THE TORONTO WORLD
COLLIERIES END IN REJECTION OF ALL OFFERS

ADVANCE ON MERIT
PREMIER DRURY SAYS
T CIVIL SERVANTS

Must Get Rid of Bane of Party
Politics in Service, Drury
Also Declares—Nobility
Clamoring for Best Positions—Plea for Economy.

Promotion by merit; nobody clamoring for the best positions
in the civil service; no pull for jobs;
to get rid of the bane of party politics
in the service; urging the staff to make the departments more efficient;
an expression of opinion that some salaries were unduly low and a request for forbearance until the financial air is cleared; a plea for general economy and reducing the staff by not filling vacancies where people are not required.

The foregoing were among the points made by Premier Drury in the course of a somewhat remarkable speech at the ninth annual meeting of the Ontario Civil Service Association held in the legislative chamber at parliament buildings last night. Mr.
Drury occupied his own seat to the right of the speaker and was accompanied by Hon. R. H. Grant, minister of education; Hon. Walter Rollo, minister of labor and health; and Hon. Beniah Bowman, minister of lands and forests.
The latter announced that promotion by merit had already commenced in his department. There was a large attendance of civil servants.

HYDRO PROPOSES TO BUY GUELPH RY.

Offers Sum of $150,000—
Beck Will Confer
Tonight.

Special to The Toronto World.
Guelph, Ont., Nov. 27.—The Hydro-Electric Power Commission is waiting anxiously for some time for the Hydro-Electric Power Commission to make a proposition to the city respecting the Guelph radial railway. It is presumed that when the city manager, Mr.
Moore from W. W. Pope, secretary of the commission, containing a definite offer.

The commission agrees to purchase outright the Guelph radial railway for the sum of $150,000 on July 1, 1920.
It is estimated that the road must be taken over it will become part of
the Hydro system in this district.

In paying for the same they agree to issue Hydro-Electric Power Commission bonds to cover this amount they to be paid off by an amount equal to the interest and sinking fund each year until the whole has been paid. It is estimated that the road must be taken over it will become part of
the Hydro system in this district.

The following statement was issued
from the fuel controller's office:
"City is Pivotal Point.
The railway situation here now is that the city is included in the agitation to build the Elmira-Hamilton-Guelph line; it will be impossible that the G.T.R. north branch lines are ever handed over to the Hydro; it is a pivotal point in the Toronto to Winsor line, and it is not impossible that the C.P.R. may again try and link up the Grand Valley Railway here. It is certain that Guelph will go through the Hydro scheme whether it will hand over the street railway to anyone is a debatable question.

MEXICO REFUSES
TO FREE CONSUL;
PLEADS INABILITY

Carranza Says It is Impossible
While His Case is in Mexican Courts.

Washington, Nov. 27.—Mexico has replied with an argumentative diplomatic refusal to the American government's demand for the immediate release of William O. Jenkins, the consular agent imprisoned at Puebla.
The official note was delivered here today but not made public. There is no reason to doubt that it agrees with the copy given out by the Mexican consul general at El Paso.
No comment was forthcoming to indicate how the state department regards the answer to what was considered one of the sharpest warnings
there any indication of what the government's next step would be.
The Mexican reply, which according to its text, was prepared at the direction of President Carranza, argues in the main that the Mexican government cannot order the release of a prisoner while his case is under adjudication in the courts of one of its states and contends that the American government's demand for the consular agent's release had no foundation or precedent in international law.

The note says Jenkins has opportunity to be based on bail in the sum of one thousand pesos, the equivalent to five hundred dollars in American money if released in Mexico rather than Mexican bank notes,
and that Jenkins has refused to avail himself of it, although he has been requested to do so.

Recalling that Mexican consuls in the United States have been imprisoned and that Mexico has never asked the United States to waive local law in their cases, the note remarks that "the Mexican government cannot concede to the United States the right to release a consular agent in the United States."

Mexico Was Warned.
In this case Mexico the state department not only demanded the immediate release of Jenkins, but warned Carranza that failure to obey the demand would bring the relations between the two countries to a precarious point. As the consul general at El Paso, Jenkins, was arrested and imprisoned
by local Carranza authorities
"incensed" this government, as Secretary Lansing expressed it.

Whether the government will regard the Jenkins case as a climax to the long line of unsettled questions with Mexico is not being indicated in any official way. Technically, a consular agent has no diplomatic status, and diplomats are of the opinion that in framing its further action as the United States government will have to determine whether the civil prosecution of Jenkins is a civil prosecution in good faith or one designed to punish the United States for its failure to receive a speedy and fair trial with all preservation of his rights or whether he is being "molested" by the Carranza government. The legal and technical argument are being advanced to justify the procedure.

Belgian Consul Arrives.
Montreal, Nov. 27.—The consul-general for Belgium, Mr. M. Gooz, arrived here yesterday on the Scotian, accompanied by Mrs. Gooz and family, and proceeded to Ottawa
within two hours of disembarking.

LIONEL H. CLARKE MADE
LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR

Chairman of Harbor Commission Honored by Province
for Public-Spirited Work in Many Capacities—Appointment Not Yet Officially

Lionel H. Clarke, as lieutenant-governor, may be a surprise, but a pleasant surprise to most people. He is a gentleman who has done much and well for the province. As chairman of the Toronto Harbor Commission, he has been named as lieutenant-governor of Ontario. It is expected that Hon. Colonel Prior, minister of militia in the Tupper administration in 1916, will be appointed lieutenant-governor of the provinces. Other names mentioned for the British Columbia appointment are Walter Nichol, Vancouver, and A. C. Plummerfelt, Victoria.

"PUSSYFOOT" JOHNSON
HAS ONE EYE REMOVED
London, Nov. 27.—The right eye of William E. (Pussyfoot) Johnson, the American prohibition worker and organizer of the Anti-Saloon League,
was successfully removed tonight.
Physicians in attendance explained in a bulletin issued after the operation that removal of the eye was necessary to save his left eye, and also that the pain could not have been relieved otherwise.

Stratford Case Fatal.
Stratford, Ont., Nov. 27.—Hiram Gabel, of Shakespeare, is dead as a result of sleeping sickness. Two weeks ago he suddenly took sick with the exception of occasionally apparent spells of consciousness. He was a son of J. S. Gabel, of Shakespeare, and was 27 years old. He had been married only a few months ago.

Wife Found Dead.
Leaves Note to Husband; Who Cannot Be Located By the Police.
Mrs. Allen Salt, aged 55, of 323 West
Richmond street, was found lying dead
on the floor of her home at 7 o'clock
last night by neighbors and the police.
An empty bottle, said to have contained poison, and a note were found lying close by the body. The note read, "You will not get a chance to read me any more." The supposition of the police is that a quarrel had been going on in the home. The police of Court street station have not been able to locate the husband to interview
him.

The body was removed to the morgue and an inquest will be held today.

ATTEMPTS TO LEAD
SOFT COAL STRIKE
ARE BROKEN OFF

Proposed 14 Per Cent. Wage Increase Rejected After Bitter Debate—Operators
Reject Wilson's Proposal—
Some Owners to Attempt Production.

