59TH YEAR. NO. 23355 | LONDON, ONTARIO, TUESDAY EVENING, JUNE 6, 1922. | PRICE, THREE CENTS

BOOSTS ASSESSMENT OF WARD 3 $2,000,000

DR. CUNNINGHAM RAPS ACTION AS "AN OUTRAGE"

SHOULD BE VOTED ON

Believes Proposal Should Be For Next Year's Council.

Ald. G. I. Cunningham does not take kindly to the action of the city council, which Monday night passed the second reading of a clause to be added to the salary bylaw, authorizing payment of $25 per month to aldermen.

Mr. Cunningham points out that owing to the fact that there were only eight members of the council present, the salary bylaw for city officials and employees was not touched, yet the city fathers decided to pay themselves for attending council.

"They temporarily shelved that salary bylaw because only eight aldermen were present, yet voted themselves a salary by passing this resolution on its second reading," said Dr. Cunningham, after the meeting. "There were eight aldermen present, and it takes a two-thirds vote to defeat it now, and this is impossible to get.

"I think it is an outrage, as it is like taking money out of the people's pockets.

"These men were elected on the understanding that they work free of charge, and then they vote themselves a salary. If any action were taken at all, it should be to pay next year's council, and then the citizens could go to the polls knowing that they are going to vote for aldermen who are to be paid.

"I think it is a pretty raw deal," concluded Ald. Cunningham. "I will vote my salary to the children's hospital."

BUDGET DEBATE GIVEN NEW LIFE

BULLETIN.

Ottawa, June 6.—(By the Canadian Press).—Speaker Lemieux, in the house this afternoon, ruled to be out of order the amendment submitted by Hon. T. A. Crerar, yesterday, to the Drayton budget amendment.

Ottawa, June 6.—(Canadian Press)—Submission of the Progressive submendment to the budget has given new life to a house debate which last week bore every sign of an early demise. Thirty speakers, representing all the parties, are still on the whips' lists, and should they all persist in a desire to participate it is unlikely that the debate will conclude before Friday.

Pay On Leaving Show Or Not At All

LONDON, June 6.—Pay as you leave or not at all is London's latest in theatres. Sir Alfred Butt decided to keep the "Lass of Laughter" running at the Queen's Theatre regardless of the diminished receipts, owing to the heat, because he believes the public will enjoy the play later.

Hereafter the patron enters the theatre without paying. If he is satisfied he pays the usual price when he leaves. "Nine out of ten paid the regular price last night," said Sir Alfred today.

QUESTION RIGHT TO RAISE FARES

Believe Corporation Seeking Reimbursement for Reduced Cost From London to Lake.

Does the London and Port Stanley Railroad retain the right to increase fares without giving due notice publicly of such an undertaking?

This is the question emanating from many residents of intermediate points on the line between London and Port Stanley, who declare that an increase in fares of almost 20 per cent has been noted since May 22, while the fare from London to the lake has been incidentally reduced.

The natural conclusion that the country patrons have arrived at, they explain, is that the company is endeavoring to make them shoulder the burden for the decreased rate to Port Stanley and return.

They question the right of the corporation to make such changes effective without public notice, in view of the fact that years ago the road was declared by the government "to be for the good of Canada," and placed forthwith under the direction of the Dominion Railway Board.

The patrons who make the complaint point out that they who seemingly are now called upon to shoulder the burden are the very ones upon whom the company must needs depend for support during the months when traffic to the lake has been reduced to a minimum.

REPARATIONS COMMISSION MAY ASK FOR SUGGESTIONS

Poincare Instructs French Member To Oppose Reduction of Amount Charged Against Germany.

Paris, June 6.—The desirability of enlarging the scope of the international bankers committee, which has been considering a foreign loan for Germany, was unofficially discussed today by the members of the reparations commission. They decided to meet tomorrow to formulate a reply to the bankers, who recently asked for information as to the credit basis for the proposed loan.

The French member of the reparations commission is known to have been instructed by Premier Poincare not to approve any reduction in the total amount of reparations charged against Germany; but it is considered quite possible that the commission, without committing itself to any such reduction, may tell the bankers they are free to offer any suggestions they think helpful in solving the problem of an international loan.

REPORT FOR YEAR SHOWS BIG PROFIT

Montreal, June 6.—The report of the Canadian Converters Company, Limited, for the year to April 29 last, shows profits at $201,938 against $327,456 for the previous year. After deduction of bond interest and depreciation charges, this leaves $145,998 applicable to the common stock, equal to 8.4 per cent.

URGES FIXING OF GRANTS TO UNIVERSITIES

W. F. Nickle Requests Government Aid Be Made Permanent Fund.

TO WITHDRAW MEASURE

Hon. W. E. Raney Agrees To Withhold Bill To Abolish Privy Council Appeals.

Toronto, June —Hon. W. E. Raney announced at the close of the session of the legislature this morning, when pressed by Hon. Howard Ferguson that he would withdraw his bill to abolish an appeal to the privy council for the present session. "We have been getting along without it for a good many years now and one more year will not hurt," he said. "It would not be fair to the house to ask it to discuss it at this date."

Hotel Accommodation.

Mr. Raney further stated that the government was considering the appointment of a committee to sit during the recess to endeavor to solve some method whereby hotel accommodation in the province could be improved. Mr. Raney thought that perhaps some other committee that might be sitting on another subject could look into this particular matter along with their other duties. The subject arose when the house was considering estimates of the license department. Recently a deputation waited on Mr. Raney comprised of members of the Commercial Travelers' Association, asking that the government take some such step.

While the house was scheduled to open at 11 o'clock, sessions of the public accounts committee and the private bills committee somewhat delayed the opening.

Third readings were given to eight acts, and then the house went into committee of supply on the main estimates.

Urges Industrial Research.

With a view to furthering the industrial activity of the province in order that Canada might in the future take her place as an industrial country, Hon. Howard Ferguson and Thomas Marshall (Lincoln) advocated, when the house was considering university estimates, that a department of industrial research be added to the various universities of the province. The opinion of members was that such departments could easily be made self-sustaining if properly administered. Mr. Ferguson claimed that skilled men, specializing on industrial needs, would do much to solve industrial problems.

W. F. Nickle (Kingston) urged that the government grants to universities be definitely fixed instead of being regulated from year to year.

This procedure, he claimed, would simplify matters, as the colleges would know exactly what was coming to them. Hon. Mr. Grant agreed with this idea, stating that it would also be a great relief to the minister. "I will give both these questions very careful consideration, and report upon them at the next session of the house," Mr. Grant promised.

"We know that a good deal of business is holding back awaiting the decision of the committee," was the reply.

Reduce the Relief.

Based also on the understanding that a return to the Crow agreement would "so affect the carriers' revenues as in any way to reduce the relief promised by the railway commission's order." Further suspension of the agreement was advocated by the Toronto Board of Trade, on whose behalf Thomas Marshall, transportation manager of the board, appeared.

Frank J. Watson, of the Grand Trunk, was then recalled, and made a general statement on the evidence presented to date.

He expressed the view that many

Queen of American Opera.

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 6.—Mrs. Lillian Russell-Moore, wife of Alexander P. Moore, publisher of the Pittsburg Leader, and noted stage beauty of a score and more years past, died at her home at 2:20 o'clock this morning after an illness of several weeks, following an accident suffered while on shipboard when she was returning to this country from Europe.

The accident, which Dr. Schilldecker, one of her physicians, said was the primary cause of her illness and death, occurred when she was violently thrown on the ship during a storm.

Mrs. Moore's trip to Europe was undertaken at the request of Secretary of Labor James J. Davis for the purpose of making an intensive study among prospective emigrants to the United States.

Mrs. Moore, who was very well known throughout the country for her interest in civic matters, was in great demand as a public speaker, and only a short time prior to her death filled a number of such engagements.

She was actively interested in civic affairs in this city, and was a leader in women's movements.

In addition to her husband, there were present at her bedside during her last moments her daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Calbit, and her niece, Mrs. Mildred A. Martin. The funeral will

Aids Crown In Wyoming Bank Case

MRS. OLIVE MYRTLE KOEHLER.

MRS. OLIVE MYRTLE KOEHLER of 236 Clarence street, London, formerly Miss Olive Elizabeth Witt, whose mother resides near Heidleburg, in Waterloo County, is the crown's "star" witness against the four London men, alleged to be the Wyoming bank bandits.

Mrs. Koehler admitted on the stand under cross-examination at Sarnia last week that she entertained hopes of receiving the $5,000 reward offered for conviction of the bank bandits.

FLAYS PUBLICATION OF RACE "TIPS" BY CITY NEWSPAPER

That the newspaper published in London which employs "concealed methods" of publishing race track "tips" is guilty of aiding a "pernicious evil," was the declaration of Rev. W. E. Millson, evangelistic and social service secretary of the London district Methodist Church, in addressing the London conference Tuesday morning.

Pointing out that it is against the law to publish race track selections, Mr. Millson mentioned camouflaged efforts to get by this regulation, as practiced by a London newspaper.

"Some papers use concealed methods to publish these tips," declared Mr. Millson, "and in this way evade the law. One paper in London gives these tips, while the other does not. I need not mention any names, but there is no harm in looking," he continued, glancing in the direction of an embarrassed reporter.

Regarding gambling, the speaker was emphatic in his denunciation, particularly of those who persist in breaking the law on Sunday.

"How about Chinamen?" shouted a delegate.

"O, I know they are always after the poor Chinaman," replied Mr. Millson.

Continuing, the speaker emphatically denounced those who attempt to thwart the effective enforcement of the Ontario temperance act, and in his report on social service and evangelism eulogized the efforts of Attorney-General Raney to carry out the law.

He flayed the practice of betting at race tracks, in addition to that dependent on publication of "selections."

Foremost for Reform.

"Methodism is the force which has been foremost in advancing these great movements for reform," asserted Mr. Millson. "Let us thank God for the Lord's Day act. As matters stand at present it is the only statute under which conviction can be secured for gamblers."

"Without it, insufficient though it may be to stamp the evil out altogether, the practice of gambling would have free rein in the province."

Commendation of Mr. Raney was expressed by Rev. John Garbutt, and was followed by a most enthusiastic demonstration by the conference, who greeted his remarks with loud applause, and many cries of "Hear, hear."

"Mr. Raney is carrying out the hardest task ever set a public man in Canada," Mr. Garbutt declared. "We can hope to get no better statutes to curb the evils of intemperance than the O. T. A. The strenuous opposition to the act comes not from the so-called boot-

Arrange "No More War" Demonstration At 22nd Peace Congress

LONDON, June 6.—A great "No More War" demonstration is planned as the culminating feature of the twenty-second international peace congress to be held here the last week in July. "Never Again" will be the motto of the congress for its sessions, which fall on the week preceding the eighth anniversary of the outbreak of the world war. Several hundred delegates representing every civilized state in the world have signified their intention of attending.

TRANSFER COMPANY LOSES BEFORE COURT OF APPEAL

Justice Duclos' Order To Pay $1,745 For Lost Trunk Confirmed.

Montreal, June 6—The court of appeal has unanimously confirmed a judgment of Mr. Justice Duclos, superior court, condemning the Canadian Transfer Company, Limited, to pay $1,745 to Marian Frances Boyce, wife of E. Chambers, of Ottawa, for a trunk and its contents which was lost after being left in the care of the company at Bonaventure station, for transfer to Windsor street station. The company tendered Mrs. Chambers $50, contending that this sum represented the amount of its liability under conditions printed on the check. This check, the judgment held, was merely a receipt for the baggage and decidedly not a "contract."

SEEK CAUSE FOR SUSPENSION OF 31 PHYSICIANS

H. H. Dewart Questions Chairman of Workmen's Compensation Board.

TILTS FEATURE INQUIRY

Toronto, June 6.—Several lively tilts between Samuel Price, chairman of the workmen's compensation board, and H. H. Dewart, K.C., Liberal member for Southwest Toronto, featured the latter's examination of Mr. Price before the public accounts committee of the legislature today. Mr. Dewart was seeking information regarding the cases of 31 physicians suspended by the compensation board.

"Is it not a fact that the doctors thought their fees were too low?" Mr. Dewart inquired.

"Lawyers think that, too, sometimes, I believe," Mr. Price countered.

"I'm not asking you that," Mr. Dewart rejoined sharply.

The chairman stated that the board had received complaints from a comparatively small number of doctors regarding the fees allowed by the board.

"When a doctor incurs your sovereign displeasure is that sufficient reason for his suspension?" the Liberal member inquired.

"It is not," Mr. Price replied with some heat.

Mr. Dewart declared that in consulting the board's files for information, he had found them "in miserable array." Mr. Price countered with the declaration that the files had been perfectly arranged when submitted to Mr. Dewart, and that they had been found disarranged on their return.

"You may find it was done in your own office," Mr. Dewart suggested.

"It was not," the chairman insisted.

"I'd like you to show me such a case."

"We'll come to it."

Mr. Price, in answer to further questions, contended that physicians should diagnose carefully, all cases submitted to them.

They should not accept reports from either the workmen or the employers.

Explaining the board's reluctance to deal with lawyers, he stated, that it had never been contemplated, when the act was drawn up, that workmen benefitting from it should have to pay lawyers fees. The board was willing to act on information received from lawyers, but it declined to enter into lengthy correspondence with them, or to send checks to them. All checks were sent direct to the workmen in whose favor they were drawn.

DIETERICHS TURNS DOWN PRESIDENCY

Jailed On Drunk Charge, Guy Mann Gets Job As Prison Cook

IT would appear that Guy Mann, convicted Monday before Squire Chittick and sentenced to seven days imprisonment for driving a car while intoxicated, has experienced a rare piece of luck.

Mann's entry to the cells was simultaneous with the departure of the cook, who had held sway for several days, and the newcomer was promptly delegated to fill the vacancy.

The new chef was on duty Tuesday and expects to retain his position until Sunday next at least.

CLAIMS CAMERA CAUGHT BANDITS

Special to London Advertiser.

Sarnia, June 6.—With the startling declaration that he had in his possession the proof of a snapshot taken by an amateur photographer at Wyoming as the bandits left the rear of the Bank of Toronto there, after robbing it of $11,000 last October, H. B. Gadsden, inspector for the Toronto Guarantee and Trust Company, left this morning for Toronto with his exhibit, where he will satisfy himself as to whether the picture, when developed, will be sufficiently clear to prove identification.

Inspector Gadsden, who has been actively engaged for the trust company, with whom the bank was insured against loss, explained that he was not in a position at this time to divulge the identity of the party who is said to have snapped the picture of the bandits as they filed out of the bank, brandishing their guns at the gathered villagers.

The inspector is supremely confident that a conviction will result when the four London men, Edward McMullen, William Ayers, John Yohn and George Anderson, in the Lambton County jail here, charged with the robbery, come up for trial at the regular assizes June 13 next.

It appears now that no claimants will appear for the reward offered for information leading to the arrest of the alleged robbers, should they be convicted, other than Mrs. Olive Myrtle Koehler, of London, who at the recent preliminary trial here admitted that she had told Crown Attorney Douglas and Detective Harry Down of London, sufficient to cause the arrest of the prisoners.

The department of the naval service is also requesting Queen's University, Kingston, Ont., and the University of British Columbia, Vancouver, B. Legalize City Business By Two-Minute Margin

Mayor "Makes It."

UPON a mere two minutes hinges the legality of all transactions completed by the city council Monday night.

According to the law, as explained by City Clerk Baker, 7:45 p.m. is the specified hour for the city fathers to meet, and if the meeting is not begun within one half hour after the specified hour it must be postponed.

Mayor Cameron Wilson was out of the city on business Monday, and although several aldermen put in an appearance at the city hall at 7:45 p.m. there was no mayor present to guide them.

However, shortly after 8 o'clock, a taxi drove up to the city hall curb, and Mayor Wilson was seen to speedily leap from the vehicle. He hurried up to the council chamber, rushed to his place and then inquired the official time.

Investigation revealed the fact that it was exactly 8:13 p.m., and his worship, breathing a sigh of relief, murmured: "We made it." The meeting was on, and the business transacted stands.

Included in this business was the introduction of a bylaw that the medical officer of health be given care and control of the admission of indigents to Victoria Hospital.

Mayor Wilson explained that Dr. Downham will be instructed as soon as the bylaw is passed to attend as many of these indigents as possible at their own homes, thereby saving the city hospital expenses, and "keeping out as many boarders as as possible."

RICHTER PLAN EFFECTS LARGE TAX INCREASE

When Report Is Complete, Scheme Will Operate Over Entire City.

DISMISS EXTRA STAFF

Conclude Outside Valuation of London Property For 1922.

Assessment of buildings and property in Ward 3 for 1921 taxes, which Assessment Commissioner Stephen Grant reports will be completed this week, will show an increase of at least two million dollars over the assessment upon which the 1922 taxes were levied.

This increase is attributed to the fact that the Richter scheme of assessing buildings and property has been put into force for the entire ward, this system increasing the assessed value of the majority of the property and buildings.

In 1921 the Richter scheme was employed in assessing property north of the Grand Trunk tracks, and that portion of the ward south of the tracks was also assessed on this basis this year.

The Richter system has been also introduced on assessment of buildings and property in West London this year, and as a result a marked increase in assessment figures for this portion of Ward 1 is predicted. These figures will not be available for some time.

When the 1922 assessment report is completed the Richter system will be in vogue for the entire city. Ward 4 assessment figures are completed, and following the Ward 3 report, members of the assessment staff will devote their time to Ward 2, the report of which will be ready next month.

The assessment has been completed for the entire city, and the outside staff of six assessors and six clerks has been dismissed, as these men were only temporarily employed until their duties were completed.

The permanent office staff of the assessment department will now complete the assessment reports, with the outdoor assessors returns as a basis.

BREWERS DISCUSS TRADE CONDITIONS

Calgary, June 6.—With a view of discussing business conditions in Western Canada, and particularly the recent tax imposed by the federal government, members of the Western Canada Brewery and Bottlers Association assembled in private session here yesterday.

The suggestion that the western governments would be approached respecting a referendum on beer and light wines was not denied, although the utmost secrecy was maintained as to the subjects under discussion.

IRISH DEMAND FULL PROBE OF PETTIGOE CASE

UNITES SINN FEIN

BULLETIN.

London, June 8.—Arthur Griffith and his colleagues on the Irish delegation which has been discussing the Irish situation with the British cabinet will leave Dublin tonight, it is announced, for a resumption of their negotiations with Colonial Secretary Churchill tomorrow.

DUBLIN, June 5.—Michael Collins, head of the Irish provisional government, takes a most serious view of the British shelling of Pettigoe in Free State territory, and has demanded from the British authorities a full inquiry into the circumstances.

It has been supposed that the Irish troops at Pettigoe were irregulars, not under control of the provisional government, but an official communique issued tonight from Beggars' Bush, headquarters of the Irish Republican Army, declares that there were no Irish troops in that district, except those of the regular Republican army.

It is denied in the communique that the British troops were at any time fired upon, and the British army statement that in consequence of the shooting of a motor car driver, Pettigoe was shelled, is contradicted.

The driver, it is asserted, was not killed until long after the shelling, when there was an interchange of shots between the British and the retreating Irish troops.

According to the Beggars' Bush statement, one shell was fired while the people were at mass, and eight others without warning or provocation immediately afterward. Seven of the Irish troops were killed and several captured. The British at present occupy the hill and vantage points for two miles on the Donegal side, and all roads are traversed by British armored cars.

In any circumstance, the joint appeal of De Valera and Collins to the electors issued this evening is likely to have the effect of discouraging candidates against the Sinn Fein ticket, and the Pettigoe incidents are considered as an aid in bringing about solidarity for securing no contests for many seats.

REOPEN NEGOTIATIONS.

LONDON, June 5.—When the Irish representatives return to London tomorrow, says the political correspondent for the Evening News today, the resumed discussions with the British cabinet will center mainly on the point as to whether Ireland shall be subject, as all other dominions, to the final decision of the judicial committee of the British Privy Council on all constitutional questions.

The correspondent says that in the draft of the Irish constitution submitted to the British government last week it was proposed that the final court authority on such questions affecting Ireland should be the Irish court of appeals.

The correspondent says that apart from this question the answers of the Free State representatives proved satisfactory to the British on all specific questions put to them.

HOSPITAL FIRED ON.

Belfast, June 6 — Belfast was mystified last night by the intense and long continued firing in the vicinity of the Mater Infirmary adjoining the Crumlin road jail.

A number of bullets struck the wall of the hospital and six windows were pierced. Consternation reigned among the patients and those who were able left their beds, taking refuge on the floor. The police combed the district for the gunmen, but without result.

The official report on the incident said shots were fired at the jail and the guard, believing that the institution was being attacked, replied with machine guns, some of the bullets from which struck the hospital.

"I am convinced that there has been malicious intention on the part of members of the house to dishearten Mr. Raney, to discredit his work, and to drive him to failure. To support and hearten him, we must openly declare ourselves heart and soul with him in his work."

Must Keep Pace.

Mr. Garbutt further stated that were the Methodist Church to keep its place in the van of social service endeavors, a place gained for it, by reason of the fact that it had been the first to enter this great field of service to humanity, it must redouble its efforts in this direction in order to keep pace with churches of other denominations which were continually expanding their work in social service.

"While other churches are continually forging ahead," said Mr. Garbutt, "we must not allow ourselves to become weary after the strenuous efforts we have set forth for the past years."

The report of the committee read in part: "We are in hearty sympathy with the O. T. A., we rejoice in the results which are evident to all, and we further desire to commend Hon. Mr. Raney and his department for the earnest and effective way they have endeavored to enforce the act, and at the same time deplore the actions of those who have done their utmost to disparage and make the act abortive. We approve the introduction into the Legislature of the bills which will remedy certain difficulties which have been made manifest and will make more effective the carrying out of the law, and we deem it advisable to keep ourselves in readiness for any emergency and that there be no relaxation in the fight against this great evil of the race."

Rap Race Meets.

The report further reads: "We desire to express our condemnation of the pernicious influence of the race meets in Ontario and desire to warn the people against the demoralizing effects of race track gambling and to urge the earnest co-operation of all with every force that aims to destroy that evil which is such a menace to the citizenship of our fair province. We desire to commend the attorney-general for the strenuous and persistent efforts to offset these evils, and further we would petition the Dominion government, which has control of the matter, to enact a law prohibiting betting at all race tracks meets."

Approval of the proposal to establish a home in Western Ontario for the care and protection of unfortunate girls, and the highest appreciation of Rev. W. E. Millson in his work, were contained as well in the report, with the following recommendations for district secretaries: London, W. L. Hiles; Stratford, T. E. Sawyer; Wingham, J. R. Peters; Goderich, W. R. Osburne; Exeter, D. W. Williams; Strathroy, C. C. L. Cousens; Sarnia, J. M. Clary; Windsor, A. S. Doan; Chatham, A. M. Stuart; Ridgetown, Dr. Medd, and St. Thomas, J. M. Reyes; and recommendations that Rev. W. R. Osburne and Henry Pocock be representative of the London Conference on the general board.

Will Pay By Check.

A recommendation was prepared by the conference for submission to the various districts that pastors be paid every month by check, instead of the present system, which has been found in a number of cases to be most unsatisfactory.

As an attempt to control more effectively, through the yearly examination of ministers, their personal habits and the example set the congregation by them, a memorial was submitted to the Monday afternoon sessions of the conference for consideration before being further submitted to the general conference, asking that the discipline of the Methodist Church be so amended that probationers should, on entering the ministry, be obliged not only to declare themselves abstainers from intoxicating liquors, but further to promise to continue such abstinence throughout their ministry.

Opposes Smoking.

The memorial submitted to the conference from the committee on memorials came as the expression of the opinion held by many of the clergy that, while not denouncing smoking as sinful, yet it was a habit which was not in keeping with the profession of the ministry, setting, as it did, a doubtful example to the younger boys and men of the congregation.

Rev. John Garbutt, chairman of the committee on memorials, stated that the committee had considered the matter of the gravest import in the most effective carrying out of the ministry.

A memorial was submitted from the memorials committee asking that in view of the present financial depression and the stringency of the times, a reduction be made in the salaries throughout the departments of evangelism and social service, religious education, missions and the bookroom, and that in addition the number of field secretaries in these departments be subject to reduction.

The memorial was based on one of similar form, which was introduced from Goderich, and to which Rev. Walter Millson took exception, claiming that it singled out the department of social service as one in which the reduction of secretaries might be effected.

Objects To Cuts.

"I am entirely without prejudice," Mr. Millson declared, "in stating that Rev. T. Albert Moore, head of the department of evangelism and social service, has already made an honest endeavor to cut down the overhead expenses of the church in curtailing as far as possible the expenses of that department, and while the number of secretaries has already been considerably decreased, still further reductions are under consideration."

The combined memorial which provided for reductions in all departments, singling out no one in particular, was passed by the London Conference for submission to general conference.

By special permission of the conference, Rev. J. T. C. Morris was granted a fifth year term to Askin Street Church, London, an arrangement keenly desired by the Askin street congregation, who have put forth every effort to have Mr. Morris remain with them.

Celebrate Jubilees.

Rev. Walter Fansher of Aylmer, who this year celebrated the diamond jubilee of his career in the ministry and Rev. John Ball and Rev. George Daniels, each of whom had completed fifty years in the ministry, addressed the conference, recalling in their speeches their early memories of Methodism in Canada and remarking on the tremendous progress it has made of late years.

The report of a committee on Indian work set forth the need of supplying Indian missions with the best men available and in recognition of the work done and the length of time spent at any one field, that the conference should endeavor to put its missionaries on exactly the same footing as men engaged in the work among white men.

The report further requested the missionary society to continue to pay in full the salaries of all ministers engaged in such work and to urge upon Indian missionaries the duty of puting forth every effort to have Indian people take on a much larger share of the responsibility than heretofore in the matter of keeping church properties in a good state of repair and to co-operate in the support of connexional funds.

Hope Lies With Youth.

J. M. Doyle, field secretary of the general board of Sunday Schools and Young Peoples' Societies, urging greater efforts in behalf of young people, stated that the great hope of the church today lay in its young people and to bring out the best in them, and to make them fit to grapple with the problems which await the church in the future was one essential mission of the church today.

Mrs. Gordon Wright, representative of the Women's Missionary Societies of the London conference, pleaded for even greater support from the clergy on behalf of the missionary societies in the conference.

It was decided that the next session of London conference should be held in Sarnia, and should commence the Thursday before the first Sunday of June, 1923.

