t Is Likely the Water Commissioners Will Have Offices, and Display Rooms in Rented Store.

It will cost the city about $15,000 or $20,000 to remodel the city hall to afford the accommodation desired by the water commissioners.

This statement was made to The Advertiser by a gentleman in close touch with the plans. He doubted very much that the council would make so large an expenditure on the old building, but would rather consider the building of

But being in a fine, large, Conservative place, where he was intended to do nothing more serious than smile, the Provincial Secretary overlooked the naked jaws of the dogs, mostly hounds, and quickly absorbed in being a jolly good fellow, particularly to a group of laughing ladies standing in front of his hotel. Cheers for Borden.

But this is the day of the new lieutenant, Doherty. The local Conservaive Association carefully separated the members of Mr. Borden's party and put one in each carriage, so as to make better display. Mr. Doherty came in the third carriage behind Mr. Hanna. When he arrived at the hotel the cheers for Mr. Borden had already died on the hot summer air. He slipped quietly out of the carriage, pushed quickly through the crowd, and ten minutes afterward was found standing half-hidden behind a door-jamb, watching Mr. Borden on the sidewalk, shaking hands. Mr. Hanna was already telling stories to some bemuslined school girls, who blushed with the honors. Mr. J. S. Carstairs, the Dominion Conservative organizer, was already busy shaking hands with a group of local stalwarts. The newspaper reporters had already faded away to the telegraph offices, but there in the shadow the quiet new lieutenant of the leader of his majesty's loyal Opposition at Ottawa stood unobserved, ob-

IRISHMEN ARE OUT FOR NEW MEMBERS

Arrangements Made for Thorough Canvass at Meeting Held Last Night.

At a meeting of the membership committee of the Irish Benevolent Society held last evening in the board of trade rooms, arrangements were made for a thorough canvass of Irishmen in the city. Mr. A. T. McMahen, chairman of the committee, presided. At the present time there are about 250 members, and it is the intention to bring the number up to at least 500. The committee was divided, and to canvass. The younger members were also given lists, and a thorough and systematic canvass of the young Irishmen of the city will be undertaken. Already a large number have taken out membership cards, and there is a great demand for them,

In British Columbia, which returns only one supporter of Sir Wilfrid, he will no longer have to face an anti-Japanese agitation, thanks to his statesmanlike solution of the problem. Throughout the whole west the Laurier Government has acted upon the policy of "the land for the settler," and it is now promoting great conservation plans, with an eye to the future. The Laurier Government has done magnificently for Western Canada, and Sir Wilfrid will be certain of a hearty western greeting.

UNCLAIMED BANK BALANCES.

There has just been issued by the department of finance at Ottawa a voluminous report of nearly eight hundred pages showing dividends, unclaimed balances and drafts or bills of exchange remaining unpaid in the chartered banks of Canada, in respect to which no transactionss have taken place or upon which no interest has feebly? been paid for five years and upwards, prior to the 31st of December last.

The total amount of unclaimed balances in the 29 chartered banks is given at $629,764, the unpaid dividends at $5,025 47, and the unpaid drafts or bills of exchange at about $35,000. The Montreal City and District Savings Bank has the largest amount of unclaimed balances, $124. 615 79, and the Northern Crown Bank the smallest, 50 cents.

Some of the undivided balances run up into the thousands, but in the great a hat struck her, and bang went twenty majority of instances units and tens francs. represent the dollars involved. Many of the balances have been lying in the banks for years. For instance, there has been in the Bank of Montreal, to parrot you sold me. This is not a large amount, it is true, but in the intervening years this city has had boards of health which could certainly have found means of spending it, and no doubt would have been glad to

That so large a sum remains in the banks unclaimed is chiefly due to two causes-the death or removal of the payee to some other country. The suggestion has frequently been made that some steps should be taken whereby sums remaining in a bank's hands for a lifetime can be disposed of. The cost to the Government of printing these statements from time to time is condence that the means of publicity resorted to does not bring about the desired object, namely, that those interested shall come to their own. One suggestion is that after a balance has remained for a certain number of years and all efforts of tracing the owners have failed, it should be appropriated by the crown for some charitable obiect. The result would be a gradual reduction of the bulk of the blue book and a saving of money.

Under existing circumstances, he did not court inquiry in that shape, and the queer notion came that, in all likelihood, its prior owner carried it slung round his neck,

"Yes, by Jove, and the cord strangled him," murmured Warden. Nevertheless, not being in the least superstitious, he might have adopted that plan of con-cealing it if he possessed a stout piece of cord or strong ribbon. But his pock-ets contained neither the one nor the other and a sharp pang came with the recollection that, in a case of similar need not so long ago, Evelyn's hussif held a neat coil of tape that would have suited his purpose exactly.

