FAMOUS GEMS OF PROSE
THE FUTURE HOPE
By John J. Ingalls

From eulogy on the life and character of Senator James B. Beck of Kentucky, in the U. S. Senate, Aug. 23, 1890.

THE right to live is, in human estimation, the most sacred, the most inviolable, the most inalienable. The joy of living is such a splendid and luminous day as this is inconceivable. To exist is exultation. To live forever is our sublimest hope. Annihilation, extinction and eternal death are the forebodings of despair. To know, to love, to achieve, to triumph, to counter happiness, to alleviate misery, is a pleasure. The greatest crime and the severest penalty known to human law is the sacrifice and forfeiture of life.

And yet we are all under the sentence of death. Other events may or may not occur. Other conditions may or may not exist. We may be rich or poor; we may be learned or ignorant; we may be happy or wretched; but we all must die. The verdict has been pronounced by the inexorable decree of an omnipotent tribunal. Without trial or opportunity for defence; with no knowledge of the accuser, or the nature and cause of the accusation; without being confronted with the witnesses against us we have been summoned to the bar of life and condemned to death. There is no writ of error, nor review. There is neither exculpation nor appeal. All must be relinquished. Beauty and deformity, good and evil, virtue and vice, share the same relentless fate. The tender mother cries passionately for mercy for her firstborn, but there is no clemency.

The proscription extends alike to the individual and the type. Nations die and races expire. Humanity itself is destined to extinction. Sooner or later it is the instruction of science that the energy of the earth will be expended, and it will become incapable of supporting life. A group of feeble and pallid survivors in some sheltered valley in the tropics will behold the sun sink below the horizon and the pitiless stars glitter in the midnight sky. The last man will perish and the sun will rise upon the earth without an inhabitant. Its atmosphere, its seas, its life and heat, will vanish, and the planet will be an idle cinder uselessly spinning its orbit. Every hour some world dies unnoticed in the firmament; some sun smoulders to embers and ashes on the hearthstone of infinite space and the mighty maze of systems sweeps ceaselessly onward in its voyage of doom to remorseless and unsparring destruction.

The disappearance of man from the earth all traces of his existence will be lost. The palaces, towers and temples he has reared, the institutions he has established, the cities he has built, the books he has written, the creeds he has constructed, the philosophies he has formulated—all science, art, literature and knowledge will be obliterated and engulfed in empty and vacant oblivion.

There is an intelligence so vast and enduring that the flaming intervals between the birth and death of universes is no more than the flash of fireflies above the meadows of summer; a colossal power by which these stupendous orbs are launched in the abyss like bubbles blown by a current in the morning sun, but whose sense of justice and reason cannot be less potential than those immutable statutes that are the law of being to the creatures he has made, and which compel them to declare that if the only object of creation is destruction, if infinity is a theatre of uninterrupted series of irreparable calamities, if the final cause of life is death, then time is an inexplicable tragedy, and eternity an illogical and indefensible catastrophe.

No, Mr. President, this obsequy is for the quick and not for the dead. It is not in inconsolable lamentation. It is a strain of triumph. It is an affirmation to those who survive, that as our departed associate contemplating at the close of his life the monument of good deeds he had created, more enduring than brass and lofter than the pyramids of kings, might exclaim with the Roman poet, Non omnia mori. So, turning to the silent and unknown future, he could rely with just and reasonable confidence upon that most impressive and momentary assurance ever delivered to the human race, "He that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live; and whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die."

PROVINCES WANT TO LOSE NO MEMBERS IN PARLIAMENT

Decision of Maritime Premiers is to Ask for Amendment to British North America Act

(The Telegraph)

That the maritime provinces should at least maintain the same representation in the federal house that they had at the time of entering into confederation was the substance of an unanimous resolution passed by the maritime premiers and other representatives at the conference held here yesterday to discuss this matter. The meeting, which was held at the home of Premier Hazen, was a lengthy one and the matter was enthusiastically discussed. The gathering was a most representative and non-partisan one, there being present beside Premier Hazen and Dr. J. W. Daniel, M. P. of this city, Hon. A. K. MacLean, Attorney-General and acting premier of Nova Scotia; Hon. F. L. Hazzard, premier of P. E. Island; A. B. Warburton, M. P., and Hon. H. J. Palmer, of P. E. Island. J. Howe Dickson, clerk of the executive council, was also in attendance. While they did not care to disclose any of the very potent arguments which were brought up and which will be used to good effect at the next session of the federal parliament, they referred the reporter to J. Howe Dickson, the clerk of the council, who, they said, had been authorized to issue a statement. When seen Mr. Dickson said that the general feeling was that the members of the conference were favorable to an amendment of the British North America act to the effect that the representation of the provinces should not fall below the number each province had at the time of entering into confederation. The visitors were entertained to a dinner at the home of Premier Hazen last evening. Lieut-Governor Tweedie was present.