Greater efficiency in religious educational training throughout the public schools of the province with qualified teachers and obligatory examinations as a necessary adjunct, was urged at the Monday evening sessions of the conference by Rev. Byron Snell, conference secretary of religious education, as a step which would prove a highly-effective answer to charges laid that Protestant schools were ungodly because of the lack of religious training in them.

Favor Vermont Plan.

The course pursued in the state of Vermont, which provides for pupils to be dismissed by grades during school hours and chapel or church for religious education, was suggested by Mr. Snell as one which had been most effective in overcoming the disadvantages of denominational division. Such a program of Biblical instruction provided religious education for all, counteracting the effect of doubtful amusements through pantomime and pageant, and had the added advantages of standardized courses and qualified teachers. Mr. Snell spoke of religious education as the introduction of Christ as the controlling power in life, seeking to stimulate the instinctive good in man, and to repress the instinctive evil.

Education Important.

"Education," he concluded, "is now as never before, the church's greatest work, her greatest obligation and a task which faces her continually." Mr. Snell also quoted figures to show that churches lose a great percentage of children after the age of 12, the loss amounting to 28 per cent in London conference, and 29 per cent in the whole of Canada, asserting that here were facts which should constitute an S. O. S. call to Methodist constituencies to extend the work of religious education as far as possible.

PROTEST TAX ON CHECKS.

Quebec, June 6.—The council of the Quebec Board of Trade yesterday passed a resolution of protest against the tax on checks, and instructed the secretary to forward the resolution to the minister of finance at Ottawa.

COUNCIL CLOSES NO. 4 FIRE HALL

Motion To Pay Aldermen $25 Monthly Passes Third Reading.

Victoria Park Closed To Vehicular Traffic, Sundays and Holidays.

WHAT THE CITY COUNCIL DID:

Ordered No. 4 fire hall closed, and reduction of fire department staff by six men.

Recommended that the government be urged to exempt municipalities in Canada from payment of stamp charges on checks.

Passed second reading of bylaw authorizing remuneration of $25 per month to aldermen.

Decided to close Victoria Park to vehicles on Sundays and holidays.

Postponed action on debentures for north end sewer until next regular meeting.

Provided that a motion presented to the city council by Ald. John Ashton Monday night passes its third reading, London's city fathers will receive pay for their services at the rate of $25 per month each. The motion, which was seconded by Ald. Ashplant, stipulates that such remuneration is not to exceed $300 per year, and is to be effective from the date of election.

Opposed Motion.

Although Ald. Ashplant pointed out that the council has previously approved of the principle, Ald. O. I. Cunningham vigorously opposed the motion.

"I take strong objection," he declared. "This council was elected by the people, not expecting remuneration. Then when they get in they ask for it. It should have effect next year. No man needs to come in. It looks like grafting on the taxpayers to do it. To me it is an outrage."

"We have no right to obligate next year's council," interrupted Ald. Douglass.

"If a man isn't worth his salt he shouldn't be on the council," said Ald. Ashplant. "I think the people will get better service if they pay."

"Well, I'll give mine to the Children's Hospital," declared Ald. Cunningham as the motion incorporating this clause into the salary bylaw passed its second reading.

Protests Against Delay.

While the majority of the council seemed to favor restoring the garbage department employees' wages to the status held prior to the recent 10 per cent reduction, the matter was laid over until next meeting. Ald. Ashton protested against delay, pointing out that these employees had never received large wages.

"I don't know how any alderman who has a heart could refuse to support these men," said Ald. Ashton. "They have the dirtiest job in the city."

"I am not opposed to the principle, but the motion is worded wrong," explained Ald. Douglass.

"I have no sympathy at all with cutting the underpaid, and adding to the higher salaries," said Ald. Ashton. "It ought to be made retroactive. Pay the men what was docked if any action is taken at all."

When the motion was referred to the next meeting for incorporation into the salary bylaw, Ald. Ashton advised sarcastically that it be "put off till Christmas."

Undaunted by the fate of his previous motions, as outlined above, Ald. Ashton came right back with a motion that taxpayers of Huron Richmond, St. George and Regent streets be granted 30 years, instead of the usual ten years, in which to pay for the sewer laid on their respective streets. The motion pointed out the hardship entailed, owing to the fact that the cost of the sewer was assessed against vacant land in many cases. This item was referred to No. 2 committee.

Close Park To Autos.

The recommendation of No. 2 committee that a bylaw be prepared prohibiting vehicles in Victoria Park on Sundays and holidays at any time, and between noon and midnight other days, was then passed. Ald. Cunningham questioned the right of the council to legislate on this matter, but Mayor Wilson ruled that it was quite in order.

The council also, on recommendation of Chief of Police Birrell, passed a bylaw which requires every vehicle on city streets to carry a light after dark. This includes horse-drawn vehicles as well as autos.

On motion of Ald. Ashton, the council decided to issue permits for gasoline pumping stations on city property, which will require that the installation be completed as soon as possible, with the boulevard satisfactorily replaced on completion, and no interference with water or gas mains. A rental of $25 per year per pump will be charged by the city, payable in advance. The council further decided that such pumps must be removed following one month's notice from No. 2 committee.

Ald. Ashton also gave notice of motion that motor buses plying for hire in London be subjected to regulations regarding fares and service, and that a bond of $4,000 per bus be placed with the city by the owner of each bus "for the protection of citizens."

"I don't think we should tie the buses down," protested Ald. Watkinson.

"There is no question about tieing them down; it's to protect the citizens," came back Ald. Ashton.

Will Oil Market Square.

The council passed the recommendation of No. 1 committee that the market square be oiled. Ald. Drake asked that a police officer be stationed at Rectory street and Hamilton road to regulate traffic and prevent speeding of autos. His request was referred to the police commission.

Ald. Cunningham then asked if silent policemen could not be placed on certain street intersections, not necessarily in the business district, to educate motorists who "get in the habit of making a wide turn to get around them, as there is too much cutting corners." Referred to No. 2 committee.

City Solicitor Meredith's ruling on whether ratepayers of the annexed district should pay income and business tax on general or annexed district rates was demanded by Ald. Douglass. The mayor promised to obtain it for him Tuesday, and the question was dropped, although Ald. Ashplant hinted that there is "an obstruction some place." Ald. Douglas pointed out that this ruling was requested last April, and the city solicitor "reneged on it, although perhaps not deliberately until the time for tax collection had passed."

Eight Aldermen Attend.

Several bylaws authorizing construction of sheet asphalt pavements, sidewalks and cement curbs and gutters on city streets passed their third reading, while others were referred back to No. 2 committee because they were petitioned against.

Owing to the fact that Mayor Wilson was out of the city Monday, it was rumored that the city council would not meet. However, he arrived at the city hall shortly after 8 p.m., and the council went into session, there being eight aldermen present.

Perfects Invention To Enable Planes To Rise and La nd In Small Spaces

London, June 6.—A successful helicopter, dream of aviators, has been devised by Louis Brennan, with the aid of the British government, according to the Pall Mall Gazette, which declares a new era in aviation has begun. Mr. Brennan was the inventor of the Brennan torpedo and the gyroscopic monorail.

It is claimed the new helipcopter can rise from and land on a small roof, hover stationary in the air, rise to a height of 2,000 feet, and fly 60 miles an hour. All these requirements were to have been fixed by the British air ministry, which was preparing to offer for their fulfillment a prize of £50,000.

The newspaper states that they have all been met by Brennan's machine, which, with the greatest possible safeguards for secrecy, was built in a huge airship shed at the royal aircraft establishment in South Farnborough, Hampshire.

"It is the most important and far-reaching accomplishment yet attained in the history of flying," declares the Gazette.

The newspaper predicts the helicopter will bring flying into everyday business and socal life, and adds: "For military purposes its ability to hover stationary over a given spot gives it almost incalculable value. It has, moreover, the quality of virtual invisibility, owing to the blurred appearance of the rotating surfaces which keep it suspended in the air."

HAMILTON RESIDENT DIES

J. M. Harris, President of Herald Printing Company, Passes.

Hamilton, June 5.—The death occurred tonight at his residence on Ravenscliffe avenue of J. M. Harris, president of the Herald Printing Company, and founder of the Hamilton Herald newspaper. Announcement of his death came as a surprise to the majority of businessmen and citizens, as it was not known that he was seriously ill. Seized with a strike on Friday week, he was compelled to leave his office and was confined to bed. Despite every attention, efforts to strengthen his condition failed, and on Saturday afternoon he lost consciousness.

The late Mr. Harris was a son of the late John W. Harris, editor and manager of the Hamilton Times. He served under his father in the newspaper work. Leaving this paper he founded the Hamilton Herald, the first issue of which appeared on Aug. 1, 1889. His brothers, R. B. Harris and Edward Harris, were also associated with him in the business.

Mr. Mockler was operating a machine, when a piece of plank hit his right hand with great force, causing the injury.

Mr. Mockler was quickly hurried to St. Joseph's hospital after first aid had been administered at the company's office.

Dr. P. [illegible]oney spent two hours in an endeavor to save the patient's hand, and stated Tuesday afternoon that it was very badly torn, and that Mr. Mockler might lose the use of it. The patient was reported to be resting easily Tuesday afternoon.

LILLIAN RUSSELL, ACTRESS, PASSES

Lillian Russell, "the Queen of American Opera," in private life, Mrs. Alexander P. Moore, wife of the editor and publisher of the Pittsburg Leader, for more than thirty years starred in various operatic roles in the United States and England. She was one of the most popular singing actresses on the United States stage. Still famed for youthfulness and beauty after she retired from the stage, she toured her native land with a lecture on "How to Live a Hundred Years."

During the war, Miss Russell was active in Red Cross and Liberty Loan campaigns, giving freely of her voice and dramatic talent to both those causes. She was born in Clinton, Iowa, Dec. 4, 1861, the daughter of Charles E. and Cynthia Leonard.

Miss Russell's first stage appearance was in the chorus of Rice's "H. M. S. Pinafore" in 1879. She later took the name of Lillian Russell, her grace and charm soon winning for her the sobriquet of "Airy, Fairy Lillian."

She became a Casino Theatre star, and remained at that New York playhouse until 1899, when she became a member of Weber and Fields' Stock Company. After her own company was organized, she toured the United States and England, and at the end of several successful seasons entered vaudeville.

Miss Russell had been thrice married before becoming Mrs. Moore, first to Harry Brahm, musical director of Rice's "H. M. S. Pinafore" company, from whom she was divorced in 1884; second, to Edward Solomon, conductor of the Casino Theatre orchestra, New York, whose marriage she had annulled in 1894, and third to Signor Perugini, in private life John Chatterton, an operatic tenor, who died a number of years ago. She was married to Mr. Moore in 1912.

ORDERS CUT IN RAILWAY WAGES

U. S. Labor Board Sanctions Reductions Affecting Shopmen and Freight Carmen.

New Scale Means Estimated Annual Saving of $59,669,347 to Roads.

Chicago, June 6.—Over the strong protest of the three labor representatives on the United States railroad labor board, a new wage cut of seven cents an hour for railway shop mechanics and nine cents for freight carmen, cutting 400,000 shopmen approximately $60,000,000 a year, was ordered by the board today.

The new wage reduction brought an estimated added saving of $59,669,347 annually to the railroads, following on the heels of a $500,000,000 cut in the wages of maintenance of way laborers last week. The shop crafts' decision becomes effective July 1, the same date as last week's order. The minority report of the labor members pointedly stated that the majority decision was made "with no consideration of human needs" and charges that it fails to carry out the function of the board to set a "just and reasonable" wage.

The reduction for the mechanics averaged a little more than eight per cent, all machinists, boilermakers, blacksmiths, sheet metal workers, electrical workers, carmen (except freight carmen) molders, cupola tenders and core makers and the regular and helper apprentices receiving a cut of 7 cents an hour. Freight carmen, commonly known as "car knockers," and the object of some of the heaviest assaults by the roads in their battle for lower wages, were cut nine cents.

The larger cut was ordered for the car knockers because the board said it believed that their work did not require the same skilled service as other branches of carmen's work. Car cleaners were cut five cents an hour, or forty cents a day.

The mechanics, whose daily rate now averages from $6.11 for electrical workers to $6.28 for blacksmiths, will lose 56 cents a day under the new decision, bringing their daily wage to approximately $5.70.

The board's latest decision is to be followed shortly by reductions for railway clerks, telegraphers and all other classes of railway employees except the train service men.

WANTS JURY TO INSPECT JAILS

Judge Macbeth, in Opening County Court, Bares Strathroy Complaint.

Criminal Cases To Be Considered Include Those of Siskind and Zinberg.

Charging the grand jury empanelled at the opening of the Middlesex county court, Judge Talbot Macbeth said: "I wish you, and ask you, to inspect the county jail. I also wish you to inspect the Ontario Hospital for the insane."

Judge Macbeth warned the jurymen that as representatives of the public they possessed every right to inspect any public institution.

He pointed out that in the past it had been customary for the grand jury to visit any place where anyone was deprived of their liberty or confined against their will.

The judge also expressed the hope that the jury would visit the House of Refuge in Strathroy. He made this request on account of the fact that the day after last inspection, a letter alleging certain complaints had been received, and was now before the county council.

In conclusion, Judge Macbeth reminded the jurymen that apart from these investigations their only duty lay in considering the criminal cases on the docket, and returning either a true bill or no bill on them.

The jurymen, immediately after being charged, turned to the consideration of the criminal cases.

The three cases before them are as follows: Julian Siskind, charged with allowing his premises to be used for purposes of illegal betting or bookmaking; Morris Zinberg, for alleged breach of the inland revenue act; Frank Good, charged with a misdemeanor. David Pazzman, charged with theft, has elected trial, and will appear Friday.

Although the dead man has not been identified, the picture taken at the morgue in Oakville has been of great assistance to the police in unravelling the case.

of the western difficulties were featured by politicians for their own purposes.

In reference to Hon. George Langley's statement that the railway employees would accept wage reductions if the matter were properly presented to them, Mr. Watson said that "if Mr. Langley can accomplish what he says is easy for the railways I am confident the railways would be willing to pay him many times his present salary."

WELFARE PLANS NOW UNDER WAY

Reid and Pocock to Provide Dinners for Committee Members.

For the purpose of preparing for a canvass of the larger subscribers to the Welfare Campaign, to be conducted next week, there will be a meeting of the general executive of the campaigners, and directors of the chamber of commerce Tuesday afternoon.

Some thirty businessmen of the city are expected to attend the meeting. It is hoped that the campaign will start with a large sum already subscribed from the bigger subscribers. An announcement of the amount raised by this advance canvass will be made next Monday night, the opening night of the campaign.

Wednesday there will be a meeting of the committee, headed by T. W. McFarland, which is in charge of the canvass of the public utilities. The meeting will be held at 5 o'clock.

Thursday afternoon there will be a meeting of the committee in charge of the larger factories and places of business.

Towards the end of the week there will be a meeting of the committee in charge of the canvass of offices and stores. This committee is composed of representatives from the Catholic clubs, the Sales and Advertising clubs, the Loyal Order of Moose, and the Life Underwriters' Association.

The representatives of these organizations are: V. T. Coglan, Geo. Clarke, Harry Kirby and H. E. Parsons.

J. H. Gundy of Toronto, and Dr. Horace Britton, of the citizens' research committee, will address gatherings of the canvassers on Monday and Tuesday evenings next, respectively.

These gatherings will take the form of banquets, George M. Reid and Philip Pocock having offered to provide dinners on these occasions.

It is possible that another dinner meeting will be held on Wednesday evening. On Saturday at the end of the campaign a noon luncheon of the travelers' organizations which are assisting in the wrk will be held.

HEAVY RAIN STORM ENDS RETURN TREK OF VETERANS

Ottawa, June 6.—The veterans' trek is ended. Three hours of bivouacking in the rain was sufficient to make them change their mind, after another appeal by Murdock who arrived on the scene by motor at 2 o'clock. After a lengthy talk with General Riley he persuaded him that it would be in the best interest for the men to come into Ottawa and take the train to Toronto. A special of four coaches is being made up and is to leave at 9 o'clock, via Canadian Pacific.

At 3 o'clock the hikers arrived at the Union Station glad to get out of the storm and headed for home.

Riley stated that they could not have gone very far without any food at all. Four men fell out in the five miles last night. On arrival in Toronto the men will march to Queen's Park and disperse.

It is proposed to acquire temporary clubrooms for them, where they will write up the grievances of the individual hikers, to be forwarded to Ottawa for government action.

"I am leaving now, but I am coming back with an army of thousands. After all we are real veterans. The G. W. V. A. and the G. A. U. V. will be disbanded, and it is up to us to go back to Toronto and organize the only real veterans association in existence. We have been handed a sandwich. These sandwiches are the governments gratuity to the men," declared General Riley.

Camp Meeting All This Week

OXFORD PARK

West London is an ideal location for a religious camp meeting. Such a gathering is now being held under the auspices of the Church of God. Here one may listen to the simple message of the gospel delivered in a manner that grips the heart with strong conviction that God is real, sin is real, and salvation real. There is no extremism in the teaching, or religious demonstrations, which are credited to the Holy Spirit.

A special feature of the camp meeting is the earnest appeals, made on behalf of Christian unity based on the New Testament. This subject, vital to all Christians, is ably and simply dealt with at times from the pulpit. The citizens of London and general public are cordially invited to attend these services, which are held daily at 10:30 a.m., 2:30 and 7:30 p.m. Take Dundas car going west to Paul St. and walk up the steps to the New Tabernacle. MOTHERS' CLUBS MAKE PROGRESS

Victoria School Organization Wins Banner for Largest Membership.

Chairman Edwin Smith Pays Warm Tribute to Members.

First Vice-President—Mrs. W. A. Tamer.

Third Vice-President—Mrs. A. Harvey, jun. (re-elected).

Recording Secretary—Mrs. H. W. Paddell (re-elected).

Corresponding Secretary—Mrs. T. C. Benson.

Treasurer—Mrs. A. E. Tutt.

Press Reporter—Mrs. Mason.

Program Convener—Mrs. Charles Percy.

Assistant Program Convener—Mrs. E. Phillippo.

The foregoing were the officers elected for the coming year for the London Union Mothers' Club at the annual meeting held in the Lord Roberts' School, the large and representative gathering accepting without a dissenting voice the report submitted by the convener of the nominating committee, Mrs. J. A. Cole, who moved the adoption, seconded by Mrs. Stilson.

Chairman Edwin Smith of the board of education, presided during the election, paying a warm tribute to the mothers' clubs and their work. "The mothers' clubs," he said, "have supplied the lost link between home and school. I've always found the clubs willing and ready to assist the school board, the staffs, the schools as a whole, in every possible way."

Splendid Progress.

Reports from the union club officers and of the individual clubs had right of way on this occasion, giving a review of splendid achievement for the year in promoting educational interests, working for the welfare of schools, and the children in them, and community service.

Sixteen out of the twenty-one clubs now organized reported, with the Victoria Club, the banner in point of membership, held over until the last. Amid hearty applause, Victoria Club reported a membership of 141, with an average attendance of 61. A total of $285 was raised in the past year, $260 paid out for various purposes, leaving a balance of $125.

The club is making a donation of $100 to the board of education to buy a new piano for the school.

From London South schools the reports were particularly encouraging. Riverview School, which has made a record for itself in relief work, under the convenership of Mrs. J. Goodman, received an ovation.

Wortley Road School has the distinction of numbering among its members the principal and all the staff. With 131 members, $225 has been paid to the War Memorial Children's Hospital, 373 articles made up for the children's hospital, children's shelter and day nursery. An outstanding feature of the Tecumseh Avenue Club report was the record of efforts to secure the establishment of a well baby clinic in the school. Ryerson and St. George's School Clubs had a larger average attendance than membership. Simcoe School told of a memorial to be erected to the boys of the school who gave their lives in the war. Hale Street Club, which is holding weekly sewing teas for the War Memorial Children's Hospital, emphasized the promoting by the club of a finer community spirit. Among other clubs which offered most creditable reports were Rectory Street, recently re-organized; Lorne Avenue, Talbot Street School, where splendid support is given the well baby clinic; Chesley Avenue, Empress Avenue, Boyle Memorial.

Building at Fair.

A feather in the cap of the Union Mothers' Club, to which reference was made by the recording secretary, Mrs. H. W. Paddell, in her report, was the fact that the educational building to be erected at the Western Fair is a direct outcome of the educational convention for Western Ontario held in the winter, under the auspices of the union club. While five clubs have not yet reported, the total membership as compiled from figures submitted, reaches at least 1,184, an increase of 349 over the preceding year. The sum of $2,500 has been paid over to the War Memorial Children's Hospital. According to the report of the retiring treasurer, Mrs. H. B. White, the total receipts for the year amounted to $992.34 and expenditures to $938.91.

Is Re-elected

MRS. JOHN A. ROSE.

THE capable president for the past year of the London Union Mothers' Club, Mrs. John Rose was returned to office by acclamation at the annual meeting, held Monday evening in the Lord Roberts School, Chairman E. Smith of the board of education presiding.

An outstanding achievement of Mrs. Rose's year was the educational convention for Western Ontario, arranged during the winter, and of which the educational building at the Western Fair is a direct outcome.

Rev. D. Wallace Christie, who has given a course in public speaking to the campers for the past two years, has again been secured to fill the position of public speaking instructor. Mr. Christie has conducted similar classes in the Woodstock "Y" for a considerable length of time, and is considered one of the best speakers in the district.

The junior Y. M. C. A. boys' camp will be held at Fisher's Glen the last two weeks in July. The management has been fortunate in securing the services of Ted Imrie, a well-known swimming instructor, to teach the junior lads aquatics.

This year astronomy will be taught the boys, and J. K. Collins of Toronto University has undertaken to explain to the campers the mysteries of the heavens. He will bring some powerful telescopes and charts to make the study of the stars more interesting for the lads.

Lloyd Houlding, boys secretary of the London Y. M. C. A., and camp secretary for the senior camp, reports that the keenest interest is being manifested by the young men of Western Ontario in the camp program, and every day applications are being received from boys wishing to spend two weeks amid the pleasures of Fisher's Glen, on Lake Ontario.

FIRE HALL WILL BE CLOSED AT ONCE

As a result of the orders issued by the city council Monday night, No. 4 fire hall will be closed at once in the interests of economy. Fire Chief John Aitken stated Tuesday morning that this station will be closed as soon as he receives orders to do so from the city clerk.

Already six men have been cut off the fire department in order to reduce expenses, and No. 4 hall is being manned by firemen transferred from other stations.

At Monday's meeting of the council a communication from the London Labor Party protesting against closing this station was introduced, but it was referred to No. 1 Committee, without being read.

THREE KILLED AT LEVEL CROSSING

Binghamton, N.Y., June 6.—Three persons were killed and three injured when Pacific express train No. 1, on the Erie Railroad, hit a truck at the Binghamton State Hospital waterworks crossing in this city this morning. The dead are inmates of the state hospital for the insane. The engineer of the train is believed fatally scalded, and the fireman also was seriously injured. The locomotive of the train was derailed.

URGES RELIGIOUS COURSE IN SCHOOL

Rev. Byron Snell Addresses Epworth League of Askin Street.

A larger place for biblical instruction in the public school curriculum was advocated by Rev. Byron Snell, London conference secretary of religious education, addressing an Epworth League and Sunday school rally in the Centennial Methodist Church Monday night, which was largely attended.

Rev. Mr. Snell, in urging a more efficient program of religious education in the public schools, suggested that qualified teachers be secured and that examinations on biblical subjects should be made obligatory. This step, he pointed out, would prove an effective answer to the charge of the Roman Catholics that the Protestant schools were "ungodly" because religion was not taught in them.

After reviewing the different plans that have been in operation in Canada and the United States, Rev. Mr. Snell suggested that the best one was that which has proven a success in Vermont State. Pupils are dismissed by grades during school hours and are sent for religious instruction to a chapel or church apart from the school. This system helped to overcome the disadvantage of denominational division.

The prospective results to be obtained from such a program of biblical instruction were summed up by Rev. Mr. Snell. It provided religious education for all, it gave the Bible its proper place on week days, it counteracted amusements through pantomime, pageant, and so forth, and it meant standardized courses and qualified teachers. It was high time, he pointed out, that religion should be given an adequate place in the public school curriculum.

In stating his subject, the speaker defined religious education as the introduction of Christ into the life in such a way as to control the life. It takes the child endowed through his original nature, as he is with capacities for both evil and good, and seeks to stimulate the good and suppress the bad, using for this purpose instruction, nurture and guidance. Such education puts religion into the church school in such a way that religious activities become an integral part of a child's nature.

Educational evangelism was referred to by the secretary as the greatest work of the church, her greatest obligation and her continuous task. Conventional (adult) conversion, he said, was the church's rescue work—the last resort which will always be needed and must never be neglected. Training and development were always needed, even in adult converts, but in their case it is much more difficult and much less effective than in the case of the educational evangelism, which takes the individual onward from the earliest childhood.

Brief reference was made in conclusion to the fourfold program for boys and girls which was doing such splendid work for the young people. Figures were cited to prove that the churches lose a great percentage of the children after the age of 12, the loss amounting to about 28 per cent in the London conference and 29 per cent in the whole of Canada. This should be an S. O. S. call to the Methodist constituency to extend religious education as widely as possible.

POPULAR STUDENT OF MEDICAL SCHOOL DIES

"Jack," as he was familiarly known to his many friends, was a member of Meds '22, at Western University, but the onset of illness last fall, which continued until death, prevented him from attending school and graduating with his classmates this spring.

Prior to his illness Mr. Kirkpatrick was an interne on the staff of Victoria Hospital, where he numbered a host of friends.

He received his early education at London Public Schools and the London Collegiate Institute, entering Western University in 1917. Mr. Kirkpatrick was a brilliant student, and keen regret was expressed by members of the faculty and student body of Western University that he was unable to be in attendance at Convocation Week features.

Mr. Kirkpatrick was a member of St. James' Anglican Church.

Besides his mother, he is survived by three brothers, Robert M. Kirkpatrick, of the actuarial department of the London Life Insurance Company; Arthur and Thomas Kirkpatrick, and one sister, Miss Helen Kirkpatrick, at home.

The funeral will be held from the family residence, 94 Stanley street, Thursday. Interment will be made at Woodland Cemetery.

DESIGNS A GOLF SUIT THAT IS A FAVORITE.

A golf suit must be of light color—either a Donegal homespun, a grey tweed or a Palm Beach cloth—for these cloths give the service. A man does not want to change a favorite suit any more than he wishes to lose a favorite club.

The chief designer of the Semi-ready shops evolved the two best designs in the "Dixie" and the "English Golfer," two coats which allow freedom of action in the swing and the follow-through.

