DELEGATION WILL BE HEARD IN APRIL

Telegram Received by Premier Veniot Read in Legislature Yesterday.

Premier Veniot announced in the Legislature yesterday that the Canadian National Railway Board would receive a delegation at Montreal from the several Boards of Trade of the Maritime Provinces to discuss railway matters during the week of April 9. The western limit of the Atlantic regional division of the C. N. R. will be discussed among other things. An answer to the request for the conference was delayed on account of the illness of Sir Henry Thornton.

C. P. R. TO PROVIDE EARLIER SERVICE

Will Inaugurate Suburban Service Earlier Than Usual—Announced at Outing Assoc. Dance.

A largely attended dance was given last evening in the Masonic Hall, West Side, by the West Side members of the Ketepec-Morna Outing Association. A special street car was engaged to take those residing on the eastern side of the harbor to their homes at 12.45. The committee in charge consisted of the following members: Mr. and Mrs. G. Fred Noble, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Rippey and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. W. Waring.

Announcement was made that as the result of a committee from various outing associations meeting with G. Bruce Burpee, district passenger agent of the C. P. R., the suburban train schedule would go into effect on April 29 instead of May 24 as has been customary in other years. The announcement was received with much enthusiasm as this will enable the members who have summer cottages along the C. P. R. line to open them earlier this season. The committee expressed much appreciation of the courteous reception Mr. Burpee had accorded the members.

The trains on the suburban system will leave St. John at 9.15 a. m., 5.15 p. m., 6.10 p. m. and 10.20 p. m., returning 7.45 a. m., 8.50 a. m., 11.20 a. m., and 9 p. m. In addition a train will leave St. John at 1.20 p. m. on Saturdays in May, Wednesdays and Saturdays in June, and daily thereafter, returning at 4.25 p. m. The Sunday Frederickton train, making connections for Montreal, will make the suburban stops. It will leave St. John at 10 a. m., returning at 8.05 p. m.

A $10,000,000 HOTEL FOR PHILADELPHIA

New Building to Replace the Old Continental House—Eighteen Stories and 1,250 Rooms, All With Baths.

Philadelphia, March 22—A $10,000,000 hotel, to be the biggest in Philadelphia, and one of the largest in the country, is to be erected on the site of the historic Continental Hotel at Ninth and Chestnut streets. It will be eighteen stories high and contain 1,250 rooms and 1,250 baths. The Benjamin Franklin will be its name.

Construction has been started and the hotel will be ready for occupancy within eighteen months. Contract has been awarded to John Gill & Co., Cleveland contractors. Plans for the new structure were prepared by Horace Trumbauer, architect, of this city. The sponsors of the new project are Albert M. Greenfield, Cyrus H. K. Curtis, publisher of The Saturday Evening Post and other publications; George W. Norris, governor of the Third National Reserve Bank; the firms of Gimbel Brothers, Lit Brothers and Strawbridge & Clothier, department store merchants; James P. Beury, coal magnate; John M. Martin, of the Philadelphia Public Ledger Company; Samuel T. Hall, Edgar W. Nicholson and Asan Brothers. Completion of the project is to be insured by the Land Title and Trust Company, which will act as trustee for the holders of a bond issue against the $6,000,000 first mortgage placed by Mr. Greenfield, who arranged the financing.

The second mortgage bond issue of $2,400,000, arranged by Mr. Greenfield, has been completely subscribed to by the sponsors of the project. Officers of the corporation are John C. Martin, president; Jacob D. Lit and Charles Gimbel, vice-presidents; A. M. Greenfield, treasurer, and E. W. Nicholson, secretary. The structure will cover over an acre of ground. The exterior will be in the Georgian style, with the base and lower stories of limestone and red brick and terra cotta above. A convention hall, seating 1,500 people, a grill with accommodations for 500 persons, and a dining room with a seating capacity of 500 persons will be features of the structure.

TIDINGS OF JOY.

It ought to be highly satisfactory to the citizens to learn that the successors to the New Brunswick Power Company propose to join in boosting the city. The people already know that when the Musquash current is distributed they will get cheap light and power, and that the price will never again be subject to change in order to provide more profit for a corporation. Cheap rates will be perpetual, for as soon as the capital expenditure at Musquash has been repaid the only charge will be to provide for the annual upkeep of the plant. The water will always be there, and once harnessed it does its work without interruption.

The people also know that when the Musquash current is available the city will have a real street lighting system. The old, dingy appearance will give place to a blaze of light, such as they now have in Halifax. This will make the city much more attractive, as well as safer for the people.

But now we are told the city is not to get all the glory. We are to have cheaper gas, which will be good for industries using it. We are to have new street cars, and of course a better service. Is not that delightful? The age of philanthropy has dawned, since it was proved conclusively in the early days of the fight for hydro that the company, even with a monopoly of light and power, could not get along without a rate of about twelve cents per kilowatt hour for electric light, along with the existing high rates for street cars, and a poor street car service.

Voluntarily reports were submitted in evidence to show the sad state of the Power Company and its still more awful state if anybody interfered with its market for light and power. From every platform in the first mayoralty contest over hydro, and again when Mr. Bodell came down to sing the swan-song of the hapless company, vent forth the assertion that rates could not come down and competition be secured without grievous injury to the widows and orphans and other persons financially interested.

But—what has happened? The company has already reduced its rates by how much was represented as a living scale. It is losing the contract for street lighting. Citizens in great numbers are signing up for hydro; and yet the company can cut its gas rates, get new street cars, invest more money in the city, and have no fear of disaster.

Obviously, since we must believe all that was said about the disaster that would follow competition and any material reduction in rates, somebody must have stumbled upon a nest of philanthropists in New York, whose sole purpose in life is to pour large benefactions upon deserving communities. St. John ought to consider itself very fortunate, indeed. The prospects for industrial expansion appear to be improving all the time. Even the Bondholders Association must now see that its loud-ly expressed fear that this city was about to isolate itself from the financial world and go headlong to ruin is without foundation.

Meanwhile the citizens will sign up for hydro and avoid the good things to come from New York.

SOMEWHAT VIOLENT

The proposal to have a censorship of books in the United States has aroused the ire of Mr. Theodore Dreiser. What he says, in an article published in The Independent, is such an attack as would, if it came from any other country, arouse the most bitter resentment. Perhaps Mr. Dreiser is not taken seriously, but here is what he says: "Look at the intellectual level of Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, and other rural districts. Why, it is so low it is simply beyond belief. The greater part of the United States of America is not able to think. It has material prosperity, beautiful homes, machinery galore, and yet the majority of its people have the mentality of a European or Asiatic peasant. They are concerned with their little marriages, their little deaths. National or artistic problems have no place in their lives. Take any large, successful organization. Listen to them talk. When they do not talk business, their conversation is like that of children—boys of nine or ten. They know nothing of art, of science, of religion. Literature is the last thing they know anything about. Make an intelligent remark to them and they look like a panick because it happens that you did not tell them a funny story. This country has wealth and leisure that is, as H. G. Wells says, staggering. But its people simply do not think. They are carried away by nuts and food ideas. You can slam your young people into universities with their classrooms and laboratories, and when they come out all they can talk about is Babe Ruth. It is a hopeless country for intellectuals and thinking people. The only thing they can do is to make an existence among themselves, to have freemasonry of their own from which the rest are excluded." In the phraseology of the street: "Now, what do you know about that?"

Rev. C. W. Bispan, rector of a Protestant Episcopal church in Philadelphia, in the course of a sermon denounced the Eighteenth Amendment. Bishop Thomas J. Garland, head of the Protestant Episcopal Church in Philadelphia, had this to say: "Dr. Bispan was voicing his own personal opinion. I dissent from that opinion most emphatically. I believe in the Eighteenth Amendment. It has brought many blessings to the American people and there is not the slightest chance that it will ever be repealed. The consensus of opinion in the Episcopal Church as expressed in resolutions adopted by numerous diocesan conventions showing that the church stands squarely behind the Eighteenth Amendment." It is recalled that on a former occasion Rev. Mr. Bispan made certain charges against Congressmen which he found it necessary to retract. Another clergyman made this comment on his latest utterance: "After a law is passed it becomes a citizen, and particularly a clergyman, to cry out against it. It sets an example to lawbreakers and encourages disrespect for law."

Hallfax Chronicle: "In the important Bill which Premier Armstrong introduced in the House of Assembly on Tuesday amending the Education Act, provision is continued for the establishment, organization, government and maintenance in school sections of free public libraries. A free public library, small it may be, but stocked with good books, in every community in Nova Scotia would be a boon of priceless value to the people, and ultimately, we believe, in the results achieved would repay the cost a thousand fold. The money spent upon free library facilities for the people, especially for those who are far removed from educational centres, will be the best kind of investment for the Government and the people. It might well go much further than this Bill now proposes in making generous provision for so worthy an institution."

Secretary Hughes announces that the United States has not changed its attitude toward Russia. It will not interfere in the internal affairs of Russia. His country loaned Russia $187,000,000. This debt the Soviet Government repudiates. Under such conditions recognition of that Government is impossible. "We want to help," said Mr. Hughes. "We are just as anxious in this department and in every branch of the administration as you can possibly be to promote peace in the world, to get rid of hatred, to have a spirit of mutual understanding, but the world we desire is a world not threatened with the destructive propaganda of the Soviet authorities, and one in which there will be good faith and the recognition of obligations and a sound basis of international intercourse."

The extreme radical wing of the Labor party in Canada was favorable to the Russian Soviet scheme of getting a loan from workmen in Europe and America. A million dollars was hoped for. We are told that together the subscriptions outside of Russia amount to only three thousand dollars. The world at large is not favorably impressed by the results of Soviet rule.

Of fatalities from fire in Canada the Canadian National Safety League says: "As reported by the 'Monetary Times,' deaths from fires have been as follows: Month 1920 1921 1922 1923 January 22 17 25 24 February 30 18 21 24 March 35 11 16 .. April 8 7 10 .. May 13 13 14 ..