Washington, Nov. 27.—An abrupt end came late today to all attempts to settle the nation-wide coal strike
by peaceful agreement.
Miners and operators spent a bleak
Thanksgiving afternoon in embittered debate over the government proposal for a 14 per cent. wage increase, made last night by Fuel Administrator Garfield, rejected it and every other proposal that was forthcoming and then discovered, one die.
Participants went home tonight and where the break left coal strike conductors in one of the mines or operator, would say. Likewise in official quarters, there was gloom.
Acting president John L. Lewis, of the United Mine Workers, who today one word as to the strike itself, which therefore was called off in obedience to federal court injunction. However, the withdrawal of the sever act for war time food and fuel control, scored the government roundly at the conclusion of the conference. So did William Green, secretary of the mine workers.
Operators, the accepting the government proposal definitely, in a letter of explanation to Dr. Garfield which they made public, intimated that the government refusal to all price increases
would be for reconsideration.
It was established doors that the coal situation reached its climax today, after involving the full attention of the federal government for two days previously. There was much heated oratory, but T. W. Guthrie, of Pittsburg, acting chairman of the operators' committee, described the parliamentary procedure succinctly as the case closed.
Voted Everything Down.
The operators, by a 14-10 vote, rejected the government proposal for this central competitive field of this acceptance of Dr. Garfield's plan.
This the mine workers promptly voted down. In turn, the miners voted forward a counter proposal, that Secretary Wilson's suggestion for a 14.5
per cent. wage increase be granted,
and this the operators flatly refused.
For the third time the operators renewed their offer of a 14 per cent.
increase and this the miners voted down. Unanimously an adjournment was voted.
The operators are pretending to accept Dr. Garfield's proposal, Mr.
Lewis said, manifesting scorn and indignation as he called the newspaper editorial which in the afternoon day ball that was the scene of the all-day gatherings: "But as they do it they state they are unable to operate many of their mines under the proposed plan. It would be foolish for us to attempt to make an agreement unless miners are to be given work."
Miners' Position Unchanged.
"Our position is unchanged. We hold

Johannesburg, South Africa,
Nov. 27.—South African diamonds henceforth are to be under made today by Minister of Mines Malin. A London syndicate in the future is to be the sole channel thru which the world's markets can obtain stones. The amount to be supplied for sale

will be based on the actual sales
of the past three months.
The De Beers mines will provide 51 per cent., the Premier 18
per cent., the Jagersfontein mines

stones is to be fixed each three months.

CROWN COUNSEL
OPENS ADDRESS
AT "STATE TRIAL"
Trying R. B. Russell at Winnipeg—All Jurors Now Chosen.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Winnipeg, Nov. 27.—After making a stubborn selective fight in the choice of jurors to try R. B. Russell, one of the eight strike leaders indicted for seditious conspiracy, the defence allowed the remaining eight jurors to be sworn in without an effort to challenge them at the session of the court this afternoon.
The selection of the jury commenced
in the afternoon session on Wednesday and up to the commencement of the court this afternoon only four jurymen had been sworn in. Upon the resumption of proceedings, however, Mr. Justice Maclellan ruled that the defence was only entitled to four challenges, which already had been used and the remaining jurors were quickly appointed.

Health Officer of Manitoba
Looks for Smallpox Outbreaks
Winnipeg, Man., Nov. 27.—Dr. Stuart
M. Fraser, provincial health officer for Manitoba, declared today that it is the duty of every man, woman and child in Manitoba to be vaccinated owing to the smallpox outbreak in the east, which is already making its entrance into Manitoba.
Medical men, he declared, look for outbreaks of smallpox in March, largely owing to movement of men from lumber camps.

WHAT IS REAL QUESTION
ABOUT BACON HIGH COST?
The Fact That Fourteen Years Ago the Packer Gave the Spread Between His Per Pound Cost of Live Hogs and Finished Bacon at 5.42 Cents, and in 1917 His Figures for Same Process Work Out at 17.83 Cents Per Pound Opens Trail to Real Causes of H.C.L.

It is very interesting to observe how speedily many excellent people get stirred up when the realities of the high cost of living are discussed in their hearing. You can't reduce the high cost of living without somebody handing less money than they handle
now.
If you pay less for pork, the pork seller will receive less; and even if his present percentage of profits remains, the aggregate of his net profits will decline. If present prices to the consumer are abnormal, profits normal, profits must be made normal
also. Both have gone up, together.
Both must come down together. Anybody who thinks otherwise is deceiv-ing himself and it is a maxim equally good in pork and poetry, that he who deceiveth himself is not wise—and certainly he is not a good business man.

NEW BELGIAN CABINET.

cabinet under the premiership of M.

SOFT COAL SHORTAGE
FOR EXTENDED PERIOD

Canadian Press Despatch.
Ottawa, Nov. 27.—Canadians can now expect a shortage of soft coal supplies for some time, in the opinion of Mr. C. A. Magrath, Dominion fuel controller, who has just returned from Washington. In view of the breaking off of negotiations between the miners and operators, announced late this afternoon, there can be little hope of amelioration of the situation for some time.
Previous to receiving the announcement of the breach at Washington,
Mr. Magrath, who has been in conference with the fuel administration of Ontario and Quebec, issued a statement calling attention to the gravity of the soft coal situation and urging the most rigid conservation policy.
On being informed of the new development across the border, he called attention to the fact that he has anticipated that the award might not be acceptable to either miners or operators, and said that now that most care
over our present supply would be necessary.

Controller's Statement.
The following statement was issued
from the fuel controller's office:
"As was announced in the telegraphic despatches today, Dr. Garfield has notified the operators and representatives of the miners in Washington yesterday afternoon that he regarded a fourteen per cent. increase as sufficient. Mr.
Magrath says it is quite probable that this increase will not be satisfactory
to either the operators or the miners in which event the present crisis may continue for several weeks—in fact, as he says, if a settlement is not reached in three or four days we can look for quite a shortage of soft coal supply
for some time to come.
"Under the circumstances there is only one sound course to be pursued, and that is to rigidly conserve every pound of coal that is in the country and every pound of coal that Canada

may receive during the next few weeks.
It simply means that the present small allowment to Canada can only be made available to meet the needs of public utilities, hospitals and municipal institutions.

Reiterates Warning.
"Some days ago, in anticipation of the situation continuing, an announcement was made thru the press to the public by the fuel controller that these institutions and industries requiring coal must submit to the fuel administrator of the province a statement under oath as to the character of the work carried on by the institution or industry, the amount of coal that is in stock, the amount that is normally consumed per day and from whom supplies in the past have been obtained. It seems necessary to remind the public that this information is absolutely necessary and until it is supplied to the fuel administrator of the province there can be no movement of the movement of coal to Canada.

