(Canadian Press.)

London, Nov. 4.—In one of the worst gales ever known in the Irish Sea, the British steamship Connemara, with passengers and a cargo of cattle from Greenore, Ireland, for Holyhead, Wales, collided last night, just outside the Carlingford Bar, with the British steamship Retriever, laden with coal. Both vessels sank immediately, with an estimated loss of life of about 100.

(Canadian Press.)

London, Nov. 4, 1:30 p.m.—The London and Northwestern Railway steamship Connemara, bound from Greenore to Holyhead with passengers, has collided with another vessel, and it is feared the death toll is about 300.

The Connemara collided with the steamship Retriever in the Irish Channel last night. Both vessels were sunk. So far as is known, there is only one survivor from both ships.

A Lloyds dispatch from Belfast says the collision occurred off Carlingford Lough, an inlet on the Irish coast between the counties of Down and Louth. The Retriever was inward bound.

A few bodies have been washed ashore on the County Down coast. The dispatch says it is feared 300 lives have been lost.

KILTIES PREPARING TO EARN THEIR STRIPES

These men are members of the 21st Battalion, Canadian Scottish Borderers, and are here taking a course for non-commissioned officers at the Royal School of Instruction. The battalion requires more men, and every one of these in the picture is a recruit and a "booster." They all swear by their officers, and are anxious to enlist any man who is of British descent and physically fit, so long as he is of a sufficiently good calibre.

The 21st is the only "kilted" battalion in No. 1 Division, and its appeal to men of Scottish birth or descent is strong. The battalion is stationed at Windsor, but may recruit anywhere in the district.

FOE ENTERS BRITISH TRENCH BUT IS PROMPTLY EXPELLED; FRENCH ADVANCE AT VERDUN

(Canadian Press.)

London, Nov. 4.—12:45 p.m.—Strong German forces last night entered the British trenches near Guinchy, seven miles east of Bethune, says the British official statement issued today, but the invaders were immediately expelled.

(Canadian Press.)

The battle of the Somme continues in spite of the unfavorable weather. Meantime great reserves of heavy shells are accumulating and the appearance of clear weather will see the opening of another tremendous artillery action. The accuracy of the German statement of the equilibrium of the two armies in artillery will then be tried.

(Canadian Press.)

New York, Nov. 4.—A news agency dispatch from London, dated today, says the Allies again have won new lines on the Somme, extending their positions in the sector south and southwest of Le Transloy. In the Verdun sector, on the right bank of the Meuse, the French, after occupying Fort Vaux, have carried their advance to the outskirts of the village of Vaux. From a hill crest the village is now dominated by the French, and its evacuation by the enemy is inevitable.

(Canadian Press.)

No Come-Back. The extent of the German retreat at Verdun, following the French attack of October 24, is indicated by the cessation of all attempts on the part of the enemy to counter-attack. ITALIANS HAMMERING TRIESTE; FOE'S PORT ALMOST ENCIRCLED; CADORNA HOLDS ALL THE KEYS

MANY CANADIAN OFFICERS CAN'T GET TO FRONT

Two Hundred or More Senior Officers Idle at Shorncliffe.

ARE WITHOUT A UNIT

Only Lieutenants and Captains Wanted for Work in Trenches.

(Special to The Advertiser.)

Toronto, Nov. 4.—That approximately two hundred or more senior officers are at Shorncliffe and other military centres of England, and drawing full pay but not attached to any unit and with no prospect whatever of getting to the front, is the statement of recently returned wounded officers.

"It is utterly useless sending any more infantry officers of rank higher than captain to England," said one informant. "As soon as battalions arrive they are broken up for reinforcements, and the reinforcements they want in trenches are not colonels, but lieutenants and non-commissioned officers and men."

All the senior officers, of course, are keen to get to the front, and many of them make immense sacrifices to do so. It is said that at least twenty lieutenant-colonels and majors have reverted to the rank of lieutenant in order to see real service.

INSECT DESTROYS TWO MILLION BALES OF COTTON IN U.S.

$200,000,000 Worth Is Loss Placed to the Boll Weevil.

(Canadian Press.)

New York, Nov. 4.—Approximately 2,000,000 bales of cotton, valued at about $200,000,000, has been destroyed by the boll weevil, and about 75 per cent of the cotton belt was infested by the insect this season, reports B. A. Taylor, president of the National Ginners' Association, who has just returned from an extensive trip through the cotton belt.

"There has never been a year in the cotton industry when the weevil has done so much damage," said Mr. Taylor. "The pest has spread greatly. I estimate the damage at 34 per cent greater than last year, all of it in new territory, where the boll weevil has never been known. The weevil this year reached the Atlantic coast for the first time."

Mr. Taylor said that he had received reports from the south showing that the pest had covered more counties this year than during the last four years combined. Alabama, Tennessee, Mississippi, Georgia, Arkansas and Oklahoma were most seriously affected.

Toulon, Nov. 4.—Via London, 12:55 a.m.—The French liner Doukala reports an attack upon her by a submarine, which she beat off after a half-hour's fighting. The submarine was last seen three quarters of an hour conducted at a range of 5,000 yards. The movements of the submarine Doukala have not been recorded in the marine registers since her arrival on January 19 last at Marseilles from Salonika. She is a vessel of 4,565 tons gross, built in 1909 in Rotterdam and owned by the Moroccan and Armenian Navigation Company of Marseilles.

(Canadian Press.)

Berlin, Nov. 4.—By Wireless to Sayville.—A report which had gained currency in Europe that recently all British newspapers had been prohibited in Germany was denied today by the Overseas News Agency. Since the beginning of the war, the news agency says, all British newspapers invariably have been accessible to the German nation.

Great Adriatic City of Austrians Now Under Siege—Blockaded From Sea by Italian Fleet, and Land Communications by Railways and Passes Are Dominated by the Enemy—30,000 Austrians Fall in Great Italian Sweep.

(Special Cable to The Advertiser.)

Rome, Nov. 4.—Noon.—Long range Italian guns have been shelling the inner defences of the Austrian seaport of Trieste today, and the Italian fleet has practically completed a blockade of the approaches to Trieste harbor. Austria's principal Adriatic seaport is practically under siege.

ALMOST ENCIRCLED

The Italians now control most of the passes and railway lines north and northwest of Trieste. The city is almost encircled. Austrian troops valiantly defending the position have been terribly decimated, in some cases whole battalions being lost or destroyed.

Estimates of Austrian killed, wounded and captured during the new sweep by Gen. Cadorna's army in this direction vary from twenty to thirty thousand Austrians killed, wounded or captured. Italian loss is also very severe, but the gains are considered proportionately great.

ROME REJOICING

Expectations here are that Trieste, which has a population of 130,000, three-fourths of whom are Italians, will be under the flag of Italy within a week or two. There is great rejoicing here.

FIERCEST OF FIGHTING MARKS CARSO CAMPAIGN

Several More Years of War, Says U.S. Man

After Tour of Europe Could Find No Signs of Peace.

(Special to The Advertiser.)

New York, N. Y., Nov. 4.—Nowhere, either in Britain, France or Germany, is there the slightest evidence yet of approaching the end of the war. There is no chance of termination of the war now than any of the belligerents in Britain, France and Germany, with broad credentials and special facilities for observation in all warring countries.

He says Germany wants peace, and admitted wants it badly, not because she believes herself defeated, but because she thinks she is nearer victory now than any of the belligerents. Germany just now will accept peace only as dictated by Germany. France is not nearly exhausted and the British nation says Mr. Howard. "After two years of muddling, stumbling and blundering is finally in the war clear up to John Bull's eyebrows."

(Canadian Press.)

Several small Italian detachments under cover of darkness reached the slopes on the slopes of Volpe outside this area. Without waiting for reinforcements they scaled the sides of the surprised enemy and after a brief encounter with bayonets and daggers captured an Austrian battery. The victors signalled news of their success to their waiting comrades below and then returned the captured guns on the Austrian trenches to the east.

(Canadian Press.)

In the fighting southeast of Gorizia Italian infantry charged over a wide area which had been flooded by a Vertovilla River. At some places they advanced to the attack in water waist deep, holding their rifles high above their heads. It is estimated here that 100,000 Austrian troops are defending the Isonzo line now under Italian attack. Several Austrian battalions have been practically wiped out of existence.

Gen. Steele and Board Decide All Shall Reach the Front.

London, Nov. 4.—Gen. Steele has been presiding over a board with the purpose of utilizing more fully the surplus senior officers coming over with battalions who on arrival here are broken up and used as reinforcements. The result will be that every officer coming from Canada will have at least some service at the front. Many will remain there, and others will return to Canada for instructional duty.

BRITISH SHIP AFIRE. London, Nov. 4.—A Lloyd's dispatch from Plymouth reports the British steamer Poros ashore and on fire in Falmouth Bay.

RICHARD ATKINSON ACQUITTED BY JURY OF MANSLAUGHTER

Took Only Half an Hour to Reach Verdict.

JUDGE WAS FAVORABLE

Charge to Jurymen Characterized Case as Unfortunate Accident.

Richard Atkinson, the Biddulph Township farmer, was acquitted last evening by the jury called to try him on the charge of manslaughter arising out of an auto accident on June 19.

The verdict of the jury was returned at 5:35 last evening, and Atkinson was freed from the charge that has been hanging over his head since the day of the accident.

The trial was a long drawn out one, the case commencing at 9 o'clock on Thursday, and the verdict of acquittal being arrived at the time above stated last evening.

A voluminous amount of evidence was adduced, very much of it favorable to the prisoner, the testimony of many witnesses for previous good conduct and character being taken.

His Lordship in his address to the jury, charged the jury to reach a verdict of acquittal.

The charge was laid against Atkinson as the result of an accident which happened on June 19, when the auto which he was driving struck down Edward Pritchett, who died later. His death was attributed by the coroner's jury to injuries sustained.

The verdict of the jury was returned after their deliberations had lasted 32 minutes.

Atkinson was interviewed by an Advertiser reporter immediately after the verdict had been given. "I am thankful it is all over, it has been a source of worry and anxiety to me for months past," he said, "I deeply regret the pain and sorrow that the accident has caused to the family of the late Edward Pritchett."

The accident was unavoidable in every way, and if my life had been at stake I could not have done other than I did at the time. I am now, and all ways will be, very glad for the trouble the accident caused."

He was congratulated by his many friends from the city and surrounding country on being freed.

John E. Campbell, carriage manufacturer, was the first witness for the defence to be called at the Biddulph Township court house.

At 9 o'clock, testified that he had known Edward Pritchett for some years, that he had been in his employ and that he knew that he was blind in one eye.

Patrolman John Mackie of the city police force, gave evidence to the effect that he had examined the car about a year at the police station, and that he had assisted in straightening it. He had taken it to a garage and experienced great difficulty in steering the car.

Roy Simpson, an auto salesman, who testified that he had had five years experience in driving Ford cars, stated that he had expected to buy a car on King street, driving at a rate of about seven or eight miles an hour, and had been able to stop the car within ten or twelve feet.

Frank E. Hutton, an employee of the Ford Company, was asked in what distance a car about to turn traveling at the rate of about eight or ten miles an hour could be stopped.

"I would judge about eight to fifteen feet, depending on a great deal upon the manipulation of the car," replied the witness.

Was Sober. Frederick Hopkins, farmer and cattle buyer, testified that he knew Atkinson well, and had seen him on June 19 last in the afternoon at about 4 o'clock (old time), and that Atkinson was sober and rational in every respect.

About 20 minutes or half an hour later he had seen Atkinson again when the company was on their way to the car which was being taken to the police station.

"What time did you say it was by your watch when you saw Atkinson in front of the hotel?" asked Prosecutor White.

"About 4 o'clock, old time. I did not change my watch to the new time then in use," replied witness.

"You are one of those conservative souls that don't believe in changes then?" asked the prosecutor.

"Well you know I am kind of old-fashioned," replied witness.

Arthur Morgan, who lives on concession 10 of London Township, testified that he was in company with Atkinson on the day of the accident, and that Atkinson was sober.

Was With Uncle. Caesar Atkinson, nephew of Richard Atkinson, the accused, was with his uncle on the day of the accident, and testified that while driving down King street slowly that they had "rooted the horn" three times before starting to make the turn, and when the turn was just about completed Pritchett stepped out in front of the car.

The witness testified that Richard Atkinson had made every effort to stop, but was unable to do so in the short distance between Pritchett and the auto.

He testified that his uncle was sober that day.

Edward Marr, an electrical lineman, testified that he had known Atkinson for two years and had seen him sitting in the car a few minutes after the accident.

Thought Him Excited. He did not think that Atkinson was intoxicated, but seemed to be excited instead. He had talked to him after the accident and he believed him to be sober.