"This does not look like much of an improvement. What are we going to do about it?"

We are now told that since the new owners of the New Brunswick Power Company show such faith in St. John there should be an arrangement by which they could control the Musquash power and get rid of a second distribution line. "Will you walk into my parlor," said the spider to the fly.

The Marriage Game

The Snappiest of Pastimes As Played to a Decision Every Day By Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Hatten

MOVIE TEMPERAMENT. His Play—What's the matter with these queens of the movies that they are always getting divorced from one chap and marrying another one? Don't tell me it's temperamental, because a movie queen has about as much right to change partners for that reason as a stenographer has a right to go into hysterics because her boss doesn't like the way she spells "receive." Give a woman any way of having her own bank-roll, and then add that a lot of publicity, and the first thing she thinks of is to change husbands to make the movies and her new one? Her Counter-Play—Don't be vulgar, my dear. If you were fair—which I don't expect you to be—you would have observed that the women of the movies are no more temperamental than the men. It is amusing to think of a fellow jumping into matrimony that he can't live on his salary of only twelve hundred dollars a week. Can you fancy a woman behaving in that way? Well, scarcely, my dear. I know a much better word. Oh, never tempt me. If you want to, but I would be a man! You may call that mind—I imagine you can guess the word!

SEA FOG.

(By Elizabeth Newport Hepburn, in The New York Times)

Wet sand beneath my feet, A pearl-gray veil that shifts Its wind-blown lace against my face— Sea fog that ebbs and drifts.

I look on naked space, And taste the salty spray, And hear the wings of primal things, As on that far first day.

When God made seas and skies And islands, And the breathing that live On happiness and pain.

He made, too, man's despair, And woman's fleeting moods, And stars and suns and April air, And forest solitudes.

Alone, upon the sands, Wet spray upon my hair, I dream of laughing yesterdays, And of that reckless pair.

Who ran along the beach, Who raced the raging sea, And mocked the anger of the storm, And dared Infinity!

So glad and gay and free, So drunk with youth were they, Until Fate rang the curtain down, Upon their foolish play.

Yet still, when winds are chill, And when the fog-horns blow, Their faces gleam; as in a dream I hear their laughter low.

Maker of silver fog, Of shining sky and sea, I thank thee for that matchless gift, Untarnished memory!

I thank thee, too, for this— That sun and sea and sky, Are linked with mortal loveliness, With Youth's white avatars!

LIGHTER VEIN.

Disappointing Customer. Customer—But you guaranteed this watch would last me a lifetime. Clerk—Certainly, you bought pretty sick the day you bought it. —Christiana Korsanen.

Gentle. "Mac, would you like a little of something Scotch—the real thing?" "Well, now—I never." "Oh, course you would. Mary, bring out that pot of Dundee marmalade!" —Life.

Auntie Understood. It was Dorothy's eleventh birthday and her parents had given her a silver thimble. Her friends admired the gift, but Dorothy kept her sentiments to herself. In the evening a very human aunt was shown the useful present. "Poor child!" was her only comment.

"Those are the first words of sympathy I've had today!" said Dorothy—and her pent-up feelings found relief in tears.—Boston Transcript.

Just Like Father. The dole evil is arousing a new ambition among children. In an elementary school recently the master was heard saying to a boy who seemed to be making a general nuisance of himself, "I'll be hard for you to find employment when you leave school if you behave like that."

"I'm not going to find a place, sir," replied the boy. "I'm going to be like father and live on the dole!"—Daily Express.

CREOSOTED WOOD BLOCKS.

Wooden flooring for stables has much to recommend it, but unfortunately the conditions connected with its construction and use are especially favorable to decay. Frequent renewals of such flooring often cause owners to adopt some more durable and less comfortable material. The Forest Products Laboratories of Canada (Dominion Forestry Branch), Montreal, point out that the remedy lies, not in discarding wood and substituting concrete or stone pavement, but in using wood which has been rendered proof against decay. For this purpose creosoted wood blocks are suggested as possessing the greatest number of advantages as a stable floor. Creosoted wood-block flooring is warm and easy under foot, very resistant to wear, easy to clean and has sanitary and vermin-repellent properties, combined with a high resistance to decay. Owing to the establishment of several wood-creosoting plants in Canada, such blocks may be obtained at a reasonable price, and the cost of maintenance is very low.

RAPID GROWTH GERMAN SHIPPING

(From the Berlin Correspondence of The London Daily Mail)

Nothing in the history of Germany since the war is more remarkable than the rapid restoration of her mercantile marine.

In the summer of 1914 Germany's mercantile fleet was estimated at 5,135,000 tons. By the Treaty of Versailles she was forced to hand over so much of her shipping to the Allies that her mercantile fleet practically ceased to exist. In June, 1920, she possessed no more than 419,000 tons of shipping. The vast remainder of the fleet were under 16,000 tons. Today Germany possesses more than 2,000,000 tons of shipping.

The surprising rapidity with which Germany has acquired ships is to be accounted for by

1. The magnificent financial help of the German Government.

2. The purchase at cheap prices of ships from foreign countries.

Germany does not let the grass grow under their feet. Their mercantile marine had hardly been taken away from them before they were busy with plans to build a new fleet and to establish anew their great position on the high seas.

The Imperial Government, which might be said to be the motor of the German proverb, "Every man is his own neighbor," was ready to give financial support to the plans for the restoration of the fleet. In August 18, 1919, the principle of the liability of the empire to compensate the owners of ships handed over to the Allies was established by the Reichstag.

After long-drawn-out negotiations between the government and the shipping companies it was settled in February, 1920, that the amount to be paid in compensation should be 12,000,000,000 marks, which, at 240 marks to the pound, represents 50,000,000.

The agreement was, perhaps purposefully, loosely worded and left a loop-hole for the ship owners to extort large sums from the old homestead at Studholm, locally called Roschville, which is separated from Sussex by the Kennebecus River, September 10th, 1887. As a boy he attended the public school at what is now called Upper Corner, which was then the centre of business.

Midway between Sussex and Upper Corner was a large inn, Sheek's Hotel, which received the guests deposited by the six-horse stage coach of that day. The schools, in those days, were of an inferior order.

In 1854 Richard Roach, senior, died. In 1857 the young Richard went to Sackville to school, traveling by stage-coach. It was the winter, and rugs were not furnished; the coach left Sussex late at night and arrived at Woodville by stage-coach by way of Halifax, as there was no direct route between Sackville and Windsor.

Rev. Dr. Pickett of Kingston, N. B., principal of the school, was leaving Windsor school. Mr. Roach returned to Sussex and farmed on the homestead for a few years, then went into partnership with a brother who was doing a large manufacturing, farming and general store business.

After a number of years he traveled for R. J. Jones & Co. wholesale dry-goods men of St. John. In leaving Sussex and taking goods on the road there was much to combine. The roads were very rough and the hotels were remarkable for what they lacked. Merchants were not accustomed to giving orders through samples. Previously New Brunswick merchants went to St. John, spring and fall, and bought in sufficiently large quantities to supply for a year the needs of their customers.

"I remember," says Mr. Roach, "being in Richibucto where I was introduced to the late George Mead, who at that time, was doing a large general store business, and was one of the largest operators in shipbuilding. Mr. Mead said: 'I know the members of your firm. They are friends of mine. I can understand a firm of their standing sending out men to take orders in this way. It is beneath their dignity and that of any big wholesale house.' Of course we had a little talk over the dignity of taking orders in this way. You can understand from this how hard it was to change the ideas of other merchants. I remember going into Amherst and calling on a dry goods man, an Englishman of education. I was explaining to him that with my samples I could show him more variety of patterns than I could in the stock in St. John, but he could not conceive how that could be, and did not understand that goods ordered from samples by him and other merchants would be in greater variety. Before I left the town, he caught the idea of ordering from samples, and competing houses would not send out travelers for a few years until forced by loss of trade. They were like Mr. Mead, and thought it beneath their dignity."

"Trains, even today, jump tracks, occur; probably the customary loss speed often prevented serious damage. Snow was deeper, and engines weak and unreliable in that time. There was no railroad on the north shore, and from Shediac I went to Bouchette by stage-coach and from there to Kingston (now called Reston) and thence to Richibucto. Travelers were forced to do a great deal of driving. One par-

FIFTY-FOUR YEARS AS A TRAVELER

Richard Roach, Who Died This Week, Went on Road in 1869

Old Time Experiences—A Story and Interview Printed in Spring Number of Maritime Merchant, Just Issued—Vigorous to the Last.

(Spring Number of Maritime Merchant)

A man who has been a commercial traveler in the Maritime Provinces for more than half a century, and who at eighty-five years of age still feels at times the call of the road, is interesting not only in his own personality, but because of what he remembers of the changes that have occurred during the lifetime of the Dominion of Canada. The man to whom this reference is made is Richard Roach, whose portrait appears herewith, and whose story is of absorbing interest. He is the last of the old generation of the Roach family, whose Loyalist ancestor was a graduate of land near what is now the town of Sussex, N. B. His son, Fred W. Roach, of Brock & Paterson, St. John, is well known to the millinery and dry goods trade, but this is the story of the father.

Richard Roach, youngest son of Richard and Elizabeth McLeod Roach, was born in the old homestead at Studholm, locally called Roschville, which is separated from Sussex by the Kennebecus River, September 10th, 1887. As a boy he attended the public school at what is now called Upper Corner, which was then the centre of business.

Midway between Sussex and Upper Corner was a large inn, Sheek's Hotel, which received the guests deposited by the six-horse stage coach of that day. The schools, in those days, were of an inferior order.

In 1854 Richard Roach, senior, died. In 1857 the young Richard went to Sackville to school, traveling by stage-coach. It was the winter, and rugs were not furnished; the coach left Sussex late at night and arrived at Woodville by stage-coach by way of Halifax, as there was no direct route between Sackville and Windsor.

Rev. Dr. Pickett of Kingston, N. B., principal of the school, was leaving Windsor school. Mr. Roach returned to Sussex and farmed on the homestead for a few years, then went into partnership with a brother who was doing a large manufacturing, farming and general store business.

