COUNT WITTE A MEMBER

St. Petersburg, May 12.-The forma St. Petersburg, May 12.—The formal opening of the re-organized Council of the Empire, or Upper House of Parliament, took place yesterday afternoon in the hall of the nobles at the winter palace with elaborate ceremonies. The Ministers wore their full regalla, the members of the chancellery wore court dress and swords, the doors were guarded by servants in picturesque livery, and the boxes were occupied by diplomats, high officials and richly dressed women.

The majority of the elective members, bility and upper ranks of commerce and industry vied with the appointives in the number and richness of their de-corations. Only a sturdy little group of Liberal professors, pledged to move that sentence of death be imposed upon the existence of the legislative body to which they were elected, came in democratic simplicity, their civil garb not being relieved by a ribbon or a

Witte In the Council session opened, the transaction of busi session opened, the transaction of basi-ness began. It consisted of the an-nouncement of the appointments of of-facers and the signing of the oath of office. The only surprise was the read-ing of an announcement that Count Witte was a working member of the Witte was a working member of the Council, omission of his name from the previous list having been interpreted as a deliberate slight, which the Emperor evidently took pains to correct. The unexpected appearance of the tall form of the former Premier at the door was the first intimation of the Emperor's action, and it created a buzz of excitement. The explanation of his appearance came later, when a ukase was read, appointing Count Witte and M. Manuk-

GIRLS AND THEIR WOOERS

A Few Valuable Pointers to Chatham Maidens who wish to Win and Hold the Admiration of the Sterner Sex

In answer to a woman who wrote asking if it was proper to meet a man half way when he was paying an half way when he was paying the self at a man's feet.

But let him see that he is welcome when he comes to call, and on parting don't act as though you din not care if you never saw him again.

You know, girls, there is a broad margin between indifference and being too easy of conquest. One is quite as detrimental to friendship as the other.

When a man shows a preference for you above other girls, if you want to hold that preference, you must encourage it, and that you can only do by showing that you appreciate it, and that you also eare for his society.

It is a situation which must be bandled delicately and with discretion.

Any girl of sense and modesty knows how to refrain from flinging attention to a girl, an authority on such subjects answers:

It depends a good deal on the man, I should say. Some men don't require much encouragement; others need a great deal.

I think it is only in story books that men are attracted by complex indifference. It is exceptionally pretty she can afford to be rather indifference, and there is society.

When a man is interested in a girl he naturally would like her ta show some preference for his society.

To go half way, however, means to do half the courting and that, unless in the case of an extremel basiful man, is undescend, and that is what a man expects from the girl he is courting.

If a man is paying attention to you, you expect him to show that hikes being courted, and that is what a man expects from the girl he is courting.

If a man is paying attention to you, you expect him to show that hikes being in your company, don't you, you expect him to show that hikes being in your company, don't you, you expect him to show that hikes being in your company, don't you, you expect him to show that his what a man expects from the girl he is courting.

If a man is paying attention to you, you expect him to show that his what a man expects from the girl he is courting.

Onions, 3 cents; had paid only is cents for peck the week before. Carrots, 5 cents. Rolled oats, 4 cents; did not use more than half of these. Basket of grapes, 15 cents. Six loaves of bread, 24 cents. Am sure this was full cost, as I bake myself. One-half pound lard, 5 cents. Butter, one pound, 24 cents. Lemons, 8 cents. Lemons, 8 cents. Lemons, 5 cents. Soup bone, 5 cents. Soup bone, 5 cents. Steak, 14 cents. Green peppers, 5 cents. Veal cutlet, 15 cents. Liver and bacon, 10 cents. Sausage, 8 cents. Hamburger, 5 cents. Lamb chops, 18 cents. Lamb chops, 18 cents. TOTAL, 33.3.

Forgot to add milk, 28 cents, and four eggs, 5 cents, making total $5.65.
Out of this there are enough potatoes turnips and tomatoes for one meal left, besides a little tea and coffee, which, altogether, will fully equal cornstarch, taploca, cracked wheat, sait, flour, baking powder for cake, besides having canned a quart of grape sauce. This has been a very cheap time for vegetables, or the cost would have been larger. Then I had two extra here for Sunday dinner, and five extra he day lunch.

At every meal at which I have not had coffee I have had tea. Bread and butter I have not added, but we average six loaves of homemade bread a week. They would be about a pound.

Thanks to you and your constituents for the measuring of the cup of water to the one-pound loaf of bread.

MARVELOUS CURE BY CUTICURA REMEDIES

"My son, who is now twenty-two years of age, when he was four months old began to have eczema on his face, spreading quite rapidly until he was nearly covered. We had all the doctors around us and some from larger places, but no one helped him a particle. The eczema was something terrible, and the doctors said it was the worst case they ever saw. At times his whole body and face were covered, all but his feet. I had to bandage his limbs and arms; his scalp was just dreadful. I used many kinds of patent medicines before trying the Cuticura Remedies,—all to no avail.

