent a considerable delay. Cars could pass one another at this point instead of waiting at the Dundas or Hamilton road corner for several minutes, while one of the cars was being held up by a passing freight train at the crossing.

A poor service. Many complaints were registered by different members about the alleged poor car service. Secretary Watkinson stated that workmen were frequently late for work in the morning owing to the delay in the crossing of the cars. Watkinson corroborated this statement, and blamed the Grand Trunk for disorganizing the system to a great extent. The street cars, as a rule, were not clean.

East End Market. The market scheme for East London was again revived, and Secretary Watkinson was instructed to communicate with City Clerk Baker that it was their desire that the matter should be brought before the council again. Messrs. Williams, Wakeling and President Leak criticized the city engineering department for tearing up the streets for the sewage system and leaving them in such a bad condition.

Mr. Wakeling was also of the opinion that the waterworks and electrical departments should be divided and run under separate heads.

HIGHLY HONORED

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Brown Will Reside in Westminster.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Mapleton, Feb. 7. A jolly crowd met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. Brown to honor their son and his family, who are leaving the neighborhood for their new home in Westminster, where Mr. Brown has bought a larger farm.

Neighbors and friends to the number of about 70 enjoyed themselves in games and social chat, until after ten o'clock, when Mr. and Mrs. Brown were called forward and Mr. Brown read an address which expressed the appreciation of these worthy young people, after which Miss Mabel White and Mr. Marshall Warwick presented Mrs. Brown with a beautiful mahogany rocker and Mr. Brown with a solid oak Morris chair, and little Lewis with a child's oak rocker.

Mr. Brown, on behalf of Mrs. Brown and son, responded suitably, after which lunch was served and all enjoyed themselves.

For a thing that is mostly from badly-digested misinformation, public sentiment is amazingly often right. —Puck.

What Followed a Cut

A Magistrate's Wonderful Experience With Zam-Buk.

Mr. J. E. Arsenault, a justice of the peace, and stationmaster at Wellington, on the Prince Edward Island Railway, has had a wonderful proof of the healing power of Zam-Buk. He says:

"Four years ago I had an accident. I slipped in the station and fell on a freight truck, sustaining a bad cut on the front of my leg. I thought this would heal, but instead of doing so it developed into a bad ulcer and later into a form of eczema which spread very rapidly and also started on the other leg. Both legs became so swollen and sore that I could only go about my work by having them bandaged. My doctor said I must stop work and lay up.

"After six months of this trouble I consulted another doctor, but with no better result. I tried all the salves, liniments and lotions I heard of, but instead of getting better I got worse.

"This was my condition when I got my first box of Zam-Buk. Greatly to my delight that first box gave me relief. I continued to apply it to the sores, and day by day they got better. I could see that at last I had got hold of something which would cure me, and in the end it did.

"It is now over a year since Zam-Buk worked a cure in my case, and there has been no return of the eczema or any trace of it."

Such is the nature of the great curing which Zam-Buk is daily effecting. Purely herbal in composition, this great balm is a sure cure for all skin diseases, cold sores, chapped hands, frost bite, ulcers, blood-poisoning, varicose sores, piles, scalp sores, ringworm, inflamed patches, cuts, burns, and bruises. All druggists and stores sell at 50c box, or post free from Zam-Buk Company, Toronto, upon receipt of price.

DOCTOR HURRIES TO U. S. WITH FIRST FRIEDMANN SERUM

Pittsburg Physician Has Just Sufficient to Use on His Wife.

New York, Feb. 6.—Hurry home-ward from abroad with tuberculosis serum in his possession that he says is the first of the widely-discussed Friedmann culture to be brought to this country, Dr. Austin B. Held, a physician of Pittsburg, arrived on the steamship Potsdam from Europe today, and at once took a train for his home, where his wife, a consumptive, awaits the arrival of what Dr. Held believes will be a cure for her. Dr. Held has enough bacilli only for one patient, he declared. That patient will be his wife.

Dr. Held was met at quarantine by Dr. Milton H. Foster, of the Ellis Island Health Service, and questioned in behalf of the United States Government about the Friedmann cure. Dr. Held told Dr. Foster he had been convinced of the efficacy of the cure, and had obtained serum to treat a patient suffering from tuberculosis of the bone.
Dr. Friedrich Franz Friedmann, the German scientist who discovered the serum, last month was offered $1,000,000 by Charles E. Finlay, a banker, of this city, if he would cure 55 out of 100 patients to be placed under his care. The banker's interest in the serum resulted from the fact that a relative by marriage suffers with tuberculosis.