U. S. Has Absolute Control.
"Whoever has control of the coal in the United States and are being advised in some instances of shipments being made,
it might as well be clearly understood that the coal committee of the United States railroad administration, which has absolute control over soft coal supplies, are diverting such shipments whenever and wherever they deem it essential. The only method whereby soft coal can be received from the United States at the present time is thru the provincial fuel administrator and the fuel controller at Ottawa."

WYCLIFFE WELCOMES HER HEROES HOME

President and Council Receive Student Veterans of Great War.

For the first time since the beginning of the war, Wycliffe College was thrown open to the public last night, the occasion being the reception tendered by the president and council to the graduates and undergraduates who had returned from overseas service. The reception was held in the Sheraton Memorial Hall, situated in the west section, and was tastefully decorated with flags and bunting. Music was furnished by Dineen's Orchestra. The reception was opened by an address of welcome to the returned men by the president, Dr. N. W. Hoyles, K.C.

Col. R. W. Leonard, who was also to speak, was unable to be present, due to pressing work in Ottawa, but sent a letter of regret and welcome to the president.

L. A. Hamilton spoke quite feelingly to the returned men present, and urged the young men to continue their courses and still remain soldiers of that higher army to which they had been called. He pointed out quite clearly what a sacrifice these men had made, and how it was quite a privilege for him to welcome them back to Wycliffe College. He then went on to demonstrate how these young men were better equipped now to come in direct contact with the religious and social problems of the present day, which are so confusing to the general public, and which are producing such disastrous results. In closing, he paid splendid tribute to the 13 graduates and undergraduates who sleep in Flanders Fields.

Representing the returned men, Mr. Bird, D.C.M., replaced C. C. Robinson, who was indisposed, and spoke quite eloquently in response to the addresses of welcome. He stated that the object of most of the Wycliffe men in the army was to show "that they could become good soldiers and still be Christians at one and the same time." He spoke quite humorously of the difficulties they experienced in securing a bath. Next year, in his opinion, for every man graduating there would be six new students entering.

Better Death Than Prison.
Lieut. A. Holmes showed how clearly by the majority of the prisoners of war were emphatic in their belief: "that it was better to die than be a Hun prisoner." The greatest impression that the war had made on him, and most of the other returned men, was not what they taught the men but what the men taught them.

Representing the graduates, Rev. L. E. Skey, M.A., stated that he felt confident in stating that "every graduate would be present overseas if they could have been released from home services." He also confirmed Lieut. Holmes' statement concerning the amount of knowledge that the men had taught to him. He also stated that he thought there was too much side in the church and not enough simplicity, and the sooner it was introduced the better it would be for the church.

This part of the program was brought to a close by an expression of thanksgiving by Canon Hague and the singing of the Doxology.

A vocal selection was rendered by R. H. Stapells, and the reception was closed by the singing of the National Anthem.

CABINET AND BECK IN FRIENDLY TALK

Ministers and Hydro Chieflain Get Enlightenment at Lunch Table.

The members of the Ontario Cabinet and Sir Adam Beck, chairman of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission, had lunch together at parliament buildings yesterday, the meal and talk occupying just two hours.

Premier Drury subsequently stated that matters relating to hydro development monopolized all the discussion. "We were looking for information and so was Sir Adam Beck," said Mr. Drury, "and we all learned a good deal. Nothing of a definite character was announced. Our objects were much in common."

Hon. Walter Rolio, minister of labor and health, who has been taken to task in some quarters for being antagonistic to hydro development, said to The World after the conference: "Sir Adam Beck has no better friend than myself. I have always worked for hydro development in Ontario and fail to understand why I should ever have been regarded as an opponent. There is certainly no justification for it."

The big hydro deputation which was to have waited upon Premier Drury on Monday next will not come until a few days later, the exact date not yet having been fixed.

WIRED WIRELESS PROSPECTS BRIGHT

Wm. J. Herdman Explains Method to Independent Telephone Association.

At the concluding sessions of the fourteenth annual convention of the Independent Telephone Association, at the Carls-Rite, the future of the new system of wired wireless, as it applies to telephony, was proven to be very bright, indeed. Wm. J. Herdman, M.E., consulting engineer, explained the principle of the new method, and quoted the results so far obtained. Wired wireless will allow almost any number of conversations to be carried on with different receiving and transmitting apparatus, over the same wire. This has been proven by experiment by means of a line from Toronto to Dundas, and also from Toronto to Montreal, the latter a distance of 335 miles.

F. E. Webster of the Nolsy River Telephone Company, Cremona, went further into these possibilities, and showed that the Hydro System covers all the ground covered by local lines, and that the Hydro lines can be utilized for the purpose of long-distance connections if the government or the Hydro Commission will only undertake the work. A delegation will be appointed to press the government for the consummation of this enterprise.

Cleared Up Difficulties.
The question box, presided over by Dr. Doan, cleared up many difficulties, but everything led back to the same obstacle, the necessity of obtaining legislation which will put independent companies on an equal footing with the Bell Company. F. D. Mackay referred to the present condition as "class legislation in the interests of a monopolistic corporation."

At the morning session, Francis Dagher, telephone expert of the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board, led in a discussion on telephone companies' rights on a public highway, and a committee was appointed to visit the minister of public works tomorrow to try and get some satisfactory rulings on this question.

At the election of officers, few changes were made. The executive remains the same. The officers are as follows: Honorary president, Mr. Scott; president, Myron A. Gee; secretary, Alph. Hoover; treasurer, F. D. Mackay.

INJUNCTION REFUSED.

Mr. Justice Rose at Osgoode Hall yesterday refused an interlocutory injunction tying up $21,447, a marriage settlement upon the first wife of C. V. N. Temple, in the action of Mrs. Ida N. Dunbar against her father for an accounting. Mrs. Dunbar says that she and her brother, C. K. W. Temple, are the only children of the first Mrs. Temple and the two interested in the fund.

Policeman William Milton, believed to have been fatally shot by a burglar last month in the rear of a Yonge street store, is able to walk around. Just when he will be able to leave St. Michael's Hospital for his home is not known. He is well on his way to recovery and walks daily around the hospital ward.

Thirteen-Year-Old Drives Three Gunmen From Her Father's Store on Front Street.

Fanny Cherkinsky, a thirteen-year-old girl, was responsible for the driving of three gunmen from her father's store at 514 West Front street Tuesday night. Three men entered the store and ordered the father, Joe Cherkinsky, to throw up his hands. He started to attack him. Fanny called to her mother and when she came down stairs one of the thugs pointed a revolver at her head. Fanny picked up a piece of stick and struck one of the three armed men over the wrist, causing him to drop his revolver. The men then fled from the store. Cherkinsky was beaten badly and required medical attention.