After a number of years he traveled for R. J. Jones & Co. wholesale dry-goods men of St. John. In leaving Sussex and taking goods on the road there was much to combine. The roads were very rough and the hotels were remarkable for what they lacked. Merchants were not accustomed to giving orders through samples. Previously New Brunswick merchants went to St. John, spring and fall, and bought in sufficiently large quantities to supply for a year the needs of their customers.

"I remember," says Mr. Roach, "being in Richibucto where I was introduced to the late George Mead, who at that time, was doing a large general store business, and was one of the largest operators in shipbuilding. Mr. Mead said: 'I know the members of your firm. They are friends of mine. I can understand a firm of their standing sending out men to take orders in this way. It is beneath their dignity and that of any big wholesale house.' Of course we had a little talk over the dignity of taking orders in this way. You can understand from this how hard it was to change the ideas of other merchants. I remember going into Amherst and calling on a dry goods man, an Englishman of education. I was explaining to him that with my samples I could show him more variety of patterns than I could in the stock in St. John, but he could not conceive how that could be, and did not understand that goods ordered from samples by him and other merchants would be in greater variety. Before I left the town, he caught the idea of ordering from samples, and competing houses would not send out travelers for a few years until forced by loss of trade. They were like Mr. Mead, and thought it beneath their dignity."

"Trains, even today, jump tracks, occur; probably the customary loss speed often prevented serious damage. Snow was deeper, and engines weak and unreliable in that time. There was no railroad on the north shore, and from Shediac I went to Bouchette by stage-coach and from there to Kingston (now called Reston) and thence to Richibucto. Travelers were forced to do a great deal of driving. One par-

Particularly severe winter I remained in Sussex for several days waiting for a train, and finally bought a team of horses which I was forced to use almost the entire winter.

At one time I traveled in company with the late James Humphrey. I had the Jones Co's goods and he had J. McClaskey's boots and shoes from Montreal. We did the north shore as far as Chatham and Newcastle. This was in the winter season. Then with our own team, we drove across to Fredericton. We had quite an experience. There had been a heavy rain-storm; the roads were very icy, and the sleigh was constantly sliding near the high cliffs and precipices of that region. Leaving Boiestown one morning, after a light snow which covered the ice, one sleigh skidded persistently until opposite them we were driving in the opposite direction, but we finally reached Fredericton. We drove from Fredericton to Woodstock, and from Woodstock to Grand Falls and Edmundton, taking in the different towns on the way. I went also to Prince Edward Island and attended with difficulties, as they did not wish to trust a stranger with valuable horses and carriage. However, I happened to know a resident of Charlottetown, the late Dr. Taylor, who had formerly practised in Sussex, so I got the team. I did the island pretty thoroughly, and in Charlottetown did a very good business. The duty on goods was a handicap in selling there, as the island was still out of the Federation.

"In those days the best hotel charges were moderate. Seventy cents, to a dollar twenty-five cents was customary. Not one dollar was the standard price. No one dreamed of water being conducted by pipes into an hotel, and there was no hot water. The offices, living and dining rooms had stoves, but in most cases the bedrooms were not heated and the only remedy was to pile on more clothes.

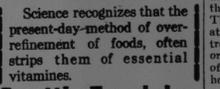

"There were no boot-leggers in those days, but they had a liquid called Jamaica rum, made, seemingly, from molasses, and it was a strong stimulant. Gin mills and open bars were prevalent and mostly everyone drank. The usage was to treat your customers, and the customers expected to be treated. There was a certain amount of odium attached to these salesmen who did not treat. Today a salesman does not drink, or, if he does, there is a certain amount of odium attached to him and what he does drink.

"When T. R. Jones Co. went out of business I became connected with The Sussex Shoe Co., which was a steam shoe factory established by the business men and other residents of Sussex. It was a stock company. We manufactured very extensively and I sold large quantities of their goods. At the end of each year the directors of the company and the staff held a meeting, at which Mr. Donville, representing Kings Co., and later Senator, spoke. This meeting was generally a mutual admiration society, for a small dividend was declared and it went to rest. In the course of time a new accountant was installed who declared at the end of the year we were insolvent, and by taking stock a second time this proved to be too true. I was now a shoe man, so went with the Jas. Whitman Shoe Co., of Montreal, which I represented for eighteen of nineteen years. Then I took the goods of The W. B. Hamilton Shoe Co., and have been with them for some twenty-three years. Although I do not propose to do much traveling in the future, I still hold my connection with the company, and if it were necessary I think I could do the traveling and selling part of it yet."

TO DIG UP BURIED ROMAN BUILDING

Mussolini Will Excavate for Ancient Senate House.

Rome, March 1.—(By mail).—Mussolini has decided to start excavations on the site of the Church of S. Adriano in Via Bonella, hoping to recover and restore the Curia, or Senate House, of ancient Rome.

The Curia was originally erected on the Comitium by Tullius Hostilius, but was burned in 83 B. C. Twenty-four years later Augustus reconstructed it under the name of Curia Julia, and it was later restored by Diocletian. Centuries after its first inception, the Senate was abolished by Justinian, and in 680 the Curia was only a deserted hall. In that year Pope Honorius I built the Church of S. Adriano, incorporating part of the old hall into his facade. A few years ago some partial excavations, undertaken by the archaeologist, Giuseppe Boni, brought to light part of a beautiful tessellated pavement, but it was not possible to continue the work of excavating at that time, as S. Adriano belonged to a convent of Spanish monks who were not willing to dispose of the building so that further excavations could be carried out.

A coin of Augustus' reign shows the Senate House as it was in those days. Its portico was supported by four columns and the pediment adorned with statues and sculptures, surmounted by a winged victory. The interior, tradition tells, was of great splendor. The ceiling was gilded and the marble walls were hung with pictures. Golden palms were placed in the hall, and the busts of distinguished citizens of Rome were ranged round the room.

In the centre stood the altar, glittering with precious stones, which had been brought from Egypt, and above it was the famous statue of Victory, which was carried through the city in processions.

The last historical meeting of the Senate took place in 838, when that once world powerful body met to discuss the best means of regulating Papal elections.

Influenza

Physicians advise keeping the bowels open as a safeguard against Grippe or Influenza.

When you are constipated, not enough of Nature's lubricating liquid is produced in the bowel to keep the food waste soft and moving. Doctors prescribe Nujol because it acts like this natural lubricant and thus secures regular bowel movements by Nature's own method—lubrication.

Nujol is a lubricant—not a medicine or laxative—so cannot grip. Try it today.

Hon. J. E. Michaud Introduces Bill in Legislature

To be Known as Farmers Relief Act—Hon. W. F. Roberts Will Look Into Tuberculin Tests of Farmers' Cows—Municipalities' Reports.

A bill was introduced in the House of Representatives yesterday by Hon. J. E. Michaud which would give the municipalities authority to make loans to farm owners, at a rate of interest not to exceed six per cent. The bill which is to be known as the Farmers' Relief Act was given its first reading.

Hon. W. F. Roberts, Minister of Public Health, will likely interview officials of the Federal Department with regard to the part taken by their veterinarians in administering tuberculin tests to the cows and subsequent killing of the animals belonging to milk producers who serve the city of Moncton. A delegation from the Westmorland Cream and Milk Producers met the minister yesterday and entered protest against the killing of the animals without Federal remuneration. The minister has ordered an investigation.

Mr. Hayes presented the report of the committee on municipalities. Mr. Scovil presented the report of the committee on standing rules. Notices of enquiry were given for Tuesday next, as follows:

By Mr. Burdock, as to what steps the Government has taken to establish a game preserve and the amount expended thereon.

By Mr. Hunter, as to the location of Government tenement houses in St. John and the amount of rent derived therefrom; also to the total cost of the Garden Creek bridge, parish of Kingsclear, York county, and whether the original contractors completed the work.

Mr. Richards asked if the sum of about $800,000 was in dispute between the Provincial and Dominion Government in connection with federal aid work on roads.

No Dispute.

Hon. Mr. Veniot replied that there was no matter in dispute between the two Governments. The amount had been agreed upon and the province only awaited the passage of an order-in-council in Ottawa.

Mr. Pinder introduced a bill to define and fix the boundaries of the town of Devon.

Mr. Stewart introduced a bill relating to the town of Campbellton.

Mr. Taylor introduced a bill to authorize the town of St. George to borrow money to provide a lighting system.

Mr. Warnock introduced a bill to amend an act relating to the town of Grand Falls.

Mr. Pinder introduced a bill to incorporate the Southampton Cemetery Company.

Mr. Richards introduced bills to authorize the City of Fredericton to make a gift of $25,000 to the University of New Brunswick, to amend the Fredericton Elections Act of 1914; to authorize the City of Fredericton to construct permanent sidewalks and to amend the schools act. In explaining the last named bill he said, it was to equalize the district in the lower end of the city.

Mr. Warnock introduced a bill to authorize the town of Grand Falls to issue debentures.

Mr. Flewelling introduced a bill to authorize the town of St. Stephen to issue debentures.

Hon. Mr. Robinson introduced a bill to incorporate the Beaver Coal and Railway Company.

Hon. Mr. Byrne introduced a bill to amend the Towns Incorporation Act. He explained that its object was to give a clearer definition of the word inhabitant. Under the existing law a person doing business in a town might evade taxation by residing elsewhere. The bill provided that a person carrying on business in a town shall be deemed an inhabitant.

New Age Limits.

Hon. Mr. Byrne introduced a bill to amend the act establishing a Boys Industrial Home. He explained that under the present act the age limit was from nine to fifteen years and under the bill it would be from nine to sixteen years.

Hon. Mr. Byrne introduced a bill to amend the Church of England Act, 1912.

Loans For Farmers.

Hon. Mr. Michaud introduced a bill to relieve farmers from financial embarrassment and to encourage agricultural development by mortgaged loans at a reduced rate of interest. He said that it had been represented to the Government that farmers in certain sections had been compelled to mortgage their farms for short terms because of losses sustained.

