T. W. CALDWELL ON POLICY OF TODAY

Delivers Able Address Before Assembled Farmers in York County

Last week United Farmers of York County met at a grand picnic at Mouth of Kewick. The chief speaker, aside from S. H. Hagerman, manager, and C. Gordon Sharpe, secretary of the farmers' association, was T. W. Caldwell, M. P. Mr. Caldwell launched in a discussion of political questions and paid his respects to the Meighen government now ministering at Ottawa.

Mr. Caldwell is a six footer of the appearance and during his two years at Ottawa has evidently kept his eyes open, as he seems to be singularly well informed on public affairs. In the course of his speech he devoted considerable attention to Premier Meighen's recent address at London, Ont., where he announced his intention of calling on an election before the end of the year. Mr. Caldwell said he noted from the tone of the Premier's remarks that he proposed to make the tariff the chief issue in the coming campaign. He thought that this was a wise decision on the part of the Premier, especially if he thought it would be the means of camouflaging the big railway deficit, the problem of the unemployed, and some other matters concerning which the people may possibly desire some enlightenment.

In dealing with the tariff he said that while the rate of duty may not have changed in recent years the people were paying far more customs taxation than was the case a few years ago. Prices were higher and duty was now payable on the retail price, whereas they formerly paid on the wholesale price plus a reasonable profit. In the case of hinders he pointed out that the duty was now three times greater than was the case a few years ago. There was also an import tax and a sales tax, which came out of the pockets of the consumer and incidentally gave the manufacturers that much additional protection. With regard to Premier Meighen he said that he would not go so far as to say that he was dishonest, but he had certainly not been honest in some of the statements which he had made in his London speech. The Premier, he said, had been trained as a criminal lawyer, and it seemed to him (Caldwell) that he was employing some of the tactics of the criminal lawyer in his defence of the administration of which he was the head.

Mr. Caldwell next devoted some attention to railway matters and referred to the enormous deficit of $70,000,000 which had been incurred last year in the operation of the government railway system. A silver dollar, he said, would weigh one ounce and seventy million of them, allowing twenty tons to the car, would be sufficient to load more than one hundred freight cars. This was certainly a matter of some importance to the country, yet by making the tariff the sole issue the Premier was seeking to camouflage it.

In referring to the public expenditure Mr. Caldwell pointed out that it was now double that per capita of the people of the United States and quoted figures to prove his statement. He said that in the United States last year the expenditure per capita was $36, while in Canada it was $79 per head. Only recently the Secretary of the Treasury had warned the United States Congress that unless the more rigid economy was practiced in the matter of public expenditure, the nation would be face to face with bankruptcy, and he added that that happened in a country which is spending only one dollar to Canada's two. In touching on the luxury tax, which had been abolished by the Meighen government, Mr. Caldwell pointed out that it had yielded a much larger revenue than the sales tax, and he held that its abolition had been a mistake as people who could afford to indulge in luxuries were the people who should contribute generously to the revenue.

In referring to the wild orgy of extravagance going on at Ottawa, Mr. Caldwell strongly condemned the government shipbuilding policy on which millions of dollars have already been sunk. He said that many of the ships had been built at a time when prices were at the top notch, and if sold today the government could not realize on those ships anything like what they had cost. A similar policy had been followed in the United States with the result that ships which had cost $30 and $100 a ton to construct were being sold under the hammer for as low a price as $2,000 each. In spite of this disastrous experience, parliament last year voted millions of dollars for the purpose of continuing this ruinous policy. The Farmers' Party had fought strongly against it, and it never would have passed the House had not the gag been applied in the form of closure.

In closing Mr. Caldwell spoke of the splendid fight which the Farmers' candidate, Mr. Ernest W. Stairs, had waged in York-Sunbury in the by-election of May last. He regretted exceedingly the defeat of Mr. Stairs, but considered that he had polled a magnificent vote. The farmers had no reason to be discouraged over their defeat, and he hoped that they would put up a candidate in the election soon to take place and see to it that he was returned as their next representative.

Hearty applause followed the conclusion of Mr. Caldwell's spirited address.