*In Sizes to Fit Tires
3 1-2", 4", 4 1-2"
and 5"*

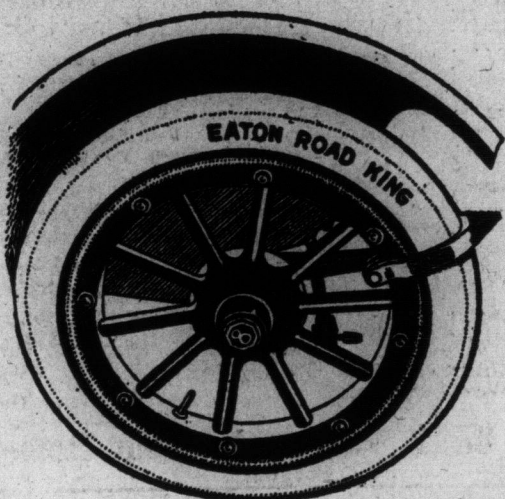

The Security Auto Theft Signal is an extremely strong, red enameled, metal shackle, designed to be locked around the tire and rim on the right front wheel of the automobile—where it is always in plain sight.

It is made with a big pointed hump at the top which strikes the ground with every revolution of the wheel if the car is operated, and makes a terrific bump and loud noise.

This is the signal—the alarm that will attract the attention of everyone in the vicinity.

The Security Auto Theft-Lock is provided with a safety hinge and lock of the strongest type embedded in the solid metal.

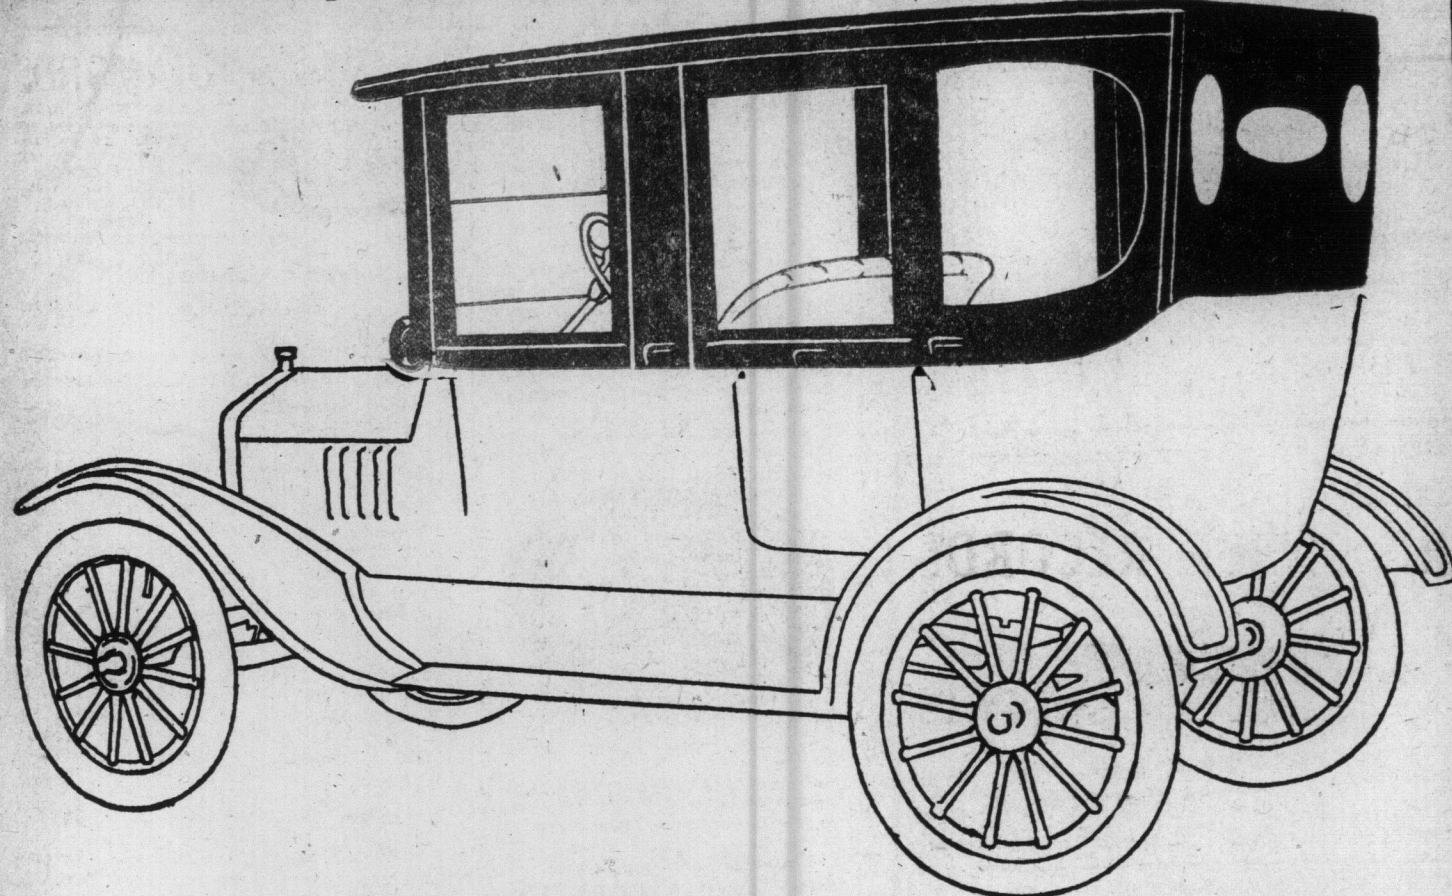

All locks are different, and there is no master key; the proper key, therefore, identifies the owner anywhere.

The Security Auto Theft-Signal System protects your car from theft because it enables police and public to instantly tell the thief from the owner. $6.50 is a special price. Take advantage of it.

WINN MANITOBA, AIM OF FARMERS

Rank and File Determined to Capture Provincial Power

Special to The Toronto World. Winnipeg, Nov. 27.—With a provincial election bound to come off within the next few months, the entrance of the farmers' party into provincial politics becomes doubly significant in Manitoba. Some of the leading grain growers would prefer to see the farmers' party concentrate on Dominion politics. But the rank and file seem determined to capture the provincial governments of all three prairie provinces. Judging from recent events they would have little difficulty in carrying Saskatchewan and Alberta, but the elections in these provinces will not occur before 1921. Hence the farmers are obliged to tackle the hardest job first by an endeavor to carry the coming elections in Manitoba.

Norris Is a Farmer. Premier Norris, himself, and has a large following throughout the province. He will not only get the support of the Liberals but of many Conservatives who admire his stand on the school question. However, he is not, however, organized, and will carry a certain number of seats. The real fight will be between the farmers and the Conservatives for the control of the legislature, and it looks now as though the result here would be to make the recent election in Ontario.

One reason for the farmers entering the provincial field is the uncertainty about the date of the federal elections. They might be delayed until 1922 and the farmers' party naturally wants to try its strength and perfect its organization before that time.

Free Trade Attitude. It is also said that the farmers are not as united as they appear to be. They all want tariff reduction and freer agricultural implements, but they are not all prepared for the radical free trade revolution demanded by the national platform of the Canadian Council of Agriculture.

