The Gatlin Treatment

EST. 1900.
For Drink or Drug Habit

The results accomplished by the Gatlin Treatment have caused the establishment of Institutes throughout the world for the cure of the liquor and drug habits. This great treatment quickly and permanently removes the craving for stimulants, tones up the entire system, placing the patients in the same or better mental and physical condition as before the habit was formed.

The Gatlin Treatment is administered without hypodermic injections, contains no powerful nerve-racking drugs, nothing in any way harmful, is quick, certain and lasting in its effects. Through its efficiency thousands of men and women have been permanently cured.

Special treatment will be furnished those who prefer taking treatment at home. For complete information sent in plain envelope, address—

CHAPTER XXXV.
He brought himself to his full height. "That can never be, Miss Alwyn. Such debt is the creation of poor Jean's sentiment. Don't tempt her, don't ask me to stoop so low as to load ourselves with your bounty under the poor pretense of justice."
She knew he would refuse, though the alternative to his proffered liberation had to be Mr. Montague Carle! She triumphed in his words: proud of his pride. But she said,
"Then all my money is to be valueless. I am to enjoy none of it, because you will not have this little."
He felt her merciless, this rich young woman. It was getting more than he could endure.
"Our taking it," he answered husk-ily, "could make no real difference to your happiness, Miss Alwyn. It would destroy all chance of mine. Will you let that have some small weight with you? Spend your wealth with—him who will soon claim you. Forget, though I shall not, that you ever made this generous offer."

She hung her head. "No one will claim me," she said, with a wondrous soft distinctness, "I suppose. It—that was all a mistake of Miss Jean's."
At this an ungovernable exclamation escaped him. He started violently. Out from their hiding-place dropped the withered flowers.
Sydney had them in an instant.
"You have only let fall some worthless rosebuds, Mr. Hurst. I will fling them away."
"They are mine, Miss Alwyn. Give them to me," with hand extended in desperate earnest for his treasure.
"Let me gather you fresh ones."
"No, no; those, if you please. I must have them."
"You shall not," she said, "till you promise to take that money."
"Then rob me if you choose," he cried, worked into all but frenzy by passionate pain, "but I will not rob you."

"You need not rob me at all," she said, just loud enough for him to hear, "take—me—too!"
There was a long minute's pause. Gilbert Hurst fell back, then stood at bay. Sydney stole to him as only a true woman would have dared. He put his hand out as if to repel her. She took it, clasped it softly in her own.
"I did something else, the most wicked of all," she whispered, "but I am not sorry for that. I was by the window a little while before I spoke. I saw you—I heard you."
He gave a sigh that was grievous.
"And would marry me—God forbid—for pity!"
"No, Gilbert," she said, with a splendid boldness that bade his soul be comforted, "for love, only for love!"
And when his arms were about her, his heart to hers, her sweet kiss answering his, he believed at last, with such a deep rejoicing as made the hour sacred to both forever.

reckoning of her own) much narrowed, by the doings of a daughter who, "with some admirable points, never knew what it was to submit to a mother, never could bear to be guided," and on that score she secured a good deal of sympathy from a new circle of intimates.
Her one parent being unequal to the exertion of superintending a wedding, Sydney was married in early autumn from the Draytons, the Dacies coming down to Grandyde for the double pleasure of the event and a delighted inspection of their daughter's new domain. And there, self-elected groomsmen, came Sydney's old fellow-scholars, charmed with all brought about by these late changes, especially their new watches (not silver); and there came the rector of St. Clair's, sharing keenly the joy of these two people to whom he had been ever drawn as kinsfolk in spirit though not in blood, and from whose union he went back to his parish acknowledging, as he does at every parting from them since, that He who directs men's lives planned well their separate sorrows, which now are merged in mutual happiness so full and true.
The Babbingtons being in full possession of Wynstone, where, however, "ample room," Horatius says, was at the disposal of Mrs. Babbington's brother till September, Gilbert Hurst and his wife, unfettered by house or establishment, went further and further south, till they wintered on another continent and there saw the seasons round before returning to England.

CHAPTER XXXVI.

The whole business was a very bitter pill to Mrs. Alwyn, restoring as it did her younger daughter to the precise position she herself had abdicated with such ill grace and in such singular ill odor.
But that last lamentable fiasco with Leonora had thrown her into very real illness. Sydney, hurrying to Paris, had nursed her mother with self-denial scarcely appreciated—for did she not know some one the other side the Channel counted every day a week till she was by him?—and common recognition of the tender zeal she might have died for lack of left to poor Leonora only, tied Mrs. Alwyn's tongue on subjects impossible to be agreed upon by her and her attendant.
"I presume any attempt on my part to dissuade you from throwing yourself away as you propose doing, would be useless, Sydney?" was her nearest approach to argument on this topic.
"Perfectly useless, mamma," Sydney answered gently, and Mrs. Alwyn, weak and disarmed at this stage of her convalescence, bowed to the inevitable, though in after-time and better health she was not sparing of hints among her acquaintances that her life had been greatly hampered, her income (by some mysterious

The people of the United States appreciate GIN PILLS quite as much as do we Canadians. They have tried GIN PILLS—have found that they cure all Kidney and Bladder Troubles—and they won't be beguiled into using anything else.
HOLYOKE, MASS.
"Having taken 2 boxes of your excellent GIN PILLS, they relieved me so much that I am quite satisfied with the results. I gave an order to my druggist about three weeks ago to send me some more. Nothing has come yet and I had to borrow a box from a lady friend who was also using GIN PILLS. I have none left and am sending you $1.50 for three boxes which I would ask you to send at once as I am not quite so well when I am without GIN PILLS."
AGATHE VANESSE.
If you, who are taking GIN PILLS, have any trouble in getting them, write us direct. We will send you any quantity at the regular price of 50c a box, 6 boxes for $2.50 and will also arrange with a dealer in your vicinity to handle GIN PILLS so that you can always get them without inconvenience or delay.
Don't take substitutes. Nothing else is "just as good" or "just the same" as GIN PILLS—and you can't afford to risk your health and waste your money when you know that GIN PILLS will give prompt relief in all cases of Kidney Disease, Pain in the Back, Swollen Joints, Suppression and Incontinence of Urine, Rheumatism, Sciatica and Lumbago. Some People Say:
What is that "Medicinal Brandy Sanator"?

WHY SANATOR?
WHY MEDICINAL?
The answer is indeed easy:
Sanator (a Latin word) means: that cures. Medicinal means that the Brandy although being not a properly so-called "medicine" is composed with the best known growths for their tonic, digestive properties and of course can be used for medicinal purpose in the family like the Hospitals.

When you taste it, it is quite a revelation and people are accustomed to say: "I have never tasted so fine, so rich Brandy."
When you are sick, weak, suffering with a cold or with bad digestion, try the medicinal Brandy "Sanator" and you will be surprised of its good effects.
That can happen at every moment: ask to-day from your dealer a bottle of Medicinal Brandy "Sanator": it is prudent to have it always on hand.

Special to Evening Telegram.
LONDON, To-day.
Mary Bloomfield, daughter of Lady Bloomfield, widow of Sir Arthur Bloomfield, was the woman who created the sensational scene in Buckingham Palace last night, when she threw herself on her knees before King George and Queen Mary, exclaiming, "Your Majesty, for God's sake, do not use force." Miss Bloomfield, alone, was concerned in the incident, although her sister also attending court was requested to leave the Palace after the occurrence, despite the fact she took no part in the demonstration. She left without making any protest. An eyewitness in the immediate vicinity at the time declares the whole scene lasted less than ten seconds. King George was the coolest man in the company. The presentations proceeded after the incident with clock-work regularity.

Special to the Evening Telegram.
LONDON, June 5.
John Redmond, to-day, declined the request of the Irish women suffragists, that he receive a deputation on the subject of the inclusion of women as electors for the Irish parliament. Mr. Redmond pointed out that previous deputations of this nature had caused only unpleasantness; and reiterated the view that Ireland under Home Rule must decide for herself, whether she wants women voters.

LONDON, June 5.
In consequence of suffragette attacks, Churches in many parts of the country are being closed, except for the usual Sunday services. A sample notice, being posted by rectors, is as follows: "Owing to dastardly outrages by frenzied criminals, who have no regard for God or man, this church will be closed, except during the hours of Divine service."