AT THE OPERA HOUSE

Roars of laughter and frequent applause greeted the presentation of 'The Explorer' by Phil Ott and his comedians last night in the Opera House. There was a fairly good sized audience and they seemed very well pleased with the show, which was a comic satire on the exploits of Dr. Cook, Arctic navigator, and alleged discoverer of the North Pole.

WEDDINGS

New Brunswick, Sept. 15.—An interesting wedding took place yesterday at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. David Porter, when their daughter, Miss Annie, was united in marriage to James J. Coleman, of the I. C. R. employe. Miss Agnes Porter, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid and Walter H. Coleman, brother of the groom, was groomsmen. The bride wore a costume of white messaline silk and carried a bouquet of white carnations. The bridesmaid was dressed in pale green silk. The nuptial knot was tied by Rev. Mr. Farquhar in the presence of the bride and relatives of the contracting parties. After a wedding supper, the happy couple boarded the Quebec express, which was stopped on special orders, and left for a honeymoon trip to upper Canada cities. On their return they will reside in Wall Street, St. John.

A PRESENTATION

On returning to her home in St. James street about 8:30 o'clock last evening Miss Mollie Wilson was greatly surprised to find it in the possession of about thirty of her friends, who had called to honor her with a remembrance of her birthday. On behalf of those assembled Allan Christie presented to Miss Wilson a handsome silver watch with carved case, making at the same time a few appropriate remarks, to which Miss Wilson replied. A jovial evening was passed in games and dancing and refreshments were served.

CIVIC MATTERS

Now that the exhibition is over, the citizens will have more time to devote to the consideration of civic affairs. Apart from the pavement laid on a portion of Main and Water streets and to be laid on Smythe street, the work done on the streets during the summer has not differed in character or results from that of former years.

Then there is the water department. The citizens cannot but have observed that when the streets are opened up, either to lay a new water pipe or to make repairs, they are kept open for too long.

THE MANUFACTURERS
An admirable spirit appears to have prevailed at the meeting of members of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association and representatives of western farming interests at Moosejaw yesterday.

There was a general disposition to emphasize the importance of a broad view, that had regard for the interests of east and west alike. Mr. Haultain's remark that the true Canadian must be broader than any provincial or sectional interests express the right view.

A BROAD STATEMENT

"Why am I not a dissenter?" cried Bishop Ingram. "Because there is nothing from which I dissent. Why am I not a Roman Catholic? Because, thank God, I am an English Catholic."

is said to have aroused an unparalleled outburst of Protestant enthusiasm, in chief significance because of his answer to his first question. "I am not a dissenter," he said, "because there is nothing from which I dissent."

MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP

The Toronto World cites the case of Birmingham, as a city where municipal ownership yields benefit to the citizens. It quotes the Birmingham Post on the subject of the electric supply department of the city, and says: "A favorite objection to public ownership is that it lacks the enterprize of private management, but this is certainly not borne out by the record of British cities."

St. John ought to be in a position to place of work that should be done over night, and would be so done in almost any other city, remains unfinished in St. John for days and sometimes weeks, while the workmen go about from one job to another, having several unfinished at the same time.

THE BOY SCOUT MOVEMENT
The work of the St. John Ambulance Association should commend itself to St. John people. To be able to give first aid to the injured, and to do other things which the association teaches is to be of greater service in any community.

In refusing to grant a license for the demolition of Jeffries-Johnson prize fight pictures, Mayor Prink has expressed the sentiment of the better element of society in this city.

THIRTY YEARS AGO
Thirty years ago the number of sheep in the British Empire was, roughly, 120 millions, of which Australia contributed just under fifty millions.

Many plants which once were used as vegetables have been allowed to drop out of modern bills of fare. For instance our forefathers sometimes dined on elderroot and burdock root, and the early shoots of the hop were considered a great delicacy, being cooked and eaten as asparagus.

THE UNFAILING TEST
If you're wiser, you're kinder. That's the test you may apply. To the progress you are making. As the breathless days go by. If your wisdom is increasing. You will better understand All the other fellow's failings.

IF YOU'RE WISER, YOU'RE KINDER. Have you ever known a sin that, had you been likewise tempted, your soul might not have been? Tolerance is wisdom's handmaid; Wise hearts melt with pity bleed— If you're wiser, you're kinder, More and more to mercy bend.

