

GOVT. NOW IN COMMUNICATION WITH G. T. R. AND STRIKERS

Minister of Labor Mackenzie, May Bring About a Temporary Compromise Until Basis For Permanent Settlement Can Be Reached.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Ottawa, July 20.—The minister of labor, Hon. Mackenzie King, is in communication with the representatives of the Grand Trunk and the striking employees with a view to finding some basis for reaching a speedy settlement of the strike that will be satisfactory to both parties. Mr. King is keeping in close touch with the situation from the standpoint both of the men and of the company, and will use every opportunity that offers to secure at least a temporary compromise between the two parties to the dispute, thus preventing a continuance of the present disastrous disturbance of industrial and commercial conditions.

STOLEN HORSE LEFT IN FIELD OF LOBO TOWNSHIP FARMER

No Track of the Thief, But The Advertiser Located the Property of Dr. Routledge, of Lambeth—Animal Had Been Ridden Westward and Abandoned.

Mr. A. E. McKay, of lot 4, concession 9, township of Lobo, near Poplar Hill, this afternoon notified The Advertiser by telephone that a valuable black horse, with a star in his face, had been left in Mr. McKay's field on the morning of July 19. "An old saddle and bridle were found lying along a fence close by. No one claimed the horse, and Mr. McKay determined to advertise it. To The Advertiser Mr. McKay said the animal corresponded to the description of the horse stolen from a G. T. R. siding in London on Monday night, and which is the property of Dr. Routledge, ex-M. P., the well-known physician and horseman, of Lambeth. The Advertiser at once notified Detective Harry Down, of the local police force, who got into communication with the parties concerned. The police are now trying to locate the man who stole the horse. No stranger has been seen around Lobo, and it is thought the culprit, fearing arrest, left the animal in the field and jumped a train for the United States. Mr. McKay says the horse had been well treated, showing that someone who knew his worth, and who was a horseman, had stolen him. Hot on Trail. The police are hot on the trail of a man who is believed to be the party who perpetrated the theft. He is described as a man of about 35 years of age, 5 feet 10 or 11 inches in height, weight about 160 pounds, and wore a blue striped suit, a blue shirt, stiff hat. He has a dark brown moustache. Hoof prints in the cinders at the side of the tracks seem to indicate that the horse was taken from the far in a siding between Waterloo and Colborne streets. The animal is a black gelding, six years old, 16 hands high. It has an unusually fine head, and on its forehead is a white half moon with a streak below.

EMPLOYEES EXPECT BITTER FIGHT

Grand Trunk Strikers Are Realizing That Battle Will Be a Prolonged One.

MEN APPLY FOR WORK

About Thirty-seven Had Interviews With the Officials This Morning—Roundhouse Staff Laid Off.

While both sides continue to express the greatest confidence, a feeling is growing among the men, that the battle will be a difficult and prolonged one.

This morning 37 men, about 15 of whom are said to have had experience on the G. T. R., applied for positions as brakemen, baggage men and conductors, at the local offices. They were immediately ordered to write the rules of the Grand Trunk, and were examined by three examiners brought to this city for the purpose.

All are said to have qualified. Many of them are young men, who were employed for comparatively small salaries at the local car shops, and who were induced to take the positions by the higher wages as trainmen.

Freight Moving on Monday. The company previous to the strike had arranged to resume the freight service in about two weeks' time, but as less trouble in securing men than was anticipated has been met with, the majority of the freight trains will move again, commencing Monday morning. One freight train, which was made up on Monday evening, and which was to have been taken out at about the time the strike commenced, is still standing on the siding, and will be the first out when traffic resumes.

All trainmen and yardmen are being notified today that they must either report for duty by tomorrow at 2 p.m. or hand in their clothes, rule books, switch keys and other property of the company.

As yet there has been no weakening in the ranks of the strikers, but it is thought that if any are wavering this order will bring them out.

Refused to Respond. A couple of men were called since the strike, but refused to turn out. This refusal is taken as a resignation by the company, and the men are now considered out of the service, whether they wish to return or not. Notices to the men, telling them to be here tomorrow or quit, are being distributed in such a manner that no man can say he did not receive it. Office employees are distributing them the same as registered mail, the signature of the recipient being taken in each case. Some of the letters were taken to the headquarters of the strikers, where the distributors hoped to find all concerned. Many of them were not accepted, however.

Staff Laid Off. The local roundhouse staff has been laid off until business increases, as with the great majority of the loco-

A Move Towards Peace.

"I am contemplating some further step towards a settlement," he said this morning, "but just at present I am not in a position to make any definite announcement. The company and the men will both be consulted first."

As stated yesterday the Government is willing to pay all the expenses of arbitration proceedings, and if a basis of arbitration can be agreed upon the board can be very quickly constituted under the old railway and labor disputes act.

Out of Ottawa today all G. T. R. passenger trains ran practically on schedule time, but no freight is moving.

COMPANY EXPECT A LONG CONTEST

Both Sides Satisfied With the First Day's Developments.

NO DISORDER REPORTED

Men Said To Accept Coldly Offer of Arbitration From the Government.

Montreal, July 20.—The end of the first 24 hours of the strike of conductors, trainmen and yardmen on the Grand Trunk system finds both sides professing satisfaction with the outcome.

The company succeeded in keeping its through passenger trains moving. Such delays as have occurred were not unusual and a good many of the locals have made their trips without incident, manned by crews taken from the working forces in other departments. The suburban service out of Montreal has been suspended, but fortunately for the commuters the tracks of the Canadian Pacific parallel the Grand Trunk through most of the suburbs. No attempt was made to move freight out of Montreal.

Will Be Long Contest. Vice-President Fitzhugh of the Grand Trunk said that when the mails and passenger trains are moving without friction the freight business will be taken up. "This is not going to be a strike of a day or two," said Mr. Fitzhugh. "The company went into it knowing what it was facing and is

STRIKE BREAKERS BY THE CARLOAD

Distributed Throughout Grand Trunk's New England Lines.

SOME OF THEM STRIKE

Men Say They Feel Certain of Victory on the Central Vermont.

[Associated Press.] Boston, July 20.—Strike-breakers continued to pour into New England today to take the places of the conductors and trainmen on the Grand Trunk and Central Vermont Railroads, now out on strike for higher wages.

The strike-breakers began to arrive in small numbers yesterday, and late last night they came by the carload. Today they were distributed throughout the territory operated by these roads in New England, preparatory to manning the day trains.

No Violence. Meanwhile the strikers, although offering no violence, and interfering in no way with strike-breakers, are using their best efforts to dissuade them from accepting the proffered positions. In several instances they already have been successful.

On Central Vermont. In St. Albans, Vt., the headquarters of the Central Vermont system, and other points, different tactics are being resorted to, and outside influence is being brought to bear upon the men who have taken the places left vacant by the strikers. Here the strike-breakers are being flooded with telegrams from all parts of the country, urging them to stand by their brothers, and the strikers believe they are winning the day.

Strike-Breakers Strike. Last night a lot of the strike-breakers who had been working hard all day, went on strike themselves. They had been on duty continuously for sixteen hours, and when the time arrived for them to take the last train from Burlington, Vermont, to Essex Junction to connect with the express for Boston, they refused to go out.

The strikers look upon this as an indication of sympathy for their cause, so some extent.

The arrival of the strike-breakers will result, it is believed, in some of the through freights being started out today, although it is thought improbable that the entire schedule of the Central Vermont road has been announced that any of the striking employees may have their old positions back at an increased salary if they make application at once. The Grand Trunk, however, is taking a different stand on this matter, according to the statement of Trainmaster J. J. Connelly, of the Portland and Montreal division, who said authoritatively that none of the strikers would be taken back in their former status. If they come back at all, he said, they must come as new men.

Berry at Toronto. Toronto, July 20.—For the purpose of directing strike operations in Toronto, Mr. C. N. Berry, vice-president of the Order of Railroad Conductors, arrived in the city last night from Montreal. This morning he addressed a largely-attended meeting of the strikers at their headquarters, Occident Hall.

When interviewed Mr. Berry said: "We are satisfied with the situation at present. The men are determined to fight to a finish, that is the feeling all along the line."

MR. D. A. McDERMID.

Who Will Leave London to Take Charge of the Toronto Office of the Ontario Branch of the Dominion Alliance.

MR. D. A. McDERMID APPOINTED TO A POSITION IN TORONTO

Mr. D. A. McDermid, secretary of the London Temperance League, will leave London early in August to enter the office of the Ontario branch of the Dominion Alliance in Toronto.

The announcement will come as a great surprise to Mr. McDermid's many friends in London. For forty years he has been a resident of this city, and he has always been closely identified with active church and moral work.

