GOVERNMENT CONTROL OF LEATHER MARKET IS PREDICTED PROCLAMATION OF APPEAL TO HUNGARIANS ISSUED BY ARCHDUKE JOSEPH

TEN-STORY SKYSCRAPER TO BE BUILT IN CITY, DECLARES AGENT, MAINLY FOR OFFICE PURPOSES

Location Not Decided Definitely, But Richmond Street Site Is Favored—Promoter Thinks the Idea Would Prove Popular.

London is soon to have a skyscraper. Persistent rumor to this effect which has been steadily growing in this city recently was verified today by Lieut.-Col. A. Campbell, real estate agent, 428 Richmond street, who announced that he has under contemplation the construction of a 10-story office building. The location of the proposed building has not been definitely decided, but the present site of the People's Loan and Savings Corporation, in which Col. Campbell has his own office, is named as the most probable. "The time has come in London when a big up-to-date office building is necessary. The city can easily stand such a building, and it is necessary for the better class of office accommodation in the city," the real estate man said.

There is no reason that I can see why a 10-story office building in London would not be as acceptable as in any other city. Where such buildings are common, there is generally a decided preference among office renters to locate in buildings of the skyscraper class.

Plans for the new building under consideration have been discussed, but building will not start until conditions improve. At present, the building conditions are hardly stable enough to warrant the immediate construction of a building of the size under contemplation.

Lieut.-Col. Campbell plans a skyscraper of the most modern construction and equipment for offices, with express elevators sufficient to efficiently accommodate the building.

ARCHDUKE JOSEPH APPEALS TO HIS PEOPLE IN FIGHT AGAINST ANARCHY

Requests All To Assist in Restoring Order in Hungary.

UPRISINGS PREVAIL
A Catastrophe Without Parallel Predicted Unless Control Is Gained.

Budapest, Aug. 7.—Archduke Joseph, the new governor of state, issued a proclamation appealing to all classes to help him in his fight to completely put down anarchy and to establish order with a strong hand.

The proclamation follows: "Impelled by the imperishable love which binds me to the Hungarian people, and looking back over the common suffering of the past five years, as well as responding to the wishes which have reached me from all sides, I have taken a hand in the solution of a situation which already seemed impossible. 'I cannot look on while politicians and various interests and party groups quarrel over the fate of our poor broken fatherland. Everywhere there is confusion. A ministry in office that has Danubia, a ministry in office that has recognized no end and a complete stoppage of the food supplies threatening a catastrophe unless the Hungarian educated classes and the agricultural population establish order with a strong hand.'

The strike was precipitated by the return of 5,000 negroes to work yesterday.

SHOPMEN'S STRIKE CAUSING TIE-UP OF TRAINS IN U. S.

Further Curtailment of Service Is Predicted by Officials.

THOUSANDS ARE OUT
One Hundred and Fifty Trains Are Removed From Runs.

Chicago, Aug. 8.—Curtailment of passenger service on many of the large railroads of the country is believed by rail officials to be forecast in the announcement today of the discontinuance of more than one hundred and fifty trains by two eastern and one western road, as the result of a nationwide strike of federated railroad shopmen.

Railroad officials predicted a further curtailment of passenger service unless the shopmen respond to President Wilson's appeal and return to work within a short time pending a settlement of wage demands.

Freight traffic on nearly all lines continued to be hampered today by the walkout of the shopmen and it was asserted by railroad officials that the notice to accept shopmen's demands to delay would be changed into an absolute embargo on many commodities unless conditions improved shortly.

The officials of the district council here, which called the strike against orders of the grand lodge officers of the Federated Railway Shopmen, showed that the ranks of the strikers were being increased daily, while in only a few cases had men returned to work in response to an appeal of the grand lodge officers.

The railroads which announced discontinuance of passenger trains were the New York, New Haven and Hartford, the Chesapeake and Ohio and the Chicago and North Western. The Chicago and North Western said that passenger service on their lines would not be disturbed for 24 hours, but after that time the condition of the locomotives would determine train schedules.

10,000 MECHANICS ARE OUT ON ONE RAILROAD

Boston, Aug. 8.—Annulment of suburban passenger service on the Boston and Maine and New York, New Haven and Hartford lines, on account of the shopmen's strike, interrupted rapid transit between city and towns and this city today. The Boston and Albany Railroad, also affected by the strike, started its suburban business as usual, but officials said that it might have to be curtailed later. Upwards of 10,000 mechanics employed in shops, roundhouses and terminals in Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Rhode Island and Connecticut, who struck yesterday, expected to be joined by several thousand others today.

Black Rust Does Heavy Damage in Southern Manitoba

Wheat Growers Will Sustain High Loss Because of Grain Disease.

Winnipeg, Man., Aug. 8.—Crop damage by black rust will amount to from 5 to 40 per cent of the total crop in Southern Manitoba and about 5 per cent of the crop in Northern Manitoba, according to a report sent in by the Manitoba Government inspectors. "A thorough inspection of the crop has been made, and they assert that the rust has only appeared during the past few days. Its work was rapid and disastrous. A fortunate feature, however, was the fact that the wheat was about the stage, otherwise the damage would have been much greater."

WINNIPEG STRIKERS USED NOVEL METHOD TO FRIGHTEN WOMAN

Manikin With Bloody Handkerchief Over Face Made To Represent Husband.

Winnipeg, Aug. 8.—How her striking neighbors had made a manikin, covered its face with a bloody handkerchief, and led Mrs. E. F. Ross, Dilmore, to believe it was her husband, who had returned to work at the postoffice, was told by Mrs. Ross at the trial Thursday afternoon of eight labor leaders for sedition.

A feud still exists between the Ross family and their neighbors over the occurrence, and a neighbor whose wife refused to send away the nephews of Mr. Ross, who were living at their home, had left his wife in consequence of the incident.

This was one of the many incidents testified to by witnesses in an attempt by the crown to show the results of the propaganda of the eight accused.

Capt. G. P. Wheeler, president of the Imperial Veterans of Canada, and H. B. Willing, secretary, swore at the afternoon session that they had been told by emissaries of the strike committee that "the government had been structure from the city hall to the labor temple, and that they intended to keep it there." These emissaries were attempting to win the veterans over to join what Mr. Willing termed as "workmen's and soldiers' council."

BROOKLYN TRANSIT STRIKE CONTINUES

Employees of System Indicate No Signs of Accepting Terms.

New York, Aug. 8.—With only a few surface cars and an occasional elevated or subway train in operation, Brooklyn residents were compelled today to resort to temporary make-shift of transit facilities of "buses, motor cars and trucks."

Congestion at terminal points of the Long Island Rail Road and the Interborough Rapid Transit Company lines to Manhattan were jammed early with throngs when it became apparent that the third day of the strike of Brooklyn Rapid Transit employees promised little or no relief.

Mosquitoes Swarm in City Park; Water Draws Them There

Pests Bad in Victoria, and No
Fight Made Against Them.

Even the mosquitoes in these days of drought are on the search for wet places. This accounts for the swarms in Victoria Park and other spots in the city where there is a supply of water.

Prof. John Dearness said today in explanation of the abnormal number of mosquitoes noticeable in some parts of the city that the prolonged dryness of the weather this season accounts probably for the mosquito pest which is attacking unwary park benders. In the future, the park mosquito will be less noticeable.

In the meantime, those who sit on park benches hand out the following advice: Don't sit—keep walking.

