REGARDING the taste of apples now as compared with a few years ago, it is pointed out that in cities in the apple belts the Fruit Marks Act has to some extent had a bad effect on the kind of apples sold in the ordinary run of fruit stores. It is now unlawful to put into a box or barrel, to be closed up and shipped, any fruit below a certain standard. This is to say, unless the package is marked No. 2, or No. 3, fruit which, especially the latter, makes the fruit unsaleable. The consequence is that fruit which will not reach No. 1 standard is brought into the city in open packages and sold for what it will bring. Thus, while it is illegal and unprofitable to send poor fruit to England or the Prairie Provinces, it is no crime to bring it loose into Toronto or Hamilton, consequently that is the kind of fruit some stores have to take.

RAIN coats, special values in ladies and gents', open to-day.—SWIFT BROS.

THE new U. S. law which puts directly under control the progress of making citizens is a move toward consistent naturalization laws, took effect Saturday Sept. 29, at every port of entry in the United States. Along the border of Canada and Mexico it will mean a lot of extra work for the immigration inspectors.

A Canadian, for instance, has never been subjected to an examination of any kind unless his condition physical or financial was bad enough to attract attention. Under the new law it will be compulsory for him to undergo the examination providing he ever expects to become a naturalized citizen of the U. S. The questions asked relate to his place of birth, the date his business, and his personality. The examination does not in any way displace the declaration of intention, commonly referred to as "first papers," but it is essential to naturalized citizenship.

We don't ask you to take this notice for it, but a look over our stock will convince you that we are headquarters for fancy china, dinner, tea and toilet sets. We buy direct from the makers and can give you the benefit of the wholesalers prices saved.—N. B. HOWDEN.

"A Tug of War."

One of those delightful and interesting pictures that brings sunshine to one's home is entitled "A Tug of War," and has been selected by the Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal as their annual gift to subscribers this season. It is a beautiful picture, 22x29 inches, on the best plate paper. It certainly is a gem worthy of the best place on the walls of any home. When one sees the picture and learns that it is given absolutely free to all who subscribe to that family weekly there is no longer cause to wonder why the Family Herald and Weekly Star has five times the number of readers of any other weekly in the country. Any person remitting one dollar for a year's subscription to the Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal will get the picture free, and from the demand we learn you cannot get your dollar in too quickly. "The Tug of War," is a high class production and would demand a high price if sold in the stores, but it is reserved for Family Herald subscribers.

WESTERN ASSOCIATION OF CONGREGATIONAL CHURCHES.

In the absence of the Rev. J. Silcox, of Toronto, who was detained by an accident, the Association sermon was preached by the Rev. Mr. McIntosh, of Ottawa, who gave an eloquent and forcible discourse.

In the afternoon the Rev. P. C. L. Harris gave a paper on "Giving," an address on "Plans for the Northwest" by Rev. Wm. McIntosh, and a paper on "The Ministerial Outlook" by Rev. J. K. Unsworth, B. A.

EARLY SNOW STORM.

While the snow fall in London Wednesday was little more than a few flurries there are different stories coming in from outside points, and especially from up the Huron and Bruce, a district which usually gets all that is coming in the way of the beautiful.

Up at Exeter there was a fall of eight inches of snow and six inches at Hensall. This was accompanied by a regular old-time blizzard that did considerable damage to wires. At Lucan there were small flurries of snow, but the wind blew very hard.

Goderich seems to have had an old-fashioned storm. Six inches of snow fell at the lake port and the people up there are going around town in cutters to-day, quite proud of it, too. Many trees were broken down by the weight of the snow, and it has kept the electric light men busy all day repairing the damage that was done to the wires. The ground is covered with snow and presents a real Yuletide appearance.

Reports from along Lake Erie tell of snowfalls all through the district.

The Indians on the Mansej Reserve were in hard luck with their fair, there being a fall of well on to six inches out there. They are hoping that to-morrow's weather may be more pleasant for visitors. The races had to be called off.

As a rule an early snow storm of this kind is followed by more agreeable weather, and this will temper to some extent the discomforts attending the early snow. While the local fall was small, the cold was unusual for this time of the year, and caused many of the last year's overcoats to be brought out and put in use.

East of London came in for their portion of what was falling, Ingersoll and Woodstock being in line. Considerable snow, but more wind, struck these points.

Cleveland witnessed one of the earliest storms in years. A heavy wet snow, driven by a high wind, fell all day. It was the most severe storm, according to the telegraph reports since that of Oct. 5, 1892. This storm is general along Ohio's lake front.—Free Press.

KILLED ON TRACK.

William Geary Run Down by G. T. R. Work Train.

Strathroy, Oct. 7.—Wm. Geary, a man about sixty years of age, was instantly killed about a mile from the town here at 7 o'clock to-night. It appears Geary's housekeeper left him at the crossing and drove home, while he started to walk down the track and intended picking up coal as he went. He had not gone far, however, when he met a freight train going east and stepped on to the other track. In an instant the work train from London, No. 120, with Conductor Law and Engineer Farr in charge, running at a high rate of speed, was upon him, and killed him instantly. He was terribly mangled, both legs being broken and his chest badly crushed.

Coroner Thompson and Dr. Berlan together with Chief Wilson and the section gang, went to the scene and had the remains removed to the depot.

Geary leaves two daughters, Mrs. W. Benjamin and Mrs. T. Saunders.

Why Barns Take Fire.

J. C. Nelson, a prominent farmer of Pontiac, Mich., advances an explanation for the destruction of so many barns by lightning.

Recently W. E. Carpenter, secretary of the Monitor Insurance Co., made the statement that steel hay tracks in the roofs of barns attract the lightning and cause destruction.

Mr. Nelson points out that newly-cut hay or grain gives off dampness until the hay or grain is thoroughly cured. The hay or grain is piled in the barns and allowed to cure there, the dampness rises to the roof and as it dries out becomes a gas. Until the hay is thoroughly cured the gas continues to generate.

During a storm the gas is escaping from the barn. The barn is heavily charged with electricity, which comes in contact with the gas, and the next instant the gas inside the barn is exploded the lightning following that course. Mr. Nelson points out a number of instances where barns were suddenly found a mass of flame, all through the interior, during an electrical storm.

