FOOD BOARD LIMITS HOLDINGS OF FOOD

NEW RULINGS TO STOP FOOD HOARDING IN COLD STORAGE

Regulations Eliminate Speculation From the Produce Business.

HITS AT THE PROFITEERS

Holdings of Cheese, Butter, Eggs, Poultry Greatly Limited.

Ottawa, April 4.—New regulations of far-reaching importance prepared by the Canada food board and effective from today will eliminate the speculative element from the Canadian produce business. The food board's order definitely limits the quantities of produce which a dealer may own or have in storage for his account, to his reasonable requirements and also makes it impossible for him to carry larger quantities of food than are required to provide for his Canadian trade requirements during the season of scant production or supply. The holding of excessive quantities of produce in storage after the expiration of the period of scant production is thus made illegal and subject to heavy penalties.

Must Report Monthly.

Monthly reports giving details of supplies on hand, volume of business, profits, etc., will be required. These reports will be in such form that the Canada food board will at all times know the quantity of foodstuffs owned by each dealer. In this way hoarding, speculation and profiteering will be impossible, and the possibility of waste will be kept to the lowest possible point. These reports will also give accurate information as to waste, where waste occurs and profit or loss on various transactions.

The order requires that no person shall own or hold meats, lard or oleomargarine in greater quantities than are reasonably necessary to supply the dealer's own Canadian trade requirements for a period of sixty days, unless permission is first obtained from the food board.

Limits Egg Holdings.

No person will be permitted, after December 1 in each year, to own or hold more eggs than are necessary to supply his own Canadian trade requirements until March 1 of the following year. On March 1 he must not have more than sufficient for fifteen days' requirements.

Holdings of butter are similarly limited to the quantities necessary to supply the dealer's own Canadian trade requirements until May 1 in each year, on which date he must not have more than sufficient for 15 days' requirements.

With cheese, holdings are limited to requirements during the period of scant production, that is, until June 1 in each year, on which date the dealer must not have more than thirty days' supply. This extra holding is permitted so that a reasonable supply of old cheese may be available for the Canadian market.

Holdings of poultry must not exceed the dealers' own Canadian requirements until September 1 in each year, on which date the dealer must not have more than thirty days' supply.

Canned Milk.

Similar restrictions are imposed on holdings of canned or condensed, evaporated or powdered milk, the period of scant production for the purposes of the order expiring on May 1 in each year, on which date no dealer may have more than sufficient for thirty days' requirements.

Produce definitely subject to the order of the purchasing agents of Great Britain or her allies may be held in addition to the quantities as limited above.

Board Has Wide Powers.

The order is issued under the new powers granted to the Canada food board, authorizing it to prescribe the amount of any kind or kinds of food that may be purchased or held by any person and to seize any food or food product purchased or held in excess of the amount so prescribed.

Violation of these regulations or obstruction of any officer enforcing or carrying out any of the provisions of these regulations makes the offender liable to a fine of not less than $100 and not more than $1,000, to imprisonment for three months, or to both fine and imprisonment. The food board also has power to cancel the license of any dealer who does not comply with the regulations.

In case proceedings are instituted at the instance of any municipality or municipal officer, the fine shall be paid to the treasurer of such municipality. When instituted by provincial authority the fine shall go to the provincial treasury.

RUSSIA GATHERS STRONG ARMY; MILLION AND HALF TROOPS TO BE LEAD BY THE OLD OFFICERS

Bolsheviki Announce That a Powerful Force Will Be Organized at Once and Fully Equipped.

Moscow, Tuesday, April 2.—Delayed.—Russia will form an army of 1,500,000 men, not inferior in power and equipment to the Germans and Japanese, M. Podvoisky, assistant secretary of war, declared today at a conference in Moscow of the various military department heads. This would be the first step in arming the whole Russian nation.

He said the army organization was impossible without the old officers, and outlined a measure to enlist the services of all generals and publish their names, giving to citizens the right to state objections to anyone.

M. Podviosky reported progress in enlistments for the Red Army, which was satisfactory in some places. Since the beginning of the army organization two weeks ago 11,090 have enlisted in Moscow and been properly equipped. Nizhni-Novgorod, Voronezh, Tula, Kaluga, Kostroma, Tchernigov, Kharkov and many other cities report considerable numbers of recruits, many of whom are trained.

The great handicap he said was lack of instructors.

Mother and 3 Sons Perish When Flames Burn Prairie Home

Four Victims of Fire Tragedy on Albertan Farm—One Boy Escapes.

Delburne, Alta., April 4.—Mrs. John Donovan and her three sons were burned to death Tuesday night in a fire which completely destroyed her home. One boy escaped, but was badly burned. Mrs. Donovan was a widow who had been farming five miles east of Delburne.

CZERNIN LIES AND IS BLUFFING, VIEW OF ENTENTE PRESS

London and New York Papers Call Speech Old Dodge.

MEANS DRIVE FAILURE

Czernin Simply Vassal of Berlin, Where He Is Owned Body and Soul.

London, April 4.—Count Czernin, in spite of the marked change toward the bellicose in his latest speech, still speaks in softer accents than ever have been heard from Berlin, the morning newspapers say in their comment on the Austro-Hungarian minister's address to the Vienna Municipal Council.

The Daily Mail calls the speech "Austrian bluff," and says only the western battle can decide the issue.

GERMANY'S VASSAL.

New York, April 4.—The Herald says such significance as there is in Count Czernin's attempt at a peace offensive lies in its being launched at a time when the great Teutonic drive in France shows unmistakeable signs of breaking down.

The newspapers assert that his words show Austria what President Wilson described her, simply the vassal of the German Government.

The World says Czernin is owned body and soul in Berlin.

The Tribune agrees with Clemenceau in declaring that Czernin lies, and has always lied, and that his peace overtures to the States were false.

The Times considers the speech as a confession that the German drive has failed, and believes it discloses the wretched plight of Austria.

QUEBEC MURDERER MUST PAY PENALTY TOMORROW

Montreal, April 4.—Romeo Bolduc, who was convicted at Sorel about two months ago of the murder of Zotique Bourdon, an automobile agent of Longueuil on Aug. 29th last, will be hanged at Sorel on Friday morning. An application for executive clemency has been refused.

COSTA RICA SHAKEN BY ANOTHER REVOLUTION

Managua, Nicaragua, April 2. — A revolution has broken out in Southern Costa Rica. Jorge Volio has invaded Costa Rica territory from Panama and a force under him is attacking Villa Concepcion Perez, a town on the frontier. The Costa Rican Government believes that many of the invaders are natives of Panama.

MAJ. BATTERSBY KILLED IN GREAT OFFENSIVE

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Kingston, Ont., April 4.—A graduate of Queen's University met death in the great offensive on March 25 in the person of William Falconer Battersby, a native of Brantford, Ont., who graduated from Queen's University as a B. S. C. in 1910. He served as a major in the 1st Machine Gun Brigade, and was awarded a Military Cross for bravery at Corrcellette in the fall of 1916.

SAYS GERMANS HATE CANUCKS

London, April 4.—"Life for prisoners in Germany is simply hell cut loose," declared Dr. J. C. Curran, who was surgeon in the C. P. R. ocean service, and was on the Mount Temple when she was attacked by the raider Moewe. With the Mount Temple's officers and men he was taken a prisoner to Germany. Dr. Curran says the Germans hate the Canadians, and treated the Canadian prisoners ferociously. He asserted that the British blockade is seriously affecting Germany. Cocoa sells at $12 a pound there, he says, and tea at $13.75 a pound, while soap is not to be obtained for love or money. Dr. Curran is going to the United States to carry on a recruiting campaign.

SPLENDID ARE RED CROSS FOLK ON BATTLE LINE

Prove Themselves Bravest of Brave in the Face of Danger.

NURSES TRUE HEROINES

Various Workers Amongst Last To Leave Before the Oncoming Germans.

Paris, April 4.—As the excitement incident to the first few days of the German offensive dies down, reports came in of the bravery in face of danger of various workers in the Red Cross.

Women workers of the Red Cross, who were aiding civilians in reconstruction and relief work at Villequier, near the River Somme, left their posts just two hours before the Germans arrived in the town. With their automobiles they aided in removing the civilians and picking up many wounded along the roads. The women were the last civilians to leave the town, just preceding the French troops.

Chased by Aviator.

Another Red Cross unit, stationed in a hospital just back of the lines, was ordered to evacuate in two hours. They left at 2 o'clock in the morning, and were chased for miles by a German aviator before they reached a point of safety. The next day the unit went to a town near the fighting line and established soup kitchens for the troops and first-aid stations for sick refugees and wounded stragglers. The town was under continuous shellfire, and the unit answered calls at all hours to give first aid to those wounded by the enemy shells.

Took Over Hospital.

The unit then took over complete charge of the operation ward in a hospital, the nurses working in 12-hour shifts in attending to a dozen wounded soldiers who were injured too seriously to be carried farther back. The women also acted as stretcher-bearers throughout the hospital and took over a hotel in the town and conducted it for the use of Red Cross workers and British and French officers. They carried tea and coffee to soldiers on transports and wagons as they moved through the town. Some of the men had not had anything to eat for many hours, sleeping on their horses or along the roadside under all kinds of weather conditions, including a heavy rain.

Heavy artillery near the hospital fired over it and German airmen flew over it at night attempting to locate the battery, and the hospital was in constant danger. Sleep was impossible for three days.

MACLEAN, ROBERTSON WILL GET $7,000 PER

Borden Has Resolution Fixing Salaries of New Ministers.

Ottawa, April 4.—A resolution providing salaries of $7,000 per annum for Hon. A. K. MacLean as vice-chairman of the reconstruction and development committee of the Cabinet, and Senator G. D. Robertson, chairman of the sub-committee of labor problems, has been given notice of by Sir Robert Borden. The bill to be based upon the resolution will provide that these salaries will be paid to Mr. MacLean, who is also acting minister of finance, and to Senator Robertson from October 3, 1917, the date on which they became ministers of the crown.

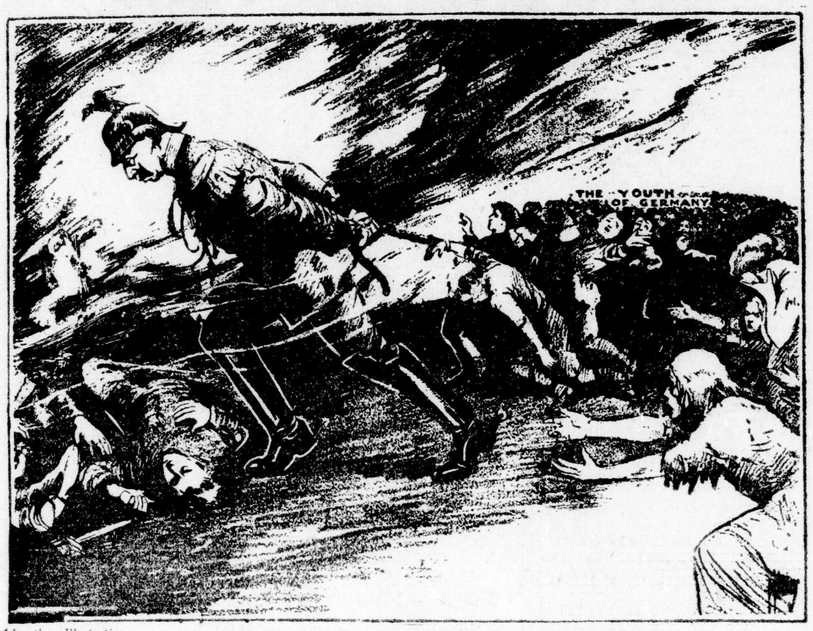

GERMANY LANDS FORCE ON COAST OF FINLAND

Petrograd, Wednesday, April 3.—Thirty German transports with troops have arrived at Hango, on the southern coast of Finland, southeast of Helsingfors.

The Bolshevik commissary for Finnish affairs reports that M. D'Estres, the Belgian minister to Russia, has been wounded by white guards, or Government troops, while attempting to pass into the rebel lines.

An official statement from Berlin received in Amsterdam Wednesday, announced that German troops had landed at Hango. The Germans will assist the Finnish troops in putting down the rebels.

UTILITIES COMMISSION ONLY CIVIC BODY WHICH DID NOT CUT ESTIMATES

City Officials Point To Its Failure To Join Cost Reducing Society and Also To What Is Claimed To Be Deficit in Waterworks Department.

City fathers are today congratulating themselves on their success in bringing the tax rate down to less than last year. Some of them are yet hazy as to how it was achieved. All city officials agree that the effort put forth this year to bring the expenditure down to a minimum was the greatest in the city's history. For a long time it looked as if the rate would be 34 mills or over. There is yet a slight possibility that close figuring will bring the rate down to 32½ mills gross. City Treasurer J. S. Bell is working on it. He will know definitely Friday noon, when the city council is scheduled to meet to pass the bylaw.

Mayor C. R. Somerville is pleased with the result of the council's efforts. While the expenditures have been reduced to a minimum, and there will be no capital expenditures, all departments will pay their way. The mayor says he intended that this should be no matter what the rate.

Beneficial Co-Operation.

The bringing of the different spending bodies together has had a beneficial result in the mayor's opinion. He believes that it has made all familiar with the financial situation of the city. It is now up to the different heads of the departments to instill in their workers the idea that they must save wherever possible. Because the money is placed in the estimates is no reason that it should be spent.

City Clerk S. Baker is pleased with the result of the estimates pruning. It is the first time in the history of the city, he says, that all the estimates have been submitted to the council. In the past some of the estimates have always been kept out of sight, but this year every member of the council and every member of the different boards has had an opportunity to know the full details of the estimates. This has

YUKON AN ORPHAN

Dawson, Y. T., April 4.—Official Yukon is in a quandary, as today is the date set by law for convening of the annual session of the Legislature, but at present the Yukon is without an official head. Advices from Ottawa report a wholesale clearing out of officials a few days ago, and failure to replace them, has left the Yukon an orphan among the territories of Canada. It has no executive to co-operate with anything the Legislature might do. Before an application can be voted at Ottawa to carry on business it is quite likely that the Legislature will adjourn. There are some emergency matters that are demanding attention which cannot be disposed of at this time.

MONSTER TURNOUT OF LONDONERS EXPECTED AT RECEPTION TONIGHT FOR FURLOUGHED MEN OF "FIRST"

Everything Ready For Official Civic Welcome to Men Who Fought Three Years in France.

Tonight London will put forth its best efforts to officially welcome home the fifteen Londoners and as many of the twenty-five district men as attend, who are now home on furlough after spending well over three years battling at the front as members of Canada's first contingent to the battlefields of France.

The official welcome will take place in the Armories, and for the most part will be a carefree, go-as-you-please no-formality affair. There will be a few speeches of welcome by Mayor Somerville and one or two others, but not enough to add to the suffering of the men. A large platform has been erected in the centre of the floor, and the speeches, as well as the musical program, will be given from this.

The general committee in charge of the reception, which is headed by Ald. Harley, will generally oversee the affair and help to put the veterans at their ease.

The daughters of the Empire are cooperating and will look after the refreshment end of the event.

The Great War Veterans are expected to turn out in large numbers, as well as the soldier convalescents in the city and at Byron Sanatorium.

All citizens are welcome to the event, and it is believed that the turnout will be a monster one.

WHITE WILL NOT RETURN UNTIL HOUSE CLOSES

If Health Not Better Then Will Step Out—MacLean Takes His Place.

Ottawa, April 4.—The Journal-Press today says:

Definite word has been received from Sir Thomas White that he will not return to Ottawa until after parliament prorogues. His physicians have advised him that it would be unwise for him to return and participate in the labors of the session. In the meantime Hon. A. K. MacLean will continue to be acting minister of finance, and will deliver the budget speech, which will be made some time this month.

Friends of Sir Thomas White are hopeful that at the expiration of the period mentioned he will be so fully recovered that he will be able to resume his duties as minister. His continuation at his post will depend entirely upon the condition of his health at the end of the session. If he does not feel sufficiently improved to permanently resume charge he will insist upon his resignation being accepted.

