CHAPTER VI.

Mr. Walker was at home and at the muffins. To him Clarence Clifford communicated the lawyer's visit and its purport, and he could scarce refrain from smiling at the expression which his intelligence produced upon his employer's face.

Heartily congratulations at his good fortune mingled with dismay at his own ill luck in thus losing so valuable a servant.

"Well!" he said, "It's just my luck! I never had a particularly good nag but it broke its neck or leg or darned something. Now you get five thousand a year dropped into your mouth and I'm diddled of a clean head and a gentleman! But you don't look over excited. Perhaps you're used to this sort of thing!" he added, with a rueful sarcasm.

Clarence Clifford shook his head. "I have not realized it yet," he said gravely. "It may be a hoax; it may be—"

"No, no," said Mr. Walker. "It's true enough, I'll bet you anything. I know my bad luck too well. There—if you won't have any muffins—set to bed. You look as knocked out as a felled owl."

Only too glad to retire to his small but comfortable room, Mr. Clifford said, "Good-night."

In the morning he awoke, convinced himself that the occurrences of last night were not the fleeting phases of a dream, and set out for the office.

Mr. Walker was there before him and looked undisguisedly astonished at his appearance.

"Hello! didn't expect you. Men with five thousand to wake up to don't come flinching about their late business."

Mr. Clifford shook his head gravely. "I am still your servant and will do my duty, until we part—if we do," he added, significantly.

"If we do, ah!" retorted Mr. Walker sarcastically. "Well, I know your obstinacy, so there's the letters, but mind, don't you miss Snarley Yard, tea o'clock, and let us hear whether it's a hoax or not."

So saying he walked off disconsolately and his clerk opened the letters as usual.

He worked up to the half hour, then put on his hat and walked—not hurriedly but with his usual business pace—to Snarley Yard.

MRS. B. H. HART SICK FOR YEARS

Wants Women to Know How She Was Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Cornwall, Ont.—"I am now giving your medicine a fair trial and it surely is doing me good and I am going to keep on taking it. I used to feel so tired in the morning that I didn't want to get up, but that feeling is leaving me now. I also sleep better and feel more like working. For seven or eight years I have had headaches, tired feelings, pains in my back and across my body. I read letters in the newspapers saying what good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done others. My husband says I quit too soon, but I am not going to stop taking the Vegetable Compound and Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine until I am better and haven't an ache or a pain. I don't think that the right way. I have great faith in your medicines. They must be good when those who take them speak so highly of them. I am recommending them to my friends and I will gladly answer letters from women asking about them."—Mrs. B. H. Hart, Box 1081, Cornwall, Ont. Mrs. Hart is willing to answer letters from sick women asking about the Vegetable Compound.

Yard, Lincoln's Inn, and the interest forthcoming to be paid immediately to one Clarence Clifford, tutor to Sir Ralph Melville, of Rivershall, in the County of Berks. For whose, the said Clarence Clifford's, forgiveness, I, a sinful, dying man, do pray and implore. "Judge not lest ye be judged."

Divested of its five thousand unnecessary words and legal technicalities, this was the gist of the deed as Mr. Ffibs explained it.

Clarence Clifford listened with a fast-beating heart, and at its conclusion covered his face with his hands.

Mr. Ffibs, who watched him with dry curiosity, laid the document before him, and waited till the gust of emotion had blown over.

Presently the young man looked up. "One question, sir?"

"A hundred, sir, if you please," said Mr. Ffibs, significantly. "I am at your service, quite at your service."

"Did you—did you know this gentleman?"

"I had the pleasure of the late Mr. James Clifford's acquaintance. I was his legal adviser."

Mr. Clarence Clifford inclined his head.

"Can you tell me—the slightest scrap of information will be eagerly welcomed—anything of him? Was he old—was he—Oh, sir, was he my father?"

Mr. Ffibs coughed before replying; the large, eager eyes were fixed upon him, the handsome lips trembling visibly.

"I have no means of knowing," said the lawyer. "Mr. James Clifford was an exceedingly reserved, I may say close man. I never learned anything in confidence from him which would lead me to think he had a son."

"He—he was married?"

"No. A single gentleman. Never married that I am aware of."

Clarence Clifford groaned, and his face worked.

The lawyer politely turned his head aside and fingered his letters so as not to add to his client's embarrassment.

The storm passed—kept down, rather, by a strong man's strong will.

"You can tell me nothing of the testator? You knew him; when did you see him last?"

"Six months ago," said the lawyer. "I was staying at Lausanne for the benefit of my health, and there and then drew up this document."

"When did he—die?" asked the heir, thirsting for information of any sort calculated to set his tortured fears at rest, or turn them to dreadful certainties.

"Mr. James Clifford died—let me see—four months ago—in September last. This is the certificate of his death and burial."

Mr. Clifford took it, and perused it with swimming eyes and equally swimming brain, then suddenly laying the document on the table started the lawyer with this question:

"Which is the quickest route to and the quickest way of reaching this place, Lausanne?"

"Via Paris," replied Mr. Ffibs. "May I ask if you contemplate the journey?"

The young man nodded.

"I do, sir; this mystery, this dreadful uncertainty is driving me mad. You expected me, I see it by your face, to grasp this legacy and go away rejoicing. I tell you, sir, that something else has fallen to me beside the filthy lucre, that is the hope of ascertaining the name and history of my father."

Mr. Ffibs bowed, utterly unmoved by the suppressed passion and grief proclaiming themselves in the pale, set face and voice.

"I have been planning since Christmas, 1924, to visit my parents in Newfoundland on my vacation this summer. My salary being $25 a week, I have had to deprive myself of many enjoyments so save enough."

"But, unfortunately, my dear dad died in March (he was 83), and it took all I had saved to give him a decent burial. Now I've been trying my best to save for a visit to my mother, who is all alone."

"I love the water and the trip would give me no end of pleasure. Besides, since I would see my mother, it would be the most wonderful vacation I could wish for. I know I should come back with a heart full of joy, a great gain in health, and would work harder than ever to achieve success, and to make the one and only real pal in the world—my mother—happy."

Newfoundland is still a great wild country. One can go there either by boat, direct from New York, or by rail and boat. The trip takes from three to five days, but Mr. Lawler remembers the winter when he spent three weeks crossing the Gulf between Nova Scotia and Newfoundland when his boat got caught in a pack of ice.

Mr. Lawler's home is in Newfoundland, in the town of Placentia, eighty miles from St. John's on the narrow gauge line—the only line in Newfoundland. There, until a few years ago, he followed the life of the sea as a fisherman, as do most of the men in Newfoundland. Later he followed the same occupation in Alaska.

But two years ago he decided there was something better in life for him than being a fisherman, so he came to New York. He is a clerk in a cigar store at 675 Fulton Street, Brooklyn. But let him tell his own story in the following letter, which wins him the $100 prize:

It was short, and in plain phraseology signified that one James Clifford, of Lausanne, a Swiss canton, bequeathed first the sum of one thousand pounds to the hospital for the sick and incurable at Geneva, and the sole and whole remainder of his estate, which was to be sold and invested by James Ffibs, of Snarley

EX-FISHERMAN GOING BACK TO NEWFOUNDLAND TO SEE MOTHER.

From a life of roughing it in the salt sea air on the cod banks of New Alaska to selling smokes behind the counter of a cigar store in the world's busiest and, perhaps, largest city, is certainly a fast stride.

And when the call of the homeland comes once more, who wouldn't thrill at the thought of going back, especially when the return means a re-union with old friends, with relatives, and, most of all, with mother?

J. T. Lawler, 163 South Oxford St., Brooklyn, is the man whom all this mostly concerns. For Mr. Lawler is the first to win a prize in the Sunday News Vacation letter contest. He gets this week's $100 prize in accordance with the terms announced last Sunday.

But he is only the first. There are going to be other prizes of $100 each every Sunday for the writers of the best letters on the subject, "My Plans for a Vacation." For every letter published $100 will be paid.

Court of Common Pleas

(Reprinted from "Ag. Reporter" of May 8, 1925).

KINCH VS. WILBERT TAYLOR.

There was a sitting of the Court of Common Pleas at 11 a.m. on Wednesday last. His Honor Sir William Chantler, acting Chief Justice, presiding, when there came on for hearing an action brought by Mr. C. H. Kinch, M.C.P., commission merchant of Palmetto Street, in which he claimed from Mr. Wilbert Taylor, formerly a clerk in his employ, the sum of $283.19. 9, moneys for goods sold and delivered to the defendant, and also money loaned to him.

The defendant, in his statement of defence, made a counter claim that the plaintiff owed him $300, this being his commission for four years, at 275 per year, while he was in the employ of the plaintiff.

Mr. H. W. Reese, K.C., Solicitor General, instructed by Mr. Stanley Patterson, solicitor, appeared for the plaintiff. Defendant was represented by Mr. E. Keith Walcott, Barrister-at-law, associated with Mr. E. R. L. Ward, Barrister-at-law, and instructed by Mr. W. St. Clair Hutchinson, solicitor.

