O.K. Herndon, 40-1, Won
I told all these people to play it one day, and they all cleaned up a bunch. Remember, the one and only way to beat the horses is to play one horse a day. My information comes from one of the shrewdest owners at Jacksonville.

TO-DAY
I will have one from the same source as Saturday. It will win sure. Don't wait until I put this one on an outside kick. My horse got away for a mile and a half and was converted. Jack Marshall's horse got away for a mile and a half and was converted. Jack Marshall's horse got away for a mile and a half and was converted.

Herreshoff Wins Golf Final
LAKEWOOD, N.J., Nov. 27.—Fred Herreshoff of the Westbrook, L.I. Golf Club, to-day won the annual municipal Lakewood golf tournament, defeating Walter J. Travis, Garden City, 2 up and 1 to 50. The semi-finals of this, the last tournament of the season in the north, brought together the "big four" among the eastern amateurs, Herreshoff defeating Finlay, S. Douglas of the Nassau Country Club, Wm. Travis won a smashing game from Jerome D. Travers of the Colonial, Herreshoff is a former professional runner-up, but to-day won the victory from three men who have all held national titles. Herreshoff's victory in the final surprised the spectators, who had seen him make so poor a start. The current changed at the turn, and a storm on the sixteenth hole stopped the score in Herreshoff's favor.

A POWERFUL PERSUADER.

Tubes are a powerful "compeller," to use our word of three days ago. It was only last Monday that Controller Hooken announced his plans, and on Saturday Mr. R. J. Fleming, manager of the Toronto Railway Company, declared his entire willingness to construct all the lines that are required to serve the suburban districts. When the bare mention of tubes is so effective what a potent instrument in the settlement of the franchise question in 1921 tubes will be can readily be imagined.

But, of course, Mr. Fleming would make the best of the bargain for the company. He would impose conditions if he would build lines. The condition is that no percentage be paid to the city upon the traffic. Mr. Fleming and the company must reflect again. The city has thought hard over the whole question for several years, and Mr. Fleming's proposal does not look good enough. Provided the division of traffic could be arranged, and there are obvious difficulties in settling such a problem, the city is most unlikely to entangle itself further in the Street Railway Act. The building of additional lines by the company at this stage would mean a further complication in the negotiations for final possession in 1921.

If there is any more track-building to be done, the city should do it.

If the railway company build new tracks the city must buy them back. The city can borrow money more cheaply and finance the business more economically now than later when dealing with the whole system.

It will be very much easier to arrange for the company to pay track allowance and percentage for the city built tracks than to arrange with the company for a modification of the agreement which has been so badly modified already against the city's interests by the courts.

Besides, if the city builds a tube system, as appears certain from the feeling of the people, Mr. Fleming's new lines will be superfluous. Any new lines needed will be short feeder lines connecting with the fast-running tube-trains, and the street railway has never shown such a disposition to cooperate with the city, or to carry out the spirit of its agreements, as to make any further agreement desirable that is not quite unavoidable.

This deplorable state of affairs arises from the well-recognized fact that the company regards the city as fair game, out of which anything almost may be got by concentrated and unscrupulous effort. The city, less unitedly organized, bound by municipal pal honor, and weakened by judicial deference to corporate power, fights at a disadvantage. Any advantage it possesses it must preserve.

A tube-system will deliver the city from many immediate inconveniences, and will remove the greatest of its approaching difficulties, the recovery of the street railway franchise in 1921.

Manager Fleming shrewdly perceives this, and offers his sop, with its condition. The street railway organs will now declare themselves for a new deal with the company, and chant themselves hoarse over the magnanimity of Mr. Fleming's proposals. The citizens will not forget the number of lawsuits, the long delays, the frequent impediments and the refusals to oblige the city in the past that have chiefly characterized Mr. Fleming's communications with the city. Nor will they forget that within a week of the proposal to build tubes Mr. Fleming talked concessions.