Richard Atkinson, the accused, took the stand at 4 o'clock in his own defence, and testified that he had never been intoxicated during his life.

"Tell the jury now how this accident happened," instructed R. J. Fisher, his counsel.

"Just as I was about to turn Pritchett stepped out of the curb and stepped directly in front of my car, which was then about three feet from the curb."

"When I struck him I tried my utmost to stop the car, but could not get it to a standstill in time to avert the accident."

"You did all you could to prevent an accident did you?" asked Mr. Fisher.

"I did all I could possibly have done to avert striking Mr. Pritchett," he said.

Had Two Drinks. Cross-examined by Crown Prosecutor White, Atkinson was asked, "How do you know that you were not drunk when you were driving the car?"

"I cannot account for it, but I know I was not drunk," he replied.

"You had two drinks only I understand?"

"Yes."

One of gin for the kidneys the other of port to quench your thirst."

Yes, just two drinks."

James Baxter, who was a farmer in Biddulph Township at the time of the accident, testified that he had known Atkinson for eleven years and had never known him to be drunk.

Rev. William Lowe, Anglican minister at Lucan gave evidence to the effect that he had known Atkinson for six years and had never known of him being anything but a sober man.

Alexander McPhail, a resident of Lucan for 40 years, testified that he had never known Atkinson to be anything but a sober man. He had never heard of him being drunk in his life, and he had always borne a reputation for sobriety.

The case was closed at 4:50 and R. J. Fisher, defence counsel, then opened his address to the jury.

He outlined the case in detail, and asked the jurymen to return a verdict of acquittal on the grounds that the accident could not possibly have been avoided.

Crown Prosecutor White cited the statutes with respect to driving the automobile on a public street while in an intoxicated condition, and asked the jury to return a verdict of guilty in view of the evidence.

He stated further that in case the jury could find that Pritchett's death was not hastened as the result of the accident, then the lesser offence, that of criminal negligence could be found against Atkinson and a verdict on the lesser offence returned.

His Lordship, Mr. Justice Lennox, then charged the jury.

DECLARES WORLD ADMIRE CANADA FOR PATRIOTISM

T. H. Purdom, K.C., of London,
Interviewed at Winnipeg.

NATION IN A GREAT PLACE

Canada Assumes Proud Position in the Minds of Americans.

The following appeared in the Winnipeg Telegram of Wednesday:

T. H. Purdom, K.C., of London, Ont., president of the Northern Life Assurance Company, is in Winnipeg in connection with the western end of the company's big business. To a Tribune reporter who asked for his views on national questions, Mr. Purdom said:

"Canada is doing its whole duty so far as the war is concerned. I have been very much struck with the number of only sons who have lost their lives, and one cannot help feeling especial sympathy for the parents. It seems a greater loss to lose an only son than it does to lose one out of a number, although the sacrifice in both cases is an irreparable one."

"Canadians have proved themselves to be the equals of any of the British race who have participated in the war, the equals of the best regiments of England, Ireland, or Scotland."

"My belief is that so far as the financial outlook in Canada is concerned, it will be affected to a considerable extent by the war, and the length of time it lasts. After the war is over I am inclined to look for a new prosperity at an earlier date than has been expected."

"The war has made Canada known to the whole world in a very enviable light. There is today south of the line a respect for Canada and for Canadians that never existed before. I recently met two men who spoke with a German accent, and they both professed that they regarded the Canadian as being equal to the best soldiers engaged in the great struggle."

"A prominent citizen of Detroit recently expressed his astonishment to me that the Canadians were sending so many men, and that they had all proved to be of such fine calibre."

Removes Racial Questions. "The result of this war ought to go far in Canada in removing all racial questions which have been acting as a barrier in the past. It ought to bring the French and British people closer together."

"In my judgment there should be no objection Canada to the use of the French language, and there is in England to the use of the Welsh, or there is in Scotland to the use of the Gaelic. I think it would be a good thing for us all if we learned to speak French. I understand it is the most polished language known, and knowledge of it would assist even in the speaking of English."

"The conclusion of the war ought to bring about in an accelerated form the brotherhood of mankind. It may take a tremendous effort to overcome Prussian militarism, but France has shown itself in the defence of Verdun to be magnificent."

Equals of Past Statesmen. "British statesmen of today are the equals, if not the superiors, of any British statesmen of the past. It would be difficult to find rivals for such men as Asquith, Lloyd George, Balfour, Curzon, and many others."

"I was struck with the expression of a prominent American recently returned from the old country, that the thing that struck him most was the stability of the British Government."

The result of the work of the sons of Canada in the trenches will absolutely wipe out any disposition to minimize this country as a nation, and when the war is over the Canada of the future will be able to look back with pride upon what her sons have accomplished in the great struggle, and they cannot help but realize the great debt that this country owes to the men who have gone forward, and especially to those who have fought and died in defence of the principles for which the Empire is fighting."

WOMEN TO PETITION PREMIER FOR VOTES

All Organizations Will Be Asked to Aid in the Campaign.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Local Council of Women, held at the home of Mrs. H. A. Boomer yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Ryerson explained a campaign that will be inaugurated to obtain women's suffrage. All the women's organizations in the city will be asked to assist in getting as many signatures as possible on a petition to be presented to the premier of Ontario.

Mrs. Boomer, on behalf of the local council, will extend a welcome to the district women's institutes when they hold their annual convention here next week.

Miss Moore presented reports re the collection of funds for Belgian relief, Lady Beattie's fund for sailors, and the Duchess of Connaught's fund for prisoners of war. London stands fourth in its efforts for fund raising named fund.

Appreciation was expressed of the action of the L. C. I. Chapter of the L. O. D. E. in naming itself the Harriet Boomer Chapter.

A drawing-room sale will be held about December 1 to raise funds for council purposes. Canadian made toys will be sold.

The question of excluding undesirable immigrants was discussed and a report will be sent to the National Council. It was stated that during the past four years 144 cases at Byron sanatorium were traceable to immigration.

The National Council will meet in Kingston on Nov. 15 and 16, and Mrs. Boomer and Mrs. R. M. Graham were appointed as the local delegates.

NEW TREATMENT THAT KNOCKS RHEUMATISM 50c BOX FREE TO ANY SUFFERER

Up in Syracuse, N. Y., a treatment for rheumatism has been found that hundreds of users say is a wonder, relieving cases that seem little short of miraculous. Just a few treatments even in the very worst cases seem to accomplish wonders even after other remedies have failed entirely. It seems to neutralize the uric acid and lime salt deposits in the blood, driving all the poisonous clinging waste from the system. Swelling, pain, stiffness, aching, just seem to melt away and vanish.

The treatment first introduced by Mr. Delano is so good that its owner wants everybody who suffers from rheumatism or who has a lame back, stiff joints, to get a free 50c package from him to prove just what it will do in every case before a penny is spent. Mr. Delano says: "I've proved that the Delano treatment will positively overcome rheumatism, no matter how severe, stubborn or long standing the case, and even after all other treatments have failed. I will, if you have never previously used the treatment, send you a full size 50c package free if you will just cut out this notice and send it with your name and address with the best check paid average and distribution expense to me personally."

J. H. Delano, 524 T. Wood Building, Syracuse, N. Y. I can send only one Free Package to an address.

Victory Not Won Because Prohibition Has Been Obtained

Mrs. Armour Calls for Entirely
"Dry" World.

Liquor Forces Active

Will Not Rest Content Unless Whole Traffic Is Barred.

"In Ontario you haven't won victory because you have prohibition for three years," said Mrs. Mary Harris Armour, president of the Women's Christian Temperance Union of the State of Georgia, last night, as she stood before an audience which crammed St. Andrew's Hall to its capacity.

"When the Israelites got into the promised land they found it a land of milk and honey, but also walled cities and giants. They had to fight Ammonites and Hittites. When we got into the promised land of prohibition in Georgia, we found it a worthy land, but we still had to fight till we cleared it of non-believers and big game."

Several other kinds of foes, you needn't think the liquor people are going to let you have it all your own way, even if you keep quiet for six months. The liquor men are cunning, and conscienceless as Satan himself. You mustn't rest till you have served notice on the Dominion Government that you can't sell liquor to your boys; till it is impossible to brew and distill in Canada; till the whole world has gone dry, and not till then will the fight be won.

The Great Struggle. "While the great physical struggle for supremacy is going on over in Europe, another great war is just as truly being waged."

"I thank God," she declared, "that I am in the fight against the legalized traffic. My heart has been since coming to Canada for mothers of the Dominion who at any hour may hear their sons have fallen on the field of honor. But there is pride as well as honor for those mothers. I have seen a sadder sight—mothers whose sons have gone down before another foe who robs them of their manhood; of sons who in death are dishonored."

Maine, Kansas and North Dakota were dry eighteen long years, and people began to believe it would be impossible for another whole state ever to go dry again. Then Georgia went dry and in one breath the liquor traffic had reeled off at lightning speed the names of fifteen more states, while her hearers gasped in surprise over the first demonstration of the reason why Mrs. Armour has been called a "cyclops speaker."

Torrents of Logic. For more than an hour she continued, pouring out torrents of logic, of scientific facts, sweeping away the clouds of the time-honored arguments against prohibition, dazling by sudden flashes of wit, scoring with a humorous illustration, playing upon the emotions of her audience, even to the verge of tears, but never for a moment failing to appeal to the reason.

"The world is going dry," she announced with a challenging ring of confidence in her voice. The King, the Kaiser and the czar are on the water wagon. France has gone dry. Canada has gone dry but one province, and that, too, will go dry. There is only one thing that can prevent the death of the liquor traffic, and that is, if the church of Jesus Christ betrays a retreat. Victory is coming sure, but it may be delayed a hundred years, just because the opportunity isn't recognized."

Education Needed. In connection with this fight, Mrs. Armour emphasized the importance of education in regard to the nature of alcohol; the nature of the fallacious argument against prohibition; the nature of prohibition, of which the principle is that it is wrong to legalize that which is wrong. Four things, she insisted, were necessary for bringing the fight to a necessary conclusion: determination, education, organization and finally, the white fire of consecration. In conclusion, the speaker urged the women present before leaving the hall to enroll themselves in the ranks of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, the force that will make the world go dry. "We want to make the world go dry," she said, "because they always fight so much better. What would you think of a young man who held back from enlisting, knowing that his volunteering would help to bring the European war to an earlier close? Will you be a slacker in this moral fight?"

Efficiency increases. Mrs. Asplund, president of the London W. C. T. U., presided, and on the platform were Mrs. Gordon Wright, president of the Dominion W. C. T. U.; Rev. D. C. MacGregor, president of the Men's Federation; Rev. J. H. Boyd, convenor of the federalist; Rev. Dr. Dougan, Rev. Dr. Flanders, Mr. MacGregor and other prominent speakers.

Dr. Dougan conducted the opening devotional exercises. At the close, a vote of thanks to the speaker was moved by A. E. Silverwood, chairman of the local committee of 100, who, in a short address, quoted a prominent man of the city, not in any way identified with the cause, as saying: "The prohibition movement, which in the first instance of the employees of his firm had been raised 20 per cent."

A solo by Miss Corbett was an enjoyable feature.

Mrs. Armour addresses a meeting in the Lyric Theatre Sunday afternoon under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., and will speak at the evening service in Dundas Centre Methodist Church at 7 o'clock Sunday.

WILL GIVE AN ADDRESS. Frank Campbell of the Campbell-Ewald Advertising Company, Detroit, will give an address next Friday evening at a banquet to be given in the Tecumseh House by the Advertising Club.

SUNDAY APPOINTMENTS. Huron College appointments: Church of the Redeemer, Rev. Prof. Wright; Stratford, W. D. Davis, Burford, A. S. Mitchell; Epiphany, L. P. Hargreaves; Chelsea Green, W. J. Hendry; Aged Peoples Home, W. Griffith, O. Mousley.

PERSONAL CANVASS INDORSED AS BEST RECRUITING METHOD

Officers Decide Day of Public Meetings Past.

DISTRICT IS DIVIDED UP

Ottawa Has Been Asked To Make Grant To Help Finances.

At a meeting of the commanding officers of the battalions in Col. L. W. Shannon's office Friday afternoon, ways and means of recruiting the units up to strength were discussed. It was practically unanimously decided that the practice of holding public meetings had served its term of usefulness and that the only way to obtain men was by personal canvass. The district was divided up among the battalions, and the O.C.'s were instructed to appoint recruiting parties consisting of officers and men to work the areas.

The district was parceled out as follows: The 156th Battalion will recruit in Wellington and East Elgin; the 157th was given Lambton, Huron and West Middlesex; the 158th, Waterloo, Perth, Oxford and East Middlesex. The 21st Battalion, the A. M. C., S. C., and Batteries are given permission to recruit any place in the district, with London an open field to all units. The 159th Battalion will get what men it can in Kent and West Elgin.