"I shay," he said, thickly, "wath these flowers called?" "Chrysanthemums." The customer shook his head. "Got to have something easier than that," he said. "Gimme a dozen pinks."

ADVICE. Advice is what folks give away To other people Every day. It's telling how To save a dime Or make a clock Keep perfect time. To cure a cold, How to get rich, And not grow old. How children should be reared today, And just what games They ought to play; It's telling people What to wear, And just what is Their proper fare, Just how their business should be run, But when at last All this you've done, Beware in mind And don't you're, You've simply made Yourself a bore.

TRADES CONGRESS AGAINST A LONG WORKING DAY

Interesting Matters at the Meetings in Fort William—The Canadian Federation

Fort William, Ont., Sept. 15—Routine reports, special resolutions, and minor discussions, preparatory to the real work of the 20th annual Trades and Labor Congress of Canada occupied the attention of the delegates at the opening sessions of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada.

Retained Independent Attitude

In the Resolution Committee a resolution submitted by James Booker, president of the Trades and Labor Council of Fort Arthur, committing the Congress to a policy of political activity was adopted. Mr. Booker declared that he did not recognize it.

Agient Long Working Day

The Congress went on record as being strongly opposed to long hours, regardless of the rate of pay. The following resolutions by Mr. Wm. Lodge, on behalf of the Allied Trades and Labor Association, of Ottawa, were unanimously adopted.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

Do you know who your next door neighbors are? How perfectly absurd that must sound to my country and suburban readers. About like asking, "Do you eat three meals a day and go to bed at night?"

Water, water everywhere, nor any drop to drink. The absolutely heartless way in which folks in the city live for years, jammed together side by side, or more likely over and under each other, without taking the slightest interest in the sorrows and happinesses that transpire so close to their own, is perfectly extraordinary to me.

Later I found by inquiry that the creep was for the mere proximity of FRIENDSHIPS any more than you do. But you can take a little interest in them, know a little about them, be ready to help them in trouble, treat them as if you were living among human beings like yourself and not among creatures of an alien race, can't you?

And if you want a definition of that word or any further suggestion as to how to be neighborly, I refer you to a Source so great I need not name it, and to a definition that you have probably already read a dozen times.

Daily Hints for the Cook

MUFFINS One egg, 1 1/2 cups milk, 2 cups flour, 1/2 teaspoonful salt, 1 teaspoon sugar, butter being sized, 1 heaping teaspoon baking powder. Makes one dozen.

DUMPLINGS One cup flour sifted, one teaspoon baking powder salt an egg if liked and enough milk to make about the same as for biscuits. Dip spoon in broth and drop dough in a little at a time. Steam 20 minutes without lifting cover.

JOHNNY CAKE Take one cup yellow corn meal, one-half of a cup of wheat flour. Add three tablespoonfuls of sugar, two tablespoonfuls of melted butter, one egg, a little salt, a cup of sour milk and a teaspoonful soda dissolved in the milk.

BAKED HADDOCK Get a haddock that weighs 3 pounds. Clean thoroughly. Make a plain dressing with sage, pepper, salt and a bit of onion. Tie the fish to hold the dressing. Put slices of salt pork or bits of butter on top, pour over 1 pint of milk and 1 cup of water. Bake about 3/4 of an hour in a hot oven.

GRAPPPLE JELLY Wash but do not pare the apples, cook slowly in water until they are soft, then mash and strain through a colander. Put pulp and juice into a tumblers-shaped bag made of flannel and hang up. Let drop all night, but don't squeeze, as that makes the jelly cloudy. The next morning measure the juice, beat it and add an equal quantity of heated sugar. Boil 6 minutes and pour into glasses.

Fredericton News

Fredericton, Sept. 15—The inquest into the death of John P. McMullin was continued tonight, but though several witnesses were examined no light was thrown on the matter. The witnesses were—Chas. London, of St. John; Chas. May of Fredericton Junction; and trainmen J. Steers, Wm. Keefe, R. Rutherford, and Hecman. It could not be learned which train struck the man. H. A. Brennan, of the C. P. PERFECTLY MOULDED FIGURES

Another Medical Discovery

To get out of condition is detrimental to beauty of form as well as to health. There is a certain flabbiness which robs a good figure of charm and grace. Those who are beginning to grow fat rapidly are never in the pink of condition. But here medical science has slipped in with a very wonderful remedy—one which not only restores a perfectly moulded form but renews health and strength.