Paris, Nov. 27.—Homage was paid to writers who fell during the war at the annual public meeting this afternoon of the French Academy. Frederic Masson, perpetual secretary of the academy, read the list of prize men for the year, which included many who had fought and some of whom were killed in the war. BOLSHEVIKI CLAIM FURTHER SUCCESSES

London, Nov. 27.—An official statement from the soviet government to Moscow indicates that most severe fighting is in progress on the Volga front, where the Bolsheviki have captured Dubovka, 180 miles south-west of Saratov, with 800 prisoners. The statement also says that the Bolsheviki have annihilated three regiments of the forces of General Denikin, leader of the anti-Bolsheviki forces in southern Russia. The advance of the Bolsheviki continues rapidly in the Omsk region, where they are approaching the western shores of Lake Cham, capturing Tatarskaya, 100 miles east of Omsk, with 1,000 prisoners.

TERRIFIC GALE SWEEPS THE PACIFIC COAST

San Francisco, Nov. 27.—A gale which reached 81 miles an hour on Mount Tamalpais, and which was accompanied by low temperatures and snow ranged along the Pacific coast today. Shipping in San Francisco Bay was damaged, and the army transport Mount Vernon was towed from her anchorage. Later the vessel was pulled in place by tugs. YORK COUNTY AND SUBURBS

REGISTRY OFFICE FOUND TOO SMALL

York County Council Appoint Committee to Secure Bigger Building

A special committee was appointed yesterday by York county council to go into the question of securing a larger and better registry office for South York. The present quarters on East Richmond street are entirely inadequate. Wm. Keith, Fred Miller and James Stewart comprise the committee.

The finance committee reported that there might be something definite to report at the January session on the adjustment of the costs of the land titles office in Toronto. The by-laws committee reported a by-law for the re-division of the territory of St. Clair avenue, Florence crescent, Dundas street and Scarlett road in order to make an exchange for railway and other lands in the vicinity of Lambton Mills as a means of securing a better approach to Scarlett road. The measure was approved.

A deputation of county constables appeared before council and asked for an increase of salary to $30 a week. The present scale is $20, with a bonus of $4, or a total of $24 a week. Constable Baker, who spoke for the deputation, said they were not getting any extra. Several councillors commended the services of the constables and favored the granting of increases. On motion of Rev. J. J. Coulter, a resolution was passed to refer the question of salary increases and holidays for the constables to the finance committee for a report.

The committee will also consider the recommendation of Constable Brinnombe that all pedlars and junk dealers' licenses be made effective only during the year in which they are issued. Thus all licenses would date from January 1 to December 31. Reeve Keith of Newmarket said the committee on the soldiers' memorial was not in a position to report on that matter but he would stand over till the January session.

Re-wiring Recommended. The report of the industrial home commissions contained a number of recommendations, including re-wiring the building at a cost of $2,500, a new electric supply line from the spring to the home, a distance of 7,300 feet, at a cost of $8,000; a standpipe for fire protection purposes at a cost of $5,000; a new heating system at a cost of $7,000, and the appointment of a nurse to assist the matron with patients who are bedfast. A number of repairs have been made to the building this year and an ice house is now being built.

The report was accepted with an amendment that the question of a new steam heating plant be taken up at the annual session.

H. C. Jennings, appointed to audit the York county school account.

U. S. AND AUSTRIA TO HELP AUSTRIA BY LARGE CREDIT

Lloyd George Says International Contribution Alone Can Save the Situation

London, Nov. 27.—David Lloyd George, the prime minister, again stood upon the floor of the house of commons and for a long time gave answers to a lengthy list of questions on all subjects most important in connection with the European economic and military situation arising from the war.

One of the most important of the questions related to the condition of Austria, concerning which Commander Viscount Curzon, coalition government member for Battersea South, asked whether the supreme council in Paris, including the United States or Great Britain, was taking steps to deal with the situation. The premier declared that the supreme council has reached the conclusion that only a comprehensive arrangement for a large international credit would adequately meet the situation, and it was essential for the success of such a proposal that the United States should contribute that part of the expenditure which would have to be incurred in dollars.

Paid up capital of the company is now $2,415,000, the reserve fund $1,500,000, and in addition the company has a credit of profit and loss account of $255,000. On the year's operations ending August 31, the profit of the company was $145,548, a decrease from last year owing to the reduction in the grain crop, post-war readjustments and the tie-up of business caused by the Winnipeg strike last June. A six per cent dividend totaling $1,150,000 was paid to shareholders this month. Total volume of grain handled by the company during the year was 29,000,000 bushels, compared with 29,000,000 last year.

be continued when the court resumes tomorrow morning. The trial, stated Mr. Andrews, was one of the kind that are known as state trials. A very grave responsibility rested upon him and his associates on behalf of the crown and of Canada. The jury, he said, ought to be equally impressed by their duty. He did not know of a higher duty of citizenship than that of the jury. The jury had been aptly described as the bulwark of British liberty, said Mr. Andrews. It would be their duty as jurors, to give Russell a fair trial and, they must remember that he was presumed to be innocent and unless it was otherwise proven to their satisfaction he should be declared innocent.

Must Prove Conspiracy.

Mr. Andrews then dealt with the indictment in an explanatory manner, defining seditious conspiracy and the other count of common nuisance. It was his duty, he said, to advise the jury to prove that the accused took some part in a conspiracy and that such a conspiracy existed. Mr. Andrews spoke at some length of the objects of the conspiracy, and what the time for all to assist in building up the institutions of the country and it would be for the jury to decide whether or not the accused and his associates were doing their duty. He said that on May 15 there existed in Canada a party known as the Socialist party, which was divided into two branches, called the left and right wings. The right wing, he said, believed in attaining its objects by constitutional means and he wished to show the means by which they had been attained. Mr. Cassidy objected to this document being read to the jury, because it was not in evidence. The platform he wished to read was that of a trial of which the accused was a party.

Adjourning Today.

Mr. Andrews then said that all of the objects of the conspiracy were in fact and fair things and that, in view of the fact that the accused were not read any documents, he would not read any documents. He would not read any documents, he said, because he would not read the contents of the documents from memory. Mr. Justice Metcalf said that he stood this point and that Mr. Andrews was wrong in that he was pressed for time. He had to go into the documents that he had prepared to read and refresh his memory. The court was then adjourned until tomorrow.

THINK OF ALL THE MISGUIDED DYSPEPTICS WHO REFUSE THE GOOD THINGS TO EAT FOR FEAR OF INDIGESTION. NO TROUBLE LIKE THAT IF YOU FOLLOW MEALS WITH STUART'S DYSPEPSIA TABLETS.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are a reliable remedy for indigestion, dyspepsia, and other digestive disorders. They are made from natural ingredients and are easy to take. They help to restore the normal function of the stomach and intestines, and provide relief from the discomforts of indigestion.

Lay a slice of broiled ham on a white plate with a couple of nicely fried eggs and there you have a picture. Salute the autocrat of the breakfast table with Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. But you say, I can't eat ham and I don't agree. This is the sort of prejudice a host of people have against waterbury, the most tempting dishes people who have just as much trouble with a glass of milk or oatmeal as they do with fried onions. Try eating what you like, and follow your meal with a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet to relieve possible gasiness, heartburn, drowsiness, sour risings, hiccups, watery or drug stores everywhere in the United States and Canada. The drugist recommends them as among his steady staples, for they really give relief and are highly appreciated.