All the officers are enthusiastic and expect to obtain all the needed men. No funds are available as yet, but Ottawa has been asked to make a grant to help out. The campaign will be started at once.

WIDE INTEREST SHOWN IN CITY'S MUSICAL PLANS

Series of Excellent Concerts Attracting Attention of Western Ontario.

The interest in the series of concerts to be given here this season under the auspices of the Musical Art Society is extending all over the western part of the province, and requests for information have come even from Toronto. This is not surprising when one considers that none of the attractions given here will appear in any other city in Ontario with the possible exception of the Russian Symphony Orchestra, which may play in Toronto.

Never in the history of the city has such a splendid series been possible, but now that the Princess Ritz has been remodeled, it provides a building while not ideal as a concert hall, will answer the purpose until London has its own divo auditorium. The seating plan has been laid to accommodate 1,500 people, and still leave plenty of room for the great chorus and the orchestra.

The first rehearsal of the chorus which was held in the Normal School last Monday was evidence that London has a body of singers not excelled anywhere. To the visitors it was a marvel that the choir should sing with such a body of tone and with the attack and finish of a chorus that had been singing for some time together. This result is due to the fact that London has more and larger church choirs in proportion to its size than any other Canadian city.

The directors of the society are delighted with the fine response to the subscription lists that have been circulated by members of the committee. There are already more than one hundred subscriptions at $25 each. Every subscriber of $25 or over is known as a founder of the society and receives in addition three full-course tickets. The seems to be a popular way of raising the necessary guarantee, as the subscriber receives more than the value of his subscription if the tickets were purchased singly.

Subscription lists will only be in circulation for about two weeks longer, as the plan for subscribers opens Friday, the 17th inst. The date of the first concert is November 27th, when Madame Matzenauer, the celebrated Metropolitan Opera soprano, will make her first appearance in Canada. Matzenauer is no equal at the present time, and is the marvel of the Metropolitan in that she takes Schumann-Heink's contralto roles as well as singing the great Wagnerian roles in which Nordica became world famous.

Arrangements are being made to accommodate large parties from St. Catharines, Woodstock, Ingersoll, Stratford, Chatham and other nearby towns, and, judging from the applications for reservations, a capacity house may be looked for at all the concerts.

PERSONALS

Mrs. Kenneth G. Seabrook will receive informally, since moving to 647 Waterloo, on Tuesday, November 7, from 4 to 6 o'clock.

SAYS OLD BATTERY "DID ITS BIT" WELL AND IS STILL AT IT

Gunner H. C. Percival of 6th Arrives Home.

PRaises HIS COMMANDER

Declares Lieut.-Col. Leonard Unsurpassed by Any Officer at Front.

Three Londoners invaded from the north returned to the city at noon today, and were met by Dr. H. T. Benson and a party from the Soldiers' Aid Commission, and Sgt. Rawling of the Returned Soldiers' Association. Three other men also came back.

First in interest among the visitors was Gunner Harry C. Percival, Pottersburg, one of the original members of the wonderful 5th Field Battery, commanded by Major John Leonard. Wood. Leonard. He spent a year in the trenches, but entered fever got him, and he was sent to England, and now home. He suffered no wounds, and he escaped gas, but he had a very close experience.

Glad To Be Home.

"Glad to get home? Well, I guess I am," he said. "I am feeling pretty well, however, and expect to be all right shortly. I am glad to be home, and I want to tell you. We have received all kinds of praise, and I guess it was warranted, or we would not have got it. Major Leonard is a very good officer, a fine artillery officer on the French front, or any other front, I want to tell you, than this same Major Leonard. He is equal if not superior to the very best of them. He is a wonder, and there is not a man in his company who will not swear by him. Great, that's what he is."

Battery Shot Up.

"The old battery is pretty well shot up, but the few of the original members left. Sgt. John Barnhill, a great soldier, was still on the job the last time I heard of him, although I have been informed he is coming home, that he has been shocked. He has done well. I saw Jim Oakley, the policeman, a member of our battery, two days before I left. He is doing well, and is about recovered from his wound in the leg. I could tell you stories by the hour about the boys. I want to see Capt. Scandrett. Fine fellow, that, and a splendid officer. I have seen him the last year or so, months, but it is still there, fighting away, as it knows how to fight. It cannot be matched."

Not at Firing Line.

The other Londoners were Corp. A. Jones, East London, who was in charge of the party, and A. Hartley, 596 Trafalgar street, both in the Canadian Engineers. They did not get to the firing line, but they did see the action. Sapper Hartley was seen in service in South Africa, and is a veteran soldier. "I have gone through two campaigns, which means I have at least done something," he said. "My only regret is that I did not get to the firing line. That's what I enlisted for. However, I have done something, and I suppose I should be satisfied."

Pte. A. H. Ward, St. Thomas, is an 18th Battalion man, who was taken ill after he got to France, and went to be sent home. Pte. T. Clements, Stratford, went over with the first draft from the 24th Battalion, and saw a lot of action. He was wounded a year ago last October in the arm, and after spring got a dose of shrapnel in the head.

Ready For More.

"There was plenty doing," he said. "I got it twice, and would have gone back for more, if they had let me. I saw Pte. J. Eldridge of Kilmordine is one of the original lot Battalion men. He was given an awful dose of shrapnel, and bullets at Giverny, a year ago last June, and it has taken him all that time to get over it. "Few of our boys are left," he said. "They were great, but the wastage is very high. I am going home this afternoon to see the folks. I am rather glad, I tell you."

The band of the 118th Battalion escorted the men to the Tecumseh House, where they were entertained.

What's Doing in London Churches

Congregational News of Interest to All Denominations in the City.

RECTOR FOR FORTY-TWO YEARS. Tomorrow, to be an especially interesting occasion in St. James' Church, South London, when anniversary services will be held, a distinguished American divine, Rev. C. C. Purton of Christ Church, Detroit, preaching both morning and evening.

In one respect, particularly, the church has had a remarkable record. In all the years of its history it has had only one rector, Very Rev. Dean Davis, who was appointed to the charge by His Lordship Bishop Helmut in 1874. He died, however, before Mr. Davis was in England, and was brought from there to take charge of St. James' Church and also West London, now St. George's, the two parishes being connected at that time.

Forty-two years in St. James' Church gives to Dean Davis the distinction of being one of the longest serving of any of the clergymen in the whole diocese. Previous to November, 1873, Church of England services in South London were held in the old schoolhouse on Askia street. During the progress of building the first small church, Bishop Cronin looked forward to conducting afternoon services there himself each Sunday. He died, however, before the opening took place, and from November of 1873 until the following February the late Dean Innes took charge.

Long before the church was ready to the church from time to time to meet the requirements of the growing congregation.

Mrs. Armour is regarded as one of the most powerful factors in the prohibition movement in America since Francis Willard. During her stay in London she is addressing three gatherings, giving a different lecture on each occasion. She was the chief speaker of the Provincial Women's Christian Temperance Union convention just closed in Hamilton.

Helen Lindley, who is supposed to report at the police court each month, failed to appear and a summons will be issued.

R. MacArthur was allowed to go on work tomorrow to over 24 without obtaining a permit. He pleaded that he did not think the job he was doing would amount to over that, and therefore, had not obtained the license.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Claims Voters Were Intimidated. To the Editor of The Advertiser:

In order to reach an unbiased conclusion concerning your recent editorial on the municipal situation in this city, let us suppose that in a parliamentary election The Advertiser's party could not get a hall for organization purposes even for a single meeting on the eve of polling; let us suppose that out of several thousand supporters its party could not get enough scrutineers to put even one man at every poll in the city; let us suppose that the party could not hold a public meeting, and that The Advertiser itself did not dare express its views during the campaign.

Let us suppose that all this was due to several major raids (not to speak of minor disorders), by the opposing party, in each of which $1,000 of damage was done, and that The Advertiser and its party, with this example of the real thing before their eyes (the authorities being either powerless or inactive), were driven to submit to the above conditions by threats of similar raids.

What would The Advertiser and its party do under the above circumstances when the pressure to which they were forced to submit was removed?

Would they submit to the result of such an election, or would they, as good Britishers, rebel?

Whether you, Mr. Editor, choose to believe it or not, this supposed case in London is just what occurred in Berlin from February to May last, and the final proof of it (there are ample proofs now for those willing to examine with open minds the literature of the Citizens' League), will be given by the municipal elections here in January, when our opponents must face the voters of the city no longer under intimidation.

This injustice and un-British situation—and not religious differences, nor patriotism, nor racial feeling, nor even the change in name—are the "root of bitterness" in this community. May The Advertiser and its readers should realize the fact when the executive of the league is named, and for the most part in the principal offices, by men of such purely British origin (on both the mother's and the father's side), as Dr. Callahan, John Reid, E. H. Scully, W. J. Utley, John R. Eden, John F. McKay, George Potter, Samuel R. Gorton and George Lockart.

SEVEN YEARS' TORTURE

Nothing Helped Him Until He Took "Fruit-a-tives"

ALBERT VARNER.
I Buckingham, Que., May 2, 1915.
For seven years, I suffered terribly from Severe Headaches and Indigestion. I had belching gas from the stomach, bitter stuff would come up into my mouth after eating, while at times I had nausea and vomiting, and had chronic constipation. I went to several doctors and wrote to a specialist in Boston, but without benefit. I tried many remedies, but nothing did me good. Finally, a friend advised "Fruit-a-tives." I took this grand fruit medicine and it made me well. I am grateful to "Fruit-a-tives," and to everyone who has miserable health with Constipation and Indigestion and Bad Stomach. I say take "Fruit-a-tives," and you will get well.

BABY RECOVERING
Little Girl's Burned Leg Will Be Saved, Says Hospital.

During the past few days there has been a marked improvement in the condition of the baby girl of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Eyre of this city, whose leg was burnt by accident in the hospital some weeks ago.

Earlier this week it was stated at the hospital that the baby appeared to be doing well, but that in case of burns a definite change usually came on the 7th, 14th or 21st day. The 14th day has passed with a decided change for the better and the information was given out that there is every assurance the child's limb will be saved.

IRRITABLE NERVES RESTORED AND HEALTH REGAINED IN A SIMPLE WAY

The man or woman who is run-down, not feeling up to the mark, perhaps irritable, nervous or sleepless, can well afford to learn of the wonderful results the newly discovered blood-food is giving to folks that use it.

There is wonderful power in this new blood-food and every weak, pallid person can be quickly nourished back to health that can be used as directed.

After each meal, with a sip or two of water, you simply take two little chocolate-coated tablets, and in all drug stores under the name of "PERROZON."

The effect is noticeable at once. You feel happier, brighter, more contented. That old-time feeling of weariness departs; you forget your "nerves" and no longer get irritable or cross over trifling annoyances.

There is a reason for this change and that reason consists of the fact that Perrozone contains blood-making materials you can get in no other way.

Perrozone makes the blood tingle and sing with new vitality. This insures loss of nourishment and strength being supplied to every part of the body.

No wonder the eyes brighten and the cheeks radiate color and happiness. With abundance of strength, a keen appetite, good digestion and plenty of sound sleep—all the result of Perrozone—you quickly feel as if life held new charms and pleasures.

WATCHMAN'S CASE NOW CLOSED; JURY CONSIDERS VERDICT

Joseph Primeau Not Put In Prisoner's Box.

WAS HIS FIRST ACCIDENT

And Cost the Life of Captain John Case of the Fire Brigade.

The trial of Joseph Primeau, the aged Grand Trunk watchman, on a charge of manslaughter, opened at the court house at 10 o'clock this forenoon. The case was closed at 3:30 this afternoon.

The charge against Primeau was preferred by the crown, as the result of an accident on Sunday, June 18 last, when the fire truck No. 1 fire hall was struck by a freight engine at the Talbot street crossing of the G. T. R., and as a consequence John Case, then captain of No. 1 fire company, was killed.

The coroner's jury empanelled to inquire into the cause of the accident and the circumstances surrounding the death of Capt. Case, returned a verdict of negligence on the part of Primeau, and as a result of this verdict the crown subsequently laid a charge of manslaughter.

The evidence submitted at the coroner's inquest and at the preliminary hearing, was to the effect that Primeau, in his anxiety to permit the passage of the fire truck, had lifted the gates, which were then down because of a passing freight, and had failed to see a train approaching from a westerly direction.

The truck proceeded, and while in the centre of the track was struck and Capt. Case killed, the truck being reduced to a pile of junk.

Primeau is being defended by Edmund Meredith, K.C., and W. R. Meredith, Peter White, K.C., is conducting the prosecution.