After evidence for both sides had been heard, Counsel on both sides then addressed the Court and His Honor summed up.

The jury retired for about 15 minutes to consider their verdict, and on their return to Court found that the $200 claimed by the defendant was due him by the plaintiff. They were of opinion that the plaintiff had agreed to pay the defendant a sum of $25 monthly and the $275 commission claimed for each year.

Judgment was accordingly entered for the defendant and in favour of the counter-claim with costs.

Economical New Charcoal Fuel Discovered

After four years of experiment, Dr. Hugo Strache, a professor of the Vienna Technical College in Austria, recently announced that he had perfected an invention for making a cheap new charcoal having the same number of calories as the best grade English anthracite coal, namely 8000.

A small plant for the production of the charcoal already is in operation, proving, it is claimed, that the invention can be developed for commercial uses. The cost of production is said to be low, owing to the valuable coal tar by products. Wood, wood shavings, and waste can be utilized in making the charcoal.

Serve pineapple ice in glasses of pineapple ads with whipped cream.

Never use the large white onions or the yellow variety for sandwiches. Sweeten bran bread with molasses and add a few chopped walnut meats.

Table meats which come in sets save laundry work during the summer. Add a little prepared salad dressing just before serving tomato rarebit.

A hot sauce made with the berries is nice served with berry roly-poly.

Season the breadcrumb dressing for roast meat with chopped fresh mint.

Young German Invents Handy Water Skis

Using the same motions with which skiers glide over icy mountain slopes, Otto Saur, a young German inventor, crosses lakes and rivers. The water skis, which he perfected recently and demonstrated on a lake near Berlin, are the result of several years of study.

The skis are connected by braces that can be adjusted by thumbcrews to suit the skier's convenience. He propels himself with paddles.

Great Britain Threatened With a General Coal Strike

Liberals and Labour Seek an Understanding to Avoid Three-Corner Contests--British Columbian Started for the Pole Yesterday--Four Local Unions Reject Besco Proposals.

TO AVOID THREE-CORNERED CONTESTS.

LONDON, June 22. According to the Westminster Gazette discussions are proceeding among members of the moderate section of the Labor Party in Great Britain on the question of the possibility of an understanding being reached between the Labor and the Liberal Party to avoid three-cornered contests in the next general election.

MINERS' STRIKE IN BRITAIN POSSIBLE.

LONDON, June 22. A possible general strike in the coal mining industry in Great Britain is being considered. Unless some compromise is reached in the next few weeks a strike or lockout is almost certain, with resultant peril to the trade of the country. The miners' federation will hold a final conference of delegates from all Britain in London on July 3 to consider action.

STARTS FOR NORTH POLE.

LIVERPOOL, Eng., June 22. Grettir Alagarsson, the Victoria, B. C. explorer who has been planning an effort to reach the North Pole in a small dirigible, started from the Mersey this afternoon in what he said was to be an attempt to reach the farthest north.

ANTHRACITE DISPUTE NEXT.

NEW YORK, June 22. Representatives of 150,000 anthracite coal miners of Pennsylvania will meet in Scranton, Pa., on June 29th, and formulate demands to be served on the supply committee of anthracite operators for embodiment in a new agreement. The present agreement expires August 31st. Advances which have reached New York indicate the Corporation will probably ask for a 15 or 20 percent decrease in wages and the miners for a ten per cent increase. If both sides adhere to the apparent programme, suspension of activity in the hard coal fields is likely to occur on September first, but no protracted strike is expected.

SAMEEN PREPARED FOR EMERGENCIES.

CANTON, June 22. Sameen, the artificial island which is Canton's foreign settlement, today was in a stage of siege. Two gunboats, one British and one French, had a commanding position in the creek separating Sameen from the city. All approaches to the island were fortified with piled-up sand bags and quick firing guns, testifying to the preparedness of the foreign forces for emergencies.

GOOD WHEAT CROP EXPECTED.

WINNIPEG, June 22. Heavy rains during the last two weeks together with the moderately cool drying weather of the past few days have combined to hold out promise for an exceptionally good wheat crop throughout the prairie provinces. This likelihood of a large crop has given rise to a very optimistic spirit, but it is in itself no guarantee of prosperity, as the value of the crop to the Canadian people is dependent upon world supply.

BRITISH STEAMER AFIRE.

HAVRE, France, June 22. Fire to-day aboard the British steamer Lowther Castle, anchored here, destroyed almost two thousand tons of cotton, lumber and grain and damaged the vessel.

A COSTLY COMMITTEE.

OTTAWA, June 22. The special committee of the House of Commons which investigated the Petersen ship subsidy contract has cost in operation to date $13,454 exclusive of Counsel's fees. A statement filed in the House to-day shows the services of Auditor Gordon Scott, Montreal, who audited the shipping cost books for the committee, involved an expenditure of $1326 and printing costs of $3506.

NOT ONE VOTED OUT.

TORONTO, Ont., June 22. The Church Union Bureau of Information to-day issued the following statement: "A total of 43 congregations in Manitoba and New Brunswick reported as voting yesterday to remain in the United Church of Canada. Not one Church is reported to have voted out." The voting in these two provinces is by show of hands at congregational meetings.

TO AID AGRICULTURE.

OTTAWA, June 22. The Government's rural credit legislation received a first reading in the Commons to-day. The resolution on which the bill is based provides that the Government may advance money to the sum of ten million dollars to pay one or more of the Provincial Governments for the purpose of assisting agriculture by enabling the Province to make terms of loans to farmers. The advance, it is provided, shall be secured by issue and delivery of bonds of the Provincial to the Dominion Government.

BESCO'S PROPOSALS REJECTED BY SOME UNIONS.

SYDNEY, N.S., June 22. Interest in the British Empire Steel Corporation's proposal for a settlement of the Nova Scotia coal problems attaches at the moment to what International President J. L. Lewis, of the United Mine Workers of America, may say. Pending some word from him the local executive is remaining quiet and the Corporation is saying nothing. However, four of the local unions and the upwards of twenty in the province have rejected the proposals, mainly mechanics, Birch Grove, number 14, and on the mainland, Springhill. The heads of the local unions were supplied the copies on Saturday for their information. Sub poenas are being issued for the investigation into the shooting of William Davis, at New Waterford, on June 11, and this enquiry, together with the Supreme Court opening on June 30, when the trials of lodging charges will be held, share interest with any developments which might arise out of the settlement proposals. There is conjecture as to whether or not Hon. James Murdock or E. McQuirk, of the Federal Labor Department, may visit Cape Breton to renew Mr. Murdock's attempts at conciliation. Interest in Thursday's Provincial elections largely overshadowed the minor developments of the past few days in the commercial-industrial situation. Five men, who are charged with interfering and illegal picketing came up before Stipendiary Magistrate Nicholson to-day at Glace Bay, and were remanded until next Monday.

BALLOTING SATISFACTORY.

WINNIPEG, Man., June 22. Returns are very gratifying, declared Rev. Dr. J. A. Cormie, chairman of the Manitoba Presbyterian Committee which handled the Church Union balloting in this province.

SOCIALISTS ARE DIVIDED.

PARIS, June 22. Socialist members of the French Chamber of Deputies are as uncertain as ever whether to break with Premier Painleve. A poll of 104 Socialists resulted in some voting to withdraw support from the Cabinet while thirty-five favored partial assistance to the Government.

MARTIAL LAW MAY BE DECLARED.

SHANGHAI, June 22. It was reported to-day that General Chang Hsuen Liang may declare martial law in the Chinese districts adjoining the foreign settlement.

APPLICATION GRANTED FOR POWER PROJECT.

WASHINGTON, June 22. The International Joint Waterways Commission decided to-day to grant the application of the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission to construct a power project at Grand Falls within a few miles of the international boundary.

Re-Opening Limestone Quarry

Passengers from the West Coast say that the limestone quarry at Port au Port leased by the Besco Co., which has been idle since July, 1924, may be worked for a couple of weeks to quarry and ship a sample cargo of stone it is said for the American market. This may not have any significance, but there are those who see in it if not a transfer of the property a hope at least that this sample lot may create a demand for the stone in the United States. The wish is no doubt father to the thought for while much may not be expected of a stone quarry in the ways of permanency of employment, yet this particular one has fallen so short of what was hoped for in this respect there seems slight chance for improvement, while in the hands of its present lessee.

UBLY AND LUM.

On the road to Pointe Aux Barques, Situated in the Thumb, Is a narrow sign which marks Roads to Uby and to Lum; And I think as I go by I must visit them some day, Lum is toward the western sky Uby can't be far away.

Uby has a gurgling name Like the bubbling of a spring And I wonder whence it came. Lum is quite another thing, And I chuckle soft and low At those arrows, cold and dumb, Showing me the way to go On to Uby or to Lum.