Inside his waistcoat, however, was a secret pocket for carrying money. It was provided with a flap and a button, and would serve admirably as a hidingplace until he was able to intrust the ruby to a bank for transference to London. So there it went, making a little lump over his heart, and reminding him constantly that Demencio Garcia constantly that Demencio Garcia had not deceived him.

He was about to climb down again when his glance fell on the displaced stone. As a tribute to poor Garcia's memory, he put it back in its bed, and even took the trouble to pour a few handfuls of dust and loose mortar into the joints, so that none might know it had ever been removed. While thus occupied, his attention was momentarily drawn to a pair of storks circling laxily drawn to a pair of storks circling lazily above the tower. He wondered if they above the tower. He wondered if they were the same placid couple that had watched him earlier. No bird is more wide-awake than the stork, despite its habitual air of sleepy indifference, and Warden fancied that the noise he made must have disturbed the two sentinels on the top of the building. on the top of the building.

The hill-side was absolutely deserted. Far below nestled the white mass of the town, its long, low, white-washed rectangles broken only by clumps of trees and an occasional dome or minaret. Near the quay lay the Water Witch, Her cranes were busy, two strings of coolies were rushing back and forth across a broad gangway, and the first mate was directing operations from the bridge. Warden smiled. He had heard the flow of language at the "Chief's" command when some incident on ship-board demanded the reading of the riot act, and he could well imagine the way in which the governor's own surf-boat. Under such conditions thought is quick, and Warden was colored "I believe he was worried about a woman," began the other. "What? In Rabat?" "No, no, in London. Only this morning I received a letter from a Mrs. Laing, who says she is exceedingly anxious to ascertain Captain Warden's and ought is quick, and Warden was sure that he had unwittingly invaded the sanctuary of a Mohammedan fanatic. He was minded to whip out the revolver and fire a shot that would at least scare this strange being back into his eyrie. But a British sense of fair play stopped him The blue man, howsoever wild-looking The blue man, howsoever wild-looking, had not interfered with or molested him in any way. He himself was the intruder. The fact that he was undeniably startled did not justify the use of a bullet, even for scaring purposes. The best thing to do was to reach the ground as speedily as might be, risking a jump when he was low enough to be provided to the startless of the second startless than the second startless and the second startless than the second startless and the second startless than the second startl was low enough to select a particula stone on which to alight. His dominant feeling at the moment was one of pique that he had failed to interpret correctly the flight of the storks. If the zealot on top of the tower meant mischief it would have been far better to have met him in one of the upper rooms than to be his mercy while clinging like a fly the face of the wall. He was within ten feet of the pile of rough stones, and was about to drop on one larger than its fellows—in fact, he was already in the air, having sprung slightly outward, when a crushing blow on his head and left shoulder flung him violently on to the very slab of granlte he was aiming for. The shock was so violent that he felt no pain. Consciousness was acute for a fraction of a second. He understood that a heavy stone had fallen or been dropped purposely from the summit of the tower, and that his change of position, helped perhaps by the arched crown of his pith hat, had prevented it from striking directly on top of his head. But that was all. He lay there, with his back propped awk-wardly against the tower, staring up at the sky. He saw nothing but the bright dome of heaven. It seemed to be curi-ously near, and its glowing bounds were closing in on him with the speed of light Then the veil fell, and there was merciful darkness.

Consternation reigned in Rabat next morning. The Captain of the Water Witch began the disturbance over night. but when daylight brought no tidings of the missing Englishman, the British vice-consul talked most unfeelingly of a spirited away without human agency. The Bey was not listened to, so he tried what the Pills have done for me, and would advise other sufferers from this trouble to try them.

What Dr. Williams' Pink Pills did for Mrs. Davidson they have done for many others—not only in cases of eczema and salt rheum, but for eruptions and pimples, chronic erysipelas, scrofula, and all other maladies which arise from poor blood. They banish

Now, the Bey knew quite well that the Blue Man of El Hamra made the Tower his headquarters when he visited Rabat periodically to collect subscriptions for the Jehad that was to drive every foreigner out of the sacred land of the Moors. But he kept silent on that matter, for he feared the Blue Man even more than the British fleet. Neverthe-

"BIG BROTHER AND BIG SISTER MOVEMENT"

Discussion On Monday by the Children's Aid Society of London.

