CIHM  Microfiche Series  (Monographs)

ICMH
Collection de microfiches (monographies)

Technical and Bibliographic Notes / Notes techniques et bibliographiques

The Institute has attempted to obtain the best original copy available for filming. Features of this copy which may be bibliographically unique, which may atter any of the images in the reproduction, or which may significantly change the usual method of filming are checked below.

Coloured covers /
Couverture de couleur Covers damaged /
Couverture endommagée

$\square$ Covers restored and/or laminated /
Couverture restaurée etVou pelliculée

Cover title missing / Le titre de couverture manque
Coloured maps / Cartes géographiques en couleur

Coloured ink (l.e. other than blue or black) / Encre de couleur (i.e. autre que bleue ou noire)

Coloured plates and/or illustrations /
Planches et/ou illustrations en couleur

Bound with other material /
Relié avec d'autres documents
Only edition available /
Seule édition disponibleTight binding may cause shadows or distortion along interior margin / La reliure serrée peut causer de l'ombre ou de la distorsion le long de la marge intérieure.

Blank leaves added during restorations may appear within the text. Whenever possible, these have been omitted from filming / Il se peut que certaines pages blanches ajoutées lors d'une restauration apparaissent dans le texte, mais, lorsque cela était possible, ces pages n'ont pas été filmées.

L'institut a microfilmé le meilleur exemplaire qu'il lul a été possible de se procurer. Les détails de cet exemplalre qui sont peut-étre uniques du point de vue blbliographique, qui peuvent modifler une image reproduite, ou qui peuvent exiger une modification dans la méthode normale de filmage sont indiqués cl-dessous.

Coloured pages / Pages de couleur

Pages damaged / Pages endommagées
Pages restored and/or laminated /
Pages restaurées etlou pelliculées
Pages discoloured, stained or foxed /
Pages décolorées, tachetées ou piquées
Pages detached / Pages détachées
Showthrough / Transparence

Quality of print varies /
Qualité inégale de l'impression

Includes supplementary material / Comprend du matériel supplémentaire

Pe,ges wholly or partially obscured by errata slips, tissues, etc., have been refilmed to ensure the best possible image / Les pages totalement ou partiellement obscurcies par un feuillet d'erraia, une pelure, etc., ont été filmées à nouveau de façon à obtenir la meilleure image possible.

Opposing pages with varying colouration or discolourations are filmed twice to ensure the best possible image / Les pages s'opposant ayant des colorations variables ou des décolorations sont filmées deux fois afin d'obtenir la meilleure image possible.

Additional comments /
Pagination is as follows: p. [4], 3147-3790.
Commentaires supplémentaires:

This item is filmed at the reduction ratio checked below /
Ce document est filmé au taux de réduction indiqué ci-dessous.

The copy filmed hore has been reproduced thenks to the generosity of:

National Library of Canada

The imegee appeoring here are the best quality possible considering the condition and logibility of the original copy end in keeping with the filming contrect specificetiono.

Onginel copies in printed peper covers ere fllmed beginning with the tront cover and ending on the last pege with d prinzed or illustreted impres. sion. or the back cover when appropriete. All other original copies are filmad beginning on the firat page wish e printed or illustrosed inipres. sion. and ending on the last page wish e printed or illustreted imprassion.

The lest recorded freme on eech microfiche strell contein the symbol $\longrightarrow$ (meening "CON. TINUED"), or the symbol $\nabla$ (meening "END"). whichover epplies.

Maps. plores. cherts. otc.. mov be filmed ot different reduction retios. Those too lerge to be entirely included in one expcesure ere filmed beginning in the upper left hend cornop. left to right end top to bottom. es meny fremes as required. The following diegrems illustrete the mothod:

L'exemplaire filmd fut reproduit grace a la gentrosite de:

Bibliothèque nationale du Canada

Les images suiventes ont ote reproduites ovec le plus grend soin. compte tenu de le condiston of de le notsert de l'exempleipe filme. er en conformite ovac les sonditiona du contrat de tilmage.

Les exemploires originoux dont le couverture en pepier est imprimte sont filmts on commencent pur le premier plet et en terminent soir per to dernitre pege qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustretion. soit per le second plot. solon le cas. Toue les outres exempleires originoux sont filmtse en commençent per te premiere pege qui comporto une emprointe dimpression ou d'illustretion ot en terminent par le dernitre pege qui comporte une selie empreinte.

Un des symboles suivents appereitse sup la dernitre imege de cheque microtiche. selon le ces: Ie symbole signitie "A SUIVRE". It symbole $\nabla$ signitie "FIN".

Les certes. plenches, tebleeux. otc.. peuvent etre filmbs at des reux de reduction differents. Lorsque lo document ast trop grand pouf éte reproduit en un seul clicht. il est filme a pertir de l'engle suptrieur geuche. de gauche a arorte. et de hour en bes. en prenent le nombre d'imeges ndcesseire. Les diegremmes suivents lliustrent le morhode.

HISTORY FOR READY REFERENCE

FROM THE BESTHISTORLANS, BIOGRAPHERS, AND SPECLALISTS

THELR OWN WORDS IN A COMPLETE SYSTEM OF HISTORY
FOR ALL USES, EXTENDNG TO ALL COUNTRIES AND SUBJECTS, AND REPRESENTING FOR BOTH READERS AND BTUDENTS THE BETTER AND NEWER LSTERATURE OF HISTORY IN THE ENGLIBE LANGUAGE

BI

J. N. LARNED

WITH NUMEROUS EISTORICAL MAPS FROM ORIGINAL STUDIES AND DRAWLNGS BY alan C. Reiley

REVISED AND ENLARGED EDITION

IN SEVEN VOLUMES

VOLUME V-TAPURIANS To ZYP
springrield, mass.
THE C. A. NICHOLS CO., PUBLISHERS 1913
09
$L 37$
1912 fol.
v. 5

Corsmemt, 1806, ET J. X. LMRNED.

Cormient. 1801.  ETJ. N. LARYED.

LIST OF MAPS AND PLANS.
Map of the United States ahowing its territorlal dovelopment, Maps of the United Statew in 1783, in 1790, in 1808, in 1840 , and in 1890. . To follow page 8402
Map of the principal theatre of war in Virginis, 1801-65, . . To in 1800, . . Tollow page 8442
Map of the Vicksburg Campaign, . . . . . . . . . . . . . . To follow page 8550
Map of the Battle-fleld of Gettynhurg. . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . On page 8408
Map of the Battle-field of Chattanooga, . . . . . . . . . . . . . . On page 3817
Map of the Atlanta Campaign, . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . On page 3827

TAPUMANS.

TAPURIANS, The.-"To the weat of the Hyrcanings, between Eihurz and the Caspuan, lay the Tapirtans, wheme name has survired in the molern Talueristan, and further yet, on the mea-cosst, and at the month of the Marfins (now Badiruf). were the Mardians."-M. Duncker, llist. of Antiquity, bk. 8, eh. 1 (c, 8).

TARA, Thin Hili, tha Fela, and the Pealter of. - The Feis Tearmeh, or Pels of Tarn, in Iriah history, was a triennial amemhir on the royal hill of Tara, in Meath, whieh in claimed to have been Inatitted by a certain King Otiamh Fodhia. at so remoto a period as 1,800 yeara before Chriat. "All the chleftains or headn of aepts, bards, historians, and military leader throughout the country were regularly summonerl, and were required to attend under the penalty of being treated as the king's enemien The meeting was held in a large ohlong hall, and the first three days were spent in enjoring the hospltallity of the king. who entertalned the entire assembly during lis sittings. The harita givo fong and glowlog accounts of the magnificence displayed on thene oceastons, of the formalfies employed, and of the business tranamacted. Tablen were arranged along the eentre of the hall, and ou the walls at elther stde were sus. pended the hanuers or arms of the chieft, so that ench chief on entering might take his seat under his own escutcheon. Orders were issued hy ound of trumpet, and all the forms were ehar. aeterized by great solemnity. What may have been the authority of this assembly, or whether It had any power to enact laws, is not efear; hut it would appear that one of lis priuelpal functions was the inspection of the national records, the writers of which were ohtiged to the strict. eat accuracy under the welghticat penaities."M. Haverty, IIft. of Ireland, p. 24.-The result of the examination and correction of the histori. cal recoris of the kingdom were "entered In the grent natfonal register enlied the Palter of Tara, whith is aupposed to have been destroyed at the perlod co the Norman invaifon. if It Is supposed that part or the contents of the Psaiter of Cashel, which contains mut Cashel, which contains much of the fahuious history of ${ }^{t}{ }^{T}$ rish. was copied from it."-T. Wright, Ifist. elend. bk. 1. ch. $2(0,1)$.
TARANTEE.NS, OR TARENTINES, or TARRATINES. See American Abohtg. ines: Ampakts, and Aloonquian Family; aiso, New England: A. D. 1675 (Jthyo-SertemBER).
TARAS. See Tarentcm.
TARASCANS, The. See Amraican Aborigines: Tarabcans.

TAlHfF LEGISLATION.

TARBELLI, Tha. Seo Agutrabre: Two ancient thibla, TARENTINE WAR, Tha. Bee Rowe: B. C. 288-275.

ThNENTUM. - Turentum (or Taras), the mot important of the ancient Greek eitien in Ituly. "lay at the nonthern corner of the great gull wheh atill bears lts name. It had an ex. ceflent harbeur, alinost fand focked. On its enstern horn stome the efty. Its form was trinn. gulur; one side belry washal hy the open sea, the other hy the wai ra uf the harbour, white the base or innil slde was protected hy a fine of atrong fortifeations. Thun advantageously posted for commerce the efly grew apace. She powsessed an oputent middle chass; and the poorer efitizens found nn easy subsistence In the aluun. dant supply of fish whith the gulf afforded. These native fishermen were alwnys ready to min the navy of the state. But they made in. different solfiliera. Therefore when any feril of Whar threatened the suate, it was the practice of of fortune, who were often kings or princes, to hring an nimy for their defence. .or The orifin of Lacediemonian Tarentum is velied in fahlo. The warfiors of Sparta (so runs the well-known tegend) went forth to the second Messenian war under a vow not to see thefr homes till they had conquered the enemy. They were long absent, and thelr wives sought paramours among the faves and others who liad not gone out to war. When the warrions returned, they found a large body of youth grown up from this adulteroun intercourse. These youths (the Parthenfl as they were calfed), disdainlag subjection, quitted their native land under the comusand of Phatantun, one of their own lody, and founded the colony of Tarentum."-II. Q. Liddefi, Mlist. of Rome, bk. 3, eh. 25 (o. 1).-Sec, also, Siris f1. C. 28i-275.-Alliance with Pyrrhua and war with Rome. Ne Rome: B. C. $282-275$.
B. C. 2r2. - Betrayed to Hannibal, Seo Praic Wars: The Second.

RENTUM, Treaty of.-The treaty in r Uate to $n$ second term of tive years; negotlated at Tarentum. B. C. 37.-C. Merivale, Hise.
of the Romenn. ch. 27.
TARGOWITZ, Confederatea of. See Po. LAND: A. D. 1701-170?.
TAR1FA: A. D. 1291. - Taken by the Chriatiaga from the Moors. See Spals: 4 . D.
1273-1460.

TARIFE LEGISLATION AND CONVENTIONS.

(The Netheriandu): 15th Century.-Eariy Free Trade and Reciproctly.-In the Nether. lands, at the close of a short war with the Eng. tish, in 1437, "' the import of raw wonl was entirely refleved from the payment of even the ordinary customs. . . And this was then their notlon of proteetion,- to be alfowed to huy what they llked where they ilked, to llve at peace with dred nelghbours, and to be lei alone. Four hundred years have passed and gone since the Netherlands persuaded their rulers to take off all duty be hrought into their country in order that they might be dyed and taken out agaln duty frec; yet we live in the "Idst of tarifis whose aim th is to hinder the imp stion of the raw materlal hy prohlhitory duties sad to pre vent competition in every kind of fahric hy so-calfed protecting ones! And in England, als at the perforl in quastion, the suifeldal spirit i: commercial envy had seized hold of the government, and in every parliament some fresh evidence was afforded of the jealousy with which forelgn skill and competition were viowed. But the Dutch heid on

TARIFT LEAIE ATION.

Cober. TARITF LEOIGLATION, 1604-68.
ith theoour of thotr dibceraing and angactous way reveres. It the or reciprority or remeating lis clothe. If the lagiliah woull not admit their clotha, that was ao remoon why they whould cheat themmeires of the adrantage of Eugilah and romerno if not clothe, thero wan doubtiem Among other that they would huy from them. Amongoiber articlen, there was asti, which chey had acquired a pecuitar skifi in rubining man there was an extenai ve carrylog trade la the prod. uce of the Northera countrien, and in rarlous contiy luxurles, which the Engilah obtained In 140 remoter regions generaliy through them. Charies V.) Amsuand (father of the Emperor Netheriandia, as the fovernment of the Netherlande, as Duke of IIrsmant, he "presenter to the senates $0^{\circ}$ the leadiog cities the draughy of a commercla, treaty with Eingland, concelvou in a whe and llberal splitt, and emi. neatly fitted to adrance the reni weifare of both Nountrien. Their ament wat gimliy glvea. compact, Which long went the value of the new Grand Treaty In all respenty of Copimerce.' Its provisions were, In ail respecta, reciprocal, and ena hied every kind of me chandise to be freeiy imported from elther liberty of the citizens of the other. The entire firmed of Eathing on each other's coaut was con pread; meanures were prescribed for the supwiecks, when none and property arvel from rented is the local of the crew survived, was proper in the local authorities in truat for the proper owners, should they appear to chatm it within a year and a day. wholly and encentilit diras founderl on fiteas Wholly and ensentialiy different from tiat of the kingdoms around them. 'Tive freedom of tratic had ever been greater with tiem than amongat any of their neighbours; ' and its diferent reaulta began to appear. Not oniy were strangera of larery face and creed sure of an asylum la floltaken to induce then and singular pains were to contrlhute to the weaith of akilif enabled them permanentiy in the weaith of the state to settio Culiagh, Industrine great towne."-W. T. Me. pp. 110-111, 150-151, 260-26\% Free Nations, 0.2 , (Venice): 15-151, 260-267. premice): 15.1 th Centuries. - Beginning of Vexice: 15-17Tu Centceied monnpuly. See (Engiand): Centuries.
tion Lawe and their esiret 1672, The Naviga. colnnies. See Navo thetrect na the American coinnies. See Navioation Laws: A. 1). 18.51; and Uniticd States of An.: A. D. $16.51-1873$. Coilhert.-Colbert, ${ }^{1664-1667 .}$ - The System n! XIV., was tile frest, the great minister of Louis an ceonomic the frst among statesmen who had an economic system, "settied, complete and conhonor of ail its parts; and it is to the eternal spite of obstacles of that he made it triumph in syite of obstacies of every kind. Atthougii this its parts, it was an ingenseproachable in ail time of its appearance; and we progress at the ing since then which can be wave had nothing since then which can be compared with it, the need of and penetration.

It wac. gave rsse to the attempts at amciforation made ay Colhert. This ifiustrlous minister soon comprebended that the surest way to jucrease pubilic ortune was to favor private fortune, and to One of the first acts of his ininistry, whe Is an homage rendervil to true principies ; and one canant doubt that all the others woulte bave been in contormity with this glorloun precerient, if the aclence of weaith had been, at timat time, at ent. hareed as it is in-day. Colbert woulth ey alaly bare carrled out in Irance what Mr. If. asacon had begua In Einglanat at the time of his sudden denth. duced the hin eniet of Scptember, 1004, ro. dite to suthert and export cluties on merchan. dise to sultable limitm, and suppremed the most onerous. ' it is our Intention, sald the king to make known to all our govecnorn and intend: ant in what consideration we hold at prevent overything that may concern commerce. the tae mont colid and mnat eweenilai means for aution and the aill are lertel the regulation of tho dutles which to reduce on aff commodities, wo havearranged to reduce alf thene duties to one singie import and one export duty, and aito to diminish these retstabisish tive order to enenurage davigation, reestimbishs tive aneient manufacturen, bualish hibitell the seizure the name thisi Coibert pro(see Tablef and Gabelifi] of berla clothea bread, horse and cnttie serving for intor, elothe, toois. horsen and catte werving for iabor; or the galned thelr livelihuma The ruginter of the sur vey of lands was revised, so that properts the sur be tased oniy in praportion to fits value and the ual extent of the land. The great higiswaye o. the kingdoin and ali the fivers were then guarded by armies of receivers of toils, who atopped merchandise on ita pasaage and fiurdened itw traseportation with a muititude of abusive charges, to may nothing of the deiays and exac. tions of every kind. An edict was lssued onder. lug the inventlgation of theme degrnding charges; and most of them were aboissised or reduced to just itimits. . . The lease of Customs dutices being about to expire, Coflert improved thls occasion to revise the tarif; and allijougb this fatai mensure has since been connidered as the anest monument of his administration, we think we should present it in its true appect, which weems to us to have been invarlahly misapprehended. Colbert's alm in revising the custome was to make them a means of protection for Gnanciul resource, as they the place of a simpia articis resource, as they formerly were. Most artieles of foreign manufacture liad dution im. posed upon them, so as to secure to similar Freneli merciandise the home market. At the same ime. Coibert spared neitber sacrifices nor encouragement to give activity to the manufac. turing spirtt in our country. He caused the mrom abroad and be su of every kind to come from abroad; and he subjected manufactures to a severe discipiline, that they shoul. t rot lose their vigilance, relying on the turif 'leary thes were inflicted on the manufa of an article recognized as inferior in quaity to what it should be. For the first offeace, the products of the delinguents were attached to a ctake, with a carcan and the name of the manufacturer: in case of a second offence, the manufacturer him. woulf was fastened to it. These draconian rigors would have led to results entirely contrary to those Coibert expected, if his enlightened soiliciwas cruel in thempered hy other measures what was cruet in them. Thus, he appointed inspectors of the manufa

Forkmen Into the best way，and brought them Information of the newett propemes，purchamed frun foreiga manufacturem，or secretly ubained at inent expens．Colliert was fur from atlach． Ing to the cus tms the liden of exclualr：mod bifint protection that haw ever been atteflouted to them since hls miniotry．He knew very well thant these tarifi woukl engeader reprisala，and that，while encouraging manufactnfere，they woild meriously hiniler commerce．Mopenver， all bis efforts tended to weaken their evil effects． His Instructlons to consule and amimanaiors tes． tify strongly to his preponemesione in this regari．

The mare one atudies the adminititralive acta of this grent minitater，the more oue la con． winred of hlo lofty menec of juatice，and of the $1:$ beral tendeacles of his syatem，which has hith－ erto beea geaeraily extollend an hoatile is the principle of commercial ilberty．In vain the Itallans lane hailed it hy the naine nf col－ bertism．＇${ }^{\text {to }}$ deaignate the excluaive syntem lu－ rented by themedvea nad lionnred by the span－ tsh：Colbert never npproved the sacriflee of the greater part of his fellow citlzens to a few privi－ legeid ones，ano the crentlon of endiess monopolifes for the proft of certain lirsuches of industry． We may reproach himi with haviag beea exces．－ sively fincllned to make regulations，hut not with havlug enfeonferl France to a few apinacrs of wool and conton．Ito hat himmelf summurd up In a few words bio aystem in the miemorini he presented to the king：＇To refuce export dutles on providons and manufactures of the kingdom； to dimiaish import duties on everything whicin is of use in manufactures；wnd to repel the product of forelgn minnufactures，hy raising the duties．＇ Bueh was the apirit of hls frat tarif，published In September， 1664 ． 11 h had enpecinily almed at facillititiag the supply of row naterials Ia France， and promoting the interexts of her home trade hy the abolition of provinclal barriers，and by the estahlishuneat of lines of customs－houses at the extreme froaticrs．．．．The only reproach that caa be justly made ngnalati him to the anose of the protective instrumeat he had fust crea - i， ， by increasing In the tarifi of 1687 the exclusive measures directed against forelgn manufactures In that of 1064 ．It was no longer then a ques． tlon or，maaufactures，but of war，ammely，with holiand；and this war broke out in 1672 ． From the same epoch date the first wara of com： merclal reprtsuls between France and England． Lostilities whicha were to cost both nations so mueh blood and so many trara．Manufacturea were thea seen to prosper and agriculture to lan－ gulsin Ia Framee under the influence of this sys． tem．＂－J．A．Blanqui，Ifiot．of Bol．Ekonomy in Europe，ch． 26.
Also in：II．Martia，Ifint of France：The Ago of Louis XIV．，r．1，ch．2．－S．B．Perkins，France under the Regency，ch．4．－Sec，also，France：
A．1）．1681－1083．
（Penngylvania）：A．D．1785．－Beyinning of ＂Protection＂ia Peanayivania．－＂Before the Revolution Pennsylvania bad always been slow to impose burdens on trade．While Massachu－ setts，．Jew York and South Caroliaa were raising considerahle sums from iniposts．Penasyivania commerce was frec from restrictioas．Ia 17 so， however，the aced of revenuc overcame the pre－ dilection of the Quakers for frec trade and they declded＇that considerable sums can he ralsed by a amail tmpost on goods aad merchandise im． pented thto thls state withnut burdealng com－ merce，Accordiagly，low duties wero faid on wipen，Hquors，miomeces，sugar，cocom and tea with 1 per cent．on all other importa th 1782 the dutles were douhled sad the pevenue was ap． propritated to the defenco in commerce on the Dela ware river and bay．This was done at the request of the merchante who wholied to have their intereats protected and＇signinmit their will． Ingnems to suhmit to a further impmet on the im ． portatinn of goods for that purpume．＇When peace conme，however，the merchants at onse representel It as detrimental to the intereats of the state to continue the dintes，and they were repealed．In 1784 low duties wero agaln Ins． powed，and Inter in the same year Increased． Eiarly in $178 \%$ more careful provislons were mado for their collection．Beptember 20，came the im． portnit act＇to eacournge and protect the manu－ lactures of thile state hy layiag additionai．dutles on certain manufactures which luterfere with them．＇．＇．More than forty of the articles which Pennayivanln had begun to make were taxed at Ligh specific rates．Cinaches and carriages，palid $\AA 10$ to $£ 20$ ；clocks ine．；ncy thes， 15 mm ，per dozea beer，ale and port ．．．．．．per gallon ；woap or can． dies，11．per pounia．aboes and boots，1s．to 6 per palr；cordage and ropen，8．4d．per hundred welght；and so oa．The ten per cent．schedule incluider manufactures of imn and stecl，hata clothing，books and papera，whips，cance，musleni instruments and jewelry．．．The P＇ennayivanita act is of importance beenuse it showe the nature of commoditles willch the country was then pro－ ducing，as well as because It formed the basfs of the tariff of 1F89．＂一W．Ilili，Firat Stages of the Taris Policy of the United States，pp．E3－54．－ The preamble of the Peansyivania act of 1785 net forth Its reasoms as follows：＂Whereas， divers useful and benettcial arts and manufac． tures have beea gradually Introdured Into Peara． aylvania，and the same lave at Icugth risen to a very conslderahio axtent and perfection inso－ much that in tle late wnr beiween the a d States of Amertca and Great Britain，whea tue importation of Europeas goods was much iater－ rupted，and nftea very difficult and uncertaln， the arilzans and mechanics of this state were whle to supply in the houre of need，not on：y large quantitles of weapous and other imple－ meats，but also ammunitlot，and clothing，with． out which the war could not have bice．，carrled on，wherehy their oppressed country＂：wreatly assiated and relleved．Aad where．－＇chough the fahrics and manufactures of Europe，anid other foreign parts，Imported into this counarry In times of peace，may be afforded at cheaper rates than they can be made here，yet good policy and a regard to the wellbeling of divern useful and induatrious cltizens，who are em－ ployed ia the makiag of like goods，ia this state． demand of us that moderate duties be lald oa certaia fabrics and manufactures imported，which dn most fatcrfere with，and which（if no relief be given）will uadermine and destroy the useful manufactures of the like kiad in thits country， for this purpose．Be ti enacted＂de．－Pennayl－ rania Lawo，1785．－－The duties enncted，whith were additional to the then existing impost of 2f per ccnt．，were generally specific，but ad Valurcm on some commoditics as on Britioh ateel， 10 jur ceat．；earthen ware，the same；ginsa and glams－ware， 24 per cent．；liaens the same．Looked at in the iight of recent Amerienn tariffs, they wouid harily be recognized as "protcetive" in their character; hut the protective purpose was pialnly enough deciared.
(United States): A. D. 1789-1791, - The Grat tariff enactment.-Hamilton's Report on Manufactures. - The "American Systern" proposed. -"The iminediate necessity of ralsing some ready money led to tire passage of a tarift bili at the first session of Congress. It was prepared and carried throngh the Ilouse chletly by Hadison; and its coutents, no less than the generai tome of tite dehate in which it was discussed, showed a tceided icaning towards the proteetive system. But this legislutlon was temporary, and was at the time known to he so. The pcrmanent system of the eountry wns feft for subsequent and more leisurciy development. When at last Congress feit abie to give the subject due atten. tion, it applied ns usual to Hamifton to furnlsil information and opinlons. A topic so important and so cougculai to his tastes called forth his best excritions. A series of extensive investlgatlons couducted by every feasihie kind of inquiry and resenrcb, both in foreign parts and in the United States, furnished the matcrial for hils reflections. IIe took ahundant time to digest as wcll ns to coliect tile great mass of information thus ncquired, and it was uot untii ncurly two years hasd elapisedi since the order for the report was passed that he sent in the document to the House of IReprescntutives. . . The iuferenccs and arguments coustituted as abie a presentation of the protectionist tiveory as has cver been made. . . It ls, however, an incorrect eonstrue thon of that report to regard it ns a vindleation of the general or ubstract doctrine of protection. Hamition was very far from nssuming any such position; protection aiways nud everywhere was not his theory; protcetion was not his ideal prineipie of commerciai regulation. . . . So far from entertalning any- prediicction for protectlon in the abstract, it would secm that in a perfect commereial world he wouid bave expected to find free trade the prevnlent custom. $\qquad$ trade were the ruie of the whole conmereiai world, IIamiiton was not prepared to say that the United States would fiud it for her interest to be singular. But such were not the prenises from which he had to draw a concinsion. . . The report of Haniiton determined the poiicy of the couutry. For gool or for evil protection was resorted to, with the avowed purpose of encouraging domestie manufacturing as well as of raising a revenue. . . Tice prineipics upon which Ilamilton hased ins tariff were not quite those of pure protection, hitt constituted what Was known as the 'Ancrican System'; a system which has been believed in by former generations with a warmeth of conviction not casy to with-standi."-J. T. Morse, Jr., Liffe of Alex. Hamilton, ch. 11.- Hamilton's celebrated report opens with an elaborate arymacut to prove the desirabllity of manufacturing Industrics In the country, and thin proceeds: "A fuli view havin! now beeu takeu of the iuducements to the promotion of manufactures In the l'nited States, accompnnied with all examination of the principal objections whicit are commonly urged in oppositlon, it is proper in tire ncxt piace, to consider the means by which it may te cffected, as introductory to a specification of the objects which in the present state of things appear the most fit to be encouraged, and of the particular measures whleh It may be advisahie to adopt in respect to eaeh. In order to a better judgment of the means proper to be resorted to by the United States, It whii ie of use to advert to those whieh have been einpioyed with success in other countries. The prineiple of these are:-I. Proteeting duties, or dutics on those foreign artlcies Which are the rivais of the domestic ones intended to be encouraged. Duties of this nature evidently amount to a virtual hounty on the domestic fabrics, since $b$, enhancing the charges on foreign artiefes they caabie the nationai manufacturers to underseil ail their foreign competltors. The propriety of this specles of encourngement need not be twelt upon, as it is not whilch a clenr resuit from the numerous topica which have been suggested, but is sanctioned by the laws of the United States $\ln$ a variety of instances; It has the additionai recommendation of belng a resource of revenue. Indeed, aii the duties imposed on inuported artleies, though whith an exclusive view to revenue, have the effect in contemplation; and, cxcept where they fail on raw materiais, wear a benefleent aspect towards the manufacturers of the country. II. Irohihitions of rivai artieles, or duties equivalent to pribibitions. This is another and an efticacious mean of eneouraging manufactures; but in general it is only ft to he cmployed when a manufacture has made sueh a progress, and is iu so many hands, as to insure a due competition and an ndequate suppiy on reasonable terms. Of duties cquivalent to prohlbitions there are cxamples in the laws of the United States; and there arc other cases to which the prineipie may be advantageonsiy extended, hut they are not numerous. Considering a monopoly of the domestie markct to its own manufacturers as the reigning poiicy of manufacturing nations, a simiiar policy on the part of tie United States, in every proper instnnee, is dietated, it might almost be said, hy the prineiples of distrihutive justiee; certalnly hy the duty of endeavoring to secure to their own eitizens a reclprocity of ad. vantages. III. Prohibitions of the exportatlon of materiais of mnnufactures. The desire of sccuring a cileap and pientifui supply for the national workmen; and, where the article is cither peeuliar to the country, or of peculiar quailty there, tite jeaiousy of cnabiling forelgn workmen to rival those of the nation with its own matcriais, are the ieadlng motives to this speeies of regulation. It ought not to be affirmed that it is in uo instance proper, but it is eertainig one which ought to be adopted with great clreumspection and only in very piain cases. IV. Pecuniary bounties. This has been found one of the most efficaclous means of encouraging manufactures, and it is, In some views, the best, thougit it has not yet been praeticed upon the government of the United States, - uniess the ailowance on the exportntion of dried and plekied fish and snited meat could be considered as a bounty - nnd though it is iess favored by puhlic opinion than some other modes. Its advantages are these:-1. It is a species of are these:-1. It is a spceies of encouragement more positive and direet than any other, and for that very reason has a more immediate tendency to stimulate and uphoid new enterprises, increas Ing the chances of protit, and dimiulshing the risks of ioss in the first attempts. 2. It avoids the inconvenience of a temporary augmentation sf price, which is incident to some other modes, or it produecs it to a less degree, efther hy maklng no addition to the charges on the rival forelgn article, as in the case of protecting dutles, or hy making a smailer addition. The first happens when the fund for the bounty is derived from a different ohject (which may or may not lncreasc the price of some other article according to the nature of that object); the second when the fund is derived from the same or a simllar object of forelgn manufacture. One per cent. duty in the foreign article, converted into a bounty on the domestic, wlll have an equal effect with a duty of 28 excluslve of such bounty and the price of the foreign commodlty is liable to be raised in the one case in the proportion of 1\%, in the other in that of $2 \%$. Indeed, the hounty when drawn from another source, is calculated to promote a reductlon of price, because, without laylng any new charge on the forelgn article, it serves to introduce a compettion with it, and to lncrease the total quantity of the artlcle in the market. 3. Bountles have not, like high protectlng duties, a tendency to produce seareity. $\mathrm{An}_{\mathrm{n}}$ increase of price is not always the 1 mmediate, though where the progress of a domestlc manufacture does not counteract a rise, $1 t$ is commonly the ultimate effect of an additional duty. In the interval between the laying of the duty and a proportlonal lncrease of price, it may discourage mportation by interfering with the profita to he expeeted from the sale of the artlclc. 4. Bounties are sometlmes not only the best, hut the only proper expedicnt for uniting the encouragement of a ucw ohject of agrlculture with that of a new objicet of manufacturc. It is the interest of the farnuer to liave the production of the raw matcrial promotal by counteracting the lnterference of the forelgn material of the same kind. It is the Interest of the manufacturer to have the material ahundant and cheap. If prior to the domestic productlon of the material in sufficlent quantly to supply the manufncturer on good terms, a duty be laid upon the lmportatlon of it from ahroad, with a view to promote the raising of it at home, the interest both of the farmer and manufncturer wlll be disserved. By elther dcstroying the requislte supply, or ralsing the price of the article beyond what can be afforded to he given for it hy the conductor of an $\ln f a n t$ manufacture, it is abandoned or fails; and there heing no domestic manufactories to erente a demanel for the raw materinl whlch is raised hy the farner, it is in valn that the competition of the like forelgn article nay linve been destroyed. It canuot cscape notice that a duty upon the importntion of an article cau no otherwise aid the domestic productiou of it than hy giving the latter greatcr advantages in the bome market. It can have no influence upon the advantageous sale of the artlcle produced in foreign markets, no tendency, therefore, to promote its exportation. The true way to conciliate these two interests ls to lay a duty on forelgn manufactures of the material, the growth of which ls desired to be encouraged, and to apply the produce of that duty hy way of bounty either upon the production of the material litself, or upon fts manufacture at home, ar upon both. In this dispositton of the thing the manufacturer connmences hils enterprise under every adrantage which is attainahle as to quantity or price of the raw materlal. And the farmer, if the bounty be immediately to him, is cnahled hy it to enter Into a successful competition with the foreign material. .. There is a degree of prejudice against bounties, from an appearance of glving away the puhlic money without an immedlate conslderation, and from a suppositlon that they serve to enrich particular classes at the expense of the communlty. But nelther of these sources of dlslike will bear a serious examlnatlon. There is no purpose to which puhlic money can be more heneficially applled than to the acquisition of a ncw and useful branch of industry, no conslderation more valuahle than a permanent addition to the general stock of productive labor. As to the second source of ohjectlon, it equally lles against other modes of encouragement, which are admitted to be ellgible. As often as a duty upon a forelgn article makes an addiltion to its price, it causes an extra cxpense to the community for the bencfit of the domestlc manufacturer. A bounty does no more. But it is the interest of the society in cach case to suhmit to a temporary expense, which is more than compensated hy an lncrease of industry and wealth, hy an augmentation of resources and Independence, and hy the clreumstance of eventual cheapncss, which has heen notlecd in another place. It would deserve attentlon, however, in the employment of this species of encouragement in the United States as a reason for modcrating the degree of lt ln the instances in which it might he deemed eligihle, that the great distance of this country from Europe imposes very heavy charges on all the fahrles whleh arc hrought from thence, amounting from $15 \%$ to $30 \%$ on their value according to thelr hulk.
V. Premiums. These are of a nature allied to bounties, though distinguishable from them in some important features. Bounties are applicalle to the whole quantity of an article produced or manufactured or exported, and $\ln$ volve a correspondent expense. Premlums serve to reward some particular excellence or superiority, some extraordinary excrtion or skiil, and are dispensed only in a small number of cases. But their effect ls to stimulate general cffort. VI. The exemption of the materials of manufactures from duty. The policy of that exemptlon, as a general rule, particularly in reference to new estahlishments, is oh vious. . . . VII. Drawhacks of the dutles which are
VII. Drawmaterials of manufactures. It has already been ohserved as a general rule, that duties on those materials ought, with certain exceptions, to be forbornc. Of these exceptious, three cases occur which may serve as examples. One where the material is itself an ohject of general or extenslve consumption, and a fit and productive souree of revenue. Another where a manufacture of a simpler kind, the coupetlition of which whitha like domestlc article is desired to be restrained, partakes of the nature of a raw material from helng capahle by a further process to he con rerted into a manufacture of a different klnd, the introductiou or growth of which is desired to be encouraged. A third where the inaterial ltself is the production of the country, and ln sufficlent ahundauce to furnish a cheap and plentiful supply to the natlonal manufaeturers.

Where duties on the materlals of manufactures are not lald for the purpose of preventing a competition wlth some domestic production, the same reasons which recommend, as a general rule, the exemption of those materials from duties, would recommend, as a llke general rule, the allowance of drawbacks in favor of the manufacturer. $\qquad$ VIII. The encouragement of new lnventions and discoveries at home, and of the introduction into the United States of such as may have been made in othcr countries; particuiarly those which reinte to machinery. This is among the most uscful and uncxceptionahie of the aids which can be glven to manufactures. The usuai means of that encouragement are pecuniary rewards, and, for a time, exciusive privileges. . . . IX. Judicious regulations for the inspection of manufactured commodities. This is not among the leas important of the means by which the prosperity of manufactures may be promoted. It is indeed ln many cases one of tile most essentiai. Contributing to prevent frauds upon consumers at home and cxportera to foreign countrics, to improve the quailty and preserve the character of the nationai manufactures; it cannot fail to ald the expeditious and adrantageous saie of them, nad to serve as a guard against successful competition from other quarters. . . X. The facilitating of pecuniary remittances from piace to place is a point of considerable moment to trade in generai and to manufactures in particular, by rendering more easy the purchase of raw materiais and provisions, and the payment for manufactured supplies. A general circuiation of bank paper, which is to be expected from the lastitution fately cstablished, will be a most valuabie mean to this cnd. . . . XI. The facilitating of the transportation of commodities. Improvements faroring this object intimately concern ali tho domestic, interests of a community; but they may, without impropriety, be mentloned as having an inportant relation to manufactures. . . The foregoing are the principal of the means by which the growth of manufactures is ordinarily promoted. It ls, however, not merely necessary that the measures of government which have a direct view to manufactures should be calculated to assist and protect them; but that those which only collateraily affect them, ln the general course of the ad. ministration, shouid le guarded from any pecuilar tendency to lujure them. There are certnin speeies of taxes which are npt to be oppressive to dilferent parts of the community, aud, among other ill effects, have a very un'. fireudiy aspect towards manufactures. Ail poli or capitation tuxes are of this nature. They cither proceed according to a fixed rate, which operates unequaliy and injuriousiy to tie industrious poor; or they vest a discretion in certain offcers to make estimates and sssessmeuts, which are necessuriiy rague, conjecturai, und ihabie to abuse. . . . Iil such taxes (including aif taxes on occupations) which proceed according to the amount of capital supposeri to be empioyed in a business, or of profits supposed to be made in it, are unavoidably $\mathrm{i}_{\text {. .rf fui to }}$ industry. "-A. Ham. ilton, Report on Manufurtures (Horks, r. 3).

TARIFF LEGISLATION, 1789-91. Emplich TARIFF LEGISLATION, 1815-29.

ALso in: State Pipiers and Speches on the Tariff:-R. W. Tuompson, Ifist. of Protectire Tarif Lawe, ch. G-i.
(England): A. D. 1815-1828.-The Corn Laws and Provision Laws.- The aliding-scaie.-During the Napoleouic wars in Furope there was a proionged period of scarcity, approaching to famine, in Great Britain. There were scant harvests at home uad supplies from sbroad were cutoli by the "Continental aystem" of Napoieon. "In 1801 wheat was 115 hillings and 11 pence per quarter; from 1801 to 1818 the price averaged 84s. ; whilst in the 20 yearn ending 1874, it averaged only 52e. per quarter. The cry of starvatlon was everywhere heard amongst the working classes, and tradeamen of ali kinds suffered serereiy; whilst the only well. to-do peopic were the Farmers and the Landlords. As soon as the war was over, and our ports were opened for the reception of foreign grain, prices came down rapidly. Then the Landiords took alarm, and appealed to Parliament to resist the importation of foreign grain, which they atgerted, would be the ruin of the English Farmers. They insisted that in this country, the costs of cultivation were extremeiy heary, as compared with those of foreign producera of grain, and that therefore the British Farmer must reeeive protection $\ln$ order to prevent his ruln. Hence a Pariliament, composed mostly of Landlords, proceeded, ln 1815, to enact the Corn Law. which excluded forelgn wheat, except at high rates of duty, until the market price ehould reach 80 s . per quarter; and other kinds of grain, untli there was a proportlonate elevation in prices. The dlscussions in Parliament on this question made a great lmpression, and led to a wide-spread sympathy, and to the belief that there was need of a measure, which, accordlng to its advocates, would preserve our Agriculture from ruin, and be at the same time a provislon against famine. But by many thoughtful and patriotlc peopie this law was viewed with intense dislike, and was characterised as an atrocious fraud. The fact was, that . . . when rents ought elther to have been lowered, or the methods of cultivation Improved, the Corn Law was passed by the Landlords in order to keep out forelga corn and to maintain high rents; and many of the common people saw, or thought they saw, what would be the effect; for whilst the legislature was engaged in the discusslon of the question, the people of London became riotous, and the walls were chalized with invectlves such as 'Bread or Blood,' 'Guy Fawkes for ever,' etc. A loaf, stceped $\ln$ hiond, was piaced on Carlton House, (now the Tory Ciub House.) The houses of some of the most unpopular of the promoters of the measure were attacked hy the mob. At Lord Eldon's house the iron rail. lngs were torn up. Whiist every pane of glass and many articles of furniture were broken and destroyed, and it was facetiously remarked that at iast his iordsilip kept open house. The military were cailed out, and two persons were kiiled; the Houses of Parifament were guarded hy soldiers, nad, indeed, the whole of London appeared to be in possession of the Army. In various parts of the country similar disturbances prevailed. . . . Large popular meetlngs were held at Spa Fields. in London, pubilc mectings were also held at Birmingham, and in many other parts of the kingdom. . . . In some of the towns and popuious localities, the operatives having in vew a large aggregate meetling to be held on St. Peter's field in Manchester, suhmitted themseives to marching discipine. . . . Regardiess, however, of the public dcmonotrations of disiike to the Corn and Provision Laws, the Legislature persisted in upholding the mont etringent provisions thereof until the year 1828, when the duties on the lmportation of grain were adjusted by a silding acale, in accordance with the average prices in the Engilsh markct. The foliowing abstract may serve to denote the proviaions of the amended Law:When the average price of wheat was 86 shilfings the duty was 50 shiliings 8 pence per gr.; when 46s. the duty was 40s. 8d. pe. qr.; whar. 66s. It was 30 s . 8d. per qr.; when 62s. It was 24s. 8d. per qr.; when 72s. it was 2s. 8d. per qr. ; and when 73s. it was 18. pcr qr. It was soon found that as a means of protection to the British Farmer, the operation of the sliding scale of duties was scarcely iess effcctive, by deterring imports of grain, than the previous law, which absolutely excladed wheat until it reached 80 s . per quarter. The Act certainiy provided that foreign grain might at any time be imported, and be held in hond till the duty was paid; a provision under which it was expected to be atored until the price shouid be high, and the duty low; but the expenses attendant upon warehousing and preserving it from injury by keeping, were usualiy looked upon as an undesirable or even dangerous investment of a merchant's capital. . . . Agricuitural protection, as exhibited by the Corn Law, wouid, however, have been very incomplete without the addition of the Provision Laws. By these Laws the importation of Foreign Cattle and foreign meat were strictiy prohibited. Butter and Lard were indeed aliowed to be imported, but they were not to be used as food, and in order to provide sgainst any infraction of the law, the officers at the Custom Houses were empioyed to "spoil" these articies on their arrival, by smearing them with a tarred stick. They could then be used only as grease for wheeis, or for the smearing of sheep. With bread purposely made dear, with the import of cattle and of flesh meat probibited, and with iard and butter wiffully reduced from articles of food to grease for wheeis, there is no difficulty in accounting for the frequent murmurs of discontent, and for the starvation among the poorer classes in every part of the Kingdom. Soup kitehens were opened almost every winter and coais and ciothing gratuitousis distributed in many places; but such paliatives were regarded with derision by all who understood the true causes of the evil. Such help was scorned, and a ery for Justice was ralsed; scarcity was said to be created by Act of Parliament, in order to be mitigated by philanthropy."-H. Asbworth, Recollections of Richard Coblen, ch. 1.

TARIFF LEGISLATION, 1815-28. Clay Ameri TARIFF LEGISLATION, 1816-24. can syitem.

Also in D. Ricardo, On Protection to Apriculture (Works, pp. 459-488).-J. E. T. Rogers, The Economic Interpretation of IIistory, $r-. .1-18$.
(United States): A. D. 1816-1824.- Tbe beginning of the protective policy (the "American System"). - "The return of peace at the beginning of 1815 brought the manufacturers face to face with a serious danger. War ba been their harvest time. Favored by double du-ies and abnormal conditions their industry bar attained a marveious though not always safe development. . . . By limitation, the double duties were to expire one year after the conclusion of peace, and unless Congress intervened promptiy and effectuaily their individual ruin was certain. . . . As new industries sprang up, petitions were promptly iaid before Congress praying for new duties. for the permanence of the mar dities, and fur cortain prohibitions. . . . In laying before Congress tbe treaty of peace, Fehruary, 1815, Madison calied attention to the ' unparalieied maturity' attained by manu factures, and 'anxiousiy recommended thi source of national independence and weaith to the prompt and constant guardianship of Congress. $\qquad$ To Dailas, Seeretary of the Treasury, the manufacturers had aiready turned. Six days after the treaty of peace was ratified, the House, February 23, 1815, cailed upon Dallas to report a general tarifi bili at the ncyt session of Congres. . . In bis annuai report in Ile. cember, 1815, Datias had proposed the extension of the doubie duties until June 30,1816 , in order to give time for the eiaboration of a new tarifi bill; and after some discussion Congress agreed to this pian. Fehruary 13 he transmitted his reply to the resolutions of the previous February closing with a carefuily prepared schedule of new tarifi rates. This, after being worked over in tr . Ways and Means Committee, was em. bodic - in a bill and introduced into the House March 12, by Lowndes of South Carolina. Debate began March 20, and continued till Aprii 8, when the bill was flnaliy passed by a vote of 88 to 54. Aprii 20 it passed the Senate with some amendments, and April 27 received the approval of Madison. . . . The features of Dallas' proposed ta:iff were the enlarging of the ad valorem list from three groups at $12 \frac{1}{2}, 15$, and 20 per cent to eight groups at 7 直, $15,20,22,28,80$, and $33 \frac{1}{5}$ per cent; the increase of specific dutiei by about 42 per eent; and, most important of ali, in the articie of coarse cottons, the insertion of a minimum, by which, as far as the custom-house was eoncerned, no quality was to be regsrded as costing less than 25 cent per square yard. Except in the case of coarse cottons the new rates on articles which it was desired to protect fell slightly beiow the doubie rates of the war. Thrce positions were brought out in debate - two extremes, secking the formuiation of economic reasons for and against the poliey of protection, and a middie party, composed mainly of mcn indifferent to manufacturing as sucb, but accepting the establishment of manufactures as one of the chief resuits of the war. . . . The two extremes, however, were far from taking the positions assumed iater by extreme protcctionism and extreme iaid-sez-faire. . . . Ouiy a few articles occasioned any discussion, and these were items like sugar, cottons, and woolens, which had been reduced in the Ways and Means Committec from the rates proposed by Dallas. Dallas had fixed the duty on cottons at 331 per cent, which was reduced to 30 per cent in Lowndes' bili. Ciay moved to restore the original rate. . . . Later Webstcr proposed a sliding scaie on cottons, the rate to be 30 per cont for two years, then 25 per cent for two morc, and then $\stackrel{0}{ }$ per cent. Clay moved to amend hy making the first period three ycars and the second one year. ... Lowndes assented to the motion. ... Dalias proposed 28 per cent on wooiens. The committce reduced this to 25 per cent, and foilowing the example set in the case of cottons, Lowndes moved that after two Fears the rate be fixed at 20 per cent. After some debate the tirst period was made thrce years, and Lowndes amendment agreed to. The tariff of 1816 was a substantiai victory for the manufacturers. . . . But in its Forking out the tarifi of 1816 proved a bitter disappointment to the manufacturing interest. The causes, however, were widely varied. ... Yet It would be easy to exaggerate the distresses of the country. The years from 1816 to 1820 especially, were years of depresslon and hard times, but the steady growth of the country was hardly interrupted. In the main the tariff dld not fail of lts leglimate object. For the most part the new manufactures were conserved. . . More and more there wns a growing lmpatlence with the tariff of 1816 , and a tendency to lay the bad tlmes upon its shouhlers. .- Marelı 22, 1820, Baldwia of Pennsylvania, chalrman of the newly created Commlittee on Manufaetures, Introluced a tariff blll emlodylng the general demand of the protected lnteresta. . The bill passed the House by a vote of 90 to 69 ; It was defeated ln the Benate by one vote."- O. L. Elliott, The Tariff Controversy, 1789-1833 (Leland Stanford Junior University Monngraphs No.1), pp.163-311.-"The revislon of the Tariff, with a vlew to the proteetlon of home industry, and to the establishment of what was then called, 'The American Aystem,' was one of the large subjects before Congress at the sesslon of 1883-24, and was the regular commencement of the heated debates on that questlon which afterwards ripened Into a serious difftculty between the federal government and some of the southern States. . Revenue the object, protectlon the lacident, had been the rule in the earlier tariffs: now that rule was sought to be reversed, and to make protectlon the ohject of the law, and revenue the lacident. $\ldots$ Mr. Clay, the leader in the proposed revision, and the champion of the American System, expressly placrd the proposed augmentation of duties on this ground. ..Mr. Webster was the leading speaker on the other side, and disputed the universality of the distress which hind been described; clalming exemptiou from it In New England; denied the assumed cause for it Where it did exist, and attributed it to over expansion and collapse of the paper system, as $\ln$ Great Britaln, after the long suspcusion of the Bank of England; denied the necessity for inereased protection to mannfactures, and its in. adequacy, if granted, to the relief of the crustry where distress prevailed.

The bill was car. ried in the Ilouse, after a protracted coutest of ten weeks, by the lean majority of tive- 107 to 103-0 only two members abseat, and the voting so zeaions that sereral memhers were brought In upon their sick couches. In the Senate the bill encountered a strenuons resistance.
The bill. . Wis carricd by the sanall majority of four votes - 25 to 21 . . An increaseri protection to the products of several States, as lead in Missouri and Illinois, hemp in Kentucky, lron in Peuasylvania, nool in Ohio nnt New York, commanded many rotes for the bill: and the inpending presidenthl rlection had its lnMessers. Adams favor. Two of the candidates, Messrs. Adams and Clay, were avowedly for it; General Jackson, who voted for the hill, was for it, as tending to give a home supply of the artirles necessary in time of war, and as raising revenue to pay the pulhic deht."'- T. II. Beuton, Thirty Years liere, r. 1, ch. 13.
Also in A. I3. IIart, firmation of the TVion, secte. 129 nnd 132(c.). 11-12).-1. Walker, Feionce of 11 . ${ }^{\prime \prime}$, p. 116-F. W. Thnsit. Tirriff IIste.

(Unlted States): A. D. 1828. - The "Biii of Abominations." - New Eugland changes front. -'Iu 1828 cnine anotier taritt bill, so bad and so extreme in many respects that it was called the 'blll of abominathons.' It origluated in the agitation of the woollen manufacturers whleh hadl started the year before, and for thls bill Mr. Webster speke nid voted. He elanged hls ground on thls lmportnnt questlon absolutely and entlrely, and made no pretence of doing anything else. The speech which he made on this occasion is a celebrated oue, but lt is sosolely on uccount of the startling ehange of position which lt announced. . . . A few lines from the speech glve the marrow of the whole matter. Mr. Webster sald: 'New England, sir, has not been a leader ln this policr. . The oplnlon of New England up to 1894 was founded in the convictlon that, on the whole, it was wisest and best, both for herself and others, that manufae. tures should make haste slowly. . . . When, at the commencement of the late war, dutlos were doubled, we were told that we should find a mltigation of the weight of taxation ln the new ald and succor which would be thus afforded to our own manufncturlag Inbor. Like arguments were urged, and prevailed, but not hy the aid of New England votes, when the tarifi was afterwards arranged at the close of the war $\ln 1816$. Finally, after a winter's deliberation, the act of $180^{4}$ recelved the sanction of both Houses of Couirress and settled the policy of the country. she What, then, was New England to dot Was ghe to hold out forever against the course of the governinent, nal see harelf lowing on one sude and yet make no effurs to sustaiu herself on the other? No, sir. Nothing was left to New England bur to conform herself to the will of others. Nething was left to her hut to consider that the goverament had tixrif and determined its own policy, and thent policy was protection.' and opinion in New England changed for good and suttlcient business reasons, and Mr. Webster changed with it. Free trade had commended itself to him as an abstract princlple, nnd he had sustained and defendeed it as in the Interest of conmercial New Eugland. But when the weight of lnterest in New Eugland shifted from free trade to protection Mr. Wehster followed it."-II. C. Lodge, Daniel llebster, ch. 6."There whs force in Wrbster's assertion, in reply to Hayne, that New England, after protesting against the tariff as long as she could, had conformed to a policy forecrl upon the country by others, nad had cinbarked her capital in inanufacturing. Oztober $3: 3,18: 6$, the Boston worllen manufacturers petitioned Congress for more protection. . . This appeal of the woollen manufacturers brouglat out new demands from other quarters. Expecially the wool-growers came forward. . . May 14, 1827, the l'ennsylvania Society for the I'romotion of Manufactures and the Mechanic Arts called a convention of wool growers and manufacturers. The convention met at liarrishurg, July 30, 1827. It was foinml necresary to enlarge the scope of the conveation in ordir to make allies of interests which wonli otherwise beconar hoatile. The ronvention went on the plan of favoring protection on crerything which asked for it. The resull was that iron, steel, glass, wool, woollens, henip, and flax were reconminided for protection. Iminislnna was uot represeut naia was uot represeuted, and so sugar was left

TARIFF LEGISLATION, 1898.

Tririf aud
iullification.
TARIFF LEGISLATION, 1333.
out. It was voted to discourage the lmportation of forelgn spirits and the Ilistillation of splrits from furcign prominets, lis way of protectlon to Western whiskey. . . When the potb Congress met, the tarifi was the absorhiug question. Popular Interest had become engaged in it, nad parties were to form on it, hut it perplexed the politicians greatly. ... The act wheli resulted from the seramble of selfish special interests was an econonle monstrosity. May 10, 1828, the bill hecame a lnw. The duty on wool costing less than 10 cents per pound was 16 per cent., on other wool 20 per cent. and 30 per cent. Tbat on woollens wis 40 per cent. for a year, then 45 per cent., there being four minlma, 50 cents, $$ 1.00, $ 2.50,84.00$. All which cost over $$ 4.00$ were to be taxed 45 per ceut. for $n$ year, then 50 per cent. . . The process of rolling iron had not yet heen Introdneed into thls country. It was argued thnt rolled iron was not as good as forged, nnd this was made the ground for raislng the tax on rolled lron from $$ 30.00$ to $$ 37.00$ per ton, while the tax on forged iron was raised from $$ 18.00$ to $$ 22.40$. Rolled lron was cheaper and was available for a great number of uses. The tax, In this casc, 'countervailed an improve. ment in the nrts, and robbed the Ameriean peoplc of their share in the advantage of a new industrial achievement. The tax on steel wns ralsed from $$ 20.00$ to $$ 30.00$ per ton; that on hemp from $$ 35.00$ to $$ 45.00$ per ton; that on molasses from 5 eents to 10 cents per gallon; that on flax from nothing to $$ 35.00$ per ton. The tax on sugar, salt, and ghass remalned unchanged, and that on tea also, save by a dif. ferential tomage duty. Coffee was classitted and the tax reduced. The tax on wine, by a separate nct, was reduecd one linlf or more. This wns the 'tariff of abomiuations," so called od account of the number of especially monstrous provlsions which it contalned." -W. G. Sumner, Andren Jackson as a Public Man, ch. 9.- "The tariff of 1828 . . Was the work of politicians and manufacturers; and weas commenced for the beuefit of the woollen intcrest, and upon a hill chiefly desigued to favor that hranch of manufacturing indh •ry. But, like all other bils of the kind, it required help from other interests to get itself along."-T. H. Benton, Thirty Fears' Vitin, t. 1, ch. 34.- J. Schouler, Hist. of the U. S., ch. 12, sect. $2(r, 3)$.
(United States): A. D. 1832.-Clay's delu. sive act to diminish revenue.- President Jack. son, in hls messuge of Decenber, 1831, "invited attentlon to the fact that the public debt would be extinguished before the explration of his term, and that, therefore, ' $n$ moditication of the tariff, whleh shall prowuce a reduction of the revenue to the wants of the govermmint.' was very advisable. Ile added that, in justice to the interests of the merchint as rell as the manufaeturer, the reduction should be prospeecire, nnd that the dutics whould be adjusted witur a view 'to the eounteraction of foreign policy, so far as it may he infurions to our nation far as it may he infirions to our national interests.' This meaut a rerenue tariff with incidental retaliation. He had thas arrived nt a sonsible plan to avold tbe aecumulation of a surplus. Clay took the matter in hand in the sumate. or rather in Congress. . . Ile reeog. nizml the necessity of reftucing the revelume, but he wonld relure the revenne withoat redue. ing proteetlye duties. The 'Ameriean System' should not suffer. It must, therefore, not be done in the manner proposed ly Jickson. He lusisted upon continling the reduetlon to duties on artieles not coming into competition with American prolncts. . . Instead of abolishing protective dutics he would rather reduce the revenue by makligg some of then prohilitory. i. When ohjection was mude that thls wonld be a defiance of the South, of the Iresident, and of the whole administ ration party, he replicil, is Adams reports, that 'to preserve, umintuin and strengthen the American System, be would lefy the South, the President and ti devil,' He Introduced a resolution in the Senate, that the existing duties upon articles Imported from foreign countries, and not coming into competitlon With slmilur artleles made or produced withln tho United States, ought to he forthwith abo ished, except the duties upon wines and silks, and that those ought to be reduced; and that the Committee on Financo he instructed to report a blll accordingly.'" After long debate Clay's "tariff resolution was adopted, and in Jnne, 1832, a bill substantially in accord with it passed both houses, known as the riff act of 1882 . It reduced or ahollshed the duties on many of the unprotected articles, but $l \cdot f$ ft the protective system wlthout material clange. As a reduction of the revenue it effected very little. ... The reduction proposed by Clay, aceording to his own estimate, was not wer seven : lions; the reductlon really effected hy the new tariff law scarcely exceeded three millionn. Clay had sared the Americnn System at the expense of the very ohjeet contemphited bs the measure. It wns extremely short-sighted statesmanship. The surplus b is as threatening ns ever, and the dissatisfaction ir tbe South grew from day to day."-C. Schurz, Life of Menry Clay, ch. 13 (o. 1).

Also In Ir. Clay, Life, Cor. and Speecher (Colton ed.), c. 5, pp. 416-428.
(United States): A. D. 1833.-The Southern opposition to protection. - Nullification in $\mathbf{S}$. Crirolina - The compromise tariff. See United Staten of Am. : A. D. 1828-18:39.
(Germany): A. D. 1833 .- The Zollverein."The German Customs Enion (Dentsche Zoll. verein) is an associntion of states, having for lis deelared object to secure freedon of trade and commeree between the contracting states, and a common interest in the custonss revenue. The terms of the union nre expressed in the treaty bet treen Prussis nad the other states, lated 22d March, 1833. which may be regarded as the basis of the associa ion. The states now [1844] forming the union are Prussia, Bavaria, Wirtemberg, Sixony, IIesse Cassel, Hesse-Darmstadt, Baden, Nassain, the Thuringinn atates, F'aukfort, Brunswlek, Lippe-Sehaumburg, on Luxemburg Tbe population of these, $r$ thit the exceptio: of the three last mentioned states, was, in $1839,20,858,886$. Ineluding these three states, which have since joined the union, the present population cannot be less than twenty-seren millions and a half. The Gernim powers wheh have not joined the uuion are Austrin, with twelve millions of German subjects, and :Inuover. Oldenburg, Holstein, the two Mecialenbures, and the ILanse Towns, whose nnited population is ahout thrce millions more. Tbe inlinbitants of Germany are, therefore, divided in the proportions of twentr-s. ven and a haif Within, to fifteen without, the sphere of the Zoiliverein. The treaty provides in the thirty. eighth articie, for tie admineion of otier German states, and the thirty-ninth articie for the making of treaties with foreign states, but these iatter are not admissihie into tho union. . . Tho The declared principie of the iengue-nameir, tho deciared principie of the iengue-namely, tho commerciai and tinancini union of the German atates - is not oniy oae to which no foreign power has any rigitit to object, hut is excerient In itseif; and is, in fact, the satahlishment of free trade ainong the associated states.
. . . Bu it is not mereiy to its avowed principie that tho ieague owes its successful accompishment. There are other motives whicil have entered largely into the causes of its existence. In the first place, it has given practicai effect to that vehement desire for nationai unity whieh so generaily pervades tine German mind. ...Then, It so happened that this generai desire for union feil in exactiy with the poliey of Prussia - $n$ power which has not failed to seize so favourahle an opportunity of extending der politicai in. fluence, and occupying a position which, though of nominai equality, has in reailty secured her predominance among tiae clerman states. To these inducements we regret to be obliged to add another-nameiy, the prevaient opinion in Germany that their manufaeturing industry ought to he protected against forign competition, and that the tariff of the Zoliverein ton, and thnt the tarifi of the Zoliverein ought to he used ns an instrument for the exciusion of foreign manufactures from tie German market.

Although tine Congress of Vienna had estabiished $a$ new Germanic confederation, (Deutsche Bund) and a federative diet charged with the maintenance of peace at home and abroad, yet it wns scon perceived and felt tiat the kiad of union obtained by neans of this confederation was more formal than real. . . The late King of Prussia was one of the first to perceive, that, in order to unite Germany in reality, something more cogent than the federative diet was indispensabic. Ho found his own power ratier weakened than strengthened by the addition of the Rhenish provinces, so long as they remained separated, not only by distance, but by the cu ms-harriers of intervening states, from his ancil.tt territorics. He accordingiy effected, in 1829 , a convention with those states, by which he became the fariner of their customs.revenues, and so removed the barriers between Eastern and Western Prussia. Some years, however previous to this, the Prussian Government hnd decrmed it expedient to compiy with the demands of the manufneturers (especiaily those in the Rhenish provinces) for protection against foreign gouds, which, since the peace, had begun to make titcir appearanec; andi on the 26 th May, 1818, a new Prussiun Tarif had been issued, which was designed to nfford $n$ moderate protection to the home inciustry, and winich may be regarded as the groundwork of tie present Thrifi of the Zollverein. . . But the proceedings of Prussia were considered in a host iic ligitt by tie manufacturers of tine South. They formed a counteracting assoeintion in 1819 whici num. bered from tive to six thousnnd members, had its headquarters in Nuremberg, nnii agents in nli the prineipal towns, and pubtisited it weekly uewspnper devoted to the cause. They ad. dressed the thet, the German coupts, tuin the cust mas-union. They so far succeeded that, in cust me-union. They so far succeeded that, in 1896, the smaii Thuringinn States, occupying the central portion of Germuny, with one or two others, formed themsei res into a customs-union, under the name of the Mittei-Verein; and within the two succeeding years a more lmportant union was accompilsied, consisting of Bavaria and Wurtemberg, with their emall enciosel states; the Tariff of which union is stated to have been as high, or -ery nearly so, as that of Prussicu. Thus Germaay contained three separate customs-associatioas, with soparate Tarifis, nnd it became obviousiy desirahie to unite these conflicting interests. Prussia nade overtures to the other unions, but was for a iong time unsuc. cessfui; they objecting principaily to the inigh scale of Prussian duties on colonial produce. At iast, however, ail obstacles were reinoved, (principally, ${ }^{28}$ Dr. List states, through the exertions of Baron von Cotta, the eminent pubiisher, and proprietor of the Aligen eine Zeitung.) and on the 22d of Marein, 1833, the tresty was signed hy which, for the first time, Germany was knit together in anything ilike a binding nationai confederation. Between that date and the present, the league has been eniarged hy the accession of othar states; but, as we have aircady mentioned, Hanover and mentioned, Hanover and some other northern states have hitherto refused to join it. Hanover formed a distinct union with three neighbouring states, viz.: Brunswick, Lippe-Schaumburg, and Oidenhurg, which assumed the title of the North-western Leaguc; but the two former having subsequently seceded from it and joined th: Zoilverein, the North-western League has heen reduced to Hanover and Oidenburg oniy. The Hanse towns, Meckienburg, and Holstelin, are not jet members of any customs-union. The revenues of the Zoliverein are divided among the contracting states sceording to tho popuia. tion of each state respectirciy."-Edinhurgh $R e$ vieu, Jan., 1844 (c. ซ9, $p, 118$ ).

Congress at Vienna in 1820 , in farwr of a generai
Also in G. Krause, The Grouth of German Unity, ch. 10.-See, aiso, Germanr: A. D. 1817-1840; and 1819-1847.
(England): A.D. 1836-1839.-Beginning of the Ant. rn-Law agitation.-"Cobden was in no sense original projector of an organized body for chrowing of the burden of the corn duties. In 1836 an Anti-Corn-Law Association had been formed in London; its principal members were the pariiamentary radicals, Grote, MolesWorth, Joseph Hume, and Mr. Roebuck. But this group, not withstanding their aonteness, their logical penetration, and the soundness $c^{\prime}$ their ideas, were in that, as in so many other matters; stricken with impotence. Their gifts of reasoning were admin bie, hut thev had no gifts for popular organization. .. It was not until a hody of men in Manchester were noved to take the matter in hand, tiat any scrions attempt was made to inform and aronse the country. The price of wheat had risen to seventy-seven shiliings in the August of 1838; there was every prospect of $n$ wet harvesting; the revenue was decliniug; deficit was hecoming $n$ fhiniiiar word; pauperism was increasing; nnd the manufneturing jopulation of Laneashire were finding it impossibie to support themselves, because the landlords, and tine legisiation of a generation of bandord, befure them, insisted on keeping the tirst necessity of life at an artificiaily high rate

TARIFF LEGISLATION, 1830-39. Englion Anik TARIFF LEGISLATION, 1842. Corn-Lano  Loague.

In October, 1838, a band of aeven men met at a heicl in Manchester, and formed new An' Corn Law Associatlon. They were mpeedily joined by others, ineluding Cobden, who froin t is moment began to take a prominen: part in 11] counsel sid aetion. That crities moment and arrived, which comes in the history of every surcessful movement, when a meetion arises within the party, which retusas from that day fuswsid either tu postpose or to compromise. The feeling ${ }^{u}$ ong the older men was to stop ahort i. their demands at somo modificntion of the existing duty. . . . The more inergetic members protested against tiese faltering voices.

The meeting was adjourned, to the great chagrin of the President, and when the members assembled a week later, Cobden drew from lis pocket a draft petlion which he and his allics had prepared in the interval, and which after a discusaion of many hour was adopted by an almost unanimous vote. ihe preamhle laid all the stress on the alleged facts of foreign competition, in woris which never fail to be heard In times of wad trade. It recited how the existlng laws prevented the Bricish manufacturer irom exchanging the produce of his labour for the corn of nther countries, and so enabled his foreign rivals to purchase their food at one half of the price at which it was sold in the English malict; and finally the prayer of the petition called for the repeal of all laws relating to the importation of foreign corn and other foreign artielers of si:bsistenee, and implored the Ilcuse to carry uut to the fuliest extent, hoth as affecta masuffetures and agrieulture, the true and peacefu] principles of free-tradc. In the follow. fing month, Jauuary, 1830, the Anti-Corn-Law Associatiou showed that it was in earnest in the intention to agitate, hy proceeding to raisc a subscription of an effectivo sum of money. Cobden threw out one of those expressions which catel」 men's minds in moments when they are already ripe for aetion. 'Let us,' he sail, 'invest part of our property, in order to save the rest from confiscation.' Within a mouth $£ 6,000$ had been raised, the first instalment of many scores of thousands stil] to eome. A great banquet was given to some of the parliamentary supporters of Free Trade; more money was subseribed, convictions became elearer and purpose waxed more resolute. On the day ufter the hanquet, at a meeting of deiegates from other towns, Cobden brought forward a seheme for united aetion among the various associations throughout the country. This was the eerm of what ultimately beeame the Leuguc. "-J. Morley, Life of Richard Cobien, ch. 6 (r.1).
Also in W. Robertson, Life and Times of John Bright, ch. 8 and 11-14.
(England): A. D. 1842.-Peel'a modification of the Corn Laws.- His aliding-scale. His Tariff reductions.- The first great step towards Free-Trade. - The Whig administra. tion under Lord Melbourne give way in August, in 1841, to one formed by Sir Robert Yeel. On the opening of the session in February, 1842, "The Queen's Spcech reeommended Parhameut to consider the state of the laws affecting the importation of corn and other commodities. It announced the beginning of a revolution which fow persons in Engiand thought possible, although it was to be eompleted in littie noore thau ten years. On the gith of Fehruary Peed moved that the House should resolve Itself into $n$ Committee to consider the Corn Laws. His apeeeh, which lasted nearly three hours, wall neecsarily dull, and his proposal was equally oflensive to the country gentlemen and to the Anti-Corn Law League. It amounted merely to an improrcmont of the ifitling-scale which had been devlsed hy tho Duke of Wellington's Cab. inet [See above: A. D. 1815-1828], and was based on the axiom that the Britlsh farmer, tahing one ycar with another, could not make a profit hy growing corn it foreign corn were arimitted at a price of less than 70s. a quarter. By a calculation of priees extending over a long term of years, Peel lind satisfled himself that a price of 5is. a rinarter woula remunernte the British farmer. He proposed to modify th's sliding-scale accordingl: . . Peel retained the minimum duty of 18 . when corn was selligg at 789. the quarter; he fixed a maximum duty of 20s. When corn was selling at from 50s, to :1s. the quarter, and he so altered tlie graduation in the increase of duty as to diminish the indt ce. ment to hold grain hack when it became diar. Peel. So general was the dissatisfaction ith Peel's Corn Law that Russeil ventured once more io place before the IIouse his alternative of a fixed \&s. duty. 11 e was defeated by a majority of upwards of 120 votes. Two days later Mr. Villiers made his annusl motion for the total repeal of the Corn Laws, and was heaten hy more than four votes to one. The murmurs of Peel's own supporters were easily overborne and the Bill was carried through the Hounci of Commons after a month spent in debates. As soon as it hsi passed, and the estimates for tho army and $n_{5} 5$ hud been roted, Peel produced What was really his Budget, nomlnally Mr. Goulburn's. . . In every one of the lust five years ther: lia heen a defleit. . Peel therefore resolven to inpose au incoris: tax." IIo also raised the duty on lrish spirits and on exports of eoul, besides making some changes in the stamp duties. With these and with the ineome tax he calculated that ho would ha. a a surplus of $£ 1,000,000$. Ped was thus able to propose a reduction of the tariff apon uniform and comprehensive prineiples. Ho proposed to limit import duties to a maximum of 5 per cent. upon the value of raw materials, of 12 yer cent. upon the value of goods partly manutaetured, and of 20 per cent. upon the value of goods wholly manufactured. Out of the $i, 200$ artieles then eomprised in the tariff, 750 were more or less affeeted by the applieation of these rules, yet so trivial was the revenue raised from most of tiem that the total loss was compt ted at only £270,000 a year. Peel redueed the duty on coffee; he reduced the dity on foreign and amost entireiy abolished the duty on Canadian timber. Cattle and pigs, meat of ail deseriptions, eheese and butter, whicil had lifticrto been subjeet to a prohibitory duty, he proposed to admit at a comparatively low rate. He aiso diminished the duty upon stage eoaehes. So extensive a changc in our system of national fluauee had never hefore heen effeeted at one stroke. . . . Immense was the exeitement caused by the statement of the Budget. . . . Erery part of Peel's scheme was diphted with the utmust en $\quad$. . . . He procured the ratifieation of ail his uneasures subjeet to some sight amendments, and at the cost of a whole session spent In discusalng them. Little or nothing elee wan accomplished by Parliament in thls year. Peel ectlon Hist power as the Champlon of protection. Hisfirst grent achlevement was the ex. ectusion ot the freedont of trade."-F. $\mathbf{a}$ Montague, Life of Sir Mabert Peel, ch. 8.- "Notwlithstindiling the objeetions which free traders might raise, the Budget of 1842 proved the firs great mivance lo the direction of free truile. did not remove the shackles under which trade was struggling, but it relaxed the fratenings and lightened the load." "-N. Walpole, Hist. of Eng.

from 1815, ch. $18(v, 4)$.
Also in: S. Walpole, Life of Sir Mobert Peed, -. 3, ch. 5.-J. Morley, Life of Ilichard Coblen. b. 1.ch. 11.
(United States): A. D. 1842,-An Act to provide a necessary increase of revenue, with ancidental protection. -"There hal been a lull in tariff legislation for 2 n years. The frec-trade party had been ascendant; and amendineent of the law, save in the sllght ways mentioned, had been Impossible. Durfag the decade, a financlat tornato had swept over the country: the UnltedStates bank bad ceased to be; the experlment of keeping the governanent deposits whith the State banks bad been trled, and liad falled; the government had kept them several years withont nuthorlty, but tinally a blll bad been passed whlch authorized keeping them In that manner. The time had now nearly coane for reducing tbe duties thy the gradual sealing down provlded for hu the Compromise tarlif act of 1833 fo their the ront. A material angmentation of the national revenue from some source had beeome neeessary. . . Whaterer difference of oplaion existed respenting the necesslty of alditional protectlon to manufacturers, some expedleat, it was universally coneeded, must be adepted to direct taxation, a reverslone, As no onc favored oaly mode of enrichlng of the taritf was the conmitue on enriching the treasury. . . . The House uatil the last of leading provisions of the bill, 1842.

The committec were the of the bill reported by the eommittee were the following: 1. A general ald valsem duty of 30 per ectat, with few exeep. 2. A discrimination was on that principle. eertaln interests requiriag it for the security of eertain interests requiriag it by specific duties. of the general aif vilorem duty above, the rate prineiple, the duty on the articles subject anernl crimination was niade at articles subject to disIn 1840, after the deduction of four-tenths of the exeess on 20 per cent by the Act of $18{ }^{3} 3$ of the The subject was discussed at Act of 1833. the Ilonse, althnugh the time we great iength by making the list reduction under the wing nearfor law of [18:33]. Somethlag must be dompromise cordingly, Fillmore, chairinau of be done. Acof ways and me:ins, remrted a bill to extend the existing tariff laws until the 1st day of August 1812, whlch was immedlately pissed by the Housc; but the Seate amended the bill by adding a provlso that mothiag thercin contaiaed should suspend tbe operation of the Distribution law.- & faw passed at the extrat session of the preeeding year, distributlag the proceeds of tbe sales of the public lands among the states. In the dcbate on this bil! the provist lescame a prominent topie of discussion. The distributioa

Aet eontained a provleo, that, If at any time the dutics under the compromine tariff fhould be raised, the distribution shouldel crase, nad be sue pended untll the cause of the suapenslon were removel. . . Those who were $\ln$ favor of bigh protectlve duties deslred the removal of the pro. viso of the distribution Aet in order that the tarif might be mised wilthout interfering with distribution. The llonse having rejected an amendment proposing to strike out the proviso which prohiblted the suspension of the distribn. tlon law, the bll was passed by the House, and nfterward by the senate, but vetoed hy the Preal. Firnt. Anotber tariff bill was intronucell by Mr Fimmore, drawn by the secerctary of the Treas. a provlso thich, however, the committee added Innds should be the $\qquad$ proceeds of the publls ineres should be dlstributed, notwithstandlug the inerease of diutles, - whlch passed both Houset of ar a alort debate. This contafued n revision of a considerable nuniber of duties, and was also vetoed by the Presldent. Itapelled by the no. cesslty of prorliliag milltlonal revenue, a bill that pruvionsiy passed with Congress, simllar to proviso requirin passed, with the omlssion of the proviso requiring dlatribution, and futher modlHed by admitting free of duty ten and coffee growlag east of the Cure of Gool Ilope, imported in American vessels. Thls blll was approved by the Presldent. A separate bill was then passed repealing the proviso of the dlstribution Aet, and stauding the distribution to lake place, notwltb. stauning the lacrense of dutles; but the bill weas retained hy the President and defented. Thus ended a fong and bitter controversy, in whicb publie sentiment expanded, and hardened against the enlef Executlve of the natlon. . . . That tarifit remained without change during the next four years. "- A. S. Bolles, finumeiul hist, of the (Englen-1860, bk. 3, ch. 6.
of the Corn : A. D. 1845-1846.-The Repeal of the Corn Laws.-Dissolution of the League. those ino Auti-Corn-Law aglation was one of prineiples, and in whilch, beiag founded on right prinejples, and in fiarmony with the interest of the masses, was sure to gather fresh strength by aay event affectlag tbe supply of foxi. It was popular to attenipt to reverse a policy wbleb almed ulmost exclusively to benefit one elass of society. . . The economie theorists had the mass of the people with them. Their gatberings were beconing more and more enthusiastic. And cren amldst Coaservative landown rs there were not a ferr enlightened and liberal minds who inad already, sileatly at least, esponsed the new idens. No change certainiy could be expected to be made so long as bread was cheap nad iabour almadant. But when a deffeient harvest nud a blight in the potato crop enippled the resources of the people and raised grain to famine priees, the voice of the League acqulred greater power and intluence. Iltherto they had recelved bunto support the aritaw, thonsands were sent in to support the agitatlon. A quarter of a million was readily contributel. Nor were the contributors Latnashlre mill-owners exciusively. Among then were merchants and bankers, men of heart and men of mind, the poor labourer and the peer of the realm. The fervid oratory of Bright, tbe demonstrative and argumentative reasoning of Coblen, the more popular appeals of Fox, $\mathrm{l}_{\mathrm{a}} \mathrm{w}$ live, and other platfurm speakers, filled the news. puper $j$ ress, and were eagerly read. And when

TARIFF LEGIBLATION, 1848-46.

Repoal inf TARIPF LEGISLATION, 1846-61.  Corn-Lases.

Parliament diseolved in Alggat 1845, even Sir Robert Peel showed some slight aymptonis of a conviction that the days of the corn lawa were cimbered. Every day, in truth, hrought home * ila mind a stronger need for action, and as the ravuges of the potato discase progressed, be saw that all further resistance would be alsolutely dangerous. A cahinet councli was beld on Oc . tober 31 of that venr to consult as to what was to be done, and nt wad aurned meeting on Novem. ber 5 Sir Iobert Peel intimated his futention to issue an order in council remitting the duty on grain in bond to one shilling, and opening the ports for the admission of all species of graln at smaller rate of duty natil $n$ day to be named In the order; to call Parlhment together on the 27th Inst., in order to ask for an indemnity, and a sanetion of the order hy law ; and to suhmit to Parilament immediately after the recess a modiacation of the existing law, Ineluding the admission at a nominal duty of Indian corn nnd of British colonial corn. A serious difereuce of opiaion, however, wis found to exist $\ln$ the cahl net on the questlon hrought before them, the only ministera supportlag sueh measures beling the Earl of Aberdeea, Sir James Graham, and Mr. Bldney Herbert. Nor was it casg to induce the other members to listen to reason. And though nt $n$ suhsequent mectiug, held ou November 28 , Sir liobert Peel so far secured a majority in his favour, it was evident that the callinet was too divided to justlify hilm in lorlaging forward his measures, aad he leelded upon reslgniag office. His resolution to that effeet haring been eom. municated to the Queen, her Majesty summoned Lord John Russell to form a eablinet, and, to smooth his path, Sir Robert Peel, with chameteristie frankness, seut a memorandum to her Majesty er. bodying a promise to give hilin hils support. But Lord John llussell falied in his efforts, aad the Queen liad no alteruative but to reall Sir Robert Peel, and give him full power to carry out hls measures. It was under such circumstances that Parliament was ealled for Jaauary 22, 1848, and ou January $\mathbf{D i}_{7}^{-}$the Gowernment plan was propounded hefore n crowied House. It was not an immediate repeal of the corn laws that Sir Rohert Peel recommendeti. He proposed a temporury protection for three years, till Fehruary 1, 1840 , imposiag a scale of wheat should be 50s. per quarter and the price of wheat should be 50s. per quarter and upward, and 10 s. whea the price should be under 48s. per quarter, providing, however, that after that period all grain should be admitted at the uniform duty of 1s. per quarter. The measure, as might have been expected, was received in a very different maaaer hy the political parties in in the Conservatire camp it There was treason in the Conservative camp, it was sald, and keen and hitter was the opposition offered to the chief of the party. For twelve nights speaker after speaker Indulged ia personal recriminations. They recalied to SIr Robert Peel's memory the speeches he had made in defeace of the corn laws. And as to his assertion that he had changed his mind, they denled his right to do so. - . The passing of the measure was, however, more than certain, and aiter a debate of twelve nights' duration on Mr. Miles's amendment, the Goverament ohtalned a majority of 97,337 hav. iog voted for the motion and 240 agaiast it. And from that evel og the corn law may be sald to have expired. Not a day ton soon, cer tainly, when we consider the straleneni re. sources of the country as regarils the trat article of food, caused not only by the had crop of grain, hut hy the serious loss of the potato crop. especinili in Ireland."-L. Levi, Hioh. of Britioh Commerce, pt. 4, ch. 4.-"'On the 2nd of July the Leaguo was 'conditionnily dissolved, by the unanimous vote of a great meeting of the leadera nt Manchester.

Mr. Cobrien here joyfully closed his seven years' task, whilh he had prose. cuted at the expense of health, fortune, domestic comfort, and the sacrifice of his own tastem in every way Mr. Cobden luad macrificed at least $\mathrm{c}_{\mathrm{L}} 0,000$ in the cause. The country now, at the call of the other chief Leaguers, presented him with above $£ 80,000$ - not only for the purpose of acknowledglag his sacritices, but also to set him free for life for the political service of his country."-II. Martineau, Mist. of the Thirty Years' Peace, bk. 6, ch. 15 (v. 4).
Aleo in: W. C. Taylor, Lifo and Times of Sir Huwert Peel, v. 8, eh. 8-10.-J. Morley, Lifo of Richard Cobden, v. 1, ch. 15-16.-N. M. Trum. bull, The Frree Trade Struggle in England. A. Bisset, Notes on the Anti.Corn Laic Strugite. - Debate upon the Corn Laics in Sexsion 184\%.
(United States): A. D. 1846-1861. -Lovered dutles and the disputed effects.- ${ }^{\text {I }}$ In 1846 was passed what we whil call the ' Walker tariff," from Rohert J. Wniker, then Secretary of the Treasury. It reduced the duties on importa down to ahout the standard of the 'Compromise' of 1833. It diserimiaated, howerer, as the Compromise dild not, betweea goods that could be produced at home and thoso that could aut. It approached, in short, more nearly than any other, ia Its prineiples and details, to the Ilamil. ton tarif, athough the general rate of dutics wae higher. From that tine up to 18:\% there was a regular and large increase in the amount of dutiahle goois imported, bringing in a larger revenue to the goverament. The surplus in the treasury accumulated, and large sums were expended hy the government in buying up its own bonda at a high premium, for the sake of emptying the treasury; Under these circumstances the 'tarifi of 1857: was pussed, decldedly loweriug the rates of duties and largely increasing the free list. The tlaaueial crisis of that year diminished the imports, and the reveuue fell off $\$ 22,000,000$. It ralled, however the nest two years, hut ow. iag to the large increase of the free list, not quite up to the old point." A. L. Perry, Elements of Pol. Economy, p. 464. - "The freetraders conslder the tarifir of 1846 to be a conclusive proot of the beneticial effect of low duties. They challenge a comparison of the years of lts operation, hetweea 1846 and 1857. with any other equal period in the history of the country. Manufacturing, they say, wns not forced hy a hothouse process to produce high-prieed goods for popular consumption, hut was gradually encour. aged and developed on a healthful and self-sus. taining hasis, not to be shaken asa reed in the wind hy every change in the financlal world. Commerce, as they puiat out, made great advaaces, and our carrying trade grew so rapldy that in ten years from the day the tariff of 1846 was passed our toanage exceeded the toaaag " of England. The free-traders refer with especial emplasis to what they term the symmetrical development of all the great interests of the country under thil

Mberal tarif. Manufactures were not atmu lated at the erpense of the commerelal intereat Both were developed in harmony, while agricul ture, the Indlapensuble bails of all, was never more fourtahing. The farmers and planters at no other pertod of our history were ln recelpt of such good prices, steadily pald to them in gold coln, for thelr surplus proluct, whlch they could ecad to the domestic market over our own rall. ways and to the forelgn market in our own uhips. Assertlona na to the progress of manufac. tures in the perfod under dlacusslon are denled by the protectionlats. Whlle almilting the geaeral correctnens of the frce-trader's atatemente an to the prosperons condition of the conntry, they call attentlon to the fact that dliectly alter the enactment of the tarifi of 1846 the great famine occurred In Ireland, followed in the ensulng yearn by short cropm in Europe. The prosperity Which came to the American agriculturist was therefore from cnuses beyond the sea and not at home, - causes which were translent, indeed almoat accldental. Moreover an exceptional condition of affalra exlated in the U'nlted statea ln consequence of our large acquisition of territory from Mexico at the close of the war and the suh. equent and almoat Immedlate discovery of gold in California. A new and extended field of trade was thus opened in which we had the monopoly and an enormous surplus of money Was speedlly created from the prolucts of the rich mincs on the Pacific const. At the saine tlme Europe was in convulslon from the revoln. tlons of 1848, and production was materialiy hlndered over a large part of the Continent. This disturhance had acarcely suhslded when three leadlng natlons of Europe, England, France, and Rurasla, engaged in the wasteful and expenslve war ui the Crimea. The atruggle began in 1853 and ended in 1856, and during those years it increased consumptlon and de. -eased productlon ahroad, and totally closet! the grain-fields of Russla from any competitlou With the Ualted states. The protectionists therefore hold that the boasted prosperity of the country under the tariff of 1846 was ahnor. mal $\ln$ origin and in character. . The protectlonlsts malntain that from 1848 io 1857 proUnited states would have enjoyed prosperity under any form of tariff, but that the momes? the exceptlonal conditiona ln Europe and in America came to an end, the country was plunged leadiong int: a dlsaster [the financial crisis of $185 \%$ ] from wifish the conservative fores of a protective tariff would ln large part have saved lt. . . The free-traders, as an answer to this arralgnment of their tariti polley, seek to charge responsihility for the tinancial disasters to the lasty and inconslderate clianges made in the tarifi in 1857, for which both parties were in large degree if not indeed equally answerabic." ch. $\dot{\theta}$.
(England): A. D. 1846-1879.- Total ahandonment of Protection and Navigation Laws. -The perfected tariff of Free Trade.-"Wlith the fall of the principle of the protection in corn may be said to have practlcaily fallen the princl. ple of protection In this country altogether. That principle was a little complicated in regard to the sugar dutics and to the navlgation laws, The sugar produced in the West Iudian colonles was allowed to enter this country at rates of duty much lower than thoee lmpoeed upon the sugar growa $\ln$ forelgn landa. The abolition of ala very in our colonles had nide labour there somewhat coatly and dilticult to ohtuln continuously, and the impremolon whe that if the dutles on forelga sugar were reduced, It would tend to enahle thowe countries which atlli maintalned the slave trado to compete at great adrantage with the sugar grown in our colonles hy that free labour to es. cabllsh whlch England hal hut just pald so large a pecunlary fine. Therefore, the question of Free Trude thecame involved with that of free labour; at least, so it seemel! to the eyes of many a man who wan not lncllned to support the protectlve priaciple in Itself. When It was put to hlm, whether he was wlllug to push the Freo Trade prinelple so far an to allow conntries grow. log sugar hy siave labour to drive our free grown sugar out of the market, he was often Inclined to give way before thls mode of puttlig the ques. tion, and to Imagine that there really was a col Illdon hetween Free Trade and free labour. Therefure a certaln mentimental plea came in to ald the Protectlonlate In regard to the sugar dutles. Many of the old ant1-slavery party found themselves dlecelved hy this failacy, aud incllned to joln the agitation agalnst the reduction of the duty on forelgn sugar. On the other hand, It was made tolerahly clear that the labour was not 0 scarce or so dear in the colonies as had been represented, and that colonial sugar grown hy free labour really suftered from no inconvenlence oxcept the fact that It was stlll manufacturnd on the most crude, old fashloned, and uneconomical methods Besides, the tlme hadl gone by when the majority of the Engllsh people could be convinced that a lesson on the beauty of freedom Was to be conveyed to fc. elgn sugar-growers and slave-owners hy the means of a tax upon the products of thedr plantations. Therefore, after a long and somewhat eager struggle, the princl. ple of Frec Trade was allowed to prevall $\ln$ regard to sugar. The dutles on sugar were made equal. The growth of the sugar plantations was anmitted on the same terms fnto this country, wlthont any reference eltier to the soll from whiei It hatd sprung or to the condlitions under whlch It was grown."-J. McCarthy, The Ejpoch of Reform, ch. 12.-" The contest on the Navlgathon Laws [finally repealed In $1840-$ see Navr. oatron Laws: A. D. 1840] was the last pitched hattle fought hy the Proteetlonlst party. Thelr resistance grew fainter and falnter, and a few occaslonalsklrmishes just reninded the world that such a party still existed. Three years afterwards thelr leaders came into power. In Fehruary, 1852, the Earl of Derhy became Prime Minister, and Mr. Disraell Chancellor of the Excliequcr and leader of the House of Commons. The Freetraders, ainmed at the posslbility of some at tempt to reverse the policy of commerelai freedom which had been adopted. took the carilest opportunlty of questloning those Mlaisters ln Pariminent on the subject. The dlscreet reply Was that the Government did not lntend to propose any return to the policy of protection ciuring the present Session, nor at any future time, unless a great majority of members favourabic to that polley should be returrad to Parllament. But far from thls proving to be he case, tie general efaction which immediatily ensued reinstated a Liberal Government, sad the work of stripplag off the few rags of protection that stll!

TAMEF LEGISLATION, 186-79. Cobdrachondier TARIFF LEOISLATION, $1850-60$.

hung on went rapldiy forwand. On the 18th of Aprli, 1858, Mr. Gimiatone, as Chancelior of the Exchequer, made his financial statement in an ahle and luminous apecell. Such was the mimir. able order in whlch he marshailed hie toples, and the transparent lucidity with which he treated them, that although his addrese occupted five hours in the dellvery, and although it hristied with ngures and etatisties, he never for a moment fout the attention or fatlgued the minds of his hearers. Mr. Oladstoncis inancial scheme included, amony other reforms, the reluction or totai reminalon of limponts on 133 articles. In this way, our tarif underwent mpld simplitication. Each subsequent year was marked hy a almilar eliminatlon of protective imperliments to free commerelal intercourse with other countries. In 1880, butter, cheese, \&c., were almilted duty free; $\ln 1800$, the amall nominal duty that had been left on corn was abolished; in 1874, sugar was relleved from the remuant of duty that had survived from prevlous puluctions. It would be superfluous, as well as terdous, to enter upon a detailed reference to the various minor reforms through which we advanced towards, and finally reacied, our present frec-trade tarif. In fact, all the great battles had been fought nad won ly the close of the year 1849, and the atruggle was then virtually over. . Is our presen: tarifit one from whlechevery slired and vestige of protection have been discarded? Is it truly and thoroughly a free-trade tarifl? That these ques. tlous must be answered in the affirmative it is enay to prove In the most cuncluslve manner. We raise about $520,000,000$ of our annuai rev. enue hy means of customs' dutles on the foreign commodities which we import, and this fact is sometimes adduced hy the advocates for protection, without any expluation, leaving their readers to lafer that ours in rot, as it really is, a free-trade tariff. That sueh an inference is totally erroneous will presently be made manlfest beyond ailquestlon. We now levy inport $\begin{gathered}\text { intics }\end{gathered}$ on ouly fifteen articles. Suhjoiued is a list of them, and to each is appended the amount of duty levied on it during the finnnclal year ending 1 st of April. 1870. Not produced In England: Tobneco, £8.580.081; Tea. 4,160,233; Wine, 1,460,710; Iried Fruit, 500,234; Cotfec, 212,002; Chicory, 06,739; Chocolate and Cocon, 44.071; Totul, E15,081,270. Prometuced also in England: Spirits, $45,833,058$; Plate (Silver and Gold), 5.833; Beer, 3,814; Vinegar, $0: 1$ : Piaying Cards, 522; Pickies, 17; Malt, 6 ; Spruce, 8 ; Total $\mathbf{~} 5,348,944$. Total of hoth $\mathbf{£ 2 0 , 4 0 8 , 2 1 4 \text { . It wili }}$ be seen by tho above figure; that $£ 15,000,000$, or three-fourths of the total sum levled, ip levied on artlcics which we do not and cannot I oduce in England. It is clear, therefore, that this portion of the import duties cannot by any possilility be sidd to afford the sllghtest protection to natlve industry.' Every shilling's worth which wo consume of those artleles comes from ahroad, and every shlling extra that the consumer pays for theni in consequence of the duty goes to the revenue. So much for that port? £20,400,000 import duties. As to the $\mathbf{x 5 , 8 3 6 . 0 0 0}$ levied on foreign spirits, It consists of lmport duties which are only the exact counterpart of the excise duties, leried internally on the prots. uce of the British distillers. The forelgn article is placed on preelsely the same footing as the native article. Both have to pay the same duty of about 102. per galle on spirite of the ame strength. It would of course be an absumi stultification to admit foreign spirita duty: free while the Englith producer was burdened With a tax of 10 m . per galion; hut by making the exclee duty and the cuatoma luuty precisely the or preference thatity estrilisitied, and no protection or preference whatever is enjoyed hy the native diatiller. The ex-ien duty levied In the afore. anld year euding April, 1870, on spirits the produm of British distllerles, wan no leas than e14,855,000. The trifing amounta raiserl on plate, heer, vinegar, de., are explained in the same way. They also act as a mere counterpolso to the excine duttes levled on the British producers of the snme articies, and thus afford to the latter no protection whatever againat forelgn competitlon. It is evident, therefore, that our tarth does not retaln withln it one molitary alired of protection."-A. Mongretlen, Hiat. of the Free Trudo Movement in Eng., ch. 18.
ALno IN: H. ILall, Jlist: of the Custome Revenue of Eng. - 8. Doweli, Hise of Turation and Tures (France): A. D. 1853-1860.-Moderation of Protective duties.- The Cobden-Chevalier Commerclal Treaty.-Afler the fall of Napoleon and the restoration of the lhourbons in France, the protectivo syatem was pushed to so grent an extreme that it became las some instauce avowedly prolilitive. "The first eerlous at. tempt to alter this very severe reatrictive syatem Was reserved for the Second Emplife. The Engilsh reforms of Peel iroved the possinility of removing most of the harrlers to commerce that legislation had set up, and consequently Napoleon III. entered wilth moderation on the work of revision. Between 1853 and 1858 the dutles on conl, iron, stect, and wool were lowered as also those on cattle, corn, and various raw materiais, the requirements for ship-huliding belng allowed in free. The legislative body was, however, with diffculty hrought to consent to these measures. A more extensive proposal made in 1856-to remove all prohibitions on imports, while retaining protectlve duties of $30 $$ on Wuollen and $85 \%$ on cotton goods, had to be wlthdrawn, in consequence of the strong opposition that it excited. The interest of the consumers was in the popular opinion entirely subordinate to that of the iron-masters, cottousplnners, and agriculturlsts - one of the many Instances which shows that the long continuance of high duties does not faciltate the introduction of free competition. It was undier such discour--ing circumstances that the famous Commerclai Tilsty of 1860 with England was negotherted. Tile important measure (the work of Che:raller and Cobien, hut owlig a good deni of its success to the cfforts of the Emperor and M. Roulher), though only a flnishing step in Engilsh tariff reform, inaugurated a new era in France."-C. F. Bastable, The Commerce of Nations, ch. 8.- "By the treaty of commerce of 1860, France engaged to a bolish all prohlhitions, and to admit certsin articles of British produce and manufacture nt duties not exceediag 80 per cent. ad valorem, to be further reduced to dutles not exceeding 25 per cent. from the 1at October, 1864. Britain, on tice other hand, bound herself to abolish the dutles on French sliks and other manufactured goods, and to reduce the dutles on French wines and hrandles. As regards couls, France engaged to redice the import duty, and both eontraction partice raghagel not to prohiblt exportation of Whilat hat levy no duty upon anch exports. fer on the other racting partiea engagerl to cunthon In the tarift of tuver, privilege, or redue. articles mentlenal in mithe on lupwits on the power niluht concelo trwaty whilch the mald aimes not to enforce, one analuthirt power; and hllithou of Importatom or angother, any proshoulif ant at the wanie or exportation whilech other natlons. The ana sode appileable to ali treaty was, that Fronce and mubstance of the eraliy for the future the engasell to aet more lith. past, and hingiand ninle whe liad doner for the of liberalising her to lo another alep in the way ufactures unicr the aind piacing ail her manInduence of free competition aud lavigoruting treaty allowed to remapetition. Nor, was the finglindil, for forthwith llnitted to France and Frauce and England entercel lis conclusion hoth whis other nationns enteret Into similiar tevatice latlag treaties other. And luasmuch an under ex. to Eapliand as goxel ireatmen were bound tr ive romet favouted wation thene as thave wothe fore la exlatence batimus, the restrictonn thereto tics to the french treaty were not orlpinally parreducefi, and thereby lin benetita extenuted rapilly biatical fienults of the Recrne Trentics of icvi, Ntis. (Junrnal if the istertintical &ix.., r. . U, 18ii), p. 3 (Grmany): A. D. 8853 -1890a.-Progress towards Free Trade arrested by Prince Bigmarck. - Protectlon measures of $1878-1887$. poiley oi the German y periosi of 1848-s0, the Cuton was a prouounced pretu or Custom's sencral the rullation, so protectionlsm. The Ifr. In Westera Euron, so to sperak, of pollical yenrs menthaed uni the largher the creuts of the "ag"ndered between not larger symputhy they a stang movemeut lit Gernauy and however, Austrin in favo. of in Germany ami Germanclat exchange be werenter freedions of conunerresulteal in the conchuat these two countres. It yearn, of the reaty of $18, i 3$ her the tirm of twelve cha and Ause haty of isisi betwern the Zollverconapacts for the promotlon of tive haternathemal course that formed s, prominent a feature of European history durlug the follow a feature of years. The trudy was a firt, out lo. step towaris free exchange, provlding, as it did, for for a a dutles on tmports from other countries for a conslherable free llat and for targely reIt also coutainel went the enutracting conntries the lmsts of 1 mipulathons for lis reacwal ou luentlial assoctuthen free trade. A very inas the uyowet int was formed, with free trade were also the clannup object. Its icaders, who represented intellectons of political ilberalism, These included the wetl of the highest order. Simith, Mittermaicr, Rnowa cconomists l Prince WIrth, Schulze and Braun, Hucher, Michaclls, gresw' was heht anmuntly, An' Econontc Conwhich attracted the createst the proceerllings of cisel a growing inthience oponeatlon, and exer. ruvarnurents composing the Zollverepolley of the bencticlai results of the enaty verein. . . The obvious and lustanture treaty of 18.53 were so and I ustrin would have no that the Zollvereln about iasproved commerchal reiat sought to bring natlons by the asme meana, lat for the disturb.
ance of the preare of Eurome by the Crimea War, and the condict of 1850 between France traly and Austria. The blter feellngm, rausen by the latter war agaiust the two fint named countries wherever the Oerman tongue wa aposelt, rundereal the negutlatiou of commerela treallen whlth them ont of the question for a tlme. The great achlevenuent of thchand Cobsten and Melicl Chevalier, the famoum treaty of 1800 bo. tween Oreat Britaln aml France, ehanged thie reluctance at once Into eagernows to secure the eame oilvantagen that thowe two cuuntries hat Insured to each other. The enilghtened unit faraeclag denpot occripying the throne of Frnnee, belng once won over to the raume of freo exchange by Coblen's arilor and perwhateace and clear and conviacing urgumentm, agaluat the plews of the nujerity of hls mulnters aad whith oppower to per cent. of hile subjects strongly determined, we nhandionicut of protectionisni, make the whe the zeni of a new convert, to very whllitug, therefire, to meet the the. Ite was the Zoliveruln, the, to meet the mivancen o? after a whole, en hat in the apring of 1 Nes wan consummiatel ncgothathon, in formal treaty Enulire. It wase artw it and the F'rench comiprised a copyright brond meamure thon, provisions prigh, and trade-nark conveu. rewinectlve pans for liberal motlilications of the trenty navigaton haws and a comuncrelal admilumion of the latter provided for the free transil and cexpre naterials, for the aboiltion of port dutles expre duties and for equailzing Imtuined a 'mont farig an possible, anil also conpurautuce of the terms of the taste. - In with Auserla uecrerms of the treaty of 18.53 early In the sutleturions hal been commenced apon the bials of the rereicrence ro for neme riers liteween the swo mounter all customs bar muturally naminst tho comatries. Austria was tween the Ralle the concluslon of a treaty be out, and eniverela and raure with herself lef menns at her cornunimel. . . Afer withe all the tlosas, nccompauled by much excitcinut im many, a compromalse was reached $\ln 1864$, under Whlch the Zollvirelin was reuewect for t welve ratitied on is till 18:\%, and the Freach Irenty miade with Alloution that a new treaty shoulid be luilice with Austrin. This was done In 180.5, hut the new conveatlon dhl not provlde for the comof $18, i ; 3$. It chas unlon, contemplated uuder that Independent nus only a compact between two than the old nations, but on more Mberni line Hrectlons the Zollw to frece trude. $\qquad$ In other Ing the cxime Zollvercin kost uo time in follow lug the exianple of Napokeou by entering suc thes whith Beiglund ises into conimerelal treaSwlezerinad, whileh, Raly, Great Britain aad which the contructiner parties conventions, by other the posithon of formuitariff regulatha most favored nation, or of that between the treatles after the model These additional the Zolivercin and France. luster the widional treatles were no nore than the luttcr the work of Blasmarck. ... The general up. Prussla and Auny urising from the war betwees German Alles, whill and her North and Southfarther Allles, while temporarily delayiag the archer progress of tariff ruform, subsequentiy acerlemated lis forwatd march. . i. A speclai treaty for the reform of the co 62 the Crimena cen Frunce, Ingrin, chused firat named ongtue wre commerelal for a time. Cobiten and of 1800 be . innged this secure the intries hat ed and far. of Erance, to of Irue lence aml trainat the nall with strongly ectlonisni, onvirt, to Ile wne lvances of of 1883. unl treaty Frine convels. us of the unuerclaf $r$ the free olltion of lzling in.

also con. - if in Hinenced renewal tom-bartria was caty berself tefe 1 alf the uegotia. in Gier. , uniler tweive treaty 4.5), but bis, but e com . ler that in two ting a other oflow g suc. 3 treans, by cach on, or rance. on the ween outh. the eclal 30 to

TAMIFF LEGLBLATION, soss-03. Prubection in Cormany
gpeak, of the Zollverela wan enncluded in Juty, 1007, hetween the North.German Fepleration, thi now political conalefintion Prumaia hal formed ont of all Germany north of the Main, after deatroy ing the old Dlet, and Bnvaria, Wuepten. herg, Baten ani! Ileswe, uader the provilions of which the tarif amil reven';e polley of nil Germany wha to be managed by the 'Zoilipariament,' conalinting of an upper house, male up of representatives of the governmenta, nal of a lower houme of repre. centativen of the people elected hy univermal auf. frago on a population hasim. Thus kirif reforin Was actuality the ehain that bouad up, an It were, the material intereats of alf Germnnes outalie of Auatia for the inmt time, an those of one nation. Negotintions for a new commerelal treaty with the dual monarelay of Austra-linngary - into which Auatrin hail elanged in consequenee of the eventir of 1806 - eommenced lininediately after the rentorntion of peace, and were hroupht to $n$ antinfaetory conclunlou in March, 1800, The trenty was to run nine yenra, and provided for atili fower dutien than under the olf trinty, the principal reductions being on aif ngricultural producth, whes and Iron. ... The Franco-Gerunnn war put an end to the treaty of 1862 beetween Firance and the Zollverela. As a sullati. tute for the comurcelal part of it, article 11 of the treaty of peace of 1871 provided alimply that Frasce and Germany ahould be Lound for an in. detinte prerlend to nliow ench other the most fuvorable tarilz rates elthe: of them linul granted or minght gramt to Great Britalu, BeIginan. Hollaud, Swizerland. Austria-llungary nud Jiussla.

A , inge majorty of the durmbera of the fint thichoug [under the newly crented Eupplef favored further lepin', thon in the direetlon of free timple, nud the ourk of tardit reform was vigorous 1.. 'nlscu in hanif, as soon nas the consts. tutlon a. 'se esseutlal organle laws of the Einplre has. een framised. In the sarssion of 1873 the : ional Lithernis brought in $n$ unothon asking the Goverument to prosent measures for the nbolition of all dutles on riw and uanufar. tured Iron, malt mat other articies. The (thevernment respunded viry readly. . . . Prduce Ills. marck was an less promounced for nestret revcuate tarlir than miy of the oflier goverument sperak. ers Up to the eud of 1885 , there wis not the allortest Indlcatlon of a change of vlews on his part upon this generni siblject. . . . The cllmax of the free trade movemeat in cicmany catal be sald to have been renched about the that last of a new inspratlous in inter, susplechus shigus of a new insplathou on the part of the i'rinee becaune manifest. Rumers of dissencious beLween himand Minister Dellorlack begau to clren. late, and gradually gadned strength. In May, 18:6, all Germany was startied by the ammonace: ment that the latti: and hls priuclpal co-workers holl resigned. Soou it was kuown that their re. threment was due to a disagrecment with the Prluce ower tarilt reform maiters. A crlsly liad evidently set in that was a grent pazzle at firou to everybody. Gradually fi became elear that the cause of it was really $n$ suddea abaulaat ment of the past pollcy by the Prlnce. The new coursc, upon which the mighty helasman was starther the ship of state, wis signalizeni in varl. olls ways, but tho full extent of his change of front Hats distitascal omiy in a conamunlention addressed ly hims to the Federnl Councll, iander date of iscerinter 15 , 1875 . It was $n$ minat ex.

Itanofinary document. It coademned boldity alt that had lieen done by the gavernment unier hie awn eyes and whe hif fuif conmeat in relaton to enrif refurm over since the Praners Uerman tremty of 1 wose. ... As the princlpai renmon for the new ileparture, he anmignell the neceasity of reforming the pubile financum in order to furerence the revenues of the Goverument. The will of the Chanceflor had become the haw for the feds. eral coluudl, and, accorilingly, the tarlit cum. mittec began the work of deviving a general protective invif in hot imste. It was nubmitters to the Jeldintang by the Irrince In May, 1879.

Thus Gerninny was sharted on the down. warts plain of protectionism, on whith it contimuend for tweive yenrn. Thyound all qutewtion, the Chancellor wan motely responalibe for it.
The tarif bill of 1870 met which vigrous opimis. tion unde, the lemi of ex. Minister leillithek, but was pasinel by the largo innjority of 217 to 117 - mhasing the readinem with which the lhon paisir ' of the master had made converts to lita now falth. It was a uweeping measure, estab. Ilading large dutlem on ceremio, Iron, luniber and petroleum. incrensing existigg dutlea on cexilio pernis, coffec, whes. rice, tea, and a great number of other minor neticles and alao on catifo. The protectioulst current cause to $n$ tenuporary Refelintag clected in isamuch as in the new Refelistag, ciscted in 18s1, the protection aus antl-protectons parties werc so evenly balanced that the Governinent fadied to carry lix proprosals for still higiacr dutles. The electlons of 1041 , in whieh the Goverument hronglat crery fithaence to lear agalast the opposition, resuited, howerer, In the ruturn of a protvethoniat majority. Accordingly, there followed in 183.5 a new acrewing up of duttes, tripling those on graln, doubling those on lumber, anil ralsing wiost others. In 1887 the duties on grala were even ngaln in. creased. but now the lissathateucss of protecthon aud espeelally the duties put on the necessartes of lifo produced in strong rewation, as rvideveed by the largely luerensed meminership of the opposithou partles lis the preseut Relechastag. The huperlal Goverument, shortly atter the retirement of Prince Bismarck had math il its lands, eutered upons ucgotiations whith Austrathlugary, tajy, Switzerlanul and Helglum, whel resulted in . . rectprocity trea-

Alame in: W. II. Dawson, Bimnarck and Stato Sucintinin.
(United States and Canada): A. D. ${ }^{1854}$ -1866.-- The Reciprocity Treaty. - The Treaty comuonily known In Amerten is the Conadan Reelprocity Treaty of 18.54 , Itetwer : the governments of Grent Britain nud the Cultel States, was concluded ou the Sth of Jure, 18.5., aud ratiticathon: werc exclanged on the $8 t / 5$ of scptember following. The negotintors were the Earl of Figin and Kincardine. on the part of lise British Government, ned Whilam L. Marcy, Secretary of Statc of the Cuited States, neting for the linter. By the flrst article of the treaty It was agreced that, "In addition to the llberty secured to the Lulted States fisharmuen by the. . . con-ventlou of Oetor veatlow of October 20,1818 , of thking. curing and firying 2 nif firying tisis on ecriain cuasts of the Iritish Aorth Amerletan Colonies therein detined, the Inbabitants of the linted States shall linve, in commou which the subjects of Her Britannle

Majeaty, the liberty to take fish of every kind, except sheli-fish, on the sea-coasts and shores, and in the bays, harbors, and creeks of Canada, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Prince Edward's Island, and of the severai isiands thereunto adjacent, without being restricted to any dlstance from the sliore, with permission to land upon the coasts and shores of those coionles and the Islauds thereof, and niso upna the Mar. dalen Isiands, for the purpose of drylng their oets and curing their fish; provided that, in so dolng, they do not interfere with the rights o: private property, or with British fishermen, in the peaceable use of any part of the said const in thelr occupancy for the same purpose. It is uncierstood that the above-mentloned liberty appilies solely to the sea-fishery, nnd that the salmon and shad flsheries, and all fisheries in rivers and the mouths of rivers, are hereby reserved excluslveiy for Britlsh fishermen." The same artiele provided for the appointment of commlasioners and an nrbltrator or umplre to settle any disputes that might arise " as to the places to which the reservation of exclusive right to British fishermen contalaed in this artiele, and that of fishermen of the Unlted States contalned in the next succeeding article, apply." By the second article of the treaty Britlsh subjects recelved privlleges on the eastern sen-coasts and shores of the United States nortla of the 36 th parallel of north latitnde, identical with those given by the first article to citizens of the United States on the cousts and shores mentloned above. Article 3 was as follows: "It is agreed that the articles eaumerated in the schednle hereunto annexed, being the growth and promeuce of the uforesaid British eolonles or of the United States, shall be admiltedi into each country respectlvely frec of dutr: Scliednle: Grain, dour, aud breadstuffs, of ali klads. Animals of nil kinds. Fresh, snoked, mal silited meats. Cottonwool, seeds, and vegetables. Undricd fruits, Iried frults. Flsh of nll kinds. Prolucts of fish, nad of all other creatures living in the water. Fonltry, eggs. Ilides, furs, shins, or tails, undressed. Stone or marbie, in its crude or unwrought state. Slate. Butter, cheese, tallow. Larl. horns, manures. Ores of metals, of all kinds. Cual. Ditell tar, turpentine, ashes. Thnber nuil lumber of all kiads, round, hewed, and sinwed, ummanufaetured in whole or in part. Fi woml. Ilants, shrubs, and trees. icelts, wool. Fish.oil. Lice, broom. corn, and bark. Gypsum, ground or un: ground. Hewn, or wrought, or nnwrought burr or grindstones. Iyeestuffs. Flax hemph, and tow, mmannufactured. Cumaminactured tobacco. Rags." Article 4 secured to the citizens and inhabitunts of the Cnited States the right to navignte the liver St. Lawrence and the canals in Gaman letweren the ocean and the great lakes, subject to the same tolls and charges that might be exacter\} froun Iler Majesty's sinbjects, but the British Govermment retained the right to suspend this privilege, on due notice glven, $\ln$ which case the Government of the Cinited States might suspond the operitions of Artiele 8. IRceiprocally, isritish sulbjects ware glven the right to mavigate Lake Michigia, mul the Government of the Cuited States engageri itself to urge the State govermments to open the several State canals to British subjects on terms of equallts. It was further agreevi that no ex port or other fiaty should be levied on lamber or timber floated down the river St. John to the Bea, "when the same is shipped to the United States from the province of New Brunswick. Article 5 provided that the treaty should take effect whenever the necessary inws werc passed by the Inperiai Parllament, the Provinclal Pariliaments, and the Congress of the Unlted States, and thant it shouid "remain in force for ten years from the diate at which it may come into operation, nnd further untll the explration of tweive months after elther of the high contracting partles shail give notlce to the other of ite wish to terminatc the same." Article 6 extended the provlsions of the treaty to the island of New. foundland, so far as applienble, provided the Imperini Parliament, the Parllament of Newfoundland and the Congress of the United States should embrace the Island in their inws for carrying the treaty Into effect; but not otherwise. - Treaties and Conventions betireen the United States and other Purers, ed. of 1849, pp. 448-452. - The Treaty was abroguted $\ln 1866$, the United States laving given the required notice In 186.5. - F. E. IIaynes, The Reciprocity Treaty with Canndu of 1854 (Am. Economic Assn. Pubs., v. 7 no. 6).
(United States): A. D. 186r-1864. - The Morrill Tariff and the War Tariffs.- : Ia 1861 the Morrill tarift net began a change toward a higher range of dutics and a stronger appilcation of protection. The Morrili aet is often spoken of as if it were the basis of the prosent protective system. But this is by no means the case. The tariff act of 1801 was passed by the House of Representatives in the session of 1859-69, the session preceding the clection of Pre lent Lincoln. It was passed, nudonbtelly, with the intention of attracting to the lepulilican party, it the appronehing Presidential clertion, votes In Peunsylvaninaud other states that had protectionist leanings. In the semate the tarift hill was not taken up in the sume session in which it was passed in the Ilonse. Its consileration was postponed, and it was not hatil the uext sessionthat of $1860-61$-tbat it reeeivel the assent of the senate and became law. It is clear that the Morrih tarill was curried in the Ilouse before any serions expectation of war was entertalned anil it was accepted by the Scuate in the session of 1861 without naterial change. It therefore furms no part of the thancial cegislation of the war, which gave rise ln time to a series of meas. ures that entirely superseded the Morrill tarlff. Indeed, Mr. Morrill and the other supporters of the act of 1861 declared that their intention was simply to restore the rates of 1846 . The innportant change which they proposid to make from the provisions of the tirifif of 1846 was to substitnte specifie for ad-valorem duties. . . . The of $18+0$ cosiderably above the all valorem dutles of 1840 . The most important direct changes made by the net of 1861 were In the incrcased hhties on iren und on wool, by which it was hoped to attach to the Republican jarty Peuneyl ranla umil some of the Western Sturtes. Most of the mamfacturing State's at this tlme still stood aloof from the movement towarll ligher ratcs Mr. Rice, of Massachusetts, salic in 186": : The manufacturer asks mo nd alitional protection. Ile has learaed, among other things, that the greatest evil, arxt in a rulturas competl. that them greatest exil. inext in a rultuss eompetltion fromga sourecs, is an excessive protec. tion, which stimulates a ilke ruinous and irreaponsthle competition at home' (Congress. Globe, 1859-60, p. 1887). Mr. Sherman sald:
'The manufacturers have abked over and over again to be let alone. The tarifi of 1857 is tho manufaeturers' hlli; hut the present bill is more benefielal to the agricultural interest than the tariff of 1857.' (libid., p. 2053. C. F. Hunter's speech, lbid., p. 3010. ) In iater years Mr. Morrill hlmself safid that the tariff of $1861^{\text {' was not asked }}$ for, and hut coidly weicomed, hy manufacturers, who always and justly fear lnstabllty.: (Congr. Globe, 1869-70, p. 3295.) . . Hardly had the Morrill tariff heen passed when Fort Sumter was fired on. The Civli War hegan. The need of additional revenue for carrying on the great struggle was immediately felt; and as carly as the extra session of the summer of 1861, additional customs dutles were imposed. In the next regular session, in December, 1861, a stlll further inerease of dutles was made. From that time till 1865 no session, Indeed hardiy a month of any session, passed in which some inerease of dutles on imports was not made.

The great acts of 1862 and 1864 are typlcal of the whole course of tho war measures; and the latter is of pnrtlenlar importance, becanse it became the foundatlon of the exlsting tariff system. $\qquad$ The three revenue aets of June 30, 1864, practically form one measure, and that probably the greatest mensure of tuxation which the world has seen. The first of the acts provided for nu enormons extension of the internal-tax system; the second for a corresponding luerenso of the dutles ou imports: the third authorized a loan of $\$ 100,000,000$.

Like the tariff act of 1862 , that of 1864 was introduced, explained, amended, nnd passed under the maungement of Mr. Morrill, who was chairuan of the Coumittee on Wars and Means. That gentleman again stated, as he had doue in 1862, that the passage of the tarlff act vus rendered necessary in order to put donestic producers in the same situation, so fir as foreign competition was concerned, as if the internal taxes had not been ralsed. This was one grent object of the new tariff. . Bnt it explaius only in part the measnre which in fact was proposed nud passed. The tariff of 180 t was a characteristic resnlt of that veritable furor of taxation which had becone fixed in the minds of the men who were then managing the mational fuances. Mr. Morrill, and those who with him maule our revenue laws, seem to hase had but one principle: to tax every possible nrticle lntiserimiuately, und to tax it at the highest rates that any one had the courage to suggest. They cirrried thls unethod out to its fullest extent in the tarifl act of 1864, as well as in the tnx aet of that yenr. At the same tlme these statesuren were protectionists. . Every dounstic produer $r$ who came hefore Congress got what he wauted In the wny of daties. Protectlou ran riot; and this, mureover, not merely for the time being. The whole tone of the puhlle ulnd towurd the question of import duties hecame distorted. The average rate on dutiable comnoxitice, which hat been 37.2 per cent. under the act of 1862 , hname $4 \pi .06$ per eent. under that of $18, t_{1}$. In nyard to the dutles ns they stom before $18 \times 3$, It is literally true, in regard to almost all prointerd articles, that the tariff act of 1804 remained ins firce for twenty years witbout reductions." F. W. Tausslg, Tariff Mistory of the U. S. . pp.

158-169, with foot-note. - Ưnder the Morrill Tarif. Which went into effyct April 1, 1861, the imposts Which had averaged about 10 per cent. on duti. able articies were raised to 36 per cent.-J. G. Blalne, Tirenty Years of Congress, n. 1, p. 400.
(Australia): A. D. $1862-1892$, - Contrasted poiicy of Victoria and New South Wales. Both New South Wales and Vletoris "are young countries, and are inhahited hy meu of the same race, speceh, and training: capltal and labour oselifite freely between them: both use suhstantlally the same methods and forms of government: Whlie agalnst the larger territory of New South Wnles may be set the superior elimate and easler development of its southern nelghbour. Whatever may be the halance of the natural ad. vantages, whether of ellmate or population, is on the side of Victoria, whose compact, fertlle, and well watered territory gained for it, on its first discovery, the weil-deserved titlo of Aus. tralin Fells. The striking and ultimate polnt of difference between the two countries is their fiscal polley. Since 1866 Vietoria has 11 verl under a system of gradually Increasing Protection, While the policy of New South Wales has been, in the muln, one of Free Trude. Accorling to nll Protectlonlst theory Victoria should be prosperous nad New South Wales distressed; there should be varicty aud growth in the oue country. stngnation $\ln$ the other. At ieast the progress of Victoria onglit to havo beea more rapid than that of New South Wales, becnuse she has added to the natnral advantages which she already enjoyed, the nrtiticial betuctits which are elnimed for a Protective taritf. If, In fact, nelther of these conelusions is correet, and, while hoth countries have been phenoumaliy prosperous, New South Wales has prospered the mest, one of two conelusions is inevlable - biamely; (ather that certain special iuthences have eritued the more rapid progress of New south W:ales which were not felt in Victorin, or that Protertion has retarded instead of ussisted the developument of Victorla's natural superiority. Writers of ali schools admit that aetivity in certnin departments of uational life is a fair indication of prosperity mind progress. It is, for instance, generally nllowed that an increase in population, a developmeut of agricultaril and minnufacturing indnstry, a growth of forcign commerce, an increase in shipping, or :m improvement in the public revenue. are all sigus of health aud wellbelug; , tud that a coucurrence of such symptoms over a 'engtheucd period indicates an increase ln mitcerial wealth. Accepting these tests of progress, onr compnrisou proceeds thas: first, we examine the position of the two Colonies as regnrds population, foreigu commerce, shipping, agriculture, mamufactures, and revenue, at the time when both of them adhered to Free Trade; from which we tind that, accorellug to all these, indications of prosperity, Victoria was theu very mueh the better off: In 1560 she outumbibered New Sonth Wales lupopulation by 200,1900 souls: her foreign commeree was harger by $£ \$, 300,400$ : she had a grenter urea of fand under cultivation: her inanufactures were well established, white those of Sew Sonth Walcs were few and insig. ulticant: she was nhead in shipping, and her revenue was greter by one-thirl. lassing next to the rears which follow 1sbit, we observe that New south Wates gradually bettered her positlon in every provluec of uational actlvity, and that, as the fetters of Protection became tighter, Vlctoria receded in the race. She gave way first in the department of forelgn commerce, next in populatlon,'shlpping, and revenue, unth, $\ln 1887$, she maintained her old superiorlty $\ln$ agriculture atone. From thls nceumulation of facts-and not from sny one of them we lnfer that the rate of progress in New South Wales under Free Trade has been greater than that of Victoria under Protection. "-B. R. Wise, Iudustrial Free. dom, app. 3.

TARIFF LEGISLATION, 1862-92. Frofectiontot TARIFF LEGISLATION, 1871-92.

(Europe): A. D. 1871-1892. - Protectionist reaction on the Contineat.-High Tariff in France.-"The Franeo-German War (18\%0-1) and the overthrow of Napoleon III. at once arrested the frec-trade policy, which bud littie support in the nationnl mind, and was hardiy understood outside the smali cirele of Frencl economists. The need of fresh revenue was 1 m perative, and M. Thiers, the most prominent of French statesmen, was notorlousiy protectionlst in his leanings. Pure revenue duties on colonini and Enstern commodities were tirst tried; the sugar duty was lncreased $30 \%$; that on colfee was trebled; tea, cocoa, wines and spirits, were ail suhjected to greatly inereased charges. As thi yleld thus obtained did not suffice, proposals for the taxation of raw materials were brought forwhard but rejected by the legisiature lu $18: 1$. When M. Thiers tendered his resignation. To avold thls result the measure was passed, not however to come into operation untii complasuatligy productive daties had been placed on imtported manufaetures. The existing commercial treaties were a further obstacie to changes in poliey, and aceordiuglr negotiations were opened with Engiand and Belgium. la order that the new duties might be applical to their prodacts. As was justifiable under the eircumstances, the former comatry required that if imported raw products were to be tased, the like articies produced in Frauce should pay no equivalent tax, and therrfore, as the shortest way of ess:ape, the Freuch Government gave notice for the terinination of the treatles (hin the technical langunge of International taw 'denomeed' them), and new conventions were agreed on: but as this arrangement was just as nusatisfactory in the ophinion of the French Chambers, the old trenties were in 1573 restorcd to furce until 1877, and thus the larger part of the raw materiais escaped the new taxation. The protectionist tendency was, tow, manifested in the departure from the open system introluecel in 1566 in respect to shipping. A law of $159-2$ impensed differential duties on goonds imported in furcign vessels. . . . The advance of the sentiment in farome of a return to the restrictive system was even more decidedy indithe encourarenut if Free then granted for extra taxes imposed of Frenelh shipping. and estra taxes imposed on indiret iuports of nonEuropean and some Eurupangerods. In 1888 the carrying trade lwitwerl France and Aggiers Was reserved for native sinips. The revision of the generai tariff was a more serionts task, under. taken with a view to intlurn hing the new treatiog that the termination of the old ebsagements marec incessary. The tariff of $18-1$ (to come into force in 1882) made several increases amd suhstituted many speritic for all valorem datios. Raw materials cseaped tavation: half umafacture it articles were placed under moderate duties. Tho uvaimal corn duties were dimulished by a fraction, but the dutles on llve stock and fresh meat were conslderably lncreased. . . A new 'conventlonal tariff 'speedlly followed In a series of fresh treaties with European countries. . . . The duties on wholc or partlally-manufactured gooda remnlned suhstantinlly unchnnged by the new treaties, whleh do not, in fact, vary 50 much from the gencral tariff as was prevlously the case. The number of nttlcles lncluded in the conventions had heen reduced, and nill countries ontslde Europe came under the gencral code. The renctlon against the liberal polley of 1860 was thus as yet very slight, and did uot seriously nffeet manufactures. The agrlenttural depres. sion was the primary cause of the leglslation of 1885 , whel placed a duty of 3 francs per quin. tal on wheat, 7 franes on flour, 2 francs on rye nod lorley, and one frume on onts, whith additlonal dutics on indireet importation. Cattle, sheep, and pigs came under luereases of from 508 to $100 x$
Not satisfied with thelr partial success, the ndvocates of high dutles huve made further efforts. Maize, 'hitherto free, ns being chiefly used by farmers for feeding purposes, is now liable to duty, and the tariff prof sed in the present fcar (1891) raises the ratus on most articles from nn average of $10 \%$ to $15 \%$ to oue of 30\% and 40\%. .. (iermany did not quite as speedily come ander the iullurure of the ceonomic reaction as France. ann commercial policy nisu altered for the worse. From the formatiou of the kingdom till 1875, as the various commercinl treaties aud the general tariff of 1801 show, it was liberal and tending towards freedom. Ahout the latter date the forces that we throughout Europe commonced to generally thronghout Europe, commenced to affect Italy. The pablic expeuditure had largely Increased, and additional revenue was urgently required. Agricniture was so depressed that, though the country is pre eminentiy agricutural, ularm was excited by the supposed danger of foreign eompetition. The result was that on the general revision of duties in $18 \% 7$ much higher rates were imposed ou the prineipal imports. sion both in arriculture and etuburai. Depres. tries continued and streng thened the protectionist party, who succeeded in securing the abandonment of all the commercial treaties, and the en actment of a new tariff in 1887 . . . . The tirs effert of the new system of high taxation with no conseutional privileges was to lead to a war of tarits betwren Framee and Itaig. . . A Aus. tria may be added to the list of comeries in which the proteetionist reaction has bern - Ifectvely shown. $\qquad$ In lanssia the revival (or perhaps it would be more correct to saty continned existence) of protection is decisively marked.

Spain and Portugai had long beren strong. hohls of protectionist itheats. . . . Holland and Boftrimm have as yet [1s9] ] aihered to the system of maxierate dutles."-0.F. Bastabie, The Commerre of Sittion, oh. 9.-A new tarlff system was cialorated by the French Chambers, with intinite labor and discussion, during tho year 1591, and ndopted eirly in the followlug year heing known as the "Loi dit 11 Janvier, 1892 ." This tariff makes a great adrance in duties on mest imports, with a coneession of fower rates to nations aceording reciprocal fivors to Freuch profuctions. Raw materiais in generai are ald. mithed free of duties. The commercial treatles of franee are undergolng inditication
(United States): A. D. 1883.-Revision of the Tarifi.-In 1882, "Congress appolnted a Tarif Commisslon 'to take into consideration, and to thoroughly lnvestigate, all the various questions relating to the agricultural, commercial, mercantlle, manufacturing, mlning, and lndustrial Interests of the United States, so far as the same may be necessary to the estahlishment of a judlclous tariff, or a revision of the exlsting tarifi upon a scale of justice to ali lnterests. Several things it was expected would be accompilshed by revising the tariff, and the measure received the assent of neariy all the members of Congress. The free-traders expected to get lower duties, the protectionists expected to concede them in some cases, and in others to get such modifications as would remove existing ambiguities and strengthen themseives against forcigu competition. The protective force of the existing tarifi had been weakened in several important manufactures hy rulings of the treasury department. $\qquad$ The composition of the commlssion was as satisfactory to the manufncturing class ns displeasing to frec-traders. ... Early In thcir deliberations, the commisslon hecame convlnced that a suhstantial reduction of tie tariff duties was demanded, not hy a mere indis. criminate popuiar clamor, hut hy the best conservative opinion of the conntry, includin. that which had in former times been most sifcrubus for the preservation of the nutionai Industrial defences. Such a reduction of the existing tariff the commisaion regarded not only asn due recog. nltlon of public seutiment, and a measure of justice to consumers, hut one conducive to the general Industriai prosperity, and which, tiough it might he temporarily inconvenient, would he ultimately bencticial to the speclal interests affected hy such reduction. No rates of defensive duties, except for establishing new indinstries, which more than equalized the conditions of lahor and capital with those of foreign competl. tors, conld he justifled. Excessive duties, or those above such standard of equalization, were positively Injurious to the Interest whici they Were supposed to henefit. They eneournged the Investment of capitill in manufacturing enterprise by rasil and unskilied speculators, to be followed by disaster to the adventurers and their empioyees, and a plethora of comnmodities which deranged the operations of skilled and prudent enterprise. $\qquad$ 'It wonld seem that the rates of duties nuder the existing tariff-fixed, for the most part, during the war under the evident necessity at that time of stimulating to its unu necessity at that time of stimulating to its nutui.. cxtent ali cimestic proxiuction - might be allipted, through reduction, to the preseut conditimu of juce refuiring no such extraoriinary stimulus. And in the mechanical and inamufacturing industries, esprecialiy tbose which h. ve been long estahlished, it would scem that the inprovements in inachinery and processes nade within the lat twenty years, and the high scale of produrtivencss which had become n claracteristic of their estahisisments, wonld permit our manuficturers to eompete with their foreign rivals imider a suhstantiai reduction of existing dutles." Eutertaining these views, the commission sought to present a scinme of tariff duties in which suhstantial reduction was the distlnguisining feature,

The attempt to modify the tariff hrought into bold relief the nunnerous conflicting laterests, alld the diticulty and delicacy of the undertaking.

As our industries become more heterogeneous, the tariff aiso grows more complex, and the dlff: cuity of doing justice to all is Increased. For example, the wool manufncturers to succeed best must have free wool and dye-stufis; on the other hand, both these interests desired protection. The manufacturers of the higher forms of Iron must have free materiais to succeed hest ; on tie other hand, the ore producers, the pig-Iron mnnufacturers, and every succeeding class desired a tariff on their products. It was not easy for these Interests to agree, nnd some of them did not. The lron-ore prorlucers desired a tariff of 85 cents a ton on ore; the steel.rail maks 85 centa a ton on ore; the steel-rail makers were opposed to the granting of more than 50 ; the manufacturers of fence wire were opposed to an lncrease of duty on wire rods used for making wire, and favored a reduction; the manufacturers of rods in this country were desirous of getting an increase; the manufacturers of floor oilclotis desired a reduction or aholition of the duty on the articies used hy them; the sonp manufacturers desired the putting of caustic sodn on the free list, which the American manufacturers of it opposed; some of the -roolen manufacturers were desirous that protection shouid he granted to the manufacturers of dyestuffs, and some were not; the manufacturers of tanned foreign goat and sheep skins desired the removal of the tariff on such skins; those who tanned tilem, and who were much less numerous, Were equaily tellacions in maintsining the tariff on the raw skins, and the same confict arose between other interests. The method of determinlng how much protection their several interests needed, and of adjusting differeuces between them, has alwirs been of the crudest kind.
Althougit not all of the recommendatlons of the commission were adopted, most of them were. Those which pertained to the simplitication of the law were adopted with ouly slight changes. The bill reported in the cominissiou contained not including the free list, 631 artleles and classl. fications. . . Less than 9.5 articles. mainly ln the cotton, woolen goods. and the iron and steel schedines, were matters of contention. The rates on 409 of the 631 nrticles mentioned in the tarifif recommended ly the commission were adopted, and between 50 and cio more articles have suhstantially the same rates, though levied under different clauses. Of the 170 chauges, 98 were fixed at lower rates than those proposed hy the commission, 46 at ligher, and 26 have been cinssed as doubtfui."-A. S. i Solles, Financinl History of the E'nited States, 1861-1885, bh. 2, ch 7.
(United States): A. D. 1884-1888, -At tempts at Tariff Reform. - The Morrison Bilis and the Hewett Bill.-President Cleveland's Message.-The Mills Biil and its defeat, The sigght concessions male in the protectionist tariff revision of 1883 did not at ali satlsfy the opiuion in tite comntry demanding greater lidustrini freedon, and the question of tarifl reform became more important than before in American politics. The Jemocratic Party, identitied hy all its early traditions, with the opiosition to a policy of "protection," won the election of 1884. placing Mr. Cleveland in the Presidency and gaiuing control of the House of Represencyatives in the $49: h$ Congress. But it had dritted from lts old anchorago on the tariff question, and was siow in pulling back. A large mlnority in the party had accepted and become supporters of the doctrine which was hatefui to their fathers an an economic heresy. The inajority of the Democrats in the House, however, madc strcnuous efforts to accompilish something in the way of reducing duties most complained of. Their arst undertaking was led by Mr. Morrison of Hlinols, who introduced a bill which "proposed an average reduction of 20 per eent., but with so many exceptions that it was estimated the average reduction on dutiable articles would be about 17 per cent. The rates under the Morrili Act of 1861 were to form the minimum limit. An extensive addition to the free ilst was proposed, including the following articles: ores of iron, copper, lead, and ni.kel, coal. iumber, wood, hay, bristle, lime, sponges, indigo, cual tar and dyewoods." In the Committec of Ways and Means the bill underwent considerablc changes, the articles in the free list being reduced to sast, coal, iumber and wood. It was reported to the House March 11, and remained under debate untii May 8, when it was killed by a motion to strike out the enacting clause, on which 118 Republicans and 41 Deniocrats voted aye, agains: 4 Republicans and 151 Democrats voting nay. The 4 Repuhicans supporting the bill Were nll from Minncsota; of the 41 Democrats opposing it 12 were from Pennsylvania. 10 from Ohio, 6 from New York, 4 from Californla and 8 from New Jersey. "The Morrison 'horizontal hill' having been thus killed, Mr. Hewett, a New York Democrat, and a member of the Ways and Means Committee, on May 12 introduced a new tariff hill, providing for a reduction of 10 to 20 per cent. on a considerable number of articles and placing several others on the free list." The bili was reported favorably to the House, but action upon it was not reacbed before the adjournment. During thc same session, a bill to restore the duties of 1867 on raw wool was defeated in the Ilouse; an amendment to the shipping bill, permitting a fre e importation of iron and steel steamships for ctaployment in the foreign trade, passed the flutise ard was defeated in the Senate; and a reducing the duty on works of art from 201 per cent. Was defeated in the House. In the next Congress, the Forty-ninth, Mr. Morrison led a new under. taking to diminish the protective duties wbich The broducing an enormous surplus of revenue. received radical changes in (February 15. 1886) received radical changes in the Ways and Means Committee, "inasmuch as it was clearly seen that the opposition from the metal and coai interests was sufficiently strong to destroy ali chance of consideration in the IIouse. Accord. ingly, it was found preferable to make the duties on wool and woolens the special point for assault." But the bill moditied on this new line, - lower. ing duties on woolens to 35 per cent. ad valorem, and placing wool in the free list, with iumber, wood, fish, salt, tlax, hemp and jute, - was refused consideratiou by a vote of 157 to 140 in the House, on the 17 th of June. Again there were 35 members of his own party arrayed against Mr. Morrison. At the second session of the same Congress, December 18, 1886, Mr. Morrison repeated his attempt with no better suc-cess.-0. H. Perry, Propwed Tariff Legiolation ber, 1887). -The assembling of the 50th Congeto. on the 6th of December, a menaage from President Cieveland which produced an extraordinary effect, decisively ilfting the tariff question into precedence over ali other issues in national politics, and compeliing the Democratic Party to array its lines distinctly and unequivocally ngaiust the upholders of "protection " as an cconomic policy. He empliasized the "paramount innportance of the subject" impressively by passing by every other mattez of public concern, and devoting his measage exclusively to a consideration of the "'state of the Union' as shown in the present condition of our Treasury and our general fiscal situation." The condition of the Treasury to which the President called attention was one of unerampled plethora "On the 30th day of June, 1885, the excess of revenues over public expenditures, after complying with the annual requirement of the Binking-Fund Act, was $$ 17,859,735.84$; during the year ended June 30, 1886, such cacess amounted to $840,46.5 .545 .20$; and during the year ended June 30,1887 , it reached the sum of $55, 567,848.54," "Our schemo of taxation," said the President, "by menns of which thit neediess surplus is taken from the people and put into the public treasury, consists of a tarifi or dinty levied upon importations from abroad, and internal-revenue taxes levied upon the consumption of tobacco and spirituous and malt liquors. It must be conceded that none of the things subjected to internal-revenue taxation are, strictly speaking, neccssaries; thero appears to be no just compluint of this taxation by the consumers of these nrticles, and there scems to bo nothing so well able to bear the burden without hardship to any portion of the people. But our present tariff laws, the vicious, inequitable, and illogical source of unnccessary taxation, ought to be at once rcvised and amended. These laws, as their primary and plain cifect, raise the price to consumers of all articles imported and subject to duty, by precisely the sum paid for sucb duties. Thus the amount of the duty measures the tax paid by those who purehase for use these imported articles. Many of these things, how ever, are raised or manufuctured in our own country, and the duties now levied upon foreign goods and products are called protection to these home manufactures, because they render it pos. sible for those of our people who are mazufac turers to make these taxed articles and sei! them for a price equal to that demanded for the im ported goods that liave paid customs duty. So it happens tbat wh.ie compnratively a feiv use the inported articles, millions of our people, who never use and never saw any of the foreign products, parchase and use things of the same kind made in this country, and pay therefor nearly or quite the same enhanced price which the duty adils to the imnorted articles. Those who buy imports pay the duty charged thereon into the public tree ary, but the najority of our citizens, who buy domestic articles of the same class, pay a sum at least spproximately equal to thls duty to the bome nanufacturer.

TARIFF LEGIBLATION, 1884-88.

President Cleveland:  Mesagae.

The diffculty attending a wise and fair revision of our tarifyiaws is not undercstimated. It will require on the part of Congress great labor and carc, and especially a broad and national contemplation of the subject, and a patriotic disregard of such local and seidsh claims as are unreasonable and reckless of the welfare of the entire cuuntry. Under our prescat laws more than 4,000 articles are subject to duty. Many of these do Dot in any way compete with our own manufactures, aad many are hardly worth nttention as subjects of revenue. A considerable reduction can be made in tho nggregate by adding them to the free iist. The taxation of luxuries presents no features of hardship; but the necessaries of dife used and consumed by all the peopie, the duty upon which urids to the cost of living in every home, should be greatly chenpened. The radicai reduction of the dutles imposed upon raw materiai used In manufactures, or its frce limportatlon, is of course an limportant fuctor in nay effort to reduce the prlce of these neccessaries.

TARIFF LEGISLATION, 1884-88. The Mille TARIFF LEGISLATION, 1890

It is not apparent how such n change can have any injurious effect uponour manufacturers. On the conltary, it wouid appenr to give them a hetter chance in forelen markets wlth the manufacturer of other countrles, who cheapen their wares by ree mateial. Thus our people might have mo opportunty of cxtending thelr sales beyond the limits of home consumption - saving them from the depression, interription in husiness, and loss cnused by a glutted domestic markct, and aftording their employés more certain and steady labor, with its resulting quiet and contentment. The question thus imperatively presented for solution should be approached in a splrit higher than purtisanship.... But tho obligatiou to declared purty policy and principle is not wanting to urge prompt nad effectlve action. Buth of the great political parties now represented in tho Government have, by re peated and autho: $\cdot$ - ve dectaristions, condemned the condition of oar laws which pernits the collection from the pronle of unnecessary revenue, and have, lu the most solemn manner, promised its correction.

Our progress toward a wlse conclusion will uot be inproved by dwelling upon the theories of protection and free trade. This savors too much of baudying epithets. It is a condition whlch confronts ns-not a theory. Kellef from this condition may involve a slight reduction of the al vantages which we award our home productions, but the entlre withdrawal of such odvantages should not be coutemplated. The yuestion of free trade is absolutely irreleca, i . "-The President's emphatle utterance railied his party nud inspired n noore united effort In the Ilouse to morlify and simplify the tariff. Under the chalrnanaship of M. Mills, of Texns, a bill was framed by the Commlttee of Wexns, aad Meuns nnd reported to the House on the $2 d$ of April, 1883 . "We have gone as far as we could, "suid the Committec in reporting the hill, and lone what we could, in the present condition of things, to place our manufactures upon a firm and unshaken foundation, where they would have advantages over all the manufacturers of the world. Our manufacturers, having the ndvantage of nll others in the intelligence, skill, aud productive capaclty of thelr lahor, need ouly to be placed on the samo footing with their rivals iu having their materials at the same cost in the open markets of the worid. In start. ing on this policy, we have transferred many articles from the dutiabio to the frce list. The revenucs now received on these articies nmount to $\$ 22,189,595$. 48. Three-fourths ot this nmount is collected on articies that enter into manufactures, of which wool and tin-plates are the most lmportant. . is to reduce reai of all dutles on wool enof wool $\$ 12,332,211,65$. of wool $\$ 12,332,211.65$. The iargest reduction we hnve made is $\ln$ the woolen schedule, and this reduction was only madio possibie by placing wool on the free llst. There as no greater reason for a duty on wool than there is for a duty on any other raw matcrial. I duty on wooi makes It necessary to impose $n$ higher duty on the goods made from wool, nnd the consumer has to pay a double tax. If we leave wool untaxed the consumer has to pay a tax only on the mnnufactured goorls. . . . In the woolen schedule we havo suhstituted ad valorem for specific duties. The speclfic duty is the favorite of thoso who are to be benefited by high rates, who are protected against competition, and protected in comblnations ngaiust the consumer of their products. There is a persistent pressure by mnnufacturers for the speciftc duty, because it conceals from the people the anount of taxes they are compelled to pay to the manufacturer. The speclic duty aiways discriminates in favor of the costly artlcle nad against the chenper one. . . This discrimluation is peculiarly oppressive in woolen and cotton goods, which are necessarics of iffe to all classes of pcople." The ad valorem duty on woolen goods proposed by the committee In accordance wlth thesc vlews, ranged from 30 to 45 per cent., existing rates being reckoned as equlvaient to about from 40 to 90 percent. ad vaiorem. Duties on cottons were fixed at 35 to 40 per cent. On steel ralls the bill proposed n reductlon from 817 per ton to $\$ 11$. It lowered the duty on pig-Iron to 86 per ton. It diminished the tariff on common earthenware from 60 to 35 per cent. ; on china and decorated earthenware from 60 to 45 per cent. ; on wladow.glass from 93 and 106 to 63 and 68 per cent. It put tin plates on the free llst, along Wilt hemp, flax, fumber, timber, sait, nad other materinls of manufacture and articies ln common use. These were the more Important inoditications contempinted in what becanie known as "'the Mills Bill." After vigorous debate, it was passed by the Democruts of the House wlth a nenrness to unanimity which showed a remnrkable changc in the sentiment of their party on the subject. Only four Democratle representatives were found voting in opposition to the measure. In the Scnnte, where the Republicans Were in tho majority, the measure was wrecked, ns a matter of coursc. The protectionists of that body substituted a bill which revised the tariff in the contrary direction, generally ralsing duties instead of lowering them. Thus the issue was made in the elections of 1888 .
(United States): A. D. 1890.-The McK 7ley Act. - "In the caupalga of 1888 the question was the issuc squarely presente The victory of tho Republlcans election of President Harrison were the $r$.
The electlon was won by a narrow mar. nad was affected by certain factors which stood apart from the main issue. The independent voters had been disappointed with some phases of President Cleveiand's administration of the civil service, and many who lad voted for hlm In 1884 did not do so in 1888 .... On the whole, however, the Republicans held their own, and even made gains, throughout the country, on the tarifi lssue; and they might falriy conslder the result a popular verdict in favor of the 85 stem of protection. But their opposition to the policy of lower dutles, emphasized by Presldent Cleveland, had fed them not only to champion the existing system, but to advocate its further extenslon, hy an lecrease of duties in various direetions. .. Aceordingiy when the Congress then eleeted met for the session of 1889-90, the Republican majority $\ln$ the Ilouse proceeded to pass a measal"e whlch finaily became the tariff aet of 1890 . This measure may fairly be sald to be the direet result of Mr. Cleveland's tarifit message of 1887. Thie Repuhicans, in reslsting the doctrine of that message, were led by logical neeessity to the opposite doctrine of higher dutles. .-. Notwithstanding grave mlsgivings on the Notwithstanding grave of some of their leaders, espectaliy those from the northwest, the act known populnrly na the MeKinley bill was pushed through. $-\mathbf{F}$. W. Taussig, Tarif History of the U. S., ch. s. - The blll was reported to the House of Representatlves by the Chairman of the Committee on Ways aud Means, Mr. McKiuley, on the 16th of Aprii, 1800 . "We have not been so nuch concerned," said the majority of the Committee In their report, "about the prices of the articies we consume as we have lreen to encourage as system of home production whenshall glve fair remuneration to donestic produecrs and fair wages to Ameriean workmen, aud by inereased production and home competi. tlon insure fair prices to consumers.

The alm has been to hmpose duties upon sueli forelgu products na compete whtb our own, whether of the soll or the shop, and to enlarge the free llst Wherever thls can be done without injury to any American ludustry, or wherever un existing home ladustry can be heiped withol t detriment to another industry which is equally worthy of the protecting eare of the Governmicnt.

We have recommended no duty above the point of difference between the uormal cost of production here, including labor, and the cost of like produc tion in the eonntries which seek our markets, nor bave we hesitated to ghe this quantum of duty even thongh it involved nn increase over present rates and showed an advance of percentages and ad valorem cquiralents." On the ebanges proposed to he made in the rates of duty on wol and on the manufactures of wool - the subject of most dehate In the whole neasure the majority reported as follows: "By the eensus of 1880 , in every county in the Eulted States except 34 , sbeep were raised. In 1883 the 50 mber of sincep in the Uuited states was over 50 , (14), wo , and the number of persons owning thecks was in excess of a nillion. This laige number of fluch-masters was, to a cousiderable extcht, withirawn from the binsiucss of raising graiu and "ther farm products, to which they must returnif wool-growiug can mot be profitably was stimulated by the wrow thot this industry was stimulated by the wosl tarift of 18 bj , ind was in a prosperous combition prior to the aet of 18צ3. Sinee then the industry has diminished in alarming pruportions, and the hasiuess has neither been satisfactory mur profitable. the proposed bill the d'..ies on tirst and second elass wools are made at 11 and 10 cents a peound, as against 10 and 12 noder cristing law. On third class wool, costing $1:$ e cruts or less, the duty is rased from $2 \frac{1}{2}$ ernts a phomito $3+$ eents, and upon wrol of the tiarit class, custing above 12 cents, the duty recommended is an advance from 5 to 8 cents per pomed. ... There seens to be no doubt that with the protecthon afforded hy the increased dutics recommendied in the bill the farmers of the United States wili be ahle at
at. early day to supply subatintially all of the duction wlil be to the agricultural interests of duction wili be to the agricultural lnteresta of the country cannot be entimated. The production of $600,000,000$ pounds of wool would re. qulre about $100,000,000$ shcep, or an addition of more than 100 per cent to the more than 100 per cent to the present numher. and The lncrease in the duty on clothlag wool and substitutes for wool to protect the wool growers of this country, and the well-understood ract that the tarifil of 1883, and the construetion given to the worsted clause, reduced the duties on many grades of woolien goxsls to a polut that luvited lincreasing lmportations, to the serlous injury of our woollen manufacturers and wool growers, neeessitate raislng the dutles on woolien yarn, cloth and dress goods to a polut which will insure the holding of our houne parket for these nanufinetures to a much nownfactures to a much greater extent than is now possible. The necessity of thls lacrease ls apparent in vlew of the fact already stated that during the last fiscal yeur there were hnports of 1 manufuctur cs of wool of the forelgn value of告52, 881,482, as shown by the undervulued lurolces, and the renl walue in our market of nemrly $800,000,000$ - fully one. fourth of our entlre home consumption-ciulvalent to an import of at least $160,000,000$ pouuds of wool hat tie form of manufactured gookis. In revisling the woollengoods schedule so as to afford adeynnte protection to our wooilen manufacturers and wool growers we have contiuned the system of eonpound duties whileh have proved to be so essenthl In any tarif whlelı protects wool, provlding first for a specifie compensatory pound or square yard duty. equivaient to the duty whileh would be pald on the wool If imported, for the benefit of the wool grower, and an ad valor ni duty of froin 30 to 50 per cent, aecording to the proportion of lalior required lin the manufacture of the several elasses of goods, ns n protection to the 10 pernueturer against forelgn compettion, and 10 per cent additional upon rendy made clothing for the protectlou of the chething manufactures.

In compnting the equivalent ud vnlorem duty on manufactures of wooliens, the combinations of both the specitle duty, which is simpiy eompeusitory for the duty on the wool used, of which the wool grower receives the benefit, uud the duty whieh protects the mannfacturers, makes the average resultant rate of the woollengomls schedule proposed 91 is per cent. " $-R e$ purt of the Committee on 11:ay* and Mcans. " Substantialif as reported from the Comaittee on Ways and Meaus, it [the Mehimley Blill lassed the IIonse, ufter two wecks' debate, May 21 [1890]. The vote was a strictly party one. except that two Republicims voted in the negative. Juue 19 the bill was reported from the senatc Committee on Flumace with a very large numbre of :umendments, manly in the way of a lessening of rates. After delsiting the project during nearly the whole of Augnst mat a week in September, the senate passed it by a striet party vote, September 10. The differences beiwen the honses then went to a conference cominitt"c. The bill as reported by this commiltee, September 26, was adoptal by the House and Senate on the 27th and 30th respetlyely and ap Senate on the 27 th and 30 th respectlvely and ap. proved by the President Octoler 1. On the tinal vote three Republicans in each house declined to foilow their party. The law went ne-effect October 6 . Prominent features of the new

TARIFF LEGIBLATION, 1890, The Wilmant. TARIFF LEGIBLATION, 1804.

cher iles are as follows: steei rails reduced one. tel of a cent per lb. ; tin piates inereased from one ent to two and two-tenths cents perib., with the proviso that they shai! be put on the free ist at the end of six years if by that time the domestic product ahali not have reached an aggregate equal to nee thind of the importations; unmanufactured copper substantially reciuced; bar, block and pig tin, hithertu on the free list, receives a duty of four cents per 1 h , to take effect Juiy 1, 1898, provided that it be restored to tho free iist if by Juiy 1, 1805, the mines of the United States shall not havo produced in one year 6,000 tons; a bounty of one and tbreefourths and two cents per ib. upon beet, sorghim, cane or mapie augar proinced in tho United States between 1891 and 1905; ali im. ports of sugar free up to uunber 16, 1)utelt standard, in color and all above that one-half cent per lb. (formeriy from tbree to tbree and a buif cents), with one tenth cent additional if imported from a country tbat pays an export bointy ; a heavy increase ole cigar wrappers andi clgars; a general and beavy incrense on agricultural proiucts, e, g. on beans, eggs, hay, hops, vegetables andi straw; a heayy increase on woolen goods, with a new ciassiflcation of ruw wool designed to give more protection; paintings aud statuary reduced from 30 to 15 per cent. Tbe following (anong other) additions are male to the free isist: beeswax, books and pumpbiets printed exclinsively in languages other thau English, blite clay, coai tar, currants aud ciates, jute hutts und rarious textilo ani flbrous grasses, needless, nickel ore, flower and grass seeds and crude sul. phur. . . . Among the 464 piuts of difference between the two houses which the conference committee hati to aijust, some of the more lmportant were as follows: paintlugs aul stathary, mide free by the Ilouse nud kept at the old rate by the Senate, were fixed at balf the old rate; hibding twine, maile free by the Senate in favor of Western grain-raisers bui tased by the llonse to protect Eastern manufacturers, ilixed at balf the House rate; the limit of free sugar ixed at. number 16, as voted by the llouse, instead of number 13, ns passed by the Selnite, thins including in the free list the lower grades of refined as well as all raw sugar. The question of reci procity with American nations was injected into the tariff discussion by Secretary Blaine in Jultc. In transmitting to Congress the reconmendition of the International Ancricin Conference for improved commercial relations, the secretary dilited npon the importanee of securing the markets of centrai and sonth Americal for onr pronlucts, and suggesteri as a more specoly way thin tribties of reciprocity an annminent to the pending tiriff bill authorizing the l'resident to opnen our ports to the free cutry of the products of any American nation which shonlit in turn admit free of taxation onr leading arricul!ural and mannfactured prodnets. Iu July Mr. Blaine look up the idea again in a public correspondenee with Senitor Frye, eriticiaing severely the removai of the tariff on sugar, as thait on coifece had been removed beforc, without exncting trate coucessions in return. IIe complained that there wis not a section or a liuc in the bill as it emme from the House that woaldi open tlie nimirlset for another busbel of wheat or another barrel of pork. The Senate Finance Committee neted ducing an amendment to the hili authorizing and directing the J'resident to suspeni by proclana. tion the free introduction of sugar, molasses, coffec, tea and hides fromu any country which shouid impose on prolucts of the United States exactions which in view of tho free introduction of sugar etc. lie shouid deem reciprocaliy unequal and unreasonabie. The rates at which the Iresidient is to demand duties npon the commodities named are duiy ixed. This reciprocity provision passed the senate and the confcrence eommittee and became part of the law, "-Hulitical Science Quarterly: Record of Eiventr, Dec., 1890.
(United States): A. D. 1894.-The Wilson Act. - Protected interests and the Senate. Two years after tho embodiment of the extremest doctrines of protection in the McKinley Act, tbe tariff question was submitted again to the peopie, as tho dominant issue betwern the lie. puhlican nad Democratic parties, in the presicicntiai and congressional clections of 189. . The verdiet of 1888 was then reversed, aud tarifi reform carried the day. IIr. Cleveland was again elected Presidient, with a Democratic majority in both houses of Congress apparentiy placed thure to sustain his policy. A serious financlal sittiation was manifesting itself in the country at the time ho resumed the presitiential oflice, produced by the operation of the silver purchase Jaw of 1890 (sec Money and ibankiso: A. D. Taw of 1890 (sec MoNEY AND Bankiso: A. D.
$1848-1893$ ), nui by tbe extravagance of congresslonal appropriations, depleting the treasury. It beeame necessary, therefore, to give attention, ilrst, to the repeal of the mischicvous silver law, wheh was nceomplished, November 1, 1893, at a special sessiou of Congress called by the President. Tbat cleared the way for the more scrious work of tariff-revision, which was taken up under discouraging circumstances of penerif debression ani extenslve collapse it busiuess, thronghout the country: "The Democratic members of the Ilouse committee on ways and means began during the special session the preparation of a tariff lill. The outcome of their labors was the Wilson Bill, which was laid before the whole committee and nate publle Yovember 2\%. On the previons day the sugar schedule was given out, in order to terminate the minipuiation of the stock market throngh false reports is to the committec's conclusious. The characteristic feathres of the bill, as deseribed in the statelurent of Chairman Wilsou whieh accompanied it, were as follows: First, the adoption, wherever practicahle, of ni valorem insteml of specific dintles; second, the freeing from taves of those great materials of industry that lie at the bisis of prolluction.' Specitle duties were lueli to be objectionable, first, as concealing the true weight of taxation, and second, is bearing mujustly on consumers of commoner artieles. Free riaw materials were lich necessary to the stimulation of industry aud the extension of for eign trade. The scbedules, ns reported, slowed in addition to a very extensive increase in the free list, reductions in rates, as compared with the McKinley Bill, on all hut a small number of itemes. The important additions to the free list incluled iron ore, iamher, coal and wool. ifaw surar was left free, as in the existing law, but the rate on refined sugar was reduced from one-half to one-fourth of a cent per pound, and the bounty was repealed one-eighth per annum until extin-

TARIFF LEGISLATION, 1894. Tho Witeon det. TARIFF LEGISLATION, 1894.
gulahed. Some ancudments were made in the administrative provisions of the tarifilaw de. ofgned to soften, an the committec suid, features of the Mckinley Bili ' that would treat the business of innporting as an outlawry, not entitied to the protection of the governnient. It was esti. mated that the reduction of revenue effected would be about $850,000,000$, and the committee set to work on an internal revenue bill to make good this deficiency. On January 8 Mr. Wilson brought up the hill in the llonse, and debate began under a rule calling for a vote on the 29th. During the consideratlou in comnilttee a number of changes were mule in the schedules, the most important being in respect to sugar, where the duty was taken ofl reflned sugars, and the repenl of the bounty wns made liumediate instead of gradual. a chause was inserted, also, specifically repealing the reciprocity provision of the McKiniey Act. The greatest general interest was ex ited, however, hy the progress of the interna. revenue bill, the cbief feature of whicb Was fo proposition for an income tax. The hili, after formitiation hy the Democratic members of the ways and means committee, was hrought before the fuil committee January 22. Besides the lncome tax, the measure provided for a stamp duty on playing cards, and raised the excise on distilied spirits to one dollar per galion. As to incomes, the committee's bill. .. imposed a tur of two per cent on all incomes so far as they were in excess of $$ 4,000$, after allowing deductions for taxes, losses not covered hy Insurance and had dehts. Declarations of income were required from all persons having over $$ 3,500$, nnder heavy penalties for neglect, refusal or frand in the matter. Is w corporations, the same rate was levied ou all interest on bonds and on nli dividends and ail surpius iucome above dividends, excepting premilums returned to policy holders by mutnal life insurance companies, interest to depositors in savings banks, and dividends of buililing loan ussocia. tions. . . The income tax nucasure was immediately and very vigorously antagonized by a cousiderable number of Eastern Demorrits, headed by the New York Congressmen. It was adopted by the ways and means comnitter mainiy through Sonthern and Westeru votes. On the 2th of January it was reported to the House. A Democratie caucus on the following day resolved hy a smali majority, against the wish of Jr. Wilson, to attuch the neasire to the Tarifl lill. Accordingly, the rule regulating tbe debate was moditied to aliow diseussion of the amendmeut. The final votes were then taken on February 1. The luternal revenue bill was added to the Wiison Bill by 182 to 50 , 44 Democruts voting ln the ininority and most of the liepublicans not voting. The measure as amended was then alopted hy $20+$ to 140,16 Democrats and one Populist golag with, the Republicans in the negative. In the hanis of the Senate lianace comnittee the bill underwent a thorongh revision, differeuces of opinion in the Democratic majority leading to a carefni discussion of the measure in a party cancins. The measure as amended was laid before the full committee March 8, and was introduced in the Senate on the 20th. Cbanges iu details were very numerous. The most important con. sisted in taking sugar. iron oro and cout? Ufi the free list and suhjecting each to a small duty.

Dehate on the bill was opened April 2. It was moon discovered, howercr, tbat many Democratic suntors were seriousiy dimatlisfed with the scieclules affecting the industries of their re. sjrective atates, and at the end of April there was a inll in the debate while the faction of the majority adjusted their differences. 4 scheme of changes was thaliy agreed to in cau cus on May 3, and laid belore the Senate hy the finance committee on the 8th. The most important fentures were a new sugar schedule which had given great trouhle, and very numerous changes from ad raioren to specitle duties. Witil a net increase in rates." - Ititient Science Quarterly : Recordor' Piditimal Eieento, June, 1894. - Very aoon after the tarif bill appeared in the Senate, it became apparent that the more powerful protected "interests," nnd consplcuously the "sugar trust" had acquired control, hy some means, of several Democratic senators, who were acting obviousiy in agreement to prevent an honest fulfllment of the pledger of their party, and especialiy as concerned the free opening of the country to riw materials. Puhlic opinion of the conduct of the senator in question may be judged from the cxpressions of so dignifled an organ of the husiness worid ns the "Baaker's Magazine," Which suid in its lssue of July, 1894: "Indifferenco hus largely supplanted the hopes of the friends of tarify reform, as well as the fears of the honest advocates of high protection; and disgust, on the part of the people, has taken the place of truat In our Government, at the exposures of the corruption of the Senate by the most unconscionahle and greedy Trusts in existence. Hence the indifference of everybody but the 'rrusts, and their Senatorial attorneys and dummies with 'retainers' or Trust stocks in their pockets; as it is taken for granted that no interests, but those rich nnd characterless enough to huy wrotection' will be looked nfter. .. Nothing wili he regarded as finally settled... If the Tarif bili, as emasculated hy the Seuate, becomes a law; and it may as well be kliled hy the llouse, if the Senate refinse to recede; or, vetoed by the President, if it goes to him in its present shaje; and let the existing status continue, until the conutry can get rid of its purchasahie Senators and till their disgraced seats with honest men who cannot be bought up like cattle at so much per head. This is the growing sentiment of busiaess men generally."- Il. A. Plerce, 4 Reriew of Fimance and Rusiness (Banker's Magazine, July, 1894).-First iu committee, and stii] more in the Seate after the committee hall reported, the bill was radically changed in character from that which the House sent up. The profits of the sugar trust were still protected, and coal nnd iron ore were dropped back from the free list into the schedules of dutiahie commodities. According to estimates made, the average rate of duty in the Wilson Bill as it passedi the House was 35.52 per cent., and in the bill which passed the Senate it was 37 per cent., as ngainst 49.58 per cent. in the McKinley law. Slence, the general cffect of the revision in the Senate, even as manipuiated hy the senatore suspected of corrupt motives, was an extensive lowering of duties. Some very important ad. ditions to the free list made hy the Wilson Bill were left uutouched hy the senators - such as wool, lumber and sait. In view of the extent of the gains acquired, the supporters of tarif. reform In the liouse, after prolonged attempte In conference committee to break the atrength of the comhlnation agalnat free sugar, free cual and free lron ore, were reiuctantly prevalied upon to accept the Senate hlil. It had passed the Senate on the $8 d$ of July. The atruggie In conference commlttee latted unth the 18th of TARLETON, Colonel, In the War of the Amerlean Revoiution, See Unitid States of Am.: A. D. 1780 (Febreary-Avocst); and 1780-1781.

TAUNTON.

TARPEIAN ROCK, The. See Captroling Hill.
TARQUIN THE PROUD, The expulaion of. See fiome: If. C. 510 .
TARRACONENSIS. See Spain: B. C. 218-25.

TARRAGONA: A. D. 1641,-Occupation by the French.-Surrender to the Spanlards. See Spain: A. D. 1040-1642.
A. D. 1644.- Siege hy the French. See Spain: A. D. $1644-1646$.

TARSUS. See Cilicia.
TARTAN. - The title of the chlef commander -under the kling - of the Absyrian armies.

TARTAR DYNASTY OF CHINA, The. See Chiva: A. I). 1294-1882.
TARTARS, OR TATARS.-"The Chincse used the name li a general sense, to include the greater part of their northern neighbours, and it was In initation of them, prohahiy, that the Eu. ropeans appiled the name to the various nomade hordes who controiled Central Asia after the Mongoi lnvaslon. But the name properiy belonged, and ls applied by Raschlid aud other Mougol hilstorlans, to certaln tribes living in the north-eastern corner of Mongoila, who, as I beHleve, were partlally, at least, of the Tunguslc race, and whose descendants are probabiy to be found among the Solons of Northera Man-churia."- II. II. Howorth, Ilist. of the IIrongols, pt. 1, p. 25.- "The name of Tartars, or Tatars, has been varlously appiled. It was long customary among geographical writers to glve thls tltle to the Kaiuucs and Mongoies, nad even to use it as a distinguishing name for those races of men who resemble the Kainucs in features, and Who Lave heen supposed, whether correctiy or not, to be ailied to them $\ln$ decient. Later authors, more accurate ln the appilcatlon of terms, have deciared this to be an improper use of the name of Tartar, and hy them the appcila. tion lins been given exclusively to the tribes of the Great Turkisi race, and chiefly to the northern division of It, viz. to the hordes spread through the Russlan empire and indcpendent Tartary. . . Whatever may be the true origln of the name of Tartar, custom has appropriated It to the race of men extenslvely sprcad through northern Asla, of whom the Ottmman Turks are a hranch. It would, perhaps, be more strictiy correct to cail ali these nations Turks, hut the customary appellation may be retained when its meaning is determined." J . C. Prichard, Researches into the Physical History of the Races of Mankind, ch. $\mathbf{5}$, sect. $1(v, 2)$. -"The populations In question [the remuants, in southern Russia and Siberia, of the great Mongol empire of the Kiptchak], belong to one of three great groups,

August, when the House pasmed the Senate hill unchanged. The President deciined to give his signature to the act, but allowed It to become a law. Immedintely nfter the passage of the hiii, the Ilouse adopted speclal enactments admitting raw sugar, coai, iron ore, and barbed wlre, free of duty ; hut these hllis were not acted on in the Benate.
stockn, or famliies- the Turk, the Mongol, or the Tungus. When we spcak of a Tartar, he belonga to the flrst, whenever we speak of a Kalmuk, he belnggs to the second, of these dlvislons. It ls necessary to lnslat upon this; bocause, whatever may be the iaxity wlth which the term Turtar ls used, it is, in Kusslan othnoiogy at least, a mlsnomer when applled to a Mon. gol. It is stili worse to call a Turk a Kaimuk." - R. G. Latham, Tho Nationalitice of Eurori, v. 1, ch. 23.-"Tartars (more correctiy Tatars, hut Tartars is the form generuliy current), a name glven to neariy three miliilon inhahltants of the Russian emplre, chiefly Moslem and of Turkish origln. The majorlty - In Eumpean Russia are remnants of the Mongol Invasion of the 13th century, whle those who Inhahlt Siberia aro survivais of the once much more numerous Turklsh popuiation of the Ural-Aitalc region, mixed to some extent with Finnish and Samoye dic stems, as slso with Mongols. . . The ethnographical features of the present Tartar $\ln$ hahltants of European Russia, as weil as thelr ianguage, show that they contain no admixture (or very littie) of Mongollan biood, but beiong to the Turkish hranch of the Ural-Altaic stock. necessitating the conciusion that oniy Batu, his warriors, and a llmited number of lis foilowern were Jongolians, wifile the great bulk of the 13 th-century invaders were Turks."-P. A. KropotkIne, Art. "Tartars" E'ncycloppedia Brit.
Also in: II. H. Howorth, Ilist. of the Mongols, pt. 2, div. 1, p. 37.-See Tures; and Monools.
TARTESSUS. - "The territory round Gades, Carteia, and the other Phenlelan settlements in this district [southwestern Spalu] was known to the Greeks in the slxth century B. C. hy the name of Tartessus, and regarded by them somewhat $\ln$ the same light as Mexico and Peru appeared to the Spaniards of the sixteenth cen-tury."-G. Grote, Hist. of Grecee, pt. 2, ch. 18.'ihis was the rech reglon known afterwards to the Romans as Betlca, as Turdetanla, and in modern times as Andalusla. -E. H. Bunhury, Hist. of Ancient Geeng., ch. 21, sect. 2.

Also IN: J. Kenrick, Phoenicia, ch. 4, sect. 3.
TARUMI, The. See American Aborioines: Caribs and timir gindred.
TARUSATES, The. See Aquttante: The anctent thibes.

TASHKEND, OR $\because$ ASHKENT, Russian capture of (1865). See Russia: A. D. 1859 1876.

TASMANIA, formeriy Van Diemen's Land. -"The frst occupation of Van Diemen's Land as a Britlsh settlement dates from the 13th of Junc, 1802, when Lleutenant Join Bowen, of H. M. 8. Glatton, was instrncted hy the Govornor of New South Wales to proceed thlther from Sydney ln order 'to estahilish His Majesty's right' to the Island. . . A mere handfui of convlets, guarded by a few soldlers, constltuted the vanguard of the great army of criminals

TAsMANIA

Which was to follow. . . . Lecutemme Colonel

 Arthur was appolnted Lemutenati Governor of the colony in inget. is. Ahout is monthas after hla arrival in Vin Ibemen's Iamillt was proclatmed an Inderpentent crilony [mo New Noterir Wanks: A. I. INEI-1 Nit! ! and the hmprerlal Goverument Inaltuterl Executlve and Legls. lative connclls, whith advhory annl leglshative funetlons, Cb: For the brter afministration tito police dlastreets, whith a stlpendlary magta trate for each ; but whe causel the laws to be expented with a Druconle meverly, which trans. formed wretched rinuthts - many of whom hul been trunsported for trivial offences -Into anthen madnent, or ferodlons und revengefnl devils, Mentiled from the horrors of the penal settlement huto the solltulu of the hush, preferring to face a llugering denth by sturvinton rather than unilergo the tortures of the oft. repeated hash at the convlet stathon, ... In the year In thelr hands had reacoluped convlets whath arms In thelr hands had ree-established a relgn of ferror In the couniry distriets.- At lempth it becume a questlon whet her law or lawlensnersa should trlumph. (Eovernor Arthur pheed hims. self at the hoad of a strong boly of solderens and clellians, und huntend the durimig muthwe down. As many no loil presons underwent caplat punIshament in the years IN:S and INEO, and once more the plague of brignaluge was stampuclont.

The Governacit of the Ishaml remanachat ha the hands of Colonel. Arthar for twelve yenrs: and the Crown acknowledged the value of his servleces by rreathe him a baronit on his return to Enythid, mid by conferring on him the Gor. ernorship of Canaila. Captain sir Johan Franklin. . Was the next Governor of Van Dlemen's Land, where her arrived hatanuary, 18:37. . . To manthrs of even well-informed persots in the Old World the wery nume of this remote lishat Was unfumilhar matil it became assoclated with that of the Hhstrimes navigator: and men of high selentitle attulmaroms begun from that thane of which sa hitle waterest ha a pare of the word of which so little was actually known. John Frumkila was rephaced fin hewn. Aovernment of the colony by Sir John EMrdley Wilmot, on the 2lst of Nuguss, 1843. . . Nhortly ufter his appohtment to the Governorship of Vinn Hienern's Land, the penal settlemont in Norfolk Island had berea constlented a dependeney of the former ; ind the mast deprnvel, desperate und Irrechamadhe of the convicts hat hecen herdelel to gether on that beatifin spot. It would be dith. cult to exargerate the horrors, perpetrated by such a 'peatent coaservation' of crimanls of the deeperal dye. . . There were 2.0 one prismers is alherel to hate heen stera, mereiless and eruel in the "xareine of the anthority ent rasted to hime ture with " frequency and severity wheh fuileyl to breatk the spirit of the eriminals he endeave oured to tame, while in argrusuted the ferocity of their natares. . The result was the preva. leuce of astate of things upon the Islund, which, In its unexumplead misery nuld horror, it would ise Impossible to find adequate worls to describe. The Imperial Governaint happening to learn What a pandemonkum surfolt Island hud become. determined upon pat!ag an cad to it, and Gove.

ernor Wilimot recelvenl Inatructiona for the Immedate tramafer of the eatablishinent to Jort Arthur.

A turning prolnt hand now arrived In the history of Vang bemen's Latul; arrived Its free population fonad Itself confroutad by two alternatives. Eliher it miast consent to snereun.b to, and to be overwhelmad hy, the criminal nnd servile clement servile clement or It tunat remilve, us It anon ufterwarls dili, that transportation shoult revilled. . . The durker chapters of Tusmanhan story were by this thme ruphlly urning thelr lant pagur.

The viry regnl term of Governor new day whell was to mares the dawn of the assume a new name and furn a brighter chapter In lis hitherto glexmys story. . . . In the year 1880 the Imprenlal Parilument pused nu Aet for the better Government of the Anstrallan Colonles, and amone lis provinions was one for the establlishment of a Legishthere Counctll In Van Dements Land, to conslst of cleht Members nominated by the Goverior for the thac belng and slateen io the elecetell by as many distrets.

The ures Euglative couneld did but meet for the dlspateh of business until the 1st of Jan mary, 1852, mud one of lis earleent proxcedings was to pass a resolution cervolemmitory of the contmunnee of the system of trunsportation

Sit Wimham Denison pertinacionsly mivlsed the secretary of State for the colonios io uphold transporintion to Vian Demen's Laud, and stlg. tuatyed lis opponents as a few thnerant uglta. tors.' Ilupplly, wiser counsels provailed in Downing Sirect, and when the Earl of Aberdeen cume Into ollice, the Duke of Newriastle was en. abled to consey to the people of Vinn Inemen's land the gratify he assimate that portation to that Islanal had been put an for 'wer. The wedeonie disputch put an end to lishord la . . Bur. Mas? Was pubnore allectunlly whith such of the To hrenk the the past as were palufal in the present. there Was a general umberstandhy thet the odd name of Vian Diemen's Land shonld be ullow ofl to fall Intodisuse. mad that that of the Duteh navigator Whe hat dineovered the Islitad [hn 16 fel shonld be bextowed upon it. . Ilencerforth It was to he known as Tasmanin, and ther jadichens change was formally sumetioned by Legishative Enactment a shori time afterwaris.
the Imperial Partianent whian an Act of Romb lsedt Homaneat whinh reedsed the Rornf Asseltt upon the lst of M:1y, 1Nos, a Constitution wise bestowed upent Tasmanala. Two IIonses, loth of theme rlective, the Commeil conslsting of 1.5. and the Assmbly of :30 Memalers wre createl and invested with all the laphatative neal Almind rative powers and funtions on fowel he the aneust botre which hat enthe them by Janstence. - llistorionl herion at' Tismmmin, be James smith, in Auxtrehtrain Illuxpruferd, r. 2.
 moderne. procriss, lyy cransus lus isen it ond of modirne. procerss. Sy wisas ha 1801 its popu-

TATARS. Sce Tantans.
TAUBERBISCHOFSHEIM, Battle of Sec Germany: A. I). 1866.
TAUNTON: A. D. 1685.- The Weicome to Monmouth. - The Maids of Taunton and their fiag. - When Menmuth marched anto Tannton [A. D. 1685 ] was an cminenty prosperous placc. . . The townsmen had long

TAUNTON.

keaned towaris Presbyterian divialty and Whlg politics. In the great civll war, Taunton had, through all vicisalturles, andieted to the "willa. ment, hal been twlee closely besleged hy Goring, and hal been iwlee defended whth herole valour by Rotert Blake, afterwards the reaowned AIJ. miral of the Commonwealth. Whole atreets lud beea burned down ing the mortars and grenadea of the Cavallers.
. The chlilifen of the men who, forty gears lefore, had manned the ram. mirts of Tauntonagaluat the logallats, now wel. coinesl Monmonsti whith transports of joy and affecton. Every door und window was niformetl Wlith wreaths of llowirs. No nunu apperare the streets without wearing In hls hat ag bough, the londge of the popular cause. Dinners of the best familles In the town wove colonrs for the Insurgenta. One llag In partleular whs ambroldered gorgenisly with emblems of royal dig. alty, nad was offered to Yonmonth by a traln of young girls." After the s"npresslon of Monmonth's relpellon, and $w^{\prime}$ the "blowly As. alzes " of Jeflreys were it orogress, these Ilthe glrls were lunted out an. haprimoned, and the queen's malds of howor were permitteal to ex. tort money from thelr purents for the linylug of thele pardon nod release.- Loord Ilacanlay, Jhixt. of Eing., ch. 5.-See, also, ENoland: $\therefore$ D. 168.5 (May-lety).
TAURICA, TAURIC CHERSONESE.The anclent Greck uanie of the Crimea, derived from the Tanri, a surage people whon once inhab)lell It : "prerhapm," miys urote, " $n$ remmat of the exnelled Chmmerlans," she ibosphomes, Tue City de. and Chmimians.
TALRIS, Naval batile near.-In the Rman clvil war betwern (lasar and his antagonists an Important navil battle was fonght, 13. C. 47, near the llitle lsland of Tauris, on the lllyriai cunst. Vitialus, who commanded on the Ciesarlaun shle. defe:atcd Octarlus, and drove lidm ont of the Adriatic.-G. Long, Decline of the loman Republir, r. 5. ch. 21.
TAVORA PLOT, The. See Jesurts: A. D. 1757-1783.
TAWAC ONIT:S, The. Sce American Abo. RIOMES: Pawyer. (CADDOAN) FAMLLY.
TAXIARCH.-PHYLARCH.-"The tribe appears to have lisea the omly millitary classitleathon known to Athens, and the taxlarela the only tribe othcer for infantry, ns the phylarch was for cavalry, under the general-In-chlef."-G. Grote, Hiat. of Grecee, pt. 2, ch. 8.

Also in: G. F. schörnann, dutiq. of Girece: The stitre, pt. 3. ch. 3.
TAYLOR, General Zachary, The Mexican campaign of. sep Mexico: A. 1). 1816-1847. Presidential election and administration. -Death. See linited states of Am.: A. D.
TCHERNAYA, Bathle of the (1855). See Memid: A. I) 1N.ti-1850.
TCHINOVNIKS. - To keep the vast und complex burcaucratic - Tonclalue of thasshas and and tlon "it is necessary to have " large and well. dritled army of otheials. These are arawn cliefly from the ranks of the noblesse and the clergy, and form a peculiar soclal class called 'Tchianviks, or men with' Tchins.' As the Tchin phaysan laportant part In llussia, uot only In ther fothial worlit, but also to some extent in sucial life, it may be well to explain les signlti. cance. All otticers, clvll and millitary, are, ac.

TEMENIDAE.

cordlag io a acheme Iavented by Peter the Great, arfanged In fourteen clames or panka, and to eacls elase or rank a pmrtlcular nanse la attached. near Ann gencral rute is mina muat inegln at or near the buitom of the offlelnl ladder, and he numat remaln on each step a certaln apecitied tlme. The ntep on whlela he is for the mounent standling, or, hi other words, the oflichal rauk or Tchin whilh he pussesses, deterialnes what oflcerg the la competent to hole. Thus rank or Tchlan is a necessary coadition for rectlving an appolutment, but it does not desknate any actum riflese. and the nrmes of the different ranks are ex. tremely apt to mislead a forelguer."-1). $\mathbf{3}$. Wulace, hi, main, ch. 13.
TCHOUPRIA, Battle of ( $\mathrm{I}^{2} \mathrm{O} 4$ ). See Bal. Kan and Danubian stathe: I H-10til Centuriea ( S bisiti)

TEA: Introduction Into Europe. - ' The Dutch East Indla (Conn puny were the first to ln trexluce It lito Europe, and $n$ small guautity came to Fagkiam from Ilollatal In 1606 . The bast Indla Company therenfer ordered thelr agent at liantum tos send home small quantliles, Whath they wisked to introxluce as presionts, but Ita price was biac. per Ib., and It was fittle thought of. Twenty yerm clapsed before the Compmay firat declded on lapmorting tea, but by degrees of tirat declidel ons luaporting teal hut hy degrees it came Into gerueral use. In 1 fis the lupurts of tean wree only 150, , (14x) ins: fla 1750 they reached
 - $3.500,000$ liss., natl lu 1870, $141,000,0001 \mathrm{lb}$." - L. Lievl. Ifint. of Pritish Cimmerce, p. 230.

TEA-PARTY, The Boaton. See Boston: A. 1). 1773.

TEA-ROOM PARTY, The. Sce Enaland: A. 1). INGT-1 NHiN.

TEARLESS BATTLE, The (B. C. 368). See Cinkerf: 13. (! 381-;iby.
TECPANECAS, The. see Merico: A. D. 1825-150:.
TECTOSAGES. See Vour.s.
TECUMSEH, and his Indian League. See Limpin Statse or. Am.: A. D. 1811: and 18l2-

TECUNA, The. S'e Amearcin AbobioNEN: GLek nu Coco Ghorl.
TEGYRA, Battle of.- The first Iniportunt vletory won by the Thelons (B. (. B7a), iu the war which broke the power of Sparta. It was fought in Iokrian territory.-C. Thirlwall, Hist. of Civerice eh. 3s.
TEHUEL-CHE, The. See Amemin Abonlanes: Patumsiaxs.
TEKKE TURCOMANS, Russian subjugatlon of. Sie litssis: A. 1). INf0-1881.
TEL EL AMARNA TABLETS, The. See Eovir: ABoct B. (́. lij(k)-14(1).
TEL EL KEBIR, Battle of (1882). See E(iy1T: A. 11. 18sㅇ-18צ3.
TELAMON, Battle of (B. C. 225). See Ronk: B. © 2 2
TELEGRAPH, Invention of the. See Ele: Thical Discovfery.
TELINGAS, The. Se Turanaan Races. Switzi:li Wh: Tum, The Legend of. Sce Switanir wn: Tue Ther: Funest CAstons TEMF NIDE, The. - $\cdot$ The history of the Macedoni,un kinzedon is the hlastory of lis royal race The nepubere of the roysi house cnifal themserves Temenidar; 1. e. they renerated as their orisloal ancestor the samic Temenns who "ins accounte: the founder of the lleremide dy:

TEMENHD.E:

TEMPIARS.

nanty In Peloponnestan Argum,"-E. ('urtion, llint. If (irrece. st: 7, rh, 1 ir, 8).

TEMENITES. - One inf the Eulurlis of the anclent elty of symense was ma colleal froms the tained. It aflorwanta hecmue a purt of the cley calleal Seapolis.

TEMESVAR, Battle of ( 1849 ). She AI'A THI: A. I). $1 \times 1 \times-1 \times 13$.
Slege and capture of ( 8786 ). Neve Ilexankr A. 1). lints-1:1s.

TEMPE, Vale of. Ne Tifmealey.

TEMPERANCE MOVEMENTS. - Or gimiant Imwanents of polmprance reform up frat known Trimperanere sixioty la suled thl laver county, Commendere. In Besw the mext mpearet In Narutogn comaty, Niow lork, In I N mind INMI.
 slon of hitempermere win forined. In 1 wety thi moveruent was onttomifand liy the organtathon of the Imerienn Temperance Nuxdete. In that Yיine, too, It was takell ull In Irelunil and siot. Innul, ly soclethes furnuel at Sew lions, la the furmere, und int Ghasiow, in the liteer. The thest Finglab madety of like kind is reportend to have t:abll furm at lbralford, lu 1s:un: hat a liritlsh atill Forelgn 'temperance sucinty' was orpanlatel fur general netuthon of the suliject as rurly as mownont for the whothte suppression of the verectled ufter fourtern yrars in acimmplishing restruln the trathe lind alremty' heent seepormi in then may lue wied to linve bein hrought to trial sprod trmpranare orgnlzations had ariwnor de tie of the Wishingtomhans, for the reelatantion of ilrunkirels, at hatituores. In 14to; the lingimal. la 1xit: the (Orier of Nons of Tamper.

 fomplars. in $1 \times 51$. In 1 Nim, Futher Mathew liumam sllimere, for the suppression of $1^{\prime}$ lighor tratice, was fornacl In (ireit llituin. Dewruber, 1ais, the Women's Tiomprance whi, liy mertines kor priger ha silious, wo

 In the sulne year, the l:he lathom tenipurance the Woman's Satomal Cloristan Temperance

 TEMPLARS: A. D. Ir18.- The Founding of the Order, - 111118 , nind $k n l \mid h t s$, of whont in the presede of Baldwh l., King of dernsalem. to the protection of the pllyrime whan risletel the Holy land. They were glien purt of the king'a the palnce and the Trouple -o whonce they terik the wane of Tremphars. In 11:\% Ilugh le Pay ena before the combell of Troyes, and gave nill acecolint of ther rupler hatl lix oljeecta, whllels were hitehiy alpirmel of hy the futhers. The cele. bratcid liermand, uhbot of (lalrvinx, tenk a lively Internet In its wilfare, and nath, mmine laprave. ments in ita rule. A white manith wow uselgned ne their lublit, tis wifilh Pope kingenling mome left lirmest ; thelr bmaner whe formed of the hlay unel White striped cloth namel Bunstunt, whitely ond herame thelr butterery, noul it hore the Imil In بome niemin're uf the ordir. "-T. Kilgho loy. The C'rumadera, rh. 2.

Lino is: I. A. Fronle, The Eyminh story of

A. D. 1185-83:3.-The Order In England and elsewhere. - 'Pher lintulat T'mplura first sinth side of the elrevt. Wher. Scuthmmpton 1 Iomse formerly stonal; . . Int when the order hat plrtev gud simplidter, we that that the anperchas grout reliefo-millary sucioty of the 'limple in Britah It was culfol the Xew Trmple, to dfs. tingulh it from the wrichand cotushlishment at IWhlarm, which fome thererforth to be katwn live the name of the Ohd Traphy., [In 1185] Cicoltres, Hee sulperher of the order in Englanel. Cinused in inipisithon tus su mante of the lands of the" t'emplars, . . . mat the nmount of all klnids mad income of the areler in Eurapu' ham lxeris corlinge to Mathew luris. Hio Truphars pos

I nine themsand manors or forelships in dom, lasider a larem rivenue une fint. esariving from the confent charlahle 1 domatige of sims of monery from Thler Tionly:ary, In mildition!
11. II weallit. en fored vast privllages phars was suppressed mul its property contis. Emed. the conswot mal clurch of the Trample ha Lomlon wrere granted bie the king, first. in 131:s, to Ayner le Viabner, Eurl of bembroke; AfterWamis, successively, to the Dukp of Laneaster and tollugh le Denpernerr. ."The: Tomple then ranne for "I short time into the hunds of the Kinights Iloulitulters, and durlig the relgn of

TEMHLARES

TEMPIAAIES.

Fivand III. If nema in have been occupled by the lawyers, as ceanant uniler the IIospltalleri. When that omlep was ellemilvel hy IIenry VIII. the property pamand Into the hamin of the C'rown. the lawyen atlll loolding prosesaion as tenanta. Thla coatinuel tlll the reggn of James I., when a pettiloa was drawn up and premeated to theking asking him to aanign the property to the legal boxly in permaneace. This wan accorilingly doue ly letter jatent, In A. D. 1600, and the benchers of the Inner ami Mhille'Temple recelved poases. slon of the inulilinge, on conshiteration of a amall anaual payment to the Crown."-F, C. Woud. bonse, Dilitary Religions Ordera, if. 2, th. 7."Many of the old rutalnern of the Temple Le. came ourvanti of the new lawyers, who hal ousted thels manterm. .. The dining in palrs, the expulaton from liall for minconinet, and the locking out of chamiver were old customs almo kept up. The Judges of Common Plens retalned the title of knight, and the Fratren Norvlentes of the Templars arone agaln ln the character of learnel serjeanta-at-law, the colf of the momlern serjcant belng the lluen cu'f of the oll Freres Berjens of the Temple."-W. Thoralinry, Oh! and Iteolomion, r. 1, ch. 14.
Al,an in: C. U. Nildleon, The Kinightu Templiser, eh. 7.
A. D. 1sg9.-Their Inat campalgn la Palesthe. Nec (intannE: A. 1). 1299.
A. D. 1307-1314.- The prosecution and destruction of the order. - "When the llaly laml feli completely Into Nahomedan himid on the loss of Aere in 1:01 [me Jebubalem: d. D. 1201] they [the Tomplars] abonloned the bopeleses task and metted in (ypris. By the cud of the thirterenth century thry hand aliunst all returucil to Europe. They were peeullarly strong and wealthy In Frumer- the strength and wealth were allke dingerons to them. In liurla they buik thelr fortress, the 'Pemple, over against the Klag's palace of the Louvre; and in that atrong. hold the Klag hlmaelf liad once to take rufige from the angry I'arishn mob, exasperated by his beavy extortions. Juring the life and death atruggle wht the l'apucy. the order land not aken the whit "i, the ('hurelt usainst the suvereign; for thelr weulth land hehl then down. l'hillj, [Phlll] 1V], however, knew no gratlinde. and they were denmed. A powerfn] imf aceret society endangerel the safety of the state: thelr Woulth was a sore temptatlon: there was bublack of rmanours. Dark tales eame out respectlag the lunbits of the order; tales exaggerated nul hl $k$ ened by the diwensed Imaglation of the ze. Popuiar proverbs, those ominous straws of pub. lic opinion, were hearil in ilfferent londs. hlating at dark viees mal crlmes. Dombtlens the vows of the es $\cdot r^{\text {r }}$ Impused on unruly natures, led to grievous she equlnst the first laws of monl llfe. Aml there was more than this: there werestrange ramours of horrible Intidelity niml blasphems: mill men were prepared to lielleve everything. Sono one secmed to be amazed when, In Oeto. ber, 1307, the King made a sulden coup d'etat, urrestell all the Templars lu France on the same disy, and selzell thelr goonls. The Temple at Paris with the Grand Naster fcll Into lils honds. Their property was presently placed lu the custorly of the Pope's nurflos ln France: the knlghts Were aepl in dark andi alismal prisons. Their trial was long and tedlous. Two bundred nol thirty-one knlghts were examined, with all the brutally that examination thea meent; the Pops aloo toot the depmaltons of mort than ceventy. From there examinations what can we learni All means were uned: mome were tortured, others tlirintereil. othern tempted with promises of lm munity. Tluey male confembion areordingly: and the ghastly catalogite of thelr profemaed Ill-dolnge may be read in thie hintory of the trial. Whici whall any what truth there wan $f$. It all ! Irohably litte or none. Many eoriteamed and thin recanted thelr confemalon. The golilen lmage wlth eyes of glowing carbuncle whleh they wor. shlpped; the tranipling anl spltting ou the crueldx; the names of dialla and Inoplomet, the Hldeons practleen of the laltiathon:- all theae thing pana fupfore us, In the dim uncertainty, llke sonie horrlible procestion of the vleen In holl. Wlant the truth wat wlll never be known. . . . The knights mate a ilgnitiel defence In these lat moments of thelr fistory: they did not thach elther it the terrible prospect before them, or througla meniory of the tortures whleh they liad nudergone, I'nille opinion, In and out of France, legais to stir agalant the luarlmorous treatment they hal recelval; they were no longer proud and wenlthy prineen, lut sutfe v inartym, showlng bravery und a trm fri ealntt the eruclte's of the Khig and his lawy Marignl. I'lillp's nilndster aud frleme, and the Klug limself, were embarramed hy the number and tlrinness of thelr vletlma, ly the slgit of Europe looklng aghast, by the tururumes of the perople. Marlanil nugerated that men whon lind confensed and recuntel mixht le trentol us minpmed lieretles, such helng the law of the Inghlathon, (what Irony was licre !) nul aceordlacly in 1:110 an enelosure was mule at I'urls, wlibin whleh tiftynine Tomplirs perished miserably liy tire. Others were burnt luter nt Senlis. . . . The Klng und I'ope workerl on the ferbie Council, notll in March $1: 11^{2}$ the alnoititon of the oriter was formally decrede and lis ellef property, lts lituls and bulhlliga, were glven over to the Kinghtes of Ht. Iohm, to be used for the recovery of the 1 loly Wllian of Nangla, 'came not to pass, hut ruthep the enelowinent llil but make them worse than $b_{\text {b }}$. Eure. ' The cinit fort of tho spoii, as mlght be wril Dedleved, never left the Kinges hands. One mure tragedy, and then all was wer. The four Isemis of the ordar ware atiil ut larls, jrisoners - Inerpues de Malin, Griand Master; Guy of Auvergue, the Nister of Normindy, and two more. The lape hid reacrved thelr fate $\ln$ hlas own humbs, and mint 4 , rommisslon to Paris, who were enjoinel mure more to hiar the eonfessloa of these dhaniturios, ind then to condernu them to perpethal capilvity. But at the last mament the Grimd Daster nuil Uuy publlely retrnoted thelr furcel confesslona, and dechared themselves nut the order galltless of all the alomilnable clarges lahl ngalast them. Phillp was tilled with devonring rage. Whthout further trind or juigment he ordered them to be led that whit to the islaud in the seiue; there they were fisstened to the stake and birnt. "- G. W. Kltehln, Hist, of France. v. I, bk. 3, ch. 10, scet. 3. - In England, a slmilnt prosecutlon of the T'emplars, Instgated by the pope, was eommenecd lu danuary, 1308, when the ehlefs of the order ware seized and inprisomed and subjected to examina. tlon with torture. The result was the dissolution of the order and the confiscation of lts property.

TEIIPLARS.

but none of the knlghts were exccuted, though some died in prison from the effects of their harbarous treatment. "The property of the Teinplars in England was placed nuder the charge oi a commission at the tlme that proceedings were commencel against them, and the king very soon treated it as if it were his own, giving; away manors and eonvents nt his phumbure. A great part of the possessions of the Oriler was subsequentiy maie over to the llospitallars. . . . Some of the surviving Templirs retirid tin inonasterion, others returned to the worhi, ind assumed secuIar habits, for which they ineurred the censures of the I'ope. . . . In Spaln, Purtugal, and Ger. many, proceedlngs were taken against the Orier: their property was confiscated, and in some cases torture was used; but it ls remarkabie that it was only ln France, and those places where Philip's lnflıence was powerfil, that any Templar was actually put to demth. "-F, C. Wuol. house, Military Religiou* Urilers, pt. D, eh. 6-7 anel 5.

Also in: C. G. Adrison. The Khighte 7im. plars, ch. 7.-J. Mlehelet. Ilist, of France. lik: J, ch. 3.-11. If. Milman. Mist. of Latin Christianity, bk. 12, ch. 1-2 (c. 5).

TEMPLE, The (London). Sec Templatis: A. 1). 118.5-1313.  TEMPLE OF CONCORD AT ROME,

 The.-After the iong contust in linite over the Lleinian Lass, which were abopied 13. (: Bthi. M. Furius Cumillus - the great Cinilhus - be. $\ln g$ made Dictitor for the tifth time, in his eightfeth year, bronsht nlont peinee $l_{1}$ Il the patricians and plebeiams, in eomm" which he vowed in temple th (innour he conled dirdieate it, the ohd heror
III. its site, How onle of the larst known: .1211: of ancient lume cau still be trane with those certainty at the morth-western angle of the Fiorimu, immediately umber the Capitoline. The builing Was restored with great magnilicence by the Emperor Tiberius; and it lescervell to be son fur It commemorited one of the greitest cornts of Itumar history. "-l1. G. Lidlifll, Mixt. rif Rume, $b k$. 2, ch. 15 ( $r .1$ ).

TEMPLE OF DIANA. Siv liplins.
TEMPLE OF JANUS, The.-- 'l'h' 'Jemple of Jinus was one of the varlitet buihilates of Rome, foubled, wecordines tol live (i. 19.) ly Finom. It stond near the" ('uria, will the wortheatst side of the Furam, at the verge of it district called the Arsiketme. . [It was] a small 'sellicala' or shriac, which fuwardes the ent of the Iepublie, or wromaps varliur, was of bromze. It is shown with murlt minutouess on or First Brass of Jiern as a small cellit. withont cohmme, but with ridhly ornambutid fricze and coraiee. Its doors were (boser] on those rate occasions Whell lane was at pare with all the worli. From the time of its traditomal iommer, Numa, to that of livy, it was muly twice shat-once after the first liane líar, and seromally after the vietory of Augustus at Ictimm. contained a viry anciant statar. probably by an Etruscan ariist, of the dombletirerel immos Bifrons, or Gemimas. . . . Tha 'Trmule of Jinns gave its nanee to this part of the eqlye of the Formm, and from the numerous shmos of the argentarii or hankers and money-lenclers whirh were there, the word Jums cane to mean the nsurers' quarter."-J. II. Mhdleton, Anrient LBme in 1885 , ch. $5 .-$ The Temple of Janus was closed, once more, by Vespusian, after the destruction of Jernsitlem and the ending of the war in Julea, A. b. 71. "It himl stomb open sinco the German warsof the first princeps [Aigus?ns]; or, arcorling to the computation of the cliristian Orosins, from the birth of Chirlst to the over. throw of the Jewish people: for the senate line! refused to sumetion Nerois enprice In closing it on lifes preearions nceummodation witio Parthia. Nuver before had this solemn act adidresseri the ferelings of the eitizens so directly. . . . The Peace of Vespasian was eelebrated by a new hery of pocts and historians not less lonilly than the l'raco of Augustus. A new era of happiness and prosperity was not less passionately fredicted. "-C. Nurivale, Miat. of the homans, ch. 60.
TEMPLE OF SOLOMON, The.-"'Is soon as lavid hall given tollis peophe the boon of a mique capital, nothing conid be more matimal than the wish to adil saceredness to the giory of the eapital hy making it the cent re of the bat ional worship. According to the Chronicles, Divin had made unheard of proparations to buikd a honse for Gow. But it hidi leern derered untit that the sinetnary slouhi he buite hy a man whose hands were red with the blond of miny wars, and he ind roceived the promise that the great work should he acomblished ly his sum. Into that work Soinmon threw himself with learty zeal in the month Zif of the formetly year of his retirn, when lis kingelom wis eonsolidiated.

Il, inherited the friendshí, which David hat enjoyed, with lliran, King of 'Tyre.
The friemiliest overtures passed betwert the two kings in letters, to whirlo Josephas appeals as stial extant. A commerciai treaty was made by which sulomon engitged to furnish the Tyrian king wish inumal revenutes of wheib, barley, and oil, and llirath put at Sopomon's dispusai the skilled habur of an army of Sidnuian womdentters ambl nrtismas. $\qquad$ shime writurs have triad to minimise Solomon's work as a builder, and have spuken ot the Temple ins an exceredingly insignifleutt structure whinh wouhd unt stimid a moment's eomparisum with the smallest and humblest of unt own catherlrils. lusiguticiut in size it certainly was, but we mast bite forset its costly splendoirs, the romote are in which the work was andieverl, and the truly stupendous remstruetions whicla her dosign required. Donnt Horlish was selerted as a site hallowed be the trablition of dirithan's sircifiec. and more recently hy Divitis vision uf the Ingel of the I'retilence with his drawn sword on the threshing flemor of the Jebusite l'rince Aramanh. But tontilise this dinubly enuserraded areat involved alenose suberImman ditlentit's, which wonly have lnem avoindel if the luftirr hat lases suitathe height af the Honnt of Olives combl hase lofen ehosing. The raggal shmmit hidi to lie eniarged to is spuce of sion yaris stuate. und this levil wis supported by (yrlopenil watls, which hase lomg bern the woinder of the work. . . . The cationas, Guarries, water storiges, nud subterranema condults hewn ont of the solid rack, over whied J.rnsalom fa hailt, coubi auly have been constructed at the rost of immersurable tuil. It. was perhaps from his Figytime fither-in-lav that. Solomom, to his wha inst, learnt the secret of forced labour which alons remidered such undertakings pussible. . . . Four clisses were ubject to it. 1. The lightest labour was requlred from the natlve frechorn Israelltes (ezrach). They were not regarded as bondmen, . . yet 30,000 of these were required In relays of 10,000 to work, one month In every three, In the forest of Lebanon. 2. There were the strangers, or resklent allens (Gerim), such as the Phonlelans and Glhlles, who were Hlram's subjects and worked for pay. 3. There were three classes of slaves - those taken ln war, or sold for deht, or hoare-inrn. 4. Lowest and most wretched of all, there were the vassal Canaanltes (Toshahlm), from whom were drawn those 70,000 hurdenhearers, and 80,000 quarry men, the Helots of Palestine, who were placed under the charge of 3.600 Israellte officcrs. The hlotches of smoke are still vislble on the walls and roofs of the suh. terrancan quarrles where these poor serfs, In the dim torehllght and suffocating alr, 'laboured whthout reward, perished wlthout pity, and suffered wlthout redress.' The sad narrative reveals to us, and modern research confirms, that the purple of Solomon had a very seamy side, and that an abyss of misery heaved and moaned under the glittering surface of hls splendour. Apart from thic lavish costllness of lts materials the actual Temple was archltecturally a poor and commonplace structure. It was (1uite sinall -only 90 feet long, 35 feet hroad, and 45 feet high. It was meant for the symbolic hahitatlon of God, not for the worship of great congregatlons. . Of the external aspect of the bullilthg in Solomon's day we know nothing. We cannot even tell whether it had one level roof, or whether the Holy of Holics was like a lower chancel at the end of 1 l ; nor whether the roof was flat or, as the Hahbls say, rldged; nor whether the outer surface of the threestoried chambers whlch surrounded it was of stone, or pianked with cedar, or overlald with plinths of g. lel and silver; nor whether, In any case, It was oraamented with carvings or left blank; nor whether the cornlces only were decorated with open flowers like the Assyrian rosettes. Nor do ke know with certainty whether It was supporterl wlthin by pillars or not. . . . It reguired the toil of 300,000 inen for twenty years to buill one of the pyrumids. It took two hundrul years to buikl und four humbed to embel. lish the great Temple of Artemis of the Ephesians. It took more than five centuries to glve to Westminster Ahbey Its present form. Solomon's Temple only took seven and a half years to build; but . . . Its objects were wholly different from those of the great shrines which we have mentioned. $\qquad$ Needing hut little repair. it stool for more than fourcenturies. Succeeded as It was by the Teinples of Zerubhuhel and of Ilerod, it carried down thll seventy years after the Christlan era the memory of the Tabernacle In the wilderness, of whlch it preserved the gencral outline, though it exactly douhled all the proportions and admltted many lnnovutions. "F. W. Farrar, The First Book of Kings, ch. 14 (Expositor's Bible).

TEMPLE OF SOLOMON.

TENNESSEE, 1760-1772.
TEN, The Council of. See Venice: A. D. 1032-1319.
TEN THOUSAND, The Retreat of the. See Persta: B. C. 401-400.

TEN TRIBES OF ISRAEL, The. See Jews: Titw. Kinodoma ow Iaraki. ant Itidah.

TEN YEARS WAR, The.-The long conmles, Sparta at the head, which is usually called the Peloponneslan War, was divlded luto two periode hy the Peace of Nlclas. The war ln the first period, covering a decade, was known as the Ten Years War; though the Peloponneslan called lt the Attle War.- E. Curtius, Hiat. of Greece, bk. 4, ch. 2.-Sce Atiens: B. C. 421.

TENANT RIGHT, The Ulster.-The Tenant League. See Ireland: A. I. ' 18-1852.

TENCHEBRAY, Battit of (1206). See England: A. D. 1087-1135.

TENCTHERI, The. See Usipetes.
TENEDOS. See Thoja; and Asla Mnor: The Greek Colonik:

TENEZ, The. Éc. Anerican Amorignes: Zapotece, etc

TENNESE !:E: The boriginn inhabitants. See I!k:s AN Anoligisi A: ShawaNese, and CBe +at\%:ty
A. D. 1629. - Eninraret in :are Caroilna grant to Sir honerg tici*? See America: д. D. 1629 .
A. D. 1663. - Embraced in the Carolina grant to Monk, Shaftesbury and others. See Nortil Carohina: A. D. 1683-1670.
A. D. 1748.-First English exploration from Virginia. See Onro (Valley): A. D. 17481754.
A. D. 1768. - The Treaty with the Six Nations at Fort Stanwix,-Pretended cession of country south of the Ohio. See UNiTRD States of Am. : A. D. 1765-1768.
A. D. 1769-1772.-The first settlers in the eastern valley. - The Watauga commonvealth and its constitution.-"Sonn after the successful ending of the last colonial struggle with France, and the conquest of Canada, the Britlsh klng issued a proclamation forbldding the Englisí colonists from trespussing on Indian grounds, or moving west of the mountains [sec Nonthwest Tehlitory of the U. S.: A. D. 1768]. But $\ln 1768$, at the treaty of Fort Stanwix, the Six Natlons agreed to surrender to the English all the lands lying between the Ohio and the Tennessee [sce United States of Am.: A. D. 1785-1;68]; and this treaty was at once selzed upon by the hackwoodsmen as olfering an excuse for settling leyond the mountalns. However, the Irocuols had ceded lands to which they had no more right than a scorc or more other Indian tribes. $\qquad$ - The great hunting-grounds between the Ohlo and the Tennessee formed a debatable land, claimed by every tribe that could lold Its own agalnst lts rivals. The cistern part of what is now Tennessec conslsts of a great hlllstrewn, forest-clad valley, runnling from northeast to southwest, bounded on one slde by the Cumberland, and on the other hy the Great Smoky and Unaka Mountalns; the latter sepa. rating it from North Carolina. In thls valley arise and end the Clinch, the IIolston, the Watauga, the Nolichucky, the Frenel Broad, and the other streims, whose combined volume makes the Tennessee Klver. The upper end of the valley lies In southwestern Virglnia, the headwaters of some of the rivers belng well withln that State; and thongh the province was renlly part of North Carolina, It was separated therefrom by ligh mountaln chalns, whlle from Vir. ghla it was easy to follow the watereourses down the valley. Thus, as elsewhere among the mountalns forming the western frontler, the first movements of population went parallel with, rather than acrose, the ranges. As in western Virginia the firit settiers came, for the most part, from Pennsyivania, so, in turn, in what was then weatern Nnrth Carolina, and is now eastern Tennessee, the frst settlers came mainiy from Virginia, and, indeed, in great part, from this same Pennsylvanian stock. Of course, in each case there was aiso a very considerabie movement directiy westward. They were a sturdy race, enterprising and inteiligent, fond of the strong excitement inherent in the adventurous frontier lifc. Their untamed and turhuient passions, and the lawless freedom of their lives, made them a population very productive of wild, headstrong characters; yet, as a whole, they were a Godfearing race, as was hut natural in those who sprang from the loins of the Irish Calvinists. Their preachers, ali Preshy terians, foliowed close behind the first settlers and shared their toli and dangers. -. In 1769, the year that Boon 8 rst went to Kentucky, the frst permanent settlers came to the banks of the Watauga, the settiement being merely an eniargement of the Virginia settlement. which had for a short time existed on the head-waters of the Hoiston, especiaily near Wolf Hilis. At frst the settlers thought they were stili in the domain of Virginia, for at that time the line marking her southern boundary had not been run so far west.

TENNESSEE, 1760-1772.

TENNESSEE, 1770-1784.

But in 1771, one of the new-comers, who was a practical surveyor, ran out the Virginia boundary line some distance to the westward, and discovered that the Watauga settlement came within the limits of North Caroiina. Hitherto the settlers had supposed that they themselves were governed hy the Virginian iaw, and that their rights as against the Indians were guarantced by the Virginian government; hut this discovery threw them hack upon their own resourees. They suddenly found themselves ohliged to organizc a civi government.
About the time that the Watauga commonwealth was founded, the trouhles in North Carolina came to a head. Open war ensued between the adherents of the royal governor, Tryon, on the one hasnd, and the Regulators, as the insurgents styled themsel ves, on the other, the struggle ending with the overthrow of the Regulators at the hattie of Alamance [see Nontil Carolina : A. D. $1766-17 \% 1$ ]. As a consequence of these trouhles, many people from the back counties of North Carolina crossed the mountains, and took up their abode among the pioneers on the Watauga and upper Holston; the beautiful valiey of the Noliclucky soon receiving its share of this stream of inmigration. Among the first comers were many menhers of the ciass of desperate adventurers aiways to be found hanging round the outskirts of frontier cirilization. But the hulk of the settlers were men of sterling worth; fit to be the pioneer fathers of a mighty and beautifui state. . . . Such were the settlers of the Watauga, the founders of the commonweaith thst grew into the State of Tennessee, who carly in 1772 decided that they must form some kind of government that wouid put down wrong-doing and work equity hetween man and man. Two of their number aiready towered head and shoulders above the rest in importance and merit especial mention; for they were destined for the next thirty years to play the ehief parts in the history of that portion of the Bouth went which largely through their own efforta became the State of Tennessee. These two men, neither of them yet thirty years of age, were John Sevier and James Robertson. With their characteristic capacity for comhina tion, so striking as existing together with the equally characteristic ca pactey for individual selfhelp, the settlers determined to organize a government of their own. They promptiy put their resolution into effect early in the spring of $\mathbf{1 7 7 2}$, Robertson being apparentiy the leader in the movement. They decided to adopt written articies of agreement, by which their conduct should be governed; and these werc known as the Articles of the Watauga Association. They formed a written constitution, the first ever adopted west of the mountains, or hy a comnunity composed of American-born freemen. It is this fact of the eariy independence and self-government of the settlers aiong the head-waters of the Tennessee that gives to their history its peculiar importance. They were the first men of Anmerican hirth to estahlish a free and independent community on the contincut.

The first step taken by the Watauga settlers, when they had determined to organize, was to meet in generai convention, holding a kind of folk-thing, akin to the New Engiand town meeting. They then elected a representative assemhiy, a small parliament or ' witanagenot.' which met at Kobertson's station. Apparently the freemen of each little fort or paiisaied village, each hlock-house that was the centre of a group of detached cahins and ciearings, sent a member to this tirst frontier legisiature. It consisted of thirteen representatives, who proceeded to eiect from their number five-among them Sevier and Robertson-to form a committee or court, which should carry on the aetual business of government, and should exercise hoth judiciai and executive funetions. This court had a clerk aud a sheriff, or executive officer, who respectively recorded and enforced their decrees. $\qquad$ In faet, the dwellers, in this littic outlying frontier commonwealth, cxercised the rights of fuil statehoorl for a number of years; estabilishing in true American style a purely democratic government with representative in. stitutions."- T. Roosevelt, The Winning of the West, e. 1, ch. 7.
Alsoin: E. Kirke (pseud. J. R. Gilmore), The Rear-Guard of the Revolution, ch. 2-6.-J. Phelan, Hist. of Tennezsec, ch. 1-3.
A. D. ${ }^{177}$ 6-1784. - Annexation to North Carolina. - Cession by that state to the Congress of the Confederation.-Consequent re-volt.-Repeal of the act of cession.-"The Watauga peopie had hopes, when the articles of association were adopted, of being able eventually to forra an indejendent government. governed as the oider colonies were governed, by rogai governors. When the disagreements hetween the colonies and the mother country arose, they modified their views to the new order of things, and regarded themselves as a distinet though as yet inchoate state. But their weakness . . . rendered the protection of some more powerfui state necessary for thcir welfare. tion in 1776 . Their petition was grunted The provincial congress of North Carolina met at Halifax in November, 1776, and [Rolertson, Sevier and two others] were delcgates from Wsilhington District, Watauga settlement.

After

TENNESSEE, 1776-1784.

TENNESSEE, 1785.

the nnnexation of the Washington District the old form of government was aliowed to stand untli the spring of 1777. . . . In November of this year, 1777, the District of Washington becamc Wasiington County. . . . From 1777 until the disturhances of eight years later, the hlstory of Tennessee was a part of the history of North Carolina. . . . The part piayed hy tho lahabltants of Tennessee in the war for indepen. dence was active, and in one instance [at King's Mountain] decislve. Thelr operations were chiefly of a desuitory, guerrila kind, nnder tie leadersblp of Sevier . . and Sheiby." Sevier was also the leader In wars with the Indians, which were carricd on with unsparing fierceness on both sldes. "In the April sesslon of 1784, the General Assemhiy of North Carollna, In ac. cordance wlth tbe rccommendation of Congress itseif, as weil as wlth the dictates of a far-secing and enlighteced statesmanshlp, Initated the example of Virginia and New York [see United States of Ax. : A. D.1781-1786], and ceded to the United States ali the territory which is now the State of Tennessee. This of course included ail the settlements. The condltion of the cession was its acceptance hy Congress within two years. lintil Congress should huvo accepted the ceiled territory, the jurisdlation of North Cnrollna over it wus to remain in every respect the same as heretofore.

When the question of cession was tirst hroached, it was accepted hy the four representatives of the western counties at IIills. loro, as weli as by those who proposed lt, as the natural and fegltimate solution of a complex prohlem. No one apparently dreamed of opprosition on the part of the settlers themseives. There is no reason to think that the Wntanga pcopic had any objection to the cession.
The ohjection was against the manner of thic cession and its conditions. . The main cause of complaint was that North Carolina had left them withont ar $s$ form of goverument for two years. . . A storm of indignation swept tirougis the entire settiement. . . . The people regnried themselves without government, and, true to the traditions of their race, they sought the solution of the difficulty In thelr own resources. is oae of the notewortily facts in the blstory of institutions that the possessors of English tradition always begin with the tirst primal germ of local seif-government at hand, he it court leet, ourt of quarter scssions, township, cousty, school district, or miiitary company, and buliul upwarl. The Watauga pcopie liad nothing so convenient as the militiu companles, and they began with them as represeuting a more ninutely. varied constitueacy than the county court. Each company eiected two represeutatives, aud the represen tives so eiected in each county formed themseives lato a commiltec., and the three committees of Washington, Suilivan, and Greene counties met as a klnd of impromptu or temporary legislature, and declded to caii a generai convention to be elected by the peopie of the differunt countles. This conventlon met on the $23 i$ of August, 1784, at Joneshoro. John Sevier was elected presideat, and Landon Carter secretary. . . . It is supposed that the convention which met at Jonesboro adopted the resointion to form a 'separate and distinct State, IndepenWent of the State of North Carelitas.
visios was maic for the caling of a future conveution in which representation was to be according to companies. . . The meeting adjourned, having fairiy inaugurated the contest with North Carolina, which stili clajmed juris. diction." Soon afterward the legislature of North Carolian repeaied the act of cession, and "for a tinie It was supposed that ilils would terminate the agitation in favor of a new State." -J. Phelan, Hist. of Tennessee, ch. 5-10.

Also in: J. R. Gilmore, John Xevier as a Commonirealth Builder, ch. 2.-J. G. M. Ramsey, Inmuls of Tennessee, ch. $\mathbf{8}$.
A. D. 8780 .-The Battle of King's Mountain, Scc United States of Am: A. D. 17801781.
A. D. 1785.-The organization of the State of Frankin,-"Toward the ciose of May [1785] the western lands being again under discussion [In Congress], a resolutlon was carried urging Norti, Carolina to reconsider her act of tie pre. vious November, and once more cede to Congress her possessions beyond the monntains. Ilad the request been granted, there can be no doubt the measire would have speedily brougbt peace and quiet to that distracted region. But North Carolina was too inteat on hringing her rebellious subjects to terms to think for a moment of bestowing them with thelr laads and goorls oa Congress. Indeed, when the ncws of the request was carried into the district some months later, the malcontents expressel much surprise. They conid not, they sad, understand whis Congress shoulif upply to North Caroiina; North Carollna had notining to do witin them. The parent State had, by her act of 1784 , given them a way. Congress did not take them under its protection. They belonged, tinerefore, to noborly, and while in tbis condliton had culied a convention, had frafned a constlition, had formed a new State, haul chosen for it a name, and clected a Leglsiature wilich was actually in session at the time the act of the 23d of May wns passed. . . . Much of what they stated was strictly true. The delegates to the second convention hnd assemhled early $\ln 1785$. These had given the State the name of Franklin, and had drawn up a constitutioa whlch they submitted to the people. It was expected :- te men of the district would consider $i \quad$. and select delegates to a third $\begin{array}{ll}\text { conven } & \text {. } ~ \text { a should have fuli power to }\end{array}$ ratify $\quad$ The place tixed upon for the mecting , , mvention was Greenville. But as there 1 .s then no printing press nearer than Charlestou or IRichnoond, aad as inuch tlme must clapse before the constitution could become known to all, the delcgates were not to convene tili the 1 tht of November. Meanwbile the Legisinture was to organize. Elections were heid wlthout delay; meinbers were ciosen after the manncr in which the settlers had long been accust. uned to eiect representatives to the Assemhly of the parent State, and thesc, meeting at Jonesboro, conducted their husiness with so much dispatch that on the last day of March thes adjourned. Muny acts were passed by them. But one alone cxcited geaerai comment, andi was the canse of unbounded merrimeut across the mountains. A list of articies at that time scarce to bc met with in the State of Frankiiu wonld be a long one. But there would be no article in the iist less pientifui than money. . . . When, therefore, the Ixglisinture came to dietermine what should be tice iegal currency of tice State, it most wisely contented itseif with fixing the vaiuc of such artieles as had, from time Immemorial, been used as money. One pound of sugar, the law sald. should puss for a shliling-plece; the skln of a raecoon or a foz for a shilling and threepence. A gallon of rye whiskey, It was thought, was worth twice that sum, whlle a gallon of peachbranay or a yard of good nlne hunilred flax llinen was each to pass for a three-shliling plece. Sonte ditheu't, was met witin In selecting articles that curld be easily carrled from place to place and exprecslve of large values. It was, however tinaliy deterinined that a clean beaver-skln, an otter- or a deer-skln, siould each of them be the representatlye of six shillings. In this klnd of money, the law further preserihed, the salary of every offleer of the State, from the Governor down to the hangman, was to be pald. When thls aet beeame known in the East the wits were greatiy amused. . . . In the bellef that the new money conld not be counterfeited they were mueh mistaken. Many hundles of what seemed to be otter-skins were sonn passing ahout, whieh, on being opened, were found to be skins of rae. coons witil talls of otters sewed to them.

TENNESSEE, 1785.

TENNESSEE, 1861.

The name of the State has often been asserted to be Frankland, the land of the Franks, or Freemen. . . . But letters are extant from high offleials of the State to Benjamin Franklin deelaring that it was named after him." - J. B. Me.Master, Hist. of the People of the $\boldsymbol{U} . \bar{S}$.,, . 1 , ch. 3, with font-note.

Also in: J. G. M. Ramsey, Annals of Tennessee. ch. 4
A. D. 1785-1796.-The troubled history and the fall of the state of Franklin. -The rise of the state of Tennessee. - On reeeiving news of the organization of the in icpendent state of Frankiin, Governor Martin, of North Caroiina, Issued a proelamation wheh was skllfuily addressed to the cooier judginent of the mountaineers and which "was not whthout its effect." But, altiongh the adherents of North Carolina "gradualiy gained ground in the new commonwealth, a majority stili ciung to Sevler, and refused to recognize any government hut the one they themseives hat organized. In this opposition of parties, disorders sprang up which presently degenerated into lawiessuess, Both governments elaimed jurisdletion, and both sougit to exercise it. The consequence was that both became lnefficient. Party quarrels ensued: olif frieudis beame enemies; Tlpton and his foilowers openiy supported the claims of North Carolina; Sevier sought to maintain s authority as the executive offleer of Frankiin. This antilgunstic spirit ied to the comnission of varinus outrages. . But in the midst of these mglorious quarrels. Governor Sevler did not naglect to defend from indian aggressions the state over which he had been cailed to preside. ing . He was far lesg successful, iowever, In giv. lag peace to the ilstracted statc of Frankiln. Tinc contlnuance of lutestine dissensions, and the nice baiance of partins which tonk place $\ln 1787$, induced the people to refuse to pay taxes cither to North Carolina or to the iocai government, until the supremacy of one or the other shouid be more generaliy acknowledged. In this state of affalrs, with his government tottering to lts downfall, Sevler carnestiy appealed to North Caroling for a ratifleation of the independence of the state of Franklin, and to Frinklin himself, and the governors of Georgla and Virglnia, for counsel and asslatance. Disappointed on all sldes, he finally rested for support upon hls im. mediate friends, conscious of the rectitude of his own Intentions:. . . But the people were al. ready weary of a feud which threatened, at every fresh outhret $k$, to end in bloodshed. In 1787 the last legisisture of the state of Frankiln held Its sesslon at dreenville. .. . The conciliatory measures of North Carollin presently dlsarmed the maler untents of all further argument for oppotiag the rennlon; and in February. 1788, the state of Franklln ceased to exlst." Fleree confliets between Sevler and Tipton and thelr hotter partlisuns atlil eontlnued for some time; untll, In Detober, Sevler was arrested for high treason and Imprisoned at Morgante w... He cseaped soon after, tirrough the aid of ata sons, was elccted to the Norti Carollna senate, and was permitted to quaiify for the seat on renewligg his oath of aileglance. "Hls servlecs wcre remembered and hils faults forgoten." Meantime, settiements on the Cumberland, founded In 1 i79 by James Rohertson, had prospered and grown strong, and Nashville, the chief among them, nssumed its name in 1.84 , "In eommemoration of the patriotic services of Colonel Franeis Nash," of North Caroilna, who feil in the lantle of Germantown. In 1790, after ratlfying tire Federal Constítutlon, North Carolina, reemaeted the eession of her western territory, eoinciding, whth the present state of Tennessee, to the Enited States, stipulateng "tlat no regulation made or to be made hy Congress shall tend to the emancipation of slaves." The "Territory sonthwest of the Ohio " was then organizel, whth Wiiiiam Biount for governor. Six years later (Jannary, 1796), the populatiou of the Territory having heen ascertalned by a eensus to be 67,000 frec wiite lniabitants and 10,000 slaves, a constitution was adiopted, the State of Tenne was formed, with John Sevier for Gov - r, andl. after some opposition In Congress, it was formally admitted to its place and rank as one of the United States of Ameriea. Its irst lepresentative in the IIonse was Andrew Jaekson.- W. II. Carpenter, IIist. of Tennessee, ch. 13-1\%.

Also IN: J. R. Gilmore, John Setier as a Com manconlh. 7 nuilder. ch. 4-12.
A. D. 1785-1800.-The question of the Free Navigation of the Mississippi. - Discontent of the settlers 1 id intrigues among them. See Lollst xa: A. 1). $1785-1800$.
A. D. : ©i3-1814. - The Creek War. See Cinted States of Am. : A. D. 1813-1814 (Au-GU8T-APBIL).
A. D. 186 I (January-May). - The mode in which the state was dragged into Rebeilion. "The Legisiature of Tenuessee met on tire 6th of January. On the 12th, a biii for the caliing of a state convention [with the object of follow. lng the lead, in secession, which South Caroina had taken on the 20th of Decemher - See Unated States of AM. A. D. 1860 (October-Deceyber)] was passed. It was passed subject to the approval of the voters. The elcetlon took place on the 8th clay of Feliruary. The peeple voted against iniding a ravention hy 67,360 , to 64,156. In dlsrepard of this vote of the people, however, the ieglsiature, on May 1st, passed a joint resolution aitioriziug the governor to enter into military ieague with the Confedcrate States. The league was formed. The Governor, Isham G. Harris, sent a message to the legislature, announcing the fact. He stated its terms. It stipulated that until the atate should become a member of the Confederacy, 'the whole military force and milliary operaticis, offenslve snd defensive, of sald state, in the impending conflict with the Unlted States, shall be under the chlef control and direction of the President of the Confederate States.' It was also agreed that the state would, as soon as it should join the Confederacy, turn over all public property it might acquire from the United States. The legislature ratlited the league by decided majoritles of both lranches. These final proceedings took place on the 7th day of May. On the precedlng day, the legislature put forth a declaration of independence. It was submitted to the votes of the peopie for ratification. This document walves the right of secesslu, as follows: - We, the people of the State of Tennessee, walving an expression of opinion as to the ahstract doctrine of secession, but asserting the right, as a free and independent people,' declare that all laws and ordinances by which Ten. nessee be wase a member of the Federal Union, 'are hereby abrogated.' The vote for separation was deciared by the governor to be 104,019 for, and 47,238 agalnst that measure. It thus appears that the Leglislature of Tennessee, in declaring the separation of the state from the Federal Unlon, placed its action upon the ground of a rer jlutionsry right, which all admit to be inallenabie, If the cause be just."-S. S. Cox, Three Decades of Federal Legistation, ih. 6 .

Also in: F. Moore, ed., Rebellion Record, 0. 1, doc. 201-205.-O. J. Vlctor, Hist. of the Southern Rebellion, div. 4, ch. 11 (v. 2).
A. D. 1861 (April).-Governor Harria' reply to President Lincoln's call for tronpa. See United States of AM. A. D. 1861 (April).
A. D. 1861 (June). - The loyalty of Eat Tennessee and its resistance to Secession."For separation and representation at Rlchmond, East Tennessee gave [at the electlon, June 8, when the question of secession was nominally submitted to the people, the state having been already delivered by lts governor and legisiature to the Confederacy] 14, 700 votes; and half of that number were Rebel troops, having no authority under the Constitution to vote a: any election. For 'no separatlon' and ' $n n$ represen-tation,"- the stralght-out Uniou vote, - Fast Tennessee gave 33,000 or 18,300 of a majority, with at least 8,000 quiet citizens deterred from coming out by threats of violence, and by the presence of drunken $t-c u p s$ at the polls to insult them. . . By - iraud and vllalny, tie great State of Tennessee was carried out of the Union. The oyal people of East Tennessee, to thelr great honor, had no lot or part ln the work."-W. ${ }^{\text {T }}$. Brownlow, Sketches of the Rise, Proyress and Decline of Seceasion, pp. 222-223."Finding themselves powerless before the tyr. anny lnaugurated, the Unionists of East Ten. nessee resulvel, as a last resort, to hold a Convention at Greenville, to consuit as to the best course to pursue. This Convention met June 17 th . The attendance was very large - thirtyone counties having delegates present on the first day. Judge Nelson preslded. After a four days session it adopted a Declaration of Griev. ances and Resolutlons," declaring that "we pre. fer to remain attacher' to the Government of our fathers. The Constitution of the United States has done us no wrong. The Congrens of the United States has passed no law to oppress us. ... The secession cause has thus far been sus. tained by deception and falsehood." The Convention protested on behalf of East Tennessee againet being dragged into rebellion, and appolnted commissloners to pursue measures lookligg to the formation of a separate state. "Vsin protest! It was not long before those Unlonista and protestants agsinst wrong were flying for their lives, ard were hunted down like wild beasts."-O. \& Victor, Hist. of the Southern Rebellion, div. 5, ch. 5 (v. 2).
Also Ex: T. W. Humes, The Loyal Moun. taineers of Tennessee, ch. 6-11.-W. Rule, Loyalists of Tenn. in the late War (Sketches of War Hist., Ohio Commandery, L. L. ©. 2).
A.'D. 1862 (Fehruary).-The hreakling of the Rebel line of defenae at Fort Henry and Fort Donelson. See United States or Ay.: A. D. 1892 (Jangary-Febridary: KentuceyTennesbee).
A. D. 1862 (March).-Andrew Johnson appointed military governor. See United States or A.m. : A. D. 1882 (March-Jene).
A. D. 1862 (A pril).-The continued advance of the Union armies.- Battle of Shiloh, or Pittaburg Landing. See United States of Am.: A. D. 1862 (February- April: TenNESSEE).
A. D. 1862 (April-May).-The Union advance upon Corinth, Missiasippl. See Unrted States of Am. : A. D. 1862 (April-May: Ten-NEOBEE-M1ss1ssiPf1).
A. D. 1862 (June). -Evacuation of Fort Pillow and surrender of Memphia hy the Confederates. See United States of Am.: A. D. 1862 (JUNE: On The MisitisiPPi).
A. D. 1862 (June - Octoher). - The BuellBragg campaign.-Chattanooga secured hy the Confederstea. See United States of Am. A. D. 1862 (JUSE-OCTOBER: TENNESEEE-KEN: tеcery.
A. D. 1862-1863 (December - January). Bragg and Rosecrans.-The Battle of Stone River, or Murfreeshorough. See United States of Am. : A. D. 1862-1863 (Deceml_-JanvAhy: Tennesbee).
A. D. 1863 (February - April). - Engagements at Dover and Franklin. See UNITED States of A. : A. D. 1863 (Febriary-Apris: Tennesbee.).
A. D. 1863 (June - July). - The Tullahoma campaign of Rosecrans. See United States of Am.: A. D. 1863 (June-July: Tensesgee).
A. D. 1863 (August-September). - Burnside in east Tennessee. Sie United States of Am.: A. D. 1863 (Avocst - Seppremben: Tennebeee) Burnbide's deliverance.
A. D. 1863 (August - September). - The Chickamauge campaign and hattle. - The Union army at Chattanooga. See United States or Am.: A. D. 1863 (Avguet-September: Tensersee) Rosecrans' advance.
A. D. 1863 (October - Novemher). - The Siege and the Battles of Chattanooga. Lookout Mountain. - Misslonary Ridge. See United States of Am. : A. D. 1863 (OceoberNoчember: Temaceaee).
A. D. 1863 (October - December), - Siege of Knoxville. See United States of Am.: A. D. 1863 (October-December: Tennesbee).

TERROR

A. D. $1863-1864$ (December-April).-Wlnter operations. - Withdrawal of Longatreet from east Tengessee. See United States or Am : A. D. 1803-1864 (Drcembir-April: Ten. neguer-Minasserppi).
A. D. 1864 (April). - The Fort Pillow Massacre. See United Statis of Am. A. D. 1864 (April: Texnebser).
A. D. 1864 (September - October), - Forrest's raid. - The capture of Athens. See Unted States of An.: A. D. 1864 (Steptem-BER-OCTOBER: Gxorain).
A. D. 1864 (November), -Hood's invasion and deatruction, - The Battles of Frankila and Nashville. See U'mited Statee of Am.: A. D. 1804 (November: Tennepaek), and (December: Thnyebsee).
A. D. ${ }^{1865}$.-Presldent Johnson's recognition of the reconstructed State Government. See Unitid Statis of Am.: A. D. 1865 (MayJely).
A. D. 1865-1866.- Reconatruction. - Abolitlon of Slavery.-Restoration of the State to Its " former, proper, practical relation to the Union."-In the eariy part of 1865, Andrew Johnson, though Vice-President-elect, was 'stifi discharging the functions of military governor of Tennessee. A popuiar convention originating from his recommendation and assembing under his suspices, was organized at Nashville on the 9th day of January, 1865 . Membership of the body was limited to those who give an active support to the Union cause, who have acver voiuntarily horne arms against the Goverument, who have never voluntarily given aid and comfort to the cnemy.'. . . Tennessee, as Johnson bluntiy maintained, could only be organized and con. trolled as a State in the Uuion by that portion of iner citizens who arknswiedged their alieglance to the Goverament of the Union. Linder this theory of procedure the popular convention proposed an amendment to the state constitution, 'forever aboilishing and prohibiting slavery in the State, 'and further deciaring that 'tine LegisIature shail make no iaw recognizing the right of property in man.' The conventlon took sereral other important steps, annulling in whole and in detail ail the legisiation which under Confederate rule had made the Etate a gulity participant in the rebelifon. Thus was swopt away the ordinance of Secession, and the State debt created in aid of the war against the Union. All these proceedings were submitted io popuiar vote on the 22d of Fehruary, and were ratlfied hy an uffirmative vote of 25 , 293 agalnst a negative vote of 48. The total vote of the State at the Presidential election of 1860 was 145,333 . Mr. Lincoln's requir ment of onc-tenth of that number was abundiantiy complied with by the vote on ihe questions subnitted to the popuiar decision. . . Under tinis new order of decision. . . Vnder tinis new order of things, Wililam $G$. Brownlow, better known to the worid hy his soultriquet of 'Parson' Brownlow, Was chosen governor without opposition on the 4 th day of March, 1865. the day of Mr. Lincoln's second inauguration. The new Legisiature met at Nashville a month fater, on the 3 d of April, and on the 5th ratified the Thirteenth Amendment; thus adding the abolition of siavery hy National authority to that aiready decreed hy the State. The Legisiature completed it', wort hy eiecting two consistent Union men D. hy electing two consistent Union men, Dwiv T.