R. Leo Watson has some splendid suitings in the genuine hand-woven Donegal cloth, and also the Canadian Donegal cloth. The latter suit at $35 for a three-piece, and $45 for a four-piece suit is good value.—Advt.

Strawberries Make Appearance On London Market At 35 Cents a Box

One swallow may not make a summer, nor may one "swallow" mean a police court case for a breach of the O. T. A., but a few odd boxes of home-grown strawberries on the local market Tuesday, plus a call for pickers to the Ontario Government Employment Bureau, means that the strawberry season is just round the corner, and will soon be the main topic of conversation on the market as far as housewives are concerned.

About fifty boxes of berries were sold on the market Tuesday, bringing 30 cents, wholesale, and 35 cents, retail.

In another week or ten days growers state that berries will be coming in, in quantities.

Prospects for a bumper crop are exceedingly bright, but the farmers are more than anxious for a good rain. Berries in the Delaware district are particularly in need of moisture, one grower stated Tuesday morning.

"Give us rain, and we will give you the berries, lots of them," he said.

J. C. Spencer of the employment bureau stated that he had received an inquiry from an Otterville farmer who wanted 25 strawberry pickers. The farmer is willing to pay 1 cent a box for picking and board the pickers. On the other hand, he will pay them 2 cents a box and they can board themselves.

Mr. Spencer stated that he thought 2 cents a box for picking would be the prevailing price this year. Last year it was 3 cents, the poor crop having something to do with the price.

WILL CHOOSE NEW COLLEGIATE NAME

School Trustees Debate Question at Tuesday Afternoon Session.

"What shall we call the new collegiate institute?" is one of the questions to come before the school trustees in regular session on Tuesday afternoon that should provide ample material for an interesting debate.

Early last year the trustees held that a suitable name would be "Great War Memorial High School." But one's opinion is more than likely to change considerably in the course of time, and it now appears that this name is regarded with high disfavor.

To set the debate in motion, No. 3 committee will recommend that the new structure be called "Central Collegiate Institute," and it is expected this name will ultimately receive the sanction of the majority of the trustees, although certain discussion is, of course, anticipated.

The board will also consider Chairman Edwin Smith's proposal to change the day of the regular monthly meeting from the first Tuesday to the last Thursday in the month. This change is intended to facilitate the business of the board.

The chairman also threatens to precipitate another debate by questioning the reported statements of public school teachers as to his alleged "dog in the manger" attitude, as they termed it, relative to the annual departure of Collegiate Institute teachers to Toronto during June to assist in provincial departmental work.

TO FIGHT DECISION ON CHAIR FACTORY

Strathroy Taxpayers Move For Appeal of Court Judgment.

Dissatisfied with the recent ruling in the supreme court of Ontario by Justice Middleton, pertaining to their suit against the Middlesex Chair Company to recover the sum of $3,000 and interest thereon, ratepayers of the town of Strathroy have moved through their attorneys, Lewis & Gahn, for an immediate appeal.

In 1909 a bylaw was passed whereby the Middlesex Chair Company (then the Colonial Company), of that community, was loaned the sum of $20,000. The latter agreed to return the same in annual payments of $1,000 each with interest.

The plaintiffs claim that all payments were made until 1914, and it was not until 1919 that the company paid $2,000, and was given by the town council of that day a receipt in full for the years in default.

Certain taxpayers of Strathroy, claiming that such action by the councillors was beyond their legal authority, issued strong protests from time to time, and at the last election when Dr. F. Bateman was returned as mayor the issue became an election battlecry, the latter promising to do everything in his power to collect the payment for the three years alleged to be in default.

Deputy Reeve Pike informed The Advertiser Tuesday that despite the gloomy outlook for the plaintiffs, the fight was by no means lost, and an appeal had been entered. "It has been said," he commented, "that but a few of the residents are shouting for payment. I feel confident that I can take a petition, and within an hour have on it the signatures of at least two-thirds of the ratepayers of the town."

COUNTY COURT OPENS SESSION

With Judge Talbot Macbeth occupying the bench, the June session of the Middlesex County court formally opened Tuesday at 1 p.m.

Six jury and seven non-jury cases will claim the attention of the court, which is expected to continue throughout the week.

As the first jury case on the docket, the judge is hearing "Griffin vs. Hunsberger," a litigation involving the sale of stock.

FREED ON LIQUOR SELLING CHARGE

Hiram McGlone Dismissed On Account of Insufficient Evidence.

Hiram McGlone, charged with selling liquor on April 16, 1921, left police court a free man Tuesday morning, Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon holding that there was not sufficient evidence on which to base a conviction.

Robert Heath, a local youth, told of meeting some companions on that particular night with the result that he went to McGlone's home on Horton street, near Thames street, to try and buy some liquor.

"I tried to buy some whiskey from McGlone, but he said no, unless we got a taxi," stated Heath in the witness box. "I paid him either $14 or $16, I can't remember which, it was so long ago. I went back to the boys and we got a taxi and drove down the street, stopping a few houses away from McGlone's. A man came along and got in the car, and we drove over to the Pipe Line and Wharncliffe road. We got out and went down the Pipe Line road and drank the whiskey. The man who brought the whiskey to the taxi did not get out.

"I could not swear it was McGlone in the car, as it was so dark; I could not really see him, but I think it was McGlone because I paid the money to him," concluded witness.

Carl McIntosh, Vincent Foster and the taxi driver, Delbert Wray, were not prepared to identify McGlone as the man who entered the car with the whiskey. On the return trip, Wray stated he dropped his lone passenger from the car at York and Ridout streets. There were eight men in the taxi when it stopped on the Wharncliffe road.

McGlone, questioned by his counsel, E. T. Essery, K.C., denied ever having sold Heath whiskey or taking any money from him.

McGlone left the city in 1921, shortly after the information had been served on him, and did not come back till a week ago Saturday, when the police arrested him. He pleaded not guilty and was remanded a week to jail.

POLICE INTEND TO HOLD MOTOR CAR

Provincial officers stated Tuesday that while no person has as yet identified the Oldsmobile touring car claimed by John McMullen and in which his brother, Edward McMullen, one of the four alleged Wyoming bandits, was riding when arrested, they intend to retain the same until the date of the trial at least.

They explain that had they first suspected that the machine was stolen property, as they do now, they would never have allowed it to be taken away.

PROVISION MADE FOR GRATUITIES

Ottawa, June 6.—(Canadian Press.)—Provision for the payment of gratuity on retirement to officers and men of the Royal Canadian Navy has been made by the government. Officers retired from the active list will be granted a gratuity of one month's pay and allowances for each completed year of service. In addition to this, those whose service is three years or less will receive one month's pay and allowances; those who have served three years and less than seven years, two months' pay and allowances, and those who have served seven years and over, three months' pay and allowances.

Obituaries

LILLIAN D. SALLOWS.

The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon from A. L. Oatman's funeral home, Colborne street, of Lillian Dorothy Sallows, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Sallows of 390 King street.

The services were conducted by Rev. M. Kelly of the First Congregational Church. Interment was made at Woodland Cemetery.

Says Cutting Corners With Horse As Dangerous As With Motor Car

Cutting corners with old Dobbin, the family nag, is just as serious an offence in the eyes of the law as "cutting them close" with a motor car.

Clifford Elson was charged with making a short turn at King and Richmond streets on June 1, but after hearing the evidence, the case was dismissed by Magistrate Graydon.

Constable Easson, in his evidence, stated that Elson was driving a team, while as a matter of fact it was a one-horse equippage that Mr. Elson was guiding round the curves on "high"

"Maybe you should have been summoned before," suggested Mr. Graydon with a smile.

A teamster driving for the same firm said he followed Elson down the street and turned the corner in the same spot. He was driving a team and not a single horse.

"Maybe you are the man we want," opined the court. "However, I am going to dismiss the case. It is a very dangerous thing to cut corners, and must not be done."

MIDDLESEX JAIL PLEASES COUNCIL

"No Complaints" Will Feature Annual Report of Committee.

Members of the "jail" committee of the county council will submit, at the regular session of the latter body, a most favorable report pertaining to the condition of the Middlesex county jail.

Accompanied by other members of the council, the committee, headed by Chairman E. T. Reycraft, conducted a thorough inspection of the jail proper Tuesday morning, and from the tenor of their subsequent remarks it could be gathered that "no complaints" will feature their formal report to the council.

There is, in fact, a marked improvement noticeable generally since the last inspection, members of the council stated without hesitation to The Advertiser at the conclusion of their visit and "everything that was recommended at the last session of the council has been enacted to the letter."

Additional cupboards have been placed in the cell block, as well as in the kitchen, which lends to the general cleanliness of the quarters. The latter presented a neat appearance after its recent complete coat of paint, and the floors, walls, and more particularly the kitchen, were described as models.

Dinner was nearly ready when the councillors dropped in unexpected, and although they were not invited to remain, a glance at the real "Irish stew" cooking away merrily on the range, convinced even the most skeptical that there was no danger of any person going hungry. Prisoners questioned casually, stated that the food was clean and that they were given plenty. "It certainly looks better by a long shot than the army "mulligan" remarked one of the visitors.

APPRECIATIVE AUDIENCE APPLAUD POCOCKE PUPILS

Talented Senior Violin Pupils Of London Teacher Win Compliments at Recital.

Compliments were showered upon Roselle Pococke and his talented 1922 senior violin pupils at the close of the program presented by the latter Monday evening in St. Andrew's Hall. Throughout the playing of the young artists was marked by technical authority, good tone quality and artistic appreciation. A particularly brilliant performance was that of Dorothy Robertson, who played the Bruch concerto in G minor, prelude, adagio and finale, with colorfulness and striking dramatic effect. A demonstration of particularly clever bowing was given in both the concerto and the Gipsy Airs (Sarasate), with which the young artist - student brought the recital to a close.

Others who won for themselves enthusiastic applause and brought much credit upon their teacher were Edward W. Willmot, who played 2nd concerto, D minor (Wieniawski), Allegro Moderato, Romance, Allegro, from "La Zingara," and "Les Ronde Des Lutins" (Bazzini).

Bruce Wells, who gave a most sympathetic rendition of "Ave Maria" (Schubert-Wilhelm), and Mendelssohn's "On Wings of Song," transcribed by Jos. Achron, and two gifted young sisters, Misses Dorothy and Gertrude Cahill. Miss Dorothy played Handel's Sonata in E major with good classical style, and a bit of fireworks, Polonaise Brilliante (Wieniawski). Miss Gladys was heard in "Legende" (Wieniawski).

An interesting number was the class ensemble which introduced the program Raff's "Cavatina." Robert Stevenson, a young 'cellist of promise, played a group of solo, "Plainte d' Amour (Tellier), Berceuse" (Hauser) and "Lecygne" (Saint-Saens). Miss Merlyn Pococke proved an ideal accompanist.

PRESENT CLOSING RECITAL AT LONDON MUSICAL ART

Pupils Give Entertaining Program In Graceful and Able Manner.

Most popular among the series of summer closing recitals in the London Institute of Musical Art was one given by senior pupils of Thomas Martin on Monday evening, assisted by Rhea Harris, pupil of Nora Little, and Leona Kirkwood, pupil of Miss Topley-Thomas. Mr. Martin's pupils, who played with style and finish, were Miss Evelyn Jarvis, who gave Beethoven's Concerto in G minor; Miss Laura Kirkwood, who was heard in the first movement of Macdowell's Concerto for Piano and Orchestra in A minor; Miss Mildred Chantler, in a charming modern group, including compositions by Albeniz, Palmgren and Goosens; Miss Margaret Cook, in Mendelssohn's Concerto, in G minor, and a solo, "Cantique d'Amour" (Liszt), and Miss Jean Henderson, "Rhapsodie Hongoris, No. 6" (Liszt).

Miss Rhea Harris delighted with two numbers, "Oh, For a Burst of Song" (Allitsen), and a double number, "Ich liebe dich" (Grieg), and "Me voici dans son boudoir" (Mignon), Ambrose Thomas. Miss Kirkwood created much amusement by her reading, a selection from Booth Tarkington's "Penrod."

3-Cent Stamps Needed For Mail To Rural Routes, Say Officials

OWING to the general impression that mail for rural routes does not require a higher rate than city mail that prevails commonly in London amongst merchants and others, considerable confusion is being caused at the postoffice.

A two-cent stamp will carry mail of the ordinary letter type to its destination in the city, but not to a rural postoffice. A three-cent stamp is required for this.

Many letters, postoffice officials complain, are arriving for rural route destinations with only a two-cent stamp.

SUSPECTED THIEF ONLY MERE DRUNK

Apprehended at Pottersburg Monday afternoon by provincial officers, Josiah Summers, formally arraigned on a drunk and disorderly charge, has been remanded until June 12.

In response to a complaint from that district that three men were endeavoring to break into a building the officers, suspecting that possibly the three men were those implicated in the robbery Sunday night near Dorchester, hurried to the scene and arrested one of the trio, who gave his name as Summers, occupation lake sailor. His companions had disappeared in the meanwhile.

Neighbors reported to the police that a quarrel seemingly developed between the three men, and they separated before the arrival of the police. The latter allege that their prisoner was in a state of almost complete intoxication, whether by liquor or drugs they could not state at that time, however.

It was explained Tuesday morning that there is little expectation that an attempt will now be made to connect the prisoner with the Dorchester affair.

REPORTS CASE OF TYPHOID IN LONDON

Dr. Downham Believes Young Man Contracted Disease Outside of City.

Dr. W. S. Downham, medical health officer for the city, reports that there is one case of typhoid fever under treatment in London. The presence of this disease, which is mainly transmitted by drinking infected water, does not reflect on London's water supply, as Dr. Downham has investigated the case, and found that the young man suffering with typhoid fever was out of the city during the time that the disease is believed to have been contracted.

He returned to London and symptoms of the fever developed. The young man is now in Victoria Hospital, and his condition is regarded as favorable. This is the first case of typhoid fever reported in London this year.

Last year several cases developed at the Ontario Hospital following flooding of that institution's private water supply by surface water after the heavy July storm.

Invariably the health officer reports that every case of typhoid fever reported here during the past few years has been traced to causes other than infected city drinking water.

Communicable diseases in London have shown a marked falling off recently, according to Dr. Downham, who declares that aside from two cases of diphtheria developed in one home London is comparatively free.

ST. THOMAS FOLKS CELEBRATE IN CITY

A party of three neighbors all living on the same street in St. Thomas, and for that matter in the same block, plus a lady from Union, all admitted acting in a disorderly manner on the C. P. R. tracks, near Elizabeth street, at 1:30 Tuesday morning. They were fined $10 and costs or 10 days in jail in police court.

Members of the St. Thomas party were Morris Goodman, who said he lived at 3 Crocker avenue; Stanley Grosbeck, living at No. 5, and Annie Burchall, who gave her address as 6 Crocker avenue. Alice McCutcheon told the police she lived in Union.

COUNCIL PASSES PAVING BYLAWS

Alderman Drake Says Street Railway Must Brick Tracks.

Sanitary Sewer To Be Laid On Ashland Avenue.

After much discussion the city council, in session Monday night, decided to order that a sheet asphalt pavement be laid on Hamilton road, from Egerton street to St. Julien street. The probable cost of the work is $22,077.66, of which $5,571.25 is to be paid by the city. The approximate cost per foot frontage is $4.64, and the approximate annual cost for ten years is 63 cents per foot per year.

Ald. Gordon Drake sponored this work, pointing out that the road at present is in a disgraceful condition.

"The job will not be done unless the street car company paves the tracks," he declared. "It is one of the main thoroughfares into the city and it is a disgrace. There are no big lots on it."

As the work is to be done on a two-thirds vote of the council. Ald. Cunningham objected to this method.

"I am not favorable to this two-thirds vote unless the people favor it," he protested.

Ald. Drake—"There has never been a dollar spent on the road. There is no sense spending money on gravel."

When a suggestion was made to lay the matter over, Ald. Ashton remarked: "Most of the people out there deal with Drake, and he'll make it up on groceries."

The work was then authorized, but the proposal to lay a similar pavement on Hamilton road from St Julien street to Highbury avenue was laid over, owing to the fact that the approximate cost per year for ten years is estimated at 85 cents per foot frontage.

Several other bylaws authorizing sheet asphalt pavements for city streets were passed. They include Carfrae Crescent, from Grand avenue to Carfrae street; Princess avenue, from Quebec to Charlotte streets; South street, from Colborne to Maitland streets; Tecumseh avenue, from High to Langley streets; Philip street, from Maitland street to London and Port Stanley Railway; Maitland street, from Nelson to Trafalgar streets; Emery street, High street to 622 feet east; Talbot street, from Oxford street to Carling's Creek, and Dundas street, from Ashland avenue to city limits.

It was also decided to pave McCormick Boulevard, from Dundas to Gleason streets, and from Gleason to Albany streets. On petition, the council authorized construction of a combined sewer on High street, from Tecumseh avenue to Windsor avenue west. The probable cost of the work is $10,158.50, of which $4,111.41 is to be paid by the city. The approximate cost for ten years is 39 cents per year per foot frontage.

The city engineer was authorized to construct an eight and ten-inch sanitary sewer on Ashland avenue, between York and King streets, and King street, between Ashland avenue and Eleanor street, at an estimated cost of $5,131.25. This work will be done by day labor.

SAYS MINERS WILL RETURN TO WORK

"It is likely that the strikers will become tired and go back to work in a month or so," was the comment on the coal strike, made by H. E. Whittenberger, general manager of the G. T. R. western lines, who passed through the city at noon today in his private car "Muskoka."

Mr. Whittenberger was returning to Detroit from a conference in Montreal, but was not communicative in regard to the object of his visit to Canada.

Our Duty Still.

THE Wingham Times claims there should be an investigation into the details surrounding the suicide of JOHN MCLEOD, a returned man, who did away with himself while on a Grand Trunk train going from London to his home near Wingham.

He was a returned man, and had been at the hospital for some time. The outcome of the case seems to suggest that he was in no shape to travel alone when he left.

There is something in these cases that the country has not answered for in full.

Prior to this man's service overseas he was in no state of mind to take his own life. The suffering he went through then and since served to undo the fine adjustment of the human brain, with the result that his outlook upon life was such as to indicate that the best way out was to end it all.

That man's suicide was the price he paid for doing his duty when the country was in need of men.

Is the country at large, or are we, as individuals, playing fair with these men? The MCLEOD case would seem to answer that we are not.

Mix Them Up.

EVER SINCE HAL DONLY quit the Simcoe Reformer people have been saying nice things about him. So it's perhaps better for a man to quit while in the harness than to die in the harness, for he has the satisfaction of being able to bow acknowledgments to all the bouquets now rather than meekly and silently submit to them.

And, after all is said and done, why shouldn't there be a little more appreciation of work well done? We know there's nothing new in this suggestion, and it has not even the saving quality of being original.

Some people seem to make it their business to pass along their thanks and appreciation as they go. A thing pleases them, and they tell the person most intimately concerned. In so doing they perform a double service. They make themselves better and broader for the doing, and they bring a real joy to the person to whom they communicate their thanks.

Your Vacation.

ATTENTION HAS already been drawn in the advertising columns of this paper to the claims of summer resorts in this part of the province. It is a fact that resorts right at our doors are well worth considering.

Only an hour away is Port Stanley, the summer playground of many Londoners, and along Lake Erie are many others. Grand Bend, on Lake Huron, Bayfield, Goderich, Kettle Point, all along the same body of water, have proved their popularity for years.

It is easy to overlook the excellence of these places as summer resorts. Distant places often crowd the near-at-home out of a chance. All these resorts, and many others, are within easy reach of London, and there is variety enough to give seclusion, the summer crowd, or almost any stage in between that the individual taste prefers.

Look over the Western Ontario resorts before making your final plans for the summer. They have been tried for years, and found to fill the bill.

Pay Your Bills.

APPARENTLY the old principle of paying bills promptly is falling into the discard in some quarters. Paying bills promptly is a habit, and it's a dandy.

One man was bewailing the fact today that he had not paid his taxes in time, and was therefore going to be nicked for a penalty, and he considered his taxes were high enough in the first place.

Of course, his taxes were high enough, and he had it in his power to bring them down a little, or at least to keep them at par.

But he put off his payment until the last day had come and gone.

If you pay your bills promptly it will enable others to do the same thing. It all runs in a circle, and it does not take very many breaks in the ring before you find people issuing 30-day paper.

There are some men, even in their private affairs, who send a check by return mail whenever they get a bill. They never have to worry for a minute about not getting all the advantages of a discount for prompt payment. They never have to take a day off to reckon up how much they owe.

A reputation for prompt payment is more to be envied than a reputation for having the collectors of the community wearing a beaten path to your door.

W. G. Raymond's Plea.

REFERENCE has been made previously in these columns to the address of W. G. RAYMOND of Brantford, when speaking on the budget. The full report as given by Hansard, shows that his whole idea of a tariff, of farming, of manufacturing and of any other endeavor should be centered around the one principle of trying to develop the materials and the talents we have in Canada, and to make here those things we need, or those things that fall in with the raw materials and other facilities that we possess. If we can, by the application of science and labor, increase the value of the raw material or natural products, then it is our duty to make this application in order that some other nation shall not take our raw or semi-finished material, and start in where we leave off and make wealth for themselves that ought to belong to the people of this country.

MR. RAYMOND admits that there are four basic industries, farming, lumbering, mining and fishing, but contends that no nation in the world ever became famous as a producer of natural products. "Take the case of a ton of iron ore produced in a mine. When it is converted into steel it becomes much more valuable, and when it is converted into other branches of technical industry it becomes much more valuable. When it is made into razor blades, watch springs or needles, it is further enhanced in value. What has made it valuable? Human skill and labor has increased the value of that article. It is a mistake to tell us that all the wealth comes from the ground. . . . There is a little country in Europe where there cannot be much agriculture. Switzerland has its share of agriculture, of course, but it is certain if they had to live upon agriculture and agricultural products they would have to deport more than half of their population today. Then why is it that Switzerland is such a wealthy country, and that the people live there in such comfort? It is because they are applying human skill and labor to the raw materials that are produced in other countries. The same thing is true of little Belgium, Holland and of our own mother country. It is not what Britain grows or produces out of her soil that makes her prosperous, but it is the skill and labor that she puts upon it. She turns these products into cutlery that holds the markets of the world; she gets raw cotton from Egypt and the southern states, and after applying skill and labor to it, sends it all over the world. Would you compare the condition of those people in Manchester and similar districts with the condition of the negroes of the southern states, who produce the raw material? It would be absurd."

On those premises the member for Brantford urged that the future of Canada should be worked out by the all-round development of everything we have. We take it that he means that it is not good policy to sell wheat when we can sell flour; that we should not sell pulp when we can sell paper; that we should not sell iron ore when he can sell finished steel; that we should not sell logs when we can sell furniture; that we should not sell bar silver when we might sell silverware, and so on.

MR. RAYMOND has done well to bring his budget speech above the levels of party lines. He speaks as a Canadian who wants to realize the problems of all factions. He has given in his address something that every citizen of the country should think seriously about.

The spirit of Christian unity is growing. A few weeks ago REV. DR. HERRIDGE of the Presbyterian Church was invited to occupy the pulpit of Grace Methodist Church, Winnipeg, for some months, and recently the Egerton Street Baptist Church, London, secured the services of the REV. D. ROGERS, a Methodist minister of St. Thomas, to occupy the pulpit until the coming of their new pastor, REV. A. BURGESS, on July 2.

Lacks Principle.

W. G. RAYMOND, in his address on the budget, paid his respects to the Drayton amendment as follows:

"There is one disappointment that I have, however, in this debate and it is this, that the amendment in the form in which it was moved, instead of expressing some sound or unusual economic principle, does not express any at all. It simply derogates the whole debate and draws it down to the field of mere party politics. Anyone who read the amendment introduced by the hon. member for West York (Sir Henry Drayton) will see at once that that is the object of it, the aim and the end of it—to open up a discussion that will go back to the last election; and I notice that the speeches of many members who have followed it are purely what might be called political speeches, instead of being on the broader field of patriotism, upon our national difficulties, upon our national aims and aspirations. I cannot believe that a man with the great wisdom of the ex-minister of finance (Sir Henry Drayton) and one who was concerned so intimately as he was with this country's financial affairs, could by himself have framed such an amendment. I believe, it was thrust upon him, I do not think it was voluntary on his part. I think in the amendment we can see another form; we can see it has been suggested, it has been dictated, it has probably been written for him and placed in his hand to move, and he has moved it because he is under the discipline of his masterful leader the right hon. member for Grenville (Mr. Meighen)."

The Enterprise puts it this way: "When it all over do those yappers in the Ontario Legislature know what they were talking about when they oppose a tax on the winning bettors at race meets? If it is right to tax legal businesses, and they are getting it hard these days, why is it not all right to soak a business that is a huge gamble? There never was a more just tax than the one that takes a rake-off of the gamblers' profits."

A correspondent inquires for comparative figures of Canada's trade with Britain and United States. For twelve months ending with April, 1922, Canada imported from these two countries as follows:

United Kingdom ...$111,375,830
United States 507,406,877

From Canada the exports to these countries in twelve months ending April 1922, were:

In other words, during the year in question we bought heavily from United States and sold heavily to Britain.

TODAY'S word is DISSONANCE.

It means—a mingling of discordant sounds, lack of agreement.

It comes from Latin "dissonantia," disagreement in sound, discord; which, in turn, comes from "dis," a prefix denoting separation or parting from, reversal, undoing, negation, and "sonare," to sound.

It's used like this—"Father Odenbach, director of St. Ignatius College observatory, describes a method for the benefit of ratio experimenters, of eliminating jazz, which he calls 'one-third dissonance, one-third bad tuning and one-third the beating of drummers gone mad."

DOMINION ELECTIONS.

Q.—How often are Dominion elections held in Canada?

A.—Dominion elections are held in Canada at the close of each five-year term for which parliament is elected. Dissolution may take place within that period, however, if the government of the day is defeated on an importion motion, which calls for a new expression of the people at the ballot box. General elections have been held in Canada in 1867, 1872, 1874, 1878, 1882, 1887, 1891, 1896, 1900, 1904, 1908, 1911, 1917, 1921.

Q.—Who was Marjorie Pickthall?

A.—Marjorie Pickthall was a poet and noyelist, who lived in Canada for many years and died in Vancouver in April 1922. Her work, both poetry and prose, ranks high in quality and imaginative power.

EARLY DAYS IN WILLIAMS

By J. B. McLACHLAN, 322 High Park Ave., Toronto.

THE Grand Trunk Railway was being built west from Stratford, running through the northern part of the township (1860). In building railways in those days grading was done by pick and shovel, and moved by the wheelbarrow, and where cuttings and fillings were extensive and whiskey plentiful the peace was often disturbed and Irish blood flowed as a consequence.