REV. D. WREN, OF ETHEL, INVITED TO BRUSSELS

Has Accepted Subject to the Approval of Methodist Conference.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Brussels, Feb. 7.—At the regular meeting of the official board of the Methodist Church, the report of the pastoral supply committee, relative to a pastor for the next conference year, was presented, recommending the board to invite Rev. D. Wren, M.A., who is completing a year's very successful term at Ethel.
On motion, the report was adopted, and the invitation forwarded. Rev. Mr. Wren has accepted, subject to action of conference. Rev. Dr. Oaten, the present pastor, who is on his third year, intends giving up the active pastorate to enter the evangelistic field after next conference, and will likely locate in Toronto.

Dr. Alex. McKelvey will leave for London shortly, where he will spend a month closing up his engagement in the hospital there. He will go to Berlin hospital as assistant to a well-known physician, who goes to give a demonstration in the hospital there. Dr. McKelvey will also visit the hospitals at Vienna, and take a tour of the best in England, and will spend two or three months abroad. On returning to Canada he purposes locating in Toronto, where he will follow his profession as a specialist in ear, nose and throat ailments. A residence has been purchased in the city, to which the doctor's mother and sister, Miss Barbara McKelvey, R. A., now of Paris, will also remove before many months elapse.

The medical practice of the late Dr. McKelvey, who died unexpectedly recently, has been sold to Dr. Fred Bryans, son of Edward Bryans, of Grey Township, and he will take possession next week. He graduated two years ago, spent the year in the west, and the past year as senior house surgeon in the Western Hospital, Toronto.
The fine brick residence belonging to George Brown, Queen street, has been purchased by Alex. Bryans, of Morris Township, who recently sold his farm and is retiring from active farming. Possession will be given on March 1. Mr. and Mrs. Brown will probably remove to Toronto prior to that date. Miss Lizzie Brown is on the central staff of the Brussels rural telephone.

BRUSSELS ROBBERIES

HAVE BEEN CLEARED UP

One Man Confesses and Alleged Accomplice Was Arrested in Windsor.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

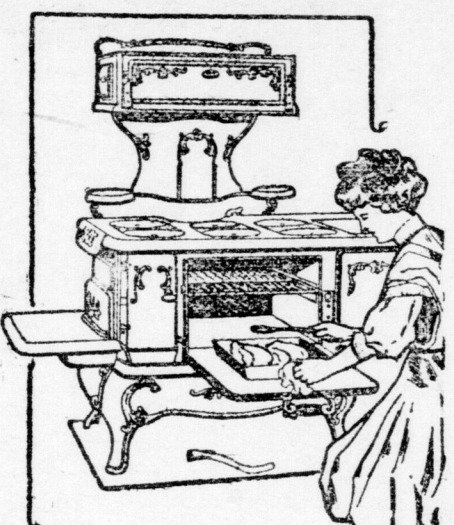

Brussels, Feb. 7.—A. Strachan, dry-goods merchant of Brussels, was a very cheerful and patient loser in the repeated robberies—nine in all—that took place at his store.
The last had grown to such proportions that he decided to get right after the thieves.
A clue was furnished when Mrs. A. McCullough, west of Walton, was roused from her sleep by the barking of the farm dogs, and in looking out of the window saw a man napping west on the road drawing a hand-sleigh with a bundle upon it.
Hearing of the robbery and knowing that suspects were being sought, she told a neighbor of her experience, and the news was sent to Mr. Strachan, who then made the discovery that his delivery sleigh had disappeared from the store.
Constable Whitesides, of Hensall, was soon on the case, and the tell-tale sleigh was discovered under the Byth grain storehouse. A bundle had been checked to Goderich, and on following the clue Edward Burling, of Goderich, was arrested, and a good share of the goods discovered at his home. Part of the silk had already been cut out ready for dressmaking. Burling confessed, and stated his partner was Murphy or Dinsmore, who had boarded with him for a short time and who is yet at liberty. Burling has a wife and three children. The robbers made the trip from Goderich to Walton on the 3 o'clock train, and had footed it for the five miles from Walton to Brussels. About $300 worth of goods were stolen. Constable Oliver, of Brussels, has been on the alert and rendered good service toward ferreting out the culprits. Dinsmore was arrested on Wednesday in Windsor, and Constable Whitesides has gone after him.

ELECTION PROTEST

Reeve of Kingsville Was Not Properly Qualified, Says Judge.
[Special to The Advertiser.]
Kingsville, Feb. 6.—In all probability this town will have to have a special election for the office of reeve. Gustav Holbeck protested the election of Albert Healy, who was elected to the reevehip at the municipal election. Mr. Healy filed a disclaimer and then protested, the office being filled by Alfred Peterson, the defeated candidate. When the case was heard before His Honor Judge M. A. McHugh today he held that Mr. Peterson was not properly qualified to hold office. The costs will be paid by Healy.