U. S. REPORTS PRICES WILL BE GOOD

The out-turn of the potato crop is still the leading topic and each day brings reports of increasing yield. One field is reported as turning out 200 barrels to the acre; while one man offers to dig and pick up another field for all he gets over 100 barrels to the acre.

The following official report from Washington is encouraging, but later reports show increased estimates, particularly for Michigan, one of Canada's strongest competitors. The crop in the Canadian prairie and mountain regions is also estimated very heavy.

September estimate of the potato crop throughout the United States, based on the condition of the crop September 1, and issued by the Department of Agriculture, forecasted 325,000,000 bushels for white potatoes. The condition of the crop September 1 or at the time of harvest, was set at 325,000,000 bushels.

The September estimate this year compares with a 425,000,000 bushel crop last year.

The September estimate falls short of the prediction of some potato experts who thought it would be between 350,000,000 and 400,000,000 bushels.

Potato experts today said that not until the October estimate will potato growers be sure of definitely forecasting prices on their crop. One expert uses this system:

"If by the government estimate of September first checked against that of October first, there are in sight about 3 1/2 bushels of Irish potatoes per capita for the United States the market will be mostly stationary and quiet and the prices medium."

If there are 4 to 4 1/2 bushels or more in sight the price will be low and constantly lower to a disastrous close. Poor potatoes cannot be sold at all.

If there are 3 bushels or less the market will be strong and continue so throughout the winter.

Last year gave an example of the dependability of these rules, the market being very low with a crop of about 4 bushels per capita. Reckoning 111,000,000 as the total population of the United States this expert said it looks at present as if the potato crop would not be much over 3 bushels per capita, in which case the market would be strong all winter.

NEW TIME TABLE OCTOBER 2

The winter arrangement of trains will be inaugurated on Oct. 2, and so far as this division is concerned will be about the same as last winter. The early and late express trains north of Woodstock will be withdrawn as the traffic has never been sufficient to cover operating expenses. The mixed trains between Woodstock and Arrostook will be restored.

The approximate lines of departures from Hartland will be: North-bound express 2:10; mixed, 6. South-bound express, 4:15; mixed, 10:30. (These figures are not exact.)

NEW SIDEWALKS A TOWN ASSET

Good progress is being made with the new concrete sidewalk extending from King to Prince street, along the east side of Main street. To locate this section more distinctly in the minds of those not yet familiar with the new names of the streets it may be said the walk will extend from Taylor's corner to the Foresters' hall. Of course, as needs must be, the making of the walk entails a pretty bad mess in the street for a time, as the process of laying concrete work can not be accomplished in a day or a week. It is being done, however, in a thorough manner and as rapidly as such work can be accomplished. So much excellent work has been done on the main thoroughfare of the town this season that there are various reports that the street committee have greatly over-expended their appropriation. The Observer has it on the authority of the members of the committee themselves that up to September 1 only about 50 per cent of the appropriation had been expended. It is the intention to continue the work on the walk uninterrupted until the piece undertaken is finished. From the time of preparing the foundation for the concrete a little time is allowed to permit the gravel to become packed and properly surfaced to receive and hold the cement mixture.

In straightening the walk and widening the street as much as possible small portions of private land have been expropriated and in cases this has caused expression of dissatisfaction. It should be remembered that every permanent street improvement not only is a convenience and pleasure to those who live along the street, but adds materially to the sale value of the properties. In almost every other town, and in all cities, owners of land abutting a street are taxed one-half, or in many cases, the whole cost of the sidewalk in front of their holdings. In the cities it is usual to tax abutting property for the cost of paving one-half the street, also, as well as for street light equipment adjacent. The property owners on Main street, Hartland, are very fortunate that they are getting the improvements by paying only the general tax and the sacrifice of a very negligible portion of their lawns to the general improvement.

The new sidewalk would have been constructed earlier in the season but that the telephone companies did not take with sufficient seriousness the town order that their poles be removed from the street. This has now been done, and well done, and really remarkable improvement is the result.