Is Your Cold Better.

No, it's as bad as ever. Nothing seems to help. Why not use the up to date specific "Catarrhzone," which drives out the cold in one day. Intake Catarrhzone and you will be relieved in two minutes. Continue the treatment and cure is assured. Healing, germ destroying and pleasant, nothing for colds, throat trouble and Catarrh compares with Catarrhzone. Sold everywhere 25c and $1.00.

In Every Home.

The local paper should be found in every home. No children should be allowed to grow up in ignorance who can be taught to appreciate the home paper. It is said to be the stepping stone of intelligence in all those matters not to be found in books. Give children a foreign paper which contains not a word of any person, place or thing, which they saw or perhaps ever heard of, and how could you expect them to be interested. But let them have the home paper and read of people whom they meet and of places with which they are familiar and soon an interest is awakened which increases with every arrival of the local paper. Thus a habit of reading is formed and those children will read the papers all their lives and become intelligent men and women, a credit to their ancestors, strong in knowledge of the world as it is to-day.

NINE THOUSAND IN DISPUTE.

Peculiar Case in Which Geo. Holwell of Theford is Interested.

The possession of the sum of $9,000 is the cause of a peculiar case pending at Osgoode Hall. J. C. Judd, of London, appearing for G. W. Holwell, of Theford, aged 71, asked to have continued an injunction granted by Judge Macbeth, of Middlesex, restraining Geo. H. Powell, a bank clerk at Exeter, and his father, J. H. Powell from dealing with the money until after the trial. The plaintiff claims that the bank clerk and his father got him last July to take the money out of the Sovereign Bank at Theford and put it in the Exeter branch, where he would get a higher rate of interest. Holwell made the cheque out to the young man, who deposited the money in his own name, claiming it as a gift. The young man's mother, Mrs. Powell, is Holwell's housekeeper and his adopted daughter.

A further peculiar feature has entered the case. Mr. Judd was notified that Holwell had changed his solicitors. He learned this was done by the Powells and one Stanbury, a solicitor in Exeter, but later learned that the old man had not known the contents of the paper of instructions which he signed. The injunction was continued by Judge Teetzel till Oct. 8.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portions of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. Hence this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it entirely closes, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube is restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

It will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circular, free.

Regained Nerve and Vital Energy.

From Walton, P. O., Que., comes the following from Mr. Nazaire Begin—"If anyone had told me any remedy could build up my nervous system so well, I would not have believed them. Before using Ferrozone I was run down in nerve and vitality, and in very weak health. I didn't get enough sleep at night, felt poorly in the day time. Ferrozone has filled me with energy and vim, increased my weight and made a new man of me."
Hundreds tell the same story—Weak and dispirited, everything going wrong, unable to catch up. They took Ferrozone and all was changed to health and serenity. Price 50c per box at all dealers.

Pacer Sold.

"Libbers," the famous Canadian pacer, was sold at the American hotel Saturday afternoon by public auction. The sale resulted from a dispute between the joint owners, Mr. U. Pearce and Mr. Chas. Bateman, of Caradoc. It appears that, according to agreement, Mr. Pearce was to race the horse and pay all his expenses while away from home, and Mr. Bateman was to keep the horse while home, the joint owners to divide the profits. Mr. Pearce raced the mare on the Grand Circuit and made some $2,000. Pearce claimed that Bateman owed him $640, claiming a partnership in other horses which he claimed were owned jointly by himself and Bateman. Mr. Bateman then sued Mr. Pearce for an amount to be determined upon as he (Bateman) did not know the expenses of racing the mare. It later transpired that Mr. Pearce was indebted to Bateman to the amount of $547.00. The matter was referred to Dr. Koutledge, of Lambeth, who decreed that the horse be sold and the proceeds be equally divided by the joint owner. The sale was held Saturday at two o'clock. Mr. Henry Hardy wielding the hammer, and Libbers was knocked down to Mr. Johnston, of London, for $530.—Strathroy Dispatch.

A MEDICINE CHEST IN ITSELF.—Only the well-to-do can afford to possess a medicine chest, but Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, which is a medicine chest in itself being a remedy for rheumatism, lumbago, sore throat, colds, coughs, catarrh, asthma and a potent healer for wounds, cuts, bruises, sprains, etc., is within the reach of the poorest, owing to the cheapness. It should be in every house.

Worked For Very Little.

London, Ont., Oct. 4.—In the County Court, Judge Macbeth reserved judgment in the case of Harriet Gibson v. Campbell. According to the evidence the plaintiff had worked as housekeeper for John D. Anderson, of Mount Brydges, for twenty-three years, on a salary of $1 a week and board.

In addition to doing the regular housework she had also milked nine or ten cows, and acted as nurse to Mr. Anderson up to the time of his death last November.

By way of recompense, the deceased put in trust two promissory notes, to be paid to Miss Gibson after his demise, and also settled upon her an annuity of $100.

The executors refused to recognize the notes, and the suit resulted.

The notes amounted to $250.

Is Your Trouble Indigestion.

Then probably you know the evils of distention, fermentation and irritation that accompany digestive troubles. Next important is to know how promptly Nerviline cures. Womanly Tact.

William Wilberforce had a devoted sister. She is credited with having won his election for him during his membership of Parliament from Hull. The story goes that one day at the hustings a number of partisans began a tremendous cheering, crying, "Miss Wilberforce forever!" upon which she stepped forward, and, with admirable tact, replied, "Gentlemen, I thank you; but, believe me, I do not wish to be 'Miss Wilberforce forever.'" Her brother was returned at the head of the poll.

FOR BOTH

One disease of thinness in children is scrofula; in adults, consumption. Both have poor blood; both need more fat. These diseases thrive on leanness. Fat is the best means of overcoming them; cod liver oil makes the best and healthiest fat and is the easiest and most effective form of cod liver oil. Here's a natural order of things that shows why Scott's Emulsion is of so much value in all cases of scrofula and consumption. More fat, more weight, more nourishment, that's why.

Guide-Advocate.

