KENTVILLE TENNIS STARS WIN FROM WOLFVILLE

Local Players Lose First Tournament in Two Years—Kentville Now Leads in League

KENTVILLE, July 18. — Kentville went into the leadership of the Eastern Section of the Valley Tennis League when they pulled the unexpected and defeated Wolfville, 1924 champions, in a thrilling set of matches by a score of 5 to 3 here today. It was the first defeat suffered by Wolfville in the Valley League since its organization two years ago.

The matches, played on an ideal court, proved the best ever witnessed here. Every point was hard fought and three of the matches went to three sets. The big surprise of the afternoon occurred in the first match, when Clancy and Lloyd won over Dr. Eugene Eaton and Professor Balcom, of Wolfville, in two straight sets. The Kentville players teamed up well and proved themselves a fast, strong combination.

The feature of the mixed doubles matches was the victory of Mrs. Barry Roscoe and Reinhardt, over Robie Tufts and Miss McLean. The winners, after taking the first set in easy fashion, dropped the second, but made a strong come-back in the final and won out 8-6. The playing of Mrs. Roscoe was exceptionally brilliant.

Dr. Avery DeWitt, who was conceded to win over Gordon Neary in the men's singles, ran true to form, but only after a hard up-hill battle. Neary won the first set, DeWitt the second, with a lead of 4 to 1 in the final. The Kentville player looked like a sure winner, but his opponent staged a sensational come-back and by taking the next five games, won out.

In the ladies' singles, the last match of the afternoon, depended Wolfville's chances for an even break for the day, but Miss Brown Wickwire brought victory to her club by winning in two straight sets.

Following the league games, two exhibition sets were played. In the first Dr. Leslie Eaton, finalist in last year's Provincial Tournament, defeated Jack Edwards, of Halifax, 6 to 4, in a brilliantly played set. In the second set Mrs. F. V. Woodbury, former Kentville star, and Austin Chute, of Wolfville, defeated Miss Winnie McFatridge and Jack Edwards, Halifax, 6 to 3.

Judges—Dr. Arthur Burns, Reginald Ward, Murray Dodge. Refreshments were served, the hostess being Mrs. (Dr.) McGrath, assisted by young lady members of the club.

Ladies' Singles—Miss B. Wickwire, Kentville, defeated Miss E. Eaton, Wolfville, 6-1, 6-3.
Men's Singles—Dr. Avery DeWitt, Wolfville, defeated Gordon Neary, Kentville, 4-6, 6-2, 6-4.
Ladies' Doubles—Miss Winnie Moore and Miss Lucy Morse, Kentville, defeated Mrs. Collins and Miss Hemmeon, Wolfville, 6-3, 8-6.
Men's Doubles—C. Clancy and Lloyd, Kentville, defeated Dr. Eugene Eaton and Prof. Balcom, Wolfville, 7-5, 7-5.
Mixed Doubles—Mrs. Barry Roscoe and Victor Reinhardt defeated Miss McLean and Robie Tufts, Wolfville, 6-1, 5-7, 8-6. Mr. and Mrs. Austin Chute, Wolfville, defeated Mrs. Charles Hill and Fred Molsom, Kentville, 6-0, 7-9, 6-1. Miss Jane Blanchard and Blanchard Thompson, Kentville, defeated Mrs. Newcombe and G. Eaton, Wolfville, 6-1, 6-4. Miss G. Phinney and Dr. Leslie Eaton, Wolfville, defeated Mrs. Gordon Neary and Darrell Calkin, Kentville, 7-5, 6-3.

GAME SANCTUARY FOR WESTERN NOVA SCOTIA

A meeting of the committee which was appointed by the convention of June 18th, to consider the matter of a game sanctuary for Western Nova Scotia, was held at Annapolis Royal on Saturday last. Representatives of Kings, Annapolis, Digby and Queens counties were present, and the chairman, Rev. Dr. Hemmeon, of Wolfville, was in the chair. Mr. R. W. Tufts, Chief Officer for Nova Scotia under the Migratory Birds Act, and Chief Game Commissioner J. A. Knight, of Halifax, were also in attendance.

A general discussion relative to the area, cost, accessibility, the kind of forest growth necessary for a suitable location, was had, there being a wide divergence of opinion respecting a site for the sanctuary. The Boundary Rock district, which includes areas in Digby, Queens, Shelburne and Yarmouth counties, had the preference over all the other locations which were suggested. The question of the advisability of acquiring control of privately owned land, the policy of administration, regulation and cost of patrol were fully discussed, and a committee was appointed to prepare a map showing the proposed boundaries for a sanctuary at or near Boundary Rock.

The proposition, which has been before the sportsmen of Nova Scotia for some years, is now taking definite form, and Mr. Tufts was requested to bring it to the attention of the Guides Meet at Yarmouth on August 6th and 7th for consideration. It is proposed to have a meeting of the General Game Refuge Convention at Annapolis Royal in August 17th, when the report and final recommendations of the committee will be presented and other matters of importance to sportsmen will be discussed.

LOCAL GIRL GUIDES RETURN FROM CAMP

Spent Ten Happy Days at Sunken Lake—Results of Water Sports

On Saturday afternoon the Girl Guides of Wolfville and Port Williams returned from Sunken Lake, after a happy ten days in camp. The weather was perfect from start to finish, and everyone regretted when the last day came.

The possession of a fine canoe, the gift of Mrs. Geo. Boggs, added greatly to the enjoyment of the camping period. Wednesday was Visitors' Day, and many people spent the afternoon at the lake, witnessing the water sports. Some picnic parties remained to enjoy the camp-fire sing-song in the evening.

The results of water-sports were as follows:

Swimming
Novice Race—1st, Louise Hikkard, Amateur—1st, Betty Williams.
Semi-Prof.—1st, Maxine Williams.
Professional—1st, Annie Fitch.

Boating
Double Canoe Race—Elizabeth Eaton and Gertrude Phinney.
Canoe Upsetting—Marion Eaton.
Single Oar Race—Annie Fitch, Virginia MacLean, tied.
Double Oar Race—Bertha Warren and Maxine Williams.
Diving—Annie Fitch, Virginia MacLean, tied.

Beulah Lantz received a prize for making the greatest progress in swimming.

Our last evening in camp will not soon be forgotten. As a grand climax, ice-cream was served around the campfire and a display of fire-works set off from the float. Both were due to the generosity of Mr. and Mrs. Young.

Before we realized it, bedtime was at hand and our last camp-fire was over.

BEBE A STAR IN "DANGEROUS MONEY"

Tom Moore Heads Supporting Cast in New Paramount Picture

Bebe Daniels has come into her own! Long the favorite of millions of picture fans, Bebe has been rewarded by promotion to stardom and is now spoken of in the same breath with Gloria Swanson, Pola Negri, Tommy Meighan and the rest.

Miss Daniels' first production as a star in Paramount pictures is "Dangerous Money", which will be shown at the Orpheu next Wednesday and Thursday. The story was adapted to the screen by Julie Herne from the novel, "Clark's Field", by Robert Herrick. The action is laid in the industrial district of Brooklyn under the shadow of the Brooklyn Bridge, at a fashionable girls' school in upper New York state and at Lake Como, Italy.

ACADIA GRADUATES HOLD RE-UNION

A re-union of the young women of the class of 1924 of Acadia University took place at Deep Brook last week at the summer bungalow of Dr. and Mrs. Archibald. Thirteen out of the twenty girls of this class were present, and vastly enjoyed the change from teaching and routine work, as well as the privilege of meeting together again in holiday spirit.

Those present were: Helen Archibald, of Wolfville, a teacher at Hollands High School, N. Y.; Winnifred Armstrong, Kingston, N.S., a teacher at Caledonia, N.S.; Catherine Black, Amherst, a teacher at Dover-Foxcroft, Me; Eldred Bridges, Gagetown, N.B., a teacher at Island Pond, Vermont; Muriel Cutten, Hamilton, N.Y., a student of Psychology at Colgate University; Madeline Flewelling, Hampton, N.B., a teacher at Ludlow, Vermont; Dean Lusby, Amherst, a teacher at Bristol, Vermont; Adeline McKinnon, Sydney Mines, a teacher at Sydney Mines; Louise Morse, Bridgetown, who studied home-making; Edith Goodwin, Granville Center, N.S., tutor at Maryland School for the Blind, Overles, Maryland; Dora Baker, Instructor at Normal School, Truro, N.S.; Amy Prescott, Wolfville, N.S., a teacher at Fairfield, Me.; Mabel Pugsley, Five Islands, N.S., teacher at Riverport, N.S.

A Globe Trotter's Opinion

"A cousin of mine, who is head of Limited, of Liverpool, England, passed through here recently on a pleasure trip around the world. He said he had been in chocolate plants in New York, Chicago, Toronto and Winnipeg, and told me that of all the chocolates he had sampled, Moirs were the best. I agree with him."
H. E. James,
Vancouver, B. C., June 15, 1925

And that seems fairly conclusive!

