ALBANIANS FLEE AS GREEKS ENTER TERRITORY

TERRIFIED ALBANIANS FEARING MASSACRE BY THE GREEKS ARE FLEEING FROM THEIR HOMES

Repeated Protests Have Been Made to Peace Conference Against Greek Advances Into Territory Awarded To Albania—122,000 Albanians Leaving Koritza District.

Paris, Sept. 15.—Albanian refugees arriving in Paris from Koritza and the surrounding district bring reports of the terror inspired by the advance of Greek troops into that territory, which formerly was controlled by the French, who entered the district in 1916, and gave pledge that it would be considered a part of Albania.

Repeated protests have been made to the peace conference against Greek advances into territory awarded to Albania by the London conference, but no replies have been forthcoming, and lack of information concerning the plans of the Entente, it is asserted, is causing much uneasiness to the Albanians, who are in fear of some secret agreement as regards Albania.

About 122,000 Albanians have lived in the Koritza district, which the Greeks are now entering. Fearing a recurrence of the massacres of 1913-14-15, the Albanians are fleeing before the Greeks with the assistance of Italian and French troops, and officials who are enabling the terrified population to escape to Italy. The flight of the population, according to refugees, has been proceeding for more than ten days. The population of Koritza is reported to have been amazed by announcement of the French authorities August 26 that the district of Koritza would be handed over to the Greeks.

The Albanians have asked the peace conference to keep French officials in the district until the conference has settled the Albanian question, or to send a small American force there to steady the situation. As far as can be learned the peace conference has not yet arrived at any decision as to the future of Albania.

REINFORCEMENTS FOR D'ANNUNZIO SAID TO BE GOING TO FIUME

Italian Premier Describes Soldiers' Disobedience As Sedition.

GENERALS AT FIUME

Badoglio, Deputy Chief of Army, Vested With Authority To Meet Situation.

Paris, Sept. 15.—General Badoglio, deputy chief of the Italian army, who has been given broad powers to meet the situation which has arisen in Fiume incident to the entry into the city by Capt Gabriele D'Annunzio at the head of a large force of irregular troops, has arrived at Fiume, accompanied by General Aufossi, according to advices received here.

According to latest advices, Captain D'Annunzio is still in Fiume. Detachments sent by General Robilant, commander of the Sixth Army Corps, to disarm Captain D'Annunzio's men have refused to obey orders. This, according to a statement made yesterday by Premier Nitti, was "sedition," the premier adding that he was "determined to act in a manner that would avoid grave conflicts."

Reinforcements for Captain D'Annunzio's forces are said to be marching on Fiume, parts of the Sixth Artillery Regiment and a cyclist corps being reported near the city. General Ferrerari, commanding the Italian troops on the armistice line, has been ordered to prevent the forces from joining Captain D'Annunzio.

D'ANNUNZIO PROCLAIMS UNION OF FIUME CITY WITH ITALY

Italian Poet, Supported by Arditi, Issues a Proclamation After Arrival in Place That Has Been Subject of Long Standing Dispute in Peace Conference Circles.

Geneva, Sept. 15.—Gabriele D'Annunzio, supported by the force of Arditi which accompanied him into Fiume, has proclaimed a union of Fiume with Italy, according to advices received by the Serbian press bureau here from Belgrade.

Fiume was plunged into anarchy, the advices declare, when the brigade of Italian troops, which previously has evacuated the city, returned without officers, ejected the local authorities, and arrested the Italian general, Pittaluga.

The British and French troops in Fiume, the message states, barricaded themselves within their quarters, expecting to be attacked, while the crowds in the city tore down the allied flags.

The Serbian authorities, it is added, still remain in the suburb of Susak, which is isolated.

FRENCH FLIER CALLED BRUTE BY HIS WIFE

Temper So Vicious He Foams At the Mouth, Says Spouse.

SUING FOR DIVORCE

Woman Seeking Release Declares Husband's Cruelty Is Intolerable.

Chicago, Sept. 15.—"A man with a temper so vicious that he foams at the mouth."

That's the way the divorce bill of Mrs. Ora Mabel Hinson Campuzano, $1,000,000 heiress, describes Capt. San Tiago Garcia Campuzano, an ace in the French air service, who won every decoration possible during the war.

"Mrs. Campuzano tried for months and months to endure her husband, but it's impossible. She couldn't live one more day with him," her attorney said.

Mrs. Campuzano is temporarily living in New York, where she spent a honeymoon that was filled with blissful happiness for a few weeks, and then, according to her attorney, was a "life of hell."

Proud of Strength.

Just a year ago, August 31, 1918, amid the flying atmosphere of San Antonio, Texas, Capt. and Mrs. Campuzano, were married. He, a native of Cuba, had been sent to this country to teach Americans how to fly.

"He is a large, powerful man," the bill reads, "an aviator in the French army. He prides himself on his handsome appearance and colossal strength, and revels with conceit and egotism that he can subdue his wife by vicious attacks."

The several acts of cruelty alleged in the bill commenced November 14, 1918, in Havana, Cuba, it is charged. On that date the captain choked his wife.

In New York city, February 17, the aviator knocked his wife down and hurled her from the hall where she had fled from one room to another in their hotel, it is charged.

Hides in Bathroom.

"Finally, Mrs. Campuzano was forced to seek refuge in the bathroom, where she remained for several hours without food until her maid called a policeman," the bill relates. Again, July 1, the defendant is accused of striking his wife with his fist and throwing her purse at her, also of tearing up many pieces of money.

"He has cut and smashed many dollars' worth of personal property, and has demolished chairs, vases, family photos, trinkets and jewelry, and has spent her money and made no effort to earn his own," the bill alleges. "A man so vicious that he foams at the mouth, like a beast when highly aroused. He has attempted the life of his wife with a loaded pistol and a long, gruesome butcher knife. He cut up a new pair of shoes, which she had bought for him, going through the massive soles with the butcher knife as if they were paper, for no other purpose than to terrorize and intimidate her."

In February last the captain kept his wife a prisoner two long, hungry days, the bill charges, making her sit in a chair, and hitting her every time she moved, all the time swearing at her in three languages, French, Spanish and English.

Drags Her by Ankle.

"During the siege he said the happiest day of his life would be when she was dead," the bill says.

While Mrs. Campuzano was visiting a friend at her estate along the Hudson River, August 8, her husband returned from Cuba, and, seizing his wife by the ankle, which he had heretofore broken, dragged her 30 yards over the gravel and turf, notwithstanding the fact that she had on thin apparel, which he tore off, and then dragged her over the gravel on her bare and naked body.

"Then he would lift her to her feet and knock her down, and lift her up again, and then strike her, all the time shouting that it was to be her last night on earth, while she verily hoped and prayed it would be.

"Then he broke the mirrors and furniture in her friend's house. This was all followed by the aviator falling to his knees and begging forgiveness, and asking himself how anyone could be so cruel to such a beautiful woman."

LIBERAL LEADER CALLS FOR ELIMINATION OF POLITICS AT BIG INDUSTRIAL CONFERENCE

Large Representation of Labor Leaders From All Parts of Canada Present At Opening of Conference Today—Sir Robert Borden Unable To Be Present Because of Illness—Minister of Labor Presides.

Ottawa, Sept. 15.—The great industrial conference organized as the result of recommendations made by the royal commission which traveled throughout the Dominion and made a study of industrial conditions opened this morning in the Senate chamber at the Parliament Buildings with a large attendance of delegates, and every promise of success. In the absence through illness of Sir Robert Borden, the conference was formally opened by Hon. G. D. Robertson, minister of labor, who delivered the prime minister's message to the conference. The Senate chamber was filled long before the first session began, several cabinet ministers and provincial officials being present, including Hon. A. L. Sifton, minister of public works; Hon. N. W. Rowell, president of the privy council; T. A. Crerar, former minister of agriculture; Sir William Hearst, Sir John Willison, and many other notable figures in the public and industrial life of the country.

The conference was called to order by Hon. G. D. Robertson at 10:30, and after a few remarks on the rejoicing felt because of the victory achieved the meeting opened with the singing of the National Anthem.

Borden Not Present.

Senator Robertson referred with regret to the absence of Sir Robert Borden, and proceeded to read a message from the prime minister which was received with enthusiasm. Sir Robert, in his message, gave a comprehensive survey of after-the-war conditions in Canada, making reference to the heavy burden of debt which the country must bear, and the necessity for industrial development and close and sympathetic co-operation between employer and labor.

Hon. A. L. Sifton, speaking briefly, told the conference of the fight made by Canada at the international labor conference for recognition. He asserted that it had taken six weeks for the Canadian delegates to gain their rights. The Dominion delegates had asserted that they would have nothing to do with the conference excepting on the basis of equality.

Hon. N. W. Rowell regarded the gathering as a "Canadian peace conference."

He thought it a matter of congratulation that there had been less unrest in Canada than in other countries. There must, he said, be co-operation between capital and labor.

Liberal Leader Speaks.

Hon. W. L. McKenzie King voiced regret because of the absence of Sir Robert Borden and expressed the hope that the prime minister would speedily recover. He expressed confidence in the outcome of the deliberations of the gathering, and declared that in its deliberations party politics should be avoided. The Liberal party, he said, had adopted as a part of its platform the labor features of the peace treaty. Mr. King emphasized the desirability of avoiding in so far as possible the danger of class division in the realms of industry.

Mr. King predicted that no class group formed with the purpose of controlling government could permanently succeed, and asserted that any man who refuses to negotiate with other men should be regarded as a public menace. In closing, he said there were four classes to industries—labor, capital, management and the community.

Each of these four was entitled to a voice in the shaping of industrial policies, and there must be consideration of the rights of the community, without which industry could not progress.

Col. David Carnegie, formerly of the imperial munitions board, Ottawa, but more recently connected with industrial development in England, dealt with the progress of Whitley councils in English industries. They had proved the best means for bringing together masters and men, breaking down suspicion and averting strikes. He said that the recent big strikes had occurred in industries where there were no Whitley councils, and he felt that if Whitley councils or some similar plan were introduced in Canada it will be a very great step towards solving the labor problem.

The conference adjourned at 12:30 to 2:30 p.m.

BORDEN'S MESSAGE REFERS TO CANADA'S GREAT WAR DEBT

Ottawa, Sept. 15.—Sir Robert Borden, who was unable, owing to illness, to be present sent to the gathering the message, which was read by Hon. Gideon Robertson. It was in part as follows: "To my great regret, I am prevented from addressing you in person; but it is my privilege through this message to bid you welcome, and to express my earnest and confident hope that your labors will be crowned with

MRS. DUNCOMBE, WATERFORD, DIES FROM INJURIES

Second Death Occurs As a Result of Motor Car Collision.

Brantford, Sept. 15.—A second death occurred this morning as a result of the automobile crash on the Cockshutt road, just outside this city, yesterday, when Mrs. (Dr.) O. H. Duncombe of Waterford, died at 2 a.m. at the General hospital. Mrs. Duncombe is a sister-in-law of Dr. Charles Duncombe of St. Thomas, who was killed at the steering gear. Dr. O. H. Duncombe and Mrs. (Dr.) Charles Duncombe, also in the car, are not seriously hurt.

INCREASES AUTHORIZED IN BRITISH ARMY PAY

London, Sept. 15.—A royal warrant has been issued substantially increasing army pay. Second lieutenants are to receive between £394 and £448 sterling annually if married, and £370 to £375 if unmarried; lieutenants, £448 to £503 if married, and £375 to £429 if unmarried. Captains and majors receive equivalent increases. A colonel is to receive £1,242 if married and £1,181 unmarried. The increases given to men are unchanged from those already announced.

WORKERS TO GET QUEEN VICTORIA'S CHILDHOOD ABODE

London, Sept. 14.—Townley House, in Ramsgate, situated in one of the prettiest parts of England, where Queen Victoria lived as a girl with her mother, the Duchess of Kent, is to become the headquarters of a motor car building company by whom it has been acquired. The beautiful old elms that dignified the grounds are being felled to provide carriage bodies, while the house itself is being converted into a home for employees.

Foch Asks That Search Be Made For Body of Son

Few Persons Knew That Great Commander Had Lost Boy.

Paris, Sept. 14.—Correspondence of the Associated Press.—Marshal Foch has recently asked the Belgian Government to have a search made for the body of his son, who was killed in August, 1914, in the Belgian Ardennes.

Marshal Fach has refrained from mentioning his lost son, and few knew that the younger Foch was killed early in the war.

VISITING MAYOR SURVEYS TRAFFIC IN N. Y. FROM AIR

New York, Sept. 15.—A survey of New York's traffic conditions from an airplane was made today by Frank W. Wozencraft, mayor of Dallas, Texas, who is making a study of the municipal government.

Starting from Hazelton field, Mineola, the plane, piloted by Lieut. Lucas E. Beau, flew over the "busy" streets and also made a trip around the Statue of Liberty.

"The place fully to appreciate the efficiency of New York's traffic controlled system is from the air," the mayor said. "From 1,500 feet in the air, the sight of moving people and vehicles was really wonderful."

LLOYD GEORGE MAKES APPEAL TO BRITISH IN NEW PUBLICATION

"The Future" Is Being Distributed Throughout British Isles.

GOVT. CONTRIBUTORS

Needs of Empire Outlined in Detail by England's Greatest Statesmen.

London, Sept. 14—Premier David Lloyd George's stirring appeal to the nation, in which he pleads for the building up of a new world, and the novel method of its distribution, are the subjects of excited discussion in all political quarters.

"The Future," in which his message appeared, is something quite new in political literature. It is described as "a national publication issued with Premier Lloyd George's authority, which will be distributed throughout the country on Monday."

The Future also contains statements on national needs, specially contributed by members of the government. The advent of this publication and its precise significance excite intense curiosity. It is generally supposed that light may be thrown on it in the premier's international brotherhood speech on Wednesday.

Rightly or wrongly, the premier's appeal is regarded as a signal change in the government's policy. The result of the election last week in Widnes, Lancashire, where Arthur Henderson, Labor leader, was elected to the House

Enemy Aliens Make Escape From Fort Douglas Prison

Tunnel Was Constructed Beneath Wire Inclosure.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Sept. 15.—Between seveh and seventeen enemy alien prisoners at the war prison barracks at Fort Douglas, near here, escaped early today by way of a tunnel constructed underneath the wire inclosure of the prison. An early check of those missing indicated that none of the important prisoners escaped.

BULGARIANS MAY GET TREATY ON WEDNESDAY

Paris, Sept. 15.—The peace treaty with Bulgaria is likely to be handed over to the Bulgarian plenipotentiaries on Wednesday afternoon, it appeared after this morning's session of the supreme control.

Premier Clemenceau presided over the session of the council, at which Premier Lloyd George was present, together with Frank L. Polk, United States under-secretary of state; Tomasso Tittoni, Italian foreign minister; Baron Keishiro Matsui, Japanese ambassador to France, and Marshal Foch.

The council will hold another session this afternoon.

BULGARS TORTURE MOHAMMEDANS IN EASTERN THRACE

Several Villages Are Reported To Have Been Destroyed.

Saloniki, Sept. 15.—Mohammedans in Eastern Thrace have addressed a memorial to the peace conference at Paris, protesting against oppressive measures taken against them by the Bulgarians, who, it is charged, have been torturing Mohammedans. It is said that the conference decides that if Bulgaria's control is retained in Thrace the Mohammedans will leave the country. A similar declaration was presented to Gen. Franchet D'Esperey when he visited Eastern Thrace some time ago. Several Mohammedan villages have been reported destroyed, and the Greek Government has sent all possible help to the region.

CITY OF ALPENA IS TAKEN IN TOW DUE TO ENGINE TROUBLE

Big Lake Steamer In Trouble Near Cheboygan, Mich.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 15.—Messages from passengers on the steamer City of Alpena stating that the steamer had broken down and passengers had been transferred to other boats and trains, led to circulation of reports last night that the sister ship, City of Mackinac, had stranded near Cheboygan. Officials of the Detroit and Cleveland Navigation Company denied the report.

Cheboygan reports the City of Alpena, which had been tied up there because of engine trouble, left for Detroit in tow of a tug last night, and that the City of Mackinac had left that port on schedule, and was not in trouble.

GRAND DUKE MICHAEL JOINS KOLCHAK'S ARMY

Paris, Sept. 15.—Grand Duke Michael Alexandrovitch, brother of the former Russian emperor, who made his escape from Perm, where he was imprisoned by the Bolsheviki, has reached Admiral Kolchak's headquarters, according to Humanite. He is known to only a few of Kolchak's officers, the paper adds, and is preparing to act in the role of pretender to the imperial throne.

GIGANTIC OIL FIRE BURNING ITSELF OUT

Fifty Persons Were Injured While Property Damage Amounts to Millions.

New York, Sept. 15.—The spectacular oil fire which since Saturday afternoon has raged at the plant of the Sone & Fleming Company in Long Island City, with injury to more than 50 persons and property damaged running into the millions, was gradually burning itself out today.

Although officials of the fire department said that the blaze was well under control, it still was burning briskly and promised to continue for two or three days, until the thousands of gallons of oil in the path of the flames have been consumed.

Herbert L. Pratt of the Standard Oil Company, of which the Sone & Fleming plant is a subsidiary, said after a survey of the ruins that the property damage would be more than $2,000,000. About $500,000 of this sum is said to be represented by oil consumed in the fire. As nearly as could be ascertained, with the fire still raging 36 of the company's large oil tanks have been destroyed.

Shortly before 9 o'clock another naptha tank blew up, shooting into the air a great column of smoke. Six tanks are still on fire, but the conflagration is under control. Since the outbreak of the fire on Saturday 300 firemen have been treated for blistered feet caused by the blazing oil penetrating their rubber boots. Deputy Fire Chief Maher said the fire was the biggest one he had fought in the 33 years he had been connected with the department, and that he expected it to continue for at least two days more.

GERMAN IMMIGRANTS TO ARGENTINA HAVE BEEN BADLY DECEIVED

Teutons Claim False Promises Were Held Out to Them.

Buenos Ayres, Sept 15.—German immigrants landing here complain that they were induced to leave their homes in Germany and come to Argentina by false promises that grants of land would be given them when they should arrive in this country. Many were induced to join the "German society for agricultural colonization of Argentina, paying 50 marks as an entrance fee at Hamburg. A handbill brought by one of the Germans also promises that the bank of Argentine nation would lend money on easy terms and for long periods so that immigrants might pay for machinery and live stock.

