GRAY'S ADDRESS. Mr. Gray stepped forward and was greet-ed with cheers. This was not his first ap-pearance on the platform on which he stood. In 1878 he had, in speaking here, tation to the annual conferences; a recom-mendation for the Walkerton district to be stood. In 1878 he had, in speaking here, observed that the theory of protection was rapidly ceasing to be a sectional issue, and was becoming a well-understood national question. He paid a high tribute to Sir John A. Macdonald for the part he had played in the inception of the national policy. The effect of protection would be the building up of home manu-facturers, home labor and home capital against the interests of foreign nations. When the foreign manufacturer had to com-pete with home industry he cut down the mentation for the waterron district to be annexed to the London conference; from the Woman's Christian Temperance union; veto power of the laity; praying for a new conference to be appointed in Manitoba. Rev. Dr. Jeffers was thanked for his ex-

When the foreign manufacturer had to com-pete with home industry he cut down the wages of his labor, perfected his machinery and sold his goods below cost in order to crush out the home manufactories. When these were crushed out and they had a monopoly of the market, they raised the price of manufactured goods and we had to pay for it. If we had protection the for-eign manufacturer had to lower the price which resolved to receive these brethren to-morrow at 11 o'clock. The following were received into full connection :- M. B.  The Richarg and the state and cial panic that upset the whole business of the country. It was all ged by the grits that the prosperity was not connected with the N.P. Prosperity, they claimed, was due to the increased imports of agricultural products. This could not be so since these had only increased little over $1,000,000 under the N. P. regime. The boundary question was dealt with ex-haustively, and was declared merely a scheme of the opposition to rouse the pas-sions and prejudices for the coming elec-tion. Passions were not the things to appeal to, but sober, thoughtful intelligence. The cry of the grits (whom he called radicals) over the streams bill was merely for election purposes. Life Insurance. Cheap [From the Ætna Quarterly.]

INSURANCE

The co-operative assessment associations have secured a large member-ship from their representations that they furnish cheap insurance. Men have been induced to join these associations because they recognize the uncertainty of life, and their duty to provide for their families in event of death. They have been led to believe it is the only true form of insur-ance, and superior to the well-tested plans in use by the legitimate com-panies. We have frequently shown through the columns of this paper that the representations of these associations and their over-sanguine agents are delusive and untrue, and that they are unworthy of confi-dence or patronage, having no permanent basis to stand upon.

THEE ZETNA LIFE INSURANCE CO'Y, of Hartford, Com., was early in recognizing that a considerable number of those seeking insurance desired it upon the most inexpensive plans. With a view of meeting the popular demand it organized a copyrighted system, which combines the utmost cheapness, safety and equity. The plan requires only a minimum rate, and avoids the necessity of taking large premiums for the sake of returning large dividends. It gives all the advantages obtainable under more expensive policies. 'It is peculiarly adapted to those who desire to secure the largest amount of insurance at the least possible cost; to those who want immediate protection, but are not ready or able to pay for endowments or other plans more expensive, and for those who wish insurance for a limited time, or for a specific purpose.' The accumulations under this plan are kept distinct and sepa-rate, and the insured receive the benefit of them by the application of the surplus at stated periods. There is, therefore, no further necessity or excuse for trusting the fu-ture happiness and support of dependent ones to the deceptive and un-certain system of passing round the hat after the funeral, for the Zriva LIVE DOCODO THE ÆTNA LIFE INSURANCE CO'Y.

The special committee met in con-junction with the excentive committee of the club, and reported that the required amount could probably be raised by sub-scription, provided the Lachine and Grand Trunk rowing clubs would contribute their quota. It was accordingly decided to take the regatta. $200 was subscribed at once by the Lachine club and $50 by the Grand Trunk club, and Saturday, the 19th of August, was suggested as the case. C. A.