HARRIS & CO., PROPRIETORS

WATFORD, OCT. 12, 1906.

Graft.

Campbellford Despatch: Graft! graft! graft!—or, in other words, theft, wholesale robbery and dishonesty—exists now and has for some time in almost every department of trade and politics in this benighted country. The revelations made within the last year or eighteen months regarding the insurance companies, the trades combine, the railways, the oil, coal and meat trust and canning industries, and the political rascalities perpetrated by both parties, are truly appalling. Nowhere on the whole face of the earth, excepting in this so-called Christian country, are such things tolerated, or are they even possible.

Fraud.

No one is permanently profited by the fraudulent practices. The change for an immediate increase has led many persons to do those things in trade that are pernicious. A little wrong is committed and the full effect of such is not seen until many innocent people are inconvenienced thereby. Whole currents of trade have been diverted by a pollution from some contributor. This all the producers lose by the shortsighted practices of a few scheming individuals. The worst feature of all is that fraudulent schemes are laid the most during times of plenty and progress. It is then that competition is also keenest, and a market once lost is gone for a long time.

In the case of our Canadian apple trade preventive measures cannot be too strictly enforced. Already there are rumors of fraud in the packing trade. Inspectors at Montreal are kept busy, but even then some bad ones are not detected. There are many honest packers and good reliable brands, but the wrongdoing of one shipper works incalculable harm to all.

The Government inspectors should be upheld by the farmers in their work in protecting our fruit against wrong packing at the local warehouses.—World.

The Horse Industry.

The Ontario Department of Agriculture purpose making an investigation of the conditions of horse industry in this province to obtain information as to the best policy to adopt to encourage a more extensive breeding of a better class of horses. At the last session of the Legislature an appropriation was made for this purpose, and now a number of experts are being sent out who will visit every county in the province and inspect all the stallions used for breeding purposes. The inspectors will begin their work in East Peterborough on Thursday, Oct. 11th, and will visit Blairton, Havelock, Norwood, Stony Lake, Warsaw, Keene and Westwood. Their duty will be to note the number, type, quality and breeding of all the old stallions and in a general way to breed mares of the district; what conditions have affected or are affecting the quality of the horses, and if the effect is for good whether or not the same conditions could be applied in other sections; if on the other hand the conditions have not had a good effect what can be done to remove them. They will also ascertain the views of horsemen generally as to the advisability of a stallion inspection act and receive suggestions as to what can be done to improve the conditions of the horse business generally. Mr. Chas. O'Reilly, Secretary of the Farmer's Institute, will accompany the inspectors on their tour of this district.

World Gone Mad.

London, Oct. 6.—A delightful forecast of the world gone mad is held up to us by Dr. Forbes Winslow. "According to statistical figures on insanity," says the doctor, in an interview, "it can be shown that before long there will be actually more lunatics in the world than sane people. The burning problem of the day is how to prevent this increase of insanity. What is the use of wasting time and energy on an education bill when we have before us this absorbing problem—an insane world to deal with?"

Re-unted After Many Years.

Walkerville, Oct. 8.—George Monk, of Chatham Township, and his sister, Mrs. Stanfield, of St. Thomas, have been reunited at the home of the former's son-in-law, Mr. Winterbourne, here, after a separation of 49 years. In 1857 Mr. Monk, who was employed by the old Great Western Railway, went south to take a new position. He returned after an absence of several years to find that his sister had married and moved away to some unknown locality. It was not until recently that it was learned that the woman was living in St. Thomas. A reunion here was then arranged for.

MAKES NEW BLOOD.

That is How Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Cure the Common Ailments of Life.

Making new blood. That is just what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are always doing—actually making new blood. This new blood strengthens every organ in the body and strikes straight at the root of anaemia, and the common ailments of life which have their origin in poor, weak, watery blood. Mrs. A. H. Seelye, of Sterling, Ont., tells what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills did for her fourteen year old sister, Miss Annie Sager, after other treatment had failed. She says: "For some years Annie had not been well. She would take spells of dizziness and headaches that would last for several days, and her whole body would become dry and hot as though she was burning up with fever. Her lips would swell until near the bursting point, and then when the fever would leave her the outer skin of the lips would peel off. She doctored with two different doctors, but they did not succeed in curing her, and the trouble seemed gradually to be growing worse. Then we began giving her Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and under this treatment she has recovered her health. The headaches and dizziness have gone; her color is improved; her appetite better, and she has had no further attacks of the fever-which baffled the doctors. We are greatly pleased with what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done for her, and recommend them to other sufferers."

It was the rich red blood that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually make which cured Miss Sager. That is why these pills cure all common ailments anaemia and debility, headaches and backaches, indigestion, rheumatism, neuralgia, St. Vitus dance and the special ailments that prey on the health and happiness of girls and women of all ages. Get the genuine Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People with the full name on the wrapper around each box. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A PECULIAR CASE SETTLED.

Taylor vs. Greenizen.
This was an action tried by Judge Taylor at the sittings of the Petrolia court held the last of August, wherein the plaintiff, who is accountant at the Bank of Toronto here, sought to recover from Mr. I. Greenizen $185, being the amount of a cheque purporting to be made by one Geo. Brent, of Warwick, to Mr. Greenizen, of this place, in satisfaction of an alleged claim made by the latter against Brent for one A. B. Clark, on a horse deal. Mr. Greenizen indorsed the cheque over to his client, Clark, by special endorsement. Clark cashed the cheque at the Bank of Toronto, after it was initialed by plaintiff. The cheque was protested at Watford, by the bank there on which it was drawn. It seems that the drawer's signature was a forgery. The main defence to the action was that the plaintiff was not a holder for value without notice, he having cashed the cheque by paying the money to the Bank of Toronto after cheque was protested, and in any event the cheque was not protested soon enough to satisfy the law in that respect. Judgment was given for the plaintiff, for the face of the cheque.—Advertiser.

County Judge's Criminal Court.