The trial resumed this morning at 10 o'clock the aged man who had never before appeared in a court of justice on any charge, pleaded "Not guilty."

Jurors Chosen.
The following jurors were selected after eleven had been challenged: Charles Benstead, Jacob Manning, Richard Booth, Hubert Bailey, John W. Goss, Michael Armistage, John Fisher, Fred Hunt, Alex. Hay, Thomas Hall, James Dixon, John McMillan.

Primeau was not placed within the prisoner's box, but allowed to sit in the dock of the dock.

"He is an aged man, and I think there is no occasion to place him in the dock," said Mr. Justice Lennox, to this the crown prosecutor made no objection.

Hubert Meredith, architect, was the first crown witness called for the purpose of verifying the measurements and the chart markings on a plan of the scene and tracks that had been drawn by him.

At this stage of the trial his lordship granted permission to all the jurors except those in the box to leave for their homes and return on Monday morning, when the charge of manslaughter against John Primeau of Glouceville will be heard.

William J. Durkin, general yardmaster of the Grand Trunk, testified that he knew the situation well at the Talbot street crossing of the G. T. R. He defined the duties of Primeau.

His First Accident.
Cross-examined by Edmund Meredith, K.C., defence counsel, witness testified that he could not recall any other accidents at that particular crossing in the nine years that Joseph Primeau had been employed there. He further stated that all watchmen were instructed as to their duties.

Patrick Quinn, G. T. R. watchman Lackawanna street crossing, testified that he had been instructed to do what a train passes, going west.

"What is a watchman, going west?" asked the prosecutor.

"He is supposed to look to the west and see that no train is coming from that direction before raising the gates," replied the witness.

He further told of the method of manipulating the gates at the crossing.

Joseph P. Woodcock, G. T. R. locomotive engineer, was an extra, and bound engine 629 freight and testified that at about 10:15 on the forenoon of Sunday, June 18, 1915, he had been passing by a westbound freight at the Thames River bridge.

"Did you give any warning signals as you approached Talbot street crossing?" asked crown Prosecutor White.

"Yes, two long and two short blasts of the whistle," replied the witness.

His friend called to him when within 70 feet of the crossing and gazing up he noticed a red-painted fire truck a few feet ahead.

"What did you do when you noticed the truck?"

"I immediately applied the emergency brakes, but not in time to prevent the collision."

"What did you do then?"

"I got out of the locomotive cab and found a man lying in front of the engine apparently dead."

"Did you know who he was at the time?"

"No, but I subsequently learned that it was Capt. John Case."

Cross-examined by Edmund Meredith, K.C., witness testified that he was able to stop the train after applying the emergency brakes in a distance of 155 feet, having made applications prior to reaching the yard limits through which he proceeded at about six miles an hour.

William Early, fireman on engine No. 629, was with Eugene Woodcock. He testified that he had observed a westbound train passing their engine when within two car lengths of Talbot street crossing.

He did not see the fire truck until it was just coming on the westbound track. The next instant he felt the collision and remained on the engine.

Did Not See Accident.
John Murphy, conductor of train No. 684, the train that passed before the accident, gave evidence to the effect that he had been standing on the rear end of his train when they passed No. 629, the train that collided with the fire truck.

He had seen the fire chief's auto pass and saw it strike the fire truck when it was struck. The caboose in which he was riding was about 65 feet from the crossing.

Chief John Atkin, the last witness called before the noon adjournment, testified that the brigade was responding to an alarm in London South.

"Where was Capt. John Case at the time?" asked Crown Prosecutor White.

"He was riding on the fire combination truck."

"When you arrived at the Talbot street crossing of the G. T. R., what happened?"

"We were stopped because of a freight passing."

Had Hand on Lever.
"Did you see the watchman, Mr. Primeau?"

"Yes, he had his hand on the lever, and raised the gates just after the train had crossed."

"What happened then?"

"I started to cross the tracks, and when just about in the centre I noticed the freight coming, and threw up my hand to stop the combination from coming on, but it was too late, and the truck was struck."

"How far past the tracks did you run?"

"Up to Bathurst street—the next block."

Cross-examined by Edmund Meredith, K.C., Chief Atkin stated that the fire apparatus had approached the crossing at a speed of about 20 miles an hour, and had been held up at the crossing for two and a half minutes.

Court was adjourned at 20 minutes to 1 and resumed at 1:30.

The remaining evidence adduced was placed in the hands of the jury at 3:30 o'clock, the jury then retiring to the jury-room to consider the verdict.

FUEL GALORE, ONLY IT IS BEING USED AS A FERTILIZER

Peat Bogs Are Shipped Away To Toronto.

HAVE IMMENSE VALUES

To Make Substance Fit For Burning Is Costly Proceeding.

Reading in the Journal of the Canadian Peat Society this morning that seven Ontario bogs within convenient shipping distance of Toronto are estimated to be capable of producing approximately 25,000,000 tons of fuel, an advertiser reporter this morning came to with a start, believing that he had solved the H. C. of L. as applied to $9 coal.

There is a large peat field in the vicinity of Dorchester, owned by Dr. J. McWilliams of this city, and the scribbled notions of inviting citizens to come and share in the benefits of his discovery. Peat at $4 a ton would be worth hundreds of thousands to the city. So he "investigated," having been aroused to more searching work by the recent triumphs of local writers in connection with the mysteries surrounding the case of City Auditor Dunlop.

"Can it be possible that Toronto is getting this cheap fuel right from under our noses?" asked the reporter.

"Not for fuel, for fertilizer," said Dr. McWilliams. "You know when peat is treated with certain bacteria it is the best possible fertilizer. It is being used all over the country now."

"What about its use for fuel?"

"Well, we have our field turned over for fertilizer, and of course a plant to treat peat for fuel would cost a great deal. It is a process that involves a good deal of money. The peat cannot be burned in furnaces, and so London could not get the Dorchester field for use unless it was ready to install a drying plant. Then it would be available for cook stoves and for open fireplaces."

Development Going On.
The Peat Society is evidently going ahead with development of peat areas, pointing out that the sulphate of ammonia he derived from peat would run into millions. When made into sulphate and used as a fertilizer, peat is worth $50 a ton. The world's production of last year was estimated at $80,000,000. The United States and Canada paid $3,500,000 for imported sulphate of ammonia. Germany and Austria supplied $7,200,000 of the amount used by the world in 1915.

As pointed out, Dr. McWilliams has already developed his Dorchester field for fertilizer.

Says Cigarettes Impair Efficiency of Active Forces

Mrs. Armour Is Opposed To These Being Sent To Soldiers.

While Mrs. Mary Harris Armour, the gifted woman orator from the south, held the eager attention of her audience throughout the whole of her lengthy address to the soldiers of Friday evening, there were evidences of accelerated interest as she touched upon the very life subject at the present time of sending cigarettes to the soldiers.

"I have read that soldiers who were sold of the W. C. T. U. workers of Canada, who protested against the sending of cigarettes," she said, adding, "Anything that hurts the brain, hurts the health, the strength and the muscle. In other words, impairs the efficiency. If you don't believe me that cigarettes do this very thing, go to your dictionary and see what is said there about nicotine. Go ask Jess Willard, prize fighter, and he will tell you. If I smoke cigarettes, I can't hold the champion, because I am sending nicotine forward this poison to help defeat your own army."

"I don't believe me tonight, I don't believe this about tobacco, I told my husband I didn't mind how much he smoked so long as he didn't drink. After a while he got educated on this point and I asked him if he wouldn't give up smoking. He said he couldn't."

"I don't believe this now, God grant you don't do too much harm to your health. I have seen many people who don't smoke tobacco in the army. I don't put tobacco in the army. I know a large employer of labor in the south who says he would rather employ dope fiends than confirmed cigarette smokers. A prominent dentist of Georgia has told me that he has never seen a confirmed tobacco user to whom he is not afraid to give an anaesthetic."

Tancrede Realizes His Position; Will Not Eat Mouthful

Murderer Breaks Down After Long Interview With Fellow-Countryman.

Mike Tancrede, who has been condemned to the gallows for the murder of his fellow countryman, Barthelemy, last realizes the seriousness of his position. Before retiring he said he maintained an indifferent attitude towards the whole proceedings. Even when the jury brought in the verdict of guilty that meant everything to him, he still retained his poise and passed from the prisoner's box to his quarters in the jail without a faltering step.

However, all is now changed. Mike has at last been brought to a realization of what the word "guilty" means. He is an abject and pitiful figure as he sits downcast in his cell at the county jail, gazing off into space with troubled eyes.

In TRAINING

Thousands of men suddenly called to undergo the hardships of winter training find the sustaining power of Oxo Cubes invaluable for supporting health and strength.

Oxo Cubes have a body-building power out of all proportion to their bulk. Many a young soldier, wet through, and physically exhausted by hours of marching or other duties, has had cause to bless the invention of Oxo Cubes.

Oxo Cubes are so convenient and handy that they can be carried on the person without adding to the weight of one's equipment. A cup of Oxo or an Oxo Cube sandwich enables one to go for long hours.

It was not until one of his own people came to visit him that Tancrede woke up to the fact that he was to die. The man spoke to him for over an hour, and shortly before he left Tancrede broke down. He has been a broken-down man ever since.

He states that he will be leaving the city this evening.

FIFTY MILLION LOAN PLACED BY RUSSIA IN UNITED STATES

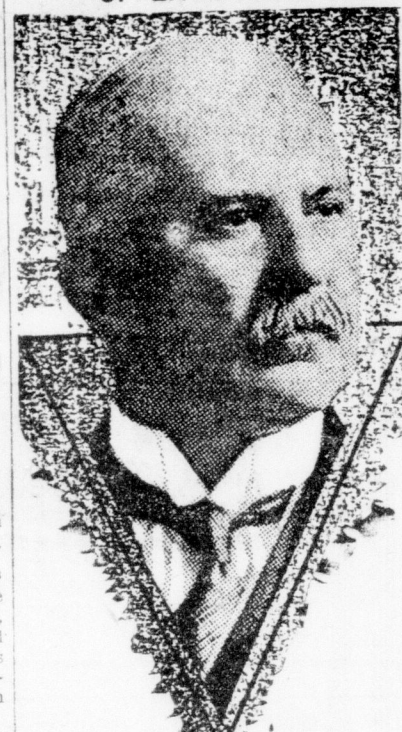

Will Be a Direct Obligation of the Czar's Government.

[Canadian Press.] New York, Nov. 4.—The completion of negotiations with the Russian Government for a $50,000,000 5 year 5 1/2 per cent loan by the National City Company, which is controlled by the National City Bank, brings the total borrowings here of foreign countries, with the exception of South America, to more than $2,000,000,000.

Negotiations for the present Russian loan covered a period of more than three months, and at one time it was said, a loan of as high as $150,000,000 was considered by American bankers. The former Russian loan established a credit in this country for $50,000,000, which was to run for three years. Simultaneously the Russian Government established a credit of $50,000,000 rubles in favor of the banking group at a fixed rate of three rubles to one dollar.

A part of the present loan, it is understood, will be used in paying for a portion of $50,000,000 railroad equipment orders placed with American manufacturers about two months ago. Associated with the National City Company in the negotiations are J. P. Morgan, the Guarantee Trust Company, Kidder, Peabody & Co., and Lee, Higginson & Co. The loan will be a direct obligation of the Imperial Russian Government. Among the details yet to be completed is the price at which the loan will be offered to the public. The yield on this loan was a little more than 5 1/2 per cent.

MOUTHPIECE OF GOVERNMENT TELLS OF EXTENSION PLAN

HON. A. E. KEMP.

GOVERNMENT WILL ASK FOR FURTHER TERM EXTENSION

To Appeal to the British House for Power.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY KEMP

Queen City Member Came Direct From Capital With Portentous Declaration.

TORONTO, Nov. 3.—Hon. A. E. Kemp, who stated that he came direct from cabinet deliberations at Ottawa, reached Toronto this evening, proceeded at once to the meeting of Ward One Conservative Association and communicated to the meeting on behalf of the Dominion Government its intention to seek from Parliament another appeal to the British House for a further extension of its term of office. He said: "If constitutional considerations were alone regarded it would have been proper to have held an election in the autumn of 1914 or 1915.

"The higher consideration of the public interest and decent regard for public opinion were taken into account by the Government and an extension of the parliamentary term was proposed for reasons which apply with equal, if not greater force, to such further extension as will make an election unnecessary during the continuance of the war.

"For these reasons the Government proposes to ask for such further extension as may be necessary, and upon the Liberal Party will rest the responsibility of determining whether a war election shall be avoided or whether party strife shall be precipitated and carried on during the pending struggle."