AVONPORT WOMEN'S INSTITUTE FORMED

A branch of the Women's Institute was organized at Avonport this week, the meeting being held at the home of Mrs. Henry Childers. A large number was in attendance and much interest was manifested, the enthusiasm shown auguring well for the growth of the new organization, Miss Annie M. Stuart, Provincial President, presided, assisted by Mrs. Arthur Patterson, of Hortonville. The following were appointed officers:

President—Mrs. Henry Childers; Secy.—Mrs. Ashley Cop; Directors—Mrs. P. B. Reid (Convener), Mrs. Brenton Bordon, Mrs. Levett Fuller, Mrs. Fred Rice, Miss Susie Hughes. Meetings will be held every third Wednesday of each month at 2.30 o'clock the first meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. Levett Fuller.

At the conclusion of the business, Miss Stuart gave an instructive talk on the work of the Institute, and what it stood for, as exemplified by the motto "For Home and Country".

Mrs. A. H. Patterson read interesting papers on the work of the different Institutes that had been formed. A vote of thanks was extended Miss Stuart and Mrs. Patterson for the work of organization. Refreshments were served.

At the closing session of the Maritime Economic Conference at Moncton, last Thursday, it was decided to ask the three Governments of the Maritime Provinces to provide the money for the employment of a railway rate expert to study and consolidate the claims of the Maritimes and present their case before the meeting of the Board of Railway Commissioners to be held in August at various points down east.

RAIN HALTED CRICKET MATCH ON SATURDAY

Kentville and Wolfville Clubs Have Closely Contested Game on Campus

The Kentville cricket team played a friendly match with the local club on the campus here last Saturday afternoon. The visiting team were retired, having scored 55 runs, and Wolfville succeeded in scoring 50 before rain made further play impossible, the game being drawn. F. A. K. Walker was the top scorer with 14 runs, while Doll, Robinson and Smith made nice catches in the field. The scores:

YOU STILL HAVE A CHANCE

While it was not the intention of the publishers to extend the "Pay Your Subscription" campaign to the present week a goodly number of those in arrears have so interpreted it and acted accordingly. As a result our receipts from this source have so far this week equalled what was paid in the corresponding part of last week. This is very gratifying and as there are yet many in arrears who have not found it convenient to call and settle we have decided to still extend the privilege during the balance of this and all of next week. We do this in order to give all our patrons an equal chance—and because we need the money badly.

Minard's Liniment for Neuralgia.

The following are making changes: Miss Armstrong is to teach in Kingston, N.S.; Miss Pugsley, at Westville, N.S.; Miss Flewelling, at Newtowne, Conn. The first member of the class to be married was Helen Chase (Mrs. Herbert Prowse) who will obtain the class banner.

BRAVES STAGED COMEBACK MONDAY EVENING

Defeated the High School Team by Big Score and Took Second Place in League

The Braves avenged themselves of their defeat two weeks before at the hands of the High School boys when on Monday evening they won from the latter by the overwhelming score of 15 to 2. It is only fair to state, however, that the High School had only four of their regular team and put up a good fight considering the odds against them. Captain Jack Williams was unable to play on account of blood poisoning in his hand, and several of the other boys were out of town. Prescott was not in as good form as in the previous game, allowing eleven hits and striking out seven.

Although the Braves played with two men short they put up a fine game and deserved their victory. Two new pitchers were tried out. Patriquin pitched for two innings, allowing two hits and walking three batters. The battery was then reversed and Colin Munro struck out one, walked two and allowed no hits. All the Braves batted well.

The High School took the lead in the first innings when they scored two runs to their opponents' one. In the fifth innings, however, the Braves secured four hits and brought in five runs. They added two more in the fourth and seven in the fifth innings, the game being called when two were out, on account of darkness. The High School did not bat in the fifth innings. The teams:

Braves—H. Gould, 2b; D. Munro, 3b; Angus, ss; C. Munro, c and p; Patriquin, p and c; W. Pick, 1b; Harrington, cf. Johnson replaced Angus in the third.
High School—A. Pick, 1b; Prescott, p; Johnson, c; Cohen, 2b; V. Gould, 3b; K. Murphy, ss; Gerard, cf; McKenna, rf; V. Murphy, lf.

The standing of the teams is now as follows:

Team	Won	Lost
Red Sox	5	0
Braves	2	5
High School	1	3

FIRST MEETING OF WINDSOR PRESBYTERY OF UNITED CHURCH

An event of unusual interest took place at Windsor on Tuesday when the Windsor Presbytery of the United Church of Canada met in Trinity church for the purpose of organization. Rev. F. E. Barrett, pastor of the church and official convener, opened the meeting. Inspiring addresses were given by Rev. D. B. Hemmeon, D.D. of Wolfville, and Rev. A. A. McLeod, M.A., of Kentville.

In the organization Rev. F. E. Barrett was elected chairman, Rev. A. A. McLeod, secretary, and Arthur Patterson, of Hortonville, treasurer. The elections were all unanimous, indicating the spirit of unanimity that prevailed the meeting.

Rev. F. E. Barrett and D. W. Murray, of Hantsport, were nominated as members of the Settlement Committee to be appointed by the forthcoming Conference at Sackville, N. B. The Presbytery is cotermious with the former Methodist District and includes all the Methodist, Presbyterian and Congregational churches from the boundaries of the Halifax and Truro Presbyteries on the East and the Annapolis Presbytery on the West. The large number of retired ministers within its bounds gives an accredited membership of over fifty, of which thirty-five were present.

The several charges of the Presbytery are St. Croix, Newport, Rawdon, Walton, Burlington, Horton, Wolfville, Camard, Canning, Kingsport, Kentville, Avondale, Windsor, Waterville, Hantsport.

CROP REPORT

The Bank of Montreal crop report under date of July 17th has the following to say concerning conditions in the Maritime Provinces:
Crop conditions continue favourable. A large hay crop of good quality will be harvested. Potatoes now indicate an average yield. Prospects are for a large apple crop with much fruit of somewhat inferior quality owing to excessive rains.

GIVE THEM A CHANCE

IT COULD scarcely be expected that Hon. Mr. Rhodes would be able to satisfy everybody in the selection of those who are to form the new administration which has already assumed charge of provincial affairs. Naturally the claims of some of the aspirants for preferment would of necessity require to be disregarded, and many things must needs be considered carefully when determining the personnel of the new cabinet. After all is said, however, it must be admitted that a pretty good choice has been made.

The creation of a new portfolio in the department of "Natural Resources and Provincial Development" has come in for criticism in some quarters, but the title sounds inviting and the action may readily be justified by the results obtained. It is not necessary, either, that the new department should increase our governmental expenses as there are many opportunities for making reductions in other directions which would easily offset the expense of the new portfolio.

Six thousand dollars a year in addition to the sessional indemnity appears to be rather more than is necessary for the salary of the heads of the various departments, and it should not be difficult to effect a substantial saving here. Meantime THE ACADIAN is quite willing that Premier Rhodes and his associates should have the opportunity of demonstrating their ability to wisely direct the destinies of this province, withholding any criticism that we might be disposed to make until such time as conditions seem to warrant its expression. Apparently the new government has got away to a good start, and here's wishing them the best of luck.

STRAIGHTFORWARD JOURNALISM

THE DAYS of fake journalism never were here so far as reputable newspapers are concerned. A newspaper could no more afford to fake a story deliberately than a reputable merchant could afford to misrepresent his goods. Misrepresentation of facts, either for the sake of creating a sensation or for the sake of forwarding the political game of a newspaper, is even more serious than gross misrepresentation on the part of a merchant. For such misrepresentation on the part of the merchant can at best fool only a few as compared with the thousands who would be fooled by a newspaper. Once in a while we hear the expression, "Oh, that's all newspaper talk". Newspaper men are particularly impatient with this remark, for they know that no reputable reporter and no reputable newspaper ever knowingly misrepresents facts or "fakes a story". And 99 per cent. of Canadian daily and weekly newspapers are reputable publications. We know of one case where an editor was offered $5,000 in cold cash to "keep his mouth shut", but even this amount did not stop the publication of the story. The days of "fake journalism" never did exist in Canada and let us hope they never will.

GROWING STRAWBERRIES FOR EXPORT

WHILE owing to a rather unfavorable season the strawberry yield this year was not so good as was at first expected, prices ruled considerably better than have often obtained and in consequence the crop must have produced a good return to growers. This section is particularly well adapted to the growing of strawberries and other small fruits, the only drawback being sometimes the difficulty experienced in finding a profitable market.

This summer strawberries sent to Boston netted good prices to the growers, which suggests that with improved shipping facilities an arrangement might be made that would enable a very considerable increase in the production of small fruits here for export to New England. Our northern situation would ensure a demand at a time when home grown fruit was out of season, and because of the fact that our crop would not interfere with local producers there should be no serious tariff obstacle in the way of our product reaching the U.S. market. Freshly picked berries shipped here in the morning could easily be placed on the market in Boston on the following day in good condition.