South London few have been noticed. Professor Dearness explained that water is necessary to the life of the mosquito, and that it lays its eggs only in water, choosing stagnant pools, such as soft water rain barrels and ponds. Under normal weather conditions the mosquitoes scatter when hatched, but at present they are congregating wherever there is water.

Very little is being done by the Government in this country to fight the mosquito, the professor said, and believed that there was practically no decrease in recent years in the pests. A great deal of money, he stated, is being spent in some parts of the country, especially in New Jersey, which holds the record as the habitat of the largest and most voracious variety of mosquito, in employment of methods to fight them. Other places, principally summer resorts near water, are also conducting campaigns with excellent results.

Probably with more frequent rains in the future, the park mosquito will be less noticeable.

In the meantime, those who sit on park benches hand out the following advice: Don't sit—keep walking.

WINDSOR COMMITTEE UNABLE TO BUY COAL FOR CITY FUEL YARD

Windsor, Aug. 7.—The order for 5,000 tons of anthracite coal, placed by Windsor coal committee as an emergency measure three weeks ago, has been returned. The committee says the placing of the order was made only after unavailing more than fifteen companies in the United States.

No other opportunity to buy anthracite coal can be found as yet in this city. Mayor Winter today stated that people must get some kind of fuel themselves, since the city does not seem able to buy any.

The situation today seems more difficult than the one faced in 1918, Mayor Winter said. "The gas company is planning on conserving the supply of gas given facilities to insure a supply of gas for cooking purposes for the border."

The fuel committee of the city council said today it would still continue its efforts to secure coal. It has today hope to get from 300 to 400 tons for the municipal coal yard, which will only be used in emergency.

GERMANS ALARMED AT COAL SHORTAGE

Conference of Experts Called To Discuss Situation.

SITUATION IS CRITICAL

Many Will Freeze To Death
This Winter Unless the Supply Is Increased.

Berlin, Aug. 7.—A commission of employers and workers was appointed at yesterday's coal conference of experts from all parts of Germany to devise means of increasing the production of coal so that Germany will not freeze or starve during the coming winter. Its first session was held today at the ministry of labor.

The only result of yesterday's conference seemed to be the pointing out that the situation is desperate. No concrete steps were decided upon, but the conference was unanimous in its view that the situation must be improved at any price. Although experts made a large number of suggestions it was recognized that hard work would be the only way out of the present predicament.

Situation Is Critical. The situation seemed to be critical. Germany has succeeded in inducing France to admit that her demand for forty million tons of coal annually was a physical impossibility, but it appears that Germany cannot even hope to have enough coal to meet the country's most urgent needs. The people have been warned already to prepare for the coming winter and laymen are rapidly being converted to the opinion that the Government should sacrifice some of the national forests, arguing that it would be better to encroach on part of Germany's potential capital than to allow freezing and starvation. The idea, however, does not appear to attract much attention in governmental circles.

According to present plans, the first call for coal will come from the railroads. This will assure the transportation of food. Industry will come next, so that credit can be created abroad by the production of articles of commerce. The people will next be given coal for heating and cooking purposes. The prospects for the last class are seemingly bleak.

"SHOOTING" CEMENT ON WALLS OF BUILDING IS NEW METHOD USED HERE

The new fireproof receiving warehouse of the Canadian Express Company, east of the G. T. R. downtown station, is almost completed, and the building is now in use. A company of men is now working on the exterior of the structure is now being put on by a novel contrivance known as "cement shooting."

The process is a simple one. Compressed air is passed via pipes through a tank, in which the cement is mixed with screened sand. Water is also fed into the tank, and the ingredients are mixed in the force of the compressed air drives the mixture through a heavy rubber hose, the nozzle of which is manipulated by a workman, who directs the stream of cement against the wall of the building, forming a thin film of concrete. As the mixture dries further applications are made by means of the hose. This is a labor saving method, and both tank and air compressor are some distance from the building, thus causing a minimum space on the station platform to be utilized during the work.

BIG PRICES PAID FOR COLTS AT SARATOGA

VACATION SEASON NOW MEANS MORE WORK FOR BUSY CITY PATROLMEN

With the vacation season at its height, routine police work increases, although the population of the city is not so large as during the vacation season, according to the police authorities.

Residents who start on a vacation trip with their families seldom fail to notify the police that they would appreciate a patrolman looking over their home while they are absent at lake-side and mountain resorts.

List of several house owners is being prominently in the police station, so that patrolmen may ascertain the houses which are to be left in the hands of the police during the vacation season, a common failing of vacationists is to forget to lock the back door or to leave outside cellar entrances open, according to the police authorities.

RAIN MEANS MUCH TO RUTHVEN CROPS

RUTHVEN, Aug. 6.—The heavy downpours of rain put many thousands of dollars in the pockets of growers. The potato crop, which showed indications of being only a third of a crop, promises a fair yield. The large tobacco crop, which was also making slow progress, has taken on a new color, and is now in the pink of condition again. Corn, which was doing fairly under the dry conditions, is doing "extra fine."

The catfish season has opened up here, and some of the boys who have put out a string of night lines are reporting some of the big "yellow fellows."

Two divisions of the Liberty League were in this district on Wednesday, and it is expected that a branch of the league will be organized here with 200 members as a starter.

Watermelon and muskmelon fields in this district are showing up in good shape, and prospects are for a bumper crop.

Gill net fishermen along the shore are getting some fair hauls of herring, and receiving good prices. The pound net men are now about ready for fall fishing, which will start about September 20.

WINDSOR COMMITTEE UNABLE TO BUY COAL FOR CITY FUEL YARD

Windsor, Aug. 7.—The order for 5,000 tons of anthracite coal, placed by Windsor coal committee as an emergency measure three weeks ago, has been returned. The committee says the placing of the order was made only after unavailing more than fifteen companies in the United States.

No other opportunity to buy anthracite coal can be found as yet in this city. Mayor Winter today stated that people must get some kind of fuel themselves, since the city does not seem able to buy any.

The situation today seems more difficult than the one faced in 1918, Mayor Winter said. "The gas company is planning on conserving the supply of gas given facilities to insure a supply of gas for cooking purposes for the border."

The fuel committee of the city council said today it would still continue its efforts to secure coal. It has today hope to get from 300 to 400 tons for the municipal coal yard, which will only be used in emergency.

REFUSES INJUNCTION AGAINST CORN FLAKE CO.

TORONTO, Aug. 7.—Mr. Justice Kelly handed out a decision at Osgoode Hall this morning, refusing to grant an injunction restraining Kellogg's Corn Flakes, Limited, from manufacturing products in Canada and selling them in the United States. The Kellogg's Corn Flakes Company applied for an injunction which has been refused, pending the decision of the court on the matters that are in dispute between the two companies.

PARIS, Aug. 8.—The Rumanians' refusal to comply with the peace conference demands is causing great embarrassment to the supreme council, it is said, and the council is discussing practically nothing else.

NEW TRAFFIC LAW MEANS EXTRA TRIPS FOR MOTOR DRIVERS

Makes It Inconvenient For Many City Motorists.

Autoists and other drivers of vehicles will experience some difficulty with the new traffic law, which provides that one cannot make a left turn at the corner of Dundas and Richmond streets, goes into effect. Under this law, if a person is coming south on Richmond street north of Dundas street, and wishes to go to a store on Dundas between Richmond and Clarence, he must get into a King and Clarence street or, in other words, he must go around the block.

All is well if his destination is on the north side of the street, but if it is on the south side he has another extra trip to make. He must turn right at the corner of Dundas and Richmond, and then turn left at Richmond street, because the left turn is prohibited there. Thus the new traffic law makes the motorist in the case mentioned above go six blocks out of his way.