At the present time he is superintendent of the Sunday school of Dundas Centre Methodist Church, and also secretary-treasurer of the trustees board.

As secretary of the London Temperance League he is best known to Londoners.

In the performance of his duties he has been fair and fearless, and lawbreakers have had reason to fear his vigilant eye.

In Toronto his field will be larger, but his duties will be no more exacting than in London.

With his family Mr. McDermid will leave in August.

G. T. R. MEN WILL BE NOTIFIED RESUME THEIR WORK OR QUIT

Every passenger train on the Grand Trunk out of London left this morning on time. New crews have been obtained in nearly every instance, and it was only necessary to send out two officials, Chief Dispatcher White, who again went east on Express No. 4, to the Bridge, and Freight Agent Harold, who went out on the Bruce train as conductor, all the other trains had crews made up of old hands and new men.

No freight will be moved this week and none will be accepted at any point on this division. That was the authoritative statement given out today. "We will keep our passenger trains going this week," said an official. "And by next week we expect to be in a position to handle a good deal of freight."

Will Take None Back. "Absolutely none of the passenger conductors who have refused to take their trains out will be taken back," he said. "The company are going to win this strike. This afternoon or tomorrow we will send letters to the men, asking them either to return to work inside of 24 hours, or to leave the company. It is up to them. If they come back all well and good. If they don't, they can look for new jobs."

It is thought that an ultimatum of this kind will have considerable effect, particularly on some of the older men.

The Company's Views. "There were a lot of those men who went out who really did not want to go," said one man today. "They will go a long while before they get work that suits them as well and such big pay as they have been drawing. The majority of them could not make anything like as much money at anything else."

This morning the following notices were posted in conspicuous places all about the Grand Trunk station and yards: "Only persons having business with the agent or an officer of this company are permitted on the premises. Others will be prosecuted." The men are not giving the company the slightest cause for uneasiness by reason of any disorder they have been perfectly orderly and have been spending their time mostly either at home, at the lodge rooms on Wellington street, or about the streets.

CHANGES HORSES' COLOR

Shrewd Thief Much in Demand by the New York Police.

New York, July 20.—Efforts are being made by detectives from the Central Office to locate a horse dealer somewhere in the vicinity of West Forty-second street who makes a specialty of making blonde trotters brunettes, and brunettes any color wanted. The dealer, it is said, is working with a band of horse thieves who have stolen several thousand dollars' worth of animals from the upper part of the city. According to the information which has been given the police, the horse expert can change a horse's appearance in a couple of days so that his owner would never recognize him.

Most of the horses stolen during the last few weeks, and which are believed to have landed in the Forty-second street stable, were from Harlem.

A couple of days ago, one of the band stole a horse and buggy belonging to John D. Donnellon, a contractor, of No. 535 West One Hundred and Forty-sixth street. The contractor had gone into a building which he is constructing, and when he came out saw a man driving away with his property. When the horse-thief saw him coming he pulled a revolver, and threatened to shoot him if he made an outcry.

Florence Spinella, a driver for Giovanni Giordano, a grocer, of No. 1727 Amsterdam avenue, had the same experience later, when a man jumped into the delivery wagon that was left outside a house on One Hundred and Forty-sixth street, and drove off. The police have received a dozen or more complaints from the same district, but so far have been unable to recover a single one of the stolen horses or the rigs.

COW VS. CHILD

Which is Worth More in France? Asks an Author.

London, July 20.—The question of France's depopulation continues to inspire the pens of patriotic writers in the French press. "Is a cow or a child worth more in France?" asks Clement Vautel in the Matin, and in furnishing the answer he reveals an aspect of rural life in France which might have been elaborated by a Zola.

Take, he says, a village which he names in Auvergne. Fifteen children have died of diphtheria there within a short space of time. The village is fourteen miles from the nearest town, where a doctor is to be had, so the doctor charges $8 a visit.

The peasants are poor. They only call the doctor in cases of extreme urgency, mostly when it is too late. But suppose a peasant has a cow which he suspects has tuberculosis, what then? He gives notice to the village burgomaster; the latter passes it on to the prefect, and the prefect orders the veterinary surgeon of the nearest town to examine the animal. What does the peasant have to pay? Not a cent. The veterinarian draws his fixed $5 a visit from the state.

What is even better, if the cow has to be destroyed, the farmer gets a compensation, sometimes exceeding the value of the beast. "To save a diseased cow," the writer exclaims, "the official machine works at full speed, but to save a French child not a dollar is sacrificed!"

ROOSEVELT MILKED COW UPSIDE DOWN

Tells How He Tried to Dodge the Condensed On Western Ranch.

Oyster Bay, July 20.—Theodore Roosevelt saw no politicians today, and talked no politics. He talked of cows and conservation, of tree-chopping, the state of affairs in Africa, and the negro in the south, but there was nothing in his conversation to indicate that he knows the difference between an insurgent and a regular.

Col. Roosevelt did say, however, that he had decided definitely to speak before the conservation congress in St. Paul on Sept. 6. He was informed that there had been reports of friction because some of the men on the programme as speakers are regarded as ultra-radical. He gave the impression that these reports had reached his ears, but that the matter had been adjusted, and said that his speech would be delivered as scheduled.

The colonel was hard at it all the afternoon chopping down trees which had been in the Roosevelt family so long that they had grown old and decrepit. Somebody asked the colonel what Gifford Pinchot would say if he had caught him chopping down trees. He replied that he thought the former forester would not scold, because the trees were too old to be useful.

As the colonel finished chopping down the Roosevelt cow said he had caught him chopping down trees. They were propelled by ropes hitched to a couple of farm hands.

"Do you ever milk the cows?" someone asked.
"No, I can't milk cows," was the admission. "The last time I tried was many years ago on a ranch in North Dakota, where we had only condensed milk morning and night. I chased a cow lickety-split for two miles over everything we came to, roped her, threw her, and turned her upside down. But the result was not what I expected. I got precious little milk."

The only visitors at Sagamore Hill today were four negroes from the south. They received a cordial welcome.

For the next week the ex-president hopes to keep away from politics, and have a quiet time of it. He expects to have almost no visitors, and to put in the time preparing some of the speeches for his western trip.

THREE MEDICAL MEN FOR CANADIAN NAVY

Conditions Under Which They Will Be Admitted to the Service.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, Ont., July 19.—The naval service of Canada will require the services of three medical officers by Oct. 1 or thereabouts, and examinations for the positions will be held by the civil service commission within the next two months from a list of candidates to be made up from a list to be prepared by the naval department from applications received. Candidates must not be more than 30 years of age on the date of examination, must be fully qualified medical practitioners, graduates of a medical college, of Canadian birth, and must have had one year's practical experience since leaving college. They will be entered for three years, which may be extended to five years. A medical officer who is discharged at the end of three years will be granted a gratuity of $1,000. After five years the gratuity will be $1,500, but the latter class will have to join the reserve of medical officers, will be required to serve in time of war or emergency, and must bind themselves to remain in the reserve for five years, receiving a retaining fee of $150 a year, with the option of re-binding for another five years at the same gratuity. Such officers when called upon to serve in time of war or emergency will receive pay at the rate of $5 a day, and if injured during such service will receive pensions, or if killed their widows and children will be given allowances. The pay on entry will be $4 a day for the first three years, and thereafter $5 a day. Each officer will be required to provide his own uniform, but will be given an allowance of $150 to cover such expense.

FIGHT KEEN FOR CANADA'S MAIL

Steamship Lines in Hot Competition to Set New Speed Records.

London, July 20.—A keen fight for the Canadian mail contract is evidently to be made by all the steamship companies in the North Atlantic trade. The advent of the Canadian Northern Railway Company's steamships, Royal Edward and Royal George, the first of which has already broken two speed records, has made the other companies take quick action to retain their supremacy, and several orders for new vessels, capable of high speed, have been announced.

Success seems to have come to the new company immediately from the dispatch of the first of its vessels. The Royal Edward holds the blue ribbon for this route by making a run from Bristol (Avonmouth) to Quebec in 5 days 17 1/2 hours. Her previous best voyage was also a record for the southern route.

Her sister vessel, the Royal George, has just inaugurated a fortnightly mail service given to the company by the Federal Government. This puts the Canadian Northern in a strong posi-

We guarantee you
June weather inside
when it's January outside

NO matter how cold and blustery the weather may be outside, you will enjoy the warm, balmy air of June in your home this coming winter if you have the Sunshine furnace in your cellar.

The Sunshine furnace is so perfectly constructed it simply must heat your home to your entire satisfaction. If it fails to do so it is because of some error in installation.

In such a case we will send one of our expert furnace men who will discover the error and have it corrected.