COMMUNITY INTEREST

FIGURE as you will, you can't get away from the idea of community interest. We who constitute the local community are intensely dependent on one another. When we buy merchandise from out of town concerns we take that much business away from local business firms. If enough business is withdrawn from them, they'll eventually have to quit. Then Wolfville would shrivel up. Clerks and laborers and tradesmen would have to move away. That would directly affect the value of our homes and farms. Then, who would pay the taxes and support our public institutions, build and maintain our streets and roads and pay the interest on public indebtedness already incurred? Our self-interest, the safety of our property investments demand that we trade at home and support our local business men. If anyone thinks he can refute this statement, we would like him to give us a logical argument in favor of trading with the mail order house.

HEWING TO THE LINE

THE APPLICATION of what they are pleased to call "the axe" by the new Nova Scotia government is resented keenly by the press and supporters of the late administration. It must be remembered that Hon. Mr. Rhodes promised the electors of this province to "hew to the line", and if his promise is to be kept it will be necessary that the axe should be rather skillfully handled. Three planks of the platform which Hon. Mr. Rhodes presented for public approval were: (1) economy, (2) economy, (3) economy, and the people have plainly indicated their approval and given an unmistakable mandate. That there are many directions in which a lopping off process may be proceeded with is apparent to any one who has even casually studied the public affairs of Nova Scotia.

THE GOOD OLD DAYS

THE "good old days" are in our hearts, not on the calendar. The good old days are now. Distance, time and memory have lent a false enchantment to our view. There never was a better time than now unless we think otherwise. If modern invention, science, art, literature, efficiency and co-operative effort have not served and do not now serve to make these days the best days the world has seen thus far, then all our aspirations have been for naught and ambition may be cast aside for the morality and learning of least resistance. The good new days are far preferable to the bad old ones.

IN BRITISH GUIANA A.D. 1828

Quaint Advertisement: "Prime Negroes"

We reproduce the following from the South African Sugar Journal for September, 1919.

How customs change with the passing of time is eloquently illustrated by an advertisement of the sale of a sugar plantation in British Guiana in the year 1828, a copy of which has been kindly forwarded to us by Mr. W. D. Kyle, of Messrs. Reid Bros. Ltd., who received it from Mr. J. A. Kendall, of Northdene.

The advertisement, which appeared in "The Guiana Chronicle and Demerara Gazette" on January 16, 1828, is as follows:—

Public Vendue at Berbice
On Thursday, the 31st January, 1828, will be sold by order of Lewis Cameron and J. C. Groot de Nienwerkerk, Esqrs:

The Sugar Plantation, Cane-field, comprising Lots Nos. 3 and 4, situated in the River Canje, as also the adjoining East Half Lot No. 10 and the South Half of Lot No. 12, East Coast canal, comprising altogether about 835 acres of excellent sugar and Plantain Lands whereof 360 acres are in canes, and 91 in planting; together with a complete set of sugar works, consisting of a steam engine of 8 horse power, made by Bolton and Watt; a boiler of 10 horse power, a boiling house with 2 sets of coppers, curing house and distillery complete capable of taking off 600 hogsheads of sugar likewise a prime gang of 261 well-disposed negroes, consisting of 108 men, 81 women, 16 boys, 30 girls, and 26 infants, on the following terms, viz.—the land, cultivation and buildings at a credit of 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, and 6 years, the negroes at 6, 12, 18 and 24 months' credit with interest from the day of sale. The purchaser of the land will be required to give a first mortgage on that and 100 negroes as a security for the extension of time. The local advantages of this estate are well known, being a very healthy situation, within two miles of the shipping port and the river Canje affording the best drainage and a supply of fresh water throughout the year.

The sale will take place on plantation Cane-field—the land and buildings first and afterwards the negroes, in families, will be provisionally sold, and then the whole will be put up in one lot, when any person bidding one hundred guilders or more than the aggregate amount of the biddings will be declared the purchaser; but if no offer is made for the whole together, the land and negroes will belong to the first purchasers. Further particulars may be known by application at the Vendue Office.

The sale will commence at 11 o'clock and refreshments will be provided.

THE APPLE CROP

The Toronto Globe reports that present indications are that the apple crop of Ontario will contribute substantially to the revenues of those regions, which specialise in this fruit. The Dominion Government report for July estimates an increase of 20 per cent. over 1924 in the yield in Ontario, applying especially in the Georgian Bay and Eastern Counties. The apple crop in the Province is estimated at 821,772 barrels. About the same advance over last year is expected in Nova Scotia, where the estimate is 1,434,083 barrels. The fact that Nova Scotia produces nearly double the apples on Ontario, the Globe says, will be a surprise to most people who have not studied the intense culture of the Annapolis Valley. There is a greater freedom than usual from the ravages of scab and insect pests in Ontario, but moist weather has caused scab in Nova Scotia.

Reports from the growers throughout New England on July 1, indicated a prospect for 76.6 per cent. of a full apple crop compared with 90.0 per cent. a month ago; 85.2 per cent. a year ago, and 71.2 per cent. the ten-year average on July 1. The total commercial crop on July 1 was forecast at 1,728,000 barrels compared with 2,087,000 barrels harvested in 1924, and the five-year average of 1,428,400 barrels harvested.

As a result of cold, unfavorable weather during the blossoming period, apple prospects declined rapidly during June in Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut. Condition as a per cent. of normal on July 1 and June 1 respectively was: Maine 82 and 85; New Hampshire, 84 and 95; Vermont, 74 and 89; Massachusetts, 73 and 92; Rhode Island 68 and 97; Connecticut 67 and 93.

As to the world market for apples, while the United States crop as a whole is down, the return in the chief exporting States is well maintained. On the other hand, the crop in England shows a decrease, and on the Continent insects and drouth have caused considerable damage. On the whole, therefore, the Globe reports, the outlook for the apple market for good Canadian fruit is favorable.

CONGRATULATED CANADIAN MARKSMEN

BISLEY CAMP, July 19—His Majesty has wired Sapper A. Smith, late of the Royal Engineers, congratulations on winning his prize, "which I so gladly give to the National Rifle Association". At the presentation of prizes Major General Lord Chelmsford congratulated Colonel B. R. Street, Commandant of the Canadian team, on the marvellous team he had brought over. He also announced that a message had been received from South African High Commissioner that the Kolopae and McKinnon Cups, which were this year won by the Canadians, were despatched from Aramdal castle on July 10 and that the cause of the delay was being investigated. South Africa tendered sincere regret for the delay in the sending of the cups and offered congratulations to the Canadians on winning both trophies.

"Distant relatives" are not invariably distant, however, unless you are poor.

HEAVY COST OF GOVERNMENT

A suggestion of Mr. Ferguson, Premier of Ontario, that at the next session of the Legislature the salaries of members of the Government be increased has led to various comments. Some favor the idea as being calculated to secure able men. The Ottawa Journal, not unfavorable to the party which Mr. Ferguson leads, has this to say: Canada pays more per capita of population for politicians than any other English speaking country. It is probably true that she pays more than any democratic country. Here is her bill in the Dominion field alone.

18 Cabinet ministers, one at $15,000 and 17 at $10,000 plus seasonal indemnity of $4,000.....	$ 229,000
9 Lieutenant Governors, salaries ranging from nine to seven thousand dollars.....	81,000
Solicitor General.....	9,000
235 M.P.'s at $4,000.....	940,000
96 Senators at $4,000.....	384,000
Annual total.....	$1,644,000

In addition to this tidy sum, the provinces pay as follows:

Ontario.....	$218,000
Quebec.....	286,000
Nova Scotia.....	121,000
New Brunswick.....	66,000
Manitoba.....	127,000
British Columbia.....	135,000
P. E. Island.....	23,000
Alberta.....	160,000
Saskatchewan.....	142,000

The combined total cost for the whole, in a single year is $2,922,900—practically $3,000,000 for politicians alone.

SHE SAID HE WAS "INCORRIGIBLE"

(M. Bradford, Social Service Council of Canada.)

A woman brought her son into one of our Canadian Juvenile Courts a short time ago because as she termed it, the boy was incorrigible. He would not stay in school and was getting his parents into continual difficulty. When the boy gave his side of the story to the judge he said that school the boy on being examined by the court doctor was discovered to be totally blind in one eye with the sight of the other already seriously impaired. And this poor ignorant mother thought he was "incorrigible". The boy was immediately given treatment which saved and even improved the sight of his eye. If the condition had been known in time the sight of his other eye might also have been saved.

Of 24,000,000 school children in the United States, 6,000,000 are retarded in their studies. And of those 6,000,000 retarded children, 2,000,000 are retarded because of defective eyesight. It is estimated that defective eyesight among school children costs American taxpayers $130,000,000 a year.