CARLETON COUNTY MAN DEAD IN MONTANA

Word has been received of the death in Montana of Wyckiffe Guerrier. He was a son of the late William Guerrier of Middle Simonds and went west many years ago when the Klondyke was first opened. For some time he was a business partner of D. A. Campbell, of Hartland, in work in the north country. Mr. Guerrier was a brother of Norville Guerrier, of Middle Simonds and of Howard Guerrier, of Mount Pleasant. His remains were buried in Montana under Masonic honors.

OFF TO CALIFORNIA

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Campbell started on Tuesday afternoon on the 4000-mile motor trip to California, where they expect to remain for the winter and for an indefinite period thereafter. They expected to reach Bangor the first night, Portland the second, and thus make their way to the famous Lincoln Highway which will be their chief route.

Mr. and Mrs. Campbell will be greatly missed by a wide circle of friends all of whom wish them, however, a safe and pleasant journey.

SHE WAS ALMOST NERVOUS WRECK

Had Suffered For Four Years But Tanlac Restored Health Says Husband

"At the time my wife began taking Tanlac," said John A. Hayer, of 123 Maynard St., Halifax, N. S., "she had suffered from stomach trouble for four years and was almost a complete nervous and physical wreck. She scarcely ate anything, as everything disagreed with her, and often, for days at a time she didn't eat a mouthful. She bloated terribly after meals and suffered from awful cramping pains in her stomach. She also had headaches and dizzy spells constantly, and was hardly able to do her housework."

"One day a friend told her about Tanlac and got her to try it. Well, she ate anything she wanted, now without the least pain or distress, has a fine appetite and in fact, is rid of all her troubles and is doing her housework with ease. We can't praise Tanlac too highly."

Although it has been something over a year since Mrs. Hayer's experience with Tanlac, she stated in an interview with a special Tanlac representative, that she was feeling fine, which is another link in the long chain of evidence regarding both the immediate and lasting results being obtained from the Maeter Medicine.

Tanlac is sold by leading druggists everywhere.

ERNEST C. BROOKS.

Ernest C. Brooks, son of Elizabeth and the late Leonard Brooks, died at his home, Waterville, Saturday, September 3. Although he had been ill for three weeks with typhoid fever, high hopes were entertained for his recovery, and his sudden passing was indeed a shock to his loved ones, and a host of friends in both town and country.

A man in the prime of a useful life, of clean upright Christian character, with kind words and helping hands for everybody, he is sincerely mourned for by all who knew him. He leaves a sorrowing wife who was formerly Miss Albina London of Upper Woodstock, an invalid mother and four sisters, Mrs. O. R. Estey, the Misses Edith and Mabel, professional nurses of Houlton, Me., who lovingly cared for him during his illness, and Helen, teacher, of Passaic, N. J., besides a large number of other relatives who mourn the loss of a loved nephew and cousin.

His funeral was conducted by Rev.

LETTER FROM MRS. WAKELIN

Tells Remarkable Story of Sickness and Recovery.

Toronto, Ont.—"I suffered greatly from weakness, seemed to be tired all the time, and had no ambition to do anything or go any place. My nerves were all in a state of collapse. I could not sleep at night, and then came a breakdown. I read of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the newspaper and several of my friends advised me to use it, and it surely put new life into me. Now I am quite able to do all my own work, and I would strongly advise every suffering woman to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial."

Mrs. CHARLES WAKELIN, 272 Christie St., Toronto, Ont.

The makers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound have thousands of such letters as that above—they tell the truth, else they could not have been obtained for love or money. This medicine is no stranger—it has stood the test for more than forty years.

If there are any complications you do not understand write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass.

HARTLAND, N. B.

H. C. Mullen, Reformed Baptist, assisted by Rev. H. Harrison, Methodist, speaking from the words, "Let me die the death of the righteous and let my last end be like his."

An unusually large number of people followed him to his boyhood home at Lower Brighton, a distance of fifteen miles, where interment was made in the family lot.