You are absolutely certain of a comfortable home when you buy the Sunshine. It is guaranteed by us to you.

We have a competent agent in your locality. Consult him about size of furnace and arrangement of registers.

tion, and will probably have some bearing when the present mail contract expires.

The Allan Line, holder of the contract, has ordered a twenty-ton vessel, and hopes thereby to retain the whole of the contract. At present, by an understanding between the two companies, it is shared with the Canadian Pacific Railway Company.

The latter company is also expected to enter the lists, as it has long been considering an extension of its fleet. Report also has it that the White Star-Dominion combination has ordered two express boats in this connection, but no confirmation is at present forthcoming.

LONDON, WEDNESDAY, JULY 20.

CANADA'S PEAT RESOURCES.

The annual meeting of the American Peat Society at Ottawa next week will have a very practical interest for this country.

The Dominion Government has been carrying on elaborate experiments in the peat bog at Alfred, Prescott County, and the results will be laid before the society by those in charge of the plant. For this purpose the delegates will visit the bog at Alfred. They will bring the latest information as to the development of the peat industry
in the United States, including an exhibit of the processes of manufacture.

The reports from Alfred are highly encouraging. Peat fuel ready for use has been produced at a price which insures a market and profit. It is estimated that a tract of 28 acres of peat,
averaging nine feet deep, should yield 50,000 tons of fuel. The same deposit would furnish a manufacturing or electric lighting or power plant of 100-horsepower, using steam engines, with fuel for more than forty years of 300
ten-hour days, allowing eight pounds
of fuel per horse-power developed.

There are 11,200 square miles of peat bogs in the United States, but the area in Canada can only be guessed at, though it is known to be very extensive and covers nearly all the provinces.

GOVERNMENT BY CAUCUS.

A startling political innovation is furnished by the Labor party in Australia, which has captured both chambers of parliament.

The selection of a cabinet has been undertaken not by the prime minister
himself, as in Great Britain, Canada,
and other dominions of the Empire, but by the Labor members of Parliament in caucus. The nine men who were selected by ballot were presented to the Governor-General by the Premier,
Mr. Fisher, as his colleagues. There was but one restriction: three of the ministers must be senators, and six must be members of the House of Representatives. All Mr. Fisher had to do was to allot the various portfolios among the chosen nine. Therefore, while responsible to the crown
and to the electorate, for the conduct of his colleagues, the Prime Minister is not personally responsible for their choice.

In the Senate the Labor party has 23
of the 36 members, and in the House of Representatives 44 of the 75 members. Once a week the Labor party meets in camera, and decides on its course. Every bill introduced is threwed out in the caucus, and the course of the Labor members as a body is decided by vote of the caucus. Every Labor member appealed to his constituency last April as a man pledged to the definite platform laid down at the Brisbane conference in 1908, and nothing else binds any one of them. In matters outside of that platform each man is entirely free to use his individual judgment as to vote or speech.

It will be interesting to watch how this experiment of government by caucus will work. It is to be presumed that in case of a disagreement between the Premier and one or more of his followers, or among any of the latter, the merits of the dispute will be left, not to the head of the Government, but to the caucus, to decide, and that it will be the caucus which will say what, if any, changes in the cabinet are necessary. The caucus, if it feels so disposed, may even depose the Prime Minister himself. If, however, the Labor party has first at heart the welfare of the Commonwealth, friction within the party will be avoided, and the Government be enabled to carry out a policy which even its opponents
do not deny has good features.

BIRTHS, MARRIAGES, DEATHS.

Though late in appearing, the provincial vital statistics for 1907, prepared by the deputy registrar-general,
are of considerable interest. The population of Ontario is given as 2,220,430,
but these figures are not as trustworthy as those of the federal census.

The number of births during the year
is placed at 53,584—an increase of 1,874
over the preceding year; marriages numbered 21,915, or 2,067 more than in 1906, and deaths increased 720, the total number being 33,502. The natural population increase—i. e., the excess of births over deaths—was therefore 20,082.

The returns of births in the eighteen cities of the province show on examination a birth rate of 27.9 per thousand, or 28.4 per cent of the total, while in the fifteen towns the rate was 25.3

per thousand, or 55 per cent of the total. Dufferin, among the counties, is credited with the lowest birth rate, 15.8 per thousand; Prescott-Russell
comes next, with 16.0, and Lennox-Addington is third lowest, with 17.0
per thousand. Males born outnumbered females by 1,428, the totals being 27,506 and 26,078 respectively. During the twelvemonth, 1,162 twins and 24
triplets were born in the province.

Windsor, owing to its proximity to Detroit, continues to boast of the highest marriage rate of any city in the province, its record for the year being 36.2 per thousand; but if the marriages of non-residents are excluded the border city's rate is found to be below that of the average for the province. No fewer than 2,446 marriages by banns were recorded during the year. The general supposition has been that this old-time form was declining; instead, the report shows that in 1907 there were 809 more banns
published than ten years before.

The death rate for the year was 15.0
per thousand of the estimated population of the province, or 1.6 per thousand in excess of the average for the decade.

Among the contents of the report is a table showing the number of deaths
from tuberculosis in each year since 1870, the total for that period being 87,654. The ratio per thousand of population, which in 1881 was 1.27,
had ten years later decreased to 1.12,
and in 1901 had further decreased to 1.04. Tuberculosis still accounts for 10 per cent of all deaths, but its ravages are not increasing. The means taken to combat it—public education and the provision of sanatoria—should tell heavily in the next decade.

CATHOLIC AND PROTESTANT BIBLES.

There has been some controversy in these columns as to the Protestant propaganda among French-Canadians,
and the attitude of the Catholic Church toward the Bible. We have no desire to take a hand in it; our correspondents may fight it out among themselves. We venture to say, however, that the average layman, Catholic or Protestant, could not distinguish between a Catholic and a Protestant Bible unless it were labelled. Put a Catholic Bible, with a plain cover, into the hands of a Protestant churchgoer,
and he might use it for years without discovering any variation from the text of the version to which he had become accustomed. Similarly a Protestant Bible, with a cross on the cover,
might be used by a Catholic, fairly well acquainted with his own Bible, without suspecting anything amiss. A citizen, a Protestant, tells us that for years he has used a French Catholic Testament—De Sacy's translation
from the Vulgate—and combines
his devotions with some practice
in French by following his pastor's reading from the English Bible. He says that his French version is almost a literal rendering of the English.
Readers of George Borrow's "The Bible
in Spain" will recollect that the Bible
he sold throughout Spain, as the agent of the English and Foreign Bible Society, a Protestant organization, was a Catholic one, authorized by the Archbishop of Madrid. Borrow, an aggressive Protestant, found opposition in some places; in others he was welcomed by the clergy. Incidentally, it may be said that those who have not read "The Bible in Spain" have missed
a literary masterpiece.

Thomas Hardy has just been decorated with the Order of Merit. Readers of "Tess" conferred it on him long ago.

Three Toronto boys have been heavily fined for stealing newspapers.
There should be some punishment for the grown-ups who persist in borrowing their neighbors' papers.

The Toronto Telegram blames the railway strike on the Lemieux act.
This is a genuine discovery. It hadn't occurred to the company or the men,
who have been blaming each other.

The Canadian tariff is a compromise between the views of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, and the Western Grain Growers' Association.
But any Canadian tariff must be a compromise.

Couldn't the department of education
grant a supplemental examination in arithmetic for the high school entrance? This plan would be just, if,
as reported, the bulk of the failures can be traced to the arithmetic paper.

tinental.

STARVED.

[Catholic Standard and Times.]
Accumulated saw your wife at the dance last night. She certainly did look magnificent. By the way, old man, you're rather thin, aren't you?"

Muttley—Guess I am. You see, we went to housekeeping recently, and I arranged with my wife to give her a certain allowance each week to provide for the table and buy clothes for herself.

SUCCESSFUL.

[Cleveland Leader.]
The Girl—What's your opinion of women who imitate men?
The Man—They're idiots.
The Girl—Then the imitation is successful.

THE BOSS.

[Popular Magazine.]
President McCrea, of the Pennsylvania Railroad, in his study of all classes of men who are under him, entertains a great admiration for the Irish foreman of a gang of laborers, who went to any lengths to show his men that he was the real boss. One morning this foreman

found that his gang had put a hand car
on the track without his orders.
"Who put that hand car-r-r on the track?" he asked.
"We did, sor," one of the men answered respectfully.
"Well," he said, shortly, "take it off
agin'!"
The laborers did so with some difficulty.
"Now," said the foreman, "put it on
agin'!"

KING EDWARD'S HUMOR.