Before County Judge MacWatt, at the Court House, Sarnia, on Wednesday two youthful prisoners, Harren and Morrison, charged with stealing a watch and some tobacco at Wyoming elected speedy trial and pleaded guilty to the charge. It was shown that the prisoners were addicted to the use of cocaine to an extent that had undermined their reason and that they were not responsible for their acts. In Harren's case steps had previously been taken for his admission to an asylum, but the young man refused to go there. Judge MacWatt informed him he could choose between going to the asylum or to the penitentiary at Kingston. He was remanded for sentence, the nature of which will depend upon which he decides to do.
In Morrison's case the medical examiner in cases of lunacy was notified to examine his sanity and report.

Lorn Brydges, also charged with theft, elected trial by jury.

John Murray, who had elected to be tried before a jury on the charge of theft changed his election and asked for speedy trial before the judge. Trial set for Friday afternoon.

Wm. Tracy, who has been in jail since July on a charge of theft alleged to have been committed at Wyoming, having elected to be tried before a jury, changed his election, pleaded guilty, and was remanded for sentence.

All Sarnia wants at present is increased post office accommodation, free mail delivery, reduced taxes, and C. P. R. connection. She may think of something else later on.
Dr. McIntyre, of Petrolia, has been appointed Medical Superintendent of the Kingston General Hospital, and will be succeeded at Petrolia by Dr. Smith, of Lawrence.

Kent County fruit growers have appealed to the Minister of Agriculture for assistance in fighting the San Jose scale, which has been a serious menace to the fruit crops this season.
In Glencoe, on Wednesday, Sept. 19th, Miss Mona Gough and Mr. John Mac, two of Napier's popular young people, were quietly married by Rev. Mr. Weir, of that town.
A suicide took place when Mrs. James Jefferys ended her life at Blenheim by cutting her throat. She was an old lady, about 75 years of age. Domestic troubles account for the deed.
W. D. O'Leary's elevator collapsed at Pt. Lambton a few days ago. Nearly 5,000 bushels of oats were stored in the building when the crash came. Most of the oats were bagged by the crowd that gathered.

Sneak thieves have started in Oil Springs, considerable provisions being stolen out of Thos. Keys' cellar on Saturday night. Mr. Keys is crippled at the present time and it is to be hoped that the authorities can catch the "sneap goats."

In compliance with their request Thos. Benstead, the expert market gardener of this section, will address the Ontario Vegetable Growers' Association at Toronto early next week upon the culture of celery, on which subject he is recognized as an authority.

For some few days past it has been rumored that the Petrolia Wagon Works were about to be sold to a firm out of town. We are informed by the management that there is absolutely no foundation for this rumor and that it will still continue to be one of Petrolia's big industries.—Topic.
Dr. J. W. Coyne, of Ridgeway, dentist, suffered a severe accident Thursday that cost him the sight of one eye. While exercising a young colt it wheeled and kicked him just below the eye. The ball of the eye was split and the sight entirely destroyed.
The knitting factory building is nearly completed and most of the machinery for the factory is here ready to be installed. Mr. Hogg expects to have the plant in Glencoe ready for operation about the 15th of the present month. The factory has already large orders ahead.

Deceased was well-known in the vicinity of Strathroy, having been reeve of Metcalfe Township for nine years, and a county councillor for Middlesex for three terms. He leaves to mourn his loss a wife, eight sons and one daughter. Deceased was a member of Napier lodge, A. F. & A. M., and of Strathroy Chapter, B. A. M.
Some difficulty appears to have arisen between the trustees of the East Adelaide church and Mr. McPherson, of Parkhill, in regard to the painting done by him in the interior of the building. In the graining of the saets it appears that either on account of the old paint not having been removed, or on account of the quality of the material used, satisfaction has not been given, and the trustees have notified the contractor that they will not accept the work as at present done, and that it must be made satisfactory according to agreement.
The south east corner of Sarnia township has been much worked up over the disappearance of two of the inhabitants. It seems that about the time of the Toronto fair, Hugh Brown, of the 2nd line, son of Chas. Brown, of Sarnia, went on a visit to the Falls, and Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Miller, of the 3 1/2 sideroad, went to Toronto fair, and Mrs. Miller remained over ostensibly to visit friends. It is supposed that by some law of attraction Brown drifted to

MOTHER, SISTER AND BROTHER

Died of Consumption, but this Linden lady used Psychine and is strong and well

"My mother, brother and sister died of consumption," says Ella M. Cove, of Linden, N.S., "and I myself suffered for two years from a distressing cough and weak lungs. I suppose I inherited a tendency in this direction."

"But thank God I used Psychine and it built me right up. My lungs are now strong. I enjoy splendid health, and I owe it all to Psychine."

Consumption, whether hereditary or contracted, cannot stand before Psychine. Psychine kills the germ, no matter how it attacks the lungs. Psychine builds up the body and makes it strong and able to resist disease. Psychine is an aid to digestion and a maker of pure, rich blood. The greatest giver of general health is

Thomas Coleman, cold, reserved, ambitious, sat at the head of the heavy library table. Beside him his pretty, fashionable wife drummed softly with her finger tips on the polished mahogany and watched her husband sideways out of her dark, inscrutable eyes.

The other Coleman, Elizabeth, stood by the window, a letter with a queer South American postmark in her hand. "Poor, lonely old man," she said softly. "Listen, Tom. I'm kind of hungry for the sight of a face that belongs to me," and this—I jest want to get acquainted with my own folks—'Isn't that pathetic?"

"I ain't beholden," she went on, scanning the letter swiftly. "I don't ask no favors, but I'd kind of like to feel that them that is to have the little something I leave will have a kindly feelin' for the old man who scraped it all together, when he's gone."

She looked up with swift comprehension at the tense attitude of the other two. "You do not suppose that little something can be a fortune, do you?" she said half nervously.

"It might be as well," Thomas Coleman suggested, "to acquire more definite information concerning it before—ab—committing ourselves." Thomas Coleman was a man whom his friends called "level headed."

"May be nothing in it," he added. "But if there should be?" suggested his wife, still drumming softly on the polished wood. Only his wife knew how fearfully Thomas Coleman had been hampered in money matters lately.

"Whether there is or not, he has a claim upon us," put in Elizabeth, hotly. "He's a poor, lonely old man—our father's brother."