FORMER PARTNER OF LAVERGNE IS MADE QUEBEC REGISTRAR

Taschereau, Anti-Conscriptionist, Succeeds Dismissed Gobeil.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, April 4.—It is announced that Alleyn Taschereau, formerly public representative on the appeal tribunal of Quebec, has been appointed registrar of the district to succeed Antoine Gobeil, recently dismissed. Mr. Taschereau was formerly a partner of Armand Lavergne, the Nationalist, and stumped Montmagny on his behalf at the last election. He is reputed to be a strong anti-conscriptionist himself.

Proof of the statement that the government's officers consulted Mr. Lavergne during the riots and enlisted his support in the quelling of the same will, it is stated, be furnished during today's debate.

ARMENIANS RECAPTURE ERZERUM FROM TURKS

London, April 4.—Erzerum, the principal city of Turkish Armenia, is reported in an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Moscow to have been recaptured from the Turks by an Armenian corps, aided by a detachment of Armenian volunteers.

MORE FRIGHTFULNESS

One Thousand French Civilians Sent To Russia By Germany.

Paris, April 4.—One thousand French civilians from the occupied districts of Northern France have been sent to Russia by the Germans, and are being forced to perform hard labor, according to information obtained by Baron Cochin, a former cabinet minister. These civilians, 400 of whom are women, are among those whom Germany offered to exchange for Alsatians who have escaped to France. They were sent to Russia after the rejection of the proposal, which Germany attempted to place before the French Government through the Holy See and Baron Cochin.

600 H.P. MORE CUT FROM CITY HYDRO SUPPLY

Big Reduction Ordered by Provincial Commission Went Into Effect Today.

BACK TO WINTER BASIS

Munitions Plant Demand Is Given as Excuse for Cutting Down Niagara Energy.

London's hydro supply was cut 600 horse-power by the Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission this morning. All other municipalities in Western Ontario suffered a like reduction. In other words they were placed back on the same power basis as in January, and this means that London is now getting about 6,800 horse-power.

In notifying the city department of the cut, the commission stated that another cut may be expeced at any time. Increased demand of munition plants, classed as "very essentials," is the reason given.

Cut Off Street Lights.

The shortage of power is creating general inconvenience in the city. Several factories were closed down more or less Wednesday. Some were without power all day, and some only partially. Hundreds of workers were effected. The Helena Power Company's plant breakdown was responsible for this, and also for the fact that a great portion of the streets of the city were in darkness last night.

The hydro system carried the Helena customers Wednesday. Last night there were about sixty church prayer meetings in the city. Each meeting used

RIOTERS PLEAD NOT GUILTY AND BAILED

Charge That Soldiers Used Explosive Bullets Disproved.

Quebec, April 4.—This morning seven men, arrested by the city police on a charge of rioting, appeared before Justice Langeller, pleaded not guilty and elected to be tried by a jury. They will be granted bail.

Lawyers retained by the alleged rioters include Armand Lavergne and J. N. Francoeur, the latter being the mover of the secessional motion in the Quebec Provincial Legislature last January.

Not Explosive Bullets.

A doctor who examined the bodies of victims of the rioting Monday, having told Coroner Jolicour that apparently the men had been killed with explosive bullets, the military authorities ordered an inquiry. Doctors who had had experience at the front with every kind of wound, made an autopsy on the bodies. It has been alleged that some of the bodies had wounds over two inches long. The military doctors were unable to find one wound more than an inch long. They had apparently all been caused by rifle shots.

WARM DEBATE DUE IN FEDERAL HOUSE OVER QUEBEC RIOTS

Currie, North Simcoe, Is Fxpected To Force Discussion On Draft Disorders That May Expand Into General Debate Over the Military Service Act.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, April 4.—A field day on the Quebec situation and upon the workings of the military service act as a whole is expected this afternoon.

Col. Currie will have for support General Sir Sam Hughes, Dr. Edwards of Frontenac, John Best of Dufferin, Capt. Tom Wallace of West York, Horatio Hocken of West Toronto, Donald Sutherland of South Oxford, H. B. Morphy of North Perth, Dr. Clark of Red Deer, and others of the old guard of the last parliament. In addition the Prime Minister and the minister of justice will be forced to join in the discussion, though neither desired that it be precipitated. The first is responsible for the act, which so far has secured but indifferent results. The later is responsible for its administration, and will have a lot of things to explain. Promises of further amendments designed to make the enforcement of the act more facile, will probably constitute their defence.

On the Opposition side Sir Wilfrid Laurier has already intimated that he would have something to say regarding the enforcement of the act in Quebec when the proper time comes. The proper time will come today.

Ottawa, April 4.—Unless all the signs fall there will be a debate in the Commons this afternoon on the Quebec situation and incidentally, the M. S. A. While the majority of the members on both sides of the House are disposed to think that a discussion in Parliament at the present time is not desirable, it is understood that Col. Currie, North Simcoe, is determined to move the adjournment of the House "to discuss a matter of urgent public importance." It is practically certain that Col. Currie will secure the support of twenty members of the House, which is necessary to give him the right to speak to his motion.

Should he secure the necessary support, it will be open to other members of the House to follow, and a considerable number are certain to take advantage of the opportunity presented to state their views.

That a considerable group of Ontario members will do so is certain, and several representatives of western constituencies will also be heard from. In the event of a full-dress debate, Sir Robert Borden and Sir Wilfrid Laurier will speak. There is some curiosity as to whether the motion to adjourn the House will receive any support from the Opposition. Members from Quebec, it is understood, would prefer to have the debate occur at a later date. It is said that they are waiting certain statements from Quebec which may not be available this afternoon.

In regard to the enforcement of the M. S. A., it is understood that the Government supporters are disposed to be well satisfied with the statement made in caucus yesterday by Sir Robert Borden. The statement included figures indicating that when applications for exemptions are disposed of, the number of men secured under the M. S. A. will be very much larger than shown in the last official statement issued by the Government.

O'CONNOR, COLD STORAGE SLEUTH, QUITS POSITION

Govt.'s Cost of Living Commissioner Has Resigned From Office.

WILL GIVE NO REASON

Special Reports on Egg Holdings and Food Profiteers Caused Much Comment.

Ottawa, April 4.—W. F. O'Connor, K. C., has resigned as cost of living commissioner. When questioned this morning by a representative of Canadian Press, Limited, Mr. O'Connor declined to state any reason for his resignation. Mr. O'Connor added that the resignation was entirely voluntary on his part.

Mr. O'Connor still holds his position as counsel to the minister of justice and the solicitor general. But whether he intends to retain it is not known.

The cause of Mr O'Connor's resignation is causing much speculation here, and it is fully expected that the matter will be brought up in Parliament. It is probable, it is said, that other resignations in the cost of living branch will follow.

As cost of living commissioner, Mr. O'Connor's name has been much before the public. A report by Mr. O'Connor on the operations and profits of cold storage companies led to the appointment of the Henderson commission and the subsequent passage of an order-in-council limiting the profits of such companies. A later special report on egg holdings aroused much comment throughout the dominion.

Turks and Russians Murdering the Jews

Moscow, Tuesday, April 2.—Anti-Jewish riots have occurred in Turkestan. In Kakand 300 persons were killed and much property destroyed, acording to the Ranneyi Outro.

Anti-Semitic action in Kiev, it adds, is assuming acute form. When that city was captured by the Ukrainians most of the inhabitants they shot were Jews.

LA PRESSE DISLIKES FLAUNTING ONTARIO IN FRENCH CANADA'S FACE

Montreal, April 4.—La Presse, in the course of some further observations on the measures taken to suppress the rioting at Quebec, says:

"The friends of peace and order are united in asking for the vigorous suppression of the useless agitation which has arisen in Quebec, but we cannot understand what national motive compelled the military authorities to announce with a flourish that Ontario regiments had been called upon to put Quebec under martial law and to pacify that city. Was it to please certain Francophobe militarists of the great neighboring province who apparently detest the French-Canadians as much as the Boches overseas? The militia of Canada is not the militia of any province, especially when it is obliged to serve against rebels in the country."

U. S. GOVT. NIGHT GUARD IS FOUND MURDERED

Washington, April 4.—James King, night watchman at the offices of the Committee on Public Information, was found dead early today with a bullet hole through his head. Officials of the committee thought he had been murdered.

Examination of King's pistol indicated that he had tried to fire it, and that the cartridges failed to explode. Officials said no valuable papers are kept at the committee's office, and that they could find nothing to show that the place had been ransacked.

The police arrested a negro employee at the committee's office. They say that King and the negro had quarrelled.

Suggestions that King was killed by someone in search of papers containing war secrets were made but the police after an examination of the place said they did not believe this was the case.

ONLY GUNS BUSY ON WEST FRONT DURING NIGHT

Little Activity in the Battle Area—British Rush Gun Post.

London, April 4.—There was little activity in the battle area last night with the exception of hostile artillery fire at various points, the war office announced today. A few prisoners were taken by British parties. The text of the statement reads:

"During the night a German machine gun post in the neighborhood of Hebuterne was rushed by our troops and the machine gun captured. A few prisoners were brought in on other parts of the battlefront.

"Beyond hostile artillery activity at different points on the battle front and also in the Menin road and Passchendaele sectors there is nothing further to report."

FRENCH TAKE PRISONERS.

Paris, April 4.—Heavy artillery fighting occurred last night on the front north of Montdidier, the war office announces. In raids in Champagne and on the Verdun front the French took prisoners, and also captured two machine guns.

SHIPYARDS WORKERS ARE SPEEDING UP

London, April 4.—Merchant tonnage built in shipyards of the United Kingdom during the year ending March 31 was double that built in the year ending March 31, 1917. In the last year according to a table issued by the British admiralty, 1,237,515 tons were constructed.

The monthly figures for the last three months are: January, 58,568; February, 100,038; March 161,674. The shipping controller makes the comment on the table that:

"The figures for March constitute a record and demonstrate that the workers have taken to heart the anxiety caused by the comparatively low output of January and February. The men in the shipyards are working loyally to maintain this increased output."

ROMANOFFS ARE ILL.

Petrograd, Wednesday, April 3.—Several members of the former Imperial Russian family, now at Tobolsk, are ill and the Red Cross has petitioned the Bolshevik Government to allow the family of Nicholas Romanoff the ordinary rations instead of that allowed to soldiers. It has been decided to give the Romanoff family an allowance of 600 rubles a month.

MAY BUILD HUTS AT HEIGHTS CAMP TO HOUSE DEPOT

Militia Department Has Practically No Other Recourse To Get Quarters.

NO ROOM AVAILABLE

Technical School Decision Shuts Out All Else But Building Program.

Now that the new Technical School is out of the question as a headquarters for the district depot for returned soldiers, the construction of permanent huts at Carling Heights Camp seems to be the only plan open to the military authorities here.

Parts of the armories and the Princess Avenue Barracks are being fitted up and will be used for the time being, but at best they will only be a makeshift, as in neither is there adequate room for the accommodation required.

No other suitable buildings are available, and in view of the large numbers of invalided men which may be expected to return to Canada in the future, some building or buildings which will allow for considerable expansion must be obtained.

If the approval of Ottawa can be secured, it seems altogether probable that permanent huts will be constructed on Carling Heights to house the new unit. Sufficient land is available between the ordnance stores building and the new hospital, and this would in no way curtail the space used for training purposes.

"There seems to be nothing else left for us but to build," said a headquarters officer to The Advertiser today. "We have been unable to find a building anywhere which would be suitable for our needs." With this idea in view, tentative plans are being worked out, and if approved by Ottawa, will probably be followed up by the construction of several new buildings.

It is pointed out that such buildings would have the advantage of being built precisely for the purposes of the depot, and consequently would be more suitable than any other building could possibly be made by expensive alterations.

The new buildings would provide for administrative and headquarters offices, in addition to living quarters for the men, and rooms where training could be carried on. Possibly as many as half a dozen huts would be required to adequately house the depot. Another advantage in the hut system would be the fact that more huts could be added at any time should more room be required.

CLOSING TOURNAMENT

Liberal Euchre Season Winners Presented With Prizes.

The closing euchre tournament of the winter was held at the Liberal Club rooms Wednesday evening. The women were invited to participate in the games in honor of the occasion.

The winners of the season's tournament, R. Cabrera, C. Frank, G. Davis, and G. Clark were presented with prizes by Andrew Robson, the president of the club.

J. Collins and Mrs. Hill were the winners at last night's tournament. There was a good attendance, and after the euchre games an enjoyable dance was held.

THAT TIRED FEELING

Relieved by Hood's Sarsaparilla, Which Renovates the Blood.

That tired feeling that comes to you in the spring, year after year, is a sign that your blood lacks vitality, just as pimples, boils, and other eruptions are signs that it is impure; and it is also a sign that your system is in a low or rundown condition inviting disease. It is a warning, which it is wise to heed.

Ask your druggist for Hood's Sarsaparilla. This old standard tried and true blood medicine relieves that tired feeling. It cleanses the blood, gives new life, new courage, strength and cheerfulness. It makes the rich red blood that will make you feel, look, eat and sleep better.

Be sure to get Hood's Sarsaparilla. It embodies the careful training, experience, and skill of Mr. Hood, a pharmacist for fifty years, in its quality and power to cure.

TIME TURNED BACK FOR SCORES BY OLD FASHIONED "SING-SONG"

Community Chorus Sings Old-Time Favorites and Members Rejuvenated by Their Efforts.

Time turned back in its flight for scores of people last night who attended the revival of the oldtime singing school in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium, under the direction of A. D. Jordan. The official title applied to the gathering was "London Community Chorus," and the event responsible for it designated as the first of a series of weekly "Sings" or "Sing Songs."

Whatever it might be, it resembled in a wonderful degree the singing schools of the days of yore, so the people with long enough back memories to recall those days said. In any case everybody was immensely pleased and happy over it, bald-headed people, grey-headed people, people middle-aged and young people, old-young people and young-old people.

The aim of the London Community Chorus sing song, under the auspices of the Musical Art Society, is to afford all people who like to sing an opportunity of singing, whether they can sing or not. If the first song of last night is an index of the succeeding weekly sing songs, then these are to be happy, informal and also educational gatherings. Quite untalented people may find a joy in singing because the worst sounds like the best when so many are singing together. Even when they imagine they are doing as they please, exercising their lungs, following old familiar tunes, those who attend cannot help learning all the time with such a conductor in charge as Mr. Jordan.

Inauguration night, the Musical Art Society Choir was present in full force, occupying the gallery, leading the general singing and contributing several special numbers,such as Burligh's "Dig My Grave," and Coleridge Taylor's "Deep River," not only for the purpose of affording pleasure but also to reveal the possibilities of achievement in chorus work. Added treats were solo numbers by Mrs. E. Wyatt, soprano, who chose for the occasion a song of bygone days, "Love's Old Sweet Song," and a double number by Grant Milligan, violinist, a Rondino, by Beethoven, and Dvorak's "Humoreske." In response to an encore Mr. Milligan played a Polish Mazurka, by Wieniawski.

Song sheets were distributed at the beginning of the evening containing twenty familiar songs, old and new, such things which everybody knows as "Old Black Joe," "My Old Kentucky Home," "A Perfect Day," "Nancy Lee," "and "Juanita," keeping company with "There's a Long, Long Trail," "Pack All Your Troubles in Your Old Kit Bag," and "Carry On," interspersed with stately "Hymn of the Marseillaise," "O, Canada" and "American Battle Hymn."

During an intermission a vote was taken from the gathering by Arthur Little, secretary of the London Musical Art Society, when it was decided to hold the weekly "Sings" hereafter on Thursday nights in the auditorium, until the hall grows too small to accommodate the free-for-all chorus, and it becomes necesary to divide up into community centres. Considering that the floor of the auditorium was occupied last night to the extent of more than two-thirds of its capacity, it looks as if the day is quite near when elbow room will be required.

Mr. Jordan announced that it is the intention to have the assistance of leading musicians of the city each evening in providing special features. Next week Bandsman Johns of the W. O. R., Depot Battalion Band, and formerly tenor soloist in a Detroit cathedral, will sing, and Galdstone Paul will give 'cello numbers. A big community chorus concert will be held in one of the parks in June, the conductor further stated, when accompaniments will be played by such a band as London has never heard before, a band including everyone that can play any kind of an instrument.