LONDON NEWSPAPERS GIVE SLIGHT ATTENTION TO BULLITT'S STORY

London, Sept. 15.—With the exception of two or three anti-Government newspapers, London journals give scant attention this morning to the evidence given by William C. Bullitt before the foreign relations committee of the United States Senate. Some fail to report at all, while others print but brief summaries on their inner pages.

The Daily News gives great prominence to the story, and, in its editorial comment, accepts Mr. Bullitt's story as the true account of what happened at Paris, and cites Premier Lloyd George's statement before the House of Commons on April 16, when he virtually denied knowledge of Mr. Bullitt's mission to Russia.

PRINCE PITCHES FIRST BALL IN GAME BETWEEN CALGARY AND EDMONTON

His Royal Highness Receives Honorary Degree at Edmonton University.

Edmonton, Sept. 15.—His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales had a full day on Saturday. After receiving the honorary degree at the university and visiting the military hospitals in the morning, the main feature of the day's proceedings was the luncheon at the Macdonald Hotel, when the prince was entertained by the city.

"I call this city the City of Youth," said the prince, and this referred to it in the light of youth, with a mighty future. Particularly he spoke of the spirit of the people which he found underlying, and which had inspired its growth.

After leaving the luncheon, the prince was greeted by huge crowds as he made his way to Diamond Park to open the ball game between Calgary and Edmonton, and he pitched the opening ball in a way that delighted the hearts of the fans. For some time the prince and his staff and the provincial and city officials watched the game, the prince taking a seat on the grass in front of the stand.

The rest of the afternoon was spent in playing golf at the Country Club. Dinner at Government House followed, after which the prince attended the G. W. V. A. headquarters and briefly addressed the returned men. It is unnecessary to say that he had a great welcome.

"I am amazed and impressed to see the wonderful growth that you have achieved, but one is not surprised, knowing the sort of men sent across to fight in the great war," said the prince at the civic luncheon.

SMALL ATTENDANCE AT HIGH COST OF LIVING PROBE AT HAMILTON

Vice-Chairman Declares Public Must Co-operate In Order To Gain Success.

Hamilton, Sept. 15.—W. F. O'Connor, vice-chairman of the board of commerce, is here today to probe into the high cost of living. Only two wholesale grocers and four citizens were on hand when the inquiry began. Mr. O'Connor devoted most of the morning session to explain what it is intended to do. A fair price committee, based on the system in use in the United States, and to be used as a model for other Canadian cities, will be established. Mr. O'Connor said this committee would have the law behind it. The cards must be placed on the table and the board of commerce would see that there was a square deal. Mr. O'Connor seemed to be rather disappointed at the slim attendance, and he made it clear that there must be co-operation on the part of citizens if results are to be obtained. This afternoon he will have a private conference with the council's food committee.

Some interesting developments are looked for when the inquiry is resumed tomorrow.

CAMPAIGN STARTED FOR REINSTATEMENT OF BOSTON POLICE

Samuel Gompers Directing the Federation's Move in Favor of Men.

WILL HOLD CONFERENCE

Labor Leaders To Discuss Question With Police Commissioner.

Boston, Sept. 15.—A definite campaign to regain for the striking policemen the places now officially declared to have been lost because of desertion of duty was expected to be inaugurated today. The action was expected to depend upon the result of a conference between union labor leaders and Police Commissioner Curtis. The commissioner, at the request of the union heads, consented to the meeting on an unofficial basis, but the labor men said they hoped to obtain from it an exchange of views which might be made the basis of negotiations.

The extent to which the American Federation of Labor would support the fight for reinstatement and recognition as a union, was in doubt today. Immediate danger of a general strike, threatened by the central labor union and its principal weapon in support of the policemen, appeared removed by the disposition of the labor leaders to move slowly.

Gompers Directs Campaign.

From New York, where President Gompers has been directing the federation's interests in the Boston situation, came word from one of his associates that there would be no general strike action. Officers of the central labor union here, however, said they knew of no decision to warrant such a statement; that the proposal for a general strike was still before the union, and that a decision would come with the completion of a pool of the several craft organizations. This poll is being taken secretly. It is not complete, several of the principal unions having yet to declare themselves. It is known that some of them vote to take sympathetic action; that others frowned upon it, and that more cautious unions postponed action until they saw how sentiment lay.

The fact that the Central Labor Union adjourned last night without calling a meeting in advance of its regular session next Sunday, was accepted as an indication that union leaders looked upon the fight as a long one, in which they would take action only after mature consideration. This consideration, it is understood, will include the advice of President Gompers and other leaders of the federation, who regard the fight in this city as centreing on the national question of police unions, which were approved by the American Federation of Labor at its last convention.

Might Go to Courts.

Gov. Coolidge, refusing President

Home Complexion Peeler Works Wonders

To keep the face, neck, arms and hands truly beautiful and youthful in appearance, the treatment which seems most sensible is one which will actually remove the skin itself immediately it begins to age, fade, coarsen or discolor. The only known treatment which will do this, aside from a painful, expensive surgical operation, is the application of ordinary mercolized wax, which is as harmless as it is effective.

The wax is put on at night, just as you apply cold cream, and washed off in the morning. It absorbs the dead and half-dead surface skin in almost invisible flaky particles, a little each day, no discomfort being experienced. With the disappearance of the old cuticle, the newer, healthier skin underneath gradually appears, richly beautiful with the flush of youth. This mercolized wax, which you can get at any drug store in original package, is indeed a veritable wonder-worker.—Advt.

PUMPING CONTRACT FOR THREE YEARS

Other Industries May Follow Railway's Lead.

Work will be commenced immediately on a new main through which the public utilities commission will pump water from the Thames River to supply the Grand Trunk Railroad. The agreement closed Saturday is for three years. If the company does not wish to continue it at the end of that time it will be obliged to take over the pumping and other equipment.

There seems little likelihood of this, as the agreement is entirely satisfactory to the public utilities commission, and it reports that the railroad also considers it a good bargain.

Enough Water.

Doubt as to whether the river was capable of supplying three-quarters of a million gallons a day has been expressed in some quarters. The water is at low ebb, but it can still meet this drainage. The company has been obtaining its supply from this source for many years. It found the pumping unprofitable as it had to use a steam engine. The water will now be pumped electrically at the Horton street hydro station.

Others May Take It.

In some quarters the conclusion of this agreement is regarded as an experiment in the use of river water for industrial requirements, and it is possible that in cases where the revenue would justify it mains may be laid into large factories and river water replace the spring water which is used at present, and which as the city grows will be urgently needed for drinking purposes.

There is little likelihood that the river can ever be used as a drinking water supply, according to General Manager E. V. Buchanan. "The water which we will pump will be all right for the interior of boilers, but when considered from a drinking standpoint it is not even 'diluted sewage,' it is literally alive with bacteria," he said.

BUILDING FIGURES ARE ALREADY AHEAD OF THE SEPTEMBER, 1918, ONES

Building figures for the month have already passed the total attained in September, 1918. Forty-three permits have been taken out to date for amounts totalling $68,435. Last year 79 permits were taken out for a total amount of $66,020. The prospects of attaining August's total of $867,420 are slight, but building promises to be active.

A. V. Johnson is building two one-story frame houses at 55 and 63 Bedford street. They will each cost $1,400.

CONSCIENCE MAKES COWARDS OF US ALL

There is a citizen of this city who develops symptoms of ague every time he sees a policeman, because somebody told him that a black satchel, which he at one time owned, is reposing in the police station.

One night recently he was walking down Dundas street in a happy mood. For a long time he had suffered pangs of thirst, but in the bag he carried was the means to drown the memory of that suffering. He was full of expectancy until something caused him to be conscience-stricken. Looking ahead he saw a policeman searching an auto. If a policeman would stop an auto to search it he could not see any chance for a man carrying a black bag.

He hurried up an alley and deposited the bag where he thought it would remain safely hidden for a little while until he could see clearer sailing. In an hour he returned, but he searched vainly for the bag; it was gone. What he thought, or said, when he made this discovery was not printable. However, after he had calmed down a bit, being something of a mathematician and a decided optimist, he decided that after all he was about $195 ahead on the deal.

SMALL COLLEGES IN CANADA NEEDED FOR HELPING EDUCATION

Dr. Braithwaite Urges More Be Provided.

In the Canadian Courier of this week Dr. E. E. Braithwaite, ex-president of Western University, contributes an article on the need of more small colleges in Canada in order to give every boy and girl the same chance to get higher education that is now provided for them in the matter of elementary education. Dr. Braithwaite thinks Canada is sufficiently equipped with universities, but holds that colleges where a good higher education of a general nature could be secured very profitably may be added as the population increases.

Dr. Braithwaite points out that of 7,000 students at Columbia University, one-half are from New York alone and 60 per cent from the state of New York. Harvard draws 45 per cent of its registration from Massachusetts alone. The question of providing generally for higher education must be handled, in the opinion of Dr. Braithwaite, by the state. It is too important to leave to private enterprise "the most wealthy often refusing to have any considerable share in the enterprise while those of moderate means frequently strain themselves unduly."

TWO REMANDED AGAIN ON ASSAULT CHARGES

Dan McCullough and John Barrow, who were convicted in police court here recently of unlawfully assaulting Constables Frayne and Towle, were again remanded a week for sentence by Magistrate Graydon today. McCullough informed the court that he was drunk at the time, and pleaded for leniency.

Edmund Meredith, K. C., appearing for Barrows, asked for a remand in order that the affairs of the accused could be inquired into. "This man did not know the other man in the case at all," he stated to the magistrate. "He seems to be natty on detectives, and the assault is a trivial one."

"Oh, no, not at all," interjected the magistrate, as he remanded Barrows for a week.

Two drunks were assessed the usual $10 and costs. One of them appeared in police court four times during the past week to answer drunk charges.

DISTRESSING CASE

Father of Family Admits Stealing Tools.

Joseph Mead, who was convicted last week on a charge of theft, appeared in police court today on a second charge of stealing a quantity of tools from George White & Sons, valued at $25, and electing summary trial, pleaded guilty. He was remanded one week for sentence. The tools were stolen last April, when the accused was employed by the above firm.

When asked by the magistrate when he stole the tools, Meade said: "I took a few now and then, as they come in useful." Several chisels were included in the loot, and they were ordered returned to their rightful owners.

"This is a very distressing case," said Magistrate Graydon, in remanding the prisoner. "You have a family of children, which the Children's Aid Society is looking after now. Stealing with you seems a habit, and if it were one isolated case I would suspend sentence. I will remand you for one week in order that provision may be made for your family, should you be sent to jail."

GIVEN A CHANCE

Young Man Says He Did Not Intend To Steal.

John J. Ashton of this city, convicted in police court last week of defrauding his employer of funds collected, was this morning allowed his freedom on suspended sentence by Magistrate Graydon, full restitution having been made by the prisoner's father. "I did not intend to steal the money," said Ashton, in pleading for leniency. "I lost my bills, and did not know how much cash I had to turn in."

"You have had no previous conviction against you," said the court, in suspending sentence, "and you should redeem yourself by your future conduct."

The case of John Connor, charged by Inspector Lutman with a breach of the public health act, was adjourned for one week.

Rain dispersed the large crowd which had gathered in Victoria Park on Sunday evening for the band concert given by the Marconi Band under the auspices of the Senator Coffey Chapter for the benefit of child welfare, in which organization the order is deeply interested.

The park was arrayed in a lovely autumn garb and was the haven of many citizens during the afternoon and evening. A greater part of the program had been given by the band before the rain commenced.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

JUSTICE FOR SOLDIERS.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

Sir,—The writer is taking treatment in one of the largest institutions in Canada, and as a consequence comes in contact with much discussion both "for" and "against" the present administration of re-establishing the soldier.

It is earnestly hoped that the following, wherein an effort has been made to bear as much in the interests of the Government as the soldier, will be worthy of your perusal.

The present question of gratuity is the most important of all, as the extremists are asking for an amount which is debatable whether the treasury can stand it or not.

Is it inconsistency and wilful injustice which permeates all decisions relative to the "rights of soldiers," or is it incompetency to handle new situations as they arise?

We will try and understand this matter of "gratuity for services rendered."

This gratuity has been planned, and is being paid for, according to length of service.

1. A man who has served a complete year overseas receives four months' recompense at $70 per month.

2. A man who has served two complete years receives recompense for his first year; four months, plus one month for his second year.

3. A man who has served three complete years overseas receives recompense for his first year: 4 months, plus one month for each of the two succeeding years.

4. A man who has served four complete years overseas, receives recompense for his first year: four months, plus one month for each of the two succeeding years, plus nothing for the fourth year.

The order and grading of gratuity end at the third year, there having been no provision made so far for a fourth or fifth year.

Rank injustice to the men who have really suffered for their country.

Are the dispensers incapable of distinction between production and non-production?

It is suggested the problem be solved to a fair and righteous understanding, and then face all those who to date have snubbed and ignored the existence of the few survivors of Canada's (1914) First Contingent, and face the extremists, who stayed at home in peace and comfort until the war was half over, and pay an increase over the present gratuity according to length of service in France, to so make up for losses incurred, both in civilian occupation and physical retrogression.

One of the greatest points of inconsistency in this matter is the fact relating to the promise made to the "1914" men (should the present Government be elected), that "they would be brought back to Canada for a three-month rest." Such promises were broken. Only pre-war 1914 married men being given a leave.

No matter about that now, it is over; but the aforementioned inconsistency is a descendant of that fact, inasmuch as the greatest argument advanced against the keeping of said promise was the statement that "men with such long and valuable experience were invaluable and really could not be spared without the Canadian corps feeling the consequence."

Were the extremists, who now clamor for $2,000, whether in France one month or four years, just as extreme in their demands that the Government keep their promise, while the 1914 men were helpless in the matter in France, or were they hoping that the longer we stayed there that the longer they could stay here?

When the war is over and services are to be paid for, the same Government in their dispensation of gratuity stops at the third year and silently gives us to understand that those same previously-recognized "valuable years of experience are not worth a cent."

Why is the gratuity graded retroactive from the end of the war to a maximum of three years, when there are a few hundreds of those pre-recognized "valuable experienced" men still living who have served four or five years; some of these as a consequence are taking treatment as a direct result of that long and aforementioned valuable service?

It would be a splendid thing both for justice to the soldier and the country's funds if this matter was all unravelled, and the country took a strong stand behind a fair and equal policy of showing a distinction between production and non-production.

The man who was so valuable and indispensable that he could not be given a three months' rest after four years' service in France should be recognized accordingly when "gratuity for services rendered" is being given out.

It appears that the only view taken by the Government now when the war is over, is that each succeeding year of service and experience at the front deteriorated in value.

Therein lies the inconsistency. A proportionate increase in war gratuity, based on six months' pay for one year and each succeeding year upward to the fifth (not stopping at the third as at present) would give Canada a "showin" to the world of paying as high as $2,000, and yet it would save the country in the finish a matter of $200,000,000. If every man who was in France to receive $2,000 whether they were there only one month or five years.

Justice, fairplay and an honest recompense for length of service rendered would redound with great credit to the Government and repay the treasury.

All fair-minded men would accept it as final. The extremists would be forced to.

Respectfully submitted,
GEO. VICTOR BELL.
London, September 11.

THE LAURIER MEMORIAL.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

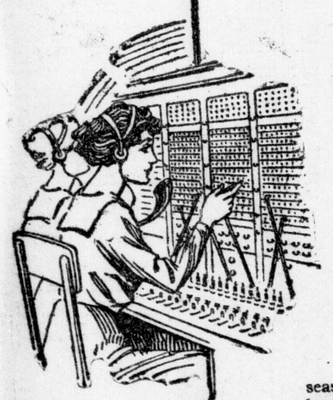

In your issue of the 1st inst. you published a letter from Mr. Bruce of Unionville, in which he states, as a memorial to Sir Wilfrid Laurier, a foundation should be created for the purpose of carrying on an educational work throughout Canada, with the purpose of bringing the two great racial divisions to a better understanding.

I think this is a splendid idea, and one that should be carefully considered by the committee in charge. While attending the Liberal convention at Ottawa last August, I was surprised to meet so many delegates who had not seen or heard any of our French-Canadian statesmen, and after meeting and hearing them would say that it is too bad that the people of Ontario do not know the people of Quebec better. The difficulty seems to be that we do not cross the Ottawa River often enough.

I believe, sir, that if a foundation could be created whereby representatives of the French-Canadian race could tour the English-speaking provinces, and in turn have our representatives visit the Province of Quebec from time to time, so that the two races could become thoroughly acquainted, we would be meeting, head on, the cries of race and religious prejudice which arise in every election campaign. Yours truly,

JAMES G. CULNAN
209 Western avenue, Toronto.

After-war conditions, and the telephone, No. 3

Improved Conditions—Better-Service

TELEPHONE service, like other public services, undoubtedly suffered through the war.

From our staff of skilled telephone workers, 846 went overseas. Many highly efficient operators sought temporary positions in munitions plants. Telephone material became almost unobtainable.

Abnormal conditions are now passing. More than five hundred of our men are back from the front. In most places the supply of competent operators is normal.

There is now the task of restoring the proper margin of reserve plant and of overtaking arrears in repair and maintenance work. The moving season is always difficult. At some exchanges an avalanche of orders for moves comes in—over 13,300 this year at one exchange alone, which meant somewhat of a set-back in getting our plant back to normal.

But the work is progressing. Our plans involve an outlay for the year on extensions and replacements of over $7,000,000. We are giving intensive training in our operators' schools to scores of young women to prepare them for central office positions.

Skilled workers, adequate equipment, a resolve to do the best work possible while realizing that we are all servants of the public—these are the factors which we hope will result in the maintenance of the pre-war standard of telephone service.

And we ask the co-operation of all telephone users.

THE MAKING OF A FAMOUS MEDICINE

How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Is Prepared For Woman's Use.

A visit to the laboratory where this successful remedy is made impresses even the casual looker-on with the reliability, accuracy, skill and cleanliness which attends the making of this great medicine for woman's ills.

Over 350,000 pounds of various herbs are used annually and all have to be gathered at the season of the year when their natural juices and medicinal substances are at their best.

The most successful solvents are used to extract the medicinal properties from these herbs.

Every utensil and tank that comes in contact with the medicine is sterilized and as a final precaution in cleanliness the medicine is pasteurized and sealed in sterile bottles.