Coakley Put Out of Organized Baseball
Andy Coakley, the ex-Chicago National pitcher, who is well known in the anti-time province, has been ejected by the National Commission and today get back into organized baseball until reinstated.

A despatch from (Cincinnati says) - "Pitcher Andy Coakley, formerly of the Chicago Nationals, Louisville, Elmira, N. Y., and other professional baseball teams, has been placed on the ineligible list of organized baseball by the national commission. The ban is extended to include the Patterson, N. J., team of which Coakley is a member.

The action followed complaints that the New York American and National league teams had played exhibition games with Patterson, an examination of the records showing that Coakley had been suspended by the national association of minor league clubs. Whether he will be restored to good standing is for that body to decide.

Football
Harvard Squad Return.
Cambridge, Mass., Sept. 15 - Ruddy and Coppery completed after two weeks camping on Fraser Island, the Harvard football-squad returned to the city today, and ready for the line up on Monday on Soldiers field. They will not be required to report for practice the last two days of this week.

"Buster" Dewey, who was with the squad in Maine, has been appointed coach of the freshman eleven for this fall.

While the work at the island was not hard, the coaches have been able to arrive at an estimate of some of the men who will try for positions and materially assisted in the working out process. For although Harvard will have a team of veterans this season, so changed are the rules that the status of the squad must be measured by different standards.

Hyde Estate $2,009,653
New York, Sept. 16 - James Haen Hyde son of Henry B. Hyde, founder of the Equitable Life Insurance Company, has asked Surrogate Nicol for a judicial settlement of his father's estate, and the surrogate has set the case for October 19 for a hearing.

The elder Hyde, who died a few years ago, owned a handsome country home at Babylon. He left considerable property, all of which went to the widow, Annie F. Hyde, and to the son, James Haen Hyde. According to papers filed in the surrogate's court, the present value of the estate is given as $2,009,653, and it is for the purpose of liquidating the estate that the son has asked the surrogate to set a date for a hearing.

His Centenary Will Be Observed Two Years From Now
BUY A PENNY STAMP
Plan to Sell Them in Bookstores All Over the World - The Great Author and Facts About His Work
(Toronto Mail and Empire.)
It was in 1812 that Charles Dickens saw the light and his centenary, therefore, is two years distant. Plans for his celebration, however, are well advanced and one bright idea by which it is hoped to make the event memorable is being widely discussed. Three children and seventeen grandchildren of the great novelist survive today, most of them living in humble circumstances. So far reduced are they that a government pension of £23 a year has been provided for three of the grandchildren. Some of the others are described by a writer in the Standard as earning their bread by their hands, and the suggestion has been made to raise a fund of several thousand pounds for these children and grandchildren of Charles Dickens.

Buy a Penny Stamp
The proposal is that Dickens lovers all over the world should contribute a penny a book in token of their gratitude to him. Stamps will be put on sale at bookstores all over the world next year, and will be sold at a penny apiece. Every man who owns one of Dickens' books will be invited to purchase a stamp and stick it on the book. The money thus collected will be handled by the Dickens Fellowship, and a fund provided for the twenty beneficiaries. It is estimated that there are 24,000,000 copies of Dickens' works extant, allowing for loss through wear and tear. It is quite plain, therefore, that if a stamp were attached to each of them the sum of $400,000 would be raised, but if only a few hundred of this amount was obtained, there would be enough money to support the Dickens survivors in some degree of comfort to the end of their lives.

Publishing Pirates
Speaking of the proposed gift, the London Times refers to it as "conscience money" while others speak of "deferred royalties." The point is that in Dickens' case the copyright laws were not nearly so favorable to the author as they are at present. His works were pirated to an extent that was never before or since equalled.

Even in England his earnings were not so meagre as they are here, while in the United States anyone who had a printing press could turn out his books and pocket the entire proceeds. It has been said that from the entire sale of his works in the United States Dickens received practically nothing.

Even today unauthorized editions of his books continue to flood the market and publishers are helping to build up fortunes on Charles Dickens' genius without making the slightest acknowledgement of financial or otherwise, to his heirs.

For One Story, $5,000
It is not quite accurate to say however, that Dickens made nothing out of the sale of his works in the United States. He had a publisher in Boston named Fields, and there is on record a letter in which he writes to him in which he thanks the accuracy of an interview in the New York Tribune on the subject of piracy.

"For twenty years I am perfectly certain that I have never made any other amount out of the reprinting of my books in America than the good-humored remark, 'that if there had been international copyright between England and the States I should have been a man of very large fortune, instead of a man of moderate savings, always supporting a very expensive public position, nor have I ever been so ungenerous as to disguise or suppress the fact that I have received handsome sums for piratical editions.'"