BERLIN, June 5.
Kaiser William will be present at the launching of the newest Hamburg-American liner on June 20th. The vessel, which will be several thousand tons larger than the Vaterland, will be called the Bismarck, the name approved by His Majesty. The Emperor is expected to make an important announcement as to the future German Mercantile Marine.

QUEBEC, June 5.
H.M.S. Essex, at present in port, is scheduled to leave sometime to-day for Father Point, where divers will attempt an inspection of the wreck of the Empress of Ireland.

LONDON, June 5.
Officials of the Women's Social Political Union, the militant suffragettes organization, deny responsibility for the incident at Buckingham Palace last night, when a woman interrupted the presentations by throwing herself at the King's feet and shouting: "For God's sake do not use force."

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 5.
Passengers from the Eastern Line steamer Northland, bound from New York for Portland, Maine, which went ashore at Bartlett's Reef, late last night, were safely landed in this city. The captain and crew of the Northland remained aboard the ship, which is in no immediate danger. The weather, locally, is fair.

NEW YORK, June 5.
The Aquitania, the new liner of the Cunard Company, and the largest ship afloat under the British flag, arrived at quarantine to-day, on her maiden voyage to this port. She made good time after passing all danger from the icefields, which held down her speed, on Wednesday and yesterday. The last wireless reports gave her speed as 23.22 knots, and for 24 hours up to noon of yesterday she covered 602 nautical miles. The Aquitania made the passage in 5 days, 17 hours and 43 minutes, over a course of 3,181 miles.

College Degrees.

By GEORGE FITCH,
Author of "A Good Old Smash."
In a few weeks the 1914 crop of college degrees will be ripe. Indications are that it will be a bumper crop and will be harvested as usual in great solemnity with speeches and mortar boards.
It takes four years to ripen an ordinary college degree, while the fancy varieties take three years longer. Contrary to the case of other crops, college degrees ripen best in extremely dry localities. Nothing is as hard on a degree as moisture. It causes conditions, flunks, expulsions and many other serious diseases. Sometimes as little as a quart of moisture will ruin a degree entirely. However, in Germany the irrigation system is extensively practiced and Muenchener and Bismarck are used more extensively than Greek and Latin in ripening the crop.

There are many kinds of college degrees, including A. B., A. M., S. S., Ph. D., D. D. and S. P. O. R. After the student has harvested his degree, he hangs it on the end of his name and lets it trail gracefully behind him through life. A man who has acquired a degree is universally respected because of this feat and is allowed by a grateful nation to cast his big vote in municipal elections as the man who has acquired a flaming red nose by irrigating himself at the expense of the precinct leader for five years.

Some men are not satisfied with one degree but keep on acquiring them until their names look like kites with alphabetical tails. The second degree is easier to acquire than the first, because the student does not have to play so much football while raising it. As a rule the third degree is given to the anxious young scholar by the business world after he gets out of school and tries to exchange a thorough knowledge of Greek and Latin for three square meals a day.

Destroyed by Fire.

Special to Evening Telegram.
DERBY, June 5.
The ancient historic Church of Beardsall, dating back to the Norman times, and containing many priceless relics, was destroyed by fire during the night. Suffragists suspected.

Antigonish, May 28.—A severe electrical storm past over this country this morning between the hours of seven and nine o'clock, accompanied by frequent downpours of rain. At Beaulieu, about ten miles from town, a young man, the son of William Fraser together, was struck by lightning and killed instantly. Mr. Fraser was in the barn at the time the lightning struck. Part of the barn was demolished and a horse and cow were also killed. Great sympathy is felt for Mr. Fraser in the sudden and violent death of a promising son.

Wireless and the Weather.

A most illuminating article appears in the 1914 Year-Book of Wireless Telegraphy and Telephony on The Application of Wireless Telegraphy to Meteorology. It is contributed by R. G. K. Lempiert, M. A., Superintendent of the Forecast Division of the British Meteorological Office.

Mr. Lempiert, M.A., describes briefly the organization of which he has charge as follows:—

"Observations are made each morning at 7 a.m. of the mean time of the meridian and Greenwich, at thirty-one stations distributed over the length and breadth of the British Isles. They are forthwith coded and telegraphed to the Meteorological Office in London. Similar observations are taken at the same hour on the continent of Europe, and an elaborate system exists for the exchange of information between the various countries. Reports reach the Meteorological Office daily from forty-two stations distributed over western Europe and the Atlantic Islands from Iceland to Madeira and the Azores. By 9 a.m. the exchange of observations ought to be complete, so that the work of drawing up reports and forecasts may be taken in hand. This is repeated at 1 p.m. and 6 p.m."

The Atlantic Ocean was for a long time beyond the ken of the forecaster. Wireless has now come to his aid. The first sympathetic attempt in this direction was made in 1906 by the Daily Tel. newspaper. In 1907 the British Admiralty took it up, and in 1909 the British and German Meteorological Offices contracted with the Marconi Company to obtain information from liners such as they received from the land stations. Practically all the British liners in the North Atlantic trade co-operate in this scheme and observations are taken on the ships at the same hours as at the land stations.

Similar work is done at Washington and Toronto as is done at the European Meteorological headquarters. So far we have dealt merely with the collection of data on which the forecaster works, and how the gap of the North Atlantic area is being filled up by utilizing liners as observation stations and wireless for the transmission of the data. As to the distribution of the forecasts we have our own Toronto forecast as an illustration of land distribution. Forecasts are also sent to ships by wireless.

Supt. Lempiert says in this connection: "This aspect of the subject engaged the attention of the International Conference which met at Paris in September 1912. Each morning and afternoon a weather report is signalled from the Eiffel Tower. Ships at sea have further the opportunity if they wish of supplementing the report from the Eiffel Tower by means of reports exchanged with other ships. Weather forecasts having reference principally to the weather of the North Sea and Baltic are prepared each day by the German Meteorological Department for issue from the wireless station at Norddeich.

In England the Meteorological Office prepares forecast messages intended primarily for the use of H. M. Ships in home waters which are signalled twice a day from the Admiralty station at Cleevehoes. With the increasing efficiency of forecasters, due to the greater number of points of observation on both land and sea, with stations being installed in northern latitudes such as Iceland and Spitzbergen and with the likelihood of a station on the southern point in Greenland to overcome some enigmas which exist as to the weather of the N. W. Atlantic, it would be the height of folly not to take advantage of the forecast for our sailing steamers at the ice.

The police are now investigating the fire which occurred at Newtown a few nights ago, destroying the two buildings owned by Capt. S. Winsor, and which was supposed to be the work of an incendiary.

JOHN B. AYRE

Farewell We-k of Popular Baritone.

"In the Colls of the Python" a thrilling two-reel drama at the Crescent, was a big attraction last night, together with the other up-to-date subjects it will be shown again to-night. The opening bill of next week is an ideal one. The headliner is a two-reel drama entitled "His Own Blood," featuring Edwin August. Three other excellent subjects, all features, will follow this grand two-part photo play. The vocalist, Mr. Sidney Earnshaw, the popular Lyric Baritone, after almost a three months' engagement, will give his farewell to Crescent patrons on next Saturday night, and during the week will sing some of his best songs.

A Case For the Game Board

The latest fish story—as told by the Daily News on the 28th—is just too rich. Two men went fishing on Empire Day. One threw in his line and hauled out—a bear. That's a new way to capture a bear, but here is a better, perfectly legal, too—

Walk into a store and say: "I want a pair of Bear Brand rubbers, please."

If the clerk tells you he has none, but something just as good, say: "There is nothing just as good as Bear Brand. I'll get them next door."

Mr. Dealer, don't let your customers go next door—have a good stock of Bear Brand on hand. Everyone will want them.

LOOK OUT FOR THE BEAR—TIS ON EVERY PAIR.

WATCHMAN ARRESTED

AND CONVICTED OF THEFT.

Another dishonest watchman, second to be rounded up by the police for theft within the past fortnight, is now in the clutches of the law awaiting to have justice meted out to him. This time the accused is a 44-year-old workman of Mundy Pond Road, who was engaged up to his arrest as a watchman at the Royal Victoria College, which is owned by the Colonial Cordage Co. For several months past quantities of rope, twine and lines had been disappearing from the premises and could not be accounted for. Ultimately the employees concluded that larceny was going on. Suspicion rested on the watchman, who was caught red-handed stealing a coil of rope, and was arrested under warrant last night by officers Byrne and Tobin. Today the accused was before Judge Knight, pleaded guilty, and will be sentenced this afternoon.