The pall-bearers were four brothers-in-law of the deceased, Maurice, LeBaron, Howard and George London. The flowers were exceptionally beautiful including the following: Wreath, Slater; Crescent, Mr. and Mrs. E. London, Mr. and Mrs. G. London, Mr. and Mrs. Barry London and Mr. and Mrs. Carey McKinney; Wreath, Mr. and Mrs. Howard London; Sheaf, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Haley, Mr. and Mrs. William Hovey; Basket of Flowers, Mrs. Ada Brown and Miss Luella; Spray, Austin and Isabel London; Bouquet, Misses Ada and Belle Wiley; Spray, O. WHAT ARE THE POLITICAL ISSUES?

Mr. Editor: Premier Meighen says "moderate protection vs. free trade." On that issue the battle must be fought. You are wrong, sir. That is not the issue today. The leaders of all groups and parties have publicly said that there must be moderate protection to provide revenue and safeguard home industries.

We have however, read in the Conservative press, articles evidently inspired by those "higher up," advocating a continuation of the war policy of government by "business men."

That is an issue. That is one reason why the present government is condemned by the man in the street, who will eventually be the man of the hour, when the long deferred election day dawns.

The common people have become disgusted with the autocratic rule of business plutocrats, otherwise called political profiteers by students of recent events.

A man who can sell paint is not necessarily a good politician, nor what is more in demand, a good statesman. Neither does it follow that because another man is a ship owner, he can navigate the Ship of State through stormy ways. Business men by virtue of their training, are mostly men of one idea. Rarely have they the ideas which representatives of the people should have. The question people are asking today is not about the tariff; it is how soon can we get rid of the pork-packing, ship-owning and paint-making politicians of the mercenary out-look, and replace them with men of a different and better calibre; men whose one aim and ambition is to extricate Canada from a difficult position, and place her on the firmest foundation of solid prosperity; men who are not actuated by the size of their indemnity, nor influenced by the interests of this or that clique; men possessed by noble ideals and catholic views; men who can see and act continentally. That is, men who can see the whole world in its true perspective, and then act for the best interests of their own home land. Men who will not run at the first sign of danger, betray the people, or sell their country.

SCHOOL TRUSTEES CONVENTION

Dr. W. S. Carter, chief superintendent of education, has called a convention of school trustees of the province on Thursday and Friday, November 17 and 18.

The sessions will be held in the Normal school building. Each school district is entitled to send one delegate or more in accordance with the subsection of the consolidated statutes under which the convention may be called. The chief superintendent will call the convention to order and arrange for the programme for the opening day.

Arrangements have been made for a school trustee familiar with teachers' convention in the west, to be present and address the convention.

Notice of the convention has been forwarded to all school boards and the complaint cannot be made that many were in ignorance of the calling of the convention. Delegates have been requested to inform the chief superintendent of their election or appointment.

The convention will be the first of its kind and will be of utmost importance as members of school boards in various parts of the province have been extremely desirous of exchanging views and deciding upon concerted action with regard to certain matters. The activity of the New Brunswick Teachers' Association, particularly with regard to increasing the salaries of teachers, has impressed upon the school boards the necessity and advisability of united action. Carleton county held a county convention of school trustees with beneficial results from the viewpoint of the school boards.

A Memory of Youth. "Your little party last night was splendid," said an intimate friend of Mr. Wadleigh.

"Thank you," replied Mr. Wadleigh. "I don't mind telling you as an old acquaintance that it cost me in the neighborhood of $10,000, and I didn't enjoy myself half as much as I did the first time I ever spent a whole dollar on a girl."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

years ago an ulcer appeared on my ankle," writes Mrs. Jeffery, of Methuen, Mass. "In spite of all the remedies I used, it would not go away, and developed into an open sore. I had medical treatment for twenty-five years, but only got temporary relief. The pain I suffered was terrible, and for years I was unable to leave the house."

One day I saw in a newspaper an account of a bad ulcer having been cured by Zam-Buk. Although I was skeptical, now, of anything curing me—having tried so many remedies in vain—I decided to give Zam-Buk a trial. I applied the balm freely every day and to my delight the sore soon showed some improvement. Gradually the inflammation was drawn out, and pain was ended, and after thirty years of suffering, I realized I was out of the road to misery. With perseverance, the awful sore was finally completely healed, and although that was three years ago, there has not been the slightest trace of the ulcer returning. Zam-Buk is the best remedy also, for eczema, boils, pimples, blood poisoning, piles, burns, scalds and cuts. All dealers, or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, Etc. Box 3 for $1.25.

