NOTE.

No apology is made for the omission from this volume of all reference to many important questions. The size of the book is an all-sufficient excuse for defects of that kind. The election record, which is the principal feature of the work, has never been attempted before in this form, so far as we know. Fault will be found in many cases, no doubt, with the political labels attached to the candidates. If these were intended to describe the political opinions of the candidates, no defence could be found. But this book is designed not for keen politicians, who recognize fine distinctions of opinion, but for the great mass of the people whose interest is centred in the struggle between the great parties. The effort has been to indicate, as well as a few letters can do it, which side was victorious, and which was defeated, and also whether or not either party received any considerable assistance which may fairly be designated an "independent" vote. In many cases, especially in the early elections in the Maritime Provinces, when parties were completely broken up, it has been found almost impossible to say on which side of the Dominion party line the victory rested. The editor has been guided by the best information within his reach.

If this little work answers some of the thousand and one questions that constantly arise in political discussions, it will have accomplished its object.

SPEECH FROM THE THRONE.

This is the name given to the speech made by the Governor-General at the opening, and again at the closing of Parliament. The opening Speech informs Parliament why the members have been called together. As the Governor-General speaks only by advice of his Ministers, the Speech at the opening is a declaration of the measures which the Government will bring down during the Session, or of the policy which they will pursue respecting any matter. The Speech is one of the first things debated during the Session, and if an amendment to it is carried it is usually regarded as a vote of want of confidence, as asserting the preference of the majority of the people's representatives for a different policy from that proposed. In order to assert its independence, and its authority to discuss matters not brought forward by the Viceroy, each House—Senate and Commons—usually considers formally some measure which is not dealt with further than its first reading. In the Senate, since Confederation, "An Act relating to Railways" has been the Bill thus introduced, while in the Commons it is "An Act respecting the Administration of Oaths of Office." The Speech at the closing usually refers to measures which have been passed during the Session just closing, thanks the members for their attendance and diligence, and announces the prorogation of Parliament. The following statement of measures named at the opening of Parliament each Session since Confederation (except the Supply Bill, which is passed every year) will suggest the character of the several Speeches from the Throne. INTERCOLONIAL RAILWAY.

This railway now runs from Quebec to Halifax, N. S., and St. John, N. B. A road from Quebec to St. Andrews, N. B., was projected by Henry Fairbairn, in 1832, seven years after the opening of the Stockton and Darlington (Eng.) line, the first railway in the world. An association was formed, which sent out two explorers, Messrs. George H. Smith and E. R. Hatheway, who explored a line from St. Andrews north to Woodstock, thence up the valley of the St. John to Mars Hill, 120 miles from St. Andrews, and then struck westerly to the line to Quebec, previously explored by Captain Yule, Royal Engineers. A feasible route was found. Further explorations were made, and negotiations carried on between the Provinces, and with the Imperial Government, which it is not necessary to detail. The Ashburton Treaty of August, 1842, ceding to the United States the greater part of what is now the State of Maine, then believed to be British Territory, interfered with the work, and resulted in a survey of a number of other routes, the one since adopted others among them. The British North America Act, constituting the Dominion, contained a distinct provision that united Canada should build the Intercolonial road, commencing within six months, and finishing within four years, and the British Government guaranteed the interest on a loan of £3,000,000 to be raised for the purpose. Surveys were continued, and long and bitter controversies waged as to the route to be chosen. The Chief Engineer, Mr. Fleming, favoured the northern line. In the House of Commons, on December 3rd, 1867, Sir John Macdonald moved that the House go into Committee of the Whole to consider certain resolutions relative to the Intercolonial Railway. The resolutions submitted passed providing for raising a loan of £3,000,000 sterling, to build that part of the line from Rivière du Loup to Halifax still left unconstructed, the loan to bear interest at four per cent. guaranteed by Britain, and with sinking fund of one per cent. ; also that £1,000,000 sterling more be raised without Imperial guarantee to complete the road. On Dec. 4, Hon. A. Morris, chairman of Committee of the Whole, reported the resolutions, which were adopted by the House, and a Bill based on the resolutions was read the first time the same day. The second reading was carried Dec. 17. On motion to refer it to Committee of the whole, Dorion moved that the location should not be finally adopted without previous assent of Parliament. After discussion, the amendment was rejected by thirty-five yeas to eighty-three nays, and the Bill was passed through Committee, and (December 19) read the third time, the Royal assent being given December 21. The Act, as it appears in the Statute Book, provides for a railway, with a gauge of five feet, six inches (subsequently changed to four feet, eight and one-half inches), to be constructed under the charge of four commissioners, who were to have full power to locate and construct the line, provided that contracts for $10,000 or over should be sanctioned by the Governor-General-in-Council, the loans to be raised as above stated. The Commissioners appointed were A. Walsh, chairman, Hon. E. B. Chandler, C. J. Brydges, and W. F. Coffin. On the resignation of Mr. Coffin, Hon. A. W. McLelan was appointed to succeed him. The work was divided into four districts, as follows :—St. Lawrence, 129½ miles; Restigouche, 128; Miramichi, 117¼; Nova Scotia, 124¾. These were sub-divided, each sub-division being covered by one contract. The road was ready throughout for traffic 1st July, 1876. The capital account of the road has never been closed, and it is impossible to decide what portion of the expenditure is for construction, what for permanent repairs, &c. The following statement will give some idea of the finances of the institution :—