States Senate. The framework of the new Gov. ernment was thus completed and in operation before the death of Mr. Lincoin."-J. G. Bialne, Twenty Years of Cortgress, v. 2, ch. 3.- After the organization of a lojai government in Tennessee, more than a year passed before the restoration of the State to its constitutional relations with the Jnited States, by the aimission of ita Senatore and Representatives to Congress. Tennessce was the first, bowever, among tho seceded States to ohtain that recognition, by being the first to ratify the Fourteenth Constitutional Amendment. "Immediateiy on the reception of the circuiar of the Secretary of State contala. ing the proposed amendment, Governor Brownlow issued a prociamation summoning the Legis. iature of Tennessec to assemble at Nashvilie on the 4th of Juiy [1866].
. Every effort was mado to prevent the assembiing of the required number [to constitute a quorum]. The powerful Influence of the President himseif was thrown in opposition to ratification." By arreating recolcitrant members, and hy " the expedient of considering the members who were under arreat and conflined in a committee room as present in their piaces," the quorum was assumed to have been made up and the amendment was ratified. "Immediately after the nęws was received in Washington, Mr. Bingham, in the House of Representatives, moved to reconsider a motion by which a joint resolution reiating to the restoration of Tennessee had been referred to the Committee on Reconstruction," and, this motion being adopted, he introduced a substitute which declared, "That thc State of Tennessee is herehy restored to her former, proper, practical relation to the Union, and again entitled to be represented by Scnators and Representatives In Congress, duiy elected and quaiitied, upon their taking the oaths of offlee required by existing iswa." the foliowing day tinis joint resolution passed the House, and a day later (July 21st), it was adopted by the Senate. - W. H. Barnes, Hist. of the 39th Cong., ch. 20.
Also in: Ira P. Jones, Reconstruetion in Ten. nessee (Why the Solid South t ch. 7).
A. D. 1866-1871.-The Ku Klux Kian. See United Stateg of Am. : A. D. 1866-1871.

TENNIS-COURT OATH, The.

France: A. D. 1789 (June).

TENOCHTITLAN. - The native name of the city of Mexico. See Mexico: A. D. 1325-1502 .

TENPET, The. See Maolans.

TENURE-OF-OFFICE ACT: Its passage and repeal. See United States op Am.:
A. 1). 1806-1867 (Dec. -Mare); and 1886-1887.

TEOTiHUACAN, Pyramids at. See Mex. ico. Ancient: The Toltec Empire, &c.
TEQUESTA, The. See Amkican Aborioinee: Timuquanan Family.
TERENTILIAN LAW, The. See RoME: B. C. $451-449$.

TERNATE. See Moluccas

TEROUENNE: Siege and capture hy the Engligh(3513). Vee France: A. D. 1513-1515. TERRA Firma. See Tierra Firme.
TERROR, The Reign of - As commonly used, this phrase describes the fearful state of things that prevalied in France during a period

TERROR.

TEUTONIC KNIGHTS.

the Sall of Robespierre, July 27 (Ninth Ther. midor), 1784. The beginaing of the period so cailed is usually placed at the date of the coup d'état, May 31-June 2, 1793, which overthrew the Girondist and gave unrestrained power into the hands of the Terrorists of the Mountain. The Reign of Terror was not however fuily organized as a deilberately merciiess system, and made, according to the demand of the Paris Commune, "the order of the day," until the followlng September. In another view, the Reign of Terror msy be saic to liave begun with the creation of the terribie l'evoiutlonary Trihunai, March, 1793. See France: A. D. 1798 (Frbruary-April), to 1794 (JULy).
TERTIARII, The. See Beouines, etc.
TESCHEN, Treaty of (1779). See BA. varia: A. D. 1777-1779.
TESHER. -The name which the Egyptians gave to the Arahlan desert, nigulfying red earth. ee Eoypt: Its Names.
TESSERA HOSPITALIS. See Hospeg.
TEST ACT, and lts Repeal. See Enoland: A. D. 1672-1678, and 1827-1828 Removal of Disabilities.
TESTRI, Battie of (A. D. 687). See Franis: A. D. 5ll-7.
TESTS, Religious, In the English Unlversities: Abolished. See Enoland: A. D. 1871. TETONS, The. See AMERICAN Aboriolnes: Siodan Family.

TETRARCH. - As originaliy used, this officiai tltle, from the Greek, slgniffed the governor of one fourth part of a country or province. Later, the Romans applied lt to many trihutary princes, In Syris and eisewhere, to whom they wished to give a rank inferior to that of the tributary kinga.
TETZEL, and the sale of Indulgences. See Papacy: A. D. 1517 Tetzel.
TEUKRIANS, The.-"The eiegiac poet Kailinus, in the middle of the geventi century B. C., was the first who mentioned the Teukrians; he treated them as Inmlgranta from Krcte, though other authors represented them as lndigenous, or as having come from Attica However the fact may stand as to thelr orlgin, We may gather that, in the time of Kailinus, they were stlli the great occupants of tite Troad [northwestern Asla Minor]. Gradually tie south and west coasts, as well as the Interior of this region, became penetrated hy successlve colonies of Atolic Greeks. ... The name Teukrians gradualiy vanished out of present use and came to belong oniy to the legcnds of the past."- $G$. Grote, Ifist. of Greece, pt. 2, ch. 14.

TEUTECAS, The, See American Abohioines: Zapotecs, etc

TEUTONES.-TEUTONIC.-"In the way of $t$ lddence of there being Teutones amongst the Germans, over and above the assoclate mentlon of their names with tiat of the Clmhri [see Cimbri], there is but llttle. They are not so mentioued elther hy Tacitus or Strabo.
Arguments have been taken from . . the supposed connection of the present word 'Deut-sch' $=$ ' German,' with the classical word 'Teut-ones.'

The reasoning . . . runs thus: The syliahie In questlon ls common to the word 'Teut-ones,' 'Teut onirus,' 'Theod-iscas,' 'teud-uiscus,' 'teutiscus,' ' tut-iske,' 'dat-iske,' ' ll tut-sche,' 'deutsch '; whlist the word Deut-sh means German. As the 'Teut-ones' were Germans, so were the Cimhri also. Now this line of orgument is tet aslle hy the circumstance that the sj Ilahle 'Teutin Tent-ones and Teut-onicus as the names of the confederates of the Clmhri, is whoily unconnected witil the 'Teut-' In 'theod-Iscus' and Deutsch. This is fuily shown by Grimm in his dissertation on the words German and Dutch. In its oldest form the iatter word mennt 'popular,' 'national,' 'veruacular'; lt was an adjectlve appiled to the 'vulgar tongue,' or the vernacular German, in oppositlon to the Latin. In the tenth century the secondary form 'Teut-onicus' came ln vogue cven with German writers. Whether this arose out of imitation of the Latln form ' Romanlce, or out of the idea of an listorical connectlon wlth the Teutones of the classles, is lmmaterial. It is ciear that the present word 'Deut-sch' proves I. thing respecting the Teutones. Perhaps, hov 'ver, as early as the tlme of Ma: wal the word '1 utonicus' was used in a general sense, denoting the Germans In gencral. Certain it is that, before his time, it meant the particular peopie sonquered hy Marius, irreapective of origln or tocality."-R. G. Latham, The Germany of Tacitus, app. 3.

TEUTONIC KNIGHTS OF THE HOS-

 PITAL: The founding of the order.-"It is not possible to find the exact date of the foundation of the Teutonic Order, hut it was prohably about A. D. 1100 that it received its full organl. zatlon as one of the recognized Religious Military Orders. Its actunl commencement, like that of the other Orders, was ohscure and humbie. About 1128 or 1129, a weaithy German, who had taken part ln the siege and capture of Jerusalem, settled there with his wlfe, intending to spend the remalnder of hls llfe ln the practice of rellglon and in vislting the hoiy places. His attentlon and intcrest were soon excited by the misfortunes of his poorer countrymen, who came in great numbers as piigrims to Jcrusajem. Mnny feil sick, nad endured great miserles and hard. ships. Moved wlti compasslon, he received some of the more distressing cuses into hls own house. But he soon found that the work grew beyond this, and he huilt a hospital, with a ciapel dedicated to the Jlessed Virgin. In this institution he passed the whole of his tlme, nursing the siek pilgrins; and to their maintenance ine deveted the whole of his means." One hy one, others of his countrymen joined the pious German in his benevoient work, and "handed tisemselves together after the pattern of the Order of St. Joinn of Jerusaiem, and united the care of the slck and poor wlti the professlon of arms In their defence, under the title of Hospi, tallers of the Blessed Virgin. This little hand put themselves under the direction of the Grand Prior of the Hospitailers of St. John of Jeruselem, althougl they did not actually joln this Order, whose operations they so closely imltated.It was, however, during the siege of Acre [A. D. 1189-1191] that the Teutonic Order received lts final and complete organlzation as one of the great Military Reilgious Orders of Europe." At Acre, the Hospitallers of the Bicssed Vlrgln, then driven from Jerusalem hy Saiadln's conquest, jolned certaln citlzens of Bremen and Lubeck in providing a field-hospital for the wounded and slck, and in their new sphere of labor they acquired the designation of the Teutonie Knlgita of the Hospital of the Blessed Virgin at Jernas-

TEUTONIC ENIOHTS.

bem. "It is sald that the Order owed its coustitution to Predcrick, Duke of Suabla; hut there is much obecurity, and littic authentle record to determine thls or to fur lsh particuiars of the trunuaction. The Order weema, however, to have been confrmed hy Pope Colentline III., "—F. C. Woodhouse, Nilitary Religious Ordirs, pt. 3, ch. 1.

Conquest of Prusaia. See Prusaia: 18tr Century: and Livonia.
Subjection to Poland, secularization of the Order and surrender of its territories. See Poland: A. D. 1333-1572.
A. D. s809. Suppression by Napoicon. See Germant: X. D. 1809 (JULT-D Mcember).

TEWFIK, Khedive of EgTpt, The relm of See Eaypt: A. D. 1875-1888; and relgn

TEWKESBURY, Battie of ( 147 r) - The final battle of the "Wars of the Roses, 14 which Edward IV. of England verthrew the last Lancastrian army, collected by Queen Margaret of Anjou and her adlierents; fought May 4, 1471. Three weeks previously, nt Barnet, he had dc. feated and slaln the Eari of Warwlet. At Tewkesbury Queen Margaret was taken pris. oner, her young son disappeared, iow or when is uncertaln, a.ui iner husband, the deposed King Henry VI., dled mysteriously a few duys afterwards in his prison in the tower. It was the end A. D. $1455-1471$.

TEXAS: The aboriginal lahahitants and the name. - Amongst the small tribes found Misalissl in the 19 th eentury existing west of the Mississlppi on Red River and south of it, and beileved to be natives of that reglon, were the Caddoes, "the Nundakoes, the Inies or Tachles. Who have given thelr name to tife province of Texas, and the Nabedaches, . [who] speak diaiects of the Caddlo language," Also, the Appeloussa, ctc. Intassees, the Adalze, the Appelousas, ctc. - A. Gallatin, Synopsis of the Indian Tribes (Archoologia Americana, o. 2), introd., sect. 3.
Alao In: Prenident's. Mesage, Fitb. 19, 1806, with accompanying ioces.-See, also, American Aborionna: Apacieg Group.
A. D. $1685-1687 .-$ La Salle's shipwrecked colong. See Canada: A. D. 1669-1657.
A. D. 1819-1835.- Reinquishment of American claims to Spain. - Condition as a Mexican province. - Encouragement of immigration from the United States and Europe.-"By the treaty of 1819 wlth Spain for the cession of the Fiorilas, the United States relinquished all ciaim to thr western portion of Loulsiana iylng Florida: Red River and west of the Sahine [see Florida: A. D. is19-1821; and Lovisiana: A. D. 1795-1803]. After the final ratifcatlon of that treaty 'sy brith governments, and the cession and delivery of the Floridins to the United States, the Spanlards took formal possesslon of the country west of the Sahine, and erected it into and 'Province of Texastion of the Viceroyder the authority and jurisdiction of the Viceroy of Mexlco. From that time the Sahlne River was the western Mexico. The province of Teress near the Gulf of Mexico. The province of Texas at this time was occupied hy the natlve tribes of savages, inter. rupted only by a few Spanish settlements.

TEXAE.

The whole popuiation, including some settle. thents in the vicinity of the rea-conat, searceiy exceeded 5,000 souls, of whom the greater por: tlon were the remains of oid colonies formed during the Spaniah dominion over the provlace of Loulalana. Eech princlpal settlement, from San Antonlo de Bexar to Nacogdoches, was placed under the government of a milltary commandant, who exercised clvii and milltary authority withln the llmits of his preaidio. Nuch was the province of Texas under the Span. ish monarchy untli the gear 1821, when Mexlco became an lndependent nation. .. On the 24th of October, 1824, the Mexlcan States adopted a Republican form of government, embracing 'a confederatlon of Independent states.' known and deslgnated as the 'Unlted States of Mexico.' In this confederation the departments of Texas and Coahulla were admitted as one state, and wero jointly represented $\ln$ the Congress of Mexico. soon after the entabllahment of Independence in the United States of Mexlco, the colonlzatlon and settiement of Texas became a favorite subject of natlonai pollcy with the new government. To attract population for tie settiement of the country, colonization iaws were enacted, to encourage enterprising Indlviduais from foreign countries to establitah large coionles of emlgrants withln the llmits of Texis. Under the provislons of these inws enterprise was awakened in the Unlted States and in some portlons of Europe. Founders of coionles, or 'Empresarios,' were Induced to enter lnto engagements for the occupancy and setticment of large tracts of country, dcsignnted In thelr respectlve 'grants'; the extent of the grant belng proportlonate to the number of colonlsts to be introduced. The firat grant was made to Moses Austln, a natlve of Durham, Connceticut, in 1821, nad under lto provlsions he was required hy the Jexlcan authoritics to Introduce 300 families from the United States. This enterprising man, having departed from Bexar for the introduction of his coiony, dicd on his journey through the wliderness, lcaving his plans of colonization to be prosecuted by his son, Colonel Stephen F. Ausment requissessed the taicnts, energy, and judg. ment requisite for the arduous undertaking. Having succeeded to his father's enterprise, he subsequentiy acqulred more influence whth the Mexican government than any other 'empresario' in the province. . . . But a few yeara had eiapsed When nearly the wholc area of the department of Texas had been parceied out into extensi grants for settiement by the different 'empresarios ' with their colonles. . . . Emigratlon from the United States, as well as from Great Britaln and Ireland, continued to augment the popuiation $\ln$ ail the departments untii the year 1834 when political tmubles began to convulse the Mexlcan Repuhilc." In $1835^{\circ}$ "the whole AngloAmerican population of Texas was about 20,000; of this number Generai Austin's colony comprised no less than 18.000 , or more than haif the entire population. These were chiefly emigrants within the United States. . The Mexlcans within the llmults of Texas at this period scarcely exceeded 8,000 , most of whom reslded in the viclnlty of Bexar."-J. W. Monette, Discovery
 ALso ALS 15-21.

TEXAS.

A. D. 1834-8836. - The introduction of Sla-very,-Schemes of the Slave Power in the United Staten. - Revolutionary movement under Houston.-Independence of Mexico deciared, and practically won at San Jacinto. The American setiliers in Texas "hrought their slaves with them, and continued to do so notwithstanding a decree of the Mexican Congress, issued in July, 1824, which forbade the importation into Mexlcan territory of slaves from foreign countriea, and notwithstanding the Constltution adopted the asm year, whlch declared free all children thereaft born of sinves. Abmut that tlme the slave-ho. Jets in the United States began to see In Texas an ohject of pecuilar interest to them. The Missouri Compromlee, admitting Mlasouri as a Slave State and opening to sla very all that part of th: " Juislana purchase south of $36^{\circ} 30^{\prime}$, secmed at Grot to give a great adrantage to the slave power. But gradually it became apparent that the territory thus op cied to slavery was, after all, too IImited for the formation of many new Slave States, whlle the area for the hulldling up of Freo States was much larger. More territory for alavery was therefore needed to malntaln the halance of power brtween the two sectlons. At the same time tho Mexican goverament, growing alarmed at tho unruly splrit of the American colony in Texas, attached Texas to Coahulla, the two to form one state. The constitution of Coahulia forhade the importation of slaves; and In 1829 the Repuhilic of Mexico, by the decree of September 15, emanclpated all the slaves within lits boundaries. Then the American Slave States found themselves flanked in the southwest by a power not only not in sympathy with slavery, but threatening to become dangerous to its safety. The malntenance of slavery ln Texas, and cventually the acquisition of that country, were thenceforth looked upon by the slaveholding luterest in thls Repuhlic as matters of vcry great Importance. and the nnnexation project was pushed forward systematleally. First the American settlers in Texas refused to obey the Mcxican decreo of emancipation, and, $\ln$ order to avold an Insurrection, the Mexican authoritles permitted lt to be understool that the decree dld not cmbrace Texas. Thus one polnt was galned. Then the Southern press vlgorously agitated the necessity of enlargling the aris of siavery, whlle an lnterest In the North was created hy organizling three land companles in New York, which used pretended Mexican land grants In'Texas as the hasls of lssues of stock, promislng to make people rich over-night, and thus drawing Texas within the circle of American huslness speculation. In 1830 President Jackson made another attempt to purchase Texas [Henry Clay, In 1827, when Secretary of State under John Qulncy Adams, had already made a proposal to the Mexlcan goverument for the purchase], offering five millions, hut without success. The Mexican goverament, scentlog the coming danger, prohilited the immigration of Americans lnto Texas. This, however, had no effect. The American colony now recelved a capable and daring leader ln Sam Houston of Teunessee, who had served with Ceneral Jackenn in the Irdian wars. He went to Texas for the distinct object of wrestling that country from Mexico. There is reason for be. lievlig that President Jackson was not ignorant of his intentlons. Revolutionary convulslons in texas.
Mexico gave the American colonists welcome opportunties for complainte, which led to coillafons with the Mexican authortien General Santa Anna, who hy a succemefui rovolutionary stroke had put himself at the head of the Mexl. can government, attempted to reduce the unruly Americnas to obedience. In 1835 armed conflicta took place, in which the Americans frequently had the advantage. The Texanis declared their independence from Mexico on March 2, 1836. The declaration was algned hy alout 60 men, among whom there were only two of Mexican nationality. The constltution of the new repuhIfc confirmed the exfatence of slavery under fta juriadiction, and surrounded it with all posslble guarantles. Meanwhife Santa Anna advanced at the head of a Mexlcan army to subdue the revoIutionists. Atrocious hutcheries marked the progress of his soldilery. On March 6 the American garrison [ 250 men ] of the Alamo [a miasion church al San Antonio de Bexar] was massacred, and $n \mathrm{n}$ un $27+\mathrm{h}$ a large number [ 500 ] of American $f$ risoners at Goliad met a like fate. These atioclics created a great exclitement in the United States. But on April 21 the Texans under Hous. ton, about 800 strong, Infleted a crushing defeat upon Santa Anna's army of 1,500 men, at San Jacinto, takling Santa Anna himself prisoner. The captive Mexican President concluded an armistice with the victorious Texans, promising the evacuatlon of the country, and to procure the recognition of its independenco; hut this the Mexican Congress refused to ratify. The government of tho United States malntained, in appearance, a neutral position. Presldent Jackson had Indeed instructed General Galnes to march hls troops into Texas, if he should see reason to apprehead Indlan incursions. Galnes actually crossed the boundary iline, and was recalled only after the Mexican Minlster at Washlngton had taken hls passports. The organlzatlon of relnforcements for Houston, however, lasd been suffered to proceed on American soli without Interference. "C. Schurz, Lifo of Henry Clay, ch. 17 (0. 2).

Also wx: H. von Holst, Const. and Pol. Hist. of the U. S., ס. 2, eh. 7.- H. II. Bancroft, IIist. of the Nurifte States, v. 8 (Mexico, v. 5), ch. 7.A. M. Wulliams, Sam Houston and the War of Independence in' Texas.
A. D. $8836-1845$.-Eight years of independence. - Annexation to the United States.The question in Congresa and the country." Santh Inna, constrained ln hls extremity to acknow ledge vile Independence of Texas, . was llberated, and the new repuhllc estahlished in October, 1836, with a Constitution modeled on that of the United States, and wlth General Houston inaugurated as Its first Presldent. The Unlted States forthwith acknowledged its independence. In less than a yoar applicatlon was made to the Unlted States government to recelve the new repuhlle lnto the Unlon, and, though thls was at the time decllned, it was ohvious that the questlon was destined to play a inost important part in American civll policy. The North saw in The whole movement \& predetermined attempt at tue extension of slavery, and ln the lnvasive emlgration, the revelt, the proclamation of independence, the temporary organizatlon of a repuhlic, and the appitcation to be admitted into the Unlon as a state, successive steps of a consplracy which would, through the creation of half a dozen or more new atates, pive a prepon. derance to the alave power in the repuhilic. Mr. Fan Buren, who had declined the overturm for the annesstion of Texas, was succeederl in the Preadidency by General IIarrison, who, dyling al. most Immeulately after his Inauguration. was followel hy the Vice Presilent, Mr. Tyier, a Virginian, and a supporter of extreme southern principies. The annexation project was now atealily pressed forwaril, but, owfing to the ulitl. cuit circumstances uniler which Mr. Tyler was placed, and lisenslons arising in the party that had eiccted him, nothing decisive conld be done until 184t, When Mr. Upahur, tise secretary of State, being acelidentilly kifled by the hursting of a cannon, Mr. Caihoun succeeted him. A treaty of annexation was at once srranged, hut, on being suhmitted to the Senate, was rejecteni. Undiscouraged hy this resuit, the Bouti at once determinell to make annexation the touchatone in the coming Presidenilal election. ... Mr. Van Buren and Mr. Cliny, the proninent candiflates of the two opposing parties for the I'reslifency, Werc compeiled to niake known their views preventions," and both tise of the nominating Conventions," and both discountenanced annexation. Van Buren was accordingiy defcated in the Deinocratic Convention and Jumes K. Polk recelved the nomination, Clay wus nominated by the Whigs, and maic an attempt, in the succeed. Ing canvass, to change his grouuil on the Texas question; hut "hls attempt oniy served to make the matter worse, and coat him the support of the anti-slavery "party, whose votes wouid have elected him." Polk was chosen President; hut the annexation of Texas did not wat for hils inauguration. "On December 19th a joint resolution wasintroduced into the IIouse of hepresentatives providing for annexation. Attempts were made to secure half the country for free labor, the other half being resigned to slavery. . . This proposition was, however, defeated. . As the measure eventualiy stood, it made suitable provision for the mode in which the 'State of Texas' sioo..ld be adinitted into the Union, the disposal of its mu. nittons of war, public property, unappropiatel lands, dehts. On the main polut it was arranged lands, dehts. On the main poliut it was arranged that new states, not exceeding four in number, in addition to Texas proper, shouid subsequently be made out of its territory, those lying south of iatitude $30^{\circ} 3 \psi^{\prime}$ to be admittel with or without iatitude $36^{\circ} 30^{\prime}$ to be admilttel with or without slavery, as their people might desire; in those north of that line, siavery whe prohibited. Mr. Trler, on the last day of his term of office, unwhiling to leave to lits successor. Mr. Polk, the honor of completing this grent Southern measure, dispatched a swift messe: eer to Texas; her assent was duly securecl, and the Mexican prov. ince became a state of the Union. But the circumstances and conditions under whiclit this had been done left a profound dissatisfaction in the North. The portion of territory ceded to freedom did not helong to Texas; her houndary did not approach within 200 miless of the Miswour Compromise line. The South had the Missour cured the whole of the new acquisition: she had colzed the substancc, and had deluded the North with a shadow."-J. W. Draper, llist. of the Am.

TEXAS.

Albo in: T. H. Benton, Thirty Tears Viece, o. $2_{1}$ ch. $185,188-112,148$ - II. H. Bancroft, litit. of the Pacific States, o. 8, ch. 13,-11. Greeley. tiat. of the Strugglo for Slavery Extennion, ch. 10.

THANKSOIVING DAY.

A. D. 1846-184s. - The Mexican War. Sev MExico: A. D. 1846; 1846-1847; and 1847.
A. D. ${ }^{184} 1$. - Territory extorted from MexIco in the Treaty of Guadaloupe-fildalso. See Mexico: A. D. 184 .
A. D. x8jo. -Sale of territory to the United States. dee limited statms or Ax. : A. D.
A. D. 286: (February) - Secession from the Union. See United Statis of Ax. : A. D. 1861 (Jantaht-Fgnteaby).
A. $\Gamma 1861$ (February).-Twiggs' aurrender of the Federai army, poscr and atores. Bee CEMTRD NT ATEA OF AM.: A. D. 1800-1881 (De.

A. D. 1862. - Farragut's occupation of coast towns. Sec United HTATES of Ax.; A. D. I863 (MAY-JUL.Y: ON rma Mismiesippi).
A. D. 1865 (June). - Provinional covernment eet up under Presideat Johnson's Pian of Ro congtruction. Ne United State of AM, A. D. 1865 ( $\mathrm{MAY}_{\text {- Jut. }}$ ).
A. D. ${ }^{1865-1870 .}$ - Reconstruction.

United States of Am. : A. D. 1865 (MatJULT), and after, to 186 -1870.

TEZCUCO. See MExico: A. D. 1325-1502. THABORITES, The. Aee M Yoticism. THAI RACE, The. Seé Siam.

THAMANAEANS, The. - An aneient people who occupied the region in western Alghanitan which lies south and sout weast of Aghanistan thic Ilarmot-rud to the IIelmend of Herat. from the Ilarmot-rud to the IIelmend.-G. Raw Inson, Hir Gret Momarchien, Persia, eh. 1 .
THAMES, Battie of the. See United States or Am.: A. D. $1812-1818$ IIARRISON's Notes of Am. : A. D. 1812-1818 Ilarmison's Nohthwertern Campaion.
THANAGE.-An old Celtic tenure hy which ccrtain thanes' catates were heid in Scotland, and which feudalism displaced.-W. F. Bkene, Celtic Scolhn 1 v, 3, p. 246
THI. OR THE GN. See Comitatos; and ETTKI. ENOLAND: A. D. 9.88 .
AND: A. T). $449-473$ Jte Landing on. See EngLaND: A. I). 449-473.
THANKSGIVING DAY, The American. -In 1621 the Pilgrims, at Plymonth, "deter. mined to have a period of recreation, comhirad With thanksgiving for their many mercies. The Governor thereupon sent out four huntsmen, who in one day secured enough game to supply the Colony for nearly a week. Hospitality was ex. tended to Massusolt, who acecpted and hrought ninety people with him. The guests remained three days, during which they captured five deer to add to the larder of their hoats. . . . Without douht, religious services opened cach dry ; for the Pligrims wcre cheerful Claristians, who carried religion into all their affars. Thins hearliy religion into all their affairs. Thus heartily and royally was inaugurated the great New England festival of Thanksgiviug. .. I do not doubt that such a religious festivai was held after crery harvest."-J. A. Goodwin, The Pilgrim Remblic, pp. 179-180, and fout-nate. - The first Thanksgiv. Ing Day ohserved in all the Statcs of the Amer. ican Cilon was recommended hy a proclamation from the Continental Congress, after Burgoyne's surrender, in 173\%, and tixed for Thursiay. Dccrmber 18. Fach gear thereafter, until 1784, the Continentai Congreag continued to recommend a day for thanksiving services which the several States accepted and appolnted. Then came an interval during which the observance was left

THANRSGIVINO DAY.

THEBEB.

Wholly to the States. The frat Congress under the feiferal conatitistion, In 1790, slopted a remointion whleh requeated President Wadington to recommend a day for natlonal thankariving and prayer, and tise Prestdent's proclamation named Thuraday, Novenber $2 t$, of that year. Thls proceding, however, was much opponed by the antl. federalista, and It was not repeated until 1705, when l'resklent Waaisington, withoit action of C'ongress, recommendel a day of thanksgivlng, on February 10th. Untll IN15 there was no otiter natlonal appolutment. In that year, by rmoits. tion of Congren and proclamation of the Prens. dent, the 13th of Aprif was ext apart as a day of national thanksiving for the restoration of prese. Then, for almost half a century, the national obserrance ceased. It was revirel by l'roshient Lincoln in 1888, when he appointed a apecial day of thankgglving for the vectory at Gettyshurg, on the 6th of Xugust, and natlonalized, hy hfs proclamation, the antumnal Thankagiving thy of Novemher, whleh had become a tixed fentival In most of the States. From that tlme the day has been appointed for the whole nation each year hy prosidentlai prociamation. - W. De L Love, Ir., Hast and Thankagining Day of New Enghand, ch. 27.-See, also, lloindays, THANN, OR THAUN, Battle of (1638). See Grimany : A. D. 1634-1699. ... . Battlo of (1809). Sec Germany : A. D. 1800 (JanvabrJUNK).

THAPSACUS.-An Important forling place on the Euplirates, where many armles erossed the river in ancient times. Ace Apamea.

THAPSUS, The Battle of (B. C. 46). See Rome: B. C. 47-46.
THAPSUS: The Tyrlan colony. See Carthabe, Tift Dominan of.
THASOS.-THASIAN MINES.-Thasoe, an Island off the eoast of Thisace, In the northern part of the .Egean Nea, celchrated in antiquity for its golif mines. - See Atirens: H. C. 466-45.
THAUR, The Cave of Mount. See Mahomptan Conqueat: A. D. 609-632.
THAUSS, Battle of (1431). See Bonmyia: A. 1). 1419-1494.

THEATINES, The. - The founders of the Orler of the Theatines (1524) were "Gactano of Thiene, a natirc of Vleenza, and Glan Pietro Caraffa [afterwarls Pope Panl IV.]. The former had quitted a lierative post at the Roman conrt In order to transplant the jdeas of the Oratory of the Divine Love to his natlve city. Venice, and Verona, and had gradually come to concentrate his plous thoughts upon the reformatlon of the secular clergy of the Church. On hls return to Rome, Bonifacio da Calle, a Lomhanl lawyer, became intersted in his deaign, and then it was entiuslastically taken up by Caraffa, whose ilshoprle of Chieti, or, accorling to the older form, Theate, gave lts name to the new order of the Theatlnes."-A. W. Ward, The Counter-Reformation, p. 28. -" To the vow of poverty they made the special ulditlon that mot onty would they possess nothing, hut would even abstaln from begglng, and await the a!ms that mlght be hrought to their dwelilngs. . . . They did not cail themselves monks, but regular clergy they were priests with the vows of monks.

The order of the Thentlines did not Indeed become a semlaty for priests preclsely, Its numbers were never sufficient for that; hut lt grew to be a semlnary for bishops, coming at forgth to be conaldered the order of prients peculiar to the nobllity." - L. Ianke, Hiot. of the Popen, bk. 2, aet. 8 (v, 1).

THEBAIS, The.- The outhern district of Upper Figypt, taking It name from Thebes.

THEBES Eprpt. - "No clty of the old worid can atill liow so much of her former spleniour as Esyptian Thebes. . . Not one of the many temples of Thebes has wholly disap. peared; some are aimost compiete; many of the royal ind private tombe were, until the tourlut came, fresh wlth colours as of yeutenday
The origln of the great elty is obscure. Unilike Memplif, Thebes, her a hern rival, rowe to the herulahip by slow degrees. It was towards the elose of the dark ge marked hy the rule of Ilanes, that a new tlne of kings arome in the up. per country, wlth Theles for their caplenl. At flrst they were merely nohles; then one became a focal king, and his successors won the whole dominlon of Egypt. These wero the soverelgns of the Eleventh Uynasty. Thelr diste must be lefore Ahraitam, probahly wome centuries earller. - . Thebes, like the other elties of Egypt, had a civll and a religlous name. The elvil name was Aplu, 'the elty of thrones,' whieh, wlth the artlele 't' or 'ta, lecenmo Ta-Aplu, and was fdentlfied by the frecks with the uamen of thelr own famous elty, hy us corrnptiy cr" d Thebes. The nacred name was Nu-Amen, the elty of Amen, the goil of Thebes; or simply Nu , the eity,' and Nu -a, 'the great clty.' In these namea we recognlze the No-Amon and No of Seripture." FR. S. Poole, Cities of Egypt, ch. 4.- Sec, also, EOyFt: The OLD Empire ASD TEE MiddL Empire.

THEBES, Greece: The founding of the city. - "In the frultful plain, only traverned hy low hilis, whleh stretches from the northern teeilvity of Mount Cltharon to the Berotlan lakes opposite the narrowest part of the sound which separatea Eubora from the mainiand, In the "weil-watered, pasture-bearing region of the Aones, as Euripides anys, iay the eltadel and town of Thebes. According to Grenk tradition, It was huilt hy Callnus the Phonleian. The Aones, who lnhabited the cuuntry, are sald to have analgamated with the Phavielans whom Cuimins brought with him, Into one people, Tise eitulel lay on a hlll of moderate helght between the streams Ismenus and Dirce; it bore even in lilstorical tlmes the name Cudmea; the ridge to the north of the town was calied 1'luenicium, l. e. mountaln of the Pheenleians. In the story of Cadmus and Europa, Greek legend relates the Phonlcian mythus of Mel kurth and Astarte. In order to seek the lost gonleiess of the moon, Astarte, Cadmus-Mrelkarth, the wanlering sun-god, sets forth. He finds hur in the far weat, In Bootla, and here in Thehes, on the Cadmea, celehrates the holy marriage. . . There are a few relics of the wall of the eitadel of Cadmea, principally on the north slde; they are great hlocks, not quite regularly liewn. Of the elty wall and the famous seven gates In It $n^{c} h \operatorname{lng}$ remalus; even thls number seven poln' a it the Phoenleians as well as the deagratlons abileh wefe wistutal by these gates even in historical times. The Fiectric gate belonged to the sun-god Baal, called by the Greek Elector; the Neltle gate, It would seem, to the god of war. . . . The gate Hypslatla was that of

THEBES.

Zous Mypalito whove shrine atond on the Cadmen: . . the Protldic gate belonged to Astirte, whome domoln was the moon; the Oncalc gate In the north.west belongel to Athena Onca, who in expremily ealied a Pbe. alclan goddes.

It In probable that the twn remaining gatee, the Ilomoficic and the Creasic, wero also dedleated to gols of this eirele - to the spirits of planeta. Accorting to Greek legend. Calmus invented the building of walls, mining, armnur, and lettern. Heralotus contents lilmself with aying that the Phomiel:ms Who caine with Cadmus taught much to the Greeks, even writing: from the Iharalcians the Jonlans, In whose midat they lived, hal lenrned letters. If even thls earis borrowing of writing on the part of the Greeks is ineorrect, all the other particulars. - the legend of Codmus, whieh exiends to the Homerie poemn, where the ln. hahltants of Theles are cailed Cadmeans; the rites of the Thebans; the wails and gates, thken together, give evidence that the liarnlcians went over from Eubxin to the constinent. and bere Axed one of their most miportant and lasting eolonles upon and around the hlil of Cadmea. "- 11. Duncker, Ilist. of Greece, $\delta k$. I, ch. 4.- See, aiso, Minotia.
B. C. 509-506. - Unsnccesaful war with

B. C. 430. - Traltorous allance with the Perslang. See Gneece: B. C. 480 (Saliamia). B. C. 479- Siege and reduction by the confederate Greeks. - Puaishment for the Persian alliance. See Greqce: B. C. 479 ;Platak).
B. C. 457-456. - War with Athens.-Defeat at EEnophyta-Overthrow of the oligarchies. See GREEct: IB. C. 458 -4: 0 .
B. C. 44-445.-Bcotlan revoiution-Overthrow of Athenian infuence. - Defeat of Athens at Coronea. Seo Gheeces: 13. C. 440-44.
B. C. 431 -Disastrous attack on Plates. Opening hostillties of the Peloponnenlan War. See Grmace: 13. C. 430-431.
B. C. 404-403. - Shelter and ald to Athenian patriots. See ATHENs: IB. C. 404-403.
B. C. 395-387. - Confederacyagainst Sparta and allianee with Persia.- The Corinthlan War.-Battle of Coronea. - Peace of Antaleidas. See Greece: B. C. $390-387$.
B. C. 383. - The betrayal of the city to the Spartans. See Gryecr: B. C. 383.
B. C. $379-371$, - The liheration of the city. Rise of Epaminondas.-Overthrow of Spartan supremacy at Leuctra See Greece; B. C. 870-371.
B. C. 378. - The Sacred Band.-"Thls was an lastitution conbecting itself with eariler usages of tice land. For aircady in the battie of Delium a band of the Three Ilundred la mentioned, who fougit. Hike the heroes of the Homeric age, associated In palrs. from their eharlots in front of the main body of the soldiery. This doubtiess very aneient institution was now [B. C. 378] revived and carried out h. a new spirt under the guidance of Epaminondas and Gorgldas. They had quletiy assembied uround thein a elreie of youths, with whom they had presented themselves before the community on the day of the Liberation, so that they were regarded as the founders of the saered Band of Thebes. It was now nu lunger a privilige of the anolifity to belong to the Three Hundred; but those among the youth of the land who were in feeling the nobleat nad moat high.mindef. and who already under the appremano of the Tyranta hal been preparing themselves for the struggle for freedom. wero henceforth the eirct and the champlons. I. Was thelr duty ho mimu. late the reat eageriy to fcllow their example of bravery and difilpline: they were amaxlated with one anothor hy the bonds of frrenduhip and ly ldentity of feellinga. with A A solller-dike spirt Was happify blended with ethical and politieal pointa of view, and ancient national uange with the liceas of the prevent and wlth Pythagorean principies; and it conatitutes an honorable monument of the wlalom of Epeminondas. "一E. Curtius, Ilist, of lireece, bk. 6, ch. 1.

THEODOHE.

B. C. 370-362. - Intervention In Peloposnesus. - Succesaiva axpeditions of Epamplnondas.- Invalone of Sparta. Formation of the Arcadian Union,-Battle of Mantlnea and death of Epaminondas. See Uheeck: B. C. $371-389$.
B. C. 357-338. - The Ten Years Sacrad War wh th the Phoclans -Intervintlon of Phillp of Macedon. - Loas of ladependenci and liberty. Nee (inetice: 13. C: 357-S36.
B. C. 335.-Revolt.-Destruction by Alezander the Great. Nee (HEEEEE: B. C. 336 - 335 .
B. C. 316.- Restoration by Cassander of Maeedonia. Sue Gurarte: B. C. 821-812.
B. C. 298-290.-Siege of by Demetriun. Theikes, with other Brotlan towns, united In a revoit agalnat Demetrhis "pilorcetes, while the Intter heid the tirone of Macelnnia, ind was re. duced to submisaion, B. C. 290, ffter a siege Whieh lasted nearly a jear.-C. Thir)wali, IInt. of (ireece, ch. 60 .
A. D. 1146 .-Sack by the Normans of Slcily. -Ahduction of silk-weavers. Sec Byzantint EMPILE: I. I). 1146.
A. D. 1205.- Ineluded in the Latin duchy of Athens. See Aturss: A. D. 1205.
A. D. 1311 . - Conqueat hy the Catalans. See Catalan Grand Company.

THEGN, OR THANE. See Comitatcs; Ether; mini England: A. D. 058. THEIPHALI.-THEIPHALIA. See TarFalef.
THEMES.-Administrative divisions of the Byzantine Empire. "The terin thema was irst appiled in the Roman legion. The inflitary dis. thlets, garrisoned by legions, were then ealied themata, and ultimately the word was used merely to indieate geographleal adminlstrative divisions. "- (1. Flnlay, Ilixt. of the Byzantine Empire, bt. 1, ch. 1, *ct. 1. fimet-note-Syee, also, Byzustive EMpire: A. D. 717 .
THEMISTOCLES, Ascendancyand fall of. See ATHEss: 1 . C. 489-480, to $475-462$.
THEODORA, Empress in the East (Byzantine, or Greek), A. D. 1042, and 1054-1056.
THEODORE, King of Corsiea. See Corstca: A. D. 1724-1769..... Theodore I., Pope, A. D. 642-049.... Theodore II., Pope, 893. . . . Theodore or Feodore, II: Czar of Ruasia, 1584 1598..... Theodore III., Czar of Russia, 10761682..... Theodore Lascaris I., Greek Emperor of Nicen, 1206-1222..... Theodore Las${ }^{\text {caris }} 1259$. II., Greek Emperor of Nicza, 1255 ${ }^{259}$
THEODORIC, Ostrogothie kingdom of. See gotis: A. D. 473-480: and Rome: A. D.
488 .

THEODOSIAN CODE.

THESSALONICA.

THEODOSIAN CODE, The. See Confoe Junin Civilia.
THEODOSIUS I., Roman Emperor (Eleatera), A. D. 870-895; (Westera) 802-805; in Dritala, be Battalk: A. 1. $807-870 . .$. Theo doaluo IL., Roman Emperor (Eastera), 400-40; (Wsiters), 423-425. . . . . Theodoslus Ill., Ro man Emperor (Eastern), 710-i17.
THEOPHILUS, Emperor la the East, (Bysantine, of Greak), A. D. 820-842.
THEORI. - The name of Theori, among the anelent Greekn, "In addltion to Ite famillar alp. niffeation of spectatora at the theatre and pubile amhamadora to forelgn sanctuaries and feativaln, was apecially applied to certain puhic magin. trates, whone function it was to superintend and take charge of religions affairs in general, though they ofun prasensel aiong with this some noure extenwive political power. "-G. Schomann, Antiq. of Gieree: The shiste pt. 2, ch. B.

THEORICON, The.-" 1 yy mesns of the Thenricon. . . the mont perniclous lasue of the age of P'erfeles, there arome in a anail free ntate [Athens] n lavish expenditure, which was rein. tively not less than in the inewt voiuptious courts. and which consumed large sums, while the wars were unsuecessful for the nant of money. By it in understoxal the money whieh was distributed aming the peopic for the celeliration of the fentivain and games, partiy to reatore to the citizens the sum requireit for their admission into the theatre, partly to enahte them to procure a beiter menl. In part it was expended for sacritlees. with which a public feast was connected. The superintenieuts of the theorieon were not eallenl treasuries; but they evidently had a treasury: Their oflice was one of the administratlve oflices of the government, andilndeed of the most caninem. They were clected by the satimbly of the people through cheirotonia. Their oflire seems to have been nnnusl. Their numiter is nowhere given. Irohably there were ten of them, oue from each tribe. . . . The Athenlau people was a tyrant, ani the treasury of the theorlea its jrivate treasury."-A. Boeckh, Thalic Emomy of Athens (tr. by Lamb), bk. 2, ch. T: almo fi 13.
THEOW. "In the carlicat English laws slaves a:e found; the 'theow' [from the same root as 'dienen, to serve] or shave simple. whether 'w.alh' - that is, of British extraction, eaptured or purchased - or of the eommon Girrman stock descended from the slaves of the first colmists: the 'esne' or slave who works for hire: the ' wite-theow' who is reduced to stavery hecause he cannot pay his debts."-W. Stubbs, Connt. Ilist. of Eing., ch. 5 , seet. 37 .
THERA.-The ancient name of the Greek islani of Santorin, one of the Sporales, whose inhabitants were enterprising navigators, and weavers and dyers of purple stuffs. They are sald to have founded Cyrene, on the north Afri. can coast.-E. Curtlus, Hiet. of Grecee, bk. 2, ch. 3. - Sere cribenaica.

THERM/E.-"The Roman therme were s combination ou a luge scale of the common halnee with the Greek gymunasia. Their usnal form Was that of a large quadrangular space, tue sides of which were formed by virlour proticon. exedre, and even theatres for gymnastic and literury exercises, and in the centre of which stood a hlock of buildings containing the bath rooms and spacious halls for undergoing the compli. cated procest of the Rimman warm hath. The area covered hy the whole group of bulldiage what, In many cuces, very large. The court of the Buthe of Caracaila enclowed a apace of 1.150 feet on rach side. with curvilinear projectioni on two sidem. The central mase of bullding was a rectangle, 730 feet liy $380 . \ldots$ The other great Imperfal thermu of lonm, those of Nero, Tltur, Domitian, IMoctetian, and Constantine, wero probahly upon the same plan am the Thermo Caracmile. All were buitt of brick, and the Interios was decorated with stuem, monalra, or alabs of marble, and othes orammental atones. The puhllc halnce, as diatinet from therme. were used aimply as batha, and land onne of the hixurlous acresmories nttaclied to them which were found In the conrts of the great therme."11. Burn, lame and the Campagna, introul.

THERMIDOR, The month. See France: A. D. 170:l (Octobeh) The new replblican calendail.

THERMIDORIANS. - The Nlath of Thermidor. See Fhanck: A. D. 1704 (Julr), and 1704-1785 (Jvi.y - A1•ии.).

THERMOPYL. sai.
B. C. 480.-The defense by Leonidas agalast the Persian. See Gmekce: B. C. 480 (Ther. MOPY'

B i. 3 - Repulae of Philip of Macedoa. Sec. 'i. F B. C. 4.5 i-330.
E 1.. - - -Defense against the Gauis. See GA . C. $2 \times 1 \mathrm{c} 270$.
L. .: 191.-Defeat of Antlochus by the Ro mans. Sec Setrictide: B. C. 224-187.
A. D. 8822.-Greek vletory over the Turks. Sec Gheeck: A. I). 1 N21-1829.

THERVINGI, The. Sce Gotirn(Vingotin): A. 11.378

THESES OF LUTHER, The Ninety-five. Sue Papacy: A. D. 1517.

THESMOPHORIA, The See Gneece: B. C. 383 . thesmothetes. Sue Atmens: From the: Domin Mignathis to lb. C. G83. thesprotians. See Erimus; and Hellas.

THESSALONICA. - Therma, an unimpor. tant ancient city of Maccionia, recelvel the name of Thessabnica, abrat 315 B. C. in honor of the sister of Aiexander the Grent, who married Cassander. Cassander gave an impetus to the city which proved lawing. It rose to a high commercial rank, acquired wealth, and became, under the lRomans, the capical of the llyrian protinces.
A. D. 390.- Massacre ordered by Theodosius. - A riotons outbrenk at Thessalonica. A. D. 300, canset by the imprisonment of one of the popular favorites of the circus, was punished hy the Emperor Theoxlosins in a manner so fiendish that it seems wellnigh ineredibie. He caused the greatest possible number of the Inhubltants to be invited, in his name, to witness certaln games in the circus "As soon as the asenembly was complete, the soldiers, who had secerelly been posted round the circus, received the signal, uot of the races, but of a general massacre. The promiscuous carnage continued three hours, without discrimination of atrangers or natlves, of age or sex, of lanocence or gullt; the mosit moderate accounts state the number of the slaln at 7,000; and it is affirmed by some writeia that more than 15,000 Fletlms were saerificed. The guilt of the emperor ts aggravated by his long and frequent residence at Thessaloulca."E. Glbloon, Doeline and Fall of tho Romun Empire, ch. 27.

THESSALONICA.

A. D. 904-- Capture and pillage by the Saraceni.-The capture of Thesalonica by a piratical expedition from Tarsus, A. D. 904, was one of the most terrilile experiences of lte kind in that age of hlood and raplae, and one of whleh the fullest aecount, hy an eye-witness and suf. ferer, has come down to posterity. The wretehed Inhahitants who escaped the sword were mostly sold into slavery, and the splendld eity - then the seeond In the Byzantline Emplre - was stripped of all lis wealth. The defense of the place had been neglecteel, with implielt dependence on the goolwill and the power of St. Deme. trius.-G. Finlay, Jist. of the Byzantine Empire, from 716 to 1057, bk: 2. ch. 1, sect. 2 .
A. D. 1204-1222.-Capital of the ringdom of Saloniki. See saloniki.
A. D. 1222-1234.-The Greet empire. See Epires: A. D. $1204-1350$.
A. D. 1430.- Capture by the Turks.-Thes. anlonica, fcebly defended hy Venetlans and Greeks, was taken by the Turks, under Amurath II., In Feliruary, 1430 . "T. The pillage and the earnage, relates the Greek Anagnosta, an erewitness of thls dlsastrous nlght, 'transcended the hopes of the Turka and the terror of the Greeks. No famity escaped the swords, the chalns, the flames, the outragea of the Aslatics fierce for thelr prey. At the close of the day, bach aldiler drove like a herd before him, through the streets of Salonlea, troops of women, of young girls, of children, of caloyers and an, chorites, of monks of all the mounsteries. Priests were chained with virgins, ehlldren whth old men, mothers with thelr sous, in derislon of age, of professlon. of sex, which added a harharous lrony to nudlty and death itself.' "-A. Lamarthe, Hist. of Turkey, bk. 10, eect. 27.
THESSALY. - "The northern part of Greece la traversel in lts whole length by a range of mountsins, the Greek Apennines, which Issue fron the same mighty root, the Thracian Scomlns, in whleh Heanus, and Rhodope and the Illy rian Alps likewise meet. This ridge first takes the name of Pladus, where it intervects the northern boundary of Greece, at a polnt where an ancient route still nifords the least dilltcult passage from Eplrus lato Theasaly. From Pludus two huge arms stretch towards the eastern sea aud cuclose the vale of Theasaly, the largest and rehest phaln ha Greece: on the north the Cambunlan lifils. after naklag a bend towarls the south, terminate in the lofter helghts of olyupus. Which nre scareely ever entlrely free from snow; the opposite and lower ehaln of Othrys parilng. with its custern extronalty, the Malian from the Pagasem Gulf, sluks gently Towards the coast. A foarth rampart, whlch ruus parallel to Pindus, is furmed hy the range which includes the celebrated heights of Pellon and Ossa; the tirst a hroad and nearly even ridge, the other towering into a stecp and con. Fai jeak, the meishbuhr and rival of Ulympus,

THLERKY.

With which, in the songs of the country, it it said to dlapute the pre-eminence in the depth ally duration of ite snows. The mountain bar. rier with whieh Thessaly ls thus encompassed is broken only at the northeast corner hy a deep and narrow eleft, whleh parts Oasser from alym. pus; the defle so renowned in poetry as the vale, In history as the pass, of Tempe. The imaglnation of the anelent poets and declalmera dellghted to dwell on the naturai beauties of this romantle glen and on the sanctity of the sitco. from whleh Apollo had transplanted his laurei to Delphi.

South of thls gulf [the Gulf of Pagase]. the coast is agaln deeply indented hy that of Malla, lato whleh the Sperehelus, rislag from Mount Tymphrestus, a contlination of Pindus, winds through a long, narrow vale, which, though consldered as a part of Thesanly forms a separate region, whely dlatlngulshed from the rest ly its physical features. It is in. tercepted between Othrys and (Eta, a huge, rug. ged pile, which stretching from Pindus to the sca at Thermopyla, forms the inner barrier of Greece, as the Cambunlan range ls the outer, to whlch it corresponds In direction and is nearly equal in helght. From Mount Callldromus, a southern llah of Gita, the same range is contin. ned without Interruptlon, though under various names and different degrees of elevation, along the const of the Eubrean Sea. . . . Another braneh, lissuing from the same part of Plotus, connects lt with the loftier sumnits of Parnassus, and afterward skirting the Corinthian Gulf uuder the names of Clrphls and Helleon, proceeds to form the northern boundary of At. tlea under those of Cltharon and Parnes "-C. Thlrlwall, llise. of Grece, ch. 1 (0. 1).- In the mythlcal legends of Greece, Thessaly whs the klngdom of Iiellen. transmitted to his son Falus and occupled orlylnally by the Eolle brameh of the Ifellenic family. The Eollans, however, appear to have receded from the rieli Thessallan plalu, into Beotha and elsewhere, hefore various luvaling tribes. The people who fixed thelr nanse, at last. upon the eountry, the Thessalians, came luto it from Epirus, crossing the i?n. dus mountain range. - See, also, Greece: Tue Mighations; and Dorians and toniang.
Thetes, The. See Dent, Ancient legislation concerning: Greek; also, Athens: B. C. 594.

THEUDEBERT, King of the Franks (Austrasia), A. I. 598-612.
THIASI.- 'יThe nane denotes assoclations [in ancient Athens] whleh had chosen as their special protector and patron some delty in whose honour at certaiu times they held sacrifices and festal bauquets, whilst they pursued In addition objects of a very varied nature, sometimes joint. stock buslnesses, sonacthes only soclal enjoy. ments "-G. F. Sehömann, Antiq. of Oreece, pt.
3, ch. 3. mett. 2 .
TilibaULT I., King of Navarre, A. D. 1236-12.53.....Thibault Il., King of Navarre, 1253-1270.

THiBET. Sec Tiret.

THIERRY I., King of the Franks, at Metz, A. D. $511-534, \ldots$. Thierry II., King of the Franks (Austrasia), $612-613^{\prime}$. King of Burgundy, $508-613 . . .$. Thierry illi, King of the Franks (Neustria and Burgundy), Biol 601 .
Thiergy IV., Kling of the Franks (Neustria, Austrasia, and Burgundy), 720-737.

THIERS, Adolphe, and the fonnding of the thlrd Prench Republic. See France: A. D. 1871-1876.

THIN. -THIN ES, See CEDFA: The NAMEs OF THE COUNTRY.

THING. - THINGVALLA, - ALTHING.
-"The judicial and legislative assembly of the Northmen represented by the word 'thlng' (from 'tlaga' -to speak, and allled to our English word 'tiluk') can be traced In many local namea throughout England, and more especially in the extreme North, where the Scandlnavlan race prevalied, and where the 'thing' was primitlvely beld upon the slte of, or as an appanage to, a 'hof' or temple. It ls plainly seen In the Tyn. wald Court or general leglslative assembly for the Isle of Man, where the distlnctive feature of the primitive open-alr assemhiy stlil survives in the custom of the whole assembly golng once a year in soiemn procession, attended hy the governor of the laland and a mliltary escort, to a hill known as the Tynwald IIII, whenee all tbe laws thst have been passed In the course of the past year are proclaimed In English and Manx. In Norway there la an 'Al-thing' or general aswembly, and four district 'thingg' for the several provlnces, as weli as a Norwegian Parllament ismiliar to us as 'Stor-thlng'or great councll."R. 18. Sharpe, Introd. to Calendar of Willa, Court of Ilusting. London, v. 1.-"By the end of the period of the first occupation of Ieeland, a number of little kingdoms hai been formed ail round the coast, ruled hy the priests, wio, at stated tlmes, conyened their adherents and re. liners to meetlogs for the settlement of matters whlich concerned any or all of them. These were calied 'Thlngs'-meetlngs, 1. e. Motthings. Each was Independent of the other, and quarrels between the members of two separate Things could oniy be settled as the quarrels of nations are settled, by treaty or war. Bat the time soon arrived when the progress of poiltical thougit began to work upon thls dlisjolnted constitution; and then amal gamatlon of local Thlngs into an Althing, of local jurisdiction Into a commonwenith jurisdietlon, was the historieal resuit.

The Thlngvalla, or Thlng-glel Itself, was a vast sunken plalu of lava, about four mlles broad and rather more than four miles deep, lying with a dip or slope from north-east to south-west, between two great lips or furrows. A stream eailed Oxara, (Axewater) cuts of a rockr portlon of tire pialn, so as aimost to form an island. This is the famous $11 i l i$ of Laws, or Ligberg, whicit was the heart of the Icelandle boly poitlc. . . . Thls exampie of the Icelundle Thing is the nost perfect that is known to his. Lory;"-G. L. Gomine, Irimitive Fbld-Moots, ch.

Also in: G. W. Dasent, introd. to "The Story of Burnt Vjal."-See, aiso, Normans. - Nortilmex: A. D. 800-1100; and Scandinavian Atates (Denmake - Iceland): A. D. 184918.4.

THINGMEN, See Ilotegcahla.
THINIS. Sep Mempins, Eoypt; nlso Eoypt: The Old Empirie and tile Middie Empile.

THIONVILLE: A. D. 1643.-Siege and captare by the French. See Finance: A. D. 1643.
A. D. 1659 -Ceded to France. See Fhanch; A. D. 1659-1681.

THIRD ESTATE, The. Bee Eerates The Three.
THIRTEEN COLONIES, The. See MAFsachugette; Rhode Ibiand; Convecticut; New Hampaifire; New York; Ners Jehiey; Pennstlvania; Delaware; Marylaind; Viromia; Nohth Carolina; Scutr Carolina; Georoia; also, New Enoland.

THIRTEENTH AMENDMENT. United States of Am.: A. D. 1865 (Jant ART).

THIRTY TYRANTS OF ATHENS, The. See ATHENs: B. C. 404-403.
THIRTY TYRANTS OF THE ROMAN EMPIRE, The. Dee Romi: A. D. 102-284.

THIRTY YEARS TRUCE, The. See Grefec: B. C. 449-445.

THIRTY YEARS WAR, The. See GERMANY: A. D. 1608-1618, to 1648; and Bontmia: A. I). 1611-1618, and 1621-1648.

THIRTY-NINE ARTICLES, The.-"In 1563 the Artlcles of the English Church. forty. two in number, originaliy drawn up in 1551 under Edward VI., were revised lu Convocatlon, and reduced to their present number, thirty-nlne; but it was not untll 1571 that they were made blndling upon the elergy by Act of Parilament." -T. P. Taswell-Langmead, Engliah Const. Hist., ch. 12.

THIS, OR THINIS. See Eoypt: The Old Empile and the Middle Empine; also, MemPIII, EOYPT.

THISTLE: Its adoption an the national emblem of Scotland. Sce Saint Andrew : Tmes SCOTTINII ORDER.

THISTLE, Order of the.-A Seottlsh order of knightiond lnstltuted by James V. Iu 1530.

THOMAS, General George H.: Campaign againat Zollicoffer. See UNITED Staten of Am.: A. D. 1862 Jandary-Feumiary: Kentucky - Tennenare). .... Refusal of the command of the Army of the Ohio. Set United States of As. : A. D. 1862 (o) ene-Oetoner: Tennesaee-Kentucky). ....At Chickamauga, and in the Chattanooga Campaign. See UNiTED HTATES of AM.: A. D. 1863 (ivotgT-SEPTEMBEK) Robecrans' adyance; and (OctoberNovember: Tennessee). . . . The Atlanta campaiga, Lee Unitel Statria of Am.: A. D. 1864 (May: Georola), to (September-OctoBER: Georaia). . . . Campaign against Hood. See United States of Am.: A. 1). 1864 (Novembik: Tennesbee), and (December: TenNEASEE).

THOMAS A BECKET, Saint, and King Henry Il. Nee Exiol.asd: A. D. 1162-1170.
THOMPSON'S STATION, Battle at. See United staten of Am. : A. D. 1868 (Februart -Alilil: Tennensee).

THORN, Peace of (1466). See Poland: A. I) 1333-1572.
"THOROUGH," Wentworth and Laud's government syatem. See Inmland: A. I). 16333-1639.
THRACE: B. C. 323-28i.-The klagdon of Lyaimachus and lta overthrow. Sev Mac. EDON1A, dec: 13. C. 323-316 to 29\%-280.
THRACIANS, The.-" That vast space com. prised between the rivers Strymon aud Danube, and bounded to the west by the ensternmost Iily: rian tribes northward of the Strymon, was ocenpied by the inuomernble subdivisions of the race called Thracians, or Threrclans. Tirey were the mont numerous and moat terrihle race known to Herodotus: could they hy possihility act in unison or under one dominlon (he says) they wouid be irresistible. . . . Numerous as the tribes of Thraclans were, their customs and character (according to Herodotua) were marked hy great uniformlity: of the Gete, the Trausi, and others, he tells us a few particularities.

THRACIANS.

The general charan er of the race presents an ag. gregate of repulsive features unredeemed hy the presence of even the commonest domestic aflections. .. It appeara that the Thynians and Blthynians, on the Asiatic side of the Bosphorus, perhaps aiso the Mysians, wers members of this great Thracian race, whlch was more remotely connected, also, with the Phrygians. And the whole race may be aald to present a character more Aslatic than European; especlaily in those ecstatic and maddening rellgious rites, whlch prevalled not less among the Edonlan Thracians Asla, though wountalns of Ida and Dindymon of Asla, though with some important differences. The Thraclnns served to furnish the Greeks with mercenary troops und slaves."-G. Grote, Rist. of Greece, pt. 2, ch. 26.-"Under Seuthes [B. C. $424-1$ Thrace atood at the helght of its prosperity. It formed a connected emplre from $A$ bdera to the Danube, from Byzantium to the Strymon.

The land abounded in resources, in corn and flocks and herds, In gold and sllver. No such atate had as yet existed In the whole circuit of the Egean. . But thelr klngdom failed to cndure. After Seuthes It hroke up into several princlpalitles." - E. Curtlus, Hist. of Greece, bik. 7, ch. 1.-" Herodotus is not wrong In calling the Thiracians the greatest of the peoples known to himn after the Indians. Like the Hlyrian, the Thrncian stock attalned to no full development, and appears more as hardprossed and dispossessed than na having any hlstorlcally memorahle course of lts own. The Thraciau [language] disappeared anitist the fluctuatlons of peoples in the region of the Danube and the overpowerful Intluence of Constantinople, and we cannot even deteruine the place which helongs to lt In the pedigree of nallons. . . Thelr wild but grand mole of worshippling the gods may perhaps be conceived as a trait peculiar to this stock - the mighty outburst of the foy of spring and youth, the nocturnai mountaln-festivals of torch-swlnging maidens, the iutozlcat lng sense confusing musle, the thowing of wine and the fowing of hloof, the gidily festal whirl, frantle with the simultaneous excitement of ali sensuous passlons. lionysos, the glorious and the terrible, was a Thracian gox." Under the supremacy of the lRomins, the Thrariams were governed by anatlve line of rassil kings, relgning at Bizye (Wiza), Inetwecn Alrianople and the coast of the lBarck Nea, umtil the Emperor Claudius, A. D. 43, supprised the nominal klngdom nnd marle Theare a lioman provlice.-T. Mommsen, Ifist. $f$ liome. $3 k .8$, ch. $6-\ln$ the 8 th and 9 th centuries, "the great Thracian race, whleh had once been inferior ln number only to the Indlan, and which, In the first century of our era, had ex"ited the nttention of Vespaslan by the extent of the territory it occupled, hat ... almost disappeared. The country it had formerly Inhaliiril was peopleal by Vallachlan and Sclavonlan trimes."-G. Flalay, Wist, of the Byeantine Eini-

THUNDERING LEGION.

THREE CHAPTERS, The dispute of the

 - A famous church dispute raised in the slxth century hy the Emperor Justinian, who discov. ered an heretlcal taint in certain passages, called the Three Chapters, cuiled out of the works of Theodore of Mopsuestia and two other doctore of the church who had been teachera and frienda of Nestorius. A solemn Church Councll calied (A. D. S53) at Constantlnopie - the fifth generai Councll - condemned the Three Chaptera and anathematized thelr adherents. But this touched hy implicatlon the decrees of the Council of Chalcedon, which were especialiy cherished in the Latln Church, and Rome became rebelilous. In the end, the Roman opposition prevalled, and "in the period of a century, the schism of the three chapters expired in an obscure angle of the Venetian province."-E. Gibbon, Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire, ch. 47.Also IN: H. H. Mlliman, Hitht of Latin Chris. tianity, bk. 1, ch. 4.
THREE F'S, The. See Ireland: A. D. 1873-1879.
THREE HENRYS, War of the. See France: A. D. 158t-1589.
THREE HUNDRED AT THERMOPYLF, The. See Greece: B. C. 480 (Tmkrmop. Y1.,.स).
THREE HUNDRED OF THEBES, The. See Thenea: B. C. 378.
THREE KINGS, Battle of the. See MA Rocco: THE ABAB conguegt. AND sincer.
THREE LEGS OF MAN, The. See Triskelion.
THREE PRESIDENCIES OF INDIA, The. See India: A. D. $1600-1702$.
THUCYDIDES: The origin of his history. See Ampitpolis.
THUGS.-THUGGEE. See India: A. D. 1823-1833.
THULE.- Pytheas, a Greek travelier and writer of the tlme (as supposed) of Alexander the Great, was the $f:$ to lntroduce the name of Thule into anclent geography. He descrlbed it vaguely as ar island, lylug aix days' voyage to the north of Britaln, ha a region where the sea hecame like nelticer land nor water, but was of a thlek and sluggish substance, resemhlling that of the jelly fish. "It arpears, to me lmposslble to itlentify the Thule of P. theas whth any approach to certainty; but he had probably heard vaguely of the existence of some conslderahle Island, or group of islands, to the north of Britaln, whether the Orkners or the Shetlands it ia inpossible to siy."-E. II. Bunbury, Hist. of Ancient Geog. ch. 15. sect. 2, foot-nutc.- Some modern writers identify Thule with Iceland; some with the coast of Norway, mistakenly regarded as an Island. But, whichever lend it may have been, Thule to the Greeks and lionans, was L'tilima Thule,the end of the known world, - the most northcrly point of Eurmpe to whlch thelr knowledge reaclied.-il. F. Burton, Ultima Thule, introd., seet. 1 ( r 1).
THUNDERING LEGION, The.-During the summur of the year 174, lu a calupaign whleh the Emperor Marcins Aurellus Antonlnus conducted ngainst the Quadl, on the Danube, the Ioman nrmy was once placed In a rerilous positlon. It was hemmed In by the enemy. cut off from all nccess to water, and was reduced to dempair. At the last extremity, it is sald, the army was sitred by a miraculuus storm, which poured rain on the thirsty Romans, while light. ning and hail fell destructively in the ranks of the barbarians. According to the Pagan historians, Aurelius owed this "miraculous victory," as it wis called, to the arts of one Arnuphis, an Egyptian magicisn. But later Christian writere told a diferent story. They relate that the dis tressed army contained one legion composed entirely of Christians, from Melitene, and that these ooldiers, being called upon hy the emperor to invoke their God, united in a prayer which received the answer described. Hence, the legion was known thereafter, by imperial command, as the Thundering Legion.-P. B. Watson, Mareus Aureliue Antoninue, ch. 5.

THUNDERING LEGION.

Also in: Eusehius, Eeceleniastical IItistory, bk. B, ch. 5 .
THURII.-THURIUM. See Siris.
THURINGIA.-THURINGIANS, The"To the eastward of the Sazons and of the Franks, the Thuringians had just formed a new monarchy. That people had united to the Varni and the Herull, they had spread from the borders of the Elbe and of the Undstrut to those of the Neckpr. They had invaded Hesse or the country of the Catti, one of the Frankish people, and Franconia, where they had diatinguished their conquests by frightful cruelties.

It is not known at what period these atrocities were committed, but Thierrl [or Theoderic, one of the four Frank kings, sons of Clovis] towards the year 528 , reminds his suidiers of them to excite their revenge; it is probahle that they were the motives which induced the Franks of Germany and those of Gaul to unite, in order to provide more powerfuliy for their defence." Thierry, the Frank king at Metz, and Clotaire, his hrother, who relgned at Solssons, united in 528 against the Thuringians and completely erushed them. "This great province was then united to the monarchy of the Franks, and its dukes, during two centuries, marched under th standards of the Merovingians."-J. C. L. S. de Sismondi, The French under the Merovingians, ch. 6.
Also in: W. C. Perry, Tho Frankt, ch. 3.See, also, Germant: A. D. 481-768.
Ahsorhed in Sazony. See Saxont: The Old Dесну.

THURM AND TAXIS, Prince, and the German postal system. See Port.
THYMBRAEAN ORACLE. See Oracles of the Greeks.
ThYnIANS, The. See Bithinians.
TIBARENIANS, The.-A people who aneientiy inhahited the southern coast of the Eux. ine, towari its eastern extremity.-G. Itawlinson, Fire Great Monarchics: Persia, ch. 1.
TIBBOOS, The. See Libtans.
TIBERIAS, Battle of ( 1187 ). See Jervas. LxM: A. D. 1149-1187.
TIBERIAS, The Patriarch of. See Jews: A. 1. $200-400$.

TIBERIUS, Roman Emperor, A. D. 14-37; German campaigns, see Germant: B. C. 8A. I. 11.....Tiberius II, Roman Emperor (Eastern), 578-582.....Tiberius Absimarua, Roman Emperor, Eaigern), 698-704.
TIBET.-"Tise name of THbet is applied not oniy to the south-west portion of the Chinese Empire, hut also to more than haif of Kashmir occupied by peoples of Tibetan origin. Theen regions of 'Litte Tibet 'and of 'Apricot Tibet' - 80 called from the orchards surrounding its villages-consist of deep valieys opening like troughs between the anowy Himalayan and Karakorum ranges. Draining towards India, these uplands have gradually been brought under Hindu influences, whereas Tibet proper has pursued a totaliy diferent career. It is variously known as 'Great,' the 'Third,' or 'East Tibet hut such is the confusion of nomenclature that the expression 'Great Tibet' is also spplied to Ladak, which forms part of Kashmir. At the same time, the term Tibet itself, employed hy Europeans to designate two countries widely differing in their physical and poiltical conditions, is unknown to the people themseives. IIermann Schlagintweit regards it as an old Tibetan word meaning 'strength,' or 'empire' in a pre-eminent sense and this is the interpretation supplied hy the missionaries of the seventeenth century, who give the country the Italian name of Potente, or 'Powerful.' But however this be, the present Inhabitants use the term Bod-yul alone; that is, 'iand of the Bod,' itself probably identical with Bhutan, a Hindu name restricted by Europeans to a single state on the southern slope of the Himalayas. The Chinese cail Tibet elther 81 -Tsang-that is, West Tsang, from its principal province - or Wel. Tsang, a word applied to the two provinces of Wei and Tsang, which jointiy constitute Tibet proper. To the inhabitants they give the name of Tu-Fan, or 'Aboriginal Fans,', in opposition to the Si-Fan, or 'Western Faus,' of sechuen and Kansu. . . . Suspended like a vast terracs some 14,000 or 16,000 feet above the surrounding plains, tile Tibetan piateau is more than half filled with closed basins dotted with a few lakes or nuarshes, the probahle remains of inland seas whose overfiow discharged through the breaks in the frontier ranges. $\qquad$ During tire present century the Tibetan Government has succeeded better than any other Asiatic state in preserving the political isolation of the people, thanks chifefly to the relief and physical conditions of the land. Tibet rises like a citadel in the heart of Asia; henee its defenders have guarded its approaches more easily than those of India, China, and Japan. The greater part of Tibet remains still unex. piored. . . . The great bulk of the inhahitants, apart from the Mongolo-Tartar Horsoks of Khachi and the various independent tribes of the province of Kham, beiong to a distinct hranch of the Mongolian family. They are of low size, with broad shouiders and cliests, and present a striking contrast to the Hindus in the size of their arms and calves, while resemhling then in their small and delicate hands and feet.
The Tibetans are one of the most highly endowed people in the world. Nearly ali traveliers are unanimous in praise of their gentleness, frank and kindiy bearing, unaffected dignity. Strong, courggeous, naturally cheerful, fond of music, the dance and song, they would be a model race hut for their lack of enterprise. They arc an easily governed as a flock of sheep, and for them the word of a lama has force of law. Even the mandates of the Chinese authoritics are scrupulousiy obeyed. and thus it happens that againat their own friendiy feelings they jealously guard the frontiers against all atrangers. The inore or less mixed races of East Tibet on the Chinene

TIBET.

fronter, on the route of the troops that plander them and of the mandarias who oppreeis them, coem to be leen favourahiy constituted, and are deacribod as thioriah and treacherous. . . The Tlbetana have long been a civilisied poople. ined in thame rearecte they are even more clviIned than those of many European countries, for readlag and writing are general accompliahments in many places, and hooks are here so cheap that they are found ln the humblest d wellliggs, though several of these works are kept In in the on account of theelr magical propertiest In the free evolution of thelr speech, which has been studied chiefly hy Foucaux, Csoma de Korbs, Schlefner, and Juschle, the Tibetans have outived the period In which the Chinese are stili found. The monogyilahic character of the language, which differs from ail other Asiatic tongues, has nearly been effaced. . . . The Tibetan Government is in theory a pure theocracy. The Daila-lama, cailed also the Gyalha-remboche, - Jewei of Majesty,' or 'Soverelgn Treasure, ' is at once god and king, master of the life and fortunes of his suhjects, with no limit to his power except his own pleasure. [On Lamaism in Tibet, see Lavas.] Nevertheless hc consents to be guided in ordinary matters hy the oidd usages, While his very greatness prevents him from directiy oppressing his people. His sphere of action being restricted to spiritual matters, be ls represented in the administration hy a viceroy chosen hy the Emperor lu a supreme councill of three high priests. . . . Everything connected With general poiitics and war must be referred to Peking, while local matters are ieft to the Tibetan authorities. . . Pope, viceroy, minis. ters, ail receive a yeariy subvention from Peking and all the Tlbetan mandarios wear on their hats the hutton, or distinctive sign of the dignities conferred hy the empire. Every thind or 8 ffth year a solemn embassy is sent to Pel in:; with rich presents, receiving others in cxelaseg: from the Son of Heaven.'

The whole and belongs to the Dalai-lama, the peopie being merely tem. porary occupants, tolerated hy the reai owner. The very houses and furniture and ali movable property are teld in trust for the supreme mas. ter, whose subjects must be grateful if he takes a portion oniy for the requiremcnts of the administration. One of the most ordinary seatences, in fact, is wioiesaie confiscation, when the con. demned must lcave house and lands, betaking themselves to a camp life, and living hy beg. glag in the districts assigned to them. So num. erous are these chong long, or oftcial mendicants, that tiey forn1 a distinct class in tine State. . . . Since the cession of Ladak $\omega$ Kash. mir, and tile amuexation of Batang, Litang. Aten-tze, and other districts to Sechnen and Yunnan, si. tsang, or Tibet proper, comprises oniy the four provinces of Nari, Tsang, Wel, or U, and Kham. Certuin principalities 'enclosed in these provinces are completeiy iudependent of Lassa, and either eujoy self -government or are directiy administerel from Peking directiy administerel from Peking. . . Even In the four provinces the Chinese authorities In. terfere in many ways, and their power is especially feit in that of Nari, wiifere, owing to its dangerous proximity $\omega$ Kashmtr and India, the old spirit of independeace migit be awakened. Nor is any money ailowed to be colned in Tlbet. whirth in the esea of tire Imperial Goverunent is mereily a depeudency of sechuen, whence aii orders are recelved In Lama."- $\frac{\text { R Reclus, } 7 \text { Tho }}{}$ Earth and its Inhabitants; Aota, 0.2, ch. 2. Also Ix: H. Bower, Diary of a Journay aerowe Tibes, ch 16.

TIERRA FIRME.

TIBISCUS, The.-The anclent name of the river Thein.
TIBUR.-An important Latin city, more anclent than Rome, from which it was only 20 milles distant, on the Anlo. Tihur, after many In the was reduced hy the Romans to subjectlon In the 4th century, B. C., and the delfghtful country in its neighbnrhood became a favorite place of residence for weaithy Homans in later times. The ruins of the vlifia of Hadrian have been Identifled in the vicinity, and many others have been named, hut wlthout historical authorlty. Hadrian's vilia is sald to have been like a town In its vast extent. The modern town of Tivoll occuples the site of Tihur.- R. Burn, Rome and the Campapnz, ch. 14.
TIBURTINE SIBYL. See SIbTLa TICINUS, Battle on the. See Punic Warm: The Second.
TICKET-OF-LEAVE SYSTEM, The. See Law, Chiminal: A. D. 1825.
TICONDEROGA, Fort: A. D. $8731 .-$ Built hy the French. See CANADA: A. D. 1700-1735.
A. D. 1756.-Reconstructed by the French. See Canada: A. D. 175 .
A. D. ${ }^{1758 .-~ T h e ~ b l o o d y ~ r e p u i s e ~ o f ~ A h e r-~}$ cromhle. See Canada: A. D. 1758.
A. D. 1759.- Taken hy General Amherst. See Canada: A. D. 1759 (JUly-Ato its). A. D. 177.-Surprised and taken hy the or AM.: A. D. 1775 ( $\mathbf{M}$ Ax).
A. D, 1777.-Recapture by Burgoyne. See United States of Am.: A. D. 1 iff (JulifОстовен).

TIEN-TSIN, Treaty of (1858). See CuIna: A. D. $1836-1860$.

TIERRA FIRME.-' The world was at a ioss at tirst [after Coiumbus' discovery] wiant to call the newly found region to the westward. It was easy enough to name the isiands, one after another, as they were discovered, hut when the Spaniards reached the continent they were backward about giving it a generai name. As the const line of the contiuent extended itseif and became knowa as sueh, it was very naturally calied hy navigators 'tierra frme, frm land, in contradistinetion to the isiands whiein were supposed to be less firm. . . The name Tierra Firme, thus general at ifst, in the became particular. As a designation for an unknown sinare it at first inplied oniy thic Continent. As dis. covery unfoified, and the magnitude of this Firm Land became better known, new רat of it were designated ily new names, and Tierra Firme became a iocai appellation in piace of a general term. Paria being first discovered, it? fastened itself there; aiso along the shore to Darien, Veragua, and on to Costa Rica, where at: no weii delined point it stopped, so far as the northern seaboard was concerned, and in due time struck across to the Soutil Sea, where the name marked of an equivaient coast iinc. As a political divlsion Tlerra Firme hat existence for a long thme. It comprised the provinces of Darien, Veragua, and Panamá, which last bore also the name of TYerri FYrme an a proviaca The extent of the kingdom was 65 leagues in length hy 18 at iti greatent hreadth, and 9 leagues at ite amalient width. It was bounded on the east hy Cartagena, and the guif of Uraha and Its iver; on the west by Costa Rica, including a portion of what is now Conta Rica; and on the north and south hy the two seas.

TLERRA FIRME.

Neither Guatemala, Mexico, nor any of the iands to the north were ever included in TYerra Firme. English authors often apply the Latin form, Terra Firma, to this division, which is misieading."-H. H. Bancroft, Hist,' of the Pacific States, v. I, p. 290, fout-noto.-See, aliso, Spanish Matin.
TIERS ETAT. See EgTATES, TIE THREL TIGORINI, OR TIGURINI, in Gaul, The. After the Cimhri had defeated two Roman armies in 113 and 109 B. C., "the Heivetil, who had nuffered much in the constant conflicts with their north eastern neighbours, felt themseives stimulated by the example of the Cimbri to seek in their turn for more quiet and fertile settiements in western Gaui, and had, perhaps, even when the Cimbrian hosts marched through their land, formed an alifance with them for that purpose. Now, under the Icaderahip of Divico, the forces of the Tongeni (position unknown) and of the Tigorin! (on the lake of i.turten) crossed the Jura and reached the territory of the Nitiohroges (about Agen on the Garonne). Tie Roman army under the consui Lucius Cassius Longinus, which they here encountered, ailowed its If to be decoyed hy the Helvetif into an amhush, in which the gencral himself and his legate, the consular Galus Piso, along with the greater portion of the soldiers, met their dcath."-T. liommscn, Ilise. of Rome, bk. 4, ch. 6. - Buhse. quently the Tigorini and the Tougeni joincd the Cinilri, hut were not present at tive decisive battle on the Ilaudine Plain and escaped the destroying swords of the icglons of Marius, hy fying hack to their nativc Heivetia.
TIGRANOCERTA, Battie of (B. C. 69). See liome: B. C. is-68.
TIGRANOCERTA, The huilding of. See Gordyene.
TILDEN, Samuel J.-In the Free Soil Movement. See United States of Ax.: A. D. 1848.... The overthrow of the Tweed Ring. See New York: A. D. 1863-1871..... Defeat in Presidential Eiection. See United States of AM. A. D. 18i6-1877.
TILLEMONT:A. D. 1635.-Stormed and eacked by the Dutch and French. See Netierlands: A. D. 1635-1698.
TILLY, Count von: Campaigus. See Ger. maxy: A. D. 1620 , to 1631-1682.
TILSIT, Treaty of. Sec Gerxany: A. D. 1807 (JUNE-JuLy).
TIMAR.-TIMARLI.-SAIM. -SPAHI. -" it was Alaeddin who first instituted a division of ali conquered lands among the 'Sipahis,' or Spahis (iorsemen), on conditions which. like thic feudai tenures of Cliristian Europe, obiliged the iolders to serviec in thic field. Here, however, ends the likeness letween the Turkish 'Timar' and the European flef. The 'Timarii' were not, like the Christian knighthooi, a proud and hereditary aristocracy almnst independent of the sop. reign and having a voice in his councils, hut the mere creatures of the Sultan's hreath. The Ottoman constitution recognised no order of nobility. . The institution of military tenures Was modifled hy Amurath I., who divided them into the larger and smalier ('siamet' and 'Timar'), the hoiders of which were calied 'Saim' and 'Tmarii.'. . The symbois of cal investment were a sword - nd colours (' Kllidech' and 'Sandjak')."-T. H. Dyer, The History of Modern Europe, E. I, introd.-Siec, also, SPAHIS. TIMOCRACY. See GEOMOn, TIMOLEON, and the deliverance of Sicily. Be Grracuse: B. C. 844.

TIMOUR.

TIMOR.-A large isiand which sometimea gives its name to the group, east of Java, to which it belongs. The group is aiso callen! the Lesser sunda Islands. See Malar Archipmintio.
TIMOUR, The Conquests of. ARCHiphiasio. Tartar, as he is usually termed in history, was called by his countrymen Timourlenk, that is, Timour the Lame, from the efficts of an early wound; a name which some Europran writers have converted into Tameriane, or Tamberlaine. He was of Mongoi origin [see below], and a direct descendant, hy the mother's side, of Zenghis Khan. He was born at Sehzar, a town near Samarcand, in Transoxiana, in 1836. ... Timour's early youth was passed in struggies for ascendency with the petty chiefs of rival tribes, hut at the age of thirty-flvc he had fought his way to undisputed pre-eminence, and was proclaimed Khan of Zagatal hy the 'couroultal,' or general assembly of the warriors of his race. Ife chose Samarcand as the capital of his dominion, and openiy announced that he wouid make that dominion eomprise the whole hahitahic earth.
In the thirty-six years of his reign he raged over the world from the great wali of China to the centre of linssia on the north; and the Mecliterranean and the Nile were the western linits of his career, which was pressed eastward as far ns the sources of the Gunges. Ite united in hisown person the sovereignties of twenty-seven countries, and he stood in the piace of niue several dynasties of kings.

The career of Timour as a conqueror is unparsilieied in history; for neither Cyrus, nor Alexander. nor Ciesar, nor Attla, nor Zenghis Khan, nor Charlemaguc, nor Najoieon, cver won hy the sword so large a portion of the globe, or rilled over so many myriads of subjugated feliow-creatures. "-E. S. Creasy, Hist. of the Ottoman Turks, ch. 3.-"Born of the same family as Jenghiz, tiough not one of hls direet descendants, he bore throughout iffe the humlile titie of Emir, and led about with him a nominal Grand Khan [a descendant of Chagatal, one of the sons of Jcnghiz Khan], of whom he profossed inimseif a dutifui subject. Ilis peeligrec may in strictness entitle him to bo called a Mogui: hut, for ali prsctical purposes, limseif and his fiordes must be regarded as Turks. Likc ail tite eastern Turks, such civili. zation as they had was of Persian origin; and it was of the Persian form of Isimn that Timour Whas so zealous an assertor."-E. A. Freeman, Mist. and Cunquests of the Saracens, Lect. 8.-In 1878 Timour overran Khuarezm. Between 1880 and 1388 he suhjugated Khorussan, Afghanistan, Baluchistan and Sistan. IIe then passed into soutiern Peraia and forced the submission of the Mozafferides who relgned over Fars. punighing the city of Isfahan for a rebelifous rising hy the massacre of 70,000 of its ininahitants. This done, hie returned to Samarkand for a period of rest and prolonged carousal. Taking the field again in

TIMOUR.

1389, he turned his arms northward and that. tered the famous "Golden Horde," of the Khan. ate of Kiplchak, which dominated a large part of Rusela. In 1892-98 the Tartar conqueror completed the suhjugation of Peraia and Metopotamia, extinguishing the decayed Mongol Empire of the Ilkhans, and piling up a pyramid of $$ 0,000$ human heads on the rulis of Bagiad, the old capital of Islam. Thence he puraued his career of alsughter through Armenia and Georgia, and finished his campaign of fre years hy a last destroying hlow struck at the Kiptchak Khan whom he is sald to have pursued as far as Moscow. Once more, at Samarkand, the red. handed, lavincihle savage then gave himself up to orgles of pleasure.ma.lng; hut it was not for many months. His eyes were now on India, and the years 1898-1 809 were spent hy him in carrylog death and desolation through the Punjab, and to the city of Delhi, which was made a scene of awful massacre and pillage. No permanent conquest was achieved; tho pluader and the pleasure of slaughter were the ends of the expedition. A more serious purpose directed the nest movement of Timour's arms, which were turned against the rival Turik of Asia Minor, or Roum - the Ottoman, Bajazet, or Bayezid, who boasted of the conquest of the Roman Empire of the East. In 1402, Bajazet was summoned from the siege of Constantinople to defend his realm. On the 20th of July in that year, on the plain of Angora, he met the enormous hosts of Timourlents and was overwhelmed hy them - his king. dom lost, himself a captive. The merciless Tartar hordes swept hapless Anatolia with a besom of destruction and death. Nicea, Prusa and other cities were sacked. Smyrna provoked the Tartar savage hy an obstinate defense and was doomed to the sword, without mercy for age or sex. Even then, the customary pyramid of heads which he huilt on the site was not large enough to satisfy his eye and he increased ite height hy alterpate layers of mud. Aleppo, Damascus, and other cities of Syria had been dealt with in like manner the year before. When satiated with hlood, he returned to Samarkand in 1404, rested there until January 1405 and then set out upon an expedition to China; put he died on the way. His empire was soon hroken in pieces.一A. Vam. bery, Hist. of Bokhara, ch. 10, 11, 12.

Also in: J. Hutton, Central Amia, ch. 5-6.E. Gibbon, Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire, ch. 65. - A. Lamartine, Ilist. of Turkey, bk. 7. -II. G. Smith, Rmance of Hist., ch. 4.

TIMUCHI.-This was the name given to the members of the senate or council of six hundred of Massilia-ancient Marsefiles.-G. Long, D6. cline of the Roman Republic, v. 1, ch. 21.
TIMUCUA, The. See Ayerican Aboriotheg: Timuquanan Family.
TinNEh. See American Aborionnes: Athapascan Family.
TIPPECANOE, The Battle of. See Unitid States of Am.: A.D. $1 \times 11$.
"TIPPECANOE AND TYLER TOO." See Uniten itatke of Am.: A. D. 1840.
TIPPERMUIR, Battle of (i644), See ScotLAND: A. D. 1644-1645.
TIPPOO (OR TIPU)SAIB, English wars with. See India: A. D. 17si-1793, and 1798-1805. TIROL. Sice Trrol.
TIRSHATHA.-An ancient Persian title, borne hy an officer whose fuuctions corresponderi

TOGA.

Fith thove of High Sherifi. - H. Ewald, Eiver. of TIRYNS. See Argos; and Hzracleipes.

TITHE.-"To consecrate to the Sanctuary in pure thankfulness towards God the tenth of all annual profts, was a primitive tradition among the Canasnites, Phoenicians and Carthaginians. The custom, accordingly, very early passed over to Israel." of Irrael, introd., sid sect., II., 8.-Modern "recognition of the legal ohligation of tithe dates from the eighth century, both on the continent and in England. In A. D. 779 Charles the Great ordained that evcry one should pay tithe, and that the proceeds should be disponed of hy the hishop; and in A. D. 787 it was made imperative hy the legatine councils held in England. "-W. Stuhhs. Conat. Hist. of Eng.e ch. 8, sect. 86 (v. 1).
TITHE OF SALADIN. See SALADh,
The Tiphe of.
TITHES, Irinh. See Enoland: A. D. 18321839.

TITIES, The. See Rome: The beomr. minos.

TITUS, Roman Emperor, A. D. 79-81.
TIVITIVAS, The. See American Aboriol. nes: Caribe and thetr Kindred.
TIVOLI. See Tibcr.
TLACOPAN. See Mexico: A. D. 1825-1502. TLASCALA. See Mexico: A. D. 1510 (JUNE-OCTOAER).
T'LINKETS, The. See Amrican Abobionea: Athapabcan Fanily.

TOBACCO: It introduction into the Old World from the New. See America: A. D. 1584-1588.
The syatematic culture introduced in Virginia. See Vinania: A. D. 1ev9-1616.
TOBACCO NATION, The. See American Aborigines: IIrrons; and Iroquoia Confed. eracy: Tiefr Name.

TOBAGO. See Tuinidad.
TOBAS, The. See American Aboriones: pampas Tribes.
TOGA, The Roman. - "The toga, the specif. ically national dress of the Romans, was origiually put on the naked body, fitting much more tightly than the rich folds of the togas of later times. About the shape of this toga, which is described as a semicircular cloak different opinious prevail some sio, many sider it to cloth ... : others construct it of one or even two pieces cut into segments of a circle. Here again we shall adopt in the main the reaults arrived at through practical trinls hy Weiss ('Costumkunde, p. 956 et seq.). The Roman togn therefore was not... a quadrangular ohlong, but 'had the shape of an ohlong cdged off into the form of an oval, the middle length being cqual to about three times the height of a grown up man (exclusive of the head), and its middle breadth cqual to twice the same length. In putting it on, the toga was at first folded lengthwise, aud the douhle dress thus originated was laid in folds on the straight edge and thrown over the left shoulder in the simple manner of the Greek or Tuscan cinak; the togita, however, covered the whole left side and eveu dragged on the ground to a considerahle extent. The cloak was then pulled across the back and through the right arm, the ends being again thrown over the ieft shouider backwards. The part of the drapery covering the back was once more pulied toward the right shouider, so as to add to the richnese of the foids.' The impier, that is narrower, toga of earlier times naturaliy ciung more tightly to the body."-E. Guhi and W. Koner, Lifo of the Greeks and Romane, wet. 98.-"No tacks or fastenings of any sort indeed sre visibie in the toga, but their existence may be inferred from the great formality and littie variation dispiayed in its divisions and foids. In general, the toga seems not only to have formed, as it were, a short sieeve to the right arm, which was ieft unconfined, but to have covered the ieft arm down to the wrist. The material of the toga was wooi; the coiour, in eariy ages, its own natural yeliowisb hue. In later periods this seems, however, onily to bave been retained in the togas of the higher orders; inferior persons wearing theirs dyed, and candidntes for public offices bleached by an artificiai process. In times of mourning the toga was worn biack, or was left off aitogether. Priests and magistrates wore the 'toga pretexta,' or toga edged with a purpie border, calied pretexta. This... was... worn by ali youths of nobic birth to tho age of fifteen.

TOGA.

The knights wore tbe 'trabea, or toga stripeni with purpie throughout." - T. IIope, Cuntume of the Ancients, v. 1.

TOGATI, The. See Rome: B. C. 275.
TOGGENBURG WAR, The. Bee SwTrzEnLAND: A. D. 16.)2-1789.
TOGOLAND. - This picce of western Africa, on the Sirve Coast, in Upper Guinea, was de. clared a German protectorate in 1884.

TOGRUL BEG, Seijuk Turkieh Sutten. A. D. 103T-1063.

TOHOMES, The. See American Aborioines: Muskionean Fanimy.
TOHOPEKA, Battle of (1814). See United States of Am.: A. D. 1813-1814 (AugustAl'RII).

TOISECH. Rec Rı.
TOISON D'OR.-The French name of the "Order of the Goiden Fieece." See Golden Fiefec.
TOKELAU ISLANDS. See Polynesia.
TOLBIAC, Battle of. See Alemanil: A. D. 406-i04: alm, Fisanks: A. D. 481-511.
TOLEDO, Ohio: A D. 1805-1835.-Site in dispute between Ohio and Michigan. See Micilician: A. D. 18i37.

TOLEDO, Spain: A. D. $531-712$. - The capital of the Gothic kingdom in Spain. See Gotils (Vimigotin): A. D. 507-711.
A. D. 712.-Surrender to the Arab-Moors. See Sipars: A. 1). 711-713.
A.D. 1083-1085.-Recovery from the Moors. - On the crumbling of the dominions of the Spunlsh caiphate of Cordova, Toiedo became the scat of one of the most vigormus of the petty kingdoms which arose in Moorish Spain. But on the deatis of its founder, Aben Dyinun, and ubler hls incapable son Yahia, the kingdom of Tolerio soon sank to such weakness as inviteci the aftacks of the Christian king of Leon, Aifonso VI. After a slege of three years on the 95 th of May, A. D. lucis, the old capital of the Goths was restored to their descendants and succeasors. li. A. Dict. 1, rh. 1 . Iist. of Spain and Portugal,

TONGA.

A. D. 1530-1522.-Revoit against the seow ernment of Charies, the emperor.-Siece and surrender. See Spain : A. D. 1518-1622.

TOLEDO, Conacils of. See Gothe (VaniGотин): A. D. 507-711.
TOLRNTINO, Treaty of (2797). See FRANCE: A. D. $1700-1797$ (Octoberl-ApRIL).

TOLERATION, Religious: A. D. I63I-166x.-Denied in Massachusetts, See Mases. CHU8ETTS: A. D. 1631-1636, to 1656-1661.
A.D.1636.-Established by Roger Williams in Rhode Island. Bee Riode Inland: A. D. 1688-1647.
A. D. 1648-1665. Practiced in Holland. See Netherlande: A. D. 1648-1665.
A. D. 1649.-Eracted in Maryland. Bee Martiand: A. D. 1640 .
A. D. I689.- Partialenactment in England. See England: A. D. 1689.
A. D. 1778.-Repeal of Cathoilc penal iaws in England. See Enoland: A. D. 1778-1780.
A. D. 1827-8829.-Removai of disablities from Dissenters and Emancipation of Catholics in England and Ireland. See Enoland: A. D. 1827-1828; and Iret,AND: A. D. 1811-1829.
A. D. 1869.-Disestablishment of the Irish Church. See England: A. D. 1888-1870.
A. D. 287 I, -Abolition of religious tests in English Univeraitiet. See England: A. D. 1871.

TOLERATION ACT, The. See Enoinnd: A. D. 1688 (April-AvaUst).

TOLOSA, Battle of Las Navas de (i2II or 1212). See Spain : A. D. 1146-1232; also, A L. mohadrs.
TOLTECS, The. See Mexico, Ancient.
TOMI.-An ancient Greek city on the Euxine which was Ovi ... place of banishment. Its slte is oceitpied by 1 i modern town of Kustendje.
TONE, Theobald Wolf, and the United Irishmen, See Ireland: A. D. 1799-1798.
TONGA, or Friendly Islands, The. - "According to Hariner, the Tongans did not deserve the name Cook gave them, that of the Friendiy Islanders. He says that the ehiefs intended to treacherousiy massacre Cook and his company: but the scheme came to nothing on account of differences among themselves is to bow their amiable designs sitould lie carried out. . . . The Tongan Archipelago is composel of at least a hundred islands and islets, comprised between $18^{\circ}$ and $20^{\circ} \mathrm{S}$. lat., and $174^{\circ}$ and $179^{\circ} \mathrm{W}$. long. The three prineipai isiands of Tongatabu, Vavau nud Eoa, are aione of nny extent, which is in their cases from 15 to 20 miles in iength. Six others, namely, Late, Tof ua, Kao, Namuka, Lefuga, and Ilaano are from five to seven miles in extent. The rest are much smailier. Many of them are in fact only banks of sand and coral, covered with some tufts of trees. . . . Late Is: inni has a peak about 1800 feet high in the celltre of the island, whieh at one time was a voleano.

Tbe Tongans, ilke the Fijiar sand Samonns, have had, from time immemoriai, a eivilisation of tbeir own. They have more moral stamina, enrrgy, and seif-reilance than any uthre veisting race in the Pacific. Had they been acquainted formcriy with the use of metais, there can be no doubt that they wouid have subdued ali Polynesia. When Captnin Cook was in the islanis, the habits of war were littic known to the nativea the only quarreis In which they had at that time engaged had been smong the inluabitants of the Fijis. They visited that group for the purpose of getting sandaiwood, and to join the Aghting of getting sandaiwood, and to foin the tighting Fijlans for their own ends. From the latter they gained a knowiedge of improved spearn, and bows, and arrows "-II. Stonehewer Cooper, Coral Landx, t. 2, th. 12.- ${ }^{-1} \ln 1835$ mome Mleth odist missionaries arri veci in New Zealand, whenee they saliexi to tine Friendiy or Tonga Inlands. There they effected the einversion of the supreme chicf of that arcilipulago. Kiug George of Tonga, foilowing the prindiple of cujus reglo. ejus refigio.' hul his suhjeets haptised. The Britisi Government rerognised his titie of kiog, coneluied a treaty of friendsinip with him In 1879. and estahisised a consniate in his capital. At the instance nad under the direction of the missionaries, George I. granted his peopije a free constitution and parilanent, aud he was fortunate enough to Hnd a man cajuthie of governing his kingdom, in the Rev. Mr. Baker, one of the missionaries. King George, now [1884] 42 years of nge, is stiil reigning, while Mr. Baker, the missionary and prime minister, is stiil governing at Tonga ; and the arehipelago has nttained a degree of comparative prosperity ani eiviiisation such as is not found in any other Independent group of Oceania." - Baron von IIuhner, Thrnugh the British Empire, r. 2, pt. 5, ch. 2. - In $18 \times 0$ the condition of Tonga was described by the Engiish visitor aiready quoted a.s being "avery satisfactory one ; tire soil, it is aimost needicss to add, is inexhaustiniy firtile, and it is aiso industriousiy enitivated, and intersected by goxi rouds. Tonga is a surcession of gnrdens, anti want, leggary, or squaior are naknown. All the people are clotined, ail read and write, ail ary professed Christians. They stiil retain a pood dicui of their oid Tongan pride, hut are courtenis to strangers On rach of the great isiands there resides a governor. These are men of inteiligence wios speak Enclish, dress wefi, and iive in imjorted houses of the Enro pean fasition. The Gove-nor of Vavau in $1 \times 54$ was named David - all the Tongans take great deiight in seripturaI, or Engisis names. Ite was a manl of huge stature and majestic presence, and ionked very weli in a handsome uniform he had matie for inim in Sydner, at a cost of about (3)(0). A frient of mine told me the following eurious nccount of this persomge with whoin he stayed. David's huuse would be regurded in the Aistralian colonies as a fitting residence for any high offleial beriow the rank of a Viceroy. It is constructeni of importerl materinis, aii the interior paneiled anti polisheif: the furniture of every room being clegant and costiy, and imported from New Nontio Wales. In the eentre of the huiding is a large dining hail with stained giass doors at elther emi, which is oniy used on state occasions Here the table is laid with every requisite, fine linen. plate. and cilt giass. The cook is a Chinaman, the hatler a negro. A better. or more elegantly serveci dimner one would scarceiy expect In Sydney : everything was in profusion, even to ehampagne ani soda.water This David, iike all his coileagues, apes the manners of a Brlish officer. . . . The eatab. lished religion is Protestant ; hut toleration of ali other ereeds is the ruie in Tonga, aud no oppression of minorities is permitted. . . . The Tongan lawa are generaliy just, and are very strietiy enforced. The statutes are printed, and distinetiy understood hy ali the people. There is a atrong tlavour of Salibatarisisim ahout sonce of the ediets, which of course indicate their origin; hut it seems to me that it is far better for the Tonguns to hoid eurfonsiy strict notions ns to how to conduct themseives on the firm day of the werk-or, is they wouid caii it, in Jewish pariance, the Nahbatil-than to strangie children In sacriftee to heatien deitices. The iaws of Tonga forlid tine saie of land to foreigners, but it is permitted to he ieasid on such liferal conditions and for mo long a termas to be tantumount to an aetuai sole. All traders, pianters, or per. manent foreign reskldents not in the service of the Government, are obigeri to take ol:t a license. Spirits and some other articies pay a heavy dity. Aii the people contribute to the support of the state, the tax heing on an aduit male nbout six doilars per annum. Ail the great isiands are traversed by hroad roads laid ont by a European engincer. They are formeci umi kept in repair hy the inhour of convieted eriminals."-II. S. Cooper, Curni Lindid, E.2. See, aiso. Polvienia.

TONGA

TONKIN.

TONGALAND. SCEAMATONOALAND.

Ahoniminen: FAMILY, The. See Amemica:  TONKINEA: NETKAN FAMILY.

TONKAWAN FAMILY, The. See AxEm. cas Anortonem: Toskawan Famitix.
TONKIN.-COCHIN-CHINA.-ANNAM. - CAMBOJA. - "The whole region which recent events inave practicaliy converted lito Freneh territory comprises four distinct polltienl divisions: Tonkin in the north; CochinChina in the centre: Lower Cochin-China nnd Cumbojn in the south. The first two, formerily separate States, have since 18012 eonstitutad a single kingiom, commoniy spoken of as the em. pire of Anmm. This tern) Annam (properiy An nan) appeurs to be a moditicel form of Ngntnan, that is, 'Sontiern Peace,' Hrst nppiled to the frontier river letween Chinn and Tonkin, nad afterwurds extended not only to Tonkin, but to the whole region suuth of thint river ufter its conguest and pacitleation ly Cinina in the -1.ird ecntury of the new era. Ilence its conve application to the sume region sinee the union of Tonkin and Cordin-China under one dynasty and sinee the transfer of the administration to France in 184:3 is but a survivil of the Clinese Hasare, anif fuily justitied on historic gromads. Tonkin (Tongking. Tunghing), tint is, Fastern Cujitai,' a term origiunliy uppiient to Ila-noi wiun that elty wis the royni residience, has in quite recent times lwen extended to tie whole of the northern kingiom, whose true historic name is Yneh-nan. Unier the native rulers Tonk in was divided into proviuces and sulxivisions bearing Chinese names, nad correspmaling to the ndministrative divisions of the Chines empire.
Since its conquest by Cocilin Chimn the country has beell ndministered in mull the same wny uis the southern kingiom. From this State Toikin is separated partiy hy a spur of the coast range projecting seawnids, partly hy a wall hulit fin the sixteentil century ani rinning in the same directlon. After the ereetion of this artittelai barfler, which iies alout $18^{\circ} \mathrm{N}$. lat. , between Ilatinh and Dong.kol, the uurthern und southern kingdoms came to be respectively disting:nished hy the titles of Danz-ngroinul Dang-trong, that is, 'Outer' and 'Inner Route'. The term

TONEIN.

TONEIN.

China, by which the Inner Route is beat known, has no more to do with Chins than it has with the Indian eity of Cochin. It appears to be a noditied form of Kwe-Chen-Ching, that is, the ' $\mathbf{K}$ 'ngdom of Chen-Ching,' the name hy which tis region was firat known in the oth century at the new era, from lis caplal Chen-Ching. Anether aithough iens probabie derivation is from the Chinese Co-Chen-Ching, meanling 'Old Champa,' a reminiscence of the time when the Cham (Tsiam) natlon wat the most powerful in the peninsuls.

Before the arrival of the Freneh, Cochin-China comprised the whele of the coast lands from Tonkin nearly to the foet of the Pursat hilis in South Camboja. From the remotent tlmes China claimed, and intermittentiy exercised, suzerain authority over Annam, wiose energies have for ages been wasted partiy in vain efforts to resist this cialm. partly in still more dissastrous warfare between the two rival States. Aimost the tirat distinctiy filstoric event was the reduction of Lu-itag, as Tonkin was then calied, hy the Chinese in 218 B. C., when the country was divided into prefectures, and a civil and military organisation established on the Chinese model.

Eariy in the ninth century of the new era the term Kwe-Cluen-Ching (Cochin-China) began to be appiied to the southern, which hail aiready asserted its indipendence of the northern, kingdern. In 1428 the two States freed themselves temporarify from the Chincse proteetorate, and 200 years iater the Annumese reduced ali that remained of the Champa territory, driving the natives to the uplands, und settiing in the piains. This conquest was followed about 1750 by that of the southern or maritime provinces of Cumboja since known as Lower (now French) Cochin.China. In 1775 the King of Cochin-China, who had usurped the throne in 1774, reduced Tonkin, and was acknowledged sovereign of Annam hy the Chinese emperor. But in 1798 Clia-iong, son of the deposed monarelh, recovers the throne with the aid f some French auxiliaries, and in 1802 reconstitutes the Annamese einpire under the Cochin. (liumese sceptre. From this time the refations with Frauce become more frequent. . . . After his death in 1820 the anti-European national party netpuires the useendant, the French offlcers ure disinissed, und the Ronnan Cathoile religion, which had mate rapid progress during the reign of (tha-long, is suhjected to cruel and systemutie persscution. Notwithstanding the protests and occasionai intervention of France, this poifey is persevered in, until the execution of Bishep Diaz in 1857 hy order of Tu-Duc, third in succession frum Gia.long. enils for mere aetive interference. Aituirai injault de Genouiliy captures Tourane in isis, feilewed next year by the rout of the Amamuse army ut the same place, and the occupation of the forts at the entrance of the Donnai and of Glia-dinh (Suigon), capitai of Lower Cochin-China. This virtually estahiished French supremacy, which was sealed by the treaty of $1 \times 60^{2}$, ceding the three best, and that of 1867 the three remaining, provinces of Lower CochinChins. It was further strengthened and extended by the treaty of 1883, securing the protectorate of Camboja and the important atrategicai pesition of 'Uuatre-Bras' on the Mekhong. Then eame the scientitic expedition of Mekhong ( $1866-68$ ), whieh dissipated the hopes entertained of that river givlag access to the trade of Southern Chloa. Attentlon wan accordingly now at tracted to the Song-kol basln, and the eatableh. ment of French interents in Tonkin secured by the treaties of peace and commerce concluded with the Annamese Government ln 1874. Thls prepared the way for the recent dlplomatic complications with Annum and China, followed by the military operations in Cochin. China and Ton. kin [see France: A. D. 1876-1889], whlch led up to the treaties of 1883 and 1884, extendlag the French protectorate to the whoie of Annam, and forbldding the Annamese Government aif dipiomatle reiations with foreign powers, China included, except through the intermediary of France. Lastiy, the appoir' nent in 1886 of a French Resident General, with fuli administrative powers, effuced the iast vestige of nationai autonomy, and virtumily reduced the ancient kingdoms of Tonkiu und Cochin-China to the position of an outiying French possenslon."A. 1I. Keane, Eustern Geogruphy, pp. 98-104. "In the south eastern extremity of Cochin-China, and in Camboja, stili survive the scattered frag. ments of the historieai Tsiam (Cham, Khiam) race, who appear to have been at one time the mest powerfui nation in Farther India. Accord. ing to Gagelin, they ruied over the wholo region between the Menam and the Guif of Tongking.

Like the Tsinms, the Cambojans, or Klimers, are a race sprung from ilinstrious an. cestry, but at present reiuced to about $1,500,000$, purtly in the south-eastern provinces of Slam, partiy forming a petty state und French protection, which is linited east a a west hy the Mekong and Guif of Siam, north and south hy tine Great Lake and French Cochin-China. During the period of its prosperity the Cambojan enpire oversbadowed a great part of Indo.China and maintained regular intercourse with Cls. gangetic India on the one hand, and on the other wlth the Isiand of Java. The centre of its power lay on the nerthern shores of the Great Lake, where the names of its great cities, the arehiteeture and sculptures of its ruincd temples, attest the suceessive influences of Brahmunism and Budihism on the iocal cuiture. A native fegend, based jossibly on historic data, reiates inew a Illudu prince migrated with ten millions of his suhjeets, some twenty thrie eenturies ago, from Indraspathi (Delhi) to (amloja, while the present dynusty elaims descent from a Benares family. But still more actlve reiatlons seem to have been maintained with Lanka (Ceylon), which island has aefouired aimost a sacred character in the eyes of the Cambojans. The term Caniboja íseif (Kumpushea, Kamp' osha) has by some writers been wrongly identified with the Camhoja of Sanskrit geography. It simpiy means the 'iand of the Kammen,' or 'Khmer.' Although somo yeara under the French protectorate, the politicai institutions of the Cam. bojan state have undergone littie change. The king. who stili enjoys ahsoiute power over the life and property of his subjects, chooses his own mandiarins, and these magistrates dispense justice in fuvour of the highest hidders. Trade is a royal inonopoiy, soid mostly to energetic Chinese contractors; and siavery has not yet been aboiished, aithough the severity of the system has been somewhat mitigated slace 1877. Ordinary slaves now receive a daliy pittance, whieh may help to purchase their freedom. On the eastern slopes, and in the lower Mekong basin,

TONEEY.

TORIES.

the dominant nee are the Oleo-ah! (Oleo-idi) or Aamamene, who are of doubtiul origia, hut recomble the Chisece more than any other people of Parther Iodia. Amliated hy some to :he Malays, hy others to the Chlaese, Otto Kuaze regarda them at akin to the Japaneve. Accord. lag to the focal trailtlons and records they have gradually spread along the coast from Toogkiog southwards to the extrenilty of the Pealnsula After driving the Talams lato the laterior, they pegatrated about 1650 to the Lower Mekong. which region formerly belonged to Camboja, hut now properly called Freneh Cochln. China. Here the Annamese, having driven out ur ex. terminated most of the Cambojans, have long formed the great majority of the populatlon."--. 8, ecl. 22. Tho Earth and its Inhabitants: Avia, - 8, ch. 22.

TONNAGE AND POUNDAGE. See TUk. Magr AND Poundagr; almo, Enghind: A. D.
TONQUIN. See Tonimr.
TONTONTEAC. See Ayemican Aborion. mes: Perblom TONTOS, The. See Amertcan Abortonne:

apache Grout.

TOPASSES, The. See Imdia; A. D. 1000 1702.

TOPEKA CONSTITUTION, The. See Karkas: A. D. 1854-1859.
Toouis. See Cbire: Triearaucamina.
TORBAY, Landing of William of Orange at. See Enoland: A. D. 1688 (JULT-Nover. IER).

TORDESILLAS, Treaty of. See America: A. D. 1494.

TORGAU: A. D. 1 5as.-Protentant League. See PApact: A. D. $1525-1529$.
A. D. 1645.-Yielded to the Swedes. See Grbmant: X. D. 1040-1645.
A. D. 1760 .-Vletory of Frederick the Great. Bee Gramany: A. D. 1760.
A. D. 1813 .--Slege and captare by the AIlies. Siee deryany: A. D. 1813 (October-Deckmber).

TORIES, English: Origin of the Party and the Name. See liapparers; Eno havd: A. D. 1680 ; and Conaervative Pabty.
Of the American Revolution, and their exile.-"Before the Revolution the partles in The eolonies were practlcally ldentlcal warthes the Whigs and Tories of the mother country, the Whigs or anti-prerogative men supportling ever the cause of the people against arhitrary or illegal acts of the governor or the councll. In the early days of the fevolution the uitra Tories Were gradually driven into the ranks of the enemy, until for a time lt might be sald that all revolutionary America had become Whig; the name Tory, however, was still applled to those Who, though opposed to the usurpatlons of George IIL., were averse th a inal separation Prom England."-G. Pellew, John Jay, p. 269."The terms Tories, Loyalists, Refugees, are hurdened with a piteous record of wrongs and sufferings. It has not been found easy or satisfactory for even the most candid historian to leave the facta and arguments of the conflict Impartially adjusted. Insult, coniscation of property, nad exife were the penalties of those who bore these titles. .. . Remembering that the most hitter words of Wrehington that have come in us are those which exprem hla scom of Tories, we muat at leant look to and nome plaualhie, If not justl. Pylas, ground for the patrlot party. Among thome mont frank and fearlete in the avowni of loyalty. and who suffered the severest penaltien, were men of the noblent character and of the hisheat poal. tlon. $\mathrm{So}_{\mathrm{o}}$, also, bearlag the mme odlous tlule, were men of the mont despicahle nature, self-reeklng and unprinclpled, ready for any act of orll. And between theie were men af every tade of reapectalillty aud of every ahade of moral mennnes. ... As a general rule, the Tories were content with an unarmed realstance, where they were not relnforced hy the resources or forces of the enemy. But in succeasive places in ponces. slon of the Britlsh armles, In Buaton, Long Inland, New York, the Jerregs, Pliladelphla, and in the Southern provinces, there rallied around them Tories both seeking protectlon, and ready to perform all kinds of inlitary duty as alles. By ali the estlmates, probahly leclow the mark, there were during the war ut least 25,000 organized loyalist force.

When the day of reckonlng came at the elose of the war, it needed no aplrit of propliecy to tell how these Torien, armed or unarmed, would fare, and we have not to go outside the famillar tield of human nature or an explanation. That it was not tili sil $x$ months after the ratification of the treaty by Congress that Sir Guy Carleton removed the British army from New York - the delay belng caused ly b's embarrasament from the crowde of caused ly his embarrassment from the crowds of loyaliats seekling his protectlon - is a remlader to us of thelr ?orlorn condition.

From ail over the seaboard of the continent refugees made thelr way to New York In erowds. They threw themselves in despalr uppn the protection of the British commander. He pleaded his encumbrances of this character in answer to the censures upon hlm for delaying his departure, and he valuly hopell that Congress would devise some mcasures of leniency to relleve hlm. It is diffleult to estimate with any approach to exact. ness the number of these lonundel vlctlms. Many hundreds of them had been seeking refuge in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick since the autumn of 1742, and adelltlonal partles, In $\ln$ ereasing number, followel to the same provinces. An historian [Murdoch, "IIst. of Nova Neotia"] scts the whole number at the close of 1783 at 25,000. Large numbers of the loyallsts of the Southern provinces were slipped ti, the Bahamas and to the West Indin Isliands. At one time Carieton had upon his hands over 12,000 Tories clamorous for transportation. . . . A' celehration of the contennial of the settlement of Upper Canada hy these exlles took place in 1884. At a meeting of the royal governor, Lord Doreliester, and the councll, In Quebec, in Novemiber, 1789 In connecion wlth the disposal of stlll unappropriated c.own lands in the province, order was taken for the mp.king and preserving of a registry of the names of all persons, with those of thefr sons and daughters, "who hatl adhered to the unity of the empire, and jolnell the royal standard $\operatorname{In}$ A merica before the treaty of separation in the year 1783.' The offielal list contains the names of several thousands. It was hy their deacend. ; and representatives that the centennial occasi referred to was observed. . . Some banda passed to Canada hy Whitehall, Lake Champlaln, Ticonderoga, and Platthhurg, then southward to Corewall, acending the Bt. Lawreace, and cettilay un the north bank. Other went from Nem Brunawlek and Nova Scotis up the 8t. Lavrence to sorel, where they wintered, goIng afterwart's to Kingston. Most of the exile ancended the Hudson to Albany, then by the Mohawle and Fiood Creek to Opelds and Ontarto laken. . . Is theso oxiles had mtood for the unity of the emplre, they took the name of the -United Empire Loyallata" "a name which is oftea abbrevisted la common use to U. E. Loyallota). G. E. Ellis, The Loyaliota and thoir Fortunes (Narratim and Criticad Ifier. of Am., v. 7, pp. 185-214)." Bome 10,000 refugeea had, In 1784, and the few jears following, found homes In Westorn Canada, Just as it to estimated.. . that 20,000 had settled in the provinces hy the sen. Ansuming full responalthlity for the care and present sup. port of her devoted adherents, Great Britaln opened her hand cheerfully to magint them. The sum pald hy the Britah Government to the suffering refugees was about $815,000,000$."O. Bryce, Short Iliot, of the Canadian Prople, ch. 7, seet. 9.

TORLEs.

Also in: E. Ryernon, The Loyaliste of Am. and their Timea.-L. Bahine, Biog. Shetches of the Loyalitete of Am.

TORNOSA, Battie of. See Bram: A. D. 1808 (NEPTEMBER-DECEMBER).
TORO, Battie of (1476). See Spanf: A. D. 1868-1479.

JOROMONOS, The. See BoLrvia: Abomolmal ingabitanta.

TORONTO: A. D. 1749.-The hospitable origla of the clty. "The Northern Indlana were docking with their beaver-skins to the Engllsh of Oswego; and in April, 1749, an officer named Portneuf had been sent with soldtiers and workmen to hulid a stockaded trading-house at Toronto, In order to intercept them, - bot hy foree, which wouid have been ruinous to Freneh Inicrests, hut by a tempting supply of goods ani hrandy. Thus the fort was kept well stocked, and with excellent effeet."F. Parkman, Mantalm and Wolfe, en. 8 (b. 1).
A. D. 1813. - Taken and burned hy the Americane. seo United States of Am.: A. D. 1813 (APRII-JULV).
A. D. 8837.-The Mackenzle rislag. -Defeat of the rehels. See Canada: A. D. 1837-1838.

TORQUEMADA. See Inquisition.

TORQUES. -' The Latln word torques has been applled in a very extended sense to the various neckiaees or eollars for the neck, found in Brituin, and other countries Inhahited hy the Celtie tribes. Thls word has been supposed to be derived from the Weish or Irish 'tore,' whleh has the same signification, hut the converse is equally plausille, that this wat derived from the Latin." - S. B1rch. Archaeological Journal, v. 2.
TO. RES VEDRAS, The Lines of. See SPAIN: A. D.1809-1810 (October-SEPTEMBER), and 1810-1812.
TORTONA: A. D. 1855 .-Destruction by Frederlck Barbarosia. See Italy: A. D. 1154 1162.

TORTOSA: A. D. 1640 - Spanish capture and sack. See SPAIN : A. D. 1040-1642.
TORTUGAS: The Rendezvoun of the Buccadeers. See Ayemica: A. D. 1659-1700.

TOTEMS.

TORTURE, See Law, Cunmital: A. D. 1700. TORY. Bee TOnIEA

TOTEMS.-"A pecultar social laetlution axlete among the [North American] Indians, very eurlous in ite character; and though I mm not propared to say that lt may be traced through all the tribed eant of the Sitatesppl, yet fos provaleace is so general, and lus infuence on political relations $e 0$ important, as to clalm eapeclal attentlon. Indian communites, Independent of thelr local distributlon lato tribes, bands, and viliages, are composed of several distinct clana. Each elan has lis emhlem, consiatling of the ag. ure of come hird, beant. or reptile; and each fi distingulabed ty the name of the nolmal which It thms bears as les derlce; an, for example, the clan of the Wolf, the Deer, the Otter, or the Hawk. In the language of the Algonguins, there emhlems are known hy the name of "Totems.' The members of the name clan, Jelng connected, or supponed to be so, hy ties of kindred more or leas remote, aro prohihited from intermarrlage. Thus Wolf cannot marry Woif; hut he may, if he clionses. take a wife from the elan of LIawks, or any other elan hut bis own. It foilows that when thls prolibition is rigidis obeerved, no alngle clan can Hve a part from the reat; hut the whole must be mingied together, and In every family the huthand and wife muat be of different clans. To different totems attach different degrees of rank and dignity; sad those of the Bear, the Tortolse, and the Wolf are among the first in honor. Each man ls proud of his badge, fealounly asserting its clalms to reapeet; and the members of the same elan, though they may, perhaps, apeak different dialeets, and dwell far asunder, are yet bound together by the closest tlea of fraternity. If a man is kilied, every member of the elan feels called upon to avenge him; and the wavfarer, the hunter, or the warrior la sure of $r$ sullal weicome In the distant iodge of the $r^{\prime}$ man whose faec perhaps he has never seen. It may he added that eertain privileges, highly prized as hereditary rights, sometimes realico ln particular ehna; such as that of furnlshing a sachen to the tribe, or of performing certain rellglous eeremonies or magle rites."-F. Parkman, Comapiracy of Pontiac, ch. 1.-"A totem is a elass of material ohjeets whieh a snvage regards with superstltious respect, belleving that there exists between him and every member of the elass an intimate and aitogether speeial relution. The name is derived from an Ojibway (Chippeway) word 'totem, the eorreet spelling of whith is somewhat uneertain. It was first introduced into itterature, so far as appears, by J. Long, an Indian interpreter of last century, who spelt it totam. ' . . The connexlon between a man and h/s totem is mutually benefleent; the totem protects the man, and the man shows hls respect for the totem in various ways, by not klling it if it be an anlmal, and not cutting or gathering it if It be a plant. As distingulaied from a fetieh, a totem is never an isolated individual, hut always a class of objeets, generaily a species of animails or of plants, more rarely a class of inanimate natural ohjeets, very rareiy a class of artulieial objects. Constierer in relation to men, tolema are of at least three kinds:-(1) the clan totem. common to a whole cian, and passing hy Inheritance from generation to generation; (2) the sex wotem, common elther to all the males or to all the females of a tribe, to the excluelon in elther cate of the other rex; (8) the ladividual totem, belonging to a alagio ladividual and not pasoling to hif decoendanti."-J. G. Frazer, Tocomiom. pp. 1-2.

TOTEMS.

Aleo wr: L. H. Morgan, Ieague of the Ino. quoi, ef. 4. -The same, Aneioat Sxoiety, pt. 2.It Fleon and A. W. Howitt, Kamilaroi and Kurnai, app. A.-W, R. Smith, Kinahip and Marrizpe in Barly Amesia, eh. 7.
TOTILA, King of the Oitrogothe. See Ronte: A. ©. $\mathbf{6 3 0 - 7} \mathbf{5 3}$.
TOTONACOS, The. See Ammican Abomonses: Totonacos.

TOUL: A. D. 2559-1559.-Poeassaion acquired by France. See France: A. D. $1477-$ 569.
A. D. 1648.-Ceded to Francs in the Pase of Westphalia. Nee Gigrmanr: A. D. 1048.
TOULON: A. D. 1793 -1794. - Rewoit Egainat the Rarolutioner Gorrument at Paris.- Endiah aid called in. - Slege, capture and frightfui vengeance by the ferrorists. See France: A. ©. 1 iog (July-Decemarb): and 1793-1794 (OCTOLER-APRLL).

TOULOUSE: B. C. 306.-Acqualaltion by the Romans. - Tolosa, modern Toulouse, way the chlef town of the Volcas Tectosagen (ace Volces, TaE), a Gullic tribe which occupied the upper laskin of the Garonne, between the wentern prolougation of the cevenoes and the castern Pyrences. Some timu before 108 13. for the mans had formed an alllance with the Tectomagen which enablefi them to place a garrimon in Tulosa. hut the people hat tired of the arrangement. hat! risen agalnst the garrison and had put the soliflers in chalus. On that prowocation, Il ser. villiss Caplo, one of the connuts of the year 106. all vaneed upon the town. foumf traiturs to admi hlm withln its gaten, unil sackitl It as a lhoman general knew how to do. He fobuil a great treasure of gold in Tolosai, the arngin of which has been the subject of inbals dispute. The trensure uss sent off umider escort to Miasslla. but disapprared on the way, its escort lelng nat. tackeyl and slaln. Consul C'splo wirs accused of the rolbery ; there was a great scundal antl prose. cution at lowe and "Aurum Tulosanum "- "the gold of Toulouse - became a proverlblal ex. presshon, applled to ill.gotten wealth.-G. Long, Derliue of the Roman hemblie, x. 2, ch. 1.
A. D. $410-509$ - The Gothic zingdom. See Gotis inimintin): A. 11. 410-419. and after. A. D. 721 . - Repulse oi the Moslems. See Matmmetan Conel'user: A. $\Omega$. ino-ise.
A. D. 781.-Made a co:nty of Aquitaine. See Aquitaline: .!. "1 int.
10-IIth Centuries. - The rise of the Counts. - The counts of Toulous. " represented an earlicr line of duhes of Aquitalne, successors of the dukes of Chithia or Sipplimnala. under whom the rapital of antlern diaul had been not Pol. thers lut Toulouse. Poituu fiself countlog as a mere underfief. In the latter half of the tenth century these dukes if Gothla or Aquitanla Prima, as the Latln chroniclers sometlmen called them from the Old Roman name of thelr couatred hand seen their ducal tite transferred to ther ioil. tevin lurds of Aquitanla Secunila - the dukes of Aquitaine with whom we have had to deal.

TOURNAY.

But the Poltevis overlordehip way mever fully ackanw'erlyed by the house of Toulones: and this istt. r in the course of the following century nealo riwe iv great Importance and dfatinction. which ruarlie, 1 ite height in the pernon of Count Raymond iV. better known at Raymond of At. Ohles, frini then name of the littlo county which hod thee hin carlleat pomesion. From that umall centuc bit rule gradually spremil over the Whole terriory of the ancient dukes of Septhmania. in the rear of the Normas congueat of England (1win) Iouergue, which wan helli by a younger liran. ${ }^{1}$, of the hnuse of Toulouse. inpsed to the $\cdot 1$, ine: In [1084] the year afler the Cony $\cdot$,. th ilnymond came into porsmesion "t inuluise tself: in 1004 lie became. In right of it whe, un, er of half the Burgurdian counter : vece llis territorial inthence was ion 11 vit of his personal fnine; he Wha 0 :v is $t$. Jive: urnes of the trat Crumaie; trand, rise and wive his Aqultatilan heritage. the Afrum. in in 'a 'Tripoll. On Iertrand 's death in $1 \cdot 121 \mathrm{n}$, esmony wore dlvidel, his man Porstas: cone if hlrev wo Tripoli. and shate tring in chat. fly, hloume to after a chis liss inar 1 only daughter who. mirez of 1 rer gont til. , the wfe of Count Whllami V:II, of Poitu 1 ruma that tlme forth It became a nowit pulat whether the lond of st. Gilless or the lurd of Dolitiers was the rightfui count of Toulouse. .. With all these ahiffing: and chatrs of ownervilip the klngs of France had never: tried to laterferr. Sontlern Gaul "Aquitalie" In the whler sense-was a hand whose laternal concerns they found it wlaw (1) leare as tar ma pusalthe minoucheqf."一K. Nor. Gate, Einglent uniter the Angetin Kinge, o. 1, eh. 10 -sec. also. 13'rutindy: A. D. 1032.

8th Century. - The joyous court, Sce I'rovence: A 11. 1179 1207.
A. D. 1209. - The beginning of the Albigen-

A. D. 1213 . Conquest hy Simon de Montfort and his crusaders. See AlsBEENEES: A.I). 1210-1:13.
A. D. 1229-1271, - End of the reign of the
 A. D. 1814 . - The last battle of the PeninEular War.-Occupation of the city by the Englinh. sue sran: A. D. 1812-1814.

TOURCOIGN, Battie of. See France: A. 1). 1794 (Mancu-J (IVY).

TOURNAY:A. D. 1513 - Capture by the English. See Franct: A 1), 1518-1515.
A. D. 1581 . - Siege and captare by the Spaniarda. Net Netmbunanus: A. D. 1581-1584. A. D. 1583. - Submiasion to Spain. See Netimblands: 1. D. 158.1-15K5.
A. D. 1667 . - Taken by the French. See Netimerlande (Tue Spanien Provinceb): A. D. 1667.
A. D. 1668. - Ceded to France. See Nether-

A. D. 1709.-Siege and reduction by Marlborough and Prince Eugene. See Netmer. LaNDE: A. D. 17iN-1709.

TOURNAY．

A．D．1713，－Coded to Helland．See ltaECNT：A．D．1712－1714：and NETMERLANb （HIoL．Land）：A．D．：718－1716．
A．D．1745－174－Bloge．－Battie of Fom－ tanoy and surrender to the Froach．－Res toration th the Pemce．Noe Nutulalande （acotmian Photnema）；A．D．1745；and Ale． la Chapelle，The Cononmen
A．D． 8794 ．－Eatties acar the ctty．－Ser－ render to the Fresch．Soe Fmanct：A．D． 17月（Mancm－Jusy）．
TOURNEY．－TOURNAMENT．－JOUST． －＂The wonf tuorney，sometimes inurasment， and in Latin＇worneamentum．＇clearly ladicates lwth the French origin of thenc games and the priacipal end of that exerclec．the art of manceu． vring，of turning（＇tournojet＇）bla bore skif． full，to strike hile advernary and oliteld himself st the swme time from his blown．The combate， especinily thome of the nobility，were alwaya fought on horseback，with the lance and sharp sworl；the haight presented himeeff，clothed to arminur whoth ewvered his whole bouly，and which，while it jreserved him from wounds，beat to every movement aud retarded thome of his war hone．It was luphortant，therefore，that constant exercise should necustom tho knight＇s fimbe to the enormous weight which ie must carry，and the horse to the nyillty which was expecterl of him．In a＇patagge＇or＇pass of arma＇（＇pasa． age＇or＇pis d＇armes＇）the generic name of ali those gancs，this exercise wha componel of two parts：the joust，which was a single combat of knight agalnst knight，both clothed in all their srms，and the tourney，which was the image of a general battle，or the encounter and evolutions of iwo trow of cavalry equai in numiw．${ }^{\prime \prime}$－J．C．\＆． de simmondl，firance under the fotudab Syatem （Tr．hy W．Bellingham），eh． 8.
TOURS：A．D．732．－Defeat of the Moors by Chariea Martel．See Mamomatan Con． gremt：A．D．715－its：aleo，Franks：A．D．bil－㯭
A．D．1870．－Seat of a part of the provisional Government of National Defense．See Fraxce： A．D． 1870 （SEPTEMBER－Octoben）．

TOUSSAINT LOUVERTURE，The ca－ reer of．She MAyti：A．I）1832－1403．
TOWER AND SWORD．The Order of the．－Thls was an order of kalghthood founded in Purtugal by Alfonso V．，who relgned from Ifiny to list．＂The institntion of the order re－ latad to a sword seputed to be carefully guarded fin a tower of the visy of Fez：respecting it there Wae on prophecy that it must one day come into the puensglon of a Christlau kiug；in wher worly，that the Mohammedan cmpire of north－ Westera Africa would be subverted by the Chris． than Alfonso siemad to betleve that he was the toestimel conqueror．＂－\＄．A．Imnham．Hist． of Ainin and Purlugal．A．3．p． 225 （Am．ed ）

TOWER OF LONDON，The．－＂Buitt orisemaily by the Conqueror to curb London， afterwards the fortreas－palace of kis descendants， and in the end the $\therefore$ te prison，from which $n$ long procosgion of tix 1 －atated great wemit frut ${ }^{4} 1$ taj their heads on the hlock on Tower Hill while State murders，like thowe of Henry VI．and the two young sons of Edwand IV．，were done in the dark chambers of the Tower iteelf．＂－Gold－

TOWNSIIIP．

Wha Smith，A Thos to Anglond，s．Bo．－＂Eves as to length of days，the Tower hate no arral among pulaces and primose．．．Oid writors date fr from the daya of Cnemar；i legead tukem up by Shakepearo and the poets ta favour of Which the name of C＇semar＇s Tower remains in popular une to thita very day．A lhoman wali can oven yet be traced neaf nome parta of the ditch．The Tower is mentioned in the gaxon Chronicie，in a way not lacompatifio with the fect of agazon stronghold havigg shool upon the spot．The bulidinge ns we have them onw in hiock and plan were commenced by William the Conqueror；and the serlpe of apartments in Che． sar＇a Tower（the great Norman keep now $\mathrm{a}:$ ：od the White Tower］－hail，galiery，councll cham． ler，chapel－were hullit in the early Norman relgas and used an hay royal rendenco by alf our Nomman kings．＂－W．II．Dixon，Her Mqjecty＇。 Tower，ch．1．－＂We are informed by the＇Tex－ tun Rofensia＇that tho present Great or white Tower was conatructed by Gundulph，Biahop of IRochester，under the dirnition of King William 1．，who was suspiclous of tho filelity of the citl． zens．The date aaslgurel by stow in 1088 ．＂－J． Britton and E．W．Brayley，Memoirs of the Tover of Londin，ch． 1.
Alan IN：Lond de Fon，Mrmarinte of the Tover． TOWN．－＂Burh，burgh borough，in It varlous apeilings and various shades of meaning． is our native word for urbes is every kind from Rome downward．It is curious that this word should in ordinary apreerh have ！en mo fargely displaced by the vagher worll iu town，which mehns an enclosure of any kiod．and in shane Finglish dialerts is stili applied to as single bouse and its surroutdinge．＂一1．A．Freman，City and herough（Maemillin＇s Wig．，Mray，1889）．－see， aho，Townemir：Borocon；Gcinom；nui Cox mese．

TOWNSHEND MEASURES，The．See 1 Itted Staten of AxEMica：A．I）．1f06－ 1767.

TOWNSHIP．－＂In recent historleal waiting dealing with Angio Saxou rouditione，great place lias been occupled by the＇township．＇Tho example was set alxty years ago hy Yalgrave Imt it does not seem to liave been generafly fol． lowed until in 1874 Dr．Stubhs gave the word （r）uinent place in inis＇Coustitutlonal Ilistory Whil Dr．stulbs the＇townhlp＇was＇the uns of tho constitutional machisary or local adminis． tration＇；and since then numi writers ou constl tutional and legal history have followed In the same direction．The language commonly used in this counction need not．perhaps，neces－ sarily be underatimel as meanigg that the phe． nomenon which $t$ writers have in mind was actunity known ta the taxors themselves as a ＇townhlip＇．（＇tunacipe＇）．It may be sald that ＇townshlp＇is merely a modern name which it is convenlent to apply to it ．Yet，certainir，that languare usualiy suggests that it was under that name that the Saxons knew it．

It is ther fore of mome Interest，at fatiot for indenrical t minnlagy，－and juwsibly for other and more if portari reasas，－co point out that there in ： good foundation in Anglo．Seson source ${ }^{\text {i }}$ isuc． $\bar{z}=5$ tie term，that＇iunscipe＇$;$ few places where It does appear does $n \cdot \frac{6}{6}$ of an an arme of fand，an extent of territory，or evth tbo maserial houses and crofte of a vlliage；the it． probably nothing more than a loose grnen term for 'the viliagera.'. . . Only three paceages in Anglo-Saxon iferature have an yet been found in Which the word 'tunscipe' appears,-the Saxon tranalation of Bede's ' Eccieniantical Hiatory,' $v$. 10, the lawi of Edgar, iv. 8, and the 'Saxon Chronicle, a 1187. The later history of the word 'township' wouid probahiy repay in. vestigation. It is certainily not a common word In literature untii comparativeiy recent times: and, where it does appear, its oid meaning seem; often to cling to it.

TOWNSHIP.

TOWNSHIP AND TO WN-MEETLNG.

There is a good deal to make one belleve that ' town'[see, above, Town] consinued to be the common popuiar term for what we may deacribe in generai language ss rurai centre of popuintion even into the 18th century. .. The far more general use of the word 'town' than of 'township' in eariy New Engiand is most naturally expiained hy suppos. Ing that It was the word ordinarily empioyed in Engiand at the time of the migration, - at any rate, in East Anglia. . It might very natumily be said that the effect of the foregoing argument is no more than to repiace 'township' hy town, and that sueh a change is immateriai, that it is a difference between tweedle-dum and tweedie-dee. I eannot heip thinking, however, that the adoption of a more correet terminology wili be of scientific mivantage; and for this reason. So long as we speak of the Angio-Sazon 'townahip' we can hardly heip attaching to the word somewhat of the meaning which it has borve since the sixteenth century. We think of it as an area inhahited by freemen with an administrative machinery in the hands of an assembiy of those inhabitants and of officers chosen hy them. We start, thercfore, with a sort of unconscious presumption that the 'towuship' was what we call 'free.'. Now, it is this question as to the brisition of the body of the population In the enrliest Anglo-Ssxon times that is just now at issue: nni no student would say that at present the question is settied."-W. J. Ashley. The Anglo- Nirun "Tornahip" (Quarterly Journal of Econonice April, 1894).
TOWNSHIP AND TOWN-MEETING The New Engiand.-" When people from Eng inni first cance to diwell in the wilderness of Massachusetts Bay, they settied in groups upon smstl irrognlar shaperi patches of land, whieh soon cume to be known as townships. . . This mignition. . Was a morement, not of individunis or of separate isnilies. but of ehurchcongregations, and it continued to be mo as the settlers maie their way iniand nod westwari.

A townshij woulif eonsist of nhout as many farms as couhi be dieposed withiu convenient distance from the mocting hoose, where all the inhabitants. young and oid, gathered every Sundsy, coming on lorseback or afoot. The meeting hususe was thus centraily sitnated, and near it was the town pasture or 'common' ' with the achooi-houne and the blowk homse, or rude fortress for defince against the Indians. Around the mortini hoose and comman the dweilings grsidaliy elusterimi into a village, and after a while the iavern, store, and town-house made their appenanace. . E'nder these cir. eumatanees they devciojeed a kind of government which we may describe in the present teuse, for its methois are pretty much the same co-day that they were two centurien sgo. in a New England tovenalp the reofle ifirctif govern opeak with entire precialon, it is ali the maie inhahltants of one-mad-tweaty yeare of age and upwaris. The peopic tex themueiven. Once each year, usually in March but sometimes a eariy as Fehruary or as inte as Aprli, 'townmeeting' is beid, at which sil the grown men of the township are expected to be present and to vote, while any one may introdnce motions or take part in the discussion.

The town-meet. Ing is heid in the town-house, but at arot it used to be held in the church, which was thus ' meeting house 'for civil as weil as ecciesinatical purposes. At the town-meeting measures reinting to the administration of town affairs are dis. cussed and adopted or rejected; appropriations are made for the puhlic expenses of the town, or in other words the amount of the town taxee for the year is dietermined; and town officers are ciected for the year. . The priueipai ezecutive magistrates of the town are the seiectmen. They are three, five, seven, or nine in number. government hrought into a new country and government hrought into a new country and adapted to the new altuation. Iart of this new situation consiated in the fuct that the lords of the manor were ieft Inhini. There was no fonger any occasion to distinguish between the township a manor and the township as parish; and so, as the three naines had ali lived on together, side hy side, in England, it was now the oldest and moat generaily deacriptive name. ' townahip,' that survived, and has come into use throughout a great part of the United Staten

New Yorls had from the very beginning the rudiments of an excelicut system of iocal seif-government. The Dutch rillages had their assemhlies, which under the Engiish rule were deveioped into town-meetings, though with lea ample power than those of New Engiand.
The New Yois system is of especiai interest, because it has powerfuily influencedi the development of local institutions throughout the North. west."-J. Miske, Ciril Goocrnment in the U.S., ch. 2 and 4.-" The name town first occurs in the record of the second coioniai meeting of the Conrt of Assistants [Massachusetts ilay, Nept. 7, 1630], in connection with the naming of Boston, Charlestown and Watertown. . . . A rude pattern of a frame of town government was shaped hy Iorchester, when, in place of the earlier practice of transacting busincess at meetings of the whoin body of ite freemen (the grants of laud being certifed by a committee cousisting of the elergy. men and deacons), it desiguateif certain lnhahitants, twelve in number, to ineet weckly, and consult and determine upon puhile affaira, without any authority, however, beyond other inhabitants who shonld ehoose to come und take part in their consuitations and votes. Alwont the same time. st Watertown, it was 'ngreed hy the consent of the freemen, that there shonld be three persons ehosen for the oricring of the cival affairs.' In the fourth year from the settlement of Boston, at which time the earilest extant rec. oris were maie, three persons were elioss'n' to makn, up the ten to manage the nflairs of the town.' The systeni of delegated town netion was there periaps the asme which was deflued in an Orier made by the inhalitants of Chariestown, at a fuil meeting [Feh. 10,1635 ], for the govern ment of the town by Selectimen. '- the nams presentiy extended throughout New Engiami to the municipni governori. . . . The tuwns linvo been, on the one hand, separste governments, and, on the other, the separate constituents of a common government. Ju Mamachusetts, for two cepturies and a quarter, the Deputles In the Generai Court - or IRepresentatives, as they have bren named under the state Constitution - continued to represent the munleipal corporatlons lu New llampshirs, Vermout, Connecticut and Hicule Island, that busis of representation still subsists."-J. G. Paifrey, Ilist. of Now Eing., o. 1, eh. 9.-"Boaton.. is the largest community that ever malntained the town organizatlon, prohahly the most grucraily ahle and Inteliigent. No other town ever pisyed so conspicuous a part in connectlon with lupportant events. It ied Massachusetts. New Eingiand, the thirtecil colonies, In the straggie for Independence. Probabiy in the whole history of tive Anglo-Saxou rare, there has beeu nu other so lutereting manifestation of the artivity of the Foik-mote. Of this town of towns, Bamuel Adams was the son of sons. . . One inay almost cail him the creature of the town-meetlag." $-\mathbf{J}$. K. llowmer, stmued Adama, the Man of the Turn. Meeting (Johns Hopkins U'ninersity Studies, eries 2, no. 4).
Also in : E. Channlng, Touen and Connty Goo't in the Eng. Colonics (Johns Ilopkine Unir. Studies, sriens. no. 10).-Scc, also, New Entiano: A. D. 1010-164t ; and SElectiexs.
TOWTON, Battie of (A. D. 1461), -On Paim Sunday, March 29, 1481, two armles of Eingilshmen met on a " goodly piain," ten milien from the city of York, between the viliages of Towton and saxton, to fight out the conteution of the purties of the "two rumes," - of Lanceaster and York. The battle they fought is calle. the blnodlest that ever dyed Engllah aoil. It raged through an afternoon and a night untll the following day, and the sialn of the two sides has been variously reckoned ly diferent hlatorlans at 20,000 to $$ 8.00 \%$. No quarter was given ly the victorious partisaus of Eidward IV. and the lancastrians were utteriy crushed. Henry VI. tled to scotiand and Queen Margaret repaired to Frame.-See England: A. D. 145\%-1471.-C. Ransome, Battle of Toveton (Eingliah Ilisterical Rer. July, 1880).
TOXANDRIA. - After Julian's successful campalgus against the Franks, A. D. 858 , the latter were permitted to remaln, as subjects of the lioman Rmpire, In "an cxtenslve district of Brabaut, whth was then known by the appeiiatinn of Toxandria, and may deserve to be considerel as the original seat of their Chaliic monarchy. . . . Thls name seems to be derived from the 'Toxandri' of Pliny, and very frequentiy occurs in the historles of the middle age. Toxandria was a country of wools and morasses, Which cxtemied from the neighbourhood of Tongres to the conflux of the Valial and the Rhane."-E. Gihbon, Deeline and Fill of the Roman Empire, eh. 10, with fwot note.- See, alwo, Gatl: A. D. $855-381$.

TOXARCH1, The.-The commanders of the Athenlan archers and of the clty-watch (known as Scythians) were so calied.-A. Boeckh, Pullic Economy of Athens, bk. 2, eh. 11.
TRACHIS.-TRACHINIA. See GreEce: B. C. 480 (TIIERMOPYL.*).

TRACTARIAN MOVEMENT.TRACTS FOR THE TIMES. - TRACT NINETY. Sec Oxpold or Thactarian MoveMent.

TRADE.

Anclent.
The Eariiest Records of Trade.- Prohabiy the oldest commercial record that exlsts was found scuiptured on the rocks in the vailey of Hammamat, east from Kuptis on the Nile. It relates to an expedition sent out by the Pharaoh Nmikh-ka.m. to trale in the "iand of l'unt." Dr. Hragseh tixes the relgn of Mankh ka-rani about 2:0) B. C. The " land of l'unt" lie cousiders to have leen the Nomaii cuast of Afrlea, multh of the: extrenity of the lud Nen, on the Gulf of Auen. Other writers maintain that it was mouth. em Arahla. It was the "Hloiy land" of the Exyptians, from which their gols were supposed to hispe ancientiy come. The trailug cexperlition of Sankh ka-ra was commanderi by one llannu (a) Hame whicil has a l'iteuician sound). Some seven or eight renturies after llannu's voyage 4 Puut was unale. we obtaln in the Bible a mont Interesting plimpse of the trale then going on Ix.tween Egyptanc surrounding countries. It is found in the story of Joseph. When Joseph's hrethren threw him into a plt. Intending that he shoull ise left there to die. thetr plans were changed hy recing a "Company of Ithmacites from (lliend with their camela learing spicery anl halm and myrrh. going to carry it down to Egypt." Then Judah sald, "let us sell hlm to tive Ishmaelites." Now thls story is found to agnee well with other facts which go to show that winle, at leasi, among the ancicnt triben in northern Arabia - the Ishmaelites of the Bihle were great traders between the richer countries that surroundel them. By the poverty of ticir country, hy their wanderig dispositiou, by their possession of tic camel, and by their gengruph. frai situatlon, these Arabs of the widen thene must have naturaliy been made a trading peopile. With their caravans of cameis they traveled batk and forth, very husiiy, no doubt, through the desert, whleh necded no huididing of hrilges or uakligg of roads. In one directiou they carried tie bariey, wheat, miliet, flax aud woreu gouls of Egypt : In another, the houey, wlne, wax, wool, skins, guins, reains and asplatt of Canaan aud Ayria: In still another the mure costly frclght of gold oruamente, precious stoncs, pearis, fvory, ebony, splces ind fragrant gums from the south. In ali directlons, It is probuble, they draggeil poor unfortunates like Josepii, whom they bought or kidnapperl to scl! as siaves.

Babylonia.-"The Industry of the Babylonlans quickly attalned great skili and wife levciopment. They were famous for their weaving in wool and iluen. $\qquad$ Thelr pottery was excel. lent and the manufacture actlve: the preparatlon of giass was not unknown ; the ointments propared In Iahyion were famous and much sought after, and the stones cut there were highly vaiued. The products of Babylonian skiil and Industry were trast hrought to their klnsmen $\ln$ Syria, who couid uffer oil and wlne In exehange. In the IIe. brew scripturon we find Pabylonian cloaks In uxe In 8yria before the 1 mmagration of the liehrews into Cansaan. The rough material requiral hy Babylonian Industry was supplied in the firat plece by the Arabs, who exchanged their anlmals, skins, and wool for corn and weapona. Whe, and more eapecially wood, of which there Was none In Rahylonia, were hrought hy the Armenians from their valleys in the north down the Euphrates to Babylon. Before 1500 B. C. the commerce of the A rabs hrought the products of South Arahia, the splces of Yemen, and even the products and manufactures of Indla, eapeciaily their sllks, whlch reached the coasts of Southern Arabia, to Bahylon. The Bnhylonians required the perfumes of Arahia and India to prepare their olntmenta $\qquad$ When the cltle of Phealcia became great centres of trade which carried the wares of Babyionia hy sea to the Weat in order to obtain copper In exchange, the trade between Babyionia and Syria must have become more Ilvely'stil. It was the ships of the Phealcians whlch hrought the cublc measure, and the weights, and tho cubft of Bahylonta to the shores of Greece, and caused them to be adopted there. "-M. Duncker, Ifist. of Antiquity, bt. 2, ch. 3 (o. 1).-See, also, Monez AND Banz. ine.

TRADIE

Egypt. - "In ancient Egypt agriculture counted for more than manufactures, and manufactures were of more Importance than com. merce. The trade whlch existed was hrisk enough ms far as it went, but it a'med at Hitle more than the satisfaction of local wants by the more or less direct exchange of commodities between producers. The Imited development of Internal trafific was due to two principal causes: the natural products of different parts of the country were two much allke for much intercourse to be necessary for purposees of exchange, and the conformation of the country, in Itseif scarcely larger than Beigium, was such as to give thie longeat posable distance from north to mouth. ... The Nific was the oniy known highWay, so much so that the language scarcely pis. sessed a general worl for travelling; going southward was called 'going up strcam,' and a journey to the north, even by fand into the desert, was described by a term meanling to an! with the current. $\qquad$ Whatie Internal traflic was thus brought to a minimum by natural causes, foreign commerce can ncarcely be said to hare existed, before the establishmeat of peaceabie Intercourse with Syria under tho new empire. The importation of merchandize from foreign countries was a pollical rather than a commerclal affir. Such forelgn wares as entered the country came as tribute, as the spoli of war, or as memoriais of peaceful embasales. list of the spoll taken by Thothmen III. gives a toferably exhaustive account of the treasures of the time. It includes, of course, buifs, cows, khis, white gonis, mares, fonis, oxcn, geese, and corn; then follow strange birds, negroes, men and mald-servants, nobie prisoners and the chil. dren of defeated kings, chariots of copper, plated whh goll and shver, iron armour, bows, awords and otber accoutremests, leather collars ornamented with brass, goll and sliver rings, cups, dishes and otber utenuifa, vessela of fron and copper, statuen with heads of gold, ell-measurem whith hearle of ivory, ebony, andl cedar inlaid with gold, chairs, tables and footstools of cedar wood and lvory, a plough iniald with goid, blocks of bluentone, greenstone and lead. is godiden storm-cap iniaid with bfuretone, jara of balam, oll, wine and honey, various himds of precious woods, Incense, alabaster, precious stones and colours, Iron columns for a tent with precious stones in them, bricks of pure hrase elephants tuake, natron, and, finafly, by way of curioalty, from the land of the kinge of Ruthen, three battie-axes of fint."-E. J. Simcox, Prim itive Civilizations, bte. 1, eh. 8, sect. 1 (0.1). -See, also, Money and Baniuro.
India.-' It is and In the RIg.Vedn that 'merchants desirous of galn crowd the great watern with their ships.' And the activity in trade, thus eariy noted, has continued ever alnce to be characteristle of the couatry. Professor Las. sen conslders It remarkable that Hindua them. seives discovered the rich, iuxurious character of Indlain products. Many of the same beasta, blris, and fragrant olis are produced in other countries, hut remals unnoticed untli sought for by forelgners; whereas the most ancient of tho Hindua had a keen enjoyment in articies of taste or fuxury. Rajas and other rich peopie deHighted in sagaclous elephants, swift horses, spiend ' i peacocks, gotden decorntlons, exqulaite perfumes, pungent peppers, Ivory, pearis, gems, dc. ; and, consequeatly, caravas: were in conatant requishlon to carry these, and innumerahle other matters, between the north and the south, and the east and the weat, of their rast and varied country. These caravans, it is conjectured, were met at border stations, and at out ports, by western caravaas or shlps bound to or from Tyre and Egypt, or to or from the Peralan Guif and the Redi sea. To the appearance of Inilla goods In Greece, Prolessor Laesen attrib utes the Greek invaslon of Iadia. The in. direct evidence afforded by the presence of Indla's profucts in other anclent countries, coincldes with the direct testmony of Sanskrit fiterature, to establish the fact that ancleat llindus were a commicrclal people. The coxde of Manu requires the king to determine the prices of commoditles and afso the trintworthiness of the weights and mensures used. And that the transactons con. tempiated were not restricted to local products Is evhident from reference to the charges for frelght for artictes is. Aver boate, and the undetermised and farger charges to which sea. borne goods were flable. The account of Klag Yud. hishithira's coronation In the Mahabhatratia afforda an lastance of preclous arteice from diatant fands brought into India, so siso in the RameSaas, we read that when Rama and his brothera were married, the brides were clad in silk from China. $\qquad$ Merchanta are constantly being intromuced Into Sanakrit fiction, and equafly often Into Buddhist legend. They seem to have been afwaye at hand to glve variety and movement to the monotony of dally Iffe. - Mrs. Mannlag. Ancient and Medianal Yndia, ch. 40 ( 0.2 ).
Phentclans and Carthagians.-Th Phac. nlelans for some centuries conined thelr $\boldsymbol{v} \mathrm{wiga}$ tion within the limits of the Mediterraneas, the Tropontis, and the Euxine, laad-locked sean, which are tideless and far less rough than the open ncean. But hefore the thme of Solomon they had passed the plifarm of Hercuies, and af. fronted tho dangers of the Atinntlc. Thelr frail and mafl vessela, acarcely bigger than modern Anhling amacks, proceerled southwards along the Weat African conal. as far as the tract walered by the Gambla atad Sencgai, while aorthwand they conated afong Apain, brived the heary mea of the Bey of Blicay, and paning Cape Finis.
terre, rentured scrowe the mouth of the Mnglish Chandel to the Camelterides. Similarly, from the West African shore, they boldly ateered for the Fortunate Inlanda (the Canaries), vielhle from certaln elevated pointa of the conet, though at 170 mile! distance. Whether they proceeded further, in the south to the Azoren, Madeirn, and the Cape do Vorde Ialanden in the north to the conat of Holland, and acroes the German Ocean to the Baltic, we regard an uncertain. It is powsihle that from time to time nome of the more adventurous of their tradors may have reached thus far; but their regular, settled and entabliahed narigation did not, wo belleve, oxtend beyond the Bcilij Ialande and coast of Cornwall to the rarth.west, and to the south-weat Cape Non and use Canarles. The commerce of the Phonalclans was carried on, to a large extent, br land, though pilncipally hy sem. It appeari from the famoun chapter [zxvil] of Ezekiel which deactibes the riches and greatiness of Tyre ln the 6th century B. C., that almoat the whole of Wentern Aita was penetrated hy the Phernician caravans, and ladd under contribution to Increase the wealth of the Phoenlelan traders. $\qquad$ Translating this glorious hurat of poetry into prose, we fond the foliowlig countrien mentloned an carrying on an active trade with the Phoenlctan metropolis:- Northera 8yria, Syrin of Damascue, Judah and the land of Israel, Egypt, Arahla, Bahyloala, Asayria, Upper Menopotamis, Armenis, Central Aila Mlnor, Ionia, Cyprus, Heilas or Greece, and Spaln."-G. Rawlinson, Hist. of Phericia, eh. 0.-"Though the Invluclhie in. dustry and enterprise of the Phenlcians main. talned them as a people of lmportance down to the period of the Roman empire, yet the period of thelr wldent range and greatest efficlency is to be sought much oariler - anterior to 700 B . C. In thete remote timen they and thelr colonists [the Carthaginianas especialiy] were the excluaive narlgators of the Mediterranean: the rise of the Greek maritime settiements hanished their commerce to a great degree from th $\boldsymbol{y}$ Egean Sea, and embarramed it oven ln the more weat. erly waters. Their colonial eatahlishmonts were formed in Africa, siclly, Sandinla, the Bainaile Isien, and 8 Pain. The greatnems as weli an the antiquity of Carthage, Utica, and Gades, atteat the iong-nighted plans of Phenlcian traders, even in days anterior to the arst Oifmpiad. We trace the wealth and induatry of Tyre, and the diatant anvigation of her veacels through the Fied Sea and slong the coast of Arahis, back to the days of David and Solomou. And as neither Egypilana, Asayrians, Perians, or Indians, addressed them. seiver to a sea.farigg life, so it seems that both the importation and the distrihution of the products of India and Arahia lnto Wentern Ania and Europe were performed by the Idumean Arabe between Petra and the Red See-hy the Arabe of Gerrha on the Peralan Guiff, joined as they were ln inter times hy a body of Chaideran exifes from Bahylonis - and hy the more enterprising Phenicians of Tyre and sidon in thete two meat at well at in the Mediterranean."一G. Grote, Dist. of Gracec, pt. 2, ch. 18. - "The Com. merce of Carthage may be convenientiy conaidered under its two grent hranches - the trade with Africa. and the trade With Europe. The truie with Africa, was carrled on with the barbarous tribes of the inland country that could be reached by cararana, and of the sea-const.

Of both we hear somethlng from Herode' as, the Witer who furniahes us with mout of our knowl. edge about these parts of the anclent woild. . . The goods with whlch the Carthaglinian merchante traded with the African tribee were douhtleas such as thooe which clvilized nationa hare always used in their dealings with sarages. Cheap Anery, gaudlly coloured clothn, and arma of inforior quality, would prohahly be their ataplo. Salt, too, would be an lmportant article.

The articles which they would recelve in ezchange for their goods are easily enumerated. In the artat piace comen . . gold. Carthage seems to have had always at hand an ahundant supply of the preclous metal for use, whether as money or as plate. Next to gold would come alaves. . Irory must havo been another ar. ticle of Carthagialan trade, though wo hear Ilt. tle about lt. The Greeks used it extenaively ln art. . . Preclous stones seem to have been another article which the savages gave in exchange for the goods they coveted. . . Perhapa we may add daten to the list of articlen obtained from the laterior. The European trade dealt, of course, partly with the thlnge already mentioned, and partly wlth other arilcien for which the Carthagininn merchante acted as carriers, to to apenk, from one part of the Mediterranean to another. Lipara, and the other volcanic lslanda near the couthern extremity of Italy, proluced relin; Agrigentum, and pooslhiy other citica of Sicily, traded to auiphur brought dowa from the region of Eina; wine was produced In many of the Meditenanean countrles. War and honey were the staple goods of Coruica. Corsican alaves, too, were highly valued. The Iron of Eiha, the fruit and the cattle of the Balcaric falands, and, to go further, the tin and copper of Britaln, and even amber from the Baltic, were articles of Carthaginlan commerce. Trade was carrfed on not onify with the dwellers on the cosst, hut with lniand tribes. Thus goods were transported across 8 paln to the Interior of Gaul, the jealiunsy of Massfila (Maraelles) not permitting the Carthaginians to have any trading, stations on the southern conat of that country."-A. J. Church and A. Gliman, The Story of Carthage. pt. 8, ch. 8. -A hlgh authority on questions of Intercnurne In ancient timea throwa douht on the supposed African caravas ade of the Carthaginlans -a foilows: "Thel ' scems no doubt that the existing system of caravan trade datea only from the inirodurtion of Isiamism lnto Africa. It was the Arabe who arat Introduced the camel Into Northern Africa, and without camelo any extensive Intercoume with the interior was imposelthie. The Negro races have never shown may diapooi. tion to avall themselves of this mode of trans. port, and at the present day the commerce of the interior is carried on aimost entirely hy Moorlsh, that lis, hy Mohammedan, tradera. Thie spread of Isiamiom has doubtiena led to Incrensed communication from another cause, the neceatly for the Mohammedan lahabitants of the outiying and detached regions of the continent to make the pligrimage to Mecca. Even ln the most anourishing times of the Carthaginians the ${ }^{\text {do }}$ not appear to have made any une of camels; and as late as the days of Stra bo the communication with the tilles of Westera Afriea who dwelt beyond the Balara were acanty and lrregular. In the time of Herodotus there is certainly no ladlcation that elther the Carthagtalans or the Greela of the Cyrenalca had any commerefal intercourse Fith the regions beyond the Great Desert."E. H. Bunlury, Hinh. of Aneient Geog., eh. \%. nofe I (o. 1). - Sec, aleo, Phericlanb ; and Can-traoz. thaoz.
Jews.-Beginning eariy in his relgn, Solomon made great and enllghtened efforts to promote the commerce and induatries of the people of If. ref. "To increase the land traffic, he faud small cities hufle in advantageous focalitien, in which goods of all sorts in large quantities wera iscpt In suitabie storehouses; a nractice similin ta that which had from ancient timen prevaflerl in Egypt.

They were eatablished chiefy in tho nivat northern districts of Iarael, tovards the Phensiclan boundaries, as welf as in the territnries of the kingdom of Hamath, which was first con quered by Solomon himmeif. - The main road for the land traffic between Egypt and the finterior of Aula muat have been the great highway leading past Gaza and further west of Jerusaiem to the Jorthern Jordan and Damascus. Here it was jolned hy the road from the Phoenician cities, and continued as far as Thapsacus, on the Euphrates. This was entirely in the dominions of the kling; and here, under the peaceful banner of agreat and powerful monarchy, commerce could flouriah as it had never fourinhed before. It was ciearly for the improvement of this reute, which had to traverue the Syrian desert on the north, that Solomon huilt, In a happily chowen onde of thin wifderness, the city of Thammor, or Tadmor, of which the Greek veraion is Paimyra. There is not a aingie indication that this city was of importance before solomon's tiane, hut from that era it flourished for more than a thousand yearm. . For any diatant navigation, how. ever, Solomon was ohliged to refy on the ald of the Phcenficians, inasmuch as they were in that age the onily nation which poseemed the necesasry abifity and incifination for it. It is true that the idea of competing with the Phomictans upon the Mediterranenn could hardiy have occurred to him, alince they had long beore that time attracted alf the commerce upon it to themseives, and would acarcely have denired or even tofer: ated such a rival. . . . But the Red Sea, which had been thrown open to the kings of Irmei by the conquest of the Idumesas, offered the finest opportunity for the mosi listant and lucrative undertakinga, the proflt of which might perfectly aalisfy a nation in the position of Iaraef in the dawn of maritime activity; and on their part, the Phcenlcians could not fail to bo most willing heipers in the promotion of undertakinge which It lay in the hands of the powerfui king of Iarael entirefy to cut off from them, or at any rate to encumber with great difficuitien. In this way the mutuai desires and needs of two nations co. treided without any injury to the one or the other. Phænician sallors were at first, it in true, the teachers of the Iaraeifte. It was they Who aided tirem in conatructing and manning the tall silipa, which. deatined to diatant voyagee upon uncertaln seas, needed to be strongiy bulfit hut yet how many new ideas and what varied knowiedge the nation would in this way acquite i The ahips were bulft in Ezion-geber, the harbour of the town of Elath (or Eioth), probahiy on the Very spot where Akaba now stands. The cargo hrought back each time from the three years' royage consisted of 420 talcnts of gold, beoldee difer, ivory, red andal-wood, apen, and pee. cocks, probably also nard and aloc."-H. Ewald, Hiof. of frad, 0. 8, pp. 201-201.
Greeks. -" When the Greeks had eatablithed themselves, not only on the peninsuls, but also on the thlands and on the east coust of the AJ gean Sea, their navigation was greatly oxtegied. That thle, even in the first half of the Bth ceatury, was profitahife in its resulta, we wee from the inatance of Dius of Cyme, the father of Heslod, who matatained himself in this manner. The works of art in which Lydia and Caria ex. celied, together with the products and manufac. turen of the east, which reached the weatern comats of Asia, the products of thene comats, and wine and oll from Lesboe and samos-all these couid be shipped from the Greek martime clites of Asla Minor, and carried to the peninsula. It Was through this commerce . . that Chalcts and Eretria faid the foundation of their greatnesa. To what proportions it had attained, even In the course of the 8th century, we find from the mint marks of Phoczan and Cyme, the standards of Chaicis and Eretria, the colns and weights and measures of Phidon of Argoe.
From the middle of the 8th century, the Greek: no fonger merely pmetised anvigation; they became, In an eminent sense, a raritime nation. At the time when Sinope and Trapezus were founded in the east. Naxou, Catana, and Syra. cuse in Slifily, and Cyme in Campania, a neut. cal discovery had already been made, hy means of which the Greeks surpawed the Phoenfclana, the nncient royagers of Syris; this was the huliding of triremea. To what an extent and proticiency must cramanship have attained, What importance natal battles must have as. sumed, to give rise to the attempt to replace the anclent war veasela hy others of a far more pow. erful kind! When the firat triremee were bullt at Corinth and Samos, about the year 700 B. C. Greek cittes afready existed on the southeri shore of the Biack Sea, on the coants of Thrace, In Corcyra and sicily; the nouthern coast of Italy haul aino been colonised. The products of Greek induatry, pottery, Implements, and wes. pons, were advaniageoualy bartered on the conats. of the Thraclans, Scythians, Ilfyrians, Siclifans, and Oscana, for the fruits of the moil, and for the tife of those regiona. The need of the means of exchange must have given great encouragement and impetus to manufactures in the Greek cities of the penfneula, on the conats of Alf. and in the newly.founded Ablatic settlement: thembelver. ... Navigation and commerco must have become permanent occupations. And the great increase of manufactures muat also have given employment to numbers of the country people. Thus there grew up under the very rufe of the aristocracy a powerfus rivai to ftellf; a nautical, artiann, commercial class, side by afde with the land popuiation. If the protecting walls of the chief place of the canton had prerfousiy been mought onfy in time of need, in caso of surprises or hoatife landings, the new industrial clames were now settifed together in the harbours and centres of trade. Handicrafte, narigation, and commerce, could not exitit with. out one another. In the maritime cantons on the east of the peninaula, and in the cantons on the coaste of the Pefoponnesus, there apragg up simultaneounly with the hurgher ciasa a town population."-M. Dunctiker, Finte. of Greco, bt. 4 A. 2 (1. 2). $=$ "Between 700 B. C. and 880 B. C.,

Gresko-Romano.

TRADE.

we observe . . an immense extenalon of Grecian maritime activity and commerce - but we at the maine time notice the deciline of Tyre and sidion, buth in power and traftic. The arms of Nebuchadnezzar retuced the Pleatcian cttlea to the sume state of dependence as that which the Iomlan cltes under went half a century later from Crusus and Cyrus; whlle the shlpe of Mlletus. thokea und Bamoe gradually apread over ali thase witers of the Levant whilel had once been exclusively Ihenlcian. In the year 704 B . C., the Samians dld not yet prosess a alagle tri. reme: down to the year 630 B. C. not a slngle Gireek vessel had get viated Libya. But when w. reach 5.50 B . C. We find the boulc ships prolominan: In the Egean, and those of Corfuth and Korkyra in force to the west of Pel. apmanesus - We seo the flourishlug eitles of Kyrene and Barka already rooted lin Llhya, and the port of Naukratis a laisy emportum of Grecian conmerce with Eigypt. The trude hy land - which is all that Eeypt had enjoyed prior to Psamurdichus, and wheh was exelusively conductel by Phenlelans-1s exchunged for a trade by seu. of which the Phenlelans have only a share, and seemingly a smaller slinre than the Gretiks. Moreover the coniquest hy Amasis of the Island of Cyprus, Inatf-filted with Phenlelan bettements and once the tributary depentency of Tyre-niforla an aldiltional mark of the com. partutive derline of that great city. In her commerce with the Red Sea and the Porsian Gulf ahe atill rellained whthout a compertitor, the schemes of the ELyptisn king Nekos having proved abortive. Even In the time of IIerulotns, the spices and frankincense of Arabia were still brought snd Ilistriluterl only by the Phenlelan merchant. But on the whole, both political and Industriai development of Tyre are now eramped by lin. pediments, and kept down by rivals, not before in operation. The 6th century B. C., thougis a period of decline for Tyre and Sldon, Whs a perion of growth for their African colony Carthage, which appears during this eentury in conshlerable tratic with the Tyrricenian cowns On the southern eomast of Italy, and as tbrusting out the Phokemn settlers from Alalia lu Cor. slca "-G. Grome, Hiat. of Greece, pt. 2, eh. 21. -
It is a remarkable fact in the history of Greek colnies that the explorialon of the extreme west of tbe Mediterranean was not uadertaken eillaer hy the aiventurers who nettled at Cyme, or by the powerint eittes of Blelly. A century or mure elapsed from the foumlation of Dyraeuse befure uny Greek vessel was scen on the roast of Spain or Lagurta, and when the new bevinulug was mulle, it was not mado liy any of the colonies, Chatchilan, Dorian, or Shodlan, which land taken part in the discovery of the Wrst. It was the Plocneans of Ionia, IIerodotus teils us, who first maice the Freeks acqualnted with the Hadriatic, with Tyrriente, lberia (Spaln), and Tartesaus (the reglon round Cadiz). The tirst impulse to these distant voyages arowe frim a mere accident. At the time of the foundstion of Cyrene, about the year 680 B. C.. Greek of samoe, hy name Colaeus, when on hin way to Eigypt, was carrled hy contrary whads beyond the plllars of Heracles to Tar. teangs. There he found a virgin market. from Whifeh he recarued to realine a provit of sit tal. ents ( $£ 12.000)$, an amount only surpaned hy the gains of Sostratus of Aegina, who wee the pre. mier of Greek merchants. But this was the beglaniug and the end of Bamion trado to the Weat; why they left it to the Phocmenas to enter Into the riches which they had discovered, we cannot say, hut within thirty yeari of this date. the enterprising lonian town sent out a colony to Masailis near the mouth of the Rhone, in the district known as Liguria The mouth of the Ithone was the point where all the routen inct which traversed France from the Engllah Channel to the Gulf of Genoa. Of these Strabo apeelties three. Merehandise was carrled by boata up the Rhone and SaOne, from which fo Was transferred to the Seine, and so passed down the river; or it was taken hy land from Mar. sellles (or Narbo) to the Lolre; or f lu carrled up the Aude and transported thenc wo the Gar. onne. By one or ollicr of these routen, tho wares collected by tho Gaulish merchantsmore eapecialily the tin, which they Imported Irom Britaln-was brouglit Into the Greek mar. ket. If ladced it was not carrled on pack-honeo. stralght acrose the narrowest part of the coun. try. The importance of these lines of tranalt at a tlme when the western Medlterrunean was held by the Carthaginians, and the northern Hadr. atle hy the Tyrrhenlans, can hardly be over-eatimated. The colouists cxtended their bonders hy degrees, though not withunt severe contento with the Ligurtans and Ty rrinenlans hy sea and land. New citles were foumfed to serve as outponts against the enemy: Agatia in the direction of the larbarians of the lkhone; Olhla, Antipolls and Nicacen in the direction of the Salyans and Ligurians of the Alps. They also spread themvelves down the cuast of Spaln."-E. Abbott, Mist. of Grecec, pt. 2, eh. 13.
Rome--"Rome, placed like a mightter Mexleo in the centre of her milghty lake, was fur nlshed with every lixury and with many of her chlef necesaries from beyoud the waters; and elthes on every coast, nearly similiar in latitude and cilmate, vied In intense rivairy with each other in milnistering to her appetite. First in the ranks of commerce was the traffic in corn, which was conducted by large flecets of galleya, salling from certaln havens once a year at stated perfods, and pourling their stores into her granaries In thelr appoluted order. Gaul and Epain, Sardinia and Nielly, Africn and Egypt were ail wheat-growing countries, und all contributed of thelr proinee, jartly as a tax, partly abo as an nrtiele of commerce, to the sustentation of Rome and Italy. The convoy from Alexandria wais fonkenf for with the greatest anxiety, both as the heaviest laden, and as from the length of the voyage the most lialite to disaster or detention. The vessuls which bore the corn of Egypt wero required to holst their topsalis on sightle 3 thes promontory of Surrentunt, both to diatilgush them from others, and to expedite their arrivel. Theme vessely moreover, according to the lastitution of Augustus, were of more than ondinary size, and they were attended hy an encort of war galleya. The importance attached to thila convoy was marked hy the phrices, 'auaplctous. and 'sacred,' applited to It. . . . A deputatlon of senators from Rome was directed to a walt its arrival at the port where it was about to cast anchor, which, from the bad condition of the haven at Uatia, was genernilly at thls period Puteoll in Campania. Ai soon as the well-known copmils wore seen above tha horizon a general

Ancient, Romane.

TRADE.
boliday was proclaimed, and the population of the country, far and near, atreamed with joyoun acelamationa to the pier, and gazed upon the rich fotilla expanding gaily before them. The vensela engaged in this trade, however numerous, were after ali of mali burden. The corn- feete did not indeed form the chief maritime venture of the Alexandrians. The products of Indin, which had formerly reached Eggat from Arabia, and were supposed indeed in Europe to have come only from the ahores of the Erythrean Sea, were now conveyed direct to Cleopatris or Berenice from the mouths of the Indus and the coast of Malabar, and empioyed an increas. ing number of vessels, which took advantage of the perindicai trale windis both in going and returning. The articles of which they went in queat were for the most part objects of luxury; such an Ivory and tortoisesheli, fahrics of cotton and siik, both then rare and costly, pearls and diamonds, and more especialiy gums and apices. The consumption of these fatter substances in dreas, in cookery, in the service of the teniplen, and above ali at funcrals, advanced with the progreas of wealth and refinement. The conaignments which reached Aiexandria from the East were directed to every port on the Mediter. ranean; hut there was no corresponding demand for the produce of the West in India, and thene precious freights were for the most part ex. changed for goid and ailver, of which the drain from Europe to Asia was uninterrupted. The amount of the precious metais thus abstracted from the curreney or huilion of the empire, was estimated at $100,000,000$ sesterces, or about 8800,000 yearly. The reed cailed papyrus, the growth of which seems to have been almost eonfined to the banks of the Nile, was in general use as the cheapest and most convenient writing materiai, and the consumption of it througiout the world, though it never entirely guperseded the use of parchment and waxen tahleta, must have been iminense. It was converted into paper in Egypt, and thence exported in its manu. factured state; hut this practice was not universai, for we read of a house at Rome which improved on the native process, and produced what Pliny cails an imperiai or nohle out of a mere piebelan texture. With respect to other artiches of general use, it may be remarked that the most important, auch as corn, wine, oll, and wool, were the common proluce of aif the consts of the Mediterranean, and there wus accordingly much less interchange of these staple commoll. ties among the nations of antiquity than with ourselves, wiose reiations extend through so many zones of temperature. Hence, probahly, we hear of none of their great cities becoming the workshops or eniporiums of the world for any speeiai artiele of commerce. The woollens Indeed of Miletus and Laodices, togetber with otber places of Asia Minor, were renowned for their excellence, and may have been transported marticles of iusury to distant parts; hut Africa and 8 ppain, Itaily and parts of Greece, were abo hreeders of sheep, and none of these, countries depended for this, prime necessary on the ibdustry or cuplitity of fureigners. The finest quallthen of Greek and Asiatic wines were bespoken at Rome, and at every other great seat of luxury. The Chisn and Leobinn vintages were among the mont celehrated. Ag Agan, while made perhaps mainiy from the akins of antunals, ieather of courre could be ohtained ahundantiy in almont every locaity. When we remember that the anelents had ncither tea, coffee, tobaceo, sugar, nor for the most part spirits; that they made little use of giass, and at this periox had hardiy acquired a taite for fahrics of silk, cotton, or even flax. we sialif percelve at a glance how inge a portion of the chicf articies of our commerce was entireiy wanting to theirs. Against this deflciency, however, many ohjects of great importance are to be set. Though the ruder classes were content with wooden cups and platters fasilioned at their own donm, the trausport of carthenware of the finer and more precious kinds, and from certain focailities, was very considerable. Thongh the Greeks and Romans generaliy were without some of our commonest implements of goill and silver, such for instance as watehes and forks, it is probahle that they indulged even more than we do in personal decoration with rings, seais, and trinkets of a thousand descriptions.

The conveyance of wild animais, chiefly fron Africa, for the aports of the amphitheatres of some hundreds of cities throughout the empire, must aione have given occupation to a large fleet of ships and many thousand mariners. Nor were the convnys smalier which were employel to transport mar. hie from the choiceat quarries of Greece and Asia to many flourishing citlea bealdes the metropoils. . After due deduction for the more contracted sphere of ancient rommerce, and the lesser number of articies, for the extent also to which the necessaries and conveniences of life were msnufactured at home in the eatahlishments of weaithy siaveownern, we shall stifl readily beileve that the inter-communication of the citles of the Mediterranean, such as Corinth, Rhodes, Ephesus, Cyzicus, Antioch, Tyrua, Alexandria, Cyrene, Athens, Carthage, Tarraco, Narbo and Massilia, Neapolis nnd Tarentum, Syracuse and Agrigentum, and of ail with Rome, must have been a potent instrument in fusing into one family the manifoid nations of the empire. . . In the eyes of tie Orimtais and the Greeks, the mistress of lands and continents, the leader of armies, and the huilder of roadr was regarded as the greatest of ail maritime emporiums, and reprenented in their agurative atyle as a woman citting enthroned upon the waves of the Mediterranean. The maritlme aspect thus nasumed hy Rome in the eyes of her subjects beyond the sea, is the more remarkahle when we consider how directiy her ancient poliey and hahits were opposed to commercial development. . . The landownery of Rnme, in the highday of her insolent adolescence, had denonnced both commerce and the arts as the hualness of slaves or freedmen. So late as the jear 535 a law had been passed which forbade a yena. tor to possess a reasel of hurden, and the trafic which was prohihited to the higher ciaes was degraded in the eyes of the lower.

It was sances hall wing the naturai train of circumstances, and hy no wettled policy of her own, that Rome secured ber march acrose the wen, and joined coast to comet with the indimofuhie chain of ber dominion. On land, on the contrary, the construeted her military causeways with a it ed and defnite purpone.

The population of Gaul crept, we know, slowis up the channel of the rivers, and the astive tracki which convejed

TRADE.

Anciant.
Gauh

,TRADE

animajs, undantly emember iffe, tofts; that ils period of slik, a glaner tleles of 0 thelrs. ohjects ough the en cups onrs, the nd more tles, wat and Ro. ur comsucb for able that pernonal ets of rance of e sports of cltles e glven d viany conviys ort mar. ece and the mehe more and the ant also of llfe shments readlly of the Corinth, Tyrus, Carraco, rentum, Rome, fusing the em snd the tlinente, 1 roads aritime urative on the aritime of her arkable anclent mercial one, $\ln$ had deto hus. 10 year s wens. trafic It wea ircum. own Chaln Chain Esed ion of inel of iveyed their traffic from station to atation were guided by these maln arteriea of their vital syatem. But the conquerors atruck out ot once amplete aystem of communleation for their own purpoess, by means of roads cut or hullt as occablon reguired, wlth a eettled pollcy rigidly pur. sucd. These high romls, as we may well call them, for they were ralsed above the level of the pialns and the hanks of the rivern, and climbed the loftiest hllls, were driven In direct llnes from point to polnt, and were stopped by nelther forest nor marsh nor mountaln. "-C. Merivale, IIiat, of the Romens, ch. 39.
Gaul under the Romana and after the fali of the Empire.-" In the second century of our era, In the time of Trajan and the Antonlnes, Gaul withlts fertile fields, Its beautlful meadows, fts magnittcent forests, was one of the best cultiTated countries of the lloman world. It exported lato Italy graln frou Aquitalne, Celtlque and from the country of the Allohroges (Danphiné), thax from Cadurques (Quercy) and Biturigen (Berry), hemp from Auvergne and the valley of the Rhone, splkenard from Irovence (valertana ceitica accordling to M. Llttré) renowned in the Roman pharmacopela, nak and plne from the lmmense forests whicb atlll coverel the Py renees, the Cércnnes, the Alps, the Jura, the Vosges snd nearly all the north of Gaul (forest of Arfennes), honses from Belglum, wool from the Narbonnalse, cbeese from the Alps and from Nimes, hame and sait provislons from séquanalse (Franche-Comt6), and the Pyrenees. The wines of the Narbonnalse and the valley of the Rhone, of ten adulterated and llttle rellshed by the Itallane, were notwlthstanding one of the princlpal objects of commerce in the interior of Gaul, In Great Britaln and Germany. The oyaters of the Mediterranean and even those of the Atlantlc and the Channel Fhlch the anclents lind perhaps found means of keeplng in freah water, figured upon the tables of the gourmets of fome. We know that long before the conquest, the Gauls took gold from the sands of thelr rivers and that in certain regions (Upper Pyrenees), territory of the Tarbelies, and Val d'Moste, territory of the Salasses, they extracted gold from the auriferous rocke hy processed quite analogous to those which are now employed hy the great Callfornlan companles. These mlnes whlch were yet ln existence under Augustus were not long in belng ex. hausted, but the lron of Berry, Sénonais, Pért. gord, l Rouergue, the valley of the Rhone and of the SaOne, the copper of the Pyrenee (Salnt. Etienne-de-Bargorry), of the Alps (country of the Centrons, now Upper Savoy), of the Cevennes (Cabriercs ln Hériult and Chessy ln Rhone), the tin of Llmoualn, the argentlferous lcad of the territory of the Rutenes (Rouergue), of the Gabales (Gévaudan), of the Centrons, etc., were mined and wrought whith aslll whleb placed the metallurgy of Gaul In the first rank of the industries of the emplre. These mining opers. tions, superinteaded by tho Btate. although they belonged to the proprietorn of the soll, were often directed hy companies whlch comblned the working of the metal with lte extraction from the ore. One which bad lts sent at Lyons is known to us hy many inseriptlons. Tcxtile lndustries were not less fourishlng tban metal. lurgy. the mannifacture of sail-cloth was carrled on all over Gaul; the bleached llnens of Cahors, the carpets of the Narbonnaise, the earums of mingled bright color were reaowned even is Italy. The progrese of commerce bad foliowed that of agriculture and manufacture. The network of Roman roads planned bw Agrippa wae completed and four roads sccenalije to carriages or beasts of burden, cromed the Alps by the passes of the Little (Gralus Moas) and of the Great Salnt-Bernard (Summus Pennlnus), of Monnt Gendvre (Mons Matrona) and of the Ar. gentlere: the Coraiche road stretched along the Medlterranean frm Gedon to Marsellen: thow of the pases of Pertus (Summo Pyrenoeco), of the valiey of Aran, of the Bomport, of Roncevauz, and from Lapurdum (Bayonne) to Pampeluna connected Gaul to Spaln.

Notwithatindlng the competlion of new roads, river navigation had retalned all lis activity. We know from lnscriptions of a certaln number of aspoclationa for water tranaportation whicb appear to have played a greal role in the interior commerce of Gaul from the first century of our ora. The bostmen of the Rhone, the Baone, the Dursnce, the Selae, the Lolre, the Iar, an atlluent of tbe Rhine, formed corporations recogalzed by the State, organized on the model of cltiea, baviag thelr regulatlons, property, electlve cblefs, and patronized by great personagea who charged themelves with defending tbeir intereate against the Roman authorlties. The most celebrated, if not the most lmportant of these assoclations, is that of the Nautie Parislacl, the memory of which bas been preserved to is hy the remalas of an altsr ralsed, under Tlberius, at the polat of the Isle of the Clty (the anclent Lutetia) and found in 1711 under the cholr of Notre. Dame. . . The two great commercial ports of the Mediterranean were Narbonne and Arles, after Marsellles had lout ber maritime preponderance and was only a city of sclence, juxury and pleasure. . . Immento labor upon embankments and canalization whlch had thrown wlthln Narbonne the maes of the river and deepened the maritime channel made of the metropolla of the Narboncalse one of the safest porta upon the coast of Gaul. It communlcated with the Rhone by the navigation of the lakes (étanga) Whlch at that time extended without lnterrupthon to the wentern mouth of the river, with the ocean hy the courte of the Garonne, navigabio from Toulonse (Tolosa). The port of the Gar. onne wae then as now Bordemux (Burdlgala) wblcb already had Intercourse wlth Great Britaln and Spaln. Arles, connected with the ees by the canal of Marius and perhape alno by the amall arm of the Rhone and the navigatlon of the lakes (étanga), was a maritime port and at the same tlme the outlet for the navigatlon of the Rhone which was prolonged by the Beone as far 28 Chalon (Cablllonum). Upon the banks of the river roee the wealthy cities of Tarascon, Avignon (Avenio), Orange (Araudo), Vlenae. Lyons is the commercial and also the polltical metropolie of Gaul, the seat of the most powerful manufucturing and commerclal com. panies; the boatmen of the Saome and the Rhone, the wine merchants, the mining and meltiog company of the valley of the Rhone. Above Chalon, four great commercial routen atart from the railey of the 800 ae . The Irst anceode the Doubs as far as Bemançon (Vesuntio) and termiDaten at the Rhine near Augat (Augusta Raurs. corvm), where the river is already navigabie. The eecond followa the valley of the Baone and deacends hy the Moseile, narigabie above Triver (Auguats Trevirorum), and by the Meune, toward the middie and lower vailey of the Rhine. The third route, that from the Sadae to the Loirs, set out from Chaion, crossed Autun (Augustodumun), and reached the Loire above Or. Geas (Geaabum, liter Aureilanum). Goods embarked upon the river urrived, after a voyage of 870 kilometers (2,000 stades), at Nantes (Portus Namaetum) which appesre to have been subeti. tuted, about the beglaning of the firat century. for the ascient port of Corbilo and which was aiso in intercomrse with Great Britaia. The fourth route, that from the Sadue whe Seine, crossed Autun, was there dividel Into two brnaches wifich went by way of Availon and Alise to meet at Sens (Agediacuni) on the Yoane, and descended the sefne to its mouth by Meiun (Meiodunum), Paris (Lutetia) aad IRouca (Rotom. agus). This was the siortcst ronte britween the ncw jroviace of Britalai aad the Mediterramean; but the ancleuts, aotwitistandiag the prugress in navigation, aiways distrusted iong passages by sea; so tie principmi emporium of conmerce with Britail was not Carucotinum (ilartleur), the port of the Seine, but Gesoriacun, iater Bononis (Bomiogac), which is distant ouly 50 kiometers from tic Eugiish const. It was there tint Caiiguia erected tiant gigantic pharos known to tim mididie-ages uuder the uame 1645 the tower of Gire und which existeri uutil 1645.

TRADE.

When one thinks of Gani in the sec. onif haif of the Sth century, after thinse great streams of havasion Wincis swept it for fifty jeirs, onc easily fancics thint the flooil has carriei everythiag away, that tite Koman institutions have dinappeared, that private fortuncs are swailowed ip ia a frightfui catastropie, that the Darbarinas have cusiaveri the Guilo-Romanas, that soxini iffe is suspeaded, maunfactures ruined, commerce iaterruptedi. This pieture which responds to the hien we form of a barimaina conquest, is necessarily exaggerateri, because the Germanic invasioa was inot a conyuest. The Gernans who estabilsicil themseives upon the iloman territory, titose even wio had cmpioyed force to make a piace for theuselves within it, didi not considice themselves conquerors, but suh. jects and soillers of the Empire: they dreamed so iittie of destruying it that they aspired to serve it whether it would or no.. . . Notwith. str: ding the decadence of maufactures and the iuevitable disoricrs which weakness of the centrai power liriugs ia its trin, conmmerce appears to have proserved a certuin anousat of activity. In the 6if century, post stages stili existed. Upon the floman ruaris, maintalnel and repaired by tife Mérovinglims, heavy wagons which served for the iransportation of goods and traveiers circulated with thelr teams of oxea or horsea. Royai decrees commanded the preservation of towiag paths aling navigabie rivers; the rivers had remaincd the high-ways of inte. rior commerce, aad the boatmea's cumpanies of Roman Gauil had periaps survived the fail of the imperiai domiaation. The jorts of the Atiantic, Bordeaux and Nantea, tiose of the Chanael, Alet (between Saint-Miaio nud Saiat-Servan), Rouea, Quantovic (Etapies or Saint-Josse-surMert) on the bay of the Canche. Bouiogne, were in relations with the Visigoths aad the Suevi of Spaia, the Irith, the Frisisas, and received in exchange for the wines, honey, madder, grains and llnoas of Gaul, oils and lead from Bpals. metais and slaves from Great Britain coare clothe from Ireland and oner fabrice which they were begianing to make In Frala. Marselliea, Arles, Narboaie, the great ports of the Mediter. ranean, were al ways the depots for the trade of the Orfeat, where thelr vescels weat for splces. siliks, papyrus from Aiexandria, clotha and car. pets from Aatioch and Laodices, which thoir inerchaats exchaaged in part for money, in part for metals, honey, saffroa, almoads sad linens from southern Gaui, corai hrought from Italy. aad amber brought overiand from the borders of the Baitic. The coaqucsts of the Fraaks, mas. ters of centrai aad southern Germaay, had opeaed to commerce two new roads: oae, by the Daaube, stretched a way to tite froatieri of the Eastorn Empire and to Coastantinopie through the countrics occupied by the ferce tribes of the Avars and the Buigarians; the other arrived by Thuringia in the regions where the Siav tribes, Sorbm (Meckjeaburg. Brandenburg. Pomernala) and Wends (Bohemia, Moravia, Austria, Car. inthis) dominated. In these uncuitivated countries, covered with forests and marshes, ia the midist of these warilise peopics, tite merchants couid risk titemseives oaly in iarge caravans, aword at the side andi iance iu liaud. These dla. tant and perious expeditious wero attractive to the adveaturous spirit of the Fraak race.
Faith, as weij as ambition, found its account in titese journcys to thn couatries of the pagaa. On the way, they distributed religious Images to the licathica, they tried to coavert them while profiting by tircm.

This mingiiag of cominerce and reilgioa is one of the characteristic traits of tie mididie ages, as it is of antipuity. The most ancient fairs of Gaui, that of Troyen wifich was in cxistence as eariy as the Stin cen. tury, that of Salat-Germain-des.Prés, that of Suint ineais, witici goes buck to the time of Dagohert (629), Were at the sume time pilgrimagca. This intter the most ceiebrated of aif, uader the Mérovinginus, was heid outsidie the walis of Paris, isetweea the churches of Suint-Martin and Saiat-Laurent, upoa the iands watered by the brook Méniimentsnt; it was opeaed oa the festivai of Suiat-Denis ard coatinued four weeks, in oricr to permit, says its charter, merchaats from Spain. Proveace aad Lombardy and even thow from beyond the sea, to take part in it. The fair of Shial-Deuis was the rendezvous of merchants from ail parts of Gaui aad Europe. Beslde the wines and olis of the Bouth might bo seen the inoney and wax of Armorica, tife ilnems aad madijer of Ncustria, the nuetais of Spain and Eagland, the furs of the North, the products of the royal manufactories; but the choicest goods were the spices, pepper, tissues of silk and of cotton, Jewels, oaamels, goldsmithas work, witich came from the Orient by the Medi. terraaean ports, more rarely hy way of tbe Dan. ube, aad whose guardians were the Syre ai, or Jews destiaed to hoid so great a place in the commerce of tim middie ages The Byrians, aad uader this name the Fraaks comprehended, without douht, ail merchaats native to Egypt or Roman Asia, - formed powerful communities at Marneliten, Narbonne, Bordeaux: at Part they had sufficicat iniluence to enable one of them, Eusehlus, to succeed in purchating the орізсораи, :- 501
in An to the Jows, grout

TRADE

Medieral.
chimese.-Arade
the fall of the Roman Emplre, but their prosper Ity dates oniy from the epoch of disorganization which followed the barbarian lovadion." - II. Pigeonneau, Iliotoire du Commores de la Mranee (trans. from the iteneh), tome 1, liere 1.

Medieval.

Eariy trade witb Cbins. - "During tho Tang Dynasty the lntercourne between China and otier considerahio powen wat not oniy clower but conductedi on more nenriy equal terma than at any other time. . . . The nelghbouring kingriom of Tibet in first mentioned in the annaia for 634 A. D. as zending ambaseadors with trilh. ute and being ahie to mile a large and formid. ahle army. . . . Appeais from Iersia and India for heip againat the Naracens were addresed to Cbina more than once In the 7th and 8th centuries; and the heir apparent to the Pernlan throne resided for a time as hotage at the court of China. . . . But for the physical atructure of the continent, winich isolates India and China, Fhife freezing Tilet and nomadizing Tartary, the spreai of Arals conquest round or across the desert would have reachei a point pear enough to bring about a collision with China, As it was, a generai dmpetus was given to foreign travel ani foreign commerce; and . . . coinalea of traders cstahlished themseiven in the southern ports, as weli as aiong the continental trade routes. . . About the year 700 A. 1). a market for strangers was opened at Canton, and an inperial cmomission appointeri to ievy duties. In $31+$ A. D. we tiear of a petition of foreign merchants, arriving ly way of the son'lurn sea, which is forwarifed from tie const in quite momern fashion for the emperor's consiferution. It set forth ail the prechous thing: wiich the merchants coutid hring from the countries of the West, and representeci them as oniy desirons. of coilecting menicinal druga and stimpias. Linfortunateiy for the traders, they arrived at the leginning of a new reign Whels a vigorous attempt had been made to put down the luxury of the murt. . . . It was con clutied to take no further notice of the petition. Forelgn tracie continuedi to exist on sufferance, but so fur ths the Chinese were conrarneti, it was iimiteif by the attituie of the Government to a maniernte exportatiou of stapie commexitites, paid for in foreign coin or precious metals. What China had to seil was much nore importaut to the Western nations than anything she or ther rulers couid be prevalled upon to buy; andi so iong as the trade deait with surpius manufactures, ilke silk, or naturai prokiucts, like mask or rhabarb, and did not en. langer tine local forki suppiy, it was not interfered with. In 794 A. D. eomplaints were made that trade was leaving Canton for Cochin Chira but the tratiers' sciemes for recovering or pur suing it were discontruged by the Goverunient, which opinel that there must inave been intoler. able extortions useti to dirive it away, or a want of aaturai indicements to bring it, and quated the Sioo: ' Do uot prize atrange commaxities too much, and persons will come from rr" in parts.' Arah geographers and traveln. : the been reachen by forelat a devenmernunce this moditted frecdom. The Jewish merchan... described by Ihn Khordadbe $h$ as speaking Persian. Iatin, Greek, Arab, Spanlsh, Slaanic, and Langua franca, and trading hy sea and land to the remotent reglome, had thets representatives at Canton; and the four thate routea, enumerated hy 8ir Henry Yule, enabled aif the great commercial communities to try their hand at the cbina trade. The arme of thete routes led from the Mediterramean over the Isthmus of 8uez, and onwards hy sen; another reached the Indian vea via Antlocb, fees. dad and Bumorn and the Peratan Gulf; & thlod foliowed the const of Africes hy land from Tas. giers to Egypt and thence by Damancus to Bagdati, white the fourtb led south of the Cns. pian sea and nortb of the central Aslan desert to tite gates of the Greal Wail. The Chinete tradera either met the Wettern merchants at Ceyion, or themselves came as far as the mouth of the Euphratea. "- E. J. Simcoz, Primition Cinilizations, bl. 4 , ah. 12, acel. 2 (0. 2).
Tbe Arabi, -The earileat date to wbich any positive atatement of Intercourne between the Arabe and the Chinese "appeara to refor to the arst half of the 5 th century of our ora. At thif time, according to Hamza of Iapahan and Masudi, the Euphrates was narigahle as higb as Hira, a city lylug couth west of ancient Bahylon, near Kufa, (now at a fong diatance from the ac tuai channel of the river), and the ships of Indla and China were constantly to be seen moored be fore the houses of the Wwn. HIra was then abounding in weaith, ajd the country round now a howing wididerness, was fuli of that iffe and prosperity which water bentows in such ciimate. A gradual recesslon took place in the pasition of the heariquartera of Indian and Cininese trade. From Hira it deucended to Obolia, the ancient Apologos, from Obolia it Was transferred to the nelghhouring city of Baara, bulit hy the Khaiif Oniar on the first con quest of Irak (638), from Basra to Siraf on the northern sinore of the guif, and from Siraf suc cessiveiy to Kisit and Hormuz. Chinese Annala of tho Thang diynasty of the 7 th and 8 th centuries, describe the course foliowed hy thelr junka in royaging to the Eupiratea from K wangehell (Canton). . The ships of China, accoriling to some authorities, used to visit Aden as weli as the mouthe of Invius and Euphrates. I do not tibink that either Poin or any travelier of hit age speaks of them as going further than Mala. har, the ports of which appear to have become the catrepots for commerclal exchange between China and the west, nor does it appear what ied to this change. Some time in the 15 th century again they seem to have ceased to come to Mala. If har. . . The Araba at an cariy date of Islam, If not before, hai eatahiished a factory at Can. tou, and their numbers at that port were 50 great hy tho middie of the 8 th century that in 758 they were atrong enougin to attack and pll. iage tise city, w wheh tiey set fre and then fled to their ships. Nor were they confined to thls fort. . . In the 8th century also the Arabs began to know the Chinese not oniy as Sine, but as Seres, i. e. hy the northern land route. Besides . . communicativa hy land and see with Arabia, and witi: the various states of India. there existe:? from an old date other and obscurer streams of intercourue between China and Western Asia, of which we bave lut fragmentary notices, hut which seem to indicate a somewhat fuiler nutuai knowiedge and freer communlcation than most permons probably itave been prepared to recognite. Thus, China uppears to have beed woll known from su early pertod to the Armentane."-H. Yule, Cathay and The Way thilher, prolin. many ( 0,1 ), pp. Lexwii-Laraid. - After the Araby began thelr career an conquering people, under Mahomet and bls succemorn, and took pomactalon of the great anclent delde of Aslatle and African commerce, with lta highways and lis capltal menti, from Ispahan to Palmyra, Damascus, Baalbec, Tyre, Alexandria, and the oll Cartheglalan porte, they quickly caught the larga lileas of trade that were then opened up to them. They lmproved the aurly caravan routee and eatabllahed now onea In many directions. They dug wolle, made cteterns and bullt caravanauries, of puhilc places of sbelter for travelers and trmlers, alonif the Important decert roads. The pllgrimagee which thelr re. Hyton encouraged hal ilvely trafic connecter? Fith thern, and hy aproading one language and one cet of customs and laws over the wide region which they ruled, they helped commerce as the Romans had done. From Bagilal, the new eapleal ctty which they hullt on the TIgrts, newrly oppoalte the deserted rulns of Babylon, nn the other shle of the Chaldean plain, they carried on dircet trade with Inilin, through Afghaniatan; Flth Cblna hy three routes through Bolthara, or Tertary: with Slberia and with Russia, to tho very center of it, through the agency of the Turkish and Tartar races. This clty of Bagiad became a marvel of magalfcence under the early Arublan callphs Other citles of Asia that ac. qulred importance in manufactures or trade, or both, luring the periol of Arahlan power, were Ispahan, In Perala, the windens aud llnens from whlch were equally noted for thelr fineness; Damascus, In Syria, whlch produced cutlery of eteel, and eapeclally aword halcs, chat have never lxen surpassed, and whlch gave the name of " Ilamasks" to certala ralsel patterus in linen that are well known by that term to thla day; Herat, In Afghanlstan, whleh was famoun for fie carpet looma anil for lit cultivation of anfion and assafcetlia; Balkh and Khotan, In Bukliara, the former of whlch, on the banks of the ()xus, Fas a popislous seat of trale between China, Indla anil the West. From lte great antqulty, Balkh was called " the mother of cltlea." In thelr nutlve country, the Arabs, during thls hrilliant perfol of their hlatory, Increasel the anclent trade which they had carrled on by sea, whit Indla, on one haad, and with the eastern coasts of Africa, on the other. They extended the latter far outh of the Hmits of anclent Ethiopia, and even to the laiand of Malagascar. There are few settlements now exlasting on the east Africat coust, below the stralt of BabelMandeb, which were not of Aralian origln. The pllgrimages to Mecea, thelr lioly clty, where the remalns of Mahomet were Interred, male that a great market anil lroth Industry and commerce were enllvened throughout the Arshian penin. sula. As masters of Egypt, the Arablans reorgablzed with fresh vigor the anclent caravan tratle with central Africa and wlth the crountrien on the Upper Nile. Alexanilria, it Is true, fost much of lie former lmportance. This was owfing. In part, to the bltter hosility that exlsterl hetween the Mahometans aad the European Chrla tlans, whleh hroke un, for a long perioul. nomery all npen commerce between the two. Rut Alex. andra was a iso hurt by the rise of new Arablan cities, In Egypt and on the Barlarty coast, whlch driw iway some of the trade that hat copetred almont wholly at Alexandris before. Calro, the modera caplial of Egypt, thond first mang thew and bocmme a wealthy seat of many manu. factureanmil of much commorcial ezchange. The Interfor carnvan trame of Esypt centered princlpally at Byeno, while Tounto and Dambetia were buy pmoluctive towns. Within the old Carthe. glafan dominloas, weat of Egypt, on the Medl. termnean, the Arah conquerors revived a tralle quite as oxtenslve. perhapa, as the greatent that actent Carthage had controlled. Sot far from the sita of that anclent emporium, and twelve milles from the modern clty of Tunit, they hulls the now forgotten clty of KIrwan, whlch was one of the largeat and mont magnidicent of lt tims. It was polat from which aumerous caravan routes led southward lato the heart of the African continent, even bejond the great desert, as weil as enstward to Leypt and veat. Ward to the Atiantlo conets and 8pola. Many douriablag town surrounded thit Aifican motropollis and were the centern of many dititeroas activities, such at the cultivation of sralu, the making of malt, the rearing of alle-worme ani the productlon of allk. In Mauritania, which ome braced the modern emplre of Morocco abd part of Alslers, the Arabe Introduced the came apirts of enterprice. In thelr hands, the barren country - which has slnce tecome almont a desert agata - was made fertile, through whde reglons, hy extensl ve Irrigatlon, and proluced wheat, ollves, grapes. dites and other irulue in great abundance, beoldes feeding flocks and herile of aheep, gonta, bormen, assen and camols in rich pastures. The people lecame akliful In eeveral manufecturew, Including weaving and dyelng, the maklne of allk and gold threal, the mining and maveltins of copper and lron, the preparation of eoap and the tanning of leather. From the Athantle coast of thelr Mauritsnlan dominion, the Arabs pusherd thelr tratile far down the wentern shores of the continent, whlie they opened caraven routes to the luturtor quite as widely, perhapa, as they dld fron Klrwan aad from Egypt. The chiel clty that they founded In Mauricinia was Paz, whleh stlll lrears witnces to lte former glory In a lluger. lng unlveralty, or collection of Mahometan schools; In tho remains of tnany moequen, and In a vact number of carnvansaries. The native inlabliants whom the Arabe found in Maupttanla derived from thelr conntry the name of Moors. They emhraced the Mahometan reIlglon and jolncal thelr Saracen conquerors In Invaling Apain, A. D. 712 . Thle lel, la Eurupe, to the applying of the name "Moors " 11 the whole of the mixed race which took possessalon of southern Spaln, and finally gave that name to all the Mahometans nn the western Mediterranean consts. But the Moort and the Arulss werm distinct races of persple. The cossuruest of southera 8paln gave the Arabs the tineat ficlal In which thelr energy and genlun wers shown. They matle the most of lis mineral treasilires, ita dellghtful cllmate and lts fertlle soll. On the remalns of Roman clvilization, whleh Vandale and Vlitgoths had not wholly deatroyed, they hullt ur, wlth wonderful quickness, new culture - of laluatry, of manners and of tante.
 llfe-that was mplenililly In conatrast with the rude state of Europe at large. The trude of the Bpanith Moors was conalderably eztended among Mediswh.

Dymatiae.
TRADE.
borth of the caliph's dominions through the ter. Hiury of the Khazare to the Biack Sea. This mouto was long frequeated hy ise Chriatians, to avold the countiles in the ponceation of the Mohatmedann, and was the highway of European nommerce for der $=$ i centuries. Though it ap. pears at pretent u lac vore ilfticult and expenalvo route than that by the led Ben and the Indian Ocewn, it was really eafer, more rapld. and more economical. In the 8th, Oth, and lOth centuriea. This requirew no pmol to thoes who ath scquainted with caravan Ilfe in tho Fiok and who reflect on the Imperfection of anclent mavigation, and the dangers and defay to which calling reacis of miny hurien are exposed in the Ted sles. When the Venilass anl Genoese bo. gan to surpmas the Greeks In commercial enterpriee, they endeavoured to occupy thls routo: and we have mome sccount of the line it fol lowed, and tiem manner In which it was carried on, after the Eisest had been thrown luto confu. slom by the conquants of the Cruanders and Tar. tart, in the travels of Marco Polo. For sovera centaries the numerous clties of the Byzantine emplre supplied the majority of the European consumers with Indian wares, and it was In them alnoe that the necessary mecurity of property existed to preserve large atores of merchan. dlee. Constantinople was as much superior to every city in the civilised world, In wealth and commerce, Lamion now Is to the other European capitals. And it must also be borae in mind, that the conntries of central Asis were not then in the ruile and burbarous condition Into which they have now sunk, alnce nomsde nations have subducd them. On many parta of the rual traverued by the caravans, the mefchants found a numerous and wealthy popula tion realy to tratil fin many articles sought after both In the Fant and Weat; and the alagie commoxity of furs supplied the traders with the means of adding greatly to their protit Bev. eral clrcumstances contributed to turn the great highway of trale from the dominlone of the caliphs to Constantinople. The Mohammedan law, wilch prollbited all fomas at Interest, and the arhitmary nature of the miministration of justlee, rendered ait property, and partlcularly commerelal property, lnsecure. Again, the com merclal runte of the Kiantern trade, by the way of Eigypt and the Red Sea, was suduenly rendered both dificult and expenalve, about the year 767, by the Callph AI Mansur, who clowed the canal connecting the Nile with the Red Sea. The harvests of Exypt, which had previously Alled the coust of Arabla with plenty, couid no Inager be transported In quantity to the ports of the led Sea: Ilving became expenalvo: the population of Arabla declined; and the carrying trade was rulned by the addltional expend fure required. The callph certainiy by this mensure Impoveriahed and depopulated the rebellous cltien of Medlna and Sleces to such a degree a to render thelr milltary and political power lets dangerous to the central authority at Bagdat, hut at the same time lie rulned the commerce of Egypt with Indla and the esstern cosit of Sontiern Africa. Since that perfod, this mont Important line of communication has never been restoreti, and the cowarwer articles of fooci, of which Egypt can produce lnexhaustible stores, are deprived of their natural market in the arld regions of Arahis. The hoatile rolations be twien the caliphe of Bacdat and Spala likewien leduced a comelderable portion of the Mohamsedan population on tha shove of the Hediter. reneen to malatala cloee conmerrial vilations whth Constantinople. A remartable proof of tao gruas wealth nf soclety at this perforl in us bo frused in the immense amount of ajrecie tan circutation. The porerty of Eurripe at a Inter perroat, when the immiation caumed by the foudal syatem hal annilifited commeree and prevented the clrculation of the preclous metals, canant be uneif on on argument agalmat the probability of tilh wealith having exfoted at thim Paricer perlod of which we sme treating. "-1 Pinlay. Hiot. of the Byanntine Kmpire, 710-1057. bk. 1, eh. 4, mert. 1.
Vanice and Geaon. - In the slnw reviral of commerce which took phace in C'hristian Europe, during tha later half of the middile ages, no ona elty or people can be cald to bave tuken a lend from the beginning. At various poluts, north nad muith, on the Sicditerraneun ond the Adrl. atic, on the Balthe, on the llhine and other river. Which Inv Into the North sea, and nn the Danube, the Dnieprer and the lhon, centera of trade were growing up in a gradual wsy, out of which it would be hard to name one that ranked much above the rest for many generntlons. but the llth century limonght areat commercial leander to the frnnt. Thin was Venles. The circumstances of the foundling of Venire, in the Sth ceutury, and the history of the rise of the elngular repililic, are given elsowliere - weo Vesurf: A. 1) the. The cinaliton of the unfortumato refuspes, who shoght shetter from in valing a avagea on a few sumill mulul banka, barely eparated from the shore of their Adriatic crast, dill not meros to he a promishug othe. Nor was it Whlle the nelghluring parts of laly were being nverrum by hinus, Gothe and ifmolaris to succession, and whille the settlement of the harharous new races was giohg on over all Smathern Eurspe. In the mhist of grent dimiriler and ron. atant war, theme Ielanders and their dereceadanta, for generations, were protecterl un inuele hy their purerty as to the shallow waters that aurrounded theni. Thwy hal motalag to tempt elther plunder or congupat. Thery lisemb by ails. makhog, fishing and fah-zulting. They legan trale $n 11$ a sath way by exchanginy thelr salt and saltod tish for other artheles. It grew in their hanila from year to yoar. for they were enterptiming. midustrisuand coorageous procur. Ing timine obs the opposte 1):Imatlan coast of the Alffattc, they herame expert ship bulders and saliors. The sufery of their sthuation cansent increashig numbers of thelr linha: fellow couns. trymen to foln them. The islandy of the vene tlan lagune worre, In thar, all oceupled, and broiges het weren severa! of them were bullt. From the selling of salt and tish to their nelgh. bors, the Venellana went on to mure extensive commerclal business by show degrees, they took the occupation of gencral merchants, buy. log gomis bere anil threre to sell ugaln. They :e. came frlendly with the Greeks on the eastern side of the Adriatic, In inhmatia aul Albanin, and this fed them Into Importhat relutions, both consmercial and political. Whth thre Byzantine Embplre and tis capital city, Comstanthiople. By the the thry that Eitized wrathit mind cunsequence enough ti attract the motler of thelr rough neigh bors and invite sttack, they luad aloo galued strength anaugh to defond thomelven. They took part thea in the ware of the Bymantione - ambioring valuable merricea in Italy aed olam. whers, and they Jotred the Oreetrin in dempoyine the piratee who finfentat the Adriatic Bem. The early important trula of the Venetlase was whel Conatantinoplo, wher they on oyed, for a long period, the pecultar fivor of the Byamathe rulora, After the Haracens had mactered Syria and Porula, and caken pomerulon of Ale $x$ numiria (A. II. 640 ) Conatantinople became the emporium of Eactern trado, sditigg if to a great irume which the Byanaline caplan) had always. carrled on with the Tartar and llumana tern. torles in Asia and Europe. When the Venetians galned a foutling there, as political frienda and favored merchants, their fortunes were made. Wialle the Greaks were buny In desperate wars with their Mahometan nelghbora, theme pater. priving Italians took into shels own hands ampe and more of the profimble trade which the Grecks had oppued to shem. They sono had the handling of Byzantine commerce In wentern Europe almuat wholly. From partners they became Rivale, and eapecially in the llumian triale, which they drew away from Conneantinnple, to a larga extent, by opening direct dealinge with the Rine. aian tralers, at a market place eatabilisied on the Dnieper. From tin beginning of the C'ruazies In the ith century, the rise of Venetian cominerce and Vimetian power was rery rapld. The Penethane wero prepurel, as no oider people Were, at the thue, to lurnish beets, looth for trans. portation and for uavil war. They eallatert in the crumailing enterpises with a zeal which wat not, prohaps, purely plons. Thelr carrying ehipe were busy converfur men and supplies; their war galleys were in the front of conic mea fightIng with the Minslems, and mure whth Chriatian rivals; thelr alirewid polltictans were alert, at all pints and aming alf parties, looking after the Intersats of the republic: thelr merchanta were eviry where ready to homprove the new opportisn. Itles of trade whlch these times of exctement opensed up. In all directions, and throughout the whole of Euryine, new activities wrre awak. ened, nud expecially such as led to a bualer trade. The crisnders whol livenl to return, luto France Flonders, Italy, Cermany, and England, hrought bitme with them mingy hiens which they hand pleked apian the Fiast, and mindo new knowledge of oriental proslucts and arts, all of which be came whely diflusel and profuced grent effects. The resilt wus to shmalate anil improve the in. dustrice and to harrense the commerce which the Europenans carfled on among themelven, as well as to greatly enlarge thelr demand for the prodnets of the Aslatie worli. A new era in European conmerce was openmi, therefore, by the Crusades, nud the Venctinns, by thelr enterprise. their energy and their early experience. took the lead in fos activitien. They organized the trattic luetween the East and the West, the North ant the South, upon a great scalc, and centered the inrger mart of it in thelr island city. By anand by land they managed it with equal vigor. Thelr merchant flecte were under the protection of the state and made voyagen, at regular anil appointed times, under the convoy of veravila of a ar. On the lafritanard side, ahoy or ranged an extensive trade with the interlor of Germany, Hungary and Bohemia, through the Tyrol and Carinthia. As the Arat hiternese of

THADR: Medintand,
fienice. -1 bemen

Tilant.

halrel betwern Chrintlans and Muhometans wore sway, they trew willing to trate with nat sti ather. theugh the firupen netill forboule It. The Venetlans weve amomg the trme In surli wliling. nows fifavine many quarrela the the lignantine (fremba, They wrte enarer tu requell the ofl ewitern market at Alexamirla, and dik mat the rariteat opportunity. From that liegening they apreme their irmele with Aralis, Moorn and Turkn. along the whole Mahometan IIne, In Aala and Afrian flit, though Venlee tenok the lead in the ruviving comineren of the midillis agen abil held It aubatantlally to the end of that perioul of hlatiry, alie hai powerful Hvals to contend vith, and the etrongent were atming her newr was allve In mevernl other flallan cicien, which hat grawe n up in the nidelat ni thow dimorierly times and hal contrived to serpuire mofe or lewa of Imleperelence nad more or lean of bowior io defelil thentaclven Amada, Genowand lima were the carlient of these In eriwlug to importaner. and Floproce st a momew int fater day nome to high rank Flarence, whleh dli! not Kremone a free citg untli arar the end of the lilh remtiry, gainol lte sulsuqurent wealth mory by manafic. turew warl lis banklig than by tradr It rhlot proluris wire weolens, sllk and jewelty, and Its mercial carear of Amalt wam rilt aheri in the 1:Ih century by ovents emmoritend with the Nor. mun conquest of Nullerpn Jtaly. J'ish an mp. rint elty, Whome hishory goven liack lis Kitrument times wis a eonshlerahite seat of trale while Vinhie wis Htte known: but whe frli lwhiud beith Vienlere smil fromon. suna after thoen vigor-

 The J'ivins prosperal hlighy for anme thme, by tlans. first, hall afterwards whin the thenoese:
 ruined lis the wars that ensilcal Afore tho thir. tovith rentury I'sa hal no contater mial lamportublere sive Jtwa The mont forse fatsle rivil of Venice wis rienom, in city which elatme to tre like J'isa, of more then 16 man ant ander In the trale of the Jevint - that la the amitorn

 Vitutians it an rime day sand they wimm for the prize Buring the hatore part of the leth ratuly, sucte unfrimaly freling hmel grown lif Inet wren the Vemethan ind the Hyambline romrt thet the lather transfarred tis rommerefal firvors fo the merchame of tormon. INisa nud Intatif, soml Tlar V'ratians worre thas placial at a disedvan.
 they din not labie submit. In 1301 they pror.

 fiderll. and the dominions of the anelent Findir. u! Jue Fast Were divhled nmong the eaptors.

 mbil the improserl it to the bitmont. For is most

 The lirerks had continned to homb a lars philt of the uncient domain of the livarantine Fmpirn

In A wa Minor, and now. with it help of rae plre an It win differently collecl, of the cirs matrera man the Vemetiana hal wet zp. wan extin atulued and the (hequese agalent. * the place on the Vractians as maxers of tho dry zanilise trwis Incluting that of tio ISlack Nem and the Aalath, by thie tine the twitur diapowithon deal roms merclally with one atoother hall grown up be. twery the c'brlatans ami the Nahometane the Venetinis. when they lunt their finothg: (lomatan oybin, very primistly went evor til Alesand. ond misle cstellent thangements once more with the ermmultimen of the fom bundred yeupu Thls openit ix of trmbe whit the Yalumpetan misw, a! dlesunalria, nu! Mnewhere Gon afterwhrit. may eanly linve rolshle it-direetlots: lant they tid net gesp tip the fatter. A losig merion of is "prate a re lintween the in hopedess niralt ; lent, In the coll, she lmoke flo mower of her rival inmpletily. The fluml qulto undimpertedily, $f$ or is tinie. tho mimetrese of northward and tle. thtl|w irif, of 1, ",

 Esule of the rish islands of ilu- l.ce: : athe of Morish Ifrion wias modar their manase ment for the nowat part nand thry forml ont the weinern litusdan regian whilh the finmoser had ine reased while they rilol in them whthers Fior fliree gharters of a cerntury tho b, tianc enjow dibls largeve extent of eminuefo with the bill Then Hrlew the Vra, - line wi ro nt was with the Turks - defondmé Chataicir? (an in the Nediterramentit wibhlithe help. It the semise time they hed to oncominter an nimest fatal uttack from (hristlan primes who hat treombe fallons of the ir formid. ahle weald ath! purarand whotulest itatinst the r"fulitio In the shmmerfis lengue uf ('tuliral - reetivered from this altiak, for they still hollit the Methinermean triule: hat a gremt event had ex. currmi, just ten yenralufore the tagarue of ('am. brni. which was mone fatnt than war, not lo Pruire alonos. but to nows of lure rivala in trate. gw wrll Thls was the dismovery. by liamen dit aromind the Cape of Gowl llope' The tuiling tratte of ditury caratians, to diexumiria, fo Constantloople, to Tyre. Antloch, Fiplowas nul

 Enst - the trade of the silk ero:

THADE

Mediersh.Girrmano. - Notheriandera

TKADE

cotron countries, of the aplec islande, of the pearl anheries, of the lands of trory, of ebony, of goid. of precious stones, of fregrant gums, of curions thaga and curious arte - was quickly swept into a different course - into lircuader sens than the Mediterranean and into new hands.
Northera Europe.-The Baltic Cities, - The Hanal. The parlleat commerciai mulporta if northweatern Europe hail their rise, not on thin North Sea, hut on the Baltic and the atraits which enterlt. The Northmen of that rugion were not alone in the traflic which grew up there, for the Wendis (s Niavonic penple), who veciapled monat of tive southern shores of the Bal. He, eant of the Eilike. apperar to inave atoutly rivailed them frime tive dirnt. Blorko, ofl an isiand In Lake Marlar, Swetien (the intet upun Which Stockinolm is wit natell), was one of the firut of tive meats of commerce at the Niorth. It is supposed to have beell diestruyed about 1008 . But tive mout famous was the eity of Winet, or Vineta, on the Island of Umulom, at the mouth of the river Oier. It may not have ineen quite as rich and magnificent a town as mome wollid Infer from accmumes giren in cariy chronieles: but 110 doubt it wan remarkable for the age, in that part of the world, and carried on a large traie. The Swedes and hanes were the destroy ers of Vinsta, before the mildile of the $g$ gticen. tury; aud the former peopic are anlly to have car. ried away from it great quantithen of marble orass and lrun work, with which they gate splendor to their own newer cliv of Wisliy, thei juat rising on the island of Gothimed. The carcer of Wisly lasted meveral craturies andi it was prominent in emmmerce thronghout the Mid die Agers. All that can be kilif uf that nowat ans. cient commarre in northern Earope in gathered from sumeres willeh are uncertain num obscure. It is not mill the 12tis erntury that much of the real listory of trade in the liatter reglon operis. In 1140 the maxlern city of Labeeck was foumbed. on the site of a mure unclout town, ktown as Oill Lateeck. which is muppused to have luren a tirivlug part of trate fill lis day but which baid becon utterly destroyial by ita rivala or enemies. The new Lonleek satablisherd elose roluthous with the Gewsere and swous tux)k the lenif in the commorre of the north, among a iarge number of enterjirising towns which. alwolt that thoue, crane into prominenere on the northern coast nuid on the rivers which rim to tt . The city of llamburg, oll the fillw. Glog iniand and aut very distatit from lalkeck. Was obe: of the carient of these. LAke lanheck, it hat suffereci destrue tion, in the constimt warfare of the carlier thme. ary hatl made n new ingeinahg of exlstence sbout Jors. Hanolurg had acress to the North Sea by the Ellwe ani Lolleck to the Baltie by the Trave. Trailhg in diferent directions, therefore, by sia, they enrried in an active traflic With one annither, acroms the narrow stretch of land whi h divides them, - ns thery still dio to this day. But this inlani - connmerres was greatiy disturimil by robleress whu infested the coun try, untii the $t$ wis cities, ininerk and llamburg. In i241, agriat to establinh numb support in common a bxaly uf militirss for the protection of their merchanits. That agreement is melleved to have been the legiming of a wide:spread nuinn which afterwaris tow shnje monong the commerciai cities of morthero Euruje: und whach trecame powerful aud faumus in the later halatory of tie Midilie Agers, under the name n? the llansent c Lexague. - For an meronitit of that numarkable commercial league of (ierman free clties, se Ilana Tuming.

Frislans and Fleminge. - The early Nethen landa - The two jeoples wino Inbabit the reghan calleyl the Netherianis - a purely O.r. tmante stax-k lu the worth (momern lioliandi and a mixied Lut largely Celtic popuiation In the south (moriern Beig (um) - liave had a history mo much in eemmon that it cannot well be divided, though they havediffered In experiencea an widely as It etinfncter. The struggle whith nature for a fixitholil in the fowland itualf was harder in the morth than la the south, and no douht that is why the Teutonic Friaians led the way in in. dustriai tralning. It was among them that the arts of weaving and dyeing were cultivated tint to a notable excellence. As eariy as the age of (Chariemagne (8-9th renturiea), Frislan mbeo of white andi purple woolen stuffa, are mentioneal allong tie choice gifts willch tive Emperor zome times ment to foneign priares, and even to th great caliph, llaroun al liwacild. In the oth century, Frisilun weavera are sald to have been persuaden by an enterprialug count of Flanderafic mettic In hila donsinions, at Ghent, and Introdiace there a better knowiedige of their art. But if the Fiemisi propie burroweif from the Frislan In thils iratter. they mann outran their teachern and mote thr linnin their own peculiar prop erty. The sinuttle, ere iong, was la the handis of a v ry harge juart of the whole eouth Netherland or isighan jeponiation, and they hecame aimumt a nation of weavers. Thite mame count Hallw in of Fianders whin brought the Frisisn weavera into (thent estalitished annual markets, or falrs, in various towns, whieh drew mereinuts from abroal, promotei trule und stimulated manu. fueturing induatries tioronghout the conntry. Wisiden, linen, and flatity silk foome multiplifil to a prixigions extent. and the weavers in aif these bramelies acquitrii remarkable akili. The working of metais was also learnel with great aptuess, and Flemisis cutlery, weapona and urmor Lecame very nenriy ns remowneif as thome of Milnn and Damame us. T'anning was another valuabie art whith the Fleonhigs and their Netheriand neighbors cultivatel, and the tilling of cire suil was so indust riousiy puraucel that tlax, hemp. grals and other farm products wero ralsevi quito abunciantiy for sale abrumi. In the north Netherianis - the liollow land of the sturdy "Free Firisiana" ani Hatal anas, whowere after waris calleil the butch - the haril working en ergy of the jnopile had been phathed in some different difrectoms. The old traile of wenving was still vigorousiy carrlead un, In nearly "very imporuant town, and butch wiolens, immask finens, enrjeets. veiveta, etc", were largely produeeri and wilely songhe nfter: lmo this indus try was never mprominent ax It became in the ISeighan pruviacer. The furtunes of the Iloi iundera were fommiefif to a barge extent upon thuir tlaheriex, and especially the herring fishery whileit asumedi grat impurtanee in their lamil after the middite of the 1 ith century, Before that time, they appear to have been obiliged to seek the berring in other waters thinn thel own-along the shores of Engiand, Scotland auti Norway. But some ehange in the move mants of those curiousiy swarning fish, about the time above mentloned, hrought grent shonia

TRADE.

Medicral. Trade thentes.
rRADE.
of them to the Dutch cont, and the berring harreat thereafter was a rich source of galn to the Hollandert. They discovered some secrets of alting or curing the dah which wore very much valued, and the Dutch herring were eagerly bought for all parta or Europe. The making of pottery was another lnduatry to which the Dutch applled themsolvee with auc. cram, and particularly at the town of Delft, which gave its aame for many centurien to the common earthenware used In weatern Europe. In dalry farming and skilful horticulture, or gardeulng, the Ilojlanders were superior to all otlo. people at an early time. Wherever mea. faheriet are extenalve, asllore and shlp hullder are trained and ocean narlgation and commerce are aure, in tlme, $t \boldsymbol{o}$ be prosperoualy puraued. !! was ao with the Dutch. Thelr Frialan ances. tors had suffered an mush on their comets from the harasing ralds of the Nome plrntes, or Vikings, that they did not figure very early In ceafaring enterprise. But they fouglit the free. booters in thelr atuhborn and atout hearted way and were able at last to make the harborm of their coant wiershly anfe. From timi tlme the eaport towns of Holland grew rapkliy, and Dutch merchanta and merchant ships, trading with the citiea of the Baltle, with Eingland and whth Flantlere and France lacreaseil In number. The llollaniters had an advantage in thim matter ever their Flemish nelghbure of the Bouth Netherlasis. They wese pmolded with better harlurs and they held the outieta of the great rivers In thelr lands. This latter was the cause of Incexant quarreis inetween the two peoples. The listh centiary fonul the whole Netherlanis, both north and woth, In a thriving mate, so far asindustry and irade were concernenl, nutwith. standing liad goverument and disorlerly times. The people were connted among the richowt In Eurupe. Many great and wealthy chiles had grown up, contafingig lars a populationa aud very husy onen In the north, there were Ihorifecht or 1hort, Hoorn, Zierlkzec, Harlem, Delft, Iay den. Iheventer, Fakhulzen, Middedharg. Nime guen, L'trocht, Jlutterdam, aut Amaterdam, which liwt named clty ectipael themall in the cud. thongh It was one of the lateat to rise. In the math ther" was Ghem, with forty thonsand weaver i.ssife its atrong walls, who werealwaysas remly to string the bow as to throw the shinttle, and Whose bot empred revolts against tyranny and wrong are among the thont exclthig finchletits of histury. There was Hruges, which became for a time the ereat enjurinin if the commerre of moritaril and solnthern Finmore, bite whleh list Ita importance before the 1bth century chanderl. There wha Antwerp, which sucareded to the trate of liruges and rose to anrivalleal rank; and there were Lille, Mrehth (or Malinen), Comertrul, Yorem. Latuviln, and other towna, all cenkers of flomsishlag manufactures, chictly than: of the loxin.

Trude Routen, weat and north from the Mediterranean.-"The connectlou between the two grant divisions of kiropean connmerce, the nombern including the llansa nad the Flomith towns, and the sumthern the Itallan republics and Morliterranemp jurta, was efferted by two chief routhe. One was by sea frum the Medterrancan thruiph the Straita of Olbrattar, ap the consta of spuin and Fruice to Flauders. Thia route was nsed more hy the couthern, and rapecially by Venetian, merchants than hy the northere traders, for Venice cent every var a large teet to Flandera and the Englivi Chanmel, which teet would meet at Brigen, the great Ilansa depot, the most Important merchanta of North Europe and the lianas tradern. Hrugea was Indeed for a long llme the central mart in the north fur the commercial world, thil 1482. When the canal connecting it with the port of Slity wan hlocked up. But at Bruge also the maritime trade juat mentioned met the overland trale through central Europs, trale that wat very Important, and whleh enriclsed many a city unon the ilhine and farther south, from Augs. hurg to Culogne. We must conaider this overland route more carefully. Tbe great centre from which it started, or to which It tendel), wes Venlee, where as we know were collected mumat of the proxucts of the Fiast. coming both via Egyptand via the lamia mond the Black Sea.

Starting
from Venice, the merchants used to crnse the Alpm by the Brenner or Juller Pasern, sat then would make for the Upper Danulie or one of lt tributarien, and thence get on to the atream of the jthlne. Thelr ohject was generally to ulillae a natural waterway wherevor poosible, rather In contrust to, the uld lioman traders, who prefrerred the r.mels. But the rende of the Midalle Agen wero far luferior to the old Roman highwayg. One of tive first great clties which the medizeval trmier pasmed on thla route, coining from Venlee, was Augahig.
Thence ho might go down the atream to Regens: burg (liatiabon) and Vlenna; or le might go up to Uhm and then make a ahort land kurney tifl he ruched the Rhine, am! on right away down that convenkent atream. This wan perhapis the main ronte from nurth tu sonth. But nuany othera convergetl frun contral Eurnpe to Italy. and many lmportant citlea oweel their wealth to the stram of trade. In Karl the Ureatia time the edtle's on the graat waterway to the Liast along tho Jhatule bacaure very formatshatg: Ifegensharg, I'msan, ami Vhouna lndog the nume impurtans. F'rom Itegrondurg there rati mortis atel weat twagrent cominerelal hlywaye Into the futerior of thermany, one by way of Nuruberg and Erfurt and the biluer pant Virminctu the the Hhine. Amother remte from lenerishlurg, by river, to Trentachos on the river Wiang toxik lita merelants through (ialleda lutulinsait, whither they went as far as Klef, the contre of Rowmian trake. Alang thiag grent watirway of th thannime and lts trilntarlen cance the jrimhits... the kinst from Coustantinople and the lBlack seat Alluh hor lumportant route was tbat from the cithes of the 13hine, anch as Cohbenz and Bawle, np il at river anl on tu ("hur ant then by the Juhtro l'mss ami the Fingadime mal the ritech thal to Peulce: or again, after paxilug 1 linr, through the seppthaer l'uas and the Ih.rga-ller That to Sienom. Theme khine cletern nere very most truling towius In the Mhlidle Ages, the Into a conferle racy tor rowist the rohbery and ex turtiona of feudal mobles, whoee anly here uf trade menim to have inera that it providentinlly existed an a mintree ot plunter th themerdion Hut beghfes than (Cunferlerary of the Abhe there was another great Conferlerncy of the Swalion ritien, arising from the mans canm-a

That

TRADE

TRADE:

to a fully organised form in 1255. The Swablan Confederacy was formed a littic liater, alout 1800 or 1350, mader the leadershif of Allgaiurg. Uim, and Nornberg, nad waa In efowe political ami commerclal relations both with Venice and Girnom. If now we turn from trale routes in Europe iteelf to thowe whleh led to Europe frim the East, we find that at the time of which We are now speaking there were three main atrunme of conmeree, In the $12 t i$ caravan tmaie lu Central Asla lontl pasaed along ceveral diferent juths- hut after the Crubades, anil the deccifie of the Fiastern emplire by the rupiture of (immantibople 11204), the varions trilnes of Central inia, remierell more fanatical ami warilke that ever by these military and relighons events, causer caravan tratling to becompe very mannfl. The tirst of the three routen which now remanined in the 13 the crontury wan from India and the weatern cuasts of Aala, juat lansra on the Persian Guif to Bagdad by water. From Bugiad merchanta went, silil by water, nlong the Tipris to the point on that Hiver nearest to selderim mal Anthocit, and sil th Urontes, and then to the conat of the lavaut. The seconal monte followerl the ganc courme as the first bifi the podint of beaving the 'ligris, and then proceederf over the llighatands of Asia Minor and Armenfa to the port of Trehifanil cus the Illack Son. where Venetian veselis nsed to mert Anintic traders. Fior loth these ruates lang dind formed a very important centre. . . Ther third rombte from the far rase was from thilhe by sea to Aden. thon by land me:oss the desert to (hus on the Sile, whelh toxek nime days, med then nguln ravive the rich nileers, sugar, perfumes, preqtins stolliss, ginm, oil, cottion. whit slik branght from the Einat."-11. dic 1! Giblinas. llistury if Com. meree in Eurpro, ble ? ch. 5.

