BAPAUME TAKEN, PERONNE OUTFLANKED FRENCH OVERRUN SOUTHERN PICARDY

British Capture All Important Defences of the Somme Battlefield, While French Take Line of Canal Du Nord--Americans, Aided by Tanks, Take Juvigny, Near Soissons--Belgians Advance on Langemarck Road, Inflicting Heavy Losses.

DRAMATIC DRIVE BY TANKS HELPS AMERICANS TO GAIN WHOLE BRITISH LINE ADVANCES FROM THILLOY TO BRIE CROSSING

German Lines Fall Back Over Juvigny Plateau After Being Swept by Fire From Heavy Guns and Long Range Naval Guns.

With the American Army on the Vesle front, Aug. 29.—Accompanied by a fleet of tanks and covered by a heavy artillery barrage, the Americans swept forward early today against the German lines that, slowly and reluctantly fell back over Juvigny plateau. The little operation carried out yesterday by the French and Americans had been merely preparatory to the attack which began at 7 o'clock this morning. The link had been taken out of the line yesterday, but no determined effort was made to advance to any extent. The firing was continuous throughout the night on both sides, the German guns being especially active. The rains of the early evening ceased before the ground had been converted into mud, so when the orders were given today, the men moved forward unimpeded. The German positions were shelled most vigorously by heavy guns, mortars and light pieces, firing almost point blank, as well as by long range naval guns, which searched the positions far and near. And then the infantry advanced. Up over the plateau the infantrymen went towards Juvigny and across the little railroad running north and south. The Germans immediately began to employ the tactics of similar retreats, leaving their rear defended by a line of machine guns hidden behind every clump of brush, promontory, and woods. Only a few detachments of infantry were left, the enemy again adopting measures calculated to save the most men possible. From Couronne Woods and another little wood standing like sentinels between Juvigny and the American lines, the German guns delivered a deadly barrage. Juvigny is only a village, but, located along the side of a hill, it offered a peculiar opportunity for defense, until the advancing forces moved into positions from which they were able to make it untenable. The resistance then stopped, the Germans retiring further east into more broken ground.

On Two-Mile Front. The frontage assigned to the Americans was less than two miles. That part in which Juvigny is located was the scene of a dramatic tank drive. Under the cover of artillery, the light French tanks flitted along both sides of the path up to the little place, smashing down one machine gun nest after another, in spite of the employment by the Germans of their new tank gun, a sort of super-Mausier. This gun is virtually identical with the Mausier, except that it fires a bullet a little more than half an inch in diameter. This, it is calculated, can pierce the tank and possibly injure some vital part of the engine. But in the path of the advancing machines, there now lie broken or smashed into the earth scores of these guns. There is unquestioned mastery of the air by the allies along this front. It has been misty this morning and there was little effective aerial work, and practically none by the Germans. Above the lines the allied planes were seen all forenoon, attempting to conduct observations in spite of the murky atmosphere, and occasionally a German plane dared to dart thru, but in every case it was forced to retire hastily. Only a few prisoners are reported as yet, the Germans apparently seeing to it that only machine gun crews should be sacrificed.

"THIS, OUR GREATEST VICTORY"

General Currie, in Message to Premier, Ascribes it to "Splendid Discipline and Leadership and Indomitable Courage and Morale."

Ottawa, Aug. 29.—"This, our greatest victory"—the phrase occurs in a message which Lieut.-Gen. Sir Arthur Currie, commander of the Canadian corps in France, has sent to the prime minister in response to a telegram of congratulations. Sir Arthur Currie's message reads: "Your kind message of congratulations is greatly appreciated by myself and the forces under my command. To the splendid discipline and leadership, the indomitable courage and morale of the fighting force, and to the co-operation of all services under the marked efficiency of all the staff, this our greatest victory, is undoubtedly due. With such a combination, I am confident that we shall be able in the future to accomplish even greater things toward the attainment of those principles for which we are fighting and the establishment of a firm and lasting peace."

Desperate Fighting Proceeds South of Scarpe for Purpose of Straightening Out Front--Only Four Miles Remains to Traverse Till Untouched Country is Reached From Arras.

With the British Army in France, Aug. 29.—The British forces gained additional ground today. There has been hard fighting in the Scarpe region, where the German resistance is being sustained regardless of cost in an effort to save their Drocourt-Queant line. As a matter of fact the line is still intact, but this is solely because the British have not actually carried out any assaults against it.

In the operations today, there was desperate fighting, this for the purpose of straightening out the British line and pushing closer to the enemy positions. Individual Germans in this locality, as at other places, are showing increased dislike for the war that is going against them. But in a body and under watchful eyes of their officers, who, incidentally, have been forced to shoot some of the men for refusing to obey orders, the enemy is offering the stiffest resistance.

South of the Somme the Germans are retreating before the Australians. The French to the south having reacted the banks of the Somme back waters, the Australians are engaged in clearing the enemy from the small bit of ground remaining to him west and south of the river within the angle created by its course. Bapaume has virtually been surrounded for several days. British patrols having been in its western outskirts, and it has just unofficially been reported to have fallen.

Towns Captured. South of Bapaume the battle continues. This afternoon the British were east of Maurepas and Comblès, while Ghéchy and Guillemont have been stormed and captured. The British are pushing on.

Other British troops this afternoon beat down the opposition and are moving thru Thillois, just south of Bapaume. The whole British line here seems to be on the move. The Germans are falling back, leaving large numbers of machine guns on the ground, out of which they are being pushed.

By this movement the British are thrusting out with the object of making their lines conform with those in the north with respect to the old Hindenburg line. By reason of the fact that the line shoots off to the northwest, the troops up near the Scarpe reached its continuation, in the shape of the Drocourt-Queant switch, earlier than the other divisions.

Straightening Line. In the north heavy fighting is in progress on both sides of Bullecourt and in front of that town. From south of Bullecourt all the way to the Scarpe the operations are aimed at straightening the line and gaining ground. Villers-Carbonnel and Barleux have been taken.

Within the past 24 hours the Germans have launched several heavy counter-attacks, fresh troops being employed. In every case except one the enemy was beaten back with terrible losses, gaining no ground whatsoever.

The one exception was a counter-attack south of Gevresille, north of the Scarpe, where the Germans managed to penetrate the British lines. But they did not remain there long, for they were driven out, and British posts were re-established as before.

MORE TOWNS AND VILLAGES RECLAIMED BY FRENCH

Foch is Pushing His Men Forward With Great Impetus While Haig's Forces Cut Their Way Eastward North and South of the Somme.

The Germans continue in retreat everywhere between Arras and the Soissons sector under the violent attacks by the allied troops. As yet there seems to be no slackening in the offensive that is steadily reclaiming numerous French towns and villages and territory that long has been in the hands of the enemy.

Indeed, instead of halting his men for a breathing spell, Marshal Foch seems to be pushing them forward with greater impetus. And at present the retiring enemy shows no indications of turning and offering more of a battle than he recently has been giving with his machine gunners and infantry units that are acting as rearguards to aid in covering the eastward retrograde movement.

Already outflanking the old Hindenburg line on the north, Field-Marshal Haig's forces gradually are cutting their way eastward, both north and south of the Somme, and putting down strong counter-offensive actions, also on several sectors they have had to cede ground temporarily.