RAIN MEANS MUCH TO RUTHVEN CROPS

RUTHVEN, Aug. 6.—The heavy downpours of rain put many thousands of dollars in the pockets of growers. The potato crop, which showed indications of being only a third of a crop, promises a fair yield. The large tobacco crop, which was also making slow progress, has taken on a new color, and is now in the pink of condition again. Corn, which was doing fairly under the dry conditions, is doing "extra fine."

The catfish season has opened up here, and some of the boys who have put out a string of night lines are reporting some of the big "yellow fellows."

Liberalism's New Chief

The Liberal party in Canada has chosen as its leader the most pronounced expert in North America on labor problems; a young man, already the recipient of notable honors because of his public service, of great mental and physical vigor and with promise of many years of valuable service ahead of him; a scholar and a statesman in the literal meanings of the word; and a man whose true blue Liberalism has never been questioned.

Sir Wilfrid's mantle has fallen where Sir Wilfrid himself on more than one occasion predicted it would rest. Such was the confidence the departed chieftain reposed in Mackenzie King, but this had nothing to do with his selection, for the new leader was chosen in the most democratic of conventions by popular vote, which expressed the untrammelled will of Liberalism from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

A choice made under such circumstances could not fail to be right. Hon. W. S. Fielding and Hon. George P. Graham were strong candidates, offering the offer of ripe experience, but the reorganized and rejuvenated party desired a younger man at the helm.

And the glamor of the name could not have been without some effect, for a grandson of the great William Lyon Mackenzie, who fought for responsible government when family compacts were in vogue as orders-in-council are today, a descendant possessing the militant spirit, the confidence in the public voice and the sense of right of the great Mackenzie, is the kind of man needed at the head of affairs in Canada.

The selection of the convention is also significant in the fact that minor affairs were lost to view in the one great issue, the choosing of a man who would best represent the general principles for which Liberalism stands. Throughout the voting there was no east, or west, it was not a question as to where the honor should go; the one consideration was for a united Liberalism dedicated to the welfare of the country as a unit. The name of Mackenzie King stood for all that was most hopeful in seeking solution for the two great problems of the day, the industrial unrest and the return of sane, responsible government.

Hon. Mr. King began his public career at the age of twenty-nine when he became deputy minister of labor. He had previously received a thorough collegiate training at the University of Toronto, University of Chicago and Harvard, obtaining the degrees of B.A., M.A., LL.B., and Ph.D. He served on numerous royal commissions with distinction, was Minister of Labor in the last Laurier Cabinet, earned the distinction of C.M.G., and was a candidate on behalf of Sir Wilfrid Laurier in North York in the last federal election.

It was a tribute to his ability and his knowledge of industrial affairs when the Rockefeller Foundation invited him to make a special study and report on the cause of labor unrest in the United States. His report, and a book which he subsequently published, gave him rank as the foremost authority on this subject on the continent. The years of study which he has devoted to this theme place him in an exceptional position for the service of his party at this time.

Under his leadership the Liberal party will remain the party of the people.

The Tariff Resolution

A great day's work was done by the convention on Wednesday. A strong Liberal position was taken as regards Canada's relation to Great Britain and the empire. A solemn tribute of respect and gratitude was voted to King George and to our victorious Canadian army. The Dominion Government was properly condemned for the non-enforcement of the income tax. But most important was the overwhelming endorsement of the resolution on the tariff prepared by the committee. The big thing has been done first. There were fears that unity might not be reached on this crucial issue, but west and east will be reasonably satisfied with the resolution as passed.

The main thing was to right the universal grievance of the farmer, both east and west. That is very unequivocally decided upon when the platform calls explicitly for free farm implements and machinery, free gasoline and oils, free cements and fertilizers. An excellent speech was delivered by Hon. Duncan Marshall, minister of agriculture in Alberta, who said that the great thing in Canada was to give Canadian boys and girls an inspiration to take up agriculture. A tremendous national debt has been built up since 1914, which must be met, and met by increased agricultural production, our primary industry. Mainly by that means must the cost of food in Canada be appreciably lessened or stabilized. Since 1911, as Mr. Marshall pointed out, there has been no increase to speak of in the agricultural population of the Dominion. "To pay the debt, let the 40 or 50 million acres of idle land still in the west be peopled with men who will produce grain and flax to sell in the markets of the world." The farmer demands that the tariff fetters be struck from his ankles and the Liberal party is going to do it.

Whatever is done for the farmer is also for the consumer. Increased agricultural production will not only pay the national debt, but lessen the cost of food. There are other ways of cutting down the cost of necessities, such as control of cold storage, reduction of freight rates by economical administration of railroads, etc., and the Liberal party will attend to these important matters. But the boon which will in the end overshadow all others to the food consumer is the stimulus that will be given to the farmer by the liberation of his equipment from duty.

Some of the delegates, notably Hon. John Oliver, premier of British Columbia, demanded a more sweeping demolition of protection. Mr. Oliver could not see why clothes and shoes, plumbers' tools, iron and steel goods, etc., should not be as free from customs taxation as food and farmers' tools. Should not nails and hardware be on the same footing as lumber and cement? He made a strong plea for the returned soldier who has to pay taxes on all these things to the Government which his valor has preserved. But it was pointed out on the other hand that the resolution calls for "a revision downward of the tariff on clothes," and footwear, etc., other than luxuries," and then strikes off 50 per cent of the remaining duty for British preference. This is a vast deal more than the Borden profiteers will ever do for the returned soldier or any other common consumer. The sentiment of the vast majority of the convention was that a fair give-and-take between agricultural and manufacturing sections must prevail. The delegates have met in eagerness for unity, as Hon. F. F. Pardee said, "to do the greatest good to the greatest number." Premiers Stewart and Norris of Alberta and Manitoba were emphatic in declaring that the west would meet the east fairly half way. Hon. George Langley, minister of municipal affairs in Saskatchewan, said: "The west fully realizes the needs of Ontario and Quebec, and therefore is not asking for free trade." However, he went on: "We have pledged the Liberal party to go quite a long way to get them used to free trade. When they get their hands in, we shall expect them to do quite a good deal more." For the present, then, at any rate, and probably for some time to come, the west will be satisfied with the "sane radical" policy of the resolution, as Mr. Norris calls it.

Hon. Frank Oliver made a good point in his comment that the policy of high protection has been bad for the eastern manufacturer and his employees as well as for the eastern consumer in general. A sane radical tariff revision such as proposed would, then, benefit the east no less than the west. "Our manufacturers," said Mr. Oliver, "have been manufacturing for the tariff and not for the consumers of the world." Profiteering under the tariff shield "has gone to such a point that it is the eastern employer who is liable to take the matter into his own hands. It must be the Liberal party that will deal with the trade situation of this country, that will establish industry on a sound basis, and that will enable Canada and the manufacturers of Canada to compete in the great markets of the world."

Farmer, manufacturer, mechanic and consumer will all find relief from present stress and restriction by the adoption of the moderate and yet searching tariff program which the Liberal convention has drawn up at Ottawa. It is to be hoped that the relief will not be long postponed. None of the Bordenites have any more right to sit in power than Hon. W. F. Nickle thinks that he has. Out with them.