Similar figures for Canada are not available but they are estimated to be relatively the same. That is more than 8% of our Canadian school children are suffering under a mental handicap because of defective eyesight. I wonder how many of these children have been adjudged stupid or "incorrigible"?

AEROPLANES

Efforts to fly by means of heavier than air craft antedate all other experiments in aerial navigation. The first authentic instance was in A.D. 67. An early student of aviation was Leonardo da Vinci, whose extant sketches show great technical knowledge of the mechanical problems involved. The first aeroplane to fly by mechanical propulsion was invented by an Englishman named Henson in 1843, a 20 horse power engine being used. In 1888 Sir Hiram Maxim built a machine which was practically successful, and Ader flew in Paris in 1900. Langley, who began experimenting with gliders in 1883, flew over the Potomac, in the United States, in 1896. Lilienthal made remarkable glides between 1879 and 1891. Following along these lines, the Wright brothers made their initial flights under motor power in 1903. From 1908, the year in which the Bleriot, Antoinette and Voisin bi-planes regularly flew in France, immense strides have been made. Early in 1908, Farman, on a Voisin bi-plane, flew 12 miles; in September of the same year Wilbur Wright remained in the air for one and a half hours and covered 60 miles. Exhibition meetings began in 1909, and progress thereafter was astonishingly rapid.

ROYALTY GREET'S PLUCKY CANADIAN CANOEIST

N. B. ELECTIONS NEXT MONTH

Hon. Peter Veinot, Premier of New Brunswick, has set Monday, August 10, as polling day for the general elections in that province. Nomination day will be Monday, August 3rd.

DR. WILLIAM S. WOODWORTH

KENTVILLE, July 22.—The death of Dr. William Somerville Woodworth, who for more than a half a century was widely recognized as one of the most skillful medical practitioners in Nova Scotia, occurred at his home here to-night, at the age of 78 years.

Dr. Woodworth was born at Centreville, Kings county, in October, 1847, and studied at Acadia Villa School, Hortonville, and with the late Doctor Borden at Upper Canard, and also taught school for several years before going to Harvard Medical College, where he obtained his degree of M.D. in 1873.

He was twice married, his first wife, who died in 1892, being Minnie Walton. In 1894, Dr. Woodworth married Edith Irene, daughter of the late Charles F. Eaton, of Lower Canard, by whom he is survived. Two sons also survive, Bruce Woodworth, M.A., an instructor at the Collegiate Institute, Rothsay, N. B., and Eric Woodworth, at the staff of Howard Bligh and Son, Kentville.

OKANAGAN APPLE CROP

VANCOUVER, July 22.—An Okanagan apple crop of 1,883,800 boxes, compared with last year's yield of 2,160,509 boxes, is the latest estimate of the Horticultural Department of the British Columbia Department of Agriculture, just issued. The decrease is mainly in the northern end of the valley. The Kelowna district is about the same as a year ago, and the southern section is better this season.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETING

The regular meeting of the School Board, which did not materialize at the appointed time because of the lack of a quorum, was held on Monday evening with Chairman Roach and Commissioners Chambers and MacPherson present.

Miss Harry, V.O.N., presented a report of the medical and dental examinations recently held by her. This showed a marked improvement in the conditions of the teeth of the children, which was most encouraging.

Authority was given the secretary of the Board to proceed with a census of all children of school age, as required by law.

The matter of coal supply was discussed and the chairman reported regarding enquiries made by him concerning prices, etc. This matter was finally left with the chairman to make further investigations and report at the August meeting.

Mr. Fred Wallace, of Boston, has sold his place at Hortonville to a Mr. Taylor, of Halifax.

Bartaux's Meat and Fish Market opened for business this morning in Duncanson's new store on Gasperau avenue, around the corner.

Remember the flavor of Rand's Ice Cream Soda of old? You can have the same now as we have reopened this department at Rand's Drug Store.

The 35th annual meeting of the Nova Scotia Dental Association convened at Digby last week. Among the delegates present was Dr. J. T. Roach, of Wolfville, who was elected 1st Vice-President.

Fifty thousand school children in New Brunswick will get free school books under the Provincial Government's new plan affecting pupils up to and including Grade Five of the city and town schools of the Province.

The town of Bridgewater was visited by a serious fire last Thursday when the C.N.R. round house, machine shops, stores department and mechanical offices were destroyed. The loss is estimated at about $500,000. The railway officials are making plans to rebuild.

The preacher at the Baptist church last Sunday morning was Dr. L. Lowell Murray, Director of the Canadian School of Missions, who had in charge the recent Missionary Conference held here. In the evening the pulpit was acceptably filled by Rev. E. M. A. Blakney, pastor of the First Baptist church of Uxua, N.Y.

Rev. Dr. Falconer, of Pine Hill College, who was in attendance at the Missionary Conference here during the past week, was the preacher at St. Andrew's church on Sunday evening. There was a large congregation present, and as is always the case when Dr. Falconer favors Wolfville people, his address was greatly enjoyed.

Mrs. Whittington, of Toronto, Miss Page, of Ottawa, and Miss Rowe, of Hamilton, are making a tour of the golf clubs in the Maritime Provinces, in the interests of the Canadian Ladies Golf Union. They will visit the Kenno Country Club on Saturday afternoon, and the public are invited to see these ladies play. Tea will be served from four to six o'clock.

Manager Evans of the Orpheum Theatre received a wire yesterday from the company playing "Uncle Tom's Cabin" stating that they were cancelling all their remaining dates in the province, and would not play here next week as advertised. This will be a great disappointment to the theatre goers of Wolfville and vicinity who were looking forward to this entertainment.

The pavilion on the Tourist Camp site has been completed and presents a very good appearance. It adds considerably to the comfort of visiting motorists, and represents a large amount of voluntary service on the part of certain citizens. In addition to those mentioned last week, Mayor Chambers and Messrs. J. L. Franklin and C. F. Stewart, and possibly others, contributed valuable assistance.

In the old days, prosperity was gauged by the number of spare rooms. Now it is determined by the number of spare tires a feller totes around.

BLACK FAILE COAT IS FASHION WITH SATIN AND TRIMMED WITH FUR

Practically all of the coats in the later season are of satin or faille. This model combines the modishness of both by choosing for the medium faille, lined with satin. The color is black, so the coat may be worn over any costume. The only touch of color appears in a border of mill brocade fur at the hem. The buttons are in the brown leather color of the coat.

CANADA'S POOR SHOWING

For 1924 the Dominion occupied seventh place among countries supplying Great Britain with butter, the value being 18,000,000 pounds from Denmark, 10,000,000 pounds from New Zealand, 4,425,000 pounds from Argentina, 4,111,000 pounds from the Irish Free State, 4,400,000 pounds from Australia, 1,297,000 pounds from Finland, and 1,269,000 pounds from Canada.

A great agricultural country like Canada should not look at these figures without blushing for her daily industry. The British market is ruled on a basis of quality and Canada has been far behind other countries with no better facilities for the development of the industry—if as good—and some of them much more disadvantageously situated as regards accessibility. In the matter of quality Canada has been found wanting.

The western provinces have made considerable progress in grading dairy products and a large portion of the total above is no doubt represented by butter from the prairie. Mr. J. S. Motherwell, the Dominion Minister of Agriculture, himself an investor, has shown that he is alive to the situation, and he is doing something to get the Canadian product up to grade. Something is also being done in Ontario by Hon. J. S. Martin. But there is still a great deal to be done if Canada is to live up to her opportunities—as these figures so emphatically indicate.—Financial Post.

AUSTRALIAN APPLES IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, July 18.—Twelve cases of Australian apples, believed by officials of the State Market Department to be the first ever shipped to this country from Australia, were distributed to retailers today after their arrival in the steamship Eastern Planet.

Arrivals of the fruit in fair condition, despite the fact that they were not shipped under regular refrigeration protection, convinced Sir James Elder, Australian commissioner in the United States, that apples from his country could be successfully shipped to United States markets.

MAN'S WAYWARD POSSESSIONS

A hole man of God long ago complained to a friend that he was always tired out at the end of the day because of the trouble he had with his animals. He explained that he owned two falcons that were always wide awake and anxious to fly, where he did not wish them to go; two hawks that were always trying to grab at things; two hares that he had the greatest difficulty in keeping from running away; a serpent that was always seeking to sting and a lion that was proud and ambitious and roaring.

"I cannot understand," said the friend, "why you should keep such animals and let them wear out your strength by the end of the day." And then he added, "Why not get rid of them?" "It is impossible to get rid of them," said the holy man. "My two falcons are mine eyes that are always anxious to see the things they ought not to see. My two hawks are my hands that always want to grab at other people's possessions. My two hares are my feet, that are always trying to stray out of the narrow path. My serpent is my tongue, that I have to keep imprisoned behind ivory gates, or it will sting my neighbors. My lion is my heart, proud and ambitious, and with no meekness in it, for it is always trying to have its own way."