Look how far you've gone since your crank case was cleaned

If you have gone more than 1,000 miles without having your crank-case cleaned, chances are ten to one that your operating expenses are about twice what they should be. Very likely the snug-fitting and rapidly moving parts in your motor are burning and wearing themselves out at an alarmingly rapid rate, too.

Dirty oil, filled with grit, mineral particles and road dust cannot lubricate. Your crank-case should be thoroughly cleaned and refilled with fresh lubricating oil at least every 1,000 miles—more often if your car gets hard usage.

Imperial Polaring Crank-Case Service Dealers are particularly equipped to deliver 100% cleaning service. Imperial Flushing Oil, the scientific cleaning agent employed by them, gives unsurpassed results which are not possible with kerosene (coal oil) or similar things that are altogether unsuited for crank-case cleaning.

This is economy year. Clean oil and a clean engine will save you a lot of money. To-day, drive round to one of the addresses listed at the left, or to any dealer who displays the Blue Imperial Crank-case Service Sign. Prompt reliable crank-case cleaning is assured.

HARTLAND, N. B., SEPT. 15, 1921

MANY SUBSCRIBERS ARE CHEERFULLY PAYING UP

They Realize That It Costs Money to Run a Newspaper—Many Words of Encouragement

During the past week notices have been mailed to every subscriber to The Observer whose subscription has expired and a special offer has been made to induce them to pay up and renew for another year. The result of this renewal campaign is very gratifying as every mail brings remittances and almost every hour of the day brings a willing and cheerful subscriber to the office. Appreciated almost as much as the cash are the many words of commendation and encouragement the manager is getting every day. It gives him renewed zest and a new determination to give the people of Carleton-Victoria the kind of paper they want—a paper with all the district news, a paper fearing the criticism of none; or carrying the favor of any—a paper with a square deal for all classes and creeds, and the champion of everything that is good and true. It is very important that The Observer collects every dollar due it, and that it collects right away. It is easy for those owing more than a year to pay before Sept. 20. It will not be nearly so easy to settle after Sept. 20. If you have failed to receive our notice look at the date opposite your name on the margin of the first page. If it shows "21" you can renew until 1922 by remitting $1.50 BEFORE SEPT. 20.

SPECIAL OPPORTUNITY FOR BRIGHT YOUNG MAN

The Observer will teach the right kind of young man the art of linotyping, fit him for accepting a position in six months, and guarantee him a position paying at least $30 weekly at the end of that period. There are linotype schools in most large cities and the course averages six months. At these the student pays a tuition fee and his board. The opportunity to learn in The Observer office is much more advantageous than at one of the schools.

Linotyping is the art of operating the Mergenthaler linotype, a machine that casts lines of type for newspaper and book printing. It is the best paid trade in America and there has never been a time in 30 years when there were not more positions than operators. The scale of wages varies according to locality from $30 to $35 a week, and of course the wage varies according to the operator's skill. In Montreal and Toronto operators are paid a minimum $36 a week, working eight hours a day. Expert operators get more.

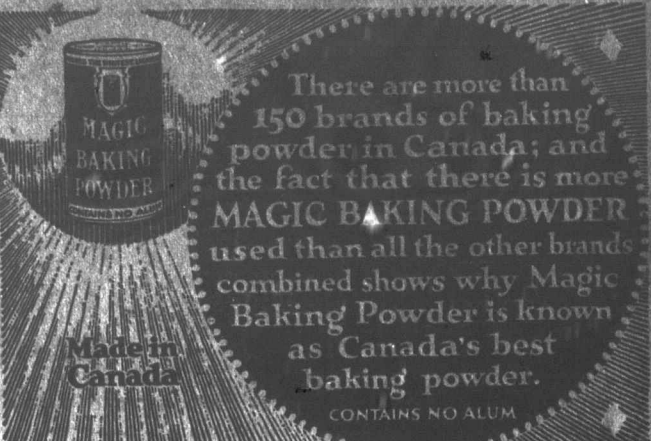

The qualifications are mature years—that is 20 years of age or more; good schooling; a well balanced mind; no bad habits; steady application to business. A natural liking of mechanics is a help. The work is a "sitting" job and consists chiefly of manipulating a keyboard similar to a typewriter, but the machine itself, with more than 10,000 parts, is the most complicated machine in the world. Women learn operating and get the same payment as men.