Thomas Coleman raised a remonstrating hand. "Be reasonable, Elizabeth. We do not know him. It is not to be supposed that we can offer him a home indefinitely unless we receive some little—ah—remuneration in the end."

"I HAVE COME TO TAKE YOU HOME WITH ME."

"Although it would be in line with Elizabeth's quixotic ideas to do so," said Tom's wife, sharply.

Elizabeth was a standing grievance with her sister-in-law—Elizabeth, who was supremely indifferent to the value of money—Elizabeth, tall and straight and splendid, who preferred a self-supporting life in a tiny flat to dependence in her brother's beautiful home, and who proposed to "throw herself away" on a fellow whose only lack was that of money.

She confronted them now indignantly. "It is a shame!" she flashed, looking like an enraged princess, with her flaming cheeks and heavy, red gold hair. "A lonely old man begs for affection. He freely offers us all he has. Be it much or little, it is all. In return you weigh and appraise and calculate. Oh, she broke off, "I am ashamed of you. Let us make him honestly welcome, whatever he brings."

And in that first day, while the others held aloof, it was Elizabeth who, in warm-hearted, impulsive fashion welcomed the little old man enveloped in a shaggy greatcoat, who regarded his "own folks" with shrewd blue eyes which looked out rather wistfully from under the shaggy brows.

On the second day Uncle Peter approached Thomas Coleman.

"Some mornin' when it's convenient I'd like to go downtown with you, I want to find Willie Moore's office," he added apologetically.

Thomas Coleman looked up quickly. "William T. Moore, the lawyer?"

The old man nodded. "Willie Moore's father and me was boys together, and I always had considerable confidence in Willie. I've got a few papers I'd kinder like him to keep," he added.

The few papers turned out to be $5,000,000 worth of shares in the El Juarez gold mines.

Uncle Peter's welcome was assured. For six months he was the recipient of every attention which the solicitude of his beloved and happily surprised nephew and his wife could devise;

then, one day, like a bolt from a clear sky, the storm burst.

The El Juarez mines were flooded!

The rumor started in the Mining Exchange when stock that had been $150 was quoted at $25 a share; then the reporters got it and the journals flaunted great headlines of "Panic in Wall Street!" "El Juarez Mines Flooded!" Later the report was confirmed, and by 3 o'clock the shares of the El Juarez mines were not worth the paper on which they were written.

The old man to whom the mines had been a lifelong companion stared desperately at the flaunting headlines, then, covering his face with his rough, worn hand, gave way to his grief with the abandon of a child.

"Them mines was jest like my own child," he sobbed. "I knowed they wasn't actin' up jest right when I left 'em, but I never suspicioned they'd fetch up where they hev," and again tears flowed unrestrainedly down the furrowed cheeks.

Disappointed, bittered, almost maddened by the loss of sorely needed wealth just within his grasp, Thomas Coleman broke the silence.

"Don't worry," he said coldly. "You are not too old yet to find some suitable employment."

Uncle Peter looked up in astonishment, then as the meaning of the cruel words dawned upon him his face went suddenly and pitifully white.

"I kinder thought if I was ever in trouble I could depend on my own folks." The old voice quavered pitifully as the curtains parted and Elizabeth entered the room. Sweeping past the others, she took the old man's hands in her young ones.

"I have come to take you home with me," she said simply.

"But the mines," he said unsteadily. "Never mind. There isn't much room in my little flat, but there's a loving welcome, and soon"—she blushed happily—"there will be a little house in the suburbs."

"But how about that young feller you're goin' to marry?" questioned the old man doubtfully.

"He told me to come for you," answered Elizabeth, with proud, happy eyes.

The old man rose and, still holding Elizabeth's hand, faced Thomas Coleman and his wife.

"You said I wasn't too old to find suitable employment," he said, "and I ain't. I've found it. I'm goin' to buy that house out in the suburbs, and it won't be no little one, either. An' I'm goin' to set the young feller up in whatever business he wants to be set up in, an', what's more, I'm goin' to give Elizabeth a million dollars in government bonds for her weddin' gift. I ain't through with the other million yet, but when I am she an' her children gets it. My money won't in them mines. I told Willie Moore how they wuz actin' up, an' he took it out fer me three months ago. I ain't denyin' I felt bad about 'em, but 'twarn't the money I wuz thinkin' of."

"No," he repeated, "I warn't thinkin' of the money, an'—he patted her hand lovingly—"neither wuz Elizabeth, but," he added slowly, with a shrewd glance at Thomas Coleman's white, baffled face, "it kinder looks as though there's others that wuz."

Puncturing a Fallacy.

The barber applied the rich brown dye with a fine tooth comb, combing it evenly into the grizzled locks of the old man.

"Hair dye, sir," he said. "Plain, unvarnished hair dye is the base of that absurd fallacy about people turning gray in a single night."

"If you investigate those yarns you find that invariably they concern persons in prison. Orsini, pluming in jail, had his hair go back on him. Marie Antoinette, languishing in a cell, found the deep hue of her hair changing to an ugly gray. Raleigh, imprisoned in the tower, developed grayish streaks with incredible speed."

"The secret of all that, my dear, is this:

"These prisoners in order to conceal their gray hair dyed it, using a poor sort of dye, one of those sorts that have to be applied every day or two. In prison, naturally, they could not get hold of this dye, and hence their locks whitened at a miraculous rate. When people said of them pityingly that their terror of sorrow had turned their hair gray in a single night they acquiesced themselves in the deception, for is it not embarrassing—I leave it to you, sir, is it not embarrassing—to explain to the world at large that one uses hair dye?"—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Tired, Nervous Mothers

Make Unhappy Homes—Their Condition Irritates Both Husband and Children—How Thousands of Mothers Have Been Saved From Nervous Prostration and Made Strong and Well.

Mrs. Albert Mann Mrs. Chester Curry

A nervous, irritable mother, often on the verge of hysterics, is unfit to care for children; it ruins a child's disposition and reacts upon herself. The trouble between children and their mothers too often is due to the fact that the mother has some female weakness, and she is entirely unfit to bear the strain upon her nerves that governing children involves; it is impossible for her to do anything calmly.