The English.- " Whilst the hadlans were virurumesy pursuing thadr trade fil ladia madi forrope, amd spain was renownedf furf her manasfactures; whilst the 1 hanse merehante were ex.

 whiset the butch were atruggling for halopera. dinee, and France wan planthy the surde of her Sus " few articles of cemmarere of arata value.

 expurtation. Xior whs ber jublicy n-spereting tory duthes. Ther prople regarileit the in trinhertime of forsibur-ry with thic uthome jeal.

 Traiged tixcir prollts and thoir ndeantages. The guldo woulil mot minit twom ns tuemlares. and it was hand fir the juxe strungers to cmab.
 Charta latid bange Infore direlareel that nil mer. chmita mhall have nafity in comblag to ur golag out of England, and In remulaing and travelling through it, hy laad or water, fur huying or celliag. free from any gricioum limpositiona Anyhow, whatever the opponition of clteen nad corporations, the nation was benetived by the foreign merchants. Thankfus, indeed, might England have been for the Lombarda, who hrought hitiser money nad merchandlae, banking and insurance; for the Herminga, who, driven hy Intentine dinseaslon, found refuge on Britah will. and becmme the foumdera of the wuolten manufacture; and for the Huguemots, who manuracture: ${ }^{\text {nd }}$ bronght with them the slik magufacture.
But a new em advanced. The discovery of th Amertcan continent by Cofumbus, and of a mari time route to ludia by Vacoda dama, altered the course and elaanacter of commerce. Tili then trade was casentilily inland, theneeforth its mowi comspienonn triumphs were to be on the ocean. Till then, the Merllternanean was the eentre of International trailing. From thence forth the tendency of trade was towards the conntries loordering on the Atiantle. nut long . . . Ivefore Engiand folio . . It wa of Spain and Poren (he lead mins went in quest of ianil to North America Drake went to circumanalgate the yiotie; Climin. cellor salledl up the White Nea to Russin; Wif. loughby went on his lif. fated royage in kegrib of " norlh eantern passuge to Inifan; SIr Waiter Kaiejgit explored Virginin; the Merchant Ad. venturera pirsied their miventures to Spala and lortugal; and Engliah ninips logan to le mern io the Levant. Memawhite, Engitsh trade enlarged Ita sjohere, Einglish foravery nt sen becanke momed consplemons. and Engish Industry advancerd "piees."-1. lavel. Jint. of Britinh Commerre, id ell., inervol.-"In the ithin century the whole of the extermal. surd mucli of the liternat, tmide of the conntry hall ieen In the handa of foreignem: Int the 15th our merchanta ing gan to pmath thetr why from point to puint In the Metiterranuan nond the 1adife; In the 18th they faliowed slowig in the wake of other adventurers, or triad to ees hay mitructerl tho one cise. Whon E:Izaln-th nswombed the throme Einglanif njperars to have Inert inhlind ither nations of Westarn Eurije in the very industrial arta mad comumerciaf enter. prise at which her prosent mputalom ls chlety duatry aut Cimmerrec, r. 2. p. :
Trade and Piracy. - " it winild be wrong ta

 -lined. On the cometrary, It was probably the fucrease of comatacre, inmercompmaled by the malle the pirutc's calling ms protitable. Nor was the evil cinthe in to the prulesslonal pirate closs. if we may une the exprexsion. Diven recognland "semplathons of merchants froubenty indulgeaj in practions which ean uniy bx chanicterimed ad piracy. Conmerrere fu fuet, was deeply hanhed whth the spirit of la wiowsices, atud in these clrculustaneese it is probalife that the depredationa of pilrutes did mot exefte the game ainem nor diwourage trade lat the anme degree an would bee the crace in noure inw mildling thame. In the lith century the profexslong of C:Inrintian Ity and cextrmer resjeretallity were not lacom pulinife with a life of violenre nud outrage, and It is to le feared thit in mome rnses the Govero.

TRADE.

traveling

 buying of Improsition of cities and ited hy the eed, might larcis, whe lec, banking who, diven on Britas the wooliea eaots, whu cture. very of the dol a mari. min, sitered nerce. Tili neveforth its be on the u was the im thence owards theIt was ell the lead at and lita America tre: Chaw 18sia; Wi o in searth Nir Walter clunt Ad Spnin and le mipn in e malarged wine man advaniedl amerse. 8 Wisule of 1. tralie of areigners: Insh their lterrawesun exiowniy luf to ex ns winleh Elizalketh th have arrofe in ini euter As cintely wrong to Is pertind Have 小ably the ly the © whicla Nor was te cluss cognisal undulgerd rised as Inbured heme rir edations Irm nor woull nes in Ifintian incomm. he, stal Govero
ments which shouid have repressed pirates by the evvereat measures, eacouraged their depre. dationa. Certainly they have never enjoyed auch immunity from the atrong erm of the law as In the 15 th century. Outrage and robbery went on unchecked along the coasta and in the track of merchant vesmele. No trader was wfe even in the rivers and ports of hit own conutry. The plratom burat and atacked towna as Itujortant as Sandwich and Soutianajoton: they carried of aot only the goxis they could lay tbeir lamels on, but men and women, and eveu cblldren, wioun they bedi to ransom. Ur. abie to look to the Glovernmeut for protection of iffo and property while they were engaged in traie, the merchantm were thrown upon thelr own reoduries to provide arcurity. The beat unetlomi of grappoing with the plraten, and that which wan mowt friticentiy alopterl. Was for merilsant vensels to mii urgether in aueh num. bers that they could repel attack: mind theme voluntary efforts were mometimen aldeni by the Govirmuent. In fotl flenry IV. granteal the morchants is. on every cask of wine lmported, anif certain parmunts on Staple exports for purjowes d defouce. Two Admirain were appointui, wie fur the nurth and the other for the wutil, with fuli jurimultetion in murtime aflairs and fower to organlse navai forere. But this welarue was musucreasfui. A simbliar experilent was tried in Itis3, Int abmaioneri two yeatm ufterwaris. The only satisfactory remedy wutd have Inen a atfong navy, but the comitions uecromary for this ibad but yet been realimed. Thie comutry could not lave supported the Horge of treintithitig a strons naval force. fobiortatioe of the suhjoct, and were texoming wroithy enotigh to lmilt vessuis of a conshler. able aide, is reident from the operatoms of Johin Taveratr. "f litustou upou-lluil, ami the fabusu; William Canuynges of IBristol, the latter of wion in said to hare ponseased 2, fill tons of Nipping and some vesselis of 900 toms hurtion." -W. I. N. Hewins, Induatry and (iommerce (in "En*ul Finglisul." cl. by IV. 1). Troill. ch. 7, - !

The Portuguese, and the finding of the Ocean Way to the Indles. - It was not hy necikent that the lartugheme rome alt at onco in the closibs yars of the 15 th centary and the ariy yars if the 16th, to a posithom In whilin tradu netwees Fiurupe and the Eiastern world The slisoovery by V'rseo da Gama of an nevan Fule th the fuilis, and all the resuits (lereafter fir thie time, were a reward of enterprise wbich tho l'orluguese had fully earnei. They had worked for It, patientiy and remolutely, through shust a humired yearm. T'be nudertating was Ingigh, at about the commencenneut of the listh whtury, hy is fortugnese prisce who ought to anjuy ereater finue thau if he had conquered an rapice l lormase hianmbition was nobier and the Pruits wirre of hiyher worth to the world. He why kawn an "Prince Henry the Navigator," and lue was the third smof the Portuguese King Joluu 1. Who was called the Great, on acconnt of his wuccent in Wars with the Chatlilans mull the Minirs. ilut this young ann, Prlue llenry, wan unfis the proater man of the two. He could not endure the Igaorance of hie thee with regard to the myaterious ocean that atretched woetward and conthward from the alsores of the litele country which his father ruled. He was bent on knowing more alrout it: and be was apecially bent on having the Portuguese rallors make their way down the shores of the African contl. ment, to learn where It endell and what track to the farther slde might lve found. Beyond Cape Nun, at the mouthern estremity of the moders empire of Morocco, nothing was known of the Wentern conat of Airica whels l'rlaco Heary began his work. The Phondelans and Carthaginians, two thourand yeara enrller, had probally knuwn more alout it, but their knowledge wai low. Pince llenry atuiled everything that couid give him light anil became weil convlaced that round the continemt of Afrien there was a way to the Indies for lohld saliors to bud. Then ho appileal hhaself, with zeal which never thagked, to the worklug out of that achieverment. lle war a young man when he lregan, aml during more than forty years of hal life he devoted lifs time and his means almoat wholly to the filting ont and directing of expioring ships anif the tixed bls rewhlence upou the mont contheriy promontury of fortugai, to watch thefr golug aui momifg. Sut the art of navi. Ention was su Iftte underntood and the navige. tons were motimbi, that siow progress was maile. Barcis explorer oniy ventured a fitto farther than the one before him; and so they went feeling their way, lengue by leagne, down the African munst. Tha forty-three years of I'rince llenry's endrapors wero consumed in reaching what is naw the mettlement of Slerra Leoue, near the herai of the guif of Guines. But even this miderd more timn a thousnom miles of the weat. ern coment of Africa to the majig of the I5th cen tury anif was a greater alvance in geographical knowienige tian liad Inern mule since Cartinge feii. Before lue dieml (A. 1). 1tite), Priuce llenry securui from the lope (who was supposed to have the slving of ail beathen conutries) a grant to I'urtuzal of aif these discoveries, Inoth island and mainiaud, and of ail which tise Portuguese exphorem ulgit make in the future, Iretween Kumpe and Imila. Sh lie diled well content, let us loyer, with the work which to had done for his country and for mankini. The entbusianm for exploraton which I'riuce Heury had awakrned in I'ortugal dill not die whls him, tisough his efforts had met with uteadlug opposition and exclted very museb discoutent. Tepeated expeditions were stlli sent down the African coant, and they crept farther nod farther towand the gani of ilesire. At last, in 1t+6. Bartholomew llaz, with tirre ships, wetualiy rounded the Cape of Gemsl lioje without knowing it, and only tearned the fact when he turned hack. ward from bis voyage, dimouraged hy storms. Kievels years later, Vasco da (hanas set out, Ared with fresh de'irmination, by the great discovery of a new world which Coiumbus had no intely made for spain, and this thene there was no failure. He pussei the Cnpe, malied up the esstern hores of the African continent to Meiinda, in Zanguebar, and thence acrom the Indinn Ocean to Calicut In Hiadoatan. The ocean route to India was nuw fuily provex; the new ers was opened and its grand prize plucked by the Por. tuguese - thanks $w$ Prince I Kenry the Navigator. $-8 e e$, also, Poatugal: A. D. $1416-140^{\circ}$ and 1469-1483.

TRADE.

New Rontes Modera. New Marts-There is

 nothing at all imaginary in the line which is drawn in hiltory seroms the lator yoars of the 18th and the early years of the 16 hh century, to mark the beginning of a new ers in humaniaffalra It is a line very reaj and very diallact, dividing one state of thinge, known as the medioval, from another atate of thluga, known of the modern. It was fixed hy the occurrence of a series onf extraurdinary events, which came quiekiy one after the other, and which hrought about, etther alagiy or together, the mont tremendoua changes, In many ways, that ever happened to the world in the same space of time. The first of these was the invention of printlog. Which dates as a practicai art from about 1454. The secund was the dlscovery of the new worid hy Columbus, A. D. 1492. The third was the pasage around the Cape of Gookl flope hy the Portuguese navigator, Vasco da Gama, mation eet in motlon by wartin Luther, at Wit. tenberg, A. D. 1517. The coniblued effect of tenberg, A. D. 1517. The coniblned effect of staring point in aimost every particular of human hlstory, and to do so very quickly. The commercial changes which rewulteit are among the most remarkable. No sooner had the ronte by sea to southern and eastern Asin and the thinuls of the Indlan orean been foumul, than almost the whole tralle of Europe with thant rleh eastern worid a luadoned lis anelent chammels andrau lato the new one. There were severai atrong rau into the new one. There were several strong rensons far thla, In the first place. It cont leas to liriag goonds by shlp frosa Incla, Ceyton or Chiua direct to European ports, than to earry them orer fong distances by hnai to the castery shores of the Dilediturratenn and the re ship thema wo the West. In the secomi plare. ly taking tis new roite, thas commerce eseapeil tha Moorlsh pirates In ite Mediterranean, who had liong been very truublesome. And, jastly, but not least In Importarec, the Eluropean merchants galurd a great advantage la beconing shitc wis deal illrectiy with the Eiant Indians and the Chlinese. Insteal of trading at wrcend hand with them. through Arabs and Malometan Turks, who contrulled the Asiatic and African reuteg. So the commerce of the Indleg, as it was generally callecl. fied suddenly a way from the Beneraity ranean to the Athatic: Bed away froun the Winethns, the cicuocese, the Mansellialse, and the Harcelonians; fromi Coustanthample, iately conguered by the Torks: from Antloch nuil Alexandrias and from many clles of the Ilanai Leugue in the north, whithy had learneti the oha Ways of trallo noll were slow to learn anythang new. Som many of the gremt marts whileh had keen busiest, grew silent and deserted and tell Into slow decay. The most curiching comanerce of the world was passing to different handa and bringlag younger races luto the front of The
The Portuguese in the lead. - Ifavlng found the way to lidila lyy mat, the Portuginete were prounpt in takiag measures to make themselven atrong In that part of the world and to control the traide with It. They were helpedd in thits Peffirt by the gramt of imacined rights which trinere lienry lind obtalnevl from the Pope, fong Wefire Bui they atrengthened the rlghts which Whe Pope guve them, by the oider fathloned
m -thols of conquest and posesplon. They be. gen at once to plant themseives firmiy at han por. Lant points in the enstern seas and on the Indlan coast. They seat out one of thelr ahieat mill. tary men, Prancesco d'Aimeida, whith a merong force of shipa and volunteers, and appointed him Viceroy of Inila. Ile took ponemion of ceveral parts of the Majabar coant (the weutern coast of the southern extremity of Hindoutan) and huile forts in which garrisons were pisced. Ife simifariy estahished the Portuguese power in Ceylen, took ponsemsion of the Maldive lalande and Thenaded trailing eetlements In Sumatra. The Venetinns, who eaw that their ancient trade with the East was doomed unless this new rivairy coulid be crumhed, now joined their Mahometan allies of Egypt in a great effort to drive the Portuguese back. A formldalile heet was ntided out on the Red gea nad zent againat Almelio Out on the Red sea and rent against Aimelida He was unfortunate in his firm encounter with theve aliliej enemien and fost the equadron that opposed thent. But the resolute viceroy was undaunted. Jicalled from is command funaunted. Jecalied from his command, he re. fumeri to glve it up until he had equlpped and led another fleet againas the nnry of the Egyptlana and completely destroyedit. The succeusor of Aimeida, as vleeroy of India, way a remark. of Ameida, as vlceroy of India, way a remark. abje personage who la known in the nnala of hls time as the great Atonso Dithuquerque." The chromicle of his exploits in Afrlea and India. compleel hy hila aon from hls own fettera and records. and cntited "The commentarien of ths griat Afonso 1'Alhuquergue, " has heen translated into Einglieh and publushed by the llakluyt Soclety. He was a remarkably emergetle com. mander, and vere honest in his way, acromilag of subjugnas of his tine ; lut be did the work of subjugntion andi conquest whlels he was eent to do in a cruel and rapaclous style. Ife was not wrong tu anytilng done for the proth of ho wrong in anything done for the prott of bis conantry. In the course of meren yenrs he apread the lortugueme jower an whely and fixed it so buring soms that tirere was hardly and in the nelghmoring sas that there was hardly an attempt for many years to diaturn it aperial permits, and the few whece received ant mperial permits, and the few which received ad. missiun were forbididen to trade 10 spices - the mowt preclobas merchandise of the reglon. From the lidies the fortuguese made their way to frice constly of China and put themselves on frlemily ternis with lts people. They were permilteld to orelupy the port of Macan and bave jowsismell it evar aluce some yuars later they disenvered the blamada of Japan and opened the enrilest Elurupean commerce with that slogular monitry. the they helid for a thae the complete mastery of matern trade and enlargedif to Breater lnounda than it lind ever revelhad before. But they were matistied whith keeping the oon reve of the supply of enstern ginxls to Eiaruge in their owa hamis The firat handing of the commot Itles was alt that they tried w control. They Irought to Lisbon thu apleves, sllks, cotton, pearlo lvory. stgar, aromatic drugs and the ilke, whath their shipa nail merchants gathered up, and there gold thetn to other traders. Witeh, Engilsh muid German for the most part, who founil markets fur the most part, who fonsul the final marketa fur them and who eajoyed a gocoll bulf of the proftis of the trade. There latter derived more than they liad galued lo theme trading mith

They be at impor. the Indlan hlest mill. - strong appolatec messlon of ewoutern re placed. ene power ve Islands Sumatra. lent trads rivalry ahometan drive the was fitted Almelis. nter with Iron that eroy was di, he re. ped and Egyp. ucceusor los of ho uerque. ters and ef of the n transHakluyt tle com. corling was ment was hot昭w no of hls spread Al It 0 onelgh. mpt for ugueso Whathent ved al From way io ves on re per. $r$ they red the ngular inplete it 10 efore. aniress ппими They Genow and Venlce - sad the commerce of Holland and England grew rapidly as the result. But the slory and prosperity of the Portuguese, as maters of the rich trafic of the eastern world, were not of long durntlon. Before the 16 th cen. tury closed, they had loat the footholds of thelr power and were slipping lnto the background very fath. By misfortunes and hy folly combined, all the fruits of the patient wifilom of Prince Henry, the pernevering couraze of Vasco Ia Gama, the bold energy of Almellia, and the restlese enterprise of Aibuquerque, were torn out of their hands. Almost from the first, greedy and jealous court had done all that could be done to dentroy the grand opportunitles in trade whlet the country had galued. Privatu enterprise was discouraged; the crown clalmed exclualve righta over large parts of the com. merce opened up, and these righte were oold. glven to farorites and dealt whith lu many waya that are rulnous to succesoful traile. Royal jealousy sent three viceroys to divile among thens the government of the l'ortuguese pomses slons in the Eass, when there should have been hut one, and the same jealousy kept these vlce. royaltes ever changing. Of course, there wae nowhere good governinent nor thrifty manage. ment of trule. In the muldat of thls batistate of things, the royal famlly of Portugal dleel nut. in 1580, and Ihllip II. of Spala eet up clalms to the crown which he was strong conough to make gool. Portugal thus lecame Jolned to Apaln, for the next alsty years, and was dragged into Puilip's wicked war with the Netheriands. Her Siranish masters did what they could to draw bar trale away from Liabon to Culliz and Seville. The Dutch and English, her former customera sod frifuds, made enemles now by llollp of Spain, pushed their way Into the eastern ceas, defyiag the manatates of the Pupe, and liroke down her upremacy there. When the Portu guese, In 1840 , threw of the Spanlal/ yoke and sacrted their Independence agalu, calling a priface of the house of Braganza to the throne, threr was not much left of thelr former power or their former trade. They stll held chas, on the Wratern cxast if Hindoman, and the Chlaces port of Nacao - as they do to the prusent day; and they retalned, as they atill do, consilerable pos. westiona in Afrlea. But thelr brief lmportance lu navigations. In colonization and ionte, was yuite gone atel they dropped back to a humble pamithon In the history of the world. Biven the manageement of their home trale with other countrima fell mostly, after a thes, Into the hamde of the Euglish, who became thelr speclal allies and friends.

The Spaniards. - White the Portugueme were pursuing giory nad gain In the track of Vasco da Guma. whleh lefl them wuth and east, the spmaiaris were dolng the mame In the wake of the three little shilpa whleh Columbus, with a subider hand, had stecreal westwarl, to atragge sharea which lie never Itreamed of thating. These newiy opened reglous of the globe, lu the Atinatic and on both sifles of It , were di. vilped letween the two nntlons hy the Pope, and It was a insld niatter in those days to dispute hla richte. lie gave to the Spanianis all islands andi sumbitivs found weat of a meridian llone drawn si, west of the lalayd of Ferro, In the Canary pmup. Thls nearly corresponds wlth the merid. un tiop west of Greeuwleh. To the Portugurse he amigned all discoverles mat of It. So they both went on thelr appolnted ways, with ploit hearts and untroubled consclences, huilly hunt. lng for heathen lands to selze and deapoll. But the eastern Geld, In which the Portuguese did most of thelr work, was one where commerce Was old and where somethlog of Europe and its people was already known. They were forced to look upon trude as the chilef object of thelr purnult. Whit the spanlards the cace was dif. ferent. They found thelr way to a quarter of the work which Enrope had never hearl of and came upin perple who never anw the faces of white men untll then. These strange maces of the new world were some of them quite as civil. lzeld, In certaln respecta, as the spaniaris who Invalel them, and even more so, It would weem, In thelr notions of truth and in the rettineacent of thelr manners and modes of life. But they were slmple and unauspecting; they were not warlike In disposition and they were rudely ant puorly armed. So the mall-clad cavallers of Spaln crushed them lutw helpleso slavery with perfect ease. From the Ialands of the West Indles, Whech they discovered and rccupled orat, the Spaniaris had soon made thelr way to the shorea of the two contlanents of America, North and Bouth. They found cltles and natlons which atonished them hy thelr spleador and wealth and net them wild whe greely deslres. Europo lookerl poor in comparlson whit the shinlas wealth of Mexleo and Peru. The Spanlards went mad with the luat of gold. They loat human feeling and comanon menwe in thelr greedinems to grasp the metal trensures of the new world. They were ludiferent to the more prect. ous and aboundlag prolucts that It ofered, and neglected to bullil up the great commerce whly mighe have flled thelr hands wlth laselnge rlches. They made the old faile of the gowe which lalid goiden eggs a plere of real hlstory. They Filled the goose; they deatroyed thelr source of wealth In Peruand Mexlco hy thelr eager extor. thans. Of true commerce between the old world and the new there was llttle while the Span. lemle controllen It. They did, In the course of time, shlp conalderable guantitles of sugar, to. baceo, hldes, logwood, Indigo, ecochlueal, cocom, clachona, or Perarlan burk (from whilch quiolne Is extractel) and other Amerlean producti, from their various colonles; lut to no such extent as a wlse and enterprishag people would have done, having the atme oppurtunitea. Once a year, or once $\ln$ two y yara, a thert of ships was rent from Sevilie, at frst, and afterwarils from Cadlz. to Vera Craz, for frelghts from Mexleo, sud an other to Porti, Bellio on the Istonius of Panama, for the South American frelghts. The shipo which made the latter voyage were distangulahed from the Mexican tiect hy belog called the gul. leons. For a iong tlme, ewelve galleons in the one equadron antl ffeen shjpe in the other, making thelr voyage onee a year, and ametlmem only every uther year, conveyed all the trade that passed between Spaln and Anerica; which showa how lltte the spanlards drew from thelr great posmestions, except the enormons treasite of silver and gold which a few ships could transport. This giltering treaure formed. In fact, the maln cargo of the Peruvian galicuna and the Mexican deet. Before the close of the relign of Phillp II. the number of galleons was lacreased to about forty and that of the feet to

TKADE

Muderw
Flominge and Duteh.
TRADE
afty ur sixty. It is quite certain that no country hal ever before recelved such a quantity uf gold and silver at came loto spaín during the 10th century. Instead of earlehing. It rulned the nation. Nelther ruiera nor peoplé hal sense enaugh to see what a treacherous and delualve klitil of weath It formed, If trustell to alone. They valuily fancied that, wleh such a atore of prectous metain tu draw upou, they could afund (t) dexulime the homely lalora by whieb other peopie lived. With such mad potloms as these, the honest lndustrlea of Spain were treated with negleet or wonve. Iler trade with nelghboring conntrica was lorikui upon as a buineas too lo. algnifieant fur sprabiarila to care for or troude themireives abous. It was musily given uver to the butch and flemings, while they remmined under Spanish rule, aud It was afurwarls kept up In gruat part loy amuggiera, luteh sud Kug. lish. Agriculture dienyed, any its dentruction was helpecl by the furmition of a great aristocratic comprany of sherp farmera, culled the Mesta, to wheli such tyranuient rights and privilegea were piven by the erown that the mast fir tife parts of Spallu were anailly turned hutusheep. pastlire, muler lly cuntrol. The lest artinanas and tho most enterprising incerciants of the klog. don were drlven out. Ineteruse they were Dlowirn and Jews, or they were hurneel for c? Iriatian be. liefs which the chut..h dide tut sppirive. The Inquisition was mo bomy, with fis ritck amd lis ares, that mon other bisiness condil thrive. Eivery klond of prombertion dwhilfol, and for the sup. plying of ail dencripulens of wats the spaniards were saxh driven tio hexik th other comutres. The few whos thill hamis upun the riclien coming in cxtravagant wuys. while convely furefgn wara Enstand whitel cathe buthing, dralned the colfers of the klug. Alud thas the: great streans of gond and sllver whiele thow cel bitos spmin from the new world ran out of ti quite tuy fust, mulif of It than spuin fueredf. The strong limall with which the spmilarda were alole at llomt, and fur mime itme, to fold the vist domunin of sea nati

 Nrizeli, grew nenk thefore the cond of athmitred Voara after the memarahle wosage of cofambua wis made. The hardy Hutch, drlven to rewole and ettaly ly tyramaleal gowernment and hy cruet rilfuisum jeracintionm, attacked therin "Fery where, in the cankera unt western worlid. Thu Euglish, juat meginniug to grow ambitious and losid on the cexenn, and constantiy threatemed ly the armalas of sipuin, wid the nablee. But these wirer nut the maly enemies whon har rasmet the Spminh rothonims and lieets. In a gemerni way, the whole worlid wellt th war with the ln. milcut nation which cindmed the lardshifi of the errib. There came into exlatence, in the lith frielsoters, bumile up of darling men of all nalions, which carried on for many yours a viliainous warfare of their own aguinat the spaniarla at gea and agalint their Amerlcan wettlements. These liare.instr, an they wem ralimol, falned atrongiolida hit arveral isianise oi the Wrat fuifes, from whith the Apantanis, were nut ablo to diti. lingee them. Uniter the "atiseks of all there eren ies. comalined with ber own colagovernment and her contompt and sbuse of thrifty Industries and fair trade - whleh no people can ne lect without rula - Spala steadily and rapldly amb.

The Flemalngs and the Datch.-In the Arat half of the 10 th century, the penple of the Netherlanils were the wlerahiy contcnted nub. jects of that famoun monarch, the Emperor Charlea V.. who ruled In Epali, In Naples, In Germany (the olid Emplre), and In Burgunily, at weil an in the law iand priaclpalltes, Fiandern. Ilviland, anil the rest. They were already very prosperous. working harl at many callings. trailng shrewdly and husily with the reat of the world, and diligently pleking up all klode of knowlentge every where. In the buthern prov. Inces (which we may cail the Belghan, becaute they are mostiy now embraced $\ln$ the modern kingilom of $\mathrm{Breighm}_{\text {g }}$ the chlef Induntries were those of the loum, in all branches of weavluig; and in akilinl workmansilp of every kind the penple were tasteful and apt. These provinces were the east of a much greater and more general activity In manufactires than appeareil In the states to the north of them (which we whil call the Duteb atates, whithont distlaction, because thry are now lacluded in the kinglom of Ilofiand). The fatter were morve extensively conploged in tasherles, In anvigation and In ship. buililing, nithongh mast kinds of Induetry. mmnuficturing and agricultural, were thriftly und succeasffilly carried on. At the time when Cinariss V. ruled the Netherianils, the chy of Autwerp. In the Belglan circie of provinces, wan the grint metropolis of Netherland trade. It Was mench more than that. It was the foremost commerchal rapital of the world. Thie traftle which siliphed awny Prom Venice and Grmos, had Axed lis central seat in thla younger lown "ils the Schelit. It was sure to plant its new cimpurlimm manewhere in the Netherlands, be "anse there was miwhere eise in Einmpe wo much energy, ao much enterprise, zo much Induatry. so much commercial wialom, so much activily of domestlc trade. Apain and Purtugal helld the wealtin of the Indies and the Amertican In their hands, but we linre seen how tocapable they were of uning the commerchal aitrantage It gave them. Lislinn, (cailz and sevilie were oniy Alpusta fir the trausfer of merchandise; It was limpussible to make them real capitals of trade. lseratise they could not and would not furalab cther the milirt, or the genlus, or the organlzed "gendus that it demands. The Netherlands. with limir long schooilag in commerce upona. manaller arale. were realy to meet every require. ment whel the new era opened and gave them thelr greaber chance. There wat no other mer. canilie organization oo well prepared. The luague of the llanas Towns was hreaking and faling: the Eingliali were Juat beglnulog to show their apititude for manufactures and trade. Bonte one of the Nr-iberlunil rities was sure to win the moverelgaty In comuturcial afraim whled Venlee gave up, nil Antwerp provet the winner, for Etime. During most of the 16 th century, It was the buslacan center of Eurape. It wat Whe gathering.place of the merchants and the seat of the money changers and hankers. Two and three thoumand shipe were often crowded in Ita hasthor, at oue ilme. It datributed the mer chandine of the Fast and Weat Indles, which It took from Portugal aud Spala, and the maulfold Whlle the Eugilah got their footing on the conete of Hiadostan and were laylag tho foundationa of their future emplre In Indla, the Dutch gained control of the spice. growing lalands, which, In that day, were the richer commercial prize. The Arat Duteh tleet that rounded the Cape of Goot Hope and made its way fato East Inilan watern, malled under the command of oce Cornellus Houtmann, who had been in the service of the Portugnese and learned the route. Ile atarted In li505 wh four ships and returned, after a voy. age of elghteen monihs, with ouly two. He had lumt more than half his men, and he hrought back very little carga to pay for the adventurous undertinking. Itut the Dutch wero woll astistied wlth the experiment; they knew that mure ox. pericuce would lead to better succem. Another deet of elght ships was ment out in 1505 and when four of them returned the neat yenr with a precions cargn of aplees and other merchan dise from Java. whleh they had procured very cheaply in exchange for the cloths, the metal wares and the trinkets that they took out, the delight of the nation can harilly be deacribed. Part of the fleet had remulned la the East to hold and strengthen the positlon they hail gained, and other ships were sent spredilly to juln them. Very won the armed merchantmen of the 1Hutch were thlekly awarmlage lin that part of the wnrld. realy fur aght or for trade, as the case might bo. So many companiles of merchants became engareel in the humbuess that tus) IVely compettion betweyl them occurral and they threatenerl to rulu one another. 13ut that danger wan overcoter In 1603 by joluing thet rival Intermsts together In oue string asaisiation, tu whiels the giverument gave explusive rights of traide la the Fast Thus the Jutch East India Company was forment, In whilh the merchants of illinter. dam. Rotteriam, Delft and other chtes of the repubile put their enpltuil tomeetier. By lis chartor, this gremt mompany hell powers if war as weil ns of comunerce and it used them both with proxllglons energy. At Hrst, the chatef trading stathons of the bitch in the kint wete at Buntam, In Java, nad Ambovna, ene of the group of the Moluceran or Splce Inlands: lint the cley of Batavia, which they founded in Juva in 1610 , thecame afterwaris thele principal ment of trade and the raplial of thelr surrumbling preseastons. Thee chalef ahm of the butelh wias to gather into their hauis the protitaldo enmmerce of the Imland world of the Fastern Archlielago, hut they flll wot fall to pmisue their spmanish and Portuguese enemles lu other ifuarters, where the clinures of traftic looked laviting. Thes *ized jusitions on the Cuinca conat of weatern A frita and task their full whare of the trade with lis anvage nillvea, what gave kold duas, Ivory ebony, gums, wax, ginger, pepper, pulin of varlons choice kluin of wort, and slaves for the Weat tadles and America. whell the pilantathona there began to watt labor). In exchauge for trinkets and cheap gools. They alas oceupled aurl colonized the Cape of Goxil IIope, wheh the fortugurse liad neglected, and muide It, in tlune, a very promperons and valuatle presestion. Thite they khonid carry thelr war whit Epain lato the West Iniltea and tis the Asaerican cosmata. was a matter of cuurer. In 16 as a Dutch Weri India Company was charterel, zo orgunize these operatlons in the western woric. as the Eist Indla Compaay had organized sumtertakliga in the Eant. But the Weat India Company we much lew commerciai and much more warilize In lis aims than the corporation of the wrient. Its frut nhject was to take spolis from the enemy, and it found the prizes of war the rleh that not much eive was thnught of. On the North American contluent, a moat important lodgmeat Wha mate, as eariy as 1614, nt the mnuth of the Hudeon Iiver, where the colony of New Netheriand was fonnded. In thle quarter, as every. where, the Dutch and Englifh were rivais, and before many years they came to open was. In the weries of wars whleh roilowed (1052, 1660 , 1072), and $\ln$ tise fong cantest with Laule XIV, of Franee which they shared with Eugiand, the Dutch expenied more of thelr energles than they could aflomi. The Eing Iish, wltit their well pritectell island, rehe in moil and in minerals, had benvy adrantages on their side, when once they hand aequired the tnowledge if comnerce and the ability in iabor which enabied them tu comprise with the Dutch. To the latter nature had aiways been wioully unfriendily. They hal fought agalnst elrcumstances at every step in their history, and hand won their wealth. thelr knowierige, thelr high impurtance and influrnce in the woriti, by sheer harif work, tlreleas patlence and intomitalile will. Ifitt the natural ailvontages agalust wheleh they struggled were sure tu ofercome thems In the emil. It manat be anid, toon, that ther difi nut grow hin character as their fortunes rise. It is nut ditilicult. therefore, to acconnt for the fart thit the Duteh natlon slowiy sllppeif back, durhig the $18 t / 1$ century, frum the high and leailng poistlun in civilzation to whlefi It Lad eilmbedl. nod inst liy degrees Its commer cfai supremary, while the Euglish nation came to the frum.

The Engtion.
TRADE
The Engilah: 16-17th Centuries.-Commerclal progress. - The East India Cempany. As Euglish commerce slowly freed itelf frum furcign hands, It fell umiler the contral of manuonolles at hamic. The merediants of the Mliofle Ages, In Enkland anif clowherre, had forneel themselves into meletles, ur gullils, just as the artisans and mechanles in diltirert trmeles hati done. Such asseclatious hadi orlglnally grown ont of the lisuinicrly stote of the thines, when govermuent ami las were wenk, mul whin men whe liad commun Interests were fureed tomite to protect themselves. and tur extulillsh customs und rules fur regulating thelr bualness atialra. Hat the guidion nlmost always mecame, In thue, opprersive numulimelles, cach acyulrlog, in its own lepartment uf limsiness, such cxclusive rights and priviluges hat proctically shut out from hat ship. This ow curreal mang the nurechants, as it did elsewhere, atal liughlsh eommerre grew up under the coutrol of varlous sucletles of "Mer. - hant Alventurers. in they wor. calleml ate of Finglish comburer for at loug jerloal. fint through the retena of H1ars Vill, and Ellanof Engllat merrlamis traling abroml, was ral and were: fant extemfing the mandufucture nit home of their own famous wooi. This, In turn made the sheep farming mora proftahie, and ao much find was taken for that purpone that nther products were diminlahed and mont articies of food moe in price. That occurrence caumel gre 7 e anxiety, and the meddling atatesmen of the time, whis thought that nnthing could go weil 18 tineir wiedom did nnt reguinte it hy law (as ton many medoiling atitesmen think yet) be. gan to Pranie acte of Inrilament whlcir directed how farming fands should bo managed asdi how many sheep a single fermer shomli be permitted to nwn. The anme kind of statemmanship tonk ainrm at the spread of weaving. In a smnil way. among industriuns vilingers andif rountry people. who eet un lowimand inarie and sullif cloth, out. shle of the guilifs of the town weavera. So the complainta of the intter were listenefi to, and Parlarient forbadic weavitg to be done ontshifo of certain thwus, cxerpt for home use in the family of the wearcr. Therr wan much of that sort of fegislathon during Tuilor timen, and the Infustry and enterurlse of the country hal to struggio iong and lurni fur fruetiom tu fairiy ex. erelve themsives. lint In sptic of meiduling statesmen nnd tyramileal monope lics, tho people Went ou frum year to y yur, learning more, doing inore, irfolueluy more, wanilng; mare, Guying an'? selling mori, mad llving lit better wny After alxint 1sii, there appears to liave beetu a ronsliferalle dlreet trade giawing up ieetwien Litiginmi and the countries of the enstern Murif. terrancan (the levnit), and cunsuls, to frok after the rights andi interesta of Engllal, mertunnte, began tu be ripmituterl, at Condla, aml clacwhere. as early us 1:330. The voyage from Iamion to the levant amif returu ther corruplepl fromeleven of Weat Afrcra, dilyutligg the cxeluslive rights Which the Partingucse elaimati there, aud in 1838 they "pened trale with the Monors of the Barbary const, In turthern Africa. In $1553 \mathrm{~m}_{\mathrm{n}}$ chartered compinny of Lamelun merclients whs formed whth. the culject of exploring for $n$ nurtheastern pas. sage tu Clilua, aromnaf Eurupe, through the Aritle kras, as a memas of slividing the trade of the kast whit the Purtiginese, who contrulleri the southern rimete, urimnd ifrica. This is levelieved to have Inern the first jolut stowk curpmeration of share howifer thint was neganlzed In Englandi. Sollas. than Conhet, then " (imuld D'lot of Elinglandi," was at the howe of if. The northwestern pasmage Was mot found. hat the company oprabi a trade mable. Actepting this, In lleu of the Chlnatrai which It contil wet rearlo. It berane, ns the Ras nat (ompany, "resh nail puwerful corporatlon tal ferling fou 1 -puata. The diestructlon of the Armalla lorck, the Suaulsh naval power ant made the English th in Tlicy legan to navigate the s'a from that time with intent to become lta them li, maritime strength and expertonee. Dur. the the relgn of bilizaln th there ruse a new ract of Viklngs, wery muelo like the old Nurse hernea of the sen, ami pursulng a very sinillar career. The noat darlug and mist famous aming them,

The Aingith,
TILADE
more than half plrates, and their voyagea were chleily expeditlons for plunder, directed agalnat the Spandirvis and Portugueas. The trade which they frat give attention to was the trado In negro alaves. But thowe piratical adventurere of the $10 t h$ century made England the " mistrem of the sean." They tralned for her a body of aallon who were able lo time to more than cope wlth the futch, and they opened the newly known reglona of the world for her merchauts and colonists to apreal over them. Before the end of the 17th century, the Kinglish hal liecomo the foremost power in the wentern world and wero maklng the most of lte opportuntiles for produc. thon anil trade. Meantime they were puahing thelr way with equal energy In the East. On the Inat ilay n? the year 1600 tho "Company of Merchants of Lomion trailing Into the bast Imiles," which lecame afterwarde so gruat abl famous at the "Bast Iadia Company of Fing. lanl, whe chartered by the Queen. The Com. pany sent out lis tirst leret of five veasels In (30)I. The exjurdition returned, after nil absence of two years und seven noontion, rlehly laden, In part whiterper from Sinuatrs and in jart will the spoils of a jourtugueme ahip which It luml cap. tureyl lu the wralts of Mslacca. It hind enttled a tradlag ageury, or factory, at Buntum - and that wns the beginnlog of the vant empire whleh Eughind now rules in the Bast. - Nre Invia A. 11. It ( $k 1$ - 70 ?

The English: 17-18th Centurles. - The Colonial or Sole Market Commerclal Syatem. -" The doxitrlue that tho cominerchal probjuerity of a country deprods on the creathon, mainteurts and for lem mupplles, was prevalent from the disenvery of the New Worhl and the Cape I'inwige down to the war of American IndejeuIlewe: This wasthe principal object of Burghis linds. Thls was what ablinated the Duteh, In their successful, lo the end ton anccers. ful, strapgle, after a monopoly uf the splee ilimis. I'his wan the motive vililela led to the iharters of the Ifusstau Comprany, the dovalit (ompany', the East Indla (imupany, the 'Turker' 'impany, the Inison's Ibay Com: pany, In Finghmil The theory wis organ. farl In the colonlal ofetems, whlch Adam Nulth rinmimed, attackerl, ami as fur as argu. nubt coult g's, denullsheyl lit lis groat work. But the dream of a sole binrket ls still possessing the Gormans aml thw Freuch. . . The early Wars of Eitrope were wars of congucst. After throm came the wars of rellghon, from the outbrak of the lasurrection in the bow (bus. Pricas and the elvil wars In France, down to the Prace of Werstjhalla la the midule of the 1 lith cuntur; l'rim that day to our owis, Eurupean was liave leva waged in belalf of the imbance ot juwer, the prlicipal inlachlefemaker lit tho conthot Ix Ing F'rance. The Eaglish, the Freweh, and the Itutch were the rompetions in the wara for a wole market. But llolland was jractically ruinell at the peace of Aix-Ia. 'haperle, anil France was sirijured. . . of her coloules at the Pance of Jaris, and England becume not only the princlpal naritlme, but the prinelpal manafis turing and merrantle country la the world. Ay rigurds Euglinh trate, however, though Indis n ad un outlet to some extent for Euglinh tronls, fin trale was In the hands of a chartered romphny, whom the Seveo Years' War had left

In cerlnis stralta. The mont Important cols martet Which Oreat Britaln had aequired by her warn wha the sea-boand of North America. To mupport the finaneen $n f$ the chartered company, the Britlah Parllament determined on tazing the Inhabltants of her wole market, and the result ate you know wat the war of Americen Indepen. dence. The coinnial or sole-market eytiem Wha laned on a atrict reciproclty. The Engliah Governiment admitted colisnlal produce Into the Englads markets at difterentlal dutles, or prohlb. Ited the produce of forelgn natlons and forelga colonles alwgether. The Colnnles were not ouly the cuatomers of Eingilsh manufacturer only, to the almolute excluaion of forelgn manufactures, lint were prolshited from undertaklng thow manifactures themseives. The Finglixh Govern. ment alojnted whth their colonies the polley whleli they alopterl wlth Irish manufuctures, which they also prohlbited, but whth thls ilfier. ence, that they diasbled the Irish from laving any trule whintever with Fingland, with the Cibonles, anl witl foruga countrice. They whuned to extlngulah, with one exception, every Irish product, and tis constlite themselves the mole manufacturera and shopkeepers for the Irtah Thry allowed only the lfurn manufacture of C'ister. The Irish were to be, wlth this excep thin, agricuituriate only, but they wero to be Ilabhleyl from selllng thelr aprlculiural prodire In Eughand, it eloewhere. They were practlonlly denked the right of trale. . It whem the dur. trine of the gole markrt in iti nusat exageersterd form. . . The colonial syatem, under whleh advantages were secured to the colonial producer hy glving lifm a jreferred market in Great liritaln, Whlle the colonlat was debarred frum engeging In manufactures, was a seltisl the on the pinti of the Engllsh merchanta and manafucturers. It gave the colonist a mole nurket, It is irue. But it does not follow that a mole narket is a highs market. On the contrary, It is probable that the offer of a cole market is intemiled to secure a low market. The Vrplinan planter ment the whole of his tobacco to Empland. The Euglisls truder reexported it wothre countrica, asy llolland or Germany. It may le jresumeal that he made a proft on the orfplual conslgnment, and on the reexportation, of he would wit have undertakra the husinest

The roloninl syatem liti not preclude the jlantuthons from m-nillug. under the atrict condi. tlons uf the Xisvlgation Act, certaln kinds of frixluce (1) other ('rusitles than England. These primefjal belng crirn, timiser, salted provisinno, tish, sugar, and rum. There was a reason for this, which was to be found In the fiscal syatem of England. We dld not want colonlei corn, for there wrre dutles on corn, levied In the laterest of the lanillords. nor colonalal tmber, sulted meat and salted fish, for the lume produce of these arti-les were similarly assisted. Sugar anil rum were alhwed to be exported, for the owners of the plantatlons in the laeward lsles wem chlefly absenter Englislı proprictors, who had siready a monoroly of Engllsh supply, and were power. fu] enongh In Parlament to get an extended market elsewhere. Hut in 1760, just before the troubles hroke out with the Amerlcan planta. tlons, an Act was pased, disabliog the colonlats from sending even the non-enuraerated commoditles to sny cointry worth of Cape FYnlaterre.

TH,NH:

Winterv.
Cindonial American

Thale

In Northern Bpaln. . . Thir enumerated Fixula. and there was hang list if them, cuuld lee ex: poirterl to Great Britula only. They temalinted, as Adant smith mays, of whe comblinel lee produced la this country, ond what colldil lee promdwed in great yuntity in tive Colonien -3. E.. T. Ihigera, the imnomic Interpretalion of Jlist. Ife is.
The hineficane: Colonial Irade.-"We are a matlon c: Inad-traftickers, list our ancetum In the colonien truded and trareled almont entirely by water. Tlifere were lmit welve nillea of landcarrlage lin all the provisce uf New York: In gond Allanay the ludian trade was carried on by 'three." ur 'furr handeal lattenus,' sharp at Loth enila, like the Aillrumlaek lmat if tuiny. Yachis, wlits bottoma of limack oak and shltio if red ceilar, lirought wheat in bulk and peltries dowu the flideon: ofhor craft carrienl inf the dnmentle tmide of Now Yark town with the thores of Lamg Ixlumi. Staten Inlanil, antil the Iltele prats beyind the Kill vin Kull. . . . The drat repular wagun earrlage from the coinnor

 Jeare Thit that lyutumed lumt, whell has altice played ari Imprortunt a fart lin tre trale of the

 try larges of Einglimi, ajpeary to have leven before IB45. In the chempreake colonles, watll late In the prowlmelal prolini, there ware almuat do rumbs lues the numeronas hay and witere slite. But uf all manan of travelur tmale the Imdian cunce way the chlef. . . J Joarla la the coluthen wers harilly ever haid int, lint wore left where Indlan trall or chanee cart track ha the wocols hasl marked them. . . Frome Vinclanal, along whith had rumils, the coblonlats lirughit the: pack loone which, In thevon aill Cionwall, at the clome of the list century, stlll dlli the carty Hont of the Inland tratle of the colloulal jurring was to ine ly parklige.

The (iermans, whow ancertura limi binf. Wheremi veluleles In the days

 Inira ware content to travel in hormelack mitit to furil and awime atronims, the Nalabingers In tiener.

 Engilsh mghtily: J'omanylvanla, the homee of stankelt romis: mal tire farllity which theme af.
 maln alvantage that gave Dhlin lelphita the that prepininemere nimour the coldulat erab ports, anal mart In Nurilt Inierima. . . I'roximalis to the the wher made. Niew luifk the rhief meat uf the fur trale: Wuem rumbe, mill, climate, an! an Clpal renter of the traftle In liread and numat. The never umilng lise of comvenlent shore that lonlered the pe:linsulas of Marylaniland VIr dimente so bulld towna of develop trado among the easy molag platutern of the Chesaprake and Allw-twirle rembing. A dilfermi comat-Hne, and rivito liwa convenlent, male (linaleston the rich ern Iarolina. I'ull alwint liab beacon was the lemallog wen purt. anil lin hog wharf, 2,000 feet In Ivouth with warehouses an eque sile of it, was the New Wirhl wonder at travelers. Pive or six hundrel rowecla annually cleaneal out inf lim Lus in the mitistle uf the inth rentury for thu tween tarenty and thirty thoumand jemple at the outhronk uf itre llersulution. Bue New purt, with Its thaty dimelleries to make rum of the mo lames brought from the IHIands, and lte aerm the resulte of the whallog Imbustry, bat nearly linif at many nhlpe in firclen trade ad Pumbor, and there if fourf handend craft of all eurts in the const wle carrylng trall. Ilo was thought a

 Dew lurk ment furth fere mar shm than Newlort. and tut half mo many as lhmono.

Ihtithe delphin - pilantel late its the ifh cwatury ominerlppall all rivala, and for the Inat twenty yeare uf the colonlal jwrlat was the whlof pirt uf Nurth America. . The limpurte ami ex purts of the (wot tobsery culumbestogether were fur larger than thome of Plilimilelpilia, liut thelr it the (Ehmira (limentury. Juhe. Iexil)
The English: 18-19th Centurics.-Rising prosperity and commercial supremacy. - Succenstul War, Free Trade and Steam Power, -
If wir lowik at the atule uf the Eurnipenn pimern ufler the cuncluslon of the seven lame fir in 1783, we whill seo huw favouralide our juwitlan then was. In the first place, Eughand hall neri undy cripuleal her comineredal ripal, F'rance Incti In her Imilan and Amerflentt jumemanalons. and therely land galned extensive culoulal lerrl gunde. Spaln, whlels hail been allled whith Prance. hall last at lise anme tlme her poaltom tow the commerelal rival of Englanil In trade witis the sicw Wirfla. Germany hal fur eome elme minw leing ravagel ly Internal conllicta Iretween

 what this time in a stonltiar rumilthon, alld lami

 the chatier if 'the unlversal emplre of the mile market." Tlue supply of this market was In the Itamls uf Eingllali namafueturera and Eingllsh Wurkmern, an that the great Inventlons which "athe Into uprathon nfter liges were this at onve atil mhers were nthle th pranluce wenltit as fast ns they comily wiork. whthint fear of forelpa compeithon. It is nut surprishig. therefore, to find that in the ten yenra, frum Ionis to 1793, our entire fordgn trale was nearly doulifed, the ex rexs was stlll kept up cren during the great (untinculal wars whillt were caused liy the French Revolution, and whicli Insted for nlmisi

(11.11)

Molera.
The A.mplich

TAAIEE
do amon priate ans tt-line, and on the rirl r of south on wre the 000 fret in of it. was Mve or int of ind ry for the tained the ple at tbe pirt, with f the mo ith seven work up it meariy anemon. urta in the thourfit a Vew l゙urt lout lign Sewpurt, lide i'hila winthry at iwenty heref purt sul ए llow wire but their Connmerce
-Rising 8:-Suc-Pover.n Miwern imaltion hall seni Frame munalons. dal terri Itritisid ent with atle witl ome time and was thetween l'rusaja Is most ame had the $161 \%$ one loth! as in the Enyilah which at obre ur millis as fuat fore, l 792, 1318 He ex $31.6 \%$ 6iv. 3 \% le prog hy the aimust a guarter of a comtury., . . In aple of the almoat entlre line of our truile in some directions, Bing. fish commerce impmoved in others: and, in fact, any fres warre than counterbalanced by an incruase in reigard to the (bow Imdepmenient) t"nited Staten Humis, Vonice, Germany, aml Sorthern Europe, se woll es with the Wed and Fat Imilian coloaien, both Britich and forelan. Ia fact, many of the countriea whom France had corapelled to become our enemiles found themodves uable to slo without Dritioh manulac. sures, eapectally a thelr own industrles were - Hitering from the warfare that was golng on (1) 'he C'oatinent, and therefore had to fall means (u) previre our emmle.

Tive cirwe of the 45 yearm of continental war (1815) is ommetimen taken an luing the rlate when the moxlein syatem of commene may be alal th have fiwl its beginolns (fj to that time, ajahough great changea and wlrances hod lieen maile, the spirit of monupaly and the general reutrictive pulley which cl:cracteriand prevlous centurlen, were stili, to wine extent, In force. fut not very long after the peace thet wan wrin by the batile of Wrater. ton, a remarkulile change was male in the com mercial puilicy of Einglamt.

We now come a the in pinning if freeriom of trale."-1t. Ie 13. (ibhina, liritiah (emmarre amp Cisonien pp. 91-104. - "When the wara of the French levolution legais, the fondations of a grent "mpirce hal already becen broadly ladi; and when It emievi. Engiand toonl out a power which haif grown greater in the struggie. . . . Dutcin. man, thae, and Spanlard, Prencliman anil Ve. urtian, ail meient romprethora of Eingiand, feit Inefore luer; and, when the sworl was whether In 1515 . it was no exaggerated bomst to call ber mintrist of the seas. These facta should never be fost aldit of inany consideration of the ranmes wheh have leyl us 4 ) where we now are. Wits. out theren preparalury stepa, both in donnestle inclustrees and in forelga wars ami coniplesta. finginul would aot, with alf her material al. vantaken, have been to entirely the galaer by the fircyrem of the last afty years an she has eo far pirived to tre.

There is the more need to pidu-mixer thls becange tise time immeilateiy foliowing the war was one of exevere domentic suffering. and of imucil retrograte leghiation, ronceivel with a view te, if pramilile, lessent that aulfirlag. . . . The wormt ul nil the laws which Theu fretrictenf trmbe were those relating to the ixpuris athif imports of corn, whith the younger imn if lin day have will nigh forgotten.
It was not till after fong yeara of agitation by of the Autil'orn lanw isengie, that the Ianded party gave way sulloniy, and uswrutal, nombt the thant glamy provictir is of luperoding puin, tos the roproal of the sildiug mente altogether, anil thu virtual abolition wi sll corn laws i,y the sult kifution of $n$ fixed duty of 1 s . per quartor. Thus reroutly was one of the most oppresaive jivers of tiscal ligisintion that nuan comblif have cumcived withirawn and not until 1849. when that haw came lutu force, could the fuluatrhes of the crountry le kail to be anythiug IIk innfet tretel. let twenty yours more pasary before lios shiling dinty - the last rag of protectiou. wan liself lling asiofe, and the import of corn income perfecily free. .. But many other changer had if the meantime taken place, all Lending more and twore to throw of the ahackle of trade. As late a 1940 our customs taritit whan teseribed in the rajurt of a comanttes of the llouse of Communs as 'presendag belther congruity nor unity of purpose: as 'often alm ing at incompatilile pads, teveling inoth to produce revenue and to protect interents In ways incompatthlo wlth each other. Thero were no fower than 1, lis difterent rates of duty rharge. able on Imported articles, and the cummit. tre gave a liat of $80{ }^{2}$ of such articien which were gubject to lifily, weventeen of whicit then pro. duret of pur cent. of a revenue amountlag to 2e2s,000,000. . .. The premant rustomm tarin contalas fee than iwo ilozen articles alf toht. and incluiling theme on which duty in imponed to countervall the circle charges on inturmal prolucta. The orrilinary linport articlea on Which duty is chargel numixer only seven.
But there is yet another himifance the removal of which has to be noticel, and which, tili re. thovet, "rmmped Engiand very merlously, vis. the aavightion laws and the great trade monop. oly of the Elast Inila Compuny. . . . It toot longer time. . to ncormplish the complete deliverance of our mercantile marine from the banefil Influphce of 'proterttre' jcalousy that to accomplish any other great free-trnde ruform. A tentallve effort to leswin the consequeaces of confining the carrying truile of Fingiand to Enf Iish alipu was made In 1825 by Mr. Ilusktenon; but it was not till 1804 that connjlete free trade on the sea was granted by the aboiltion of any restriction at the thationatity of veamela en. gagel in the conating truite of the kingdom.
llere, then, we hive noted brtety the varl. ons ateps and lewiling charncteristice of the commervial reforma wheh. in this country, either paved the way for or mecurel the lenetit of the great outhurnt of enterprise and intiux of weath which begen lin the second guarter of tive presant century. Theae varinas reforma ennatilute. so to my, the neigative silie of the tumbern rommerelis prosperity which thin country buite upoin the foundations of her worlil.wlde empire: atil. in onder to get a compiete ontline of the pratition whlch we at present occupy, wo must now revert hriffy the phaitive stide of the subject; we inunt thud out where the great mexlers wenlth has eoume from, and on what it has leen hamed. F'revidun of trule uer donhtit did much to cali wealth ami rnterpriwe luto being: but in what dill this wealth conaisti llapplly the heading fentures arr nut rilifenit to irare Alfongh the founiations of the great manufac turing fulastrien of thim country lie far back fis the pust, their tivelopucent, like the growth of free trule priaclpies, is quite montern, and clates In reailty from the day when George Niephenson won the connpetitiou at isverpool with lits loco thotlve 'the lacket.' wetting thereby the questhon of railroad iravi-illng by steam leyond dis pute. Tise mere stimulue will kinds of mining and inanufacturing industries whels this victory and the asbmequent rallway opreration gare. wan Iteclf enough to caune the trale of this country to prews forwand by leape mad bounda. Hince November 1830, it may be alif to have lone an: and the mero fact that England was the originator of the raliway syatems of the worid, and that she contained within herself almost boundies materiais where with to supply thowe syatems, would itself sumbee to explain thr pre-eminence which frim that liay to thls has been unquetilonahly hers. The great natural resources of tue country were first employed in supplying the materials for home development, and then gradually the wealth thus acqulred hy digging in the bowels of the earth was utllised in temptligg or ieading other natlons into a career of 'progress' similar to our own. In aple of the many losses whlch indlviduals suf. fered in the early days of thls progress, the nation grew steadily richer and its stores of realised wealth lncreased with every new enter. prise almost that it took up. . . . Each year the reallsed wealth of the one before told, as lt were in swelling the worklig power of the natlon, and in enlarging the buslness capacitles and scope of its credit. Slde hy side with the lncreased produce of the country, the lncreased manufactures, and the increasing wealth, there were growing up facllitles for Intercommunlcation with all parts of the world, and with that an increaslng tendency to emlgration. The home hives were constantly throwing off young awarms, which, settllng now in Ancerica, now ln Australia, now in Africa, became so many new centres of demand, so many llaks in the trade chaln that we had bound round the world."A. J. Wilson, British Trade (Fraser's Mag., Sept., 1876), pp. 271-277.-' The almost unllmited ex. panslon whlch becomes marked about 1850 and culminates in 1873 , has been polnted to hy many different people as proof of the great effect of different measures or lnventlons; as a matter of fact, it was due to no one cause, hut was rather the result of multitudinous discoveries and events, actlng and rcactlng on each other. Perhaps the followlng llst of clates shows this most clearly:-Opening of first Engllsh railway, 1830; Wheatstone's telegraph, 1837; first ocean steam. er, 1838; settlement in New Zcaland, 1840; reductlon of dutles on raw materials, 1842; repeal of Corn Laws, 1846; commerclal treaty wlth France, 1860. Here are seven events of widely dlfferent natures, each of which must have had its effect ln the period under conslderation, and it would be useless, even if it were posslhle, to welgh the separate result of each. We cannot estlmate, we can ohtain no criterion of the vast effects of the adoptlon of Free Trade. Three thlngs, however, are clear:- Flrst, that thll the suffocatligg restrictlons were removed, trade could not expand; when exports were prohlb. ited, lmports could not be plentlful; when lm. ports were taxed, the demand at $\epsilon^{-h}$ banced prices could not be great. Secondly, it every restrlc. tlon was removed from every hranch of trade, there would he no lncrease without natural causes of manufacture and demand, no increased demand without a cheapenlng or lmprovement of supply; that, In fact, Free Trade ls the method, not the source, of commerce, and that the claim of thls fucrease as the direct result of freedom and a proof of its expedlency is an in. accurate exaggeration. Thlrdly, that the date of the marked commencement of the expanslon colncldes exactly with the reductioas and abolitlors of dutles, pointling to the fact, borne out hy all concurrent events, that the sdoptlon $r f$ Free Trade was the openlng of the valve wh h allowed the forces of commerce full play. It was in the trades of comparatlvely recent estshllehment, in England eapeclally, that there were immense outputs (of cotton goods and ma. chinery, for instancc), in great excese of the home demand; and this could oniy psy if the forelgn demand grew in proportlon to the grow. ing efficlency; that is to say, our newer indus. tries became the most important, and were marked as our divlslon of international labour. The forelgn demand, indeed, for our manufactures and our machines was extraordlnary. Nor, every country ls trylng to rival our goods, and each to produce for herself the manufactures she requlres; then, rivalry was out of the ques. tlon. . . . On every alde new market were opened; old trades were increased, new devel. oped. The rallways huilt wlth our materials opened up districts hltherto lnaccesslhle; thls acted as a fresh stimulus to our manufactureramore capital was forthcomlng, and more rallways were hullt. Not only were countries, wlth whlch we had already estahilshed some trade, hrought nearer and in closer relation, hut new countries were dlscovered. Australla and New Zealand were ready to take our sur. plus population, and were not behlndhand in the new system of development. Our older colonles also lncreased. With each emigration the number of our customers ahroad was multl. plled. In 1850 and 1852 thls process was accelerated by the news of the gold dlscoveries ln Callfornla and Australla. So great was the emigration and the consequent demand for shlps that all frelghts were increased, and, with a short lull, thls contlaued tlll 1856. ...T The last great lmpetus was glven hy the Suez Canal, hy which the journey to India and the East was qulckened hy one-half, and, at the same time, rendered more secure."-A. L. Bowley, Eingland's Foreign Trade in the Nineteenth Century, ch. 4. - Bee, also, Tariff Leoislation (EnoLAND) : A. I). 1842, and after.

TRADE.

The Americans: A. D. 1856-1895-Decay of American shipping interests. - Down to the year 1856, the Uulted States had rapldly ad. vanced in commerclal greatness, and had over. come all the obstacle. whlch had clustered about their path. At that Ime we were close upon the heels of England, and everything polnted to our speedily passing her lu the race for com. mercial supremacy. Slnce then our commerce has steadily declined, - a mlsfortune usually attrlbuted to the clvil war, and suhsequently to the competition of more profitahle forms of lnvestment. These clrcumstances no fouht hastened the loss of our commerce; but, as Lieutenant Kelley polnts out, they are not the true causes of lts decline, inasmuch as that began before the clvll war. The origln of our diff cultles lay in the ahandonment of our old pollcy, which, from the beglnning of the century, conslated in surpasslug all the world ln the quallty and speed of our shlps and ln our navai archl. tecture. With the suhstltutlon of Iron for wood we began to drop behlnd, until, wlth a populatlon of $55,000,000$, we have a tonnage hut llttle greater than we had when half as numerous. Moreover, our pereentage of wrecks is larger than that of any other seafaring people, and our shlps and steamers are shorter-ilved. "- The Question of Shipe (Atlantic Monthly, June, 1884, pp. 850-861). -"The first symptom3 of the deca. dence appeared ln 1856, in the fallling-ofir in the sales of American tonnage to forelgners; the reduction belng from 65,000 in $185 \%$ to $42,000 \mathrm{ln}$ 1856, to 26.000 in 1858 , and to 17,000 in 1880 During the war, however, the transfers of

TRADE.

Modern.

Laird constructed hls frst lron ateamers of any magnltude for steam navigatlon), and with eighteen years of experlence, had become thoroughly equipped in 1855 for the prosecution of thls. great industry. The facilities for the construction of steam machinery adapted to the most economleai propulslon of ocean vessels, further. more, were aiso inferlor in the Unlted States to those existlng in Great Britain; and, by reason of statute provislons, citlzens of the Unlted States interested in ocean rommerce were absolutely prevented and forbldden from avalilng themselves of the results of British skill and superiorlty ln the constrictlon of vessels when such a recourse was the oniy poilioy which couid have enahied them at the tinie to hoid their positlon in the ocean carrylng trade in competition with their foreign rivals. . . . The inability of the ships of the Usited States to do the work which trade and commerce required that they should do as well and cheaply as the ships of other nations havlng been dcmonstrated by experlence, the decadence of American shlpping commenced and was iuevitahie from the very lour when thls fact was frst recognized, which was ahout the year 1856 . Here, then, we have the primary cause of the decay of the business of shlp-bullding in the United States and of our commerclai marine. $\qquad$ The ques. tion which next naturaily presents itself in the order of this inquiry and discusslon is, Why is it that the peopie of the Urlted States have not been permitted to enjoy the privileges accorded to other maritme nations, of adjustlng their shipping interests to the spirit and wants of the age? Why have they alone been deharred from using the best tools in an important department of commerce, when the usiug meant husluess retained, labor employed, and capitai rewarded, and the non-tusing equaily meant decay, paraiy. sis, and impoverishment? The answer is, Be cause of our so-cailed navlgation iaws."D. A. Weils, Our Merchant Marine, ch. 2-3. - "Somewhat curtailed, the navigation laws may be summarized as foliows: No American Is aliowed to lmport a forelgn-built vessei $\ln$ the sense of purchasing, acquirlng a reglstry, or using ifer as bis property; the only other imports, equally and forcibiy prohihited, being counterfeit money aud obscene goods. An Ameriean vessei ceascs to be such if owned in the smailest degree by a naturaiized citizen, who may, after acquiring the purchase, reslde for more than one year ln hls natlve country, or for more than two yesrs in any other foreign state. An American ship owned in part or in full by an American citizen who, without the expecta tlon of relinquishing his citizenship, realdes in any forelgn country except as United States Consul, or as agent or partner in an exclusiveiy Amerlcan mercantlle house, ioses its reglister and lts right to protection. A cltizen obtaining a regliter for an American vessei must make oath that no foreigner ls directly or indirectly interested in the protits thereof, whether as commander, offleer, or owner. Forelgn capital may huild our railroads, work our mines, insure our property, and huy our bonds, hut a slngie doilur Invcsted in American ships so taints as to render It unworthy of the benefit of our lawe. No forelgn-hullt vessei can, under penalty of coutiscation, enter our perts and then bell to another domestlc port with any new cargo, or with any part of an original cargo, which has once been uniaden previousiy, without touching at corno port of some foreign country. This law is construed to include ail direct trafic between the Atlantic and Pacific ports of the United States via Cape Horn, the Cape of Good Hope, or the Isthmus of Panama; and being a coarting trade, foreigners cannot compete. An American vessel once soid or transferred to a foreigner, can never again become American property, even If the transactlon has been the resuit of capture and condemnation by a forcign power in time of war. Vessels under 80 tons cannot be used to import anything at any seaboard town. Cargoes from the eastward of the Cape of Good Hope ar suhject to a duty of 10 per cent. in addition to the direct lmportatlon dities. American ves. seis repaired in forelgn ports must pay a duty on the repalrs equal to one-half the cost of the forelgn work or materiai, or pay 50 per cent. ad valorem, the master or owncr making catry of such repalrs as lmports. This liberal provision, which dates from 1806, is made to lnclude hoats obtained at sea, from a passing foreign vessel, In order to assure the safety of our own seamen.

TRADE.

Ali other natlons have the power of huylng thips for foreign trade in the cheapest market, and the effort to protect our shlphuilders hy the denial of this right forhlds the return of commerclai prosperity."~J. D. J. Kelley, The Question of Shipe, ch. 4-5.

The recent revolution in Commerce.-" $\Delta$ if economists who have specialiy studicd thls matter are suhstantially agreed that, wlthin the period named [1800-1885], man in gcneral has attained to such a greater controiorer the forces of Nature, and has so compassed their use, that he has been able to do far more work in a given time, produce isr more product, measured by quantity ln ratio to a given amouut of iabor, and reduce the effort necessary to lnsure a comfortahle subsistence $\ln$ a far greater measure than it was posslhle for hlm to accomplish 20 or 30 years antcrior to the tlme of the present writing (1888). Iu the ahsence of sufficlentiy complete data, it is not easy, and perhaps not posslhle, to estimate accurateiy, and specificaily state the average saving in tlme and labor in the world's work of production and dlstrihution that has been thus achleved. In a few departments of lndustriai effort the saving $\ln$ hoth of these factors has certalniy amounted to 70 or 80 per cent; in not a few to more than 50 per cent. . . . Out of suen results as are definitely known and accepted liave come tremendous industrial and social dis. turhances. the extent and effect of which-and more especlaily of the dlsturbances which have culminated, as it were, In later years - it is no: easy to appreciate without the presentation and consideration of certaln typleal and spccific examples. $\qquad$ Let $u \mathrm{~s}$ go bach., In the first lnstance, to the year 1869, when an event occurred Which was probabiy prorluctive of more imme. diate and serious economic changes - industrial, commercial, and financiai - than any other event of th:s century, a period of extenslve war ex. cepted. That was the openlng of the Sucz Canal. . . The oid transportation had been performed hv shlps, mainly sailing-vessels, fitted to go round the Cape, and as such ships were not adapted to the Suez Canal, an amount of tonnage, estimated by some authoritles as high as two mililon tons, and representing an im* ase aroount of wealth, was virtualiy destroyed. The roysge, in piace of occupying from six to eight months, has been so greatiy reduced that steamers adapted to the canal now make the voy. age from Lundon to Caicutta, or vice versa, in leas than 80 days. The notahle destruction or great impairment in the vaiue of ships conscquent upon the construction of the canai did not, furthermore, terminate with lis immediate opening and use; for lmprovements in marine engines, diminlshing the consumption of coai, and so enahling vesseis to be not oniy salied at less cost, but to carry also more cargo, were, in consequence of demand for qulck and cheap serv. lce so rapidiy effected, that the numerous and ex. penslve steamer constructlons of $18^{\prime} \prime^{\prime} 0-73$, being unahie to compete with the constructlons of the next two ycars, were neariy ali displaced In 1875-176, and sold for half, or less than haif, of their origlnai cost. And within another decade these same improved steamers of 1875-'76 have, In turn, been dlscarded and soid at amali prices. bet. Again, with telegraphic communicatlon between India and Chlna, and the markets of the Western worid, permittling the lealers and consumers of the fatter to adj st to a nicety their suppifes of commodities to vary$\operatorname{lng}$ demands, and wlth the reduction of the time of the royage to 30 days or less, there was no longer any necesslty of laying up great stores of Eastern commodities in Europe; and wlth the terminatlon of this necessity, the India warehouse and distributlon system of England, with all the iabor and ail the capitai and banklng lncldent $:$ ) it, substantially passed away. Europe, and to some extent tie Uulted States, crased to go to Engiand for lts supplies. ... Importations of East Indian produce are aiso no locger confined ia England and other countrles to a speclal class of merchants; and so generaliy has this former isrge and speclal department of trade been hroken up and dispersed, that extensive retail grocers in the larger citles of Europe and the Unlted States are now reported as draw. lng their supplies direct from native dealers in hoth China and Inclia. . . . In siort, the construction of the Suez Canal completely revolutlonized one of the greatest departments of the world's commerce and husiness; ahsoiutely destroying an imniense amount of what had pre viously been wealtin, and dlsplaclng or changlng the employment of millions of capitai and thousands of mes.

- The defiuctlons from the mos: reccnt tonnage statistics of Great Brltaln come properly next in order for consideration. During the ten years from 1870 to 1880 , inclusive, the British mercantile marine increased its movement, In the matter of forelgn cntrles and clearances alone, to the extent of $22,000,000$ tons; or, to put it more simply, the Brltish mercantile marine exciuslvcly cngaged ln foreign trade did so much more work within the period named; and yet the number of men who were empioyed in effectling thls great movement had decreased in 1880, as compared with 1870 , to the extent of about 3,000 ( 2,090 exactiy). What did it ? The introduction of steam hoistlng-machlnes and grain-eievators upon the wharves and docks, and the employment of steam-power upon the vesseis for steering, ralsing the saif and anchors, pumping, and dlscharging the cargo; or, in other words, the sbility, through the increased use of steam and improved machinery, to carry larger cargoes in s shorter time, with no increase - or, rather, an actual decrease - of the number of men employed in salling or managing the ves. sels. . . . Prior to about the year 1875 oceau steamshipa hsd not been formidahie as freightcarriers. The marine engine was too heavy, oceupied too much space, consumed too much coal. . . . The resuit of the eonstruction and use cif compound engines in economizing cosl has been illustrated by Sir Lyon Playfair, hy the statement that 'a small cake of coal, which would pass through a ring the size of a shiling. when burned in the compound engine of a mod em steamboat would drive a ton of food and its proportion of the ship two milies on its way from a foreign port.'

Molern. Recent reoulutions.

TRADF

Is it, therefore, to he wondered at, that the sailing-vessei is fast disappear ing from the ocean? $\qquad$ Great, however, as has been the revolution in respect to economy and efficiency in the car ying-trade upon the ocean, the revolution in the carrying-trade upon land during tho same period has been even greater and more remarkable. Taklng the American railroads in general as representatlve of the railroad system of the worid, the average chsrge for moving one ton of frelglit per mile hss been reduced from about 2.5 cents in 1869 to 1.06 in 1887; or, taking the results on one of the standard roads of the United States the (New York Centrai), from 1.95 in 1860 to 0.68 in 1885
. O Onsked effect of the and steanishlp system of transbeen to compel a uniformity of prices for ali commodities that are essentlai to life. . . . For grain heneeforth, therefore, the railroad and the steamship have decided that there shall be but one market - the worid. "1). A. Weils, Recent Economic Changes, pp. 27-47.-A recent Engliek wriver aays: "Formeriy We [the Engilish] wers tha gicat valinfacturers of the word; the grest; :stribiu ors and the great warehousemen of the world. Uur country was the polnt on which the great passenger traffic impinged from America and from our Coionies, and from which pussengers distributed themselves over the continent of Europe. The products of the worid as a general rule came to Engiish ports, snd from English ports were dist ributed to thelr various markets. All thls has mueli clisnged. Probably the alteration is more marked in our distrihuting traie thau in that of our manufacturing trade or in any other direction. About twenty years ago all the silk that was manufactured or eonsumed in Enrope was brought to Engiand from the East, mostly in a rsw state, and was theuce distribnted to eontinental mills. Notwithstanding the inereased eoasumption in Europe, silk now coming to England for distribution is oniy about oneeighth of the quantity that came liere some twelve years ago. This is one singlo exampie of an Orientai product. The same diversion of our distrihuting trade can he traced in almost every other commodity. Many people belleve that the opening of the Suez Canal has caused this dimlaution of our distributing trade, and it cannot be tenled that the Suez Canal has done much to divert Oriental trade from this country, and to seud goods direct through the Canal to the contiaental ports, where they are consumed, or where they can be placed on railways and be forwarded Fithout break of bulk to their destinations. But whatever the Suez Canal may have done to divert trade in Oriental goods such as ten or silk, it eannot acconnt for the diversion of tho trade coming from America. Yet we find the same diversion of Amerlean products which formerly came to England for distribution. With cotton the same result is found, and with cotiee from the Brazil. Nor does the diversion of these articies merely demonstrute that our distribiting trade is being lost to us: it aiso shows that the manufaeturers of England now permit the raw material of their industries to be sent straight to the factories of thelr competitors on the Continent. It shows that the great manufactures of the world are being transferred from Engiand to Belgiusa, France, Germany, and even to Portugal aud Spaln. In the train of these manufactures are rapidiy foilowing ali the complez and eomplicated husinesses which are the fiand. maldens of coinnierce. For lnatance, the financlai busincss which used to centre in London is heing transferred to Paris, Antwerp, and Germany, mainiy because the goods to which this husiuess reiates are now conslgned to continental countries instead of as formerly being brought to England to be distrihuted therefrom. The loss of our distrihutling trade is to my mind in a great measure due to the fact that goods consigned to contlnental ports can be there put upon railways and sent stralglit to their destination; while goods sent to Engllsh ports must be put upon a railway, taken to our coast, there taken out of the railway, put on board a vessel, taken across to the Continent, there unloaded, then put on the rallway and sent off to their uitimate destinstion. These transhipments from railway to vessei and from vessel to maliway are always costiy, always involve time, and in the ease of some perishahie articles render the transactlon almost prohihiltive. To get over this difficulty and to retaln onr distributing trade, there appears to me to he oniy one eourse open, and that is in some way to ohtain direct railway-communication from Liverpool, from Loudon, from Bristol, from IIuii, from Glasgow, and from Dnudee, to the conti. nental inarkets where the goods landed at those ports are consumed."-II. M. Hozitr, England's Real Peril (Macmillan's Mag., July, 1888).

Waterways and Railways in modern inland commerce.-"There are threc great epoclis in the modern insiory of canal navigation, each marked by eliaracteristies pecuiar to itself, and sufficiently unlike those of either of the others to euable it to be readily differentiated. They may be thins described:-1. The cra of waterways, designed at once to facilitate the transport of heavy traffic from iniand eentres to the seaboard, and to supersede the then existing systems of iocomotion - the wagon and the prek-horse. This era commenced with the construction of the Bridgewater Canal between 1766 and 1770 , and terminated with the instailation of the railway system in 1830. The era of interoceanic canals, which was in. augurated by the completion of the Suez Canal in 1869, and is stili in progress. 3. The era of ship-canals intended to afford to cities and towns remote from the sea, all the advantages of a seaboard, and especially that of removing and dlspatching merchandise without the necessity of breaking buile. The second great stage in tho development of caual transport is of comparatively recent origin. It rasy, in fact, be aaid to date only from tine time when the conatruction of a canal across the Isthmus of Suez was proved to be not only practicahle an an engineering project, but iikewise highly quecessfuil as a commerclal enterprise. Not that this was by any means the first canal of fts kind. On the contrary, .. the ancients had many schemes of a similar kind ir view across the same isthmus. The canal of Languedoc, constructed in the reign of Louis XIV., was for that day as considerabie an undertaking. If was designed for the purpose of affording a safe and speedy means of communicution between the Meditcrrauean and the Atiantic Ocean; it has a totai length of 148 miies, is in its highest part 600 ft . nbove the icvei of the sea, and has In ali 114 locks and sluices. In Ikussia, canals fiad leetn constructcil in the time of Peter the Great, for the purpose of affordiag a means of conmunication between tic differcnt iniand scas that are cinaricteristic of tiay country. The junction of the Nortil and Caspian Seas, of the Baitic and the Caspian, and the uaion of the Biack and the Caspian Seas, fiad ali been assisted by the construction of a series of canals which were periaps without parailel for their completeness a contury ago. In Prussia a vast system of iniand navigation had heen completed during the last century, wicreby Hamhurg was conuected with Dantzic, and the products of the country could be cxported cither by the Black Sea or by the Baitic. In Scotiand the Forth and Ciyde Canai, and the Caiedonian Canal, were notahie cxampies of artliciai navigation de. sifned to connect two sens, or two tirths that L.dd ali the chmracteristics of indcpendent oceans; and tite Eric Canai, in the United States, compieted a chain of communication between iniand seas of much tire same order. But, aithough a great deal had been doue in the dircction of faciitating navigation betwcen diffcrereut wuters by getting rid of the 'hypinen' by which they were separated anterior to the date of the Sucz Canal, this grand enterprise uadoubtediy marked a notabie advance in the progress of the worid from titis point of view. The work was at once more uriginal and more glgantie than any that had precedcd it. . . The Suez Cauai once compicted and successfui, otiner ship canal sclicines came thick as antumnal leaves in Vallombrosa.' Several of thes? werc eminentiy practicai, as weli as practicable. The Helienic Pariament determined on cutting through the tonguc of land which is situsted between tie Gulfs of Athcus and Lepantus, known as the Istlinus of Corintl. This istimus divides the Adriatic and the Archipciago, and compeis all vesseis passing from the one sea to the other to round Cape Matapan, thus maberiaily lengthening tic voyages of ressels hound from the Western parts of Europe to the Levant, Asia Minor and Smyrna. The canai is now an accompiished fuct. Another proposai was that of cutting a canal from Bordcaux to Marselilies, across the South of Fraice, a distance of some 120 miles, whereby these two g-ast ports would be brouglit 1,678 miles ncarer to cach other, and a further reduction, estimated at 800 milies, effected in the distance hetween Eagiand and India. The Panama Canal (projected in 1871, and actualiy commenced in 1880) is, however, the greatest enterprise of ail, and in many respects the most gigantic and diflecuit undertaking of which there is any record. The proposer natfonal canal from eee to sea, proposed by Mr. Stmuel Lloyd and others for Great Britain, the propowed Sheflald Ship Canai, the proposed Irish Bea and Birkenhead Ship Canai, and the proposed ship canal to connect the Forth and the Clyde, are hut few of many notahld exsmples of the rentlessness of our times in this direction. $\qquad$ There are not a few people who regard the canal ayatem al. noost as they might regard the Dodo and the Megatherium. It is to them an effete relic of a time when civilisation was as yet hut imperfectly developed. . . Canals do, indeed, belong to the past. . . That canals also beiong to the present, Egypt, the American isthmus, Manchester, Corinth, and othe: piaces, fuliy prove; and, uniess we greatiy, rr, they are no tess the beritage of the future.'-J. 8. Jeans, Wateroays and Water Transport, sect. 1, ch. 1.-"The sea girt British Isics have upwards of 2,500 miles of canais, in adidition to the Manchester Ship Canal, which is thirty-five and one-haif miles, and is said to be one of the most remaricahie under. takings of modern times.'

In 1878, Ger. many had in operation 1,289 milies of canais, and had ordered the construction of 1,045 miles of new canais. Belgium has forty-five canais. Itaiy, Hungary, §weden, Holiand and Russia inave their respective systems of canals. France has expended a iarger amount of money than any other European nation, to provide for canal navigation, and in 1887 the total leagth of ith canals was 2,908 miles. About fnrty-cight per cr $\approx$ of the tonrage of that Republle was trans. pu. ted on its waterways. The average capacity of boats used therefor was 300 tons. The totai lengtio of the canals in operation in the United States in 1890 was upwards of 2,026 miles."H. W. Hill, Speech on Canals in N. Y. Consl. Cono. of 1894. -"In most of the leading countries of the world, a time arrived wh. n the canal system and the railway system came into strong competition, and when it seemed doubtful on which side the victory would lie. This contest was nccessarily more marked in Engiand than in any other country. Engiand had not, indeed, becn the first in the fieid with canals, as she hrit been with railways. . . . But England having once started on a career of canal development, foilowed it up with greater energy and on a more compreipensive scale than any other country, For more than haif a century canals had hal it ali their own way. $\qquad$ . But the railiway system, first put forward as a tentative experimient, and without the silghtest knowiedge on the purt of its promotera of the resuits that were before long to be realised, was making encroachments, and proving its capabilities, This wr : a slow process, as the way had to be felt. The first raiiway Acts did not contemplate the use of locomotives, nor the transport of passenger traffic. The Stockton and Darlington Raiiway, constructed in 1825, was the first on which locomotives were employed [see Steam Locomotion (page 8029)]. Even at this date, there were many who doubted the expediency of having a raiiroad instead of a canal, and in the county of Durham. . there was a flerce fight, carried on for more than twenty yeara. In the United States, the supremacy of waterways was main. tained until a much iater date.

A keen and emhittered struggle was kept up between trades Unions. Sce Socal Move. ments: A. D. 17:0-1800, and after.

TRADE MARKS, Protection of. See Law, Equity: A. D. 1875.
TRAFALGAR, Naval Battle of. See Fuance: A. D. 1805 (Marci-Drcember).
TRAJAN, Roman Emperor, A. D. 98-117.
TRAJANS WALL.-The Emperor Trajan "began a fortifled line, afterwards completed, from the lhine to the Danube. This great work was carried from Ratlsbon to Mayence. It was kuown as Trafan's Wall. It may still be traced to sor'e estent by the marks of a mound and a ditch."- "lurch and Brodribb, Notes to The Ger. many of 'rucitus, ch. 29.
TRAMEL1, The. See Lxcians.
TRANSAL'PINE.-Heyond the Alps, look$\operatorname{lng}$ from the Roman standpoint.
TRANSLEITHANIA. Yee AUstria: A. D. 1860-146at.
TRANSOXANIA. See Bokfata.
TRANSPADANE GAUL.-Cisalpinc Gaul north of the ladins, or Po. See Paders.
TRANSRHENANE.-Beyond the Rhlne,looking from the lRoman standpolat: ; that 1 s , on the "instern and northern side of the ikhlne.
TRANSVAAL REPUBLIC, The. See
Soltio Africa: A. D. 1806-1881.
TRANSYLVANIA: Early history. See Dacia.
The Huns in poasession. See Huns: A. D. 43:3-4:3.
12th Century. - Conques: by Hungary. Settlement of Germans. Sev HU ionar: A. D. 1114-1301.
A.D. 1526-1567.-John Zapolya, the waivod, elected King of Hungary.-His contest with Ferdinand of Austria. - His appeal to the solidation of old roads; secoun, the construction of new ones in a great varicty of conditlons: thind, and most lmportant, the deveiopment of traftic by cheap rates and new methoda. Between 1850 and 1880 rates were reduced on an average to about one half thelr former fig. urea, $\ln$ splte of the advance $\ln$ price of labor and of many articles of eonsumption. A variety of means were made to contribute to this result. The Inventlons of Bessemer nud others, by whlch It became possible to substitute steel rails for lron, made it profitable for the rallrouls to carry larger loads at a reduction in rates. Improvements ln managemeut lncreased the effective use of the rolling atock, while the conswinptle : of fuel and the cost of handling were diminished. By other changes in railroad econony it became possihite to compete for business of every :lnd, with the best canals or with natural water courses. The rairoad rates of to-day are but a small 1 isc. tlon of the canal charges of two generations :go; whlle In volume of huslncss. sreed, and variety of use there is $n n$ inestimahi advance."一A. T. Hadley, Railroad Tranaportation, ch. 1.-"The rallway mlleage In the Unlted States on June 30, 1893. was $176,461.07$ mlles. . . . The total uum. ber [of men] in the service of railways in the Cnited States on June 30, 1893, was 873,612, belng an lncrease of 52,187 over the number employed the prevlous year."- Interstate Com. nerce Commlsslon, Statistics of Railicuya, 1803, pp. 11 and 31.

Turkn. - The Sultan assumes suzerainty of the country. See IIcngary: A. D. $1520-1567$.
A. D. $1567-1660$.-Struggles between the Austrian and the Tark. Sec Hevoary: J. 1587-1604; and 1606-1660).
A. D. 1575. - Stephen Batory, the Duke, elected King of Poland. See Poland : A. 1). 1574-1500.
A. D. 1599-160I. - Wallachian conqueat. See Balkan and Danubian States, 14 -1४ti centuries (Rovmanil, Eec).
A. D. 1606. - Yoke of the Ottomans partly broken. See lluxoary: A. D. 1595-1606.
A. D. 1660-1664.-Recovery of independence from the Turks. See Hevgiliy: A. D. 10601664.
A. D. 1699.-Ceded $t \mathrm{o}$ the House of Austria by the Turks, in the Treaty of Carlowitz. See Huggaily : A. D. 1683-1699.

TRAN:YLVANIA, The K. mucky color: of.-For several years after the settlement of the region of Kentucky began it was known as the "colony of Transylvania," and seemed likely to bear that name permunently. Sce Kentucky: A. D. $1765-1$ 17\%

TRAPPISTS. - The monks of La Trappe are often referred to as Trapplsts. "This celebrated abbey was onc of the most ancient helonging to the Order of Cisteaux [the Cistercians]. It was estaillshed [A. D, 1140] by Rotrou, the second count of Perche, and undertaken to accomplish a vow made whllst in peril of shipwreck." In the 17 th century the monis hal become scandalously degenerate and dissolute. Their instltution was reformed ky M. de Rance, who assumed the dircction as abbot in $160^{\circ} 2$, ant who introduced the severe discipline for which the monastery was afterwards famous.

TRAPPISTS.

Amoog it rules was one of absolute allence. - C. Lancelot, $A$ Tour to Alet and lat lirande Chartreuse, 0. 1, pp. 113-186.
TRASIMENE, Lake, Battle of (B. C. 217). See Pcnic Wars: The Second.
TRASTEVERE.-Trastevere was a suburb of Home "as early us the the of Augustus; it now contalns the allest houses in lome, which belong to the 11th and 12th renturies. "-B. G. Nlebuhr, Iect's on ancient Ethwog. and Geog., D. 2, p. 108.

TRAUSI, The, See Tinacians.
TRAVENDAHL, Treaty of (2700). Scandinavian Statres: A. 1. 1697-1700)
TRAVENSTADT, Battle of (1706). See Bec 1707.

TREASON. See Majestas

TREATIES. -The Treatles of whleh account Is given in thls work are so nunierons that no convenlence would be served by colleeting references to them under thls general beading. They are severully Indexed under the uames by whlch they are hlstorically known.

TREATY PORTS, The. See China: A. D. 1830-1849.

TREBIA, OR TREBBIA, Battle of the. Bee Punic Warb: The Second.....Battle. Bee France: A. D. 1799 (April -Setrtember).

TREBIZOND: Origin of the city.-"Treb. lzond, celcbrated in the retreat of the Ten Thousand as an anclent colony of Grecks, derived its wealth and splendour from the mulith cence of the Emperor lladrian, who liad constructed an artlielal port on a coast left destltute by nature of seeure harbonrs. The elty was large and populous. "-E. Glbbon, Decline and Fill of the Roman Eimpire, ch. 10.
A. D. 258. - Capture by the Goths. See Gotils: A. D. 258-267.
A. D. 1204-1461.-The Greek empire. "The emplre of Trehland was ate creation of accldent. . . . The destructlon of a distant central government, when Coustuntiuople was conquered by the Frank Crusaders, left [the] provinelal administration without the plvot on which It had revolved. The conjuncture was seized by a young man, of whom nothing was known hit that lie bore a great name, and was descended from the worst tyrant ln the Byzantlne annals. Thls youth grasped the vacant soverelgnty, and, mercly by assuming the lmperial title, and phesIng himself at the head of the local administrathon, foumided a new emplre. Hower ehanged its amne and lts dwelling, but the history of the people was harmlly modifled. The grandeur of the empire of Treblzond exists only in romance. Its government owed its permanence to its being nothing more ihan a continuation of a long. estahlished order of elvil polity, and to lts mak. ing no attempt to effect any soclal revolution." The soung man who grasped the soverelgnty of this Aslatlc fragmeut of the shattered Byzantine empire was Alexius, a grandson of And ronicus I., the last emperor at Constantinople of the family of Comnenos. This Alexius and his hrother David, who had been raised in ohscurlty at Constanthople, escaped from the city before it was Luken by the Crusaders, and fled to the coast of Colehis, "where their paternal aunt, Thamar, possessed wealth and influence. Assisted by her power, and by the memory of their tyrannlcal grandfather of Asla Mlu
army of Ith army of Ith thle force nonth of A Akxins entered Treblzond In the ople fell into the hands of the Crusadere. Ile had been proclalmed emperor by lils army on erossing the frontler. To mark that ho was tho leglthate representative of the Iniperial famlly of Komnenos, and to prevent hls belng eorrfounded with the 7rmerous descundants of females, or with the famlly of the emperor Alex. lus 11I. (Angelos), who had arrogated to themselves hls name, he assumed the designation of Grund-Komnenos. Wherever he appeared, he Wus aeknowledged as the lawful soverelgn of the Roman empire." For a time Alexins of Trehlzond, with the help of hls brother Davld, ex. tended his domlulons in Asla Mluor with rapldity and ease, and ho was brought very soon lnto eollislon with the other Greek emperor, Theodore Iascaris, who had estahllshed hingelf at Nlage. It seemed llkely, at irst, that Treblzond would become the dominant power; but the moverrent of events which fuvored that one of the rlval ennpires was presently stayed, and then revereed even though Alexius took ald from the Latln imperor at Constantlnople. Not many years later, In fact, tho emplre of Treblzond evaled exthetlon at the hands of the Turklsh Sultan of lconlum, or lhum, only by paylng tribite and acknowledglng vassalage to that soverelgn. For slxty years the so-called emplre conthued in a trlbutary relatlonshlp to the Selfuk sultans and to the grand khan of the Mongols who overthrew them in 1244 . But, if not a very substantlal emplre during that perlod, it seems to have formed an exceedingly prosperous and wealthy commerclal power, cont rolling not only a consld. erable coast territory on lts own side of the Euxlne, but also Cherson, Gothla, and all the Byzantine possesslons In the Taurie Chersonesos; and "so close was the alllance of luterest that these districts remalued dependent on the government of Trehlzond untll the period of lts fall." On the deeline of the Mongol power, the emplre of Trelizond regalned Its tmlependenee ln 1280 , atoc malntained it for mearly a ceutury, when It was onece more compelled to pay tribute to the later Dlongol conqueror, Timur. At the end of the 14th century the little "emplre" was reduced to a strlp of coast, harely forty milles wlde, extending from Batonn to Kerasunt, and the separated eity of Olualon, whith some territory adjolning it. But, withln this small eompuss, " fcw countries in Europe enjoyed as much Inter. nal tranquility, or so great security for private property." The commerce of Trehlzond hat continued to fionrish. notwlthstundiug frequent quarrels and hostilities with the Genowse, who were the chief managers of lts trade whth the west. But the decay of the empire, politlcally. eommercially, and morally, was rapid in lts later years. First becoming tributary to the Ottoman eouqueror of Constantlnople, it finally shared the fate of the Byzantine capital. The elty of Treblzond was surrendered to Mohammed 1I. In 1461. Its last emperor, Davil. was permitted to llve for a tlme, with his famlly, In the European domlnlons of the Turk; but after a few years, on some susplcion of a plot, he was put to death with his seven anns, and thelr borlles were cast unburied to the dogs. The wlfe and mother of the dead - the fallen empres Helens guarded them and dug a grave for them with her own liande. The Christan population of Troblzond was expelled from tho efty and mostly caslaven. Its place was taken ly a Morlem col-onv.-G. Finlay, Iliat. of the Empire of Trebizond (Ilitury of Greces and of the Empirs of Trebizond).

TREBIZOND.

THICASSES

TREBONIAN LAW, The. See Rome: B. C. $57-51$.

TREK, The Great. See South Africa: A. I). INOW-1881. $^{1}$

TREMECEN, The Kingdom of. See Barbahrstatha. A. D. 1516-1;30.
TREMONT, The Name. Sce Mansacinv. aETT: A. I). 1630 .
TRENT, The Councll of. See Papacy: A. 1). $1537-1503$.

TRENT AFFAIR, The. See United Staten or Am.: A. I). 1861 (November).
TRENTON: A. D. 1776.-The surprise of the Henslans. Hee United States of Ay.: A. 1). 1776-1:77 Washingtox'b retreat.

TREVES: Origin. - Trèves was origlnally the chief town of the Treviri, from whom it derived its anme. When the Romans established a colony there they called it Augusta Treviromm. In time. the Augusta was dropped and Trevirorum bri, nue Trives, or Trier. See Trevim.

Under the Romanis. - "The town of the Treverl, named Augusta probally from the first emperor, soon galued tho first place ia the Belgic previace; if, still, in the time of Tiberius, Durocertorum of the Reml (Rhelms) Is naased the most populous place of the provis ee and the seat of the governors, an nuthor from the time of Claulins already nsslgas the primary there to the chlef place of the Treverl. But Treves became the capital of Ganl - we may even say of the West - only through the remonelling of the Imperial miministration under Diocletlan. After Gaul, Brltidn and Spaln were placed under oae supreme administrathon, the latter had lis seat. in Treves; and theuc forth Treves was also, when the emperors stiaged in Gaul, their regular resldence, andi, as a Greek of the fifth century asys, the greatest ri' bry od the Alps."-T'. Momusea, 1 Iist. ni. 3.
A. D. $306-\mathrm{I}$ : : nelei at. Sec Friske: 1.1). 3.
A. D. 364-37C
the Western Em
A. D. 402.-A:

Valentinian and fecture. See Bnin
$\therefore:$ i. D. 363-3i0. the $R$ :onan pre-
A. D. In25-Ir52.-Origin of the lectorate. See Germany: A. D. 1125-1152.
A. D. 1675 - -Taken from the French by the Imperialists. See Netherlands (llolland): A. D) 16it-1678.
A. D. 1689.-Threatened destruction by the French. See France: A. D. 1689-1690.
A. D. 1697 - Restored to the Empire. See France: A. D. 169 \%.
A. D. 1704, -Taken by Mariborough. Sec Germany: A. D. 1704.
A. D. 1801-1803.-Extinction of the Electorate. Sec Germany: A. 1). 1801-1803.

TREVILLIAN'S STATION, Battle of. Sce United States of AM.: A. D. 1864 (MayJunf: Virginia) Campalunicu in the Shen. andoat.

TREVIRI, The.-The Treviri were one of the peoples of Gaul, in Cexsar's tlme, "whow terrions lay on the left bank of the Rhlue and on hrith sides of the M, sella (Mosel). Trier [anclent Treves] on tro Mosel was the head-quarters of the Treviri."- G . Long, Deeline of the llmman Republic, o. 4, ch. 8.

TREVISAN MARCHES, Tyranay of Eccelino dl Romano in the. See Verona: A. D. 1236-1250.
TRIAD SOCIETY, OR WATER-LILY SECT, The. - The most exteasive of the many secret societles amoug the Chlacse is "the Tlen. tl hwui, or San hoh hwul, I. e. the Triad Soclety. It was formerly known hy the the of the I'h1-llen klau, or Water-lily Sect, hut havlng been proscrilied hy the government, it sought hy this nlteration of name, and some other sllght changes, to evale the operation of the laws. In fact, it stlil subsists in soine of tho remoter provinces under lts old name aad organizatlon. The known and inleed almost openly nvowed ohject of thls society has been, for mauy years, the overturn of the Sinnt-chou dynasty." Chinese Rebellion (Aiorth Am. Rer., July, 1854).
Almo in: Ahbé IIuc, Chriatianity in China, de., r. 2, pp. 274-277.- II. A. Glles, Historic China, pp. 30,-390.
trial by combat. See Wager of Battle.
TRIANON TARIFF, The. See Fharce: A. 1) ${ }_{1 \times 16} 1810$.

TRIARII, See leuion, Roman.
TRIBE.- TRIBUS. Sec IRove, Ter Beoinvina.
TRIBES, Greek. Sec Purle.
TRIBOCES, The. -1 people who, in Cessar's time, werc establlshed on both haaks of the Ihine, occupying the central part of tbe inchlern Grand Duchy of Baden and the opposite regloa of Gaul. - Napolcon Ill., Mist. of Cusar, bk. 3. ch. 2. foot-note. - See, also, Vangiones.

TRIBON, The,-A garmeat of thlek cloth nud small size worn hy Spartan youths, and sometimes by old men.-C. C. Felton, Grece, Ancient and Modern, course 2 , lect. 7 .
TRIBUNAL, The Revolutioaary. Fravee: A. 1), 1793 (Februaliy-Apmil).

TRIBUNES, Consular, or Military. Conselam Tmibues.

TRIBUNES OF THE PLEBS. See IRome: 13. C. 404-492.
TRIBUNITIA, Potestas. See Potestas Tnibinitia.

TRIBUTUM, The.-The tributum, a wartiax, collected from the IRomaa people la the carlicr periods of the Republic, was "looked upon as a loas, and was returned on the termlaatloa of a successfur war out of the captured booty. . . The priaciple thnt Rome was justlIled in living at the expense of her subjects was formally ackaowledged when, In the year 167 13. C. the tributum - the only dlrect tax which the lioman citizens paid-was alolished, because the government could dlspease with it after the conquest of Macedoaia. The entire burdea aad expense of tbe administration wre now put off upon the subjects." $-W$. Ihnc, Mist. of Rome. bk. 6. ch. 7 ( 0.4 ).
TRICAMARON, Battle of (A. D. 533). Sce Vandala: A. D. 533 -5.54.
TRICASSES.-The earlicr aame of the city of Troyes, Frauce.

TRIPOLI

TRICHINOPOLY: Slege and rellef (ays8) Bee Inma: A. D. 1743-1\%32
TRICOTEUSES. Hee Franek; A. D. 1798 (Ortimen)
TRIDENTINE COUNCIL.-The Councl1 of Trent (nee Papart: A. D. 1537-1.001); from the liat in name of the town.
TRIENNIAL ACTS. See I'Am,AMKNT, Tue ENolsuit: A. D. if4i-1064, and lowis. TRIERARCHY. Nee LITURHE*:
TRINACRIA.-The ancient Greek name of the iwinnd of Nicily.
TRINCOMALEE, Battie of (1767).

TRINIDAD.-The islaml of Trinidul, witich iies clove to the Annth American contine int, off the delin of the Orinow, wis disenveraid by collunbus or his thind voynge ( 1498 ); hut thes ©miaria made little use of it, exerept for whve humting. Late fin the 1 dib rentury a French settleneut was extahlishedi in the islanij, thougin mader the govermment of Spmin. iu livi it was tiken by the Liniteri with the neighboring ishani of Tohargo, it is one of the crown enionies of the IJritish Enpipire. Tike area of Tribitiad is 1 i: It mpare miles. It to one of the anost fertile of tho liest Indies istanis. its sule mineral wealth is in the extraorlinary lake of half solld jiteld or asphatt, of Whitha grapite description may be found in tbe elghth cinapter of Charles Kingsley's account of his wisit to Trinidai, iu I*4日, cintitlei "At Last."

TRINITY HOUSE, - $\because$ Perhaps there is throughout Britaln no more interasture cexmpio of the innate power and varied developments of tine old gild prinelple. certainly no nore iflustrinus survivai of it themicrn times, than the Trinity Ifouse. It stamis out now as an lintithtlon of hirg nationnl himportanes, wbose hivery is edotwed with the early prugress of the 13ritfoh mave and the welfare num ineronse of our sea craft mid seaminship; in an agre when the tendeney is to nssime state controf uver ali matters of nationai interest the Trinity Ifouse, : 1 voinntary corporation, stial tultils the pultio functions to which its fathfui latours, throurgh a iomg course of yenrs, have estabisisind its right :und title. Although ita carliest recordis appear to bo iost r burned. there sermis to be no dount that Homry Vibis dharter of 1.514 was granted to a hrotherheseni already exixting.

In the chartor its. If we read ihnt the shipmen or marimers of England ' may anew eroct' a gild, and iauds and temements in Deptfori Strond, alrendy in possession, are referred to. Similar boxifes were formadin other piaes. . . . The citaritable sido of the Trinity Ilousi functions has always been considerahle $\dot{\text { in }} 1 \times 1.5$ ther possegsed no fexs than 144 almshousirs. besiles giving 7.01* pellaions; but of late yerars their funds applicalbe to such purpuses have hen curtailed. . . It is signilficant that $\ln$ Edward VI's reign the name and styie of Gild was abandoned by the hretletin for the title of the Corporation of the Trinis: IIouse of D(ptforl strond.' Gildis now hail come into dlsrepute. The functions of the Trinity ilouse have iong been recomizail of surfh rabe to the publie service that their hon. ourable origiu, so consonant with outher Engllsh institutions, is upt to be forgetien. cherish the 'science and art of mariners,' and to provide a supply of pilots, especinily for the Thames up to Londion, whe their prims tinies.

The Admiralty and Navy boarda were emtablisined as alminatrative buxtios in 1590, and the ahlp-building yani at Deptorid, with the sore. homent there, was pinced umler tire direct eon. trol of the gid.' The Sen Jiarks Aet of 15016 , which throwa consiferainie jigit on the position of the company at that time, enderel them with the power of preserving oid and setting up new Mr: marks or lemcons round the cemsts, among which trees ennue under thifir jurview. flow far their jurisulictlon extenied is not atnted ; it wonld be Intereating to know whetier their progress round the wiuhe shores of Britain were grudual or not. It is, perinaps, for its work In rmmexion with light-houser, light-shipm, huoys and beneons, that the Trluity llouse is best known to tire generai public: . . . It was only ration to purcinse of the crown, or from privato propricturs, aif ligits tien in existence, whiei are therefore at present under their efleient centrai control.

The principai matters in their aphere of action - the important provision of pilnts, the encouragenent and supply of seamen. haliastuge nod baliast, lights anti buoya. the suppression of piracy and privateers, fomange mensurment, the victuailing of the navy, their intinate conuexion with the gralund growth nad "mmanent of the na'y, the curinus rigit to appuint certain eonsuis abroad-all these receive illastration at first hanif from the nuthor's eareful resenrehes among atate, papers rud the munime, of the corjoration. -lauey T. Snith, heriets of "The Trinity lloune it leptford st weml": hy (f R. B. Barrett (Eng.ash Mistorial leeo., April, 1 Nat).
TRINOBANTES, The.-The Trinobantes were the Hirt of the tribes of Britain to submi: th Casar. Tbey fuhabited the purt of the commrry now emhraced in the county of Essex and purt uf Mididesex. Their chief iown, or strong. hoid (" "ppifum ") was Camuloiunun, where the Remana ufterwards founderi a colony which be. rane the mulirn eity of Culclester. Cuuohelin. the Cymbeline of Shakespeare, was a king of the Triuhhutes wion aepuired extensive power. One of the sons of Cunobeifin, Caractacus, became the most obstinate enemy of the IJomana When they suriously begau the conguest of Britain, in titc reign of Claudius.- E . L. Cutts, Culehrater. ch. 2-3.
Also in: C. Mlerivaie, llist of the limans, ch. 51. - Nec. niso, IBrtans (eltir Trines.

TRIOBOLON. -Three wholi, - the dnliy comprensation paid in Athens to citizens who serveri as jublges in the great jopniar courts; afterwards pahl. likewise, to those who attended the assembles of the peopie.-A. Boeckh, I'ublic Ecomumy of dthenk, bk. 2, eh. 15.
TRIPLE ALLIANCE, The. - There have been a number of Triple Allianers formed in Eurujemn history; sec. for example, Nermerhavds (iioliand): A. D. 1668 , ami Spats: A. D. 1713-1 i2:5; but the one in reeent times to wbieli nll. wion is often made is that in whieh Germany. Anstrin-inugary, and Ituly, are the three partirs It was formed lyy treaty in February. 18*? and renewed in 1887. Its purpose is mutual defense. especiaily, no doubt, againat the appreleuded combination of Russia with France.

TRIPOLI, North Africa: Origin of the name of. See Leitis Malina.

TRIPOLI.
TRONA.
History. See Barbary Statma.
TRIPOLI, Syria: Capture by the Crusadera. - Dentruct ion of the Elbrary. - Formation of the Latin county, Sec Cribancw: A. D. I10t-IIII; and Jrintmalem: A. D. 1000I14.

TRIPONTIUM, A town In lRorann Rritain, where one of the great poaid crowsed tho Avon, near moiern Lilburue.-T. Wright, Cell, Roman and Nison, ch. 5 .
TRISAGION, The. See Constaxtinome: A. i) $511-513$.

TRI-SKELION.-GAMMADION,-PYL-FOT-CROSS. - SVASTIKA. -"()ne of tho most remurknhic instances of the migrution of a symboi is that uftordedi by the ' tri-skellon, 'or, as we more fambliarly know it, 'the three legs of Dian.' It tirst apperars on the eolus of L.ychi, clrar B. (C. 481) ; anit then on thoso of Sleily, where it was aloptedi by igathoctes, B. ©. $317-307$, hut unt as a symboi of the nooruing, midiay, and afternom sun. lut of the lund of Trimacra, 1. e., "Tiree Cur+s,' the anclent מame of Sleftr; and thally oli the colns of the fale of Mun, on whied It serems to refer ratier to tha position of that fstami beto seen Enghand, Ecollami, and Irelami, than to its tringiniar shaph. The tri-stelion of Lycis is muic up of thre"e corks inemis. . . . But on the colns of Slicily mat of the isie of Man the tri-skellon comsists of three haman iegs of an lifeaticai pattern, excepting tint thomo of the intter isimni are sparred. This form of tri whecion is borne on the arms of severul ohi Engibla fomilies, and it was In all prolabiliey first tutrexhuered into this country [Englani] by sonue C'rusmher returning from the Eist by way of Sicily.

The triskeflon is but a motitieation of the 'gammation' or 'fyifotcress." the 'svastlku' of the Ilimins. The intter was lung ago sumpected by biwari Thomas to be a sua symbeif; but this was uot postively proveci untii Mr. Percy Gardiner fouml a coln of the' unchent city of Mesembria in Thraras stampri whin a ganmailon bearing withln its opth cenate an inage of the sun - Ilesembria meaniag the vity of "Mhedity, and this name belug figured on some of its colns hy "he decisive legram ME: Hed firther afled than any other s. iof unatyity. . . Connt liohlet di'llvi races It arek it last to the Tromias the cruile . as birtin, - onn time anterior to the 13th century 13. C."The Athemenn, Aug. 13. 180? (heviering Comte Govlet didnrielti's "Fat Miqrition des symboles)." TRITTYES. See Puit.s.
TRIUMPH AND OVATION, The Roman. -"The highest rewari of the commamior was the triumphai entrance. It first it was awiarii.di by s-hate and peopie to reat merit in the tiehi. abd its arramgement was simple and dignificel; but sorn it lweime uo opportumity of disphitying the results of insatiabie IRomun rupacity aud inve of contuest. On! y the dictators, consuls, pretors, andi, in late republican times, oreasionally leisates, wire permitted by the senate to enter ibure in trumpla, the permission to the legate ixilut grantedi oniy in case he had commauiced indeperdentiy ('suis nuspiciis'), nnd conlucted the army to Rome from a victorious campalgn 'in silit jrovincia.' As in inte: times it was lmpassible in conduet the fhole army from distant provinces to Rome, the last-mentinned condition was dispensed with, the claim of the commander to a trumph being acknowl. edged in case in one af tho bnttlew gained by him 6,000 ronemle had been killed. The wenato grantell the expensen necemary for tio procremion after the questor urbanis land examined and confimed tho commander's clalm. Streetm nad mpares through which tho procenalou hal to ¡иин were Pestively adorned. Tho teniples wiro opened, and Incense hurnt on the siturs. In. jrovisayi stande were erieted in the strcet, filiul with festive crowds minuting 'Io trinmphe!' 'The crimtainder, in the menntime, collected his tronps pear the temples of Bellona and I ipilo, outslete the f. as of iloune. . . Tiee viren: wan met at the 'port: triumplanils' liy the senate, tho elty nagin:rutes, and numerous eitzens, who took the lund of the procession, white licturs ogrenel a wiy through tho crowd. After tho clty difgiluren foilowed thbicines, after them tive looty. $\qquad$ Fettered kings, princen, and nobles forlowni, dornmed to detention in tho Mamertine friwn. Next camo surrificiai oxen with git lurnw, uccompaniedi ly priests; nnd, flualiy, precerimi by singura, muldelins, and jesters, the triumphul ciariot drawn by four inorses. Clam in a toga pleta and the tumpa palmuta, temporarily taken from the statue of the Capitoilne Juplter, the trinuphator stomi in his chariot holidins tio eaglecrowned ivory nceptre in lifs hami, while a scrvis publicus standing behlui him ineli the coroma triumplatis over his luani. The army loronglit uj) the rear of the processim, whileli moved from the Cumpus Mar. tins throngis the eircus of Fiaminits to the Porta ('armentalis, und thence, by way of the VelaIrmu and the Circus Maximus, the Via Sacra and the Furum, to the Cupitol. Ihere the triumphutor dequsited his goiden crown in the iap of the ("uhtollue Jupiter. and sacrifieml the икині sucsvetanrilia. $\qquad$ Tiso ovato was granted for less importunt conquests, or to n gluerai for vicfurles not won 'suis anspletis." Tho victor, adorned with the toga prietexta and the niyrtie crown, origlatily uned to wilk; in fater times he rode on horselmack. "-F. Gulil uni W. Koner, I.ife of the Greckn and Komuns, wet. 109.-sue, uiso, Via Sacra.

TRIUMVIRATE, The First. Sce Rome: I3. C. 63-58..... The Second. Se IRome: B. C. 44-42.

TROIS ÉVECHÉS, Les, and their ncquiuition by France. See Fuasce: A. D. 1547-1559, aud $16 \% 9-1681$; and Grinuiny: A. i). 1649.

TROISVILLE, Battie of. See France: A. I). 1794 (MAR(H-IUf.Y).

TROJA. - TROY.-TROAD.-ILIUM. "In the whole long extent of this Western coast [of Asia Miuor] no region uccupies a falrer situ. ation than the northern projection, the peninsuia jutilis out between Archipeingo, Heliespont, mui l'rupontis, of whici the mountain-range of Idit, abounding in springs, forms the centre. Its wonily helglits were the seaz of the Phrygian Mother of the Gois; in its deptis it concealed treasures of are, which the diemons of mining, e Ihetrif of Ida, were here first sadd to have en taligit by Cybele to wiu and empioy. A inariy race of men dweit on the inountains so rich in iron, divided into several tribs, the Cebrenes, the ergithians, and above all the beauteous Dard: $\mathfrak{j}$, among whom the story went, how their ancestor, Dardanus, had, under the protectlon of :ut Prlaginu Zuns, founderl the elty of Dariknha sumbe of thewe burdanl dewerontend from the highlanda lutu the tracts by the eonat.

THONA.

TIUNA.

 artlyed frum (rete und litroduevel the wombtp of Apollo. In the mecure waters latwren Tremedios matl tior thalninul toxik place that contact ronisse sulnesthig bet wern the comste of the ArehlMhyy. III the sulist of this hateremine on the comst arows, out of the trits of the Dardanl, Whlifh hand desereroll the hiliu, the branch of the Trijans. . . Thus, th the minat of the full llfe int the mations of Avia Mluer, on the mill of a penla. suhaltacif related to wither sille) (in wildil Mhry. fin 19 and Didasghats, Issyrlums, Ihernlelans, and flelonte murluers nief, grows up the empire of the Dirrianides. The springs of the lifa range colle thto rlvers, of wheh two flow to the Irm.
 The litter first thows througit hif led high to the momutahs, through which he then breike in a narrow rucky gorge, nail gultalus the latter enters the hat phalin of his water shod, surrounded on three wide hy gentie declivaties, mul opret on the West to the wern

Its the limermast corner of this plalu progacets a rokey helght with preclptomes nldes, usif It wimbla bir the pusange of the river bronking forth from the ravine. Skirect It at whd curve by fomm: ire on the East, It numarous velos of water whlue. from the enoth; there inite luto two rivilety, diatinguinded by the abunduner and tomperiture of thelr watere, Wheh remuln the same at $n^{\prime \prime}$ sumpurs of the watr. This pair of rivalets is the manutahie mark of mature, ly which the hoight towerrlue almese is recognized os the ectamei of thlum. "Thery are the sme rivaletes 10 which of ohi the Trojan women dearemided from the sicason gat to feteh water or to wash llaen, und to thin diye tise same unchent walls close around the thwinis witcer and render to more enstiy avallahice. The source of these rlvulets was the seat of piwer. On the gentier declivity lay Trojn; over whith toweroll the stesp cltadel of Pergaimus, the whew from whose turrets rommanded "he entire phan, nnil beyonit the platia the brond seat frelf
No royal seat of the anchont world comali boust a grander site than thls Trujan chacel."E. C'urtius, Dint. of eirecere bk. 1, ch. 3-The sith contrminlated by br. curtins In the descriptian quoted alkive is sime tive miles hagher up the valley of the scamander than IItsarllk, where Dr. Schliemam's excovntions are Ixtlicyed by many scholars to have now established the lowit tion of ancient Triy:-11. Schllemann, Ilimat the City and Comatry of the Trujnem:-"Dr. swhllo. mann alescrilsed in 'his 'Troja' atal 'Ilios' se wout successhe hayrry of eity ruins found in hls ax. cavations at llissarlik This ambere was increased in 1990 to nine by the dlscovery of two layen interveniug tetwoen the hishosi (or lio$\operatorname{man})$ lnyer, formery cailed the seventh, und tho sixth, or so-eniled lyetimen tayer. These two tayers were, from the charicter if the fluds, uterihuted to the carly mad the fater Greek perloth. Dr. Schllemann was butt? d hy the fact that he could discover no acropoins for the sixth, seventh. or elghth layers. Dr. Dirpfilh, who in May [1803] resumel the exeavationat the expenen of Ir. Nehithemanin's whilow, maken In the Siltiedl ungen of the (Bervim Arehnological Nablety (xvilh, 9), whilel, appeanel) November 7, a alynitif. cant requirt clearly eatabilailug the fart that the Romans, hin bulding the great temple of Ilinn Athenp, cut down the higherst part of the acrin rifs, nall thum eseatruged all tricea of the acrop. ofly lowiongling to thi lavera. The exenvateling of trou hat hrough. SO lleht two magnificent building th the sixth layer, hesklea 'lyydiun' jurs, mach pottery, and one entire vase of the favored the hentification of tils haver whth the Ihomerle Truy or the periol of Nykena and Piry'us. On the other hand, the fuct that only two buihthers nul no clty wall had then dlacove. ered for thks layer mermed to lintionte that the Troy of I'rlant talist be referred to a lower levet, numely, the sereond, where a magaliterent wall of prodistorle atyle had been diselveroth, mathough fis architeretire and the character of thes thents suggestel n more printilve cultare than :!nt palated lit Ifomerleswing The Axth lay er hag and revenh the mont imporing wall of pre- lomana thmes, Thic remmehs of acever vast bullilings have lucen hrought to light whlel inve in part the gromid pinn of the anclent Groek temples and of the halle of Tiryas und Mykeme, though surpussing thowe In pripurtions aiul In the carefulnews of thelr urchliceture. The remalam of the fortillesthons of this eity lin mamy phares, what fomm them sume alxtern tert lathekness wh a stllt greater holght. On the oufsulde the wall has a unlfurm Nofip. I st romg-tower fifty dight fret in dhmeter rontahis un tuner starionse. In strength, fropurthoms, mud atrefit urehlecture this tower witi cmmpare favorably whth any thwer of Greek antlequity. Thin nint work of the corners and the blior itressing of the stomes might refire to to a pertind liter than Homerr, th the historlend Greek perlenl, flld we not how that in hisforlcal thmes Troy wus fix) insignitlems (0) nevet the creethon of such wails. Moreower. the tower. bulit over in Greek tlmes, nat partly dmanged by the addition of all outer stalr, was thally in fomm times burled under masswive foundations. The corresponhences in stome-work of the wall nat the houses place the tower and the buithings evillently in the same layer. In the hunsess were finmil hoth tival puttury and also pottery of the MVkiurnan styie." - The Sistion, Vior. 30, 1493-" The hutest news from the expiorations at IIlssarlik (Levant Herald Auly i) comes 0 in from the owner of the site. Mr. Frank Calvirt, Culted States consul, Dardimelles. It was readily seen that the secoud, or burnod city which Dr. schtlemann enthaslastically assamed to lee the clty of Prinnt, tastemi of si?ving 'lue queston of the 'Ithat,' offerat new ir $\quad$ it to the are hatologlst. The precions abjec. . tite works of urt there found wire cultentiy rader and more umblent by some ceraturies than those of Myceme, nol therefore dicidedly earller than Ilomeric Troy. In the slxth clty, however, Mottery of a Mycenæan type was discovered, and thts ted trr. IWrptield, assisted by Mrs. Schilemann, and tater by the German Gov ernment. to extend excuvations on thils level. with reaults that are iwiy proving fruitful, and that mas jomathly be conclualve. Curfously eanugh, Dr. Scblemann's excavathons olsecured rather than alled thls partleutar liveatlgatic. The sris of the sixth clty was twlee an great 5 ; the apmee coveral by the suecumive acropolines uf the other tro; and, in commquence, their delirls was dumpeit on tho very got which Ir. IMrptiefl has just been cleariug. The mansive faila he han uncovered, from five to six metrea brima, the lofty to werm, and the street whleh fins bees tracel. niay provislonaily be amonned to belong to the Homeric Troy. "-The Nithion. Au. grat 0, 1804.

Ab, in: C. Sehuchardt, Shliemannio kiemom. tion - See, hion, Asia Minon: The Grees Cotonsifs: and Ifomert

TROPAION.-The trophy erected by a vic. torious anmy, among the freckn, on the spot from which the cnemy hal ineen ifiven. the trophy was constructed in some manner out of the linity taken.-E. Buhl and IV. Kuner, Rifo of the frreda and Himuns, sect. SI

TROPPAU, Coagress of. See Verona, Conibhrme of.
TROUBADOURS.-TROUVERES. -JOGLARS. - JONGLEURS.-. The poet of the swith of Franee luring the Midite Age callen themselves 'Trobudors,' that is to say 'Inventers' or 'finders'; and thang adapted the 'inague d'ic,' aiso calfed the lomanah of the Sonth. or the Provencal, to the expression of poeticai sentiments. It is probabic that joets of this deseription existed as cariy as the formation of the lllom in which they wrote. At any rate, We know that towari the year 10w they already eajoyed considerable ilstiaction, athough thero is scarcaly anything now left us from the earllest perlind of their existence.

In regaril to the tme wlthin whieh the poetry of the Troubadours way In vogue, M. Fuuriel assumes only two primis. But it may perhaps be more convenlently ifivided luto three, as follows: The first comme res with its origin, as a popitiar pretry. mind extentis to the the when it became an art und a profession, the poetry of the nobies anil the courts, that is to sary, from about 1000 to 1141. The sucond is the perlot of its cuimina. tion. whlh extemts from the year 1140 to 1250. The thlrd ts the perlod of is decalence, from 12.0) to I3al."-G. J. Adter, Intrond. to Fiburiel's " Hintory of Provengril fteetry. "-" Jutficlent has heren satid. . to show tho superfority of lyr. acal over eple poetry lu Provence. This inequal. ity of the two branches impiled a commensurate differebce of proise and soclal estecm awardel to those who exce.lled in elther of them, and it ls perhaps from thls polnt of view that the two great illvislons of pocts in the 'fangue doc, "resporetively descrlbet us 'joghars' and ' trobadors,' or, in the French und generally adopted form of th:e worl. ' troubalonrs, may be most distinctiy recognlwid. $\because$ it scems sufficientiy estahished that the verb' 'trobur' and its derivative noun tirst and firemost apply to lyricai poetry. To speak therefore of the Troubaioitr as the singer of sonige, of cansos and sirventeses and aihas aud retrocnsas is a correct and toierahiy comprehen. sive octinltion. "-F. Il ueffer, The Troubadours ch. 6.-"In the tweifth century, the RomanceWullon [or the 'iangue d'oll' of northern France] becane in literary language, suhsequent, by at least it hundred years, to the Romance.provencal.

T!e reciters of tales, and the poetn, giving the name of Tmulimfout a French cermination, calient themaplves Trourdres. With the exeep tion of the difierence of language, it may bo thought that the Trumbulour and the Trouvert, whowe merit was pretty niearly equal; who were equally lgnorant or welf-informed: who both of them speat their livel at eovits, at which they compowed their jwems, and here they mingled whth knlghta suid indlem: and who were both aceompanied by their jongletrem and minatreis, should have preservel the mane resemblanee in their proiluctions. Nithing. Lowever. can bo more illasimline than their poems. All that re. mains of the poetry of the Troulmaloum le of a iyp. lisal cinaracter, whife that of the Trouverea la deeld. ediy uple.

The Trouvires have left ina many rimanife of chivalry, aml fullawx. "-J. C. I. J. de Nlanonili, Literntire of the *nuth e Elurope, eh. 7 (e. 1), -" We know nothing of e rien or urlgita of the two clasmes of Trouven and Jongleurs. The formar (which it is nee ', es 10 ssy le the same word ns Troubadour, s' irolnalor, nal Trovatore) is the term for $t_{1}$ composing cinss, the fatter for the jerforming one. But the separation was not sharp or aboniute." -G . Snillthury, short Ifiat, of freneh Literuture, bs. 1. eh. 1 .

TROY. See Trosa.
TROYES, Treaty of ( 1420 ), See Fraxce: A : 1417-1423.... Treaty of (854). See

TRUCE, The Five Years. See Five Yrame Tht'ck: TRUCE, The Secred. See Olympic Gamea. TRUCE, The Thirty Years. See Gurere: 13. C. 40 -it.

TRUCE OF GOD, The.-" Thls extraordl. nary Institutlen is the mist speaking witness, at onee to the frocity of the times [1Ith century]. and aiso to the deep counter fecting which umler. iny men's minila. Ctergy and laity ailke feit that the stato of things whleh they saw dally before thelr eyes was stunding in against Goi and man, repugnant allke to nutural lumanlty and to the precepts of the Christlan religion Statea were everywhere so subdiviled, governments Were every where so weak, that. in most parts ne Europe, everg mun who if the needfin fo at hls command simply dlu ... t which was ri In hls own cyes. .. Every man claimed right of private war agninst ever" other mo who was not bound to hitu by mon a sperini te as his ford or hils vassal. Andil!e divtinrition be. tween private war and mere robbe:, ind inurder was not riways very sharply $d-1$ oon. movemeut on beha' pesce and oc aill A waris men coulit i. 'U' In those da. s o assume an eecleslasilcai to As of oid the Amphit. tyonlc Couall, the great rellgioue synod of Greece, strove to put some bounds to the hor. rors of war us waged between Greek and Greek, so now, in the same spirit, a series of Chiristian synols strove, hy means of ecciesiastical decrees und ccelesiastlcal censures, to put some bunds to the horrors of war as waged between Chrlstlan and Christian.

Ths movement begun in Aquitaine [A. D. 1084], and the vague and rhetorical lagguage of our authority would seem to imply that all war, at any rate ail private war, was forbidden uoder paln of ecciesinstical censures. It must not be forgotten that, in that age, It must have been exceedingiy dificult to draw the distinction between public and private

TUNIS.

War. . . . But the doctrine, hand as it might be to carry out in practice, was rapturously recelved at lit first announcement. As the ifst preaching of the Crusade was met with one unlverial cry of 'God wllls lt,' so the Blahops, Ah bota, and other preachers of the Truce were met wlth a llke unlveraal cry of Peace. Peace, Peace. Men bound themselves to God and to one another to abstain from all wrong and vioience, and they engaged solemnly to renew the ohliga. thon every five years. From Aquitalne the movement spread through Burgundy Royal and Ducal. But it seems to have been grsdually found that the estahlishment of perfect peace on earth was hopeless. After seven years from the first preachlng of peace, wo find the requlrements of lis apostles greatly relaxed. It was found valn to forbid all war, even all private war. All that was now attempted was to forhld violence of every klad from the erenlng of Wednesday tlll the mornling of Monday. It was in this shape that the Truce was first preached $\ln$ northern and eastern Gaul. The days of Christ's supper, of His passion, of His rest ln the grave and His resurrection, were all to be kepi free from strife and hloodsied."-E. A. Freeman, Norman Conquest, ch. 8, sect. 2 (v. 2).

Aleo In: P. Schaff, Hist. of the Christian Church, v. 4, ch. 6, set. 78.
TRUCELESSWAR, The. See CARTHAOE: B. C. 241-238.

TrUELLAS, Battle of. See France: A. D. 1793 (July-December). - Prochess of War.

TRYON, Governor, The light of. See New YokK: A. D. 1775 (APRIL-SEPTEMBER), and United states of Ax: A. D. 1776 (Avoust).

TSHEKHS, The. See Bohemia: Its peoPLE. SOC.

TSIAM NATION, The, See Tonmin.
TSING, OR CH'ING, Dynasty, The. See China: A. D. 1294-1882.
TUARIKS, The. See Libyans.
TUATH.-"Among the people of Gaelic race [in Ireland and Scotland] the origiral soclai unit appears to have been the 'Tuath,' a name origlnaily applied to the tribe, hut which came to signify also the territory occupled hy the tribe community. . . . Several of these Tuaths wcre grouped together to form a still larger tribe, termed a Mortuath or great tribe, over whom one of the kings preslled as R1 Mortuath. Then several of these Mortuath formed a prov. ince, calied in Irish 'Cuicldh.' or a fifth. Over each province was the IR Culcldh, or provinciai king, and then over the whole was the Ardri, or soverelgn of all Ireland. The succession to these several grades of kl , or king, ${ }^{\text {wes }}$ the same as that of the Ri Tuath, and was regulated hy the law of Tanistry, that is, herenitary In the family but elective in the indlviluai, the senior of the family being usually preferred." W. F. Skene, Celtic Srotland, v. 3, pp. 130-150.

TUATHA-DE-DANAAN.-One of the races named ln Irish legend as origlinal settiers of Ireland, represented to havc come from Greece and to have been extraorllnarily proficient ln the arts of magic. They were conquered, after two centuries, as the iegend runs, by the Mifesians, or Scots. - T. Wright, IIist. of Ireland, bk. 1, eh. 2 (v. 1).-See Ireland: The Priyitive InhabtTANTS.
TUBANTES, The, See Franife: Ohioln and earliest ititory.

TUDELA, Battle of. See Srann : A. D. 1808 (SEPTEMARR-DECEMBER).

TUDORS, The. See Enalixd : A. D. 1485 1603.

TUFTS COLLEGE. See Edocation, ModERN: AMERICA: A. D. 1769-1884.
TUGENDBUND The. See Germaxy: A. D. 1808 (APrIL-December).

TUILERIES, The.-The palace of the Tuireries ls sald to have taken lis name from the tllemaklig which had been carried on formerly in the vleinity of the ground on whleh lt was hullt. "The history of it begins in the year 1564, when CatL srine de Medlcis concelved the ldea of harlng a palace to herself near the Louvre, yet lndependent, In which she might be near enough to her son Charles IX. to have influcuce over hlm.

The palace was never very long or very closely connected with the history of the monarchy. It ls not at all comparable to Windsor ln that respect. Heary IV. liked It, Louis XIV. preferred Versallics, Louls XV. Ilved at the Tuileries in his minority. The chosen assoclation of the palace with the soverelgns of France is very recent. Louls XVI. llved $\ln \mathrm{lt}$, and so dld Charles X. and Louls-Phllppe. The two Napoleons were fond of $\mathrm{lt} . ~ . ~ . ~ . ~ T h e ~ l a s t ~ i n h a h l . ~$ tant was the Empress Eugénie, as Regent.
The parliamentary history of the Tulieries 1 is im portant, as it has becn not only a palace hut a parliament house. $\qquad$ The destruction of the Tuileries hy the Communards [1871] was a lamentahle event from the polnt of vlew of the historian and the archaeologist, hut artlsticaliy the loss is not great."-P. G. Hamerton, Paris in Old and Present Times, eh. 5.
Also in: Hist. of Paris (London: 1827), v. 2 ch. 2.
A. D. 1792.- Mobbing of the King. - The attack of Auguat 10.-Massacre of the Swlas. See France: A. D. 1792 (June-Auoust).
TULANE UNIVERSITY. See EDUCA tion, Modern: America: A. D. 1845-1847.
TULCHAN BISHOPS. See SCOTLAND: A. D. 1572

TULLAHOMA CAMPAIGN, The, See United States of Am.: A. D. 1863 (JuneJuly: Tennessee).
tullianum, The. See Manertine Prison.
TUMULT of amboise. See France: A. D. 1550-1561.

TUMULUS.-A mound; usually a grave mound, or barrow.
TUN.-TUNSCIPE. See Town; Town. BeIP: and Borotor.
TUNIC, The Roman.-" The tunlca was put on $\ln$ the same way as the Greek chiton. Its cut was the same for men and women, and lts simpie original type was never essentlally modified by the addlitions of later fashion. It was light and comfortable, and was worn especialiy at home; out of doors the toga was arranged over it. "-E. Guhl and W. Koncr, Lifo of the Greeks and Ro. mans, sect. 95.

TUNIS, Aacient. See Carthaog, Tie do minton of; also, Africa, The Roman province. A. D. 1270-1271.-Crusade of Saint Louis. See Citcsaves: A. D. 1270-12711.

Modera history. See Barbary Stater.

TUNNAGE AND POUNDAGE.

TUNNAGE AND POUNDAGE.- A tax or custom of two shiliings on the tun of wlae snd sixpence on the pound of merchandise, which became, In England, from the fourteenth century, one of the regular parllamentary grants to the crown, for a long period. It grew out of an agreement with the merchants in the time of Edward II., to take the piace of the former right of prisage; the right, that is, to take two tuns of wine from every ship Importing twenty tuns or more - one before and one behind the mast. W. Stuhbs, Const. Hist. of Eing., ch. 17, sect. 276-277 (v. 2).-See, also, England: A. D. 1029.

TUPI, The. See American Aborianks: Ttre. tUpUYas, The. See Aymbican Aborignes: TUPI, ETC.
TURAN. -"The old Persians, who spoke an Aryan tongue, cailed thelr own land Iran, and the barbarous land to the north of it they cailed Turm. In their eyes, Iran was the land of light, and Turan was the land of darkness. From this Turan, the land of Central Asia, came the many Turkish settiements which made their way, first Into Western Asia and then lnto Europe."E. A. Freeman, The Ottoman Poceer in Europe, ch. 2.
TURANIAN RACES AND LANGUAGES. - The name Turanian has been given to a large group of pcopies, mostiy Asiatic, whose languages are ali in the aggiutinative stage and bear evident marks of a familiy relationship. "This race, one of the largest, both numericaily snd with regard to the extent of territory which it occupies, is divided into two great branches, the Ugro-finnish and the Dravidian. The first must be again subdivided Into the Turkish, including the popuiations of Turkestan and of the Steppes of Central Asia, as weli as the Hungarians who have been for a iong time settied in Europe; and the Uraio-finnish group, comprising the Finns, the Esthonians, the Tchoudes, and, in generai, neariy ali the tribes of the nortin of Europe and Asta. The country of the Dravidian brauch is, on the contrary, to the south. This branch is in fact composed of the indigenous people of the Peninsula of Hindustan; Tamuis, Telingas, Carnates, who were subjugated by the Arian race, and who appear to have originally driven before them the negroes of the Australian group, the original inhabitants of the soli, who are now represented by the almost savage tribe of the Khonis. The Turanian race is one of the oldest in the worid. . . . The skulis discovered in France Enylanif and Beigium, in caves of the close of the quaternary cpoch, appear from their characteristics to belong to a Turanian race, to the Uraiofiunish group, and particuiarly resemble those of the Esthonians. Wherever the Japhetic or pure indo-European race extendeli, It seems to have encountered a Turanian popuiation which it conquered and finaliy amaigamated with itself." F. icnormant, Hhenual of Ancient IIst. of the Eist, 1k. 1, ch. 4.-"From the 'Shah-nameh,' the great Persian cpie, we iearn that the Aryan Persians called their nearcst non-Aryan ncighbours - the Turkic or Turcoman tribes to the north of them-by the name Turan, a word from which we derive the familiar ethnoiogic term Tur-snisn."-I Tayior, Etrusean Resurarches, ch. 2.
TURCOMANS, Russian subjugation of the. See RUssLA: A. D. 1860-1881.

TURIN PAPYRUS.

TURDETANI, The.-"There is a tradition that the Turdetani (round Sevlile) ponsessed lays from very ancient times, a metrical book of laws, of 8,000 verses, and even historical records. At any rate, this tribe is described as the most civilized of ali the Spanish tribes, and st the same time the least warilke."-T. Mommsen, IIist. of Rome, bk. 8, ch. 7.-"The most mixed portion of the Peninsular popuiation . . . Is that of the water-system of the Guadalquiver and the parts immediately south and east of it . . . . the country of the Turdetanl and Bastitanl, if we look to the ancient populations-Bætica, if we adopt the general naine of the Romans, Andaiusia in modern geography; it was the Iberlans of these parts who were the first to receive forelgn intermixture, and the iast to lose it." R. G. Latham, Ethnology of Europe, ch. 2.

TURDETANIA.-The ancient name of modern Andalusia, in Spain; known stili more an cientiy as Tartessus.

TURENNE, Vicomte de: Campaigns In the Thirty Years War and the war with Spain. See Germany: A. D. $1640-1845$; 16431644; 1646-1648; and ITaly: A. D. 1635-1659.

The wars of the Fronde. See France: A. D. 1649; 1650-1651; 1651-1653. . ... Campaigns against the Spaniards under Conde. See France: A. D. 1653-1656; and 1655-1658.

Last campaigns. See Netherlands (Hol LaND): A. D. 1667; 1672-1674; and, 1674-1678.

TURGOT, Ministry of. See France: A. D. 1774-1788
TURIERO, The. See American Aborioines: Chlbchas.

TURIN : A. D. 312.-Defeat of Maxentius by Constantine. Sce Rome: A. 1. 305-323.
11-12th Centuries.-Acquisition of Republican Independence. See Italy: A. D. 1056 1152.

12th Century, Inciuded in the original Italian possessions of the House of Savoy. See Savoy: 11-15th Centuries.
A. D. 1536-1544.-Occupation by the French and restoration to the Duke of Savoy. See France: A. D. 1532-1547.
A. D. 1559.-Held by France while other territory of the Duke of Savoy was restored to him. See France: A. 1). 1:4i-1559.
A. D. 1562-1580. - Evacuation by the French. -Estabiishment of the seat of government by Duke Emanuel Philibert.-Increased importance. See Savoy: A. D. 1559-1580.
A. D. 1639-1657.-Extraordinary siege within a siege. -The citadel, and its restoration by France to the Duke of Savoy. See Italy: A. D. 163\%-1659.
A. D. 1706.-Siege by the French and rout of the besiegers. Sec Italy (Savoy and PiedMONT): A. D. 1701-1713.

TURIN PAPYRUS, The.-An Egyptian papyris preserved in the Turin Museum, for whieht it was purchased from M. Drovetti, con-sui-general of France. "If this papyrus were ention, the science of Egyptian antiquities could not possess a more vaiuable document. It contains a tist of ali the mythical or historical personages who were belíeved to have relgned in Egypt, from fabuious times down to a period we cannot ascertain, because the end of the papyrus 1s wanting. Compiied under Ramses II. (i0th dynasty), that is, in the most flourishing epoch of the history of Egypt, this iist has ail the characteristics of an ofticiai document, and gives us the more valuabie assistance, as the name of each king is foliowed by the duration of his reign, and each dynasty by the totai number of years during which it governed Egypt. Unfortunateiy this inestimahle treasure exists oniy in very sman pleces ( 164 in number), which it is often impossihie to join correctiy."-F. Lenor. mant, Manual of Ancient Hist. of the East, bl. 8, eh. 1, sect. 2.

TURIN PAPYRUS.

TURKESTAN.-"Few even of the leading authorities are of accord as to the exact meaning of such common expressions as Turkestán or Central Asia. The Russians themseives often deaignate as Centrai Asia the second great ad. ministrative division of their Asiatic possessions, which is mainiy comprised within the Araio. Caspian depression. But this expression is misguiding in a geographical sense. To the portion of this division directly administered by the Governor-Generai, whose headquarters are at Tashkent, they give the stiil more questionabie name of Eastern Turkestán - the true Eastern Turkestan, if there be any, lying beyond his jurisdiction in the Chinese province of Kash. garia. . . . Russian Turkestan is bordered on the west hy the Caspian, the Urai river and mountains, on the east hy the Pamir plateau, the Tlan-Shan and dia-tau ranges separating it from the Chin se Empire, northwards by the fow ridge crossing the Kirghis ateppes about the bist parailicl, and forming the watcr-parting between the Araio Caspian and Oh basins."-Stanford's Compendium of Geog. and Travel: Avia, pp. 391-392.-Of the region sometimes calied Chinese Turkestan, the name "Kashgaria," "iateiy current in Europe, has no raison d'etre since the collapse of the independent state founded hy Yakuh of Kashgar. In the same way the expression 'Kingdom of Khotan'fell into disuse after the city of Khotan had ceased to be the capitai. The term 'Littic Bokhara, stili in use some thirty years ago, pointed at the former reiigious ascendancy of Bokhara, but is now ali the iess appropriate that Bokhara itseif hss yicided the shpremacy to Tashkent. Lastiy, the expressions Eastern Turkestan and Chinese Turkestan are stili applicahic, because the inhahitants are of Turki specch, while the Chinese have again hrought the country under subjection."E. Recius, The Eiarth and its inhabitants: Anis, ข. 2, ch. 8.-See, aiso, Y 4 koon Beg.

TURES.

Ancient. Sec Sogmiana.
6th Century. - Turkish conquest. See TuREs: 6th Century.
A. D. 710. -Mahometan conquest. See Mi hometan Conquest: A. D. 710 .
A. D. 1859-1865.-Russian conquest. See Ruseia: A. D. 1859-1876.

TURKEY. See Tenks (The Ottomans): A. D. 1240-1326, and after; aiso, Sublima Porte.

TURKS.

6th Century.-Beginning of their carcer. "At the equai distance of 2,000 miles from the Caspian, the Icy, the Chinese, and the Bengai seas, a ridge of mountains is conspicuous, the centre, and perhaps the summit, of Asia, which, in the ianguage of different nations has been styled Imaus, and Caf, and Aitai, and the Goiden Mountains, and the Girdie of the Earth. The sides of the hilis were productive of minerais; and the iron-forges, for the purpose of war, were exercised by the Turks, the most despised portion of the siaves of the great khan of the Geougen. But their servitude couid oniy iast tili a leader, boid and eioquent, shouid arise to persuade his countrymen that the same arms which they forged for their mssters might hecome in their own hands the instruments of freedom and vic. tory. They salifed from the mountain; a sccp. tre was the reward of his advice. . . . The decisive hattic which aimost extirpated the nation of the Geougen estabilished in Tartary the new aud more powerful empire of the Turks. . . . The royai encampment seidom lost sight of Mount Aitai, from whence the river Irtish descends to water the rich pastures of the Caimucks, which nouriah the iargest sheep and oxen in the worid.

As the subject nations marched under the standard of the Turks, their cavairy, both men and horses, were proudly computed hy miliions; one of their effective armies consisted of 400,000 woidiers, and in less than fifty years they were connected in peace and war with the Romans, the Persians, and the Chinese. . . . Among their southern conquests the most spiendid was that of the Nephtiailtes, or White Funs, a politeand warlike peopie, who possessed the commercisi cities of Bochara and Samarcand, who had vanquished the Persian monarch, and carried their victorious arms aiong the hanks and perhsps to the mouth of the Indus. On the side of tile west the Turkish cavairy advanced to the iake Mrotis [Sea of Azov]. They passed that iake on the ice. The khan, who dweit at the foot of Monnt Aitai, issucd his commands for the siege of Bosphorus, a city the voiuntary suhject of Rome and whose princes fiad formeriy been the friends of Athens."-E. Gibbon, Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire, ch. 42.-"The name Turks is the coliective appeliation of a vast number of tribes extending from the neighbour. hood of the Lake Buikai, $110^{\circ} \mathrm{E}$. iongitude, to the castern boundaries of the Grcek and Sciavonic countries of Europe. . . . Aithough the name of the Turks first became known to the western ations in the sixth century, the people hsd sppeared in the west a century carificr, for there is every reason to believe that the Huns beionged to the Turkish stock. The Turks of Moun' Aital are cailed Thú-kiu hy the Chinese writtr and are regarded as the same people as the Ifiong-nu of eariier times. .. . The Chinese name. . . appears to he a corruption of the Turkish word 'terk' . . . \& 'heimit.' The Thúkiú became very powerfui under their leader Tumere, who conqucred the Jéujen (the Geougen of Gihbon), uniterl under his swsy ail the Turkish tribes... and assumed the titie of Chagan or Khan, A. D. 546."-W. Smith, Note to above.

TURKS, 6TH CENTURY. The Howe of Seljuk.

 teiy cur nded by the ex. o disuse o be the li in use rmer renow all seif hss stiy, the se Turk1abitaats se have ction." $\because: A$ sin,ALso m: J. H. Newman, Lect's on the Ilist. of the Turks (Hiot. Sketehes, v. 1), leet. 14. $\rightarrow$ See, also, Tartars; and Mongols: Orians, de. and Balzan and Danubian States: Races Existiva.
A. D. 7ro.--Subjugation by the Saracens. See Mahometa y Conqular: A. D. 710.
A. D. 815-945.-Siaves and masters of the Callphate. See Mahometan Conquest and Eypiae: A. D. 815-045.
A. D. 999-1 183.-The Garnevide empire.The decline of the Caliphate at Bagdad in the 9th century was signaiized by the rise to practlcaliy Independent power of several dynasties in its Persian and Central Asian dominions. Among these was the dynasty of the Samanides who ruled, for a hundred and twenty-five years, an extensive dominion in northern Persia and modern Afghanistan and in the Turkoman regions to the Oxus and beyond. In this de fion of the Samanides was included the Turkist tribes which had submitted to Islam and which were presently to become the master champions of the faith. Their first attainment of actuai empire in the Moslem worid was accompiished by the overthrow of the Samanide princes, and the chlef in. struments of that revolution were two Turks of humble origin - Sebectagi, or Sabekcekin, and his son Mahmud. Sebectagi had been a siave (in the service of a high oftlcial under the Samanides) who gained the favor of his masters andi aequirell command of the city and province of Gazua; whence his famous son Mahmud was ealled the Gaznevide, nad the wide conquests which the latter made are sometimes distin. guished as the Gaznevide empire. "For hhn the title of Sultan was first invented [see Scl. tax]; and his kingdom was enlarged from Transexiana to the neighbourhood of Ispahan, from the shores of the Caspian to the mouth of the Indus. But the principal souree of hls fame and riches was the holy war which he waged against the Gentoos of 1 lindostan. . . . The Sultan of Gazan surpassed the iimits of the conquests of Alexander; after a march of three months, over the hills of Caslimir nnd Thilet, he reached the famons city of Kinoge, on tbe Upper Ganges, aad, in a naval combat on one of the branches of the Indus, he fought and vanquisheci 4,000 boats of the natives. Delhi, Lahor, and Jultan wire compellel to open their gates; the fertile kingdon of Guzarat attracted his ambltion and tempted his stay." The throne of Mahmui searcely outlasted himself. In the reign of his son Massoud, it was nearly overturned by another Turkish horde - later eomers into the region of Bokhara from the steppes beyond. In a great battle fought at Zendecan, In Khomasan, A. D. 1038, Massond was defented amid driven from Persia to a marrowed kingdon in Cabul and the Punjaub, which survived for more than a century ionger and then disappeared. -E. Gibbon, Decline and Full of the Roman Em. pire, ch. 57.
Also In: J. II. Newman, Leet's on the IIist. of the Turks (Ilist. Sketches, v. 1), lect. 4.-See, also, Inma: A. D. 977-1240.
(Seljuk), A. D. 1004-5063. - Conquests of Seldjuk and Togrul Beg.- "The history of the origin of the seldjukides is obscured by numer. ous myths, but it appears from lt that Seldjuk, or more correctly Seidjik, the son of Tokmak, aud Subasb, commandier of the army of a prince named Pigu or Bogu, were expelied from their native steppes for some crime, and forced to seek their fortunes in strange countries. Seidjuk, with 100 horsemen, 1,000 cameis, and 50,000 sheep, migrated to a piace on the southern confines of the desert, in the neighbourhood of Djend [described as distant twenty fersakhs from Bokhara]. He settled there and, with ail his followers, embraced Islamism." Under Seldjuk and his two grandsons, Togrui and Tchakar, the Seidjukides grew formidnbie in numbers and power, on the border of the empire of Mahmud the Ghaznevide, then rising on the ruins of the principality of the Samanides. Thinking to controi these turbulent kinsmen of his race, Mahmud unwiseiy proposed to them to quit the country they occupied, between the Oxus and the Jaxnrtes, and to settie themseives in Khorasan. "In the year . . . (1030), that ls, within a year of the death of Sultan Mahmud, we find the Seldjukides west of Merv, on the ground now oceupled by the Tekke-Turkomans, in the neighbourhood of the southern cities of Nisa and Abiverd, from which point they molested the rich province of Khorasan by constant raids, as grievously as is cione by the Turkomans to this very day." When it was too late, the Ghaznevicie Suitan attempted to expei the marauders. His armies were routed, nnd the grandsons of Seldjuk were soon (A. D. 1039) in nndisputed possession of the whole of Khorasan, with the rich and flourishing citles of Merv, Balkh, and Nishabur. A few years later they had pushed forward "over the ruins of the former power of the Buyyides [or Bouides, of Persia] to Azerbakijan, and, in the year 446 ( 10.4 ) the skirmishers of the Turkish army, led by Togrul Ieg, penetrated into the interior of the eastern Roman Empire that is, into Asia Minor]; and although the bold inhabitants of the desert in their raid on the laud of the Casars were bent rather on plunder than on actual eonquest, yet even their temporary success against the great name of Rome - so long one of ave to the nncient Asiatie - Increased cuormonsly the prestige and reputation of the Sellyukides. Togrui 1 leg was said to meditate a pilgrimage to Meeea, with the object at the same time of elearing the road thither, whieh the state of anarehy in Bag. dad hadi long rendered unsafe."-A. Vámbéry, Mixt. of Bokhara, ch. 6.-"Togrul Beg, under pretence of a pilgrinage to Mekka hadi entered lrak at the head of a stronir army, and sought to ohtain admission into Bayhlad. The khnlf, in opposition to the alvice of his vizler and the ottheers of the Turkish militia, consentei; on the 22 nd lamalan, 447 (Decenter, 1050), the name of Togrul was inserted in the public prayer; and three dhys after he male his cntry into the city. IIe had taken an oath, before entering, to be the faithfui and obedient servant of the khaiif; but it is needless to add that he broke this immediately afterwaris, and occupied the elty in force. A dlspute broke out between the Seljuk soldters and some shop-keepers. The Baghdad Turks took the sidie of the citizens, the foreigners were driven out, and several of them kiilied and wounded. This riot was followed by a generai attack upon the ill-fatedi clty by the army of Tagrul Peg. it uas usejese for the thalif and his vizler to protest their innocence. The Turk. ish chief denounced them as the murderers of his soidiers, and summoned the vizier to his camp to

TURES, 1004-1083.

The Hower of Selfuk.
TURES, 1078-1092.
expiain his conduct. On his arrival there he was arrented and tung Into prison. Wlth this occurrence the ruie of the Bouldes in Baghdad may be aald to have terminated, and that of the Seljute commenced. Togrul Beg remained for a year inactlve ln Baghdad, nelther vislting the khallf nor heeding hls entreatles to put an end to the ravages and outragen perpetrated by his flerce and lawless soldlery on the wretched townspeople." The khallf was forced, nevertheless, to crown Sultan Togrul wlth two crowns, one to represent the soverelgaty of Persia and the other the soverelgnty of Arahla, and to confer on hlm the tltle of "The Sultan of the Court, the Right Hand of the Chlef of Bellevers, the King of the East and of the Weat." The Beljuk sultan was now master of the Aslatic Mahometan emplre. But clvll war was stlli protracted for a period, by struggles of the partisans of the Bouldes, assisted by the Fatlmite Kalif of Egypt, and the unfortunate clty of Baghdad suffered terribly at the hands of each party ln turn. Togrul Beg, In the end, destroyed the opposition to hls rule, and was at the polnt of marrylng one of the kallf's daughters, when a sudden lliness ended hls llfe, A. D. 1063 . He was succeeded by his nephew, Alp Arslan, who extended the emplre of the Seljukles ln Asla Mlnor and Armenla. -R. D. Osborn, Islam under the Khalifo of Baghdad, pt. 3, ch. 2.
A. D. 1063-1073. - Conquesta of Alp Ars-lan.- "Alp Arslan, the nephew and suecessor of Togrul Beg, carried on the havoc and devastation which had marked the career through l'. e of hls uncle. Togrul Beg had on two or three occaslons Invaded the Asiatle territories of the Byzantine Emperor; Alp Arslan carried these partlal conquests to completion. $H^{r}$ invaded ln person the northern parts of Armeala and lberia. He lald waste the country ln the cruellest manner, for lt was the notlon of these barharians that a country was not really conquered unless it was also depopulated. Iberia had heen long celebrated for tise lndustry of lts lnhahltants, the weulth of lts numerous towns, and the valour of its people. There is no doubt they could have fiung back the Invaders had the Byzantlne Emplre come to thelr aid. But avarlce Was the dominant passion of the Emperor, Constantine $X$., and rather than disburse his loved hoards, he preferred to look ldly on, while his falrest provinces were lald waste and overrun. The country was, in consequence, compelled to submit to the Seljuk Turks, and the Invaders settling upon it, like a swarm of locusts, swlftly converted the happiest and most flourlshing portion of Asin into a scene of poverty and desola. tlon. From llecria, Alp Arslan passed into Armenia. Ani, the capltal, was stormed and taken, after a gallant defence, on the 6th June, 1004 .

So great was the carnage that the streets were literally chaked up with clead hodlcs; and the waters of the river were reddened from the quantlty of blooxly corpses. "-R. D. Osioorn, fanm uneler the Khatifs of Mughdan, pt. 3, ch. :'. -"So far as one can judge from the evldence of modern and mediswil travellers and of Berzantine historians, Aslu Mlnor, at the tine of the Seljuk invasion of Alparslan, was thickly occupled hy races who were industrions, Intelligent. and civllised - races with is certain mixture of Greek blood and mostly Greck as to language. The numerous provinclal cities were the centres of civilisation. Their walls and amphltheatres, thelr works of art, aqueducts, and other puhlle bulldings, give evidence of a long-contlnued sense of security, of penceful and progresalve peoplea, and of a healthy munlclpai life. Wealth was wldely dlrused. . It was against this prosperous portlon of the Emplre, which had contributed largely to the wealth of the capltal, that Alparslan turned hls attention when the border states were no fonger able to reuist hls progress. The Strong Llon of the Seljuks devoured many cltles and devastated the fairest provlnces. Cappadocla was lald waste; the lnhahltants of Its capltal, Casarea, were massacred. . . . Mesopotamla, Mitylene, Syria, and Cllicia were piundered."- E. Pears, The Fall of Constantinople, ch. 2.- The career of Alp Arslan ln Asla Minor was opposed by a courageous and vlgorous emperor, Romanus Dlogenes, or Romanus IV. ; but Romanus exposed hlmself and his army rashly to the chances of a battle at Manzlkert, A. D. 1071 , on which all was staked. Ile lost; hls army was routed, and he, himself, was taken prisoner. He was released on slgnlng a treaty of peace and agreelng to pay a heavy ransom; but a revolutlon at Constantinople meantlme had robbed hlm of the throne, deprived hlm of the means of fulfilling his engagements, and hrought upon him, soon afterwards, a cruel end. Alp Arslan, provoked by the repud!. ation of the treaty, revenged hlmself on the 111 fated country which lay at hls mercy. "Every calamlty of thls unfortunate period sinks intolnsl of the greater part of the Greck race, by the ravages of the Seljouk Turks $\ln$ Asla Mlnor."G. Finlay, Hist. of the Byzantine and Greek Ein. pires, bk. 3, ch. 1, sect. 2.
A. D. 1073-1092. - The empire of Malek Shah and its subordinate Sultans.-Alp Arslan, assasslnated ln 1073 , "was succeeded hy his son, Malek Shah, ln whose relgn the power of the Seljuklan Turks attalned lts greatest belght.
Turkestan, the home of hls race, lncluding Bokhara and Sumarcand, was annexed by lialek, and the rule of the shepherd Sultan was admitted at Cashgar. In additlon to Persla and the countries just mentioned, his territory lncluded at one time nearly the whole of what is now Turkey ln Asla. . . . The Seljuklan empire, however, hroke up on the death of Malek, which took place $\ln 1092$, aud, after a period of civil war, was divlded lnto four parts. . . The only one of the divisions . . . With which I nm concerned ls that whleli was carved out of the dominlons of the lRoman empire, and of which the capital wns, for the nost part, at Iconlum, a city which to-day, under the name of Konleh, retuins somewhat of n sacred character among the Turks, because of its connection with the first Sulfans who obtalned the right to be Caliphs. Sultan Dialek, eighteen ycars before hls death, had prevented a quarrel wlth Sullman, hls cousin, by consenting to allow hlm to be Sultan of the Liljuks in the lands of the Christian enipire. With Suliman there beglns the famous line of roblucr chiefs who are known as Seljukian Sul. tuns of IRome or Roum, or as Sultans of leo-nium,"-E. Peurs, The Fall of Constantinople, rh. 2. -" The domlnion of Sulelman over the greater part of Asla Dllnor was recognised by n treaty With the Byzantinc emplreln 1074 , when Nichae] VII. purchased the assistance of a Turkish anx-

Hilary force againat the rebellion of Ourmel and his own uncie John Dukas. Nicephorus III. ratided the treaty concluded with Michaei VII., augmented the power of the Turks, and abandoned additional numbers of Chrlatians to their domination, to gain their ald in dethroning his lawfui prince; snd Nicephorus Meilswenos, when he rebelied against Nicephorus III., repeated a similar treason sgainst the traitor, and, in hopes of gaining possession of Constantinopie, yleided up the possession of Nicaea to Suielman, which that chief immediately made the capital of his dominions. . . When Aiexius ascended the throne [Alexius I. A. D. 1081], the Seijouk conquest in Asia Minor were stili considered as a portlon of the dominions of the Grand Suitan Malekshah, the son of Aip Arsian, and Suieiman, the suitan of Nicze, was oniy his lieutenant, though as a member of the house of Seijouk, snd as cousin of Majekshah, he was honoured with the titie of Suitan. The prominent position which his posterity occupied in the wars of the Crusaders, their iong reiations with the Byzantine emplre, and the independent position they heid as suitans of Iconium, have secured to them a far more lasting place in history than has been ohtsined by the superior but íess durabie dynasty of the grand suitans. $\qquad$ Toutoush, the brother of Malekshah, who acted as his governor at Damascus at the same time, became the founder of the Syrian dynasty of Seijouk sui. taas."-G. Finiay, Ifist. of tho Byzantine and Greek Empires, from 716 to 1453, bk. 8, ch. 2, ecet. 1. - The empire of Maiek Shah "was as vast as that of the Sassanian kiogs in the height of their glory. He encouraged the cuitivation of science and literature, and his reign is fancous for the reformation of the Calendar [in which work Omar ei-Khayyam, the poet, was one of the astronomers employed]. An assembiy of ali the astronomers of Perala adopted a system of computing time which Gibbon says surpass: the Julian and approaches the accuracy of tue Gregorian sera.' It was cailed the Jainiæan ers, from Jaialu-d-Din, 'Giory of the Faith,' one of the titles of Malik Shah, and commenced on March 15, 1079."-C. R. Markha:n, Hist. of Persia, ch. 6
A. D. 1092-1160. - Dissolution of the empire of Malek Shah.-' Meilkshah's reign was certalnly the cuiminating point of the glory of the Seldjukides.

Mindful of the orientai adage, - Perfection and decay go hand in hand,' he deterialned as far as possible to proviic, during his owa ilfetime, against discord hreaking out amoagst those who shouid come after him, by dividing the einpire between his different relatinas. Anatolia was given to Suierman Shah, Whose famlly had hitherto governed Gazan; Syria fell to his hrother Tutush, the adversary of the Crusalers; Nusitakin Gartcha, who liad raised himself from slavery to the rank of generalisslmo, and who becane inter the founder of the dynasty of the Khairemmildcs, wes invested with Khahrezm; Aksonghai got Aieppo: Tchekermlsh Mosul, K Jobimish Yamascus, Khomartekin Fars, and his son Sandjar was entrusted with the administration of Khorasan and Trangoxanla. These precautions proved, however, ineffectual to preserve the dynasty of the Seijinkites from the conimion fate of oriental sovereign races, for after the death of Meilksiah, which took pince in 485 (1092), Lis son Berkyarul:
(the Very Brilliant One) had scarcely ascended the throne before the fiameo of discord were kindied amongst the numerous members of the family, and they speedily feil a prey to the generais and the other relations of the deceased prince." Sandjar, who died in 1160, "was aimost the oniy one of ali his race who took to heart the decay of their power in their old hered. itary dominions, or made any earnest endeavour to arrest it."-A. Vimbéry, Hioc. of Bokhara, ch. 6.
A. D. 1097-1099.- First encounters with the Cruaders. See Crubades: A. D. 10981090.
A. D. 1101-2102.-Destruction of three hoste of Crusaders. See Crusades: A. D. 1101-1102.
A. D. 1193.- Overthrow by the Khua eamians. See Khtarizu.
(Ottoman): A. D. 1240-1336. - Origin and rise of the modern Tuikish power, - On the final defeat and death, in Kurdistan, of the last Khuarezmian or Carizmlan prince, who was pursued relentlessly by the Songois of Jingis Khan and his successors, there was dissoived an army which inciuded various Turkish hordes. The fra: nents of thls Khuarezmian force were scatterea and played several important parts in the history of the troubied time. "The boider and more powerfui chiefs inv d Syria, and Fiolated the hoiy sepuichre of rusaiem; the more humbie engaged in the service of Aiadin, Suitan of Iconium nd among these were the obscure fathers of at Ottoman ine. They had formerly pitched their tents near the southern bank of the $O x: s$, in the piains of Mahan and Nesa; and it is somewhat remarkable that the same spot shouid have produced the first anthors of the Parthian and Turkish empires. At the head or in rear of a Carizmian army, Soliman Shah was drowned in the passage of the Euphrates. His son Orthogrui became the soldier aud subject of Aladln, and estabiished at Surgut, on the banks of the Sangar, a camp of four hundred families or tents, whom he governed fift. two yeara both in peace and war. He was the father of Thaman, or Athman, whose Turkish name has been meited into the appeliation of the Caiipi Othnaan; and if we descrihe that pastorai chief as a shepherd and a robber, we must separate from those characters all idea of ignominy and baseness. Othunan possessed, and perhaps surpassed, the ordinury virtues of a soldier, and the circumstances of tlme and piace were propitious to his independeuce and success. The Seljuklan dynasty vias no more, and the distance and decine of the Mogui Khans soon en. franchised him from the controi of a superior. He was sltuate on the verge of the Greek emplrc. The Koran sanctificd his 'gazi,' or holy war, against the infdels; and their poiitical errors uniocked the nasses of Mount Oly in ${ }_{r}$ 'is. and Invited hilm to descend into the plains of Bithynia. . . I' was on the 2 ith of Juiy, in $^{\text {it }}$ the year 1299 c. the Christian era, that Othman Arst invaded the territory of Nicomedia; and the singuiar accuracy of the date secms to disciose some foresight of the rapid and destructive growth of the monster. The annals of the twenty-seven years of his relga would exhihit a repettion of the same inroads: and hls heredi. tary troops were multiplied iu each campaign by the accesslon of cisptives and voiunteers. Instead of retreating to the hills, he maintained the moat upeful and defensihie posta, fortlifed the towns and castles which he hat frst piiliaged: and renounced the pastoral ilfe fol the baths and palaces of his infant capitais. But it was not till Othman was oppressed by age and infirmities that he received the welcome news of the conqucst of Prusa, which had been surrendered by famine or treschery to the arms of his won Orchan. . . From the conquest of Pruse we may date the true cra of the Ottoman empire. The Iives and possessions of the Christian subjocts reve redeemed by a tribute or ransom of thirty thousand crowns of goidi and the city, by the labors of Orchan, assumed the aspect of a Maisometan capitai."-E. Gibbon, Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire, ch. 64.-"Osman ts the real Turkish name, whicis has been corrupted Into Othman. The descendants of his subjects styie themscives Osmanifs, which has in iike manner been corrupted into Ottoman."-Dr. W. Smith, Note to Gibwon, as abote.

TURK8, 1240-182e. The Janiemaries TURKE, 1360-1889.

A. D. 1326-1359.-Progress of conquests in Asia Minor. - The Janissaries.-"Orchan [the en and siccessor of Otimun] hal captured the city of Nicomedia in the first ycar of his reign (1326); and with the ncw resources for warfare Which the administrative genius of bris brothicr [Aiaeddin] placed at his command, the spcedily signalised his reign by conquests still more im. portant. The great clty of Fice [Nicera] (second to Constantinople oniy in the Greek Empire) surrendered to him in 1330 . . . Numerons other . Numerons other advantages were gaiued over the Greeks: and the Turkish prince of Karasi (tie ancicnt Mysia), who had taken up arms against the Ottomans, was defented; nud his capital city, Berghama (the ancient Pergamus), and his territory, nnnexed to Orchan's dominions. On the conquest of Karasi, in the yenr 1336 of our cra, newrly the whole of the north-west of Asia Min or was included in the Ottoman Enpire; and the four great cities of Brusa, Nicomedia, Nice, and Pergmmas ind hecome stronghoids of its power. A period of tweuty years, without further conquests, und without wnr, followed the acquisition of Karasi. During this time the Otuman sovereign was actively uccupied in perfecting the civil aud miltary institution- which his brother had introdnced; in secun intermi orifer in founding nad endowing 1 . ques and schools, and in the construction of vast public edifices. . Orchnn dled in the yenr 1359 of onr era, at the age of seventy-fivc, after a reign of thirty-three yenrs, during which the most im. portant civil nad military institutions of his nation were foumded, and the Crescent was not oniy advancell over many of the fairest provinces of Asia, but wns aiso plantel on the European contiuent."-Sir E. S. Creasy, Hist. of the Jtoman Turke, ch. 2-- It is with Othman's son Orikhan that the Ottoman Empirc really begins. He threw off his mominnt aileginnce to the Suittan [of Iconium], though lic sthli bore only the titie of Einir. And in his time the Ottomans first made good their footing in Europe. But while his dominion was still oniy Asintic, Orkhan began one instltution which did more than angthing eise firmly to estallish the Ottoman power. This was the institution of the tribute children. By the law of Mahonict. . . the unheifever is allowed to parrlitse life, property, and the cxercise of hls religion, by the payment of tribute. Earifer Mahometan ruters had been satisited ith trihute in the ordinary sense. Orkhan first demandied a tribute of chilifren. The deepest of wrongs, that which of cher tyrant did au an occasionai outrage, thus became under the Ottomans a settied inw. A tixed proportion of the strongent and most promising boys among the conquered Christian nations were carriel off for the service of tise Ottoman princes. They were brought up in the Mahometan faith, and were employed in civii or military functions, ac. cording to t'eir capacity. Out of them was iormed the fannous force of the Janissarics, the new soidiers who, for three cet turles, as iong as they were ievied in this way, formed the strength of the Ottoman armies. These children, torn from their homes and cut off from every domes. tic and nationai tic, knew oniy the relligion aad the service into which ther were forecd, and formed a body of troops such as ao other power, Christian or Mainevnetan, couni I command.
White the force foupded by Oishan lasted in its Grst shape, the Ottoman armies were irresistible. But all this shows iow far the Ottomans were from being a national power. Their victories were won by soldilers who were realiy of the biooi of the Greeks, Siaves, and othcr conqueied nitions. In the same way, whife the Ottomin power was strongest, the chicf posts of the Empire, civil and military, werc constantly heldi, not by native Turks, but by Chric, 1 II renegaics of ail nations. The Ottoman poner in short was the pewer, not of a nation, but simply of na nrmy."-E. A. Freeman, The Ottomen Poeer in Europe, ch. 4.- "The mune of Yeni Tscheri, which means ' nev troops,' Hid wiich Europena writers iave turned into Jnnissaries, was given to Orchan's young corps by the lecrish Indji Beytarch."-Sir E. S. Crcasy, Hixt. of the Utto. man Turke, ch. 2
A. D. 1360-1389.-The conquests in Europe of Amurath I.-. Thic dissensions of the cheter und younger Andionicus [Emperors at Constantinopie, the younger - a grandson - in revolt and the edder tinnly deposed, A. D. 13:00-1:23*], nad the mistnken poilicy of Cintacuzenc [Great Donestic of the empire, regent after the death of Audronicus tisc younger, A. D. 1341, nud then usurper of the throne from 1341 until 1335.5 , first ied to the hatrodnction of the $T$-ks into Eurppe; and the suhsegnent marriage of Orchan with a Grecian priuce s was acceded to by the Byzantine court ns a faint boud of peice betweell a draded conqueror ar I a crouching state. The "xpectation of tranuillity was, however, fatally blasted; and, in the last guarrel of Cantncuache with his impil [John Padeologus, the youthint son of Andronic. s the younger, who was deprived of his crown for fourtcen years by Cantacuzene], the disastrous nmblition of tise former opened the path of Solyman, the son of Orchan. across the Ilellespont [A. I) 13.36], and faid the northern provinces of the kingdom open to the temporary ravages of the barbnrians, thus intilicting $n$ lasting and irremediabie injury on the iiberties of Christendom. The expioits of Suly. man, however, ied to no other permanent resulis than the exampic which they left to the ambition of Amurath I., Who, amongst hils carllest achievements, Ied his victurious ariny across the Iletles pont [A. D. 1360], ravaged the extended dis trict from Mount iliemus to the Straits, :mul. taking possession of Adrianopic [A. D. 1361]. madic it the frst seat of his royaity, and t.ie tirst

TURKS, 1360-1389

Mirst Conqueats in Eturope.
ahriae of Mahomedanism in Europe. IIIs conquests had now drawn a circie round the enfeehiled dominlons of the Emperor; and the suhmission of John Pairologus, together with his puitical views in more distant quarters, aione prevented Amurath from contracting the circumference to the centre, and annihiiating tho empire of tho East, by seating himseif on the throne of Byzantium. For the present, he turned his hack 11 on the city, and pursued his course towares the wilds of Buigaria and Servin." - Sir J. E. Tennent, Hist, of Mrelern Grecce, o. 1, ch. 4. -" Ilitherto the Turkish victories in Europo had been won over the feebie Grecks; hut the Ottomans now came in contact with the far more warilke Sclavonic tribes, which had founded singrioms and principalities in Serviu and Bosnia. Amurath aiso menaced the fronticrs of Wallaella and Hungary. The Roman See, once so energetic in exciting the early crusades, had disreg. led the progress of the new Mabometan power, su long as the hereticai Greeks werc the oniy sufferers beneath its arms. But Ilungary. a country that professed spiritual obedience to the Pope, a hranch of Latin Chirsteadom, was now ia peril; and Pope Urban V. preached up a erusade agalmat the intdei Turks. The King of llungary, the princes of Servia, of Bosnin and Wallachia, Jeapued together to drive the Ottomans out of Europe; and thelr forces marched towaris Adirianople unth they crossed the river Marizza at a puint not more "ian two days journey from that ctty." A singie battle, fouglit on the Marizan, in 1303, broke this first Sclavonic League agalnst the Turks, and Amurath proceedied in hils acquisition of towns and territory from the Servians and Buigarinns uutil 13i6, whea Foth people purchased a short peace, the forme; by prying a heavy ammal tribute of mone." and solitiers, the latter hy giving their king's daughter to the Turk. The peace thus secured ori, gave an opportunity to the sclavic nations to orgnuize one more grent attempt to cast out their aggressive aad dangerous nelghlor. Servin fed the movement, and was joined in it by the Bulgarians, the Bosnlans, and the Skipetars of Albanla, with aid likewisc promised nntl readered from Ilungary, Wallachia, and Pohnd. But nothing prospered in the undertaking; it servel the antrition of the Turks and quickened their conquest of southeastern Europe. Amuraih fell upon Bulgnria firt (A. D. 1389), broke down all resistance, dethroned the king and annexed his state to the Ottoman don:nions. A ferr weeks later in the same year, on the 2itb of August, 1384 , the great and famous hattie of Kossova was fought, wbich lalif tie heavy yoke of Turkish tyranny upon the necks of the Servian people, aul the memory of which has been embalmet in thelr literature. Amurath was assassinated in the hour of victory by a despalring Servian nolleman, but lived long enough to consmand the execution of the captive Servian king. -sir E. S. Crensy, Hist. of the Ottoman T:urks, ch. 3.
Al.mo ns: L. Ranke, Hist. of Serria, ch. 2.Matame E. L. Mijatovich. Kossoro.-See, aiso, Balikin and Dantblan Stafes: 8-16th Centhies.
A. D. 138-1403. -The conquests of Bajazet. - The Emir hecomes Suitan.-Hi- iverthrow and capture by Timour.-"The wracter of Bajazet, the son and successor of Amurath,

Is strongly expressed in his surnamic of Iiderim, or the Lightalag; and he might glory in an eni. thet which was drawn from the fiery energy of hls soul and the rapldity of his destructive march. In tie fourteeu yeurs of his reign he incessantiy moved at the liead of inls armles, from Boursa to Adrianople, from the Danube to the Euphrates. . . No sooner had he imposed a reguiar form of servitude on the servians anal Bulgarians than ho passed the Danube to seek now enemiles and new subjects in the lieart of Moidavia. Whatever yet allhered to the Greek empire la Thrace, Macedonia, and Thessaly, acknowiedged a Turkish master.

The humble titte of cmir was no longer suitahle to the Ottoman gr'atness: and Bajazet condesceaded to accopt a patent of sultan from the cal'pus who served in Egypt under the yoke of the Mann:ukes-a last a 1 frivoious homage ihat was yieided hy force to opinton, by tho Turkish conquerors to the Ilouse of Alhas and the successirs of the Aralian prophct. The emhition of the suitan was iuflamal by the ohitigation of deserviag this august title; nirl he turned lits arms against the klagdom of Ilungary, the perpetual theatre of the Turkish victorles' m. defeats. Sigismond. the Iungnrinn king, was the son and hrother of the emperors of the West; his couse wos that of Europe and the Church: and on the report of his daager, the bravest knigbts of France and Germany were eager to march under his standard and that of the cross. In the battle of Nicopolis [Septemper 28, A. D. 1390], Biajnzet defeated a confedernte army of 100.000 Christians, who had proully hoasted thnt if ace sky shoulif fill they could uphold it on thetr iances. The far greater part were stain or driven into the Dhnube; and Stgismond, escaping to Constmatinople by the river muld the Black Sea, returned, after a long ef:cuit, to hls erlinusted ishaglom. In the prite of victors, Baja et threnteael that he won' besiege Buth; that the would sulntue the ad cent countries of Germnny and Italy; nnd that he would feed hls horse with a bushed of oats on the ultar of St. Peter at Rome. His progress was checked, not by the a.irnculous lnterpmition of the apostle, not by a crissuie of the Cliristian powers, but by a long nad mainful fit of the gout. . . At leugth the amilition of the victorions suitan pointed to the conquest of Constantimople; but he listened to the advice of his vizir, who representel that such an enterprise might luite the fowers of Christendom in a second null morc finnitable crusate. His epistle to the eluperor was conceived in these words: - 35 the divine clemeucy, our invincible scinitar has reduced to or:r obedicnec aimost all Asia, with many and large countries in Europe, ex. cepting only tbe city of Coastantinople; for beyond the walls thou hast nothing left. Resign that city; stipulate thy reward; or tremble for thyself not thy uninappy people at the coasequences of a rasb refusal.' But his ambassadors werc instructed to soften their tone, and to propose a treaty, which was subscribed with sulbmission and gratitudc. A truce of ten years was purchased by an annuai tribute of thirty thonsand crowns of goid." The truce was soon broken by Bajazet, who found a pretext for again demanding the surrender of Constantinople. IIc had estahlished his biockade of the city and would sureiy have won it hy famine or as. sauit if Timour's invasion of Asla Minor (A. D.

TURES, 1402-1451.
1402) had not summarily interrupted his plans and ended his career. Defected at the battle of angore and taken prisoner by the Tartar conqueror, he died a few months later - whether caged like a beatat or held in more honorahle cap. tivity is a question in some dispute.-E. Glibbon, Dedine and Fall of the Roman Empire, eh. 64-05. -See, alno, Tmour.
A. D. 1393.-Wallachlan capituiatlon. See Balienk and Danumtar States: 14-18tm Centuhize (Rouxamia, ETC.).
A. D. 1403-1451.-Prostratlon and recovery. -Conquests of Mahomet and Amurath II.It is one of the marvels of history that the Oitoman emplre, broken and dismembered hy Timour, recovered ite vigor and re-entered upon a long career. After the fall of Bajazet, three fragments of his dominions were held hy three of his surfiving sons, whlle other portions were transferred by Timour to pricues of the old Seljuk house. Civil war hroke out hetween the brothers of the Ottoman race; It resulted in the triumph of Mahomet, the youngest (A. D. 1418), who reunited a large part of the dominions of his father. He reigned hut eight jcars, which were years of peace for the Greets, with whom Mahomet maintained a friendly intercourse. His con, Amurath II., was provoked to renew the atate of war, and a formildable attack upon Constantinople was made in August, 1422. The frst assault failed, and disturbances at home recalled Amurath before he could repeat it. The Roman capltal was reprieved for thirty years; but its tremhllng emperor pald trihute to the sultan and yielded most of the few citles that remalned to him outside of his capltal. The Ottoman power had become threatening agaln in Europe, and Servians, Bosnians, Albaniana, Wal. lachlans, Hungarians, and Poles now struck hande together in a comhinatlon, once more, to oppose it. "A severe strugglo followed, which after ithreatening the utter expulsion of the house of Othmian from Europe, confirmed for centuries its dominlon in that continent, and wrought the heavier subjugation of those who were then seeklng to release themselves from Its superiority. In 1442 Amurath was repulsed from Belgrade; and his generals, who were besleging Hermanstadt, in Transylvania, met with a stlll more disastrous reverse. It was at Her. manstadt that the renowned IIunyades first appeared in the wars between the Hungarians and the Turks. He was the illegltimate son of Slglsmond, King of IIungary, and thic fair Ellzabeth Morsiney. In his early youth be gained distlaction In the wars of Italy; and Comines, in his memolrs. celelirates hilm under the name of the Whlte Knight of Wallachla. After some campalgns in Western Christendom, Ifunyades returned to protect his native country against the Ottomans." At Ifermanstalt, and again at Vasag. Hunyades defented the Turks wlih great slaughter and rivalled them in the ferocity with which his prisoners were treated. His fame now gave a great Impulse to the Crusade against the Turks whlch Pope Eugenius had preacheri, and drew volunteers to his standard from all the natlons of the West. In 1443, Hunyades led a splendid and powerful army neross the Danube near Semendra, drove the Turks beyond the Balkans, forcrd the paseage of the mountains v:th a boldness and a skill that is compared wlth the exploits of Hannibal and Napoleon, and extorted from the Sultan a treaty (of Szegeddla, July 12, 144) which rewcued a large Christian territory from the Moolem yoko. "The Sultan resigned all clalms upon Bervia and recognised George Brankovich as it independent sovereign. Wallachla was given up to Hungary." But the peace which thls treatr secured was brief. Christlan perddy deatroyed it, and the penalty was pald by whole centuries of suffering and shame for the Chrititians of the Danublang staten. "Wlthin a month from the signature of the treaty of Szegeddin the Pope and the Greek Emperor hatd persuaded the King of Hungary and his councillors to take an onth to break the oath Which had been pledged to the Sultan. They represented that the confessed weakness of the Ottomans, and the retirement of Amurath [who had placed his son Mahomet on thic throne and withdrawn from the cares of sovereignty] to Asla, gave an opportunity for crudicating the Turks from Eumpe which ought to be fully employed. The Cardiual Jullan [legate of the Pope) pacifed the conscientious misgivings which young King Ladislaus expressed, hy lils spiritual authority in giving dispensation aad absolution In the Pope's name. . . On the list of Sept., the Kiug, the legate, and IIunyadies, marched against the surprised ind unprepared Turks with an army of 10,000 Poles and Ifun. garians. The temerity which made them ex. pect to destroy the Turklsh power in Europe with so slight a force was equil to the dishonesty of thelr enterprise." They idvanced through Bulgaria to the Black Sea, and southward along its coast as far as Varna, which they took. There they were called to account. Amurath had resumed the sceptre, put himself at the head of 40,000 of the best warriors of Islam and on the 10th November he dashed them upon the Christian forces at Varna, wlth the hroken treaty borne llke $n$ hanner at thelr head. His victory was overwhelming. Cardinal Jullan and the King of Ilungary were both among the slaln. Hunyades fled with a little remnant of followers and escaped to try fortune in other flelds. "This overthrow did not hring Immediate ruiu upon Hungary, hut it was fatnl to the Sclavonle nelghhours of the Ottomans, who had joined the llungarian King agalnst them. Servin and Bosula were thoroughly reconquered hy the Mahome tans; and the ruin of these Clirlstan natoas, which adhered to the Greek Church, was acceler ated by the rellgious intolerance whlth which they were treated hy their fellow Christians of Hungary and Poland, who obeyed the Pope and lated the Greek Church as heretical. higotry of the Church of IRome In preaching up a crusade against the sect of the Patarenes, which was extensively spread in thai country [Bosnia]. caused the speedy and complete annexation of an Important froitier proviuce to the Ottomaa Empire. Seventy Bosniau fortresses are said to have opened their gates to the Turks within elght days. The royal house of Bosnla was annibllated, and many of her chief uobles embravel Mahometanism to nvoid a similar doom." After once more attemptling to escape from the throne, and belng recalled by domestic disturbances, Amurath reigned yet six years, extending his dominions in the Peloponnesus, defeatlag once more his ohl antagonist. Hunyades, who in vaded Servia (1448), hut belng successfully defiecl ia Alhania by tho herole Scanderbeg. He died la

TURKS, 1481-1590.

1451.-8tr E. 8. Creasy, Hiot, of the Ottoman Turke, ca. 4.
Aleo in: L. Ranke, Hiat. of Soroia, eh, 2. - E, Saabad, Hungary, pt. 1, ch. 8-4.4. Lamartine, Ifise. of Turkey, bk. 10-11.
A. D. 545 -1482. - Conqnest of Conetantlnople. The Emplre orgmalsed and perfected by Mahomet 11.-Mahomet II., son of Amurath II., "Inished the work of his predecensors; he made the OtLoman power In Europe what it has been ever aince. He gave a aystematic form to the cuntoms of his houte and to the dominion which he had won. His inat act was the murder of his infant hrother, and he made the murder of hrothers a standing law of his Empire. He overthrew the last romaunts of Independent Roman rule, of Independent Greek nationality, and hefxed the relation which the Greek part of his auhjects were to bear both towards thelr Turkisis maters and towards their Christian fellow.guhjects. He made the northern and weatern froatiers of his Empire neariy what they atili remain. The Ottoman Empire, in short, as our age has to deal with it, is, before all things, the work of Mahomet the Conqueror. The prince whose throne was fixed in the New Rome heid altogether another piace from even the mightlest of iis predecessors. Mahomet had relgned two years, he had lived twenty-three, on the memorable day, May 29th 1453 , when the Turks entered the city of the Casars and when the iast Emperor, Constantine, died in the hreach [see Constantinople: A. D. 1453]. . . And now that the Imperial city was at last taken, Dahomet seemed to make it his policy both to gather in whatever remained uaconquered, and to briag most of the states which had hitherto been tributary under his direct rule. Greece itself, thougit it had been often ravaged hy the Turks, hal not been added to thelr dominions. The Emperors had, In the very last days of the Emplre before the fall of Constantinopic, reeovered ail Peloponnesos, except some points which were heid by Venlee. Frank Dukes aiso reigned at Athens, and another small duchy iingered on In the isiands of Leukas and Kephallenia and on the coasts of Akarnanla. Tho Turklsi conquest of the mainiand, again saving the Venctian points, was completed hy the year 1400, hut the two western isiands were not taken untli 1479 . Eubola was conquered in 1471.
The Emplre of Trebizond was conquered ln 1461 , and the island of Lesbos or Mitylene In 1462 . There was now no independent Greek state left. Crete, Corfu, and some smalicr isiands and points of coast, were held hy Venice, and some of the Islands of the Agcan were stili ruled by Frank princes aad by the Knights of Salnt John. But, after the fall of Trebizond, there was no ionger any iadepealent Greek state any where, and the part of the Greek nation which was under Chris. tian rulers of any kind was now far smalier than the part which was uader the Turk. Whlle the Greeks were thus wholly subdued, the Siaves fared so better. In 1459 Scrvia was reduced from a trlbutary princlpaily to an Ottoman proviace, and six ycars later Bosnla was anaexed also. . . One littic fragment of the great Slavonlc power in tiose lands aione remsined. The little dlstrict of Zeta, a part of the Servian kingdom, was never fuily conquered by the Turks. One part of it, the mountaln district called Tsernagora or Montenegro, has kept its Independence to our timee. Standing as an outpott of freedom and Chriatendom amid surroundIng bondage, the Binck Mountain hae been often attecked, it has been severnl times overrun, hut It has never been conquered. . . To the south of them, the Christian Albanians held out for a long time under their famous chlet George Cantriot or Scanderbeg. After his death In 1459 , they also came under the yoke. These conquesta of Mahomet gave the Ottoman dominion In Europe nearly the eame extent which it has now. Ilis victories had been great, hut they were haianced hy mome defcats. The conquent of Servis and Boania opened the way to endiess Inroads into Hungary, South-castern Germany and North-easteru Italy. Put as Jet these land were merely ravaged, and the Turlish power met with some reverses. In 1458 Beigrade wal saved hy the last victory of Iluniades see HusGARE: A. D. 1442-1458], and thls time Mahomet the Conqueror had to fice. In another part of Europe, if in those days it is to be counted for Europe, Mahomet won the Genoese posseshions in the peninsuia of Crimea [A. D. 1475], and the Tartar Khans who ruied ln that peninsula and the neighbouring lands became vassal of the Suitan.

The last years of Mahomet's relgu were markcd by a great fe! lure and a great success. He falled to tak's Rhcties [A. D. 1480], Which beionged to the Knighis of Saint John; hut his troops suddeniy selzed on Otranto in Southern Italy. Had this post been kept, Italy might have fallen af weil as Greece; hut the Conqueror died the next year, and Oiranto was won back."-E. A. Freeman, The Ottoman Power in Europe, ch. 4.

Aleo in: A. Lamartine, IIist, of Turkey, bk. 12-13. -Sir E. S. Creasy, Mist. of the Ottoman Turks, ch. 5-6.-E. Glbbon, Deeline and Fall of the Roman Eimpire, ch. 68.-Sce, also, Italy: A. D. 1447-1480.
A. D. 1454-1479.-Treaty with Venice, followed by war. Sce Greece: A. D. 14,5-1479.
A. D, 1479.-Defeat at Kenyer-Mesö hy the Hungarians and Wallachians. See Iluvoary: A. D. 1471-1487.
A. D. 1481-1520. - The and atory of Prince Jem and the Christians.-Massacre of the Shiites.-Selim's conquests in Persia, Syria and Egypt. -The Snltan hecomes the successor of the Khalifs, the chief of Islam. "The lung relgn of Bayezid [or Bajazet] II. (1481-1512) which surpassed that of his fatiner and grand father, so that the tiree together nealy completed a century, was marked by a generai lethargy and iucapacity on the part of tine Turklsh Government. . . . Family dissensions were in deed the leading incldents of Bayezid's reign, and for many ycars he was kept lu a state of anxious uncertainty by the Ingenious intrigues of the Christian Powers concerning the custody of his brother, the unfortunate Prinec Jem. The adventures of Prince Jem (the name is short for Jemsihll, but in Europe it has heen written Zizim) cast a very unpleasant ilght upon the honour of the Christians of hls time, aad espe. clally upon the Knights of Rhodes. Of the tro sons of Mohammed II. Jem was undouhtedly the onc who was by nature fitted to be his successor.

Jcm howerer, was not the flrsi to hear of his father's death, and a year's warfarc agaiast his hrother ended in hls own defeat. The younger prince then sought refuge with the Kilghts of Rhodem, who promised to recelve him hosplably. and to and him a way to Europe, where he intended to renew hls opposition to bin brother's suthorfty. I'Aubusson, the Granl Master of Rholes, was too aatute a dipinmatint to sacrifee the molid gains that he perceivel would acerue to his Oriler for the sake of a few paltry twlages of conselence; and he had no aoner made sure of Prince Jem's perron, and Indized him to sign a treaty, by which. In the eveut of his coming to the throne, the Oriler was to reap many sterling adrantages, tian he ingeniously opened negotiations with Suitan Bayezid, with a vlew to ascer. tain how much gold that averelgn was willing to may for the asfe custody of his refmetory brother. It la nuly fair to my that Bayezuld, who had no partlcie of cruelty in his nature, did nli he could to come to terms with Jem. negotiatlon and compromise having proved in. effectual, he iistened to the proposais of the crafty Grand Manter, and Anally agreed to pay him 45,000 ducats a year, so iong no he kept Jem under his surveiliance. The Knighly of St. John possessed many commanderies, and wie one they now seiected for Jem's entertainment wan at Nice, In the south of France. In 1482 he urrived there, whoily unconsclous of the piots that were being woven about him.

On one pretext or another the knights contrived to keep thelr prisoner at Nice for several months, and then transferred him to Rousillon, thence to P'uy, and next to Sassenage, where the monotonies of captivlty were refievel by the delights of love. whleh he shared with the daughter of the com. mandant, the benutiful Ihllipine Ilélene, Ils law. ful spouse being fortunately away In Egypt.

Meanwhile Graul Master D'Auhussou was driving a inaadsome trade in his capacity of jailor. All the potentates of Europe were anx. ous to obtain possession of the chaimant to the Ottoman tbroae, and were ready to pay harge sums $\ln$ hard cash to enjoy the privilege of using tidia specially dangerous instrument against the Suhtan's peace. D'Aubusson was not averse to taking the money, but he didi sot wish to give up his captive; and his knightly homour felt no mirch in takiag 20,000 ducnts from Jen's deso. Iate wife (who probabiy had not heard of the fair lictène) as the price of her husband's relense. while he heid hiln ali the tlghter. Of such chivalrous stuf were in ule the famous krights of Rhoies; and of such men as D'Aubusson the Chureh made carlinals! A new lathence now appeared upon the scene of Jem's captlvity. Chardes VIII. of France considered that the Grand Master had made enougb profit out of the nnlucky prince, and the king resolvell to work the oracle himself. Ilis phan was to restore Jem to a nominai suitanate by the ald of Matthias Corvi. nus, Ferdiand of Naples, and the Pope. He took Jem out of the hands of the knirhts, and transferred him to the custoly of Innocent VIII., who kindiy couseuted to take care of the prince for the sum of 40.000 dinents a year, to be paid by hls grateful brother at Constantinople." Innocent's successor, the terribie Borgia, Alexander VI., unsatisfied with this fiberai allowauce, opened negotiations with Coastantinople lookiag to the payment of some heavy iump sum for summary riddance of por Jem. But the slinister bargaln was interruptell by Charies VIII. of France, who lnvaded Italy at thls juncture, passed through Rome, and took the captive prlace In hls traln when the went on to Naptes. Jem dipl on the way, nod few have doubted that Pope Alexander poisoned him, as he had poisoneri buny before. "The curious conclusion one drawi from the whine meianehoiy tale la, that there was not apparentiy a single honent price In Christendom to take compasaion upon tide cap. twe." In Isi3 Hayezhly wan depmedt by his sin Selim, and did not luag survive the humiliation. To avoil troubles of the Prince Jem eharacter. Selim siew ull his hrothers and nephews, eleven In number, making a fambiy molitule around the throne. Then be prepared hibumil for forcign conguest by exterminatiug the mometimen trouble. some eret of the Shins, or Shites, In his domin. Ions. "A carefuliy organizel system of detec. tlven, whom selim distributel throughout his Andatic provencen, revealed the fact that the munber of the hereticai sect reacied the alarniat total of 70,000 . Seilm . . . secretly massel hifs troops at apots where the heretics chiletly congregatel, and at a given slguai 40,000 of them were massucred or Imprisonei.
llaving got rid of the enemy within his gatew, Rellin uow proceedievi to atheck the bead of the shalas, the great shah Ismali hilmseff the founder of the suth ibae of Persian sovereigus, who had iately establisheni bis authority over the provinces of Persia] Selim wet forth with an army eatimated at over $140,000 \mathrm{men}, 80,000$ of which were cavairy. After weary and painful marching, the Ottomand forced Ismail to glve luattle at Chaldiran [or defeatedi him. "The victory of Chaidiran" ( $151+$ ) nilght have been followed by the conquest if Persia, but the privntions which the sudiliery hand andergone had rendered thent uamunageahile, and Selin was forcell to conteut himsedf with the annexation of the important provinces of kiur. distan ani Dyarlekr, which are still purt of the Turkish Empire; and then turneyi homewards, to prosecute other schemes of conquest. Sis peace, however, was concluded hetween him ami the Shah, andi a frontier war coutiuned to lex waged for many sears. During the cumpuica agninst Persia, the Turks hall beru kept in nnxicty by the presence on tharir flamks of tho forces of the Maraluk Suitansof Egypt and Sy ria, whose froutiers now marcheri with the territory of the Otomans." Turning hisaruss ugainst the Mamluks, "Selins set out in 1.516 for Syria, und meeting the Mambin army on the fiedif of Marj Dabik near Aleppo, administered a terrible de feat, in wbich the aged sultan El-Gburi was trampled to death. Ile fonnd a brave succerono in Tumas Bey, but in the intervin the Turks haid nastered Syria and were advanclag to Gaza. Ilere the Mininks made another stand, but the generalship of Siaun I'asha was not to be rewistriti any more than the preponderance of his furces. The tinal buttie was fought at IReyduniya iu the neigbbourhock of Cairo, in January, 1517.
Twenty five thousand Mannluks hy stark upoa the fiedd, and the eneniy occupied Cairo. There a succession of street-fights tork place." The perfidious Turkish Suitan tinaliy cheated the Mamluks into submission by offering aunesty, and then put them to the sword, giviag the city up to massacre. "Tuman Bey, after some further reshata..re", was raptirel andexecuted, and EEST became a Turkish province. . . . sultnn selim returned to Constantinople in 1518, a much more dignitied personage than be had set out. By the conqueat of the Mamluk Kingolom he had also sueceeded to thelr authority over the wacred cleles of Arabla, Mekka and Medina, and In recognition of this polltion, as weil as of lits undnubtexi supremacy among Mohammedan monarchs, he received from the last Abbaalde Khallf, who kept asindowy court nt Cairo, the Inheritance of the great pontifis of llaghdad. The 'falnéant ' Khall? was Induced to make over to the renl soverelgn the spiritual nuthority which he atill affected to exereise, and with It the symbola of lith ottlec, the standard and clonk of the Propiet Molasmmind. Melim now beame not only tise visible chice of the Moinamminn state throughont tho widedominlons sublued to hls sway, hut alen the revered head of the religlon of inlom, wherows)ever lt was practised In lis orthodox form. The heretleal sham of Persia might reject his clnim, but lu India. In all parts of Asla and Africn, where the tiaditional Klinlitate was recognlzed, the Ottoman Suitan lesceforth wns the supremo head of the church, the successor to the spiritust prestige of the long line of the Khails. Ilow far inis new title commands the homage of tive ortiuntos Moslem world le a mntter of dlapute; but there can be no douht that it has nlwnys Mhecl, and stifl adds, $n$ real nod importnnt authority to the acts nad proclamations of tho Otthustn Suitan." Selim died ln 1520, nnd was succredial hy hif mon Suleyman, or Bolymnn, who mepuired the name of "the Magniticent."S. Iancel'oole, Nory of Turkey, ch. 8-9.

Napife, ted that voisonel] on ont Is, that prince the raphla sin ilistlon. urscter, eleven und the forelgn roubledomin. detcc out hly 10 num. arming seal his congre. m were thld of ceeded Shals line of blishad

At.su in: A. de Lamartine, Ifiat. of Turkey, bk. 15-18 (r. 2).-A. A. Paton, Hiat. of the Egyptian Rerwhtion, ch. s.
A. D. 1498-i502.-War with the Venctians. -'Duricg the tirst 17 yenrs of Bajazet's reign, the pure Intwrull the Frnetinas and the Porte, though occasionally mennced, remained on the whole undisturlevi. The Venetians complained of the Turkisl incuralous, and the detinltive ocerpation of Moutentgro, while tise Portc, on its sile, was jeulous Iecranse the IRepubile had reduced the Juke of Nuxos to dependence, nad obtained possession ne Cyprus (1489). At inst. la 1498, the Turks, after making great navai preparitious, sudidenly arrested all the Veuetan reshdents at Constantinople, and ln the following year seized lajunto, which surrendered without triking a blow (August 1409). Son after, a lnoly of 10,000 Turks crossed the isonzo, carry. figg tire and desolation alnost to the lagoons of Venice. In August 1500. Modon was taken by assault. .. . Xivarino and Koron surrendered sunn after, but towarila the close of the year the Ventians were more successful. They captured Figina, devastated and partly occupled Mytllene. Tenedos, and Sarothrace, i 1 with the help of a Spanish squadron, and 7, ' $^{`}$ ) troops, under Gonsalvo de (rdova, reluced the island of Cephalonia. For this scrvlce the grateful Venethans rewarded Gonsulvo with a present of 500 tuns of Cretan wlne, 60,000 ponnds of cheese, 266 ponnds of wrought silver, und the honorary freedom of thelr Republic. In 1501 the Vene. tian tieet was jolned by a Freuch, a Pnpal, and a Spanish squadron, hut, through a wnnt of cordiality among the commanders, little was effected. The Turks, however, had not made a better figure; and the Porte. whose attention Was at liat lime distracted by the allairs of Per. sia, was cvldently laclined for peace. The disordered state of the Venetlan finances, and the decay of thelr commerce through the msiltime discoveries of the Portuguese, sleo dlapomed them to negor $1:$ 'inn; although the male of Indulgencen, Eninuet them by the Pope for this war, is eald to have brought niore than $\mathbf{7 0 0}$ pounds of gold Into thelr exchequer. The war nevertheleas con. tinued through I Mon, and the Venetisas were tolerahly asccealul, having captured many Turk. lsh whipa, and, wlth the anistance of the french. taken the finmi of Sta. Maura. But nt length a trenty was slgned, Ilec. I4til, by whlch Venlce was allowed to hold Cephalonia, but restored Sta. Maura, and permltted tile I'orte to retaln Its conquesta lncluding the three Important fortrenues of Moton, Koron, and Navarino. "-T. It. 1)yer, Jiat. of Molern Nurope, $\Delta k .1, r h$. 6 ( $r, 1$ ).
A. D. 1589,-The Sultan acqnires soverelgnty of Aglers and Tunls. Dee Barmaky States: A. 11. 1510-1535.

A. D. 1520.-Accession of Solyman l.

A. D. 1521-1526.-Capture of BelgradeGreat Invasion of Hungery.-Overwhelming Fletory of Mohacs. Seo Hexoary: A. I). 1487-1526.
A. D. 1522.-Conquest of the isle of Rhodes. - Expulsion of the Knlghts of St. John. ee Itonpitalleke op St. Johi.: A. I). 1522.
A. D. 1526-1567.-The Sultan suzerain of Transylvanla and master of Hungary,-Invasion of Austria and slege of Vienna,-Death of Solyman the Magalficent. Bee IUvaany: A. D. $1526-158 \%$.
A. D. 1537,-Final subjuration of the Bosglans. See Halkan and Dancbian Stateg: 0 -16th Centurifa.
A. D. 1532-1553- Frightful depredations along the coast of Southern Italy. See Italy (SOUTHERN): A. 1). 15:28-1,70.
A. D. 1542.-Allance with France.-Slege of Nice.-Ravages on the Itallan coast. Sce Fhance: A. D. 1530-1547.
A. D. I55I-1560. - Unsuccessful attack on Malta.-Capture of Tripoii.-Dimantrous attempt of the Christians to recover that city. See Baraary States: A. D. 1543-1500.
A. D. 1565.-Unsuccesiful attack on the Kaights of St. John In Malta. Sue IIoapitaz. LERS of St. John: A. D. 1530-1565).
A. D. 1566-1571,-Relgn of Sellm II.-War with the Holy Lesgue of Spain, Venice and the Pope.-Conquest of Cyprun.-Great defeat at Lepanto.-' In 1560, Solyman the Mag. nificent closed hils long and prosperous relgn. Ilis son nud successor, Selini II., possessed few of the qualithes of his great father. Bred In the Seraglio, be showed the frults of hls education In his Indoient way of life, and In the free Indulgence of the most licentious appetites. With these effemlnate tastes, he Inhericed the passlon for conquest whlch belonged, not only to hls father, but to the whole of his warlike dynasty.

The scheme whlch most occupled the thoughts of Selim was the conquest of Cyprus.
. Sellm, resolved on the acqulaltion of Cyprus, was not slow ln devislng a pretext for ciaiming it from Venlce as a part of the Ottomnn emplre. The repuhlic, though wllling to mnke almost any concesslon rather than come to a rupture wlth the coloseal power under whose shadow she lay, was not prepared to surrender withoul a struggle the richest gem In her colonlal diadem. Wnr was accordingly declared agalnst her hy the Porte, and vast preparations were made for fitthag out an armament agalinat Cyprue. Venirs. In fere turre, athowed ber unual alicrity in provfic: $\log$ for the encounter. She atralinell her meourcees to the utmost. Ina very short time she equipperi a powerful ieet, and mok menuurento place the Rorincmillone of Cyprua io a proper sute of defence, Hue Venlce mo longer bonsted a navy nuch pride of Genoi, pad to rile the unquentioned mistress of the Medlterranean. The defences of leer colunles, morevorer, during lier lopg repose hat grodually fallen Into deray. ing her ex. tremity, slie turned to the Chrintinn powers of Eumpre, and hesoughe them to make common caunu- with her agnluat the enemy of Curintendlow The only remponmes to her appeal came. frat, from Pope Puin $V$.i, and Annill, through his urgency. Trom Phllip in, of Apalila. After much dellly mitlon, Pluillp agreel, In the After of 1870 , "enter into an alliance with Venlec and the Pope agalnnt the Ottoman Porte. "The enoulng summer. the royal admiral, the famous aquadron ott stecily, put ow tea, hy the klng $\frac{1}{2}$ orders. Ile was axion after relnforced by a few galleys which were furminhed by bhe hollinem, and placed under the command of Mark Antonlo Colonna.

On the laxt of Augunt, 1.570, the Comblned cect effectel lto junctlon, with the Venetlans at Candia, and a plat: of operathons was Immedlatel, srranged. It was not long bePore the atarting Intelligence arrlveld that Nicoosla, the capptal of Cyprus, hail treen tukeu anil sucked hy the Turks. with all the clrcumathnces of cruelty willeh distingulah wars in which the feelIng of national hostlity is emilittered by rell glous hatred. The plan was now to be changel. $A$ dispute arose mong the commanders as to the cnurse th be pursited. No one land authority enough to enforce eompllance with his own opth. lon. The dilspute emited In a rupture. The expedition was a bandoned. . . Still the stoutheartet pontir was not ciscouraged;" nor dld the king of spaln draw hack. "Venice, on the other hand, mon showed that the ciathoile king had poul, rewoun for dlystristling her fidelify Appalled by the lose of Nlcosia, with her usuan Ineonstancy, she despatched a secret agent to Constantt nople, to see if sonie terms might not yet he made whth the sii' nn." Her overtures, how. ever, were coidly re iveil hy the sultan, anis she Was won byck to the ullinuice. "Towarls the close of 1 inio, the deputies from the tivrece pow. ers mive tin rome to arrange the terms of the lesgue," With much difitculty, a treaty was concluded, and ratfled In May, $15 \% 7$, to the effect that the operations of the tengue :i should be lif: rectedn against the Moors of Tunns. Tripoll, and Algiters, as well as against the Turks; that the chintracting pirtles shmill furnish 200 galleys, 1 tho trinsports and sumalifer vessels, 50,000 foot and 4.500 horse, with the requlsite arillery and numitions: that ly April, at farthest, of erery succeeding year, a slimilhr force should be herlid in realiness by the allies for expedtions to the Ievant; and that any year in whleh there was no expelifiton in comuon, and either spaln or the repubilie slould destre to engage to one on her own account against the Intdel, the other confederates should furnish 50 galleys towards it that if the enemy alould in inale the dimmin. ious of any of the threc powers, the others should be bound to come to the ald of thelr ally; that three oil xthe of the expeneme of the war should be borne by the Catholic alng, twoolx xthe hy the republle, the remalning alath by the Holy Bee; that each power should appolint a captain: general; that the unled volees of the three com. manderi should resulate the plan of operathom. that the execullon of the plan should be Intruated to the captaln. general of the leas bue, and that this hilgh office thouli be given to flone John of Austrin [natural con of Chiviles V . and half.brother of Phillp 11.]. . Auch were the Principal provistone of the famous treaty of the "riow mon got together a powerful fleet, protly druwn frum his own dominhowe, and is part from theoe of the Soalem powers on the Mediterm. nean, who arknowleigeda alleglante to the Porte. The armuila was pascel under the command of Sellm's brothe $\cdot \ln \cdot \ln w$. the Pacha Plali.
 aulled for the Adrlatck, and Plall, after landllng and laylog wate the terrtory helongling to the repubifc, detached Uluch [fley of Algicru) with his muarron to penetrate higher up the gulf. The Algerine, in execuling theme orders, sid. vanced to near to Vencee as to throw the Intabil. tants of that capltal into consternatlon. ward thels own preparatlons were punhling for. wand thelr own preparatlons with their wonted alacrity, - Indeed whth more slacrity than thor. oughness.

The fleet was placetl under the coinmand of Sehastian Venlero," and ualled hefore mildsummer, "or an much of it as was then realy, for the port of Menalna, appolnted as the place of rendez rous for the alliea Here he was mon joinnil hy Colonna, the pnpal commander. with the ilt tle muyuilron furnished hy hls holiners: and the two fleets tay at anchor. Waiting the arrival of the rest of tie confecleratem and of arrlval of the rest of the confeclerates and of Don Jolin of? Austria." The later reached Messina on the esstho of August. "The whole number of Vessels in the armada, great and small, amounted to sumethlag more than 3 io. Of these full two thirlds were 'royal galleys, Venlee alone contributed 108, Wesiden slx 'galeazzas,' Theso were shlps of enormous bulk The number of pursons on toantl of the ficet, solulers and seaIncil, was estImated at 80,000 . . The soldiers dill not exceed 29,000 . The dh1 not exceed 29,000. . . On the 16 th of sep. tember the magrifcent armament. stood out the allles recelved tillings i" that Faniagosta, the second clty of Cyprus of cond clty of Cyprus, hat fallen Into the lisanis of the encmy, aud thils under circumstancea of unparalleled perfidy and cruetty. ... The fall of Famagosta secured the fall of Cyprus, whih thus berame permanently incorporated in the Ottoman emplre." On sunday, October Th, the armada of the Turks was found and attacked lo the gulf of Lepanto. The terrific tight whlch ensued lasted only four houra, but those were hours of Indescribable destruction and carnage. "It was lodeed a sangulnary battle, surpassing In thls partcular any sen. fght of modern times. The loss fell unuch the most heavily on the Turks. There is the usual discrepancy alout numbers; hut it may be safe to estlmate thelr loss at nearly 25,000 slaln and 5,000 prisoners. What hrought most pleasure to the hcarts of the conquerors was the liberation of 12,000 Christian etaplyes, who had teen chained to the oar on board the Moslem galleys, and who now canie forth, with tears of joy streamling down their

TURES, 1672-10as

urshould

 be by the loly See; captain. ree com. erathans; rould be league. a to ling V. and were the $y$ of the lamayed. t, prortly art from edlicerme Porte. mand of ali. ed fleets landing 5 to the m] with he gulf. en, nhaln. mation.ing for. wonted on thorder the lled beras then I as the he whs nander, olineas: ling the of Don Hessina nber of iounted ull two ne con. Theso urmiver od sea. volders Sep. od out h tleet, ta, the lisnds cea of he fall whilh in the th, the ked in which were mage. assing timcs n the ahout their oners. of the fistian ar on cance their magand cheota, to blem thelr deliverem. The low of the allice whe comparadively amall, - lew thana 8,000." As to the armada of the Turte, "Is finy clmont be ald to heve been annithilated. Sot more thes 40 galleys esenped out of aear 250 which antered Into the metion. .. . The aows of the victory of Lopanto cautid ic profound concation throushout Chrlacendom, In "iunlee, wh!eh might be mild to have galned a aew leace of existence from the revult of the botte, . . . the 7th of October whes eet apart to bo obierved for over an a national aunivomary.

It in a great error to apeak of the victory of Lepanto as a barren rietory, whlch yielded no frults to those who galned it. True, It did not attip the Tupks of an lach of terfitory. But the lom of reputation - that tower of streagth to the conqueror - was aot to be estl. mated." - W. H. Preicott, Hiod. of Philip II., bk. 8, eA. Q-11.
Almo IN: Bir W. Stirling.Marwell, Don Jcin of Austria, e. 1, eh. 18-15.
A. D. 1369-1570. - Firat collialon with the Rusuians, - Viair Sokolli's canal prejoct and its trustratlon.-Pisce with the Cras. Bee ilrmala: A. D. 1569-1671.
A. D. 1572-1573. - Withdrawal of Vealce from the Fols Learue.- Conquest of Tuale by Don Joha of Anatria and ita recovery, with Goletta.-"Ulucciall, whom Sellm ... made cominander.In-chiof of all his naval forces, ex. erted himaelf wlth extraordinary vigour and activity in titing out a new fleet, to supply the place of that which had been ruined in the battle of Lepanto; and such at this time were the resources of the Turkish empire, that he was ready by the onth of April [1572] to leave Constantinnpie, with wore than 200 galleys, a a great number of other shlps. With tha fleet he coasted along Negropont, the Morea, sud Eplrus; put the maritime towns into a posture of defence; clastlued with great severity many of those Christinas who had been con. cerned in the lnvitation given to Don John [who luad just been oftered the moverelgnty of Albanla and Macedonia by the Chrintians of those coun. tries ]; sud afterwards wook hiss station at Moion In the Morea, with an intention to watch there the niotions of the enemy. I? ? had full lelsure to finixh all the preparatoons which he judged to be necensary. The allies dlaputed long with one another cincerning the plan of thelr future operatlons," and were also held insctive hy the Spanish king's fear of an attack from France. "It was the last day of August before the allles could effectuste a junction of their forces; and It was the middle of September before they came In sight of the enemy. . . . Vluceisill drew out his fleet, as if he intenderi to offer battle; but no sonner had he made a single discharge of his artillery .- thana he retired under the fortifica. thons of Modon." Tue allles thought flat of busieglag Mindon, but gave up so project. They then sent Alexander Farnewe, prince of Parma - afterwarde so famous in the Nether. lands - to reduce Navarino; but he had no suc. cess and ahandoned the slege. The expedition then returned to Messina. The Venetlans, dis. satisfed with; the conduct of the war, now falth. lessly negotiated a separate peace with the Turhs; Gut Plilip II. of Epaln neace winth the alliance with the Pope (now Gregory XIII.), and crdered his brother, Don John, to proceed the aezt spring to Africe and undertake the roducton of Tunla. Don John obeyed the onder, "carrying with hlm for thle purpmee a deet of 8,000 mill, having 20,000 foot on bonrd, bealdes 400 11 fht hores, 700 ploncers, and a numerous trala of heary artillery. Tuntewanat this time in the hanals of the Turts, commanded hy Hoder Beshs, Whom Sellm had lately meat to povarn the towa and kingdom. Hoder, selzed with conalernation at tho approach of the Spanimh fieet, left Tunla whith hls troope and a great number of the in. bahlitants, and Don John took poseeselon of the place wlthout meetlog with the smallest oppoai. tion. Phllip had lastructed his hrother, when bo eent hlm on thls oxpedition, to deutroy Tunis, and to streagthen the fortincitions of the isfe and fortrese of Goletta. But instend of comply. lug with theme Intructions, Don Joha resolved to fortify the town more stmongly than ever; and having lald the foundatonn of new fort, of ritadel, ho treated all the inhrbitants who remained with lenity and indlulgene ; and ongaged many of thooe who had bedi to return and submalt to the Spanleh government; after which he carrimed back hia fleet to Slelly." It is belleved that Don John had concelved ambltous hopes of a kingdom on the African Lurder of the Mediter. ranean. "In the summer followigg [1573], Sellm sent Ulucciall agalnat Tunis, with a theet consiating of 800 shlpu, having alout 40,000 troops on board, under the command of his son. in-lew, Slinan baiba. The new fort which Don John had begun to hulld was not yet complete. Nor was the garrison which be had left strong enough to hold out long agalnst so great a force." Before Don John could reasacmble a deet with Which to make hile way to the protection of his African conquest, both Tunls and Foletta were carried hy nemailt, and pasaed agaln lato the posseman of the Turke and their Moorish vamale. - R. Wateon, Hise. of Philip II., bk. 9.

Also 19: Sir W. Atirli-g-Max wal, Don Juhn of Auetria, v. 2, eh. 1-8.
A. D. 1572-1623.- Beginning of the decline of the Ottoman power.-" The conquest of Cyprus was the last great expleit which cver alded materially to the dominionn of the "orte; the hattic of Lepanto was the final blow which destroyed its naval superiortey. The days of greatness had gone hy. The kingdoms of ?e Weat were developing their strength, and \{. d learat the pollcy of inflon and of peace among themselves. Their arniles Luil acquired the discipline and had learit the lessons la which the Ottumans hed shown so formidable ar axample: and their navy pode triumphant on the sess. The Empirc, no longer In the hands of Charle V., with foreign interests to absorb its power. could bestow an undivided strer gth upon its own affalra; and tio $\overline{3}$ mperor Ferdinand was looking forward with some hope to an Incorporation of Mungary, which should end the weakness, and ensure the safety, of his castern frontler. As the pre-eminence of the Porte, however, and the dread of it declined, a wider intercourse for her wlth Europe began. ... Slowly the Sultans were beginning to take part in the schemes and comblnations of the Christian Powers, from which they had hitherto so contemptuously stood alon?. Five relgns succeeded to that of Sellm [the Sot, son of Solyman the Magolficent]. during whlch the progress of decllne continued marked. The Indolence of Amurath III. [1:5:4-15057 , the Incapaclty of Mahomet III. [15951603], the Inexperience of Achmet I. [1603-16i7], the imprudenee of Othman II. [ $16 \mathrm{i}-1622$ ], and the imbecllity of Mustapha [1617-i618, and 1622-1623], cuntributed to hrling the Ottoman Empire Into a condition of anarehy and weak. ness. During tise reign of Amurath hostifities with Austria were renewed, and suecessive losses testificil to the enfeebied state of the Ottoman arnis "-C. F. Johustone, Historical Abstracte, ch. 3.

A. D. 1591-1606. - Wars in Hungary and Croatia.-Great victory at Cerestes.-Peace of Sitvatorok. See Ilunoary: A. D. 1567-1604; and 1595-1606
A. D. 1621-1632.-War with Poland.-Victory at Cecora and defeat at Choczim. See Poland: A. D. $1590-1648$.
A. D. 1623-1640.-War with Persia.-Siege and capture of Bagdad.-Horribie massacre of the inhabitants. - During the frst tweive years of the reign of Amurath IV. [1623-1635], the Ottoman Empire had been oceupied with aetlve hostiitites $\ln$ ditterent parts of Europe, and es. peeiaiiy whth Poiand. Germany, and the maritlme powers of the Mediterrancan. . . . In the east, however, great iosses had been sustained. Shah Abbas, a sovereign weii entitied to the epithet 'Great,' had repossessed himself of Diarhekr, Bagidaij [1023], the dlstrict of the Euphrates, with Kourdistan; and, on the north, he had regalned Armenla, and a considerabie part of Anatolia. The suitan therefore resoival to undertake an expeditlon to reeover tite territories thus taken from inlm, and to this he was eneouraged by the death of hls formidabie foe the Per. sian monareh. Amurati narched from inis eapitaj eariy in 1635, to suiverintend the operations of the campaign. . in. In passing througin Asia, he took care personaily to examine Into the eouduct of inis varlons Pasias, and wherever it was requisite he sulhjeeted tilem to a sovere punishment. One of them, the Pasin of Erzcroum, was put to dcatil. Ilaving at that city revicwed his army, ine fonnd them to amout to 200,0060 men, and as his frat object was the seizure of Armenia, the key of the jerrsian provinces, he besieged Erivan, and not withstanding a vigorous defence, the fortress in a few days surrendered. Thuris ant the surroundiug provinces speediily fell into his hands, and Amarath returued in the a iter to Constantinople, entering the city in great trimmph. The affairs of Europe were in such a state of confusion, tiat it was severai years ere he again appeared in the east, the scene of so many of his victories. The Khan of Tar tary threw off his alieglanee, the Poilsh serfs appuredi suidieniy on the Cuspian shores, auld. jobining a body of itnsslans, attacked and carricd the fortress of Azof . . . The European war, which at this the occurred, $\mathrm{r} \cdot$ dered it unneces. sary for the sultan to elltertalu any scrious apprehension from his euenies in tile west, who were suthcientiy occupiel with their own affairs. IIe thercfore directed inis attention to Persia, resolved to subjugate that country, and to seize upon Baghiai. To this enij his preparations wre proportionally great. An imatense army wiss eullecteci on the Asiatle side of the Bospho. rins. This mighty host numbered more than 300,000 armed men, anci was accompanied hy a numerous array of mincrs, as weil as artiliery. And after liaving consulted au astruloger, Amu-rath emharked amld ait tie dlisplay whleh Asl. atic pomp eouid furnisi, and drected his prog. ress towarl Persin. After a successful march, thls immense nrmy arrlven at Baghdad. The elty was strongiy fortited, and defended iy a resolute arniy of 80,000 men. The Siain, inowever, was aissent $\ln$ the nortiern part of his dominlons, willeit had been tireatened hy an lnvaslon from Inilla, uuder Shai Jehan, father of tis celehrated Aurungzels. Baghdad, therefore, was left to lts own resourees. The operations of the siege began ln October 1638. . . The besieged naule repeated salies, with : force of five or slx thousand men at a tlme, who, on re. tirlng, were succeelled by a similar number, nuli tilus the iosses of the Ottoman army were some. times very great. The 200 grent guns, however. whleh piayed upon tie ramparts, at length made a wide opening ln the waiis, and after five days' gigiting in the breach thus mside, where 'the slain lay in lmmense muititude, and the blool was stagnated iike a pooi to wade tirough,' the elity was taken. Quarter was glven to 24,000 of the defenders, who re. mained aiive, on coniition that they would lay down their arms. But as soon as tiley had done so, the Suitan perfldiously lssmed oriers to the Janizaries, and tine work of hutcirery commenced, and was carried on 14 torch-ilght during the nigit on which the eity was taken, and an Indiseriminate sinughter took place, neither youth, nor age, nor sex being spareal by the ruthless conqueror and ints merciiess soliiiers.

In the morning of the 23 bi of December the Suitan marcied into the clty, passing with hls armv over the innumerable bodies of the unfortloate Persians, whose gailant defence merIted a better fate. Some 15,000 women, chiidren and oid mo a were all that remalned of ths Iniahilants, who, but a day or two before, filled every part of the magnificent capital. . . . The enpture of Bagidad ciosed tie niifitary curecr of the Suitau."-R. W. Fraser, Turkey, Ancient and Modern, ch. 17.-"A peace with Persia, on the basis of that wincia Soiyman the Great had granted in 1555, was the speedy resuit of Amu. rath's victories (15th September, 1639). Eriwan was restored hy the Porte; but the possession of Bagdal ani the nijacent territory by the Ottomans was solemily sanctioned andi contirmed. Eighty years passed away before Turkcy was again obiiged to struggle against int old and whstinate taemy on the line of the Eupirates. - Amurath died at the age of 29 , ou the 9 th of February, 1640."-Sir E. S. Creasy, Hist. of the otemand Curks, ch. 13.
A. D. 1625-1626.-War in Hungary. See Hesoany: A. 1. 1606-1660.

A. D. 1640.-Accession of Ibrahim.

A. D. 1645-1669. - The war of Candia. Cr aquest of Crete. - "The Turks attacked the Island lof Crete] in 1645, and the war went on tili 1663, when Crete was lost. This is callevi the war of Candia, from the long siege of the town of Candia, wiitch was most galiantiy defculed by the Venetians, with the help of niany voiunteers from Western Europe. It must be rumembered that, though the lsiand has sometimes got to be eailed Candia, from tile town of Caadia and its memorabie sicge, yet the lsiaud itself has never changed lis nane, hat has aiways been caited Crete both by Greeks and Turks."-E. A. Freetuan, Tho Otloman Puter in Europe, p. 145. lad. The ded hy a hah, how. of hls doan Inva. her of the therefure, peratons

The force of ho, on re. nber, and ere somehowever t lengih and after is made, ultitudes, pool to Quarter who re. vould lay they had d orders bntehery rch-llght as taken, k piace, pared by solitlers. Decemlrer 3 of the nee mer ca, cbiled of the ire, tilled - enreer Ancient ersla. on reat had of AmuEriwaa ossession by the nd ron. ure Turiust her of the ye of 28, Crensy,
-"The war which cost the republic of Venice the isisnd of Crete owed Its origin to the Incessant lrritatlon caused by the Western corsalrs in the Archlpelago. Some strong measures adopted by the Venetlaas to suppress the plracles committed by Turkisis and Barbary corsaing in the Adriatle, crented mueh dissatisfaction on the part of the Othoman government, whlcb looked chlefly to the Mohammedan corsalrs as a protectloa sgaiast the Cbrlstian corsairs in the Levnnt, and considered It the duty of the Venetlans to suppress the piracles of these Christlans. Tbe Porte at last resolved to seek a profltable revenge. and a pretext sooa presented itseif. In 1644 some Mattese galleys made a prize whlch offended the personal feeliags of the relgning sultan, Ibrahim. . . . As he feared to attack Malta, Ine resolverl to make the Venetlaas respoaslble for the shelter which Crete bad afforded to the corsalrs. The Porte affucted to consliler Venlce as a tributury State, whleh was bound to keep the Arehlpelago free from Christlan corsalrs, In returu for the great commerciai privlleges it enjoyed la the Othomaa empire. Immediate preparations were male for uttacking Crete, but the project was conceuded from the Venctian senate, under the pretenee of direeting the expedition ngalnst Malta. . . . In the month of June 104is, the Othoman urmy landed before Cnnea, which eapltulated on the $17 \mathrm{H}_{\mathrm{h}}$ of August. This treneherous commencement of the war authorised the Christian powers to tispease whth nll the formallic's of internatioaal law ia lending nssistance to the Venctians during the culebrited Wir of Cinnlia, which lasted nearly 25 gears. During this long struggle the Venctians generally malutalnell the superionty at sea, but they were un. able to prevent the Othoman asyr, whenever it excrted its full force, from throwing in supplies of fresh tropss anl ample stores, by which the Othoman army was enabled to commaad the whule islund, an' kept Candia, and the other furtressess is the lands of the repmblic, cither blockated or besleged. The Grerks generally faroureal the Turks, who encouraged them to enltivate their lands by purehasing the pronluce at a liberal priee, for the use of the army. The spundrons of the republic often raviged the consts of the Othoman empire, and on one oceaNibll they carricol off abont 5,000 slaves from the coint of the Dlorea, betwern l'atras and Coron. In the year 1056, after Mocrenigos great victory at the 1 hardanclles, they tork possession of the islands of Temedos nud Lemmos, but they were driven from these concuests by the Othoman fleet in the following year. At the end of the your 1686, the grand vizier. Aehmet Fiueprily, one of the greatest ministers of the Othoman em. pire, took the eommand of the siege of Candia. The whole naval force of Venice, and numerous bands of Froneh and Itnltan volunteers, nttrmpted to force the grand vizler to rulse the siege: but the skill of the Italian engineers, the ralour of the Freueh nobles, umi the fletermined perveverunce of Morosini, were vain agalnst the strict discipline amp steady Yalour of the Jthem.un troops. The works of the besiegers were pulirid forward by the labours of a nimerous butly of Griek pioneers, null the fire of the pow. erfirl batteries at last rendered the place uatenable At this culsls Morosint proved hlinself a he fonnd that he and a sluevere patriot. When be found that he must surrender the city, he resolved to make his capitulation the means of purchaslag peace for the republlc. . . . On the 27 th September 1669. Aclimet Kueprily received the keys of Candia, and the republic of Verice re. slgned all right to the lsland of Crete, but retalned possession of tbe three Insular fortresses of Karabusa, Sudn, and Splnslonga, with thelr valuable ports. No fortress is suid to have cost so much hlood and treasure, both to the beslegers and the defenders, ns Cnndla; yet the Greeks, in whose territory it was sltunted, nnd who could have furnlilied an army from the la. Iabltants of Crete sufficlently numerous to have decided the issue of the contest, were the people oa the shores of the Mediterraaean who took least part ia thls memorable war. So utterly destitute of all mational feellng was the Hellenle race at thls perlod."-G. Fiulay, Ifist. of Greece under Othomun and Venetian Domination, ch. 2.
A. D. 1649.-Accession of Mohammed IV.
A. D. 1660-1664.-Renewed war witb Aus-tria.-Defeat at St. Gothard.-A twenty years truce. See IItwgary: A. D. 1660-1664.
A. D. 1664-1665. - Alliance with France broken. - War of the French with Tunis and Algiers. See Banbary Stateb: A. D. 1664 1684.
A. D. 1670-16\%6.-Wars with the Poles. See Polani: A. 1). 1688-1696.
A. D. 168i-1684,-Rupture with Fraace.French attack on Scio and war with the Barbary States. Sce Barbiny States: A. D. 1604-1684.
A. D. 1683.-Great invasion of Austria.Siege of Vienna.-Overwhelming defeat by Soblesici and the Imperialists. See IItwonur: A. D. $1068-16 \mathrm{~B}$ :
A. D. 1683-1699.-Expuision from Hungary. -The Peace of Carlowitz. See HuNumil: A. I). 1683-1099.
A. D. 1684-1696. - War with the Holy League.-Expulsion from Hungary.- Venetian conquests in Greece.-Revolution at Con-stantinople.-Accession of Solyman II.-Czar Peter's capture of Azov. - The first Russian acquisition on the Black Sea.- $\ln 16 \times 4$, "a leagne agninst the Turks, under the protection of the Pope, aud thence calleol the llaly League, wns formed hy the Emprror, the king of Poland, nul the fiepmblic of Venicr: and it was re. solved to procure, if possible, the necession to it of the Czar of Muscory. The Venetians were Indnced to join the league by the hope of recovering their former possessions, nud deelared war agaiast the Nultan, Mahomet IV., July $15 t h$. The war which ensued, now ealled the Holy War, lasted till the I ence of Cnrlowiez in 1099. Veniee in this war put forth a streagth tbat was little expectell from that deeliniag state. Many thousund Gormans were enrolled in her army, commander by Moroslal, and by Connt Kínigs. mark, a Swedr. The Anstrias pursued the eampaign in llingary whth success [steadily expelling the Turks- see IIcsosnr: A. 1). ife8s1099]. . . While the wnr ln llungary had been conducted by the Einperor wlith sueh eminent success, the King of Poland had made only some fruftess nttempts upoa Mohlavin. The Czar of Hiseovy, Ivan Alexiowltseh, who, nfter settling some clisputes about boundaries with the King of Poland, hal joined the IIoly League ln 16sf, dha not fare much better. All the attempts of tbe Ilusslans to penetrate into the Crlmea were frustruted by the Tartars. The Venetians, on the other hand, had made some splendid conquesta 8 t Mara, Koron, the mountain tract of Maina, Navarino, Modon, Argou, Napoli di Romania, fell succeasively into their hande. The year 1087 eapecialiy was almont as fatal to the Turks in their war with Venice as in that with Hungary. In this year the Venetians took Patras, the castles at the entrance of the hay of Lepanto, Lepanto itself, all the northern coast of the Morea, Coricth, and Athens. Athens had been abandoned with the exception of the acropolis or cltadel; and It was in this slege that one of the Venetian bombe feli into the Parthenon, which had been converted hy the Turks into a powder magazlne, and destroyed the greater part of those magnificent remalns of ciassical antiquity. The acropolls surrendered September 29th. The fail of Athens, added to the disas. trous news from Hungary, excited the greatest consternation and discontent at Constantinople," and hrought about a revolution which deposed the suitan, raising his hrother Solyman to the throne (1687) in hils place. "By the capture of Maivasla in 1690 , the Venctians completed the conquest of the Morea. The Isle of Chlos, taken in 1694, was again fost the foilowing year; hut in Daimatia and Aibania the Venetian Repuhlic made many permanent conquesta, from the mountalns oi Montenegro to the borders of Croatia and the hanks of the Unna. The operations of the Poles in the Turklsh war were inslgnificant; hut in July 1696, the Russlans, under the Czar Peter, after many fong and frujtiess attempts, at length succeeded in takling Azov, at the mouth of the Don; a most lmportant conquest as securing for them the entry into the Biack Sea. It was the fall of this place, comhlad with the defeat at Zents [ln Hungary]. that chlefiy induced the Porte to enter into negoclation for a peace."-T. H. Dyer, Mist. of Modern Europe, bk. 5, ch. 4 (c. B).

