Kent County Players Will Meet the Crack English in a Splendid Contest.

Sir Chas. Kirkpatrick Captains the Tourists-Baron Von Beiffenstein will Referee Game -- Applications for Team Positions

The Englishmen who are cantained by Sir Charles Kirkpatrick, of Closeburn, Dumfriesshire, are being entertained for two days in Detroit, and it has been decided to present two splendid exhibition matches at Bennett Park-one with the Detroit, Sandwich and Windsor teams; the other with a team selected from Kent County-after which the Englishmen are to be banquetted by the Peninsular League. The honor and privilege of meeting

The honor and privilege of meeting this magnificent English eleven, which contains Vivian Woodward, reputed to be the finest centre forward living, will be keenly appreciated by Kent County players and scores of football enthusiasts will accompany the team to see the Englishmen play. Meantime it is essential that the very best team obtainable shall be selected to represent Kent in this international game, and for this purpose it is hoped all players desirous of the honor of taking part in the game shall start practice at their earliest opportunity. All players desiring to compete for positions on the team will kindly forward their names and addresses with that of the club with which they are identified to The Planet, addressed to the sporting editor and marked "International Football Contest." These applications will be turned over to the committee which has been appointed to pick the Kent County team, and the eleven will be chosen at the earliest opportunity and practice matches are ranged to put them in the best of opportunity and practice matches ar-ranged to put them in the best. of condition. A special rate to Detroit will be arranged in order that all en-

Sir Charles is a versatile player who has earned high honors at the game; indeed, he is good at almost anything in the way of athletics. Sir Charles Sharpe Kitkpatrick, of Closeburn, Dumfriesshire, represents the main line of the family to which the Empress Rugenie belongs. The old mansion of Closeburn, built by the first baronet — the creation dates from 1685 — was burned to the ground through the carelessness of drunken servants in 1748. Sir Charles was born in 1874 and resides at Forest Hill. He is a big fellow with a genial smile and puts a terrible amount of weight into the ball every time his foot comes into contact with it. and Australia included, but not America.

The Pilgrims is a name that was very famous in the early days of Association football in England thirty years ago, and the revival of the fille has given much pleasure to a large number of enthusiasts in the country. The chief secretary of the Pilgrims club is Mr. Fred Milnes, of Sheffield. Mr. Milnes plays regularly for the league team of Sheffield United — a club that has won the football association cup more than once—and he is regarded as one of the finest full backs in the country. Mr. Milnes is in business with his father as an ironfounder at Owleston, near Sheffield. He is a fair-haired young fellow of splendid physique, and so fond is he of the game that he bas been known to play six strenuous matches in as many days.

The star player of the team is Vivana J. Woodward, of the Tottenham Hotspur club, London. Woodward is by far and away the best centre forward in England at the present time; indeed, it is doubtful if there has ever been a better. Woodward is a very graceful and yet a very tricky player. He has had all the highest honots bestowed upon him by his country. He has played against/ Soriand, Ireland and Wales, and has only hoce been on th closing side. Merr Report Additions and Employers Say Relief is in Sight.

Chicago, Sept. 1.—The strike of the printers against members of the Chicago Typothetae was practically made complete yesterday. Officials of the Typographical Union declared that the only important members of the Employing Printers' organization operating with union compositors had promised to remain neutral in the strusgle. Eight of the large shops are said to have arranged such a truce with the union. Four concerns, in addition to those previously affected, became involved in the fight over hight, and their union compositors falled to report for duty yesterday.

The other side of the situation was presented by Secretary E. F. Hamm of the Employing Printers' organization. "Employers in this controversy feel confident of success," said Secretary Hamm, "At present we have 135 monunion printers at work in the plants the union thought to the up and cripple completely. There are more men on their way to Chicago from outside places, and it will not be long before the strike will coase to affect the Chicago Typothetae members."

THE GENTLER SEX.

Says the Hamilton Spectator :-A woman will scream at the sight of a mouse and climb upon a chair to get away from it, and some are so sensitive as to faint upon the slightest provocation, but in an emergency they show the calmness, courage and heroism that means the accomplishment of great deeds. The daily newspapers tell of heroic acts on the part of the gentler sex that would put to blush the average man The other day the story was told of a woman who, at the point of a pistol, frightened a burglar off the premises. She went at it as if it was the most natural thing for her to do. A man with his clumsy wits would have made a great fuss about it; and somebody would have been hurt; and it would not have been the burglar, for they are always on the defensive. But the ready-witted woman went at it coolly, while at the same time her heart may have been beating the long roll. frightened the thief out of the house without any blood being shed, and then quietly fainted when the excitement was over. It all happened in the most matter-of-fact way, and demonstrates the fact that when it comes to the fine point the average woman can show more shrewdness and tact than nine men out of ten Women are queer combinations of gentleness and severity, of weakness and strength. Inured from childhood almost to pains and suffering, and the caring for others in sickness and trouble, they bear it all with a fortitude a s durance that men would never show under like circumstances. And yet women will worry and fret all day over some trivial thing that men would not bother their heads about. They will bear pain like martyrs,, or put up with some miserable toot of a husband, but if they are compelled to wear their last summer's gowns there is a rumpus in the household at once. What is life to a woman who has to wear a last year's skirt or shirt waist, with the fashion and styles changing every sixty days? What pleasure can Mrs. Jones have in a gospel sermon when in the pew in front of her sits Mrs. Joblins wearing a hat that is a milliner's dream, while she, poor soul, has had but two hats since easter? A man would accept the situation philosophically and wear a stove-pipe hat like unto that the cartoonist pictures Uncle Sam as wearing, but that is not a woman's way. She never stops to reason. If she does she either draws correct inferences from wrong premises, or wrong inferences from correct premises. She always pokes the fire from the top and sits down on the floor to put her stockings on. But with all her faults and contrasting characteristics we love her and cherish her; and, when you come to think of it, it would puzzle man to keep house without her.