"A friend teased me to try Cuticura. At last I consented, when my boy was three years and four months old, having had eczema all that time, and suffering untold misery. I began to use all three of the Cuticura Remedies; the Cuticura Soap helped as well as the Ointment. He was better in two months; in six months he was well; but I gave him the Cuticura Resolvent one year,—using twelve bottles, I think,—and always used the Cuticura Soap for bathing, and do now a good deal. He was four years old before he was well, and his skin became perfectly fair when cured. I give you permission to publish this letter for I am always glad to do good when I can. I think I have told you all there is necessary to tell." Mrs. R. L. Risley, Oct. 24, 1905.

INTERNATIONAL BIBLE LESSON FOR TO-MORROW. "A Fierce Demoniac Healed." — Mark 5, 1-20. Read Matt. 8, Luke

9 Golden Text-"Go home to thy friends and tell them how great things the Lord hath done for thee."

Verses I and 2—The little ship with its mission crew and their great Captain, Jesus Christ, is a type of the Church, and its saving from the storm by the Master's presence and power, an illustration of His presence with His people through all storms and hindrances; as water in the ship is more dangerous than water cutside, so the world in the Church endangers her more than the world without. As they land they are met by a strange delegation of men and demons. See Matt. 8, 28. The maddest man is described in verses 2, 3, 4 and 5, and is a picture of horror. Note his confused utterances, now human, now demon, as the wretch prostrates himself at Jesus' feet.

Jesus' feet. Verse 6-Our Lord commands the verse 6—00r Lord commands the evil ones to depart from him.

Verses 7 and 8—It tortures devils to release from their clutch poor, helpless, sinful men. Our Lord asks the man his name. My name is Legister for the command of the comm gion, for we are many, is answered. Verse 10—Reads as if the wretch earnestly besought Jesus to be mer-ciful to his masters, the demons, and they asked permission to take possession of a herd of about 2,000 hogs

—V. 13—feeding near by. On receiving permission they entered the swine, who made for the lake at once and were drowned—this was worse them here shall be and no government. than hog cholera and no government compensation either. The swine-herds fled to the city and reported, when numbers come out and see Jesus, and his man rescued from the

Jesus, and his man rescued from the demons, sitting quietly, clothed depently, and in his right mind, and they were awe-struck, as the eye-witnesses described the whole thing. Verse 17.—Tells us there was license in Gadara for hogs and demons, but no room for Jesus Christ, who, as he went on board the boat, was entreated by the poor fellow He had saved, to take him aboard also; but Jesus said, no; go to thy house, unto thy friends, and tell them how great things the Lord hath done for thee, and how He had mercy on thee. The man went—and so should we go—honored as Christ's ambassadors, and far safer and more happy with Christ's spiritual presence py with Christ's spiritual presence py with Christ's spiritual presence and sustaining grace.

If we, or our friends, have yielded to known sin and are helpless slaves of the wicked one, the blessed and only remedy is found in Jesus Christ, the Son of God, the same yesterday, to-day, and forever.

LANTERNS AND UMBRELLAS.

How and Why They Are So Generally Used In China.

Chinese lanterns are made of paper, silk, horn, crystal and many other materials. Those made of silk are usually richly embroidered with figures of anirichly embroidered with figures of animals, birds or flowers. Those of horn are prettily decorated with paintings. Some of the most ornamental and expensive lanterns are mounted on beautifully carved frames of wood and ivory.

If a Chinese leaves his home after area conness leaves his nome after night without taking with him a lantern, such as is assigned to the use of the class to which he belongs, he is liable to arrest by the police.

As soon as it is dark every city seems ablaze with lanterns. They light the the homes of the ride and years.

up the homes of the rich and poor; they are attached to the angles of the pagoda; they are seen at every port and on every river. In fact, they make their appearance everywhere, and to call China the "land of lanterns" is by on means a misnomer.

Umbrellas, too, are of much importance in China, because there the umbrella is a mark of rank. Two large red silk umbrellas signal the approach of the Governor-General of a province of the Governor-General of a province.

The third and fourth ranks have the knob of wood instead of tin, but it is always painted red. An umbrella of blue cloth with two ruffles and surmounted by a red painted wooden knob distinguishes the fifth rank.

Exit the Famous Oriole. The schooner yacht Orlole, the best known yacht on the great lakes, and the largest in Toronto, is to be broken up immediately. The Orlole was built in 1886 by Melancthon Simpson for the late Mr. George Gooderham, and has flown the Gooderham burgee for nearly 20 years. Owing to the death of her owner she was not put into commission wher she was not put into commission last season. Her most famous victory was over the Chicago yacht Idler, an America Cup candidate, at the Stratts of Mackinaw. She was the winner of the Prince of Wales' Cup, a Royal Canadian Yacht Club trophy, oftener than any other yacht—five times in succession after she came out and again in sion after she came out and again in 1892. She was worth at one time $20,000.