Well I know, some summer day, As that arrow points I'll turn And go journeying down the way Where the lights of Uby burn; For those names are holding me Like a tune the minstrel's strum, And I wonder what can be In the little town of Lum.

So this ditty now I sing To those towns of Michigan, Whose quaint names have such a ring They've entranced this city man. Lovely Uby, very sooty, As the arrow points I'll come, And before another June I must surely visit Lum.

Report of Lecture

A STANDARD FOR THE PEOPLE.

Millions Now Living Will Never Die.

At the Victoria Mall at 7 p.m. Sunday evening, Mr. A. Horwood, one of the speakers of the International Bible Students Association, discussed the proposition that what the people need at this time is a standard to which they can rally and to which they will devote their lives and that such a standard is now in our midst.

The speaker said: It must be very apparent that with the League of Nations is an admitted failure even by the ones that originated it and with some seventy nations of different resources different languages and different ideals each striving to solve its own problems to the best advantage there is nothing that the world more needs than just such a standard. The Prophet Isaiah indicates just what the standard for the people will be when he says to come go through, go through the gates, prepare ye the way of the people, cast up cast up the highway, gather out the stones, lift up a standard for the people. Behold the Lord hath proclaimed unto the end of the world say ye to the daughter of Zion. Behold thy salvation cometh, behold thy reward is with him and his work before him (Isa. 62:10-11).

What are those gates through which some are to go and as a consequence a standard is to be lifted up for the people? And who are these who are to pass through them? The succeeding verse says that "they shall call them a holy people the redeemed of the Lord" and we thus identify them as the church of this gospel age. The gates are gates of consecration and anointing of the spirit and faithfulness even unto death.

It is a mistaken idea that any general way for the people has yet been prepared. Of all the people on the earth, two thirds have never even heard of the only name whereby Heaven and amongst men whereby we must be saved. It is obvious then that if any way of salvation is to open for these it must be in the future.

The scriptures show over and over again that the people are to have their eternal interests well guarded. They are to have the chance to choose for themselves whether they will have "life and good" or "death and evil"; tears are to be wiped away from off all faces. They are to sit every man under his own vine and fig tree with neither visible nor invisible foes of any kind to molest their happiness. They are to dwell safely, and in confidence they are to have peace and quiet and assurance forever with all oppressors forever gone. They are to have the pure truth, comfort for their past sorrows and everlasting joy and gladness for their future inheritance. They are to love their neighbours as themselves, to be protected from falling into error, to be instructed fully in the ways of righteousness, to understand the scriptures as one man, and together to see the proud abased, the lowly exalted, the crooked things straightened out, and the rough places in life made smooth.

They are to be released from sickness. They are to have their sins forgiven. They are to see the Salvation of God. They are to be led up over the Highway of Holiness. They are to be made all righteous and they are to know the Lord from the least even unto the greatest. There is to be adoration of God in every heart; there are to be grander opportunities for worshipping Him than earth has ever yet seen. Goodness and prosperity are to be on every side and every knee is gladly to bow and every tongue is gladly to confess the love and mercy and power of God.

All these things are definitely promised in the scriptures as coming to the people in the age now opening up. The way for them is in process of preparation. The highway is in process of being cast up. We may even identify some of the stumbling stones that are being gathered out.

One of them we designate as "eternal torture stinking stones." How many honest men have stumbled here not being able to see how a God of infinite wisdom could have planned to badly, nor how a God of love could have been so unloving, nor how a God of justice could have been so unjust as to consent to such an arrangement. A great relief comes to these men now as they find that the scriptures countenance no such unwise, unjust and unloving plan. Now they find that the words supposed to teach this convey no such thought and the parables and dark sayings of our Lord supposed to sanction it all, all coming to be clearly understood and to have no such meaning.

The text chosen for the study of the day shows that the passage of these truthlovers through these gates and the casting up of a highway for the people, and the gathering out of the stumbling stones from that way are at the same time lifting up a standard for the people. That standard is the one who said of Himself, "I am the way and the truth and the life." Of Him the Prophet said: "In that day there shall be a root of Jesse which shall stand for a sign of the people, to it shall the gentiles seek and his rest shall be glorious—Isa. 53:10.

The words "standard" and "ensign" are not different words in the original Hebrew. They are from one and the same word. Our Lord Jesus, His way, His truth, His life, constitute the standard for the people, the ensign to which all the nations will flock in the age now dawning.

The standards the ensign of the past have been the centres around which men have fought and died and though the millions have rallied to their support the end was disappointment. To the new ensign the people will rally not for death, but for life and the end will be glorious.

France's Obligations

France will have to meet this year maturing obligations totalling 25,617 million francs. Of these obligations, according to advices received by Bankers Trust Company of New York from its French Information Service, 3,290 million francs are Credit National bonds issued in 1922, maturing on July 1; 8,336,834,000 are three and five year Treasury bonds issued in 1922, maturing on September 25; and 10,090,036,000 are three, six, and ten year Treasury bonds of 1923, which mature on December 8. These obligations are not absolutely payable unless demand for payment is made by the owners. It is expected that every effort will be made to have the holders of maturing obligations defer their claims for reimbursement. As an example of this effort the general council of one department of France has already issued a public appeal calling upon its citizens to show their confidence in the country and not present bonds held by them for redemption. This appeal to the patriotism of the country will undoubtedly be made widespread, but it is recognized as probable however, that a considerable number of the holders of bonds and treasury bills will request reimbursement when they fall due. The finance minister therefore expects shortly to present a bill to parliament which will enable the state to procure such sums as may be necessary to meet such payments as may be demanded. Mr. Caillaux, however, does not intend that any new securities issued for this purpose shall increase the total of the French debt. New securities will simply be issued for the purpose of retiring old securities which are paid off.

The above figures taken from a statement issued in the latter part of 1924 by the former minister of finance Clementel. This statement was as of July 31, 1924, for which date Mr. Clementel gave the amount of national defense bonds outstanding as 56 billion francs. According to a statement which has just come to hand dated May 7, 1925 there were outstanding on that date 62,542 million francs in Bons de la Defense Nationale. These bonds mature in period running from three months to one year. On the same date there were funds deposited with the treasury, payable at demand, amounting to 6,781 million francs, and the advances by the Bank of France totalling 23,850 millions francs, making a total floating debt at that time of 93,172 million francs. Adding the maturing short term bonds of 22,817 million, referred to above, we have a total of 115,989 million francs indebtedness, which theoretically at least, must be taken care of within the year.

On the other hand, it must be borne in mind that the Bons de la Defense Nationale are a favorite form of investment by banks and others for funds which it is desired to keep in a liquid condition; that there is always a substantial amount of money on deposit with the treasury, and that advances by the Bank of France, while theoretically demand obligations, are as a matter of fact, only payable at the convenience of the government.

The grand total of the indebtedness of France, on May 7, 1925 as expressed in currency francs, was 425,667,721,000 francs, of which total the amount of 200,000 million is internal debt—149,653 million perpetual or long term debt, 14,557 million debt payable within from two to five years, and 115,790 million as already explained, in the nature of demand debt. The external debt on the same date including unpaid accrued interest, amounted to 145,667,721,000 francs.

Expressed in gold, on the basis of exchange rate on New York on May 7, the total debt of France's then amounted to 114,504,616,000 francs, of which 39,184,616,000, or 34.19% was external debt, and 75,320 million francs was internal. On the date in question the franc was worth 5.19c.

A suggestion has come from Paris that the government may be considering the stabilization of the franc at around 5c. If any such plan as this should be carried out, the debt would then stand at approximately the 114,504 million figure which has been taken above as the gold value of the debt on May 7, 1925.

Dodge Brothers Set New Record

Deliveries and Production Exceeded Best Previous Week in History.

Dodge Brothers have been establishing new high records continuously for several months, as compared with similar periods for previous years, the record of the week ending April 11 is the best in the company's history. With retail deliveries aggregating more than 7,000, an average of more than 1,200 each production day, the best previous week was surpassed by several hundred cars. New retail orders exceeded the corresponding week of 1924 by 1,000, or approximately 19.7 per cent.

Although Dodge Brothers Motor Cars are now being built at the rate of 1,100 a day, both deliveries and new orders are some 200 a day in excess of production.

"Had dealers' stocks permitted, the number of deliveries for the recent week would have been even greater," said John A. Nichol, Jr., Vice-President in Charge of Sales. "It is not a spurt, but a steady, healthful climb."

Your husband thinks you are tired because you spend too much time and energy over your family's affairs.

"Why," says he, "don't you let your brother and wife do more? Why should it be you they always call on when things aren't running smoothly in the old homestead? Why don't they turn to your brother and his wife once in awhile?"

To which you respond hotly that you also have four children and she has none; and that it takes time to go to places even in a car, and that if she had to work as hard as you she might talk; and that you don't feel any too well yourself and you're terribly tired this spring; and that anyway you do twice as much as she and John ever did and besides you have your husband's mother to look out for, and they don't have anyone else they have to do for, and that she has a great deal more time to herself than you do.