the large increase in the controllable expenditure of the Dominion, and we demand the strictest economy in the administration of the Government of the country."

It is still more interesting to discover that the person who moved the 'view with alarm" resolution was Mr. Fielding, the chief treasury raider.

WOMAN AT HER WORST. Harry Furniss.

In every sense the most objectionable dress ever worn by English women was that of the early sixties. I defy any lady to appear refined in the correct fashions of that period. I was just old enough to look at them in picture books and gaze in my perambulator at the common objects of fashion with infantile astonishment The hair stuck out at the back of the head, as a chignon or bun (really re-

TELEPHONE TALKS.

A witness made the statement before the Parliamentary Special Committee that, "It is an undoubted fact that municipal telephony is rapidly gaining ground in Great

An Act was passed by the British Parliament in 1899 which enabled municipalities to provide telephone service. In six years just six municipal telephone plants have been established and one of these has sold out its plant to the National Telephone Company under an agreement which permitted the company to increase the rate charged by the municipality by about fifty per cent.

Of the municipal exchanges in Great Britain, Glasgow is invariably cited as the most successful. In fact the representative of Glasgow corporation who gave evidence before the Special Committee stated that theirs was really the only opposition which the National Company has in the Kingdom.

The telephone situation in Glasgow can be summed up in two statements which are indisputable. Add together the number of subscribers to both the municipal exchange and the National Company's exchange (including the duplicate services of 5000) serving a population of 1,200,000, the two services combined have a telephone per 35 of the population. In Canada the Bell Telephone Company has in Montreal and suburbs, one telephone per 22 of the population; Toronto and suburbs, one telephone per 17; Winnipeg, one per 11; and in thirty-one cities and towns of over 7,000 population we have an average of one per 21 of the population. The municipal telephone in Glasgow after three years' operation has only one telephone to about 100 of the population served, and they are now practically at a standstill. No such meagre service exists in Canada.

The Municipal Telephone in Glasgow has a flat rate of £5 5s. for both Office and Residence. The National Company has a flat rate of £10 for both Office and Residence. Both systems have also a limited service rate. After three years of the most determined competition, the Municipal Service has less than 13,000 subscribers and is increasing only about 80 or 100 per month, while the National Company has over 21,000 subscribers, and is increasing at the rate of 500 to 600 per month. Of the 13,000 subscribers to the municipal exchange, at least 5,000 have the National Company's service as well. This result is in the face of the utmost obstruction of the National Company in its operations by the City Council of Glasgow, which has refused the National Telephone Company the use of any of the streets in the city.

A SUGGESTION

An Enterprising Citizen has some Words of Advice in Reference to the Electric Light Service.

Whenever you catch a whiff of gasolene you will generally find an automobile if your eyes are sharp enough to see it as it goes past; and enough to see it as it goes past; and so it is with complaints—if everyone is complaining about something, quite often you will find that deep down at the bottom of it all there is something that should be remedied.

Just at present, in Chatham, the complaints of the citizens seem to be centred on the Electric Light Plant, and if unity of opinion can be taken as a means for ascertaining the true state of affairs, Chatham is experiencing a very poor electric light service.

It is interesting to find that the Liberal convention of 1893 passed the following resolution:

"It is almost impossible to pick up a local paper without finding in it some complaint about lights," said the last citizen who spoke on this matter to The Planet. "In nearly every case I have no doubt the com-matter to The Planet, "In nearly every case I have no doubt the complaint is justifiable but no remedies are suggested.

"Now, I understand there are three circuits in Chatham for three dynamos and one of these dynamos is at present out of order; and I also understand the Council is ordering 25 new lamps to be put on the streets to replace those that are worn out. Why do they not, instead, commence installing an up-to-date incandescent are lamp street service by purchasing one alternating current dynamo for one of the three circuits and then later on—say next year—purchase another, and in three years' time Chatham could have a modern street lighting service such as are seen in cities of importance, and the cost would not have to be borne all at one time, "This matter is at least worth seen."

"This matter is at least worth consideration from the civic aldermen."

Mr. G. W. Fowler, of Hightower, Ala, relates an experience he had while serving on a petit jury in a murder case at Edwardsville, county seat of Clebourne county Ala, He says—'While there I ate some fresh meat and some souse meat and it gave me cholera morbous in a very severe form. I was never more sick in my life and sent to the drug store for a certain cholera mixture, but the druggist sent me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy instead, saying that he had what I sent for, but that this medicine was so much better he would rather send it to me in the fix I was in. I took one dose of it and was better in five minutes. The second dose cured me entirely. Two tellow jurors were afflicted in the same manner, and one twenty-five cent bottle cured the three of us." BLOOD CELLS.

