Europe is no more assured to day than it was during the anxious weeks of the same month thirty-two years ago, when Lord Aberdeen timidly fenced with the agents of the Czar Nicholas, and Europe wavered from day to day between the fear of war and the hope of peace. The present tem-porary respite seems to the unthinking porary respite seems to the unthinking mind the equivalent of a permanent settlement, and the English press correspondents at Paris, Berlin and Vienna, who are careful always to reflect the current tone of London opinion instead of that of the capitals at which they are stationed, now chatter as if the whole affair had blown over. fair had blown over. As a matter of fact, however, the situation could hardly be in a more critical and menaoing stage than it is now. Among politicians the better in-formed a man is the more firmly he be-lieves that the outcome must inevitably be war. The only way out of it is an abject and complete surrender on the part of Essland, and that the country will not tolerate the bare thought of. There is a general feeling that a war just now with Russia might be the very best thing that could happen. The presence of Russians at last in sight of Herat marks a new era in the defence of the Indian fron-tier. Hereafter even the best peace could only be an armed and vigitant watch, in volving vast expense and sacrifice, while putting it in the power of Russia to turn the screws on England whenever she liked. Such a state of affairs as this view pictures to English forebodings would be intoler-able, and hence the alternative of smashing the Russians once for all grows in attrac-tiveness. The ministry is believed not to be insensible to this feeling, and it may serve to stiffen their backs at the critical moment which soon must come.

One thing there is to the credit of Mr. Morris which deserves special mention, and special recognition too, in a practical form. He it was, most unquestionably who forced the Mowat government to show their hands, and compelled them to take action in the matter of the parliament buildings. But for the energy with which he forced the fighting and drove the local government into a corner, the thing would without doubt have been shillyshallied over to another session. The courteous host noticed his embarrass ment and said: "You are no doubt sur-prised at such luxury in a Jewish house." "No replied the rabbi, not at the riches am I surprised, nor at the splendor, but that you are not the least grateful to the giver, that you..." "Ah, now I know what you are aiming at, dear rabbi," interrupted the man with a smilling gesture; "but spare your pains. I have chosen my mode of life, and heg you to stay here a while to watch it very closely. To morrow is my daughter's wedding; be present at the feast." "You' daughter's wedding? No doubt you will have arish son-in law?" "That softened the rabbi somewhat, but he continued in a stern voice: "No, I wish to have nothing to do with you until you have sworn repentance and improvement, and attend to your salvation." Fixing Soft Coal Price

How little the duty of 60c. per ton ha to do with raising the price of soft coal may be imagined from the following, which was sent to the New York Tribune from Montreal under date of the 18th inst. :

The corridors of the Windsor hotel were thronged to day with a crowd of soft-coal min 78 and chippers gathered here to attend the Grand Trunk coal meeting held for the setting of the contract for half a million tons. This Extraordinary Winter.

The continuance of extreme mid-winte cold up to the time of the spring equinor is fortunately something very rarely expe rienced in Canada. We expect soon to b told, by our keepers of the records, that it is not of more frequent occurrence than twice or thrice in a century. Old inhabi isants say that we must go back forty or ifty years to find a parallel to the present nonth of March. The experience is one we are all heartily tired of, and we look inxiously around for some weather prophet who will give us reasonable hope of a ipeedy release from it.

The new American melodrama, "Shadow for Europe with her father, but on ar-rival at Liverpool slipped away and left of a Great City," will be the attraction at Mr. Murray, returning on the same boat and notifving Lambe, who is now waiting the Grand opera house all this week, with matinees on Wednesday and Saturday. n New York to welcome her. Lambe left Toronto a few days ago and spoken of in the American cities where as not been seen since.

At Montiord's museum all this week the well known comedians Harry and Fanny Osborne and their company will appear. The Osbornes are very clever people. The St. Louis Globe-Democrat says of Fanny: "Is a most happy combination of the emotional and comedienne. Bainer dissolved partnership with Frank Swoetnem and John Hazelton, as puaso manufacturett, and that asid Joseph F. Rainer, with his son, will continue to manufacture the original cross-scale Pianos, of which the said Joseph F. Rainer is the soil inventor. Binco the above dissolution. My Reiner, sr., has greatly improved the smail Cross-scale Piano by adding one string more to each note throughout the middle, making throe strings to each note instead of two, thus giving the Piano a third more power of tone throughout the middle. There will be fifty-three no?es from the tashle down that will have three strings instead of twenty-four notes from the treble down as formerly. The undersigned will give to wholesale and retail oustomers the benefit of this improvement by letting them have these Pianos for the same price as the once, formerly made with two strings. These Pianos have now been before the pub-lic for 23 years, and have alwaysranked among the very best, and are celebrated for quality of tone, great power and durability of action, promyt elastic touch, fine finish and elegant style of case, combined with every known im-movement. Themost complete and unbroken list on record, embracing a period of 30 years, and made up of 23 first prizes, medals and diplomes, received at the principal exhibitions in Canada-Montreal, Kingston, Toronto, Hamilton and London. At the Centennial Ex-hibition in Philadelphia, in 1876, we secured a medal and diploms for our piano. The great favor with which the cross-scale piano the secured a medal and degreat prizes, and the re-putation they bear, has induced others to im-late them.