Most Appropriate. A student at one of the theological colleges had written a sermon with much care and passed it to the professor for criticism. After two weeks he called on the professor and stated that he left his manuscript with him and had called for it and would be glad of any suggestion from him. It was returned without any criticism or suggestions. The student, well pleased with his own production, was intent on having the opinion of his teacher and called again and, referring to the sermon, asked what hymns would be appropriate in connection with it. The professor replied, "The most appropriate hymn I can think of is 'Now I lay me down to sleep.'" sor for criticism. After two weeks he

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

Is a powerful, invigorating tonic, imparting health and strength in particular to the organs distinctly feminine. The local, womanly health is so intimately related to the general health that when diseases of the delicate womanly organs are cured the whole body gains in health and strength. For weak and sickly women who are "worn-out," "run-down" or debilitated, especially for women who work in store, office or schoolroom, who sit at the typewriter or sewing machine, or bear heavy household burdens, and for nursing mothers, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has proven a priceless benefit because of its health-restoring and strength-giving powers.

As a soothing and strengthening nervine, "Favorite Prescription" is unequaled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous exclusibility, irritability, nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, chorea, or St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of or St. VILUS'S dance, and other distressing nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the womanly organs. It induces refresh-ing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despendency.

the womanly organs. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

Cures obstinate cases. "Favorite Prescription" is a positive cure for the most complicated and obstinate cases of "female weakness," painful periods, irregularities, prolapsus or falling of the pelvic organs, weak back, bearing-down sensations, chronic congestion, inflammation and ulceration.

Dr. Pierce's medicines are made from harmless but efficient medical roots found growing in our American forests. The Indians knew of the marvelous curative value of some of these roots and imparted that knowledge to some of the friendlier whites, and gradually some of the more progressive physicians came to test and use them, and ever since they have grown in favor by reason of their superior curative virtues and their safe and harmless qualities.

Your druggists sell the "FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION" and also that famous alterative, blood purifier and stomach tonic, the "GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERL". Write to Dr. Pierce about your case. He is an experienced physician and will treat your case as confidential and without charge for correspondence. Address him at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., of which he is chief consulting physician.

The growth of an outer Japan is one of the more marked developments in the far east and constitutes an element which politically cannot be lost sight of. Mr. Ami Jeanneret, of this place, gives a very interesting account of his experience with Dodd's Kidney Pills, He says:

"I hurt my back and strained my kidneys and for 18 years I suffered on and off intense agony. I was subject to attacks of Rheumatism and Lumbago. My joints were stiff, my muscles cramped, I lost my appetite, my flesh began to fall away, my nerves were shaken, I could not rest or sleep at night and I was sinking into a deplorable condition when I was advised to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. SUBMARINE SIGNALS. The new Atlantic steamships, Empresses of Britain and Ireland, will be fitted with the new appliances for receiving sound signals through the water. At certain important points in the St. Lawrence River submarine bells have been placed, which in thick and foggy weather are sounded automatically by pneumatic pressure. In the bow of the new Empresses, and on the port and starboard sides, transmitters will be fitted and connected by wires with a telephone box in the chart room, thus the officer in charge of the ship will hear the warning bells when they are still miles away, and be abla to fix the position of his ship whatever the state of the weather. Inasmuch as the submarine signals travel through the water without interference, are not subject to wind or waves, and give an exact location of the source of danger, it is apparent that they not subject to wind or waves, and give an exact location of the source of danger, it is apparent that they become an important factor of safety. The steamer James S. Whitney, of Boston, when running at full speed, picked up these signals at eight miles distance, and the officer in charge sid the bell sounded distinctly. Another garding recorded that he heard other captain reported that he heard chese signals clearly in a gale, when all other signals failed. The question of expense has never sen considered by the Canadian ncific Railway when appliances can introduced which will add to their passengers safety.

In the light of love the least may be the largest.

British Ultimatum to Turkey Expires Midnight Sunday

SUEZ CANAL PROTECTED

London, May 12.-Diplomatic activity seems to foreshadow an amicable settlement of the Tabah difficulty. Both ity seems to foreshadow an amicable settlement of the Tabah difficulty. Both at London and Constantinople, Turkey is seeking to make an arrangement.

The latest despatches from Constantinople state the Sultan's advisers counsel yielding to the British demands, and that on Thursday Turkey offered to evacuate the disputed points, but on conditions that were not acceptable to Great Britain. It is understood the decision now rests with the Sultan, who is studying the matter.

Meanwhile the British naval preparations are maturing. A despatch from Athens announces that the Mediterranean fleet is ready for immediate departure. Prince Henry of Battenberg's cruiser squadron left Phalerum Bay last night for an unknown destination. The great size of the British fleet in Turkish waters is due to probable necessity of providing landing parties should Turkey continue obdurate.

It is practically certain that there will be no attempt to force the Dardanelles or make a demonstration before Constantinople. Rear Admiral Lambton's squadron at Port Said is in readiness to protect the Suez Canal should the Turks attempt to advance along the El Arish route. He has several light cruisers and torpedo boats.

Possibly Day of Phenomenal Prices For Horses Is Past, But Today a Good Horse Will Fetch Rosey Dollar He Is Worth-Fashions in Horses and Their Influence on Price - Classes and Subtle Difference in Equipage.

