GETTING TROOPS AWAY SPEEDILY

Government Fulfilling Bargain With Ireland.

Some are being retained in Ulster—Craig and Collins—Steps Along the Way to Eventual Unity.

(Canada Press Cable)
Dublin, Jan. 30.—The withdrawal of the military from Ireland is proceeding more speedily than was anticipated, giving plain proof of the adherence of the British government to the terms of the Anglo-Irish treaty setting up the Irish Free State. Each day sees a large batch of troops depart from Dublin or from other ports. Departure of the Dublin garrison is due to begin this week, say the newspapers are speculating as to how the vacated barracks will be utilized. It is suggested that they might be used to relieve the pressure of the housing problem. There will be five large barracks available in Dublin, and it is estimated that at a comparatively small expense they might be converted into workmen's dwellings.

Throughout Ireland similar buildings are falling under control of the new Irish government, and some may be needed for the new Irish army, although nothing has yet been decided in regard to the size of that body. It is taken for granted that it will be established permanently and green uniforms are being manufactured in Dublin on a large scale. It is noteworthy that the evacuation has occurred everywhere without manifestation whatever of the people. There has been no sign either of popular rejoicing or regret. In some cases departure of troops will be a serious loss to towns which benefited largely from the money spent by the soldiers and there was a line showing of the reduction of their pensions would have been regarded as a grievance, and have provoked parliamentary protests. The new spirit in Ireland has changed all that. Nevertheless, until new conditions have been created in such towns as Newbridge and Fermoy they will suffer to a considerable degree financially through the period of conflict and disorder. During the period of conflict and disorder sometimes was complicated by the ordinary police force. They knew that if the republicans were to be pursued and jailed by British police. The task is to be done in a way which has acted energetically in parts of Tipperary where the lawless element has been proclaimed and serious penalties threatened. The army authorities even imposed a rigid curfew law, compelling everybody to remain indoors after eight o'clock in the evening.

Although the evacuation of troops is to be completed, it is only in the south of Ireland. For the purpose of the treaty in this district, northern Ireland counts as though it were England, and accordingly large bodies of troops are fulfilling the promise to evacuate simply by marching across the border into Ulster. The announcement by Premier Sir James Craig in Belfast that the British government had promised him to leave twelve battalions in Northern Ireland is regarded suspiciously in Sinn Fein circles. During the Sinn Fein party congress in London, one of the most frequent points made by Eamon De Valera's supporters against the pact. Michael Collins, head of the provisional government, has given out nothing in explanation of his recent agreement with Sir James Craig, which is welcomed on general grounds provided it does not mean more than appears on the surface, but the Ulster premier's account of the agreement is certain to be a source of concern to the Sinn Fein party. It was all along said to be the root and principle of the London treaty that if Ulster stayed out she should receive none of the concessions won by the south. Sir James' recent speech is taken by some Sinn Fein party to indicate the Sinn Fein party's attitude to this agreement, and to indicate the possibility in his mind of what would really amount to two separate and equal dominions in Ireland, a result which would be disapproved by Irish Nationalist opinion generally. Some difficulty arises from the necessity of meeting the criticisms of the extremists on each side. The responsible ministers both in Dublin and Belfast are in an unenviable position, being concerned with the task of maintaining public order and encouraging the flow of trade. The agreement helps them in both respects and is welcomed by the majority of people as a step on the road to eventual unity of the north and south on terms acceptable and advantageous to both.

This time, in the opinion of the railway officials, they have decided definitely. They have purchased 200,000 acres of land in Mexico, upon which $500,000 has been paid.

FIGHT FOR LIFE OF MAN IN WRECKAGE

An Incident in Washington Theatre Disaster.

Death List This Morning 108 and that of Injured 195—May be Others Still Under Mass, but the Removal Work is Necessarily Slow.

(Canadian Press)
Washington, Jan. 30.—With a total of 107 dead and 195 injured removed from the ruins of the Knickerbocker Theatre on an early hour today, the great wreckage left when the snow-laden roof of the structure collapsed during the showing of a comedy feature bill on Saturday night. Brigadier-General Bandholtz, commandant of federal troops in the district, in personal charge of the rescue work, said it might be another twenty-four hours before it could be definitely said that there were more dead or injured in the wreckage of twisted steel and concrete which yet remained to be cleared away. It was believed, however, that the segment of the roof which fell on the audience, being near the rear and under the weight of the snow, had broken through the front of it, and that the theatre pit under the impact of the falling roof. A party of the rescuers has been struggling for hours to release from the part of the wreckage now being overturned one man believed to be yet alive, although imprisoned under the mass for nearly thirty hours. The weight of the steel beams and concrete which crashed with the roof has in many instances made the rescue of victims extremely slow and tedious. The capital city was bowed in grief today over the tragedy. This was the more intensely shared by the rest of the country because of the considerable number of visitors who suffered in the catastrophe. President Harding, in a statement last night, said the tragedy had left him with the same indescribable sorrow which has come to all of Washington and which will be sympathetically felt throughout the land. Most of the dead still lay in the wreckage of the theatre, but the board of commissioners of the district, another is to be started immediately by the grand jury. Senator Capper, of Kansas, a member of the senate District of Columbia committee, announced that he had convened a committee to investigate the cause and circumstances of the collapse of the theatre roof in prospect today. In addition to an exhaustive inquiry ordered by the board of commissioners of the district, another is to be started immediately by the grand jury.