A. D. 1691.-Accession of Achmet II.

A. D. 1695.-Accession of Mustapha II.
A. D. 1703.-Accession of Achmet III.
A. D. 1709-1714.-Refuge given to Charies XII. of Sweden.-His intrigues.-Uniucky inFasion of Moidavia hy Peter the Great.- The Treaty of the Pruth. See Scandinavian States (Sweden): A. D. 1707-1718.
A. D. 1714-1718. - War with Venice and Austria. - Recovery of the Morea and disasters in Hungary.-The Peace of Passaro-witz.-"By the treaty of the Pruth the Russian conquest of Azof had becn recovered. This suc. cess encouraged the hope of repairing the other fosses that had been incurred in the former war. There were two states which had aggrandised themselves at Turkish expense, Austria and Venlce. Of these the repuhtle was far the fess formldahle and was naturally chosen as the first ohject of attack. A pretext was found in the protection which Venice had given to some Montenegrin fugltives, and in December, 1714, the Porte declared war. Venice was entirely unprepared, and moreover had falled to acquire popularity amongst her Grcek suhjects. In 1715, the grand vizler, Ail Cumurgi, ianded in the Morea, and hy the end of the year was master of the whoie penlasula. Salifing thence he captured Suda and Splnaionga, the two last fortresses that Venlce had been allowed to retain in Crete. The repuhlic naturaily appealed to her oid ally, Austria, which had guaranteed ber ponseadons hy the treaty of Cariowitz. ... As the Turk refused to give any satisfaction, war was inevitahio. The Intervention of Austria asaved Venice from ruln. The grand vizier snd the main body of the Turkish army had to be employed in lungary. stili a considerahie army and feet was sent to attack Corfu. The Vene. tlan troops were commanded hy connt Schulenhurg, who had won a great reputation in the northern war, and whose services had been proeured for the repuhlic hy Eugene. A heroic defence ended successfulfy, and in August, 1716, the Turke were compelled to raise the slege. 'It was the jast giorious military expioit in the annais of the repubilic, and it was achieved by a German mercenary soidier.' Meanwhile the vizier, with an army of 150,000 men, had laid slege to Peterwardein, the most important of the Austrian border-fortresses in Hungary," and suf. fered death there, in a great defeat which princo Eugene Inficted upon his army, August 5, 1716 . The same year, Eugene took Temesvar, and in August, 1717, he annihifated the Turkish army before Bel -rad, capturing the town (see Hcygart: A. 1s. 1js9-1718). The resuit was the Treaty of Passarowitz, signed in Juiy, 1:18. "Austria retalned all its conquests, thus com. pietin. Its possession of Hungary hy acquiring the $F$ atrat of Temesvar, and adding to it Belgrad and a strip of Servia. The Turks, on their side, kept the Morea, whife Venlce was confirmed in Its possesslon of Corfu and Santa Maura, together with the conquests which it had made in $1717 \ln$ Alhania and Daimatia."-R. Lodge, Hift. of Modern Europe, ch. 16.

A. D. 1730.-Accesmion of Mahmoud I.

A. D. 1735-1739.- War with Russia and Austria. - Favourable Treaty of Beigrade. Important acquisitions of Territory from Anstria. See Russia: A. D. 1725-1739.
A. D. 1754.-Accession of Othman III.
A. D. 3757.-Accession of Mustapha III.
A. D. 1768-8774.-War with Rushia on be half of Poiand. - Concension of independence to the Crim Tartars. -The Poies, In thelr struggle with Catherine II. of Russla found a strange champlon ln the Turk (see Poland: A. D. 17891773). "The Sultan, Mustafa III., was opposed to interventlon in Poland; hut his hand was forced hy a rising in Constantlinople, and he declared war againat Russla in Octoher, 1868 Hostilities were not commenced till the aext year, and they never assumed conslderahie proportions. The Turkish army was ln the last stage of inefficiency, and the I Uusslans, who were wholly unprepared for war, were ilttie better. Gailtzin, an incompetent commander, defested the grand vizler, and took Khoczim after bls first attack had been repulsed. His successor, Romanzow, 'the Russian Turenne,' acted with greater energy. He drove the Turks from Moldavia, and in 1770 he occupied Wallachia, won a great victory over vastiy superior numbers at Kaghui [August 1, 1770], and adranced into the Crimen. At the same time a Russian fleet appeared in the Mediterranean wlth the avowed intention of restoring Greece to lodependence. But the admirai, Alexls Orioff, mis. managed the expeditlon. After encouragling the Greeks to rebel, he left them to the horrors of a Turkish revenge, and sailed towards Coustantl. nople. A victory over the Turkish fleet gave

Wer worth
Rundia and Ametria.
TURES, 1770-1799.
him possemion of Chios and other islands of the Archipelago, hut he refused, in spite of his Eng. lish officers, to attempt the passage of the Dardanelles." In May, 1772, a truce was srranged and a congress assembled to settie the terms of peace. "But the Russian demands were too excessive for the Porte to accept, and the Turks resumed hostilities in 1778 . They attempted to recover Moidavia and Waliachis, and for a time they succeeded in forcing the Russians to retreat. Mustafa III. died in December, and was suc. ceeded hy his hrother Abdul Hamid. In the next year Romanzow won a complete victory. and compelied the grand vizier to accept the terms dictated to him at Kutschuk Kainardji [Juiy 16, 1774]. The Rusatans restored the conquered provinces except Azof and Kinhurn, only atipuiating for toleration for the Christian popuiation. The Tartars of the Crimea and Kuhan were declared independent of the Porte, and authorised to elect their own Khan. Russian ships were aliowed free passage through the Dardanelies, and the right of calling in the Turkish seas and on the Danube. Poland, for which the Turks had undertaken the war, was not even mentioned in the treaty."-R. Lodge, Hiot. of Modern Europe, eh. 20, sect. 11-12.

Also EN: F. C. Schlosser, Hivt. of the 18th Century, e. 4, pp. 405-441 - See, also, Russia: A. D. 1762-1796.
A. D. 1774.-Accestion of Abdul Hamid.
A. D. 1776-1792. Acquisition of the Crimea bJ the Russians.-War with Russia and Aus-tria-The Treaties of Sistova and Jassy, Territorial concessions.-"A peace of some rears foliowed the treaty of Kainarji, if, indeed, that can be called peace where the most solemn engagements are perpetually evaded. On that treaty Catherine put what interpretation she pleased. . She offered her protection to the voirods of Wallachia and Moldavia, who, in consequence, were her vassals rather than those of the Portc. The Christians on the opposite hank of the Danube were in correspondence with Russla; they were encouraged to revoit, to claim ber protection, to oppose the Turkish government in every way. $\qquad$ Though the Crimes had been deciared Independent, she proved that the word had reference merely to the authority of the suitan, and not to hers. . . . More than once . . . the Russian troops appeared in that peninsula. In $17 \% 6$ they deposed the reigning shan, and elected in his stead another, who was easily induced to solicit the protection of the empress. Turkey threatened 111 resume the war. modificationgth of a a new traty, or rather a tinopie in 1779 . In it Russis signed at Constantinopie in 1779 . In it Russia promised to desist from some of her ohnoxious pretensions in regard both to the two princlpalities and the Crimea; but promises cost littic.. . . Aimost every year brought new complaints and evaslons. The foundation of the city of Cherson, about ten leagues from Otzakof, gave peculiar unhrage to the Porte. This place had now a population of 40,000 ; and the number of warlike vessele construeted in its arsenal were evidently intended to overawe Constantinople. In 1783 another insuiting message was sent to the Turkish ministers, - that, let the conduct of the empress in regard to the Crimea be whatever it might, they unnili not interfere. At the same time she prevalled on the khan whom the had supported,

Bahim Gherel, to make the most outrageous demands from the Porte. The khan's envoy was beheaded. Under the pretext of punishing the Turks for this insult to their 'good ally, the Russians requested permission to march through his territory. It was immediately granted; hut no sooner were they in the peninsula than, in. stead of proceeding against the Turkish fortifications on the island of Taman, they aeized the towns, forced the Mahometan authorities, in the khan's presence, to take the oath of aileglance to the empress, and seized on the revenues of the country.

The khan was now forced to resign his authority, and transfer it to Catherine; in return, he recelved some eatates in Russla. A manifesto deciared that the Crimea, Kuhan, and Taman, were for ever incorporated with the em. pire. In a document of some length, and of great force, the Turkish ministry exposed to the world the unprincipled encroachments of their neighbours." But Russia responded to it hy marshalling three great armies on the frontiers, with an exhihition of formidahle fleets in the Euxine and the Baltic. "The Porte, terrified it this menacing display, listened to the advice of France and Austria; and. hy another treaty (signed at Constantinople eariy in 1784) recognised the sovereignty of the empress over the Crimea, Taman, and a great part of Kuban. To the first and last of these places she restored their ancient classicai names, Taurida and Caucasus." The treaty of Constantinopic did not put an end to Russian aggressions, and In August, 1787, the Suitan declared war. "The campaign was opened with ardour. Knowing that Otzalsof would be the earliest ohject of hostility, the Sultan sent a considcrahle force to cover it. Another army marched to the Danube, and the vizier in person took the field. .. On the other hand, Potemkin, the commander-in-chief, having under his orders some of the best generais in the service, hastened to the frontiers, which were soon covered hy Russian troops. At the same time the emperor Joseph [according to a prior agreement with Catherine] sent 80,000 Austrians into Moldavis; while a powerful fleet in the Euxine prepared to co-operate with the ailies, and another in the Baltic was ready to sail for the Mediterranean. It secmed, indeed, as if Catherine's favourite dream, the elevation of her zry. ${ }^{\text {d- }}$ son Constantine to the tirone of the Grtei. .mpire, was about to be realised. Fet these mighty preparations had no commensurate effect. $\Delta n$ attack on Kinhurn hy 5,000 Turks from the gar. rison of Otzakof was repuised [hy Suwarof] with heavy loss. But this advantage was counterhaianced hy the dispersion of the Euxine fleet in a storm, with the loss of some vessels. These were the chief events of the first campaign. The second, of 1788 , was more decisive. Otzak of was taken by assauit, and the garrison [with ncarly ali the inhahitants] put to tne sword. At the same time Joseph took Sohach; and his generais captured Souhitics [Duhitza 7]. On the deep, too, fortune was equally adverse to the Turks. Thelr fleet was defeated in the Euxine.

In the following campaigas the superiority of the Russians was maintained. It would have been stili more signal hut for the jealousy of Potemkin, who could not toierate success in any of his generais. . . The death of A bdui Hamet, and the accession of Selim III., made no differ:
of Selim III
TURKS, 1789-1812.
adverse to the Turks. Fortress after fortress [lncluding Belgrade, tsizen by General Loudon for the Austrians] was reduced by the enemy; and, though no general engagement was risked, the loss of men was not the less felt. Suwarol saved the Austrians [ln Moldavia, defeatligg the Turks, who had nearly overwhelmed them, at Fock. shanl, July 30, and again at Rimnlk, September 16, 1789]; Repnin forced the Seraskler, Hussein Pasha, to seek refuge ln lsmall; Komenskl reduced Galatza; Ackerman fell Into the power of the Christians; Bender was forced to capltulate In the following campalgn, the Important for tress of lsmall was assailed: the slege was conducted hy suwi rof, the most dreaded of all the Russlan gencials. . . . It was taken . . . though the loss wis most severe; and, $\ln$ revenge, the garrison, whith the greater part of the population [nearly $40,000 \mathrm{ln}$ all], was put to the sword. Other suecessps followed, both on the hanks of the Caspian, and on those of the Danube. Bohada was stormed; at Kotzlm 100,000 Turks were defeated by Ikepnln; Varna was menaced; and the road to Adrlanople lay r,pen. The grand vizler now sued for peace, whieh Catherine was ready to grant, on conditions much less ouerous that. might have been expeeted." Austria had already made peace with the sultan and with drawn froni the wnr. By the treaty of Sistova, whlch the new emperor, Leopold, slgned on the 4th of August, 1791, the Austrians relin. quished all thelr eonquests except the town of Old Orsova and n small district in Croatla nlong the left bank of the river Cnna. With these slight variations the same houndary hetween Austria and Turkey was reconstituted iu 1791 that had been defined by the treaty of Belgrade In 1339. The treaty of the Turks with Russin was signed at Jussy on the 9th of January 1792. "By that treaty, Catherine retained the whole country le+wect the Bug and the Duiester, hut restored all the other couquests whelh she had made since $1: 8 \%$. This was the last of the hos. tilities between Inssia aud the Porte during the reign his empress; and the peace of Jussy enali : her to earry into effect her designs on Polaut." - It. Bell, Hist. of Rusaia, v. 2, ch. 11.
Also in: Sir E. S. Creasy, Mist. of the otto. man Turkx. ch. 21.-F. C. Schlosser, IIist. of the 18th C'entury, peried 5, dio. 1, ch. 2 (r. 6).-G. B. Malleson, louldron, ch. 15.
A. D. 1789-1812, Attempted reforms:of Sultan Selim III. - Their fate and his.-Pa' revolutions. - Reign of Mahmud II. - War with Russia.-"Alud-nl-Hamld dled on the 7th April, $1 i=0$, and was suceeeded hy his nephew, Sclim 111 ( $1 ; 89-1807$ ). Although Selim had beed contined iu the Seraglio hy hls uncle, he had leen in other resprets well treated. His love of luformation and his natural talents cad lnducell him to carry on an active co espondence wilth severml servants of his futher and his uncle. Their information had, however, ln no way satlstied him, and he had commenced a eorreapondence with Choiseuil, the French envoy at Constantinople in 1 i86, and hatl alsos seut his Intimate friend lsine lbey to Framee, to enquire Into the state measures and administratlve organzation of that conntry. sellm had also entered Into correspondenee with Lonis XVI, and this lasted till 17 Ma , when the Freneh Revolution broke out simultancously with siclimis ascenslon of the throne. All this throws a elear light upon Sellm's eventual exertions to cause reforms which at last cost him both hls throne and hit life. Ills thlrst for knowledge leads us to presume that he was not deficlent ln natural and sound talent. . . . But it was a mlstake, that In his pursult of knowledge, and deslre to improve the instltutlons of Turkey - and the hahlts and character of lts inhahltants - Sellm should lave applled to France, and to Frenchmen. That conntry was then on the eve of her great revolu. tlon. Theories of all kinds were afloat.

Sellm would certalnly have acted more wisely had he sought help from hls own senslhle mlad; he would have casily percelved the palpable fact, that thlngs whlch were sulted for Christlan natlons were utterly lapplicahle to the rude, unclvillzed Turks.

Unfortunately he set about the task with very different ldeas, and llstened to the suggestlons of the selollste who surrounded hlm. The first thing to whlch they drew hls attentlon was the formation of a councll of state, which not only restricted the power of the Grand Vizler, but that of the Sultan, very materially. The Reis Effendl, Raschld, was the soul of the councll, and the boldest of these sclollsts; and he had perfect llberty to carry on the work of reform. He set the printing presses ngaln in activity which had been introduced In a preceding reign, sent for Frencla oft ccrs, who founded nn englneer academy, huilt arser.as and foundries, and openly statell that be took sclence under his protection, But his elilef care was to form an army after the Europeun fashlon, ln order by their asslstance to gain the mastery over the Janissaries, In whom oli customs and traditions found thelr most zealons guarilans. He took several steps, therefure, to call into life the new military organizatlon, culled the Nizam Djedid; and as money wns required for the purpose, he laid a tax on intlcles of consumptlon. This was quite suthelent to cause the popular discontent to lmisst into a tlame. The Clemu declared themselves hostle to the Nizam Djedicl, and Pnshwan Oglu, Pacha of Whdin, who placed himself at the heud of the Janlssaries, openly rebelled ugainst the Porte which could not effeet anything to cheek him hut acqulesced in all thint was demanded. The extraordlnary ennquests of Napoleou divetted attention from "urkey, and lastead of seeking to dlvide the dominlons of a weak neighbur, the Great Powers of the Contlnent were trem bling for their ov u sufety. Egypt became the hattle tield heiween England and Frunce [see Fhance: A. 1). 1:98-1799 (Acoces-Algres), and 1801-1802], and its Invaslon by Napolen obliged the Turks to unite with the Allied Powers ayainst France. When the French were cxpelled from Exspt, that prowlnee was restured to Turkey, nud peace concluded between the two Powers. Selim, under the Intluence of General Schastlanl who was then French ambissa dor at Constantianple, slgned [selzed ?] what Wus consldered hy him a favouralile opportunity for renewing the war with Russla [see lechow], In which, however, the Turks were defeated hoth hy land and sen. These misfortunes the Janlssaries attributed to the new troups or sey. mens. At the end of May, 1807, the chiefs of the Janlssaries and the Llema had already formed thifir plans for the overtlirow of the Sultan, when Sellma accelerated the outhreak by goling to the mosque on Friday, accompaajed by

TURKS, 1789-1812.

Palace Revolutiona
a holy of Seymens and the French ambassador, sebastinnl. The Jnulssartes, aroused by thls, broke out in open revolt, which soon grew of such a menaelng aature by the co-operation of the Mufti, that Sellm was compelled to promisu the abolltlon of the Nlzam, and the heads of those of his advisers who had promoted the measure. But the Insurgents were not satlsfied with thls: they demunded the abdientlon of the Sitlan, Whom the Mufti dcelared unvorthy to be successor of Mulammni, through hls partiniItr for foreigners, and mnrehed to the Sernglio, to carry thelr designs Into effect. But when the Mufti and the Clemn entered lt, they found a new Sultan. Sellm, under the convletion that he coullil unt resist the storm his attempts at reform had creuted, had retired to the Ilarem, where lis nephew, Mustaphn, wus confined, and led him to the throne: lie hidd then nttempted to destroy his own life by ocup of polsoned sherbet, but Ind hren prevented by Mustapha, and was led into the apartments of the Roynd Princes, with a promise that he should ever bee treated as a fritud anal an uncle. On the same afternoon, Sultan Mustapha IlI [IV] (who relgned from 3ist May, 1815, to 2Sth July. 1808) rode in solemu procession for the first time to the great mosque, was in. vested In the traditloual manner with the sabro of Muliammat, theu Inumediatcly did away with the Xizan l) jedld, and restored the old customs. But unong the I'achas in the provinees, there re several deroted purtisans of reform. The st infuential of these was Mustaphn Bairaktar, Wachal of liastchuk, who set out hi July 1808, at :The licul of 18,000 men, to restore Selim to the throue. Ife succeerled ln takling possession of the capltal, and keceping the Sultan so long in lgnorance of his designs, untll he sent lim orners to resign the thirone In fnvour of Sclim. As the Sultan hat ouly one hour allowed hini for consideration, le was so helpless that he followed the advlce of the Mufti nod had Selim critelly murdered. As the gites of the Seraglio were not opened at the appointed tlue, and Bairaktar hurried up to enforee his authority, Selin's lifeless boiy was thrown over the wall, Epon this the Pacha ordered the Sernglio to be stormed, seited the Sultan, destroyed all those who hud adt atd the abolition of the plans of reform, und piaced Mustapha's younger brother on the thronc. Mahuitil II, the second son of Whelth-llamd, was lorn on the 2ud July, 1785, and was consequently twentr-three yenrs of nge when he ascended the throne. . . . Mahmud appointed Mustuphn IBalraktar his Graid Vizier, and. rugarlless of the fate of hls predecessor, re. stored all the uneasures of reform which Selins hatl unlertaken. Within three months the Janissirles were again in open rehellion, and on the nigltt of the 14 th Noveniber, 1808 , ittucked the seymuens, lestroyed a great number of them, alil, after storming the new harracks, foreat their way into the Grand Vizier's paiacc. Ile thed and ippealed to the poople for help, but the proiter portion abusel him as a renegacle and joined the rebels. Balraktar recognlsed his $\mathbf{~ m}$. bulinir fate, but still orfered the execution of Instapha, fur fear he milght reaseend the throne. After this he retiral with a hody of Seymens (nto it stone tower, where he lat before collected qutuntity of gunpowder. He defended himself lu-re for some tiute, but, at last, when the JanIssuries rushed up in larger masses to the attack, he blew up the tower. The Janlsaries thea attacked the Seraglio, and, but for the lact that Mahmud wi. 3 the last legltlmate descendant of the race of Osman, they world have taken his Ife. But even thls, probably, would not have saved hlm, had he not sent a deputation to the insurgents and given an uncondltlonal assent to their demands.

As an additlonal guarantee for hls own safety on the throne, ensangulned Whtil the biood of his uucle and hils brother, Malimud ordered hls brother's son, a ehlli of three months oid, to be strungled, and four of the Sultanns to be thrown Into tho Bosphorus. The relgn of Mahmud is one of the longesi and most Important in the whole of Turklsh history. It commenced with war. The Emperor Alexander menaced hini on the Danube: the Ilospodar of Survia, Czerny George, hnd rebelled "galnst him. The eampalgn of the Turks in 1809, was, consequently, not a prosperous one. The contest lasted tlll 1812 , when It wis ended by the treaty of Bueharest, whlch surrembered the whole of Bessarahin, as finr as the l'rith, to Ifussla. At the same thme the IRussian protcetorute of the Greek Christlan subjects of the Porte which had been stlpulnted in the treaty of Kudjuk Knlanrdjl, was again conlirmed."-Sir J. Porter, Turkey, v. 1, pp. 104-204.

A1.so in: Slr E.S. Crcasy, Ilist. of the Ottoman Turke, ch. 21-24.
A. D. 7798 . -In the Coalitionagainst France. - War declared. See Frasce: A. D. 17981799 (Avocst - April).
A. D. 1806-1807.-Alliance with Napoleon, and hostilities with Russia and England.British fleet before Constantinople. -Its humiliating retreat. - The English again in Egypt. -Disastrous failure of their expedition. -"Before the end of 1906, Rusila hatl driven Selim Into the nrms of Fiance; nnd war was declared at the Porte just after Nupoleon's victo ries in Prussia had filled Aiexnnder with nlarra. Ills troops lad overrisn some Turkish territory before war was deelared; hut just nt this juncture he wanted ail his forecs for the defence of hls own frontier. Iie dreaded the effects of withdrawing them from the Turkish provinces, whleh would lmmediately fight for France; but he must do it. IIe besought the British to undertake another of those ' diverslons 'whleh b. .n to sound so disagrecably to the ears of Eingllsumen.

The Greaville Cabinet...g gave orders to Sir John Duck worth, then , ruising off Ferroi, to joln Admiral Louls at the bouth of the Darda. nelles. . . . Nelther tha ts of Selastiani [French representatlve -tantinople] nor any other Farning he English were eoming, had roused th. rks to mnke the sliglitest preparation. Tlse uips salled proudly up the strait [February, 1807], undelayed by the fire of the forts it the narrowest part of the channcl, and belehing out flames and cannonbalis as they went. They took and hurned some Turkish ships, and appeared before Constantlnople, to the horror of the whole population who were nbsolutely without neans of defence. The Divan would have ylelded at once; but Sc. bastionl prevented lt , and instigated a negot ${ }^{\text {- }}$ ation Which proved a fatal suare to SIr Iohn Duckworth, notwithstanding express warnlogs and instructlons, strong and clear, from loord Collingwood. He was unwilling to destroy the eity, and shoot down the defenceless inhubitants; and he allowed himseif to be drawn on, from day to day, exchanging notes and recelving promises. .. Meantime, not a moment wai lost hy Sobautiani and the Turks, whom he was instructing in Napoleon's methods of warfare. Women and children, Christians and Mohamme. dans wor ced day and night at the defencen; and In a sow days the whole coast was hriatllng with artlllery, and the chauce was over. . . . There Was nothing to be done but to get away as safely as they jet might. For thirty miles (reckon. ing the windings of the channel) the ships ran the gauntiet of an incessant fire-and such a Are as was never seen before. Stone balls, weigh. lng 700 or 800 lls , broke down the masts, crushed in the decks, snapped the rigging, and amszed the hearts of the sailors. The hifissmoked from and to end, and the roar of the artilicry roiled from sicie to slde. In another week, sir J. Duckworth deciared in inis dispatch, any return would have been impnsslble. The news of this singular affalr spread fast over Europe. Every body thought the expedition gallantiy conceived, and miserably wrak in its faiiure.
So eaded the seconi of the 'diverslons ' proposed under the Grenvlile Ministry. The third legacy of this klnd that they ieft was a diversion on the side of Egypt. For some time, a notlon had been gaining ground, in the mlads of Engilsh poititccaus, that the Sultan wouli, some day soon, be giving Egypt to Napoleon, in returu for the ald afforded to Constantinople, on the Danube, and e:sewhere. Egypt was in an unhappy state. Mohammed Aice, the Viceroy, was at feud with the Memiooks; and the Arab inhahltants were made a prey of hy both. The Trenvile Ministry thought that a dirersion iu that directlon would be of great service to luassla, and great injury to Napoieon; and they contidently reckoned on being enthuslasticaliy received by the Arab in. habltants, and prohably by the Memlooks aiso. In laying their pians, however, they strangeiy uuderrated the forces and the ahility of Moham. med Aiee; and they sent oniy between $4,0.0$ ani 5,000 men th the mouth of the Nlle, instead of an army large enough to cope with the abie and Warllke Pasha of Egypt, and his Aibanlan troops. The smail British force was drafted from the troops in Sicily. It landed without oppositlon on the 1 ith of Murch, supposing that Sir John Duck worth must by this time have conquered the Sultan, sud that his province of Egypt would come very casily into onr hands. No opposition was made to the landing of the troops, and Alex. andria capltulatel immediateif. Oniy seven lives were lost on tile British slde. Withln the city, however, no provisions were found." A detachnent of 1,200 neen sent to Rosettan for suppiles were trapped in tile clty by Mohammed Alee's Albanians, and 400 of them, with their general, were shot down in the streets. Theu Rosetta was besleged, with resuits of disastrous faliure and the ioss of 1,000 or 1,200 more men. Generai Fraser, the Commander, "was discouraged from home, and honrly harassed by the enemy. 1 . More and more of thic enemy came up as his littic force dwindied away; and at last, on the appearance of a coilimn which he was unahle to encounter, ine sent out a flag of truce, With an offer to evacuate Egypt on the restora: tion of the prisoners takea since the invasion. This was in August, 1807 ; and In September the last English soldier left the mouth of the Nile.

By this time, the Sultan had declared war agair t England, and had caused a seizure of al at British property in his dominlons."-II. neau, Mist. of Eng., 1800-1815, bk. 2, eh. 1 .
A. D. I807.-Accesslon of Mustapha iv.
A. D. 1807. Schsmes of Napoleon and Alezander 1 . at Tlisit for the partitlon ol Turkey. See Grrmany: A. D. 1807 iJungJuLr).

A. D. 1808. - Accession of Mahmud 11.

A. D. 1821-1839.-Revolt and recovery ol independence by the Greeks.- Battle of Nat. arino.- Treaty of Adrianople. See Greecr:

A. D. 1822-2823. - The Cong.ess of Veroan See Verona, Conarese of.

A. D. 1826, -Reforms of Mahmud IL.-lasurrection of the Janissaries.-Thelr suhjugetlon and destruct fon.-" While the struggie in Greece was proceeding, Mahmud had been husily engaged with his internal reforms, many of Which were of a nature to offend the prejudices of his sulhjecta. His great object was to glve European charncter to the institutions anf the manners of his country. He introluced the western styie of dress into Turkey; abandoned the use of the turhan, whlch Mohammedans gen eraliy regard with much veneration; and gave musical and theatrical entertainments withlu the sacred enclosure of the Seragiio. He resulved ulso to recommence the military reforms of his uncle Se.im, and agaln to estabiish the Nizsm Jedid, or boly of troops organized after European models. Thls iast design roused once more the savage fanaticism of the Janizaries. On the 15 th of June, 1826, when the Suitan and the Grand Vizler were in the country, the dlassatisfled troops rose insurrection, and committed great ex. cesses. The Grand Vizier, hastliy recalled to the metropolls, took measures for vindleatlng his master's authority, and at once found himsell supported, not ouly by the new troops, but by the Cleinas and Students. Mahmud arrived shortly afterwards at the Seragio, and by hla orders the Mufti unfoided the standard of the Prophet, and summoued all faithful Moinamere. dans to raily round that hoiy symbol. The city was soon divided into two hostife factions. The Jauizaries concentrated thelr forces in one of the great squares, and threw up entreuchuments. The supporters of the Suitan gathered in their front, and an attack was made by ordnance, be. fore wincis the Janlzaries retired into thelr fortifled harracks, where they coutinued to fight with the resolution of despalr.

The buildiug was presentiy on tire from one end to the other. The frightfili struggle was contlnued in the midst of the flanes; all who endeavoured to escape were at once shot down; and before the day was over 6.000 Janizaries had perisied at the hauls of their fellow-troops. Fiftcen thousand wiow had not taken part in the movement were exilefl to different piaces in Asia Minor, and on the follow ing day a Hatti-Sherif pronounced the ulolition of a corps which hiad contributed so much to the miiitary predomlnance of Turkey, but which had at length become a source of internal dunger too great to be suffered. "-E. Olifer, Casaello too great to be sufficed "-E. Oliier, Cizsello Ill. IIst of the Russa-Turkish War. V. I, ch. 23.
A. D. $1826-1829 .-C O n v e n t i o n ~ o f ~ A c k e r m s n . ~$ - War with Russia.- Surrender of Varna and Silistria-Disastrous hattle of Koulerscha--

TURKS, 1820-1899.

-"It was not to be expected that an event so remsiknhle as the destruction of the Janizaries would fail to be taken advantage of hy the court of St. Peternhurg. The Emperor Nleholas had brought with hlm to the Rusian throne a thorough determinatlon to carry out that aggressive policy of the Empress Catherine, of whlch the terms of the celehrated treaty of Kutschouc-Kain. arilji [see above: A. D. 1768-1774] afforded so striking an Illustration, and the annlhifatlon of the Ottoman ariny, as weli as the distracted condition of many of the provinces of that emplre, aflorded an opportunlty too tumptling to be neglected. The Czar, therefore, demanded tiat the Sultan should couclude with hilm a treaty, the provlsions of whleh were msde the subjeet of diacussion at Aekerman, a town in Bessarabia; and Mahmoud, pressed hy the necesity of hla coarlition. . .. had found It requisite to concince the arrangenent, and the celehrated conveution of Ackerman was ratifled In October 182. This treaty proved of great importance to ikussia. In adjlitlon to other provlslons, It recognised the whole stipulations of the two treaties of Bucharest and Kaluardjl, by whleh Rassia elaimed the right to Interpoge In behaif of tiee nacmbers of the Greck chisreh In the Ottomandomiaions. $\qquad$ During tle year whicis sueecerted the ratificatlon of the eonventlon of Ackerman, Russla was ocenpled whll the Persian war, which was prosecuted witl great vigour by General l'askewitela, hy whom very considerable adrantages were obtained; and in November 18:2 the traty of Tonrkmantehai was concluded between lkussia and Persla. . . . It left the Emperne . . at leisure to carry out those hostlle untentions which his ready interference In the affaits of Gremee, andi $n$ variety of other consideratims, clearly jroved him to entertain. The approaching war was indicated by the mutual recriminations of the hostile powers. Russia accusel the lorte of an endenvour to cansca revolution in the Caucasus, and of a violation of traties by elosing the Bospliorus agalnst Russian ships, and by its condnet towards its Chrlstan sulijerts. There was no luconsiderable foundation for such it eomplaint, und cspeclally for the latter part of it. . . D3oth sides immediately prepared for the struggle, whieh a varlety of eiremmstanees lave proved that the Czar had bur contemplated, and only waited for a suitnble opportmity of entering ujon.

In the mouth of May [1828] the [Russian] foree began to assemble on the lanks of the Prath, and crossed thut river at three different points. Being unoppused by the Ottomans, the Rnsslan forees almost fumediately eatered Jassy aud Bucharest, took possession of Galatz, and In a few weeks had orcupied the whole of the left bank of the 1)abule. To accomplish as mplally as possible the objects of the eanipalgn, as well as to avold having tbeir very wlelely extended line exposedi to the eneuy, it was resolved hy the leaders of the IRussiau forees to cross the Danube at Brahl. low, sund thence to advance with rapidity upon Niiistria, Varna, and Sehumla. This resolutlon thry inmmedately proceeded to carry Into effeet.

Dbont the middle of July, the Russian force under General Rudiger on the rlght, and Gencrals Woinoff and Diesltch on the Jeft wing, ariemphnicd by the Emperor Nicholas, moved instructions were to ard the Ottoman army, whose Listructions were to a vold generai actions, and to throw their whole energy upon the defence of their fortifications, having engaged In battle wlth the enemy, retired within the entrenched camp eurroundling that fortress, which now contalned a force of 40,000 men. The Emperor. reanlved $\qquad$ to leave a corps of ohservation of 80,000 men before Schumia, under General Wittgensteln, and to direct the princlpal eflorts of hls army, in the first Instance, to the reduction of Varna. On the 5th of September, after fiaving been ahsent at Odessa for about a month, during which he was engaged making arrangements for obtalning levles from Russla, and in ncgoclating loans in Holland, the Emperor Nich. olas arrived at Varna, to inspect the progress and enrourage the operatlons of the besiegers.

The besicging force, towards the end of Angust, amounted to $40,000 \mathrm{mcn}$, whlch, on the arrival of the Emperor, were reinforced hy more than 20,000, with a great additlon to the artlliery slready possessed by the Invading srmy. This large force was further supported by the Russian tleet.

The detalls of the slege cxhibit a sirries of assaults repulsed with the utmost valour and spirit by the besieged, and entaillng an immense loss upon the Russians, both In men and superior officcrs; hut the clreumstance that the relnforcement sent to relleve the garrison could not approach, so ciosoly was the place invested, and the destruction of a part of the walis hy the cannon of the liussians, led to a surrender, and Jussouf Pusha dellvered up the fortress to the Emperor on the 10 tl of October, after a slege of more than two months. The utmost efforts were made to reduce Silistria, after Varna had been surrendered, hut the advance of the season, and the diffeulties of the attempt, as well as the disastrous cireumstances of the Rnssian nrmy before Sehumia, soon proved that nothlng inore could be attempted tlll the following spring. The eampaign, therefore, was brought to a conciu. slon, and orders were lssued for the Rassians to retire beyond the Danule, and take ap thelr winter quarters in Wallachia. The fall of Brahilow and Varna were the onlr lmportant events of the campalgn of 1828 ln Europe, and even these suecesses had been nttained at a vast ex. pense of human life, Ont of nearly $160.0(\mathrm{H})$ men Who had erossed the Danube at the beginning of the campalga, only about one-lialf remalned.

In Asin operations were earried on hy the Russinns whit cqual vlgour and much more sucmilitary genius nnd experience of General Paskewitch, who commanded the troops on the east of the Black Sea. $\qquad$ The first attack of the Russlans in Asia was made upon the fortress of Anapa. . After a siege of nbout a month, the place was taken. Fith 85 guns and 3,000 prisoners, und the flect salleci lmmediately to Varna. After some other successes, General Paskewlich resolved upon attacking the town and fortress of Akhaizlkh, a very important place In the pashally of that name, and wblch was not only strongly fortlied by nature and art, hut had for lts chief strength a resolute garrison of 10,000 Ottomans, besides the armed Jnhahlants of the place. The Suitan's troops defended thls important fortress with the most undaunted resolution. . . The surrender of Akhalzikh was followed hy that of surrender of Akhalzikh was followed hy that of other Important places of strength, whlch ciosed the campalgn of 1828 In Asia... . The sampaign of 1828 had rendered the juost active preparailons requialte on the part of both belilgerenta for the commencement of hostilltles in the following pring. The Ottoman alldier, according to thelr usual custom, hastened from the garrisons to pass the wlater in thelr homes, but the utmost efforts were maie by the Porte to gather an arlequate force to ineet the exlgencles of the struggle so moon to be renewed. Although only 10,000 men were lift lu Schuinla during the winter, 40,000 nssenibled In that fortress early In apring. They were, however, for the nost part new levle?. The luasslans, on the othre hand, were no less energetle lut thelr arrungements . . It was impossible, however, before the month of May, from the eondiltion of the Danube, to counmence the campaign with the whole force, hilt by the tenth of that month the passage of the river was eompleted at Illrchova and Kulavatsch, below sillstria, the slege of which was Immedlately begun, whle General Kouprianof? whe statloned with n force at Pravadl, a fortress on the east of Sellumla, and which, lyligg in the lline of conmulunlcation between Sillstrla and Varna, was lmportaut to the Russlans as the means of keeplng opell a communlcation between the army of General Roth near Varna and the tromps destinel to act upon Silistria. Redschid Pasha, who on being recalled from Greece hal been appolntei Grand Vizier, had arrived at Nehumla on the $218 t$ of Mareh, and on percelving the positlon of the Invailing army, formed the well-coneelved design of at. tacking Provall nad the forec under General Roth. $\qquad$ This movement of the Vizler becane Imnediately known to General Roth, who by means of = conrier eonveyed information of it to Count Dichiteh. That General was too acute not to parcelve the purpose of hls adversary, and too euterprising not to endeavour Immediately to take advantage of lt. The Count therefore adopted a movement of the highest lmportance, and which, indeed, had the effect of declding the eumpaign. Instead of morehing to attack IRediselidl Pusha at Pravadl, he resolved to Intercept his communleation with the fortress he had quitted, and thus compel the Ottoman general either to cone to a general eugagement which could hardly fail to result to the advantage of the Russians, or to fight his wny towards Schumla through the Russian army, or leave the fortress of Schumh to lts fate, which, fecbly garrisoned as it was, could not be long delayed. This skilful mancuvre was no swmer resolved upon than It was carried into executlon.
While the lussian force were mapidly advanclng towarls Koulerscha, a village hetween Pravadi and Schumla, and scarecly three miles from the latter, the Grand Vizier remained wholly Ignorant of the fact that Diebitea had qultted Silistria, and persisted in the helief that the only opponents of his retreat to Schumla were Generals Roth and Rudiger.

The mistake was fatal. The Ottoman cavairy attaeked the infuntry of the Russians, who were overwhelmed by their eharge; and Dichitch, having waited In expectation that the Vizier would desceul from the eminence on which he was posted to complete his supposed victory, mod finding that he did not make this moveruent, hroke from his concealment among the hills, and smblenly attacked the Ottoman troeps with bls whole force. The effect was ihatantaneous. A universal panie selzed the Vizier's forces, hls cavalry and infantry fled in confunlon, every attempt to hring them to a stand proved abortive, and be himmelf escaped with diffleulty. The artllery and baggage all fell Into the hands of the enemy.

The muster at schumla on the return of the Vizler and his remaining troops exhlhited the magultude of thelr loss. Out of a tine arny of 40, (NX) men, who a few days before hal mirched from the fortress full of confilence, only 12.000 font mind about 6,000 cavalry remained. After the fital hattle of Koulevachn, the alege of SHistria was carried on wlth redoubled vlgour, and on the 301 h of June the fortress surrendercl, whin the whole garrison were mate prisonern of wor, then to the number of $8,0 \mathrm{MO}$ ) and the Ihasslans found on the ramparts 288 eanuon. In alditlon to the on board the vessels in the harbour. The fall if Sillistria now determlned the Russian conumander. In-chlef to push across the Balkans. . . . After defeating with great facllity such troops as op posed thelr advance, the Lussian army pressed on with the atmost aetlvity towards I Iadriannple, and entered the city not only unopposed, but amldst the rejolelngs of a multitude of the Greels population. $\qquad$ The terror whieh this extraus. dinary event Insplred at Constantlnople may easily be lmaglned to have been extrenc. The very heart of the cnupire ind been nssullied by the vletorious Invaders in Eirope, while the ti. dlngs from the Aslatle provinces of the defents sustalned by the Sultans forecs opposed to Girneral Pask cwiltch, greatly eontrihuted to the puhbic alsrm. . In the midst of this tumult of pub. lle feellng, the amhassadors of Eugland and Aus. erla exerted themselves to the utmost to bring about a paelfication; aud . . . the Sultan relac. tontly agreed to the conclusion of a trunty of peace. $\qquad$ The celebrated treaty of Haulrina. ople, which eoneludel the war of 1828-20. contalned zixteen distluct articles, by which, amoug other matters, the following condithons were agreerl upon: - The principalities of Wallachla and Moldurla, and all the conquered places in Bulgaria and Roumelia, were restored to the Porte, with the exceptlon of the islands at the moutb of the i Banube, which were to remain the possession of Russia. In Asla all the recent con. quests were to revert to the Porte, with the asception of Anapa, on the north eastern shore of the Black Sen, several Important fort ressex, 10 . gether wha an extensive distriet situatetl to the north and cast of a line of demarcation sup. posed to be drawn from the then exlstlng buundary of the province of Gouriel, and thence by that of Imeritla direct to the point where the frontiers of Kars uuite with those of Gemprial The condltions of the treaties of Kaimirijl, Bucharest, and Ackerman were conflimed: the passage of the Iharlanelles was declared open to all liussian merchunt shlps, as well as the un dispoted navigation of the Black Sea; an inilennity for losses hy idussian suhjects was fixel at £750,000, to be paid in elgliteen months; and the expenses of the war were to be paid to the Russian Government, a mount Ing to $10,000,000 \mathrm{~d}$ ceats, about $£ 5,000,000$. . To thls treaty two separate acts were annexed, the provistons of which are of searcely less linpurtance than the treaty itself. By these acts it was arranged that the Ilospodars of Mohlavia and Wallachla should be elected for life instead of for seven yeurs; that no Interference in the affalrs of these provhires by any of the offleers of the Porte slambld take place; that no fortifed towns, nor any etablishment of Muslims, should be retained hy the f'orte oa the left bank of the Danube; that the Turkisit towas on that bank of the river should beiong to Waiisehis; and that the Musanlmans who pres. sessell property in such places should be required to seii it In the space of elghteen montias. The conclusion of tirese treaties, on the 14th September 1829, terminnted the war between Husela and the Ottoman Empire, "-18. W. Fruser, Turkey. Ancient and Mindern, ch. 30-31.
Al.so in: Sir A. Allson, Ifist. of Europe, from 1815 to 1859, ch. 15.
A. D. 1830. - Recognaltlon of the autonomy of Servia. Hec Balikan and Danebian States: 1+10til Centchies (Senvia).
A. D. 183 1-1840. - Rebellion of Mehemed Aii, Pasha of Egypt.-Interventlon of Russla and the Western Powers.- Egypt made an hereditary pashalik. - "The penee of Acirianopie (I8:2) hadi greatiy discredlted the antinority of the lorte; Insurreetions muitiplied, aad Turktsh armies had to cuter Bosnia and Ailmada. In these and aii otiocr matters hy witich the enbar. russment of the Porte was Inereased, ti:e ambl. thons In hemed Aii, Pasia of Egypt, had a hand. As inymeut for his scrvices against the Greeks, he had demanded tho pashalik of Damascus. Sultan Mahmoud II, had refused tite demand aad only glven him the promisel Candla. Hence, while the Westera powers were oecupied whtin the consequences of tho Juiy revolutioa In Franeel, nad ail Europe appeared to be on the verge of a new upineaval, he nadertook to seize his lonoty for inimseif. In eoasequence of a , fuar. rei with Alxhaiaih, Pasha of Acre, Ibrahim Pasha [son of Meciemed Aii], notorious for inis barharoas condnct of the war in Pelopoasesus, crussell tie Egyptian frontier, October 20th, 1831, whit aa urmy organized on the European system, took Gaza, Jaifa and Jerusalem without esistance, and besiegeal Acre, whici was resolutely defended hy Ablaiial. Meismed Aii now demaniedi both pashaliks-Dumasens and Acre. The sultan commanded him to evacuate Sirin. The demand was naturaily refused; so Mehemed and lis son Ibrainim wero outhwed. But the latter proceeded with his operations. thok Acre hy storm May 25th, 1832, and eutered Dimasacus. In the mean time, a Turkisia army, umder innsecin Pasha, had advune I Into Syria. Jichemedi lasha llusscin's lienicaant, was defeatel at lloms, July 9th. Ilussein, himself, attemphing to retriese this loss, was diefented at Beylan July eith, and his army scattered. The sultan sent a new army against Ibminim, uncier Reshid Pasha, the Grand Vizier, who had displaged great athedency on the refiuction of the Albautans and Bosnians. Reshici . . . was ut. terly defeated at Konicis Deeember 20th, and Wits himself taken prisoner. The sultan was In a critical situation. He could not at the noment bring toget incr anotiaer considerable army, whlie Ibrahin had $1,0,000$ weli-trained troops, and the roait to Constantinople lay open before him." Innssia, laving no wisia to see the energetic Pasia of E.rypt in possesslon of that eoveted capital, offerei her help to the suitan and he was driven Wioncept it. "A Russian fleet appeared in the haypuras amh landeri troops at seutari, while a Russian arnay was on the march from the Danthe to cover Constantinople.

At lengtir Eng.
to forget the East In their study of the DutchBelgian questiou. Thelr amhassadora had enough to do, hy a hanty penee, to make Rumala's help unnecesary. As their tirreats nude no Imprea. sion on the vietorious Mehemed All, they filied the sultan with distrust of Itussia, and hy repre. sentiag a cession of territory to his vasas as the lesser of the two eviis, perauadei hilm Into the peace of Kutayalı (May 6th, 1833), hy which Sehemed All received the whoie of Syria aad the territory of Alana, in sonth. eastern Asia Minor. Russia had to retire with her ol,jeet unattained, hat had no wonner been thrown ont at the front door than sino camo in at the imek. She called the suitnn's attention to the favor shown to the Insatiahle pasla by Engiand and France in tho peare of Kitayuil, and conciuded witil him. July 8th, 1833, tise trenty of Unkiar. Skelessi, hy wideh he entered into a defensive aillance with thassia for eigitt yenrs, and plefiged hlmself to permit mu foreign vessel of war to pass through the Dardinnelies. Tie Western powers took this outwitting very iil, aud from that time on kept a sharpeye on Constantiaple." Mehemed Ail was meaatine givlag nother iirectlon to his ambitlon.
"The tise Engiish post at Adent of Arubin, as far as sesslou siace 1820 . He now songit to extend hls sway over the eastern coast, and sukxine the suitan of Slusent.

If tills were to contiaue, the two nost important roads to the East ludies, by Suez and by the Persiaa Gulf, would he in the hands of Meisemed Ali.

With Egypt, Syria, and Arahia In inls hands, Engiand's posis. tlon In the Enst woukd receive a blow that must be feit. So lt was a foregoue conclusion winieh side Englaad would take. In 1838 she con. eluded with the Porte a eomunercial treaty hy wheis tie aholition of ali monopolies, as well as free exportation from ali parts of the Turkisil eniplre, Includiug Eerpt ani Syria, was seeured to her. Melbemed Ali hesitated about necepting this trenty; aad Mahmoud, fuli of hate against a vassai wion tireatened uitimately to devonr him, dechared hima traitor, depriveri him of ali hls dignitics, nad eansed an army to alvance Into Syrla muler Hasiz l'asha. But again fortune was not favoralife to the Turks. In their camp, as millitary adiviser of the commander-Inchief, was a Prussian aptain, Hellmuth von Moltike. For two years he laki been assistling the suitan in phanning anf putting into exeeution milltary refurms. lecognizing the weakness and unrelialie elaracter of tive Turkish army, he adviseci llasiz I'asha to full buek on the strong camp at lisidsinik, hriag up the re-enforcements which were under way, and then risk a batile. But tite Pasha would not listen to Moltke's alvice, pronouneing rctreat a disgrace. He whas compieteiy ronted at Nisih, on the Eupirates, June 24 tii, 1839, and his army seattered. For tie second time the road to Constantinopie lay open to Ibrainim. Msfortunes feil thick aad fast upon the Turks. Sultan Manmond died Jume 3uth, and the emplre feil to a slxteen-year oill youth, his son Abdui Medshin. Five days later, Capudan Pasha, witis the Turkish Heet, sailled out of the Dardanelles under orders to attack the Egyptians. Instead of this he wout uver to Mechemed Ai with hils whole theet - in consequence of French hribery, it was said.
In orler to preveut Turkey from casting herseif a second time lnto Russia's arms, four great

TURKS, 1801-I877.

puwern-England, France, Austrla, and Prusgis -declared, Juiy 97 th, 1890 , that they would themselves tike the Enalera question In hand. To save herself from theing wholly left out, Rus: ala had to give her consent, and become a party to the treaty, But there were very diderent Views as to the way in which the quention was to be settled. France, which was ativing after the control of the Mediterranean, and whlech, aince Napoieon'n campaign, had turnel Its eves toward Egypt. wheherl to leave its friend Stohemed Ail in fill prosessaion. England ataw her interests endangered hy the pasha, thought France's oceupation of Algiers quite enough, and wan afralid that if Turkey were too weak she might income the defencelesu prey of Russia. The later wipied at no price to allow the energetic pusing to enter upon the inheritance of Turkey, or eren of a part of it , and was pleased at seelng tho cordlal understanding between France and Englund destroyed. Austric and Prussla supported England and Rusaia, and so France was icft alone. The Angio-Russian view found expresslon in the qualruple alluance which the great powers, with the exception of France, concludel in London, July 15 th. 1840 . By this the hereditary possession of the pashaliz of Egypt, and the possession for life of a part of Syria, were secured to Mehemed Ali, in caso he suis mitted to the conclisions of the conference whilln ten days. . . The alifect powers began lostilltes aguinst Mehemed Ail, who, relying on French asslatance, refinsed to snbmit. The AngloAustrian tleet saifed to the Syrian const, and tools Beirit nud Acre; and Alexandrias was bombarlell by Comnotiore Xapler. This ant? the fall of the Thlers ministry Uronght Mehented Ail to a fuli reaization of his mistake. Ile mlght consider ilmself lucky in lelng allowed to holid Egypt us hereditary pashalik npon evacuatlog syria, Arabla, aud Canila, anif restoring tho Turkish fleet. For this favor he had to thank England, whileh sonutht by this neans to secorre hls friendshlp and the sucz road to India. The catustrophe of the 'slek man' [the Turk] was again put off fow a fow years."-W. Mailer, Pulitinal Hiot. of Receul Times, sect. 11 .
Also in: A. A. Paton, Mist. of the Egyptiun Rerolution, $r 2$, ch. $1-20$, - C. A. Fyfe, Iist. of Munlern Eiurque. r. 2, ch. 6.-S. Walpole, list, of Englanh from 1815, eh 16 (c. iv).

A. D. 1839.-Acceasion of Ahdul Medjid.  A. D. 1853-1856. - The Crimean War. See

 Kessia: A. 1). 185i3-18:5, to 18.54-1856.A. D. 1861-1876. - The reign of Abd-ul-Aziz, and accession of Ahd-ul-Hamid, - "Troublea broke out th the Lebanon In 1860, in French army was digpatelact to restore urder, ani in the adjustment of rival claims un opportunlty was aforded to Lond Duth-rin fur displaylng those diplomatle talents for which fice is renowned. In 1861 the Suitan Aldi-ul Mr.jld died, and whith him passed away the hope of regenerating Turkey. Ilis brother ami successor Alxi-ul-Azlz was an ignorant bigot, whose extravagance brought inls country to avowed insolvency (1875), and thos de. prived her of that sympathy which is seldom given to the impecomious. The only remarkable thing he did was to travel. No Ottoman Sultan had ever before teft his own dominlons, except on the war path, but Athi-ul-Aziz ventured even as far as London, without, however a wakening any enthusiasm on the part of his Allies. In 1876 he was deposed, and - found dead. How he cams hy hif death 18 a matter of douht, hut his end Is eald to have turned the hraln of hla auc cemans, Murad V.. a mon of Abt-ul-Mejhid, who oftei three monthe was removel as on Imberile, nad sucuedell hy bis brother, Abel-ul. Hamid." - 8. Lane Poole. The Nory of Turtey, ch. 17 .
A. D. 1863-1877-Ualon of Waliachia and Moldavia-Rerolt In Bosala and Herzego-vina.-Reforma demanded by the Great Pow-ers.-War wlth Servila,-Conference at Cometantinople, - Ri,eelan preparationa for war. "Before four 5 :a ars were over fafter the terninathon of the Citmiean War lyy the Treaty of Parini. one of the chief stipulationa of the treaty was set aside. Waliachia and Moidavla, whichl lt hmi been the poilicy of the Howers to separate, illa. played a constant desire to jonn. Two of the great Ccntinental Powers - France and Russln - favoured tho Junction. Engiand, Austrin, and Turkey, thluking that the unlon wouill nltimately leail w thelr ludependence, oppowel their fualon under oure prince. At last, after diseusnions, whilh at ono moment seemed likeiy to re. kladie the fiames of war, an allominiatrative inlon vas arrangel, which resalted, in due coura. in the formal uniou of the $t$ wo provinces in 1 wil [In 18.8, the two provinces cilose the arine prince, or hospolatar. In the person of Prince fohn Coma, whotonk the title of Prince of Rommania. The Porto protested, int was induced, In 1801, to recognize this unlou of the coroncts. Prince Couza hesplrell to absoluthom. and was forced to aldiente in 1866. Then a bire man, Princo Charies of Ifohenzoliern, was chosen by the two provinces to be lila anccessor. I Thus, flve years nfter the Peace of Paris, one of the stipulations on which Eughand hai insisted was murrendered. In 1870 the Frataco German War led to the obliteration of anotioer of them. is November, when the armles of France wire elther beaten or besieged. Russla repudlated the clanse of the Treaty of Parls whicio had linited the forces of Ruswin nid Turkey In the Black Sca. The declarathen of the liusslan Gevera inent cume as a painfil shocek to the itritish people. The determination of a great Eurapean meate to tear up the chanse of a treaty ax ited indlgnatlon. It was reeoliectent, moreover. that lt was for the sake of thlas chanse that the Crimenn Wur hal been prolonged after the Yienma nerotiatlons: and that all the hownd whleh haul been shed, mud alf the money which had leen spent, after the spring of 185.5, were wasteri in its almulomment... Alt that diplomacy was able to do was to lessen the shock by nary was able to do was to Iessen the shork hy persuading the Kusslan Government to subuyt its proposal for the abrogation of the chause to a confereurs. . . The conference met.

had practlcaliy nothing to do but to recoril lts assent to the Russlun proposai.

For five vears nome the Eastern Question remahnel undisturbed. In the spring of 1875 an hisurrectinin broke ont in Bosula and Ilerzegovina. two of the northern provinces of Europeau Turkry. The l'orte faicd to quench the disturbance; mid. its efforts to do so lacreasing its pecuniary em barrassments, xas forced in tho sutumn to repudlate the clalins of its many creditors. In the meanwhile the insurrection continuril :a spread, and attracted the uttentiou of the great European Powers. At the Instigatlon of Austria a note was drawn up tby Count Andrasey, and us cemmr, vho afte: celle, and - Hamid. h. 17. chia and Herzego lat Powat Cos or war. termina of Parin]. eaty wa ich lt hami rate, dils. 0 of the d Russia Austris, uid ultised their r timus. ve union ours. in in $1 \times 18$. he mane 1 Prluce 'riner of was h. 0 of the witutism, na (ins. 8 Choseb Thus, c of the terif wat mit War cm. in were aterl the Ilmited islack isritish Euro.
snown, therefore, the Amlrasay Note], which was at once signed hy all the Buroppan Powers except Figisad, and which was ulimiately accepted hy England aimo, deriaring tiat 'tho monalmel of reform made by the Porte had not been carried into effect, and that some comblned action by the Howers of Europe was necensary to insist on the fuifiment of the many engagesuents winch Tirkey had mame and broken. As the note falleil to effect its object, the representa. tives of the Sorthern Powers - Germany, Aus trin, und Rusala-met at Berlin, propomed a suspension of arms for two

- lis, and intl. matied that if Turkey in tha rontbe failed to fulth her broken promiacs, 'force would bo usai to compel her to do so. The British (Give. ernment, uawiling to join in a threat, refusel to slan tids new note. The Insurrection went on; Scrvin, wimatilslog with the insurgenta, de. ciared war n"ainat Turkey; Rusvian othcers and Ruwsianter fougite In tho Bervian battailons; evhently , evpared for hostiltien. When these events occurrid, farge numbers of the Engitsh people were prepared to aupport tho Turk. Though they hid been partiaily estranged from the canse of Turkey hy the repudiation of thr © ittoman dibt in the peevious autumn, they rec. wherteal the survifters of the Crimenn War; they were irritatmi with the manaer in which one part of the Treaty of Iarls hai be i torn up in [sil): antl they were consequeutiy prepared to reshat any furtioer movement on the part of jas. sin The Porte, however, drealing the extension of revolt, allowed its offlcers to anticipate disoriler liy massacre, The ntrocious cruelty with whinh thls policy was excented [especialiy in Bulparla - e"e Balkan mbi Danthan States: A. i). 1 yois-lnis $]$ excited a penerai outburst of hutisomton in this country [Eugland]: and the British Ministry, whose lemicr had hitherto dis. plinerl murb sympathy with the Turks, found hlmiself forced to observe a strice neutraity. Jn the short wnr whirh ensued in the autumn of Fif, the Nervian troops proved no match for the arkish lattailons. It the request or command of iltswin the j'orte was forced to grant an armivtice th the ikelligerents; ant, on the suggestion of the Britisil Ministry, a Conference of the Great Powers was held at Constantinopie to provide for the letter govirnment of the Turk. ish provinces. The Constantinopie Conference, hekt it the leggining of 1877, formed in many respectas an exact parahel to the Vienna Confer. ence hrld in the summer of $18: 5$ rejecterd all the proposals on which the other lowers were agreci. . . . It cach ense the fail. ure of the Conference was followed by war. isut the parallel ends at this polut. . . . In the Russso. Turkish mat of $1877-8$, Turkey was left to fight her own battle aione."-S. Waipole, Forcign Relationa, ch. 9.
Also $\mathbb{N}: \mathrm{E}$ Olller, Crealle Ill. Mist. of the linson. Turkish War, t. a ch. 1-10. - Duke of Argyil, The bitetern Queoion, o. 1, ch. 3-9.- S . Menzies, Turkey Old and Nelc, bk. 4, ch. 4 (c. 2)
A. D. 1877-1878. - War with Rusis. Heroie defense of Pievas.-Defeat and sur-render.-" Russia bad aiready massed large ammires of trowps on her frontier, and Turkey Was also engaged in the work of mobliization. On the 24th Aprii tbe Emperor of Russia issued a manifesto to bis subjects, in which he recited the Intereat of the emplre in the Chriatian popu. iation of the Baikan peninoula, and the general desire tbat their condlition shouid be amelforated Ile declared that all efforte at pence had been ex. hausted. Ile hal given the orders for the army to croa the froatler, and the advance upose Turkey wan begun without delay. ., The Turte hal not been ldie, though their prepara tions were by no means as complete an thove of Ilussia. They hal massed heavy bonile of troope aiong the Danube, and were preparel to realst the movements of the Russinns mouth of that stream $\qquad$ The frst crossing [of the Rumalans] was made at Galatz, on the 22 J June, by General Zimmermann, who went over with two regiments in pontoons and drove out the Turks whu Frere posted on the helgite on the opposite shore. Ilaving obtainel a footing In the Dobrudja, an tho peninsuia between tho Danube and Biack Mea la called, the Rusians were able to throw brilges over the great stream, by which the whole left wiag of the anmy moverl acroas. Meantime tive rigit wing, on the 20th June, sent a pontoon firce over the Inanube from Simnitza, under comniand of Genernl Skobeleft, who drove vut the smail force of Turks posted there, though not witbout hard Agiting. Nore pontoons fol. lowed, nad then a bridge was throwa acroas on which the ramy couli murch. .... By the firit Week of July the whole IUussian army was safely cucampeal on the southera bank of tho Danuine, and getting in reatiness to asiame the oflensive.

The advance did not begla in force untii after the midille of the month. But before that time Generai Gourko . . . hail pushed furward on the road to the Bajkans, heading first for Tirnova.

On the 5 th July tho earairy oceupled Blein, and on tho Fth Gourko was in possession of Tirnova. . . . The Emperor jolned tho army at Bieia on the 8th or 8th. Courko Was soon reported past the Ialknns. . . . The flrst ebeck of the Russians was at I'levna. They had prevlousiy captured Nicupolis with its gar. rison of 7,000 nen, baving themselves fose about 1,300 ofticers and men kllied and wounded. Orders hal been given to occupy Plivnnas soon as possible, and Baron Krudener sent forwarl Generai Scbilder-Schuidiaer to carry out the orders.

Schilder. Schuliuer had 6,500 men and 46 guns in the division with winch he went to capture Pievna; be was nttacked by a vastly supe rfor force of Turks befero ho hod reached his objectivo polnt, and the first hattic of Plevna was disastrous to the Russians. Neariy 8,000 men and 74 offleers were kilied or wounded.

The Russinas retired to Nicopolis, and the Turks set to work to strengthen Plevna. From the 20th to tho 30th of Juiy the Russians were engaged in bringing up reinforcements and getting ready for another attack. An order came for the asssult of the Turkish position: Bnron Krudener did not beileve the assait advisabie, but the command of the Grand Duke Nieholas hift him no discretion." The assauit was made on the 81st of Juiy, and was repuised, with a loss to the Russians of 170 officers and 7.136 men. "There was nothing for the Russians to do but send for reinforcements, and wait untll they arrived. The adrance into Turkey bad received a severe check, from wblcb recovery was not easy. From the offensive the Russians were thrown upon tho defensive, and ali an the resuit of a single battie of sia or elght houst duration. Ilapplly for Rusela, the Turkimh army land no rompetent lemicr, op the nrmiy of the (Earmizht have xern capptured or drowneil In the Ihanuic. The Turka hat three armiea In the feld. . . Mehemet All wha at Nimmin with

The orider of the c'zar fir rilnforcementa wan culckly issurvi, and remultedl In the dewnateli front. With thene reinforcements went the piecem of artilery. © (apmeral (ionurko tionk up his positton In the slippa I'ane whenee Sulelana Pralin mought in valn to dixlexike him. . To. wards the end of Augitat the liuswan reinforece. ments were asmembled in wull mululers that an ailvance ceridid nagin be ventured. . . The totai whilfe the Turks were en, ded to have nlouat wha. The at-
 tember," whleh was kept up mutic the Bith.
 the Turkish works by awsanith Nkoleleft, eomspleuous, as he niwnys was, in daring and in success, tork one of the reloubter and held it until the next day, walling vainly for relnforece. ments whlelt were not nemb. Fisw where the nssauit falied. "The fluaslan kilied and woundet were extmuated at 18,19$) 0$ to 20 . ONO, and the Turk. ish alout 5.000 less than the lusslan. The capture hy asalult having lwell given up, the Hapsians sut down to invoke the ulif of that engiue. more powerfil than all their lutterfes, the englae of starvithon. One lyy one the roads lean. Ing into l'de vna were occupled, but it was nearly. two montis from the terribl: hattle of the 1 the Septeminer lefore the rumte for supplles uad reinfurermants destiaed for Osman Pushan could be arcured. The investmente was completed on the were aroundi : Plevna, Husslans and lommanlans were arouni plevna." On the morning of inecember 10 the belengiered Turks made a despere. ate sortic, attempting to break the line of in vest ment, having falled in which thelr staut-hearted commander surremiered uncondifinualiy. "Witil the fall of Plevna and the smercmaler of its gartison of 40,040 men, the Turkish opposition practically reased. Within a monti from tinat event Gurneral Chourko lawd captured Sophla, anil Gent crai Sadionky took the village of Shifpa, in the Shiphn Piens, whi conupedied the surrender of a Turkish army of 23,000 men. Si. Grourks and Skolededf wifanced upon lhilippopolis by diff. Scerent roults and marrowly hidssed capturing Suledman inshat wit. iton force. Skobeletif advancerl upon $A$ alandoned, wati is, cupled. uli fusile of made the leusslans the and they ndwanced youn Turks retiring before them 'chi the Turks 'gra were oc-解 retiring before them, ...... the makine a feeble resistance. Turkey astonnly mediatlon of England, ind tmally, despminlug of her aid, signed in arralivice that became the basis of ther treaty of San Stofano."-T. W. Knox, Derixire huitles since viaterlom, ch. 21. The campaign of the lhassians In Buigarin was accompanied by another in Aslatic Turkey, where they. ilkerwise, met whit a teangorary check, after pushing their first advance too confidentiy, and with an insufficlent force. They invested Kars and mivanerd againat Erzeroum, In May, 18is; hut were the fented! at tevin and wlthdrew from ikoth undertaking. Ilaving recelved relufirce. menta, they reaniment the offenaire in Oetolwer, nttacking tie main Turkiah army, under Mukh, Par l'usha, In its atrong pomition int Alaininn, or on live lditle Yalindunf Orene Yahn! hilis. This firut ntack, on the eit, was repulsell; they ri. peateif it on the 15th with sucecss, ciriving oat wing of the enemy $\operatorname{lnt} 0$ Kars and foretng the other to surrender. Kars was then twereveged nud taken by numalt November 17. The tlurk nuffered amotior defeat at Deve. Ihyyun, butir Firzeroum. Xovember t, and they evacuated Erzerouns Itwelf In Foliruary $188 \mathrm{~N}, \mathrm{E}$. Ollir.
 Hiar.

Al.me in: V. Haker, The Hire in Bulparin. F. V. Gruene. The Ruavian Armal ind ita liem.
A. D. 3878 .-Excltement in Engiand over the Rugian advance,-The Britioh feet sent through the Dardaneites,-Arrangement of the Berin Congress. - 'At the opending of inin the Turka were cempictely prostrite. The romd to Constantinople wus clcar. B. Fore the Eing lish pubile had time to recover their hreath and to obmerve whit was inking place, the victorlons armies of llusslu were nimost withing aight of the minarets of Staminul. Nennwhlle the Eagllsh Governnent were tuking nomentous action.
jarliament was culled together at least a fort:
nl ght before the time unual during recent y yens. The speech froin the Throne nnusunced thint fler Majesty could not conceal from herself that, ahould the inostifticn ievtween ISussin und Turhey unfortumately be proionged, 'some unexpecteyl orcurrence may pemder ft incumbent on me til adopt neenaures of precantion.' This lexeked ominous to those who whiled for perace, and it rulsed the spirits of the war purty. There wasa very large muli a very nolay war party alremaly ta exlstence. It was pirticulariy strong in lomilum. It embruced wime liberals as well is nearly all Torles. It was popular in the misie. nearlay naif the poblif. honses of London. .. Pbe 1 . 10 , arthon fot in nickame. They were duble we Jlago Purty. Some Tyrreus of the tap tulh, bome Körner of the music halis, bad eomposed a hallad which was sung at one of these caves of harmony e very night amidst the tumiltuons ap. piause of cxclited patriots. The refrain of this War-song contained the spirit-stirriag werrly: - We din't want to fight, but, hy Jingo, If we do, We've got the ships, we've got the men, We've got the money too." Some one whave pulsesthisifrical oushurst of national pride failed to stir called the party of its enthuslasts the Jingoes. .. The name was caught up nt once. and the party were undwersally known as the Jingoes. Mediterrancran fleet to pass the Dardanefles und Ex up to Constantinopic. The Chancelfor of the Excliectuer announced that hic would ask for a supplementary ustimate of six mililons for naval and malitary purposes. Thereupon Lord Carnarvon, the Colonial Secretary, at once resignoll.

Lori Derby was also anxious to resign, aud inded tendered his resignation, but he was prevalled upon to mithdraw it. The flect wate:: while was ordered back from the Dardanelfas in Besika Bay. It had got as far as the opening of the Straits when it was recalled. The Liberal

Oppmalition in the Houne of Commons kept on protesting againat the varlous war menaures of the Govermment, but with little efiect. White all this agitation In and out of Parliament wis golug on the new utterly broken down, had been compelled to alen anarmistice, and an agreement contalaing a Lavia of peace, at Adrtanopie. Then, following quilekly on the livels of thin mnnouncement, came a report that the Rumsians, notwlehatand Int the armatatice, were pushlug on towaris Con ataatinople wlth the intention of occupying the Turkinh caplal. A cry of alarm and Indigna than broke out in London. One memorable night a suditen report reached the IInuse of Commont thint the liuadens were actually in the anlburbs of Conatintinople. The IIoume for a time almint catisty lout lis head. The lobbles, the corridon, At. Ntryhen's Ifall, the great Westminster Ifali Itwelf, and Palace Yand beyond It, lecame alled whth whelly excted and tumultuniu crowds. If the clamour of the streets at that moment huit hern the volce of England, nothling coulld huve prevented a declaration of war aralnat liasola. Happlly, however, It was proved that the ris. memr of Izumalan mivance was unfounded. The fleet was now rent In good earneat tbrough the Dardanelles, and anchored a few miles below Constantlonple. IRusala at frat protested that If the Finglish fleet pamed the Stralts Rumslan trmpis onght to occupy the clty. Lond berly Why firm, and terms of arrangement were found - Einglish troops were not to be disenibarked. and the Ifusslans were not to advance. Russla was stilit opea to negotiation. Prohalily Russla hail mon lera of taking on herself the tremendous responsilillty of an occupation of Constantluople. She hal entered Into a ireaty wheh Turkey, the fimous Treaty of San Stefano, by whleh she accured for the populatons of the Christlun prov. lures almost complete Independence of Turkey, and was to create a great new ISulgnrinn State with a senport on the Egean Sea. The Einglish Government refused to recognlse tbls Traty. Lord berlyy contended that it involved an entirc redidjustineme of the Treaty of Parls, nud that that could only be done whith the sauction of the Great trowers nssembled In Comgrems. Lord leat consfieh openly declared that the Treaty of Sma Stefano would put the whole sontb-cast of Europe directly umder Russlan Inthuenec. Luassla offered to submit the Treaty to the prepusal, if we may we the expression, of 1 Congress: but urguet thut the stipulathons hech merely concerned Turkey unil herself wh ee for Turkey and herself to settle between them. Thls was obvlomaly an matriable position. . . Turkey meanwhlle kept fuebly nonning that she had beca cererced Into siguing the Treaty. The Govcrament determined to call nut the Reserves, to summon a contingent of Iadlan troops to Europe, to occupy Cyprus, and to make aum armed landing on the const of syria. . . The last hope of the l'mace piarty seremed to have vanlshed when Laril Therhy left his ottce [whech he dhit on twe 28th of Mareh]. Lord Salishury was made Forelgn Vinistir. ... Lord salishury's first act In the oftice of Forelgn Secretary was to lssue $n$ clrcular in which he declared that It would le Impossible for Fiagland to entrr a Congress wbicia was at free to coaslder the wbole of the proPisions of the Treaty of San Stefano. Prince Bismarck had often during these events shown an Incilination to exhitite himeelf in the new attitude of a penceful medlator. He now laterposed again and lacued invitations for a congrese to be heht in Berlin to discume the whole contents of the Treaty of San Blefana, After wone delay, dimcusalou, and altorcation, Humain agreed to accept the Invitation on the condition proposel, and it wa tinally resolved that a Congremalir uld amemble in lieriln on the approach. lag Jube 18. To this Congress it was suppomet by mota penwons that Lond Mallatury woild be eent to reprement Engiand. Nuch to the surpriso of the pubile, lond Beaconatield a nnounced that he himielf would attend, accomipanled by ford Nallsbury, and conduct the negotlations in lier. IIn. The event was, we belleve, wlthout preve. dent. .. The Congress was held in the Rulai. vili i'alace, a hulding with a plain unpreteniling exterior in one of the princlpal strects of $\mid \mathrm{ker} \| \mathrm{n}$, and then in the occupatlon of Prince Blamarck. Tbe Prince inlmself presidet.

The Congreas dheussed the whole or nearly the whole of the queatlons opebed up by the recent war.
The great oliject of most of the statesmen who were concer. In the preparntion of the Treaty Which cam the Congress, was to opeu for the Christian ph thons of the south eant of Europe a way Into dual self-development and Inde. pendence. flut on the other hand it nust be owned that the objoct of mime of the Powers, and explechatly, we are afruld, of the English Government, wus rather to muintala the Ottoman (Oovernment than to care for the future of the Christlan races. These two influences, acting and counteracting, on eacb other, produced the Treaty of Berlin. - -J. McCarthy, Mist. of Our Oien Time, ch. $65(n, 4)$.

Alan in: J. A. Froude, Lome Reaconatield, ch. 16.-II. D. Trali, The Jurquis of Stliatury, ch. 11.-1R. Wilson. Lifo and Times of Queen Vicluria, $x .2$, ch. 21
A. D. 1878. - The Treatles of San Stefano and Berlin. - "The Flrst Article of the Trenty of Sum stefano had refercure to the new homadarles to lar assigned to Montencgro. The accesslon of territory, whilh was not very large, was tuken fros: the provinces of Bosula and Albaula, and lay to the nerth, cast, and sumblh of the orlgi. ual state.

It gave to the mountalneers thelr much-coveted mimisslon to the sen. It was next provlded that $n$ Euruperm Commission, on Wheh the Subline Porte gind the Government of Montenegro were to be reprisented, should be Margel with fixing the dethute ilmits of the I rluclpality:. . . Ify Aricle II.. the Sublime Porte recognized definitucly the lndependence of the I'rlactpalty of Montenegro. . . . Artlcte IIt. dealt whth servia, wheb was recognlzed as ladependent. The new fronter of this l'rinctpality was to follow the course of the Drhat, the Dezevo, the liaska, the Ibar, the Morura, and some other strenms, aud wns drawn so ns to glve Iattle Zwornik, Zakar, Leskovatz, Ak Palanka, and Nisch, to tbe Servlans. . . . In Aristo V., the Sublime Porte undertook to recor $\cdots$ the tadependence of Rounanla, whi.h wiot thus accpulte a right to an Indemalty, to be horeafter discussed bet ween the two countrles. Tius nost Importaut sectlons of the Treaty $\boldsymbol{q}$. of cusurse those whith had relation to Bulgaria. They commenced with Artlele VI., which set forth thant Bulgaria was constitutel an autonomous, trihutary Princlpalty, wlib a Curfstan Govern: ment and a national militia. The deflnitive frontiers of the new Principality were to be traced by a special Ruseo-Turkish Conmmission before the evacuation of Roumella by the Ruselun army.

The new Buigaria was of very considerahle dimensions. It extended from the Danube in the north to the Egean lu the south; and from the borders of Albania in the west to the Biack Sea in the east. All that was left to Turkey in this part of her Empire was an irregular aud someWhat narrow territory, running westward from Constantinople along the shores of the Sea of Marmora and the 星gean untif it touched the limits of the new Principaility, and cxtendling no farther north than was sufficient to include Adrianople and its immediate neighbourhood. By this arrangement, the territory so left to the Sultan was completely separated from Thessaly and Albania. $\qquad$ - According to Artlcle Vll. the Prince of Bulgaria was to be freely elected by the people, and confirmed by the Suhlime Porte with the assent of the Powers. No member of the reigning dynasties of the Great European Powers should be capahle of belng elected Prince of Bulgaria.

The introductlon of the new system into Bulgaria, and the superintendence of its working, wouid be entrusted for two years to an Imperial Russian Commissioner.
By Article VIII., the Ottoman army would no longer remain ln Bulgaria, and all the ancient fortresses would be razed at the expense of the local Government. Until the complete formation of a native militia, the country would he occupled t. "issian troops.... Artcle 1X. declared th. Gount of the sinnual trihute which Bur to pay the Suzerain Court would be Russia, the 1 Government, and the other was to Article X., the Subllme Porte for tha transport, for the transport, hy fixed routes, of its troops, munitlons, and provisions, to the provinces beyond the Principality, and vice versal. .. . Article XII. provided that all the Danuhian for. tresses should be razed, and that in future there should he no strongholds on the banks of the Danube, nor any men-of-war in the waters of Roumania, Servia, or Bulgaria. . . Article XIV. imposed on Turkey the ohligation to introduce reforms Into Bosnia and the Herzegovina." Articles XV. aud XVI. stipulated reforms in gov. ernment of Crete, Epirus, Thessaly, Armenla, and otiler parts of the Ottoman Empire. "The question of the war-indemnitles was arranged in Article XIX., which set forth that the Emperor of IRussia claimed, in all, $1,410,000,000$ roubles for losses imposed on Russia during the contest.

The Emperor, however, did not desire to receive the whoie of thls indemnity in the form of money.payments, hut, laking into consldera. tion the inancial embarrassments of Turkey, and acting in accordance with the wishes of the Sultan, was willing to substitute for the greater part of the sums enumerated certain territorial ces. sions, consistling of the Sandjak of Tulteha, on the Dapube (including the Deita Islands and the Isle of Serpenta), and, In Asia, Ardahan, Kars, Batoum, Bayazid, and the territory extending as far as the Soghanli Dagh. With respect to the Sandjak of Tultchs and the Delta Islands, Russia, not wishing to annex that territory, reserved to herseif the right of exclianging it for the part of Bessarahla detached from her by the Treaty of 1856.

Asi. . . The ceded territorles in Europe and sum were to be taken as an equivalent for the sum of $1,100,000,000$ rouhles. The remainlng Artlcles of the Treaty of San Stefano related to details of minor inportance. "Tho Treaty of Berlin, signet hy the Plenipotentlaries on the 13th of July, 1878, and of which the ratifications were exchanged on the 3rd of August, was the Treaty of San Stefanc, with additions, sultrac tions, and amendmet.ts. Speaking gener. ally, it may be said that the ohjects of the Treaty of Berlin, as distlingulahed froni its predecessor, were to place the Turklsh Empire in a position of independence, and to protert the jeopurdised rights of Europe. These endis it accomplished, or partialiy accomplished, by several important provisions. It divided the so-called Bulgaria into two provinces, of which the one to the north of the Balkans was formed into a trihutary Princlpality, while the one to the south, which was to be designated Eastern Roumella, was to remain under the direct authority of the Suitan, with administrative autonomy and a Christian Governor-General. It left to the Sultan the passes of the mountains, and the right of sending troops into the interior of Eastern IRoumella whenever tiere might be occasion. It reduced the stay of the Russian army in European Turkey. . . . It secured to IRoumanala. as compensation for the loss of that portion of Bessarahla which had been annexed to Moidavia by the Treaty of Paris (1856), a larger amount of territory, south of the Danube, than had been granted at San Stefano. It restoreti to Turkey the whol of the northern shores of the Egean, a wide extent of country in Europe, and, In Asin, tine valiey of Aiasigerel and the town of Baynzli. . It gave far ampler guarantees for rellgious liberty than had entered into the projects of the Czar."-E. Oliier, Ciswell's Illuatrated IIiut. of the Rusoo. Turkish War, c. 2 ch. 9 and 21.- "In her private agreement with Russia, England had consented to the cession of Butoum, hut she now sought to diminish the value of that post hy stipulating that the fortitications should be demolisied and the port declared free. The dispute, whlch at one time assumed a scrious character, was finally settled by a drelaration on the part of the Czar that Batoum should be a free port. Kars, Ariahan, and Batouna were ceded to Russla, the district of Kinotur to Persia, and the Suitan pledged himself to carry out the requisite reforms in Armenia witiout loss of time, and to protect tise inhabi. tants against tie Kurls and Circassians. At the same time a sccret treaty was made known which had been contracted letween England and Turkey on the 4th of June. By this treaty the Porte pledged itself to carry out reforms $\ln$ Asia Minor, and Englnnd, on her part, guaranteed the integrity of the Sultan's Asiatic possessions. To put Engiand in a position to fuldil her part of the treaty, and as a pledge for the execution of the promised reforms, the Porte surrendered Cyprus to England as a naval and military station, the iatter agreelng to regard the island as an integral part of the Turkish empire, and to make uver the surplus revenue to tise Sultan. Thls trenty, Which had received the consent of Germany and Russia at the tlme of its execution, aroused grat Indignation in France and Italy. . . . To pacify the former state, Beaconstield and Salishury eutered into a secret arrangement with Waddilng.

TUSCANY.

ton, in accordance with which England was to put no obstacles in the way of a French occupa. tion of Tunis-an arrangement of which the French government finally took ad vantage in the year 1881. The English representatives had also entered into an arrangement with Austria in reference to Bosnia and Herzegovina. In the sitting of June 20th Andrassy read a memorandum In which he set forth that Austria had been disturbed for a whole year hy the insurrection in those provinces, and had been compelled to receive and provide for over 150,000 Bosnlan fupi. tives, who positively refused again to submit ${ }^{+}$, the hardships of Turkish misrule; that Tw iti was net in a position to restore order ln the disturbed districts. . Thereupon the Marqu iof Saiisbury moved that Austria be charged ith the occupation and administration of Bosnla is 1 Herzegovina, and $\qquad$ the congress cided to hand over those two provinces to AustroHungary. . . . The Independence of Servia and Montenegro was recognized on condition that fuil freedem and polltical equality were accorded to the members of ail religions. Servia received an additien to her population of 280,000 souls, her most important acquisition being the city and fortress of Nish. She also assumed a part of the Turkish debt. The recognition of Roumaninn independence was conditioned on the cession of Bessarabia to Russia, and the admission to political equality of the members of all reilgions-a cenditien which had special reference to the Jewn. In compensation for Bee sarabla Roumania was to recelve the Dobrudsha and the islands at the mouth of the Danube.
Austria took possession of her share of the booty at once, hut not without the most obstlnate resistance. "- $\mathrm{F}^{\mathrm{i}}$ Maller, Political Hist. of Recent Times, sect. 3u.
Also Dr: Sir E. Hertslet, The Map of Eiurope by Treaty, 0. 4, Nos. 518, 524-532. -Duke of Argyll. The Ehaetern Question, 0. 2, ch. 13.- See, almo. Balean and Danubian Stateg: A. D. $13 \%$.
A. LP, TR94-Reported Atrocities in Ar-menia-A surbance of some nature - the eanses and exis at of which have not yet leen ascertaine d-- cecurring In Turkish Armenin during the late veeks of bummer or early part of autuman, gar, occasion for what is claimed to $2 \cdot, 1, n$ niore horrible atrocities on the part of the Turisici soldiery than were committed in Bulgaria during the year 1877. The scene of alleged massacres is in the mountainous district of Sassoun, near the western end of Lake Van, where 6,000 men, women and children are sald to have been slain. The Christian world having been roused, though not very promptly, by the reports of this fresh outbreak of harbarism, the Porte has beeu forced by pressure from the Powers to consent to the formation of a commis. sion to investigate the afiair. England, France and IRussla are to be represented on the commission.

TURLUPINS, The. See Begutines.

TURNER, Nat, The Insarrection of. See Slayery. Negro: A. D. 1828-1832.
TURONES, The.-A tribe in ancient Gaul who gave their name to Touraine, the district which they inhabited, and to Tours, the chief town of that district. See Gacls; also, Vexeti of Weatern Gaul.

TUSCANY: A. D. $685-1115$ - The founding of the duchy.-The reign of Countess Matilda. -The rise of the free cities. -"The first Lombard duke of whom any sure record renains is a certain 'Alovislno ' who flourisied about the year 685; and the last, though of more doubtful existenee, is 'Tachiputo,' in the 8th century, when fuccn was the principal seat of government, with the privilege of colning. although her Counts were not always Dukes and Marquises of Tuscany. About the year 800 , the title of Duke secms to have changed to that of Count, and although hoth are afterwards used the lntter is mest common: Muratori says, that this dignity was in 813 enjoyed by $n$ certain Boniface whom Sismondi believes to be the ancestor of Countess Matilds; but her father, the son of Tedaldo, belongel to nnother race : he was the grandson to Attone, Azzo, or Adelberto, Count of Cannosa.

The linc of Boniface $I$. finished $\ln 1001$ by the death of IIugo the Great.

After him, on account of the ciril wars between Ardolno and 1 lenry, there was no permanent Duke until 1014, when the latter appolnted Iranleri, whom Conrad the Salique deposed in 1027, making rom for Boniface the father of Countess Ma. tildia. This heioine died $\ln 1115$ after a reign of active exertion for herself and the Chureh sgainst the Emperorn (In the 'War of Invertiof Guelph and Ghibeline. . . Tise fearless as. sertion of her own independence by successful struggles with the Emperor was an example not overlooked by the young Italinn communities under Matilda's rule. . . These seeds of liberty began first to germinnte amongst the Lombard plains, but quickiy sprending over the Apennincs were weicomed throughout Tuscany [see Iraly: A. D. 1050-1152].... It seems probable that in Tuscany, townrds the commencement of the 12th century; the Count's authority had passed entireiy into the principnl communities, leaving that of the Marquis as yet untouched; but there are reasons for lelieving that the Countess Matildn in some of her difficulties was induced to seli or cede a portion of her power, and probably all thnt of the Count's. . Altogether, there nppenrs littie reason to doubt the internal freedom of most Tuscan cities very early in the 11 th century."1I. E. Nupier, Florentine llistory.bk. 1, ch. 4(o. 1).

Also in: P. Villari, The Tico First Centuries of Florentine IIItory, r. 1, eh. 2.
A. D. 925-1020.-The rize of Pisa. See Pisa.
A. D. 1063-1200. - Cultivatlon of architecture at Pisa. See Prsa: A. D. 1083-1203.
A. D. 1077-1115. - Countess Matilda and her Donation to the Holy See. See Papacy: A. D. $1077-1103$.
A. D. 1215.-Beginning of the wars of Guelis and Ghihellines. See Iraly: A. D. 1215.
A. D. 1248-1278. - The Guelf and Gibelline wars. See Florence: A. D. 1248-12;8.
A. D. 1250-1293.-Development of the popular constitution of the Florentine Commonwealth. See Florence: A. D. 1250-1293.
A. D. 1282-1293. - War between Pisa and Genea.-Battle of Meloria. - War of Florence and Lucca againat Pisa. See Piba: A. D. 1063-1293.

TUSCANY.

TWO SICILIES.

A. D. 1300-1313. - The new factions of Florence.-Blanchi and Neri. See Florence: A. D. 1295-1300; and 1301-1318.
A. D. 1310-1313. - The visitatlon of the Emperor Henry VII, - His war with the Guelfic cities. See Italy: A. D. 1310-1313.
A. D. 1313-1328. - The wars of Florence and Pisa.-The subjection of Lucca to Castruccio Castracani and his war with the Florentlaes. - The hostile visitation of the Emperor Louis of Bavaria. See ITALY: A. D. 1313-1330.
A. D ${ }^{1336-1338 .-W a r ~ o f ~ F l o r e n c e ~ w i t h ~}$ Mastino della Scala, of Verona. See Verona: A. D. $1260-1338$.
A. D. 1341-1 343.-Defeat of the Florentines hy the Pisans before Lucca.-Brief tyranny of the Duke of Athens at Florence. See FionENCE: A. D. 1341-1343.
A. D. ${ }^{35} 33^{-1} 359$.-Sufferings and deliverance from "the Great Company." See ITALY: A. D. 1343-1393.
A. D. 1378 -1427. - The democratizing of Florence. - The fumult of the Ciompl. $\rightarrow$ First appearances of the Medici. See Florence: A. D. 1378-1427.
A. D. 1390-1402. - Resistance of Florence to the conquests of the Duke of Milan. See Flobence: A. D. 1390-1402.
A. D. 1433-1464.-The ascendancy of Cosimo de' Medici at Florence. See Florence: A. D. 1433-1464.
A. D. 1452-1454. - War of Florence and Milan against Venice, Naples, Siena and other states. See Milan: A. 1), $1447-14 \mathrm{it}$.
A. D. ${ }^{4690-1492}$. The government of Lo renzo de' Medici, the Magnificent, at Florence. See Florence: A. D. 1409-1493.
A. D. 1494-1509. - The French deliverance of Pisa. - The long struggle and reconquest hy Florence. Sere P1sa: A. I). 1494-1509.
A. D. 1502-1 569.- Restoration of the Medici in Florence and their creation of the grand duchy of Tuscany. See Flonexce: A. I. A D.
A. D. ${ }^{1725 .}$ - Reversion of the grand duchy pledged to the Infant of Spain. Srand Suchy A. D. 1735 - Radithay: A. D. 175-1735.
A. D. 1735. - Reversion of the duchy secured to the ex-Duke of Lorraine. See Fnatice:
A. D. 1733-1:35; and Italy: A. D. 1715-1735.
A. D. 1796 . - Seizure of Leghorn by the

A. D. 1801. - The grand duchy transformed into the Kingdom of Etruria and given to the son of the Dulke of Parma. See Germany: A. D. 1801-1803.
A. D. 1807. - End of the Kingdom of Etruria. Pontrion and annexation to France. Soe Pobstionl: A. D. 1807.
A. D. 1814-1815.-Restored to Ferdinand III. See Viensa. Tue Cononess of; and Italy: A D. 1814-1815.
A. D. 1848-1849. - Revolution. - Expulsion of the Grand Duke.-Proclamation of a Republic and union with Rome. - The old order restored. See ITALY: A. D. 1848-1849.
A. D. 1850-1861.-Flight of the Grand Duke. - Formation of a provisional government. Annexation to Sardinla.-Ahsorption In the 1850-1859; ani 18:92-18R1. See Italy: A. D. 1850-1859; and $1859-1891$.

TUSCARORAS, The. See American Aboriones: Iroquols Conyederacy, and Iroqtots Thibes of tae South.

TUSCULAN VILLAS.-' In Cicero's time the number of country loouses which a wealthy Roman consldered it necessary to possess had evidently become considerable, and the amonat spent upoa them very great. The orator lim. self had vlllas at Tusculum, Antlum, Formlie, Bala, and Pompeil, besides his towa house oa the Palatine, and hils family seat at Arpiaum. been In the possession of Cicero had formerly the Villa of Clcero, and so ucar that he couse to the Villa of Clcero, and so uear that he conld go across to fetch books from the library, was the Villa of Lucullus. . . Many other Roman villas lay on the Tusculan hills."-R. Burn, Iome urd lay on the Tusculan hills."- the Canpagna. ch. 14, pt. 3 .
TUSCULUM. - : 12 the times of the Latla Lengue, from the fall of Alba to the battle of Lake liegillus, Tusculum was the most promb. nent town $\ln$ Latlum. It suffered, like the other towns In Latium, a complete eclipse during the later Repuhlle and the Imperial times; hit la the pluth, tenth, eleventh and twelfth centuries, under the Counts of Tusculum, it hecame again, a place of great importance andi power." The ruins of Tusculum, ahout fifteen miles from Rome, on the Alban hills, lave been considerably explored.- R . Burn, lame and the Campagna. ch 14, ht. 2.-See, nlso, AınA.

TUSKEGEE INSTITUTE. See Entca. TIoN, Monens. AMEMEA: A. 1). 186.'-1881.

TUTELOES, The. See American Anorio. INES: SLOEAN FAMHI, TUTTLINGEN, OR DUTLINGEN, Battle of (1643). Sice GERMANY: A. D. 1643-164TWEED RING, The. See NEW Yomk. A. I. 1863-1871.

TWELVE APOSTLES OF IRELAND. See Clonard, Monastkuy of.
TWELVE CASARS, The. See Rome: A. D. 6x-96.

TWELVE PEERS OF FRANCE.-The Twelv. Peer of France were the nolites ani prelates " who held the great flefs Immediately from the Crown. . . Their number had theen fixed hy Louls Vil. at twelve; slx lay and six ecclesiastimal. They were the Dukes of Nor. mandy, Burgundy; Gulenne, the Counts of Champagne, Flauders, Toulouse; Counts of hishop of Rhelms, and the Bishops of Laon, Noyon, Chalons, Reanvais and Langres.
The Inmedlate vassals of the Duchy of France, Who held of the King as Duke. not as King, were not Peers of France., were not Peers of France."- G. W. Kitella, Hiat. of France, v. 1, bk: 3. ch. 6. with fint mite.
TWELVE TABLES OF THE LAW, The. See llome: 13. C. 451-449.
TWENTY-SECOND PRAIRIAL, LaW of the. See France: A. D. 19494 (June-Jluw). TWIGGS, General, Treacherous surrender of. See United States of Asi.: A. J. 18biv1861 (Decemier-Femhuary).
TWIGHTWEES, OR MIAMIS, The. See American Aborionses: Algonquian Famif, also Illinors and Miamis, and Sacs, Etc.
TWILLER, Wouter' Van The governorship of. Nee NEw YORK: A. D. 1638-1647.
TWO SICILIES, The Klngdom of the.The klngdom founded in Southern Italy and Sleily by the Norman conquest $\ln$ the 11 it century (see Italy: A. 1. 10VO-1000, and 10s1-1194) maintained ita existence unti recent thes, sometimes as a unit, and sometimes divided into the two dominions, insuisr and penlasular, of Stcily and Apuila, or Napies. Tine division occurred first after the rising against the French and the massacre known as "the Slcilian Vespers" (see Italy: A. I. 1282-1300). The crown of Sicliy was then acqured by Peter, king of Aragon, succeeded by his sun Frederick. Charles of Anjou and his suecessors were icft in possession of the king dom of Napics, aione, aithough stlll ciaiming Sleily in union with it. "As the kling who relgned at Napies wouid not give up his right to siclly, . his kingdom is oftencallcd Stcly as weii as the Isiand Klugdom; and so when at last the two kingdoms became one [again-see Italy: A. D. 1412-i447], the strunge name of the Kingdom of the Two Sicilies arose." -W. Huat, Ifist. of Italy, p. 93.Ser, also, Napleg, and Sicily.

TWO BICLLIES
TYCHE.-One of the variousiy named parts of the auclent city of Syracuse, Slciiy. Its posithon was northwest of Achradina.
TYCOON, OR SHOGUN. See JApan: sketcir of ilistory
TYLER, John: Vice-Presidential eiection. -Succession to the Presidency.-Administration. Sce Cnited Statea of Am. : A. D. 1840 to 1845.
TYLER, Wat, The Rebeliion of. Sce Eng. LavD: A. i. t:3\%1
TYLiS, Celtic Empire of.-"Tisc cmplre of Tylls la the liaemus, which the Celts, not iong allt r the death of Alexnmicr [the Great]. . . . inad founted in the Moeso-Thracian territory, diestroyal the seed of Greck civilisation within its phare: and itself succumbed during the lianui balic war to the assauits of the Thracians. who "tirpated these intruders to the iust mau."T. Hommscu, Ilist. of Rome, bk. 8, ch. 7 .

TYNDARIS, Navai battie at (B. C. 257) Ste ircie Wans: The First.
TYNWALD, Court of, Sce Manx King. bur: and. ahoo, Thlve.
TYPHOID FEVER, Appearance of. Sre Pr.1.re: 18 tu Centidur.
TYRANTS, Greeic. - "A 'tyranny Greek sense of the wori, was the Irres dominiou of a siagle person, not founde reditary right, iike the monarchies of the ares and of many harharian natlons, nor un a free election, ilke that of a dictator or æsymnetc, hut ou force. It did not change lis character when transmitted through severai generatons, nor was any other name lnvented to deseribe it whea power, which had been acquired by vlohence, was used for the puhlic good; though Aristotc makes it an clement in the detinultion of tyrunay, that it is exerclsed for selfisi) ends. But, according to the ordinary Greek notiona, and the usage of the Greek iilstorians, n mild and hereticcnt tymany is au expression whlch involves no contradletion." ${ }^{-C}$. Thiriwaii, $I^{\prime}$ ast of 'irece, ch. 10.-'In splte of the worst whici has heen sald agalast them, the tyrants hoid a icgitluate place in the progress of Greek constitutionai hilstory. Tbey were the means of ircakiag down the oilgarehies in the interests of the pcople. .. . It was at Slcyon that the first tyraanis arose. . . . About the year 670 B. C. a certaln Ortbagoras, who is said to have been a cook, succeeded in estahlishligg himseif as tyrant la sicyon. Of hls reign no incident is recorded.

TYRE.

He was succeeded by his son Myron."-E. Abbott, Ifist. of Greece, pt. 1, ch. i2.

Also in: J. P. Mahaffy, Problems in Greek Mistory, ch. 4.-See, aiso, Despors.
TYRAS, The. - The ancient name of the river i)nlester.
TYRCONNEL'S DOMINATION IN IRE. Land. See Iheland: A. D. 1685-1688.

TYRE. - "Justin represents Tyrc as having been founded a year before the Capture of Troy, thus apparentiy reducing by about 1,500 years the date assigned to it by the priests of the tempie of Hercuies. . . Joscphus piaces the aet thement of Tyre 240 years before the building of Soiomon's 'Tempic. ile refers no douht to the same event ns Justin, the occupation of the isiand by the Sidonians, as he caunot have been ignorant of the mentlon of Tyre in the Oid Testament more than 240 y cars before Solomon. The date of the buildilng of Solomon's Tcmpie is Itseif disputed, estlmates varying from 1012 B. C. to 069 B. C. . . Tyre consisted of two parts, an isiand about thrce-quarters of $n$ mllc in lengti, separated from the malniund by a strait four stadia, nbout half a milc, in width at its northern end, and a town on the shore. The iat ter was distinguished as Pale-Tyrus, or Anclent Tyre, and was the chief seat of the popuiatlon, till the wars of the Assyriau monarchs against Phenicia. It cxtended along the shore from the river Leontes In the north to the fountain of Ras cl-Aln in the south, a cilstance of seven milics, great pirt of which wonid he suhurh ratier than city. illny, who wrote when its bonndaries could still be traced, computes the clrcuit of Paie-Tyrus and the island together at minetcen iRoman miics, that of tilc island town being 23 stadia. $\qquad$ Though called Ohl Tyre, hecanse it lay in ruins, when the younger city on the island was in the height of its prospcrity, it was from the first connected with it; and the name of Tyre (Tsour), a rock.' wonid hardily he approprintc, except to the island. . It is probable that, from the first, tho istand, from the cxceiience of its natural harhour, was a aaval station to the clty on the malnlandi, nnd, as n place of securlty, the seat of the worship of the nationai delties, Astarte, Belns, Hercules. . . . The situatlon of Paik-Tyrus was one of the inost fertile spots on the coast of Pheulch. The pialn is here about five nailes wide, the soll is dark, nod the variety of its ןroductions cxelted the wonder of the Crusaders. Near the sonthern extremity of the city was a fountain, wiich, communicatlng with some natural receptacle in the mountains abore, poured forth copious and perenniai streams of pure and cooi water. An aqueduct distrihuted them throagh the town. . . . Whatcver may have been the relative importance of Pale. Tyrus and the Isiand, previous to the great mlgratlon from Sidon, occasloned hy the victory of the Ascaionites, there can be no doubt that from this time the popuiation of the isiand greatiy increased. The colonizatlon of Gades took place about a century iater. But we have no connected history of Tyre tilii near the age of solomon."-J. Kearick, Phanicia: Ifiat., eh. 1. - See Pravicians. and Trade. The founding of the coiony of Carthage. Sce Carthage: The Founding of.
B. C. 598-585.- Siege by Nebuchadnezzar. See Puanicumb: B. C. $850-538$.

TYRE

TYROL

B. C. 332.-Siege and capture by Alexander the Great. - After defeating the Persians at Issus (see Macedonia: B. C. $334-330$ ), Alexander turned his attention to the trihutary Yhonielan cities, whose fieets gave to the Grent King a naval power more formidahle than the hosts ot the nations whleh marehed at bls eommand. SI. don, Byhlus, and otber towns suhmitted promr ly to the conqueror. Tyre offered a qualitied surrender, wilch did not satisfy the hangity Macedoninn, and he Instantly lifid slege to the clty. Llaving no adequate theet with wbleb to reach the island-town, he resolved to carry a causeway across the channel which separated the sland from (Old Tyre, on the inainland, and he demolished the buildlngs of the latter to provide materials for the work. It was an undertakligg of Immense magnltude and dittculty, and the lugenluus Tyrinns found many modes of iuterferling with it. They succeeded in destroying the mole wheu half of it had beer built; but Alex. ander, with ohstinate perseverance, began hls Work anew, on a laiger scale than before. He also colleeted a strong theet of war-galleys, from Cyprus and from the Pluenielans who find suhmitted to bim, with which the oppositlon of the enemy was ehecked and hls own operatlons advaneed. After seven months of prodicious lnhor and Incessant hattle, the stroug walls of Tyre were beaten down and the elty taken. "It soon beeame a scene of unreslsted carnage and pluuder. Tbe Macedonians, exasperited by the ength and labours of the siege, which bud lasted seven months, and by the exeeution of their comrades [Greek prisoners, whom the Tyrlaus bad pat to deatb on the walls, before the eyes of the hesiegers, and cast futo the sen], spared none that fell Into their hands. The kling - whom the Greeks call Azelmicus-with the prineipal inhahltants, sud some Carthaginlan envoys who had been sent with tl -sual offerIngs to Melkart, took refuge in i. sunctuary: and these alone, aecorillng to Arrinn, were ex. empted from the common lot of death or slavery. It was an aet of elemenes, by which the conqueror at the saine tlme displayed hls piety to the god. Of the rest, 8,000 perished In the first slangbter, and 30,000 , ineluding a number of foreign resideuts, were sold as slnves. But If we nay believe Curtius, 15,000 were rescued ly the sidonians [of Alexander's navy], who first hid them in their galless, and afterwurds transported them to sidrn-not, It mura he presumed, whthout Alexal eer's connivatice or consent. It somuls incredihle, that be slould have ordered 2,000 of the prisoners to be crueitied.

Tyre was still occupied as a fortress, and soon recovereal some measure of her auchent prosperity. "-C. Thirl wall. Hist. of Greece, eh. 50.
Also in: Arrian, Anabuzis of Alexander, bk. 2, ch. 15-24.
B. C. 332-A. D. 638.-Under Greek and Roman domination. - The Carlans, wlth whom Alexauder repeopled the elty [of Ty re] fell into the hahits of the former population, and hoth Tyre and Sldon reeovered much of their commercial greatness. After a long struggie between the klugdoms of Eyypt and Syria, Pbornleia was finalls secured to the latter $2 y$ Antioehus the Great (B. C. 198). But the eommerclal rivalry of Egypt proved more serious even than political subjection; and the foundaton of Berenlee on the Ited Sea dlverted to Alexander much of the oriental commerce that had previcusly flowed through Tyre and Sldon. But still they dhl not suceumh to thelr rounger rival. Under the Romans, to whom Pbangiela was subjeeted with Syria tby $\mathrm{A}^{\circ} \mathrm{mmpeius}$ the Great, B. C. 64], Tyre was stlll the tirst commercial elty of the world. "-P. Smith, llist. of the World: Ancient, ch. 24 .

A. D. 638 .-Capture by the Mosiems.-After the taking of Jerusalem by the Culiph Omar, the Mosleus mode themselves masters of the re. mainder of P'alestiue very qulckly. Tripoli wis first won by treuehery, and then the same trat tor who bind delivered it, making hls way to Tyre, sueceeded in brinping abr ut the hrtraval of that place. Mun: the inhahltunts wite put to the sword; but many others are silis to have saved thelr lives le ucceptlag the relligion of the vietors. The fall of Tyre was followed by the filght from Cesaren of Constuntine, sin of the Eunperor Ilericlius, who conmmanted in Syria, and the entire umadonment of that rich proviuee to the Moslenims - S . Ockley, lhist of the Neracens, pp. 251-253 (hah ed.)
A. D. 1124.- Siege and Conquest by the Venetians and Crusaders.-The Venethus tonk little or no part In the First Crusade, leing largely engnged in commerce with the Saracens. But in $1124-$ a full duarter of a century nfter the tnking of Jerusalem - they found it wise to obtain an interest in the Chilstlan conquests that were spreading along the Levautine eonsts. They aceordingly sent their doge, with a formi dnble fleet, to offer aid to the Latin klag of Jerm salem - then Baldwin II - for the reduction of either Asealon or Tyre, hoth of which citics were still beid by the Moslenis. Finding it dificult to muke cholce het weell the two places, a sultma drawing of lots took plare, at the altar of the Ilols Sepulelire, us a meams of ascortaining the will of Gorl. The lot deeided that Tsere shonld be uttaeked, and operations were aceordingty begnn. But "the Venetians, nore devoteld to the Interests of thelr cominerce and of their uatlon than to those of a Christlmn klagdeme demunded, before beginning the slege of Tyre, that they should enjoy a ehurch, as strect, a cummon oven, and a natiouad trihunal lu cevery city in Palestlnc. They further demanderl other privileges and the prossessiou of a third of the eonquered city." The demands of the Venetians were complled with, and Tyre, after a siege of over five montis, belenguered by land and sen, was taken. The capitulation was an bororable one and honornlaly respected. The Moslem inlmbitants were permitted to kave the clty; the Christians eutered it triumphully, and the day on which the news reacheel Jerusalem was made n festival.-J. F. Mieha.d, Hivt. of the Crusades, bk. 5 .

TYROL: Origin of the county and its name. -"Tyrol freed herself from the suzerainty of Bavaria in very early times. She was divided anong a number of princes, lay sud ecclesiasticnl. The principal of these were the counts of the Adige or of the Tyrol, and the ounts of Andeebs, who obtalned the title ol duke from Frederick 1. [1152-1100], and called themselves dukes of Meran. Thelr race came to an end in 1248, and thelr domales were united to those of the eounts of Tyrol who thus be. came possessed of the larger part of the laula between the Inn and the Adige. Tyrol takes its name fron the castle of Tlrol, which was bullt on the site of the linman station Terlolls, not far from Meran, on the :sper waters of the Adlye." - L. Leger, Ilint. of Austro-IIungary, p. 144, footnote. -" After the dlasolution of the classic Romon Emplre, the Province of Reetla split up into parcels. . . . It ls impasslble, in a sketch iike this, to foilow the vartons dyanstic and other $c^{\prime}$ 'ages, most of them extremeiy perplexed and obscure, wileh ensued bet ween the 5th and 10th centurles. At the end of this perlod, the muin constitments of the oid province had assmned somethiag ilke the shape wilch they now bear. That is to say, Retin Secunda was separated from ikietla Prima, which had also iost what formerly beionged to it sonth of the Alplao ridge. . . . Tlro: agaln had been detached from Retia Prima, nad had begun to form n separate entity. Meau whlle a power of first rate Importance in the future history of Graubinden the Grisoas] had arlsen: nameiy the Bishopric of Chur. . . The Bishops of Chur took rank as feulal lords of the first class. . . . Originaliy na Insiraiticant house, exercislng. . . . the functions of Builles to the See of Chur, the Comats of Tirol acepulred influence and territory uader the shadow of dlstant eeeleslastical superlors."- J. A. Symonds, Hist. of Graubünden (In Strickland': "The Engadine '), pp. 23-27.
A. D. ${ }^{363}$.- Acquired by the House of Austria. See Austria: A. D. 1330-1364.
A. D. 8805 .-Taken from Austria and annexed to Bavaria. See Gehmany: A. I. 1805-1800.
A. D. 1809. - Heroic rising under Hofer, against the Bavarians and the French. - The crushing of the revolt. See Germany: A. I. 1800-1810 (A phil-Febriary).
A. D. 1814-1815.-Restored to Austria. See Fuance: A. D. 1814 (Ari!le-Jese); aud Vienna, The Conglens of.

TYRONE'S REBELLIONS.-The Wars of the O'Neils. See Ireland: A. D. 1559-1603. TYRRHENIANS.-TYRRHENIA: SEA. -The ancient race of peopie in western Itaiy whom tho lomans cailed Etrusci, and who cailed themselves the llasenna, were kaown to tho Greeke as the Turrhenol, or Tyrrhenlans. They were an enterprislng mnritlae people, and inence the Greeks cnlled that part of the Mediterranean whleil whslies the western Itaiian const the Tyrrhenian Sea. See Ethercans.
TZAR, OR CZAR. See licisela: A. D. 1547.
TZOMBOR, Battie of (1849). See Averris: A. D. 1848-1840.

U.

U. C., OR A. U. C., OR A. U. - Anno Urbis Conditie: the "Year of Rome," reck oned from the foundling of tite elty. See lome: B. C. 753.
U. E. LOYALISI'S. See Tories of the Ameaican levolution.
UAUPE, The. Sce American Abohines: Grek or Coco Groct.
UBERTI FAMILY, The. See Flonence: A. i). $12+2-1278$

UCHEES, The. See American Anomones: Lenean Famin.
UCLES, Battle of (1108). See Portcoal: A. I. 1092-1325.... Battie of ( 1809 ). Sco Srais: A. D. $1808-1809$ (i)ecemmen-March).
UDAIPORE, OR OODEYPOOR. Seo Rajromts.
UDHA-NALA, Battie Jf (1763). See India: A. 1) 1minima.

UGANDA.-' it was in 18.58 that tive travellers Burton and Apeke, starting froun Zanzibar, tint male Eurone aequalinted with the exlstence of that vast inlaad sea, the Victoria Lake, of whirl ? bebman and Eruiardt had already ieari wativa reports. Four yenrs iater Speke and Grant, passlng round the western sione, reached leganda; and they fouad here, if I nuy eniploy the paradox, a slugular, barinarle civilisation. Combineri with the most barbarous usages and the grossest superstition were many of those and. vances in the scale of inumanity which we are Wont to accept as zudlcations of clvilisation. There was an appeai to iaw, and cases were declled after a formal hearing. The adnlnistratiou was vested in the king, - an absoiute despot, -and from him downwards there existed a repilar chaln of delegated power and contral Well-made roads, kept constantly ln repair, lntersected the country in ail directions. Rough bridges were constructed across river swamps. An army ras malatalned, and also a nleet of taires on the waters of the lake. The arts of b illding, smith-work, \&c, were very far in advance of anything to lre fonnd between Uganda and the coast. The ideas of decency, the use of clothing, and the pianthg of trees, were iadieations of long years of deveiopmeut, of which the Intricate customs and et lquettes surroundiag the Court were an alditlonal proof. Speke traees the earllest developments of thls civllisation to Unyoro add lis shepherri kings, descrndents of a nomadic, pastoral race - the Wahuma - whom he supposes to be an offlumt from the Abrssinians or Gallas. Lganda nad the countries lyiug along the Inke shore, heing the richest proviace of this Wahuma empire - called Kitura-had to hring iarge quankeres of proluce to Unyo:o for the king's use, and their inhabitants were fooked ou ns slaves. The lrgend relates tinat a lunter named LEgada headed $n$ revolt, and was proclalned king under the name of Kimera. Mtest was the screnth of the dyuasty, accoriIng to Speke, which shows it to be of sone littie antlquity. Speke was eathuslastic about the fertility of $\mathbf{U}$ gaudn, and the development of Its people as conuparei with the savage tribes of Africa. The next Enropean to visit the country was Colonei Chaille Long, who was seut by Gordon in the summer of 18\%t. Staniey foliowed In 1875, and simultaneonsly Linant arrived in the conntry, In 1876 Gordon sent Emin with a purty of soldiers to Mtesa's capitai. They were for some tlme quartered there, aud Gordon had Vlews of annexing Ugandia to the Egyptlan Sudan. - Stanley was even louder in his pralsers of Ugandia than Speke haii been, and described it as the 'Peari of Afriea.' In consequence of his appeal on behaif of the people, a fund was started, and misslonaries were de. spatched to Uganda. These arrived in June 1877. .... Some two years iater - Febrinary 1874 - the French (R. Cathoilc) Algerian Silsslon despatched a party of 'White Fathers' to begin misaion-work in Uganda. The rell. gioun differences between these two contlicting creeds, which marked the very inauguration of the R. Catiolic mission, much puzzied and coufused Mtesa, since both ailke caiied themseivca Christians.' The Arahs from the coast had aiready settied in Uganda, and hrougitt with hem the reilgion of Isiain.

UGANBA.

UGANDA.

Mtesa showefi great toleration to aii creeds, thongh at one time he had lcaned to Mohammerianism, and had ordcred all Uganda to cmbraee that creed. Shortly after, however, as the foliowers of Islam refused to eat the king's meat becanse it was not kilied in the orthodox way according to the Koran, he ordicred the massacre of aii Mohammedians.
. Mtesa died in the antumn of 1884, and Mwanga, tien about eighteen jears oid, suecceded him - being seiected from among Mitesa's sons on account of his personai likeness to the inte king, since in Uganda paternity is often difficuit to prove. At this time the three religions had made great progress, andi their disintegriting intlucnces on the old customs began to be more aadi more ap. parent. This was cspecially the case with regard to the Christians, who no ionger regarded the king as divine, nor his acts, however gross andi crued, as having a divinc annction. They owned a Iifigher alicgianee, thongh they remained ohedient subjects, and distinguisired themselves hy hravery in war. Such an attitude was, of course, intolerahle to a cruel despot like Mwauga. There was stili a further reason for saspicion and fear of the white men.
$\qquad$ The Egyptian flag had been hoisted at Mruli and Fausera in Unyoro, only just beyond the borders of Uganda, and Gorton's envoys - Coionel Long and Emin -and hls troops had penetrated to Ittesa's cap. Belal. The Arabs also toid of the doings of the Belgians on the Congo. At a later perioti re. ports reached Mwanga of German annexatioas In Lsagara on the East Const. Last, and most disturbing of ail, was the news of Mir. Thomson's arrival neur Usoga in the East - the route from the coast by which native traition said that the conquerors of Ugands wonid come Mwanga had succeeded his father in November 1884. Early in 1885 he determined to stamp out those dangerous religions, Mohammedian and Christiau aiikc, which were disintegrating his country. Tise missionaries Mackay and Ashe, werc seizeri, and their foilowers persecuted. But the religion spread the more. A plot to de. pose Mwanga was discoverefi and crushed. With vatying fortunes - sometimes treated ieni. entiy, sometimes the vietlms of vioicnt perseeution - the missionaries heid their own tili the autumn of 188.5. Tisen came news of Bishop llaunington's approaciu." Unhappily the Bishop came by the forldiden Usoga route, and Mwanga ordered that he the klifed, with ali his men, which was done in October, 1885. "After this the posi. tion of the Europcans was very precarious, hut not thll the following May (1886) did the storm hurst. Mwanga then threw aside all restraint, and butchered the Christian converts whoiesaie.
But ln spite of the martyrdom by tortuce and burning, the religion grew. . The heroism inspired by religion in the cariy history of our own Church was repeated hcre in the heart of Africa." At iength, in 1888 thcre was a revolt, in which Christians and MoLammedans seem to have combincd, and Mwanga fled to an lsland at the south of the Lake. His hrother Kiwewa was made king, and for a time, the Christians were in con. trol of affairs. But the Mohammedans grew jeaious, and hy a andden rising drove the Chris. tinns out. Kiwewa refusing to accept the creed of Isiam, was deposed, and nother hrother, Karema, was raised to the throne. The exiled Christians now made overtures to Mwanga, and an aillance was concluded, which resulted in the overthrow of the hohammedan or Arab party, and the restoration of Mwanga to the throne, 有, Oetober, 1889. The two Christian factions, Catholic and Protestant, or French and Engiish, divideri the conntry and ali the oflices oi government between them, hut were bitterly jealous of each oticer andi perpctuaiiy quarreled, while the defented Moinammedans were while the defented Moinammedans were stili strong and unsuhdimet. Affairs were in thls state when Dr. Petcrs, the expiorer in command of the German "Emin Relicd Expedition," came to Uganda, having icarnci of the rescue of Einln Pasha hy Stanley. Dr. Petcrs, witi the aid of the Frunch party, succeecied in arranging some kind of treaty witi Mwanga, and thia alarmed kind of treaty witit Mwanga, and thia alarmed the Imperiai British East Africa Company (see Aprica: A. D. 1884-1891) when news of it had been received. That niarm was soon increased by intelligence that Emin Pasha had entered the German serviee and was about to condinct a strong expedition to the south of Lake Victoria Nyanza. These and othcr circumstances ked to the despatching of Cupt. Lugard witil a small force to Ugandia to represent the i3ritisin East Africa Compnny and estahlish its infuence there. Capt. Lugard arrived at Mcngo, the capitai oi Uganda, on the 18 th of December, 1890. Miean. time Great Britain and Germany, hy the AngloGcrman Agrecuent of Juiy 1, 1800 (see Arbica: A. D. 1884-1801) had setticd all questions be. tween them as to their respective "spheres oi intuence," and Ugandia had been definitely ilaced within the British "sphere." This enabled Captain Lugard to gecure the signing of a treaty which recognized the suzerainty of the Company, establishedi its protectorate over Uganda, anil conceded to it many important commereiai and politieai powers. He remuined in the country until Junc, 1892, duriug which time he was driven to take part in a furions war that broke ont betwecn the Catholic ami Prot. estant perties. The war endied in a partition of territory between the factions, and three small provinces were, at the same time, assjg,ted to the Mohammedans. After mintaining Captain Lugard and his foree in the country for eighteen montiss, the Company found titc cost so heary and tho prospect of returns so distant, that it came to a resointion to withdraw; but was in. duced by a subscription of $£ 16,000$ from the Church Dissionary socicty to remain for another year in the exereise of the control which it had aequircd. At the cnd of 1892 the Company renowed its resolution to cvacuate the region west of Lake Victoria, and the British Goverument was urgently pressed to take upon itself the ad ministration of the country. It was oniy persuaded, however, to assume the cost of a further occupation of Uganda for thiree months by the Company's officers, in order to give more time for ensuring the safety of missionarics and other Europeans. It consented, moreover, to despatch a Commissioner to Investigate the situation and report upon it. The ofticial selected for that duty was Sir Gerald Porter, Consul-Generai as

UGANDA.

Zanzibar. SIr Gerald returned to England with his report in December, 1803, and died of typhold fever in the month following. Ilis report urged the malntenance of an effective control over the goverament of Uganda, to be exerclsed directly by the British Goverument, In the form of a Protectorate, keeping the king on his throne, with a Commissioner at hls slde to direct his action In all important partlculars. After much discuasion, the decision of the Government was annonnced at the beginning of June, 1894. It determined to estallish the proposed Protector. ate in Uganda, not extending to Unyoro, and to place a Sub-Commissloner on duty between Lake Victoria and the sea, fir the purpose of watchIng over communications, and appareutly withort political powers. The Government declined til undertake the building of the rulliway from Mombassa on the coast to the Lake, fnr which the Imperfal British East Africa Compuny lad male sirvers. - Capt. F. D. Lugard, The hive of virr Bath African Empire.
Also in: sir Gerald Porter, The Britiai Mis. sian to Uganda in 1803.-I'. L. McDermott, Britia,d Eiat Africa, or Ibea.-The Spectator, June 0. 1894.-See, also, Ariica ; A. D. 1874 , and after.
UGRI. See Illegariang.
UGRO-FINNISH RACES. See Turanian.
UHilches, The. See Ayerican aborioines: Paypas Tribes.
UIRINA, The. See Ameincan Aboriones: Guck or Coco Ginour.
UKASE: - An ellict of the Russlan govern ment, deriving the fnrce of law from tho absolute anthority of the Czar.
UKRAINE, The. See Rubsia, Great, dec.; also Cossacks
ULADISLAUS I., King of Poland, A. D. (1043-1142. .... Uladislans II., King of Bohemla 1471-1is|(6..... Uladislaus II., Duke of Poland, $1138-1146$.....Uladislaus III., Duke of Poland, $1200-1333 . .$. . Uladislaus iv. (Jagellon), King of Bohemia, 1471-1516; V. of Hungary, 14(H)-1516..... Uladislaus V. (Jagellon), King of Poland and Duke of Lithuania, 13851434.....Uladislaus VI., King of Poland, $1434-1444 . .$. Uladislaus VII., King of Poland, 1639-164y ULCA, Battle of the (A. D. 488). See Rout: A. II. 4 $$ 8-526$.
ULEMA. See Sculime Porte.
ULM : A. D. 1620. - Treaty of the Evangelical Union with the Catholic League. Sre Geinasy: A. 1). 1618-1620.
A. D. 1702-1704.- Taken by the Bavarians and French, and recovered by Marlborough. See Genmany: A. 1). 1702; and 1704.
A. D. 1805.-Mack's capitulation.

Ulmenes. See Chile: Tie Araucan. iave.
ULSTER, The Plantation of. See Ireland: A. 1). 160 -1611 .

ULSTER TENANT-RIGHT. See Ire-LAYD: A. D. 1848-1852.
ULTIMA Ti:ULE. Sec Thule 8tiotra Vires. Hee Latw, Coxyon: A. D. 184.

ULTRAMONTANE.-ULTRAMON.
TANISM. - The term ultramontane (beyond the

CNION LEAGUE.

mormtain) has been used for ao long a tlme in France nol Germany to indirate the extreme doctriness of inpui supremuncy maintained beyoud the Alps - that is, in Italy, and especiully at lanue - that it has cotast to hnve no other menulng. The ultramontanists in each country are thowe who make themselves partisuns of these doctrines, in opposition to the more iudepeadent division of the Roun.. Cutholic Church.
UMBRIANS, The. - "The C'mbrians at one timo possessed doninitun over great pirtt of central Italy. Inscriptlons in their language also reniaiu, and manifestly show that they spoke a tongue not allen to the Latin. Tie irruptlou of the sulveiliun and of the Etruscan uations whs prot "ly the casse which hroke the pouser of the UmL ans, and drove thicm hack to as semanty territory inetween the Fisis, the Riblam, and the Tiber."-11. G. Lidifell, Jlixt. of Home, intrud. sect. 2 -Sec, also, ITMIT: AncikNT.

UNALACHTIGOS, The. Siee Amintican Abomhines: Delawanes, und Ahoonquian Famid.
UNAMIS, The se Ampricis diomtor.
 UnCIA, The. Sue As; ulso, Fоot, Tife limans.
"UNCLE TOM'S CABIN," The effect of. Nice vithe Ntathes of An.: A. D. 1852. UNCTION. See Coronation.

UNDERGROUND RAILROAD.

Slaventr, Netino: A. I). 1×40-1860)

UNEI.LI, The.-The Unelli were one of the Armorican trikes of ancient Gaml. Their commtry whs the presont depart ment of Manche.
UNIFORMITY, Acts of.-Two. Lets of Lin formity were passed by the English l'arliantent in the reign of Edward VI. (1.is and 10.i.2), Inoth of which were repealed muler Mary. In 10.:0, the serond veme of Elizahoth, a more thomugh going law of the same nature was emeted. by the provisions of which, "(1) the rovised Benik of Common I'ruger as establishayl by Eilward VI. in 15ide, was, with n few :lterations null ndaitlons, revisal and contimed. (こ) Any parson, vlenr, or other minister, whether benefired or not, wilfully usinu any lat the estanlished liturgy, "Yas to sulfer. for the. first offeneer; six montls imprisomment, :und, if benoflecd, forfoit the proftes of his leme:iter for a year: for the second offerer. nt yars imprisument: for the thinl, imprisonment for life. (3) . 111 persons nlt. senting themselves, without lawfitl or reasonnle excuse. from the serrice at thuir pirish churela on Sundays and holydays. were tit be punished hy ecelesiastieal censines und a the of one shif. ling for the nise of the pror."-T. P. Tazwell. Langmand, B'inglish Cimet. Mixt., ch. 13.-See, nlso, Exilasis: A. D. 15is.-In 1862, soon ufter the lestomition, another Let of C'niformity was passel, the immeliate effect of which was to Coject about ? (14) mintisters from the Estahlished Clurrcti Sec Emeriand: A. D. 1662-1665.
UNIGENITUS, The Bull. Nee Port
 UNION COLLEGE. See EDUCATIos, Mopens: Ambica: A. D. 170\%.
UNION JACK. -The national flag of Great Britain and 1reland. uniting the red fross of st. Gevrge num the dingenal erosses of St. Andrew and St. Patrick. Sec Flact, The Burtim.
UNION LEAGUE, The.-A secret political society formed in the ''nitell states soou after the

UNION LEAGUE

Linitalianisal.

outber $k$ of the American Clill War, having for Its ooject a closer and nore elfective organization of the supporters of the national goverument. It was very hrge in numbers for a tlme, but declined as the need of such an organizaton dls. appearel.
UNION OF BRUSSELS. See Netimer. Laxde: A. 11. $15: 5-10 \mathrm{Nk}$.
UNION OF CALMAR, The. Sec Scamir. NayIAN NTATES: A. II. 101R-1397; and 1397-152\%. UNION OF HEILBRONN, The. See GERmasy: A. D. 1632-1ti34.
UNION OF UTRECHT, The. See NETI. EMLANUS: A. D. 1:5: 1581 .
UNITARIANISM. - "In lis restricted sense
Unitarinuism means hellef In the personal nulty of Goul lusteal of in a community of ulvine persons. .. Ar $\quad 5$ the artleles of Cinitarlan faith so nuderstoon, besides the doctrine of one supreme divine persou, miny be ennumerated belief in humnn nature, in noral freedom. In lamnn reason, in character at of nore worth than ritual or creed, In the equal justice not to say nercy of God, In the noremlity of a devil, not to say of evll, and in the ultimate sulvatiou, or evolution lnto something better, of all souls. Withont being In any sense the first article of the faith, either in the hlatorical oriler ns lunving been the starting point, or th the logleal order ns maler. lying the whole system, or his the order of lm portance as belng with us the chortrine of doctrines, it lass happenel in spite of a thousand protests that belief in Goul's personal muity has given its nume to the cutirc confesslon. The movement tirst called Sushian, then Armhina, and tinally L'uitarian. begma ns in protest of the 'natural inm' ngainst two particnlarly hateful doctrines of Calvinism, that of total depravity and that of prediestluation."-S. C. Beach, IMin $^{\circ}$. larianism and the hiformatime (Uniturionism: ifs Origin and Histury).-"The vistablishment of disthet L'ntarlan clurehes in Enghand chates baek to 1754, wheu Theophllus Lhasisey left the Chureh of Eingland and went up to Lumblon to start the tirst nvowedly Luitarian place of worshilp In the country. But that was unt the heglnuing of Cuitarianisn. Centuries before this, Cnitarianism beyan in England as mo individual opinion, had first lts martyr-age. then a perioul When it was a geeat ferment of controversy, nul finally the distinct development of it whiels
 The names of some of the CDitarian natryrs on the contincut of Europe are comparatlvely welt known, - servetus, burned by Calvin: Valentine Gentilis the letian; and other isolated studerta here and there, who hat been stirred up by the leformation spirtt to real the Bible for theneselves. and who could not stop where Luther and Calvin stoply, . . . What ts called the 'era of toleralin' hegan immediately nfter the overthrow of the stuarts in 1688. The sects were now at liberty to go quietly on in their own wny. On the one bana there was the great establelshed Episcopal (hinprh, - at as pretty low ebh in relly ebh in rellglous life, for to mome at arnest life hat fone out "f it on that 'shark Bartholpmew's Bay, 1662,' when the two thousand Puritna clergy were cjected [see Einosasis: A. D. 1662-1665), On the other hand were these Purl. thans-' Insemtery 'they bcgan huw to the called, - dlvided luto three great sects. Baptists, Independents, and Euglish Presly ferians. Now, theme were all free. They muld bulld churchen, and they illd. From 1803 to 1720 was the great - chape ${ }^{[ }$'bulld ling tlme.

But now, in this great levelopmunt of chapel-lmulhilng by theno three denonuluntons, a curlous thlug took phene, $^{\text {lime }}$ wheh nnexpectedly affected thelr after lintury. That curious thligy was, that whthe the Bapitivs nnd Independents (or (congregationalists) tied down all these new chay is to perpetual ortho. dox uses by righl luctrhanl trust-fleeds,

- the Engilsh Presbyterlans lift thelrs free. It sermas strange that they slould dum: for the I'risbly. terinus had legun ly belug the narrowest wet of the Purltans, nud the Scotely Iresbyterlang always reunned so. But the English IPreshr. terhns had very little to do with the fievtet ones, nnd through all the changes aut sufferings they had lad to go throngh they limd lecome broadencel; and so it came to pass that now When they were bullding their churehes of chupels up nul down the country, they left them free. .. The Eughlls Iresbyterians, thas left frec. Pree, began to grow more llberal.
phace of gelwral reverence for Christ took the place of the old the commethef $\ln$ lis ilelty.

They onf bied the communton to all; they no longer inslsted on the old professlons of 'charch-menn bershisp.' but counted all who worshipped with then t the clmreh.' Thus thiners were clmrch.' 'Thas "hings ware golng win all through the mildtle of ... last century. Of conrser is whs not the same everywhere; sonic stlll held the old vlews. the old views.

One naas among them,
Mr. Joseph Priestley, was one of the lead.
iug sclentists of has time, - a restless investigator, and nt the same time nn earnest religious thinker and student. just ns enger to namke nut the truth about religlon as to luvestlgate the properties of oxygen or electriclty. So he hivestigated Chrlsthaty, studied the crecds of the elaurches, came to the conclusion that they were a long way from the Christianlty of Christ, sud grambally came to be a thoroughgoing Unitarian. When hee came to thes conclusions he dhat the hide it: he proclaimed It and preached it.

The apshot of it was, that at length he aroused a large part of the boly to the conscimusness that they were renlly Linitarinus. They still did not tuke the name; they disliked sect-manes slogether. A And so, though they mosily ron-tinned to call themselves Engllsh Preshyterians. timued to call themselves Engllsh Preshyterians, or simply l'resbyterians. all the worli begam to call them Unitarians; al more and nome the Baptists nut Imlependents, or Congregation alists, who hat formerly fellowshlpmed sad worked with them, drew apart, and left them, as they are to-lay, in the relnetant isoluthnn (fs sepmite Unitarinn borly. Two other nowements of thought of a somewhat similnr kind incressed and streng thened thls development of a separate Cnitarian husy, - one among the General llapthsts, the other In tine great Eplscopal Church thsts, the other In the great Eplscopal Church Itself."-13. Herford, Uniturianianm in Eughtrnd (Unitarianism: its Origin and History) - Ing is hard to trace the early hlstory of Cnlturianism it New England. The name was sellom useld. yet not omitted wheth any velew to concealuent: for we have abundant proof that the ministers to Whom it helonged preached what they believed clearly and fully.

But a marvellous change had taken place In the last erntury, at the heginning of whleh the denial of the Trinity whild have seemed no better than blaspheny: while at lis close nearly all the clergy of luston ild churchen, vas the preat now, In this lug by theno took place, ifter hilatury the Buphlist mulists) thed ethal ortho.

(is,

the e. It sun the I'restig. rrowest wict resbyteriuns Heh I'reshir. the sirusich di sufferings had lreecome that now, clurches of ey i.ft them s, tbins left - A generai of the ohe hey oproded r luskistin un ershlp,' lint them 'the ali thromgh f course It stlll held thein. of the loud 3 Investiga. t religious nake out stlgate the o he inves ceds of the tbey were Chrju, and luiflirian. fif not bide Tlue arounded a usnesk that till dide not anies altousily con4hyterians, began to nore the gregationprol and left them latlon of a novemrnts 1 Inereased a separate eral Bap. I Church Eingland ), -" It is Itarianism lom used, ireabluent; Inisters to heliered 118 change t thim he. e Trinity aspliemy of Buston snl its vicinity and many othera In Massachu. setts were known to dlssent from the ancestral erced, to have censed to use Trinltarian doxoiogles, and to preaeh what was then known as Aranism, regarling Jesus Cirist as the greatest sud ohlest of created leings, hat in no proper wense as Gool. At the amme time, on ittle streas was iail on the Trinity by lts profensed believer that, wlth two or three exeeptions, these Arians remained in fuli ehurch feifowahlp with those of e orthodox faith. In the terricory now within fe llmitio of Boston there were, a century aga, but two professedily Trinltariaja minlsters, one of them le.ing Dr. Thacher, of the Ilberal Brattle Square Church, while Dr. Eckiey, of the Oid A: ith Charch, was known to entertain cloubta as tn re defty of Christ."-A. P. Peabody, Eurly Sew England Unitarians (Unitariandem: ita Origin and Miatemy).

UNITED BRETHREN (Unltas Fratrum) See Mmevia: A. D) $1434-14 \% 7$, and 1621-1648; afo Mohavian on Ilohemian Buctimen.

UNITED EMPIRE LOYALISTS. See Tohich of the Amprician irevolution.

UNITED IRISHMEN, The Soclety of, See lhedand: A. i). 1i9i-170s.

UNITED KINGDOM OF GREAT BRIT. AIN, Formation of the. See Srotlasid: A. D. 1707.

UNITED KINGDOM OF GREAT BRITAIN AND IRELAND, Creation of the. See InEGAND: A. I). 170s-1800.

UNITED NETHERLANDS, or Unlted Provinces, or United States of the Netheriands. See NkTHEMLANDS: A. 1). 1:177-1541, 1581-1.584, $1581-1585$, and ufter.

UNITED PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, The. See scotland: A. D. 1843.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

A. D. 1492-1620.-Discovery and exploration of the Atlantic coast. Nee America.
A. D. 1607-1752.-First settiement and organization of the thirteen original English colonies. The earllest attempts ut European settlement (as dlatinct from exploration) withln the present lhnits of the Unlted States were tmade by French Iluguenots, under the patronage of Almiral Collgng; tirst at Port Royal, ou Benufort RIver, Florida. where Jean Ribant, in t562, placed a few colonists who soon a bauloned the spot, anil, two years fater, at Fort Carollne, on St. John's lilser, in the same peninsula. The secoad colouy, commanded by René de Laudon. nière, was conshlerable in mmikers but unpromlsing lu eharueter, und not likely to gain a foot$\log \ln$ the eountry, even if it land lieen left ln peace. It was tragically exthgulabed, however, by the Spaulards in Septemler, 1505. Tbo Spaniarls had then established thenselves in a forthied settlement at St. Augustine. It was surprised and destroyed $\ln 1587$ by an avenying Iluguenot, but was promptly restored, and has survirel to the present diay, - the ollest clty In the Cinted states. (See Flohida.) -The first uncertaklngs at colonlzation from Engiand were lnspired and ted by Sir Whater ialeigh. After unsuccessful utempts, In conjunetlon with his elder half brother, Sir Humphrey Gllbert, to cy tablish settrments in Newfoundiand. Jatelgh obtainedi a grant from Queen Elizabeth, In 1584, uniler whel be phanted a colony of 108 settlers, commanuled by Ralph Lane, on Coanoke Island, within the boundarles of the present State of North Carolina, In honor of the virgln queen of Enghnit, the name Virglnia was given to the region at large. Lane's eoloniste had expected to tind gold, silver and pearls. ind lost lnterest In the country when none conlif be discovered. In June, 1586, they persuaded Sir Francls Drake, Who hal touched at ltoanoke wlth hls fleet, to carry then home. Soon afterwatis, several ships, sent out by Ralelgh wlth reinforcements and supplies, arrived at the sland, to find it deserteli. They left fifteen men to bold the ground; but a year passed before annther experlition reached the place. The fort was tben found in ruint: the ffteen men had disappearcd, and nothiug of their fate coukd be iearned. The new coiony perished in the same way - its fate an impenetrable secret of the savage land. This was Raielgh's last venture lu eolonization. His neans were exhansted; Engiaml was absorbed In watchlng and preparing for the Spaulsh Armada; the tlme had not eome to "plaut an Eng. llsb nation In Amerien." Slr Waiter assigned his rights and interests in Virgluha to a company of merebant wiventurers, whleh nccomplished nothing permanently. Twenty years passed before another vigorous effort of Eingllsh colonizatlon was maife. In 1606 kilng James issued a royai charter to a eompany singularly formed in two branches or ifvisions, one havling its liendquarters at London, andi known as the Landon Compasy, the other estahished at Plymonth and known as the Plymouth Company. Between then they werc glven anthority to ocenpy territory $\ln$ America from the 3 th to the 4 th degree of lathtude; bit the two grants overlapped in the mhidle, with the lntention of glving the greater domaln to the eompauy which secured it by the earliest actual ocenpation. The London Company, hofling the southward grant, despatched to Virginia a company of 105 cmlgranta, Who established at Jamestown, on the nortberiy bank of James lifver (May 13,1607 ), the first permanent English settlement in America, aud Anded there the colony and the subsequent State of Virghia. The colong survived many hardships and trials, owlog lts existence largely to the eneryy and conrage of the famous Captaln John Sinlth, who was one of lts chlef men from the beglming. Its prosperity was secured after a few years by the systematic cultivation of tobacco, for whileh the demand ln Engiand grew fast. In 1019, negro slavery was introduced; and hy that time the whilte inhabitants of Virghila had inereased to nearly 4,000 in number, divided between cieven settlements. (See Vin: oinia.)-Meantime, the Plymoutb Company liad done nothlng effeetlvely in tbe north ward region asslgned to lt. Barthoiomew Gosnoli, it 1602, had examined the coast from Maine to Cape Cod, and built a lonely house on the isiand of Cutty. hunk; Martiu I'rlug, iu 1603, had loaded two shlps with sassafras in Massachusetts Bay, a colony named in honor of the chief justice of Eng. land, Sir John Popham, had shivered through

Nres

Sotilementa UNITEI) BTATEN. 160i-1752.
the winter of $1007-8$ near the mouth of Kennebec River and then gone home; Captain John Smith, In 1614, had male a voyage to the country, in the interent of London merchants, and had named It New Engiand; hut no latling Eng Ifich eettle. ment had been made any where within the bounde of Kligg James' grant to the Plymouth Company at the waning of the year 1620 , when Virginla was well grown. It was then hy clanice, rather than by denlgn, that the emall ship Mayflower landed a iltite company of reilglous : viles on the Mamachusette coast, at Piymouth (I,ecember 21, 1020), Instead of bearing them farther mouth. Driven frum England Into IIolland by penecutions, twelve ycars before, this congregation of Independents, or Beparaists, now wought liberty of coneclence in the Nuw World. They came with a patent from tho London, or Mouth VirgInia Company, and expected to plant their aetile. ment within that company's territorial bounds. But eircumbtances which seemed alverse at the time bent their course to the New England sliore, and they accepted it for a boine, not douhting that the proprictors of the ind, who desireit colonists, would permit them to stay. The next year they recelved a pateut from the Councll for New Englani, which hal sncceeded to the riglats of the Plymontls Coinpnny. Of the hardships which these 13ilgrim Fathers endured In the first years of thelr Plymouth Plantation, who doea not know the story! Of the conruge, the constancy and the pridence with whict they overcame their diffieutiles, who lims not a.dmlred the apectaciel For eight years they remalned the only successful coluny in New Englaud. Then catre the memorable inovement of puritnns ont of Oht England Into New England, begi.ming With the ditile settleinent at sulem, under John Endllcott : expanding next Jear Ints the "Governor nud Company of Minssaclinselts 'n.." " foundIng Dorchester, Itoxbury, Clarlesi

Watertown, and Buston, In 1030, and ricid wsessing and putting the statu,p of the stern, zaung l'uritan character on the whole section of America which it planted with towns. In the Plaritan colony of Massachasetts Bay a cleavage sкии oceurred, on ifnes between democratic and aris. tocratic or theocratic opinion, and democratic seceders puslied sonthwest wards luta the Com necticut Valley, where Duteh and English were dispiting jossession of the conntry. There they settled rhe ynestion decisively. in 16353 and 1630, hy foundlug the towns of IIartford, Whadsor, Wethersfich und Springfeld. Three years later the thr. Howns first natnel confedernted them selves ia a little republic, with a frame of governoneur whicls is the first known written con stitution, aud so gave birth to the future State of Connectleut. In l 6 as New IIaren was fumbed by a company of wealihy nonconformists from England, wimfer the leal of thelr minister, Johan Davenport, and was a disthuct colouy nutil 1662 , When it was annexed to Conneeticut hy an royal clarter. Another State, the smallest of the New Englanil commonwealt bs, was taking form at this ame time, in a little wedge of territory on Narragansett Bar, between Connecticut and Massaehusetts. Riger Williams, the great apostle of a tolerant Christianity, driven from Salem by the intolcrant Puritanisin of the Bay, went forth with a few followers into the willerness, bonght land from the Narragansett Indians, and lald the fonn.
ame jear another small company of people, inn
ished from Boston for rocelving the tearlifing of Mra. Anae liutclineon, lought the laiand of Aquidneck or Aquetnet from the Indinna and settled at ite northern end. This commanity wat -uon divided, and part of it remured to the month ern end of the island, beginning a mettlemen which grew to the the tuwn of Newport. The Island an a whole recelved the name of the inlion Rhodes, or Rhode Island; and In left itt two settlements were united with ${ }^{2}$ 'rovidiure under a charter procured In England ly lougur Williams, forming the coluny of Provilinge Plantations, In 1643 the colonies of Mamandou retts, Ilymouth, Cunnectleut and New Ilaven entered Into a confederation, from whilel lilinule slanil wan excluded, calling theuselven "The United Colonies of New Englund." The abjert of the confexleration was cominon action lu de. fence againat the Indinns and the butel will the IIudson. It was the beglaning of thic cemerning of New Euginnil. Before this thme, amnll settle ments had been planted here and there in morth ern New Euginnil, withlus territory covered by grants mnde 10 Sir Ferilunnda Gorges nad Captain Jolin Mason. The province elalued by Corges was suhsequently ealled Maine, and that of Mason, New lampsilire; hut Maine twe roes to an independent colonial cxistence. Ifter yeurs of dispute mud Itigation, leet ween 10il and 1677, the jurisuliction of Massarliusetts was ex temded over the province, and it remaineld the

- IDatrict of Blane" untll 1820, whet) Missa chasetts yleided the separation which made it soverelgn state in the Ainerican luion. The New lampshife sctilements were also auncreed to Massachaselts, In 1041, after Captain Mawn's denth; were sepurated in 1679, w le orgmulied an n rogal provluee; were temporarlly reclainem parted from Mnssuchawits la 1892, fron whid lime until the Re volothan they remained a dis. thet colony. (See New Enghisi); mlso Mawa. chenetta, Connectheet, Rhode Inhanil, New Hanpalthe, and Manes.) - While the Finglioh were thus colonizing New England nt the morth ilaing their elams to the country betwern, bad tnken possession of the importuit valleg of the Hudson IRIver and the reglonn around its manti, and had named the country "New Netherland." The river land leeen diseovered in 1609 ly llenry Hudson, an English sultor, lut explorthir in the service of the Dutch. Trading with the luiting for furs was begat the next year; the comy und the rivers of the region were actlvely explared a New Netherland Company was elartered; trading house, ealled Fort Nussan, was built on the lladson as far to the burth, or nearty son, as Albany: but no real colonization was matiertaken nutil 1633. The New Netherlund Comprany hal then been superseded hy the Datel West India Company, with rights nind powers extending to Afrlan as well as the West Indles and the North American cossts. It bought Manlatian I llar. and large traets of land from the ludtans, but hal lithle suceess for several years in settiag them. In 1629 it introduced a strnage experif. ment, creating a kind of feudnl system in the New Work, by conveying great estates to individuals, callowl Patrones, or Patrong, who Wonld undertake to colonize them, and who rewolved with their territorial grant mach of the peopie, lann. rachingan nf - inland of indlans anul mubity wn o the wonth. settloment port. The f the lalio nt 1644 its ?rovidence. by lluzper Prividnace Mansnchas ew Ilaver, lels thanie Ives "'The The ohjeat lon In deteh ill the cemerning nnll sette. In north. overed hy orges and lalmol by and that lne never ce. ifter 10.5], und lalnet] the in Mass. mule it a on. The dnncxem n Xiswon's orguilzed recluine! ut thully nim wheh ed a dis. (1) Mana. Ni!, New - Fingiluh the north ut rerog. vient, had $y$ of the s munth, 1erlanl." y 1 Hany ig ln the - Indiana orivt and xplarem; tured; a built on ly so, as lertaken any liad st lndia wling to © North ans, but settling experiIn the to in. Wh who re of the powers and many of the characterfatics of a feuilal lord. Several Patrona colonies were entahllshed on baronial scalo; hat, generally, the $\mathrm{g}^{\prime}$ tem dirl not produce antisfactory resulta, and in 1040 the Company tried the botter experiment of making the trade of New Netheriand free te all comers, offering mall Independiut grants of land to settiers, and llmitlng the Pa. trimens in their npproprlation of territory. Tho Company government, however, as admininterm by the directors or governorn whom it meut 0ut. Was too arbltrary to permit a colonlal growth nt all comparable with that of New England. Collislons with the Engilmh In Connectrut arese, over questiona of lomulary, hat the latter held thelr ground. Sonthward, on the Delaware, the Swedes made a settement whero the clty of Wilmington uow stands, and refused to be warnel ofl hy the Duteh, who clainurd the reglon. This Sweilish colony prospered and ens. largel ltself duritg sixteen yenrs, but was over. come hy Dlrector Stry vemant of New Netherland In 10.i4. A llttle later than tho appearaner of the Swedes on the Delaware, certala coloniata from dew liaven bought hnils from the Indians on both banks of the Delaware and made at tuints at settlement, In whit ls now New Jergey snif on the site of the fitare elty of lihllimel pha. The butch nul Sweder combined agalnst them amil they fallod. In I68t the whole situa. tion In thls abhlle region was changed by the Binglish conuuest of New Netherland. The territory so accinired - or regalned, If the orighani Eingish chum had lwen gioni - passed then, hy Fowd grant, to the Duke of lork (afterwards filus James 11.). nul becane the proprietary prowier of New lork. (See New lons), -The Dukn of York, fll turn, the same year. transforrenl to Lorif Joln therkeley mad sir George Cartaret the part of his domain which lay be. twen the Ilndxan aud the Delaware, and it re. effed the bune of New Cissarea, or New Jerser. Cuder enconarigement from lherkeley nod Carteret the Jew llaven eolonizathon was reviment. Ten years later lberkeley sold inls rights to a party of Quikers who were seek. lug : rofuge for their perseented sect in the New Worlil. A darislon of the provinee wits made and the Gnaker jroprictors recelved West Jersey: while Last dersey remalned to Car. turt. (Se Nriw Jeisaris) - Before this thare. Witian Pronn had hrocone the princlpal owner of the Wewt Jersey luterest. Sot long after. wants (thisl). by surnoulering a ciatin whels hls father helld agilinst the British government. D'enn proureal foon King Charles II. a much greater proprietary domain, on the western slde of the Whlaware, befigy no less than the vast truet, 41, $(1010)$ square miles $\ln$ extent, which received the mame of Pennsylvania. To hls title from the king he added in deed of purchase from the Indians. Penn's scheme of colonization was very liberaly framed, and it was conducted whth market sucress. Philadelphia, first ladd ont in 168.3, had 2,000 Inhabitants In [685, and I'eansyl ramia at large had 8,000. Pean hitenself did not fir peare or hippliness In bls positlon as a prineely proprictor; but he fouthed a great and prosper. ous cemmonwealth on nohle llaes. (Sce Pensthe Delaware liver and biousess one bauk of Pennelaware liver and Bay to the sen, WIlllam Penn, after sceuring his grant from the klag. bought additieually from the Duke of York the clalms of the Intter to that atrip of territory whels the Sworles hal settlend on and struggied for with the Dutch, nal which took an Indepen. dent political form in fater days as the State of Dela ware. The Delaware "territories," as they Were cailed, ncrer accepted thelr dependent relutionglip in fennsylvania, and as early on 1702 It was found necensary to concedo them a separ. ate leglsiature, though they contlnned under Penn's proprietary gevernusent. (See Dria. Warte - Adjolning lenn's province on the sonth Wan th domain of noother great proprletor, hart Batlmore, whose thte deed, from tho same royni souree ns that of Penn, but prior in time by haif a century. gave rise to contlicts whleh tronalied the whole Hfe of the peacefini Frlend. The tirst Lord labtinore (George Calvert) re. celved from James I. in IB:33 in patent which gave hin territory on the northerly shle of the Potumac River, stretching to the Delaware Bay and River and to the 40 th paralled of north lat. tule. By lts terins it dld uarasulitedly take in Inelaware and part of Pennsylvaula; lont the Intervenlag ocenpation by the Swerdes and Dul, h, the Finglish cosifuent, and the royal grant to the Juke of York, eonfisw.! the title. The controversy was not settle." antil 1761-7, wien "Mimon omi hixon's llne" was run as the accepterl bomedary between Maryland und I'ennsylvnnin. The lords proprletary of Narylami han leen in eos. thict long before l'elu's thane with their netghe lors nt the south, in Virglafa, und had many dillenltes to encounter ami many tronbles in thelr undertaklug to fornd a state. The powern they lad recelved whth their grant from the f:ing were the largest that roynlty conhl concede to a subject, and gave to their province the character of is palatine priacljabity. But they exercised their substathal soverelguty with an admirable masleraton. They viebe Catholios. mad tho early wettlers in Saryland were largely thomgh mot wholly of that falth. But they lutrindured a polley of telerance which wis strance at tho time to evary other part of the New World ex. eept Rhowle lslimet, and mule their province freo to all rellglons. Numurouls louritais centered It, especially from Virglnia, where they were unt weleome; nud these, it fan harilly be denled. mule ill rethrus for the tolnrant hospitallty they reecived. Imring the time of tho Civll War, t'w Commonwerilth, ami the l'roteetorate In Eng: hand, the Maryland laritans were hostlle, uot only to the proprletary govirnment, hat to lts tolerant principles, unil used the ascendaney which they fiequently gained lin a splrit that does not cimpare farorably with that of thelr adversurles. Sulseepuently the uscendancy of the l'uritans gave way to that of the Auglican Church. without restoring the toleratiou which Catholicism In power hal establlshed - a rape Instance $\ln$ history -and which Protestuntism la power had suppressed. (See Maryaind.)-Be. yemd the Virginis plantations, In the Sonth, the eotsts to whieh Ralelgh had sent his first eolonists, nul to which tho virgin queed had latended to glvo her anme, waited long for settlement. Ti., first durable colony within that terrltory which took its name in tlme from a less worthy soverclgn was plantad in 1053. at Albe. marle, on the Chownn IRIver, hy a smail com. many of dissenters from Virginia. In 1665 a consideraule party of emigrints from the Barba. does, headed hy a wealthy planter of that island,

UNITED &TATES, 100:-1854,

Cidonind Crumatifufrand Nolos firma.

Slr John Yeamana, extalilasivel themavives on Whech was afterwarim eniled clapmonton. Two years lefore thes thene, In IRGi, Klng C'larles II. had discharged monee part of him heravy oblliga. thons to has luyal muppurters by gramilug that Whole neethon of the Anerican emintinent' whith Hes het ween the ishat muld zolit paraliels of lati. tille to a company of courteras, laclading Claren. don, Souk. Shafteminery, and others, anal the provlace wis mante if Chitollna. It wis diviled into two great eonatiex, Nibemario mad clarendon, and the correapmoled somewhat neariy to the Norill Carollina and somelt Claroilna of the present ilay, lit 1080 the furils proprletors wellt ont a colony muler Willian Nay le, whild metlent Arst at Port Ibayol hat sigle dieel swon after lampling, and the coloaists were Inducell to mit grate anorthwarils to the Ashley liver, where sir Jolen leamans mert thema whas a comalierable part of his Claremblon colony, and Weame the head of the multeif metthements. There they foumlel "Old charlewtona" anl, after a few years, sliffing the sle to the conallavence of the Asloley anul the Conpler, they legan the bulliling of the prement cliy of Charlestom. Thas bechinu the nuciens of slow subsequensly distinct colmy of south Carollaa, its Allwemarle Nled of that of North Carofiat. The divisione was matie la 1\%29, When the rightes nf the IPrupreters were bought by the Crown, and the Carolinas leceame crown colontes. [inth that time, Hue munthern colony had made far gremter progress than lis northern twho. It had received a conshlemble Immagratlon of dugutents front Fronse and of Scoth Irlah from thee morth of Ireliance und well as of English, and Charlestom was becoulug an Important port, expeclally frequented ty tmecaneers. But ifter the displarement of the pirs. prletary goverumemt. North carolina begun gulekly to receive more than lts share of the Ncotchi Irith Immigrathon nod tos smali munber of Ilighland sicofeh. The colouy was devedoped aluost wholly in the agriculturul dilection, with few and small sowng. Slavery was laroduced at an carly day and moted fisolf in the Industrial system, as it dill in that of all the southern seltements. (See Fontir Cabums and Soctur Cabolisa.)-The lisat of the "thir teen Colunins" to come lato exlaftesce was the colong of Grorgia, fommed so late as 173 si hy General James Oglethorpe. It occupied terrl tury tox) close in nelghborhoont to the spanlarils of Florita to be atiructlve to settlers in the 17th eentury. It a colonlzatlon was mudertaken by Gencral Oglethorpe prlmarily as a philanthrople enterprise for the benefit of ninfortumate English deburs, who were released from prison and permitted to emlgrate under his care; but secondarily to strengithen the defence of the English colonies against the Spanlarts He olvtalned his gray: from George 11. "In trust for the poor, "and tie colony was governed by trins. tees until 1752 , when It was surpendered to the crown. The tirst emigrants left Eugland in the fall of 1732, and ently in the next year Savannala was latd out by Gglethorpe in person. Itis scheme of colonization proved highly attractive. not only in England but on the continent, and numbers of Irotestant Girmans catne over to hecome part of ther origlatal population of Georgla. At the outset. slavery was strictly proflbled; but the settlers thought themselves arrevonair oppremacil by the denlal of maves, antid thele diaconteut treame ou, wat that In lits the sruxtees reacladed the problibition. Ukoraia.)
A. D. $8090-1776$ - Constiturional relations of the colonies to the Eaglish Crown and Parliament, - The working of the leaven of Indepeadence in New England PuritanlamThe Pistory of the developmant of the guteribu constlustional rehathom to oue nateflere, "fails naturally lato two periculs: first, from the he glanlag of Einglish colinizaton in Amerra tio the lleviluthon of lexs: meromil, froma lown fol the Iheclaratlon of Inlepremlence., Ioswlug mow (11) the history of the flomt perfixl, it Io top le ohserved that the lemilligg lantifution la the five Hala govermment at that thee wan the Kind in Commell. Dint in the 1 Bith centurr. owhig to a combluaslon of very strong pollefoul anal te Parlameita and the Khag In conarell wims opretecl and pusheri whlt vigor. It eontirnay with remalts favoraibe to lorliament, tili tway Then the King In Parliansent thatly gainal the ancendancy, and this remult was so mocured by witatute as never ufferwaris to be merlously calied de questlon. Tle supremary of Parliameat wha (methlifised by a merles of riyal concessions. The mailumeatary barty vewed these am comprommines luetween Parlimetut and klugy. Thif pave rufor to ste theory of social contract, which was now glven new lmpulse nad fortu hy the par. llamentarlan writers of the intla and 1ath ern. turles, it naturatly follows from what has Isen sald that the adiminlstration of coionial uffairs prevlons to 1688 wiss lat the liands of the King ln Councll. Sucla was the fact. Thu in turprises of diswovery were tithel out unifo the intronage of the crown; the territorles ilherues rred or vistend were taken jessuession of in tio mime: nurl grants of lamd, of riglits of givera. ment and trale, were made to netual sultlors liv thi. klags. Every colonhal charter is an preme it this. As the king was by the theory of liactiva law fetulal proprictor of England, so hei heceme proprletor of colonial terrlory, thongh that herri tory was granterd ont In socage, one of the frist forms of Euglislt tenure. Certaln supherticlal ilistinctlons were Introduced lu the form of indo mini governments, as royal, proprletary, ath charter: but they all emamated frome the crom lis supremacy extededl around and lwoneath them all. The fuct that they were estainlsinet by grant is proof of this, even thought there had been bo subsequent acts to euforee the compol. They were colonles of the Einglislt crown; their inlablants were lis sulpocts The crue diexrine of soverelgnty and alle of soverelguty and allegiance necessitatest tide concluslon.

Parlament passed few stathes affecting the colonles. Yet, not to matinn others, there were tive sucti of very great im. portance whilela falt within this periont: the Ait of Supremacy (a Eliz cap. 1), und the four Narl. gition acts. In all these the colunles were espressly menthaned. linc the relative porition of crowa and Parimuent is llinstrated loy the fact that when in $162+$ the Council was procereling to 81) interfere but was warned off - lecturs the busluess concerned only the king anil his atsls. ers. Moreover there was no lack of precedents lal of nhares that in lita blton.

sal relatione

 Crown and te leaven of urltanism, the ! qualno 4 mat tor therl other. "fall frims uhe the. Amerifa "I IBN tu, the Prasklige mom It lo tol le In the ling the kinge in ry, owing to tral nul tre the Kitus is Whes It combinami the " ole t. tIIt towe. y gulnewl the secureal by lonsly culled Hament was slones. The а. (0, Thlas gave which wh hy the par: 1 1: th ien 0 what las of colinial this of theTlu 4 om t mand the riew diswor. 11 of in it of Livern sethers tin B Irenf of of EMulth he laceame that territha frest suprericist mo of colin. ctury, atil the crown. I hene:uth atabillshed there had he cometrol. wn; their e alu:trine itates this $w$ statutes mintina gryat im. $\therefore$ the Art onr Naxi Were ex the fact cesling to mase the hls autvis. recedenta

L'NITED STATEA, I090-1786
Chioment Cumeti tyitumal fiblultion.

UNITED RTATES, $1690-1776$

for the extenston not only of common lave lut of foys ordmmen and statute inw ontshle of the oflymal renlm of kinylaul. . . . Nurels In ont. Ilne whe the matus nf Einglth colonalal liow previand silaptation to the new enrple. There were ample preechents for the exerclue of the righte of Irritioh overelgnty In Ameries, but thome righte huil wit yet been eniled Into the fullest operaton. Thelr legitimary loowever was in genoral fully acknowlengenl ly the eolonient. They hail berel monell grent lituerty In ewtahilahlig thelr govrenthintw, erecthg courtn, levylig laxes, organ. lathe and calling out thele millitn for defence garame the Imdiane Culondal melety hand breen silowind to develoy frevy la all llnis aud the prombet was far dilferent fromen anvthing wheh ealntel the the imother emantry. It was demor. eratio rather thun arintocratle: It was almo ex trimily purtloulnristle, noll tow renuote from Fingland to feel murh liturest in the general conerons of the empire. In the allowigenere if somblareanizatlonamil Interemata, an bet ween the colonles and the muther country, lay the gerin whilh mizht develop lato resistane on the part of the plantatlons, If at any thme Finghail shoult attompt the enforen hor rightisl aupromeney ove" thom. Hat ins yet there wan ton listue if th shle wisy comblineal methon. Alwo thow Whise gevernment hul bech most a. alp, is Euglaul, the Tulors mul Stuarts, b
the grent leniencer. But the atatementen just number dobut ruver the whole gronind. They de:seribe the ittitule of the colonles lu generul toward the muther country, but they do not deseribe the sitelal comilthin whteh prevalled ln Niow Eug. laml. If we what to know how the theery of colonial turlopendeme originated, we mast look In that direction. The Anericon revolition emo bint le explainef whont reference to the politl. cal charncter ami tendeucles of Puritanasu I'urltanism then was apoltical as woll us a rellghons movement. On the are limed lts doc. trmes coutahued a strong demorerutle leaven: on the other they eontained prinelples while might leal to the separatlon of ehurchaml state. How the former tenilucy worked Itself onl in New Englund Is fanillar; low the latte fatled of accomphishment there ls ecpally well known The Purituns of Massachusetts were not opposed to the nuion of church and state or to the em ployment of the secular power to enforce reliplons conformity... What they were opmased to was every other form of state elurch except their own. . . In order to maintaln her peculiar system. Massachusetts hal to the on lier gharil ugahist all Interference from outside. The Disssachasetts clurter was hrought over to this combtry. A few ycars later the Plymouth compuy was dissolved, and representation of the colony In England, except hy such agents as the might send, ceased. The terman of the charter were very llberal but like all the others It was a royal grant, and expressly stated that the fulinhitants of the eolony were to be subjects of Fuglund and were to enjoy all the llbertles and lumunitles of such, as If they were In the trith of Figicima. lue vaths of supremaey and alleglunce were to be administared to all who stould go to the colouy. The company was made a 'body curporate and polltic' and was Fiven ample Morer of gavernment: but it faws, statisten, and orilinancem were not to be eonifnry to the law of Englaid. The minulamon nf freemen was left In the hands of the corpe. ration. llow dil the liritan ollgareliy nake uwe of thly charter for worvlug the purgmend of thelr government if In worl, they luterpreter the expremmon 'Imaly corporita* and politle" to mean an ludependent stute, nuit virtually bhandoned all legal councetion with Einglimil exeept an empty scknowlompnent of alloglanee. The onth if allegiance winn mit almbistered, but funten! an osth of thlellty to the giverument of dlliferent from that of Einglam! was eatahlifhed. Whly thome were adinlttel to pollthol rights. made fremen, who werp membery of a Cungregatlonal fhurili. The culony alsu exprelmed full leglalative and juiliolal powera, amil douled the right of upjend both practleally and theorctlcally. The pronf of thls is most Ilreet ami convincing. To Illumtrute: In 1040 the General Court refused to promit the appent of Dr. Chlld now others who, an I'rembyteriana, desirel tolay before I'arllament the wrongs they suffered In Mnmehumetts. Not ouly was the right ilenleil. hut the putitoners ware prevented by force frum earrying thelr case to Finglund. The snane eourse was pursued In reference to appeals in oriluary fullolul casen. Inarfig the liscusston of tha affuls just nentional It was Jrolily afirmed luthe Queral Court that sulbjects wern bound by Fuglinh laws only on Iotig ns they Ilved in Eugland; that nelther s?athtres nor royal orilmures were In force beyond the wemm. A Intle later than thla both the viuglatrutes and the clilers were ealled upon to give thelr vlews on the legal relatlons between the colthy and Eniglami Ihoth agreed that by thelr charter they ' had ah solate pover of goverament'; that thelr govern sont was perfect and suthelent In ull its parts. not meedlng the help of nny auperlor to mukn it complete. They acknowleilgel that they had recelved the charter from Englatul, anl ilepended upon that state for proteetion and Immanitles as freeborn Engllshmens: but the dutle's whleh were correlative to those inmmaties, null whleh are necossary to a true conception of alleglance, were not mentoned. This position wis conslatently maintalned by the puritans of Jassaehusetts as long an they remablicel lu power. In thelr corresponitence with the bome goverament and lis ofleluls between 1834 and 1684 the right nf nppeni was always denled. Its exerclse was never allowed. If we add to thls the further statements that Massachusetts colned money; struve to enlarge the bounds of lier pntent, not only without consulting the king, but in defiance of hls sbsolute prohibltion; tased Englash Im. prits; and, without the consent of the home government, entered the New England confeder. ntion, some notlon cas be formed of the degree of ludemendence clatmed and cxerelsed by that colony, The exerclse nf this Independence however dhif not make it legal. It only lllustrates the fact that the roots of the Amerlcan revolutlon extend back lnto the times of which we are speaking. . It was to he expected that Eng. Innd would Interfere to bilt:: JIassachuactis Within the bounds of constlintional dependence. Complaints ngalnst the colony, on tha part of Gorges and of those who had been banlshed by Gorges and of those who had been banlshed by the Puritans, began very early. These led to

UNITED STATES, 1620-1776.  Colonial Conats  utional Relation.  UNITED STATES, 1651-1672.

'quo warranto', roceedlngs for the recall of the charter In 1685 . But clvil strife at home compelled the government of Charies I to ahandon the project. Then cume the period of the Commonwealth, when the views of the Eng. Ilsh government were so fully in harmony with those of the New England leaders that the practleai Independence of the colony was lgnored. of in more compreliensive colonial the beglaning of in more comprehensive colonial pollcy." With the fall of the Massachusetts charter, in 1684, " cioses the tirst stage In the development of the ldea of colontal lnjependence. The struggie between the Puritans of Massachusetts and the crown is the most slgnlficant fact $\ln$ American hlstory prevlous to 1780 . Tbe Puritans were defeated; the authority of England was reasserted.

But for our purpose the Importaut result ls that the Puritaus left behlnd them an armory full of precedents and arguments In favor of colonlal lodependence. Tiey had constructed the American theory on that suhject. That was the chlef permanent resnit of their experiment. They hail from irst to last adhered to the theory which expediency taught them to adopt. They tanght the colonists how to resist the excrclse of the eccleslastlcal and judiclat supremacy of the crown. If now at any thme in the future the Americans sbouid conslder themselves aggrieved by the acts of the Engllsh government, the Puritan splrit and theory would be Hkeiy to appear. Such was the aspect of affalrs at the close of the first period of colonlal hlstory. After the vevoluthon of 1688 , Parlhament assumes more and more the coutrol of Amerlcan concerns. Statutes on those suhjocts multiply. The adminlstration of the colonles becomes a hrunch of the ministerial government of Great Britain. The developmient of an imperial as dlstingulshed from an insular pollcy is begin. The Interfer. ence of England in colonial affalrs becume more frequent aud the control asserted more extenslve than lieretofore.

The nttltude of the colo. nlsts during thls period was one of pussive rather than actlve resistance. Parlhanentury restrlc. tlons were so farevnded as not to le hurilensome.

The records slow that the birien of oplnion in the colonles was jealousy of all government, so faras It operated as a restralnt. The lutcrfereuce of government, whether colonial or Imperial, was welcomed hy the colonlsts, when It could be used for the aivancement of thelr private or local luterests; when iarger ohjects were almed at, It was if possihle lgnored or reslsted.

The polltical condltion of the colo. nles was for the first thme clearly revenled during the Frcnch and Indian war. The hlstory of Germany can fumish no more vlvil spectacle of the evils of jarileularisin than does that struggle.

The coniltion of anarchy and helpiessuess revenied hy the war was such as to convluce all the gervants of the crown in America that active parilauentary laterference was necessary, If the colonles were to be defindied and retalnal as an Integral part of the British empire. The fact that the British gevermuent. within a rensonable thme after the close of the war, proceeded to put thls suggestlon hito exacutlon. Implies nothing arbltrary or unreasonable. It had the undoubted constltutlonai right to do so; and so far as could be seen at the time, expediency prompted in the same drectisn. Hut fluring the century since the Puritau oligarchy of Massaebusetts ylelded to the aupremacy of the crown, the theory soclal contract had been fully developed. It formulated the needs of the opposition in all $t$ European countries to the system of absolutist It was the theory of government very general heid hy the Puritans in both England and Ame ica. Thls theory, as soon as it was unde stood, would naturally find general acceptan In the colonles. The American revolution as truly as the French, was the outgrowth of ti doctrine of natural rights and soclal contrac By thls I mean slmply that the doctrine In que thon formed the theoretlcal basls of both mor ments. So far as the Amerlcan revolutlon concerned the proof of thls statement is con tained In the writlngs of the patrlot leacers the tlme, the various state papers that wer lssued, and the doctrine that was held respectin the right of imperial taxation. No man con tributed so much to bringligg nbont the rerolu tion as Samuel Adams; and his mind was satu rated with the theory of socinl contract. Il made it the hasls of all hls reasonings. reason why New England becane the leader o the movement clenrly appears. The process of development through which the colonles passed was a natural, and therefore a necessary one It was slow and ohscure, and therefore could not be clearly recognized at the tlme. But thst It was nevertheless revolutlonary becomes evident when we compare the views and alms of the colonlsts with the constitution of the briti $h$. plre. When the two systems came Into collision the colonlsts adopted a theory which was 'la the alr' at the thme, hut one under whlch no gover. ment can be successfuily carrled on. When they came to erect $n$ government o? thelr own, they had to abandon it. It is not clalmed that the loctrine of natural rights ever found such general acceptance In Anierica as In France. The character of the people and the alssence of a despotic government prevented that. But that the American revolutlon cannot be explained Without assigning it a proninent place is evldeut. It is not Intended to convey the inipres. slon that the coionlats had no grie vances. There were causes for complaint, but they were doubtless greatiy exaggerated. A mlad flled with the democratle theories of the thmes, and with the loose notions concerning soverelguty and alleglance whlch then prevalled, could caslly Imaghe that Parlament, unless resisted, would estahish a despotic government in America."Professor M. L. Osgood, Einghind itind the Cobniea (Pol. Sci. Quarterly, Sept., 188\%).
A. D. $165 \mathrm{I}-1672$ - The Navigation Acts and the colonies.-Spirit and objects of the Engiish restrictive commercial system. - To the det of Navigation, passed In 1651 (see Navioation Laws) is duen change in the relations of the colonles to the mother country. "Henceforth they were regaried malnly as feeders to its carryingtrade, as consumers of lts manufactures, as factories for the dlstribution of Its caplal, and, in a word, as mere conmerclal appondages of what Wasnow the great commerclal power. Domining became subordinate to trade. .. Beginning wlth the re-enactment of the Navlgation Act after the Restoration, we find that the new system which is to regulate coionlal trade and define the relations of the colonles to the parent, Is contalued in three Acts of I'arliament. First, In the re-enactment liself of the Act of Naviga.
n , the theory of eloped. It had aition in all the of absolutiam. very generally land and Amer. It was under. eral aeceptance can revolution, itgrowth of the ocial contract. ctrine in ques. of both move. revolution is ement is con. rlot leaniers at ers that were aeld respecting No man con. ut the revolu. alnd was satu contruct. Ile ngs.

The the leader of The process of olonies passed necessary one. acrefore conld ne. But that beeomes evl. nd ainis of the he llitil'h. Into collision ch was in the ch no govers-

When they cir own, they imed that the nd such gen. France. The ahsence of at. But that be explained place is eri. y the inpres. inecs. There were ithubt. d filled with nes, and with creiguty and conld easlly sisted, would America."and the cob-

UNITED STATES, 1651-1672.

UNITED STATES, 1690.
tion in 1660; secondly, in an act, passed in 1603, entitled 'an Aet for the encouragement of trade'; and, thirdly, In an act, passed $\ln 1672$, and entitied 'nn Act for the encouragement of the Greenland and Eastiand fteheries, and for the better securing the plantation trade.'. . . The three acts which created the system, were all passed in the reign of Chnrles II.; the others followed rapidly, and In great numbers, for $n$ century, until the failure of the attempt to transform this system of trade lnto one of trade nnd revenue, by means of what is knowu as the Stamp Act. St. Johu's Navlgation Act was reenacted In 1660, under Charles II., as the first. fruits of the Restoration. This net forhade importation into or exportation out of the colo. nles, save what camo and went in English ships, and lts object was, to shut the doors of the colonies agalnst foreign trade. In 1663 another step was taken, and an aet was passed with the ohject, openly avowed In its fifth section, of keeping the colonies $\ln$ 'a firmer dependence' upon England, and of making that klngdom the staple, or place of distrihution, not only of colonial produce, 'but also of the commolitles of other conntries and plnces, for the supplying of them.' To cffect thls, the Act of 1683 went beyond that of 1660, nad exacted, that no Europenn pronluets or manufactures shonld be imported into any colony, cxcept what had been actually laden nad shipped lit an Engllsh port, and carried 'directly thence' to the Importing colony. This act forced the colonists to get sueh supplles as they could not themselves furnish In England only, and thas not only conld nonc but mariners of whom three fourths were Euglish transport merchandise to and from the eolonles, but the colonists themselves were not suffered to go any whore but to Engiand for that which they conlli not get nt home. . . . This position of factor between the colonies and foreign markets Was a ficrative one. But the epirit of trade is such, that lt regards much as only a stepping. stone to more, and the next enactment conecrning colonial trale, or that of 1872 , betriss this churacteristlc. The existing factorage was maintained only between the colonial and foreign trade; it hid no place in intercolonial trailie. As this Intercolonial trade developed, it attracted the observation of the English merchants, who at last demanded the eontrol of It. In compifance witio thls demand, an net was passed in 16\%, subjocting any euunerated commodity to duty siperifled in the statute - and thus was destroyed the freedom, and, to a great extent tile hecentive of intercoloulal traffic. This aet was well entliled ' an Aet for the cucouragement of the Greenlund and Eastland tisheries, and for the hetter securing of the plantation trade.' hlistory is silent respecting the fisheries, but it has been very outspoken concerning lts effect on the phantations. The effect was thls: If Rhode Island wished to be supplicd by Massachusetts with one of the enumersted commolitics, and Mussachinsetts desired to furnish Thode Island with that commolity, the dellvery of the goods could not be made by the producer to the consumer, hut the urticle would have to be scet to Enyland tirst, and landed there, and then be sent back tron Figland to Rhode Island before the consumer whil touch it. A line drawn from ind thence insmachusetts, to Bristol, in England, and thence back to Newport, In Rhode Ialand, will show the course whlch such artlele must take, if sold hy Massachusetts to Rhode Island, before the demnnds of English commerce were satisfied; It wlil In all probahllity likewlse show the least angle wlth the longest sldes ever subtended on the chart of trude. Should, however, the partles to the transactlon deslre to avold the risk and delay lneldent to this phenomenal voy. age, they could do so hy pnylng the certain rates and duties proseribed by this statute" E. G. Scott. The Development of Const. Liberty in the English Colonies of Am., eh. 8 (vith corrections by the author). - "Unfortunately there does not exlst any history of the commerce of the American colonics, from the Commonwealth to 1774, as affeeted by navigation laws, acts of trade, nd revenue measures. No one who has rend the 29 aets which comprise this legisiation wlll recommend their perusal to another; for, apnrt from their voiume, the construetion of these acts is difficult, - dificult even to trained lawyers like John Adains, whose husiness lt was to advise elkents lu respeet to them. Nor have special students, like Banemft, stated their cffect with exaet precision."- M. Chanberlaln, Tho Reoolution Imnending: Critial Exaray (Varrativo and Critical 1Iist. of Am., v. 6), p. 84.

Also IN: G. L. Beer, The Commercial Policy of England toward the $A \mathrm{~m}$. Colonien (Columbia College Studies, 3, no. 2).-W. 13. Weeden, Economic ant Soctinl IIist. of I. Eng., ch. 7 (c. 1). IV. E. T. IRogers, Lisonomic Interpretation of Ilistory, ch. 15.
A. D. 1690. The Flrst American Congress. -King William's War. -"After the aceession [ln England, A. D. 1089] of Wilhim and Mary hostlities were deelared between Franee and England, whieh extended to America; and thus began the first iuter-colonial war [commonly known In American history as King Wiilium s War]. The French soon planned an invasion of Buston and New York. ... Ou the 8th of February, 1600, a war-party, who hnd come stenlthlly from Cannda, entered the open gates of the town of Schenectady, when it was showing, aud broke the stillness of midnight with the terrihle yell and whoop of the savages. Den, women, and children, for two hours, were mereilessly butchercd. Their dwellings were burned. The whole towu was sacked. . . . The intelifgence flew through the colonies. . . . Scheneetady was the Fort sumter of that day. The event hal a political effect. It shamed the factious in New fork at least Into a trnce. It roused a spirit of patriotism. Tho governor of Massachusetts urged, In letters to other colonics, the necessity for immediate action to provlde for the common defence. . . The Genernl Court [of Massaehusetts], in vlew of organizing a joint effort of the colonies, proposed to hold a congress. The eall for a meeting ls dated the 19th of Mareh, 1690. It relates, that their majesties' subjeets had been Involed hy the French and Indians; that many of the colonists had heen barbarously murdered, and were in danger of greater mischlefs; and lt proposed, as a measure of prevention, that the nelghboring colonles, nud Virginla. Maryland, and the parts adjacent, should be invited to meet at Ncw York, and conelude on suitahle methods for assistlng each other for the safety of the whole lant. The gurcraor of New Iork was desired to transmit this invitation to the southern colonien. Such was the fret call for a general

Prane of Colomial Union.

UNITED STATES, 1696-1697.

congreas in America. It Is free from narrow.

 nen. It is liberal in ita spirt, simple in its terms, and comprehensive In its object.The call elieited from several coiontes interesting replies. Governor Hinckleg, of Plymouth, entered with zenl Into the measure, and, though the General Court was not in session, appointed a commissioner. The Quaker governor of Rhale Island, HIenry Buif, repiied In an exceilent spirit.

Thoughi the time was too short to convene the assemhiy for the appointment of commissioners, he promised the nid of that eoiony to the utmost of its abiify to resist the Frencis and Indians. The heall of the convention of Maryland wrote, that lt was the design of the assemhiy to send arms and men to ali, in the generai defence. . . President Bacon, of Virginia, replied, that the proposition would require the action of the assembly, and that nothing wonid be done untii the arrivai of the daily expecteri governor. The repiles to the invitation were corifinl. The commissioners of four colonies [Massachusetts, Piymouti, Connectlent, anii New York] met at New York. .. . The deiib erations ied to $n$ unanimous resuit. On the 1st of May, an agreement was signed hy the dejegates, in lrehaif of the five eolonies [ineluding Maryiand under its promlse], to raise a force of 855 inen for the strengthening of Alhany, and, Fry the hieip of Ainigity God, subduing the Frenci andi Indian enemles.' It was agreeti, that the ileutenant-governor of New York sionilid name the commandier of this force; that it shouid not be employed. on any otiaer service without the consent of the flve coionies; ani tinat the offiers shomid be requirel to preserve among their men gowl orifer, punish vice, keep the Sahhath, and mantain the worship of Geep No proposition appears to innve been entertained for a pernaanent organization. . . . EAforts were made to ohtain adiditional nid from New Jerser Pennsyivania, aud Lhoofe Isianil. . . I netid oniy state, as the resuit of this congress, $\mathrm{th}_{\mathrm{i}, \mathrm{t}}$ it was resoived to attempt the reluction of Canadia by two ifnes of attuck, - one to conquer Acadih. and then to more on Quebee; and the other, by the ronte of Lake Claaripiain, to assauit Mon treal. The New Engiand forces under sir Wiilinu Phips, assigneri to the tirst route, cniptnredi Acadia and lort Royai, and sailed for Quelece, in the expectation of being aided by the other forces wiot marcherd by the Champiain route. But thes, under Fitz-, loin Wintirop, with the titic of major, were not suceessfui. Leisier [see New lonk: A. I) 1689-1691], with charicteristle rasinness, acequed the connmander of treachery; whiic the oflicers charged the commissary, Jacol Siliborne, of New York, with inethciency iu procuring supplies. The failure of Wintirep arcasloned the retruit of Pihps."-IR. Frothing. uam, The lise of the hepublic of the U. \&. ch. 3. administrations,-Dhers reliting to Col. Inister if N. Y., e. 3.-See, aiso, Canada: A. I). $1689^{-}$
A. D. 1696-1697. - The Board of Trade for the Supervition of the Coionies. -Plans of Colonial Union by Penn and others.-"The king attempteif a more effleciont methan of administering the colonles; anif, in May 1690, a Board of Commissioners for Trade and Pianta. tions, consisting of tice ehanceliors tine priandent of the privy council, the keeper of the privy deal, the two secretarles of state, and eight specia commissioners, was called into being. To Wil liam Biathwayte, who had drafted the new charter of Massachusetts, John Locie, and the rest of the commission, instructions were given by the crown ' to Inquire into the menans of mike ing the coionies most useful and benefleiai to Engiand; into the stapies and manufactures which may be encouraged there, and the meens of diverting them from trades winici may prove prejudicial to Engiand; to examine into and weigh the acts of the assemblies; to set ciown the usefuiness or mischief of them to the crown, the kinglom, or the piantations themseives; to re. quire an aceount of aif the monegs gIven for jub. dic nses hy the assemblies of the piantathons, und low the same are empioyed.' the aiministration of the several provinces hat their unlty in the person of the king, whose dntics with regard to them were transacted througit one of the secretarles of state; hut the Board of Trade was the organ of inquiries and the eentre of colonisl information. Every iaw of a provinciai feglisia ture, except in some of the charter governmints if it escaped tie veto of the roval governor might be arrested by the unfavorabie opinion of the law offleer of the crown, or by the alverse report of the Boarl of Trade. Its rejection eould come oniy from the king in eouncil. The fonrd of Trade was hardiy constituted be fore it was snmmoned to piun ninity in tife mill. tary efforts of the provinces; and Locke with his associntes despmired, on behoiding tikem 'crum. hled futo fittie governments, disunited in inter. ests, In an ifi posture aud much worse dispusition to uffori assistnnce to each other for the future. The Boari, in 1697, 'after considering with their utmost care, ' couid oniy recommeni the appoint. ment of 'a captain-general of uil the forces and nif the militia of ail the proviuces on the continent of Norti America, with power to levy and command them for tiveir defence. umier stich linitatlons and instructions as to his majesty shouid seem lest. Witi exccilent samacity - for true humanity perfects the juigment Wlifinn Penn matured a pian of a pernament inion, by a untionai representation of the Anari cin States. Ou the 8tin day of Feloruary 1097 he defivered inis projeet for un anmai 'congress. ns he termed it, of two dejegates from eacd province. miiitary diectot the ministry ndopted meither the in dietatorship of Locke and his assomiates, nor the peacefui congress of Wiliam I'cm."G. Inncroft, liset of the U. S. Author's hast re rinion). pt. 3, ch. 4 (r. 2). - The foliowing is the Pian of trion dirafted hy I'enn: "A brie.e and Plaine Scheam how the Eugisis Colonists it the Curth parts of Americn, viz.: Boston, Comenenteut, Renif Isianil, New York, New Jerseys, ien. siíania, Maryiand, Virginia, and Caroilna nay be made more usefuil to the Crowne, umi one another's preace and safty with an univiruli concurrence. 1st. That the severuil Colunits before mentioned do meet once a year, and oftener if ncell be, during the war, and at feast once in two years in times of peace by theth stated and ar yointed Deputies, to debate and ftsoive of such measures as are most ad viseable for their better understanding, and the puhiic tranquiiity and safety. 2d. That in onder to it two persons well qualified for sence, sohriety and substance be appointel hy each Proviace, 4 their Ilepresentatives or Deputies, whieh in the Meroantile Policy.

UNITED STATES, 1600-1 49.
elght special ing. To WHced the new ocie, and the is were glien lenns of misk. beneflicial to mnnufactures Il the meuns h miny prove ine lnto sand set down the ecrown, the elves: to re. Iveuf for 1 mb . atathons, and nduninistraheir minty m with regard one of the Trade was of colonisl cial leglisa. overnments, 1 governor. oplnion of the aiverse ts rejection ouncil. stlut of be in the mill. cke with bis hein 'crum. ed $\ln$ luter. lispusition the future. with their he appolntforees and the contl. to lery and ander siact is unajesty at sugacity thement permanent the Anuri. wary 1697, 'conigress, eall prop. neither the assmerates, l'mu."r's luat re. lag is the Bric.e and ists in the Comarti4eys, l'enlina nay , null one innvervali Coioniles car, and li at ifast by thelt te suld re. seahle for hilic tranto lt two riety and ince, as whole make the Congress to consiat of twenty person. 8d. That the King's Commlssioner for that purpose apeclally appointed shail have the chalre and preside in the said Congresse. 4th. That they shali meet as near as conveniently may be to the most centrall Colony for use of the Deputles. Sth. Since that may in all proh. ablilty, be New York both because it is nenr the Center of the Coionies and for that it ls $n$ Fronticr sad in the Klng's nominntion, tite Govr. of that Colony may therefore also be the Klng's High Commlssloner during the Session after the manner of Scotland. 6th. That their husiness sinall be to hear and adjust all matters of Complaint or difference between I'rovince and Provincc. As, 1st, where persons quit their own Proviuce and goe to another, that they may avold thelr just debts, tho they be ahie to pay them, 2nd, where effenters fy Justice, or Justice cannot weli be hal upon such offenders In the Provinces thit entertalue them, ally, to prevent or cure injuries in point of Commerce, 4th, to conslider of ways sud mesus to support the union and safety of these Provinces agalnst the pubile encmies. In which Congresse the Quotas of men and charges whl be much easier, and more equally sett, ticen it is possihle for any establlshment made here to do; for the Provinces, knowling thelr own condl. tlon and onc another's, can debate that matter whith more freedome and satlsfactlon and better sidjust aud ba!lance their affalrs lu ail respects for thelr common safty. 7ly. That In times of wir the Klng's IIIgh Commlssioner shall be generail or chlef Commandicr of the severali Quotas upon service against a common enemy as he slusif be sdivised, for the good and benefit of the whoie. "i1. W. Preston, Documents illustrative of Am . Mint., p. 14 .
A. D. 1696-1749.-Growing despotism of the English mercantile policy.-Systematic suppression of coionial manu:-tures.-"By the rrection, in 1696, of a new Standing Council, or Boari of Trade, under the denounination of 'The Lords Commissiouers for Trade and Piantations,' the lnterests of Britlsh commerce and the affairs of Colonlai trale and government were confded to that body, which thenceforward became the repmiltory of sll offichai lateiligence upon those sulbjects, and the medium of communleatlou with the several governors and asscnitles of the Coloules. Yeurly reports of the state of the Proviaces were required from the governors, In answer to tureries adiressed to them hy the Board. An Act of Parliament of the same year still furticer restricted commereial intercourse, ly illnting trate between England and her Colomles to Engllsh, Irish and Colonlal huilt ressels, and hy prohihlting Colouial produce from going to the ports of Ireland or Scotiand.

The fecble attempts of the Colonists to make n portiou of their own clothlng from thelr alsundant materials had not been unnotlced in England. Three years after - the Board of Trule having recelved complalnts from English nierchants and manufacturers, that the wool and Weolen manufactures of Ireland and the North American plantations began to be exported to forelgn markets formeriy supplied hy England anted hy that sleepless viglance which guarded the staple manufacture of Glance which guarided edt Lutex manufacture of England. It prohlbltufacture fromation of any wool or woolen man. uficture from Ireluad, except to certain ports in Englnad; hut, hy way of compensatlon, virtually surrendered to Ireland the linen manufacture, then little regarded in comparison with the woolen interests. In reference to the Colonles, It was enacted that 'After the first day of December, 1689, no wool, woolfeis, yarn, cloth, or woolen manufactures of the English plantations in America shall be shipped ln any of the said English piantations, or otherwise loaden, In order to be transported thence to any piace wintsoever, under the penaity of forfelting ship nnd cargo, and $£ 500$ for each offence.'. A letter from New England to the Board of Trade [1n $1715]$. . Trlterates the necessity of empioying the New Eugland people in prorlucing naval stores, to turn thein from manufactures.

The discouragement of American manufactures. from thls tlme, became the setticd and avowed policy of the government, and, three yenrs inter. the Bill prohilitling the erection of forges and Iron milis was introduced, and declared that the erecting of Manufactories in the Colonies 'tenis to lessen their dependence upon Great Britain.'

The company of Feitmakers, in London, pettloned Pariliament, in Feh., 1731, to prohitit the exportatiou of hats from the American Colonles, representing that forelgn markets were almost nitogether suppiled from thence, and not a few sent to Great Britsln. The petition was referred to a speclal committee, who reported that, in New York and New England, beaver hats were manufactured to the numher, It wns estlmnted, of 10,000 ycarly. . . . The exports were to the Southern plantntions, the West In dies, and Irelanil. In consequence $i$ this evl. dence, and that furnished hy the Board of Trude in the same sesslon, an act was passed (5 George II. c. 22) thnt 'no hats or felta, dyed or undyed, finished or unflisished, simll he put on boarll any vessei in nny piace withln any of the Britlsh plantations; nor be laden upon may horse or other carringe to the intent to be exported from thence to any other plantation, or to any other pince whatever, upon forfeiture thereof, nad the offender shali ilkewlse pay $£ 500$ for every such offence.

Thls severe aud stringent law contlaned in force in the Colonics untii the Revolution. It ainned at the prostration of one of the oidest nad, on nccount of the abundance nnd cheapness of benrers and other furs, one of the most proftabie hranches of Industry."-J. L. Bishop, Iist. of Am. Manufactures, e. 1, ch. 14.In 1749 an act of Pariiament was passed " to en. courage the importation of pig and har lron from his majesty's colonies in America, and to prevent the erection of any mill or other engine for slitting or rolling of iron, or any plateling forge to work with a tit lininmer, or any furnnce for making steei ln any of the said coionies." "Pig Iron was aliowed to be imported free to all parts of the kinglom, so as to secure cheap bar lron. But bur iron could not be Imported at any port but London, and carried no further than ten mlies from that elty. Thls clause was intended to ald the owners of woods. In order to protect the nall tracle, all slitting.milis in the colonies were orlered to be destroyed."-J. B. Pearse, Concies Ilist. of the Iron Manufacture of the Am. Colonies, p. 121.
Also in: W. B. Weeden, Econmmic and Eocial Fist. of Teve Eng., v. 2.-G. L. Beer, Commercial Pricy of Eng. toviard the Cowisies (Cw. Cot. itu. dies, c . 3).-See, also, below: A. D. 1703 and 1364

UNITED STATES, 170&-1720.

Eve of the French War.
UNITED STATES, $1750-1759$.

A. D. 1704-1729.-The first colonial newspapers. See Printina and Press: A. D. 1704

 1729
A. D. 1748-1754-First collislons with the French in the Ohio Vailey.-'As the year 1750 approsched, there came upon the colonies two changes, destlned to lead to a ncw polltical life. In the first place, the colonles at last began to overrun the mountain harrler which hal hemmed them in on the west, and thus to invite nnother and more desperate struggle with the French. The first settlement made west of the mountalns was on n liranch of the Kanawha (1748); in the same season several adventurous Virglininns hunted and made Inad-clnims In Kentucky and Tennessee. Before the close of the following year (1:49) there had been formed the Ohlo Company, composell of wealthy Virginians, aniong whom were two hrothers of Washington. King George grnnted them 500,000 acres, on whleh they were to plant 100 familles and huild and malntaln a fort. The irst attempt to ex. plore the region of the Ohlo hrought the Eng. Hsh and the Freach traders into conflct; and troops were not long in following, on both sides [see Ouio Valley: A. D. 1748-1754]. At the sanee thme the home govcrnment was awaking to the fact that the colonles were not under strict control. In 1750 the Adminlstratlon begnn to consider means of stopplng unlawful trade, "1R. G. Thwaites, The Colonics, 1492.1750 (Epochs of Am. Mist.), ch. 14, sect. 130.A. D. ${ }^{1}$ 79-1755.-Unsettled boundary dis putes of England and France.-Preludes of the last French War. Sec Nova Scotia: A. I). 1749-1755; Canada: A. D. 1750-1753; 1755; and Omo (Valley): A. D. 1754.

A. D. 1750-1753.-The eve of the great French wa:-Attitude of the colonien.- The quarrel $\ln$ w! deh the French nul English now engaged wiw exclusively a colonlal one. The possesslon aud defence of the Americnns had already cost, over and over agnln, $n$ larger sum than the whole proluce of their trade would hnve produced. The English hall the mortifica. tlon of observing that the colonlsts clnmed all the securlty of Englishmen agalnst attuck, and repouliated thelr obligation to take a share of the hurlens which their defence occasloned. Were they atheked by the French. - they were Englishmen, and hail n right to the eggis which that name throws over all soljects of the crown; were they called upon for a subseriptlon in aid of the war, - they were men who would not sobmit to lre taxed without thelr own consent: were they taken at thelr word, aml requested through their own assemblles to tax themselves, out ay somethmes refused, and sometlmes doled out a minute supply, takling care to mix up with their money bll sonte infriagement on the royal prerogative, which rendered it imposslble, except under severe exigency of the pullife service, for the governor to accept the terms offered. The action of the colonies at this crisis was in accordance with thatir invnriable polley. As soon as they percelved that the French meditated a war of ngerression la America, a chorus of complaint and apprehenslun cnme at once from the colonists. Shirley, Governor of Massachu setts, and Clinton, Goveruor of New York, had convened nn assembly at Albany during the last year of the last wnr, to concert meanures for unitlug all the colonies for common defence:

Massachusetts and the other New England State were, of course, anxious that the union shoule be carried ont. They were the barrier betweet be carried ont. They were the barrier betweet the Canndas and the southern colonies, nul any nttack was made they must bear the bruni of lt .

The Congress of Albany, and cspe cially the Leglslature of Massachusetts, advocaned the erection of a line of detached forts whleb might be so arrangell in to overawo the Frelich frontler, and defend the New England coloniea from attack. ... It was all in valn; every colony, with the exceptlon of Massachusetts, Connecticut, and South C'nrolina, refused to contribute one farthlng towaris the expense. Even in 1753, when the French were actually on the Ohlo, and Wnshington had brought hasek certaln Intelligence of their intentions and views the Virginians refused supplies to Dinwiddie because they declared themseives "casy on ac. count of the French.' When at last the Freach had nctunlly established themselves in fortitited posts at Nlagnra, nt Le Breuf, and at Venango, when Contrccreur had driven a colonlal officet out of a post whleh he held on the forks of the Monongahela, when Fort du Quesne had arlsen on the rulns of an English stockade, they could no longer close their eyes to the dunger whillh was actually within the boundnries of thelr State. They granted $£ 10,000$ of thelr currency; bus Dlnwiddle wrote home thint the hlll was so clogged with encroachments on the prerogative, that he would not have glven his assent hal not the publle servlee rendered the supply lmperatlvely necessary. "-Vlscount Bury, Efoulus of the Western Nations, r. 2, ch. 7.-"The atitude of these various colonies towards each other is harily concelvahle to an Auerican of the present thes. They had no polltheal the except a com. mon nileglance to the Britlsh Crown. Communi. cation hetween them was diffleult and slom, hy rough romls traced often through primevil forests. Betwren some of them there was leso of sympathy than of jealousy kinclled by contlicting interests or perpetual disputes concernIng boundaries. The patriotism of the colonist was bounded hy the lines of lifs government, except in the compact nad kincired colonies of New England, whleh were secially united, though politically distinct. The country of the New Yorker was New York, and the country of the Virglnian was Virginia. The New Fingiand colonles hall once confederated; hut, klndrell as they were, they had long ago dropped apsrt,

Nor was it thls segregation only that unfitted them for war. They were all subject to popular legislntures, through whom alone money and men could be ralsed; and these cliectire hodles were sometimes factious and seltish, and not always either far-sighted or reasonable. Moreover, the were $\ln$ a state of ceaseless frictlon with their governors, who represented the king, or what was worse, the feudal proprictary. These disputes, though vnryling in intensity, were found everywhere except lin the two small coloules which chose their own governors; and they were premonltions of the movenent towands Independence which ended in the war of Revolutlon. The occasion of difference msttered little. Active or Intent, the quarrel was slwayi present. .. Divided In government; divlded in origin, feellnys, nnd principles; jealous of each other, jealous of the Cruwn; the people at war mternal politica, bilinded to an outward danger that seemed remote and rague, - such were the conditions under which the British coloties drifted into a war that was to declde the fate of the continent."-F. Parkman, Montealm and Fiokfo, ch. 1 ( v .1 ).

Congrese

UNITER STATES, 1754

A. D. 1754.-The Congrens at Albany and its Pians of Union. - Franklin's acconnt. "In 1754, war with France belng again apprehended, a congress of commisslouers from the different colonics was, by an order of the Lords of Trade, to be assembied at Albany, there to confer with the chiefs of the Siz Nations concerning the means of defending both their country and ours. Governor Hamition [of Penn. gyivania], having receiv'd this order, acquainted the IIouse with it, requesting they would furnish proper presents for the Indians, to be given on this occasion; and naming the speaker (Mr. Norris) and myseif to join Mr. Thomas Penn and Mr. Secretary Peteris as commissioners to act for Pennsyivania. (The House approv'd the nomination, and provided the goods for the present, and tho they did not much like treating out of the provinces;) and we met the other commissioners at Albany about the middle of June. I. our way thither, I projected and drew a plan for the union of ali the colonies under one government, so far as night be necessary for defense, and other importint general purposes. As we pass'd thro' New Yurk, I had there siown my project to Mr. James Alexander and Mr. Kennedy, two gentiemen of great knowiedge In pubile affairs, and, being fortitied by tiecir approbation, I ventur'd to liay it hefore the Congress. It then appeared that everal of the commissioners had form'd pinns of the same kind. A previous question was first taken, whether a union shouid be estahiished, which passid in the afflrmative unanimousiy. A com. mittee was then appointed, one member from each coiony, to consider the severai pians and report. M/ine happen'd to be preferr'd, and, with a few amendments, was accordingly reported. . The delates upon it In Congress went on daliy, hand in hand with the Indinn husiness. Many ohjections and difficuitiea were atarted, hut nt iength they were aiiovercome, and the pian was unnnimously agreed to, and copics ordered to be transmitted to the Board of Trade and to the assembilies of the severai provinces. Its fate was singuiar: the assemhiies did not adopt it, as they nif thought there was too mueh prerogative' in it, and in Engiand it was judg'd to invee too much of the 'democratic.' The Boari of Trade therefore did not approve of it, nor recommend it for the approhation of his majesty; but anotier scheme was form'd, uppposed to naswer the same purpose better, whereby the governors of the provinces, with onme menbers of their respective councilis, were to meet snd orier the raising of troops, huilding of forts, etc., and to draw on the treasury of Grest Britain for the expense, whilch was afterwsila to be refoncied hy an act of Pariiament is ying a tax on America. . . . The different and cuatrary reasons of disilike to my pian makes me suspect tint it was reaily the true medium; and I am stili of opinion it wourd have been happy for both sidea the water if it had been aitopled. The coionles, so united, would have veives; there piy strong to have defended themves; there wouid then have been no need of troops from Engiand: of course, the aubsequent pretence for taxing America, and the hloody contest it occasioned, wouid have been avoided. -B. Frankiin, Autobiography (od. by John Bige. 200), ข. 1, pp. 308-310..-" When the member assembled at the Court House in Aihany on the 19th of June, it was found that Pennsyivania was not aione in appointing a distinguished citizen to represent her. On the roil of the congress were the names of Lieutenant.governor De Lancey, of New York, who presided; and from the same province Wiiiiam smith, the historian, and the future Sir Wiiliam Johnson, not yet madie a hnronet. From the proprietary provinces of Pennsyivania and Maryiand were the weli known officiais, Join Peni, grandison of the founder; Fichard Peters; and Benjamin Tasker. From the province of New Hampsilire were her future governor, Mcshech Weare, and Theodore Atkinson; and from the province of Massaehusetts Bay, the inte Lieutenant-governor, Thomas Hutchinson, Coionei John Chandier, of Woreester, and Oliver Partrldge, a man of commanding infiuence in western Massachusetta. Lastiy, the two coionies wiich had so tenaciousig preserved their ciarter governments through the vicissitudes of more thin a century,-Connccti. cut and Rhode Isiand, - had nccelled to the ropented soileitatious of the home government, and with unfeigned reiuctance, we may ise sure, had sent as representatives men of such wide experience in their coionini concerns as Roger Woicott, Jr., and Stephen IIopkins. 'America, says Mr. Baneroft, 'had never seen an assemhiy so venerabie for the atates that were represented or for the great and ahie men who composed it. Tiney were detained in this hospitahie old Dutch town for more than three weeks. . . . Frunklin's pian... Was not approved ly a single one of the coioniai assembilies before winich it was hrought; and . . . no action was ever taken on It in Engiand. Yet there is no contribution to constructive statesmansinip preceding the year 1776, which had a profounder effect on the suh. sequent growth and development of the iden of American mationaity. Even in tile amended form in which it was ' approved' hy the congress, it was, says a recent writer, 'in ndvance of the Articies [of Confederution] in its untionai spirit, and served as the prototype of the eoustitution Itseif. - W. E. Foster, Sephen IIopkins: a Rhodo Island Statesman, ch. 6 (pt. 1).
The Pian of Union, as adoptel hy the Congrese at Aibany, was acconipnnied by a "Representation of the Present State of the Coionies." The foliowing is the fuii text of the Representation, foliowed hy that of the Pinn of Union: "That Ifis Najesty's Titie to the Northern Continent of America, appears to be founded on the Dis. covery thereof first made, and the Possession thereof first taken in 1497, under a Commission from Henry the VIIth, of Engiand, to Sebastian Cabot. Thnt the French have possessed themselves of severai Parts of this Continent, wifich hy Treaties, have been ceded and confrmed to them: That the Rigits of the Eurifish to the Whoie Sea Coast, from Gcorgia, on tie South, to the River St. Lawrence, on the North, excepting the Isiand of Cape-Breton, in the Bay of $\mathrm{St}_{\mathrm{t}}$, Lawrence. remains piain and Indisputahie. That aif the Lands or Countries Westward from the Atiantic Ocean to the South Sca, between 48 and 84 Degrees of North Latltude, were exprealy tociuded in the Grant of King Jamen the First, to divers of his Suhjects, wo long since, as the Year 1600, and afterwards confirmed in 1620 ; and urder this Grant, the Colony of Virglaia clame an Extent as far West as to the South Bea; and the antlent Culonles of the Massachusetts. Bay and Connectlcut, were hy thelr respectlve Charters, made to extend to the sald South Sea; so that not only the Right to tire Sea Coast, hut to ali the Inland Countries, from Sea to Sea, have at all Times been asserted hy the Crown of Engiand. That the Pruvlnce of Nova Scotia or Accadia, hath known and determinate Bounds, hy the original Grant from ing Jamea the First; and that there ls abundant Evidence of the same [and of the Knowledge] whlch the French had of these Bounds, whlle they were In Possession of lt; and that these Bounds bereng thus known, the sald Province hy the Treaty of Utrecht, according to lts antient Limits, was ceded to GreatBritsin, and remained in Possesslen thereof, until the Treaty of Alx la Chapelle, hy winch it was confrmed; hut hy sald Treaty it ls stipulated, That the Bounds of the sald Province shail be determined hy Commlssloners, se. That hy the Treaty of Utreeht, the Ceuntry of the EYva Cantons of tite Iroquolse, ls expressly acknowledged to he under tise Dominion of the Crown of Great-Britalu. That the Lake Cuamplain, formeriy called Lake Irorfuoise, and the Country Southward of lt , as far as the Duteh or English Settiements, the Lake Ontario, Erie, and all the Countries adjacent, Lave by ali antient Authors, Frencis and Engisis, been aliowed to belong to the Five Cantons or Nations; and the wiole of those Countries, long before the sald Treaty of Utreeit, wcre hy the suid Nations, put under the Protection of the Crown of Great-Britaln. That hy the Treaty of Utreeht, there is a les. serve to the Freneh, a Liberty of frequenting the Countries of the Five Nations, and other Indians In Friendshlp with Great-Britain, for the Bake of Commerce; as there is also to the Eugiish, a Liberty of frequentlag the Countries of those in Friendsilp with Franee, for the same Pirpose. That after the Treaty of Ctrecht, the Frunch hulit several Fortresses ln the Country of the Five Natlons, and a very strong one at a Place called Crown-Point, to the Sontio of tire Lake Champiain. That the Freneh Court inave evidentli, shice the Treaty of Aix la Chapelle. made this Northeru Contineut more than ever the Object of Its Attention. That the Frenci have most mujustly taken Posscession of a Purt of the Province of Nova-Scotia; and in the liver St. John's, and other Parts of satid Province, they hate built strong Fortresses; and from this River they wili have, during the Winter and Spring Siawn, a much casier Commnnication between Framee ani Canadu, tian they have heretofore inal, and whii be furnlshed with a Harbour more eommonionsly situated for the Annoying the Britisli Coionies by Privateers ant Men of War, than Lonisbuurg itself. That they have taken Possession of. and legun a settiement at the lheai of the liver Kennebeek, within the Bonnis of the Province of Main, the most convenient situation for affording Support. and a safe letreat, to the Eastern Indlans, In any of their Attempts upon the tovernments of New-Engiand. That It appears by the hifnema. tion of the Natives, the French have been mak.
ong Preparatlons fer another settiement, at a Place called Cohasa, on Connecticut River, ne the IIead thereof, where 'tis hut about ten 3lte distant from a Branch of Merrimack River; a from whence, there is a rery near and casy Cen munlcation wlth the Ahnekais Indians, wino ar settied on the River St. Francols, about fort Mlles from the IRver St Lawrence; and It iseef tain, the Inhahitants of New. Hampshire, In whic Province thls Cohass ls supposed to lle, have bee Interrupted and lapeded hy the Frenci I milians from making any settlement there. Tiat since the Treaty of Alx Is Chapeile, the Frencli have increascil the Number of thelr Forts in the Crun. try of the great Jakes, and on the Rivers which run Into the Nissisippl, and are securing a Communication letween the two Coionies Loulslana and Canala, and at the same Time putting themseives into a Cupacit; of anuoying tite Southern Britsit Colonles, and preveriting any further Settiements of IIIs Majesty's Do minions. That they have been graduaily increasing their Troops la America, transjorting them in tieir Shlps of War, which retura to France wltih a bare Complement of Men, leaving the rest In their Colonles; and hy tinis Means, they are leas ohserved ly the Powers of Eurme, than they weuld be, if Transports as usiaal herethore, were proviled for thls Purpose. Thas they, have talien Prisoners diverse of lis Ma. jesty's Subjeets, trading in the Conutry of the Iroquoise, and other indand Parts, mui phuniecerl sinch Prisoners of severai Thousanif Pounis Stering: and they are contimanlly exciting the Indians to destroy or make Prisoners the hilhabltants of tike Frontiers of the British Cuinnies; whleh Prisoners are earried to Camaia, and a Price equai to what siaves are sold la the ilan. tations, ls lemanded for their Redennition and Ikelease. That they are continualiy Irawing of the Indians from the Britisia Interest, and have lately perswaded one IIaif of the Onondago Trikc, with many from the other Natio salong with them, to remove to a Place called (osiregachie, on the River Calaracqul, where they hisve built them a Cimreh and Fort: and mury of the Senceas, the most numerons Nation, appear to be wavering, and rather haciined to the Frenei. Ind it is a melancioly Consideration. that not more than 150 Men of all the several Nations, have attended this Treaty, altho ther had Notice, that ali the Governments would be here by tiueir Commissieners, and that a large Present wonld be given. That lt ls the widint Design of the Fronch in sarround the l3rithh Coinnies, to fortify tiemselves on the Back thercof, to take and keep Possession of the Headis of all the important kivers, to diraw orep the Indlians to their Interest, and with the lielp of such Indians, added to suci Forees as sre aiready arrived, and may he hereafter sent from Europe, to be in a Capacity of making a general Attack upnon the several Govermments; and if at the same Time, astrong Navai Force le sent from Franee, there ls the utmost Danger, that the whole Conthent wiii be sulujectel to tiat Crown And that the Damger of suel a Na val Forre is not meerly inaginary, may be argued from past Ex pericuee. For hail it not lxen by the most extraor dinary Interpmition of Heaven. every Sea Port Town on the Continent, in the Year ioth, might have beefiraraged and desiraged, ly the sy madind under the Command of the Duke D'Auvile, notwithstanding the then decilning State of the ut RIver, neas bout ten Miles ck Rlver; sod and easy Com. lians, who sro a, about forty ; and it lisery. shire, $\ln$ which Hie, have lheen rench Inlianas, That since French have $t \mathrm{In}$ the Ciung. Rivers whlich e semring a Colturies of e same Tinne, of amurying I prevening Injesty ${ }^{2}$ dob gradually io transpurting telh return to Men, leaving this Me:cas, rs of Eurrope. us nstarl here. rpose. That of His . H as Conntry of ts, anel plunisanif Pouals exceiting the the luluabl. ish Coluates: unda, and a In the Plan. cinptiou and drawing of st, ami hare - Onondago atio $s$ along culled (osse where they t: num many Nation, ap. linell to, the nsilleration the s.ryeral nlt ho ther ts woullibe that a large the cridunt the British the Buack ion of the draw orret th the Ifelp reces as are $r$ seat from ga general 8 ; nnd if $s t$ esent frmm $r$, that the hat Cruma Foree is not m phst Ex ost extraof $y$ Sea Port 746 , might eByualrua I'Aaville, tate of the French, and the very flouriahlifg State of the British Navy, and the further Advantage accru. ing to the English, from the Possesslon of CapeBreton. Thnt the French find by Experience, they are able to make greater and more secure Advnntages upon their Neighbours, In Peace thnn In War. What they unjustly possessed themselves of, after the Peace of Litrecht, they now pretend they have $n$ IRlght to hold, hy Virtue of the Treaty of Alx In Chapelle, until the true Bonndary between the Engllsh and French be settled hy Commissloners; hut thelr Con. quests made during War, they have been obliged to restore. That the Freneh Affairs rel. stive to this Continent, are under one Dlrection, and constantiy regnrded hy the Crown and Min. istry, who are not insensible how grent a Stride they wonld ninke towards an Universal Monarchy, If the British Colonies were added to their Domialons, and consequently the whole Trude of North-Aınerien engrossed by thens. That the said Colonies beiag In $n$ divided, dis. ualted State, there has never been any joiut Exertion of their Force, or Council, to repel or defeat the Measures of the French; anil particular Colonies are unable and unwliling to maintain the Canse of the whole. That there has been a very great Neglect of the Affairs of the lroquolse, as tirey are commonly called, the Indians of the Six Nntions, and their Friendship sad Alliance has been improved to privnte I poses, for the Snke of the Traie with them, and the Purchase or Aequisition of their Lands, more than the Public Services. Thnt they are supplyed with Thm hy the Tralers, in vast and nlmost iacredihle Qunntities; the Lnws of the Coluaies now in Force, being lnsufficient to restrain the Supply. And the Indinns of every Nation, wre frequently drunk, and abused in their Trale, and their Affections thereby alien-sted from the English; they often woinal and sted from the English; they often woinal and murder one another in their Iiquor, and to avoid Revenge, fly tothe French; and perhaps more have been lust by tbese Neans thnn by the Freuch Artl. tice. That Purchases of Land from the Inclians hy private l'ersons, for small trifling Considerations, Dise lcen the Cause of grent Cncaslness and Discoutents; and if the Indlans are not in fact impused oa and iajared, yct they ure apt to think they have been; and indeed, they appear not tit to be entrusted at Large, with the Sale of therir own Lamis: And the laws of some of the Colonies, which make such Snles void, unless the Allowance of the Government be first obtained. sem to be weil founded. Thint the Grunting or Patenting vast Tracts of Iand to prisate l'croms or Companies, withont Conditions of specely Settlements, has tended to prevout the Strengthening the Frontiers of the particolar folony where such Tracts lic, and been Prejudicial to the rest. That lt seems, absolutely aecrssary, that speediy and effectual Measures be they, to sceure the Colonies from the Slavery they are threatened wlth: that any fartber Ad. Fancers of the French shouhl be prevented; nad That encroathneats alrendy made, removed. the Enylish, he conatenance or Friendship with Wise Enylish, be constantly regamed uncler some dearours the used for orintendancy. That Findiano who are lituly the liecovery of those lnnul for menriar those gone over to the Fronch, diseret I'erson or P'ersons be appolnted to restde constantly among each Natlon of Indlans; such Person to hnve no Conecrn In Trade, and duly to communicate ull Advices to the Buperintendante. Tbat tle Trade with the said Indlans be well regulated, and male sinservient to the Public Interest, more than to private Gain. That there he Forts built for the Securlty of cach Natlon, and the better carrying on the Trude with them. That warlike Veasels he proviled, sufficient to maintaln Ilis Majesty's Ilight to a free Navigation on the several Iakes. That all future Pur. chases of lands from the Indians be void, unless mate by the (hovernment where such Innds lie, and from the Imhians in a lborly, In thelr pubic Counclls. Thit the l'atentres or Possessors of large nusettley Territories, be enjoined to cuuse thein to be settled In a reasonable Time, on Pain of Forfeiture. That the Complaints of the Indians, relutlve to any Grants or Ponserusions of their Iands, fraudnlently ohtained, be inquired Into, and nll Injuries redressed. That the Bounds of those Colonice which extend to the Sonth Seas, be contructed and linited hy the Alleghenay or A palachian Mountains; and tbat Measnres be thken, for settling from tlme to time, Colonies of His Mnjesty's Protestant Suhjects, Westurard of salil Mountalus, in conveuient Cantons, to be assigned for that Purpose. And flnally, that there be an Union of 11 is nent, ihat so their Councils on the Continent, that so their Councils, Treasure, and Strength, may be Imployed in due I'roportlon, agningt thelr common Enemy." agninst thelr common Enemy."

The Plnn of Union, adon
Jutye Finn of Union, alopted on the 10th of July, was as follows: "Plan of a proposed Union of the several Colonles of MnssachusettsIhy, New-IIampshire, Connectient, IRhorleIsland, New-Iork, New-Jersey, Pennsylvanin, Mnryland, Virginia, North-Carolinn, and South ( amolus. for their mntunl Drefence und Security, od for the Extending the British Settlements In North-America. Thnt humble Application be made foran Act of the Parliament ol Great-Britain, hy Virtue of which One General (lovernment may be formed in America, inclniling all the sald Colonies; withln aud under whieh fovermment, cach Colony may retninits present Constitution, except In the Particulars wherein a Cbange may he directed by the snid Act, us hereafter follows. That the said Gromeral (iosermment be alminis. tered by a President General, to be appointed and supported hy the Crown; null a Grand Conncil, to be chosen by the IRepresentatives of the People of the severil Coionies, met In thelr respectlve Assemhlies. That within Months after the I'assing of such Aet, the House of Representatives in the several Assemhlies, that happen to be sitting within that Time, or that shall be cspeclally for that Purposic convened, may and shnll chuse Nembers for tbe Grand Council, in the following Proportions; that Is to say: Massachusetts-Bay, 7; New-Manpshire, 2; Conneeticut, ${ }^{1}$; Rhode-laland, 2; New-York, 4 ; New-Jersey, 3; Pennsylranla, 6 : Marylani, 4 ; Vlrginia, Jorh Carolinn, 4 ; South Camlina, $4:=48$. Who shall meet for the fist Time and 4: = 48. Who shatl meet for the first Time at the City of Philadelphia In Pennsylvania, being called hy the President General, as sown as cont renlently may be, after his Appointment. That there shall he a new Eluctiou of Members for the Grand Conncil every three Years; and on the Death or Hesignatlon of any Nember, bis I'lace shall be supplied by a new Cholce, gltting of the Amembly of the Colony be represented. That after the ifst three Yearm, when the Proportion of Money arisligg out of each Colony to the General Treasury, can be known, the Number of Membera to be chosen for ench Colony, shall from the to time. in ail ensuing Elections, be reguiated by that Proportion yet so as that the Number to be chosen hy any one Province, be not more than weven, nor lesa tian two). That the Grand Councll shail meet onee In every Year, and oftencr if Occaslon require, at auch Tine and liace as they shali adjourn to at the last preceiing Meeting, or as they shali be cailed to meet at hy the President Generai on any Emergency; he having first ohtained in writing, the Consent of seven of the Mcmbers to such Cali, and seut due and timeiy Notice to the whole. That the Grand Council have Power to chuse their Speaker, and shall neither be dis. aolved, prorogued, nor continue sitting longer than six Weeks at one Time, without their own Consent, or the special Command of the Crown. That tite Membera of the Grand Comeli shali be ailowed for their Service, Ten Shililings Stering per Diem, during their Session and Journcy to and from the Place of Meeting, iwenty Miles to be reckoned a Day's Journcy. That the As nnt of the President General be requisite to ali acts of the Grand Council; and that it be his Ottice and Duty to cause them to be carried into Execution. That tite President Gencrai, with the Advice of the Grand Councii, hoid or direct ali Indian Treaties, in wisich the gencrai Intercst or Weifare of the Coionies may be concerned; anis to make Peace or deciare War with Indian Nations. That they make such Laws as they juige ncceasary for regniating ail Indian Tradc. That they make ail Purchases from Indians for tite Crown, of the Lanis now not within the Bounde of particuiar Coionics, or that shail not be within their Bounds, when some of them are reduced to mors convenient Dimenslons. That they make new setticinents on such Purchases, ing granting Landis in the King's Name, reserving a Oult-lient to the Cruwn for the Use of the Clenerai Treasury. That they make Laws for reguiating audi governing such now Settiements, 'tili the Crown shail think fit to form them into particuiar Governments. That they may raise and pay Soidiers, and build Forts for the Defence of any of the Colonies, and equip Veaseis of Force to guard the Coast, and protect the Trade on the Ucean, Lakes. or great livers; hut they shail not im. press Men in any Colony, without thic Consent of It Legisiature. That for those Purposes, they have lower to make Laws, and lay and levy such generai Dutics, Imposta, or Taxes, as to themseives appear most eqnai and just, considering the Ablity and other Cireumatances of the Inhahitants in the severai Coionies, and such as may le coliceted with the ieast Inconvenience to the Peopic; rather discouraging Luxury, than loading Iudiustry with unnecessary Burthens. That they may appoint a geucral Treasurer and a particuiar 'i'reasurer in pacil Government. Whicn necessary; undi from time to time, may order the Sums in the Trunsuries of each Government, into the Geueral Treasury, or Iraw on them for speciai layments, as tiey find most convenient; yet no Money to issue, but hy joint Orders of the President Geacrai and Grasd Council, except where sums have beet approprinted to partleular Purposea, and the Preside General in previousiy impowered by an Act, draw for such sums. That the general Accoun shall be yearly mettied, and reported to the crai Amemhilles. That a Quorum of the Gra Council, impowered to act with the Preald. Cenerai, do consist of Twenty-Ire Memhed among whom there alail be one or more frot a Majority of the Colonies. That the Lat maie by them for the Purposes aforesaid, tha not be repugnant, hut as near as may be sgre ahie, to the Laws of England, and siali be tran mitted to the King in Councll, for Approbatios as soon as may be, after their pasaing; snd not disapproved within three Years after Preser tation, to remialn in Force. That in Case of th Death of the Prealdent General, the Speaker o the Grand Council for the TYme being, shsiif nuc ceed, and be veated with the same Power an Authoritics, and continue 'till the King's P'easum be known. That ail Military Comminalo Offlcery, Whether for Land or Sea Service, to m under this Gencral Conatitutlon, be nominsted by the President Generai, hut the Approbation of the Grand Councii is to be obtained, before they receive their Commissions. And ail Civil Officera are to be nominated hy the Grani Council, and to receive the President Generai's Approbation, before they officlate. But in Case of Vacancy. hy leath or Removal of any Othcer, Civil or Mlitary, under this Constitution, the Governor of the Provinces in which such Va. cancy happens, may appoint, 'tilii the Pieasure of the President General and Grand Councli any be known. That the particular Militury as well u Civil Estahlishments In each Coiony, remain th their present State, this Generai Constitution not withstanding; and that on suddicn Emerges. cies, any Coiony may defend itself, and lay the Accounte of Expence thenre arise: , inefore the Presldent Generai and Grand Councii, who may ailow and order Payment of the same, as far is they jucige such Accounts just and reasonsble." - Stepien Llopkins, A True Representation of the Plan formed at Albany in 1754, for uniting ah the British Norther; - $n$ ies; with introll and

Also IN: Proceeding oy Commiestimers at Albany (Doc. Hise, of N. Y., v. 2, pp. 545-617) T. C. Ilailhurton, Rulo and Mierule of the Enslish in Am., pp. 253-258.-J. R. Broilhead. स Thecis relatine to Col. Ilist. of N. Y.: v. B. Ip. $853-$ y05. IJurnal of Cong. at Albany in 1 int ( Yam Llist. Noc. Col., veries 8, o. 5).
A. D. 1755,-Demand of the royal gover. nor: In America for taxation of the colonies by act of Pariament.-At the congrese of American governors which Generai isradiock convened at Aiexandria, in April, 18im, on bl first arrival in America as commander in chief of the Britisi forces. "Brailiock directed their at. tention, first of ail, to the subject of a coionill revenue, on which his instructions comsuanded him to insist, and his anger kindiei 'tha' no such fuud was aiready estabilisiect.' The gorer. nors present, recapituiating tikeir merifes with their assemhilies, made answer: 'Surit a fuod can neve: be estahisished in the coionits without the aid of parilament. Ila ving found it impracticable to obtain in their respective governmett the proportion expected hy his majesty townd defraylug the expense of his service in Norith America, they are unanimousiy of opinion that d the Prealdent $d$ by an Are to eneral Accountu ted to the n of the Orami the Preald. as -lve Hemhan: or more from That the Lame aforesatid, ahall may be agree 1 shall be trime A Approbation asesing; snd is ri after Prema in Casec of the the Spesker of etng. shatil suc: me Power and King's Pleasurn Cormmauloa Service, to be nominsted - Approbation btalned, befor And alif Civil e Grand Coun. enerat's Approut in case of Pany ofther. astitution, the hleh such V . the Plessure of Councli Fan be tury as wellu ony, remalo in Constitutoo den Emergen. f , and lay tho before the ell, who my ime, as far 4 1 reasonable" reacentition of ih introl and cte, No. 9 . mishimert at p. 545-117.of the Eng. Brolltesad. wh r. 8 . m . 83 1:ist (Nom royal gorere the colonies cengrese of al Bruddock 17505 on bl ler.In chile of ctel their at of a colorith com unanded lell 'tha' no The goree. atrifes with Surh a fund nlees withous nd it limprac. government jesty toward ice in Sorra opinloo thes

It shnuld be proposed to his majesty's min'sters to thd nut some method of compeling them to do It , and of amesing the severs g goveramente in proportlon to their reapective abilities.' This lmposing document Braddock ment forthwith to the minittry, himself urging the necesalty of laylng some tax throughout his majesty's dominline In North America. . . . I have lind In my hinuls vast masses of correspondence, Including letters from servints of the crown in every royal colony in America; from civilians, as well as from Braddock and Dunhar nud Gage: from Inelanrey and Sharpe, ns wetl as from Intawddle and Shlrley; and all were of the sume tenor, The Britlsi minlstry heard one gencral cfamor from men in offlee for taxation by act of parlla. ment. . . . In England, the government was more and more inclified to enforce the permanent authority of Great IBritaln. "-G. Bancroft, Miant. of the (. A. (Author's liset revision), t. 2, pp. 410-417.
A. D. 1755-1760. - The French and Indian War, known in Europe as the Seven Yeara War: The English conquest of Canada.-Seo Canada: A. I). 1750-1753, to 1760 ; Nova Scotia: A. 1). 1740-1755; 1755; OHIo (Valley): A. I. 1748-1754, to 1755; Cape Breton Island: A. D. l沙-1760; also, for an necount of the accompanylug Cherokee War Souti Carolina: A. D. 1759-1761.
A. D. 1760-1775 - Crown, Parlinment and Colonies.-The Englith theory and the American theory of their relations. -" The people of cvery colony were subject to "wo jurisulic. thons, one focal aud one general, that must be sdjusted to ench other. To effect such adjustment caused no llitie friction; and the Colontes and the Mother Country got on peaceably as long as they did, only because nelther one pushed fts thenry of colonlal relations to an extreme, each ylelding something to the other and thus effectlag a conpromise. The Colontes hefd that the dominion which the Cabots dlscovered In America belonged to the King, rather than to the Kingtom, of England. Englisamen advenuring: Intn thls domlalou to plant colonies were entited to all the privileges of free-born Engilsh. men at home; trial by jury, habeas corpus, and exemption froin taxes that thelr own representatlies had not voted. Tho British Empire was not one dominlon, but several dominlons. Every one of these domintons had, or should have, lts own leglslature to enact laws for its guvernment. The Colonles were not one domincou. but 13 dominions; and In every one the tegIshature was as supreme as Parllament was in England. I'arllanent, therefore, had nothing arore to in whth Massachusetts or Virglala than the leglslatures of those colonles had to lo whth England. The King, who alone had a volce In the matter, had, In their charters, guaranteed to the colsules the common law so far as this was applicuble to thelr condition, and he was now powirless to wlthlraw what he had thus concelcel. Such, In outine, was the American theary of colonlal relatinns. Sthit, no one pretended that thly theory had ever been fully carried out in practlce. It must also be sald that it dhd not appear fally formed at once, hut grew up gradmonim: fof Brilsh theory was that Engliahmen che An:merican Euglishen when they emlgiated to power of "arliament to of the King; that the power of I'urliament, to which they were subject

In the old home, followed them to the new one: and that Purilinment couth yield them more or fewer imwers of self. government for a time, and then withdraw them. It was also clalmed that the Colontes were nlready represented in the Ilouse of Commons; since the several members of that body dfd not represent pnrticuiar districta or eonatituencles, but the whole British Empire. Besides, it was aseerted that the Colonies them. selves hal repeatedly seknowied ged the authority of Parlianeent hy suhmitting to its leginlatinn. Stlif no one pretended that thals theory had ever been fulty carried out."-B. A. IIndmle, The

Also IN: R. Frotlillagham, Life and Timee of Jwa. Wirren, pp. 30-32.
A. D. $\mathbf{1 7 6 x}$, Enforcement of revenue lawa in Masaschusetts. - The Writa of Assiatance and Otis' apeech. - "Inmmedlately after the conquest of Canida was completed, rumora wero witlely clrculatel: . that the chartera would be taken nway, and the cotonles reduced to royai governments. The offlcers of the customs began at once to enforce with strictness all the acts of parllament regulinting the trado of the colonies, several of which had heen suspended, or become obsolete, and thus had never been executed at nif. The goxi will of the colonists or their legislintures, was no longer wanted $\ln$ the prosecutlon of the war; and the commulssloners of the customs were permitted and directed to enforce the ohnoxious acts. Governor Bernurd [of Mas. sachusetts], who was always a supporter of the royal prerogative, entered futly fatu these vlews, and shewed hy his opinion, his nppoint. ments and his confidentinl adivisers, that his ohject would be, to extend the power of the government to any limits, which the nulnistry might authorizc. The first demonstrutlon of the new course intended to be pursued, was the arrival of an order in Councl tn enrry luto effect the Acts of trade, and to apply to tho supreme Judicature of the Proviuee [Massachusetts]. for Writs of Assistance, to be granted to the officera of the customs. In a case of thls fimportance there can be no douht, that Mr. Paxton, who was at the head of the custons him Boston, consuitted with the Government and alf the erown officers, as to the beat course to be taken. The result was, that he directed his if puty at Salen, Mr. Cockle, in Novenber, 1760 to petition the Su . perfor Court, then sitting in that town, for 'writs of assistance.' Stephen Sewafl who was the Chlef Justlce, expressed great doubt of the teg:" lity ur such a writ, and of the authority of the Court to grant it. None of the other judges sald a worl in Pavour of it; hut as the apprica. tlon was on the part of the Crown. it could not be dismissed wittiout a hearing, which after consuitation was fixed frr the next term of the Court, to be hetd in February, 1761, at Boston, when the question was ordered to be argued. In the Interval, Chef Justlce sewall dled, and Leutennant Governor IIutehlison was made his successor, thereby unlting in his person, the office of Lleutenant Governor whth the emolu. ments of the commander of the castle, a member of the Councll, Judge of Probate and Cher Jus. tice of the Supreme Court 1. . The mercantlle part of the commuitity was ia a state ot great anxicty as to the result of this question. The offceri of the Customs called upon Otis for hls offlicial assistance, an Advocate General, to argue their causc. But, as he bellevel theme write to be lllegsl and tyrannical, he refused. He would tot prostitute bla oflce to the support inf an op. prealve act: and with true dellcacy and dignity, belng unwliling to retaln a ntatlon, in whieh he might be expected or called upon to argue in support of such cxllous meanares, he resignerd it though the sltuation was very lucrative, anilif alled hy an lncumisent with a compllant apirit led to the highest favours of government. The merchants of Natem and liontion, applled to Mr. Pratt tu undertake thilr canse, who wha also elletted to engnge on the isther side; but he declinet taklug any part, being about io leave Booton for New lork, of which province he fand been appohited chief Juatlee. They ala applied to Otis and Thacher, who engnged to make thele defenes, and prohably both of them with. out fers, though vrry great ones were offered. The language ot ills wa in sueh a cause, I desplas aif fres.' . . The trial towk place in the Councll Chamber of the Ofl Town Ifouse, in Boston. . Tbe julges were five in mumber, Iacluding Lleutenant Governor IIutchiason, who prealded ns Cinlef Justice. The room was fllied wleh all the othcers of government, and the princlpal citizens, to hear the arguments in a cause that laspired the deepest solleltude. The case wan opened by Mr. Grilley, who urgued It with much learniag, lagamulty, and dignity, urging every polnt anil authorlty, tbat coufl the found after the mast dilfgent senrch, In fuvour on the Custon house petfifon; making afl fils reusonfug depend on thls consideraton - 'If the purflament of Great Britain is the aoverelgn tegisfator of the British Empire.' Ile was followed by Mr. Thacher on the opposito slice, whose reasoning was Ingentous and able, deflvered in a tone of great mildaess and inoderation. 'But,' In the language of President Adams, 'Otls was a flame of tre; with a promptltude of ciasslcal alfusfoas, a depth of research, a rapld summary of historlcal eventa and dates, a profuston of legal authorIties, a prophetle glance of his eyes into futurlty, and a rapld torrent of linpetuous efoquence, he hurried away all before him. American Independence was then and there born. The soceds of patriots and heroes, to defend the "Non sine Dils anlmosins infans; ; to defend the vigornus youth, were then and there sown. Every man of an iminease crouded audlence appeared to ine to go away as I Illd, ready to take arms against Writs of Assistance. Tben and there, was the first scenc of the first act of opposition, to the arhitrary clahns of Great Britain. Then and there, the chfld Indepeudence was born. In tifeen years, I e. In 1776 , fie grew up to manhood and declared himself free.' There were Do stenographers in those days,' to give a compicte report of this momentous harangur How gladly would be exchanged for 1 t , a few hundred verbose speches on some of the miserahle, transient lopics of the day, that are circulated in Worthiess prufusion. Iet on this cccasion, the seeds were sown,' and though some of them doubtiess fell by the wayalde or on stony places. others fell on good ground, and aprang upand Increased and brought forth in $d$ season, thirty, sixty and an hundred fold. After the close of hls argument, the Court aujourned for consideration, and at the elose of the term, Con: "The Court has congronounced the opin. lon: 'The Court has considered the aubject of Writa of analatance, and can nee no foundatlon wueh Writ; hut as the practice In Eingtand not known, it has been thought best to coatin the question to the next term, that In the me tlme opportunlty may be given to know the sult.' No caume in the annuls of coloulal jur prudeace had hltherts excited mors pub Intereat: and nous had given rise to such purb ful argement. An epoch In puhite affal may ln dated im thls trial. Political prarti became more diat inctly formod, and their geven adherenta were more inarked and sleclded. Tt ature of uftra-marine juriadictlou hegan to closely examined; the questlon renpecting is log a revenise fully dlecusurd. The rfaht of th British parilament to lmpmee taxes was of thi denled. "Tuxation without representatioa tyranny," was the maxling that wres the tyranny, was the maylin, that was the puld and watch worl of all the frienils of iflurty Tho crown offleers and their folfowern nifopte opinly the pretenalous of the Dritish minser and parifament, and considering their powit be Irresiatibie, appealed to the arffimmiess of those who might be expectanta if patronage, aud to the fears of all qulet and timid miuds, to adopt a blimi suhmision, as the ouly sufe to reasonahle alternative. Oils took the slife of bis country, and as has been shewn, under circum etances that made his declsiou Irrevocable. Ile was traasferred at onee from the ranks of firivate Ilfe, not merely to take the slde, hit to lee the gulde and leater of his country, In opposyltion to the deangns of the Britlsh minisiry. "Although' eays Presldent Adams. Mr. Otis had never be. fore interfered in publle aifairs, hit excrtionsob this single occasion secured him a communding popularity witis the friends of thelr country, and the terror and vengeance of her cnemfes; tulthat of which ever cleserted hlm.' IIls popularity Was instaataucous, and unlversal; and the pubIfc were Impntient for the approaching electlon when they could make hlm a representative ul Boston. "-W. Tudor, Life of Jimes Otin, eh. S-\% -Sce, also, Massacuceettis: A. D. 1761

A. D. ${ }^{1763}$. - The Treaty of Paria. - Acquisltion of Florida and Eas:ern Louiaiana (as well as Canada) by Great Britain. Se Seven Years Wah: Tife Treaties.
A. D. 8763 . -The Klag's proclamatlan *xcluding settlers from the Weatern te $\therefore$. lately acquired from France. Sco Nont Tekmitory of the L. S. of Am: A. D.
A. D. I763.-General effects, econr ally and politically, of the English trade gulations: - "Economically the general resilte of the trade regulatons were lmportant. finber Giffen has repeatedly polated out fow difticult It ls, even with modern comparatlvely accurate metbods, to ohtaln rellahle results from the use of export and import atatlatics. This lifficulty Is Immeasurahly enhanced when we have to rely on the meagre figures of a century and a halt ago. For we nelther know how thete atatistics were taken, nor at all how accurate they are: whlle their lamequacy becomes clearly crideat When wo conalder the large amount of amug. shing carried on both in England and the colonles. One general proponfilon, however, can be formulated from the examination of these statistlcs, and that is the balance of trade between England and tire colonles was uniavorable to the latter. And thls was an inherent consequence ol the mercantile aystem, by which England regu-

- Poundation fa - In Eingland 6 bent bo eonatinue hat in the mean to know the re colonlal jurle 1 more public to such power. pubile nfish Polltical partlea nil chelr meveral declided. The on lexan to be espeeting culs he rlght of the res was oppenty prementition fs was the gulde ale of bilizty. owcrs ndupled ritlsh minatry thelr power io metinhinase of of patronage, inild minuls, to ouly sufe of the sfle of bis under circum. eveculle. Iie inks of jirivite Lut to be the opposithon to
'Although ${ }^{\prime}$ had never be. Is cxcrtions on conmandiog conutry, and eniles; nulther Is poppularity and the pubhing electlon resentative of Otin, ch. s-7. 1761.

