"COME, OR WE WILL FETCH YOU"

A Message to Slackers from Pts. Otto Gray in the Trenches

The following letters were written to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gray of Waterville, by Sergt. Otto F. Gray of the 15th Field Battery, R.E.F. in France: Nov. 28.

Dear Father:—Well, it is sure time for me to send you a letter, but it has been hard to get a letter written as we have been sitting a few lately.

I received the first mail tonight I have got for two months, which consisted of eight letters and the parcel mother sent me.

I was glad to get back to my unit. I was taken to the hospital Oct. 4. I had the mumps and was tired of warfare. I am, feel, O.K. now and think I will winter all right. I do wish I was home to help look after things, but I'm not, worse luck.

But to tell the truth, I feel myself lucky to be on top here when so many got it.

I hear that they are talking of an election. They say we will all have a vote. The boys here will all vote for Union Government and a lot of them will say "come, or we will fetch you." It don't make any difference what the party is.

The Canadians that are in France have won a name for themselves and all that is needed to show of them.

I saw Arthur Watson he is looking fine. Gordon Lasky, Frank Dickinson and I were in the same town two or three days.

I heard that the boys were killed but hope it isn't true.

Will close hoping this finds you all well.

O. F. GRAY.

France, Dec. 7.

Dear Mother:—I received your letter dated Nov. 4 and was very glad to hear that father was better.

Well, I suppose every one is getting ready for Christmas. It isn't much different from any other time here so don't have to do much getting ready.

You were asking my major's name, it is Beck, from Ottawa. He is a good leader. You were also asking me about my chums. I have quite a number but the old boys of the 28th are like her's teeth. One of my best chums was killed about a month ago. He was sure a good boy in any old way.

Queen, the horse you sold, is still with me. She has been wounded twice but they can't kill her. She knows more than some men and tougher than a knot. She has got a great coat of hair now.

I haven't seen Ellis McLeod lately but hope to soon.

Think I am getting quite feeby now; gained a lot when I was in the hospital. I was too poor when I was in Paris to have my picture. I should have a pass coming to me in the spring either to England or to Canada.

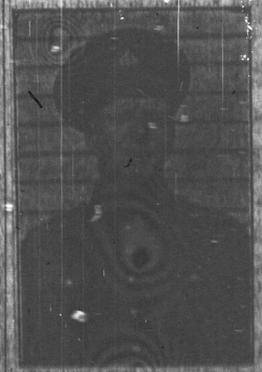

Maybe they will take a lot of us back after the election.

Best wishes—

Sergt. OTTO F. GRAY.

Vaugh-Kilpatrick

A very pretty wedding took place on Wednesday, Dec. 19, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Kilpatrick, Wicklow, when their second daughter, Jean Gertrude, was united in marriage to John Fenwick Waugh of Florenceville. Rev. F. A. Whitman was the officiating clergyman. At one o'clock the bridal party entered the parlor taking their places under an arch of evergreen and pink and white roses. The bride, who was formerly a popular young lady of Florenceville, looked charming in a bridal gown of white duchesse satin and georgette crepe, wearing the conventional veil and orange blossoms, and carrying a bouquet of white bridal roses and maiden hair fern.

This portrait of Frank Goulet who was killed in the battle of Passchendaele on Nov. 8, was enlarged from a group snapshot. The picture was taken in Hartland shortly before he left for the front.

The bridesmaid, Miss Stella Hunter of Florenceville, wore a demure dress of pale blue satin-de-chene carrying a bouquet of pink roses and maiden hair fern. The groom was supported by A. D. McCain, cousin of the bride. After the ceremony the guests were ushered to the dining room where a very dainty luncheon was served. Mrs. J. D. Day of Bath poured coffee while Mrs. J. R. McCain of Florenceville served the ices, after which the happy couple left on a wedding trip to St. John and other Maritime cities. The gifts received were numerous and costly testifying to the popularity of the young couple. The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl necklace, to the bridesmaid's sunburst brooch, to the best man a scarf pin. After the honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Waugh will reside at East Florenceville.

Bride Well-Known Here

Recently Miss Nellie Ebbett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ebbett of Aroostook, Me., was united in marriage with Irvin Gray of Fort Fairfield where the ceremony was performed. The bride is very well known in Hartland, where she was employed for some time, and her friends are wishing her a lifetime of happiness. The groom is a member of the firm of J. B. Gray & Son, machinists.