It is the wonderful combination of roots and herbs, together with the skill and care used in its preparation which has made this famous medicine so successful in the treatment of female ills.

The letters from women who have been restored to health by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which we are continually publishing attest to its virtue.

MILITARY POLICE TO ESCORT CHINESE ACROSS CONTINENT

Leave For Halifax To Begin Work.

100,000 ON THE WAY

Will Come From Europe and Embark in West For China.

The military police corps of this district left the city early this morning for Halifax, where it will assist in the work of escorting many battalions of Chinese labor troops across the continent to the Pacific port of embarkation for China. Major J. Hirsch, the A. P. M. of this district, left for Vancouver, accompanied by Quartermaster-Sergt. Mercer, and he will also take an active part in the work. It is estimated that there are 100,000 Chinamen on their homeward journey from France and England, and they will be transported across the country by the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, probably to Port McNichol. The task will not be an easy one, and the local military policemen expect to be traveling for a period of six months at least.

The Chinese battalions which will soon cross the continent, can claim that they helped to win the war, for they accomplished a considerable amount of good hard work in France and Belgium. Several of the units were employed during the last years of the war not many miles behind the front lines, and there they worked steadily, constructing roads and camps, and generally assisting in cleaning the country and clearing up the debris of war. The Celestials' busiest time, however, came after the armistice had been signed, for then there was an enormous amount of reconstruction work to do.

FRIEND AND MONEY BOTH DISAPPEARED

Marie Grieves Over Loss, Especially of Latter.

When is a friend not a friend?

This is a question to which a Detroit girl, named Marie, who came here last week, has an answer. She brought a girl "friend" with her to see the Fair, and they saw it thoroughly. On Saturday night Marie had about $50 left, and on the suggestion of her older companion she handed over the money to the latter for safe-keeping while she was resting on Sunday. Since then she has not seen money or "friend," and has had to telegraph friends to remit funds.

COURT REMITS TAX ON S. A. HOSTEL. ONLY ONE ASSESSED IN CANADA

The Salvation Army Hostel was granted remission of business tax on patriotic grounds by the court of revision at a sitting Saturday night. The tax amounted to $150. Adjutant Martin laid the case before the court, pointing out that the Knights of Columbus Hut, which was conducted on an exactly similar basis, was not taxed and that the Y. M. C. A., which did work of a similar nature, had its taxes remitted by the city council. Of sixteen Salvation Army Hostels in Canada the one in London was the only one which was even assessed for business tax. The hostel made no profits and the first few months it was conducted at a loss.

Other minor matters, such as remittances of dog taxes where it was shown no animals were owned, were dealt with by the court.

LOCAL NEWS

TAKING COURSE—Miss Madeline Simson is at present taking a course in the Myers method of musical kindergarten at the Toronto Conservatory. Miss Simson is a member of the London Conservatory staff, and will resume her teaching here early in October.

HAD TO PAY FINE.—A youth, convicted in police court last week on a charge of having liquor in a place other than that allowed by law, was fined $200 and costs in police court here this morning. He was allowed out on bail until this morning, when the fine was imposed.

APPEALS HEARING CLOSED.—County Judge J. C. Judd, presiding over the court of appeal for voters whose names have been left off the lists by enumerators, concluded the hearing of appeals for citizens resident in wards 3 and 4 this morning. In all about 1,000 appeals were heard by the court from applicants in these two wards.

$1,000 FIRE.—The fire department had a run to the residence of James Atkinson, 13 Wortley road, Sunday at noon, when sparks from a passing Grand Trunk locomotive ignited the roof of the house, which was badly burned, damage to the extent of $1,000 being done before the flames were extinguished by the firemen.

REPORTER TO RESCUE.—While waiting for the arrival of a train at the G. T. R. station a citizen dropped his diamond ring this morning, and it rolled between the planks of the platform. There appeared to be difficulty in getting permission to lift the plank, so a reporter seized a crowbar and did the necessary work. The owner of the ring tendered a reward, which was declined with thanks.

FORD STOLEN AT SPRINGBANK.—Ford car, license number 46565, and serial number 42627, belonging to W. W. Stanley of R. R. No. 2, Denfield, was stolen from Springbank Park on Saturday night, between 8 and 10 o'clock. It was standing south of the pavilion and when the owner went for it, it had disappeared, along with three raincoats and a lady's fawn coat, which were in the back. The county police have been notified.

SELECTING JURORS—The county committe for the selection of jurors for all courts in Middlesex during the year 1920 met in the court house today, this being the statute date for the selection. County Judge Talbot Macbeth, chairman of the committee, presided, and others present were County Judge J. C. Judd, Crown Attorney J. B. McKillop, Warden John Currie, Mayor C. R. Somerville of London, B. F. Watterworth, deputy sheriff, and Captain T. E. Robson, clerk of the county.

REAL CONVENIENCE.—A local taxi company does things in a real classy way for the comfort of its clients. During the rain this afternoon an Advertiser reporter was forced to rub his eyes several times when he beheld an auto drive up over the Ridout street curb, and, following the sidewalk, proceed to the door of the county jail, where, sheltered from the rain by the huge arch, the passengers were discharged, and the taxi driver continued his way out to the road, merrily counting the accumulated change.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS

BURIED AT WOODLAND.

The funeral of Ivan D. Hayes, M.D., who died in Toronto on Friday, was held on Sunday afternoon from the residence of his uncle, R. Dickinson, 76 Thornton avenue, to Woodland Cemetery. Rev. James Kennedy conducted the services at the house and grave. The pallbearers were A. R. Calcott, Frank Smith, Ira Moss, Frank Ready, F. May and H. Ready.

DEATH OF JOHN McLARTY.

John McLarty, a resident of London Township, died at his home on the 6th concession, on Saturday afternoon after an illness of three years. He is survived by his wife, one son and three daughters. Another son died in a military hospital in England a year ago Saturday.

The funeral will be held from the family residence on Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Interment will be made in St. John's Cemetery.

DIED AT SANATORIUM.

Templeton Acheson, a returned soldier, died at Byron Sanatorium on Sunday, following a long illness from tuberculosis, in his 24th year. He is the son of Weir Acheson, hotel proprietor at Hensall. The remains were shipped to Hensall for burial.

DEATH OF LITTLE GIRL.

Dorothy Rose McLaren, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy McLaren, 260 King street, died this morning in Victoria Hospital. She is survived by her parents. The funeral will be held on Tuesday afternoon from the family residence to Woodland Cemetery.

FUNERAL OF DOUGAL McKELLAR.

The funeral of Dougal McKellar, one of Strathroy's prominent business men, was held Saturday afternoon to Strathroy Cemetery. Rev. J. A. Shaver conducted the services. Mr. McKellar succumbed to pleurisy. He is survived by his wife, one daughter, Mrs. J. D. McCrae of Petrolea, one son, Alex. of Strathroy; two sisters, Mrs. Andrew McAlpine and Mrs. Donald Callum, and two brothers, Alex. and Duncan of Strathroy. Mr. McKellar was a member of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church.

DIED AT AILSA CRAIG.

Mrs. William Bell, a life-long resident of Ailsa Craig, died at her home on Sunday in her 67th year. Mrs. Bell was a daughter of the late James MacArthur. She is survived by her husband, four daughters, Mrs. C. H. Rudduck of Detroit, Miss Annie at home in Ailsa Craig, Miss Mary of Blythe, and Miss Lillie of St. Joseph's Hospital, this city; three sons, Arthur of Detroit, James S. Bell, B.A., of Markham, and John of Stratford. One sister and three brothers also survive her, Mrs. W. Thompson of this city, Duncan and Kenneth of Ailsa Craig and John of this city.

The funeral will be held on Tuesday afternoon to Nairn Cemetery.

RELATIVES OF MISSING SOLDIER HAVE NO WORD

But Expect Pte. C. Price Here Before the 25th.

Relatives of Pte. Chester Price, who returned to Canada on the steamship Saxonia and was discharged from the army in Quebec on August 25, and who disappeared from the train as it traveled toward London, have not received any further news of the missing man's actions. A postcard was received from him at the end of August, bearing the postmark of Halifax, and it stated that Price would arrive in London shortly, but nothing has been received since that time.

Through the soldiers' aid commission, it has been learned that Pte. Price, upon arrival in Montreal, arranged to have his gratuity checks payable in this city. The first check is due on the 25th day of this month, so his relatives expect the missing man to arrive soon for it, for if he had not intended to return to London he would not have instructed the pay office to send the gratuity checks to this district.

Pte. Price's wife and mother and father reside at 300 Pall Mall street. They cannot understand why the soldier has acted so queerly since his return. According to them, he was not suffering from shell shock or from wounds, for he had been attached to non-combative units. A temporary loss of memory, they state, is the only reasonable solution to the problem.

PATTERSON GOES TO PENITENTIARY FOR 3 YEARS IN SPITE OF PLEAS

Is Found Guilty of Stealing Motor Car On August 9.

FIVE IDENTIFIED HIM

But Prisoner Declares All Are Wrong, As He Was Not Here.

Howard C. Patterson, aged 19, of Hamilton, convicted of auto theft in this city on August 9 last, was sentenced by Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon in police court this morning to serve three years in Kingston penitentiary. Patterson pleaded not guilty to the charge, and was not represented by counsel. Despite the fact that five witnesses swore positively that they saw the accused in an auto owned by Harry C. Greenburg, 202 Wharncliffe road, on the night of the theft, Patterson denied that he was in London at the time, and stoutly maintained innocence of the charge.

Harry S. Greenburg, manager of Woolworth's local branch, and owner of the stolen car, was the first witness called by the crown. He stated that his McLaughlin auto, valued at $1,800, was taken from the market on the night of August 9, and he next saw it ten days later at Niagara Falls, where it was recovered, damaged to the extent of $300.

Ellen Murray Freed.

Ellen Murray, 14 Miles street, principal witness against Patterson, who was arrested soon after the theft, and held as an accomplice after giving evidence for the crown, was discharged by the court on a charge of complicity, no evidence being presented against her. She stated that she met the accused on Friday, August 8, on Dundas street, and Patterson asked her to go for a ride in his car the following night. He met her as arranged on the night of the theft, but did not have the car, informing her that it was in the garage. Later she swore he met her by the G. T. R. station in a car, and they went for a ride, picking up two friends, Anthony Barker of Buffalo and Ethel Marshall.

Police Gave Chase.

She informed the court that the police chased the car down Maitland street, but they did not apprehend Patterson. She identified Constable L. McCaughey as one of the police who chased their car. Later, she informed the court, Miss Marshall and Barker left them, and she accompanied Patterson to Hamilton, returning to London on Sunday, August 10, by train.

Anthony Barker of Buffalo and Ethel Marshall of this city corroborated this evidence regarding the exciting motor ride through local streets.

Constable Lewis Francis McCaughey stated in the witness box that he was off duty on the night of August 9. Standing at Clarence and Dundas streets he perceived a motor car bearing licence No. 48894 proceeding south, which had been reported to him as stolen fifteen minutes previously. He jumped into his own auto and followed the stolen car to Horton street, picking up Constable Arthur Venner en route. When Patterson stopped the car owned by Greenburg beside an Oxford car at Horton and Maitland streets, McCaughey drove his car up and boarded the stolen auto.

Struggle on Car.

Patterson then speeded up the auto, and McCaughey, seizing him by the neck, and wrenching the steering wheel from him drove it up onto the sidewalk. He stated that the Murray girl then seized the wheel and turned the car back toward the road. Patterson quickly regained possession of the wheel, drove close to telephone posts, and in order to avoid being crushed by them McCaughey jumped from the running-board.

He then pursued the auto thief in his car, and fired a shot from his revolver at him on Oak street. Constable Venner corroborated McCaughey's evidence, and identified Patterson as the man in the car. Duncan Martin, a local garage proprietor stated that Patterson left a car at his garage for repairs on the day previous to the local theft. This auto proved to be one stolen in Hamilton, and has since been claimed by its owners.

Denies Identity.

Patterson in defence stated that he was working in the Detroit Golf Club on the day of the alleged offence, and was expecting a letter from the manager of the club to corroborate this statement. He quit on August 11 and visited Hamilton. Later he returned to Detroit, where he was arrested. "I do not know Ellen Murray or any of the other witnesses," he protested, and informed the court he had a brother who resembles him closely.

Crown Attorney J. B. McKillop then confronted Patterson with a long list of crimes, for which he had served time in Hamilton, and the prisoner admitted them.

Convictions.

He was convicted of housebreaking in 1916, and received suspended sentence. In April, 1917, he was sentenced to three months in a reformatory for theft, and in October of the same year was sentenced to serve two years in Kingston penitentiary for auto theft, being released in April last on parole, the license of which was canceled on August 9 last.

"I am quite satisfied that you are the man," said Magistrate Graydon in imposing sentence. "Five different persons positively identify you, with a sixth as a probability. You have an exceedingly bad record, and the only safe place for you is in the penitentiary. You are void of all moral sense, and in addition to the crime of theft have committed one of perjury. You have asked for leniency for your mother's sake. Why did you not reform for her sake? I sentence you to three pears in penitentiary."

FOUND GUILTY OF HAVING LIQUOR ON HIS PROPERTY

John Wanamaker Also Will Face Trial On Charge of Having Still.

Police Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon, who last week reserved judgment in the case of John Wanamaker of this city, charged with having liquor unlawfully on premises other than a private dwelling, today registered a conviction and fined the accused $200 and costs. The report submitted by an analyst that the liquid found in a large stone jug contained over 2½ per cent spirits, and liquor was therefore found by the police on a lot and in a barn in Wanamaker's possession.

Quoting Justices Rose and Middleton, who registered convictions in similar cases, the magistrate informed Wanamaker that the fact that the police had no search warrant when the liquor was confiscated, did not remove the burden of proof. The liquor was found four feet within Wanamaker's lot.

He will face trial in the near future charged with having in his possession an illicit still in first-class working order, and is at present incarcerated in the county jail on the above charge.

PROVISIONS.

Chicago, Sept. 15.—Provisions reflected the weakness of grain. Strength in the hog market had only a transient influence.

WALL STREET.

New York, Sept. 15—Wall Street, 1:30 p.m.—Reactions of 2 to 5 points at midday accompanied reports that the labor leaders had not rescinded their steel strike order. United States Steel lost little more than a point, but popular oils, motors and equipments fell back sharply. Shippings and tobaccos featured another rally.

MAN FINED FOR HAVING LIQUOR IN BANNED HOUSE ALTHOUGH PLEADING DOCTOR HAD ORDERED IT FOR WIFE

Because he was convicted recently for a breach of the Ontario temperance act, his home is, in the eyes of the law, no longer a private dwelling, and as a result John McIntosh, 520 Ontario street, was fined $200 and costs in police court today for having liquor in his house. E. W. Scatcherd appearing for accused, informed the court that the prisoner's wife obtained the liquor because of illness, a prescription having been given by a doctor.

Ignorant of this law, McIntosh pleaded guilty under the circumstances, and when fined remarked: "I might as well give my house away or else let the whole family die." The magistrate informed the accused that a doctor could administer the liquor to a patient in the house, but that was the limit. He imposed the minimum fine under the circumstances.

Lawyers are discussing the merits of the decision today, some opposing it.

STILL DISCUSSING NEW FAIR GROUNDS

Directors Have Not Held Meeting As Yet.

No meeting of the Western Fair directors has been held yet to consider further the extension of the present grounds. Information for the city council is being prepared and will likely be laid before that body, with a request to place the whole matter before the people at the next municipal elections.

In the meantime the debate continues as to whether the purchase of a new site or the extension of the present one would be the most desirable move.

Objections to Extension.

The chief objections to the extension plan are that it is only a temporary solution at the best, and that it will increase the city's housing problem by displacing nearly one hundred families. While arrangements may be made to move the buildings on the ground, which the board proposes to purchase temporary accommodation would have to be found for the people. It is likely that strenuous opposition to the extension will be made by these citizens. There also is the objection of spending a large sum of money for temporary quarters.

Other Plans.

The objection to moving to a new site is the cost, which several of the directors estimate at a million and a half dollars. They claim also that it would be several years before it would be in condition.

Other plans are under consideration. Some directors favor making temporary adjustments, such as building two-story sheep sheds, until building conditions are more favorable, and then moving to a new site.

DR. L. P. SHANKS OF WISCONSIN COMES TO WESTERN UNIV.

Succeeds Dr. Livingstone—Robert Hannah Lecturer in Public Speaking.

The Western University faculty considers itself exceedingly fortunate in securing as the successor of Dr. A. A. Livingstone, late of the department of romance languages, Dr. Louis P. Shanks of the University of Wisconsin.

Dr. Shanks is forty-one years of age, and took both his bachelor's and doctor's degrees at Cornell University, Ithaca, New York. He has taught in the romance department of the universities of Idaho, Tennessee, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin; indeed, so highly were his services as instructor valued at Wisconsin that he was called there a second time to an assistant professorship. Dr. Shanks is a regular contributor to the modern language periodicals, and is the author of many articles appearing in such literary publication as The Dial, The Sewanee Review, The Nation.

Published Books.

Quite recently Professor Shanks published a book on the famous French man of letters, Anatole France, which his reviewer in The Nation describes as the best on this writer in the English language. He also says that the literary style of Dr. Shanks is a model for the writing of books of this kind.

Dr. Livingstone, in retiring from teaching to go into journalism in connection with the Foreign Press Bureau of the American Government, expresses his high regard for the Western University, and asks that the university regard him as its agent in New York.

Public Speaking.

The university also has secured as lecturer in public speaking, to succeed Miss Newbury, who has recently resigned, Robert Hannah. Not only is Mr. Hanah, a citizen of London, but he took his bachelor's degree from the Western University, and he will, therefore, be able to enter into the spirit of the university as no other person in the position could. After the training in his own special work that he has just received at the University of Chicago under Professor Clark, Mr. Hannah enters upon his new duties with an unusually good equipment.

MORRISON AT HAMILTON.

Hamilton, Sept. 15.—Major-Gen. Sir Edward W. L. Morrison, who will address the Canadian Club tonight on "The Guns," is the guest of Senator Staunton. This afternoon he will confer with the heads of the various militia units here and discuss the question of reorganization.

ONE EARNED FIRST $1 BY BEING BORN

Rotarians Tell How They Got Start in Life.

"How I earned my first dollar" was the basis for a number of rapid-fire reminiscences at the Rotary Club luncheon today, the first since the vacation season.