Centralized Control

The local organ of the Union Government charges the Liberal convention with favoring a movement for Canadian independence. It attempts to read into a resolution on the Dominion's constitution a desire for separation from the Motherland, because the resolution says there shall be no organic change without the holding of a referendum. The best answer to the charge is contained in the following resolution proposed by Senator Bostock, and seconded by Thomas McMillan, the Liberal candidate for South Huron:

"This convention desires to place on record its devotion to the person and office of his Gracious Majesty King George the Fifth, and its appreciation of his untiring efforts during the war in promoting harmony throughout his dominions, and also its unalterable attachment to the British Empire and to our own beloved Canada.

"And this convention further desires to place on record its gratitude to the valiant Canadian army for its splendid share in the great victory which has brought the blessings of peace to the world. In the desperate struggle between the forces of autocracy and democracy our gallant soldiers have covered themselves with glory by their courage and devotion to duty, and have earned the undying gratitude of all Canadians and made the name of Canada an inspiration for future generations."

"Unalterable attachment" should be sufficient guarantee of Liberalism's loyalty to the Empire.

The Borden organ also pretends to see a separation spirit in the convention's resolution opposing the centralization of imperial authority. A very superficial reflection will show how many dangers such an arrangement would contain. A centralization such as the ultra-imperialists desire would tend to breed discord and friction. The people of Canada, for instance, do not desire to interfere with the domestic affairs of any other dominion, just as we would resent interference in matters distinctly Canadian. Yet that is what might very easily happen in a government constituted from all parts of the Empire sitting at London. The Imperial Government might become involved in continental matters with which this and other dominions were not in sympathy. The big emergency, should it ever return, would not require any closer ties than now exist to secure our support. That has been gloriously and abundantly proved.

Liberal opposition to centralization of control is based on the grounds that it would tend to bring discord where harmony is now the rule, and not from a desire to cut loose, as our contemporary suggests.

IF MABEL.
By Dora Mollan.

If Mabel hadn't lingered just one moment more to finish telling Sadie about the swell dance she was "at" the night before and the stylish pink satin dress with gold trimmings she had worn and what a peach of a fellow Oscar was, and had hurried over to the next counter, according to the rules of the store, and waited on a girl who stood there patiently, and if Lois Barker hadn't been in such haste to catch a certain car because Harold Stern was coming to call that evening, and she wanted plenty of time to make herself as delectable as possible, and if she had stayed to be waited on, instead of rushing out, only pausing a second on the way to tell the floor-walker what she thought of Mabel and that kind of service—well, my breath is giving out; if it weren't for that I could keep on indefinitely most the ages, just relating the consequences of that one little "if."

But we will ignore for the present the fact that Mabel lost her job for sassing back when she received the inevitable call-down, and that the floor-walker went home cross that night, for it's hard to get competent girls to work in five-and-tens these days—and instead follow Lois Barker as she makes her car and arrives home just in time for dinner.

Mrs. Barker is on hand, but the head of the family reaches home late and in a fearful hurry. He explains as he cars that there is a meeting at the club; some high-up man is scheduled to speak, if he can only manage to get there, and he must be on time, and man right, why, perhaps he can place an order with him some time.

Lois hurriedly takes some time to do one's hair in the latest mode, and if she gets it just right it's so becoming to her, and she can't think what it lacks to the ideal. She is worried about her new gown; it doesn't just please her, but she can't think what it lacks to the ideal. She is worried about her new gown; it doesn't just please her, but she can't think what it lacks to the ideal. She is worried about her new gown; it doesn't just please her, but she can't think what it lacks to the ideal.

Mrs. Barker hastened to do his bidding, finding the number by the aid of a match, meanwhile demanding in turn of Lois in crescendo tones where she had put the lamp wicks she had bought that afternoon.

Lois tried to explain at long range why she hadn't bought them—"chase gaby" girls," etc. Central reported "Line busy," and Mrs. Barker so reported to her husband, who demanded some sort of a light, anyhow; also that she try again. The fact that she had ordered the maid to clean both the lamps they kept for such emergencies that very morning and throw out the wicks was fresh in her mind; also that the rubbish had been collected that day.

There was a pair of little candles in the brass candlesticks in the dining-room. It had been considerable trouble to find them in just the right shade of blue to match the curtains. It took some time to find another match.

Meantime, Dr. Barker was flaming the electric company for blank rotten management, his wife for lack of foresight and Lois for her failure to get the only useful thing she went uptown for. Lois, shifting blame from Mabel, was blaming it on the star-car company for running their cars so seldom.

The candles finally pacified the man of the house for a while. Mrs. Barker, between unsuccessful attempts at the phone, hustled her daughter into a long coat and sent her over to Mrs. Smith's next door, to borrow a lamp. Just as she had succeeded in worming out of the light company the interesting information that two dynamos had burned out at once, but that they hoped to have the current on again by midnight. Lois returned. Mrs. Barker was giving a dinner party and needed the only two lamps they owned. Mr. Barker called downstairs and wanted to know how in blazes he was ever going to tie an evening tie by the light of two measly Christmas dips.

Mrs. Barker sent Lois over to the house on the other side, though she detested that Mrs. Brooks and never spoke to her when she could help it. Then it occurred to her to wonder what the maid was doing all this time, and she felt her way to the kitchen to find out.

The opening of the door revealed the kitchen flooded in light. Katy had remembered what Mrs. Barker had quite forgotten, the one gas jet over the gas range.

Scolding Katy for not calling her attention to it, Mrs. Barker called her lord and master, and in the kitchen with her assistant she finished arraying herself and departed—too late for his particular car and so, also, too late to receive the mail and introduce the "big-up man" leaving immediately after his address, to catch a train.

Lois returned with a lamp that proved to be a dim, ill-smelling thing. Cross at everybody and everything in general, she also completed her unsatisfactory toilet in the kitchen; then demanded the lamp—and the living-room—for her own and Harold Stern's exclusive use.

The lamp proved so very smelly as to be unbearable, so she blew it out and returned to the kitchen in disgust. Harold Stern came up the street. On the front steps the fact was borne in on him that the Barker house was entirely dark; he couldn't see the kitchen window. So he retraced his steps, reflecting with the bitterness of youth on the unreliability of woman-kind and suffering the well-known chagrin of a "standup." So rummaging, he almost ran into George Stewart.

George hailed him gladly. He had a cousin visiting him. She was a "dandy girl," an all-around good sport. Why didn't Harold come along and go skating with them that evening. Harold went. And he came back to a dance. He had intended to invite Lois.

Space does not permit me to tell how the friendship with the cousin grew.

THE SCARLET SEA.
The long Pacific swells are blue.
The old North Sea is gray.
The waves are white with angry foam
In Fanny's stormy bay.
Green is the broad Atlantic's surge
From Britain to the States.
But scarlet is the sea that rolls
To Verdun's battered gates.
For where the warring nations drenched

The trampled earth with red.
The poppies rise, and far and wide
In flaming billows spread.
Their silken petals dyed with blood
Like wounds all gory part.
And every stalk is rooted in
A buried soldier's heart.

WRITERS AND HAND-WRITING.

[New York Globe.]

A poor linotype worn on Park Row,
New York, finally turned the other day and wrote a scathing letter to the publisher, with which was inclosed a dollar bill to found a college to teach newspaper men how to write. It is true that the worst specimens of handwriting "come from editors."

Arthur Brisbane writes a fairly legible hand, but nothing to brag about.
Frank L. Cobb, editor of the World, imitates the tracks of an intoxicated hen, and, in fact, all the editorial writers—the only men left who do not use a typewriter in newspaper stories—are miserable scribblers.