While no admission fee or enrollment fee is charged, a collection was taken last evening to help defray expenses, and contribution boxes will hereafter be left at the entrance to afford any who wish to do so an opportunity to help along the good cause.

Collegiate cadets in their smart uniforms acted as ushers.

SKILLED WORKERS IN C.E.F. UNITS TO BE TAKEN FROM DEPOTS

Will Be Transferred to Special Corps at Once.

NOT ENOUGH VOLUNTEERS

More Than Can Be Provided by This Means Needed in Engineers and Railway Corps.

So urgent has become the need of specially qualified men to work in the engineering and railway construction and railway operation branches of the C. E. F., that orders were issued from Ottawa Wednesday placing the nominal rolls of nearly every overseas unit in this district at the disposal of the officers responsible for securing men for these branches of the army work, so that men selected as suitable may be transferred.

Not only are the nominal rolls to be thrown open to them for purposes of transfer, but special lists or rolls are to be kept by the officers commanding depot battalions, batteries, and other overseas depots and special service companies, showing the trade or occupation followed in civil life by all ranks of category A and B men.

Men of certain trades named below are required for the Canadian Engineers, the Railway Construction depots, and the Skilled Railway Employees' depots, and in order that no man in category A or B, who is technically qualified, shall escape the notice of the authorities, special officers have been appointed in each district to select from these rolls suitable men, and to inspect them, and if they appear suitable to transfer them to the units where their technical training will be of more use.

Major R. W. Bishop, commander of the Royal Canadian Engineers here, has been appointed to select the men from the units in this district, who will be sent to the Engineer's Depot at St. Johns, Que., or to the Railway Construction Depot or the Skilled Railway Employees' Depot at Hamilton.

Voluntary recruiting can no longer be depended on to obtain sufficient qualified men, so that the transfer route will be used to secure their services.

Any soldier in category A who is required, and is passed as suitable will be transferred to the Canadian Engineers, if he has followed any of the following trades in civil life: Carpenters, bricklayers, blacksmiths, tinsmiths, iron fitters (benchmen and machinists), surveyors, sheetmetal workers, internal combustion enginemen, electrical, mechanical, civil, gas and stationary engineers, wheelwrights, miners, tunnellers, telegraphers and wireless operators.

Men in categories A or B, qualified in the following trades will be transferred to the Skilled Railway Employees: Railway trainmen, railway sectionmen, railway signalmen, locomotive engineers and firemen.

Men of the following trades in category B will be transferred to the Railway Construction Depot: Surveyors, blacksmiths, bridgemen and carpenters, fitters (benchmen), teamsters and trackmen.

WHALE STEAK SEEMS FAR DISTANT FROM LONDON TABLES NOW

Butchers Unable to Get Any Reply on Price Inquiries.

Whalemeat will not be found on London tables, according to the opinion of Anderson Bros. No whale quotations have been received by the London butchers. Mr. Anderson has sent an inquiry for prices, but as yet has received no answer. The price quoted in Toronto, 35c per pound, will not be attractive to Londoners, he thinks. Another difficulty is the fact that this city is so far inland that the citizens have not acquired a taste for sea foods other than oysters and similar articles of diet.

One butcher, when called in reference to the probable sale of whale steak in London, replied that his firm did not deal extensively in fish. He inquired if anything else would do, but he was told that nothing short of a good whale steak would be of any use.

Beaver meat will not replace the sirloin steak of the past, according to the butchers.

MENINGITIS VICTIM

Another Western Ontario soldier has paid the supreme sacrifice as a result of his devotion to duty, in the person of Bombardier W. Henderson Forrest of Varna, the news of whose death at the front from spinal meningitis reached his father, W. L. Forrest, Tuesday.

Bomb. Forrest died on March 29 at No. 18 American Hospital in France. Nearly two years ago he resigned from the school in which he was teaching to take a course at the Royal School of Artillery, Kingston, where he secured a lieutenant's certificate in artillery work.

Anxious to get overseas quickly, however, he joined the 63rd Battery here as a gunner, and leaving here with a draft from that unit on April 29 last year, he went to France on July 15 last, and was there until the time of his death.

An uncle, George W. Forrest, resides at 507 Maitland street, this city.

153 VOLUNTEERS JOINED DURING PAST TWO WEEKS

41 Came From Western Ontario, 112 Joined in States —60 Were Canadians.

Voluntarily throwing aside their civilian clothes to don the khaki-colored outfits, 153 men offered their services, and were accepted as members of the C. E. F. in Western Ontario during the last half of March.

Slightly less than one-third of this number signed up in Canada, 41 to be exact, while the remainder, 112, were secured by the British-Canadian Recruiting Mission in the United States.

Men of Canadian birth outdistanced all others in point of numbers. Canadians numbered 60, Englishmen 30, Scotsmen 15, Irishmen 6.

The 1st Depot Battalion, W. O. Regiment, as usual, led the units in the district, securing 51 men in all, and was closely followed by the Canadian Engineers with 50. The Forestry and Railway Construction Depot received 23; the 64th Battery, 16; the 63rd Battery, 6; No. 1 Special Service Company, 4; No. 1 Detachment of Military Police, 2, and A. M. C. Training Depot, 1.

CHOIR MEMBERS GUESTS OF FATHER KENNEDY AT MOST ENJOYABLE SUPPER

Members of St. Mary's Church Organization Have Pleasant Social.

The members of the choir of St. Mary's Church were the guests of Rev. Father J. Kennedy at a delightful supper and concert in St. Mary's Hall Wednesday night. About thirty-five choir members and their friends were present, and enjoyed a most pleasant evening.

After the singing of "God Save the King," all joined in singing Mozart's "Magnificat." This was followed by brief words of welcome and commendation of the choir's efforts during the year by Rev. Fathers Kennedy, Corcoran and Richards. Mr. Gillies replied on behalf of the choir.

In the impromptu musical program which followed, great amusement was provided by the "Obituaries," sung by a quartet composed of Messrs. F. Allen, J. Bodenham, D. A. McInnis and A. J. B. Soulliere. Mrs. J. P. Murray provided capable accompaniments.

The program follows:

Killarney	Miss M. Bergin
Memories	Thomas Mockler
When Irish Eyes Are Smiling	Miss E. Hughes
A Child's Prayer	James Bodenham
My Song to You	Miss Fitzgerald
Come Back and Love Me Again	F. Allen
The Sunshine of Your Smile	Mrs. T. Coleman
Irish Jig	A. J. B. Soulliere
Somewhere a Voice Is Calling	Corp. Becigneul

FINAL DETAILS

Plans for Patriotic Drive Will Be Worked Out In Few Days.

Sir George Gibbons, honorary chairman of the patriotic campaign committee, is expected home in a day or so from New York, and A. E. Silverwood, chairman, will be back tomorrow after a short business trip. Sir George and Mr. Silverwood will go over the work already done in connection with the campaign and the recommendations of the budget committee, after which a meeting of the general committee will be called in the course of a few days to arrange for the final details of the grand canvass.

23 MEN ACCEPTED

E., Cleveland; Geo. Gibson, W. O. R., London; J. Moffatt, 63rd Battery, Boston.

NOMINATION MEETING

Dr. Horace L. Brittain, managing director of the Bureau of Municipal Research of Toronto, will be the speaker at the meeting of the board of trade at 8 o'clock Friday evening in the Tecumseh House. An added feature of interest will be the nominations for the officers of the 1918-19 session of the board of trade.

WILL FIGHT TO SECURE POWER FOR LIGHTLESS

Commissioner Mitchell Making Effort To Get Service for London Electric Users.

WOULD OPERATE PLANT

Believes Former Patrons Willing To Pay Higher Price To Get Current.

Utilities Commissioner F. G. Mitchell will make an effort to secure service for the 1,800 London Electric customers at a meeting of the utilities commission this afternoon.

Mr. Mitchell believes that the commission is the agency to which citizens look for light and power, and that it is distinctly up to the commission to provide for the needs of all citizens.

"I believe there are 2,000 families in London today without light, and they represent probably 10,000 people," said Mr. Mitchell in an interview with The Advertiser. "I am certain that these people would agree to pay the cost for operation of the London Electric, even though it was somewhat more than they had been paying. Without heavy capital charges against the plant, we should be able to produce power at a fair rate and take care of all customers. I believe Sir Henry Drayton, power controller, would issue an order to force the company to permit operation of the plant on a fair basis.

"I have not much hope that relief will come from the hydro-electric. Apparently the commission has no power to spare, to judge from the manner in which the streets are lighted, and certainly there is no wild desire to take care of the London Electric subscribers. In fact, the attitude of the provincial hydro department has been to do nothing toward their relief, except in cases where the injury to the city would have been reflected upon hydro.

"But the lighting of our homes is quite as important as the running of our industries. I have heard of many places that have no light whatever except the light of candles. This is the age of electricity, and people adapted their homes for it. They cannot get along without it, and they should have it. I am hopeful that my fellow commissioners will do what they can to get down to business to operate the plant until relief has come."

GOOD BUILDING START

$15,130 Already Marked Up for April So Far in Permits.

April is starting out well with building permits, in fact the permits issued by the building inspector show a great building activtiy in the city.

The Peerless Hosiery Company has taken out a permit for a $7,000 addition to its factory on Adelaide street.

Other permits were: S. Garside, $1,450 dwelling on Wreay street; A. E. Hall, $600 garage, Becher street; London and Petrolea Barrel Company, $3,500 addition to its plant on Simcoe street; J. Perkins, $500 cottage, Price street; C. Avery, $450 shop on Hamilton road.

This brings the total for April up to $15,130.

SCARLET FEVER LEADS

Measles have been obliged to take a second place in the ranks of contagious diseases for the week ending March 30, after holding a long-distance lead for many months. The number of new cases reported dropped to eleven for the week, while twelve new cases of scarlet fever were reported, making nineteen cases in isolation. Eight cases of whooping cough were reported, seven of mumps, seven of tuberculosis, two of chicken-pox and one of diphtheria, giving quite a variety of "catching things" from which to choose.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS

AN OLD LONDON RESIDENT.

Mrs. Esther Jane Cecelia Spencer, 89 years of age, and one of the oldest residents of London, died at the family residence, 534 Queen's avenue, Monday.

Mrs. Spencer came to this city in 1861 and had resided in London since that time. She was the widow of William Spencer, and is survived by one daughter, Mrs. (Dr.) McTaggart, and two sons, ex-Mayor W. M. Spencer and C. Norman Spencer of this city.

The funeral will be held Thursday from the family residence. Services will be conducted by Rev. R. G. Peever, of the First Methodist Church. Interment will be made at Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

CHURCH'S GOOD YEAR

Annual Vestry Reports of Emmanuel Congregation Encouraging.

Splendid reports were presented by the various committees of Emmanuel Church, London Township, at the annual vestry meeting held last night. The rector, Rev. H. P. Ashby, spoke encouragingly of the work of the church, and particularly that of the Sunday school. Superintendent William Shoebottam was thanked for his efforts of the past year for the welfare of the Sunday school.

James Shoebottam was elected lay delegate to the synod; R. T. Shoebottam, sub-lay delegate; rector's warden, W. A. Shoebottam; people's warden, J. E. Johnson; vestry clerk, William Shoebottam; auditors, Russell and J. S. Shoebottam; sidesmen, R. T., William Wesley and Ellis Shoebottam.

The church warden's report presented by W. A. Shoebottam showed the year's receipts to have been $783.67, and the balance $72.44. Russell Shoebottam, secretary of the Sunday school, submitted its report. The statement of the financial condition of the Ladies' Aid was not given, and will be received on some future date.

Votes of thanks to the choir, the organist, the rector and the retiring wardens were carried.

WOMEN WERE ABSENT.

DELAWARE, April 3.—Women were conspicuous by their absence at the Easter vestry meeting in Christ Church. The reports presented showed steady progress.

Reports of the Sunday school and Girls' Guild were most satisfactory, both organizations having balances on hand. The rector nominated John E. Pincombe as his warden, and Dr. J. G. Rice was re-elected people's warden. The other officers elected were: Lay delegate to synod, John H. Hammond; substitute, Charles Foster; sidesmen, Messrs. Edgar Weld, Ernest Cummings, Frank Mahler, William Jones, George Carruthers, Harry Weld; auditors, W. E. Pincombe and Harold S. Acres.

TO EXPLAIN NEW ACT

Winnipeg Expert Coming Here to Talk On Bankruptcy Measure.

H. P. Grundy of Winnipeg, who is in Ottawa in connection with the new bankruptcy act, will be in London on Saturday, and has been asked to explain the provisions of the act to a meeting of businessmen of the city in the Tecumseh House at 3 o'clock. This address will be of particular interest to the credit men of retail, wholesale and manufacturing houses. For a long time, the need has been recognized in Canada by businessmen of a bankruptcy act to apply to the whole of the Dominion. The proposed act has been framed for this purpose.

ST. LAWRENCE FLOODING PARISHES OF QUEBEC

Quebec, April 4.—Floods have started along the St. Lawrence between Three Rivers and Montreal. Water has risen four feet since yesterday at Three Rivers, and the wharves are already under water. Some parishes along the shore are also under water.

PAGE OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Miss Nancy Niven of this city, who is visiting her sister, Mrs. Torrance Beardmore of Spadina Road, Toronto, has been the guest of honor at many delightful little functions held in that city. On Saturday Mr. George Beardmore gave a dinner party at the Hunt Club in her honor, and on Tuesday afternoon Mrs. McLennan was the hostess at a tea party, at which Miss Niven was the honored guest.

Much amusement and curiosity has been excited in Toronto circles by the announcement of the subject upon which Prof. Sherwood Fox of Western University is to speak to the educationalists visiting in Toronto. "Cursing as a Fine Art" is the much-talked-of subject. Prof. Fox is at present in Toronto.

Miss Jean Rudd is the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Walter Jeffs of Dresden.

Mrs. A. H. White has returned to Chatham after a visit with friends in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Rumball, Mr. and Mrs. Stevely and Mr. and Mrs. W. D. I. Wright visited at their summer cottages at Port Stanley over the Easter holidays.

Mrs. E. B. Smith has returned home after visiting in Hamilton. Mrs. Smith also accompanied her son, Cadet Adam Smith, on his return to the naval college at Kingston.

Miss Maggie McLarty is spending a few days in Dresden with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. McLarty.

Mrs. E. Welch has returned home after a short visit to Dutton.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Mitton of Ridgetown are in the city.

Mrs. H. Nash has returned to the city after spending Easter with friends.

The marriage took place at the Wellington Street Methodist parsonage on Wednesday, April 3, of Harry Privett and Ruby Edna Essery, both of London. Rev. W. J. Ashton performed the ceremony. The bridal couple were unattended. They left later on the G.T.R. for Hamilton, Toronto and other points east, and on their return will reside in East London.

Woman's Institute will be held on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. R. Stevenson. The members are requested to bring supplies for the shower to fill the soldiers' boxes.

HIGHGATE.—The knitting contest, conducted by the Women's Institute of Palmyra, has been closed. Miss Manning and Miss Street were captains. Miss Street's side won by eight pairs of socks. The losing side served a banquet in the hall.

Captain McGillivray of St. Thomas was present and delivered a lecture on his experiences at the front.

BACKYARD GARDEN HINTS

(By The Girl With the Hoe.)

PREPARATION OF THE SOIL

If the weather conditions remain favorable, the ground in city gardens may be dug shortly. An easy method of telling when it is ready to dig is to take a lump of upturned soil in the hand. If it crumbles, the soil is ready for digging, but if it remains in a compact, sodden mass, it is advisable to wait a while before digging.

The soil should be dug to a depth of from eight to twelve inches, using preferably a digging fork, which will help to thoroughly mix the soil. Turn the soil over so that what was underneath is placed on top. Manure should be applied annually in the fall. However, if a spring application is being made the following is a good method of incorporating it into the soil. Dig one row eight inches wide, and all along the full width of the garden, placing the soil on the far side of the trench thus made. Dig a second row eight inches wide, and place the soil on former pile. This will make quite a wide trench, into which is put either fresh or well-rotted manure. Tramp it down well and then pile the soil from the next two rows on top of it, and proceed to manure as before.