Lieut.-Col. W. M. Gartshore, vice-president of the McClary Company, was the first Rotarian called upon for his story. The first dollar he received was a witness fee at Dundas. A number of the larger boys at school participated in the good old pastime of throwing the new teacher out of the building. Col. Gartshore, then one of the younger pupils, was called to give evidence. One of the youthful culprits was Sir William Osler.

Got It Early.

Frank G. Jewell, chartered accountant, earned his first dollar by being born, it being presented to his mother on that occasion by an indulgent relative.

Robert J. Webster, head of the Webster Coal Company, earned his first wages when 9 years old by driving a team of horses on a harrow.

John M. Bridge, of the Neal Baking Company, assured the club that he didn't steal his first dollar, but he was unable to remember how he did acquire it.

Rev. D. C. MacGregor, pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, got his start in life by hoeing potatoes in Grey County.

W. E. Saunders, of the Saunders Wholesale Drug Company, did not remember his first dollar, but remembered that his father had paid $100 for his apprenticeship as an apothecary.

Work Year for Nothing.

T. H. Purdom, president of the Dominion Savings and Loan Company, was not certain just how he acquired his first dollar. He recalled that he worked an entire year for no emolument whatever, and thought it likely that his first payment was for copying or some minor legal work.

W. G. Young, jeweler, declared that the topic of the day was "How I made my first dollar," not "How I earned it." He then related an interesting history of carefully copying the design of the paper currency of the realm and etching it on plates. There were a few flaws in the design, and it was learned that the Government had a corner on bond paper.

Ahem!

Whether this was ever put in circulation is doubtful. Mr. Young related how he had presented it to a number of his fellow Rotarians, but the musical ending which several of the club's choristers furnished for a conclusion of the tale cast some doubts on its absolute veracity.

Getting down to serious business the members decided that they would provide an automobile outing for the orphans in the city. Every member owning a car offered it for the occasion. Ice cream was promised by A. E. Silverwood, and other members who were unable to loan cars will provide goodies for the trip.

CAMPAIGN STARTED

Gompers' demand for the removal of Police Commissioner Curtis, suggested that the police might have recourse to the courts if they felt their rights had been invaded by the commissioner's action in discharging the union leaders and declaring vacant the places of the men who left their posts. It is known that counsel for the policemen's union had considered and dismissed for the time being the matter of calling upon the courts, but whether the governor's suggestion will revive the proposal is uncertain.

Restoration of the city to orderly conditions has been followed by removal of many of the barricades placed over store fronts and other property as a result of the looting in the early days of the strike.

DRUGGISTS REPORT TREMENDOUS SALE OF FLORIDA WATER

Some Sold Out Over the Week-End.

DRINKING IT DANGEROUS

Much of This Preparation Is Made With Columbian Spirits.

There has been a run on the supply of florida water in the city lately. Every druggist interviewed today said that the demand is away above normal, and has been for some time. One druggist said that after his supply had run out at the week-end he turned scores away.

A merchant on King street reported that he picks up a great number of empty florida water bottles every morning behind his store. He showed some to the reporter that had been emptied during Sunday night.

None of the druggists can understand how anybody can manage to drink the stuff. They are undivided in the opinion that it is an extremely dangerous practice, as it is made to be used externally and not internally.

Several druggists claim that Columbian spirits is used in the manufacture of some brands, and those partaking of this toilet water, as a beverage, are in great danger of being poisoned.

Many druggists are refusing to sell this preparation, excepting in cases where they know for a surety that it will be used for its intended purpose.

LLOYD GEORGE MAKES

of Commons over the coalition candidate, is considered in political circles to be the handwriting on the wall for the coalition government.

Plan to Reduce Debt.

The all-engrossing question for the moment is whether, in the event of a general election and a Labor landslide, Mr. Lloyd George could regain sufficient Labor good-will to construct a strong Liberal-Labor good-will to construct a strong Liberal-Labor ministry, which is supposed in many quarters to be his ambition.

Lord Rothermere, whose recent attack on Mr. Bonar Law created a sensation, today makes a new suggestion—that the Bermudas, the Bahamas, or some others of the West Indian islands, but not Jamaica, Barbadoes or Trinidad, might be sold to the United States in order to reduce the war debt. He says Great Britain might also offer to cede British Guiana and British Honduras.

The Future is dated September. It has the appearance of a newspaper, but it is not marked No. 1, and there is no indication that there will be an issue No. 2. Immediately under the time is the following: "A government statement of national needs and of national policy." It is published in the same office as the Evening Standard and the Sketch. Its editorial office is 50 Parliament street, where a government propaganda department recently was installed. Its editor is Walls Meyers, hitherto known as a lawn tennis reporter. Meyers refuses to disclose the financial backing of The Future, but says that no government or party funds are being employed. The contributors to the edition are Mr. Lloyd George, Sir Auckland C. Geddes, minister for national service and reconstruction; Sir Eric Geddes, minister without portfolio; Dr. Christopher Addison, president of the local government board; Viscount Milner, secretary for the colonies; Sir Worthington Evans, prime minister for pensions; George Nicoll Barnes, minister without portfolio, and others. Winston Spencer Churchill, minister of war, also is a contributor. His article deals with the army, which, he says, in the future will not be substantially larger than the pre-war army.

Will Abolish Conscription.

"We are not going to be a conscript nation," says Mr. Churchill. "We are going to make the Germans abandon conscription, and are going to abandon it ourselves."

Sir Auckland Geddes regrets that "the coal production is out of gear because some miners are hunting for fairy gold—something for nothing." The result, Sir Auckland asserts, is the possibility of employment in all trades being reduced and the price of food raised. He adds that many other trades are acting in a manner similar to the miners.

Dr. Addison foreshadows reforms in connection with welfare of the home and mothers and children, and a campaign against unhealthy homes and overcrowding.

Sir Eric Geddes visualized improved communications, enabling workers to dwell in garden cities, and factories being erected in country areas.

Mr. Barnes declares that the great mass of labor opinion everywhere ardently favors a league of nations. The present form of the league, however, does not satisfy everybody, he says, "but it is a measure of possible common agreement at the moment; it can improve as time goes on, and meantime it is the hope of the world."

LIBERAL LEADER

such success as to justify most amply the summoning of this conference."

Sir Robert then spoke of the new and untried conditions Canadians will be called upon to face during the next few years.

"For half a century or more Canada has been a great borrowing country," he said. "Enormous sums, chiefly borrowed in the London market, have been brought into this country not only by the federal, provincial and municipal authorities, but by commercial institutions. The interest on these borrowings constitutes a heavy charge upon our future, which can only be met by constantly increasing production of all commodities for which we can find a profitable sale in the markets of the world.

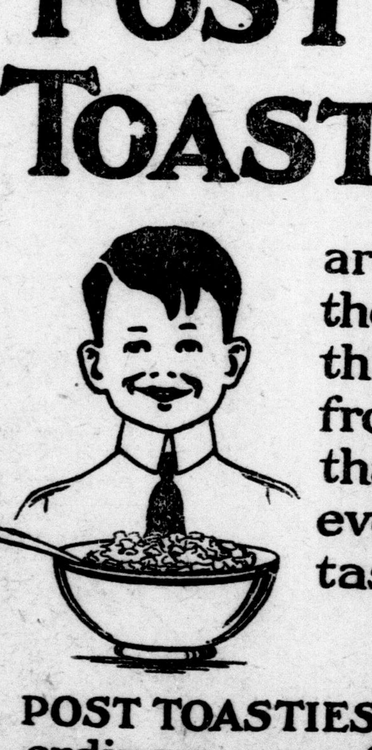

"Five years ago the interest charge upon the federal debt of Canada was less than $13,000,000. During the coming fiscal year the interest payable on our federal debt will be at least $115,000,000. In addition there will be many years to come an annual charge of from 30 to 40 million dollars to provide pensions for our gallant soldiers and for the dependents of those who have fallen.

Confronted With Deficits.

"Owing largely to the increased cost of operation on this continent our extensive system of national railways will confront us with considerable deficits for an indefinite period; and, if our railways are to be maintained and developed in any reasonable proportion to the needs of the people, a heavy capital expenditure will be necessary within a very short time. One grave governmental problem is to find such means of raising the enormous sums annually required for meeting these charges, and for carrying on the ordinary administration of public affairs as will not drive away capital, restrict industry or hinder development.

"For many years before the war there has been an adverse balance of trade against Canada. During the war this condition was absolutely reversed; but the change was due in no small measure to the enormous production and exportation of munitions of war and to the higher prices obtained for our grain, foodstuffs and other exports. Unless there is largely increased production accomplished under such conditions as will enable us to compete in the world markets, there is serious danger of an unfortunate return to pre-war conditions. There should be no such outcome, for we have at hand, and in abundance, the raw materials upon which a great industrial development should be seriously based.

HOUSE BURGLARIZED THREE TIMES DURING ONE WEEK

Altogether $65 Worth of Goods Were Taken.

To have his home burglarized three times in one week was the experience of Robert Simpson, who resides on the Hamilton road, near the Graham Hotel, east of this city. In all $65 in cash, a suit of clothes, some antique coins, a Colt automatic revolver, and some coats were taken by the thieves.

Entrance to the Simpson home in each case was gained through a cellar window. The first robbery occurred early Thursday morning, and the second entry was made about the same time Friday. On Saturday, however, the offenders entered the house in broad daylight. Owing to the fact that the people of the house are out of town, Mr. Simpson does not come home until the evening the house being deserted during the day.

The cash taken was hidden in a small box, secreted in a cupboard. Small boys are suspected of being the miscreants by the county police, who are working on the case.

Rupture Kills 7,000 Annually

Seven thousand persons each year are laid away—the burial certificate being marked "Rupture." Why? Because the unfortunate ones had neglected themselves or had been merely taking care of the sign (swelling) of the affliction and paying no attention to the cause. What are you doing? Are you neglecting yourself by wearing a truss, appliance, or whatever name you choose to call it? At best, the truss is only a makeshift—a false prop against a collapsing wall—and cannot be expected to act as more than a mere mechanical support. The binding pressure retards blood circulation, thus robbing the weakened muscles of that which they need most—nourishment.

But science has found a way, and every truss sufferer in the land is invited to make a FREE test right in the privacy of their own home. The PLAPAO method is unquestionably the most scientific, logical and successful self-treatment for rupture the world has ever known.

The PLAPAO PAD when adhering closely to the body cannot possibly slip or shift out of place, therefore, cannot chafe or pinch. Soft as velvet—easy to apply—inexpensive. To be used whilst you work and whilst you sleep. No straps, buckles or springs attached.

Learn how to close the hernial opening as nature intended so the rupture CAN'T come down. Send your name today to PLAPAO CO., Block 413, St. Louis, Mo., for FREE trial Plapao and the information necessary.

GRAIN.

Chicago, Sept. 15.—Corn values continued today to descend, notwithstanding such bullish factors as the postponement of the steel strike and an upturn in the price of hogs. Bearish sentiment due to agitation for lower food cost remained the dominant influence. Excellent weather tended further to pull down the market. Opening prices, which ranged from the same as Saturday's finish to 1½c lower, with December at $1 18½@1 19, and May at $1 16½@1 17¼, were followed by slight rallies and then by a material setback all around.

Oats were easier in sympathy with corn. Offerings, though, were readily absorbed. After opening unchanged to ½c lower, including December at 66@66½c, the market recovered somewhat, but then sagged again.

Winipeg, Sept. 15.—Oats opened unchanged to ⅛c lower for October, at 79½@79⅝c; December opened ¼c higher at 75c; May opened unchanged. Barley not quoted.

Flax opened 1c lower for October at $4 54; November opened 1c lower at $4 42.

Have Eyes on Canada

With characteristic obtuseness, or perhaps with characteristic belief in the obtuseness of other countries, the Germans have already begun plans for encouraging emigration to the countries of their enemies. A society is said to have been organized in Berlin to promote emigration to Canada, and the Canadian authorities have been asked when operations may be commenced. Holland, Belgium and the Scandinavian countries as well as the countries of Southern Europe are also said to be sources from which many thousands of people will come to Canada as soon as the bars are let down.

The restrictions on immigration during the war may be responsible to quite an extent for the inquiries now being made, but the part Canada played in the war in providing an invincible army and in otherwise exhibiting resources of which the world knew little must have gone far in proving that this is a land flowing with milk and honey as well as with brain and brawn. It is to be hoped that the Canadians themselves have had their eyes opened to the potential wealth of their heritage and also to the fact that this wealth need not be shared with undesirable citizens. The desire to come to Canada is so great that Canada can take her choice, and Canada should not hesitate to do so. The classes of people allowed to come here should be carefully selected. They should be taught that it is a privilege to live in the Dominion, and the last to be admitted should be those responsible for the killing and maiming of thousands of Canadian boys.

The Community Center

The community centre movement is developing in Ontario slowly. A beginning has been made at two points in Middlesex County, Belmont and Clandeboye. At the former considerable funds have been promised for a suitable building and at the latter a hall is already serving as a meeting place for farmers' clubs and other gatherings. At Clachan, Elgin County, a community hall has been made possible through the generosity of a number of public-spirited men. At Delhi, Norfolk County, the question is under discussion.

Public men and educationalists see in the community hall movement an immense factor in overcoming the lack of social intercourse in rural centres and in keeping the boys and girls on the farm. With this and the community school Hon. Dr. Cody sees a marked rejuvenation of country life. The idea is taking hold, but the common use of automobiles on the farms today has brought the farm so close to the city that lectures, sports and theatres are enjoyed by the farmer and his family almost as frequently as by his city cousin, and only to a lesser extent because of the long hours which he is required to give to his farm work.

To assist in giving effect to the act passed at the last session of the Legislature providing for the building of community halls the department of agriculture has had four sets of designs prepared, from which blue prints will be supplied when desired. The act requires that each hall include an auditorium with movable seats, a platform suitable for entertainments and debates, besides which there must be a reading room, library and kitchenette. At least three acres of land must be provided for sports, picnics and outdoor gatherings. The government will grant a sum equal to twenty-five per cent of the cost of the building, but not in excess of $2,000.

This is the plan outlined by the government to assist the farmers, but the farmers seem disposed to wait until after the election before bringing it into general operation.

Let's All Strike

Why don't we all get into this great twentieth century post-war game? The iron is hot, the wind is with us, the goose hangs high, and all the rest of it. Let's strike. Too many of us are back-numbers. We are plugging away as though we liked it, getting soggy with food and groggy with the belief that if we didn't work we'd starve. It's an old-fashioned idea, it's time to wake up and get in the day's procession, the strike procession that's up to the minute every minute of the twenty-four hours.

Who is there cannot find an excuse for going on strike? As a last resort we can strike in sympathy with the next hunger strike in jail, but we can always strike because it is the height of fashion. Take the merchants, the manufacturers, dealers of all kind, they can strike against the interference with profits. If they can't run their business as they want to, why they just ought to quit. That's it. Close up the stores, factories and warehouses. There isn't a merchant but should strike anyway because the people won't come to buy when his clerks are not busy, and the first time a manufacturer's shipment of raw material is delayed or a waybill is mislaid he should lock the doors and go home.

Where is the clerk or bookkeeper who doesn't get mad at the pesky boss for interfering and where is the stenographer who doesn't get tired of being dictated to? They have an excuse for striking forty times a day. Why should a bank manager get peeved when a note is overdue and sweat himself cold trying to get the bank funds placed to advantage and at the same time have them on hand at the call of the depositor? What's the use? It's easier to strike. Why should a bank clerk worry his head off until the midnight hour because he can't get his books to balance, when it's so much handier to say two words and go play golf? Golf is a pleasanter occupation than balancing books, anyway.

And behold the medical man! Probably he never thought of it, but when he does everyone of him will be chairman of a strike committee. Called out of bed at all hours, summoned from one place to another without regard for his meals, his sleep or his recreation, on call twenty-four hours a day in fair weather or foul, who has a better right to strike? Even the clergyman's path is not all one of prayers and preachments for he is the slave of every one of the thousand people who sit in the pews occasionally and contribute a quarter to his stipend. He must come when they call and go when they send even though their fingers are stretched to all points of the compass at once, and he must smile like the sun in the daytime and the aurora borealis at night. Why shouldn't he strike? The lawyer appears in court and the judge adjourns his case. He should quit cold and go home to his family. And if the court crier's voice is raspy the judge should doff his robe and stride out with becoming haughtiness.

We musn't forget the farmer. His troubles are multitudinous and never ending. If the weather is not too wet or too cold he gets his crops in, and then if it's not too wet or too dry or too cold or too hot and the bugs leave him alone and he gets some help he will be able to get a harvest which pays him 2 per cent on his investment with his labor and that of his family thrown in. His reasons for striking are as numerous as the bugs and worms that thrive on his plants. He likes to toil from dawn to dark, but it should require little argument to show him the folly of his ways and induce him to throw up the sponge for good. Yes, we surely can count on the farmer to strike.

And as to the housewives, the two millions of them in this broad, munificent but down-trodden land, bless 'em, wouldn't they shoulder their brooms and rolling-pins and join the great free and evermore-to-be-untrammeled throng? Who of them is not heartily tired of working an hour before breakfast, all day and on into the night, three hundred and sixty-five and a quarter days a year, without pay or pension?

What a grand parade it would make! The undertaker could be there because he objects to having his hours of rest broken, and for the first time have his countenance wreathed in the happy smile of emancipation. The teachers and the school children united in a common cause could forget the troubles of the three R's, and the restaurant proprietors and boarding house mistresses, for want of anything else to do, could carry the banners.

A gay, a wondrous and care-free life in all the days to come! We wouldn't have to bother about meals, there'd be no food to eat; no more trouble about clothes, there'd be no clothes to wear; daylight saving could go hang. We wouldn't have to care when we went to bed or when we got up, and anyway we wouldn't have any bed to go to.

It's a happy thought and is not copyrighted. We would immediately vote all members of Parliament into the strike column, and get all civil servants, including the copyright office, into line.

Sure, let every last mother's son of us and son's mother and daughter's dad and dad's daughter snatch up the spirit of these glorious times and strike.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Not a few people believe that Premier Hearst is double-crossing the bar.

Anyway, we shall watch for a while to see whether food prices come down or merely loop the loop.

What a lot of people in Canada will be able to say: "I shook the hand of the man who shook the hand of the prince."