"THE LEAVENWORTH CASE" READ BY MILLIONS

Whitman Bennett, who produced "The Leavenworth Case", which will be shown at the Orpheum Theatre on Monday and Tuesday, figures that the original novel by Anna Katherine Green, on which the picture is based, has been read by more than ten million persons and is still a prime favorite. "The Leavenworth Case", one of the first of the many successful mystery stories by Anna Katherine Green, was first published in 1878 and still has a regular sale at $2.00 a copy and has considerable demand in the public libraries. During the forty-five years it has been published as a book in many different editions, it has been serialized and repeatedly syndicated and twice it has been dramatized and presented on the stage. It has been translated and successfully published in virtually all the modern languages.

THE APPLE BARREL INDUSTRY IN NOVA SCOTIA

There is a phase of the apple industry in Nova Scotia of which comparatively little is known, namely, the manufacturing of and supplying the containers in which this fruit is packed for shipment. The favorite container in Nova Scotia is still the time-honored barrel. The bulk of the apple crop is exported in barrels so used are not available for a second year, and hence each year's crop demands practically a corresponding production of containers. The Annapolis Valley products most of the apples grown in Nova Scotia, which, in recent years, amounts to nearly two million barrels annually. The barrels in which these apples are packed are also produced locally. It is quite safe to assume that one and one-half million new barrels were used in handling the apple crop of 1924, while a large number are used also in shipping potatoes. The combined uses will account for an annual consumption of close to two million barrels. Two million apple barrels would make a formidable showing. If piled along the roadside in a column of six miles in breadth and three tiers in height, the end of the column would present a front ten feet wide and seven feet high, while its length would be nearly thirty miles. The apple industry is one that lends itself favorably to the small operator, hundreds of small farms in the "back" parts of counties adjacent to the apple belt—and particularly Lunenburg county, which is inhabited by a thrifty people of German and Dutch descent—the making of apple barrels is a profitable sideline on "rural industry". During the winter months the wood is cut and hauled to local sawmills. Second growth maple and birch is large used. The logs are first sawn into lengths, about the length of cordwood. A specially constructed cylinder then rips out the staves with the proper degree of roundness. They are then trimmed on a band-saw which automatically shapes them to the proper width, narrow at either end and wide in the centre. The barrel "heads" or "ends" are sawn from short pieces of boards of the proper thickness by a specially constructed saw. With his wood sawn into staves and ends the small operator then sets up assembling frames in some convenient shed at his own home where he fills many an hour of "spare" time. For this he uses saplings of alder, birch, poplar or other growths, which are shaved down to the required thickness. As the hay gradually disappears from his barn a second crop fills the vacancy—a crop of apple barrels, which will be marketed before the space is again required for hay. When baskets and ladders once more being overhauled and taken to the sheds, and English apple buyers begin to register at the "valley" hotels, the barrel maker bestirs himself to dispose of his produce. The hay rack is used on the farm wagon and piled up with a great load of barrels. Early in the morning he sets out on the long road that leads down from the "mountain" to the low orchard valleys. For some it is a two day trip. On the water-Windsor road, just before it dips down from the last rocky bench to the smiling Avon valley, there is a cluster of small huts where many farmers from a distance are wont to spend the night. Here on a quiet evening one may see great loads of apple barrels as well as of lumber and other produce, which early next morning will be on the streets of the valley towns. Apple barrels now sell for 40, 45, 50 cents each. During the war they soared to a dollar. Of course there are many shops which have a large output but the combined production of the small operators, to whom such work is merely a sideline, plays an important part in stabilizing the industry. The ready cash so earned is a welcome addition to the limited incomes of these people, whose location denies them the opportunity of otherwise sharing in the profits of the great apple industry. A two million barrel crop of apples means that at least one and a half million new barrels will be purchased at a cost of nearly three quarters of a million dollars.—Natural Resources Intelligence Service.

CARE OF UNIVERSAL JOINT

The universal joint should never be neglected because it is not easy of access. It does a terrific amount of work, and must be lubricated properly to stand the strain and also to transmit power without absorbing a great deal of it through friction. As it begins to wear it develops a peculiar thump, which gets worse very rapidly.

PORT WILLIAMS AND VICINITY

Mr. Manning K. Ellis and Mr. Aubrey B. Rand, left on Monday for London, Eng., via Halifax, expecting to be gone several weeks.

Mr. Wm. Jacques, of Church Street, who was seriously injured by a falling timber when tearing down his old barn, is sufficiently recovered to be out superintending his work again.

The Girl Guides who were at camp at Sunken Lake for their vacation returned to their homes on Saturday last.

Mr. James C. Flood, of the Royal Bank, Charlottetown, P.E.I., who has been visiting his aunt, Mrs. O. G. Cogswell, has returned to his home in Hunter River, P.E.I.

Miss Addie Snowden, of the class of "24", Acadia Ladies Seminary, was the week end guest of her classmate, Miss Lucy A. Cogswell.

Miss A. M. Cogswell is spending a few days at Evangeline Beach, the guest of Mrs. Philip Illsley.

Mr. Mason D. Cogswell is visiting his aunt, Mrs. Murdock Cutcliffe, Hunter River, P.E.I.

Miss Hazel Dodge, with her friend Miss Miner, both of the Academy teaching staff of Kentville, have been visiting Miss Dodge's cousin, Mrs. A. Neil Coulstan, Main street.

Miss Eleanor Harris, Kentville, is assisting in Mr. A. B. Rand's store and post office during the absence of Mr. Rand in London.

Rev. O. N. Chipman is exchanging pulpits with Rev. Mr. Schurman, of Billtown, on Sunday. The service in Port Williams is in the evening at 7.30.

Mr. Coulstan, of Margareville, is visiting his son, Mr. A. N. Coulstan.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Dodge and son Gordon spent the week end in Halifax recently, the guests of Mrs. Dodge's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clement.

Mrs. Justin E. Gates, who motored to St. John, N.B., for a two weeks' vacation, returned home on Saturday last. While there she was the guest of her sister in Fairville, N.B.

Mr. and Mrs. Singleton and family, who with Mrs. Singleton's mother and sister, Mrs. Florence Eaton and Miss Terry Eaton, have been visiting friends and relatives here, started on their return trip by motor for their home in Brockton, Mass., on Tuesday afternoon.

Rev. F. H. Beals was a visitor at our Sunday school on the 19th. Mr. Beals was at one time pastor here, and his many friends gave him a hearty welcome.

Mrs. W. A. Hiltz recently spent the day with her aunt, Mrs. O. G. Cogswell.

Miss Vivian MacDow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grant MacDow, Church Street, is spending her vacation in Amherst, with her aunt, Mrs. Dr. Goodwin.

Sunday morning marked the passing away of an aged lady, Mrs. Latimer, who for the last few years has made her home with her daughter, Mrs. (Capt.) J. E. Faulkner. Mrs. Latimer had been in failing health for some time, yet her death was very unexpected and came as a great shock to the family.

The funeral service was held on Monday afternoon at four o'clock, and was conducted by Rev. O. N. Chipman, assisted by Rev. Mr. Archibald, of the United church of Canard. The choir was also in attendance, and the hymns sung were, "Nearer My Home" and the "Shepherd's Psalm", a favorite of the deceased. The sympathy of the community is extended to Mrs. Faulkner and family.

Mrs. Mitchell, of Milford, Hants county, is the guest of Mrs. Wm. H. Graves.

Miss Nina MacDow is spending a few days at her home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Abram MacDow.

Miss Hattie Murphy motored to West Gore, Hants county, on Sunday last.

Mr. and Mrs. Crimp, of Dartmouth, accompanied by Mr. Crimp's sister, Mrs. Pierce, of Port Maitland, were the guests over Sunday of Mrs. Elizabeth Eldridge, Main street.

Miss Ella Wood, accompanied by Mrs. T. S. Lockwood, went to Delhaven last week, where they are enjoying a well earned vacation.

Mrs. Laura Pierce and son Laurie, who have been visiting Mrs. Elizabeth Eldridge, left for their home in Port Maitland, Yarmouth county, on Tuesday morning.

On Monday evening in the vestry of the United Baptist church, a recital, long to be remembered, was given by three young ladies, viz., the "Copley Club Trio", of Boston, Mass.—Miss Stella Whitman, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. A. H. Whitman, Lawrencetown, pianiste and reader; Miss Aimee Burpee, whistler and bird imitator, from Vermont; and Miss Maybelle Trask, contralto soloist, of Boston, Mass., all of whom are graduates of the New England Conservatory of Music, while Miss Whitman is also a post graduate of Mount Allison Conservatory of Music and a graduate of the Emerson School of Oratory, Boston. These ladies are all artists in their professions, and we will look forward to hearing them again, let us hope, next year.