Like the con, he saw Controller Hooken's tube well-aimed, and is looking for a soft place to drop. AN IDLE DREAM. William Randolph Hearst, proprietor of The New York American, the first of a string of newspapers that stretch from ocean to ocean, is a man of hopes and ideals. Some he may live to see realized, but one certainly he will not, tho he attain the orthodox age of Methuselah. Needless to say, it is that which contemplates the absorption of Canada into the United States. The American again trotted out this favorite hobby-horse in an editorial of Nov. 28, after a somewhat long withdrawal from public view. It professes to believe that Canada entertains a very tender feeling for Uncle Sam, and that sassy assurances have been vouchsafed him to that effect. Hence its conclusion that "geographical proximity, commerce, political institutions, absence of international hatred and prejudice—all have a silent tendency to bring about the consummation Americans hope for now and Canadians probably wish."

No, Mr. Hearst, Canadians have no wish or inclination to sink their own nationality in a republic which The New York American is continually parading as the home of the most corrupt political system known to the civilized world. Canada will work out her own destiny in her own way. There is plenty of room for two independent Anglo-Keltic civilizations on this continent, and Canadians believe their constitution is more truly democratic, more flexible, more responsive, to the will of the people and better able to make that will promptly effectual than is the constitution whose dead hand is paralyzing reform in the United States. Your dream is vain, Mr. Hearst. Canada is not going your way—not by a jugful. The democracy of America is to be saved by Canada and Canadians.

V-A-R-S-I-T-Y—RAH! RAH! RAH!

Saturday's great football game will long be remembered not only as a notable exhibition of manly sport, but no less for the good spirit which prevailed among players and onlookers. While Toronto's sympathies, naturally inclined to our own Varsity, the fine points of Ottawa's game did not lack appreciation. This is as it should be. Contests in games and sports can be made of high educational value when they inculcate and promote courtesy, civility and self-restraint. The presence of these desirable qualities does not render the struggle less interesting and strenuous, quite the reverse.

Varsity on the athletic side can do much to stimulate and maintain a high standard of conduct, and The World heartily congratulates the splendid team that on Saturday did honor to themselves and their Alma Mater.

MAYOR OLIVER'S RECORD.

Mayor Oliver has been in office for two terms and people are asking what he has done. A minute investigation discloses very little beyond the routine duties of his office. In the effort to be bold, but not too bold, he has not been bold at all. He has practised the noble art of laissez faire, and jollied along with no great disturbance of the traditions. If he has not greatly helped, it was satisfactory to think that he had not greatly hindered.

One thing he might have associated himself with, and gained a name by, but on Saturday the obstructive conservative spirit overpowered his worship, and he came out with a knock for the Blue-street viaduct.

Nothing should be done, he said, until the city gets legislation to permit the purchase of property adjacent to street improvements. Mayor Oliver has had two years to procure such legislation, repeatedly urged as necessary during that time by The World. The city must now suffer for his worship's omissions, he argues.

What has Mayor Oliver done during the past two years to get street railway legislation? This has been advocated over and over again, but Mayor Oliver has done nothing. If the city had power to expropriate the street railway company, there would be less recalcitrance in observing the terms of the agreement. The citizens would like to know what steps Mayor Oliver has taken to bring up necessary legislation in this respect at the next session of the local house.

Mayor Oliver, whether by inclination or accident, is playing the street railway game, one move in which is to block the Blue-street viaduct. The Blue-street viaduct, like the tube system, means a loosening of the toils of the radial railways on the city, and that the railway interests are of course dead against. They will be delighted to find Mayor Oliver on their side. And they will feel gratified that he has done nothing about expropriation legislation.

A CORRECTION.

In speaking of Dr. Grenfell on Saturday, it was stated that he met Miss McLaughlin, "a graduate" of Bryn Mawr of 1906, on board an ocean steamer. This was changed in the composing room to read that he met her "in 1906." As a matter of fact Dr. Grenfell met his wife last summer.