The Children's Aid Society held its regular monthly meeting in the city hall yesterday afternoon, and wound up its business over the summer months, the board adjourning until the second Monday in September.

There was considerable discussion at the meeting with regard to what may be called the "Big Brother and Big Sister" movement of the society, which has grown out of the action of the committee appointed at the last meeting to wait on the Ministerial Association, and which asked for a body of volunteer workers from the different churches to act as friends to the children and young people of the city whose own home influences were unfavorable to their development into good citizens. The committee gave the names of 40 urgent cases, which been sent to the different clergymen, with a letter requesting them to deal with each case by appointing a friend for each individual or family given, in conformity with the understanding reached at the meeting with decided yesterday to follow this up

Even the amazing showing of Roger Bresnahan's Cardinals, or the stiffening up of Dahlen's Dodgers, and Dooin's Philadelphia Doubtfuls, not to mention Griffith's work at Cincinnati, pales besides that of Lake, because this is a distinct repeat for the Bostonian Dove director. Last year, with the Red Sox, of the American League, he went rowing out in front, keeping them contenders to the turn at the head of the stretch. A dif-ference win Taylor, the Red Sox owner, sent him to Taylor's competitors, the Doves, and starting with nothing at all, it might be said, Lake has made the team—not pennant contenders, of course

Police Are Seeking to Locate Her Relatives in This City.

Chief Williams was advised this morning by Chief Smith, of Hamilton, that an old lady named Mary Ann Wright, from London, was overcome by the heat yesterday while walking on the street there, and is in such a critical condition in the hospital there that her recovery is doubtful. All the information the police could obtain from Mrs. Wright was that she had a sister residing on Talbot street, Lon-

Business This Week Has Been

Very Slow On the Square.

Sales have been very slow around the market so far this week and the result has been a decline in price in most products. The grocer's excursion to Detroit had the effect yesterday and today of keeping things quiet.

For the past week or two oats have been steadly dropping in price, and this morning the few loads that were in sold from $1 in to $1 in 2 a cwt. On June 1 to ast sof good quality were quoted as high as $1 30 a cwt. and consequently the drop is quite moticeable. The stump is to be accounted for by the fact that there is not any great demand just at present and cannot be attributed to any flooding of the market, for the supply has not been very large.

Yesterday's prices for hay prevailed this morning. About 15 loads were sold, $14 a ton being top price.

LIVE STOCK. TORONTO. June 14.—Grass-fed cattle are coming in more freely, and, as usual, include a rather large proportion of poor--conditioned stuff. For the above class of cattle the trade was a little slower at this market today and prices at little easier. For the better class of good butcher cattle, whether gass or stable-fed, the market was as firm as ever, the top prices for choice butchers and export cattle as paid in yesterday's market being easily duplicated today. The best butchers were again quoted firm at from $6.40 up to $7.25, and choice exporters at $6.90 to to $7 25, and choice exporters at $6 90 to $7 50; extra choice heavy exporters at $7 75 to $7 85. Butcher cows cover a wide range, from the commonest of the rough grassers at $2 50 to $3, up to $6 15 for choicest fat cows. Bulls firm for butchers or exporters, at $5 to $6 25. Stockers, choice, at $5 to $5 50, and heavy feeders at $6 to $6 25. Spring lambs firm at 9c to 10c per ib, or $3 to $6 50 each. Calves are firm at $3 to $5 50 each. W. C. T. U. PICNIC WILL

Was Held On Tuesday.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union met on Tuesday in the lecture in charge, and a busy session was enjoyed in spite of the heat.

The corresponding secretary read communication asking aid in the building of a W. C. T. U. structure in Toronto. It was decided to inform the union that they could not give help at present, as they were themselves in pecuniary straits regarding a suitable building.

A letter from Miss Griesbach. Collingwood, relating to narcotics, was also read, and a motion passed to try any introduce to London homes "The White Tyrant," a story-book relating to the downfall of a boy from the use of narcotics.

Rev. Mr. Whiting, of the First Methodist Church, addressed the meeting from Luke, iv. The president announced that the annual picnic of the local union is to be held on July 12, and all arrangements which could then be made were of at once proceeded with. Those present were informed that the next session, June 28, is to be superintendents' report day for the quar-

BUMPED A CHIMNEY

New York, June 14.-Fred Owens, a 20-year-old aeronaut of Belleville, N. J., brought business to a virtual standstill in Lower Manhattan today by flying across the Hudson River in a dirigible balloon, and then attempting to land his craft in City Hall Park. Owens found that landing had its elements of hazards as well as those of flying. His dirigible became un-manageable in the vagrant air current between the city hall and the county court house, and the framework of the gas bag bumped a chimney on the frame and putting the propeller out of business.