COURT HOLDS THE WELFARE OF CHILD IS CHIEF ISSUE

Ottawa, Jan. 30.—Holding that the welfare of the child was the paramount issue before the court, Mr. Justice Latchford, sitting in the weekly court of the supreme court of Ontario, on Saturday afternoon, ruled that Bruce Girvan, aged nine and one-half years, should continue to reside with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Girvan, Ottawa. The boy some months ago was taken from an American educational institute by his father and, after being brought into Canada, was placed with his father's parents. About two weeks ago, Beatrice B. Girvan, the boy's mother, who is now a stenographer in a New York city commercial plant, sought a writ of habeas corpus at Osgoode Hall, Toronto, to secure the custody of her son. The application was referred to the weekly court.

COURT HOLDS THE WELFARE OF CHILD IS CHIEF ISSUE

Two men, charged with being drunk, pleaded guilty. They were fined $8 each and warned that they were liable to fines of $200 for buying the liquor on a Sunday. A man pleaded not guilty to a charge of knowingly having illicit liquor, within the meaning of the Inland Revenue Act, in his possession. Excise Enforcement Officer Daves and Policeman Lewis gave evidence about finding the spirits, produced in court in the house. The defendant said it was brought there when he was at the Infirmary and did not know where it came from. He was liable to a fine of $800 and that he would have to go to jail if he didn't pay. The policeman testified that there were five children at the house, the youngest of whom, only two years, was very sick. He didn't arrest the man but notified him to appear, which he did. The oldest child, he said, was eight years old and there was no one to look after the family. Chicago, Jan. 30.—Opening: Wheat, May, 1.18-1.8; July, 1.04-1.8; Corn, May, 34-41; July, 36-43. ## Stirring Tale of Sea In Loss Of Mod And Rescue Of 23 Of Her Crew

CARGO SHIFTING IN FEARFUL STORM THE UNDOING OF NORWEGIAN STEAMSHIP

Those on Board in Great Danger as Ship Listed and Seas Poured Over Her. Heroic Work of the Melmore Head Under Trying Conditions—How Captain and Nine Others Met Death.

A grim tale of the sea was told today when the twenty-three surviving members of the crew of thirty-three of the ill-fated Norwegian steamer Mod, which foundered in mid-ocean on January 22, arrived in this port this morning on the steamer Melmore Head. All doubt as to the fate of Captain Waarlle and first officer Knudsen, second officer Iacson, third officer Hilgason, third engineer Randsen, chief steward Arnsen and firemen K. Olsen, Strandgaard, Olelsen and Snelberg, were set at rest by the story of the horrors of the voyage and the sinking of the vessel. Chief Engineer Peter Iversen told of the eventual voyage, the loss of the new liner and the lives of the captain, officers and men. He said the mishap was the result of the freight shifting when they encountered rough weather and despite their frantic efforts they could not cope with the situation.

We left New York on January 18 bound for Norway, Bremen and Hamburg with general cargo. For a few days it looked as if we were going to have a pleasant voyage despite the fact that we sailed on the thirteenth. On Tuesday, January 17, we ran into heavy weather, a strong gale was blowing and the seas were running high. On Wednesday we were buffeted by the wind and sea and in the midst of the worst part of the storm the ship was struck over on her side and the cargo shifted. We put the men to work and managed to get it partly righted, but the ship was being tossed so on the large compass that the cargo again settled to port. The seas had in addition to the heavy cargo and a large part of the men of their quarters. The steamer was making fairly good progress despite the fact that the seas were blowing and the pumps were started, but in the forenoon the ship was struck on her beam end and the water came over the deck. On Saturday a terrific sea broke over the steamer and there were men on her deck and the water came over the deck. The pumps were started, but in the forenoon the ship was struck on her beam end and the water came over the deck. On Saturday a terrific sea broke over the steamer and there were men on her deck and the water came over the deck. The pumps were started, but in the forenoon the ship was struck on her beam end and the water came over the deck.

During this period when we realized the seriousness of our plight, the men discovered the book lying in the scullery and suffering agony. He had been at work when the ship was struck by the sea and a large part of the cargo was shifted. The water was coming over the deck and the men were being tossed about. The pumps were started, but in the forenoon the ship was struck on her beam end and the water came over the deck. ## As Hiram Sees It

"Hiram," said the Times reporter to Mr. Hiram Hornbeam, "are you an amateur, a professional or both?" "Well, now," said Hiram, "that reminds me of a two-headed calf an' the other was a red head, an' the old feller charged a quarter to see it. That's a good 'cal like this here amateur-professional game s'nt it's sort of two-headed affair—an' you pay at the gate. Well, I'll tell you, Mister, what I think about it. I think if a feller is goin' to take pay he ort say so an' hev everything open an' above board. That's the way you ort respect himself—yes, sir. But if a feller takes pay on the quiet to win a game—maybe he'd take pay some time to lose it. I've heard of such things. Better hev 'em all labelled. Then you'll know what you're gittin'."

SHACKLETON'S DEATH SUDDEN

End Came as Doctor was Preparing Medicines for Him.

(Canadian Press Cable)
Buenos Aires, Jan. 30.—More than three weeks elapsed between the death of Sir Ernest Shackleton, British explorer, and his announcement to the world, made yesterday when the body was brought to Montevideo. The delay, so Sir Ernest's Montevideo correspondent telegraphed, was described by Captain L. Hussey, who accompanied the body, as due to a series of misadventures. Captain Hussey here a death certificate made out at South Georgia Island, reading: "Alexander MacKinnon, certify to my best knowledge and belief that the cause of death was thrombosis in the arteries of the heart. Before death he had not suffered an infectious or contagious disease." The certificate was signed by Dr. MacKinnon, a surgeon of the expedition. Captain Hussey told the body was brought to Montevideo on the morning of January 2 he felt sharp pains in his back and called the doctor, who had hardly begun preparing remedies when the explorer died without uttering another word. Toronto, Jan. 30.—Sir Ernest Shackleton visited Canada in 1920 and was enthusiastically received in scientific, literary and social circles of the country. In Toronto he was the guest of Sir John Easton. The latter and Lady Easton visited Sir Ernest on the Queen before it left England for the southern seas.