[Detroit Free Press.]
King Edward's good nature was illustrated the other night by a London correspondent at the Press Club in New York.
"The King," said the correspondent,
was visiting Rutland Abbey, and one morning, in company with his host, Lord Arthur Savile, he took a walk over the preserves.
"Suddenly Lord Arthur, a big, burly
man, rushed forward and seized a shabby fellow with a dead pheasant protruding from the breast of his coat."
"Sir," said Lord Arthur to the King,
"this fellow is a bad egg. This is the second time I've caught him poaching."
"But the King's handsome face beamed,
and he laughed his gay and tolerant laugh."
"Oh, let him go," he said. "If he really were a bad egg, you know, he wouldn't poach."

THE OLD BOOKS THE BEST.

[Hamilton Times.]
Last night the board of education also
by resolution, authorized the purchase of a number of the old text books
named in schedule D of the departmental regulations. Without this resolution it would have been necessary to compel all pupils to supply their own books.
As some of the old books are vastly superior to the new ones, a double purpose will be served, the extra expense
will be avoided, and the pupils will have the advantage of the better books.

A DEPLORABLE STATE.

[Toronto Telegram.]
The educational affairs of this Province
are in a deplorable state when thousands of children all over Ontario are firstly tormented, and finally slaughtered, by the inability of examiners to express the meaning of every question in plain English.

HIS ACKNOWLEDGMENT.

[Chicago Record-Herald.]
"Just remember," said his rich wife,
"that I am the goose that lays your golden eggs."
"You're the first goose I ever saw that cackled every time she laid."

GIVING AND GAINING.

[S. E. Kiser.]
We reap in return for our sowing.
And not for mere dreaming of gains;
The winds that are so faithfully blowing
Across the wide, billowy plains
Will bring us no shiploads of treasure,
Unless we have ships to return;
The world gives us measures for measure,
And hope for the hopes that we earn.

THE WORLD GIVES US MEASURES FOR MEASURE.

The world gives us joy for enjoyment.
That we have the grace to impart;
The heart is soon out of employment
That ceases to gladden some heart;
The pleasure and profit of living
Are sweetened by effort and zeal.
The world gives us gain for our giving,
And not for the empty appeal.

BEST INTENTIONS.

[Chicago Record-Herald.]
Mamma—Johnny, what is the baby yelling about?
Johnny—Nothin'. I jest took his milk
and showed him how to drink it.

KIND HEARTED.

[Chicago Record-Herald.]
"Do you think Roosevelt and Taft will get together?"
"I hope not. Taft's a good soul, and I'd hate to see anything happen to him."

COMMENDABLE RESTRAINT.

[Chicago Record-Herald.]
A Jefferson (Ohio) paper refers to "a prominent horse thief" of that vicinity.
The Jeffersonian is anxious to extend the restraint in declining to refer to him as an eminent horse thief.

STICKLERS FOR ETIQUETTE.

[Chicago Record-Herald.]
It should be said to the credit of members of the Gould family that they strictly observe the proprieties by refraining from issuing their wedding invitations before they have secured their divorces.

"A WORD TO THE WISE."

[Miss M. Laughton.]
Little owl in the glen
I'm ashamed of you;
You are ungrammatical
in speaking as you do.
You should say, "To whom; to whom?"
Not "To who, to who?"
Your small friend, Miss Katy-did,
May be green, "be true,"
But you never hear her say,
"Katy do!" She do!"

WHAT KNOWLEDGE SHOULD DO.

[Delineator.]
When "Josh Billings" said, "It's better not to know so many things than to know so many things that ain't so," he crystallized one of the greatest truths of all philosophy. I wish that he could squeeze into another sharp-pointed little burr for the memory the fact that it is less important to know things
than to know how to learn things.
Knowledge ought not to be thought of as building a prison about the mind, but as tearing down the walls and letting the sunlight into dark places. Wisdom is not walls, but wings.

AND CLOSE AT HOME.

"Have you noticed, my friend, how many fools there are on this earth?"
"Yes, and there's always one more than you think."

THE ENGLISH STRIKE

TIES UP BUSINESS

Ten Thousand on the Northeastern
Section Quit Yesterday.
Newcastle, Eng., July 20.—The strike movement against the Northeastern Railroad was strengthened steadily today. Ten thousand men had quit work last night, and every hour since
has brought report of further desertions.
The regular passenger trains were still being operated in afternoon with fair regularity, but the company was obliged to commandeer the services of station masters and clerks in order to man the few local trains that it was able to move.

The situation along the River Tyne grows increasingly serious. Paralysis is extending through the local trade.
Scores of coal ships are tied up, unable to obtain cargoes. Many factories in the vicinity have shut down pending the outcome of the dispute, the gravity of which is generally recognized.

The strike began Monday night, and took the railroad officers by surprise.
It is founded upon a feeling of general dissatisfaction with the conditions of employment.

LARGE DONATIONS

TO FRESH AIR FUND

But it is Still Considerably Short of Sum Required.

The fresh air fund at noon today
was just $4.20 short of the required $100. Some large donations were received yesterday and today, considerably swelling the total to $95.80.
Captain Gregory and Mr. Fred
Screaton left this afternoon for Port Stanley to select the site for the camp and make arrangements.

Books and Games Wanted.

An appeal was made some time ago
for magazines and books with pictures,
game boards and amusements of various kinds for use on rainy days at the camp. As yet the citizens have failed to come forward with these. Things of this kind will be put to excellent
use at the camp. There are many citizens who could easily spare contributions of this kind, and they would confer a great favor by leaving them with Mr. Ruse at the G. T. ticket office.

Selecting the Boys.

The work of selecting the boys to be taken for the ten-days' outing is going on. Fifty boys belonging to poor families will be taken. Already a considerable number have been enrolled. Some of these have never even gone to Springbank, while practically none have had any other outing than down the river. It is to help boys of this class that citizens are asked to make their contributions.

There is over $90 yet to be made up by a week from Saturday, while more could be used to advantage. Leave your contribution at the clock corner.

WHINEY DECIDES

TO REVISE PRIMER

Denunciation by Educational Association Said To Have Caused It.

Toronto, July 20.—It is understood that the department of education is now engaged in the revision of the Public School Primer, adopted a short time ago, and that when the new edition is issued it will bear little resemblance to the original. While there has been so much criticism, the Primer was supposed to be under merely nominal revision, but it is now a considerable portion of the first half has been rewritten, while important alterations have been made in the rest of the book.

When asked yesterday if the report that the Primer was to be radically altered was correct, Premier Whitney
hesitated, and finally refused to either deny or affirm the truth of the report.
"I am not prepared to say whether it is true or not," said Sir James. "I cannot say any more than that until I have conferred with the department of education."

At the last meeting of the Ontario
Educational Association, the Primer
was roundly denounced, and a resolution was passed requesting the department of education to extend the authorization of the former Primer
until a suitable book could be prepared.

LOT TRANSFERRED

TO BELL TELEPHONE

W. C. T. U. Held a Meeting to Accomplish This.

With their president, Mrs. Hubert Ashplant in the chair, the local Woman's Christian Temperance Union held a special meeting Tuesday, the 19th inst., to meet the legal requirements necessary in the transference
of their lot on Park street to the Bell Telephone Company.

The vote to do so was unanimous,
and this business transacted, the ladies
proceeded to arrange for the coming business of Western Fair week. It was resolved, on account of the labor involved in decline, for this year, the request of the Western Fair officials that the Union again cater for their board.

The literature superintendent, Mrs.
Plews, asked for and obtained permission to send literature to the boys'
outing club at Port Stanley.

A pleasant meeting closed with the singing of hymns and prayer at the 26th at the regular session.

EUCCHARISTIC CONGRESS

The Catholic clergy of Canada are already preparing for the great Eucharistic congress which will be held in Montreal from Sept. 4 to 11,
and an effort is being made to have each parish in the diocese of London
send three delegates to the convention.
Names have to yet be mentioned, but it is probable that a number of prominent London Catholics
will attend the congress.

West Toronto, July 19.—Charles Barnhart, a C. P. R. engine driver, was caught between a freight car and
a passenger car while coupling cars here
this morning and badly crushed and injured internally. His condition is serious. Barnhart, who is a young man living on "Yine street, is now in the Western Hospital.

R. C. REGIMENT INSPECTED

Col. Wadmore, of the R. C. R., Hal-

of the Royal Canadian Regiment, in

tion of No. 1 Regimental Depot, and Col. Wadmore expressed his pleasure at the fine appearance of the men.
The "school teachers" class also came up for inspection. This is a class of university students who are taking a course of instruction for cadet instructors. He complimented this class on the evidences of progress
which were manifested.