An elderly gentleman, and who was also lame, driving past one of those cuttings, seeing a creature in the shape of a man severely beating his wife and dragging her by her hair, went to the assistance of the "weaker vessel," when much to his disgust and discomfort they joined forces and roughly handled the good old Samaritan, and he often after, in relating his experience, used to say that he never again would go to the assistance of either man or his wife when they were fighting each other.

THERE lived down near Arkona an eccentric individual by the name of Williams. I heard him say that he had been with or sympathized with William Lyon Mackenzie's rising, and perhaps that was the reason for the hermit life that he lived on the banks of the Sauble. He came to my grandparent's home on one or two occasions when I was there. On one of those he carried a johnniecake in a red cotton handkerchief hanging from a rough stick over his shoulder, and being near mealtime the cake was cut, and I don't think I ever tasted as sweet a corn cake from that day to this. After the meal he produced a bottle of whiskey and insisted that both should have a drink. My grandmother said she never drank, but grandfather had his drain. Then he told her that he hoped she was not like the Yankee woman, who, like her, would refuse a drink (and suiting the action to the words) would get behind a door and drink on the sly. Some years afterward I remember seeing him sitting on a stick of timber on Front street in the village of Strathroy, it being the 12th of July. A flag was flying nearby and he was talking to the school children, telling us to be always true to the flag. I never saw him again, but I met a gentleman near Chatham years afterward who knew him and was related, but of whom he had lost all trace probably since 1837. This man had been a Liberal, and suffered at the hands of the Family Compact in those troublesome times. From him and others in that quarter I learned many interesting happenings of those days, and to which I may refer at some future time.

CORNELIUS MCLACHLAN, a relative of my father's, when about 22 had a paralytic stroke affecting the left side, and from which he never recovered, but never had a second attack, and liver to be nearly 90. In conversation with Dr. Hodgetts, when he was secretary to the board of health, Ontario, I related the case of "Connell," as he was known among his friends and acquaintances, and he told me that it was very rare that a person so afflicted should live to such an age. In this connection I may be permitted to relate a singular occurrence that happened at our home in 1856. Father had an auction sale of livestock at our home, and Miss Nancy White was assisting mother the day of the sale and remained over night. Cornelius was staying at our place for a few days, as was his habit, and in the morning before breakfast, making some jocular remark, at the same time placing his right hand on Nancy's shoulder, she fell and instantly expired, much to the consternation of the whole neighborhood. I remember being sent to break the sad news to her people in the island. I should add that this young woman was the daughter of Donald White, Sean duine au Eilein(?) Happily for all there was no inquest. Poor Connell was no doubt as much shocked as anyone, if not more so, standing so near her as she fell. He was full of mischief, and whatever he said to her was of a mirthful character. I remember on one occasion when at our place, as I had to sleep with him, he wanted to know which side of the bed I preferred. When I told him I had no choice he then said: "Take the under side."

Crippled, yet industrious, he fed the pigs one evening; next morning he told my grandmother that it was no wonder the pigs were noisy the evening before, for they had but one spoon between them. He was well known in parts of Middlesex, Lambton and Elgin in the early days, especially by those who came from his native Argyle.

THE settlers on Pettit street were principally from Inverness, hence the name Pettit, being one of the principal streets in the city of Inverness. Among those early settlers I may mention the Andersons, Clarks, Cluness, Hendersons, Levies, McDonalds, McIntoshes, McKenzies, MacQueens, Watsons, etc. These settlers, like others in the township, were valuable acquisitions in the building up of that part of the country. Some of them went in several years earlier and were a great help to those who followed them. The school at Beechwood furnished teachers for other newer sections, who afterwards became doctors and ministers. Clark, Cluness, Henderson, McDonald and Watson teaching part of the year and attending Queen's, they graduated into the profession.

The Watson family supplied three ministers (the Established Church). David, the eldest, went to Beaverton, which was his first and only charge, having ministered to that church for 46 years. Alexander Muir, the author of "The Maple Leaf Forever," was a college mate of the Watsons. The other members of the family who became ministers were, if my memory serves me right, Donald and Peter. Wiliam lived at home on the farm and was said to be as good a scholar as his brothers, picking up from them during the summer what they learned at Queen's in the winter. Andrew, the youngest, was said to be the brightest of them all. He died young. Permit me here to add that Mrs. Donald McIntosh, to whom I referred in a former paper, was a warm friend of David Watson, when a student, and I often heard her relate that when the young people of the neighborhood would meet at her home, that before David would join in the sports or games peculiar to those days, he would hand her for safe keeping the copy of the Hebrew Scriptures he was accustomed to carry in his pocket. Such was his reverence for The Book. I mention this incident with the hope that any young person who may chance to read this may be influenced to honor his Bible as David Watson did. Here were men, and women, too, who left behind them:

"Footprints on the sands of time,—
Footprints that perhaps another,
Sailing o'er life's solemn main.
A forlorn and shipwrecked brother,

The BOOKSHELF

EDITED BY CABR

THIS novel possesses as much strength as is possible in a story none of whose characters are strong. That strength lies in the truth.

Its people are those whom you pass on the street every day—people who are born, live their lives in comfort or a little more, keep their names out of the newspapers and die.

The author's success is in drawing out the drama that is beneath a surface which familiarity has made prosaic, in finding color and complexity under the drab simplicity which seems to mark the average life—rather we should say, which seems to leave the average life unmarked.

Jim Stonehouse represents in his consciousness what the average man is more or less unconsciously. He feels a lack of something, yet what it is that he seeks, even he does not fully know.

Happiness, beauty, love—whatever name is used, it is that of which only one with imagination is ever aware in the abstract and which imagination itself drives such a one half-consciously to seek; which, ironically, can never be found by search but, when stumbled upon by accident, seems to repay the finder with usury for the pains of his futile but inevitable seeking.

Stonehouse comes upon it inadvertently with Betty Clowes and, trying to grasp it, loses it. He seeks it in Alice Channing only to find himself walled in by an unsympathetic marriage. And he learns it was waiting for him all the time in the person of Sophy, on whose wedding day his wife dies.

If he had been less imaginative, his unsatisfied longings would have been at most subconscious. If he had been less indolent or stronger of will and mind, he might have escaped or avoided hindrances. Being merely average except for his imagination, he remained unhappy.

The book is a highly analytical character study rather than a story. Its progress is purely psychological and the author recounts events, not for their intrinsic interest, but as data necessary to her chief purpose, the almost microscopic study of the characters.

The result is not so academic as that would suggest. Have you ever taken some tiny insect in your hand and seen only an ordinary black bug?—and then have you seen a picture of it magnified thousands of diameters thrown on a screen and realized the delicate beauty of the wings of that same insignificant black bug? That is what "Search" does to a handful of ordinary, insignificant humans.

The book's great lack is a feeling for humor. The characters possess their due share, but the reader does not feel with them in moments of the ridiculous as he does at other times. It is not strange that there should be a quality of over-earnestness in such a story.

But those are details. Much more than is here necessary can be forgiven an author with the insight and the ability at characterization which "Search" displays.

READ YOUR CHARACTER

By Digby Phillips.

NO. 233—SELLING THE BACK-HAND WRITER.

Suppose you are a business man. You have before you an inquiry from a customer or a prospective customer. He wants information about your proposition. His letter is hand-written, and you note that he writes a back-hand.

The wording of his letter tells you the information you want to give him in reply, but it may not indicate the "tone" in which your letter should be written to produce the most favorable result. However, the character of his writing will indicate this.

You know that since he is a back-hand writer he is a careful, cautious and conservative person. Therefore, you will avoid telling him, for instance, that your proposition 'marks a new era" in anything. You will explain it as something tried, tested and proved. You will provide him with all the detail of evidence to back up your claim. You will do well to go further in all this than merely giving him the information he asked for, because the chances are that before he makes up his mind he will want to know all those things anyhow. Remember, he is a careful and cautious person. Show him that your proposition is the best from every angle. By following these tactics you may be able to accomplish in one letter as much as you would otherwise in a whole series of letters.

The results of the examinations of the University of Toronto in the departments of dentistry and engineering have been given out. In the department of dentistry, Fred H. A. Baxter obtained first-class honors, carrying off the medal. W. S. Westland, Harry E. Silk and G. H. Kennedy, all of this city, were also successful in winning the degree of dental surgery, and G. W. Humpidge passed in anatomy. In the post-graduate course at the school of practical science, R. W. Angus, H. P. Elliott and C. W. Macbeth of this city were successful, only three other candidates passing the examination. They are now entitled to the degree of applied science (B.A.Sc.), having completed a four years' course in electrical and mechanical engineering.

Major R. Shaw-Wood of London Township has left for the Northwest. He will probably remain for two years.

The Bishop of Huron held a confirmation service last night in Christ Church, a large congregation attending. Twenty-eight candidates presented themselves, and after the rite were addressed by the bishop with his usual feeling and eloquence. Rev. M. Moorhouse, the rector, assisted in the service.

Samuel Milling of the C. P. R. freight department in this city has been promoted to a similar position at Owen Sound.

A Danger Signal—Tender and Bleeding Gums

Healthy teeth cannot live in diseased tissue. Gums tainted with Pyorrhea are dangerously diseased. For not only the teeth are affected, but Pyorrhea germs seep into the body, lower its vitality and cause many ills.

Pyorrhea begins with tender and bleeding gums. Then the gums recede, the teeth decay, loosen and fall out, or must be extracted to rid the system of the poisonous germs that breed in pockets about them.

Four out of five people over forty have this disease. But you need not have it. Visit your dentist often for tooth and gum inspection. And keep Pyorrhea away by using Forhan's For the Gums.

Forhan's For the Gums will prevent Pyorrhea—or check its progress—if used in time and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's keeps the gums hard and healthy, the teeth white and clean. If you have tender or bleeding gums, start using it today. If gum-shrinkage has already set in, use Forhan's according to directions, and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

County Council Considers Complaints Regarding House of Refuge.

Allegations of James Beckett of Strathroy Investigated.

Holding that the inmates of the Middlesex House of Refuge had no cause for complaint, members of the Middlesex County Council by common consent at the opening meeting of the June session, Monday afternoon, took no action relative to a communication from James Beckett of Strathroy, alleging ill-treatment at that institution.

Beckett, who claims to have received his information from a friend in the refuge, claimed that the inmates were given separated milk with their porridge in the mornings and were incidentally denied the use of sugar.

He alleged further that all letters that were received by the inmates or written by them were carefully censored, but no person would make a complaint for fear of being subject to instant punishment. He referred to inmates being locked in dark rooms and fed on bread and water.

Find Charges Unfounded.

Warden John Collins during the discussion that followed reported that a committee of the council had visited the institution and had declared that the charges were without the slightest foundation, all the inmates seemingly being entirely satisfied with their lot. The councillors moved that the communication be filed without further action.

Moved by A. Holman and seconded by D. Lewis, it was decided to appoint a committee to reinsure the county buildings. The following were chosen, John Cousins, with the chairmen of the finance, jail and House of Refuge committees. A full report will be returned at the December session.

John Stewart, clerk, G. B. Vining and John Cousins will investigate the case of a returned soldier residing in Nissouri township, who lost both legs through a tree falling accident while in pursuit of his duties on the farm. It was suggested by certain of his neighbors that he be given assistance by the county to prepare himself for another occupation by a business course or the like.

Judge J. C. Judd, appearing before the council, asked that a stenographer be secured to take down the evidence of the cases that come up before the first and ninth division courts.

The judge pointed out that since 1920 on account of the transferring of many cases from the county court to the first and ninth division courts the work of the latter courts had been pracically doubled. He explained that every case over $100 could be appealed by the plaintiff, and that should an appeal be made the written evidence had to be sent to Toronto.

Consider Plea Justified.

"As it is now," Judge Judd pointed out, "I am compelled to take down my own evidence and notes, etc., and to insure the proper administration of justice for both parties involved I do not consider that such a condition is in the best interests."

As the judge presides over seven courts in the county, and presides at more than 75 cases on the average during the year, the majority of the councillors were of the opinion that his plea was justified. The question was referred back for further consideration, however.

A resolution to the effect that the government shoulder the entire expense for provincial highways was received from Waterloo County Council, but was deferred for further discussion.

An invitation was extended to the councillors and the county officials to attend the Lobo picnic on June 14.

At the sessions on Tuesday afternoon and evening the councillors will consider certain proposed amendments to the bylaws affecting particularly the council's method of procedure at meetings as well as defining more definitely the duties of the county clerk, county treasurer and other of the officers.

The council will not complete its activities until Saturday afternoon, and arrangements will be made for the annual inspection of the Middlesex House of Refuge at Strathroy.

Councillors arriving at the county buildings Monday morning were somewhat reticent pertaining to the predicted investigation concerning the dismissal and eviction from the county jail of Miss Harris, former assistant matron at that institution. From present indications it would appear that no such action is contemplated by the members as a body.

A sharp debate is expected, however, when the proposal is made that the ratepayers be assessed this year for the county's entire share of the Lambeth highway construction. The councillors seem about equally divided upon this question, there being those members who advocate strongly the issuance of debentures for this debt extending over a long period of years.

British Pound Coming Back Steadily.

NEW YORK, June 5.—The further rise of British exchange in this market today overshadowed all other financial developments in point of importance.

Demand bills on London rose during the morning to $4.50¼, a gain of 2¼ cents over last week's final price, and the highest quotation since 1919.

The fact that other European exchanges were barely steady tended to make the gain in British securities especially noteworthy. Observers of international financial conditions were inclined today to attribute the strength of British exchange to recent reduction in that country's income tax rate.

AUTOIST GIVEN 7 DAYS IN JAIL

Guy Mann Adjudged Guilty of Driving Car While Intoxicated.

Lambeth Man Arrested Following Accident On Wharncliffe Road Sunday.

Adjudged guilty of driving an automobile while intoxicated, Guy Mann of Lambeth, in accordance with the provisions of the statute governing that offence, was sentenced Monday afternoon in Squire Chittick's court, to 7 days' imprisonment in the Middlesex County Jail.

The prisoner was taken into custody at his home on Sunday night by Provincial Officer Arthur Palmer, following an accident on the Wharncliffe road, when he collided with a machine driven by Leslie Cox of Goderich. Mrs. Dawson of London, a cousin of the latter, and also an occupant of the machine, suffered injuries that necessitated immediate medical attention.

Both cars were badly wrecked.

While admitting that he was responsible for the accident, and willing to pay the damages, the prisoner was most emphatic in his declaration that he had not been drinking.

Featuring the entire proceedings was the interesting point of contention raised early in the trial by J. M. Donahue, counsel for the defence, who questioned whether two justices of the peace, sitting in county police court in the capacity of a police magistrate, possessed authority to pass judgment upon the case at issue.

IDENTIFY MAN FOUND IN FIELD

Police Discover Deceased To Be George W. Rawlings, 458 Hamilton Road.

Driver For London Auctioneer Apparently Stricken While Feeding Horses.

Discovered early Monday afternoon lying in a field near Beatty Bros. foundry in Chelsea Green, the body of the then unknown man has been identified as that of George W. Rawlings, 56 years old, residing at 458 Hamilton road, and employed for the last three years as a driver for Thomas B. McKim, auctioneer.

Concluding that death resulted from natural causes, city police who conducted a thorough investigation following the removal of the body to George Logan's undertaking parlors, announce that there will be no inquest forthcoming.

Howard Beatty, an employee at the Beatty foundry, found the stricken man. In one hand was held a dish, indicating that the latter was about to feed his horses when death so suddenly overtook him.

Sergeant of Detectives Robert Egelton and others who made an effort to ascertain the identity of Mr. Rawlings, were first led astray by addresses and other data written in the notebook found in his pocket. The insertion "Charles A. Pease, 23 Euclid avenue; in case of accident, phone 6080," caused them to believe that he was indeed Charles Pease.

As telephone No. 6080 was formerly that of John A. Rose, the latter was questioned by The Advertiser without results. Mr. Rose explained that he was not acquainted with any person of that name, and was at a distinct loss to understand how his telephone number should be written in the book.

Relatives of the family are arranging for the funeral to be held Wednesday afternoon to Woodland Cemetery. Rev. A. A. Bice will officiate at the services.

FINDS DEAD BODY OF MAN IN HOME

Special to London Advertiser.

INGERSOLL, June 5.—Under conditions which indicated that death had taken place several days ago, the body of Robert Gray, for a number of years a familiar figure on the streets of Ingersoll, was discovered this afternoon in a small shack in which he lived alone on Water street. The gruesome discovery was made by a small boy who peered through the window. Gray was clad only in his underwear, and the body was in an advanced state of decomposition. The unfortunate man was last seen alive on Thursday night last. His death doubtless occurred soon after he was seen on the street. He was about 49 years of age, and before coming here several years ago had lived at Lindsay and Oshawa. For a number of years he was employed at the Ingersoll Inn. An inquest was not deemed necessary. Interment took place tonight. His wife is said to live at Winchester, Ontario.

USE OIL TO ABATE MOSQUITO PEST

CHATHAM, June 5.—Under the supervision of the board of health, a large quantity of oil will be spread on the waters of McGregor's Creek Tuesday and Wednesday of this week in an effort to abate the mosquito nuisance.

Mosquitoes were plentiful here last summer, and it is believed that the proposed action will keep the pests down for the season.

SALADA TEA

459-463 King Street, West
Toronto, June 3rd, 1922.

To our Wholesale and Retail Customers.

Dear Sirs:-

On Monday June 5th, the price of Brown Label SALADA Tea will be advanced ten cents a pound. Doubtless you, in common with all the rest of the trade, have been anticipating this, knowing as you do the extremely high prices that all classes of teas are bringing.

At the Indian, Ceylon, Java and London auctions during the last eighteen months there has been an advance on some grades of not less than sixteen cents per pound, and on no grade has it been less than ten cents. This advance has been gradual, but steady.

We were fortunate in having operated heavily during the first twelve of these eighteen months, and, therefore, for a time, did not have to pay the highest prices. However, our stocks commenced to run down, and about three months ago we were compelled to go into the market again. We commenced to use these high priced teas about the middle of April, and while still hoping against hope that an easier market would enable us to maintain our prices even with heavy losses for a few months, we have now reached the conclusion that we can hope for no material drop, and that, therefore, an advance is imperative.

Two things have brought about the present condition. First, there was a tremendous over-production on the gardens two years ago, with the result that teas were selling at very low prices. The garden owners combined and agreed to reduce production by 20%. They kept that agreement and the result was that there was less tea produced than was required by world consumption, and, consequently, the market rose. That is the principal reason. Second, and one which has only cropped up within the last week or two, is the reduction of the duty on tea in England by four pence a pound. This was radical and has immediately resulted in increased consumption. In other words, a commodity of which there was already insufficient to supply the demand, is being called for in still larger quantities by the largest tea consuming population in the world. This inevitably results in higher costs.

You will note from the enclosed price card that we are allowing the retailer an additional cent a pound profit. We have done this in view of the increased Sales Tax. When it was 1¼% he paid it, but, with the additional ¼%, we feel it would be unfair to expect him to pay this. Therefore, in this additional profit you will see that we are allowing practically the whole of the Tax as it now stands.

We trust that you will appreciate our position and realize that we deferred the evil day of an advance as long as it was humanly possible.

Yours very truly,

VICTORIA ALUMNAE HOLDS JOLLY PICNIC

Graduate Nurses Forget Serious Responsibilities, Enjoying Springbank Outing.

Between 70 and 80 members of the Victoria Hospital Nurses' Alumnae Association attended the annual picnic held at Springbank Park, enlivened by races and other sports. The association colors, carried out in purple and gold iris, adorned the tables spread beneath the majestic trees on the riverbank. The "events," entered into with enthusiasm, and creating much merriment, were run off in an open glade just to the west. Misses M. Walker and M. Rowe were picnic conveners, and to them a large measure of credit was due for the numbers who were out and the excellence of general arrangements. Mrs. H. E. Eyres was refreshment convener, and many were the compliments for the commissariat department. Miss M. McVicar looked after the sports program as follows:

Maried ladies' race—Mrs. H. E. Eyres.

Egg race—Miss Edith Smallman.

Fat ladies' race—Miss M. Walker.

Doughnut race—Miss M. Rowe.

Needle and thread—Miss Gosnell.

Clothespin race—Team captained by Miss Marjorie White, each member receiving a stick of candy.

CANADIAN SECRETARY VISITS LEPER MISSION

The London branch of the Mission to Lepers was honored Monday afternoon at the June meeting, which took the form of a special thank-offering, by a visit from the new secretary for Canada, Rev. H. N. Konkle, formerly Presbyterian minister in Palmerston.

Addressing the auxiliary, Mr. Konkle dealt with the work of the mission as a whole, emphasizing especially the spiritual side, the comfort, peace and joy that come to the sorely-stricken victims of leprosy through the knowledge of Jesus Christ.

So far as the material care bestowed, is concerned, he touched upon the improvement in condition and diminishing of suffering through the Chaulmoogra oil treatment.

While a cure, positively known as such, has not yet been discovered, the treatment has proved already a boon, and much is hoped for developments of the not far distant future, according to the speaker. Nine thousand lepers, he stated, are being cared for in the asylums of India alone, and about fourteen thousand in all through the mission.

Mr. Konkle is visiting the auxiliaries of Ontario at the present time with a view to making the acquaintance of the faithful workers, and getting in touch with all the work that is being done. He expects to go west with a similar end in view in the fall.

Asked with regard to the number of auxiliaries in Canada, his answer was that he could not state definitely owing to the fact some are weak and somewhat disorganized. He hopes that the organization of all of these will be strengthened before long and further organization effected.

Rev. Bowley Green, who has recently assumed the pastorate of Talbot Street Baptist Church, gave an inspiring Bible reading, and Miss Gladys McEvoy sang a much-appreciated solo. Mrs. George Wood presided. The thank-offering amounted to $40.50.

June Brides Must Take Back Seat, It's Babies' Own Week in London

Annual Exhibit Off to Splendid Start at 10 o'Clock in Technical School—Tells All About Proper Care of "Sarah," Why It Is Supremely Important To Register Births of Little Fairies.

For one glorious week in London baby is monarch of all he surveys. Even the June brides are obliged to take a back seat for a few days. Baby Week, under the auspices of the London Child Welfare Association, is off to a splendid start in the Technical and Art School, with an absolutely new exhibit, loaned by the general conference of the Methodist Church in Canada, lectures and demonstrations.

Scheduled to open at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning, the exhibit, altogether educational this year, is to be kept open all day long, and each evening until Thursday night, with lantern slides as a special feature, shown by the demonstrator-in-chief, Rev. W. E. Millson, secretary of social service and evangelism of the Methodist Church in Canada.

In the midst of the striking panels which tell the story of the proper and improper care of the child from its earliest life, "Sarah" has a conspicuous place. Sarah, be it known, is a recent acquisition to the population of London. Some people call her a "dummy," and, true enough, Sarah makes few protests. But she's a useful personage just the same, the model baby used by Miss Bertha Smith, superintendent of Child Welfare nurses, and her assistants to demonstrate exactly how a baby should be bathed, dressed, bedded and fed. Every time a sufficiently large group of mothers and others interested are gathered around there will be a talk and demonstration.

Sarah and her guardians possess the virtue of economy. No expensive basinette forms the couch of the infant doll, but a wood and coal basket, which, it is said, can be purchased at a grocery store for 15 cents. The main thing, it is stout, strong and the right size to cradle the tot.

Her mattress is a simple affair lined with excelsior. Over this is a covering of rubber sheeting. Next comes a little flannelette sheet. Sarah and all other properly cared for babies, according to Nursing Superintendent Bertha Smith, rest on a quilted pad of cheese cloth with ordinary batting between. Miss Smith estimates every layette should possess as many as that of Sarah, eight in all.

In the demonstrations special attention is drawn to the manner in which the up-to-date Sarah is dressed for health, economy and efficiency.

No Tight Bands.

Where is the old-fashioned barricoat that held baby's tummy tight and snug, so grandma believed? Banished to outer darkness. Sarah hasn't an uncomfortable bandage or tightness anywhere. Her little body is free to wiggle at will, with all clothing hanging from her shoulders. She can kick to her heart's content, and nobody will accuse her of being unlady-like.

Mothers, daddies, big sisters, affectionate aunts and other guardians of King and Queen Baby are advised to take a notebook and pencil along when they visit the exhibit, so much information is there waiting to be carried away. One small head couldn't be expected to bear the load of useful knowledge, assimilate and remember it all at the same time.

With striking pictures to illustrate the lessons are taught of the supreme importance to health and welfare of properly caring for baby's teeth, eyes, mouth, guiding the tiny feet in straight paths, and not bowlegged or toeing out, teaching the boy or girl to keep shoulders erect, and to breathe properly. The menace is illustrated of adenoids to health and beauty as well.

Here are some "don'ts" for the eyes of the school boy or girl who has managed to live through the first perilous years of life:

Avoid facing a window.
Avoid fine print on glazed paper.
Avoid non-adjustable desks.
Avoid rubbing the eyes with dirty fingers.

What about the tender little feet just starting out on the hard journey of life?

Do Shoes Pinch?

Do your child's feet have to fit the shoes, or

Do your child's shoes fit his feet?

Things which the young mother is told to shun are these:

Never consult your neighbor when baby is sick; ask the doctor.

Never rock or toss the baby.

Never wake the baby to show him off.

Attention is drawn to the fact that the child is not only a little animal or physical organism, but a moral being as well, and such ordinary habits as feeding will have a marked effect upon his character later in life.

"The child who is allowed to eat what he likes, when he likes, and as much as he likes is forming a weak character as well as a weak body," is a warning sounded, but

"The child who is taught to eat what he should and when he should is going to have both physical and moral strength."

A judgment is given as follows on the question of midwives:

"So long as there is demand for midwives the state should regulate their training and practice."

Why Register.

In view of recent province-wide discussion of the subject of registration of babies' births and the importance thereof, the poster which gives reasons why registration is an imperative duty, is timely and convincing.

Here are some that have been copied:

1. It will enable him to show a complete record.
2. It will enable the child later in life to prove his age for school, employment and the right to marry.
3. It will enable him to prove his citizenship and right to vote.
4. It will enable him to prove his right to hold certain public offices.
5. It will enable him to show his right to inherit property.

Tuesday afternoon Mrs. F. R. Hardie is acting as hostess, with a number of assistants receiving those who attend, answering questions and explaining the exhibit. Mrs. Harry Blackburn performs similar duties on Wednesday afternoon, and Mrs. Glennie Wilson on Thursday.