Mr. Wetmore introduced a bill to amend an act relating to the village of Rothesay.

Mr. Martin gave notice that on Tuesday he would move for the suspension of the rule to permit of the introduction of a bill to enable the Roman Catholic Bishop of Chatham to sell lands in Chatham.

Hon. Mr. Michaud gave notice that he would move for the suspension of the rule to permit of the introduction of a bill to authorize the Madawaska Board of School Trustees to issue debentures.

Mr. Borage applied for leave of absence for Mr. Melanson until Tuesday on account of illness.

HAMMOND SELLS RADIO PATENTS

Dual and Secret Sending Systems Included in 200 Sold to American Corporation.

Washington, March 23—Radio devices developed by John Hays Hammond, Jr., primarily for war-time use by the Government, which include methods of operating aerial and marine torpedoes and manoeuvring battleships without personnel for target practice, have been sold, it was announced here, to the Radio Corporation of America and the American Telephone and Telegraph Company.

The Government, however, will retain an option on all of the devices for military use and for experimentation with aircraft bombing. Mr. Hammond and his assistants will be retained as consulting engineers by the Radio Corporation.

Approximately 200 separate patents have been conveyed to the commercial companies in the transaction. While Mr. Hammond's research work was first successful in demonstrating that vessels or aircraft laden with explosives could be directed from the shore or a vessel stationed miles away, and manoeuvred at full speed to attack enemy craft or to avoid bombardment from the air in experiments to determine aircraft value in war, a variety of accessory commercial possibilities have been evolved in testing.

By one of them, the Hammond selector unit, hitherto chiefly utilized in the torpedo vessel control, two sets of radio impulses can be transmitted simultaneously from one broadcasting station over wave lengths, it was declared in the announcement of the Radio Engineering Company, Mr. Hammond's corporation.

"The ultimate use of this should be to allow a greater number of broadcastings to take place without increasing the interference in the ether," the announcement said.

"By a further addition, the Hammond system of sending radio impulses can be made secret, so that speech or code signals can be sent from point to point without being picked up by other stations, even though these standard stations might lie in the path of the transmission."

The devices, particularly those for secret signalling, have been tested in the Government military laboratories and experiments. Mr. Hammond has added to them a system, said to be successful, of eliminating static interference and the confusion in telephony of spark telegraphic signals.

Mr. Hammond is the son of John Hays Hammond, chairman of the Federal Coal Commission.

COURT FREES ELLIS IN CULBERSON CASE

Man Who Said He was Kidnapped Because He Wounded Senator's Daughter Drops Charge.

New York, March 23.—John F. Ellis, ex-private detective, who was accused of kidnaping Alex. E. Robertson, a former member of the British Royal Artillery and suitor for the hand of Miss Mary Culbertson, daughter of former United States Senator Culbertson of Texas, was freed by Commissioner Pleasance in Newark a few days ago.

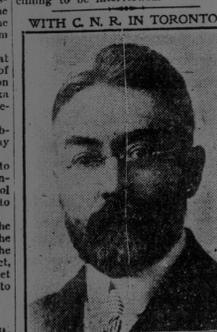

The court was told that Robertson had refused to testify against Ellis, declaring he wished to avoid the publicity which would attend a trial.

The indictment of Ellis was brought about by Robertson's charge that Ellis had forced him to leave his home in Bloomfield on the pretext that he was wanted in New York on a charge of stealing property of the British War Veterans' Association. Instead of taking him to New York, however, Robertson charged, Ellis took him to Boston and tried to place him on a steamer bound for Buenos Ayres.

Mrs. Mary A. Andrews, an aunt with whom Robertson had lived, obtained his release after complaining to the British Embassy at Washington.

Chesterley Jurney, former secretary to Senator Culbertson, was in court ready to testify in Ellis' behalf. When the indictment was dismissed he left, declining to be interviewed.

WORK OF CLINICS IS COMMENTED ON

St. John Health Centre Considered a Vital Factor in Health of City—Will Provide for Fresh Air Treatment.

At a meeting last evening of the Board of Governors of the St. John Health Centre Association it was announced that the budget of $3,000 and a little more had been realized by a membership campaign and the carnival held during carnival week.

Hon. H. A. McKewen, the president, was in the chair. Those present included Mrs. E. Atherton Smith, Miss M. H. McCloskey, Mrs. J. H. Doody, Mrs. G. Willford Campbell, Mrs. G. Fred Fisher, H. O. McInerney, Commissioner Bullock, J. S. Gregory, Thomas Bell, Dr. F. L. Kenney, Dr. W. P. Broderick, Dr. William Warwick and Miss H. T. Meldejohn.

The delegates to the local Council of Women were approved, as follows: Miss H. T. Meldejohn, convener; Mrs. A. J. Mulcahy, Mrs. S. E. Elkin, Mrs. H. Usher Miller, Mrs. G. Willford Campbell and Mrs. J. H. Doody.

The finance committee report was given by Mr. Bell. Expenditures were $276.21 and receipts for four months $500. Receipts totalled $1,024.47. Miss Meldejohn explained $216.54 was due the Health Centre in outstanding rentals in the Centre would practically cover the building rental, the telephone and stenographer's salary.

Mrs. E. Atherton Smith gave the report of the ways and means committee, telling of the campaign for life members in which seventy-eight already were enrolled and two more to come and of the carnival which realized $890.96. A total of $2,074.93 had been raised by the committee which had set out to raise a budget of $3,000. Mrs. Smith read the names of the life members, which it was decided to have published.

Administrative Committee.

The report of the administrative committee was given by Dr. Warwick. He told of the various clinics in the building. The well baby clinic had had seventy-seven attending, nine clinics and sixteen new registrations. The tuberculosis clinics had 404 registered cases, of whom fifty were new cases and twenty-six were non-tubercular. The prenatal, social hygiene, pre-school nutrition, dental and refraction clinics were to be opened shortly.

In reply to Miss McCloskey it was explained that children would receive treatment not advice merely at these clinics.

Dr. Warwick reported twenty-five preface classes had been conducted during the month and more would be established soon. He told of what was being done to correlate the records and reports of the various clinics.

Judge McKewen told of the excellent work done at the free dental clinic in Halifax in connection with the dental college and the children's apparent fearlessness and willingness in attending.

The report of A. C. Skelton, as treasurer, showed a balance of $3,028.55 at the end of February.

Miss Meldejohn, as director, asked for more equipment, including three fire extinguishers, waste paper baskets, and $25 to $40 worth of furniture for the janitor's quarters. She also suggested that fire insurance be taken out. The floors in the board room and lecture room being of soft wood needed some attention, it was noted.

Fresh Air Treatment on Roof.

Regarding the fresh air cure on the roof, Miss Meldejohn said that there were hundreds of children in the city too ill to go to school but not ill enough to need hospital care who could be successfully treated on the roof. She had asked a men's organization to assist in flooring and fencing the roof and she had asked if V. A. O's would supervise the children on the roof. One case had been cared for already, a boy from the County Hospital who in two weeks had gained two pounds.

The matter of the roof garden was referred to the house committee.

Committee Named.

The house committee members were named as follows:—Miss H. T. Meldejohn, Miss McCloskey, Mrs. J. H. Doody, Mrs. G. Willford Campbell, Mrs. S. E. Elkin, Mrs. T. N. Vincent, Mrs. H. Usher Miller, Mrs. L. Isaacs, Mrs. A. C. Skelton, John Kelly, Commissioner Bullock and Dr. Warwick.

A resolution of hearty appreciation was extended to the ways and means committee on the motion of Judge McInerney, seconded by Mayor Fisher. Mrs. Smith replied on behalf of the committee.

J. S. Gregory announced that the handsome mahogany table and set of chairs in the board room were a gift from the St. John Commercial Club. The announcement was received with applause. The Commercial Club had written that it felt no organization in the city was more worthy of support than the Health Centre, and Judge McKewen expressed appreciation of the words of confidence conveyed in the letter.

The table has a silver plate with the following inscription:—Presented by the Commercial Club of St. John to the St. John Health Centre Association, 1923.

Mr. Gregory's interest in securing the gift was much commended.

When the meeting adjourned, the governors went to the lecture hall to inspect the new furniture of chairs, tables and other equipment installed there and also visited the dental clinic where the new equipment now is in place.

It is said that customs officers last evening paid a visit to the steamer Essex County at No. 2 berth, Sand Point, and found a quantity of liquor, not reported and checked by the authority on the steamer's arrival. The case will probably be dealt with by C. B. Lockhart, collector.

"The Torch of Verified Circulation"

Lights up the way for the Advertiser

The Telegraph and The Evening Times, with a combined daily net paid circulation exceeding 30,000 copies, are the only A. B. C. (Audit Bureau of Circulation) papers in the province of New Brunswick. These newspapers alone give the advertiser a verified circulation whose extent is absolutely known and established beyond question.

Mr. Advertiser, do you realize what this means?

All of the principal Canadian dailies are members of the A. B. C. That is, they give their advertisers, present and prospective, circulation figures which are audited, certified and approved by an independent court whose standing is recognized in business circles throughout Canada and the United States.

Mr. Advertiser, Look at this:

The Following Canadian Newspapers are members of the A. B. C.:

- St. John—The Telegraph and The Evening Times (the only A. B. C. papers in New Brunswick).
Halifax—The Chronicle and Echo, The Herald and Mail.
Charlottetown—The Guardian.
Quebec City—LeSoleil, L'Evenement.
Montreal—The Gazette, The Star, The Herald, La Presse, La Patrie, Le Canada, Le Devoir, The Standard.
Ottawa—The Citizen, The Journal, Le Droit.
Toronto—The Globe, The Star, The Mail and Empire and Sunday World, The Telegram.
London—The Advertiser, The Free Press.
Brantford—The Expositor.