STRATFORD BOY

CRUSHED TO DEATH

Fourteen-Year-Old Joseph Smith

Killed in Elevator

Accident.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Stratford, July 20.—Joseph Smith, a lad about 14 years of age, employed in the Corcoran Company's wholesale tea
works, Downie street, was killed about 6 o'clock last evening by the falling of an elevator in the Corcoran Company's establishment. The boy resided with his stepfather, Mr. Hart, of Matilda street.

Nobody was present at the time of the accident, but it was thought there was something defective in connection with the cable which caused the elevator to fall. The lad was picked up in the lane running past the elevator at the side of the store. His head was badly crushed, it is presumed from being precipitated against the brick wall.

BAN B. JOHNSON IS SUED

BY WARD IN LIBEL CASE

American League President Is Asked
to Fork Out $30,000 For Election Talk.

New York, July 19.—It became known today that President Ban Johnson, of the American League, has been sued for libel by John M. Ward, who was a candidate for the presidency of the National League last winter. The papers were served on President Johnson at the uptown hotel where he is staying, yesterday. Ward seeks damages for certain remarks credited to Johnson last winter
when the American League leader was backing Heydler, and when he was quoted as declaring that he would engage a lawyer to look after his interests "in due time." He declares that he is not greatly worried by the suit, but that he is not responsible for all the things you see credited to me in the papers," was his comment.

JOHNSON TO FIGHT

IN LONDON ENGLAND

Will Meet Burns or Langford,
According to Report, in September.

London, July 19.—A sporting weekly asserts today that it has authority to state that Jack Johnson, the colored heavyweight champion, will fight either Tommy Burns or Sam Langford in London in September, under the auspices of Hugh McIntosh, the Australian promoter.

New York, July 20.—Jack Johnson announces today that he is going to Europe
in the near future in order to fill a long series of theatrical engagements. He will tour Great Britain, Ireland and France, and may also give some exhibitions in Germany. Hugh McIntosh has offered him a $5,000 guarantee for three fights,
namely, Sam Langford, Tommy Burns
and Bill Lang as his opponents. McIntosh thinks that a Johnson-Langford affray in England would prove a gold mine. But will Johnson agree to a meeting with the Boston Tar Baby?

CYNTHIA GREY'S CORRESPONDENTS

Dear Miss Grey: I am in love with a worthy young man. A girl who was supposed to be a friend told some untrue things, which caused a separation. What can I do to win him back?

—ANXIOUS.

A—Send for him and have a heart-to-heart talk, for if he was the one to believe evil of you, you should insist upon this, and if you were the one at fault your conscience should insist upon it.

Dear Miss Grey: 1. What will remove tartar from my teeth? 2. Will a tooth from which the nerve has been removed ache?

—SUBSCRIBER.

A—1. Have the teeth cleaned by a dentist once every six months. Clean them once a week with powdered pumice stone, twice a day with peroxide of hydrogen, once a day with a good tooth paste, and twice daily with plain water. Use long-bristled brush. 2. No, though the socket may become inflamed and ache.

Dear Miss Grey: 1. I have a heavy white skirt. Will it be all right to wear with a thin white waist? 2. What kind of shoes look best with white dresses, gunmetal or patent leather? 3. I have dark hair, grey eyes, fair skin. What colors are suited to me? 4. What will make me look taller? 5. How many source miles in Chicago and New York?

—IRISH MOLLIE.

A—1. Yes. 2. Either. 3. Shades of blue, lavender and grey. 4. Make your clothing on perpendicular lines, such as tailored straps and lengthwise tucks.

Palatable Sandwiches For Picnics and Teas

Bread for sandwiches should be a day old, for to be dainty it must be cut to waterlike thinness. Butter should be soft and the slices spread carefully, so that the bread will not tear. Fillings may be simple or composite, as the occasion requires. When the sandwiches are completed they should be wrapped in a napkin wrung as dry as possible out of hot water and kept in a cool place until ready for use.

Vegetable Filling—A vegetable macedolme, made of the remains of cooked peas, French beans, minced young carrot, asparagus, mixed with a spoonful of two of mayonnaise sauce, represents an excellent sandwich filling.

Egg Sandwiches—Boil six eggs hard and chop fine, add one tablespoon of melted butter and two tablespoons of vinegar; rub into a paste and season with salt and cayenne. Form into sandwiches with lettuce leaves between the slices.

Cheese and Pepper Sandwiches—Chop four green peppers and mix with a little dry mustard, salt.

Cheese and Radish Sandwiches—Chop crisp and tender radishes fine; chill on the ice; then mix with them grated Canadian cheese and whipped cream.

Caviare Sandwiches—Mix one-half

can caviare, one teaspoonful onion juice and a piece of lemon juice. Cut thin rounds of bread, butter and spread. Cream Cheese and Pineapple—Chop pineapple fine and drain off the juice. Spread bread thinly with cheese, sprinkle with the minced pineapple and press together. Cut in thin, slender strips and pepper. Spread on thin slices of Boston brown bread, and form into sandwiches.

Lettuce Sandwiches—Take thin rounds of rye bread, spread generously with butter, and place on each a crisp lettuce leaf. Spread with mayonnaise dressing, and over this sprinkle chopped nuts. Form into sandwiches and serve at once.

Fruit Sandwiches—Remove stems from figs and chop fine. Add small quantity water, cook into paste and add a few drops of lemon juice. Cool and spread on bread. Sprinkle with finely chopped peanuts and cover.

Cucumber Sandwiches—Chop a cucumber fine, place in a cloth and squeeze out all moisture, then mix it with mayonnaise dressing and spread on a lettuce leaf between buttered slices of bread.

Pimento Sandwiches—Take a cupful of cold meat, grind a cupful, add a dozen chopped pimentos, season with pepper salt, and spread between thin slices of graham bread.

HOW TO CAN CORN

A correspondent sends me a recipe for canning corn, which she has used for years without a failure.

"Take roasting ears when tender and just right for eating, and cut off the cob with a sharp knife. To ten quarts of the corn after it is removed from the cob add a scant quart of common barrel salt—not table salt. Put in a large canning kettle with just enough water to cook until tender. Can with good rubbers and lids which are in perfect condition. This will keep indefinitely." —E. L.

FASHIONS

Military collars are to be much worn on fall coats and jackets.

Jumpers are still favorite styles with the younger set.

Evening dresses of velvet are a prominent style indication for fall.

On many of the new skirts there is scarcely a ripple of fullness. These skirts are very short.

The greatest novelty of the season is the black velvet parasol.

The popularity of low necks in waists and gowns is bringing into favor the maline neck ruff.

Long scarfs of black satin, lined with white, are quite the rage in Paris.

Heathen nations have different legends as to the origin of women. The Japanese believe that she grew on a tree; the Laplanders that she was once a rabbit; the Persians that she fell from the heavens; and the Australian natives that she was once a toad.

HILMA

William Tillinghast Eldridge.

As we crossed the threshold a short man arose from the desk, over which a mass of papers were scattered. He was dressed in a uniform similar to Karl's, and the first thing that struck me was his face, which, while set and almost stern, boldly wearing a friendly smile, clearly indicating that at times this silent, grizzled old man, the Grand Duke of Kurimurt, was not as savage as he looked.

The greeting was brief and no more than one when the duke came to the point at once. "Captain von Merider has explained to me your connection with this affair, Mr. Konvers, and that you have with him deemed it advisable to come here in the matter."

I said that I felt I might be of some slight service in recovering the lost documents, knowing the woman as I did. "True," the old man said, "but as he leaned back in his chair and studied me sharply from under a pair of grizzled eyebrows. "But there is little chance of that."

I could well see he was bitterly disappointed at the turn of affairs and saw little hope of success. His next words more than confirmed my opinion and also let me know he was annoyed. The matter would be dropped. What could be done has been done. We have lost."

I saw Karl move uneasily. We were both younger men and believed that there was hope while a chance remained. Yet Karl was bound to obey. I was not. I could speak freely, nothing prevented that, and I resolved to do so. I had a mind suddenly to see the matter through.

"Had I not met the princess? I would join her cause, coming as far as I had, whether this gruff old grand duke was willing or no. And then I noted again the wrinkles about the old man's eyes. I had only to throw him out a bit and he would welcome my help, and gladly. At that task I set myself."

"I fail to see just how the matter's at an end," I suggested. "Possibly I understand this matter better than you do, sir," he gave me back promptly. "Certain documents are lost. I want on calmly. 'An yet the woman who got them has not arrived in Zakhar. We stop her before she does and take them back.' That was what there was to it, as I saw it, and I put it plainly."