Proposed Circus For Newfoundland.

Company of 150 Performers will likely come here in October.

Mr. H. Meyerhoff, General Manager of the Henry Meyerhoff Attraction Company, of New York City, arrived here by last night's express and is to-day arranging to hold a circus here during the autumn. A Telegram representative interviewed Mr. Meyerhoff to-day, and was informed that though arrangements are not yet finalized, he is pretty confident that he will bring his company here in October next. This company consists of no less than one hundred and fifty different performers, including lady and gentlemen acrobats, gymnasts, equilibrista, trick cyclists and clowns, as well as performing dogs, ponies, tigers, puns, Poodles, monkeys, kangaroos, and besides numerous other attractions, horses that can talk and count with remarkable precision. ### FIRE ON THE SOUTH SIDE

FISHING PREMISES OF MR. JOHN WAREHAM DESTROYED.

A disastrous looking fire broke out at one o'clock to-day on the South Side, in Gunner's Cove, destroying the fishing premises of Mr. John Wareham. Fanned by a strong southwest-erly breeze the blaze reached serious proportions and threatened to wipe out every building in that section of the harbour. Volumes of smoke issued in the heavens and were watched by thousands of citizens, some of whom proceeded to the scene of the fire in boats, eager to give assistance. At 1:30 three firemen, bringing a quantity of chemicals along with them, crossed the harbor in a row boat to help fight the fire. In the meantime the fishermen of the Southside had the fire under control, but not before Mr. Wareham's premises was wiped out. At press hour the fire was all out.

NEWS BY CABLE.

Special to Evening Telegram.

LONDON, To-day. Lord Lytton has issued a report showing it is spreading funds freely at the bye-election in support of the Labor Party candidates and against official Liberal candidates. The policy of the National Union is to do its utmost to throw the Asquith on the entire onus for the defeat of the Women suffragettes Bill.

LONDON, To-day. The Daily Express asserts that Sir Edward Grey has notified President Wilson in a friendly but unequivocal tone that if General Villa should become President of Mexico, the British Government would exact satisfaction for the murder of W. S. Benson, slain February, by a constitutionalist. Commander Rice and Lieut. Cresswell were drowned yesterday when an aeroplane making a flight over Southampton waters plunged into the sea.

OTTAWA, To-day. The announcement with regard to the personnel of the Commission to enquire into the Empress of Ireland disaster, was made by Hon. J. B. Hazen to the House of Commons at its first meet at Quebec on June 16th, and will be composed of Lord Mersey, as Chairman; Sir Adolphe Routhier, and Chief Justice McLeod. Judges, Nautical Assessors will be Capt. Demers, Montreal; now Chief Wreck Commissioner of Canada; Engineer Howe, Canadian Naval Service; Prof. John Welch, Naval Architect, Newcastle-on-Tyne; F. W. Caborne, Royal Naval Reserve.

LONDON, To-day. A hundred vacant chairs in the arena of the Royal Albert Hall, which otherwise was packed from floor to ceiling, told the graphic story of loss sustained by the Salvation Army when part of the Canadian contingent to the Congress perished with the Empress of Ireland. Last night the Memorial Service opened with a spectacular procession, headed by the international staff of songsters who softly sang. Following the standard bearers with flags of all nations, was the great Canadian contingent who had arrived in other ships. Behind these came the "Ladies' Friends" of the crowned Salvationists. As the latter filed past the vacant chairs they slipped white mourning sashes. General Booth conducted the meetings, supported by the entire staff from headquarters, together with many overseas officers. In his address the General extolled the devotion of the deceased officers, dwelling particular on Commissioner Rees and Colonel Maidment.

LONDON, To-day. Sylvia Pankhurst, borne to the platform in an invalid chair, made another appearance at a suffragette meeting at Cannington, and repeated her threat that she would lie on the steps of the House of Commons without food or water until the Premier consented to receive a deputation of her followers. While the militant suffragettes are pursuing a campaign which in the opinion of most people only tends to defer the attainment of their wishes, the non-militant section has organized and is carrying on a constitutional and political program of peculiar annoyance and embarrassment to the Government of the Nationalists. The National Union of Women suffragette committee embracing a large number of influential persons, including Mrs. Henry Fawcett, Lady Frances Balfour, Countess Aberdeen, Lady Brassey, and Lord Courtney.

BONAVENTURE RETURNING.
The s.s. Bonaventure finished loading her coal cargo at Botwood this morning and left at 10 o'clock for this port.

The origin of the fire, we learn, was the capsizing of a tar pot while Mr. Wareham was tarring his net. This is the same cause that destroyed St. John's in 1846.

SCHOONER FROM HALIFAX.—The schooner Mariner reached port yesterday afternoon from Halifax, bringing a general cargo, consigned to Colin Campbell. The run took 12 days as adverse weather was met.

At the City Hall.

A STORMY SESSION.
The regular weekly session of the Municipal Council took place yesterday afternoon.

The Minister of Agriculture and Mines stated in a letter that the ungranted land at Round Pond would be reserved for the Council.

Messrs. Kent and McGrath, lawyers for Mr. P. Malone, wrote asking Council to give definition of street line where land belonging to their client was appropriated. Council will not arbitrate and the land will be paid for so much a square foot.

The Engineer will enquire as to the need of a tank at the corner of Power and Pleasant Streets, as asked for by James Monk.

Permission was given P. Christopher to repair house; W. J. Ellis to erect scaffold; F. J. Connors to repair building and G. Colish to repair gallery.

Mrs. W. P. Cotter asked permission to erect kitchen and bath room in house near King's Bridge; referred to Engineer.

Antonio Michael was given permission to raise house on New Gower St. Plans of new water system and pipes to be installed at their plant, submitted by the Gas Company, were approved of provided a water metre is installed.

Tenders for the construction of the wall on the South Side were received. The contract was awarded to Spratt Bros., as their tender of $1,080 was the lowest.

On motion of Councillor Ryan the two fountains, recommended last year, will be installed on Signal Hill Road. Councillor Mullaly moved that appraisers White and Godden be awarded $325 for their services on the South Side, and in doing so showed that the new appraisements would mean an increase of $5,000 a year in the civic revenue.

Councillor Ryan moved the payments to the following arbitrators for work done during the year:—

A. Bastow, $5.00; S. Collier, $5.00; W. G. Harris, $7.50; D. Morrison, $10; P. C. O'Driscoll, $40; J. C. Barter, $40; the Mayor, $67.50; the Solicitor, $30; Secretary, $30; and the estate of D. M. Browning, $5.

Councillor Mullaly took exception to the amount voted the Secretary, since he considered no extra services had been given, and on this ground moved an amendment.

Councillor Ryan objected and considered that Councillor Mullaly was prejudiced towards the Secretary.

Councillor Mullaly stated that he opposed a similar vote two years ago on principle, and not through ulterior motives.

A heated discussion ensued in which the Mayor joined, and after expressing his disapproval of the system, on principle, said that the custom should prevail.

As Councillor Mullaly's amendment was not seconded, the original motion was carried.

The votes to Clerks Mahoney and Larkin for extra work in preparing data for the Citizens' Committee was deferred at the request of Council.

for Ryan who was of the opinion that Collectors Grace and Hynes were also deserving of extra pay in this matter.

After the passing of pay rolls, etc. the meeting adjourned.

Fishery Report.

The following report dated May 26th was received yesterday by the Board of Trade from Mr. J. Cunningham, (Connoire Bay to Red Island): "Sixty dories, skiffs and boats are fishing and the total catch of codfish is 4069 quintals with 180 for last week. No schooners from the grounds or bankers have returned. Prospects are very poor at present though there is plenty herring for bait. The lobster catch to date is very small. Westerly and southerly winds with fog and heavy sea prevailed during the first part of the week but it was finer the last few days. Codfish is getting scarcer. This week 1900 pounds of halibut and 394 of salmon were caught."

Marine Notes.

The Sardinian is due to-morrow from Liverpool.

The Sindbad leaves Fort William to-day for here bringing a load of flour.