Miss Maude Clarke, Boston, daughter of the late David Clarke, Port Williams, is visiting her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Eaton, Hillcrest, and Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Starr, Starr's Point.

Joan, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. B. Marriott, Starr's Point, returned from the hospital, Halifax, on Thursday last, where she underwent medical treatment.

Mrs. Spidell and daughter Mildred arrived from their home in Massachusetts one day the first of last week and are guests here at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James E. Forsythe, also her sister, Mrs. Hazen Bishop.

Mr. William Ritchie, who has a splendid and progressive position in Glace Bay, C.B., was a visitor a few days last week at the home of his sister, Mrs. Leslie Dakin.

Miss Illsley, of Coldbrook, accompanied by a girl friend, were guests a few days last week at the home of the former's sister, Mrs. Norman Regan.

A large hydroplane passed over here toward the South East last Wednesday afternoon, being heard and seen very plainly.

A number from here, motored to Kentville last Tuesday evening to enjoy the excellent program put on there by the band.

Miss Elsie Piper, of Beaver River, Yarmouth county, who was a former school teacher here and who was a guest for two weeks of her friend, Miss Esther Pearson, left last Thursday to return home. Miss Piper plans to leave next month for British Columbia where she will be married and make her home. Her friends here extend to her every good wish.

Evelyn Forsythe, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Forsythe, Cambridge, former residents here, is visiting her cousin, Alice Bishop, before she leaves with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hazen Bishop, for New Jersey.

Mrs. Parsons, whose home is in Colchester county, is a guest of her sister, Mrs. Frederick Ford.

Mr. Hazen Bishop left Friday morning on a business trip to the state of New Jersey, U.S.A.

Mrs. Patterson and little daughter Effie, of Truro, who visited over a week at the home of Mrs. Patterson's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. T. Andrew Pearson, left to return home last Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Singleton, with their little daughter and son, of Brockton, Mass., have been guests for several days at the home of Mrs. Singleton's uncle, Mr. G. I. Fraser. Mr. and Mrs. Harris Forsythe motored over to Glenmont on Sunday, where they spent the day with relatives. They were accompanied by Mrs. Lois Lockhart, an aged aunt of Mr. Forsythe's, who returned to her home there after visiting for several weeks, a guest of relatives here and at Port Williams.

At the home of the nurse, Mrs. Grace Andrew, on Saturday 18, a daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Meisner, of Wolfville, their first child. Congratulations.

Mrs. Norman Regan returned home Monday afternoon from a visit of a few days at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Parker Illsley, Coldbrook.

Many of our residents went over to Port Williams on Monday evening to the "Novelty Concert", put on by Miss Trask, a singer with wonderful contralto voice, Miss Whitman, a reader, and Miss Burpee, whistler and bird imitator. The first two of these gifted young ladies were born in Nova Scotia, the third in Vermont. They were enjoyed to the full and those absent missed a rare treat, many saying the concert was well worth three or four times the price charged. Each young lady is an artist. We understand a part of the proceeds went to the Baptist church, th concert being held in the large vestry of that church.

DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF HANTSPORT AND VICINITY

EDITORIAL

As a tourist resort Hantsport possesses attractions which when better known will ensure an influx of summer visitors that will add greatly to the prosperity of the town. These attractions the citizens generally and particularly the civic authorities should take measures to bring to the attention of the public. Few places possess such a variety of landscape and seascape as does this favored town and its surroundings, and none in the valley and along the line of railway has so good facilities for boating and bathing. A few only of the available and desirable lots on the river bank have been taken up, and what more desirable place of summer residence could be found. Some day Hantsport will have come into its own and visitors from far and near will enjoy its beauties and publish the story of its advantages. And an enterprising and optimistic people may—if they will—hasten greatly the time of its coming.

No news is said to be good news, but the people of Hantsport, who have been waiting for a long time for news with regard to the promised new post-office building, are not disposed to so regard it. A site for the building was selected several years ago, and we understand a small amount has been placed in the estimates towards making a start with the work. The prospect of an early federal election makes the time opportune for pressing our claims for recognition in this matter, and we would suggest that a move be made at once. Other towns of less importance have long enjoyed the privilege which has been denied Hantsport although many moons overdue.

HANTSPORT HAPPENINGS

Mrs. M. Oulton, of Stellarton, delighted the large congregation at both morning and evening services of the United Church on Sunday by the splendid rendition of the two solos, "I Have Done My Work", by Carrie Jacobs Bond, and "God Be Merciful to Me", by Helen Percippi.

The "Avon cottages" belonging to W. Churchill are all occupied, the tenants being as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Jarden, New York; Mrs. Davis and child, Mrs. Sweely and daughter, Boston; Mrs. Randal Hilsley, Miss Lillian Hilsley, Middleton; Mrs. Blackadar and family, Halifax. These cottages are situated in a most picturesque place on the banks of the Avon River.

Mr. D. MacMichael, of Halifax, spent Sunday with friends in one of the "Avon cottages".

Mr. Arthur Davis, who spent several weeks with his family who are summering here, returned to Boston on Friday.

Mrs. (Dr.) A. B. Dickie was in attendance at the Women's Conference of the United Church, which convened at Wolfville recently.

The Misses Leslie and Margaret Green, of St. John, N.B., are guests of their cousin Mrs. R. W. Churchill.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Murray have for their guests, Mr. Allen McKinnon, of Springhill.

Miss Elmira Borden, a successful teacher in the West, is spending the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Borden.

The many friends of Miss Gladys Masters are pleased to learn that she is convalescing from an operation for appendicitis at the Victoria General Hospital, Halifax.

Rev. J. W. and Mrs. Prestwood have for their guests their daughter, Mrs. Gardiner, and two children, of Sydney.

Miss Eleanor Metzler, of Boston, is visiting at her home here.

Mrs. A. H. Sutherland, Baddeck, is spending several weeks with her sister, Mrs. A. J. Hart.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Churchill were "At Home" to a number of their friends on Thursday evening last.

Miss Phyllis Davison and Lloyd Fleming were successful in obtaining Grade A certificates at the provincial examinations.

Mrs. Brown (nee Frances Woolaver), of Boston, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Woolaver.

Mr. and Mrs. Singer, Windsor, have taken the "Dorman" home for the vacation season.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Yeaton returned by automobile to their home in Bridgewater, Mass., after a vacation spent with relatives in Hantsport.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Francis and son and Mrs. Percy Walley and daughter returned recently from a motor trip to Cape Breton. Mr. and Mrs. Francis and Mrs. Walley are guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Francis.

Mr. Neil Forsythe, of Truro, spent Sunday at his home here.

Messrs. W. S. Whitman, C. E. Burgess, C. I. Burgess and S. Harvie recently enjoyed a day's fishing at Card's Lake. They report an excellent catch.

The Bazaar, under the auspices of St. Andrew's Anglican church, held on the Athletic grounds on Wednesday and Thursday of last week, was a success from every point of view. The promoter, Rev. Mr. Cribb, the rector, is worthy of great commendation for the success of the fair.

The citizens of Hantsport regret to learn of the passing away of Mrs. Lattimer, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. (Capt.) Faulkner, Port Williams. Mrs. Lattimer, who was a most estimable lady, resided in Hantsport for a number of years and was greatly beloved by all who knew her.

Mrs. Haliburton Henry and child, of Montreal, are guests of Mrs. F. E. Dodge.

Miss Abbie Beazley left last week for Chester, where she will spend two weeks.

Mrs. A. E. Skaling and two children, of Boston, arrived in Hantsport on Monday.

Mrs. H. V. Bishop has for her guest her sister, Mrs. Chas. Leamon, and little daughter, of Montreal.

Mrs. Mary Miller and grandson, Master Allister Sparks, who have been visiting Capt. and Mrs. Taylor, returned to their home in New Glasgow on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Lockhart are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter.

Mr. L. Geizler, of Walton, visited friends here recently.

The Misses Merle and Kathleen Yeaton are enjoying an outing at Evangeline Beach. Miss Gladys Patten was their guest for the week end.

Mr. Fred Currie, of P.E.I., is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Currie.

THEY LOVE EACH OTHER SO

The Ladies' Football team and reserves of the Femina-Sport Club de Paris, visited England to play a series of nine matches against English girls, as represented by Dick Kerr's Team (composed chiefly of mill girls) of Preston, Lancashire. This was the fifth time that a team from the Femina-Sport Club of Paris played against an English team of girls in England and the charity which benefits is the "Shipwrecked Mariners' Society". The photograph shows the salutations of the captains—Middle, Carmen Pomies (France) and Miss Florrie Redford (England).

Miss Laura Lane, of Morden, Kings county, is visiting her grandfather, Mr. J. W. Lawrence.

Mrs. Leonore Bishop, who spent several days with her friend, Miss Conradi Woodman, Falmouth, returned home recently.

Mr. T. W. Shaw, of Boston, is visiting his family here.

Mrs. Carl Pulsifer and child, of Waltham, Mass., and Mrs. Thompson, of New York, are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Salter.