No clinics are being held this year in connection with the exhibit, owing to the extensive service rendered by the regular clinics, well and sick baby, and pre-natal. Under the circumstances King Baby does not appear in person at the Technical School, where his guardians are being educated in his best interests. But if he is absent in person he is very much the dominating idea. Absent, he is doing all the talking.

As the wedding party entered the parlor the wedding march was played by Miss Lena Coates. The ceremony was performed under an arch of evergreens, effectively decorated with summer flowers. Her bridal veil was caught with orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet of Sunset roses, lily of the valley and ferns. Miss Nellie Anderson, as bridesmaid, was gowned in peach georgette, and she carried sweet peas. During the signing of the register Miss Marguerite Moodie sang "The Garden of Your Heart." The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl necklace, to the bridesmaid a pearl brooch, to the best man an onyx pin, and to the pianist and soloist brooches set with pearls. Following the ceremony a reception was held, after which a wedding dinner was served. The decorations in the dining-room were carried out in pink and white. WANTS A ROOT.

Dear Miss Grey,—I often read your column, and find it very interesting. I often receive a lot of help from it, could any of the readers tell me what to put in the water when watering ferns or other plants? I would love to have some bulbs or seeds, as I am trying to raise a garden for the first time. If any of the readers could give me a root of flowering almond, I would pay postage on it.

A LOVER OF PLANTS.

Cold tea is excellent to water ferns with, and I would imagine it would be equally as beneficial to other plants. If not, possibly some of the readers could tell us what would be a good thing to water them with. I am mailing you a few seeds.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

[By Olive Roberts Barton.]

NANCY and Nick were doing an errand for Mr. Peerabout, the Man-in-the-Moon.

Mr. Peerabout said something was wrong because on some nights when he had a fine, clear, bright moon for folks, the very next day he'd get complaints about it being pale 'n' misty 'n' cloudy 'n' things like that.

So the Twins were watching.

The sun went to bed and all at once there was the old moon over the tree-tops. It had been there all along, only it seemed to get bright just in a minute.

"The moon looks all right now," said Nick. "Mr. Peerabout said he would make it look like a dollar tonight. Only it looks more like a hundred dollars, it's so big."

"Big!" called down a cross voice out of the old hickory tree "Big! I should say it is. But just you wait, it'll get fixed or my name isn't Chris Crow."

"Who'll fix it?" asked Nick, "and how?"

"Oh, I gotta friend," boasted Chris. "You see I got tired of that old moon nebbing about.

"Old Mr. Peerabout's got the idea that folks want a moon all the time, and he's everlastingly bringing the old thing around when it's not wanted.

"Here it is—a week past corn-planting and the grains are just sprouted enough to be delicious. But I can't even look at the corn. Old Scare-Crow would see me.

"But I gotta friend," he went on. "It's Comet-Legs! He doesn't like Peerabout. He'll blow the moon out for me."

"Ah, ha!" nodded Nancy wisely.

Has Western Ontario Any Perfect Ladies?

WHAT IS ONE?

TO be perfect in anything, one must, according to Webster's definition of perfect, have everything requisite to one's nature or kind. Which would, in the case of a question like "What is a perfect lady?" make the answers vary according to how individual opinions differ. For seldom would one find more than one or two persons who had the same ideas on what is requisite to a perfect lady.

Sometimes the conviction comes to some people that a certain type of woman is the really perfect lady. With others an individual person stands out in their minds as representing the perfect lady. And so it goes.

But beneath all there must be a common basis of opinion, waiting on someone who can ably express it and interpret it for the rest of the people.

How can this expression be found out? Only by having a great number of people voice their views on the subject. The London Advertiser offers you an opportunity now to express yourself on the matter by writing your definition of a perfect lady.

As an added incentive The Advertiser is offering a prize of $5.00 for the best answer and five $1.00 prizes for the next five succeeding best answers.

The contest will close one week from next Wednesday, on June 14. Many of the answers will be printed and appear in the paper, but there may be a large number left out if they arrive late. So, write now!

HALIFAX EXPLOSION WRECKED HER NERVES

The reader will, no doubt, remember when a few years ago there was a collision in the Halifax, N. S., harbor, and one of the munition ships was blown up, causing great loss of life and laying a large portion of the city in ruins, and causing a great deal of suffering and distress among the inhabitants.

Mrs. Winfield Dill, now of Windsor, N. S., was living in Halifax at that time and went through this trying experience and the shock wrecked her nerves. She writes as follows: "I was living in Halifax at the time of the explosion, and it wrecked my nerves, so that I could not do my housework. I would take such nervous spells I would be under the doctor's care.

I saw Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills advertised, so I took two boxes, and they helped me so much I took six more, and now I am completely relieved. I can recommend them to anyone suffering from heart and nerve trouble."

To all those who suffer from nervous shock we would recommend our as the best remedy to tone up the entire nervous system and strengthen the weakened organs. Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are the original heart and nerve food, having been on the market for the past 27 years. Price, 50c a box, at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Company, Limited, Toronto, Ont.—Advt.

New Side Drapes

JUST by way of varying the straight silhouette the newest dresses show side drapes drawn to a precarious point on one hip. Soft folds of the material break the straight line of the front panel and are gathered in under a flower of the cloth—usually the dress' only ornament.

Other trimmings used are silver and gold metal flowers or grapes or silk bouquets in brilliant colors. Hair wreaths to match either colored or metal dress trimmings are shown in all the shops.

Moire, which is having an astonishing vogue, is most in demand for these new draped dresses for evening. It is satin-backed—very soft and shimmery. Afternoon and street frocks also show side drapes.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

BAKE HIM AN APPLE PIE

MOST men prefer pie to any other dessert.

When you pare apples for pie take just as thin a paring as possible. It may take a little longer to cut the peeling thin, but it won't take as many apples. Cut out any bruised spots. They will not cook tender.

Deep Dish Apple Pie.

Line a deep dish or shallow pudding dish with rich pastry. If a pie dish is used the crust must be built up around the outside edge.

Pare, cut in eighths and core apples. Fill shell with fruit, heaping it up in the center. Mix one tablespoon flour with three-quarters cup sugar and sprinkle over apples.

Dot with bits of butter. Form a lattice work over the top of the apples with strips of paste.

Bake 45 minutes in a moderate oven. Serve with sugar and cream or whipped cream sweetened with shaved maple sugar.

Another way:

Line shallow pudding dish with pastry. Put a small cup upside down in the center. Fill dish with fruit. Sprinkle with sugar and add one tablespoon cold water if the fruit is not juicy.

Dampen the edge of the lower crust before putting on the top crust. Run the rolling pin around the edge, trim with a sharp knife and pinch the edges together with thumb and forefinger.

BASEBALL and LATE SPORTING NEWS

TECS, AFTER ROUGH WEEK AWAY, WIN AT HOME

Brants, On First Visit of Season, Beaten 6--1 by Steady Hitting At Opportune Times.

The Tecs, starting a three-day stay-at-home, entertained Mickey Lalonge's Brants for the first time this season over the river yesterday, and nonchalantly took a 6—1 victory as if they had just been surfeited on victories the past week instead of actually becoming gaunt on defeats. They weren't a bit self-conscious, either, and gathered a dozen sizeable hits off the delivery of Big John Saladna with a mayonaise dressing of a couple of errors, both of which counted in eventually as runs.

It was a listless sort of game with little to get the few fans excited, and about the best feature of the affair was watching Mickey Lalonge peg to second. The Brant pilot has been pegging them long enough in that direction to do it with blinders, and yesterday he tamed the London pilferers twice and had a close decision on Boyle in the third frame.

Plugged Along.

Otherwise, the pastime plugged along, with the Tecs getting to Saladna's good pitching when hits meant runs, whereas frown tottered along with apparently little on the ball, but always hits only when they didn't mean thing in the world. They came in in pairs too on three occasions.

London opened the scoring in the first when Schaefer cashed in Stimpson's three bagger for a run, with a single to right.

Another came in the next frame, Mackey's triple to centre being scored by Malmquest's single. Prysock's error, a bad throw put Clarke, a stranger in the field, on first, in the fourth. Schaefer doubled, a liner that Dawson took a dive after, but missed. Malmquest's single to right, a short one which Edgren played on like a pitcher, scored both runners. Edgren's useless throw to the plate wasn't so useless as it looked, for Lalonge got Malmquest coldfooted, trying to sneak second in the excitement. Boyle singled and stole second by a hair, but Beecher fouled out to stop the frame.

In the next frame the Londoners still kept nibbling. Brown, first up, beat out a bunt to the pitcher's box, which Saladna and Lalonge both courteously waited for the other to pick up. Watson's fielder's choice gave Lalonge a chance to take his favorite a peg to second. Stimpson singled to right, Edgren throwing the ball needlessly to third to catch Watson, who was already there and almost went on home, as the throw was wide. He did go home a moment after, as Clarke's high pop fell untouched at Prysock's feet. Stimpson and Clarke got a double steal started, and while Lalonge frightened Stimpson off the idea of trying to get home, he had to hold the ball and watch Clarke get to second as Red Ryan, pitcher shortstop, was running around in idle circles away from the bag, and miles off the play. Schaefer, striking out and Mackey's round out, cut the flurry off short.

Started Off Seventh.

Watson started off the seventh by planting a hot smash down at Ryan. The red head made a running pickup from the dirt, but Bope dropped the throw. Stimpson was safe when Ryan tripped as he went after his fielder's choice and could not make the play at second. Clarke's single to right scored Watson.

Brantford, after their threat of the first frame when they got a pair of hits, went along until the fourth without making anything that could be construed as threatening. Hera Malmquest's miscue on Edgren's grounder and Butler's single to left had a few London necks craning to see what was going to happen. It happened when Bope smashed a single down through the infield and scored a Brant run.

In the fifth it looked as if the Brants were going to start in a grab a run here and there. Ryan was on when Buck Boyle kept backing away from his bouncer, hoping for a good one, and it bounced next out to right field. Saladna crashed out a two-ply clout to centre. Edgren put Beecher in the way of a made-to-order two-man double killing when he lined one right into the London shortstop's hands, and he relayed over to Malmquest to get Saladna, wandering back to second.

With two gone in the eighth, Edgren and Butler both ripped out singles, but Dawson lifted a fly to Schaefer for the third out.

100 Times At Bat, 53 Hits

GEORGE BLOCK.

ABOUT this season's most sensational tosser of professional ball is George Block, playing manager of the St. Petersburg (Fla.) Saints.

Block has filled every position on the team except in the twirling department, but he specializes behind the bat, and out of 100 times he has faced the pitcher he has hammered out 53 hits for an average of .530. Eighteen of his swats were for two bases and eight times he smashed out triples. Getting extra base hits in the Florida State League is "some" feat. A batted ball landing in the outfield falls dead and rarely rolls more than 20 feet.

In 1911 Block was the property of the Cardinals. Later he was farmed out to Denver. In 1918 he was to have reported to Brooklyn. But just then he was claimed for military service. Later he suffered a broken shoulder, which eliminated him from major ball. Now, however, scouts from the big leagues are showing up in Florida to watch him perform. Good judges say he'll class with any catcher in the game if his arm's to be depended on.

May "Pursue" Golf Ball On Sunday, But Must Not "Throw" Baseball

TORONTO, June 5.—The police are to arrest anybody throwing a baseball in Queen's Park on Sunday. In confirming a report to this effect, Inspector Bond said:

"Any kind of game is prohibited on Sunday in the parks, playing baseball or throwing a ball publicly on Sunday is disorderly conduct under the Lord's Day act, but our usual custom is to caution an offender first, and if he persists then we arrest. In one case a group of young fellows were pegging a ball around in Queen's Park and endangering the people there. They were warned by the policeman on duty, and when they did not stop then they were arrested."

"Then this is not a new rule of Sabbath observance?"

"No, but ball playing is illegal on Sunday."

"How about golf, then?"

Inspector Bond added that there was a court decision to the effect that golf was not a contravention of the law. Besides, the golf links were outside the city limits.

WOODSTOCK MEN PLAY GOOD WHIST

WOODSTOCK, Ont., June 5.—John Hall, Jas. Ball, Dr. Guph and F. E. Slater, four prominent Woodstock whist players, have returned from the 23rd annual convention of the American Whist League, held last week at the Clifton House, Niagara Falls, each with a top score. Mr. Hall won two top scores. Mr. Slater, in addition to a first novice prize, Mr. Aldrich, a well-known whist expert of Cleveland, has engaged Mr. Slater to play with him next year in the championship pairs match.

WINDSOR TO STAGE NET TOURNAMENT

Western Ontario Championship To Be Decided Week of June 24.

With the opening of the Western Ontario Tennis League games, tennis will start off another big year. Windsor has been awarded the Western Ontario championships this year, and they will be staged at the Elmcourt grounds the week of June 24.

The representatives from London have not been chosen yet, but will be announced shortly.

The Ontario Lawn Tennis Association at its annual meeting, in order to make the Ontario championships more representative of the province, decided to render financial support to the sectional winners in the way of expenses.

The provincial boys' tournament, the week of Aug. 26, will doubtless attract the best boy players from each of the more important prep schools, collegiates and high schools throughout the province. The Toronto Tennis Club has already donated a valuable trophy for annual competition, and suitable prizes have already been promised. Schools or individuals who are interested are urged to get in touch with the secretary of the association. The first provincial tournament will be played on the grounds of the Toronto club.

MRS. HOPE GIBSON IS IN FINE FORM

Miss Marian Beck Enters First Round—Other Londoners Not Successful.

TORONTO, June 5.—Judging from the form displayed by Mrs. Hope Gibson of Hamilton in the qualifying round of the ladies' Ontario golf championship, which was played at the Rosedale Club today, the other fifteen players who qualified for the first flight will have a hard time relieving her of the title of Ontario champion which she won in the annual tournament at London last summer. Mrs. Gibson turned in a score of 86, four better than that of her nearest opponent, Miss Ada McKenzie of the Mississauga Club, who, in turn was the same number of strokes ahead of Miss Sidney Pepler of the Toronto Club, who turned in the third best score of 94. Fifteen players, with 102 or better, qualified today for the first sixteen, and Mrs. Henderson of Rosedale and Mrs. Murdock of the Humber Valley Club, will play off tomorrow morning for the honor of being among these that qualify, as they were tied for sixteenth place with a gross of 103.

The Toronto Club provided six players who qualified, while Hamilton is next in line with five ladies who will start tomorrow morning on the first round of the match play. The other clubs represented in the championship circle are Mississauga, Scarboro, Lambton, Lakeview, and either Rosedale or Humber Valley. In all ninety of the competitors were from Toronto clubs with London, Hamilton, Brantford and Paris providing the visiting players.

The other ladies who qualified were: Miss Joyce Hutton, Toronto, 95; Miss M. Emslie, Toronto, 96; Miss M. K. Rowe, Hamilton, 96; Mrs. J. H. Riddell, Scarboro, 97; Miss E. Nesbitt, Hamilton, 97; Miss Marian Beck, Toronto, 98; Mrs. H. M. Bostwick, Hamilton, 99; Mrs. W. G. Moore, Toronto, 99; Mrs. J. S. Ridout, Lambton, 101; Miss Jean Martin, Toronto, 101; Mrs. W. W. Forsyth, Rosedale, 102; Miss Violet Mills, Hamilton, 102.

In addition to the qualifying round there was a handicap event in which four ladies were tied for first place with 76. As a result, Mrs. M. K. Rowe of Hamilton, Mrs. Fred Mallory and Mrs. G. T. Pepall of Lambton and Mrs. C. C. Mills of Rosedale will play off for the prize donated by the men of the Rosedale Club for the best handicap score.

Scores by Western Ontario players were:

Mrs. G. W. Little, London, 90; Miss Lillian Wickson, Paris, 92; Mrs. M. Graydon, London, 83; Mrs. E. L. Williams, London, 85; Mrs. R. Harris, London, 89; Mrs. F. Spry, London, 91; Mrs. W. G. Webster, London, 98.

MAY BRING ST. MARYS LACROSSE TEAM HERE

London Has Championship Team Within City Limits, But Not in Uniform, Survey Shows.

Efforts are being made by the London Lacrosse Club to get St. Marys here next Saturday, as Tecumseh Park will be idle that day.

The Stone Town crew, all dressed up and nowhere to go, in a lacrosse way, should welcome the tilt, but last night, all efforts to get in touch with the St. Marys officials failed. Renewed efforts will be made today to cinch the game.

A test such as St. Marys would give the locals might do several things, among them, get some of the vets out and into uniform. Londoners on their form Saturday must show more to win against St. Thomas, whom they meet in two weeks.

London is in the usual position of this year having a team of championship calibre within the city limits, but very much outside uniforms. If a couple could be got out, the rest would follow and without any undue optimism, there would be nothing but the finals for it.

"Stuffy" Makes First Error in 167 Consecutive Contests.

BOSTON, June 5.—When Stuffy McInnes of Cleveland, formerly of the Red Sox, made an error Saturday in the game with Detroit, he completed a new fielding record of 167 consecutive errorless games. The run started on May 30, 1921, after he dropped a ball thrown wide to him. That was his only error last season, and he had played 119 games thereafter in 1921 and 48 errorless games this year, until the failure of someone to cover third base Saturday left that bag unprotected when he threw.

LUCAN BEATEN 2—1 BY ILDERTON

LUCAN, June 5.—The locals suffered their first defeat of the season, when they lost a close N. W. B. A. game to Ilderton by the score of 2 to 1. Seven errors piled up by the Irish Nine had something to do with the result, but Last only allowed them five hits, which didn't help matters any. Weir allowed the visitors but two hits.

The score:

Ilderton	000 000 100—1
Lucan	200 000 00x—2

A New Addition.

Glover, a big, tall rangy chap and a lacrosse player of experience, who played with Eatons when they won the championship, is the latest acquisition. He took a few shots at goal between periods on Saturday, and that was enough for Coach Fremlin, who got right after him. Slattery and Ions, Dingle and Dr. Gordon are a quartet that would go far to putting London right into the finals. Ions would get out if Slattery would, and Dingle, who is home now in the Niagara peninsula, could be brought up for each game, providing that the rest of the stars turned up and made championship possibilities loom up. Fetterly is also another prospect if the rest turn out and get into the pastime.

Glover, the new man, was out last night, and though a defense player naturally, slings no mean stick around the home end of the game. He has a wicked underhand shot, and his height makes him a hard man to check.

The team showed clearly Saturday that with the amound of experience and capability possessed by the abovementioned stars to build on, London can produce a stronger team than that which went into the finals in 1914. Even with the addition of the new men mentioned, the present squad could be used. In Arris, Gertley and Donahue, there are the makings of a great defensive machine. Gertly played all through Saturday's game and should have been credited with the goal that Whitby got credit for. Sandford, with some real protection, would need but little ingrovement in goal and he'd soon get to handling some of the crowd's shots. It's bad enough to be lacking material, but to have it right on the doorstep and not be able to get at it is a still harder touch.

2,000 SEE WINGHAM BEAT GODERICH

ZURICH, June 3. — Two thousand people witnessed the downfall of the undefeated Purity Flour Co.'s imported team of Goderich today by the Wingham nine to the tune of 10—1. Lindsay of the Purity Flours did poor pitching and got ragged support, while Garner of Wingham, their pitching ace, got excellent support. He allowed 3 hits and had 11 strikeouts to his credit, and Lindsay allowed 11 hits and had 4 strikeouts. The Purity Flours put up the worst exhibition of baseball that has been seen here in many a day.

The Forest City O. B. A. team will hold a workout at Tecumseh Park between 6 and 8 o'clock Wednesday evening. All players are requested to be on hand, and any candidates will be welcome as try-outs.

The Alert and Hermit victories Saturday tied the league up in a knot. With the three clubs tied for first place it is going to be a merry battle from now on.

* * *

Manager Reid shook his team up for Saturday's battle, and the change worked wonders. The infield was lightning fast and the double play was one of the feature fielding plays of the day and drew well-deserved applause.

* * *

* * *

Baker, the kid pitcher of the Alerts, deserves all kinds of credit. With McLeod out with a damaged finger, and Clarke laid up with a charley-horse, he was thrown into the breach, and never once faltered. He faced every batter with lots of poise, and, encouraged by his teammates, came through nicely. In addition, he contributed two hits and fielded in faultless style.

* * *

Doc Cline continued his heavy hitting, obtaining two hits out of three trips to the plate. He is a valuable asset to any team.

* * *

Fred Burgess also turned in a good game for the Orients, handling five chances without an error and obtained two hits, one being good for two bases.

* * *

"Hank" Down pitched stellar ball, but the breaks were against him. He set seven down by the strike-out route and issued no passes.

* * *

"Chuck" Pirie is one of the fastest base-runners in the league. His feat of going from first to third on Doherty's bunt was a pretty piece of work. He beat Reilly's throw with yards to spare.

* * *

J. McLeod, playing his first game with the Hermits, came through with three hits, one of them a home run, and took care of eleven chances without a slip.

* * *

Every member of the cave-dwellers got at least one hit, which proves they brought their batting clothes with them.

* * *

Summers of the Forest City team had a good day at the plate. Two triples out of three times up was good work.

* * *

Hazelgrove of the same club also had his batting togs on. A single, a double and a triple were his contributions.

* * *

Next Saturday the Hermits tackle the Alerts, and the losers will have to drop out of the race, temporarily, at least. It should be another nice battle.

* * *

In the Sunshine Park game last night Hanlon was on the verge of pitching a perfect game for four innings. He took over after W. Clarke had walked the first four men and nobody out. He struck out the next three, and but for issuing a walk and an error, which allowed another man to first, had four nice frames hung up.

Moylan pitched nearly as well.

CIVIL SERVICE WINS.

Civil Service won one of the best games yet played in the Manufacturers' League this season, beating Grand Trunks 8 to 7 last night.

In the fourth Southcott weakened, allowing Trunks two hits and a walk, which, coupled with three miscues, gave the railwaymen four runs, and put them one ahead. "Hank" Down relieved and allowed two hits only, fanning seven batters.

The Civil Service evened things up in the fifth, when Watts doubled, was sacrificed to third and got home on a passed ball.

Grand Trunks got their last run in the seventh, when Pring singled, got to third on Armstrong's low peg to second and scored when Jeffries hit to center. Civil Service landed on Pring's offerings in their half of the same frame. Reilly singled, Southcott doubled, and both scored on Watts' single.

A one-handed stop by Burgess in the fifth, when he robbed Jeffries of a hit, featured the fielding.

PORT STANLEY RICH IN CHARMS

Rivals As Holiday Mecca Best Amusement Places in America.

Few Ontario summer resorts enjoy greater popularity or more widespread fame than Port Stanley. It is not many years since Port Stanley had no other attractions than the scenery and the sandy beach. Now the natural beauty of scenic conditions has been utilized to the fullest extent, and few lovelier spots are to be found.

The excellence of the smooth sandy beach, and the ideal bathing conditions which prevail there have been exploited in the most-highly efficient manner possible, and water sports may be carried on under practically perfect conditions.

Men who make a business of supplying the public with clean, wholesome amusement have seized upon Port Stanley as a strategic point at which to carry out their service to the public, and the beach at Port Stanley combines every facility or device for the pastimes which are naturally associated with lakeside resorts.

Good Transportation.

Transportation service to Port Stanley is unexcelled. One hour's comfortable ride through a country which may be taken as typical of the loveliest of natural scenery to be found in the province, and one arrives at the lakeside, where every convenience is to be found, either for amusing oneself or for regaling oneself with an abundance of good things to eat. For those who enjoy a whirl of gaiety, gaiety is there and in plenty. The casino provides for dancers the smoothest of floors and the most excellent of musicians, and the light fantastic may be tripped all evening in an atmosphere kept cool by lake breezes.

Beautiful View.

For those of more restful tendencies, the quiet beach and hillside offer many attractions, for there are benches placed everywhere which afford a delightful view of the lake and the country surrounding, and where the coolest of conditions prevail.

The first visit to Port Stanley gives one merely a taste of its pleasures, but even after an hour spent there one is seized with its possibilities for pleasure, a statement which is borne out by the fact that each year brings an increasing number of American visitors, and when one remembers the large number of available American resorts, it is a fact worthy of consideration.

AUSTRALIAN IS GOLF FAVORITE

NEW YORK, June 5.—New York golfers received word from England today that because of his fine play in preliminary tournaments in Great Britain, Joe Kirkwood, the Australian golfer, would start the favorite in the British open championship, to be played at Sandwich, beginning June 19.

Kirkwood became a pronounced choice after outclassing the field in the £800 open tournament at Lossiemouth, Scotland, which he won with a total of 290, doing a 69 and breaking the course record in his first round. He was thirteen shots ahead of Len Holland and George Duncan, who were tied for second with 303.

Abe Mitchell took 307 and Harry Vardon, with a fine third round of 71, was 307. Alex Heard needed 310 and Len Ray 317. Arthur Havers, one of the foremost of the younger British professionals, was far down the list with a total of 320.

Belyea said he was contemplating retiring from rowing competitions.

The Canadian champion's time was 7 minutes and 30 seconds. While Hoover finished far in the lead, his time being 7.24, Belyea was only two-fifths of a second behind Paul Costello of Philadelphia.

DISCOVER PLAN TO BREAK JAIL

Kent County Authorities Handed Letter Written by Louis Anderson.

Accused Expected To Appear For Trial Next Week.

Special to London Advertiser.

CHATHAM, June 5.—A well-thought-out scheme to escape from the county jail has been nipped in the bud by county police. A letter, written by Louis Anderson in the jail, has been placed in the hands of the county police authorities. Anderson has been in the jail for nearly a month awaiting trial. Manacled to a police officer, he faced Magistrate Arnold in the county police court this morning. He did not plead when the charge was read to him, but merely asked to see his lawyer.

Anderson's daughter, who was arrested last week in an attempt to leave the city, also faced the magistrate in the county court on a charge of attempting to assist her father to break jail. "What have you to say about this charge?" asked Magistrate Arnold. She shrugged her shoulders and ventured no reply. "Are you guilty or not guilty?" persisted the magistrate. "Well, I don't know," was the answer.

Considers Charge Serious.

"Considering the fact that in the jail at the present time are two men charged with murder, and there are others there awaiting trial on serious charges, I do not think this incident should pass unnoticed," declared Col. H. D. Smith, crown attorney. "Here is a letter which was delivered to the jailer by one of the prisoners when given his discharge last week. The letter is addressed to Morgan Anderson, R. R. No. 3, and is apparently written by Louis Anderson, the accused."