All of which would certainly astonish your husband as much if he could hear it as what you have said to him would astonish your sister-in-law.

There is Truth in Both Sets of Facts.

Sometimes these two way arguments are not conducted with the people themselves but in your mind.

If you think of one person you bring up one set of facts, and if you think of another you think up an entirely different set of facts.

Both sets of facts have a great deal of truth in them but what a different picture one can paint according to the facts one selects and emphasizes and the facts one leaves out!

Of course one has to do this sort of thing in self-defense but I think it's a good thing not to fool oneself too much, and a helpful thing to remember that the other fellow is doing the same thing.

IN THE REALMS OF SPORT

C.L.B.C. SPORTS.

The Attraction For To-Morrow.

The C.L.B.C. Sports, which have always been looked upon as one of the chief track and field events of the season, take place at St. George's Field to-morrow afternoon, commencing at 2.30 sharp. The sports are being held by permission of the Lt.-Col. commanding and with an energetic committee in charge of the arrangements, a successful and an enjoyable afternoon's amusement is assured. The programme of events comprises the usual sprints and middle distance races, which promise to be very exciting, on account of the Club competition. A beautiful silver trophy is offered for the Club securing the highest points.

Other events of interest will be Senior Football Sixes, Junior Football Relay Race, Costume Race, and last, but not least, the 10-Mile Road Race, which will start inside of the Octagon and finish with two laps of the field. This race will be looked after by the A.A.A. officials, at the request of the committee, who want to have everything under official auspices. During the afternoon the C.L.B. Band will be in attendance and will render a selection of music, whilst the C.L.B. Ladies' Auxiliary will serve refreshments.

There was a goodly attendance of spectators present at St. George's Field last night, to witness the football game between the Saints and the C.L.B. eleven. Although the weather conditions were not fit for good football, nevertheless the teams showed up well and after sixty minutes of hard play the Saints emerged victorious by 2 goals to their opponents' nil. The C.L.B. were again hard hit last night, when they were obliged to play without the services of Drover and Hussey, the two mainstays of the team.

Winning the toss the Saints decided to defend the eastern goal. From the moment the ball was centred, the teams got down to hard work and it could be seen that it was to be a hard and fast struggle for the honors. After fifteen minutes of play the Saints pressed the ball into their opponents' territory, when "Jimmy" Young availed of a good opening. Encouraged by their success, the Scotchmen endeavored to increase their lead, but the C.L.B. backs ably defended their lines. The C.L.B. worked the ball down field time and again, making strenuous efforts to score. On two occasions they did get within shooting distance of the goal, but as luck would have it the Saints backs always responded to the occasion and cleared the ball out of danger. The Scotchmen staged another attack on the C.L.B. goal in this half, when a corner kick was secured. The ball was nicely placed by McNeil and headed into the goal by Hopkins, scoring No. 2.

No further scoring resulted during this half, when the teams crossed over.

Second Period

Upon resumption of play the C.L.B. made a determined effort to cut down their opponents' lead, but the backs of the Saints played well and very little was left for the goalkeeper to handle. As the game progressed a good exhibition of football was handed out by the opposing teams, with the C.L.B. having a slight lead in the play. On several occasions the C.L.B. all but scored, and the fans were given exciting moments when the ball was confined to the Saints goal area. No further scoring resulted and the game ended in a victory for the Saints by 2 goals to 0.

ST. MARY'S GARDEN PARTY TO-MORROW.

The postponed garden party of St. Mary's Parish, takes place at Lester's Field, Cornwall Avenue, at 2.30 p.m. to-morrow. In spite of the two postponements last week, the committee, with the energetic ladies working behind them, never lost heart, and they are determined to make to-morrow's event eclipse preceding records. A feature of the day's programme is the 3 mile road race, for the Stafford Cup. Many entries have been made for this event and there is great rivalry between the contestants for honors. Besides the sports programme, there will be many other attractions and Lester's Field, to-morrow afternoon, will be the mecca for all those wishing to enjoy themselves. The ladies of the Parish will provide tea, and all those who patronize the tables will find the very best attention bestowed upon them. The proceeds of the Garden Party are to be devoted to the erection of a Parish Hall on the Southside. That Rev. A. B. S. Stirling and his energetic committee will receive whole-hearted support, goes without saying.

NEW AMATEUR CREW.

We understand that a new crew is being formed up to participate in the Amateur Race at the forthcoming Regatta. Four oarsmen of repute have already decided to cast in their lot. Should there be any oarsmen who would like to fill in with this crew, kindly phone 973.

JUNIOR LEAGUE FOOTBALL.

The Gaelic and B.I.S. teams of the Junior League will try conclusions at St. George's Field to-night. Both teams have been practicing hard of late, and a good exhibition of football can be looked forward to. To-morrow night the C.Y.M.C. and St. Cashel teams will play for the points.

BOUTS AT MONTREAL.

MONTREAL, June 17—Edouard Mascart, (125 1-4), European featherweight champion, was awarded the decision over Tommy Noble, (128), English featherweight title holder, in a 12-round feature of a boxing card here to-night. Noble was not at any time equal of the French fighter. George Fifeild, (146), Toronto, sustained his first fight in a local ring when Rene De Vos, (154 3-4), of Belgium, was awarded the judges' decision after six fast rounds. Sylvio Mirault, (128 3-4), received the decision over Jackie Johnson, (120 1-4), of Toronto.

A NOTABLE EVENT.

The annual match between the first eleven of the Ashbury College Cricket Club and some of the fathers of some of the Ashbury boys, was played at Ottawa on Saturday, 6th June. Among the fathers, who were thoroughly tanned by exposure to the unshaded rays of the sun and as thoroughly beaten by the boys, were Riss H. McClester, Vice-President of the Steel Company of Canada and C. S. Cameron, Treasurer of the British Empire Steel Corporation, who were described as blacksmiths by the Captain of the team, Mr. M. S. Bogert, Manager of the Dominion Bank. The official record of temperature was 97 in the shade, but the fathers are unanimous in the opinion that it was at least fifty per cent. higher on the field.—(Bescoc Bulletin.)

TEN PLAYERS ARE ORDERED OFF FIELD.

P. W. Milroy, an Essex referee, had an unusual experience at Soham. In the match to decide the championship of the Southend Borough Combination he had the courage to send all except the goalkeeper of one team off the field.

He then abandoned the game, which stood at one goal each up to the time of the incident.

God Bless The Prince of Wales

To-day the Prince of Wales celebrates his thirty-first anniversary and the people of the Empire, whose interests he has so closely at heart, will unite in wishing him Many Happy Returns.

He is referred to as the Smiling Prince and as the Empire's Ambassador, and no terms could more appropriately describe him, for wherever he goes he exercises an irresistible charm, and his tact, sympathy and keen insight have rendered his services invaluable as an envoy. Not only in the dominions has he exercised his wonderful influence, but in the other countries that he has visited.

A sportsman to his finger tips, he is equally at home at court functions or on the prairie, bivouacked with the troops or afloat on a battleship, and while he is hail fellow well met with all and sundry, he is treated with all the respect due to his high position.

Within the Empire at present are many difficult problems awaiting a solution, and among them none perhaps called for more delicate handling than those in South Africa. The decision to send the Prince on a tour of the Union at such a time indicates how great is the confidence of British statesmen in his judgment, and the results of his visit have fully justified their trust.

To-day the cables from all corners of the world will convey greetings to the Prince of Wales on the occasion of his birthday, and the Oldest Colony heartily joins with her sister dominions in wishing him many years of health and happiness in which to continue his mission of usefulness.

The Empire's Birthday

To-morrow, June 24th, is the anniversary of the discovery of Newfoundland by John Cabot, or to quote the words of an old Bristol manuscript: "In the year 1497, the 24th of June, on St. John's Day, was Newfoundland found by Bristol men in a ship called 'The Matthew'."

What day in the year is more fitting to be observed as a holiday by Newfoundlanders, and what event in our history or in the history of the whole Empire has a greater claim to be perpetuated than this heroic venture which laid the foundation of Britain's supremacy?

It is a proud position which we occupy as the Oldest Colony, but may it not be asked whether we do not fail somewhat to make the most of that historic fact? It is the Birthday of the city, and it should be fittingly celebrated as such; it is the Empire's Birthday, and is deserving of jubilation wherever the flag flies.

The Harbor of St. John's

The construction of the new dock and the building of a large pier by the Marine Agencies

Company, which will include the eastern pier of the King's wharf, have diverted attention to the harbour of St. John's and the remarks which are passed upon its condition are not altogether of a flattering nature.

A glance at the Municipal Basin reveals the remains of one vessel just showing above the surface, another with nothing but the mast showing, still another in a sinking condition, and how many hulks lie hidden in the murky depths it is impossible to say. By the dock pier the Desola has been allowed to settle in the mud, and in all the years that have passed since she first came to rest there no serious attempt has been made to remove her. Her name is most descriptive of her present appearance.