After the digging has been done, the soil should be thoroughly raked, and made level, all the clods and stones being removed, and the lumps of soil made fine. Do not mound up the soil into beds; everything should be level. It is advisable to dig only that portion of a garden which can be raked the same day.

When a plot of ground has been manured often, it becomes sour and should receive an application of lime to correct this. Nearly all garden soils in Ontario need lime. This is applied at the rate of from 10 to 20 pounds per 1,000 square feet, usually being done in the fall, but it may be done in the spring also. Soil should be limed once in every five years.

JIMMY COON STORIES

JIMMY COON WINS A MATE.

After a few days of happiness at Shining Lagoon, Jimmy Coon screwed up his courage to ask Mr. and Mrs. Coon for the hand of their lovely daughter, Carrie Coon, as his mate. Now Mr. and Mrs. Coon were very particular about a mate for their daughter. You see they both belonged to two of the oldest and best families in Georgia; and they wished their charming daughter to marry into a fine family.

And Mr. Coon had a long and private talk with Jimmy Coon about his family, and about his ability to give Carrie a good home. And Jimmy Coon trembled, when he feared that he might lose pretty little Miss Carrie Coon; and he stammered, "Mr. Coon, my family is one of the oldest and best families in the North. We have one of the biggest houses around Mirror Pond.

"Teddy Possum of Mirror Pond is my first Cousin; and Mr. Black Bear is also my first Cousin, and our Family Tree is the biggest and tallest in the Great Forest at Mirror Pond."

And Mrs. Coon had a very long and plain talk with Jimmy Coon; and she asked him all about his mother, and how she dressed, and also all about his sisters and their clothes.

And then Mrs. Coon asked, "Now, Jimmy Coon, do you think you can give our daughter just as good a home as we have? My daughter, Carrie, is very fond of fine clothes; and she is the best dressed girl at the parties at Shining Lagoon. And we want to know if you can keep up the style Carrie is used to? Are you willing to work hard and be a success in life, and give her a beautiful home?"

And Jimmy Coon trembled, fearing he could not keep up such style as Carrie's family was used to. But Jimmy had such a wonderful love in his heart for little Carrie, that he made a great resolution, saying, "Mrs. Coon, I'll promise you that I'll take my coat off; and I'll work my hands to the very bone, to make dear Carrie a happy home! I'll promise on my word of honor that I'll keep her dressed just as handsomely as she ever was in her life. I'll get her a lovely house right away. And my mother says I'm a wonderful provider; and I'll keep the pantry full of the nicest fresh bird's eggs, and lovely fresh chickens and frogs, and green and black snakes, and black crickets, and field mice, and wild grapes, and persimmons, and all nice things to eat. And mother says, I'm the best fisherman at Mirror Pond. And we'll have fresh fish every Friday."

Mrs. Coon, I'll promise you that I'll take my coat off; and I'll work my hands to the very bone, to make dear Carrie a happy home."

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

Yellow Rose's Recipes.

Cookies Without Eggs—2 cups brown sugar, 1 cup lard, 1 cup milk (sweet or sour), 1 small teaspoonful soda, 1 teaspoon baking powder, nutmeg to suit taste, flour to make soft dough.

Prepared Mustard—Mix 3 tablespoons mustard with 1 tablespoon sugar and a pinch of salt, add 1 beaten egg gradually, and 1 cup vinegar; beat until smooth, then cook until thick as gravy; add 1 teaspoon butter, and it is ready for use.

Cure for Blues.

Dear Miss Grey,—I think "Aunt Nanny" and "Pte. Fatty" and "O. L." write very interesting letters, don't you? I know if I feel blue I just pick up the paper and read some of the letters in the Mail-Box, and I feel quite different then. I feel sorry for "Ura Kid." I got in a mix-up nearly as bad as she did over the same thing. I did all I could to help him. I sent four nice boxes, and of all the "slush" I got back! I think I would need hip-boots to get through it. I am glad I sent the boxes though, for I think they need them; they're doing their duty. I have been sick for nearly three weeks with la grippe, but I am getting better now, so I thought I would drop in and see where all the writers have gone. I would be very glad if "Ura Kid" would write to me. I'll leave my address with Miss Grey. SLIPPERY.

Ans.—Is it not "Khaki Kid" you have in mind re the "slushy" letter from overseas? Does "K. K." wish to correspond? Am very pleased to hear that you were "slippery" enough to escape from the grasp of old King Grip.

Country Maid's Grievance.

"Country Maiden,"—I regret that an answer to both your epistles has been delayed. Re "lonely," No. 123666, you will read with interest "Soldier's Sister Nell's" news of his receiving the Military Medal. I am sorry your sister got no acknowledgment of her second box, but you know how uncertain mail and shipping are in these days of warfare.

Concerning your grievance against this publication, I am sorry you did not address your letter to the editor, for then it would have received prompt attention. You see, the subject would really come under his jurisdiction rather than mine. Perhaps even now it is not too late to voice your opinion in writing.

Has Won a Medal.

"Soldier's Sister Nell": "By the way, Miss Grey, did you know that one of our "lonelies" had won the Military Medal? The brave boy—123666 is his number. The same boy is also very grateful to Mrs. ——, Partridge street, of our fair city, for splendid parcels sent him. The lady must be very kind to take so much interest in him."

"Lassie," Sarnia, writes: "In making bread from the new flour, steep a few hops, strain the water off, and put in. This will make it light, and the dough won't stick to the hands so badly. I tried it and had fine luck. The bread is darker, which is the only difference."

"Tory" Is Ever Welcome.

Miss Grey,—How we will welcome the birds and the wildwood flowers and the warm glad days of spring after King Winter's long reign. It will long be remembered for the variety of keen weather it gave.

The good man of the house will welcome spring, as he was injured in the fall, and was indoors and in bed for quite a time. When he was able to be about my nerves were almost exhausted by the cares and being too much indoors. But the scene was changed, as I helped him do the daily farm chores. The cool, exhilarating winter's air soon restored my shattered nerves.

Miss Grey, I much enjoyed the few hours I spent in your city, as I went to meet a nephew who returned among a large number of soldiers who had done their bit and had been wounded in their endeavor to gain the victory over the mighty enemy. London certainly gave them a warm welcome. And it did me good to see the joy and gladness beaming on their countenances when they were granted leave to spend a few days in their homes.

What has become of "Carrie Nation," and many more too numerous to mention, who once upon a time wrote such nice letters to the Mail-Box? Do you remember when I rapped timidly at the door asking if there was an admittance for me, a Conservative? You bade me sit by "Carrie," assuring me she would protect me. I felt all serene through storms and sunshine right in the enemy's camp, thinking she was the original "Carrie" with the hatchet. Fancy my surprise when she asked for a recipe for some kind of toddy! An eye-opener, was it not? Well, as you came to her assistance, would you now give me a good recipe for making cookies with sweet milk and baking powder? My favorite cookies call for cream and soda, and in this dairy district the milk is shipped to Toronto.

Wishing you and all the pageites a joyous Easter. Yours, as ever,

TORY.

Ans.—Well do I remember your first visit, "Tory," and it's glad I am that you felt sufficiently welcome to pay occasional calls since. That request of "Carrie's" was quite a shock to me, too, for, you see, I thought she would prove a perfectly safe companion for you, "Tory." But how are the mighty fallen!

This recipe may not equal the "favorite cookies," but I think you will find it reliable: Two eggs, 1 cup sugar, 1 cup lard and butter mixed, 1 teaspoon cream tartar, ½-teaspoon soda, 2 tablespoons sweet milk, pinch salt, lemon or vanilla flavoring, flour to stiffen; roll thin. Jelly or jam may be put between, if desired.

WOULD NOT BE WITHOUT BABY'S OWN TABLETS

Mrs. A. C. Smith, Goodwood, Ont., writes: 'I have used Baby's Own Tablets for the past two years and have found them the best medicine a mother can give her little ones and I would not be without them." The Tablets never fail to banish the simple ailments of childhood. They regulate the bowels; sweeten the stomach and make the cross, sickly baby bright, healthy and happy. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

INCREASE PATRIOTIC GIVING ACCORDING TO GREATER R. C. OUTPUT

Red Cross Council Hears Splendid Reports From the Various Departments.

The Red Cross council met yesterday morning in Hyman Hall, Mrs. Gordon Wright being in the chair. Splendid reports from the various departments were received, that of the shipping department perhaps being of most interest, for it showed that the goods shipped during the month of March this year were equal in amount to those shipped during the whole first year of the war. The immense growth of the Red Cross work during the past few years has only been equaled by the tremendous growth of the army at the front, and the increased patriotism of the civilian population. In a very short time a big Red Cross money campaign will again be under way, and still more money will be needed than ever before, for how can wool and gauze and cotton be increased twofold or more if the money to buy them is not also increased in like proportion?

FAMOUS BEAUTIES NEVER GET FAT

Womankind wonders why famous beauties grow old, but do not grow fat. They live at silken ease, among the porcelain fleshpots. The wine, that puffs out obscure mortals, flows not illiberally down their alabaster throats. Yet their lifelong loaf does not thicken their limbs nor double their chins. What is the secret of the long-lived gracefulness of the haut-ton?

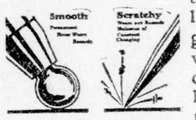

One-half ounce Marmola, 4¾ ounce Fl. Ex. Cascara Aromatic, 4¾ ounces Peppermint Water. This is the famous Marmola Prescription, long familiar to the fashionable pharmacists of the world and their clientele, but which has only recently penetrated to the knowledge of the hoi polloi of womankind. Since when, for convenience sake, it has been put into elegant pocket form, the Marmola Prescription Tablet, which can now be had of well nigh any druggist, fashionable and ordinary, or the Marmola Company, 864 Woodward avenue, Detroit, Mich., in large cases for seventy-five cents.

With this tablet any woman can reduce, by losing a pound a day, in a few weeks; take off fat (where it shows most) on chin, abdomen, hips, etc., without need for exercising, table restraint, fear of wrinkles, or the slightest physical harm or uneasiness.

Have You This Collection of Pathe Records?

EVERY owner of a phonograph likes to have a variety in his collection to suit his own taste and that of his friends — moreover he wants the nucleus of his collection to be sterling good music. If he wants the very best records money can buy, he should not omit a number of representative Pathe' Records.

No better foundation for a real worth-while record collection can be had than from a choice list of Pathe Records.

The Pathe Music is marvellously different

Owing to the unique and secret Pathe' method of recording and reproduction by the Pathe' genuine polished Sapphire Ball instead of a scratchy needle, Pathe' vocal and instrumental music possesses fully 40% more tone colors.

20 MILLION PEOPLE USE CASCARETS--WHY?

Only True Tonic for Liver and Bowels Costs 10 Cents a Box.

Cascarets are a treat! They liven your liver, clean your thirty feet of bowels and sweeten your stomach. You eat one or two Cascarets like candy before going to bed and in the morning your head is clear, tongue is clean, stomach sweet, breath right, and cold gone and you feel grand.

Get a 10 or 25 cent box at any drug store and enjoy the nicest, gentlest liver and bowel cleansing you ever experienced. Stop sick headaches, bilious spells, indigestion, furred tongue, offensive breath and constipation. Mothers should give cross, peevish, feverish, bilious children a whole Cascaret any time. Just Try This When Hairy Growths Appear

(Modes of Today.)

A smooth, hairless skin always follows the use of a paste made by mixing some water with plain powdered delatone. This paste is applied to the hairy surface 2 or 3 minutes, then rubbed off and the skin washed, when every trace of hair will have vanished. No pain or discomfort attends the use of the delatone paste, but caution should be exercised to be sure that you get real delatone.—Advt.

had nothing on many of the garden spots ideally situated just FAR ENOUGH outside the cramped quarters of the city to escape the noise and dirt—AND NEAR ENOUGH TO AFFORD the full advantages and conveniences of city life.

You'll find these ¼, ½ up to 2 and 3 acre plots a delightful place to build and live. Plenty of room for a cosy home, for orchard, garden, flowers, chickens, cow; in fact, town and country comforts and advantages combined.

And these "city farms" are right in the course of the city's growth. Values are constantly enhancing.

INTERNATIONAL CIRCUIT TO BE ANNOUNCED TODAY

Promoters Gather at New York to Make Final Arrangements and Select Cities — Plenty of Applications In.

MEETING TONIGHT.

New York, April 4.—The promoters of the new International League will meet at the Hotel Biltomore here tonight to organize for the season. They are confident that a well-balanced string will be drawn up with every prospect of weathering the storm of war conditions and finishing the 1918 season with flying colors.

NEW YORK, April 3.—The promoters of the new International League, which will be made up of baseball clubs from the International and New York State organizations, will meet here Thursday, for the purpose of completing the club membership and establishing a playing circuit. The meeting was to have been held today, but business matters are understood to have warranted the delay. Toronto, Rochester, Baltimore and Jersey City are the cities which were represented at the initial meeting last night in New York.

Newark, Buffalo, Binghamton, Syracuse, Elmira and Wilkesbarre club-owners have communicated with John H. Farrell, the president of the new league, and it is probable that the new circuit will embrace at least four of these cities. The intention is to make an eight-club league, and the promoters are confident that they will have enough clubs to make a circuit of this size.

Ask Recognition.

One of the first moves of the new organization will be to make application for recognition and class ruling to the national commission. That the league will be recognized there is not the slightest doubt. It is a foregone conclusion that they will not ask for Class AA rating, the same as in the old International. A class A rating would be far more favorable for the new league.

This would give it a high enough rating to sufficiently protect its clubs in the annual drafting of players by the big leagues, and at the same time would give it a salary limit lower than the erstwhile International was allowed, and which contributed so materially to its collapse. The Southern and Western are Class A leagues. These circuits last year limited their teams to fifteen players each. In the Southern there was a salary limit of $2,800 a month a club.

New Leaf Manager.

The only thing in connection with the management of the Toronto club is a story from Dallas, Texas, to the effect that Dan Howley, last season manager of the Montreal Royals, and at present coach of the Boston Red Sox players, has been offered the position. According to the story, Howley has been asked by President James McGill of Indianapolis to manage the Hoosiers in case "Larry" Lajoie cannot be secured. Howley is now in Indianapolis and will ask McGill for a showdown.

The job in Indianapolis would likely be worth more money than that in Toronto. Dan, however, doesn't want to be "hooked" out of both by waiting too long. Howley would be a popular choice in Toronto. When with Montreal he was always a favorite with Toronto fans. In addition to being a good catcher and a good hitter, he has a pleasing personality and knows how to handle players.

WESTERN ONTARIO BRIEFS

GALT.—The annual dance of the Cadet Corps, held at the Galt Collegiate last night, was largely attended and a splendid success in every way.

WOODSTOCK.—Thomas Shanley, 67 years of age, bookseller here for 30 years, is dead of pernicious anaemia. He was a former resident of Mitchell.

SEAFORTH.—The sale of Turnbull & McIntosh's livery equipment drew a large crowd of buyers, and good prices were realized. The 'bus line and mail contract are to be disposed of also.

CAYUGA.—J. W. Sheppard, who was recently appointed collector of income tax for the counties of Haldimand and Norfolk, has resigned as secretary of the Cayuga Agricultural Society, a position he filled most cabaciety, a position he filled most cabaciety for many years. R. A. Lindsay has been appointed treasurer and E. B. Davis secretary.

THORNDALE.—During March there was forwarded from the G. T. R. station 27 cars of hay, 14 cars of stock, 2 cars of grain, 5 cars of wood, 1 car of lumber and 1 car of sawdust.

MILDMAY.—Joseph Filsinger has sold his farm, con. 4, Carrick Township, to Simon Bliger, for $3,500.

WATERLOO.—The tax rate for the present year has been struck by the council at 28 mills.

CHATHAM.—While at work in Piggott's mill yesterday, Alex. Gregory had the thumb of his right hand terribly cut. Some time ago he lost all the fingers of that hand, while at work in the same mill.

AYLMER.—A valuable horse owned by Anton Hipleigh of Malahide died of lockjaw, caused by running a nail in its foot recently.