Notwithstanding the automobile voge, this year the Canadian Horse Show at Anonto recently found the situation of the Borse more satisfactory than it has been for many years. It was about 15 years ago that the horse enjoyed his heyday; but in the subsequent industrial depression in the United States and Canada he fell to low estate. These magnificent animals created a veritable sensation on their first appearance in force, and ever since they have held first place in panular ashave held first place in pepular esteem. The weedy trotter that had no recommendation save his speed was the extreme of taste 15 years ago. The hackney that can do nothing but throw his knees up to his chin is the throw his knees up to his chin is the extreme of taste to-day on this continent. The English horseman does not go to extremes. He places little value on style alone. He wants substance and stamina as well, and we have no doubt that the strictly correct Englishman would no more ride behind a typical American horse show winner than he would drive in a chrome-colored dog-cart.

The Cooking Cart.

The Cooking Cart. Another tradition is brought to mind by the mention of dog-carts. The pre-decessor of the dog-cart was known as a cocking-cart. In this conveyance the squire's game-cocks were taken to the pit. The joggling about that the birds pit. The jogging about that the brus suffered on the trip was supposed to rouse their temper and make them fight more desperately. So the uncomfort-able gig was preferred to the easier-riding four-wheeled turnout. Fashion demands docked tails in all the classes mentioned, heavy harness, and the whip popularly known as the "Coachman's whip." In the roadster classes a Dutch collar, a "snake" whip, and the flowing tall are permitted. There is a growing tall are harness and the state of tendency toward showing horses with their natural tails, and it is wisely stimulated by prizes for the best ani-mals thus exhibited. The reform has reached the polo field, and now, thanks to Foxhall Keene and the Goulds, long tails are just as fashionable as the banged or docked tail.

banged or docked tail.

Dealers and Farmers.

Are horse shows a good thing for the farmer? They are to some extent, but too often a farmer is a "good thing" for the professional dealer. The middleman in the horse business usually gets a profit out of all proportion to his services. To pay from $2,000 to $5,000 for a horse show winner is not an unusual thing. Indeed, the averhis services. To pay from $2,000 to $5,000 for a horse show winner is not an unusual thing. Indeed, the average price paid at the big shows for winners is somewhere between these figures. Yet the breder does not average $500 for the animals six months before the show. The dealers charge from $1,000 up for their work on the animal, which consists in "educating" him. They condition him, shoe him, and teach him to show himself to the best advantage. All the trouble and expense and risk of breeding the horse and keeping him till he is four and five years old falls on the farmer. If he gets a fair price the dealer gets too much. An excellent move toward giving the producer a better share of the proceeds of a winning horse's sale would be to establish classes for breeders only. It is not fair that they should be forced to compete with professionals, for in such competition they can seldom win. Hence, they are obliged to sell their prospective winner for whatever he will bring.

MCKEOUGH SCHOOL,

The English cherry, plum, peach and crab apple blossoms are out.
Last Sanday it rained about two o'clock in the morning, and the sky was threatering all day.
We are going to get a new school in Dresden. This one is not good enough to last much longer.
We have three new scholars at our school. Their names are laward Brubaker and Ernest and George Berliee.

My mother and I went to Char-ham Saturday last and I saw a beau tiful peacock in a field as we drove over again, Ecautiful feet are they that go, Swiftly to lighten another's woe, Through summer's heat or winter's snow.

On Saturday we were out to the wools n'ar Ennett. We got some adder's trongues and trial ums. We went out at n.me and came back at five, When we were coming home we saw a snake crawl under a stone.

The other day Charle Armstrong was thrown in the river, which kept him out of school for a day or two. But we are glad that he is better and is again attending school.

We garls and hoys play tally hoot after four, which is great fun, but after four, which is great fun, but after supper we have to stay in the house and schule down to our homework, for we have a lot. We are taking up percentage in our room, which is very hard.

A lot off the boys and girls were the playing at our place and some by playing at our place and some by playing at the burn and found four kettens. There were two gray and white, one black and white, and day.

On Saturday we noticed our peach ree was covered with a kind of ticky stuff. We dug around the tree may be found seven great big worms. When we looked down to see if there ree any more we noticed a lump of earth, We picked it up and here any a cocoon, We opened it and it bread and milk. Last night when I put them in the box and went to bed, they jumped out and got behand the sideboard, and I thought the ent lad eaten them up. But they were safe and sound this morn ng.

On Arbor Day Miss Waterworth took her room to the woods. When we got there we went and sat on a log for a rest. I got up and gathered a lot of wild flowers. It wasn't a very large banch, but I had enough.
I pressed some and planted the rest.
On our way bome we played games.
We played wood-chuck. Further on we sat on the ground and had a

EGG ROLLING

Easter Monday was celebrated in the White House by the annual eggrarolling festival. Hundreds of young people from all parts of Washington accompanied by a generoous sprinkling of adults, congregated early in the day on the beautiful lawns south of the presidential mansion for their usual Easter frolic.

Under the regulations established by Colonyl Charles Bromwell, superfined the regulations established by Colonyl Charles Bromwell, superfined the the regulations of the pulic buildings and grounds, the egg-robling festival was made a function particularly for the children, the grounds unless they admitted to the grounds unless they admitted for the britte ones all the room for function that they might need. The eidens merely accompanied the children in they notect them from possible interver Bigg-rolling continued on the White House grounds until one p. m. Then the sport was transfered to the grounds. There, during the afternoon, the Marine band gave a concert for the banefit of the egg-rollers. Thousands availed themselves of the opportunity to hear the concert and enter fator the Easterfide froit of the children. The white House is where the President of the United States lives, in Washington City. There are bautiful grounds surrounding it, with terraced lawas. For years it has been ful grounds surrounding it, with terraced lawas. For years it has been baster the custom to throw them open on Easter Monday to the public. The children bring eggs that they have coincid and amass themselves by rolling them down the terraces.