He proceeded to read the letter, extracts from which follow:

"Hope you will get this soon, as I have a chance to send it out private—Have Henry Labombarde or get somebody acquainted with you throw me three hack-saw blades over southeast wall. But don't do this until you find out what is being done. If you can get money I can get Lawyer Brackin and will be safe anyway. But I am not going to serve a sentence if possible. We tried to ship Hazel. When you speak to her ask her if she has gone back on me, or if she is going to stand by me. Ask her to join the Salvation Army or wear their suits. Tell her not to mix in any company, but to wait for me. If she gets her money tell her to save it. When she can make a getaway beat it to Thelma. I want you to come to town as soon as you have asked for my money that I wrote you about on Sunday. You should have that by Tuesday. Don't be afraid to ask for money. Get a $10 bill. Put it in the centre of a plug of tobacco, Get the saw blades tied together and put a weight on them. Tell her not to go back on me."

Will Waive Examination.

Crown Attorney Smith stated that the balance of the letter was not very intelligible, and that it was apparently handed to the jailer by a local man who was committed to jail, but who was released on Thursday last.

Anderson will probably appear before Judge Stanworth for trial some time this week. His counsel, E. F. McDonald, stated that the accused would waive examination at this preliminary hearing.

TURKS CONSCRIPT MANY CHRISTIANS

Force Non-Moslems in Cilicia To Work in Labor Battalions.

ADANA, Cilicia, June 5.—Mustapha Kemal Pasha, head of the Turkish nationalist government, has given orders for the conscription of all Christians resident in Cilicia. They are to be formed into labor brigades and sent to the front line trenches to assist the Turkish army in its war against the Greeks.

The Turkish newspapers are coming out boldly in advocacy of a policy of clearing out all Christians from Cilicia, so that the country may become purely Moslem, thus removing any basis for interested action here by the big Christian powers.

Numerous Christians are being imprisoned on political charges and their estates confiscated and sold on the allegation that they belonged to the Turks before the war.

It is estimated here that fully 80 per cent of the Armenians in Cilicia have either been conscripted, deported, killed or have died of starvation. A large number of those remaining have embraced the Moslem faith so as to escape persecution.

Even the Turks suffer under the present rule, and hundreds of merchants who flocked here following the evacuation of the French troops, hoping to take over the businesses formerly conducted by the Armenians, are now one by one leaving the country because of the exorbitant taxes and the commandeering of goods by officers and men of the army.

TYING TONGUE OF HORSE NOT CRUEL

TORONTO, June 5.—The charge of cruelty to animals laid against A. S. Day, owner of the race horse Cacambo, by an officer of the Humane Society, for tying the horse's tongue down with tape during a race, was dismissed today by Magistrate T. H. Brunton in the county police court.

Major Brunton said that when the expert evidence disagreed, he arranged with the racing officials for a personal investigation at the track. They found that the horse was under no painful distress at all and there was no evidence of cruelty.

The case was accordingly dismissed.

Oxford Doubles Highway Expenditures.

Special to London Advertiser.

WOODSTOCK, June 5.—The Oxford County Council opened its June session this morning, and one of the communications received showed that during the period of December 31, 1920, to December 31, 1921, the county's share of expenditures on the provincial highways in the county amounted to $34,805.29, which is approximately twice as much as was spent last year.

It is expected that partly on this account and also on account of the fact that the payments to the schools of the county will be large this year, the estimates for the year will be at least $40,000 more than those for the last year, which were $213,871.

PLANS ACTION FOR CUTTING OF TREES

Galt Board of Works Would Preserve Shade On City Property.

GALT, June 5.—On the recommendation of the board of works the city council at its meeting tonight instructed the city solicitor to take immediate action against these citizens who, on Tuesday evening last, were responsible for the cutting down of two fine trees on a piece of property recently acquired by the city, which had an agreement with the former owner that they would not be cut. The general feeling was that an example should be made of those people to protect the people at large.

Pass $100,000 Bylaw.

The council passed a bylaw to raise $100,000, the major portion of the city's share of the cost of a new addition to be built to the G. C. I. to cost $335,000, which will make it possible to take up technical and vocational training.

In support of a petition signed by 118 merchants of the downtown business section, a deputation asked the council to rescind a clause in the traffic bylaw which permits only 20-minute parking periods in the central section of the city, it being claimed that this law was detrimental to the business interests.

Falls to Pavement.

Falling from a third story door to the cement pavement, when the protection gave away, John McKeith, 16, son of William McKeith, Oak street, was probably fatally injured late this afternoon. The lad was employed at Chapples store, and was working on the third floor.

What took him to the doorway, which overlooked a cement lane and the rear of the store, is not known. He was seen lying prostrate on the pavement, and doctors and the ambulance were immediately summoned. He fell on his head, and the skull was badly fractured, and it is believed internal injuries were sustained. He now lies at the hospital unconscious, with little hope for his recovery.

ARTHUR BAKER, who was sentenced to six months in the Ontario Reformatory by Judge D. C. Ross last week for assaulting an officer, appeared before Magistrate C. F. Maxwell Monday morning on the vagrancy charge which was pending at the time of the assault, and although Barrister Andrew Grant asked that a sentence be imposed to run concurrently, the magistrate decided to suspend sentence.

THE REMAINS of James Haslam, a former highly-respected resident of this city, arrived in the city Monday afternoon from Brantford, where he died, and were interred in the St. Thomas Cemetery. The deceased was for a number of years employed in the Grand Trunk Railway running out of St. Thomas, and later removed to London.

THE 43RD anniversary of the founding of Trinity Anglican Church in this city will be celebrated on Sunday next, according to announcement made Monday by Canon J. W. J. Andrew, the pastor.

LEWIS BINGHAM, against whom a charge of assaulting his wife was laid in police court Friday, appeared in court Monday morning, but no evidence being offered against him, the charge was withdrawn.

WORLD NEWS CUT SHORT

LONDON, June 5.—The Duke of York, who will act as best man to King Alexander of Jugo-Slavia at his wedding to Princess Marie of Rumania left London for Belgrade yesterday, bearing sumptuous gifts of jewelry from England's royal family to the future queen of Jugo-Slavia.

PARIS, France, June 5.—French railways will soon have reserved compartments for infants in arms and nurses if the resolution unanimously passed by the chamber of deputies is adopted by the government.

The mover of the resolution, which was supported by the public works commission, pleaded that many infants contracted fatal diseases through traveling in unhealthy carriages.

It was pointed out that children sent to the country and seaside were generally of delicate constitution, and were more liable to contract any illness the germs of which were in stuffy carriages.

VARNA, Bulgaria, June 5.—The survivors of hundreds of Russian families fleeing from Odessa and the Crimean ports are arriving here in small boats and on rafts equipped with sails.

Many are succumbing in their efforts to escape from Russia, some of the frail craft being wrecked, and a further death toll being taken by hunger and thirst, typhus and the exposure to the elements.

Some of those arriving have no clothing other than bathing suits, having escaped from the beaches. The soviet government is granting no permits for departure from the country.

PARIS, June. 5.—A remarkable story of the powers of resistance of a new-born child is related by the chief of police of Rennes. Today, after the confinement of Mme. Leonie Guerot of that town, the neghbors reported to the police that the child could not be found. A search was made, but for a time it was futile.

Then the chief heard faint sounds coming from a drain pipe in the house. Summoning plumbers, the chief ordered the pipe carefully taken apart. Lodged in the drain he found a girl baby. She had apparently suffered little from seventeen hours' exposure, which a doctor declared that many adults could not have survived.

When the mother was confronted with her child she burst into tears and begged to be permitted to keep her.

LONDON, June 5.—Wild animals used for exhibition purposes or in "animal acts" in the circuses and theatres should be protected from the wanton cruelty displayed by some of their trainers, declares the report of a House of Commons committee which has just completed an exhaustive study of the subject. The committee finds, however, that the trainers and exhibitors, as a body, are anxious to eliminate the cruelty.

Performances in which the animals are terrorized or subjected to risk of injury should be forbidden, the report recommends; the training of chimpanzees and all other anthropoid apes should be prohibited, and the performances of the larger carnivora, such as lions and tigers carefully supervised.

NORTHAMPTON, England, June 5.—A civic reception was accorded Earl Haig on his visit to Northampton and the decorated streets were crowded with ex-service men and others.

At a luncheon at the Guildhall, Lord Haig apologized to the guests for his wife appearing with a black eye. "Our little son," he said, "when playing in the garden threw a stone at his mother. Therefore I hope you will accept this explanation of the innocent cause, and the assurance that it is not her usual appearance."

Lady Haig instantly rose and, amid loud laughter and applause, said: "I am obliged to get up if only to stick up for my little son. My small boy took up a stone and threw it backwards instead of forwards. Hence the result."

LONDON, England, June 5.—For cruelly torturing a captive rat and also causing a street obstruction, Walter Cripps, 37, rat-catcher, and Joseph Ling, 28, carman, both of Deptford, S. E., were fined $50 at Old street police court yesterday.

Police-Constable Cross said that he saw Cripps and Ling in the street surrounded by a large crowd watching a demonstration of rat killing. Ling took a rat from a cage, put it between his shirt and body, while Cross collected money from the crowd. Ling then put a ferret inside his shirt and it chased the rat about the man's body. The ferret killed the rat in 2 minutes. Some of the dead rat's teeth were found to have been broken off and others extracted. Live rats in the cage had also had their teeth broken off. Their mouths were inflamed.

BERLIN, June 5.—How quickly can a tree in the forest be converted into the paper on which the printed news is sold on the street? A paper manufacturer in the Hartz district made the test which is recorded in Der Papier Fabricant.

Three flourishing trees with birds singing in the branches were cut down at 7:35 a.m., the trunks, stripped of their bark, were immediately taken to his factory, and in less than two hours transformed into pulp and paper. At 9:30 a.m. the roll of paper was loaded on a motor van for delivery at a newspaper office two and a half miles away. At 11 o'clock copies of the newspaper printed on the paper which three hours and twenty-five minutes earlier was a live tree were on sale in the streets.

PARIS, June 5.—No woman can enjoy good health until she has borne and nursed from four to six children, Professor Pinard of the Academy of Medicine declared in a lecture at the Clinique Baudelocque today on "The Function of Reproduction."

"Nature, when woman does not accomplish the function of reproduction in all its plenitude, retaliates with an intensity which is beyond relief," Professor Pinard stated. "In order that woman shall be in a good state of health, I gather from the experience of a lifetime that she should have borne a child by the age of 25. There is not one woman who can remove herself outside this law. A hypertrophic condition will prevail otherwise.

"For a woman to avoid her most notable troubles, she should bear four to six children, and suckle them herself. The woman who bears four children and does not suckle them is still in danger. Thus it is only when a woman has given for the last time the milk to the child that she has properly completed the functions.

"There are many women who insist on a family of one child. At the end, some time in life, this woman undergoes notable changes. Her health is affected in general fashion. It is often hypertrophy of the organs. Sooner or later comes almost surely the malady known as fibroma. Tumors develop. These are not always malignant, but may result in death."

MAKES COUNCIL OFFER TO RESIGN

INGERSOLL, June 5.—The even tenor of council proceedings was disturbed tonight by the reading of the resignation of Councillor N. J. Daniel as chairman of the board of works. A ripple of excitement followed, and members of the council were quick to suggest an amicable understanding between Councillor Daniel and Mayor H. D. McCarty.

In his resignation Councillor Daniel stated that he was taking the step because he and the mayor could not agree on matters pertaining to the discharge of his duties as chairman of the board of works.

The mayor expressed surprise that the resignation should have been submitted, as no such course had been intimated to him, he said, by Mr. Daniel. He further stated that any part he had taken in connection with Mr. Daniel's department was to get better service for the town.

The members of the council believed that Mr. Daniel and the mayor should get together and arrive at an amicable understanding. Mr. Daniel remained obdurate, stating, "When I quit, I quit." His resignation, however, was not accepted.

In connection with the charge whereby the first payment of taxes is made in June instead of August, the mayor explained that collections were coming in freely. The change in the period for payment proved contentious recently.

The Women's Auxiliary to Alexandria Hospital was granted permission to mark off certain portions of the streets for their drive for a mile of coppers on Saturday, June 10, to assist in the purchase of a motor ambulance.

PRISONER TRIES 3 TIMES TO ESCAPE

PHILADELPHIA, June 5. — John Cienso, held by the police here as a possible suspect in connection with the killing of Clarence Peters, by Walter S. Ward, today made three attempts to leap from a patrol wagon that conveyed him from an uptown police station to the central station in city hall.

He was shackled hand and foot and was safely lodged in the central station.

Cocoanut Oil Fine For Washing Hair

Don't use prepared shampoos or anything else that contains too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply put two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulsified in a cup or glass with a little warm water, then moisten your hair with water and rub it in. It will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo at all drug stores. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months. Be sure you get Mulsified. Beware of imitations. Look for the name Watkins on the package.—Advt.

PROTEST DELAY OF CHURCHES IN CREATING UNION

Passes Resolution Expressing Satisfaction With O. T. A. Enforcement.

ST. CATHARINES, June 5.—In the event of further delay on the part of the Presbyterian and Congregational Churches in declaring for organic union with the Methodist Church, steps may be taken by the latter body to build up a united church with the material in hand, namely, the 600 union churches already existing in Canada.

Such a course was approved by the Hamilton Methodist conference today when the delegates passed by a standvote a resolution declaring that whereas substantial majorities in the churches concerned had approved the union proposal, and as a result of this proposal 600 union churches had already been organized, and also in view of the danger of an abortive movement for union resulting in an increase in the number of denominations.

"Be it resolved that this conference memorialize the general conference to declare that if practical steps to consummate union are not substantially advanced within one year after September 30, 1922, the general conference will then invite the existing union churches and any other evangelical churches in Canada who may desire to form a united church within it to consider the formation of a united church on the existing basis of union, subject to such modifications as existing conditions may then seem to require."

Preceding the adoption of the resolution there was a lively discussion, in which views were expressed that the Methodist Church had done its part in the effort to bring about organic union.

The conference this afternoon broke into loud applause when Dr. T. Albert Moore, secretary of the department of evangelism and social service, expressed his keen satisfaction that the public accounts committee of the Legislature had declared the charges made by T. H. Lennox against Attorney-General Raney to be unfounded. He urged that the Ontario government be encouraged to uphold the most intense enforcement of the Ontario temperance act.

Dr. Moore was optimistic that the Methodist campaign to stop the plebiscite in Saskatchewan would be successful.

THINK SLAIN ITALIAN AT OAKVILLE COUNTERFEITER

TORONTO, June 5.—That the young Italian murdered at Oakville last night was associated with a counterfeiting bill-raising clique, was revealed this afternoon by discovery of two one-dollar American bills found in his pocket, which had been raised to "twenties." Other American bills found in his pocket are laso believed to be counterfeit.

Two telephone numbers were found in a book on the dead man. One was that of a garage man at Weston, who told the police he did not know the murdered man. The other number the police are investigating. There were also several Toronto street car tickets, but no other means of identification.

The picture of the murdered man was shown to a man whom the police think is acquainted with the counterfeiting gang that the Toronto and provincial police have been trying to track down, but the man stated he could not identify the picture. He stated he did not want to get "mixed up in the case."

VALENTINO FREED ON BIGAMY COUNT

LOS ANGELES, June 5.—Rodolph Valentino, screen actor whose principal roles have been of love heroes, was liberated of a charge of bigamy here today when the felony complaint was dismissed after a preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace Hanby.

The dismissal of the case followed three days of testimony concerning the marriage in Mexical, Mex., May 13, of Valentino and Miss Winifred de Wolf-Shaughnessy-Hudnut, professionally known as Natacha Rambova, and their honeymoon in Palm Springs, Cal., a desert oasis south of here.

FACES CHARGE OF $500,000 THEFT

MONTREAL, June 5.—Colin D. Cameron, former partner of the firm of Thornton Davidson & Co., appeared in court today in response to his indictment on the charge of having stolen $500,000 from his firm. His trial was fixed for June 19.

The indictment on the second charge against Cameron, that of having falsified the firm's books for some $500,000 was not read to the accused owing to an error having been made in its draft.

Cameron appeared dapper and cool in the box, and when formally called upon by the clerk of the court to answer to the charge clipped his crisp "not guilty" with easy assurance.

BRANTFORD, June 5.—Early in 1908 a turtle, unusual in type and size, was found by J. Hellems in the Kent drain, concession 12, first quarter townline, lot 6, Burford. When released shortly afterward it bore scratched on its hard back the letters of J. M. Hellems.

Recently Donald Robb, a Burford High School student, noticed a large turtle crossing the road a short distance south of Fairfield, and brought it to the school for the purpose of observation and study. On its back it bore in plain, decipherable letters the name J. M. Hellems. The turtle was caught again after fourteen years. To the student the reptile was further interesting because it belongs to a type native to Indiana, and comparatively rare north of the Great Lakes.

Mr. Hellems states that when he found it it was nine or ten inches long. As its present length is about ten inches, growth has been very slow recently, and no doubt its age is upwards of 50 years.

VOTE TO PAY COST OF POLICE PROBE

Brantford Aldermen Adopt Motion To Meet Investigation Expense.

Special to London Advertiser.

BRANTFORD, June 5.—The special committee appointed by the city council, composed of Alds. Harley, Robertson and Minshall, to interview Attorney-General Raney with reference to meeting part of the police probe cost here, reported that the city would have to meet the costs of the probe. Attorney-General Raney stated, however, that he thought the council should send a deputation to the government at the next session of the Ontario house and ask that part of the costs be paid by the government. He was only one of the members, and could not speak but for himself. It would have to come before the government before any measures could be taken, as there was no appropriation for the probe at the present time.

The appointment of Magistrate Blake and the salary that the city was compelled to pay him was also taken up, and Ald. Harley reported that the city would have to pay Mr. Blake at least $2,400 per year.

"Was any action to be taken against Louis Stander?" was asked of Mr. Raney, and he replied that it was up to the crown attorney of the city to take some action and then refer the matter to him.

He was waiting for Mr. Charlton to take some action in the matter. It was moved that the accounts of the police probe before Commissioner W. D. Gregory be paid.

Ald. Symons at once jumped up and stated that he wished to go on record as being opposed to paying for the probe, and stated that it was up to the attorney-general's department to meet the obligations incurred. He did not think the council had the power to pay the bill, and thought that it was up to those members who voted the accounts paid, in case of any trouble, to meet the amount, namely $8,718.77.

Mayor Parker stated that the accounts should be paid, and that the council should send the bill to the government asking them to meet part of it.

Ald. Bragg said that he would support the motion to pay the accounts, and that he was strongly in favor of the accounts being paid.

Ald. Comyn then moved that the account, totalling $8,718.77, be paid. This was seconded by Ald. Minshall. Upon the vote being taken eleven were in favor and three were opposed. The account was passed and ordered paid.

RIDGETOWN BAPTISTS HOLD ANNIVERSARY SERVICES

Rev. Jas. Proudfoot, New Pastor, Preaches Both Morning and Evening.

Special to London Advertiser.

RIDGETOWN, June 5.—Anniversary services were held in the Baptist Church here yesterday. Rev. James Proudfoot the new pastor of the church, preached excellent sermons both morning and evening to large and appreciate audiences.

At the morning service a mixed choir furnished the music and an excellent duet was rendered by Mrs. J. Dibley and daughter Ella.

For the evening service a choir of fifteen ladies rendered excellent music and a male quartet composed of Messrs. McLarty, Wedge Tofflemire and McClean also took part.

COCKSHUTT WILL UNVEIL MEMORIAL

KITCHENER, June 5.—Announcement was made today that Lieutenant-Governor Cockshutt will formally dedicate the war memorial which is to be unveiled at the cemetery on June 18, and which will be inscribed with the names of all Kitchener and Waterloo boys who gave their lives for their country. Notification was received today by the committee that the invitation sent to the lieutenant-governor had been accepted.

Word was received in this city today of the death in Buffalo of one of Kitchener's earliest pioneers in the person of Mrs. August Fox, nee Hollinger, at the age of 95. She settled in this city in 1847, when her husband started a jewelry business. Mrs. Fox was the grandmother of Canada's celebrated violinist, George Fox, who died a few years ago. The remains will be brought to Kitchener, where she will be buried in the Catholic Cemetery beside her husband, who predeceased her 55 years ago.

Walter Dopp, the Waterloo lad who is alleged to have pulled a Kitchener fire alarm box on May 26, and who was to have appeared in police court this morning, failed to answer his name when the case came before Magistrate Weir. Two other lads, implicated with him, Irvin Martin and Claude Bordman, were on hand to answer their summons. It is believed the youngster became frightened and left town. The case has been adjourned until Saturday pending the location of Dopp.

GROWERS PROTEST BEET SUGAR TAX

Strong Resolution Being Forwarded To Federal Government.

CHATHAM, June 5.—The Ontario Sugar Beet Growers Association representing between 6,000 and 8,000 growers, is registering a very strong protest to the federal government over the proposed excise tax on beet sugar. Strong resolutions are being passed and sent to the minister of finance explaining that this tax which amounts to $1 per ton on sugar beets will be passed on to them.

The city council at a special session this afternoon passed the following resolution on motion of Aldermen Lauriston and Sulman:

"Whereas it is proposed by the honorable the minister of finance to impose an excise tax upon beet sugar to the amount of forty-nine cents per hundredweight

"We, the city council of the city of Chatham, would respectfully urge that the revenue would compel the discontinuance of the manufacture of sugar from beets grown in Canada, thereby unfairly affecting, not merely an important manufacturing industry, but also the growing of sugar beets, which is an industry of great importance to the farmers of many counties in Southwestern Ontario, we would accordingly strongly urge the government not to impose such tax.

"And that copies of this resolution be telegraphed to Hon. W. S. Fielding and the Hon. James Murdock."

A. Sapiro, the noted organizer of the California Fruit Growers' Association and the Kentucky Tobacco Growers, will probably give an address on "Co-operative Associations," in this city on June 20, according to a statement given at the department of agriculture office today.

Every farmer in Western Ontario will receive an invitation to attend through all farmers' organizations. The talk will probably be given in the Kent Regiment armories.

COTTON STRIKERS WALK OUT AGAIN

MANCHESTER, N. H., June 5.—The gates of six of the cotton mills of New Hampshire were opened today for the first time in three months. When the whistles blew to call the 25,000 workers back to their places thousands were near the mills, but only scanty hundreds responded, according to observers. There were demonstrations at all the mills, but without disorders. In several mills the workers later walked out again, and the mill gates were shut once more.

The strikes began on February 13, as protests against a wage reduction of 20 per cent, and an increase from 48 to 54 hours in working schedules.

WINDSOR RECTOR GOING TO SARNIA

WINDSOR, June 5.—Rev. D. Walter Collins, pastor of the Church of the Ascension, announced yesterday that he had resigned from his local charge to become rector of St. George's Anglican Church, Sarnia.

Mr. Collins' resignation will take effect at the pleasure of the Bishop of Huron. Mr. Collins will succeed Canon Davidson, who has retired after more than 40 years in the ministry. He has been rector of the Church of Ascension for over six years, coming here from Exeter, Ontario.

ENDS PROBE OF HUSTON DEATH

Commissioner MacIntosh Concludes Taking Evidence At Toronto.

TORONTO, June 5.—The inquiry conducted by Commissioner John A. MacIntosh, K.C., into the death of Capt. Orville Huston at Fort Francis in December last was wound up here this afternoon, and all that remains now is for the commissioner to bring in his report to the attorney-general. Today's session was taken up with a statement from Alex. Lewis, M.L.A., whose speech in the Legislature suggesting foul play brought about the inquiry, and by the summing up of the evidence by counsel.

Gordon Waldron, K.C., counsel for the government, made a slashing attack on the Toronto Telegram, and declared that in making his charges in the Legislature Mr. Lewis was merely the tool of the Telegram, which was out to discredit E. W. Backus.

Scores Telegram Officials.

"Mr. Backus gave his evidence like the honorable gentleman he is," Mr. Waldron remarked, "and I must contrast his attitude with that of those cultivated newspapermen who came from that office which is attacking him. I have seen a good many witnesses in the box in my day, but I can say I have never seen a more pitiable exhibition of unmanliness than that given by the officials of the Telegram. Their evidence was reluctant, evasive, dishonest and unture."

In opening his address, H. S. White, K.C., counsel for E. W. Backus, produced one of the telegrams which passed between the Toronto Telegram and G. C. Porter, their Winnipeg correspondent, which, he declared, brought out the attitude of the Telegram toward the Huston case. This telegram, dated Feb. 3, signed by C. O. Knowles, said:

"Please see A. W. Morley, solicitor for Huston, and ask him if we can have the actual letters passing between Huston and the International Lumber Company. May be of great value."

"If the Telegram had been content with that they would not have given their hand away. But you see at the end of the message there are the words, crossed out in lead pencil 'to use in the libel action.' So that makes the attitude of the Telegram perfectly plain.

Raps Major Lewis.

So far as Major Lewis was concerned, Mr. White declared that his evidence was "as unreliable as the charges he made in the Legislature, either through faulty memory or through design."

Mr. White went on to review the case and to point out how, in his opinion, Captain Huston had committed suicide, and had not been murdered. So far as the Backus interests were concerned, the charges were that Captain Huston had been carrying papers which it might be in the interests of the Backus people to secure, and he felt that when he had shown that no such documents existed he had established the falsity of the Lewis charges.

Major Lewis, who made his statement prior to that of Mr. Waldron, said he was still convinced that Captain Huston's death bore all the marks of murder.

"Mr. Waldron," he went on, "has followed the tactics which I said would be followed in my letter to the attorney-general. He has been investigating, not the death of Captain Huston, but the actions of a newspaper. Instead of being impartial, as should be the duty of any representative of the crown, he has gone on a fishing expedition for the Backus interests."

In reply to Mr. White, Major Lewis declared that his motives in taking up the Huston case were his own, that he did not hold a brief for the Telegram, and that his sole interest was to see that the stigma of suicide should be removed from the name of a fellow-veteran.

As counsel for Mr. Backus, I. F. Hellmuth declared that he "had expected from Major Lewis, at least, some expression of regret for the unwarranted attack upon Mr. Backus. I had thought that, in common decency he would express the deepest contrition for having accused a fellow-man of conspiring to commit murder. But he has not done that."

SARNIA-GODERICH HIGHWAY BOOMED

Special to London Advertiser.

SARNIA, June 5.—The public bodies in Sarnia, quick to recognize the growth of Sarnia as a most convenient gateway from the United States to Canada, are backing the project of the Sarnia-Goderich highway as one additional attraction to the many existing now for the American tourist trade. Although the season is hardly opened nearly 2,000 automobiles were transported across the St. Clair River last week, the majority being American tourists from various parts of the States of Michigan and Illinois. This number probably will be doubled when the season is in full swing. The recent addition to the ferry service between Sarnia and Port Huron, instead of more than taking care of the summer tourist traffic, will possibly be extended by the addition of another vessel.