The Carthaginian leaves Philadelphia to-day.

The Stephano leaves New York to-day.

The Louisa A. W., 4 days from Sydney, arrived yesterday with a coal cargo.

This Date in History.

JUNE 6.

Full Moon—8th. Days Past—156. To Come—208. ARISTO died 1533, aged 59. One of the most celebrated of the Italian poets, author of "Orlando Furioso." In addition to his famous epic he wrote many comedies, satires and poems.

VELASQUEZ born 1599. The famous Spanish painter. His style was sombre and dramatic, but he invested his works (especially his portraits) with such a natural force that they never lack in distinction.

CORNEILLE born 1606. The French tragic dramatist whose "Cid," "Le Menteur," and other plays marked a new era in French dramatic production.

ADMIRAL ANSON died 1762, aged 65. He made many foreign voyages which added much to our knowledge of geography. His most famous voyage lasted nearly four years, in which he circumnavigated the Globe.

JUNE 7.

Days Past—157. To Come—207. Trinity Sunday. R. D. BLACKMORE born 1825. The novelist who made a great reputation with his romantic story of "Lorna Doone."

FIRST REFORM Act 1832. This reform of Parliamentary Franchise. In addition to a sweeping re-distribution of seats, granted the franchise to borough householders paying a £10 rental, and in counties to those with a rental of £50.

FIRST HOME RULE BILL rejected 1886. Gladstone's Bill was again rejected in 1893, but 1914 sees the opposition of the Lords of no avail and the aim of the Nationalist Party for so many years accomplished.

"We worship one God in Trinity and Trinity in Unity: neither confounding the Persons, nor dividing the substance."

Much Ice North.

NO FISHING BEING DONE—SCHRS. ICEBOUND.

People who came from the north recently say that there was considerable ice in Green Bay up to a week ago, and according to messages that reached the city, similar conditions exist now, and that many of the harbours are blockaded. In consequence of a score of craft, bound for the Labrador, are icebound in various parts of Green Bay and have to wait till the ice moves off before they can proceed north. It appears that ice conditions is materially handicapping the fishery, as we learn that fish were never so scarce before as at present in Green Bay. Thus far there has been a poor sign of herring, an entire absence of cod and little, if any salmon.

Gale and Rainstorm.

The heavy S.E. gale, accompanied by torrential rain showers, which began on the West Coast yesterday morning, continued throughout the day with unabated fury, and up to last midnight had not subsided. A storm, with the wind veering from the S.S.W., raged here in the city last evening. It only lasted a few hours, however, but was severely felt while it was on.

Hesser Concert.

Miss Scotney and the other artists of the Boston Opera Company gave an extra concert in the Methodist College Hall last night, and it attracted the largest audience of the season. The programme consisted of Irish and Scotch songs, and the second act of Martha, in costume. Miss Scotney delighted the audience and responded several times to the applause. Madame Sapin was also in fine voice. Mr. Ramella and Mr. White scored much success. The rendering of the act of the opera proved also very acceptable.

Congratulations.

We extend our congratulations to Mr. V. P. Burke, M.A., on his winning the degree of LL.D. from the University of Ottawa, for a thesis on Education in Newfoundland. To Dr. Burke has come no less than three honours within a very short period of each other, that of M.A. from Antigonish College, LL.D. from the University of Ottawa, and an Ecclesiastical honor of which even Cardinals feel proud, and which, if we remember aright, is enjoyed by only one other layman on this side the Atlantic.

PRICE OF SALMON.—The salmon brought in from points on the Southern Shore, by Thursday's train fetched 15 cents a pound wholesale in the market yesterday.

MRS. WINN'S ADVICE TO WOMEN

Take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and be Restored to Health.

Kansas City, Mo.—"The doctors told me I would never be a mother. Every month the pains were so bad that I could not bear my weight on one foot. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and had not finished the first bottle when I felt greatly relieved and I took it until it made me sound and well, and I now have two fine baby girls. I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound too highly for what it has done for me. I always speak a word in favor of your medicine to other women who suffer when I have an opportunity."—Mrs. H. T. WINN, 1225 Fremont Ave., Kansas City, Mo.

Read What Another Woman says: Cumming, Ga.—"I tell some suffering woman every day of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what it has done for me. I could not eat or sleep, had a bad stomach and was in misery all the time. I could not do my housework or walk any distance without suffering great pain. I tried doctors' medicines and different patent medicines but failed to get relief. My husband brought home your Vegetable Compound and in two weeks I could eat anything, could sleep like a healthy baby, and walk a long distance without feeling tired. I can highly recommend your Vegetable Compound to women who suffer as I did, and you are at liberty to use this letter."—Mrs. CHARLIE BAGLEY, R. 3, Cumming, Ga.

Galatea will leave at PLACENTIA—The brig, Galatea, which left here on Tuesday last for Placentia to load codfish for G. C. Fearn, had not arrived there up to late last evening. Head winds have prevailed ever since she sailed, and it is expected she harbored along the way. Upon arrival at Placentia, she will load for the Spanish market.

The Legion of Frontiersmen Squadron Dance Club will hold their usual long night dance on Monday night, June 8th, by special request. Tickets—Gent's, 30c.; ladies will conform to the regular rule. E. W. VERE HOLLOWAY, Lieut. & O.M., Sec'y; June 6th.

FLORIZEL SAILED.—The S. S. Florizel sailed last evening for Halifax and New York taking in sail.

R. A. and Mrs. Brehm, N. Duchemin, Master G. Majlard, J. and Mrs. McMartin, Mr. Smith, S. Perlin, Mrs. C. Way, Miss L. Miller, Miss N. Thomas, W. E. Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. Hitecock, Mrs. Leach, Miss Leach, C. Thomas, Mr. Logan, Miss M. Butler, Mr. Strecker and fifteen in stowage.

Meeting of C. C. C. Boat Club

Last night's meeting of the C. C. C. Boat Club was largely attended and the enthusiasm displayed augurs well for the success of this year's regatta.

Mr. P. F. Collins, Chairman of the Club presided, and announced that already several applications had been received for the use of the new boat, all of which will receive due consideration.

The materials for the new racers have arrived, and the work of building same will begin on Monday next. She is to be of Canadian cedar, and will be built by the well known Bob Sexton.

Arrangements for a big dance to be held at the Prince's Rink, on Regatta Night, were discussed, and will be finalized at a later meeting.

The members of the boat club will in future have the use of the band rooms and enjoy all the privileges of the same.

After the collection of fees, the meeting adjourned.

More Sympathy.

Mr. W. J. Edgar, D. G. Secretary, was in from a cable from Sir Edward Letchworth, Grand Secretary of the Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons, under the Registry of England, intimating that three hundred guineas, an equivalent to $1,570, had been voted by the Grand Lodge for the relief of the sufferers from the sealing disaster.

Here and There.

LAST NIGHT'S ARRESTS.—Three arrests for lubrication were made by the police last night, and the offenders appeared in court to-day.

The Regular Monthly Meeting of the St. John's Mechanics' Society will be held in their hall on Monday evening at 8.30 o'clock. All members are requested to be present. JAS. J. LEAHY, Sec. June 6th.

GALATEA WILL LEAVE AT PLACENTIA.—The brig, Galatea, which left here on Tuesday last for Placentia to load codfish for G. C. Fearn, had not arrived there up to late last evening. Head winds have prevailed ever since she sailed, and it is expected she harbored along the way. Upon arrival at Placentia, she will load for the Spanish market.

The Legion of Frontiersmen Squadron Dance Club will hold their usual long night dance on Monday night, June 8th, by special request. Tickets—Gent's, 30c.; ladies will conform to the regular rule. E. W. VERE HOLLOWAY, Lieut. & O.M., Sec'y; June 6th.

FLORIZEL SAILED.—The S. S. Florizel sailed last evening for Halifax and New York taking in sail.

R. A. and Mrs. Brehm, N. Duchemin, Master G. Majlard, J. and Mrs. McMartin, Mr. Smith, S. Perlin, Mrs. C. Way, Miss L. Miller, Miss N. Thomas, W. E. Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. Hitecock, Mrs. Leach, Miss Leach, C. Thomas, Mr. Logan, Miss M. Butler, Mr. Strecker and fifteen in stowage.