Man is a millionaire many times over in the possession of blood cells. The normal cell is not absolutely round in health, but, in disease, becomes extremely irregular in shape. Every one can be in perfect health and possess the millions of rich red blood corpuscles if they only know how to go about it. Dr. R. V. Pierce, consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y., advises every man and woman to prepare for a long life by observing nature's laws. In the first place, if your digestion is faulty, and the food you eat is not taken up by the blood and assimilated properly, you need a tonic and digestive corrector, something that will increase the red blood corpuscles; he believes in going about this in nature's own way, Years ago, in his active practice, he found that an alterative extract of certain herbs and roots, put up without the use of alcohol, would put the liver, lungs and heart into fuller and more complete action. This medicine he called Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. By assimilating the food caten, it mourishes the blood, and, instead of the ill-shaped corpuscles, the person's blood takes on a rich red color and the corpuscles are more nearly round. SUMMER FANCIES.

Fashions and Fads In Gowns, Milli-

Rainbow effects are a distinctive feature in thin gowns meant for summer evening wear. To secure this pretty touch cover the taffeta foundation of the gown with two or three overdresses of sheer material in different colors. White or pastel tinted gowns intended for dancing show the rainbow coloring only at the foot. The taffeta drop skirt is finished with a flounce made of three layers of tulle or chiffon, each ruched at the foot with a different color. The colors used are lemon, pink, pale apple green, light blue and violet.

A riot of color that distinguishes this season's millinery calls for skillful arrangement to successfully balance upon a single hat lilac, jack roses, American beauties, wistaria and their respective foliage, with its many tones of green. When successful the result of green. When successful, the result is beautiful and bears at the same time the unmistakable but often elu sive stamp of smartness. Equally smart and less liable to disastrous combination is the blending of different color tones of the same flower. Sweet peas, roses, geraniums and poppies serve this purpose best.

Too much praise cannot be given to the shirring cord ribbons for trimming. They are in great vogue and come in several widths in gauzes and silk. Equally convenient are narrow ribbon a. m., when, if it could have been observed in old Ontario, the sun had 77 per cent. of its surface obscured by the moon. Valenciennes laces, whether all overs or laces by the yard, are among the smartest choices for the whole or a part of our gowns, and so they are for slightly noticeable darkness for some time after sunrise, no evidence of the eclipse was manifest. At Washington it was seen for a short time and was observed with interest at the United States Naval Observatory, and by many amateur astronomers. The sun there was never obscured to the extent of more than six-tenths of its diameter, and the obscuration attained its maximum at 6.30 All the season's footgear is very attractive. The walking pump illustrated is of fine white canvas with a square ribbon bow.-Vogue.

One Green and One Starchy.

Potatoes may be served with beef, and at the same time either spinach or stewed cabbage or asparagus, cauli-flower, corn, squash, stewed cucumbers. Rice may be served with veal, mutton and poultry, and with it peas, lima beans, young string beans, cauliflower, asparagus. The idea is to serve one starchy and one green vegetable at each meal and have those that are in keeping. Turnips with cream may be served with mutton and rice; they may also be served with beef.

Decoration In Colonial Style. In handsome country houses a dainty scheme of decoration adopts the colo-nial style with papers in old rose tint and silver, palest robins' egg blue with white, pale yellows and other delicate tones which harmonize with the woodwork and high colonial mantels with shaded tiles. The walls are finished with a deep frieze and ceilings tinted.

Fruit Frappes.
Fruit frappes are fruit juices diluted with water, then sweetened and the compound half frozen until it is like wet snow.

MLLE. AGAFVA SIMBIRSKI.

Russian Heroine of the Wildest Love Romance on Record.

The Kaluga newspapers report the death and amazing burial of Mile. Agafva Simbirski, one of the richest and most eccentric women in Russia. When only 20 years of age Mile. Simbirski, by the death of her father, became possessed of a fortune of nearly three million roubles. Suitors innumerable sought her hand, but the numerable sought her hand, but the enormously wealthy girl set her affections on an ugly, red-haired gardener, Andrel Vanukhin by name. Furious at her choice, Mile. Simbirski' brother ordered Vanukhin to leave the neighborhood. The gardener refused. Within a week he was found lying dead in a paddock reserved for the use of "a half-tame wild boar." Although an evident case of murder, the the use of a nair-tame wild ober. At-though an evident case of murder, the family hushed things up, alleging that Vanukhin had been killed by the pig, which he well knew to be dangerous. Contrary to expectation Mile. Simbir-Contrary to expectation Mile. Simbirski appeared to accept the explanation. But the joy of her family was turned to despair when the young lady proclaimed her belief that the spirit of her dead lover had entered into the body of his slayer. From that day forth Mile. Simbirski consecrated her life to the evil-smelling hog.