- Brockville—The Recorder and Times.
Fort William—The Times-Journal.
Hamilton—The Spectator.
Kingston—The British Whig, The Standard.
Windsor—The Border Cities' Star.
Winnipeg—The Manitoba Free Press, The Tribune.
Saskatoon—The Star, The Phoenix.
Regina—The Leader, The Post.
Calgary—The Morning Albertan, The Herald.
Edmonton—The Bulletin, The Journal.
Vancouver—The Province, The Sun, The World.
Victoria—The Colonist, The Times.

Mr. Advertiser, in that list you have the chief newspapers of Canada. They give you an independent audit of their circulation by a universally recognized authority.

"Net Paid" circulation does not mean old lists of doubtful value. "Net Paid" means that every subscriber included in the figures is either paid in advance or does not owe for more than six months. The Telegraph and Times, remember, have a combined "net paid" daily circulation of more than 30,000 copies.

Figuring by circulation The Telegraph and Times rates are the lowest in the Maritime Provinces.

By putting the same ad in both papers you cover the city of St. John and the province of New Brunswick as with a blanket, so far as prospective buyers of your goods are concerned, for these two papers reach to a really wonderful extent the people in this city and this province who are in a position to purchase the goods that local or national advertisers offer for sale, be these goods bonds or toothpicks, razors or mowing machines, diamonds or medicines, shoes or silks.

Think over the facts, Mr. Advertiser. Just ask yourself quietly and thoughtfully what that chain of leading Canadian newspapers means. Their verified circulation is their greatest advertising solicitor. Think about "the torch of verified circulation."

Another Move In Power Company Game?

Rumor That Rates Will be Further Reduced to Compete With the City and Gobble Up Musquash.

There is a rumor about town today that the purchasers of the common stock of the New Brunswick Power Company have decided to reduce their rates below those quoted by the Civic Power Commission. This, it is said, is the "knock-out blow" which some of their friends have been hinting would soon be delivered. Roy A. Willet, secretary of the Civic Power Commission, was asked by The Times this morning if he had heard the rumor, and replied that he had. Asked what action the Civic Power Commission would take if the rumor were confirmed, Mr. Willet said he could not of course speak for the Commission, but personally he was confident the situation could be met. He added that the citizens would be wise not to be influenced by any action the company might take until they had heard from their own Commission.

Other citizens who discussed the question recalled the time when the Power Company could not sell its current at less than fifteen cents per kilowatt hour, and they wondered how that could be squared with a cut below the Civic Power Commission's rates. It was also pointed out that the city, on the power at cost basis, could produce power cheaper than any private corporation could possibly do, and in the end must control the market; whereas if the company got control of the situation the rates could and would be advanced and the city would be helpless.

One citizen, referring to a hint that a propaganda in the interests of the company is again in progress at Fredericton, observed that the people of St. John had settled this matter for themselves, and there could be no excuse for any action by the Legislature. Moreover, the members of the Legislature remember the solemn assertions of the company on former occasions that it must have more revenue and could not reduce rates.

Pretty Cloak Model Killed For Revenge Police Now Believe

DOROTHY KEENAN

A story of a girl's vanity and craving for jewels and fine clothes, as swift and colorful and fatal as any movie "thriller" is the story of Dorothy Keenan's brief life.

Married at eighteen to a man she thought wealthy, she left him when she discovered he was an ordinary truck-driver. Denied the pretty things she craved, she went to work as a cloak model, and paraded all day in expensive garments she had to take off and put away when the store closed at night.

Two swift years of high living, and Dorothy Keenan was found dead, robbed and chloroformed, police believe, by a man who sought to avenge himself upon her and took her jewels to give the murder the look of a robbery.

CITY AND POWER COMPANY A case involving the Frost & Wood Company as plaintiffs, and James Leo McNamara, defendant, was commenced in the county court this morning. Judge Armstrong presiding. The company is bringing an action to recover possession of a carriage sold to a man named Williamson with a contractual condition that the company was to remain owners until full payment was made. Williamson is set up, while behind in payments sold the carriage to McNamara. G. H. V. Belyea, K.C., appeared for the company and L. A. Conlon for the defendant.

Today marked the expiration of the time allowed the city to file an appearance in the case of the writ secured by the New Brunswick Power Company, Limited, in connection with hydro matters. The writ was secured on March 12, and ten days was given in which to file an appearance. Mayor Fisher said this morning that the matter of the appearance had not been under consideration until this morning. He said that the next move should come from the Power Company, who were required to file a statement. Hon. Dr. J. C. McLeod, K.C., appeared for the Power Company, and Mr. Pickett said that in view of the condition of the dairy industry oleomargarine should be kept out.

Hon. Mr. Merceur said he had no personal knowledge of the qualities of oleomargarine, but there were two sides to every question. However, he believed it was not in the interests of the Province to admit oleomargarine. He said that butter could not be made under fifty cents a pound. Shipping out the margarine might hurt some big lumbermen but they could stand it.

Mr. Dickson said that butter today could not be sold cheaper than sixty to seventy cents a pound and considering the year as a whole the price should be sixty to sixty-five cents.

Mr. Warnock said that the last time this was considered he had supported the use of margarine because of scarcity of the product at the time. He used it himself in the woods for two years, but now used butter.

Mr. Burlock said there was no reason why margarine should be admitted.

The committee approved of the resolution.

The resolution calling for the establishment of a butter fat standard for ice cream was also thoroughly discussed.

Deputy Minister Mitchell said that at the present time there was no standard.

Hon. Mr. Merceur said that the sale of ice cream was governed entirely by supply and demand. He favored legislation to regulate private business.

Mr. Dickson said he favored inspection and analysis of ice cream.

COMMITTEE ON AGRICULTURE IN SESSION AGAIN DISCUSS IMMIGRATION

(Special to The Times.) Freeport, March 23—The committee on agriculture met this morning and further discussed resolutions passed by the New Brunswick Association relative to retest of cream and milk at dairies, the prohibition of the importation of oleomargarine and other matters.

Col. O. Wetmore, Clifton, Kings County, presided. The library committee also met this morning under the presidency of Hon. Dr. W. F. Roberts, Minister of Health. The committee recommended that fines of two cents a day be inaugurated to be levied against members and other patrons of the Legislative library who keep books out longer than the allotted time.

(Official Report.) Committee on House of Assembly, Fredericton, March 23—The Committee on Agriculture met this morning and continued consideration of resolutions passed by the New Brunswick Farmers and Dairymen's Association.

In connection with the resolution calling for the appointment of dairy inspectors to retest any or all composite samples of milk and cream delivered to creameries or cheese factories, Hon. Mr. Merceur, the Minister of Agriculture, and Deputy Minister Mitchell explained that a bill covering this matter would be introduced. The resolution was endorsed.

Oleomargarine. A resolution for the suppression of the importation and manufacture of oleomargarine provoked lengthy discussion.

Mr. Bentley said that oleomargarine had been used extensively as a butter substitute and there still were people who used it, because of its low price, particularly in the lumber woods.

Mr. Pickett said that in view of the condition of the dairy industry oleomargarine should be kept out.

Hon. Mr. Merceur said he had no personal knowledge of the qualities of oleomargarine, but there were two sides to every question. However, he believed it was not in the interests of the Province to admit oleomargarine. He said that butter could not be made under fifty cents a pound. WHOLE TIME OF COMMONS SPENT ON SUBJECT YESTERDAY—Today's Programme

(By Canadian Press.) In the House of Commons yesterday the debate was continued on the matter of immigration. Several members of the Government and members of the Canada Colonization Association. It was contended that the agents of this enterprise would only be looking for the commission, that settlers would be poor and discontented and then the Government would be locked to redress.

Other members insisted that the way in which to attract contented settlers was to improve the conditions of those who were already on the land. Among the improvements needed in the west, according to Progressive members, were better roads, better facilities for getting children to the schools, extension of freight rates, loans to farmers and co-operative enterprises.

The appropriation of $700,000 for immigration last year was approved, as was also $60,000 for Chinese immigration—salaries and contingencies—before the House adjourned at 12:25 a. m.

In the Senate. Debate on German reparations continued. Notice was given of a bill to amend the Divorce Act, 1925. Today in Parliament.

In the House of Commons the estimates of the Department of Immigration will again be the order today followed by those of the Soldiers' Settlement Board.

Cuno Declares Evacuation Must Precede Any Negotiations

In Fiery Proclamation the League of Coal Miners Declares Poincare Will Never Attain His Aims—British Trade in Unoccupied Germany Shows Improvement.

(Canadian Press.) Berlin, March 23—Chancellor Cuno was given an enthusiastic reception at Munich yesterday. Replying to various addresses, he said he considered that the policy of passive resistance to France and Belgium must be continued in all circumstances.

In the Bavarian Diet, replying to an address from the President of the Diet, the Chancellor, making a similar allusion, gave it as his opinion that the Government of the Reich would be victorious only if it could reckon on the support of the Parliament of the Federal states and the unity of the entire nation.

In a speech in the Town Hall in Munich last evening, Chancellor Cuno said that any discussion regarding the termination of the conflict with France must proceed upon a basis of unconditional evacuation of the invaded territory.

A REVENUE OF $3,203,825 IS ANTICIPATED

Budget Presented in Provincial House Today

Increase of $280,000 Expected in Territorial Revenue—Decrease in Profits from Liquor—More from Automobiles.

(By Canadian Press.) Fredericton, N. B., March 23—An estimated revenue of $3,203,825 for the present fiscal year ending October 31, was predicted by Hon. Dr. J. E. Hebrington, Provincial Secretary and Treasurer, in his annual budget speech in the Provincial Legislature here this afternoon.

The actual revenue in 1932 was $3,117,445 and some variation is shown in some of the predicted receipts as compared with the actual revenue of last year. The principal increase is in territorial revenue which is expected to advance from $1,000,000 last year to $980,100 for 1935. The estimated receipts from stamper upon lumber cut on Crown lands are $665,989 for this year as compared with $679,558.14 actually received last year.