Capture of Bapaume. Official reports assert that the British have captured the important town of Bapaume, where for days there has been bitter fighting, the Germans exerting their utmost strength to keep Haig's men from gaining control of the railway and the high road leading to Cambrai. To the south the British are also said to have penetrated to the outskirts of Maurepas, another point of strategic value. Along both sides of the Somme running eastward ground has been gained, and this important railroad junction outflanked.

Since the caving-in of the German line by the fall of Chaules and Roye, the French literally have overrun the southern portion of Picardy, having reached the western bank of the Canal du Nord along almost its entire length and captured the town of Noyon, which, surrounded by hills, has stood defiantly for days under a rain of shells. East and southeast of Noyon other important positions have been taken, and between the Oise and the Aisne the French have overcome the heavy resistance of the enemy and crossed the Ailette River.

Gains Near Soissons. Northwest of Soissons, where the Americans are in the line with the French in the general movement of clearing Picardy of the enemy, there has been severe fighting, but with the allied troops having the advantage. The American sector is between Chavigny and Juvigny, and the enemy facing them includes the Prussian ninth infantry.

Along the Vesle River at Bazoches and Pismette the situation is rather less tense than it was on Tuesday and Wednesday, when heavy fighting occurred between the Americans and Germans. Thursday the Americans heavily shelled the German positions, but the Germans failed to accept their challenge to a duel and replied only feebly. The claim of the German war office that 250 Americans were made prisoner during the recent fighting is denied by the Americans, who assert that only a few of their men are missing.

British Take Bapaume

Along Whole Front From There Southwards Germans Forced to Retreat With Great Loss in Prisoners and Guns.

London, Aug. 29.—The occupation by the British of Bapaume was officially announced tonight in Field Marshal Haig's report from British headquarters. Field Marshal Haig reports that along the whole front from Bapaume southwards, the Germans have been forced to retreat with great loss in prisoners, guns and material. The British have reached the west bank of the Somme opposite Brie and Peronne. The text reads: "Successful attacks delivered since Aug. 8 by the 4th, 3rd and 1st British armies, have rendered the enemy's positions on the old Somme battlefield untenable.

"On the whole front from Bapaume southwards, the enemy has been forced to abandon, with great loss in prisoners, guns and material, as well as killed and wounded, the ground he gained at such heavy cost in last March and April. We have reached the west bank of the Somme opposite Brie and Peronne and have taken Hem.

"North of Hem we are advancing on the general line of Comblès, Morval, Beaulencourt and Fremicourt. Sharp fighting occurred on this front today and many casualties have been inflicted on bodies of German infantry who attempted to delay our progress.

"This morning the New Zealanders took possession of Bapaume, driving out the enemy's rear guard.

"In the sector north of Bapaume, the enemy is still endeavoring to maintain his positions. Our troops, after hard fighting about Vraucourt, Ecourt St. Mein and Hendecourt-les-Cagnicourt, made progress and have taken many prisoners.

ANOTHER POCKET FOR THE GERMANS

Must Evacuate It Promptly or Have Their Positions Turned.

ROAD IS UNDER FIRE

Difficulty of Getting Out of Salient is Increased Enormously.

With the French Army in France, Aug. 29.—The operations of the past two days have put the Germans into another pocket, between the Canal du Nord and the River Oise. They will have to evacuate it promptly or run a big risk of having their positions there turned from the north by the French along the Valley of the Somme.

Since the fall of Noyon, which was the apex of this salient until this morning, Mount St. Simeon, a mile and a quarter to the east, is its advanced defence. This height dominates the Valley of the Oise eastward, and the Valley of the River Meuse and the Canal du Nord to the north. These valleys were lines in the salient last night.

The taking of Quenoy Wood this morning has tightened the pocket from the western side, bringing the French within shelling distance of the main road leading out of it in the direction of Ham. The road from Noyon to Chauny, which skirts the salient on the south, has been under the fire of General Mangin's artillery for several days.

Between the roads to Ham and Chauny a succession of heights extends from Mont St. Simeon to Chauny. The Germans are in great strength here, and are evidently shelling the French lines from there today, but their communications to the north suggests that they are merely using supplies there to ease the pressure which had become so strong as to require them to abandon ammunition dumps over the field of the Aisne.

The French troops, having gained a foothold in the Valley of the Somme northeast of Nesle, may naturally be expected to advance eastward on Ham which will render the stronghold of St. Simeon and the ridge leading east useless to the enemy, while enormous increases in the difficulty of getting the rearward out of the salient.

French Cross Ailette

After Taking Noyon in Heavy Fighting, They Advance More Than a Mile East, Capturing More Villages.

Paris, Aug. 29.—The French, after capturing Noyon in heavy fighting today, continued their advance and now have a foothold on the southern slopes of Mont St. Simeon, more than a mile to the east, according to the war office announcement tonight. They also have taken Landrimont and Morlincourt, and have crossed the Ailette River at several points.

The text of the statement reads: "During the course of the day our progress continued in the region of the Canal du Nord, which we have reached along its entire length, except near Cantigny and Sermaz. We have occupied Quenoy Wood, northeast of Evucilly and Beaurains.

"Further south we captured Noyon in a bitter struggle and advanced as far as the southern outskirts of Haplincourt. To the east of Noyon we gained a footing on the southern slopes of Mont St. Simeon, and took Landrimont and Morlincourt. We captured several hundred prisoners.

"Between the Oise and the Aisne our troops crossed the Ailette River at several points north and south of Champs, in spite of the resistance offered by the enemy. Gony and Post St. Mard are in our hands."

Canadians Take 3000 Prisoners

London, Aug. 29.—The Canadians between Monday and 6 o'clock this morning have taken 3000 prisoners.

BELGIANS TAKE GROUND ON A TWO-MILE FRONT

Paris, Aug. 29.—The Belgian official communication says: "Our troops attacked last night on a front of three kilometres north and south of the Langemarck railway and penetrated the enemy positions. All our objectives were reached and maintained. We inflicted very heavy losses on the enemy and brought back 50 unwounded prisoners belonging to six regiments, machine guns, bomb throwers and war material."

TWO TRAINS TAKEN BY JAPS IN SIBERIA

Enemy Attacking Along Ussuri Front Routed by Allied Charge.

Vladivostok, Aug. 29.—The enemy in considerable numbers attacked desparately along the Ussuri front last Saturday. All the allied forces participated in the fighting except the Americans. Upwards of 300 of the enemy were killed.

The Japanese bore the brunt of the fighting. They captured two armored trains and several field guns.

According to a wounded Czech, the Japanese, infuriated by finding mutilated comrades on the battlefield, charged and routed the enemy in the face of heavy machine gun and rifle fire. The Japanese report that the allied troops are advancing steadily.

"DIG DOWN DEEP," SAILORS' WEEK CRY

Campaign Workers at Boost Luncheon Hear Inspiring Addresses.

A big boost was given the "Sailors' Week Campaign" at a luncheon of the workers at the King Edward yesterday. More than 300 ladies and gentlemen were present. Commodore Jarvis, Sir Glenholme Falconbridge, Rev. Father John Burke, Lieut.-Col. C. G. Williams and others gave addresses outlining the campaign and emphasizing the splendid objects of the promoters.

Father Burke, in a masterly and eloquent address, pointed out that it was not through patriotic motives that the public should make a generous contribution, but that it should be considered a debt of justice that all owed to the splendid men who risked their lives on the sea to protect others from the foe that would throttle them. The campaign was on behalf of laboring men of the ships---men in their blue jeans---who went to their work in ordinary course, and many of whom died in the service of their fellow countrymen, without the glory that came to the uniformed soldier or sailor of the army and navy.