Causes Surprise. The announcement coming on the heels of the public utterances of Hon. Robert Rogers and other ministers of the crown, intimating governmental eagerness and determination to face the electors, was manifestly a profound surprise to the meeting. It was received in silence, forwarded by some applause. Hon. Mr. Kemp made it from typewritten manuscript after a speech vigorously defending Premier Borden from the general criticism which had been directed at himself and the Government recently, and an enumeration of things for which the minister urged that Sir Robert and his colleagues deserved much credit that they were not getting.

ONTARIO LIBERALS FROM ALL RIDINGS TO GATHER NOV. 24

Annual Conference Expected To Be Largest in History.

ORGANIZATION A FEATURE

[Special to The Advertiser.]

TORONTO, Nov. 3.—Prospects point to one of the largest, most representative and most important Liberal conferences ever held in the province at the forthcoming annual meeting of the Ontario General Reform Association, to be held in Toronto on Friday, November 24. It is anticipated that there will be present delegations from every riding in the province.

According to arrangements completed by the executive the morning session of the association will be devoted to matters of business and the election of officers. The afternoon and, if necessary, the evening sittings are, however, to be placed at the full disposal of visiting delegates, from whom are invited expressions of their views and counsel as to matters of Liberal policy, patriotic enterprise and party organization.

The announcement is made that the party leaders, many former cabinet ministers and prominent Liberals from all parts of the province are expected to be present. Speeches will be delivered, but primary importance is attached to the discussions, in which it is anticipated the delegates themselves will take part.

GOLD FOR ARGENTINA.

[Canadian Press.] New York, Nov. 4.—The steamer Byron, leaving today for Buenos Ayres, carries a shipment of $1,450,000 gold from local banking institutions. Of this sum $1,000,000 was sent by a trust company, presumably in connection with British purchases of supplies in Argentina. The remainder representing two transactions, one of $250,000 and the other of $200,000, was exchange business. The movement of gold to Argentina was indicated recently by the rise of Argentine exchange to a point where it was more profitable to remit gold than to send funds by check or cable.

TIDE OF BATTLE IS SWINGING AGAIN TO THE RUSSIAN FORCES

Successes in Volhynia and Galicia Reported.

REOCCUPY OLD LINES

Stokhod Trenches Once More in Hands of Czar's Army.

PETROGRAD, Nov. 3.—Via London.—Infantry fighting continues in Galicia and in Volhynia, with slight success in both regions for the Russians, according to the official statement issued by the war office today. The Russians have reoccupied part of the Stokhod in Volhynia, and east of the village of Lipnicadolina, in Galicia, the Russians have pushed back the Austro-Germans in some places.

The statement reads: "Transylvania front: No news has been received. "Dobruja front: There have been no events of importance. "Push Enemy Back: On the River Stokhod in the region of Vitonej and Alexandrovsk (five miles north of Kielev), fighting continues. Here a battalion of one of our regiments succeeded in pushing back the enemy, who had occupied part of our trenches on the western bank of the Stokhod.

"In the region of the heights east of the village of Lipnicadolina our detachments, after having destroyed opposing wire entanglements, pushed back the enemy in some places. A dense fog hindered the work of the artillery on the River Bystritsa. In the region of the village of Krivich our scouts, together with a platoon, made a surprise attack from the front and flank, on an enemy company, dispersing them and taking thirteen prisoners.

"Caucasus front: On Wednesday two of our aviators bombarded large Turkish encampments near Lahak Majdan, northwest of Nurek, and near Tykolan, southeast of Choklyk, and also two bridges over the Euphrates, near Sagan. In the region of Sakik (Persia) our scouts captured fifteen head of cattle transporting wheat."

HOW GERMANS PUT IT. BERLIN, Nov. 3.—(By wireless to Sayville).—"No success whatever was obtained by the Russians in their recent determined attack on the eastern front, which apparently was launched with the purpose of helping the Rumanians, and may be considered the last of the ramifications of Gen. Brussiloff's great offensive movement, says a semi-official review of the campaign. It continues:

"On the Narayuvka, in Galicia, the Russians sustained a severe and sanguinary defeat in a battle that lasted seven days, from October 15 to October 22, and were similarly defeated in an engagement on October 20. During the progress of this fighting, Turkish troops especially distinguished themselves. "The Russians likewise paid a large price for their attacks upon our positions on the Suez, and may be considered the last of the ramifications of Gen. Brussiloff's great offensive movement, says a semi-official review of the campaign. It continues:

"On the Narayuvka, in Galicia, the Russians sustained a severe and sanguinary defeat in a battle that lasted seven days, from October 15 to October 22, and were similarly defeated in an engagement on October 20. During the progress of this fighting, Turkish troops especially distinguished themselves. "These attacks, which were repeatedly launched in strong force, resulted in no relief for the Rumanians."

Referring to the fighting on the Rumanian front, the review says: "The Austro-German attacks in the Carpathian passes and in Dobruja continue in full swing, although the Rumanians are making efforts to check them by rapidly concentrating their reserves."

HAD BRONCHITIS FOR YEARS

Bronchitis comes from a neglected cold and it, if neglected, will surely turn into pneumonia. The first symptom is a short, painful, dry cough, accompanied with rapid wheezing and a feeling of oppression or tightness through the chest.

The phlegm raised from the bronchial tubes is at first of a light color but as the disease progresses it becomes of a yellowish or greenish color and is very often hard to raise.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, which I found gave me instant relief. I think it is the best medicine for bronchitis I know of. I now take care that I always have a bottle on hand."

"Dr. Wood's" is the genuine, put up in a yellow wrapper, three pine trees the trade mark, price 25c and 50c. Manufactured for the past 25 years by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

TAKE SALTS TO FLUSH KIDNEYS

Eat less meat if you feel Back-ache or have Bladder trouble.

Meat forms uric acid, which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poison, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated obliging you to get up two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's uronic waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive; harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.

Hunger Stalks Through Belgium NOW!

While we in Canada are bringing in the harvests, filling our store-rooms and stocking our pantries with an abundance of good food—our Allies in overrun Belgium are facing another winter of near-starvation.

Women and children there by millions have gone for two years on short rations, for the Belgian Relief Fund has never been sufficient to provide full fare. Consequently they are in no condition to stand the still greater privations threatened on account of the growing number dependent on the Fund. Anything less than the present meagre allowance of bread and soup would, in thousands of cases, fail to hold bodies and souls together.

Shall we—can we—go on eating our three square meals a day—living well if not luxuriously—while Belgian children, pinched and cold, sobbingly beg their mothers for bread enough to stop the gnawing hunger?

$2.50 a month in the hands of the Belgian Relief Commission, will feed a Belgian family. A cigar less a day—a night missed from the theatre—simpler refreshments after an evening's cards—the price of any one of a dozen such habitual luxuries would provide the food that means life for a Belgian mother and her children till the end of the war.

Won't your own meals taste better when you know some little Belgians also are enjoying the food which you provide? Whatever you feel that you can spare, send your subscription weekly, monthly or in one lump sum to Local or Provincial Committees, or send Cheques payable to Treasurer.

VIVE LA FRANCE!

Fort Vaux is again in the hands of the French, and with Douaumont already regained, the ring of defensive fortifications about Verdun has been re-established.—From the official war summary of the Associated Press.

NEW COUNTY JUDGE.

IT HAS BEEN officially announced that the vacancy in the county court bench, caused by the death of the late Judge Edward Elliott, has been filled by the appointment of the police magistrate, J. C. Judd.

Police Magistrate Judd obtains the promotion to Judge Judd at a good time in his life. He is 32 years of age, and in addition to a long experience at the bar, as a member of one of the best legal firms in the province, he has had added to that six years' experience as police magistrate of the city of London. That experience will be invaluable on the county court bench.

Judge Judd's predecessors were first-class men. The late Judge Davis and the late Judge Edward Elliott gave great satisfaction to the bar and public. It is not doubted that Mr. Judd will be a worthy successor. The position of county judge requires one who is a good lawyer of experience, with sound common sense, and a good natural disposition. A good heart is as often needed as a good head.

We wish Judge Judd long life in his new and very honorable position.

It looked at one time as if the appointment would go to Mr. E. T. Eschery, K.C., and his appointment would have been a good one. No doubt his experience against his being named Judge. We hope he will soon get an equally good appointment.

MR. HUME ELLIOT AS MAGISTRATE.

FOLLOWING close on word of the appointment of Police Magistrate Judd as Junior Judge of the County of Middlesex, comes the proposal to appoint Hume Elliot, K.C., as police magistrate for the city of London.

Each had strong friends who urged his appointment as Junior Judge, and apparently the question has been settled by the promotion of Police Magistrate Judd, and the appointment of Mr. Elliot to be his successor as police magistrate.

It is a question whether it is a promotion. The position of police magistrate is more trying than that of Junior Judge, and entails much more real work. The police magistrates of all cities should be called judges. The term magistrate does not carry with it the dignity the position deserves, as a police magistrate may try cases as serious as a county judge. The magistrates of the past, since Mr. Lawson, were lawyers who would have made good superior court judges. Mr. Parke was an exceptionally good lawyer, and there will be no two opinions regarding the splendid services of the late Police Magistrate Francis Love.

There are some points in common between Mr. Love and Mr. Elliot, points necessary to be possessed by the police magistrate of London. Each lived all his life in the city, and was known by very many citizens. Each had about the same length of experience at the bar. Each possessed a friendly disposition. Each had the "savage grace of humor." Each had a strong desire to be fair and to temper his justice with mercy.

Police Magistrate Elliot, may he soon be called "Judge Elliot," when he assumes his new duties in addition to proving himself a worthy successor to Mr. Parke, Mr. Love, Mr. Marshall Graydon and Mr. Judd, must prove himself a worthy son of his father, the late Judge William Elliot, who was an example to all judges of fairness and firmness, coupled with an even-tempered kindness of manner on the bench, not often equalled. Let us hope that Police Magistrate Elliot will pre-empt the police court as long as his father, the late Judge William Elliot, did over the county court and with equal satisfaction.

for him by saying that at one time the Liberals by their persecution of him had attempted to murder him. Would the people of Canada see murder attempted? No, a thousands times no! So elect Borden, and declare that the worst he did was to get his hands on the public money, a mild offense, my gentlemen.

The London Free Press is the most capable swallow in the country. It has a stomach for anything that the Conservative chest of the nation and provinces may produce. It defended Garland and Foster, when Archie McCole first went after them, declaring there was no foundation for the Liberal charges, which revealed a crooked horse deal, the first wartime stretch to strike the nation in the face. It defended the binocular deals, in which glasses listed at $15 were sold to the Government for $62. It defended the bicycle, drugs and food dressings grafts. It defended the notorious Pallas. It defended the boot scandals. It defended "Hon. Col." Allison and the shell committee, although Allison's actions caused him to be condemned and cashiered. It defended profits of 1,200 to 100 per cent. So that it has been able to swallow with ease such a sweet morsel as the Manitoba stew. It was just by way of an entree, for the Free Press appetite. For, hark to the brand of public morality it purveys. In its issue of October 13, 1916, in slandering the Liberals and the meeting they held a few days before, it sought to deal with the issues brought forward, and it got this off its chest:

"Let us bear in mind, therefore, that the meeting was filled with political rancor, and that its purpose was to bring division into Canada, and to defeat Canada's wartime government? What was the sum total of the criticisms that were brought forward? One speaker went back to a case of binoculars; another spoke of Camp Borden; another of John Wesley Allison. Take the whole of these criticisms together, and what do they amount to? Do they form a reason for the creation of a political division among the people of Canada, 'when the Hun is at the gate'?"

DO THEY CONSTITUTE MORE THAN PETTY ISSUES THAT ARE BOUND TO CREEP INTO GOVERNMENT UNDER ANY CONDITIONS? Petty issues! The prodding of Allison pet! The prodding of binoculars pet! The stealing of thousands through horse deals and drug deals, and other deals pet! The disruption of Ontario military forces through the blunder of Camp Borden pet! Then what would be considered a great issue, if these are petty issues? Is it to be wondered that a newspaper which can swallow these "petty issues" will not balk at opening the doors to a crowd of Manitoba politicians who were swept out of office because of the "petty issues" in which they dealt? The Toronto Star does not study its exchanges closely. The surprise would have been if our local contemporary had recommended that justice be done the Robin gang.

An Anniversary

BY SUSAN CLAGETT.

The man leaning against the closed door of his shanty, high up in the Cour de la Montagne, could look for miles over the country in the clear morning atmosphere, but he had eyes for nothing but the letter in his hand. The envelope bore a woman's name. The letter itself contained but three words, "I love you," and the man's face lit up. He had been in the mountains three years and as he stood there he thought of the months that had gone before them; of love and hope and despair; despair that had driven him from his home. His eyes sought the letter. It was an appeal, his first and last.