121 Doctors Wrote us within 60 days in praise of POSTUM

These doctors represent but a fraction of the thousands of physicians who use Postum in place of tea and coffee in their homes and in their practice.

Cases of shaky nerves, irritable hearts, indigestion, biliousness, headache and sleeplessness, due to tea or coffee drinking, are observed in the everyday experience of medical men everywhere.

Following the change from tea or coffee to Postum, the ailing one quickly discovers that the Doctor's advice to "quit tea and coffee and use Postum" was Sound.

Better health follows; then one friend tells another.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Ingersoll, Feb. 7. — Mr. E. L. Smith, proprietor of the Oxford Tribune, died suddenly at one o'clock, this morning, at his home on Hall street, of hemorrhage of the brain. He had been at his office during the day and was down town again in the evening.

$114,423 WILL BE NEEDED FOR WORKS

Water Commissioners Considered Estimates at Meeting Held Yesterday.

REVENUE OF $118,380

A Decrease is Estimated Owing to the Cut in the Water Rates to the Citizens.

At the meeting of the water commissioners, held yesterday afternoon, General Manager Glaubitz presented a rough draft of the estimates for 1913.

The estimate for the installation of mains in the recently-annexed portions of the city was $63,093. The total estimated cost of the new works to be undertaken was $114,423, which includes the mains for Ealing, Pottersburg, Knollwood Park, and Chelsea Green.

Of the amount needed to complete the proposed construction work during the present year, $14,800 has already been provided for by debentures issued last year, so that the amount of debentures required this year by the department will not exceed $70,000, which is $4,000 more than the estimates for last year.

The contemplated works are:
Motor and compressor equipment No. 1 pumping plant, $9,840 00
New workshop and store-room, 10,000 00
Springbank Park lighting, 1,000 00
Large Main Extension, 12,900 00
William to Trafalgar along Hamilton road, 23,300 00
Labor to connect Dundas and Egerton from York to Rectory, 6,300 00
Maitland and Piccadilly to Oxford and Adelaide, 3,420 00
Ordinary Main Extension, 23,300 00
Ealing, 23,300 00
Pottersburg, 23,300 00
Knollwood Park, 2,200 00
Services (500) 5,000 00
Total $114,423 00

The estimated revenue for the present year is $118,380 as against the actual receipts in 1912 of $132,715. The difference in the revenue in the two years is due to the reduction of 14½ per cent. in the water rates from the consumers. The amount of revenue from the city for water rates was decreased $1,000 owing to the number of streets that are to be paved and will not be required to be paved and the estimated expenditures total $59,770.70, which is slightly more than $4,000 above the expenses last year. The great difference is due to the loss on sales of debentures.

"AUNT" WRIGHT WAS A CITY HALL VISITOR

Aged Colored Woman Was a Church Worker in This City.

Mrs. Wright, the aged colored woman, who died at Ingersoll as the result of exposure, and who was badly frozen when found, was well known in London. She lived here for many years, as did also two sons, William Wright and Ben Wright. She was commonly known as "Aunt," and around the city hall could be frequently seen eight or ten years ago selling tickets for church entertainments and making collections for various objects. She was a member of Horton Street Baptist Church, and intelligent and respectable.

She claimed to be very old, but it is said that she was not clear on the point. Though she said recently she was 100 years of age, it is thought, her real age was about 80.

MUCH SLUSH ICE IN THE RIVER NOW

Cutting Will Not Be Possible Before Monday Next.

The local ice men are anxiously watching the weather and are hoping that the present cold snap lasts for a few days more. It is said that owing to the amount of slush in the river, the ice crop is very limited, and at best it will not be possible to commence work before Monday.

A week of clear cold weather would, however, put the city in good shape for next summer.

This earned annually has been steadily increasing, until in 1912 it was $1,520,667, being the largest in the company's long history.

The rate of interest earned by the company has been steadily advancing since 1900, and the total income in 1912 was over $7,396,000. The total business in force now amounts to $14,878,000, having increased in the year by $9,262,000. Mr. E. W. Cox, general manager, in his address, mentioned that for some time past the company has encouraged the expansion of its Canadian business. Last year the Canadian new business showed an increase of over $3,000,000 above the applications of the previous year. The Canada Life now has over $103,534,000 of business in force in Canada. A striking illustration of the company's growth is seen in the fact that when the company was just half the present size, its total assets were no greater than the increase alone in assets in 1912. The total assets now amount to over $48,000,000, an increase of more than $4,000,000 over those of the previous year. From 1901 to 1912, the report of the Canada Life now published stands out as one of the very best in its history, and too high praise cannot be given the management and staff, who were largely instrumental in bringing it about.