Mr. Albert Stevens, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Stevens, has returned from a trip to New Zealand and Australia, and is now the guest of his parents.

Mr. E. Lester, of Halifax, is spending two weeks vacation with his family. Mr. and Mrs. Andrew and little son returned to Michigan on Monday, after spending several weeks with Mrs. Andrew's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. Sanford. They were accompanied by Mr. Orris Sanford.

Mrs. Ackworth and little daughter and Miss Annie Barker are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Harold Barker, Hants Border.

Mrs. L. Taylor is spending several weeks at the home of her parents in Cumberland county.

Mrs. Harding and daughter, of Yarmouth, are guests of Mrs. Mary Perry.

PUT THE WOODBOX ON CASTORS

Putting the woodbox on castors is a simple change in kitchen arrangement, but it makes it easier to keep the kitchen clean and to manage the fire in the range. The woodbox can be easily rolled close to the range when the fire needs replenishing, then pushed out of the way when cooking is over.

When it can be rolled about rubbish and dirt will not gather behind and under it as it will with a stationary box which is too heavy to move.

A rack may be added at the back on which to hang papers. They are then ready to start the fire, clean the stove, or put down when a messy job is in progress, such as picking a chicken, cleaning fish or polishing silver.

"One thing certain is that few clothes lines are breaking these days from the weight of women's clothes pinned there-in."

"Aye Sandy, I daur say you were."

"An' wasna I here on the Monday night?"

"Aye, so ye were."

"An' I was here on Tuesday night, an' Wednesday night an' Thursday night, an' Friday night?"

"An' this is Saturday night an' I'm here again?"

"Well, what for no? I'm sure ye're very welcome."

Sandy (desperately): "Maggie, woman, dae ye no begin to smell a rat?"

Why Keep Advertising?

When business is slack why Advertise?

Did you ever notice that it takes time and persistence to accomplish anything worth while? You can't advertise today and expect to find your store crowded tomorrow, unless you have through constant advertising educated the public to read your ads.

The majority of people are slow to act. You have to tell them the same thing over and over again before they will heed your message.

Advertise now for the business you hope to do next month—it is the cumulative effect that brings results.

For help in your advertising we have the Bonnet-Brown Sales Service of Cuts and Ready-written Ads. We'll gladly explain their benefits to you.

"Trust! Huh!" Greer laughed drily. "I've lost out on this. And say, if I go back alone to Colvalli they'll ask where Mark is. Have you thought of that? If neither of us go back—neither Bantling nor me—there will be no wonder about us. Nobody in Colvalli will think of us again."

"Something in that," agreed Angus, nodding his head up and down slowly several times. "And it saves us all kinds of trouble in giving evidence. Where do you propose to go?"

"Greer shrugged his shoulders. "You've confiscated my rifle," he said. "I can't live on the land without it."

"We'll give you grub," Angus promised. "We have enough still. We eked it out with fish."

"Away south there's a trail to Republics," said Greer. "That will suit me nicely, thank you, your worship," he ended gaily.

"We've got to see you down to the lake, Scotty," said Piccolo. "The Indians might be gone."

"All right," said Angus. "So be it. But it is my opinion they will still be there though we cannot see any camp smoke from here."

In the camp they made back near the timber, they discussed details. Angus would go by Indian canoe (if the Indians were still on the lake shore) to Kokanee; Piccolo would ride Mark Bantling's horse as far as where Greer knew of a trail crossing south-west to Republics, south of the Boundary. Then he would ride on Movie Bill's pack-horse.

And so it went. Next day they departed from the scene of the discovery to the lake. Angus went first, Greer trudging next, Piccolo next, Movie Bill in the rear. They stayed, on the way, at the camp where Angus had rested.

In the middle of the night, the fire dwindling low, Movie Bill said: "Greer! You awake?"

"Yes."

"Guess you're the fire-tender. Get up and put a log on."

"You bet you," said Greer.

As it happened all were awake. A nip of night chill had broken their slumber. They watched Greer as he dragged a big log to the fire. The sparks showered up. Then his bulk, between them and the further, the far off shower of stars in the big sky, bent and wrestled with what seemed to be a stump. He dragged it up and, coming back, tossed that also on the fire and then sank down with a growl of content to roll in his blankets again.

It was the board, with the initials "M.B." upon it, that he had committed to the flames. There would never be any enquiries. He would ride south with Piccolo and Movie Bill to beyond the Boundary, and then then the trail to Republics and the incident would be closed. He had not forgotten that the Kokanee policeman was ferreting news regarding the little company of crooks to which he was affiliated.

In the morning they continued their way to the lake, MacPherson in advance to set the pace, unhampered by any load, then Piccolo with his partner's specimens for Angus to take with him, then Movie Bill with the food for the old man's trip, and his rifle.

The Indians, as it happened (Angus's hazard was proved correct) were still on the beach, their canoes repairing, and they knew the value of five dollars if not of a five dollar bill. Angus, forgetting that not all by these out of the way lake sides are mission and school Indians, cried two of the elders by showing a five dollar bill as payment for the passage he asked of them.

He had to get change from Piccolo when they put the price up. They put it up to four one dollar bills instead of the one five dollar bill. They had not been to the mission school. They wanted to have the four bills on the spot, but Angus made them a sporting offer of four there or two there, and three on arrival. He might "come from Aberdeen", as he so often said, but he had a pity for them in their ignorance, and he thought the trip well worth five dollars.

They understood that and, each pocketing a bill, bade him embark. It would take them, they said, only four sleeps to reach the camp the white men had made, where the big boat came.

"I'll be home as soon as you fellows," said Angus "if there is a big boat going out of Kokanee soon."

The three on the shore stood a while watching the boat, and then the square back of Angus MacPherson in the stern. Then they turned and broke back again uphill.

And so it was that by the time Angus reached Kokanee—four sleeps—there would along the great slow slopes, dropping down into Washington, a string of horses, three riders and three pack-ponies. They rode easily. None who might have met them would have surmised any adventure out of the way. But they met no one.

On the afternoon of the fifth day Movie Bill, who rode in the lead behind his pack-horse, suddenly reined in and sidled Baldy to and fro, stopping the two pack-horses that belonged to Greer. These had been following, between him and Greer, Piccolo in the rear.

"Is this where you leave us, Greer?" asked Movie Bill.

"Yes," answered Greer casually. He fumbled in a breast pocket and produced a leather cigar-case and slipped the slide top off. "They are kind of crushed," he said. "I have just two left. Have one?"

"No thank you. You keep them. I'd take one to show there is no ill feeling now," said Movie Bill, "but to tell the truth cigars get my throat. A pipe, or a cigarette I roll myself, is all I use."

Piccolo had ridden up close enough, as the procession halted, to hear the end of this remark and to recall how Angus, defending his friend, or at any rate refusing to "damn him at a venture," had told him of this peculiarity. He felt "mean", thinking of how all his cumulative evidence against Movie Bill was erroneous and how, in what Angus would call his "throwness", he had refused to see any possible evidence in the other direction.

The cigar-case was still in Greer's hand. He glanced at Piccolo, hesitated, then put it back in his pocket. After all he had but little tobacco left; he would want it all, and the two cigars also before he came to where he could replenish—at Republics. There was no store, not even a trader's store, he knew until then.

Piccolo's eyelids drooped. He bit his lip like an ignored child.

"This is where you pop off M.B.'s horse," said Greer to him, and laughed. "I sure enjoyed myself over the way you fellows would persist in believing Movie Bill was in our outfit."

Piccolo slipped from the saddle.

"Give you a hand at fixing that pack horse of yours for riding," Greer offered.

"Thank you," said Piccolo.

But Movie Bill had swung from his saddle to look after that matter.

No passer-by would have tapped any strange tale. It was just three men in a valley's bottom beside a southwest trending creek that brawled along full and dancing, in polished slides, and rifles, tossing spray in the sun glow, and on one bank a trail winding along, and a mark of hoofs going down into the water and visible across it, indicating a ford.

Blankets were rolled afresh and tied behind Movie Bill's saddle, and behind the pack-saddle. One was folded and set in the crotch of the pack-saddle for Pic's comfort. The pack-boxes were tossed away—to puzzle, some day perhaps, other travellers in these lonely stretches of the border.

Greer looked at the two men who had been his wardens for the past days. He stepped to his horse and caught the lines, turned back, looked at them again. They stood watching him. They had been cast together in the big hills; they had camped and ridden together; they had watched one another's ways with horses. A city man may not understand, or he may. Having a sudden impulse Movie Bill and Greer stepped forward, each holding out a hand.

"Well, so-long," said Greer.

"So-long and good luck," said Movie Bill.

Little Piccolo looked from one to the other, drew himself up to try and seem as tall as they; breathed deep to try and seem as deep chested as they.

Greer gave a laugh and held out his hand.

"So-long," he said, smiling humorously.