THE OBSERVER WANTS YOUR BOY'S PHOTO

Will Commence Publishing Portraits of Carleton-Victoria Soldiers

The Observer intends to commence right away the publication of the portraits and a short sketch of as many Carleton-Victoria boys as photos and necessary data can be secured. One or more of these will be printed each succeeding week, but in order to carry the proposition through the manager must have the co-operation of the boys' friends at home. Therefore we ask any who have a son, brother or any other near and dear boy at the Front to send his photograph, showing him in khaki, if possible. It makes no difference if the picture is large or small, or is a group. So long as it is clear and distinct a good plate can be made from it. If postage stamps are sent for the purpose the photo will be returned intact.

The manager will also desire certain information concerning the lad, so that a correct write-up may be printed along with the picture.

What we wish to know is the lad's name, residence, age, names of parents, if he is married and how many children, when he enlisted, what battalion, when he sailed, how long at the front, if he has brothers, one or more at the front, if he has been wounded or ill. Give full particulars briefly.

As stated the portraits will be published one or two each week, but it is very necessary that the photos and information should be sent to us at an early date, as possible as the cost of making the plate, which are very expensive, is reduced if a large number can be ordered at one time.

All interested will greatly oblige The Observer if they will attend to this matter quickly.

Mrs. Henry Day Dies of Pneumonia

On Friday evening death claimed Mrs. Henry Day after three days' illness of pneumonia. She was almost 71 years of age and at Christmas was in good health. Her husband died five years ago and she is survived by two sons, Bert, on the homestead at Upper Brighton, where the deceased lived and died, and Dudley, proprietor of Day's hotel at Bath. She was a daughter of the late James Rideout and was born and lived the whole of her life at Upper Brighton. Mrs. Day was a woman of fine characteristics and held in highest esteem by a large circle of friends.

The funeral service was held at the United Baptist church at Upper Brighton on Sunday afternoon, with sermon by Rev. P. J. Quigg and a large gathering of people met to pay last respects to a worthy friend.

A NEW YEAR

The year just closed has been a memorable one. It has been a year of sorrow. It has brought lesser sorrow to more hearts than any in history. To the agony of war, which has added, and on the last day came news of an earthquake in South America that took toll of more than a thousand lives.

Let us hope the new year will deal more kindly with mankind. Let us hope that mankind will learn to do only that which is right; to be patient in affliction, and to be kind and charitable to those whose suffering, whose weakness is greater than our own. The Observer wishes every reader a Happy and Prosperous New Year. Especially does this wish go to its busy district correspondents whose pens contribute so largely to the news feature of the paper.

Sunday a Special Day of Intercession

On the coming Sabbath Day, for the first time in history all the Christian people throughout the world, all churches, will unite in prayer for a common cause—for peace. King George has issued a proclamation decreeing that Jan. 6 shall be observed throughout the realm as a day of special intercession, and his wish will be carried out. Not only is public prayer desired, but in the home circle, or alone, wherever Christian people may be. The churches of Hartland will of course observe the day. The Observer is asked to announce on behalf of the United Baptist church that Rev. E. B. McLatchy will preach a sermon at 7:30 hearing on the subject and that otherwise the day will be observed at the service.

Winning the War

The Government expects the kitchen of the country to help in winning the war. Rev. W. C. Keirstead, provincial organizer of Food Control, lectured on the subject in the Baptist church Nov. 28, 1917, and a committee was appointed consisting of the presidents of the Red Cross, Women's Institute, and W.C.T.U. and Mrs. S. S. Miller, to visit every house to explain the situation and present food cards for signature. The members of the committee are required to state clearly the reasons given by any person not signing the pledge cards and meeting the requirements.

Campbell-Lunn

A very pretty home wedding was celebrated on Dec. 22 when Rev. F. A. Wightman united in the bonds of holy matrimony Miss Gertrude, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dunoon Lunn, of Summerfield to Clyde Campbell of Lowell, Mass. The bride looked oharming in a costume of white. The guests and gifts were numerous, the bride being a general favorite. The happy couple will reside in Lowell followed by the best wishes of a host of friends.

Centreville News

New Year's day bright and cold. We wish "The Observer" and all its readers a happy and prosperous year. December has been a record month for cold. The oldest cannot remember ever having experienced such steady, extreme cold in December. Saturday night and Sunday morning the cold was intense accompanied by a wind that bit any exposed portion and penetrated the thickest clothes. Some thermometers registered as low as 43. Monday was very little better with more wind. New Year's day was not quite so cold but still there was a great chance for improvement. It is no fun to get up every two hours through the night to build on fires to keep yourself and the kiddies warm.