C. C. C. RESERVES.—The C. C. C. Reserves paraded at their Armoury last night and were put through the different drilling exercises by Capt. Vaughan. A meeting will be held to-morrow to discuss the matter of new uniforms.

A Gratifying Response...

—has been accorded our recent offer to send anywhere, without obligation, a Special Report containing complete information about Robin, Jones & Whiteman, Ltd. 6 p.c. Preferred Stock. —The interest manifested in this report and the demand for the stock has been all the more pleasing in that security buying in the leading markets is almost at a standstill.

—Such activity as has been displayed in Robin, Jones & Whiteman, Ltd., Preferred Stock again demonstrates the slight effect which financial depression elsewhere has upon the demand for local investment securities when handled by houses of recognized standing.

This particular Preferred Stock yields 7.07 p.c. at its present price and includes a 25 p.c. bonus of valuable dividend-earning Common Stock. Better send for our Special Report.

The Lure of the Stage

"We start rehearsals this week for a season of stock company productions," said Sam Ratgenhauer affably. Apparently he had completely forgotten the angry words with which Miss Winthrop had left his office on the occasion of her last visit, in quest of an engagement, when his raw sentimentality had so completely disintegrated her.

"Is that so?" replied Marian, resolving to let by-gones be by-gones, especially in view of her break with the Van Dines, and of the imperative necessity of finding work.

"Yes. And I don't know but what we could use you," he pursued. "Had your dinner? Come on and have a bite to eat with me, and we'll talk it over."

Ratgenhauer attempted to take her arm, and start up the street with her, but she bore up under the familiarity with studied poise, and merely replied: "Thank you, but I shan't be able to. I have another engagement that I'm late for now."

"Well, that's too bad," he returned. "Well, run up and see me at the office tomorrow morning. Glad I met you." Marian congratulated herself upon her easy escape, in view of the man's former tenacity of purpose. She bearded a car for her abode, happy, in spite of her former unpleasant experiences with the producer, that she had met him to-day.

"There's something sweet about him, after all," she mused, as she seized and hung on to a strap to steady herself in the swaying car. "Seems to like me," she pondered. "If I can keep him where he belongs, and make him give me a chance, it will be great."

Again the lure of the stage was upon her. Her almost forgotten theatrical ambitions came trooping back. There recurred to her tales of girls who had shot like comets into public favor by way of the theatre. She yearned to be one of this brilliant constellation. Once more she thrilled with the determination to leap into this hard-working, play-world of a life, and climb to its topmost vantage place. Her blood danced with the pulse of youth and hope and ambition. The sombre experiences of the past faded away into dreams without substance.

"Won't you sit down?"

Youth, good looks and pink cheeks are ever served.

Marian knew why the man had given her, instead of the older woman, his seat. What woman does not know this open secret of the city street car? Youth, good looks, pink cheeks are ever served, ever picked out for favours, while older, more faded womanhood though dog-tired may cling to her strap forever. The unfairness of it came over Marian as it had many times before. And again she determined to make the most of her youth while it lasted, to cash in upon her good looks before they flitted away. The stage! Was it not the approved and legitimate clearing house for the marketing of beauty? Ah yes, she was glad she had met Ratgenhauer, the promoter!

The Christian Pathway

How straight and narrow is the road That leads us to the heavenly land. How often burdened with our load, We need a helper to lend a hand.

Lend a hand! Yes, we can have a guide To supply us with strength and to walk by our side; A Friend we can trust and in whom to confide, Who will never deceive us whatever betide.

That path is too narrow for worldly care, No room there for sin; no, not even fear. The presence of Jesus we daily can share If everything that's wrong from our hearts we tear.

That path leads upward to the sky, And we should never seek to fly— But calmly plod and ever try To shoulder our burden without a sigh.

We often in the distance look And there we see the troubles rise, But a step at a time if prayerfully took Will lead us safely to the skies.

Our Leader and Pilot did patiently tread The path we are treading; and ought we to dread Our enemy's powers? When our Pilot has said: "I'll not leave thee comfortless, be not dismayed." —J. H. WAY.

Ah! My Tired Feet, Ached so for "Tiz."

How "TIZ" eases sore, swollen, sweaty, calloused feet and corns.

"Just couldn't wait to take my hat off!"

Just take your shoes off and then put those weary, shoe-crinkled, aching, burning, corn-pestered, bunion-tortured feet of yours in a "TIZ" bath. Your toes will wriggle with joy; they'll look up at you and almost talk and then they'll take another dive in that "TIZ" bath.

When your feet feel like lumps of lead—all tired out—just try "TIZ." Its grand—its glorious. Your feet will dance with joy; also you will find all pain gone from corns, callouses and bunions.

There's nothing like "TIZ." It's the only remedy that draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up your feet and cause foot torture. Get a 25 cent box of "Tiz" at any drug or department store—don't wait. Ah! how glad your feet get; how comfortable your shoes feel. You can wear shoes a size smaller if you desire.

Installation at Bell Island.

On Wednesday last at Bell Island the following officers of Cliff Lodge were installed by District Grand Master CHIT, after whom the Lodge was named:—

- W. Bro. W. N. Butler—W.M.
- Bro. J. B. Cox—S.W.
- Bro. G. L. Dickson—J.W.
- Bro. Rev. J. Stead—Chaplain.
- Bro. J. J. Miller—Treas.
- Bro. A. R. Proudfoot, Sec'y.
- Bro. J. C. Stewart—S.D.
- Bro. C. F. Taylor—J.D.
- Bro. W. H. Pike—I.G.
- Bro. A. Rees—Tyler.

D. G. M. Cliff was assisted in the installation by D. G. M. Duder of the Scotch jurisdiction, and the following were also present: D. G. Treasurer Gray, D. G. Secretary Edgar, R. W. P. M. Ash, and Bros. W. Campbell, L. P. Chaplin and Dr. Silliker. The visitors were cordially received by their brethren at the Island.

More Fires.

Fires provoke immediate sympathy for the sufferer and also thankfulness for personal escape. Another thought should be whether one is personally and sufficiently protected? An insurance policy with Percie Johnson would provide for you this desired security and at small expense. Have you enough insurance?

WHALING NEWS.—So far very little success has been met with by our whaling fleet. The Cabot, at Balena, got one, and the Hump, operating at Dublin Cove, hails for a similar catch.

The Noon Gun.

Editor Evening Telegram. Sir.—I would like to know in what year, and by whom suggested, was the first twelve o'clock (noon) gun fired from Signal Hill, St. John's.

In a Christian country like Newfoundland, it is to be regretted that in such an event as that, they did not give it due consideration and recommend the practice of an ejaculation. I would suggest that in the future when the gun fires at noon a little prayer ought to be in the mouth of every Christian of all denominations, no exception of creeds. It would be well to say "Sacred Heart of Jesus I trust in Thee."

It is so cheering to realize that this opportunity is within the power of the fishermen in their boats, the sailors in their schooners and the pedestrians within a certain radius. Let not my readers think that I am making these suggestions for the devout people within hearing distance of the gun; it is for the class of people who are in the same boat that I had called in one time, for it is not the case, and for whom they are intended.

I ask the co-operation of the clergymen of every denomination. Yours very truly, JOHN B. CODY. Somerville, Mass., May 31, 1914.

It All Started From A Bad Cold.

WATFORD MAN FOUND RELIEF IN DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Mr. Robert Taylor, Sr., After Suffering for Two Years, Tells of the Benefits He got from Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Watford, Ont., June 5th. (Special)—Mr. Robert Taylor, Sr., a very estimable man living here, is telling his friends that the pain in his back, from which he suffered for some time, has disappeared, and that he gives all the credit to Dodd's Kidney Pills. Mr. Taylor states, "and though I was treated by a doctor I got no permanent relief. I had cramps in my muscles and stiffness in my joints, my sleep was broken and unrefreshing and I perspired freely with the least exertion. I had attacks of rheumatism and sciatica, and though I tried many medicines I found no relief till I tried Dodd's Kidney Pills. I must say they were a great benefit to me."

Mr. Taylor's troubles came from his kidneys. The diseased kidneys failed to strain the uric acid out of the blood and the results were as we have stated. Dodd's Kidney Pills put the kidneys in working order, the uric acid was strained out of the blood, and the troubles went with it.