Several of the wharves along the northern waterfront are dilapidated; with few exceptions the coves are filthy, and in some of them the sanitary conditions are indescribable.

Yesterday persons were seen dumping cartloads of waste paper into the water of one of these coves off Water Street, and it is not long since we were informed that the ballast of a vessel was thrown overboard in the vicinity of the King's wharf.

Time and again the appointment of a Harbour Board has been suggested. Nothing has come of it, however, because the port appears to be "nobody's child" and therefore nobody cares what happens to it.

Our criticism is in no sense a reflexion upon the Harbour Master, a conscientious official who ably carries out his duties, but the problems which the harbour presents are of too complicated a nature and are too numerous to be undertaken by one individual, and now that public interest seems to have awakened to the necessity of improving the city, the time is opportune to consider seriously the appointment of a Harbour Board and the making of the port a real live asset.

No Intimation as Yet

Up to press hour, no word of a message of congratulation to the Prince of Wales from Newfoundland has been received by the Telegram.

Another Writ Issued Against Nfld. Power and Paper Company

We learn that another writ was issued yesterday against the Newfoundland Power & Paper Utilites Corporation Ltd., similar to that issued by the Humber Valley Farms Ltd., a couple of weeks ago and claiming that the transmission line was run over land belonging to Mr. A. M. Campbell without his permission. It is currently reported that several other parties are in the same position, and that other writs may follow. Mr. Brian Dunfield, Solicitor, is acting for Mr. Campbell.

C. L. A. Outing at Smithville

The Columbus Ladies' Association Outing, at Smithville, which takes place to-morrow, promises to be well attended. Patrons will go out by buses leaving Columbus Hall at 2.45 p.m. An attractive programme of sports has been prepared and these will begin as soon as all are assembled. After supper has been served, dancing will be taken up to the music of the Prince's Orchestra, and a programme of old time and modern dances will be rendered that is guaranteed to suit the desire of all who will be present. A fireworks display under the direction of Mr. P. O'Mara, will be a feature of the night's celebrations. The outing will go on regardless of weather conditions, and if the weather is unsuitable, arrangements have been made to provide for patrons indoors.

CLEANING UP—Men were engaged this morning cleaning up the grounds in the rear of the Customs House, and making the place presentable. If a little attention was given to the vacant land at the east of the Customs it would help along the campaign for a cleaner city.

Commonwealth Day

To-morrow, June 24th, is a very important day in the world's history. It was on that day, fourteen hundred and ninety-seven, that John Cabot discovered what, in commemoration of the day, was named St. John's. It is therefore the birthday of St. John's of Newfoundland and the British Empire overseas. As at one time the United States of America was part and parcel of the British Empire, it is also the birthday of the United States. It is therefore very fitting that the day should be observed as a whole holiday not only in St. John's but throughout the country. It would be only fitting if it were observed throughout the Empire and possibly throughout the United States, thereby forming a bond of union between the English speaking peoples. As the idea of Empire is fading from men's minds and British Commonwealth taking its place, it seems peculiarly appropriate to name the days of its inauguration Commonwealth Day.

PEPYS BEHIND THE SCENES

June 22nd—The weather still fine, albeit a chill wind blowing all the day, which do make me think that if there were but some way in which such breezes might be bottled, that there might be a great fortune in it for the man that could introduce them to the United States during a heat wave. So to Water Street, indulging in this unprofitable thinking, and do meet there Mr. Meehan, who discourses with me of the Tourists' Publicity Movement, of which he is the President. But Lord, our discourse makes me think that the best form of publicity would be to advertise the comforts of our summer climate, being that if the Newfoundland breeze may not be sent to America, then the Americans may come to Newfoundland to receive the benefits of them. More news this day of the great storm of last evening and do seem how the damage to traps and other gear is greater than was at first thought, which is indeed a most unfortunate thing, yet our people so accustomed to such mishaps that they may not feel the effects so much and will busy themselves about repairing that they may yet be in time to secure a good fishery. This night it comes on to rain with much violence, so I to remain at home where I read with much pleasure, the tale of "The Shirt," by Anatole France, which, methinks, is one of the finest satires that has ever been written and has much truth in it.

Sagona Returns From Labrador

The steamer Sagona which went north as far as Holton with the balance of the fishing crews, returned to port yesterday, after an excellent round trip passage of eight days. Upwards of 150 fishermen boarded the steamer and went north from points in Trinity Bay, and landed at different points on the Labrador. Good weather was met with until Wednesday last when the gale sprang up from E.N.E. The ship was obliged to run for shelter and made Back Tickle harbour safely. On Friday the weather moderated, when the ship proceeded to Holton, arriving there late that night.

On the return run excellent weather was met with. Capt Burgess reports a sign of codfish from Grady north to Holton, Lewis Dawe, at Fishing Ship's Harbour secured 8 quintals from his trap on Tuesday last. All the vessels operating are scattered south of Holton up to the present. A LeDrew and Bishop's being at Domino, St. Noseworthy at Sandy Island and Munn's at Flat Island. Along the French shore there is a good sign of fish, and fair catches are reported at St. Anthony and vicinity. The schooner, Jubilee, which went north with Collins' crew for A. E. Hickman and Co., lost her canvas in the gale on the return trip, and went ashore near Cape Norman, becoming a total wreck. Upwards of ninety fishermen are now at Cook's Harbor awaiting passage home, but the Sagona was too far south to pick them up when the message was forwarded.

Snow came into port with flag at half mast for the men they believed dead. The castaways had arrived previously on the Foxglove Lina steamer Penfold but there had been no means of communicating their safety to the schooner. Captain William Murphy of the Dorothy G. Snow had spent several days searching for the missing dory and had given up hopes, when he put about for Halifax to report the loss. There was a happy reunion on the deck of the fishing schooner after which the men left for their homes to recuperate from their trying experience. The dory carried enough food for a day's fishing but had a more liberal supply of water aboard.

Cavender enlarged upon the great decrease in arrests for drunkenness in Demolens during the past decade. Arrangements were made for him to address the British women to-day.

Swedish Steamer Argos

ASHORE IN PLACENTIA BAY.
 The Swedish steamer Argos, which landed a cargo of coal at Argenta for the railway and sailed last evening for Miramichi, is ashore at Cat Island, near Burin with her forepart under water and is likely to be a total loss. The crew of 27 men are safe. The first intimation of disaster to the ship was contained in a message received at 3 o'clock this morning from St. Pierre, by Manager Saunders, of the Anglo. The Deputy Minister of Customs received some particulars this forenoon in a message from the Sub-Collector at Burin. The cable reads as follows: "Swedish steamer Argos, 1575 tons register, in ballast for Miramichi, ashore at Cat Island. Forepart under water and expect ship will be total loss. Crew of 27 safe." Magistrate Hollett, of Burin, has also reported to the Department of Justice in a message which reads: "S.S. Argos, Bingham master, struck on the east point of Cat Island last night. All crew rescued. Ship will probably be a total loss." The Argos, formerly the Argo, is a ship of 1563 tons net, and 2554 gross. She was built in 1898 by R. Knap & Sons, Glasgow, and is 310 feet long, 44.2 wide and 20.4 feet in depth.

Paint Up! Clean Up!!

Editor Evening Telegram.
Sir—All progressive people should rejoice at your strong Editorial and the letter on Paint and Clean Up in your paper of Saturday.

This is a grand idea; why not start it at once and let's get all together on it.

If we have no men with enough energy and public spirit to start this movement; why should not some of us women see what we can do to help the town along.

All good women love to have the inside of their homes, neat, clean and bright; why not the outside? As the public can only judge us from the outside.

Many are pessimists and say; "What's the use! But who ever saw a pessimist or a knocker do any good anywhere? We must boast and show the world we have a real pride in the appearance of our homes and our native town, and if we do not go forward and show progress we will most surely drift backwards. Cleanliness is next to Godliness! so we will most certainly look for help and encouragement from the clergy of all denominations.

The splendid Memorial to Newfoundland's heroes who fought and died ashore and afloat for King and Country has been unveiled for a year, and yet the road round it is still in an unkept and unfinished condition; a sad outward display of forgetfulness.

which surely does not record the real feeling of our people.

Many people will see us for the first time as an overseas portion of the British Empire and surely our own personal pride to say nothing in the pride we have of race and our grand old Union Jack should force us to make an effort to see that those first impressions are as good as we can make them.

Surely our Mayor or some of the public men and leading citizens would call a public meeting and get this practical and progressive movement going in a short space of time.

The thanks of the responsible citizens should be recorded to the Evening Telegram for making such an able and strong start, and all we hope is that you will carry on the good work.

Yours truly,
ST. JOHN'S WOMAN.

Clean Up and Paint Up Lowers Fire Loss

The National Clean Up and Paint Up Campaign Bureau is a member of the National Fire Protection Association and is credited with valuable work in Fire Prevention.