The higher they go in their profession the worse they scrawl. Walter Emerson, the Cincinnati editor, who was an associate of Henry Watterson for some years, recently told that Marcellus Henry's copy was almost undecipherable.

There are compositors on Park Row who have wrestled with every brand of chirography and have never failed. They equal in genius the man who read the Rosetta stone.

ST. THOMAS SHOPMEN MAY NOT STRIKE IN SYMPATHY WITH MEN

ST. THOMAS, Aug. 7.—Although matters are at the present time in the balance, it has practically been definitely decided that St. Thomas shopmen affiliated with the Federated Trades of America will not go out on strike in sympathy with their fellow-craftsmen of Detroit and other American cities until some settlement has been arranged. Should the officials fail to reach an agreement they will strike. This is the information given out tonight by several of the delegates who were in Jackson attending the monster gathering of members of the federated trades.

The men who walked out in Detroit are being urged to return to their work, pending a settlement, but what action they will take is not as yet known. "We are willing to be fair, and will not strike unless forced to do so," declared S. Booth, a delegate from this city to the meeting in Jackson, when he returned today. Should there be a strike in the local shops it will completely tie up the operation of trains out of this city, and would place the majority of this city's laboring men out of work.

ST. THOMAS ICEMEN TO STOP DELIVERY FACING SHORTAGE

ST. THOMAS, Aug. 7.—M. B. Johnson, the only ice dealer now offering artificial ice to local consumers, announced tonight that ice will not be delivered during the next few days under any consideration to anyone but families having young children or sick persons to care for.

The authorities state that, owing to the large amount of ice being used by butchers and grocers, especially during the recent hot spell, the city and district is threatened with a serious ice famine. The manufacturers of the artificial product are absolutely unable to cope with the situation at the present time, and drastic steps will have to be taken in order to avert a famine.

HORSE KILLED WHEN STREET CAR HITS WAGON AT SARNIA

SARNIA, Aug. 7.—When a team of horses attached to a wagon was struck by a P. M. street car at the gate of the Imperial Oil Company this afternoon one of the horses was killed, but the other escaped uninjured. The driver, Thomas Johnston, was slightly hurt. Charles Field is the owner of the horse.

The board of education decided tonight to secure the advice of an expert regarding the requirements of the new $250,000 technical and collegiate institute in heating, ventilation and electrical fittings. The board is determined to have the equipment most modern.

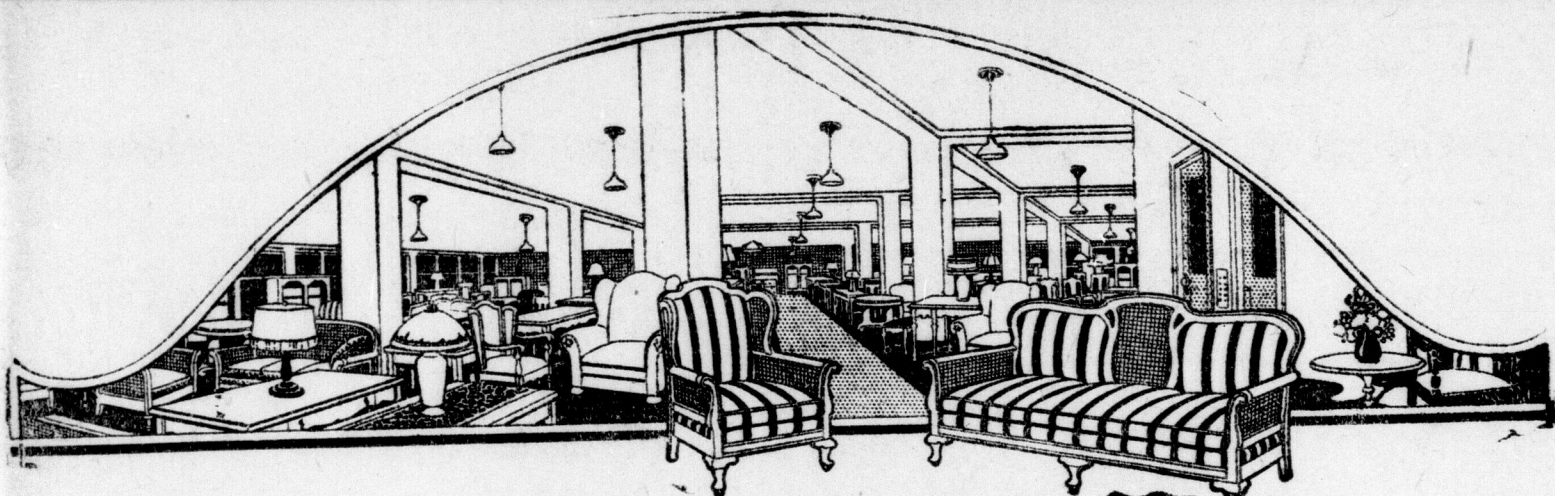

In a fast game of baseball tonight the Pirates of Windsor lost to the Indians of Sarnia by 10 to 6. A large crowd attended the garden party held on the lawn of the rectory of St. Paul's Church, Point Edward, tonight. The proceeds are to be used for the renovation of the rectory.

BY ISABEL C. ARMSTRONG.

A "One Platter Dinner"

"So you wrote me up in the paper," said the Busy Business Woman, the light of a "quarrel in the making" in her eye.

Then she laughed, because if she hadn't such a fine sense of humor, she'd never have lived to be the fine business woman she is, along with all the other things she accomplishes in the world.

"You expressed my sentiments exactly," she continued, "and I know I said all those things in your hearing. I suppose I was to blame myself, more or less, because I've been told often enough that, like little pitchers, newspaper people have long ears. (Nothing personal, I assure you.) In any case, it did give me a start to see myself quoted, and I can tell you, I rushed through those two articles in a hurry to make sure you hadn't mentioned my name. I breathed a sigh of relief at that, though for a while I did feel everybody must guess it was I. I felt as if somebody had written the words 'The Busy Business Woman' in his letters across my back, and that everybody following me down the street must identify me. Did anybody ever play a trick like that on you at school?"

"I have another 'time-saver' hit" that I did think of telling you about last week, in the heat of my self-adoration over making the discovery myself. At first, when I read about myself in your page, I wasn't ever going to talk in your presence again. But this seems to be really such a very good hint that I believe I'll give some other poor toiling, time-driven sister the benefit of it after all.

"EASY" SALMON LOAF.

"One very hot day I was expecting friends to dinner, who were only to be in the city a short time. That was one night I'd have to cook a real hot meal. My own family hadn't any appetite for meat, so I had an inspiration to cook salmon loaf. The dinner hour was set for 6:15, and as luck would have it, that was the very night I was detained at the office till 5:15 o'clock. I got into the house, hot and breathless, at 5:30. Fortunately the potatoes and peas were all ready to put on the gas stove to cook as soon as the water could be heated. This only took a few minutes, and I turned my attention to the salmon loaf recipe. To my dismay I found it couldn't possibly be done in so short a time, yet I couldn't serve the salmon cold for dinner. Then I had an inspiration. There were to be just six of us, so I reckoned one large can of a No. 1 brand red salmon I had in the house would be sufficient. I partially filled a granite kettle with cold water, popped the can of salmon into it, and set it over the gas flame to get the salmon thoroughly heated through. After a while I dropped a couple of eggs in the kettle with the can of salmon, to boil them hard for the sauce. The water had been boiling hard for some minutes when I got the potatoes drained and set them back, with the flame turned low, to get thoroughly dry.