St. John's Gas Light Company. Dear Sir.—I have analyzed a sample of Sulphate of Ammonia made at your works and I found 20.5 per cent of NITROGEN, Sulphates of Ammonia and Nitrate of Soda are the two principal Nitrogen manure.

Sulphate of Ammonia is less soluble than Nitrate of Soda, consequently it is a safer manure to use during a wet season. Yours truly, D. JAMES DAVIES, B.S.C., F.C.S. Analyst and Assayer. May 14, 14

Struck by Street Car.

A horse owned and driven by wheelwright T. Carpell was cut down by an east bound street car on Water Street, opposite the Railway Station, yesterday afternoon. The animal got one of its legs broken and had to be shot. A case in court will likely be the outcome.

Minard's Liniment Co., Limited.

Gents.—I have used your Minard's Liniment in my family and also in my stables for years and consider it the best medicine obtainable. Yours truly, ALFRED ROCHAV, Proprietor Roxton Pond Hotel and Livery Stables.

The Chancellors of Europe have decided to accept the abdication of King William of Albania, and are now casting about for a Moslem Prince to take his place. The Powers have also agreed to send more warships to Durazzo, to protect the family of King William from the Albanian revolutionists. The revolt is spreading throughout the new Kingdom and is menacing the peace of the Balkans.

English make! We've just received a new lot of Chased and other Pretty Rings from England. If your thoughts are running in that direction—be sure and see them. R. H. TRAPNELL.—June 4th

MINARD'S LINIMENT CURES GARTERS IN COWS.

Every Stiff Joint Limbered, Rheumatism Cured!

That Old Family Remedy "Nerviline" is Guaranteed for the Worst Cases.

CURES NEURALGIA, BACKACHE, LUMBAGO.

Rheumatism to-day is unnecessary. It is so well understood and so readily curable that every day we have reports of old chronics being freed of their tormentor.

"I can speak confidently of the Nerviline treatment, for the simple reason that it cured me," writes Albert B. Cornelius, from Kingston. "You can't imagine how stiff and lame and sore I was. Nights at a time I couldn't sleep well. I followed the Nerviline directions carefully—had it rubbed into the sore regions four or five times every day. Every rubbing helped to reduce the pain. The swelling went down. I got a fair measure of relief in a week. I also took two Ferrerone Tablets with my meals. They increased my appetite and spirits, purified my blood and toned up my system generally."

"I am as well to-day as a man could be—in perfect good health. I give Nerviline all the credit."

A large family size bottle of Nerviline costs only 50c., or the trial size 25c., and is useful in a hundred ills in the family. Whether it's toothache, earache, headache, neuralgia, lame back or a cold, Nerviline will cure just as readily as it will cure rheumatism. For family use nothing equals Nerviline.

We Moralists.

We like to regulate our neighbors, and mark for them the way; we would prescribe their fun and labors, their penalties and pay. We always have a text to back us, whatever stand we take; and our world doubts can never rack us, or make our conscience ache. For we are all so strictly pious, and free from spots and mire, that even the angels can't deny us the halos we desire. And since we have no streak of yellow—that must be understood—of course we chase the other fellow and try to make him good. We don't resort to moral sanction, or methods mild like that; we give his head severe abrasion, and try to break a snot. We show the road that you should travel, and if you halt or fail, we slug you with a chunk of gravel, and send you off to jail. We're bound to make this sad world better, and life a joyous hymn, e'en though we have to place a fetter on every human limb. In olden times the pious hermit was satisfied to train his spirit, or whatever you term it, in solitude and pain; but now the good man ups and hollers, and makes a mighty noise, and wants to put his chains and collars on all the other boys. And if this fable I am handing seems to you Greek or Dutch, and falls to hit your understanding, I cannot help it much.

Where Responsibility Lies.

No matter how large, or how small, a business may be, nobody can deny that its Office is the nerve centre of the firm. Every transaction, important or trivial, must be recorded at the Office. An order is received at the Office, its history is recorded at the Office, and finally payment is received at the Office. If the Office makes an error the firm stands the loss. That's why you must be sure that your office is modernly and dependably equipped for the care of all important papers. To do this effectively you need the up-to-date equipment of the "GLOBE-WERNICKE CO." When sixty offices in St. John's have found this necessity this equipment can surely be of use to you. Mr. Percie Johnson represents this world known firm in Newfoundland.—April 17th

Laddie Chartered For Hudson Bay.

The schr. Laddie, Capt. Harold Bartlett, has been chartered for Hudson Bay, whence she will take up the Canadian Government surveys that she brought down last season. Capt. Bartlett is now in town arranging for supplies for his vessel, which is now at Brigus, and will arrive here in about two weeks' time. After taking on board her supply of provisions she will sail for the northward.

POOR FISHERY PROSPECTS.

From passengers from Placentia Bay, who arrived in the city by last night's train, we learn that the fishery outlook is none too promising. At this date last year the western boats had landed good trips of fish from the Cape St. Mary's grounds, and very few of them have now 20 quintals under salt.

OUR SATURDAY EVENING HOME PAGE.

The Church in Eclipse.

The Rev. R. J. Campbell delivered an address of exceptional interest at a meeting of the City Temple of the Congregational Ministers' National "Fraternal," of which he is president. He discussed the marked decline of the Church in the life of the people, which he attributed not to any essential decrease of spirituality among the people or negligence on the part of the Churches, but to the tendency of the age to be preoccupied with material progress.

Mr. Campbell said that by universal admission things were today not so well with the Church of Christ as they used to be—at least outwardly. The Church as an organization, or congregations of organizations, was not making much headway. People did not make it the centre of their life; the culture of the devout life was not pursued as in past times. We had many more institutions of a social and philanthropic character, but purely devotional gatherings did not flourish. He did not agree with Mr. Charles Booth, who thought that if all the churches of London were eliminated there would be no appreciable difference in public life; but at the same time a great part of the talk at the May meetings was waste of breath.

Material Preoccupations of the Age. There must be something wrong. Was it the fault of the Church? No. The ministry was probably as good to-day as ever it was; its culture, devotion, and spiritual mindedness were unabated, and they were still at it with heart-searchings to discover in what way they fell short. It was not the failure of the Church to identify itself with the legitimate aspirations of the proletariat. They were told it was so, and they had invited the leaders of labour to the platform to scourge them. But working men would not have come to Church in greater numbers, even if the Church had fought their battles in the way they desired. They did not want to hear economics discussed from the pulpit, and if it were done they would be bored after the first Sunday.

Mr. Campbell concluded:—"Men tend to become like their pursuits, and the pursuits of the average man today are such that he cannot help himself. He is forced to think in terms of material good from early morning until late at night; what time has he for meditation and prayer? You see what we are making by our commercial and industrial civilization, and I think the tendency has farther to go yet before we see the end. Men have to find out their mistakes. Men see that the labour-saving, wealth-increasing appliances have not made life easier; burdens are heavier, the strain on brain and nerve is greater. Shall we go on with that for ever? Shall we not have to weigh whether our material gains are worth the cost?"

WASHING MADRAS CURTAINS.

For washing madras curtains use bran instead of soap. A quart of bran to a bucketful of water is the correct proportion. The water, after the bran has been boiled, should be strained, and the curtains dipped and squeezed in it while it is warm. Rinse in more bran water and press when nearly dry on the wrong side with a cool iron.

EASY WASH DAY.

For an easy wash day, without the trouble of running a washing machine, bending over a washboard, or the expense of washing compounds, the following recipe, which has been in use in my family for many years, is highly recommended, says a contributor to the Denver Times: First, let the clothes soak in lukewarm water for 20 or 30 minutes. Second, to a No. 9 wash boiler, two-thirds full of water, add two tablespoonfuls of kerosene (common lamp oil) and one bar of any kind of laundry soap (excepting naphtha) finely sliced. Put boiler on stove and let the mixture of water, oil and soap come to boil; then put the clothes, which have been soaked in the lukewarm water the required length of time, into the boiling solution and let boil for ten minutes, after which take clothes out, rinse in cold water, and wring. Should any of the clothes bear a deep grease stain, a few light rubs on the washboard are necessary. If the above directions are followed, the result will be clean clothes, bearing no odor of oil whatsoever, and a wash day made easy at a cost of not more than 25 cents for fuel, water, oil and soap.