In August, 1879, the section of the Grand Trunk, from Revière du Loup to Hadlow, 124½ miles was purchased by the Government, and made part of the Intercolonial main line. The price paid was $1,500,000, conditions being attached that the Grand Trunk should use the money to secure a through line to Chicago, under its own control, the accommodation being thus open to the Intercolonial, because of connection between the two roads. Other branches and extensions have been added before and since. By the last report, the road including all branches was 867½ miles long, made up as follows :—

Finance, Department of.—Constituted by Act of Parliament assented to 22nd June, 1869, with Minister of Finance at its head. To this department are committed all matters relating to the financial affairs of the Dominion, Public Accounts, Revenue and Expenditure, not specially committed to other departments. In 1867, an Act was passed relating to the Collection of Public Revenues, etc., which provided, among other things, for the establishment of a Board of Audit, to consist of the Deputy Inspector-General, Deputy Postmaster-General, Commissioner of Inland Revenue, Deputy Receiver-General, Deputy Minister of Militia, Deputy Minister of Marine and Fisheries, and an Auditor, to be appointed by the Governor-General, who should be Chairman, and should have the review of accounts, cases of difference to be settled by the Board, subject to the approval of the Finance Minister. The Act mentioned above, constituting the Department of Finance, provided that the Auditor and the Deputy Inspector-General should be officers of the Finance Department. It provided also for the appointment of "The Treasury Board," to consist of the Minister of Finance, Receiver-General, Minister of Customs, and Minister of Inland Revenue, as a Committee of the Privy Council.

with wide powers as to demanding documents and information from the Public Departments. An Act, assented to May 12th, 1870, abolished office of Deputy Receiver-General, and provided that the Auditor-General should be Deputy Minister of Finance and Deputy Head of the Department. Act assented to 10th May, 1878, established a new system of audit by the appointment of an Auditor-General, to hold office during good behaviour, and removable only by the Governor-General, on address to be passed by Senate and Commons—like a judge. It authorized also the appointment of a Deputy Minister of Finance, to be appointed under the Great Seal, to be ex-officio Secretary of the Treasury Board. Under this system an elaborate system of checks was provided to prevent public moneys being spent except in regular and authorized way, difficulties to be finally settled by the Treasury Board, the Auditor-General to report direct to Parliament on all matters coming before him, including those in which he had differed from the Treasury Board. By Act, assented to 15th May, 1879, the Receiver-General's Department was merged with that of Minister of Finance, and Minister of Justice made a member of the Treasury Board. By Act, assented to 20th July, 1885, it was provided that the Secretary of State, and one other Minister, to be nominated by the Governor-General, should be added to Treasury Board, and Minister of Finance should be the Chairman of the Board. Post-office Department.—Constituted by Act of Parliament, assented to 21st December, 1867. The head of the Department is the Postmaster-General, appointed under the Great Seal of Canada. The Department has control of all matters relating to postal arrangements, money order and post-office savings banks, subject to Acts of Parliament. The postal laws were amended from time to time and consolidated, and again amended in 1875. The rate for letters between points in Canada was fixed at 3 cents per $\frac{1}{2}$ ounce, and has since remained the same. In August, 1883, Mr. Auger asked whether the Government intended to reduce the rate to 2 cents, as in the United States, the reply being that such was not the intention. In 1883 Mr. Charlton moved for the papers on the subject, and pointed out the advantages of the change. In 1884 Mr. Hesson asked as to the Government's intention, receiving the same answer as given to Mr. Auger. In the same session Mr. Charlton again moved for papers on the subject, advocating the reduction, in which he was supported by Mr. Hesson. CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY.