The old man looked at me calmly, and I felt there was a gleam of merriment in his eyes. "You have been thinking of a hard task I could not say. 'There is no one to bring general.' Karl put in. 'You have men on the watch now. When the woman is reported let us have a chance at her. If John recognizes her we'll get that envelope again.'"

"And bring a hornet's nest down about my ears. Why Zergald set by, think you, and let it be done?"

"Let's do it before he knows of it," I answered. "Once done, what do you care for him?"

"If we get the papers you have him in your hands," Karl protested. "Now he has you," I remarked dryly. "By God, he has," the older man exclaimed, suddenly coming to his feet, while his voice broke with more than mere acknowledgment of the facts. There was sorrow, regret and bitter disappointment on his face as he stood there looking broken and old.

"I slipped close to him as a thought came to me. 'If a young American, who can easily be charged with all the indiscretion you choose, should fall enamored of a certain woman and carry her off, your police would raise a riot of trouble, I suppose?'

"They would if they heard of the matter," he said, looking up at me as if hardly seeing my meaning. "Exactly," I continued. "This foolish American Duke where this woman is, when she crosses your frontier. In his deep infatuation he contrives to have the train she is coming on stopped at some lonely spot. It's a hold-up."

"Aye, it's a hold-up," the old man growled, looking at me more sharply as a bit of understanding appeared in his eyes. "Enough money is taken to lend an air to the thing, for the American wants it to look like a hold-up, after all."

"A fine air," Karl exclaimed. "The woman is carried off."

"I hear she is handsome," the general agreed. "You made here, Captain von Merider, sets out in pursuit of the rash American, learning of the thing by chance before your police. The American, to save his skin, abandons the woman. Captain von Merider nearly overtakes him, but fails at the last moment, by his mount giving out. He, however, secures the woman's personal effects, which the rash American has scattered on the road, after abandoning these heavy papers. Karl exclaimed with a shout."

"It can be made as good as facts," I ventured, watching Karl's face. "Aye!" he said, nodding his head slowly to the clock on the mantel—"aye—a rash American might make it as good as facts, if we had one."

"That's why I came," I answered, lighting a cigarette, "and can, I think, furnish credentials for rashness, if you'll have them."

CHAPTER VIII.
The aspect of affairs changed at once. Like a soft snow melting before a warm sun, the Duke's objections melted away to our plan. He saw hope again in the scheme, and I found him as ready as heartily a welcome as Karl could have done.

The old man chuckled over the thing like a schoolboy, adding suggestions of his own, advising me not to let any of my countrywomen hear of the matter and my best with the newspapers.

"I'll give you another name, if nothing more, Mr. Konvers," he said, and then fell to chuckling over the idea again. "Thus it was settled, and there was nothing to do but get a dozen trusted fellows together and await word that a woman had arrived on the frontier. We had no doubt she would come at any moment, so we made our plans carefully."

"And if the woman doesn't come?" Karl asked incoherently, when we had the whole thing settled.

"Zergald will want that envelope in his own hands before he places Prince Joachim's name before the grand dukes," Karl said.

"Would he have the woman pass it to him through a third party?" I suggested.

The duke shook his head again. "He uses as few as he can. His plans, you see, were so arranged that Karl would not know who would bring the woman."

It looked plausible, and satisfied it must be so, we made the final arrangements for recovery. Then all matters settled, Karl and I took our way back toward the inn, leaving Kurimurt to prepare my gang of "Karl's" who would assist in the holding up of the train.

"It couldn't be better," Karl declared enthusiastically. "Beyond a doubt we'll have the papers by night."

"Or we'll wait a week, testing our plans in impatience," I said.

"True," I agreed, "and yet the woman has not arrived, and if of the opinion she'll not come for some days. There is no need for hurry on her part. She could wait she had succeeded, then wait in safety until your return, and when Zergald was satisfied no suspicious rest- ed on her she could proceed. They have plenty of time."

"In any event, we can trap her on this plan."

"Unless she comes as we did," I said. "Impossible."

"On our way back to the inn we turned in at the wide park which skirted the lake and made our way along the gravelled paths. On our left was the emerald water, on our right the city, while about us greenward and huge trees. The large oaks were magnificent, and as trees, especially old ones, were delectable to me, I enjoyed the stroll immensely."

"It's a wonder," Karl suddenly exclaimed, "that we didn't have that rascal, Heinrich of Vankle, to deal with."

"Heinrich of Vankle," I repeated, "and who may he be?"

"The greatest scoundrel you would care to meet."

"One of your prime minister's attendants?"

"A sort of private secretary of his, the man who does nearly all of Zergald's dirty work and a goodly amount on his own account."

"Perhaps he has a finger in this," I said.

Ways to Save

Be systematic if you are determined to develop the saving habit. Here are several plans which may help you to save money and get ahead financially:

Make an allowance for each class of expenses, and then plan to save something on each allowance. Make it a rule to set aside a certain per cent of your income on pay day. Consider that this per cent is insurance against the future. Look upon it as a debt which must be paid. As your income increases your savings will increase.

BORDEN'S QUEBEC CHIEF READ OUT OF PARTY

Opposition Organ Says His Desertion to Bourassa Is Good for the Conservatives.

Ottawa, July 20.—The Ottawa Journal, edited by Mr. P. D. Monk, a personal friend of Mr. R. L. Borden, says editorially, under the heading, "Mr. Monk Well Lost."

"The Conservative party of Canada means a stroke of good fortune and a blow to the opposition," the paper recognized as the leader of the party for the Province of Quebec, who has now joined forces openly with Mr. Bourassa. The paper says that Mr. Borden is not merely a deadweight on the party, but a drawback and a danger to it, has for some time been recognized by most of the party in the other provinces. Some men, by unwavering and aggressive loyalty to their party, make up to it for their lack of political acumen and force. Other men, less reliable in their party fealty, supply compensation by their ability and activity as organizers and generals. Mr. Monk shone in neither way. Politically speaking, he was neither a leader nor a competent. It is true that the Conservative party has been hard put to it for capable men for the front of the battle in Quebec since Laurier first swept the province from the Conservatives. Mr. Monk was probably the worst choice for leadership that could have been made. All the worse because he is in some respects a man of impressive personality; because he is a man of fine presence, of culture, of high personal integrity, of undoubted honesty of purpose, and an excellent speaker. But he possessed neither the organizing ability nor the power to enthuse, neither personal magnetism nor political breadth of view, neither activity nor industry; and where a man like Cartier or Langton or Chaplin would have been inspiring an aggressive fighting spirit in the Conservatives of Quebec, Mr. Monk has been useless throughout, and now fortunately disappears into the Bourassa ranks.

Means a Split.

"It is quite likely that a number, a large number, of the most prominent French-Canadian Conservatives will go with Mr. Monk for the time being. The active, practical co-operation of Canada in the British Empire, is, unfortunately, not as popular in Quebec as elsewhere in Canada. The Conservative response to Sir Wilfrid Laurier's call, the Liberals of Quebec joined hands with their fellow-Canadians in this regard. For this the Dominion and the empire have never forgiven them. And in the absence of strength, courage, or statesmanship in the Conservative leader in Quebec, the imperial cause, and the true, self-respecting, manly Canadian cause, long grip the province, the party men there lost insight, and for the moment the Conservative ranks seem to have disintegrated into ammunition for Mr. Bourassa."

The end of the first day of the big Grand Trunk strike finds the situation absolutely unchanged. The freight service is tied up completely, not a car of goods moving.

The passenger service is being maintained, and the through trains are running as if nothing had happened.

The International Limited and the Eastern Flyer, the two fastest expresses on this division, arrived and departed from London last night exactly on time. They were in charge of old crews, who did not go out with the strikers.

Expresses No. 2, at 4:25 in the afternoon from the west, No. 5, due from the east in the evening, No. 8, which goes through at midnight from the west, and Nos. 4 and 7, the two early morning passenger trains, were all more or less behind time, and had crews made up partly of new men and partly of old.

Still Confident.

Both parties are still confident of the outcome of the strike. "We got along much better than we expected yesterday," reiterated Superintendent Bowker to The Advertiser today.

The men are watching the situation closely, and all meetings held in Cullis Hall were largely attended.

The arrival of the pay car last night was responsible for a large gathering at the depot. Hundreds of employees drew the checks.

Large crowds of citizens were also attracted to the depot. Special constables were everywhere, but there was not the slightest disorder, and they had nothing to do but walk around among the crowd.

Some of the "green" brakemen came in for a deal of good-natured chaffing, particularly one on express No. 5, who came out in full view of the crowd and put his tail lights up backwards. The mistake, however, was righted by an experienced man before the express pulled out.

Perishable Freight.