Liquor Profits Down. Last year the net profits from the province from the operations of the New Brunswick board of liquor commissioners was $306,489; this year's net profits are expected to be $280,000, a decrease of $26,489 from that source. This is a falling off of $55,000, but about five months of the present fiscal year have already passed. In the enforcement of the prohibition act receipts and expenses are each expected to amount to about $70,000. The liquor exporters tax produced $219,984 last year and this year the amount is expected to be reduced to $180,000.

Deputy Minister Mitchell said that such a matter should come under the Department of Health and in Federal Legislation did so. The Federal Department of Health and in Federal Legislation did so.

Traffic was held up for forty-five minutes as police reserves were rushed to the scene.

Cocoanut Oil Makes A Splendid Shampoo

Do not use prepared shampoos or anything else that contains too much free alkali, for this is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle. The best thing to use is Multisud coconut oil shampoo, for it is pure and entirely greaseless. It is very cheap and beats anything else all to pieces.

HASTE IN 100-YEAR-OLD CASE BRINGS TAFT CHUCKLE IN COURT
Washington, March 23.—A request was made to the Supreme Court of the United States recently to advance the date for argument on the case involving the boundary line between New York and Massachusetts, which affects property in Rochester.
Associate Justice Holmes leaned over and whispered something in the ear of Chief Justice Taft. The Taft chuckle sounded from the dignified bench.
"Mr. Justice Holmes says," remarked Mr. Taft, "that there is little use in placing two months ahead on the calendar a matter which is already one hundred years old."
The Court took the request under advisement.

CANADA TO HAVE NEW STEAMER LINE

Scandinavian-American Vessels to Commence Montreal Service in May—Will Operate to St. John Next Winter.

Montreal, March 23.—It is announced by McLean, Kennedy, Limited, who have been appointed Canadian agents, that the Scandinavian-American Line are about to extend their activities to Montreal, and that arrangements have been completed to commence early in May a regular freight trade between Montreal, Copenhagen and Baltic ports. The first sailing will be the S. S. Pennsylvania, about 8,000 tons, from Montreal, May 10, to be followed by other steamers regularly every month or oftener if influenced orders.

Canadian shippers and exporters generally have expressed satisfaction at the arrangements for this new service, which will not only secure for the port of Montreal the handling of large shipments of grain, flour and general cargo, which up to the present have moved principally via United States ports and over United States railroads, but is expected to further develop trade between Canada, Scandinavia and Baltic ports. The Scandinavian-American Line, whose headquarters and home port is Copenhagen, are owners of a fleet of 120 steamers and several large motor ships. They operate a regular passenger service from New York, also freight services from Baltimore, Philadelphia, Savannah, Galveston and New Orleans to Scandinavia. The vessels to be employed in the Canadian service will include the motor ships Oregon and California, and the steamships Pennsylvania, Florida, Dania and Maryland.

These vessels will come to St. John next winter, it was announced by the local branch of the McLean Kennedy Company today.

OPINIONS ON THE STOCK MARKET

New York, March 23.—Opinions—Hutton & Co. The steel stocks are behind the place they should command with their earnings. We like the sugar and some of the rails.

Thomson & McKim—"The market has been off it a tremendous power, but there is confidence everywhere of still higher levels."

Hornblower and Weeks—"Some sensational advances in the next ten days are our guess of present speculative prospect. We would buy rubber stocks as this group, the leaders are near their 1921 level but any other group."

Houseman & Co.—"Do not hold in details to enter exclusive rails. Make some kind of a division at least, it will be a lot safer."

Block Maloney—"We recommend taking profits on long stocks as we think they may be replaced lower down."

Evans—"For several days now the market has practically remained stationary or else reacted slightly."

It looks a little tired. It has looked this way before and reacted up without having any reason of importance.

It may do so again, but from its appearance I should judge that a reaction to some extent is inevitable. Whether it occurs or not, it will not affect the main trend, which is still upward."

THE MONEY MARKET

(Toronto Globe) The local money market continues easy. In so far as can be judged by the ordinary indexes, the weekly bank clearings and the monthly bank statement, there has been little or no speeding up of demand for money for ordinary business purposes.

Bank deposits show an increase, while current loans continue to decline. In the United States, where business has progressed much further than in Canada, the situation is reversed, and current loans outstanding continue to increase month by month. Canadian banks have employed part of their idle funds in the purchase of Government and gilt-edged securities. A number of banks, too, have forwarded funds to New York, where they have been loaned out on call. The rates have been such as to render the transfer of funds and their employment in this manner a profitable transaction. According to the January bank statement call loans outside of Canada totalled $191,381,541, an increase of $5,727,956, as compared with December's total of $185,653,616, as compared with January, 1922. During the month of January notice deposits were up over $10,000,000, and current loans in Canada were down more than $26,000,000. In fact, the building up of balances by Canadian banks in New York is cited as one of the causes for the prevailing weakness of Canadian funds in that market.

Other factors are, of course, the relatively small volume of Canadian financing undertaken in New York in recent months, and the fact that the monthly trade figures show a moderate adverse balance. Canada, with the opening of navigation in the spring and the heavy movement of wheat and other Canadian commodities across the border, the adverse rate of exchange will be corrected to some extent.

BRISTOL SAYS HIS STATUES WERE PALMED OFF AS RODIN'S

Paris, March 23.—The sculptor Bristol has obtained a verdict of 2,600 francs damages and an order for the restitution of casts of a sculptor known as "Little Girl in a Chemise" claimed to be the work of the late Auguste Rodin, but which Bristol proved was his own handiwork and had been exhibited in his name at the salon as "The Goose Girl."

Bristol testified that he entrusted the statuette to a founder, who sold it to another founder named Magagnoli, who had cast many of the works of Rodin. It was alleged that Magagnoli cast several of the statuettes, signing them "Rodin."

The Court in its decision permitted Magagnoli to retain the bronzes of the statuettes cast by him, but ordered him to change the signature of the Heavy Buying in Oils—Two New High Records for the Year—Dull on the Montreal Exchange.

New York, March 23.—(Wall Street) Conflicting price movements took place at the opening of today's stock market, but the main tendency was upward. A revival of heavy buying in the oil group sent Tidewater up 1 1/2 points with other domestic oils improving fractionally on initial sales. Keystone Tire and Granby Copper each sold at new high records for the year. Slight heaviness was noted in some of the popular industrial favorites.

Philadelphia Plans To Draw Grain Now Moving By Montreal

Committee Reports to Commercial Exchange After Visit to Canadian Port—Praises Facilities There.

Philadelphia, March 23.—A large percentage of the 78,000,000 bushels of American grain which will be exported to Montreal's total exports of 1922-23, 800,000 bushels last year would have moved through the port of Philadelphia if this port had the facilities to handle it.

That was the information brought back by the committee of the Commercial Exchange from its recent inspection at Montreal, where it inspected the elevator facilities for the purpose of obtaining first-hand information which will be used in recommendation in connection with the plans for greater export facilities here.

The fact that Montreal handled 78,000,000 bushels, or more than 80 per cent of its total which originated in the United States, is the strongest argument that can be advanced in favor of Philadelphia, as chairman of the committee, for quick action in providing adequate facilities in this port. Mr. Stiles, as chairman of the inspection committee, for the United States, reported that the 78,000,000 bushels of grain which the United States exported through the Canadian port was approximately 18,000,000 bushels greater than the total exports through this city last year.

"Montreal's success as a great export center is due partially to its aggressive and the appreciation of its port commission of the value of its facilities. Montreal has three elevators with a total capacity of 10,000,000 bushels, representing an investment, including equipment, of $38,000,000. Her grain in 1922 paid the interest and the sinking fund charges on the $38,000,000 return for the previous year net income of 2 1/2 per cent. This illustrates more forcibly the substantial return the railroads serving Philadelphia which the port commission of the value of its facilities. Mr. Stiles, as chairman of the inspection committee, will report the result of the investigation to the board of directors of the Commercial Exchange Tuesday, after which it is understood recommendations will be forwarded to the Philadelphia & Reading Railway and the Pennsylvania system embodying suggestions for new elevator facilities here.

MORNING STOCK LETTER

(By McDougall & Cowans, Private wire)

New York, March 23.—A great deal of profit-taking is going on, influenced largely by possible advances in the discount rates in several of the western banks. A special overcoat line, having, however, seems to come largely from commission houses and there is little evidence of pool liquidation. Undoubtedly the discount rate will be advanced five per cent in time and it is possible that it may come in some of the districts in the near future. Sir Henry Thornton's Message to Employees

Montreal, March 23.—Sir Henry Thornton issued today the following messages to all employees of the Canadian National Railways: The organization for administering the Canadian National Railway system as one complete unit has been decided. Operating regions, districts and divisions have been determined. The necessary officers have been selected and their duties prescribed. We have embarked upon a mutual enterprise of great difficulty and of vast importance to ourselves both as employees of the company and as citizens of the Dominion.

If we make a success of our undertaking we shall not only have added materially to our individual welfare and reputation as railroad men but we shall have performed a fine and patriotic service which will reflect itself in the advancement and prosperity of our country in which we will all share. But our success will depend upon the skill, energy and high principles with which the property is administered and upon the fidelity, loyalty and vigilance which actuate every employee in the performance of his daily duties. Technical ability alone will not win the battle. Only by enthusiastic and constant team work on the part of the great army of our men can we hope to win. I am sure that every man in the service ardently wishes our experiment to succeed and it will if each one tries to live up to these simple rules:

- 1. Be courteous and helpful to everyone especially the public. We need their business.
2. Try to make a friend a day for the company.
3. Try to influence all the freight and passengers you can on our way. You may think that is the job of the traffic department, so it is, but you and I and all of us first, last and always belong to that department.
4. Do all you can to stop waste. Try to save something each day for the company.
5. Remember you are working for a company you may be proud of, and make it so. Hold up your head and smile, smile, smile.

Plan Campaign Against Fake Securities Dealers

New York, March 23.—Inauguration of a country-wide educational campaign against fraudulent securities was announced this week by the Investment Bankers Association of America. Headquarters have been opened by the association in Chicago, and Samuel O. Rice, former editor of Sound and Investment, director of sound and safe investment. The chief purpose of the work will be to educate the public, particularly the small investor, against operations of dealers in fraudulent securities and promoters of worthless stocks and bonds.