IS CANADA REALLY DEMOCRATIC?

Editor World: That the people in this country govern themselves has been our boast. A proposition to legislate thru a navy equipment, a radical and far-reaching change in the policy of this country affecting its future social and political life, before its citizens have been called upon to consider so great a departure, is scarcely in line with that boast. This country appears to be very much under the dictation of a class that is always getting something, or endeavoring to get something, at the expense of what it considers an inferior class, but which in reality furnishes stability to the country and pays the taxes. Jingo schemes concocted in club circles in London or in Canada, and persistently paraded in the public press, are surely not to be taken as Canadian public opinion. Is it coming to this that a democratic people, instead of promoting plans consistent with its principles, must guard itself against its representatives, must watch out or it will be exploited, and legislated out of its eyes and ears? If Sir Wilfrid hesitated to violate the rights of the Canadian parliament and of the Canadian people at London or in Canada, and persistently paraded in the public press, are surely not to be taken as Canadian public opinion. Funeral of Major Paton.

The funeral took place Saturday afternoon at Mount Pleasant Cemetery, from the residence of his brother, 124 St. George-street, of Major Samuel Cook Paton, of the 19th Alberta Mounted Rifles. His many friends sent beautiful floral designs, among which was one from Col. R. Belcher, C.M.G., and the officers of his regiment. Among the military men in attendance, the Governor-General's Body Guard represented the 19th Alberta Regiment by request, Lt.-Col. Frank A. Fleming, Major Roche and another staff officer being present.

Major Paton served during the South African war with the Strathcona Horse from 1900 to 1902, and was present in several engagements, notably at Belfast, Lydenburg, Pretoria and Pietermaritzburg, and received the Queen's medal with four clasps.

LORDS DESTROYING BUDGET

Aequith Expected to Reaffirm the Uncontrollable Right of Commons. LONDON, Nov. 27.—The coming week will be memorable in the parliamentary annals of Great Britain. A majority of the lords, despite the warnings of such experienced politicians as Lord Rosebery and Lord Balfour of Burleigh, have decided to withhold their consent to the budget, and it is a foregone conclusion that Lord Lansdowne's motion to reject the finance measures will be carried by a large majority. But while the result is foreseen, interest in the debate remains undiminished and the speeches to be delivered on Monday and Tuesday preceding are eagerly anticipated.

Viscount Morley, secretary of state for India, will open the discussion when the house of lords convenes Monday, and he will be followed by Lord Curzon, formerly Viceroy of India, providing the latter has recovered from his illness. Then the financiers will have their say. Lord Rothchild speaking on behalf of the Unionists and Lord Swynnington for the Liberals, Earl Cawdor and the Earl of Crowe will make the principal speeches on Tuesday. With all the leaders out of town for the week-end, there have been no further developments in the situation and the discussions in the press and about town are confined to conjectures as to what course the government will take.

It is certain that Premier Asquith, the day after the lords have divided on the question, will give notice of a motion affirming the uncontrollable right of the house of commons in respect of financial matters. There is a possibility that Lord Balfour of Burleigh will reply to this with an amendment proposing that a change in the system of taxation of such importance should be referred to the people. The premier's motion of course will prevail, and then it will be up to the government to decide whether the house shall be prorogued or merely adjourned. The decision of the government in the matter will be of the greatest importance so far as the finances of the country are concerned as the only authority now existing for the collection of the income tax, the duties on spirits and tobacco rests on the resolutions passed immediately after the introduction of the budget. If parliament is prorogued these resolutions will come to an end and the collection of taxes will have to stop. If adjournment only is determined upon resolutions will continue in force and taxes can be collected up to the time of dissolution.

The campaign through the country will be begun in earnest as soon as the chambers have been adjourned. Great meetings of both parties have already been arranged at all the big centres and thousands of speakers and canvassers are prepared to start the work which will be continued, except during the Christmas holidays, until the last vote has been polled.