The following is intended to give a summary of the legislation in regard to the Canadian Pacific Railway, without dealing with construction, finance, or the great scandal, and the minor scandals growing out of the administration in relation to the work :—

On 17th March, 1870, and on 24th March, petitions were presented in the Dominion Parliament for incorporation of two separate trans-continental railway companies, the first having Mr. C. P. Treadwell for its chief promoter, and the latter, Mr. Alf. Waddington. One of the terms of union with British Columbia (1870) bound Canada to "secure the commencement simultaneously within two years from the date of the Union of the construction of a railway from the Pacific towards the Rocky Mountains, and from such point as may be selected east of the Rocky Mountains toward the Pacific . . . and further to secure the completion of such railway within ten years from the date of the Union." British Columbia was bound to grant lands for twenty miles on either side of the line, for which Canada was to pay $100,000 per annum. The terms of the Union being agreed to, Sir G. E. Cartier presented in House of Commons, 11th April, 1871, a resolution declaring that the railway should be built and worked as a private enterprise, aided by the Dominion. On the second reading of the resolution Mr. (now Sir A.) Dorion moved to make this part of the terms of Union, which was negatived; yeas, 42; nays, 79. Mr. Tremblay moved to provide that a land bonus only should be granted the company. Negatived, yeas, 11; nays, 105. The resolution was then passed. On 26th April, 1872, Sir G. E. Cartier presented resolutions to the House of Commons relating to the Canadian Pacific Railway, and providing (1) to authorize a line of standard gauge (4 ft. 8½ in.), from some point on or near Lake Nipissing to the Pacific, to be built and operated by one Canadian company, commenced within two, and completed within ten years; (2) to make a land grant to the company not more than fifty million acres in alternate blocks of twenty miles depth, any lack to be made up of grants of other lands, at the discretion of the Government; (3) cash subsidy of not to exceed $30,000,000, in which should be counted the cost of the surveys made; (4) the Government to be authorized to arrange with the company for a branch from the main line in Manitoba to the international boundary, also a branch from same point on the main line to Lake Superior in British territory, both to be considered part of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and to be bonused in land as might be agreed upon between the Government and the company. Before these passed Mr. Blake moved to make the line pass to the south of Lake Nipissing if practicable. Lost, yeas, 51; nays, 91. Mr. Dorion moved to carry the line by the shortest practicable route to some point west of the Ottawa River. Lost, yeas, 15; nays, 125. Mr. Mackenzie moved to limit the powers of the Governor-General-in-Council under the Bill. Negatived, yeas, 52; nays, 97. Mr. Mackenzie moved to leave the land, whether owned by the Company or by the Government, open to settlement. Negatived, yeas, 33; nays, 101. Mr. Wood moved to provide that the land and money should be dealt out subject to the annual vote of Parliament. Negatived. The amendments were agreed to. On motion (1st June) to read the Bill the third time, Mr. Wood renewed his motion and the names were recorded,—yeas, 33; nays, 100. The Senate passed the measure with a few amendments and these were agreed to by the Commons, 11th June. The Bill carries into effect the resolutions given above with modifications. The same session, two companies were chartered with powers which would authorize them to receive this contract from the Government. One was the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, in whose charter are named as joint directors, Sir Hugh Allan and others, chief place of business, Ottawa. The other company incorporated was the Interoceanic Railway Company headed by Mr. (now Sir) D. L. Macpherson. Both companies were authorized to issue debentures on the lands, to appoint trustees to receive Government subsidy, and both were compelled to present annual statements and to limit dividends during construction to 6 per cent. on paid-up capital. Efforts were made to induce these companies to amalgamate, but without success. On 31st January, 1873, an Order-in-Council was passed that a new company be incorporated by the Government, under the authority given and arrangements made with the new company for the contract. A company was formed and the charter granted. The papers were laid before the House of Commons, 13th March. It was out of this contract that the Pacific Scandal arose, which culminated in the resignation of the Government. On the 28th April, 1874, under the premiership of Hon. A. Mackenzie, resolutions respecting the Canadian Pacific Railway were passed in Committee of the Whole, 12th May. They declared in favour of (1) building the line from Lake Nipissing to the Pacific; (2) to divide the line for construction purposes into four sections; (3) to construct branches from the eastern terminus to Georgian Bay, from the main line, near Fort Garry, to the United States boundary; (4) to construct a telegraph line; (5) to authorize the division of the sections into sub-divisions, and the letting of tenders for construction after advertisement, contractors to show they owned $4,000 for every mile, and to put up twenty-five per cent. of the sum for each mile contracted for, contractors to be paid not more than $10,000 a mile, with a guarantee of four per cent. interest for twenty-five years on a further sum to be agreed upon, and twenty thousand acres per mile of land of fair average quality; (6) the Government might give the right-of-way and grounds for station buildings, etc.; (7) each section completed to be operated by the contractors under arrangements to be made by the Government, the Government reserving the right to take over any section at ten per cent. over cost; (8) no contract to be binding on the Government until approved by Parliament; (9) the Government might construct any part of the road as a public work; (10) the branch lines might be bonussed to the extent of $12,000 a mile, and leased by the Government, subject to the approval of Parliament; (11) the whole sum to be expended under these resolutions not to exceed $27,500,000. The Conservatives advocated a return to the former Government policy. On motion several amendments were presented and lost and the measure was passed.