Miss Marguerite Campbell is visiting in Fredericton.

The stores report an exceptional good Xmas trade, with customers buying useful articles instead of the usual frivolous presents. Trains on both the Valley and C. P. R. have all been late for the past week on account of the cold weather. The crews are certainly earning their money these days especially the engineers.

The funeral services were held at the house on Wednesday conducted by Director Adams with preaching by Rev. P. J. Quigg, assisted by Rev. P. J. Trafton. Much sympathy is

USING A MEDICINE DROPPER.

The More Blasting It Is Held The Bigger The Drops Will Be.

When using a medicine dropper it is important to use it correctly, especially if measuring out drops of some powerful medicine like strychnine, morphine or arsenic, for drops vary widely in their size.

Dr. H. P. Garrow of London recently reported to the Lancet the results of some experiments he had made with a medicine dropper and a simple solution. He measured the solution very carefully and then took it all up into a medicine dropper, from which he turned it drop by drop, holding the dropper at different angles and counting the drops as they fell.

With the dropper held vertically (at an angle of 90 degrees with the horizontal) he counted, made, 100 drops. Held at an angle of 60 degrees its contents made eighty-two drops; at 30 degrees they made sixty-eight drops; at 10 degrees they made sixty drops, and held horizontal they made only forty-eight drops.

In other words, the drops become progressively larger as the dropper is moved from the vertical position. A drop from a dropper held at an angle of 30 degrees is one-quarter larger than normal; thus, if the nurse has to give sixteen drops and holds the dropper slanting she is really giving twenty. And the more slanting the dropper the bigger the drops.

Always Had Headaches

Live Was Torpid and Bilious Spells Brought Not Headaches—Lost Much Time, But is Now Completely Cured.

Here is convincing evidence that liver trouble which you may suffer from liver trouble and consequent biliousness there is cure in the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Overactivity is the most common cause of sluggish liver action. You see your appetite, have distressing bilious spells, constipation, and you feel nervous and irritable. The liver becomes torpid, constipation and biliousness alternating, dizziness is used and you get irritable and downhearted.

No treatment so quickly awakens the action of the liver and bowels as Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. For many reasons this medicine is wonderfully purgative and has enormous popularity. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are the only pills which give you relief from biliousness and constipation in a few days.

GIRLS! LEMON JUICE IS A SKIN WHITENER

How to make a creamy beauty lotion for a few cents.

The juice of two fresh lemons strained into a bottle containing three ounces of cream white makes a whole quart of the most remarkable lemon skin beautifier. At about the spot one must pay for a small jar of the ordinary cold cream. Care should be taken to strain the lemon juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan and is the ideal skin softener, whitener and beautifier.

Just try it! Get three ounces of cream white at any drug store and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quart pint of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands.

FALLS ONLY TO RISE.

An Experiment With a Sort of Perpetual Motion Effect.

A novel experiment in the demonstration of perpetual motion is to be performed simply. A glass beaker about six inches high and four inches in diameter is filled with water to the height of about four and a half inches, and two and one-half to three ounces of commercial antine are added, which will sink to the bottom of the vessel.

The temperature of the beaker and its contents is now raised to 170 or 175 degrees F. by means of a burner, when it will be observed that the antine will rise to the surface of the water, from which it will hang in a mass of curved outline. Almost immediately the suspended antine commences to stir in shape, and gradually a large drop an inch or more in diameter detaches itself from the mass and falls through the water.

And now, the detached drop having fallen to the bottom of the beaker, comes the surprising part of the experiment. The fallen drop is seen gradually to rise to the surface, where it joins the mass from which it previously broke away. At once another drop commences to form and, having become detached, falls and rises in the same manner as the previous drop.

So long as the temperature of the water is maintained at 170 degrees or over this procedure continues.

YES! MAGICALLY! CORNS LIFT OUT WITH FINGERS

You simply say to the drug store man, "Give me a quarter of an ounce of frezone." This will cost very little but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn from one's feet.

A few drops of this new ether compound applied directly upon a tender, itching corn should relieve the soreness instantly, and soon the entire corn, root and all, dries up and can be lifted out with the fingers.

This new way to rid one's feet of corns was introduced by a Cincinnati man, who says that, while frezone is sticky, it dries in a moment, and simply shrivels up the corn without irritating or even irritating the surrounding tissue of skin.