The ills of women act like a firebrand upon the nerves, consequently nine-tenths of the nervous prostration, nervous despondency, "the blues," sleeplessness, and nervous irritability of women arise from some derangement of the female organism.

Do you experience fits of depression with restlessness, alternating with extreme irritability? Are your spirits easily affected, so that one minute you laugh, and the next minute you feel like crying?

Do you feel something like a ball rising in your throat and threatening to choke you; all the senses perverted, morbidly sensitive to light and sound; pain in the abdominal region, and between the shoulders; bearing-down pains; nervous dyspepsia, and almost continually cross and snappy?

If so, your nerves are in a shattered condition, and you are threatened with nervous prostration.

Proof is monumental that nothing in the world is better for nervous prostration than Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; thousands and thousands of women can testify to this fact.

Ask Mrs. Pinkham's Advice—A Woman Best Understands a Woman's Ills.

Mrs. Chester Curry, Leader of the Ladies' Symphony Orchestra, 42 Saratoga St., East Boston, Mass., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"For eight years I was troubled with extreme nervousness and hysteria brought on by irregularities. I could neither enjoy life nor sleep nights. I was very irritable, nervous and despondent."

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended and proved to be the only remedy that helped me. I have daily improved in health until I am now strong and well, and all nervousness has disappeared."

The following letter is from Mrs. Albert Mann, 154 Gore Vale Ave., Toronto, Ont.:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I suffered a long time with serious female trouble having intense pains in the back and abdomen and very sick headaches every month. I was tired and nervous all the time and life looked very dreary to me and I had no desire to live until I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and to get some relief. My recovery was slow but it was sure and I have never regretted the money spent for the Compound as it brought back my good health."

Women should remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the medicine that holds the record for the greatest number of actual cures of female ills, and take no substitute.

Free Advice to Women.

Mrs. Pinkham, daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write to her for advice.

Mrs. Pinkham's vast experience with female troubles enables her to advise you wisely, and she will charge you nothing for her advice.

The Russian Crown.

The crown used by the Russian czar resembles the dome formed patriarchal miter, which was a favorite shape among the Byzantines. Upon the summit appears a cross formed of five beautiful diamonds, which is also supported by a large spinel ruby, polished, but not faceted. This ruby and cross are supported by a foliated arch composed of eleven great diamonds and rising from the back and front of the base of the crown. On either side of this central arch is attached a hoop formed of thirty-eight large and perfect pearls. The spaces on either side of these arches are filled with leafwork and ornaments in silver, incrustated with diamonds, underlaid with the richest purple velvet. The band which forms the base of the crown is of gold and is ornamented with twenty-eight magnificent diamonds.

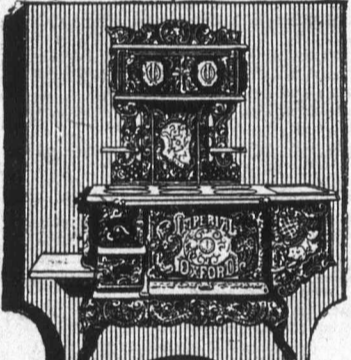

The Independent Farmer.

Buy a farm, young man. No matter how small it may be, buy a farm and prepare it so that your land will provide you a living. Twenty years from now the man who owns his own farm will be independent and will have at his command the means of a livelihood. The expansion of manufacturing cannot go on forever, and there will come a day in this country, as there has in others, when the supply will exceed the demand and the only absolutely sure occupation will be farming. Buy a farm while one may be had.

Rome's Triumphal Crown.

The triumphal crown of Rome was made of laurel leaves and was given to the general who achieved a great victory over an enemy. He entered the city not by a gate, but over a portion of the wall which was thrown down to afford a passage. At his funeral his laurel crown was placed in his bier and buried with the body.

No range can bake so well as the Imperial Oxford, because no other range has the Diffusive Oven Flue that draws in pure air constantly, heats it just as hot as you want it heated, and sends it through every part of the whole oven every second. That flue, found only in this perfect range, keeps that heated pure air—DRY air—constantly moving DOWNWARD through the oven, over the baking food, and out up the chimney. When it enters the oven it's hot and dry; when it leaves it, it's wet air, carries with it all the moisture, all the odors, but NONE of the juices of the food that's being baked.

Ice and Typhoid.

Typhoid seems to go hand in hand with lake water in all big cities using that source of supply. But Chicago, which has now more cases than it has since 1895 attributes its epidemic not to the municipal water supply but to impure milk and ice. Owing to the lack of rain, dairymen have taken water from disused wells and stagnant pools, and the ice men, it is claimed, because of the crop shortage, utilized the product from polluted ponds. Citizens are warned to eat no food that has come in direct contact with the ice, and to drink no water in which ice has been placed. The advice is of wider application than the precincts of Chicago.

YOU NEED STRENGTH.

Vitality is Lacking and You Must Have a Bracing Tonic at Once.

You are sick and need medicine. Not an emulsion to sicken the stomach, not a "dope" that makes you feel a nourishing tonic that will increase weight, strength and spirits. Try Ferruzone and watch the result. Because it gives instant effect and steadily builds up new flesh, it is used by thousands in ill-health. No other medicine contains more nutriment, supplies better building material, makes you feel well and strong as quickly as it did Mrs. Charles Benny, of Cloyse, Ont.

HER STATEMENT. "I was sick. I was broken down had no strength, couldn't eat, I was sleepless. My nerves were irritable. I was thin, bloated and continually unhappy. I tried Ferruzone. It gave me new energy, force, vim. It brought me comfort, strength—it made me well."

It's by making the appetite good, by instilling iron and ozone in the blood by fortifying the system with reserve strength, that Ferruzone accomplishes so much. The Late Mrs. Truman.