"PINK, GREEN AND WHITE." I took a big platter I had heating, opened the can of salmon, cutting the top clean around the edge, close to the sides of the can, poured off the oil, then laid the salmon, which came out in an unbroken mold, in the centre of the platter. I moved all the skin of the fish I could without breaking the mold. Next I rice the potatoes, heating them around the fish to show a nice contrast between the flaky white and pinky red. Then I took the peas, with which I had cooked a generous sprig of mint, and made a ring of them outside the potatoes.

"I had put just a pinch of soda in with the peas when cooking them, to insure their tenderness. The mint gave them a vivid color, besides improving the flavor. I popped the peas and all into the gas oven to keep it hot while I was making the drawn butter sauce, to which I added the two hard-boiled eggs, chopped fine, and a little chopped parsley. I served the sauce in the gravy-boat.

"The salmon was piping hot, and nobody noticed it wasn't an elaborate salmon loaf. It really tasted so good that it gave us all an appetite. The sauce turned out beautifully. And one of the nice things was that I saved two vegetable dishes. It is a fine economy serving a whole first course on one platter. The housekeeping teacher you teach us a lot of useful wrinkles about housekeeping."

"But I must run along. Sure, I'll tell you if I think up anything else REALLY clever. But you must promise never to divulge my name. That is one thing I won't overlook. I've talked to you so long that I won't get that eight hours of sleep tonight, and I'll be cranky as 57 varieties of bears to-morrow."

The Hardest Way.

Why do some people in this world always seem to pick the hardest way to do things? Why is it that they repeat the same mistake day after day, patiently trudge or impatiently fritter through life, never dreaming of applying their intelligence to the task of improving their methods?

Ever see the housekeeper who never really feels she has accomplished anything until she stirs up everything until her surroundings look as if a cyclone had been turned loose therein? She makes ten errands from dining-room to kitchen when preparing a meal, ten errands that might be rolled into one by the use of a tray and some planning. Then she gets so flustered and hurried that she spills things on the floor and muddies the pantry, refrigerator and every place else visited in the course of meal-getting. When it is all over there is an appalling amount of cleaning up and straightening up to accomplish. She is worn out, discouraged, and she hates dish-washing. She wouldn't mind cooking if there was only somebody to clean up afterwards. Ever see that kind of a housekeeper?

THE HUMANE ICE MAN.

Then there is the Ice Man. Perhaps he isn't your Ice Man, but if you have ever noticed him going about his daily task of carrying blocks of coolness to refrigerators, you must have wondered at his methods. There is this to be said in his favor: he is much kinder to his horses than he is to himself. How would you like to lug twenty-five and fifty pound cakes of ice from the street around to people's kitchens and back porches for hours at a time on a hot summer day? Of course you wouldn't like it, and fifty pounds is pretty heavy, even when the strong arm of the ice man heaves it into its place in the ice box.

About that ice man who treats his horses with more consideration than he does himself: He stops in the middle of the block, gets out the chunk of ice size desired, and he delivers it in the house directly opposite.

ENDURANCE TEST.

But what is this he is doing now? Taking a little extra exercise for his health, or giving the ice an added airing? Down the street he comes, lugging his big chunk of ice, his shoulders bent by the weight. On, on he comes, a full half block before he turns into the next customer's back yard. Then he comes back for another cake for "long distance delivery." And all the time the horses stand still and rest.

If it had happened once it might have been an accident; if twice, thoughtlessness; it looks suspiciously like habit when the same thing occurs day after day, even unto a second season. But perhaps it is a tender regard for the horses.

Is Milk Good Food?

The subject under discussion one day not long ago was that of the food value of milk.

"People don't drink enough milk and eat enough products of milk. If they used more milk in their diet, their health would be better," declared one doctor. Then he went on to emphasize the importance of securing as clean conditions as possible for the production of the milk which is sold for use in the city. He had been glad to see prominence given in this department to the efforts of a certain milk producers' association to raise the standard of this industry through giving scrupulous attention to keeping the animals and their surroundings in clean condition, and urging that all utensils used be absolutely clean and the hands of the milkers thoroughly scrubbed before they begin the operation of milking.

"That's good business," he said. "Apart from a pure supply of drinking water, there is nothing so important to the health and welfare of a community as its milk supply."

The doctor in question would make the milk supply a public utility, and like the water and light supply, and he would have it administered from a central office and headquarters, to insure uniformity of quality, and cut down expense arising from duplicating of routes and equipment, unavoidable under the present milk dealing system. "Then I'd like to see an educational campaign undertaken in regard to the food value of milk and its by-products," he continued.

Another doctor was talking on the subject of milk. He didn't approve of it at all. Said that it wasn't food at all for grown-up humans, and other things to that effect. Which all goes to prove that all great minds do not think alike.

In order to get some further rulings on the subject, the writer consulted R. Harcourt, B.S.A., professor of chemistry, and a recognized authority on food values.

Owing to the impossibility of seeing the learned professor in person, it was necessary to search for his findings in a bulletin written by him on "Food Value of Milk and Its Products." This is Professor Harcourt's summary of his bulletin.

SUMMARY. Milk contains all of the four nutrients—proteins, fats, carbohydrates, and mineral matter—in nearly the proper proportions to serve as a complete food. It is too bulky to form the whole food of an adult person, but it is well adapted for various uses in combination with other food substances, and in the preparation of different dishes used as food. It also has the advantage of being a cheap food.

SKIM MILK is a cheap source of digestible proteins, and when taken with bread or used in cooking it forms a very cheap and nutritious addition to the diet. Two and a half quarts, or five pounds, of skim milk will furnish nearly the same amount of protein and have about the same fuel value as a pound of round steak. Buttermilk has about the same nutritive value as the skim milk, and both substances are so cheap that they could be used in large quantities with economy.

CHEESE is one of our most concentrated foods. More than one-fourth of its weight is protein, about one-third fat and one-third water. It is not only valuable for the amount of protein, or muscle-forming material, and fat it contains, but also because of the ease with which it can be kept and prepared for the table and for the variety of ways in which it may be served.

ULTIMATUM IS SENT TO RUMANIANS BY THE UNITED STATES

Demands Withdrawal of Severe Armistice Terms Presented to Hungary on Pain of Cessation of Food Shipments.

LONDON, Aug. 7.—A dispatch from Vienna by way of Copenhagen to the Exchange Telegraph Company says that the United States has sent an ultimatum to Rumania, demanding withdrawal of the severe armistice terms presented to Hungary, on pain of cessation of the shipment of food to Rumania.

PARIS, Aug. 7.—(Hungarian.)—The supreme council of the peace conference held a meeting today to consider the Hungarian situation, which is giving the conference great uneasiness, as mandates from that body to the Rumanians seem useless.

The situation has upset the entire communications system of Central Europe, making it impossible to forward supplies for the feeding of the starving populations.

OTTAWA, Aug. 7.—The following resolution dealing with the civil re-establishment of discharged soldiers was carried with effect at today's session of the national Liberal convention:

1. Whereas it is considered that the guiding principle for a permanent settlement of the problem of civil re-establishment should be equitable treatment to soldiers in all avocations, having regard to the length and nature of service. Resolved, that this convention declares that the adoption of a system of cash grants to the soldiers and dependents of those who have fallen is the most satisfactory and effective means of civil re-establishment—such grants to be in addition to the present gratuity and to any pension for disability resulting from service.

2. That the whole matter of the education of the returned soldier be placed in the hands of competent educational authorities to provide for the co-ordination, improvement and extension of a system of educational training, both vocational and general.