Owens threw out a rope and tried Owens made a test trip of ten miles with his dirigible this morning from Belleville, N. J., to Passaic and re-

TOO MANY COOKS SPOIL THE BROTH

Conflict of Authority On City's Electrical Department Seems Imminent.

GLAUBITZ IS CRITICIZED

Engineer Dark Does Not Like His Report on the Springbank Pumps -Duties of the Engineers.

With the appointment of Mr. Frank R. Dark as power solicitor, there may be a conflict of authority as to duties to be performed. The board now has in its employ Mr. Dark and Engineer Roberts, and the duties of each have not been clearly defined. As a result there is a possibility of a clash of authority, an evidence of which was shown yesterday afternoon at the meeting of the water commissioners.

When Engineer Glaubitz had concluded the reading of his report, the recommendation regarding electric pumps was disposed of, and he had been instructed to oversee the erection of the tower at the power house. Mr. Glaubitz and Mr. Roberts then retired, and Mr. Dark criticized Mr. Glaubitz's report.

Says It's Indefinite. "There are many things in this report that are not definite enough," declared Mr. Dark, "I think it too vague in many respects, and it should have been more fully explained. I think he is away out on his estimated cost of building the line from here to Springbank. The distance is not more than four or five miles, and I am of the opinion that we can lay the line for considerably less than $10,000, probably half the cost. "I do not think the suggestion that aluminum wire be laid on this line is a good one. We tried it in Detroit on the lines there, and we had to scrap it and substitute copper."

Work for the Commission.

"The commission have that in charge," pointed out Mr. Pocock.
"They are going to lay the line themselves. It has all been specially tested." "Our experience with aluminum has not been a happy one," continued Mr. Detectives Now Believe That Porter Dark. "However, it may be all right Charlton Is Alive. in this case. We can buy copper very cheaply just now-cheaper than we will buy it again. There has been an over production, and now is the time has acquired information concerning to purchase a supply. You want to the murder of Mrs. Mary Scott Castle be very careful about the cable you Charlton, which has diverted the activbuy, too. I have seen some very peculiar deals with cable, and if you are not careful you are liable to get new line of inquiry.

Calling for Tenders. Mr. Dark gave his opinion as to the manner in which tenders should be called for on the underground work, and Engineer Roberts informed him that all such conditions had been complied with.

"I do not know that this comes purchase anything that was not right." The question as to whether Mr. Roberts or Mr. Dark is engineer will be settled by the board shortly. At present nobody seems to know.

BOARD OF HEALTH DIDN'T HAVE QUORUM

Consequently Milk Report and Appointment of a Bacteriologist Was Laid Over.

At a minority meeting of the board of health yesterday afternoon a petition signed by nearly forty physicians was presented, asking the board to appoint a city bacteriologist. As there was not a quorum the matter was laid over until the next meet-It was the intention of the board to deal with the report of the sub-committee on certified milk, but this, too was laid over. "We had better not report until we have a full meeting," said Dr. Williams. "The work of examining milk is being done by the milk commission of the city. Mr. Joseph Marshall has given the commission access to his dairy, and the bacteriologist of the commission is making tests in order to discover whether or not the milk will come up to the standard. So the work is going on in any event. It does not seem that we can do much at the present time, so we can lay the question over until the next meeting without doing any damage."

Scarlet Fever Epidemic. The scarlet fever epidemic was discussed at some length. For some time Dr. Williams has been perusing the report of the cases registered, with a view to finding out the particular

"The epidemic is general," said the doctor. "It can be traced to no particular source, but seems to be traceable to many causes. The type is so mild that it is probable that many cases have not received medical attention. It is a general outbreak, and will likely work itself through the city.'

Eleven Cases Reported. During the month of May there were 30 cases of scarlet fever. So far this month, eleven cases have been registered. "There is a slight decrease, I think,"

said Dr. Hutchinson. Some accounts were passed. Those present were: Mr. John Graham, chairman; R. A. Carrothers, Dr. E. R. Williams, Dr. Hutchinson, M. H.

WINDSOR'S FUTURE. Windsor, June 14.-In a discussion of the Niagara power scheme at a public meeting last night, Hon. Adam Beck said that with power from the Falls he believed Windsor was destined to become as big a centre of population and industries as is Detroit now.
