AMERICANA.

Old Newspaper.—The London Gazette, upwards of 160 numbers, for the years 1777-8-9. in 3 vols., sm. folio, boards, not quite consecutive, very rare, $4.75. 1

In these 3 vols. will be found numerous important dispatches from Sir Henry Clinton relative to the doings of the American army in the State of New York, Pennsylvania, Philadelphia; returns of the killed and wounded; also, royal proclamation to the inhabitants, etc. It also presents a view of the deplorable state of English law in those days as to imprisonment for debt.

Old Newspaper.—The London Chronicle; or, Universal Evening Post; upwards of 490 numbers, eight pages to each number, of this well known and scarce old London newspaper, between the years 1763 and 1779. They are bound in 14 vols., sm. folio, boards, and are nice and clean, $21.50. 2

There are hundreds of references to the English in America. The troubles with the Six Nations, the progress made in the various settlements, arrival and departure of ships, etc. One number gives us the preliminary articles of peace between Sir William Johnston and the Seneca Nation; another gives an account of Whitfield's farewell sermon, extracts from private letters, Fort Ontario, Detroit, and the Little Falls; another tells us the "smallpox has got among the Cree Indians" and that out of "50 men who bear arms 40 are dead;" in short, these vols. abound in the most valuable and interesting information, not only to those interested in American affairs, but also to the historian, the antiquary, and the politician.

The History of Trauayle in the West and East Indies, and other countreys lying eyther way, towards the fruitfull and ryche Moluccaes, with a discourse of the Northwest Passage.