No, prohibition is not driving the W.C.T.U. out of business. The Ohio organization has turned its attention to low-neck gowns and tobacco.

Let us hope the memorial to Sir Wilfrid Laurier will not have to wait for a century for consummation, as in the case of George Etienne Cartier.

General Pershing seemed anxious to start another argument when he told newspaper men the American doughboys were the best fighters in the world. If he had said "as good as the best" we might let him get away with it.

It is estimated that since the signing of the armistice 900,000 emigrants have sailed from New York, most of them bound for their homes in Southern Europe. They had with them an average of $3,000 each, saved from their wages in the States.

A United States consular report says: "There is little reason why flax production and spinning, with the complementary industry of linen weaving, should not become one of Canada's important industries. In view of this, Ontario's leadership in the enterprise of a self-contained linen industry is especially interesting."

About 3,500,000 persons paid income tax to the British Government out of a population of 40,000,000, says the Financial Post. This is, roughly, ten per cent. In Canada payments were made by about one-half of one per cent. It is evident that the possibilites of this form of increasing our revenue have only been scratched.

W. A. Beddoe, Canadian trade commissioner to New Zealand, told the Border Cities Chamber of Commerce that there was a large field for reciprocal trade between Canada and the land of the Maori. In 1918 Canada's exports to New Zealand amounted to $5,000,000, chiefly canned fish, lumber, furniture, wearing apparel, nails, wire, motor cars, paper, boots and shoes and pianos. New Zealand on the other hand sent $8,000,000 worth of goods to this country, of which $5,000,000 was represented by wool. New Zealand's chief exports are in commodities in which Canada should excel, the main industry being stock-raising, and yet Canada needs to import.

LITLE TRINKET OF TIN.

By R. Ray Baker.

Equipped with $100 and a horseshoe Clarence Archibald Creston Kennelworth was set adrift amid the cold currents of success seekers.

The capital with which he was expected to wrest wealth from the world was the gift of his father. The token of luck was from the girl he expected some time to marry.

The words accompanying the banknotes ran something like this:

"I gave you the chance to work in these steel mills and climb the ladder on the rungs of experience. That's the way I did it, and you could have done as well. Of course I'm only president of the company, but that is not so bad when you consider I had no education. But you insisted on a course at the university, and now you have it. Here's a hundred cash. Harness it to your learning and try to make good at something. If you fail just come back and own up to it, and I'll give you the same job you could have had four years ago—without the college course."

The horseshoe came into Clarence's possession that night when he called on Magdeline Osborne to tell her their wedding would have to be postponed "another hundred years," because his father had refused to make him a manager in the mills, and now he would have to learn how to do something, and then do it until he had enough money to finance a voyage on the matrimonial sea.

"I thought you learned how to do things at college," Magdeline observed in sympathetic tones.

He grinned through his frown of despair.

"That's where you thought wrong. The only things I learned in college were football and baseball. To be frank, Mag, the only way I ever passed my examinations was with the assistance of that master partner—luck. In fact I just bluffed my way through, studying very little. I've always been a good bluffer and had my share of luck, but—you can't bluff father."

Magdeline smiled with the dawn of an idea, excused herself and left the room, returning with a horseshoe about the size of a half dollar.

"It's not silver," she assured him, "although it does have a good shine. It's just tin, but the little trinket has been in our family for many generations and has always brought luck to the possessor. I want you to wear it, and it will help your usual luck and bluff to make good."

Clarence attached the token to his watchchain and somehow it seemed to give him confidence.

"I'll make good at something," he promised, as he took his leave. "Until I get a good start though you'll not hear from me."

Clarence did not deserve the calumnious chain of names that fettered him. Ancestors on his mother's branches of the family tree were to blame. If he had been blessed with names befitting his appearance and personality they would have been something like John Sam Hank Brown. As it was his friends had taken his initials and coined "Cack" for his nickname.

He was a healthy specimen of twenty-three, with six feet of height and a generous girth. While not exactly handsome, he was attractive, with twinkling blue eyes, a mouthful of shiny teeth, a mop of light brown hair that looked rusty and a Roman nose, which, although larger than necessary, never got in the way. He was not corpulent by any means, but was chunky, and walked with a rolling gait that would mark him for a sailor, although he had never seen an ocean.

Before hunting a job "Cack" felt it necessary to eat, so he hunted a restaurant, and seating himself at a table, picked up a newspaper. An account of a murder drew his attention.

"The detectives still are looking for clues," he read. A cough at his shoulder apprised him of the presence of a waiter.

"By George!" he exclaimed, mentally. "I'm going to be a detective."

"Bring me some hash," he told the waiter.

II.

On the ninth floor of a nine-story building Detective Cack waited for clients. His office rent came cheap because he was willing to trust himself in Room 13.

Kennelworth's Detective Agency was advertised in both the local papers, but at the beginning of the agency's second week of existence these advertisements had done more than flatten the firm's pocketbook. Numerous incidentals of expense, including a license to "detect," had eaten the hundred, and Clarence was worrying about his next meal.

Across the street two men on a scaffold were painting a smoked ham on the brick wall of a building. Clarence watched with wistful eyes, puffing viciously on his pipe.

"I can't stand it," he finally decided, and pulled the shade over the window, shutting the ham from view. "I'll have to give it up and call on father."

He reached for the telephone, but before he could lift the receiver the bell rang. It startled him and he sat for half a minute as though dazed, then cautiously answered.

"Hello! This is Clar—Kennelworth's Detective Agency."

"This is George Dillingham," said a harsh voice. "Rush a detective out to my summer residence—469 Clifford avenue. Somebody lifted $10,000 from the safe."

Detective Cack gulped hard, then gasped:

"I'll be right—I'll send my best man right out."

He returned the receiver to its resting place, bounced to his feet, snatched his hat from the wall, raised the window blind and gazed gloatingly at the ham for a second, then ran all the way down the eight flights of stairs to the street and hailed a trolley car.

"I'm engaging a private detective against the advice of my son-in-law," announced Mr. Dillingham, pulling at his white goatee, spreading his short legs far apart and glaring fiercely through powerful-lensed spectacles.

"Better have kept the whole thing quiet," snorted the son-in-law, biting viciously into a cigar. He was of about Clarence's own age, and with a quick, nervous manner. His face appeared never without a sneer, for his features were built that way. He lighted the cigar. "What's a mere $10,000 to raise a rumpus about?"

"Then thousand's ten thousand," observed the practical Mr. Dillingham.

The son-in-law shrugged his shoulders and left the library. Mr. Dillingham approached the criminal apprehender, who was examining the dial on the safe.

"I'm against detectives myself," confided the head of the house, "but I've got to show Mr. Petty—that's my son-in-law—he's not running things. However, you've got to work on my terms—five hundred dollars if you catch the robber and nothing if you fail."

Clarence's heart slid into his shoes and a smoked ham he had been visioning did a movie fadeout. However, he stretched himself to his full six feet and glared haughtily at his prospective "customer."

"Those are always my terms," he said, with dignity and added: "I have never failed on a case."

Mr. Dillingham related what he knew of the robbery. While discussing a business deal with his son-in-law, which necessitated opening the safe to examine some papers, he had been called from the library. Mr. Petty's call of "Help! Stop thief!" had brought him back on the run, and he had found the son-in-law lying on the floor, his coat partly torn off, pointing to the window and groaning, "He went through the window."

Glancing out the aperture in question Mr. Dillingham had seen no one. An examination of the safe had disclosed that ten thousand dollars was missing. "Have you a clue?" he asked Clarence, concluding his story.

Detective Cack smiled enigmatically. "Call the servants," he directed.

One or all of the servants might have been guilty, and Clarence Archibald Creston Kennelworth would not have suspected it, after the straightforward stories they told. He was honest himself and had not yet learned to distrust others.

III.

Pelling Mr. Dillingham he was following a clue, Clarence left the house, outwardly confident, but inwardly dejected.

"I'm no good," he confided to himself, as he trudged down the lane leading from the Dillingham domicile. The sun had just sunk below the earth's rim, and the lane was grey with gathering darkness except for a few vagrant rays of twilight that sifted through the interlacing boughs above.

"I can see myself crawling back to father—or starving," said Detective Cack, filling his pipe. He paused close to a big tree, and opened his metal matchbox, but it was empty. Clicking it shut in disgust, his hand came in contact with the tin horseshoe on his watch chain. A shaft of light struck the trinket and was reflected against the tree.

"Don't shoot," pleaded a trembling voice behind the tree. "I give up."

The form of a man, cringing and trembling, slunk forth. Clarence drew out his electric flash and let loose a flood of light. Before him stood Mr. Petty, a traveling bag in his hand.

"The ten thousand's in the bag," he said "I was trying to beat it, but I saw you coming and dodged behind the tree. When I heard you cock that gun, and saw the light reflect from the barrel, I decided it was time to quit."

Half an hour later Detective Archibald Creston Kennelworth, with $500 in his pocket, was regaling himself with smoked ham. Another half hour passed before he was ringing the doorbell at the home of Magdeline Osborne.

Six Unusual Ways To Use Oranges.

Keep oranges on hand constantly and you will have the basis for giving some uniquely flavored dish to change the menu slightly. For while the best way to serve them may be whole or sliced, chilled, in order to get the refreshing flavor of the fruit, oranges may be used as a flavoring to improve very much an otherwise common dish.

Orange Omelet.

3 eggs.
2 oranges.
2 tablespoonfuls of sugar.
Dash of salt.

To the beaten egg yolks, one-half cupful of orange juice is added, grated orange rind, sugar and salt. The stiffly beaten whites are folded in, and the omelet put in hot buttered pan. When ready to serve it is placed on hot platters, topped by sliced orange.

Cabbage and Orange Salad.

2 cupfuls or shredded cabbage.
Pulp of 1 orange.
1 teaspoonful of orange peel grated.

Mix together the cabbage and orange pulp, pour over it a salad dressing. Sprinkle with orange peel.

Sour Orange Dressing.

2 egg yolks.
½ cupful of powdered sugar.
½ teaspoonful of salt.
Juice of 1 sour orange.

Egg yolks are beaten until thick, then sugar and salt is added and beating is continued until the sugar dissolves, when the orange juice is added. This is a very nice dressing for the cabbage and orange salad.

Orange and Sausage.

2 oranges.
½ cupful of sugar.
Sausages.

Boil the sugar with one-half cupful of water, then drop in oranges, which have been peeled and sliced, and cook for about 10 or 15 minutes. Grate some of the orange peel.

Prick sausages and boil for 20 minutes, then brown in frying pan. Mound the orange preparation in centre of dish, sprinkle grated orange peel on top and arrange browned sausages around.

Cold Meat Orange Dressing.

2 egg yolks.
Juice of 1 sour orange.
2 tablespoonfuls of olive oil.
1 teaspoonful of tarragon vinegar.
1 teaspoonful of sugar.
Grated orange peel.

Beat the egg yolks. Mix in all ingredients thoroughly, except the orange juice, which is added last and poured in very slowly.

Orange Pudding.

3 cupfuls of cold rice.
1 quart of milk.
½ cupful of sugar.
¼ cupful of chopped suet.
1 orange.
3 eggs.

Boil the rice in milk. Then add the sugar, suet and juice and grated peel of orange, also the well-beaten egg. This must be mixed together thoroughly and then baked in a buttered pudding mold.

Rev. Clayton Moorehouse and Mrs. Moorehouse are visitors with Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Boomer.

Mrs. J. S. Niven, Colborne street, has returned home, after spending the summer at Georgian Bay and visiting in Toronto with her daughter.

Miss Violet Thornycraft of Leamington has returned home after spending a week with her friend, Miss Nettie Thomas of Hellmuth avenue.

Mrs. Fred Brickenden (formerly Miss Ruth Flanders) will receive at the home of Mrs. C. F. Brickenden, 325 Queen's avenue, on Wednesday afternoon, September 17.

BAIN—McKAY.

On Thursday afternoon, September 11, at 5 o'clock, a quiet and pretty wedding was solemnized at Knox Church, Embro, when Miss Adaline Pearl McKay, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. McKay was united in marriage to Mr. James W. Bain of Woodstock, Rev. E. G. Warren officiating. To the strains of the wedding march, played by Miss Jimsie Kennedy, the bride entered the church on the arm of her father. She looked charming in a navy blue garbardine suit with fur trimming, with a small navy blue hat to match, carrying a beautiful bouquet of roses. They were unattended. The church was beautifully decorated with asters, gladious and smilax. A wedo fthe bride's parents. The newlywedded motored to Woodstck and then to Toronto, takling the boat trip to Montreal. They will reside in Woodstock.

SNELGROVE—GUSTIN.

A very pretty wedding took place on Wednesday, September 10, at 2 p.m., in New St. Paul's Church, Woodstock, the Rev. T. Barton Howard of Tillsonburg officiating, of Gladys Veronica, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Nelson Gustin, to Mr. Wilfred L. Snelgrove, son of Mrs. F. H. Harrison, 136 Roxborough street west, Toronto.

The bride, who was given away by her father, looked charming in a gown of white kitten's-ear satin with court train, and trimmed with touches of silver, pearls and orange blossoms. Her veil was beautifully arranged in cap effect. She carried a shower bouquet of sweetheart roses.

Mrs. Harold Steele of Toronto, as matron of honor, was smartly gowned in apricot satin and black picture hat, and carried Ophelia roses.

Miss Vera Malone, cousin of the bride, and Miss Helen McCord, of Toronto, were bridesmaids. Miss Malone looked handsome in apple-green satin, veiled in georgette, and wore a black picture hat with ostrich tips and streamers of black velvet.

Miss McCord wore a beautiful gown of orchid satin with black picture hat trimmed with ostrich tips and black velvet streamers. They each carried nosegay bouquets.

Miss Kathleen McGachie, gowned in midnight blue pan velvet, and carrying pink asters, sang "O Promise Me" before the ceremony, and during the signing of the register, "Because."

The bridegroom was supported by his cousin, Mr. Percy Webb of Toronto. The ushers were Mr. Earl Gustin, Mr. Frank Dengate and Mr. Stewart Webb.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride. Mrs. Gustin received, wearing a handsome gown of Bordeaux velvet with touches of ostrich feathers, hat to match, and corsage of Ophelia roses. Mrs. Harrison wore a beautiful gown of silver-grey charmeuse with black hat.

After the reception Mr. and Mrs. Snelgrove left by motor for the Eastern States, the bride traveling in a smart navy blue suit and hat of purple. On their return they will reside at 26 Summerhill Gardens, Toronto.

McLEAN—HODGINS.

A very pretty event took place on Wednesday, September 10, at Trinity Church, Birr, at high noon, when Anna Pearle, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Hodgins, was united in marriage to James Calvin McLean of London Township. The church was beautifully decorated, and filled with many friends of the young couple. The ceremony was solemnized by Rev. Arthur Shore, rector of the church.

The bride, who looked charming in a gown of duchess satin with a tulle veil with orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of Sweetheart roses, entered the church on the arm of her father. The wedding march was played by Ida Hodgins, sister of the bride, and little Miss Henrietta Hodgins, cousin of the bride, acted as flower girl. After the ceremony the guests returned to the bride's home and partook of a dainty wedding breakfast.

The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl sunburst, to the flower girl a bracelet, and to the organist a ring.

The happy couple left by motor amid showers of confetti to London, where they took the train for Hamilton and other eastern points, the bride traveling in a navy blue suit with picture hat. On their return Mr. and Mrs. McLean will reside on the groom's farm at Elginfield.

DAVID'S TRIP WITH GOCOMEBACK

Saturday was always trimming day at the little clothing shop where David lived alone with his daddy. And as there was no one else to fix the show windows David's daddy had to do it himself, and David had to mind the store.

On rainy days David didn't mind. But one Saturday his boy friends were all going for a tramping trip, and David couldn't go because the window had to be trimmed.

"Oh, I wished we lived where they didn't have any old show windows!" he cried crossly, when daddy asked him to mind the shop.

"Tut! Tut!" laughed a squeaky voice, and David turned to see his little elfin friend, Gocomeback, smiling at him from the counter. "You don't wish anything of the sort!"

"Indeed I do!" replied David. "I hate the old show windows. But I guess every country's got them."

"No they haven't," laughed Gocomeback. "In fact, I was just on my way to a country where show windows are never seen. Come along if you doubt my word."

"I don't doubt your word," laughed David. "But I'd love to go just the same," and he caught hold of the elfin's hand and away they sailed through the air until at last they reached a strange city which Gocomeback told David was Canton, the great city of Southern China.

The river in front of the city was covered with boats of every description. The houseboats were ranged in tiers and formed regular streets along the banks of the river.

The city itself was surrounded by high walls and the streets were narrow and crooked.

"Where in the world are the sidewalks?" asked David, who had never seen such a queer looking place.

"Don't need any," replied Gocomeback, "for there are no horses or wagons used here at all."

Crowds of natives thronged the streets, and David and Gocomeback followed after some of them.

They turned into a street narrower than any they had yet seen. This was the shopping district. The buildings were very low, and all the shops were open to the street, and every shop was a factory where rare and costly Chinese wares were made and sold. Some workers were making paper umbrellas, some were carving fans and lanterns, while others were carving ivory or weaving beautiful silks.

But nowhere could David see a show window, for the whole front of each shop was open to the street.

"Here we are in the city where there are no show windows to trim," laughed Gocomeback. "Do you think you'd like a shop like this back home?"

"I don't believe I would!" laughed David, shaking his head. "For then I'd always have to be right there for fear someone would walk away with something while daddy was waiting on someone else. No, I'm not very fond of keeping store while Daddy's trimming the window, but I believe I'd rather have a show window."

Gocomeback laughed merrily, and back they flew to the little shop just as David's daddy finished the window, and daddy hadn't missed David at all. Bidding Gocomeback good-by David ran out to join his friends.

GIRLS! YOU CAN LIFT THEM OFF

Doesn't hurt a bit to lift your sore, touchy corns right out

A noted Cincinnati authority discovered a new ether compound and called it freezone and a quarter ounce of it now can be had for a few cents at any drug store.

You simply apply a few drops of this magic freezone upon a tender corn or painful callus, and instantly the soreness disappears, then shortly you will find the corn or callus so loose that you can lift it off with the fingers.

You feel no pain, not a particle of soreness, either when applying freezone or afterwards, and it doesn't even irritate the skin.

Hard corns, soft corns or corns between the toes, also toughened calluses just shrivel up and lift off so easy. It is wonderful! It works like a charm. Try it!