The crowds that attend this children series become so great that now no adult is admitted unless accompanied by a child.

A DANGER TO CHILDHOOD

No mother would give her little one poison if she knew it, and yet all the sc-called soothing syrups and many of the liquid medicines given children contain poisonous opiates, and an overdose will kill. When a mother uses Baby's Own Tablets she has the guarantee of a government analyst that this medicine does not contain one particle of opiate or narceotic, that it cannot possibly do harm. This assurance is worth much to the mother who cares for the safety of her little ones. Mrs. Chas. McJoughlin, DeBert Station, N. S., anys: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets for colic, stomach troubles and other aliments of childhood and them so valuable that I

Los Angeles, Cal., May 6.—In the terrible calamity which has befallen San Francisco the preacher to-day finds a lesson for the whole nation. The text is I, Kings xix, II, I2, "An earthquake, but the Lord was not in the earthquake; and after the earthquake a fire, but the Lord was not in the fire; and after the fire a still small voice."

"Extra! Extra! Extra!" cried the newshoy in the street. Like the fishmonger's call, the voice echoed up and leaped through my study window. It did not cause even the tremor of the hand that held the moving pen. Why, I have heard that call of "Extra! Extra!" so often that it was like the cryof "Woif! Wolf!" in the legend of old I did not even have interest enough to say, "Another railway accident," of "Arether canning of Mount Wesn. I did not even have interest enough to say, "Another railway accident," or "Another eruption of Mount Vesuvius," or "Another threatened war between France and Germany over the Africa troubles." But suddenly my self-complacency was roused to vehement action. A member of the family gushed into the room and said: "Have you heard the news? San Francisco." rushed into the room and said: "Have you heard the news? San Francisco is destroyed by an earthquake. The Palace Hotel and the Call Building and the great City Hall are in complete ruins. All the great hotels are gone. All the places of amusement are in fames. A thousand people are dead. The city has taken fire, and the water mains are burst." "God help them! God help them!" was my answer. "But very probably, like all first rusors, there is exaggeration in the report. San Francisco, with its splendid buildings, could never have its foundations ruined. Let me find out from headquarters." So I stepped to the telegione and called up a friend at one off the prominent city newspaper of off the prominent city newspaper of-fices and asked, "Are reports as bad as the first telegrams intimate?" "Much werse, much worse," he answered. The city is in flames, and we fear it will be completely destroyed. The city is said to have sunk. What the earth-quake did not upheave we fear that the holocaust will obliterate. That is the last report received, but the comannication is broken now. The wires are all down."

Oh, the horror of it! The city of Los angeles lay stunned. Two-thirds of all our population had friends or relatives or business interests in the city of San Francisco. The bleeding, moaning, helpless cry of America's metropolis of the Pacific was nowhere answered by a deeper sob of anguish than that which arose from the City of the Angels. We were one—one in Tamily love, one in business interests. We seemed to be more than sisters. Then Francisco's sufferings were Los angeles' sufferings. We are next door neighbors in the family of cities.

Then the long wait. No news—wires down: communication stopped. Ah. Los Angeles knew then what must have been the feelings of the fathers and mothers and brothers and sisters when the telegraph wires thrilled and the news flashed over the northern and the southern states that the battle of Fredericksburg was being fought. Oh, the anxious moment of waiting for the dead list! They say it is hard to ge the front and die. I do not think the dead list! They say it is hard to go to the front and die. I do not think it is nearly so hard as to stay home and live and think that your dear ones are soon to be numbered among the dead. They say that all of 15,000 men were killed at Fredericksburg. The rumors at first declared that 10,000 were dead in San Francisco. "What—will my telephone bell never stop ringing?" "My husband is in the Palace Hotel," says one. "My mother and sisters are living there," says another.

"I have two brothers there," says another. other. "My son is there," says another.

Aye, they could say it, but what could I say? Nothing. The wires were down. There seemed to be no hope. Then the telegraph instrument began to click. The streets about the different bulletin boards were blocked. "News, news! Give us the news!" was the cry. But when the news began to come in. inwhen the news began to come in, in-stead of a smile upon the lip, the blanched cheek became paler, if that were possible.

Then, as the crowds grow thicker and denser, we find men fighting their way out. "What is the matter with you?" we ask. "Let me out! they cry. "Let me out! I want to get the train and start north at once. I must get into that doemed city and go to my dear one." Crowds are now blockading the railroad offices for passage; but, though a thousand cars were to start, if would not be a long enough train to accommodate those who wished to go to San Francisco to rescue their friends. Then the reports came in awfully monotonous regularity: "Flames spreading. Buildings being dynamited opreading. Buildings being dynamics to stop onward progress of conflagration. Gen. Funston forbids any one to dand in the city. Water famine threatened. All wholesale houses destroyed. Hunger and famine staring the people in the face. People dying in the streets and starvation. Nana in the face. People dying in the streets from exhaustion and starvation. Napa Insane Asylum destroyed. Stanford University buildings down. San Jose a wreck." Then, as a wailing cry, came the telegrams from Oakland, from the mayor and the governor: "Help! Help! Give us help! San Francisco is starvated.