Don't let father die of infection or scald from whitening at his corns, but clip this out and make him try it.

Girls think that washing dishes requires a great deal more exertion than going to a matinee.

Knowing when to quit is a sort of sixth sense comparable only to knowing when not to begin.

It is easy to see that each person wants the best of it, but ethically what's the answer?

Waste Energy.
This raising gain at every chance won't bring you any gain.
Get down to the hard account.
That's carried in your name.
Or purchase for the tin test.
No time for your name.
And any way you figure it.
You always find you lose.

Why high old time are being raised.
And you are at the front.
Performing like a circus clown.
Who does a high priced stunt.
You seem to be progressing down.
A mile a minute track.
But what you come to earth you find.
That it has set you back.

There's nothing in it, little boys,
This tearing up the night.
And when you come to try it out.
You'll find that I am right.
No time for your name.
The time may slip away.
But you will view it different.
The old, gray days and days.

The modest, plain and simple life.
Will better stand the strain.
Provided that it is not made.
Too simple and too plain.
And as you go along in years.
At times remember back.
That course will leave you looking back.
Less like a railroad track.

WAR EXPERIENCE OF SCHOOL TEACHER

Former Principal of Florenceville School Writes Thrilling Letter

The following letter is from Pte. Harold W. Goodwin, a former principal of Florenceville Consolidated School, who gave up his position and enlisted. The letter is addressed to his parents who reside in Westmorland county:

Nov. 28th, 1917.

Dear Folks: Well, I am in hospital in England at last, the first step toward home and Canada. I arrived in England on the 24th, at Southampton. I am going to start now and tell you all about my being wounded, and right up till now.

By god, but it seems great to know I can read this letter myself without anyone reading it and can write just what I please, no censoring over here you know. This is the first letter I have been able to seal for over a year. Well, I will tell you about my being wounded now, although it gives me a case of nerves to think about it. Well, we went over the top at Ypres, Belgium, early in morning (just breaking daylight) of the 30th of October. We were to drive Fritz off the ridge in front of us. Well the barrage started and it was hell and nothing else, shells bursting everywhere and machine guns rattling everywhere. Lots of our fellows were killed before we climbed out of the trench to go over. Lewis Allen, a chum of mine, whose home is near Port Elgin, was killed here.

Well we went over and it was like walking through fire. I do not know how I got as far as I did, for fellows were falling all around me and shells bursting everywhere. I got about three hundred yards before I was hit. I had just taken a few shots at some Fritz who were trying to run away, when I was knocked down by this shell.

I fell into a shell hole that was partly full of water, and could not get out, and had to lay there for four or five hours with shells bursting all around and I expected every minute was the last one, believe me. My left leg was smashed from the knee down and my left hand banged up pretty badly, but I guess it is going to come out as good as ever. Well, after I had been lying in this shell hole, I saw that our fellows were not getting along very well with Fritz and were being driven back a little. I was afraid I would be left there and get taken prisoner or just bayoneted by Fritz and I thought that if I had to pass out I might as well do it trying to get back to our lines as as there in that hole.

I started to crawl back with my leg dragging behind, and I never did such a hard job in my life. It took me nearly half a day to crawl back to our trench, as I did not get back until nearly night. Some fellows found me lying in the trench and picked me up and carried me over to a little dressing station where some of my wounds were tied up. I stayed all night and part of the next day, when I was carried out about three miles on a stretcher and put in a motor-ambulance where my wet clothes were cut off, and my wounds received the first good dressing they had. This was the evening of the second day you see, before I got out of the line. I was then put in the car again and taken down a short distance to the casualty clearing station at Poperidge, Belgium, where my leg was X-rayed, and I was put under ether and when I woke up my leg was off at the knee. This was about ten o'clock at night.

I stayed there the next day and then the day after I was put on the ambulance train and came down to No. 11 Hospital at Rouen. I arrived there the 2nd of November, got fine care there, and began to recover my strength

O.K., and my wounds began to heal some. I was sent from there the 23rd and put on the Hospital Ship "St. George" for England and arrived at Southampton the 24th, then I was put on a Red Cross train again and sent up to London and here I am.