A new Maxwell car, owned by E. G. Ponsford of St. Thomas, and being driven from Windsor to St. Thomas by George Richardson of St. Thomas, stalled on the M. C. R. crossing at West Lorne. Before it could be moved it had been smashed to kindling by an M. C. R. express.

Ptomaine poisoning supposed to have been caused by drinking maple sap from a rusty pail, caused the sudden death of 10-year-old Jennings Foster of Leamington.

Pasteurization of all Brantford milk has been ordered by the board of health there. In all 28 cases of typhoid were traced to one source, a local milk route.

For selling milk which was considered unfit for human consumption, William Oliver, a Galt milkman, was fined in police court there.

W. E. Miller, aged 60, a well-known market gardener, was killed by a falling tree on his farm in Puslinch Township, near Guelph.

Major William Battersby, M. C., of Brantford brigade artillery commander, has been killed in action. He won his promotion on the field.

R. A. Wilson, son of Lieut.-Col. A. Wilson, commanding officer of the 33rd Battalion, has been appointed London representative of the New York Sun.

Harold Cousineau, a 17-year-old Windsor letter-carrier, has been arrested on a charge of forgery for signing names in a registered letter book. He had previously been charged with the theft of the parcel.

Maximum production of spring wheat was urged on the farmers of Perth County by the county council meeting in Stratford.

As a result of a Good Friday spree William Filby of Chatham, has been committed for trial on a charge of robbing A. Chrysler.

Tobacco growers in the vicinity of Blenheim are much disturbed over rumors that the Government will this year institute a special tax on tobacco beds planted.

SPORT NOTES

George Whiteman, the Leafs' outfielder, is slated for a regular berth in the Boston Red Sox outfield. He is going well in practice and hitting the way he did for the Leafs.

Frank Truesdale is all that is left of the "Big Four" of the Toronto infield. Lajoie has not yet decided to go to Brooklyn, but will likely land there before the season is far advanced.

Just to prove that he can run faster than he did when Eddie Collins beat him to the plate in the world's series, Heine Zimmerman won a race from a San Antonio player the other day.

Under the new daylight-saving proposition, it is likely that all baseball games will be started at 4 p.m. in the National and American Leagues.

"Bunny" Hearne will pitch for the Boston Red Sox this season. With "Bugs" Hearche in Toronto the fans will not miss the coaching of Hearne.

President McCaffrey of the Leafs should secure Dan Howley to manage his club. Most of the Leafs' players were under Howley last season, and he might know what to do with them.

Cincinnati have won nine straight games. Of course, they were only exhibition affairs, but the Reds look good enough to give the Giants a battle in the National League.

The new league can now go ahead. Newark, Baltimore, Jersey City and Toronto sound like old times.

Maryland will not stand for Sunday baseball. They defeated a bill to legalize Sunday playing by a vote of 50 to 37.

"Johnny" Evers is billed to play second base for the Boston Red Sox this season. Evers has pretty nearly tried all the teams in his strenuous career on the diamond.

Dressen, the new first baseman of the Detroit Tigers, is said to be as fast as Cobb. If this is true, they will be a hard pair to handle when they are on the bases.

Ball players like to work for Lee Fohl of the Cleveland team. He believes in only a once-a-day practice stunt, and so do most of the players.

Harry Sproule, manager of the Crescent Hockey Club, who returned yesterday with his All-Stars from Cleveland, is of the opinion that the United States team is a pretty fair one and would make a good showing in the Senior O.H.A. Mr. Sproule states that they have the seven-men style down to perfection and display a lot of combination. Speaking of the All-Stars, Sproule predicts that Dalton Meeking, the young Barrie forward, will develop into one of the stars of the game.

Turner Barber, the $15,000 outfielder the Cubs bought from Baltimore, was not in uniform when Manager Mitchell took his men out to Recreation Park Tuesday to play the Seals in the second game. Instead he was confined to his room in the Palace Hotel with his broken toe in a cast. He will not be able to play for two or three weeks, and will be sent back to Chicago to recover.

Barber was out Monday and practiced around first base, but after he finished his toe swelled and pained him intensely. He was advised by Manager Mitchell to visit a doctor, who found a fracture, and insisted that it be placed in a cast. This was what Trainer Brady advised against, thinking that the break was so small that it would heal in a few days.

This was a great blow to Barber's ambition, as the youngster, who was a sensation in the International League last year, was keen to secure a regular berth in the Cubs' outfield from the jump.

That the new International will find favor all down the line seems a certainty. In many respects it will be a stronger circuit than the old league, because of the elimination of the dead wood. To close students of the game it would appear that the organization is in better shape to make a successful bid for patronage than was the derelict abandoned. The elimination of the extremely isolated cities of the respective north and south ends—Montreal and Richmond—assures compactness and resulting economy. Providence, too, which has been a weak link of the chain, will be allowed to seek solace in the Eastern League, a circuit of lower classification. The money expended in traveling expenses will be put into players and the class of ball as a result should be of a better quality.

YBARRA, JOSE (Private), Laredo, Tex.

Every newspaper in America on Tuesday carried the foregoing at the bottom of the latest casualty list issued from Washington, yet only a few of the country's sporting public realized that it was an announcement of the death of Joe Rivers, lost when the Tuscania was torpedoed and sunk by a German submarine last month.

Jose Ybarra, private, Laredo, Texas, was Joe Rivers, the same Joe Rivers who sought the featherweight boxing championship in 1911, and, having outgrown the class, fought Ad Wolgast for the lightweight title in the following year.

Rivers failed to win the supreme honor in boxing, but his name will live forever in the boxing annals as the first American boxer to make the supreme sacrifice.

Biggest Dog Deal Made at Montreal Bull Brings $2 350

Kersal King, Noted Champion Bulldog, Sold by Toronto Owner.

MONTREAL, April 3.—The biggest deal ever put through in dogs in local circles, and probably in Canada, was concluded here, when Dr. J. H. Villeneuve, acting as agent for J. H. Charbonnier of this city, the famous dog, Kersal King, acknowledged the best bulldog in Canada, for the sum of $2,350.

This dog, which was shown here at the Bulldog Club show, although defeated in some classes, still stood away from the majority, incidentally going down to defeat before his kennel mate, Champion Hefty Mischief, crowned the best dog in the show, and also later purchased through Dr. Villeneuve by a newcomer in the game, J. Wilson of this city.

Champion Hefty Mischief has the distinction of having won already 76 first prizes and 34 specials. Another bitch in the show that did exceptionally well is Duchess of Elgin, E. W. Ferguson's good Canadian bred. After refusing to show in open class, she came back strong afterwards and finally won the cup for the best bitch owned by a member of the club.

The winning dog, Drummond Sir John, owned by A. V. Noel of this city, has the proud distinction of going through all his classes, finally beating the crack Toronto dogs for the white ribbons.

ENGLISH TRADE UNIONS POSTPONE CONVENTION

London, April 4.—In view of the uncertainty of the situation on the western front, it is announced the national executive of the labor party and the parliamentary committee of the trades union congress has decided to postpone the joint meeting for inaugurating a national campaign in support of labor's war aims and policy of social reconstruction.

The meeting was to have been held next Tuesday.

BLUES TO PLAY THREE GAMES AT CLEVELAND AGAINST PICKED TEAM

Canucks to Stage Exhibitions for Yankee Fans.

TORONTO, April 3.—The Toronto Hockey Club, champions of the world and holders of the Stanley Cup, will play three games in Cleveland this week, leaving tonight. All the players who took part in the recent games with Vancouver, with the exception of Harry Mummery, the big defence man, will make the trip. They will play against a selected team, including Lehman and McDonald of Vancouver, and Nighbor of Ottawa, while "Rusty" Crawford and Jack Adams, the two players barred from the Stanley Cup competition, will also play with the "Selects." Corbeau, the Canadien star defence player, is also expected to line-up with the team.

Johnny Evers Ill: Looks Like End of Career in Baseball

Red Sox Star's Nerves Give Out on Training Trip Down South.

Waco, Texas, April 4.—Johnny Evers has probably closed his career as an active player. This is not only the belief among the Boston Red Sox, with whom Evers has been training this spring, in an effort to re-establish himself, but it is the belief also of the little second baseman himself.

Evers was taken very ill on the train from Little Rock to Dallas, and at Texarkana it was necessary to hold up the train while a doctor was called in to attend him. The doctor told him that his nerves had again gone back on him. He was sent to bed immediately on arriving at Dallas.

The fact that he is again experiencing trouble with his nerves and that he is worn out, has indicated to him that he is through, and he is not desirous of attempting to go further than nature will permit.

HAD BRONCHITIS FOR THREE YEARS

COULD GET NO RELIEF

Bronchitis is generally the result of a cold caused by exposure to wet and inclement weather. It begins with a tightness across the chest, difficulty in breathing, and a wheezing sound comes from the lungs. There is also a raising of phlegm from the lungs, especially in the morning. This is at first white, but later becomes of a greenish or yellowish color, and is occasionally streaked with blood.

On the first sign of bronchitis you should check it immediately by using Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and thereby prevent it becoming chronic and perhaps turning into some more serious lung trouble.

Mr. Theodore P. Beers, Upper Main River, N. B., writes: "I was troubled with bronchitis for three years and could get no relief. I was always worse when I got wet. I tried lots of different medicines, but none did me good until a friend told me to try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. I got three bottles and before I had them half used I was better.

"My mother is now using it for asthma. It is a great medicine and we never want to be without it."

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is put up in a yellow wrapper; three pine trees the trade mark; price 25c and 50c; manufactured only by The T. Milburn Company, Limited, Toronto, Ont.

"TIZ" FOR SORE, TIRED FEET--AH!

"Tiz" is grand for aching, swollen, tender, calloused feet or corns.

Ah! What relief. No more tired feet; no more burning feet; no more swollen, aching, tender, sweaty feet. No more soreness in corns, callouses, bunions.

No matter what ails your feet or what under the sun you've tried without getting relief, just use "Tiz." "Tiz" is the only remedy that draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up the feet. "Tiz" cures your foot trouble so you'll never limp or draw up your face in pain. Your shoes won't seem tight and your feet will never, never hurt or get sore and swollen. Think of it, no more foot misery, no more agony from corns, callouses or bunions.

Get a 25-cent box at any drug store or department store and get instant relief. Wear smaller shoes. Just once try "Tiz." Get a whole year's foot comfort for only 25 cents. Think of it.

Secrets of Health and Happiness

Four Free Remedies the "Sure Cure" for "Spring Fever"

By DR. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG,
A. B., M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins University.)

DR. HIRSHBERG

"Who becomes easily fatigued achieves not much," says an Italian proverb, which in the idiom of the street means, if you have "that tired feeling" or allow yourself to be beguiled easily by "spring fever," you will be about three-quarters of a real man or less.

To be tired is to be unwell — in a certain sense. Your vital fabric is diminished in its capacity to do even a fair share of its best work. Unless you feel the vim and tonic, the joy and pleasure of your efforts, your productiveness, industry, your creativeness, are below par.

The call "of the season which pricketh every gentle heart, and waketh him out of his sleep to start," makes each little indoor unpleasantness seem all the more noticeable. The "fever" to be outdoors, the call of the open, "when well appareled April on the heel of limping winter treads" exaggerates the restlessness, the longing and little discomforts of desk, shop and bench.

Rest, Sleep, Sunlight, Oxygen.

When you are tired of several housed-up months there is a mental fatigue which yearns for a change. Intellectual fatigue is as real a thing as physical exhaustion. Examined by the standards of medical precision and the myriad of indirect senses called instruments it will be found that the victim's eyes and senses are less accurate, the muscles not precise, agility reduced, energy much fallen off, strength and force diminished, and the capacity to work, to act, to create, to pay attention, to become interested, to enjoy, to do and to invent have all disappeared or become faulty.

Here you have a combination of mental and physical signs which indicate that fatigue is sickness, though it lasts but a brief period. Just as the accumulated waste of worn or torn tissues ages or sickens your anatomy, so the waste fluids after long hours of exertion or of days spent in carbonized, unoxidized air store up poisons.

Call these fatigue substances how you will, they are present and must be repeatedly and automatically removed by rest, sleep, sunlight and oxygen. It is these four manifestations which help to clear away the dishes, eliminate the crumbs, remove the soiled tablecloth of exhaustion, and burn up the debris. Simultaneously the tissues begin to replenish the lost and consumed substances.

Sensation No True Guide.

Reparation and restoration then set in. You say, "I feel refreshed." You are invigorated and snort like a war-horse. The quality and quantity of your work picks up, the oxygen of fresh air, the sunlight, sleep and rest put you on your mettle, and your discrimination and productiveness reach where tired nature fears to tread.

Let all this be as it may, you need not be necessarily tired because you feel that way. The sensation of fatigue is no reliable indication that there is true exhaustion of your flesh and bone. To determine whether there is real fatigue or only "spring fever," measurements are made by laboratory psychologists as to physical efficiency or reduction of mental efficiency.

Ways to Test Yourself.

Target practice, threading needles, bow and arrow tests, steadiness of the muscles, inserting a rod in a socket or tapping evenly a number of times upon a sounding board are only a few of the tests available.

The various senses, too, such as the powers of observation of the eye, the range through which it sweeps soon prove to the practical psychologist whether you are actually tired or have only convinced yourself that you are.

To be precise about the degree of a real tired feeling as distinguished from a camouflaged one, a compass is sometimes used. When truly tired the two pointers of the architect's or mechanical draughtsman's compass, when placed simultaneously upon the skin with equal pressure, are felt as at a wider degree of separation than when the subject is not fatigued.

Easy arithmetic, such as addition and multiplication, are given for ten minutes. Practice increases the speed in spite of exhaustion, but there is an increase in errors and corrections due to the fatigue. A series of easy problems to be worked out at the highest rate of speed is a good test for fatigue. The number of errors is the standard of tiredness.

Another way to learn, whether workers or others are tired, is to measure their memory for words or numbers. Fatigue is shown by a reduction in the power to remember the most recent ones.

To require the suspected person to fill out incomplete sentences in which words and syllables are omitted proves the measure of the fatigue present. The kind and number of errors and corrections is an index of fatigue; the quality of work done is the measure of the absence or presence of "that tired feeling"—if it is real.

Cancelling certain words or sentences on a page of printed matter, copying and sight memory after sentences have been erased are a few of the plans used to learn whether you are "spoofing" or are actually tired.

Answers to Health Questions

C. L. Q.—My finger-nails come loose from the flesh. Kindly advise me what to do for this.

A.—Glycerine and honey should be massaged into the nails; also drink honey.

L. J. Q.—Please inform me if pellagra is contagious.

A.—It is neither contagious nor infectious.

A READER. Q.—Will you kindly advise me what will remove nits from the hair?

A.—These are the eggs of insects, lice, which attach themselves with glue to hair strands. The insect is more easily destroyed than the nits. Wash the hair in acetic acid and water. Then brush the hair thoroughly. Repeat this several times on successive nights.

PATIENCE. Q.—Please tell me how to reduce my bust.

A.—It is very dangerous for anyone to interfere with whatever condition is naturally present in the breast because tumors, growths, fatal maladies and cancers all have a preference for the breasts of women, and any interference with these delicate tissues may stir up one of these most unpleasant conditions.

J. M., London, Ont. Q.—Kindly tell me how to get taller.

A.—Stretching, swimming and all athletic exercises should help.

HER PROBLEMS — By Annette Bradshaw

DIARY OF A FASHION MODEL

BY GRACE THORNCLIFFE.

She Learns How Hats Are Designed and What Will Be Considered "Smart" This Season.

"I know what I'll do," said Madame this morning. "I'll design some hats. Most of our models are small; we need some broad-brimmed hats of the sailor and 'picture' type."

There's something very fascinating about the way Madame builds hats. The moment she picks up an untrimmed shape and looks at it for a moment or two, she seems to see the finished creation. Her mind being satisfied with the effect, she places the shape on my head and begins to arrange the trimming, pinning it in the position that best pleases her artistic eye.

Upon entering Marcelle's workroom, she picked up a hat of black lisere braid, studied it a moment and said: "This ought to make a stunning model for dress wear. Put it on, Claire, that's the only way one can really tell whether a hat has the right lines or not."