IRISH TOWN BY AUCTION Earl of Ranfurly Will Put Dunganon on the Market.

DUBLIN, Nov. 28.—One of the Irish landlords, the earl of Ranfurly, has decided it is to put the town of Dunganon up for auction and it will be sold in lots in a few days. The auction is to take place in Belfast, and as it is seldom a whole town comes under the hammer, the event will be watched with unusual interest. The lots include not only the houses, but the town markets and town parks. The competition will be practically confined to local bidders. Dunganon is one of the most prosperous towns in the north of Ireland and is invested with much historical interest as the birthplace of the Irish volunteers, who, in 1792, won Grattan's parliament from England by force of arms. It is, therefore, one of the Meccas of Irish historians.

TO CONSERVE THE LAND Remedial Legislation to Be Urged on Congress.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—Recommendations urging remedial legislation by congress for securing the best use of the remaining public lands are featured in the annual report of Secretary of the Interior Ballinger, made public to-day. These recommendations include specific authority to classify and segregate the lands into well defined divisions according to their greatest apparent use, legislation designed to conserve the coal deposits as a public utility and to prevent monopoly or speculation in their disposition and authorizing the classification and disposition of all lands capable of being used for water power development under the interior department.

Secretary Ballinger favors the issuance of certificates of indebtedness of $50,000,000, against the reclamation fund for certain lines of irrigation work.

THE PRUDENTIAL

The Pioneer of Industrial Insurance in America.

The Prudential introduced this form of insurance into this country, and practised it for four years earlier than the oldest of its competitors.

This system of insurance makes it possible for every healthy person — man, woman or child—between the ages of one and seventy, to obtain a policy of life insurance.

The premiums are collected by the Agents of the Company at the homes of the policyholders, and the payments, being small and collected frequently, do not become a burden.

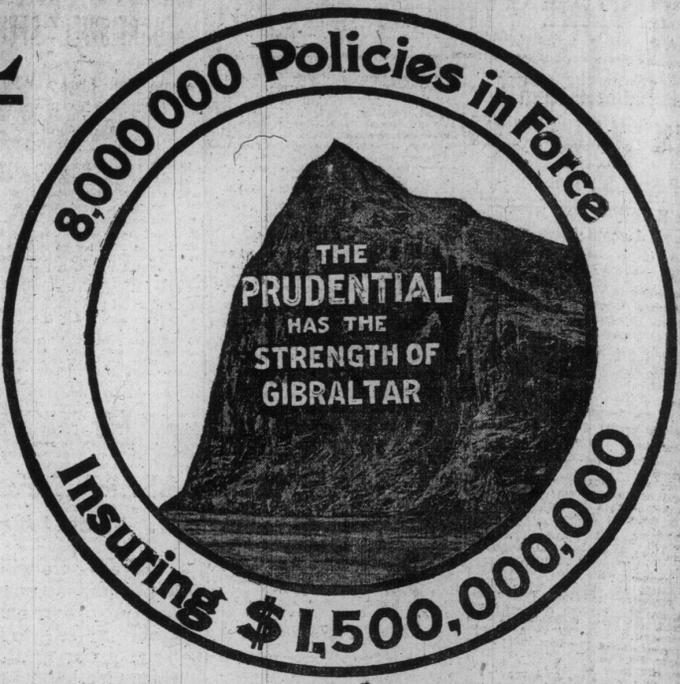

Death claims are paid immediately after due proof of death has been received.

The Prudential has a larger number of policyholders than has any other company of the same age in the world.

It issues the most liberal Industrial policy in this country.

The Prudential, in its Ordinary Department, issues policies in amounts of $500 to $100,000, premiums upon which are payable annually, semi-annually, or quarterly.

In this department it issues various forms of Life and Endowment policies, embodying advantages that appeal to the different requirements of the numerous classes of applicants.