It is a very nice hospital and a large one too, you get good care and everything. It is a Catholic one and some of the nurses are nuns, but of course the patients are of all religions and it makes no difference. There are some more Canadians here too; you have lots of visitors here, and they bring in fruit and things like that. I have been visited by a Canadian Red Cross lady and they got you anything you need. I was in a wheel chair for an hour or two yesterday and taken up stairs to a concert which was very good. It was a treat to sit up for it was only the second time. My leg is healing fine and does not bother me, also my hand is doing good. Several of the bones in the back of the hand are broken, but they are knitting all right. I hope you are not worrying all the time about my being wounded this time for believe me it might have been a great deal worse, and I am lucky to be here at all you bet.

My mail is going to be sent to me from France as the sister of the hospital I was in said she would send it as soon as she got my address, so I will be getting your letters in a few days all right. I will get your mail quickly now as it don't have so far to go.

Well, I won't bother you any more by telling of my wounds and other unpleasant things of that kind, but ask about how you all are and getting on. Expect you have a good bit of snow by now. We had snow for about ten minutes on Sunday here. I hear there is an election in Canada next month, and you know the soldiers will have their vote, so I suppose I will have my first vote.

Well, I guess I will close for now as I haven't much more news. Hope you are all well. Write often I will write again soon when I have some news.

Pte. Harold W. Goodwin.

THICK GLOSSY HAIR FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Give Trial! Hair gets soft, fluffy and beautiful—Get a small bottle of Danderine.

If you care for heavy hair that glazes with beauty and is radiant with life, has an incomparable softness and is fully and luxuriant, try Danderine.

Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff. You can not have nice, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This constructive scrub jobs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots loosen, loosen and die; then the only fall-out. Surely get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store and just try it.

Upriver Towns Will Grow Rapidly Soon as New Mills Operate.

The development of the pulp wood industry along the St. John river valley is expected to bring much prosperity to several places in New Brunswick and Maine, including Edmundston, Van Buren and St. Leonards.

A large pulp mill has been located at Edmundston and a large new plant at Van Buren is nearing completion. Canada cuts about 700,000 cords of spruce pulp wood annually for United States mills. Much hemlock is also exported.

A Necessity in the House.

Many of the common ills of life arise from a torpid, sluggish condition of the Liver, Kidneys or Bowels, and because they act on each of these organs in a direct and specific way, Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills overcome serious and painful diseases over which ordinary medicines have no control.

HAVE NO MORE FOREST FIRES

To Save New Brunswick Forests by New Forest Service

The chief power behind the circulating dollar in New Brunswick is the productive forests. To reduce the lumber cut automatically reduces the amount of money that is available for everyday business. It also means the reduction of provincial revenues, and the amount thus forfeited, would have to be raised by other kinds of public taxes. Employment likewise would be a permanent slump from which nothing could revive it.

In order to keep New Brunswick's forests contributing their utmost in money and employment, in thriving towns and busy industries, a movement is under way to have the Provincial Government reorganize the system of fire protection on all the timber lands. Fire has robbed New Brunswick of vast quantities of timber, from which no citizen derived a penny of benefit nor a day's employment. The plan proposed by the Chief Forester and strongly supported by public bodies such as the Commission of Conservation and the Canadian Forestry Association, is to establish a system of fire districts, each in charge of a competent forester. Instead of locally-controlled fire wardens, as at present, there would be a centrally-controlled body of skilled men, under constant supervision and discipline. Such a system of fire rangers has been proved as the only workable and economical plan by Quebec, British Columbia and Ontario.

The rangers would perform their duties according to schedule, giving close account of their time, distances covered, fires encountered, fire damage, etc. They would be assisted by observation towers, telephone lines and other necessary aids in controlling outbreaks of fire. To encourage the best rangers to remain with the Forest Service from year to year, the Chief Forester plans to utilize them for supervision of the cutting in fall and winter. This involves a new departure for New Brunswick. It means that the Government would have much more thorough oversight of the quantities of logs cut on licensed lands and could make some provisions for the more careful treatment of the forest by jobbers.

A feature of the plan of Forest Service reorganization, now being considered by the Government is that with very little more than the present expenditure, New Brunswick can have a well organized Forest Service second to none in Canada.

GIVE "SYRUP OF FIGS" TO CONSTIPATED CHILD

Delicious "Fruit Laxative" casts harm tender little stomach, Liver and Bowels.

Each of the tongue, mother! If coated, your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing at once. When peevish, cross, listless, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad, has sore throat, diarrhoea, full of colic, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups.