Session of 1876.—On 13th March, on a vote of $6,250,000 for the Canadian Pacific Railway, Hon. C. Tupper moved, that work should be begun at Lake Nepigon without delay, and carried eastward and westward as rapidly as might be consistent with due economy, and the available funds of the Dominion used first in completing the work. Negatived, yeas, 43; nays, 117. Mr. De Cosmos (28th March) moved in favour immediately commencing construction in British Columbia. Negatived, only 7 yeas. On 7th April, Mr. Ross (Middlesex) moved that the House should declare its view, that the work should not be made to increase the taxation. Carried, only 10 nays. Mr. Plumb (same day) moved in amendment, to a vote in supply, to add a statement that the work should be proceeded with as rapidly as possible, without incurring taxation. Negatived, yeas, 36; nays, 89.

Session of 1877.—On 21st April, Hon. (now Sir) Charles Tupper, moved a resolution, disapproving the Canadian Pacific Railway policy of the Government, charging extravagance, bad faith, breach of constitutional practice and incapacity. The amendment was defeated, yeas, 59; nays, 104.

Session of 1878.—On 17th March, 1878, Mr. Mackenzie introduced in the House of Commons a Bill to authorize the Government to arrange, subject to the approval of the House of Commons, for working the Pembina Branch, in connection with the American lines to the boundary. The Bill was passed, but the Senate amended it, so as to make it necessary to have the approval of the Senate as well as of the House of Commons, and though the Commons insisted on the Bill in its original form, the Senate insisted on its amendments, and the Bill failed to pass.

Session of 1879.—On May 10, Hon. Chas. Tupper moved resolutions which declared (1) that the Canadian Pacific Railway being of importance to Imperial interests and opening an outlet for Britain's surplus population, the Government should seek Imperial assistance in building the road, (2) that 100,000,000 acres of land be appropriated and vested in commissioners among whom the Imperial Government should be represented, (3) that the Government be authorized to spend $1,000,000 on a line south of Manitoba, with a branch to Winnipeg, and also to build 125 miles in British Columbia. The bill based on the resolutions was presented and passed through all its stages that day. The same session an arrangement was made with George Stephen, on behalf of the St. Paul and Pacific Railway for the completion of the Pembina branch and the running of trains through from St. Paul.