ONTARIO G. A. U. V. RESOLUTIONS

Kitchener, Ont., Jan. 30.—The annual convention of the provincial committee of the G. A. U. V. was held on Saturday as opposed to the burial of an unknown soldier in Canada, taking the attitude that Canada as part of the empire was already represented in the ceremony at Westminster Abbey. Criticism of the provincial government was made in a resolution regarding the hiring of men as fire rangers without giving preference to returned men. A federal government will be asked to take up the question of a suitable memorial for the graves of ex-service men. A resolution favoring the granting of free medical and surgical treatment to ex-service men for a period of five years was also passed.

BUSY DIGGING OUT WASHINGTON

U. S. Capital Buried Under Two Feet of Snow in Great Storm.

Washington, Jan. 30.—The centre of a storm which flung a deep blanket of snow over the entire middle Atlantic section of the country Friday and Saturday, Washington was still digging itself out of more than two feet of it today exceedingly slow. With Sunday passed, efforts were redoubled to restore an almost totally lost contact with suburbs, and to the street car routes which were feebly resumed in some instances yesterday and assure something approaching dependability in the delivery of milk, bread and other necessities. Philadelphia, with the entire southeastern section of Pennsylvania was covered with snow up to a depth of a foot and a half, and at Baltimore the fall was almost as great as here.

IRISH POLICY Paris, Jan. 30.—In a statement to the Echo de Paris, Eamon De Valera says: "My policy in Ireland is to win full independence, for which we have struggled for years. The republic of Ireland exists. An attempt is being made to substitute for this republican form of government. All my efforts aim to preserve it as it is, without permitting the modifications of anything essential to the constitution. In addition, and it is grand task, we are going to work to get the republic of Ireland recognized by foreign governments."

It was pointed out that in view of the Anglo-Irish pact it would be difficult or impossible for foreign governments to recognize the Irish republic, to which Mr. De Valera replied:

"The pact in question is as yet only a project, not ratified by the people. Until Ireland has decided on this subject, I consider the agreement null and void. In the near future—the date has not yet been fixed—the men and women of Ireland will vote and thus make known their sentiments on the agreement proposed by England. That general election will decide the fate of Ireland."

SHANTUNG STILL A BIG PROBLEM (Canadian Press) Washington, Jan. 30.—The Shantung issue still remained the big question of the conference today, although there had been no outward evidence of change in the situation there were indications of increasing pressure being brought to bear for a settlement.

There was a possibility that the Japanese and Chinese would come together later in the day to attempt to clear away the remaining points of disagreement.

Meantime the five power nations had been brought one step nearer completion today by the Japanese delegation's receipt of further instructions from Tokyo regarding the Pacific fortifications clause, the one unfinished portion of the treaty.

The Japanese government was said to approve definitely the plan of laying to the main islands to which the agreement against further fortification shall apply but to have made one or two reservations as to the language of the article which will necessitate some further discussion.

Final disposal of one of the few remaining far eastern questions also had been brought nearer today by receipt of approval from Rome by the Italian government of the proposal to prohibit importation of arms and ammunition into China. Although approval of the Netherlands government was still awaited, it was predicted by some of the delegates that the Far Eastern committee might meet before tonight to take action on the arms export resolution.

OUR HARBINGERS The patriotic eyes of Thomas R. Dyer of the C. N. R. bulged out when he read this paragraph in a newspaper of Jan. 22:

"Edwin N. Dyer of Salmon Falls, N. H., sends to the Boston Globe a bunch of pussy-willows as a harbinger of spring."

It was not in the nature of the St. John man to permit any Dyer from New Hampshire to put one over on him. He knows something about harbingers himself. That is why he brought to the Times office this morning a bunch of pussy-willows and also several sprays of moss-wood with bulging.

They brought them from Lockwood Park. He waded through some snow to get them, but New Hampshire is buried in snow. In the matter of harbingers St. John is not to be out-classed.

GOOD THINGS COMING TO THE THEATRES OF ST. JOHN

COMMUNITY CHORUS EXTRA AT IMPERIAL

Fine Programme of Popular Music in Addition to Excellent Griffiths Feature.

The Imperial commences its Midwinter Festival today with David Wark Griffith's tense drama of daughter devotion entitled "The Love Flower".

A dramatic story of a wrongly accused father, a faithful daughter and an unfaithful stem-mother and wife. The story swings from the throbbing heart-beat of a tropical island in the Pacific. In this scintillating long arm of the law again wrongly seeks the persecuted father and his wonderful daughter (Carol Dempster) and her equally wonderful lover (Richard Barthelmess) thwart the detectives in most sensational and spectacular manner.

In addition to this splendid picture, the St. John Community Chorus of 150 members will give a programme of seven popular numbers between 8:15 and 9 this evening as well as tomorrow and Wednesday evenings. This delightful concert will be an added feature. Just like the Rossie Kiddies appeared in the morning and afternoon, the demand and exhibition of the feature picture will take place, thus closing the programme about 10:15.

The Imperial's prices for the first half of the week, during which the Griffiths picture and the Community Chorus will bring, will be 15c. and 25c. at the matinee, and in the evening 25c. and 35c. GET TOGETHER IN FAIRVILLE. A fine meeting was held this morning, community spirit may operate to secure things needed for the good of the community has been shown at Fairton, where three churches, Fairville Methodist, St. Columba, Presbyterian, and The Church of the Good Shepherd, Anglican, united in an effort to obtain a social hall and gymnasium for the use of the young people. No place was available for this purpose at first, but an entire floor of the new Orange Hall in Church avenue was obtained yesterday for the purpose of holding gymnastic games and social events. These churches have agreed each to take two nights a week in the hall. There will be a grand opening at which the young people of the churches will put on a programme. The Fairville Baptist church has had its own gymnasium for some time.