Grant-Giberson

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Giberson of Holmesville was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Dec. 19, when their daughter, Margaret Elva, was united in marriage to Murray Laurence Grant eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Handford Grant of Kilburn. The ceremony took place at 3 o'clock, the bridal party entering the parlor to the strains of the wedding march rendered by Miss Amy Giberson. The officiating clergyman was Rev. C. O. Howlett of Bath. The bride looked very winsome in a gown of white duchesse satin, trimmed with shadow lace. She wore a veil with orange blossoms, and carried a bouquet of white carnations, pinks, and maiden-hair fern. The bridesmaid, Miss Bernice Giberson, sister of the bride, was becomingly attired in pale blue satin. The groom was supported by his brother, Leigh H. Grant of Kilburn. After the happy young couple had received the congratulations of the guests a bountiful supper was served.

Many beautiful gifts were received, including over $40 in cash. The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl and amethyst pendant.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant, who will reside in Kilburn, have the best wishes of all for a long and happy married life.

Beaufort Girl Weds in New Jersey

A Vineland, N. J., paper says:

There was one of the prettiest and jolliest home weddings last night at the Barr residence on Almond street, that can be imagined. The contracting parties were Charles Steel Barr and Miss Ethel Estella Lee. The whole house was decorated in red and green, holiday colors, and the ceremony took place under an arch of mistletoe, holly and ferns with a background of green as a bank in the bay window. The Rev. Francis Van R. Moore, rector of Trinity Church, performed the ring ceremony. The bride was given away by her mother, who came from West Virginia to attend the celebration. The bride was prettily gowned in blue Georgette crepe, embroidered with beads, and carried a bouquet of white carnations. The bridesmaids were Miss Winifred Lee, sister of the bride, and Miss Gladys Barr, sister of the bridegroom. Miss Lee was dressed in green and Miss Barr in blue. The wedding procession made a very pretty appearance on the march to the altar to the strains of wedding music. The best man was Harold Fitzhugh, and Mr. Chas. Tassart, the bander, acted as usher.

A feature that added to the beauty of the occasion was the supper table. It was trimmed to green foliage and white carnations and the big cakes and the little cakes with the bountiful supply of everything else, made a very tempting sight and the twenty-five guests never had a more social time around the festive board.

The presents were beautiful and plentiful. The bride was generously remembered by the many friends she has made since coming here about a year from Canada about a year ago. Cut glass, aluminum ware, silver, fancy work and about everything else, including fifty dollars in shining gold, made up a very nice list with which to begin house-keeping. The newlyweds will go to housekeeping on Mainrose street.

"CASCARETS" WORK WHILE YOU SLEEP

For Sick Headache, Sour Stomach, Sluggish Liver and Bowels—Take Cascarets tonight.

Furred Tongue, Bad Taste, Indigestion, Sallow Skin and Miserable Headache come from a torpid liver and clogged bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food, which scours and ferments like garbage in a swill barrel. That's the first step to untold misery—indigestion, foul gases, bad breath, yellow skin, mental fears, everything that is horrible and nauseating. A Cascaret tonight will give your constipated bowels a thorough cleansing and straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist will keep you feeling good for months.

Appreciates Efforts of Star Bible Class

The president of the Star Bible Class (ladies) of the United Baptist Sunday school are in receipt of the following letter, dated at Shorncliffe, Eng., which needs no word of explanation:

"Dear Friends: Will write a few lines to let you know I received your parcel all right. It was O. K. and I was very glad to get it as I am back in hospital again for a slight operation. The cats were very acceptable as they don't give us any too much while in hospital. Will be out again by the time you receive this. Please give my thanks to the members of your class with best wishes for a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. That it is the fact that this cloud of wax will hold us under is the sincere wish of a Canadian soldier. With many thanks to my old New Brunswick friends—"

Opportunity for Dental Work

Dr. Mahser has returned to Woodstock and will resume his practice in dental surgery. For the past year Dr. Mahser has been serving as a Captain in the Canadian Army Dental Corps and his great experience has added more to his already long experience in dental work and surgery. His experience in anaesthetics especially gas, has been enormous, handling hundreds of patients monthly in the Army Hospitals. He is anxious to procure all the difficult cases possible. His equipment is of the most modern type and as in the past he guarantees all his work to be of the best. Gas and ether administered. His famous anaesthetic "odontohurt" for the painless extraction of teeth has been greatly improved upon. Artificial teeth; gold, silver, the new porcelain and cement fillings inserted; Crown and bridge work.
His motto is quality and not quantity of work. Office at his residence, Chapel street, which faces the Post Office and is opposite the Turner House and Armoury Woodstock, N. B.