The Observer will consider an application for this opportunity to learn from an earnest, ambitious, steady young man. It is in no sense a "boys' job." Call any evening or write for further particulars.

Bath, Wednesday, Aug. 21. The store had been closed for the night and the manager, Mr. Geldart, returned later when he saw a light in the store and on investigating found a large quantity of goods piled near the door. One of the accused, Ben Wharton, ran out but was caught later. Before closing, Wharton is supposed to have hidden in the store, and his brother with a team was nearby and at a signal came to the store where it is alleged the goods were to be loaded no the team and hauled away. After hearing the evidence the magistrate committed them for trial. Jones & Jones for the prosecution and F. C. Squires for the defence. They will probably be tried at the court meeting on 20th inst.

Mr. and Mrs. B. N. Shaw Celebrate Golden Wedding in the West

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. B. N. Shaw of Victoria, B. C., upon 50 years of life together—happy although married! Mr. Shaw was born at Victoria, N. B., and Mrs. Shaw is a native of Hartland. For years they owned the Kennedy farm below town and for a time they conducted hotel business here. Later they lived on a farm at Mainstream but about 15 years ago moved to the old homestead at Victoria, where, on "Highland Farm," their sons Scott and Frank still reside. The following from Victoria Sun will be read with much interest by their many friends here in the east:

Mr. and Mrs. Bursell N. Shaw, who have been residents of Victoria the last two years, are to-day quietly celebrating their fiftieth wedding anniversary.

"Mr. and Mrs. Shaw are especially fortunate as the heads of an unbroken family of eight children, four sons and four daughters, and four grandchildren.

"Three of their children are in New Brunswick, one in Pasadena and four in Victoria. Both Mr. and Mrs. Shaw are in very good health and appear quite as young as a couple of middle age.

"While on this occasion they are out surrounded by their numerous friends, and are far from their intimates of a lifetime, yet considering themselves privileged to have at least four of their children with them on this occasion, they are quite cheerful and happy.

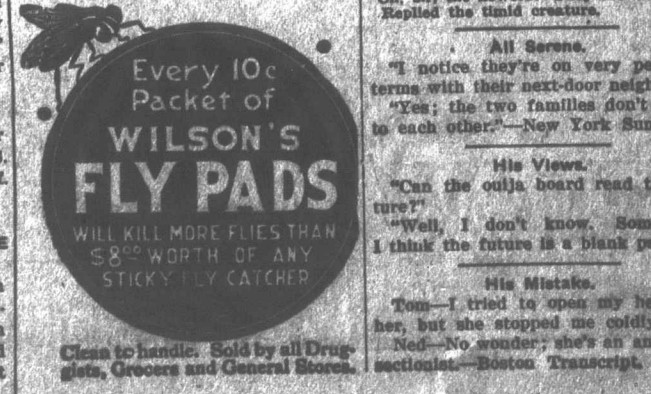

"Mr. Shaw's forbears 'trekked' from the State of New York to New Brunswick in 1759 and can claim Canadian citizenship without any likelihood of a dispute. Mrs. Shaw (nee Nevins) is of French Huguenot stock which first settled in the American colonies and came as Loyalists to Canada in 1785."

C. P. R. TO ABANDON RAILS ACROSS MAINE

Plan Route to Montreal That Will Be Wholly on Canadian Soil

Rumors, persistent ones, have it that the C. P. R. is planning to abandon its rails across the State of Maine on its line to Montreal and seek a route entirely over Canadian territory. It is claimed the Company has been more or less harassed with annoyances by the Public Utilities Board of the State of Maine, and conditions imposed upon the Canadian Company have become unbearable.