Session of 1880.—On 5th May, Sir Chas. Tupper proposed resolutions amending those of the previous year by providing that lands not exceeding 100,000,000 acres should be set apart from time to time by order-in-Council as railway lands, to be sold at not less than $1 per acre, and the proceeds devoted to the construction of the Canadian Pacific Railway. Mr. Blake moved to amend them by providing that the lands should be sold only on conditions of settlement, but this was negatived; yeas 25, nays 76.

Session of 1881.—Immediately on the address being carried, 10th December, Sir John Macdonald submitted a message from the Governor-General, covering the new contract. It was signed at Ottawa 21st October, 1880, on behalf of Canada, by Chas. Tupper, Minister of Railways and Canals, and, for the contractors, by George Stephen and others. The contract provides that the Company shall deposit $1,000,000 guarantee with the Government, on which they shall receive 4 per cent interest. The Company is to construct and equip a railway 4 feet 8½ in. gauge from Calendar to Pacific, of the standard of the Union Pacific as first constructed, questions of difference on the subject to be settled by referees. The road must be begun by 1st July, 1881, and carried on rapidly and continuously and finished by 1st May, 1891. The Company must pay the Government for the 100-mile section then under construction west of Winnipeg, with the right to take it off the contractors' hands and finish it. The Government must finish the sections between Lake Superior and Selkirk, and between Yale and Kamloops, and hand them over with suitable buildings (but no equipment) to the Company, the Company to equip and run them. The Company is to receive 25,000,000 acres of land in alternate sections, within 24 miles either side of the line between Winnipeg and Jasper House, all lands to be fairly fit for settlement, any deficiency of the 25,000,000 acres to be made up of similar alternate blocks in the "fertile belt." The Company is also to receive $25,000,000 cash. A proportionate part of the bonus of cash and land may be demanded by the Company on the completion and equipment of each twenty miles of road, on the following basis:—Central Section, first 900 miles, $10,000 cash and 12,500 acres per mile; second, 450 miles, $13,333 and 16,666.66 acres per mile; Eastern Section assumed at 650 miles, $15,384.61 and 9,615.35 acres per mile. The Government must extinguish the Indian title to lands, and furnish the right of way, and must grant to the Company public lands as water front on navigable waters at the termini, and also permit the Company to take gravel, stone, or timber, for the work, from any public lands adjacent to the road, and to admit construction and other material free of duty; also to advance money when required on rails and fastenings delivered on the route in advance of the requirements of construction. The Company has the power to change the location, so long as the terminal points are Callander, some point of junction with the Lake Superior section, Selkirk, Yellowhead Pass, and Kamloops are kept, and to build and run branch lines from any points on the main line, on giving notice and filing plans. The Company is to be exempt from taxation by the Dominion, or any Province hereafter to be established, or any municipality in such Province, on property relating to the construction of the road, and upon its capital stock, also upon its land in the North-West Territories, for twenty years. Section 15 reads—"For twenty years from the date hereof, no line of railway shall be authorized by the Dominion Parliament to be constructed south of the Canadian Pacific Railway, from any point at or near the Canadian Pacific Railway, except such line as shall run south-west or to the westward of south-west, nor to within 15 miles of latitude 49. And in the establishment of any new province in the North-West Territories, provision shall be made for continuing such prohibition after such establishment until the expiration of the said period." The Government holds, as additional security, one section in five of the Company's land grant. The Company is authorized to issue land grant bonds for $25,000,000, and if this is done, $5,000,000 is to be held by the Government, who pay four per cent. interest to the Company. If the Company prefers to sell more of the $20,000,000 of land grant bonds it controls than in the proportion of $1 for each acre it shall have earned at the time of the sale, the proceeds shall go to the Government at four per cent. interest, and shall be paid to the Company as earned, at the rate of $1 for every acre of the land grant earned—less to be given in proportion if the bonds are sold below par. The one-fifth part of the land held by the Government as security may be sold from time to time at prices to be agreed upon, the proceeds to be held by the Government at four per cent. A schedule attached to the contract gives the form of charter to be granted to the Company. Besides providing specially for the power of the Company to carry out the works and negotiations mentioned in the contract, the schedule fixes $25,000,000 (subsequently increased to $100,000,000) as the capital of the Company, $5,000,000 to be subscribed, $1,500,000 paid up, and $1,000,000 to be placed in the hands of the Government before work was begun. The first directors are to be George Stephen, Duncan McIntyre, R. B. Angus, James J. Hill, Henry Stafford Northcote, Pascoe du P. Grenfell, Charles Day Rose, Baron J. de Reniach; and it is provided that there shall be no more than 15 directors, and a majority, including the President, shall be British subjects. The chief place of business is fixed at Montreal, but shareholders and directors may meet at other places in or out of Canada, on giving due notice. Calls upon unpaid shares are limited to 20 per cent. of the face value of the same. Further powers are given as to the issue of bonds upon the property of the Company and of preferred stock. The terms of the contract were opposed by the Liberals. On the 23rd of December, the House adjourned for the holidays. On the 4th of January, 1881, when the House again met, the debate was resumed and continued to January 12th, when the resolution was passed in Committee of the Whole and reported. On 17th January, Sir Charles Tupper laid on the table an offer from another syndicate to construct the Canadian Pacific Railway. This proposal was signed by W. P. Howland, A. R. McMaster, H. N. Cook, and P. Howland, Toronto; James McLaren, Allan Gilmour, Ottawa; William Hendrie, John Stuart, John Proctor, A. T. Wood, Hamilton; John Walker, D. Macfie, London; K. Chisholm, Brampton;