THE ROTARY CLUB. At today's Rotary Club luncheon there was a very animated discussion over the question of the employment bureau. A motion to ask the city council to establish an employment bureau was carried and another that the Rotary Club appoint a standing committee to co-operate with any other in the matter was adopted. This action apparently means the closing of the present employment bureau.

Rotarian Terry reported that a Rotary Club is to be organized in New Glasgow and perhaps in Pictou and District. Governor Patterson announced that Summerville will organize a club, having all arrangements completed.

Regret was expressed at the absence and illness of Rotarians Spangler and "Tom" Dyer. Dyer was submitted relative to ladies' night and the minstrel show, and Fine-master MacIacoe delicately extracted certain sums from refractory members. Rotarians Champolyver and Dyer were presented with rotary emblems carved in wood by President Spangler for their one hundred per cent meeting recently.

Amdur's Compelled to Close Union Street Store for a Time During Sale—Continues This Week.

Amdur's were compelled to close the door of their store in Union street, Saturday night, from 7:30 to 8:45, in order to give their overworked staff an opportunity to dispose of the huge after-noon crowd who jammed into the building in the morning and afternoon, the demand for bargains was so great.

Throughout Saturday, Amdur's were unable to close the main door at 7:30 to keep it closed until 8:45, thereby permitting of a breathing spell and the serving of impatient prospective buyers waited patiently for the door to open, and when free ingress was again allowed, the rush commenced anew.

The sale on Saturday was a most remarkable indication that the people of this city appreciate an opportunity to exercise economy and at the same time to derive exceptional benefit.

New supplies are arriving for the sale, which will continue this week.

THE FOUR HORSEMEN The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse, as presented at the Opera House this week, is a picture of compelling interest and tragic power. It was presented yesterday afternoon before a large number of invited guests, and they were taken from the pampas of the Argentine and the tango halls of Buenos Ayres to the art studio and cafes in Paris, the trenches of the Marne, the rain-soaked stretches of No Man's Land, and at last the fields "where poppies blow between the crosses, row on row." Ever and anon as the scene progresses the Four Horsemen gallop past and their screen of battle smoke, and the onlooker is held spellbound by the dramatic developments.

There is infinite variety in the treatment and action of the drama, and social life at its worst as well as at its best is revealed. There is a realism in the scenes which strikes the imagination and grips the feelings as few pictures have power to do, and the effect is heightened by the music which harmonizes with each scene. Two vocal solos, one "The Marseillaise" are introduced with thrilling effect. The lesson of this great picture is grimly obvious from the beginning to the tragic end.

MONTEAL FOG RIVALS THAT OF OLD LONDON Montreal, Jan. 30.—Early fogs upon emerging from their homes before nine o'clock this morning were amazed to find themselves enveloped in a fog that would deservedly occupy a prominent place among the most dense of London's "fog" seasons which enveloped in some parts of the city completely hid the opposite side of the street.

TRIBUTE TO THE HELMBORE HEAD. An officer of the steamer Montclair said this morning that they heard the wireless messages exchanged between the steamer Mod and other ships, but because of the distance and the fact that the Melmore Head started to her assistance, they did not change their course. He added that Sunday, the day of the rescue, was terrible, and he said that it was a high tribute to the seamanship of Captain Butt that he was able to get so close and to launch a boat in the sea that was so rough.

Full particulars of their plight are being sent to the consul-general. The injured members of the shipwrecked company have been sent to the hospital.

(Moncton Times, Saturday)

In a city where only a hundred skaters and five hundred promenaders were present at the formal opening of the new Sunny Brae rink last night.

The new building is a credit to both Sunny Brae and Moncton. It cost in the vicinity of $75,000 and is constructed of concrete and steel without a post. The rink is circular in shape and on each side of the ice surface, which measures 180 by 90 feet, seats have been erected, which will accommodate with standing room only one tier of seats has yet been completed, and under these have been placed the ticket windows, canteen, check room, and the ladies' and gentlemen's dressing rooms.

When the seats to the opposite side of the rink have been completed ten hockey club rooms will be constructed under them for the accommodation of the various teams using the rink.

The building is equipped with three large doors, the main entrance facing north, and two ticket windows have been placed conveniently inside the building. A hand stand will be erected over the rink, at each end of the rink. Although only 200 candle power lights are being admitted to the rink, they are brightly lighted. These are being increased to 500 candle power.

The rink surface which has not been completed at the work will be carried on, so that everything will be fully completed in a short time. The hand-stand and ticket windows now being used are temporary.