Women should keep it on their dressers and never let a corn ache twice.

R. D. McDONAELD'S RINK WINS ON PLUS SCORE

There was a large turnout of trundlers at the Thistle Club greens Saturday afternoon. R. D. McDonald skipped the winning rink, with C. B. McLean a close second, both rinks winning all their games, but the former had the larger plus score.

The usual Monday night tournament will be held this evening, the draw being made at 7:15. This may be the last Monday evening tournament this season, and early entries are desired.

Saturday's scores:

C. White	Mr. Mercer
N. H. Humphries	C. Jarvis
L. E. Barrie	R. W. Youngs
C. B. McLean, sk.	R. D. McDonald, sk.
Won 3, plus 13.	Won 3, plus 18.

The games committee of the Thistle Bowling Club announces a Scotch doubles tournament, for members of the Thistle Club only, for next Saturday afternoon. As only ten greens are available the draw will be made when the first twenty pairs are entered. Messrs. Johnson & Barbour are donating two sets of handsome prizes for the winner and runner-up. Play will start at 2 p.m. sharp. Three 12-end games will be played, and plus and minus score will govern. It is provided, however, that the plus or minus score on any one game shall be limited to twelve points. In order to equalize the playing strength of each pair it is also provided that at least one player of each pair must be a member whose club handicap does not exceed five. Beyond this provision the handicap system will not be used. All entries to be made with the secretary, O. C. Barrie, phone 5594 or 3670. As the entry is limited to twenty pairs, do not delay.

DE PALMA MAKE TRACK RECORD AT TORONTO.

On Saturday, Sept. 6, for the first time in Canadian history, a world's speed champion in the person of Ralph De Palma, raced against time and previous records on a Canadian track. The event took place on the half mile dirt track at the Exhibition Park, Toronto, the feat being witnessed by 20,000 spectators, who breathlessly watched De Palma as he tore around the track. He thrilled the tense onlookers by establishing a new exhibition track record, when he reeled off 5 miles in 5 minutes and 42 second, and 1 mile in 1:06 4-5. He also drove a half mile in 20 seconds with a flying start, doing the same distance in 38 3-5 seconds with a standing start. It was a truly wonderful sight, this racing against time. A slight mishap would have meant certain destruction. Nothing happened, however, to mar the perfect running of his machine, which was equipped with the famous Goodyear Cord tires. It is more intersting, in view of the fact that a dirt track is one of the "heaviest" and hardest tracks to race on.

Manhattans Champs; Shut Out Orients

Manhattans Take City Championship Saturday in 7—0 Game—Clark, Pitching For Winners, Gives Orients Only Two Hits—Champs Get Twelve.

Manhattans took the city championship and sweet revenge for the drubbing they received a week ago, by shutting out the Orient crew 7 to 0 in the final game for the city honors at Tecumseh Park; Saturday afternoon. Clark hurling for the Manhattans, allowed but two hits of the scratchy variety, while Flint was being touched up for twelve healthy wallops, and endured rather weird support at critical stages.

The game was a complete reversal of form, with the exception that the Orients, when they started their ascension around about the third inning, did not go up so far or fast as the Manhattans managed to do a short week before. The new champs practically played errorless ball, except for the one pardonable slip-up credited to McCormick, who tried for a wide one and dropped it. Clark's performance was good all through, and he had the Orients tame for most of the pastime. Flint, with ten strikeouts to his credit, pitched good enough ball to have made the game closer, but his offerings were combed for well placed hits at wrong junctures. Hank Downs decorated both the right and left sun fields during the game, but his shadow covered more ground than he did.

The score boy was getting lazy until the third, when Clark reached first on an error and journeyeed to third as Gillies heaved one over that sack. Doherty got to second when Flint and Burgess went after the ball. MacFie's single brought Clark home, for the first tally, and Brake's error put Doherty home, and permitted Robinson to pilfer second. Tozer limped out to the plate just here and collected a two-bagger, scoring Macfie and Robinson. In the fourth again, after two men had whiffed, loose fielding and a pass let Doherty and Macfie on, and Doherty scored on Robinson's bingle. In the fifth frame, Tozer, Jeffries and Arnott singled, Clark forced, and Toots Doherty came through with a single, driving in the last and seventh count. In their last half of the ninth, the Orients had yearnings to change the white paint idea, and Burgess managed to get to third after a single. Armstrong flied out, and Cline and Down both whiffed and the threat was over.

HOLD FIRST TOURNEY.

BRANTFORD, Sept. 14.—The Brantford Bowling Association is holding the first open tourney on September 17 and 18, and have already received 76 entries for the same. At a meeting Saturday night it was decided to hold the time for entering open until Monday at 4 p.m. The event promises to be the biggest in bowling ever attempted locally, and it is planned to make it an annual one.

VICTORIA TAKES LACROSSE CHAMPIONSHIP TO COAST

Pegs Wilt Before Westerner's Fast Attack in Last Period.

WINNIPEG, Man., Sept. 14.—The amateur lacrosse championship of the world remains at the coast. The Victoria team decisively defeated Winnipeg 17 to 7 in the final game of the championship turney here Saturday afternoon and retained the honrs.

The game was much harder fought than the score would indicate, but the visitors had the finish and simply ran away from the locals in the last two periods of the play.

The Pegs had a good share of the play in the early stages, and at half time were out of luck to be down 9 to 5, but they wilted badly before the fast attack of the vistors in the closing periods.

JOIE RAY BREAKS MILE RECORD AT A. U. U. MEET

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Sept. 13. — The New York Athletic Club won the annual senior track and field championship of the National Amateur Athletic Union on Franklin Field here today with a team score of 46 points. The Chicago A. C. was second with 40 points and the Illinois A. C. third with 26 points. Fourth place went to the Boston A. A., with 21 points.

Two National A. A. U. records were broken. In the one-mile run Joie Ray of the Illinois A. C., bettered his own record for 4 minutes 18 2-5 seconds, made in 1917, by 4 seconds.

While the team showing of the N. Y. A. C. was the feature of the meet, the work of Joie Ray bordered on the sensational. Following his victory in the mile, he came back and won the half-mile in 1:45, only two seconds behind the National A. A. U. record. Later he ran as anchor on the Illinois A. C. team in the four-mile relay race, which team easily won first place. His time in this race was 4:34.

In the course of the meet eleven champions were dethroned.

MAN-O'-WAR WINS BELMONT FUTURITY; LEADS ALL THE WAY

Whitney's Whiskbroom Second, With Dominique Third Out of Fast Field of Ten.

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—Samuel D. Riddle's chestnut colt Man-o'-War, by Fair Play-Mahuba, won the classic futurity over the six furlong straightaway course at Belmont Park today, having led from start to finish in 1:11 3-5.

Harry Payne Whitney's Whiskbroom colt John P. Grier finished second, three lengths behind the winner, and five lengths in front of Samuel C. Hildreth's Dominique, which got third money.

The champion will not be seen under silks again this year, as he will be given a rest until he is ready to begin his three-year-old career next season.

GUM TENDERNESS —A TOOTH-MENACE

It is true that four out of five people over forty suffer from gum-shrinkage, or Pyorrhea (Riggs' Disease). But many people even under thirty have Pyorrhea. Women, particularly after the baby comes, are peculiarly subject to Pyorrhea. At such time they cannot be too careful about their teeth.

Pyorrhea commences with tender gums, or with gum-bleeding, at tooth-brush time. Gradually the gums become spongy. They inflame and then shrink. The teeth become exposed to decay at the base and tiny openings in the gums become the breeding places of disease germs which infect the joints—or tonsils—or cause other ailments.

Beware of that first gum tenderness! Try Forhan's for the gums. It positively prevents Pyorrhea, if used in time and used consistently. No ordinary tooth paste will do this.

And Forhan's cleans teeth scientifically as well. Brush your teeth with it. It keeps the teeth white andclean.

If gum-shrinkage has already set in, start using Forhan's and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

35c and 60c tubes. All druggists.

GUELPH PARTRIDGES GO INTO O.A.B.A. SEMI-FINALS

BRANTFORD, Sept. 14.—By the score of 13 to 5 the Patridge baseball team of Guelph defeated the Slingsby of Brantford Saturday and qualified for the semi-finals in the O. A. B. A., with either Toronto or Hamilton. The Brantford team led until the fifth inning, when the visitors went in and in three successive frames scored four runs. Oheron of the Slingsby team was effective until the sixth, when he went to pieces, after an argument with umpire McGonnigle. The Partridges decisively took both games from the Brantford O. A. B. A. champions and looked like a strong team. Murphy had a sharp curve and good control, while the outfield did fine work, particularly O'Connor and Carroll. The score: R. H. E.

Gotham To Have Rival To English National Club

Jimmy Wild Expected To Appear at Opening of Now $50,000 Clubhouse.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—The formation of a membership boxing club, which will include among its sponsors and supporters some of the most prominent men of the country, was announced here Saturday. The new organization will be known as the International Sporting Club of New York, and will be modeled to some extent along the lines of the famous National Sporting Club of London, England. Plans for the erection of a $500,000 clubhouse, to be located in the heart of the city, are in the hands of contractors, and it is expected to open the arena early in February with an international bout, in which Jimmy Wilde, the English flyweight champion of the world, will be one of the contenders.

The club will operate under a charter from the army, navy and civilian board of boxing control.

WOODSTOCK COLLEGE IN INTERSCHOLASTIC LEAGUE

GALT, Sept. 14.—In the first game of a post-series of three games to decide the city baseball league championship St. Pats defeated the Gardiners 5—3.

The Taylor-Forbes soccer team of Guelph defeated the Trinity eleven in a Mac and Casey cup game yesterday 4—1. There was no scoring in the first half, both teams being evenly matched, but in the second period when Murray, one of the local backs, was forced to retire as a result of a kick in the knee, the locals went to pieces and the visitors on beautiful combination play, had the best of the play.

Woodstock Collegiate has again entered the Inter-Scholastic Rugby League, and at an organization meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Saturday afternoon had representatives present. Four teams comprise the league this year—Brantford, Guelph, Woodstock and Galt. It was decided to play O. R. F. U. rules, and the winner of the league will go into the inter-scholastic semi-finals. The following officers were elected:

President, R. S. Hamilton, Galt; vice-president, W. J. Salter, Woodstock; secretary-treasurer, E. H. C. Worden, Guelph.

The schedule follows:

SPRING SUDDEN ELECTION DATE TO TRAP VOTERS

James Day, Toronto, Warns N. Waterloo Reform Convention.

N. ASMUSSEN CANDIDATE

Nominated To Represent Independent Reform Association at Prov. Election.

KITCHENER, Sept. 13.—At a most enthusiastic convention of the Independent Reform Association of North Waterloo here this afternoon, Ald. Nicholas Asmussen of Kitchener, president of the association was unanimously nominated to represent the party as candidate for the Ontario Legislature in the provincial election. He was opposed for the nomination of George Schnarr of Kitchener, but received the approval of the convention on the first ballot, the vote being 74 to 13. Intermediately upon the announcement of the vote, Mr. Schnarr moved that the selection be made unanimous and pledged his support to Mr. Asmussen. His motion was seconded by John Fischer of Waterloo and carried. Others nominated were Mayor W. H. Kutt of Waterloo, Rev. August Jansen of Centreville and John Fischer. They withdrew.

James Day of Toronto and W. D. Euler, M. P. for North Waterloo, were the principal speakers. H. Hartley Dewart was unable to attend. A. L. Bitzer was elected permanent secretary. In a speech which was punctuated with sharp criticism of both the Dominion Government and the Hearst Government, James E. Day of Toronto told the convention that the great duty of Liberals of North Waterloo is to support a man who is close to the rank and file of the people, so that the voters might have every assurance of the sincerity of the Liberals of Ontario in their efforts to make effective a platform, the chief aim of which is to secure an eight-hour day and better conditions for the workingman. He later congratulated the convention on the selection of Mr. Asmussen, declaring the candidate to be a man of the common people.

Spring Date Suddenly.

Mr. Day declared that the association had been wise in not delaying the matter of nominating a candidate, as the date of the election will be sprung on the people by the Hearst Government at an unexpected moment in the hope that the suddenness may catch the voters napping. Mr. Day predicted that the elections would be held October 9, the same day as the referendum, as Sir William Hearst was gambling on going back to power on a wave of prohibition sentiment. The date of the elections is not known, he declared, because things have reached a stage in Ontario when despots can dictate to the people the date on which they can exercise their right of suffrage.

He declared that practically every democratic tradition and principle had been outraged by Hearst and Borden. Mr. Day declared that Hearst is not the selected leader of the Conservatives. He was appointed by the lieutenant-governor and indirectly by the King. He declared that Hearst had refused the call for a Conservative convention in Ontario because the matter of a leader might be brought up. This, according to some Conservatives, would be improper, because Sir William was indirectly chosen by King George to succeed Whitney. Mr. Day emphatically declared that the day was past when the King could dictate the leader of a political party.

MORE HEARST MANIPULATION.

The creation of profiteers by the Borden Government and the refusal to prosecute them by the Hearst Government, was another sample of manipulation and autocracy which if it were put over in Europe would spread Bolshevism over the entire continent. Another sample of the sins of the Hearst regime was cited in the stoppage of the regular train schedule on the C. N. R. so that the trains could be used for the Hearst people. Party domination of Government-owned railways should be stopped, declared Mr. Day.

W. D. Euler attacked the Government in connection with the ratification of the peace treaty, dwelling at some length in opposition to clause No. 1. He also flayed the postoffice department for appointing Major Sinclair of Toronto to the vacancy in the local postoffice, declaring that the appointment might have been given to a Kitchener returned soldier. He expressed the hope that since the Government had not seen fit to appoint by promotion, the returned soldiers of Kitchener would protest against an outsider being given the position. Mr. Euler intimated the appointment was patronage under a returned soldier camouflage.

NURSING SISTER DIES.

A pall of gloom has been cast over Freeport Hospital owing to the rather sudden death of Nursing Sister Alice Crusdale. Miss Crusdale was on duty at the institution up to Tuesday evening. Wednesday she was taken suddenly ill and was removed to the Guelph General Hospital. This morning she passed away. Paralysis of the heart being the cause of her death. She was an overseas nurse for two years. Her home is in Waterford. Surviving are her parents, two sisters and two brothers.

BICYCLE THEFT.

John Hammer, 20, and Elden Dale, 17, were remanded in police court here this morning after pleading guilty to the theft o fthree bicycles. The boys took the wheels from in front of a theatre, changed the parts and later sold them.

CATHOLIC PARADE.

About 1,000 Catholics representing the various Catholic societies of Kitchener and Waterloo turned out this afternoon in one of the most interesting religious demonstrations ever witnessed in the twin cities. All of the Catholic societies of St. Mary's Church, Kitchener, including the Knights of Columbus, the Canadian Order of Foresters, the C. M. B. A., the St. Boniface Society and the Holy Name Society marched from Kitchener, meeting the Catholic societies of Waterloo midway between the two places. The parade then proceeded to St. Louis Church, Waterloo, where solemn benediction was celebrated, followed by a sermon on the Holy Name by Rev. Wilbert Meyer. The demonstration was held under the auspices of the Holy Name Society of Waterloo. It will be made an annual affair in future.

Earl of Athlone Next Governor-General of Canada, Says Report

LONDON, Sept. 13.—The Earl of Athlone, brother of Queen Mary, will be appointed Governor-General of Canada next summer, in succession to the Duke of Devonshire, the present incumbent, according to the National News.

FARMER-LABOR MEN WILL RUN IN S. WATERLOO

W. G. Elliott Federal Candidate, Ald. Karl Homuth Provincial Choice.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

GALT, Sept. 14.—A joint convention of the U. F. O. and Independent Labor party of South Waterloo was held Saturday afternoon in Bernhardt's hall at Preston, with about 300 delegates in attendance, representing all urban and rural districts of the riding.

By a previous arrangement the U. F. O. was allowed the nomination of the candidate for the Federal House, while the Independent Labor party had the provincial choice to itself. As a result of the convention, W. G. Elliott, farmer, Spragues road, Galt, was the unanimous choice for the Federal House.

Ald. Karl Homuth of Preston was the choice of the convention as candidate for the coming provincial election. There were five nominations, and R. Harrison of Galt being the only one to withdraw. Both candidates addressed the meeting for ten minutes.

Free Education.

Some of the chief points in the platform of the two parties are free and compulsory education, free education in all institutions supported by the Government, free text books, public ownership of all public utilities and natural resources, nationalization of banking and credit systems, direct legislation through the initiative, referendum and recall, equal pay for equal work, abolition of property qualifications for municipal offices, abolition of all election deposits, abolition of the senate, adequate equal pensions be granted to all disabled soldiers, either officers or men, or their widows or dependents, old age, pensions, pensions for mothers and dependent children.

GRATUITY QUESTION.

In Jackson Park this afternoon a rousing meeting was held by the G. W. V. A. to discuss the gratuity demands of the veterans. About 400 returned men, with their band, and about 200 civilians, were on hand. Comrade Soulsby of Guelph in an address, criticized the Government for not granting the gratuity demanded and better pensions for widows, which had been promised.

Offsetting the excuse of the Government that the country could not afford to give the sums asked, the speaker declared the country would have had to pay the amount had the war lasted another year. He also said profiteers who became rich on the war should be forced to give up their excessive profits.

Comrades C. J. Hancock, G. Dimmock and W. Sutton all local men, also spoke. A resolution was then passed asking the Government to appoint a commission to investigate, and soliciting the support of citizens for the G. W. V. A. in its demands.

MOTORS CRASH; ONE MAN DIES, SEVERAL HURT

[Special to The Advertiser.]

BRANTFORD, Sept. 14.—Dr. Charles Duncombe of St. Thomas was killed this afternoon in an auto accident five miles out of Brantford on the Cockshutt road. Mrs. (Dr.) O. M. Duncombe of Waterford, his sister-in-law, lies in the Brantford General Hospital in a most critical condition, and her life is despaired of as a result of the accident. Dr. Duncombe of Waterford, brother of the deceased, was injured in the wreck, suffering a dislocated shoulder and a badly-cut face.

The accident happened at the McGill tract when an automobile containing a number of employees of the Brandon Shoe Company of this city plunged at right angles into the car driven by Dr. Charles Duncombe. Both cars were wrecked, the occupants being strewn about the road. A cornfield at the corner intervened, causing the drivers to lose sight of each other. Both were going at a good speed.