The death occurred at noon on Friday, Sept. 23, at the family residence, east Front street, of Amy Elizabeth Nixon, beloved wife of Mr. Richard Truman, aged 81 years. Deceased had been confined to her bed for some four weeks with typhoid fever, and her recovery was looked for until a few days preceding her death, when an inflammation of the bowels developed and she sank rapidly. She was the daughter of the late Dr. Nixon, who practiced medicine at Napier, Ontario, for many years. About eight years ago she removed with the family to Watford, and three years later married Mr. Truman, then a citizen of Metcalfe township. Some months ago they located in Strathroy. Mr. Truman being interested in the insurance business. Besides her beloved husband she leaves one daughter, Alma, nearly four years of age, who will now live with her grandmother, Mrs. John Truman, Maitland street. She also leaves one brother, Dr. Nixon, of Holloway, Mich., and three sisters, Mrs. Wm. Howden, Watford; Mrs. Wm. Sutherland, of the same town; and Miss Victoria Nixon at home. Everything that careful nursing and medical skill could suggest was done, but to no avail. Miss Hume, a trained nurse, was in constant attendance throughout her illness.

The funeral took place to the Strathroy cemetery Sunday afternoon, Rev. Mr. Conway, of Strathroy, officiating conducting the services and the pallbearers being Messrs. Dr. Nixon, Holloway, Mich.; J. T. Truman, London; H. Morgan, Metcalfe; George Field, Napier; Wm. Howden, Watford, and J. W. Cameron, of Strathroy. The members of her family were all present.—Strathroy Dispatch

HOW FAME COMES.

Men Who Became Great Through Accident or Chance.

Accident has played an important part in the making of great men. If Cooper had never been challenged by his wife to write as good a story as an English novel he had been reading he might never have been one of the great novelists.

If Napoleon had persisted in his attempts to be a writer of essays after he left the military academy the world would not have known this great general.

If Shakespeare had not failed as a wool merchant and turned actor and then, becoming disgusted with himself as an indifferent player, applied himself to writing there would never have been the plays of today would have been inferior to what they are.

Cowley became a poet purely through chance. When only a boy he found in his mother's attic a copy of Spenser's "Faerie Queene" and, becoming enchanted by the rhyme, determined to write poetry for himself.

Gibbon tells that it was while he was at Rome among the ruins of the capitol that he was first moved to write the history of the rise and fall of that great empire. Probably had he not taken a walk on that certain sunny day he would never have conceived the work that afterward made him famous.

Cornelle, the French poet, was in the habit of making verses for his friends. Being flattered by their criticism, he gave up his profession as a lawyer and turned writer.

Franklin discovered electricity by accident, and Mollere was turned to writing comedy, from the tapestry trade, by a reprimand from his father for leading a dissipated life.

Newton discovered the force of gravitation through a mere chance. When a student at Cambridge he went one day to the country. Being weary with his rambles, he sat down beneath an apple tree, and while he was musing there was rudely aroused by a severe blow from an apple which, falling from the branches, struck him on the head. He was surprised at the force of the blow from so small an object, and this led him to deduce the principle of gravity.

Fleming became an eminent astronomer through chance. Because of ill health he was taken from school, and, wishing to have some books to read while in confinement, he borrowed a book on astronomy. He was so much interested in this volume that he procured others and at length adopted the study as a profession.

Pennant, the authority on natural history, received his propensity in that direction through a chance perusal of a book on birds which he found on a table in the house of a friend, and Sir Joshua Reynolds was first moved to his profession of painting portraits by casually reading Richardson's treatise.

Mistakes of Authors.

The author of "Don Quixote" makes the party at the Crescent tavern eat two suppers in one evening. Scott in one chapter of "Ivanhoe" gives the Christian name of Malvoisin as Richard; subsequently altering it to Phillip. Pope makes a vessel eat corn. Kingsley makes John Brumblcombe read the prayer for "All sorts and conditions of men," though in the time of Elizabeth the prayer book did not contain it. Sir Archibald Allison speaks of "Sir Peregrine Pickle" when he means Sir Peregrine Maitland, and the same author translated "droid de timbre" as timber duty "a howler," which is only equaled by Victor Hugo's translation of "Etrich of Forth," "premier de quatre"—London Academy.

Hard Praying.

This story is told by a clergyman from North Carolina: "An old colored man stole a pig and after getting home with the animal knelt to pray before retiring. His wife heard him praying to the Lord to forgive him for stealing the pig. She went to sleep with Uncle Eph still praying. Later in the night she woke up and saw her husband still kneeling in prayer. At daybreak his supplications had not ceased. 'Eph, why don't you come to bed?' asked his wife. 'Let me 'lone, 'Riah; de mo' I tries to 'splain to de Lord how I come to steal dat pig de wusser I gits mixed.'"

Learned Better.

"My daughter has learned one thing at boarding school," exclaimed the man, "and that is how to write a legible hand."

"How did it happen?" asked a friend. "She kept writing home for money," said No. 1, "and I sent back word I couldn't read a word of her letters. It soon cured her of that Chinese chirography."

SUNLIGHT SOAP

is better than other Soaps but is best when used in the Sunlight way. Follow directions.

SUNLIGHT WAY OF WASHING

FIRST.—Dip the article to be washed in a tub of lukewarm water, draw it out on a washboard and rub the soap lightly over it. Be particular not to miss soaping all over. THEN roll it in a tight roll, lay in the tub under the water, and go on the same way until all the pieces have the soap rubbed on, and are soiled up.

Then go away for thirty minutes in one hour and let the "Sunlight" Soap do its work.

NEXT.—After soaking the full time rub the clothes lightly out on a wash board, and the dirt will drop out. Turn the garment inside out to get at the seams, but don't use any more soap; don't scold or boil a single piece, and don't wash through two soaks. If the water gets too dirty, pour a little out and add fresh. If a streak is hard to wash, rub some more soap on it, and throw the piece back into the tub for a few minutes.

LASTLY COMES THE RINSING, which is to be done in lukewarm water, taking special care to get all the dirty suds away, then wring out and hang up to dry.

For Woolens and Flannels proceed as follows:— Shake the articles free from dust. Cut a tablet of SUNLIGHT SOAP into shavings, pour into a gallon of boiling water and whisk into a lather. When just lukewarm, work articles in the lather without rubbing. Squeeze out dirty water without twisting and rinse thoroughly in two relays of lukewarm water. Squeeze out water without twisting and hang in the open air.