Ing! Help! Help!"
Then the revolving wheels of the railroad trains come rumbling into our depots and the passengers alight. railroad trains come rumbling into our depoits and the passengers alight. These are the first refugees from the city of death. "Were the stories overdrawn?" war ask. "No, no!" they answer. "Metentabout your experience" and the voice of the Lord. "You think John Milton became swer." The control of the cont

HONORABLE JOHN COSTIGAN

New Brunswick's "Grand Old Man" comes out strongly in favor of "Fruit-a-tives."

Who has not heard of the Honorable John Costigan? He is to-day one of the most powerful, as well as one of the oldest, figures in Canadian politics. He was one of Sir John Macdonald's ablest lieutenants, and for nearly 20 years held various portfolios in the cabinet.

To-day at the age of 71, he is the idol of the electors of New Brunswick, and a power to be always

To-day at the age of 71, he is the holo of the electors of New Brunswick, and a power to be always reckoned with in Parliament.

His rugged eloquence—biting sarcasm—and ready repartee—make him at once the dread of his opponents and the delight of his confreres.

When a public man of the Hou. John Costigan's position voluntarily testifies to the marvelous cure effected by "Fruit-a-tives," it is bound to carry convincing weight with the whole Canadian people.

You know what fearful trouble I have had all my life time from constipation. I have been a dreadful sufferer from chronic constipation for over thirty years and I have been treated by many physicians and I have taken many kinds of proprietary medicines without any benefit whatever. I took a pill for a long time which was prescribed by the late Dr. C. R. Church, of Ottawa. Also for many months I took a pill prescribed by Dr. A. F. Rogers, of Ottawa. Nothing seemed to do me any good. Finally I was advised by Dr. Rogers to try "Fruit-a-tives" and after taking them for a few months I feel I am completely well from this horrible complaint. I have had no trouble with this complaint now for a long time, and I can certainly state that "Fruit-a-tives" is the only medicine I ever took that did me any positive good for constipation. I can conscientiously recommend "Fruit-a-tives" to the public as, in my opinion, it is the efficist medicine ever produced. 232 Cooper St., Jan. 8th, 1906. the public as, in my opinion, it is the finest medicine ever produced. (Signed) JOHN COSTIGAN.

Was ever medicine put to a severer test than this?

Here was a great Public Official, who had suffered for more than 30 years with Chronic Constipation. The leading physicians of Ottawa prescribed for him without affording any permanent relief. Finally, as a last resort, "Fruit-a-tives" were ordered. And in THREE MONTHS, Mr. Costigan WAS WELL.

"Fruit-a-tives" did in THREE MONTHS, what doctors and drugs failed to do in THIRTY YEARS.

"Fruit-a-tives" are the most perfect combination known nedical science. They are fruit juices, concentrated and abined with tonics and internal antiseptics.

Unlike liver pills, anti-bilious pills and all preparations containing calomel, cascara, senna, licorice, etc.—"Fruitatives" act like fruit DIRECTLY ON THE LIVER. They arouse this organ to vigorous health—strengthen if—and increase the flow of bile. It is the bile, given up by the liver, which eaters the bowels and makes them move.

Unless the liver is active and excretes sufficient bile to we the bowels regularly and naturally every day, there bound to be Constipation. And the only remedy that of dying women and children, as had this pandemonium of furies. And yet, amid the heavy, rocking earth, amid the hissing, leaping flames, amid the lurid skies and the starving and the dead, we can to-day find some gospel lessor we can to-day find some gospel lesson for practical use for everyday life. Let us beware, in the first place, lest we attempt to handle the lightnings of God's wrath. Let us halt before we pass judgment upon the past sins of this great city. The Bible says, "Judge not that ye be not judged." But in spite of this divine command to "judge not" there are people who are ready to affirm that the reason why this tragedy was permitted to overtake the edy was permitted to overtake the metropolis of the Pacific was because Francisco was destroyed, like Sodom and Gomorrah, on account of its sins. I replied then as I reply now: "Any man who would make a statement that he, thought San Francisco was destroyed on account of its sins is unfit to stroyed on account of its sins is unit to be a religious teacher and unfit to be quoted in any newspaper article." blows of death about the same Uffie; Mont Pelee and Mauna Loa seeming to have subterranean passages which connect; Lisbon, in 1755, with its 50,000 dead; Koschan, North Persia, with its 40,000 dead. What are the causes of these simultaneous geographical disturbances we know not; but, just as when Europe trembles America seems to tremble, so we find through all the great world when one part of the human race is suffering other parts of the human race suffer also.