Lieut.-Col. Williams was equally inspiring in his address. He predicted that when the campaign was concluded they would have raised the sum of $500,000 mark, which was the original objective, and attained the seven-figure mark. He aroused enthusiasm by unfolding the flag that was flying over the hospital ship Letitia when she was torpedoed. A. M. Hoberlin, chairman of the executive, presided. Those present were for the most part substantial business men and women who have the cause of the sailor at heart. They have been organized into teams and the city has been divided into districts for the final assault on the pocket-books of the citizens next week. The slogan is "Dig Down Deep." Father Burke, who is a human dynamo, is principal team leader, and he is certain to give to the respective chairmen the necessary inspiration and enthusiasm for the successful winding up of the campaign.

It was announced by Commodore Jarvis that the board of control had been asked to vote $100,000. The gathering enthusiastically endorsed this grant and promised to be present at a meeting of the city council today to further the vote. Chevalier J. Enoch Thompson suggested that the Ontario Government also be interviewed. "Never mind them," replied Commodore Jarvis. "They're all right."

Following is a list of the captains for the campaign: Mrs. Jas. Craig, Bayview avenue; Mrs. McClelland, 52 Walker avenue; Toronto Women's Patriotic League; Mrs. J. J. O'Neill, 78 Binscarth road; Mrs. Chas. Stock, 78 Amelia street; Mrs. Frank Wise, 87 East Roxborough street; St. George Chapter, I.O.D.E.; Mrs. Jas. Craig, Bayview avenue; Eglinton P.O. SOCIAL SERVICE COMMISSION. Two vacancies on the Social Service Commission were filled by the board of control yesterday by the appointment of W. H. Alderson and R. P. Gough. There was a tie vote on the appointment of Rev. Peter Bryce and T. McMillan for the other vacancy. R. S. Hudson has consented to remain on the commission.

Lieut.-Col. Kingsmill, D.S.O., and Nursing Sisters Among Those on Furlough.

Lt.-Col. W. B. Kingsmill, D.S.O., was one of a party of 16 officers who arrived in Toronto yesterday from overseas service on three months' furlough. For 22 months Col. Kingsmill has been on service in France. He took the 123rd Royal Grenadiers' Battalion to the front, being in command of the unit both during its organization in Toronto, and when it reached the firing line. He was mentioned in despatches last November and in June of this year was awarded the Distinguished Service Order.

The spirit among the Canadian troops at the front at the present time is as fine as it could possibly be, declares Col. Kingsmill. He is a member of the legal firm of Saunders, Torrance and Kingsmill, Bay street. Lt.-Col. C. S. McVicar of 300 Roncesvalles avenue, another officer to return to Toronto, has been recalled for duty. He was formerly with the staff of the No. 4 General Hospital University of Toronto which served at Salonica. He was one of the six members mentioned in despatches. It is three years and four months since he first left Toronto for overseas service. Lieut. J. K. Latchford, son of Mr. Justice F. R. Latchford, 151 St. George street, has returned on three months' furlough. Both he and his brother, Lieut. A. M. Latchford, have taken

TEN DAYS TO REPORT IF AWAY WHEN CALLED

By a new order-in-council it is provided that men who are outside of Canada when their class is called to the colors under the Military Service Act will report to the registrar within ten days of their coming into the country, and be held to be on active service without pay. They will then be allowed to claim exemption to go before a tribunal, and will be treated exactly as they would have been if in Canada at the time the proclamation was issued calling out their class. This announcement is of special interest just now because of the American-Canadian convention, which allows Canadians in the United States of military draft ages up to Sept. 31 to either return to Canada or file claims for exemption under the American draft act conditions.

REV. FATHER PRANE HONORED. Rev. Father Geo. Prane, now pastor of Beaverton parish and formerly curate at St. Cecilia's Church, West Toronto, was given a purse of $500 and a formal address at St. Cecilia's Hall last night by members of the congregation, in recognition of his efficient services, especially among the aged, the poor, and the children, while in West Toronto. E. F. Henderson read the address, to which Rev. Father Prane replied briefly. Rev. Dr. Treacy addressed the gathering.

CONDUCTOR ARRESTED.

G. R. Goulett, 21 Henry street, a street car conductor, was arrested yesterday by Detective Armstrong charged with an aggravated assault on Walter Weaver, 255 Perth avenue. It is alleged that the trouble started over a disputed transfer, and Goulett seized Weaver by the throat and threw him off the car.

COMMISSIONER HARRIS ANGRY AT CONTROLLERS

The usual suave and conciliating attitude of Works Commissioner Harris was conspicuous by its absence at yesterday's meeting of the board of control and that gentleman went so far as to indignantly pound the table and declare he was being interfered with in the discharge of his duties. He had recommended the appointment of A. V. Sanderson as chief engineer at the island filtration plant and Wm. Scott as his assistant. Controllers Maguire and Robbins commenced to champion the cause of William Henning, a stationery engineer for one of the jobs. "He has not the ability," said Mr. Harris. Controller Robbins: I am informed he has. Mr. Harris: Who is the best judge of that? Controller Maguire wanted the appointment of Scott left over for a week.

The mayor: The head of the department should have a free hand. Mr. Harris declined to take any responsibility for possible accidents to the $16,000,000 plant if his recommendations were interfered with. "I am in charge of the waterworks and I find myself thwarted at every turn," he said. Finally it was decided to appoint Mr. Sanderson as recommended by the commissioner and leave Mr. Scott's appointment over until today.

FUEL FOR SOLDIERS' FAMILIES.

Mayor Church recently wrote to Ottawa regarding a supply of coal for soldiers' wives and families, and yesterday the deputy fuel controller wrote that he had referred the matter to R. C. Harris, honorary fuel controller for Ontario.

Immense Audience Sees Spectacle and Great Military Tattoo at Night.

Thursday's attendance . . . 69,500
Same day last year . . . 66,000
Gain over last year to date . . . 5,900

Allies' Day was a wonderful day at the Exhibition yesterday. It was specially recognized in a number of ways and will be remembered for a long time. It was the occasion of the visit of Hon. Dr. Bernard, who, after nearly four years of imprisonment in Germany, was perhaps the best qualified man in Canada to speak on the necessity of the power of the allies to crush the military party in Germany. As the regretful of the kind of weather he furnished the day previous, the weather man was of the kind. The sun shone in all its heat and beauty and dried the grounds in very short order. T. A. Russell, president, said during the day that the bright clear weather and the good news from the front—the capture of Ypres—were good omens. With such good weather as yesterday's and with such enthusiasm as was manifested on all sides, previous records are going to be broken in the opinion of the optimists of which there are very many indeed.

More particularly was Allies' Day recognized during the evening performance, when a great military tattoo was staged. The Polish band, from the great multitude of people with their excellent music. The famous French trench band, representing France, was heard and cheered and cheered again. The band from Buffalo, representing the United States, drew forth volumes of applause. Creators' band, as the representative of Italy, occupied a prominent place, and when the British bands came on patriotism knew no bounds.

Thrilling Program.

Never before has such a tremendously thrilling program been seen at the Exhibition. This may be accounted for by the sentiment attaching to the allies represented. It was magnificent. The immense bandstand was packed until every seat was occupied. Long before 5 o'clock the people began lining up in front of the gates and by 6 o'clock there was only standing room to be had. A big sign was posted outside warning the people to this effect. By 7 o'clock more than thousands crowded the lawns, and indeed it would have been difficult to squeeze more than 200 more people into the space.