"Our campaign," said Mr. Rice, "has been planned to reach every class of citizens in the country and to include some of the fundamentals of sound and safe investment. Neither the Federal government nor the state can police every investment or last deal, and despite the best efforts of officers of the law it is doubtful if legislation can ever forestall adroit swindlers effectively or take their place as a business deal."

"The cure for this abominable evil, the selling of fraudulent securities and the crooked dealing in legitimate securities, does not and cannot lie in mere legislation. But if the great army of uninformed investors can be taught to realize that the reputable investment house is highly specialized and has especially trained experts to judge an investment, it is possible that the rate will be advanced five per cent in time and it is possible that it may come in some of the districts in the near future. The trend of the market is upward and it is possible that the rate will be advanced five per cent in time and it is possible that it may come in some of the districts in the near future."

Mr. Stiles, as chairman of the inspection committee, will report the result of the investigation to the board of directors of the Commercial Exchange Tuesday, after which it is understood recommendations will be forwarded to the Philadelphia & Reading Railway and the Pennsylvania system embodying suggestions for new elevator facilities here.

THE INCOME TAX

A booklet on the Dominion Income Tax has been issued by the Canadian Debentures Corporation, Ltd., Toronto. It contains much valuable information on many problems for individuals who are in doubt as to its workings.

It is only a measure of the growth of the income of individuals, corporations and companies, and estates and trusts, and explains at length just what is meant by the expression "gross income."

A calendar is given telling when returns should be made and the tax paid. It also explains in plain language the penalties for non-compliance with the law.

Questions that puzzle the average taxpayer are answered and examples given as to just how the amount each person is assessed is worked out, together with valuable information just what property is exempt and which liable for taxation. The booklet and its tables will well repay close scrutiny.

REVIEW OF BOND MARKETS.

(A. E. Adams & Co., Montreal.) An interesting phase of the we business has been the fact that itations have bought substantial amounts of Ontario and Quebec bonds where they were available particularly of Ontario and Quebec municipals.

The market is still firm with demand for attractive high grade bonds in excess of the supply. It would seem likely that this premium will reach its highest level possibly during the coming month, if it has not already reached same. Later on, when the ordinary Spring demand for funds has been satisfied and we are approaching the period when there is a probability of exportation of Canadian products on a larger scale, this premium will, no doubt, be substantially cut down. In the meantime, the amount of Canadian securities coming back from the United States market has been very much reduced with some few exceptions.

LOCAL BANKERS MEET.

About one hundred members were present at the regular monthly meeting of the local Bankers' Association held last evening. The meeting took the form of a banquet at the Clifton House. A. C. Skelton, honorary president of the association, acted as chairman. The speakers were: L. P. D. Tilley, K.C., who spoke on the A. B. C. of law; H. C. Schofield, manager of the Robert Reford Co., Ltd., who talked on bills of lading, and Howard E. Beedy, vice-president of the New Brunswick Paper Co., Ltd., who spoke on the value of information necessary to turn to Europe for further demand, and at the present time that demand simply is not there, with the result that it is difficult for us to believe that an industrial boom of sustained substantial proportions is likely. These bonds, according to reports from dealers have been well received

MOORE WINNER IN ALL TITLE RACES

Captures Every Met. Skating Championship by a Clean Sweep at 181st St.

New York, March 23.—Joe Moore of the 181st Street Ice Palace made a clean sweep of every event in the Metropolitan indoor ice skating championships at the 181st Street Ice Palace Tuesday night in the third and final of the title series. The indoor star thereby captured every metropolitan title, having previously won the half-mile and three-quarter mile. The victories came in the 440 yards, the mile and two-mile championships, and Moore holds undisputed claim to the all-around metropolitan championship.

The best race of the evening was in the 440-yard championship event. Joe Moore took the lead at the pistol, but Bobby Hearn soon pulled up level, and they had a wonderful battle to the finish. Coming down the home-stretch they were skating stride and stride, and it appeared to the spectators that it was a dead heat as the skaters flashed by the finish. The judges, however, caught Moore in the lead by the narrowest of margins. The crowd, which was the largest of the season, cheered the brilliant finish. Paul Forsman was favored to win this event, because of his sprinting abilities, but he got away to a poor start, and also took a tumble on the last lap, finishing third.

I have only one partner—I want only one partner—I need only one friend—The Public!

LONG ago I found out who was boss in this business. He wasn't hired, he didn't buy his way in, he's never had his name on the door. Yet he is my only boss—my only friend. He is, of course, the public. He lifted this business from a $400 start into the greatest clothing business in Canada. He built it in 10 years from a little upstairs room in Montreal, only 15 feet square, into a chain of upstairs shops from coast to coast.

So I invite my partner—the Public—to help me celebrate my 10th Birthday Party and Anniversary on Saturday, March 24th.

FOR TEN YEARS I have worked unceasingly to save you men of Canada real money on your clothes buying. This year I have worked harder than ever for this big event, and have prepared the greatest clothing values I have ever offered.

My shop is full of the handsomest, smartest suits and coats I've ever turned out. These clothes were hand-made in my own big workshops by my own tailors, under my personal supervision. They embody the cream of the world's best looms—strictly all-wool fabrics, woven for long wear, as well as for beauty and style.

I am proud of this great showing of quality clothes; proud to have them bear my name, and glad to put my million dollar guarantee into every garment—a guarantee that has no holes in it—I am both maker and merchant—no one to "pass the buck to."

Because I operate my own factories, saving middleman's profits; sell in plain, inexpensive upstairs shops with low rent; have no delivery charges; do a cash business entirely with no credit losses; and conduct the largest retail clothing business of Canada in a coast-to-coast chain of shops—because of these important economies, Robinson's Clothes are sold at only one profit—instead of four profits. This means a saving of at least $10 to $15 on your purchase.

I am proud of my reputation with the public over the breadth of this land, as "Robinson's—the business with the personal punch behind it." I am glad you approve of my work for you.

So I'm waiting for you to attend my big Birthday Party—your party—my 10th Anniversary—tomorrow. Come early, and bring your wives and sweethearts. Smokes for you men, and souvenirs of the occasion for the ladies.

But most of all, come and see this great array of wonderful clothes. Wonderful in style—in fabrics—in tailoring. The greatest values ever offered by any clothier in Canada. Come and celebrate with me. I am looking forward to your visit.

M.B. Robinson Souvenirs for the ladies; smokes for the men.

BILLIARD STARS REQUIRE NERVE Is as Essential as Ability to Execute Shots—Review of a Recent Championship Match. (New York Times.) It takes nerve as well as ability to be successful at billiards. A sound game is essential, but ability to execute shots that is not supported by nerve and courage will not win many championships. A demonstration of such ability plus nerve plus courage can accomplish was given last week when Willie Hoppe successfully defended the world's professional 18.2 ballline championship against Jack Scheffer in their 1,500-point challenge match at the Hotel Pennsylvania. Hoppe entered the match under a heavy mental handicap. His manager, R. B. Benjamin, was seriously ill. This shifted the labors of a co-promoter of the affair to his shoulders, for the players virtually promoted the match. He also had the running of the Hoppe-Peterson Billiard Club on his mind. In this respect he owes much to Charley Peterson, who came on from his academy in St. Louis to assist the champion. These cares were weighty ones. Added to them was the defense of his cherished title. The champion started as if he were doomed to ignominious defeat. At the conclusion of the first 600-point block he was 223 behind. During that session Hoppe played some of the poorest billiards he had ever been guilty of in a championship contest. Those who watched his work left the ballroom convinced that he would be decisively beaten. He entered the second evening's play needing 723. Scheffer needed 500. Then it was that Hoppe showed what nerve will do. He was not in good stroke, and it was nothing but sheer bulldog tenacity and grit that enabled him to overcome the big handicap and assume a six-point lead. On the final night Scheffer showed that he, too, possesses nerve and courage. As he stepped to the table for his thirty-seventh inning he was 264 points behind. The score stood 1,262 to 968 in Hoppe's favor. In spite of the fact that Hoppe needed but 238 more points to win and that Scheffer had been able to accumulate only four points in four innings during the evening's play while the champion had made 232. Jake, at this stage, injected the high run of the match, a cluster of 244, and came within twenty points of tying the score. That's nerve, nothing else. How evenly matched are Hoppe and Scheffer is shown by the fact that they have now played two 1,600 point matches with the world's championship as the stake—a total of 3,200 points. Scheffer won the first in Chicago a year ago by thirty-two points. This time the difference was 159. Thus the net results stand 157 points in Hoppe's favor. HANDCUFFED MEN ESCAPE Overpower Guard and Carry Him With Them in Prison Auto. Arriving at Lockport, on the way to Stateville, the prisoners, using the one hand each had free, forced Wilkey to the bottom of the tonneau. One knelt on his shoulders, while the other compelled Cressi to climb out of the car, leaving the trusty standing in the middle of the road. They headed the machine for Chicago at break-neck speed. Cressi ran to the nearest house and notified the prison authorities by telephone. Five cars of guards were sent out to search the roads between Joliet and Chicago. So far, they have been unable to find Wilkey, who supposedly is still in the prison automobile. ROUSH TO START TRAINING. Asks Permission to Workout With K. I. O. League Team. Cincinnati, March 23.—Eddie Roush, star centre fielder and holdout of the Cincinnati Reds, has asked permission to practice with the Bellevue (Ky.) club of the K. I. O. League, according to Edward Rohrer, president of the Bellevue club. Rohrer said he received a telegram from Roush, which said: "See Earle Neale is manager of your club. Can I work out with you if I come to Cincinnati?" Rohrer said Roush told him over the telephone that he would like to be with the Bellevue club just to "be around Cincinnati." Roush, Rohrer says, asserted that the Cincinnati club would have to meet his terms if it wanted him on its team this season.

Superiority of Mile. Lenglen.