P. S. Stevenson, Montreal ; A. W. Ross, Winnipeg ; Geo. A. Cox, Peterboro' ; P. Larkin, St. Catharines ; John Carruthers, Kingston ; William D. Lovitt, Yarmouth, N.S. (per F. Killam) ; Alex. Gibson, Fredericton ; Barnett & McKay, Renfrew. They offer to build the same portions of road as the first company, taking the Union Pacific as in 1873 as the standard, for $22,000,000 cash and 22,000,000 acres of land. The conditions were in many respects identical with those already before Parliament. Provision was made under which the Government might substitute a Sault Ste. Marie branch for the eastern section, giving the Company a subsidy of $3,500,000 for the construction of the Sault line ; or the Government might withdraw either the eastern or central sections from construction, or fail to construct the western section by 1891. The Government was empowered at any time to take the line off the Company's hands on making fair allowance. No provision was made for entering material free, preventing the construction of other lines, or freeing the Company from taxation. On motion by Sir C. Tupper for the second reading of the resolutions (18th January), Mr. Blake moved a long amendment objecting to the contract, because (1) no tenders were called for ; (2) new conditions were granted as compared with the contract with Sir Hugh Allan, which formed a new basis of tendering, among them : (a) Large portions of the line to be constructed by the Government ; (b) $55,000,000 cash or equivalent to be paid in place of $27,000,000 ; (c) picked land is to be given ; (d) the Government has no control over the land grant ; (e) the subsidy is payable in amounts disproportionate to the work of the several sections ; (f) tax exemptions ; (g) restricted power of the Government to regulate tolls ; (h) no power given to the Government to regulate the accommodation to be provided ; (i) no power is given the Government to acquire the railway ; (j) no control is given Parliament or the Government to regulate the grades and curves ; (k) unlimited power is given to build branch lines ; (l) the Union Pacific as at first built is fixed as the standard ; (3) no opportunity was given others than the first syndicate to tender ; (4) that it was apparent better terms could be obtained, as shown in the second offer, the second syndicate

having deposited $1,400,000 as a guarantee of good faith. This resolution was debated till the 25th January, when it was lost—yeas 54, nays 140. Many separate amendments were moved by the Opposition and lost, generally on a party vote.

In the Senate the same objections were raised as in the Commons, but the Bill was passed without amendment.