There was a good attendance for the afternoon performance of the playing of the French trench band was a feature, in addition to the regular whippet races and other interesting amusements. During the day Creators' band continued to delight as many people as could be accommodated. The motor boat races brought the fans to the speed with which the boats covered the course.

Yesterday's attendance will go a long way towards making up for the falling off on Wednesday, when the rain interfered to such an extent. The grounds filled up rapidly and by noon the pressure thru the buildings was slow because of the crowds. The midway had its quota and play was suspended, while the various demonstrations were attended by interested onlookers.

All in all the day was elated a big success from every viewpoint and it is expected that the spectacle will continue to draw increased audiences as the days proceed.

VISITORS CONTRIBUTE TO SWELL TAG FUNDS

Under the convenship of Mrs. W. F. Harvey the Parkdale Soldiers' Comforts Society did a splendid business in the west and "tag" yesterday. Exhibition visitors and travelers generally were for the most part tagged early in the day, none seeming to refuse the pleaders who, by noon, were on their way to their down town offices and to the factories were not allowed to escape, the "tag" being confined to the western part of the city with the eastern boundary at Ossington avenue.

The tag used on the occasion was of an unusual order, being a pretty circular card with two soldiers opening a box and taking out the comforts. The figures were in red and the motto "For Soldiers' Comforts" in black letters circled the illustration.

MAKING ARRANGEMENTS FOR LABOR DAY SPORTS

Arrangements are well forward for the Labor Day sports at the Exhibition. The events will all be run off again on the track near the waterfront, foot of Dufferin street, and a splendid entry is assured in every event, of which there will be 21. One of the outstanding features of the day will be a tug-of-war between the British Forgings and the Leaside Ammunition Works, eight men to a team. It will be for the championship of Toronto, and the keenest rivalry has been worked up between the participants. The team from the British Forgings will tip the scale at 1800 pounds. In all given to the value of $500 will be given, including gold rings for the tug-of-war team and for the two athletes winning the most points for the trades council cup.

GLASS WORKERS PROGRESS.

The glass workers of Toronto are working ahead, and were addressed on Wednesday night by Joseph Hunter, general organizer for the union in Canada. John Hopkins acted yesterday afternoon that this trade was among the most skilled in the general trades.

EXHIBITION NOTICES

MEDICAL SIDE OF SOLDIERS' RE-ESTABLISHMENT.

One of the most important services operated by the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-Establishment is certainly its medical branch, under the director of medical services. Returned men may, as a general thing, be divided into four great classes: First, the blind; second, those suffering with internal diseases, tubercular and non-tubercular (chronic bronchitis, emphysema, arterio-sclerosis, and the like); third, the mentally deranged, and fourth, the crippled, that is, those whose motor functions, whether of limb or trunk, have been impaired.

The blind, the diseased and the mentally deranged all had their institutions in pre-war days, but the crippled soldiers—it was soon found—presented features falling outside the ken of the existing hospitals.

Reconstruction of the returned soldier, it soon became evident, would make simultaneous demands upon the orthopaedic surgeon, the physical teacher—that is to say they must be treated not only medically, but the technician must supply the proper brace or artificial limb, and the teacher must enable them to overcome diminished physical power by increased mental and technical ability.

Consider the immense effort to provide curative workshops, equipment for occupational therapy in its various forms and the skilled personnel to operate them, in order to bring about the physical and psychic reconstruction of the discharged soldier!

The care of the tubercular returned soldiers alone makes necessary eighteen sanatoria, located throughout the various provinces. If an ex-soldier has a recurrence of a disability, due to army service, he is entitled to free treatment by the medical branch of the department, a dental service also being maintained.

Vision was required, powers of organization, grasp of new conditions and necessities. The Medical Branch undoubtedly has risen to the occasion and made an enviable record for Sir James A. Lougheed's department.

TROJAN WASHING MACHINE.

McDonald and Wilson, Limited, late of 12 Queen street East, now 417 Yonge street, have an interesting exhibit of washing machines and electrical fixtures at the Exhibition. The feature of their "Trojan" washing machine is the high powered water proof motor which operates the machine. The clothes are prevented from becoming tangled by the one revolution system of reversing the cylinder. An official of the firm stated yesterday that he would be willing to allow anyone to pour a pail of water over the motor without affecting it.

A BOAT FOR ALL WATERS.

The Disappearing Boat Propeller Company is showing models at the Exhibition that are attracting many visitors. The engine of the boat, and the propeller are both controlled by the same lever. It is possible on account of the disappearing propeller to use propeller always remain under water, being in the centre of the boat. All vibration has been eliminated and the boat will run on nearly ten miles an hour may be obtained. The watercraft will be interested in seeing this fine exhibit. It is a vast improvement in motor boat transportation.

BARNET PEERLESS PRODUCTS.

Unsurpassed on the market is the Barnett refrigerator and cold storage, each of which are built on the same scientific principles with regard to the best requirements of sanitation and ventilation. In the construction of the refrigerator cleverly used in the insulation system, and the circulation in any test is proved to be perfect.

CHRISTIE-BROWN COMPANY OVERSEAS PRODUCTS.

"Pure as can be made" is the motto of the Christie-Brown Company, who have a fine exhibit of their cakes and biscuits in the manufacturers' building at the Exhibition. Their fruit cakes are rich and fruity and keep fresh a long time. This makes them take first place for sending overseas. The company is making a special line of cakes put up in a tin box for sending to the soldiers. About the first of October they will have a "line of Christmas puddings ready to add to the overseas boxes."

Brain Fag

You are mentally tired. The strain has been continuous. The supply of nerve force is running low. You cannot leave for a long rest in the country, and it is therefore necessary that you have assistance where you are. Help awaits you in the form of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. This great restorative feeds the nerves back to health and vigor. It restores the energy and vitality that is necessary to success and the healthful enjoyment of life.

SOLDIER HANDS TURN TO THE DAILY TASK AGAIN.

"Once a soldier, always a soldier"—so came down fatfooted "a certain professional man the other day. He confessed to despair when he contemplated the reversion to civil obligations of the Canadian army when peace was concluded. Once a soldier, always!

That is as far as possible from the men who dealt doughty blows at Ypres and Vimy Ridge had not the military habit and the military mould of mind resulting from years of martial service. They were ordinary Canadian citizens, all ages, drawn from every class of society from lofty pulpits to pits of coal mine.

SIR JAMES LOUGHEED Head of the Invalid Soldiers' Aid Commission, who will be a guest of the directors of the Exhibition today.

FEATURE MINERALS GIVING CHEMICALS

Provincial Government Has Fine Display in the Government Building.

The provincial government in its exhibit of the Ontario Bureau of Mines at the Exhibition this year in the government building, has featured minerals from which chemicals are derived. Before war conditions made the demand for chemicals so great, more valuable than minerals went to waste. Now these very products are proving, if anything, more valuable than minerals themselves. The complete exhibit is being taken to New York in September to display at the national exposition of chemical industries.

The Deloro Smelting and Refining Co. and the Conlaga Reduction Co. have a showing in connection with the exhibit of silver ores and the chemicals that are derived from the ores. Much of the sulphuric acid so much needed at the present time is made from pyrites. Molybdenite and ferro-silicon, used in the making of steel, are also shown.