I know many people may not agree

I know many people may not agree with me. They affirm that this is a mean and contemptible world and that human heart is not in sympathy with human heart, but the actions of the American people toward suffering San Francisco give that statement the lie. No sooner did Los Angeles and the other cities hear what had happened other cities hear what had happened to their sister, San Francisco, than the money began to flow in streams. Doctors and nurses volunteered their services for help. Schools were closed to send the children home for ciothing and send the children home for clothing and food to be expressed to San Francisco at once. Churches were turned into receiving stations for goods. The railroads said, "We will carry the refugees free." The express companies said, "We will carry the breadstuffs free." The great dry goods stores said, "You can come and buy your goods at cost price." And what Los Angeles was doing Boston and New York and Philadelphia and Pittsburg and Milwaukee and Denver and New Orleans and all the other American cities are doing. Oh, it is a glorious sight to see men Denver and New Orleans and all the other American cities are doing. Oh, it is a glorious sight to see men and women giving of their substance to their fellow men merely because they are in trouble. Do not talk to me about this being a mean world, We as individuals may be mean, but the reat world has a loving heart with to great world has a loving heart. The helping hands that are now reaching forth to agonizing San Francisco prove

But I learn from the awful catastrobut I learn from the awful catastro-phe another lesson. It is this: Men and women seem to be blind to the ever present signs of danger. Because the tragedies of the past, like the light-nings, have struck right and left and hit everywhere, except at their own lives, they seem to feel that they themselves are impervious to dangers and will never be smitten down. They think, because they live in San Fran-cisco, an earthquake will never joit them into ruins, as Pompeli and Herculaneam were destroyed. They think, because they live on Long Island, they can never be submerged as was Galveston. They think, because they live in St. Louis, a cyclone can never destroy them, as Louisville, Ky., and Gainesville, Ga., were destroyed. Oh, they they can think of certhousekes and Gainesville, Ga., were destroyed. On, yes, they can think of earthquakes and tornadoes and tidal waves 1,000, 2,000 or even 3,000 miles away from home. They may even picture one in Charleston, but not one at their own doorsteps. Like a flash out of a clear sky came the destruction of the city of San Francisco at the Golden Gate. Like a flash death may come stalking along, and come pounding at your door and mine, as it came and toppled over the massive walls of the metropolis of the Pa-sive walls of the metropolis of the Pacific coast a few days ago.

Now, amid all these scenes of destruction and sorrow that have come to our bereft sister city, I send to these suffering people words of congratulation and good cheer. First, I say, "Thank God, if the earthquake had to come, that it came in the early hours of the morning." You know that San Francisco is situated at the Golden Gate of the Pacific. It was truly the Golden Gate then. The sun was just arising over the eastern hills and throwing its light upon the shimmering waters of the bay. Had this earthquake come hours later Oakland and Berkeley and San Rafael and scores of other suburban cities and towns would series and san Ratael and scores of other suburban cities and towns would have emptled their thousands and tens of thousands of business men and shoppers into the great metropolis. Then the huge office suildings would have been crowded. Then, when the walls cracked and fell, it would not have ment the loss of hundreds of lives. of thousands of business men and shoppers into the great metropolis. Then the great metropolis. Then the great metropolis. Then the great metropolis and the second of the about this being the end of San Francisco will, but leave to him the right of judgment. Let us first see that our own city is cleansed of sin and not talk so much about other cities' sins." Wouldst thou try to pluck the mote out of thy brother's eye and perceive not the beam which is sticking forth out of thine own eye?

This catastrophe also teaches us that the gospel of Jesus Christ is a matter of faith and not necessarily of earthly interpretation. We now see through is glass darkly. We now know only in part and the score wie are willing to the state of New York. It belongs to the United States. It is the port of entry. San Francisco does not belong to california. It belongs to the whole United States. Most of the goods sent to or received from Asia must pass through its "gates ofgold." Then, as the country grows to the west, San Francisco on more retard its one setback can no more retard its one.

a glass darkly. We now know only in part. And the sooner we are willing to unite with Paul and say, "Great is the mystery of godliness," and then with the next breath say, "Lord, I believe; help thou my unbelief," the better it will be for our spiritual life and for the spiritual lives of those about us. You cannot understand often why God does as he does. We will have to leave all the explanations for heaven. Earth can never solve them.

But there is still another lesson. This tragedy, as no other tragedy during the past century, has proved how much the American people are akin and how much the are willing to help each other. "God hath made of one blood all nations to dwell upon the face of the earth." But, though we may all be of one blood, yet no power on earth will make us call each other brother so appropriately as when the heavy hand of trouble is laid upon a brother's heart.

Can we not find in geological affinities of the world the symbol of this heart.

Can we not find in geological affinities of the world the symbol of this love of man for his fellow man, clinging to each other in times of trouble? If you study eruptions and volcanic disturbances, almost without exception you will find that earthquakes in one part of the world nearly always mean throughts. And thus with the right hand they will reach out to the east and with the left hand they will reach out to the east and with the left hand they will reach out.

Success is a peculiar thing.
It takes an otherwise good fellow,

When we can save 37 cents by accepting garden seeds from the generous hand of Uncle Sam it looks all right, but it seems to be a broncho of a different color when a congressman is able to save enough out of a $5,000 salary to buy a railroad and a steamship line.

RARE CLOCKS.