"So-long," said Piccolo, "and good luck," he added.

Greer swung to the saddle, whirled the slack of his long lines round the heads of his two pack-ponies, herding them along the creek-side trail. Movie Bill led the way down into the creek.

"I'll go in first to lead," said he. "It is pretty full. We don't want to be washed down. That pack-horse you're riding is all right, Pic. Give him his head and he'll follow."

In mid-stream as the two horses were plunging down their hoofs, stepping gingerly, atilt to the rush of the waters, Movie Bill's head flicked round, as if drawn round—and there he saw, in a curve of the north bank, almost out of sight, Greer's two pack-horses and Bantling's saddle horse trudging south-west. Greer, behind them, had halted, half turned in the saddle to see how his two late companions made the crossing.

Against the yellow bluffs (for there is the beginning of a dry belt, sand bastions pushed into the hill) he craned backward, watching, although almost too far round the bend to see. His horse had gone on a step or two belike, not halted at once when reined in by the rider to look.

The horses came out of the creek. Movie Bill's arm, as he looked round again, went up in air, palm outspread. Greer replied at the same moment, arm slowly raised, palm open; then his heels flicked his horse's flanks, and he rode out of the story.

CHAPTER XX.

So-Long All!

And the story nears an end; for this is not a yarn of the ultimate city on Flat-Bow Arm; the smaller life of parties and petty scandal and all that from which broad gauge people long to get away. Flat-Bow Arm has now a stern-wheeler of its own that churns down daily from Kokanee, making the echoes of the surrounding hills with a roar, at three forty-five every day, coming into the landing to west of MacPherson Creek, near where the Indians camped.

There is busy little Thomas Avenue, and Tremaine Street, and two hold-up three hundred per cent., and the normal hundred per cent. stores, military windows, churches, two movie houses; and there are Sunday School picnics to—to where, think you? To Silver Beach. That's what they call the beach where Piccolo and Angus, dropping down into summer by the old Indian trail on Salmon River creek, from the winter end on the Osk range, looked across the lake and wondered if star or fire was on the black hump of the ridge opposite.

As Greer went, so all are soon to go from sight, back whence they came—as automata of a dream.

That the prospect sold, later, for two hundred thousand dollars to the Columbia and Oregon river Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company is in the old files of the Ledge and The Miner and Prospector. This is but the yarn, the story behind, that few of the Flat-Bow citizens think about now. But in its own way it is a Historical Romance.

In the event old Angus MacPherson was home in Colvalli the day before Piccolo and Movie Bill arrived. He had a lift in an automobile all the way from Eagle Bend to his door; and as he stepped out the little black spaniel—Darkie—leapt at him, a wriggle of wag, a wag from his shoulders to the tip of his tail, though the tail was but a blur because of its quick movement. Margaret, in a dusting cap and long water proof apron over her house dress, came to the porch and stared. Caress—kiss—reunion; with Percy, the driver of the car, bending down and examining his gear as though something was wrong with it, though it was in perfect order.

Then Percy climbed aboard again and the automobile purred away; and Margaret and her father went indoors, tripping and stumbling over the whirling dog.

"AN APPLE A DAY—"

Christopher Tells You How You Can Live to Be a Hundred

My nephew Christopher was recently reading in a newspaper an interview with a wonderful old gentleman, who had just celebrated his hundredth birthday, and was still "going strong". After studying the old man's explanations to account for his wonderful health at so great an age, Christopher has compiled a few hints for those of you who wish to live to be a hundred.

"If only your readers follow my advice," writes Christopher, "they will live to the most amazing ages. At sixty they will be as lively as children of ten; at ninety they will be in their prime; at a hundred and twenty—(I think that will do, Chris; let's get on to your hints straightaway).

Well, here are Christopher's hints and I pass them on to you for what they are worth.

Rise every morning, summer and winter alike, at five o'clock and have a cold plunge. Spend half an hour in front of an open window doing Swedish exercises, followed by ten minutes' dumbbell drill, five minutes' weight-lifting, and ten minutes' massage of the knee-caps with a lump of ice. Then have another cold plunge.

Go on a five-mile run and return, fit and hungry, for breakfast, which should consist of two pieces of brown bread and three raw apples, washed down by two pints and a half of cold water.

Luncheon, served at 12.30 to the second, should consist of 4 oz. of boiled shrimps (each one of which must be masticated for not less than fifty seconds to ensure perfect digestion), a piece of brown bread and five more raw apples.

Tea does not come in at all, but dinner may be served on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays (as well as bank holidays), and should be made up of a nut cutlet not more than four inches long by three-quarters of an inch thick. Brown bread and water may also be served.

On no account dream of touching puddings or cakes. Those who eat jam roly-poly cannot possibly live to more than a hundred and twenty. Every slice of plum cake means the loss of ten years, so that if you are rash enough to eat a whole cake you will probably end up about minus sixty, which is a most unsatisfactory age. Avoid cream buns, eclairs, jam tarts, etc., as though they were poison.

Not less than nine cold plunges should be taken at regular intervals throughout the day, and it is essential to be in bed at seven. Eating sweets or ices between meals (or at any other time) is fatal; parties should be avoided like the plague, and—

I think we'll leave it at that. And now you know (according to Chris!) just what to do—if you think it worth while!

VEGETABLES WILL KEEP YOU FIT IF GIVEN CHANCE

Vegetables are certainly good for you, but generally people do not know which kinds are especially useful for certain complaints.

Tomatoes, for instance, are good for the liver. People who suffer from rheumatism should eat celery, while garlic—that strong smelling onion—should be taken for asthma.

Lettuces supply iron to the system, and onions are good for sleeplessness. They are also useful as a sedative for the nerves.

Spinach is rich in iron and a capital food for anaemia, and cabbage is a good all-round cleansing food. As a blood purifier, there is nothing finer than watercress.

Beetroot will promote digestion, and carrots are invaluable for nervous irritability. Carrots are also good for the complexion.

The truth of the "apple a day" maxim has been proved time and again. An apple eaten every day will keep you healthy. Apples purify the system and improve the nerves, as well as supplying necessary foods to the brain.

How To Write Want Advertisements

What to say---and how to say it---facts that influence the results you are after.

Results from classified advertisements depend largely upon how the advertisements are written. The following are suggestions that might prove helpful in properly writing a classified advertisement:

Don't try to save space by abbreviating or leaving out words. Use plain English and enough of it to tell all about the proposition.

Point out in your proposition the things in which you think the prospect would be most readily interested.

Select the strongest selling point; this may be the price, the opportunity to make or save money, the exclusiveness of the proposition or location, the size, the terms or any one of a hundred things.

Emphasize this point or points to arrest the reader's eye as he glances through the classified columns; this can be accomplished by placing the most important features at the head of the advertisement or by the use of large type.

Inasmuch as the amount of money involved is a vital factor in all transactions prices should be given.

A man does not want to waste time looking up a proposition when he does not know whether it is within the range of his pocketbook. He answers those advertisements he knows come within the price he has in mind. Many people will not answer an advertisement that omits the price, feeling that the advertiser intentionally did not mention the price because it is too high.

The number of replies lost because the price is too low or too high is more than made up by the response gained from those to whom the price is right and who probably would not have replied at all if the price had been omitted.

Make your classified advertisement specific. If it is sold on terms, point out the specific terms, not just "easy terms", but "$10 down and $5 a month".

Always bear in mind that what is "easy", "desirable", "convenient", "good", "beautiful", "wonderful", "close", "cheap", for one person may not be for another.

The pulling power of the classified advertising lies in the directness with which important details are specified.

It is always well to impel action at the end of an advertisement. Often a person will have a real want and need for the thing advertised, but the wording of the advertisement somehow lacks the power of suggestion to induce action.

To overcome this it is advisable to use a phrase that helps the reader to respond at once. "First caller gets this." "This will not last long at the price." "This is a special offer, see Mr. Smith before noon." "Telephone us and we will call for you in our car," and other such phrases often stimulate immediate action.

Another element that invites immediate response is to make it easy for the person answering the classified advertisement to find you.

A telephone number is usually very easily called and many people dislike to call personally unless they can determine further details by telephone conversation beforehand.

On the other hand, street addresses should be given wherever possible.

Some people have no telephone, others dislike using it and therefore prefer calling in person.

Not only make it easy for the reader to answer your advertisement but always be on hand to answer calls when they come.

This seems like rather foolish advice, yet experience in classified advertising proves that many people expect a classified advertisement to bring returns when they are not even present to receive the answers or will depend on a person to receive the answers who knows little or nothing about what is advertised.

Repetition has a certain strength. Classified Ads that readers pass by the first week receive interested attention and response the next.

One of the peculiarities in classified advertising is the fact that an advertisement may run several weeks and not bring a single result, yet the following week, possibly when least expected, answers will come from every quarter. For this reason, experienced advertisers order their advertisements to run a number of weeks.