To her order a firm of St. Petersburg contractors bullt a palatial "sty" of granite and snow-white marble. A lady missionary who has spent some years in India and whose work is particularly concerned with an orphanage in Calcutta has given an account of the way in which marriages are arranged in India. She refers to the marriages between the girls in the orphanages and the young Christian men of the neighborhood and says that scarcely a week passed without the managers of the institution being petitioned by some

The demented lady retained the service of an expert cook, who thrice daily prepared a sumptuous repast for the benefit of the grunting porker. Mile. Simbirski was accustomed to feed the hog with her own fair hands, and only recently ordered a gorgeous silver trough from a well-known Mos-a wife.

"Of course we never induce a girl to get married if she does not feel inclined that way," said the missionary, "but the majority of them are perfectly willing, and oftentimes we are petitioned by some girl to let her have the next chance. The choice between the girls rests with us, not the young men, for if the suitors were permitted to meet the girls at the orphanage and make cow manufacturer. cow manufacturer.

Again there were rumors of

Silent, Smiling Prisoner Refuses to Talk in Cattle Stealing Case-Offered King's Evidence

Crown Baffled and Spinx-Like Prisoner Declines Assistance-Organized Gang Said to be at Work

Is the sphinx-like, silent, eversmiling young man, whom the authorities know only as Robert J. or Henry Fletcher a blind standing between justice and as skilled and daring a confederacy of cattle thieves as ever infested this county?

Such is the problem which confronts the crown in the case of the man in question who was this morning committed for trial by Judge Houston in County Court, on the charge of stealing fifteen head of cattle from John Cochrane, of Ridgetown, the Liberal nominee for East Kent, at the recent Provincial elec-

Ever since his arrest nearly month ago the Crown has been zealously at work upon the case. Provincial Detective Rogers has devoted all his energies to it; the police and all his energies to it; the police and constabulary of three counties have been busy upon it, but beyond the tighter binding of the links which connect Miller with guilt, they have been completely baffled. That the Crown are aware of five participants is well known; Mr. Cochrane avowed to The Planet this morning that three of them had been seen, and Crown Attorney Smith frankly refuses to deny that the investigation shows the robbery to have been the work of an organized gang, and that snows the robbery to have been the work of an organized gang, and that the Crown is utterly at sea as to Miller's confederates.

Efforts to question Miller, or to discuss the case with him, have met discuss the case with him, have met with a quiet and always-smiling rebuff. "I am sorry, but I cannot discuss the case with you," was the pleasantly spoken and soft response to Detective Rogers' efforts — and there the matter ended. Rogers then tried another tack and hinted to counsel for defense concerning the happy results to Miller on turning King's evidence. But the same smile and the same silence obtained. The one man who is apparently in the confidence of the prisoner is his counsel, O. L. Lewis, and Mr. Lewis gave the public the first glimpse of the predicament of the crown, when he significantly commented at the conclusion of the case, that it was after all, very dissappointing to the prosecution to rest their case against the came against the commence of the theory of the prosecution to rest their case against prosecution to rest their case against the one man only. That the evidence against Miller appears to be damning there is no doubt. Will he remain stubbornly silent and loyal to his confederates-a martyr to the main stubbornly silent and loyal to his confederates—a martyr to the consequences?

The evidence against him this morning seemed very complete. His progress from Chatham to Muirkirk with another mysterious man was traced. Then his shipment of the cattle from Glanworth to Caledonia. His sale of them for $875 to a London butcher and his subsequent arrest with the cattle at Brantford formed a strong chain which it will be difficult to break. The witnesses were J. A. McCallum, John Cochrane, Thomas McCallum, John Cochrane, Thomas McCallum, John Cochrane, Thomas McCallum, John Cochrane, Thomas decallum, John Cochrane, Thomas decallum, John Cochrane, Thomas decallum, John Cochrane, Thomas McCallum, Patrick A. Collins, W. D. McKellar, Clarence Wilson, G. T. Turnbull and Robert C. Fisher, and although Mr. Lewis put each and every one through a rigid cross-examination he was unable to shake the strength of their corroborative testimony.

At the conclusion Miller bade, them all good-bye. "I have no hard feelings," he said, "you all told the truth except McKellar, who stretched things a bit and wasn't quite fair or

The C. L. A. executive met last night. The protest of Chatham against Brantford was withdrawn. Consequently, Brantford gets the series and goes up against either Peterboro or Toronto Junction in the finals for the invited of the control of the co

The action of the locals in withdrawing is the result of mature consideration. The task of keeping up a team is a very expensive one and the preparing of material for a protest is also very costly. In addition to this the evidence against Brantford was very slight. Well, we can't always win.

THE GRAND PARADA

The Attraction of the Day.— All Quebec seemed to flock to the Parada last right, notwithstanding the wreethed weather and the disturbing influence of election excitement. In fact the interest and enthusiam in this excellent spectacular production far from being on the wane, is on the increase. From the clergy of the city, many of whom have attended, down to the bald heads in the front rows, all thoroughly endorse the performance and are loud in its praises. Apart from the beauty and attractiveness of the costumes and attractiveness of the costumes and attractiveness of the very excellent music and dancing alone is worth the price of admission. Anyone who misses the show now will regret it later on, so all have due notice that the yshould attend. The most refined tastes unhesitatingly declare that nothing prettier or more fetching could be seen.—Quebec Morning Chronicle.