Three cheers for the gallant doctor, someone called out and the great assembly cheered to the echo.

W. C. T. U. DINING ROOM.

The members of this well-known organization are again looking after their annual visit to the Exhibition. "The best and cleanest meal" is the usual expression. Come and try the organization's dining room. It is a popular dining hall, situated at the south end of the government building, entrance being west of the postoffice.

FURTER & DALTON'S BEAUTIFUL FURS.

Pretty and girlish are the fox fur sets shown at the Exhibition in the manufacturers' building. Furter and Dalton, 3022 West Dundas street. The over-popular red fox is shown in some new styles that can be worn as summer furs, as well as giving warmth in the zero weather. One handsome set of tan lynx has an animal effect for the neckpiece and a new barrel-shaped muff to match. The garments shown will compare favorably with any in Canada in effect and workmanship.

EAT AT MUMBY'S.

The attractiveness of Mumby's dining hall is due to the fact that they are operated in a manner that understands how to cater so as to please the public. Everything is served in an appealing manner. Mr. Mumby also desires to give his patrons exactly what they want. He has his regular large crowd of service men and a cafeteria under the west end of the grand stand, where those persons who prefer to hand buy food service may get a meal. Then, under the east end of the grand stand, he serves the government fish meal.

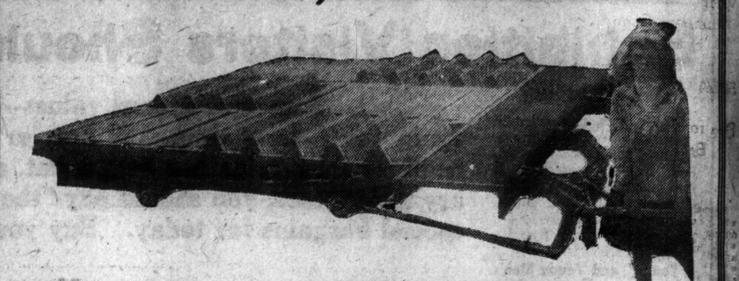

MAPLE PRODUCTS ARE POPULAR

Everyone likes hot cakes and syrup. The Maple Company have a good exhibit of their maple products at the Exhibition in the manufacturers' building. Among them is Pure Tyme Syrup, which is made of the purest maple syrup, flavored with the real maple sugar. This is put up in pint and quart bottles and in larger-sized tins. The company manufactures the syrup as well as Maple Butter at their factory on Van Horne street, Toronto.

PRESS DAY FEATURES

This is Press Day at the Exhibition. Newspapers from all over the province, and many from points far and near, will be the guests of the directors. The speakers at the luncheon will be J. Taylor, president of the Canadian Press Association; Sir James Lougheed, minister of reconstruction; Ottawa; Lloyd Harris, chairman of the Canadian War Commission, Washington; and Harry Anderson, president of the Toronto Press Club. The whippet races will conclude with tonight's performance in front of the grand stand. Speed motor boats, racing over the Exhibition course, will continue to draw big crowds at 5.30.

SAVE FUEL, SAVE MONEY

The Nonpareil Shaking and Dumping Grate Bar enables you to make an immediate saving in fuel—a saving that will continue for years. We will install any size, under any kind of a boiler, for a trial period of thirty days, and guarantee to show a saving of not less than 10 per cent. of your fuel. The grates are also guaranteed to give entire satisfaction in every way. You will be the sole judge. If at the end of that time you are not satisfied, remove the grates and return them to us at our expense. It will not cost you a penny. WE ALSO SPECIALIZE IN FIRE-BRICK WORK—re-lining boilers, building and repairing Murphy and Detroit stokers. Agents wanted.

GREAT ASSEMBLY WELCOMES BELAND

Thrilling Reception to Noted Canadian by People at Exhibition.

GERMANY RESPONSIBLE

World Conflict Planned, and Population Trained for the War.

An immense audience gathered to hear Hon. Dr. Beland when he spoke from the main bandstand at the Exhibition yesterday afternoon. He was given a most enthusiastic reception. As the distinguished guest stepped on to the stand, Creators' band played "O Canada," while the people stood with bared heads. "Three cheers for the gallant doctor," someone called out and the great assembly cheered to the echo.

After the introduction by T. A. Russell, president, who explained that Canada was more than glad to welcome him home after years of imprisonment in Germany, Hon. Dr. Beland said: "I accept this kind demonstration not so much as a welcome as a recognition of the noble services rendered by the dear sons of Canada across the ocean and as a soothing for their sufferings."

Garage Equipment

Car Owners and Dealers LOOK HERE!

Did you ever think that any spark plug could stand up to its work continuously from 8 a.m. till 10 p.m. every day for two solid weeks without the least sign of a crack in the porcelain?

Come and See the TUNGSTEN SPARK PLUG AT THE "EX"

In the TUNGSTEN we have the plug that every car owner has often wished for—a plug that will work right along from dawn till dawn without ever ceasing to deliver a big, fat, sizzling hot spark that assures maximum motor efficiency.

But--See for Yourself!

We are operating a special machine that shows six Tungsten Spark Plugs at work. They will run all day long from the time the Exhibition opens in the morning till it closes at night. Ever see like this at the Exhibition, be sure you see the demonstration of this super-spark plug.

FRIDAY MORNING, AUGUST 30.

Tending Towards a Decision.

Conservative military critics are once more entirely at fault regarding the strength of the allies and the ability of the Germans to withstand their attacks. Mr. Hinzenburg, who is one of the foremost in giving Hinzenburg the benefit of the doubt, stated in his article yesterday that the question was whether the German would halt at the line of Bertinourt-Peronne-Noyon or whether they would go straight back to the Hindenburg line. "In any event," he asserted, "he is going back to the Peronne-Noyon line, which will be his next resting place."

Before these views could get into print Noyon had fallen, and yesterday evening Despaume was in the hands of the British. Every day that passes makes a military decision more assured. The Germans may not be routed, but they are certainly out of hand, their units are lacking in cohesion, many of them have lost all morale, and as a whole fighting force their armies are no longer reliable.

The retreat to the Hindenburg line comes too late. The Hindenburg line is already breached. Not only this, but yesterday evening's despatches stated that the main body of the British troops was only from 1000 to 2000 yards distant from the Drocourt-Queant line. Behind this a stand might be made at the Canal du Nord, but behind this there is nothing in the way of prepared defences.

The situation grows blacker and blacker for the Kaiser. Combes was outflanked and encircled. The British were on the outskirts of Maurepas. Bullecourt was less than a mile from the British line. In the southern battlefield the French were pressing hard. Juvisy had fallen. Practically all lines of retreat were under allied fire. Another of Foch's disconcerting blows may totally demoralize the German forces and lead to a debacle. This is the plain sense of the situation, and while it is well to recognize that accidents may occur and the situation possibly change, yet nothing but the most abominable blundering can save the Germans as the situation stands.

It is feared that Foch may not have sufficient reserves to follow up a routed German army. He has 1,750,000 United States troops in France, and there are enough of them in fit and proper shape to be thrown in where he may need them, or to chase the Kaiser across the Rhine if he needs be.

There are still big strategic possibilities in the western front, and neither Foch nor Wilson will overlook them. There are no keener men in Europe than these two generals, and we may be sure the German command is much more exercised over what Foch and Wilson are going to do next, and how to escape the blow, than about providing a Christmas dinner in Paris for the Kaiser.