One Queen Anne Timepiece to Be Seen In Toronto Is 300 Years Old and Is Without Hands.

There are some rare old clocks in Toronto. It may interest the public to know that one man in the employ of a big jewelry firm in that city spends three days of every week in visiting private residences, business houses, and factories, to wind up the big old clocks that are kept as helrlooms or that are kept as helrlooms or curiosities in these places. Half of his time every week is spent in making the round of these places, and winding and regulating their old timepieces. He says that the majority of the clocks keep remarkably good time, too, when one takes into consideration the fact that they have recorded the flight of

Quite a Fad. Call it whim or fad or fancy, or what you like, but the fact remains that many of the best and biggest families in Toronto have a penchant for rare old clocks. The older the clock the better. If it has "dwelt in marble halls" in some age of the dim and distant past, they value it so much the more. A family heirloom of this variety is treasured most carefully.

So great has this fancy grown on some of Toronto's families that it is commonly reported that they go traveling on the Continent, and buy some old clock that strikes their fancy. It is then brought home and installed in the family residence. The European dealers in curlosities have learned of this, and they play on the ignorance of the buy-

Old Case, New Works.

The story goes that a Toronto man went traveling to Europe, and in a French shop he thought he had discovered a very ancient and rare specimen of a timepiece. He bought it for a good big figure, and when he got back in Toronto was humiliated when an expert on clocks informed him that he had been duped. The clock he had bought was a new one throughout-new case new works, new everything—but it was done in the old style, and after an old design. Well, perhaps it doesn't matter much, and the uninitiated may never know the difference between the old and the new, but it must make that man uncomfortable when he look at the fac of that French clock. *

In one shop in Toronto at the present time there is an old clock made in the time of the good Queen Anne of England. Three hundred years old, and certainly a curiosity. It is made of brass, and the weights and pendulum are entirely exposed to view. The clock is not meant to be cased. It hangs on the wall, and the face and works are enwall, and the face and works are enclosed partially in a little box-like structure. There is no minute hand traveling around its face. Still, it has two hands, one to indicate the hours, and the other to indicate where to set the alarm. The dial is divided into quarter-hour spaces. It came to the shop for general repairs, and had to be fitted with new weights, and new pendulum, and other parts.

Has Three or Four.

Has Three or Four. An old gentleman living on Gloucester street has three or four old timepleces in his house, and he knows the history of them all. They have been handed down from generation to gener-ation, and are genuine herizoms, Mr. E. F. B. Johnston, the wellknown lawyer, when he was in Europe some years ago, secured a very old clock of German make, and rather curious design. It has two bells on that top, and it is so arranged that the hour is struck on one bell, while the half-hour is sounded on the other. Many of the quaintest old specimens of the clockmaker's art come from France. One seen recently was prob-ably a century old, and was in the rather original globular form. Inside there was a place for a small light, probably of the power of a candle, and on the outside of the globe the hours were marked. The indicator is fixed so that, as the globe slowly and regularly revolves, it shows the hour of the day on the transparent globe. A clock of this sort is meant more particularly for the sick room, and for the nurse, who has to give food or medicine to the patient at stated intervals, which are measured by hours. Made of Wood. Then, there are many old and quaint time-pieces inlaid with brass, and ornamented with tortoise shell. There are clooks made entirely of wood—these are German, and are made in the Black Forest-and it may be interesting to note that oil is never used on these wooden clocks. Black lead is the sub-better than oil would.

The old grandfathers' clocks that are so universally popular frequently come in for repairs. There are more of them than of almost any other type

WEARY DAYS AND SLEEPLESS NIGHTS

Many men and women toss night after night upon sleepless beds until near dawn. Their eyes do not close in the sweet and Their eyes do not close in the sweet and refreshing repose that comes to those whose heart and nerves are right. Worry or disease has so debilitated and irritated the nervous system that it cannot be quieted. Or, again, you have heart palpitation and sensation of sinking, a feeling you are going to die; or perhaps you wake up from your sleep feeling as though you were about to choke or smother, and rest leaves you for the night. Allow these were about to choke or smother, and rest leaves you for the night. Allow these conditions to continue and you will feel your health declining.

It is the nerves and heart that are not acting properly.

They can be set right by the use of MILBURN'S HEART is a very conspicuous part of your make up. Our hats wear-that's why we sell so manyfor no matter how good a hat may look at first what counts most is the way it looks when it's

And though we are proud of the new looks of our hats it's the old looks that keep the business growing.

True of our $2.00 Hats as well as our $4.00 and $5.00 Hats.

FACTORY HAMILTON

A great many Men have already resolved to come here for their Spring Suits!

These Men are "posted" and know just what they want and where to get it !

They save themselves time, and they save themselves trouble and money

Others will look around, uncertain where to go! If they happen to look at Our Suits, we'll get their money,

If they buy without seeing Our Suits, it'll be their loss as much as ours! Our styles are far away from the ordinary ideas, embodied in the majority of ready-to-wear Suits!

The swing of the crowd of Suit buyers comes this way more and more! When we say $7.50, $10.00, $12.00 or $15.00 for a Suit, you must see the Suits hitched on to these prices to appreciate our offerings! We trust you'll be in for a look