Taken altogether, "Parada" is all that is claimed for it—one of the best medleys of light opera ever placed on the American stage. The greatest prudes can find no fault and those of refined tastes declare it excellent.

Parada will be given all next week at the Grand under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid of the General Hospital,. Tickets on sale at Brisco's.

A TALK ON FOOD. In the Interest of the New House

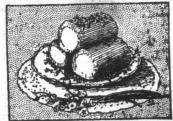

The two mistakes into which the new ousekeeper is most often led are un derfeeding and overfeeding, says Jane M. Hill in the Boston Cooking School Magazine. There are so many things wishes to have in her new home that the allowance for food is often drawn upon to supply things more highly prized, and the items for food are restricted to whatever is cheap regardless of its composition, Starch the principal compound in cheap foods. But there are individuals whose digesorgans are not tolerant of starch, and they are just as intolerant to fat if it be presented as a steady diet. In the main, the dietary of such individuals needs to include plainly cooked fresh meat and fish, with green vege-tables, while fancy breads, cereals and sweets in the form of pastry, puddings and cakes are to be avoided. and cakes are to be avoided except on rare occasions.

Bulk Needed In Food, On the other hand, many a nev keeper thinks meat, fish and possibly eggs the only articles having any rable nutritive value and consequently the only articles to be con sidered in eating to live. The idea that bulk is needed to insure the best digestive action is undreamed of by them, or, if considered at all, they think it is secured by these same nutritious articles rather than by bread with green and starchy vegetables. The normal stomach can digest a little of any kind of food, and health will be better if monontony in selection be avoided. But these and other matters of like import are easily worked out provided the desire be present to choose food in accordance with the laws of dietetics. Left Overs

In families of two it is often advisable even during the summer to prepare enough of certain articles of food for two or more meals at one and the same time, but in general the best results are obtained both as regards palatability and digestibility if just enough of each article be prepared for the Why bake three notatoes when only two are eaten? Why buy and cook six chops when four are just enough? Plan to have everything so perfect that every morsel will be eaten and nothing thrown away. If vegetables be left over and are to be used in salads, wait until the heat has left them, then cover securely and plan for an early reappearance of table. Serve cold meat, cut in the mixture is set away until cold. This cooking of half of the cream insures a finer texture and more thor ough mixture of the sugar than if made without it. If more than one freezer is available, the mixture, after being flavored with vanilla, can be divided into thirds, two of the quantities being colored yellow and pink. portion is then frezen and packed in a round mold or a pound baking pow der can and packed in ice and salt until very solid. For serving pile them on a lace paper dolly and pour over a part of the sauce, using the remainder to add to each saucer as served. To make the sauce, boil together two cup fuls of heavy maple sirup and one-half of a cupful of thin cream or rich milk until a little, when tested in cold water, can be rolled to a soft ball between thumb and fingers. Take from the fire, add one-half of a cupful of chopped almonds or English walnuts and send at once to the table. The hot sauce will candy as it is poured over the ice

For a Wholesome Skin.

Hard pimples that show no sign of breaking often appear on the skin.

These come from the skin. These come from an unwholesome state of the system and from lack of proper attention to the skin. Too many peo-ple think that a cold tub is all that is needed to keep the skin in order, but a warm bath should frequently be taken, especially when living in a town. A Turkish bath is excellent to open the pores of the skin and so rid the face of these hard pimples. The constant use of a well soaped loofah on the body is also advised. Strong spirit and water in equal parts may also be used to bathe the skin with. As to diet, all stimulants, rich hot foods, coffee and pastry must be given up. Salads of water cress, dandelion or lettuce should be eaten often and green vegetables and fruit taken with every meal. Sleep in a room with plenty of fresh air in it and keep early and regular hours, concludes a skin

"And this is a real cipher?" asked Jessie Ludlam.

"You could run an entire conspiracy on that very machine," declared Frank Keeler, eying the typewriter. "How does it work?" she demanded all excitement. "It's very easy," he explained, "if you know how. You see, I hit the 'a' and it prints 'q.' If I hit the 'q' it 'Yes, I see that," she cried, "but how do I use it?"

"Suppose," he explained, "you get letter from me that reads 'Vokk ngx ug zg zit zitqzst,' you take it to your achine and write it off. Now, what do you have?" sie clicked the keys for a moment and lifted the carriage with a cry. "It says 'Will you go to the theater with me?" she laughed. "The keys print wrong." 'Exactly," he agreed, "and I have the same sort of a machine, so that

It cures the condition cipher, but when I copy your letters which causes so much discomfort and they come out in English. "It's going to be such fun," laughed "I shall have to write you every day." Frank smiled. Jessie must be singularly lacking in shrewdness if she sup medical science. It ethes the contribute which causes so much discomfort and robs menstruation of its terrors.