Events of the most sensational character may develop at any moment.

Editors' Camouflage.
Now that the Canadian editors have returned, or those at least of the profession who were deemed worthy to join the expedition of wisdom, it may be permitted to reveal the great secret that lay behind their visit to France. Had it been told at first, these brave and disinterested men might have been made the special object of the enemy's attack, with disastrous results to those concerned. The secret was well kept, however, and it probably has not yet occurred to any of the unthinkings and the critics in Canada that the whole tide of war turned as soon as these sagacious gentlemen got within earshot of General Foch and told him what to do.

Since then the allied arms have had an unbroken series of triumphs. It is easy to see why. One doubts if it were wise to bring them home at such a critical stage. However, the nation will rest at ease knowing that their patriotic spirit will place them at Foch's service any moment he wants them, and that they will cross the ocean willingly whenever they may be called upon.

A Sign of Public Ownership.
Common sense has at last prevailed in the United States in the matter of railway tickets. Mileage books good for 1000 miles at $30, are now on sale at all ticket offices. They are transferable and good any time, like street car tickets, and only Providence knows why the railway companies have not adopted the plan ages ago. These $30 books are ready and $15 books good for 500 miles will be ready in a couple of weeks. The tickets are good on any road, and are perhaps the completest symbol of public ownership that could be imagined. The present method of selling special tickets and all the worry and time and expense that it entails is a survival of the old coach days when the number of seats was strictly limited, and it was necessary if a journey was to be made to engage a seat ahead. Such a ticket of course had to be used on the coach for which it was issued. There is no such limitation of accommodation on railway trains and the perpetuation of the old ticket system of the coaching days is as strong a testimony to the innate conservatism of corporations as could be found.

German Lies in Russia.

A denial of the story that 300 Czecho-Slovak prisoners had been changed by the Russian Red Guards is sent out by Czecho-Slovak authorities with the explanation that it was a German falsehood meant to have a political effect. It was hoped to intimidate the Czecho-Slovaks at home who have been organizing in Austria and Hungary, and who are much elated by the recognition of their nationality by Britain.

Slender of the Czecho-Slovak troops was included in the calumny, as these troops have committed no outrages such as the Germans gave as the reason for the alleged hangings, but are a well-disciplined, well-commanded and orderly body. Wherever Russians were made prisoners they were set free on giving up their arms and pledging themselves not to join the Red Guards. German and Magyar agents posing as internationalists were punished when taken. It is the German element among the Russians that is held responsible for any atrocities or brutalities that are suffered.

Lusitania Damages Case.

Germany has been circulating the story once more, on the strength of a report in a Swedish newspaper, probably inserted by the Germans themselves, that the Lusitania was armed and carried explosives.

This question has finally been set at rest by the trial in the Federal District Court of New York of suits for damages brought by various parties. Judge Julius M. Mayer declares the Cunard Steamship Co. free from liability for the loss of life and property by the destruction of the vessel, which he characterized as a warship, and an act of piracy on the part of the German Government. It was an act of inexpressible cowardice, he also stated.

The German claim rests on the admitted fact that the vessel carried some eighteen fuse cases and 125 empty shells, consisting merely of empty shells without any powder charge; 4200 cases of safety cartridges, and 189 cases of infantry equipment, such as leather fittings, pouches and the like. All these were for delivery abroad, but none of these munitions could be exploded by setting them on fire in mass or in bulk, nor by subjecting them to impact.

Judge Mayer concludes his judgment by saying that while in the law, suit there may be no recovery, "it is not to be doubted that the United States of America and her allies will remember the rights of those affected by the sinking of the Lusitania and when the time shall come, will see to it that reparation shall be made for one of the most indefensible acts of modern times."

Regulating the Publishers.

A partial ban on new books has been imposed by the new regulations issued in the United States by the section of pulp and paper of the war industries board. It is ordered that the publishers of trade books, copy-right reprints, toy books, juvenile and non-copyright books shall reduce the titles of such books 25 per cent of the average of the three years from July 1, 1915, to June 30, 1918. This includes novels and other popular literature. Exception is made of research books and war books published for the United States or allied governments under subsidy.

There is to be a reduction in the weight of paper used also. All coated paper for jackets and circulars is to be eliminated. No new circulars are to exceed four pages in length. Books "on sale" or "on consignment" are practically prohibited.

If the effect of the regulations be to cut out the poorer and "base" sort of books no harm will be done, and a reduction of 25 per cent on the three years' average may not really affect the intentions of publishers at all as there has been a reduction in the number of books published with an immense increase of the copies sold. And this is just how the publishers like it to be.

Tax Exempt Bonds.

Editor Montreal Gazette: In endeavoring to accurately estimate the value in dollars of the tax exempt clause in the new regulations is met by the necessity of knowing the income of each holder of these securities, inasmuch as the income tax is graduated and in consequence the tax exempt provision is of great importance to those of large incomes, but of no value to a married man whose income does not exceed $2000 per annum.

However, a fairly accurate idea may be gained by noting its effect in the United States, where both tax exempt and taxable Liberty bonds have been selling on the exchange for a sufficient time to establish relative values.

The tax exempt Liberty 3 1/2 per cent bonds now sell at about 102 3/4, while the taxable 4 1/2 per cent sell at 95. Assuming the term of each of these

THE LAST OF THE RAILWAY MAGNATES

Lord Shaughnessy is the last of the railway magnates. He had more ability and more conscience than many of the American magnates, but he belonged to their order. They were foremost in a stage of economic evolution which is happily passing away and yielding to a higher and better state of affairs. Vanderbilt, Gould, Harriman, Morgan and many others will figure picturequely in the history of this continent, but they will never again be tolerated. Sir William Mackenzie and Sir Donald Mann carried out a great project in a striking way, and they may be dealt with more leniently by the historians of the future than by their contemporaries. They are magnates who are passing off the stage. They will have no successors, because changed conditions will not permit other men to attempt what they accomplished.

Lord Shaughnessy as a railway operator could not be excelled, and he did much to make the Canadian Pacific railway a name to conjure with all round the world. He made the mistake of his career, we think, when he entered the magnate class and turned his great ability to the financial side of the C.P.R. This brought him into Wall street. This led him into the dazzling pyrotechnic spectacles of the display of 1912, which ruined many of the C.P.R. officials and stockholders, and shook as nothing else could have done, the admirable morale of the system.

And this leads us to say that the Canadian Pacific is now about the only road closely affiliated with Wall street. The American roads have only one backer, and that is the United States Government. Their stocks no longer shoot the chutes or climb the pole, but are bought and sold for what they are reasonably worth. The Canadian Pacific is almost the only railway stock now in which men can gamble. The Grand Trunk has kept out of Wall street. The Canadian Northern raised money entirely by the sale of bonds, and its financing was, therefore, economical.

The railway magnate was once fairly worshipped by the people. The stockholders believed he was their champion, and the general public recognized in him the spokesman of hundreds of thousands of shareholders with millions and millions of dollars invested in transportation enterprises. It took a long time for either to be 15 years, when the tax exempt bonds sell on a basis of about 830 per cent, while the taxable bonds sell on a basis of about 100 per cent. The difference, then, is 1.40 per cent, which must be taken as the cost of the tax exemption clause of the 3 1/2 per cent bonds.

Applying this figure to our forthcoming loan of $500,000,000, it is seen that to make the issue tax exempt is to give away a privilege worth $7,000,000 per year during the period of the loan.