The handling of perishable freight and baggage constitutes two of the most serious problems of the company at the present time. It is stated that many cars of beef and other meats are tied up in various yards and that the goods are suffering considerably from not being moved and looked after.

ONE DAY OF THE FIGHT

No Change in the Situation This Morning—What the Men Ask.

The end of the first day of the big Grand Trunk strike finds the situation absolutely unchanged. The freight service is tied up completely, not a car of goods moving.

The passenger service is being maintained, and the through trains are running as if nothing had happened.

Perishable Freight.

The handling of perishable freight and baggage constitutes two of the most serious problems of the company at the present time. It is stated that many cars of beef and other meats are tied up in various yards and that the goods are suffering considerably from not being moved and looked after.

Under usual conditions the railroads make a special effort to haul this "fast freight," as it is known, through as quickly as possible in ice cars. It is said that the meat is not properly iced and that unless it is moved speedily it will spoil.

A good many of the new baggage-men have no idea of the system of checking which is followed, and most of them came in last night without any returns of what they had carried or where it was going, or any other particulars. Naturally a good deal of confusion resulted.

London citizens do not know what a close shut they had during the night. The electric lights last night and the night before.

The local electric light company was practically without coal. Its bid to get 6 o'clock on Monday evening. A member of the company hurried up and got a yardman to run down a string of coal cars to a siding when he heard that the men were likely to go out that night.

The cars were placed and now the company have plenty of coal to last some time. "It would have been a case of shut down if we had not got the cars," he said.

On the Bruce.

One train came down the Bruce yesterday. It left Wingham shortly before 11 o'clock, and got into London in the afternoon. It was in charge of the regular crew and left again at its usual time, 4:50, in the afternoon, with the same crew.

The trains which ran yesterday were as follows: No. 24 and 46 were consolidated and left at 9:30 for Niagara Falls in charge of J. Lyons, a former G. T. R. man, and Stationmaster Thomas Short.

No. 21, for Windsor, due to leave at 6:35 a.m., left at 7:20 in charge of Conductor Manley.

No. 27, for Sarnia, left at 12:10, in charge of Conductor T. Hill.

Express No. 8, which leaves at 6:52 a.m. for Stratford, left at 7:10 in charge of Conductor McCormick.

Conductor McCallum came in in charge of No. 1 from the east at noon. Conductor Douglass took the Sarnia train out as usual.

The strike has made a very noticeable difference in the sale of tickets. Many people are travelling via the C. P. R. and officials of that road report that the increase in their traffic is quite noticeable.

The strike is making little difference, however, on the through traffic. Both the International Limited and the Eastern Flyer were filled with tourists going through on long distance trips.

What the Men Ask.

The following table shows what the men ask and what they were awarded by the board of conciliation, which was composed of John G. Donohue for the men; Wallace Nesbitt, K.C., for the G. T. R., and J. E. Atkinson, chairman.

WABASH MEN ORDERED OUT

Three Hundred and Fifty Quit Between Falls and Windsor.

SITUATION AT DETROIT

Strikers Want State Commission To Examine Fitness of Crews Now Being Hired.

Montreal, July 19.—Vice-President Murdoch tonight called out 350 Wabash men operating trains between Windsor and Niagara Falls.

Detroit, July 19.—While the first day of the Grand Trunk strike passed without serious disturbance in this city, a report last night that the company would try to move its freight from the local yards today caused a decided stir among the strikers. This report was denied by A. B. Atwater, of the company, but received some support from men in charge of the strike-breaking crews.

A move of the strikers which caused interest was a plan to ask the state railway commission to examine the men now being put to work on the road, to find whether they are experienced and capable. Mr. Atwater responded to this by saying that he would be glad to have such examinations made, as it would reassure the public as to the complete safety of the road's service.

Passenger traffic on the railway was continued under practically normal conditions, with all regular trains in service, except freight traffic was at a complete standstill. The striking employees of the road were for the most part peaceable and the only violence that occurred during the day was at Milwaukee Junction, about 11 o'clock in the morning. When C. A. Martin, a strikebreaker, employed as a brakeman on train No. 16, was assaulted by a gang of strikers, receiving slight injuries.

Both sides in the controversy appear to be satisfied the way things have been conducted and are equally confident that they will win.

G. T. R.-WABASH MEN HAVE JOINED STRIKE

Thirty Joint Employees at St. Thomas Went Out Yesterday.

St. Thomas, July 19.—Thirty G. T. R.-Wabash men went on strike today, making in all about 350 out on the system between the Falls and Windsor. Striking crews are operating the passenger trains through here, and practically no freight was moving this afternoon and this evening. Several officials of the road were here in an attempt to get the men back to work.

They were headed by Mr. L. J. Ferritor, and a conference was held in the evening. However, the men decided to stay out. The men complained that they had been advised by the present division superintendent, that they could not ally themselves with the Grand Trunk men in their present troubles because of their connection with the Wabash, but when they went to the Wabash for a hearing they were refused because they were Grand Trunk employees. It appears under the terms of the lease, under which the Wabash has running rights over the Grand Trunk from Detroit to Buffalo, the Wabash is not allowed to pay its men a higher rate of wages than the Grand Trunk men on the same line are allowed. This means the Wabash men on this side of the river are paid much less for their work than the men on the Grand Trunk side. Should Grand Trunk men win their fight the Wabash men will get the benefit of the increased pay.

The Wabash men are also affected in the operation of their trains by the fact that yardmen, operators, dispatchers and other men and officials are either out and out Grand Trunk men or are the joint employees of both roads. This means that it would be impossible for the Wabash trainmen and conductors to take a train from one of the roads to the other without having been under G. T. R. orders or having the train made up or operated by G. T. R. men.

This means that it would be impossible for the Wabash trainmen and conductors to take a train from one of the roads to the other without having been under G. T. R. orders or having the train made up or operated by G. T. R. men.

that berry prices would go up, but the big dealers state that other lines are handling the full business.

The farm machinery firms are having the greatest difficulty, and some of them have been compelled to refuse orders where immediate deliveries were demanded.

The International Company had fifteen blenders in cars in the local yards since Monday afternoon. Some of them loaded for shipment to Sarnia were sent down the London and Port Stanley to Lake Erie, and will be taken by water to the tunnel town. Goods for Woodstock and vicinity are being handled by the C. P. R.

Two cars of machinery for the local branch are stalled along the line between Hamilton and London, but the company expect to have them in the course of a couple of days.

But three cars of freight went out of London Tuesday morning. These were picked up by through trains.

determined to see it through to the end. It cannot afford to lose.

Vice-President Murdoch, the trainmen's organizer says that they never expected to tie up the passenger service and he points to the non-operation of freight trains and suburban trains as proof that the men have cause for satisfaction over the results of the first day of the strike.

Members of the union claim to have information that members of their organizations in the United States will handle freight cars or passenger coaches turned over to their roads by the Grand Trunk. The railroad officials apparently regard this proposition as a bridge to be crossed, when reached, until the issue presents itself decline to say anything about it.

Offers to Act as Mediator.

So far the only attempt made at affecting a settlement has been the offer of the minister of labor to do anything possible to bring about peace by means of arbitration, which he suggests should be binding upon both parties. The offer for further arbitration was coldly received. "We are the arbitrators now," declared the strike leaders. The railroad officials had no comment to make on the latest suggestion from Ottawa.

There has not been the slightest attempt at disorder in Montreal. The freight yards are quiet and only travellers are allowed to enter Bonaventure depot.

The repair shops were closed, and as a result there has been considerable grumbling among the men. It being maintained that the company should not penalize the shopmen because the trainmen went out.

May Involve.

Vice-President Murdoch announced that 350 men had been added to the number out by the calling out of the men employed on the Wabash having running rights over the Grand Trunk tracks from Windsor to Niagara Falls.

The calling out of these men has caused some discussion in Montreal, because of the fact that two other railways, the Intercolonial and Delaware and Hudson, enter this city over the Grand Trunk tracks, the trains being manned by employees of these companies. The Intercolonial is the property of the Canadian Government, and has running rights on a rental basis over the Grand Trunk tracks between Montreal and St. Rose.

It is practically in the same position as the Wabash, and it is argued that if the Wabash men have been ordered out, the Intercolonial men running into Montreal should also be taken off. This would, of course, bring the Government into the fight, and it is pointed out that the brotherhood may not be anxious to do this. The only freight entering the city yesterday over the Grand Trunk tracks with the exception of a short stock train from Brockville, were those manned by Intercolonial men.

Drilling Freight Crews.

Detroit, July 20.—The Grand Trunk strike developed no disorder in Detroit last night, and today the employers and strikers seemed to settle down for a long-drawn-out struggle. No attempt is being made to move freight, but the passenger service continues with very little interruption.