I settled the hat on my head, tilting the brim to one side.

"Not that way," objected Madame "The brim turns down, so wear the hat quite straight."

When I had adjusted the hat to suit Madame, she hunted about for trimming to give it the proper style. She tried ostrich feathers, paradise plumage, lacquered fruit and silk flowers, none of which suited her fancy. Finally she picked out a pompon of black cross aigrettes and poised it in the centre front.

"There! That's something like it!" she exclaimed, smiling her satisfaction. "With a narrow binding of black ribbon velvet about the edge of the brim and a band of the same trimming twisted about the base of the crown, the hat will be perfect."

Marcelle made a mental note of every suggestion given by Madame, then, taking the hat and trimming, she went into the workroom to give the necessary instructions to one of the trimmers.

While she was gone, Madame designed another hat. This time she chose a shape of burnt yellow straw, with a rather broad brim and a high crown. It was as pliable as soft felt and Madame proceeded to mold it into every conceivable shape. She finally decided that it was smarter with the brim turned back in front.

"This hat should be trimmed very simply, with a flat, spreading bow of ribbon or silk velvet," she said as she hunted among the ribbons for something suitable to carry out her idea.

After holding several varieties of ribbon against the hat she decided that a plaid design in velvet and silk gave the best effect. The ribbon was in two tones of blue, the darker shade being a perfect sapphire hue.

Tying a large bow with two loops and ends, Madame pinned it to the turned-back brim and drew an end of the ribbon from the centre of the bow over the edge of the brim and tucked it under the crown. The other end she arranged artistically about one side of the crown and across the back.

When Marcelle returned Madame instructed her to have the bow sewed exactly as it was pinned. She also told Marcelle to have a scarf of sapphire blue velvet, with tasselled ends, made to be worn with the hat.

"Girls like something of the sort to wind about their throats in the spring. Not everyone fancies summer furs," she said. Then, picking out a piece of light-weight blue velvet, she added, "This will do nicely. Please make the scarf a little over two yards long."

Then, before Madame could begin another hat, Julie came to call her to go down to the studio, where Mrs. Spencer Fielding wanted to consult her about some costumes. Knowing that lady and I are about of a size, I went along to try on the new models.

"DOING MY BIT"

Practical Suggestions on Individual Ways to Help Win the War.

BY ALBERT BARRETT SAYRES.

Buying "New" Foods.

If you earnestly wish to save money on food, don't permit prejudice against new and unknown-to-you foods to keep you in the old expensive rut in buying, serving and eating. For instance, those who haven't "cared much" for fish may save meat and money by really getting acquainted with one of the finest forms of protein to be had.

We haven't yet developed even a portion of our sea food assets. When you go to market and meet for the first time the bowfin, the greyfish, the burbot, the goosefish, the sablefish and the grouper, try them, even though you may never have heard their names before. They're all vouched for by the Bureau of Fisheries.

Be on the alert to try the vegetables you've never used before. Get acquainted with all the members of the nutritious and delicious bean family, find out about the root vegetables you've never served, make use of the dried fruits that are cheaper than canned—in a word, get in step with the nation extending its diet, saving food and conserving money.

Serving Kidney Bean Stew.

In learning all about the various beans there's no better way than to begin by making and serving a bean dish that's new to your table. The following is a novel method of using kidney beans—try it:

Soak half a cupful of kidney beans over night. Cook them in the juice of two cupfuls of tomatoes until they're tender. Then add the pieces of tomatoes, half an onion cut into squares, a tablespoonful of rice, two small potatoes, cut into little pieces, a tablespoonful of fat, and seasonings to taste. Cook the mixture until the vegetables are tender. Serve very hot. This is especially good when served with cornbread.

Making Eggless Cornbreads.

If eggs are high you still can make delicious cornbread without the use of even one egg. Here's the way:

In a mixing bowl pour a cupful of cornmeal, half a cupful of flour, three teaspoonfuls of baking powder, a teaspoonful of salt, two tablespoonfuls of syrup, a cupful of milk, and, last of all, two tablespoonfuls of melted fat. Mix thoroughly, then pour into a shallow pan and bake in a moderate oven.

Good Night Stories

By Blanche Silver

Illustrated by Gruelle.

MR. WATER-BEETLE'S MISTAKE.

Benny picked up a big beetle from the walk under the electric light.

"Better kill him before he pinches you!" exclaimed Betty.

"I wouldn't!" exclaimed a merry voice, and Squeedee stepped up beside the children. "That's Mr. Water-Beetle, who lives in the pond."

"Who ever heard of a beetle living in a pond?" laughed Betty.

"Well, this one does," replied Squeedee, and he waved his hand over the children's heads three times.

In the twinkling of an eye Benny and Betty became very small and with the power of Fairyland over them they could hear Mr. Water-Beetle weeping.

"Don't cry," said Squeedee, "the children won't harm you."

"Oh, thank you!" sobbed Mr. Water-Beetle. "I'm lost!"

"Tell us where you live and we'll take you home," said Betty.

"Over in the big pond," replied Mr. Water-Beetle. "Last night I saw what I thought was the moon and I wanted to fly up to it. My mamma said it wasn't the moon and told me I'd better stay in the pond where I belonged. But just as soon as she was out of sight I crawled up a blade of grass, and flew away toward the bright light.

"It wasn't the moon at all, but this old street light. I went around it so many times I grew dizzy and fell to the ground where you found me." And Mr. Water-Beetle wiped his eyes with the flat pad on his feet.

"Well Ta'ke You Home."

"When little folks disobey their elders they're sure to come to harm," said Squeedee sadly. "But I guess you're punished enough. So come on—we'll take you home."

Then Squeedee led the way to the pond, Mr. Beetle and the children following.

Water-Beetle thanked Squeedee and Benny and Betty for helping him home, and promised that he'd never again disobey his mamma. Then rising into the air, he flattened his wings against his sides and fell with a "plunk" into the pond.

Then floating with his head down and the tip of his tail sticking out of the water, he drifted near Betty.

"Getting air!" whispered Squeedee.

"How can he get air with head under water!" exclaimed Benny.

"Under his little wings are his breathing tubes," replied Squeedee. "He turns upside down, spreads out his feet to balance himself, pushing out the stale air from his breathing tubes and fills them with fresh air. When he has plenty he closes his wing-covers, which are air-tight—then under water he goes."

Just as Squeedee finished speaking Mr. Water-Beetle darted under the water out of sight.

Talent is that which is in a man's power; genius is that in whose power a man is.
—Rousseau and the Sentimentalists.

The orange and the peach have each a sweeter side, and this is the side which does not bear the sten. The stem half of these fruits is usually not so sweet and juicy as the other half, not, because it receives less sunshine, but probably because the juice gravitates to the lower half and deposits sugar there.

ADELE GARRISON'S NEW

REVELATIONS OF A WIFE

Why Even Lillian Forbore to Question Madge.

Our swift motor ride back to the vicinity of the Pennsylvania station in New York was an uneventful one. Not even a tire accident disturbed our progress, and when Mr. Drake signaled George to draw up at the corner I had designated I was conscious that the nervous strain of the evening's strenuous experience had been materially mitigated by the quiet drive through the balmy spring air.

If it hadn't been for the silent transfer of the important code message which Mr. Drake unfastened from his notebook and I secreted once more in the back of the trick wrist watch I wore there would have been no hint of anything more than an ordinary outing in our journey.

For, from the moment we left Craigie Manor, Allen Drake dropped from his shoulders as he would an encumbering cloak all reference to—indeed, so far as I could determine, all thought of—the task he had just completed, and became once more the fascinating, debonair man of the world who had at once attracted and repelled me when first I met him.

Nothing could have been more deferential than his manner, and although I was constantly conscious of the personal note which had vaguely troubled me, yet it wasn't obtrusive enough really to annoy me.

The manner in which I left the machine, however, although I knew it was necessary, was not only distasteful, but humiliating.

As we neared the vicinity of the Pennsylvania station Mr. Drake tapped on the glass, and George slid back the glass and waited his instructions.

A Strange Parting.

"Stop in front of the first fruit store you see," he said, "but be careful the street lamp doesn't shine into the machine."

"All right, sir," and the slide was closed again.

"Be ready to get out of the car as soon as it stops." Mr. Drake directed me. "George, of course, will open the door, and you will hand him this"—he put a coin into my hand. "Then, without looking around, go into the fruit store, make some purchases of fruit, as if you were an ordinary traveler, then go directly around the corner where you say Mrs. Underwood's man is waiting for you.

"And now, good-bye. I hope you won't mind my saying you're the plucklest piece of femininity I know. And remember, I'm going to call on your memory when I need it. Sorry I can't get out with you."

His hand found mine, pressed it warmly in a farewell handshake—a shade too warmly, my fastidious misgiving said—and then, to my surprise, leaning far back in the corner of the machine, he plucked at the side of the upholstery and unrolled a sort of dark curtainlike drapery in front of him.

I couldn't help admiring the device. Unless someone took the pains to come up to the window and look directly into the machine there was no indication of there being any person in it except me. But the sheltered conventional personality that has always been mine rebelled at this bizarre secrecy and mystery.

Lillian's Prescription.

The few minutes that elapsed between my alighting from Mr. Drake's machine, and the time Lillian's trusted man set me down at her door were interminable ones to me. I had been so shaken by the night's experiences that when I found myself alone I half expected to see the man with the scarred hand or the mocking face of Grace Draper at every turn. But nothing at all happened, and when at last Lillian herself let me in and rushed me to the library, where Katherine, too, was waiting, I was able to conceal my nervousness and tell my story calmly.

Lillian's eyes gleamed as I told her of the many calculations Mr. Drake had made and of his turning the original paper back to me. I knew that she was tremendously interested, but she made no comment until I had finished.

"That paper must be of tremendous importance," she said. "Drake has it fixed in his mind, of course, and the key also and the calculations he worked out are scattered through his book in such a manner that no one but himself could make them out. They would be of no use to the other side. But suppose something should happen to Drake. Who would be able to use the knowledge?"

"He said he had made provision for that." I said hesitatingly.

Lillian shot a keen look at me, then abruptly changed the subject. I knew that she comprehended that Allen Drake had bound me to secrecy as to certain plans of his, plans in which even she had no share.

"Now, I'm going to prescribe for you," Lillian said, rising. "A soothing draught, a good, long sleep, and then tomorrow, home for a well-earned rest. You've accomplished all the things I wanted you to do, dear, and I know you sacrificed something to come in."

I kissed her gratefully. I longed to go home, although I dreaded the domestic problems confronting me there.

INCIDENTS IN THE LIVES OF FAMOUS WOMEN

BY ELOISE FARRINGTON.

How an Old-Time General's Widow Took His Place and Won Victories by Strategy.

In the early stages of the Hundred Years' War, when Edward III. ruled England, and Philip of Valois was King of France, there occurred an episode in the long struggle for the lordship of Brittany, in which a woman played an important part.

Jeanne de Belleville was the wife of Oliver de Clisson, a brave and mighty warrior. This knight, with others of the French nobility, was condemned to death by Philip, who had heard that they had secretly pledged themselves to support Edward.

The unhappy widow of De Clisson for a time mourned the loss of her husband in solitude, then she roused herself to action, resolving to take part in the struggle for the throne of Brittany, then being waged between the Countess de Montfort, in behalf of her little son, and Charles de Bois, who claimed the ducal crown for his wife.

Jeanne de Belleville declared herself an ally of the Countess de Montfort, and, following the example set by that courageous woman, she determined personally to lead her troops into battle.

Charles de Blois held a castle of great military importance which the countess was anxious to capture. Jeanne de Belleville decided to strike a wedge of resentment against Philip by taking the stronghold from his nephew.

She summoned her husband's partisans and declared to them her intention of storming the castle. All pledged themselves to follow her banner. Then Jeanne proceeded to give the details of her plan for the attack.

A few days later forty knights, invited by Jeanne de Belleville to hunt in the nearby forest, awaited the appearance of that lady in the courtyard of her castle. Beneath their gay hunting clothes they wore shirts of mail, and it was plainly to be seen that the blades of their weapons had been newly sharpened.

At length the Lady Jeanne joined the hunting party and warmly greeted the knights. She, too, wore a shirt of mail beneath her green velvet habit. After mounting her horse she again repeated her plan for the attack, and concluded by saying:

"This is no easy task we're about to undertake. Death or long years of imprisonment may be our reward for striking a blow at Philip de Valois. Pray that we may come out the victors and not that merciless tyrant."

Into the Castle They Rode.

Jeanne then gave the signal for the departure, and amid the loud shouts of the knights, the blasts of hunting horns and the clatter of horses' hoofs she rode over the drawbridge and on toward the forest, followed by the hunting party.

They rode on for many miles among the tall trees, all the while drawing nearer the castle of the enemy. At length they came to a wide clearing, and here found a large company of soldiers, fully equipped for battle. Jeanne de Belleville rode into the centre of the clearing and addressed her troops:

"Wait you here quietly until you hear a strong blast from a hunting horn, then rush to our assistance, and may we be successful in overcoming our foes."

Again the merry hunting party rode on, reaching the castle at sunset. One of the knights shouted to the guards stationed at the gate that a lady and her hunting party, having followed the chase too far to reach home that night, begged the lord of the castle to provide her and her guests with entertainment for the night.

The guard, seeing nothing in a hunting party to fear, left his post and soon returned, saying his commander would be honored to offer refreshment to the lady and her party. The drawbridge was let down, and the hunters were admitted to the castle.

The last knight to enter blew a blast on his hunting horn, which signal brought the soldiers hidden in the wood.

The knights fought valiantly, encouraged by their brave leader, and by the time the soldiers arrived had accounted for many within the castle. After a short but fierce fight, Jeanne de Belleville and her stanch followers were victorious.

The fire of resentment still burning within her breast, Jeanne left the castle and its garrison in charge of one of the knigsts, and calling the others to follow her banner, proceeded to the next stronghold of the enemy. Here she successfully repeated the attack made upon the first. And, after a few days' rest, rode on to storm another castle.

Thus Charles de Blois lost many of his strongholds, and Jeanne de Belleville was largely responsible for the success of the campaign which restored Brittany to the De Montfort.

To-morrow's HOROSCOPE

By Genevieve Kemble

FRIDAY, APRIL 5.

This promises to be another day of checkered if not unique experiences. The erratic, unconventional, iconoclastic and revolutionary planets, Uranus and Neptune, both outside our planetary chain and beyond the trend of routine and regulation incitement, are in active operation, one for good, the other adversely. There will probably be the impulse to move, change and travel, and these may be undertaken with security, provided one is on the alert against intrigue and duplicity. Alliances and contracts should be negotiated with great caution, and moneys should not be hazarded. Venus blesses the home and affectional affairs.

Those whose birthday it is should keep their affairs well in hand, as this may be a year of ups and downs. A child born on this day will have an unusual disposition, with peculiar talents.

BEAUTY SPECIALIST TELLS SECRET

A Beauty Specialist Gives Simple Home Made Recipe to Darken Grey Hair.

Mrs. M. D. Gillespie, a well-known beauty specialist of Kansas City, recently gave out the following statement regarding grey hair:

"Anyone can prepare a simple mixture at home, at very little cost, that will darken grey hair, and make it soft and glossy. To a half pint of water add 1 ounce of bay rum, a small box of Orlex Compound and ¼ ounce of glycerine. These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost, or the druggist will put it up for you. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. This will make a grey-haired person look twenty years younger. It does not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off."

Relieves Stiff Neck

When you wake up with a stiff neck or sore muscles, strains or sprains, use Sloan's Liniment. No need to rub; it quickly penetrates to the seat of pain and removes it. Cleaner than mussy plasters or ointments. It does not stain the skin or clog the pores. Always have a bottle handy for rheumatic aches, neuralgia soreness, bruises and lame back. In fact, all external pain.

Generous sized bottles at your druggist.

MUNICIPAL POLICE QUIESCENT, IS GOVT. VERSION OF RIOTS

Machin Reports Proper Protection Not Given Officers.

MAYOR WAS TOO SLOW

Should Have Availed Himself of Military Aid When the Trouble Started.