Paris, - Aen Louisiana Brltain. Ste 8.
amatlor -x rn te ${ }^{\prime}$ Niokt A. 1 con c.. ally rade gula. int. Rinber how alliticult ely sccurate from the use his dieftenkty have to rely 5 and a haff ree atstistica te they are: arly crideat nt of amus. nd the colocver, caa be these suatis. de bet ween rable to toe seq uence of gland regu-anted these commercial relations. The colonles wre unatile to pay Eingland for her manufactures entirely in raw materials, and the resiluve was paid in coln oltalned from the favorable truile with Spuln, Portugal, anll the Wewt Indiea. All metal had to be rent to England; It was, as De Five anys, 'snatched up for return to Eing. land in specle. An limportant consequence fol. fowed from thls continuous drain of specie. The colonles could with diffeuity retain coln, and heuce were forced elther to fall back on barter. or to lasue paper money. . . . While, on the one hanat, the aets of trade and anvigation are parthally responalibie for many sad passages in the thacal bistory of the colonles, on the other hand they eonducel to the derclopment of a mast Impurtant mionlal induatry. This Industry was ship-huldiding. for whileh the colouten were especlaliy adapted on accoute of the cheapnese of iumber. In if veloplone this natural titness, the prutection afforded to Engilisis aud colonial ship. phag by the Navigntion Aets was an Important fartor. As a mile England did not dlserfminate ganinst colonlal and in favor of Engilah shipa, sithough the colondes frequently nttemptell by lexklation to secire adraitages for thelr own mhpping. As $n$ resuit of thls policy shipp hulldluk anil the enrryling trade lncreased rapldy, esperlally in the New Engiand coionles.
Si impirirant dite thls Induatry become that in 1ist the shifp rarpeuters of the Thames com. plained to the Klag, ' thant thelr trade was hurt sud thelr workmen emigrated slace so many ves. wils were bult In New Enginal.' Massachusetts buitit ships not oniy for Enginri, but also for European countries, and for the Weat Indics.
loiltcaliy the commercinl regulationa were nit so haportmnt. Lep to 1763 only aligit polit. hat mphriance attaehes to the system, for only in ancgative wuy dhi to affect the pollicul ideas of the colonists. The colonies were peopled by men of varled race nad rellgion, who had iltule crommon conselousnces of rights nid wrouga and fow commem protitcal idenls. The centrifugal forctus mang them were strong. Among centritwal furces. suet) as a common soverelgn and 8 comanom system of private law, must be reek. oned the fact that their commerce was regulated hy a system whilch, as n rule, was uniform for all the columits. When tive ncts of trade worked th their advnatuge, the colonists reapal commou lenefits: when they inflicted hardships, the colonists made eommon complaint. Moreover, the fact that Eingland was unahle to enforce certain of ber actes, csperinilly the Molasser Act, cuused cintempt for parliamentary authority. The con tinued mad, by the very nature of things, the neccrssary viohition of this law lead to a questhoning of its sanction, whlie the open favoritism shown in it townrds the West India colonles naturaily arousel disaffection in those of the contineut. The coloulal system, as it was administered before 1783 , contributed but slightiy in briaging nbout the revolution of 1776 . As Mr. Kamsay lins said, 'if no other grievanees had hern superalided to what existed in 1763, they would have heen soon forgotten, for thelr pressure was neither great, uor unlvcrsal. It was only When the fundamental basis of the acts mas clainged from one of commercial monopoly to añ of revenue, that the acts became of vital mercial Policy of Pengond L. Beer. Tho iommercial Policy of England coward the Am. Chlo.
nime (Cshumbia Colloge Sturlien in Ilistory, ote., * 8, no. 2), eh. \%, eret 9.
A. D. 1763-1764.-Pontlac's War. See Pontiac's Wah.
A. D. $8763-1764$ - Determinatlon In England to tax the colonies.- The Sugar (or Molasses) Act. -" It dld not take four years after the peace of 1783 to show hew ruplifly the new aitnatlon of altalra was bearing frult In America.
The overthrow of thelr anclent eneniy [the French In Canaula], wille Purther Inereaning the melf-confidence of the Amerlcans, at the same time removed the princlpal check whileh had htherto kept their differences with the IIritish government frum coming to an open rupture. Formerly tie dreml of French athaces had unded to make the Americums complaisunt towaril the klog's ministers, while at the sanne thine It maile the king's mininters unwilling to lime the goond will of the Anuericans. Now that the check was removel, the continunnce or revlral of the old disputes at once forelonlet tronible; and the old accasions for dispute were far from having censed. on the contrury the was itacle had glven them fresil vitailty. If money had been needed before, It was stili more needed now. The war had en. talled a heavy hurden of exprense upon the Britigh government an well as upon the colonles. The untional debt of Great Bricain was much in. creamel, and there were many who thought that, sineo the Americans sinured in the beneflits of the war, they ought usoo tis sin re in the hurien which It left lielitha it. People In Englaul who umed this argument did not realize that the Americans hud really contriluted ns much as could remsonably be expectell to the support of the war. und that it had left behind it delts in be paid in Americs as well as In Engtand. Isut there was anotiver armunent which made it seem reasonablo to many : : ilshmen that the coloniats shound lie taxed. ceened right that a mall milltmry force shol , be kept up) In Amerla. for defence of the frontlers agalnst the Indians, even if there were no other enetules to be ireaded. The events of Pontinc's war now showed hiat there was clearly necd of sueha force; and the expertence of the roynt governors for haif in century had shown that lt was very diment to get the colonini feglolatures to vote money for any such purpose. Hence there grew up) In Eurland a feeling that taxes ouglit to be ralsed In America "x a contributlon to the whr delat and to the military defence of the colunles; and In order that such taxes shouk be fuiriy distrluted and promptly coliectetl, it was felt that the whole busineas ought to be placed under the direct suplervision and contrul of priliament. . . . It Was in 1ifis that deorge Grenvilie became prime minister, a man of whom Macanlay says that be knew of ' no natlocal interests except those which are expressed by pounds, shilitags, and pence. Grenvilie proceeded to introduce Into Parlament two measures which bad consequences of which he litite dreamed. The first of these meanirea wha the Molassea Act [often calied the Sugar Act]. the second was the Stamp Act. Properiy speaking. the Molasses Act was an oid law which Grenville now made up his mind to revlve and enforce. The commercial wealth of the New England molonies depented largels upon thelr trade with the fish which their tishermen caught along the coast and as far out as the banks of Nowfoundland. The fineat flibh could be sold in Burope, but the poorer cort found thelf chlof market is the Preach Weat Indies. Ti, riremeh goverameat, In onder to ensure an marinet forr the moinces rained in these inlandes, would no: n low the plantery to give anything eloc In exch inge for fich. Great gunatitles of molacees were thero. fore carried to Now England, and what wan not needed there for domentic une whs diftil!al listo rum, part of which was consumed at horn fo astal the reve carried chiefly to Africa wher ulth to buy siaves to be sold to the enenthern. Wonien All this trade required many shipa, and thus ke it up a lively demand for Now Kingland lumber. benides nndlog employment for thonsand adiorsand shipwrights Nuw in 1783 the ro, government hook lo into its head to 'pt, Luet 'Ita augar planters in the Engiinh Weat $\mathrm{H}^{\prime}$ 'irg ly compeiling the New England merciatal.

all their molamen from them; and witl.
In view is Gorthwith falid upon all molanses Imported into North Amerlus ir it been enforeed, it would have stopped 'n' Importation. . It proved to be fryi, is in enforce the wet without causing more di, it than the government feit prepar: it it, mit counter. Fow in 1784 Grentile in that the act was to be enforced, and ef the machinery of writs of assiatance ;at employed for that purpose. Ifencito th all molasea from the Frenchislanis mist eft rpay the prohlblory duty or be seized withont cre. mony. Loud und depre whs the indlgmaton of New Engiand over thls revivai of the Molasers Act. Even without the Stamp Act, it mifght very ilkeiy have led that part of the country to make armed reslstance, hut in such case it is not so sure that the southern and midide twionles wonlid have come to the aid of New Fagland. But in the Stamp Act, Grenville provided the colonies with an itane which concerned one as murh as another." - J. Fiske, Tho War of Indie. peadence, ch. 4.
Alno in: J O. Palfrey, Hist of Neno Eing., bk 6. ch. 2 ? (0). © W. B. Weeten. Eeonomatc amb sorial llut. of New Eing., ch. 10 ( 0.2 2).
A. D. 1704.- The cilmax of the mercantile colonial policy of England, and ita consequen-ces.-- Ilsturians, If treathg of the American rebellfon, have conflimed their argumenta tomex. clusively to the question of interual taration, and the right or policy of exercising thts prerog. ative. The true source of the rebellion lay deeper, in our traditionai colonfal policy. Just as the Spanhuris had been cacited to the discovery of Aluerica lyy the hape of ohtaining goli and silver, the Engllsh merehants utlizedi the discorery hy the same falliacious method, and whith the same fillacious aspirations. humirdi years ago the commercial classes beHieved that the jrime ohject of thefr pursults Was to get as much gold and silver into England as they conld. They songht, therefore, to make their country, as neariy an they might, a solitary centre of the exportation of non-metallic commodities, thut so she nulght be also the great $\mathbf{r}$ zervoir lutw which the precious metais would dow in a return strearn. On this base their coionial policy was erected. . . So long as the colonies remained in their infancy the mercantlic policy was leas prejudiciai to their interests. The monopoly of thelir commenere, the inmitathon ranaufactures, in come caves amnunting to sheo lute prohlbition, were all tem fatal In a couviry whero labour was dear, than they wuald be in a state whers population wa mure fully developed and land had become meareer. . . A conotratumed trade appung up between them nad the coloskit n! Bpain. Our settiers Imported roouls from England, and reeexported them to the Npunimh coloales, In return for bullion and other commanal. itiea. The result of this was that the Njunlah colonists hal access to unefui commoditie: from whieh they would otherwise have been delmprmi, that the American colnuists coull withont dittrens remit the specie which wan required by the nature of their denlings with Engiani, andi that 1 iarge market was opened for Eaglish, pronlurta his wiriely benefchal traie was incontinently 1) ppresaed in 1704, hy one of tincose efforts of Cort-sighted rigour whleh might be experted - "um any government where George Grenville's i. Huene was prominent. Ail sumiggling $n$ it to put down, and as this trade was eontraliand, I! must be put dowa like the rest. The (fovera. 14. ne poobrtiy seted as they did In anewer the the "II "nrond it zautlle cla-ses, who could mut cutting of the at reams that "hu prospertly. They only mas that aded them to the benefits that arer jeal. tho..en 'vew as a conscruechere of that arcruelt $w$ funit hem out. The suppreaston of the e-vily rith trut to was entruated to the command try of nucion war. . We mar he sure that that We may he sure that the original frievance of the colonists was not wit ened hy the manners of the officers who Lisu to put the lisw into execntiou. The result of the whole transuction was the hirth of a very strong sense in the minda of the colonists that the mother country wroked upon thetu na 3 sponge to be squeezed. This convicton towik more than a pasaing loold upor them. It wis speedily inflamed Into inestluguishalle heal. first by the news that they were to be taxed without their own consent, and nest hy the tyranical and atrocious mensures iny whith it was proposed to crush tincir resiatance. The rebellion may he characterisel as having fint orgginntet in the bifnd greediness of the Eighlish merchants, anll as having then been preclpitated hy the arhitrary fidens of the pratrecians, in the thrst lustance, and afterwards of the king and the fenst educated of the common peopir. If the acvere pressure of the ouercantile polley, unflachingly carried out, had not trat filled the colonists with resentment aml robled them of their propperity, the fonperial chaim to impose taxes woinh probahly have been subimitted to without much mdo. And if the suspresminn of thelr truise in 1764 had not lecen instantly folinwed by Grenville's pian for extorting revenue from them. they woild prohably in time have then reconclied to the hiow which had been deatt to their commerce. It was the conjunction of two highiy oppressive pleces of polley which taught them that they would certainiy inse more by tame compliance than they cuuld posslbly lose iy an active realatance."-J. Morley. Eilmund Burke, ch. 4
Also in: W. Massey. Hist of Enghunl, Reign of Gearge III. D. i, ch. 5 .
A. D. 17 - $4-1767$. Patriotic nelf-denials. Stamp Taz].. on the colonies, many people, allag to shoo In a country rould luperty ty de veloped $A$ contrallum che cellumbe: sonela frum the $\mathrm{N}_{\mathrm{p}}$ runth her enulumul. the spranimh volities P mm en delimermen, without dif: ulred by the ad, and that ah proviucta acoutinenty ve eflurits of be expected Grentlle' gllug n oto conertaliand, The Govero. nswer to the ocould mut trenmis that ly waw llat their jeal. macrumel to Thetr fallis It the rovor mandidits of that thas wa lut soft. Whe hat result of of a very (unlxwe that them as a ction tuwk $\mathrm{m}^{1 t} \mathrm{Ha}$ nalite herat. le baxel at thy the $y$ wilich is

The re: lue Englibh recip iftated ins. in the King and cople. it moller, un. fillet the them of to lumpose malterd to rextein of Polliwed nale from ative inen dralt to on of two th tangbt mure by stbly lowe Eilmund che has yor, had mocioted, and engraged to frrbeat the impurtation, of consumption, of Ling. llab goends; and pmaticullarly to break of from the eustom of wenting bleck ciothes, or other mourring (lit beine gonerally of Britioh manu-fecture- Poot-uotel, upon the death of relutions. Thita agremment was then algned by smene of the counchl, and represematives, and by grest num. berf of people In the town of Boston, and the dibuse of mourning woon became general. This val intended to alarm the manufucturers lo England. And now [lia 1705], an agreement *as male, and slgned by a great proportion of the Intiabtiants of Beston, to eat no lambduring the yenr. This was in orider to inerease the growth, and. of course. the mannufacture of woul to the province. Neither of these meas. ures mueth merved the purpose for which they vere proteseodily int "underd, but they merved w, unlte the peoplo in an unfavourable opinton of panimuent."-T. Hutchisson, Hist of the ITwo. ine of Niwe. Ruy, 1849-1774, pp. 116-117.-The mavement thus started in Bosten befire the passege of the Stamp Aet spreal raplifly tirough the other provinces after the Act lind Imen pased, and continued to loe for several years a very zerlions expreation of coloulal patriotism anil opppisition th the upprexslive polley of the mother comintry. See below: A. if) 1 Bes.
A. D. 1765 - The Stamp Act, - ; The echeme of the implumittion by Puriliament or a tax on the American colonists tit be collected liy stumpa was not a neve one. Nearly forty years before thils time, 'sir William Kelith, the late thuvernor of Pennyylvania, presented an elaborated dsyuluxitien to the Kilig. . . propewiog the extemalion of the stamp, duties to the Colonies hy Ats of Parliameat.' It himl betes one of the projects of the fietlens innabar, fluring hils silort cireer of turbulence anil intrig in in New llanymerire. Goverwer Sharpee of Maryinnd amd hovernor Din. Whthe of Yirginta haid recommurnded a resort to It a: the time of the alurtive movenent for a pulton of the Colonies. Its renewal at thas time hass treen suid to have been eapreclatly due to Chartes Jenkiasum, then onty private mercretary th Lard Bute, hat who rose afterwards to be Earl of Liverneonl. The Project, as now resoulved uppu, was purstue! with tumemblderate obstiancy: thonghit euramute red a spirited debate when if was brought tate the House of Commens [Fctrarry. 1 Binj). The bill was pernding in the Howe betweet thire sud four weeks, at the euri $0^{\circ}$ which time it was passed, the largest number - Putes whict had been given agalinst it in nny - Izen if tes progress not having numunted to Inty wis concarral in by the llouse of Leris, wherv it njpearsto hare met no resistance. anty th due course [March ${ }^{2} 2$ ] received the royal sswnit No apprelhension of conse yueuces counbutled a pause The Stamp) Act-as It has sace becu called by cundnence-provided Amerlea to the Eughsh Exchequer, of spectibed lue ralidity for euci, lug ralidtly for eacil of the common transen tlons of be sais. "t. C. Palfrey, Hish, of Dete Eng. The wilo. 3 (e. 5 ).
The fullowing is the text of the Stand act: Whartas, by an act made in the laxt act: thued nud terat, geveral duties were granted, conthe ex wrinse of delendiod, wownds defraying the exiwnses of delending, provecting, sad se.
euring the Britibh colonles and pientations in Amerca: and wheren, It in arat necemary, that provision be mate for raising : further rev. enue within your majeatr's diunlalona in A mer. ica, uwarin defruybig the malil expentes; we, your majenty's moet dutifui and loyal suhjeets, the commons of Great Britain, in parlas. ment amemblet, have therefore rewolveli, tio glve. and grant unti youre manjenty the neveral ritea and duties hereflaufler mentioned; and do mast humbiy beeeech your majesty tint it may bo enneran. And be ficnacted, by the king is mosit excerlent majeaty, by and with the ndrice and consent of the lorida spirltur. and temporal, and commons In this present parliameat assembled. und by the authority of the same, That from and after the arte day of November, oue thunsand seven humifred and sixty five. there shinti to ruised. levied, collected unal pill, noto hils maj. esty, his helra and surcessors, throughout hio colontes and plantations iu Amerlen, which 1 ․ * are, or hereafter niny be, unter the domitulou of Lis majesty, his helfra and succeawors,

1. Fur every akilu of vellum or parchment, or sheret or piece of puper, on which shaill be en. gronewd, written or printel, any deciuration, piea, replleation, refolnder, deminurer, or other, plead. log or any capy thereof, lu any conrt of tam within the tiviliwh colonies and plautations in Anerica, a stamp duty of three pence.
2. For every akh or plece of vellum or parch. ment, or sheet or icee of pazer, on wheth shati iwe engrosed, wrimu or printert, any spectul bail, and hppearance $u_{1}$ on such ball auny such court, " stanp duty of two shililiugs.
3. For every aklu or plece of vellun or parch. ment, or shieet or pliece of paper, will which may be engiussed, writeu or printed nuy pettion, bill. or answer, claim, plea, replication, rejoinder, demarrer, or other pleading, in any couirt of chancery or equity, within the sall collonies mud plantailons, a stanip duty of oue shililing and alx pence.
4. For every skin or plece of vellim, ur parcl. ment, or sineet or plece of puper, on which siali be cagrossed, writen, or printed, aviz, copy of any petition, lifll, muswer, clalun, plea, replica tiven, refolmder, demurrer. or cther plitwing, in nuy such conit, a stamp inty of brre pence:
${ }^{5}$. For every skin or plice of velluma se archment, or slec: tor plece of paper, on whic , shail ie engrossed, written, or priuted, any $m$ - athelon. Ilbel, answer, allegation, in ventory, or re tacla. theu, it reclesinstical matters, in auy emart , probate, court if the erdinary, or oithen cons exproising ceeclestastical jurimiliction withiu th sail collonies and plantations, a stanip dh of one shillinin:
5. For every skin or plece & vellum r parch. ment, or sheet or plece of papor, on # Shall be chy wrossed. written or printed, ar: ply of any will. (other than the froberet th. if.) monition, libect, answer, allegatife in cary. or renzachation, in ecclesiastical satte- in ay Whis court. a stamp duty of sis wis.
-. For every skin or pi=n of ilum or parch. be eafmseed, written aper, whith whall preseatation, collation or mited ay donation.
 purpose, or any regiarer, try testimonial ur certificate of any dep te taket to any univer. sity, scademy, college af aiculuar of learulug, Fithin the sald colonies and plantations, a stamp duty of two pounds.

8. For every skin or plece of vellum or parch. ment, or sheet or plece of paper, on which shall be engrossed, written or printed, any monition, Hivel, claim, answer, allegation, Information, let. ter of request, execution, renunelation, laventory, or other pleading, in any admiralty court within the anle coloulea and plantatlons, a stamp duty of one silitiling.
9. For every skin or plece of velium or parch. ment, or sineet or piece of pappr, on which any eopy of any such monition, libel, cluim, answer, aliegation, Information, letter of reqnest, execu. tion, renumilaton. Inventory or other piending. shaii be engronsed, written or printed, a atamp duty of six pence.
10. For every skin or piece of velium or parch. ment, or sheet or plecc of paper, on whith shail be engrosseri, written or printed. any appeal, writ of error, writ of dower, 'ul quod diamnum,' certiorari, statute merchant, statute staple, attestation. or certificate, by any othicer, or exemplification of any recorl or procecting, In any court whatsoever within the sald colonies and plantations, (exeept apjeais, writs of error, certiorari, attestathons, certiticates, and exempilifations, for, or relating to the removal of any proceedinga from ixefore a single justice of the peace.) a stamp dinty of ten shilifings.
11. For every skin or piece of velinmor parchment, or sheet or plece of paper, on which shail be engrossed, writen or printel, any writ of eoveruant for levying tines, writ of entry for suffering a commoon recovery, or athechment issuing out of, or returnabie Into any court withla the said colonies and plantatous, a stamp duty of tive shitilings.
12. For every skin or piece of velinu or parch. mest, or sheet or plece of paper, on which shail be engrossed, written or printeyl, any judgment. derree, or sentence, or dismission, or nuy recond of nisi prins or postea, in any court within the said coloules or plantations, a stamp duty of four shltings.
13. For every akln or plece of veilum or parcis. ment, or sheet or plece of paper, on which shati be engrossed, writtell or printed, any affidavit, connuon bail, or appearance, interrogatory, deposition, rule, order or warraut of any coirt, or any 'decilmus putrytatem,' eaplas, subpena, sum. thons, compulsory eltation, couminsalon, recog nisauce, or any other writ, process, or mandate. issulug out of, or returnable into, auy court. or any olllce belonging therew, or any other proceed. ligg thereln whatsoever, or any eopy thereof, or ofany record not hercin before charged, within the sili colenies amu plantations, (except warrants reiating to criminal matters, and proceed. ings theresin, or relation thereto,) a stamp duty of one shillitig.
14. For every stin or plece of vellum or parch. ment, or sheet or plece of paper, on which shali lee engromsed, written or jornterl, any note or hili of lading. whicb shall ive signed for any kind of koxis, wares, or merchandize, to be exported from, or any docket or ciearance granted whithin the suid molonles and plantationa, $n$ atamp duty of four penec.
15. For every skin or plece of vellum or pareh. ment, or sheet or plece of paper, on which ahall be engroned, written or printed. letters of mart or connuimion for privale shipe of war, withla the sald colonies and plantationa, a atamp dut of twenty shiliilings.
16. For every skin or plece of vellum or parch ment, or sivet or plece of paper, on whichishal be engromel, written or printed, any grsut, ap polntment, or admission of or to any juiblic beneficial offire or employment, for the space of one year, or ar: lesser time, of or above iwenty pounds per annum, steriligg money, in snlary, feea, and perquisites, within the sald colonles and piantatlons, fexcept commiseions and splaintments of officers of the army, unvy, ordmance, or militia, of judgen, and of justlces of the peace.) a stamp duty of ten ahillings.
17. For every skin or plere of vellum or parch. ment, or siseet or plece of paper, on whlch say grant of nay ilberty, privilege, or frauchine. under the seal or sign manual, of any governme. proprietor, or public officer, alone, or in conjunc. ition wlth any other person or persons, or with any councli, or any coundi and ansembly, or any exempilification of the same, shatil be engrosmed. writuen, or printel, withln the sald colouies and piantations, a stamp duty of six pounds.
18. For every skin or piece of velinm or parch ment, or slicet or piece of paper, on which shail be eugrossed, written or printed, any license for retalling of spirituoua lip uors, to be granterl to any person who shail take out the same, within the ralld colonies and plantations, a stamp duty of twenty shilings.
19. For every skin or plece of velium or prorth. ment, or siwet or plece of paper, on which shati lee engrossed, written or printerl, any license for retailing of wiue, to lue granted to any proma Who shalis not take out a ilicense for retulling of spirituons liyuors, whithin the saide rolunies and plantations, a stamp dinty of four poundis.
20. For every skin or piece of vellum or parch. ment. or sheet or piece of paper, on whith shail lee eligrossed! written or printen!, any licrume fur retalling of whe, to be granted to any person who slali take out a license for rethifing of spirituons lif 1 Hors, withly the said colounles sad plinntations, a stanp duty of chiree poinnis.
21. For every skin or plece of velinm or pard. ment, or sheet or phece of pajer, on wibleb shasif le cugrossed, written or printerl, any jroblate of wilks, letters of sdministration, or of gnarilas. shlp for any estate abrive tive value of twenty monuds sterling money, within the Britistic colo. nies [und] plantations upon the contlectot of America, the lsiands lelouging thereto, und the 1hermuda und Bahama isfands, a stanil ifuty of flve sitili!ings.
22. For every skin or plece of vellum or parch. nernt, or sheet or plece of paper. oll which shali be engrosed. written or phlnted, any such proliate, letters of administration or if guardlausbip, wleinin ali other parte of the ilitish dominions iu America, a stamp duty of ten shillings.
23. For every skin or plece of vellum or jarchment, or sheet or plece of paper, on whicib shali be engrossed, writen, or printed, any lemul for seciring the payment of any sum of nomey, not exceedling the sum of ceu pounds sterilng money. within tife British eolonles and piantations upon the continent of America, the lelands belonging thereto, and the lisermuda and Bahama falands.
stamp duty of six pence stamp duty of six pence.
24. Fior every it finur piece of vellum or purch. ment, or sheet or plece of paper, oo which shall a stamp duty lium or perch. on whileh shall any grant, ap. to any pubile the space of above twenty ry, in salary, dd colonlew and anl apmint, orinance, or of the prace,

Ium or parch. on which any or frauchlese. any govemor. or lu conjunc. rsons, or with emliy, or any be enyrowned. I coloules and mils. lum or parch. II which shall ny flecuse for e grautel to sane, within tainp duty of uni or parch. n Which shali y license for any permon 5 rituifing of colonies and oumis. um or parch. 1 whelin shall y licriame for any promin retailing of coionles snd oumis.
in or parch. whildi shali y probate of of gharilan. e of twenty British rolo. ontliment of eto, and the stamy duty mi or parch. - un whleb d. Any such or uf guar. the ilritish uty of len whildi shall y inmal fur money, not ling money. stions upoa I behonging - inlanda, a be engroseed, written or printed, any bond for securing the payment of any sum of money ahove ten pounds, and not oxceeding twenty pounis stering money, within such coionies, plantatinns and falands, a stamp duty of one shiliing.
25. Por every skin or plece of velium or parchment, or sheet or piece of paper, on which shall be eagmased, written or priuted, any boad for wecuring the payment of any sum of money alove twenty pounds, and not exceeding forty pounds stering money, withln such colonies, piantations and islands, a stamp duty of one biiling and six pence.
96. Forevery skln or plece of velium or parchment, or sheet or piece of paper, on whleli shali be eagrossed, written or printed, any onder or warrant for surveyiug or setting out any quantity of fand, not exceeding one hundred acres, lasued hy any governor, proprictor, or any puhlle ofticer, aione, or In conjunction with any other jermon or persons, or with any minuell, or any conncil and assembiy, within the British colonies ani plantatious In America, a stamp duty of six junce.
2. Fur every skin or plece of velintn or parch. mont, or sheet or plece of paper, on which shali le engroswed, written or printed, any such omier or Warrant for surveying or setting out any quantly of fand above out humired and note ex. reeding two humined acres, within the sall cols. nles uni plantations, a stamp duty of one shilling.
24. For every skin or pleceof velium or parch. ment, or sheet or plece of paper, on which shail lve engrossed, written or printed, any such order or warrant for surveyling or setting out any quantity of laml almore two huadred ata not ex. centing three homired and twenty asas, and ln proporifur for every sueh order or warraut for aurveging or getting out every other three hun. dral and iwenty aeros, within the sadil erolonies and plantations, a stamp duty of one shilifiug bul six pence.
29. For every skin or plece of velium or parch. ment, or shert or plece of paper, on which shall le engrossel, written or printed, any origlnal grant or dievi, mesne conveyauce, of other Instrument whatever, hy which any quantity of hani, not exceming oue hundred acrus, slatl be gramerl, conveyed, or anslgned, within the Britwh colonies sud plantations upon the contlnent of America, the islands belongling thereto, aud the Ih-rmula mai Buimma lsiands (exerpt leases fo: suy urin not excerding the term of twenty one frars) a stainp duty of one shilling ani six рения.
30). Forevery skin or piece of veilum or parci. ment, or sheet or plece of paper, on which shail be engromser, written or printed, auy such orig. fmal grant, or any such died, meane couveyance, or other instrument whatsoever, hy which any quantity of land, sbove one hundred and not ex. coulling two hunired acres, shail be granted, conveyed, of asulgned, whinin such colonies, platititions and islands, stamp duty of two shililngs.
31. For every skin or plece of velium or parch. ment. or sheet or piece of paper, on which shaii be engrossedi, writien mr printed, any auch orig. lag grant, or any such deed, mesne conveyance, or olher !natrimfnt whatwever, by which any quantity of innd. above two hundred, and not exceeding three hundred and twenty meres, shall be granted, conveged, or assigned, and in proportion for every such grant, deed, meane con. veyunce, or other inatrument, granting, convey. ing or assigning every other chree hundred and twenty acres, within sueh coionfes, plantatious andi islands, a stamp duty of two shilitings and six pence.
32. For every skin or piece of velium or parch. ment, or sheet or plece of paper, on which shail le eugroseci, written or printed, any such orig. Inai grant, or nuy such deed, mesne conveyance, or other lnstrument whatsoever, Ly which any quantity of iand, not exceeding one hmmired aeres, shaii be granted, conveyed, or asslgned, within all other parts of the British diominions in America, a stanp oluty of thrue shillinga.
33. For every skin or plece of veilum or parchment, or sheet or plece of paper, ou which shall ive engrussel, written or printed, any such orig. Inal grant, or any such diced, mesne conveyance, or other instrument whatsoever, by which any quantity of iand, above one hundrea and not exceeding two hundred acres, shati le granted, conveyed. or asslgned, within tho same parts of the said donifalons, a stamp duty of four shillings.
34. For every skin or plece of vellum or parch. mont, or shret or piece of paper, on which shali Ive engrossed, written, or printed, any such origInal grant, or any such deed, neese conveyunce, or other Instrument whiseverer, by whifh uny quantity of had, alwe two hundred and not exceeding thrie lundrei and twonty acres, shall be granted, conveycil, or assigned, and in pro. portion for every surli print, ileed, mesne conveyance, or other instrument, grantlug. conveying, or asnlgning every other three humimal and twenty acres, within the sume parts of the suli dominhons, a stanp duty of five shilings.
35. lior every akin or pirce of veilum or parchment, wr sheet or plece of paper, on whith shall le eugrossed, writtes, or printed, any prant, ap. pointment, or aimission, of or to miy Ikeneticial oflice or employment, not lof inhefore charged. alove the vaiuc of twenty pmands per nunum sterling money, In salury, fres, or pergulaites, or any exeupilncatlon of the sume. withiu the IBritiat colonles and phatations upon the con. tincut of Ancrica, the islants ledonging thereto, anil the Hermuda and Ihahama islauds, (except commexsions of ofllers of the army, hary, oninunce, or militha, un! of justices of the peace, a stainp duty of four joumbs.
30. For every skin or phece of velium or parch. ment, or sheet ir piece of paper, on which shali be engrosseni, writton, or priatel, any such grant, appointment, or admission. of or to any such pullic leaticlai atheror employment, or any ex. emplification of the sune, within ali other purts of the IBritish dominions in America, a stamp duty of six pounds.
37. For every skin or plece of veilum or parch. ment, or sheet or piece of paper, on which shall The engrosed, writen, or printed, any ibienture. iease, conveyance, contruct, alipulation, Lili of aske, charter party, protent, articles of apprenticeshlp or covenant, (except for the hire of servants not apprentlces, and also except such other matuera ts hereinbefore charged.) within the British colonics and plantations in America. a simap duty of two shilinges and nix pence.
38. For every akin or piece of veliuut or parch.

UNITED STATES, 1765.

warrant or order for auditing any public accounte, beneflicial warrant, order, srant, or cert1 ficate, under any puhlic seal, or under the seal or slgn manual of any governor, pmprietor, or public offlcer, alone, or in conjunction with any other person or pernons, or wlth any councll, or any councll and asemhly, not bereln before charged, or any passport or letpass, surrender of office, or policy of assurance, shall be engrossed, written, or printed, within the sald colonles and plantations, (except warrants or orders for the servlee of the army, navy, ordnance, or milltia, nad grants of offices under twenty pounds per annum, in salary, fees, and perquiste, a a atamp duty of tive shiliting.
39. For every akln or plece of vellum or parch. ment, or sheet or piece of paper, on which shall be engrossed, written, or printed, any notarial act, bond, deed, letter of attorney, procuratlon, mort gage, relcase, or other obligatory instrument, not hereln before chargel, wlitha the said colo. nles and plantatlons, a stamp duty of two shill. lings and three pence.
40. For every skln or plece of vellum or parch. ment, or sheet or piece of paper, on which shall be cngrossed, written, or printed, any reglater, entry, or enrolment of any grant, derd, or other Instrument whatsoever, herein before charged, withln the salu colonles and plantallons, a stamp duty of three pence.
41. For every skin or piecc of vellum or parchment, or sheet or piece of paper, on which shall be engroseed, written, or printed, any register, entry, or enrolment of any grant, deed, or other instrument whatsoever not hereln before elharged, within the sald colonles and plantations, a stamp duty of two shillings.
42. And for and upon every pack of playing cards, and all dice, which shall be sold or used within the said colonles and plantations, the sevcral stamp duties following: (that is to say.)
43. For cvery pack of such cards, one abiling.
44. And for every pair of such dice, ten shillings.
45. And for and upon every paper called a pamphlet, and upon every newspaper, contaln$\operatorname{lng}$ public news, or occurrenees, which shall be printel, dispersed, and made publle, within any of the saidi colonles and plantatlons, and for and upon such advertisements as are herelinafter menthoned, the respective duties followlag; (that is say,)
46. For every such pamphlet and paper, contained in a hall sheet, or any lesser piece of paper, which slanll be so printel, a stamp duty of one half penny for every printel copy thereof.
47. For every uuch pamphlet and paper. (being larger than half a sheet, and not exceed, Ing one whole sheet.) which shall be oo printed. copy thereof. of one penny for every printed copy thereof.
48. For every pamplitet and paper, belng larger than one wholle sheet, und not cxceeding slx sheeta in uctavo, or $\ln$ a lesaer page, or not cxceeding swelve sherts in quarto, or twenty sheets in follo, which sinall be so printed, a duty after the rate of one: shilling for every sheet of any kind of paper which shall be contalned in onc pi inted copy therenf.
40. For every ad vertlsement to be contalned In any gazette, newspaper, of other paper, or any pamphlet which ohall be to printed, a duty of tife shitlings.
50. For every almanac or calendar, for anj one partlcular year, or for any time less than year, whlch ahall be written or printed on on side only of any one sheet, skla, or plece of paper, parehment, or vellum, within the said colonles and plantations, a stamp duty of two pence.
61. For every other alinanac, or calendar, for any one partlcular year, whlch shall be written or printed withla the sald colonles and planta. tlons, a stamp duty of four pence.
52. And for every nlmanace or calendar, written or printed in the said colonles and plantationa, to serve for seversl years, dutles to the same amount reapectlvely shall ive pald for every such year. year.
53. For every skla or piece of vellum or parch. ment, or shect or plece of paper, on which any instrument, proceedling, or other matter or thing aforesaid, shall be engrossed, written, or printed, withln the saill colonies and plantations, ill any other than the English language, a stamp duty of elouble the amount of the respective duties before charged thereon.
84. And there shall be also palid, in the said colonles and plantations, a duty of six pence for every twenty shllilsgs, In any sum not exceeding fifty pounds sterling money, which shall be given, pald, contracted, or agreed for, with or in relation to any elerk or apprentice, which shall be put or placed to or whth any muster or mistress, to learn any professlon, trade, or cm ployment. 2. And also a duty of one shilling for every twenty shllings, In uny sum exceeding fifty pounds, which shall be given, paill, con. tracted, or agreed for, with, or in relation to, any sueh clerk or apprentice.
55. Finally, the produce of all the aformmen. tloned dutles shail be paid Into his majesty: treasury: and there held in reserve, to be used, from time to time, by the parllament. for the purpose of defraylng the expenses necessary for the defense, protectlon, and security of the said colonles and plantations.
A. D. 1765 . News of the Stamp Act In the Colonies.- Colonel Barre's speech and the Soas of Liberty.-Patrick Henry's apeech ia the Virginia Assembly.-Formal protesta and informal moiodolagg la Phliadelphla, New York and Bonton, - In the course of the drbate in the Britlsh Iouse of Commons, on the Stamp Act. Fehruary 6, 1763, Charles To wnehend, after discussling the advantages which the American colonles had derived from the late war, askrilt the questlon: "And now will these American chli. dren, pianted hy our care, nourished up to strength and opulence hy our indulgence, and protected by our arms., grudge to conrribute their inite to relleve is from the heavy buriten nader which we lie "." Thls called to his feet Colonel Isaac Barré wno had served In Anurrica with Wolfe, nud who had a knowledge of the country and peoplc which must memlere of l'ar. llament lucked. "They planted by your care!" exclalmed Barré. "No: your opprezsluns plated them $\ln$ America. They fled from your tyranty to a then uncultivated, unhospitalle conntry. where they exposed themselves to almost all the hardablps to which human nature la liable; and, among other, to the crueltles of a anvage foe, the mont subtle, and, I wlll tuke upon nie to say, the minet fermidiable of any peopie upone tive fave of God's earth; and yet, actupled by prineip.es ndar, for any me lees than rinted on one - or plece of thln the sold duty of two caiendar. for all be written and planta.

ndar, written

 1 plantationg, to the anme or every suchlum or parch. on which any atter or thing n, or printed, tions, in any stamp duty ective dutles In the sald six pence for ot exceedilng eh shall be for, with or itice, which y master is ade, or mm . one shllliling n exceeding paid, conition to, any - sformen. majesty's to be used, ent. for the cerasary for of the sald

Act in tha

 $h$ and tha apeech in otesta and hia, Nem the drbate the Stamp hend, after American , askel the rican chalveld up to rence, and con:riture vy burden othls feet n America ge of the ers of lar. tur care!" ns phanted ryranny country. ost all the he; and, vage foe, ne to say, 1 cief fure rinclp.esUNITED ETATESS, 1765.
Spreet of Clowel Berrt
UNITED STATES, 1765.
of true English llberty, they met all hardehlpa with pieasure, compared with thowe they suffered In thelr own country from the hands of those who should have bren their friends. They nourished up by your indulgence! They grew by your neglect of them. Xs soon as you began to care about them, that care was exercised in sending permons to rule them $\ln$ one department and another, who were, perhaps, the deputies of deputies to some members $c:$ this house, sent to spy out thelr liberties, to miarepresent their actions, and to prey upon them; men whose be. havior on many occasions has caused the hlood of those sons of Liberty to recoll within them; nien promoted to the highest sents of justiee, some who, to my knowledge, were glad, hy golng to a foreign country, to escape being brought to the bar of a court of justice in thelr own. They protected hy your armsi They have nobly taken up arms in your defence; have exerted a valor amidet their constant and laborious industry, for the defence of a country whove frontier was drenehed in hlood, while its interior parts gledded all lis littie savings to your enaolunent. And belleve me-remember 1 this day told you so - the saine spirit of freedom which aetuated that people at tirst wili accom. pany them stlli. But prudence forbilds me to explain myself further. God knows I do not at this time speak from motives of party heat; What I deliver are the genuine sentimentis of my ; heart. llowever supertor to me in general knc...I. edige and cxperlence the respectanle body of this house may be, yet I claim to know more of America than moat of you, having seen and been conversant in that country. The peopie, I beilesc, are as truiy loyai as any suhjects the king has; but a people jcaious of their Hberties, and Who whll vindicate them, If ever they should be violated. But the suhject is too dellcate; I will say no more." Notes of Colonel Barré's speech Fere taken hy a Mr. Ingersoll, one of the agents for Connectlcut, who sat in the gallery. Ife sent home a report of it, which was puhlished In the newapapers at New woudos, and soon the name ot the "Sons of Luberty," which the eloquent defender of the resisting coloniste had given to then, was on every lip.-G. Bancroft, Hist. o. the U. $S$ (Author's hat reo.), v. 8, ch. 8.- "Mean. time [ln 1705], 'The Sons of Liberty'- a term that grew into use soon after the pubilication of Burrés speech - were entering intw associations to resist, hy all iswful means, the execution of the Stamp Act. They were long kept secret, which ocrasloned loyalists to say that there was ${ }^{5}$ private unlon anoung a certaln sect of repuhflcan prinelples from one end of the continent to the other. As they hincreased in numbers, they grew in boldncss aud publicity, announcing in the newspapers their committees of correspondeace, and laterchanging solemn piedges of sup-port."-it. Frothingham. The five of the Bepudic of the V. S., p. 183.-"The Stamp Act was passel Mareh' 22, 178.5. A copy of fi was printell in the 'Pennsylvania Gazette on April 1vith, but thls must necesaarly have been in advance of news of its paceage. The people of Philadelphas by gan at once to Philidelphis by gan at once to show their deter. inlastion to make it [the Stamp Act] a nullity so far as revenue was concerned. An enforced frugality thas the Arst slep. ${ }^{\text {His }}$. In the - P'enn. articie againate' of Aprll 18th there was an artlicie agalnst expenalve and ostentatlous funerals, the writer aaying that often $£ 70$ or $£ 100$ were squandered on euch occations. August 15th, When Alderman William Plumsted was buried at 8t. Peter's Church, the funeral, by his own whah, wasconducted in the plainest way, no pall, no mourning worn by relatives. In March, the Hibernia Fire Company resolved, from motires of economy, and to reduce the present high price of mutton and encourage the hre weriea of Pennsylvania, not to purchase any lamb thia geacon, nor to drink any foreign beer.' Other Are companles and many clizens copled thls ex. ample.

On October 25 th the merehants and trailers of Philadelphia subscribed to a non-im. portation agreement, such as were then being signed all over the country. In this article the subscribers agreed that, ln consequence of the late acts of Parifiment and the injurious regulations accompanying them, and of the 8tamp Act, etc., In justice to themseives and in hopes of benent from their example (1) to countermand all ordera for Engitsh goods untll the Stamp Act should be repealed; (2) a few necesaary articlea, or shipped under peculiar circumstances, are ex. cepted; (3) no goode recelved for sale on com. mission to be disposed of until the Stamp Act ahould be repealed; and this agreement to be bladling on each and sil, as a piedge of word of honor. ${ }^{\text {- J. T. Schart and T. Westcott, Mist. of }}$ Philadelphia, ch. 16 (e. 1). The first stern note of detance came from Virginia. Patrick Henry had lately been elected to the colonial assembly. Having waited in vain for the older leaders of the house to move in the matter of expressing the feelling of the colony on the suhject, on the 29 th of May, when the sesslon was within three days of Its expected close, " Mr. IIenry introduced hin celehrated resolutions on the stamp act. I will not withhold from the reader a note of this trans. action from the pen of Mr. IIenry himself. It Is a curiosity, and higily worthy of preservation. After his death, there was found among hin papers one sealed, and thus endorsed: 'Enclosed are the resolutions of the Virginia assembly in 1765 , concerning the 1765, concerning the stamp aet. Let my executors open this paper.' Within was found the following copy of the resolutions, iti Mr. Henry's handwriting:- Resoived, That the arst adven. turess and settlers of this, his majesty's colony and dominion, brought with them, and trang mitted to their posterity, and all other his majesty': suhjects, since inhabiting $\ln$ this, his majesty's sald colony, all the privileges, franchises, and imanunites, that have at any time been hield, enjoyed, sal possessed by the people of Great Britain. Resoived, That hy two royal charters. granted by Klag James 1 , the colonists, aforesaid, are deciared entitled to all the privileged, ilberties, and Immunities of denizens and natural-born suhjects, to all intents and purposes, as If they had been ablding and bora within the reaim of Figland. Rewolved, That the taxation of the people by themseiven, or by persons chosen by themselve: to represent them, who can only know what taxen the people are abie to bear, and the easlest mode of ralaing them, and are equally affected hy such taxea themseives, is the distinguishing characteristic of British freedom, and without which the ancient constitution cannot suhasist. Resolved, That his majesty a ilcge people of this most auclent colony, have uninterruptedly enjoyed the right of being thue governed is thelf own mesembly, in the article of thelr taxes and internal pollee, and thnt the aanue fintb never heen forfelted, or any otier way glven up, hut hath been constantly recognised hy the kiag nad peopie of Oreat Britain. Reantved, therefore, that tie gcacrat assembly of this colony have the sole right nnd power to hay talis and impositions upon the inhabitaate of this eotiay; nnd that every attempt to vest such porri in any person or persous whutsoever other thas the general assembiy niosesadd, has a niarifest tendency to destroy Pritishas weil as Am-ricia freetom.' On the back of the pajer etintiviug tinese resolutions, Is the followinc endorsembeut, which is aiso ia the handwriting of Mr. Itenry himseif:-'The within resolutions passeri the bouse of burgesses In May, 170.5, They formaet the first oppusition to the stamp net. nad the secheme of taxing Ameriea by the British pariameat. Ali the colonies, elther tirrough fear, or want of opportunity to form an opposition, or from laflueuce of some kiad or other, hatl remained silent. I had leen for tice drst time cleeted a burgess, a few days before, was young, inexperienced, uanequainted with tbe forms of the house, and the memlera that composed it. Findling the men of weight averse to opposition, and the commencement of the tax at hand, and that no person was likeiy to step forth, I determined to venture, nnil alone, unal vised, and unassisteri, on a blank heuf of an olil law.book wrote the withir. Upou offeriag tivem to the house, vioient dehates cn . sued. Mr'jy threats were uttered, and much abise east on me, ly the party for submissio: After a long and warm contest, the resolutions passed by a very smail mnjority, perhaps of one or two oniy. The niarms spreat throughout America with astontsining quiekaess, and the ministerial party were overwheimed. The great point of resistance to British taxation was univer. saliy established in the colouies. This hrought on the war, which tinaily separated the two Countries, and gave indepentence to ours. Wiether this will prove n beessing or a ourse will depead upoa the use our peopie inake of the biessings witel a graclous Goul bati bestowed ou us. If they are wise, they will be great and ? appy. If they are of n contrary character, they Wilf be miserable. Righteousness aione can exalt them as a nation. Reader 1 whoever thon art, renuember this; and in thy sphere, practlse virtue thyseif, and encourage it in others. - P. Henry." Suchis the short, phain, mad molest ac. count which Mr, llenry has left of thls transaction.

It is not woaderfin that eren the frieads of coloniai rigits who knew the feehie and defenceless situation of this country should be starticel ut a step so lold und darlng. Thnt effect was profiucedt nnal the resolulions were resisted, not nify by the aristocracy of the house, but by inany of those whol were afterwarid distinguisised amoug the brightest champions of Anuriean illuerty. The foilowing is, Mr. Jeffersoa's account of this transaction: Mr. Henry moved and Mr. Johnstom secomied these resolit. tions auceessively. Thy were opposelt by Messrs. Randiolph. Messra. Randiolph, Blandi, Pemileton. Wytise, and ati the old memalers, whose intlucnce in the honse had, tifi then, her n unbroken. They dind It, not from uny guestion of our rights, but on the ground that the snme sentiments, had been, at thuir preceling serslim, expressed ia a more concillatory form, to which the nnswers were not yet recelved. But torrents of sullilme eloquence froas Ilenry, backed ly the sulid reasonlng of Johnston, prevalied. The inst, bowever, and strongest resoiution whs earried but by n single vote. The debate on It whs most hlooly. I was then but a sturdent, nud stownol at tbe door of communiention betweeu the house and the lohby (for as yet there was no gallerr) duriag the whole debate and vote; aud I will remember that, after the numbers oa the divisino were told and deelared from the chnir, l'ey lom lannfolpt (the attorney generai) cance out at the door where I was standiag, and sald, as he catered the lohby: "13y Goil, I would hinve glven 500 guinens for a slugls vote": for one would bave divlded the house, and leabinson was in the chair, who he knew would have negatived the resolation. Mr. Ilenry Left town that eveaing: and the next mornhig. before the moceting of the house. Col. Peter Raudolph, then of the council, came to the hall of burgesses, and sat 11 the clerk's tabie tiil the house-beif rang, thumbing clerk's tabie tiil the house beil rang, thumbing over the volumes of journais, to find a precedent for expuaging an vote of the bollse. . Nime of the timid members, who had voted fur the strongest resolution, hat beconse aiarmeti; and as shon as the bouse met, n motion was made and carried to expunge it from the journais.' The manuseript journal of the day is not tio be found; wbether it was suppressell, or easualiy list, must remnin $n$ matter of uacertainty : it disappeared, buwever, miortly after the sesslint.

In the iaterestlag fact of the crusure of the fiftio resolution, Mr. Jefferson is supported by the distinet recoliection of Mr. Pani Carrington, fate $n$ judge of the court of appeais of Virginin, nnd the only surviving inember, It is leveli.vect, of the honse of burgesses of 1765 . The statcment is aiso contirmed, if indeed further contirnation were necessary, by the circumstance that instead of the five resolutions, so solemuly recoried by Mr. Henry, ns having passed the house, the journal of the darexhibits oniv. journal of the dny exbfbits oniy.
By these resoluttors, says.
'By these resolutlors,' says Mr. Jefferson, 'and his manaer of supporting thent, Mr. Iieury thok the lead out of the hands of those whio had, theretofore, guided the proceediags of the homse, theretofore, guided the proceediags of the homse:
that is to say, of Pendeton, wy the that is to say, of Pendleton, Wythe, ibland, lhautolpb.' It was, Indeed, the measure whlch raisel him to the zenith of lits glory. He had never before bad a never before bad a subject which entirely noatehed his genius, and was capabic of drawing out ali the powers of his miad.... It was in the milst of this magalfiecont inebate, whlln be the midst of this ma galfiennt thebate, whill be Was descaning ou tbe tyranuy of the obnoxious net. tbat he exclaimed in a voice of thuader, and witb the look of a got: 'Cesar had his Brutus - Charies the First, hils Cromwell-nad George tie Third - (' 'Treason!' cried the हpraker -' Treason, treason l' cehoed from every part of the honse. It was one of those trivg muncmes wheh in decisive of eharneter. Ileury falked not for an instant; but ristag to a lofticr atiltuide, and fixing oll the speaker an eye of the mu-t determined fire, he flaisited his seatence wha the firmest (mphasis) - may profit hy their cxample. If this be trensin, make tbe niost of it.' This was the oniy expression of deflance whici escaped him thring the dehate. He was, througb. out ilfe, one of the most perfectly nadi uniformily decorous speakers thint ever took the flowir of the house.

From the periont of witich we have ing, Mr. Ilenry lecame the iflol of the ## UNITED STATES, 1765. Nom.imporiation UNITED STATES, 1765.

its of suhlime by the sulid The lat. was carriced n It wus noost mudi storx at ell the homse ts no galhers) ; nudi I will a the cilivinina halr, 1'rytun are out at the id, as heradhave giren $r$ one would on was in the egatived the hat cvouing; eting of the of the coun. ail sat at the 6. thoumhing a precerlent sonse oted for the larmeri; and as mate and urmals." is not to be or cusually certainty; it the sexsion. asure of the pported by Carrington, f Virginia. leli-vent, of e staticurat ontlomation that instead ecoriledi by house. the four. erson, 'and Ilonry toot who hat. the house: he, Bland, sure which

He had entirely of Jrawlog It was in , whiln be f thumier, or hall his w $\cdot 11$ - gnd hereprativer ry part of mirnients y falicred r nititurle, e mit tie. witu the example. it. 'This which es. throughuniformily (war of the we have wis on dul of the people of Vlrginin; nor was hle nume confined to his native state. Ifs light mad heat were meen nul felt throughout the continent; and he was every where regarled as the great champlon of colonfal liberty." - W. WIrt, Sketches of the Life and Character of Pistrisk Menry, eect. 2. "The publication of Mr. IIcnry's resolutions against the Stamp Act created a whlespread and Intense excitement. They were hailed as the actlon of the oliest, nadi hilherto the most loyal of the colonies; and as raisiug a standart of resistsnce to the dotestenl Act. Mr. Otls pronounceri them trensonahle, and this was the verilct of the Government party. Hut, treason. able or not, they struck a chord whieh vllorated throughout America. IIutchinson deelared that, 'nothing extmavagant appared in the papers till sn account wus received of the Virginin resolves. Sonn the bolle exelimatinn of Sr. Henry in moring them was published, and he was halled as the leader raisel up by Providence for the nccasion. The 'Bostou Gazctte ' lechnred: 'The people of Virginla lave spoken very senslbiy. and the frozen poiliticians of a niore northern government say they have spoken trenson." But the peophle werc no longer to be held down by 'the fromin politleinns. north or sonti. They comacheeri to form secret societies pieriged to the resistance of the Aet by nli lawful means, which we called "The sons of Liberty:"W. W. Ilenry, Putrich Ilenry: Life, Correa. pondence 1 ni Specches, e. 1, pp. 93-04. - At New lork. "In May articles logan to appear In the juiprs congmitulnting the pubiic on the parriotic amd frugal spirit that was leginning to reipn in thr Province of New York. The prin. cipal gentlemen of the city elad themmelves in country uninfactures or 'turned clothes." Weyman printeri in large type in his paper, tho N. Y. Gazeite, the patriotie inoto ' ft ha better to wenr a homespun coat than lose our liberty." Spianing was ciaily in vogne; materiais lximg nove wanting than intiustrial liands; a need the farmers were endeavoring to remedy hy sewing more flar meet and keeping nore slicep, and dantiy watate the onil statement that little lamb canc to market ns no true lovers of their comaty or whose sympnthetle breasts feel tor ita dhitressey will buy it, andi that susaafras, halm ani suge wore groutly in use insteation tea amil atioweri to be more wholesome.' Funerals mud mantrning, which were then expensive lixuries Were unsified and thelr extmvagance curtaileoi. The suxjety for promoting Arts and Manufac. tures resolverl to establish a bleaching fleld and to erert a fliax spibning shool where the powr chilinen of the city shomid be taight the art They alas onlerexi large numbers of sphning Theds to be minde and loaued to ail who womld "se thom. ln sieptember we find it annonncedi that wonnen's siloes were made, chenper nnd het ter that the renownerl Hoses, ${ }^{4}$ hy Wells, Lasher, Boltent, and Davis, aurl thot there was a good astorturnt on hand; that lexots and men's shomes Fire mallo. in every guarter of the city, iketter than the fuglish mule for foreign anle; wove throni surkings in sunulry places; the niaking of lium, woolen, avil motton stufts was fast incrusing: gloves, hats, carringes, harness not cabint work were plenty. The people wero कит menoling that us true friend of his country should buy or luprort Engliain goods, and the dry goods men were warned that their Importa. tions would He on hand to thelr cost nad rula. There belng now n sufficiency of home made gools it was proposed on the 19th October to establish a market for nll kinds of Home Mnnu. factures; nnd a market was opene: under the Exchange in Broad Street on the Dikl. From the shortness of the notlce the design was not sufflelently known In the country and there was neither plenty nor variety; but numbers of buyers appenred and everything went of realily at good prices. The gentlemen merehants of the city, as they were gityled, were not behind any cla In pnitiotism or sacriffce. A merting was cal.ed for Monday 28th October at Jones' house In the Flelds, 'The Freentasons Arms,' but the attendnnce, owing to the short uotice, not being sufticlent to enter upon business, they were ngain summoned on the 30th Uctoln'r to meet the next dny at four n'clock nt Mr. Burns' long room nt the Cly Arma to fnll upon much methods as they shnil then think most ailvisahle for their reclpmeal Interest. On the 31 st there was a genersi meeting of the prin. clpal merchants at this tavern, which was known under the varions nnmes of the City Arms, the Province Arms, the New York Arms, nnd stool on the upper corner of Broadway and Stone, now Thumes street, on the sitc later occupled by the City llotel. I Resolutlons ware alopleil nnd subscribed hy upwards of two huniretl of the principal merehants: 1st, to accompany nll orlers to Great Britain for gomis or merehandize of any nature kiul or quality whitever with Instructions that they be uot shipperl unless the Stainp Act be repenled; 2nil, to countermanil ull outstanding orlers unless on the conditions menthoned in the foregoling resoluton; Ind, not to rend any goods sent on commission, shipped nfter the lst January succeeding, unless upon the same condition. In conserfucnce of these resolutions the retallers of gonls subserilned a paper ohliging themselves not to buy any gools, wares or merchandize after the lst Juminary unless the Stamp Act were ropealeal. This was the first of the famous Non Importation Agree. ment, the great commercial mersure of offense anif icfense against Grent Britaiu. It punished friencis and foes alike nal plungid a lurge portion of the English people into the clecpegt distress; at the same time it tuaght the Colonies the value aud extent of their own rewnices."-J. A. Stevens. The Stamp diet in Ven Jork (INagazine of Am. Hiat. Sume, 18\%).-The Stamp Act was reprinted in Now lork "with s death's-head upon it in piace of the royal arms, and it was lawkerl atoul the stre is uinier the title of The Folly of Einglami and the Ruin of America.' In Buaton, the church-bells were tollen, and the fiags on the shipplag put at lialf-mast. But formal doflacce cane first from Virginia." Patrick IIcury had just been electerl to the colonial assoully. "In a committee of the whole house, he Irew up a series of resolutions, declaring that the colonists were cntitled to nll the liberties nad privileges of natural-born subjects, and that 'the taxation of the people hy themselves, or by persons chosen by themselves to represent theni, is the distlagulshing characteristic of BritIsh frexiom. without which the anctent cotsyitit. tion caonot exist.' It was further declared that any attempt to vest the power of taxation in nny other body than the coloninl asemhly was a menace to British no less than to American freedom: that the people of Virginia were not bound to obey any law enacted in diaregard of these fundamental principles; and that any one who should maintain the contrary should be regarded as a publlc enerny. It was in the lively debate Which ensued upon these resolutions, that Ilenry uttered those memorahle words commeniling the example of Targuin and Cresar and Charies I, to the attention of George III. Before the voto had becn taken upon all the resolutions, Goremor Fauquler dissolved the assembly; hut the resolutions were printed in the newspapers, and hailed with appmanal all over the country. Meanwhile, the Manaschusetta legtalature, at the suggeation of Otis, had issued a circular letter to all the colonics, calling for a general congress, in order to concert measures of resistance to the Stamp Act. The first condlal response came from Solith Carolina, at thic instance of Christopher Gudsien, a wealthy merchant of Charleston and a scholar learned in Oricntal languages, a of rare sagacity and most liberal spirit.
The frat annonncement of the Stamp Act had called into exlstence ant of the Stamp Act had called into exlstence a gmup of secret socleties of workingmen known as 'Hons of Lih.
erty! ta allusion to a famous phrase in one of erty. in allusion to a famous phrase in one of
Colonel Barrés spuceches. rithese socletles were solemnily pleiged to resist the executetics were solemnly plaiged to resist the execution of the ohnoxious law. On the 1 th of August, the quiet town of Boston witnessed some extraordinary proceedings [sce Linertr Tree]. Twelve days after, a mob sacked the splendid house of Chief Justice IIutehfuson. threw his plate into the street, and destroyed the valuahle lihrary which he had been thirty years in collecting, and wilich contaiuedi many manuscripts, the loss of which was quite irreparalife. As usual with mohs, the vengeance fell in the wrong place, for IIutchinson had done his best to pre. vent the passage of the Stamp Act. In most of the colonies, the stamp offlcers were compelled to resign their posts. Boxes of stamps arriving hy shlp were hurued or thrown into the sea. In New York, the presence of the tropps for a moment encouraged the lleutenant governor, Colden, to take a bold stand in belaif of the law. He talkell of fring upon the people, hut was warned that if he did so he would be speedlly hanged on a lamp-post, litise Captain Porteous of Fdinhurgh. A torchlight procession, carrying images of Colden and of the devil. hroke into the governor's coach-house, add, seizlog his best ehariot. paradel it about town with the lmages upon It, and finally bumed up chariot and fas. ages on the Iowling Green, in full sight of Colden and the garrison, who looked on from the Battery, speechless with rage, hilt afraid to interfere. Gage dill not dare to bave the troops used, for fear of hringing on a civil war; and the next day the disconifited Colden was ohliged to surrender all the stamps to the common councll of New Yirk. hy whom they were at once locked up in the city Inili. Nothing more was needed to pruve the linpossibility of carrying the Stamp Act into "flect." -J. Fiske. The American Reoolutior, o. 1, it. 1. In Connecticut the stamp agent, Mr. Ingersoll, was compelled hy a body of armed clitizens to resign-see Connecticte: A. D. 1785 Atso iv: D. R Groulline. The Pirth of the fic puldic, eh. 1 (a compilation of nccounts of proceed. ingo in the secoral culenies).-W. Tudor, Lifo of

Jas. Otis, ah. 14. -W. V. Wells, Lifo of $&$ Adame, b. 1, ch. 2.-1. W. Stuart, Pife of tharn Trumbull, ei. 7-8.-T. Hutelinson, of Province of i Mace. Bay, 1749-1774, pp. 112
 M. C. Tyler, Pairiek Ilenry, cA. B. $^{\text {. }}$
A. D. 3765.-The Stamp Act Congren The delegatea chowen, on the invitation of y chusetts, to attend a congress for consultati the clrcumatances of the oolonies, met, fot 7. 1765, in the City IInil at New York. place were the sons of Liberty more determi or were their opponente more influential. It the headquarters of the Britlsh force in Ame the commander of which, General Gage, wie the powers of a viceroy. A fort withing the Was heavily mountert with cannon. Shlps of were moored near the wharves. The expent Lieutenant-governor Colden, was resolved execute the law. When the Massachusetts gates called on him. he remarked that the posed congress would be unconstitutionent, unprecedentel, and he slould give it no coun nance. The congress consisted of twenty el delcgates from nine of the colonics; four, tho sympatbizing with the movement, not chme representatives. IIere several of the patric who hat discussed the American question their localites, met for the trat time. Jan Otis stood in this hoily the foremost speak Ilis pen, with the pens of the hrothers loh and Phillip Livingston, of New York, were su moned to service in a wider fichl. John Jick son, of Pennsylvanla, was soon to te kno thmugh the colonies by 'The Farmer's Letter Thomas McKcan and Caesar Rodney were pille of the cause in Delaware. Edward Thghm Was an honored name in Maryland. South car Thomas Lynch and Jelntrepld Gadeden, humi, Thomas Lynch and John Ruttedge, two patrio who appear prominently in the sulsequen career of that colony. Thus this boily graced hy large ahilty, genius, learning, an common sense. It was calm in its deliberution seeming unmoved hy the whirl of the pollitic waters. The congress organized hy the cholr by one vote, of Timothy Kiuggles, a Tory.the chairman, - and John Cotton, clerk. Th second day of its session, it took into considen tion the rights, privileges, and grievances 'the British American colonista, grievancet days' debate, it agreed - each colony having our Prte-upon a declaration of rights andigrier snces and ordered it to be inserted in the journal The following is tbe 'Declaration ': 'The mem bers of this congreas, sincerely devoiell, with the Warmest sentments of affection aml dint. to hin majesty's person and government, inviolinily at. tached to the present happy eatahlishmeent of the protestant succession, and with minnds deeply mpressed hy a sense of the present and impend. ing misfortunes of the British colonies on this coutinent; having considered. as maturely a time will permit, the clrcumatances of the salid colonies, esteem it our indlapensable dury to make the following declaratlons of our humble opinion, respecting the most essential rights and liberties of the colonists, and of the grievances under which they labor by reaeon of severni lise acts of parliament. 1. That hay majesty's nubjects in these culoniea owe the same alliggisnce to the crown of Great Britain that is owing from his subjecte born within the reilm, and all due

1s, Life of Samad nrt, life of JomaHutchlason. Hist 1774, pp. 117-14i. on, o. 1. ch. 2. 5. Act Congresavitatlon of Mam. or consultathon on Hen, met, October York. "In more determbined, tuential. It mm force ln Amerion al Gige, wlelded it withln the city Bhlps of ma Thc expentitre, was resolved to inachusetts dele. el that tiee pro. nstitutional, and lve It no counteof twenty etght es; four, though nt, not chowilag of the patriota can qutestlon to st tlme. Jaroes rentost spesker. hrothers Roben York, were sum. Join lickio. to be known irmer'a Letters. ney were pillinn warl Tilghman d. South carohaladen, hal, to ce, two patriots lie subsequept bls iboly wh - Jearnlag. and s delliverations of the politial hy tire chole, a, in Tory, - a n , clerk. The Loto coaslider. grie vances ol After elevea ony having ose hts and grier. in the journal
-Tite mem. roted, with the xi duty, to his Invlolalaly at. lshment of the milnds deeply $t$ and impred. lonies on this maturely a en of tise suid able dinty to 1 vur inmmble lal rights sod he grievsnies f severai late na justy's subme alieghace sowing from and all due suborilaation to that august body the parllament of Great Britain. 2. That hls mojesty's liege subjects in these colonles are entitied to ali the Inicreat rights and libertles of hia natura! inurn subjects withln the klagdom of Great Britala. 3. That It is Inseparahly ewentlal to the freedom of a people, and the undouhted right of Eaglishmen, that no taxce be Imposed on them, hut with their own consent, given per. sonally, or by thelr representatives. 4. That the prople of these colonles are not, and front thelr local clrcumstances cannot be, reprisented In the house of commons of Great Britain. 5 . That the only representatives of these colonles sre persoas chosen thereln hy thenselves, and that no taxes ever have been or can be constitu. timally tuposed upon them. but hy their reapectlve legisiatures. 6. That all supplles to the erown ieing free gifts from the people, It is uareasounhle aad laconalstent with the princlples and spirift of the Britsls constitution for the people of (ireat Britain to gratit to hls majesty the property of tho colonists. 7. That trial by furr is the fuhurent and Invalunile right of every Britisla subjeet In these coionles. 8. That the late act of parilament eattled 'nn act for grantlog and applylog certala stamp dutles, and ather duties, in the liritsh colonies and plantaHons in America.' ©ic., lyy Imposing taxes inl thic fuhatitants of these colonles; and the sutil act, suxt several wher acts, i,y extendilng the jurisille. tion of the coart of admiraity leyond its anclent llinits, have a maalfest tendency to subvert the rights aud likertles of the colonists. D. That the duties lupresel by several late acts of parlinnemt, from the pecullar clrcumstanees of thete culmies, will be extremely burdensonte aud grievons; and from the senrelty of specte, the farnuevt of them absolutely impractleable. 10. That as the profits of the trade of these culonies ultimaly ceuter in Great IBritain, to pay for the manufactures whilch they are obllged to take from thencer, they eventually contrihute very hargely to all suppiles grantell to the crown. 11 . That the restrichions imposed by severai Inte acte of parliamemt on the trade of these colonies, will of Great lsitalu to purchase the manufactures of Grat liritalu., 12. That the lacrease. pros. prrity, and happiness of these colonles depend on the full and free enjoyment of thelr rights and biterties, aud an inturconrse with Great Britain nimailly affectionate and ndvantageous. 13. That it is the rlght of the Britlsh subjects in tises. cononies to) petition the klag, or elther house of parlinmeat. it. That it ls the indlspensabie duty of these culonles, to the beat of noverelgns, to the unther comntry, and to themselves, to endearor, by a loyal and dutlful addreas to hls majesty, uwl inmile application to both bouses of barliament, to procire the repeal of the act fir grauting aud appiylag certain stamp dutles, of all clanses of any other acte of parlinment whereby the juriediction of the admiralty is extenided as aforesall, noll of the other late acts for the restriction of American comnuerce.'] The delegates preseat from only stx of the colones-cxcept luggles and Ogden--signed the petition, those from New York, Connecticut, On the 25th of Octina not being authorized to slga. Sperial mesaurectober, the congreas andjourned. ceedingis to the unrepresented colonten prosrveral ascemblem unrepresented colonlea. The j-11 of the course of thelr delegates who concurred in the netlon of congress: but liuggles, of Masme. chusetts, was reprimandel hy the speaker, In the name of the llouse, and Ogden, of New Jersey. Was inng lu etiligy by the peoplic. The actlon of Me assembillis was aunounced In the press. Meanwhite the Soms of Lliserty, through thelr comniltees of cortespoadrace, urged a contl. nental Calon; piedged a mutinal support in came of danger: In some lnstnuces stated the numbers of nrmed inen that mlyit he rellell on; and thus evinced a common determlnation to resist the execution of the Stamp Act."-R. FrothInghnm, Hine of the Republic of the $U^{H}$. N., et. S.
Alaso in: T. Pitkin, list of the U. S., e. 1, app. R-8.-II. Niles. Principles and dets of the Readirtion (ext, of 1876), pp. 155-168.
A. D. $1765-1768 .-$ Treatles with the Indlans at German Flats and Fort Stanwix.-Cesslon of Iroquols claims to weatern Pennalvania, Weat Virginla and Kentucky.-The drawligy of the Indian boundary line.-" After the suc. cess of lirulstrect and liounnct [see Postiac's War], there was no dilifulty in coneludlag a treaty with all the Westeru lindlans; nnel late in Apri, izej, Sir Willain Johnson, at the German Flats, heid a couference with the various nathons, and settled a defalte prace. At this meetIng two proposithons were made; the one to fix sme boundary ilne, west of which the Europenus stould not go; nud the savages named, as this lhre, the thio or Alleghany and Susquehiannah; but us defulte agreenient was madc Joinuson not iveing empowerel to act. The other propinand was, that the Indians should gmat to the traders, who had sufferetl $\ln 1263$, a tract of land In comipensation for the iujuries theu done them, and to tils the red neen agreed. . . Dure Ing the rery year that succeeded the treaty of Germnu Flats, settlers crossed the mountilins nud tuok possessiou of lands in werstern Virginla and aloag the Monongabicia. The ludians, having recelved no pay for these lands, murmured, nud once more a border war was fenred. . . . And not ouly were fronticr men thans passing the lloe tacltly agreed on, but Sir Willinit infmself was even then meditating on step which would have proluced. had it been takea, $n$ genersl lacllan war agalu. Tibls was the purchase and settlement of an Immense tract south of the Ohlo RIver, where an indepeatent culony was to be formed. How early thls plan was concelved we do not learn, hut, from Franklln's ietters, we find that it was in contemplatlon in thic aprlog of 1;66. At that thee Frankliu was in London, and was written to hy hls son, Governor Franklin of New Jersey, with regard to the proposed colony. The plan seemstolinve beell to boy of the Slx Natlons the lanils south of the Ohlo, on purchase which, It was not doubted Slr Willinm might naise, and then to procure from the Kling a graut of as nuch territory as the Company which it was intended to form would requlre, Governor Franklln, accordingly, forwarded to his father an applicatlon for a grant, together wlth a letter from slr Willam, recommendlag the plan to the minlatry: all of whlch was duly communleated to the proper department. But at that time there were various Interests bearing upon this pinn of Frankiln. The ohl Olaio Company boee Unio (VALLET): A. D. 1748-1754] was atll sulag. through lis agent, Colonel George Mercer. for a perfectior of the orlginal grant.

Lyman, from Connectleut we belleve, was sollcJiling a new grant slmiliar to that now noked by Franklin; and the ministera themaelven were di. videl as to the pollcy and propriety of estab. Itablag any settlements so far ln the inverlor,Shelburne beling in favor of the new colony, IIIlsborough opposed to It. The Company wai organizel, however, and the nombuily leading man tbereln belog Mr. Tbomas Walpole, a London banker of emlaenec, It was kuwn is the Walpole Company.... Before any concluslon wan cutue to, it was necesanry to arrange def. pltely that houndary line which had treen vagueIy talkell of in 1763, and with rempect to whieis SIr William Johnson had written to the mintstry, whohad mistaid his letters and given him no ingiructions. The necessity of arranging this boundary was also kept in mind by the conthued and growing irritation of the Indlans, who found themelves fovalded from every slde. . . . FrankIln, the father, all thif tinue, was urging the same necessity upron the ministers In Englaud; and about Ciristmas of 1767, Sir Whliam'y lettery on tbe subject having been fund, orders were sent hlm to complete the proponed purehase from the 81x Natlons, and settle all differencea. Bint the project for a colony was for the time dropped, a new miministration coming in whileb was not that way disproed. Sir Willam Johonon having recelved, enrly In the spring, the orrlers from England relative to a new treaty with the In . Ulans, at once took steps to secure a fuil attendance. Notice was given to the varions colonial governments, to the Six Nations, the Ielnwares, and the Sbawanese, and a Congress was appolateil to meet at Fort Slumwix durlag the foilowlng Octuber. It nuet upon the 2tth of that nowng, and was attended by representatives from New Jersey, Virginla, and Pennsylvanla; by Slr William and his deputles; by the agents of tbose traders who had suffered in the war of 1763 ; and by deputies from all of the Six Nations, the Delawares, and the Shawanese. The frst point to be settled was the boundary line which was to determine the Indlan lanils of the Weat from that thme forward; and this llae the Indians, upon the lst of November, stated sboulil begln on the Ohlo at the montb of the Cbernkee (or Tennessee) river; thence go up the Ohio aud Allegbany to Kittanlog: thence across to the Snsqnehannah, de.; wherely the whole conntry south uf the Ohto and Alleghany, to whicb the Six Nations land any claim, was transferreal to the British. One deed, for a part of thls land, was mate on the id of Novenber to Wiiliam Trent. attorney for twenty two trudera, whose goxis had breen destroycel by the Indians in 1763 Tbe truct conveycl by this was between the Kenhawa and Mourougabela, and was by the traders nanuel 'Intiana.' Two days afterwarl, a deed fur lice renuluing western lands was made to the Klng, and the price agreed on pald dow: These derils were made upon the express agree. ment, that no claint shouid wer be basel npon prevlons trentles, tbose of Lancaster. Logstown, \&e. : and they were signetl by the chilefs of the Slx Nations, fur thensselves, thelr allies and dependents, the Shawunese, Delawures, Jlingoes of Ohio, and others: but the Sbawnese and DelaWare deputes prosent did not sign thems. Sucb Was the treaty of Ninnwix, wherer': ests the title toy purchase to Kentucky, weste, a Virginia, and I'cuasylvanla. It was a better foundation, perhaps, than that given by previous trea but wha enventially worthlens; for the lands veged were not oceupited or hunted on hy convering them. In trith, we cannot de that thli immense grant was ohtalued liy the fluence of SIr William Johumon, in order tivil new colony, of which be was to be gaven might be foundexl there. ...T The white conld now quilet his comadience when drivlag native from lis forest bome, and feel sure an army would back his pretensiona. thae more than one bold man had venturiol f Ittle whille Into the beautiful raltrya uf $k$ tucky, and, on the lat of May. 1760. there' one golng forth from hala ' meaceabie halitathom the Yialkin river ln North Carolima,' wh name han since goue far and whle over thils th planet of ours, he having lecome the tyje: of clase. Tbis was Danlel Bexone. He crowsel mountains. and spent that sumuer ant the $m$ winter in the West. Ilut, while he was rejowit In the abnainuce of buifulo, deer, and turk among the cane hrakes, longer heals werp me tating still that new colony, the plan of whit bal been lying in sillonece for two yrary more. The Thoard of Trule was again callyd to report apmin the application, and harl llit borough, the Prebildcut, reportud agninst it. T called out Franklln's celcbrated. Ohlo sett nuent. a paper written with mo much alidit that the klig's Conncil put by the ofliclal port, and granted the petitlou, a step whi mortlifed the noble lord so murch that he resign bls offictal station. The petition urw neald only the royal sanctlon. Which was nut give until August 14th, 1774; but in 1771), the Oh Company wae merged in Walpole's, amul, it clainis of the soldlers of $1 ; 36$ leeing acknowleted buth by tbe new Company and by goverumen ail claims were quieted. Nuthlng wus ever don however, under tbe grant to Walpole, the ler lution soon coming apon America. After th IRevolution, Mr. Walpole and hls assordates pe: tloned Congress respecting their lands, cauied them ' Vandalia, but could get no heli, from tha bouly. What was finally doue hy Vlrghina wit the clains of this and other conspanles, we it not find written. bit presume their lanis wir all lexoked on as forfeitel." $\rightarrow$ J. II. I'rerkins. Eag lish Discureriea in the OAis Villey (North Am Ree. July, 1830).
Alno in: W. L. Stone, Life and Timea of (eat. by Sparks), r. 4, pp. 2:31. 241, and $300^{2}-2 \%$ )
A. D. 1766.-Examination of Dr. Franklia before Parllament.-On the 2sth of dunuary, 1766, while the bill for the rejual of thr stamip Act was peudiug In I'ariameut, Ir. Frauklin was examinel before the llonse of Commons in Committer. The questions and answers of this very interesting examinatlon, as reported in the Parlianentary llis ory, were as follows
Q. What is 3 : ur name, nud phace of abowle? - A. Prankitin, of Ihiliadelphin.

Do the Americans pay any consldemble taxm among tienselves ?-Certalnly many, and rety heavy thees.
What are the present taxes In Pennsylvania laid by the laws of the colony :- There are a tax on all ofticro. profeselons, traden atel !us. nesses, according to their protits ; an extive otail wlue, rum, and other spirit; and a duty of ua

UNITED STATES, 1760.

ponarle per beal on all negroes imported, with onme otiser dutles.

For what purpmes aro thome taxea lald $9-$ For the support of the civll anil milliary entahlinh. munts of the country, and to lischarge the heavy delit contracted in the lat way.
liow jong are thow taxes to contInue i- Those for discherging the deht are to contlnue till 1772. and longer, If the clebt shoud not be then ali dlshargel. The oticer must aiwaye continue.
IVas it not experterl tiat the deht wonld liave been sooner dischargedi-It was. when the peace was maie wlth France and Spain ; but a fresh war hreakligg out wlth the Indians, a fresh jowi of deht wan locurred, and tife taxes, of course, contipued longer hy a new law.
Are not ail the people very able to pay those taxes :-No. Tise frontier countles, aif aiong the continent, having been frequentiy ravaged by the poeny, and grently Impoverlaiket, are able to pay very Ittle tax. Amil therefore, Iu conadicratlon of thelr dlatresses, our iate enix lawa da expersily fa vour those countles, excusing tise nuffiturs; anil I suppoee the same is done In other gevernments.
Are nut you conceraed In the management of the post office In Amerioa - les: I am deputy jrmi-nawtor genemi of Nortis America.

Ihn't you linink tike distrlinitiou of atamps, hy post, to all the Imiabltants, very practicahle, if liere whe no oppoedton i-The posts only gis tong the sum consty: tisey do not, except In a few instames, go back Into the cotntry; and if they dhl, sebding for stamps hy post would occasion an esperace of powtage, minountlage, In many caspes, to much more than that of the stamps thromelves.
Are yon aequa!nted wheh Newfoundland i-I aever was there.
Do you know wixether tiere are any post-roads on that ixiand :- I have heard that there are no madsat alf: fut timt the communicatlon between one settienent and another is by sa: only.
Can you dispense the stamps hy post In Cannia ?-There is oniy a post between Montreal and Quelsec. The lnhmbitants live so scattered and remote from cach other, in that vast country, ilint posts canuot be supported among them, sind therefore they cannot get stamps per powt. The Engilah colonien Ion, aiong the frontiers. are very iblnly setticil.
Frim the thinness of the hack settlementa Wullif aot the Stamp Act be extremely incon. venirit to the Iniabitants if executed 9 - To lo sure it widili: as many of the luhatioants coniul but get atsups when they inut cecawlon for thom withost taking jong fourneym, ani mpendilag, protips, llirev or four pounds, than the erown mizht if suxpetice.

A pe mat the coionles, frian their eirciamatances, wify uble to pmy the situpu tioty i- In my upin. lou, there is not golut add silver enough in the chlouiv to pay the nu: ap duty for one year. That gou krow that the ninney arising from lle stampos was all to be faid ont in America ? I hnow it is npproprlated by the aet to the Aucricall service: lut it wlif be spent in the rongurnid rolonies, where the soldlers are, not 4 the crolonkes that puy it.
Is thare une a benlanie of trade due trons lise monhe: where the tronps are posted, that will bring back the montey to the oid colonies ? - I think not. I believe very llttle would come beck. I know of no traile ilkely to bring it beck. Ithlak it would eome from tire colonley where it was spent dlroctiy to England; for I have alwaya observed, that in every colony the more plenty of means of remittance to Engiand, the more goonla are eent for, and the more trade wlth England carriex on.

What number of white iniahlitants do you think there are in Peonsyivania ? - I suppose there may be alout 160,000 .

What number of them are Quakera?-Per. haps a third.
What number of Germans $\uparrow$ - Perinaps another

IIave any unminer of the Germans seen service, as sollicirs, In Eumpe i- Ies, many of them, both In Europe aul America.
Are they as much disnatisfled with tio atamp duty as the Englisis i- lies, and more; and with reamn, as thelr stampe are, in many cases, to be Jouble.

How many white med do you suppose there are In North America i- About 800,000 . from I6 to 60 years of age.

What may le ticeamount of one year' Imports Into l'ennsyivania from Iritain ${ }^{\prime}-1$ have bein Informed that our mereliants compinte the innporta from Brituin to he above $5(\mathrm{~m}, 0 \mathrm{0} 0 \mathrm{l}$.

What nisy tre the aruount of the produce of your province exported to i3ritaln i-It must le amali, as we produce litile that is wanted in Britain. I suppose It cannot exceed $40,000 \%$.

Hluw then di you pay the baiance i- The balance is pald by our produee carmed to the Weat indles, and sold In our own lsianels, or to the French, &punlards, Hanes, and Jutcis; hy the wame carrled to other colonies In North Ainer. la, as to New Engiand, Nova deotia, New. foundland, Caroina, and Goorgla: hy the anme carried to different parts of Europe, as Npain, Portugal aud Itaiy. In aif whleif jiaces we receive eitier money, iblis of exchange, or commoditles that sult for remlitauce to Hrituin. whleh, together wlith ail the protitson the indus. try of our merchants and mariners, arising in thoee circuitous voyages, and the freigits made by tiseir sinps, centre tinaily in Britaln to dig charge tise balance, and pay for British manufartures contlnualiy usedi In the province, or soid to forelgners by our tralers.

Ilave you heard of ang ditticuities lately jald on the Spaniais trule o - ies, I have hearil that It has been greatiy olssirncted bysome new reguiations, and hy the Eugisin neen of war and eutters stationed ali ajong the const in Ameriea.
Do you think It right. tinnt America should be protected by this eomintry. and pay no part of the expence ? - That is not the case. The colonies raisenl, elothed and pald, Juring the last war, wearly 25, (0, men, and spept many nillitons.
Wire you not reimburam] by parliament : We were oniy reimbursed what, in your opinion, we had adrenced beyond onr proportion. or beyond islat nnigint reasonahiy be expectell from us; and It wns a very snall part of what we spent. lanayivania. in parileuiar, disbursed almut 500 , ith)N., and tite relmilursements, it the whole, did not excered $60,000 ?$.
You have salit lint you pay heayg tarea lat Pennsyifania; what do they intunt to in the pond ? - The tax on all estatis, real aud prepsonai. Is elghteen pence in the promul. fully rated: aud the tax on the protits of irudes and profemalon, with other taxes, do, 1 suppose, make full half a crown in the pound.

Do you know any thlag of the rnte of exchange in Penagivania. and whether it has fallen lately i- It is commonly from 170 to 178 . I hare heand that it has fallen lately from 175 to 168 and a half, owlag, i suppow, w thelr lemenlag their ordera for goois ; and when thelr dehis with country are pald, I thlak the exchange will probuhly le at par.

Iho not you think the people of America would sulmilt to pay the stanip duty. If It was moxlerat. ed:- No, never, unlesa compelied by force of arma.
Are not the faxes la l'enneylvania fadd on un equally. In orter to hurden the English trade, partlcularly the tax on professlons and huaineme? - it la not more burilensome in pruportion than the tar on lands. It is Inteaded, and supposed to take an equal proportlon of profita.
llow is this anemhly componedi of what kinils of people are the membera, hadholders or traders o - It is composed of landluoldern, merchants, and artificers.
Are not the majority iandholders i- I belleve they are.
1ho not they, as much as posslble, ahift the tax off from the fand, to emee that, and lay the hur. then lieavter on trade $\frac{1}{} 1$ have never underatoxil it so. I never heard such a thing suggented. And Indeed an altempt of that klod could an. awer no purpose. The mercimut or truler is always skliled In Agures, and realy with his pen and lak. If unegual burdens are lald on his truide, he puts an aldittonal price on hila gooxis: and the consumers, who are chlefly landholders. dnally pay the grentent part, if not the whole.
What wat the temper of America towaris Oreat Britaln before the year 17639 - The beat in the world. They submitted willingly to the government of the crown, and pald, in all thelr courta, obedlence to acts of parllanent. Numerous as the people ure in the several old prov. inces, they cont you nothing in forts, cltadels, gartions or armlen, to keep them in subjectlon. They were governed hy this country at the expence only of a litile pen, Ink, and paper. They were led by a thread.' They had not only a re. spect, but an affection for Great Britaln, for its faws, Its customs and manners, and oven a fond. nese for lite fashona, that greatly lacreased the commerce. Natlves of Britain were always treated whith particular regari; to be all Ohd. England man was, of Itself, a cliaracter of mone renjert, and gave a kind of rank among us.
Aul what is their temper now i-O, very much altered.
Bid you ever hear the authority of parilament to make hawa for America questioned till lately ? - The authority of parliament was allowed to be Falld $\ln$ all laws, except auch as should lay $\ln$. ternal tazea it was uever disputed in laying duties to regulate commerce
In what proportion hath population increased In America 9 - 1 thluk the lahahltants of all the provinces torether, taken at a medium. double in about 25 yenra. But thelr demand for British manufactures licreasea much faster, as the consumption is not merely In proporion to thelr numbers, but grows with the growing abilities of the rame numbera to pay for them. In 1723 , the whole importation from Mritaln to Pexisifl vanis, wa hut about 15.000 , atering ; is is now

In what light dht the people of Amerinn ui conalder the parilameat of Great Hritalm They consideref the parliament as the grome wark and cecurity of their llberties and prirlte and always apoke of it whit the utmout real and venernitiou. Arbltrury mlalaters, thought, might poesibly, at timen, attemp opprem them; hut they relied on It, that the flament, on applleation, would aiways glve dres. They rememberel, with gratitule strong Inetance of this, when a hill was brom Into parilament, with a clause to make riyni structions in ws in the colonles, whichs the Ito of Commonis would not pame, and it was this out.
And have they aot silll the aame renpirt parllament i - No; it is grvatly lesernel.
To what causes is that owlig 9 - TO a cone rence of caumes; the remiraints lately lalid on th trade, hy wheh the bringlag of forelgu guli allver latus the colonles was prevented; the pro bitlon of maklug paper money among the selves; and then demand a new and Lravy by stampm; taklng a way at the amme thme, tr hy jurien, and refualng to recelve and hear th humble pettions Ion't you think they woulf aumintt to stamy Act, if it was moditell, the cobnorio parts taken out, and the duty reducevl to son purtlculars, of small noment ? - No; they zever subnitt to it.
What do yous think is the reacon thint thep pr ple of America increase faster than in Enghand - Because they marry younger, and more gre

Why mol-liecanse ang young couplr tha are industrious, may easlly ohitalit land of the own, on which they can ralse a family.
Are not the lower ra.tis ol people more thelr ease in America than In Enytnixl 9 - The may be so, if they are solver and diligeut, as the are leitter pald for thelr labour.

What is your opluion of a fittire tax. Impuee on the sane princlple whit that of the stam Act, how would the Amerlcana recelve it :Junt as they do thin. They wouk net pay it
Have not you heasi of the resoluthon of the Hlouse, and of the Ilouse of Lards, asserting the right of parllament relating to Aimerica, includ lag a power to tax the people there $\frac{1}{-1}$ Is, Lare hearil of such resolutions.

What will be the oplulon of the Anuerians oe those resolutlons 9 - They will think tivem un conatilutional and unjuat.
Was It an oplnion lu America before 1iR3, the the parliament had no right to lay tises and dutlea there i-I nerer heard any objertion to the right of lnying dutles to regulate conmerce. but a rigit to lay laternal taxes was never supposed to be lu garliament, as we are not repre sented there.

On what do you found your oplalon, that the people in America made any such altsinction? - 1 know that whenever the sulyjert has oc. curred In converation where I have luwen prot ent, It has appeared to be the oplation of every one, that we could not be taxed lu a parliameat where we were not represeated. But the payment of dutlen lald by act of parlisment, a regulatlons of commerce, was never disputed Eiut can you umane any act of aseembly, of publle act of any of your goveraments the made auch diatinction $\{-1$ go not know that of Amerion une to Great Britala 1 as tive grat bulles and privilugen - Utmowt reapert miniaters, they imes, attempt to a it, that the par. alway give m. ith grallinde, blii wan hroughe make myal in. Which lie lluuse nd it was throwa ame tesprett for leserned. ?-Ta a romeur tely laluj on thelp forelgu goll and nterl ; the jombl. amony them and henvy has tame itme, trhat 0 and hemr thrir

Antimitt to the tife almoxlous elluced to some -No; tin'y aill on tisat the pono an in Fogland? and more grab ge couple that In innd of thelr amily.
peojple more at glaikl 9 - They Illigent, an they re tax, impmed of the Ntamp recrive It:1 nut pay li. olution of this 5 , asaertlog the merica, Indud. luere? - Ies, e Amerfeans no tink theilt va fore $1: 63$, that finy taxes and y objeralon to ate commerce, ras never supare not repre.

Inton, that the h Ilstinction? alifert liaw oce ve Invon prot inion of every 1 a parliameat Hut the payparilament, as ver dispated. nasembiy, or rements, that of know that ## UNITED 8TATES, 1 IG0.

Dr. Dration
UNITED sTATES, I7ed.
there was any: I thint there wes never on occaion to malio any much set, elli mov that you have atlempled to tat us; that has eccamboned rewiuthas of aseminjy, declaring tie dlatinction. in wheh 1 think every amenihly on the cont1. nent, and overy member in every ememlis, have been uasnimous.

What then coull occalon converations on that subject before that timn? - There was, In i73, a propoaltion made (l think it came from beace) that In case of a war, which we then apprymuded, the governon of the colonies shamil meve, and onder the levyltig of tronps, hulfing of furts, ami taking every other neces: sary sneasure for the general defeace; abil should draw on the truanary here, for the sums ex. pemied, which were afterwands to be raisel in the colonies hy meneral tax, to be laid on them by act of parliament. This occasioned a gocol dial of converation on the subject, and bie general upinion was, that the parliament neither woulh, nor could iay any taz on us, tili we were duly represented in parllanient, berause it wa on just, mor arreeahle to the nature of an Eng. fish constltutlon.
Jhn't you know there was ame in New Furk, when it was unter conshaleration to make an appllcation to parliament, to lay tares on that colouy, upon a deflelency arialng from the anmembly's rufusing or neglerthg tur raise tite neeetary atppildes for tive suppart of the civli gov. erbthent? - I never heard af it.
Thore was much ut spplication unier conslajer. atlon In Now liork; and do you appreisenis they could suppose the riglit of jarlinnient to lay a tas in sumerica Wras oniy focal, and cont? ned to the rase of a aletlelency In a partlcuiar colony, by refumal of Ita asweribly to ralac the necreseary suppili*x - They eould nut suppose such a case. as that the ausembiy wauhi not raise the necensary supplles hosujport ita owngovernment. An as sembly that would refuse it, must want comninu wne, whleh connot le supjomed. 1 think tibere was nevor any sucla cuse at New York, and that It ontist loe a inlarepreswitatlon, or the fact nust be manulerstomal. I know there bave been some sttrupte, by nelulsteriaj instructhots frum hence. to ohlige thic nsertulilles to settic prermanent sal: ries on ansernors, whleth they wisely refused to wh. but 1 in. Ifrere no assemhly of New York, or suy other colongy, ever refused duly to support guvernumbt, by proper aliowances, from thae to thane, to jublac ofllicers.

But lu case a governor, actlag by instructlon. should rall on an assembly to raise the necessary supplins, and the naseulhly shoulit refuse ta dio gimal of the freajle of it woild titels the for the gimpl in the prople of the colony, as well as nece. tasery to gowerniteut, that the parllament slowlid sury. If an nasembly think it wotlif be necessary If an nasembly couhi posslbly be wo nbsifil ins to refuse ralsing the supplles requalsite for the malationace of giovernatent among thetu. they confil mot lollig remaiu in such a slonation: the timothers and confuslan occasionel hy It. anist sumbliring them to reumon.
If it ahollid hint, ought mot the right to the In chinerion to, aupperalug it to Ine used inerejg for tiue tocel of the juople of the coionv.

But who la to juige of that, Jiritain or the colony? - Thow that feri can lwit Juise

You may the colonien have always mubuitted to e*ternal zaxes, and object to tive richt of par. Ife, fit cmily in iayint Internal tazes; now can you mi:e that there is any kimi of difierence be. tween the two taxel to the colong on whicir they may be ladd ? - I think the difference is very grati. An external tax is a duty lahl on crmmodities improftet; that duty is molijed to the triot cost, and other charges on the rommonlity, and when it la ofermi to aaje, maker a part of tie price. If the pronpie cio not jike it at that price, flary refume it; they aro not ohillgmi to pay it. Ilir an intermal tax is forced mum the people without tisir conment, if not ialil by their own reprementatives. The Stamp Act mays, we shail itave nu commerce, make no exchanje of jroperty witls encls otiser, neltiser pitrchace nor grant, nor recover delits; we shali neither nuarry nor make our WIIs, uniess wro juy guch summ, and thus it is intended to eztart our money froin us, or rula us by the consequences of refusing to puy It.

Iht supponing the internal tax or duty to lve ialaj an the necemarles of life imjurted jato your eolouy, will not tiant lue the same thing folte effectis as an internal tix? - I du not know a dagle articte imjunied into the nortisera coionles, Irat what they can elther do without or make themseives.

Than't you tlitnk cloll frou Engiami almoiuteig necemary tu them ? - No, ly mon ueans alanduteiy necesary: with lmiuatry aid gowal managenent tiuy may very weli supply themselven with ail they want.

Wilf It not eake a long time to estabiltile that manufarture anoong them; and inust thery not in the menn wible suffer greatiy - I tillik not. They have made a surprising prospeas alrendy.
 are worn out, they wilf have uew oues of their own maklng.
Can they jowalliy flat woxl enough In North Amerlea? - They have tuken stijs to lurreaso the woni. They entered luta graneral comblinas. tion to ent sul more fanth, and viry few inuly were bilibed iast your. This cuntac perslated lu, gunnity of wool. And flse costablishility of grast manufuctorios, llike thuse Jut the chothlug towns here, Is tost luecensiry, is it is where the busine is to In carricd on for the jurposer of trade. The peepple will all spin and work for themselves, ju their own hotises.

Can there Ine wiml and munufacture enough in one or two years? - In thre years, 1 tialnk. there may.
ikern not the severity of the winter, In the morthern coloules. ceceasion the worl to be af bad quality: - So. the wool is viry tine and gond.
In the more soithorn colonles, as in Virilala, donit you know that the wool is coarme. and oniy a klu! of lanir ? - I don't know It. Inever juearis It. V"'t 1 have heen somethucs in Virginin. I wonl there, hut i leillere it is gomi, though I cannot apeak positively of it: litt Vighlaia, ami the colonless mult of it, have jess occaslona for Winl: thelr winters are share, anif frit arfy severe, and they can vely well chonthe themselvi's with liuen ant cotion of thelr awn raising for the reat of the year. Are not the peopic in the more northern coin.
nle $\%$ ohllged to fodider their sheep ali the winter?

UNITED ETATES, I7en.

- In some of the manet northurn colonies they may Dobliged to do it come part of the wlater Comaidering the reaifutions of purliament as to the righe, to you think. If the Btamp Act ha peoled, tinat the Norti Americana will be cuth ded i- I believe they wili.
Why do you think wi -1 think the remolu tions of righe wili give them viry iltte ewncern, If they are never attempted to be carrlefi futo prectice. The colonies wili prubaily cunslder themeeives in the same situation, In that respect, with Ireland; they knuw yon ciaim the same Hight wheh regani to Ireland, but you pever exer. cle it. And they may lelieve yon bever wili exercimo it in the colunlem, any more than in IreIand, uities on mome very extraordinary cerasion.
But who are to be the julfere of that extrior. dibary ocramiun? is not the parilamentiThough the parliament may judgen of the ocra. don, the people wlif think it can never exerctse such rigilt, tili mprenentatives from the colonies are admitted fato parlimment, and that whenever the occuion armes, representatives will be oriered.
Bld you never bear that Maryiand, during the last war, had refused to furbisti a quota cowards the comumon defence : - Maryland ham been much misrepremented in that matlur. Marylaid, to my. knowledge, never refused to contrilunte, or grabi aids to the crown. The mambutiles every year. during the war, vuted consideralite sums, and formed bilie to raise them. The hillis were, ar corling to tie comatitution of that provincr, enent up to the councli, uf niper fioune, for crinenr rence, that they might be prosented to the gor ernor, fill orier as be enacherl intalawa U'niappy disputer between the two houser, arising froun the defects of tiant conathution jrinelpnily, ithderel all the bilis batt one ar two nlortire. The pruprietary's councll rejected them. it is trise, Slaryinal ilifl not contribute its proportion, but It was, in my uplaton, the favit of tho gerveriamable, not of the prople.
Was it mat talketi of in the etifer pravinces at aproper measure to apply to rarliamene to com pel them:-1 lave heard sucu diseourse: lmat an $t$ was well known that the jurople were not to blame, mo mucli application way ever madie, or any step takell towaris it.
Was it not propowed at a pulific meeting : Not that I know of.
Ih, you remember the aboliahing of the paper curr mey in New England, by act of amemilily iclanestis Bay
 cipally concrned in that trunsaction -1 have bearil sn, Wias it nut at that than a very unpopuiar inw? I believe it misht, thomgh 1 com say iltie alomet it, as $f$ liveri at a distance frotn that provine ilias nat the suarcity of gold and sliver au arginurnt used watinst abolishing the paper iI "ylyme it was.
What in the prement ophann there of that faw? fo it as unjwipular us it was at first ? - 1 thituk fit is mit.
lifur not instrurtions from funce been somethues sent ower to governurs, hichiy opuressive ant tanpuitical? - Yo for that reasin:- ìes, I have hemard wo.

Dhl the Amerleans ever dlapute the controul. log puwer of parilament to wogulate the com merce 1 - No.
Can any thlag wee than a military force earry the Stany Ace into executionif - do nit how military force can le appliel to that purpmee.

Why may it not 1- Aly plpoee anilitary foree cent hisi America, they will find noboly ba arna what are they then to fint They enanot force anan to uke stanym wios chums to do withaut thenl. They wili not find a rebeliton; they may Indeel make ono.
If the act is aut repenied, what do yout thinit wili be the conmequencen 1- A totai low of the reapect and affection tie peoplie of Americas beap in chis country, and of all she commareve that de. pronis on that respert and affection.

IIOW rat the commerce be affectenl i-Yn will ond, that if the art in not real ui, they will take very little of your manuf. in io a ahort time.
Is it in their power to do whiter. fi. If-l think they may very well do will
Is it cheir intereat not to $t$. goole they take from Mritain an anfies, mero conventencien, of su frat, cloth, de. with a little i.
make at home. the a a llie i.
es. Th 111 th tili they are shife an provite them anoug them wives; and the last, which ape much the preatex part, they wili serike of imumediately. Thery an mere nricien of fashlion, purchamed and consumed, Ixcramme the funtion in a rempecteci vorna. try, but will now is detested and rejected. The people have alfesily struck off, by feneral agree. memt, the use of aff gionts lashionabiel lu nurura inks, ant many thousand pounds worth are ent burk as unaniewbie.
in it their interest to make cloth at homer -1 think they may at prement aet it cheapor frum of worknausitip; but when one conaili.er other circumantances, the reatraluts on their traile, and the difticnity of making remitiances, it is their interent to make every thing.
suppownan nct of internai reguintions con necied with the tax, huw woulif they merive it? - It hink le wonlid be olijecterl ta.

Then mo regulation with a tax womhd $\mathrm{I}_{\mathrm{x}}$ sub mituent to: - Tiarir uphinen ls, that when abis to the crown are nantest, they are to lee asket of the several asembilles arroriling to the oll es tablisherl asige, who will, as they have ulways dune, grant them froly. Amet thint the formerg ought bun to ine given a way, withont therir mo.
 their circumstancem and abilities. The krantiog ahis th thee crown, is the only means thry hare and thy think it cretremely hard and unjust that a buniy of melu. in which ther have me repre fug athi granting what is uot fix own Ims thete and depintras them of a rigit they esterm of the of all their wither rights.
Hat is not the pest atilee, wheld they have fotig recelved, a hax as well ux a regulation? - No.
 of the natire of a tax: it is mesply oluantum nerruit for a serviler doner : no prown is roma pellabie to pay the money, if he does nut chuse

UNITED ATATES, 186,  robminalion  af dr. Onantion  U'NITED TATES 1700

to recelve the eepvice, a man may athl, im be lore the ext, eend bls leshen by a servmat, a speclal renseager, or a friend, If te thlake It cheaper and metr.

But dey they unt comminer the refulationg of the pont oftice, hy the act of latit year, as a tas:By the regulations of lant yeur the rate of poseagr whe remenily abaterl near thirty pry rent through all America; they certalaly cannot mos. dider nuch abatement an a tan.
if an exclue wat iald by parliament, whleb they might litew lwo arodd paylog, hy not cuamamir the articles exclued, would they then not abjes (u) lt i- They woukd certainly ohject to it, sa fider is uncuanected wlth any wervice donf, and farrely an alif which they think ought to to wied of them, and granted by them If they are to pay Is, ame ran be grauted fore them. hy mot others whimorver, whom they have not impow. und fur tiat firpoue.

You may they do not object th the right of partiament, in lnying cirtien on goode to tre mati on thelr imjortation; now. It there any kind of diference letween a duty on the Imporfation of gonde and an exciaw on their consumption? les, n very materlal one an excolve, for the pra. anms I hare just meathomet, they tilak you can have no right to lay withla their cotintry. Ifite the wa is yours: yout maintain, hy gour fertm, the adrety of uavigation in It, and keep It clear ef plratew; you may have therefore a nato, i, equitable right to wome foll or duty on me dizes carrimf through that part of your donsme fons. towaris tiefraylns the expence you aro at to shpp to maimiain the mafely of that carrlates.
thems thls reasoming holid in the cuse of a duty laid on the pronhere of their lande exportait? Ant wound they nut then object to surli a duty - If it temiad to make the prondice san buch dearer abromil an :n bessen the derathl for It, to be nure they woulsi olojeret to such n iluty; mot to your right of lay bug if bat they woulif cour plain of it as a hurit ami petiton you to fighten It.
la but the duty preid on the tubacen exported dury of that kind - That, I think, la oniy on

 Wig the colle ke al Whllamenturgh. In Virglama
Have not the ansemblles in the Wimt Indios the sutne nabural rightw with those Iu North Amer les: - indurble:liy Abil is thorne mit a tax lakd there one their oligan exported:-1 an mot mowh nerpualuted with the Weat lowiow, lant the dinty of fenur anif a Hese, grantend by theif own assumble's.
litu mueh in the jubll tas in your prosince lahit in unmarricil ment - It ls, I think, tifteren shillings, to in. paifi by every ningle frewtant. upxanis of thenty whe yeara ohl
What in the aunual amount uf nll the taxes in ling

Suppeligs the Stanp Act conthami, and en farrent, dis you inngine that lif buifa ar will in dince the hlteriouns to ghore ge mach for worse manffacture uf their awn :th, we the n. prefer canther, therr rewitheat as their prife.

Wonhl the [awhle at Ikentoa dismontinne thelr trade : - The meriliauts are a very smalt :unat.
bet ecmparal with ite boriy if that par ple, and muat dlacontlaut shemt are, if subamly will buy thete exwals.
 ales i- They afe farmers, huw timen of plantet

Wistidid they sufter thes Jponlure of therif latiols to rot i- In; lat they whlal not rale! month. They would manufncture Parre, and plongh teme Woulhi tixy ilve without the :uminimetration of fustice in civil matters, and sufta? all the incon. ecenlencles of such a atuation for any conmklera. ble time, rather than take the stampe, anppoming the stamps were protectenl by a nithefont force, Where every one might huwe is. in . 1 t. nis the mapponition impracticablate, thas we itnoups shuld be on proteted as that every one mishit have thent. The Art rejuiters ablidimethutore to in appolnted les estry county town, diatriot, and vllisge, and they wisth be gerowsary. Ilui the priacipal dintsthutorm. who ve tu haye had a consilimble preiti on the whule. have not thouglat it wortis wifle to rontione lit the effice.
 di to be trunted, whe for the erilliag fis ait that and pan the hizaril that waulal attend le, and if they cran! I he fotuiti, I think it impractical oo to pristert ilio staniju In se masy dlatant alz ro. mote plac to any what they whal.t tha $\mid 1: 4$ owle judige what other peryple will think, abl lous it w wlil act, hy what I feel whithon uybelf. I lownetngrent many delles dat to ine ta Aloterien athl flad law thun submit to tra -amu' A.' Thoje wili he dahte of honour. It in suy ryinion the peryde will titier contimue in thai situation, or flod wire way to cxitionte themelves for rhajw liy generally nizereing to procterl lu the courts w thit nut staups.

What ilo yels liank a suttidewt military force te proter the ilineribution of the atampy In erery part of Anturfen - I very groat form; I can. bat any What, If the" "liapuativert of Anierlca is fur a general realat ".

Wint is the nuastur of mon in Anterima able be laurarms, of of diwiptisell millita? - There are, ifurprese, at loast [Unestion objected to. If, withlrew. (ntenl in ugain.]
is the Amoriconstismul Art un equal tax on that conntry ? - 1 think tut.
Why mo - The gre atest part of the thonery mast arla from law white fur the recorery of Who wrepe ton purt aisily to pay thelr dehta. It in therefore a luayy tax un the phar, and a tax apen them for lebine jower.
But will fut thly larreame of expence twe a menas of lesening the nimber of lawsilts :- 1 think nut: fur as the consta nill fall upon the thehtor, and are to be palif by him, they would le' no dincenragement tuthe creiltor to hritig his '40tholl 1anry ? - Yea, an an -ppore ahs e? lie debtor llow many hifa aid ibe p. whli sunually in North Anserice whil tias erat for irelan! :-I cannot speak to the uazaber of ships, but Kknow that in 1783, 10,000 hogehende of tax or ed, each contalning teven huahels, were exporied from Philadelphis to Ireland. I suppose the quantity is greatly lncreaced alnce that time: and it is undertuood that the exportatlon from New York Is equal to that from Philiodelphla.

Enamination
What becomen of the fax that grows with that fax eedi - They manufateire some into coarse, and tome lato a milddling klad of llinen. Are there any allting nillia in America ? - i think there are three, hut I belleve only one at present employed. I suppoee they will all he eet to work, if the Interruption of the trade con Inues.
Are there any fulling mills there? - A great many.
Ifi you never hear that a great quantlty of atorkligs were contracted for, for the nrmy. during the war, anil manufuctured in Phlaricl. phla i - I have heard so.
If the Stamp Act sloould be repealed, would not the Americans think they could obilge the parlament to repeal cvery external tax law nuw In force ? - It la land to answer questlona what people at such a illstance will think
But what do gout Imaglue they will thlak were the mutivea of repeniling the Act ?-I suppore they wlll thlnk that it wha repealed frome n eonFlatlon of ite Inexperliency; nanl the owil! rely upon it, that whlle the suine inex;eelieury sutb. alata, you will never attenpt in make aurli nuther.
What ilo you mean by lts Inexperllency :-1 mean Its Inexpreliency ou mevenal arcunats; thr" poverty and lashillty of these who were the pay the tax: the genrral iflurnotent it ham measloned anil the lonpractleability of enfurclug lt.
If the Act should lxe repersled, and the hegisla ture alouthl dhew lis resentment to the opposers
 In the authority of the leglalature? What is sour uphillon they would doy-1 donit douthe at all, that if the legislatire reponal thr staup A.t, the cohsoles will scymiesce in the muthorli:
But if the Ieplaliture sluuld think tle thianer. taln lta right to lay taxex, hy aty net laybig a smath inx, conetrary to thelr ajilulein, wonlid thy shbmit ter byy the tax - The proverelings of the bies have Ireot sers diferent from thene of the unelis, aml shonth lix distlirgulshed, as haviag bo coburetion with each chiner. The masenublem have their rightes they lane nut bulto afort, ratimedia nuan, us previliled a krain of anumumition, in undir to surb chpucation. The ringlesaders of rlen they entione in thav heghatine: I think It will never Ix. nilmittedi tor Thy whi oppxawe it to the for suit to raine mother on thero hy your taxien therame they are, athid niways lai io lexin, realy to Prybintioul frout the "rown - They lave Inet valy grauted repuid to their alibitiow, but, lurfag all the last war, they granted far heyoni thr ahilities, and beyond thelr proportion with thil country, you yournelvee heing juiges, to the amount of many hundred thoueand poumils, ani thla they did freely and readliy, only on a aurt of promise from the ereretary of atate, that it ahould be recommended to parliament to makr. thems compeneatlon. It was accorlingly recommerwiel to parliament, in the ment honouralile namatr for them. America has bren greatly muarppere rented and ahused here, in papers, and pam phlets, and apeeches, as ungrateful, anul unira sonable, anil unjust, to having put this uation to Immense expence for thelr defence, and roning to bear any part of that expence. The celonita ralseel, paid, asd clothed, near 25,000 mand diriog the last war, a number equal to 'hoose sent from Britala, anil far treyond thelf proportient: they went deceply Into debt In dolng thla, and all their taxes and catates are mortgagml, for many yars to conse, fur illseharglug that nelot. thisern ment here was at thit ilme very menulihe of that The cohoul en were recommentiel to parimacme. Every year the King ment dowu to the Ilumes writen nesagage to thala purpome. That his Mas Jexty, belog hiykly senalble of the oral and America hal exerted themselvers, in defenee of his Majeaty's just righta ant poscxumions, Fowm mendem it to the lloume to taki the satme lato coualiliration, ant conalele him tol pive them a proper comspenas, lon. Yious will thd themem mes aagea on yimir own journals every yenr of the was to the very hast, acel youl did accomblinely gire

 In auch compurisatiott tu ther collunies this is the serongent of a!! jemofs that the collonion far from thelug unwillogg to bear a Nhare of the bur den, difl excreal their propurtion: fur if ther! hat cuntprositicos. Intleevl the sumes ritintureal sucerelignix ajprolvothot of therir zatal and matelits. and the approblation of this Hollas, far Im:aided nay cther kimi of conlunusitiun; there fure ibete

 muney for the purpuse of the art, tor requisertion sidererel.

 tribille to the shlpert of it 9-1 dio lliak they mit They consider thermell ex na a path if the prodproty if this mation noll whilo :mat 1

 yontarmy It hatrac carthagena iv la . Wampa bit an rivione from the morthers conlonio a io if it of rams, as to their dinty if asalstlag lit hater rtion with this judges, to the if pountls, and liy on a sort of that it nhould a make them recomamerald rablie mannet? atiy miturejure. ra, and pamIf, aud unfra. this nation to Mad rólusing Tibe crlonire 0 nuen dioniag we s.int frum portlent; ther 3, and all theit or thany yiars bit. Cinivers. nwillhe of thle " parlianent. tife flomer「inat h/4 Ms. tive roal and cets In North in defoline of wions. rwom lov surtie lato glve therm I theren mes. ar of ther was mlingly gire " Alar ributal is J. Ihis is culuhtiva. fat wi the bur rif the! hid - Jrijuirtuma 1 re:raxil fot ricintoutwd 1/he - II witue 9: lint lbur round thert and thlolit! far ln: lubu ri fure thime
 Nol liftra raynorlema willug and he int

I know the last war is commonly apoke of here at enterci into for the defence, or for the make of the peopie of America, I think it in quite min. umiershood. It began about the limitis between Capads and Nova Scotia, sbout territorien to which the crown indeed laid claim, but were not claimed by any British colony: none of the lands had been granted to any cotonint: we had therefore no particuiar concern or intereat in that dispute. As to the Ohin, the contest there began about your right of traliag in the Indian coinatry, a right you had liy the treaty of Lirpecit. Which the Freach infringed: they epized the traders and their goods, which were your manif. factures: they took furt witicis a company of your merchants, and their factors and correspondents, hail erected there wosecure that tradc. Bradilock was ment with an ariay to re-take that fort (whilh was lookeri on here as another in. eromeliment on the King'n terriong) and to protret jonr trmale. It wan not tili after his difeat that the colonies were attacked. They were before in perfect peace with both French and Indians; the troops were nut therefore ment fur their flefence. Tise trade with the Indinns, thongh carried on in America, is not an Ameri. cau luterrest. The perple of Americas are cincetly farmers aud pianters; scaree any thing that they the Indlans. The Indian trule is a Britlah Interent; It is carrieri on with llitisis manufacturess fir the proitt of Britlals merciames aud manus facturers: therefore the war, as it comnenemd for the diffence of territoriem of the erown. the priphrty of Es, Amerionn, anil for the defence of a trile purvly liritish, was really a lritisla war - anal yot the perfile of America male bus erraple of coutribatigig their utmost towarls carrytig it ob, and briughtg it to a liappy cont. clusinis)

Ih, you thitak then that the taking poaseation of the Kingen territorlal rights, und st rengt levifug the fronthers, Is but un Imericun Interent? - Siot iurticularly, lut conjolutly British and an Arererimu finternat.

You wlif suit deby tinat the procrifing war. the war with sjath, wan evtered futtu fir the wake male In the ducrican mens ? - liex; captirem uf allph emreylug ou the Itrithat trule there, wlit Britioh mamufacerfer.
Wis hat the late war whlt the Indinas, since
 - Vía it was nume partionlarly for Amerfiai or pemains of the formar war, tite intinats nut luviti low tharoughty puelficif, and the Ameri mone it wis grat an enal to be tive army untier

 ,

 tinjoment to their movistance fruin this conntry Athl twh it lwo Ifallght merementy now tol melind thedian for thelt hefreme from them difminisheri populous, and so trong? There in not the least occaskn for it; they are very sbie to defead themseives.
Io you ay there were no more than 800 regu. lar troops empioyed in the late Indian war? Not on the Uhio, or the frontiers of Pennayivania, which was the chief part of the war that affected the colonies. There were garrmons at Niagars, Fort Detroit, and thone remote post kept fur the aske of your trade: I didiluot revkinn then, but I belleve chat on the whole the numLer of A merticans, or provincial truops, employed In the war, was greater than that of the fogu In the war, whs greater than that of the roguiars. I ant not certain, but I thalnk so, 1ho you thilak the asemblion have a rigit to ievy money on the suhject there, to grant to tite crown i -1 certainiy think eo; they have aiwnys done it.

Are tiey acquainted with the Decincation of IRghis: and do they know that by that stathte, money in nut to lie raimerl on the aubject but by conselt of parimment ? - Tincy are very well meyunluterd with it.

Ilow tiken can they think tirey have a rigite to livy money for the crown or fur any otiser titan iocui purpones - They unferutand that clanme to relate to subjecta onfy witiln the reaim; that no monery can le kevlefi on them for the crown, init ly comsent of jurllament. Tlie colonies are not muppracyl in ike wition tine reaim: tirey have nomemblies of thrir own, which are tielr parila. meetis, ami they arc, in that resperet, in the mane sltuation witio Ireland. When monery is to lwa enimeri for the crown upmon the subject lif irelnai, or in the colonies, tive consent is given in the par. ifnemest of lrehand, or in tive ases 'ulblion of the colonles. Tirey think the parlinnent of tirent 13ritajn cannot properly give that consant tili it has roprementintives from Ancriota, for the Pioti

 A mierice laspe mo repredentisivia in pirinment, to nuke a part of thint comumom conment.

If the Sitamp det alamil tre ripailal, ami an net mlanidi pasw, orlerfing lare assernhlles of the woulif they olvey it \% - That is a question i canunt abywer Aitinme the King whulii rojuire the monles to gronta nevenure, unl 'he parlimment abouhi ise ngalust their ching it. ... thry think tivey can grant ar revouc to the Klay, nilloutt the consent of the parlionarnt of (ircont itritain?-That in a think inver.If at limerty th do it, anif shoulel fo it, If 1 likmil the ow citalont.

Whan money hiss lyen ruiseri in the colonies, upon rupuivithols, fits it not Ineen granterl tot tae

 raiw. clithe, and gaj troxpm, nui mut fur inoney inly.
if the act dhomiti pass, reguiting the iturrican

 Whatel they then othey It - The geople will jtity inouts lise atmateri, tiey wili take the inntior Jito cornadiceration. and If it la fight to le done, they wIII do it uf themselver.

Do not letters often come lato the poas officee In America, directed lato some laland town Whers no post gees y - Yee

Can any private pernon take up thowe letters and carry them at directed $i$ - fes; any friend of the permon may do It , paylag the postage that hat sccrued.
But must not be pay an additlonal pontage for the diatance to such an Inland town 9 - No.
Can the poit-master answer dellyering the letter, whithout belng pald sueh additiona! postage i -Certalnly lie can demand nothlag. where he Suppowe a person, helog far from home, anila a letier in a pont othee directed to hlm, and he ll res In a place to which the poat generaily goes, and the letter is directed to tbat place, whll the post-master dellver hlm the letter, wlithout his paylog the postage recelvell at tbe place to whleb the letter Is directed? - Yes; the office wananot denand pewtage fur a letter that lidoee not carry. or farther than lt does rarry Ic.
Are not ferrymen in Americi, ohllged, by act of parlinment, to earry over the posta without pay $\mid$ lea
Is not thle a tax on the ferrymen ${ }^{1}$ - They do not conslder it as such, as they have an advantage from permons trarellug with the prost.
If the siamp Act shoulif tre repraled, and the crown slmout make a requistiton to the colonles for a sum of muncy, wonkd they grant lif-1 bellere they wonlal.
Why do you thlak mo i-I can aponk for the colony I Itre In: I hat It In Instruction from the assembly to asaure the minnstry, that as they always hat done, so they should always think $h$ their duty to grant such alds to the crown ax were sultabe th their circumstances mil abillites, whenever callerl apon for the purpuse. In the nsunal constitutlonal manner; anil I had the bonour of communlcallag this instruction to that bon genthenuan then minister Would they do this for a Britimb concern; as suppose a war la sune part of Einmpe, that dill not affert them - Y Yen, for any thing that concernel the general Intereat. Tbey consile rthemselres am a jart of the whole.
What is the usual cwastitntomal manner of calling on the colonles for alds y - A letter from the secretary of state.

Is tbla all you mean, a letter from the meretary of state? - I mean the ususal way of requisithon, In a evroular letter from the secretary of state: by hls Majesty's command. Felthg the orcaston. and recommending it tu the colomlea to grant such nitis as lnecame their loynity, wal were nalt. abhe tu their abilltiom

Dhl the meretary of atate ever write for mones for the crown: - The requisitions have beere to ralse, chothe. mut pay men, wheh caumot le done Whent meney Wiuld theig erant money alone. If called on -In my upiaton they woild, monry as well as ne.us, whes they hase mondy. or can prowure it.

 reasinthons ? I think wot Before there was aty thought of the stamp Act, thl they what tor it represemtation ha partion bon't yut know that there is, in the lermaxy! vania eharter, an threas peservation of the right of parlliment wh lay taxes thise el I kuow there is a claun In the charter, by which Kigg grants that he will levy no taxes on Inhabltants, unles it be wlth the consent of aecembly, or by an act of pariliament.
How then coukd the amemhly of I'ennayivan asert, that hylng a tax on them by the Nitem Act was an infringement of thelr righta?. They unierstand It thus: by the mme chart and otherwise, they are entilled to all the priv Jeges and libertlen of Eaglishmen; they find the Great Chartern, and the Pettlon am! Itela atlon of INghts, that one of the priviliges o English subjecta is, that they are not to be tave but by thelr common consent; they have there fore relled upon It, from the arat settlenento the province, that the parliament never would nor could, by colour of that clave in the chay Lיr, assume a right of taxing them, till it he quallibel itself to exercise such right, by minit ting reprewentatives from the peopples to be taxed who onght to make a part of that common ron sent.
Are there any worla in the charter that juatify that construction i - The common rlghas of Engllahmen, as declared by Magna the Pettlon of Hight, ull jusulfy It.
Ineas the distinction between Internal amil er. ternal laxes exint in the wonle of the charter ?
No, I belleve not. No. I belleve not.
Then may they not. by the same interprets. tlon, object to the parliament's right of exiernal taxalloni - They never have hifherto. Many arguments luave been litely used here to shew them that there is no dlffrence, and that if you have mo right to tax them Interually. you have none to tax them externally, or mink: way mbet Law to blmi them. At preaent they la moin reasma mo) int In time they may possilly be conslaced by these argunenta.

Iho not the resolutions of the l'enussifania aseemblles say, all taxes? - If they dii, they newn only internal taxes: the satme wirtis hare not ulwuys the same meantug luere annd th the colunicx. By taxien they mean hiterual tases, by dathes they nean cushoms; these are the filras of the langnage.
Ilave youn not seen the remoluthons of the Mas. suchaneti's luy nesemhy ? - I have.
The they not say, that netther extermal nor in. termintaxes can be inhl on them by perllatamat - I don't know that they da: I helleve mol.

If the rame tax sloonld may wither tax ner luppostlon could tive tald, dexes mot that provime I suppuse that by the wonl inimaitinn. Hiser:- to huportevt, ns regulatons of cutumerer:

 thliggs, as haprestlux of ncin, or of caltiages yuarterhge tropes off pirlute lammes, ind the like: there may le great Ingobithote that ate mes properly taxes.
Is thit the pimat uflice mate an intirnal tax lakil pay taxes:-Ni, crephally; the frumitir parts.

 greatly thentherl by that means, want thif fore.
 wis.
 of what favonrs are necemary: - The jullis:
hy wilch the oraxes on the nent.
IPennaylvana hy the sitamp thelr rights? same charter 0 all the privi. ; they flind in on and Iherkr. priviluges of not to be laved ey have there. settleurent of never wormil e In the char m, tlll It had ght, hy wimh. le to be taxed, conmon con er that juatify out rights of a Cluarta, and terual and ex. he charter :-
ne interprets. ht of external berto. Many hers: to shew l that if you iy. you have ske any othe? do not reason be comslaced

Peutisy Iranla "ey din, they worta hare * ated in the nal lakes, br e the ideess of of the Nas. mod nor in. prarllaturnt: vire mot. In.t lax mer luat forilher Y thither?ion. Hicy do ide ont conds Hexan man! of cartiges. $+\%_{0}$;and the that atre tes mont have aupponed It, hy elaiming a Heht to make tax lawe for America; I thlak it impromihle.

Wouid the repeal of the Stamp Act be any discoursgement of your manufactures? Wili the people that have Logun to manufacture decline It ? - Yes, I thlak they wlll; eapecially If, st the same thme, the trade is opened agaln, 60 that remlitances ean le eadily made. I have knowu eeveral lastances that make it probable. In the war kefore last, tobacco lvelag low, and making littie remittauce, the people of Virginia went generaliy Into family manufactures. After. wards, when whacco hore a better price, they returned to the use of British manufactures. sin fuling milis were very mich slisumed In the last war in Pennsylvanin, berause bllis were ther plenty, and remithances conill easily be made to Britain for English eloths and oflier gouds.
If the Stamp Aet shonld be repeated, wounl It induce the ansemblies of Amerim to acknowl. culge the right of parliament to tax them, and would they erume thelr remolutions 9 - No, never.
In there wo means of obliging them to erase those remolutions 9 - None, that I know of; they will wever do It, uniess compelial by force of arms.
Is there a power on enrth that can force them to ersme thein ? - No power, how great soever, can firre men to change their oplalons.
Ito they consider the powt ofliee as a tax, or as reguliethon - Not as a tax, hut as a regulathon ani couvculency; every amsembly eneourageil it. and supportodit in lis lufaney, by grauta of money, whleh thry would not otherwlse have done: and the people have always palil the pmestage.
When didy yout revelve tha lnatruction yous mentioned:-I hrought them with me, when I cane to Fingland, alout 15 inonths slines.
Whol did yon conmunicate that lustruetion to the mhinter - forn after nuy arrival, whilie the stamping of Aunerian was under conshleration. sul before the Ilill was bromylit In.
Would it lee most for the Interest of Great Britaia, to employ the liminds of Virginia Int to.
 surs.

What used to the the pride of the Anericans t - Tu fululye ln the fushiona and maminctures of Creat Iritain.

What ls mow their pride ? - To wear thelr ohl chethes wer ugaln, tilf they enn make new ones. Lum Whairn w.-Iirlimmentary Jistory of Eing.
 funtly says that there was no cevent in Frankiln's He whath enditable to his taleuts amb eharmeter.
 cratulation lefore the llonse of Comminas. IIf farther shetroent, however, that Franklin's ansur re were given whlonit premevilathon and Githout kiowicg Ix forehand the nature or form uf the quasthet that was to Ine put, is a flition tom swopige In a metmonimdum whelef rronklin save to a friond who wharel toknow hy wionn the serconl ftrevtious were put, lee almitterl that metay ucreput hy fricmis th iraw out in answer thenshlijert. "-I. Hiselow, life of lherginumi" Finsilin, r. 1. p, Nit, fiwt note.
A. D. 1766, -The repeal of the Siamp Act and passage of the Deciaratory Act.-Speech of Pitt, - ..The firenville Mhomiry land fallen in Rockingham; and Conway, who had been one of the few opponente of the Stamp Act, was now Secretary of State for the Colonles, , . The dtamp Act had contributed nothing to the downfall of Grenville: It attracted so Ittile attentlon that It was only in the last days of 1765 or the first days of 1766 that the new ministers learnt the views of Pitt upon the suhject: It wan probahly a complete surprise to them to learn thit It had hrought the colonles to the verge of rebelion, and la the first months of thelr power they appear to have been quite uncertaln what polley they would purnue.

on December 17, 1705 , anl the arliament met different partles. Was apeedlly dicclosed the difterent partles was speedlly diclowed. A powerful Opposltion, led hy Grenvilte and Beds. Torl, strenuously urged that no relaxation or In. dulgence shoulli be granted to the coloniata.
Hitt, on the other hand, rose from hia slek-bed, and In speeches of extriondlnary eloquence, and Wheh proluced an amazlag effeet on both alies of the Atlantle, he justlfied the resistance of the coloniste "一W' E, II. Lecky, Hist. of England in the 18th Century, ch. 12 (0.8), - The following Is the main part of the speech delivered hy I'tit (not yet matle Inrl Chatham) on the 14 tht of January, 1766, as Imperfectly reported: "It is my oplulon, that this klnglom han no right to Iny a tax upon the colonjes. At the same tlme, I nssert tho authority of this kingiont over the colonies to be sovereign and supreme, In every eireumstance of govermment and leglajation whatanever. They are the mbjects of this kInglom: equally entliferl wilh yourselves to all the natural rights of mankinil and the peru. Har privileges of Englishmen: equally bound by Its laws, and equally partlelpmoligg in the conat. tution of this free conintry. The Amerlcans are the sons, not the loastants of Englaml I Taxn. thon If no part of the governlug or legisiative jower. The tax mare a voluntary glft and grant of the Commons alone. In legishithon the three emtates of the rowiun are alike concerned; hut the concurreare of the peers ninl the (rown to a tax is oniy necessary to clothe It with the firm of a law. The giff anil graut la of the ('ommons alone., . When. . In this llouse, we give and grant, we glve aud grant what la our own. But in an Ancerlean tax, what ilo wo llof 'We, your Majesty's Cinmuons for Great Hrlain, glve and graut to your Mnjesty whint Gur own property I Nol We plve and grant to yonr Majesty the property of your Mifesty's commons of Imeries! It fo an nhmurility in termes. . . There is an him la mome that the coulonh's are virtually repreaented in the Ilonse: I womlil fala know by whmenan Amerilimin is reprosented leve. Is he representell by any knight of the shife, lin any county lu this kligglomit Wonalil to (Bul that rempectable rep. rowntation wis mu&beutel to a greater number It will you toll hin that he Is representell hy athy rejresentatlop of $n$ lorough ? a lemongh whleh, promps, its uwn representutlves hever sarv ! Thls in what is eulleal the rutten part of the ('unstintion. It ennant conthme a ceutary. If it dines not drop, it must be amputateil. The: hilea of a virtaral reprosentathon of Americia in this Ilouse is the memt contempthble liferit that ever colteral fito the heral uf a man. It lin's mit Aeserve us merious refntathon. The (ommonas of have ever lweu In the promession of this, their conatitutional right, of glving and granting their own money. They would have been alaves if they hal nit enjoyed it I At the same tlme, this kingdom, as the supreme governing and legisiathe power, has always bound the coloriles by her laws, ly her regulations, and restrietions in trule, In navigation, In manufactures, lin every thing, except that of taking thelr money out of their porkets whlthout their ronsent. Ilere 1 would draw the llne. . . (ientlemen, slir, have been ehargeyl whth giving blith to sellition in Ameria. They liave apoken thelr mentlonents Whth fructom agalnst this uniappy act, and that freedom lasa iveconse thils erime. sorry I am to hear the llisert of speet hear the liserty of speerif fin this IIonse Imputed as a crime. But the Imputaton shall not dis. eminge me. It is a lliverty 1 mean to exercilse. No gentleman ought to he afralad to excrolse it. It is a liberty ly wheh the gentleman whin calunualntes It inglght huve profted. Ile onght to have deslated from hils project. The gentlenuan tells no Amerlea project. Thatinate; Anenticealmont in open relellhon. I rejolee that Ameriea has resisted. Tíree millions of people, monerica to all the ferelngs of liberty as soluntarily to suimite to ixe sin ves, woulh have been tit Inatru. ments to make shares of the rest. accrosklonn of Klue Wiliiamest. . . Sl sce the monse of grent, others of more, many ministers. have inken tiue leuh of government. . . None of these thumght of even dreansed, of rothing the culoniry of thelr eonstituthmal rights. That was reserdey! to nark the era of the late admianistrathon. Nint that thete were wanting onve. when I hat the honor to serre his Mnjexty, to propase to twe to bum luy fingers wifh an American stampact. Witio the enemy at thelr lanck, with oin myonets at thelr brevists, lit tive day of thelr diverness. perhajom the Amerleans womld hare sulimitted to the imjoustion; hat it wonld have inern taklog an bugeryerons, an but. fust mivamage: The gentlennan ixamaty of his temtend thaliy for the lanelit of tials kiandom? If they are not, he has misapplleel the mational stand nip fur this king fome I matntain thant the Purliament has a right to lifnil. to rest rith . Amerlen. Our lexisintire power ower the colondes ls soverolpa mad sulpreme. I Wiold molvise every fark fur tiat country. When two comaties are comee beil hogether like Englaud and ha r colonares, Whitiont $1 x$ oing Incerporated, the one must neres. sarily gevern. Thit grenter mose rule the less.

Thue zentheman haks. When were the colio. ules conem ipitely I lexire fuknow, when were Whict 1 hald the humer uf serving his Majoraly, I availeal bilself of the means if information Which I larivel from uy ntlle". I sperak, there.

 This is the fund that carrical yont trinnophinitly through the fast war The ishaters tint were Yeary ago, nre at there thonsemt at prowat Thuse catates solil then from lifterin & wighteen years purchase; the mame may now be mill f iblity. Yoll owe this to America. Thla is it price America pays you for her protectlon. In shall a miserable finaneler come with a buma that he can hring 'a pepper.corn' Intu flur + t chequer by the lows of millions to the nation? dare not may how much higher theme profits ma le nugmented.

1 am convincerl oun othe grounds that the commerelal systern of A murif may be altered to mlvantage. Tou have propit Itei where you ought to have encouruycul. Im have encouragel where you ought tu inver pro hibitel. Improper reatralnts have Ineyly lail ur the continent in favor of the islindas Sont liare but two natlonst to trade wheti In A merlen. Wiuld you had twenty) Let nets of Pariinment lu rind equence of treatles remmint but let nut an Finglish minhater become n euxtum-loulwe thite for Spala, or for nuy fonugn jow orr. Murlis is wrong! Much may be amenderd for tine krural grond of the whole? A groat denll hat wen A groat denl hatherat sali whinut doons of the power, of the strengen of Americu. It Is a topler that onghite tor be caut thously mevdilled with. In $n$ goond caluse. on a America tue nomas. I know tire valur of gisur troops. I know the skill of your officere. There Is not a company of fint that luss sorverl in America, out of which yoti may mit plick in man a governor of a colony there. That on this grimad. on the Stamp Aet, whefis many herer will think a crylng lujustler, I am one who whll lift up wy inamis agginat it. In mich a cause yum muino fall llke thee strong man; whe would collorace the pllars of the state, and pull dowat the Conatifuthon along whith ber. Is thif your honstedpame mot to slieathe the sworll In lta scahbiant. Init to shenthe it fin tho inwels of your countrymen? The Americans have not acteal la ail thitage with prodence and temper: they have hroll n fungel Wild you punlain them for the maduequy yon have come Ilrst from thls shle: I wilh undertake for Almeriva thut she wlif follow the c- Darapte What is my "phingon. It ls that the stamp tre te this comatry wer the colonios ixe mex.thet in as strong troms as can ine dif-viseld, and han mate to extemin loevery peilat of hegiviathus what uxter: that we may himd lletr trade, centhue their masey.

 cacelt that of taklag thelr meney orat of that "~were defended lat tise strongest terms hy land ther yrueral right of togishathon, mat shat tass:is The reprewemathen are neurally inse baral he The task of the minlsters las slonliue with the mojority of them dowined andertey ther rijwi of gartlex had compelieni Rew kinghan to hartude to now be moll fir a. This in the rotecthon. with a bunat $n^{\prime}$ I Intu the ts . the natinn? cme protite may Incell oll other cin of Anerima mis len ve provilib. mirugend. linu ht tu hare pror ce lueyt laid wo ds. Youn linge nerlest Wiluid Thement lin ut $\mathrm{I}=1 \mathrm{t}$ nit m-honsw oflict W.r. Murh is fur the Estural derel lias lwen of the strengith yhe tol le cauCHIM, un a metry crucrid valier of your flleres. There thas :m.rvicl in It plek an mas tenter ta make on thin grount wri, will think 1il lift up my Youtr miltiou dic ferll. whuld 1 cmbrare the ther C ingmitu mintod pemre hbard, hea to trymen? 11 thinges mith

 h!̣ Injurtiar wis you have anil tempus entertake for tallithe an fli• Ituras 4:amp dre le inunntilatrys. *ignex, 11 nis mindiphe: mutherity of whertex in ss 1 l 4 . made to Whathervery: - Herir masy. "hatewitr m: 1 it thats iproveratition ir.w of ling mis ly land I repitatict finded uavits hat lavation urade 4 with thax Tisk lir nilurai ut of hing. the Inmilite of 4, ine luder wr Berrington and Northiagton, who were all atroag adrocate of the caxation of America. In aidiliton to all these dititicultes the mialiters hal to deal with the exasperation which was produced in I'arila. ment by the coatlauas outrages and lanults to whleh all who repremented the Binglinh Government in America were exposed. Thelr polley ounslisted of two parts. They asoerted fa the atrongist and most unreatricted formin tho aver. elgny of the liritish Legislature, frat of all by rewolithous and then by a Declaratory Act aftirming the rglit of Parilampat to make lawe bladlog the Britth coloales 'Ia all cuses whatsoever, and cundemalag as unjawful the votes of the cokonlal Asmembilea whelh had dealed to I'arlla. ment the right of tasing them. Slite by shde with this measure they brought in a bill repeailing the Stamp Aet. $\qquad$ The great and manleat led are ut the connerclal classes throughunt Eogland hal much welyht; the repeal was carried [March. 1 1500] through the llanse of Commons. brouphit up lis tut kems than g(x) meinbers to tho larnts, sud daslly carried amhld the st rongest expreseslons of public joy. Borke deacribed lt as 'all event that caused more undveranal juy throoghont the British dominhons thau berhups any other that can lee remembered.' "-W. F. 13. Lereky, Jlist. of Emg. in the 1 sth Century. ch. 12 (c. 3).
Almilis: Horliamenfary Ilist., r. 16. ph. 112-205.-13. Franklln, Horks (Nymris' mi.), r. 4.Land Mihnu (Farl Stanhope), Ilist. of E'ng. 17131ing, eh. ti.--iee, alm, Enthand: A. II. 1765130.
A. D. 1760-1767.-The Townahend meas-ares.- " The ilneral luckingham adninistrallon. firer n few manilus of power, disappeared [July: 1:80f]. havlag slganllecd liself as regarded Amer. fea by the repritl of the Stamp Act, nad by the Dechiatiorv Act. Of the new minlstry the leadlug spirit was Cloarles Townsheme, is brillant statemano. lint inswrupulous at unwlese. 131s inclimations wore arblerary; he regrotent the repund of the Niamp All, us dhi alow the klong and Parilament in pellemi, who felt themaclves to thare lwent hamilhated. Piat, Iudeet, now Farl of CLuthmon, wan member if the goverament; but. oppremsed liv itherss, hac could exercise no restrnlot opmath hisheague, and the other members were either in sympathy with Townehend's vlews, or unalle to ofjuose hilm. Townsbeod's three neeas. une wferthig Amerlea, Introduced on the 13th of $3 y$. 17nio, were: a sospeasion of the foactluus of the legislamre of New lork for contumacy fo the tronment of the roynd troops; the estab. I'sintmat of comminsloners of the enstoms, sp pintert wha large powera to superintend laws re latiug tu imule; nind lastly an Improst duty upon glass, redlam! white lead. puluters' culors, paper, and tea [see ENalann: A. II. 1765-1768]. This was an 'external ' hity to while the coloulate hai burelofore expreated a willinguens to subinalt: hut the krainds of the diapute were shifting. Townmerent hat declared that he held la contempt tha distinetion moght to be drawn inetweea external and intrmal faxes, but that be would ao far bumor the colmints to thelr quiluble as to make bla tax flat kinl of whlch tbe rigbt was admilted. A revenue of 240,000 a year was expected from the cax. Whlch was to be applled to the support of "civil list." namely, the payling the salaries of the new citumissioners of eustoms, and of the juigely sud governon, who were to be relleved whully or in part from their dependence upon the anaual graata of the Ascembiles; then, if a surplus reinalined, It was to go to the payment of troups for protecting the colonker. To make more efficieat, morerver, the enforcement of the reveaue lawn, the writs inf assiatance, the deaun. clatlua of which hy James Oila hail formed so meanorable a crisia, were formally legalized. The popular discoatent, appecsed by the repeal of the Stamp Act, was at once awnke again. aail heaceforth in the denial of the right of Parllh. meat $u$ tax. we hear no more of arqulescence in commerclal restrictions and th the geaeral lexly. Jative authority of Parllament. .. The plan for reslataace alopted by the eoxoler herads was that of sumuel Aitams, numely, the mon-lonportation and the non comsumption of Hritisli prombets. Froni Bustoa ent, through aa Impulme proceed. Ing from Lilu, cown-meetinge were every wbere held to encourage the manufactures of the l'rove. the ami reduce the use of superthlifes, luag flats of which werc enumerated. Commiltees were ap polated everywhere to pricure subscriptiona to agreementationklag to the furtherance of boas la. dustries and the dilsuse of forelga praducts.
Before the foll effects of the new leglalation coubi minlatry thut was prewently formerl lard North came to the frunt. nad adopted the polley of bla predecessor, recelving lin thls course the trm support of thaklug, whowe attlvity and Interest were m) grent in puble affalrs that he 'becume his owz milulster. "-J. K. Husmer, ismuel Adems, eh. 7 .
As.an in: 1. Frothinglim, life and Fimes of Joseph Itirren, ch. 3.-W. Welsham. Memevirs of the lieign of lieurge III., r. 1. 1m. 1:19-142.
A. D. 1767-8768. - The Farmer's Lettern of inbn Dickiamon. - The Circular Letter of sasamchusetts, and the "Unrescinding Ninety-two."-"The Eingllsh minixiry was probnthy mished by the strung emphasis' whileth had beed lult here durlag the controversses con. ecrnlng the stamp A $\mathbf{t}$ пpman the alleged distinetlon het weed external nuil Internal taxathon. We had refused to submit to the later, bmt admitted that the former might te bloding upatis tha whole enjpire as a conumerchal regulation. In form the clatles levled on praluts, plass, tea, ete. were undonbtevily soch a regulation, but it was at once contembet here that, fin print of fact and of prinelple, thla was as much un ceserelse of the alleged right of Parlinmentary taxatlon for the purpise of ralslag n revenue for lumpertal pur. posex as the stump A.t liself. Although it was pansed by the cpphar-ath of the Stamp Act, and by the lioklugham minastry, who profeamed to be our friectes, the net met at once whth oppos. shthu here. Date In October, 176\%, It was de. nounerel by a putille meetling in Bostou, wheb suggested a nou huportatlon agreemeat as the trest means of rendering its operatons laeflectlve. These agrcements were favorle expedlenta for manlfestlug pullitical discontent in those days. hut, as they were rolontary, thelr ohiligation sat sonew hat lusecly upon those who digaed them. The truth is, that thowe who were most dnelded Ia oppisithoo to the course of the majastry were momewbat puzzled as to the plan they should sulopt to esplitht the earaentnesa of thelr discon. tent. Whlle the leaders of the oppisaltion throughout the country were doulthel and hesttaling, there appeared In the Penusylvanla Chrualcle for the 2d of December. 176i, the tirit of a serien of letters on the political altuation, afterwands known an the 'Parmer's Letters. The letters, fourteen in numher, followed one another $\ln$ quick succranton, and they wer read by men ef all clacem and opintemes through. out the cometneus ans no other work of a jollitical kind hat beeu hiltherto real in America. It was, of conime, senil known that Jolin litekinson was thelr anthor, mal people remenibered that he was the permin who hal formolated what was a gemulne IIII if Rights In the Stamp Act Congreas. The bare thame letters were remp, the mure onnvinered people lrecame that th the come. prehenslve anrey they tuik uf unr militeral rela. tinns whthe the nuthere connery. empectally an Parllamerent moteyl hy the last ohmoxhus act of Parllament, mid In the phans which were firn. jomeyl to rennily the cull. Mr. Dieklumst hail struck the true key note of the opposidtinn ta the mindste rind measures. He alpenral at thin crisis. as he the in the stamp Aet Cingrima, an the leader nand dide tin the controveryy. F'rons thils there until the Ihedrathlow of Indipendence the the develuies of the comutry: and itr Bancriot only dixes justler th. Mr. Diskluason's ixwillon When le recogutas fully his conmanating Intis. nee durine that terical. We may say whith par. donabie pride (and lt la one of thume trutha whith many of our historlaus have manugerl In various whys fir relegate to olsecurity), that, as the leat. Ing spirtt in the Stamp Act Cingress, Dickinmun gave form ninl color to the agitution in this commery which brought whout the repeal of that act, mint thut the arguments by whech the chatm of the minhatry to thx us fur niveme hy such an act of Darliamemt na that levging det lion on ghass, pluts, etc. was answered In the • Fiarmer's cellers' Hrst convinced the whole twoly of our comberymen, groping blindly for a cure fur thels grincances, that there was a hogal remerly, null then fonimi the mininery to conment In a micasure to the ihmand for a rejeen of some of lis tuent ohnoxlous jirnvisionse, it is worth remarking that when the mindsery glethed at all it yiehinem W) argument, nud not to the txonstfil thrents Which wire so common. The 'Farmer's latters gave comarige and furre to thame who la Febluruary denennmert the law In Jennsylvania: thry formed the minarpring of the norement which resulted tu the circhiur iftler ment hy the legishature of Massar hilusetis on the bith of that menth tio the Ansemblies of the cother colonises In shart, they tiad the rare gomel fortune not only of cunvinclng thowe who silfered that the remerily was in their uwn hands, hut aimo of prirsumbling thome whor thirir arthitrars measures. . . Mr. Mekinson terepits theme grave cmany with an alr of simplie. Ity tus charminge as it is caliondateal to nteract the attemlon if the reater. II am a farnurf, he says. edthel. after a variety of fortunes. bear Oif hanks if bue river thelaware In the Jrovine of pedmesivimia. I recolved a tikerol celusathom.

 Hfe but and tuw chevinuel that n man may the as haply Whamt bumber as with it. Is.ing acmerally s.astir of my time, I Nurnd a kenal ileal uf fit in my libmars, whinch l thition the mand vainable part of my nmait whate, I have ne.
 and of the lawa amd comstitnith of my commery that ta generolity uthatued liy men of my class, etc. Ife then explains the nature of ther cont rersy with the mother conntry, making: It clear that the polnts ludispute are comprothenait oy a chilid. ... As tho our methinal of asverth onr righta, he anya, with an elevallou of men ment which remilads one of Ealmanal Iturke mon than of any other political writer. "The canse therty as a canse of tuo much ellgulty to sultiel hy turintence ami tumitt. It mught Te nulintalnel In a buan ner mintable to li $r$ natian Those who engage in it sloustal hreat he a mella yet fervent spirlt, animating theth to artions prodener., juatice, mendewty, benvery, buthanity nel maganimity." lle nhirinks, cevilemily wit termo, frons mpenting of what may lx. the con m"quences of the permiatent refusal of Einghaxh of our wronks, the hetura tura of our wrongs, the keturm turn ghaliy to the remerly that lliss open ta ns. That romuis in Imsed ingon a cultivatlon of ther pipirit of comechio. athon on loth slidem, mal Nr. Dickhasth urgis agalu noml agrain upen hals Finghlsh renders be folly uf thele poling, hy slawlage them the wiatue how the trate and wenthe of the Eingllste mer chants are lxinuel up in the adopthons of a illurid esting and Important toples disconsued in therse letters. and the sublect is treated with waberate akill, leoding to convinelog courelinslous dram from mar hastory. It mumt but te firgitlem laid prine to the Revilution an Impremaloll whitr prevallet anoung the nowt thonghtiol of merowi perpple, as well as among onr friomly in Hacimet, that if the Eingisht iximple coonlid be maide inderstand the frightfin hosses thry wouldi niffer In case of a war ta which we shonlis tre thyiatag fur our indepromence, or even durlng a shan interruptlon of the trate ley weru the I wo coung tries, they womblif furee the governinumt so yield ruther than ran the risk of the ernserpimines. haid Even Dr. Franklin hi lamdon, whe had tempht with which the reprementatiens of the Collomites in Einglonit were regardeel. . Hanghe aist ible that, although no fromel of Dir binemer's, be arranger! that these hitters shoult! le repmined in lomelen."-(:. J. Stlle, The lifie ath rimes ef thlies if the other colomies, in whielo was en forth tha: meremsity of all hiting togerler has momlomsty, and of freely commomisatimb the chnurtts had pursund was dowerilowl, with the ewinters uf the petition ame ferters whin ham sistance sucher mhinsterial mensures. The bother at of thelr 'vommon lirold and tather,' maki others riturnell mome collthally. hut all whe ant swreal replial favorably. If gave. haswerer, the gratuest nifence th the mindatry, athd borticalarty to) fard llillsthormugh. the siecretary if state fiof the ed the Colonhes. It seemx that be riad lo a utinely

UNITED STATES, 1770.

of the coutm maklug it comiprobensible en of amertin ation of meuts. millurke mom - The ecalluse of dignity to

It iught to e tul In rature. vathe a merlate to methons of ry, humasits. vilently wits ty ln. the cma. of Eingintul to Iflep wor the mature gladly the the hat rimedrit Irit of conill. riklosem natis It roaders the hem the value and e.kjur wally Elicllsh meet nf a lilural lue Heset inatre Novel In thene Ith ilaborate uslouss drim: orgeotten that astum whilely thof ourong In riuchand, Ik made to would wafter 1 lo fighting rlige a shot - Iw"l crum. - 'll thy yiek Hsurymory ath, whon hat lotim if the llungh: man on intr hinsen's lur reprinted la d Times of lifiv. "the 4. (irrular thic Asvem H Was at Lether hav: lo:tiling the am. Dives . shith the whirle hat Trane It that atholl in ne Tha botion al in H -tareraitwl lue :aןpers ther. ${ }^{\circ}$ and ald le trete Toul sims Who an wrers, the articular! Siate $f$ in I cutimis by the light which a letter from Covernor Beraarl to Lond llarrington had shed upon It. This eplatle declared the real motivn of thn colonken to be a determination to be Independent. Hilis borough, fllevl with thls hem, communicated it Wh the other min'sers of the cabluet, and thue the Circular leitter was Inld before them, pre julgul. It was determined that it merited con. shlerathon, bitt that the only notlee to be given it thonld be one of cwnsure, and. on the spur of the manuent, they resolvel upon two thlaga: to regulre the Hassachusette Ammenily to reacind the Cetter, and to require the uther legialatures be. fore whon It had been lald to reject It. Thla was dome, and the consequences were, that the (ivmral C'unrt, or legghlatire, of Mansuchusetts viste. by numety twa to meventeen, that they Wouhl in mathlng uf tha klnel, and that the other malahtures gave the ontunat h hearty welorme. As fur the prople, they showed thelr appraval of their representalives by tomsting, from one arin of the country to the other. "The unreaclating Ninety two, whith whom was centiled the num. ber forty-tive, or that of the famone ' North Briton': Whlle the bontoulans alifal fiel to the Aame ly a rint on the score of the sloxp lilinerty, In which they attacked the huses of the Com missioners of the ('urtotas, and mate a inutiry of the ('uller tor's lemat Shortiy afterwarl, (but nut by ruson of the rhot), four shipa of war anchored In Buston harbor, aml two ruglments of enoldirm wene gharterey bat the Lown."- E. (b. Seott The thwhpment of tivert. liberty. ch. 10 (with currectiun by the anthor).
Atan in: IR. F'rothlagham, The kiee af the fisproblic of the IV. S.. eh. 6.-J. W. Thurntou. The Palpit uf the Rraintion, $p .150$.

A. D. $1708-1770$. - The quartering of troops

 in Boston,- The Massacre, and the remoral of
A. D. 1769. - Massachusetts threatened, and Virglain roased to her aupport.-" The pru. cerligge In Masmechusetta atiracterd In Euglanil the grealdest attention, elleiterl the severest com ment, anld, Incouse a nillitary furre had been anderis) to limetin to suppurt the stand of the uminiatmions, trented the greatent mollcitule

Tive king, on openlng parllatnent, charac terizal the action of Huxtion as a siliviraion of the Cinatitution and eviuclug in dlapowition tit firuw off lejuendence on (ireat Britaln, The indictnebi agulast the culonies was premented in isty pajers lald inefore parliament. Ihoth Hotises delarevl that the proceredings of the Mas ath inserte axserubly In oppowilon to the reverume weta were menantit uflomal, nal derugatory to the righes of the "ruwn and the purliament: that the Cifrular latter tendent to (roato nolawful combinations: that the call of a conventlen hy the selevtmen of lbowton was proaf uf a deag an of wtimb up an smbependont authority: sud Indh llousery propumed lis transport the ullgina the of the ohnmainus prexeediugs to Elughnal for tral and condign punshment, Buler the There of and ohmoleto meg of llebry VIII. ampto of Brana Neternitued to make an ax provilice in polltical mishofef ly transporting the prepular lemulera los Englatil in lue trieal for phrpart if the kiage's bernelh. Such was tla phrpert of "the elalurate dempatele which lated Hillsburolggh sent tu finvornor liernard, direel ine at ongury to be histleuted lite the conduct of any pernons who had committerl any overt act of realatance to the laws.

Thus a great isme was cremed that affected all the colonlen

Thero was no arlequate step takeo to meet the threntened sgx masion untl the llouse of lurgemes of Virglala convened In May."1. Frothlngham, The Rise of the RepuStic of the $U . S$., ch. 6. - "On the day of the pro. Fugatlon of parllament [May 9,1769 the leggIslature of VIrgluia gesembled at W'IHamm hitrg. Great men were there; sotne who were among the greatewt - Wualington, Imatrick Ilenry and, fur the frat thme, Jeftermon. Butcturit |thie govertior), Who optened the messlon In intnte, was fil jerfice hurnaouy with the councll, recelved from the house of hurgenses a most ditiful ad Ireme, and entertmined ffty-two guesta at hil table on the drat day, and an nany more of tho mecund.

But the ausembly dhl mut forget Ite oluty, anil dovlaed a measure whloh berank then example for the comtuent. It clalmed thi sole right of lmpooing tases on the Inhableant of Virglala. Whit e"jual unanitisity, It aseertexl the lawfulness and experliency of a cuncert of the colondea In refence of the violuterl rights of Amerlea. It lalil bare the thagrant ty ranuy of applylug ta Anericu the absilete atatute of Ilenry Flll. : and It warmesl the kling of 'the dangers that woulil ensuce' If any permon In any part of Anterics whould be ac|zenl anil carried be. youd sen for trlal. It eonamnumatell lin work hy commumbenting it rembuthom tovery leglala. ture in Amerion, und making their comeurrence. The resolves were conclse, aimple, anileffective: mealm In namure and mperfect lu substance that the finds mu undasiuu to regret, no lm . provement tosuggest. The menace of arresting patriota lust Its terrors: and Virgialaia decharahun anil metlon ronsolidatel unlon.

The next Homing, the assemhly hind just there to mapt an allilress to the klog, when the guvernur sumumbal them, and mid' ' 1 have horard of your remolven, ami angur III uf thelr effects: you Lave manle It my duty tos dixsolve you, and yon are dissutved accirdingly." l'jun this, the hur fesses met congether as jutrions and fromis, whit thelr apraker max merator. They ahuiteil the realvem which Washington had hrunglit with blat frum Mount Vernom, anil whelt formed a Well-IIgested, stringont, inal prathlable acheme of mon Importallon, hufl|nil the ' Incoustitntiunal wrenthe arts shoulal ixe repenterl. . . The veice of the ehal Dominion ronsel the merchante of lennsylvania to ajprowe what had tween dune The aswetulily of Delaware adopted the Virginfa resolves woril for worl. abl every colony motath of Virpluha folowed the rexumple."-d. Han cruft. llist. of the l'. (Author's hast reviaion) 111.34-348.

Atmo in: W. Irflug. Life of Hilahington, e. 1. rh 20.
A. D. 1770. - Repenl of the Townahend duties except on Tes.- In the 5 th nf March. 1*ill-the sause day on whioh the tragleal en. connter of the king's tronpex wh citizent of lios. bun ocenreyd - Land North introdured a motion in I'arliatacut fer the partial repeal of Town. shend's revenue art. " not on the petitloms of Armerics, lecontwe they were marken by a donint of the right, heit on whe from merchatits and italers of lamion , Tbe subject.' sald he. 'Is of the bighoat importance. The combinatioua and assoctatlons of the Anericans for the tem-

LNITEU ST.ITES. 1870.

Burniag of the Usent

UNITED STATEA, 1772-17:3.
porary interrupion of trole have airewily been caicicl unwarrautalite in an adilremo of this brouse: I will call them tasolent anillilegal. The dutle upon paprer, glass, nad painters colors bear upaim the numbufarturers of thite consutry, and onght to be taken off. It wat my lutenilion to lave extended the prapuant to the remminal of the other dition: bint the Ancericana have not dewervel in. duigence. The preambie to the act and the duly un ten mist tre retainet, an a mark of the alpremacy uf parifament and the eflelent dectar. athers of fis ristit to givern the coloniens Thuman lownail merved the reprat of the duiy on tea. The lumse of commons, like Larol siorth cliantion theronghly. Ilad the king's frlemels remainat nemtrui, the dity on tea wondid have Twen repenterl; with all tireif exertlons, in a fuli thase, the mujority fur retaining It was bitt 68. Lord Nurth sutmed hardly nitistied with his sue. rens; and reserven to himiself liberty thacrete to the remal, un mome agreement with the kast Indin Compuny. The decolvinn canue frums the king."- G. Bancroft, lliest. of the E". S. (.In ther's

A. D. 177 :- - Suppreanion of the Regulators of North Carolina. Sie Ninktil Vesulators

A. 1). lithe-1:31

A. D. 1772.-The Watauga Association. The foundiag of the State of Tennensec. Fife Tranome: : A. II. 1 Bus-1782.
A. D. 1772. - The burning of the Ganpe. Ohe of the timt orert arte of rexistante that of inderendernel ocernerent in lita, in the watera of Bhante Inianti. A vemed of war hatd lereth atationeti on the eonst to cufurte the lawa, and a smali s.homer, with, $n$ lipht armatuent anil whaty mesen ment caited the Ganpis, was ems. phayed as a tender, tornn intuthe alathon wheme of ilat crust. On the lith of dume, 1878 , n Prosthenve porkit, that pileol Welwevon Siew lurk nu! Ithale I whand, namerif the I Ianmah, nad commandiof by a C'aptain limzere, hove fil sight of the mian of war, unt her paxsoger up blae hay. The Hamah was oretered bis henveres, int creder tu be cxaminud: hut her maxter refused tocombfily: and belug facourall hy af freate kontherig lirecre, that wax fant swerping himont uf gatin whol. the (iasyui was signaliat to fllow. The clume contianaif fir tive und I wenty mifirs, under a press uf suil, whon the thanmits coming ni, with a fear, with whith her master was famillar amif lrawiag iosa water than the mbernerp, (iap struch. The tide falling. the Gayne... Was hours. T!"e arew of the chase was circulatel int the urrival of the Hlanats at Pravidemen rifle ind the dromaer ted his followers in fromt for that night, huiting ail of 'stuct harta to ansemble oft the wharf, proviouly at ntue, thin. gulsed ther himanelf. At the appointerl hours. gavert of the men th the place crilected at the gout denf guted, when sixty-four were meiterte fur the bull umiertaking that way in riww. Ti party enimarked la eight of the launelisw of 1 different reavela lylag at the wharven, mand tokio whh themin quantity uf parling atenses, ther pullet down the river $\ln$ a Imily. . . . Bur neal Ing the Gayne. alunat two th the murnhige it Ionte were hationt by a mentiluel on derk. Th Than was diriven brilow hy a volley of ther st nume The commander uf the Guape now apornamel aut oriering the bonats off, lie firel a apintulat them. Thif diseling ge was returnari from a muaket, anil the ollicer wan shot throngh the thigh. Ily thly time, the crew uf the fiampe hat Isvarled. The contlict was short, the es lownemp meapie belug manis knockeal jlawn mai momme All on buaril were pint latus the lossite, asaf the Conspé was wet ofl fire. Tuwards nurming the hilew "p."一J. F. Cooper. Sizmil Miat. of the C'A. r. I. rh. 3.

 ch. 10 (r. 8 ).
A. D. 8772-1773. - The Inatitnting of the Committees of Correspondence. - The Tei Ships and "the Boaton Tea-Party." -.. The the colomies] wan tor nhww that the minherry had not relaxel lo les determinathons to cuforive the principal of the Tuw ithend acta. This was that in Massochasette the julges shontif liuzere forth be pald by the crown. Popmiar excelimetit a penny frum the royal treasury. The turmill was ineremari next yiar by the discovery in hardhen if the prakage of iritlers which wi.n. mate Its aupport the unjust charge agalust linti hiamia umi mone of hive frients that they hat histigatel mand ailevi the hant extreme meaniores of the mada. Intry. In the antuman of lige Inte himena or fuxed tu cuil an extra mexnion of ther asumbty :

 Samued Alams then deviaui a selteme his whith mitter, nui as " great part of their work na mecressurly hane ly fether they were callat over Ihut falriy crgandand the levolnthon."-J Fioher

 - It was then mavid by Mr. Sambil hiamithat fown, with the inforgupments and violatatis abil merns to have leven carried late at eifatit; the Prite in its faver, he last, was bearly mamamana The coliengars of Athms, whalhat infl binat members of the crmmither regurifing ibe wheme as uselesm or trithiag. The rentmitte Wan at last crostituterl withont has, it no made up of new of little promiuence but of Wert meli rted in riew This launchem of the rees, mol taking ig stornem, they 111) near 14 marnhos. the H1 ticelk. 1 bis of the stonere now alymated at a jivatel at irfneve from a it tircuigh the the tinesper laty on rrivisemer thee w- lowntar aml nownil Inonts, nuls the 5 Hurnilug abe 4 llist. of the

Whemie Imatod
uting of the - The Ten rty." - "The the wolus ! inf milnivery had (1) enfirtiv the in. This wn it who wrilured choulid be me. larexerite thent y rasr necrpt Tlive tarneil avery lis LasaIf wi.n. mate Iluth hitumina as of the wia. wth hlnwers. - IIsu-mbly " H1, jullim (lue lis which rollanit with Thetith courw Four thiv purs anditus on ir work was vallou! ' wom d.ix thu strp d rishr - Tlue town تア: $\because=$ Adalivithat (1)"untol. th (1. Har nebht - hi partary tbjui is and c for liter 12. $12 \cdot$ of 1215 I viohations 11. tiluw has anlue tic hate tulsht, the Ivefl bill at
 nility ibe -animbltre :11, if wed nce: but of tharough reapectablilty. James Otia in another interval of anaity, whe made chairman, a pool. tim purciy homorary, the town In lhis way aheow log lta respect for the ivaler whome misfortunea they $y^{\prime}$ slacerely nument. The Committere uf Cormapundence thelt its tirst treeting In the rop. sesentatlves' chamber at the tuwn-hoite, Novent her 3, 178\%, where at tife onttmet each meinlery pleaigul hlonavif to obentre sererecy as the their tranartionn, except thowe which, an a committew, they whouhl think it proper to divulge. Aceomi' lay 4 the tuotion by which the conimiture wan Isi, the proparation of a staternuent of the rlyits of the coloulsta, am nien, at Christians, and as subjecta: 8d, a elecharathon of the Infringencent and vidation of thoue righta; inl. a hetter to be wht to the meveral towne of the I'rovinee anif to the worli. giving the menwe uf the tuwn. The drafting of the tirst wan asilgneri the Sambel Alialls, "f the sernaif to Jompli Werren, of the thind to thenjamin (Imirch. In a few days thit. lagy cause Inves the Important Lewis of Narble. heal, lhoinury, Cambinifge. and I lymonth, Imillating tleat the exameple of Iforeton wax mak log finpreasion maid was llkely to In fullowed. in forernder ga, at a tuwn nixuting in faneurl Hall, the illferent papers were presenten!: Oth ast as minhement, njumearing for the hat time in sablerve w leere hin career lemil Inern so magulfievot. The nopurt was in three divinions, ucrorillige tis the nution. . In the laut dinys of IFis, the dicume'tit, lenving lseen prieteai, was trnnemitied lug at once an inimeosu eflect. The townal frome eviry yuarter cauc replles in whlels the vintluevis of Samuel Alame were celenxal. In the library of Haneonft is a volume of thann mripts, wion sust stalieel hy thue, whlole have an inte rest marcely Inferlor for that pomewowl hy the Itrelaratlon of Indopromberne leself, an the fatiug puge hange agalast lis plllar in the library of the stat. Theparturent at Wrahingtom. Thery arv How orighal neplien mont by the Maswarhumetis Luwas tu Samsed Nianesix comuriteve sitthy In Ste nuy wall roal them with bntesi breath, for it bs the lutith of the e.flow as the atont litile dem. citaches elroun uff Intol line: just Inefore they rewtralu's uf orthipraplay, as of the dempate. tatn uf lirent lsritisin. fin the wark of the: whi lewill abria, fur thry groperatly were sertetarlem of the rambetters: mod onee lin a while a tollech nf theslorpy's quidintreess, as the puractlifens yet iate pulus thas there shall leve tum motuke as (1) Helr photy ly teaking every letter lis tho drensuly onght in inspler the derpont rever. than They ornutitite the higherst nurk the and lowepthere: hever tomelami. Sever Inefore atongriph "Hile nwk waml scrawl was tmate by frliume had lishl wion mevthg the duty his frtions biad lish ope in tion; the lamel that wrote thim ofleer was cramperl from tife acy the-hanile. as its jwamanor nuwevi an lutervale on the cion. mecticut; thim biottevl mignatire, where smuited hagerm have left a hiack staln, was written by a binckamith of Whillemex, turting amble a moment from forging a burrei that was to do ciuty at lasinglon. They wers mun of the piainemt: but as the documents evontaining atetementa of the mont generonm princlple stil the mont crour. agerins determination, were read in the town. freumes, the commiltoes who fromlin'el them, and Were lifted aleve the onlloary level. Thelp learizon expmerfold to the browiem: they hand In the conthett; but suly thelr uwie generntion.

 :ly

 own plan, the conserefueriow of uhloh mu one fitrasw, nelther friond mer fixe. Fiven Ifintehlif. ant. Whin was marerely leas keen then Xambel mimet necesantily make thomelven pithiculoum. Bint les Jannary the evas of teen wote oproingig Oife uf the alilest of the Turiow, ibuled lieonarif Frionmonis meppitit ever inviteal froms the cag of waltion. I siw the minll worl wlent it wris ins. planterl: It was a graln "f nutsturi. I linge watcherf the plont gutl it leves iwoober a preat tree. It war the trunafornemetbur linto a strong cuml of wlent hasl lu'an rol"e of wetul."-l. K.

 of IF:B. Virglula crevriod thin work of urgmuica thon a bing step firther. whee theloney f'apr mi kipenterl and conrlierl a mothon cedlang fir coms. mitteres of correspond bue lxitwern the merefal coloneleg. Fromet thls julat it was a compurat Congresen It Implumal thiti the'se propariationes

 War. The Amerlcans hat thos fier auceromefitily pral of all the ditk extept on fen. Avfor tea ther hat plenty. that not fown fingland. they lobusa tude wareli wasments. tharly yolexs the land and loyy the duty oll lt, tar hilis munt own conald wot the fureaf foto slologe this, It renained way This Juty a nuw taken off. an that the prtee of the tare for dreeririe might Ise lowromt.

 the Alerefrien un-rilamt ronthl luy $n$ pround of it

 Ifillamil it was surymond that the Amerleana iutn suleniosion to thet prionjple. of texieton rective the ten in a ch of theme towns l'miler purniy a prolitleal trick. It wos au insultiog

UNITED STATES, 1772-1778

challenge to the American people, and mericat the mexption which they give th. They would have ahown themmeltrm uan worthy if their rict poltaical hertigge had they given it any nther In New Ynrk, IMilimielphita, and charleaton mace-meetloge if the people roted that the conadgreese sbould be orlerod to reaten thelr omeen and they did! on. At Phllatelphla the len shif was met and went hack $\mathrm{th}_{1}$ Binglinel hefore It biail come wlatia the Jurimitiction of the cuatom bouse. At Chariestion the tea was Inndityl, and as there was an one tu recelve lt up pay the duty. to nyoll. In thenon thinga suak Irfo there to npoll. In [homion thlngn tan) an dizerent turn."-J. Minke. The Wire of Indegrmilenee, eA. B. Actigg ilimin the provele tht of tho tlime of the Blamp Act, When Ollver, the stamp romminaaloner, had realgnol hin comulawlon tuater the LAberty Tree. a placard wan mwolevt every where on the sul of November, Inviling the peaple if Bonton and the nelghluring tuwne to le pirvemt at laberty Tree that day at mimn, to witnemathe resignation of the romalignees of the tea, atil bear them nwerar to re :hip tur lomulon what tean shomitit arrive. The placaril clumet, - 'Hlow mo the man that darea take lila tuwn.' At the itme ajpminted, pepresentativea Adama, Hancok-k, and Phillipm the melectmen and tuwn clork, with almint five hunilrel mione, were preaent at the lillwerly True. Hint no cunsigmes arriveld, wherrupuri Molinenx and Warren lowadeyd a party who waltel upun them. The connlgurve, Clarke, in rich merchant and hila mons. Berijamin Fancrill. Wlowlow, anid the twomma of Ilitililnmon, Thoninamad Eisisia, Kat logether in the emonthg hanes of Clarke In $K \operatorname{lng}$ Ninve. Adtultunice wan rifusel shac crom mitere, and a conversathon touik plave lifungha Wheluw. Alurloge whleh the tone of the conslgneen Wan refiamt. There wan sollus, talk uf vololetere, anid when an attemper wan made tic exelude the: combiltere and the crowil attemilles thatio frime the fimllifing. Intu the firmt story of which they had petietratied, the denira were tinken will their htagen and thevath utterend Mollowitr, gearrally lupetuonn anough, hut now inthurneri pratahly lener. . . A town miveling on Soveminer it in Whieh an eflert of the Torien to maker livad agalnat the pepmlar frellige cone to manght ahowey thes owerwhelming was the wetermina
 What mews arrised on the $17 t h$ that thrie tea

 the Predenation af the comasigneres Thery evadinj the th manil, the town muatimg wited their answr mol vatiafurtary, mal at onse moljourmel tell. A. An, the wath. Here tirst of the tem ships.

 lurfar sumblar thesult it wos. the commattove motel that: 'An the inen have determined o tate meeting hegally amenhled that thay will the utmont if their power pro rent the innuling the ces, the queution be now frut. - Whether bexly are aboulnte y determinent that the ten e.

 giame frial whornce it came.' There wna not dimesting volew. . . In the wfirmown, meeting having Nemolved that the tee nhomilit haek in the anne slitp in which it hal riom Roteh, the awaer of the llartmunth, protioven the tes. Captain llall abos wan forlidition enter any portiom of 18. 'Alamn wat never greater glory," mya finichingon. The Des mophing. Novemila i 刀), the feople apain amem Afloge, the cevasignowe maie it known that it we outt of thelr juiwir at ment the tea lavik: Init the promilawil that they would atome it until wom whonld cteve from thelr 'conmillurtita' an to th "linguant. The lhartimouth pach night wa ollese ready. If the re thentil tee neetl to marm the connery. . luring the inme wivek in It cominer arived the Eilometir and the ihaver, Nlot ten whipm, whith uiree meared atenr the. Ihart tuwn the mant epritieyl placerits. The dare flew hy. At leneth catum the ellit of the that of pmonilons. If the cargo of the therthmeth hai cintel Rutch, the Quaker ow wer, hat slgnifiry with the carga ons lmaral. if he bohld priwine mifal onherrel the Active and llow Kingtolyt chamela, and when whatever cruft shonlai try is gotomen whant the proper papera 'Huy ger

 Whath the reverine men nuid the atmilral mats inmaler the gine of the flow. It was the filth of

 Ing like if int

 hime th the theremper nowther tor mahe hio wa g"wernir i"fosel th grant the prermit watil the

L'NITED ET.ITEA. 1774.

dignal, for instantly . . . the famous war. $\begin{gathered}\text { whoop }\end{gathered}$ win heand, and the iwo of three senve of 'Mo mowh' rubhel by the doors, and whit the erowd betilad them hurried In the brightealan momas. Hath to Grimin's wharf, where Iny the shlps. The tee coull mot go back to Engliad; it muat not to landel. The colld watem of the harbor were all that remalned for l . Three hundrell and forty twi) cheuts were cat nvertionert. Nothing clie was harincl, melther perion nor property, Ail was mo gulet that thoee at a distance even roukl hear in the cualm alr the ripplage upen of the thin rhentan the len was empiled. The 'Mo. thewz ${ }^{\circ}$ foumi helpen, en that In all perluyps one buninvl smilafty were actively concernel. Noo las uft in the harbor lay the ahrino of the fleret, and the ('antle with the 'Ham Alama Regloneate. But in une interferevl."-J. K. Hoemer, stomual stidims, ef. 16.
Almirix. W. V. Wells, Live of Someel Adama, - 1. pp 3i2-875, 493-siz . A. pp. 1-9, 2t-20.

 Yous A. 11 1878-1:34.
A. D. ${ }^{1724}$ (March-Aprili)-The Boatom Port Bill.-The Maseachusetts Act Ead the Quebec Act. - 'Tl'ue apoken Jealance of the othre cohunhes lind Iwen 'Iulte an eftherient an the cembinntlon of thrents anil forev to which Bem.
 lmanderf the drat retaliatury smil punitive mens. une aguinst time cley.

The time of lapil Sordis lillim was the liomiton Jort Arr, which chenf the bartwar unt! ladernaity fur the teut then destriyed ahoufis twe pall, and the king te astinthes that thrmafter the city wonls olvey the tawn The themand firs limemintey was fair line the Inumpat with the guilty. Norths mere. onit bllt wan a rirtinai nhifogatian of the Mamen chuwten chmpler. The cminch of iweuty elght shith of the asembily. The king mighe now apspoil). the whole brify tu any miminer. from toge ruald he helh onily by premiasion of the der thio mil and Guge waw malle gurermer un-anth was really a develue of the klog'x. ombl it is ath that the himistry was comfosen? and mhature. ta col it prewitlug it. It onlivineti that magis.

 thangh ipprivinat that provine of ofthe right of hatwas curpure festorey) lime for in the right of latherlitisn as the state refighom, and by extemin trity settheme bt of a vesed fintextlon. The I'uri-tane, however, would the the exinibiexclalmed that the next step Itiab oplocrpacy."-W. M. Alowng, The Fhemet War nad ihe lienotution, at. It . The Aronen Aleo in: A. Jehneton, if. 14.

 Thise. and Comer., mef. 17 -SN, - Itrriamentary of Sholisurne, e. T, eA. 8. - (on the Guebec Act, wee, A. D. 1774 A. (April-October)

more's Wir ${ }^{1774}$ (April-October)- -Lord Dur-

 morris Whr with the indlacan.-The Weatern territorial clalme of Virginia theo Onho (Valo LEY): i. 1). 18:4.A. D. 177 (May-Juae)-Effects of the Boeton Port Elit.- The call for : Contlmental Congress. - "The Bomen Ihure jr , wan rerelvenl In Aluerfis with howirs but acconted even to the champ Art. It was cheel throusgh the ntreeta as 'A Marinariua, crumb, bluwly, and in' umans mur. ter.' and was burnt lyy the comin, r magaman on a mafloll furty five fres bly'i. the people of Boman gatherind togethors lin town meeting at at aymeal to ali Americunm thrunghomit America. The reapowen from the welghluriunal rame like nhuw flaken. Marlilefieal citepeal fire ume of le Wharves to the lhmonn merchianta: Enlem averreed That it womht be liwt fo all frelinga of humanity melghbor for mise hin firtuntso on the rutas of It humillathon, tims, howcyef, onlering an laven atorem. Virghen of her cannen numb millitary trulurel. her llonse was previfpititely diswilecti: wherenjua the remolution was hrought ap muit

 It was further decingell that ant attach oll orte colphy wan no atheck lipxin ail Tworlays filter ton, nud rewilutionis were cevery where pasayl, ife.

 of Parinmente: that the risht of huperfal taxa. thon dill not exint ; that thise whon haid acrepterd uthere under pays of the hing homl viototend thelr ne ituaint themowlyes whth the art of war, alui fur once a werk. In the fuiness of time, a crention onties where the onty wint in the thisterencol.

 perions puint wheme haysicul fere therd that danfis clionents. wher physieni force teremme one of gighead thronghont the situathin was ent once rec. en [g. that in unien thare is strength, manifestal Cingresed Commilties of tiopmisponience were orgmienel it every county, mid throngen alle whial the public mectiogx. Obe groat, wiwn, aud

H. - When I left Boston we had no newt of any Act of Parllament, except the one for shut. ting up the port, whlch was extremely alarming to the people.
(Lord D. said, Mr. H. came from Boston the day that Act was to take place, the flrst of Juree I hear the people of Virginla have refused to comply with the request to slumt up their ports, from the people of Boston, and M' KI, seems to be of opinlon that no colony will comply with that request.)
K. - Do you believe, M' II., that the sccouns from VIrginla is true ?

H-I have no other reason to doultt lt, except that the authority for it seems to he only a nexs. paper; and it is very common for artleles to be inserted in newspapers without any foundstlon. I have no douht that when the people of Mhode Island recelved the llke request, they gave this answer-that if Boston would stop all the vessels they then had In port, which they were hurrying away before the Act commenced, the people of 12. Island would then consider of the proposal.
The King smiled.
Lord D. - M' H., may it please y' Msjest子, has shewn me a newspaper wlth an address from a great number of Merchants, another from the Eplscopal Clergy, another from the Lswyers, all expresslng thelr sense of his conduct in the mast favourahle terms. Lord Dartmouth thereupon took the paper out of his pocket and shewed lt.
K. - I do not gee how it could be otherwise. i am sure his conduct has been universally approved of here hy people of all partles.
II. - I am very happy in your Majesty's lar. ourahle opinion of my adminlstration.
K. - I am intirely satlsfed with lt . I sm well acqualnted with the difficultes you have encountcred, and with the ahuse & Injury offered you. Nothing could be more crucl than the treatment you met with in betraying your pri vate letters.
The K., turning to Lord D.- My Lord, I re member nothlng in them to whlch the leasterception could be taken.
Lord D.-That appears, Sir, from the report of the Commlttee of Councll, and from your Majcsty's orders thereon.
H. - The correspondence, Sir, was not of my secking. It was a mecr maiter of friendy amus.inent, chletly a narrative of occurences, in relatling of whlch $I$ avolded personallties as much as I could, and endcavoured to treat persons, when they could not be avoided, with tenderness, as much as If my letters were intended to he exposed; whereas 1 had no reason to suppose they ever would he exposed.
K. - Could you ever find M' H. how those let. ters came to New England 9
II. - Doctor F., may it please your Najestr, has madc a publick declaration that he sent them, and the Speaker has acknowledged to me that he rec them: I do not remember that be sald directly from Doctor F., hut it wss uuder: stood hetween us that they came from him if had heard before that thcy came either direct from him, or that lic had sent them through another channel, and that they were to be communicated to slx persons ouly, and then to be returned without suffering any copies to be taken. I sent for the Speaker and let him know

What I had heard, which came from one of the Ix to a friend, and so to me. The Speaker said they were sent to him, and that he was at first restralaed from shewing them to any more than sis persons.
K. - Did he tell you who were the persons?
$\mathrm{H} .-\mathrm{Y}$ es, sir. There was M' Bowdoin, M' Pitte, Doctor Winthrop, $D^{\prime}$ Chauncy, $D^{-C o o p e r, ~}$ and himself. They are not all the same which had been mentioced before. The two Mr. Adamses hsd been named to me in the roon of If Pitts and $\mathrm{D}^{\boldsymbol{r}}$ Winthrop.
K.- M' B. I have heard of.

Lord D. - I think he is father-in-law to M' T. [Temple].
K. Who is Mr Pitts
H. - He is one of the Council - married M' B.'s ister.
K. - I have heard of $D^{\prime} \mathrm{Ch}$. and $\mathrm{D}^{\prime} \mathrm{Cooper}$, but who is Doctor Winthrop?
H. -11 e is not a Doctor of Divinity. Sir, hut of Law ; a Professor of Mathematicks and Natural Philosophy at the Coilege, and last year was chose of the Council.
K.-I have heard of one Mr Adams, but who is the other?
H.- He is a Lawyer, Sir.
K. - Brother to the other ?
H. - No, Sir, a relation. He has been of the House, but is not now. He was elected by the two Houses to be of the Council, but negatived. The speaker further acquainted me that, after the first letter, he received another, allowing him to shew the Letters to tho Committee of Correspoadence; aad after wards a third, which allowed him to shew them to such persons as he could condde in, but always enjoined to send them back without taking copies. I asked him how he could be guilty of such a breach of trust as to suffer them to be made publick? He excused it by saying that he was against their bcing brought before the House, hut was overruled; and when they had been read there, the people ahrosd compelied their publication, or would not he satistied without it. Much more passed With which I will not trouhle your Majesty; hut after the use had been made of the Letters, which is so well known, they were all returned.
K ., turniag to $\mathrm{L}^{4} \mathrm{D}$. - This is strange:- where is Doctor F., my lord ?
Lord D. - I believe, Sir, he is in Town. He Wis going to America, but I fancy he is not gone.
K.- I hearl he was going to Switzerland, or to some part of the Contiaent.

L'D.-I thiak, Sir, there has been such a report.
K.-In such ahuse, M' H., as you met with, I suppose there inust have been personal maivolence as well as party rage?
H.- It has been my good fortune, Sir, to es. cape any charge against me in my private character. The attacks have been upon my puhlick conduct, and for such things as my duty to your Majesty required me to do, and which you have lecta pleased to approve of. I don't know that any of my enemies have complained of a personai injury.
K. - I see they threatened to pitch and feather you.
H. - Tarr & feather, may it please your MajसHty; hut I dun't remember that ever I was threatenel with it.

Lord D.-Ohl ycs, when Malcolm was tarred and feathered [Almanac for 1770, May, MS. Note], the committee for tarriag and feathering blamed the people for doing it, that being a pun. ishment res for a higher person, and we suppose you was intended.
H. - I rememher something of that sort, which was only to make diversion, there being no such coinmittee, or none known by that namc.
K. - What guard had you, M' II.?
H. - I clepended, Sir, on the protection of Ilearan. I had no other guard. I was not conscious of haring done anything of which they could justly complain, or make a pretence for offering violence to my person. I was not sure, hut I hoped they only meant to intimidate. By discovering that I was afraid, I should encourage them to go on. By taking measures for my securit: I ahould expose myself to calumny, and being censured as designing to render them odious for what they never intended to do. I was, therefore, ohliged to appear to disregard all the menaccs in the newspapers, and also private intimations from my friends who frequently advised me to take care of myself.
K.-I think you generaily live in the country, M'H.; what distance are you from town?
H. - I have lived in the count, $y$, Si:, in the summer for 20 years; but, except the winter after my house was pulled down, I have never lived in the country in winter until the last. My house is 7 or 8 miles from the Town, a pleasant situation, and most gentlemen from abroad say it has the finest prospect from it they ever saw, except where great improvements have been made by art, to help the natural view. The iongest way the road is generally equal to the turnpike roads here; the other way rather rough.
K.-Pray, what does IIancock do now? IIow will the late affair affect him?
H. - I don't know to what particuiar affair your Majesty refers.
K. - Oh, a late affair in the city, his oills being refused. (Turning to Lord D.) Who is that in the city, my Lord ?

Lord D. not recollecting -
H. - I have heard, Sir, that Mr Haley, a merchant in the city, is M' Hancock's principal correspondent.
K. - Ay, that's the namc.
II. - I heard, may it please your Majcsty, be. fore I came from N. Engiand. that some small sums were returned, but none of consequence.
K.-Oh, no, I mean within this month, large sums.

Lord D. - I have heard such rumours, but don't know the certainty.
II. - M' Hancock. Sir, had a very large fortune icft him by his uncle, and I belleve his political engagcinents have taken off his attention from his prirate affairs. He was sensible not long ago of the damage it was to him, and toid me he was determined to quit all puhick busincss, but soon altered his mind.
K.-Thea there's M' Cushing: I remember his name a long time: is not he a great man of the party ?
II.- He has been many years Speaker, but a Speaker, Sir, is not always the person of the greatest influence. A Mr Adams is rather considered as the opposer of Goverament, and a sort of Wilkes in New Eggland.
K. - What gave him his importance ?
H.- A great pretended zeal for liberty, and a most inflexihle natursl temper. He was the first that publickly asserted the Independency of the colonies upon the Kingdom, or the supreme Authority of it.
K.-I Lave heard, Mr II., that your ministers preach that, for the sake of promoting liberty or the puhliek good, any immorailty or less evil may be toierated?
H.-I don't know, Sir, that such doctrine has ever been preached from the puipit; hut I have no douht that it has been publickiy asserted by some of the heads of the party who call themselves sober men, that the good of the puhifick is above all other considerations, and that truth may be dispensed with, and immorality is excus able, when this great good can be obtained hy such means.
K.-That's a strange doctrine, indeed. Pray, M' II., what is your opinion of the cffect from the new regulation of the Cocacii? Will it be agreeahle to the peopic, and wiil the new appointed Counciilors take the trust upon them?
H.- I have not, may it please $y^{\prime}$ Majesty, heen able to inform myself who they are. I came to Town iste last evening, and have seen nobody. I think much will depend upon the choice that has been made.
K. - Enquiry was made and pains taken that the most suitable persons should be appointed.
H. - The body of the people are Dissenters from the Church of England; what are calied Congregationnists. If the Counell shali have been generally selected from the Episcopalians, it will make the change more disagreeahie.
K. - Why are thcy not Preshyterians ?
H. - There are very few Churches which call themselves Preshyterians, and form themseives voluntarily into a Preshytery without any ald from the civii government, which the Preshy. terian Church of Scotinnd enjoys.

Lond D. - The Dissenters in England at this day are scarce any of them Preshyterians, hut like those in New England, Congregationailists, or rather Independents.
K. -Pray, what were your Ancestors, M' $\mathrm{H} . ?$
H. - In general, Sir, Dissenters.
$\frac{K}{H}$. Wherc do you attend ?
H.- With both, Sir. Sometimes at your Ma. jesty's chapel, hut more generally at a Congregational ehurch, which has a very worthy minister, a friend to Government, who constantiy prays for your Majesty, and all in authority K. What is his name?
II.-Doctor Pemberton.
K. - I have heard of Doctor Pemberton that he is a very good inan. Who is minister at the chapel?
H. -The Rector is Dr. Caner, a very worthy man also, who frequently inculcates upon his hearers due subjection to Goverament, and condemns the riotous vioient opposition to it; and besides the prayers in the Liturgy, generaliy in a short prayer before sermon, expressly prays for your Majesty, and for the expref Ruler in the Your Maj
K. Why do not the Episcopal ministers in general do the same?
H. - In general, Sir, they use no other prajer before sermon than a short collect out of the Liturgy.
K. - No-(turning to Lord D.) It if not mo here, my Lord ?
Lond D.- I believe it is, Sir. In your Majet. ty's Chapel they always use such a prayer. It is a form adnpted. is a form adnpted.
K. I think you must be mistaken.

Lord D. - No, Sir. This prayer used to be printed formeriy, hut of late it lias not been printed with the service. In general the min. sters use a coliect, as M' Hutehinson says; some. times the colliect in the Communion service 'Prevent us, O Lord,' &c., but I think oftener the coilect for the second Sunday in Advent.
II.-My education, Sir, was with the Dis senters. Iconceive there is no materiai difference between reading a prayer out of a book, snd say. ing it ' memoriter,' without book.

Lord D.-I think, Sir, it is not very msterial The prayers of the Dissentera are in substance very much the same with those in the service of the church.
K. - I see no material difference, if the prayen be equally good, hut will not that depend upon the minister? But, pray, M' II., why do your ministers generally join with the people in their opposition o Government?
H. - Tiey are, Sir, dependent apon the people. They are eiccted hy the people, and when they are dissatisfled with thom, they soldom lesve till they get rid of them.
K.- That must be very dangerous. If the people ohlige them ${ }^{\circ} s$ concur with them in their erroneous principles on Government, they may do it in religion aiso, and this must have a most fatal tendency.
H. - There is one check, Sir, upon the people. Uniess a minister be dismissed hy a council of Churches, the Province law makes provision for the recuvery of the salary; hut we have no in. stance whcre a minister, for any length of time, hns brought suits for the recovery of his salsry, after the peopie refuse to hear him. They generally weary him, and sooner or later they get clear of him.

Lord D.-That's a considerahle tye, how. ever.
K.-Pray, M' IL. does popuiation grestiy in. crease in your Province ?
H.- Very rapidiy, Sir. I used to think that Doctor F., who ins taken such pains in his cal. culations, carried it too far when he supposed the inhahitants of America, from their natural in. crease, douhied their number in 25 years; hut i rather think now that he did not; and I beliere it will appear from the last return I made to the Secrctary of State, that the Massachusets hus increased in that proportion. And the increase is supposed, inciuding the importation of for eigners, to be, upon the whole, greater in most of the Southern Coionies thanin the Massachusets We import no sottiers from Europe, so as to make any sensible increase.
K. - Why do not foreigners come to $y^{\prime}$ Province as weli as to the Southern Governments?
H. I take it, Sir, that our iong coid winters discourage them. Before they can hring the land to such a state as to be able in summer to provide for their support in winter, vhat iittle suhstance they can bring with them is expended, snd many of them have greatly suffered The Southern colonies are more temperate.
K. - What is the reason you raise no whest in sour Province?
ii.- In most piaces, especiaily near the men, it blasta.
K. -To what cause is that owing ?
II.- It has been ohserved that when the grain is so forward as to be out of the milik the begianing of Juiy, it seidom hiasts; and that about the $8^{\circ}$ or $10^{\prime \prime}$ of that month the weather becomes exceeding hot, and what are calied the honey dews of the night are fixed upon the grains by the scalding sun in a hot morning, and if the grain be then in the milit it shriveis up, and the gtraw becomes rusty and biack. This is a pretty general opinion of the cause.
K.-To what produce is your climate best adapted?
Hi.-To grazing, Sir; your Majesty has not a finer Colony for grass in nili your dominions: and notiing is more proftahie lu America that pasture, because iabour is very dear.
K.-Then you import ali your bread corn from the other Coionies?
H.- No, Sir, scarce any, except for the use of the maritine towns. In the country towns the people ralse grain enough for their own expending, snd sometimes for exportation. They live upon coarse bread made of rye and corn mixed, and by long use they learn to prefer this to flour or wheat bread.

> K. - What corn?
H.- Indian corn, or, as it is cailed in Authors, Maiz.
K.-Ay, I know it. Does that make good bread?
Il.- Not by itself, Sir; the hread wiil soon be dry sud husky; but the Rye keeps it moist, and some of our country people prefer a hushei of Rye to a bushel of Wheat, if the price shouid be the same.
K.-Thut's very strange.

Lcrí D.-In many parts of Scotland, Sir. re is mucl esteemed as making good and whoiesome bread.
The King enquired very particuiariy into many other parts of the produce of the country, aud the naturai history of it , to which 1 gave the bestanswers I was capable of.
K.-New York, 1 think, comes the next to Boston in their opposition to Government?
11-Dors your Majesty think nearer than Peasilvania?
K. - Why, I can't say that they do of iate. K .-ithode Island, M'H., is a strange form of Goverament.
il.- They approach, Sir, the nearest to a Deinocracy of any of your Colonies. Once a year all power returns to the peopie, and ail their Oftcers are new elected. By this means the Governor has no judgment of his own, and must comply with cvery popuiar prejudice.
K. - Who is their Governor now?
11.- Ilis name, Sir, is Wanton, a Gentieman who I have reason to think wishes to see Gov. ernment maintained as much as any they could find in the Coionies.
K. - llow is it with Connecticut $?$ are they much better?
H. - The constitutions, Sir, are much the same; but Connecticut are a more cautious peopie; strive to make as littie noise as may be, and have in generai retained a good share of that virtue which is pecuilariy necessary in such a form of Government.

More was said upon the state of these and some of the other Coionies. There being something of a pause about this time, I turned to Lord Dartmouth and asked - Does your Lordship remember when you had the first account of the Lieutenant Governors death, and whether it was before the Letters which I wrote by Governor Tryon?
ford D.-Oh, yes, 1 had a ietter from you several weeks before that, giving an account of it.
H. - There was a vessel salied for Lisbon the day after he died, and I gave a ietter to the master in charge, to put it on board the first Vessei for London, hut was doubtfui of the convcyance.
K. - We never couid find out which way that letter camc. Is the present $L$. Governor a rela. tion to the late M Oilver?
H. - No, Sir, not of the sa nc family. I have no connection with him, nor did I ever iet him know that I had mentioned him as one of the persons I thought might he proper for a L Governor.
K. - The Chief Justice, I think, is hrother to the iate L' Governor?
H. - Yes, Sir.
K. - We had thought of him, but as he was not one of those you had named, the present Gentieman, upon enquiry, appeared under ail circumstances the most proper.
II.- I had some particuiar inducement not to mention the Chief Justice. He is reiated to me, and his appointment would have increased the envy against both of us.
K. How is he related to you?
H. - One of his sons, Sir, married one of my daughters. I was, besides, uncertain whether the saiary wouid be continued; and if it shouid be, his salary as Chief Justice exceeded it, except in case of my a bsence, and then the erpense of iiving, and the widitional trouble frot his post, 1 considered as more than an equivaient. 1 considered further, that the controversy in which he had been engaged as Clief Justice wouid render the administration pecuilarly difficuit just at thst time; and I supposed it would immediately devoive upon him by my absence, having then no expectation of being superseded. I never took more pains to divest myseif of ali personal views than in mentioning proper persons for this place. I shoutd hsve becn more anxious, if I had not thought it not improbabie that some person might be appointed, and sent from Engiand.
K.- What number of Indians had you in your Government?
H.-They are aimost extinct. Perhaps there are 50 or 60 families at most upon the Eastern Frontier, where there is a small fort maintained: tho' I conceive the inhahitants would not be in the least danger. It looks, Sir, as if in a few years the Indians would be extinct in ail parts of the Continent.

K.-To what is that nwing?

H. - I have thought, Sir, in part to their being dispirited at their iow despicahle condition among the Europeans, who have taken possession of their country, and treat them as an inferior race of beings; but more to the immoderate use of spirituous ilquors. There are near 100 families, perhaps more, of Indians who are domiciliated, and iive, some in other towns, but most of them at a piace cailied Mashpee, where they have a church, and a Missionary to preach to them, and aiso an Indian Minister who has been orriained, and preaches sometimes in their own language. K. - Whst, an Episcopai Minister?
II. - No, Nir, of the Congregational persuasion or form of worship.
The King whs particuiar in many cther en. quiries reiative to my Administration, to the state of the I'rovinee, and the other Coionies. I have minuted shat remained the ciearest upon my mind, and as near the order in which they passed as I am abie. He asked also wiat part of my family 1 brought with me, and what I ieft beinind, and at icngth adivised me to keep house a few days for the recovery of my health. 1 then withdrew. I was near two hours in the K. eioset. Lord D. fearedi was tired so ion standing. I obscrved that so, gracious a reeeption made me Insensihic of it."-Diary and Let. ters of Thos. Iiutchinson, ch. 5 .
A. D. ${ }^{1774}$ (Septemher). - The meeting of the First Continental Congress. - "On the 5th day of September most of the deiegates eiected to the congress were in Philadelphia. They were invited by the speaker of the Pennayivania assembif to hoili their sessions in the State House, but deelded to mect in the hail owned hy the carpenters, - a fine lrick huilding, laving commodious rooms for the use of the committees, and an exceilent iilurary in the chambers. It is stiii in good preservation. At teu o ciock in the morning the delegates met at the City Tavern, walked to Carpenters' IIaii, and began the sessiona of the Contir tai Congress. This assembiy, when ail the in, ubers had taken tieir seats, consistcd of 55 delegates, chosen hy 12 coionies. They represented $a$ population of $2,200,000$, paying a revenuc of 40,000 steriing. Georgia, which did not eieet delecgates, gave a promise to coneur with her 'aister colonies' in the effort to maiutain thelr right to the British Constitution. . . In generai, the delegates eiect were men of uncommon ability, who inud taken a prominent part in the politicai action of their severai iocalitics. . . New Engiand presented, in John Suliivan, vigor; in Roger Sherman, steriing sense and integrity; in Thomas Cushing, commerciai knowied ge; in John Adams, iarge capacity for nulific affairs; in Samuei Adams, a great character, with inflaenee and power to organize. The Middie colonies presented, in Philip livingston, the merciant prince of euterprise and liberality; in John Jay, rare puhiic virtue, juridical learning, and classle taste; in Williain Livingston, progressive ideas tem pered ly conservatism; in John Diekinson. 'The Immertal Farmer,' erudition and iterary ahility; in Cesar Rimlney and Thomas MicKean, working power; iu James Duane, timid Whiggism, haiting. but keeping true to the cuuse; in Joseph Galloway, downright Toryism, seeking controi, and at iength going to the enemy. The Southern colonies presented, in Thomas Johnson, the grasp of a statesman ; in Samuei Chase, activity and boldiness; in the liutiedges, weaith and accomplishment; in Christopiser Gadsden, the genuine Amcrican; and in the Virginia deiegation, an iifustrious group, - in Richard Bland, wisdom; in Edmund Pendieton, practicai talent; in Peyton Kandoiph, expcrience in iegisiation; in Rictnnd Ilenry Richnrd ILenry Lee, statesmanship in union with high euiture; in Patrick Heary, genius and eio-quence; in Waahington, justice and patriotism. 'If,' sald Patrick Henry, 'you speak of solid in. formation and sound judgment, Washing ion.
unquestionahiy is the greatest man of thenn all.'

The congress was orgsnized hy the cholice of Peyton Randoiph of Virginia for I'resident, and Charles Thomson of Philadeipiia, not a member, for secretary. . . is discrission arose on the rules to be observc.u in determining questions, day, when it was agreed thas renewed the nesi day, when it was agreed that each coiony should have one vote."-R. Froihingham, The Rise of the Republic of the U. S., ch. 9 .

Also in: J. T. Scharf and T. Westcott, Hist. of Philadelphia, v. 1, ch. 16.- C. J. Stillé, Lifo and Times of John Dickznson, eh. 万i.-W. C Brysnt and S. II. Gay, Iopular Iliat. of the U. S. c. 3, ch. 18.
A. D. 1774 (September-October). - The action of the Congress. -"The Congress first resoived to state the rigits of the colouies in generai, the severai instances in which those rights were vioiated or infringed, and the means most proper for a restoration of them.' Xext. 'to examine and report the severai statutes which affect the trade and manufactures of the which niea,' not eariier than tife iast nine ycurs. While these suhjects were under consideration, resolutions of Boston and its neigibbors [Middlesex' and Suffoik countics] were iaid before them, statiog their wrongs and mereiy defensive measures to which they would adhere, 'as long as such ion. duct may be viadicated hy reason and the princlpies of anlf-prcservation, hnt no ionger.'... Congress unanimously approved and recominendel gress unanimously approved and recommended a perseverance in this frm and temperate con duct.' trusting a chauge in the councils of the British nation. The nerchants were urged not to order goods, and to suspend those orlered; and it waa resoived, that after the first of nest December there alouid he no importation of British $g$ ods, and no consumption of, or traffic in them. A loyai petition to the king was ordered, assuring him that iny alioiishing the srstem of iaws and reguiatious of which the colonies complained, enumerating tiem, the jealousiea they had caused wouid he removed, and barmony restored. 'We ask but for peace, liberty andi safety. We wish not a diminution of the prerogative, nor do we solicit the graut of any new right in our favor. Your royal authority over us, and our conncetion with Great Britain, we shali aiways carefuily and zealously endeavor to support and maintain.' Gencrai Gage was entreated to discontinue the ereetion of the fortifications on Boston Neck, and to prevent all injuries on the part of the troops; and Massichusetts was asked 'temporarily to subunit to a suspension of the administration of justice where it could not be procured in a iegai and peaceable manner.' Pcrsons aecepting offlee uuder the reeent act, changing the form of her gosernmenh, w cre denounced, 'as the wicked tools of that despotism which is preparing to destroy those rights which God, nature, and compuct have givea to America.' A memoriai was aext ordered to the iniahitants of the British colonies thera represented, exposing their common w.ongs and urging a united 'con merciai opposition,' warning them to extend the rews to mournfui events,' to be 'in ali resp,cts prepared fol of A eontingency, and to impiore the favor of Almighty God.' An appeni wis mule to the ealightened sympathies of the British people. Finally, an address was made to the inbabitanta of the Province of Quebec, Inviting their co-operatlon. In the meantlme, the form of a non-exportation, non-consumption association was adopted, and slgned by each of the defegates. ... A declaration of the rights and injuries of the colonles was made, in which the most difficult question was disposed of. The right to particlpate in the leglslative councll of their common country, was declared to he the foundation of English llberty and of all free government. . Of all these proceedlngs the language was that of peace, except where other langusge was demanded. For they approved the oppositlon of the luhnhltants of Massachu. setta Bay to the execution of the late acts of Parlimment, and declared, 'If these aets shall be attempted to be carried into executlon hy force, in such case all America ought to support them In their opposition,' and 'that selzlng or attemptIng to seize any person ln Amcrica, in order to transport such person begond the sea for trial of offences committed wlthin the body of a county In America, being agalnst law, whll justify, and ought to meet with, reslstance und reprisal.' These were the essential resolutlous. They hoind the coloules to a common reslstance to acts of force agalnst all, or any one of them. They also declared thelr oplnion of the neeesslty that another Congress aliould be held in the ensuling month of May, unless the redress of grievauces which they had desired was obtained before that tlme, and that all the colonles In North America clioose deputies, as soon as posslhle, to attend such Coas. gress. Un the twenty-sixth of October, after a secret session of fifty.one days, this body ndjourned. The recommendations of this Congress were recelved with marked respect among the patriots of the colonies."-J. C. IIamllton, Hist. of the $l . S$ as traced in the writings of Alex. Itrmilton, ch. 3 (v.1).-"'Tralned lin all the theories of the mercantile system, America had heen taught to helieve (I) that two countries could conthme to trade, though one of necessity did so at a loss; (2) that in the trade between England and the colonics, the former both through uitu. rill advantages and through law was the party to which the protit accrued; (3) that Englanl was 'a shop-keeping nation, whose very existence depended on her trade and munufaetures. A suspension of trade between England and Amer. ica therofore would mean mlsery, if not ruln, .o the mother couutry, while the colonies wuild 'both save and galn.' With measures of 2 -n-ins. portation, nou exportation and non-consunspthon, accorlingly, did this otherwise powerless body hope to coerce the English people and govtrament. Though founded on an economic fal. laey, this method of aetlon was certaln to have a great effect in England. Twice alrealy had it been employed on a limited scale - against the Stamp Act and against the revenue acts, - and eath time with sufficient success to warrant the belief that its wider application would result in victory. Yow the agents of the colonies in London were writing home: 'If you have vlrtue enough o resolve to stop, and to execute the resslution of stopplng, your exports and imports for cne year. this country must do yiu justlce.' - In both Englsnd and A nerica the temporary destructiou of Iritish trale was vlewell not meriy as an elfective weapon, hut as the only peaceful one which the colonies possessed. A fallure to unlte in a non. importation agrecment against England wouid, sccording to a proml. nent English polltician, leave nothing for the colonics, hut to deche betwe ruin and suh. misaion.' The question for the Congress was not, therefore, a cholce of remedles, but merely whether, and to how great an extent, the delegates could be hrought to agree to the only one wlthin thclr reach. For even whlle accepting the system as effectlve ugalust Great Britain, the delegates and thelr constltuents had so far profressed as to resilize that it bore with uneven force on the different eolonles. The southern colonles werc reainv no Jore diversified In thelr Industries than the West Indla islands. South Carolina grew rice and sudlgo; North Carolina depended largely on tar, pitch aud turpeutine; Virginin ralsed tobncco. Unless these products conld be exported to Surope, those colonles might sufler for the necrusarles of life. ... The first consideration of the suhject. In the Congress revealed wrious difficuitles. Th. Virglnla dele. gation, 'to avold the hcavy injury that would arlse,' were prevented by their lnstrictions from agreeing to an immediatc cessation of trade relations. Imports would cease on November 1, 1774, hut exports must continue till August 10, 1775. It was in vain they were told ' that a non. exportation at a future day caunot avail,' and that at the Virglnia dnte non exportation would not operate before the fall of 1776 . The Virginians liad fetermlned to cure nnd sell thelr tohaceo crop of 1774 before' consilderatiou of Intercst and of equallty of sacritice should he lald aslde.' So vital, however. did most of the dele. gates conshler the lmmed'ate enforeement, that it was proposel to $p$ wlthout Virginia; for Buston and New Finc , 1. It was said, wonld need active support befor that date. This proposition was defeated hy the refusal of the delegates of North Carolina and Maryland to join unless Virglnia should also make the sacritice. Wlth sorry grace the Congress had to accont the dictation of Virginin. But the tronthio did uot end here. Virgiuia's selfish interest having been triumphaut, the South Cr an delegation sought for an cqual advantage, and demnaded that the two great products of that colony should be cspecialiy reserved from the not exportation clause. . . . I Rather than yield, the Congress prcferred a cessation of husiness for sev. eral days, in order ' to give our [South Carolinn] deputies time to recollect tivemselres.' But when the Associntion was rady :r kiguing, the South Carolina lelegates, with hut one excoption, seccded from the Congress, nad their asseat was only sccired eventunlly through a compromise, by virtue of which rice alone was excluded from the agreement, while indigo was hrought under Its terms. Suel were the secret deliberations of the Congress, In endesvoring to unite the colonies in the use of their only weupon. The i st puhlie results nppeared in the form of a unnnimous resolution, passed and published on september 22 , reauesting the merchants and others in the severnl colonies not to send to Great Britaln any orders for goods, and to delay or suspend orders already sent. Five days later it wne unanlmonsly resolred that after December 1, 1774, ' there should he no importation Into Brit. lsh Anserica from freat Britain or Irslatel, or from aly other place,' of any goods, wares or merchandlee exported from Great Britain or Ireland. Three days iater, witl sssertion of unanimity, a resolution was at remed to the efect 'that from and after the 1 y of September, $\mathbf{1 7 7 5}$, the exportation of all merchandise and every commodity whatsoever to Great Britain, Ireland and the Wcst Indies ouglit to cease unless the gricvances of America are redreased before that time,' and a committee was appointed to diraft a pian for carrying into effect these re. solves. On October 12 this committee brought In a report, which, after consideration and amendment, was on the 18 th of October agreed to and ordered slgned. On October 20 it was signed and ordered to le printed. Possessed of no reai power, the Congress relied ou the peopie to enforce this agreement. It was recommended that in cvery county, city and town a committee be chosen ' Whose business it shail be attentlvely to observe the conduct of all persons touching thils Assoclation.' With lardiy an exception, thls recommendation was adopted. . i. As America had refused to trade with Great Bricain and her coionies, the government replied hy acts prohiblting any such trade. The policy of exhausting its opponent hy injuring itself, was at last to have a fair trial, hut through British, not Ameri. can action. The coionics were by law interdicted from ail commerce, trade and fishing. But before the legisintion went into cffect hlood had beeu shed at lacxington. The contest conid no louger be fought with acts of Parlicment and resolves of Congress; 'blows must decide.' The Association was distinctively a peace weapon. Had the Congress really expectell war, no action could have been more foolish. A garrlson soon to be beleaguered virtually slut its porta to sup. plles. No better proof is needed of how dittle the delegates wished or worked for separatlon." -P. L. Ford, The Asociation of the Firat Congress (Pol. Sei. Quarterly, Dec., 1801.)-"It is only after a carcful study of the proceedings of this Congress, and the suhsequent history of sor. 2 of its members, that wc cone at its reai character. It was a Peace Congress. Some of the colonies had been compromised lyy their attitude in respect to the East Indla Company's teas; and the extreme incasures of the British government in closing the ju: of Boston, and altering the charter of the contumacious peopic of Mas sachusetts, excited the apprehension of other colonies as to the ulterior purposes of the ministry. While it was the patriotic dcsire of the Congress to express their sympathics and to stand hy the people of Boston in the hour of their sufferings, it was hoped and expected that some concilia. tory course would be followed which would allow the ministry and the Massachusetts people to extricate themselves from their difficultics without recoursc to var. John Adams had no faith In the cflleacy of the petltion to the king, norin the addresses to the people of Great Britain and the Canalas. Natters had gone so far in New Eng. iand that they wouid be satisfed with no terms short of the withdrawal of the royal troops, the re opening of the port of Boston, and the total repeai of ali measures designed to reduce them to obedience. At the same tlme, not oniy the Britishministry, hut the British people aiso, were demanding the complete suhmission of the Bostonlans, or the inflection of condign punishment. So far as Massachusetts was concerned, the war was inevltahle. John Adams saw it to be so, and prepared himself for it. Ile endeavored to pre pare the Congreas for It, and not without valnable results. The great work effected by this Cuo gress was the hringing the coionles on to common ground by a deciaration of their rights. Upinion were divided. A compromise ensued, and the famous fourth article was the result. It wa drawn by John Adams, and carried maduly by his intluence, and reads as foilows:- 'That by foundation of Engifil liberty, and of all fre government, is a right in the people to particy. pate In their Iegisiative council ; and as the Ens. Ish colonists are not represented, and frum thets local and other circumstances cannot lee properly represented in the British I'arliament, they ste entitled to a free and exclusive power of leglela. tion in their several provincial legislatures, wher thelr rights of representation can alonc be jre. served, in aif cases of taxation and intemal poilty, subject oniy to the negative of their sovcreign, in auch manner as has beed heretofore used and accustomed. But from the noccssitr of the case, and a regard to the mutual intereat oi both countries, we cheerfuily consent to the nperation of surh acts of the British Parltanient as are bons fide restrained to the regulation of our external commerce, for the purpose oi se. curing the commercial advantages of the whole empire to the mother country; snd the commer. cial benefits of its respectlve members; cxcluding every ldea of taxation, internal or cxternal, for raising a revenic on the suhjects In Anserica without their consent.' Thls was not precisely What John Adams wanted, hut it was much When this deciaration went forth, the esuse of Massachusetts, in whatever it mlght ceventuste, was the cause of the colonics. It was nastional. ized. This was Johu Adanis's greatest feat of statesmanship. On it the success of the impend ing war, and the Declaration of Independeace rested."- M. Chamberlain, John Adlams, the Stutesman of the Am. Rev., pp. 78-80." IIow far the authority of this first congress cxtended, accordligg to the instructions of the delegates, it is impossible to determine wlth certainty at this distance of time But it is prohahie that the orlginai intention wa that it should consuit as to the ways and means best caiculated to remove the grievauces sad to guaranty the rights and liberties of the colonies, and should propose to the latter aseries of resolutions, furthering these ohjects. But the force of circumstances at the time compelled it to act and order Immediately, and the people, by a consistent following of its orders, approved this transcending of their written instructions. The congress was therefore not only a revolutionsry body from its origin, but its acts assumed a thoroughly revolutionary character. The people, aiso, by recognizing ita authority, placed themselves on a revolutionary footing, and did so nut as belonging to the several coionies, but as a moral person; for to the extent that congress assumed porer to itseif and made bolld to sidopt measures national in their nature, to thst extent the colonists declared themseives henceforth to constitute one people, inasmuch as the measures taken hy congress could he transiated from words Into deeds only with the consent of the peopie. This state of affairs essentlaily continued up $\omega$ March 1, 1781. Until that time, that is, uatil the adoption of the artlcies of confederation by ali the states, congress continued a revolutionary body, which was recognized by all the coionies as 'de jure' and 'de facto' the national govera. ment, and which as ach came in contact with forelgn powery and entered into engagements, the bindiag force of which on the whole people has never been called in queation. The lacii. viluai colonles, on the other hand, consldered themselves, up to the time of the Declarition of Independence, as iegally dependent upon Eng. land and did not take a ingle step which could have piaced them before the mother country or the world In the llght of 'de facto' soverelgn states. They rumalned colonles until the ' reprementstives of thu Unlted States' 'ln the name of the good people of these colonles'solemnly declared 'these united colonles' to be 'free and Independent states.' 'The transformation of the colonies Into 'statcs' was, therefore, not the result of the lndependent actlon of the individual coloales. It was accompllahed through the 'representatlves of the UnitedStates '; that ls, through the revolutlonary congress, in the name of the wholo peoplc. Each Individual colony became a state only In so far as it belonged to the Unlted States and in so far as its population constleuterl apart of the people."-II, von Hoist, Conet. and Fol. Ifiat. of the U. S., v. 1, ch. 1.
As in in: W. V. Wells, Lifo of Samued Adame, 4. 2, pp. 213-247.-J. Adams, Diary (Works, v, 2) pp. 358-401.-Journal of the Congrese which met at Phila. Spt. 5, 1774 (London: J. Almon).
A. D. 1774-1775.-Provincial Congress of Massachusetts and Committee of Safety. Military preparations.-"Govcrnor Gage isaued writs, dated September 1, convening the General Court at Salem on the 5th of October, hut dls. soived It by a prociamation dated September 28 , lint. The members clected to it, pursuant to the course sgreed upon, resolved themseives into a Provinclal Congress. Thls body, on the 26th of Oetober, adopted a plan for orgaaizlag the miiitia, maintalning it, and calling it out when circumatances should render it aecessary. It provlded that one quarter of the number earolled should be held in readincss to muster at the shortest notlie, who were called by the popular name of misute-men. An executlveauthoritythe Commlitee of Safety-was created, clothed 'ra' diacretionary powers; and another Committee of Supplles. On the 27th Prehie, (who did not accept.) Artemas at i iseth Pomeroy, were chosen general atil on the 28th, Henry Gardner was easure of the colons, under the titie of ver Get. Ai. Among the energetlc acts of anis meinorn:': Congress, was one authorizing the coilection of military stores. It dissolved December 10. The commlttee of safety, as eariy as November, authorized the purchase of materfsls for an army, and ordered them to be deposited at Concord and Worcester. These proccedlings were denounced hy Gencral Gage, in a proclama. tion dated November 10, as treasonahie, and a compliance with them was forhldden. In a short time the klag's speech and the action of Parlla. ment were received, which manifested a firm determination to produce suhmission to the late acts, and tomaintain ' the supreme authority 'of Great Britain over the colonles. Generai Gage regarded this intelligence as having ' cast a damp upon the faction,' and as having produced a happy effect upon the royalist cause. However, a second Proriocial Congreas (February 1 to 16,1775 ) renowed the meatures of its predecessor; and gave deanlteness to the dutle of the committee of nafy, by ' empowcring and directlig ' them (on the gth of Fehruary) to asemhie the militia whenever It was required to reaist the execution of the two acts, for altering the goverument and the adminiatration of justice. At the aame time It appolnted two additlonal generals, John Thomas, and Wllifam Ileath, and made it the duty of the five general officers to take charge of the militis when cailed out hy the commlttee of afety, and to 'effectualiy oppose and resist such attempt or attempts as shall be made for carrying Into execution lyy force' the two acte

The convlction was last becoming general that force only could decide the conteat. Stlmu. lated and sustalned by auch a publlc opinlon, the commlttees of safcty and supplles were diligent, through the gloomy months of winter, in coliectlng and storing at Concord and Worcester materfals for the maintenance of an nrmy. "- 12 . Froth. lngham. Jr., Hiatory of the Siege of Boaton, ch. 1. -The followling cltizens composed the Committee of Publlc Safety, vlz., "John IIancock, Joseph Warren, Benjamin Church, Rlchard Devens, Benjamin White, Joseph Palmer, Abraham Wateon, Azor Orne, John Pigeon, Wllilam Heath, and Thomas Gardner. The following 'Committee of Supples' was announced, viz., Elhridge Gerry, Davld Cheever, Benjamln Lin. coln, Moses Gili, and Benjamin Hall lie first day of Jauuary 1775 , the gart Boston had been increased to thlirty-gve hundred men, and mounted three hundred and seventy men as dally guard-detail, besides a feld off. cers' guard of one huadred and ifty men on Boston Neck. Three brigades were organizedand were officered, respectlvely by Generais Iord Percy, Plgott and Jones. In November of 1774, General Gage had advised the Britlah government, that he, ' was confident, that to begin wlth nn army twenty thousand strong, woulid in the end save Great Britain biood and treasure.' Meanwhile, the militla drilled openly, $\cdots \cdots$ ' $y$ completed company organizatlous, ano many sacrifices to procure arms, powder . d other materiais of war. The IIome governme. in vlew of the serious aspect of affairs, ordeted Generals Howe, Clinton, and Burgoyne to join General Gage, and announced that ample reInforcements would be sent out, and the most speedy and effectual measurcs would be taken to put down the rebeilion, then pronounced to already exlst. On the elghth of April, the Provinclal Congress resoived to take effectual measures to ralse an army, and requested the cooperation of Hhode Ialand, New IIampahlre and Connectlcut. On the thirteenth, it voted to raise six companies of artillcry, to pay them and keep them at drili. On the fourteenth It advised citf. zens to leave Boston and toremove to the country. On the fifteenth, It solemnly appolated a day for - Pubiic Fasting and Prayer,' and adjourned to the tenth day of Mey. The Committee of Puhllc Safety at once undertook the task of securing powder, cannon and smali arms. A practical emhargo was laid upon all trade with Boston. The garrison could obtaln supplies only with great difficulty, and, ss stated hy Gordon, 'nothlng was wantlig hut a spark, to set the whoie continent In a fiame.' "-H. B. Carrington, Battles of the American Rewolution, ch. 2.

Also nㅘ; J, Fiake, The Am. Rev., ch. 8 (o. 1)
A. D. 1775 (January-March).-Vain effort toward pacific statemanahip in the Eritish Pariiameat, by Chatham, Burke, and others. -A newiy elected Britiol? l'arilament "met nn Nnvember 80, 1784; hut no serlous measure reiating to America was taken till January 1775 , when the House reansembied after the Christmasa vacation. The sinisters had a iarge majority, and even apart frunt party intereat the genulae feeliag of botil llouses ran strungly againat the Amerlcans. Yet at no previous rerfoi were they more powerfuliy diefencied. I have aiready noticed that Clatiam, having returnedi to active politics after hls loug illures in 1774, had rom. pietely identifled himself with the American cause, and hail aivocated witi ail his cioynence measures of conciliation. Ile ... moved an midress to the King praying that lie wouid as somas possibie, 'in order to open the way towardis a happy settiement of the diangerous trouhies in Anaericn,' witidiraw the British troops stationed iu Boston. In tife course of his speech he repremented the question of Amerlean taxation as the root-cause of the whole division. and maintained that tile ouly reni hasis of conciliation was to lwo found in a distiuct recognitiou of the prineiple that 'taxation is theirs, and conmercial regnia. tion ours,' tinat Engia"i has a supreme right of reguiatiug the commerce ani navigation of America, and that tie Amerieans have an inalienahic rigit to their own property. Ile fuily justi. ged their resiataucc, predieted that aii attenpts to coerce them wou faii, and cuingised the Congress at Philadicipin, as worthy of the greatest perioxis of autiquity. Oniy eight en peers voted for the address, white sixty-eight opposed it. On February 1 he reappeared with an einborate Bilif for settilug the troubies in America. It asserted in strong terms the right of Pariianrent to hind the coionies in ail matters of im. periai concern, and especialiy in aii maters of commerce and navigation. It pronommeeri the new coinniai dioctrine that the Crown inad the right to send British soldiers to the coionies with out the asseut of tife Provinciai Assemblies, dangerous and unconstitutionai in the highest degree, hut at the same time it rccognised tice sole right of the colonists to tax tiremseives, guaranteed the iuviolabiity of their charters, and made the tenure of their juiges ties same as in Enpiand. It proposed to make the Congress which lad met at Philadeiphia an ofllecini and permanent boly, ani asked it to make a frec grant for imperial purposes. Engiand, in return, was to reduce the Admiraity Courts to their ancient ilmits, and to suspend for the present tie different Acts compluined of by the coionists. Tite Bili was not even admitted to a second reail. ing. Several otier propositions tending towards conciliation were made in tiis session. On Jlareh 22, 1734, Burke, in one of ihis greatest speeches, moved a serles of resoiutions recom. mending a repeai of the recent Acts compiained of in America. reforming the Adniraity Court and the position of the judges, and leaving American taxation to the American Assemhilies, without touching upon any question of abstract right. A few days iater, fartiey moved a resoiution caliing upon the Government to make requisitions to the coionia! Assembiles to provide of their own authority for their own defence; and Lord Camden in the House of Lords and Sir G. Saviie in the House of Commous endeavoured to obtain a repeal of the Quebec Act. All these as. tellupta, however, were defeated by enormons majunties. The petition of Congress to the King was referred to Parilament, whict refued to recelve it, and Frankiin, after vain efforst to effect a reconcifiation, returned from Engiand to America."-W. E. II. Leeky, Ilist. of Eng Eng in the 18th Century, eh. 12 (c. 8).
The following are the moruimportant pramageo of the speech of Burke, on moving the reanhla tions which he introluced in the llouse of Com. mona, Mareh 22, 1775 :

The proposition is peace. Not peace tirrough the medium of war; not place to be hunted through tise fabyrinth of fintrieate aini cudione negotiations; not peace to arise out of universail discord, fomeutei from principle, In ali jarts of the empire; not pease to diepend on the juridileal determination of perplexing questions, of the precise marking the sinaiowy precise marking the silamiowy bulladarios of a conplex government. It is simple peace, sought in its natural conrse and iu its ordinary liautut. It is peace sougitt in the spirit of pence, and inid in prineiples purely pacific. I projuse, hy rumoving the ground of the difference. undi by restoring the fermer unsuspectiag centiderxe of the colonies in tite mother couutry, w, sive peto rnanent satisfaction to your people, 一 auci far from a scheinc of ruiling hy difacord) to ret nincile them to cach otiser in the same act and by the bond of the very sume interest wificil reconciles tiem to Bricisi g government. My idea is noth. ing more. IRefined policy ever has beru the purent if confusion, -and ever will be sn, as long as the worid endures. Plain gocki lintention wheit is as ensliy discovered at the first wew as fraud is sureiy detected at last, is, iet me sary ef no mean force in the governmeut of mankimi Genuine simpility of heart is an heallars and cementing prinelpie... The capitai leaulag questions on wirich yon must this diay ieccide are these two: First, wifetiner yon ongit to monede and seeouify, what your concession ought to be. On the urst of these questions we lave galnel some ground. Bu:t 1 ain senslible chat s good deal more is stifi to ie dione. Inderd, sis to enable us to determine both on tife owe and the otiter of these great questions with a hramad preeise judignent, I thiuk it $p$ - be necossary to consider distinctiy the true ee mall the pecuitar chreumstances of tite abjec, which \%e have bufure us: because, after ail our struggle, whetier we wifi or not, we nimst govern America accoriing to that nature and to those circum stances, and not according to our own lmagina. tions, not aceoriing to abstract diecas of right by no means according to merc geuerai theories of government, the resori to wincit appears to me, in our present situation, no better than arrant trilling.

Tie first thing that we have to condider with regard to the anture of the object is the unmber of peopie in the colonfrs. i lave taken for some years a good deai of prins on that point. I can by uo caicuiation justify my. self in placing the number beiow two nailions if inhabitants of our own Enropeau blow? sul coior, - besides at ieast 500,000 ot hers, who form no inconsiderable part of the strength and opulence of the whoie. This, Sir, is, I lelieve, about the true number. There is no occasion to exag. gerate, where piain truth is of so much welgbit and importance. But whether I not the prewnt numbers two high or too iow is a matter of littie

II there at-enormous ess to the ch refued eflorts to ingland to Eing. in thet pemaget the rembly of Com. c through ee hunted ul thilew malversal II parts of Jurlikeal s, of the aries of CP, sought Y hauts. cace, and ripose, by and by hilence of sive perand ifar ruconcile mol by the econcties is nuth. beres the le on, as utention, view ns cony, of uни kimi. ther and leading eclide are concede: it to be. e gnined 4 that $s$ (exi, Sit CHE and trman! cossary athi the bich $\pi$ truggle, Imerica circum uaginaight, by uries of to me , arrant have to oliject 1 have ains on ify mg . lions ol $x$ ! and 10 form d opuabout welghs weigns f Ilttie nomeat. Such is the atrength with which pop. alatlea shoots in that part of the worid, that, state the numbers as high as we will, whllet the liapute contlnuew, the oxaggeration ends. Whllat we are diecuasing any given magnltudo, they are grown to th. Whllot we apend our time la dellbenting oa the mode of governing two millioas, we shall find we hare millons more to manage. Yeur chlldres do not grow faster from infancy to mashood than they spread from famlles to communlties, and from Flilages to natlons. But the population of thls country, the great sad growlig population, though a very Impor. tat conslderatloa, whl iose much of lis welght, If at combined with other af uisstances. The commicre of your colonlen ls ut a' all propor. tion leyond the numbers of the people. The trate with America alone is ncw withln less than 5500,000 of belng equal to what this great comnerclal natlon, England, carried on at the beglaling of thlis century with the whole workl!