According to plans, as reported, the C. P. R. trains to Montreal from here will go by way of Fredericton, taking the Gibson line to Woodstock, thence to Edmundston. At this point the Temiscouata line, now owned by the C. P. R., will be employed. With the building of 13 miles more of railroad the Temiscouata and Quebec Central will be connected up at an advantageous point for the C. P. R. to give it

SMALL BUSINESS

Mr. Editor: I am a widow, my husband having died last winter from effects of wounds received in the war, and I have much to do to make a living for myself and little children. I keep a few hens to help along and during the time crops were growing I kept them shut up so they would not annoy my neighbors. Now that the crops are gathered I let them run, thinking they could do no harm. This seems to annoy Neighbor J. Stirling King and at his request a constable has visited me and warned me that I must again keep my hens up. This is all, but don't you think it is small business?

C.P.R. President Talks on Thrift to Boy Scouts

Thrift is a word which is said to have come into the English language over a thousand years ago from the Scandinavian. It is the noun of which "thrives" is the verb, and suggests that success and saving go together. The very word THRIFT is a good word to look at. It is an outstanding word and at once makes one think of sturdy simplicity, the kind of quality which one associated with a Boy Scout. How different in appearance is its opposite EXTRAVAGANCE, a word which at once suggests an ostentatious irregular character, boastful as well as wasteful.

Services to Community. Now thrift means saving money and miserliness means saving money, but they are not the same kind of saving. The thrifty person saves money for a purpose, the miser saves money for himself. The thrifty person saves so as to have a bank account against bad times. His thrift has for its object independence and security, and is therefore in accordance with the Scout law. But miserliness is purely selfish, whereas a Scout is told to be thrifty so that among other things he may have money with which to help others when they need it. The Scout must be careful not to carry his thrift too far. You usually find that the thrifty person has a bank account, whereas the miser keeps his money in a stocking where it can do no good because it is not kept in circulation. The thrifty person puts his money where it draws interest, thus adding to what he already has got, and also performing a service to the community.

By letting the community have the use of his money while he is not spending it, the thrifty person does a service to the community for which the community is willing to pay interest. The community, however, has just as little use for the miser as for the spendthrift.

FAITHFUL UNTO DEATH.

Mike McGuffin and Jerry McGuffin, nationally famous, had been buddies in the rock-blasting gang. Owing to a premature explosion, Jerry was not blasted with the rock, and Mike, in a quandary, wired for instructions. He was told to ship the remains to the nearest undertaker.

Mike scrupulously gathered up all McGuffin's belongings, even to the broken clay pipe, and sent them to the undertaker with this telegram: "As per orders of the boss I ship you the remains of Jerry McGuffin. But what will I do with the body?"

"It's been there since before I was born"

In almost every town and village can be found at least one old building which, on account of its excellent preservation, is a standing monument to the protection which good paint affords. The surface has been saved and in consequence all has been preserved—and Time, that great tester of quality, has given the stamp of approval.

Brandram's Genuine B.B. White Lead

has held its world's supremacy for almost two hundred years. Mixed with turpentine and pure linseed oil, as in B-B "English" Paint, it is a most satisfactory paint. For those who prefer to mix their own, Brandram's Genuine B.B. White Lead while more expensive in first cost, yet considered from the standpoint of covering capacity and permanence easily outclasses all other white leads and is therefore the most economical in final cost. For those who prefer a prepared paint, Brandram's Genuine B.B. White Lead can only be secured in B-B "English" Paint.

This Beautiful BLACK WOLF SET

Is only one of the many hundreds of wonderful Fur bargains which you will find displayed in the HALLAM 1922 Fur Fashion Book. This book has been the standard family Fur Fashion Book for years, and will be sent to you

FREE

It gives you information on fur styles, and contains nearly 300 illustrations of up-to-date fur sets and fur coats. There is no other book printed, nor any store that has shown you such a collection of fur sets as are contained in HALLAM'S Fur Fashion Book. Illustrations are mostly photographs of living people wearing the fur, thereby producing the most natural results. No illustrations, however, can possibly show the wonderful beauty and quality of HALLAM furs.