Died In Ambulance.

The Brantford motor ambulance was rushed to the scene, and conveyed the three injured to the city. Dr. Charles Duncombe died on his way to the hospital. His wife escaped with a bad shaking-up.

Coroner Dr. Hicks, who was called, declared the condition of Mrs. O. M. Duncombe to be most critical. All the occupants in the Brandon company car escaped serious injury.

County Constable Kerr, who investigated the accident, announced tonight that an inquest would be held on the order of the crown-attorney, although relatives of the deceased doctor in this city had disinclined towards an investigation. The name of the driver of the car which ran into that of Dr. Duncombe was not available to the crown authorities tonight.

THREE HURT AT CLINTON.

CLINTON, Sept. 14.—Mr. and Mrs. Roy Plumsteel and the latter's father, Henry Plumsteel, were seriously injured about 4:30 this afternoon when the motor car in which they were riding was hit by a light engine bound for Goderich.

Mrs. Plumsteel has a fractured shoulder and is badly lacerated, and both men are badly bruised, but it is thought no bones are broken. The car is wrecked. The view is obscured at the elevator crossing, and the hind wheels of the car were hit, turning it over.

The injured persons were taken to the home of Henry Plumsteel here. They were motoring to the farm of Roy Plumsteel when the smash occurred.

VETERANS TOLD $2,000 GRATUITY IS IMPOSSIBLE

Minister of Justice Declares Amount Cannot Be Raised.

AGITATION USELESS

Judge Doherty Says Government Cannot Be Intimidated.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, Sept. 14.—Members of the Returned Soldiers' Gratuity League of Toronto who were here yesterday asking for a grant of $2,000 for veterans of the great war were turned down by the Government. Hon. C. J. Doherty told them that the country could not raise the amount they were demanding, adding that it was useless for them to continue their agitation, as the Government had made up its mind and did not intend to recede from its position. "And the Government cannot be intimidated," declared the minister of justice emphatically.

The deputation arrived by the morning train from Toronto and immediately got in touch with the prime minister. Sir Robert Borden was confined to his house with the grippe, and could not see them, but advised them to see members of the cabinet. Accordingly they proceeded to the east block and were received in the privy council chambers Saturday afternoon by Judge Doherty. Hon. Arthur Meighan and other members of the cabinet. The spokesman on behalf of the veterans were H. J. Flynn, president of the league, and Harry Rose, W. P. Gordon, H. Ainsworth and Kerns Batchelor.

Special Committee.

In reply to their demands Judge Doherty told them a special committee of Parliament would be appointed in a day or two to deal with a bill now before the House respecting the civil re-establishment of soldiers. War veterans would have an opportunity of appearing before that body and stating their views as to what was needed in the way of further gratuity and pensions to assist disabled soldiers and the families of men who were killed in action or died of wounds.

Meanwhile Col. John A. Currie, M. P. for North Simcoe, proposes to move the adjournment of the House tomorrow afternoon for the purpose of discussing a matter of urgent public importance, namely, further gratuities for soldiers. His motion will probably be ruled out of order, as Government action has been taken on the matter since he served notice on the House that he intended moving the adjournment.

Also Major D. L. Redman, M. P. for Calgary East, is going to withdraw his motion for the appointment of a royal commission. He is satisfied with the action taken by the Government Friday, when announcement was made by Mr. Rowell that a special committee would be appointed at once.

DEWART TO ADDRESS SOUTH OXFORD LIBERAL NOMINATION MEETING

TILLSONBURG, Sept. 14. — The executive of the South Oxford Reform Association held a special meeting and decided to hold a convention in Ingersoll on Thursday, September 25, to nominate a candidate for the Ontario Legislature. Among the speakers will be Hartley K. Dewart, K.C., leader of the Opposition, and W. G. Charlton, Liberal organizer for Western Ontario. South Oxford Conservatives in the meantime are making many wild guesses, and will do nothing until after this convention.

ST. MARYS MAN HIT BY C.P.R. YARD ENGINE SERIOUSLY INJURED

ST. MARYS, Sept. 14.—John Bonis, manager of the Thames Quarry Company, had several ribs broken and was cut on the head and face, and Wm. Fletcher of Water street south, was bruised in the body, when struck and thrown off the track by two cars which had been "kicked off" by a C. P. R. shunting engine. They did not notice its approach.

SEND QUESTIONNAIRE TO ALL THE BRANCHES

OTTAWA, Sept. 14.—A determined effort will be made by the Great War Veterans' Association to place before the parliamentary committee on soldiers' re-establishment all the evidence possible relating to the needs of returned soldiers. A form of special questionnaire has been telegraphed to all provincial commands, and will be printed and issued to all branches that each returned soldier may have the opportunity of presenting in detail his individual requirements. The statistics thus obtained will be classified and tabulated for presentation to the committee of the House.

German Army Said To Be in Readiness For an Attack on Poland

PARIS, Sept. 14.—(Havas).—A dispatch received here from Sosnowice, in the government of Piotrkow, Poland, asserts that a German army, comprising a minimum of 200,000 men, is concentrated on the frontier of Silesia, ready to be thrown against Poland.

WALL STREET.

New York, Sept. 15—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—The reported decision of the organized steel workers to postpone the nation-wide strike order set for September 22, accounted largely for the materially higher level of prices recorded at the opening of today's stock market. United States Steel gained only 1 point, but among steel equipments, oils, motors, shippings and tobaccos advances extended from 2 to 5 points. Reading and Texas preferred were the only railroad issues to display marked strength. Oils and equipments recorded further advances before the end of the first half hour.

Service!

Certain-teed means service in the broadest sense.

Here is a roofing that is ideally adaptable to every type of building in the city, town and country.

Here is a roofing that gives not only the most complete weather protection year after year, but that is a protection against sparks and embers.

Here is a roofing that costs less to buy, to lay and to maintain than any other type of roof.

Here is a roofing that can be quickly laid by anyone who will follow the simple directions that come with the roll.

Here is a roofing that is absolutely guaranteed 5, 10 or 15 years.

Certain-teed is made in rolls, both smooth and rough surfaced (red or green)—also in handsome red or green asphalt shingles for residences.

Certain-teed is extra quality—the name means certainty of quality and satisfaction guaran*teed*. It will pay you to get Certain-teed—most dealers sell it. Ask for Certain-teed and be sure to get it.

Certain-teed Paints and Varnishes are the highest quality. They will give the best paint satisfaction.

INTERSCHOLASTIC ASSOCIATION HOLDS MEET AT INGERSOLL

INGERSOLL, Sept. 14.—The annual meeting of the Western Ontario Interscholastic Association was held Saturday in the Woodstock Collegiate. St. Thomas Collegiate, Woodstock College and Collegiate Institute and Ingersoll Collegiate were represented. An effort will be made to enlarge the debating series and also to hold an inter-school field day. The usual senior and junior hockey competitions will be held. Officers as follows were elected: Honorary president, Hon. Finlay McDiarmid; president, J. G. McEachern, B.A., St. Thomas; first vice-president, J. M. Lawr, B.A., Woodstock Collegiate; second vice-president, Major Ralph Willcock, Woodstock College; secretary-treasurer, H. G. Lockett, M.A., Ingersoll Collegiate.

INITIATE PUPILS.

An investigation, it is understood, is likely to be made into the "initiation" which a number of new students received at the hands of senior pupils of the Collegiate Institute Friday. The "degrees" of the initiation, from what can be ascertained, consisted of haircutting, clippers being used with anything but an artistic effect, and paint being liberally applied. There is much indignation and it is rumored that police court cases may develop.

DIES SUDDENLY.

Watson Cadman, a young man of Dereham Township, died early Saturday morning. He had only been ill a few days. He was the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cadman. He was in his 31st year and a member of the Ebenezer Methodist Church. The funeral will be held Tuesday afternoon to the Ingersoll Rural Cemetery.

CLINTON I. O. O. F. HOLDS DECORATION SERVICE

CLINTON, Sept. 14.—Oddfellows held their annual decoration service here today, after which a memorial service was conducted by Rev. S. E. McKegney. The Kiltie Band was in attendance.

Excellent attendance marked the flower show held Friday and Saturday here. The exhibits were considered exceptionally high-class. No prizes were awarded, the show being solely for exhibition purposes.

SIR ROBERT BORDEN IS REPORTED BETTER

OTTAWA, Sept. 14.—Sir Robert Borden, who has been confined to his house for four or five days with an attack of influenza, is expected to be in his seat in the House of Commons on Monday or Tuesday. He was reported today to be much better.

Secrets of Health and Happiness

Hiccoughs---What They Are and How Sometimes Remedied

By DR. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG,
A. B., M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins University).

DR. HIRSHBERG

Why is a hiccough like the popping of air from a cup?" was asked me in all seriousness. The answer, of course, is that a hiccough is not like that. It is the association of ideas; of connecting a man in his cups with the other name of hiccoughs; such as "hiccups," that promoted that odd query.

It is also recalled that when you have hiccoughs or hiccups, the sudden expulsion or popping out, the belching forth of the stomach gases—gastritis, by the way, means inflammation of the "gastrum" or stomach, and has nothing to do with gases—sounds like "git up" or "git out" or "hic cup."

Be that as it may, a hiccough is a sudden, short, convulsive sucking or "breathing" in or swallowing of air attended with the characteristic sound you know. This sound is produced by the clicking together of your windpipe or palate. It is all due to a spasm-like movement of the diaphragm—the partition between the lungs above and the stomach and liver below.

The clicking together of your glottis or windpipe valve shuts off abruptly the air that is being sucked in, and several seconds elapses before the suction ceases and the "lid comes off."

Spasms of hiccoughs may last a few minutes, several hours, a day, weeks or even months. The period and the intervals depend upon the cause.

An over-full or a dilated stomach gives origin to hiccups. Hence a sot, a "pig" and a gourmand are apt to be upon terms of intimacy with this affection.

The over-distension of the stomach by eating excessively of sugar or starch, which ferment and cause an evolution of gases, all cause these paroxysms.

Very obstinate hiccoughing arises when "peritonitis" or inflammations inside the stomach walls are taking place. Therefore, when maladies of the lungs, such as pneumonia or tuberculosis extend into the abdomen, when the liver, the "diaphragm" itself, the kidneys, the appendix or other nearby tissues become covered with matter and other foreign substances, persistent hiccoughs which endures for weeks may appear.

Slight attacks of hiccoughing may be cured by drawing a deep breath and then holding it as long as you can. This causes a tone of rigidity of the "diaphragm" partition, which remains contracted beyond the intervals of hiccuping.

Similarly sipping one hundred drops of water as rapidly as possible, often interrupts the spasms and stops the nuisance.

In more severe cases the cause must be removed, the stomach appropriately washed out or treated, and if exhaustion is great, laughing gas or either must be given to produce sleep.

Answers To Health Questions

S. B. Q—What can I do for flushing and blushing?

A—Emotions, glands, substances which flow into the blood, excess of cold or heat, self-consciousness, all cause the arteries and veins to expand and thus cause flushing and blushing. If you will learn to control the muscles of your face and thereby not allow the arteries and veins to expand you will prevent the blushing and flushing.

A. B. H. Q—What can I do for improper breathing?

A—You should have your nose and throat examined by a nose and throat surgeon to find the exact cause before propert treatment can be given.

FRECKLES AND BROWNIE. Q—What can I do for falling hair?

A—A little of the following may be tried on alternate nights by rubbing into the scalp with a stiff-bristle brush:

Fluid extract pilocarpine	1 dram
Tincture of cantharides	½ dram
Tinctire of capsicum	1 dram
Quinine sulphate	1 dram
Rosewater	1 ounce
Distilled water	3 ounces

GRACE D——. Q—What can I use to darken my eyebrows and eyelashes?

2—My eyes have a darkened look. What can I do for them?

A—Perhaps one of the best ways to darken the eyelashes and eyebrows is with pomade noir, which is a dark, soft wax in a tube. Moscara is also much used.

2—A pinch of boric acid in a wineglass of water is very good for the eyes. Bathe them with this to brighten them.

Dr. Hirschberg will answer questions for readers of this paper on medical, hygienic and sanitation subjects that are of general interest. He cannot always undertake to prescribe or offer advice for individual cases. Where the subject is not of general interest letters will be answered personally, if a stamped and addressed envelope is inclosed. Address all inquiries to Dr. L. K. Hirshberg, in care of this office.

MY HEART AND MY HUSBAND

ADELE GARRISON'S NEW PHASE OF
REVELATIONS OF A WIFE

How Alice Holcombe Returned To the School.

"Where's Alice?"

Bess Dean popped her head in at the office door, saw that I was alone, came into the room and shut the door behind her.

"She's gone to the village."

"When will she be back?"

"I don't know. She may not return at all. There's nothing for her to do."

"I'll bet a cookie I know where she's gone." Miss Dean put her palms upon the rather high desk, leaped lightly to the top of it, and began swinging her feet. She evidently was in a gossipy mood, and I wished her anywhere else.

"What are you doing here?" I asked, trying to turn the conversation from Alice Holcombe. "I thought you had left with the rest of them as soon as you reported this afternoon."

Bess Dean "Digs."

"Oh, I'm trying to get in the class with Witney," she said airily. "She didn't leave until just a few minutes ago. That's the reason I proceeded cautiously until I saw you were alone. I thought perhaps she was skinning and cutting you up, and far be it from me to interfere with a lady's little diversions."

I laughed in spite of myself. Her saucy nonchalance was irresistible. I have often envied her power to throw off everything disagreeable, and at no time more than at this moment when the weight of the world seemed to be resting upon my shoulders.

"Then you've really been working," I tried to speak banteringly, but failed miserably.

"Pos-i-tive-ly. Got everything cleared up for a week. And let me tell you something—don't look for little Bessie in the morning, 'cause she's going to be sound asleep in her little bed. Oh, yes! I know the orders that old stuffed owl left today, and anybody can obey them who wants to. But not for me, dearie, not for me! You can send in a written report if you like on my absence, but they won't fire me for oversleeping, and I should worry if they dock me."

"I shall file no report unless one is asked for." I replied a bit stiffly, "and as far as I am concerned the entire staff may sleep the whole two days away."

"Don't fool yourself. Day after tomorrow we'll all have to be in evidence at that funeral with teary eyelashes and black bands on our sleeves. That's one reason why I'm going to get a good sleep tomorrow. I'll need it. If there's one thing more than another that I can't stand it's a funeral, and especially one like this will be."

I opened my lips to say that under no circumstances would I attend the funeral of Milly Stockbridge, and to express my opinion upon the bad taste of making it other than a strictly private affair, but an instant's second thought closed them again. Not to Bess Dean could I utter any confidence. I might as well paste it upon the post-office bulletin board.

"Oh, Lady, Please—"

"Oh, you can keep it to yourself!" Miss Dean tossed her head offendedly.

"What?" I asked unguardedly.

"Whatever you opened your mouth to say just now. But never mind that. Let me tell you something that you can't deny. Alice has gone to the coroner's inquest as a witness, and I know it."

"If you know it why question me?" I asked with a non-committal air.

"Just for the fun of seeing you squirm," she retorted with a malicious little laugh. "I always did enjoy seeing little goats meandering around the lawn, and your small nanny has certainly slipped its tether about now. Ta-ta. Keep your secrets, dearie, but don't think you fool little Bessie, for you don't. You'll have to get up earlier in the morning than you ever did to pull the wool over dis chile's eyes."

She slipped from the desk with careless grace, swept me a mocking bow that, after all, had no ill nature in it, and danced out of the room. I heard her humming a little tune as she swept down the corridor, heard it again as she came back from her room and left the building. I stood idly at the window and watched her lithe figure tripping down the path, as if she were the spirit of careless, happy youth itself, and felt suddenly old and careworn as I watched her.

I stood at the same window a number of times in the next hour, for an uncontrollable restlessness had seized me. I felt as if I could not stand the interval of waiting until Alice Holcombe should return.

Upon my sixth or seventh trip I saw a taxicab being driven rapidly up the curving, private road leading to the school. As it drew up in front of the door I recognized in the driver a boy of whom Alice Holcombe had spoken as a former favorite pupil of hers. The lad got down from his seat, threw open the door, and then I saw him give a distinct start and thrust his head into the taxicab. The next instant he had withdrawn it and cast a frantic look toward the school building. I leaned from the window, which was only on the second story, and called down softly:

"What is the matter?"

"Oh, lady, please come down here quick!" he implored. "Miss Holcombe's dead or fainted or something."

Grey Chiffon Lends Itself to Returning Classic Lines.

Classic lines have returned to favor in the new fall evening gowns. An exquisite example of a classic gown is illustrated in this model of gray chiffon.

The bodice is severely simple, except for straps of silver ribbon that outline the neck, cross at the back and pass under the arms. Two other straps cross at the centre front and back. The skirt is draped in graceful lines and the striking notes of color in the costume are found in the broad girdle which is black and white striped silk lined with a vivid shade of red orange. This brilliant color turns over the top of the girdle.

TOMORROW'S HOROSCOPE

By Genevieve Kemble

TUESDAY, SEPT. 16.

Conflicting planetary positions make this a difficult day for the astrologers to interpret. While two of the most powerful malefics are in fortuitous positions, denoting great activity, enterprise and high tension, as well as subtle and peculiar occurrences or interference from irregular sources—such as intrigue or organizations, or advantage through premonition, intuition or mediumship, yet other powerful vibrations make for unpropitious conditions. These may bring loss of position or misfortune through writings, letters, contracts or in ordinary commercial transactions. Also an afflicted Venus visits unkindly manifestations upon the home or in the social or affectional interests. Offsetting this, those in employment will prosper be promoted or have favors conferred upon them if undeniably deserving.

Those whose birthday it is should remain quiet and attend to business with discretion, avoiding all risks. A child born on this day will be active and energetic, but perhaps careless and untidy despite a degree of pride.

PUT ALCOHOL WITH DRUG-SHELF POISONS, SAYS DR. R. PEEVER

"The minister has as much right to possess himself of liquor as any member of this congregation," declared Dr. R. G. Peever of the First Methodist Church last evening, speaking on the subject of "Personal Liberty and the Liquor Traffic."

"The scandal caused by the minister drinking would be greater, but in the sight of God there is no difference. You would say that the minister should not drink, but I say that I have the same right as you. The question then sifts itself down to this: Is is right for you or I to drink? And is it right for us to pass a law to prevent our neighbors from drinking?"