For example in Cincinnati, following a city-wide Clean Up and Paint Up Campaign, Capt. J. J. Conway, superintendent of the Cincinnati Salvage Corps and chairman of the Cincinnati Clean Up and Paint Up Campaign, in an article published in "Fire Protection," Indianapolis, stated that reductions in fire insurance premiums amounted to $850,000 annually in his city.

A dispatch from Chicago, dated January 17, 1924, states that fire losses in that city in 1923 were $5,775,104, which was $1,838,036 less than in 1922. In view of the experience in Cincinnati, it would seem reasonable to assume that the energetic Clean Up and Paint Up Campaign in Chicago in 1923 was a factor in the result.

A King's Wharf Query

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,—Seeing by your journal that the Government has given certain rights to a lately formed Shipping Coy. here you will perhaps kindly inform the public if the Municipal Council has consented to Gill's Cove being included in the "deal," and whether the Shipping Coy. will have the right to lay ships across the Eastern Kings Wharf, or merely the right to "tie up" there. Also if wheeled traffic is to be permitted to pass to and from the premises by way of Gill's Cove, it appears an extraordinary proceeding on the part of the Authorities, as surely the desire of the public is that rather than congest this public and official landing place, it should be beautified. For a few paltry dollars per annum we add still another eye sore to our surroundings.

Yours truly,
CITIZEN.

The Weathercock on the Big Red Barn went swinging to and fro in his bright red breast, now East, now West. On his little glided toe.

"Hello, little bunny" he shouted, as Little Jack Rabbit hopped through the gate, "where have you been and how long will you wait?"

"I don't know," answered the truthful little bunny boy. "Somebody might frighten me and shorten my visit. How can I tell? Do you see Danny Fox anywhere?"

"No sires," answered the Weathercock. "I'd have told you before you asked me. I don't like that old rober one least little bit. He's most un-welcome hereabouts."

"It makes me shiver to think of him," cried Henny Jenny. "Me, too," agreed Cocky Doodle, although he should have said, "I, too." Little Reader. Careless of him wasn't it?"

"Just then Old Sleem, the Kind Farmer's watch dog, looked out of the round doorway in his kennel house. "How, wow, wow! How's your Ma?" he asked with a wag of his tail and a rattle of the chain that kept him home nights.

"Oh, she's very well and happy 'cause I'm good. Now that the roses are in bloom she wears three every day; one on each cheek and one in her hair, which I give every morning from the bush in the flower garden."

"Have you seen the water lilies in the Old Duck Pond?" asked Ducky Waddles. "I've just come in from a fine swim."

"Yes, I saw them," answered the little rabbit. "I would have taken one home to Mother only I couldn't reach them."

"I'll get one for you to-morrow," promised the kind little duck, and off he waddled, while the bunny boy with

Increased License Fee

ON CANADIAN LABRADOR.

The Minister of Finance and Customs, Sir John Crosbie, has been advised that the Newfoundland vessels fishing on the Canadian Labrador are being obliged to pay a fee of twenty dollars for each trap set, instead of ten dollars as heretofore. The following is the message received: "Schooners are allowed to set traps with an increased fee of ten dollars per trap, which means twenty dollars per trap altogether. Only a few have money to pay more than ten dollars. Fishery prospects are good. The Nita M. took 50 quintals yesterday (Friday). Waiting arrival of Quebec steamer for fishery officers. Instructions from Ottawa still say the rule is the same as last year. The Quebec Deputy Minister says it is ten dollars extra. Please acquaint all suppliers of Straits schooners."

Obituary

MRS. ELEANORA BARNES.

There passed away yesterday afternoon, at the age of 72 years, a highly esteemed lady in the person of Mrs. Eleanora Barnes, relict of the late William J. Barnes, of the firm of Gear & Barnes. Although Mrs. Barnes had been in failing health for nearly three years, it was only within the past couple of months that her illness became serious. Born at St. John's, Mrs. Barnes was a daughter of the late Mr. S. Cousens, of the Southside, and a sister of the late Nicholas Cousens. Her husband predeceased her about three or four years ago. With him she was prominently identified in Congregational Church circles. Left to mourn the loss of a mother beloved are two daughters, Mrs. Stanley K. Lumsden and Miss Eleanor Barnes, of this city, and one son, Mr. Edward Barnes, in the United States, and a large number of relatives and friends share. The funeral takes place to-morrow afternoon at 2.30 o'clock, from her late residence, Ordinance Street.

ALICE MAHON.

After spending fifteen months of silent suffering from a disease that defied all medical skill and tender watching by Doctor Rendell and the nurses of the Sanitarium, death came on Friday evening last at nine o'clock to claim as its victim, Alice, the beloved daughter of Michael and Annie Mahon of Portugal Cove Road. She was a general favourite, shedding the perfume of her virtues amongst her schoolfellows, all of whom loved her, when her career was suddenly ended. Deep sympathy is tendered to her sorrow stricken parents, her sisters, Annie and Harold. Theirs is, immeasurably, the greatest loss, but all who knew her share in keenly feeling her demise, as to know her was to love her, in view of the sweet amiability, the golden character, which were Alice's. While thro' this vale of tears we wander, Friends must meet and friends must part. But God affords condonation holy, Union in the Sacred Heart.—R.I.P.

A Photoplay With a Flawless Cast

"Three Women," Opens Big At The Nickel.

We wondered whether a picture could be made with a flawless cast, one which could convince an audience of the reality of situations even in less important scenes of the story.

"Three Women," which opened yesterday at the Nickel Theatre, is an enviable example of a picture with a perfect cast. Instead of the customary one star, there are three, and the supporting cast could not have been chosen with a better knowledge of the actors' work and their ability to fit themselves into given roles.

Marie Frost, May McAvoy and Pauline Frederick, are at the head of the cast, which includes Lew Cody, Mary Carr, Pierre Gendron and Willard Louis.

To add to this incomparable combination of stars, the direction of the picture is credited to Mr. Ernest Lubitsch, whose famous picture, "The Marriage Circle," attained great success not very long ago.

In our desire not to reveal the plot we can only say it is entirely different.

"Three Women" is a picture that Ernest Lubitsch can be proud of. This Warner Bros. Classic of the Screen is a picture worth seeing.

You can't be your "better self"—with a corn

No man can be at his best— with a throbbing corn shooting pain messages to his brain. Corns put a wet blanket on enthusiasm, dampen the spirits and sour the disposition. Many pessimists are optimists with corns. For a corn takes the whole nervous system. It makes one feel mean all over and act that way. Anyone may acquire a corn, but it is bad business to keep it. Blue-jay is the business man's favorite way of banishing corns. It stops the pain the moment you put it on—and ends the corn in 48 hours. It is business-like and efficient.

Well-Known St. John's Banker Transferred

B. L. MITCHELL, MANAGER OF THE ROYAL BANK IN HALIFAX, TRANSFERRED TO VANCOUVER.

B. L. Mitchell, manager of the head office of the Royal Bank of Canada at Halifax, has been transferred to Vancouver. This official announcement which reached this city yesterday means the removal from Halifax of one of the most popular, and most successful, bank managers in Eastern Canada. While Mr. Mitchell is to be congratulated on what is a well earned recognition of his work yet his business and personal friends will do so with genuine regret over the fact that his promotion will take him to the Pacific Coast.

Prominent not only in banking and financial circles in Nova Scotia, Mr. Mitchell has also taken a leading part in the social and welfare work in Halifax. A member of the Rotary and other leading clubs of the city his transfer to so distant a point will be a distinct loss to this city. Mr. Mitchell is a native of Pictou County, and entered upon his banking career at New Glasgow. Following a series of rapid promotions he was sent to Halifax several years ago, to take charge of the head office of the Royal Bank here and his new appointment to the head of the Royal Bank of Vancouver is in itself sufficient evidence of the success which has attended his tenure of office at Halifax.

Mrs. Mitchell, likewise, will be missed in Halifax where she has a wide circle of friends. It is expected that Mr. Mitchell will leave for Vancouver in about six weeks.

Mr. Mitchell was manager of the Royal Bank in St. John's from 1915 to 1919 and went from here to Halifax.—Halifax Herald, June 18.

"Yes! I Think So"

ZANE GREY'S WONDERFUL STORY "THE HERITAGE OF THE DESERT" THE AUTHOR'S BEST YET SCREENED.

What a cast! What a story! Bebe Daniels, Ernest Torrence, Noah Beery and Lloyd Hughes featured in the Zane Grey Paramount production, "The Heritage of the Desert" which is packing them in at the Majestic Theatre where it was shown for the first time last evening. James Mason, Richard R. Neill and Leonard Clapham play in support. So much for the cast.