The most delicate colors may be safely washed in the "Sunlight" way.

$5,000 REWARD will be paid to any person who proves that Sunlight Soap contains any injurious chemicals or any form of adulteration.

5c. Buy it and follow directions. 5c.

ENGLAND.

London, Oct. 9.—Canadian cattle in the British markets are quoted at 10c to 11 1/2c per lb.; refrigerator beef, 8 1/2c per pound.

TORONTO.

Toronto, Oct. 9.—The run at the city cattle market today was 68 loads, with 762 head of cattle, 2,902 sheep and lambs, 700 hogs and 83 calves.

With the light run to-day there was quite a brisk market for good cattle, but, as usual for some time past, the general complaint was that there are almost no good butcher cattle coming in. Still, there were a few very decent lots and these sold at from $4.25 to $4.50, and better prices would have been paid for choice butcher cattle had they been in the market. Medium to fair butcher cattle were steady to firm, and apparently not near enough in to meet the demand.

The demand for good feeding cattle is also still quite active and prices for these were advanced a little to-day.

The export trade is very quiet and dull just now. There were one or two loads of fair export cattle in the market, but no demand, and they were eventually sold for the local butcher trade.

Sheep and lambs are steady to firm. Hogs are firm and unchanged from last week's quotations.

Feeders—Good demand steers, 1,100 to 1,250 pounds, $3.40 to $3.75; bulls, 1,100 to 1,200 pounds, at $1.75 to $3.50.

Short-keep, $4.15 to $4.20.

Export—Market steady but very little doing; medium export, $4.25 to $4.40; choice, $4.40 to $4.60; extra choice, $4.57 1/2.

Butchers—Market, firmer for choice butcher cattle, choice picked butchers' cattle, $4.40 to $4.65; medium heavy butchers at $3.65 to $4.20; mixed lots and cows at $1.75 to $3.50; fat cows, $3.50 to $3.80; common, mixed, $2 to $2.25.

Light stockers—Market quiet, but fair demand for good quality stock at $3.25 to $3.50.

Sheep and lambs—The market is firmer for lambs at $6.10 to $6.25, sheep steady.

Calves—Market steady to firmer; prices range from $3.50 to $5 each.

Hogs—Market firm and unchanged at $6.40 to $6.65.

Milk cows—Market steady to firm, with a good demand for heavy milkers at $45 to $55; common, $25 to $30.

FOREST'S FAIR A BIG SUCCESS

Forest, Oct. 5.—There was a large attendance at the fair here to-day, and that despite the unfavorable weather conditions. Beyond any question the fair has proved highly successful.

The exhibits in every branch were of the highest quality, and the show of live stock, poultry and fruits was the best ever seen in Forest.

The expert judges sent out by the Western Ontario Fall Fair Association said that the exhibits of sheep and horses were equal to anything shown at any fall fair this year, and complimented the management, especially on the magnificent show of draft horses they had secured.

The poultry show was very good, and Mr. William McNeil, of London, one of the best judges of poultry in Canada, expressed himself as being well pleased with the exhibit.

The speeding events proved to be the feature of the afternoon's entertainment. What looked like a serious accident occurred at the close of the second heat in the 2:50 pacing race. The finish was most exciting, and not a foot separated the three leading horses. While slowing up, the sulky of W. Upton, who was driving Dr. Brown, the winner of the race, became entangled in the other two sulkies, and was badly damaged. Upton was thrown out and dragged along the track for a considerable distance, but fortunately escaped with no worse injuries than a badly bruised arm and shoulder. He very pluckily drove the next two heats and was given a tremendous ovation when he won both of them.

The free-for-all was very interesting, and good time was made. Dell Bars winning handily. Summary:

Dell Bars.....	1 1 1
Captain Spinx.....	2 2 2
Little Harry.....	3 3 3
Time—2:18 1/4.

2:50 pacing race:

Dr. Brown.....	1 1 1
Freddy D.....	2 2 2
Baker Boy.....	3 3 3
El Cielo.....	4 4 4
Time—2:49 1/4.

The town band rendered an attractive programme during the afternoon.

The officers of the fair this year were:

President—Samuel Bailey.
First Vice-President—Finlay Chaik.
Second Vice-President—John Emerson.
Third Vice-President—W. W. Kemp.
Secretary—H. J. Pettypiece.
Assistant Secretary—Forrie Steele.
Treasurer—M. A. Smith.
Auditors—J. M. MacKenzie and Geo. Monroe.

A Shame To Take The Money.

Geo. Holwell Powell, the clerk in the Sovereign Bank branch at Exeter, Ont., has handed back to his aged adopted grandfather, George Washington Holwell, of Theford, Ont., the $9,000 which the old gentleman had given him for investment at a higher rate of interest.

The young man, after he got the money deposited in his own name in the Sovereign Bank branch at Exeter, and claimed that his adopted parent had made a present of it to him. The old man brought action to recover it, and the story of the affair was fully published some days ago.

The case has been settled, and a consent judgment was signed by Judge Macbee at Toronto Monday.

To the publicity given to the story one of the counsel in the case credits the settlement and the handing over of the money. The $9,000 is to be paid over, with accrued interest since it left the old man's possession, and it is to be held in trust by the London and Western Trust Company, Limited, until the death of the grandfater. Then it is to pass to the executor, or, if there be no will, to the administrators of his estate.

Holwell has to pay the costs of the Sovereign Bank, which amount to $45. The bank was an innocent third party in the matter. Powell and Holwell each pays his own costs.

Judge Macbee was not quite sure that it was the correct thing to do for him to make an order on the terms of the settlement.

"I don't know that the court is empowered to take care of the money of people who are not able to take care of themselves," he remarked. "If the plaintiff is capable to take care of it, is the court competent to tie it up where he can't put a finger on it?"

The proper procedure, thought his lordship, would be to have Holwell declared incapable, if he were in that condition. However, he would make the order on the terms agreed on, Holwell is 71 years old.

A Petrolia man offers a reward of $25 for the conviction of the parties who cut down a fine tree in his grove.