VATICAN IS TO BLAME FOR UNREST IN FRANCE

Paris Temps Says Religious Peace Will Come Only When Clergy Obey Their Conscience.

PARIS, Nov. 28.—The Temps considers the discussion of the church question in the chamber of deputies by Premier Briand, who spoke in reply to a speech of Abbe Gayraud, of great importance since it again emphasizes how, in spite of the wishes of a majority of the French bishops, clergy and the great body of Catholics, the Church of Rome has refused to recognize the separation law, and continues to repulse all efforts at conciliation, which have been proposed by parliament and even goes so far as to make war on the public schools.

A new spirit, the paper declares, must rule the Vatican before a settlement is possible. This is evidenced by the refusal of the Vatican to aid in the settlement of the church question in France, whereas it does at nothing to insure peace and conciliate the governments of other countries.

The Temps points out that under the broad justice of Leo XIII. the situation would be treated with liberality and common sense, and concludes with the assertion that religious peace will come when the church restricts its energies to religion, and the French clergy follow the dictates of conscience instead of intransigent orders from Rome.

PREMIER HAZEN'S VIEW OF M'BRIDE'S VICTORY

Emerges From Campaign a National Figure to Be Reckoned With Soon in Dominion Politics.

ST. JOHN, N.B., Nov. 28.—(Special.)—In my opinion, Premier McBride's sweeping victory in British Columbia was due to the fact that he had given good, honest and stable administration to the Province of British Columbia during his term of office, and had shown himself to be an energetic and prudent administrator of its resources," says Premier J. D. Hazen. "His personality was also an important element in bringing about his great triumph.

"From this distance it does not look as if his railway policy, wise and aggressive as it undoubtedly was, proved at all a determining factor in the campaign, for most, if not all the opposition he encountered was in consequence of this policy which caused two prominent members of his cabinet to resign and incurred the opposition of Sir Hibbert Tupper. Had it not been for the Mackenzie and Mann agreement, the opposition would have had no material on which to conduct a serious campaign.

Mr. McBride's prestige is eminent by increased. He emerges from the campaign a national figure of importance, who must be reckoned with in the very near future in the larger field of Dominion politics. As he was opposed to the extent of trafficking in positions on the bench for the purpose of strengthening the opposition, and securing a victory can be properly regarded as a triumph for the Conservative party, and will be generally considered a crushing defeat for the Liberals."

The victory, coming at this time, will doubtless prove most encouraging to the Conservative party, and its honoured leader, Robert L. Borden.

HOTELS MUST MOVE

Mustn't Be Within 200 Feet of a Church in New York State.

BUFFALO, Nov. 28.—According to a decision handed down by the court of appeals, a copy of which reached here to-day, all saloon-keepers in the state moving places of business within 200 feet of any church must move outside of the charmed circle.

The decision says, in effect, that the amendment to the excise law passed last year by the legislature is valid and binding.

Over 150 saloons and hotels in Buffalo alone are affected by the decision.

ENGINE WRECKS BRIDGE THRESHER IS DROWNED

Isaac Battler of Plattsville Meets With Sudden Death—His Son Escapes.

PLATTSVILLE, Ont., Nov. 28.—Isaac Battler, a well-known thresher, residing three miles south of Plattsville, met death while returning from New Hamburg last night with his traction engine.

While crossing the wooden bridge on the Whitton and Blenheim town line, the joints of the bridge gave way precipitating Battler and his son William, with the engine, to the river below, a distance of about 15 feet.

William fell into the water tree of the engine, but his father was pinned under the debris.

The accident happened at 7.30 p.m., and soon after a large crowd of workers succeeded in extricating the body. The water in the river was about five feet deep and it is supposed that death was caused by drowning.

SPECIAL ARMY CANNON COULDN'T HIT BALLOON

Twenty Shots Failed to Connect With Anchored Bag at Sandy Hook Testing Grounds.