3. Insurance. That provision should be made whereby any increased cost of insurance in favor of the dependents of the soldier should be borne by the state where such increase arises from disability incurred during the war.

4. Pensions: (A) That such pensions and allowances be granted as shall enable soldiers or their dependents, as the case may be, to maintain a liberal standard of living sufficient to guarantee health, education and all necessities, comforts and amenities which go to make a standard of living worthy of Canadian citizenship.

(B) That soldiers permanently disabled should be trained for some useful occupation selected by themselves and for which they are fitted or can be fitted for such length of time as shall render them efficient in same, and after being so trained should be assisted by the Government in obtaining employment at a rate of remuneration adequate to the services rendered in such employment.

(C) That from the moment of discharge and until said training is completed and such employment found, the soldiers permanently partially disabled, as aforesaid, and their dependents, should receive pensions or allowances amply sufficient to enable them to maintain the liberal standard of living as aforesaid, and when employment has been found for said soldiers upon the completion of their training, if the remuneration received in such employment is not sufficient to maintain such standard of living, the Government should provide the deficiency.

(D) That soldiers who have returned or shall hereafter return partially or totally or temporarily disabled, and their dependents, should receive during the period of such disability pensions or allowances amply sufficient to enable them to maintain a liberal standard of living as aforesaid.

5. Medical examination: That steps should be taken to secure uniformity in medical decisions as to disabilities by established permanent traveling medical appeal boards.

6. That more effective employment agencies should be created and the present agencies should be improved, so that now in existence should be co-ordinated in a central authority.

7. That reference to soldiers in this resolution is intended to include as well sailors, aviators and nurses whenever applicable, and Canadian soldiers serving with any of the Imperial or Allied armies, so far as the benefits thereunder have not been provided for by the Imperial or Allied governments.

WOMAN SUICIDE WAS MOTHER OF CHILD FOUND DEAD IN WELL

Wyoming Jury Connects Two Tragic Events in Life of Mrs. Alfred Brett.

WYOMING, Aug. 7.—The jury which inquired into the death of the month-old child whose body was found in a cistern here Wednesday morning, tonight decided that the infant was the child of Mrs. Alfred Brett, who committed suicide at Paris, Ont., about a year ago. By their verdict the jurors thus linked up two tragic events in the life of Mrs. Brett, the death of the infant providing the probable motive for her taking her own life.

The body was found by J. Nicholson of Alvinston in about four feet of water in the cistern on the property owned by Mrs. Simon Casey, Mr. Nicholson was preparing to move into the property. Provincial Detective Stringer and Coroner Dr. Reid immediately took up the case, and through startling developments were looked for the jury tonight turned what had been rumors into facts.

The body was so badly decomposed after about 11 months in the water that it could not be established whether it had been dead before entering the cistern or drowned. Mrs. Brett, who had formerly lived here, had come to Wyoming, supposedly on a visit. The child was born here shortly after her arrival. She and the child lived here about a month and then she left for the home of her mother in Paris.

It was supposed she had taken the child with her. Evidence brought out tonight, showed that this was not the case, and that she had left town alone. On arrival at Paris, it is said, that she explained that the child had been born dead. Her husband, who is a returned soldier and who was present at the inquest tonight, later came to the inquest tonight, later came to the inquest tonight, and on his return to Paris she committed suicide.

The finding of the jury tonight discloses the probable cause that led her, being unable to face the questioning of her husband, to end her own life.

HOPE OF SETTLING BROOKLYN STREET CAR STRIKE GONE

New York Police Department
Prepares For Even More Serious Rioting.

New York, August 7.—With all apparent hope for an amicable settlement of the Brooklyn street car strike swept aside by refusal of Federal Judge Julius M. Mayer to order Lindley M. Garrison, receiver of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company, to parley with the strikers, the New York police department tonight was preparing for a third day of more serious rioting than that which occurred yesterday and today.

and authority to institute a full and exhaustive inquiry into the conduct of every phase of the illegal and other fraudulent practices in connection with the elections held under the aforesaid military voters' act, and this convention also demands the punishment of every person, military or civilian, who may be proved to have been implicated in the before-mentioned election frauds.

Charge Conspiracy.
Speaking to the resolution, Mr. Preston stated that having been the representative of the Liberal party overseas in the last general election he wished to charge conspiracy against persons high in office in the Government to manipulate the vote so that the Liberals should be defeated. Every offense which it was possible to commit had been committed, he said. If it had not been for the fraudulent conduct of the Government representatives there would be 25 more Liberal representatives in the House of Commons today.

The conspiracy to win over the soldiers' votes by fraudulent acts had, said Mr. Preston, been hatched in Ottawa. It was done with the knowledge of the prime minister and Sir George Perley, Hon. J. D. Reid, Hon. N. W. Rowell and Hon. Hector McInnes were all involved in it.

Mr. Preston charged that men were sent into the trenches because they desired to vote for the Liberal party. Soldiers had told him that they were threatened with the trenches if they dared to vote for Laurier. He could produce documentary evidence to prove his statements. If the election had been honestly fought, Sir Wilfrid, and not Sir Robert Borden, would have been returned to power.

Mr. Preston closed by demanding an impartial investigation of his charges. Mr. Adamson, in seconding the resolution, declared that the Borden Government had stolen its way into office. Dozens of constituencies had been won by promises under the conscription act.

LABOR LEADERS CHARGED WITH TRUST BREACH

Officials of Toronto Trades
Council To Go Before
Labor Court.

BRIBED BY EMPLOYERS

Alleged To Have Accepted
Money From Employers' Association.

TORONTO, Aug. 7.—Arthur O'Leary, late president of the Toronto district trades and labor council, and W. J. Hevey, secretary until he was recently defeated, will be called before a labor court to answer charges which have been preferred against them of accepting money from the metal trades branch of the employers' association. The charge was made this evening at a meeting of the metal trades council, which recently elected officers were installed.

It is alleged that Messrs. O'Leary and Hevey attended a meeting of the metal trades employers shortly after the strike of May 1 to effect a settlement of the dispute, and that during the meeting they agreed to accept $5,000 from the association to withdraw their paper in opposition to the Industrial Union, the recognized mouthpiece of the metal trades council. The Industrial Union Brigadier-General Gurn is mentioned in the charges as having taken an interest in the proceedings by offering a uniform as general officer commanding the district.

The paper which has been established is known as the Labor Leader. Messrs. O'Leary and Hevey denied the charges preferred against them. In view of the nature of allegations they have to appear before a court appointed under the constitution of the central labor body.

LITTLE CHANGE IN LABOR SITUATION IN GREAT BRITAIN

Railway Situation Becoming More Normal.

LONDON, Aug. 7.—(By the Associated Press).—There is virtually no change to the labor situation tonight. The strikes of bakers and dockworkers are still unsettled, but the railway position in London is resuming its normal condition. The situation in Liverpool is greatly improved, but the tramway strike continues, and there is great scarcity of bread.

It was announced in the House of Commons today that for the week ending July 26, the coal output was nearly 50 per cent under the previous average. Other interesting announcements in Parliament were that the Government was preparing a bill for future regulation of the liquor trade and also that in a few exceptional cases Germans were being admitted to England to trade under close scrutiny.

No indication as to the contents of the bill with regard to the liquor trade was given.

In the east end of London, where the bread shortage is most acute, queues formed this morning outside the independent bakeries, but were mostly disappointed, for the bakers, after working continuously for thirty hours, played signs reading "closed for the day of rest." A rush was made for a shop where a notice appeared that another batch of bread would be ready in the afternoon.