American Tribute
To Viscount Bryce

(New York Evening Post.)
When Gladstone died James Bryce wrote a sketch of his character, ending with the words: "The light has died out of the sky." Something of this feeling touches Americans today as they read of the death of the Englishman who was their best interpreter Bryce seems to Americans the only foreigner who understood them. This is not because he flattered them. On the contrary we have never had a more unflinching critic. It was not his scathing magazine but Bryce that first held up to the public gaze the political shame of our cities. The secret of our admiration for this foreign observer lay in his unique combination of insight, frankness, and friendliness. He neither shrunk from our faults nor failed to acknowledge our virtues. As a result he won the rare triumph of seeing his portrait of America accepted by Americans as the authentic picture of their civilization.
One of the hall-marks of what passes for liberalism just now is to despair of the republic. Every survey of us by a European or an American statesman shows us to be bankrupt intellectually and hopeless generally. Bryce had no more faith for this cheap pessimism than he had for unthinking optimism. "A hundred times in writing this book," he remarked in the opening pages of "The American Commonwealth," "have I been disheartened by the facts I was stating; hundreds of times that the recollection of the abounding strength and vitality of the nation chased away these tremors." He was even capable of the scandalous admission: "There are elements in the life of the United States which may well make a European of the continent dwell there rather than in the land of his birth." His latest view of the country, undertaken for what he rightly supposed to be the final edition of his great work, modifies some of the harsher lines of the earlier presentation. These changes were not due to a less critical temper; they register the observer's conviction that a generation had wrought perceptible advances in American life.
Bryce's interest in democracy did not stop with its most ambitious manifestation. His last work, "Modern Democracies," turns the same clear-eyed vision upon half a dozen experiments that distinguish his examination of the United States. It, too, puts facts in the foreground and is cautious in drawing conclusions, but it leaves the same final impression—that democracy is neither a divine magic nor a devil's incantation, but a human institution, an institution at which the seasoned traveler looks with sustained hope.
Bryce had the happy fortune of an ideal personal relation to the people that he had made the subject of prolonged and delightful study. If ever a nation could send to every other nation an Ambassador who understood and loved both his home country and the country to which he was accredited as James Bryce knew and loved Great Britain and the United States, nothing would be more difficult than to start a war. His five years of official residence at Washington crowned his labors by a closer approach, a spiritual entente between the land of his birth and the land of his exploration. No greater force for Anglo-American harmony could be imagined. With Bryce there could be neither promising nor obsequiousness; there could be no sacrifice of the intellect to a chief in his keeping, but any threat of a clash melted away in the sun of his geniality, his humor, his common sense and his abiding friendliness. He showed the citizens of all countries how easy and how wise it is for one to be a sturdy patriot of his own land and at the same time a friend of all lands. Nationalism and internationalism found no cause for quarrelling in the mind of the life of James Bryce.
His Great Career.
To Americans Viscount Bryce was known as James Bryce. He was born at Belfast, Ireland, on May 10, 1873. His father, James Bryce, was a Scottish lawyer and an Ulster Unionist. His father being an L. L. D. of Glasgow, it was natural that the son should receive his early education first at the high school and then at the University of Glasgow. He showed a vigorous understanding, gained a scholarship at Trinity College, Oxford, taking his bachelor's degree in 1892, and being elected a Fellow of Oriel.
His literary life opened in 1884, when he published a prize essay on "The Holy Roman Empire." The book was well received, and later was translated into German and Italian. This success of this effort led many of the young school's associates to believe that history would be his ultimate aim, but this was not the case. In fact, his design was to make himself proficient in the study of the law, and to this end he worked both at Oxford and at Lincoln's Inn, in London. At the unusually early age of thirty to his ambition was added by a chair in his own university—that of civil law.
He became an active member of the Alpine Club. In 1871 he climbed the Schreckhorn, as in 1867 he had scaled the Malendetta. One year he visited Spain; on another occasion he ran through Transylvania and Poland; in 1873 he published in the Cornhill Magazine his "Impressions of Iceland," an article which attracted considerable attention. Perhaps the most interesting of his traveling experiences was his tour in western Asia, in 1876.
Climbed Mount Ararat Alone.
It became almost an article of faith with the Armenian Church that the snow-crown of Mount Ararat was inaccessible. Mr. Bryce set out to conquer the peak on September 11, 1876, under the escort of six Cossack troopers, and beneath such tropic heat as he had never before endured. One by one his Slavonic attendants, as well as his Kurdish guides, forsook him, and at a height of 15,600 feet, Mr. Bryce found himself ascending alone. He accomplished the ascent, of which he gave a picturesque account.
In 1889 Mr. Bryce married Elizabeth Marion, daughter of Thomas Ashton of Forthbank, near Manchester.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE

Wonderful Advance in the Woman's Movement in the Last Year.
During 1921 the woman's movement throughout the world has made tremendous strides. Indian women in the states of Madras, Bombay, Travancore, Jhalwar and Cochin have been enfranchised on the same terms as men; the common vote has been granted in Rumania; Australia, Belgium and Norway have elected their first women members of parliament; a woman has been elected to the dominion parliament of Canada; and women have also been made cabinet ministers in Canada. Mrs. Anna Wickless has been appointed a member of the Permanent Mandates Commission of the League of Nations. In China, Japan and the whole of South America the woman suffrage movement is growing stronger daily; and there is a strong suffrage organization in all the unfranchised European countries.
Madame Spaak has been elected to the Belgian senate, and is therefore the first woman member of parliament in Belgium.
Canada has elected its first woman member of the dominion Parliament, Miss McPhail, member for South East Grey.
Mrs. M. C. Wilson has been elected mayor of Germiston, South Africa—the first woman mayor in the Union.
The South American movement, announcing itself a convinced woman suffragist, has refused to introduce a government

END GROCERY

A hold-up took place on Saturday night in the store of George Wetmore, in Main street, when a man entered and attempted to get away with the cash. The two lady clerks, Miss Katherine Crawford and Miss B. Silliphant, were closing the store, preparatory to going home. L. Molins was in the store at the time. A man came in and drew a revolver, numbing something unidentifiable. He reached for the cash in the till, but, in spite of the gun, Molins rushed for him and his nerve failed, and he backed toward the door. The burglar rushed around the corner of the building and down an alleyway, accompanied by another man who apparently was standing on guard. The two amounts were taken ranging from $1,000 to $8.

OUR OWN BUSINESS

The citizens of St. John in one respect at least are just now giving a good example of minding their own business. The interest manifested in the hydro-electric question is the case in point. They realize that this is their business, and they want it settled right.