Dr. Peever, in answer to this, took as his text the revised version of First Corinthians 8:9: "See that the exercise of your right does not prove any stumbling block to the weak."

"The place for alcohol," he said, "is with poisons on the druggist's shelf, protected by the prescription of those who know its uses. There is no place for alcohol as a beverage in our midst. Medical and physiological science would place it on the druggist's shelf also. Economical, national and industrial efficiency would place it only on the druggist's shelf. The physical, mental and moral efficiency of the land would place it on the druggist's shelf alone. The science of life insurance says that the moderate drinker loses 14 years from his life.

The Marriage Supper Wine.

"What does scripture say about intoxicating liquor? Some people say that Jesus made intoxicating wine at the marriage supper. I don't believe it, and you cannot prove it from the text. There are three reasons why I don't believe it. First, because unfermented wine was a common articles of drink in those days. Secondly, because the wedding guests exclaimed at the wine made for them, declaring that the new wine had been kept until the last, when it is a known fact that men who have been drinking intoxicating liquor for some time, cannot tell the difference between good wine and bad. And thirdly, because wedding feasts in the East lasted for several days, hundreds of guests being present, who drank day and night. If the drink was intoxicating, the feast would have become a brawl, and I do not believe that Jesus would have been at such a place.

"Some people complain that the stopping of the liquor traffic will close a great industry and throw men out of employment. There is not a bigger falsehood spoken. It has been proved that many industries employ a greater number of men than do the breweries. And all that needs to be done is to transfer the capital from the brewing of drink to a legitimate industry, which could increase the number of persons employed 30 to 1.

Laws and Liberty.

"Why should our personal liberty be interfered with? say some. Why should these W. C. T. U. women (and many speak of them with a sneer) interfere with my happiness? I say that if drink interferes with the welfare of my neighbor, with home life, or spoils the prospects of the community, then the community has a right to interfere. Why, there isn't a law on the statute books today that doesn't interfere with personal liberty on every side. The wild Indian has the nearest approach to personal liberty. But the moment a man comes within reach of civilization his individual rights must succumb to the rights of the community.

"God forbid that our fair province shall justify this traffic in our midst, but shall make the way safe for our children."

Referring to the soldiers' attitude in regard to the liquor question, Dr. Peever said that he had talked with returned men and that they did not want the drink back in the country.

Dr. Peever quoted an article from The Advertiser referring to the fact that this year not an arrest had been made at the Toronto Exhibition for insobriety, and that there had not been an infraction of the Ontario temperance act.

Dr. Peever will continue throughout October speaking on certain phases of the liquor question.

Dainty Organ Numbers.

At the close of the service an exceptionally fine organ recital was held by A. D. Jordan. The program contained very few big toned numbers, but it was rich in variety. The majority of the numbers were dainty interpretations. The extraordinary manner in which Mr. Jordan introduces string and wind instruments, so that the listeners almost forget the organ, was strikingly demonstrated, and showed the beauty of the organ stops.

It is hard to pick out numbers from the program, but this much might be said, that the "vox humanus" was introduced into "Chanson Plaintive" (Ivan Lyarski) with wonderful effect. Angelus du Soir (Joseph Bonnet) was another extraordinarily effective number, the choir coming out and then receding with the bells, in a most realistic manner. "Serenade" (G. Pierne), in which the violincello played a prominent part, and Schubert's Ave Maria, with harp accompaniment, were other beautiful numbers.

Carmen Learn and Grant Milligan added greatly to the program, the former singing the aria, "Through the Darkness" (Rossini), while the latter gave as a violin selection an area from Carl Goldmark. Mrs. Ed. Wyatt was also heard in a fine rendering of Toriente's "Show Me the Way."

MASS MEETING OF VETS TO DISCUSS GRATUITY; SAYS 300 HERE WANT IT

More than 300 London veterans of the war have declared themselves in sympathy with a mass meeting to discuss the gratuity question with a view to approaching the Government to request a $2,000 gratuity, according to R. R. Whitehead, who served in France with the First Canadian Division.

He will arrange for a public meeting of all veterans in the city, irrespective of their membership in any returned soldiers' organizations, to be held next week. The city will be approached and asked to give its permission to a meeting in Victoria Park or some other large public place.

Speakers from this city and from Toronto will address the meeting, Mr. Whitehead says.

20 Rochelle Place, New Rochelle, N. Y., June 17, 1919.
The Pemetine Company, Inc.,
168 Duane Street, New York City:
Gentlemen,—I have suffered terribly with Riggs' Disease (pyorrhea). My gums would bleed with the slightest touch. Pus pockets would form and discharge, and gave me a very offensive breath, and my gums would ache, so that I could not sleep. I was treated at various clinics for several months but without relief.

A friend urged me to try "PEMETINE," and I obtained the most astonishing results from the first bottle. The bleeding stopped altogether, my gums healed, and all traces of pus disappeared. My dentist was so surprised that he asked me to show my gums to other dentists who knew my case.

Realizing what I suffered and how quickly I got relief has made me recommend "PEMETINE" to everybody I know, and will gladly recommend it to anyone suffering as I have suffered.

Yours sincerely,
M. S. UNDERHILL.

DOROTHY GISH HAS ROLE OF SUPERSTITIOUS GIRL IN HER NEW COMEDY, "NOBODY HOME"

This Pleasing Photoplay, Swift in Action and Replete With Comedy, Romance and Adventure, Will Be Shown at the Majestic Today, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Screen lovers who have come to expect riots of swift moving fun in pictures featuring Dorothy Gish will not be disappointed in seeing "Nobody Home," her latest Paramount stirring vehicle, which is showing at the Majestic Theatre today, Tuesday and Wednesday. Miss Gish has the role of an oversuperstitious young lady who arranges the elopement and wedding of a girl friend, because the signs seemed to indicate its success.

She didn't foresee that she would herself fall in love with the best man. But he is a blond, and a black-haired fortune-teller had warned her that a "dark man will come into her life." So she is suspicious and all the more so when she sees her fiance with another woman. She is about to throw away her happiness on a dark fortune-hunter, when one of the newly-weds does some scheming on her own account. As a result, startling developments ensue, including a mad chase after a pair of enterprising burglars which finally leads to a reconciliation between Miss Superstitious and her sweetheart.

"Nobody Home" is for entertainment purposes only. Assisting Miss Gish in the fun-making are George Fawcett, Vivian Montrose, Ralph Graves, Rodolph Valentino, and Emily Chichester. Mr. Fawcett, a well-known screen comedian, has appeared with much success in the last three Gish pictures. Elmer Clifton, who appeared originally as an actor in "The Birth of a Nation" with Miss Gish and later turned director, handled the megaphone for the vivacious star.

OPENING OF VAUDEVILLE SEASON AT GRAND TODAY WITH FEATURE BILL

Emmy Wehlen Stars in Screen Attraction, "A Favor To a Friend."

The regular vaudeville season opens at the Grand today with a pretentious program, consisting of five all-star acts of B. F. Keith's vaudeville and a photoplay of unusual charm and originality. The headline attraction for today, tomorrow and Wednesday will be the Six Musical Nosses, who are presenting this season what may be termed the very acme of musical accomplishments in their varied and classical program. This clever troupe has toured the world extensively, and are able and do present a program that is bound to please all. Their repertoire is extensive, comprising the classics, jazz music of the kind that is so popular today, and also clever, surprising novelties that are extremely entertaining. The minute your eyes rest upon this musical production and view the beautiful costumes and lavish investure you realize that you are going to see something unusual, which is borne out by the music rendered.

A special feature of the bill will be Fred Hallen and Mollie Fuller, in "The Corridor of Time," a highly entertaining and original offering, which gives this clever team splendid opportunities for the display of their remarkable talents.

Larey Comer, the singing comedian in an offering of up-to-the-minute comedy and popular songs; the Three Hylans, variety artists, and Charles Edinbury in novelty gymnastics will be the other acts on this real big time vaudeville bill.

EMMY WEHLEN
Playing stellar role in "A Favor To a Friend," at the Grand today.

EMMY WEHLEN STARS IN NEW FEATURE FILM.

"A Favor to a Friend," which will be the feature screen offering at the Grand today, tomorrow and Wednesday, is a romantic comedy-drama of the type which has proven itself the most popular in screen entertainment today. It is an interesting, breezy sort of story, combining both romance and adventure in equal parts, and has for its star the brilliant comedienne, Emmy Wehlen, fitted with the most charming role ever given her. Hers is the part of Mary Worthington, heir to a valuable estate of her father. The story deals with the thrilling and novel adventures through which Mary travels in securing her rightful property. It is absorbingly told in a series of exciting incidents, culminating in one of the strongest situations ever conceived, and has been handsomely staged in beautiful settings and artistic exterior backgrounds which make the whole an attraction suited to the tastes of the entire family. It is a Metro all-star production.

Other screen features will be a Keystone comedy, entitled "The Kink," and the Pictorial Life.

TOM MIX IN BIG DRAMA OF THE WEST NOW AT PATRICIA

Stunts in Abundance in His New Picture, "The Coming of the Law."

Tom Mix, with five reels of stunts and peppery action, is coming to the Patricia today, Tuesday and Wednesday, in a play called "The Coming of the Law."

At the Patricia today, Tuesday and Wednesday.

This drama of life in the West is taken from the book by Charles Alden Seltzer. The scenario was written by Dennison Clift, and the production was staged by Arthur Rosson.

In the story Mix, in the character of Kent Hollis, enters Dry Bottom, New Mexico, like any other tenderfoot, without guns; but he has brought with him two powerful fists and a clear and cool brain. There is no law in Dry Bottom when he arrives. The cattle rustlers, headed by Big Bill Dunlavey, are running the town. The sheriff does their will, and the only honest official is Judge Graney—whose attempts to keep things straight are continually thwarted. But when the judge and Hollis get going they soon rout the bad men and bring the law into Dry Bottom to stay.

HOW TO CHOOSE A HUSBAND

It is first necessary that he should show his proficiency in his choice of a diamond. If he buys a perfect diamond, you know then he has good taste, and if he buys from My Jeweler, John A. Nash, better still, as he only sells perfect diamonds that have that winning way. His store is 206 Dundas street, "where you will eventually buy." b

ORGANIST AND PUPIL GIVE RECITAL AT THE CENTENNIAL METHODIST

The congregation of the Centennial Methodist Church were given a musical treat following the regular Sunday evening service yesterday, by Charles E. Percy, the organist, assisted by Miss Eula Kennedy.

Though only a short program, each number, all of a sacred nature, was much enjoyed. Mr. Percy played some very nicely shaded selections. Especially well-played was Schubert's "Marche Militaire."

Miss Eula Kennedy, a pupil of Mr. Percy, who has a delightfully sweet voice, sang "Angels Ever Bright and Fair," and "The Publican." Both numbers were much appreciated.

RETURNED MAN DIES IN BED AT HOSTEL; WAR HARDSHIPS CAUSE

Induced by overseas hardships, heart-failure caused the death of Neil McDermid, 24, while he was a guest at the K. of C. Army hut early Sunday morning. He is a brother of Miss Jean McDermid, 7 Ingleside street, and Miss Katherine McDermid, also of the city.

McDermid served in France, having left Canada with the 160th Bruce Battalion in 1916. He returned from overseas recently, and had been a guest at the K. of C. hut since Friday. Before retiring Saturday evening he complained of illness. He was found dead in bed at 7 o'clock Sunday morning.

Coroner Dr. Robert Ferguson decided that no inquest was necessary, and that the young man had died from heart-failure as the results of army hardships. He was the son of the late Angus and Christina McDermid of Glammis. Besides his two sisters in this city, a brother in Western Canada survives.

The funeral will be held at Tiverton, where interment will be made in Tiverton Cemetery.

NO FELLOWSHIP OF MAN, BUT OF BELIEVERS, SAYS NEW YORK EVANGELIST

Soul-stirring sermons were delivered yesterday by the Rev. H. L. Stephens, an evangelist from New York, at the morning and evening services at Talbot Street Baptist Church. In the evening his subject, based upon St. Luke xix. 9, was called "A Gracious Awakening."

That this is a lost world was the contention of the speaker, because so many of its inhabitants do not recognize Jesus Christ as the Saviour. They think, he said, that there is no need of a saviour and they do not understand why Jesus Christ sacrified his life for mankind. Man, left to himself without the companionship and guidance of God, is lost to the heavenly life after death, for the mere accomplishment of some good service during a short period of his life will not make him eligible. God has many ways of converting sinners: often the death of some one dear will cause the awakening of non-Christian, erring people.

"There is not such a thing as the fellowship of mankind, the movement one reads so much about at the present time," the Rev. Mr. Stephens stated. "There can be a fellowship of believers, however. Christians can assist in the work of making the world a better place for everyone and aid sinners in every way, but true Christians cannot closely associate with the worldly class of people. Several churches have encountered rocks in their courses through the custom of admitting to the church membership rolls people who have not really been converted."

SEPTEMBER IN ALGONQUIN PARK.

September is one of the most delightful months of the year in the "Highlands of Ontario" and Algonquin Park offers attractions that are not found in other districts. It is situated at an altitude of 2,000 feet above the level of the sea, assuring visitors of pure bracing air that rejuvenates body and mind. The territory is easy of access via the Grand Trunk, 200 miles north of Toronto and 170 miles west of Ottawa. "The Highland Inn," a charming hotel, affords comfortable accommodation at reasonable rates. The inn is heated by steam. The cuisine is all that can be desired. "The Highland Inn" is operated by the Grand Trunk Railway. Make your reservations early. Illustrated descriptive literature, telling you all about it, from any Grand Trunk agent, or write Mr. N. T. Clarke, Manager, Highland Inn, Algonquin Park, Ont. zxv-Sept.22

HOUSING COMMISSION WILL BUILD ON EAST HAMILTON ROAD SITE

Thomas Adams, town planning expert from Ottawa, inspected a plot of property on the Hamilton road at the street car terminus Saturday, and pronounced it an ideal spot for carrying out a scheme of housebuilding. The London Housing Commission holds an option on the property and as soon as Mr. Adams has prepared a plan for the erection of a number of houses it will likely take steps to put it into effect. He left for Windsor after the inspection.

Vice-Chairman Cunliffe and E. R. Dennis of the Housing Commission, President George Reid and Secretary Gordon Philip of the Chamber of Commerce conducted him to the property.

GOES 25 MILES FOR MORE TANLAC

Farmer Says It Restored Wife's Health After He Had Spent Hundreds in Vain.

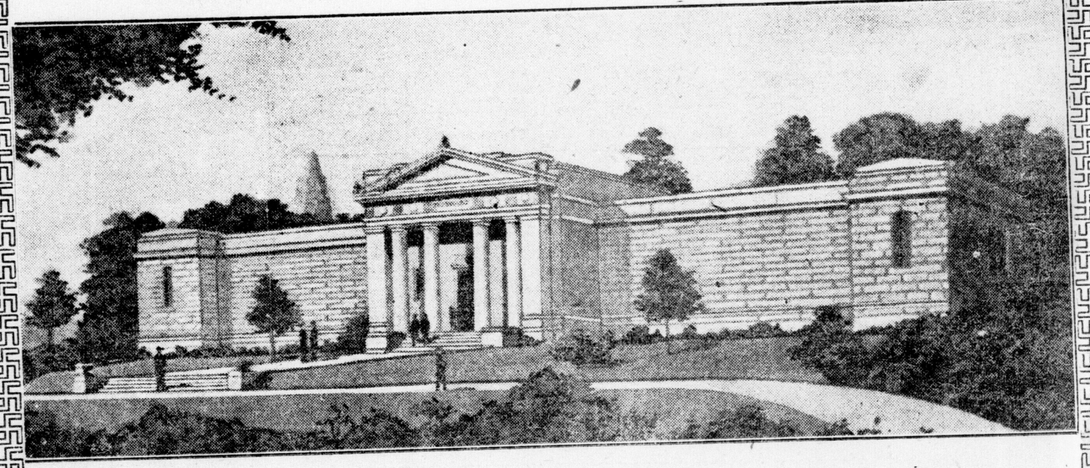

"Well, sir, it is twenty-five miles from here to where I live, and I came all that distance just to get some Tanlac," said W. M. Nance, a well-known and prosperous farmer who lives at Irricana, Alberta, Canada, while in the Liggett-Findlay drug store in Calgary, the other day.

"You just ought to see the way this Tanlac has brought my wife out," continued Mr. Nance, "and here of late I have been feeling mighty bad myself, so I thought about the best thing I could do was to get started on Tanlac as quickly as possible. Now, my wife's troubley was of five years' standing, and during that time I spent hundreds of dollars trying to get something that would help her, but it was just that much money thrown away. She had a bad case of stomach trouble, and everything she ate would cause gas to form so bad that she could hardly get a good breath. Then she was so nervous and restless that she couldn't sleep at night. She also suffered from headaches, and sometimes she would get so dizzy that she couldn't stand on her feet. She just kept getting worse all the time until she was just past going altogether.

"Well, I noticed that Tanlac was highly recommended for that kind of trouble, so I bought a bottle of it, and she commenced taking it. In all my life I never saw anything to equal the way my wife improved after she commenced taking Tanlac. Why, she has gained at least fifteen pounds in weight and is as well and hearty as she ever was in her life. She has a fine appetite, and eats just anything she wants, and she never suffers a particle afterwards. She does all her housework now, and it doesn't seem to tire her a particle. Now, that 's what Tanlac did for my wife, and when I commenced to go down hill a short time ago, Tanlac was the first thing I thought about, and after seeing what it did for my wife, I am sure that it will soon put me on my feet. Yes, sir, Tanlac is a real medicine, and you may count on me to say a good work for it every chance I have."

Tanlac is sold in London by Standard Drug, Limited, and by an established agency in every town.

Notice To The Public

DURING the vacation months the sale of space in the proposed Woodland Mausoleum was suspended. The work started again this week, and the cemetery trustees hope this great improvement to the cemetery will be supported, so as to make the erection of the building this coming spring an assured fact. So far the sale has been very satisfactory, and in a short time space will be limited and selection of location impossible.

I would ask everyone interested in this advanced mode of burial to phone or write for appointment. It will be a pleasure to have a representative call at your home or office and explain in detail the great beauty of this building and the more humane manner of taking care of the loved departed. This is done without any obligation on your part.