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—An anchored balloon sent up off Sandy Hook yesterday as a continuation of the army's first test of aerial warfare, passed unscathed thru a fire from a gun especially designed for the purpose. Twenty shots in all were fired but none hit the bag.

The results of the experiments are being kept a secret, but the outcome of today's test became known to-night. The balloon was fired upon a height of about 600 feet, but whether the failure of the special gun to destroy it or poor marksmanship could not be ascertained, because of the secret policy adopted in connection with the tests.

FRENCH GENERAL SHOT VICTIM OF A MISTAKE

Man With a Grievance—Victim Was Minister of War—Victim Was On Way to Banquet.

PARIS, Nov. 28.—A man believed to have had an imaginary grievance against the war department, shot and seriously wounded General Verand today on the steps of the Hotel Continental, as the general was entering to attend a banquet.

Hundreds of several of the officers sprang upon General Verand's assailant, who proved to be an Algerian, and was overpowered with difficulty. A General Verand received bullets in the neck and forehead, and his condition is considered dangerous.

The attempted assassination created a sensation. It occurred a few moments after President Fallieres left the Hotel Bristol nearby, where he was calling on King Manuel.

As four shots rang out, the people in the streets first thought it was an attempt against the life of the president of the republic, or the King of Portugal.

The shots, and several of the officers sprang upon General Verand's assailant, who proved to be an Algerian, and was overpowered with difficulty. A General Verand received bullets in the neck and forehead, and his condition is considered dangerous.

HANDICAP OF PROHIBITIONISTS

The Fact That Government Legalizes Liquor Traffic.

W. A. Equibaker of Chicago was the speaker at the Sunday afternoon meeting of the Canadian Temperance League in Massey Hall, when he took his text from Shakespeare's Midsummer Night's Dream, "What Fools These Mortals Be." Claiming that the protection of the people, he said that the greatest handicap the people fought under in their campaign against the bar was the fact that the course of liquor was legalized by the government. In forty years the liquor interests of the United States had increased their business under government protection 584 per cent, while the population had increased but 150 per cent. His sympathies were for total prohibition as a permanent local option, but he would join heart and soul to uphold the law. A government, he said, that reaps benefits from anything that destroys citizenship has no right to exist.

Addresses were also given by Joseph Gibson, president of the Dominion Alliance, and J. S. Robertson, past president of the league, Albert Chamberlain, president of the British Welcome League, was in the chair.

CAMPAIGN IN BRITAIN NOW IN FULL SWING

But it is Not Yet Known Whether Parliament Will Prorogue This Week.

LONDON, Nov. 28.—(N. Y. Sun cable)—Political oratory has risen to a higher plane this week than has been reached in this country since the height of the home rule crisis.

The entire absence of passion in the debate in the House and the dominating note of seriousness have been in sharp contrast to the angry and abusive tone of many public speakers, even in the effects of the lords discussion of the budget this week have been so sober.

Popular feeling had run so high of late that at the first announcement of Lord Rosebery, Comer and Balfour of Burleigh, that their attitude would be neutral, aroused resentment on both sides.

This attitude annoys, chiefly because it is so futile. No doubt any longer remains that Lord Lansdowne's amendment refusing to approve the budget until it has been submitted to the people will pass on Tuesday by an overwhelming majority.

The national campaign is already in full swing, which in itself is an unusual feature in this country, where governments usually go to the country on only a fortnight's notice.

It is not yet known whether parliament will be prorogued this week or adjourned until just previous to its dissolution.

TWO INSURANCE BILLS CHANGE NOT UNLIKELY

Finance Minister Will Probably Be the Strongest Opponent of Proposal.

MONTREAL, Nov. 28.—(Special.)—News from Ottawa is to the effect that strong influence is being brought to bear upon the government to withdraw the insurance bill and substitute for the same bill two measures, the one treating fire and other life insurance.