Nor does this $7,000,000 bonus mean that interest is being paid. It is a large amount to be an offset, inasmuch as our Victory bonds bear 1 1/2 per cent more interest than American Liberty taxable bonds and 1 1/2 per cent more than British and Australian taxables war bonds bear.

Seven millions dollars a year is a large amount to the Canadian Government, as is indicated by some recent figures as to revenue derived during the past year from war taxation.

From trust and loan companies there was collected $287,000; from insurance companies, $385,000; from banks, $1,115,000; from inland revenue on railways, steamships, telegraph and cable companies, $2,230,000; from extra postage on letters, etc., $5,800,000.

It will be noticed that the $7,000,000 per annum privilege does not take into consideration our previous tax exempt loans, amounting to about $150,000,000. Those transactions are closed, and, moreover, at the time of their issue, conditions were less favorable, and more important still, we did not have the quantity of experience of other nations to act as precedent and guide.

One is not usually to be blamed for making a mistake, but wise people do not repeat mistakes. The next bond issue will not include a tax exempt privilege.

FOLLIES OF THE PASSING SHOW—By Mitchell

Copyright, 1918, by Public Ledger Co.

The stockholders or the public to realize that the magnate was a middleman. The public were always willing to give the bonafide stockholders a fair return on their investment, and the stockholders were always willing to deal fairly with the public. The men who made all the trouble and most of the money by creaming the profits and rigging the stock market were the directors and officials. Some magnates, like Morgan and Harriman, plundered the stockholders even more rapaciously than they did the public. Lord Shaughnessy had more conscience, but he and his associates became, after all middlemen, whose interests often antagonized the true interests of their shareholders.

Lord Shaughnessy has lived to see one-fifth of his railway taken away from him by the United States Government and the bulk of his great fleet commandeered by the British admiralty. He has lost the preferred position he once occupied thru his close connections with the great railway magnates and railway systems of the United States. What remains of the great Canadian Pacific Railway must soon pass into the national railway system of Canada. Naturally he shrinks from what may seem to him like a surrender, and naturally those closely connected with him in the administration of the road are thinking more of themselves than they are of their shareholders.

But the shareholders must see that with the passing of Lord Shaughnessy the old-time magnate disappears forever. They must save their own bacon, and they can best serve themselves by a fair bargain with the government. The old Punch and Judy show of running the stock up 20 to 30 points in a week or two will get them nowhere, for it is only the insiders who clean up on these operations. Let the shareholders seriously ask themselves what their stock is worth and what would be a fair return for them should the road be taken over by the government.

Lord Shaughnessy lingers, we will not say superfluous, upon the stage, but he is the last of the players. We have come to the epilog. The C.P.R. government box office will get round to the time to do business, or they may find the lights turned off and the house closed for the night.

THE WIFE

By JANE PHELPS

Brian Accepts the Fact That Ruth is Working, But is Angry.

CHAPTER XXIII.

Ruth went immediately to work on the plan left with her. She became directly to the north side of the street, where she had her office. She heard La Monte when he came up to her desk.

"You're late," he said, smiling at her start of surprise. "I never thought of luncheon. And I don't know where to go, and I'm a New Yorker, you know. If I were I reckon I'd know my way about during the past year from war taxation."

Her soft southern drawl delighted La Monte. "There is a quiet, refined little place just around the corner on the side street. A sort of lunch and tea room. The food is very good. I just take my wife there when she comes down town."

So he was married. Somehow, she had thought he might be. In a way, she was glad it would be comfortable to be associated with a man whose wife occasionally called at the shop.

Ruth thanked him, and in a few moments went out to find the tea room he had mentioned. She found it just as he had said. When she had gone he picked up the plan she had been working upon. He glanced at it, then looked more closely.

"Perfect! Absolutely perfect!" he said aloud just as Mr. Mandel appeared on the next Victory bond issue will not include a tax exempt privilege.

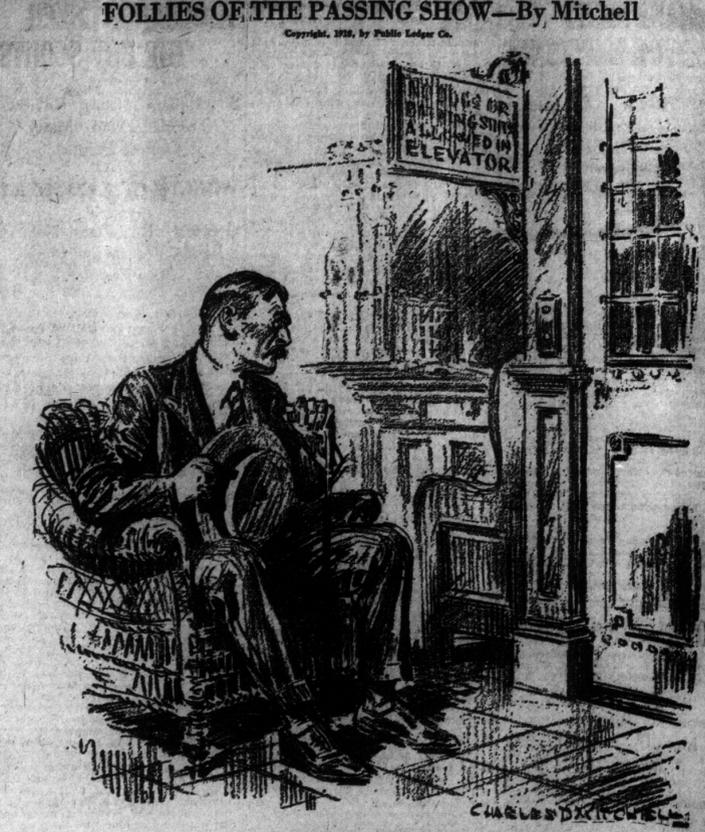

"What is so perfect, La Monte?" he asked, reaching for the large sheet of paper on which Ruth had outlined her idea of what she thought would make the room attractive.

"Lead, you're right! It's a scheme of coloring I never should have thought of trying. Odd, too, for it is just the right thing for not only that particular room, but for the house. Then he passed on. Not even his confidential clerk, would he show just how wonderful he thought Ruth was; or how delighted he was at his "find," as he called her in his thoughts.

The afternoon passed happily and swiftly. Among Ruth's duties were those of "talking with, and advising, customers. She saw that she would have no idle minutes; yet, when five o'clock came and she prepared to leave, she was far more rested than when she left home in the morning—the unwashed dishes, the necessary cleaning up, the time for her homecoming, on her mind.

She took a car. She would get off at the market and carry her dinner in with her, just as Mrs. Murphy, the janitress did; just as she had been doing ever since she had been married. She bought a steak. It was getting late and she must not keep Brian waiting for his dinner, the first night she was employed. He would have reason, then, to find fault.

By the time she had taken off her street clothes and pared her potatoes, there could be no dishes washed until after dinner. Well, never mind, she would wash them all up at once, or, if she could, she would get Mrs. Murphy to do them.

HAVE YOU EVER NOTICED
The man who spends his vacation waiting for wifely changes of wardrobe of a crab this morning, wasn't I, dear, to go off the way I did? But you had me worried for fair."