OTTAWA, April 3.—Premier Borden in the House of Commons this afternoon read the promised official reports on the Quebec situation. They were from militia headquarters and from Col. Machin, director of military service. They reviewed the incidents exhaustively, much as they had been recited by the premier yesterday.

These reports, however, served to bolster the prime minister's allusion to laxity on the part of the Quebec municipal authorities.

The report from militia headquarters, after referring to the commencement of the trouble and the wrecking of No. 3 police station, whence the federal officers were dragged and roughly handled, said:

The Mayor's Attitude.

"The mayor thought he could deal with the situation and that military assistance was not required. The mayor was assured that military assistance, in case of urgency, was aviliable, but stated that he expected to be able to cope alone with any outbreak. Reports were received from other sources throughout the afternoon and evening that the situation threatened to become more serious, and the general officer commanding was ordered by telegram to work in co-operation with the civil power; in the case of urgent necessity to act on his own initiative. About 10 o'clock General Landry reported by telephone that the office of the Quebec Chronicle had been attacked, and that a large mob was destroying the registrar's office. The mayor had requested him to call out troops, but as the requisition was not in order, he (the mayor) had left to obtain further signatures. As reports were of an alarming character, General Landry asked for instructions. He was directed to use his own discretion and to take such actions he considered necessary to restore and preserve order. Accordingly the troops were ordered out.

Headquarters for Agitators.

The report of Col. Machin's report went over the same ground, referring to the bowling alley in St. Roch as the alleged "headquarters for the agitators," and in recounting the initial riot which started there and the flight of the federal officers to the police station, says:

"The municipal police at this station tried to keep the crowd out, but lost control, mob rule resulting.

"Captain Desrochers states that he requested the chief of police to call out all available municipal police to the aid of the Dominion police, who had sought refuge in No. 3 police station, but this was not done, twelve police only being placed on duty and this number was not increased, although Capt. Desrochers pointed out how inadequate this force was.

Civic Police Quiescent.

"Capt. Desrochers telegraphed the full facts here, and by 3 o'clock on Friday, the 29th ultimo, it was known there that an attack was contemplated on the registrar's office at Quebec that night. On my arrival in Quebec on Saturday, the 30th ultimo, I found that the rumor had been carried into effect, with the result that two newspaper offices had been wrecked and the registrar's office had been set on fire. The contemplated action of the mob had been repeatedly communicated on Friday by Capt. Desrochers to the mayor and the G.O.C. Capt. Desrochers informs me that no adequate protection was afforded by the municipal authorities to save the registrar's office, and that a small force of city police who had been placed in front of the registrar's office were not only inadequate for its protection, but were quiescent when the mob started to attack the place.

The Chief Over-Sanguine.

"On Friday, the 29th ultimo, Capt. Desrochers, although injured, remained all day at the central police station in company with the chief of the city police, to whom he repeatedly urged that all available municipal police be placed on duty, giving information as to the rumors which had reached him concerning the proposed attack on the registrar's office. It is stated that a force of from sixty to seventy men might have been sufficient to have prevented at the outset the ransacking and burning of the registrar's office. The chief of the city police received reports from patrolmen, with the result that he persisted in his opinion that no trouble was to be anticipated and that Capt. Desrochers was unduly alarmed.

"At 8 p.m. on Friday, the 29th ultimo, the chief of police being absent and supposed to be with the mayor, a message was received at the central police station to the effect that a crowd was marching up from St. Roch to the auditorium. This message was repeated over the telephone to the mayor, Capt. Desrochers being present when the telephone message was sent. The mob marched uptown and back to St. Roch.

Twelve Policemen Sent.

"Following this move, twelve police, all that had been provided by the city police, were sent to the auditorium. The crowd returned uptown from St. Roche in very increased numbers, and proceeded to smash the two newspaper offices, which were practically demolished. The crowd then proceeded to the registrar's office at the auditorium—this would be about 9 p.m. Capt. Desrochers telephoned the G.O.C., and informed him of the situation, when he was asked where the mayor was. Apparently the G.O.C. contemplated that the mayor would be at the scene of the disorder. Capt. Desrochers then went from the city hall to the postoffice and to military headquarters, and was there informed that the auditorium had been attacked, the windows, etc., being smashed, though the rioters had not penetrated the building.

Get Mayor On Phone.

"After a short interview the G. O. C. succeeded in communicating by telephone with the mayor, who immediately proceeded to headquarters, where he was handed a prepared copy of the riot act and requested to proceed to the scene of riot and read it. The mayor left in company with the chief of police for the scene of the rioting. It appears the mayor and chief of police, in their trip to military headquarters, had passed the auditorium, as Captain Desrochers was informed by the chief of police that the crowd were then in the building and throwing the records into the street. Captain Desrochers is of the opinion that both the occurrences would have been avoided if the civic authorities had taken notice of his repeated warnings and if necessary protection had been given by the civic police as requested by him.

Registry Office Fire.

"The facts as to what transpired between the military authorities and the mayor must be obtained from the former, as I have no knowledge of it other than hearsay. After the registrar's office had been set on fire the fire brigade were called out, but owing to the action of the mob in preventing the firemen from performing their duties, great damage was done to the building and records before the fire was brought under control.

"After careful investigation I find that the great portion of the most important records was saved, as they had been locked away in a back filing room and were, apparently, overlooked by the mob, smoke and water being the cause of damage to these documents, which, with the exception of possibly 1,000 names, will be saved, and from which new records can be made up. All the office furniture, the chief public representatives' files and documents and stationary supplies, in fact everything except the small filing room already spoken of, have been totally destroyed. Steps are now being taken to re-establish the registrar's office at Quebec, and we contemplate having this office in full working order at an early date.

Dominion Police Called Off.

"As the lives and personal property of the Dominion police had been threatened I instructed Captain Desrochers to have his men scattered and for the present to make no arrests. The work of the Dominion police in Quebec, therefore, for the moment is suspended. Captain Desrochers informs me that there have been, since the commencement of activities by the Dominion police, threats made against individual members of the force, and what work they have been able to accomplish has been done in the face of a hostile attitude from practically every source."

MILITIA AND GOVT. DEPT. DIFFER OVER DETENTION OF MEN

Civil Officials Say the Men Should Be Discharged, But Lessard Disagrees.

Quebec, April 3.—A difference of opinion developed today between the military authorities and the attorney-general's department about the detention of men taken into custody on Monday night. The civil authorities hold that as the men have been discharged by Judge Langelier, they must be treated, as far as the military service is concerned, like ordinary citizens, and be allowed to appeal their cases. Gen. Lessard was willing only to release such men who could not be enrolled at once. Tonight the men were still at the citadel. The military authorities were avised from Ottawa that an order-in-council would be passed which would legalize the holding of draftees under such conditions.

TORONTO, April 3.—At the Ontario Educational Association meeting today Professor J. Dearness of London Normal School, in discussing the cooperation of the Normal School masters and inspectors, advocated the division of the province into districts associated with each of the Normal schools, and that the inspectors in these respective districts hold conferences at the Normal schools with the teachers. The proposal was unanimously approved by resolution to be sent to the minister of education.

COL. MACKLEM AGAIN ALLOWED IN DETROIT

DETROIT, April 2. — After five months' enforced stay in Canada, due to the activities of Detroit immigration authorities, the ban against "Colonel" Omar L. Macklem was lifted today upon orders from Washington, and the Canadian soldier was permitted to enter Detroit.

Macklem says his business in this country is entirely connected with his patented rifle grenade, the rights of which he intends to turn over to the United States Government eventually.

It is understood by the local immigration people that the "colonel" is not to reside on this side of the line permanently, but can visit only "occasionally."

MARKED DECREASE IN MARINE LOSSES DURING PAST WEEK

Only Six British Vessels of 1,600 Tons Sunk.

LONDON, April 3.—There was a sudden and marked decrease in losses to British shipping through mine or submarine in the last week.

The admiralty reports that only six British merchantmen of 1,600 tons or over and seven under that tonnage were sunk in the week ending March 30.

Five fishing vessels also were sent to the bottom. The admiralty statement continues:

"Fifteen British merchant vessels were unsuccessfully attacked by submarines.

"The larger vessels reported sunk include one sunk during the week ending March 16, and the smaller vessels reported sunk include one during the week ending March 23.

"The arrivals during the week ending March 30 were 2,416, and the sailings, 2,379.

The losses to British merchantmen through submarines and mines in the last week are less than one-half of the losses in the previous week, when 28 merchantmen were sunk, sixteen of the vessels over 1,600 tons.

The admiralty report for the preceding week showed the loss of seventeen vessels, while for several weeks prior to that the weekly loss was eighteen.

SUBMARINES ACTIVE AGAINST ITALY'S SHIPS.

ROME, April 3.—In the week ending March 30, Teutonic submarines sank three Italian steamships of more than 1,500 tons, and destroyed one sailing vessel of more than 100 tons, and nine sailing vessels of a tonnage under that figure.

NO FRENCH STEAMERS TAKEN BY U-BOATS.

PARIS, April 3.—German submarines did not sink any French steamships last week nor were any attacked unsuccessfully. Eight fishing vessels, however, were sunk by the enemy.

London Officers Probe Shooting of Kitchener Soldier

Report To Be Made to Headquarters of Board's Finding.

KITCHENER, April 3. — Major C. O. Fairbank, Lieut. Olle and Lieut. White of London this afternoon conducted an investigation into the recent shooting at the home of John Kahn, near Waterloo, in which Pte. Philip Novak was seriously injured. The military court of inquiry was held in Kitchener Hospital, where Novak is still confined. The principal witnesses were Major Baron Osborne of London, John Kahn and Police Officer J. Blevin. Pte. Novak has been placed under a military guard, and as soon as he is strong enough will be taken to London to undergo an operation for the removal of the bullet. The shooting was thoroughly investigated and the details will be submitted to headquarters at London, and an announcemnt is expected shortly.

NOTORIOUS FORGERS ARE SENT TO PENITENTIARY

Work Impostor Came Under Military Guise.

WINNIPEG, April 3.—Geo. Penor and Albert Johnson were each sentenced to three years in the penitentiary in the city police court this morning for forgery and uttering. They posed in towns throughout Canada as members of the Canadian special war department and Johnson had issued checks as paymaster, which Penor, posing as a member of the unit, cashed. Both men have a long record of crime in America.

DECLARES NEW MUSIC IS FAR FROM BEING MERE "PASSING FAD"

Speaker at Music Club Recital Calls It Evolution.

"Whatever you do, don't get into the way of regarding new music as a passing fad" was the warning sounded to a much-interested audience at the fortnightly recital of the Woman's Music Club yesterday by F. L. Willgoose, Mus. Bac., in the course of an illuminating lecture on "The Modern Trend in Music."

The so-called "new" or "modern" and "ultra-modern" music, the speaker declared to be a development, an evolution in musical art. "And there will continue to be evolution and development so long as musical art lives," he said, quoting H. G. Wells to the effect that "Art must be fluid if it is to live."

One point emphasized was that too much stress must not be laid on the connection of the present trend in music with the past. Recent developments have been rapid and numerous. Barriers have broken down in all directions.

In conclusion, Mr. Willgoose explained that the new "twelve-note scale," which is used (1) to widen harmonic possibilities; (2) occasionally for the purpose of contrast; (3) as the sole means of expression. During the course of his lecture, Mr. Willgoose illustrated on the piano by excerpts from compositions ranging from the works of the early composers to the ultra modernists.

Mrs. McHardy-Smith arranged the interesting "Modern Music" program for the day, which included a couple of numbers by Miss Anna Cochrill, soprano; a group of soli by J. Parnell Morris, tenor, and a piano number by Miss Madeline Simson, in addition to the paper by Mr. Willgoose.

The beauty of Miss Cochrill's brilliant, yet appealing soprano voice was fully revealed in "A Morning Hymn" (Henschel) and "Were My Soul With Wings Provided" (Hahn). Mr. Morris contributed three charming songs, "Comes the Spring" (Debussy); a haunting "Song of India" (Sadko), by Rimsky-Korsakoff, and a dramatic aria from "Joan of Arc" (Bemberg).

Miss Simson played with authority, style and finish a rhapsodie in F sharp minor by Dohnany. Mrs. (Dr.) J. C. Rutledge accompanied Mr. Morris, while Mr. Morris was accompanist for Miss Cochrill.

Mrs. Dochstader, the president, had two treats to announce. For Tuesday evening next, April 10, Mrs. Randall Brown is giving a musicale in her home on behalf of the Music Club's fund for the Byron Sanatorium for Tuberculous Soldiers. The artists of the occasion will be Miss Dorinda Abbott, contralto; George C. Carrie, tenor; Mr. Warner, baritone, and Miss Marr of Ridgetown, a brilliant pianist. For the closing recital of the club, two weeks hence, Mrs. E. B. Smith is bringing, at her own expense, a "child wonder" pianist from Peterboro, who has been creating a sensation in New York.

It has been decided to hold the recital in the evening instead of the afternoon and to allow each member to bring a friend on a visitor's ticket.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

MAPLE SYRUP PRICE DROPS; ONIONS TOO

Lower Quotations Recorded on Local Market Today.

A large quantity of maple syrup was offered on the market this morning, but the demand was poor and the price was lower. The best quality sold for $2.25 a gallon, and other grades for $2.

Twelve loads of hay reached the market Wednesday, and a number of loads this morning, selling from $11 to $13.50 a ton. The demand for hay is much better than for some time.

Straw is slow and the price remains the same.

Onions dropped to $1 a bushel, and the price is expected to go still lower.

A shipment of live hogs was made, $20 a cwt. being paid. Dressed hogs remain at $25.50 a cwt.

Butter is firm, creamery butter retailing for 55c a pound and dairy, pound rolls, 50c to 52c a pound, retail.

Small vegetables are plentiful and in good demand. The demand for home-grown potatoes is poor.

There is no change in the price of butchers' meats.

GRAIN.

Chicago, April 4.—Opening: Corn—May, $1 25⅝.
Oats—May, 85⅝.

Chicago, April 4.—Oats developed fresh strength today, largely owing to notice of the fact that the visible supply was materially less than at the corresponding time last year. Besides, seaboard demand was again in evidence, and there was a continuance of low temperatures. Opening quotations, which ranged from ¼c to ⅜c higher, with May at 85½@85⅝c, were followed by a slight reaction, and then by a stronger advance.

Corn reflected the action of oats and the increasing demand for corn flour. Trade was of a slight, scattered sort. After opening ⅛c down to ¼c up, with May at $1 25⅞@1 26, the market scored a little further gain.

Winnipeg, April 4.—The oats market opened ⅛c to ¼c higher for May delivery at 93⅜@93½c; July opened ⅛c higher at 90⅜c.

Flax opened unchanged at $3 89¾ for May.

WALL STREET.

New York, April 4—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—Stocks gave promise of throwing off their recent lethargy at the outset of today's trading. There was a decided increase of activity in all branches of the list at higher levels. Shippings were foremost, Atlantic and Gulf gaining 2½ points, but equipments, tobaccos, oils and an array of specialties advanced from material fractions to a point. United States Steel, Union Pacific and coal shares were appreciably higher. Liberty bonds eased slightly.

Noon.—The early activity, which gained some momentum from rumors on the exchange of a revolt in the armies of the central powers, halted after the first half hour, speculative issues meanwhile extending their first gains. Steels failed to keep pace with the general advance, however, and rails, except coalers, were extremely dull. Toward noon buying was resumed on a moderate scale, marines, oils and American Car leading the movemen.

1:30 p.m.—Local utilities were fairly active in the early afternoon. Gains of 1½ to 3 points were scored by Consolidated Gas, Interboro preferred and the 4 per cent bonds, and Third Avenue stock and adjustment bonds. Elsewhere conditions were unchanged.

LONDON STOCK EXCHANGE.

London, April 4.—The strength and activity of the war loan, which led the rise in gilt-edged securities today, indicated the confidence prevailing among the public and in the stock market generally. The other sections were quiet but cheerful. The chief interest was centred in Cornish tin mines, in which there was a large turnover at rising prices. Argentine rails were firm, but Rusian issues were easy.

BUTCHERS WANT TO SELL GROCERIES IN THE MARKET HOUSE

Urge Labor Council To Support Them.