Ellen Walby, of Wellington Hotel, Ottawa, Ont., writes:
Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—
"Your Vegetable Compound was recommended to me to take for the intense suffering which I endured every month and with which I had been a sufferer for many years getting no relief from the many prescriptions which were prescribed, until, finally becoming discouraged with doctors and their medicines I determined to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am glad that I did, for within a short time I began to mend and in an incredible short space of time the flow was regular, natural and without pain. This seems too good to be true and I am indeed a grateful and happy woman."

Women who are troubled with painful or irregular menstruation, should take prompt action to ward off serions consequences, and be restored to perfect health and strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and then write to Mrs Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for further free advice. Thousands have been cured by so doing. posed that he had had the typewriter machines changed for any other reason than that he knew that it would induce her to write every day. In some odd fashion Jessie had be come absorbed in the study of ciphers and codes. She made a hobby of the fad, and Frank was quick to see the advantage it gave him.

He was not altogether welcome at the Ludlam house. His father and Jessie's had been old business enemies, and, since he could not call frequently, a letter was the next best thing. A type-writer in which she only had to write the words as they came to her to have them turned out in cipher was an attraction not to be lightly regarded, and Keeler had reason to congratulate himself upon his shrewdness when every day five and six page letters came to him, an odd jumble of characters which needed only copying upon his duplicate

There were no loving messages, just a girl's chat, for Frank had not yet made his hoped for strike in Wall street and had not spoken. But even the commonplace recital of the inci-dents of her daily life pleased him, and if his letters gradually assumed a warmer tone he could not be blamed.

The novelty of the correspondence kept it alive even when Frank began to grow interested in the railroad market. Several small roads were about to be merged into one larger company. Each in its separate existence did not amount to much. As a trunk line the combina-tion would be important.

Just a whisper had come to him of the merger, but he was alive to the importance of the movement, and he knew that could he only foresee which of the feeder lines were to be taken into the combination and which were to be left outside he would be able, with very little risk, to make his fortune from the market.

John Ludlam was behind the move ment somewhere, and were he so in clined he could put thousands of dol-lars Frank's way. Instead he had more than once sought to lead Frank wrong, even sending his confidential man with small commissions in the hope that he had inside information and so act upon it himself.

The first time Frank had argued with himself that it was wrong to profit by this information, since it was not his own, but a client's, and afterward he had been glad he had done so, because the market would have gone against him. This had shown him the trap,

It was for this reason that he was particularly careful when Job Cole came into his office with an order to buy up B. W. and G. stock at a low one of the stocks the combine was eeking to corner.

Cole was not only Ludlam's confi-dential man, but he was supposed to be the man Ludlam had picked out for a son-in-law, and as such Frank ubly disliked him.

Still he was courteous to the agent, and when Cole asked permission to use the typewriter his request was readily granted. .

"I did not know you could use machine," laughed Frank, as Cole sat down before the keyboard. "Certainly," smiled Cole. "Nothing like a clean impression, and it's been a great aid to me.

Frank turned back to his work and did not look up until an exclamation from Cole attracted his attention, Cole had the carriage raised and was regarding his work with disgust.

"What's the matter with this machine?" he demanded. Frank started.

Cole had used the machine with the changed type.
"That's one the boy broke and tried to fix," he laughed, unwilling to tell the real reason. "Try the next one." Cole crumpled the paper and threw it in the wastebasket and moved to the next machine. Scarcely had he left the room when Frank had the other sheet out of the wastebasket.

He simply had to copy the letter he found and translate the note into Eng-"Dear Mr. Ludlam," he read, "I have Keeler all right. He seems convinced that it is B. W. and G. we want and that will leave the market clear for the P. and S. we really need. That, with the B. and G. we have arranged for with Mason and the F. M. and R. from Richards, will give about all we need.

ting"- The letter stopped abruptly. Cole had found the machine at fault, but it told Frank enough. It is easy to get money in Wall street if one knows how, and by the next aft ernoon Frank was carrying several thousand shares.

Somehow the market grew stronger in those stocks, and within two days his operations showed a clear profit of $500,000 on the stock he had sold again, to say nothing of that which he retained. On the third day he sought Ludlam.

The manipulator was in no amiable mood, but he was gracious enough to Keeler.

"I suppose you want to clean up that B. W. and G.," he said shortly. "Cole has that matter in charge."

"No," said Frank evenly; "that goes to Cole. I have rounded up about a thousand shares. I could have bought nore; but, you see, I had a tip to buy other shares and could not give that commission much attention. I have here shares in stocks you actually want to the extent of $237,870. I want to sell them to you at the price I paid."

"Plus commission?" sneered Ludlam. "Plus commission," agreed Keeler.

'Jessie is the commission." For half a minute there was absolute silence in the office. Ludlam disliked Frank on account of his father, but to let the deal go now would mean the loss of a million. If Frank had been shrewd enough to get the secret of the deal he was not unworthy of his daughter. Ludlam reached for the stocks 'Two hundred and thirty-seven thousand eight hundred and seventy dollars plus commission. Ask Jessie."
But Frank thought it more in keeping

"Having a hard time to get along this winter?" asked an interested neigh-bor who came upon Mr. Gibbs sunning himself on the postoffice steps one cold day.