FEEDING FOR LARGE EGGS.

Experiments have been carried out by the French Academy of Sciences to test the effect of feeding on the quality and size of eggs to find out how to produce the biggest eggs. Three lots of ducks were fed on flesh, fish and vegetables. Those fed on the fish diet laid the greatest number of eggs, but they were of the poorest quality. The heaviest eggs were laid by those fed on the flesh diet, whilst those fed on pure grain diet also beat the fish-fed birds both for quality and weight of egg.

THE RASPBERRY.

It is a very small garden indeed in which a place cannot be found for a few raspberry bushes—say, a dozen. They are easy to grow and there is now an ever-bearing raspberry so-called, which may be depended upon to yield fruit for three months.

The red and purple raspberries both should find a place in the home garden; while the former are unexcelled for the table, the purple varieties are superior for canning. The Black Caps may be grown, too, if there is room in plenty. Some people think they make the best pies.

Raspberry plants should be set out just as early as possible in the spring, and sharply cut back. The ever-bearing variety will produce some fruit the first season. It is best to set raspberry plants about two feet apart in the home garden, with six feet between the rows, if double shoots are planted. Every spring the shoots should be cut back one-third, and after the fruiting season is over, the old wood should be cut out. Many new shoots will come up and a large proportion of them are best removed.

The fruit produced next season will come on the canes grown this year and these canes will then die. That is the reason for cutting out all the old wood each summer; and if done without delay, any insects or fungi that the wood may be harboring can be destroyed by burning. If more plants are needed, it is necessary only to dig up some of the new shoots either in the fall or spring. There will be no need of buying plants after the first purchase. Blackberries may be treated in the same manner as raspberries, but need more room.

FOWLS.

Fowls should always be allowed to have a run and a scratch before they are fed in the morning, as they appear to enjoy their breakfast much better afterwards. When they do not run after their food greedily, a meal should be missed, than the birds will generally eat their next food with avidity; if not, they should have a dose of Epsom salts, followed by a daily dose of roup powder for a week or ten days.

In addition to the supply of grit and shell in their run, laying hens should have flint dust added to their soft food, allowing one teaspoonful for each bird every day. Where this advice is followed, shell-less eggs are unknown, and these should always be avoided, otherwise the birds will become egg-eaters through acquiring the taste for eggs by first devouring shell-less eggs.

ORIGIN OF BLANKETS.

The cold winter of 1340 gave us the blanket. Its inventor, Thomas Blanket, was a Flemish merchant, settled in Bristol, and fallen from affluence to want. He and his wife suffering from the intense cold by reason of scanty bedding and lack of fuel, he searched for something to put on the bed to increase the warmth, and hit on a piece of rough unfinished cloth that had been thrown to waste. Its success as a warmth-giver suggested the manufacture of special bed covers of the same material, and these articles, to which he gave his own name, won him wealth and immortality.—London Chronicle.

THE DIVORCE.

The divorce had been granted. Their only child had been given to the mother, but after the final decree they met and the young woman said, "I am willing to let you have the baby half of the time." "Good!" cried the father, with satisfaction. "That's fine!" "Yes," resumed the fair, yet so unkind, divorcee calmly; "you may have him nights."—Dorothy D. Lake in Lippincott's.

THE ARCHBISHOP OF CANTERBURY.

The Archbishop of Canterbury, speaking at a high school recently, told an amusing story of an experience of his own. He was visiting a school, and the head master, wishing to impress the scholars with the importance of the occasion, announced "is Grace's title and then asked of the class: "What do you know about Canterbury?" Faced with such a vague question, the boys remained silent, until, after repeated pressing, a little chap put up his hand and shouted: "Where mother gets her frozen lamb from."—The Educational Times.

Before the passage of the present strict banking laws in Wisconsin, starting a bank was a comparatively simple proposition. The surprising small amount of capital needed is well illustrated by the story a prosperous country town banker told on himself when asked how he happened to enter the banking business. "Well," he said, "I didn't have much else to do, so I rented an empty store-building and painted 'Bank' on the window. The first day I was open for business a man came in and deposited a hundred dollars with me; the second day another man dropped in and deposited two hundred and fifty; and so, by George, along about the third day I got confidence enough in the bank to put in a hundred myself!"—Everybody's Magazine.

"Yes, he ain't five." "Five!" growled the conductor. "Go on! He's fourteen if he's a day." "Oh, no," pleaded Izri, in true Yiddish fashion. "He can't

A Collection of Wesleyana.

The collection of Wesleyana formed by the late Mr. Joseph G. Wright was sold at Messrs. Sotheby's, attracting a large number of collectors and others interested in Wesleyan Methodism. The collection, which was in 112 lots and realized £245 34s. 6d., included busts and plaques of John Wesley, autograph letters and prints of the Wesley family and of prominent Wesleyans, and books of the three Wesleys. A series of 17 autograph letters of John Wesley, and various other documents, fetched £81; and a collection of about 450 portraits of the Wesley family, and many of which are of the greatest rarity, £42.

Good Stories From The Magazines.

There was no more popular figure in early Victorian society than Lord North's daughter, Lady Charlotte Lindsay, whose ready wit made her friends forget that plainness of face and figure she herself so often joked about. It was Lady Lindsay who once set London laughing with one of her excuses. Arriving late for dinner at Holland House, she apologized to her hostess, saying: "I am exceedingly sorry, but, really, the roads are so macadamable."—"Woman as Wits," by Joseph Heighton, in The Strand Magazine.

She was a pretty young schoolmistress, and was reading sentences to her class, letting them supply the last word.

"The sphinx," she read, "has eyes but it cannot—"

"See!" cried the children.

"Has ears, but it cannot—"

"Hear!" they responded.

"Has a mouth, but it cannot—"

"Eat!" came the chorus.

"Has a nose, but it cannot—"

"Wipe it!" thundered the class.

—Windsor Magazine.

A certain amount of jealousy was popularly supposed to exist between the dignified, slow-moving vicar and his earnest, energetic young curate. The parishioners, however, never overlooked the fact that it was from the vicarage they must expect such material benefits as calf's-foot jelly and bed-socks. The vicar had just returned from his annual month's vacation, spent in Italy, and was making a round of the district. At a cottage door he came across an addition to the flock in the arms of his fond mamma. After inquiring its name, he said, "I sincerely hope the little fellow has been baptized?" "Oh, well, sir," replied the taciturn mother, with a curtesy, "I should not like to go so far as to say that—you being away—but your young man came round and did what he could."—Pearson's Magazine.

The Cry Of a Woman.

The Forum contains a spirited poem by Victor Starbuck, and is reminiscent of the myriad songs which have heralded each advance of the race. We quote one or two verses:

"Behold me come, for Womanhood is waking!
Before us break and fall the rusting bars.
Lo, to the winds new banners are we shaking,
The olive-leaf for ancient wars and scars;
We stand, at last, where fadeless morn is breaking,
Our feet upon the stars.

"Before our eyes undreamed horizons widen;
The shadows vanish and the vapours shift.
We ask not for the trump, the torch, the gaidon,
But for the wings that soar, the dreams that lift;
And from the mists where we have long abided
We claim the perfect gift.

"We cannot fail. Behind us press the others—
The million generations yet to be.
They urge us ever on, O men and brothers,
To bear the torch for all humanity.
And we, who have been and who shall be mothers—
Shall not we, too, be Free?"

There is a cry from the forgotten reaches;
The voiceless deep-below-the-deep is stirred.
The hills give tongue, and earth's remotest beaches
Fling echoes of the message long deferred—
A voice that prophesies, exults and teaches—
The Cry . . . and it is heard!

The Value of Oranges.

It is now being generally admitted that sun-ripened fruit has therapeutic and sustaining values which the chemist cannot locate. . . . It is not too much to say that every organ of the body is helped in its action by a liberal diet of sweet, juicy oranges. Eat them freely, and make a complete meal of them now and again. With wheatmeal bread and butter they are rich and nourishing. The panel doctor must rejoice when he sees his patients using these beautiful articles of food. He knows they will not want his prescription—they have something better—the food medicine which Nature alone can compound.—J.N. in The Vegetarian Messenger.