PUBLIC HEALTH

The municipal councillor who sneers at Red Cross nurses achieves a sort of fame that few will envy. A pertinent and timely commentary appears in a resolution adopted last week by the Social Service Council of Canada as follows:

There is no single town that does not need something," said Dr. Brittain. "There is no town that cannot be improved, no matter how perfect it may be; and the only way to improve it is to educate the people—make them realize that it is part of their own business."

THE MORAL ASPECT

Do we want our boys and young men to be honest? That is the question involved in the present controversy over amateur sport in these provinces. That is the question every man interested in sport must consider, and if he has boys of his own, it has a very personal application.

Does someone assert that everybody is doing it? The more shame, then, for all concerned. Unfortunately it is too true that in the maritime province towns today the conditions are very bad, and with the A. A. U. of C. do not stand solidly behind President Covey in his determination to have the line sharply drawn between amateur and professional.

There has been a wonderful revival of interest in sport in these provinces in the last two years. To what end? To gratify the bleachers? Let us hope not. Let us hope it is prompted by a desire to play the game for the game's sake, and to get as many into the game as possible, so that our young people may grow up physically fit and more alert and quick to detect an unfair move in any department of life because of the training received on the athletic field.

Toronto Globe:—Lloyd George points out that the United States and Russia would not accept invitations to the Genoa Conference if they had emanated from the League of Nations. The association of Russia and the United States in the Premier's speech was unavoidable, but Americans will feel the sting. An increasing number of them realize that a tragic mistake was made in repudiating the League.

WINTER WEARINESS

O it's snow, snow, snow, Through the dreary, eerie day! And the blow, blow, blow, Under the frosty night.

I must hide, my heart, must hide, But when she comes over the hill, I shall greet her as a bride.

A GOOD FAMILY. (New York Central Magazine) Have you ever heard of the success family? The father of success is—Work. The mother of success is—Energy.

SAFETY FIRST. There once was a one-eyed guy, Who oft would the safety man say, As he worked he would swear, That no goggles could ever save.

100 KILLED WHEN THEATRE ROOF IN WASHINGTON FELL. One hundred and seven persons are known to have been killed in the collapse on Saturday night of the roof of the theatre.

RELIEF FOR THE WEST. Referring to the talk of secession in the prairie west, the Vancouver Sun says the east should be glad to see any connection with British Columbia.

Montreal Gazette:—There are three outstanding groups in Ireland at the moment—the diehards, the blowhards, and the workhards. The diehards have already seen the error of their ways; the blowhards, with the loss of their occupation, are a vanishing quantity; while the ranks of the workhards are steadily increasing.

CONCERT FOR PATIENTS. The patients and staff of the East St. John hospital were entertained by a splendid concert programme given at the hospital on Saturday evening by the choir of the St. Anthony church under the leadership of Miss Alice Hea.

De Valera is still shouting for independence for Ireland. Meanwhile the Irish Free State gets along very well without him.

The world moves. Mohammedan flags are half-masted in Constantinople in respect to the memory of Pope Benedict.

BALFOUR AT THE ARMS CONFERENCE

The Lion of the Occasion, is London View.

The New Year Honors—Some Fortunes Made with the Pen in Modern Days—News Topics of Empire Capital.

(From Our Own Correspondent.) London, Jan. 29.—The advance guard of the British legion of emigrants has found its way back to London and the gossip of individual members in the club is rather calculated to create the impression that the outstanding feature of the conference was that Arthur James Balfour dominated everything and won easily the social triumph.

The R. A. F. Club. The Royal Air Force Club has just opened its new palatial premises. Pleasedly starting his career under the happiest financial auspices, Lord Cowdray, who was president of the air board, and under whose regime the flying services rose to their maximum efficiency, has spent some £240,000 on establishing this club, as a tribute to the work of the fighting men by their one-time civilian chief, and for this munificence saying that, but it is questionable if the dogma of Sir Joshua Reynolds that high lights should be thrown upon the warm colors and that the pale colors should be kept in the background.

Good For Business. Gainsborough's "Blue Boy" the picture Sir Joseph Davenport is shipping to America was taken to the National Gallery this morning, and it is to be on exhibition for a fortnight. Since it was painted in 1700, the picture has been the subject of much speculation and controversy.

Nothing will persuade the political gossip that the New Year Honors list, which is quite an exceptionally long one this time, is not the conclusive proof of an impending general election. Amongst the new creations are four peers, two privy councillors, sixteen baronets and about fifty knights, representing a very varied field of distinguished public service.

Who is the most prosperous of all our famous modern writers? I heard a very interesting discussion on this topic at a dinner given at the Grosvenor Club, apropos the great distinction conferred on Sir J. M. Barrie, at one of the literary clubs. The little group of literary men taking part in this discussion agreed, after some controversy, that H. G. Wells leads the list of big literary incomes.

BOARD OF HEALTH WILL BE READY IF EPIDEMIC COMES

STOPS 50 YEARS' DYSPEPSIA

Mr. James amazed at quick results with Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin. But constipation usually accompanies dyspepsia and a medicine is required that contains ingredients for both conditions.

Mrs. Bergeron was found dead on Beaudry street. Six Injured in Winnipeg Fire

(Canadian Press Despatch)
Winnipeg, Jan. 29.—Six persons were injured, although not seriously, following an explosion and subsequent outbreak of fire which occurred in the Strang block, a three-story structure in Main street, early Saturday evening. The injured, who were residents of the building, were unaware of the existence of the fire until they were almost shut off from means of escape. They sustained burns. The damage is estimated at $85,000.