"Why, no," said Peter cheerfully. "I've got the promise of some wood sawing down to Mis' Rand's when I get round to it, and my wife she's got the promise of some washing when her rheumaticks are better, and my boy's most fifteen, and we expect he'll be teaching district school in two-three years, and Aunt Mary has just written 'at I can wait another year before paying her that six-fifty I've been under obligations for since she was here a few years back. Take it by and large, I'm feeling pretty forehanded."

"A" and "an" and "H." Do you use "a" or "an" before the aspirate? The London Chronicle, in discussing the matter, says that the Oxford "Rules For Compositor book of real authority, gives "an habitual," "an historical," whereas one says "a habit," "a history." It is a question of phonetic laziness, adds the Chronicle.

The "n" of the article is a mere step over the stile, and the stile is the aspirate at the beginning and the accent on the second syllable. A hotel is the crucial instance. With the ac-cent on the first syllable, that is right. But give the stress to the seco lable and you must say "an hotel." is a mere question of stress, accent, that later syllable. "A history" may be correct, but when there comes novel it must be "an historical novel," for you could not say the other thing without sneezing:

EAST BOUND ARE YOU LUUKING FOR A HAPPY MAN

If so Find One Who Has Used Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets and Can Now Eat and Enjoy Three Square Meals a Day.

Meals a Day.

Thrice happy is the man who can take three square meals a day and enjoy every one of them. But in these days of bad teeth and quick lunches, how many people can do this? Can you? If you can't it's your own fault.

Modern science has overcome the handicaps of bad teeth, quick eating and scan'ty saliva. It has provided Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets, the greatest help to the Stomach ever discovered. They contain the necessary ingredients for digestion; to put it in brief they digest the food while the Stomach rests and recuperates. That they are an easy and natural cure for all Stomach ailments anybody who has used them will tell you. Louis M. Boudreau, of St. Louise, N. B., says:

"I recommend anyone who suffers from Dyspepsia to use Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. I had it badly, and from Dyspepsia to use Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. I had it badly, and the doctors I consulted did me no good. Three boxes of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets cured me completely."

Was Due to Suffocation—Was Mixing
His Drinks Badly. Toronto, Aug. 31.—James Cooney of 413 West King street was arrested upon a charge of vagrancy yesterday morning, after the adjournment of the inquest held into the death of William Tomlinson. He cannot explain satisfactorily where he spent the interval between 10.30 Monday night, when he saw the body of the dead man, until Tuesday morning, when he was one of the two who discovered it. He said he slept on a lumber pile on Dufferin street, but this did not satisfy Chief Coroner Johnson, who is conducting the investigation.

Dr. A. G. Harrington states death was due to suffocation. By Tomlinson bending his neck in a posture similar to the one in which the man was last seen alive, the wind might have been cut off. One thing is certain about the case, and that is the deceased was not only drighting heavily. But he was also only drinking heavily, but he was mix-ing his drinks badly. The inquest was adjourned till Tuesday. Several Houses Burned. Quebec, Aug. 31.—The C. P. R. station at Yamachiche was burned down Tuesday night together with four or ave heuses. Insurance unknown,

TERRIBLE BACK PAINS.

They fairly agonize your life. Something powerful and penetrating is needed. Doctors knew mothing so swift to relieve as Nerviline, a strong penetrating liniment made to cure just such pains as gours. Nerviline is very concentrated, about four times more powerful than ordinary liniments. In the worst cases Polson's Nerviline is extraordinarily good. All muscular pain flees before it. Nearly fifty years in use—a good recommendation, surely.

ELECTIONS

FIGHTING TUBERCULOSIS.

How Hospitals Carry the War Into the Tenements

If made ten years ago the statement that tuberculosis, the scourge of the tenements, can be cured right in the surroundings where it is found at its worst would have been declared preposterous. As a matter of fact, though, since the announcement several years ago that uncomplicated pulmonary tuberculosis could be arrested by dispensary treatment forty-five actual cures have been effected at the New York Postgraduate Medical school and pospital alone, and thereby the poor have been visited by a new blessing. Fifty men and women are at present being treated at the dispensary rooms of the Postgraduate hospital, going early in the morning before work and again in the evening after the day's labors are over. These fifty represent every stage of the "great white plague," from the newcomer who is hoping almost against hope to the advanced patient whose lungs have already been found by the investigating committee to be "free from all signs of the disease." The patients must necessarily make a long and hard fight. They are frankly informed in the beginning as to the true state of their health, and then they are told that the success of the treatment depends in a large measure upon their fidelity to the directions given them. If they do not follow these directions they are dismissed.