Public bodies of the town of Goderich will co-operate with those of Sarnia and the intermediate points in bringing influence to bear for the building of this highway.

The June session of the Lambton County Council opened in the council chamber at the courthouse here this afternoon with Warden W. J. Davis of Euphemia presiding, and will continue all week. The opening meeting was largely given over to the reading of communications and other routine business, and the usual work of the session will commence tomorrow. Indications point to a busy week for the county fathers, with a number of delegations scheduled to wait upon the council regarding road improvements and other matters and the usual grist of by-laws, etc.

One of the most important delegations to ask the co-operation of the council will be that from the Sarnia Chamber of Commerce in connection with the proposed provincial highway from Sarnia to Goderich, a plan to place Sarnia at the head of one of the most beautiful scenic highways in the country, by which tourists from the United States may enjoy the rural beauties of Western Ontario, and at the same time a lakeshore route of unexcelled beauty.

APPROVES PROPOSAL FOR GALT POSTOFFICE SITE

Hon. Charles Murphy Recommends Purchase of Land Now Available.

Special to London Advertiser.

HOUSE OF COMMONS, Ottawa, June 5.—Hon. Charles Murphy, postmaster-general, fully approves of the plan suggested by S. L. Clarke, president of the Galt Board of Trade, who during an interview suggested that the government purchase a certain desirable piece of land now offered for sale as the site for a new postoffice which is likely to be built in that city in the near future.

Mr. Murphy has written Hon. Dr. King, minister of public works, recommending that the land be purchased.

Galt is numbered among the many places which stand in need of new federal buildings. It is understood that the government will erect such a building in that city within the next few years.

Fearing that a piece of property highly suitable for a site would not be available when the time comes, Mr. Clarke came to Ottawa Friday last to interview the minister of public works. The minister was out of the city, so Mr. Clarke made his recommendation to Mr. Murphy.

MACAROW FACES NEW INDICTMENT

MONTREAL, June 5.—The bill of indictment against D. C. Macarow, former manager of the Merchants Bank, charged with having submitted a false statement to the Dominion government, will be presented to the grand jury of the court of king's bench on June 14.

The new charge is substantially the same as the one dismissed by Judge Cusson at the conclusion of the preliminary enquete, and accuses Mr. Macarow of having wilfully made a false and deceptive return to the minister of finance concerning the bank's financial standing for the month of October, 1921.

Whether witnesses will be called by the grand jury while it is considering the bill could not be learned today.

CRERAR FIGHTS TO CUT TARIFF TO "SAVE FACE"

Moves Sub-Amendment To Liberal Budget After Approving Many Sections.

MAY BE OUT OF ORDER

Hon. W. S. Fielding Fears Practice of House May Invalidate Motion.

Advertiser Staff Correspondent.

HOUSE OF COMMONS, Ottawa, June 5.—Dissatisfied with the budget, because, in his opinion, insufficient cuts were made in the tariff, Hon. T. A. Crerar, leader of the Progressives, moved a sub-amendment to the budget today.

Immediate objections were raised by Hon. W. S. Fielding, minister of finance, that the amendment was out of order. It was the general practice of the house, the finance minister said, that two amendments could not be made to a motion to go into ways and means or supply.

Mr. Crerar argued that because three parties were now in the house his amendment should be admitted, so that the third party should be given an opportunity to express its views. Moreover, he asserted that in 1860 the Canadian practice established in 1858 had been reversed.

Mr. Fielding maintained that while he was not prepared to pass any remarks on Mr. Crerar's reference to the events of 62 years ago, it was a fact that such amendments were barred in Parliament as far back as any member of the present house could remember.

Reserves Judgment.

The speaker reserved judgment until tomorrow.

The step taken by Mr. Crerar was not unexpected by the house, as for some time it was rumored that the Progressive party would attempt to save its face with its constituents by just such a move. The sub-amendment was moved in full knowledge that objections would come from the government, and that in all probability it would be ruled out of order by the speaker.

Members of the Progressive party refused absolutely to support Sir Henry Drayton's amendment, because they believed it was not offered in good faith, and because it offered nothing of a constructive nature.

On the other hand, they hesitated to give support to the Liberal policy without offering objections to the small cuts in some tangible form, even though they knew such a move might be barren of results.

Even though the Speaker rules the sub-amendment in order, it will not likely embarrass the government. As a low tariff is directly opposed to the Conservative platform, the official opposition will be forced to vote against Mr. Crerar's motion.

Criticism Constructive.

Differing from Sir Henry Drayton, Mr. Crerar's speech was replete with constructive criticism. He supported many of the changes made by Mr. Fielding, in addition to the tariff changes, although he criticized the stamp tax and the sales tax.

"That all the words after the word 'that' be struck out and the following be substituted therefore:

"The Liberal party assembled in convention in August, 1919, adopted a resolution which, after reciting its professed purposes, contained the following specific and unqualified pledges:

"'That to these ends wheat, wheat flour and all products of wheat; the principal articles of food; farm implements and machinery; farm tractors; mining, flour and saw mill machinery and repair parts thereof; rough and partly dressed lumber; gasoline; illuminating, lubricating and fuel oil; nets, net-twines and fishermen's equipment; cement and fertilizers; should be free from customs duties as well as the raw material entering into same.

"'That the British preference be increased to 50 per cent of the general tariff.

"'And the Liberal party hereby pledges itself to implement by legislation the provisions of this resolution when returned to power.'

"That such pledges were restated as the policy of the Liberal party in an official handbook issued just before the general election namely, in October, 1921, under the authority of its leader, Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King.

"That candidates contesting on behalf of the Liberal party in said election, used widely the promises therein set out as a means of securing support.

Alleges Inadequacy.

"That the Liberal party having been returned to power the budget proposals of the finance minister now brought down, based as they are mainly on the principle of protection in respect to the tariff are wholly inadequate to implement such pledges by legislation.

"That while recognizing the charges in fiscal policy should be made in such a way as to give industries thus affected a reasonable opportunity for readjustment, this house is of the opinion that the principle of protection as a basis for fiscal policy in Canada is unsound and not in the best interests of the Dominion."

In resuming debate on the budget today the Progressive leader opened by congratulating Premier W. L. Mackenzie King on his appointment to the imperial privy council. Mr. King could now share with the leader of the opposition the distinction of prefacing his name with the words "Right Honorable."

"I am not not sure that this handle to his name adds anything to the wisdom of the prime minister," remarked Mr. Crerar, "but I congratulate him most heartily nevertheless."

Mr. Crerar wished to approach discussion of the budget from the angle of his desire to make some useful suggestions for the solution of Canada's problems. The financial condition of Canada was not good. That was putting it mildly.

A great deal, if not all, railway deficits were properly chargeable to expenditure and not to capital account. There were, of course, expenditures such as maintenance of road bed, which were properly capital charges, but the government would be very well advised to draw a clear line and to see that every cent which should be put down to expenditure account was charged to that account. Then, every effort should be made to meet expenditure. He did not share the sanguine views sometimes expressed that Canada's railways would shortly be paying. This country had trafficked wildly in railways prior to 1914.

Mr. Crerar called attention to the fact that according to the statement of the finance minister there was a gap of about $140,000,000 between estimated revenue and estimated expenditure for the current year. This was more than the total expenditure of the country before 1914. He did not stress this point too much. It was one of the most thought provoking things in the budget. The finance minister proposed new taxes to bridge this gap, but had stated that it was doubtful whether counts could be made to balance. This condition imposed on every minister the strongest possible responsibility to curtail expenditure until expenditure was balanced by revenue. (Progressive and Liberal applause). He expressed admiration for Mr. Fielding's ingenuity in devising new ways of getting revenue, but the limit was nearly reached. The tendency in Canada during the last twenty years had been one of extravagance, not only in federal, but in provincial and municipal affairs. What was needed more than anything else was a realization of the urgency of economy and the government could give an effective lead by ruthless restriction of expenditures.

In Great Britain and in the United States—in practically every country that was at all comparable to Canada—taxes were being reduced at the present time. All this emphasized the need of rigid economy, and Mr. Crerar did not propose to give advice of this character without making suggestions to carry it out. His suggestion was that it was costing too much at the present time to govern Canada. This applied to the Dominion, to the provinces and to the municipalities.

Urges Economies.

In the Dominion great economies could be effected by the reorganization of departments to do away with duplication of service. Again, the erection of some government office building as soon as the country could afford it would remove the encouragement to extravagence which existed in the spreading of the civil service all over the city. There were also duplications of service as between the province and the Dominion. The question could be attacked on a broad policy. He recognized that the government had been in office only a short time, but he warned them that next session he would look for substantial reductions in expenditure, no matter what government might be in power.

Turning to discuss the sales tax, Mr. Crerar announced that he was just as much opposed to it as when it was introduced. It did not bear fairly upon the people who had to pay it.

People less able to pay the sales tax were compelled to pay out of proportion with their incomes. Poor men, earning from $1,000 to $1,800 a year, were heavily hit in the purchase of necessities for their families. Bachelors—even the prime minister was a bachelor—escaped almost altogether. Taxes should be levied on the basis of ability to pay. The sales tax would provide a certain amount of revenue, but would also discourage business, trade and industry. The heavier the tax the less articles consumed, consequently lack of work in the factories.

Opposes Stamp Tax.

The increase in the stamp tax on checks would impose a very heavy burden. Mr. Crerar was not stating that there should not be a tax on checks, but when the matter was taken up in committee some changes should be made. There were firms compelled to use a large number of checks, and Mr. Crerar knew of some who would have to pay from $50,000 to $60,000 a year. The premium on outside insurance companies was also imposing a heavy burden. In certain lines of insurance it was necessary to go outside, and in that event, the person taking the insurance would be penalized.

Some efforts had been made to coordinate the financial policy of the country. Under the British North America act the province had all the powers of taxation except that relating to customs. People living in certain of the provinces were paying as many as three income taxes, one to the municipality, one to the provincial government, and one to the federal government. There should be well-defined fields for each governing body. There should be a conference between municipal, provincial and federal authorities. This would be doing a very real service, and the government should take the initiative.

The budget had some features with which Mr. Crerar was in a reement. The first was the statement made by the financial minister that it was the settled policy of the government to secure reciprocity with the United States. Another good thing was the abrogation of the regulaitons permitting customs officials to assess the value of goods coming into the country. The cancellation of the regulations providing that the country of origin should be stamped on all goods coming in was also a step in the right direction.

The intention of the regulating evidently had been to make it difficult to import goods, and its sole purpose was to assist the Canadian manufacturer. Mr. Crerar also approved of the government's action in wiping out the depreciated currency regulations. These regulations he termed "antediluvian," and the most outrageous form of protection ever put upon the statute books of Canada. The logical end of this procedure would be entirely to exclude foreign-made goods.

Could Not Agree.

Mr. Crerar could not agree with those who would have no part with Germany. Great Britain and the United States were doing everything to restore their trade with that country. At the present moment a commission was working out a plan to give credit to Germany, so she could increase her purchasing power.

Outside of the changes he had mentioned, however, Mr. Crerar did not look favorably upon the budget. It was a protectionist budget. It was true that Mr. Fielding had made a reduction of 2½ per cent in many of the items, but as far as the United States and general tariffs were concerned there was little change. What reductions were made were still based on protection.

Dealing with agricultural implements, Mr. Crerar said the Liberals had a plank in their platform definitely in favor of free agricultural implements. Not a single implement had been added to the free list by this budget. Reductions in the British preference did not effect them. Mr. Crerar objected to many discrepancies. Plows paid a duty of 15 per cent, and mowers 10 per cent. He asked why there should be discrimination. Portable steam engines were dutiable to the extent of 7½ per cent, while tractors under $1,400 were free.

He was glad to see that the government had placed tractors on the free list by statute instead of leaving them to the mercy of orders-in-council.

The duty had been taken off tractors by the union government in 1918, as a means of encouraging production. If making them free in 1918 would encourage production, then the same argument should apply to other farm implements now. Mr. Crerar asked why there should be discrimination between tractors costing $1,400 and higher-priced ones. The man who purchased a $1,400 tractor got it across the border free, while the man who paid $1,500 was taxed $162.50. A binder was dutiable to the extent of 10 per cent, while the threshing machine which threshed the grain that had been cut by the binder was taxed 15 per cent; the tools used in repairfing both of these machines paid a duty of 30 per cent.

Lacks Consistency.

The minister of finance apparently had not given the matter of agricultural implements duties the consideration it deserved. There was nothing consistent in the provisions regarding these machines. This, perhaps, was due to the fact that there were in the government men of diverse views on tariff matters. The government had failed to implement its pledges regarding free agricultural machinery. The minister of finance would have been supported had he come to the house and said that he wanted to carry out that platform, but was unable to go the whole distance at this time. The tariff on most items which would be classed as household necessities still range from 25 to 35 per cent. The reduction of 2½ per cent was swallowed up by the increase in the sales tax. The budget did not live up to the policies laid down in the Liberal budget amendment of last year. If this budget, which, except for minor changes, was a protectionist budget, represented the policy of the government in fiscal maters, it was not what the people had a right to expect.

Mr. Crerar did not favor the system of discriminating against United States goods. Canada's new tariff was already being discussed in the United States as a retaliatory measure. United States was one of the countries with which we dealt most heavily, and Mr. Crerar believed that within a short time the protectionists in Canada would find that the United States was getting away from protection itself. The leading businessmen, bankers and chambers of commerce in that country had gone on record as opposing a protectionist tariff.

The new tariff measure which had been introduced there a year ago embodying protection was still no further ahead. The Fordney bill had been brought into effect, but the general tariff was still the Wilson tariff of 1914, which included many articles in the free list. The Progressive leader was not enthusiastic over the cry of American capital being brought to Canada to establish industries here. It was true, he said, that Americans were opening factories, say in Quebec, but this was largely due to the fact that Quebec had a stable supply of labor. It really meant, however, that American capital was financing the factories and taking the profits over to the other side.

Absentee Landlordism.

Reverting to the tariff against United States products, Mr. Crerar declared that some of the leading manufacturers of the United States were opposed to protection. They realized that a country could not sell unless it was also willing to buy. He predicted that within two years the face of the United States would be definitely set against the principle of protection in tariffs, just as was that of Great Britain. But the manufacturers who had branch factories in Canada would not want to forego protection in this country, even though they were willing to see their own country lower the barriers.

Progressives were unalterably opposed to the principle of protection. They were opposed to it because a nation grew rich through its trade, and no nation ever acquired prominence which did not trade with the world.

Another reason why the Progressives were opposed to protection was that it was selfish and sectional. Protection had built up a few large cities but it had done very little else. Skilled workmen were leaving Canada because they could secure cheaper living conditions in the United States, while wages were just as good.

No part of Canada had suffered so much under protection as the Maritime Provinces. Before Confederation ships from the Maritimes were sailing to every port in the world, but for 40 years the tariff system had made it impossible to trade with the world and the result was stagnation. As far as Ontario was concerned, it was an undeniable fact that some of the best agricultural districts were going steadily down. People were leaving. Men could not afford to get married. That was not a healthy condition, and the whole situation could not be justified.

Are Free Traders.

The Prairie Provinces would never become protectionists. If a hide-bound Ontario protectionist settled in the Prairie Provinces he might not change for a few years, but his people who came after him would be free traders. The Prairie Provinces had prospered in spite of protection.

The prosperity experienced between 1900 and 1912 was not due to the tariff. It was due to the fact that the West was opening up and that people and capital were pouring in. The manufacturers of Eastern Canada were almost on their uppers until western development commenced. Of Canada's total exports of $740,000,000 last year, $453,000,000 was made up of the produce of the farms.

Including products of the farm, the forest and the mine, the exports of Canada in these groups totalled $683,000,000, yet the fiscal policy of Canada for 40 years had been directed to build up manufacturers. If, by the policy of the country, the production of wheat were doubled, would it not give more traffic to the railways and more employment to the people in the cities. The fiscal policy of Canada had in fact inverted the pyramid. The budget was protectionist. It made practically no change in the tariff.

Mr. Crerar recalled that in 1919 he had left the government of that day because it had brought down a tariff which was practically the same as that now in existence.

Regarding the Drayton amendment the Progressive leader said that the first thing that struck him was that its terms were very different from the arguments used by the Conservatives. Again the declaration of the amendment that the present budget proposals "constitute an utter failure to implement the Liberal pledges of legislation" was not quite justified. For instance, the wiping out of the high protection under guise of legislation regarding depreciated foreign exchange was a material step forward. But the main reason, said Mr. Crerar, why he could not accept the Conservative amendment was that it offered no constructive suggestion for dealing with the existing conditions. Canada needed at the present time a broad, courageous policy. It was necessary to get away from protection, and to set our eyes steadily in the opposite direction. For this reason Mr. Crerar proposed an amendment to the amendment.

Objects To Amendment.

Mr. Fielding at once objected that the amendment was out of order, and the Speaker asked for an expression of opinion by the members of the house. Mr. Fielding then stated the general practice that there could not be two amendments to a motion to go into committee of ways and means or supply, and Hon. Charles Marcil said that this had been the practice during his term as speaker.

Hon. T. A. Crerar submitted that under the circumstances his amendment should be admitted. The Canadian practice was based on a decision by Speaker Smith in the Legislative Assembly of Canada in 1858. Two years later this decision had been reversed by the same Speaker, who had ruled that an amendment to the amendment, not being a substantiative motion, was in order. Mr. Crerar further urged that owing to the fact that there was now a well recognized third party in Parliament it should be given an opportunity of expressing its views on a matter of this kind.

Mr. Fielding remarked that Mr. Crerar had based his case on something that had occurred 62 years ago. He was not prepared to express an opinion upon that fact, but at all events, against the precedent quoted by Mr. Crerar was the practice of Parliament as long as it could be remembered by any member of the present house.

The Speaker then announced that he would reserve his decision until tomorrow.

PROMISES THAT ONTARIO WILL BE CONSULTED

Premier Drury Makes Concessions To Labor Member.

SCHOOLS BILL APPROVED

Measure Introduced by Grant Passes in Committee.

TORONTO, June 5.—Representation for the province of Ontario in the international treaty negotiations between Canada and the United States will be asked for by Premier Drury, according to promises made in the Legislature this evening during the continuation of the address of Peter Heenan, Labor member for Kenora, who vigorously opposed the premier's Lake of the Woods control bill.

Mr. Heenan resumed his address at 10 o'clock this evening. He contended that there should not be contemplated a system of joint control of Lake of the Woods, English River and other waters, but that Ontario's engineers should regulate Ontario's waters without outside interference.

In the premier's bill, he declared, only the interests of Manitoba had been considered. In his opinion Ontario was paying too high a price for the desired harmony and cooperation with the sister province. He urged arrangements for a further conference, in which all interests could be heard. It should be an easy matter, he declared, to get together and arrange for future storage and regulation on both English and Winnipeg Rivers.

Ferguson Opposes Bill.

"Why is not Ontario represented in the framing of the treaty between Canada and the United States?" he asked the premier. "Both Minnesota and Manitoba are consulted."

In the face of considerable opposition from both Liberals and Conservatives, Hon. Walter Rollo's bill to amend the minimum wage act was given its second reading. The Farmer members took no part in the discussion.

Opposing the bill, Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, Conservative leader, said that the powers given to the board, which had been acting for only a year and a half, were too sweeping.

"The present bill," he declared, "tends to establish practically a flat rate for female labor throughout the province," and did not allow sufficient latitude to employers in the smaller centres where the people desired to work all the time possible. Especially this was true of industries which worked at full speed at certain seasons and then experienced more quiet times.

"The minister's statement that this is the first bill introduced which directly affects labor," said F. Wellington Hay, Liberal leader, "is most significant, showing that the labor conditions in this province are not in need of any radical legislation. On behalf of the industries in the riding which I represent, I feel that I must oppose this bill."

Considers Action Sudden.

The opinion was expressed by W. F. Nickle that the action of the government was somewhat too sudden. There was not sufficient material at hand proving the satisfactory working of the board to justify the extension of their powers.

Hon. W. Rollo, minister of labor, in explaining the purpose of the measure, stated that the minimum wage board has experienced considerable difficulty in having the intended effect of its orders carried out. There was a tendency in some parts, he said, to extend the working hours when the minimum wage was raised. Outside of Quebec, he said, Ontario was the only province that had not the power to regulate the hours of labor. Mr. Rollo pointed out that the hours of work per week in the textile industry varied from 35 to 59.

With several important amendments the bill to amend the school laws act, introduced in the Legislature this afternoon by Hon. R. H. Grant, minister of education, which embraces a plan to overcome the situation respecting provincial grants to rural schools which aroused so much criticism last autumn was approved in committee. Premier Drury was responsible for the chief change in the reading of the act, when at his instigation the clause was dropped which would have placed at the discretion of the minister of education the distribution of a portion of the grants according to "the special circumstances of any particular school."

As the bill was originally introduced the measure proposed to add to the list of qualifications on which general grants for the rural public and separate schools might be apportioned, subject to the regulations. Premier Drury, however, thought that the clause placed in the hands of the minister a power that might be abused in the future with the result that an amendment was substituted to the following effect:

"And any other circumstances which according to the regulations should affect such apportionments."

Amendment Opposed.

The object of the government in adding to the provisions on which the money might be distributed was to clear up the situation of criticism of last year when it was stated that certain rural separate schools were being assisted by provincial grants in unfair proportion to similarly situated public schools in the same districts. It was pointed out that the whole difficulty arose over the fact that a large proportion of the grants to rural separate schools had not been absorbed on the regular basis of distribution, and the department had followed the practice of distributing this unabsorbed portion on a pro rata basis.

Premier Drury was also responsible for the inclusion among the considerations governing the apportionments that grants should be made on the basis of the assessment of the school sections in public schools and on the assessment of the separate school supporters, it being pointed out that there were no separate school sections.

Hon. R. H. Grant's amendment met with considerable objection from J. R. Cooke, Conservative member for Hastings, who claimed that the bill, if adopted, would ruin the school system in the province in the rural districts. He stated that the unabsorbed surplus of the separate school grants of last year was $70,000, and if divided among the 99 separate schools of the lower grades, who would naturally benefit, it would mean an average of $706 extra grant, more, he said, than the actual salary paid to the teachers. At the present time, according to Mr. Cook, there are certain localities in which there are a considerable number of people who would ordinarily support a separate school, but not being able to do so, all parties were working together supporting one public school. He was afraid that the extra grant would cause more separate schools to be built and would therefore weaken the general public school system of the province.

Agrees to Proposition.

He suggested that the whole grant question be sent back to the select committee on education, of which he is a member, to be considered during the recess and reported upon during the next session. Hon. Howard Ferguson was of the same opinion as Mr. Cook and advised that it be sent to committee.

Hon. Mr. Grant agreed to this proposition, but in the meantime, he desired his amendment to go through, explaining that his whole desire was to avoid further criticism this year. Mr. Grant thought that the situation was righting itself in any event owing to the fact that the separate schools themselves were awakening to a more general realization of the grants and were taking greater advantage of them, with the result that the unabsorbed surpluses were decreasing year by year.

At the request of Mr. Grant, the amendment was passed through the house and will be referred to the special committee for further consideration.

Following the objection of Hon. Howard Ferguson, a clause incorporated in the bill giving sections of less than 500 population the right to elect the school trustees by ballot, was struck out. Mr. Ferguson stated that the open voting method was the best and proper procedure, and that if he had the power it would be the system in vogue for provincial elections in Ontario.

Third reading was given in the Legislature this afternoon to no fewer than 21 bills. Included among them were bills to incorporate the Association of Professional Engineers of Ontario, and Mr. Oke's bill to remove from inspection regulation steam boilers of 25 horsepower and under, used for agricultural and horticultural purposes.

As was anticipated, the premier announced for the week morning, afternoon and evening sessions in an effort to wind up the session at the week-end. Mr. Ferguson expressed anxiety in the last week's rush regarding a list of motions and questions still standing, but the premier assured him they would be dealt with.

Slayer Still Confident of Execution Stay.

QUEBEC, June 5. — With mingled hopes and fears, Mike Prosko, sentenced to die on Friday next for the murder of one Kostinean, who was found dead in his shack in Kenogami, July, 1920, spent part of Sunday praying in his cell after he had attended the divine service in the morning. According to officials at the jail, he has still confidence that his sentence will be commuted.

Recently two men have been executed for the crime and another "Little George," tried for the same murder, at a third trial, was acquitted, and is now at large, having made his getaway from the immigration officer just as he was being deported.

INSULTS OFFICER AND IS FINED $5

WOODSTOCK, June 5.—It cost Glen Goodall $5 in court this afternoon for remarking to Policeman Carter that he was getting too friendly with his wife..

The charge against the accused was using insulting language to the policeman. Goodall met the policeman on his beat, and stopping him made the accusation. The policeman retaliated by slipping the handcuffs on Goodall and escorting him to the cells. The magistrate took the ground that the remark was insulting, the defence endeavoring to prove that it was not. The case aroused considerable interest and it occupied four hours of the court's time.

GERMAN ARMY OFFICERS FIGHT FOR EXISTENCE

Famous Lieutenant Berg Kills Self When Family Is Reduced to Want.

Berlin, June 5.—Fighting for a post-war existence in civilian life has proved more harassing than the fortunes of the battlefield to many of the thousands of German officers who survived the war. They numbered some 300,000 at the time of the armistice. While the majority held only war-time commissions, there were a large number of veterans for whom the lifting smoke of the conflict revealed that they had suddenly been uprooted from their chosen careers and were forced to begin afresh in new fields. It was especially difficult for the aged officers, who were no longer vigorous and adaptable enough to battle effectively in an economic maelstrom already burdened with keen competition.

The German army and navy in peace times included an active officers' corps of 55,760, of whom 50,960 were in the military forces. When war broke out, this list was augmented by 270,000 of those who were retired or on reserve. In addition, there was the commissioned staff of the medical branches numbering 33,406. The total loss in the corps amounted to about 55,000 killed and 96,213 wounded.

4,000 Officers Retained.

Since the Treaty of Versailles permitted the retention of but 4,000 officers in the Reichswehr, a vast majority of the war survivors became factors for absorption in civilian pursuits. Today they are to be found in nearly every walk of life, some having even resorted to the positions of waiter and porter in order to gain a livelihood. Some were connected with trade, labor, or industry through family ties and thus found situations comparatively easily. Others returned to official positions, and a part enlisted in the newly-organized security police.