Hallam Furs

Less than Half Price

You can obtain Hallam furs this year at less than half the price that they were sold at last year. This is due partly to the fur in the price of your skins and to the fact that, as usual, I bought my furs at the very lowest bid in the price.

BUY Hallam FURS BY MAIL

"Direct from Trapper to Wearer" It doesn't matter where you live in Canada, so long as the HALLAM's mail will reach you, you can wear the latest styles and HALLAM quality in fur coats or sets. Simply order by mail from HALLAM. The price is the same to everybody—everywhere. I pay all delivery charges.

All HALLAM Fur garments are high quality and wonderful value for the money—you can obtain them from the direct fur to the price of your skins and to the fact that, as usual, I bought my furs at the very lowest bid in the price.

Why I Can Sell at Such Low Prices

In the first place, I buy the skins direct from the Trappers and Indians for cash, and am the largest cash buyer of furs in Canada. Then, I sell direct to you for cash. This method saves you the various middlemen's profits, the fur dealer, the wholesaler, the retailer, high store rent, sales clerks' salaries, bad accounts, etc.

Another big advantage is you can see the fur in your own home, and see exactly what you are getting, without being influenced by anxious sales clerks.

If HALLAM furs do not please you in any way, you can simply send them back at my expense, and I will cheerfully return your money. There are no exceptions.

You can be sure of satisfaction when you buy by mail from me. This is my guarantee.

DIFFERENT KINDS OF SPEED

Aviator and Motorist Didn't Have the Same Kind of Comparison as They Traveled.

The motorist was taking an aviator friend, recently returned from the army air service, out for a spin. Thinking of the 125-mile-an-hour speed to which the aviator was accustomed, the motorist felt that it was incumbent upon him to "let 'er out." His friend, he felt, would feel badly ambling along at the land rate folks are used to traveling. So he cut loose and the car was slipping along at something like 50 miles an hour.

Then the motorist felt a hand laid upon his arm.

"Going pretty fast, aren't you?" remarked the aviator, a trifle uneasily.

After the motorist had slowed down he asked: "Why, I thought the best speed I could make would seem slow."

"Going pretty fast, aren't you?" remarked the aviator, a trifle uneasily.

IF IT ONLY WERE!

The late Ella Wheeler Wilcox, though the most popular poet of modern times, steadfastly refused to enter New York society. The most exclusive Fifth Avenue portals were open to her, but Mrs. Wilcox passed them indifferently by.

A New York magazine editor once sought her out with an invitation to a Fifth Avenue dinner party.

"I'm sorry," she said, "but I can't go."

"Oh," said the editor, "you must accept this invitation!"

"Why must I?" said the poet.

"Our host," the editor answered, "is rich—a multimillionaire. You must accept."

"Well, I would," said Mrs. Wilcox, with a smile, "if it were catching!"

"What's that?" she asked.

"The little host suggested to him the advisability of intimating to his little friends the lateness of the hour."

"This is how he did it:

"Say, it's nine o'clock; I'm getting sleepy, and you kids have got to go home!"

"What's that? Go home this early?" said one of his indignant little guests.

"I thought this was to be an all-night affair!"

"Same old."

"So you've been in the army, eh?" asked the old gentleman kindly, "And tell me, did you do much shooting while you were over there?"

"I won $80 the first day I landed in France," answered the gambler, proudly.

"—Home Sector."

"Same, only different."

"My wife constantly pesters me for money. Does yours?"

"No; the people she buys things from do that."

"I guess it is the green-eyed monster."

is what we have been looking for for some time—

"ART-CRAFT ROOFS"

(Colors Red or Green)

Put a New Roof right over the Old One

No need to tear off the old shingles. Art Craft will go on right over them and make an attractive water and weather proof roof at little cost. Art Craft is a durable asphalt-saturated, slate surfaced, roll roofing with a permanent tile design. Looks like an expensive tile roof.

We have two competent hands who will call and measure your roof and give you the exact price—and apply the roofing.