Capt Amundsen's North Polar Expedition

Which, as originally planned, was to have sailed in the summer of 1913, and was postponed for a year in order to give his scientific staff more time for preliminary studies and training, has now again been postponed for a year; this time because it appears that the "Fram," the vessel in which the expedition is to sail, cannot reach San Francisco in time for an early start from that port. Last year the little vessel sailed from Buenos Ayres to Colon, in the expectation of proceeding thence via the Panama Canal; on account of the delay in the opening of the latter, this route was finally abandoned, and the "Fram" started on the long journey around the continent, in which she is now engaged. The further postponement of the expedition will be turned to advantage, especially in giving the explorers time to become expert in the use of the aeroplanes, three of which are to be included in the equipment of the expedition.

Try Again.

You have, it may be, used ointments, pastes, lotions for Eczema till you begin to get tired of trying things. Well, but you should remember that science is advancing all the time, and that what was not possible yesterday can be accomplished to-day. If you neglect to try Zylex—the newest and best thing that science has yet to offer for the relief and cure of Eczema and other annoying and disgusting skin diseases—you are missing a great opportunity. It may be that it will cure you. It has cured some very bad cases. Price 50c. a box. Zylex Soap, 25c. a cake.

Municipal Muddling.

J. G. Leigh's indictment in the Economic Review of our municipal methods is well worthy of perusal, and many will be found to agree that "the average municipal election is a farce," and that "it is of all things most foolish that men should stand for municipal management as Tories or Whigs." The general conduct of affairs is the same all over the country, whatever the political coloring of the Councils, and while there is nothing "savouring of corruption" there is "ample evidence of waste." The writer recommends the adoption of the American method of government by Commission; the central idea of which is "to substitute business methods and scientific management for the old system of political controversy." In effect, to replace the amateur politician by the expert administrator. The Commission system has proved so successful in the United States that over 186 cities adopted the new method between 1906 and 1912. The expert naturally demands a high salary for his services, but the community reaps an ample reward in enhanced efficiency. The writer concludes:

It may be that our national instincts of government will not permit us to take the plunge—quite so boldly as our American cousins have taken it; but the fact remains that one of the sorest needs of the England of to-day is a deeper interest in municipal affairs, and a severance of those affairs from the party politics for which much can be said in their relation with matters of State. We need to know of those to whom we entrust the important matters of local management, not that they have this or that belief as regards questions of Imperial moment, but that they are enlightened enthusiasts for economic and efficient government of our cities and towns. We are only at the beginning of municipal efficiency. There is yet much to be accomplished, both in respect of research and of the application of research. But it is very doubtful if this can be done the while we employ busy politicians who can only give a small portion of their time, no matter how well-meaning they may be, to the affairs of the municipality. Sooner or later we shall be compelled to provide a class of professional municipal administrators.

Railway Nationalization.

Mr. Emil Davies, chairman of the Railway Nationalization Society, gave evidence on Friday last before the Royal Commission upon Railways.

The witness, dealing with the question of fares, advocated uniformity of charges. He said that what was wanted was a regular mileage rate through the whole railway system of the country. Mr. Davies added that the ordinary fares upon the State railways of Europe was very much lower than in England, the difference being in some cases as much as 50 per cent. He admitted that the profits earned by the State railways were not so large as those obtained by the private companies in this country.

Mr. Davies estimated that to nationalize the railways in this country, at 25 years' purchase, it would be necessary to issue 3 per cent. stock of the value of £973,000,000. This would mean that the State would issue stock bearing interest at £32,000,000 and acquire property bringing in a profit of £52,000,000. The nationalization of the railways would result in a saving of £10,000,000 a year in working expenses.—Times, May 15.

Truro, May 28.—David Pearson, living in a house on his farm at Harmony, a short distance from Truro, was killed this morning during a heavy storm. The electric bolt struck Pearson as he was entering the door. The house was damaged considerably. Deceased was well-known and is related to many of the name in this county.

Dogma or Religion?

What does the ordinary man think of all these contentions about High Church and Low, orders, and succession, Catholic and Protestant, Roman and Anglican? Do they not all sound unreal to him, when he is perplexed about the very foundations of faith and morals? Many things that his fathers believed without question are to him impossible. Science and criticism have given him a new conception of the world. Is it not patent that the vast masses of the people stand outside all Churches? If the Church is to recover her influence with the masses, with the artisans, and with the intellectual classes, it will never be by refusing to recognize the profound influence of modern thought or by not meeting it openly.

The critical school merely reflects some part of what the ordinary man is thinking. There are high ecclesiastics who are prepared to admit criticism up to a point, but who draw a barrier at what they deem to be essential. But the plain man draws no barriers. Criticism, if valid at all, is valid everywhere. Nor can the Church ignore questions which are discussed vigorously and without reserve day by day in the halfpenny press.

Many religious souls in these days are fearful, because the dogmatic foundations to which they have chained themselves seem slipping away. But dogma is not religion, and for religion there is no fear. So long as man is a creature of mystery, and infinite being himself, reaches out toward infinity, so long will he need religion and a Church wherein he may seek after God in communion with his fellow men.

Meanwhile, taught by the past and looking forward to the future, it is our clear duty so to act that we may hand on to our children intact the heritage of a Common Church, so far as the intolerance and frailty of our ancestors has preserved it to us.—A writer in The Round Table.

About Bells.

The April number of The Monthly contains a very interesting article, by C. F. Page, on Bells. The writer tells of their great antiquity, and some of the various uses to which they were put in the ancient world. Small bells came early into use in the Christian Church in this country. Bede makes reference to one which Benedict brought from Italy for his abbey at Wearmouth about 680, and from him we also learn that bells were in use about that time at Whitby Abbey. In connection with the different offices of the Church there were the Ave Maria bell, the Vesper bell, and the Sanctus bell. Another special bell, the Curfew, played a part in our national life in Norman times. Probably these early bells were cast by the monks. "Great Tom" of Lincoln was cast in the Minster yard in 1610, and the great bell of Canterbury was cast in the cathedral yard in 1762. Nevertheless, bell-founding had become a trade, and some of the founders are three or four centuries old. The art of bell-founding is anything but an easy one, the "tone" being so difficult to secure. Much depends on the composition of the metal, but very much more on the size and shape of the bell. Bell-metal is a compound of copper and tin, in the proportions of four parts of copper to one part of tin. Only a few bells are constructed of steel. Steel bells are said to have a sweet tone, but they do not possess the prolonged vibration of bells cast of bell-metal. Dates, the names of the founders, and mottoes are often inscribed on bells. The bell at the Kremlin, in Moscow, weighs nearly 200 tons; the great bell at Pekin, over 53 tons; "Great Peter," of York, 10 tons 15 cwt.; and "Great Tom," of Lincoln, and the great bell of St. Paul's, each over 5 tons.

The Practice of the Presence of God.

To the soul who makes the practice of the presence of God a reality, all growth is possible. To put oneself, mentally, into the presence of God, at first requires an effort. But the wonderful gain repays manifold.

As one stands thus in God's presence many things which have been paramount in our thoughts fade away; we gain a clearer perspective of life. We see the things which may be cut out of our life; the things which are really essential. We gain in dignity, in poise, in grandeur, sweetness, clearness of thought, greatness of soul.

The habit of practising the presence of God is one which we cannot do without. Our lives will never assume their true beauty and joy apart from this. Just to come quietly into His presence, then to wait with folded wings, as it were, waiting to hear what He will say to us. Oh, the wonderful clearing up of trials, weaknesses, wrongs, the width of view attained, the responsive willingness to say, "Lord, I am here, send me!"

And, as daily this coming into His presence becomes habitual, we pre-

The Practice of the Presence of God. Knowledge of Words.

Knowledge of words gives one not only appreciation of precision and force in the use of words but it opens up whole pages of beauty. Indeed I know of few things so delightfully or so rewarding as a careful study of words and language, says a writer in the Woman's Home Companion. It is amazing, too, the progress one can make with only seven or eight moments devoted to the study each day. A page of great prose or poetry carefully and thoughtfully read, read aloud preferably, with a kind of dwelling of the mind on each word and phrase; five or six words looked up in a good dictionary and their meanings and definitions carefully studied; a few of one's own thoughts carefully expressed in writing with the word each searching for the right word each time; the daily use for reference or study of a good book of synonyms, and before you know it your English will be vastly improved and words a distinct pleasure to you.