He walked ten miles to mail it. The long low room was very attractive in the dreight. The soft, rich carpet, the beautiful paintings, brasses from foreign countries and the wonderfully carved oak furniture told of wealth and luxury unheeded by the woman who moved restlessly from place to place as if driven by an invisible force. She held an open letter in her hand and her thoughts were full of the writer. She had been thinking of him before it reached her and as she read it her thoughts again went back to their last day together, to the bitter words that she had said, not he. She knew she had been the one in fault, that it was her jealous, imperious temper that had brought about the quarrel, and the cause of the intervening space of years, merely an act of courtesy to one, who, report had said, was his fiancée before he had met her.

They had been married scarcely a year, yet during that time she had more than once said words she regretted as soon as spoken. There had been scenes that had driven him from the house but with anger and indignation. But the last one had been the worst. In burning, passionate words she had demanded that he show no more regard for the woman she called her rival.

He had tried to talk quietly with her, she remembered, but her bitter, caustic words aroused him at last. "One thing, I cannot understand," he had said, "why did you marry me? I thought I knew, but your words led me in uncertainty."

"I am uncertain no longer," she had replied; "it was a mistake I regret every day I live."

"A mistake I will rectify as far as lies in my power," he had answered and left the room. She had never forgotten his face as he turned from her. Before he left the house he had come back. "Elizabeth," he said, "have you nothing to say to me?"

"Nothing," she had answered. She had not seen him since. And now his letter. It made her pulses throb to suffocation.

"Come to me."

The words were peremptory. They told nothing of his loneliness, his heart hunger as he sat waiting in the cabin.

The woman paused at last in her rest, less walk, paused before the second story. Opening a drawer she took the key she opened it. It held a plain gold band, her wedding ring. She had taken it off that last day, and now, as she looked within its circle at the date that brought back visions of what would be another week. Toying absently with the ring it slipped upon her finger. She started nervously, half drawing it off, but changed her mind. Taking a diamond ring into its former place, she pushed the door so her resolution was taken. She reached Wallace after six days of weary travel and the answers to her questions caused her restless heart to beat with apprehension. "What's the matter?" the station agent asked, eyeing her curiously. "One of his folks? Reckon you've come in the mate of Sir George Paish, a net loss to the country of about $2,500,000,000. If Russia has, within the next three years, not allowing anything for the gain in industrial efficiency and the saving from the crime and impaired health which accidentally results from the consumption of a billion dollars' worth of liquor a year.

People More Particular

THE demand for package goods grows greater every year. Why?

Because the world is ever growing more and more particular about foods.

Packages keep the goods in wholesome, sanitary condition. They keep out dust, flies, moisture and odors, preventing deterioration.

They preserve flavor, freshness and strength—insuring value for the money.

In Sealed Packages Only

Daughters of the Empire

New arrangements have been made by the British Government in connection with the aid given to the prisoners in Germany. After the fact of December 1st, 1911, parcels can be sent direct from individuals in Canada to prisoners and non-commissioned officers. Among the reasons given is the fact ascertained by investigation that many private parcels have been confiscated by German officials. This does not mean, however, that the prisoners will be neglected. Individual parcels will have to be sent to the central committee in England, when they will be examined and forwarded through Government channels to the prisoners for whom they are intended. Of course, the sending of weekly or fortnightly parcels from England will be continued, and those who have adopted prisoners will find their money applied in the future as in the past.

The ladies and societies who have adopted prisoners in Germany through the Daughters of the Empire here, are in constant receipt of cards acknowledging the arrival of the parcels sent them. Doubtless those who do not write are equally grateful; but the cards received by the Municipal, Lord Elgin, Seventh Regiment, Overseas Sir George Ross and Campbell Becher Chapters, and by Mrs. Niven, Mrs. Puddicombe, Mrs. Hyman, Miss Roberts, etc., are proof of the fact.

erson, Miss Mayou, and others, are evidences that the parcels arrive safely and are duly appreciated. Larger parcels sent direct by individuals do not always get through safely. The most fortunate of the London ladies' prisoners is Pte. Gill, who has been interned in Switzerland for some time. Here they get plenty of food and clothing, but appreciate other little comforts sent them. In his last letter to Mrs. Simulman he says: "The weather just now is changeable—two or three days bright, then three or four days rain. But the air is very pure—'magnificent.' At Leytain the scenery all around is beautiful. At sunset I can sit on the veranda and gaze at the clouds kissing the mountain top; or in the morning see the mist forming clouds. We are all thriving in strength; the sun cures wounds for all kinds of diseases. As I improve every day I am in hope some time to regain the use of my right arm, which was broken by a bullet at Ypres in April, 1915; but I fear there is no chance of my being exchanged and sent back to Canada."

So many of the Daughters of the Empire have relatives at the front that the order has provided an inexpensive little badge which can be worn by them. It is simply the badge of the order suspended from a little bar. If the wearer has a son or sons in service over sea, the bar is red; if a husband, blue; if she has both husband and son, the bar is both blue and red with a dividing line of gold. It is of course, essential that the relative for whom the badge is worn should be in active service overseas. Several of the London chapters have been sending these badges to members entitled to wear them. Among these are Lord Roberts, Lord Elgin, Overseas, Hamilton Gault, 7th Regiment.

S. C. I. CONFIDENT OF WIN OVER LONDON COLLEGIATE

Hold Final Workout Yesterday—Spares May Be Used.

(Special to The Advertiser.)

SARNIA, Nov. 3.—The final workout of the Collegiate rugby team was held this evening, and the stage is now set for Saturday's semi-final contest with the London Collegians. Sarnia's line-up will remain the same as last week's, with the one exception, Stewart Henderson will be back in the game, and will be in position as flying wing when the teams line up on the field for action. The reserve strength of the team lies in the number of spares, who, if they are placed in the game, will give a good account of themselves. It is probable that there will be one or two last-minute changes in the line-up of the locals, as both coaches were puzzled at this work-out, some of the spares showing up as well as the regulars, making the final selection difficult.

Manager Smith and Captain Phippen are confident that their team will make good the statements made in London last week, and will overcome the slight lead piled up in the initial fray in the Forest City. The probable line-up follows: Phippen, flying wing; Paterson, right half; Henderson, centre half; McKenzie, left half; Cowan, quarter; Storey, Barrie and Slater, scrum; Copeland and Lucas, inside wings; Paterson and Smith mid-wings; Sproule and Ferguson, outside wings; spares: McKenzie, J. Morrison, B. Phippen and Gray.

WESTERN U. AND O. A. C. CONFIDENT OF WINNING

Game Staged at Tecumseh Park This Afternoon Promises To Be Fast—London Anxious to Wipe Out D defeat.

The Western University rugby team, who one of the best exhibitions they will be staged here this fall, both teams depend almost entirely on their back divisions to gain ground and the play will be open in consequence. This means that it will be a pretty one to watch from the side lines.

Speaking of side lines it would be well to announce here that Joe Cowman, the only Joe, that hangs around the university, will be present on the side lines. Joseph missed the train to Guelph two weeks ago, and has gone so far as to bet a whole dime that he can catch a car that will get him to the park in time for today's game.

The game will start promptly at 3 o'clock. It is likely that South of London and Gander of Guelph will handle the game, although Gus Edwards may blow one of the whistles.

Soldiers Free to Grand Stand. Soldiers will be admitted free to the covered grand stand. The Western boys line up as follows: Flying wing, Erickson; halves, Kingswood, Smith and Anderson; quarter, Reynolds; scrum, Ferguson, Thompson and Colvin; inside wings, Loudin and McLeary; outside wings, Kaiser and Bill Elsie; outside wings, Parry and "Goldie" Diggle.

AGGIES CONFIDENT, TOO.

GUELPH, Nov. 3.—Capt. Gander and his band of embryonic farmers will put up a good game when they meet the London sawbones on Saturday in the big town of Middlesex. As the team stands at present it will take a lot of beating, and Gander has been coaching them steadily ever since the game with the Westerns here a couple of weeks ago.

It was feared for a time that Parry would be out of commission for a while, having suffered a bad nose in the last game. He is on the nod again, though, and none the worse for wear. The Aggies have a couple of heavies who are showing something. One is Evans, and the other Michael. Evans is playing at half on the back line, while Michael is with the middle wing. Both of these lads will tip the scales around the 150 mark and are hard as nails. Several games have been played here with the boys from the collegiate. Neither Gander nor any of his team would state today they would walk on London, as they are looking for a hard game, but they do go as far as to state that the Londoners, if they win, will not have much to go and come on, as far as the scoreboard is concerned.

HOCKEY GOSSIP

Randall, Cameron, Kyle, and a well-known amateur player, whose name has not been divulged, will be the candidates for regular berths on the Toronto defence, and this department of the team should be strong. Claude Wilson, who has been carried along for several seasons as spare goal, will be given a chance to earn a place as a regular. If he fails Sammy Hebert will be secured from Ottawa.

Hutchinson of Woodstock, Corrigan of Mount Forest, Mitchell of Smice, and Duret of Chesley are now residing in Stratford, and will be available for the Classic City teams this winter.

It is rumored that Clint Benedict, the clever net guardian of the Ottawa N. H. A. team, may be traded. Connected with the Benedict report is Cyril Denney's name, but it is hardly likely that Manager Livingstone of the Toronto would let Denney go. It is known that Denney is anxious to play with Ottawa, as he has been living there all summer and has a good position.

Six-man hockey may be played in the American Amateur Hockey League this winter.

Art Ross may negotiate a deal to return to the Wanderers this season. The Redbands have lost Roberts and Smith, and will require a little bolstering. It is hard for Ross to get away from business, and he has no chance to practice with Ottawa.

The chances are that only one team will represent Hamilton in the O. H. A. this winter, that being a senior one composed of soldiers.

BLUE LABEL PAIR WIN EXHIBITION BOWLING GAME

In an exhibition game at the National Bowling Alleys last night Ernie Singer and E. McCollough trimmed "Soup" Mascari and M. Smith in a fast and exciting game. A good crowd witnessed the match. Both the winning men belong to the Blue Label team of the City Bowling League, while "Soup" Mascari trundles for the Marconis and M. Smith for the Brumwicks.

The winners bowled a steady game, while the losers fell at times. Mascari made the highest individual score with 227, while "Mick" McCollough made the highest average score with 159.

The 118th and 149th Battalions have their pugilistic stars, and now come the 241st Scottish Borderers, stationed at Windsor, with a world-beater who tips the beam at 145 pounds, ringside. He is Pte. GOOD BOXING EXHIBITION STAGED AT BRANTFORD

Clare Betts, Local Scrapper, Springs Surprise on Hamilton Man.

(Special to The Advertiser.) BRANTFORD, Nov. 3.—In the big boxing bouts staged at the Grand Opera House tonight a surprise was sprung by Clare Betts, a local boxer, who was on with "Young" Alter of Hamilton, the conqueror of Soldier John McCracken. Although one of the preliminary bouts it was one of the best of the evening. The local boy had the best of the first four rounds, then conceded a little in the fifth. He was out-pointed a little in the sixth round, but was ending strong. This round was being mixed up, and was called by the referee.

The feature bout of the evening was out to his credit in the last two years, and has fought four draws.

The Scottish Borderers all swear by their champion, and are anxious to see him in action with either Clayton Wildfang or Clayton DeRoux, the two stalwarts of the 118th.

It is more than likely that the Highlanders will be matched with one of the local boys in the near future.

between Pete Scott of Hamilton and Jimmy Conway of Scranton, Pa. Conway, although outpointed in the first five rounds, came back strong in the last five, making it a draw.

The first preliminary was between Jack Miller and Young Gallo, and this went to Miller on a foul. Gallo used a pivot punch. The bout between Eddie Carroll, Toronto, vs. Kid Neville of Hamilton was called in the third round. Carroll was outmatched and gave up. There was a big crowd in attendance, two special cars coming up from Hamilton, 300 seats being reserved for that city. Many from Paris were also present. The bouts were refereed by Fred Milne.

L. C. I. Takes Husky Team To Trim Sarnia

Coach Houser and His Boys Promise to Win From Blue and White Fourteen Today.

"How much are you going to trim Sarnia by, Mr. Houser?" was asked the genial coach of the London Collegiate rugby team last night.

"Have just finished figuring out the score, and I think it will be about 18 to 5 in our favor," he replied. "Of course, the boys will miss Ernie Dennis, who is down with pleurisy, but we are not depressed, and you can take it from me that we will score another win in Sarnia Saturday. We are taking down a strong team."

Tommy Not Likely to Play. It is hardly likely that Tom McDougall will play. He is under the care of Dr. Tillman at the present time, and will not know until late this morning whether the doctor will allow him to take part in the game. London is taking down a heavy line that should hold like the well-known rock of Gibraltar. The boys, while confident, do not expect an easy game, and are prepared to battle every inch of the ground.