Session of 1882.—In this session there were discussions as to branch lines, working arrangements with eastern roads, and other subjects. The only Bill introduced was one presented by Sir C. Tupper, empowering the Governor-General-in-council, to authorize the building of the road through some other pass than the Yellowhead Pass. After a discussion ranging over the whole Canadian Pacific Railway question, the Bill was read the second time and passed in Committee of the Whole, 19th April; read third time, 20th April; passed in the Senate without amendment and received the Royal Assent, 17th May.

Session of 1883.—Besides many debates on minor subjects relating to the railway, and the general discussion begun by Sir Charles Tupper's general statement of the position of and affairs in relation to the enterprise, a bill was introduced by Hon. J. J. C. Abbott, 24th April, giving the Canadian Pacific Railway power to lease the Credit Valley and the Ontario and Quebec. The bill was accepted by the Government, and although a number of amendments were moved, it was passed.

On 27th October, after the session, an order-in-Council was passed, under which the Government was to receive from the Company cash and securities for $24,527,245, and allow 4 per cent. interest on the cash, and pay out $1,500,000 a year for ten years as 3 per cent. dividend on the $100,000,000 of stock of the Company. This was afterwards modified to cover a similar dividend on only $65,000,000, as $35,000,000 remained unissued. Afterwards the Company asked for return of the $1,000,000 cash and $5,000,000 guarantee bonds, a postponement of payment of part of the cash, under order-in-Council referred to above, and a cash advance from the Government of $22,500,000.

Session of 1884.—On 1st February, Sir Chas. Tupper submitted resolutions to the House of Commons, carrying out the last proposals indicated above. An immediate cash payment of $7,000,000 was provided for to pay off the floating debt and the right of possession by the Government was made to depend upon the failure of the Company to pay 12 months interest, and it was provided the balance of the $22,500,000 should be paid as the work progressed, the whole to be secured by mortgage of the whole line. In moving the House into Committee of the Whole on the resolutions (Feb. 5), Sir Chas. Tupper made a statement regarding the position and progress of the work. He submitted data showing that on the line between Callander and Port Moody, the Company had expended $23,743,305 over their receipts from Government subsidy. He expressed the belief that the line would be completed in five instead of ten years, and the hope that it would not be necessary much longer to enforce the monopoly and said, "Such is the confidence of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, in the power of the Canadian Pacific Railway to protect itself, that when the line is constructed north of Lake Superior, the Government feel it will not be incumbent upon them to preserve the position they have hitherto felt bound to preserve, that of refusing to consent to the construction of lines within the Province of Manitoba, connecting with the American railways to the South." The Bill was opposed by the Liberals and many amendments moved, all of which were voted down.

Session of 1885.—On 10th June Sir J. Macdonald moved for Committee of the Whole to consider resolutions (1) authorizing the Canadian Pacific Railway Company to issue $35,000,000 five per cent. first mortgage bonds, to be a first charge on all the property of the Company, except the land grant and the Algoma branch, the bonds to be delivered to the Government; (2) on the delivery of the bonds the Government's mortgage should cease and the shares held by the Government be cancelled, provided that the Algoma branch should still be held as security for the repayment of the loan advanced by the Government; (3) the whole loan of the Government to the Company ($29,880,912) to be repaid 1st May, 1891; (4) as security for $20,000,000 of the loan the Government should hold bonds for that amount, interest being computed, so long as no default was made, at 4 per cent. ; but if default were made, five per cent. to be allowed, and after twelve months of default the Government to take over the property covered by the mortgage, and to administer the same for the benefit of the bondholders generally ; (5) for repayment of the rest of the loan, the Government to have a first lien on the outstanding land grant bonds and of the unsold land, and if this be not sufficient upon the revenue of the Company after fixed charges have been paid, any additional receipts from lands to be additional security for the repayment of the $20,000,000 ; (6) the Government to make a temporary loan of $5,000,000, to be repaid on or before 1st July, 1886, with four per cent. interest, $3,000,000 of bonds to be held as security ; (7) if there is a prospect of an American line eastward to Sault Ste. Marie the Government may release the Algoma branch from the lien of the Act of 1884, and may authorize the mortgaging of that line in order to raise money. A number of amendments were moved, but only slight modifications were made in the original bill which was passed.