FRIDAY MORNING, NOV. 28.

Manipulating Mount Pleasant.

Mayor Church told the people of North Toronto the other evening that the Mount Pleasant railway line would certainly be built, and yesterday he voted to take the money voted for this line and apply it to the Bloor street line.

We have no objection to any other part of the city being developed. It is to the advantage of every part for the whole city to advance and expand. But for that very reason we contend that it is a short-sighted as well as unjust policy to break faith with the people of North Toronto as the council has done for many years.

The west end line leads to a large tract of property which is being "butchered," to use the phrase of a contemporary, or at least is ready for "butchering" under such conditions as a board of control and council appear willing to create. The land to be butchered is not in the city, and has therefore no direct claims upon the citizens.

Our contention is not only that North Toronto suffers a wrong by the action taken, but that the whole city and the citizens are suffering grievously by the closing up of North Toronto to the entry of the people of the city who are suffering so greatly for want of cheaper land and houses.

Other sections are unoccupied because people know there is cheap and desirable land at an easy distance up Yonge street. While it remains unoccupied the impossible they prefer to remain in the congested central district rather than go to expensive sites elsewhere.

Exercising Patronage. Premier Drury's government seems likely to have an important amount of patronage at its disposal in the vacation of various offices and the natural falling in of others.

At the present time many offices will have to be filled by the new government, and in nothing will the favor of the people be more readily won than by the choice of able and meritorious men and women to fill the vacant positions.

whole tone of political life, and assist appreciably in strengthening the standards of public morality. A government that is relying on the approval of the people will find in the proper exercise of its patronage an easy way to their hearts.

Round Again to the Naval Question.

War-weary and tax-ridden Canadians will not greet with enthusiasm the proposal that we should embark upon a huge expenditure for the creation and maintenance of a Canadian navy. Some of them will think that in this time of strain and stress we might find a good many better places to put our money.

Already sharp differences of opinion along the old party lines are developing. The Montreal Gazette favors Canada making an annual contribution in money or ships to the British navy. It says, in effect, that Canada at present has no more use for a navy than has a dog for two tails, and that nothing more should be done than contribute a fair amount to the naval defence of the empire.

If we are to take seriously recent talk in parliament about Canada having achieved complete sovereignty and equality of nationhood with the mother country, then it follows that the naval problem is purely Canadian. If Canada can get along for some years without building a navy, it might be as well to save the money.

The present government at Ottawa deserves credit for encouraging and developing a Canadian merchant marine. Just now we undoubtedly need ships for trade more than we do ships for war. These merchant ships will be useful in time of war, and the extension of our merchant marine will naturally call for the adoption of some naval policy.

WHAT IS QUESTION ABOUT BACON COST?

are getting more of the luxuries than they ever had before, and are not working as hard for them as they used to work. There is only one way of remedying that unhealthy economic, social and moral condition: "The people who obtain less sustenance than they earn must receive more. Those who receive more than they earn must receive less. The public is not going to be scared stiff by those who squeal loudest. It is going to be guided by the facts. And it is going to be patient, the instant, in ascertaining the facts."

One of our troubles is that when investigation of economic conditions is made on behalf of the public, the investigators frequently either fail to get at the governing facts, or they have little capacity for getting the details of "unit costs" worked out to which employers and pays them. Davies-Matthews-Blackwell Report. They may be expert investigators, but they do not possess the faculty of taking the knowledge of the expert and hitting the public in the eye with it.

Changes in Per-pound Costs. Meat prices a few weeks ago were worshipping. For the three years, 1916-17, the average price of hogs in Toronto was $5.71 2-5 per 100 pounds. It cost a packer for these three years an average of 12 cents per pound to buy bacon down in England. The difference per pound between the cost of hogs and the cost of bacon, delivered to the retailer, together they cost the packer, after curing and trimming, $30.4459, which works out at 35.33 cents per pound—finished bacon that is, such as would go to England. The packer says he spent 17.33 cents per pound to do in 1917 what he did, for 5.42 cents per lb. in 1916-17.

The Real Question. The real question that must be answered then, in order to explain the rise in the cost of bacon to the consumer is: "What has brought about the increase from a cost of 5.42 cents as between per pound cost of live hogs and per pound cost of bacon delivered to the purchaser from the packer in 1916-17, to a cost for the like process in 1917 of 17.33 cents per pound—the difference between live hogs and per pound cost of bacon which the packer says he has spent on the bacon that he ships out of the factory?"

MOONLIGHT AND MONEY

BY MARION RUBINCAM

A LONELY EVENING

CHAPTER 47.

Somehow the weeks dragged by and the bitter cold of February set in. For days at a time Louise did not leave the house. She was feeling too badly to want to brave the wind, so she gave up entirely the country tramps she used to make by herself. But the Sunday walks she and Harry still kept up.

By the time she was thru her work she was usually too tired to have either energy or ambition. The house, rented with such delight in its sunny rooms and broad plain spaces, was really too large for one woman to handle unless she had never been that. In her efforts to economize she did all there was to do, scrubbing and washing, too. And one day in February she looked at her hands with a feeling of revulsion.

Louise's hands had always been one of her greatest joys. She had kept them carefully manicured. They were her one real vanity. The nails were perfect in shape and color, the hands were slender and beautifully soft and white. She looked at them now. The skin was dry and red, the nails badly shaped from neglect, with skin growing down over them and dry from hours in soapy hot water. There were tiny calluses on the ends of the fingers where she had worn the skin off in rubbing on a wash board. Her first finger of her right hand bore innumerable marks from the needle she had clumsily used, marks that had never quite healed, but had filled with black dirt.

Vaguely she recognized that her hands typified her life now and its contrast to what it had been. She sat a long time looking at them and indulging in a passive beloved of many women—feeling sorry for herself. But Louise really had cause for self-sympathy. She had fought bravely to make a success of her marriage with almost everything working against her. She was badly prepared for any fight, she was unusually ignorant of practical details. Such things she had mastered. She had done some of the problems of the young wife and thru many that the average wife is fortunate enough not to have to meet. She had fought with poverty and used her pride to keep her friends from knowing. She had learned economy in its most rigid aspect, she had gone to foolish extremes in it.

And her reward? A pair of hands whose delicacy and beauty was ruined. That was what she thought, forgetting for the moment the pretty home she had created and the many real pleasures the work and struggle for it had given her.

With a start she realized it was past time for getting dinner. And then the bell rang and a boy gave her a telegram. It said, "Mrs. Shaftsbury wants me to meet possible client tonight. Home late, Harry."

She tore up the yellow paper and dropped it into the fire. Always Mrs. Shaftsbury! She wondered whether this pretty blonde lady really took such an impersonal interest in Harry as she pretended. Her philosophy of life was rather cold and selfish. To be sure, she had brought Harry such business as he had, but was it really a generous impulse on her part? She must be well into her thirties, possibly forty or more—and to Louise that was very old—and it would please her vanity to have a man as handsome and good looking as Harry as a frequent guest.