The line-up will not be definitely settled until it is known whether McDougall will play. However, if Tommy is unable to take his place on the half line the gang will line up as follows:

Flying wing, Gillies; halves, Cowley, Moyer and Harrison; quarter, McLean; scrum, McPherson, Gammage and White; inside wings, Edwards and

118TH RUGBY TEAM PLAYS ST. JEROME'S AT KITCHENER

Strong Battalion Bunch to Take on College Boys Today.

The 118th Battalion rugby team journeys to Kitchener today to take on the St. Jerome's College fourteen. The boys will take down a number of spares, who will be given a try-out. The team that will start against the Kitchener College will be identical with the one that played the 149th Battalion last Tuesday, with the exception of Lieut. McKenzie, the husky line man, who is orderly officer for the day, and Boettger, who is still ambling around on crutches.

Lieut. Mowat, manager of the team, left for Kitchener yesterday to make final arrangements for the game. He will probably don a uniform and get into the excitement. A good crowd of Kitchener rugby fans are expected to be present.

A Great Loss and a Greater Gain

This business has rounded out twenty-two months of existence by distributing to owners more than one hundred thousand cars.

Price-concessions on this car are rarely asked, and never given with Dodge Brothers consent or to their knowledge.

You can therefore figure accurately the amount invested by the public in Dodge Brothers cars, by multiplying the output by the retail selling price.

One hundred thousand cars at $785 per car means a sales-total in less than two years' time of $78,500,000—or, with freight-cost added, considerably more than $80,000,000.

There have been no bursts of speed in the up-building of this great business.

At no time has there been even an attempt at stimulation of sales or of production.

Never for a single day has production been speeded up for the sake of attaining a total.

On the contrary, it has been held down every day within the limits of close, careful, conscientious manufacturing.

Both production and sales have been stable, steady and spontaneous—scrupulous care in the one, producing huge volume in the other.

At this moment, as at every other period, although producing a large volume every day, Dodge Brothers are "losing business" by their policy of keeping production within the bounds of continuous betterment.

In that sense they have doubtless suffered a great loss in the past and will endure a great loss in the future.

But over against this great loss is an infinitely greater gain.

The people of the United States have implicit faith in the integrity of Dodge Brothers manufacturing methods.

One hundred thousand owners—or rather, one hundred thousand families—are practically of one mind concerning the car and the men who make it.

This business and its product are blessed with a friendship probably without parallel in the history of American manufacturing.

Fresh from the factory, or sold at second-hand, from one end of the nation to the other, the car has special value and a special reputation, because of the name it bears.

Because of the name it bears, you may be sure that the principle behind the car will never be changed a hair's breadth.

Dodge Brothers have only one idea in the upbuilding of their business.

That idea is to build so soundly and so well that the good will which they have won will grow and endure forever.

The gasoline consumption is unusually low. The tire mileage is unusually high.

SEIZURE REPORTED BY SWISS LEGATION

British Action Described to American State Department.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—Seizure of Swiss official documents by British naval authorities at Falmouth, from Jules Metzger, an authorized Swiss courier, bringing them to the Swiss legation here and to the Swiss consul-general in New York, has been officially reported to the state department by the Swiss minister.

The seizure was reported merely as a fact, and without any suggestion to the United States, which is in no wise concerned.

Metzger was a passenger on the steamer Noordam, which arrived from Rotterdam at New York October 31.

MONTREAL CIVIC DEAL BRANDED AS FRAUD

MONTREAL, Nov. 3.—The report of Judge Panneton who, sitting as a royal commissioner, investigated the purchase by the city of a block of land on Drolat street worth $1 a foot for $4, was released today. The city lost a sum of $160,000 and Judge Panneton calls the deal illegal and fraudulent. Former Controller Hebert, who fathered the deal, is held responsible, and his action is considered one of "corruption." It is shown that Hebert bought the land, and hoped to get rid of a property he owned if the city bought the Drolat property. Mayor Martin is said to have acted carelessly in letting the transaction pass when he thought that the deal was rotten. The mayor manifested his antagonism to the Drolat deal only after a project of his own was rejected.

A Christmas Present For the Boy in Khaki

Christmas is not too far ahead to make up your mind what to send to that boy in khaki, now at the front! If you want him to get his Christmas present in due time, you must send it early, for transportation is slow and parcels often meet with much delay.

Remember, then, that Christmas in the trenches is far from pleasant, that Music, however simple, is the sparkling plug of the soldier's mental motor, and that a simple little mouth organ or ocarina is most likely the finest gloom-chaser you could send. If you want to do something for the upkeep and good cheer of that boy in khaki and his comrades, send him by all means some little music-maker!

You will find what suits him best in our store. For instance:

Violins from $5.00 to $50.00
Accordions from $5.00 to $40.00
Ocarinas from 35c to 75c
Jewsharps from 5c to 25c
Mouthorgans from 35c to $3.00
Whistles from 5c to 25c
Kazoos from 10c to 25c

and many others.

temptation to our boys and men have been closed—we hope never to be reopened. But as eternal vigilance is the price of liberty we urge our Sunday

the victory is won, but to persistently carry on their work of temperance teaching and pledge-signing.

Pray for Peace.

"That in the day when at our tables gather the great themes of conversation is war and bloodshed, we urge our forces white and true to their country, to hold steady for the great cause of Jesus Christ and peace on earth, good will to men, and while we pray for the victory of the right, that we as earnest, prayerful, and saved from the hate and glorification of armament, death-dealing arguments and all

INFANTILE SCOURGE SPREAD BY CONTACT AUTHORITIES FIND

Paralysis Called Exclusively Human Disease.

CAUSED FROM A VIRUS

This Found in Intestines as Well as Nervous Tissues
—No Specific Cure.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—"The weight of present opinion inclines to the view that poliomyelitis (infantile paralysis) is exclusively a human disease and is spread by human contact, whatever other causes may be found to contribute to its spread," is the conclusion reached by a committee of the American public health association, made public here today by the U. S.

Public Health Service.

"The specific cause of poliomyelitis," continues the report, "is a microscopic organism, a so-called virus, which may be positively identified at present only by its production of poliomyelitis in monkeys experimentally inoculated.
Such experiments have shown this virus to be present not only in the nervous tissues of those who have died of poliomyelitis, but also in the nose, mouth and bowels discharges of patients suffering from the disease."

"There is no specific treatment of established value in poliomyelitis. During the persistence of the acute symptom of the disease, the important principles of treatment are rest in bed;

symptomatic relief and passive support for the prevention of deformities. Active measures during this stage are not only useless, but are apt to cause serious and often permanent injury. Hospitalization of patients, where possible, should be encouraged. The best chance of recovery from residual paralysis demands skillful after care."

UNKNOWN KILLED.

HAMILTON, Nov. 3.—The badlymangled body of an unknown man was found on the T. H. and 21 tracks near Prospect street this morning. There was nothing on the remains to identify them.

DANDRUFF MAKES
HAIR FALL OUT

25 cent bottle of "Danderine" keeps hair thick, strong, beautiful.

Girls! Try this! Doubles beauty of your hair in few moments.

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, richness and luxuriance.

Get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it can be neglected or injured by careless treatment—that all you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it, if you will just try a little Danderine.

Doctor Tells How to Strengthen
Eyesight 50 Per Cent in One
Week's Time in Many Instances

A Free Prescription You Can Have Filled and Use at Home.

Philadelphia, Pa.—Do you wear glasses? Are you a victim of eyestrain or other eye weakness? If so, you will be glad to know that according to Dr. Lewis there is real hope for you. Many whose eyes were failing say they have had their eyes restored through the principle of this wonderful free prescription. One man says, after trying it: "I was almost blind; could not see to read at all. Now I can read anything without any glasses, and my eyes would pain dreadfully; now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me." A lady writes: "The atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after using this prescription for fifteen days, I can now discard them in a reasonable time, and multitudes more will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to be spared the trouble and expense of ever getting glasses. Eye troubles of many descriptions may be wonderfully benefited by following the simple rules here is the prescription: Get to any drug store and get a bottle of Bon-Opto drug. Fill it with water and allow it to dissolve. With this liquid bathe the eyes two or three times daily. You should notice your eyes clear up perceptibly right from the start, and in a few days they will disappear. If your eyes are bothering you, even a little, take steps to save them now. Blind might have been saved if they had cared for their eyes in time.

See another prominent physician in whom the above article was submitted, said: "Bon-Opto is a very remarkable remedy. Its constituent ingredients are well known to eminent eye specialists, and widely prescribed by them. The manufacturer in one week's time is many instances, or refund the money. It can be obtained from any good druggist, and is one of the very few preparations I feel should be kept on hand for regular use in almost every family." Standard Drug and W. Z. Strong sell it.

COSTS WENT DOWN
BUT NEWSPRINT
PRICES WENT UP

U. S. Commission So Declares
After Probe.

BIG JUMP IN IMPORTS

Canadian Paper Is Now One-Third of That Used Across Line.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—In a statement tonight announcing virtual completion of its investigation of newsprint paper prices, the federal trade commission declares that during the first half of this year, when prices already were soaring to unprecedented figures, the average cost of producing newsprint in domestic mills was less than $1.65 per cwt., or below the average cost in the last three years.

The commission announced that before issuing its report public hearings will be conducted, and manufacturers, publishers and others interested given an opportunity to appear. No date is set for the hearings, but the report is said to be ready to send to the press in the near future.

Certain facts developed by the inquiry are made public now because most of the publishers' contracts for paper are about to expire. Contract prices rose this year from less than $2 per cwt. to $3 and $3.50, and on current market purchases the publishers have paid $7 or more for paper bought in the same way prior to January 1 for between $2 and $3.

"It is generally claimed in the trade," continues the report, "that costs in the future will increase particularly on account of the scarcity of labor in Canadian woods, and the consequent increase in labor cost of bringing logs to the mills. This is necessarily a matter of prediction concerning which the commission expresses no opinion.

"The quantity of newsprint paper imported, which came chiefly from Canada, equaled about one-third of the domestic production, and showed a great increase in the first half of 1916. The quantity exported also increased during this period, though the exports were small compared with imports. The prices, however, offered by foreign buyers were high.

The stock of newsprint paper, which are very small in comparison with the production, not only declined during the first half of 1916, but also were lower than at any time during the year 1915."

The dispatch adds that a telegram from the officers asking permission to present the wreath to the aviator Boelcke as a much-admired and

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Negotiations were completed today by a syndicate headed by the National City Company, which is controlled by the National City Bank interests, for a loan of $50,000,000 to the Russian Government, the proceeds of which will be used principally for paying for war munitions. U-57 Coming to America to Protect Commercial Sub.

NEW LONDON, Nov. 3.—The German armored submarine U-57, a sister ship of the U-53, which recently sunk five vessels off the New England coast, is expected to act as a convoy for the undersea freighter Deutschland on her return trip to Germany, according to a statement tonight by Capt. Paul Koenig.

The Deutschland's skipper added: "I would not be surprised if the armored submarine appeared off this coast while I am in port. You can't tell what the Government will do."

In answer to questions Capt. Koenig said he probably would make his homeward dash within the next ten days. He denied a report that he would go through the Cape Cod Canal, saying nothing was to be gained by this route.

The Consul-General of Belgium at Ottawa, is issuing instructions to that effect, and those who enlist with the Canadian overseas forces before the first of December will be exempted from registration.

Leader of Attack on Douaumont Dies of His Wounds.

PARIS, Nov. 3.—Gen. Anselin, commander of the brigade which led the assault on Fort Douaumont in the Verdun region on October 24, has died of wounds. Gen. Nivelle, the commander at Verdun, in announcing the death to Mrs. Anselin, alluded to the fact that her husband had prepared for the victory and capture of Douaumont.

Gen. Anselin was a brilliant officer, and had served as first assistant to three ministers of war, Berthelet, Blumie and Millerand, in the direction of the army administration.

BONDED WAREHOUSES
NO LONGER ALLOWED

Ottawa Refuses to Grant Further
Licenses in Ontario.

TORONTO, Nov. 3.—The Ottawa bonded warehouses refusing to issue bonded warehouses licenses in Ontario during the period that the Ontario temperance act is in force.

Applicants for such licenses have received replies from the department of inland revenue, announcing the government's decision in the matter. The action of the Ottawa Government settles a debatable point, and disappoints a dozen or more of former shop licensees who had made application to Ottawa to do business from a bonded warehouse.

There are at present about twenty bonded warehouses in Ontario, which received their licenses before the Ontario temperance act was passed. These will apparently be allowed to continue their business until the end of the federal license year.

Entente Allies

Diplomats and Naval Officers
Attend Funeral of Angheliki Volunteer.