Robbed By Newspapers
The truth is that Dickens suffered more from piratical newspapers than from unscrupulous publishers of books. These papers did not scruple to rather freely edit his books, cutting out passages which did not approve, inserting others, changing names, and otherwise garbling the matter. Dickens felt bitter over this outrage and wrote: "I am bent on striking at the piratical newspapers with the sharpest edge I can put upon my small axe, and hope in the next session of parliament to stop their entrance into Canada."

A Despatched Postcard
When Dickens died he left a moderate fortune, and the sale of his library and collection of mementoes added considerably to it. A writer in the New York Sun is therefore, moved to enquire, "What has become of the money? The answer is that it is gone. That it was not wisely spent is quite probable, but unfortunately this is common to all fortunes that disappear. The salient point is that Dickens worked hard all his life, that he brought into the world a fund of joy that will never be entirely dissipated, and that some of those whom he loved are in need. No more need be said in favor of the stamp fund.

AMUSEMENTS FOR OURSELVES AND OTHERS
THE UNIQUE
Everyone who attended the Unique theatre yesterday, if he or she possessed a spark of patriotism, could not but help applaud and even cheer the offering of "O'Canada" by Mr. Sherman. With the stage prettily dressed in a miniature setting of bustling, maple leaves and colored lights that danced merrily on the various colors, the effect was noted by many to be one of the prettiest seen on a local stage for a long time. Everybody is familiar with the song and it was in capable hands. It will be long for the balance of the week. The orchestra has a fine program of yesterday's music. Five splendid musical features are arranged, all of them good ones, and nicely varied.

The chief picture is an IMP drama entitled "Among the Roses", which, as enacted by the clever IMP actors, is a production well acted and amusing. Five splendid musical features are arranged, all of them good ones, and nicely varied.

C. P. R. FIGURES FOR THE YEAR IN DETAIL
The Annual Report of Sir Thomas Shaughnessy - Road Carried More Than Eleven Million Passengers
The annual report of Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, president of the C. P. R., just issued in pamphlet form, contains some figures which have not hitherto been published.

The working expenses for the year amount to 64.38 per cent, the gross earnings and the net earnings to 35.62 per cent, as compared with 60.92 and 30.08 respectively, in 1909.

Sales of agricultural lands during the year aggregated 975,030 acres for $14,468,564, being an average of $14.84 per acre. Irrigated land brought $20.50 per acre, so that the average of balance was $12.78. The company will spend $8,500,000 on the eastern section of the irrigation block to provide water, the work to extend over three years.

Out of the total earnings for the year of $84,389,490 passengers brought $24,812,020, freight $60,188,887, sleeping cars, express, etc., $9,238,836, and mail $791,745. The number of passengers carried was 11,722,891, against 9,784,450 the year previous. Tons of freight carried jumped in the year from 16,549,616 to 20,451,268.

The balance sheet shows that the company's assets reach the total of $226,250,280. The company operates a total mileage of 15,225 miles on land and on two oceans.

Interesting features of the report are to be found in the various statements dealing with the traffic. There has been a steady increase in the amount of freight carried and in the number of passengers using the company's lines. A striking feature is that the earnings per ton per mile of freight forwarded show a yearly increase of a cent for the past three years, rising from 75 cents in 1906 to 77 cents in the year the report deals with. On the other hand, there is a slight decline in earnings per passenger per mile, dropping from $1.89 in 1908 to $1.83 in the current year.

The total number of tons carried was 20,551,368, an increase of almost 25 per cent over the previous year. The number of passengers carried reached a total of 11,722,891, in comparison with 9,784,450 carried during the previous year.

There are 435 foreign employees on the pension roll, of whom 167 are more than seventy years of age.

REPORTS THE WHEAT CROP NOT GOOD
(Toronto Telegram)
Winnipeg, Man., Sept. 12 - James Caruthers, well-known Manitoba grain merchant who is here on his return from a trip through the prairie wheat country, was decidedly pessimistic last night, when asked for an opinion on the crop. He thought the total yield had been very much over-estimated, for, though in some districts the returns were better than he had expected, in others the crop was a total failure. A great deal of it had been damaged by recent rains and frosts, while perhaps not affecting the quantity, must damage the quality and knock down the grades. In fact, he considered that the No. 1 northern crop of the year 1910 had already all come in, and that the rest would not grade higher than No. 2.

Another thing against the Manitoba crop this year from the exporter's point of view, was the enormous Russian crop of good grade.