The strike on the Southwestern Railway and in the South London tube were virtually ended.

BUILDING COSTS MAY STOP ERECTION OF SANDWICH SCHOOL

WINDSOR, Aug. 7.—The high cost of building materials may prevent the construction of a new four-room school in Sandwich. A special meeting of the school board has been called to consider the bids for construction, which are nearly twice the amount spent in the construction of the eight-room General Brock School three years ago. The bids reach almost $90,000 for the completed structure, while the General Brock School cost $50,000.

MANAGE ESTATE.

The rich estate of the late William H. Yawkey, left by the former owner of the Detroit Baseball Club to his adopted son, who he bequeathed the Sandwich real estate holdings are concerned, by Ald. P. J. England of this city. The Sandwich holdings are estimated to be worth approximately $2,000,000.

Mr. England, who has been associated with a local real estate firm, announced his withdrawal from the partnership today to take over the active management of his new assignment.

German Airplanes Are Ruled Out of International Race

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—Three German Fokker type airplanes, which were to have been piloted by Canadian and American army officers in the international flying contest between New York and Toronto on August 25, have been ruled out.

The planes, which are trophies of war, surrendered to the British and American armies, were originally entered, according to a statement by the flying club, to demonstrate the superiority of Allied models over the best type of German machine, but when a vigorous protest was entered by Captain Bose, of the French high commission, against what he termed the "advertisement of German-made goods" the club immediately cancelled the entries.

It is understood that Captain Bose has called the French Government for permission to enter three French machines in place of the Fokkers.

CLAIMS DEFENDANT THREW BRICKS AT WINDOWS AT NIGHT

KITCHENER, Aug. 7.—Charles Bernosky was charged in police court this morning with damaging the property of Miss Allen of the Allen Palms. The complainant alleged that Bernosky threw bricks through the windows of her sleeping apartment in the small hours of the morning. The defendant claims he can prove an alibi, and the case had been adjourned to give him an opportunity to produce witnesses.

DEATH OF W. BERGES.

The death of Wilfrid I. Berges, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Berges of Waterloo, occurred today. Besides his parents, he is survived by four sisters and one brother.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

THE LOCAL MARKET

Hay is advancing steadily in price on the market. The present prices are $20 to $24 per ton. The reason for this is the failure of the farmers to bring their product to the city. Some of the farmers holding their hay in the barns because of the situation in the west. They expect that the price will be considerably higher before winter.

Eggs are a little higher in price, selling at 52 cents to 55 cents, retail, and 50 cents, wholesale.

Tomatoes are easier, bringing $1.40 to $1.50 per basket.

The high quotation of straw is $1 above yesterday's price, while the low quotation remains the same. The price of plums are being offered at 75 to 90 cents for a six-quart basket.

Wednesday's live hog price was $23.75, but it is expected that this will drop soon.

Chicago, Aug. 8.—There was practically no trading in live stock here today. Even before the beginning of the strike in the stock yard establishments, the buyers for the packing houses held off awaiting developments as to the labor situation. Business was further hampered by the uncertainty of shippers as to whether any railroad outlet for purchases here would be available. State troops were withdrawn from the plants and mobilized in Dexter pavilion, near the entrance of the stock yards to be held ready for emergency duty. More than 1,000 policemen and deputy sheriffs remained on duty in the various plants. While the thousands of white employees were walking out, a large number of negro men and women applied for employment.

Officers of the stock yards labor council said that about 12,000 negroes have been employed by the different packers in Chicago, and that of the number 3,000 are union men who walked out with the white workers.

WALL STREET.

New York, Aug. 8.—(Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.)—Many substantial recoveries from yesterday's extreme depression accompanied the initial dealings on the stock exchange today. U. S. Rubber yesterday's most erratic feature led the rally, advancing 6 1/2 points in the first fifteen minutes, as a result of its having been placed on an eight per cent dividend basis. Central Leather, Bethlehem, Crucible and U. S. Steel, Baldwin Locomotive and Atlantic Gulf comprised the other strong stocks. Rails were reactionary, however, and American Tobacco lost 7 points. Lorillard Tobacco dropped 5 points.

Noon.—About half a million shares changed hands in the first hour, the result as indicated by the tape showing an excess of purchases over sales. Trading slackened after, when gains among leaders, notably United States Rubber, were materially reduced, and the market was extremely uncertain. American Car rising 3 1/2 points, while Baldwin reacted, shipping lost ground and rails were under further pressure. Selling in heavy volume was resumed at noon, with new low records for important stocks. Call money opened at 5 to 5 1/2 per cent.

MONEY

London, Aug. 8.—Closing: Money, 2 1/2 per cent; discount rates, short bills, 3 1/2 to 3 3/4 per cent; three months bills, 3 1/2 to 3 3/4 per cent; gold premiums, at London, 110.

There will be a big parade to Queen's Park, where the speeches will be made. The "Great War Veterans" Band will also be present.

WELL-KNOWN AUTHOR DIES.

New York, Aug. 8.—William Nathaniel Hansen, author of "The Boy in the Yellow Suit," died at his home here last night after a brief illness. Mr. Hansen was born in Dalton, Georgia, in 1858.

Locusts Trouble Fishermen at Duart

DUART, Aug. 7.—Koehler Brothers, fishermen at Port Clearville, report in lifting their nets today. To have found five nets, and also about ten acres of the lake's surface about the nets. Literally covered with locusts. The insects were in millions, and swarmed on the nets and stakes in such dense clusters that they had to be swept off before the nets could be lifted. Apparently the locusts were migrating, and flying across the lake, which are several miles out, sought them out as a resting place. The fishermen state that the experience was new to them, and that had the locusts lit in a ten-acre field the vegetation therein would have disappeared in short order.

WIFE SUPPORTS HIM BUT HUSBAND LAYS CHARGE OF BIGAMY

Brantford Court Dismisses Case—New Factory For Industries.

BRANTFORD, Aug. 7.—Roy Brown, Drummond street, charged his wife in the police court here today with bigamy. The evidence showed that the wife had married a man named Ferris, residing in England, but it was shown that Ferris had had a wife when his marriage was contracted. Accordingly, a dismissal was entered. Brown's wife had been supporting him up until recently and the Magistrate commented on the lack of chivalry in referring the charge against her.

LONG MOTOR TRIP.

Completing a motor trip from Regina, J. E. Doerr and family, accompanied by his brother, F. Doerr, have arrived in the city. The trip took eleven days of steady running. They are visiting Mr. Doerr's sister, Mrs. Jezzard, and other relatives.

LAYS OFF MEN.

Owing to the poor condition of the western crop and other reasons which have decreased the output of their product, the Macdonald Thresher Company has found it necessary to lay off about 25 employees. Notice to this effect was given the men yesterday and goes into effect Saturday.

BINNEY—LISTMAN.

A pretty wedding took place at noon today when Catherine L. Listman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Listman, R. R. No. 5, Stratford, was united in marriage to Walter T. Binney, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Binney of Kansas City, Mo. The bride was formerly superintendent of the obstetrical department of the general hospital at Madison, Wis., and the groom is a plant pathologist. They will reside in Chicago.

ENUMERATORS DONE.

The enumerators for Brantford riding have finished their work and the huge total of 16,741 voters has been registered, of which 14,732 are resident in the city and the remainder in the township. In one division in the city 757 voters were registered and Chief Enumerator Andrews is forwarding at once the returns from this riding.