"What do you mean, Brian?" Ruth had been putting on the dinner and had not quite understood all he had been saying.
"Oh, that fussy stuff about your working! As I said, you had me pretty well groused."
"But I AM working, Brian," as she pointed his tea.
"You are."
"Yes, I am working at Mandel's, as I told you. I have been there all day. Got home about half-past five. And I am so happy, Brian! It is the most wonderful place; the most exquisite stuffs to handle in place of soiled dishes and scrubbing brushes. You must come down and see me there. Mr. La Monte (he's the head clerk) says his wife often comes." She stopped for breath, and for the first time during her long, excited speech, looked at her husband.
Brian had dropped his fork, and was staring at her. Incredulity, unbelief and anger striving for supremacy in his face.

"Why, Brian, what's the matter?" her heart sinking as she noted his expression.
"Matter enough! You mean that you really went to work today after all I said? You knew I disapproved."
"Yes, Brian, I took the position, and have worked all day. Her joy evaporated. "If you realized how happy it has made me, dear, you wouldn't object."
"It serves me right for marrying a girl who had been pampered and allowed her own way. Please talk of something else. I don't want to hear another word about it until you come to your senses and tell me you are leaving."
"I will remember, Brian," was all Ruth said, but tears filled his eyes and overlaid down over her cheeks.

A Line of Cheer Each Day of the Year
By John Kendrick Bangs.

IMPERISHABLE.
I've noticed, 'mid the clouds of hate
Thru which the world hath run of late
That flowers bloom, and breezes blow,
And singing birds wing to and fro,
And skies are blue, and stars are bright,
And golden is the morning light,
And Youth and Love remain as true
As in the days when they were new,
And 'en in pain men find a joy
That hate itself cannot destroy.

GRANT FOR NAVY LEAGUE.
The board of control was asked yesterday for a $100,000 grant for the sailors' fund in aid of dependents of men in the merchant marine. A special meeting of council has been called for this morning to consider it.

ROYAL AIR FORCE REJECTS JAMAICAN

Harold L. Bell Can Earn Big Money, But Would Rather Fight.

Harold L. Bell, the Jamaican who has been ordered to Toronto from Sussex, N.B., to be enlisted as a mechanic in the Royal Air Force, and who was refused on his arrival because he was colored, has had his case taken up by J. R. E. Reid, Capt. R. A. F., and will see Major Church today. Bell is an expert mechanic, and was earning from forty to forty-five dollars a week in Boston when he came to Canada to enlist. As he is married and has two children, he was put in class C4 in the United States draft, and figured that he never would be called. His brother is in the imperial army and has been mentioned for bravery under fire. Bell went to Sussex, N.B., where he joined the 1st depot battalion in order to get his transfer to the air force as a mechanic. There was considerable opposition between Sussex and Toronto, and finally Bell got the following order to come to Toronto: Camp Sussex, N.B., Aug. 22, 1918.

O.C. "B" Co. 4962221 Pte. Bell, H. L. The marginally fit man is to proceed to Toronto this date to join the R.A.F. Kindly have him report there as soon as possible.

E. A. Burdion, lieutenant, adjutant 1st Depot Batt. N.B.R. He came to Toronto with two others who also had been discharged, and went to the Dupont street barracks of the R.A.F. in company with his French-Canadian chum. On arrival there the men were sent to the corner of George and Duke streets, where the officer in charge made out papers for the French-Canadian, but refused to make out any for Bell, finally explaining to him that the Royal Air Force did not take colored men. Bell naturally gave the officer an argument, but was met with the answer that no colored men were being taken. He asked to be accommodated at the Royal Air Force barracks for the night, but was refused even that. He could not get meals if he had not Mr. Whitney, Bell says he does not know what he would have done. He received the following letter from the Royal Air Force, Corp. George and Duke Sts., Toronto, Ontario, August 23, 1918.

Reference your discharge obtained from 1st. D. Bn. N. B. Regt., Sussex, New Brunswick, date of July 17, 1918. I am sorry to hear that the Royal Air Force, I may state that I am unable to accept your enlistment as a mechanic in the Royal Air Force and I am notifying your late unit to this effect.

F. H. Reid, Capt. R. A. F., For officer in recruiting (mechanics), Toronto, Ont. As Bell is an expert mechanic, and holds a chauffeur's license and has recommendations from half a dozen firms for whom he worked, he took a position with the John Inglis Company at 60 cents an hour to start on. He has heard that the Royal Air Force intends to have him sent back to Sussex; but as he has his discharge from the regiment there, he claims that he cannot be sent back. He is anxious to fight or to do his bit for Canada in the war, and thinks he can't get a square deal. On that account he intends to take up his case with the mayor today.

Harper, customs broker, 39 West Wellington street, corner Bay, Adelaide 462.

In the weekly court yesterday the application of the Capital Trust Company of Ottawa for an order for permission to sell the coal and wood business of the late James Buckley of Prescott was refused by Chief Justice Falconbridge. The estate was valued at $119,000, and the late Mr. Buckley died intestate, the trust company being appointed as administrators. The consent of the heirs to carry on the business was obtained, but last spring a demand was made that the company should be paid $75 a month to continue running the business, and this request was not complied with and the business was forthwith offered for sale.

MAN AND WIFE ARRESTED. Edward Tilley, and his wife, Charlotte, 31 Sealon street, were arrested yesterday by Detective Thomson charged with the theft of $55 from a woman lodging in the same house.

From Canadian Papers
Office Seeks the Man.—Ottawa Citizen: Republicans and Democrats have nominated Henry Ford for senator from Michigan, which is about the only instance we recall where office actually sought the man.

The Victoria Cross.—Ottawa Free Press: The Victoria Cross decoration was instituted by Queen Victoria at the time of the Indian Mutiny and to date one thousand medals have been awarded. There were awarded 182 in the Indian Mutiny, 111 in the Crimean War, 78 in the South African War, 23 in the Zulu War and 16 in the Afghan War. In the present war 200 had been awarded in September, 1916.

Undue Optimism.—Winnipeg Free Press: Much of the good effects of the victories in France will be undone if they give rise to undue optimism. There are people in all the allied countries who are giving way to the hope that this year will see the defeat of Germany. This is not the expectation of those who are best in a position to judge the strength of the resistance yet to be broken.

Simple Justice.—Orange Sentinel: The price of peace for the brutal Germans must be made so high that it will keep them busy for a century, paying it, and in that there is no vengeance—simply justice.

Let Everybody Have a Kick.—Hamilton Spectator: Spain is getting plucky now that she sees Germany doomed. The old maxim "hit him hard he has no friends," would seem to fit her policy nicely.

War to End War.
New York Tribune: This is now pre-eminently a war to end war, and a league of nations is the only way out of the Golgotha of militarism. It is not a proposal to be sneered at or dismissed as Utopian. It is today the one hope of a civilization weathering in blood and agony.

Germany and Tanks.
New York Tribune: Her man power waning, will Germany not go in for tanks on a large scale? Let us assume that she will and resolve ourselves to build an unlimited number. It is such a job as we can handle.

Good German Promises.
New York Sun: Germany has given to Spain a promise of the future good conduct of her submarines. It is a regular German promise, not to be believed in less than twenty-four hours after it is made, except for good German reasons.

Damn the Kaiser.
New York Herald: Owners of motor vehicles, motor boats and motorcycles are given an illustration of what war means by the fuel administration's establishment of motorless Sundays. The purpose is to conserve gasoline which can be put to much better use these days than in joy riding. A motorless Sunday will at least have the merit of being a distinct novelty. It will not be welcomed by the undertakers.