But, It will be mald, is not thls American trale an unaatural protuberance, that has drawn the julces from the reat of tho body? The reverse. It ls the very food that has nourished every other part Into lts present magnitude. Our general trade has been greatly augmented, and augmented more or leas ln almont every part to which lt ever extended, hut whth thls material difference: that of the six millions whleh in the beginning of tite century constluted the wholo mass of our export commerce the colony trailo was hut oue twelfth part; it ls now (as a part of uletees millions) conshdernhly more than a thlrd of the whole. . I choose, Sir, to enter Into these inlaute and partlcular detalls; because generslities, which in all other cases are npt to heightea nod malse the subject, have here a tendeary to slat it. When we speak of the commerce of our colonles, fiction laga after truth, invention is unfrultf ul, and lmaghatlon colil aud barren. . . I pass . . to the colonles In another polat of view, -thelr agriculture. This they have proeecuted with such a splrit. that, besiles feeding plentlfully thelr own grow. lag multliude, their annual ezport of graln, comprehendlng rice, has some years ago excecded a million In value. Of thelr last harvest. I am persual 'rey will export mueh more. At the begin:". the century some of these colonl+s lmporte a frem the mother country. For some th. . St the Old World has been ferl from the New. The scarclty whlch you have felt would have been a desolatling fanine, if thls chill of your old age, whth a true fillal plety, With a Roman charity, had not put the full breast of lts youthful exuberance to the mouth of its exhausted parent. As to tise wealth whlch the coloales have drawn from the sea hy thelr fisheries, you had all that matier fully opened at your bar. You surely thought those acqulst. thons of value, for they seemed even to exclte Your envy; and yet the spirit hy which that enterprising cmoployment has been exercised ought rather, is my opinion, to have ralsed ycur esteem aud admiratlon. And pray, Sir, what in the world ls equal to it? Pass hy the other parts, aad look at the sanner $\ln$ whlch the peopie of Now England asave of late carried on the whale-fishery. Whilst we follow them smoag the tumbiling mountalns of 3 e , and achoid them peuetrating lnto the de pest frozen receses of IIudison's Day and Dapis's Straita, Whilat we are lonhlag for them beneath the arctlc clrele, we hear that they have plerced Into the oppoilte reglon of polar cold, that they are at the antlpoles, and engaged under the frozen eerpent of the south. Palkland Island, whlch seemed ton remote and romanfic anobject for the grasp of national ainhltion, is but a stage and renting. place In the progress of thelr victorious induatry. Nor is the equinoctlal heat more din. couraging to them than the accumulated wlater of hoth the polem. ... I am menalhe, Sir, that all whlch 1 have aserted $\ln$ my detall Is of de. all whleh 1 have asserted $\ln m y$ cletall ls is ! dte ted to the grose, hut tiat qulte a dlfferent conchaslon la drawn from it. Amerlin, gentlenera say, is a noble oliject, - It ls an oliject well worth fighting for. Certalnly li la. If figitiag a people be the iest way of gilning them. Gentlemen in this respect will be led to thelr cholce of means hy thelr complexions anl titelr hablta. Those who understand the millitary art whll of ccurse have some predllection for It. Those who wield the thincler of the nate may linve inore confitlence in the effleaey of arnis. But I confess. posalinly for want of this knowledge, my oplnion is much more in favor of prulent management than of force, - conslilering force not as an ollous, but a feeble lnstrument, for preserving a people so numerous, so actlve, so growlng, so apirited as thla, In a profitable and suborilinate connection wlth tis. Flimt, Sir, permit me to ob. werve, tiat the use of force alone is but tempo. rary. It may subdue for a moment; it it does not remove the necesslty of subiulng agaln: and a nation ls not governed whlch ls perpetually to be conquered. My next objection is lis uncer. tainty. Terror is not always the effect of force. and an armament le not a victory. If you do not succeed, you nre without resource: for, conclliatlon faillng, force remnlns, imt, force falllng, no further hope of reconcillation ls left. Power and authority nre sometlmes imught hy kindness; hut tiey can never be begged na nlms hy an Impoverished and deferated vioience. A further objectlon to force ls, that you impalr the object by your very enteavors to preserve lt. The thlng you fought for ls not the thing whlech you recoser, but depreclated, suak, wisted, and consumed lu the contest. Nothing less will content me than whole Amerlen. I flo not choose to consume lts strength aiong with our own; because In all parts it ls the lifitish strength that I consume. I do not choose to be caught hy a forelgn coneny at the end of the exhausting confllct, and stlil less ln the millst of lt. I may escape, but I can make no lnsurance agalnst such an event. Let me ald, that 1 do pot chrose wholly to hreak the American splrit; beenuse 1 t is the splrit that lins male the country. Lastly, we have no sort of expe.ience in favor of force as an lastrument ln the ule of our colonies. Thelr growth and thelr utulty has been owing to methous altogether different. Our ascleat lndulgence has been sahl to te pursued to a fautt. It may be so: hut we know, if feelling is evl. dence, that our fault was more tolerahle than our attempt to mend lt, and our sin far more salu. tary than our penltence. These, Sir, nre hap reasons for not entertalnlng that higis opinion of untried force by whlch many gev'lemen, for whose sensiments in other particulars I have great respect, secm to be so greatly captlsated. But there ls stili heilnd a thlrd considemation conceralng thls ohject, whlch serves to detcrmine

UNITED STATES, 1775.

my oplalon on the wort of pollcy which ought to be purnued in the management of Americe, even more than It population and lti commerce; I mean lis temper and charncter. In this char. acter of the Americans a Inve of freedom la the predomianting feature which marks and die. tloguishes the whole. . Thla fierce aplrit of linerty is atronger In the English coilonies, probably, than in any other people of the earth, and thly from great varlety of powerful and which, to underatand the true temper of their which, to understand the true temper of their minde, and the directlon which this mplrit saken. It will not be amisen to lay onen this meplit iaken, It will not be amise to lay open comewhat inore largely. Flrst, the people of the coloniea are deacendants of Eingilshmen. England, Slr, Is a nation which stlil, I hope, rempecti, and formerly adored, her freedom. The colonists elmigrated from you when thls part of your cliaracter wan most predominant: and they took thils bian and direrton the moment they parted from your handa. They are therefore not only devoted to liberty, but to ilberty according to Engilah idean and on Engilsh principies. .. Ynur mole of governing them, whether through lenity or indolence, throngh wisdom or mfatake, couflmed them In the Imagination, that they, as well as You, had an Interest in thesc common principles. They were further contirmed in thils pleasing error by the form of thelr provinclas legisiatlve asamhlies. Their governments are popular in an highdegree: come are merely popular; In all, the popular repreventative is the most welghty; and this share of the people in their ordinary government never falis to Insplre them with government never falis to Insplre them with ofty sentiments, sod with a strung aversion srom whatever tends to deprlve them of thelr ehlef importance. If anything were wauting to ehlef importance. If anything were wayting to thls necessary operstion of the form of government, rellgion would have given it a complete effect. lellgion, always a prlnelple of energy, In this new people la no way worn oult of Ins. paired; and their mole of professing It ls aiso One maln esuse of this free splrit. The prople are Proiestants, and of that kind which is the most adverse to all Impllcit submission of unlnd and opinion.

At1 Protestantlsm, cven the most cold and pasaive, is a sort of ilissent. But the rellgion most prevalent in our northern colonies is a retinement on the priaclple of resistance: it Is the dlasldence of dlssent, and the protestantism ot the Irotestant rellglon. . . I'ermlt me, Sir, to add another circumstance in our colouies, whleh contributes ao mean part towards the growth and effeet of this untractable splilt: I mean thelr cdincatlon. In no eountry, periapis, In the worlal is the law so general a study. The profession leself is mmmerons and powerful, and in :inost provlaces lt takes the lead. The greater number of the deputles sent to the Congress were lawyers. IBut all who read, and most do read, endeavour to obtain some smattering la that sclance. I have been told by an embinent brokscller, that in no luranch of lils busluess, after truets of propular deve. were so many books as those on the haw sur to the plantatlons. The colouh. s have uow fullen lato the way of printing them for thrir own use. I hear that they have sold hearly as many of Black. stone's 'Commeatarles' In America as in Eng. land. General Guge marks out this disposition very partleularly lu a letter on your table. Ile states, that all the people la his government are law yers, or smatterers in law, - and that in Ibos.
ton they have been enabled, by succestili ebl cane, wholly to evade many pwitim of one ol vour caplini penal conatitutions...The lau cause of this disoliedient apirts In the colonient 4 harilly leas powerfui than the reat, as it la not tnereir moral, dist ladid deep in the natural comatitution of thinge. Tliree thoutaml milies of ocean lic between fou ami theul. No contri. vance can prevent the effoct of thi. dlatance in weakening government. deas roli, and montha pass, between the order and the execution; and the want of a apeefy explanation of a alogle point is enough to defeat an whole system.
Then, Sir, from these mix capltal sourcen, it descint, inf form of gnvernment, of rellyglin in the northern provincen, of manners in the south ern, of crlucation, of the remotenems of situsticn from the first mover of gavernment,-from sil these causes a fierce spifit of Hilurgr has grown up. It has grown with the grow th of the people In your colonien, and Inereased with the inerease of their wealth: a gipirt, that, nohappliy meetling with an exerclas of power th England, whleh, lowever iawful, is not recoa. cininie to any licas of liberty. intuli leas with theirs, has kindleal this tiame that la rendy to conaume ns. . . The question is not, whether their apirlt deserres praise or blume, - what, la the naine of God hail we do with it? fou have before you the object, such an It is.- with all its glorles, with sil its imperfectlons on its head. Yous see tive magniturle, the importance, the temper, the halits, the dlasoricors. By wil these conslderations we are strongly urged to determine something concerning lt. Whe are determine something concerning lit. We are callenl upon to tix eome rule and lluy for our future conduet, whilli may give a ilttlo stablility to our politics, and prevent the return of such unhappy deliberations as the preseut. shouild secm, to my way of concelvinit such matters, that thicre is a very whle differcuce, in reason and policy, between the muxle of proceed. Ing on the irregular ennduct of acattered ladi. Vhuans, or even of hands of men, whos disturb order within the state, sud the clvli dissensions which may, from time to thme, on great quesp tlons, agleate the several communities which compon angreat emplre. It looks to me to bo narrow and redantie to apply the oritiary lideas of criminal justice to this great jublic contest. I do not know the methol of iJrawlog up an Indletment against an whole jerifle, am uot rife to puss mentecce on the privest publie boilles, intrusted with inagistruches of great authurity nad dignity, and chargat with the safety of thelr fellow clizens, ujon the refy same title that I am. I really think that fus Wlse inen this is not judlelous, for solur men not deceut, for ulnds thetared with lmmadity pot midl and merelful."
In the closing part of his sperech, Mr. Burke Introduced successively and colnumited nipm the followlag propositions, or resolutions, which formerd iu thelr entirety lils plan of comidiatinut At the ent of his speaklng they werc rejected of a vote of 270 agalnst $7 \times$ :
"That the colonles anid plantations of Grest Britaln iu Norts America, conslstiag of 14 separute governments, and contalalng two milhons and upwards of free Inhabltants, have aut had the ilberty and privilege of electiag and sendlog any knights and burgesses, or others, to represent them lu the high court of Parliument The list olonies It lis not thral con. mlley of is centr. istance io 1 meotho lon: and a ulinglo em. urceas of $14 r e m$ in he south. situstico t, from crty has ruw th of wal with that, nomower la recon. cess with rady to wheiber what, io ? You -with 4 on ita ortsoce lisy al rged to We are for our talililty of such sut
That the maid colonios and plantations have been male llable in ant bouiden by, several subudilen, paymente, a an, and maxen, given and suntel by Piritament, thourt the sald colonies und plantutloas have not their knights anl hur. grace is the and bigh court of Parilament, of thelr own election, to represent the condition of their country: hy fack whereof they have been osieatimes touched and grieved by subsidien, givea, granted, and assented to, in the sald court. fa a manner prejudicial to the cornmon wealth, quietneas, rest, and peace of the suhjects inhahleliag within the name.
That, from the diatance of the sald enlonles, and from other clrcumutances, no methori liath bitherto licen devised for procuring a representa. tloa ta l'arllament for the sald colonles.
That each of the calil colonles hath within itself - hody, ebomen, in part or in the whole, hy the freemen, Preeholders, or other free Inbabitanta thereof, commoaly called the General Amembly, or General Court, with powers iegally to rake, levy, snd sseme, according to the meveral usage: of such colonles, dutlen and taxea towards defray. tag all sorts of public servicea.
That the sald general assemblles, general courta, or other boiliea legally qualtited an a foremald, have at sundry thms freely granted meveral large au.sldles nui puhile aldt $\boldsymbol{\gamma}_{\mathrm{r}}^{\mathrm{r}}$ his Majeaty's service, accomilng to thele eb lles, when requirell thereto by letter from oni of his Majesty's primijoml Necretarics of State; and that their right to grant the same, and thelr clieerfulness and sumbleacy in the sald grants, have been at suairy t: aes nckuowiedged by l'arlament.
That it hath been found by experience, that the manner of granting the sald supplles and aids by the sald general assemblles hath bern moro agreeable to the lahablents of sald colonion, and more Iwaeflelal and conduclvo to thr publle service, than the moxle of glvlug and granting alds and anbsidles in Parllament, to be rulsed and pald ln the sald colonkes.
That lt may be proper to repeal an act, made In the thy year of the relgn of hls present Majesty latituket, An act for grantling certaln dutles ln the British colonles and olantations In Ameri.
fir allowlng as drawbe ck of the duiles of cuatuas, upon the exportation from tbls klng. don, of colfee and rocoa-nuts, of the produce of the sulif eqlonies or plautations; for diseontinu. log the drawhacks payahle on Chlua earthen wate expurtel to Anicrica; and for more effectualty pre enting the clandesthe ruunlag of goods In the said colonles and plantations.'
That it may be proper to repenl an act, $m$ : $s$ In the 14 th year of the relgn of hls present Ma: esty. Intituled, 'An act to dlscontlnue, In sme manner anel for such the as are thereln men. thonet, the luading and dlacharglag, lading or shipping, of goxils, wares, and merchandlse, at the town and wlthin the harbor of Boston, In the prorince of Massaclunsette liay, In North America.'
That it mayy be proper to repen! au act, mulc In the 1 the year of the relgn of his present Mnj. esty, intituled, An act for the 1 mpartial ndainistratioa of justlee, In the cases of persons questioned for any nets done by them, In the ex. ecution of the law, or for the suppresslon of rlots and tumults, In the provlace of the Massachusetts Bur, In New Englund.
That th may he proper to repeal an act, made eaty, inthuled, 'An act for the better regulating the government of the provice of the Masachil. cette Bay, In New Eapland.

That is may be proper to explaln and amead an ace, made in the Sith year if the relga of King Henry VIII., Intltuled, An act for the trial of treasone committed out of th bligg' derainlone."
That, from the time when the general amem. biy or general court, of any colony or plantatlon. in North Amerlica, thall have appolnted, by art of asembly eluly confirmesi, a mettled salary to the oftices of the chlef justice andi ocher juiges of the muperior cuurta, It may be proper that the sald chlef juatice nad other Juiges of the superior courts of sueli colony shall hold his and theif oflice and oftlo duriag thele good behaviour, and shall not c removed thercifrom, hut when the sald rell il shanll be aljudged hy his Majenty in er it, upon a hearing on complaint from the ral asemhly, or on a romplaint from tlie f a nor, or the counc' , or the housa of represeusativea, severally, of the colony in Which the mald cblef juatice and other Judge have exerched the sald offices.

That it may le proper to reguinte the courts of almifnity or vice medmiralty, authorizel by the 15th chapter of the 4th reorge III., In nuch a manner as to make the same more commorllous to thome who sue or are sued In the sald courts; and to providic for the more decent malntranace of the finges of the same."-Edmund Burke, Works, t. 9.

Also in: T. MacKnlght, Life and Times of Edinumd Burke, ch. 2 (n. 2),-J. Adolphus, Misl. of Einglend, Reign of Geo. 1II., eh. 2 (e. 2).
A. D. 1775 ( anuary-April),--Alme at Independence dinclaimed.-. Thic deulal that lndependence was the flanl object, was constant and genernl. To obtaln roncesslons and to preserve the councetion with England was affirmed every: where; and John Adams, alter the peace, went farther than thls, for he sald:-' There was not a monent durlag the lievolution, when I would not have glvel。 cverythlng I posseswel for a restoratlon to the state of things before the contest be inn, provlded we $r$ idd bave had a suthelent be fy for lis contl se. If Mr. Adams be regurced as express he seutiments r? the Whirs, they were wi. to remain Colonlsts, provided diry coul, ave had thelr rights areured to then: while the Torims were contente: than to continue, whent such security. Suelh, as it ap peits to me, was the only difference between $t_{1}$ ". parics prior to hostilties.
Franklin's : =l:auny, a few uays before tho iffair it Levir ton, was, that he liad 'mere than sace travelled almont from one end of the continent to the other, nul kept $n$ rariets of company, cathg, drlaking, unel conversing with them freely, [and] never had heard from any person, drunk or sober, the least expression of a whish for a separation, or a lilnt that such a tblng would be ndvantageous to America.' Mr. Jay if quite as explielt. 'During the acurse of my life,' sald l:c, 'and unti. the second pettiton of Cougress $\ln 17-5$, I never did bear an American of any class, or of any descriptlon, express a wish for the independeace of the Colonies.' 'It has always been, and still is, my oplnion aud belief. that our country was prompted nad lin. pelled to Independence by neceralty. and not ly choicc.' Mr. Jefferson affrmed, "What, enstward of New York, might have been the dispoaitions towards England before the commencement of hostillies, I know not; but before that I never heard a whisper of a disposition to separ. ate from Great Britain; and after that its possibility was contempiated with aftiction by all.' Washington, in 1774, fuliy sustalns these deciarations, and, in the 'Fairfax County Resolves, It was complained that 'maievolent faisehoods' were propagated by the ministry to prejudice the mind of the king: 'particularly that there is an intention in the American Colonies to set up for independent States.' Mr. Madison was not in puhilic iffe until May. 1776, but he says, 'It has aiways been my Impression, that a reeatah. lishment of the Colonlai reiations to the parent country, as they were previous to the controversy, was the real ohject of every class of the people, till the despair th ohtalning it,' \&e.
The only way to dispose of testimony like this, is to impeach the persons who have given it."L. Sabine, Biographical sketcles of Loyalists of the Am. Kev., v. 1, pp. 64-66
A. D. 1775 (January-September).-RevoIution in South Carolina. See South CanoUNNA: A. D. 1775.
A. D. 1775 (April). - The Beginning of the War of the American Revolution.-Lexing-ton.-Concord.-'On April 10, 17\%5, the committees of sufety conid only count up twelve field-pleces in Massachusetts; and there had been colleeted in that eolony 21,549 tre-arms, 17,441 pounds of powder, 22,191 pounds of bail, 144,698 tints, 10,108 hayonets, 11,979 pouehes, 15,000 cantcens. There were also 17,000 pounds of salt fish, 85,000 pounds of rice, with large quantities of beef and pork. View'ed as an cvi. dence of the forethought of the eolonista, these statistles are remarkahle; hut there was something heroie and indeed ainost pathetic lu the project of going to war witis the Britisi govern. ment on thi strength of twelve fleld-pleces and seventeen thousund pounds of suit fish. Yict When, on the nigit of the 18th of Aprii, 1775 , Paui Revere rode bencath the brigit moonlight through Lexington to Concord, whih Dawes nnd Prescott for comrades, he was carrying the signal for the independence of a nation. Ife had seen across the Charles River the two lights from the chureh-steeple In Boston which were to show that a British force was going out to seize the patriotle supplies at Conconl; he had warned Hancock and Adams at Rev. Jonas Clark's parsonage in Lexington, and had rejected Sergeant Monroc's caution against unnecessary noise, witih the rejoinder, 'You'li have nolse enough here before long - the reguiars are coming out.' As he gailoped on hls way the regulars were ad. vancing with steady step hehind him, soon warned of thelr own danger hy alarm-belis and signal-guus. When Revere was captured hy some Britlsh offeers who happened to be near Coneord, Colonel smith, the conmmander of the expedition, had aiready haited, ordered Pitcalrn forward, and sent back prudently for reinforecments. It was a niglit of termo to all the neigh. boring Middicsex towns, for no one knew what excesses tirc angry British troops might commit on their return mareli. The best picture we have of this alarm is In tite narrative of a Cambridge womau, Mrs. Ilauunh Wintirop, deseribing the horrors of that midnight ery, ${ }^{\prime}$ as she calls it. The womed of that towu were roused by the beat of drums and ringing of bells; the hantily gathered their chlldren together nid the to the outiying farm-houses; seventy or eight of them were at Fresh Pond, withlh hearing o the guns at Menotomy, now Arlington. Tbr next day thelr hushands bade them flee to Ado ver, whither the college property had twen sent and thither they went, alternately walking an riding, over fleids where the bodies of tire slain iay unhuried. Before 5 A. M. on A pril 19 , 1775 . the British troops had reached Lexlngton Green. Where thirty elgit micn, under Captain l'arter, stood up before six hundred or cight hundirel in he shot nt, thelr eaptain saylng, 'Don't fire un iess you are tired ont; hut If they want a warle It begin here.' It began there; they were fied upon; they tlred rather ineffectually in return, whilic seven were killed and nine wounded. White seven were killed and nine wounded. The rest, after retreating, reformed nnd pursued the British towaris Concord, capturiug seven sting. glers - the first prisoners taken in the war, Then followed the fight at Concori, wilere four bundred and fifty Amerieans, instead of thrity eigith, were rallied to neet the British. The fighting took place between two detuchments as the North Bridge, where 'ouce the enibattled farmers stood, And tired the shot heard round the worid.' There the American captsin, isase Davis, was klifed at the flist ehot - he who bad sald, when his compauy was phaced nt the head of the ilttie columa, 'I haven't a man that is afraid to go.' He fell and Major Buttrick gare the order, 'Flre! for God's sake fire!'In returu. The British detachment retreated in disonder, hut their maiu body was too strong to be attacked, so they disahied a few eannon, destroyed some barrels of thour, eut down the litherty: pinle set tire to the court-house and then hegan their return marei. It cnded in at It sht, they were exposed to a constant guerilia tire; buimute men tlocked beifind every tree nad fouse: and only the foresight of Coloncl Sinlth in sending for re inforcements had averted a surrender. At? P. M., near Lexington, P'ercy with his tmops met the returning fugitives, and formedia hollow square, into whieli they ran and threw them selves on the ground exhausted. Then Perer in turn feil back. Militia stili came pouring tn from Dorchester, Miltou, Dedham, as well as the ncarer towns. A company from Danvers narehed sixteen milics in four hours. The Americans lost ninety-three $\ln$ kilied, wounded and misslug that day; tite Britisi, two hundred and seventy three. But the iniportant result was that every A merican eolony now recognized that war had begun."-T. W. Iliggloson, Bistory of the United States of America, ch. 10.
Also in: R. Frothingham. Hist. of the Siege of Reston, ch. 2.-E. 1I. Goss, Life of Phel Reterr. v. 1, ch. 7.-J. L. Watson, Piul Keceres signal (Muss Ilist. Sic. Procedings, Non 18ies,-P. Force, ed. Am. Archives, serics 4. r. 2.-E Phlnney, Hist. of Battle at lexington, -C. Hud son, Ilist. of Lerington, ch. 6-8.
A. D. 1775 (April), - The first Provincial Convention in New York. Sce New Yorn: A. D. 1775 (APRIL)
A. D. 1775 (April-May). - The siege of Boston begun.-' Reiuforcenients of foreigu trops and supphes were eonstantly arrlving lin Boston. Howe, Clinton, and Burgoyue came, ns generale. on the 254 h of May. Biteruess, rilicith, am boasting, with ail the irritatlig taunts of a mer

5 of bells; they gether and Bed renty or eighty thin hearing ol riington. The m flee to Ando had leen sent, y walking and les of the slain April 10, 1775 . xington Green. aptain l'arker, ght hundrelt to "Don't fire un want a warkt they were fifed ally in return, ronided. The ad pursued the g seven strig. in the rar. rd , where four cad of thirty Britlsh. The letuchuments at the embattled $t$ hearsl round captnin, lease - he who bad d at the head inun that is Buttriek gare e!'iar return. 1 in disonder, ong to be at 10th, elestroyed e lihurty poide, n legan their hit; they were ; minute-men 1se: sud only ending for reencier. At? th his troeps media hollow threw themhen Percy in e pouring in , as well as rom Danvers ilours. The led, wounded t wo hundred ortaut result w recognlzed nson, Distory 10. of the siege of Pall Revers. cere's Ǎignal $18: 8 \%-P$ c. $\stackrel{2}{2}-\mathrm{E}$ Provincial Serir Yore:
iege of Bosreisu trops gin Buston ns generale. iticuht, and ts of a met cenary soidiery, were frecly poured on the patriots and on tho 'mixed multltude ' which composed the germ of thelr army yet to be. The British forces had cooped themseives up in Boston, and the provincials determined that they shouki remain there, with no mode of exit save by the sca. The pear-shnped peninsula, hung to the maiuland oniy hy the stem called the 'Neck," orer which the tide. waters sometimes washed, whs equaily nn inconvenient position for crowdiug reglments in war-ilke array, and in convenient one for the cxtemporized army which was nlout to beleagner them there.

The town of Charlestown, which iny under the enemy's guns, hal contained a popalation of bet ween two mui three thousami. Tho interraption of all the empioyments of pence, and the proximity of danger, had brought poverty and suffering upon the people. They inalleen steadijy lenving the town, with such of their cffects as they contd carry with them. It proved to the weli for them that they had acted upon the warning. It would seem thit there were less than 200 of its ininnbltauts remaining in it at the time of the battie, when the limmes ktadled ioy the cnemy and bombs from a battery on Copp's IIial iadid it in ashes On the third day after the affalr at Conconi. the Provincial Cougress again assembled, voted to ritise at once 13,000 men, to rally $n$ Cambrilge and the nelghborhowi, and asked all frum the other provinecs, to which Connectl. cut, Rhode lsland, and New Hampshire responded. The forts, magazines, and arsenals suchas they then were, were secured for the country. , . . Of the 15,000 men then gathered, by the cry of war, at Cambridge and Roxbury, nil vlrtually, hat not iy formnifinvestment, under the commuad of Generai Ward, nearly 10,000 belouged to Mnssiclmsetts, and the remainder to New Humpshire, Rhode Isinnd, and Connecticnt. They have leen designated shice, at varions times and by dilferent writers, under the extreme contrist of terms, as an 'organized army,' and a 'mob.' Either of these terms wouid be equally lanppropriate. . Onr troops were ninutemelu extemporized into fragmentary companies abil skelcton regiments. The othicers, chosen on the villag'egrectn or in its pablic-lonse, paying for the hamin ly a truat, or jerhaps because they kept the jremises where tie treat could be most conventeaty furnished, were not commissloned or ranlied is the leaders of an army for campaign arvice. The yenmell of town and village had thet come together at the smmmons of a com. mander-in-chiet throngh mdjntant, hernhi, or ndrertisement. 'lhoy come nulidden, ut an nlarm from the trll on their meeting-honse, or from a post thot or front the teiegrams transmltted by tungucund eir. . . And for the most part they were as Iree to go away is they had been to come Thry were conisted after a fashion, some prime cunditions of which were their onn conchinnee or plotisire. . . Stach of them as came from the se:tborirl inight bring with them old sitls for teuts, while the malimmmer dinys made it scarcely a harrlship to many to fave only tho henvens for a romf. Generally thelr towns were expectivl to keep thein supplied of it food. The forces then musterivl at Cambridge as a centrif camp, :ml, stretcilng from the left at Cheisen almost round to Dorchester on the rlght, for zerily three quarters of a circle, were indeed not orguized, nor yet had they nny characteristic of a mere moh. They combined in fact four independent armies, united in resiatance to a foreign enemy. Ench of the Provinces had raised, commissioned, and assumed the supply of lits respective forces, holding them sulject to their several orlers. After the battle In Charlestown, the Committee of War in Connectlent ordered their generals, Spencer and Putnam, while they were on the territory of thls I'rovince, to regnrd General Wurd ns the commander-in-chlef, and suggested to Khode Isiand nud New Hampshire to dsave the game lustrnctions to their soidiers, nud fudicious jatriot. In the French war he had earned some mlitary expericace nad fame. On October 27, 17\%4, the Irovincial Congress, in which he was a deleg口te, appointed him n generai ollicer, and on May 10 following, Commander-h ehief. As such he served nt Canliridge till the nrrivai of Washimgton. On the very day of the battic in Cinarlestown, when the Great chieftah was selected for his high service, Ward was ehosen by the Continentai Congress as its first mnjor general. Though he was oniy in lis 48th year when ise was inrdened with the resionnslbllity of the opening warfare, his body was intirm from discase nod exposurc. Lieutenant Gencral Thomas, two years the senior of Ward, wis secomi in command. . . General Israd I'utham preceded inls Connecticut troops in harrying to the scene of war on the news of the affair at bexington aml Concord. IIls men soon followed him, with like enthusiasm. Tho New 1 Lampsialre tronps, on their arrival nt Med ford, made choiee of Colonei Joha Stark as thelr leuler. Colonel Nathuniel Greene conummuded a reginent from Iklande Island. . . A few days after the affair at Lexington, when virtmally the slege legau, Generai Gage, the Iritish commander, at the solicitation of some of the leading citizens assembled in Fancuil Mali, hadi, by a mutual mulerstanding, entered into an agreement that such of the inhalitunts as wished to depart from the town should be nt iiterty to do so, if they would lenve thelr arms behind them and covenant not to engage in any hostility against inls army. The agreement was arailed of by many of tite sulfering and frightened people. But the original fredom nad ful-ness of this understaning, on the jart of General ness of this understanding, on the jart of General
Gage, were soon reducel by a very strict examin. Gage, were soon reduced by a very strict examination of those who songlit to go ont of the town, and by a rigid search of the ciffects whleh they wished to tuke with them. . Sereral of the imhabitants remained init from different inotives: sume as devoted loynlists; sonte as timid neutrals; some as sjies, to watch each hostile movement and to communiente it to their frlends outslde.

Affer hostilities commenced, Gencral Gage, of course, regarded the cltizens as ailke prisoners, cither in the sume sense ln which he Was inimseif under restralnt, or as abettors of those wino were inls enemies. . . The populnthon of the town, independent of the military, was then abont 18,000 . To aii those who were not in sympathy with them the Iritish behaved in an insulting nnd exasperating manner. To show, as members of the Lingllsh Church estabilshment, thelr contempt of congregationnl pinces of worshlp. they removed the pews and pulpit from the Uld sunth meeting house, and, covering the floor with carth, they converted it into a riding-mehool for Burgoyne's squadron of cavalry. The two eantern galleries T : re allowed to remaln, one for spectators. the other for a llquor-shop, whlle the fire $\ln$ the stove was oc caslonally klndled hy books and pamphlets from the llhrary of a former pastor, Dr. Prince, whlch were $\ln$ a room ln the tower. . . . At the tlme of the skirmlshes at Lexington and Concord there were about 4,000 Britlsh troops In Boston and at the Castle. The number was Increased to more than 10,000 before the actlon $\ln$ Charlestown. "G. E. Ellis, Hist. of the Battle of Bunker's Hiu, pp. 4-26.
Also IN: R. Frothlngham, Hist, of the Siege of Boston, ch. 3.-George Wasllngton, Writings, ed. by W. C. Ford, v. 3.-Jos. Reed, Life and Cor., o. 1.-C. Stednan [Engllsh], Hist. of the $\Delta m$. War, v. 1, ch. 1 and 5.
A. D. 1775 (April-June).-The spreading of revolt.-All the colonies in line with New England.-"On the 23d of April, the day after the dissolutlon of the provincial Congress of New York, the news from Lexlngton hurst upon tho clty. Though it was Sunday, the lnhahltants speedlly unloaded two sloops which lay at the wharfs, laden with flour and supplies for the Britlsh at Boston, of the value of $£ 80,000$.
The royal goverument lay hopelessly prostrate. Isaac Sears concerted wlth John Lamh to stop all vessels going to Quebec, Newfoundland, Georgla, or Boston, where Britlsh authorlty was stlll supreme. The people shut up the customhousc, and the merchauts whose vessels were cleared out dared not let them sail. In the fol. dowing days the milltary stores of the clty of New York were secured, and volunteer companies paraded ln the streets. . . . On the 1st of May the people, at the usual places of election, chose for the city and county a new general commlttee of one hundred, who 'resolved in the most explicit manner to stand or fall with the llberty of the continent.' All parts of the colony were summoned to send delcgates to a provinclal conventlon, to which the clty and county of New York deputed one-and-twenty as their representatives. .. On the 2 d of llay the New Jersey committee of correspondence called a provencial congress for the 23 d at Trenton. To antlelpate its influence, the governor convencil the regular assemhly elght days earlier at Burlington, and lald before them the project of Lord North [adopted by the Britlsh parllament ln February, offering to each colony freedom from taxation on lts maklng satlsfactory provision for the general defense and for support of government]. The assemhly could see ln the proposltion no avenue to reconclliation, and declared their lntention to 'ahide hy the united voice of the continental congress.' Such, too, was the spirlt of Pennsylvania. 'Let us not have lt sald of lliladelphia that she passell noble resolutions and neglected them,' were the words of M1ffin, youngest of the orators who on the 25th of April addressed the town-mecting called lu that clity on receiving the news from Lexington Thousunds were present, and agreed 'to associate for the purpose of defending with arms thelr lives, their property, and liberty.' Thomas Paine from that day 'rejected the sullen Pharaoh of the British throne forever.'. In Philadel phla, thirty companies, with 50 to 100 ln each, dally practlced the manual exercise of the musket. One of them was raised from the Quakers.

The Pennsylvania assemhly, whlch met on the irst day of May, rejectlog the overtures of the governor, ' could form no prospect of lasting advantages for Pennsylvanla hut from a conmunlcation of rights and property with the other colonles.'...On the 5th Franklin arrived, after a voyage over the smoothest seas, and the next mornlng was unanlmously elected a deputy to the congress.

In Maryland, at the request of the colonels of milltla, Eden, at Annapolis, gave up the arms and ammunltion of the prov ince to the freemen of the county. Pleasel with hls concesslon, the provinclal convention dis. tlagulshed liself by lts moderatlon; and its dele. gates to congress determined to labor for a reconclllation. In Vlrglnla [where, ln the night of April 20th, Governor Dunmore liad carried of the gunpowder stored ln the colony's magaziae at Willamshurg, and where, as a consequeace, the excited people were alrcally $\ln$ arms, though no further action had yet been taken], on the $2 d$ of May, at the cry from Lexington, the ludepen. deut company of lianover and lis county conmit. tee were called together by Pattick Henry. The sulders, most of them young men, elected him thelr chlef, and marched for Williamstarg, on the way greatly lncreasing in numbers. Alarmed by the 'Insurrectlons,' Dunmorc convened the council, and ln a proclamation of the $3 d$ pre. tended that he had removed the ammunition, least it should be selzed hy slaves. Mesage ifter message could not arrest tho march or chnnge the purpose of Ilenry. . . . At sunrise on the 4th the governor's messenger met Ilenry at Siew Kent, and, as a compensatlon for the gunpowder taken out of tho magazine, pald hin ${ }^{(33} 30$, for whlch he was to account to the convention of Vlrginla. The sum was found to be more than the value of the powder, and the next Virginis convention directed the excess to be palid hack

In twelve or thirteen days the message from Lexington was borne to Newbern, in North Carolina, where It 'wrought a great change.' The governor, in his panlc, ordered the eanoon In the town to be dismounted; aud, after a $n$ monstrance made ln the name of the inhalitants by Abner Nash, 'the oracle of their commintee and a principal promoter of sedition,' he siipped his wife to New York and fled to Fort Johuston, where a sloop-of-war had lis station. la Nouth Carolina, Charles Pinckney, on learning the in tlexibility of parllament, using power intrusted to him by the provincial congress, appointed a cominltice of five to place the coiony in os state of defence; ou the 21 st of $A_{p}$ ril, the very night after their organization, men of Charleston, without disguise, under their direction, seized all the powder lu the public magazlnes, and remored 800 stand of arms and other millitary stores from the royal arscual. The tidings from Lexington Induced the general committee to hasten the meeting of the provincial congress, whose members, on the dd of June. Henry Laurus being their president, assot ted themselves for defince a gainst every foe; 'r uly to sacritice their lises and fortunes to secure her freedom and siffers. They resolvell to raise two reginents of hafantry and a regiment of rangers.
'The jropte of Charleston are as mad as they are here in lioston,' was the testimony of Gage. The skirmish at Lexington became known in Savaanali on the 10th of May, and added Georgh to the anion. At that thes she hal theout 17,000 white inhah tants and 15,000 Africans. Her miiitia was not vertures of $t$ of lasting a commu. the other rived, after d the next deputy to he request Aunapolis, the pror. leasol with entiou dis. nd its dele. bor for a the nilght carried of mgazineat urnce, the though no on the 8 e ladepen. $y$ commit eury. The ected him shurg, on Alarmed rened the e 31 pre. munition, wige after or change ise on the ynt Sew unpowder £ ¿3io, for ention of nore than Virginia aid back. message in North chnuge.' le cannon fter a re. hahitants ommittee e shipped Johnston, lu South If the $\ln$. intrusted pointed a n a state cry night on, with. ed all the remored res from dexington isten the se memus being rdefence seir lives safety. lnfantry Mople of Buston,' runlsh at 1 on the c union. Enhah was not less than 8,000 . IIer frontier, which extended from Augusta to St. Mary's, was threatened hy the Creeks, with 4,000 warriors; the Chickasas, with 450; the Cherokees, with 3,000 ; the Choctas, with 2.500. But danger could not make her people hesitate. On the night of the 11th. Noble wimberiey Jones, Joseph Haberahnm, Edwnrd Telfair, and others, broke open the king's magazine in the eastern part of the city, nid took from it over 500 pounds of powder. To the Boston wanderers they sent 63 harrels of rice and £122 in specle; and they kept the king's birthday by raising a liberty-pole."-G. Bancroft, Hist of the U. S. (Authrr's last revision), e. 4, eh. 11.

Also in: T. Jones, Ihist. of N. F. during the Revolution, r. 1, ch. 2.-W. WIrt, Life of Patrick Henry, rect. 5.-W. B. Stevens, Llisid. of Georgia, bk. 4. ch. 1 (v. 2).-Proceedings of N. Y. Procincial Cor pas (N. Y. State Archives, v. 1).W. H. Egle, Hist. of Penn., ch. 8.
A. D. 1775 (May). - The surprising of Ticonderoga and Crown Point.-"Early in the year 1065, as soon ns it was made manlfest by the sttitute assumad on the part of the British goveruneat ngalust the colonies, nad by the conduct of General Gnge in Boston, that open hostilitics must lnevitably commence in a short tlme, It begun to be secretir, whispered among the principal politctans In New Enginnd that the capture of Ticonderoga was an ohject demandiar the first ettention. In the month of March. samuel Adams and Dr. Joseph Warren, as members of tha Committee of Correspondence in Bostom, sent an ngent privately Into Cannda, on a political misslon, whth Instructions to ascertain the feellngs of the peopie there in regard to the nppronciing contest, and to make such reports as his observations should warrant.
Thls ageat sent hack lntelligence from Montrenl, snd among other things advised, that by ail menns the garrison of Ticonderoga should be selzed as quilckiy as posslble after the breaking out of hostilltles, nidding that the people of the New Hampshire Grants had already agreed to undertnke the task, and that they were the most proper persons to be cmployed in it. This hint was given three weeks anterior to the hattle of Lexiagton, and how far it matluenced future designs may not be known; but it is certnin that, eight days after that ewent, several gentlemen at that timic attending the Assembly in Hartfori, Connecticut, concerted a plan for surprising T1conderoga and seizing the cannon ln that fortress, for the use of the army then marching from all quarters to the environs of Boston."-J. Sparks, Life of Ethan Allen (Library of Am. Biag., $\tau_{1} 11, p$. 270.-The gentlemen above men. tioned "borrowed of the Connecticut Treasury sone 1,800 dollars, and cnilsted Mott and Phelps of Hart ford, and Blagden of Salishury, to beat up recruits. With these they went northwarl, nul at littsfieid got the co-operation of Captulus Easton and Brown. No time was to be lost, and they pushed on with some forty men to find that Vermont giant, Ethan Allen, at Benningtont. Allen at once agreed to go; he sought out seth Warner, and roused the 'Green Mountain Boys,' who were mostly Connecticut and Massachusetts men; so that, in a few days, there kathered at Costleton (7th of Mity, 1765 two hheir first ind seventy strong men. Allen was their tirst ieader, Easton second, and Warner third. Thelr larger body was to cross the Lake In boats from Shoreham, and surprise 'Ty.' Captain Herrlek, wlth thirty men, was to sefize the pass of Skenesborough (now, Whitehall) at the heal of the Lake, nnd Cnptain Dougiass was to search for and selzc nll boats and batteaux. White these things were in progress, the amhitlous, nctive, and daring Benedict Arnold heard of this expedition, and at once got leave from the Committee of Safety at Cumbridge, to lead it. Ile roie post-haste through Massachusetts to ralse men, and, whth a single follower, reached Castleton, and claimed the command. These rough cuhs of the forest could not well understand why he should lead them, for had they not Allen, and Warner, anu Easton, and Phelps, nnd Blggelow, nnd others? But they consented that he should join Allen as nn equal; aud so forwari they went. On the 8th of May Captain Nouh Phelps, dlsgulsed with roיgh farmer clothes, and a long beard, blundr id Into the fort nt Ticonderoga, pretending $h$ wanted to be shaved. He found the gntes open, and dlsclpine loose; for no telegraph had carried the Lexington news to them, nor had the whinds wafted the smell of blood, or the sounds of muskets there. When the darkness wns decpest on the night of the 9th, Alleu and Arnoid, with 83 men, pulted across the Lake, landell near the fort, nud then sent back the boats for Warner and hls men. They had a hoy, Nathau Bemnn, for a gulde, nad were full of courage. Allen formed hls men, made them a little speech, and all was ready, when the question arose as to who should have the honor of entering the fort first. The dispute was warm between Arnold and Allen, but was finally quicted; and, slde hy side, at daylight, they rushed through the gate of the fort, defended only hy sleeping men. The sentinel snapped hls musket, and ran, giving the alarm; the garrison hastily turned out, to tind themselves In the face of superior numbers. Allen songht and fout the Commander's hed room, and when Captain ichnplace waked, he saw my thing hut an Angel of Mercy with white wings. Delaplace opened the door, with trowsers in hand and there the great gauut Ethan stoom, with a drawn sword in his hand. 'Surrender 1' said Ethan. 'To you q' asked Dehaphice. 'Yes, to me, Ethon Allen.' 'By whose nuthority ?' asked Laplace. Ethan was growing inpatient, and raising his voice, and warlig his sword, he said: - In the name of the Great Jehovah, and of the Continental Congress, by God 1' Delapiace little comprehended the words, hut sur. rendered nt once. Thus, on the morning of 10th of liay, the strong fortress of Ticonderoga was taken by the border men, and with it 44 prisoners, 120 iron cannon, with swlvels, muskets, halls, and some powder, without the loss of a single man. The surprise was planned and paid for by Connccticut, and was led by Allen, a Connecticut-hom man, but was carried ont hy the 'Grcen Mountain Boys.' Skenesborough (Whitehall) was surprised and seized, while Major Skene was out shooting. Arnoh' at once manned in sclooner, takeu at Skencsborough. and led an nttack agninst au armed sloop at St. John's; he took her and the place, and returncd in triumph to meet Allen, who, in battenux, was coming to sustaiu him. Warncr led a party against Crown Poiut, and took it, whh its hindred camon, and smail garrison of 12 men.
provisions to the British fisheries; and another declaring the provinee of Massachusetts Bay ab. solved from its eompaet with the erown, by the vlolatlon of its churter; and recomnending It to form an internal government for itseif. situation of the New Engiand army, nctually be sieging Boston, became nn early and ahsorbling consideration. It whs without munitions of war without arms, elothing, or pay; in fact, wlthou leglslative countenance or encouragement. Va. less sanctloned and ussisted by Congress, there was danger of its dissolution.

The ilspoostion to uphold the army was general; bu the difficult quesilon was, who should be commander. in-clilef? . The ophtion crideatly inclined in favor of Washington; yet It was promoted by no ellque of partisans or alminess More than one of the Virginta delegates, says Adams, were cool on the subject of thls appointment. . Adams, in ifls diary, cinins the credit of hringing the members of Congress to a decision. regularly on the 15 th of June, the army was regularly adopted by Congress. and the pay of the commnnder-In-chlef fixea int $$ 500$ a mooth Manys stlll ciung to the ldea, that h ali these proceedings they were merely opposing the meas. ures of the ministry, and not the anthority of the crown, and thus the $n=m y$ before Buston was designntel as the Continental Army, ha contradistinctlon to that under Generul Gage, which was called the Minlsterinl Army. In this stage of the husiness, Mr. Johnsou, of Mary land, rose, and nominated Washington for the station of commander-in-ehief. The election was by ballot, and was unnnlmous. It was formally ab nounced to him by the president, on the fullow. ing day, when he had taken hls seat lu Comgrese Rlsing in hils place, he brietly expressed his high nad grateful sense of the honor conferred ou him, anml his sincere devoton to the eause. 'But,' adided he, 'lest some nulueky event should hap. peu unfavorable to my repniatlon, I beg it masy he remembered by every gentloman in the room, that I this day deelare, with the utmost siacentr, I do not think myself' equal to the commami i am honored with. As to pay, I beg leate to assure the Congress that, as no pecuniary curstileration could have tempted me. ...ept this arduous empioyment, it the expense of my domestic ease and happiness, 1 to not wish to make any profit on it. I will keep an exactacconnt of my expenses. Those, 1 doult nut, they will discharge, and that is all I desire." Four major-generals, - Artemas Ward, Charks Lie Plilip Schnyler and Israel Putnam, - ant cipht hrigader-generals - Seth Pomeroy, Richard Montgomery, David Wonster, Whitum Heath, Josepli Speneer, John Thomas, Jolun Sulisan, and Nnthaniel Greene - were appointed. "At Washington's express request, his old friend, Major lloratlo Gates, then absent at his estste in Virginia, was appointed adjutant-general, with the rank of hrigadier."-W. Irving, Life of Hawh ington, v. 1, ch. 39.-"The Congress of $1-75$ was not content with mere expression of opirlons It took a large view of its powers. It realized that its effieieney depended wholly upon the acceptance of its acts hy the prineipais of the different delegations; but, following its judg' ment as to what the patriotism of the colonies would approve and sustain, it initlated sctioa of various kinds, which, from the beginaing. assumed the certainty of adoption by the color

UNITED STATES, 1775.

nies, and derived all its energy from the prob. ability of sueh ratlfieatlon. The Congress doubtless exceeded the letter of the instructlons received hy a portlon of lts members; but this wss not from any miseonceptlon of those instruetions. $\qquad$ In pointing out to the eolonles the dlrectioa which their preparatloas for reslstaaco onght to take, the Congress no more acted upou an imagined anthorlty to command the colonles than does the lookout nt the bow of the shlp, when he reports the dircctlon of danger to the oflicer of the deek. The Congress unquestlonahly enjoved a prestige at thls juncture which it suhsequevity lost. The people, and even the provincial conrentions, occasloaully addressed it in a tone whleh Indicated that they unconsclously attribnted to it power which it pialaly did not possess."-A. W. Amali. The Jrginnings of Am. Nationality (Johns Mojkins Unie. Studies, 9th series, 1-2) $p$. $73 .-$ "With the energy aad recklessness of a Frencll revolutionary body lt might have blotted out the distiactions between colonies, and estahllshed a ceatralized governmeat, to he modificd in tlme by cireumstaaces. In fact, It took no sueh direetion. It began lts eonrse by reec meudations to the uew colonlal governments; it relied on them for executlve aets; aad, as soon as the new colonies were falrly under way, they selzed on the power of naming and recalling the delegates to the Congress. From that time the decadence of the Congress was mplif the aational lica! came dimmer; nad the assertious of complece soverignty liy the political units became more pronunnced."-A. Johnstan, The Unitert Stutes: its Hintory and Conatitution, sect. 63-66 (ch. 3).
Alaso 1N: R. Frothingham, The Rise of the Repulit, ch. 10.-11. von Iolst, Const. and Pol. Nikt. of the $U . \operatorname{se}$, v. 1, ch. 1.-P. Force, $A m$. Archirs, $r$. 2.
A. D. 1775 (June),-End of Royal Government in New Hamishire. See New Hamp. sıum: 1. 1). 1705-1736.
A. D. 1775 (June).-The end of Royal Govemment in Virginia. See Vimainia: A. D.
A. D. 177,: (June).-The Battle of Bunker Hill.-" Brinish reiuforcements, muier three generals. llowe, Clintou, and Burgoyne, arrived at Bosta som after the fight at Lexington. Gage had mur nhout 10,000 men. These occupied the town of hoston, which hay on a penasula cover. ing the mhlelle of the harbor. Around them, on the lills of the mainland, there were nbont twlee their number of uudisciplined aad poorly-armed Amerieans, without canmen nnd almost withont fom I. Jist uorth of Bostou, another peninsula ram out into the harbor. On it there were sevcral hills, and the Americans dietermiue: to seize and fortify one of them, called Bunker Hill. Almut 1.000 meu, nader Solonel Preseote, were selui int, the peninsula for this on a satitah "ight. Fur some reason, they passed ber nd Bunker llili. and seized Breed's Hill, maeh chaswr to Buston. Irreed's Ilill is now usually cillet. Bunker llill, and the Bunker IItl monu. ment is ereetel upon it. The Amerlcaa fortinthe nith whis continned silently and swiftly tbrough 1ritinh in Boston morning of June 17, 1775, the British in Boston rwoke to see a long ine of intrenchunents runnlag aeross the hill above them, rent an inurican workiug-party baslly streng!h, longe For a time, the British frigates ln the liarbert up a sow and distunt fire, to which the working party pald no nttentlon; but at noon the work was stopped, for the Britlsh troops Were comlng ncross the harhor ln boats. Three thousand weli armed, unlformed, and drilled soldlers, who had never known defert in equal fight, landed near Chariestown, ur ter General Howe. Here they formed at the witer-side, and In a long, steady line hegan to more upward to scatter the 1,500 furmers who were watehlng them from the top of the hlll. From the roofs of the houses In Boston, the rest of the Britlsh army and the townspeople were watching, anxlous to see 'whether the lankees wouli fight."
Most of the watchers expected to see Most of the watchers expected to see the untrained soldiers in the firt fire a few hasty shots at a asfo distance, nud rin. The fort held a threatenlng slleace untii the attacklug eolumn was vithin 150 feet. Thea, at the worl, came a sheet of fire from the maiksmen withla; and, when the sinoke lifted, part of the Britlsh llne was lylng dead or wounded, and the rest were retreatlng lastlly down the hill. The British were not cownrds: the officers re-formed the line at the loottom of the hill, and, after settlog fire to Charlestown, agaln advanced to the attaek. Agaln there was a steady slleace ln the fort, a close an deally fire, and the Britlsh liue was driven in the hlll ngain. The British then movel $L t^{\text {t }}: \mathrm{e}$ lill for the thind tlme. The powder ln the fort was now goae, and the garrisen fonght for a few minntes with gunstocks anc. stoaes agulnst the British hayonets. Dut such a struggle was hopeless, and the British gaired the fort. They were too tircd to pursuo the garrison, who escaped to the mainlind." - A Johnston, Ifiat. of the $U$. S. for sihewhis, sect. 10j-107. - As soon as Preseott saw the de fence was hopeless, lie orlered a retreat, and frieud and foe iningled together as they surged out of the sally port amid the clonds of diust whleh the trampling raised, for a scorchiag sun had haked the new turned soil. It was now while the eonfnsed mass of lielngs rocked aloag lown the rear slope of the lill, that Warren [who hat jolned the defenting force that morning ns a volunteer] fell, shot through the head. No one amoug the Americans knew certalnly that he was clead, as they left him.
Prescctt did not couceal his inilignation at not haviag been better supported, whea he made hls report nt Ward's headynarters. He knew he had fought well; but neither he nor his ontemporarles understeod at the time how a physical it feat might be a moral victory. Not kaowlig thils, there was little else than mortitication over the result, - indere, on hoth sides. ... The geneml opihion seems to be that the $A$ nericans hal alrout $1.0(6)$ man engaged at one tlme, and that from 3,000 to $40 \mu \%$ at different times took some part $\ln$ it. The f Itish had probahly about the same anmbers in all but were in exeess of the Americans at nll times while enguged. The conflict with small arms lasted ahout ainety mia. utes."-J. Winsor. The Confliat Precipitated (Narrative and Critical IIist. of $1 \mathrm{~m} ., \mathrm{c} .6, \mathrm{ch} .2)$. -" How can we cxaggerate the relative impor tance of this day's action? Dld it not, la fnct not oaiy open, hut make the contest, dividing into two parties aot oaly those determined for the minlstry or for enfrunchlseucat, hitt also all thmil, hesltatlog, reiuctant neutrals? It was int possible after this to avold taklog a side. It rendered all reconclliation impossible, thll it

UNITED STATES, 1775.

Expedition to Canada.
UNITED STATES, 1775.
should offer ftself in the shaph of independence. it echoed the gathering cry that hrought togetber our people from thelr farme and worknhopa, to learn the terrible art whici grows more merciful only as it is more fernclously, that is, akllfully, puraued. The day needs no rhetoric to magnily it in our revolutlonary annals. When lis sun went down, the provinctais had parted with all fear, hesitation, and reluetance. They found that it was easy to fight. $\qquad$ General Gage's account of the hat the, acknowleuging the loss of 250 k llled and 828 wounded, was recelved in London, July 25th. Whlle the ministry recelved with dlsmay thls officlal intellgence, and kept it baek from publlcatlon, many prlvate letters ae. companylng it in its translt antlclpated with exaggerations lts humillating detalls."一G. E. Ellis, IIist. of the Battlo of Bunker's Hill, $n_{0}$. 102-105.
Also in: R. Frothingham, Hist, of the Siege of Boston, ch. 4-7. -The same, Live and Times of Jos. Warren, ch. 16.-I. N. Tartox, Lij) of Lerael Putnam, ch. 7-11.-II. B. Dawson, Bunker Hill (IItistorical May., June, 1868).-S. A. Drake, IIistoric Fields and Mansions of Middlesex, ch, 3.${ }^{1}$. Force, ed., Am. Archires, series 4, v. 2.-F. Moore, ed., Diary of the 1 m . Rev., e. 1, pp. 97-103.-B. J. Lossling, Field Book of the Am. Rer., -. 1.
A. D. 1775 (August - December). - Unsucceasful expedition to Canada. - "The explolts of Allen and Arnold at Ticouderoga . . . had invited further conquests; hut the Continental Congress hesitated to take any steps whleh might seem to carry whr ncross the llne will the Cauadlans had the opportunity of casting in their lot wlih thelr neighbors. On the 1st of June, 1775, Congress had ulstinetly avowed thls purpose of restialnt; and they well uceded to be cautlous, for the Canadian French hal not forgotten the bltter aspersions on their rellgiou whleh Congress had, witt little compunetion, lauuched upon lts professors, under the irritation of the Quehec Aet. Still thelr rulers were allens, and the traditlonal hatred of centuries between races is not easlly kept In aheyance. Ethau Allen was more eager to avail himiself of thls than Congress was $t$ ave him; but the mareh of events converted glslators, and the opportunlty which Allen gr, ied to see lost wus not so enslly regained when Congress at last authorlaed the northern lavasion. Arnold and Allen had eaeh aimed to sccure the command of such an expeuition, the one by uppealing to the Continental Cougress, the other by representations to that of New York. Allen hat nlso gone ln person to Phlla. delphia, ant he and his Green Mountaln Boys were not without inthenee upon Congress, In their quan it and somewint rough ways, as thelr exuherant pat...tism lnter made the New York authorities torget their rlotous opposition to the policy which that province had been endeavorlige to enforce in the New Hampshle Grants. Connectleut had ulready sent forward troops to Ticonteroga to hold that post thl Congress should decide upon some definite aetlon; aud at the end of June, 175\%, orter reached Schuyler which he might readily interpret as authorizing him, if the Canadians did not object, to advance upon Canada. He soon started to assume command, hut specdily found matters unpromislag. The Johusons were nrming the Intians up the Mohawk and heyond in a way that boded uo good, and they rad entered into compacte with the Britiah commanders in Canada. Arnold had been at Ticonderoga, and had quarrelled wlth Hinman, the corrmander of the Conaectlcut troops. Schuyle: heard much of the Green Mountain Boys, but he only knew them as the inwless people of the Grants, and moon learned that Allen and Warner had themselves set to quarrelling.

In August the news from Canada began to he alarming. Rehend Mon gomery, an 1rish officer who nad som years Pefore left the anny to settle a the IIudsoa and marry, was now one $c$. the uew hirlgadlers. He urged Schuyler to advance and antlcipate the movement now sald to be intended by Carleton, the Englloh general commanding In Cunaik. At this juncture Schuyler got word from Washlng. son that a cooperating expeditlon would be dis patched hy way of the Kennebec, which, if everything went well, might unlte wilh schuy. ler's before Qucbec."-J. Wlnsor, The "ntict Precipitated (Narr. and Crit. Hiat. of Am., : 0 j. The two movements were made, from Tlenn. deroga and from the Kennebec, with resulus which will be found reluted under Caxias A. D. 1775-17:6. "No expeditlon duriag the American Revoiution had less elements of permauent value than those which were uadertalen 8 ralnst Canada during tho yeur 1775 . Great re:
ts were antlelpated, hut none were realled. The ohstacles were too substantlal, and fallure was inevitable. Wonderful endurance anal great physical courage were manlfested, and these were accompanied hy a prollrious anount of falth but there was nelthr. ahllty nor opportuaity for works commes surate with the falth. Cet. taln Acts of Parllament, known aa the Caadiag Acts, were as offenslve to Canadlans as other leglsiation was to Americans; hut the fomer - Yere not pressed to the extremity of armel reslstance. The people themselves having no harmony of rellgious or pollticul views, were equally divided in language and race. Neither did the Canadlans Invlte the aid of the colonies The hypothesis that Canada would blend her desting whth that of New England, anci would unlte in resistance to the crown, certuinls th. volved somo identity of interest as well as of action. But the ehnracters of the two ptople were too unllke to be unlfied hy simple opposl. tlon to English lcglslation, and Canadians had no antecedents such as would prompt a hearty sympathy with New England and its controlling moral sentlment. Neither was there such a neighborly relation as adinlted of prompt and alecquate aid from one to the other, in emergeneies calling for a comblned effort. As a base of operations for a British army moving upon the colonies, Canada had the single advantage of heing less distant from England than an Atlantic hase, and many supplies could be procured without the expense and delay of their transportation across the Atlantic; hut betwcen Caunda ned the Anerican colonies there was an actual willer. ness. Hence a Br!tisli offenslve movement from Canada involved constant waste of men and materinls, a deep llae through mn uninhalited or hostile region, and such a coustant backlag, as was hoth inconsistent with the resoures of the hase, and with a correspondling support of armies restlng upon the sea coast. The British gavernment was not ready for operatlons so exteusirt and so exhaustlve of men and treasure; neither ompacts with Arnold bad larrelled with Coasecticut of the Green them as the soon leamed aselves set news from ticherd Mom 1 som: years e IIudson and igadlers. He intlelpate the 1 by Carleton Cabala. a om Washlng vould be dif: e, which, if wlth Schuy The "atic Am., do.- from Tlenp. with resulu der Caxada: a during the ments of per. e undertaken 3. Great re rere reallzed. , and failure nee nad great ad these were unt of falth, opportudity fiith. Cer. the Canaliso ass ats other : the former of armed re. having no views, were ce. Nelther the colonies. $d$ blend her , nnd would certainls in. $s$ well as of two people mple oppos dians had no pt a bearty $s$ eontrolling lere such prompt and In emergen. As a lase of Ig upon the dvantage of 1 au Atlantic ocured with. ansportation 1ada and the tual wikder. cement from of men and inlailted or hacking, as arecs of the ort of armles tish govern. so exteasift ure; neither did it realize tine necemelty for that expenditure. There were two alterantives, one iiluatrated by Geaeral Carleton's plan, viz., to hoid the forte of Lake Champiaia, as adranced, defensive positloas; und the other, that of Burgoyue, to strike through the country and depend upon support from the opposite base. The true defense of the coloales from such expedtioas depended upon the prompt selzure and occupation of the frontier posts. An American advance upon Canada was not only through a couatry strateglcaliy bad, but the dlversloa of forces for that purpose cadangered the geueral issue, and entrusted lts latersta to the guardlanaihlp of an army aiready insufticleat to meet the pressing demands of the crisis. The occupation of New York ln 1775 by an adequate Britlah furce, would have iatinItely outwelghed all possihle beaefit from the complete conquest of Canads At the very time when Wasilington could hardly hold the British garrison of Bostoa in check, - when he had an average of but niae rounds of ammunition per man, he was required to apare companles, ammunitloa, and supplles for a venture, profitless at leest, - wlth the certainty that relnforcementa could not be suppiled aa fast na the enemy could draw veteran reglments from Great Britain amd Ireland, to defend or recover Canadlan soil. In gtrlog a rapld outllae of thls first a tempt of the colonifs to enlarge the thentre of active operatlons, it slould he notlced that the initlatlve had been takea before Geacral Washington had been elected commander In-chicf, and that Congress Itself preelpitated the final movement."一 $\mathbf{H}$. B . Carriugton. Battles of the Am. Rec., ch. 19.
Also 1a: B. J. Lossling, Life and Times of Plitip Sehuyler, r. 1, ch. 10-29, and r. 2. ch. 1-4. -J. Armstrong. Life of Richard Montgomery (Litirary of An. Biog.. e. 1). -J. J. Hienry, -4ccount of Armol's Cammign againat Ouebec, by one of the Surrioors - I. N. Arnold, Lite if Benedict Irnold, ch. ox-5. - W. Irvin ${ }_{b}$ Life ;j Wiahinglon, e. 2, ch. 4-5, 8-8, 12, 15-16, 19-20.
A. D. 1775 (September). -Flight of Governor Tryon from Ne, ark. See New York: A. D. 1 T̈̃ (April-Sertemuen).
A. D. 1775-1776. - Weshington in command at Cambridge. - The British forced out of Boston.-Washiugton " Brrived hambridge, Massarlusetts, on the 2d of July [17i5], and on the fullowing day rresented himiself at the i.ead of the army. II's head-quarters remainel at Cambridge, till the evacuation of Boston by the rosal forces on the 17th of March, $1: 50$. The positlon of affirs was one of vast respoasibility anil peril. The country at large was highly cxclted, and expected that a bold stroke wonll be struck and decisive successes obtained. Fint the arny was without orgnnization and disclpline the troops unused to obey, the ofticers for the most part uaaccustomed, some of them lncompetent, to conmmind. If few of them only had bad a limited experience ta the Seven Years' War. Most of the men had rushed to the ficld ou the first alarm of hostilltles. withont any cnllstmeut; and when they were enlisted, it was only tlll the end of the year. There was no military cliest; scarce anything that could he called a cominls: sarint. The artillery consisted of a few olu fiell-picees of various sizes, served with a very few exceptions by persons whully uatrained lin guaary. Th was no siege train, and an alnost total wain of every description of ordnance stores. Barrels of sand, represented ar powder, were from tlme th, time brought into the camp. to prevent the Ahserican army liself from belag a ware of its deticiency in that respect. In the sutuma of 1775 , an alarm of amail. pox was brought from Boston, and the troops were subjected to laoculation. There was no efflelch: power, elther in the Provincial Assemhly or tho Congress at Phlladichpha, by whlelt these wants contd be auppiled and these evlls remedled. Such Were the clrcumstances uuder which General Washlagton took the tield, at the heud of a force grently superior in numbers to the royal army, but in all other respects a very urequal natch. Meaatlme the British were uadlsputed masters of the appronck as to Boston by water. Washiáton's letters disclose extrer.e. Impatleace uniat tho lnartlon to which he was coulemaed; but the gravest diffculttss attended the expulaloa of thic royni forees ron. Boston. It could only be effected by the bunhardiment and assault of that place; an attempt whleb must ln any event have beea dcatructlve to the iarge noacombatsut population, that had heen unahle to remove lato the country, and which would have beea of doubtfui success. for tbe want of a alege traln, and wlth troops wholly uaused to such au undertaklag. Ilavlng in the course of the year recelved sone captured ordnaace from Canada [from Fort Tlcondergen], and a supply of $a \cdots$. mualtion takea by privateers at sea. Washingtus Was strougly disposed to assault the town, as aoon as the freezing of the byy oa the western side of the peninsula would allow the troops to pass on the lee. The winter, however, remalaed open longer than usunl, and a council of war dissunderl this attempt. Ile thea determinel to occupy Yook's IIIll (an eminence at the extremity of Dorehester ' Feck,' as it was called, separited from IBoston by a narrow arm of the harbor) nad Darchester lielghts. Which commanded Nook's $1 I I I I$ and he town itself. In thls way the royal forees wuld be compelled to take the risk of a genernl actioa, for the purpose of dislouging the Americans, or else to evacnate the town. The requisite preparatlons halvint beea made with secrecy, energy, and despntcl. the helghts were covered wlth breast works on .he night of the th of Mareh, 1itio, as 'Iny coclan tmeat.' $A$ partinl movement, nudertukeu by the ryalarmy to dislonge the Aucricms, was frusti ted hy stress of weather; antl ou the 1 zth of March, in virtne of au agreement to that effect. With the municlpai gorernment, the town and harbor of Boston were evnemated hy the British army and navy without firing a gnu. Thus, without $\&$. battle and withont the destruction of a building in Boston, the first year of the wnr wns hrouglit to a successful and an auspieious close."- $\mathbf{E}$. Evezett, Iife of Washington, ch. 5 .
Also 15: G. Washingtoh, Writinga; ed. by: Ford, r. 3. - R. Frothlngham, Mist. of the Sitge of Buaton, ch. 8-13.
A. D. 1775-1776. - The beginning of the American Napy, and the early fitting out of Privateers. - "lefore the cud of 17.5 the Conthental Congress orriered that five ships of 32 guns should be hullt, tive of 28 , and three of 24 . This order was carried out, a ad these vessels are the proper beginnlag of the nnvy of the luited States. Almost every oae of them, before the war was over, had been captured, or hurned to avold capture. But the names of or hirned to will alvays be of lnterest to Americans, and come of thow names have always been preserved on the calendar of the navy. They are the 'Washlngton,' 'Ralelgh,' 'IIancock, 'Randolph,' 'Warren,' 'Virginla, 'Trumbull,' 'Ef. fingham,' 'Congreas,' 'Providence,' 'Boston,' 'Ihelaware,' "Montgomery.' The State of Rhode Island, at the very outhreak of lostllities, commlasloned Ahraham Whlpple, who went wlth hlis ilttle vessel as far as Bermuila, nnd, from hl experience In naval warfars carned In the Frencl War, he was recognized ns commolore of the little fleet of American crulsers. . . . Meanwhlle, every maritime State lssued cominisslons to privateers, and cstahlished admirulty or pilze courts, whth power to condemn prizes wheu hrought ln. Legltlmate commerce had been largely cheeked, and . . the seamen of the country, who hau formerly been employed In the fisheries, or lis our large forelgn trade with the Weat Indla Islands nnd wlth Europe, gladly volunteeral In the private servlce. Till the end of the war tho senmen preferred the privateer servleo to that of the government. . . . The Iarger maritluo States hal In commlssion one or more vessels from the beglnning, but they fonnd the same difilculty whlch the Congress found In enllstlng seamen, when any bold privateer captain came Into rivalry whith them.

Paine:s
Common Serne.

As early as tho 22d of December, In 1775, Congress had appolnted Esek Ilopklas, of Rhorlc Island, conn. mander-h-chlef of fts navy, and had named four captalns beskles, with several lleutenants, the first of whom was John ['anl lones. . ( On the 10th of Octoler [1:76] a resolution

On the Congress fixed tho rank of captalns in the nave, Paul Jones elghteenth on a Ilst of twenty-four. Jones was not pleased that hls rank was not higher, but eventually his achlevements were such that hils repatation probably now stands hlgher as a snccessful ollfcer than that of nny of the number."-E. E. Iale, lieral Mixt. of the Am. Rer. (Narrative and Critical IIist. of Am. t. 6, ch. 7 ).

Also in: J. F. Cooper, Aiecal Hiat. of the l., S. v. 1, ch. 4-6.
A. D. 1776 (January).-Adoption of a Constitution in New Hampshire. Seo New llanp. shime: A. D. 1775-1776.
A. D. 1776 (January-June).-King George's var measures and Paine's "Common Sense." -The setting of the tide of opinion toward national independence.-" Dlsastrons new's ar. rived from Englan! before the close of the whiter of 1775-8. The King lial opened Parlinment with n specch in which he haddenouneed the Colonists as relvels, seeklng, with deceitful pretences, to establlsh an Independent cmpire; and hls Majesty recommended declsivc, eoercive mensures agnhast them. . . . The answer to the Royal Aldress (adopted by a vote of seventy-six to thlrty-threc in the Lords, and two hundred and seventy-elght to one hundred and clght in the Coinmons) gave assurances of the firm support of Parlhment to the proposed measures. The very inolerately conciliatory propositlons made by the Duke of Richmoni, Mr. Burke, nnil the Duke of Grafton, were summarily voted down, and not far from the mlddle of Deecmber the at rocious 'Prohibitory Act, as It was generally designated, passed. It was, In effect, a declaration of war, and a war marestrained by the customs, and unmitigated hy the decencles of civilization. It authorized the confiscation American veasels and cargoes, and those of natlons found trading In Americnn ports. authorized British commnnderm to Impin American crews lato the British Nury, and place them on the same footlng with voluntari enllsted seamen; wat is, to give them n chode between parriclde and belng hung at a ran arm! Flaally, It referred all futire negothation to two Commlssloners, to be sent out aloug wit a conquering armament, who . re nllored grant pardons to Inellviduals and Colonles, sulimission, thus leaving no future aftermatis opposed to the latter hut tho sworl. and inulica tlog that henecfortls ali appeals to King or Par llament were cut off. . Concurruity with these legislatlve steps, tho practlenl oncs for carrying on the war, with a large nrmy, were entered upon. Fluding lt difleult or hmpowsible to ohtain the necessary recrults at hone, and that the calstlng English and Irish reghoms embarked with such reluctance that lt was nee essary to kcep a gumal upon the trumsports to keep them from desertlng by wholewile, the MInlstry successlvely applled to liussia, the States. General, nul finnlly, severnl of the Gep man States for mercenarles. . . The iuftmy of fillng up the Britlsh armament was reservel for the Prinecs of chree or four petty German states

As the news of these events successiruly reached tho Anserican Congress and prople, in the winter and spring of $1775-6$, the chutest toris a new colorhg. Not only the lohl, lut the moderate legan now to see the roal altermative before them. And at a critlea. motnent the remedy, and the puth to lt, were pointerl out hy a master hand. 'Common Sense ' was published by Thomas Palne, and a more effertise nopular ppeal never went to the bosems of n mation. Its tone, Its manncr, Its biblleal Ilualous, lis avoldance of all openly impasslonerl appeals to fecling, and lts uranswerable commonsense were exqulaticly ndarted to the great andlence to which it was bidlesssel! ; and calm hiveotigation will sathafy the historleal sturlent that its ctifet In proparing the popular nilme for the Declas. thon of Imlepembence, execeded that of ans othet paper, speceh, or document made to fisor it. and it would scarcely be exaggeration to add, than all other sueh incaus put together. Jobs Adans, with a chllalish petnlance, and with a rancor so vehement that it apprars ridiculous, spares no occoslon to underrate I'aine's wrrices, and to assault his oplnions and chancter. Ilis truasparent motlve seems to be to dury the author of a paper which hat too much the cretit of preparing tho publle mind for the lecharation of ludrpendence, a credit whlelı Mr. Manswas more than anxions to monojolize. lat us be just. Iaine's servlces in porbing the way to the Declaration are not to be mentionesl un the same puge with John Alams's. Morcover, lumpen dence would have been declared, and, prorla"ns nearly as early, had Palne never writtin. but he did, at a propitlous moment, and with con sumbute ndnptation, write a paper which went like the nrrow which plerces the centre of the target. Its cffect was Instantancous and tremendons. The work ran through innumurable edltions In Amerlat and Frunce. The world rung with It. . It admits of no loulat that pretty enrly in 17\%6, all the true Whigs in Congress, moderates as well as ultras, became satis-

UNITED STATES, 1776.

Sed of the neceselty and expedieacy of aepara. toa, and that lenceforth It was only a question of time with them. Enactment piacing the struggle on the footing of open war, instead of mere insurrection - issuing letters of marquo and reprisal agaiast the enemles of our com. merce-advising the local authoritles to disarm the disaffected - opening the ports of the country to all nntions but Great Britain -directing negotiations for forelgn aillances to we undertaken - were successlvely made. Finally, on the 10th of May, n resolition, prepared by John Adams and 12. H. Lee, passed the llouse, advislng ail the Colontes to form govermments for themselves; and in thls, unilike precelling Inatancen of glving aiviee on the sume abajert, no limitation of the duration of the goveruments to be formed to the continuance of the present dleputo was inserted. This, wlth a beftting preamble, written by John Adums, was adopted on the 15th. . . . and was, ohvlourly, $s$ long and bohl stride in tho direction of inde: penience, and must have been understorad by all as lta slgnal and precurwir. . . . Congress cheerel on those wbom peculiar circumstumes hal rentlered more backward, and it tarrled for them a little by the ray; on the other linnd, it primently walted for the promptlug of the more forwanl. Thas it avoided the appearance of dominnting over publle opinton-thus it 'kept front und rear together.' Enriy In Aprli (I2th), North Curulina 'empowered' her delegates to concur whth the delegates of other Colonies in declaring hatependency. At lis "Jay session" (the day of the month not appearing In the record Island abolished its act of alleginnce, and drected all commissious and legal processes henceforth to issue in the name nod under the authorlty of the ' (iovernor und Company." The Connectlent General Issembly, which met on the 8th of May, before lis aljoumment (date not before nis), re pealet itsict against high treason, and maic the same orier whth lehole Ishund In regard to legal proresses. On the 10th of May, Virginia towik a sill more declslve step, by Instructing Its dele. gates m Congress to move for n Declaration of Inifpendence. . The VIrghia delegates In Congross made chaice of RIchurd II. Lee to move the resohntious contained in their lastructions of $\mathrm{M}_{10}$ 15th; aml he did so un Friday, the Tha disy of June, John Adans secondlng them. Their consideratlon $\begin{gathered}\text { as pestponed untli the next }\end{gathered}$ day, when they were referredi to a committce of the whole, and debated throughout Saturiay and the sucereding Monday. On the latter day (luth) C'ongress resolved: ©Thut the consideration of the tirst resoluthon be postponed to Jonday, the first day of July next; andla the meanWhile, that no time be lost, In case tho Congress agree thereto, that a conmittee be appointed to prepare a declirntion to the effect of the said first resulution, which is in these words: That these Colonies are, and of right onght to be, free and Inlupemident States; that they are absolved from all alloglance to the Britlsh Crown; ar I that all politiesil connectlon letween them and the State of Great Britaiu is, and yught to be, totally dls. sol venl. " Cl I. S. Iasudall, Lific of Jefferson, v. 1, ch. 4.
AEsu IN: G. Buuernft. IIist. of U. S. (Author's Rise of the R o, 4, ch. 9t-24. - ik. Frothingham, hioe of the llejublic, ch. 11.-W. Crothingham, RIves, Liff and Times of N(ufimon, v. 1, ch. 4-5.-Am. Ar chinew, wies 4, e. 6. - O. Bcott, The Deaelop ment of Conat. Liberty in the Eing. Colonien, en. 11.-C. J. Stllie, Live ami Timen of John Dickinon, eh. ह.-See, also, Nonth Caholisa: A. D. 1775-1776; and Vtmaivis: A. D. 1776.
A. D. 8776 (January-June),-Engagement of hreling Hesslans to reluforce the Britiah arms. -"The [Britlsh] Cablaet hal entertalned mome hopes of Ilussian anxlliaries [appllcatlon for 20,0,0 of whom hai been maie to the Empress Catherine, Who refused them with hurilly conceuied seorn], hut the negotiation for that object conld not be maturevi. Eariy in the year treaties were algned whth the Landgrave of llesse for taklug Into British pay 12,000 of his men; with the Disko of Brunswick and other petty potentates of Germany for 5,000 more. These Ifttle princes, seeing the need of Englami, whild did not choose to lean, ar she might and should lave done, ou her own right arm, Insisted on obtalnlag, and did ohtain, most usurious terms. Under the name of levy-nooney, there Wus to be palid to them the price of 30 erowns for every foot-soliller. Under the nume of subslily. each of their Serene IIlghnesses was inoreover to be Indulged with a rearly sum, irrespective of tho pay and subsistence of the trowps; and on the flen that In thls cuse no certinlu numher of years was stlpulated as the term of service, the Iandigrave of Ilesse chaimed and whs promised a double suhsidy, namely 450,000 crowns a year. The men were to enter into pay before they began to march! The suhsldies were to he con tinued for one full year at least after the war was over nad the troops land returned to thelr respeetlve homes. Never yet, in short, was tho hood of hrave men sold on harier terms. The dlsprice of this transaetion to the Germin Princes why engaged in it requires little conn-Pin. . . The nhlest by far of the (ferman Princes at that tlme, Frederiek of I'risshia, was not in general a man of compasslonate feelings. He had no espectal love or can for the North Americnn cnuse. . . Fet even Finderick ex pressed In strong terms hls contempt for the scandalous man-traffic of hls uelghbours. It is said that whenever nny of the newly blred Brunswlekers or Ilesslans hal to pass through nny portion of his territory he chamed to levy on them the usunl toll as for so many head of cattle, sluce he sald they hati been solfl as sucbl Nor can the British ministry in this transaction be consldered free from hlame.

Certain it is that among the various causes whicb at thls perlod wrought upou onr truns-Atlantic brethren to renounce their conncetlon with us, there was none more cogent in their minds than the news that German mercenaries had beea hired and were comiug to fight agalnst them. "- Lord Nabon (Earl Stanbope). IISst, of Eng., 1713-1783, ch. 5? (c. 6).-"The tirst German troops to start for Anerica were the Brunswickers. These marched from Brunswlek on February 22d, 1776, 2,283 stroug, and were cmburked at Stade, near the mouth of the Elbe. The second division of Brunswickers einbarked at the end of Nay - nboust $2,000 \mathrm{men}$. The first IIesslans set out from Cassel early in Marcb, and were shipped at Bremerlebe. near the mouth of the Weser. The secoud divis. ion was enbarked in Iune. Togetber they numbered between 12,000 and 13,000 men. They were for the most part excelicnt troops and well equipped. for the Landgrave's littie army Fian one of the best in Germany. . . . Tire Jrince nf Waideck sent ils regiment through Camel withnut trunble. The Prince of Heame. Hnanu, the Margrme of Anapacti Mayreuth, and the Prince of Aniatit Zerbat had a longer road." -E. J. Lowell, The llewsiane in the Rerolution. ary tiar, eh. 5.
Alno ix: M. von Feiking, Memmia, of Gen. Rietlimel, r. 1, pp. 18-88, and app.-G. Buncroft. lliat. of the U. S. (Author's hat recimion), e. 4,
A. D. $177^{6}$ (February). Filght of the Royal Governor Irom Georgia. See (Irombis: A. D). 17315187.
A. D. 1776 (March).-State goverament organized and a Constitution adopted in South Caroilna. Sver soctil Caholina: A. I.

A. D, 1776 (April). - North Caroilna the first colony to declare for independence. Seo Nonth Caholina: A. D. 17:5-1:ib.
A. D. $177^{\circ}$ (May). Rhode Isiand renounces alle fiance to the King. Nee IHRODE Inland: A. 11 . 1776.
A. D. $877^{6}$ (May). - Popuiar rote for Independence In Massachusetta. See MaswaciucDETTH: A. D. 173 ( Armu-MAY).
A. D. 1776 (May).-Arnoid'a retreat from Canada ser (
A. D. $177^{6}$ (May-June), Independence declared and Constitution adopted in Virginia. See Vimolnia: A. 1). 1 تitb.
A. D. 1776 (June) - The British repuised at Charieston.- Early in $17 \% 6$ the task wis asalgned tu Clinton, who hud in January departed from Ioston. . . to force and hoid the Southern colonles to thelr allegiance [sse Nontul Canotise: A. D, 17io-17r), and Comwalls, with troxps, was sent over under convoy of sir Peter Parker's fleet, to glve Clinton the aring he needed. The theet dhd not rcach North Carollha thl Nlay. In March, [Charles] Lee, whlle in New lork, himi wished to be ordered to the command in Canada, as 'he was the only general offeer on the continent who could speak and think In Freuch.' IIe Was disappointed, and ordered farther south. By May he was fin Vrginla, rididing the country of Tories, and trying to And out where Parker Intended to land. It was expected that Cinton wonld return north to New York In season to opemte whth Ilowe, when he opened the campalgn there in the early smmmer, as that general ex. peeted to do, and the interval for a dlversion farther sonth was not long. Lee had now gone as fur as Charreston ( S . C ), and taken command In that nelghborhood, while in cbarge of the Ithte fort at the entrance of the harbor was Whliam Moultrie. upon whom Lee was incul. catiug the necessity of a slow and sure fire, In case It should prove that Darker's destinatlon, as It might well be was to get a foothold In tho Southern provinecs, and break up the eommerce Wheh fal the relkellhon through that harbor. The people of Charleston had been for some time engaged on thelr defenees, and 'seem to wish a trial of their mettle, wrote a looker-nn. The fort in question whs buit of paimetto logs, and was uninished on the land side. Its de. fonders had four days' warn:ng, and the nelghbering militla were summoned. Ou the 4 th of June the hostlle fleet apprarifl, nd baviag landed troops on an adjacent island, it was not till the 27 th that their diapoaltion were made for at attack. Thelr ablpi threw shot at the for an day, which did very little diamage, while the re. turn ife was remdered with a preclsion anrprisiog in untrled artilerinta, and werlousily damagrill the tieet, of Which one nhip was gmumpied and ahan. donel. The expected land attark from ('llatna's' troope, already achore ou Long laland, was ane inaic. A strong wind had ralised the waterso of the channel between that Lalami muxl sultyan: Island to high that it could mot le forlefi, and sultable boats for the panage were mot hit hand. A few days fater the shattered vesmely amil the troupn keft the neighlorhomi, nni Colowi Moultrie had lelsure to count thic cost of bla vie tory, whilch was twelve killed and twlee ans many woundel. The colurago of Sergeant Jasper, in replacing on the bustion a flag which hut bepa ahot away, lecame at once a holsehmill anec. dote."J. WInsor, The Confliel Irecipitulted (Ninpratine and Criticul Ifim. Of Am. r. 6. ch ?

Al.oo in: II. Flanders, lifo of Juhu hiutledgr ch. 10 (Lives of the Chiof Justicen, $a$. 1)-C. B. and literiots of the South), ch. 3 .
A. D. 1776 (June),-Resolutions for lade-pendence.-Making ready for the Declara tion.-" Things were now verging on every side to the same polnt. North Carollm had conferred the necessary powers to vote for independenco and forelgn alllances as early as the 12th of April. And now came the nevis from thehard lee, to Mr. Adams. that on the very day of the passuge of the significant prearate io rongress, the 15th of May, tho conveation of Virginia had gone a step further, and hud instructed their delegates to propose indejum lence. Authority to assent to lta naturai conser puences, $s$ confederation and forejgn allances, fullowed as a matter of conrse. On the other hand, the conventlon of Massachusetts had referrell the subject back to the people, to be considerm aud neted upon nt thelr primary town meetings, and the responses had been for some time coming in unequivocally euough. So declded was the feelIng that Joseph Ilawley, impaticnt of the delay. was stimulating the nowlse relnetant Gerry io greater exertona. Pereeiving these vacourag ing indications in opposite quarters, the friends of independence now consilted together, and made inj thelr minds that the moment had come for a final demonstratlon. IResolutions, ciabrac lug the three great polnts, were carefully mstured, whleh it was arranged that fichard Ilenry Lee, on behaif of the delegates of Virgioia should present, and John Adams should second. for Massachusetts. The movement towk nlace. accorilugly, on the 7th of June. It ajpears on the journal, recorded with the custonary cauthon, as follows: : Ccriain resolntons respecting independency being mored and secomided. - Re. solved, that the conslderation of them be referred till to-morrow morning; and that the members be enjolned to attend punctually at ten oclock, In order to take the same into their consideration: It was well that a measure of $o momeatous a character should be accompanled with as much of the forins of notice and special asslgnaent as the body could properiy give it. The record of what passed at the appointed the has come down to us very barren of detaila. We nntr hnow that the resolutlons were referred to the committee of the whoic, where they were de.

CNITED BTATEB, 1776.

Decharatum of Indoprnalones. made for a at the fort all while the re. on aurprising damnged the led and whan. roms ('inton's lnmi, when ane the waters of uml Sulilivans e forried, and mot at hani. ssolm and the ami ('olond st of his vic. wifo ax many nt Juspery, in ich lial lown miliohd anec. I'recipitated r. 6. ch. ${ }^{2}$ sin luitentio. c. 1)-C. B. where '!!em for ladee Declarain cuery slde in had cont: for inie. eariy as the hows from on the very preantble in nvention ol oni had in. dejrn lence. selpucuces, s foliowerl as ui, the mo. rid the sub. indrom aud cetings, and e roming in vas the feej. ther deiay, it dierty to encourag. the fricond cther, and had come 2s. embracefaily mas t Richard f Virginia, id second mok place, aipears os mary caurespecting ned,-Re e referred nembers n octock. ideratlon.' neutous a 15 nuch of rent as the record of has come We ontr ed to the were de.
bated with great apirit. duriag that day, Satur. day, and again on Monday, the 10" by which time it lial become quite ciesr that isafority of the colonies were prepared to whopt the frst and lewilog resolution. This mafority was compoad of the four New Engiand, and tisree out of the four wouthern colonlen. Bu: it beling decmed unadiviahie to place this great act upon monarrow a basis, and a proapect being held out of seriring a more general concurreuce by delaying tive lecision, a poatponcment until the Int of July wis effecteri by a change of the votes of ino cilonies. Iu the mean whille, however, an it Wes thonght suitabie to sccompany the aet with an elubratc exposition of the couse which were beid to juatify it, a committee was ordered to bave lacharge the preparation of acis a paper in season for the aljourned debnte.

At tho same tine tint Thomas Jefferson, John Adnms, Beajanin Frankiln, Iloger Sherman, ami ibobert R. Livingstom, all but the lant naned ivelug of the movement, were appolnted the committee to prepare a deciaration, as mentione $i$, the congress formaliy voted a second conmittee, witis powers to prepare and digest a form of confed. erathon to be entered into between the colonies; and yet a tiliri, to mature a pian of treaties to be irojesed to forcign jowers. In tinis compass were lucimied nil the clements of national mover. eignty ubrund and nt home. . . . The buik of upposithon now eentredi in tine five madie colonies. sad the pilinr uion which It leaned was Joinn liekinsoll. But under the combincal assauts cominctad by the leading colonies of Virginia and Massachusetts, it was pia!n that victory was lxeome a mere question of time. Jonatiman () Srryenut, Who hai ieft congress to hasten a change in the counsels of New Jersey, had been so successfini in siviting up the assemhly as to be able to write, on the 1 th of June, to Mr. Alimes, that the delegates abont to be elecied would be on the spot by the lst of July, the day ti) wilth the question had been assigned, and that they wonli 'vote plamp.' Equaliy favorable news soma came from Maryland. . . . Thus were two states seeurcd. Hut Pennsyivania, Dhluwnre, and New lork yet renaiued to move. In the first of these, recourse was hat once more to the so-ealied committees of conference. Aul here, on the 234 of June, Dr. Benjumin Rush, then a goung man, hut acting eutireiy in sympathy und conoperation with the leaders in congress, moved and carried the appointment of a conmittece to deeiare tie sense of the conference with respiret to an independence of the province on the crown of Great Britain. Ifc and Jan. - Smith were then joined witi Thomas Hoki... the chmirmau of the conference, in a committer, whieh was ready the next day with a report atirming the wililagne'ss of the deputies of the eunforence to coneur in a vote decharing the United Coboaies free und independent States. The report was adojetel unauimousiy, was presented to coayress on the $25 t i$, and, doubtiess had its effect in determining those delegates of the colony to absent themseives on the finai vote, upon whose resistanee its advarse decision depeuded. As the hesitation of Delaware was chiclly owing to the fecling that pervaded the eonity of Sussex. Mr. Ifodney had repalred thither for the purpose of bringing about a favorable chnnge, in which errand the news came that he was faboring with success. The deiegiten from Now York, ao longer Interpoaing wny active oppoution, yet unwliling to amume a F . sponalhility which their constituentid fiml not au. thorized, preferred to withiraw from partictpa. tion in the decision. Buch was the atate of aflairs on the Ist of Juiy, to which day the die. custion had been adjourmel. There was then littie llouht of an aftirmative vote on the part of sil hut four colonies, "-J. Q. Adams and C. F. Adam, Liff of John Alama, r. $1, p p .305-318$.
A. D. 1776 (Juae), End of proprletary and royal government in Maryiand, dee Jaky. LAND: A. D. $17 \%$.
A. D. 8776 (July). - Authorship, adoption and slgaing of the Declaration of Indepen-dence.-" For the last hundreyl years one of tio first facts tainglit to any chilid of Ainertean birth Is, that Jeflermon wrote the Dechiration of Inciependence. Tite orlginal draft in his linniwriting was afterwanl deposited in the State Depurtment. It shows two or three tritiog aiterutlons, interifned In the handwritiggs of Franklin uni Adams. Otiscrwise It eame before Congreag precise'y as Jefferson w te it. Many yenrs after. ward John Adamag gove an account of the way In which Jefferson came to be the composer of this mosiantous document, difiering siigitiy from the story twid hy Jefferson. Ilit the variance is inmaterlal.

Jefferson's statement scens tire better entitied to credit, and wint Iittio corroboration is to be obtained for either narrator is wholiy in his favor. Ite says slmply tirat when the Committeo eanc together he was pressed hy ifis colleagues ununinousiy to undertake the draft: that he did wo; tiat, when ise had prepured it, he submitted it to I)r. Frunkif and Mr. Acians, separateiy, requesting their corrections, 'which were 'wo or threo oniy and merely verbal,' 'Interiines in their own handWritings'; that tire report in this sinpe was adopted by the committee, and a fnir copy, Written out by Mr. Jeflerson, was then lald before Congress. A sousewhat more interestiug discussion concerns tíc question, how Jeflersou emme to be named tirst on the committee, to tho cotire cxclusion of Iee, to whon, as mover of the resolution [see, above, (Jasvaly-Jene)], parilamentary etiquette wonid inave assigued the chairmansiip. Many explamations have bees given, of whici some at least nppear the outgrowth of personal likings and disiikings. It is certain that Jetferson wins not ouly pretminently fitted for the very dithenit task of this beculiar compusition, but aiso tiant he was a man withont an enemy. Ilis abstinene? from any active siare in dehate had saved him from giving Irrisition; and it is a trutis not to be concealed, that there were cuhals, bickerings, heart-burnings, perhaps nethai emnities anoug the incmbers of thut fiunons boty, which, grandly as it looms up, and rightiy too, in the mind's eyc, was after ail composed of jarring human ingredients. It whe weli helieved that there was a faction opposed to Wnviington, und it was generaliy suspected that irascibie, vain, and jeatous John Adams, then just rising from tise ranks of the peopie, made in this mutter common causc with the aristocratic Virginian Lees against their feliow countrymen. . . So it is likely enough t'int a tiaiely liness of Lee ${ }^{\text {a }}$ wife was a fortuuate cxeuse for passing hilm hy, and that partiy hy reason of admitted aptitude, partiy because no risk could he run of any interference of personal

UNITED STATES, 1870.

frelinga in mo welghty a matter, Jefferwon was phacent ifrat on the cormuittre, with tite notural remult of dofug the bulk of ite iminer. On July 1 . pliracont to amalgameat, Congrema, In comanitice of the whole, ratumed convileration of Mr. Iacen scmilution, and carried it by the votes of nlace coln. ales. South Carolina anil P'enuayluania votell againat It. Tike two delegiltes froms Delaware were divhled. Thow frum siew York ealid that pemomblly they were fu fivor of to and bedleved their eomitituruts to be em, hat they were hain. pred by inntructions drawn on tr elvemonth where nod atrletiy forbliding nuy action olmotruc. two of reconclintion, Which was then stifi dewind. The commaittere reported, nad thent Edwari Thiledge movelt min adjonrminett tu the next day, whe:a his rollongreen, thonght diss "pirturbig the nemblition, wrath? iruolabily john lu it fir the sake of unanlmalty. Thin numtom was corried, and on tioe diny following the thuth Catoliniana were foumi tid be converted; alma a third mevilare : bad conte poat from the Ikin. ware comities " mill ratimed the vote of that colury ${ }^{\text {to }}$ he given whath the reat: Demaylvanin chaniged ber vote: nad u fow daye Inter the Convention of New liork nppricveit the resoduthon, 'thum nupplying the vold ocensloned by the withitraw ha of hir delegatem firma the rote. On the mame day, duly a, the llowse tosok up Mr. Jeilpormuis itraft of the Ikedaration. and delnted th chrimg that und the followhing thy anit unth n lite lour on duly t. Muny varbat changes were biathe, nost of widelh were condiche tu chaser sererrucy of stateluent, and were melin were made liy the onibsion of passuges: notnbly there was atrteken oit n pissuge in whtelf George III. Wis denoniced for eracoung. log the stive-trale.

Nir laterpohalou if nuy conselnence was madic. Jetfermon hud nuide cause to congrutulate bifnsedf amon this evert of the illscoussion. . . . He himisi.If squike not It word lil the diebate.

The burike of orgument, from whleh de in whily shimuk. wis guthintly borne by dohn ddanis, whomi Jefferwoll gratefatly called 'the colonssus of that debute. Jrifersini 1 -rit afterwaril to tuke pleas. ure in thapeligg the real setemulty of the occensiou whin in coloring of the luilcrous. The delnate. he satiod, seemed us thought 1 nitgit run on luter minality, mad probably woild have done ser nt "Hiffernt seasom of the yeur. But the wouther Wias "ppressively warm, and the room oceuphed by the deputhes was hurs by ot stable, wheleme the humgry thes awnormed thick and tieree, nltght. ing on the legs of the delegates nud biting larrd through their thin silk steeklugs. Treason was preferable to tiseomfort, and the members votel for the Derlarition and hastened to the table to siga it nuit escape from the horse-fy. Joha Haneock, midkig his grent faudilhr gignnture, Jestingly said than John Bull could rend that without spectarles: then, becoming moreserions, begnn to impress on lils comrades the necessity of thetr 'ull hagliug together in ihis matter. 'Yes, Intecel,' Inturrupted Franklln. 'we uust all hang together, or nswuredly we slinth alt hang separately.

Anlif such trilitng, conceallug grave thoughts, Jelferson saw his monentous document signed at the close of that sumaner nfternoon. "-J. T. Morse, Jr., Thomas Jefferon. Ch. A. - "The statuments pelaife lo siguing the Declaration are contlictlag. JeIferson suites thint it wan algnel generalify on the til (Mimond 1, 94), and he in other ydices relterates thina stan ment, but them munucript fis not known th extult.

Accoriling to the Jumruate, (on greas, on the limin of July, remilved that t - deviarathon, pamaed ons the tith, twe falty et gromend on parchment, whe the tithe anding of "The unanturoins Thecharathen of ?! "Thithe C'inted states of Amerfea," wind that the wame when engromed, be signeed by every ne: nulkep Congrean: On the of day of Auguxt, th Jomronin any, 'The lecelaration tring elugnowal hat conipuriel at the tobte, was signell by it membern'. .' Thas nanumeript bly prewtis Frothinghan. The Mine of the Repullic. p. it "ne foust nute, -" Becesume nentempern bike Dhet Inon nat communitles itke Maryluad were Mlum In befleving that the right nume'ne for a derlars tion of Indeprenderne had come, the prrpuaterotas thenry han berin suggested thint the Plourticue Bevolution was the work of ant miserupulates and dexpernte mianrity, which, thromgh inirigue milughel with vidience, suecceded in forelug the refuctumt majority to manetlon lis mensume Nuch umisconception has fte root in ru butlet fulthre to comprethend the pecelibur chatacter of American pultical life, the the kladrat mivees. cuption wheh ancrikes the reberifinn of the cato nifer to $n$ murilld tuwillingness ti) beirr their the slate of the expenwes of the Britisl Emplre is is the the misunderstumiting whild Niw na nagy nub in every town-meeting of the, people of Boston, und charucteriaed ny $n$ ' hint ' wery de tilerate expression of public oplutun. No iege who is faulthar with the exsecthat feitures of Americun pothticul ?le e e:me for n motment sup brought about hy uny liws welghing furree thas the exttied convletion the purpiph that the proeless triasure of preserved lay no other i, governanilt contid be that thes my wo ther 1.. E15. It was but slomity

 Iu others. Presclent lemiderse, the), Hike the Adamses nud Eronktin nud Leee, Iuade up their ultuds sooner thin ather propie. Even these conservattves whon resisted to the bast. evern such well Hs Juhn Dickinmen nod Bobert Vicrris, were fully ugred with their opponents iss to the prin ciplie nt ksute bet ween Gremt Britalu nut Ausfica, unel nething would huve satestied the min sharte of the total abnuifonment by Great Britalu of her pretenstons t" injose taxes and revoke alarmern C'pole this fundhuental polut there was rery litto difference of opinlon th Alaerica. As to the related questlon of Indepernience, the declston, when once reachen, was everry where alike the reasmantle resath of frec and oper discussion: and the best posstble !liustrathon of this is the fact that not even th the darkest dhys of the was airuily legun did any state deliberateity propose to reconsiter tis acthon in the mutter The hand once put to the plongh, there what ho turning buck. "-J. Fiskc, The Am. Renol wtion, ch 4 (r. 1 .
Aleso in : G. Mancroft. Mist. of the $\ell$. $\mathbb{S}$ (Author's lase revinion), o. 4, ch. 28.-11. S. Ras. dall, Life of Jefferson, o. 1, ch. $5 .-\mathrm{C} . \mathrm{F}$. diams, Life of John Adams, ch. 4.-J. Dadison, Pepers,
 If the Declaration,-See, also, Inderespdeace

LNITED STATES, lico.

he 41 h (Memnin erates thin ature. at known til by Jomimaly, Ios. milverl that the h, lay fulily es. title and argle $0^{\circ}$ : 1 w Thltite tuat the mame. rery nu'mber of of Ingunt, the -lag elusponerl ofogrel ly the In prowereil of State,"- 1 puhdic. $p$. 4 men like lhet latil were slum t for culevlars. 10. prepmotifous the .linerticas therropulous rough Intrigue In forrlup the Itx moisurm. ot lin all utter or chasurter of luitroi mincea bin of the cuto Incar thitir the d Himplre. It NIW u4 angy the. prople of hit e rery de uluth. No one al fratures of moment supa

1. Hex was 1, furre thas pilo that the cut contil be as lut slowly CW uplon the c'ra if circum1e Hay wana than (4). like the nule up their Even those Nt. evin such Mcrris, were * tio the prir anil Aurriaza, mandert the in of her pre ohe clarters. fit was rery rica. ds to ince, the deWhere allke il dircussion: of this ly the sof the wat tely propose Tlie hand uo turning 1, ch. $\&(\mathrm{r} .11$ the $C$ -11. S. Rasa. F. Aliams, son, Pupens $f^{\prime}$ tre Elessbexce
A. D. 8776 (July)-Tezt of the Declaretlea A Independence. - The following is the cest of the gryat mandfestas:
"When in the Conise of human evente, It be. comen nrcesenty for one people to tllemolve the political hande whelt luave connceted them erith suother, aud to smume antong the l'owers of the earti, tho meparute and equal station to which the Laws of Nature anel of Naturein Gem! eatitle them, a decent rempect to the opinkins of mankind rocustres that tley mould elecinte the raumen whils inipel them to the memation. Wo bohl theme aruthes to be celf-evlilent, that all muen gre revated equal, that they are endowel by thelr Creator with certain unsllenable RIghtw, that among theme are lilfe, l.llwrty and the purnuti of llappinema. That to secure th se rights, Governmente aro Instituterl among Men, deriv: Ing thulr fint jumem front the consent of the gov. emerl, That whenc var any Form of Government beronum dealnitialse of these enils, tita the Riglit of the Perprie to alter or to almillali It, mul to Insitute aew (loveruraest, fuying Its foumintion on surh princlphes and organizing lt powers In such form, as to them sliall seem mont likely to cifect thelr Sufety und Happlnces. Prudence. iodeed. will allotate thist Goverament long cetaldislual shoulid not lee elanged for llght and trankiot cauwen; and acropilingly all experience hath whow, that mankind are noore disposed to suffer, while cvils sro sufferable, than to right themsives by alvollshing the forms to which they are acenstomed. But when a long trais of sbuwes aud usurputions, pursulng Invardably the anne ollject evincew a tesign to reduce them uniter alisolute Despotism, it is their right, it is thelt duty, to throw of such Goverament, and to provile new Guarda for thelr future security. -such las lwen the patheut suffemnce of these combins: and such ls nuw the necessity which constrains thein to alter their former Systems of Gopermaunt. The history of the present limg of Grat Britain Is a histury of repeuted Injuries sod usurpathous, all having in direet objeet the estahilshurut of an alsolute Tyrauny over these States. To prove this, let Facts be suhmitted to a candld worll. He has refused! his Asamt to Laws, tue nost wholesome and necensary for the puitle good. Ile has forblifien hls Governors to pass Laws of immediate and preasing Infior. tance, ualows sitspended in thelr operation till his Assend shosid lye obtalned; and when so suspended, he has utteriy neglected to attend to them. Ite lias refused to pass other Laws for the accomanolation of large dlstriets of people. unlrgs inose perple would rellnquish the right of Itpresentation in the Legislature, a right Inestimable to them and formidahle to tyrants only. He has cailed together legislatior odles at places uusual, uncomfortable, and uistant from the depository of thelr Publlic. Ikecords, for the sole prarpose of fatiguing thern into eompll. ance whth his measurem. Ile has dissolved Rep. resentatire llouses repeatedly, fur opposing with anly firmaess bis Invasions on the rights of the people. Ile has refused for a long ilme, after such ilssulutlons, to cause others to be elected; Whereby the Leglslative Powers, Incapable of Anallilation, have returned to the People at large for thelr exerclse; the state remaining In the mean time expused to all the dengers of in. vasioc from without, and convulslons within. He has endeavoured to prevent the population

If these Statew; for that purpone olstructing the Lawn for Viaturalization of Forriguers; refusing to paes ot here thencoumurc their nigration hither, and ralaling the comiltlous of new Appropria. thous of Lands. Ile has otwtrisevel the Adman. Intruthin of Justice, hy refising his Ansent to Iaws fur entahlisbing Jullelary l'owers. Ife has marlo Juigen dependent on his Will alone, for the tenure of thelr offices, anil the muonint and payment of thelr salarlem. Ile has erceterl es multituile of New Onlcea, and ment bither awarmis of Offlerem to barras our feople, and cat out thelr substance. Ilo has kept manoig us, In tinen of peace, Ntaniling Armien whin. Nit the Comment of our leglalatire. Ile has afferted to render the Military Indepenilent of and superiar to the C'ivil Jower. Ile has comblaed with ot luers to mibject us to a jurlallethon formign to eur constituthin, anel unicknowledged hy our luwn: ploing bis Amment to their Aetm of preteuded. eglabition: For quartering large ling. len of armed tronjon among us: For proteetiug thom, by a nux-k Trisi, frum Puniament for any Bumber which they shouk commit on tho Iuhablanta of these Ntates: For cutting of our Trume with all parts of the wuril: F'or InyponIng tuxes on us without our Consent: For tle priving us In many euses, of the benetlis of Trial by Jury: Fin trausporting us liveonel Seas to be trled for pretended offences: For abollehIng the free 8yentem of Eingllsh Jaws In a nelighlouring I'rovince, establlwhing therein an Arbl. trary fovermatent, and enlurging Its Bounduries so as to reader It at once an example und tit instrument for lutroluclng the same ahsolute rule Into these Culoules: For taklag awny our Chartirs, bollshing our mont valunble laws, abl aftering fundamentally the Forus of our Ginverunients: Fus suspenillug our own leglslatirers, and declaring thenakel ves inversted witb iower to legintate for us in all cases whatsoever. He has at sleatell Government here, liy dechurling us out of hls l'rotection and waging fiar agalnst us. Ile has plundered our seus, ravaged our Consts, hurnt onr towns, aul destroyed! the llves of our prople. He Is at thls thae trausporting large armles of arilgn mercennrles to compleat the works of death, desolition and tymnny. alroaly begun wlt! - Jremuntuaces of Cruclty & perthly scarcely pe : eleni ta the inost barbirous ages, and totaily waswortly the Heut of a clvi. liz.d antio.d. Ile lias constralucel our fellow Clitzens taken Cuptive on the high Seus to bear Arms againes thelr Conntry, to lecome the exceutloners of their friends and Bretliren, or to fall themselves by thelr Haads. Ile bas excited domestlc Insurrections amongst us, and has endeavoured to bring on the lubabitants of our frontiers, the merclless Indlan Savages, whose known rule of warfare, is an uudistingulshed destruction of all ages, sexes, and condilions. In every stage of these Oppresslons We have Petltloned for Redress in the most humble terms: Our repeated Pettions have been answered only hy repeated Injury. A I ricee, whose character Is thus narked by every act which may define a Tyrait, is unft to be the ruler of a free People. Nor have We been wanting In attention to our Brittlsh hrethren. We have warned them from tlme to time of attempts hy thelr legislature to extend an unwarrantable jurisdictlon over us. We have reminded them of the circurastances of our emigration and settlement here. We have

UNITED STATES, 1776.

Strugate for New York.

UNITED STATES, 1776.
appealed to their native justlce and magnanl mity, and wc inave conjured them by the ties of our common kindred to disavow thege usurpa. tions, whlch, wonld inevitably interrupt our connections and correspondence. They too have been deaf to the volce of justice and of eonsanguinity. We must, therefore, acqulesce in the necessity, which denouuces our separation, and fold them, as we hold tho rest of mankind, Eneinics in War, in Peace Friends. We, there: fore, the Representatives of the united States of Amcrica, In General Congress, Assemuled, appealing to the Supreme. Indge of the wordi for the rectltude of our intentions, do, in the Name, and hy Authority of the good People of these Colontes, solcmnly, publish and deciare, That these Luited Coloules arc, and of light ought to be Free and Independent States; that they are Alasolved from all Aliegiance to the Britlsh Crown, and that ail political connection hetween them and the State of Great Britain, is and ought to be totally dlissolved; and that as Free and Independent Statcs, they have fuli Power to levy War, conclade Pcace, contract Ailinnces, estahlish Comnierce, andi to do ali other Acts and Things which Iudependicat States may of right do. And for the support of this Declaration, with a tirm relinuce on the Protecthon of Divine Providence, we mutnally pledge to cach other our Lives, our Fortunes and our sacred Honor. -John Hancock. New Hamp-shire-Josiah Bartlett, Wu. Whipple, Satthew Thornton. Massachusetts Bay-Sami. Adams, John Adans, Roht. Treat Paine, Elhridge Gerry, Rhode Island-Step. Hopkins, W'lliam Ellery. Conneetieut-Roger Shei..an, Sam'el IIunting. ton, Wm. Willams, Ohver Woleott. New York-Wim. Floyd, Phil. Living ton, Frans. Lewis, Lewis Morris. New Jersey-Richd. Stockton, Jno. Witherspoon, Fras. Ilopkinson, John Ifart, Alra. Clark. Penrsylvania-ISoht. Morris, Benjamin 1れush, Beuja. Franklin, John Morton, Geo. Clyıner, Jas. Smith, Gco. Tay. lor, James Wilson, Geo. Ross. DelawareCesar Roducy, Geo. Read, Tho. Il'Kean. Maryland-Samucl Chase, Wm. Paca, Thos, Stone, Charles Carroll of Carroliton. Virginia -George Wythe, Kichard IIenry Lee, Th Jefferson, Benja. I Harrison, Thos. Neison, jr., Francis Lightfoot Lee, Carter Braxton. North Caro-lina-Wm. Ilooper, Joseph Ilewes, John Penn. South Carolina-Edward Ruticdge, Thus. IIcy. Ward, Junr., Thomas Lynch, Junr., Arthur Mddleton. Georgia-Button Gwinnett, Lyman Hall, Geo. Walton."
A. D. $177^{6}$ (July).-Constitutional effect of the Declaration of Independence. -"The I eollarition of Independence did uot create thirtecn soverelgn statis, but the represcntatives of the jeople dechared that the former English colonies, under the ranne which they had assumed of the Cnited States of America, became, from the 4th day of July, 1760 , a soverelgn state and a member of the fanily of nations, recognized by the law of nations; and further, that the poopie wonli snpport their representatives with their houd and treasnre, in their elldeavor to make this decharation a universally recognized fact. Xcither congress nor the people relied in this upon any positlve right belongeol cither to the indivilinal colonises or to the colonies as a whole. Rather did the Ieciaration of Iudependence and the war destroy aif existiug politlical jural relations, and seek their moral justifleation in the right of revohution in. herent in every peopie in extreme einergencias. Pollitical theories had noti.ing to do with this development of thlogs. It was the natural result of given eircumstances and was an sccom. pilshed fact before anyone thought of the legal consequences whlch might sulusequently be deduced from it."-II. von Holst, Conat. und Pd, IIist. of the U. S., v. 1, ch. 1 .
A. D. $177^{6}$ (July).-Independenee declared in Now :arsey and Governor Franklin arrested See New Jersey: A. D. 17\%4-17\%6.
A. D. 1776 (August), -The struggle for New York and the Hudson.-Battie of Long Isiand January, that Gas had been Informet, carly in January, that Generai Sir IIenry Clinton had salled from Boston, with a considernhle loulr of troops, on a secret expedition. Apprehendin. that the clty of New York was his destination, he imanedlateif dispatched General Charles Lee to Conuecticut to raise troops, and to proceed to that city to watch and oppose Clinton wherever lie might attempt to hand. Six wreks before the evacuation of Boston [ March 1\%, 1770]. Lee had encamped near New lork with twelve hundred milltia. Aiready the Sons of Lllerty had leta hin'y, and overt acts of rebelhon had leen committed hy them. They had suized the cunnons at Furt George, and driven Tryon, the rogai governor, on hoard the Asla, a British armed vessel In the harhor. In March. Clinton srrived at Sundy Hook, just outside New York larbor, and on the same day, the watchful lee proviclentinily entered the city. The movemetit, althongh without a knowledge of ('lintor's pesition, was timely, for it kept him at bay. Foiled in his attempt upon New Fork, that commander sailed sollthward. . . Thedestination of llowe. when he left Boston, was also mmknown to Wiashington. Supposing he, too, would proced to New York, he put the main boly of his arme in motion toward that city, as soou as he hat phiced Boston in a state of sccurity. lle arrivel in New lork about the midile of April [ 1 pril 1t] and proceeded at once to fortify the town and vicinity, and also the passes of the lindsoultigh. lands, tifty miles above. In the mean nbile, General Lee, who had been aplominted to command the American forces In the sonth, had left his troops in the charge of Gencral Loril Stirling [March 7], and was hastening toward the Carolinas to, watch the movemeuts of Chinton, arouse the Whigs, and gather an aring there. Pursuant to instructions, General llowe procceded toward New lork, to ueet General (finton and Parker's theet. IIe luft llalifax on the 1Ith of June, [1776], and arrived at sumbly llow on the 29th. On the 2d of July lie took posses. slon of staten Island, where he was joinet by Sir llenry Clinton [July 11], from the south, and his hrother, Adimiral Lorid Howe [.huly 12], whin a tlect and a large laud force, from Eng laud. Before the first of Angust, other vessels arrived with a part of the llessian troops, and on that day, ainost 30,000 solkiers, many of them tried veterans, stood rcady to fall nuwn the republican army of 17,000 men, mostly militis, Which lay intrenched in New Fork atud vicinitr, fess than a dozen miles distant. The yramd ab. ject in vicw was the seizure of New Fork and the country along the Hudson, so as to keep open a communicatiou with Cannda, separate the their monal volution is einergeneles. to to with is the nutural ins an accom. of the legal ently be deuat. and Pd, e declaredin lin arrested.

UNITED STATES, 1776.
ggle for New ong Island. cul, farly in Clinton bad able thols of lirchendth. destination Clarles Lee - proceed to on whererer is before the 6]. Lee lad Tve handred ty had liten lucen com. the cunnons the royal itish armed iton strired ork larbor, Lee provi. movenieut, Iton's pass. 1y. Foiled (c) mamander la of llowe, is to Wish. proceded to his army in hat pliaced arrived in [April 14$]$, towls and dsou Iligh cun abile, 'l to consh, had lett ril Stirling the Caro olf, arouse here. lowe proueral Clin. ax on the uly llow oh posses. juinell by lee south [duly 12], fron Eng ur ressels oops, and y of them on the re y militia, viclnitr, rand obFork and to keep onrate the patriots of New England from those of the other states, and to overrun the most popuious porton of the revoited colonies. Thls was tho military plan, arranged by minlsters. They had also prepared instruetioas to their commaadiag generals, to be pacifle, if the Americass appeared dlsposid to submit. Lord Howe aad his brother, the general, were commissloaed to 'grant pardon to all who deserved merey, and to treat for peace, but only on terms of absolute submission on the part of the eolonles, to the wlli of tho King and parliancat. After maklng $n$ foollsh display of arrogance nod weakness, In nddressing Genemil Washington as a private geatleman, nni being assured that the Americaas had beea gullty of no offense requlring $n$ 'pardon' at their laimls, they prepnred to strike an lminediate and cfluctive blow. The Brltish army was aecordingly put lu motlon on the moraing of the $2{ }^{2}$ of iugnst [1778], and during that day, 10,000 effective men, and forty pieees of cannon, were landed on the western end of Long Island, hetween the present Fort Immilton nud Gravesend village. Already detachmeuts of Amerieans under General Sullivan, oceupied n fortitied eamp at Brooklyn, opposite New Fork, and guarded seven passes on $n$ range of hills which extend from the Narrows to the village of Jamnica. When intelligence of the inndlog of the lnviding army rached Washington, he seut General Putnam. with large reinforcements, to take the chlef comanall on Long Island; mud to prepare to mext the enemy. The American troops oa the island now [Angast 26], numbered about 5,000. The British moved in three divisions. The ieft, under Genernl Graut, marched along the shore towanl Gowanus; the right, under Clinton and Cornwallis, toward the lnterlor of the isiand; and the ceuter, composed chlefly of Hessians, under De lleister, marched up the Flatbush road south of the hills. Cliuton moved under eover of night, and before dawn on the moruing of the 27 th, he had galaed possesslon of the Jamalen pass, near the present East New York. At the same time, Grint was pressing for ward nioag the sture of New York Bay, aad nt day-brenk, he encountered Lorl Stlrling, where the monuments of frecuword eennetery now dot the hllis. De Hefster mlvanced from Flathush nt the sumo hour, and nttacked Sullivau, who, having no susplelons of the movements of Cliuton, Was watching the Flatbush Pass. A bloody condiet ensucd, and while it was progressing Clinton lesecuded from the wooded hills, by the way of Bedforl, to gnia Snlllvnn's rear. As soon as the latter perceived his peril, he ordered a retrait to the American lleses at Irooklyn. It was too late; Clinton drove him back upoa the Hes. sian luyonets, und aftur tighting desperately band tolumd, with the foe la frout aad rear, nn losiag a greater portion of his inen Sulliran was compelled to surrender. As usual, inisfortunes dhat not come single. While these disasters were ocurring on the left. Comwalls deseended the port-road to Gowanus, and attaeked Stirling. They fought ilesperately, mintll Stiring was mafe prisoner. Many of his troops were drowned white endeavoriag to escape neross the Gowanns Creck, is the tide was rishis; und n large numBre were captured. At namm the vetory fur the British Was complete. About 500 Ainerlenns were killed or wounded, and 1,100 were made prisuncrs. These were soou sufferiag dreadful horrors in prisons and prison-ships, at New York. The British loss in killed, wounded, and prisoners, was 367. It was with the dcepest agoulsh thnt Washlagton had vlewed, from New Iork, the destruction of hls troops, yet he dared not weaken his power in tho elty, by seading rein. forcemeats to ald them. He crossed over on the following morniag [August 28], wlth Milflin, Who had come dowa from the upper ead of York island with a thousand troops, nad was gratified to fiad the cnemy eacamped ia froat of Pitnam's ilaes, and delayiag na nttack, until tho Britlsh flect shouki co-operito with hin. This delny allowed Washlington time to form aad exeeate $n$ plaa for the salvatlon of the remninder of the army, now too weak to resist na nssnuit with aay hope of suceess. Ünder cover of a henvy fog, which feli upon the hostlle eamps at mld. niglit of the 29 th, and continued untll the morning of the $30 t h$, he silently withirew them from the camp, and, unpereelved by the British, they all crossed over to New York in safety, carrying everything with them but their heavy caarons.

Howe, who felt sure of his prey, was rrently mortified, and prepared to mnke aa 1 m mediate attack upon New Fork, before the Americans should beeome relnforeed, or sliould escape from it. "-B. J. Lossing, Fumily Mist. of the U.S., period 5, ch. 3.

Alsoin: II. P. Johaston, The Campaign of 1776 around ${ }^{1}$. Y. and Brooklyn, ch. $1-5$ (Mem's of Long Island Ilist. Soc., E. 3) - T. W. Field, The Buttlo of Long Ialand (Mem's of L. $\dot{I}$. Hist. Soc., v. 2).-W. A. Duer, Life of Win. Alexander, Earl of Stirling, ch. 5.-J. Fiske The American Rewlution, ch. 5 (v. 1).
A. D. $177^{6}$ (September).-Quiet death of proprietary government in Pennsyivania and adoption of a State Constitution. See Pevin. sylvania: A. D. 1776 .
A. D. 1776 (September-November).-The struggle for New York and the Hudson.-Suc cesses of the British.-Washington's retreat into New Jersey. -"At dnybreak the British awoke, but lt was too iate. They lind fought a suecessfui battic, they had had the Americin ariny ln thelr grasp, nad now all was over. The vlctory had melted away, and, as a grand resuit, they had a few hundred prisoaers, a stray boat with three eamp-followers, and the deserted works ia which they stood. To make such in re treat ns this was a feat of nrms as great as most vletories, aad in lt we see, perhaps as plainly as anywhere, the nerve nnd quickaess of the man who coadueted it. It is true lt was the oaly ehanec of salvntion, but the great man is he who ls entirely master of hls opportunity, even lf he have but one. The outiook, nevertheless, whs, as Washington wrote, 'truly distresslng.' Tho troops were dispirited, aad the militia begnu to dlsappear, as they always did after a defeat. Coagress wonld not permit the destruetlon of the city; different interests pulied in different drectlous, eonfictlag oplnlons distracted the counclls of wnr, aad, whth utter innbllity to predict the eaemy's movements, everythiag ied to halfwny measures and to lntease naxlety, while Lord Howe tried to negotinte with Congress, and the Amerleans waited for events. Washington, looking beyond the conf usion of the moment, saw that he had galaed mueh by delny, nnd lad hls own plan well defiaed. ... Every one clse, however, saw oniy past defeat and preseat peril.

The British ships gradually made their way up the river, untll it becnme apparent that they $\ln$ tended to surronnd and cut off the Amerlean army, Washington made prepurntions to whtis. (Iraw, but uncertalnty of information cume near rendering his precautions futle. September 15 th the men-of-wnr opened tire, and trops wero landed near Kip's Buy, The militha in the Inciast works at that polnt had been ut Brooklyn and gave way ut onec, commanleating their panic to two Comectient reglments. Wasilng. ton, galloplag down to the scene of battle, cnnie upon the dlasordered nad flying troops lle dasied lu mmong them, conjuring them to stop, bite even whlle he wis trying to rally them they iroke again on the nppenrance of some sixty or seventy of the enemy, and ran $\ln$ all directions. In a tempest of anger Washlngton drew hls pistols, struck the fugitives with his sworl, and wns only forced from the fiede by onc of his othicers selzing the bridle of his horse nad drag. ging him wway from the british, now within a hmodred yards of the spot. . . The rout nud pmic over, Wishington quickly thrued to deal with the pressling ilunger. Wifla coolness and quickness he lssucd his orders, und succeeded In gettlig hís army oif. Pitnam's dilvislon escaping most narrowly. He :hen took post at King's liridge, and hegan to strengtien and fortify his lines. White thus curored, the cnemy advanced, and on the 1 Gth a slmer skirmsli, was fonght, in which the l3ritish were repuised, nnil great bravery was shown by the Conncticnt and Virginla tropls, the two commnnding off. cers beling killed This affur, which was the first glean of success, enconriged the troops, hud was turned to the best necount by the gen cral. Still a successfinl skirmish didd not toneli the essentian difticulties of the situatlon, whel then as uways came from withln, rather than withont. To face and check 25.000 well cquipped and highly disciptined soldiers, Wishingtom fad now some 12,000 men, liacking in "verything which goes to make an army, except mere individnal courage and a high averige of intelligence. Event thls meagre force was an Incoustant and diminishing quuntity, shifting, mucertaln, and ulways threatening dissolntion. The task of facing and tighting the enemy was enough for the ablest of men; but Waslaington wasohliged also to enmbat and overcome the incrtuess mad dithess horn of ignorance, and to teach Congress how to govern a mation at war.

Meanwhite the days slipjed aiong, and Wishington wuited on the Ilartem Plalns, phanning descents on Long lsland, and determining to make a desplerate stand where he was, uniess the situminn lecidedly changed. Then the situation dial chambe, as acither be nor nny one else apparcatly had anticipated. The British warshipts cmme ap the lhdison past the forts, brush. lug nside our boasted obstructlons, destroying our fittle fleet, uni getting eommand of the river. Then Generai llowe landed at Frog's Polut, Where lie was checked for the moment by tho goold disposition of lleath, under Washington's direction. These two events made it evident that the sltuation of the American army was full of perll, whid that retrent was agaln neccessary. Such certaiuly was the concluslon of the councll of war, ou the 16th, aeting thls time in agreement with thrir chlet. Six days Howe liugered on Frog's Polnt, bringing up stores or artillery or somethlng, . . and gave six days to Tasblngton. They were of little value to llowe but they were of luestimnble worth to Wishe. lagton, who empioyed them in getting every. thing in readincss, ln holding his councli of war. nad then on the 1 tith in moving delilu rutely of to very strong ground at White Pialus., On On O O the 28th, Howe came up to Wnsifugton's prasi. thon, and found the Americnns guite cqual in numbers, strougly Intreuched, nnd awnltiny his nttack with contitlence. He hesitnted, donbied, and finaily feefiug that he must do sometling, sent 4,000 men to storm Chatterton $11 i l l$, an oul. lylng post, where some 1,400 Americans were statloned. There was a short, sharp netion, and then the $A$ mericans retrented in gonnlortire to the maln arny, having lost less thim half a many men us thelr opponents. With caution now innch enharged, Ilowe sent for reinforce. ments, and waited two days. The third dare it rained. Ind on the fourth Howe fomul that Washington ind withdrawn to a higherand puite inpreguable line of hiils, where the helld all the passes in the rear and a waited a secoud antark Howe eontemplat 1 the situntion for tro or three days longer, und then broke camp and withdrew to Dobbs Ferry. Such were the great results of the victory of Long Island, t wo wased nouths, mad tho Americau army still motonched lowe was resolved, however, that his calupaign should not le utteriy fruitless, and threfore directed his attention to the de fences of the ilud. son, Fort i.ce, aud Fort Waslingtom, and lere be met with better success. Congress, In its nill tary wisidom, had insisted that these forts nust and could be held. . . An attempt was made to hold both forts, ind both were lost, as he [Whshiugton] had foreseen. From Fort ice the gnrrlson withdrew in safcty. Fort Wushaytion was carricd by storm, after a severe struggle. Twenty-six hundred men nad nll the munitions of war feli luto the hands of the cneny. It was a serious und most depresslag loss, and was felt thronghont the eontinent. Meantime Washing ton had crossed luto the Jerseys, mad, after the loss of Fort Lee, began to retreat before the Britlsh, who, flushicd with vietory, now alvaneed rapidly nnder Lord Cornwallis.",-11. C. Lodge, George Washingtom, c. 1, ch. 6.
Also in: II. 13 Carrington, Battles of the $\mathrm{A}_{\mathrm{m}}$ Rer., ch. 33-36.-G. W. Greche, Lite iff aidthan wel Greene, ch. 8-11 (r. 1).-13. J. Losing. Fith Book of the Aim. Ree, v. 2, ch. 23.
A. D. 1776 (October),-Connecticut assumes independence and sovereignty. Sce Coxsec TICET: A. D. 1766.
A. D. 1776-1777, - Washington's retreat through New Jersey and his masterly retura movement. - The victories at Trentan and Princeton retrieving the situation. $-\cdots$ on the 17th [of November] Washington ordered Lee [who ind lately returned from the sonth, and Who had command of 7,000 men at Northrastle] to eome over and join inim; but lee disobeyed, and in splte of repeated orders from Washington he stayell at Northeastle thli the $2 l l$ of December. General Ward haci some time siuce reslgned, so that Lee now ranked next to Washing. ton. A good many people were findling fault With the latter for losing tho 3,000 mea at Fort Washington, although, as we have eeta, that was not hls fault but the fault of Cougress. Lee now felt that if Washiagton were rulned, be lays to Trash. lue to llowe rth to Wash etting every. omincil of wat cliferutely of ains. lugton's pros. lite equal io awaiting lis tell, druited, o something, llill, an uat. (ricans were paction, and soul order to them half as With caution or reinforce. third day it fonlud that her mad quite helld all tha cond attick for two or camp and cre the great two wasted 1 mintonethed. is cillupaiga id the refore of the liud. and here he In its milis. forts nust t was made lost as be "ort Lee the Wushington re struygle. munitions Uy. It was uif was felt e Washing. d, after the Before the w advanced C. Lodge, of the Am . if Liethan. sing, Fitud would surely become his successor in the command of the army, and so, instead of obeylng his orders, he spent his time in writlng letters calenlated to injure him. Lee's dlsobedlence thas broke the army lin two, and did more for the British than they lad been able to do for themselves sinee they started from Staten Island. It was the canse of Winshlugtou's flight throngh New Jersey, entlig on the 8 th of Decenler, when he put himself behind the Delin. ware river, with searcely 3,000 men. Here was another dillluity. The Amerlan soldiers were enlisted for short terms, und when they were dis. couragel, as at prosent, they were npt to insist opongohg homeas som as their thme had expird. It was generally ledieved that Wishing. tom'sarmy wonld thas fall to pieces withina few disy. llowe did not think it worth while to be at the tronble of collecting bonts wherewith to follow him neross the Delaware. Congress Hed to Baltinore. People in New, Jensey began tak ing the oath of nlleginnee to the erown. Howe: received the news that he lad bern kuighterd for hils victory on Long Islund, nad be returned to New York to celebrate the oecasion. While the case looked so desperate for Witholugton, events at the uorth had iaken a less unfavonrible turn. Carleton [who begau preparations to laFade the province of New lork as soon as Arnold retreated from Canami had combarked on Laks Chimplinin early in the antumin with his fine army and fleet. Aroold had fitted np a small flowt tor opuse his advauce, and on the llth of october there had been a tieree naval battle lirtwern the 1 wo near Valcour Island, in which Amold wis defeated, while Cirleton suffered serious daniage. The British generill then advanced upon Ticonderoga, but suddenly made up bis mind that the scason was too late for operations in that latitule. The resistance he had encountered secms to have mide him despair of achin wing iny speedy suecess in that guarter, and on the : ? 1 of November he stsrted Inaek for Canala. This retreat relieved Genernl Sehuyler at Albany of imnediate canse for anxiety, and presemty he detibehed seven regiments to go sonthward to Wishington's assistance. On the 211 of December Lae erossed the Inikson with 4. Mhe men, amd proceeded slowly to Morristown. Just whit he designed to do was never known, but clearly he had no lutentlon of golng beyond the Delaware to assist Washington, whom he be. lieved to the rained. I'erhaps he thonght Morris. torsia desirathe position to hold, as it certainly on Whatever his phans miny have been, they beraniped in the bud. For some unknown regnm lee passed the night of the $1 \geqslant \mathrm{th}$ at an unguanled tiswern, nbout four niles from his army; and there he was enptured next morning by a party of British drigoons, who earried him off w) their canp at Primeton. The Iragoons were very flecful wer this mexpected exploit, but reilly they could not have done the Anmerieans? greater serviee than to rid them of such in worth. less remature. 'rise captnre of Lee chanc iu the bick of time, fir it set free his men to go to the mid of Washingtom. Fven after this force and that sent by schuyler had reached the eommandrer in ehief, he fonnd he had only 6,000 unth tit for duty. With thit litile foree Whallhytam insiantly took the offensive. It was the the bepoint in his carcer and in the history of the luvolutlomary Wirr. On Christmus, 176 and the following nine days, all Washington's most brillsnt powers were displayed. The British centre, 10,000 strong, lay at Princeton. The prineipal generals, thinking the serious buslness of the war ended, hsd gone to New York. An advancerl party of Ifesslans, 1,000 strong, was posted on the bink of the Delsware st Trenton, bond another one lower down, at Bur. lington. Washington decelded to attiek both these outposts, nud arrunged his troops aecordingly, but when Christnins nlght arrived, the river was filled with great hooks of thoating lee and the only division which snecceded ing erossIng was the one that Wiashington led in person. It wis less than 2,500 in number, but the moment had come when the bollest conrse wus tho siffest. By daylireak Washington hird surprised the Ilessinins at Trenton innl eaptnred them all. The ontpost at Burlington, on hearing the news, retreated to Irinceton. Iy the 3Ist Wishington land got all his available forere neross to Trenton. sime of them were raw reernlts just come in to replnee others who himl just gone home. At this eriticul monent the nrmy was nearly helpless for Want of money, and on New Year's morning Koburt Morris was knocking at door after door ia Philadelphia, waking up his friends to borrow the siso, 010, which he seitt off to Trenton before nom. The next dny Cornwallis arrivel at Irinceton, and taklig with him all. the army, exeept a rear guard of 2,000 men left to proteet his commmieations, emme on toward Trenton. When he reached that town, late in the after noon, he found Wishingtomentrenched behind a small ereek just south of the town, with his back toward the Inclawnre river. 'Oho!' sitid Cormwallis, 'at lust we have riu down the ohl fox, and we will bing hin in the morning.' Ife sent hack to l'rinceton, and orderal the rear guard to come np. IIe expected next morning to cross the ereek ahove Washinglom's right, amil then press him back against the broad and deep river, and compel him to surrember. Cornwallis was by no manas n careless gencral. but lue seems to have gone to bed on that memorible night nod slept the sleep of the just. Wrashingtou meanwhile wiss wide nwake. Ile kept his front line moisily at work digging and entrenching. and made $n$ fine show with his cump-lires. Then he marehed hi- srny to the right :mbl neross the creek, abd got ari.und ('ormwallis's left wing and iato his rear, and so went on gayly toward Princeton. At dinybroiak le enconimered the Britlsh rear-guard, fonght a shary bittle with it and sent it fying, wlth the loss of one-fourth of it- number. The boming guns aronsed Corn. wallis too lite. To preserve bis communications with New lork, he was obliged to retreat with all hsste 1 pom New Brunswick, while Washing. ton's victorious army pushed on and oceupied the strung $\mathrm{p}^{\prime}$ sition at Morristown. There was smitl hope of dislonging sueh a general from sueh a position. But to leave Wushington in possessiou of Jorristown was to resign to hlm the laurels of this half-year's work. For that position giarded the Ilighlands of the Iludson on the one hund, and the roads to l'hiladelphita on the other. Except that the British had taken the eity of Sew York - which fron the start was ahnost a foregone conelusion - they were no hetter off than in July when Lord Iowe had luded on staten Island. In nine duys the tnhles had been eompletely turned. The sttuek inpou an outpost had developed into a campaign whlch quite retrieved the situation. The Illimed Inter. ference of Congress, which had begun the series of disasters, was remedied; the treachcry of Lee was checkmated; and the cause of American In. dependence, which on Christmas Eve had seemed hopeless, was now falrly set on lts feet. Earller aucceases had been local; this was continental. Seldom has so much been done with such slender means."-J. Flske, The War of Independence, ch. 6.-"The effect of these two unexpected strokes at Trenton and Princeton was to baffle llowe, and utterly disconcert hls plans. Expecting to marelt upon Philadelphla at his lelsure, he suddenly finds Washington turning about and literally cutting his way through the Britlsh posts, back to a polnt where he threatened Howe's flank and rear. The enemy were at once compelled' to retire from all thelr positions below Brunswlek, give up the thonght of wintering in Phllacielphia, and fall back to the vicinity of New York. When llorace Walpole heard of these movements, he wrote to Sir llorace Mann: - Washlngton has slown himself both a Fablus and a Camillus. His mareh through our llnes is allowed to have heen a prodlgy of generalship. In one word, I look upon a great part of America as lost to thls country.' Here the campaign closed. Washington could not be dlslodged from his strong mountain position, and llowe was satistied to rest hls troops and post. pone further operations unil the next season. Meantlme the conntry took heart, Congress voted troops and surpplies, and the army was recruited and organized on a better basls. $\qquad$ The buslness of war is the result of Experience, wrote Wol. cott from Congress, with falth unshaken during the darkest hours of the campaign: and experi. enee was now put to good protit. The crisis was passed. Events proved decisive. Hardship and anxlety were yct to come during succceding years of the war; but it was the resnlt of this year's struggle that cleared away misgivingsand confirmed the popular faith In tinal success. England eould do no more than she himd done to conquer Amerlea; while America was now more ready than ever to meet the lssire. indepen. dence was established in the present campaign In the year of its declaration; and more than to any others we owe this politieal privilege to the men who fought from Long Ishand to l'riace-ton."-11. 1'. Johnston, Campaign of 1766 (Memerira of the Loug Inl'rud Mixt. 太心c., 2. 3), pt. 1, ch. 8.

UNITED STATES, 1776-177\%. Britith Prioos. UNITED STATES, 1776-177\%.

Also in: $\ddot{\prime}$. F. Ilageman, Mist. of I'rinceton, ch. 4, vect. 4-5 ( $r, 1$ ), J. O. limm, Mist. of Ji, J., ch. 20 ( $r, 2$ )- W. 13. 1Reed, life of Jas. IReed, r. 1, ch. 4.- W. C. $13 r y a n t$ and S. il. Gay, Pbpular Hist. of the IT. A, t. B, ch. 21.
A. D. 1776-1777.-Prisoners and exchanges. - British *reatment of captives, - The Jersey Prison-ship and the Sugar-house prison. In New lork, during the l3ritish occnpation of the city, " wretehed imleed was the comdition of the poor :cfugec, of the sick soldier, and, above all, the patrint prisoner. The newspapers are flled with ralls for charitable contributions for women and ehillorn perishing with eold and hunger, for disabled soldic rs and families whinout a shelter. . . . But if the favored Tories siff. fered, what must have been the conditon of the patriot prisoners. confiued by thonsands in bleak barracks, charches, and prison-ships? let us pass uj Broadway, andedst the uncleared ruins, and, turning down Liberty Street, pause before a huge brick builiding near the Middle Dureb Chureh. It is tive stories high. with broked windows, through which the fleree winds of winter rush unrestralned. Through its lmper. fect roof and various open!ugs, suow, lce, and water penetrate to every part of the building. Sentries pace round lts walls prepared to efre upon any of its maddened inmates who attemps In desperation to escape. Wounded men crawl to the windows begging ald; but the lapassive sentinel turns back the glfts of the elnritable. No communication with the prisoners can be al. lowed. The walls within are bare and cheerless nor do any of the common convenicnces of life soften the horrors of those dreary chambers. Yet the old Sugar. House is the noost crowded lullding In New York, sud hundreds of prison. ers, some chalned, others at large, till lis com. fortless interior. In tha sld Suger. 11 louse were eonflined the prisoners or Leng Island, the captives of sudden formss, the patriot clitiz. 1 , and the heroes of the rebel army. Clothell in rag and scarcely covered from the winter nir, crowded in narrow apartments and broken by, hunger and dlsease, the prisoners died by thousands. The sick lay down on beds of snow to perish; the feeble wounded quivered in the Febrnary blast. Fool of the comrsest kind was served out to them in scanty measure, and ilevoured with the eagerness of famlne. Erery night ten or twenty died; every day this corpses were thrown into pits without asing rite of burlal. When led out ". 'exchangel, the glad hope of freedom gav them no jopthey dled on the way to their frimeds, or lingered out a few weeks of miscrable de:- line in the hins. pitals of the Jerseys. So wretcled was their condition that Waslington refiased to consider them fit subjects for exelange. - Yomgre us only the dead or dying,' he wrote to llowe, for our well-fed and healihy prisoucrs.' Howse, as if In mockery, replied that they hat been kept In 'airy, roomy huildings,' on the sume fare as his own soldiers. Washington pointed to the condition In which they reached him-diseased, famlsticd. emaciat at, and dying, as they were conducted to his quarters. Aeross the river, in Wallabout Bay, lay the prison-ship 'Jersey.' She was the hulk of a 64 gan shld? long unw worthy, her masts and rigging gone, her ti: head hroken off, and her whole appearace singularly repulsive. Yet on boaril of the Jersey were contined 1,200 capturell seamen Slie was never cleansed, and lny In that condition seven years. No fircs warmed her occupants in winter, no screen sheltered them from the Angust sun; no physiclan visited the sick, no elergyman consoled the dying there. Pome and scanty foxd, the want of clothing, cleanlines, and exercise, and raging discases that never ceased their ravages, made the Jerecy a screne of luman suffering to which the Black Hole of Caleutta might favorably compare. Brenerolent Tories would sometimes convey hy stralth fond or elothing to her unhappy limates; but this was little. Toward the close of the war the Britsh from shame or pity, marde some im. provement ha her condition: but she remminetl througlout the contest a centre of sickness and death, always decimated loy dispaser and always replenished with new victims. The bones of lier dead, estimated at 11,000 , lle buried on the

UNITED STATES, 1776-1777. Helpful disposition UNITED STATES, 1776-1778. of France.

Brookly shore. The crowded city itself was never free from contagion. "In winter the smallpox made fearful ravages,"-E. Lawrenee, Newo Tork in the Recolution (IIarper's Magazine, July, 1888).

Also in: Force's Am. Archires, $4 t h$ Series, - 6. 5 th ミ̌̀r., v. 1-3.-Miat. Mag. 1866, sup.-W. C. Bryant and S. II. Gay, Popular IIist. of the C. S., c. 3, ch. 21.
A. D. $177^{6-1778 .-A t t i t u d e ~ a n d ~ f e e l i n g ~ o f ~}$ France.-Her disposition to aid the colonies and the reasons for 1t.-The American embassy to the French court.-Sllas Deane and Beaumarchais. - Frankiin at Passy. - "On Mareh 17, 1776, Vergennes presented to his assoclates in the cabinet - Maircpas, Turgot (coutroller gencral), Sartlae (secretary of the nary), and St. Germaln (secretary of war) - a paper entitled 'Consllerations,' which, afterfor many years evadiag the seareh of historinns, was brought tolight by De Witt and republlshed br Donlol. In thils important paper Vergennes, after some gearral reflections on the arivautages Which the two crowns of France and Spain de. rived from the contlnuance of the civil war $\ln$ Anerica, and, on the other hand, on the inconveniences whlch might arise from the in dependence of the Colonies, and the probability that, in case of fallure in North Amer lea, Eugland would, to recover lts eredit, turn Its arms against the Freneh and Spanish possessions in Amcrica, procecds to consider the course at oace to be pursucd. Ile bitterly attacks the English for their habitual breach of goorl faith, violatiou of treatles, and disregard of that obscrsince of the saered laws of morality whleh distinguish the Freneh, and lufers that they will lake the first opportialty to declare war ngalnst France or luvale Mexieo. No doubt, if the kings of Fraace aad Spain lud marthal tendencies; If they obeyed the dietates of their own interests, unt perhaps the justice of their eause which was that of limmanity, so ofteu ontraged br Eaglama; If their military resourees were in a sufticiently goml condition, they would feel that Providenee land evidently chosen that very hour for hamiliatlag Eagland and revenging on her the wrongs she had liflieted on those who hat the mlsfortune to be her ueighbors and rivals, by rendering the reslstance of the Americans as desperate as mosslble. The exhaustion prombeed by this iaterneciac war wonld prostrite both England and her Coloaies, and woukd nfford an opportunity to reduee England to the eonditon of a seemil-rate power; to tear from her the emple she aimed at cstablishing in the four quarters of the world with so moleh pride an iujunties, and relieve the uaiverse of a torat which desires to swallow up both all the pos and all the wealth of the world. IBut the ts crowns not beiner able to act ln this way, thes must have recourse to a elrcumspeet pollcy. Vergemes " lraws the following interences: (1) That they should contime dextercusly to keep the Eluelish miaistry in a state of false sceurity with respert to the intentions of France and Spain. (2) That it would be politie to give the insurgents secret assistance in military stores and money that the almitted utility would justify this little sueritice, and 110 loss of dignity or brearh of equlity wonts! !!e firolvel in it. (? That it would not be conslsteat with the king's dignity or interest to make an open contract with the insurgents until their independence wa achleved. (4) That in case France and Spain sho Ild furnish assistance, they should look for no other returu than the success of the polltleal object they had at that moment in view, leaving themselves at liberty to be guided by circumstances as to any future arrangements. (5) That perliaps a too-marked Inactlvity nt the present crisls might be attribinted by the Engllsh to fear, and miglit expose Fraace to lnsul's to whieh it might not be dlsposed to submit. The English, he adds, respeet only those who can mak tho 1 . selves feared. (6) That the result to whleh nil these consideratlons led was that the two crowns should netlvely prepare mcans to, resist Cr punlsh Englanu, more especlally $q^{\circ}$, of all posslble issties, the maintenance of peace with that power was the least probnble. . . . It would be a mlstake, however, to attrlbute the Fronch support of Amerien excluslvely to a feeling of re venge for the lumllatlons of the prior was. Other motlves eame in and exerelsed a deeislve influence. There was a convletloa, and a right one, in France thas for Britaln to hold under control the whole of North Americt as well as of Irdia would give her a maritime supremacy, as well as a superiority in weath, whleh wonld constitute a standing menace to the rest of the civilized world. There was, agaln, an enthuslasm aniong the young nobllity nud ninong ofllcers In the army for Amerlca, whleh, even aside from the bltterness towards Britaln with which It was rulngled, had great effeet on pcople as well as on colrt; and to thls was adlled the sym. pathy of doetrinaire political philosophers who then and for some thme nfterwards hail great power in forming French public oplniou. IBy the enthuslasm of the young nobility the queen - brilliant, bold, weary of the traditions of +? e old eourt, heonsiderate as to ultimate political re-sults-was affeeted, and through her iner hushond was reached. But above this was tie sense of right which was upermost In the lireast of the unfortunate soverelgn who then, with listie political experience but hlgh notions of duty as well as of prerogative, oecripied the ti sone."F. Whartou, cd., Revolutionary Diplumutic Corr. of the $[$. S. Sutront., ch. 4 (c. 1).-" From the carliest nomeat Fraace had been hopefully regarded lov the colouists as probabiy their frieud and possibly their ally. Fo Frince, thereforc the tirst II lean envoy was dispatched with promptintele receiring his instruetions lu Mareh and reaching l'aris in the following June, 1776] even before there was a declaration of indepen. dence or an assumpthon of natlouality. Silas 'eanc was the man selected. IIe was the true snkee juck-nt-all-trates; he had been gradiat at Lalc College, then tanglit school, then raeticed law, then engerger? in trale, had been all the while mancing ir prosperity and reputation, had been a member of the first and see ond congresses, had failed of rexlection to the thirl, and was now without enmployment. Mr. Parton describes hatn ns 'c. تewhat striking mananers and good appearance, aceustomed to live aud entertaln in liberai style, and fond of showy equipage and appoint meut.' Perh:ups his simple minded fellow eonntrymen of the provinces fancied that such it man would make an impraing figure at an riarabenn entirt. Ite developed no other peeuliar fitness for his position; he could not eveli speak Freneh; and it proved an Ill hour for hlmaelf In which he recelved thls trying and dilticuit honor. . . . Deane arrived la France In June, 1736. He had with hlm a llitle ready money for his Immediate per. sonnl expenses, and some letters of intruluction from Franklin. It was litended to kecp him supplied with money by senting curgoes of tobucco, rice, and indigo ennslgned to hlm, tho procends of which would be at his disposid for the public serviee. Ile was Instrueterl to seek an finterview with de Vergennes, the Freneh minister for foreign aflalrs, and to endeavor with all possible prudence and delicacy to tind out what sigus of pronulse the llispositlon of the Frenelt gorernment really helil for the Insurgents. II was ulso to ask for cyulpment for 25.000 tronjes, ammumition, aud 200 pieces of fiehl artillery, all to le paid for - when Congress should be able! In France he was to keep hils mission clouked in sedore secrey, appearing simply us a merchant eonductlag his own affairs.

Franklin ond Lee.
lefore the arrival of Deane the laterests of the eolonies lad lwen already taken In hand and substantially advanced in France ly one of tho most extriordinary characters in histury. Caron de Benumurchais wis a mun whom no ruce savo the French could produce, and whose truits, career, and suecess lie lopelessly beyond the comprehension of the Anglo-Saxon. Bred a watchmaker, he had the sklll, when a mere youth, to livent a clever eseapement balance for regulating watches; had he leen able to insert It Into his own brain he might have held more seeurely his elnsive gool fortunes. From being an Ingenions inventor he beeme an alventurer general, watchmaker to the king. the king's mistresses, and the king's danghters, the lover, or rather the beioved, of the ife of the eontroller of the king's kitehen, then himsolf the eontroller, thence a courtior, und a favorite of the royal princesses. Through a clever use of his opportunities he was alle to do a great fivor to a rich banker, who in return gave lim chances to mmass a fortune, and lont him money to buy a putent of nobility. Thls conneetion ended in litization, wheh was near mining him: bat le discovered corruption on the purt of the judge, and thereupon wrote his Ilemorials, of which the wit, keenness, and vivacity male him famons. Ile then rendered in privitte, pursonal, and lmportant service to Iomis XV., hind soon nfturwards mother to the young louis XV'.

He became frenzied in the Ambrican cause. In long and ardent letters he oproed upon King Louis and bis ministers a rattling fire of arguments sound and unsonad, statements true and untrue, inducements reasouable and unrensomble, forerastings probable and improbable: polities wise und unwise, all de. signed to show that it was the bomen duty of Framee to alopt the colonial ceatse."-J. T. Monse, dr., bryjemin tronklin. ch. 9.-Soon after the arrival of Deane in Paris, the Ameriean Comgress, laving therminel todeclare the Indeproblence of the states represented In it, appointed a committe " to prepare the plan of a treaty to be proposed to foreign powers, whieh, after a long discussion, wis ut length agreed to, mud minister were appointed to negotiate the treaties proposed. Mr Franklin, Mr. Deane, and Mr. Ielforson, wore cleeted; but, the hist meationd gentleman havhis terelned aceeptheg the appointment offerd him. Mr. Arthur lee, then in London, was chosen in his place. These transactions were placed on the secret journals. and no member wn permitted to glve any spectic Infirmatiou e ruing them, or to stute more than, that et cress hail taken such steps a they julged necessary for obtalning furvign alll. ances.' The secret commlttee were difected to make an effectual loigment In France of f10, 000 sterliag, subjeet to the order of these com mbsaloners. They nasembled $\ln$ I purls carly in the winter, and hal an Immedlate Interview with tho count Ise Virgennes. It was percuived that the succers of the Amerlcan cruisurn, whose eqpture hal leen sus considicrabie ns to raise the price of insurnuce higher than it had lwon at ang tif lifring the war with botlt Frnnce and ishon, int exclted a very favourable ophion of the capuelties and energies of the nation. They were assured that the ports of France wonld er maln open to thelr ahtlps, and that the Amerian merchants might frecly venul In then every article of commeree, and purchase whatever aight be useful for thelr eallutry. But it was appar ent that the minister wished to avoldi n rupture wlth Enghum, and was, therefore, inwilling to recelve them openly us the minkters of the Unlted Etates, or to enter Into any formal negothation wlth them."-J. Marshall, hife of lliad. ington, e. 3, ch. 7.-"It ls a ecttled rule of diplomaey that a minister should not lo presed upon a foreign court by which it is unlerstood that he will not le recelved. To thls mar le added the rule that applications for founs should. unless as part of in treaty alliatice. ls made through business channels. In elisrogurd of these rules tite majority of Congress, unler the intluence of Kiehard 11. Lee and Samuel Adums, it stltuted a series of misions to Europana courts for the lare parpose of borrowing monsy, when the conrts so addressed not only gave no intima. tion that they would recive these envots, but when, from the nature of thlnges, as well is from unollicial intimation, It whould have lwere hown that such recoption would be refused. With France there was no ditliculty, as France had intimated unothcinliy that such envoys would be recelved, at lenst In a pifate capucity, Frade heing then reaty to take the consequence of war whth Britain. And this reception was accorded . . . tirst to Silas I cane, then to Frank lin, and then to Arthur Iace. Here Franklin thonght Congress shonld stop, sayiag that min. isters bhombl not be sent to sovereigns withat first having some sort of assurunce of recognition of the Cnitued Sintes as an independent sovercirnty. mal that a virgln' republic, as be colled it, shonld wait till there was some such recognition before thrusting embassion on forign comrts with demands for money. Coneress thought aliferently. Arthur Lee was instrueted to go to Malrid with nn alteraate comminsion to Berlin; William Lce was sent to Vienum, Dhato St. I'eternhurte, Aiams to The llagne, lard to Florence, and the instructious in ench case were to demmud not only reeognition, lot subsidy.

The policy of seating minlsters in Euro pean courts where such ministers were not re celvel worked injurionsly to the lnited States from the mere fact of their non-recoption. An other diflieulty arose from the ciremmstame that several of these mlnisters took up their residence in laris, and, without specifie authority, (on sidered it their daty to take part in the counstis of the American legatlon. Tbus laiph lzanl.

UNITED STATES, 1776-1779. Beaumarchaio. UNITED STATES, 1776-1778.

commissiened to Tuscany, never went there, but remained in Parls, ciaiming a right to be informed of all the detalls of the negotiations with France, and occupying no small share of the time and care of Franklin witil discnsslons of this claim, which Franklln could not accede to, but on which Izard continued to inslat. When the triple legation of Frankiin, Deane, and Artbar Lee (aud afterwards Frankin, Arthur i.fe, sud Adams), was commissioned, it was understnod that its members were to divide, so that one (Frankin) should remain In Paris, while the others shouid take charge of the missions to other capitals. But Arthur Lee, wheu he found that he couid not be received in Madrid, or in Vlenna, or in Berin, made but brief excursious to Spain, to Anstria, and to Beriln, reporting himself after each short trip promptly at Parls, there to difer from Franklin not only as to important husiness detaiis, but as to the whole pulley of the mlssion. When Adams was in Paris, during their joint misalon, he concurred with Artiur ice in whnt turned out to be the disastrums measure of removing Wiiliams as commerelal sgent and putting in his place Wililum Lee, with a nephew of Wlilicm and Artinr Lee ns clerk; whilc on the whoie question of sending legathons to foreign courts whleis hud not consented to receive them, and in the still more important question of the attitude to be assumed by the commissioners to the French court, Adums agreed with Lee. . . . It is due to Adams to say that he saw the inherent difticui. tles of permanent missions conducted by three joint commissioners; that he recommended that thre should be but oue permanent ininister to Frince; and that he recognized Frankiln's great inthence with the French ministry as a strong ressun for his retention though without col. leagues. But there ean he no donht that down to the period when Franklln became sole minister, the American cause in Europe was much embarrissed by the fnet that he had colleagues associated with bim."-F. Wharton, Introd. to The Recolutionary Diplomatic Correspondence of The U. S., ch. 1, sect. 16-17. and ch. 0, sect. 100 (r. 1).-1Before Frauklin or Lee renched France, Silas Deane had already entered into negotlations with Beanmarchals nud opened a train of dealings which proved mufortunate tor boti. Leav. Ing aside "all the long controversy about the rights and wrongs of Beaumarchals, which have never beell eompletely and sntisfactorily solved, it appears that a large part of the misnnilerstandiug between him and Deune nad Arthur Lee is aitributabie to a change of plan between April uni July, 1776. Beaumarchais's scheme of operation, when he saw Lee in London, wis to expend money which should, at least in preteuce and form, be obtained from the voluntary eontributions of wealthy Frenchmen in nid of the American cause; but in July, when he saw Deane, that scheme had been dropped, und the project was that he should appear as a merehant.
in lisy, there was a plan on the purt of the Froncl goverumeut to employ a reai merchant; now the plan was to employ a comedy merchant. Thls was cxuctly the role which Benumarchais was qualified to fill, and he proceeded to establish nad open a large house. with ail the aceessories of a house of busliness, as the same are understood and represented on the stage. At that tlme it was beileved that the colonists had plenty of exportable product which they conl' and wiuld contribute for the furpose [purchuse?] of arms and anmmunition. It was thought that their main difticulty would be to tind any market in which they could purchase contrahand of war. The chlef assistance, therefore, which they would need from Franco would be secret permission to muke this ex. change in France. Beauinurchals's comincreind operations wonld bo reai commercial operutions, aud at worst could only issue in some expenses nnd losses, on the halance of account, which the French government might have to make good. Heaumarchais approached Deanc with uil the forms and reality of a commercial proposition, and Deane assured him thint he shonld have some returns in six months, and fuil pay for everything whlch he suppiicd in a yenr. Two days later they made a contract by which Congress was to puy the current price of the gools in America when tiney should arrivc, or take them at the cost price, with insurance, charges, and commission proportioned to the trouble and care, which caunot now be fixed.' . . . August 18, Benumarchais writes to the Committee of Secret Conespondence that, leri by esteem for a people strugging for liberty, he hiss establisied nn extensive commerciai honse, solely for the purpose of supplying them whith ali things useful, even goll for the payment of troops; and that withont waiting for their consent he has aiready procured 200 cannons, 200,000 pounds of powder, $\mathbf{2 0 . 0 0 0}$ guns, with halis, lead, clothing, etc. Ife wants the cargoes consigued to him in return, and promises that he hiss great power to use any conslgmments wiatsoever; but he wants especlaily tohacco. He sigus this letter itoxierigue Hortnies \& Co.

A miliion livres were ulFanced by Spain to ikeammarchais, Augnst 11, 1776, and the Farmers-generai of Frunce alvanced a militon livres, but took ndvantage of the distress of the Americans to stipulite that lt shonid be paid for in tohaces at half its then current price. Bennmarchais also mivanced money to Denue for his persomal expenses; and it has never been doubted that he exerted himself with the ntmost enorgy, if not aiways with the greatest prudence, to expudite the shipment of the goors. Of the three ships which he despatched at the enti of the year, two were coptared hy the English; but the one which arrived was of the greatest possible vnlue to the cause.

When Irthur ise received his appolntinent as Commissioner to France and eutered upon the discharge of his duties, he foumd that the promises mate to him by Benumarchais had not heen kept. ile reported to the Committee of secret Correspondence that a change in the mode of seniling bad heen settledi between Deane and Ifortales. . . . Arthur Lee nlways held the attitude of suspicion that ibenue aid Beaumarchais were In a conspirucy to levy contributions for themselves on the frec gifts of Frunce to the United States. Franklin ulways uffected toignore the dealings with Beaumarchais, and to treat them as exclusively in the hands of Henne; white Congress aiways showed themseives very careful not to pay for anything which possibiy was intended as a gift. Therefore Deane and Beaumarshald wres left for ycars to claim and protest that tinere had been genuine mercantile contracts which had not bcen fulfilled, and they could scarcely obtain atten.

UNITED STATES, 1776-177M

Deane and Beaumarehale.
thon. . . September 8, 1777, Congress roted that Deane had no authority to make contracts with person to come to Anerica. November 21, they voted to recail him. Undouhtedly the vexatlon which Deane hail caused them by sending over a great number of permons to merve in the army, under contracts which enabled them to demand large pay snil high rank, was the chief eause of Irritation against him; but Arthur Lee had also been poisoning the mind of his brother, and tirough him, of the whole Lee. Adsms faction in Congress, with suspicions of Deane's honesty. Deane had found himself transferred, whitin a period of two or three Fears, from an utterly obscure existence at Wetherstield, Connecticut, to the position of a quasi-ambassador at the court of France. He adopted a large and cxpensive styie of living, and kept open house for the Americans at Paris. It is very reasonahle to suppose that this large expenditure on lifs part was one of the chief grounds of belief that he was making great gain out of hls position. . . . The affair of Siias Deane has importanec far beyond the merits or the fate of that individual. The quarrel over him and his rights and wrongs, as will presently be seen, entered into the hottest party contests In Congress during the next two or three years, and it comes up again often suhsequently. It has even been asserted that the intimacy into which John Adans was thrown with the Lees, In this connection, was what made him President of the United States, by winuing him votes from Virginia in 1796 . January 1, 1778 , Heaumarchals, having heard that money had been given to the Americans through Grand, the hanker, writes to Vergennes: "So I have lost the fruit of the most noble and incredihle labour by those very exertions which conduet others to glory,'

He is in terror of ban'sruptcy. Inasmuch as a treaty of alliance betwcen France and the United States was now made, matters had entered upon a new stage. Beaumarchais, with his fictitious firm of flortales, was no longer necessary or useful. The French government dealt directly with the American envoys in granting supplies and subsidies. April 7, Congress made a contract with Hortales that they should pay, for all the cargoes alrearly shlpped and those to be shipped, the first cost, charges, and freight, in France. The contract between Beaumurchals and ilenne is reeognlzed. Ilortales is to pay bills drawn every two months at donble usance for twenty fonr millou livres anmually. Thls article, lowever, is subject to ratiticatlon by the house In Paris and the American Commis. sioners at I'aris. American produce is to be exported and consigued to this house. Interest is to be paid on all sums due, with a commlssion of two and a half per cent. From this the Bean. marchais falls out of sight as an agent of ald and supplies to the American enuse, and becomes a claimant, who considers that he has heen treated with Irjustice and ingratitude hy the United States."-W.G. Sumner, The Financier an's the Finances of the Am. Remolution, ch. $8(c .1)$."The episode of Beanmarchais. . was a sur. Viral of the secret diplonaey of Louls XV. for a short time exercising an extraordinnry inthuence in the first period of the reign of Louis XVI. Louis XVI, on reaching the throne, found the machinery of secret dipiomacy so ingeniously constructed by his predecessor in full Operation; and, . for one or two delicate is. quiries at the outset of the new reign. Isesumar. chaif. who of all the diplomatiats of this pecullu breed was the mont adroit and fertile in ex. pedients, was weil fitted. Hence cance hla employment, and from his employment came his suggeations, full of brifliant wit ani effective reasoning, as to America. But the antagonism between him and Vergennes was to marked to permit sustained political relatlonshlp: and when Franklin entered into diplomatic hfo in Paris Bea umarchais ceased to taken proninent polltical position. And even during the perioi of Beaumarchais' greatest activity it must be re. membered that he was not technlcaliy Vergennet subordinato. It was one of the pecuilarithes of the secret dipiomscy of Louls XIV and loula XY, as depleted hy Brogitic in his admirahle tratice on that tople, that even the existence of the sceret agent was not to be supposed to be knowa to the king's ostensllule nininters. This was nit the case with Bennmarchais; hut at the same time Beaumarchals' polltical intluence ceased wheu, on the arrival of Franklln, Virgennes, with Franklin's add, took control of AngloAmerican diplomacy. "-F. Wharton, Introd to The Remolutionary Diplomatio Correapondence of the $U . S .$, ch. 4, aet. $55(v, 1)$.

Also iv: E. E. Haie, Franklin in FranceJ. Bigelow, ed., life of 1 ranklin, by himalf, r. : ch. 12-15.-J. Parton, Life of Pranklin, pt. (v. 2).-L. de Lomenie, Beaumarchatis und his Timea, ch 20-23 (v. 3). - Papers in relation to the Case of Sihas Deane (Serenty-Kix Sr. 185j) C. Tower, Jr., The Marquis de La Fityette in the Am. Rev., v. 1, ch. 5.-See, also, below: A D. 1778 (Fenheahy).
A. D. 8776-8779. - The Thirteen Coionies become Statel. - The framing and adoption of State Constitutions. - "The recommendations to form governments proceeded from the general congress; the work was done hy the several states, in the full enjoyment of self direction. Each of then claimed to be of right a free, sorereign, and iudependent state; each bound its officers to bear to it true allegiance, nul to maintain its frecdom and iniepenkence. Dassachusetts, which was the first state to frame a gor. ernment Independent of the klug, deviated as little as possibie from the letter of its charter; nnd, assuming that the place of governor wha vacant from the 19 th of July 1735 , it revugnied the council us the legal successor to executive power. On the 18t day of Jay 17\%6, in all tommissions and legal processes, it substituted the name of its 'government and people' for that of the king. In June 1777, its iegisiature assumed power to prepare a constitition; but, on a referenee to the people, the aet was dixnvowed In September 1799, a convention, which the prople themselves had specially anthorlzel, frameds constitntlon. It was in a good metwire the compilation of John Adams, who was guided by the English coustitution, by the hill of rights of Virginla, and by the experienee of Massachusets herself; and this coustitutlon, having been ap. proved by the people, went into affert in 130. On the 5th of January 1776, Jew liampshire shaped its goverament with the fewest possible changes from its colonial forme, like llassachusetts merging the executive power In the couscil. Not till June 1783 did its convention agres upon a more perfect instrument, which was

CNITED STATES, 1776-1778.

Etate Comelitytion.
UNITED STATES, 1777.

licate in.

 les umar. pecullar le in ex. his em. at came wit and llut the 5 was too thonship: natle iffo romisent he perlos sat be reergenser' liss of the oula XV, treatise e of the世 known whas but the same ceased rgennes, Anglo nirud. to nelence ifapproved by the people, and eatahilabed on the slit of the foliowing October. The provisional conaltution of Bouth Carolina dated Prom the 26th of Msreh 1776. In March 1778, a permanent constitution was introduced hy an sct of the iegialature. Rhode Iniand enjoyed under its ciarter a form of gnvernment to thoroughiy repubican that the rejection of monarchy, in May 1776, required no change beyond a reuunciation of the king'a name in the styie of lts publle aets, A disifranchisement of Catholics had stolen into its book of laws; hut, so soon an it was noticed, the ciause was expunged. In ilke manner, Connecticut bad oniy to substitute the people of the coiony for the name of the king; this was done provisionaliy on the 14th of June $17 i 6$, and made perpetual on the 10th of the following October. Before the end of June of the same year Virginia, sixth In the serien, first in the compicteness of ber work, hy a legi.a Iative convention whthout any further consiltation of the peopie, framed anil adopted a hill of rights, a declarution of indequendence, and a constitution. On the second of July 1776, New Jersey perfected its new, self-crented charter. Delaware next prociaimed its blli of rights, and, on the Bhth of September 1776, the representa. tives in convention havlog been chosen by the fremen of the stnte for that very purpose, faished its constltutlon. The Pennsyivanla convention alopted its constlution on the 28 th of September 1380; but the opposition of the Quakers whom it indirectiy disfranchised, and of a large bexly of patriots, delayed its thorough organzation for more than five months. The delegates of Maryland, meetlug on the 14 th of August 1776, framed its constltution with grent deliberation; it was estahlished on the 9 th of the following November. On the 18th of December 1i:6, the constltution of North Carollna was ratitied In the congress whieh framed lt. On the 5th of Felruary 1777, Georgla perfected its organle law by the unanimous sgreement of its conventlon. Last of the thirteen cnme New lork, whose empowered convention, ou the ?0th of April 1isio, cestablished a constitution that, in bumane liberatity, exeelled them all. The privilege of the suffrage had been far more wldeiy extemexd in the eolonles than In England; by general consent, the extension of the efectlve franchlat was postponed. The age of twentyone was a glablttcatlou universally required. *.. too, was reshlence, except that in Virginla and south Cnrolina it was cnough to own in the district or town $n$ certain freehold or 'lot.' South Carolina required the clectors to 'ac. knowledge the lsing of a God, and to belicte in a future state of rewards and punisliments." White men aione could claim the franchise in Virginla, in sonth Cnrolina, and ln Gcorgia; hut in suuth Curollun a benign interpretation of tho law ellssed the frec octaroon as a white, even though deseended through an unhroken line of muthers from an imported African slave; the other ten states raised no questlon of color. In Iennsyivanla, in New Hampshire, and partially in North Carollna, the right to vote belonged to every resident taxpayer; Georgia extended It to ant white humbitant of any mechanic trade'; with thls exception, Georgia and ail the other cotuntes required the pussession of a freehoid, or of property varionsly valued, in Massachusetts at ubout $00, in Georgia at £10. Similar condi. tions had siways exfated, with the concurrence or hy the act of the coionists themseives. Mary. iand prescribed as its ruie thnt votes shouid be given by wond of mouth; Virginia and New Jerney made no change in their uage: In Rhode Isiand each freemun was in theory summoned to be present In the general court; be therefore gave hia proxy to his representative hy writing his own namo on the back of bia vote; all others alopted the baint, New York at the end of the war, the other elght withont dciay. "-G. Bancroft, Iliat. of the U. S. (Author's hist recivion), ©. 8, ch. 9.
Also IN: American Archices, erries 5, v. 2-8 (as indered).-See, aiso, Vimoinia: A. D). 1776 ; Notutit Cabolina: A. D. 1776 (Febmeaby APHLL): NEW YORK: A. D. 1777 ; CONNECTICUT: A. D. 1776: NEw JERBEY: A. D. 17741776; Pennaylvania: A. D. 1776; Mahyland: A. D. 1776; Gernaia: A. D. 1775-1777: New HAMPGHIRE: $1775-1776$.
A. D. 1777 (January - December). - The campalga on the Delaware. - Lord Howe in possession of Philadelphia. - Batties on the Brandwine and at Germantown.-The winter of Washlngton's army at Valley Forge."Washlngton remained at Morristown from the 7th of January until the 28th of May, during which time no fuilltary movemeti of importance took place. His men left for their homes as soon as their terms of serviec explred, and as few militia entered the camp to take thelr places, at thees it secmed as if the army would be so reduced as to be unworthy of the name. It was not untll late in the spring that the new levien reached headquarters. On the 28th of Nay the Americana marehed to Mddlebrook and took posltion behlnd the IRaritan. On the 13th of Junc IIowe marehed from Brunswick and . . endeavored to bring on a generai engugement, hut Washington refused to ienve the strong position he occupied, and Ilowe retirenl to Ainboy. Early in A pril Howe hal settled upon a campaign having for its ohject the eapture of Philadelphita. Ile determined to embark his troops and transport them to the banks of the Delaware or Chesapeake, and mareh dircetly on the city. . . On the $\mathbf{3 H}$ l of July, after IIowe's troops had been three weeks on the vessels, the fleet saifen, shapiug its course sont hwesteriy. . Signal tires were lighted along the Jersey coast as it was seen from time to time liy those who were watching for It , and messeugers carried ln Innd the news of lis progress. At last, on the $30 t h$, It was spoken off the cipes of Deiaware, but Lord Howe deemed lt too haznrdous to sall up thint river, nndi after consulting with his brother, the general, eontinued on his course southward. On the listh of August he entered Chesapeake Buy, and on the 25th the troops were landed at Eik Ferry." Meautlme, Wash. ington had been In great uncertalnty as to the destination nud intentions of his antagonist, lut had drawn his army near to Philadejphla. It had just leen joined by several distinguished forelgn officers, Lafayette, De Kalb and Puiaskj in the number. At Phlladelphia there was consternation on the approach of the enemy, hut "the pacific intiuence which the presence of a farge Quaker population exerclsel seemed to bear down all military efforts.

To impress the juke warm with the strength of his forces, and to inspire hopes in the breasts of the patriotic, on the 24th of Augus! Wanhlngton marched hle army through the streets of Phllatelphla. The men were poorly armel and clothed, and to give them somic unlformity they wore sprigs of green In thelr hate." The advance of llowe from Eik Ferry was sow, and It was not untll the IIth of Neptember that tae Americans encountered him, at Chatl's Ford, on the Ilranilywlne, where they had taken poaltion. In the batte which oceurred that day the Britlsh paln yl n clear vletory, by means of a mecessful flank movement which Cornwalls exceuted, croasing the river mome ulles above, whlle (teneral Knyphansen male felgned attennte at Cha!in Ford. "The Amerlenn loss was about I, nor, klled, wounded, and primoners; that of the IBfilsh, 579.
The day after the buttle Washlagton masreleaj from Chester to Phllalelphla. Ho rested lis army two days at Germantor in, anil then recrossed the schuylklll: pible opinlon demanil. Ing that another battle should be risked before the clty shoulit be glvon up. On the I6th the two armles met on the high ground south of Chester Valley aml propared for action. The akimalshlng hail actually legun, when a vlolent atorm stopperl the engagement Iy talnlng the ammunltion of beth armies. Washington wlthdrew to the hllls north of the valley, and, tind. ing it $\ln$ posslble to repair the damage done by the storm, retreated agaln over the Nohuylkill, leaving Wayne behind: him to watch the enemy and attack thelr rear should they uttempt to fol. fow." But Wayne was surprised at I'aoll, and Washington wis decelved by a felgned movement, so that Ilowe succeedril ln entering Phlladelphla without another battle, on the sath, having mecipleal Germantown the lay lefore. tThe maln porthon of Howe's army remained at Germantown, a vllage of a slngle street, two milkes ln length, and five from the elty." Ilere. on the morning of October 4th, Washingtonat. tacked hlm, and, for a tlme, whith great surcess; but confusion anil mlsunderstandlngs on the part of the attacklug columns arome, which turned the half-won vietory lnto $n$ defent. "The Amerl. cans lost nearly 1,100 klled, woundel, ad prls. oners; the britlsh ,y21.

Whlte the Ameri. cans were defeated In their oljocet, the mornl results of the battle were In thelr favor. It lnspired them whth confidence, and showed the wurlil that, though drlven from the tiell of Bramilywine, they were still aggressive." The next fuw weeks were ehployed by Ilowe in redacing the forts which commauded the Delaware. Fort Dllmin was taken after a severe slege, and this romprlled the abanconment of Fort Mereer, from whleh the Britlsh had been repulsed with heavy lons. Early In Decernter Ilowe noved upou Whashlngton's lines, at Whltemarsh, lutenting an attack; lat fomml them so strong that he dared not venture the attempt, and returned to I'hiladelphla. "As the searon Was mlvaneiog, aml the Americans were $\ln$ no condition to keep the field, it was diecided to go Into winter quarters at Valley Forge, on the west side of the schnylkill, where the Valley Creck emptles into the rlver. The surrounding hills were covered whth woods and presented an lnhosplable appearunce. The choice was severely critlclsel, and De Kalb described lt as n whlemess. But the poolthu was central and raslly defended. The army arrived there about the middic of Dccember, and the erectlon of huts

Jegan. They were bullt of loga, and were 14 by 15 feet emelh. The wlonlow were cotered whith olled paper, and the oppeninga luet wera the loge were closel with clay. The lints were ap. maged In stroets, glving the phece the npparance of a clty. It was the firmt of the yeur howerer, lvefore they were ocenpled, ant preFluss to that the suffering of the army lud lecome grat. Although the weather what. tenmely cold the men were obllged to work at the bullallags, when zothing to support life hat Husf mlxed whth water which they baker] luto cakes at the open frose

The hormen dled of ataria. tlon by hunireils, anil the men were obllgel io laul thelr own provislons anil llrewinht. If straw could not fe found to protect the men from the coll ground, slekness ny'rewl through their yutarters wlth fearful ruphity. "The un. fortinate mallers, wrote lafayitte la sftep years, "wero ln want of everythlng; thry bad nelther conts, hate, shitre, nor showes; thelif fert snd their lege froze tlll they bereme bhack, ar was often neeessary to amputate them.
army frequently renalneal whole days iwl ut provlsions, and the patlent endurance of bith soldiers and ofticers was a meracle which cach moment serverl to rencw.' . . . Whate the conntry aromnd Valley Forge was so linjuverlaled by the milltary operatong of the jrevions minimar as to make it Imposslble for It to supjort the army, the sufferings of the latter were chatly owling to the lnefficlency of Congress. That borly met at Lanenster after lusing l'hils. delphla, and at onec aljourned to lurk, where lts sessions were contlmied. IBut it lis an was equalled the congresses whlch had preverlen it. - The Continental Congress anil the currober, wrote Gouverneur Morris In 1778 , 'have greaily depreclasted. "-F. I. Stone, The Struggle firr the Delarare (Sirratire and Critienl Hixt. of -lm. r. B, ch. i). -The sufferlngs of the urny at Valley Forge, und the slameful negleet which it es perlencel, were lndlgatatly deserlluel by Wasbington, lua letter adilresserl to the J'resillent of Congress, Incember 23, 177\%: "sluce the month of Jaly," lee wrote, " we have ham ho assiatance from the guartermaster-getscal, al to want of asslstance from thls depurtment the comminsary grneral charges great part of his defic letay. To thls 1 mm to whi, that, notwlostmuling it is a standing order, ind often repeated, that the troops shall ulways have two thys frosislons by them, that they might be rendy at any sud. den call; yet an opporcanlty has scarety ever offered, of taking an mivantage of the inemr, that has not been elther totally obatructiad, of greatly impeded on thls accomnt. . lu. 1 this, the grent und crying evil, is not all. The soap. vlogegar, not other articles allowed hy congress We sec none of, uor lave we scen then, I belleve, sluce the battle of IBrandywine. The tirst, ludecd, we have now little occesion for; few men liaving more than one shlet, masy unly the molety of ome, and sume none at all. In addi tion to which, as a priof of the lhthe fwomtreceived from a clothler-general, and as a further proof of the Inability of an ariny, mater the cir cumstances of this, to perform the common dutics of soldiers. (besldes a number of nen cosfined to hospltals for want of shoes, and others lu farmers liouses on the same mecount.j Fer have, by a ficld-return this day made, ao kess thau two thousand elght hundred and ninety elght men now In camp unit for duty, because they we barefont and otherwise asked. By the same return It appearn, that our whole atrength in Con. tipental troopm, foeluding the eastern brigales, whleh bive jolsed us alnce the surrender of Generat Burgoyne, exclustve of the Marytand troops sent to Wilmington, amounte to moro than elght thousand two hundred in ramp fit for duty; notwlthetanding which; and that alnce the 4th iastant, our numivers tit for duty, from the hanliships and exposures they have undergone, parteularly on necount of blankets (numbers having beru obilgod, and atill are, to sit up nil hy frea, lastemd of taking comfortable
a natural nol common way), have ile4. eased near wo thoumand nien. We thid gentlemen, whout knowing whether the nrmy wus feally golag Into winter-quarters or not (for I win sure no resolutlon of mine woithl warrant the Hemonstranec), reprobatigg the measure as much as If they thought the soldiers were made of stocks or stones, and equalty insensthle of frowt and snow; and moreover, as If they concelved It ensily practleahle for an Inferior army, under the dimidrantages I have described ours to le, which are by no means exaggerated, to conllue a uperlor one. In all resmects well-appointed and provhled for a wirier's campaign, wlthin the city of Pisladetplita, and to cover from depreta. tion and wate tire Stutes of ?'ennsvivanh and Jersey. Hut what makes this macier stllt more extrin wilinary lit my eye ts, that these very gentleduen, - who were well apprized of the nakeluess of the troops from ocular demonstra. thin, who thonght their own soldlers worse clal than others, and who advised me near a month ago to postpoue the exccutlon of a phan I was shout to mopt, in consequence of a rosutve of Congress for selzing clothes, nader strong nssuraners that au auple supply would the collereded in the days agrerably to a decere of the state (not one artlete of which, by the by, ls yet eone to band), -shoukl think a Finter's campalgn, and the covering of these Stated from the Inrasion of an enemy, so easy and practlenble a busluess, I enn assure those gentlemen, that it is a unch ensier and less distressing thlag to drase remonstrancery in a comfortuhle roxim liy a gond firesible, thau to oceupy a cold, bleak lillt, and sleep under frost and snow, without elothes or blankets. llowerer, although they seem to have tittle feeling for the naked and distressed sifulers, I fed superabundantly for them, and, from my soul, 1 pity those miseries, whith it is nelther in my power to relleve or prevent. It is for these reasons, therefore, that l have dwelt upon the snbject; nod it niles not a lltile to my other ditheuthes and distress to find, thet mueli nowe is expected of me than is possible to be performed, und thut upon the ground of safety and prolicy I an obliged to conceat the true statc of the army from publle view, and thereby exmondy self todetractlon and calumny. "-George Hashington, Writings, ed. by W. C. Ford, o. 6. \% $80-302$. It was during this trylng winter, whike the arny suffered at Valles Forge, that It wis joinet by Baron Steuben, an accompllshed lrussian offleer. tralned In the school of Frederlek the Gren with a record of distingulshed service in the seren Years War. He came as a Finhuler, aod was weteomed by Washlngton, Who found In him the organizer, the dlactplina. rian, the instructor, which the rudely formed American army mo greatly needed. The services rendered by larron Ateulen during that first wluter of has etay In Anuericn worn empechally valu. able, beyond measure. If his own account of the atate of things whleh the fotrul be says: " My determination must have been very firm that I did not ahandon my dentgn when I maw the troops. Matters hat to be remedied, hint Whero tic commence was the grent difficilty, In the tirst place, I Informed mywelf retative to the: milltary administrathon. I found that the different branches were divilied into departments, There were these of the quarter-manter generul, wur comminary, provislons commismary, eome. mismary of the treansry, or payinanter of fornge, ete., ctie. lut they were ull had coples of a hand orlginnt. Thnt is to say, they lind Imitated the Eugilish atnilulatration, which is certalniy tho mant tmperfect In tiurope. The general naked me to give hint enme statements concernlug the arrangements of the departments, and thelr various hrauches in the Eirnopena armios. I gave them to hhm, and, detuling thereln the duties of each demartment aud of lta dificent bruches, difated upon the finctlons of the guarter-minsters (maréchanx généraux de logis) In partleu. lar, In whleh branch I hand merved mymelf for a fong time in the seven Sipuns War. Hut the Fingilsh system, had as it is, hat already taken ront. Each compnny and quarter-master had $\therefore$ commisslon of mon much per ecut. on all the money he expended. It was natural, therefore, that expense was not spured - that wants were discovered where there were none; aut it wins also unturat that the denrest artleles wore thoy that sulted the comminslour-s. le.st. Heure the deprechation of our eurreney - heuee the ex. pense of so many millious. I poluten out to (lenernl Wuslilngton and severnl members of Congress the adrantages of the contract system. I even trew up n memoraulum on the sulijert. whleh Colonel Lanrens transhated Into Eanglish, showlag the way In wheh things were contracted for In the I'risslan and Frernch armies. But whether it was that they thonglat such a system Impractleuble In this eountry, or whether they were unnble to chock the torrent of expenses. things remininet as thry were. 1 direeted my attention to the coudition of the troops, and I found an ample theld, where disorder und eonfusion werc supreus. . . . The number of men in a reglment was tixed by Congress, as well as In a compuny - so many lofantry, cavalry, nad artlllery. But the cterant chb and llow of men engaged for three, six, and nine months, who went and came every day, remtered it Impossthte to have ather a regimeut or a company eom. plete; aul the worls company, regiment, hrigade, and division, were go vague that they did not conves any Jleu upon which to form a enleutation, citier of a particular corps or of the nrmy iu general. They were so unequal In thelr number, that It wonld have been linpossihle to exceute any maneuvers. Somethnes a regiment was stronger than a brigade. Ihave acen areghment conslsting of thirty men, and a company of one corporit :

The soldiers were soattered nbout in every direction. The army was looked upon as a nursery for servints, and every one deemed It his right to have a vatet severat thousand soldters were employed in thls way. We had more commissaries and quarter-mnsters at that time than all the armics of Europe

UNITED 8TATES, 1777.  Barow mowlem. La Phyefle.  UNITED BTATES, $187 \%$

fogether: the mont moxlenf hail naly one servent. but others had two and even three. If the captalny and colonels could alve no account of their men, they could give otill leas an mecount of thelr arms, accouterments, elothlng, ammunltlon, camp equipage, etc. Nohody kept an ac: count but the commlesaries, who furnished all the articles. A company, which conainted, In Buy, of Afty men, was armenl, clothenl and equipperl In Jume, It then conalsted of thirty nen; In July it pecelved thirty recrults, who wero to the clothed, srimel and equipped; and not only the clothes, hut the amm were carried of hy thme who liad coupletenl thelr time of errviee. (irberal Kuox anmured me that, pre. virim to the establlimment of miz department, there never was a campaign in whleh the mill. tary nagazloes dhl not furalah from 8,000 to 8,000 nuakets to replace those which were losit In the way 1 have demeribed above. The loss of hayonets was still greater. The American moldler, never luaving navi this arm, had no fulth in It, and never used It but to roast his berefreak, and Inderd often left it at home. This is not astonishligg when it is conmliered that the nas. fority of the States engageil thelr solders for from ilx to nine months. Each man who went away took him munket with hint, and hls suc. crosor recelved another from the pulille store. No captaln kept a lmok. Accounte were never furulsherl nor reoquireal. As our ariny is, thank Gonl. Intele subject to desertlon, I venture to way that durlng an entirc campaign there have not lwen twenty muskats lost siace my system came Into force. Tho men were literally naked. anome of them In the fullest extent of the word The ofticers who lud conts lud them of every color and hake. I auw oflicers, at a grand parade at Valley Forge, nomating gunri in a sort of dressing-gown, made of an old baaket or woolen bed cover. With regard to thelr milltary discl[line, I nuay safely suy no smel thhn existed.

I commenced operations hy drufting 120 men from the line, whom I formed Into a guard for the general-In-chlef. I made this giaril tuy nilltary school. I drllled thens onyself twlee a day; and to remove that Einglish prejndice whinh some ollleers entertained, namely, that to drill a rocruit was a sergennt's daty and lenoth the station of un oflicer, I often took the misket myself to show the men the mannil exerelse whels I wished to introduce. All my inspectors were prownt at ench drll]. We narehed together, wheded, ete., etco, and In a fortnight my com. pray knew jerfectly how to bear arms, hal a inllitnry ulr, knew how to march, to form In colnum, deploy, nod exeente some litile maneuvers with exivilent precision. . . I paraded them in presence of all the oflicers of the army. and gave them in opportunity of exhluiting all they knew. They formed Iu column; deployed; ttacked with the bayouet; changed front, ete. c. It afforiled a new and agreeable slght for dhe joung ollicers and soldiers. IIrving galned ny point, 1 dicpersed my apostles, the inspectors. and my new doct rine was cagerly embraced. I lost no time in extending my operatlons on a large scale. I applied my system to hattalions, afterward to brigades, and in less than three weeks I executed maneuvers with an entire ilf. vislan In prefence of the iummmaler in chicf.

The most Interosting narrative of the energy employed hy Steuben, and the success of his syatem, Is given hy his favorite alli de exmp and Intimute Friend. Whiliam North, whon with hing from the leginniag. Ile may la lis thographlenl sketch: © Certalnly it wan brive attempe I Without umientanding a wonl of the Finglish language, to thlak of liflugling mea, born free, and folned tugether to prowerve thet freedoun. Into strice solijectha; tu ofry without a worl, a loxik, the mandates of a munter! thas manter once thelr equal, or pomallily lerneut them, In whatever mirht lrecome a man! If wa a hrive attempt, whilch mothlng but virtue, of high-rnised luges uif glory, confil have sup ported. At the fral parale, the tronpw arthet uaderstanding the command, nor low to fullow In a changement to wheh they dual mot lwoume customed, even with the Instructer at lisir hewi were getting fust into confumion. It thls mo ment, Captin 13. Waker, then of the meond New York regiment, alvanced froull his platom abd oftered his asalstauco to trandiate the orden nad Interpret to the truops, " 18 ," mall the banim, "I had meen an angel from heaven, I should not liave more refoleed.

Wilker is ename from that moment ish aid-de emmp, and romalael to the end of the baron's Ife life dear and ment worthy frienl. From the commenarmat of in. struction, no time, no paias, no fatline wero thought toogrent, in pursilt of thisgreat object. Through the whole of each eanlupalgn, when troops were to maneuver, and that was almat every day, tho haron rowe at three ordock; while his ecrvant Iressed his halr he sumbiul a shage plpe and drank one chap of cofter, wam on hors back at sunrise, and, whith or whiont his suite, galloped to the parme. There was to waiting for a turdy all-de-camp, and those who fullowed wished they lad not slept. Nor was there neei of chiding: wheth duty was neglected, or mill tary etipuette Infringed, the luron's link was quite sufticlent.

Sterben enjoyed the cono thdence of both officers and mon, uni evory thing he proponed was exceuterl with ns much fre cision as if It were an order froun the commater. In-clidef. Although be was oaly a volumetr. withont any specitte rank in tho army, he nal "ren. : mower and triflurity than any weme conla ' sant of."-F. Liapp. lije of Fredenck H'illinm ton Nicuben, ch. 6

At.so in: W. Irving, Life of Hiashington, $r$ 3, ch. 13, 18-10, a mil 23-27\%-6. W. (ireve, Lift of General Nithemat Grene. bh. シ. eh. 16-:5 ( $c, 1$ ).-J. T. Selurf and T. We.stente, Hist of 1hilalelphia, ch. 17 (c. 1),-C. J. stlli, . Vijor Cirneril Inthony llilyne. ch. 3 .
A. D. 1777 (June)- Vermont denied admisaion to the Union. See Velluont: . . II lici1734.
A. D. 1777 ( ${ }^{\prime}$ nly). -The coming of Lafay-ette.-"In Fiye.. barely niacter" years oht. was In garrison at matz, when he was lavited to a dinner that his commonder, the Count de Broglie, gave to the brother of the kiag of Eng. lami, the Iuke of Gloucester, thea uil his way through the elty. News had just lwen received of the proclanation of the Independence of the United States, and, the convernation having anturally fallen on this suhject, Lat Fayette plimd the duke with questlons to aerpuaint himself with the events, entirely new to him, which were happoning in Amerlca ibefore the vad of the dinnet he had made lits decision, and. from that moment, he no longer thought of anything eise

UNITED ETATES, 178\%. Ewnomact Expouion. LNITED STATES, $177 \%$

dal te enmp 1, win wis mys In lin What brave worll of the HKin/ mpa, Mr'rve thele W'Y Without minter! that ly ineneath an! it wa t ilfitue. of flave sup. w)ps arithet w to fullow lut lvary w. thele hesi, It llis mo tlat meroad ils platona the orden I the banta should not enne trom I'malsent to and mut illent of la. !gue wete Trut ohfect. IfII, when was almint ceck; while cil a slnele 4 in hork thls suite, no kaitins 10: futbwed there neal 4, ut mith foxth was If the cun. wry thing inuch pre manaladerFilsmiet? y, he tow y y Hefal Frelemak ugtun, r. 3 erne, Lifi ch, 16-9.) Hit, Nationt. of erept metting nut for the new world. fite went to Purim and congsied his project to bis frlends, the Couni de degur and the Vlicount de Noaliles, tho were to accompany him. The Connt do Breste, whom he alto Informed, tried to turn tra from bis denign. 'I maw your uncle ifir in tuly.' he and to him, 'and your futher at Min. den, and I do not wish to contributo to the ruin of rour family by aliowing youto gn, Neverthrless, be put la Pinyette in communication with the former agent of Chumeui In Canala, the ithron de Kall, who became inis friend. Ite Kilh prementell him to siasm Iheane, who, consld.
 frim ha proferi. Bitt the newn of the dianatern experieaced by the Americann ix.fore New York. at Whte Plains and in New Jermey, confrmei ta furette in his mmolution. He bougit and dtted ont a resmel at his own expenae, abd dis. guimui hit urumations hy making a fourney to Lomdin. Sivertheless hils deulgil was disciomed at Court. lifs family became angry with him. Ife was forbidelen to go to America, ami, to reniler this order effeetive, a int tre de eaclivet was with wh other untumi Manroy, dis. beed hlmedf as a courler, went on inmari his et Prasage In Spaln, and ent sali April the : 1777. Ile hai mulumi oflerers on boari. las sayette succreafully avoldall the Engilah crulsens and the Frearl vessely selt in pursult of hin. Finally, after a hazardons pasange of seven wereks, he mached (ieorgetown, noil, furnished with lethers of tecomunembiaton from ikane, he reported to Cougrews "-T. 13:llith, The french in America durim the biar of Judigentence, ch. 7.- In eonsideratun of the great personil sacrifice he had made fin quitelug France, und hitw ofter to wrve the Ameriem cunse at his own expense and mithoit pay, Congress, whith inesitation, conferred on the young minrquis the runk of Major Genemal, but whethont conmamed. He succertied, too, In provaring a like commisslon for baron de Kalb, wios had nceompunled him. Winile Lasfaycle was stlll binsy witin these urrangements, Washlugton came to Pinllulefipia, and they met at a dimer party. Tiry serin to bave been drawn to ona unother at the lirst enchange of throngh tivir Ilves. Lafayetue was mon inviluti to bectume a memiker of the miltary family of the commaniler In clicef.-B. Tuekerman, Lije of General hafayettr, ch. 2.
Also in: C. Tow r, Jr., The Marquis de La Favette in the Ain. IL v. 1, ch. 1
A. D. 1777 (July-October), -The atruggle tor the Hudson.-Burgojne'a expedition from Cannda. - His surrender at Saratoga. - Fariy In the: simmer of 1877 a formidable expedition under Genemi hurgoyne was set In motion from Camada towarid Lake Cizmplain. "It was a part of Burgoyne's pian, not merely to take Ticuaderogn, but to adrance thence upon Athany, sal, with the cooperation of the tromps at New York, to get possession abso of the posts in the highiands. The British would tiven commend the lludson through Its whole extent, and New England, the head of the rebeiilon, would be enmpletely cut off from the middle and southern colonies. Burgestur sfarted on thly expedition Tith a brillant army of 8,000 men, partly Brltish aad purtiy Germans, besldes a large number of Canadian boatmen, laborers and skirmishers.

On the wentern shore of lake Champlain, Dear Crown Point, he met tive Bix Nations in councli, and after a feant and a aprech, some 400 of theis warrion jolned this army. lifs sext atep wat wiflisue permiamation. threwtening with all the extremittes of war ali who shouli pro. aume to reniat hila arme. Two daye nfter the imue of tinin pruxlamation, Burgoyne appeared [July I) before Ticonderoga." Tie commamer of that important fort, General Bt. Cinir, fuund defenme Impracticable and eracuated the place. Ile was vigoromily pursued in bis retreat and only eacaped with the lues of nowet of his hag. page and moren, henklen meveral huniresi men, In kilkel, wounded, and primonefm, "After: meven days march, he joinel schuyier at fort Filwant, on tive Iludimon. Ifere was esmembiderI the wivole force of the northern army, amountIng to ahout $5,000 \mathrm{mrn}$; but a considerable part were militia liaully called in: many were Without arms; there was a great defelency of ammunation and provisions; ami the whole force was quite dinorganizell. The region beiween Skeneshorongh [now Whitehali, where [Burgoyne had lalteri] and the Ilwison whan ainmut unbroken wilderness. Wowil (reek was navigable an far as Fort Anne [which the Amert. cana had Aroil nad almmioneil: Prom Fort Anne to the Iludwon, aver an excerding'y rough country. . . . extended a single militar road. Wifle Burgoyne liatted a few days at skenesborongh to put ins foreas in order, and to bring up the necessary suppifes, sechuy ler inanterved to destroy the navigation of Woox Creek." "uri to make the roal from Fort Anne as neariy Impaswable as a Whlerness road ean the maic. "Ail the stox:k in the nelghlariomal was driven off, aml the militia of Now England was summonvi to tive rescue.

The hivance from Skenesborough cost the Britisil Infinite falor and fatigue; bint [tise] lmperilments were at kength overcome: and Burgoyne, with his tmops, artiiiery, and baggage, presently appeared [July 40] on the banks of the IItimou. . . Fort Edward wat untenable. As the Britisin appronched, the Amerieana crosed the river, and retiret, tirst to Saratoga, and then to StII water, a short distance nhove the mouth of the Molaawk. Harliy had Schuyfer taken up tinls position, when newa arfived of anotier dimater and a new danger. While moving up Lake Champlain. Burgoyne had detachand Colonel Bt. Leger, with 200 regulars, Sir Join Johnmn's Ioyal Greens, some Canadian langers, and a trxiy of Indians under Brant, to harass the New York frontler from the west. St. Leger Inld slege to Fort Schuyier, late Fort Stanwix, near the head of the Mohawk. then the extreme western post of tie State of New York. Generai Iterkiner raised the militia of Tryon county, and advanced to tile relief of tiils important post, wilch was held by Gansevoort and Wiflett, with two New York regiments. Ahout six milies from the fort [near Orisknry, August 6], owing to want of proper precralition, llerkimer felf Into an ambush. Nortal!y ". ded, he supported himself against Ey the aid of a successfui sally by Willett, they succerd dat iast in repuising the assallants, but not : unt a loss of tov, including many of the leading patriots of that region. who met whith 40 mercy at the hands of the Indlans and refugees. Tryon county, which Included the whole disitict

UNITED STATES, $17 \% 7$.

Battle of Saratoga.
UNITED STATES, 1737

West of Albany, abounded with Torles. It was nb. solutely necessary to relleve Fort Scluny ler." General Arnoid was accordingly despntched thither, with three regiments, and on his npproach st. Leger, deserted hy most of his Jedinut allies, re treated preclpitately, ienviag most if his stores and hnggage behind. Meantime, Burzoyne wus beglnning to tiad his sltuation serlous. To feed and other:xise supply lis nrmy was the chicf difliculty, Ife cruld hring eangh of itores to the hemd of Lake George, by the water carrlage which he conmandelt, from Canada; hut to transport them theure to the Hudsoa, though the distance was only elfitteen nilles, proved uearly impruetienble. "The roads were so hadi, and the supply of draft eattle so smali, that, after a fortuight's hard Iabor, the Britisl army had only four days' provislon In advance." To Improve his supplies, nod partly, moreover, In the hope of finding discontent annong the settiers 800 the Now Hampshire Grimts, Burgoyne scat 800 men, under Colouel Bamin, into Vermoat. They were defeated [Augnst 16 ] at Benalngton hy the New llampshlre nud Vermont inilitia under Coluael Join Stark, nad again defented a second time the same day, after reinforcententa had heen sent to them. "Besides the kllled, alont 200 in number, the Americans took near 600 prisoners, 1,000 stand of arms, as many sworis, and four pieces of artillery. . . . The Anmerican loss wns only 14 killed aad 42 wounded. wounded. magicai effect in reviving the spirits of the peaple and the courase of the soldiers." $-R$ Hildreth, Hist. of the $U$. S. ch. $36(v, $)-$ "Durgorue's position was hy this time very dnugerons Ilis Indians were Ieaving him, miny of his hest nen had heen killed or captured; and he was getting short of provisions. The army opposed to him was increasing: Congress was hurrying men up the Ifudson; nnd the country militia were coming in rapidly. Burgayne, therefore, desperately nttenipted to force his way thrangh the American army. Ife crossed the Indson, nud noved slowly dowa its west lank towari the Mohawk. Abont the same time, Gates, who liad been sent hy Congress to take schuyler's phace, felt strony eneogh to move up the west hank of the Iludson, nway from the Molnwk. The two nrmies nule [ Weptember 19] at Bemis Ileights, between Suratoga Lake and the Hudsoa. The hnttle which folIowed [ealled by some writers the hattle of Freemun's Farm] whas not decisive: the IBritish hefi the ground; but the Americans had shown that Burgoyne could not hreak through."- $A$. Johns-"Burgovie now inded arain, nnd strengtheaed his pesition by field-works and refioubts; und the Americans also lmproved their diefences. The two nrmies remained nearly within cannonshot of aich other for a conslderable time, during Which Burgoyne was anxiously looking for intel. fifronce of the promised expedition from New York, whilh, nccording to the original plan, ought: hy this (inte to have been approachlag Albunt from the south. At hist, a merossenger from Clinton made lits way, with great diftienlty, to Burgoyne's camp, und hrought the liformntiva that Clinton was ou his way mp the IIudsoa to attack the Americun forts which barred the passube up that river to Aibuuy. Bnrgoyae, ia reply, on the 30 th of Septemher, urged Cliatoa to attack the forts as apeedily as possible, stating that the effeet of such an attack, or even the semhlazee of It, wouid be to more the American army from Its positlon before his own troops By another messeager, who renched Clinton on the 5th of October, Burgoyne informed bis hirother gencrai that he mad lost his commeduica: tlons with Cnnadia, bnt had provisions which would iast hlm till the 20 th . Burgoy lie descrited hlmself as strongly posted, andi statell that though the Americans in front of hilut [at Still. water] were strongly posted also, he nade no doubt of being alile to forec them, and mahing hils way to Albany; but that he don butcil whibluer he could suhsist there, ns the country was drained of provisions. Ite wisheed clinton to meet him there, and to keep open a communlea. tion with New York. Burgoyne had overesti mated his resonrecs, and in the wory beginning of October found difileulty and distress pressing him hard. The Indians and Cmaulians bregan th desert him; whlfe, on the other hand, Gates's ofmy was contiaually reinforced by fresll borlieg of the milttla. . . Fladling the numbler and spirit of the cacmy to Iacrease derily, and bis own storcs of provislons to dlninishi, Burgorne deterniaed on attaeklng the Americins in front of him, and hy dislouging them from their positioa, to gain the neans of nowlog numn tioa, to gain the means of moving num Alibany or at least of relieviag his troops from the struit ened position in which they were erpped up Burgoyne's force was now reluceit to less that 6,010 mea. The right of his camp was no some high grouad a fittle to the west of the river thence his entrenchments extendeyl along the lower ground to the buak of the Iludisn, the Iine of their frout being nenrly at a right angle with the course of the streamr. Thre himes were fortitied with redoubts and fiekl-works. The numerieal force of the Americans was now greater than the British, even in regulur tropps and the numbres of the militian mold roluters which Ind joinesl Gates nnd Aruold werr greater still. Generul Lincoln, with z,MM1 New Eugland tromps, had reachel the American camp on the 29 th of September. Gates gnve linn the com. mami of the right wing, and took in person the eommand of the left wing, which was crmposed of two hrigades under Generyle P'orr and Leonari, of Colonet Morgin's rithe corps, and phrt of the fresh New England Militia. The Whole of the Amertean fines had lurin ully fertithed wader the direction of the celdehrated' Pollish General, Kosciusko, who was mow wrving as a valunteer in Gates's army. The right of the Americnu position, that is to say, the jart of it nearest to the river, was toostruig to br assiled with nny prospect of snecess: mall liurgorne therefore deternined to enderwour to force their left. For this purpose he formerl a column of 1,500 regular tronps, with two twelw pounders, two howltzers, and six six-pomilers. He headed this in person, having Generals Plitips, Riedeed, nud Fraser nuder him. The enemy s furec in mediately In front of his Ilnes was sin strous that he dared not wenkea the troops who guarded thent, by detachlag nny more to sirengilhen bis columu of attack. It was on the ith of Uctuber that Burgoyne led his eolnma forwarl; and on the preceding day, the 6th, Clinton lad successfully expruted a brilliant enterprife agatnet the two American forts which harred his progress up the Hudson. He had captured them both,

LNITED STATES, 177\%. Burgoyne's Surrender. UNITED STATES, $177 \%$.

Tith severe loss to the American forces opposed to blm; he had destroyed the fleet which the Americans had been formiag oa the Hudsoa, under the protectlon of their forts; and the upwsed river was lald open to his squadron. He had also, with admirable skill nnd industry, collected ia small vessels, sueh as comld thot within a few mlles of Albaay, provisions suff. clent to supply Burgoyne's army for six moaths. lle was uow only 156 miles distaat from Burgoyue; and a detachment of 1,700 men aetitally solvanced wlthiu 40 milas of Albany. Unfortnwon his battle 0 . :is ith, he limat on. luancing have sooa learn if the tilings of c'lturits suecess, nad Clinto worin? have herd . his. A Fictorious armies n.t the great ohe cts of the campulga might . $\quad$ a All depended on the fortune of the olunin with which Burgoyae, on the eventful 7th of Octoher, 1777, nilvanced against the Amerienn position." It falled in the attempt to break the Ameriean line. Aroold, who liad been deprived of his commund hy Gates, rushed into the fight at lts fiercest stage und assumed a lead, without ans. thorlty, which eontributed greatly to the result. General Fraser, on the British side, was wounded mortaily hy a sharp-shooter under Morgan's colamand. Burgoyne's whole foree was driven back, with heary losses in killed aad wounderl, learing six eanuan behiad them, and the Americans, pursning, carrled part of their entrenchments by storm. By this success, the latter "sequlred the menns of completely turulng the right thank of the British, and paining their rear. To provent this calamity, Burgoyue effected during the nirlat an eatlre change of position. With great skill he removed his whole army to some heights near the river, a llttle northward of the formor eamp, and he there drew uph has men, expecting to be attacked on the following day. But Gates wus resolved aot to risk the certain talamph whlch his shecess had already secured for hlan. He harassed the English with skirmishes, but attempted no regulir attack. Meanwhilehe detached hoolles of tronps on both sides of the Iludson to prevent the Britisli from recrossing that river, and to har their retreat. Whea uight fell, it beeame nhsolutely accessury for Burguyue to retire again, aad, necordingly, the tronps were marched through n stormy ind rainy night tuwards Sirsitoga, abnadoning their sick aad womded, and the greater part of thelr bagituge, to the enemy. . . . Burgoyae now took up his tust position on the heights near Saratoga; and hemuerd in by the enemy, who refused any eacounter, and bathed ln nill his attempts at find. ing in path of resape, he there lingered until famine compelled him to cupltulate. The fortitule of the British army during thls melnacholy period has been justly eulogised hy may native historiaas, but I prefer quoting the testimony of a fureign writer, as free from all posslbllity of partiblity. Botta says: "It exceeds the power of woris to descrile the pltiable eoadition to which the British army was aow reduced. The troops were worn down by $n$ series of toll, prlvation, sickness, and desperate fightlag. They were abandoned by the Indlans aad Canadiaas: ahl the effective force of the whole army was now diminished by repeated and heavy losses, which had princlpally fallea on the best solders and the most dlstingilshed oltleers, from 10,000 eombatants to less than one-half that number. Of this remnaat, little more thas 3,000 were Eagllsli. In these elrcimstanees, and thus weakeaed, they were luvested by an army of four tlmes their own number, whose position ex. tended three parts of a elrele round them; who refused to fight them, as knowing thelr weak. aess, and who, from the niture of the gronnd, conld not be nttaeked in any part. In lhis helpless eondition, ohliged to be eonstantly muder arms, whlle the enemy's cannon played on every part of their eamp, and even the American rille. halls whistled In many parts of the lines, the troops of Burgoyne retained their customary frmness, and while sloklng under a hird necessity, they showed themselves worthy of a hetter fate. They eonld not be repromelied with an actlon or $n$ word, whieh hetraved a want of temper or of fortitnde.' At length the 13th of Oetoler arrived, and as no prospect of assistanee uppeared, and the provisions were nearly ex. hausted, Burgogne, by the unanlmons adriee of a eounell of war, sent a messenger to the American camp to treat of $n$ convention. Genernd Gates In the first instance demanded that the royal army shoukd surrember prisouers of war. He also proposed that the british shonld ground their arms. Burgoyne replied, 'This article is inndmassible ia every extrenity; sooner than this army will eonsent to gronnd their arms in their encampment, they will rush on the enemy, determined to take no qumer.' After various messages, a convention far the surrender of the army was settlel, wheli provided that "The troops ander Genernl bingoyne were to march out of thelr eamp with the honours of war, and the artillery of the intrenchments, to the verge of the river, where the arms and artillory were to he left. The arms to be piled by work of eommand from their own officers. A free pas. sage was to be granted to the army muler liden-tenant-General luargoyne to Great Britain, unon condlion of not serving again in North Amariea during the present contest." The articles of capitulation were setted on the 15th of Octoner; and on that very evening $n$ messenger arrived from Cllaton with nu account of his suceesses, gud with the tiblings that part of his force had penetrated as far as Esopus, within 50 miles of Burgorne's comp. But it wis tons late. The puhlie faith was plealgmi; antl the army was, inded. ton debilitaterl hy fatigne and hunger to resist an attack if mucie; aum Gates certalnly would have made it, if the eonvention had beeu broken off. Accordingly, ou the 17th, the eonvention of Suratozi was earried into effect. By this conventlon 5,790 men surrendered themselves as prisoners. The slek and wounded left in the cann, when the British retrented to Saratoga, together with the ummbers of the British, Gernan, und Canadian trongs, who were killed, wonnded, or taken, und who hisd deserted in the preceding part of the expelition, were reekoned to be 4.680 . The Britlsh siek and wouuded who lad fallen into the hands of the Amerleans after the battle of the 7th, were treated with expmplary hamanlty; and when the convention was executed, Genernl Gates showed n noble dehicacy of feellig, which theserves the highest degree if houour. Every eircumstauce was avoided whieh could glve the appearance of triumph. The

UNITED STATES, 1777.

American troops remalned within thelr lines

 untll the British had plled their arms; und when thls was done, the vanquished officers and soldlers were recelved wlth friendly klndness by thelr vletors, and thelr linmedlate wants were promptly aud liberally supplled. Dlscusslons and disputes afterwaris arose as to some of the terms of the conventlon; and the American Congress refused for a long tlme to carry lnto effect the artlcle whleh provided for the retura of Bur goyne's men to Enrope; but no blante was Imputable to General Gates or hls army, who showed themselves to be generous as they had proved themselves to be brave."-Sir E. Creasy, Fifteen Decisice Battles of the World, ch. 13.Also in: Gen. J. Burgoyne, State of the Expedition from Canadh. - S. A. Drake, Burgoyne's Intesion. - W. L. Stone, Campaign of Burgoyne. M. von Eelking, Memoir of Gen. Ricilesel, v. 1, pp. 88-218. - B. J. Losslng, Liff and Times of Philip Schuyler, v. 2, ch. 6-21.-Col. M. Wlllett, Nar. rutice of Military Aetions, ch. 5.-C. Stark, Memoir of Gen. John Stark, pp. 46-140.-T. Dwlght, Tracels in New England and Jew Fork, v. 3, pp. 220-233.
A. D. ${ }^{1777-1778 .-T h e ~ B r i t i s h ~ i n ~ P h i l a d e l-~}$ phia. Their gay winter. See Pimladelyma: A. D. 1737-178.
A. D. 1777-1778. -The Conway Cabal, The capltulation of Burgoyne at Saratoga "was an all-important event $\ln \operatorname{lts}$ Influence on the progress of the war; but lts lmmediate effect was unpropltlous to the reputation of the Com-mander-In-chlef, who was compelled, at the close of the year, to place hals army $\ln$ a state of almost total destitntlon In winter-quarters at Valley Forge. The brilliant suceess of General Gates at Saratoga, iu contrast with the reverses which had befallen the Ameriean Army under the immediate command of Washington, enconruged the operatious of a eabal against him, whleh bud been formed by certain disaffected ollleers of the army, and was countenanced by is party in Congress, The lesign was, by a suecesslon of measures inflying a want of contidence, to drlve Washington to retire from the service in disgust: nut, when this object was effected, to give the command of the army to General Gates, who lent a willing ear to these discrerlitable intrigues. A foreign oflleer in the American Army, of the name of Conway, was the most active promoter of the project, which was discovered by the aecidental disclosure of a part of hls correspondence with Gutes. Washlngton bore limself on this oceasiou with his usual dignity, und allowed the parties concerned, ln the army and In Congress, to take refuge In explanations, diselalmers, and apologies, hy which those who male them galued no credit, and those who aecepted them were not decejved. A part of the machinery of thls wretched cahal was the publication, In London, and the republlcation lu New York of [a] eollectlon of forged letters. . bearing the mame of Washington, and intended to prove his insincerity in the eause of the levolution. Vothing perliaps inore planuly illustrates his conscious strength of ehur. aeter, than the dishainfill silenee with which the allowed this miserable fabrication to remain for twenty years without exposure. It was only $\ln$ the fear 1796, niml when about to retire from the Profidency, that lie tiled, las the department of State, a denial of its authentielty. "-E. Evcrett, Iife of Whahington, ch. 6. -In a letter written May 30, 1778, addressed to Landon Carter. from the camp at Vnlley Forge, Washlngton allumed to the subject of the cabal as follows: "With great truth I think I can assure yon, that the informatlon you recelved from a yintleman at Sublne Hall, respectlng a dlsposition In the northern officers to see me superseded in my command by General $\mathbf{G} \longrightarrow \mathrm{m}$ ls witlout the lagt foundntlon. I have very suffielent reasons to think, that no officers in the army are inore at tached to me, than those from the northrard, and of those, none more so than the gentlemen, who were under the lmumedlate command of G-_s last campalgn. Tl"it there was a scheme of thls sort on foot, last fall, ndmits of no doubt; but it originated In another quarter; with thre men who wanted to agerandize themselves; hut finding no support, on the coutrary, that their conduct nad views, when seen luto, were likely to undergo severe reprehension, they slunk hack, dlsurowed the measure, and professedl themselves my warmest adinirers. Thus stauds the matter at present. Whether any numbers of Congress were privy to this schente, and in. elined to ald and nbet It, I shatl not take upan me to say; butam well luformed, that no whisper of the kind was ever hearl in Conqress."George Washlngton, Writings, ed. by W. G. Fowd, v. $7, p .39$.

Also IN: W. Irving, Life of Waxhington, c. 3 ch. 98-30.-J. C. Inamilton, Hist. of the $C, \leqslant$ in the Urilings of Aler. IIamilton, $r, 1$, ch. 13-1tJ. Sparks, Life of Gourerneur Morrix, e. 1. ch. 10.-W. V. Wells, Life of Samul idiame, ch. 46 (r. 2).
A. D. 1777-1781.-Adoption and ratification of the Articles of Confederation.-"On the lith of June, 1\%6, the same diay on which the com inittee for preparing the decharation of indepen. flenee was uppointed, congi 'ss resolved, that's committee be appointed to prepare and digest the form of $n$ confederation to lne abtered into between these colonies': and on the next day s eommittee was accordingly appuinted, consistíng of a ummer from catch colony, Niarly a jear before this periond (vlz. on the sist of ath, 1 tios) Dr. Franklin had submitted to congress a sketch of artleles of eonfoderation, which ileses not, hom. ever, appear to have been acted on

In the 12 th of July, 1776 , the rommitte ajpinted to prepare articles of confederation presenteds draft, which was in the hame writing of Mr. Diekension, one of the comminter, aml iblelegate from P'unsylvania. The draft, s) reported, "$ debated frim the $20 d$ to the 31 st of duly; and on several days between the Sth aml ?lhth of dugust, 17 oti. On this lis' day, courress, in com mittee of the whole, reported a new draft, which was ordered to be printed for the use of the members. The subject yecms not arain to have been touched until the silf of $A$ pril, $137 \%$, anl the artleles were debated at several times betweed that time and the 1 thth of November of the same year. On this last day the articles were reported with sumiry amentinents, and tinally atopted by congress. A committee was then ippointed to draft, and they necordingly drafted. a circular letter, retuestling the states respectively to at thorize their alelegutes in congress to subocribe the same lu belalf of the state.

It asried, homever rery slowly cuavlethon th tie minds of the local legishatures, Many objectons were utated, and many amendments were proposed. All of them, however, were rejected by congress, not probably because they were all deemed lnexpedient or lmproper $\ln$ themselves; but from the danger of sending the instrument back again to all the states, for reconslderation. Aecordlogl on the 26th of June, 1778, a copy, en-gros- I for ratlicatlon, wus prepared, and the ratification begun on the 9th day of July followlng. It was ratified by all the stntes, exeept Delaware nad Maryland, In 1778; by Delaware In 1750, and by Muryland on the 1st of March, 1781, from whleh last date its final ratlfeation took effeet, and was joyfnlly announced by congress. In revlewlig the objections tuken by tho Farious atates to the adoption of the confederutlon in the form $\ln$ which it was presented to them, that whleh scemed to be of paramount lmportance, aud whleh, Indeed, protraeted the ratlfication of the confedemtion to so late a period, was the nlarinlng controversy ln respect to the bounduries of some of the atates, and the publle lands, held by the crown, withln these reputed boundaries."-J. Story, Commentaries on the Comst. of the U. S., bk. 2, ch. $2(0.1)$.

UNITED STATES, 1777-1781. of Confederation. CNITED STATES, 1777-1781.

The following is the text of the Artleles of Confederatlon:
"Article I.- The style of this Confederacy shall 10 , "The Lnlted States of America. Art. 11.- Ench State retuius lts sovereignty, frecdom, and independence, nul every power, jurlstietion, and right, which is not by this Confederation expresstr delegated to the United States iu Congress assembled. Art. III. - The suid States heroby severally enter into a firm leagne of friculship with each other, for thelr common defeuse, the seeurity of their liberties, nud their mutual and geurrul welfare, hinding themselves to assist ench other agninst all foree offered to, or attacks mude upon them, or any of them, on account of ridighon, sovercignty, irude, or any other pretense whutever. Art. IV. - The better to secure aud perpetuate mintnal friendship aad intercourse amoag the people of the different States in this Caion, the free inlubitants of each of these \&' mupers, ragabonds, and fugitives fro. $\quad$ axeppted, shull be entitled to all pri-ile the sever: ant other $\quad .$. gerss und egress to and from , had whall enjoy therein ull the ande ind commerce subject to the same duties, imposltions, and restrletions as the luhabitimes thereof respeetively; provided that such restrietions shall aot extend so fir as to present the removal of property lmported into any state to any other State of which the owner is an inbabitut ; provided also, that no Imposition, duties, or restriction shull be hid by any State on the property of the CVited States or either of them. If any person guilty of, or charged with, treason, felony, or other high mis. dementuor in miy State shall tlee from justiee and be found in any of the United States, he shall, uphnteinand of the governor or executive power of the State from whleh lie then, be delivered up and removed to the State having jurisdletion of his offense. Full faith and credlt shall be given in each of these States to the records, sets, and judicial provedings of the eourts and magistrates of every othrr State. Art. V.-For the more convenient mmangement of the gencral lnterests of the L'uited States, delegates shail be annually appolnted in such manner as the Legislature of each State ahali direct, to meet ln Congress on the first Mondny In November, In every yenr, wlth a power reserved to cach State to recail its delegates, or any of them, at any tlme withln the year, and to send others ln thelr stead for the remalnder of the yenr. No State shali be represented in Congress by less than two, nor by more than seven members: and no persoa shali be cupahle of beiag a delegate for more than threc years in any term of aix years; nor shall any person, being a delegute, be capable of holling any offiee umler the Culted States for whieh he, or another for his benefit, recrives uny salury, fees, or emolnment of any kiul. Euch State shall malntaln lts own delegates ln myy incetlig of the States and while they aet as members of the Committee of the States. In determining queations in the United States In Congress ussembled, each State ahall have one vote. Freedom of apeech and debate in Congress shall not be impeached or questloned ln any court or place ont of Congress; and the members of Congress shall be protected hitheir persons from arrests and imprisonmeut during the timo of their going to aud from, and attendance on, Congress, ex.ept for treason, feiony, or breach of the peace. Art. VI.- No State, whthont tho consent of the Cnited States, In Congress assembled, shall aend any embassy to, or receive any embassy from, or eutcr into uny confereuce, agreement, alliance, or treaty with any king, prinee, or state; nor shall aay person liothing any otllee of protit or trust inder the Enited States, or any of thein, necrept of any present, emolament, ollce, or titie of any kind whatever from nny king, prinee, or foreign state: nor shall the L'nited States, in Congress assembled, or uny of them, grant any title of nohility. No two or more States slall enter iuto uny treaty, confedcration, or alliance whitever botwera thom, without the consent of the linited States, In Congress assembled, specifying aneurately the purposes for which the same is to be entered into, nind how long it shall continute. No state ahmill lay any lmposts or duties which maty interfere with any stipulations in treaties enteral into by the United States, in fongress assembled. with any king, prince, or state, in pursuance of any treaties alrendy propused by Congress to the eonrts of France and spaiu. So vessel of war shall be kept np in tine of peace by any State. except such mumber only as shall be duemed neecssary by the Enited states, in Cougross ussembled, for the defense of such State or its trade, wor shall any borly of forces be kept up hy any State in time of peice, except such number only us, in the judirnent of the United Stutes, in Congress insembled. shall be deemed requislte to garrison the forts necessary for the defense of anch State; but every State shall always keep up a well rigulated and diseipliued militia, suffielenily armed and aceontred, and shall provide and ponstantly have ready for use in publie stores a dite number of fic!l-pieces and tents, aad a proper quautity of arms, ammuniton, anci cump cquipage. No State shill engage in uny war without the consent of the United States, in Congress assembled, unless such Whate be netually invoded by enemies, or shull have received cortain advice of as resulution being formed by some mution of Indlans to Invade such State, and the dauger is so Immineat as not to admit of a delay till the Uniter States, In Congress ussembleth, can be consulted; nor shall any state grant com missions to any ships or vessels of wnr, ulor letters of marque or reprisal. except it le after a de claration of wnr ly the United States, In Congress nasembled, and then only ugainst the kingdom or state, ard the smbjects thereof, ngalnst which War hias bectu so dechared, and mader such regulations us shatl the established by the Crited States !a Congress asserabled, unless such Stuto the infested by pirates, in which case vessels of warmay be fitted out for that oceaslon, and kept so long ns the diager shill continue, or matil the Unlted states, in C'ongress ussimbled, shanll de. termine otherwhe. Art. VII, - Wheer ${ }^{1}$ ind forces are ralsed by any State for the emare: : defenses. all otlicers of or uader the rank of Colond slanil be uppointed by the Lagislature of carli State respectively hy whom such foreces shall be raised. or in such manner ns such state shall direct, nud all vacancies shall be thled up) by the state whelh first made the appoilatinent. Art. VIII, - III charges of war, nud all othet expenses that shatl be incurred for the common defense. or geberat welfare, and allowed by the Cuited st:tes, in Congress nssembled, shali the defrayed out of a common treasury, which shall be sapplied by the severial States in proportion to the value of all land within cach state, granted to, or surveyed for, uny person, as sath land and the buildinga and laprovements thereon shath lee estimated, according to such mokle ns the Cuited States, in Congress assembled. siall, from time to time, elirect amb appoint. Tho taxes for pmyong that proportion shall be laid nud levied by the anthority:mad direction of the Legishatares of the several States, within the time nureed nimon by the United States, in Congress assemble let. Art. IX. - The Cuited States. in Congress nssem blet, shall have the sote and exclasive right and wiver of determining on peace and war, except in the cases mentioned in the sixth alticle; of seading nad receiving ambnssadors; entering into treaties and alliances, provided that an treaty of commerce shall be malle, wherehy the legislative power of the respective Statexs shall be restriuned from imposing such imposts und daties on forelgners as their own people are subjected to, or from prohilhiting the exportation or impurtation of any spedes of gooks or comnumbities whatever; of estahliwhing ralts for deciding, ia all casers, what elphtees on land and water shall be legal, ar. in what manaer prizes tuken ly mad or ataval forces in the service of the Cuited States slanl be divided or appropriated: of granting letters of maryue and reprisal in thes of preace: appoiating courts for the trial of piracies and felonies committed on the high scas; und establ. lishing conrts for receiving and determining finally appeals in all cases of captures; provited that nu) metaber of (ongress shatl be appointed a judge of alay of the silid courts. The United States, in Congress assemblew, bhall also be the last resort on appenal in all disputes nnd differences now suhsisting, or thit hereafter may* arise between two or more States couceraing honadary, jariswietion, or any other cause whatever: which adthority shall always be excrelsed la the natnner following: Whenever the leglslatlve or excentive inthority, or lawful agent of any State in controversy with another, shall preseat a petition to Congress, slating the matter in question, and praying for a heariug, notice thereof shall he glven by oriler of Cougress to the legislative or exceutive nuthority of the other state in controversy, and a dis asolygm for the appearance of the partles ly their lainf agents, who shall then be dlrected to apymint by joint consent, commiswioners or jules ? constlate a court for hararing anal deturnaing the manter la question; lut If they cammenamer Congress shall mane three persons ont of eath of the Uniked States, nod from the list of such persons each pirty slaill nhernathely strike (and wae, the pethtoners begiminy, mitil the number shath be reduced th thirteen; mul fruat that number mot less than seven nor mare than wine bames, as Congreas shatl direct, whall, la the presence of Congress, be drawnout ly hetand the presons whose names shall be so drawta, or any to hear and timaly determine the eontriveres, so always as a naijor part of the juther what shall hear the cause shall ugree in the deternination: mad if cither party shill neglect to tutemat the day appointel, $w^{i+1}$ wit sbowing retions which Congress shali ju stllicient, or huing presert. slanil refase to stike, the Compress math pros. ceed to nominate three personss ont of tadi State, nad the secretary of Conuress shath srike In belaif of such party alisent or refusing; ard the juigment und sentence of the court, to be appolnted in the manner before preseribut, shall the timal nad conclusive; nod if any ul the tartios shall refuse to submit to the antlority of suct conirt, or to appeir or defend their claim or cause, the conrt sball nevertheless jrameet it pronomace sentence or judgment, which that ia like manner he timat and decisive; 1he jultmed or senteure nnd other jroceedings beine iuribier case transmitted to Congress, and lonlged amma the acts of Congress for the security of the pirtles concerned; provided, that ewry sioner, before be sits in jalgment, Naill take an Oith, to be administered hy come of tha juatre of the sapreme or superior conart of the shite where the canse sball be tried, 'well and truly to brat and determine the matter in quesidan, acemotioz to the best of his judgiont, withon fiwne atic. tion, or hope of reward.' I'rovided, aso, that no state shall be deprived of territury fur be benefit of the Cuited sitites. All conitoversics concerning the private right of soil chamed en der different grants of twour anore stites, wer jurishlictions, as they may respect sadhemb, ald the states which passeil such promts are af justed, the sald graats or cithor of thom lxith at the sume tme chamed to have riciatel ab on the pertition of cither party to the ('mures id the Cuitet States, be thatl-* determinell, us near 's may he, in the sume manare as is lufure preSorihed for deciding disputes repreting tertitorial jurisdiction between differom states. The United states, In Congress nssemblum, shall aln lave the sole and exclasive right iat power of regulating the alloy and value of coin atruck by their own muthority, or by that of the reyputive Stat' $\mathrm{x}_{\mathrm{i}}$ fixing the standard of weighte ame meas ures throngheut the Cnited states; menalang the trade and monaging all nifairs with the lo diaas, not members of any of the shates: prot viled that the legislative right of any state, whthin lis own lhalts, le not infringul or sulited; establishing and regulatiag mentotices

UNITED STATES, 1777-1781.

United States, and exacting such postage on the papers passing through the same as may be requiste to defray the expenses of the said office; appolntling all officers of the land forces In the service of the L'nlted States, excepting regimenal ohlicers; nppolnthg ail the ofticers of the maval forces, aud commissionlng all otheers whatever In the servlce of the Culted States; making rules for the government aud regulation of the sald land and naval forces, and directing their operations. The Unlted States, In Congress assembled, shal have anthority to appolut a committee, to sl In the recess of Congress, to be denominated 'A Commlttee of the States,' and to consist of one delegate from ceach state, and to appoint such other committees and clvil officets as may be necessary for managlug the general alfains of the United States under thelr dlrection; to appoint one of tbelr number to preside: provlded that no person be allowed to serve in the ollice of presldent more than one year in any term of three years; to ascertaln the neressary sums of money to be ralsed for the survice of the Unfued States, and to appropriate and apply the sume for defraylng tbe public expruses; to bormow moncy or emlt blls oll the rreelit of the Unlted States, transmitting evry lalf year to the respectlve States an account of the sums of money so borrowed or emitted: to build and equip a navy; to agree uphn the number of land forces, and to make requivitions from cach state for lts quota, In propartion to the number of whlte luliablants in érch state, whlen requisition shall be blading: and therenpou the Legislature of each State shith appoint the regimental officers, raise the men, and clothe, arm, and equip them In a suldier like manner, at the expense of the Cnlted States: aml the olficers and men so clothed, armell. and equipped shall mareh to the place alpouted, and within the time agreed on by the [nited states, In Congress assembled; but if the tnited states, in Congress assembled, shall, on consideration of ctrcumstances, judge proper that aay State shonld not raise men, or shonk raise a smaller number than tis quota, and that any other state should rase a greaternumb $f$ inen than the quota theroof, such extrs number shall le raised, othicered, clothed, armed, aurl equipped fa the same manner as the quota of such State, unless the Larcislature of such State shall judge that such extral umber can not be safely spared out of the sume, in which case they shall ruise, dficer. clothe, arm, and equip as many of sucli extri mumine as they jodge can be safely spared, and the ofterets and men so clothed, armed, and equipjod shall march to the place appoluted. aul with:n the time agreed on by the Unlted States, in congress nissembled. The Lnited states. in Cingress assembled, shall never ensage in a war, nor grant letters of marque and reprisal in time of pcace, nor enter into any reatios or alliances, nor coin money, nor regnlate the value thereof, nor ascertnln the sums and expenm"a necessary for the tefonse and welfare of the linited stutes, or any of them, wor emlt fills, nor borrow noncy on the credit of the [nited stutes nor appropriate money, nor ugree ngen the number of vessels of war to be built ir purchased, or the numlicr of land or sea forces to her rilsed, nor appoint ai evommander-ln chled of the army or navy uuless nlne States assent to the sime, nor shall a question on any other polnt, except for adjourning froin day to day, be determined, unless by tbe votes of a majority of the Linited States, In Congress assembled. The Congress of the United States sball bave power to adjourn to any time withln the year, and to any place withln the Linlted States, so that no period of adjournment be for a longer duration than the space of slx months, and shall publish the journal of thelr proceedlings monthly, except such parts thereof relatling to treatles, alllances, or milltary operations as in thelr judgment require secresy; and the yeas and inys of the delegates of each State, on any questlon, shall be entered on the journal wben lt is deslred by any delejate; and the delegates of a State, or any of them, at bls or thelr request, shall be furnlshed 5 "th a transcript of the sald journal ezcept such parts ns are above excepted, to lay before the Leglslatures of the several States. Art. X.-Tbe Commlttee o: the States, or any nlne of them, slall be authorized to execute, In the recess of Cougress, sucli of the powers of Congress as the Lnlted States, In Congress assemiled, by the consent of nine States, sball, from time to time, think expedient to vest them with; provilled that ro powr be delegated to the sald Commlttee, for the exerclse of whicb, by tbe Artlcles of Confederutlon, the volce of nine States in the Congress of the Unlted States as. sembled is requisite. Art. XI.-Canada, accedlng to thls Confederation, and jolning ln the measures of the United States, shall be admltted Into, and entitled to all the advantages of tbis Unlon; but no other colony sball be adriltted into the same, unless such ndmission be agreed to by nine States. Art. XII.-All hills of credlt emitted, moneys borrowed, and dehts contracted by or under the authority of Congress, before the assembling of the Linitel States, la pursinance of the present Conferlemtion, shall be diecned nnd considered as a charge against the Culted States, for payment and satisfaction Whereof the said Cnlted Sistes and the publlc falth are here: y solemnly pleaged. Art. XIII. --Every State shall abide by the determina. tions of the Lnited States, in Congress assembled, on all questions wibleh by this Confederution are submitted to them. And the Artl. cles of tais Confederitiou shall be invlolably observed by every Stace, and the Enlon shall be perpetual; nor shall uny alteration at any thme hereafter be made in any of them, unless such alteratlon be agreed to ln a Congress of the Unlted States, and be afterwards confirmed by the Legislatures of every State. AND whereas It hath pleasel the great Governor of the world to Incline the hearts of the Leglslatures we respectively represent in Congless to approve of, and to authorize us to ratify, the sald Articles of Confederation and perpetual Unlon, know ye, that we, the underslgned delegates, by virthe of the power and authority to us given for that purpose , lo, by these presents, In the name and in behalf of our respective constituents, fully and entirely ratlfy and confirm each and every of the said Articles of Confederatlon and perpetual Union, and all and singular the matters mul things thereln contalned. And we do further solemnly plight and engage the faith of our respective constluents, that they sball ablde by the determinations of the Unlted States, In Congress assembled, on all questlons wblch by the sald Confederation are submitted to them; and tbat the $A$ rticles thereof shail be Invlolably observed by the states we respectlvely repre. eut, and that tbe Unlon sball be perpetual. In wltnese wbereof we have hereunto set our hands in Congress. Done at Phladelpbla In the State of Pennsylvanla the nintb day of July la the ycar of our larl one thousand seven hundred and sevcuty elgbt, and lo the thlrd year of the Indemembunce of Amerira."
"Under these Artleles of Coufederatlon the treaty of peace wlth England was concluded and the Americun attlon was governed untll tire finul adoption of the Constlution of the Unlted States. The maln defect of the Articles of Confederation was, that altiougis powers sufleiently adequate to creste a government were ccdel, there was no power to mulse reve. nuc, to levy tuxes, or to enforce the iaw, except with the consent of alne States; and although the government had power to contruct debts, there were no manas by whicis to dlscbarge them. The government liml power to raise armles and navies, but no means where. wilth to pay them, uniess the means were voted by the States themseives. they could make treatles with forelgn powers, but hadi uo menns to coerce a State to obey such treaty. In short, It was a government which hal the power to make inws, but uo power to punish Infractlons thereof. Washington hlinself said: "The Confederation appean to me to be little nore than the shadow wltbout the substance, and Congress a nugatory body.' Chief Justice Story, In summing up tbe leading defects of the Articies of Confederatlon, says: "There was an utter want of all coerclve nutbority to carry into effect lts own constitutlonai uncasures; this of Itself was sufticlent to destroy its whole efficiency as a sujerintendent goveroment, if that may be cailed a government wbich possessed no one solid attribute of power. In truti, Congress possessed only the power of recomnicadation. Congress bad no power to exnct obedlace or punlsh disobedience of lts ordinances; they could neitiser 1 m pose fines nor direet limprisonments, nor divest frivlleges, unr declare forfeitures, nor suspend refractory officers. There was un power to exerclse force.' "-S. Sterne, Conatitutional Mist. of the $r$. S., ch. 1.-"'The Indivllual states had attributed to themselves, In the Artlcles of Confederation, no powers which could place them In reiation to forelgn natlous In the light of sov. ereign states. They felt that all such cialms would be consldered ridiculous, because back of these claims there was no real corresponding power. Congress therefore remained, as heretofore, the sole outward representatlve of sovereignty, But the power to excreise tie preroga. tives was taken from it, and this without placing It In any ciner hands. The changes effected by the Artleles of Confederation were rather of a negative tban of a jositire naturc. They did not give the State whicin was just comlng into belng a defnite form, but they began the work of Its dissolution.