At the trades and labor council meeting held Wednesday evening, Charles V. Anderson and J. M. McEvoy asked the council to go on record as opposed to the city council passing a bylaw to prohibit the butchers in the market-house from selling groceries. Both speakers emphasized the fact that the retail grocers were agitating the passing of the bylaw. The butchers could not live and meet expenses on the profits from meat alone under existing conditions. The city draws over $3,600 per year in rentals from the market-house, and the speakers thought it unfair for the council to prohibit the sale of groceries by the tenants.

Mrs. J. F. Thompson, lady divisional superintendent of No. 4 Nursing Division St. John Ambulance Brigade, addressed the meeting on behalf of the society. The usual grant of $10 was made.

Delegate Pevler presented a report of the convention which was held in Toronto on Good Friday for the purpose of forming a political labor party. The local trades and labor council is not favorable to the formation of the party along the lines as proposed and no action was taken on the report.

A communication from the American Federation of Labor, urging the formation of a local union label league, was passed on to the organization committee for consideration.

The Winnipeg Trades and Labor Council sent a letter setting forth the claims of the conscientious objector, who did not belong to a recognized religious body. The letter urged that some action be taken. The communication was filed.

The grievance committee will take up the matter of the Toronto metal polishers who have been out on strike for some months. The metal polishers of the United States asked the local labor men to take some action.

The election committee will meet the Independent Labor party at the trades and labor committee rooms on Monday night. Questions of importance to organized labor will be discussed.

The question of the city council, prohibiting the sale of groceries in the market house, was discussed after the meeting was closed to the press. A deputation from the city police was also received at this time.

SAVE $1,500,000 YEARLY BY USE OF SIMPLER SPELLING

London Educator Sees a Big Saving in Reform Move.

Speaking before the Ontario Educational Association convention in Toronto on Wednesday, Professor John Dearness of the London Normal School was on one of his favorite subjects, spelling reform. The topic of his address was "The Progress of Spelling Reform." In part, Mr. Dearness said:

"In the United States two of the state universities have recently adopted a measure of simplification in their official publications, bringing the total number of universities, colleges and normal schools that sanction the use of simplified spelling by their students up to 461. These are attended by over a quarter of a million students. There are 556 United States newspapers and periodicals using at least the first list of simplifications, and claiming an aggregate circulation of over eighteen million copies. The S. S. B. has nearly ready a hand-book or desk dictionary incorporating with the conventional spellings, all the simplifications that have been approved.

"In Canada, Nova Scotia maintains the leadership. This year an appendix was added to the spelling-book used in that province, giving a list of approved simplified spellings. The common-sense rule of using or favoring the simpler of any two authorized spellings is sanctioned.

"In our own province no official action to my knowledge has been taken to ameliorate the spelling-grind. Many of the teachers seem to suppose that they are required to compel the children to memorize the longer of the dictionary alternatives, especially in the "or" class of words. The question is often asked: What fraction of the school time is devoted to studying an examining spelling? The lowest estimate that I have seen made places it at one-eighth. Now the total cost of public education in Ontario below the high school is more than thirteen and a third million dollars. The monetary waste is not the chief one, but it is worth considering, for if our language were as scientifically spelled as the German is now it would a saving of over $1,500,000 annually for Ontario alone."

ORGANIZING TRADES

Building Workers' Meeting on Friday for This Purpose.

A public meeting is being held on Friday evening in the Carling Block for the purpose of strengthening the organizations in connection with the building trades.

Organized labor has advanced 100 per cent during the last year, it is stated, and an effort is being made to further strengthen the trades organizations. Prominent representatives from the various building trades will be present to deliver addresses.

Important questions relating to the building trades in particular will be discussed. A good attendance of interested mechanics is expected. Similar meetings are being held all over the Dominion.

LONDON TEACHERS GIVEN IMPORTANT OFFICES IN O. E. A.

Collegiate Principal and Public School Teacher Branch Presidents.

London teachers were honored by the different branches of the Ontario Educational Association in session at Toronto. Principal George F. Rogers of the London Collegiate was elected president of the principals' section, while Miss Johnson of the public school staff was elected head of the newly-organized confederation of organized women teachers' associations of Ontario.

The other officers of the principals' section were: Secretary-treasurer, G. H. Reed, M. A., B. Phaed (North Toronto High School), and councillors, Arthur M. Overholt, M. A. (Sarnia), W. B. Wyndham, B. A. (Oakville), and George S. Johnson, B. A. (Whitby).

For the purpose of promoting the professional and financial status of women teachers, the women members of the convention formed a confederation of organized women's teachers' associations of Ontario. Miss Johnson of London was appointed president, and Miss Atkins of St. Thomas, secretary.

NO SESSION HERE

Transport "Probe" Will Not Be Held in District.

No sessions of the court of inquiry appointed by the militia department to investigate conditions prevailing aboard transport ships on which invalided soldiers were brought to Canada will be held here. No soldiers resident here have expressed a desire to give evidence, according to the district military authorities. The court is sitting at Toronto at present.

PATRICIA

Egypt in all its barbaric splendor and pageantry, and Rome in its ancient glory and grandeur lives again in the stupendous production of "Cleopatra," the Siren of the Nile, which will be seen at the Patricia Theatre for three days, beginning Monday matinee. There will be daily matinees and evening performances.

The vampire queen of Egypt is portrayed by Miss Theda Bara, undoubtedly the greatest living exponent of such roles, and William Fox has spared no expense to make "Cleopatra" the most lavish production ever attempted. It is historically and architecturally correct in every detail. Even the fifty costumes which Miss Bara wears, although noticeably scant, are in accordance with the early days, when women dressed for comfort. Miss Bara wears jewels and ornaments valued at more than $150,000.

The picture is a spectacular drama, but always there is the central figure of Egypt's siren, artistically and vividly introduced. The Egypt of Cleopatra's time, orientally luxurious and riotously extravagant with its costumes, its decorations and its manner of doing things is pictured with remarkable fidelity.

The sphinx, the pyramids and the desert, together with the great naval battle of Actium, are among the greatest scenes ever shown upon a screen.

At the Patricia next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

In "Cleopatra," her latest and greatest success, showing at the Patricia Theatre, twice daily, 2:30 and 8:30 o'clock, next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Featured in "The Painted Madonna," a photoplay that unfolds the story of a woman's redemption. Showing at the Patricia Theatre today, Friday and Saturday. Also Little Mary McAllister in "A Place in the Sun," James Montgomery Flagg's "Girls You Know," and the Carson trio in a vaudeville, singing and musical act.

MAJESTIC

"Her Silent Sacrifice," in which Alice Brady makes her debut as a star, tells the story of a simple little country maid who falls in love with a struggling artist. In order to gain for him the advantages of the Parisian art centre, she consents to sacrifice herself to a notorious old roue. The picture is full of tense moments, and Miss Brady carries her art to great emotional heights. At the Majestic Theatre today. In addition to this picture is shown "The Pendleton Round-up," a feature production based upon western life. It contains pep and acton galore. A comedy and a news weekly are also presented.

Anita Stewart in "The Suspect."

Anita Stewart in "The Suspect" is the screen attraction at the Majestic Friday and Saturday.

"The Suspect" was produced under the capable direction of S. Rankin Drew, who is one, if not the youngest director in the motion picture profession.

Mr. Drew is especially noted for the realism in the "fight scenes" in his pictures, and more than justifies his reputation in "The Suspect." There are a number of instances where the picture would have fallen flat had the fight scenes been unreal.

There is not one of these scenes in the picture which does not show real vim and strength on the part of the actors. Mr. Drew plays in these scenes himself and his attitude would frighten the others into a real fight if they started off in a haphazard manner. In one scene where Mr. Drew and Mr. Cooper come to blows over some argument Mr. Drew's wrist was wrenched by Cooper, who twisted it entirely around when he discovered that Drew was getting him near the floor.

SEEKS LAND TO HELP INCREASE PRODUCTION

Rotary Club of London Advertising for 200 to 500 Acres.

On another page of this issue will be seen an advertisement by the Rotary Club of London, in which the club aims to obtain from 200 to 500 acres of land not now in use.

The purpose of the club in getting land not in use is to make such land produce, the idea not being profit, but increased production.

It is hoped that this patriotic move on the part of the Rotary Club will receive the support of businessmen and others able to assist.

If such a move is undertaken in other cities it would be difficult to estimate the increase in production which would thus be brought about.

CITY TAX RATE ONE MILL LESS THAN LAST YEAR

Expenditure Was Brought Down by General Paring in All Departments.

FEW SALARY INCREASES

R. C. Turner Is Appointed as Tax Collector for the City.

The tax rate this year will be 32½ mills net, or 33 gross, a mill less than last year, when the rate was 34 gross, 33 net.

This was decided on at a lengthy meeting of the city council held yesterday afternoon and evening. No great reductions were made in any departments. The expenditure was brought down by a general paring, a thousand or so here and there.

The special rates, that is street cleaning, oiling and garbage collection which will not be collected this year bring the rate down about two mills, however. The estimated cost of this work for 1918 taxes would have been $80,523, or about two mills.

The session was a busy one. It was marked by a few clashes. The chief one was over the retention of Supt. Hunter of the paving plant. On a vote it was decided to dispense with his services. The vote was seven to five. However, the council must deal with this recommendation in regular session and more may be heard of it.

Few Salary Increases.

There were a few boosts in salary granted. The biggest was $200 and the appointment to the position of tax collector of R. C. Turner. He now receives $1,450 as assistant collector. His salary is increased to $1,600, and he is given a $50 bonus, having handled the tax collecting job for two years without additional salary.

Ald. Keene led the attack on Superintendent Hunter. He said that the estimates provided only $3,000 for paving, and he wanted to know if they were going to keep an $1,800-a-year man to spend it.

Controller Saunders rose to the defence. Mr. Hunter was a good man, and would be hard to replace, said the controller, who said the superintendent had been brought here, and he thought it unfair to dismiss him. He accused Ald. Keene of trying to get a job for someone else. This charge was resented. Ald. Wilson supported Ald. Keene. He said there were three men as good as Mr. Hunter in the city. Controller Saunders had $200 to back up his contention that they were far from being his equal in knowledge. A vote favored dismissal.

Other Increases.

On the salary question there were several little differences, but the result showed: Assessment Commissioner Grant, $100 increase; J. W. McCallum, $100; two assistant assessors jumped from $75 to $85 a month for five months; two assessors' clerks, $15 to $18 a week for 20 weeks; a few of the clerks and stenographers were also boosted slightly.

City Engineer Brazier's staff received another blow. His assistant, "Bud" McNab, is enlisting with the Engineers, and was granted leave.

Victoria Hospital estimates were pared $6,600. This is to be made up by increasing the fees to bring the revenue up $3,000, and by closer city scrutiny of patients sent there by doctors. It is figured that $3,000 can be easily saved here.

Police Get Day Off.

The police get their day off a week, with pay. This added $5,000 to the estimates, as it means new officers and new clothes for them.

The technical school estimates took a considerable time. The council wanted considerable details from W. M. Manning and Thomas Rowe, who appeared on behalf of the advisory committee of the board of education. Members of the council also decided that they would like to have the school board get $1,000 this year from the commission in charge of soldiers' vocational training. They estimated that, as the board will turn a good portion of the new technical school over to this work, and as the committee which went to Toronto said that Professor Taultain expressed a willingness to pay for what the department used, the income for the last four months of the year, the period the school is expected to be opened, should be $1,000.

Some of the aldermen could not see why they should provide money for furnishing and equipping the school, when the Ontario Government was giving $18,000 for this. Controller Merryfield remarked that Dr. Merchant said that $15,000 would do this. Trustee Manning pointed out that the equipment they would purchase was really a part of the school, such as blackboards, etc. There were also extras. Controller Saunders said that if the money was wanted to complete the school, they should say so and not ask for it for furnishings. The fact that it was estimated that four janitors would be employed caring for the school also called for some comment.

Would Lose $20,000.

During the session a motion was made to cut the Western University grant of $15,000 to $10,000. Mayor Somerville pointed out that this would mean a loss of a $20,000 grant from the Ontario Government, which gives $4 to every one the city does. The grant stands.

It is roughly estimated that the city will spend $2,688,000 this year. The estimates as presented to the council and as passed after the final paring are as follows:

	First.	Final
Fire halls	$68,485	$65,200
Comfort station	2,087	2,262
Market	1,197	1,447
Street lights	32,542	30,000
Publicity	3,400	3,400
Receptions	2,000	2,000
Technical school	34,507	31,809
Industrial school	2,000	2,000
Victoria Hospital	98,534	92,534
Library	18,901	18,901
Parks	17,100	17,100
Police	62,278	67,278
Collegiate	54,828	54,828
Public schools	317,129	312,129
Relief grants, etc.		31,619

The special rates which were dropped this year were made up of road work, such as sweeping and oiling the streets, $32,782, and garbage collection and disposal, $47,740.

Change In Discount.

There is also a change to be made in the discount system this year.

Last year on paying the whole of the taxes at one time a taxpayer got one-third of a mill off. This year it will be on a sliding scale.

The taxes will fall due in three instalments, July, September and November. If the second is paid with the first two per cent will be allowed. On the third four per cent, or if all is paid at once, 6 will be a straight three per cent. On the other hand if the instalments are not paid when due 5 per cent will be added.

This will reduce the discount, and at the same time make it more worth while to pay the taxes promptly.

DOUBTS IF EITHER SHIELDS OR SPENCE KNOWS IT ALL

London Pastor Questions Ministerial Controversy.

"Summed up in a few words, I question very much if a man who has been in England for just a few weeks, even six weeks, is in a position to be a final authority on either the labor question or the prohibition question," was the comment made by Rev. H. H. Bingham of Talbot Street Baptist Church, concerning the report of Rev. Dr. T. T. Shields' verbal attack on Rev. Ben Spence for the latter's attitude on the British liquor question, in the course of a lecture in Brantford on Tuesday.

"Personally, I have neither heard Mr. Spence state his position or have I read such statements from him, so I am naturally not in a position to say anything in regard to his views. I do not think it possible, however, that either Mr. Spence or Dr. Shields is entirely in command of all the facts of the situation in England after spending some weeks there. Dr. Shields, I believe, was there about six weeks in all last summer, preaching in the camps. His statements concerning the small proportion of drunkenness in the camps there are gratifying.

"I think it is remarkable the way our men, so many thousands of miles from home, have pulled through and resisted the temptations by which they have been surrounded. I have heard this, not only from Dr. Shields, but from numbers of others who have been over there. Mr. Banks, censor of theatres for Toronto, who addressed the ministerial alliance ten days ago, stated that it is wonderful how low a percentage of the returned men are diseased through vice. As a member of the Soldiers' Aid Commission of the Dominion, all the papers of all the returned men pass through his hands, and he is in a position to know.

"Mr. Spence has evidently been seeing things in England from one point of view and Dr. Shields from another one."

WEDDING BELLS

PEARSON-CARROLL.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. Henry Carroll, 90 Dillabough avenue, this city, on Wednesday, at high noon, when her eldest daughter, Margaret Irene, was married to Earl J. Pearson, only son of Alonzo Pearson, of North Dorchester. The bride, who was given away by her uncle, Mr. Wm. Thompson of London, was beautifully gowned in white silk crepe de chine, with floss ornaments, and carried a bouquet of white carnations. Miss Mabel E. Carroll, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and wore white silk crepe de chine, with a bouquet of pink carnations. Mr. B. E. Carter of Glanworth was best man.

The ceremony was performed in the drawing-room under a canopy of flags by Rev. Dr. D. L. McCrae. Guests to the number of 50 were present from the city, Westminster, Peterboro, Harrietsville, Thorndale and other places. The groom's gift to the bride was a Limoges tea set, to the bridesmaid a gold brooch, and to the groomsman a tiepin. The presents were numerous and beautiful, and testified to the high esteem in which the bride and groom are held.

After the wedding breakfast the young couple left by G. T. R. on a short trip to Windsor and other western points; the bride's going-away dress being a navy blue suit, with black picture hat. On their return they will take up their residence on the groom's farm on the town line, Dorchester.