Well, there was no use to get dinner, she decided. She was too tired to think about it and she disliked eating alone. So she stirred up the logs in the fireplace and pulled the couch as near as she could. There was a fire, but no coal for the furnace and no money—unless Harry borrowed again—to buy any.

She lay back on the couch staring into the flames as if she had a man as handsome and good looking as Harry as a frequent guest. As it was the long hours, the dear silence of the house broken only by the unnaturally loud tick of the clock, played on her imagination until she was abnormally sensitive to every tick.

She was terribly lonely, terribly depressed. She needed someone, anyone to talk to, just to quiet her nerves. She needed a good cry to work off nervous excitement. And she had nothing—nothing but the lonely house, and the clock ticking and the vision of Harry at a cheery dinner in a luxurious house and a woman who was always rested and fresh, sparkling and alive, bending her blonde head while she made some merry comment to her partner.

At eleven she went upstairs, not to her room but the guest room and looked herself in. Sitting down by the little desk she started to write with feverish haste.

Tomorrow—Louise Deserts.

ADVANCE BY MERIT DRURY DECLARES

It is too soon yet, Mr. Drury went on, to announce any general policy regarding the civil service, and I do not think you expect me to do so. I have, however, given the matter earnest thought during the last week, and I can, at least, make one announcement of policy I think you will agree with, and that is from this time, as long as I am head of the government, there will be in effect a policy of wise promotion.

No Pull for Positions.

"If we can assure the men and women who constitute the civil service," Mr. Drury went on, "that merit will be rewarded, and that there will be no pull from outside in the matter of making appointments, I think we will have secured justice for you, and for the country a great deal better service than would be possible under any other circumstances."

"I know," said the premier with a smile, that your advent here was somewhat of a surprise to you. I wish to thank you for the loyal co-operation you have given us during the short time that you have been in office.

Bane of Party Politics

"We must get the bane of party politics out of our system," the premier declared, "and the best way to do this is to have a more united government."

Mr. Gillespie, in submitting the report of the committee, said there had been general interest in various branches. It was also suggested that the association pass a resolution of thanks to the members who had been of such great benefit to the sport.

CANADIAN OFFICER GRANTED DIVORCE

London, Nov. 27.—Major Thomas Somerville Hetherington, who was born in Canada, but has lived in England since 1911, obtained a divorce today. Lieut. Barkley Taxes Benson of the Princess Patricia's regiment, was co-respondent.

Major Hetherington was a resident of Quebec and prominent in business and military circles.

In granting the divorce, the president of the divorce court said co-respondent was one of many Canadian officers received by Major Hetherington into his home in fulfillment of the public duty incumbent upon him to do what he could to help fellow-Canadians and fellow-officers.

The president of the court said he need not comment on the way Benson responded to this and any person of a sober judgment could form an opinion as to the propriety of such conduct.

Major Hetherington had an idea of entering the learned profession of law, and he hoped the facts now disclosed would be considered by those whose duty it was to decide whether he was a fit and proper person to enter that profession.

Ever ready to the divorce occurred at White Knights, near Weybridge, Major Hetherington's residence, which had been offered to the Canadian Red Cross in an inviolable home for Canadian officers.

No defence was offered.

NEWSPRINT SUPPLY CAUSING ANXIETY

Situation Becoming More Acute States Financial Publication.

Canadian Press Despatch. Montreal, Nov. 27.—The forthcoming issue of the forthcoming publication, published by the Royal Securities Corporation, contains the following comment on the newspaper situation in regard to the supply of newsprint is becoming more acute. With mills producing to capacity and in many cases increasing their production over that of last year, the supply still lags behind the demand.

There has been a decided upward tendency in prices for newsprint or paper for immediate shipment, as much as six cents per pound in place of the usual 1-2 cents being paid in some instances.

The greater part of the Canadian output, however, is sold over long-term contracts, so that the six-cent price may not be realized as long as the bulk of the supply is taken up by the effect which this situation will have on the next year's contract prices.

About 100,000 tons of the anti-Bolshevik Gen. Yudenitch, anti-Bolshevik leader on the Russian northwest front, and would now do the same to Gen. D. K. Kozlov, leader of the anti-Bolshevik forces in southwest Russia.

Toward the representatives of the Balkan States, who were led to believe that the Bolsheviks were as eager as they to make peace, he assumed at the outset such a cold and threatening manner that they were non-plussed to the point of despair.

Altho the Livinoff had adopted a more conciliatory attitude, the Baltic delegates remain filled with misgiving, which is heightened by reports of a powerful offensive of the Bolsheviks are said to be preparing against the Estonians on the Narva front.

In the opinion of the Baltic representatives, Livinoff's bearing at Copenhagen will continue the same as at Dorpat, and they believe that if Great Britain and the other allies are disposed to negotiate they will find no cause to be surprised if Livinoff will refuse to listen to proposals for a constitutional assembly in Russia or modification of the form of the soviet government.

Strict Censorship. This and other information which the correspondent secured from an authoritative source could not be transmitted from Dorpat, owing to the Ethiopian censorship which, as the conference proceeded, became increasingly severe, owing, perhaps, to influence, a few delegates hinted at, but were reluctant to discuss openly.

Two of them, however, accused France of trying to prevent peace by bringing pressure to bear on the conference through the threat of withdrawing support from Riga of French warships then supporting the left flank of the Lithuanian army.

The arrival of Col. Tallents, head of the British political mission, appeared to augment the reticence of the conference and the official representatives of other border states showed increasing nervousness.

In view of the conflicting statements given the correspondent, it is difficult to say just what was decided, but it is generally believed that the Baltic representatives, or at least the Estonians, invited the Bolsheviks to send a peace delegation Dec. 7. Through Livinoff's stay he was sedulously guarded from correspondents by the Estonians, and a British officer was sent to escort him to Copenhagen, when he left Dorpat.

The correspondent is informed that when Livinoff entered the conference he professed surprise at finding representatives of all three Baltic states, saying that he expected to meet only the Estonians. He showed impatience when told the Baltic delegates were prepared to discuss officially only the exchange of prisoners, remarking that he did not desire to waste time on unimportant details which could be included in a peace treaty.

Subsequently, when peace terms were informally discussed, Livinoff flatly refused to consider the establishment of a neutral zone, and was not inclined to treat the question of an armistice apart from peace.

One of the correspondent's informants said that the position of the Baltic states would be uncertain, even if peace were concluded, declaring they could not trust the word of the Bolsheviks.

The probable effect of the scare Livinoff gave the Baltic delegates will be to accelerate the organization of a league of border states, which otherwise would prove to be most difficult, owing to their rivalries.

DELEGATION OF BROTHERHOODS TO MEET DIRECTOR-GENERAL OF U. S. RAILWAYS.