"We are drilling crews now for our freight trains," said A. B. Atwater, assistant to President Hays, of the Grand Trunk, today. "That does not mean that the men are not experienced. They are experienced, but we want them more familiar with the different lines before they start out. We are going at this thing slowly, because we anticipate there may be some trouble when we pull the freight out, and if there is we are going to be ready for it."

"So far as we are concerned," said J. E. Patte, local chairman of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, today, "the police are not needed in this strike. It is a serious matter, but it is not a matter of life and death, and we will accept responsibility as American citizens."

Crash at Chicago.

Chicago, July 20.—One man was killed and another seriously injured today, when a freight engine crashed into a Nickel Plate passenger train at Forty-third street. A number of passengers were bruised, but none was seriously hurt. The engineer of the switch engine was killed, and the fireman hurt. The accident was caused by an open switch.

Hamilton Feels It.

Hamilton, July 20.—The effects of the G. T. R. strike are being felt in this city, for this morning the Hamilton Steel and Iron Company announced that it would close one of its furnaces if the strike was not settled very soon. The closing of a furnace means the throwing out of work of several hundred. The company are running short of coke, the other lines being unable to handle enough to keep the supply up to the standard. As far as the men and G. T. R. are concerned there is little change here, save that the members of the other staff have been notified that they will be expected to go out at a moment's notice and take charge of a train. All trains are late and very few are travelling, and the trains from Toronto this morning are in charge of W. M. Wilson, travelling freight solicitor, of Toronto.

Late Mrs. Coughlin.
The funeral of Mrs. Coughlin, of St. Thomas, who died suddenly Saturday morning, took place yesterday morning at 9 o'clock to the Church of the Holy Angels, where requiem mass was conducted by Rev. Father West and Rev. Father Hogan. Mr. W. Regan, of London, was one of the pallbearers. The following relatives from London were present: Mrs. B. Coughlin, Mrs. Sullivan, Mrs. McNulty, Miss Kate Regan, Miss Julia Regan, Mrs. J. Hawes and Mrs. J. Kindree.

As a result, it is said, of the increased spirit duties under the British budget the police have noticed in remote districts of Ireland indications of a revival of illicit distillation of liquor.

Government Pile Driver, Aweary of Life, Commits Suicide.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Port Stanley, July 19.—The Government pile driver, which has been many years of active service, because of its job last evening and rolled over and sank peacefully to the bottom of the harbor. The cause of its untimely end is a mystery. All morning the dredge industry has been endeavoring to raise the craft in order that the harbor master may hold a post mortem. Large crowds eagerly watched the operations of the dredge from the docks.

CORRESPONDENCE

Catholics and the Bible.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:
Sir,—May I trespass upon your time and space once again in relation to the above subject? In your issue of June 16 you kindly gave space to a letter of mine in which I called upon a Rev. A. E. White to give proof positive of the wholesale charge he made on the previous Sunday in the Talbot Street Baptist Church in this city, to the effect that the Catholic priests of Montreal and the province of Quebec go into the homes of the people and burn the Bibles they find therein. He did not say Catholic or Non-Catholic versions of the Bible. He said "they burn the Bibles they find." This Rev. Mr. White has not replied to my demand for proof positive beyond doubt or question. Of course, we know what he told the jury. It was to draw money out of the pockets of his hearers to be used to buy the poorest of the poor among the Catholics of Montreal and other parts of the province of Quebec to attend Baptist meetings.

Just one month ago, to the very day, a letter appeared in The Advertiser in reply to me—not from Mr. White, but from one who signs himself, "A. L. Therrien." Who is he? What position does he hold? What is the "evidence" he submits? Would any lawyer dare to present such evidence in any court unless such court was composed of very ignorant men? Is there a judge who would admit such testimony as evidence? I think not. A. L. T.'s letter is not worth the paper it is written on, or the printer's ink to print it. "Four women" told the Catholic priests that they don't want their names published. Why? They don't want the names of the priests published. Why? That is what I have asked for. These women tell these yarns to get some of the $11,000 sent into Quebec to be used in the "conversion" of the poorest of the poor among the Catholics of that province? That is how "conversions" are made in the western provinces, to which $28,000 were sent last year. And the same process is followed in Ireland by the Irish Church Missions to the Roman Catholics. "Take my books. We will help you. Let me read to you. Let me pray here. Kneel down with me. Pray with me. Yes, let your soul to us. Deny your faith, and we will take care of your body."

This man says that these women, for no number of obvious reasons, do not want their names and those of the priests published. Ah! Smell a rat? They are afraid of the truth, why fear? The law will protect them. If these four women are not afraid to go to the Baptist place of worship with a priest, why are they afraid?

Then we are told that in one of the Montreal churches a priest told his people, last fall, to burn all Bibles and Testaments bought by the Protestants, and (Oh, what a bad, bad man!) he even went so far as to say, "Soak them in kerosene first."

How extravagant! What a priest! How the priest and the church! Oh! that we are not told. Why?

A woman who heard this naughty priest say this, kept her Testament and is now a Baptist. We hear her name. If she was not afraid of the priest, if she had courage to turn Baptist, she ought to glory in her "conversion." How much? Eh? Well, she is a Baptist now. Which one of the seven Baptist sects did she join? Why did not the Testament lead that woman into the English Church, or Methodist, or one of the three Presbyterian bodies, or some one of the other 500 Christian sects? Why the Baptist?

Then this A. L. T.'s parents, "devout Catholics," and the Bishop of Montreal, "devout Catholics," again, why? What other influence was made on behalf of the Baptists? But oh, these poor, benighted, ignorant Roman Catholics, we are told, do have Bibles, and the Psalms, and that wonderful book, "The Imitation of Christ." Oh, you naughty, wicked priests, to let your people read the grand, the beautiful, the sublime, the sublime "Imitation of Christ!"

My dear A. L. Therrien, you have made out a very poor case. I have seen the King James authorized version of the Bible through twice. Once I plodded through it to cut out the number of times wine and strong drink are mentioned therein. Besides that I have read hundreds of passages in it, but it did not make a Baptist of me. I have read the "Douay" Bible all through, and have a very fine one. Just as I have as I write, and, strange is it not, my friend, that the more I have read the Scriptures, even the King James version, with all its faults, and have a very fine one. Just as I have as I write, and, strange is it not, my friend, that the more I have read the Scriptures, even the King James version, with all its faults, and have a very fine one. Just as I have as I write, and, strange is it not, my friend, that the more I have read the Scriptures, even the King James version, with all its faults, and have a very fine one.

On Sunday, the 10th of the present month, a Rev. Father Doyle, S.J., preached in St. Peter's Cathedral in this city. He was formerly a Protestant minister. He came into the Catholic Church through reading the Bible and comparing it with the teachings of the Catholic Church. Strange! The great Catholic Manning and Newman, and hundreds of thousands of Protestant ministers of all denominations, and laymen and women, from the highest, the lowest, the noblest down in England, Scotland and Ireland, on the continent of Europe, in the United States to the south of us, and in this fair Dominion of ours, have come into the one true fold through the study of the Holy Scriptures. Strange! The priest I made my first confession to, at the age of 9 years, had been a Scotch minister. That was the Rev. R. G. McKillop, and Father Garde, one of the curates at the same church, had been a Church of England minister. That church was St. Mary's, Chelsea, near Old London. At the Oratory, Bloomsbury, I knew 30 priests who had been Protestant ministers, two had been lawyers, two had been officers in the army. One of these last, Father Arthur Maude, was the son of the Hon. Capt. Maude, R.N., who was one of

PORT STANLEY GETS THE IRISHMEN'S PICNIC

And This Year Will Be Bigger and Greater Than Ever Before.

The Irish Benevolent Society held an enthusiastic meeting last night in the board of trade rooms. It was announced that the annual picnic will be held at Port Stanley on Aug. 11, and that it will be greater and better than ever before.

The Pere Marquette Railway and the Southwestern Traction Company are making special preparations to carry the crowds, and they expect to do the largest day's business on Aug. 11 in the history of the companies in London and St. Thomas.

All the committees reported, and the picnic arrangements are well under way.

A Great Programme. Chairman Daly, of the music committee, will have plenty of music; greatest programme of sports that has been; Chairman Fowler, of the baby show committee, will have a display of prizes that will make a jeweller's window look like thirty cents, and Ben Noble will put on a choice programme of competitive dancing.

Those present were S. Stevely, president; Harry Buttrey, B. C. McCann, T. J. O'Meara, Dr. Sheehan, Harry Merritt, Peter Taff, J. J. Cox, C. G. Harper, B. S. Murray, Ed. J. Ryan, M. Daly, J. P.