Now to the story: A tale of the West at its wildest and woolliest. There's thrills, comedy, a pleasing love theme and big scenes throughout. With the killing of Snap, the dissolute son of August Nabb of "The Oasis" ranch, the long-kidnapping feud between cattlemen and rustlers breaks into flame. It's a battle to the death—with Navajo Indians collecting scalps for the ranchers. The town of White Sage is but a thig of the past—Holderness and his reign of terror are but memories—great things have started in the west—ambitions are about to be realized. The irrigation waters, the life-blood of the desert, on "The Oasis" have been saved—fertility is about to come to the land. But why go on? Zane Grey tells it as only he can—he knows the West, and you will, too, after seeing "The Heritage of the Desert." Let the radio alone for one night and see it.

While the company of over three hundred players was on location in southern Utah Miss Daniels became a prime favorite with the Indians and the adoption followed. Henceforth she will be accorded the protection of the Navajo Medicine Men against sickness, evil spirits and the designs of her enemies.

When the lengthy and somewhat trying ceremony of adoption was concluded, the squaw "mother" looked triumphantly at Mrs. Daniels, who accompanied the players on location, and said, "She not your daughter any more. She my daughter, I her mother."

Oporto Market Stagnant

In a report to the Newfoundland Board of Trade, Messrs. Lind & Couta, Oporto, under date of June 4, say:—"Demand for British cure continues more or less stagnant and so far much below what it should be at this season of the year. Stocks of small British fish are considerable and sales of this of late have been greatly prejudiced by the sale of French cure. The chief demand last week was for old Norwegian cure, which is being sold at low prices. The first shipment of new Norwegian arrived on S.S. San Telmo, on the 20th May, but this quality it meeting with only moderate demand owing to the high price required on shipments. The most of the Portuguese fishing fleet, which is not a large one this year, has left for the Banks.

Prettier Teeth

Millions now get them by combating film

THIS is the way to those whiter teeth you see everywhere today. A ten-day test is free. It can bring to you and yours the same results as millions now enjoy. Accept this offer and learn what this new way means.

Film is dingy

You feel on your teeth a viscous film. It clings to teeth, resists the tooth brush, enters crevices and stays. Film soon becomes discolored, then it forms dingy coats. That is why teeth lose luster. Film also causes most tooth troubles. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay. It breeds millions of germs and they, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

Few escaped

Under old methods, few escaped these troubles. So dental science sought for ways to daily fight that film. Two ways were found, and able authorities proved them effective. One acts to disintegrate the film, one to remove it without harmful scouring.

Protect the Enamel

Pepsodent disintegrates the film, then removes it with an agent far softer than enamel. Never use a film combant which contains harsh grit.

By ROBERT E. MARTIN.
Appalling disasters such as that which recently befell the foundered Japanese freighter, Ratsuku Maru, off Nova Scotia, with a loss of more than 40 lives, gave to Adam T. Drekolias, of New Brighton, Staten Island, N.Y., the idea for an invention that he claims will keep any ship from sinking, no matter how badly damaged. His invention is a collapsible chamber designed to imprison air in the hull of a disabled vessel. Even if a ship were completely filled with water, he claims, the device would keep its upper deck above the surface, giving the crew a chance for their lives until rescuers arrived.

Occupying space ordinarily wasted in liners and battleships, Drekolias' device, he believes, would bring about a great change in shipbuilding. Space now occupied by bulkheads could be used for cargo. Isolated portions of a ship cut away from the main part would still float. The same equipment used for keeping the boat afloat would serve as fire extinguishers. Moreover, the captain could control the equilibrium of his ship so that it would rise and sink at his will. This feature would be of special value in warfare when a battleship could be lowered until only its guns remained above the surface.

As long as the weight of a ship is less than the weight of the water displaced by the vessel, or just equal to it, the ship will float. Drekolias' invention is based on this well known principle, first pointed out by Archimedes. The apparatus has proved successful, he says, in more than 700 experiments made with the model ship. In these experiments he found that if the amount of air normally inside the submerged part of a floating vessel could be imprisoned, no matter how much water were then poured into the hull, it would not sink. Drekolias' plan is to imprison the air in collapsible chambers that can be fastened to ceilings or on decks, in spaces now unutilized and occupying not more than five per cent of the total nonusable space would fit one inside another and could be opened to admit the amount of air needed to displace water rushing into a damaged vessel. Air valves would permit the passage of air from one chamber to another. Each set of collapsible chambers would be connected with an air pipe leading to the highest point on the mast or funnel of the ship. In vessels up to 1000 tons displacement the air chambers would be opened or closed by springs; in larger vessels they would be operated by electrical or hydraulic means.

As water entered a section of the ship, the air chambers there would open automatically and begin filling with air. At the same time an alarm would be sounded to notify the captain of the location of the danger and to warn passengers. The captain, by Drekolias' plan, could release air chambers in various parts of the ship at will, and also admit water to act as ballast, thus maintaining the ship's equilibrium. A ship equipped with the air chambers would have doors in its sides, either above or below the water line, which could be opened to permit free passage of water. Normally these doors would be used to let water out of the vessel when the air chambers were filled.

In two ways the chambers could be used as fire-extinguishers. The smallest chamber in each set of collapsible chambers would contain a fire-extinguishing gas, and would be sealed. By means of a thermostatic control, in case of fire, the change in temperature in a room would automatically open a valve, releasing the gas. If a fire were too large to be extinguished by the gas, the doors in the ship's sides would open automatically, admitting water, while equilibrium would be maintained by opening air chambers in the rooms where the water was admitted.

Reciprocity Club Becomes National at First Convention

ORGANIZED HERE IN 1912, IT NOW TAKES ON NEW LIFE, BROADENS FIELD.

ELEVEN ELECTIONS STARTED.

Delegates, Gathered at Hotel Bellevue, Hear of Bright Prospects.

Although it is thirteen years since the Reciprocity Club of America was formed in Boston, with the intention of making it a national organization, it was not until today that it held its first annual convention and actively started to broaden out and cover the entire country with "sections," as the sub-division will be called. There were present at today's meeting, which was held at Hotel Bellevue, a number of officers and delegates from the Boston section and sections now being started in ten other cities—Albany, New York City, Bridgeport, Conn.; New Haven, Conn.; Providence, Springfield, Worcester and Lowell. The New York section has been in evidence for some time but now may be said to be taking on new life.

The convention was presided over by Fred L. Coburn, a Boston business man, who was the prime mover in organizing the original section in Boston and who in 1909 served as the first president of the Rotary Club of Boston. Secretary of the Commonwealth, Frederick W. Cook, made a brief address, greeting the visitors on behalf of the governor of Massachusetts. Unanimous approval was given to the plan put forward for broadening the club's field to eventually cover the entire United States. A committee was named and drew up a set of by-laws suitable for the nationalizing movement. Later in the day, it was announced, officers will be elected. C. Mowbray White, of Boston national organizer of the club, who recently has been actively conducting his work afield in anticipation of today's action by the delegates, made a statement giving some of the results he has thus far accomplished. He spoke of the excellent standing of the members he had secured to start the clubs outside Boston, the latest of which is in Lowell, where organization was perfected last Tuesday evening.

Mr. White said that the Chamber of Commerce and similar bodies in various cities had welcomed the formation of sections of the Reciprocity Club of America because the found them helpful in their own organizations in many ways. Many new Chambers of Commerce, he said, as a result of co-operation with the Reciprocity Club section in that city. The plan under which he was conducting the work, Mr. White said, was to take the field himself, with a staff of ten or more assistant organizers, and cover the important cities in one State at a time, rather than skip about here and there, in the larger cities. He said that the demand for the establishment of sections now has become so strong, however, that he may be forced to change this plan somewhat. Several large cities in the Middle West already are appealing to him to organize sections for them.

It was explained by Mr. White that many people have been misled by the word "reciprocity" into thinking that the club has to do with the tariff or free trade, whereas the word merely defines the spirit of inter-business co-operation between members. One member is taken from each line of business and the members help one another in any way they can. The club sections do not have the luncheon system as it exists in a number of other organizations of business men but hold a dinner once each month, in the evening. Every day in the year, however, he said, the members are actively helping each other in business. Promotion of "that good rare fellowship which goes to make up an ideal organization" is one of the objects, he said, and others are education of members and the maintenance of club rooms.

NOTE.—Mr. Charles M. White referred to in the above was formerly a resident of St. John's, and we understand is returning by the Digby from Boston to spend the summer at home.

Riding the Top of the Battered Ship

HOW A YOUNG OFFICER SAVED THE STORM-TOSSED RUNAWAY, R-33.

In all the history of aviation there have been few more heroic figures than that of Lieut. R. S. Booth, daring young commander of the runaway R-33, the huge British dirigible that recently broke away from its moorings-mast at Pulham, England. His battered ship floundering helplessly in the teeth of a hurricane, he struggled along the top of the big bag, inspected the damage and directed repairs. Two minutes after the R-33 had torn away the cup of her mooring-mast, her engines were going and her crew of 21 men was heading her into the wind. For 30 hours, across the North Sea to Holland and back, they waged a desperate battle with the storm. Finally, after nerve-racking adventures that recalled the experiences of the crew of the American airship, Shenandoah, when she broke away from her mast at Lakehurst, N.J., in January, 1924, the dirigible was brought safely home.