The practical result Was ${ }^{1}+: 5$ the tinited States tended more and more to split $u_{j}$ ) Into thlitecn independent republics, and . virtunly ecased to be a member of the family of nations bound togetiner by the 'jus gentium '"-11. von Hoist, Const. and Pol. Ifiat. of the U. S. . ©. 1, ch. 1 .

Also in: G. Bancroft, /Iiat of the Formation of the Const., v. 1, ch. 1.-D. IR. Goodloe, The Birth of the Ropublic, pp. $853-360 .-11$. W. Pree ton, Doc's illuatrative of Am. Hist., Im, 218-231 -On the operatinn and fallure of the Articies of Confederation, see below, A. I). 1 isib-1isi, On the questlon of the westeru territurint claims of several of the States, and the obstucle which It brought ln tbe way of the ratification of the Artjcles of Confederatinn, see beiow, 1;51-1746 A. D. $177^{8}$ (February). - The Treaty with France. ler wing acconnt of Burgoyne's surten. (er, willch was brought to France by a swift. salling sblp from Bosto. , tirew Turgot and all Paris into transports of oy. None cioultedi the ablilty of the states to maintain tbelr halepen. dence. On the $12 t h$ of Deceniber their commis. sloners had an lntervlew wilti Vorgonnea

'Nothlng.' sald lie, 'has struck nee so much as General Whshington's attacklng ant giving battle to General Howe's aruy. To tring troops ralsed witiln tbe year to this, promises everythlog. The court of France, lin the treaty which is to be cntered Into, inteni to take no alvantage of sour present situition. Once male, It should be durable, rud thircfore it shonid contaln no conditlon of which the Anet. leans miny afterward repent, but such only us will last as long as human Instithauns shall en. dure, so that nutual anity may subsist forterer. Entering Into a treaty whll be an avownl of your Independence. Spain must be cousulted, and Spain will not be satlsfied witb an undetermined boundary on the west. Some of the stute: are supposed to run to the South Sea, which might Interfere with her claim to Caiifornia.' It was answered that the last treaty of pace adopted the Mlsslsalppl as a boundary. 'Ami what share do you Intend to glve us in the fisherit's.' nsked Vergennes; for ln the origland druft of a treaty the United States had proposed to take to them. selves Cape Breton and the whoie of the island of Newfoundland. Explanations wire made by tbe American commissioners that thetr later instructlons removed all chances of disagreement on that subject.

The questioo of a French aliiance was discussed by Vergennes with the Marquls d'Ossun, the late French ambassador in Madrid, as the best adviser with regan to Spain, and the plan of actlon was formed. Then these two met the king at tic rartment of Maurepas, where the plau, after debate, was finally settled. Maurepas, at heart opposed to the war, loved ease and popularity too well to escape the sway of externai opinion: and Louis XVI. sacrificed his own lucliuation and his own feeling of justice to policy of state and the opinion of bls advisers. So, on the fith of February, a treaty of amlty and commerce and an cventual defenslve truaty of ailiance were con ciuded betweer the king of Frunce snd the Unlted States, on priuciples of equality and reciprocity, and for the most part in irnformity to the propósals of congress. In eommerce each party was to be placed on the forting of the most favored natlon. The kling of France promised his good offles wlth the jriures and powers of Barbary. As to the tisheries, each party reserved to itself the exclusive possession of lis own. Accepting the Frenels interprets. tion of the treatles of Etrecht and of i'aris, the United States acknowiedged the right of French subjects to tish on the banks of Nowfommilaid. and tbelr exclusive rigbt to haif the const c: that lsland for drying places. On the question of ownership In the event of the conque te of New. foundiand the trenty was silent. The American proposai, that free silps glve freedom to goods and to persons, except to soidiers In aetual serrice of an enemy, was adopted. Careful lists werte made out of contraband onercinndises. The ahsolute and unlimited indepenience of the Lnited States whs deseribed as the essentlal end of the defensive alilance; and the two partles mutualy engaged not to lay down their arms until it should be nssured by the treaties termi. nathg the war. Moreover, the United Stntes guamateed to France the posse'ssions then ineid br France in America, as well ns those which it might acquire by a future treaty of peace; and, ia like manner, the king of France guaranteed to the C'nitedi stmes tib present possessions and accuidtions during the "ar from the dominions of Geat l3ritain in Nort.. America. A separate and secret act reserved to the king of spmin the power of acceding to the trentles. Wlthin fortyfwo hours of the $\rho^{\prime}$ znature of these treaties of conmerce and alliance the 13ritish ministry received the news by special messenger from their spy in Paris, hat It wats not diculged." It was otticiaily communieated to the British government on the 13til of Marci, when ambassadors were withirawn on both sides und war som fois. lowed.-G. Bancroft, Mist. of the U. S. (Iluthor's hret rer.), r. 5. ch. 1\%.

Buttle of Nommonth
Anwin: Treatien and Contentione of the $\mathcal{L}: S$. (ed. of 1859), p. 296.-T. Balch, The French in Am. iduring the lifir of Independence, ch. 8.see, also, blmve, A. 1). 17:6-1788.
A. D. 3778 (June), - Peace-proposals from England.-British evacuation of Philadelphla and march to New York- Battle of Monmouth. - "Ou May 11th, Sir Illenry C'ilinton reliered sir Whlinin llowe at Philindelphia, nod the intter took his dicparture in $n$ blaze of mock glory. . . . The new commander was more active than the predecessor, but no eleverer, and no better titteti to eope with Washington. . . . Ex. pecting a movement by the enemy, Wasing Eton sellt iafayctte forward to watch Pliiadelphin. Clintun, fresh ln office, determined to cut hlm off, and by a rapld movement nearly succeeded in so doing. Timely informatlon, presence of mind, and quickness, alone enabled the young Frenchana to escape, narrowiy bat completciy. Seantime, a cause for delay, that curse of the British throngtont the war, superveued. A perce commission, consisting of the Earl of Car. lisle. William Eden, and Governor Joinstone, arrived. They were exceilent men, but they fanle two late. Thelr propositions tiree yenrs hefore woald have been welt enough, but as it was ther were worse than nothing. Coolly received, they held a fruitless intervicw with a committee of Congress, tried to bribe and Intrigue, founi that their own army had been airendy ordered to esacuate ilhilulejphia fiu appretemsion of the nrrival of the c:xpecteni French theet] whtiont their houwhider, and tinally gave up thelr task in angry deveir, and returned to England to join in the clurus of fault. finding whlch was beginning to sound very loud in ministerial eelrs. Manwhile. Washington waited nod watchel finzted by the delay, and hoping only to hariss ir llenry with militia on the march to New Hurk but, as the days sibped by, the Ameri. ciths grew stronger, while sir llenry weakened Limself by sending 5,000 men to the West Indles, and 3,000 to Florida. When be finally started [evacuatlng Phliadeiphia June 17], he had with hand leas than 10,000 men, while the Americans had 13.000 , nearly ail continental troops. Under these clrcumstances, Wasinington determined to bring on a inattle. He was thwarted at the outset by his officers, as was wont to be the case. Lee had returned more whlmsicai than ever, and at the moment whe strongiy ulverse to an attack.

Washlngton was harassed of course by all thls, but he diid not stay his purpose, and as soon as he knew that Clinton actuaily had marchell, he broke cnmp ut Viliey Forge nul started in pursult. There were more counclls of nn oild-womanish character, but tinally Washing. ton took the matter lnto his own hands, nnd orlered furth a strung detachment to attuck tine British rear-guarl. They set out on the 25 h. and as Lee, to whom the command belongevi, ilid not care to go, Lafayctte [see alove: A. D. $1: 178$ (JCLi)] was put in charge. As soonns Lafayette had dicparted, however, Lee changed his mini, and insisted that ali the detacinnents in front, unnmintigg to 6,000 men, formerl a divislon so inge that it was unjust not to give him the com. mand. Wasilngton, therefore, seut him forward next day witis two additional hrigades, and then Lee by seniority took commandion tiee 2ith of the entire advance. In the evening of timat day, Washington came up, reconnoitred the enemy, nod saw that, althougis their position was a strong one, another day's unmolested march wouid make it still stronger. IIc therefore resoived to attack the next morning, and gave lee then and there explielt oriers to that effect. In the eariy dawn he despatched similar orders, hint Lee appareutiy didi nothiug except more feebiy forwari, saying to Lafiyette, 'You don't know the British soldiers; we cannot stand aralnst them.' lle made $n$ weak attempt to cut off a covering party, marched and countermarcied, ordered nud conntermanded, untii Lafayette and Wayne, eager to tight, knew uot What to do, and sent hot messuges to Washington to come to them. Thus lesiating and confused, Lee permitted Clinton to get his baggage and train to the front, and to mass ail his best troops in the rear under Cornwallis, who then advanced ngainst the American lines. Now there were no orders at all, and the tronps did not know wiat to do, or where to go. They stood stlil, then begnn to fali buck, and then to retreat. A very little more and there would have been a rout. As it wis, Wasitington alone prevented disaster.

As the ill tidings grew thicker, Washington spurred siarper and rode faster tirrough the deep snnd and under the biazing midsummer sun. At last he met Lee and the main body ali in full retreat. He rode stralgit at Lee, savage with anger, not pleasant tolook at, one may guess, and asked fierceiy and with a deep oath, tradition says, what it all meant. $\qquad$ Lee gath. ered himseif and tried to excuse and paliate what had happened, but although the brief words that foilowed are variously reported to us across the century, we know that Washington rebuked him in such a way, and with such passion, that all was over between them. Lee went to the renr, thence to a court-martial, thence to dismissal and to a solitary life. Ilaving put Lee aside, Washington rallied the broken troops, brought them into position, turned them hack, and held the enemy in check. It was not an easy feat, but it was done, and wben Lece's division agaln feil hack in goon order the maln army wa in position, and the action became general. The Brithsh were repulsed, and then Washington, taking the oftenalve, dirove tbem back until be oceupierl the battietlelal of the morning. Night came upon hlm wtlli adivancing. Ife halted hisarmy, lay down under a tree, his colllers lying on their arms abont hime, and phannel a fresh nttuels, to be mude at daylight. But when the dawn came It was seen that the Britlah had crept ofl, and were far on thelr road. The heat prevented a raphl pursult, and Clluton got Into New York. Between there and Philh. delphia he hul lost 2,000 n:eu, Wushington sald. and nodern suthoritles put it at about 1,500 , of whonn nesrly 500 fell at Monnouth. . . Monmonth has never been one of the famous batties of the Revohitlon, and yet there is no other whleh ean compare with it as an Illustration of Washingun's ahllity as a soldler. ... Its im. portance iites in the evilence which it glves of the way $\ln$ whleh Wasilngton, after a series of defeats, during a whter of terribie suffering and privation, had yet developed his ragged volun. teers hito a well-llsclplined and effeetive army. The louttie was a vletory, but the existence and the qually of the army that won It were a far greater triumph. The dreary winter at Valiey Forge hal Iudecd horne frist."-II. C. Lodge, George Wiushington, c. 1, ch. 7.

Also in: II. IB. Carrington, Battles of the Am. Rev. ch. $5 \mathbf{1}-50$. -Mrs. M. Campbell, Life of Uen. W. Ifull, ch. 14. - The Iee Bupery, d. 2-3 (N. Y. Mist. जe. Coll., 1872-1x73).

A, D. 1778 (June-November).-The war on the border, - Activity of Tories and Indisns.Tbe Massacre at Cherry Valley.-" The Slx Nations were stlredi to bostllty by Shr John Johnson aul the Mohawk chief Joseph Brant, with Walter Butler, of lufamois nane. Thelr tory partlsans were more cruel than the red nen. At Cobleskill, Schohurle eonnty, June 1, 17\%8, Brunt won a savuge triumph whth a mined force, and hurned and plundered the settlensent. Springtleld was also destroyed, and the assail. ants retlred. A month later the Indinns were agsin at CobieskIll, sni, burning where they weut, beat off inforee that attempted to eheck them. The valley of the selhohariekill was ia the succeeding year sulijected to invasion from the sicnecas, and sufferel severely. A ut Fort Sianwix the tories aud red men wore eontinually hovering. and more than onee persons were ponnced apon nud scalped in slegt of the works. In lizs, in the carly autninn. German Fiats was visited hy Brant aud his followers, and was entlrely ilestroyed, nhthough all the Inhahitants but two were wurned in season to eseape whth their lives. An expedition ivas sent after the Iodians, hut failed tobring the wa.riors to battle, and was rewarded only by laylig waste the Iudian villages of Luallila and Oquaga, and capturing a large supply of eatile and provlsions, At Cherry Valley a fort had Ineco buitt, and the village was occupled hy a band of eolonial troops under Colonel Ichaborl Alien. Ite rested in seeurity, und the settlers were scattered in their habltations resparlloes of warninge of :appraseh. ing foes. Under cover of a severe storm of snow and rain, November 11. Brant and Butler, with 800 Intiaas and torios, swooped upon the homes, and 43 persons, including women and ehildren, were butchered, 40 taken prisoners, ail the build ings were burned, and the domestle andmal selized. So lirutal was the masaacre that Bran eharged Butier and the tories with actlag agalast lis protests. Brant himseif was content, July 19, 1770, with destroying the church, milk houses, and harnsat Minnisink, Orangec county without sacrifielng Ilves, but turned upon: party sent in pursult, and, after capturing a de tachment, butchered the wo niled. and slew ts wbo tried to eacape. Sueh deeds prolucel. terror in the coiony. No oteknew where the rell men and tories woulhi strike next. To check and eounternet them, exeurslons wire made against the tribes in thelr homes. One of thes was led hy Colonels Van Schsi. f ni W'illett from Fort Stanwlx in April, 1790 . Preveedlag hy Hood Creek and Onelda Lake, they penctrated the vlliages of the Onondagns, which they destroyed, and seizell tbe provislons anil evet, the weapons of the red men, who fled lnto the wihlerness."-E. II. Roberts, Nicir Jork, sh, it (c.2). - The following aceount of the rtack on Cberry Valiey is from a pen frlendly to Butley and from sources fuvorable to the Tory side: " After an exhausting mareh next day through a bllading snow storm and over grouad covered with deep wet snow and mud, Buther halted th neen at dark in a plne wood which sffurded them some sheiter, six miles from Cherry Valley. ile assembied the ehiefs and proposed that as sion as the moon rose, they should rewnme their mareh and surround the house ocenpled by the oflieers, while he made a rush upon the for with the rangers. They readlly assented, but lefore the time appolnted arrived it begsn to rain violently, and they obsthately refused to move nutll daybreak. It was then arrangenl that Capt. MeDonnei witb 50 pieked rangers and some ln. dians shonld storm the bouse, while Mutler with the remainder assalled the fort. Wihhout lenta, hlankets or tires, they spent a sierpless ulght cowering beneath the plnes, and wire giad to move as soon as day appeared. They had ap. proaehed unpercelved within a nile of the for by passing through a dense swsmp, when the Indians in front fred at two men cutting wood One fell dead; the other, though blecting, ran for hls life sind the entlre buxly if Indians set up a whoop suil followed at full specel. Cnhapplly the rangers had just been haluel to fix tints and lond their ritles, and the Indians obtained a long start. The Contlnental officers uttempted to escape to the fort but only two or threr rached It. The colonel, ive other ofticers aml twenty soldiers, were kllfed on the way anll the lieuten-ant-colonel, three subulterus, and ten privates were taken. The coiors of the regiment were ubandoned In the house and burnt in it. The garrison of the fort wus fully aluriowl, and opeoed a flerce tire of artillery and small nrms. The rangers seized and hurnt a detne hed block Louse, and fired briskly at the loop-holns in the palis. udes for ten ninutes, when Butlor saw with horror and conaternation that the Inlinns bad set thelr otlleers at defisnee, and dispersed in every direction to kill and plunder. Their wretched misconduet forced bim to collect all the rangers inin a conpact buly ou us cmincnce near the princlpal entrance to the fort, to oppose a sally by the garrison, whlelh then mrdonhtedly outnumbered them eonslderably. There be was obllged to remaln Inactlve ail day under a ceaso- that Brant ing agalnat tent, July (b), mille (C) counts upon: ring a de. ad slew 45 rowlucels Where the To chect rre mumbe ' of the illett from celling by penetrater they at. 1 evel: the lato the $r h$. ch. 2 httack to Butle? fory aide: y through id covered loalted bla rled them tley. Ho it as $310 n$ 1 me their ed by the fort with ult lufore rain rio. to move hat Capt. some in. oter with out tenta, 'ss night chad to $y$ liad ap. ithe fort when the ug wood. ding, nan us set up mhappily thints and ed a long opted to rached I twenty c lieuten privates at were al we dopened ns. The k bouse, he palis. IN with s bad set in every rretched rangers ntar the e as sally lis outceas a cease kes, chllligg raln, while hiazing housea and shrieks of agony told their pitiful tale In the mettlement below, At nightiall he marched a mile down the ralley and eacamped. Ile then atmigeled wlth indifferent success to reacue the prisoners. Those surrendered were placed next the camp fires and proteeted by his whole force. Niext morning most of the Indians and the feeblest men among the rangers were sent away with a huge drove of captured cattie for the supply of the garrison at Nlagara, and MeDonnel and Brant, with 60 mangers and 00 Indians, swept the valley from end to end, ruthlessly burning every building and atack In sight, whlle Butler, with the remalnder, again stood guarl at 'lie gate of the fort. He looped that this appidiling spectacle would provoke the garrison to adly out and fight, lut tho lesson of Wyoming had not lwen lost on them, and they continued to look on from the wails in sllent fury. Another grent bery of cattle was collected, and Butler felsur 'y bepenn ila retreat, having had oniy two rangers and three Indians wounded during the expedtions. Ite ifd not illsguise the dark side of the stery in his letter to Col. Bolton of the lith Noveinber. 'I have much to lament,' he sald, 'thot notwithstanding my utmost precau. tlons to wive tho women and ehlidren, could not prevent somo of thein falling vietlms to the fury of the savages. They have carried of many of the inhahitants and kllied more, among them ('olin Cloyid, a very violent rebel. I eould not prevail on the Indlaus to leave the women and children behind, thongh the second morning: Ciuptadn Johnawn (to whose knowledge of the lodions add address in managing them lam much Indebted) and I got then to permit twelve, who Were loyalists, and whom I concealed, witb the humane ussistance of Mr. Josepli Brant and Captan Jacohs of Ochipuaga, to retorn. The death of the women and cilldren on this oceaslon may, I believe, be truly ascribed to the relels hirifig falsely acensed the Indians of eruelty at Wromen. This has mueh exaspernted them, and they are still more Incensed at finding that the colonel and those who hal then latil down their arus, sumb after marching into their country intending to destroy thelr villages, nnd they deelared that they would be no more necused falsely of tighting the enemy twice, meaning they wonld io future give no quarter."-F ('riknlank, The Story of Butler's Rangers, pi' 55-56 At.so 1) If. Campleell, Annals of Tryon louk on che -Centenninl Celebrations of New

A. D. 1778 (July). - The war on the border. -Bloody work of the Tories and their Indian allies. - The Massacre at Wyoming.-"In liis, ucuoring to the plan of campaign as giren by (ioy Johnson in his correspondence, the Einslish forces on the western borders of lisw lork wrere divided Into two bolles: one, cunsisting of Ifodians under Brant, to operate la Dew lork, while Jeputy Superintendent IBatier - ith the other sionild penetrnte the settled disIrict on the Suspuchannas. Braut [Joseph Brant, the Mohnwh chief $]$, who, according to Colonel Claus, 'hal shown himself in the the most faithful mod zealous subject his majesty could have in America. did his work unsparingly, and ruln marked his truck. In the valley of tbe upper Mo## hawk and the Schoharie notifing but the garrison-

 houses cacaped, and labor was only poaslble in the fiell when muskets were within easy reach. Uccasionally blowa were atruck at the inrger settlements. . . In July, 1778, the threatened attack on Wyoming trok rlace. This reglon was at that time frinally incorporated as the county of Weatrioreland of the colony of Connectlcut. ... In the fall of 1776, two com. panies, on the Contlnental establishment, had been raised in the valley, in pursuance of a resolution of Congreas, and were shortly thereafter ordered to join General Washington. Several stockadel forts had been built during the summer at different points. The withiriwal of so large a proportion of the ahle-bolled men as had been enlisted in the Contlnental mervice threw upon the old men who were left behlnd the duty of guarding the forts, . . . In March, 1778 , another military company was organized, by authority of Congress, to be employed for home defence. In May, sttaeks were made upon the scouting parties by Indians, who were the forerunners of no Invaillng army. The exposed sltuatlon of the rettlement, the prosperity of the inbabitants, and the loyaity with whieh they had responied to the call for troops, demanded conslderation from Councetleut, to whose quota the companles limil leeu credited, and from Congress, In whose nrmies they had been Incorporated: but no help came. On June 30th, an nrmed hirbor pnaty of elgitt men, whideh went ont from the upper fort, was attacked by Major IBatler, who, with a force estlmuted by the American commander in his rejort nt 800 men, Tories mud Indlans in equal numbers, had arrived la the valley. This estimate was not far from eorrect; bat if we may julge from other ralding forces durlug the war, the proport lonc of whites is ton large, for only $n$ few locad Tortes hud jolned Butler. The little forts at the upper end of the valley offered no resistance to the invalers. On July 31, there were collected at 'Forty Fort,' on the banks of the river, about thiree milles nbove Willkesmirré, 玉30) Amerleans, organzed In six compandes (one of them being the company autborizel by cougress for bome defence), aud conmandeal by Colomed Zebulon Butler, $n$ resident In the valley and an ollleer in the Contlnental army. It wus deterndned, after de liberatlon, to give bittle. In the nfternoon of that day, thls lewly of volunteers, their number belng swelled to nemaly $3 i+1)$ by the ndidition of old men and loys, murehed up the valley. The Invaders lad set tire to the forts of which they were In possession. Thls perplexed the Ameri cans, as was intended, and they pressed on towanls the spot selected by the Engllsh othieer for giving latile. This was renched about four In the afterucom, nud the nttack wns at once made by the Ainerienns, who fired mipidly in platuons. The l3ritish dine wavered, but a dlank ing tire from a boxly of Indians concented In the words settlel the fate of the day againest the Americans. They were thrown Into eonfusion. No efforts of thelr olfleers could rally them while expensel to a tire which in a short thme brought down eiery captaln la the band. The Indinns now eat off the retrentio of the panle-strieken men. and presseil them towarls tho river. All who could saved their lives by tlight. Of the 300 who went ont that morning from Forty Fort, the numea are reconded of 162 officers aud nien killed
UNITED 8TATES, 1778.

In the action or in the massacre which followed. Major Butler, the Britlsh officer $\ln$ command, reported the taking of 'two huulref and twenty. meven scalpm' 'anf only five prisoners.' Such was the exasperation of the Indinns, according to him, that it wat wlit dititicnity he saved theme few. lle given the English lous at two whites killed and eight Indlans wounderi. During the night tbe worst passions of the Indians seem to havo been aroused la revenge for Oriskany. Incrediblo tnles are told of the ininmanty of the Tories. Thewe uneasures of vengeanee fell exclusively upon those wiop particlpated in the battle, for all women and chilitrul were spared. As soon as the extent of the disnster wis made known, the lahabitants of the dower part of the valiey de. serted thelr hames, and flat in the direction of the nearest settlements. Few stayef behind who had streugth and opportuulty to cscape. In their illght many of the finglitve negleeted to provide themselves with provistons, and much suffering and somo loss of life ensued. The fugltives from the field of hattlo took refige in the forts lower down the valley. The next day, Colonel Zebulon Butler, with the remnants of the company for home defenee, consisting of only fourtern men, eseaperd from the valley. Colonel Deulson, in eharge of Porty Fort, negotiated wilth Major Butier the terms of caplthia. tlon which were ultinately signeal. In these it was agreed that the lnhabltants should oceupy their farms peaceably, and thelr llves should be preserved 'intre and unhurt.' With the excep. thon that Butler executed a British deserter whom he found nuong the prisoners, uo llves were tuken at that thes. Shortly thereafter, the Indlans legan to phomer, and the Eughlh commander, to hits chagrin, fonmi himself unabie to cbeck them. Miner eveng goes so far as to say that he promised to pay for the proprety thing t. Fladling hls eominands dlsregardeed, Butler .ustered hils forees and whitherew, without visit. lag the lower purt of the valley. The greater part of the indinus went with him, but ruongh remained to continue the devastution, whille a few murlem committed by stmughlng partles of Indians chind the tragedy. The vhole valley was left a scene of desolatlon."-A. MeF' Davis, The Indians and the bimber Wiarfite of the ther. ( Nicrative and C'ritical Ihist. of Ame, v. 6. ch. 8).- Iarely, Indeed, does it happen that history is more ni fant in regard to fuets than in the case of Wyoming. The remark may be applled to nearly every writer who has attempted to narrate the cevents commeted with the lnvasion of Colould John Buther. Ramsay, and Gordon, and Marshall - may, the British historians themselves -have written gross cexaggerations. Marshall, however, tu his revised editlou, has made corrections. . . . Ohther writers, of greater or less note, have gravely recorded the same fictions, adding, It is to te: feared, enormitles not even conveyed to them hy tmultion. The grossest of these exaggerations are contained in Thateher's Mifitary Jourmal and Drakes Book of the Indinis. The neconnt of the marebleg out of a large boly of Americans from one of the forts, to hold a parley, by agreement, and then belng drawn into an ambinseale and nil put to deatb, Is false: the acconut of 70 ContInental soluliers being butenered, after having sarrendered, is also iotaily untrue. No regular troops surrendered, and all escaped who survived the battle of the 8 d .
There is atili another Importasa correction to be made. Thin correction re: garis the name and the junt fame of Joarp Brant, whose eharacter has been blackened wit all the infamy, both reni anil inagimary, cone. nected with this hoooly expedition. Whether Captain Brant was at any time In company whit this expedition Is donbthul; but it Is cerinan, to the face of every historical muthority, Brition and Alaeriean, that, so far from lelay engaged in the battle, he was many miles dilytant at the tlme of Its occurrence. It will, moreover. be meen, towaril the elose of the prosent wort. that after the puhilication of Campleill's 'Ger. trude of Wyoming,' In whieh poem the Mohart ebleftalu was denounced as 'the Monster Bramt' his son repairel to Eingiand, and, lo a coneapondence with the port, nuccessfully vindlated his father's memory. "- W. L. Stone, Life of Joweph Rrant, v. 1, p. 330 . foot note. six nulf fue. note. - "Nolives were taken hy tho Indlans atuer the surronder; but numbers of women and chll. dren perisheri in the dismal swamp on the Pokono muge of mountalns, in the tlght.
The whole number of people klited anil miwing was about 300 .

The greatest barbarites of this celebrated massaere were conmitted by the tories. "- The same, Itetry and Ilist of Wyon ming. ah. 6.
ALeo is: W. P. Miner, Hiat. of H'yoming, Let ler $17-1 \mathrm{~N}$ - G. Peek, Hy Homing,-1. Flwke, $T$, Am. Remintion, ch. 11 (e. 2).
A. D. ${ }^{2} 77^{8}$ (July-November). - The Freach fleet and army and their undertakings. 11 fortune and lil-feeling hetween the new allies -The failure at Newport.-"The firyt milnister of France to the Cuited States, M. Giequard cane aceompanled by a fleet and urmy, under D'Estalng. (July.), Unforeseen mil nufaror. able clrciunstaneegs,' as Washlugton wrute, 'Fsaened the importance of the Freuch survices las great degree." In the first place, the arrival was just late enomph to miss the opportunly of surprising the liritish tleet lu the bolaware, oot to mentlon the liritish arniy on its relreat to New York. In the next pheer, the Freach vessels proved to be of too great driught to penetrate the chamuel and coopprate in nn: atack upon New York. Thus disappohathy ani disappolnted, D'Estalng engaged In :un onterprise agulust Newport, still in Brtish lamke. It proved another failure. But not through the Fruch alone; tho Ameriean troms that were to cuter the lsinnd at the north lring greatly behludhand. The same day that the g twh their place, nuder Sullivan, Greene, aml Lafarette, the Freueh left thelrs at the howet con of the Island, It order to meet the Brhtish thert arriving from New York, (August 10.) A severe storm prevented more than a partal enpagement; but b'Estaing returned to Newport only wh plead the lajuries received in the gale as compelling his retrement to Boston for repalrs. The ordes of the French government bad been peremptorf. that tu mase of any damage to the dle? tit should put late port at onec. So far was D'Estaing from avoiding action on personal grounls, that when Lafayctte hurried to Boston to in ruade bis countrymen to return, the commauler offered to serve as a yolunteer uatil that heet shoul! be refitted. The Amerleans, however, talkel of desertion and of ineffleleney, - so freely, indeed, as to affront their faithful Lafayette. At the

UNITED STATES, 1778.

Wachington's
oplation of comereas.

- Importaas rection re of Jouph lanry wha Whethet pany with cerrain, la ty. Brithon IM engaged ant at the moreores, seat work. ell's 'Ger. ce Moharith ur Brant,' a conter vindicated c. life of 8 nid fort. dlans after 11 aad chil. P on the Mht. nil milusing tharitey of ted by the th. of Tyo ming, Let. lake, Th;
ame time, iarge numbers of them Imitated the very courne which they cennired. by diewerthg thefrownarmy. The remalining forcen retreateld from thelr lines to the nortiern end of the island, sud, after an engagement, wlthdrew to the mainlanif, (Augunt 80.) It required all the good offices of Lafayette, of Washlogton, and of Congress, to keep the peace hetween the Americsas unl thelr allea. D'Estaing, moothed by the language of thome whom he most respected, was provoked, on the other fiand, by the hostlllty of the massers, buth In the army and amongat the people. Colllulona bet aen hits men and the Bostoalans kept up his ulsgust; and, when his beet wan repalred, he salied for the Weat Indles, (November.) ... On the part of the Brithlis, there was nothinf, attempted that wouid not bave been far betior unattempted. Maraullng purties from Newport went against New Bedforl and Falrhaven. Others from New York went agalnat little Egg liarbor., Torles and Indlans -'a collectlon of hauditti,' an they were righitly atyled ly Washington, descended from the dorthern comntry to wreak massacre at Wyomling and at Cherry Valiey. The war seemell to lie asuming a niw eharacter: it wis one of ravagen unworthy of any cause, and most unworthy of such a ceuse as the British profereas to le. Affalry were at a low state among - the Americsas. "-S. Fillot. His? of the U. s., pt. 3, ch. 5.
Al.as in: S. (G. Amold, Jhiet. of R. I., ch. 21-22 (r 2) - O. W. B. Peaboxiy. Life of Gen John Sullisun (i,ibrury of Am. fing., eries 2, v. 3). -J. Marshall, l.ife of Woahington, r. 3, ch. 9.
A. D. $177^{8}$ (Decenher), -Analetles of Wash-fugton.-His opinion of Congress.-Theserious defects and errors of that body.-"Mnch of the wluter was passed by Washington In Pliliulelphia, oceupled In devislog und dlacus. sing plans for the eambaign of liou. It was samabus moment with film. Clremontnnces which inapired others with contidence, flled him whe solicitude. The alllunce with frouce had prolucell a bnopful feciling of securlty, wheli, it appeared to him, was puralyzing the energles of the count y . England, it was thunght, womlil now he tox much ocenpled in securing her possl. tion In Europe, to lnerase her force or extend her pperations la Amerlen. Many, therefore, considered the war as vlrtually at an end; and were nawilling to muke the gacritices, or anpply the beans necessary for hmportant milltary ualertakings. Disseuslons, $t(x)$, and pnrty fends wero brouking out in Congress, owlug to thant relaxation of that exterunl pressure of at comamon sad inmincut danger, wheld had heretofore pro. duced a unlay of seutiment and acton. That august looly had, In faet, greatly deturiorated since the commencement of the war. Many of those whose names lad been as watchwords ut the lecelaration of independence had withdrawn from the national condells: occupled edther hy thedr fudividual uffirs, or ly the affairs of their fulivifual stutes. Washhigton, whose compre. hetsive patriotism embruced the whole Linion, deprecmet and deplored the dawning of this sectional o. "一W. Irving, Life of Washing. thn. $r$. $3, \ldots$ s, The following, from a letter written by Washingtou in December, $17 i 8$, to Benlamin Ilarrisun, Sraker of the Vlrylata Ilouse of Delegates, Intimates the grave anxietles which filted bis mind, aud the oplation of Congress with which he ha" returned from a vislt to Philadefpiln: "It appears an riear to me as ever the 8 un fili in lta meridinn infightnees, that America never utoon in more eminent need of the wime, patriotle, and apirted exertions of her Rons thnnat this pericxi; in! !f It not a suff. clent canme for genf. fartantition, my misconception of the matter fime: reasus it tom atrongly ujon me, that tio States, wepmelely, are too ninch engenget in their foxeal coucems, and have $t(x)$ many of thelr ablest men withirawn from the general comnell, for the goonl of the eommon wenl. . . . As there can lwe now larm in a plaus whin for the goxid of ome's Comntry, I shafi ofter It as mine, that ene fi state wid. not only eloomes. that aboblutely compei thelrablest men to attend Congress; and that they would finstruct them to golnto a thorongio investlgutlon of the canmes, that inve proxinect mo inany disagreeable etficts in the army and Country: fin a word, that pulalic abusen should the corrected as an eutre reforman. thon workel. Without these, it does not in my Juigment require the ajifit of divinatlon to fore. thil the consequences of the present administra. tlon; nor to how litle purpose the States Indluld. ually are frumeng constletitous, providing laws, and fillug wifler the the ubilties of thelr nbiest men. These, 11 the great whole is mismmaged, mimst slnk in the general wreck, atul will curry whith the remorse of thlinkling, that we ure finst hy our own folly and uegllgence, or the denlro perhops of living in eawe nod tmagulilty during the expeeted accompilshment of so great a revolution, in the effecting of wheh the grentest ablities, and the honestest men our (i. e. tho dinerlean) world afforls, ought to be cmployed. It ls mach to be fenrenl, my alear Sir, thut the States, in thelr separate enpactites, havo viry fimalegrate ldiens of the present dangror. 12 emoved (some of them) fur (istant from the geeno of actlon, and seefing und hearing auch publlenthons only, as thater thelr wishes, they comerive that the contest ls at ancoul, und that in regulate the governminnt und pollece of their uwn State is soll that remalus to be done: but it is devontly to the wished, that a sad reverse if this may not fall upon them ilke a thimulerclap. that is little expreted. I do aot mean todengmate partlenlar States. I whish to cnst no rethecthons apon uny onc. The I'ublic believe (and, if they do tedleve It, the fuet milght menost us well be so), that the states at this thac are badly represented and that the great anil lmportunt concerns of the nntion are horrlbly conlacted, for wnat cither of nbillties or application in the uremhers, or through the diseord de party vlews of some ludivlduals.
P.S. Phila: 30th. This letter was to liave gone by fowt from Middlebrook but missell that conveyance, siuce which I inve eome to thils phace at the request of Congress wheree I shall som return. I have seen nothing since I came here (on the 22d Inst.) to ciamge my oplnlon of Men or Measers., but abundast reasen to be convinced that our affalrs are $\ln$ a more distressed, rulnous and deplorable condition than they have been $\ln$ since the commencement of the War. - By a falthful luborer then In tho eanse-By a man who is dally injuring his private Estate without even the smnllest earthly advantage not common to nill la case of a favorable Issuc to the dispute - By une who wisles the prosperity of Amerien most devontly and sees i-: thinks lie sees it, on the briuk of rulu, you are besecehed most earnentiy, my dear Cola.

Harrion, to exert surrueif in endeavoring to reacue your Country hy (ict meadd) mending your ableat anil beat Nen to Congrest - theere cliar actert munt not siumber nor nicep at home n sueh times of preming dinnger - they must not content themenives in the enjoyment of piaces of honor or proft in their own country whilie the common interenta of Amwricm are moulder. Ing and sinking Into Irretrievalike (lf a remedy in not mon applied) ruin in whichs thelra alimo must uitimately he invoivel. If I was tol leo cailed upon to draw a pieture of tike times and of Men. from What I have seen, anll hearl, and in part know. I shoulid in one word say that fide peast dixalpation de extravagance arems to have fali faxt hoid of must of them. - Tiat apeculation -pecuiation-and an Insatiaite thirst for riches seems to have got the inetter of every other consideration and aimont of every order of Men. That party illsputes and personal yuarreln are the great huainesa of the duy whilist the momentons concerns of an cmpire - a grost and arcumulated deht - rifined thancen - dieprecinted money and want of credit (which in their consergheacem is the want of everything) are hut secoudary comalderations and postpomed from day to duyfrom wiok to week as if our affins wear the most promining axpeet - after dirawing this picture, whifif from my woui I ixdieve to be a true one, I hocid ant repent to yout that I am afarmed and wiali tosee my Condrymen ronseni. - 1 hnse no res simponts, nor do 1 mean to poifit at any particular characters, - this I can dee hare upon nity homor for I have every attentions puli me by Congress that 1 can possifily expect und have rensm to think that 1 stand weli in their estimation, hut in the present situntion of things I cannot help asking - Where is Shason - Wy the -Jefferson-Nichatis-l'enderon-Nidson-and nuother 1 conid mume-buil why, if you are kutlicientiy impressed with your dinger do you but (ins New Ik. hiss done in the case of Mr, Jay) seminan extra member or two for at least a cer. taln linited time till the great business of the Nation is jut upon a more respectaticaud hapley cstabishminnt. - Four Money is now sinkipg s pr. Ct induy in this city ; anil 1 what not be sur. prized if iu the course of af few montios a tital stop is put to the currency of it .-And yet an Assembir-a roncert - in Dinner - or supppir (that wifl const thrice or four hunder-if permis) with mot ondy take Men off from acting in hut even from thinking of this husiness whilie a great part of the Oifieres of ye Army from misolute nieces. sity are quiting the servife und ye more virtuons few ratber than do this nre sinking by sure degrees intolkeggary and want.-1 again repent to you thut this is not an exaggerated acet: that It is an aharming one 1 do not deny, nod confess to you that if frif more reai distress on acet. of the prest. apprarancers of things thim i have deme at any one thar since the commencrment of the dispute-but it if times to hid you ouce more aden-irovidence has heretofore taken me up when aff other means aud hapre seement to be deparinif from me: in this "-George Washington, "Tritinga, ext hy if: (P: Fiom, r $\quad$, pp. 29:-303 "The ilrst Contincmal cing ress enjovel anal deserved in a remarkuble, dickree the respject and contidence of the country. The second Congress was composed of eminent men and surecouted. for "i ime, tul Ine homors mad raputation of the first. But wheu it attempted to pass from dis.
cumalion to organization, and to divert an well a to frame the machinery of administration, its in : lays and dipputes and errors anil crontradicthas and hesitations exclied a weli founded dintrun of itserecutive akili. Conclous of thls diarpunt, It became jealous of its anthority; and instead of endearoring to ngain, by correctiug the armon, the ground which it hid lowt hy cuniniteting tion to the decay of itt atrength. Anil whilie thin criticai change in its refationa to the couatry Fas taking piace, imjortant changer texok jhare also In the materinis of which it was compeswl, mone of la wisent members iveing romoved by deati, or imperative calis to oticer thelifu of dupp. or hy falifing of re election at the regular axpima. tion of their terms of oflice, Anomp the firt eiements whth which it was bronght huto collising were tise newly organizel govermueata of the 8tates. The ynemion of Beate rights, that 4 a molved problem of our histary, lugins slavet witi the beginning of the war. Ifow abundant and active the materlais of disunion wore, and hurw diflecult it wan even for iendiug nurn to the aloove them might in proved by nthurons pat alges the letters of Waxilngion and dreme, If le wrire not still more evident from ther combuct of the loxal iegisintures. How far this sulrit might inve freen connteractedi or contrullaith the policy of the Congress lind inern that porlicy of prompt diccision and energictle acthou which. commanding respect at ali times, coummsnda io times of general danger generai mod inpllit obedience, it is improssibie to say,

An. otiser ciement with which it wis brought into immediate and constume relations was thit irmp; and, unfortunately for hoth, these relminus, frim their very nature, lirought fito lometiate and constant contrast the elements of oppmitiog wheh tiey lanth contained, rather than the ele ments of harmmions action, wheld they also containerl in an ainost equal ifgeree if the Congress was composed of the repremutaties of the proppe, the army was composerid ta $a$ harge propertion of the constithents of the fongres Slore than once also, during the course of the wir. men who had tinne gexal work for theip comiry ns soblliers, ithdrowing from thetr orlyimil tivid of action, difi cqually grami service for her an athtesmen. And more than once tho, men who had jrove ithemedses wiee and eloquent in comsel were fonnd int the latal of s regiment, ur cren in more suburthater jwaillons In the urmy. . . The real intorrest and the real ofjece of the citizen in urms aud of the citl. zen in the toga were stlil the same. But their point of view was different. The iswepresent whjert of Congress was discussion as a means of orgunization. The ever present object of the teaders of the army was derision ms: me means of action. Congress counteri ofsatuches, weighed diffleufties, hufanced opposing advantigers, cating and sleeping mennwhile and frefreshing miud not iondy as wature hade. Hut while C'omgreas was deliberating upon the best way of procuring meat, the army wan often hrought to she verge of starvution for the want of it. While Congress was discussing liy a warm fire the mowe chigible metho: of providing the army with tents and bhankets. haff the army was sieeping on the snow whlant cither hanket or tett. White Compes was framing chabornte rewolutions, mal draising out and cifulpping regiments uponjupror, ultictrs tan mell atlum, hat de nat multrithem Inell dilutruit Ihatidernut Ill indera of 8 lisermin emmmititing
 In whe ins cunntry *u - Malare nle ompromil: rmberel hy Ito of tury? nlire :xpiti: Ik the the utur will Dtas of the W, that wo flis almue vabuyinm were, and ulua to the urrmu, pu. nil (imene har. puad wict thiss nifint Intriller 12 Ithet whiry Ion whitb mund in I Implicit

An: IFht tro tive rams: Inux, $t$ tim wlite $x$ mat appasition nt the ele thery aim 11 he thtives of In a turge Cheras. se in the firi thert thin lusit wil sericice wher, tom, abil elo lum! of a [11aitions allid the f the citl. lzul their er present minns of t of the Herans of weldghend rs, cating nimb and crew was itucuring lu: verge (ongress eligible ents and He sdow
 , olicers

If the dell were mtandigg disheartened leform their thlnaed aml dlaheartened ranka purn of atatemanashlp. like ermors of gemeral ahlp, would emblly lave been forgiven atal fur. cottea; for kith statemen and generale had stlli aucb to learn. L'nfortunntely, whlle the beat gencralu mione earnemtly to eorfect thelr errors by theif experienee, Congrent, in (um) many thiaga, clunif olmtinately to its errors, In splto of the mont dechlve experlence. Thow errary were twofuhl, - errora of polley and ernorm of prinel. ple, - the nae teading to underimlue the reapect wheb, In the legglaning, was felt for thelr wis dons: the other, to awaken a general distrust uf their funties. The first year of the war demon atratal the danger of alort ealistmenta and tem porary livina. Ihist more than half the seromal rear was allowed to pass before It wus decliled to palse an ariny tor the whole duratlon of the war. The fint cainjuign demonatrated the nocesulty of providlgg ly regularly orgualzed depurtmentu for the foxnl, clothing, and eransportathour of the army ; hut It wan not IIII late In the wecond yone liat a luarrl of war was organledi ; and not thid later will tiant the Quartermamer-General and Counminary (hinmeal wero allowel ta devote themsiel yos tu thelr duty in camp, Instead of walt. Ing ilfy for orders at the donir of Cougress. All experinuce of the simplest fermoning showend the ; "ban of strengthenlag the lumals of tis : $\therefore$ : hy punaltig promplis all the ucts mid histructlon of an aray lu ghar on $\boldsymbol{H}$ whle of all experfence and the pialn. eat wan, (ebigrese peralsted in Its unserammalle theloys... The polley of the Congress, In the nomaizathon ame support of the army, was a pulky ul terglypraton ubd slelay. No wonder that the army, lenders nad all, shombl early lonse fartandll but wiml here. Oue of the carllest felt of the numerens wants of the army wus tho want glnumg foun the luass of umproved candidntes was Impmallile: lut In the erourse of two cum palgio the chameters and pretenslons of meu Wete well tried, the chatif tharoughly slfted, nut what romaturd mhegt be eonthlently uccepterl as sumb. . . It was avluently the polley of Con. grese fosermar ly all proper anal reasoantle la. ducemelts the arviees of sueh otherers for the E 15. It was dhe duty of Congress, In les tleallugs *ith them, to romember that In beroming sol dires, and exposing themselves to the dangers amd privitions of a whliler's Iffe, they molouted. with the lideos of smborillathon that lle at the hasis of militury Iliaclpline, the lieas of runk and grake whath lethe und clreumseribe thut sub. ordiation. liut (iongress remembercel nothlug of this. It pornilred of them the service of oth.
 enable them to live like private soldlers. It de. mandal the presedt sarcritiee of cold, hanger, hard servlece, amal exposire to slckuess, wommes. and dewhl : inf refoseci : the prospectlve rewnril of half pay or pension when slekness or wonnds shouht hav" Incupacitated them for furthor ex. eftion, or deats should have male thelr whers usproterted whows, nal thelr ehlldren helpless iement uf the military charucter, and that self. pride, It tritled witl to a healthy and sustalolng pride, It tritued with their elalnis to rank ley the arcepted pule of servlre, and clalmed nad exen elerd the juwer of denling with eomminglons ne. cortling to lia own gomp plenstre,"- Q . W (Ireene, Life of Dinllinntiel tirevine. ok. 2, eh. Is (c. 1).
A. D. 1775-1779.-Clark's conģuent of the Northweat for Virgiala, and lis annezation to the dlatrict of Kentucky.-"Virglnin. . . Hal more weatern enterprime than any other eolony In 17\%t Dhnmure's war gavo lrer the olasek innds, Imtus wheh lier fronteramen lud bren for sone tlme presalag. Bhono was a Curollulan, but Kentucky was a distlnetlvely Vlrglnin col ouy. In $18 \% 6$ the Virglata leglalature erected the Connty of Kenticky, and the next year Virglula juige dlaproseci justlee at llarroing. imrg. Soon the colony was representel in the endalatire of the parent atate. Whlle thas ex. teading lier Jurisuletion over the region muthswest of the Ohlo, the OhI Ihmialon flld not forget the hampage of [her clarter] of 1009 , up into the land tiroisghoit from sen to mea, Weat and nurthweat." George llogem Clark, is Virglalun who lual made Kentucky hls bonie, Wus endowed wlits moncthlig af the genemis and atategman's grisp. While lloatlag down the Ohin lu 17i6, belug then 24 years of age, he enncelved the eongurat of the country Inyoul the tiver.

Clirk mays he hand slace the bor. glunlug of the war takea palna tu make bimself ne'sualnted whth the true nitmation of the Narth. wesurn posts; buil In 1878 lic ment two young hunters to spy aut the country moro thoronginly. mud espechally to ascertaln the semblaruts of ilise - habitunts. On the return of these hunters Whth uneacournglus report, he weit to Willhatas. biarg. then the cajlal of Vlrgluha, where lice enIlsted (lavernor latrlek Ilenry uiul other lemel. lug minds In a secret experllifon to the lllomats. Actlug abiler a vaguely wordiol haw, matioriz. lag hime to uld any expedltha ugitinst their Westeru cuembes,' Governor llrury guve ('lark some vagho jubble lastruetlons, fircetiug hlms to conllat, la any county of the conamonwealth, reven comprankes of uen whan shonh inet under his command ns a militla, und nlso jrlvate lustrue thas that were mutly more fall amilletlulte.
Ihoth the pablle and jrivato iustructons nre datied dunaary 2, 17is. The goveruor also ghbe the young eaptala a manall sapily of money. Clark lamendately re crossed the noun. tatus mul began to revralt bis commund.
Owrpoming as best he comh the ditlealtes that cuvlromel him, he collecterl hla fectle comumal at the Falls of the Ohio. On June 96, 1788, he begun the descent of the rlver. Lavving the Ohio at Fort Massac, forty milles nbove lis monti, he began the murels to Kaskaskla. Thia fell into his hanis, July 5th, und Caluokla soon ufter. trith wlthont the loss of a slugle llfe. Clark funal few Engllanmen in these vlluges, and the Frunelt, who were weury of Britlah pule, lo' had little ditlealty In attaching to the Anert. cin laterest. Vineennes, soon ufter, sarrendered to a mere proclumatlon, when there was not an Amerlean solller within oue lumilred miles of the plare.

Clark prevailed upon 100 men to reculist for elght months; lie then filled up his eompanles with reernits from the villaues. and sent ra argene call tu Virginia for re-entorcements. Tlue silutary inflaenee of the Invision apout the Indlans wus felt at once: It *hegan to siread among the nations even to the horder of the lakes:' and In five weeks Clark settied a peace with ten or twelve different tribes.

UNITED STATES, 1778-1779. Conguest of ithe UNITED STATES, 1778-1779.

And now Ciark began realis to feel the difficuities of his stuatien. Destltute of money, poorly supplied, commanding a smail and wldeiy scattered force, he had to meet and circumvent an active enemy who was determined to regain what he had lost. Governor Ilaniliton [the Brit. lsh governor at Detrolt] projected a grand campaign againat the French towns that had been captured and the smail force that heid them. The feeble issue was the capture, in December. 17デ8, of Vincennes, wiileh was occupled by but two Americans. Ciark, who was in the Illinois at the time of this disaster, at ouce put his littie force in motion for the Wabash, knowing, he seys, that if he did not take IInmilton, Ilimiliton would take him; and, February 25,1 1 79 , at the end of a marei of 250 miles, that ranks in perii and hariship with Arnoid's winter march to Canada, he again captured the town, the fort. tbe governor, and his whole commani.' IIamil. ton was sent to Virginia a prisoner of war, where he was found guity of treating Americun prisoners with crucity, and of offering the In. dians premiums for scaips, but none for prisoners." Clark was ambitious to extend his march to Detroit, but could net compass the necessary means. "' D Detroit lost for a few humdred men,' was his pathetie iament as he surrendered an enterprise that lay near his heart. Had he becn abie to acbieve it, he would have won and heid the whole Northwest. As it was he won and held the Iiilnols and the Wabmah in the name of Virginia and of the Unitei states. The bearing of this conquest on the question of western bonndaries wiil be considered in anotizer piace, but here it is pertinent to remark that the American Commissioners, in 1782, at l’aris. couid piead 'uti possidetis' in reference to much of the country beyond the Oinio, for the flag of the Republic, raised over it by George Rogers Clark, had never been lowered. It wouldi not be easy to find in our instory a case of au officer aceomplishing resuits that were so great and far-rearhing with so small a force. Ciark's later life is ilttle to ins eredit, but it shouid not be forgoten that he rendered the Americin cause and civiiization a very great service. Alii this time the Britisis were not idie. War party after war-party was sent agaiust the Americala borier. In $1 ; 80$ a grand cxpedition was orgauized at Detroit nnd sent to Kentacky under the command of Captain Bird. Bnt it accomplisited nothing commensurate witi Its mangnitude and cost.

The Northwest fial been won by a Virginia army, commandicl by a Virginia officer, put in the theli at Virginia's expense. Governor llenry had promptiy announced the conquest to the Virpinia delegates in Congress.

But before Patrick ilenry wrote this ietter, Virginia had weided the last link in her chain of title to the conntry ireyend the Ohio. Iu Octoler, 1778, her legisiature dectared: Ail the citizens of the commonweatit of Virginia, who are actualiy settiers there, or who sinuil hereafter be settled, on the west side of the Ohitu, siaili be ineinded in the district of Kentucky which shail be calied Iilinols Connty.' Ner was tilis ali. Soon after, Governor llenry appointed a ilieuten. ant-commandant for the uew county, with fuli fastructions for carrying on the government. The French settiements rewained under Vir. ginia jurisdiction until March, 1784."-B. A Ilinsdaie, The Old Niorthweet, ch. 9.
Also 15: Clark's Campaign in the Illina (Ohio Valley IIiat. Series, 8).-J. 11. Perkins Annals of the Wese, eh. 7.-A. Davidison and B Stuve, Iliot. of Illinoia, ch. 16-18. -T. Rhoserevil The Winning of the Went, r. 2, ch. 2-3.
A. D. 1778-177. -The French Ailiance. Peril of France.-Doubtful feeling in America -Spaniah mediation with Engiand. - "Frun the third volume of Doniol's comprehensir work on the 'Participation de la F'rance a letab ilssement des Etats Uuis,' pubilished in 18N\&, we are able to iearn for the first time the cxtreme prin of France in 1778-79. When Vergenness adviaed the recegnition of the indejendence of the Uniters States, it was on the same grounds thas Canning aivised the recognition of the lmese pendence of the Spanish simth American States many yeurs afterwards. The finir distribution of power in the civilizeij woridi, winich was threat ened in the intter perion by the Iloly Allance, was tiseatened in the former perixil thy the assumption of maritime supremucy by Bnition Iu each the object was to cull up a new sovereignty in America, so as to cherck an undue coneentration of sovereignty in Eurnpe. Undoubtediy Vergennes was nidedi, as Cas. ning was aideti, by the cuthusiasm felt by men of liberal views for a revolintion that was expected to extcud tite domnin of diberalism: but with Vergennes, as with Canning, the ohjeas whs ti: " © nhiisising of a power ubromd which coniti resist a dangermus nggression it home. When in February, 1 itis, Frince nchnowledged the indepesdence of the United Ntates, Vergeneses had gool reason to hold cither that britain would not resent the insuit hy war, or that she woull find that in sucil a war the odde wore against her A Britisi urmy had just capituinterd at Sioratoga. America, so it was reported to Vergemmers and so be believerd, was unanimous in determining to defend her iiberties to the inst. Iu lioliand there was a strong party which wns expertet io furce the States. Generai into a recognition of thelr sloter repubilic. Spain had aiready secretly mivaneed a milifon of francs to the Americm conamission ers. From Freierick the Grent, dinlighted to se his British reiatives, who had nat always sup. ported inim in his tronbies, annoyed by a reroit in their own domain, came wordis very encourat. iag to tife Ameriean envoys. Cuthirine if lio temed with apparent satisfaction to a scheme Which would relieve ber lafant shipping fmm British oppression. It lookeri ns if, stoulal Britaiu dechare war against Framer, hla $\begin{gathered}\text { nould }\end{gathered}$ have against her the armies mid antirs of all continentai Europe, aided by the prople of bet Anerican Colunies in a compurt mass. but in few months there came a great thange. The British army unter llowe was wh hrgely re. enforced as for the inmediate jresente to gire it a grent superiority over nay army Congms muld bring against it in operi tieli. . . it is true that the news in Aprii of the Fremeh traty revived the cnergics of the revolntinists: but this treaty hal its drawbeks, as the elf disilike of France, in purt inherited from England, in part the proluct of the seven years war, mitar sitied the yeurning for the mother comitry which in many hearts stili remaineri. Fre: atheok compiained that on their tirst arris... in Xew England they were received with sullion aversion

UNITED STATES, 1778-1770. In the South. UNITED STATES, 1778-1779.

1784."-B. $\theta$. in the Illinoil J. 1I. I'erkins, Davlifison and B. -T. ilouse velt 2. 2-3. ach Allianceing in America giand. -"Prum comprehensive Frunce a lítabhed in 188, we ie extrpuepent rgennes adrised endence of the ne grounds that $u$ of the inde American states alr distrihuting filch was threatIIoly Alllance, perixi hy the $a r y$ ly Britain tlí 14 a new te clurk an nty in Eurnpe. lideni, as Cad. ishismu felt by utling that ซม of iiheratism; aing, the oloject - aloromi which sion it thome. nch oowlelged atos, Vergemes $t$ isritain mouh hat she woult cre' hrainst hat. oid it Niratogs. Thernaws and so deltrouining to a liollund there irerteri to force of of their sliter retly ulvaned 13 commisstonhilighted to see it nlways suped by a tcrolt viry bucomag thar rime 11 His (1) a schume shlpuing from as if, shonk ce, she would Hivirs of all popple of bat linss. but in change, The (s) $\operatorname{lntgely}$ wont to gire it rmy Congras hi. . it i Frionh traty Intionists; but the ohd dislike Eng tame, in ors war, miten. multy which Fry: fotep tis... in Xew ulle of aversion by the people, though weicomed by the revolu. tonary leaders. The French army and navy, for the first year In which they were engaged in America, did no good to the American cause; and so great was the popuiar Irmitation at their inactivity, so strong, It was said, continued to be the old race nttachment to England, that Inteiiigeat Frrach observers in America advlsed Vergennes that he must move warlly, for at any moment America might make a separate peace with Britain and then joln the Britisin forces agslnst France. No doubt these reports, so far as they proneunced thls to be the drift of a lnrge minority la Congress, were unfounded ln fact. They were nevertheless communicated under Lisb sanction to Vergennes, and produced ln his mind the iveilest anxlety. ... Engllsh lnfuence hind for a time regaincd lts ascendency in Hollani. Prussia and Llussia, having tasted the delights of neutrai commerce, let lt be plalniy understood that they wouid not abanden a neutrality so profitabie for tie risks of beiligerency. And Sptin had taken aiarmand was backlng out not merely from the family compact, hut from ber recent promise to aid the insurgents. A idlng the insurgents, her minister deciared, weuld be cutting her own tirout, and no aid' to the insurgents shonid le given except ona very henvy equivalent. If France was to meet the shock of the intish navy aione sine migint be swept from the seas, and, aside frotn this danger, her finsnces were in such a ruineus conditlon tiat her bankrnptey was imminent. One of two courses minst be adopted, not oniy to save France hut to save the independence of the L'nited States aui the consequent equipelse of pewer for which France itas gone to war. There must be either a general peace, which would Include the Independence of the United States, or there nust lwe war, with Spnin joining tire ailies. It was in this condltion of affairs timt the position of spain in 1738-79 became of commanding importance. She offered herseif as medlator between the alles and thelr common enelny, and through her the terms of paclfleatlen were discussed. in the negotiatlens, protracted and on both sidies largely inslncere, between Spaln and Britain relative to tite proposed pacificatiou, the Tlnter of $1774-79$ was consumed. "- $\mathbf{F}$. Wharton, Intnal. th The Revolutionary Diplomatic Correaponilence of the $U . S ., c h . \delta$, sect. 86 ( E .1 ).
A. D. 1778-1779.- The War carried into the South. - Savannah taken and Georgia subdued. - Towaris the end of Novemler, 1778 , " "hemly of troopa, under Lientenant-colonei Camplell, salled [from New York] for Georgia in the squadron of Commoriore Hyale Purker; the Iritish callnet itaving determinel to carry the war into the Houthern States. At the saune time fioberal l'revoat, wino commanded ln Florlda. was oriered by Sir Henry Ciinton to march to the lanks of the Savannah Itiver, and attack (a-orgha in flank, while the expedition under Campuril sheuki attack it in frout on tife anmani. ., The situalron of Commodore liyle iParker anclored in the Sapannah River hwaris the enil of December. An American force of nbout bou reguiars, and a few militla nuder hion rai ilolert Howe, were cacamped neat the town, being the remnant of an army Whth which that atheer liatl inraded Filorida. iu the preceling summer, but hail been ohliged to evacuste it ly a mortal malady whlch desolated his camp, Lleutenant-colonel Campbell landed hls troope on the 29th of December, about three mlles belew the town. The whole country bordering the river ls a deep morass, cut up by creeks, and only to be traversed by causeways. Over one of these, 600 yards ln length, wlth a diteh on each side, Colonel Campbeli advanced. puttlng to flight a smail party stationed to guard the maln road wewe had posted his little army on the maln road, wltil the river on his left and a morass ln front. A negro gave Campbell lnformatlen of a path leading througis tite merass, by which troops migit get unobserved to the rear of the Americans. Sir James Baird was detached with the light lnfantry by thls path, while Colonel Campbeli advanced in front. The Americans, thus suddenly attacked in front and rear, were completely routed; upwards of 100 Were either kilied on the spet, or perished In the morass ; 88 officers and 415 privates were takea prisoners, the rest retreated up the Savannah River and crossed Into South Carolina, Savannah, the capital of Georgia, was taken possession of hy the victors, with cannon, mllitary stores and provisions; their loss was oniy seven kliied and nineteen wouuded. Coionel Campbell conducted himseif wlth great moderatlon; protecting the persons and property of the lninahltants, and prociaiming security and favor to all that shouid return to their aileglance. Numbers in consequence flocked to the British standard: the iower part of Georgia was considered as subdued, and posts were estahilisited by the British to mulntain possession. Wille Colonel Campleli had thus invaled Georgia in front, Generai Prevost " entered the State from Fiorida, "took Sunbury, tite oniy remuining fort of lm portance, and miarched to Savannai, where le assumed the general command, detaching Coionel Campleil agninst Augusta. Ily the mididle of January (1779) ail Georyin was reiueal to suhmlssion. A more experienced Ameriean general than Howe had by thls time urrived to take command of tite sonthern Department, Majergenerai Lincoin, who hud gained such reputaton in the campalgn agninst liurgoyne, and whose appointment to thls statiou had been soilicited hy the delegates frem South Caroina and Georgia. He had received inis oriers from Washington In the beginning of October."-W. Irving, Life of Wishington, e. 3, ch. 37.
Also in : W. B. Stevens, IIiet. of Geargia, bk. 4, ch. 4 (c. 2
A. D. 1778-1779. - Washington guarding the Hudson. - The storming of Stony Point. Marauding warfare of the British.-"After Ciinton slijped away from Jonmonth and sougitt refigge in Niew Fork, Wasitington took post at conveuient points and wateired the nieve. ments of tite enemy, In this way the sunnmer passed. As aiways, Wasitington's flrst object was to guard the Hudson, and while he held thls vital point firmiy, ite wnited, ready to strike elsewiere if necessary. It looked fer a time as If the British inteniled to descend on Boston, seize the town, and destroy tise Frencli fleet, winich ime gone there to refit. Such was the opinion of Gates, then commanding in timt department, antl as Wralington incined to the sane belief, the fear of this event gave him many anxinug moments. He eren moveri hls troips so as to be In readincss to march eastward at shert notice; but he gradualiy became convlaced that the enemy had no such pian. therefore, remained quict ... The main army, had passed went into winter when the sutumn posted detachments about New York. In December Clinton made an ineffectual rald [ 1 n New Jersey], and then ali was peaceful agaln, and Wasiington was abic to go to Philadelphia and Etruggle with Congress, leaving lis aniny more comfortahle and secure than they had been in any previous winter.

Ife now hoped and believed that tie moment would come when, hy unlting his army with the French, he should be abic to strike the decisive biow. Untll that tlme eame, howevcr, he knew that he could do nothing on a great scaie, and he feit that meantime tife British, ahandoning practicaily tie eastern and mildile States, wouid make one last desperate struggic for victory, and would make it in the south. Long before any one else, he appreelated this fact, and saw a peril looming large in that region. $\qquad$ Ali this, however, dld not chauge lits own plans one jot. He believed that the south must work out lta own salvatlon, as New York and New Enginad had done with Burgoyne, and he feit sure tirat ln tite end it would be successful. But he would not go souti, nor take his army there. . . . Thi British might overrun tife north or lavale the south, but he would stay wifcre lic was, with his grlp upon New York and tie Hudson River. The tide of Invasion might elh and flow in this reglon or that, bat the Britisid were doomed If they could not dividie the eastern colonies from the others. When the appointed hour eame, he was ready to abandoneverything and strike the final and fatal blow; hat untii then he waited and stood fast witil his army, iofiding the great river in his grasp. He felt mueit more unxiety nbout the sonth tian he had felt nbout the norti, and expeeteri Congress to cousult lim as to a commander, laving made up lis mind tiat Greene Was the "an to send. But Congress stiil befleved ia Gates, who had been making troubie for Washington ail winter; and so Gintes was sent, and Cons ress in dhe thine got their lesson, and found once nore that Washington maderstood men better than they didi. In the norti the wiater was comparativeiy uneventfui. The spring passec', and In June Clinton came ont and tonk possession of Stony Poiut and Verpianek's Point, and began to fortify them. It looked a little as if Ciinton might Intend tu get control of the liudson lyy siow approaeites, fortifying. and then advaneing untif he reached West point. With this $\ln$ inind, Washington at once determiued to cheek the British hy striking sidarply at one of their new posts. Having made up his mind, he sent for Wayne and asketi hing if ite Would storm Stony Point. Tradition says that Wayne replied, 'I wili storn heii, If you wlil pian it. A truc tradition, prohnliy, in keeping witi Wayne's character, and pieasant to us to-diay as showing witil a vivid gieam of rougit haman speed the uter contidenee of the army in thelr leader, that confficuee willeh oniy a great poldifer can insplre So Wasiington planned, ant Wayne stormed [Juiy 15, 1Fito], and stoay Point fell. it was a galiant and hril. llant feat of irmes, one of tife most brilliant of the war. Owar fin) prisoners were taken, the fims were earricel off. ant the works destroyed, deai of Increased cuntion and respeet. Not long after, Harry Lee stormed Paulus Ihook witu equal success, and the Britioh were chucked and arrested, if they intended any extcasive mare ment. On the frontler, Sullivan, after some de lays, did his work effectively.
in there various ways Clinton's clrele of aetivity wa steadiliy narrowed, but it may be doubted whether he had any coherent plan. The prin clpai occupation of the British was to send out marauding expeditions and cut of outring parting. Tryon hurned and pilinged in eno. nectlcut [at New Haven, Fairtield and Nor walk], Matthews in Virglala [at Norfolk. Parts mouth and elsewhere], and others on a amalier scale elsewhere in New Jersey and liew fort

It was enough for Washington to hold fas to the great objects he had in view. to check (lis. ton and clrcumscribe his movenuents. Stead. fastly he did tiuis through the sumaner and wis. ter of 1770. " -11 . C. Lodge, íeorge Washington, v. 1, eh. 8.

Also iv: W. Irving, Life of Washington, es ch. 38-40, and 0. 4, ch. I.- B. J. Lossiag, Fikid book of the Reo., v. I, ch. 31.-J. Armstrong, Lit of Anthony Wayne (Library of Am. Ring., t. 4. -C. J. Stllie, Major-General Authony Wayn, ch. 5.-G. W. Greene, Life of Nathil ireene, ut 3 . ch. 3-7 (r. 2).-See, also, West Pulst.
A. D. 1779 (August-Septemher)-Geserd Sullivan's expedition against the Senecas For tice purpose of patting an emd to the de structlve and bloody incursions of Torim and Ib. dians from western New York, directect againg the borler settiements of that state and i'enssy. vanla - as at Cherry Valiey ani Wyoming General Wasitington, in the eariy pirt of the fear 1779, determined upon a nevavince for cart. ing tise war into the liome of tise invader "The command was entrusted to firn sulliran The arny organlzed for tiee expedition was in tiree diviklons. That part of it noler the inmediate coinmand of Gen. Suiiivan, comlag from Pennsylvanla, ascended the Susquehanpab w Tiogn Point. Another division nader the cme mand of Gen. James Clinton, eonstructing bat: teaux at Sclenectady, ascencied the Mohawk and renciczvoused at Canajobarrie, opreneti a raad to the heal of Otsego Lake, and from therec proceedied in a formldahie fleet of over ?(k) hatteaur to Tioga Point, forming a junction with the force under Gen. Suitivan, on the $\geq 2 l \mid$ of August Previous to the arrivai of Gen. Chinnm, Sullima hud sent forward a detachmeat which fell in with a seoutlig party of ludians, und a skimidh ensued. The combilied forces uniounted to 5 , (x) men. The expedition had been son long prepar lag, and upon the march, tiat the chemy were well apprized of all that was going on. Their plas, of defence contempiated a derivive engage ment apon the Chemung river. fior this pur. pose the iangers and reguiur liritish trappo under the eommand of Coi. dohn Buther, Cols Guy and Sir Join Johnson. Major Water S Butier and Capt. M'Dousli, and the Indians under Brant, haid conceutrated the ir forres upme a bend of the river, near the present village of Elmira [tisen called Newtown], whre they had thrown up a long hreast work of loge. The unlted forces of the British allics, as computed by Gen. Suliivan, was about 1.500 . Liasing as certained their position, Gen. Sultivan marched in fill force amil altackenl them in the forenow of tic ?9til of Augus.

The lattle had bea aius llook with ere checked and extensive more. , after some de In there of activity $\pi$ mu ay be doubted lan. The prin. vas to send out it oft outring ilhged $\ln$ Cos tielid and Xor Norfolk. Ports. rs on a smallier uni liew Yort tun to holi fast w. to check (liir. ements. Stead. mmer and wiso rge Wuatington, Washington, e. 3 Lousing, tivel Irmstrong, Lif im. Bing., t. it nthony Wayn, illireene, ut. 3 ont.

ber)-General he Senecasemi to the de forim and In. lirected againg e an! l'eunsy. i $W$ Yoming Iy puirt of the siare for cart. the incadere fren. sullitm cdition was in maler the imn , coming from quelannah w miler the com astructing bat. IC Mo hawk and cheel 8 ruad to on thence pro$r$ ? $3(k)$ hatteaur, tien with the㩆 of August iunon, Sulliru which fell in ani a skimimb unted to 5.00 , long prepar. te chemy were ug on. Theis rivire engage Four this pur. British trape, t Butler, Cols or Walter X : I the indins ir forces upme ent village of ture they had of lugs. The as computed liaring sp ivan marthed the furemond attle had beea waged about two hours, when the British and Indians perceiving their forces inadequate, and that a maneuver to surround them was likely to be successfui, broke and fled in great disorder. 'This,' says John Saimon, of Livingston county, who beionged to the expedition and gave an account of it to the author of the Life of Mary Jemison, ' was the only reguiar stand made by the Indians. In their retreat they were pursued by our men to the Narrows, where they were attscked and kiiled in great numbers, so that the sides of the rocks ncat the River iooked as if blooi had been poured on them by paiffuis.' The details of all that transpired $\ln$ this campaign are before the pubile in so many forms, thut thelr repetition here is unnecessary. The route of the army was via 'French Catherine's Town, head of Seneca Lake, down the east shore of the Lake to the Indian viliage of Kana. desagn (OId Castie), and from thence to Canandalgua, Honeoye, hcad of Conesus Lake, to Groveland. The villages destroyed (witil the spple trees and growing crops of the Indians,) were at Catherinestown, Kendai, or 'Appie Town' on the east side of the Lake, eieven miles from Its foot, Kanadesaga, Honcoye, Conesus, Canasiraga, Littie Beard's Town, Big Tree, Cannwagus, and ou the return of the army; Scawyace, a village between the Cayuga and Seneca Lakes, and severai other Cayuga viliages.

The mareh of Sullivan, the devastations committed hy his army, wouid at this distant period secin ifke Vandailism, in the absence of the conslleration that ile was acting under striet orders: and that those orders were approved, if not dictated, ly Washington. The campaign was a matter of neeessity; to be effectuai, it was not only necessary that its acts shouid be retaliatory and ret ributire, but that the haunts, the retreits, of a foe so ruthless, must be broken up. Theolject was to destroy ail the means of subsistrne of the senecas, desoiate their iomes, privent their return to them, and if possihie, induce their permanent retreat begond the Niagara River. The imprudence, the wnnt of sagacity, which Col. Stone has imputed to Gen. Sullivan tu slarming every village he approached by tie sound of his eannon, the antior coneeives a mis. apprelension of his motives. Stealtiy, quiet approarlus, would have found as victims, in every village, the old men, the women aud chil-dren-the warriors away, handed with their British alliss. iltmanity dictated the forewarning, that those he did not ceme to war arainst could have time to the. . . . The march of Gen. Sulliviu, after lenving the Chemung, was hioodless, exerpt in a smati degree - Just as it should hare let u, if he conld uot make vietims of those he wis sent to punisb. The third expedition of this campialkn, which has genemily been iost sight of liy hintorians, was that of Gen. Broad. heat. 1 if left Fort Pitt in Augnst with 600 mea, and destroyed severai Mingo and Muncey trites living on the Allegany, French Creek, and other trithtaries of the Ghio. The heavy artiilery that tirn, Nullivan brought as fur as Newton, wonld iulicate that Niagara was originaliy the destuman. There the General and his officers, sering how long it had taken to reach that juim, in all probabillty determined that tom much wif lie retwm that ween wasted, to ailow of executing their tashs in the Indian country, making their roads and moving the army and all its appointmenta to Niagara before the setting In of winter. Besides, before the army had reached the valiey of the Chemung, the fact was ascertained that there would be a failure in a contcmpiated junetion with the army under Gen. Broadhead. After the expedition of Gen. Suiiivan, the Indians never had any considerable permanent re-occupancy of thcir villages east of the Gencsee river. They settied down after a lurief fight, in their viliages on the ivest side of the river in the neighborhood of Gcneseo, Nt. Morris and Avon, and at Gardeau, Canadea, Tonawanda, Tuscarora, Buffaio Creek, Cattaraugus and Aitegany."-O. Turner, llist, of the Pioneer Settlement of Phelpp and Gorhnm's Iurchase, pt. 1, ch. 4. - "In his generai orders of the 17th of October, Generai Washington announced to the army the resuit of the expedition, as foilows: 'The Commander-in-chief has now the pieasure of congratuiating the army on the compicte and fuii success of Maj. Gen. Suliivan, and the troops under his command, against the Seneca and other tribes of the Six Nations, as a just and necessary punishment for their wanton depredations, their unparalieied and innumerabie crueities, their deafness to ail remonstrances and cntreaty, and their perseverance ln the most horrid acts of barbarity. Forty of their towns have been reduced to ashes, some of them large and commodious; that of the Genesee aione containing one hundred and twenty eight houses. Their crops of corn have been entirely destroyed, which, by estimation, it is sald, wouid have provided 160,000 busheis, besides iarge quantities $r^{\prime \prime}$-regetahics of various kindis. Their whoie councoy has been overrin and laid waste, and they themseives compelled to piace their security in a precipitate flight to tine British fortress at Niagara. And the whoie of this has heen done with the ioss of less than forty mien on our part including tine kilied, wounded, captured, and those who died natural deaths. The troops em. pioyed in this expedition, both offeers ard men, throughout the whoie of it , and in the aetion they had with the cnemy, manifested a patience, perseverance and valor that do them the highest honor. In the course of it, when there still remained a iarge cxtent of the enemy's country to be prostrated, it becamc necessary to lessen the issues of provisions to half the usuai ahiowance. In this the trocps acquiesced with a most generai and cheerfui concurrenee, leing fuliy detcrmined to surmouut every obstacle, and to prosecute tio enterprise to a compieto and successfui issue. Maj. Gen. Suliivan, for his great perseverance and activity, for his order of nareh and attack, and the whoie of his dispositions; the Brigadiers and offieers of ail ranks, and the whole of the soldiers cugaged in tire expedition, merit aud have the Commander-in-ci ief's warmest ucknowledgements for tieir important serviees upon this occasion.' Ou the 9 th of November, 1779, Geueral Suliivan wrote to the President of Congress: 'It is with the deepest regret I find nyself compelled to request from Congress iiberty to retire from the arnis. My heaith is so much impaited by a vioient bilious disurder, which seized me in the commencenent and continued during the whoie of the western expedithon, that I linve fot tive smallest hope of a ierfeet recovery.' . . Generai Suliivan, in trans. mitting to Congress an officiai acconnt of his operatious, reported that . . .'Every ereek and river has been traced, and the whole country ex plored in search of Indlan settlements, and I am well perruaded that, except one town sltuated near the Alieghany, about fifty-elght mlles from Chinesee, there is not a single town left in tho country of the Five Natlons.

1 fatter my. self that the orders wlth which I was entrusted are fully executed, as we hare not left a singlo settlement or fielld of corn In the country of the Five Natlons, or is there cven the appearanco of an Indinn on this alde of Nlagara. Messengera and small partles have been constantly passing. and some Iniprudent soldiers who straggled from the army mistook the route and went baek almost to Clihnesce without discovering even the track of an Indlan.' Sullivan was mistuken in regard to the destruetion of all the Indlan towns as there were several small villages undiscovered hy hls troops. The prinelpai villages, however, and prohahly nine-tenths of the growling erops, upon whileh the Indlans had depended for suste. nanee during tho following winter, were effeetually destroyed. . . While Suillvan fully aecomplished the task given him to perform, tho results expected werc not fully realized. The power of the sa vages had been weakened, hut they were not entrely sulhdued unth years after. ward, when 'Mad Anthony Wayne'defeated tho eonfecuerated hands of tho Indians of the west. In 1zet, a measure whlch thoroughly humbled the Indians of Western New York, and gave to the settlers peace and seeurity. Suillvan's expedithon wisf ruitful of great results 1 ln other ways, lowe erer, than the temporary sibjugatlon of the Indlhns. The fertle and beautiful country now forming the western part of the State of New York, wis then an unknown whlderness, and lis value and attraetiveness were first madc known to the white peopie through thls expellition.

Soon after the elose of the war the tille of emigration commenced to fow west warl, Frons the New England States, Peunsylvania and New Jensey, eame hardy plonecrs, led on by the glowlug accounts they had hearl of the new country, and the vlelnity of the inlund lukes, the borlers of the tlowing streams, the furest-eovered hllis became the dweliling places of a rapidly growing hund of setlers. The road which Sul. fivan had opened from the suspulehanan viliey Was followed by many of the settlers, even tio the hanks of the Genesee. Thus many of those who had shared the periis and privations of sul. livan's expdititon agalnst the Indian tribes of Westem Sew York, afterward became settlers of the hamil they had alded to conquer." $\mathbf{A}$. T. Nortom, Jistary of Sulliven's Campuign againet the frexumin, ch. 11 .
Alwo is : 1. L. Doty. Hist. of Livingaton Co. Y: I., ch. z-0. W. B. Penbuxly, Life of Join chi. T- Jumpula of the fifititary Exyedition of Mul. fien, Juhn suillimn, veith records of Centen.

 Mary /i mixin, app. 2.
A. D. ${ }^{1779}$ (Septemher) - Paul Jones' great sea-fight. - The Bon Homme Richard and the Serapis. - " Near the end of Inty [1779]. Phui Jones, a scot hy birth, in the service of the Cuited States, suilled from 1 ' Orient as comman. der of a squadron, emisisting of the Poor Rhelaril [' Buan Humme licinurd,' Jones named her, in coupliment to Frunkliil and to the language of the country from which Frankiin's influeoce procured the shlpl of 40 guns, many of them un serviceahle: the Alliance of 38 guns, twoth Ament. can ships-of. war; the Pallas, a French frigate of 82; and the Vengeance, a Freneh briz of 12 suue They ranged the western coast of Ireland, turned Scotland, and, eruisling of Flamlwrough Head descried the British merchant theet from the Biltec, under the convoy of tho serapis of t guns and the Countess of Scarbomughof 20 guns An hour after sunset, on the 23d of September, the Serapls, having a great superiority to atrength, engaged the Poor Relihard.' Puuif Jones after suffering exceedlagly in a contest of a hour and a half withln nusket-shout, bore doma upon hils adversary, whose anchor the homked to his own quarter. Tho muzales of their gung touched each other's sitles. Joncs couih1 use only three nine-pounders hestie minskets froum the round tops, but eomhustlbie niatters wern thrown lnto every part of the Seripisis, which was on firo no less than ten or tweive tilinea Thero were moments when both ships wre on fire. After a two hours' conflict in the lint wate of the inglit, the Serapls struck lts tug. Jones raised hls pendant on the eaptureel frigate, and tho next day had hut tlme to triassfer to it bis wounded men and his erew before the $P$ wot Rlehard went down. The French friyate end guged and eaptured the Countess of Scarliwruyth The Alliunce, whieh from a distance lad raked the Serapls during the action, not without injurlog the Poor Rlchard, hadd not a mant injurat On the fourth of Oetober the squairon entered the Texel with its prizes. The Britixh amhasudor, of himself and agaln under lustructions reelaimed the eaptured British slipy and their erews, 'whol lad been taken by the pirite Paul Jones of Scotland, a rehel nuld a traltur.' 'There: ho insisted, 'are to be treated us pirites whice letters of maryue lave not emanated from s soverelgn power.' The grand pensiwnary would not apply the name of pirate to onlivers iearnas the conmissious of congress. In spite of the stailhoider, the squadron enjoyeci the protectuan of a neutral port." G . Bancruft, hixt. of the $t$. $S$. (Author's hat ree.), e. $5, p$, sion
ALso in. A. S. Maekenzie Liff of Prul Jmeat ch. 8-9 (r. 1)- Life ambl Curr. if John Pamb fonce, pp. 170-235-W. C. Bryan and S. B Gay, Ropuher llist of the $U^{\text {. s. }}$. r. 3, ch, 24
A. D. 1779 (Septemher-October) - Unsanco cessful attack on Savannah by the Americans and French. -" The state of affairs in the suath had culleed so Imperatively for the atterntion of Congress that a portion of Wishininton's army had been detacleci to join General himuryib Whahington soilcteel inore powerful aill frim 1PEstaing, who then comnnulumel in the West Indies an ariny sntilclently puwerfuif to crush cutirely the English in (teorgia. 'Thr' Fruach udinlrii recelved thls applisatioul just after hinving fought a hard hatte agrainst (inumudere Byrou withinut any declsive result, yit such se orifigel the latter to go luto purt twreth. The former. lwelng thus for is thue matic of the sea determined at once to connply with the requet. took on brandi B,000 land tromps, und stemed direet for Savalunilh, where, arriving quite uns pectelly, he captured hy surprise a fiftr: gur ship anil three frigates. prownet :us waipery unprepured, having hils force lirohin up into detaeliments distributed aleng the frontier; tat

Savannah.

Continental Cwrency.

UNITED STATES, 1780.

klli'n infueane any of them un. ins, both Ameri. rench frigate of brig of 12 guma Ireliand, turned imorough llewd theet from the Serapis of 4 ugh of 20 guns of September, supuriority in I. Paul Jones, coutest of an hot, bore down the lanked to of theit gung acs coulid uie mushets from matters wefe serapis, which twelve tinta slips wite on the tivet match ts tlag. Jones di frigate, and unsfer to it his fore the Powt ch frigate eno f Scarluruygh nce hald riket without is jurmann injurel lawlron entered ritish ambass istructions, re ip.s andi their e ilrate Paul itur.' ' Thes, pirates whise matelif from a simarry would divers lesaring 1 yite of the the protection in. qf Pauldorne. aj John Pund ut and S. H. 3. लh. 24 ber . -Usancre Americass $\checkmark$ in the sinuth cattrotion of Huton's army (ral Lincto ful bid from in the West rful to crusb Thile French nit junt stiter 1 Cimmumite . $\mathrm{CH} \mid$ suct as In reftit. The I. Pof the sea, the request, unid sterend If quite unes - is liftegun :u: wev rety ken up lato fruntier. tut these belng lnstantly ordered in, oveyed with such promptitude that, before the French had landed and formed a junction with Llacoln, neuriy ail had arriver. On the 16 th of September, DEstaing appeared before the place and summoned it to surrenci.:- Prevost, under pretext of negotiation, ohtalned a suspenslon for twenty four hours, during whlch Colonel Maltind entered with the last and largest detach. ment eiuding the Americans by a route sup.osed impussahle; and the full determlation to resist was then announced. The opinlon of all military men now ls that D'Estalng was guilty of the most outrageous foliy lo not marching at once to the attack of the clty, without sumnion. ing the weakened garrison to surrender at ail. The surprise would have then been complete, and the victory sure. . . A regular siege was now commenced. Heavy ordnance and stores were bronght up from tho Heet, and the besieg. ing army broke ground. By the Ist of October they had pushed thelr sap witinin 800 yarls of the nbattis, on the left of the British lines. Severai batteries wero opened on the besieged, which played ainost incessantly upon their works, hut made no impression on them. The situation of DEstalug was becoming critical. More time has alreaiy been consmmed on the coast of Genglit than he had supposed would be necessary for the destruction of tine British force in that State. He leeame nacasy for the possesslons of Frauce in the West Iudies, aud apprehensive for the sufety of the ships under his connnand. Tire naral otllers remonstrated strenuously against longer expusing his tleet on an Insecure coast, at a teupestuous season of the year, and urged the danger of being overtaken hy a Britisi squadron when hroken and scattered by a storm." DEstaing accoriiugly decided that he must either raise the siege or attempt the enemy's works by storm. "The latter part of the aiteraative was mopted. . . . On the morning of the Qth of Octoler, before day, $\qquad$ nhout 3,500 French and 1,000 Anerlcans, of whom between Gito and iotl were regulars and the residue militia of Charleston, wivaneed lo three coimmns, led hy D'Estaing an! lincoln, aided hy the principal ofticers of both nations, and made a furious assault on the l3ritish ifues. Their receptlon was warmer thau had been expected. . . . Both the Fruch and Americans planted their standaris on the wails, and were kilied in great numbers While emlenvoring to force their way Into the works. For about tifty minutes the contest was extremely chstinate." Then the assaliants gave way anil a retreat was orlered. "In tinis unsuc. cessful nttempt the Freach lost lu kiifed and wounded about 700 men. Among tive latter were the Count D'Estalng himseif, Major Geacral be Fontanges, and several other ofthers of disilluctiou. The continentai troops lost 234 men, and the Charleston miitia, who, thougi asscriated with then in clanger, were more fortunate, had one captain killed and six privates Trumberi. Connt Puiaski was umong the siain. The loss of the garrison was ustonisiningly smail. In hilleif and wounded it amonnted oniy to 55 so great was the adrantage of tie cover afforled oy their works. . . Count D'Estaing, having committed a binneler at tive begimulng. had comfutred a worse blunder at the end, by lasistiug on the assuult, as unnecessary as it was rash. . . He [uow] insisted on ralsing the slegc, and both the French and American armies moved from thelr ground on the evenling of the 18th of October. D'Estaing salled for tie West Indles; and Lincoln reerossed the Savannah at Zuhiy's Ferry and agaln encamped in South Carollna: C. B. Hartley, Lifo of General Marion (Heroes and Patriots of tho South), eh. 11
Also IN: C. C. Jones, Jr., Hist. of Georgin, v. 2, ch. 20-21.-J. Sparks, Life of Puluaki (Library of Am. Bing., series 2, v. 4).
A. D. 1780 (January-April). -The gloomy winter at Morristown.- Depreclation to worthlessness of the Continental Currency.Consequent sufferings of the army and the country. - "The year 1780 opened upon a famlshlug camp. 'For a fortaight past,' writes Wasilington, on the 8th of January. 'the troops, both ofilicers and men, have been almost perish. lng with want. Yet,' adds he, feelingly, 'they havo borne their sufferings witi a patience that merits the approhation, and ought to excite the sympathies, of their countrymen.' The severest trials of the Revolution, ln fact, were not ln the fied, where there were siouts to excle and laurels to be won; but in the squalld wretchedness of 111 -provided camps, whero there was notining to cheer and everything te he endured. To suffer was the lot of the revolutionarytsoldier. A rigorous wlater had mueh to do with the aetuil distresses of the army, but the root of the evll lay in the derangement of the currency. Congress had commenced the war without ade. quate funds, aud without the power of imposing direct taxes. To meet presslng emergencies, it had emltted paper money, which, for a tlme, passed currently at par; hut sank ln vaine as further emisslons succeeded, and that alrealy in circuiation remained unredeemed. The several States arided to the evil hy eniltting paper in their separate capaclties: tihus tho country gradunlly becamo fiooded with a continental currency,' as it was called; Irredeemabie, and of no lntrinslc value. The consequence was a general derangement of trade and tinance. The conti nental currency declined to such a degree that forty doilars in paper were equivaient to oniy one in specle. Congress attempted to put a stop to this depreciatlon ly making paper money a legal tender, at its nomiuai vaiue, in the dis. charge of dehts, however contracted. Thls opened the door to knavery, and adided a new feature to the evil. The conmlssaric now found It difficuit to purchase supplies for the Immediate wants of the army, and linpossihic to provide any stores ln advanec. They were left destltute of funds, and the puliic credit was prostrated by the accumuiating debts suffered to remaln uncanceiled. Tioo chauges which had taken pince ln the commissary department added to this confusion. The cominissary-general, instead of receiving, as heretofore, a commisslon on expenditures, was to have a fixed salary in paper curreney, and his deputies were to be compensited in llke manner, wlthout the usual ailowanec of rations cad forage. No competent agents could be procured on such terms. In the present emergency Wasinington whs reluctantiy eompelled, hy the distresses of the army, to eull upon the countles of the State for supplies of grain and cattle, propurtiuned to their respectivo abilitles. . . . Wherever a compilance whith thls all was refused, the artleles required were to be impressed: It was a painful alternative, yet nothing else could save the army from dlasolution or starving. $\qquad$ As the winter advanced, the cold increased in severity. It was the most intense ever remembered ln the country. The great bay of New York was frozen over. The Insular security of the place was at an end.

UNITED STATES, 1780.

Washington was aware of the oppor. tuaity, winleh offered litelf for a slgnal 'coup do main.' but was not la a conditlon to proft by lt." -W. Irving, Life of iVushington, o. 4, ch. 1 aml 4. -" Paper for $\$ 8,000,000$ was Issued before any depreclation began. The lasues of tie separate colonles must have affected it, hut the popular enthuslusm went for something. Pelatlah Wehster, aimost aloae as It seems, Insisted on taxation, hut a member of Congress Incllgnantiy asked if he was to beip tax the people when they couid go to the jrintlag-office and get a cartlosd of money. In 1isis, when the deprenlutlon began, Congress took harsh measures to try to sustain the bills. Committees of safety also took measures to punlsh those who 'forestalled' or 'engrossed,' these belng the terms for specuiators who bought up for a rlse. . .. The enemy, perceiving the terrible harm the Americans were dolng themselves, thought it weil to help on the movement. They counterfelted the bllls and passed thens through the lines. At the end of 17,00 Congress was at its wit's ead for money. lts issues had put specle entirely out of reach. and the cause was in danger of belag drowned under the paper sea. . . . The French ailiance belped more by glving means of procuriag loans in Europe than by military assistance. Congress promlsed to limit its issues to $\$ 200,000,000$, and tried a new form of note; also loan offlees and lotterles. Over $3: 50,000,000$ were lssued In ail, but it is doubtful if more than $200,000,000$ were ont at any one tlme. In the spring of 1780 the bills were worth two ceats on the dollar, and then censed to circuiate. Siwecie now came $\ln$ to eircuintion, being lirnught be the French, and aiso that expended hy the Englisit pussing the ines. The pnoper whis now wortil more for nn adrertisement or a joke than for any prospert of ant kind of redemption. A harler's shop in Philhadelnila was papered with it, and a dors couted with tar, and with the bills sturk nll owir hilm, wns paraded in the strects" "W. G. Num ner. Hint. uf Am. Curreary. pm. 44-17.

Aıso is The same, The Fimauri, , met Fi$n$ inces of the Am. Rec., ch. 4 (r 1)-A. S Boiles, Minancial liunt of the U. S., 175t-1789, b1. 1. J. J. Knox, C'nited stutea Nötes, rh. 2-Sec, also, Money and banking, A. 1). 1975-1780.
A. D. 1780 (February-August).-The siege and capture of Charieston by the British. Defeat of Gates at Camden.-South Carcina subdued. - "After the fallure of the attack on Navanab was learned ly Slr Henry Cliaton, he selit $n$ large additioal force to the sonth. Rucinforcements were also sent ou to Lincoln, while the maln boriy of the American urmy went iuto withter quarters near Morristown, New Jersey. Nir itenry Clinton, ns soon as hils furces, which had been dlspersed by a storm, hari leen collected ut Savanah, proceeded to invest Charleston." lanillag inis troops on St. Jolu's 1sland in Fehruary. The blockadling of the port and operations for the investiment of the chy wror combuctell cantiously :n:1 with suceess. On the 12th of May, the Americm commander, Licueral Llncoln, "Hadlng himself lncapable of defending Charleston, declded on capltulatio and he acceded to the terms whlch the beslep had arst offered. The fortificatlons, shlppin artillery, and publle stores were all surreader The garrison, and all who hal borne arms, me prisoners of war. The milltia were allowed return home on parole. In the slege the Briti lost 76 killed, aad 180 wounded. The Amer cans about an equal number. The nrisonens, e cluslve of sailors, amounted to 5,618 , countio all the adult males of the town. To bring th country entlrely under suhfection, Clinton se forth three detachments. The first aad larges In the nortihern part of the State, was unde Lord Cornwallis. IIe detached Colonel Tarieto wlth his leglon of cavalry and mounted Infan try, to dlaperse Colonel Buford, then eacainpe near the North Carollna llne. [Buford] wa overtaken at the Waxhaws, and, on hls refusa to surrender, Tarleton made a furious charge a Buford's men, when some, In dlsmay, thren down thelr arms and asked for quarter, and som Ared on the enemy. After thls partial resistance no quarter was given. Coionel Buford, with few of the horse, and about $100 \operatorname{lnfantry}$. caped; 118 were kllied on the spot: 150 badly wounded as to be incapable of being moved; and 53 were brought away as prisonen The American offlicers deny (what the British 4 sert), that any who had laid down thelr arms had again taken them up. All further resistance to the eaemy In South Carollna and Georgla eems then to have ceased. The two other detach ments of the Britlsh army every where recelved the suhmission of the inhahltants, who either gave thelr parole not agaln to bear tras agaiost the kligg, or took the oath of allegiance. In proclamation for settilng the government, Ilenry Clinton required all to return to theis aliegiance on pain of belng treated as rebels an enemies. He then returned to New York, ken ing Lord Cornwalls In command, with 4 , 00 troons. . . . Lord Cornwallls, coasidering South Carolina as entireiy reannexed to Great Britain, wonld admit of no neutrailty among the lababi. tunts; but Insisted on thelr taking the oath of nllegianee, which, however, was generally taken with reluctance by the peopie of the lower country. - A conslderahle foree, under Baron de Kall, had been ordered for the Southern amp by Congress; but. for want of money, and s sufficeat Commlssary depnrtment, they were so deiayed In their march, that it was late in July lefore they reached Cape Fear iziver. Here they were Joined hy General Gates, who had beeu appointed to the command of the soutbera army. The men of thls detarhment, lilfed, suffervd greatly from dysentery. In south Carolina, Gates was joined by Portertield's Vir glala regiment, Rutherfori's eoris of Xorth Carolina militla, and Armaud's leglon. Gates lavlag under him about 4,000 men, of whom the regulars were less than 1,000 , took post int Clerinont. As the force of the Ameri cuns was dinily lnerensing, Cornwallis, haring nuder him about 2,000 men, of whom 1,900 were regulars, decided on uttacking the Anerkan army. It so happened, that the period chosen by Cornwaliis to surprise Gates. was the very moment in which Gates proposed to surprise bil adversary; and thus the adranceri corps of buti arniles unexpectedly met at two oichick in the mornlng [Aug. 6, near Camden]. After some on capituistiog; ieh the besiegen tions, shipping, aii surrendend. borne arms, were were siliowed to sjege the British d. The Ameri. he prisoners, es. 5,618, counting . To bring the on, Ciinton sent first and iargest, late, was unde? Coionei Tsrletoo mounted infan. then enesmped [Buford] i, on his refusal Irious charge on dismay, threm uarter, and some artini resistance, Buford, with 00 infantry, esle spot; 150.30 pable of being pay as prisoners the British ar. their arms had ber resistance to 1 Grorgis seems other detach. where recelved nts, who eithe? ur tras against jiegiance. in a overnment. Sis retirn to theis ed ss rebels and Tew York, lear. end, with 4,000 nsidering South Great Britain, ong the inhsbi. ng the oath of gencraily taken the lower coun. miler Baron de Southern ampy moner, and a , they were so vas lute in Juls liver. Here intes, who had of the southern lument, ill•fed, $y$. in South urtertiedd's Vis. rrjs of Sorth 3 liggion. 4.000 men of an 1,000 , took of the Ameriwullis, haring 10m 1,900 were lle American jeriod chosen was the very to surprise bis corps of buth o'coreck in the After some shrmishing, in which the British seemed to have had adecided advantage, both parties suspended thelr operations tili the morning. On the first onset of the British, the Virginia militia umber General Stevens fled with precipitation, and were foliowed by the infantry of Armstrong; and, except Coionei Dixon's regiment, the whole South Caroilna division foifowed the example. Very few of the militia of either State dischargeds single musket. Gates was lorne away by the torrent, and, with General Casweli, retreated to Clermont, in the hope of coliecting a ufficient number of tine fugltives to cover the retrest of the reguiars; but tike hope was vuin. He was fuin to procced to Ililishorough, to eoncert the future jisn of operations. Thus ieft with an inadequate force on the field, De Kaih made a stout resistance; hut in an impetuous charge he feil, after having received tweive wounds. Ills troops were then unahie to raily, and their discontiture was complete. Their losa, in kilied, wounded and prisoners, could not have beeu iess than 1,000 men. The British lost 895 men. Just before the action, Sumter inad captured a convoy, and made 200 prisoners; but was subsequently surprised hy Tarleton, wino recaptured the stores, kilied 150 , and took 300 prisoners. Sumter escaped with difficulty. There was no longer any armed Ameriean force in South Carolina, and Cormwalils resorted to energetic means of preventing disaffection. Aif those who were found in arms after they had suhmitted to British protection were considered as having forfeited tineir lives, and severai of them were hung on the spot. But these severities, instesd of their intended effect, produced a strong reaction; and Sumter was able to eolleet a new force, with which lie greatiy sanoyed the north-western purts of the State."-G. Tueker, Hist. of the U, S., ch. $3(c, 1)$.

Amp in: " Ramsey, Ifist. of \& Camolina, vet. i(r. 1). - $\quad$ Lee, Memoirs of the Warin the Suthern Jhept., ch. 17.-F. Bowen, Life of Benj. Lincoln, ch. 5.
A. D. 1780 (Juiy), Fresh heip from France. -The arival of Rochamhemu and his army, with a feet.-"In Fayet te's second risit to his native country [1779], was most opport une. Ile arrived in l'aris at the moment when the war for the Indepemdence of America was in high popiisrity throughout France. Ile was put in arrest a week for fils disolvedience to the order not to ieare Frunce, but this was a mere formality. Vergennes reccived himin private. Ilis example had roused the spirit of the French nobies. The stage resouuded with his appiauses. Crowds followed hls steps, Maric Antoinette, wlth her quick, enthusiastie spirit, joyed at his distinetion. The council of state, the Parifament, the towns, the corpontions mingied in the nohie excitement. The 1 loyaj Treasury was assured support by patriotic offers of contributions, and then was formedi the auxilinry army that was to bear suceor to America. This public enthusiManrepass und wer the hesitating reluetance of Mairepas, and the economical prudenee of Nerker. The army, placed under the command of the veteran ilochambeau, commended for his stentiness, wisiom, ability and prudence,' a pupil of tha Marshal tre Rrlle Isle, distinguished In frequent service, was to be composed of 6,000 troups. Among these shone forth the inost briiilant of the uobility." $-\mathbf{J}$. C. Hamilton, IIist. of the U. S., as traced in the Writings of Alem. Hamilton, ch. 20 (c. 2). " La Fayette . . . made the ministers understand that if ho was not piaced in command of the expedition, which would surprise the Americans, at least it was imperative to plsce over it n Frenein general who would eonsent to serve under the A merican commander.in ehief. But he knew weil that his old companions in arms in Franee were jeaious of his rapid military fortune and hriliant reaown. Ife knew stili better tiant the olfieers who were his seniors in rank would be unwiliing to serve under him. His first proposition, therefore, waa only mnde to satisfy pubile feeling in America, whici left the inumgement of this afair nimost entirely in his hanis. In view of the serious dilfenlties that necessarijy would resuit from the anopition of such a lecision-diffleuities that might luve most disastrous consequences for tife canse to which he had devoted himseif - he promised to make the Americans understand tint he had preferred remaining at the head of one of their divisions and that he liai refused the eommand of tie Freneh forces. But he insisted uponthis point, that. in order to avoid wounding tite self-respect of the Amerieans, it was indispensahie to ehoose a general to command the expedjtion, whose promotion had been recent and whose talents were eertainiy equal to his inission, but who, considering this mission as n Ilistinction, rould consent to ackuow ledge General Wasinington's supremacy. The eliolee that was made, under these conditions, of the Count de Rociam. beal was perfectiy satisfactory to him, and, witiout waiting for the departure of the expesdition, ise emharkerl nt loochefort, on February the 18 tin, 1780 , on board the frigute Ilermione, which the king fad given him as being n swift sailer.
lie was anxions to inform IVashington of the goon news himseif, and immedinteiy upon his innding at Boston, on Aprij the esth, lie hastened to Morristown to rejoin his well-beloved and revered friend, as he caijed him in lis letters. . . General Ieath, who commanded the militin in the State of IRhode lstani, nunonnced on the 1 itil of July, the arrivnl of tho Frenein squadron to Generif Whasington, wio was then witin his staff at Bergen. La Fayette set ont aimost immediateiy, provided with instruetions from the eommanifer-iu-chief, dated the 15 th, to repair to the Frenel generaj and admiral to confer with then. For some time Washington had been considering a plan of offensive operation for the eapture of the eity and the garrison of New lork. This pian, which conformed with the wishes of the Freneh government, was only to le earried out upon eertain conditions. First, it was necessary that the Freneh troops shouid unite witi the American forces, and, secondly, that the F'reneh should have n hivai superiority over the forees of Aifmirais Graves and Arhutinot, who had effected their junction at New York the day after the arrival of the French at Newport. This fast condition was fir from being fuitilied. . . . It had been foreseen that the Englisit, who had roncentrated their iand and naval forces at New York, would not give the Freneln time to estahJish themseives on Rhode Island: and Washingtou fulormed Toxdambeau that sir lieury Ciinton wus embarking jifs troops and woulit come shortiy to attack the forces of the expeditlon with the squadrons assembied under the command of Admiral Arbuthnot, Which were anchored at Bandy Hook, beyond New York, it the mouth of the Hudson River. The American general watched these movements, and, while he gave irequent information to the French of the projected attack upon them, he tried to prevent It. At the same timc, Washington crossed ho Hidson above Weat Polnt with tho greater part of his iroops, and proceeded to Klag's Brige, at the northern end of the island, where he made some lnostile demonstrations. Thia manceurre detalned General Clinton, who had already embarked elght thousand men upon the ships of Arhuthnot. He ianded his tronp and gare up his project. Neverthcicss, the English admiral set sall and appeared before Rhode Ifland with eleven ships of the inne nad in few frigates, twelve days after the French had landed On August the 0th, when La Fayetto had returned to the headquarters of Washington, which were at Dobb's Ferry, ten miles above King's Bridge, on the right bank of the North River, he wrote to Rochambeau and de Ternay an urgent dispatch, in wilch he finished, in the name of tho American general, by proposing to the Frenci gencrals to come at once to attempt an attack on New York. On the other hand, the as courler brought a letter from Washing. ton which made no meation of this project, but which only replled by a kind of refusai to the request of Rochambeau for a conference, 'wherela In an hour of conversation they could agree upon more things than in voiumes of correspondence. Washington anid with truth that he did not dare to leave his army in front of New York, for it mlght be attacked at nny moment, and that by his presence he prevented the departure of the large londy of the Englisi forces that inlght have been sent agninst Rhode Isiand. Indeed, It is certain that if some differences had not arlsen between Generai Clinton and Adimiral Arbutionot, the French might have found themselves in a dangerous position at the beglaning. From the earliest letters exchanged upon this occasion some discord resulted hetween La Faycte, Itochambeau and Wasilington, but nwing to the good sense of lRochambeau, mat; -noon sinoothed over. IIe wrote in Englisis is the Amerlcan general to ask him thereafter to address himself directly to him, and to expinin the reasons thint induced him to postponc assuming the offenslve. At the same time he urgentiy requested a conference. From that moment the relations betwen the two leaders were excelient. The mere presence of the French squadron and army, though they were still paralyzed and really biockaded by Admiral Arbuthnot, hat effectedi a usefui diversion, since the English had not been abie to proft by ali tice advantages re. sulting from the capture of Charieston, and, Instead of carrying on operations in the Carolinns with superior forces, they had had to bring the greater part of them back to New lork." T. Bulch, The French in Amerias in the War of Indepenilener, ch, 10-11.

ONITED STATES, 1780.

A. D. 1780 (August-September), - The Treason of Benedict Arnoid. -"Washington contemplated the aspect of affairs with the greatest alarm. Donbtful if the army conid be kept together for another campnign, he was cx. efedingly anstous to stralise sorre decisire blow. He proposed to liochambean, commanding the French troops at Newport, an attack upon New York; but that was not thought fcasible withou a ataperior naval force. Letters were ant the Freach admiral In the West Imipy entreat lag astatance; and Washington prescntly pro ceeded to Hartford, thero to mect locimmbenu to dev: - some definite plan of ppemtions During Washington's absence at liartford plot came to 11 ght for betraying the important fortress of West Polnt and the other juwis of the Ilighiands into the hands of the enemy, the traitor belng no other than Arnoiil, the mrat briliant officer and one of the nuowt honomet in tive Amerlcan aring. The qualities of a brillian aoldier are unfortunately often quite distion from those of a virtuous man und a fown chti. zen.

Placed in command at 1'hilmiciphia, he [Arnold] ifved In a style of exirura. gance far beyond his means, and inc endeavored to mustain it by cntcriag into privsteering and mercantile speculatlons, most of which proved unsuccessful. He was even accused of perrertIng his millitary antionty to purposer of private gain. The compiaints on tils point, made to Cougress by the autionitles of Pennsylvania, had been at first unheeded; but, being proserty brought forward In a solcinn manner, and with some appearance of offended dignity on the part of the Pennayivania counch, an hiterview tuxis place between a committee of that body and a committee of Congress, which hui resuled in Armold's trial by a court martial. Though acquitted of the more serlous charges, on two polnts he had been found guilty, ani had beeta sentenced to be reprdmanded by the commander in-chief. Arnold citimed agianst the lobited States a large balance, growing out of the us. settled accounts of its Cunadn expedition. This claim was greatiy cut down by the trowury off. cers and winen Arnold appealed to Congrese, a conmittee reported that more had been allowed than was actualiy due. Mortlifed nud sutred, and comphining of pubile lagratitude, Iruold attempted, but without success, to gut a loan from the Freuch mindster. Some nonths before, he had opened a correspondence witl sir ilenry Ciinton under a feigneri name, carried of through Major Andre, uljutant general of the Britisi army. IIaving at length made himself known to his correspondents, to glve importance to his treachery, he solicited nnd obithaid frmm Washington, who hat every coufldinte in him, the commund in the Itighinads, with the wery view of betraying that important persition into the hands of the eneiny. To armuge the turms of the bargaln, in litcrview wis neromarr with some conthientlal I3rtisis ngent: and Indre, though not without reluctince, finilly volustecred for that purpose. Severif previous attempts having faiced. the British si(x)p-of.was Vulture, with Andre on board, ascomled the IIudison ns fire as the month of ('rutun lifere. some miles below King's Ferry. Information being sent to Arnokl unice n thag, the avening after Wasinington left West looint for llartfond he dispatened a bout to the Vuiture, which toth Andre on sione, for an interview oa the west side of the river, just beiow the Ameriman lines. Horning nppeared before the arrimgrements for the leetrayai of the fortress could be definitely completed, and Andre was riluctantly per: sumbed to come within the Americha lines, and to remaln till the next nigit at the lonse of one Smith, a dupe or tool of Arnolid's, tile same who had been employed to bring Aadre from the ihlp. For mome reamon not very clearly ex. plalned, 8 mlth decllned to convey Andre back to the Vulture. $\qquad$ Diven thus to the neces. slty of returning hy Innd, Andro Inid aside his unform, ssamed in cltizen's dress, and, with a paes from Araold In tho name of John Anderson, anme which Andre bad often used In thelr prevlons correapondence, he set off toward sun. wet on horneback, with Smith for n guide. The'g cmssel King's Ferry, pansed all tir Amertcan guards in safety, and spent the night near Crom Pond. With nn acyunintance of Bmith's. The next morning, having pnased Pinc's Bridge, across Croton River, Smith * it Andre to pursue his way nlonc. The road led through a diatrict extealling sonic thirty miles above the island of Xew York, not included in the lines of elther army, and thence known as the "Neutral Grount, 'n populous and fertile region, hut very much lafested by hands of pluaderers called 'Cow Boys' and 'Sklnners.' The 'Cow Boys' lived whinh the IBritish lines, nad stole or bought cattic for the supply of the British nemy. The rendezvous of the 'Skinners' was within the Amerlcan llncs. They professed to be grent patriuts, making it thelr ostensthle huainess to plualer those who refused to take the onth of alleglance to the State of New York." On the morning of Andre's journey, the roal to Tarrytown, on whlch he roide, wns belog guarded by a small party of men, who watched for cattle thleres, and for susplcious travr'ers gencrally. Three of these interccpted the u. iortunate young ofticer and ilscovered hls chnracter. Arnold re. ofticer and dlscovered hls chnracter. Arnold recelvel intellyence of what had happened in time to make hif escape to the Vulture. André was examined before a board of which Lafay. ette, Stcuben and Greene were members, and on his owa statements was executed as a spy. The smpathy with hifin was very grcat, among Americaus as wcll as among hls own countrymen; lut lenity In the ease appeared too danger. ous to Washlugton and his mliltary advisers. -R. Hillrcth, Flint. of the U. S. ch. 41 ( $\mathrm{v}, 8$ ). Atsu IN: W. Irving, Life of Washington, 0.4 , ch. 2, i, and 9-11.-13. J. Lossing. The Tico Spics-J. Sparks, Life and Treason of The Thedict Arnoll (Library of Am. Biog., r. 3, ch. 8-15).-W. Sargent, Life of Jfajor John André, ch. 11-21. I. I. Arnoll, Life of Benediet Avnold, ch. 13-18. 1. II. Suith, Avthentic Farrative of the Causes which led to the Denth of Mijor Audré-B. J. Lissing, Fi,lh.how if the Rev., v. 1, ch. 30-32. Sec. alve. West Point.
A. D. ${ }^{1} 7^{80}$ (August-December).-Partiaan Wariare in South Carolina. - Sumter and Marion.-A name " which recalls thrililng tales of desperitc enterprise, surprises at midnlght, suddea attacks in the gray twllight of morning, lurking-places in the dicpths of forests, restless actlvity. and untiriug persevcrance, is the name of Thomas Sumter. Tie comes before us tall, rigorous, dmantless, wlth a bold bearing, and imperious brow, stern to look npon, fierce in his celf.will, arrogant in lils decislons, tenacious in his prejulicr's, resolute and vigorous in the exccution of his own plans, remiss and almost lukewarm in carrying out the plans of others. Born In sumth Caruling just as that colony had pussed trom the control of the Proprietarles to the condecidetl step towards passing out of the the first decided step towards passing out of the Union.

Little has been preserved of his early life, al. though his subsequent carecr in the genate of the United Siates proves tlint he was not dol. clent in education then, wherever or whenever acquired. In the Revolution he took nn earl part, and soon made himself conspleuous as a bold and enterprising ofticer. But fo was not till after the siege of Charleston that him talents were brought fully Into play. Then at the head of a body of volunteers he moved rapldly from point to point, keeplng alive the hopes of the Whiga and the fears of the Tortea In the reglons watered hy the Broal River, the Ennoree, and the Tiger.

IIfatory, like tradition, has her farorito chnracters, on which the dwells wlth peculine fondncss, delfghting herself in preserving the memory of every exploit, and giving the brightest thels to every clrcumstance connected with thelr carecr. . Of these chlldren of $n$ happy star, no one holds In our Revolutionary history the same place as Francis Marion. Ifis story, irregularly told hy a friend aud companion, took an enrly hold upon the lieart of the people; and tho romnntlc trafts of his cnreer, warming the fmnglnation of a great poet, have been reconded in beautiful verse. Impartial judgment and sober research have left his own laurels unimpaired, although they lave disaipated the halo Which tradltlon and fancy had shed nround his men. IIls IIfe forms one of those pictures upon Which the mind loves to dwell, from the singular combination of rare qualities wblch it dlsplays. IIl anceators were IIugucnot exiles, who took refuge in South Cnrolina, from the dragonnades of Louis XIV. His father was n planter near Georgetown, who, portloning out his estate to hils chllijren as they come of age, had nothlng left for Francls, the youngest, and his next nearest brother, while they were yet children. At slateen Franels found himself compelied to choose a pursult for hls support. With only a common English cducation, nnd no money to cariy hin throngh the preparatory coursen, he could nelther he a physlcian nor a lawyer. Ife resolved to be a kallor, and started upon a royage to the West Indles. But hls shlp was burnt In a gale, and after tossing about cight days In an open boat, without water and with nothing hut the raw flesh and skin of a single dog to eat, and seeing several of lis companions dle of hunger. he, with the starving surFivors, were rescued, barely nlive. He renounced the sea, returned to Georgetown, and engaged in farming. The Cherokee war of 1759 found him hard at bls work. IIc was now twenty.six, small in frame, low in stature, hut vigorous, actlve, and healthy. By nature he was taciturn and retlcent, with nothing in the expression of hls face to sttract or linterest a casual ohserver, but stil] Inspiring contidence and commanding respect in those who were hrought into intimate relatlons with him. When, therefore, a company of volunteers was ralsed to servo against the Indlans, he was chosea lleutenant. In a second expeditlon, which soon after became nccesaary, le was made captaln. Next came the War of Independence ; and Joining the first South Carolina levies, be was presently made a major: and With thla rank tonk part in the gallant deffise of Fort Noultrle $\ln 1776$. IIs next promotion was to the command of a reglment as lieutcnantcolonel. During the sicge of Charliston bis leg was accidentally broken, a lucky accident, whleh

UNITED STATES, 1780 . Xing's Mowntain. UNITED STATES, 1780-1781.

left him free when the elty feli, to engage in an adventurous syatem of warfare which was the oniy ponalhie system In that low state of our for: tunes. In the conrse of this he was promoted by fovernur lutimige to a lulgalienhip. When he Arit apprarmi in Cates's camp, he had but twenty men with him, or rather twenty between men and lxys. Home of them Werc negroen. With theme he remelued 150 of the priwoners of Camden, eoming ${ }^{n}$ jom the Fritish earvort by aur. prime anif werpowering it. Eariy in theptember a texiy of gun Tories attempted to surprive lim. Ile hal bis men wlth him when he heard of their Intention, and inatantiy setting forward, surprimed an a Ivance party of 43, kliling or woundfog ail hut 15 , anl then attacked the main lmily of 200, and put them to fifgit. Before the end of the montil lie surpriser] anoticer lexiy ol 60 men; and in Octolner one of 200 . IIIs force was eon. stantiy fluetuating lectween 20 men aud 70 . E'p to the INtil of October he inal never hail over fo. They went and cume an they chose, their numberever elbling and flowing fike the tide. Sometimes the very men who had fought with him were ranged in arms mgniast him: a few oniy serving from ionest achif und true love of country. . . As his siemier furm conmenied a lion heart, so under bis cold, intiassive face, there Was n perjectual glow of tender sympathies.
Withuit elaiming for Marion tione powern of combination which lelong to the higheat onder of iullitary genius, he must be allowed to bave excelion in ail the qualitieg which form the consummato partivan, - vigilunce, promptitude, netivity, energy, dmantiess conrage, and unshaken self-entitol.

Two principies contrisiled all his retions, and siaped ail his endis; the love of commtry. pure, carnest, und profomm; the lowe of right, sincere, madeviating, und in: eorruptible. "-G. W. Greene, life of Giathonnel Grene. bi. 4, ch. $7(c, 3)$. -"The other partisans imi been eompeiled to take refuge in the monatuins. Marion found fils security in the swamps. This abie partisan maintained his ground beiow and aiong the Sanke river, and managed, anong the dedfeg nod awamps of that region, to eluite ail the netivity of his en?mies. His force had lreu coilected chictly nnoug fis own belgiboors, were practised in ties swamps. and familiar with the country. like Sumiter, utteriy unfuraighed with the means of war at first, he procured them by siminr means. Ile took possession of the suws from the milis, and converted thetu into salires. So much was he distressed for ammunition that he fias engaged In battle when he fiai not three rounds of powder to eaci man of his party. . . Various were the means emploved to draw of or airive away his foilowers. The fouses on the hasks of the Pedee, Lyneln's Creek, and l3lack river, from whence they were elifefly taken. were destroyed hy fire, the piantations devastated, and the negroes carried awny. But the effect of this wan. tonness was far uther than lind heen intended. Revenge and despair eontirmed the patriotism of these ruined men, and strengthened their resolution. . . . For months, tikir only sheiter was the green womi and the swamp-thelr only cover the hroml forest and the arch of heaven.

Witha policy that nothing could distract $\overline{T a}^{4}$ enntion that mo aritice could mishead Marion fed his foliowers from thicket to thicket la safety, nad was never more perfectiy secure than when he was in the nelghhorinood of Mif foe. He fung umon hin fianke along the march - ho akirt d his camp in the darkaces of the night - he lay In walt for his fornging partier he sliot down his mestries, and, fylag or adran. cing, he never faite! to harase the fivauifr, atod extort from hlm a blowly tuil at every paxare through swanip, thicket, or river, which bia smalier parties madi. In thin sort of warfare whieh la pecuifariy adapted to the preulantien of the country in Camina, and conmeducntly to the genlus of her peopie - he contriverl slamen wholly to lareak up the British communleation hy one of the mont eligihie routew Invwren the eraboard and the interior. "-W. G. Slams, Hine of S. Ciumlinu, bk. 8, ch. 6.
Also in: C. 33. Ilartley, Life of lien. Franis Mrimion (Iferos and I'utriofs of the Shuth), eh, It 13. -W. Q. Simms, life of Prancin Yirion, IIorry and Weems, Lifo of Mirion.
A. D. $1780-178 \mathrm{E}$. - Vermont as an Indepes. dent State neyotiating with the Britigh. Set Vermont: A. 1, 1781.
A. D. 1780178 B -Greene'a campaiga in the south. - King's Mountain. - The Cowpens. Gullford Court Houne.-Hobkirk's Hill.-Ey taw Springs. - The British shut up in Charles "After his victory at Camden to Virginia"After his vietory at Camden, lori cornvallis found it nceessary to give his nrmy moue rest from the intense. August heat. In Nrptemier be advance' into North Carolina, boastiug that be would soon conquer ail the states santh of the Busquehanna river.

In Iraversing Mecklea. burg county Cornwailis soon found himself in a very hostile and dangerous region, whese there were no Tories to ixefriend him. One of his bet partiman commanders, Major Fergason, pesetrated too far into the mountnias. The inchwomlsmen of Tennessee and Kenturky, the Camlinus, and western Virginia were apoased; and under their superh partisan leaders-Sheiby, sevier, Cleaveland, MeDowell, Camphell, sod Wiliams-gave chase to Ferguson, who thok refuge upon what ine deemed an impregable position on the top of King's Mountaln On the 7th of Oetolver tive b.ckwoonlsunth stormed the mountain, Ferguson wus sinot through the heart, 400 of his men were kilied ani wounded, $r-1$ ail the rest, 700 in number, surrendered at $\therefore$ is retion. The Americans lost 28 killetl and 00 aded. . . . In the series of eveats whichled che aurrender of Cornwalis, the battle of ung's Mountain played a part similar to that played by the battle of Benniugton in the seria of events which led to the surrender of ljurgogae. It was the enemy's first serious disaster, sad lis immediate result was to check hls progress until the Americans could muster strength enough to overtinrow him. The events, fiowever, were much more compilicated in Corawnilis's case, and took much longer to unfold themselves. As soon us in heard the news of the disaster be feli back to Viansborough, in South Carolias and called for reinforeements. Winie they wete arriving, the American army, recruitel nad $n$ organized aince its crusing defent at Camden. advaneed into Mecklenhurg count!̣. Gates was superseded by Grecere, who nrrived upon the scene on the ad of Deermber. Vimier Girene wete threc Virglainns of remarkable abilty,-Ihand Morgan; Wiliiam Washington, wio was n distant cousin of the commander-In-ehict; and Henry horhood of bin long the mand arkneme of the gligg parien ligg ir adrao. e liviaiers, and every pasant er, whitch his of warlare e perullartites (nnerpunentiy to ntriverl almost mununications 4 lutwren the Slums, llia.
(ien. Arannis Swith), eh, it acis Marion. Britiah. se

Le, famillarly known as 'Light-horse Ilarry. futher of the grent genernl, Robert Eidwand Lee. The litile mrmy numbered only 2.000 men, but a cenasiderable part of them were diselplined vet. erana, tully a match for the Britiah Infantry." To lorerese thia amall force, Bteuben [Baron steuben, the milltary organizer ami dleciplinarian of the levolutoanry armien, -wee abovi: A. D. [ifi (Jancary-Decembin)] wal ment down to Virginia, for the purpowe of recrulting and organizing troope. Thereupon detaciments from the British army at Now York were dixpntelied by sea to V'irglala, and Arnold, the traltor, wha diven command of them. "The prewence of thewe subuldlary forcea In Virginia was enson to toflueuct in a decisire way the course of events. Greene, on reachlng Soutn Carollna, actel wlth boiliuess and originality. Ile divided his ilttle army Into two budies, one of whlels cooperated with Marionit partisins In the northenstern part of the state, and threatened Cornwalls'r communications with the coast. The other tonly he sut under Morgan to the mouthwent ward, to threaten the infiand poasts and thelr garrimins. Thus worried om both tlauks, Corn waills presently dividel his own force, mencling Tarleton whth 1.100 men to dispose of Morgan. Tarleton came up with Morgan on the 18 th of January, 1881, at a grazing ground known as the Cowpens, not far frum King's Mountaln. The battle which ensied was well fought, and on Morgnn's purt h was a wonderful plece of taetles. Whith only 200 men in open flell he surfounded and neariy annilialatell a superior force. The British lost 230 in killed and wounded, 000 prisoners, and ail their guns. Tarleton eacaped with 270 men. The Americans lost 12 kilied and 61 wounded. The twe battics, King's Mountain and the Cow. pens, deprived Cornwallis of nearly all his light. armed troups, and he w just entering upon a game where $s$ wlftness $\rightarrow$ especlally required. It was his object to inth apt Morgan and defeat blm tefore he could effect a junction with the other part of the American army. It was Greene'a object to march the two parts of ha army In converging directions northwards across North Carolina and unlte them in aplte of Cornwalls. By moving in this direction Greene was always gettlag nearer to his reinforcements from Vlr. ginia, while Cornwaliis was always getting further from his supports in South Caroiina. The two wings of the American army came together and were jolned hy the relnforcements ; so that at Guilfort Court Honse, on the 15th of March, Cornwalils found himseif ohliged to tight against henvy olds, 200 miles from the coast nad almost as far from the nearest polat la south Curolina at wilch he could get support. The battle of Guilforl was adnilrathy managed hy both comnianders nod stubbornly fouglat by the troops. At nightall the Britsh held the tield, with the lass of ncariy one thirll of their number, and the Americans were repulsed. But Coruwallis cmuld not stay In such a place, and could at alfur! to risk mother battle. There was nothing for hins to do hit retreat to Whaling. ton, the nearrst point on the coast. There he stoplual aud perndered. His own force was sadiy dupleted, b:* he knew that Arnold In VIrginfa \%is lride icavily reinforced from New York. The onily safe conirse seemed to nuarch northward ad toir the operations ln Vlrginia; then after. wavis te returu southward. This course Cornwallis pursued, urtiving at feteralurg and taking command of the troopm there on the sthti of May. Meanwhile (ifcene, nfter pursulag Cornwalls for about 50 milem from dulifori. faced almut and marehed with all speet upon Camden, 160 mlles dlatant. . . Lort trowiton hrid Camden. Greenes stopped at Il,ohkirkis Itiil, zwo milem to the nurl!, and went Maring amf La'e to take Fort Watmon, and thas rut the enemy is communieatlona with the comst. On Aprilea Fort Watson aurrentered; on the ghih Ilaw. don defentell Greene at IInlikirk'a Ilill, lami ros his conmunalcatons wers ent the vietory illd him no goxul. Ile wis ohliged to retrent toward the const, and Greene took Cameicuna the 10th of May. Ihaving thus ohtuined the conn. manding point, Greene went on until he had reduewd every one of the hilund posts. At linet, on the 8th of september, he fought an olstimate battie nt Enutaw springs, in whleh both sides clalmell the vletory.

Illere, however, as always after one of Oreene's hattles, it was tho enemy who retreated and he who purased. Ilis stratcogy never fallevl. After Eutaw sprhigy tho British remained whut up in Charirston under cover of thelr ships, and the American government was reesuhilished over South Carolinu. Among wil the campaigns in history that lanve been contlueted with smail armles, there have been few, If miny more brilliant tinau Grcene s.' -J. Fiske, The iliar of Inirpendence, eh. 7.
Also in: The rame, The Am. Ree., ch. If (n. 2)--II. B. Carrington, Duttles of the Am. Rer., ch. 65-:71.-G. W. Greene, Life of Juthunael Mountain and its Ileroes.-II. Lee, Memuirs of the Wir in tho Southern lept., eh. 18-34. J. Grahnm, Life of Gien. Demiod Morgun ch. 13-17.
A. D. 178 r (January). The Mutiny of the Pennaylranial:'ne.- As the year lisi ojened and the prosper a uew yeur of struggle became certaln, anu ahe Invaslon of the soathern States began to Indicate the prospect of a sonthern campalgn, which was at nli thmes unpopuiar with northern troops, a dlsaffectlon was developed which at last hroke forth lu open mutiny. and a peremptory demand for diseharge. Thits Irthation was aggravated hy hunger, cols, and poverty. Marshall says: 'The winter brought not much relaxation from toil, and none from suflering. The soidiess were perpetually on the polint of starvation. were of ten cullrely without food, were exposed without proper clothing to the rigors of whter; and had now served nimost twelve montis with ant pay.'. . . On the 1st of January the I'cnnsylvaniu line revolted; Captaln Billings was kitledi in as attempt to suppress the mutiny; General Winye was powerless to restore order, and 1.310 men, with slx guns, started to Princeton, whth the declared purpose tn march to Philadelphif, und obtain redress. They demanded clothing, the resldue of their bounty, and fuli arrears of pay. A committee from Con. gress and the Stnte authoritles of Penasyivanla at once contered into negothatons with the troops for terms of compromise. The American Com-mander-lu-chief was then at New Windsor. A messenger from General Wayne informed him on the 2 of Junary of the rewolt, find the terms demanded. It appears from Washington's letters that it was hls mpulse, at the first lotimation of the trouble, to go in person and attempt lis control. Ilis second Impresslon was to reserve his Influence and authorly until all other meman were exbausted. The complaint of the mutineers was lut a statement of the comblleton of ali the army, on far an the moldiefs limi werved three years: and the suffering and faliure to receive pay were absolutely univernal. Leaving the pratiminary dlecusalon with the civif authorites who were redponalble for much of the tpouble, Hue Commander in-chief appealed to the Gover. nors of the northern States for a force of militia to nur tany attack from New York, and decilned fo . M1e rfere untif he found that the pasaion had pasud and he could find troops who would at ail tis. ar! ! execute hin will. It whe one of the most dus.. panages in the war, and was on handled that th. Conmander-In-chlef rothined his phentige for! reg Ined control of the army. ... General in in leccived Information of the revolt as

' y ho. Vagington, on the morning of the 231. a I men inesmengert to the American army with 1 1) sit ans, focking to their return to Iritish :In....ns. He entirely mleconcelved the nature 111 Ifecton, and his agents were retalned in It is suthifiert to may that a portion of che . whinout critical exam.
 that maw , Juy roculisted, that as mon an unt st . i open mutlny, he used force and suppsete $1: i$ disaffectlon, nnd that the soldier therawe wy ! '7g several arente who brouglit propos: 'ons 'romy (henerai Clinton wiilch invited the? iv ahathou their flag and joln hls command. Tite muthy of the American nrmy nt the opealing of the compuign of 1781, was a natimal out. break which huninn nature could not reslst, and whatever of discredlt uray attach to the revolt, It will never be unamsolated with the fact that, While the emergency was one that overwhelined every military ohll gation hy fts pressure, It did not affect the fealty of the soldiers to the cause for which they took up arms.... La Fayette thits wrote to his wife, 'Iluman patience las its fimits. No European army wonlif sulfer the tenth part of what the Americans sulfer. It takez citizens to support hunger, nakedness, toll, and the total want of pay, which constitute the condltion of our soldlers, the hardlest and most patlent that are to be fonnd in the world. "' H. B. Carrington, Battles of the Am. Ievolution, ch. 67 .
Atso in: W. II. Egle, Kist. of Penn., ch. 12. -C. J. Stibé, M, Mor-Generul Anthony Wiyne, ch. 6.
A. D. ${ }^{1782}$ (January-May).-Benedict Argold and the Eritish in Virginia. - Opening of Lafaycte'a campaign in that state. -"In January. lisi, the bews renched headiguartira in the Ilighands of Sew Fork that lientora] [Benc. dict] Arnold had ianded In Virginia with a con. siderahle force, was inyiug wnste the country, and had already destroyed the raluabie stores collected at iklchmond; opposed to hlm were oniy the smatl commands of Steuben and Muhenberg. The situation was very alarming, and threateued to place all the Southern States in the hands of the British. If Arnold succereled in destroying the few American troops in Virginia, he could theu march to the assistance of CornWalils, who, with a superfor force, was pressing Geueral Greene ve jo hard In the Carollnas. To defeat or capture Arnold Lefore he couid further prosecute his designs was, therefore, of the utmost importance. For thls purpowe It wm necemary (1) wend a detachment from the rasia army agalnat Arnoid hy latad, and a maral fome to Chesapeake Hay in provent his emcapo by ors Whabington at onew communicated the atate of atialra to Jhehambeau, who, with the Preark flect, had long been iblockided at Finwart Taking edvantige nf the moproun injurle bately aufferel by the blockailag English flot to maty equuencu of a storm, Admiral inestourhes des patched M. de Tilly to the Chemapeake wlits ontre of the line and two frigaten. To cor) perate wwh these Ereach remols, Washington iettuched 1, ia) Ilght infantry frym tho maln army, ant] purd them under the command of Lafuyette. Tha offleer was particuiarly chomen for thils Imporant trust, becuume the contdence reposed in him by both the Americnn and French irowps inade blem in Wrathington's oplalon, the fittest pervon to conduct a combined expedition. Thus npered the only campaign in America which aflimed lafagette an opportunity to bhow what abilitims he poamemel an in indepenient comulnter, Mul on this campayn his inilltary reputather must chlefly rest. Latayetto movel raplily onuthward," to A nnapolla: but, the corperutiug movement of the Frencli fleet fisving, meantluc, ba frustrated by an attact froin the English wind. ron, his instructions recpuired hlut to abadina the expedition and return. Ile hal already met matroop in motion nurthwani wlan differnt Instructions remeled him. Two inve British regiments fud been sent to Virglula, undar Generai Philips, who now took command uf all the forces there, and this had increasenl the antiey of Washington. "The situation of the suather States had become extremely perlous Gimend Greene had aif he coulil do to tiglt 1. -i Comwalis's superfor force in North Camblinu. L'oless a vigorous opposition couid be malle fo lhillips, he would have no difiliculty in disw wing the militia of Vrginda, and in eflectlug is jumetho with Cornwallis. With their foree's mu cenmbent. the IIftish, wonill be masters In the south. Washinglun at once determlucel th plate the defence of Virginia in Lafnyetti's blitals Lafayette marcherd with ancli rapldity be reached lichmomi, where there wiph valud en stores to be protected, a day $\ln$ alymoo eral Philips. From lifa poast on the lwights. the town he saw the Britlah set Are to sav toharo Warelsouses nt Mauchester, just ste rows the river. hitt lawe were nelther men nor twata conough in make an attack posstble. Dhilips, oll linn part. was tixs buluch impressed with the show of streneth made by the Amerienas to prosecute hls phans on Itichumbal, aud retreating down the Janues river. hurnlug nnd laying wate as be went, he campai at ling lifuml Lafagethe followed, harassing the criemy'a rata, as far as the Chickahominy. liere the sit mition uader went a cramiderable chagge far! (aruwalis Greene in Sorth Carolina, male ul his mind that hiv exhansting labors there would prove unprotitalile: untif Firginla sh+ill be suhjugated. Mis nten Werc " rn out with incessard marchlog and fighting. .Ie no sthstantial al vantage had been guined. Heuriu that General Cumden in south Carolina, lee determined n join Phllps. That ottleer, necordingly, received orders while at Iog Isiand to take jussession of

L'NITED STATES, 1781.

cormmallia at Yoriblow

UNITED STATES, 1781.

Peraburg and there awalt Cornwallinin arrival On the 13th of May, Cleneral Philipa died at l'eternhurg of a fover Cornwalifa ey. fived at Preteraturg on the 20th of May. Illa forcen now smounted to over 5,000 men, which asmber was s(x)a Increawed to 8,000 ." $-\mathbf{B}$. Tuck erman, life of Lafiyette, eh. 6.

Almo IN: J. E. Cooke, Virgiain, pt. 3, ch. 17.
A. D. 1781 (May-October).-Corawaill in Virginla and the trap into which he fell.Siege of Yertstown by the Fresch and Amerl-cank-Surrender of the Britinh army.-" ()n the dith of May, Cornwallis, having reated hin tropps, marched from letersburg, and endeavored to enrege the Anurican for. .. . lunt Lafayette, havling removed the nillitary tore from lichmond, retreated acrows the Chlcia. bomlny to F'redericksburg, whe re he expected to Euret Crucral Winy ne and a battailon of Penneyl. pania troupa, whiont whose amiatance he could Bot venture any tifitlag. Corawallla mored leteren Lafayette and the towe of Allee. marle, whire had lnewn placed a great part of the millary storem from Rlefomomes. Which now of fume lafayr te hod recelvedfos exprected reenforcoment of Wiayne's Pennsylvanlone, and thue atrongthened fels able ta nsaume the offenslve. Haphily croselng the laphian be appronched clove to the British ariny which blocked the rowd to Allemurle. Xobling crold have better sulted Cornwallls, who prepared for a contlict in whinh be felt sure of a lecenve vechry, Lafayeste, bow 'wer, hat not lost alght the vital fenture of hiv campingn, - to protect the property of the Stafe vithout loslug has arisy. Throwich hls couts th diveovercy inn old ninised road to Ithemarle, bakuown to the encray. Whilfe Cornwallis was preparlog for battle, he find the rand ctearal, amb under corer of the night marehed biv uen throngh it antl took up n strong positlon Infore the towe. There he was joined by milttla from the weikhoring mountatra, and he showed so strong a front that the Brltlsh commander dad ont velumer ath attack. . The Britlsh com. mander, sif fir folled ln his olijeetn, land to march bark to Itichmond anl thence to W'illamshurg. arour the const, thus practleally abandonlng contenl over any part of Virglnin except where naval forcos gave possuswon. Lafayette of reted a junction with Huron stublen on the is: 1 of Jinc. and this lacrense flys furce to abont four thensand turss. The dmerlcans hud now become the pursuces instend of the pursuent, and followe il the lhrithah. harasslag thelr rear nud flanks "-13 Tuekerman, Life of cieneral Jafoy. the, $f$. 1 , ch. "- "There un wo cane a panse in the Virginia mpnipn. at lengt in dalfy operathons and cive ment- The state morti of the danes wat Whevell. Cornwalls erosol to the wath shlfe, ut Cobham, on the 7th [Julvl: and Lafavefte, retiring up the river, encamped shout dracilual as thas of the healthiest ant ?ave Wisteret spmota :at the state. . The intro Britist. aro was sum, after conceotra Purtar 1 hho and pregarations mude $\ell \neq$ trat, mot a comserderible prortion of it to F'u... ork. lat Suette matums lie, at Malvern II uld ot:
 te thtorremeuts to Greece, and askerl whatis might th : return to the Norther Vforian he

But whlle the marquin and Wahlngton and Cireene vere apeculathe on the future move. menti of Cornwallis and were perauaded, from embarkstions at Fortmouth, thint lue was to be deprived of a farge purt of his foree hy Clinton unexpected intelligenee canve to hand. Instend of any part golng to New York, the Britiah force anddenly male ta appearance. during the trat dayn in Augnist, at Yorktowe, on the Virginie penlasula, whlch it lad abandoned but three weeki before, llere agaln was a new altuation. Cornwalle, at luat, nt lorktown - the apot he Whe not to leave excrept as a prianer of war. Why he went there ls a simple explanatlou. Cilnton decliled, upon certain dlasenting oplalons ixpremsed ly Comiwalis reapecting the sltuation in Firginla, not to withdraw the force In the Chesa. prake whleh he had catled for, and which wat about to mall fir New York, but permitted Corn. walls to retaln the whole - all wlith which he hull been parmuing Lafayette and the large gar. rlom at Portanonth, a total of about seven thoumand, sank and Ale. His new famtruetlons, conveyoul at the ame thure, were to the effect that hla lardsh. p shoufif abindern 1'ortanouth, which buth generals agreed wins wo unheulthy for the troxps, and fortify Ohl Holnt Comfort, where Fort llouroe now stauds, as a mutal atn:-m fer the protect lon of the 13 ritish shipping. Ta aldf. then, If it apparand necesmary, for the lectter security of $f^{2}$ int, to oceupy Jorktown also, that was tu be doae. Obeylng these Instructlons Cornwnills orferesl n murvey of Ohl $1=1$ nt Cons. fort; lint, aj stio report of his emplocers, was ohilged to represent to Cllntost that it was whilly unfl and lardequate for a naval stntlon as It nfforded little protectlon for thips, and enuld not cominand the chamel, on mef ant of fis grent whith. Then, fellowing wha the befleved to be the spirit of fily orders, Corns itim, before liear ing fr in Clintun, moved up Vorktowr, and began to fortify It In connecth with Gloncester on the oppostit shore, as ife lrowt avallable noval statlon. Clinton made no subseribert objcetlons, nad there Cornwallis remantued whtll his sur rumler. [ils onen] tilen of the 1. . was slmply an luclilet af the rampulgn - a is ve taken for converiay and In the interes? of the navy und the hea 'h of hls commmnd." th. P. Johostub, The ) Alen Cismpuign, eh. 3- "The *sarch of 1 . rt Cornwallis fito Vlrghia was the as ernephate fir rhleli cnabled Gencral Wash igton 10 plat flielent offenslve. The re. 1 iteel cetachat itroopts from New York an a. asible Iesmene capaclty of lts garrison for extensi fichl vice at the north, that the Ar: rir Comir r.In chief determined to attar linat post, ust ins a secondary purpose, the to vert trolleral Cllaton from giving -rilur uhl troops in the Southern States. As mather of fact, th prudent conduet of the fas ala eumpalga eventually rallied to the sup. pore of General La Fayette an army. Including aullitia, narly as laree as that of Washington, and the tomlnal strength of the allled army near Yorbluwn, carly in September, was nearly or yitite as grent ns that of Cord Cornwnifls. There were other elements which, as in prevlous cram. [inlgns, hampered operations at the north. Tha aininhs were still tronblesome In Western New ork, and the Canadlan frontier contlnucd to de-maml attention. The Amerimn navy had prac. tically disagpeared. The surcity of money and a

UNITED STATES, 1781. The Springing of UNITED STATES, 1781.

powerless recrulting service, increased the diffeut the of carrying on the war $\ln$ a manner that wouid use to the best ndvantage the troops of Frunce The position of the American Commander in chlef at this time was one of pecuilar personai morthicaton. Appeals to State authoritles filled to fll up his army. Three thousand 11 les sian reluforcements had ianded at New York, and the government as well as himself would be cenipronised before the whoie worlif by fallure to meet the just demanis which the French nuxlllarics lend a right to press upon ink nttention Reilef came most opportunely. The frigate Concorile arrivel at Xewport, nad a reiteration of the purpose of Comint de Crasse to leave St. Bo nilngo on the 31 of Aligust. for the Chesapenke direct, was announceut by a speclal messenger. The possthilites of the future int once quickened him to immellate netion. With n reficence so close that the arny could not fathoni his plans, he re-orgunizetl his forces forn falwe demonstration agalust liew York ami a renl movenuent upon Yorktuwn. . . Letters to the Governors of northern States callerl for all as if to capture New York. Letters to Lat Fayette and the Count de Grasse enilxulletl such intimationa of his plans as would induce proper caution to prevent the escape of Lond Cornwailis, and secure transportation at Il 1 nad of Elk, Other letters to authorttes in New Jersey and Philadelpha, expressly detining $n$ plan of operatlons agninet New Fork via staten lsland, with the assumnee of auple naval sulpport, were exposed to intercepthon and fell Into the hands of General Clinton. As hate as the 19th, the rands leading to King's Bridge were eleurod of ubstrmethous, and the srmy was put In readiness to advance agalust New York Isiand. On the same day the New Jersey regiment and that of Colonel Hazen erossed the Iludson at Dobh's Ferry, to threnten Staten Ialand, and ostensibly to eover some bake houses which were being erected for the purpuse of giving coior to the show of operations against New fork. The plau of a large encanpment had been prepared, which embraeed Spring dell and the Chatham Pass to Morristown, and this was allowed to find its way to Clintor's heaiquarters. General Ileath was asslgned to comniand of the Iludsou-river posts, with two regiments from New Hanpphire, ten from Massachusetts, five from Connectleut, the Thirn artillery, Sheldon's dragoous, the Invalil corpa all locai compauies, and the nillita. The fol Inwlug forces were selected to accompany the Conimaniler In-elilef, viz., the ilght infantry under (olonel Scammel, four light conipunies frons New York and Connecticat, the Rhonke Island reglunent, under the new ariny estal)hislt ment, two New York reginents, that of New Jersuy and llazen's reglment, (the last two alreaily across the IIudson) and Lamb's artllery, In all alkout 2,000 nell. The American troops crossen! on the elst, at King's Ferry, and en eaniped utar llaverstraw. The French armey followerl, and the army was uniteni on the $25 t h$.

Gencral Washington and snite reaclichl Philaielplila alkiut mon, August Both. The army ham merearly realized the fact that they were destined sunthward. some dilssatisfaction whas uanifested: lut Count de Rochambeau molvanceal ted, (WNO in goll uphen the pledge of Reblert 3iorrin that he nould mifond the sum hy the 1st of Uctober, nud the effect upon the troups, who had long been wlthout any pay. was lnspiring."11. B. Carrington, Rattles of ine Am. Rer eng. " $-"$ Leaving Philadelphla, with the Army, on the 8 th of September, Washington meets an expres near Chester, announcing the arrival, in Clem peake Bay, of the Count de Grasse, with a of twenty-cight ships of the line, and with 3,50 addiltlonal Freneh troops, under the crmmanil the Marquis de St. Sinion, who had airendy bet landed at Janiestown, whth uriers to join the Marquis de La Fnyette! "The joy" snys the Count William de Deux-Ponts, his his precieus journai, ' the Joy which this welconer news pro duces among all the troops, and whicli 1 wartrate Cienerai Washington and the Count dr. liextham lenu, is more easy to feel thmn to express." But, In a foot-note to that pnssuge, he dines exprese and describe it, In terms whieh cuunot he spary and could not be aurpassert, mni which add new and charming illustration of the enationa side of Washington's nature. 'I have bety "quaily surprised and toueherl,' says the gallant leux. Pouta, ' at the true and pure joy of Gieman Waslington. Of a naturai coldness and of serivus and noble appronelh, whelit in hime in only true dignity, and wheh ailorit si) well the ehilef of a whoie nation, his fentures, his physiognomy his deportmeut, ail were ehanged in an instant He put aside his elaracter na arliter of Nouth Ameriea, and contentevi hiniself for a munkid with that of a citizen, happy it the gixnl furuide of hls country. A child, whose every wish had been grathed, waild not have experimeral sensation more lively, and I lelleve I anm deing lonor to the feelings of thls rare man lu condear oring to express all their arilor.' Thanks to Gom thanks to Frauce, from all our hearts at his hour, for ' thls true and pure joy ' whirh light ened the heart, and at onee dispellenl the ansietles of our inconnparable leacier. It may be true that Waslington seldown suified after he had ac cepted the comniand of our Revolutionary Arny, but it is elear that on the Sth of sieptem. ber he not only smlled hut plajerl the boy.
'Ali now went merry, "with hiln, 'as a marriage bell.' Under the Immedtate intluence of this joy. Wheh he had returnel for a few hours to Phili delphia to communicate in person to ('ingrees and while tire Ailled Armies are humiog southwari, he makes a hasaty trip will colmed Ilumplireys to his beloved Hount Vrrann and his more lieloved wife - lits first visit home sinct he left it for Cambrifige in 17ī. Rochambeau, whth his aulite, joins him there on the loth, and Chastellux und his alids on the 1th; and there with Mrs. Washington, he dixpellises for two days, 'a princeiy hospltality' to his forigo guests. But the isth finds then all on their way to rejoin the Army at Wlitianiahmrg, where they arrive on the listh, 'to the gieat juy of the trimpo and the people,' nnd where they dlae with the Marquis de St. stmon. On the INth Washing ton and IRochambean, with Knox anil (hastelluy and II Portall, and with two of Wasliuplots ains, Colvnel Cobh of Massachnsetts, und Codonel Jonathan Trumbinil, jr., of Conneetirut, em bark on the 'Princess Charlotte' for a visit to the Freuch flicet. . A few days more ate spent at Whliamshurg on thelr riturn. where they thal General Lineoln airealy arrivel with a part of the :romps from the Xinth, hiving hurried them as Washington besought him, on the wings of speed,' and where the word is soon he Army, on the Icets ani "xpresa rival, in chem. sser, with a 'he anll with 3,500 he commsad of ai airruly been ers to join the jow" salys the in his preciuses "unc mews prohichl penctrates nt di. linstiam. express, ${ }^{\circ}$ But, e doxer cxprese thacet lne spared 1 which add the cometimail '1 have beed ys the gailant joy of Getand ness and of a itn him in waty wrill the chiet physiognomy. Il ant instaot liter of Siorth for a nomeot - gicnll fortuдe very whath had experinueni c 1 ant doing unu in endear Thumbs to God fanirts st this - which light lichi the assiIt may le true ter he hal ac lRevolutionary th of trptem the boy. - as a n narringe Ite of this jay. conrs to lhilh t1) ('obgrees are luarting wilh formed Virman add it home since Rochambeau, the 10th, wand th; and there hesen for tro , lils foriga i un their way 5, where thery of the thimpa line with the th Washing did ('hsstedur Washingtori tts, and (colmectivut, em. for a risit to is more afe turn. wlarte rrivini with a fht lim, 'oo word is sooun siven, 'On, on, to York and Gloucesteri' Washfogton takes hils share of the exposure of this march, and the night of the 28 th of Beptember anda hin, with aif his unillary fumily, aleeping in an upen tield within two miles of Yorktown. without any other covering, as the journal of one of his sidsstates, ' than the canopy of the heavens. and the amali sprending lirunches of a trec; which the writer predicts ' will probahly be rendered wererable from this circimmstance for $n$ length of time to eume.'

Everytilng now hurries, ulnost with the rush of a Ningara cataract, th the grand fall of Arbltrary Power in Amerian. Lort Cornwallis had taken post bere at Curktown as early as the 4th of August, after breing foiled so ofteu hy 'tiat boy' as inc calledi La Fayette, whose Virginia campaign of fonr monthis was the most cffective prepuration fur ail that was to follow, and who, with singular forsicht, percelved at once that his loriship, was now fairly catraplecif, und wrote to Washington, as early as the 21 st of Angust, that 'the Brithsh army 'inust be forcel to murrender.' Day hy day, bight hy night, that precilction presses forwari to its fultilment. The lst of Octolner finds our enghecers recounolteribg the pessition and works of the enemy. The ed witucsses thic gallantry of the Dnke de Lamzinn and his legion lo driving huck Tarkton, wiose ralis had so long leva the terror of Virginia and the Carolinas. On the 6th, the Allied Armies broke gromal for tidir tirst prollei, and proceeded to mount their hatturies on the Tha aul 8 th. On the Oth. two hatterles were opened - Wushlugton himself upplying the torch to the first gun; and on the loith three or four more were ln piay -- sitrow ing the cuemy's works, nad masking, kays the :.fit diary of Colonel Cobb, 'most noblie mush ' On the 11 th, the indefatigable Baron stednen was lirvaking the ground for our second patallel, whthin less thm tour inmeneed yands of the enemy, which was finishell the next mornlng. and more batteries mounteri on the 13 th and 14th. Bnt the groat achievement of the sicge atill awaits its necomplisiment. Two formldahic British ikivanced retonbes are blocking the way to any further approach, and they must be stormet. The nlifeti troups divide the danger and the giory letween them, and ensulate each other in the ussault. One of these redoubts is assigued to the French grenadiers and chasseurs, under the general command of the Buron die Vimessii. The other is assignet to the American light lufantry, unifer the generai command of La Fayette. isiot the detail of specluileaders to conduct the twonssanits remains to be arrangel. Hionesnil realily desigmates the brave Count Wil liam to feaw the French storming party, who, though he cance of from hls vletory woundel, comats it 'the happurst day of his life.' A questhu arises as to the American party, which Is soon onlvelloy the impertums hut juat demand of our roung. Ale rumbler Ithmilton to lead it. And lead it he dil, with un iutrophity, a heroism, nud a dash ulaurymesci in the whole history of the war.
isoth redoubts were soon captured; and thesc luiliant actions virtually seaped the fate of Cornwallis. 'I smail and preelpitate mortie.' as Wishington calis it, was male by the liritish on the following evening, nesalting In mothing: ami the nest lay a vain attempt to evacinate their works, and to escape hy crosing over to Glouctwer, was defeated hy a vloleut and, for us
whin. most providen 1 storm of raln and A suspenslou of hostifites, to arrange terms of capltalation, was proposed by Cornwalits on the 1itis: the 18th was occupled at Moore's tlouse in settling those terms; and on the 19th the articles were slgned by which the garrison of York nad Gioucester, wigether whith ail the ollicers and seamen of the British shlps in the Chesapeake, 'surrender themselves Prisoners of War to the Comhinell Forcea of America and Fronee.'"-liobert C. Winthop, Adilress at the Centennial Celebration of the surrender of Lard Cornirallis at Yorktoirn, Oet. 19, 1881.
Alan in: Marquis Cornwaliis, Correspondence, e. 1, ch. 4-5.-The same, Anstcer to Sir II. Clin. ton.-Couut de Deux-Ponts, My Campaigns in Amerian 1781.-T. Balch, The French in Am. during the War of Independence, ch. 13-23W. Irviug. life of Wrahiagton, t. 4, ch. 25-26, "'il 28.-Geo. Washington, Writings, el. by II: ©. forrt, r. 9.- C. Tower, The Jarquis do In tiagette in the Am. Revi, r. 2. ch. 2.j-28.
A. D. 1781-1782.-Practical suspension of hostifities. - Difficulty of maintaining the army.-Financial distress of the country."Immedlately after the surrender of Yorktown Washiugton retarned with his army to the viciulty of New lork [see Newberaif], hut he felt himseff far too weak to at!empt lis capture, nall hostilities were restricted to a few Indecis. skirmishes or predatory enterprises. It is curlons to notlee how fur from sanguine Washington appeared even after the crent which $\ln$ the cyes of most men, outside America, had determined the contest without appeal. It was stili impos. silhe, he mnintalned, $u$ do no nything declsive unfess the saa were commanded by a naval force hostile to Engiand, and Franee alonc could provile this foree. The difficuities of maintaining the army were unahated. 'All my acconnts, he wrote $\ln$ A pril 1782, 'respecting the recruiting service are unfavourable; Indeet, not a single reeruit has arrived to my knowledge from any State except Ithode Island, in consequence of the requialtions of Cougress in December lust.' IIe atrongly urged the impossiliility of recrulting the army hy voluntary culistment, and recommended that, In addition the compulsory enrolment of Americans, German prisoners should be taken Into the army. Silas Deane, In private letters, expressed at this time inis belief that lt wontd be niteriy lmpossible to maintaln the American army for another yenr; and even after the surrender of Cornwalifs, no less a person than Sir Ileury Clinton assurefi the Government that, with a reinforcement of only 10,000 men be would be responsible for the conquest of Amerlca. ... Credit was gone, and the troops had long been unpaid. The long sufferance of the army,' wrote Washington lu October 1782, 'is alnowt cxhausted. It is figh time ior a peace.' Nothing. iuked, except the great influence, the acimiruhte umaleration and foonl scone, and the jerfert Integrity of Wasifugton could have restraiued the army from open revolt. . . Holland, liw...diately nfter the surrender of Yorktown, had recognised the Independence of America, whlch fiad as yet only been recognised hy France. John Adamn was recelved as represratative at the IIague, and after several abortive efforts he succeeded In raising a Dutch lown. Frame, as her ahiest minlsters weli knew, was driftlug rapldly towards bankruptey, yet two

UNITED STATES, 1781-1782.

Natiomalising of Wetters Trontiory UNITED STATES, 1881-1;80

American loans, amounting together to $\mathbf{£ 6 0 0 , 0 0 0}$, Were extorted In the lat year of the war. G'p to thic very eve of the formal slgnature of peace, and long after the virtual termination of the war, the Americans found it necessary to beslege the French Court for moncy. As late as December 5, 1582, Franklln wrote from Paris to Livlngston complninlng of the humlilating duty whleh was luposied on him. . . . The reply of Llvingston Was dated Jnnuary 6, 1783 , and it palnts vividly the extreme distress In Imericu. I see the force,' he writes, 'of your ohjections to soileltIng the adilltlonal twelve miliions, and I feel very senslhir the welght of our obllgations to France, lut every sentlment of thls Klnd must glve way to our necesslties. It is uot for the futerest of our ailes to lose the benefit of all they have done liy refusing to make a smnll midtion to lt. . . The army demand whith insportunlty thelr nrrears of puy. The treasury is empty, and no adequate menns of filling it presents Itself. The people pant for pence: should eontrilustlons be exneted, as tincy have hitherto been, nt the polnt of the sworl, the consequences may he more cirealfai than is at present apprehended. I do not preteml to justlfy the negligence of the States In not proviting greater supplles. Some of them might do more tima they have done; none of them all that is required. It is my duty to eonflide to yon, tiant if the war la continued in this conntry, it nust be in $n$ great measure at the cxpruse of France. If purce $\lg$ made, a loan will be alssolutely necessary to cnable us to disciarge the army, tiat will not casliy separate whlhout pay.' It was evhient that the time for peace had conse. The predatory expeditions whieh still contimued in Ancrlat could oniy ex asperate stlli further hoth matious, and there were some slgus - especialiy lu the eontlicts between lovallsts and revolutionlsts - thut they werc having thils effect. Eingland liad deciared herseif ready to eonecte the Inicpendence diner. lea demanded. Georgh mal South Caroinn. where tite Eingllsh had foutd so many falthful friends, were abandoned In the latter half of 1782, aul the whoic force of the Crowu was now eonceutrated nt New lork and lu Canada France and Spain for a time whehed to protract negotiatlons in hopes that Iloiney nifght lee crushed, that danatea and afterwards (ilimaltar might be eaptureri; hut all these hopes land suecessively vanished. . . . If the war continised undeh longer America wonhl nimost certainly lrop away, und France, unl pertaps Spain, becoule lankript. "-W. E. If. lecky, Hiat. of Euy. in the 18 th fentury, ch. 15 ( $r .4$ ).
A. D. 1781-1786.-The cession of Western Territory by the States to the Federal Union. - The Western Reserve of Connectlcut. Aithongh the Artioles of ( $n$ fericmtion were atinjted ly Congress in 17\% "ratitied Immediately hig most of the Sitates, it was not untll 1-4] that they hereane operatlve by the asent of uil. "New Jlruev, Delaware and Jlaryland held wit against ratifying thern for from two whour yeurs. The serret of tiveir reslstance was in the cialms to the wentern territory.

The three recaleftront States hal always had fixenl western twundaries, ond hul mo legal einini to a share In the western territury. ... New Jersey and Delaware guve up the stringgie ln 178 and 1779 ; [ant \larylanl wetad ant andi did not yted, uutii her claims were satlotied. Dr. II. B. Adams has shown that the whole queatlon of real natlonali for the United States was bound up in th western territory; that even a league goven ment ' could not contlnue long to govern a gre and growlng territory llke this without derel Ing lnto a real natlonal goverament, esen wit out a change of strict law; and that the Jar land leaders were working, under a complet consciousness of these facts."-A. Johnston. Cnited States: Its Mist. and Const., Wett. 89-0 -The western elalms of Virginla were the mon swecplog and were founded upon the oidest hi torical document. "The cliarter granted b James I. to South Virginia, In 1609 [see Vis GIMIA: A. D. 1609-1616 embracel the en tire north weat of North America, snl, within eertaln limis, all the lalands along the coust of the South Seas or Paclfic Ocean. . The following is the grant: 'All those liunds, countries and territories sltuate, lying aud being in that part of America called Virgiuia, from the point of land called Cape or Polut Comfort, all along the sea-coast to the northward 200 miles and from the sald Polnt or Caje Comfort, all along the sea-const to the southwani 200 nilles and all that space and clrcult of land lying from the sea coast of the preclnct aforosaid, up int the land throughout, from sea to sen, west ad north-west ; and also all the lslauls lying within $100 \mathrm{~m} l \mathrm{les}$ along the coast of both seas of the pre clnet aforesald.' The extraorliuary aniliguity of this grant of 1600 , whlch was aiways appencen to as a legal tltle hy Vlrglola, was first shownby Thomas Paine.

The ehlef amhiguity lay ln the lnterpretation of the woris up in: the land throughout, from sea to seta, west and north-weat.' From whleh polnt was the northwest llne to be drawn, from the joint on the sta coast 200 miles above, or from the point an miles below Cape Comfort?

Tise more fa vorable Interpretation for VIrglnia and, perhape In vlew of the expresslon 'from sca to sea,' mure natural Interpretation, was to draw the nonth. western line from the polnt on the sea-coast 200 milles above Point Conifort, aul the wersera lise from the southern llmit below l'oint Comfor Thls gave Virginla the greater part, it least, of the cntlre north-west, for the lines diverged costlaually. . . At the outbreak of the Reroh tlon, VIrginla hall annexed the 'County of Kes. tueky to the Ohl Iominion, ami, lu liss, atter the capture of the milltary posts In the nurth. west by Colonel George llogers ('larke.
that enterprising State procerded to anner the lands leyond the Ohlo, umier the name of the County of llihois [see, above: A. 1). Inis-lite. ('tarke's Conquest]. The military claiman of Viginia were certalaly very ettong, but it wa folt by the smaller States that an cinisable coo sideratlon for the servlces of other crilumies indefendllng the baek country from the Froneh ought to induce Virglinia to dispose of a portion of her western verritory for the common good It is easy now to cuncelve how royal grants to Massachusette and Connectlout of lands stretib. Ing from crestu to ocean, must lave rontirted wlit the charter elalms and military titic of Dirginin to the great north-wext.

The cisimas of Nassachucetis were liserel upun the chartes granted hy Willlam and Mary, In It991, sud those of Connectleut upon the chartor granted br Charles II., In 1068.

The former clatio embraced the lands which now lie in southers reai nationality und up in tha - lengue goven o govern a grea vitbout derelop nent, even with I that the Mary. der a coniplete . Johnston. TM mat., met. 89-01. a were the mote n the oidest him ter grsnted hy 1609 [see 才is. nhracei the et len, and, within ong the coust of an.

The ase lands, coun. 5 and being in ginis, frum the int Comfort, all ward 200 miles: je Comfort, all tani 900 niles: anul lying from oresalid, up into serm, west and dis lying withia seas of the pre. uary smaiguity iways appealed first shown hy anloigulty wonis 'up tato 0 sen, west and was the north. olnt on the sea. the point 80 The more fa anel, perhape ca to seea,' mure raw the north. seacoast ? 0 he+ werpera line Dint Comfor urt, nt least, of dilverged cot. of the Revolut county of Kiec , in 1irs, atter in the aurth (larke, fo anner the - name of the (1). $1784-1019$ tary clains of Hs, lint it $\boldsymbol{\pi}$ cquilable concolonies inde the Froneh e of s portion mimbion guad. ruy al grants to lands strewd. we contirien y titie of Vir.

The cisinas on the chartes 491, and those granted by in

UNITED STATES, 1781-1786.
Connecticut Western Reserv

UNITED STATES, 178格

Michigan and Wisconsin, or, In other words, the reginn comprehended by the extenslon westward of her present southern boundary and of her ancent northern limit, which was 'tho intitude of a league north of the Intion of Lake Winnl. pisenge in New. Ilampshire. The western ciaims of Connecticut [the zono iylng between her northern and southern boundaries - $41^{\circ}$ and $44^{\circ}$ - north latitude-cxtended west ward] covered portions of Ohlo, Indluna, Itlinois, and Michigan. $\qquad$ The extenalon of eharter bound. aries orer the far west by Massachusetts and Connecticut ied to no trespase on the lntervening charter cluims of New lork. Connecticut fell into aserious controversy, however, with Pennsylrania, in regard to the possession of certaln linds in the northern part of the intter State, hut the dispute, when hrought before a court ap pointed by Congrens, was inaliy decided In favor of Pennsyivania. But in the western countŗ, Massachusetts and Connecticut were determined to assert their chartered rights against Virginia and the treaty claims of New Fork; fur, hy virtuc of varlous treatieg with the Six Wathus and aliles, the lutter State was asserting jurivliction over the entire region betwecn Lake Erle and the Cunberiand mountaine, or, in other Forls, whio and a portion of Kentucky: These chaims were strengthened by tbe foliowing facts: Fint, that the chartered rights of New York werv incrged in the Crown by the accession to the tiorume. in 1685, of the 1uke of York as James ii., again, that the Six Nations and tributaries laud put themseives under the protection of England, and that they had always been treated ly the C'rown as appemdant to the gov. erament of New York; moreover, In the thlod piacc, the citizens of that State hal boruc the: bundin of protecting these Indians for over a humirui rears. New lork was the great rival of Virplnia in the strengtin and magnitude of her Western cinims." in 1780 , Maryiund stili hasisting upon the surriniler of these western land ciaims to the feckeral goverument, and refusing to ratify the Articles of Confederation untli such cession was made, the clamant States began to yiefil to her tirmness. On the 1st of Mareh, 1781, the offer of Sew lork to cerle her ciaims, providing Congr would contirm her western buundary, whs a mie in Congress. "On that very day, Mary land ratitied the Articles nud the tirst legal union of the Linited States was complete. The coindifonce in diates is too striking to aimit of any wher explimation than that Maryiand and Siew lork were acting with a mutual understamdiug . The offer of Virginia, reserving to hersedf Jurishliethon over the County of Kentueky, the offor of Connectient, wititiolitiag jurishicthom over all her back lands: and the offer of Xi'n lork, antrammeled by buriensome coatitions and conferring upon Congress compiete jurisiliction over lier entire western terrl. lury, titew tifre offers were now prominently before the combers.

On the 90 tli of Cretober, 1:*2, Mr. Ihandel Carroll, of Maryland. moved that (ongrass areapt the right, titie, jurladiction, and chiu of New Yrork, as ceded by the agents of that sute on the tirst of March, 1781 . On the 131 h day of September, 1783, it was voted br Congresx to accelt the cession offinul by Vir. vilem that serrilory nornit. We st of the Oino. proFilerj that state woulhi waive the obnoxious conditions concreving the guaranty of Virglain's boundary, and the annulilng of ail other tities to the north-west territory. Virginia modlfed her conditlons as requested, and on tbe 20th of October, 1783, empowered her deiegates in Congreas to make the cession, which was done by Thomat Jefferson, and others, March 1, 1784." -II. B. Adams, Maryland's Influence upon Land Cessione to the U. S. (Johns IIopkins Univ. Studies, 3d aer. So. 1), PP. 9-11, 10-22, 86-39.-The Massachu. setts deed of ceselon was executed Aprii 19, 1785. It eonveyed the right and titie of the state to all lands " west of a meridian lino drawn through the western bent or Inclination of Iako Ontario, provided such lino shouid fail 20 miles or more west of the western ilinit of the Niagara Iklver" - that being the western boundary of New York, fixed lour years before. In Slay, 1786, Connectlcut autborized a cession which was not complete. Instcad of beginning at the western boundiary linc of Penasyivania, her conveyance was of lands beyond a line 120 miles west of the I'cnnsyivania lino - thus retaining her clalm to the large tract in Ohlo known subsequentiy as the Western Reserve, or Connecticut Reserve.

- The acceptance of this cession was strongiy opposed In Congress. . After a severe struggie It was accepted, May 26, 1786, Maryland alono voting In tho negative. "-B. A. Hinsdale, The Ohd lorthwest, ch. 13. -South Carolina executed the erssion of her western ciaims in 1787; North Caroiina in 1790, and Georgia in 1803.-A. Johnston. Connecticut, ch. 15.

Also in: T. Donalilson, The Public Demain: its Jiatory, ch. 3-A. Jolinstom. Counecticut, ch. 15. -See, niso, Onio: A. D. 1786-1706.
A. D. 1782 (February-May).-Peace Resolutions in the Eritioh House of Commons. Retirement of Lord North.-Pacific overtures through General Carleton.-'Fortunately for the Cnited States, the temper of the 13ritish nation on tbe question of continuing the Imerian war was not la unison wlth tiat of its sovereign. That war into which the nation had entered with at least us muil engerness as the minister had now become aimost universally unpopular. Notions against the meusures of aiministration re specting America were repeated by the opposltion, and on every new experiment tho strength of the minority lnereased. It length, on the 2ith of February [1752]. general Conway moved in tho houso of commons. 'that it ly the opinion of this house that a further prosecutlon of offensive war against . Imerica, wouni, under present cireumstances, lo the meams of weakening the efforts of this country ugainst her European ene. miles, and tend to increase the mutuul enmity so fatal to the interests both of Oreat Britain and America, The whoic forec of nduinistratlon was exerted to get ridi of this questlon, but was cxerted in vain; and the resolution was carri $d$. An uidiress to the king in the words of the motion was immediately voted, and was presented by the whole house. The answer of the crown ining deemed inexplicit, It was on the tih of Marli resoived hy the cominons, 'that the luuse wiil consider as enemles to bis majesty anit tho country, ali tbose wio shouid advise or attempt a further prosecution of offensive war on the coutiment of North America.' These votes were soon folfawey! by a change of Athalatatzation [Bont Nortí resignlag and belng succeeded by Lond 1k, ckingham, witb Fox, Sheihurne, Burke and Siseridan for colleagues], and by instructlons to the commanillng officers of his Brittanic majesty's forces in Ameriea which conformerl to tiveri. Early In May, sir Guy Carleton, who luml suc. ceeded sir llenry Clinton in the commeni of all the British forces in the Coited Staten, urrived nt New York. Iluving leen also appointed in conjunction with whinirai Dighy a connmissiouer to nugotiate a peace, he lowt no time in converying to general Washington mpies of the votes of the IBritish parlianent, nul of $n$ bill which hat Ireen introinced on the purt of andmioistration, anthorizing his majesty to concinte a peace or truce with thas whe were still denominated the revoleal colonises of Forth Alactira. These papers he malil woulif manifest the dispositions prevailing with tho govermment abal pouple of England towards those of Ameriea, and if the like parific thinprer shonht prevail in this commtry, luth inclination and cinty womlit lemd him to neet it with the unost zeilons concurrence. Ile hand infilressed to rongress, he said, a letter conthining the same communientions, and he solieitell from the American general a passport for the persun whonshondel convey it. At this tinue, the hill chabling the British nomarelh to conelude a peace or trace nith Anerica hand not pansed inton law; nor was ny assurame given that the prescut commissioners possessed the power to offer other terms, than those whiel haui formerly Ixeen rejected. Gencoai (arleton there. fore coind not hope that segotiations rould commence on such a bavis: mor be ilistppointed that the passports he requested were refused by congrese, to whom the applieation was, of course, " ferreci. .- The several states passed rewolntlons expressing their whjections to sepurate uegotiations, and declaring those to lo enenies to Amerien who shoulii nttempt to trent without the nuthority of eongress. But the public votes which have been statei, nud probahly the private instructions given to the british general, re. strained him from offenslve war, sand the ntate of the American army disahiel general Wasio Ingtou from naking any attempit on the posts held by the enemy. The campaign of $1: 82$ cons. sequently passed away without furnishing any military operations of monent betwern the armies under the immediate direction of the respective rommanders in chief."-J. Marshall, Life of Hiakingtun, r. 4, eh. 11.
Almo in: Lurt Mahon' (Earl Stanhope) /hine of Em,., 1:13-1isis, ch. 65 (r. 7).-Sere, also, ENo. LASI: A. I). 1782-1783.
A. D. 1782 (April).-Recogaition by the Dutch Republic. - "Henry Lourcus, the American plenijmitutiary to the Netherlands, huving beco taken enpitve and carrieal w Eugland, John Aclans was uppointed in his pike. The new envoy had watied more than eight mooths for aa andience of reception. Encournged by the success ut Yorktowu, on the 9th if Jaunary Iise Achans presenteri hinsself to the presefelent of the stales-gcharat, rene wed lis furmal recpest for in opportmaity of presenting his credentials, nul - demandeel at cate erorical answer which lie minht tramsmit to his suvereign.' Ife next went in merson to the ilepaties of the several ditios of Ilothanl, and, foilowing the order of their rank iu the confedieration, repeated his demanel to each oure of them. The atterition of Europe was drawn to Lue xturily illphematist, who dared. alone aud unsupported, to initiate so novel aud boid a procediure. Not one of the representatives of forelgn powers, at the llague belier that it could succeed:" Hrut, beginaing Friesland, In Feliruary, the seven states, onel one, declared in faror of receiving the Amerim envoy. "On the day which chancerd to be : seventh anniversary of the butthe of $i$ is ingt their high mighthesses, the nhatus petinral. portlig the manimous decision of the sery provinces, reailved that Johar Alians should recelved us the minister of the l'uiter] stateg America. The Dutch repuhlior was the sumen power in the world to revognise thair indryn dence."- (1. Baneroft, Mint. af the 1: sis thor's luat rerision), r. 5, $\}$, ini.
Almo in: J. U. and $\mathbf{C}$. $\mathbf{F}_{\text {. Alams, life of Joh }}$ Adama, ch. 6 (r. 1).
A. D. 1782 (September) - The opening o negotiations for Peace. The Rix-himphamo din istry, whileh succeerled Lard North's in the lisit ish goverminemt, in March, 1889 (se" Fivglasd A. 1). 1782-1783), "thomgha R1MOM diswlved b the death of the Marguis of Rochinabunu, wetio eariy distractel by a want of umabimity, an early lost the contideuce of the prople. The ne gotiation with Amerien churing Mhy hurd dune madie no progress. Mr. Oswally was the agent of Lord shelburne, known to lwe oppriseit in the arknowledgment, amd Mr. Grenville, if Mr Fos This ministry had heen forced upent tlee hing log a vote of the Ilouse of Commenss The hopis of regaining America were ngain oxeitel bry the decisive victory of Lard Rishacy in the Whet Indies [sec Exgland, A. 1). 1isil-15*?], und the nacxpeetedi successes of Sir Eyrre Cimon, arainst Hyder Aif in the East; and, if eroulit aata he given to the reports of the day, the gevernmont looked forwnrd with some coniticuerer to the nak. iug a separate peace with comgress hy means of Sir Guy Carleton, who had been appopitited to be command of the furecs in North Llumerica.
Mr. Adams, writing from the Hague, June 13 s. oliserves, 'I camnot sece a probalitity that the English, will ewr nake leace, until theip thances are rulned, and such ilistress brought wim lim. ist will work up their parties futo a rivil war:' It was not till september of the snme tear under Iord Shellhuruc's n! ministration, formed upon the dissolntion of the Rex-kinglante, that the British government twok a deceivive and singere step to make peace, and anhorizel thar commissloner, Mr. Oswald, nt I'aris, to acknowkedge the independence of the colonies.

This is the first instruction given ly the British linistry in which it was proposiel to rerognize the celehratel act of July thi, 18is. I grant and immediate pmgress was now naaic in the preliminaries.

The conmmission, under which the preliminaries of the treaty worc actunlly concluled, was issuet hy Cougress in dume yi. it "mpoweredi John Adams, Therjamiu Frankllo, John Jay, Ilenry Laurens, ani Thumas defer. som, or the inajority of thell, or suclo of them as may ussemble, or in case of the deatle, whesper, forlinpessition, or nther imperdiment of the others. to any whe of them, full priner and aulloro 1ty, generai and special commisusion, . . . to slgn, hull thereupon muke a erenty or treaties, aai to transact cevery thing that miny le gecessary for completing, securing amel stronglhewing the great work of pacification, in as nmple form, anini wht the same effect, as it we were prowas. nlly present anl acted therein.' Ill the cum. tulssioners, except Mr. Jefferwon. were jresent

Ilsgue belleved begluning with en stuties, one by ng the Amerisan nucerd to be the tr of $\mathrm{l}^{2}$ aingl ne atere getmeral. re n of the seren dlams shomitit be nultel Nater of was the seropof tharir indepuns.

mis. Life en Joha he opeaing of w-kinultann nin this in the Brit. (ec: Evelasmo: II disselverl by chiluthan, were thnuimitr, and emple: The ne. May mull Juge was the agent EPprosel to the Illo, of Mr. Fus whe the king los

The haf:s excitevl ly the $\because$ in the Wrat - 1 ix: $]$ ] und the - (imulu against eredit may be her giverament ner to the nalk xw hevined to the Imerica If. htme 13. 8 ? bility that the it thic tinamees he upom them. ta rivil war.' hr same year. ration, furmed kinghatr, that ive mind sincere teil their cumlock numiedge

This is -13ritish Nin. ratugulze the $\therefore$ great and le. in the pre. undet which - neturily coos. dume sí. It nilı Prabkllí, himintis Jeffer. cho of tham as math, athenery, of the others. - minl author. nion, . . . to $y$ ir treaties, hay le peecs. triustheulng 4 mple form, were persos . 11 the cum. werv. |insent

UNITED STATES, 1782. Reace Negotiatione.
UNITED STATES, 1782.
daring the discusslons, belng In Eumpe at the the the meetling was appolnted. Mr. Jefferson was in America, and did not leave it, as a report reachel the government that the prellminaries were already algned. Mr. Onwald's commisalon In proper form was not lsaued till the 21st of September." The Diplomacy of the U. S. . in. 8. "It the moment . . . that negotiations were set on font, there seemed but ilttle hope of tinding the Coart of France peacealily Inellined. Fox alone among the Mmsters, thongh strongly opposed to a Fronch alllunce, Incllned to a contrary opin. $10 n$, and Imagined that the Independence of America onee recognlzed, no firther demanis wonll he made upon England $t$ was therefore his Wish to recognlze that independence lmmendately, and by a rapld negotlation to Insure the conelusion of what he belleved would prove a favourable peace. Shelhurne on the contrary belle verl that further eoucesslons would le asked by France, and that the lest clance Englinnd posesswil of ohtalning bonourable terms, was to reserve the recognltlon of Independence as part of the valuable conslderation to be offerel to the Colonles for favourable terms, and to use the points where the Interests of France, Spain, and the C'oluniey were Ineonslatent, to foment ditilscultirs leit ween them, and be the means of nego. thathe, if necensary, a separate peace with ench of the lxillgerents, as opportunty might offor. The cireomstances of the the favoured the de. sign. Vergeanes lial not gone to war for the akke of Ameriemn Independence, but In order to humiliate England. He not only did not Intent to continue the war at diy longer than was necesaary to establish a rivul power on the other slele of the .thantle, but was deslrous of framing the peare in cunditions sucb as would lenve Eng. and. Spain, and the Culterl States to halance one another, and sa make France paramonnt. Ite therefore intenuledl to reslst the elalma which the Colnies had lavariably advanced of pushing their frontiore as far west ns the Mississippl, and propusend following the example of the Proclamation of 1:83, to leave the country lxetween Florila and the Cumberland to the Indlans, who werp to be placed under tbe protection of Spula and the I wind states, and the conntry north of the Ohin ter Englaut, as arranged ly the Quebec Act of $1: i \pi t$ Nor was he prepared to support the claim if the New Englundmen to fisho on the hanks eif S'cwfoundlinud, over a conslderable partlon of whirls he dessired to establlsh an ex. clusle richt for hils own countrymen, In keeplng with the Fremilh Interpretation of the Treates of l'tresht amy l'arls. Of a stlll nore pronounceal character were the wlews of Bpuln Jer tropps Lad fremety conguterel Weat Floridas a.al theeatHurd East Florid:a as well. She hall deturnaneal to uhtain furmall possesslon of these terrltorics, and to chaint that they ran lato the Interlor tili they rimeritel the gront lakes. The C'niteel stantes, acrurding to hoth the French and Spnolsh liden. *ere therefore to lse restricted to a strij, of lamd in the canst of the Athmetle Orean, lounded by for neains tue liue which Frumere had contendive for neaine Findiand ufler the Treaty of ['trecht. m 1 isy, when the nllamer of France was not a Was froit the great triumph over Burgopne Wis frest fenernes notrithstanding the prese adopley the ereruri. the Frinch eavoy. had matua of peace: ( 1.1 The acknowledgenent of the Independence of the Cinlted States by Great Britnle prevlous to anf trenty or negotla thon for pence. (e.) The llasisslppl as thelr western boundary. (3., The navigatlon of that river to the sontbern boundary of the Statea with n port lelow It. They almo passed a reaolutlon to the effect that any interference nfter the conclinslon of peace by any power with the fishery of Newfoundland hitherto exerclsed by the la. habitants of the Colonles, should be regurder as a casis belli. The alvice of the ullles, thelr knowledge of American Interests, and thelr own dlscretlon, were in other mutters to gulde the American Commonssloners sent to the European Courts. As however the war progressedi, and French asslstance, especlally In money, becnue of greater and greater Importance to the Con. greas, the tone of thelr Instrnctlons lecame sensibly modititel, under the pressure, first of M. Gérard and then of Connt lazerne, hls sue. cessor. On the 2ith January 1880, M. Gérari laving obtalned the appointment of a Commlt. tee of Congress, informed them that the terrl. torles of the Cnited States extended no further west than the limlts to whileh settlements were permitted ly the Engilsh proclamatlon of 1863; that the Unleel States had un rlght to the navl gatlon of the Mlisslsslppl, having no territorles :etljolning any part of the river; thant Spaln would probably conquer both Floridas, and in. tended holelling them: and that the ferritory on the east shle of the Mississlppl belonged to (Great Britaln, and would probinhly be conduered by Spaln. Ite at the same tlme urged upon Coms. gress the Immedlate eoneluslon of un alliance with that power, to which Jiy hand been sent as Commlssloner in 1779. On the 15th Felirnary, Congress having conslaterel thls communleation, resolved to instruct Jay to aboudon the clatha to the navigntlon of the Illsslsslppi. This practi. eally lmplled the abandonment of the elaim to that river as the western bundury. Shortly after, and agnin on the demnad of Linzerne, the Custructlons to Athmas, whe had been appalinted Coumbissioner for negotlating a prace, and was then In Europe, were altered. Indrpendenee was to be the sole nlthminm, and dulams was to milertake to subult to the guldnnee of the Freneh Itlmbter la every respect. - liou are to make the mest candid nuel couthlential commualcatious,' so hls amented Instructieus ran, 'upon all suhjects to the Alinlsters of our geucrons ully the Kling of France: to mulertake nothing in tbe negothatons for peare or truce withont their knowlelge or concurrence, ant to make them srusible how much we rely upon hits Dajesty's Inturence for effectuml support very thlig that nay le necossary to the prem weclurity or future prosperity of the Culted sas of Anmelea. is it cllmax (onnt lazerne suggestel and Congress agreed to make Jny. Frmaklin, Jefferson, and Latrrens, Jolnt Commilssloners with Mr. Adams. Of the baly thus nppolinted Jeferson refused to serve, while Laurens, as alrealy seen, was rapturul in hls way to Englamel. Of the romaininy Commalssloners, John Alams was dombly enflons to the diplomatists of Franere aud Spain. Inconuse of hls fearless luelependence of chameter, and bernase of the tramity with Whirlh ns a New Einghuter be clang to the American rights in the Niew foundinnd tisherles; day lmed Iren au cuthuslastle advocate for the spaulsh alliance, but the cavaller treatment he had received at Madrid, and the abandonment of the Miselesippi boundary by Congreas, haif forced upon hlm the convictlon that his own country was belng used as a hool by the Europent powers, for thelr own ulterior objecta. The French he hated. He sald' 'they were not a morai prople, and did not know what it was." Not so Franklln. influenced partly ly his long resldence in the French capltal, and ly the idea that the Colonles were more likely to obtaln their ohjects, by a firm rellance upon France than by confdence In the gencrosity of England. Ite alan polnted to the terms of the treaty he hai negotlatell with the former power, which forbade elther party to conclade n separate peace withont the leave prevlously olitalued of the other, as imposing a moral and legal obligation on hia eountrymen to follow the pollicy which he beIleved their intercsts an a power reyulred them to ariopt. Mennwlule the Klag of France congratulated Congress on havlag entrusted to hils care the Intercsts of the Unlted States, and warned them that If France was to be asked to contlnue hosthlitles for purely Ameriean objects it was Impossible to say what the result might be, for the system of France depended not merely on America, but on the other powers at war "-Lord E. Fitzmaurice, Lifo of William. Earl of Shelburne, r. 3, eh. 4.-" Benjumin Frankilu, now veuerable with years, had been dolng at the court of Versalllea a work lardiy less important than that of Waalington on the battle.fields of Aurerica. i3y the simple grace ani dignity of his manners, by his large goox sense and frvediom of thought. by hila fame as a sclentlete dlscovercr, alove all by lis consummate tact in the management of men. the whilom printer, klog's postmast.er general fur Americn. discoverer, Lamelon colonial ageut, delegate in the Contheutai Congress, and slgner of the Declaratlon of Independence. had completely captivated elegant, free-tilnking Frauce. Learnexl and coumon folk, the solker and the frivolous nllke swore by Franklln. Snult. Loxeres, furnlture, dishes, even sloves were gotten up, "A la Franklln." The old man's portrait was la every house. That the French Government, in spite of a monarch who was hate afrath of the rislug nation beyond sea, had glveu America ber hearty support, was in no small memasure due to the inilucrice of Franklin. And his skill in diphonaey was of the greatest value lu the nego. thatlons now jendlag. "E. 13. Andrews, Lline. of Alano is: E. E. Male, Pranklin in France, on. 2. ch. 3-4-laril J. llussell, life of tor, ch. ib-1i (r. 1).

UNITED STATES, 1782.

The matring of the Trealy.

A. D. 1782 (Septemher-November).-The Peace parleyings at Paris.-Distruat of French aims hy Jay and Adams.-A secret and separate negotiation with Engiand. "The task of making a treaty of jerace was slmpultiew) Imoth by (the chauge of minlstry whildh placedidurl shellourne at the heval of aifairs in Englamil. amil ly the total dofont of the Apaninrals and Frouch at cllbraltar in teptember lefore, Englame lad secmed worsted lin every quarter. Now Enginnd, though defeated in Amerlea whs sletorious as rugnrled Fronce and Spala. The avorwal ..bifet fur whath France had entered Into alliance with the Americans, was to secure the independence of the Lulted States, and thls point was now substantlaily ga The chlef object for which Spaln lmiden into alilance with France was to drlve the Ilsh from Gihraltar, and thls print was declidediy lost. France had bound herwell n desist from the war untll Spain sloould ree Gibraitar; hut now there was illtle hop accomplishing this, except by some fortu bargain in the treaty, and Vergemuen triet persuade England to cede the great strong In exchange for Weat Florida, wheld spain lately conquered, or for Oran or Gumalalo Falling $\ln$ this, he adopted a plan for satisf? Spain at the expense of the Unltel States: he dhit tinls the more wilingig as ne hati no for the Americans, and did not wlyh to seet become too powerfui. France had strictir her pledges; slie had given us vuluable tlmely ald In galning ourindependener: and nymputhies of the frencls people wire eati wlth the American cause. But the objet the French government had been slmpip humlliate Engiand, and thls end was suthelet accompllshed hy depriving luer of her thin colonies. The Immense territury extending it the Alleghany Mountalns to the Nissisis lkiver, and from the border of West Fhurids the Great Lakes, hat passed from the hand France Into those of England at the pract 1769 ; and by the Quebec Act of 1 1iat Engh hal deciared the southern Imondary of Can to le the Ohlo Hiver. Vergennes maintail thant the A mericans oughit to recognize the Que Act, and glve up to England all the terit north of the Ohio Itiver. The region south thls llmit should, he thought, be made an Ind territory, and placed under the protection Spaln and the Unlted States.

Cown anotl important polnt the views of the French gove ment were directly opposed to American interer The right to cateh dish on the banks of De fonndland had been shaned by treaty letere France and England; and the Now Engla tixierermen, as subjects of the kligy of Great Br aln, las participated In thas priviluge. I matter was of very great lmportancer, not only New Eugland, hut to the Lnited states luge eral. . The British government was not clined to grant the privilege, and oth this poi Vergennes took sldes with Englaul, In order establish a clalm upon her for concersolons vantageous to France in some other quart

Jay [who hai lately arrisenl ln P'aris to ta purt In the negotlatlons] soon begum to suspe the derlgna of the French minister. He fout that he wus sending M. de Rayneval as a sect emissury to Lord Shelhurne under an assumu name; he ascertalned that the right of the Coitt States to the Misslasl ppi valley wis fobe deake and he got hold of a dispateli from .Marbois, it French secretary of legation at IMilatieciphia, Virgennes, opposing the American claim to it Newfoundland fisheries. As saxin as Jay learee these facts, lie sent hia friend Dr. Benjami Vnughan to Lond shellarne to put lim on guars, and while nembinding lim that it grantly for the interest of England to disolv the alllance between America and France, b deciared himself ready to hegin the negotiatos without waltiug for the recogultion of indepen dence. prow ide il that Oswald's commatarman shouit apreak of the thirteen United Statex of Amerion Instead of calling them colonies and armiog stantiallis galoed pain hail entered to drive the Eigg. print was now Jund berself not to aln shouid recorer as little bope of y some fortunate ergenuer tried to - great stronghold which Spala had a or Gumilaloupe. plan for satisfying Juitcl Sitates; and as ue had no bore t wish to see them hasl strictly kept us vuluable and dendeuce: and the ple were entirely Sut the object of beea simply to II was suthecterty er of her thirtee ry extentling from the Missiaslppi West Florida to rom the hands al at the prace al of $17 i 4$ Eingland undary of C'andad renne's maintained guize the Quebee ali the tertitory reglon sonth of e utade an Indian he jpotection of (jum anotber e Frinch goremmerianu interesta. - hanks of Sew $y$ trenty betreed e New England ug of Great Brit. priviluge. The tancer, wot only to end States in ges. neut was not is. ind on this point rlaml, In order to $r$ concerssions ad. e other quarter. 1 in l'aris to take egan to saspert istor. He found sevial as a sectut lever un ansamed hat of the lnited Way tols deald: oin Marlools, the lhilarlelphia, to can claim to the in as Jay leamed 1 Dr Benjamin put him on th him that it wa land to disolve and F'rance, be the negotiations this af indepen latumson shouid ates of Ankrica lea and mamiag them separately. This decial vo step was taken by Jay on hil own reaponslhllity, and wlthout the knowledge of Franklin, who had been arerso to anything like a ceparate negotintion with Eng. land. It served to set the bail roliing at once.

Loni Shelhurne at once percelved the aningonism that hal arieen between the allies, and promptiy took adrantage of lt. A new commlsfon was made out for Oawald, In whlch the British goverament frat described our country as the United Statea; and cariy In October negotiations were begun and proceedel rapldiy. On the part of England the affair was couducted by Oswaid, asslated by Strachey and Fitzherbert, Tbo had succeeded Grenvilie. In the course of the moath John Adanis arrived ln Paris, and a few weeks later IIenry Laureus.

The arriral of Adama fully declded the matter as to n ceparste negotiation with England. He agrecd witb Jay that Vergennes should be kept as far as possible in the dark until everythlng was cut and dried, and Franklin was reluctantly ohllged to field. The treaty of allance between France and the Calted States had expressiy atipulated that nelther power shouid evcr make peace withoat the consent of the other. In justice to Vergennes, it should be borne In mind that he had kept striet fuith with us In regaral to every polnt thut hai been expressly atipuiated. At the same time, in regard to matters not ex. pressly stipuiated, Vergennea was clearly piay. Ing a sharp gane against us; and it is undenlahle tbat, withont departing technically from the obligations of the aillance, Jay and Adama - two men as bonourahie ns ever llved-played a Etry aharp defensive game against him.
The treaty with England was not conciuided until the consent of Frauce liad been ohtained, adi thus the express atipulation was respected; but thorough and detalied agreement was reached as to what the purport of the treaty abouhi be, while our not too fricndiy ally was kept In the dark."-J. Fiske, The Critical Period of Am. Ilire., ch. 1. - "If hia [Vcrgennes'] policy bai been carried ont, It seems clear that he would have established a ciaini for concessiona from England by supportlng her agalnst America on the questhins of Caaada and the Canadlan border und the Newfoumliand tishery. . . . The success of such a policy wond have been extremely dispieasing to the Congress, and Jay aud Adans defested lt. . . . The act was done, and If It can be justitiel by miccess, tha: justification, at least is not wanting."-W. E. II. Lecky, Mint. of Eing. in the Isth Century, th. 15 (c. 4).- TThe Instruc tions of congress, given to the American com missioners under the Instigation of the French conrt, were absolute and lmperatlve, 'to undertake nothiug without the knowledge and coucarreuce of that court, and uitimately to govern themselves by their alvice and opinlon.' These orlers, transinittedi nt the the of the enlargement of the commission, liad just been relaforced by askurances glven to qulet the uneasinces crated in F'rame toy the British overtures throngh Gowernir ('arieton. Thus far, although the com missioners had felt them to be derogatory to the honor of their country, as weil as to thiclr own cbaracter as its rupresentatlves, there hand been no becessity for action cither under or against point of \& bow that matters were coming to the questions of lutirgotiation, and the secondary questions of luterest to America wero to be determined, eapecially those to which France had shown hacself Indlferent, not to say adverse, it seemed as If bo chance remalned of eacaplng a decfaion. Mr. Jay, jcalous of the misslon of De IRayneval, of which not a hint hat been dropped by the French court, susplcious of lts gond falth from the discloaures of the remarkahle dispatch of Marhols, and fearful of any advice like that of which he had recelved a foretaste through M. de Rayneval, at the asme time provoled that the conflence expected should be all on one alde the Count communlcating nothing of the separate French negotiation, came to the conelusion that the Intereats of America wero salest when re tained In A merican hands. He therefore deciared himself $\ln$ favor of going on to treat with Great Britaln, wlthout consulting the French court. Dr. Franklin, on the other hand, expressing his confidence In that court, secured hy his sense of the steady receptlon of benefits hy hls country, signified hls willingness to abide hy the Instruc tions he had recelved. Fet It ls a alngular fact but lately disclosed, that, notwlthstanding thls general feeiling, whlch was douhtiess slncerely cntcrtalnedl, Dr. Franklln had been the first per son tu violate those lnstructlons, at the very lnception of the negotiatlons, hy proposing to Lord Shelhume the cession of Canala, and covering his proposal with an earnest Injunction to keep It secret from France, because of hls beilef that ahe was ailvcrse to the mensure. ...It may fairly be inferred that, whatever Erankiin might bove been disposed to belleve of the French couri, his Instincts were too strong to cnahle hlm to trust them impllcitly with the care of Interest purely American. And, in thls, there can be no reasonahic cause for clouht that he was right. The more full the disclosures have been of the French policy from their contidential papers, the more do they show Count de Vergennes assaillug England in America, with yuite us fixed a purpose as evcr Chatham had to conquer Amcrica in Germany, Mr. Adams had no donht of lt. He had uever secu auy signs of a dispusition to aid the C'blted States from affection or sympathy. On the contrary, he had perceived thelr cause everywhere made sulwrdinate to the gencral couslilerations of contimental poiltics. Perhnjes his impressions at some moment carried hlm even further, and led hinn to suspect in the Count a positive desire to chock and depress America. In this he feil into the natural mistake of cxnggerntiug the importance of his own country. In the great game of natlons Which was now piaying at Paris under the practlsed cye of Frauce's chicf (for Count de Maurepas wus no longer living), the Unlted States prohably held a relntive position, In hls mind, not higher thun that of a pawn, or possibiry a knlght, on a chess table. Whist hls attention Was ahsorlurl iu arranging the comhinations of several powers, It necessarily followed that he had not the time to devote that attention to any onc, whicli ita speclal represeutative mlght lmaginc to be its due. But even this liypothesis Was to Mr. Adams justification quite suficicnt for dcelining to submit the lnterests of his conntry implicitly to the Count's control. If not so materlal ln the Count's eges, the greater the neccosity of ketping them in hls own care. He therefore selzed the first opportunlty to announce to his colleagues his preference for the vlews of Mr. Jay. After some llttie retiection, Dr. Frank-

Iin sigulied his acquiescence in this decision. Hls objections to it had doulstican been Inereased hy the pecullar relationa he had prevlously sustalned to the Freach court, and by a very proper deslre to be releneed from the responailility of what might from lalm bo regariled as a dilscourtmus act. No sueh dellicncy was called for on the part of the other cominfasioners. Nelther does it appear that Count de Yergennes nuanlfested a sign of dlscontent wilis them at the time. Ile snw that liftle conthleuce was placed in hln, hut he does not seem to lave made the slightest efort to elange the decialon or even to get an explanation of ft . The trinth ls, that the courme thus taken liad Its convenleners for hlm, proviled only that the good falth of the American negotiators, not to make a separate prace, could be depended ujon. Nelthur dld he ever aftect to complaln of It, excepting at one partlcular monient when he thought he had cause to feur that the aupport he relled on mlglit fall."-J. $Q$. and C. F. Alama, The Life of John Adimm, e. 2, ch. 7.--"The radical difference between Frank lin and has colleagues was ln the questlon of trust. Franklin saw no reason to distrust the ddelity of France at any tlme to her cogagements to the linited States during the revolutionary war. Ills colleagues dal not share this confidence, and yet, while Inipressed by thls distrust of thelr ally, they nuale no appeal for explana. tlon. The welght of oplalon, as wlll hereafter be more fully seen, Is now that Franklla was Hglit, and they in thls respect wrong. Ilat Whatever may liave been the correctnuss of thelr vlew, It was proper that, before making lt the hasls of thelr throwling off the hurden of treaty ohllgation and their owin lnstructlons, they should have first notlded France of thelr complaint. Ohilgatlonn cannot be repudlated hy one party on the ground of the fallure of the other party to perform some condition Imposed on him, without giving him notlce of the clange agalnst him, so that lie could have the opportunity of explanatlon. It may be added, on the mertis, that the extenuatlon set up hy Jay and Adams, that France was herself untrue to lier ohllgatlons, however honestly they belleved it, can not now, be austalned. Llvingston, who knew more of the attitude of France than any publle man on the Amerlean slile except Frankiln, swept it aslde as groundless. Edward Everett, ono of the mont accompllshed hlstorical writers and dlplomatlsts the country has ever proliced, speaks, as we slasll see, to the same effeet, and other hlstorical critlcs of authority, to le also hereafter eltel, give us the samo concluslou. Yet there are other reasons which may exeuse thelr course, and that of Franklln, who concurred Wlith them rather than defeat a peace. In the frst place, such was their Isolation, that thelr means of comnumicatlon wlth Congress was stoppet ; nud they might well have argued that If Cungress knew that the 'ajllshenvoys refused to treat wlth theu excepi iu secret conference thelr lnstructlons would linve been morllfied. In the seenol place we may accept Alams' statement that Vergeunes was from time to ment that Vergeunes was from time to tlme laformally alvised of the nature of the pending propositions. In the third place, the artlcles agreed on $\ln 1782$ were not to be a deflalte treaty exprpt with the assuot of France.

It now appears that the fanous Marbols letter, handed to Jay hy one of the Brtisla loysallats, and relled on by him as showing France's dupilefty, dlanvowed hy Marbols; and there are, mslie thls, very atrong reamons to dletrust its gen nes. In the second place, we have ln the rempondence of George III a new light thr on the action taken hy Jay lo comsery uem thas letter. . Benjamin Vaughan, whi gentleman of great amlahllity and pres worth, was, when Jay sent hini wlihout Fr Iln's knowledge on a confulentlal uluslon to Britlsh ministry, In the employ of that mini as secret agent at Parla. It is duce to Jay to that he was Ignomant of thla fact, though would have heen notited of lt had he consif Frankiln. One of the most slogular inelileat thls transactlon is that George 111. sed double treachery In thas sending buck to hls own agent lo the guise of an agront fom Amerlcan legation, regarded It as a proulia subtle machlination of Frankilu, which lt was duty to battle hy utteriy discredleting I Beafas Vaughan. It should bo addenl that Frank! affeetlon for Benjainin Vaughan wax la bo diminished by Vaughan's nssumptlin, wlth honenty whilcls no one who knew lim wo questlon, of thls pecullar kind of inediatomb And In Jay Franklla's contilence was malat Ile more than once sald that wo one could found more aulted than Jny to rejprosent Unlted States ahrond. And whon, In view death, he prepared to settle his extate, he sellect Jay as hla executor."-F. Wharton, The Rem tionary Diplomatic Correspondence of the $l$ : ch. 9 , seet. 111 , and eh. 13, wett. liss (e i) Writing to M. le la Luzerne, the Fremeh Vin ter $\ln$ the Linlted States, under date of Inerimh 19, 1782, Count de Vergeanea expressed himse on the conduct of the Amerlcuu Commiandoue as follows: "You wlll aurely le gratited. well as myself, with the very extensive mira tages, whlch our allles, the Amertcans, are recelve from the peace; but yon cirtalaly not be less surprised than I have lxun it th conduct of the Commlssioners. Accurling the lnstructlons of Congress, they ought to hat done nothlng wlthout our partleipation. I har Informed you, that the Kligg dill not seek to fluence the negotiation aoy further than offlces might be necessary to hls frlends. Th American Commissloners will not say that have Interfered, and much leas thati 1 has wearied them wlth my curfoslty. They har cautlously kept themselven at a illstance froc me. Mr. Adams, one of thein, couling foo Ilolland, where he had been recelvell snd served hy our ambassador, had heen In l'sris nearly three weeks, without lmaglilng that he orem me any mark of attentlon, und probably I shouk not lave seen hlm tlll thls thes, If l had not caused him to be reminded of lt. Whenezet have had occaslon to see any one of thrm, and lnquire of them hriefly respectiag the progress of the negotlatlon, they have constantl: chathoi thelr speech In generalities, giving me-tn smier. stand that lt dld not go forwand, sad that fatp Iad no contldence In the slnerrity of thr Brius minist Judge of my surprise, when, on the 30th : vember, Dr. Franklln inforued me that inf. rtlcles were signed. The resernation retained on our account does not sape the infretion of L:t: promise, whieh we have mutually made, not to slgn except conjointly lowe Dr Frankilo the justlce to state, lywionr. that oo anl agent fom the it as a pecultiarly which it mas bis celitithg isenjamin a that Franklin's an was in no mie umplion, with an knew inim would of mediatonalip. ce was unabutel tho one could be to rejurew.rnt the when, in riem of extate, he seipcted rion, The Romily. ence of the $l$. As vert. $1,5(c, 1)=$ e Freuril Yinis iate of incrumber xpressed himelf us Commissiouers the gratided, a extensive miran. mericans, are to ou certainiy will have lreen, at the - Acroniling to oy ought to hare ipation. I hare not seek ow in. urther than his is friends. The not say that I 8 that I hare ty. They hare a distance from a, coming from iveit and served in f'aris nearly ; that he oved mobably I should ce, if 1 had now t. Wheneret ne of them, ant the progrese , ist:intl: clubal us mat to suler. , maici thut tatep y of the Bricist , when, on the n infortued me The reservation save the infac. thave mutually 15. Iowe Dr wiver, that on

UNITED STATES, 178.

 Ife will hanity coruplein thans I preefrouf thema whamt ofonsuatratione of wosblity. If wima r.4 tlll somu slays after, that. ben this miphister bad come to nue, I allowecie inywelf en take ceribl le artremble to the Klor. He appi 1 beroult, himwif and hite colf rwzues. Our coa. eppalina was amicable."-J. Binciow, Lifo of

 - 8, Sirmitice niml Critienl Jliat, of otm., O. $^{7}$ en. E. FItemantex, Life the Eirl of thed. burue r. 3. eh. 6.-E. R. Elale, frisulilin in Elutu ("nie if Imérigur, lome 5.-See, mimo, Ence.

A. D. 178.017:3-Grievances of the Army. - The Newbuigh Addresses. - Nothinp hal berndmae by Congress for the? Matam of th army lamini wlthma : ven a mettrensent of the accounta of the ofllores, and If wo, that they woull aever pewife thedr likes Alarines! ami lretmend by the in glett of Cionaress; dentivate of homey anil

 ". all they urger the inmontibe odjestmont of

 for fuli pay for it certsin numatep of peaty, or fop mich a sum lugroast ns slutulat the agroed on be their committee ment on lalialelyhia os at fut the prugress of the memarhit through thet Lutw It is manifent from statempate f:1 this the risult. as well as from other toletence, tbat the otherem were neariy driven to deepertation, and that :heir ufitruf commutaton was wrung frout them ly a state of puhtic ugition little crettrable th the rountry. . .. The committere of the otlleers Wrfe an atemance uper Congress fluring the Whale a inter, and enrly in Marels, $1: 50$, they Honte io thelr connstlucicats that notaligg had heell than At this nousent. the prifleament In hhirl Wiavington storx, In the doubly rela. tion uf, itifen and sulderp, critical and defif. rate in the extrone. It the consre of a few diry all his Irmness suif patriotimm, all his iympathes as an ollicer, ou the one sile, and hls tillity to the goveranient, on the other, were selerely trial. On the loth of March, an angyinoms adltress was circulated among the oftleres at vewburga, calling a nueetlng of the geteral ami thell ofthers, and of oue oflleer from tach compary. and one from the metleal staf, tucoushire thie thte letter from their represents. itres at lhiliuielphla, ani to determine what masumiteg shoulh be adopted to ohtaln that redrex i icticquaces which they secmed to have wilu in! it valu. It was written with great whiny aml skill [by John Armstrong, after. wanis frincral]. . Washington met the crisis with tiruurso bit also with concllistlon. IIe citt un an anonymous paper, and d!avilng tho atticers to uswenuble on daturady the lish to bear the report of thelr comerit!ice, anc iv delly-

Crinte what further momares ownht in be adopted as muat rational and beat calrulatoit wo nota Un flast wad Important olffers In riew. The mealor onticer In tank proment (Gencril Gated) Win dircetel to prom: fe, and to report the retult to the Commanier la-chief fo the next day after thete orvier wers hased, a meconl anowy inrail addrew appeared from the mame writer. In this paper be fifferted to conalder the orders of Gemern Wablagton, susuming the difuction of the mecting, a manction of the whole procemilng which he lisd proposed. Wesialagtoth naw, at once, that he nust be present af tho meell himself, or that his name wouli be uned to Justify measurea which he Intinded in dlacountenaace and prevent. He therefore attewded the moeting, and under bly influence, seconded by thit of Putnam, Kaus, Bronks, and Huwand, the resuit was the alcoption of cerenia recolutions, In which the ofticter, after reasmertity their griarances, and rebuklag all atteinpts to sedisco them from their civil mllegiance, referred the Whoie subject of their claimu ugain to the con. sideration of Congresse Even at Hils diatint alyy, the perifi of that crists can scarceiy be con leluplated without a shudilef. Hisd the Commanief In-chlef been other than Wrahington, hati the lealing ofticere by whom he wassurrominied treen lesa than the nolicut of patrlotm, the Tind would have beeu deluget with the bloni of clvil war."-G. T, Curtis, Nist, of the Const. of (T. S. bk. 2, ch. 1ic. 1).

ILey in: J. Marshall, Lifo of Wiahington, 0. 4. th. 11.
A. D. 1782-1784.-Persecution and Aight of tie Tories or Loyallats, dee Tomty or the AHEUF AN REvoletios.
A. D. 783 (Apri).-Formation of the Society of the CIncianati. See Cincinsati, Tue Nuctriv of ruts.
A. D. 1783 (September) - The definitive Treaky of Peace between Great Britain and the United States. - The four dithetit $\quad$ Hus. lkans on whlch the British and Almerime negotiators at laris arrived, after innch discusion and wise compromise, at a settlement of differ ences ofglaally wide, were (1) |houtwiarin: (2) Fishing rlghts: (3) Payment of deutg fona Amerlcan us British merchaniw that $\because$, nutstanding when the war $b=$ çal American loyailsts, or Toric. on . it their condscatel properis. . s.01, stliz after the separule niguthatus waca Engiand opened an agreement had beun rfached, and proliminary or provlaionai urtlcles w re eigned ou the 30th of November, $178:$. The treaty was tuot to take cffect, otherwlse thau by the cescastion of hoatilites, untll termes of pegic ahould be agreed upon between England and F'ranc*. This orcurred in the following January, and on the 34 of September, $1=43$, the definltive Treaty of Pcace between (ireat Britaln and the United States was signed [at Paris]. Its essential pro. vislons were the following: "Art. I. His Fritannle Majesty acknowiediges the sali U'nited States, viz. Jew IIampsilire. Massachusett May, Hhole Island, and Providenve Plantations, Con. necticut. New York, New Jersey, Pennayivania, Delaware, Maryland, Virglala, North Carollna. Nouth Carvitian, anci Cicorgiv, to iw free, soverelgn and Inde andent States; that he treate wlth them as such, abil for himself, him heirs and successorth relinquishes all clalms to the fovernment pro-

UNITED STATES, 1783

Treaty of the
UNITED STATES, 1788.
priety and territorial righte of the mame, sand every part thereof. Art. II. And that all dis. putes whlch might arise in future, on the subject of the boundarles of the U'nited States muy be prevented, It is hereby agreed anil declared, that the following are, and alall be thelr boundaries, viz: From the north:weat angle of Nova Acotla, viz. that angle which to formed by a lline drawn due north from the source of Salnt Cmolx River to the Illghamils; along the sald IIIghlands whlch divide those rivers that empty themvelves lato the river 8t. Law rence, from those whlch fall Into the Atlantle Ocean, to the northwesternmost heal of Conneetleut Hiver: thence town along the muldile of that river, to the thith degree of north lattutic: from thence. liy a lline due weat on the sult lailtude, untl! it sirikes the river Iropuols or Cataraluy: thence aloug the madde of sald river into lake Onario, through the maddle of sulld iake untll it atrikes the communlealion by water between that lake and Lake Erle: thence along the madlle of sald communleathon Into Lake Erie, throngh the middle of alth lake untll it arriven at the water communlcaton between that lake and lake Hurun: thence along the moldile of sald water communtenton Into the lanke Ilaron: thence through the mididle of ald lake to the witer crimnumbation Ix.tween that lake anil Jake Su Perior: thenre hrimgh Lake Nulerior morthwarl! of the Isles laval nand Phlliprome, th the Long lake: thrure througlt the miltile of suld Lang lake, and the witer cormumleation letween It and the Lakie of the Woxals, to the salti lake of the Woxks; thene thromgh the suld lake th the nunst northwestern pulnt hereof, and from thence on a due wros course to the river Mllswisulppl; thence ly :- line to be drawn along the micille of the situl rlecr Misslaslppl urth It shall lutersect the northermmose part of the 31at degree of north lititule. South, lag a How to lee drawn due cast from the ditermina. thin of the llue lavt mentloned, In the: Intitule of 31 degrees lurth of the Eiguatur. We the miditle of the river A palachleoda or ciatalone her: thence along ther maddile tharreof tor lis Junction whith the Flimet 13ver: theroce strult th the hemb of No.
 of si Marys ltiver to the A dantle Oereat East. by a Ine io $1 x$ drawn mong the midille of the river st. (Trokx. from tis month lo the bay of the rivers then fall hata the Athande therme from those whith fall lith the river st. Lawronere:

 "f and part uf the shores of olle. Cented Situtes. mid lylug Intweron lines to loe drawn due sast Fherida ma the other, whall rexgeretively tureh the llay of Fondy mal the Athate therm: excent fage sadi indaris as mow are, or heretofore have harin. Withln the lltults of ther satit proshere of Nova scopla Art 111 . It is are that the coy momonemeld the rasht to take tish of every kinel on the tirami lamk, nome om all the other lunks of Ni.w foumellatul: aise) In the (inlph of salnt dawremere nut at alt ohar phates In the sea

erty to take foh of every kiod on such part of the comut of Newfoundland as Britsht Hislermen thamil) ase (but not to dry or cure the samer on that lelamel) and also on the coasts, bays, anel ireviks of all other of Illa Britanalc Majesty'x rimutiminas In America: and that the Anerionul fishermen shall have llberty to dry and eure: lixil it any of the unoellled bays, harlouns, ant lerevky of Xors Scoth, Magdalen Islaukla, andi Iarlisulor, so long as the amme shall remaln unset thenl: buit so oxut ns the same or elther of them shall is. w.illed, it shall not be law ful for the saill dishermen to itry or cure thsh at anch settlement, willowit a prevt ous eguement for that purpowe with the intalit. Lunts, pruprletors, or posserasors of Ilar ground. Irt. If. It ls agreed that crelltons on cither side shall meet with no lawful hmpuliment to the re: coviry of the full value la sterllug miney, of all lona fille delits heretofore cuntracial. int It is agreed that the Congriws shall rarisextly ree. ommend it to the legishateres of the rovprotive States, tu provile for the realturtion of all comates rights, und propertles which linve layill reveds eated, lelonging to real Ilrtisho whlijects, and almo of the extates, rifhts, mall propertiey of persons reslily int la ilstrictes In the jumesation of Hlis Najesty's arms, num whin have tul brome armas ngainst the gatil C'ulted States.
. Art VI. That there shati le no fiture comtisatioge made, nur any prosecuthms commaneil, mains any bremon or persons for, or hy ramon of the part whleh he or they may lurve takin in the present war. . . . Irt. VII. There blall he Majesty nand the kuld States, mani lulwen the wherefore all hostlithes. luoth by wen and ham!
 Inith sldes shall be mot at lilw rety, and lifs lirian

 Ing nway any negrixes or othar propery of the Art. VIII. The mavhatlom of the river Nis ever romaln free anil opron to ther andereto if Girent Ilritain. and the eltizens of the L'titeel II II: Prentem. $p$ : 2:3:

- Mertiatenentaryllint. aj Eing  A. D. 1783 iNovember-December - The British evacuation of New York.--Dissolstion of the Continental Army and Washong. ton's farewell to It.-." The deqinttue tos! lixa, zell way mum tole ratition by the [niked of the Itritishe army In ther rast lent maled dum was hing herid in cratefol remandrame la the nrmy scaree 11 remant wis then |at the lasia these few ware undir the conumathl of timeni Kiner. Ills great work of defiverater owre.

 ghene low'k th hits ratate on tiwe banha w! the CXITED ETATES, 1783. Alter the War. UNITED STATES, 1788-1787.

such part of is) Anliermen samer on that enl arreks of s cluminhons ili fislyermen lalt in sny of 4-k.of Sors ulur, sat long lint so max lwe watleel, to rman to dry mint th prefl. Ithe intabl the smuni III elther shle It to the re . Miney, of all d. int V . arsextly rec. rymetite oll criblem miluerties if anyenting of - $141 t$ borthe

An. mutivatione cil, nguinst asin of the whin) In the wall le: i- liritannic "theru the f the ruller. and hand inworn in 11iv Britan int Natil - "r cimp rry of the hiv armina itel satiox - river Mis. . Na3ll lat. "hetre w her ['nited 4tirwin the : $1: 4.3: 9$

Potomace, and was deeply engaged with plans for the improvement of his piantationa. The fetire. ment to privste ilfe of the American Fahius, at the oewspapers delighted to cail him, hads been stendel by many pleasing ceremonies, and had been matie the occasion for new manifentations of affectonate regard by the peopie. The same dhy that witnemedi the departure of Sir Guy Caricton from New York almo witnessed the eniry intn that city of the army of the Stater Sine days iater Washlogton hid milieu to bils officers. About mown on Thurnalay, tive 4th of Ikecember, the chiefs of the army assemind in the great roont of Frannces's Tavera, then the reeort of merchnnts and men of fashion, and there Washlngton joineri them. Rarely as be gave way to his emoslons, he could not on that day get the mastiry uf them. . . . Ile fileri a gines from a decanter thut stoxi on the table, rulseri it with s tremblling hani, nuid salif: Whtha heart full of lave and gritltude I now take ieave of you, and mos devoutly wlah your fiatter dinys mary lees pruspervus anid anppy as your furmer ofes have been gloricus and honorable.' Then be drak to them, and, after a paises, suld: 'I cannut come to curlh of yon to take ny ieave, hut shand he oblised if yom willi cucli come an. I whake me ly the hami.' Generai Kncix came forwame and, and Wishlugtonembraceri ins: The other officers approacled one by one, and silentiy towo thrit leave. A line of tifantry had been ifrawn up extending from the taviern to Wiblechall fitry, where a bagere was in walting to conrty the Washinpton, with lils otlleers fallowing. whlkeri down the llas af sollders to the water The streets, the malemales, the wintiows, wire conwideyl with gizers. All the churches lit the elty went firina jormise din. Arrlved at the ferry. he en-hat and wasel farwell. Then, ns the law. mover whwly out intu the stramambin the oho outs barthathed an the shone till the form of their lilns. trinus chmmander was losit tor vilew."-J. is.
 -1).
Alwin: W irving. Liff of Niwhingtim, r. 4 , A. 23: - Vra. M. I. Latnili, ilint. of the city if i.. r. . , Ah B-i.
A. D. 1783-1787, -After the war.-Resistance to the stipuintions of the - reaty of Pence, - National feebleness and humiliation. -Falure of the Articles of Confederation. Movements Loward a firmer Constitution. - evils i. trad romisel, leing no fongerer fell, wi ro flame, diwathatial whith the Heselves mal 11 ith "sersthme donere for them. The states, Nitfer

 thea nal gahawsic. liroke forth agaln whll nll the it uithleth atal the union seromed ilkely tu |wo selia fan: to cume fu. It was not tlif the lith of the month thnt the definitive trenty was taken un. der conalderathen ami diuly ratified. Nothing remained, therefore, hut to carry out the stipula. tions with us much haste as possllie. But there were some articies which tite peopie hationg before made fp their mindis never sloouid be carried out. Whille the treaty wan yet in course of preparation the roy ai cummissioners had stoutiy forsisted on the intruiactlon of urticies providing for the refurn uf tise refugees nut the payment of delits dine to brithal sibjects at the oproning if the war. The commisiloners on belailf of the Cinded states, who weil knew the tempers of their ceuntrymen, hai at tisest firmly stoxnl out ngrinst any surfl articies. Bat some cuncrosplons were afterwarl made by encll party, and certaln atipulatons tumelong the dehes and the refurees lnsertedi. Acinms, who wrote in the name of his fellow commulswloners, , hopeti that the mhis. Wle line aifpteri wonli be approveri. The mitidile Hne to whielt Adams referremi was that Congress should recommenid the states to make no intely in arms agalnst the confehration, and to put ne lar in the way of the recovery of auch as hand aiready tern comiscented. It was disslnctly maderstoxal iy ench shide that these wore recomi. unemations, indi nothing more than recommenif. ticna. Fet mu swaner were thry maie kmown than a shout of indiguntlon and nlotse went up from all parts of the coumery. The commamity In n monient was divided beiween three parties. The amallest of the three was male up of the Turles, whostlif hopperf for place anii jumer, ami stlll mursed the delushon that the prase wonlal be Ogoten. Yet they dally comerilumeti tu krep the remembrance uf It illue by a st romg ami to thes: was the large nud intluentind lualy :of vhlent Whigs, who inslaterl vehemeutly thent "very logallst slondi lastantly ine driveri from the sitates. A less numerous and lese viohors Insly of Whige censtlunted the thiri purty." The furg of the wheme Whige proviel enencrity irrexistlide atml grent numbers of the ohnuxhous Turles Indi (me Tuntes of tils: Aurinucas iencura Tow) befure lt. some' somght a rafuge in Florldn. then a pmowespitn of syaln, mid have sluce mised bu fromprome and levomifui willages, renowiend fur krowes of onatgetrees und thelds of cime. Gheres rinturhed on the is rit.

 ivenke hay. Many wemt tu Bompland, Ineset the mlainery with prithom for relinf. wrurimi the pintlic with parthethe atoriew of the harsh lugrati. tudn with whold thiots sufferings hati leen re.

 fur Suras soula. . Tho upw rontempt whth "hich, the all parta of the cumbery. the peoplte

 Was 1to more than niy man iof orlinary sagacley conled have foretolli. indiecti. the state meto Which (rimgroms hat falloll wan most wretelucl.

Earlh of the thirtern states the fonhen

UNITED STATES, 1783-178:

National fonblemen.

UNITED STATES, 1:83-178:

the central government. Each reserved to itself the right to put up mints, to strike money, to levy taxen, to rulse armles, to tay what articlea ahould conse Into lia ports free atud what should be male to pay duty. Toward the Continental Government they acted prectsely ns if they were dealing with a forelign power. In truth, one of the truest patriots of New England had not been ashamed to atsond up in hls place In the Maseachusetts Housp of ilepuites and speak of the Congreas of the States as a forelgn government.
Every act of that. loxly was ccruilnized witi tho utmoss care. The transfer of the most trivial authority beyond the londers of the Ntate was made with protestations, wills trembllag, and with fear. Under auch clreumatances, each delegate feit himaelf to have mueh the character. and to be elotheyl with very mueh of the power, of ambassadors. If. whs not reaponsible to meu, he was respouslble to a sinte. ... From beginning to end the system of reprementation was bad. By the Artieles of Confederatlon each of the thitreen iltile repulifles waa annuaily to menc: to Congross not more than zeven and not leas than two delegatea No thought was caken of populntlon. . Hut thaln alwolnte equally of

But thlm almolite equally of the States was more apparent than real. Con. gress jumanessed no revenue. The burden of supportling the delegates was cant oll thowe whosent them, and, as the clarge was not IIglit, a motive Was at once crenteyl for preferring $n$ representa. thon of two to a reprosentation of seven, or, Indeed, for sending nome at all. Whille the war was stlli raglug that the conemy mareling and Counter manching Withiln the lorder of every State, a mense of fear keplt up the mumbire of delegnten to at least two. Indeed, sume of the wealihler null more populons Sumtes often hat as many an fomir congressumen on the flower of the House. IBitt the war was now over. The stlme thus derivel from the presence of a lustlle nrmy Wan withadrawn, and the representation and at. tendance fell of fast. Delaware and Georgia ceasell to tre reprewenteti. From the matitcation af the treaty to the organization of the foravern. ment under the Conatitution six yeary elipperi. and during those sla years Congress, though en' titleal to 91 members, was rarely ntlendell hy 2.5 . The llouse was repeatedly forcel to adjoorn doy after day for want of a quorum. On more than one curaslon these adjourmments covered a period of thirtern conseritive days. .. Some. cuslon, howerer impressive or fimportant, could (all out a lurge attemance. Seven states, rij) resputed by iwenty delegates, witnessed the rexignintlon of Wiashington. Twemty dhree meme tern, whting for cleven states, voted for the matitiestion of the trcaty. ... It is not surprising. therefore that Congress spredlly degconeratesi into a delintling elate, wind a debating cinle of no very high ordir Negtected by lts own mempers. insulteif amithrentened by iti nuutnous trueps, reviled by the prese, and forced to wamber from clty to city lo menrils of als abidlugg place, les acts punsewsed tur nutlonal limportance whate ver. It votest munnments that isever were put up. rewariled merifurious servlces, whth shmas of minney thint never were pale, formed wlap ochemes for the ribif of the Amances that never were currictl oitt, and plamberl on paper a great city that never was bulte. In trith, to the meoters nud malrontegtalit. of that day, aothing was mote divertlug than the uncertain wanderingy of Congrems.
enflee hombes and caverns no luasta
Its the with such uproarlous applause asts were divain the barrel 'and 'Cement to the l'ntou' hopto Which not long before hall sprung up In the arms and come rapldy tuto vogite. . . . The med wimi In after years, came to eminence an the fromin of the Conalitution, who lrecame rethen hati ind ers of the Ferleralists, prexldienis, cribiset ministern, and constitutlonal matastinc n , were thent is frivate llfe, abroad, or In the state A sumblitio Washigegton was buyy with hals thegrese man to bacco; Adams was milnister to Ifollami; Jelep son atill mat In Congress, lint was sumin to be sent as minister to Frince: Madimin sat in be Virginla House of Deputles: Hamilton wa wrangiling with Livingaton and lsurr at the lat of New fork; Jay was minlater to spain"J. B. McMaster, Iliat. 倍 the Irope of the I:s. e. 1, ch. 2.-IIamilton's descriptien, in obe if the papern of the Fenleralist, of the statif of the country in 1887. Is very gruplale: "We may Indeen, willi propriety," here wrote, " be wid to Indees, with propriety," lee wrote, " be sid to have teached almowt the last stage of Natimat humiliaton. There ls scarcely uny thing that can wound the pride, or degralle the charamer of an Independent nation, whirli we tio noter of an Independent nation, whirlo we do mites perience. Are there congugememts, to the pmp formanee of whlel we are hidh by every the reapectalsle among men & Thesse nrie the subb jecta of constant amd unlumslang siulation, io we owe debta to forelgurm, and lu our ume clitzens, contracted In a theme of iennineut pent for the premervation of onr peliticial existemr? These remain whthout any proper or satiofathery provision for thelr discharge. liave we valuabe territorles and limportant prote la the jomavion of a forelgn prower, which, by rexpress stijula tlons, ought long sinee to have beris surn wiferd These are satil retulnexi. to the prejutice of ous Interests not kess than of our righise ion we In a conclition to rement or to ryjel the amerme sions We latve nelther trenjw, nor traserg, nor Government. Are wre erch in a crindition to remonstrate with dignlty? Tha just injpus tlons on our own faith, hin manyt to the sime treaty, onght tirst to lee remintal. Ire atere thled by netare and compurt to it fre paricic-Spain escluiles us from It. Is public. velitas perate oud Irretricvable. Is comamefer of in portance to Satonul weadtle? than is of the lowest juint of derlemshon. in reywtalidity the "y"e of forcign fowerm in whtrgiarid aguis: fordign rucronchments? The itmitwility if ost Govermactit even forlolds therin fon triat with us. Onar nombenswdors ablotind are the tarre fa geants of mimbe sotercigmty Is a behal ad ninnut ural decrense in the viluse of latal s wap tom of National dlatresw The price of in proved land in mome purts of fie ceuniry : mindo lower than can be accombell for ty the pircevilent among all ranke, und whish have is diriet temarncy in deprectate propary of ary sind. In private crevit the frimplani pata latea to formowlog and lending is frolucerl aithat the narroweat limita, and this bii' mere from to

CNITED STATES, 1783-1787. The critical CNITED STATES, 1ies-1787.

In the s were irnoi *I hown nlon' ; liawn He neto min the framen now newl hol. chluet midis. We.t. then is Anermblitis rin's ami to. lland, J.fict sumit to be II Nat In the millitom was rt at the lat (1) Spuin "In, In obt statr of the
"We may "Ixe waid io of Satingal thing that her clunneter c. the tixs +8. III the pmi. ly everf lie n. the subinlathon. Io a) outr own wibut ponl, I exint-nc? satisfan lity we vaiusbie - Immersicioa "sw stipuls. arromitend! Itlire if fs. drewe the ageptas t Trasufy. a cradition 10.st inpots. to the site In wris. Hisoinify" 1. ' 7 malit the datistre? Ins को is rer if 1 m Nos at the rtability ard arsies lit! of en, :rast wh tirfe pas Nintul ath Ha m mp (x) of in (1)uniry Fir lis ibe 4 can utr rivalr as! larmins: lo have of elet? inl panco whish re al nithn opinion of Insecurity than from the scarcliy of money To shorten an emameratlon of particus. lam wheh ran afford welther plentoure nur instructon. It may In general be demuaded what fodicadion ls there of National ellsonder, poverty, ad Indignticauce, that coulal Jefall a coin. munty suctiliarly lilemsed with mutural wif. rantages an we arre which does not form n phrt of the dark eatalugite of our pmblle mafor. tunes: ... The great and radrad viee lo the conmenetion of the exlsting (ionfinleration is la the princjple of legalaton fur States or (iow.
 ties, and as contradlatlaginished from llo: Indl. riduata of which they conslat. Thobigit thlas delegated lo the [Jion, yet it pervolus mul governv linae on whled the eflacary of the rext depenis. Exeryt ns to the rule of appurtions.

 hut they have su uthority to mole ejther, liy nymations extumling tothi indivhlonl citizans of Intrias. The consiof they urverw revemmendalons, whels the States ohereme of diaregand at their optiont stated in a trouly: regulating ulf the pletails of

Thers

 If hie paridimbar states in this combtry are dis.
 and to drup the jrobiert of 11 gencral diverevons.

 the firsl lamal: but it woilll latye the inerlt af

 ment. Hife womld briag ina lo as simple alliallere whing lis lue phacen in this periluns athathon: if Cinermatilt, ar, which is the sume thitige of a proper ingects of chivermmethe." - Nhviluler hathltan. Vhe frifomlive. No. 1.5 - Minly if futme to radlate ably obe tifth of the laters ins prefirrine in comlithon of ntfairs In whin lo diey commerce wlthout fear of retaliation by an Impotent Congreas. The nathonal standlig army haid dwinulled to a corps of 80 men. In 2785 Alglers dechured war agalast the United State Congreas rucommenterl the buiflling of tive 40 . gin shlps of war. Buat Cungreas liaijonly puwer to recommonil. The shlps were not hulit, and the Algeriacs were permittel tu prey on Amerd. cun commerce with lapulty. Encland atlll refumed to carry out tl, Trenty of lisis, or to send "Minlster to the Enited Niates. The Folleral Guvermment, In slowri. was desplseyl alirimil und disoleged nt lumme. The appurent remedy was the pinsesslon by Congress of the power of levylig und collecting Internal takes und ditiles inll lmports, bit, nficer long Heglag, it was funad limjusalble to gain the liceresang consent if all the Aintes to the arllele of taxalion by (bugrexs. In lisfi, therefire, thly wis nbant donel, uml, as a lant remort, the Ntutes were noked (t) piass min Amuinfurnt litristhag ti) ('ingress the rodloctlon uf a reverine irom imports. Thls

 one. Xew lork alone rejected It, nfter Jonk de.

 ? 'r rhapm the dlsinay cameral liy the action of Sirw lurk was the most pawerfinl urgument lathe mlads of mang for un lmmediate mul complete revlsion of thi govermment. The firat step ta latures of Marylabl and Virglala, In purxamace of thelr right tu ragolate commerer. |mat ap-demaing the Artlelia of Confioleration. Ithe the proteretion, prosprity ar comifart, of the ju'otwern the rotura al peite amd the howafrll of "Loverument whi h hatl Inern frameal with the jerif 'There are wentry any evils or dangers, of

 "xpusal. whled the jerople of the lintel States

 (tur) innel to say that the preflime of tive years foll.
 ment In alf the histary of the Anserian people of the $l:$ : S. leet, 3 .