FISHING NETS LOST WHEN SHED BURNS

Fire broke out early yesterday morning in a shed in the rear of the home of Chester Leonard, 217 Watson street, West End, near Rodney street, and destroyed several fishing nets and some gear, as well as the structure. The net belonging to a group of men and it is understood there is no insurance to cover the loss of the structure. The net building was about $500. The fire was first noticed at 3 o'clock and the alarm was rung in from box 218, both departments responding. Two streams were soon playing on the burning structure and it was soon brought under control. There are several buildings in this vicinity and neighboring citizens had several anxious moments until the firefighters succeeded in getting the upper hand. Mr. Leonard is the father of young Irving Leonard, who made such a fine showing at the Canadian outdoor skating championships at Lily Lake two weeks ago.

Recognition of Egypt as a Sovereign State and Agreement for the Establishment of an Egyptian Parliament if These Matters Agreed to.

(Canadian Press Cable). London, Jan. 30.—The basis on which the British government would be willing to terminate the Egyptian protectorate recognizing Egypt as a sovereign state and agree to the establishment of an Egyptian parliament is announced in a statement officially circulated last evening by the foreign office.

The high commissioner in Egypt, says the statement, "has been summoned to England to give full information to His Majesty's government as to the present situation in Egypt and as to the communications that have been passed between him and the former Egyptian ministers with regard to the future government of the country."

and since the Adly mission to England has been founded upon the following principles: "While unwilling to cede to disorder or violence what they were prepared to grant on their own merits, His Majesty's government have explicitly stated their readiness to invite parliament to terminate the protectorate which was declared in 1914, to recognize the existence of Egypt as a sovereign state and to agree to the constitution of an Egyptian parliament and the re-establishment of an Egyptian ministry of foreign affairs as soon as they were satisfied as to the following conditions, which they regard as vital to the interests both of Egypt and the empire.

"They must have full and effective guarantees, first, that the imperial communications to which Egypt is essential are secured; second, that Great Britain retains both the right and power to afford that protection to the foreign countries in Egypt which the governmentments of these peoples in the existing conditions look to her supply, and third, that Egypt is safeguarded against all foreign interference or aggression, direct or indirect.

The "Adly" mission referred to was headed by Adly Yeghen Pasha, former premier of Egypt. After visiting Egypt, discussing the Egyptian situation with the British government last December, Adly returned to Egypt and resigned the premiership.

London, Jan. 30.—The government's statement outlining the basis on which it would be willing to terminate the Egyptian protectorate and recognize Egypt as a sovereign state, seemingly has done nothing to remove the opposition in quarters where its past proposals have been considered. In these circles the statement is made that the new offer differs notably in substance from the previous one.

Advertised Goods Best Collateral. One of the very best forms of collateral which the retail merchant can offer his banker is a stock of nationally advertised brands of merchandise, declared John J. Barreto recently at a meeting of the Washington Advertising Club.

What determines the value of the individual salesperson to the store? Is it merely the amount of sales made by that individual? Decidedly it is not, in the opinion of Miss Gertrude Joseph, the educational director of Hamburger's, in Los Angeles, Calif. If it is possible for the salesperson to be a "good" salesperson, it is desirable but never sufficient to hold an unenviable record of personal sales even while she is sowing the seeds of ill will among customers, running down the "tone" of the store, and killing sales.

One Thousand Cases of Appendicitis

All Operated in One Single Hospital

Although it is generally known that appendicitis is a very common disease it will be news to many that in one hospital over one thousand operations for this disease were performed in a single year. This does not include cases in the same hospital where the appendix was removed during operations.

A Treacherous Disease.
Appendicitis attacks at any moment even persons seemingly in good health. Usually, however, it is preceded by so-called stomach trouble, constipation, or similar disturbances. Often when there is a warning feeling of uneasiness in the abdomen, appendicitis can be guarded against in exactly the same manner in which one guards against the spread of throat infection, because that is just what appendicitis is—an infection in the intestines spreading to the appendix.

Heed the Danger Signals!

If we are not "fit as a fiddle" in the morning; if we don't feel better than when we went to bed; if our breath is offensive and we have that bad taste in the mouth, Nature has set the danger signals for us and we cannot afford to neglect the warning that she gives.

Stomach trouble is almost always followed by a complication of diseases.

A just wise man puts out the fire before there is too much destruction. The same theory should apply to stomach trouble.

CIVIC EMPLOYEES ACCEPT WAGE CUT

Notify Council That Scale Presented is Acceptable.

Reflected in the Estimates—Exemption for Fisheries Company Opposed—Tenders for Heating Apparatus—The School Board Figures Higher.

Further estimates were considered by the common council in committee this morning. Amongst the reductions were $448 for lighting, $3,500 for police, and $4,800 for fire.

A letter was received from the Civic Service Employees' Union, advising the council that the new scale submitted to them by the council had been passed and accepted by the union. This provided for a cut amounting to about twenty-five cents a day in wages and the abolition of overtime.

Commissioner Frink reported that this would reduce the pay of the permanent men of his department, numbering thirty, by $244.40, the average pay being $3.85 a day. From this saving would have to be deducted, however, $1,286 paid to substitutes while the permanent men were on the holidays of two weeks each.

Safety Department Estimates.

Resuming discussion of the safety department estimates, it was reported that the lighting account had been reduced by $448, bringing the total down to $42,568.60.

Reduction in wages in the police department reduced the estimate by $750, and, with the addition of $3,040.65 for collection, made the total $104,393.65.

In the fire department the reduction in wages amounted to $2,940 and the cost of collection $5,227.20, making the gross estimate $111,160.75. These three were all passed by the meeting.

Emergency Fund.

On motion of Commissioner Bullock, it was decided to raise by special loan an emergency fund of $20,000 to provide for unemployment, all work under the fund to be passed upon by the council.