If doubt has existed in the minds of any followers of lawn tennis as to the superiority of Mile. Lenglen over Mrs. Mallory that point must have been settled conclusively by the result of the meeting of the pair in the final of the tournament at Nice. When the French girl originally appeared as a candidate for world's championship honors, the stories of her prowess which came out of the Orient and the French capital were taken on this side of the water with some skepticism. In that first meeting at St. Cloud nearly two years ago the victory of the vivacious Suzanne was decisive enough—straight sets at 6-2, 6-3. There followed that unfortunate debut at Forest Hills in which the American champion scored only two of the best of the fourteen required to settle the question. Back on the Riviera the rivalry—and it has reached bitterness at some stages—was continued last week, and not a single game did Mrs. Mallory take, being able to force only two to deuce, in neither of which did she hold advantage. Thus in the four times they have met they have contested seven sets and fifty-one games. Of these Mile. Lenglen has won six sets to one and thirty-eight games to thirteen—certainly a convincing record. Continental critics are well agreed that the French girl stands supreme in women's tennis, and indeed, there appears to be no rival capable of challenging her right to the title.

TURF. Winter Racing Season Over.

The climax of the winter racing season was reached on Saturday when Amole won the $10,000 Louisiana Derby at New Orleans. Saturday was also getaway day at Jefferson Park, and, except for the short meeting at Mobile, marked the close of the season in the South. Followers of the turf agreed that the waning season has been one of the best in the history of the winter tracks.

The Louisiana Derby was illustrative and typical of the entire season. The purse was the largest offered in New Orleans since Meekock won the Crescent City Derby in 1908. Furthermore, the class of the three-year-olds in training went to the post, and that they were high-grade handicappers was not just the best of a bad lot, it is attested by the fact that six of them have been nominated for the Kentucky Derby. Of the thirteen which competed Saturday, Calcutto, Setting Ean, Shamrock, Edward Gray, Body Guard and Blue Nose have been named for the Churchill Downs classic. Although the Derby attracted one of the largest crowds which has ever found its way into Jefferson Park. This is really seen that the Derby was a race of some consequence, and it offers a fair example of the increasing importance of winter racing.

In the connection it is interesting to recall the changes recently announced by the officials of the Southern Maryland track. This year, for the first time in the Bowie Spring meeting, there will be three big stake events, with purses of $5,000 in added money. For years it has been the policy of the track to have more money into the overall purses and avoid stake events, for the simple reason that there were not enough high-class horses in training in early April to lend interest to important stake races.

Thus the decision of the Maryland officials to inaugurate the new plan as a tribute to winter racing, for in announcing the three $5,000 races, the Bowie directors pointed out that there were enough first-flight handicappers now competing on the winter tracks to make the holding of stake contests in the early spring worth while.

TO CLEAN UP THE CIRCUS

Housecleaning in Realm of Tent Shows to Include the "Hot Dog," Which Must Have Health Certificate.

New York, March 23—Supreme authority over the conduct of an industry representing more than $300,000,000 invested capital, conferred on Thomas J. Johnson, Chicago lawyer, named Sunday by the Showmen's Legislative Committee of 150 members as directing head of all circuses, carnival, amusement park and co-related entertainment enterprise throughout the United States, is expected to eliminate undesirable features hitherto associated with these popular elements in the amusement world.

No half measures will be adopted. Mr. Johnson said last night at the Hotel Astor. It is intended to abolish forthwith all objectionable shows, posters and all unsafe or unscientifically constructed ride devices.

The "hot dog," famed in song and story, hereafter must adorn itself with a "pure food" tag, certifying that it contains certain ingredients guaranteed by the Board of Health to represent a specified food value. Vendors of all food articles will be required to comply with the pure food laws. At least 80 per cent of responsible showmen throughout the country have subscribed to the new regime, it is said.

Will Clean Up Industry. Mr. Johnson added: "Decision to clean up this great amusement industry by means of a major operation was reached after careful deliberation resulting in conviction by those with reputations and capital at stake that only radical measures would suffice. Less than 8 per cent of the personnel in the industry will come under the hand, but that element will no longer be tolerated in it."

"There is no question in view of the virtually unanimous support given this reform by American showmen, that decisions of my office will be completely effective. "Of course this reform will enhance show values. It is long overdue. Because of crooks permitted to operate with outdoor amusement enterprises licenses have been raised to prohibitive figures in many states. Several states, including Wisconsin, Minnesota and Florida, are contemplating prohibitive legislation. Such extreme proposals are due to the activities of vicious elements in the show business now no longer to be tolerated.

Circus Owners Start Move. Leading circus owners, carnival managers and amusement park directors are included in the new organization which owes its origin to agitation by the long established Showmen's League of Chicago. This body, organized for purely benevolent activities took the initiative in a nation-wide movement for "clean shows" which resulted in formation of the Showmen's Legislative Committee.

Arriving here recently from Bangor, Me., where he also had some difficulties with the authorities, he established headquarters in a dining room at 706 Dudley street and advertised that he would answer questions on life, love, finance, marriage, divorce, or any other subject. His prices ranged from $3 to $5 a session, according to whether he merely read a client's palm or consulted his crystal ball as well.

Disguised as prosperous business men seeking advice on their investments, Special Officers Morrissy and Waite of the Dudley street station visited the Monday by the Boston police, charged with obtaining money under false pretenses. The "prince" is William Jones of New Haven, Ct., who adopted the more striking name to help the fortune-telling business in which he was engaged in Roxbury for a short time before his activities came to the attention of the police. His arrest recalled that "Prince Lazuli" got into trouble at Bangor, Me., early this year while appearing with a theatrical troupe with Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sutter, the modern "Adam and Eve" of the Maine Woods. Sutter charged that his wife ran away with the "master mind," taking the troupe's capital with her and he had the "prince" arrested on a warrant alleging a statutory offense. During his examination at headquarters, Jones admitted to the police that he was now being sued by Sutter for alienation.

BRITISH PARTY ALIGNMENT IS BEING CHANGED

Law Faces Unionist Schism; "Die-Hards" Advance Alliances Outworn—Political Significance in Chamberlain's Dinner to Old Colleagues.

(Special Cable to The New York Times and Montreal Gazette) London, March 20—An undignified squabble over Unionist Party funds, which has amused political circles in the past few days, is only the latest manifestation of important movements among politicians of the parties. The old alliance have been found outworn and there is on all sides a feeling out for a fresh alignment and the formation of new groups.

The trouble in the Unionist party has arisen through the proposal that Viscount Farquhar should resign from the treasuryship of its funds. He is an admirer of ex-Premier Lloyd George and seemed willing to step down until he heard that Lord Younger was to be appointed in his place. Now Younger was the man who engineered the great victory of the Coalition in 1918, but as the representative of its Conservative wing he prevented Lloyd George from precipitating a general election last spring, at a moment that appeared propitious to his personal fortunes. Consequently, as soon as Farquhar heard who was to be his successor he withdrew his resignation and has declined to tender it again, even after a personal interview with the Prime Minister.

He asserts that a large part of the money he collected was subscribed really in support of Lloyd George and that the Unionist party as such has no claim on it. This argument reveals the growing signs of a schism in the Unionist ranks. After all, the old Unionist party sprang from the Coalition between the Liberals and Unionists represented today by Austen Chamberlain and the Conservatives, and there is a good deal of dissatisfaction among these Government supporters whose antecedents are Liberal-Unionist with the recent Government appointments.

Such men as Vice-Admiral Sir Reginald Hall, Ronald McNeill and Rupert Gwynne, all of whom have received preferment in the last few days, are identified with their advancement shows that Premier Bonar Law is swinging over to what is termed "reaction."

Start of New Movement. The Liberal-Unionists are uneasy and so additional interest has been given to the dinner which Austen Chamberlain is to give this coming week to his old Conservative colleagues in the Coalition Cabinet, Lord Birkenhead, Sir Robert Horne and Sir Lansing Worthington-Evans. They have so far kept aloof from their successors. It is thought in some quarters that the satisfaction among these Government supporters whose antecedents are Liberal-Unionist with the recent Government appointments.

Liquor Ships Race During Idle Hours

Highlands, N. J., March 22—Running speedboats today engaged in an impromptu regatta, racing for the title of queen of the fleet, while waiting for calm seas which would permit them to land whiskey from the liquor fleet on the Jersey and Long Island shores. Several friendly brushes took place while some new boats were tuning up in preparation for business to come. Craft equipped with airplane engines showed their heels to swift cruisers equipped with twin six-cylinder automobile motors.

Bottle fishermen are equipping their exhausts with a device akin to a Maxim silencer in order to elude Government craft in the dark. The invention is so successful that the exhaust is no more audible than the whir of an ordinary automobile engine and liquor runners calculate that they can pass within a few feet of a coast guard boat without being heard.

Only a moderate amount of liquor was reported to have reached the Jersey shore over the week-end, but local supplies were reported far from exhausted.

Dr. Reiser Tells Parents Their Duty Toward Wonderful Youth of Today. New York, March 22—The Rev. Dr. Christian F. Reiser, pastor of the Chelsea Methodist Episcopal Church, 178th street, preached recently on "A Religion for Today." He said, in part, "It is too common to abuse the youth of today. They are wonderful in their possibilities. Underneath the flapper and the flipper is a royal soul that will die for a great cause or grow up to fill a large place if inspired and nourished. Instead of adults abusing them they ought to review their own lives to see how much they are helping to give youth a chance to grow up clean and strong. It is a wonder they are so sane and clean and ambitious along right lines when it is remembered that father boasts of law-breaking in getting his hooch, mother smokes and easily and flippantly says 'My God,' much like the husband swears, and beats the girl in jazz dress and looks, and both laugh carelessly as they recall youthful escapades.

"How many children today get religious training in the home? What would have happened to most of the big men today if they had received no more religion in their youth than their own children get. Tomorrow's citizen meet the issues sure to face them without parents and teachers and leadership cannot be built big enough to bring citizens adopt a real religious programme and follow it openly and honestly."