PIRAEUS, Wednesday, Nov. 1, via London, Nov. 3.—(Delayed).—Four thousand workmen today followed to the cemetery the body of one of the men who perished when the Greek steamer Angheliki with 30 recruits for the Greek volunteer movement on board, was sunk recently near Piraeus by a German submarine.

The funeral was held by the labor unions from the harbor center during the afternoon. The Entente allied diplomatic corps sent a wreath for the casket, and the French Admiral Du Fournet and the allied military attaches attended the service in full uniform. Detachments of French and British sailors and officers wearing mourning bands on their arms represented the allied fleet. The warships in the harbor half-masted their flags during the funeral. The arrangements for the ceremony were supervised by the French naval and secret police officers.

A Communist demonstration which had been expected, did not take place, and no disorder marked the funeral. The families of other victims of the disaster held private funerals during the day for their dead.

Tired
Nervous
Mothers

A mother who is overworked, tired, nervous, irritable—on the verge of hysteria makes an unhappy home. The very thing she does not want to do.

Such a condition often develops a serious derangement of the feminine organs, causing irritability, despondency, sleepless nights and nervous prostration. At such times remember there is a tried and true remedy,

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

For forty years this famous Vegetable Medicine has been conquering the ills of women and the very best proof of this is such letters as these:

Northport, N.Y.—"I suffered from a female trouble and doctored for a time, using all kinds of treatments. The doctor said I would have nervous prostration. I was so nervous and had such bearing down feelings and headaches, and my housework kept me on my feet so much that I had to do something, and I was persuaded against my will to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I found the first bottle helped me and I continued its use so I am able to do all my work. A year ago I was miserable. I again bought Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, taking it regularly, and I now consider myself a well woman. I have told lots of women about it. Some would rather pay a doctor, but some have tried it and found it helped them as I said it would."—Mrs. JOHN ALEXANDER, Northport, N.Y.

For many years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No one sick with woman's ailments does justice to herself if she does not try this famous medicine made from roots and herbs, it has restored so many suffering women to health. Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

Denison, Texas.—"After my little girl was born two years ago I began suffering with female trouble and could hardly do my work. I was very nervous but just kept dragging on until last summer when I got where I could not do my work. I would have a chill every day and hot flashes and dizzy spells and my head would almost burst. I got where I was almost a walking skeleton and life was a burden to me until one day my husband's step-sister told my husband if he did not do something for me I would not last long and told him to get your medicine. So he got Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for me, and after taking the first three doses I began to improve. I continued its use, and have never had any female trouble since."—Mrs. G. O. LOWERY, 419 W. Monterey Street, Denison, Texas.

Bridgeton, N.J.—"I cannot speak too highly of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for inflammation and other weaknesses. I was very irregular and would have terrible pains so that I could hardly take a step. Sometimes I would be so miserable that I could not sweep a room. I doctored part of the time but felt no change. I later took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and felt a change for the better after the second day. I took it until I was in a good health condition. I recommend the Pinkham remedies to all women as I have used them with good results."—Mrs. MILFORD T. CUMMINGS, 24 New St., Bridgeton, N.J.

HOT WATER THE BEST LIVER AND BOWEL MEDICINE

Says glass of hot water before breakfast washes poisons from system.

Physicians the world over recommend the inside bath, claiming this is of vastly more importance than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing ill-health, while the pores in the ten yards of bowels do.

Men and women are urged to drink each morning, before breakfast a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, as a harmless means of helping to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible material, poisons, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Just as soap and hot water cleanse and freshen the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the eliminative organs.

Those who wake up with bad breath, coated tongue, nasty taste or have a dull, aching head, a sallow complexion, acid stomach; others who are subject to bilious attacks or constipation, should obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to demonstrate the value of inside bathing. Those who continue it each morning are assured of pronounced results, both in regard to health and appearance.

Granny has placed the ban on shirkers. At court this morning he glanced over the crowd of young men on the back benches and made this announcement: "There appears to be a number of stalwart young men here this morning who look like they might easily be put to work for their country and not loafing here. They are shirkers, and hereafter will be kept out of court unless subpoenaed as witnesses."

Granny Visits
The Hospital

"And where will ye be going today, dear?" said Grandpa, as Granny appeared dressed for the street.

"Ah, now!" said Granny, laughing, "curiosity killed the cat," and away she went.

She was dressed in a blue print gown with white collar and cuffs, and carried a large basket.

She approached and entered the big building behind the long fence—it was the hospital.

"Oh, here is Granny," called a tiny patient, as Granny entered her room. "Dear Granny, did you bring me some more of your lovely cookies?"

"Yes, dearie, and something else, too."

She reached down into her big basket and handed the girlie a small bundle tied with pink baby ribbon.

"Open that, dearie," she said.

The child's wee fingers eagerly untied the bow. Oh, the tempting individual cake! The girlie clapped her hands and asked: "Granny, I promised to tell Mother what the name of the flour was that you bake so many good things with? Oh, yes, Hunt's Diamond Flour."

"Bye-bye, dearie, Granny must go. I'll come again soon. There are many more sick people here waiting for Granny's cakes and bread. I want to help them all to get well, so I tell them all about the advantages of home cooking, and the only flour to use, which is

LOCAL SHOE DEALERS RUSHED WITH ORDERS

No Diminution in Any Line of Business.

BETTER WEATHER IN WEST

Hopes Entertained of Resumption of Threshing, Says Bradstreets.

London reports to Bradstreet's say that the volume of autumn business is being well maintained, and that merchants generally are well satisfied with the conditions they are experiencing. Drygoods are moving out as rapidly as deliveries are coming in large numbers. Spring orders for boots and shoes are even larger than some dealers like, on account of the uncertainty about getting deliveries. The movement of labor from country to city is slightly easing a situation that is still presenting a problem here, in common with all the rest of the province. Groceries are active, with no diminution in business from higher prices.

Winnipeg's Report.

Winnipeg reports that better weather is being experienced in Manitoba and that more threshing may yet be done; this was one of the influences that helped to bring about Wednesday's decline in wheat prices. The market is still strong, and export demand is consistent. General trade conditions are healthy. An active inquiry is being made for reasonable commodities. Hardware lines were advanced this week. Drygoods are scarce, and wholesalers are unable to meet all demands. Groceries are being actively distributed. Hardware Advancing.

Toronto reports that wholesalers are more than satisfied with the volume of business which is passing. Retail trade, as well as showing remarkable activity, and with seasonable weather, autumn commodities are passing over the counter in a manner that shows little depression of trade from constantly rising prices. Advances in hardware lines were made during the week, amounting to as much as 10 per cent in some cases, and closely following advances in other hardware lines only last week.

New canned goods are on the market at prices much in advance of last year, and the supply is too small to fill all orders.

HERE'S THAT POEM FOR FRIENDS AT THORNDALE

A number of friends from Thorndale have written "Wait a Minute" for a copy of the old song "The Old Arm Chair." He did not have it handy, but a number of customers have sent him copies, among them J. H. Gledhill, Melbourne, Ont., A. J. Douglass, London, and others. The song is given below:

THE OLD ARM CHAIR.

My grandmother she at the age of eighty-three

Took life of a fever and died,

And after she was dead the will of course was read

By a lawyer, as we all stood by his

To my brother it was found she had left a hundred pound

But when it came to me, the lawyer said, "I see."

She has left to you her old arm chair."

Chorus.

How they tittered, how they chaffed,

How my brother and my sister laughed,

When they heard the lawyer declare

I thought it hardly fair, but said I did not care.

And in the evening took the chair away.

My sister at me laughed, my brother And said, "It will be useful, John, some day."

When you settle down in life, find some girl to be your wife.

You'll find it very handy, I declare.

On a cold and frosty night, when the fire is burning bright,

You can then sit in your old arm chair."

What my brother said came true, for in a year or two,

Strange to say I settled down in married life;

I first a girl did court, and then the ring I bought.

Took her to church, and when she was my wife.

The old girl and me were as happy as could be.

And when my work was over, I declare,

I ne'er abroad would roam, but stay each night at home.

And be seated in the old arm chair.

One night the chair fell down. When I picked it up I found

The seat had fallen off upon the floor.

And there to my surprise, I saw before my eyes,

A red and rosy, two thousand pounds or more.

When my brother heard of this, the fellow, I confess,

Went home mad with rage and tore his hair.

But I only laughed at him, and said unto him,

"Jim, don't you wish you had the old arm chair?"

WOMEN ARE DOING SPLENDID WORK IN AID OF SANATORIUM

Appeals To Be Made for Help at Christmas.

VISITING NURSES BUSY

Four Thousand Calls Were Made to Local Homes Last Year.

The annual meeting of the Women's Sanatorium Aid Society was held at the residence of Mrs. David Cowan Friday afternoon. The president, Mrs. John Stevely, presided. The reports of the various officers showed a great increase in the work which the society has been carrying on voluntarily every day in the year.

The treasurer, Mrs. A. Green, reported the monthly bill to be on an average $50 for groceries, clothing and shoes, while $100 is used on an average every month to help needy families. In addition thirty needy families had been supplied with Christmas hampers.

It was discovered, however, that expenses have soared and that the bank account has decreased. As the society has many obligations to meet it was decided to make a special appeal for help at Christmas. This will be the first time since the beginning of the war that the society has appealed for aid.

Waste Paper Helps.

There has been a good revenue from the sale of waste paper through the efforts of Mrs. Charles White, who did considerable work indefatigably for the cause. The fact that many householders have installed balers and are selling the paper instead of giving it to the charity as formerly had reduced this source of revenue. The Salvation Army is now also collecting.

A vote of thanks was tendered to the teachers and pupils of the city schools for their continued interest in the work of collecting paper for the society.

Three new members joined. They were Mrs. Ray Lawson, Mrs. Frank Jewel and Mrs. Fred Belz.

After the report of the visiting nurses, tea was served by the hostesses and a pleasant social hour spent.

Doing Good Work.

A report prepared by the visiting nurses shows that work amongst the tuberculous patients of the city has increased considerably during the past months. The number of patients who visited the free dispensary was 1,214, 755 above 1914. The number of new cases during the year were as follows: Incipient 62, moderately advanced 33, advanced 4, under observation 107, a decrease of 80 over last year and 152 over 1914. The number of deaths was 29, an increase of 12 over last year and previous to that. Each of the two years were made to homes and patients were instructed in the treatment of the disease. Necessary food and clothing was supplied where necessary. Reports on the condition of patients were made to health authorities.

Is Not Increasing.

The report states that while figures seem to show that the disease is increasing this is really not so, but more cases are authorities on the observation of the authorities at the fight against the disease continues.

The high cost of living, the report states, combined with the hardship tuberculosis brings when there are often two or three cases in a family, is making it barely possible for some members of families are in khaki, which makes the hardships even greater.

The Women's Sanatorium Aid brought relief to many of these families, paying the rent in many cases. Twenty-one families were supplied with milk daily, seventeen families were supplied with groceries each week, not including Christmas hampers. Thirty of these were given out at Christmas time. At present there are 210 families on the visiting list of patients.

A number of those who received sanatorium treatment are able to resume their duties. Many children have been able to leave the sanatorium, reporting at the dispensary each month.

The nurses feel that the work amongst the children is most satisfactory.

CARD OF THANKS.

Mr. and Mrs. John P. Flynn, Asylum grounds, wish to thank their many friends for the kindness shown in their sad bereavement in the death of their son.

EDISON'S New Invention is a Human Instrument

EDISON has made possible the absolute Re-Creation of Arthur Middleton's magnificent voice

SO faithful, so startlingly identical with the original is Edison's Re-Creation of the human voice that audiences of musicians and music-lovers in every corner of the United States have expressed their astonishment at the human qualities of Edison's new invention, the Diamond Disc Phonograph.

It is a wonderful thing to realize that you are listening to the actual Re-Creation of a voice instead of only an approximate reproduction as given by talking machines.

Hear Middleton's Great Voice

Arthur Middleton, basso, belongs to that group of peerless artists known to the world as the Metropolitan Opera Company. For more than two years his voice has won him distinction with this company. Middleton has freshness and youth. He imparts both of the qualities to his singing. For purposes of Re-Creation Edison has made it a point to seek "fresh" voices—voices still vibrant with youth.

The very humanness of Edison's invention has astounded thousands. It is a human instrument. It gives you the human tone, perfectly recorded, absolutely Re-Created. In Edison's Re-Creation of Middleton's voice every tone is intact.

Edison simply asks you to HEAR his Re-Creation of the Human Voice

So convinced is Edison himself of the truthfulness of his Re-Creation that he asks you simply to hear it. Words cannot convince you. Music's Re-Creation baffles description. Come in and hear it.

We are licensed to sell the New Edison.