A vote of $10,000 towards the payment of a city survey was passed. The total estimated cost was $25,000; last year $10,000 was voted, but only $5,000 collected, while the expenditure on this account was $14,774.

School Board Estimates.

The estimate of the school board for 1922 was presented. It amounted to $453,378.17, which was $9,142.22 less than the amount asked last year. The full amount asked, however, was not granted last year, the vote being $426,174.39 plus $12,253.22 for collection, making the total vote $438,959.61. The collection costs this year will be $13,001.34, bringing the total for 1922 to $446,379.81, or nearly $7,500 more than last year. The chamberlain explained that the board was authorized to ask for $460,000 this year. He said there was a shortage in collections of the school assessment of $19,000, but the whole of the amount voted had been paid to the board.

An amount of $1,750 for loss on sale of debentures was voted in opposition to the estimates. This was due to the fact that some $80,000 in bonds were sold at $2. The loss will be spread over a ten-year period.

Oppose Tax Exemption.

A. A. Ellis, president, and C. J. Mellday, solicitor, of the St. John Fisheries Ltd., appeared to support an application for tax exemption for five years on a proposed plant in West St. John. Walter Leonard, of Leonard Fisheries, Ltd.; J. H. McCormack, of McCormack & Zatsman, were also present to oppose the idea. The application stated that a plant valued at $50,000 to $60,000 would be erected and some 120 hands employed. The common clerk read a letter from Connors Bros., Ltd., protesting against the granting of exemption without their being treated in the same manner.

The Leonard Fisheries, Ltd., also entered a protest on the ground that the Leonard firm was paying taxes and would be discriminated against.

Mr. Bullock said in behalf of the petitioners, said if the present act did not cover the application, legislation would be sought. He said the company had an offer from another place if the council here did not desire to grant the exemption.

Mr. Robertson, manager of the Leonard Fisheries, Ltd., said that his company did not object to competition, so long as they were on the same basis of taxation. Mr. McCormack and Mr. Robertson also spoke along the same lines.

Mr. Robertson asked if the Booth people had carried out their agreement when granted exemption.

To Mr. Bullock Mr. Leonard said he did not favor exemptions from taxation in any case, as they did not usually work out well.

Mr. Bullock suggested a partial exemption on the sardine canning portion of their plant.

Mr. Ellis said this was satisfactory.

The mayor said the matter would be given consideration.

After the delegation had withdrawn, Mr. Bullock said that there was no objection to the proposed site.

Dr. Baxter, city solicitor, said that legislation would be necessary.

The matter was allowed to stand over until tomorrow.

Tenders for Heating.

Tenders for installing steam heating apparatus in No. 1 Hook and Ladder station were opened. They were as follows:

G. & E. Blake, $1,285.

W. B. McDonough, $1,065.

H. Deedy, $1,000.

J. P. Henneberry, $1,400.

R. E. Fitzgerald, $1,470.

W. E. Emerson, $1,947.

The tenders were referred to the mayor and commissioner of public safety.

Raising of Rents.

Commissioner Frink said that there was another stampede of raising rents, not in any small doses, either, but in large amounts. Some small shops, he had heard, were to be raised as much as $400 a year from May 1.

Prospect Point Water.

The city engineer reported that the

WEDDING OF INTEREST HERE.

Among the January weddings was that of Miss Aurelia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. X. P. Quessy of 10 Wright avenue, Medford, Mass., and Louis Francis Powers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Powers of Winter Hill. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Thomas Flanagan on last Wednesday afternoon at St. Joseph's church, Medford. Miss Marie Quessy, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and James O. Powers, brother of the groom, was best man. The wedding dinner was served at the Copsey Plaza Hotel with members of each family being present. F. X. P. Quessy, father of the bride, was unable to be present owing to his business in Florida.

The bride was gowned in cream broadcloth and wore a picture hat of panne velvet with silver trimmings and carried a bouquet of orchids. The maid of honor wore purple broad cloth velvet with a picture hat to match and carried a bouquet of sweet peas.

The bride was formerly a Somerville girl and a popular fancy dancer. The groom, who is now president of the United States Business Association, was formerly a student at St. Joseph's College, Calo, N. Y.

On returning after a short trip to New York they will be guests at a family reunion at the residence of the bride's aunt, Miss C. M. Quessy, a well known soprano of Fitchburg, Mass. They will also visit an uncle, Dr. A. H. Quessy, and wife, of the city.

After February 25 they will receive friends at their new home, Medford.

SUNDAY SCHOOL PRIZES

At Knox Sunday school, yesterday, several prizes were presented by the minister of the church, Rev. R. Moorehead Legate. They were as follows:

To John Wilson, a first prize for perfect attendance during the last year; second prize (11 Sundays) to David Doig; and third prizes to Sydney Shepherd and Tom Wilson. Church certificates were also given to these.

The fund for these prizes (Bibles), was donated by the superintendent of the school, F. A. Corringham, and it was announced that the same would be forthcoming for the present year.

A prime of three books, donated by Miss Frances Cunningham, for correct recitation of the Epistle of St. James. This prize also is again offered for the present year.

In addition to the mentioned prizes, and side of the church has donated $10, to be used to procure prizes for correct recitation of the shorter catechism.

cost of extending an eight-inch pipe down to Prospect Point 300 feet, if there was no blasting, would be $1,285. He said that it was now suggested that the pipe should be extended 675 feet, and some blasting would be required, and the cost would be $5,170, but the extension would bring the Murray & Gregory mill under taxation for water rates. Mr. Jones moved that the amount of $1,285 granted by the council be increased to $5,170 provided Murray & Gregory guaranteed ten per cent. of the cost in water rates.

It was decided to let the matter lie on the table until tomorrow.