It appears, in fact, that the suggestion thrown out the other day by the Hon. G. W. Ross during a speech delivered in the senate to the above effect, is being seriously considered by insurance men, both in the commercial and political circles.

Hon. J. P. B. Casgrain has already asked the government from his place in the senate if such a change is imminent, and also the leader of the administration in the upper house has not yet given down the ministerial reply.

It is understood that the prime minister has an open mind toward the suggested change, while the finance minister is against the suggestion from the other side, of course, as a member of parliament said to-day while discussing the matter with several insurance men of this city.

Mr. Fielding naturally feels that this insurance measure is his own child and he will be inclined to push the matter thru as at present proposed, but if we can make him understand that it will be the possessor of his child, should the bill be carried out, instead of one of his children, I think that he will accept the proposition with becoming grace.

He explained that the basis on which fire and life insurance is effected is so very different that it is almost impossible to legislate on the question by a single bill, hence the cause of the agitation for a change which has sprung up in the Canadian senate.

TRUTH AND POETRY

THE MUNICIPAL CAMPAIGN

Probably few Torontonians stop to reflect on the number of people qualified to vote in civic politics, who avoid the polling booth on New Year's Day as they were an isolation hospital.

he will have any support. The fire-brands and police stations will have to be built whether the people say so or otherwise, and an adverse verdict will mean, so Controller Hooker says, that at least $150,000 of the $222,000 required will have to be taken out of the 1910 taxes.

It isn't unlikely that the by-law asking half a million for marsh development will be deferred, owing to a feeling that the work isn't immediately necessary.

And because this new West is the last vast and rich undeveloped section on the continent, its growth will be faster than that of any similar section in the past.

Last Great Metropolis of North America FORT GEORGE

We have all heard of Fort George in a general way. Hardly an issue of a Vancouver paper but makes mention of it.

A CAREFUL DISTINCTION. In making our announcements of the sale of lots in Central Fort George, we wish to make a careful distinction between this sale and the promiscuous sale of townsites, sub-divisions and additions.

Speculators Overreach Themselves and Tickets to Rugby Game Take a Tumble.

It is doubtful if ever a game in the history of Canadian Rugby has excited the intense anticipatory interest which made scores brave the rigors of a November night in the open street, either in person or by proxy (mainly yesterday's struggle on the gridiron. Never have ticket speculators demanded, and received, such big money for seats, as it is whispered that at the last some who had overreached themselves in the exorbitance of their demands were found quite willing to dispose of their tickets for less than a quarter of the price asked earlier in the day.

HALIFAX, Nov. 27.—(Special.)—Judge Russell today filed a lengthy decision in the winding up of the Bank of Yarmouth, as regards the remuneration of Liquidator W. E. Stavert. His lordship stated that there were no special authorities by which this case might be determined. On one hand the liquidator was chosen by an association of bankers because of his exceptional qualifications; and on the other hand, he had been appointed by the court. His lordship stated that he believed he could find the quiet rest which is impossible for her in France.

Had Heart Trouble.

Nerves Were All Unstrung.

Wherever there is any weakness of the heart or nerves, flagging energy or physical breakdown, the use of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills will soon produce a healthy, strong system.

Can Do Her Own Work Now.

Debec Junction, N.B. writes: "I wish to tell you what Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have done for me. Three years ago I was so run down I could not do my work. I went to a doctor and he told me I had heart trouble and that my nerves were all unstrung. I took his medicine as he ordered me to do, but it did me no good. Then I started to take Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and I have only taken one box before I started to feel better, so I continued to take until I had taken several boxes, and I am now strong and well, and able to do my own work. When I commenced taking your pills I weighed 125 pounds, and now weigh 185 and have given birth to a lovely young daughter, which was a happy thing in my family. When I commenced taking Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, I could not go upstairs without resting before I got to the top. I can now go up without any trouble."