UNITED STATES, 1789-1789.  Distrese of the  Cowntry.  UNITED STATES, 1764

A. D. ${ }^{1783-1789}$.-Depressed atate of Trade and Iadustry. - Commercial consequences of the want of nationality. - "The effert of the Revolutionary War on the merchant marine of the culonies, which therelyy secured their findependence as the United siates, was not oo dis. astmin an niglit have leen expreterf. Many ships were loat or captured, and the galua of marilime commerce were refintell; but 11 off. set these lemses an active firel if privateera found protitalile employmut in the selzare of Engllali merclantmen, nmi thins kept allve the urartime splitt of the emuntry, mul supplied a revenue to the shiperwaers whose legilmate part sultes were sispuemuled by the war. In liexs, thereforc, the dme theme nierclamit marlue was in a falrly lemithy criblition. Durlag the next slx gears the disudvantages of the tuew whtumthon mate themselves filt. Whefore the Revolmthen fow-suhbects in the lirituh Wext fudla ixlands. Thre comimeree thise carrlod on wis a very protit. alile hissinusg. The fishaul cohonles were suppled farm promace, whilels the conthernt farnsileet in ahmadane together with rellsis manafactured artiches kirch as pose staves, and In riburn the ghlpo if Siw York ami Srw Eingland Ironklit hach grat ylatattice of coffere, sugar. cotton, af. The merelonatue of of (ne (nited sintex then cane la on the forblige of furden veracles, ame all that the suldera equation of this trale, alatewer kass It maght hatict ull the mewty crated state. would ine teufolid more turnifal to the latimule.

 leces of the mainalat for the ne texation of Iff. Pitt, then Chamerlher of the Eiveherguer, apperi that wore the prember of either centinery. The matisure f:ithel, owithe fol litl s rebiknation, ant marely temprary net, vating his lin rown the lige wrain provkinas of the mavisation laws.

 Therihhe atiferimgo vistemt the peppezhtion of the aleatribed hy lurrlames. dpart frona the nam fatursithe cinditisut of the Wiat ladita trale.

 maino at this time was that formeth hy the Iry the where"-. 18 solde. Ifarithome Ioduat rora of the pooreat commerce known in the whol hlstory of the country. Eingland sent America &3,700,000 worth of merchandive in list, and tocik in return only 8750,000 . The drain of sperle to ineet this difference was very merefe. and merchants conld not meet the engapementa so rasilily masle. They haul imported luxuries fur customers who were poor, and non pryment thruugh all the avenues of trade was the conse. quence. One clrcumstance anil ditall of the Internal management of thita commerie aided to the dilat ress and to the necessary dillicultios of the tlme. Immediately after the preace, Britioh mer chants, factors, and clerks came arromes the sus In streams, tutake milvantage of tre new oppur thinltes for trale. It scenied to the citizena in be a worne Invantor of their cectromile rights thun the coming uf the troups lad lietn to the juilitical rlyhts of the old colonlsts. The whole conntry was agitated, hut action was lalisated is Iomuin in $1: 85$. The merclinnts net anal discussed all these diffleulters. They phalgivl dumevelven to buy no more goxels of lirltishl merchanta or factirs In blowten. Inalant threw wews the me.

 Tavert und cummittel themselves til the same polley. Bint the merchants weut loy yond mere non Interenaree wits trinters at home. The not of the diffentry was in thee 111 -regulation or wat of regulation of our connmerce with all fureikn eomontries. The couffalermtion was giving athl bir getilng. Where it sloald have gittern, forelige. ens were getthg, bechise the parte of the omb. try lathl nit agreent to unite in nepuiting for the in the proxems. Ciongress mamele trimices for ite t'oufterlicrotions. Batif unalde to trant witi any power whioll "xeluiled Anverivan shipinge fom Congress ille hat control our jurts lan an cquis lint maumer Fincli luilvidual shate was an de. cile whather the burflemily pawer shombtrade at lis own ports. Tlals his ettrot nullitied any retatimetery metion. Einglami, feing the the uarhit, virtatily cometrullad naly clange is commerer, as It was the condactol. Iler pars were brabght in britioh vesula. Francr al mitheal uar vessuls tu her gurts, hat lar marimats cricl oat ayahat the comperition. It was feated that she malusters woulh be chliget! to! !h th their chantur asid clome the pwots. I'rohaldy the luar equmomic. cenalition of the cunamry aficted turnt of formgur relations. Dll calame combuisd

 Iute tratiom of comberee It was in hiadine.
 hatel havitutcel men fitherroures th their owa markit whit lritali traders Thery jutitutom!

 chation liy comgress. They format a Cuar

A. D. 1784 -Plans for new States in the тоня or tite C.C.S.A. |1. Iial
the whole ent Amerla in 13 s , and se thaln of very sereme agaremmu ted luxuries 1.0n payment In the crome thill of the rive sideled to ruthes of the Britibly mer ronenthe mw пеш орри: "citizens th umic right lwen to the The whole 1 lult inated is It and dithe whym) them. 4 merrohants whothe ne. ten Ihay 115 the sume cyoud mere
The now thon or wat all fureiza Ing anl fuit "nl, furel ka: It the cuma. ring for the 11 xe injund thise firi ites It with any ip ing th: m "1 Itrixure, als cyu!ts Mas tis ite Itwilh insien illibini any the lay clange is Iller purts milns thy mirtilants Wan frared to yith wo minall the ry afictud combind 12 Impmod , the wher If:n alow this diner. after the? thit oxa gritionom cherets of andras If winser it a romhew plags Wiefltich $\mathrm{mg}, \mathrm{Im}_{1}^{2}$
A. D. 174.-Revols In Tennesce egainat the territorial ceasion to Congress.- The State of Franklla. See Tesvicmack: A. D. 1776-1784; and 1784.
A. D. 174.-The first daily Newapaper publleatlon, Gee Printines and Prewn A. ID. TM4-1813.
A. D. $17^{8} 4$ - The fipanclal adminlatratlon of Robert Morris.- Cont of the war. - F'rom May, 174!, untll Aprll. 1785, the burlen of the finsncial management of the revolutionary atrug. the rested upon liobert Morris, of I'hladelphlit. Who bell the uffice which Congress had creater) mil entlled "the Stiperlatumbent of Finances." Hopris's detractors argual that he leeserved no great credit for hls managenuent of the thances as comparey whith his prevecemsors, Incrause in bis time everything turued In his favour. It ls true that If things land reinalned as liefore, he could mot luve restorel the thanders; for the miracte of currylog on a war without meaus han aever vet lwan performed by anyboly. The events whilh gure him an opportunty to restore the fimures, hy lntellggent an! emergetk acthon, were as fullows. The tirat was the collapise of the paper currency aml ita alimolute reumovil from cireulation, In Say, list, just luefor ho towk oflice. As won as it whs out of the way, nople cante to. He was uble to throw agiale all the tramuels In whild the Invasury operathons hat feren entughel hy the puper system. It ls triwe that he entirily frum them nothelpations, whheh, lmas. much as they were anticlpulhus, wotili have usel up thr rivaures of his thue: birt it wasn great gain for blus to he able to combut hls cur. Font ofrerations at lasist lat terins of aperle. The achat thing in his favenr was the great help grantal hy france In list, um! ispechilly the impertation of a part of thls in sperebe Thls enablat lime to fosum! the hank, from whleh lie bortowed six tiane what he put lutult. 'The chlet une if the hank tu hlan, howivir, was to change: Then uisa it was posibhe fir hha to ceswins hand tort lime tha trminge or the ulpur.
 abluen of the chl thethat hand mat gothe for Marri-a limu. and ibiatly, as it apours, hy his

 Whe nithe uir abe to nu chit, it was pusable for him thral.or the eutiru establlshament tol ret! hess as:ale. Si. it wr muthe that there eftorts it was :rosial it whe pehter of vhew, was hargo

 -Tutal st!? In mas 'lhis tuble sluws luaw the country lapsetl Into dependence on France sfter the alliance wan forined. The roumbl numberf oplonhte 1280 is very cloguent. It mean* nu. archy and guenswurk. $\qquad$ Acconlling in the best recoria we possess, the cost of the war til the Unlted States, rediecel to sperle: value year hy yenr at the ofticlal seale of ileprocintlon. whleh, lielng always lelow the truth, make's theme figure too hlgh, was, us alowe shate?!, 882, 485, 69:1, "t the treasary. Thery werp ulat There hal lieen experiled in Faryne, whint never went through the tremsury, oi $+1(1),(m m)$. The States were exthated to liave expeniled enlated lt at fl\$0,(MO), (NNO), ly maling the dehts luctirrel and the conthental curreacy: The delit contrmeted by Finghmal durlag the war reallaed. The Conuptroller of the Treasury of France salal that it come $80,000,000$ Ilveren a year tusuppurt the nruy lu Imerlea. Fergennest told 1afingette, in Novemin'r, 1782, that France hal expeuded 2\%0,000,000) llvers In the war. There lan often repeutel whatement that the war cont of 1, Whn (M), (M) A Arthur loung put it at as the umumit direvty expeuled for and In pistuthitis comid le made of her comitrlation to Amerlenit luthermbence. She lud harge expemiltires elmewhere la the proweroitlon of her war mgalas (ireat lirituin, and her hublontial almanloneal the elfort tusimbue the eohnites, she than either of hor atsermarles. tieogge 111. was by uo murns stupiol in hls counumons amblagkes. thans ulanit the war. Sn Finglivinuan of the [Mrlinl witid things which now m.ill wher the the retronjult. Is varly us suptimber, IVal, he

 France wolly not conthume the wap i ipxemes of wrute to Montmorin, that the Finglish tleet was stronger than at the beothatis of the war, white the therts uf framer noms Shaln were weaker: that Frelwh thanders wore proally wrakenerl. while Finelials crestit was high: that England had duat in to pravere ln the war, the nuther of erellit Wamil have hirat the most Impurtant "hon tht in har chances uf sucerss, asib. from the maturnt lithenltion of the venterprise." W. (i. Aummer, The Fimetrior othll the Fimemea

A. D. 178 4-1788.- Disputes with England over the execution of the Treaty of Peace. Difficulties with Spain. - The question of the Navigation of the Mississippi. - Eastern jeal ousy and Western excitement.-' 'irrimus lis. putes shou arose, coucerulag the executlon of the

UNITED STATES, 1784-1788.

rif ingotand.

CNITED STATES, 1781-1788.
treaty of pence; and each nation complatnel of Infractions by the other. On the part of the Linted States, it was alleged that pegroer had been carriel away, contrary to the trealy: and as early as May, 1783, congreas inatructed their ministers for negociatlag peace to remonstrate to the British court apainat this conduct of their commanier in America, and to take uensures to ohtain reparaton. The U'ilitel Ntater, nloo, com pialned thut the weatern powts had moi been anr renderel, agreeahly to treaty stipuiations. Great Britaln, on her part, nilogei that legal Imperfs. ments bad leen Interimeed to prevent the cullec. thon of Brithsh teltes fu Amerim; and that the sth atd 6 th articles, relatlag to the property of the loyallats, hail mit becis complitel with. In June, 1784, the Regianture of Virginla not only de. clared that there had been an fufruction on the part of Great IIritalu of the ith artleke. In detalnIng the shases nati inther property of the chlizens of the United Stutes, hut listructeil thelr delegates in cungress to ropurat that a remonstrance be presented to the British court agalnat sich In. fraction and ti require reparation. Thry hlay directed them to fufirm cungress that the state of Virghala concelvent a just regurit tu the nathanal hamor mul huterest olillicenf her ussembly th whthhold their co oprerathon fin the connplete fulflment of the tronty until the surevens of such remonstrince wns kmwn. ur they shmoh have further ilfrectinas frime congreas. They it the eame thate decharent, that us mana as ripwanthen for such infraction manulid lwe mate, or congress shoulif fulge. It Indisperiswily neecessary, surlt acts as luhblitest the remevery of Hrithht indos should lee reperahol, aun! payment umble, in such thene and manure us shouht compiat "ith the ex of these dhth ulthes mat diaputes, conizerss, early In the yonr 1isi, determine ol tos sump in ministir of February dilan dilams was appohite tol to rep resent the luiteld States at the contert of laming He was hastructicd 'in n resperiful lut tirm buna ner to Insist that the C"nitemt stuters he fillt. With ont furticer ibliay, Inton promeshloun of all thai punt and territurfica within their limits whith are tums hehi ly Iritish garriwums. . . . Mr. ditiorem States nt Hee cuurt of Versailles, in the memen uf Dr. Framila, who hall hove io retura hata:
 having rewtenet the wille uf sereretary of forimit aftalos, Mr. day, In Marth, list, and Iefore thix retira from kiarope, was uppuhtitel lo his phare.

 eland . In leverulur. livit, Mr Adatas pro.

 Werseron puats chanrary tuthe stipulathene hat the treaty uf prawe he in the nume nud la hehaif uf armites athi garrimple le forthwith whairavis of the the sedind ruited stithes, from all mul wery of the posis mul fortreswes lefore conatieraterl.
 the territory of ha, maill nited states, neworling to the true int -ution if the treathes. Tu thes midurial the Ilritish servetary, hord (armarlisen.
 1780, th wheh he ackuowlenges the detenthan of the prosts, but alleges a breach of the the sricle of the trenty of peace on the part of the lonted States, hy interposing Impelliments th the recor ery of British debte in Amerion

This 40 . awer wat accompanieni with a statement of the varfous instances in which the tilh artitle had leen violated by acts of the states. Tb; com. plaints of Great liritain aiso extendini to liroachet of the sth and bithartleles of the treuty. relaing to the recovery of certalu property unil to crobts. cathons. Theanswer of the inlitish serertary was sulomittel to congreas: and lo order to niture the difilcultion eomplaluell of. that lawis. ia March, 1257, unablanously cheelaren! that whe the acte, or partsof nets, existing in may of the states, repugnant to the treaty of prace, cuitht to le re. pented; and they recumamederf tio the statem to make such repreal ly a general law. . . A if. cular keter to the sthere arcompuntied these declamthns, In which congreses say. we have deshitered the severil fucts and mutters ureat by Great llritah, as Infracthans of the traty ef pence, in the part of Amerlial, nitel we reate that, in smanear the states, ton) liftlouttenthethas beren palid to the pubilc fathly phatsint ly that trenty:' In emamen incure of this le.ther, ther whites

 Siothe carolina, puseel! actu complying ath the all acts preventing the remosery of inhtodue to mor of that state shomhd lasthe a pridamation, for the further filithanetut of the erraty of prace by dellacrlag up the negrene indinging to the - fllane of that matc, carried away comerars th the Tll artiale of the ireaty, wr ly ulaning cema chal trenty whth the Luitu-l Stallo. The mizis.

 ahly, ine of the primelpal remseme of their reftod the inter lithe any sinth trenty. IV :ha, Brivis (Hust, hat honse th return latio.

 ter dithenlth a with spala us wrill on cirmet ism mill. The two floridas lmaving lwath umblat has

 Spain, fur the purphenenl adjovtiug ile interterir rlaing of the I wor nathons respertite the natiz

 Whidh dught to sulhesist hetwroll them This wis
 Ciaributi. : inluinter from spain, whatrism:

4 th anicle the Cobled , the recour. . Thls ana. sent of the article bus Th: com. to lireacheis & retating It io cruluts. relaty *m (1) renase luxis. in hate all the thir ntintes, It toly re. c stitery to

I cis. mied there chave de. I ant eno. trigul by traty it we reuthe we reats It by that the st.ites ale hiant cinit and whild the "Incultino 1 repealint andue to lue guyer. Masting, isirtalup thasans of prace 15 to the utrary th ing tor iNcom vinam? : unisis1 mbleses Miv wre ally hey a- prib r refosid - linish thisw liis, Trem ตบม. "al Ifrit 4 lol h Pine, |l|l at of the thelatis and
 :istup Ifertis mav: malas:
 Hetis

artiral, Mr. Jay, then sceretary of forelgn affalm, was appolnted to treat with the Spanish minls: tef on the part of the U'nited Statess. . . . As Mr. Jay, by hil inatructions, was not to couclude a treaty untll the ame was communicated to congreas and approved by them, and was alao specially directed to obtaln a atipulation ackuowledging the right of the U'inted states to their territorint cladina and the free navigation of the Mimatalpi, as established in thelr treaty whith Grent Britain, he, on the 31 of Augnst, 1786 . submitted to congress the . . . plath of a com: merial treaty, and sated the difticultles in obtalalng the stlpuiation requiret. . . . 'Circumgtanceil as we are [sadd Mr. Jay] I think it woulid be expedlent to agree that the treaty should tre limiked to twenty tive or tharty years, and that ote of the articlen should stipulate that the Coblecl States would forleme to use the navlgathon of that riverluelow thelr territuries to the rean. Thus the duration of the trenty und of the fortiearance In questhun should be Ilmintid to the same periond. Aunug otlice rensons, Mr. Jay stated that the navigntlon of the Masls: sipp wis not at that the very tmportant, and Find nut prolmbly becone so hal lese than twenty ase or thiry yeras, and that a fortcomare to use it, whille it was not winted, was the great macrifice - thent spalu then exeladed the perphle of the [nited states from that mavignton, aul that it couth ouly te açulred ly war, for whild the toitel states were not then prepmed: and that In case of war France would no doullt join spain. Congress were marh dledidel on this in. tefesting sulaject. The seven stnteant the north, the nee of the malyathan af the Misulsalpul helow the sulherm lmmulary of the tiolted sitates, for a linited time, and at resalutions was sulanituel to cumbess repealing Mr. Javis tustructious of the dith of Jugnat, $1: 850$, nud which was entried. 4eren mater ngalinst five. . . Thls, however, lation of forlamance shanill nut be coustrual to extinguidh the right of the luherl states. independent if sulchantipulation, to nse and! navigatio sald river from fis sumpere to the mevan; mad that guch stipulation was mot to be malde muless it IEatios mat are of the sulit! river filewe sull int terection to its sonfere shonlat be cembunt to hotle natintio-and Mr. Juy wis to makre bul trasty unicas tha torritorial limits of die I nited 111 the terand :atewel betwern the ['nited Statex and lireat liftain. . A A by the coufende rathon it in piving s.mectite instrnctions in relation to and it was questioned whether the preofndey withant the ase.ut of nine stathes. These prowetimes in comgreas, though whin chowe Erat alarm in lirginin anid in the western acttifments While these argociatians wore to neinge the foptile country a the west was set. lifat wits at mpl!ity beyoud the luome sangultue falcalatits, mati it lx tent surpmang that the uews of anar tal or mite mitet nhanemment of the was. lizathon ther liscisulph, the ouly ontiot for therle probutions, siould have excled grent nariat among its Inhabitanta. They werc much exas. perated hy the selzure and confiscation of Amer. lcan pruperty by the spaniards, on lts way down the river, whela took place almitt the same tine. The proposition made in congress wan magnified intu an actual treaty, and called front the western people most bliter complaints and reprosches. .. To qulet the apprehenstons of the western inhubitunts. the delvgates from North Carolina, In Spptesilere, 1ises submitted to congress a resolnithon deelar. lug that ' whereas nmiy citizens of the Cubted stutes, who possess lamls on the western waters, have expreased much nuenshess from a rejport thint congrens are disposed to treit wilth Spiln for the surrember of thelr clitu to the navigntint of the river Misxiseslppl: In oriter therefire to guiet the minula of our fellow chlaras hy remov. lug anch ill pumbed apprehensiums, resalved. That the ['nited] States have a clenr, alsondere, and mailienathe clatm to the free unvigatlon of the river Missinslppl, whelt claim is nut only supp. parted by the expreses stpmhations of trentles, but ly the grent law of nature: The secretary of firelgn uffairs, to whom tlds resolntion was re: ferref, reported, that in the ramor mentloned in the resolithon was not warranted hy the negoelutions lxel ween the I'nlted Statess min! spaln, the memikers le permitted to contrailet in, In the most expileft tormis. Mr. day uiwn stnteth. there could te wo ohjerthon to derlarlug the right of the Colteal siates bo the harigntion of the rluer clear mind aboshate - Heat thls had whwngs tween hils uplahin: whe that the onty question hat bxeru whether a mextidecthon of that right for embivisiemt alvantiges was advicible: and thomph toe hatl sine interpasedt to rember it umestinutalle. Ife ulan alvewt that further wrgoriations what spain le transferred to the mew gemernl govera-Sepemper. 1 ises, la order tormes the appre: herusions of the westerus selth res, deviared thite the lhas: atel at the sume ther risulval Ihat the free such. All further mergelationswith spillu were ch. If (e. : 2 - - It was import, hat fir the front thersmin to take the hake lined from the Brit. Wh: hat It way reve bero linportant to wrest Hiswiscippt. Whill the Lathe lewts Were hellithy Hes garriwios of : fordgal jower, the work of mettiay the morthwestern serritory was minnd to fol forward shawly and palafully: bin while the b:avisation of the Missholppic was harred, esen

 "1) Hheir prenner prosherity and longortance. The Wraternerw were right in regurding as indis.

 mately to atequlre the control of the whole riser, from the sutiree to the mouth. However, hio Westernere wished nore than the privilege of mending down strean the preslucts of thoir winuls lorgun to cost huglog eyes ou the fair spanide

posesesions. : Every bohd, tawlem, amblious

 lealer among the frontier folk dreamed of wreat. Ing from the spaniard tome portion of hls rich and in-guarded domain. It was mot alune the attitude of the frontlerimen towaris Spaln that was novel, and lased upon a sltuation for which there was ilttle precedent. Thelr relatlons with one nnother, with thelr brethren of the neaboart, and whtis the Federal Governnient. likewle find to be miljusted without mich chance of profting by anteciedent experience. Many phamen of these relatlons lwit ween the pros. ple who stayed at home sod thowe who wanderenl of to make hones, leetween the fruntlersmen an they formed young States, and the Central Goverament representing the old States, were entirely erament representing the olidstates, wercentirelyThe attitule towards the Westerners of certala portiona of the populatlon In the olider Btates, and especlaily in the northeastern Stnter, Was one of unreusoning jenlousy and susplelon: and though this inental attitule rarely eryatal. ilzed loto homille deeds, Its very exlstence, and the knuwhenge that It did exist, enobltterenl the men of the West. . . . In the northeastern States, and In Niew Eingland especinlly, this feel Ing showed Itself fur two gencratlous after the chase of the levaluthonary Wur. On the whole the New Enklanders hinve exertad a mure profound and wholesome inthernce upon the development of our common conntry than has ever been exerted lay any outher eqpasity numerons body of our weapte. They have teil the mation In the phth of itvil llorery nall sonnd governmental almhatistration. Buit tora often they lave vewed the nathon's growih nal great ness from a narrow and provincial stundpolat, und have grudgingly actutemed in, puther than led the marelh thivards, centhatitn! supremary. In shaplog the miton's puliey fur the future their

The extrome representatives of this north. eastern secthuntism not only abjected to the gmoth of the West at the time biw mader com. shleratom, late even aveiwed a dexpre to work it harm, lyy shmethig the Misolsslpph, whins tu In-nertit the commarce of the dtantic siates.

These latioprant extrembis ant unly opposid the mi. miman of the yomig western siates fintos the Culon, hat ut a later date artuntly manomerel that the amereatian by the linthel States of vave terrlarins leyoml the Mhsisslphi offerel Jast enase for the weresston of the nurthenstern States. Eveln thase who thl wot take snch ma the Wiost might grow to avero.p the binst in pocer. A curlents feature of the way many hones men linkent at the Wiest was tiedr hathil ly tos ser huw cose bially trasic.nt were wme of the charam turisties to whin they uhajeeted. Thus la k le-- - Lertronimg of varlane kinds whith grew ont ... ste - na litions if fromber sittlement suld firchlant - thothe time when the burhatent and fallag to eye that in enart praporthon as the cmased the guathiow to which they objowted mandg gend whe fo share these fears, esen mon as broadly patriotle as day, wald nat realiae: the extreme raplalty of weatern growth. Keatuck and Terpessee grew much faster than any of llie ald frontler colonime had evir grown; and frum sheer lack of experience, cantern atatusmien romilu nut reallze that thin raphlity of grow th mate the diate and not of futnre interest th the $\mathrm{Wi}_{\text {int }}$. While many of the perple on the eastero sa. Inarit thas cook an Indefenalble prodt ion in meftr. pace to the trans-Alleghany settlements, in the perlod Immediately anceeeling the licroulution, there were large bolles of the pipulathin of thewe same mettlements, lochuling very many of their popular lemlens, whose uwn atiliate to waris the Cnlon wan, If anythitug, more hanis. worthy. They were clankirous absut thele rishes and were not unready to use vollol threate of dlsumaton when they dermed these rlphta in. fringed; but they showeel litile appreciathin of their own latles to the l'ulon. . . . Thes demanded thint the Cintell shates wrest from the Irltish the Lake I'osts, and from the Apmuianis the navigathens of the Misulswippl. I't the aremed lncapmble of understnuling that if the acparated from the tulun they would thation forfelt nll chance of achleving the wery purnow they hat In plew, Ircanme they womhl then eat talnly he at the nerey of Ilrition, and probmblr at leant for some thme, at the murery of spain nlso. They opposeel giving the tinltel stater the necemary clvil nad militury jower, althung It was oniy liy the pomessiunnide excrevis of finit power that it wonld be pmoslde to molury for the westernerss what they winteel. In ali hamue probablity, the whote country pommit the tirtat Lakes would stllt be IBrilsh territory, ami the month of the Mhaviselppl still the thi haves of sune Europenn pewer, hall the folly of the ep. nrutists won the day nud hat thi West bevo broken "II hato Indepentent station... This that trinmph of the Tolon marty fa then find furmed frometer states war frumght with humas.

A. D. ${ }^{1785-1} 7^{87}$. First troubles and dealIngs with the garbary pirates. in. lithagr states: A. 1). lixit-lmil
A. D. 1786-1787. - Shay's Rebellion in Mar sachusettu. See Mannuctlimitrs: I II 1imb15xi.
f. D. ${ }^{178 \%}$ - The Ordinance for the Goversmeot of the Northweat Territory.-Exclusion of Slavery forever. Nor. Ximallmar Thats Ambinea: A. D. Iis.i-1sua)
A. D. 1787. - The framing of the Federal Constitution. - The Union constructed of comproinises. - The cinnwimtinn of didemats "plinted to nulise the Arthelow of Confoters framing anew aroweral cunctiation fur the he the several slates were men mifurm. lie thetr helegaties for the purphise of reving the Hamphir: Bhlaware, mul thorsia todedide sathustts, and Connetlem 'for the sole and

CNITED 8TATES, 179\%.

The mating of the condertwition.

Kentuck

 any of the and frum nere crull masle the of Imamb. M. thern ses. 1 in refer. ts. in the rolution, lathon of many of itrade to Clame. Ir fisclits, hrents of yhits is. iation of They de. Prom the pauiarls it ther If they thertig Mirnwes numbry Smain 1 States hluwish of anch for the "firtat annid the mand of he Mp.expren purpose of reviling the Articlew of Confederathur:' South Carollam and Maryland 'to revder the FimferniConatitution entlrely adequate to the setual aituation.' Iftumlo laland held aloof. Sle was governetl by a class of men who wanted to pay thelr debta in paper money, and she did not wish to surrender her power to collect dutien upon the gonxla that came into her port. The tride of New port at that ilay surpased that if New lork. Connecticut came In reluctanily. and New Ifampahfre Jate In July, 178\%.
Wabingtoa was male preshlent of the conven. tion. ... Jany names great in the revaiu. thanary struggle were aboent from thr: roil of delegates. John and Samuel Adams, and John Ilancock, were nut there, Patrick Ilenry of Virgiain refured to attend. Thomas Jeffer. mond Juhn Jay were alsent from the country. George Washington mad l kenjamin Frankiln, humedre, wore there,

Among the younger nun was Jamow Vmilimen of Virginfa.

Aler. suler llamiltuu came frou New lork. rharles C. Plnckney was a Jelegate ©rom Nonth Carolina.
danié W'liman of P'unsyivania कas a icotchman. Ile surgasmal alf others in bis exact kuowfedige of the civil sull cosumun law, and the faw of mathous. . . (lilier kills. worthaml luger Siterman ceme from Counecti. cut. .. . Many of the 35 delegatem whemedi Hamilous euntempt for $n$ democracy, fut the strugith they womlis remase fu a governincont thy prefirrend turetain fil the states. . . The orst lusiness of tite convention wins the athoption of rukes Einch state was to lave one vote. Surd was the rule In the ficmfedernte C'ongress. derenstates numie a yuarunt. The convention Was to sit with chused dimers, and everything whas to be kejle sercret: nuthing was to lee glven to the fullice exirpt the completed work. This in. jumetons of arerery was never removeil. Fiortil. natill Jabues Madixum kept a pretty foli necourut of the dehates athi formeredings. uil lu his own hami."-d. S. Iambun. t'went. Ilint. und Goc't of port of these dobates that prevforis to the ojertsfirw the States slutifl vote fit the Convention. Seropil of the minalvery from I'enaxylvinin had urpel that the farge states unfte in refosing to the sulalf shater ant 'gilaid wote: bot Virginha, le fie vage thas tal lxe Injurlicions If but unjuat, 'dis. countemaced abl whterl the uroject. (in the 29h the mad husiness of the comverthon was biseollengices fint forwarl as spukeraman ly Comsention had orgginuted frumis VIrginia, and Evinte projusitiont wis expretted frum them, the task liad tworl lajumed on him. After emmaner stume the deferts of the confederoations, he detailed the romedy jropposed. This lattor was - 1 firth fin fiflitit resolations mud was calfed afternarit the Virginla jhan of governtinent. Charles d'imh moy from Numth Curosina had Whas fiwl atel like the former referroll to in commbitere of the whole I Iomare. . The Cotu mittere ef the Whode. Alelaited from day to flata, and enthting contained in the Virginfu flat, and on the lith of thene they reporsed niteteen resulutious bancel upon those of Vir.

finis, forming a syatem of povernment in outflne. Un the following day Mr. I'miermon, of New Jersey, amked for time to prepare another plan founded on the Arictea of Confederation. This wan submitted to the Convention on the 15 th. The Virginfa and the New Jerseg plan Were contrasted briedy by one of the members: Virginia plan jropowen iwo branches in the If? isiature, Jersey, a singlo leglafative Ionly: Vif. ginla, the legislative powers derivel from the propie, Jeracy, from the States; Virginis. aingle executive, Jersey, more than one; Vir. finla, a majorlty of the legimature can act, Jep. mey, a amnll niajorlty cau coutrol; Virginla, the leglalature can leginfate on ali nationni concerma, Jersey, oniy on ifmited ohjerts; Virginia, Jegls. lature to negative all state laws, Jermey, giving power to the excrutive $10 \mathrm{cmup}+1$ obedience by lorce; Virginia, to remove the executlve by impeachment. Jersuy, on application of a majorty of the States; Virginin, for the extabilshment uf Infertor judiciary iribunala, Jermuy, no provislon. Neither of there plans comucuied thenseives to men Hky Hamifton, who wanted astroug government, and were afraid of democtary or giving jower to the prinple. Ite thought the Virglaia pian but jork stili with a little change uf the satce." 'Ilne Artides of Cunfediration amendel, as In the New dersey plan, met fortla a government approved of hy the opposte wing of the Convention, consisting of man like I, in sing. wioo prifesed an ultra devotlon to the rights and antobumy of the stutes.

- The Conventiou didf not go agnin luter rommitite of the whole, but continued to delate the ulneteren
 July. Sume of these were referral to grind com. mittices, consisting of one member from enchitate, or they were referroll to select rominittines eobis. sisting of flve members. "- K. Л. Jhwiatui, lifo of tiew. Vıwon, r. 2, ch. 4.-"The plan joresented hy Dr. I'nttertem, calial the Nirw Jersey phan, Was concerted atul urrankedinetwedn the ileputations of that Nitate, of Ihlliwnre, of Netv lork, und of Connerticut. With the ladividuaj cooferution of Jr. I.litior M:artin, ane of the delegutes of Waryland. TTse cevtrone jealomsy nuanfered by the represolativers of the two first-maned states with regard to the equal suf. frage of the states in the eobimon councils of the Confederacy, wns the prind ja:d soneree of their aversion the the plun reported hy the com. mititer of the wholo. I'he delegtes of Cumbecti.
 a minfority of the diohogation of New Jork, uniter with the dophtathons of N゙ew Jersey and Thithw:are, not so muls from no exefusive at. tarinnat to the prindple of the soverefgnty and evpalley of the states, as froms the pulley of pres. surving the exfistug frumework of tice ceinfenlera. thon, und of simply vestlog in Conzeress, us bren arganizai, a few mdifitional powers. It was under the futhence of these mixed politieal vews that the New- dersey pian was collicejved aud propared. It projnexid to vest In the exiat-States hul an equal suffrare, - fin quitition to the powirs nifendy glven to It by the ar": ifes of confoderamu, that of raising revemae by Im. fusta nud stamp and prostage duties, nud also that of passing arts for the regalation of commurce whth forigen nations nind Inetwren the states; leaviug the enforcement of sif such mets,

CNITED 8TATEA, 17N:

CNITED BTATEG, 19:

In the Ant inatance, to Hes Atate courta, with an Illimate njperal fo the trilounnls of the C'ulital Arates. Wheneser rogulalionn oth the staten fir chould full formply with suleh re ifilafthan citildylaz vatres. atif to pusn the repulate acte cral everutive and al Proli ral jonfi, iary.

 fumy. or any traty nu:alo, I ratitiol mollor the the plan uns lirmight formaril as al molotitute for the Virglalit preymelfintis, as rejuite it hy the committere of the whole.

In the froger rime of hin dintrunt of twit ripulilhoun win! ferloral gave fattor. If. thenghi It asmentlal, therefore, fir the of the thew cecrernatut. DA't utte brathels of the lefolaliture.' be wall. 'ladil thelr pliceres fir Iffe, ur at loant dorius com! Ix.lanvor. Iat the ex.

wan gning on in the public mind: that the prople will, fis time, be unsharklivi from thef itw indleses and, whewever that hinguna they wll themelves not le milloticyl bit mpplay Whete the jlan lifilight forwaril by Mr. fino delph [the Virglala plan] womlil pher them, lut would! le ready to goa fir, at li-nwt, wa heproprovel." Ue theo rewif a plan of kovermment le huil jrojarevi, whleh, lie andil, he did tot sutait nelloulment whilel he slucilis prulatily offore to the. UIrglala plan In tho future atuge of fien ret. mh1」ratiou.

The coblernthat latw hat phe whine of government: one purcly fehloral, ('ingroser for circtalug filirgmem, but atill bitalir the prim•tule of a virtinal annibliathin of the mate

 an aseroed jurthlon of the juiwato of mentrigaty

 Klogg. of Mnswu lometts, luoverel that the cions lide Vr. ['attermit!; muif that they figeif tur the mittere of the whilo.' The luitlon win carmat

 ('urollna, mul deorgha. In the allimatisu- St

 Irfferwh, Wefider edth "t" lie: the shore amb

 In fiverr uf a parilthon uf the Eimplre Iatu two up that the ofojects of the 1 whou comblit lint te limtary olmervame of the frele ral lan los all the the to the lamerent moll the galle s. the bintatis ons, ant, lif gemeral, a serobe now mblinie much more to clsil war than the mimbilaration of a felug lald. the great ofljocis which presechted theluselves were: I. To molte a froper cmetey

If that the I from thels Pliwn. Itry at atoppint y Mr, hins v lliom, bua , as lie prob riturent le lisit minlmult 1t ma alving Whig yeot them hly offis tis 4 if Jin cria. v latil pro. (w) Illuetert the stals nexncy la If nsullar the In. atiothers IItI) onf the f $\mathrm{H}_{\mathrm{s}=}$ state - utral gove. ille contry ultie4, the *tine 川n wh o ग iguty HIN purtina whelecto of rimilue it. lion of the Hincatic ins.

Fidinal,
. II:

In the Fixecutive, and a proper stablility in the Laflative departmentm, with the emential char. weten of lepuhilcan (invernment. 8. To dinw atine of demarkatlon which would give to the General tioverituent every power requialte for cencral purpowex, anil leave wo the Staten every power whichmight le mont lxweticially mimints. terel by them. a. To provile for the difierrat fotervals of dlfierent parts of the C'alon. 4. To anjust the clanding pretenmans of the large and amall Nituten. Fich of these ohjeretn was preg. nant wh diminlters. The whole of theon topether formenl atak inore ilffrult than ean well be convelral by thowe whit were thet ronereacyl Ia the execution of It. Alollog to theme crmander. athen the natirnl diverelty of hunian oplalons an all wew shi compleated sulijerta. It In lnima elade to monalare the degree of (ouncinid whleh ultmately prevallay an lame than a mitrallo. The ans of thirse ofijects, an rexpects the fiscentlve, whether It alould conalat of alagle gurwin or a plurality uf coorilmate menilera, on the mumle of appolitiment, on tive ditution ln oftlere, of tha sality of ew oriluate madilu.m had finally hut fow alvinter. loverour ltamluljlionas at the beal of them. The nualen of appolateriont pro. powil wre varlenia: an liy the priple ne latge, by elowtors rlowen by the people, by the fixerell tives of the sintom, by the Congrese; mone pre ferring a jolut tmiliot of the twallonsew; motur. a mpante consourruit Imblot, alluwlog to ench a of wrat candlelatew by one Ilumen, ont of whom schetere alonill be maile by the other. Sinverm oth rembinicullons were atarterl. The expayls. ent at logith atoptod mexusel to glve pretty grberal matiofaction to the memisurs. Is (o) the duration lu aller, a fow wonlal lave jor formal a tenure dofluse gemal lwhavjour: a erminderahle: onniker would have done so In case an emay nud effectal ranoval hy lapeuclanent conlal la. wot.

 quint and jurpmotual lusilgithlity, or a slourt fisti In fivir of the firmt elplank were urgend thens from thas tis timue. Intio tirat a lifer nul then lomeditary tomare, ant the faviouble rifert of deut everclor of the Fixientro antlority. ton the ithar sille lt was crutemelel that the prom. peet of nareswary degridathen would dlawournge the ontlor would takeaw:sy the princtpal umblve lothe faishful liseloarge of lim dintlos - the lompe stuntate sublelon to valent efferta for Joblding over the colntituthonl tertu; anlul Inatemal of profirmer dr fouer of the comatitutlonal righta of the departasell. Wathl romber tlee othorer more In. difternt to the lapmertance of a flame whlels be wodil switl ine ahliged to fult forever, and more andy to shedil to the encruachments of the haglaslaturs, of whleli lue mlght agaln lace a nember. The questlan monverning the degrem of juwer urnct chletly on the appolntment to others, and the remtfoul on the la'glalnture. An aloalute appolatment to all offices, to wome oftices, to no umices, formed the ncale of oplaloms on the fret irolat. On the merond, conte contenfed for an ebmulute negrative, at the only promithle mean of reviucing to practice the thevry of a free Covera. ment, whlch furblele a misture of the lifgle. iatlve and fixecutive powert. Others would be content wlth revislonary power, to be over. ruleal by three.fourtliw of both Ifoumen. It was warmly urgei that the julletary ilepartment thoulit be amarclacerl In the reviatun. The lilea of oome was, that a mejarate retlalon aluonlil le clven to the two ilepartmentm: that If elther oho. jectell, two-thirfs, if lenth, three fonrths, slould Ine neremary to averriule. In furming the Nenate. the grint mihor of the government, the ques. thona, athey tome withln the Arut object, tirraed mowtly ou the mirmle of apjointment, atul the duration of lt. The ditiorent mosles proposed Were. 1. Hy the Ifouse of IReprementives. 2. Ity the fixecintre. 8. Ity eleretupm ehomen liy the prople fur the purpone. 4. By the Atate Leglalaturen. On tim molnt of diomitom, the prupowltone dewemied from gomal beloavlour to funf years, thrumgh the futerinellate teruns of nlue, meven, slx, and tive srars. The election of the other branel was frat determineal to wal. The reconil ohject. the dine pirtilon of ments. wan jwronjus, of all, thee must nlee and diftiont. A few countenued fur in entlo aboll laydslation In the f'rligress, wlith neggllve on the lawn of the Ntates; mones fur suchin juwir w-lthurt a negatlve: murow, fir a llulemp powars of loglalatlon. Wlth micili a ne gatllve: Ilue inajurlty, fiunlly, fur a llmhed juwer withont the uegatlve. The (jumaton with regaril to the negatly umber. Went rejuated dia'uswlons, and wus fimbly re. fectarl hy a lame minjurity. . . . I returu tis the thlol colijert alowe nieniloney, the niljustmenta of the diliterent linterests of different purts of the contluebt. shime cuntendeal for ant inilmitest power were trme. Includlog "xports na well an finjorts, and over slavers as well ne other liupurtm: wine for auch a power, prowhled the conchrrence of two-thiris of imith llansus ware reifulreal; whue. fir much a jualletiathon of the jower, wlit an expmpition of exjmete atul slavers athers. for an exempiton of experts ently. The result ls aren In the Conatlintlon. Sintilt Carollna aud Feorgla were lothexllile on the pulat of the waved The reualniog object croutcil uwre emparrassmeit, and a eroater alarin for the lasue of the Conventlog. Wan all the nest put together. The Ilttle Mtates losisterl on retaling their cyualliy the State (ouverrmones shuuld take place; and mime an eyuality In the semate a slae gun non. The large statem, on the other hamil, urged that an tho hew Governmeut was to be drawn priuelpally fron the paople Immediately, and was to oprermide illrectly on them, not otf the Statem; and, conserpitully, as the sinten woild lise that linpurtulue whilelis now proporiloned to the Im . purtance of thelr volnntary complance with the requlslilons uf Congress, It whs necesanry that the reprisentation lu trath Houne should be In proportion to thelr size. It endel In the comprombse whleh you will see, but very murlt to the Ilsaatlafaction of several members frum the Inrge States."-J. Mallann. Ciflera and other Writinge, v. 1, pp. $344-3 \%$. - "Thuse who proposed only to amend the old Articles of Confederation and opposed a new Constitution, ohjected that it governnent formed under such a Consti. tution would be not a federal, hut a nationai, government. Luther Martin said, when he returned to Maryland, that the delegates 'appeared totally to have forgot the husiness for which we were sent. . . . We had not heen sent to form a government over the inhahltants of America considered as individuals. . . . That the system of government we were intrusted to preprare was n government over these thirteen States; but that in our proceedings we adopted prineiples which would he right and proper only on the supposition that there were no state governments at all, hut that nll the inlahitants of this extensive continent were in their individual capacity, without government, and in a state of nature.; He added that, in the whole system there was but one federal feature, the appointment of the senators ly the States in their sovereign eapaeity, that is hy their legislatures, and the equality of suffrage in that branch; hut it was said tbat this feature was only federal in npparance.' The Sennte, the second house ns it was ealled in the convention, was in part created, it is necdless to say, to meet, or rather in obedience to, reasoning like thls. The Lather Martin protestnnts were too radical to remaln in the convention to the end, when they saw thint such n confederacy as they wanted was inpossible. But there were not many who went the length they did in helieving that a strong centrai government was necessarily the destruction of the state governments. Still fewer were those who would have bronght this about if they conld. . . . The rent difficulty, as Madison snid in the dehate on that question, and as he repeated agaiu and again nfter that question was settled, was not between the larger and smiller Stntes, but between the North and Sonth; between those Stntes thant helld slaves and those that had none. Slavery in the Constitution, whleh has given so much trouble to tbe Alolitionists of tbis century, nad, indeed, to everybody else, gave quite as much in the last century to tbose who put it there. Many of the wlsest nui best men of the time, Southerners as well as Northerners, and among theun Mndison, were opposed to slavery. . . . Everywhere north of Sonth Carolina, slavery was looked upon as a misfortune which it was exceedingly desiruble to be frae from at the earliest possible moment; everywhere north of Mason nnd Dixon's line, measures had already heen taken, or were certain soon to be tai $n$, to put an end to it; nud hy the Ordinance for the government of all the territory north of the Ohio River, it was absolutely prohibited by congress, in the same year in which the Constitutional Congress met. But it was, nevertheless, in thing to the continued existence of which the nnti-slavery people of that time could consent without any violation of consclence. Bani ns it was, unwise, wasteful. erucl, a mockery of every pretense of respect for the rights of min. they did not helieve It to be nusolutely wicked. . . . The question with the North was, how far conld it yiell! ; with the Sonth, how far coulh tit encroach. It turned mainly ou representatlon. ${ }^{\text {who }}$. There ut .e sume Who matintained at first that the slave pulation should not be represented at ali. In miltou proposed in the first days of the convention 'that the rights of suffrage in the national legislature ought to be proportioned to the number of free inhahitants." "-S. H. Gay, James Mautivon, eh 7-8. - "When the great document was at las: drafted hy Gouverneur Morris, and was ali ready for tho signatures [September 17, 1787], the aged Franklin produced a paper, which was read for him, as his volco was weak. Some parts of this Constitution, he sald, he dld not approve, but he Was astonished to find it so nearly perfect Whatever opinion he had of its errors he would sacrifiee to the puhlle good, and he hoped that every member of the conventlon who still had ohjections would on this oceaslon douht a little of his own infalliblity, and for the snke of unanimity put his name to thls fastrument. Ilamll ton added his plea. A few members, he said hy refusing to sign, might do Infinite milschief ingtorm these appeals, as well as from Wash. ington's solemn warning at the ontset, we see how distinctly it was realized that the country Was on the verge of eivil war. Most of the members felt so, hut to somo the new govern. ment seemed fnr ton strong, and there were three who dreaded despotism an three who dreaded despotism even more than nnarehy. Mason, Randolph, and Gerry refusel to sign. In In the signatures the twelve states sented, Hamilton slining alone fore all repre: sented, Hamilton slgning alone for New York." -J. Fiske, The Critical Period of Am. Ilist., p. 303.-A "popular deiusion with regard to the Constitution is that it was crented out of noth. ing; or, as Mr. Gladstone puts it, that 'It is the greatest work ever struck off nt nny one time by the mind and purpose of man.' The rudical Malne, who informs us expressed hy sir lienry Malne, who informs us that the 'Constitution of the United States is a modised version of the British Constitutlon. . Which was in existence bet ween 1760 and 1787.' The real source of the Constitution is the experience of Americans. They had estahlished and developed admirabls little commonwealth in the colonies; since the heginning of the Revolution they had had ex perience of Stute governments organized on a differeut hasis from the colonial; and, flually they had cartied on two successlve national gor ernments, with which they had heen profoundly discontented. The general outllne of the new Constitution seems to be Englisb; it was really colonial. The President's powirs of military conmnnil, of appointment, nnd of veto wero similnr to similnr to those of the colonial governor. Na. tional courts were ereated ou the mordel of eolonial courts. A legisinture of two honses was accepted because such legislatures had beea common in colonial times. In the English Par. liamentary system as it existed hefore $1 ; 60$ the Americnns had had no share; the Inter English system of Parliamentary responsiblity was not yet developed, and had never been established ia coloulal governments; and they expressly es. cluded it from thelr new Constitution. Ther were little more affected hy the experience of other European nations. . . The chief source of the detalis of the Constitution was the Stats ennstitutions and laws then in foree. Thus the clause conferring a suspenslve veto on the Presi. dent is an almost literal transcript from the lias. sachusetts constlitution. In fact, the principal experiment in the Constitution was the estab lishment of an electoral coliege; and of all parts of the system this has worked least as ths framers cxpected. The Constltution represents, therefore, the accumulated axperience of the time. . . . The real boldness of the Constitution Is the novelty of the federal system whlcb lt set up."-A. B. Hart. Formation of the Union (Epochs of Am. Ifist.), sect. 62. -"That a constitution should be framed In detall by a body of uninstructed delegates, expressly chosen for that purpose, was famillar in the States of the Union; but was perhaps unexamplcd clsewhere in the world, and was certalnly unexampled in the history of federations. That the instrument of federal goverament should provide for propor. tional representation ln one house, and for a federal court, was a step in feleral organlzation which marks a new federal principlc. For many Jurposes the Union then created was stronger than the Prussian monarehy at that moment. In many respects the States were left stronger than the little nomlnally Independent German prinelpalities. The great merit of the members of 'he convention is their understanding of the temper of their own countrymen. They selected out of English, or colonial, or State usages sueh practices and forms as cxperience had sbown to be acceptable to the people. . . . Tbe Conventlon hsd further the wisdom to express their work in general though carefuily stated principles. Ali previous federal governments had been fettered either by an imperfect and lnadequate statement, is in the eonstitution of the United Netherlands, or hy an unwritten constltutlon with an accumulation of speclal precedents, as in the Holy Roman Emplre. The plırases of the Constitutlon of $1: 87$ were hroad cnongh to cover cases unforeseen. A third distinctlon of the federal Convention is the skill with which lt framed acceptable compromises upon the three most difficult questions before it. The two Houses of Congress satisficd both large and small States; the threefifths representation of slaves post poned an lnevitahle eonflict; the allowance of the slave trade for a term of years madc it possihle for Congress to perfect commercial leglslation. The Convention bsd profited by the experience of the Confederation: on every page of the Constltution may be found clauses which would not bave storl there had it been framed iu 1781. An sleguate revenue was provided; foreign and interstate commerce was put under the control of Congress; the eharge of foreign affairs was given entirely to the central anthority: the powers of gevernment were dlstributed among threc departments."-A. B. Hart, Introduction to the Study of Federal Government, ch. 4.

UNITED STATES, 1787.The adoption of the Constitution.

Almo is: I. Eliot, Debrates in the Conrention at Philulelphir, 1787.-J. Madison, Debates on the Adoptigns of the Federal Constitution.-IV. C. Rives, Life ant Times of James Madison, ch. 2i33 (c. ?).-G. Bancroft, Hist. of the Formation of the Connt. of the U. S.-G. T. Curtls, Hist. of the Cinst. of the U. S.-C. E. Stevens, Sources of the Const, of the $U . S .-J$. H. Rohlnson, The Original and Derived Features of the Const. (Annals of the Am. Acad. of Pol. and Sxial Science, v. 1).-For the teat of the Constitution, see Constritution of the livited States.
A. D. $1787-1789$. - The struggle for the Federal Constitution In the States.-Its ratification. - The end of the Confederation. "The fitc of the proposed Constltution remalned doubtful for many months after the adjournment of the conventlon. Hamiltos sald it would be arrogance to conjecture the result. ...

Delaware was the first state to accept it [Dec. 7, 1787]. Gratified by the concesslon of equallty In the federal Senate, the ratlication was prompt, enthusiastic, and unanimous. Pennsylvanla was the second [Dec. 12]. The opposltion was sharp, but Franklin was president of the statc, and Wilson a delegate to the state conventlon. Tbelr Influence was great.

The ratification was effected by a vote of 46 to 23 . Then New Jersey [Dec. 18] and Georgla [Jan. 2, 1788] followed unanimously. Next came Connectieut [Jan. 9] by a vote of 128 to 40 . The result in these fire states was the inore easlly olbtained because the frlends of the Constitution were prompt to act. With delay ln the other states chane a bitterness of contention whlch made the result doubtfinl. The first close struggle was ln Hassaehusetts. The public credltor favored the proposed Coustltution. He saw in It some hope of his long deferred pay. But the dektor class opposed it; for lt would put an end to cheap paper money. with whieh they hoped to pay their debts, when lt became stlil eheaper.

Haneoci and Adams scarcely favored the Constltution. They feared it infringed upon the rlghts of the people, and especlally upon the rights of the states.
Hancock finally came forwarl as a mediator. He proposed that the Constitution he ratlfied, with an accompanying recommendation that it lee amended in the particulars in which lt was thought to be defectivc. His proposition was adopted, and the Constitutlon was ratified [Feb. 6] by a vote of 187 [186] to 168. Maryland next ratified the Constitution with much unanimity [April 28], notwithstanding the strenuous opposltion of Luther Martln. . . . South Carolina followed next [May 23], and ratlfled the Constitution by a majority of 76, hut recommended amendments substantially like those of Massachusetts. South Carolina was the eighth state; and, if one more could be obtalned, the Constitution would take effeet het wceu the nine ratifying states. There remained the five states of Vir. ginla, New York, New Ilampshire, North Carolina, and Rhode laland. The state convention of Virginla was called for the 2d of June 1788, of New York for the 17 th , and of New IIampshire for the 18 th of the same month. The result was cxpected to be adverse in every one of these statcs. In Virginia the oppositlon was led iy Patrick Henry. . . . IIenry was ahly seconded hy Richard Henry Lee. Wiillam Grayson, and George Mason. . . James Monroe followed their lead. James Madison and Governor Randolph were the leading clampions of the new Constitution.

John Marsliall, afterwards chief justice, came to their assistance. . . . The debate lasted a month. It may he read with instruetlon, as $1 t$ is reported $\ln$ the volumes of Elliot. The ratitication prevailed [June 25] by a majority of 10 [ 11$]$ in a vote of 186 [167]. .
The iutinence of Washington procured the resint.
Meanwhlle, the state of New Hampshire had ratified the Constitutlon [June 21], but the faet was not known ln Virginia. The opposlthon to the Constitution was great and hitter in the State of New lork. Fortunately the eonventiou was held so late that New Hampshire, the ninth statc, had ratified while the New York convention was engaged in its hcated discussions. Two thirds of the delegates were eleeted to oppose it . .. The friends of the Constltution felt, long before the convention assembled, that puhlic discussion might be useful in overcoming the hostlle attltude of the state. Accordingly, a series of essays In expositlon of the Constltution was written hy IIamllton, Madlson, and Jay, over the common slgnature of 'Puhllus.' These essays were puhllshed In a newspaper, between October, 1787, and June, 1788 . ... They were suhsequently collected and pabilshed ln a volume styled 'The Federallst.' From that day to thls, 'The Federallst ' has held unequalled rank as an authority upon the constructlon of the Constltutlon." On the 24th of June a flicet courier, employed hy Humilton, hrought from Concord to Poughkeepsle, where the New York conventhon sat, news of the ratlication of the Constitutlon hy New Ifainpshlre, the ninth state. "Now, Indeed, the situntlon was changed. There was no longer a confederacy; the Unlon was already formed.

The state must elther joln the new system or stay out of lt. New York was not favorahly situated for a separate natlon. New England on the cast, and New Jersey and PennEylvanla on the south, belonged to the new Union. Canadn was on the north.. . .Delay, wlth its altered clrcumstances, thally hrought to Hamliton and hls party the vlctory that had been denied to argument and eloquence. But the Antl-Federallsts were reluctant to yleld, and the dehate was prolonged," until the 28 th of July, wheu the ratlticatlon was carried hy 30 votes against 27. "North Carollna remalned out of the Union until November, 1789, and Rhode Island until June, 1790 . The ratlf. cation hy nine states havlng beeu certlifed to the Congress of the Confederacy, that hody adopted a resolution fixing the firat Wednesday of March, 1789, as the dny when the uew government shouid go into operatlon. As the day fell on the 4th of March, that day became fixed for the begiuning and the end of congressional and presl. dential terms."-J. S. Landou, Const. IIist. and Gov't of the $U . S$., lect. 4.
Also In: J. Flske, The Critical Period of Am. Mist., ch. T.-G. T. Curtis, Inist. of the Const. of the U. $\mathcal{S}$., bk. 5 (v. 2).-G. Bancroft, IIist. of the Formation of the Const., bk. 4 (c. 2).-J. Elliot, ed., Debates in the State Conventions on the Adop, tion of the Fed. Const. - The Federalist. - A. Ian. tion of the Fed. Const.-The Federalist. - A. 1 Lam. ilton, Works, v. 2.-W. C. Rives, Life and Times of Madison, ch. $34-36$ (v. 2).-K. II. Rowlaud, Life of Geo. Mison. v. 2, ch. 6-8.
A. D. 1789 . - The First Presidential Election. -Washington called to the head of the new Government. - "The adoption of the Fed. eral constitution was another epoch In the life of Washington. Before the otirial forms of an election conld he carried into cperation a unanlmous sentimeut throughout the Unlon pronounced him the nation's choice to fill the presidential chair. Ife looked forward to the pessihillty of his eleetion with eharacteristie modesty and un. feigned reluctanee; as his lettera to hls confldential friends hear witness. . . The election took place at the appolnted time [the first Wednesday in January, 1780], and lt was soon ascertalned that Washiugton was chosen Presldeut for the term of four years from the 4th of Harel. $13 y$ this tinie the arguments and entreaties of lils friends, and hls own convlctlons of puhlle expediency, hnd determined hlm to accept. .. From a deluy in forming a quorum of Congress the votes of ilie electoral college

Were found to be unanlmous in favor of Wash. ington. 'The delay,' said he ln a letter to General Knox, 'may be compared to a repricve; for In confidence I tell you (with the world it would ohtain llttle credit), that my movements to the chalr of government will be accompanied hy feellngs not unllke those of a culprit, who is go Ing to the place of hls executlon; so unvilling am I, In the evening of a llfe nearly consumed In puhllc cares, to quilt a peacefui aborle for an ocean of difficultes, Whthout that competency of polltical skill, abllitles and Inclination, political skill, ablltles and Inclination, which are necessary to manage the helm. are necessary to manage the helm.'. . At length on the 14th of April he recelved a letter from the presldent of Congress, duly notlfying hlm of hls electlon; and he prepared to set out Immedlately for New Yor's, the seat of govern ment."-W. Irvlng, Life of Washington, e. ch. 87.-The secondary electoral votes, by which the Vlce Presldent was, at that time, chosen, were scattered among eleven candldates. John Adams recelved the greater numher (34) though not quite a ms jorlty of the 69, and was elected.
A. D. 1780 .-Passage of the Act of Congress A. D. 1789 .- Passage of the Act of Congreas organlzing the Supreme Court of the United organlzing the Supreme Court of the United States. See Supreve Corer States. See Supreme Court.

A. D. 1789-1792. - Hamilt $n^{\prime}$ (United States). See TAR: F Legislation

 (United States): A. D. 1780-1701.A. D. 1789-1792:-Organizaticn of the Federal government and first administration of Washington. - The dividing of Partiss, Federalists and Democratic Republicans"March 4th, 1780, had been appointel for the formal Inauguration of the new Government, hut the members eleet had not yet unlesrned the Confederacy's slovenly hahlts. It was not until April 6th that a sufficlent number of members of Congress arrived In New York to form a quorum aud count the electorml votea. At tiat time, and until 1805 , no electoral votes were cast distinctlvely for Presldent and Vice-President. Each elector voted hy hallot for two persons. If a majority of all the votes were cast for any person, he who recelved the greatest number of votes became Presldent, and he who recelsed the next greatest number hecame Vire-l'resident. When the votes were counted In 1889 they $\pi e r e$ found to be, for George Washingtun, of lis. giuia, 69 (each of the electors having given him one vote), for John Adams, of Massachasetts, 34 , and 35 for various other candidatcs. Washing. ton recelved notice of his election, and, after triumplal progress northward from his home at Mount Vernon, was sworn into oflice April 30th [at Federal IIall, corner Wall and Nassau Streets, New lork]. The Vlee-Presldent lad taken his place as preslding oflicer of the Senate o few place as preslding officer of the Senate a few days before. Frederick A. Mullenberg, of Pennsylvnnla, was chosen Speaker of the House, hut the vote had no party divisions, for Parties were still in a state of utter confusion. Between were still in a state of utter confusion. Between the extrene Anti-federalists, who considered the Constitutlon a long step toward a despotism, and the extreme Federallsts, who desired a monarchy modeled on that of England, there were all varietles of politlcal opinion. . . . The extreme Importance of Washlngton lay in his ahility, through the unlversal confidence ln hls integrity and good judgment, to hold together this allisnce of moderate men for a time, and to prevent party contests upon the interpretation of federal powers untll the Constltution should show it or of Wasb tter to Gen. eprieve; for rld it would lents to the mpanied hy , who is go o unwilling y consumed borle for ar mpetency of tion, which m.'. . . At ved a letter y notifying to set out of govern. ngton, e. 4 , 3, by which ne, chosen, ates, John (34) though as elected. f Coagress he Uaited report on eoislation f the Fed stration of Partiss, blicaas.ed for the vernment, es rned the is not until neubers of a quorum t time, snd st distinctt. Each ous. If a r any per. umber of cuired the l'resident. ther were , of Visgiven him usetts, 34, Washing. cl, ufter a s liomest Ipril 30th u Streets, taken his ate a few aberg, of te House, Pr Parties Between dered the tisn, and nonsrchy were all extreme ahility, intcgrity $s$ alliance prevent f federal show it merit and be assured of existence. The Presi. deat selected his Cablnet wilth a careful regard to the opposite oplnlons of his sipporters. The Treasury Department was glven to Alexander Hamllon, of New Jork, a Federalist.

The War Department was given to General Henry Kuox, of Massachusetts, also a Federalist. The gtate Department was glven to Tiomas Jeffernoa, of Vlrglnla, an Antl-federallst. . . . Ed. mund Randolph, of Vlrglnia, also an Antl-fed. eralist, was appointed Attorney-General, and John Jay, of New York, a Federallst, Cilef Justice of the Supreme Court. Twelve Amend. meats were adopted hy this Session of Congress, In order to meet the consclentious ohjectlons of may moderate Antl federalists, and to take the place of a 'Bill of Rlghts.' Ten of these, having received the assent of the necessary number of States, became a part of the Constltution, and now stand the first ten of the Amendments. They were Intended to guarantee freedom of rellgion, speech, person, and property. Junuary 0th [1790] Hamilton offered his famous Report on the Settlement of the Publlc Dcht. It consisted of three recommendations, first, that the foreign debt of the Confederacy should be assumed sand pald ln full; second, that the domestic delit of tho Confederacy, which had fallen far below par and liad hecome $n$ synony $m$ for worthlessness, should also be pald at its par vslue; and third, that the debts incurred by the Ststes during the Revolution, and still unpald, ahould be assumed and pald in till by the Fed. eral Government. Hamllton's First recommendation $\pi$ ras adopted unanimously. The Second was opposed, even hy Madison and many moderate Antl-federalists, on the ground that the domestic debt was held by speculators, who had bought it at a heavy discount, and would thus gain usurious Interest on thelr Investment. Hamilton's aupporters argued that, If civy for that reason, they should be paid in mit thest hollers of Cnited States securitles mlght learn not to sell them at a jis sount, and that the national credit might thus be streng thened for all time to come. After long dehate the second recommeutntion tras slso adopted. Hamiltou's Third rccommendation in rolved a question of the powers of the Federal Government. It therefore for the first time united all the Anti-federalists iu opposition to it . They fcared that the rope of sand of the Confederacy was being carried to the opposite extreme; that the ' money power ' wonld, hy this measure, he permanently attuched to the Fetleral Gorernment; and that the States wonld le made of no importance. But even this recommenda. tion was adopted, though only by a vote of 31 to 26 in the ilonse. A few days Jater, however, the Inti-federalists receivel a reinforcement of seven huvly arrived North Carolina members. The third resolutiou was at once reconsidered, and roted down by a majority of two. Ilamil. ton secured the fiual adoption of the third resolution by a hargain which excited the deep lodignation of the Anti-federalists. A National Cspital was to he selected. The Federalists agreed to vote that it should be fixed upon the Potonac liser [sec Washivoton (City): $\mathbf{1}$. D. 1791], after remaining ten years in Philadelphia, snd two Anti-federalist members from the Potomac agreed in return to vote for the third resolution, which was then fiually adopted. Hsmilton's eutire report was thus successfui. Its immedlate effects were to appreciate the credit of the United States, and to curlch the hohlers of the Contlnental debt. Its further effect was to make Hamilton so much disllked by Antl-fed. erallsts that. desplte his acknowledged talents, his party never ventured to nominate him for any elective oflice.

む-15

Party Organization may be considered as fairly begun about the close [of the first Session of the Second Congress, In 1792]. . . The various Anti-federulist factlons, hy unlon in resisting the Federalists, had learned to forget minor differences aul had been welded into onc party which only iacked a name. That of Anti-federallst was no longer applicahle, for Its opposition to the Federal Union had entirely ceasei. A name was supplied hy Jefferson, the recognlzed leader of the party, after the French Revolution had fairly begun lts course. That politlcal convulsion hat, for some time after 1789 , the sympathy of hoth Federallsts and Anti-fed. eralists, for it seemed the direct outgrowth of the American Revolutlon. But, as lts leveling ohjects became more apparent, the Federalists grew cooler and the Antl-federalists warmer towards it. The latter took great pains, even hy dress and manuers, to show the keenness of their sympathy for the Republicans of Frnnce, and ahout this time adopted the name DemocraticRepublican, whlch seemed snfficiently comprehensive for a full Indication of their principles. Thls lus nlways heen the official party title. It Is now ahbreviated to Democratic, though the name Democrat was at first used by Federilists as one of contcmpt, and the party called itself Repuhlican, a tltle which it could hnrdly claim with propriety, for its tendency has nlways been toward a democracy, ns that of its opponents has heen toward astrong republic. The name ikepuhlican, therefore, lelongs most properly to its present possessors ( 1879 ). 13ut it must be remembered that the party whleh will be called Repuls. lican until nbout 1828 was the party which is now called Democratic."-A. Johnston, liist, of Am. Polities. ch. 2-Jefferson's bitterness of hostility to the Federalists was due to the helief that they aimed at the overthrow of the Repnib. lic. His conviction as to these renlly treasonable purposes in the lemlers of the party was often expressed, but never more distinctly thau in a letter written in 1813 to an Enghish trnveller, Mr. Melish. At the same time, lie set forth the principles and aims of lat own party: "A mong that section of our citizens ralled feileralists," le wrote, " there nre three shalls of opinion. Distinguishing leetween the leaders and people who compose it, the leaders consider the English constitution as $n$ model of perfection, some, with a correctlon of its vices, others, with all its cor. ruptions nud ahuses. This last was Alexander Hamilton's opinioh, which others, ns well as myself, lave often henrel him declare, and that a correction of what are called its vices would render the English au impracticable goverument. This govermment they wished to have established here, and only accepted and held fast, nt firs!, to the present constitution, as a stepping-ston, to the final establishment of their favorite model. This party has therefore always clung to Eugland as their prototype aud great auxiliary iu promot. lng aml effecting this change. A weightrminority, however, of thesc leaders, considering the roluutary converslou of our government into :1 monarchy as too distant, if not desperate, wish to break ofl from our Union its eastern fragneent, as being, in truth, the hot bed of American monarchism, with a view to a commencement of thelr favorite govertment, from whence the other States may gangrine hy degrees, snd the Whole be thus hrought flnally to the desired point. For Massachusette, the prime mover in this enterprise, is the last 'State in the Union to mean a final separatlon, as heing of all the most dependent on the others. Not malsiag bread for the sustenance of her own Inhohitants, not having a stick of timber for the construction of vesaels, her principal occupation, nor an artlele to export in them, where wouid sie be, exciuded from the ports of the other states, and thrown into dependence on Englnnd, her dilrect, and natural, but now insidious rival? At the head of this minority is what is calicd the Essex Junto of Massachusetts. But the majority of these leaders do not aim at spparation. In this, they adhere to the known principle of Gencrai Hamil. ton, never, under any views, to hreak the Unlon. Anglomany, monarchy, and separatlon, then, are the princlples of the Essex feiderallasts. Anglomany and monarchy, those of the Haniltonlans, and Anglomany alone, that of the portion among the people who cali themseives federnlists. These last are as good reptihiicans as the hrethren whom they oppose, and differ from ticm oniy in their devotion to England and hatred of France which they have imblbed from their lenders. The moment that these leaders should avowediy propose a separatlon of the Cuion, or the estahlishment of regal goverament, their popuiar adherents would quit them to a man, and join $t^{\prime}$ repuhlican standurd; and the partisans of $t_{1}$ :s change, even in Massachusetts, wonld thus find themselves an army of officers witiont a soldier. The party called rcpubican is st cadiif for the support of the present constitution. They ohtained at lts commencement ali the amendiments to it they desired. These reconclled them to it perfectly, and if they have any ulterior view, it is only, perhaps, to popularize it further, hy shortening the senatorial term, and devisiag a proccss for the responslhility of judges, more practlcahle than that of impcachnient. They esteem the people of England and Frauce equally, and equally dctest the governing potwers of forty ycars with the beileve, after nn Intimacy of forty ycars with the publle connciis and characters, is a true staten. ?nt of the grounds on Which they are at present dlvided, and that it is not merely an ambition for power. An honest man can feel no pieasure in the exercise of power over his fellow citizens. And considering as the only offlees of power those conferred hy the people directly, that ls to say, the executive aud legisiative funetlons of the Generul and State governments, the common refusal of these, and multiplied resiguations, are proofs sufficient that power is not alluring to pure minds, and is not, wlth them, the prianary princlpie of contest. This is my belicf of lit; it is that on Thich I have acted; and had it bech a merc contest who shouid he permitted to ulminister the government according to its genuine repuhican prlnciples, there has ncrer been a moment of my life in Which I should have reinquished for it the enjoyments of my family, my farm, my friends and books. You expeeted to discover tife difference of our party principies In General Washing. ton's valedictory, and my inaugural address.

Not at all. General Washington did not harbor one principle of federalism. He was neither na Angloman, a monarehist, nor a sepuratist. Ile alncercly wished the peoplo to lave as much self government as thicy were competent to exer. eise themselves. The oniy point on which he and I ever differed in opinfon, was, that I had more cra tidence than he had in the naturai iateg. rity and discretion of the people, and in the safety and extent to which they nulgit trust themiselres with a control over thelr governmeut. Ile has Win a control over their governmerut. Ile has asseverated to me a thonsand thmes his lett: mination that the existing governament should have $n$ fair trial, and that lu support of it he wouid spend the last drop of his hioni. lie did this the more repeatediy, because he knew Gitncrai Hamiiton's poilticnl hias, and my upprchen. sions from it. - - Jefferson, Letter to Mr. Metiak, Jan. 13, 1313 ( i) ilings, ed. by Waatington, $r$. 6 . -The view taken nt the present duy of the Fed. eralism and the Federailsts of the first three dccades of the Union, among those who see more danger in the contrifugal thun in the centripetai forces in govcrnment, are effcctively stated in the following: "The popniar notion ln regari the following: "The popuiar notion In regari to Federalism is that to whleh the name naturally gives rise. By Fcderaists are commoaly understood those men States and an cfficlent Federal governanent. This States and an cfficlent Federal government. This conception is true, hint ls at the same time so limited that it may fairly be cailedl superticial. The name nrose from Its first oliject which the friends of the Constitution strove to nelieve; but thls ohject, tinc more perfert :-aion, mulevea the Constlention Itself, were hut means to ends of vastiy more lmportnnce. The ends which the Fedcralists sought formed the great prineiples on which the party was founded, anil it can be j"utiy snid that no nohler or better euls were eler striven for ly any polliticul party or by any statesmen. Thie first and paraminuat orjject of the Federaists was to buid d up a nation and to create a national sentiment. For this they sought a more perfect union. Tbeir next object was to glve the nation tiey inad caileti into existeace not only a government, bita a strong gorerament. To do this, they had not oniy to devise a morlei, to draw a constitution, to irganlze a legislature, cxecutive, and judieiary, bnt they had to equip the government tims formed with all those adjuncts without whiein no goverument can long exist nader the conditions of molern civilization. The Federalists had to provide for the deht, devlse a financial and foreign poliey, organize au army, fortify the ports, found s navy, impose and collect taxes, and jut in opers. tion un cxtenslve revenue system. We of the English race - wiose crecd is that governmets und great politicai systems grow and develop slowly, are the results of elinate, soil, race, t.adition. and the exigencics of time and place, who wholiy disavow the tbeory that jerfect gorcraments spring in $n$ night from the heatel braiss of Frenclimen or Spaniaris-can best appreciate the task with which our nncestors grappled. Upon a people lateir convulsed hy civil war. upon a peopie who had lost their old pritical habits and traditions without tinding new ones in their stead, it was necessary to impose a gorcrnment, and to create a matlonal sentiment. This the Fediraiists did, and they need no other euiogy, With no undue nationai pride, we can justly say that the adoptiou and support of the eparatlst. ile have ns much peteut to exer. on which he ns, thut I had natural inter. din the safety ist themselves nent. lie has nes his lete: nnent should port of it he loorl. lie did he knew Gitn. my upprehen. to Mr. Melish, (ington, r. 6). y of the Fedefirst three who sec more lie centripetal ely stated ln ion ln regari minc uaturally monly naderunion of the rantent. This ame tlme so i superticial. ot which the achieve; but and even the ins to ends ds which the th priuciples nif it call be rends were party or by iount oljject ;1 hation and or this they next object d Into exis. stroug gor. only to de. to irganize Y, but they orncel with government of moxtern provide for ign policy. s, found's it ln opera. We of the overnments mi develop soil. race, and place, refect gorated braics apprecinte pled. civil war, d political new ones ose a gorsentiment. d no other le, we can rort of the Constitation offer an example of tho poitical genlus of the Anglo-Saxon race to which history cannot furnish a paralle1. The poilticai party to whome exertions these great results wcre due wns the Federal pnrty. They were the party of order, of good government, and of conservatlsm. Against them was ranged a mnjority of their fellow-eltizens. But tilis majority was wild, ensrchlcal, disualted. Tho only common ground on whilh they could meet was that of simple opposition. The only namo they ind was antiFederailsts. They had neither leaders, dilscip. lhe, objects, nor even a party cry. Hefore the definite alms and concentrated ability of the Federalists, they fied ln helpless disorder, iiko an unamed mob before ad vanelag soldiers. But, though dispersed, the nnti-Federailsts were stili in a numerical majority. They needed $n$ ieader, organization, nnd opportunity, nni they soon found all three. Thomas Jcfferson arrived ln New York, not oniy to enter iato Washington's cahlnet, and lend the ald of hls great tnients to the success of the new scheme, but soon niso to put himself at the head of the iarge thoughdemorai. ized oppositlon to the adminiatration he had sworn to support. F lled wlth the wlid democratie tiseo. ries which his susceptibie nnturc had rendlly im. blbed in France, Jefferson soon lnfused them into the miads of most of his followers. Instend of a vague dislike to any nnd ali government, hc substltuted a sharp and factlous opposition to each and every measure propozed by the friends of the Constitution."-11. C. Lodge, Life and Letters of George Cabot, ch. 11.

Also n: W. C. Rives, Life and Times of Yadison, ch. 37-40 (v. 3)-J. Parton, Life of Jef. feroon, ch. 49-47.-M. Van Buren, Political Par. ties in the U. S., ch. 2-4.-J. D. Hammond, Hiat. of Pol. Parties in $\boldsymbol{N} . \boldsymbol{F}_{.}$, v. 1, ch. 1-2.-W. Irving, Lifo of Washington, o. 5, ch. 1-16.
A. D. 1789-1810.-Founding of the Roman Episcopate. See Papacy: A. D. 1780-1810.
A. D. 1790 , - The First Census. -Total population, $3,929,827$, classed and distrihuted as foliows:

North.
White. Free black. slare.

|  | White, | Free black. | Sla |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
| Geor | 46,310 | 3,899 | 8,887 |
| Georgia. | 52,886 | , 398 | 29,264 |
| Kentucky | 61,133 | 114 | 11,880 |
| Maryland | 208,649 | 8,043 | 103,038 |
| Sorth Csrol | 288,204 | 4,975 | 100,572 |
| Tentil Carsee | 140,178 | 1,801 | 107,094 |
| Firginia | 32,013 | 361 | 3,417 |
| Virg | 442,11.5 | 12,766 | 293,427 |
|  | 1,271,488 | 32,357 | 657,527 |

A. D. $1790-1795 .-$ War with the India.; tribes of the Northrest.-Disastrous expeditions of Harmar and St. Clair, and Wajne's decisive vlctory, See Nortuwestern TerraTORY: A. D. 1790-1795.
A. D. 179 r . Admission of Vermont to the Union. See Vermont: A. D. 1790-1791.
A. D. 1791 - Incorporation of the first Bank of the United States. See. Money And Bank. ing: A. D. 1791-1 1816.
A. D. 1791. The founding of the Federal Capital. See Wasminaton (City): A. D. 1791. A. D. t791. - Adoption of the first ten Amendments to the Federal Constitution. The first ten amendments to the Constlintion (see Constitution of Tmi U. S. of Am.), embodylag a deelaration of rights w'ich vas thougit to be necessary by many who had consented to the adoption of the Constltutlon, but only with the understanding tiat such amesdmeuts should bo adided, were proposed io the leglslatnres of the several States by tho $F^{\prime}$ ge Congreis, on tho 25th of September, 1780. At different dates between Novemrer 20, 1789 and December 15,1791 , they were 'atified by eleven of the then fourteen States. "There is no evldienco on the Journais of Congress that the legisintures of Connecticut, Georgin, nnd Massachusetts ratified them."- Consfitution, Rules and Manual of the U.S. Senate (1885) p.61.
A. D. 1792.-Admission of Kentuciey to the Union. - Siavery in the Constitution of the new State. See Kentrcky: A. D. 1789-1792. A. D. 1792.-Second Presidential Election. -Georgc Washington re elected with unanin.:ty, recelving 132 votes of the Electonal College, John Adams, Vice President, recelving 77 votes, with 50 cnst for George Cllnton, 4 for Jefferson and 1 for Burr.
A. D. 1 793.-The First Fugitive Slave I $\boldsymbol{J}$ : -For some time nfter the ndoption of the a 1 erai Constltution, its provislon rciating to the rendition of persons "heid to service or lahor ln one Stnte, umder the lnws therenf. escaplng into another "remained wlthout legislatiou to execute it; "and lt is a striking fuet that the cnll for legislation came not from the Soutit, but from a frec State; and that it was provoked, not by fugitive slaves, but by klinappers. ... A free negro nnmed Johr was seized at Washington, Pennsyivnnia, ia 1\%91, aad taken to Virgiala. The Governor of Penns,:1vnnia, at the lustigation of the Society for $t$ : Abolition of Slavery, asked the return of the three kidnappers; but the Governor of Virginia replied that, since there was no nationn law tuehing such a case, ie couid not rarry out the request. in the matte being brought to the notice of Congress by the Governor of Pennsylvauia," $n$ blll was passed Whieh "became law by the siguature of the President, Febriary 12, 1 : 93. . . The nct provlded nt the same time for the recovery of Flded nt the same tine for the recovery of fugitlves from justice and from labor. but the fugitlves from justice aad from labor; but the alleged crimiual was to have a protection through the requlreasent of $n$ requisitiou, a protection denied to the man on trial for his iiberty only. The aet was nppilcah'e to fugitive apprentices es well as to siaves, n provision of some importhace at the tine In the Northwest Territory there were so-cnlled negru apprentices, who were virtually slaves, and to whom the law applied. since it was in terms extended to all the Territories. Proceedings began. with the forcible seizure of the alleged fugitive. The act, it will be observed, does not admit a trias oy jury. It allowed the owner of the slave, his agent or attorney, to seize the fugitive and take him before any judge of a United States Cireuit or Diatrict Court, or any local magistrate. The only require. ment for the conviction of the slave was the testimony of his master, or the aftidavit of some mag. istrate in the State from whlch lecame, certlfying that ellch a person had escaped. Ilindering arrest or harboriag a siave was punishahle hy a fine of flve hundred doliars. The law thus estahlished a system allowing the greatest harshness to theslave and every favor to the master. Even at that time, when persons might still be born slaves In New York and New Jersey, and gradual emancipation had not yet taken full effect in Rhode Isiand and Connecticut, It was repellant to the popular sense of justlce; there were two cases of resistance to the priuclple of the act before the close of 1793 . Untli 1850 no further law upon thls subject was passed, hut as the provisions of 1793 were found ineffectual, many attempts at amendment were made."-M. G. Mc. Dougali, Fugitive Slaves, 1610-1885 (Fay Ifouso Monographs, no. 3), pp. 17-18. -" The fugitiveslave clanse in the Constlitution is of course ohll. gatory, hut there is a wide distlaction bet ween the fugitive slave clanse and the fugltive-slave law. The Constitution glves no power to Congress to leglslate on the suhject, hut imposes on the States the obllgatlon of rendition. Chief. Justice Hornhlower, of New York, and Chan cellor Walworth, of New York, long slnce pronounced the fugitive law of ' 93 uncunstitutlonal on this very grouud."-Willan Jay, Letter to Josiah Quincy (quotel in B. Tuckerman's " Wil. lian Jay and the Constitutional Mocement for the Abolition of Slarery").
A. D. 1793.-Popuiar sympathy with the French Revolution. - Washington's Proclamation of Neutiality. - Insolent conduct of the French minister, Genet. -"The French Revolution, as was natural from the all-impor tant servlces rendered hy France to the EVlted States in thelr own revo.ationary struggle, cnlisted the warm sympathy of the Anerienn people. As the United States were first In. troduced to the famlly of nations hy the allance with France of 1778 , the very Important questhon arose, on the hreaking out of the war het wean France and England, how far they were bound to take part in the contest. The second article of the treaty of allance seemed to limit its operation to the then existing war between the United States and Great Britaln; hut hy the eleventh article the two contracting powers agreed to 'guarantee mutually from the present time and forever, against all other pow. ers, the territories of which the allies might he in possession respectlvely at the noment the war hetween France aud Graat Britaln should breal. ut, whleh was anticipated as the neccs. sary consequeuce of the alliance. Fot only were the general syinpathies of America strongly with France, but the course pursued hy Great Britain towarll the United States, since the peace of 1783, was proluctive of extreme Irritation, especialiy her refusal to give up the western posts, which had the effect of involvlog the northwestern frontier in a prolonged and disastrous Indlan war. These canses, together with the recent recoliections of the revolutionary struggle, dis. posed the popular inind to make common cause with France, in what was regarded as the war of a pryle atruggling for ireedom against the con hin lespots of Europe. Wanhing ton, hov ever m the first, determined to maintain th aell, of the country ; "and, with the una imous advice of his cabrnet, he linsued (April 2 1793) a proclamation of neutrality. "Thls poo lamatlon, though draughtel hy Mr. Jeffern and unanimously adopoded by the Cahlaet, , vlofently assailed hy the organs of the part which ollowed his lead. .. The grow wag ei cltement of the popular mind was fanned to cltement of the popular mind was fanned to flame hy the arrival at Charleston, South Caro lina [April 0], of 'Citizen' Genet, who was sen as the minister of the French Republic to th United States. Without repairling to the seat o government, or belng accredited in any was, 1 his oftcial ca pacity, he hegan to flit out privateen in Charleston, to cruise against the commerea of England. Although the utmost of England. Although the utmost gentlenem and patlence were ohserved by the executive of the Culted States in checklog this volation of thelr deutrallty, Genct assumed from the firt tone of detlance, and threateued before long to appeal from the government to the people, These insolent demonstrations werc of cours lost upon Waslington's frmes and lost upon Waalington's frmnes3 and monil courage. They distressed, but dia not in the sllghtest degree intimillate hin; uul thelr elfect on the popular nilud was to some extent neutral. Ized hy the fncts, that the cliief measures os malntain the neutrallty of the country had beea unaninously advised by the Cahinet, and that the duty of rehuklng his intemperate eourse had the duty of rehuking his intemperate enurse had devoived upon the secretary of state [Jefferson]. the recognized heal of the party to whleh Genet looked for sylupathy "- E. Everett, Lije of Ilaahington ch. 8.-A demand for ",Genets I'rashington, ch. 8.-A demand for "Genets recall was determined on during the first daysol August. There was some discussion over the mnnner of sequesting the recall, hut the terms manner of requesting the recall, hut the terms were made gentle hy Jefferson, to the dhiscust of were made gentle hy Jefferson, to the disgust of the Secretary of the Treasury and the siccretary of War [Ifamilton and Knox], who desired direct methods and stron ser lan guase dit direct methods and stronger languaze. finally toned up and agreed upon by the Presi: dent and cablnet, the document was suthticient ${ }_{\zeta}$ vigorous to aunoy Genet, and left to bitter reproaches addressed to his frieud in the state Department. . The letter asklug Genet's recall, as desircd hy Washiugton, weut in due tine, and in the following Feloruary came a suc. cessor. Genet, however, did not go hack to his native land, for he preferred to remain here and save his head, valueless ns that article woutd seem to have heeu. He spent the rest of lis days in Amertca, married, harmless, aull quite obscure. His nolse nund fireworks were soou over, and one wonders now how he could ever have nuade as much flare and explosion as he dial" - lle C . Lodge, George Washington, v. 2, pp. 15:5-1:6.
Also IN: II. S. Randail, Life off Jefferson, v , 2, ch. 4. - J. T. Morse, Life of Humiltom,, a . Chi 3. Am. State Papers, v. 1, pp. 140-188, 243-246, and 311-314.
A. D. 8793 - Whitney's Cotton-gin and the series of inventiona which it made complete.Their political effect. - The strengtheniag of the Slave Power, and the atrengthening of Unionism.-"'Some English artisans, who about the mlddie of the last century, were obtainiog a scanty flving hy spinning, weaving nind other such occupatlons, turned their inveutive wesent to the improvement of their art. Prul and gainst the cow bington, how to maintain tho with the unan. wued (April 22
"This proc Mr. Jeffermo 10 Cabluet, wa 8 of the party 10 growing ex as fanned to on, South Caro. , who was sent cepublic to the $g$ to the seat of in any way, in t out privateen the commerce nost gentlease 10 executive of als violstion of rom the firat be:fore long to to the people. rerc of course sa and moral did not in the uf their effect extent neutral. f measures to ntry hsd been Inet, and that ate course had te [Jefferson]. 0 whlch Gene crett, life of for "Geaet's fe first days of ssion over the hut tive terms the disgust of the siccretary who desired mgance. As by the Presi. as suthiciently to bitter rein the State og Genet's re went iu due y mume a suc. o back to his usiu here and le would seem f his days io uite obscure. over, and one have made as dit." - II. C. $15 \%-116$
Leffergon, c. 2, , c. 2.ch.3.-243-? 46 , and complete.igthening of gthening of s, who. about cobtaining a $g$ and other entive caleat Paul and

Wyatt introduced the operntion of spinning by rollers: Ilighs, or Hargreaves, Invented the fenay, hy which a great mnny threade could be apun as easliy as one. Pauldevised the rotating carding euglne; Crompton the muie; Arkwright the wster-frame, which produced any number of threads of any degree of Aneness nud harineas. These ingenious machines constituted a very grest improvement on the spindie nud distant of anclent times, and on the spinning. wheci, origin. sliy brought from Asia, or perbaps reinvented in Europe. At length one spinner was able to accomplish ns muck wort ne one hundired could have formerly donc. While the art of proiucing thresds wus undergoing this singulnr improvement, Cirtwright, a elergyman, invented, in 1685, the power-1oom, Intented to supersele the operation of weaving hy hand, and to muke the production of textlle fabrics altogether the result cf msehinery. After some moditications, that loom suecessfuliy aceomplished the object for which it was devised. As these inventions sueceedel, they necessarily led to a demnnd for motive power. In the first iittle cotton fuctory, the germ of that embodiment of modern industry, the cotton-mill, a water-wheel was employed to give movement to the machlnery. The eatah. lishment was, therefore, necessarily piaced near astream, where a sufficient fall could be ohtalned The fuvention of the steam-engine hy Wntt, which whs the consequence of the new and cor rect riews of the nature of vapors that had heen establlshed by Dr. Black, supplied, in due tlme, the required motive power, and hy degrees the water-wheel went alinost out of use. Textile manufscture needed now hut one thing more to become of signal importance - It needed n nore abundant supply of raw materlai.

Cotton, the fibre ehiefly concerned in these improvements, whs obtained in limited quantities from various countries: hut, at the tlme of the ndoptlon of the Constitution, not a singie pound was exported from the United States. What was grown here Fas for domestlc consumption. Every good bousewife had her splnaing-wheei, erery plan. tutiou lts hand-loom. The difficulty o. supplying cottou tibre in quantity suffickent to meet the demsnds of the new marilnery was lue to the imperfect means in 1 . $\quad$, mn etince the eotton from its seeds-a tea "* for the pick. ing was done by han Missachusetts, hy 1 gin in 1793, removes could be sepsrated f and at a tritling cost. $j$, a native of on tle cotton. $\nabla$. The fihre with reaidity very fen years cotton was exported from the United States Whitney's gin was introduced in 1793. The lext year about $1 \frac{1}{\text { a miliion of pounds werc cx- }}$ ported; In 1795, about $5 \frac{1}{2}$ milions; in 1860, the quantity had renched 2,000 militions of pounds The political effect of this mechanicul invention, Whieh thus proved to be the completion of ali the previous Engiish Inventions, heing ahsolutely necessary to give them cfficacy, was at once seen ia its accomplishlog a great increase and a redistribution of populution in England. . . . In the United Ststes the effects were still more important. Cotton could be grown through all the Southern Athatic and the Gulf States. It was more protiable thin atyy uther crop - hut it was raised hy slaves. Whatever might have been the general expectation respecting the impending extinction of slavery, it was evident that at the commencement of thls rentury the conditicas hul aitogether chanveis. A powerfui litereat had come into unforesurn existence both in Eus. rope and America which depended on perpetis. ating that mode of inbor. Moreover, before long it was apparent thnt, partly because of thu alaptation of their climate to the growth of the piant, partly becnuse of the excelience of the produet, and partiy owing to the increasing facillties for interior transportation, the cottotgrowing states of Amerlea woull have n monopoly in the supply of thls staple. But, though mechunical invention had relnvigorated the slave power hy bestowlng on it the eotton-gin. It had likewise strengthened unlonism by another Inestlmnhle gift - the steam-boat. At the very time thint the Africnn siave-trade was prohihited Fuiton was mnking his suecessfui experiment of the navigatlon of the Huison Kiver hy atcam. This improvement in iniand navigntlon rendered avallahle, in a manner never before contempiated, the river and lake system of the contlnent; it gave an lustnntancous value to the policy of Jef ferson, by lringing into effectual nse the Missis. slppiand lts tributaries; it crowded with populathon the shores of the lakes; It threw the whole continent open to connmerce, it strengthened the central power at Washington hy diminishing spnce, and while It extended geographically tho lomnin of the repuhile, it condensed it politi. culiy. It bound all parts of the Union more frmiy together. . . . In the Constitution it had heen agreed that three fifths of the slaves should be accounted as federal numbers in the npporthonment of federai representation. A polltleas advantage was thus given to slave labor. This closed the eyes of the South to all other incans of solving its industriai diffleulties. . . . To the cotton-planter two courses were open. IIe mlght incrense his manual force, or he might resort to machinery. $\qquad$ It reg-ired no deep political penetration for him to percelve that the introduction of machinery must the the end result in the cmanelpntion of the slnve. Machinery and slavery are lneompatible - the siave is displaced hy the machine. In the Southern States poiltical reasons thins diseouraged the introduction of machinery. Under the Constitution an Increased negro force had n political vulue, machinery had none. The cotton interest was therefore persunded by those who were in n positlon to gulde its movements, that its prosperity could he secured only through increased manual lahor."Dr. J. W. Draper, IIistory of the Ameriaan Civil War, sect. 3, ch. 16 (c. 1).-See, nlso, below: A. D. 1818-1821

A. D. 1 794. - Resintance to the Excise. The Whinky Inaurreetion in Pennaylvania. See Pennsylvanta: A. D. 1794.
A. D. 1794-1795. - Threatening relations with Great Britain.-The Jay Treaty.-"The daliy incrunsing ' love-freuzy for Frauee, nui the intemperate langunge of the Democratic press, naturaliy emphasized in Engiand that reaction against America which set in with the treaty of pence. On the other hand, the retention of the frontier posts in vioiation of that treaty was a thorn in the side of the young Repuhilc. In the course of the war England had adopted, by suc. cessive Orders in Council, a policy ruinous to the commerce of neutral nations, espectally of the Unlted States. In the admiralty courts of the various British Wemt Indla Islands hundreda of shlpe from New England were selzed and con. demned, for carrylng Freweh produee or buiring eargnes of provialoua clinrterell to F'rench ports. The Now Engiand tishermeunal shlpowners were vorlferous for war, and the lemocratir elulm denounced every british lasult and coll brated every French viccory. On March 20,1 1294, an embargo agalnst Britsh shlps was proclalmed for thirty days, and then estender for thlity days longer. The day after the embargo was lalid, Dayton, of Xcw lersey, moved In Congress to sequester all moneys due to British credltors. and apply it towarda lademnltylng shlpownern for losses Incurred through the Orlers in Counell; and on A pril 21st the Repullicans moved a resolution to suspend ail commercial interenurse with Great Britaln till the western posts should be gizen up, and Indcanity be pald for Injurles to American commerce In violatinn of the rights of nelitrals. The passage of such an act ment war; and for war the Unlted States was never more unprepared.

Pence could be secured only by linmedlate negotlatlon and at least a temporary settlement of the causea of neutral Ir. ritation, and for sueh a task the ministera at London and Washington were Incompetent or unsuited. - . In this crisis Washington declded to send to England a special envoy. Hanilton was hls tirst cholec. but Ilamilton had exelted bltter enmiltes." On Hamliton's recomm. in. tlon, John Jay, the Chlef lustice, was eloosen for the difficult mission, and he salled for England In May, 1794, lauling at Falmouth on the 8th of June. Within the sueceeding five months he accompllshed the negotlation of a treaty, whleh Was slgned on the 19th of November. "The main polnts that Jay hall been instructel to gain were compensatlon for negroes [carried awny by the Britsharmles on the evacuation of the eoun. try $\ln 1783]$, surrender of the pests, and compensatlon for spoilations; In addition, a commerclai treaty was deslred. When Secretary for Forelgn Affalrs, Jay had argued that the negroes, some 3,0w) In number, who, at the time of the cracuatlon, were withln the British llnes, relying on proclamations that offered freedom, and who followed the troops to England, came withln that clanse of the treaty of peace whiel provlded that the arnys should be withdrawu with out 'earrying away any negroes or other prop"rty." Lord Grenville, however, inslsted upon refusing any compeusation. Onec withln the British lines, he sall, slaves were frec for gooll and all.

From any point of vlew the matter Was too inslgnlficant to wreck the treaty upon it, and Jay waived the clalm. As to the western posts [Oswego, Nlagara, Detrolt, Mackinaw, etc. .], It was agreed that they should he sur: rendered by June 12, 1796 . But compeasation for the deteution was dented on the gronnd that It Was due to the breach of the treaty by the United States in permitting the States to prevent the recovery of British dehts." Fur the deter. mination and payment of sueh debts, it was now provided that a board of five commlssionera should stt at Pbiladelphla; Fille another slma. lar board at Londoa should award compensatlon for lrregular and illegal captures or condemnatlons made during the war between Great Britain and France. "Under this elause A merl.
can merchants recelved $10,345,000$
dlsputed queatlons of isound arien ari. . The the conderion of thenty arising from fercostruction of the treaty of peace, wete re as the confuslon was due to properryife of of the geography of the Northweat. Alritsh of be Amerleau citizens holding lands at the time $n$ spectlvely In the Unlted States and In any of the possessions of Great Britaln were secured in their rights; a ciause much objected to la Aurrlca, but which was obvlously Just. A what more important provision followel, a noredty in Internatloual diplomacy, and a dlatlact adrance In elvillzation: that war between the two coun. tries should never be made the pretext for confiscatlon of debts or annulment of contracts between Indlyliduals. In the War of 1812 the Cinted States lappened for the moment to be the credlior aation, and the millions wheh thit provislon saved to her cllizens it woull be dia cult to estimate. . It was the coniaverifial if.
Itcles which exelted the most tleles which exelted the most Intense hostility io Anuerica.

To unprejullced eyes, atter the lapee of a hundred years, cousllering the anutual exasperation of the tro peoples, the pride of Fagland in her suceesses in the war wi'h France, the weakness and divlsion of the Ualtel state, the truaty scems a very falr one. Certainly one fur less favorable to imeriea woull have beea Infinttely preferable to a war, and would probably in the course of time have been acrepted as belag so. The eommerclal ail vantages wete ant very considerable, but they at least servel as 'en enteriag wedge. 'to quote Jav's expresslon, and they were 'pro anto 'a clear gala to Amproa

The treaty was not publisherl till July 3
Even before lts contents were kaown, leiters algned ' Franklln,' appeared abualng 'he treatr; and in Phlladelphin an eftigy of Jay ..ns placed In the plliory, and finally taken down, guillothed, the clothes fired, and the hoir hown up It was clear, then, that it was not this particular treaty, but any trenty at all with Grent Britain, that exelted the wrath of the lepublicans. 0 , July 4th toasts lnsulting Juy or making odious puns on lils name, were the fashlon. Juae 24th the trenty was ratithed by the semate. Wifh the exceptlon of the article abont the West Iadla trade. On August 15th It was signed, with the same exception by Washington. - G: Pellew, John Jay, ch. 11. - "The reception girea to the treaty cannot be fully explained by the ex. Isting relations leetween the Unitell states and England. It was only in consequence of its Francomanla that the opposiltion ussumed the charater of lllind rage."-11. voa Holst, Conat. and Fhitical Mist. of the $E . S, v, 1, p, 1 \%$.
Aso in: II. S. Itandall, Life of dititran, $t$, ch. 4-6.-W. Jay, Jife of John Jiy, t. 1, ch. &-10 and r. 2, pp. $216-204 .-4 m$. Site Iapers, r. 1. pp. 464-525-J. B. McMaster, Hist. of the Pepple of the U. N, r. 2, eh 9 .
A. D. 1796.-Admission of Tennessee to the Union. Ser Tenveneee: A. 1) 1isi-1796
A. D. ${ }^{1} 9{ }^{96}$ - Washington's Farewell Address. -" The perial for the prealdential elecion was Irawling near, and great naxlety hegan to be felt that Washlngton would consent to stand for a thlrd term. No one, it was agreed, hed greater claim to the enjoyment of retirement, in consideration of publle servlces rendered; but it was thought the affalra of the country would be in a very grecarious condltlou shethlit be fetite jected to in just. A witl a norelty is Inct sdrasect he two coun. text for con contracts be of 1812 the oment to be swhech thit ould be ditu numerechat ap chostility in Cs, after the 5 the mutun the prthe of with Frabce, nitell State, ertainly one I have been vould probaccepted as res were not ervel
us
' 21 resslon, and t1 Amerka. till July 2 owna, keiters, 'he treatr; isas placed wn. guilloblow up. a particular at Brituin, licans, 0a sing odious before the wars of Europe were brought in a ciowe. Wiahington, however, had made up his mind irrevocably on the suhject, and remolved to an sounce, in \& farewell adriress, hla intention of retliag. Such an instrisaent, it will be recol. iected, had been prepared for him from hls own notes, by Mr. Madleon, when he had thought of retiring at the end of his first term. As he was to longer in contidentiai intimacy with Mr. Madlem, he turned to Mr. Ifamilton as his adviser and coadjutor, and nppears to have con sulted him on the suhject carly in the present zear [1700], for, in a letter dated New York, siay loth, Hamilton writes: When last in Philadelphia, you mentioned to me your wisli that i should "re-dress" a certain paper which you hal prepared. As it is important that a thing of this kind should be dono with grent care and minch at leisure, touched and retouched, I submit a what that, as suon as you have given it the boriy you mean it to have, it mny be sent to me.' Thu paper wns accordlugly sent, on the 15 th of Msy, in it rough stute, nitered in one part shace llamilton had seen it. 'If you should thlink it best to throw the whole into a different form, writes Washington. 'let me request, notwhe ataniluge, that my draft mny be returned to me (aloug with yours) with such anendments and correctlons as to render it as nerfect as the formathon is susceptible of; curtailed if too verbose, and relieved of ail tautology not necessary to enforce the ideas in the origlnal or quoted part. My wish is, that the whole may appear in a plain style; nul be handed to the publle lu an honest, unaifectenl, simple garb.' We forbear to go lnto the vexel ollestion concerning this address; how much of it is founded on Wnsinington's original 'notes and hends of toples'; bow much was elahorated by Madison, and how much is due to Hamilton's recasting and revlslon. The whole cane unier the supervislun of Washington; and the instrument, as suhinitted to the press, was in his handwriting, whth many ultlmate correctlors and alterations. Wnshington had no pride of uthorship; hls ohject nlways was to effecit the purpose in hand, and for that he occasionally in. Foked assistunce, to ensure $n$ pinin nad cienr exposition of his thoughts and intentions. The aluress ecrainly brrathes hils sn' hroughout. Is is perfert accordance with it words and aftions, and 'in an honest, un: ed, slmple garh.' emburlies the system of $\mu$; on which he had acted tbroughout his administration. It wiss published in September [17], in a [Phlladelplia paper called the Dally Advertiscr. The publicition of the Address produced a great sensation. Several of the State iegisiatures ordered it to be put on thelr journals. "-W. Irving, Life of IVishington, v. 5, th. 30.

The following is the text of the Address.
"To the prople of the United States. Friends snd Fellow. Citizens: The period for a new electon of $a$ eltizen, to administer the executive gov. roment of the United States, being not far distant, and the time actually srrived, when your thoughts must be employed in designating the person, who ls to be clothed with that im portant srust, it appears to me proper, especially is may conduce to a more distinct expression of the puhlic voice, that I should now apprize ou of the resolution I isave formed, +o deciline being considered among the number of those sut of whom a chvice is to be made. I beg you, at the same tlme, to do me the justlce to be assured, tant this remolution has not been taken Without a strict reguril to all the coushiemtiona appreralning to the relutlon, which blnde a duth fil citlzen to his country; mud that, in with. drawing the tender of mervice, which sllence in my wituathon might imply, I ain Intluenced by no dhminuthon of zeni for your future interest uo deffciency of grateful respect for your pnit kininems; but ans supported by a full convi.tion that the step is romputble with both. The acceptance of, and cromthuance hltiserto in , the office to which your nuffruges have twice ealled me. have been aniform ateriflee of incilnation to ie spinton of duty, aud tos deference for wh. it aymenred to be your deslre. I constantly hoped, that it would have been much enrller in my power, consistently with nonives, which I was not at llberty to disregard, to return to that retirement, from which I had been reluctantly drawn. The strength of my incilnation to do this, previous to the inst election, had even led to the preparatlon of all address to declare it to you; but mature retlection on the then per plexed and critical posture of our atairs with forelgn natlons, and the unanimous advice of persons entltled to my confidence, Impelled me to uhnndon the Idea. I rejolce, that the state of your concerus, extcrtal as well as internal, no longer renders the pursuit of lncllnation Ineom pathie with the sentlment of duty, or propriety nd am persualed, whatever partlallty mny be retalned for my services, tint, in the present clrcumstances of our country, you will not ilsap. prove my determination to retlre. The impres. slons, with which I first undertook the urduous trust, were explained on the proper occuslon. In the discharge of this trust, I will only say, that I have, whth good intentions, contributed townrils the organization nud administration of the government the best exertions of which a very taillhie judgment was capabic. Not unconsclous, in the outset, of the inferiority of my qualifications, experience in my own cyes, per. hnps stili more in tive eyes of others, has strengthened the motives to difllhence of myself; and every day tie increasing welght of yenrs admonishes inc more und more, that the shade of retirement is as necessary to me as it will be weicome. Satlsfled, that, if any circumstances have given peculinr vahe to my scrvices, tbey were temporary, I have the consolation to beileve, that, while cholec and prudence invite me to quit tbc politicai scene, pntriotlsm does not forbil it. In looking forward to the moment, which is intended to terminnte the carcer of my public ilfe, my feelings do not permilt me to sus. pend the deep ncknowledgment of that deht of grathtude, which I owe to my beloved country for the many honors it has conferred upon me; still more for the stealfust coundence with which it has supported me; and for the opportunitles I have thence enjoyed of manifesting my invio. lahie attachment, by servie.ag faithfui and persetering, though in usefuiness unequal to my zenl. If benefits have resulted to our country from these services, let it aiways be remembered to your praise, and as an instructive example in our nnnals, that under circumstances in which the passlons, agitated in every direction., were liable to mislep umldst appearances sometimes dabious, vic: situdes of fortune of ten discouraging, in situations in which not unfrequently want of ruccea has countenanced tha apirit of criticlam the conalancy of your mupport was the exsentia prop of the enorts, and a guamntes of the plans by which they were effected. Profoundiy pene insted with this ifes, 1 shall carry it with me to any grave, a a meng lacitement to unceasing vow that Ileaven nisy continue to you the choleent tokens of its beneficence; that your union and hrotheriy afiection may be perpetual that the Pree comattution, which is the work of four hands, may be sacrediy maintalned; that It miministration in every department may be tamped with wision and virtue; that, in the, the happinems of the people of these States, under the suaplees of ilberty, may be made com. plete, hy so curefui a premervation and so prudent a use of this hlessing, as will acquire to them the giory of recommending ft to the applause, the affection, and adoption of every nation, which fs yet a stranger to it. Here, perhsps, I ought to stop. But a solicitude for your welfare, Whirh cannot end but with mv Iife, and the appreliension of danger, natural to that collcitude, urge me, on an occaslon like the pres. ent, to offer to your solemn contemplation, and to recommend to your irequeat review, tome entiments, which tre the renilt of much retlecton, of no fnconsiderabie obvervation, and which appenr to me all-important to the permanency of your felleity as a People. These wili be offered to you with the more ireedom, as you can only ee them the disinterested warning of a part. ing iriend, who ca nosslhly have no personal motive to hias hisco. Nor can I forget, as an encouragement to it, einduigent reception of my sentiments on a former and not dissimilar occasion. Interwoven an is the love of liberty With every ligament of your hearts, no recommendation of mine is necessary to fortify or con. arm the attechment. The unlty of Governunent, which constitute you one people, is also now dear to you. It fs justiy so: for it fs a majn piliar in the ediace of your reai fndependenec, the support of your tranquilility at honet, your peace abroad; of your safety; of your jrosperity; of that very Liberty, which you so highiy prize. But as it is easy to foresee, that, from difercnt causes and from difierent quarters, much pains wili be taken, many artifices employed, to weaken in your minds the conviction of thls truth; as this is the polnt in your politieal fortresi against which the hatterles of internal and externai enemies wili be most consuantly and actively (though often covertiy and insid). ousiy) directed, it is of infinite moment, that you should property estimate the immense value of your national Union to your collective and individual happiness; that gou should cherish a cordial, halitual, and immovable attachment to it; accustouing yourselves to think and speak of it as of the Paliadium of your poiltical safety and prosperity; watching for fts preservation with jealous anxiety; discountenaneing what ever may suggest even a suspicion, that ft can in any event be ahandoned; and indignantly frowning upon the first dawning of every at. tempt to allenate any portion of our country from the rest, or to enfeeble the sacred ties which now link together the various parts. For this you have every inducement of sympathy and interest. Cltizens, by birth or cholce, of a common country, that country has a right to con. centrate your affectlons. The name of Amer can, which belonge to you, in your nstloand capactu, must alway exalt the just pilie of Patrlotiom, more than any appeliation flerired from to.al diecriminations. Wth silgitt shales of difference, you have the amme relly ion, nams. ners, hahits, and political principles. Yini have in common cause fought and trjumpoull tofether; the Independence and liberty yould pois chere the mris of joint coungels, nad jeltat etiorts, of c. .timon dangers, sufteringa, mid suc cemses. But these considerations, however juw. erfuily they midress themselves to your menal hility, are greatly outwelghed by thow, which apply more immediately to your interest. Iteto every portion of our country finds the mont com manding motives fir carefully guariling and prewerving the Union of the wlale. The Sorth, in an unrestrained Intercomrse whith the South, protected hy the equil laws of a conimong guvera. ment, tuds, in the proviuctions of tise latter, great adiftional resourees of maritime and commorcial enterprise and precfous materiais of manufactur. Ing industry. The south, in the sime inter. course, benetting by the agency of the Sorth, sepe its agrlculture yrow and its commerre ex. pantl. Turning purtly into its own chanmele tho wensicu of the North, It finds its particulur barlgation invigorated; and, whilo it contributes, in different waye, to nourlsh and incrense the gea. cral mase of the antional navigation, it lonka forward to the protectlon of a maritime strungth, to which itself is unequaily adapted. The East In a ilke intercoures with the West, alrealy Hods and in the progressive improvemint of intertor conimunications hy land and water, will mone and more find, a valuahio vent for the eommall tles which it brings from abroad, or manufic tures at hons. The Weat derives from the East supplles requisite to Its growth and comfort and, what is periaps of atili greater cunse quence, it must of necessity owe the secure en joyment of indispensable outlets for its own pro ductions to the weight, influeuce, anti the future maritime strength of the Atlantic site of the Union, direeted hy an Indissoluble community of Interest as onc nation. Any other twure by which the West can hold this essential mivan. tage, whether derived frons its own sparate strength, or from an ajustate and unnatural connexion with any foreign power, in ast be intrinal. cally precarious. our country thus feels an Immedtate and particu. lar Interent it Unlon, all the parts combined cannot fall to find in the united unass of means and efforts greater strength, greater resource, proportlonably greater security from external danger, a less irequent interruption of their peace hy foreign natlons; and, what is of inestimahle vajue, they must derive from linion an exemption from those hrolls and wars between themselves, which so Prequmity affict nelghbouring countries not tlef together ly the Ean.a Eoverameuts, which thelr own rivalships vonld be sufflelent to produce, but which ste forelgn alifances, attachnents, and in trgues would stimulate and cmhitter. Hencs fikewise, they will avoid the necessity of those overgrown military estahilshments, whith, under any form of government, are inauspicious to Ilberty, and which are to be regarded as purticu fariy hostlle to Repubilcan Liberty. In this sense It is, that your Union ought to be consid. ered as a main prop of your liberty, und that the have of the one ought to endcar to you the prever fation of the otiter. Thewe considemtio. opent a periuasive language to every reflectit, and viruous miad, and extiblt the continuanee of the C'nion at a primary objeet of Patriotle dealre. Is there doubt, whether a common government canembrace so iarge a splere? let experience mive it. To Ifsten to mero speeuin. toa in such a ease wert eriminai. Wo are suthorized to bope, that a proper orgsnization of the whole, with the auxiliary ageney of gov. emments for the respeetive suinilivimonn, will anorl shspy inne totive experiment. It is weli worth s falr nud fuil experiment. With such powerfai sad olivious motiven to Unlan, nffect. fug all parts of our country, while experience bhali not dave ciemonstruteri it: Impracticalility, there wili niways lee riason to distrust tho pathitism of those, who in any quarter may emicaroar to wesken its basia. In contemplatog the chusers, winlein may diaturliour Unlon, it occurs an matier of acrious conuern, tint nity ground would iave been furndabed for chatik. urfalng partion hy Geograpincui diverlinination, Northern and Southern, Atiantie andi Wegtern; wherice deslgning men may endenvour to exclte belief, that there is a rent ditfereace of iocul tatereats nud views. One of the expedlents of party to acyuire influcuce, within partieular districts. is to misrepresent tic opinions and aims of other ilstrlets. You caunot alaicid youracives too much agalust the jealonates and heart-Inrniugs, which sping from these misrepresentations: they tend to reniur allen to pach other those, who oagit to be bound togetic. hy fraternal affectlon. The inhabitants of our western country have iately had n usefui icsson on this bedd; they havo seen, iu the negotiation liy the Executive, and in the unanimons ratificntion by the senate, of the treaty with Spaln, and in the aniversal sutisfuction nt that evint, throughout the Linlted States, a decisive proof fow un. founderi were the susplcions propagated nmong then of s poilicy in the Gencrai Government and Ir the Ithantic States unfriendily to their interests in rugarl to the Mississippl; they havo been witnesses to the formation of "vo treatles, that with Great Britain, and that wit spnin, whieh secure to them every thing tincy couhi desire, in respect th our forelgn reiations, towaris $c^{r}$ utirning their posperity. Will it not be their wisdom to rely for the preservation of these mivantages on tile lndon ly which they were procured ? Wiil they not henceforth be deaf to those nuvisers, if such there are, who would sever them from their bethren, and conncet them with allens? To the fllacy nif jerinanency of your Union, a Govrament sur the whole is indispensahic. No nlliances, however strict, hetween tho parts can he an adequate substitute; they must inevitabiy sferience the infractions and interruptions, thich all allhnces in all times have experfenced. Feamile f this momentous truth, you have impropat upon your that essay, hy the ndoption of aConstitutivi of Government better eaicuiated than your former for nn intimnte C゙nion, and for the efficachus mnnagement of your common concerns. This Government, the offspring of our own hoice, munfluenced and unawed, adoptel upon fuli investigation and mnture deliberation, completciy free in its principles, in the listribution of its powers, uniting seeurity with energy, fird evutaining within itself a provisiva for its awa mmendment, has a just chalm to yout conflience and your tupport. Respeet for Its athority, compilance with its laws, acqulescence In it menaures, are dutlen enjoined by the fundmmentai maxime of true Lilserty. The bails of our politteni systems is the right of the people to make and to alter their ('t astitutions of Guv. erament. But the Constitution whieh at any time exista, tili ehanged by an expilicit nad suthente act of the whote people, is sacrediy olligatory upon ail. The very firs of the power and the right of the people to eatabinil Oovernment presupposes tibe dity of every individual to oiney the eqtabilished Government. Ali oh. struethons to tho execution of tho Laws, all comhinations and asenciathons, under whatever plau. silile elanraeter, with tide rai design in direet, controi, eomenteract, or awe the regilar Iaifberatloy and action of the constituted au' ities, nro destruetive of thls fundmmentai pri- nir, nei of intal tendeney. They serve to orgr ifsetion, to give it an artifleiai and extrao. wry force; to jut, in the piace of the deiegater will of the nnition, the wili of a party, often $n$ smali hut nrtful and enterprising mlnority of the commu. ulty: and, according to the aiternate triumphs of dilferent parties, to make the pulilic aulministration the mirror of the IIf. concerted and incongru. of - ojjects of faction, rather timn the organ of et:us. .eut and whoienome pinns digeted by eorr. non eounseis, and modified hy nutuat interests. However comhlnations or asaciations of the aloove diescriptions may now and then answer popuinr ends, they are iikeiy, in the course of tinie nad things, to brecome potent engines, "y whleh eunnlag, ninhitious, nni unprincipied men wili be tnabled to sulvert the power of the peopic, nad to usurp for themselves the reins of government; iestroylng afterwards the very engines, which have ilfted then to unjust domlnfon. Towards the preservation of your govern. nient, and tho permaneney of sour present happy state, It is requisite, not coly that you steadily discountennnce Irreguiar oppositions to its ncknowiedged nutiority, but also that you reaist with care the spirit of innovation upon its principics, however apeci in the pretexts. 0 ? method of assauit mny br
-flect, in the for of the constitution, altcratiols, wiilch wili pair the energy of the system, nad thus uufermine what cannot be directiy orerthrow In nil the changes to which ynu nay be le: ited, rememher that time ard ha'it orr as least as aceessary to fix the true charactic of guvernments, as of othce iruman inst. lic-s; that expericnce is the $\%$ : stindard, \% \%ich to test the real tende of ofice existin constitu. tion of a country: . - lacility in chauges, upon tive eredit of mere hypothesis and opinion, ex. poses to perpetual changc, from the endicss variety of hypothesis and opinion; and remember, espcclally, that, for the efficient management of your common interests, in a country so extensive as ours, a government of as much vigor ins is consistent with the perfect security of ilherty is iudispensahie. Liberty itreif wiil find i: such a government, with powers properly distrihuted and mijusted, its surest guardiau. It is, incieed, iittie eise than a name, where the government is too feeble to withatand the enterprise of faction, to coafine each member of tie socicty within the ilmits prescrihed hy the law $\theta$, and to maintalin all in the secure and tran-

UNITED STATES, 1706.

Washington's Farevell Addrese

UNITED STATES, 1790.

quil enjoyment of the rights of person and property. I lave airendy intimated ta you the danger of partles in the state, with particular reference to the founding of them on geograpb. ical discrimiaatloas. Let me now take a more comprehenslve view, and warn you in the most solemu manaer against tbe bnneful effects of tbe spirit of party, gencraliy. Thls spirit, unfortunately, is inseparabie from our nnture, having its root in the stroagest passions of the human mind. It exists nuler different shapes in ali governinents, more or less stifled, controiled, or repressed; hut, in those of the popular form, it is seea ia Its greatest rankness, and is truly tbelr worst enemy. The ulternate dominatlon os one faction over naother, sharpened by the spirit of resenge, aatural to party dissension, whleb in different ages and countries lias perpetrated tbe most horrid enormities, is itself a frishtful des. most horriif enormities, is itself a frightful des. potism. But this leais at iength to a more formai nnd pernmnent despotism. The dlsorders and miseries, which result, gradually incline the minds of men to seek security aad repose in the absolute power of an individuai; nnd sooner or iater the chlef of some prevailing fuction, more able or morc fortumate than his competitors, turns this disposithon to the purposes of his Without elevation, on the rulns of Publlc Liberty. Without looking forward to an extrenity of this kind, (wbich aevertbeless ought not to be entirely out of sight, ) the eommon and contirnal mischiefs of the spirit of party ure sulliclent to make it the interest and dity of $n$ wlse people to dis courage and restrain it. It serves aiways to distract the Public Councils, nnd eafecble the Publlc Adminlstratloa. It agitates the Community with ill-founded jealousies and false nhrms; kladles the animosity of one part against aaother, fomeuts oceasionally riot and insurrec. tioa. It opens the door to foreign influence and corruption, which find a freilitated access to the government itseif through the char nels of party passions. Tbus the policy and the will of one country are subjected to the polley and will of another. There is in opinioa, thut partie's in free eountries are useful checks upon the admin. istratiou of the Government, and serve to keep alive the spirit of Liberty. This within certaia limits is probably true; and in Governments of a Monarehical east, Patriotism may look with indulgence. if not whth fuvor, upon the spirit of party. But ia those of the popular character, in Goveraments purely eleetive, it is a spirit aot to le encouraged. From their natural tendency, it is certain there will always be enough of that spirit for every salutary purpose. And, there being eonstant danger of excess, the effurt ought to be, by force of public opinion, to miltigate aud ussuage it. A tire not to be quenched, it deminds a unifonn vigilanee to prevent its burst. lug into a flime, lest, instend of warming, it shoult I consume. It is important, likewise, that the hibits of thinking in a frce country slould inspire cantion, it those intristed with its ndministration, to confine themselves within their respertive constitutional spheres, avolding in the exercise of the powers of one department to en croach upon another. The spirit of encroachment ternels to consoliciate the powers of all the departments in one, and thus to ereate, whatever the form of gowernment, a reai despotism. A just estimate of that love of power, and prone. urss to ahuse it, which predominates in the human heart, is sumcient to satisfy us of $t$ truth of this positlon. The necessity of recil rocal checks in tbe exereise of poiltical powe by dlviding and distributiag it into different d positories, and constitutiag each the Guardian the Public Wcai agaiast invasioas by the othen the Public Wcai agaiast invasioas by the othen has been evinced by experiments aucient an modera; some of them in our country and unde our own eyes. To preserve then must be a neceasary as to institute them. If, in the opinlon of tle people, tbe distributioa or molitication o the constitutionai powers be in aay particula wrong, iet it be corrected by an amealment in tbe way, which the constltutioa designates. Bu let there be 1 o change by usurpation; for, though tbis, ia one iastance, may be the instrument of good, it is the customary weapon by which free good, it is the customary weapon by which free governments are destroyed. The precedent nust always greatly overbalaace in permanent eril any partiai or transient benefit, which the use can at any time yield. Of all the dispositions aai habits, wbich lead to political prosperity, Religion aad Morality are indispensable supports. Ia vain would that maa claim the tribute of Patriotism, wbo sbould labor to subvert these great piliars of human bapplness, these firmest props of the dutles of Men aad Citizens. The mere Poilitician, equally with the pious man, ougbt to respect and to cberish theal. A volume could not trace ali their conncxloas with private aad public feileity. Let it simply be asked, Wbere is the seeurity for property, for reputa. desert the oaths, wbicb are the instruments of iavestigation in Courts of Justice? And let us with eaution indulge the supposition, that morality can be maintaiued without religion. Whatever may be conceded to the influence of refined education on minds of pecullar structure, reason and experience both forbld us to expect, that nationai moraiity con prevail in exclusion of that nationai moraiity cun prevail in exclusion of religious principle. It is substaatially true, that virtue or morality is a necessary spring of popular governmeat. The ruie, indeed, extends with lar goverumeat. The rule, indeed, extends with more or iess force to every species of free gorerament. Who, tbat is a slacere friend to It, can look with indlfference upon uttempts to shake the foundation of the fubric? Promote, tben, as an object of primary importance, jastl. tutions for the geaeral diffusion of knowledge In proportion as the structure of a government gives force to publlc opinlon, it is essential that publie opinion should he ealightened. As a very impertant sourec of strength and seeurity, cherish publie credit. Oae method of preserving It is to use it as sparingly as possible; avoiding occa sions of expense by cultivathg peace, but re-menbering also that timely disbursements to menbering also that timely disbursements to prepure for dager frequeatly prevent much greater disbursements to repal it aver greater disbursements to repel it; a voiding likeWlse the aceumulation of debt, not only by shannlug occasions of cxpease, but by vigorous exer. nlug occasions of cxpease, but by vigorous exertions in tinne of peace to discharge the dehts, whlch unavoidable wars may have occasioned, not ungenerously throwing upoa posterity the not ungenerously throwing upoa posterity the burthen, whleh we oursclves ouphit to bear The burthen, whleh we oursclves ought to bear. The exceution of tbese maxims belongs to your representatives, but it is necessury that pullic opinion should cooperate. To facilitate to them the performance of their duty, it is essentlal that you shouid practlcally bear in mind, tbat towards the payment of debts there must be Revenue: that to bave Revenue there must be taxes; that tisfy us of the cessity of recip. poilticai power, ato dlfferent de. the Guardlsa of as hy the others, nts ancient and untry aad under lem must be as If, in the oplaloo - moditication of any particular amendment in lesignstes. But on ; for, though listrument of by which free precedent nust perntanent erii which the use ine dispusitions eal prosperity, sahle supports. the tribute of subvert these , these firmes? Citizens. The pious man, nl. A volume is with prirate ply be asked, ty, for reputa olls obligation nstruments of e? Aud let us oosition, that hout religlon. e influence of llar structure, us to expeet, n exclusion of ally true, that ring of popu, extends with 3 of free gor. friend to lt, attempts to e? I'romote, ortance, instlf kuowledge governmeat essential that 1. As & very urity, eherish userving it is, voiding oces. ence, but reirsements to event murh voiding like. nly by shungorous exere the dehts, occasloned, osterity the to bear. The o your repthat public tate to them sseatlisi that hat towards e Revenue: taxes; that no taxes can be devised, whlch are not more or less inconvenient and unpleasant, that the intrinsic embarrassment, inseparabie from the seleetoa of the proper objects (which is always a choice of difficultles), ought to be a decisive motive for a candid construetlon of the conduet of the government in maklng it, and for a spirit of aequlescence in the measures for ohtaluing revenue, which the public exlgencics may at any time dietate. Observe good faith and justice towards ail Natlons; cuitivate peace and harmony vith sii. Rellgion and Morality enjoin this conduet: and can it be, that good polley does not equsily enjoln it? It wili be worthy of $n$ free, enllghtened, and, at no dlstant period, a great Nistion, to give to mankind tho magnanimous and too novel exampie of a people aiways guided by sn exalted justice and benevolence. Who can donbt, that, in the course of time and things, the fruits of such a plan wouid riehiy repay any temporary advantages, whieh might be lost by a steady adherence to it? Can lt be. that Provl. deace has not conneeted the permanent fellcity of a Nation with its Virtue? The experiunent, at ieast, is recommended by every sentiment whleh ennohles human nature. Alas 1 is it rendered Impossibie by its vlees? In the exceution of such a plan, nothing is more essentini, than that permanent, inveterate antipnthles against p:rticuiar Natlons, and passlonate nttaehments for others, should be excluded; and that, In piace of them, just and amieahle feelings towards all slould be cultivated. The Nation, which indulges towards snother an habitual hatred, or an habitual fondness, is iu some iegree a slare. It is a siave to Its animoslty or to its nffeetlon, eitber of which is suticlent to lead it nstray from lts duty and its interest. Antipatly in oue natlon agilust nnother disposes each more reatlly to offer insult and injury, to lay holii of sliglit eanses of umhrage, and to be haughty and iutractable, when accidental or trifing occasions of dispute oceur. Hence frequent collisions, obstinate, envenomed, and bloody contests. The Natlon, prompted by ill-will and resentment, sometimes impels to war the Governmeut, eontrary to tine best ealeulations of poliey. The Government sometimes partleipates in the uational propensity, aad adopts through passion whint reason would reject; at other times, it makes the animosity of the nation subservient to projects of hostllity instlgated by pride, ambition, and other sinister nndi pernielous motives. The peace often, sometimes perhaps the liberty, of Natlons las been the victim. So likewise, a passlonate attaelıment of one Natlon for another produces a variety of evils. Sym. pathy for the favorite Nation, facilitating the fllusion of an imaginary common interest, in cases where no real common iuterest exists, and Infusing into one the enmities of tbe other betrays the former into a partieipation in the quar. rels and wars of the iatter, without adequate inducement or justifieation. It ieads also to coneessions to the favorite Nintion of privileges denied to others, whieh is apt doubly to injure tho Nstion making the concessions; by unnecessarily psiting with what ought to liave been retalned; and by exeitling jealousy, ill-wiil, and a disposition to retaliate, ia the parties from whom equal privileges are withheld. And it gives to ambitious, corrupted, or delurled citizeus. (who devote themselves to the favorito nation, ) facility to betrsy or sacrifice the intereste of their own country, without odium, sometimes even with popularity; gilding, with the appearances of a vlrtuous sense of ohligation, a eommendabie deference for publie opinion, or a iaudahie zcal for pubile good, the basc of foolish compilances of ambition, corruptlon, or infatuation. As avenues to foreign lnfiuence in lnnumerabie ways, such attachments are particuiariy alarming to the truiy enilghtened and independent Patriot. How many opportunities do they afford to tamper with domestic faetlons, to practise the arts of seduction, to misiead public spinion, to influence or awe the Puhlic Connelis! Sueb an attach. ment of a smali or weak, towards a great and powerfui nation, dooms the former to be the satellite of the latter. Against the insidious wiles of foreign influence (I conjure you to believe me, feliow-eitizens,) the jealousy of a free people ought to be eonstantiy awake; since history and experience prove, that foreign influence is one of the most banefui foes of Republiean Government. But that jeaionsy, to be useful, must be impartlal; cise it becomes tho instrument of the very influence to be aroided, instead of a defence against it. Excessive partlality for one foreign nation, and excessive disllke of another, cause those whom tbey actunte to see danger only on one slde, and serve to veil nad even second the arts of influence on the otiner. Real patriots, who may resist the lntrigues of the favorlte, are liable to beeome suspeeted and odious; while its tools and dupes usurp the appiause and eoutidence of tho penple, to surrender their interests. The great rule of conduet for us, in regard to foreign nations, is, in extending our commercial reintions, to have with them as iittle politlcal eonnexion as possible. So far as we have already formed engagements, iet them be fulfiled with perfeet good faith. IIere iet us stop. Europe lias a set of primary interests, whieh to us bave none, or a very remote relation. Ilenceshe must be engaged iu frequent coutroversies, the eauses of whieh are essentially foreign to our eoueerns. Henee, therefore, it must be uuwiso in us to im. plicate oursel ves, by artifleial ties, in the orllnary vielssltudes of her polities, or the ordinary combinations and collislons of her friendships or enmities. Our detaehed and distnnt situation in. vites and enabies us to pursue a different course. If we remain one people, under an efficieut government, the period is not far off, when we may defy material injury from externnl annoyance; when we may take such an attitude as will eause the neutrality, we may at any tine resoive upon, to be scrupulousiy respeeted; when belligerent nations, under the impossibility of making acquisitions upon us, wili not ilghtly hazard the giving us provocntion; when we may choose peace or war, as our interest, guided by justlce, shull eounsel. W'hy forego the advantages of so peeullara situation? Why quit our own to stand upon forelgn ground? Why, by Interweaving our destiny with that of any part of Europe, entangle our peace and prosperity in the tolls of Europeun ambition, rivalship, interest, humor, or enprice? It is our truo poliey to steer elear of permanent niliances with any portion of the foreigu world; so far, I mean, as we are now at liberty to do lt; for let me not be understood as eapabie of patronlzing infidelity to existing engagements. I hold the maxim no less anplicablo to puhlic than to private affairs, that honesty is aiways the best policy. I repeat it, therefore, let thowe engagements be observed in their genu ine sense. But, in my opinion, it is unnecessary and would be unwise to extend tbem. Taking care always to keep ourseives, by suitahle eatabisbments, on a respectable defensive posture, we may safely trust to temporary alliances for ex raordinary emergencies. Harmony, liberal intercourse witb all nations, are recommended hy policy, bumanity, and interest. But even our commercial policy should hold as equal and impartial hand; neither seeking nor granting exclusive favorn or preferences; consuiting the natural course of things; diffusing and diversifying hy gentlc means tbe streams of commerce but forcing nothing; cstablisbing, with powers so disposed, in order to give trade a stahle course, to define the rigbts of our merchanta, and to cnable the government to support them conventional rules of intercourse, the best tha present circumstances and mitual opinion will permit, but temporary, and liable to be from time to time abandoned or varied, as experience and circumstanees shail dictate ; constantly keep ing in view, that it is folly in one nation to look for disinterested favors from another; that it must pay with a portion of its independence for wbatever it may accept under that charaeter that, hy such acceptance, it may place ltself in the condition of baving given equivalents for nominal favors, and yet of being reproached with ingratiude for not giving more. There can be no greater error than to expect or calcu. late upon real favors from nation to nation. It is an illusion, which experience must cure, wbicb a just pride ought to discarl. In offering to you, my countrymen, these counsels of an oid and affectionate friend, I dare not hope they will make the strong and lasting impression I could wisb; that they will control the usual current of the passions, or prevent our nation from running the course, which has bitherto marked tbe destiny of nations. But, if I may even flatter myself, that tbey may be productive of some partial heneflt, some oceasional good; that toey may now and tben recur to moderute the fury of party spirit, to waru against the mis chiefs of forcign intrigue, to guard against tho impostures of pretended patriotism; this hopo will he a full recompense for the solicitudic for your welfare, hy which tbey bave been dictated. How far in the discharge of my official duties, I 3ave been guided hy the principles whieh have becn delineated, the public records and other evidences of my conduct must witness to you and to tbe world. To myself, the assurance of my own conscienee is, that I have at least beifeved myself to he guided by them. In relnting to the still subsisting war in Enrope, my Proclama. tion of the 2?d of A pril, 1793, is the index to my Plan. Sanctioned by your approving voice, and hy that of your liepresentatives in hoth Llouses of Congress, the spirit of that measure has contln. uaily governed me, uninfluenced hy any attempts to deter or divert me from it. After delib erate examination, with the aid of the hest lights I eouid ohtnin, I was well satisted that our country, under all the circumstances of the case had a right to take, and was bound in duty and interest to take, a neutral position. Having taken it, I determincel. as far as should depend upon me, to maintain it, with moderation, perse verance, and firmness. The considerations, which respect the right to hold this conduct, it is not necessary on tbis occasion to detail. will ouly ohserve, tbat, according to my under atanding of the matter, that right, so far from being denied hy any of the Belligerent Power, has been virtually admitted hy ail. The duty of holding a neutral conduct may be iaferreel, witbout anytbing more, from the obllgation which justice and humanity impose on every nation, in cases in whicb it is free to act, to maintain inviolate the relations of peace and amity towards otier nations. The infincemeutu of interest for observing that conduct will best be referred to your own reflections und experi. cnce. Witb me, a predominant motive has beea and mature its yet recent institntions to settie and mature its yet recent institutions, aad to progress without interruption to that degree of give it, humaniy spcaking, the commnness of it own fortunes. Thougb, in reviewing the incidents of my administration, I am unconscinus of intentional error, I am nuvertheless too sensible of my defects not to think it probable that 1 may bave committed many errors. Whatever they may be, I fervently beseecb the Almighty to avert or mitigate the cvils to which they may tend. I shall also carry with me the hope, that my Country will never cease to view them with indulgence; and tbat, after forty-five gears of my life dedicated to its service with an upright zeal, the faults of incompetcnt ahilities will be consigned to ohlivion, as myself must soon be to tbe mansions of rest. Relying on its kiulaess ia this as in other things, and actuated hy that fervent love towards it, which is so natural to : man, wbo views in it the native soil of himself and his progenitors for several generations; anticipate with pleasing expectation that retreat, in which I promise myself to reilize, without alloy, the sweet enjoyment of partithong, in the midst of my fellow-citizens, the benign inturace of good laws under a free government, the erer favorite ohjcct of my heart, and the happy re. ward, as I trust, of our mutual cares, labors, snd ward, as I trust, of our mutual cares, labors, snd dangers. Georoe Washinotos."
A. D. 1796.-Tbird Presidential Election.Washington succeeded by John Adams.After the appearance of Washington's Fareveli Address, the result of the Presiclential eleetion became exceedingly donbtful. "There was ao seeond man to whom the whole of the aation could he won over. The Federalsts . . . could not hring forward a single eandidate who could caieulate on the unanimous nad elieerful support of the entire party. There still prevailed at the time a fecling among the people that the rice. president had a sort of elaim to the sucecssion to the presideucy. But even npart from this, Adams would have been one of the innst prominent candidates of the Federalists. The great majority of them scon gave hhn a decided preferelce over all other possible candidites Ou the other hand, some of the most distinguish and Influcatial of the Federalists fearml serin. cousequences to the party and the country frua the vanity and violence ns weli as from toe egotism and irresolutiou with which hie tras charged. But to put linin astle entirely was not possihle, nor was it thcir wlsh. They thought nowever to secure a greater number of electoral votes for Th. Pinckney, the Federal candidate for the viee-presideney, which, as the constitution theu sturl, wouid have mnile hilup presi.
to detail. 1 to my under. so far from rent Powern . The duty be inferred, ose on every to act, to f peace and Inlicemeuts uct will best and experi. tive lias beea intry to settle lons, and to uat thegree of necessary to mand of its ing the inciconscious of too senslble e that 1 may atever they Almighty to h they may hope, that $r$ them with ve jears of anl upright ties will be t soon be to kinuless ia by that fer. atural to a of himself crations; I hat retreat, ", without ing , tn the 1 influence t, the ever happy re. labors, and

UNITED STATES, 1796.

Trondles with the French Republic. UNITED STATES, 1797-1800.
deat and Adams vice-president. Although this plan was anxiously concealed from the people, it caused the campaign to be conducted hy the party with less energy than if the leaders had been entlreiy unanimous. France was naturally deslrous ot Jefferson's success. $\qquad$ Wolcott asserted that Adet had puhlicly declared that France's future policy towards the United States would depend on the result of the clection. Some did not hesitate to say that, on this accouni, Jefferson should have the preferepce, but on the more thoughtful Federallsts it exerted the very opposite influence. There is no reason for the assumption that the issue of the election wouid have been dlferent, lad Adet behaved more dlscreetly. But hls indiscretion certalnly contrihuted to make the small majority expected for Adams completely eertain, whlle Hamllton's fiank movement in favor of Plnckney helped Jefferson to the vice-presidency. . . . The result of the election, however, left th s ountry in a rery serious condition. Washingtnn's withdrawal removed the last restralnt from party passion."-H. von Holst, The Constitutional and Political Uistory of the United States, o. 1, ch. 3. - Adans recelved 71 votes in the Electoral College and Jefferson 68. As the constitutlon then provided, the majority of votes elected the Presldent and the next greatest numher of votes elected the Vice President.
A. D. 1797-1799. - Trouhles with the French Republic. -The $\mathbf{X}, \mathbf{Y}, \mathbf{Z}$ correspondence. Oa the brink of war.-" Mr. Adams took his cahinet from his predecessor; It was not a strong ene, and it was devoted to llamllon, hetween whom and the new President there was soon a divergence, llamilton being fond of power, and Adams having a landable purpose to command his own ship. The figure of speech is appropriate, for hic plunged into a sea of troubies, mainly ereated by the unreasonable demands of the French government. The Freneh 'Dlrec. tory, enraged especially hy Jay's treaty with England, got rid of ono American minister ly remonstrance, and drove out another [Pinckney] with contempt. When Mr. Adams sent three special envoys [Gerry, Marshail, and Pinckney], they were expected to undertake the most delicate negotiations with certalu seml-othiciul persons designated in their correspondence ouly by the letters $\mathbf{X}, \mathbf{I}, Z$. The plan of this covert intercourse came through the private secretury of M. de Talleyrand, then French Minlster for Foreign Affairs; and the impudence of these three letters of the alphabet went su far as to propose a bribe of $1,200,000$ francs (some S2?0,010) to be pald over to this minister. 'You must pay money, a great deal of moner, remarked Jionsieur I ('Il faut de l'urgeut, beaucoup de l'argent'). The secrct of these names was kept, but the diplomatic correspondence was made publle, and created much writh In Europe as well as In Amerlca. Moreover, American ressels were constantly attacked hy France, and yet Cougress refused to arm lts own shlps. At last the insults passed beyond bearing, and it was at this time that 'Millons for defenee, not one cent for tribute,' first beeame a proverblal phrase, having heen originally used dey Charles C. 1 'inckney. . Then, with tardy declsion, the Republlcans yiclded to the necessily of action, and the Fedenil marty took the lead. War was not formaily proclainicd, hut treatles with France were declared to be no longer hinding. An army was ordered to be created, with Washington as Leutensnt-general and Hamilton as second in command; and the President was authorized to appoint a Secretary of the Navy and to huild twelve new ships-ol. war. Before these were ready, naval hostillties had actually begun; and Commodore Truxtun, in the U. S. frigate Constellation, captured a French frigate in West Indlan waters (Feh. 9 , 1799), and afterwards silenced another, which however cscaped. Great was the excitement over these early naval successes of the young natlon. Merchant-ships were authorized to arm themsel ves, and some 800 acted upon thls authorlty. . . The result of it all was that France yielded. Talleyrand, the very mlnister who hud dictated the lnsults, now disarowed them, and pledged hls government to receive any minlster the Linited States might send. The President, in the most emlnently courageous act of his life, took the responsihllity of agaln sendlag amhassadors; and did this without even consuiting his cahinet, which would, as he well knew, oppose it. They were at once received, and all danger of war with France was at an end. Thls hold stroke separated the President permanently from at least half of his own party, slace the Federallsts did not wish for peace with France. Ifs course would have glven hlm a corresponding increase of favor from the other slde, hut for the great mistake the Federallsts had made in passing certain laws, called the 'Alien' law and the "Sedltlon' law."-T. W. Higginson, Larger Hist. of the U. S., ch. 14.
Also in: J. T. Austin, Life of Elbridge Gerry, 2. 2, ch. 5-8.-J. Q. and C. F. Adams, Life of John Adams, ch. 10 ( $v, 2$ ).
A. D. $1797-1800$. - Eariy attitude of the Slavocracy in Congress.-Treatment of Free Blacks.-"Many people will not allow the least hlame to be east on this period the later years of the 18th century], because it does not harmonlze with their admiration of the 'fathers, and hecause they have adopted. wlthout any proof, the common view that the deeper shadows of slavery and slavocracy first appeared comparatively late. . . . In rearllng through the dehates [in Congress], single striking lnstanees of injustice do not make the deepest impression. It is the omnipresent unwillingness to practice justice towards colored persons, - Fes, even to recognize them as aetual heiugs. When the defense of their rights is demanded, then congress has always a deaf car.

Swanwlek of Pennsylvank laid hefore the house of representatlves, Jan. 30, 1797, a petitiou from four North Carolima negroes who had been freed by thelr masters. Since a state law condemned them to be sold again, they had fled to Phlladelphla. There they had heeu seized under the fugitive slave law . . . and now prayed congress for its intervention. Blount of North Carolina declared that only when it was 'proved ' thut these men were free, could congress consider the petition. Sitgreaves of Pennsylvania asked, in reply to this, what sort of proof was offered that the fonr negroes were not free. Thls question received no answer. Smith of South Carolina and Christle of Maryland simply expressed their amazement that any member whatever could have presented a petition of such an unheard-of uature.' Swanwlek and some other representatives atlirmed

Alien and Sedition Lave.
UNITED STATES, 1798.
that the petition must be submitted to a com mittee for investigation and consideration, because the petitioners compiained of violation of their rights undier a inw of the Union. No repiy could be made to this and no reply was ntteinpted. This decisive point was sinply set aside, and it whs voted by fifty ayes to thirty three noes not to reccive the petition.
establish an unlform ruie of naturailization, and to repeai the act beretofore passedi on that sub ject, he shali bave declared his inteation to be. at least a citizen of the United States, five yeam at least, ivefore his admission, and shall, at the time of his nppiication to be admittel, deciar and prove, to the satisfaction of the court hav. ing jurisdiction in the case, that he has resided within the Unitcd States fourteen ycars, at least and within the state or territory where, or for which such court is at tie time hell, five years at least, besides conforming to the other declara. tions, renunciations and proofs, by the snid act required, nnything therein to the contrary hocreot notwithstanding: Provided, that any allea, who was residing within the ilmits, and under the Jurisdiction of the United States, before the twenty-ninth day of January, onc thousund seven hundred and ninety-tive, may, withia one year after the passing of this nct-ind uny alien who shali inave made the declaration of hisis. tention to become n citizen of the Conited States in conformity to the provisions of the act, intituicd 'An net to establish an uaiform rule of nnturnlization; and to repcai the act herctofore passed on that subject, 'may, within four year nfter having made the deciaration aforesail, be admitted to become a citizen, in the manacr pre. scribed by the said act, upon his making proof that he has resided flve years, nt least, within the limits, and under the jurisdiction of the llaited Stutes: And provided nlso, that no alien, who shali be a native, citizen, deuiz $n$ or subject of nny natiou or state with whom the Unitcil States shall be at war, at the time of his application Sliall be at war, at the time of his application, shali be then admitted to become a citizea of the Shali be then admitted to becomc a citizea of the United States." - Statutes at Large of the Cnited States, ed. 1850, v. 1, pp. 566-567.
The foliowing is the text of the two Alten Acts :
June 25, 1798. Statute II., Chap. IViii.-"dn Act Concerning Aliens.
Section 1. Be it enacted by the Seaate and House of Representatives of the Uaited States of America in Congress assembled, Thint it shall be lawful for the President of the United Statet at any time during the continuance of this act, to order all such alicens as he shall judge danger. ous to the peace and safety of the linited States, or shall have reasonnble gromads to snspect are concerned in any trensonable or secret machina. tions ngainst the government thercof, to depart out of the territory of the United States, within such time as shall be expressed in such order, such time as shall be expressed in such order which order shali be served on such afica br de livering him a copy thercof, or leaviag the same at his usuni abole, and returncd to the otice of the Secretnry of State, by the marshal or other person to wbom the same shall be dirceted. And in case any alien, so ordered to dcpart, shali be found at large within the United States after the time linited in such order for his depnorture, and not iaving obtained a license from the President to reside therein, or having obtained such il. cense shali not have conformed thicreto, every such atien shail, onl conviction thereof, be im. prisonci for a term not exceeding three years, andi shall never after be admitted to become a citizen of the United Stntes. Providcl always and be it further enacted, tbat if nay alien so ordered to depart shall prove to the satisfaction of the President, by evidence to he taken before such persun or persons as the Prcsident ahali

Zatloa; and nt that sibl athon to be A five yeam thall, at the teld, deels, court hav. lins restlied rr, at teast iere, of for five years, ure decelan: the sid set ratry lereof aliea, who under the tefore the thousend wlthln one 1 nay sllea of lils m. ted States, the sct, rm rule of heretofore our years resaid, be anner pre. ling proot withln the he C'nited lien, who uhjret of ted States pliestion, en of the He Cnited direct, who are for that purpose hereby authorized to sdmalater oaths, that no injury or danger to the Unlted Statea will arise from suflering such allea to realde thereln, the Presldent may grant n license to such allen to remaln wlthin the Unlted States for such time an he ahall judge proper, and at auch place as he may deslgnate. And the Prealdeat may also requlre of such allen to enter Into a bond to the United States, In such penal sum as ho may direet, with one or more sufficlent suretles to the satlsfactlon of the person authorized by the Presldent to take the same, condl. tioned for the good behavlor of aueh allen during his resideace $\ln$ the Unlted States, and not vlolating hla lleense, whleh ileanse the Presldent may revoke whenever he shall thlnk proper.
Sec. 2. And be It further enacterd, That it shall be lawful for the President of the Unlted States, whenever he may decm lt neeessary for the publle safety, to order to be removed out of the territory thereof, any allen who may or shall be la prison ln pursuance of thls aet; and to cause to be arrested and sent out of the Unlted States auch of those allens as shall have been ordered to depart therefrom and shail not have ohtained a lleense as nforesaid, in ull eases where, In the oplnlon of che Preskent, the public safety requires a speedy removal. And li anyallen so removed or seat out of the Calted Stateshy the Presldent slanll voluntarlly return thereto, ualess by permlssion of the President of the Cnited States, such allen on convletion thereof, ahall be lmprisoned so long as, lu the opinion of the President, the publle safety may require.
See. 3. Aad be lt further enacted, That every master or commander of any shlp or versel which ohall come Into any port of the United States after the first day of July next, shall Inıuediately oa hls arrivnl make report in writlng to the collector, or other ehlef oflicer of the eustoms of such port, of all alicus, if any, on honrd his vestel, specifying thelr namea, age, the plaee of natlvity, the country from whleh they shall have come, the nation to which they belong and owe alleglsnee, their oreupation and a deseription of their persoas, as far as he shall be fiformed thereof, aud on fallure, every such muster aad -rmander shall forfeit and pay three huadred dollars, for the payment whereof on default of such master or commander, sueh vessel shall also be holden, and may hy such collector or other offleer of the customs be detalued. And It shall be the duty of sueh collector, or other officer of the eustoms, fortliwlth to transinit to the officer of the department of state true copies of all such returns.
See. 4. Aad be lt iurther enacted, Tliat the circuit and district eourts of the United States, shall respectively have cognlzanee of all erimes and offences ngainst this net. And all mnrshals and other officers of the Uilted States are required to exceute nll preeepta and ordere of the Presideut of the Unitedi States issued It pursuance or by vlrtue of thls act.
Sec. 5. And be it further enacted. That it thall be lawful for any allen whomay be ordered to be removel from the Unlted States, by vlrtue of this act, to take with hlm sueh part of hls goods, chattels, or other property, as he may find coavenient: aad nll property feft In the Unlted siates by any alien, who may be renoved, as aforesaid, ahull be, and remain subjeet to hls order and dlaposal, in the same manner as if this act had not beea passed.
See. 6. And be It further enacted, That thls aet shall eontlnue and be In foree for and durlng the term of two years from the pusslug thereof.

Appioved, Jine 25, 1798, "- Statute at Large of the United States, ed. 1850 , Vol. I., pp. 510 572.

July 6, 1708. Statste II., Chap. Ixvl.-"An Aet respecting Allen Enemles.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Sennte and ilouae of Hepresentatlves of the Cnlted States of America $\ln$ Congress iembleci, Tlant whenever there shall be a deelaicd war betweeu the Unlted States and nny forelgn natlon or government, or any invaslon or predatory lneursion shnll he p. petruted, nttempted, or threatened against the terrltory of the Unlted States, by any forelgn nation or government, and the Presldent of the Unlted States shall make publle proclamation of the eveut, all natlves, eltizeus, denizens, or suhjeets of the hostile natlon or goverument, being inales of the age of fourteen years nad upwards, who shall be within the Unlted States, and not ae ally paturallzed, shall be llahle to he appreheuded, restrained, seeured aud removed, as alien enemies. And thw Presideat of the Cnlted States shall be, and is herehy authorized, lu any event, as afor $\quad$, by his proclamation thereof or other pubice pet, to direet the conduet to ", observed, on the part of the Cnlted States, oowards the aliens who shall become llable as aforesald; the manner and degree of the ristraiut to whieh they shatl be subject, and ln what eases, asd upon what seeurity their residence slaall be purmitted, and to provlile for the removal of those, who, not belng permitted to reslde within the Únited Staies, sliall refuse or negleet to depart there. from; and to establlsh any other regulatious which shall be found neeessury In the premises and for the publie safety: Provided, that aliens resldent withln the Unlted States, who shall beeome llable as enemies, in the nanaer aforesaid, and who slaall not be chargeahle whit actual hostllity, or other erime against the puhlic safcty, slall be nllowed for the reeovery, disposal, and removal of their gooris aad effeets, and for thelr departure, the full the whieh is, or shall be stipulated hy any treaty, where any shall have been between the Uuited States nnd the hostile natiou or government, of whieh they shall be natives, citizuns, denizens, or aubjeets: and when no such treaty slaall hare exlsted, the - resideut of the Uaited Stntes may ascertain aud deelare such reasmahle time as may be eonslstent with the pulble safcty, and aecording to the dietates of humanlty and aatloual inospitnlity.
Sre. :. And be it furtier enacted. That nftei nay proelamation shall de made as aforesald, it shall be the duty $r$ ? the severul eourts of the Uuited States, aud of eaeh state, having eriminal jurisdiction, and of the several judges aud justiees of the courts of the United Statea, innl they shall be, and are herebr respectively, authorized upon complaint, aguiust auy alieu or alleu enemies, as aforesaid, who shall be resideat and at large within such jurlsfictlou or district. to the danger of the public peace or safety, and eontrary to the tenor or intent of sueh proclamatlon, or otier regulations whleh the Preaident of the United States shali and may estahlish tis the premises, to cause such allion or aliens to be drily apprehended and convened before such couts, judge or justice; snd after a full eiamination and hearing on sucis complaint, and sufficient cause therefor ap pearligg, ahall and may order such alien or ailens to be removed out of the territory of the United States, or to give such sureties for their good behaviour or behaviour, or to be otherwise restrained, conformahly to the proclamation or regulations Which shali or may be estahllshed as afnresald, and may imprison, or otherwise secure such alien or aliens, untii the order which shall and may be made, as aforesadd, shall be performed. Sec. 8. And be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of the marshai of the dis. trict in which any alien enemy shall be ap. prehended, who by the President of the United States, or hy the order of any court, judge or justice, as aforesaid, shall be required to depart, and to be removed, as aforesaid, to provide therefor, and to execute such order, by himself or his deputy, or other discreet person or persons to he employed hy him, hy caus. ing a removal of such alicn out of the territoiy of the Unlted States; and for such removal the marshal shall have the warrant of the President of the United States, or of the court, judgc or justice ordering the same, as the case may be.
Approved, July 6, 1798."-Statutes at Large of the United States, ed of 1850, Vol. I., p.
Si7. 577.

The text of the Selition Act is as follows:
Jery 14, 1788. Chap. Ixriv.-"An Act in addition to the act, entitled 'An Aet for the addilon to the act, entitled 'An Aet for thic Sunlshment of certain crimes against the United Section 1 . Be it enacted by the Scnate and House of Representatives of the Unitcd States of America, in Congress assembled, That if any persons shall unla wfuliy comhine or consplre together, wlth lntent to oppose any measure or measures of the government of the United States, which are or shall be directed hy proper authority, or to impede the operation of any law of the United States, or to intimidatc or prevent any person holdir's a place or officc in or under the governmen © the Unitcd States, from undertaklag, perfor. ig or executing, his trust or duty; and if any person or persons, with lntent as aforesaid, shall counsei, advise or attempt to procuro any insurrection, riot, unlawful assembly, or comhinatlon, whether such consplracy, threatening, counsel, advicc, or attcmpt shall have the proposed effect or not. he or they shall be deemed guilty of a high misdemeanor, and on convictlon before any court of the Unitcd States having jurisdiction thercof, shall be puntshed hy a fine not excceding five thou ind dollars and hy lmprisonment during a term not iess than slx months nor excceding five years; and further at the dlscretion of the court may be holden to find suretles for his good hehavior ln such sum, and for such time, as the said court may direct.
Sec. 2. And he it further enacted, That if any person shall write, print, utter, or puhlish, or shall cause or procure to be written, printed, uttered or puhlished or shadl knowingly and wlllingly assist or aid in writlng, printing, uttering or puhlishling any false, scandalous and ma.
iicious writing or writinge againat the goverp .nent of the United States, or either house of the Congress of the United States, or the Prealde:: of the United States, with intent tu defarse the said goverament, or either house of tue suld Congrens, or the anid President, or to br ng them or elther of them, into contempt or i isrepute: or to excite against them, or either, or say oi them, the hatred of the good people of the Unlted States, or to stir up sedithon withln the United States, or to excite any unlawful combl. nat.ons therein, for opposing or resisting any law of the United $S_{\text {, ites, or any act of } U}$ Pr Preaident of the Unl ed States, and one in pur. suance of any such law or of the por suance of any such law, or of the powers in blm vested by the constitution vested by the constitution of the Culted State, or to resist, oppose or dcfcat any sueh las or act, or to aid, signs of any foreign nation against the ''inted signs of any fore.gn nation against the Lnted States, their people or government, then such per person, weing thereot sonvicted before any court of the Uxitc. States having jurisdiction thereof, shall be pinished hy a fine not exceeding tro thousand liollars, and hy imprisonneat not es. ceeding two years.
Sec. 8. And be it further enacted sod de. clared, That if any person shall ho prosecuted under this act, for thic writing or publisising any lihel aforesaid, It shall he lawful for the defend ant, upon the trial of th - cause, to glve in eff dence ln his defonce. tha truth of the in metter contained la the pubilication clarged as a libel And the jury who shall try the cause, shall hare a right to determine the law and the faet, under the directlon of the conrt, as in other esses.
Sec. 4. And be it firther enaeted, That thls act shall continuc and be in force until the third day of March, one thousand eight hua dred and one, and no longer: I'rovided that the explration of the act shail not prevent or defeat a prosecution and punishment of any offence against the law, during the time it shall be in forcc. Approved July 14,1798 ,"
"There has becn a general effort on the part of hographers to clear their respeetive heroes from all responsihility for these ill-fated meas. ures. The truth is, that they had the full sup. port of the congressmen and senators who passed them, of the Presldent who slgned titem, and ol ail the leaders ln the states, who almost sll belicved in them; and they also met with very gcncal al acceptance by the party in the North Hamllton went as ar in the diction Hamllton went as far in the directlon of sustain. ing the priuciple of these laws as any one He had too acute a mind to belleve with any of the staunch Federallst divincs of New Eugland, that Jefferson and Madison were Marats and Robespierrcs, and that thcir foliowers were Jacohins who, when they camc to power, were ready for the overthrow of religion and societr. and were prepared to sct up a guillotine and pour out hlood in the waste places of the federal city. But he did believe, and sc wrote to Wish. lagton, after the appearance of the $\boldsymbol{X}$. $\mathbf{Y}, \mathrm{Z}$. letters that there was a party in the country really to 'new model' the constitution on French pita clples, to form an offcnsive and defenslre sllif. anse with France, and make the Unitell States a French province. Hc felt, ln short. that there was a party in America ready for contiseation and soclal confusion. A ycar latcr, in 1699 he wrote to Dayton, the Wrote to Dayton, the speaker of the natimal House of Representatives, a long letter in which nst the goven. her house of the or the Presidpe: to defarse the 180 of ine nald r to br ag them t or i isrepute; It her, or any of people of the tion wlehln the niawfui combl. - resiating any iny act of $t$ nd one in pur. powers in him Culted Statem y such isw of any hostlie de. ast the Entted at, then such fore sny court Iction thereof, exceeding tro inent not es.
cted sad deoo pissecuted nbliching any or the defend. 0 give in ets. of the motter ed as a libel se, siall hare ic fact, under er cases. nacted, Tuat roce until the 1 eight bunlied that the ent or defeat any offence shall be in on the part ctive herots 1-fated meas. le full supwho passed titm, and of linost sll be. $t$ with very the North n of sustain. y one. He th cany of w Eugland, Marats sod owers were ower, were nil society, illotine and the federal te to WasbI. Z. letten y rearly to ench pion enslve sllii efl States a that there cation and 1799, be ne intional $r$ in whlch be set forth rery clearly the policy which he felt ought to be purnued. He wiohed to give atreugth to the government, and fncrease centralization hy every means, by an extension of the nstional judlclary, a iiberal system of interai inprovements, an increased and shundant revenue, an eniargement of the army and navy, remanence in the laws for the voiunteer army, extension of the powers of the general goverament, subdlrision of the States as soon as practicable and finally a strong sedition law, and the power to banish aliens. This ras what was termed at that day a 'strong and spirited ' poiicy: it weuid now be cailiorl repressive, hut hy whatever name it is designated, it was the policy of IIamilton, and is characteristic of both his taicnts and temperament. Except as to the subdlvision of States, it was carried out nritty thoroughly in II its msin features by the Federaiists. The allen and sedition laws, nlthough resisted in Congress, did not much affect public opinion at the ele inas which immediately ensued, and the Federaists came into the next Congreas with a large majority."-H. C. Lodge, Alexander Ilamilfon, ch. 9.-"The different portlons of the country were affected according to the dominant political opinion. Where the Federalista were atrong pointical feeling bore them hea liong lnto prosecutions under the new powers. In the Repulblicsn States a sense of injury and danger went havd in hand, and the questlon of the heur whs low to repei the threatening destruction. Jir. Jefferson did not rall to see that the grest opportunity for his party had cone. Ills seen political sagacity detected in an instant the fatai mistake the admlnistration bial made, and ite hegan at once to look about him for the best means to turn hls opponenta' mistake to nis own advanta e. Naturally he felt some delicacy in appesring too forward in assailing a government of which he himself was the second ir offce. Neverticiess ise lent himseif willinglv to the task of erganlzing, in a quitet way, a systemstic assault upon these laws of Congress, and at once opened a correspondence calculated to elicit the best judgment of his coadjutors and gradually trew out a programme of action. Virginis was hy no means unanimous in reprobsting these laws. She had a large and influential boly of Feterallsts. . . . But the influence of Jefferson was paramount and the result of Jeffirsonian principles soon appeared on every hand. Mectings were heid in many of the counties upon their county court days at which were sdopted adiresses or series of resolutions condemning or praying fer the repeai of these laws.

New Yerk, New Jersey, and Pennsyivania sent petitions of appeal to Congress. . . . But it was in Kentucky thst the greatest resistance was eroked. The feeling in that State was, indeed, little short of frenzy, and a slngular unanimity was displayed even ln the most extreme scts sad sentiments. Thls grew out of no passing passion. It was based upon the most rigorous elements In her character as a peopic. Kentucky was at thls tlme somewhat apart from the rest of the Union. ... Her compiainta, just and unjust, had been many, hut hitherto she had not galned the nation's ear. But the time wss now ripe for her to assert her-seif."-E. D. Warfleid, The Kentucky Resolu. tione nf 1708 , ch. 1.-The famous Kentuck - esolutions, substantiaily drafted by Jeffer, es. as he acknowledged iffcen yeary afterwards, but Introduced In the Legisiature of Kentucky hy John Breckenridge, on the 8th of November. 1798, were adopted by that body, in the lowes branch on the 10th and In the upper on the 13th. Approved by the Governor on the 16th, they wero immedlately printed and coples oficially acnt to every other state and to members of Congreas They were as foliows:
"I. Resolved, that the several states composing the Unlted States of America, are not united on the principie of unlimited suhmisaion to their Ceneral Government; hut that hy compact under the styie and titie of a Constitutlou for the United States and of amendments thereto, they constltuted a General Government for spe. cial purposis, delegated to that 'Sovernment certain definite powers, reserv'ag each state to ltself, the reaiduary mass of right to their own seif Gurernment; and that whensoever the General Government assumes undelegated powers, its acts are unauthoritatlve, vold, and arc of no force: That to this compa it each state acceded as a state, and is an lntegial party, its co-states forming as to itseif, the (ther party: That the Goverument created by ihis compact was not made the exclusive or fnai judge of the extent of the powers delegated to itseif; since that would have matie its discretion, and not the constitution, the measure of its powers; hut that as in all other cases oi compact among parties havlng no common judge, each party hus an equal rlglit to judge for itself, as weil of infractions as of the mode und measure of redress.
II. Resoived, that th. Custitution of the United States having deleguted to Congress a power to punlsh treason, counterfeitlig the securities and current coin of the United Stateq, plracies and felonies committed on the lligh Seas, and offences against the iaws of nations, and no other $\mathrm{cr}^{\circ}$ es whatever, and it being trun as a genoral pri alple, and ohe of the an aiments to the Constltution having also deel.red, 'that the powers not deiegated to the United - ates by the Constitution, nor proinibited by lt to the states, are reserved to the states respectlvely, or to the people,' therefore aiso the same act of Congress passed on the 14th day of Juiy, 1798, and entitied ' In act lis addition to the sct entitled an act fer the punishment of certaln crimes against the U'ilted States;' as aiso the act passed by them on the 27th of June, 1798, entitied, An aet to pinlsh fruds commltted on the Bank of the United States' (and all other thelr acta which assume to create, define, or pinish crimes other than those enumerated in the constitution) are altogether vold and of no force, and that this pericr to create, deflac. nad punlsi such ether crimes ls reserved, and of right appertalns solely and exclusively to the respective states cacin wlthin its own Territory.
III. Resolved, that it is truo ss a general priuclple, and is also expressiy declared by onc of the amendments to the Constitution that the powers not delegated to the United Stutes hy the Constitution, nor prohibited hy lt to the states, nre reserved to the states respectively or to the people;' and that no power over the freedom of reigion, freedom of speech, or freedom of the press heing deiegated to the United States by the Constltution, nor prohibited by it to the states, all lawful powers respecting the same did of right remain, and were reserved to the states, or to the people: That thus was manlfested their determination to retaln to themeelves the right of judging how far the llceatlousne of speech and of the preas muy be ahridged wlthout les ening their useful freedom, and how far those abusen whlch cannot be meparated from thelr use, ahouid be tolerated, rather than the use be deatroyed; and thus aiso they guaried agalast ail ahringment hy the United States of the freedom of religlous oplnlons and exerclses, and retalned to themselves the right of protectlng the same, as thls state by a Law passed on the general de. mand of lta Citizens, had already protected them from ail human restralnt or luterference; and that $\ln$ addition to thls general princlpie and express declaratlon, anotiner and more apecial provlsion has been made hy one of the amendments to the Constltutlon which expressly deciares that Congress shail make no law respectlng an Establisiment of rel:orn, or prohlhlting the free exerclse thereof, or abridglng the freedom of speech, or of the press, thereby guarding $\ln$ the zame sentence, and under tice same words, the freedom of reilglon, of speech, and of the press, insomuch, that whatever vlolates elther, throws down the sanctuary whlch covers the others, and that libeis, falseboods, and defamation, equaily wlth heresy and false rellgion, are withheld from the cognlzance of federal tribunais. That there. fore the act of the Congress of the Unlted States passed on the 14th day of July, 1798, entitled An act ln addition to the act for the punlsh. ment of certain crimes agnlast the United Siates, ' whlch does abridge the frcedom of the press, is not law, but is aitogether vold and of no effect.

UNITED ETATES, 1708.  Rentuchy Resolutione.  UNITED STATES, 1798.

IV. Resolved, that ailen friends are under the jurisdlction and protection of the laws of the state whercln they are; that no power over them has been delegated to the United States, nor prohlhited to the ladividual states distinet from their power over cltizens; and lt belng true as a general priaciple, and one of the amendments to the Constitution having aiso deciared, that the powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution nor prohiblted by It to the states are reserved to the states respectively or to the pcopic,' the act of the Congress of the Cnited States passed on the 22d day of Junc, 1798, entlitied 'An act coneernlng aliens,' which assumes power over alien fricnds not delegated by the Constitution, is not luw, but ls altogether void and of no foree.
V. lesoived, that $\ln$ addition to the general princlpie as well as the express declaratlon, that powers not deiegated are reserved, another and more special provision lnserted ln the Constltu. tion from noundant cautlon has declared, 'that the migratlon or lmportatlon of sueh persons as any of the states now existing shali think proper to admit, siall not be prohihited hy the Congress prior to the year 1808.' That thls Commonweaitil does admit tine mlgration of aiien friends described as the subject of the sald aet conecrn ing ailens; that a provlsion against prohiblting their migration, ls a provislon agalnst ali acts equivalent thereto, or it would be nugatory ; that to remove them when migrated is equivalent to a prohlbitlon of thelr migratlon, and is thercfore contrary to the said provision of the Constltutlon, ard void.
VI. Iesolved, that the lmprisonment of a person under the protcctlon of the Laws of thls

Commonwealth on hil faliure to obey the stm order of the Prealdent to depart out of Unlted Statem, as la undertaken by the sald entltied 'An act concerning allens,' is contr to the Constltution, one amendment $\omega$ which provided, that ' no person sinall be diej, 'vei Ilberty wlthout due jrocem of law, auc another having provided 'that In ali crimi prosecutions the accused shail enjoy the righ: a puhllc trlal by an lmpartial Jnry, to le formed of the antire and cause of the accu tlon, to be confronted wlith the wlinewse aguit him, to have compulsory process for obtaini Wltneases In his favour, and to have the axsistan of counsel for hls defence, 'the same act und taklng to authorize tike President to rinore person out of the Cnited States whols umpre protectlon of the Law, on hls own suspicle withont accusation, wlthout jury, wlthout pu lic trial, without confiontation of tibe witmese against hin, wlthout iaving wituesse's in his vonr, wlthout defence, wlthout eommsil, is co trary to these provisions aiso of the Consitution is therefore not iaw hut utteriy vold mui of force. That transferriug the pewce of judigin any person who ls under the protection of ti laws, from the Cours to the Prestient of th Unlted Stances as is undertaken ly tile same a concernlng Ailens, 1s against the nitiede of Constltution whlch provides, that 'the" juifict power of the Urited States shaill be wsted Courts, the Judges of whileh, shanl hatid thei offiees during gool beha vlour,' and thut the soil act ls vold for that rruson also; anif it is furthe to he noted, that this transfer of Juciciciry pewern Is to that nagistrate of the Gencrai Gievinumen Who already possesses all the Exccutive, nend quailfied negative $\ln$ ali the Legislative poner VII. Resoived, thn the eonstruction applied by the General Government (as is csincerd bs sundry of thelr proceedings) to tiose purts of the Constintion of the Cnited States wilch delctite to Congress a power to lay and collut tates, dutes, imposts, and exclses; to pay the deltis, and provide for the common defence, and pen eral weifare of the United stultes, und to miahe ail laws which shanll be neeessary und proper for earrylng into execution the powers vesteld ly the Constitution $\ln$ the Governnient of the Cinited States, or any departinent thereof, gues to the destruction of all the limits prescribed to their power by the Constltutlon - Thut worls meant hy that instrument to be subsiduary oniy to the exeeution of the limited powicrs, ouyht not to be so construed as themselves to clve uuliniired powers, nor a part so to be takch, as to detmy the whole residue of the instrument: That thie proceedings of the Gencrai Govermment uvder colour of these articles, wifi be a fit and neceewry subjeet for revisai and eorrection at a time of grenter tranquility, winile tillose specifiet in the preceding resolutions call for inmuetiate redress
VIII Resoived, that the preceding Resolla. tions be transmitted to the Senators aud ilepresentatives In Congress from this Conumouncealh, who are herely enjoined to present the same to their respective Ilouses, and to use the best endeavours to procure at the next session of Con. gress, a repeal of the aforesaid unconstitutional and obnoxlons aets.
IX. Hesulved lastly, that tite Goveract of

UNITED STATES, 1798.

obey the aimple part nut of the hy the said act iens, ' is contmry aent to wiich fins be dep, 'ved of law,' Has that in ali rrimia njoy the right to Jury, to le in. nf the accuse. witnewar: againet ese for oltuining ave the rasistance same uet undep. ant to renore who is moler the own suspicion, y, withont pub of tice whenessed torswes $\ln$ his fa. coumsel, is cob. he Constitutlon, void und of ao wor of jutging rotection of the reskient of the by ther same act ce maticie of the at ' the judich! ail be orsted in hull hold their nd that the suid andi it is further uiiciary powers тыl Govi rumeut xerutive, and a ishative power. rnetion applied Is evheced by ose purts of the which iflolegate I coilhet taxes, puy the debts, cuce, and gea. gul to nuike ind jerojer for os vesited ly the of the Luted f. goes to the cribed to tieir t woris meant ry only to the aght not to be give unliunted as to destryy nt: That the rnusent under mul necessiry in at a time e sperified in for immediate ding Resolu. an atui lepremumou wealth, $t$ the sanie to the best enssion of Coa. coustitutionsl and requested to communlcate the preceding Resoiations to the Legislature of the several States to asaure them that this Commonwealth considers Union for sjecitted National purposes, and particuiariy for those apecitled in their late federal compuct, to he friendiy to the peace, happiness, sud prosiverity of all the states: that falthfal th that cnunpact, according to the plaln intent and meuning iu whici It was understood and screded to by the several partles, It is sincercly anxiuus for its preservation: that it dees aiso believe, that to take from the states ail the jowers of self government, and tranafer them to a general and consolldiated Government, wlthout regard to the special deiegations and reserva. tions solemuly ngrec d to in that compact, is not for the pence, happiness, or prosperity of these states: Ami that therefore, this Commonweaith is determineri, as it douhts not its Co.states are, tnmeiy to submit to andelegated and consequently unlimited powers $\ln$ no man or ingiy of mea on earth: that if the nets before speeltied shoutil stand, these conclusions would flow from them: that the General Government may plnce any uet they think proper on the list of crimes and muish it themseives, whether enumernted or aot - numerated by the Constitation ns cogni2able hy them; that they mny transfer its cognizance ti the l'resident or any other persom, who may himoll be the accuser, coumsel, julge, ami jury, whose suspleions may be the evidenee, his order the sintence, his afticer the executiouer, and his brenst the sole record of the trunsaction: that avery numerons and valaahic deserlption of the iuhabitants of these states, helng by this preced.ant reduced as outiaws to the absolute dominion of one man ault the barrier of the Constitution thus swept awiy from us uii, no rampurt now remains against the passlons and the power of a majority of Congress, to protect from s like exportation or other more grievoas punishment the minorlty of the same buiy, the Legislatures, Judges, Governors, nni Connsellors of the states, nor their other praceabie inhabltaats who may venture to reclnim the constitutional riguts and libertles of the states and people, or who for other caases, good nr bad, may le obnoxious to the riews or marked by the suspicions of the l'reshlent, or be thought dangerous to his or their electlons or other interests public or personnl: that the friendless alien lins indeed been seiectedi as the safest subject of a first experiment: but the citizen wlil soon follow, or rather inas already foifowed; for alreaciy hns a Selition Act marked him as lis prey: thnt these ani sucecssive acts of the same character, unless arrested on the threshold, may tend to drive these states into revolution and hioor, and will furnish new calumnies against Repubiiean Governments, nul new pretexts for those who wish it to be beiieved that man cannot be governed but iy a roll of iron: that it would be a dane rous ificiusion were a confldence in the neu of 0 r choice to silence our fears for the salety of mur rights: that eonflence is everywhere the parent of despotism: free government is founded in jeaiousy and not in contidence; it is jenlonsy and not contidience which prescribes limited Con stitutions to bind down those whom we are wiliged to trust with power: that our Constitu. tion ins accoralngiy fixell the iimits to which hai no furtier onr contidence may go; and let the honest adrocate of confidence read the Alien and Sedition Acts, and may If the Conatitution has not been wise in Axing Itmits to the Govern. ment it created, and whether we should be wlao in destroying those limite? Let him asy what the Government is If it be not a tyranny, which the men of our choice have conferred on the Preshlent, and the President of our choice has amented to and accepted over the iriendly strangers, to whom the mild epirit of our Country and its la wi had pledged hospltality and protec. tion: that the men of our choice liave more respected the hare suspiclons of the l'resident than the solld rigits of innocence, the claims of justi. flention, the sacred force of truth, and the forma and suisistance of law and justlce. In questlons of power then let no more be heard of contldence in mun, but hind lim down from mischief hy the chulns of the Cnastitution. That this Commonwealth does therefore cail on ite Co-states for an expresslon of their sentiments on the acts concerning Aliens, and for the punishment of certain crimes hereinbefore speclfied, plainiy deciuring whether these acts aro or are not anthorized hy the Federal Compact 8 And it dnubts not that their sense wili be so announced as to prnve tineir attachment unaltereif to limited Government, whether general or particuiar, and that the rigits and ilfertien of their Cosstates will be exposed to no dunger: hy reunaining emburked on a common bottom wlth thelr own: That they wili concur with this Coinmonwealth In considering the said acts so paipnhiy against the Constitution as to nmount to an undisguised declaration, that the compact is not meant to be the micasure of the powers of the Generai Government, but that it will proceed in the excreise over these states of all powers whntsoever: That tiney wili vicw this as seizing the rlgitts of the states and consolidating them ia the finnds of the Generai Government with a power assumed to hlrd the states (not merely in cases made federai) out ln ali ciseg whitsoevcr, by laws made, not with their cousent, but by others aguinst their consent: That tills would he to sarrender the form of Govermnent we have chosen, and to live under one deriving lts powers from lts own wlii, and not from our authnrity; and that the Co-states rccurring to their nnturnl right In cases ant made fericrai, wiii concur in declaring these acts roll and of no torce, and wlli each unite with this Commonweaith in requesting thelr repcal nt ti.e next session of Congress."

In the month foliowing this declaration from Kentucky, on the 21st of December, Virglala atfirmed substantially the same threatening doc. trinc, more temperately nnd cautiously set forth In resolutions drawn hy Madison as follows:
"Resolved, that the Genernl Assembiy of Virglnia doth unequlrocaliy express a firm resolution to maintain and? defend the constitution of the United States, and the constitution of this state against every aggression, either foreign or donestic, nud that they will support the government of the Enited States in all measures warranted by the former.

That this Assemhly most solemnly declares a warm ittachunent to the union of the states, to maintain willeh, it pledges all its powers; and that for thls end it is their duty to watch over and oppose every infraction of those princlpies Which constitute the only hasls of that union, because a falthful observance of them can alone secure its existence, and the puhlic happlness.

UNITED 8TATES, 1798.

Resolutiont.

UNITED ETATES, 1786.

That this Asembiy doth explictly and peremptorily dechare that it views the powers of the Federnl Government, as resulting from the compact, to which the states are partles; as fimitid by the piain sense and intention of the inatru. ment conatituting that compact; as no farther valid than they are authorized by the granta enumerated in that compact, and that in case of deliberate, palpahie and dangerous exercise of other powers not granted hy the maid compact, the atates who are partie: thereto have the right, and are in duty bound to interpose for arreating the progress of the evil, and for maintaining within their respective limits, the authorities, rights and iiberties appertaining to them.
That the General Assembly doth aleo express its deep regret that a spirit han in sundry in. atances, been manifested by the Federai Government, to eniarge its powern by forced construc thons of the constitutional charter which defince them; and that indications inve appeared of a design to expound certain genera) phrases (which having been copied from the very limited grant of powers in the former articies of confederation were the less ilahle to be misconstrued), so as to destroy the meaning and effect of the particular enumeration, which neceasarily explains and limits the general phrases; and so as to consolidate the states hy degrees into one sovereignty, the ohvious tendency and inevitable consequence of Which wouid be to transform the present repuhiican system of the United States into an absolute, or at best a mixed monarchy.
That the General Assemhiy doth particuiarly protest against the paipalic and a larming iniractions of the Constitution, in the two iate cases of the 'Alien and sedition Acts,' passed at the last session of Congress, the first of which cyercises a power nowhere delegated to the Federal Government; and which hy uniting legisiative and judicial powera to those of executive, sulhverts the gencral principles of free government, an well as the particular orgauization and positive provisions of the feleral constitution: and the other of which acts, exercises in ilike manner a power not delegated by the constitution, hut on the contrary expressly and positively forbidden hy one of the amendments thereto; a power which more timn any other ought to produce universai aiarin, because it is levelied against the right of freely examining public characters and measures, and of free communication among the peopie thereon, which has ever been justiy deemed the only effectual guardian of every other right.
That this state having by its convention which rstifled the federal constitution, expressiy declared, 'that among other essential rights, the liherty of conscience and of the press cannot be cancelled, ahridged, restrained or modifled by any authority of the United States,' and from ita extreme anxiety to guard these rights from every posisibie attack of sophistry or ambition, having with other states recommended an amend ment for that purpose, which amendment was in due time annexed to the constitution, it would mark a reproaehfui inconsistency and criminai degeneracy, if an indifference were now shown to the most palpahie violation of one of the righte thus declared and secured, and to the estabilishment of a precedent which mas be fatal to the othes.

That the good people of this commenwealt having ever feit and contlauing to feel the mow sincere affection to their brethren of the other ataten, the truest anxiety for entablishing and serpetuating the union of all, and the moo acrupuious adelity to that conatitution which is the piedge of mutuai friendship, and the inatru. ment of mutuai happinens: The Generai Asem. biy doth solemniy appeal to the like disposithons of the other states, in conddence thas they will concur with this conmonwealth in declatig, as It does hereby deciare, that the acts aforesuld are unconstitutional, and that the necessary and proper measures wili be taken by each for cooperating with this state, in maintaining unim operating with this state, in maintaining unim. paired the authorities, rights, and ilikertes, re.
served to the atates rezpectively, or to the people.
That the Governor be desird to transmit. copy of the foregoing resolutions to the executire authority of each of the other states, with s request, that the same may be communicated to the legislature thereof

And that a copy be furnished to esch of the Senators and Representatives, representlog this atate in the Congress of the United States.

In iater years, after Ca ilhoun and his achooi had pushed tivese doctrines to their iogieai conclusion Madison shrank from the result, and ewdespored to disown the apparent meaning of what Jeflep. son had written and he had seemed to endorse to 1788. Ile denounced Nuliifcation and Secession as "twin heresies," and denied that they wera contained or implied in the resolutions of 1:88either those adopted in Kentucky or the responsive ones written by himself for the icgislature of Virginia. The Kentucky Resolutions of 1 ;is were followed in 1790 hy another series, in willeb the right of a sovereign State to nullify obnovious laws of the Federal Government was no longer asserted iny implication, hut was pur into plin terms-as foliows: "That the principle sud construetion, conteuded for by sundry of the state legisiatures, that the general government is the exciusivo judge of the extent of the powers dele. gated to it, stop not short of despotism,- - ince the discretion of those who administer the gor. ernment, and not the Constitution, would be the measure of their powers: That the several states who formed that instrument, being soverelgn and independent, have the unquestionable right to judge of the infraetion; and, That a millitication by those sovereignties, of ali unauthorized acts done under color of that instrument, is the right: ful remedy." It was Mr. Madison's deslre to cast on these resolutions of 1790 , with which Jefferson had nothing to do, the odium of the nullif. cation doctrine, and to remove the stigms from the resolutions of 1798 , in which the worl "nuilification" makes no appearanee; "nelher that," pieaded Madison. "nor any equiralent terin." But, when Madison made this ples, in 1830, " it was not then generally known, whether Mr. Madison knew it or not, that one of the resolutions and part of another which Jefferson wrote to be offered in the Kentucky legisliture in 1788 were omitted hy Mr. Nicholas [to whom Mr. Jeflerson had entrusted them], snd that thereln was the assertion . . 'where powen all nssumed which have not been delegated, nuil feation of the act is the rightfui remedy. The next ycar, when alditlonal resulutions were offered hy Mr. Breckenridge, this idea in cimillar, though not in precisely the same langusge, wis

UNITED BTATES, 179\%. Tronch Spotiation UNITED ETATES, 1800.
presented [at quoterl above]
In 1432, this lact, on the suthorlty of Jefrerson's granden and executor, wns nande publice; and further. that another declaration of Mr. deffermon's in the remolution aot used was an exhortation to the co-Staten, 'that each will take menaures of its own for providing that neither theme actur nor any others of the gencral government, not jlainly and intentonally autiorized hy the Constitution, shall be exerclsed wilinin thefr reapective terri torics.'"-s. 1I. Giay, dumen Mudinon, eh. 15. "The pulllication of the Kentucky resolutlons whs Instantiy followerl by a new crop of remonstranees and petition from the people. Such memorials as reacheel the llonse were sent tin a committee, who, late in Fclirunry, reported. . . . The report clomel with thrie resplutions, and these were: that lt was not in the laterest of the public good to repeal elther the Allen law, or the sedition Law, or any of the laws respecting tife army, the navy, of the revenue of the Cinted states. On the twenty fifth of February, the llouse belng in Committee of the I. aste, the three resolutions were taken up one hy oue" and adopted. "The Ilonse then atmeet to the action of the committee on ench of the threve resolutlons. The Federal party wit. now at the helght of Its prospcrity and power. it controlled the Senate. It controiled thit Hoase. Outwardiy It was great and powerful. bat within that dispute inui begun which, in : few short months, drove l'iekering and M'llenry from the Cuhinct, spitit the purty In twain, nuil gave to the comintry the strange speetacie of stameli and earnest Fecierallsts wrangling and comtenilng and overwhelming cach other with Bhtee. - -I. B. MeMaster, A Ilistory of the L'nit, d Satia, eh. 11 (r. 2).
Alall is: II. N. Randali, Life of Jefferwor, r. 2, sh 8.-.J. Madison, Iliork, r. 4.-T. Jeffirson Wurkw. г. 7. p. 209: and r. 8, pp. 484-471.-11
 pi. 14, - J. T. Morse, Liff of llamilton, $\boldsymbol{r}$. z, ch. $B$
A. D. 1799. - The Deaih nf Washingtan.A great sormw fell upon the country, with a shock of surprise, in the last montio of the year Wrahington was stricken with a suddenly fatil disease, and died after an illness of two days. 1. the 12th of December he seemed to he li purfere bealth, but exposed himseif to a cold nuin that day, in a long ride about his cstate. The next day be had a sllgitt sore thront. and in the night he suffered ditlleulsy in breationg, which foilowed a severe chili. Phystelans were called on the morning of the 14 th, who ined him copi. mixdy. acromilng to the melleai practiec of that day: "ifs struggle fer hreath $i$. "reasell stembily, anil he know that it meant $d$. 1 , factarg the prospect with gre. 'cuimness and homphefully arranging his uffurs. He was conscious to the end, which came abont ten wiclock that night. It is now uaderstorsi that Wishington's discease (which the physirians then called (pninsy) was That is known is acute oedennatous laryngitis, Thith micht have been overconne by an operation of trachentomy. - II. C. Lodge, George ilitehkington. r. 2. rh. 6.
A. D, 1800.- I he conventinn with France snd the French Spoliation Claims incident tn it. - "In the Instruetlons to the Anverican envors in framen thre hati been directed to, secure a claims commission, the ahmgation of the former treaties, and the abolltion of the gnarautee of 1778, an it was called, contained in Articie XI of the Treaty if Allance of that year, and eover. Ing 'the ement pomemoions af the Crown af France in Americn, an well as thoce whicit it may acquire by the future treaty of peace.: Upon nose of these pointa were the envoyanable in carry mut thelr lantructiona. In refereace to clalma, a diatinction, which was anally embodited In the treaty, wan drawn hy the French govern. ment between twa claterea of clains: nrst, debto dine from the Frencit goverament in Ameriean clizena for supplies firnished, or prizes whose reaterntion had been decreed by the courts; and secondiy, Indemnitien for prizes alleged to have been wrongfuliy condemned. The treaty pro vided tinat the arat clasa, known as debte, shonld be paid, but excluded the seconil. or indemnity clasa. In reference to the indemnity cialma, and to the questions involved in the old treaties, in cluding, of comrse, the guarantce of 1758 , as the envoys were hut able ti come to an agreement. the treaty feclared that the negotiation wan port. poned. The Senate of the United Staten ex pungel this latter article, Inserting in its place clause providing for the duration of the presen. conventlon; and this amendident was accepted by the Freach governneent, witi the provisa that both governinents should renomee the pretensious which were the object of the original article. To this the Senate aiso agreed, and upon this hasls the conveution was tinaliy rati. fed. It thus appears that the Unltcd States sur. readered the cialms of lis citizens against Franee for wrongful selzures, in returu for the smp. render by France of whatever cham it might have had arainst the Culted States for the latter's failure to fulfil the oblgatlons assmmed ln the carier treatios [especially the guaranty of the possesslons of France In America, which was undertaken in the treaty of 1 Fi 8 s ]. The $i$ nateri States, therefore, having receiwel a considera tion for its refusal to prosceute blue chalms of its eitizens, thereby took the place, with respect to the clamants, of the Freach govermment, and virtually assumed the obligations of the hitter.

The claims for Indeninity thas devolving upon the United States, known us the French Spoliation Claims, have hern from that day to this the subject of frequent report and dlscus sion in Congress, bat wlth ao resilt until the passige of the act of Jan. 20, 1885. referring them to the Court of Claims. At the present thine (1888) they are undergofing judiclal examinatlon iefore that tribumal." - J. R. Soley, The Wars of the U, S, 1780-1850 (Varratite and Crie. ical Ifist. of Am.. r. 7, ch. 6; and ell'e fiout. note).

Also in: F. Wharton, Digust of the International Jate of the C. S., aect. 248 (r. 2, pp. 714 723) -D. Webster, liorike e. 4, pp. 152,-118.-T II. i3enton, Thirty Sears' Vicic, r. 1, ch. 117-120 -W: 1I. Seward, H1wkis, v. 1, pp. 182-155.Rep't of Sec. of State (U. S. \&nate. Ex. Doc. no. Tt and 102. 40 th Cong. 1 at eess.). -Spoliatious eom mittud hy the Freneh in the Revolutonary and Nupoiconic wars sulsequently to the year 1800 , were Indemnlfied under the provisions of the treaty for the Louisiana purchase (see Loutriana: A. D. 1798-1803); nuder the treaty with spain in 1819, and under a later treaty with France which was negotiated In Andrew Jacksen's most $\mathrm{i}:$ :n perative manner in 1831. These do not enter into what have become historicaliy speelalized as the Freach Spoliation Cla/mes.
A. D. 8 800. - The Eecend Cenove, - Total populatlon, 8 800,087, (an lacreace of siljghtly more than 85 per cect. blace 1790 ), clawed and dietributed as followi:

North.

South.

A. D. 1800-1801, - The Fourth Prealdenthal Election. - Presidency of Jefferson. "Allanss, whom Dr. Franklla aptly descrileel as always an lonest man, often a Wlace one, hut aometinues and lu wome thinga absolutely out of hls seuses,' was approachlug the end of his term as President, and public attention wus ahsurised lu the task of choossing a suceessor. . . . Al the thue of Adamas electlon, a sectlonal feeling, d.estlieed In the fitture to work so mueh evill, had alrealy beek developed; aul he in consequence receired from States somith of the Potonace but two ell tural votes. New York had given han her twelve, yet t'if entlre majorlty over hils comperItor :vas bu three In all the colleges. The natlonul partles were not unequully matelied in the State: and lt was evldent that, could las vote be diverted to Jefferson in the next contest, his Fictory would be assured. Hence, strenumas efforts were made to accomplish thls cnd, and for nomthssoclety was like a secthing caldron. The tronble with France line, for the montent. swelled the numbers of the Federalists, und closed up thelr ranks: but the caprlelous course of the President, and the violent disruption of the eabinet, rent them asunder, never to be re-unl ted. ., Durlng the Frencli excitement, it sremed almost certain that, after the lowal clecthon, they would have a majority in the new legislature, and thus retalu for thiclr candllate the dectoral vote of New York. Tbls pleaslug prospect was soon obsenred. When lis people foind Mr. Adans sternly enforelag the Seciltion Law, and exerelsing the power ft conferred la an unfecling mantur upon one of their most esteemed citzens [Julire Peek] they turned whth disguas from a party whideh tbey field responslble for lts enactment, as we!! as for this vlolent pronedure. The permanent macendency whicl the Republleana seemed to have acquired in ith metropolis had been wrested from thrm, In the apring of 1700 , by the unpopularity of a miratim of Burr's, alreads conapleuous lo the Sente of Burr's, alreadj conaplcuous lo the State un to unscrupulous polltical tactlelan. Ile hall heee a member of the acembly the precelligg yent and, under the pretence of supplylng pure and Wholesome water, olitained a clayrers whleh en. shled the corporotors to engage in Imanklog. Io consequence nt the feellige thlo arommed, be did not dare present himself agalo an a cnimilidet, but, with great cact and unwearient efforta, muc. ceeded in healling divisona lu lila party, and nomlanting a delegation for the amembly, whith embraced the lepulilicans mont emlinent for wealth, atailon, or family Influence. Gov. Clis. ton hesied the lint. wheh Bure had anticipat The remit followed Which Burr had antlecpated. The Ferlenal ma fority of the laat year was overcone, and te iork Clity seeured by the Itepublicain, glvag them control of the State. Adania nubseg girntif recelved but four electoral votea muthor Mary. lund, and Jeffereon became hls nilecemor. lifyr to whome untinigg exertlona thls great vletory was dne, was thereliy Inducted intu the office of Vice. Prealdent. At that there, the legghature appolnted the electore for the state; and the Repulilicans, then antlelpating a defent, had at a prevlous aesalon ailvocated that, for the future, these should be chosen dreetly by the propple is separate dlatricte, boplag thun to secure a aumb. cleat number to clect thelr Preshential cand dinte. The Federalsta, thlaklug their supremacy In the assembly assured, refusel! to support the plan. Now, however, when It bxcinur knowa that thelr ativerasrles had galneve a majortty iu the legislature on whels would devolve the duty of clowelag the electors. Hamilton adile seal a letter tu dov. day, auggesting thent the present boxly, Whase term wonld not explre Iefore July. should he agalu convened, lu oriler to mas a nuai ure which, when before propessed hy dir hipubl. caus, had becu denounced as uncumatimional Tay had too snuch regard for princlule we citep talin the lilea. After hils denth, the hetter was found antong lads papera, ex.dorsed, ' Propwing a measure for purty purposes which 1 thath it would not beeone bue wonlopt.' It lis related that a noted French duellist, when required to forglee his chemles before recelving absidation exclulured, 'My enemles? 1 have none. I have kllled them all!' Mr. Jefferson might have re sponded la the sanse manarer, the suirmw after the Presidential cleetion. To the one party, the result sremed like the brenklug op of un ive gorge -the barblager of apring. To the other it ap. peured as an avalanelue of Fronch principles, destructlve allke of rellglon and estahhished gov. ernment. Both were at fault. D'restlent deller son was quite as unable to dessroy the work of his preteressors as he was to depart from their pollicy of nentrallity. The Sedition und then Luws suon explred by Ilmitation: but the gread measure of the former adminlstrations were teo Whe, and had struck thelr roots tom drep lato the natlonal senthrent. to be sulde uly ores. turned. "-W. Wbltelock, Lifc and Timez of Jehn Juy, ch. 22. -In the Electoral college, Thomas Jefferson and Aaron Burr, both Demeratic Republlanas, recelved an equal numbite of wint (i8), and tee election was carried Into the 11 ruse of lepresentatlves, where Jeffersou was chosen

endency which arquired in tho murm, la tho try of a melirman the stute wn an Ile hail heen receding jeur, ying pure and reter whel en. $n$ banklug. la rouned, he did us a cmulididet, al efforts, auc. is party, and rembly, whid emlueat for e. Gov. Clla. ceult followed te Ferienal ma. ome, and Sem illimas, giving - subser uicatly wuth of Mary. cemor. Bur, grent vietury to the office of he: Ia.gislature tute ; and the defeat, had at for the future, the propple lu areure a sunt. deutial cand elr muliremacy (1) suly ${ }^{\text {kin }}$ it the cratur known a majortty it volve the duty 0 adderseed a t the proseat - In fore July (1) pansa meas. the R'pabll. vnstilutional. dive thenter. lie letter was 1, 1'ropxwing i'fl 1 think it It tis related requalred to 4 almwituta, cune. I lare hht have re. murrow after ue birty, the an ice gorge a other it ap. hy principlea, ablii. hued gor. shiemt Jelifer. - the work of irt from their n atad dien out the great inns were tho (en deep hito didealy orep. Times of John cge, Thomas nucratic lie- to the If:use was chooes Prealdent and Burr Vice Prosident. "Adams, wuaf to the heant by the election of Jefferwon, nfused to witneme the hateful spectacle if his woceemor's lagugurntion. He spent his last bourd in allige up vacancien to pince parronage out of Jeflermon's reacin: then he departed, the old order in lile person giving place with a frown udi s aluadiof to the new. Adanin dild not hato sonarchy, he thought that for England it wan good. In the oyes of Jeflemon mooarctiy wa the facurante splift of evil and to rdd mankind of it by exsmple was the mision of the Amert. can Republic. Every veatign of the haif mon. archical state which Washington hail retained was now banished from the I'resident's mansion and iffe, No more coaches-nad-aix, no more court drems, no more le veen. Aithnugh Jeffersoo did nut, as legend maya, shle to fils luangurathon snd the blit horse to the fence, he was toaugurated with an iftio ceremony as frasolbic. He recelved an ambumador in sllpperc dowre at the beef, and in the arrangement of fils donner partlea was mo deflant of the rulea oi atiquetie no tobreel trouble in the diplomatle circle. Yet with sil his outwand simplicity the Virgialan mafnate snd man nf letters, though he uilght be a Reprbilican, coutd not in himacif ise a true eun. budiment of democracy. He was the frlend oi the prople, but not one of them.

The deared day had come when the phifinsopher wan to govera. The worils of the address whileh Jeffer. win, unilike the demagogle sons of thander lu the prosent day, read in a very low volec, are the expreston by lts grent muster nad arehetype of the repubilican lifea which bus hitherto relgneif su. preme in the mind of tho A merlinan people. Titese words are inonumenta!, 'Equal and exict justice

- all unen, of whatever state or persuasion, relighous or prititcal; peace, commerce, unt honest friculship with ali nations, entangling alliances with none; the support of the State governments In all their rlghts, as tho most competent adnin. lstrathong for our domestic concerns und the aurest butwarks agalust anti republiean tendencles, the preservation of the general governmeut In lis whole coustitutional whour, nis the sheet. anclor of our peace at home und suffety nhroad ; s jextous anre of the right of clectlon by the Pteple; a mild and safe correction of nituses Whict are lupped by the sward of revolution Where $1^{\prime \prime}$ weahle remedtes are unprovidef; nbsufute acquareenee lu the dectsions of the majority. the whai priadple of republics, fros: which there is nos appeal bat to force, the vital prin. cl, en ami immedlate pareut of despotism; a welldisclplited militia, our best rellituce In peate aul for the tirst movenctes in war, till regulars may relieve them; the suprematy of the clvil over the military iathority; 'conomy in the public expethee, that mbour may be Hghtly hurdened: the houest payment of our frlits, nad sacel preservation of the public sulth; encoaragenetht of nericuture, and of commeree as lis handuatid, tiec diftusion of informathou, aul arnignment of all nbuse at the bar of pubille reason; frectom of religlon, freedom of the press, and freclom of person under the protection of the "habeas corpus," and trinl lig jurors linpartially selectet;-these privelples form the bright constellation which has pone before us ant guthed our steps through an age of revolution and refurmatiou.' Jetferson's wand was the pen. Yet le is struagely apt to fall hato mixed metaphors and even Into platitenlen. This ad. dreen has not eucaped crittclum. "— Onliwin 8 mith , The United Efitero, eh. 3.- "Jetiermon had reached the preadential chanls at a mont fortunate moment. . . The pirmapect of a apeetiy peace In Eiurope pmomisel ctectunl and perma. dent reflef from thowe serinus emburramments to which, during war on the ocean, Amerlemn commerce was ever expmed from the aggremione nf one or of all the leiligerents. The treaniry was fufier, the reveuue more shundant than at any prevlous perion. Commerce wan flourlalilug. and the pecunary promperity of the country very great. Ali the reapouslibity nf framing lnatitutlons, laying taxes, and providing for debts, lind fullen on the oustefi miminintrition. succeedling to the powers and the nieann of the Feteral government without sharing any of the unpopularity at the expense of whifeli they find been attained, und amhlithous nut mo nuch of $n$ mplendid as of a quiet and pr nulur adminiatsn. thon, the new prestident meenied to hava beforo film a very plalu andi cany patit. . . . Ta the olllices of Secretary of Etate, Secretary of the Treasury, aul Attorney General, teft vacant by the realguation of the in ee incumisents, defferson nominnted James Siadlena, ILeury learloru, and Levililurnia, the interer an enrly teader of the opposition In Massurhuselts. . . . As the Semite stoxi Ht present, atill contniuing. uss is dhl, if the memlers present $n$ majority of Ferferaiists, Jellerson dil not think proper ta make nuy further nominations; but, swonafter the alfourument, be appolnted as Secretary of the Trensury Alert Galatin, all along the thatichal member of the oppostthu. . . The Sary Dopartment. after belug refised by Chancellor I.fiugston, was given to fole ert Sulth, brother of the Baltimore member of Congress. Livingstim, hows. ever, having renched the age of sixty, and being olitged, under a (com: Ititional provislom, to Vacate the chmeerthorshlp of ...W York, consented to accept the emblassy to Frame Habersham was coutiaued an post- unaster- rencrai for some six monehs, . . . but he presemby gava way to Gifen Granger, a heath, of the Comeneticut Reprblle:ms. "-R. Alldieth, Mist. ag the' l', s.,
 - The first net if the new C'athinet was to "ach a geacraf umberstaming lit regeird th the $!$ : cets of the Administratho. These appar t., have beca two ouly la mumber reanction of debe and reduction of tixes, and the relation to tep preserved bet weeu them. "一II. Adams, life of Albert the hemis of the great departments of the gov: crnment were changed, nor was there any just reason t" romplata of this measture; as they formed anm: of his polltiest comell; and, as the chlef exccuive otlicer of govermment, he hal n perfeet right to seleet his contidentlai fricurds and advisers. But whennfterwintis, und within a few months, he removed able and upright men from ollices of a suberdiuate grale, his conduet was considered improperand arbitrary, aud as partuking some what of the 'right of pre rogathe', usunlly chalmed and exercised by royal prituces.

In his inaugaral address, Mr. Jelferson said, 'We trave galned fitte, if we encoarage a political !ntoleranee as wloked as impolitic. We are all brethren of the same prinelples; we are all republicaus, and all federalists.' Yet in less than fifty days he removed fourtecn fcderal oflcers, without any sllegation of unfaithfulness or lnefficiency: on the plea, Indeed, that his predecessor hisd removed two puhlle officers on account of thelr political opinions; and had ap polnted none to office in the goverament hut such as were of the same sentiments and views as the adminlatration. 'Few died, and none resigned, he said; and therefore, to equalize puhlic offices between the two great political parties, it was necessary, in his opinion, to remove a part of those then employed, and to appoint others more friendly to the new administration. For a very few of the removals there might have been suff. clent or justliable reasons offered; hut in most instances the changes were made merely for politlcal oplnions. "- A. 13radford, Hist. of the Federal Gov' $\ell, 1789-1839$, ch. 6.
A. D. 1801 .-Appointment of John Marshall to be Chief Justice of the Supreme Court.His Constitutional decisions.- On the 31st of Jannary, 1801, near the close of the term of President Adams, the latter appointed Johu Marshall, who had hecn Secretary of State ln hls cablnet slnce the previons May, to le Chlef Jistlce of the Supreme Court It was a memo. rahle appolntment, - the most memorable, perbaps, thut has ever hecn made by otllial und not popular selectlon, In America, slnce Wash. ington was appointed to the command of the continental army. Its result was to place the new, uninterpreted, plastic Constitution of the Federal Rejublic under the hands of a master. during thirt f four years of the period lu which It hardened into practical, determined law. It declded the chnracter of the Constltution, and hy that decision the great instrumeat was made a bond of natioandity, firm, strenuons and endirlng. "The abllities of the new Chief Justice were recognized by the profession and the pablic at the time of his appointment, but the attractive qualities of hls heart and his kinelly manners soou cansed respect and reverence to ripen into affection. Perlaps no American citizen except Washiagton ever conclliated so large a measure of popularity and public estecm. . In sur. veying the results of the lahors of thirt $y$ four veying the results of the lahors of thirty-four years recorded in thirty two volumes of reports, it is obvlous that it was ln the decision of eases in. volving lntermational and constitntional law that the force and clearncss of the Chief Jnstice's lntellcct shone must consplenoas. Such was the rady asscnt of his colleagnes on the bench to hls supremacy in the exposition of constitutional law, that in such canses a dissenting opiaion was almost unknown. Haring had oceasion to discuss and thoronghly study the Constitntion, loth la the Virglnia convention whlch alopted It and afterward in the legislature, he hidd preconceived opinions concerning it, as well as perfect fimiliarly with it. Butla the hot contes: waging between the friends of a strict aud those: of a liberal constraction of lts laagnage, he whised to lake no part. He stated that there shouhl he neither in liberal nor a strlet coastruction, but that the simple, natural, and asual meaning of its words nul phrases shonld govern their interpretutiou. In the case of Gibbons $v$. Ogden, in which he ls called upon to dethe the true rale of construction of the Cuited States Constitution regarling the rlghts of the States and the rights aad powers of the general gov. ernment, he sthdlously avoing each extrime, steeriug sufely in the middle course. IIe lays down his own rule thus clearly and definltely:-- This lastrument contains an enumeration of powers expressly grunted hy the people to their government. It has bren sald that thicse powers ought to he construed strictly; lut why ought they to be so construed? Is there one sentence in the Constltution which glves countenance to this rule ? In the last of the enumerated powers, that whleli grants exprcasly the means for carry. lng all others Into execution, Congress ls au. thorized to make all laws that shall he nucessary and proper for the purpose. I t thls linitution on the means whlch may be used is int extended to the powers which are conferred, nor in there one sentence In the Coustitution which has bera polnted out hy the gentlemen of the lor, for which we have been ahle to dlscern, that presiribes this rule. We do not therefore think ourselves justified in adopting it. If they contend only against that enlarged construction which wuid extend words beyond thelr natural and obvious import, we might quicstion the application of the term lut should not controvert the prlaciple. If they contcud for that narrow construction which, in support of some theory not to he fomm ia the Constlution, would deny to the gurernment those powers whieh the words of the grant, as usnally understoorl, lnyort, and which are con sistent with the gencral views and ohjects of the instrument ; for that narrow constructinn ahich wonld cripple the government, and rember it unequal to the ohjeets for whieh it is declared to lee lnstitnted, nid to which the powers givea, as fairly understood, render lt competent , then we cannot percelve the proprlety of this sirit too uetlon, nor adopt lt as a rule by which the Constlution is to le expounded.' . . Marshatl's dletum th at there monst be neither astrict mire a liberal construction of the Constitution, lut that the naturai meaning of the words must govern, was undonbtedly somad and wise, The brad proposition was above critleism: it mont oalr that the langnage of the instroment shontht ant he stretched or wrenehed in any diretion: and howerer politicians or eren statesmern mighi feel, there was no other possille Eramed firi a juige to take. Jefferson might revaril it nas duty to make the Constitntiong an marow und re stricted as posslble; llamilton miphit fetl that there was un actual ohllgation num hin to make It as bromd nod conmurehensive as it mads It as bromd and connirehensive as it words wonld nelmit. 13 ut Jefferson and llamiltom, in a differcnt department of publie life Irom Marsiant. had chuties aud obligations correspondiagly dat. ferent from hls. They might properly ory to make the Constitntlon meng whint it semed io then for the puhtie welfare that it shombinear. Harshall conld nut consider any such mattor; he bind unly to find and dechere what it that mesm, what its words actually and properly dectardd not what they might possibly or divinathy ine supposed or constracel te declire. This was the renl force and the only real force of his terngoms assertion. As mu a histraet statement of his fune thon it was Impregrable. But, as with mast lirond principles, the dimendty lay in the apti cation of it to partlenlar cuses. The comstith tiomal questlons which came before Marsinil chictly took the form of whether or not the Con stitution conferred some power or athority upon (ongress, or upom the Executior. Then the Federallst lawyers trlen to show hom mutia the language could mean, and the anti l'ederal he counsel sought to show how ilttie it could meaa, and each urged that public poliey was apoa lis side. The decision must be yes or no: the authority did or dld not rest in the govern: meat. It was ensy to taik about the natural and proper meanlug of the worls; but after ali it was the question at lssue; did they (not coulil they) say jes, or did tiley (not conid they) say ao, to the spectal unthority sought to be exer. cised. Now lt is one thlng to be inmartinl and another to he coioriess in mind. Jndge Marsinali was linjurtial and strongly possecsseci of the fudicial lnstinet or faculty. But he was by no measas colorless. He conli no more eliminate from his miud an Interest in publie affairs, and opinions as to the preferable forms of governautut and methods of adninistration, than he coukd cut out and cast nw:y his mind liself. Believing that the Constitition Intencied to create and uld ereate a mational government, and having diedided uotions as to what such a governmeat must be able to do, he was suhject to a powerfui though insenslble lnfluence to linl the existence of the required abilities in the government. . . . The great majority of his decisions were in necordance wlth Federalist priuciples of construction and of polley. The Republicans ali denomeed hlm as a Federallst, even of an extrime type."-A. B. Magruder, John Murshall, ch. 10.

Alwo is: 11. Flnnders, Lives ame Times of the Chiff Justeres of the Siuprome Court, v, 2.-J. Story, Juhn Minwhall (IV. Im. Rev, c, 26).
A. D. 1801-First American naval demonstration against the Barbary Pirates. See Bablubr stateb: A. D. 175.-1801.
A.D. 1802.-Admission of Ohio to the Union. See Nohrmwest Tembrony: A. D. にな8-1802.
A. D. 1802-1804.-L Land cessions of Georgia annexed to Mississippi Territory. Sce Misiswirli: A. D. $1798-1804$.
A. D. 1803.-The Louisiana Purchase.-Its coastitutional and political aspects.-"The Mississipgi ytuestion, which hal phayed so im. protant il part in the time's of the confcleration, bad arisen again nol demandel a sointion, as Spia had, on the 1st of October, 1800, ceded the whol, of lomisiana to Frunce. The ['nited States 1 : had experisuce enough already of how dat: rans mad how great un olstacte in the Way of the commercinl develonment of the country it nuight lrecome, if the monti of the yississippi wre in the possesslon of a foreign p.wer, even if it were no stronger than Spain. detferson lad not shared $\ln$ this experience iu raiu. This was onc of the lustances in which he fave whlence of $n$ realiy statesmanlike insight. He wrole on the 18th of Aprii, 1802, to lis embas: sadur livingston in Paris: This eession competely reverses all the political relations of the Luited States, and will form n new epoch in our pelitical course. ... There ls on the giobe one siugle spot, the posscssor of whici is our natunid und hahitnat enemy.' Llvingston was lnstrurted to enter into negotlations lmmediateiy for the cession of New Orleans and the Ftoridus, in case France shoutd consider the possession of Louisiana indispeasally necessary. As Bonaparte at thils very time entertained the lilea of resuming the oh Freneh catomal pries: the uegotiathons remaiaed long without result. The nprising of the negroes in San Domingo pad the warlike turs which the affairg of Eumpe began agaln to assume, disposec hi:n more favoraGly towards the Ameriean offer, On the 30th of April, $18 \% 3$, the treaty, eedling the wiole of Louisiana to the Linltel States for $\$ 15,000,000$, was enneluderl $\ln$ Paris [sce Loursiana: i. D. 1798-1803]. Hantilton sliared Jefferson's view, thant the purchase of Louisinna was a question of the greatest, and even of vitui, importnnee for the Union. His opposition on other neen slons to the poliey of the alministration, and his personal enmity to the president, did not prevent hls lending him a helphg hand In thls matter when an opportunity offerel. The great majority of the Federallsts opposed this: crease of the territory of the Linon with as minch decision as Hamilton arlvocuted lt. They showed In thelr attitude townris this question a shortsightedness whieh would have becn astonishing cveu antong the doctrinnrians of the opposite pirty."-11. von Ilolst, Const. and Pob. :ist. of the U. S., r. 1. $p$ p. 183-185.-" Mr. Jefferson belonged to the seloool of strlet construction, is id was In faet its lemier and apostle. ... Under a constructlon of the Constitution as strict as he had been inslsting upon, it was plain that the fovernntent would lave no power to acquire foreign territory by purchnse, and that any attempt In that direction woukl be usurpation.

To give the necessary anthority an imendment of the Constitution wonld be cisscutial, and amendment wouth be a slow process which might not be aceomplished in time (o) meet the entrgency. The case would be complicated by the fact that lf the territory was nequirel n eonsiderable popaiation would be bronght iuta the Cuiou and thus made citizens by a process of miturallzation not eontemplated by the Constitutlon. Dir. Madison, the Secretary of state, agreed with the Presideut in his views. To nse Mr. Jefferson's words, 'The Constitution hats made no provision for our holding forcign territory ; still less for lneorpornting forrlgn natious Into our Unlon.' But under circumstinces so lmperative ine thonght the political departinents of the government should mect the cmergency ly consummating the purchase, and then appralon the nation for an melitiomartiche in the Constitution approwing and comfirming an nct Which the nation had not previonsly wuthorized.' Ile did not conceni from himself, how er, that in so doing gronul would le ocruble: which it would be dithentt to defent, ani be proceeds to sty: 'The less that is - ind about nay constitutimal diftentty the bet! Congress shonid do whint is necessiry i:1 ce. I fini but one opiniom as to the E : Constimtion for sob, Adams hehi stmiar cult to conceive of any of shatting up the Mr. Jolin Quiacy But it is difflirine more dangerous or more distinctly antanomistic to the fundamental lices of fie Amerlcan Cnion than the doetrine that the Constitution may be 'shut np, for a time in order that the government may accomplish something not warranted hy lt. The politicai immorality was obvions and giaring: more so in the case of the apostle of strict eonstruction thisn it could have been if advanced hy and other statesman of the dar. . . . But Mr. Jeferson's political mistake was scarcely greator thent that cummitted by his olpuacnts: ind, in diecl, Fom a party standpoint it was no mistake whatsoever, but a bold measure of wise pulicy

The purchase according to the Federai view of the Constitution, was perfectiy leglit. mate. ... But the Federalists in generai took narrow aud partisan vlewa, and ir. ordier to em. barrass the admiaistration resorted to quibhies whieh were aitogether unwortiy the party Which had boasted of Washington as its ehlef and inamilton as the exponent of its doctrlaes.
i. The Federal ienciers did not stop at cavils; they inslated that the unconstitutlonal extension of territory was in effeet a dissolntion of the Union, so that they were at liberty to contempiate and pian for a finai dlsruptlon."-Julge T. M. Cooley, The dequiaition nf Louimitmen (Indiann Miat. Noc. Pamphleta, no. 3). -The result of the debates on the Louisiana treaty, In the Senate aad the ifouse, "declded oaiy une poiat. sivery speaker, whthout disthethon of party, agreed that the Liafted States government hum the power to acquire now terrltory cither by coaquest or by treaty; the mily difircace of opinion regarded the dixposition of this terrltory after it wns aequired. Did Louislana belong to the central governatent at Wishingten, or to the states? . Whether the govermmeat at Washiagton could possess Lonisiana as a colony or admit lt as a State, was a ditference of no great matter if the cession were to holij georl: the essentinl point was that for the tirst time in the national history ali purtles agreed in whilting that the government eondi govern. . . Fiven in $180 \pm$ the politieal conserphartes of the art Wre alreaty two striking to be owarhoked. Within three years of his inmaguraton Jefferson bought a forelign colooy. whithont its "onsent nad agninst lis will, namexel it to the [inled states by all act which ho satid made blank paper of the Constintion; and then he who hat fumb his predecessors how monaredient, und the Constitn-dissolveri the lomils of sucioty rather than allow his predecessor to order a dimgaroms alin'n ont uf the country in a time of threatened war, -madr. himself monarch of the now torritury and wioled over It, arainst its protests, the i wors of its ohd kings. Snch :10 experieno was dinf: no rentury of show atm hals-maderston! experieare could be weoded to prove that the hopu's of hamanity lay thaneforward, not in atemptiner to restrain ther gowament from doiner whaterar the majority should think heressiry, hot in raisIng the peophe themselves till they shomhl hin!: nothing meressars but what wis fond."-11.
 Administroth, af ate fierson, r. 2, ch. 4-i).
 A. D whe wher Preers (ed. of 1489), pp, 2:31-34? ment of seamen from American ships.- II consequrnere of a resshation of the semite, caillag upon the President for information ro. specting the viofation of the national thag, and the impressment of Ameriem sumen, he commmoiatial to that body a letter from the secrebary of sitate, specifylug all the eases of impresement which had rome to the knowledge of that lap partment. The secretary had no informatioo of the violation of the uational flag, except in the reedit ngeression of Moroceo. It appeared, by this ripurt, that 43 chizens of the lnited states had 1 rown impressed loy the British, of when 12 had protections. Tan were natives of the British dominims, nud 17 of other countries, none of whom were stated to bave been naturailzed. Thus a praetice whirt ren whthin the Britlsin domialoca, violates $t_{1}$ dear. rat rights of personal llberty, nuld whir." thelr conrts have never ventured to justify, navy ollicers ou board of American vessels."G. Tueker, Hist. of the $\boldsymbol{C}^{+}$. S., oh 12 (e. 2)."When the captain of a Brltish frlyate over. hanledi an Americian inerelant. vessel for comem' property or contraband of war, he scat min officer on board who amstered the crew, mind The measure, us the IBrilsh was one of seif-protectlon. $1 f$ the Xavican government conld not or wonld not liscomrage desertion, the navaj commander would reveret his men in the only way ie could. Thms a circle of grlevances was establishled on rach sile. . . The growth of Amerlemen slipping stimulnted desertions frone the British serviee to the extent of Injuriag its efficioniv; uml therse Jesertions in thelr turn led to a rigorums everelse of the right of lmpressment. To thind some poiat at which thly viclous circle emblil lw. lroken was a matter of serions consernumere to Inth comatries, but most so to the nue whieh nowed that it did not mana to protect its interemt by force. Great Britain coubl have lyoken the circle by increashig the pay and lmprovine the condition of her seamen; buit she wits cacrosively coaservative, ami the buriens alrindy fumed on her commeree wore son great that she couid utford to risk nothing. . . C Conscionn of berwan pewer, she thonght that the Lnited Shates sumb be tirst to give why. I liad the Amerian subernmert hern wilting to perform its wontral ablizathons strictly, the circle might hawe lexell bowin withont murly tromble; bint the L'uitel Natis to risk whatever Fingland mizht do rather that discournge dosertion, or enthet iml cufurer a soloct ant uralization law, or pumish frand. 'The matimal Fow romment was tox, weak to comply that suts to respert nentral obligations, wen if it hither dimpsed to make the attempt. The lwation impresment bronght the two gowrnanis to a Jendlock on an i-sne of law. Nu onne denimithat every socornment had the right to comanal the services of is native subjects, athl an who ne ventured to maintath that amerelamt hip on the

 the the rights of naturnized subjertwortitizens. Tbe british govermuent might, whelomht impress in the American service carrich praperof Abe ob can citizenship, and although sombe of the we were frmentent, matuy were comine. 'rhe law if Eoglanl, as dectiwed from time ont if uind by every gemeration of her juhtwe. latht that the allegiance of a subject wis imfofomilh, and there fore that anturadization was worthin The law of the Conited states, us derlaneal ly Chfor Justice Ellsworth in 1799, was in etfor the sme." -il. Aldams, Mistory of the C. . . of In. deming the firmt Aldminiatration of Thum, is of, y, wom, re. ${ }^{2}$ ch. 11.-" Great Britain wis charly in the whage sho onght to have kept her samen by fur reaing which protuced the mutiny of the Xion: In heartlessly neglectlug to reniler the wric' just

UNITED BTATES, 1803.

Federalist  Secesion Movement   UNITED 8TATES, 1804-1805.

   UNITED 8TATES, 1804-1805.} Fen ar.. their nol which of neces. y British "8sels. "$2(e, ~ s)-$ r flemy' an ofticer tonik out British. arilici it, Inerican acourage Thus on rach shipping wryice to nil thase iid some - broken 10) hath "Wowed "rict by sim: the monvely imphedto the common asilor, and at the same time matiog a brutal use of impreamment, ariatocratic government showed Its dark side. It is true that mpresment was conscriptlon in a coarse form, and that the extreme notlon of Indefeaslhie allc. glance stlil prevalied. But the practice, however bwful, was Intoierahle, and its offenslveness was sure to be aggravated by the conduct of British commanders full of tise araval pride of their astlon and perhaps irritated hy tire loss of thelr crews; for it ls not denled that many Britlsh seamea were seduced from the service and that the American marine, both mercautlle and astionsl, was largely manned in this way."Goldwin Smlth, The United States, ch. 3.-See, also, beiow: A. D. 1804-1809.
A. D. 1803-8804, - Federalist Secession movement. - ' In the winter ... of 1803-4, immodiately after, and as a consequence of, the acquisitlon of Loulslana, ccrtaln leaders of the Federal party concelved the project of the dissolution of the Union, and the estahblishment of a Northern Contederacy. The justlfylng causes to those who entertained It were, that the annexstion of Lonislaua to the Linlon transcended the constintional powers of the government of the Coited States; that It crentid, in fact. n new confeleracy, to which the states, united by the former compact, were not bound to millere; that It was oppressive to the lnterests and destructive to the intlucace of the Northern section of the Confederacy. whose right and dinty It therefore was to secerle from the new hody pollitic, und to coustitute wae of their own. It was lamented that one incritable consequence of the anmesation of loulsians to the luton would be to dimiuish the retative weight noll iutluence of the Northern sextlon; that it would aggrarate the eril of the slawe rejresentiation; und endamger the linion itself, ly the expansion of its bilk, and the "nfechling extension of its line of de. fence against foreign invaslon. A Northern Con. federacy was thought to be the only probable counterpoise to the manafacture of new States in the somih. This project was quietly and exten. sively discussed at the time, hy the members of Congress from Dassachusetts nod Comuecticut especially. General llamilton, indeed, was chosen as the person to be placerd, nt the proper time, at the head of the military movement which, it was foreseen, whild be necessary for carrying the plan into excention. He was consulted on the subject; and althongh It is quite certain that he was opposed to lt, he consented to attemd a merting of Federalists in lloston in the autumn of 1804, but his untimely death. In the summer of that year, prevental the meeting. To whaterer proportions, howerer, the project might otherwise have gone, it was checelied hy the advantage which was evident to all of the securing of ar large a demain, by the groat de. sirableness of preventing Framee from holding the mouth of our great river, and by the settlement of the question of our natlomalj boundaries. There colsindirations gave a quictus for a time to the suggestons of sectional jenlousy."-(:F. Rubertsum, The Iuvisiana Purchase in its Influ. thee upain the Am. Syatem (Papers of the im. Hist. 由1sin, c. 1), pp. 262-263.
A. D. 1804.-Fifth Fresidential Election. Thinas Jetierson, Democratle Republican, reelectetl by the vote of 162 Efectors in the College, against 14 voting for Ctarles C. Pinctany; Federalist. George Clinton chosen Vice President.

A. D. 1804-2805.- Impeschment and trial of Judge Chase. - In the closing hours of the sesslon of Congress which expired March 4, 1803, proceedings of Impeachment were begun for the removal from the beach of Judge Plckering, United States Districi Iudge of New Ilampshire, who had become mentally incapahle of dlseharg. Ing the dutles of his office. "By the federallsts, the attack on Judge Plckering was takicn as the first of a series of impeachinents, lutended to revolutionlzc the politlcal ehuracter of the eourts, hut there Is nothing to prove that this was then the intent of the mujorlty. The most obnoxious justlee on the enpreme bench was Samucl Chase of Maryland, whose vlokence as a polltlcai partl. ann had certalaly cxposed hint to the danger of Impeachment; but two ycars had now passed wlthont producing any sign of nn lntention to disturh him, aud It mlght be supposed that the administration thas condoned his offences. Unluckily, Juige Cliase had not the good taste or the judgment to he quiet. He lrritated his ene mes hy new iudlscretlons, and on May 13, 1808 , nearly three months after l'ickering's inupeach. ment, Mr. Jefferson, In a letter to Joseph H. Nleliolson, suggested that it would he well to take him in hand:- lou must have heard of the extruorilnary charge of C'lase to the grand jury at Biltlmore. Unght this seditions nad officlal nttack on the principles of our Constitution and on the proceedings of $n$ state to go anpunlshed? Aud to whom so polntedly as yourself witl the jublice look for the necressary mensures? I nsk these questions for yomr consin. cration. As for nyself, it is better that I shoblid not interfere.'. . Nicholsom seems to hiwn passed on to landolph the charge he hawl rereived Handolph rose to move for an inquiry into the conduct of Julge ('hasco. . After il lang le. hate, the lhuniry w:is ordered, and Rambiljh with hls friebl Nicholson, was put at thec head of the committee. On Dareh 2f, 1804 , they reported seven urtickesuf imperchmont. . . . W'ith this the sessical euded. am? the trial went over to the next year. . The impearhment of Justice Chase is in landmark in American history, bectuse It was here that the Jelforsonian republicans fought their last agersosive battle, ami, warering under the shock of defeeit, broke into finctions which slowly abmatoned the fiobl ami forgot their discipline. That such a battle must one day be fonght for the control of the Judiciary Was from the borinning believed hy most republicuns who mulerstens] their owis principles. Without controlling the Judiciary, the people conld nevergovern themselves in their own way; abd although they might, over nad over ngatin, in every form of law amd resolution, both state and mational, cuact and prochain that theirs was not a despotic hut a restricted government, which hand no right to exercise puwers not delegated to li, and ofer which they, ins States, had ahsolute control, it. Wis mone the less ccrtain that ('hiel Justice Marshall and his nssociates would disre. gard their will, and would impose upon them his own. The people were at the merer of their rreatires. The Cobstitutions of Englani. of Minssachusetts, of lennsylrania, anthorized the removal of an ohoxions julte on a mare address of the legislature, but the Constitution of

UNITED STATE8, 1804-1805.

Imprachment of Judue Chase
UNITED STATES, 1804-fon
the United States had so febced and fortified the Supreme Court that the leglalature, the Exeeuthe, the people themselves, could exerelse no control over It . A judge might make any deel. alon, vlolate any duty, trample on nny right, and it he took care to eommit no ladictalite of. fence he was safe in office for life. Ont this Ilcense the Constlutlon Imposed only one clueck: It ald that all elvil otheera should be removed from oflce 'on impeachinent for, and convictlon of, trenson, bribery, or other lighlt erimes and misilemeators.' This right of inpeachment was as yei undefined, and If atrctelied a llttle beyond strict construction it might casily be converted Into something for which it hall not been ln. icuded.

Indpe Chases offences were seri. ous. The immedinte cause of impeachnent, his addlress to the grand jury at llahimmore on the ed May, 1803, proved that hic was not a proper perlaws. In this address the Interyretailon of tite laws. In this address he mild that those laws were rapidly destroying all protection to prop. erty and all security to personal ilierty; The late nteration of thic federal Judiciary. sald he, cuit jutges, and the recent change lin our state Constitution by the catablisting of mulversal suffruge, und the further alteration that is come templited in our stute dubleiary, if mbopted, will, In my julgment, take away all security for property and personal liiserty. Tite halepenilence of tbe nuthou:I Jullelary is already sminen to lts foundations, and the virthe of the pieople alote can restore it.' That by this refercince to the viruse of the peopic he nicmint to draw it contrast witb the want of virtue in their governument was made clear by a pointed lusntt to Mr. Jeffersnn: The modern doet rines hy our late reformess, that all men in a state of society ure entithed to enjoy equal liherty and equal rights, have lurought lis mighty nischief upun us, and I far thut it will rapidly progress unetl pearc and order, freelomi and property, shall be destroych.'. . . There was gross absurdity ln the itlea that the perople who, by an immense majority, lad decided to carry on thicir goverument th ome wny should he forced by one of tbeir own servauts tio turnatont and go in the opposite directlon; nul the imble. corum was greater than the absurdity, for if Julge Chase or any other othcial held sirch ithe. trines, even thongli he were right, he was homm not to insult officially the people who enployed him. On these groinds Mir. Jefferson privately advised the impenchment, und periapos handolph Mr. Jefferson'te lint to wisely had he followed Mr. Jefferson's hint to rely on tbis article alone, which in the end cane neurer than any other to securing conviction. . The articles of in. penchmont which Randoiph presented to the House ou Mareh 20, 1804, nud which were, hes claimed, drawn up with his own hamb, rested Wholly on the theory of Chase's criminulity : they contained no suggestiun that impenchment was a mare luquest of utilice. But whell Congress met again, and, on I Lecember 3, the sulijoct etine again beffre the llouse, it was uotieed that two new articles the fifth aud sixth, fad bedn guietly interpolated. Which rouscel suspiciou of at elange in Ramdolph's phan.

No one could dhult that Rantolph and bis fricnds, secing how litile thcir uitimate object woull be alraneed by a cunvlction or, the vid charges, inserted ibese new articles in order to correet their mistake and to make a foundatlon for the frecr nase of Intreach ment as a polticnl weapon. The leharine of Ciles and hla friends in the senate strengthrmed thls susplelon. He made no conceraturut of his theorles, and linwred eirncstly to pirewne the Semate from calling liself a ctiurt, or frome este claing any functious that belougg it to a crumt of law. "- II. Allans, John handolfh, ei 4 - 6 . The doetrine of impeachment which, Gili stis thator from Virginla) und John dameloph limiantianed In connectlon wlth the trial of dulke ( 'hase, and wheh secons to have beeu acyniesced in liy the majorlty of their party, la reperted by Joho Qumey Adams from a conversathon to whildi he was alistener. In Mr. Arlams' Mothours, under as follows: "' There was little bustiness to do lia the Senate), and the aljournment twa place early. Siting by the freside afturnarik, I mite nessed a conversithon hetween Mr Gillwailu Mr darligg whiel Mr. Jollon findeljh canur in and took purt in the discussion. Gifles halurrul with excessive enracsthesy to conveluce simi:I of ret tain principles, upon witich mot only Mr. Clase, hut all the other Julges of the supre inir Court, es copting the me hast nipohted must he inprached and remused. He treatel with the unmen cus.
 said there was not a word trlout such mu iudependence In the Coustitution, mel that their pretensims to it were nothing more nor low than an attempt to estailish an aristocratic desmition in glven withont limitation to the flonse of hipresentatives: the power of trying injum hmets whs given equally whont limitution to the ser. ate; und if the Julges of the sumpenc Curr.
 of Congress unconstitutiombl, or tur moln matholmmes to the Serretary of state, ats the: had dume, it whe the undonhted right of the ilanise of hipp resentatives to inpmadi them, and of the senate to renove them, fur giving such hithimis, has ever ionnest and sincere they may hate la nis entertaining them. Imparinnent was mentrimina prosecution; it was in prosernthun at all. The Simate siting for the trial of impanhmo nt, Was not a court, and ought to dimatrid and fejewt all procrsa of mulogy to a ecort of justice. 11 trial and removal of a judge upw impowhent ned not imply any crimimatity or corrupthat in him Congress had no power over the peran, but only wer the ollice. Anll aremovil ly imumathe ut Wis nuthing more then n decharation by Congres to thls cfect: You hohl dimgerons of mions, and If yon are suffered to carry tin-m intu eftet yous will work the destraction of the nation, We Want your oflices, for the purpme of ciaing then to men who will fill then better. banswer to all thas, Mr. Smith only contemicel that lamest error of oprinion could not, as be conervived be 3 subject of inapenchment. Amd in pursuit of this prineiple be proved elenrly emough the persecution ami tyranny so which thase of cilles amb landelph inevitably lead. It wonld, he said. estalhish' 'u ty rauny over opinions, 'nad he tracml all the arguments of Giles to thrir wily pmssible issue of rank nbsurdity. lu whll his coniversation I opened my lips bat once, in which 1 thll Giles tcrin impeachmeut."-J. Q Ad:mes, Mimeira ol. by C. F. Idum, r. 1, Ip : Ben-3: - The trial of Expedition of Lomio and Clark

UNITED STATES, $1804-1905$.

Judge Chase was opened on the 9th of February, 1305 , and ended on the 23 d . By voten ranging from is to $\%$ (the total number of senatore being 34), he was acquitted on each of the charges - a result attributed considerahly to the offenaive and incapahle manner in which the prosecution lasd been condueted hy John Randolph. - J. Schouler, lifit. of the U. S., v. 2, p. 77.
A. D. 1804-3805-Expedition of Lewis and Clark acrosi the continent. - The firat explo ration of the Missouri and beyond.-Captain Jeriwether Lewls and Captain Wllllam Clark " were the firat men to cross the continent in our zone, the truiy golden zone. A dozen years before them, Mackenzie had crossed in British dominlons far north, hut settlements are even now sparse in that parailel. Stlli eariler had Mexlcans traversed the narrowing contlaent from the Gulf to the Paclfic, but seemed to find little worth discovery. It was otherwise in the zone pentrated by Lewin and Ciark. There development began at once and is now nowhere surpassed. Along their route ten States, with a census in 1890 of eight end a half mllifons, have arisen ln the wilderness.