The doctors at the Postgraduate hospital have successfully worked on the theory that pulmonary tubercu-losis is one of the many results of malnutrition. Consequently they aim to build up the body faster than the disease can tear it down and by restoring the bleed to its normal state deprive the germs of the disease of their chance to thrive. Two doses of emulsion of fats are administered to the patients every day at the dispen-sary, and the patients are required to consume at home large quantities of milk and eggs. The hospital authorities, believing that charity tends to pauperize, admit only those patients who can afford to pay for the food they must consume at home, but nothing is charged for the treatment at History In Dolls. There are many theories for the teaching of history, but a nation's his-tory displayed through successive periods by dolls is a novel idea that has just been realized in Paris by M. Leo Claretie, who, besides being an emi-nent educationist, is an ardent advo-cate of rendering education attractive: His system of the history of France in dressed dolls is to be placed on public exhibition as an object lesson in its capabilities. Even the prehistoric periods, whose life can only be known on the testimony of the rocks, are represented. Within the pale of history every page is represented by its lead ing figures, as Gaul, pre-Roman, Roman and Frankish. Then come the crusades, the English wars, the later middle ages, the early modern period and so on to the third republic .- Lon-

Acetylene Gas.
Acetylene gas is now used as an explosive. By means of an air mixture a force is obtained from it which can compete with that of powder and dynamite. Carbide of calcium is reduced to small particles and put into a tin box. In this the carbide lies at the bottom and above it is a partition filled with water. After the drill hole has been completed the cartridge is a wooden stopper. Then the partition is perforated by a blow from a pin and the water comes in contact with the carbide, whereby acetylene gas is generated. This mixes with the air of the drill hole. After five minutes the gas is ignited by an electric spark.

M. Berteaux, the French minister of war, is a man of resource. It rained the other day in Paris with remorseless fury. There was an exhibition of fencing which drew all Paris, and when it was over the ladies found the street turned into a lake. How were they to cross? All the military men, especially the engineers, were nonplused. Then the minister had an in-spiration. He sent some soldiers for chairs and a double line of these was made across the street like a pontoon Each distracted dame took the hand of a soldier and was conveyed over, the spectacle affording much gratification to the rest of the company.

Athletics In Japan.

Japanese students and schoolboys twenty years ago had no appreciation of athletics. They took too serious a of athletics. They took too serious a view of their duties to waste on games the time that might be devoted to studies, and they had to be driven by their early English professors and teachers into the playgrounds as though to a disagreeable task. Now they take a keen interest in rowing, lawn tennis and baseball, though crick et. with its long periods of enforced in activity, does not appeal to them.

Economical Japan. Japan's war department is econon data the wornout socks, stockings and other hosiery used by the troops in Manchuria are being sent back to Japan to be remade into knitting yarns. These are then given out to hosiery manufacturers and reknitted by machinery into underwear, which is resulpped to the seat of war.

Most of them paid him a certain sum down is advance to make sure of a lock of the great musician's hair. To the barber's horror Mme. Wagner su-perintended the cutting and when it was over appropriated the whole of the coveted locks. English Estates

It is considered strange that in England only one will disposing of as much as $5,000,000 had been filed during the financial year ending March 31. The average number of such wills has been between five and six. Thus in total of nearly $100,000,000; in 1901 eight estates, tetal value more than $50,000,000; in 1902 five estates with the same total; in 1903 five estates val-ued at $40,000,000, and in 1904 three estates valued at $25,600,000. Of twen-ty-four of the richest testators only one was under sixty years when he died, fourteen were over seventy and six more than eighty years. The average age was seventy-four and a half years. John Dawson, who left $3,500,-000, was ninety-nine years old. The Earl of Strathmore, aged seventy-nine years, left $4,751,000.

If this condition had come suddenly it would have been unbearable. But the transition was gradual. A little more strain each day on the nerves, A little more drain each day of the vitality. Progress Made in Drafting Treaty.

Portsmouth, N. H., Sept. 1.—Japan, through Baron Komura, has agreed to the immediate conclusion of an armistice. At 11 o'clock last night Mr. Takahira went to Baron de Rosen's room and explained that he and Baron Komura had seceived instructions to arrange terms of an armistice. Baron de Rosen immediately communicated with M. Witte, and it is probable that a meeting will be held this morning for the proclemation of a complete suppension of hostilities preliminary to the arrangements of the details by the two generals upon the battlefield.

Rapid progress was made yesterday in the drafting of the treaty of peace. Baron Komura, at M. Witte's request, will probably to-day fix a day for its signature.

So rapidly and well is Mr. de Mart-ens, with Mr. Dennison, performing his delicate and important task of draft-ing the treaty, that he was able to re-turn from the Navy Yard last night to report to M. Japan's original demands are said to have numbered 13. Only 12, however, were presented to the Russians, as President Roosevelt is credited with persuading the Japanese plenipotentiaries, before the convening of the conference to withdraw one of the con-

M. Witte is anxious to sail for home on September 12. In the meantime, he wishes to take leave of President Roosevelt and personally present the thanks of his Emperor for the Přesident's as-

The only difficulties which have thus far appeared, have been due to the ambiguous language of certain parts of the daily protocols which form the framework of the treaty.

FACTOR IN WORLD PEACE.

lew Anglo-Japanese Treaty Which Has Just Been Signed.

London, Sept. 1.—The report that an anglo-Japanese treaty was signed Aug. 12, by Foreign Secretary Lansdowne and Minister Hayashi, is confirmed

While secrecy is maintained for the present regarding the exact terms, it may be said that the document is of far-reaching importance. It affords mutual guarantees for the protection of British and Japanese interests, even if the two contracting powers are only threatened by a single hostile power, and assures the maintenance of the status quo in the far east.

The new treaty will be found to be a powerful factor in ensuring the peace of the world, at any rate so far as the far east is concerned.