A considerable section of the ex-officers turned to university callings; particularly could they be seen at judicial and medical lectures and in polytechnic schools. In the first period of transition, some worked in subordinate executive positions as assistants and some at manual labor, even as miners.

There are none of the larger banking and industrial concerns today in which former officers are not active. In some banks one runs across an occasional general. Former staff officers were in position to receive tempting industrial offers because of their unusual preparation and their knowledge of languages. Already before the war, officers were in demand in the insurance field as inspectors and agents, and this number has been noticeably increased. The automobile industry, too, has attracted many. Detective agencies and warehouses have employed them in divers' capacities.

Work in Film Industry.

In short, the huge network of Germany's trade, commerce and industry is fairly dotted with these former heads of companies, battalions, and other units in the old and war-time armies. They are in the mines, metal works, machine factories, electric plants, technical offices, quarries and export houses; some have drifted to the film industry.

The former surgeons-major in the army have condescended to be mere medical men or have become specialists in their profession. Many went into the chemical industry or took places in hospitals. Officers blinded in the war were mostly instructed at the School for Blind at Marburg, where they studied political economy and simultaneously learned typewriting and stenography.

Certain of the officers who, after the close of the war, resolved to begin life anew as settlers in some foreign land, are reported to have had sadly unhappy experiences. Some died miserably after sore privation; while some few others succeeded in getting back to the fatherland. Only a small minority made real progress abroad. Very few left the country, however, it is said, and the charge that German ex-officers since the war have joined foreign armies and navies is regarded here as unfounded.

Affects Social Status.

The marked transformation in mode of living has variously affected the family life of ex-officers, not all of whom can maintain their former social status. For example, there is the case of the well-known First Lieutenant Berg, who in the world war was the commander of the "Appam," taken as a prize ship by the "Moewe." He obtained a situation in Hamburg, leaving his wife and children in the Danish town of Apenrade, formerly German. With his slender income, Berg was unable to meet the cost of his family's upkeep, which became increasingly high due to the Danish standards of valuation. He finally killed himself when the family had been reduced to want.

Individual instances of resourcefulness were of everyday occurrence. One lieutenant used his last resources to buy a taxicab, which he and his former orderly drove alternately. Now the taxi belongs to the orderly, and the lieutenant can devote time to study the humble receipts of his enterprise. Three U-boat officers combined and bought a small sailing cutter, which they ply as a freighter between German and Scandinavian ports. They themselves comprise the crew, loading and discharging all cargoes personally.

Delco-Light Co. Locates in Canada

R. H. GRANT.

OSHAWA, Ont., June 5.—The ever-growing importance of the Canadian market and the widespread reputation of Canadian workmen for skill and intelligence has led another large American industry to locate in this country.

The Delco-Light Company of Dayton, Ohio, a division of General Mortors Corporation, has formed Delco-Light Company of Canada, Limited, and has joined other General Motors divisions at Oshawa, Ontario.

Mr. R. H. Grant, president of the Delco-Light Company, who is in Oshawa to formally open the Canadian factory, said: "From the very beginning of our business we have considered Canada as a most important part of our market. Some of the first Delco-Light plants built were sent up here as demonstrators for our Canadian distributors. Because when this business was being formed we had in mind the tremendous future of rural Canada. Two things make Canada a splendid market for us—the prosperity of rural Canada, growing out of the native fertility of the rich soil and the skilled husbandry of Canadian farmers; and the progressiveness of the dwellers on Canadian farms and in Canadian villages. We know that Canadians would not be content to live with coal oil lamps and hand-operated machinery when electricity became available. And the large sales of Delco-Light in Canada prove that we were right.

"Naturally, from the very beginning, we have looked forward to the time when we could establish a Canadian plant.

"Reports from other divisions of General Motors spoke in the highest terms of the skill of Canadian workmen. Our own Canadian organization has an enviable record for competent service men. We felt that Delco-Light plants built in Canada would stand the most rigid tests for mechanical efficiency."

"Bill Moore" Has Plan To Make London a Better and More Beautiful City

As an aftermath to the visit of a town-planning expert to London, who offered many suggestions for making London a city beautiful, a few of the more progressive citizens are airing their views on the subject.

"Bill" Moore, who is known to all Londoners and to many outside the city as a real booster, has offered a suggestion which is looked upon favorably by numerous residents of the Forest City. Bill's suggestion concerns those who have not a home of their own in town, and yet take an interest in trying to make London a prettier spot than it is at present.

He suggests that the city council grant permission for the planting of flower gardens on the corners of the downtown streets such as Waterloo and Queen's avenue, Queen's avenue and Wellington streets and Queen's avenue and Clarence street. He claims that the adoption of such a plan would greatly improve the appearance of the streets.

Mr. Moore says that he has met many people who would be glad to boost this scheme of planting gardens, and declares that he himself would be willing to take care of two corners to start things off.

Referring to the company's prospects of building a Canadian plant in Sarnia, he said: "We are coming to Sarnia as soon as our house across the river is in order and the foreign situation is such that we can do so."

THIRTY-SEVEN MOVES.

Dear Miss Grey,—Received $1 from O. E. E. Please thank her through your column for me, and tell her how much it was appreciated. I will write again to the Mail-Box in a few days. Am very busy just now, as we moved a day or so ago. It's not a very pleasant task moving, is it? I must just add that my husband is still improving, but very slow. The doctor thought it advisable for us to move. He thought the place where we lived was too damp for him. We are in a nice spot now, so I trust he will soon be his old self again and able to work steady. Many thanks.

THIRTY-SEVEN.

I hope that in leaving your old home you are leaving your bad luck behind you, Thirty-Seven. It is a pleasure to help you, you are always so grateful.

SENDS THANKS.

Dear Miss Grey,—Received seeds safely and all are in the ground, and I also received a lovely big parcel some time ago from Thedford from Mrs. W. H., for the widow with nine children, which she received safely, and thanks to Mrs. H. for the same. Also for quilt and sugar that was expressed to her. Aren't some people just grand to widows? It's certainly pleasant to think there are such grand people in the world. Will you print this soon so Thedford may see it?

SAN DUSKII.

I am glad you received the parcel in answer to your appeal for the widow, with the large family. The Boxites seem to be more than generous in helping the poor and needy ones. I hope you have good luck with the seeds.

Manor Park Man Charges Neighbor With Unlawfully Shooting Doggie

Charged that he did unlawfully shoot one collie dog valued at $25, the property of Jonas Nicholson of Manor Park, John Callowstein, also a resident of the latter suburb, will appear for trial Wednesday at 10 p.m. before Squire Chittick, presiding in the county police court.

County police report that they have served a summons on J. Crinklow of Westminster Township to appear before Squire Chittick Thursday morning next upon a charge of assaulting a neighbor, A. Jones, with a club, wounding him severely about the head.

The affray seemingly occurred on Sunday afternoon, and is the culmination, the police believe, of a feud of long standing between the two farmers.

No further action will be taken, the constables report, regarding the theft of a rifle from a London Township home. The property has been recovered and identified, and as the owner, now a resident of the United States, does not wish to return here to prosecute the case, no action is contemplated by the authorities once the rifle has been returned to the owner and all costs are paid.

BRUCE PIONEER PASSES AWAY

Lion's Head, June 5.—William McCutcheon, one of the pioneers of Lion's Head and the Bruce peninsula, passed away here on Saturday at the advanced age of 88 years.

In the early days the late Mr. McCutcheon conducted a hotel at Pike Bay. Some years ago he purchased a house in Lion's Head. After the death of his wife nine years ago he went to live with his daughter, Mrs. Reed, at Spry, who later removed to Lion's Head.

INSTALL HIGHER VOLTAGE WIRE

West Lorne, June 6.—The Seamon-Kent factory in this village will have to shut down during the daytime for at least a week, owing to the installation of a higher voltage hydro wire between Dutton and West Lorne.

The present line provides hydro for the operation of only two of the three large planing machines using in making hardwood flooring. The local management hopes to run the three planers when the new line is installed.

Until this is done the regular day shift of 60 men will work nights only. On account of large unfilled orders for hardwood flooring, the factory intends taking on a night shift as large as that employed in the daytime. This will relieve all the unemployment in this locality.

FREE VALENTINO IN BIGAMY CASE

Los Angeles, June 6.—Rodolph Valentino, screen actor, was liberated on a charge of bigamy here yesterday, when the felony complaint against him was dismissed after a preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace Hanby. The justice ruled there was insufficient evidence to support the complaint. Valentino, through his attorneys, issued a statement in which he said:

"Through ignorance of the law I married Miss Hudnut, not dreaming that I was breaking or violating any California laws. I realize now my lack of knowledge of the California laws, and would not under any conditions assume marital relationship with my present Mrs. Valentino until the time fixed by law shall have expired, upon which we will be married again here in Los Angeles.

Chicago, June 6.—Wheat prices developed firmness today in the early dealings, setbacks which had been looked for in Liverpool quotations proving less decided than was expected. Besides, an advance of sterling exchange made the actual fall of wheat prices at Liverpool still smaller as compared with the drop in Chicago, while holidays have prevented trading at Liverpool.

Corn and oats were firmer in sympathy with wheat. After opening unchanged the corn market sagged a trifle, but then scored slight general gains.

NEW YORK STOCKS.

New York, June 6—Wall Street, 1:30 p.m.—Free offerings of industrial shares continued, the efforts to prevent the merger of some of the independent steel companies inviting realizing and bear selling. Abundant supplies of money at lower rates, and a rise in demand sterling to $4 51 were without sustaining effects. Mexican, California and Pan-American Petroleums, American Sumatra Tobocco, Studebaker and Kennesott Copper were depressed 2 to 2⅞ points. A few shares pursued a contrary course. Consolidated Gas rising 2½. New York, Chicago and St. Louis first preferred 2, and United States Alloy Steel, Corn and Great Northern preferred 2 to 1½.

ORDER EXECUTION OF 117 CHILDREN

LONDON, June 5.—One hundred and seveneen children in one Russian famine district, fatally ill of glanders, were ordered shot by the local authorities to end their sufferings, says a Helsingfors dispatch to the Daily News today, quoting the Russian newspaper Krasnaya Gazette.

The dispatch explained that the Bolshevist authorities ordered the executions on the grounds of common humanity. The children became infected from eating diseased refuse.

5-YEAR-OLD CHILD KILLED BY MOTOR

It seems that little Gordon was riding in his roller coaster on the sidewalk at the corner of Marion and Lansdowne avenues when the rear wheel slipped off the curb and Gordon was thrown out into the road and struck by the automobile.

BEGIN RUNNING ONE-MAN CARS

Specifications Submitted For Steel Market Building.

Special to London Advertiser.

BRANTFORD, June 5.—One-man cars are in operation in Brantford. The commissioners feeling positive they have the confidence of the public, have taken the initiative and adopted the system despite adverse criticism from a proportion of the citizens. This change to effect a cut in operating expenses was deemed essential by the commission, as it is anticipated the saving to be derived will metamorphize what was inevitably becoming a deficit gathering road into a paying enterprise. The intentions of the officials are to gradually inaugurate the system on all lines in order to cause a minimum amount of inconvenience to the public. The first car was placed in operation on Eagle line this morning.

It was announced here today that the specifications are ready for the new covered market building and that building operations will commence immediately.

The hall will be of steel throughout, a steel frame covered with steel. It will be 35 feet wide and 100 feet in depth, and will extend from the east of the city hall to George street. The interior will be similar to the present one which extends to Market street on the west side of Market street. The estimated cost is $5,500.

Captain Jim Townson, Fireman Ed. Ribby and Fireman William McMahon left this evening at 6 o'clock for Niagara Falls en route to Buffalo tomorrow to take part in the cruise over the Great Lakes, which 350 other fire fighters are taking part in. In the popularity contest staged by two Buffalo papers, 80 Canadians and 370 American fire fighters were given invitations to take part in the seven-day cruise over Lake Erie to Detroit, across Lake St. Clair, up the St. Clair River, across Lake Superior to Houghton and Duluth and then back to Buffalo.

The three local firemen were included in the prize-winners. Captain Jim Townson last week was laid up with an injured leg when he was thrown off a fire truck. He is only just getting around on crutches now, but will be able to accompany the other two Central Station men.

ASK ASSISTANCE OF KIWANIS CLUB

St. Thomas Residents Want Bridge Placed Over Hughes Street Ravine.

ST. THOMAS, June 5.—Residents on Hughes street have requested the assistance of the Kiwanis Club in having the ravine on that street bridged and a roadway built. A petition handed to the club's president, R. W. Kidner, was signed by several of the members during the Monday noon luncheon.

A delegation of residents from the Yarmouth side of the ravine waited on the township council on Monday and asked that the projected improvement receive favorable consideration by that body.

It is expected that following a conference of No. 2 committee of the city council with the township council and the St. Thomas water commission Thursday afternoon the various bodies will co-operate in opening up this important highway.

WINNERS OF BALLOON RACE LAND IN QUEBEC

NEW YORK, June 5.—Major Arthur Westover and his aide, Lieut. Carleton F. Bond, are the winners of the Milwaukee balloon race which started May 31, it was officially announced today by the Aero Club of America.

Major Westover's craft landed in the Province of Quebec, covering an estimated distance of 850 miles in seventeen hours and fifteen minutes in the air.

Second place in the race was captured by Captain H. E. Honeywell with J. H. Wade, Jr., as aide, civilian entrants, who flew a distance estimated at 530 miles; Lieutenant W. F. Reed, the navy flier, was third with an estimated flight of 440 miles.

Prizes are $1,000, $800 and $500, for first, second and third places.

Kitchener Curfew "Shall Not Ring."

Special to London Advertiser.

KITCHENER, June 5.—"The curfew shall not ring tonight" in Kitchener. It has been so ordered by the city engineer. This is all because the tower in the fire hall is condemned and the vibration of the bell is considered dangerous. The old bell has sounded 9 o'clock for more than a quarter of a century, and is now officially relieved of the job. After an examination of the tower it was considered unsafe to continue the curfew. This leaves the bell strictly confined to fire alarms, and there is a movement in the city to silence it altogether.

GOLDEN WEDDING IS CELEBRATED

Mr. and Mrs. John Cornell of Branchton Honored.

Special to London Advertiser.

GALT, June 5.—"With a large number of relatives and friends surrounding them, Mr. and Mrs. John Cornell of the village of Branchton, a few miles south of this city, today celebrated their golden wedding. Both are enjoying good health for their years. Mr. Cornell is well known as a historian on affairs in Beverly Township. He was presented with a gold-headed cane, and Mrs. Cornell with a gold-headed umbrella.

PASS CONFIDENCE VOTE

HAMILTON, June 5.—At a special meeting of the official board of the Emerald Street Methodist Church the following motion was unanimously carried: "Resolved that we as board declare our full confidence in Rev. C. S. Applegath and confirm our former unanimous invitation to him to the pastorate of this church." The resolution was carried after a committee had interviewed Mr. Applegath relative to the finding of the court of trial of the Cobourg district of the Methodist Church. "The report of the committee," said an official statement by the board this morning "was satisfactory to the board in every particular."

The finding of the Cobourg court was that Mr. Applegath had been indiscreet in utterances both in and out of the pulpit.

AWARDS BANK OF COMMERCE $50,000

TORONTO, June 5.—Judgment for $50,000 has been awarded by Justice Mowat in favor of the Canadian Bank of Commerce against Malloch & Zimmerman, financial agents of Hamilton.

The action was upon a guarantee to that extent of the liabilities of Andrew Motherwell, Limited, whose mills were located at Dundas, and which are indebted to the bank to the extent of $144,100.

SEIZE $100,000 IN FORGED NOTES

MONTREAL, June 5.—Officers of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police raided a farmhouse on St. Theresa street early this morning, and made a seizure of nearly $100,000 in forged American Federal Reserve Bank notes. Two men were arrested and brought before Judge Monet this morning. A large modern printing press was found in the house.

Detectives state the bills were almost the exact counterpart of genuine American currency.

ARREST TORONTO MAN IN HAMILTON

HAMILTON, June 5.—Shortly after 2 o'clock this afternoon, Walter Hinesman, Toronto, was arrested just as he was leaving the C. P. R. Telegraphs. He is wanted by the Toronto police on a charge of forgery, and by the Kitchener police on a charge of being concerned in the recent robbery at Elmira.

The local police received word this morning from Toronto that Hinesman would call at one of the telegraph offices for a message, and stationed men at these offices.

STATE SUMMERS NOT IMPLICATED

Provincial Officers Conclude Suspect Not One of Bandits.

Although they stated that they suspected that a man giving the name of Summers, arrested Monday noon at Pottersburg, was implicated in the Dorchester hold-up Sunday night, provincial officers have concluded, they say, that he is not one of the three alleged bandits they are searching for.

Z. J. Edgeworth, a traveler for the St. Thomas Packing Company, reported to the city police that he was held up by three armed and masked bandits who accosted him at the south end of the bridge over the River Thames near Dorchester, and relieved him of $15 in money. The bandits then drove away south, he explained, after first compelling him to drive north.

The local provincial police were not notified of the robbery, they say, until early Monday morning, although the event transpired seemingly about 8:30 the preceding evening. They commenced activities immediately, the first suspect being taken into custody at Pottersburg shortly after noon.

Day's Legislative Doings at Ottawa

In the Commons.

In the Senate.

The Senate will sit at 8 o'clock in the evening.

YESTERDAY IN PARLIAMENT.

In the Commons.

Bills to amend the admiralty act, the escheats act, the supreme court act given first reading.

Motion providing for sittings of the house on next and subsequent Saturdays until the end of the session was passed.

Hon. T. A. Crerar, Progressive leader, moved a sub-amendment to the budget, which sets forth that the government proposals, "based as they are on the principle of protection in respect to the tariff," are wholly inadequate to implement Liberal pledges by legislation. It concludes that "while recognizing that changes in financial policy should be made in such a way as to give industries affected a reasonable opportunity for readjustment, this house is of opinion that the principle of protection is unsound, and not in the best interests of the Dominion."

Hon. W. S. Fielding objected that the amendment was out of order. The general practice was that there could not be two amendments to go into committee of ways and means or supply. Mr. Crerar quoted a ruling of the speaker of the Commons in 1860 admitting an amendment to the amendment, and also said that, there being a third party in the house, it could be given an opportunity to express its views. Speaker Lemieux promised a ruling on the question tomorrow.

Mr. Crerar was followed by E. J. McMurray, Liberal member for Winnipeg North. Other speakers were: Donald Sutherland, Conservative member for South Oxford; Wm. Irvine, Labor member for East Calgary; Harry Leader, Progressive, Portage la Prairie, and W. Jacobs, Liberal member for George Etienne Cartier, who criticised the government's immigration regulations.

H. A. Stewart, Conservative member for Leeds, adjourned the debate at 12:25 a.m. for Right Hon. Arthur Meighen.

In the Senate.

The Senate did not sit.

WOMEN WILL ASSIST AT STRATFORD EXHIBITION

Special to London Advertiser.

STRATFORD, June 5.—That the members of the Council of Women are willing to co-operate with the chamber of commerce in making the "Made-in-Stratford" exhibition an overwhelming success was the spirit made manifest at the meeting of the council recently in the chamber of commerce rooms.

William Preston, Mr. F. W. Trebell and Mr. S. J. Cook, in addressing the women, explained that the refreshment booths and probably the putting on of some contest would be left entirely in their hands. The selling of tickets would, of course, be appreciated, but the most important work depending on the local council would be the operating of the refreshment department.

SIX ARRESTED FOR WINDSOR THEFTS

WINDSOR, June 5.—With the arrest of six men early Sunday morning, Windsor police believe they have succeeded in breaking up the band of auto accessory thieves who have been operating in Windsor and the other border municipalities.

UNVEIL TABLET AT BLYTH IN HONOR OF VETERANS

Rev. Dr. Fletcher, Ex-Moderator of Presbyterian Church, Gives Patriotic Address.

Special to London Advertiser.

BLYTH, June 5.—A year ago Sunday the beautiful community hall was opened in this town when the memorial tablet in honor of those who fell in the war was unveiled. Sunday night the anniversary of that occasion took place in the hall and it was packed to the doors.

This time a beautiful tablet to all those who went from this section overseas, with about 150 names, was unveiled by Rev. Dr. Fletcher, ex-moderator of the Presbyterian Church. The meeting took the form of a union service, with Rev. W. B. Hawkins acting as chairman. The music was led by a union choir of 50 voices. Rev. T. Telford was the first speaker, and his sermon was along the line of the community spirit, as shown in the building of the hall, and the great good it had already done in this section. Rev. W. B. Hawkins gave an address along the same line, and Rev. Dr. Fletcher, before unveiling the tablet, gave a patriotic address on the great work the soldiers from Canada had done at the front. He then raised the flag which covered the tablet, which showed a beautiful work of art of Miss Livingstone, who painted the outline, and of Mr. R. M. McKay, who wrote in the names.

OLDEST LOGAN RESIDENT COMPLETES 94TH YEAR

STRATFORD, June 5.—The oldest living resident of Logan, in the person of Lawrence Gollnit, celebrated on Sunday his 94th birthday. He is in good health. He was born in Germany in 1828.

July 12, 1923, is to be the headquarters of an international Orange celebration. A committee of county lodges is already planning arrangements, and Orangemen are going to St. Thomas for the next 12th.

Stratford fall fair will be held from Sept. 19 to 22. The secretary has a neat surplus after last year, and plans are under way to enlarge the scope of this year's program. Many improvements are planned in fair buildings.

Miss Inez Roach of Chatham has been appointed to the vacancy on the staff of the Victorian Order of Nurses. She succeeds Miss McGregor, who resigned some time ago.

Wednesday afternoon the annual meeting of Perth Conservatives will be held at Milverton to elect officers and other business.

The marriage was celebrated here today of Esther Stortz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Stortz, to William R. Colvin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Colvin, Brussels. They will reside here.

RODNEY RESIDENT BURIED

I. O. O. F. Has Charge of Funeral of Late M. S. Barnes.

RODNEY, June 5.—The interment of the late M. S. Barnes was held on Friday.

After Scripture reading and prayer at the home by Rev. V. J. Murray of the Christian Church, the cortege proceeded to the Rodney Cemetery, where the members of the I. O. O. F. had charge. Bro. John McRae, chaplain, assisted by Bro. G. Hesnaeur, read the service.

As a tribute of respect the flag on the town hall was raised at half-mast.

ORDERS PROBE IN DOUBLE DROWNING

SIMCOE, June 5.—Coroner MacIntosh empaneled a jury today in connection with yesterday's fatality at the model farm pound, wherein Cyril Johnson and Albert Paterson were drowned.

The jury viewed the remains, and observing burns about the hands and arms, adjourned the case for a week. A post mortem examination will be made to ascertain if the boys were drowned or killed by the electric current. The hydro current leaves town at 110 volts and tested today where the boys caught it there were but 84 volts. The wire hanging low over the water had been grasped by the boys while in bathing.

HENSALL SCHOOL BYLAW DEFEATED

HENSALL, June 5.—The bylaw to raise $24,000 to erect a new high and public school combined building in Hensall was defeated today by a vote of 110 against to 66 for.

Many residents held that the present was too expensive a time to build, but it is believed the question of continuation school accommodation will be considered again before long.

WILL NOT LOWER VACANT LOT TAX

St. Thomas Committee of Finance Favors Present Assessment.

Special to London Advertiser.

ST. THOMAS, June 5.—No reduction of assessments on vacant lots in the city will be allowed, it was decided at a meeting of the finance committee, Monday night. Several owners of vacant lots complained of the high assessment. Chairman J. D. Curtis said that a reasonable assessment of such properties was the best encouragement to building.

F. J. Waddell, 12 Balaclava street, asked that $60 be remitted to him for taxes paid for a number of years on a lot known as No. 8, B, Balaclava street, which he claimed had no frontage on the street, but was located directly behind No. 12. He had only recently become aware of his rights in the matter, he said. The members of the committee acknowledged that if the facts were correct, his claim was good, and the city solicitor will investigate.

O. Little, Balfour street, declared that he would block up a sewer running through his property unless he was provided with a connection which had been promised some years ago by former City Engineer Ferguson. A catch basin would cost the city $50, he said, and would give him the depth necessary to construct the basement of a house he intends erecting. Arrangements were made to examine the sewer with the purpose of arriving at some agreement.

A kiln borrowed by the board of works from E. S. Hatch, which was destroyed by fire while in the city's possession, is claimed to be worth $200 by the owner. Settlement has been delayed for some time, but it is hoped that the matter could be taken care of in the near future.

WILL SEND MONEY FOR CHURCH FUND

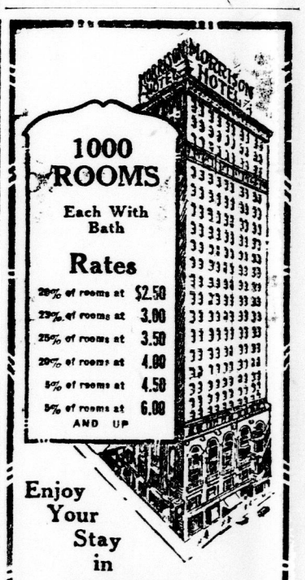

LONDON, June 5.—(By Canadian Press Cable.)—The final subscriptions raised here under the auspices of the Archbishops for the Western Canada Anglican Church Fund, amounting to £37,000, will be sent very soon. It has not been considered advisable to send it earlier owing to the rate of exchange.

Rev. Malcolm Buchanan, vice-principal of Burgh Missionary College, will sail shortly for Canada for the purpose of reopening St. Faith's Mission at Edmonton, Alberta.

REPORT CROPS IN GOOD CONDITION

WINNIPEG, June 5.—Very warm weather prevailed over Western Canada during the week-end, and is continuing today, with no indications of early changes. The highest temperature was registered in Winnipeg, where 94 degrees was reached.

Thanks to the abundant supply of moisture with which the crop season opened, the growing grain is thought to have suffered no injury up to this time, but some districts, particularly in Alberta, will need rain within the next week or so if damage is to be averted.

TAKES STAND ON UNION

ST. CATHARINES, June 5.—The Hamilton Methodist conference this morning decided to meet next year in Wellington Street Church, Brantford. The final draft of stations will be announced tomorrow. The committee expects an all-night session tonight.

Definite decision on church union and a request for further progress was made this morning in a resolution which was passed by a standing vote.

The resolution urged that this conference memorialize the general conference to declare that if steps to consummate union are not substantially advanced within one year after September 30, 1922, the general conference will then invite the existing union churches and any other evangelical churches in Canada who may desire to form a united church with it to consider the formation of a united church on the existing basis of union, subject to such modifications as existing conditions may then seem to require.