Cleveland, Nov. 27.—The meeting of 500 general chairmen of the four great railroad brotherhoods which convened here last Monday to consider an offer from Director-General of Railroads Hines of time and one-half for overtime on slow freight service, provided all arbitrary and special allowances were eliminated, ended today with the adoption of a resolution to send a committee, representing all four organizations, including the four chiefs, to Washington to confer with Mr. Hines on the subject.

The committee has full power to accept or reject the offer. A telegram has been sent asking for a conference on Tuesday, Dec. 2.

The convention accepted Mr. Hines' other offer, the proposed "hold-away-from-home-terminal" rule, which means that pay of train and engine crews will automatically start at the expiration of 16 hours from the time of release at a way-from-home terminal.

No strike vote was taken or ordered during the conference, according to W. G. Lee, president of the brotherhood of railroad trainmen.

Although the general chairmen of the brotherhood of locomotive firemen and engine men remained here to meet tomorrow to discuss the demand for increased wages, their demands were presented to the railroad administration last September, but no answer has yet been received. In a reply to a similar demand from the brotherhood of railroad trainmen the railroad administration stated that the question was still up to President Wilson.

BALTIC DELEGATES BADLY SCARED

Former Bolshevik Ambassador to Britain Treated Them With Arrogance.

Heinsdorf, Nov. 27.—Maxim Litvinoff, former Bolshevik ambassador to Great Britain, and head of the soviet delegation which conferred with representatives of the Baltic states at Dorpat for vengeance, according to the reports, following the execution of General Felpe Angeles, led rebel leader, and Gen. Yudenitch, anti-Bolshevik leader on the Russian northwest front, and would now do the same to Gen. D. K. Kozlov, leader of the anti-Bolshevik forces in southwest Russia.

Toward the representatives of the Balkan States, who were led to believe that the Bolsheviks were as eager as they to make peace, he assumed at the outset such a cold and threatening manner that they were non-plussed to the point of despair.

Altho the Livinoff had adopted a more conciliatory attitude, the Baltic delegates remain filled with misgiving, which is heightened by reports of a powerful offensive of the Bolsheviks are said to be preparing against the Estonians on the Narva front.

The arrival of Col. Tallents, head of the British political mission, appeared to augment the reticence of the conference and the official representatives of other border states showed increasing nervousness.

In view of the conflicting statements given the correspondent, it is difficult to say just what was decided, but it is generally believed that the Baltic representatives, or at least the Estonians, invited the Bolsheviks to send a peace delegation Dec. 7. Through Livinoff's stay he was sedulously guarded from correspondents by the Estonians, and a British officer was sent to escort him to Copenhagen, when he left Dorpat.

The correspondent is informed that when Livinoff entered the conference he professed surprise at finding representatives of all three Baltic states, saying that he expected to meet only the Estonians. He showed impatience when told the Baltic delegates were prepared to discuss officially only the exchange of prisoners, remarking that he did not desire to waste time on unimportant details which could be included in a peace treaty.

Subsequently, when peace terms were informally discussed, Livinoff flatly refused to consider the establishment of a neutral zone, and was not inclined to treat the question of an armistice apart from peace.

Delegation of Brotherhoods to Meet Director-General of U. S. Railways.

Cleveland, Nov. 27.—The meeting of 500 general chairmen of the four great railroad brotherhoods which convened here last Monday to consider an offer from Director-General of Railroads Hines of time and one-half for overtime on slow freight service, provided all arbitrary and special allowances were eliminated, ended today with the adoption of a resolution to send a committee, representing all four organizations, including the four chiefs, to Washington to confer with Mr. Hines on the subject.

The committee has full power to accept or reject the offer. A telegram has been sent asking for a conference on Tuesday, Dec. 2.

The convention accepted Mr. Hines' other offer, the proposed "hold-away-from-home-terminal" rule, which means that pay of train and engine crews will automatically start at the expiration of 16 hours from the time of release at a way-from-home terminal.

No strike vote was taken or ordered during the conference, according to W. G. Lee, president of the brotherhood of railroad trainmen.

Although the general chairmen of the brotherhood of locomotive firemen and engine men remained here to meet tomorrow to discuss the demand for increased wages, their demands were presented to the railroad administration last September, but no answer has yet been received. In a reply to a similar demand from the brotherhood of railroad trainmen the railroad administration stated that the question was still up to President Wilson.

Situation Becoming More Acute States Financial Publication.

Canadian Press Despatch. Montreal, Nov. 27.—The forthcoming issue of the forthcoming publication, published by the Royal Securities Corporation, contains the following comment on the newspaper situation in regard to the supply of newsprint is becoming more acute. With mills producing to capacity and in many cases increasing their production over that of last year, the supply still lags behind the demand.

There has been a decided upward tendency in prices for newsprint or paper for immediate shipment, as much as six cents per pound in place of the usual 1-2 cents being paid in some instances.

The greater part of the Canadian output, however, is sold over long-term contracts, so that the six-cent price may not be realized as long as the bulk of the supply is taken up by the effect which this situation will have on the next year's contract prices.

About 100,000 tons of the anti-Bolshevik Gen. Yudenitch, anti-Bolshevik leader on the Russian northwest front, and would now do the same to Gen. D. K. Kozlov, leader of the anti-Bolshevik forces in southwest Russia.

Toward the representatives of the Balkan States, who were led to believe that the Bolsheviks were as eager as they to make peace, he assumed at the outset such a cold and threatening manner that they were non-plussed to the point of despair.

Altho the Livinoff had adopted a more conciliatory attitude, the Baltic delegates remain filled with misgiving, which is heightened by reports of a powerful offensive of the Bolsheviks are said to be preparing against the Estonians on the Narva front.

In the opinion of the Baltic representatives, Livinoff's bearing at Copenhagen will continue the same as at Dorpat, and they believe that if Great Britain and the other allies are disposed to negotiate they will find no cause to be surprised if Livinoff will refuse to listen to proposals for a constitutional assembly in Russia or modification of the form of the soviet government.

Strict Censorship. This and other information which the correspondent secured from an authoritative source could not be transmitted from Dorpat, owing to the Ethiopian censorship which, as the conference proceeded, became increasingly severe, owing, perhaps, to influence, a few delegates hinted at, but were reluctant to discuss openly.

Two of them, however, accused France of trying to prevent peace by bringing pressure to bear on the conference through the threat of withdrawing support from Riga of French warships then supporting the left flank of the Lithuanian army.

The arrival of Col. Tallents, head of the British political mission, appeared to augment the reticence of the conference and the official representatives of other border states showed increasing nervousness.

With the arrival of Livinoff the Polish representatives promptly left Dorpat.

Montreal, Nov. 27.—Vigorous protest against Polish occupation of eastern Galicia, which is highlighted by the action of the supreme council in giving Poland a mandate over eastern Galicia for 25 years, coupled with an appeal to the League of Nations, was made at a large meeting of Montreal Ukrainians held at the Knights of Columbus Hall last night.

The eastern Galicia is a Ukrainian and wanted self-determination with the rest of Ukraine was the keynote struck by the speakers.