FOUR PER CENT.

WALT MATON

In Canada they're selling beer that has safe four per cent of punch, and legions come from far and near to drink six bottles with their lunch. From Rochester and Buffalo, from Syracuse and also Troy, in arguing waves the people flow, to sample the verboten joy. For years there's been a growing thirst throughout this land of Volstead laws, and men would travel vast on foot to sample the liquid for their craws. They had to drink in noisome den, and always feared the law was near, and sighed, "Oh, chee, if once again we could get pickled without fear! To drink a frink of the brew that made some worthy city famed, without a prohib cop in view, to run us in and make us shamed!" Then gracious Canada arose, to minister to throats gone dry, and people pawed their furlbels, some fagous of her beer to buy. They sat and sipped the livilong day, they drank in growing discontent; although they put large stoups away, there was no kick from four per cent. No drinker left his seat and yelled, inspired by yeast foam in his tank; no sluggish tippler was impelled to whip a cop or rob a bank. The four per cent.

RICHARD HUDNUT
THREE FLOWERS
CLEANSING CREAM

Use instead of soap and water for cleansing the skin. A fine Automobile or other outdoor activities.

The Cleansing Cream is generally used at night, or after motoring or exposure to dust and dirt. Soap and water will not remove all the grime the skin collects. Some of it works its way so far into the pores that it requires a deeper, more thorough cleansing.

Three Flowers Cleansing Cream is designed to give the skin this deep cleansing. It is a pure white, satiny cream, containing sufficient pure oil to absorb all the dirt the pores hold, but not enough to clog them with oil. —52 Cents.

RICHARD HUDNUT
THREE FLOWERS
FACE POWDER

The solution to one of the most difficult problems of the toilette—the need for a powder that will stay on even a particularly dry skin without clogging the pores.

This powder not only has unusual adherent qualities, but contains perfume essences and other ingredients which promote a healthy condition of the skin and protect it from the sun, wind and dust. It is exquisite in odor and delightfully soft in texture. —85 Cents.

RICHARD HUDNUT
THREE FLOWERS
SKIN AND TISSUE CREAM

No woman who desires to maintain a smooth, youthful complexion can afford to be without Three Flowers Skin and Tissue Cream, for it performs three valuable functions.

It protects the skin, nourishes it, and prevents wrinkles. Its basic ingredient is a pure oil famous for its protective and nourishing qualities. Absorbed by the skin, this oil feeds the skin tissue and enables it to function in a perfectly natural and healthy manner. —$1.20

The value of using all three Creams.

Used regularly and faithfully, these three creams together will do more to keep the skin thoroughly clean, free from blemishes, fresh, youthful, firm and unlined, than any other treatment. There is no type of skin that is not benefited by their use. A very oily skin reacts wonderfully to the Three Flowers treatment. It opens the overloaded pores and allows them to throw off the excessive oil that has become habitual to them. On this type of skin all three creams can be used generously, even lavishly, with beneficial results.

You may obtain Three Flowers toilet articles at any drug or department store.

Write to GERALD S. DOYLE, Box 632 St. John's for beautifully illustrated book "Fleurette Walks in Beauty." It is a complete and careful guide for the proper care of the skin. Sent free to any address.

FLOWERS

This cream is very different from either of the other Three Flowers Creams and is perfectly designed to supplement them. It is a non-greasy cream, but, unlike many vanishing creams, it is so constituted as not to be too drying to the skin. It is absorbed at once by the pores, leaving a smooth, velvety surface, which acts as a perfect base for powder. Any shine there may be on the skin disappears as the cream is absorbed, and any little rough places are softened and smoothed down. This smooth base makes the powder adhere so evenly that it is never fully apparent. —85 Cents.

RICHARD HUDNUT
THREE FLOWERS
TALCUM

Three Flowers Talcum is made from purest selected and tested ingredients. It is impalpably fine and smooth, of just the right "weight," and is exquisitely perfumed. Excellent to use after bath to absorb remaining dampness. —60 Cents.

Shipbuilders and Employers Consider the Industrial Situation

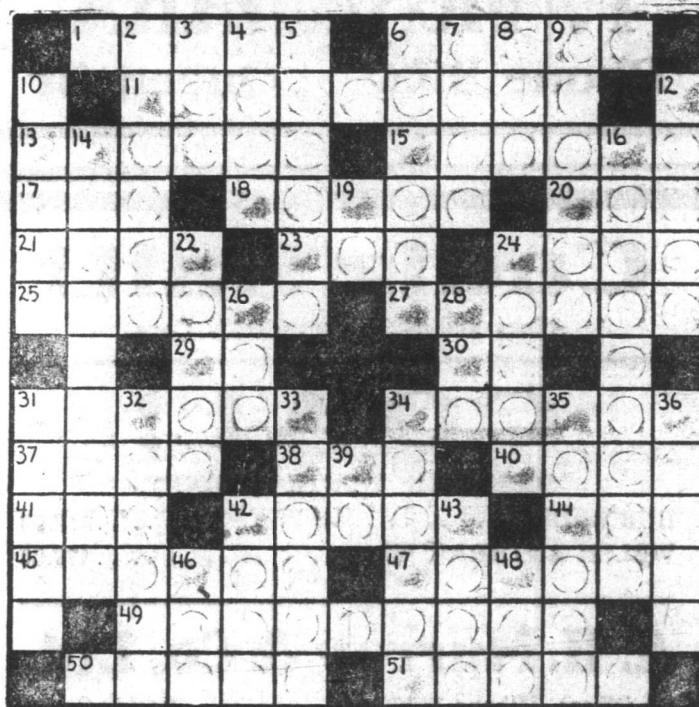

A joint committee of employers and workmen, representing the Shipbuilding Employees Federation and the shipyard trades unions, has been meeting in Edinburgh with a view to discovering ways and means to remedy the shipbuilding situation in Great Britain. According to advices received by Bankers Trust Company of New York, from its British Information Service, these meetings have been brought about because of the fact that large orders for ships for British owners, have, within the last few months, been placed on the continent. The joint committee are endeavoring to discover a method by which this competition can be met. Mr. E. F. Mulhern, managing director of the Tyne Iron Shipbuilding Company, in an address at the launching of the ship "Redriff," advanced the idea that an import duty should be put on vessels built abroad for British owners, claiming that the British government should not allow English money to go abroad while British workmen were starving. Another British authority of shipbuilding said, "It is a serious matter for our shipbuilding industry, that orders for British ships should be going abroad. It is more serious still to know that until by some means, not easily arrived at, shipbuilding costs in this country can be reduced to a level with those Germany and Holland, and just now we must add, in France—there is danger of additional orders leaving our shores. The exasperation of British builders and their working staffs over this diversion of orders so much needed at home, can be well understood and indeed regarded with whole-hearted sympathy. It is idle to blame shipbuilders for placing their orders abroad after they have shown their reluctance to do so and have, in fact, taken every possible step to keep their work at home. The initial cost of a ship is a vital consideration to shipowners to-day. It may decide as it often has done, whether he shall build or not build. . . . The remedy is not what Mr. Mulhern propounds an import duty on British ships built abroad would not only be in direct contravention to the considered and established fiscal policy of this country, but it would fall to effect a permanent recovery in our shipbuilding trade. The only remedy, and the remedy which must be found, is to build ships as cheaply as our rivals." By implication, this rather indicates that the real underlying difficulty in the situation is that the wages paid to workmen in the shipbuilding and shipping trades are too high and will have to be reduced if foreign competition is to be met.

Our Navy's Deadly Nests of Wasps

The "Saratoga"—World's Mightiest Airplane Carrier.
When the world's greatest airplane carrier, the Saratoga, slid down the ways at Camden, N.J., a few weeks ago, Secretary of the Navy Wilbur characterized her as "designed to take her deadly brood of wasps far ahead of the fleet, within scouting range of the enemy, or where her bomb-carriers can attempt to destroy enemy battle fleets."
Carrying a buzzing swarm of 73 fighting planes—32 bombers and 40 combat machines—she will represent, when completed, the last word in naval construction.
Not only is the Saratoga the world's largest craft afloat (her length is 888 feet) and she is driven by the most powerful engines ever put into a vessel. The immense sweep of her vast flying-deck is broken only by a massive combination funnel enclosure, set off at the side of the hull.
Eight electric motors driven by current supplied by four immense steam turbines, and capable of developing 180,000 horse-power, will drive her through the water at a speed of 39 miles an hour. She is speedier than any battleship afloat, and only modern cruisers and destroyers can keep pace with her. Although practically unarmored her potential destructive force is greater than the guns of the greatest dreadnaught. Her sister ship, the Lexington, will be launched next fall.
